THE MADRAS CONTINGENCY FUND BILL 1953.

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—“ Sir, I beg leave to introduce the Madras Contingency Fund Bill, 1953 and move—

‘ That the Bill be taken into consideration at once. ’

“ This is a very formal Bill. As hon. Members are aware, the Government cannot draw money from the Consolidated Fund except under the authority of the Legislature. It is only for that purpose, after we vote the various Grants, we pass, what is known as the Appropriation Bill, giving authority to the Government to draw money from the Consolidated Fund of the State. But, apart from the Budget proposals, for which sanction is granted by the Legislature, the Government may have to undertake new schemes which have not been contemplated at the time of making the Budget proposals and those cases have to come up before this House again by way of Supplementary Demands. Before we get authority from the Legislature, it is necessary to incur some expenditure. For that purpose, we constitute, what is known as, the Contingency Fund. From that Fund, the Governor is

THE MADRAS GENERAL SALES TAX (AMENDMENT) BILL^a, 1954.

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—“ Sir, I beg to introduce the Madras General Sales Tax (Amendment) Bill, 1954, and move—

‘ That the Bill be taken into consideration at once.’

“ Sir, I may explain the necessity for this Bill. There was an amendment to the General Sales Tax Act in the year 1951, which introduced a new section—section 2-A. Thereby a Tribunal was constituted in order to hear appeals against the decisions of officials lower down. The Tribunal consisted of a Chairman, who was a District Judge, and two other Members of whom one was a Chartered Accountant and the other a Deputy Commissioner of Commercial Taxes. Under the Act, it was incumbent that all the three Members of the Tribunal should sit together and dispose of cases. But we found in the actual working of the Act some drawbacks and

THE MADRAS LAND REVENUE (SURCHARGE) BILL, 1954
(L.A. BILL NO. 18 OF 1954).

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—“ Mr. Chairman, Sir, I beg to move—

‘ That the Madras Land Revenue (Surcharge) Bill^a, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 18 of 1954), as passed by the Assembly, be taken into consideration.’ ”

MR. CHAIRMAN :—“ Motion moved—

‘ That the Madras Land Revenue (Surcharge) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 18 of 1954), as passed by the Assembly, be taken into consideration.’ ”

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON :—“ Mr. Chairman, Sir, I oppose this Bill on two grounds. Apart from the merits of the Bill before the House, I am against any new taxation being imposed by this State. I have already advanced my reasons during the discussion of the Budget in this House. My point is that before the Government come forward with a proposal for any new additional taxation to be imposed upon the citizens of this State they have to discharge a primary and essential duty which they have failed to discharge for the last so many years. I am not against the imposition of any new taxes for the purpose of carrying on the administration of our State as a Welfare State. But my complaint is that before any new tax is sought to be levied, even though it be for a good reason, the Government have to consider whether they could not put through an effective retrenchment programme and cut down expenditure. It is a top-heavy administration which we have inherited from the foreign Government and which we are continuing to have without any change for the last six or seven years.

“ My first objection is that this Government have no right to consider fresh taxation proposals. Before doing so, they should consider the desirability of effecting suitable retrenchment, which should certainly not be in the lower ranks. Mr. Chairman, we know what happens whenever any retrenchment is made. Retrenchment is always effected in the lower grades and a few thotties or a few chaprassis are retrenched and the upper grades are not touched at all. We have got a top-heavy administration and there are very many undesirable and unnecessary posts in the State. These posts must be abolished and there must be retrenchment in all the departments. For example, in spite of the partition of the composite State and the carving out of the Andhra State from the old Madras State, has there been any retrenchment worth mentioning? The administration is being carried on in the same old manner and the same officials are there, although here and there a few changes have been made. As a Member of the Legislature, I have been pressing for the abolition of the Board of Revenue. It is an unnecessary body and is nothing but the fifth wheel in the coach. This Government have not yet attempted to think about the advisability of abolishing the Board of Revenue and other unnecessary posts. This is my first objection.

13th May 1954] [Sri M. P. Govinda Menon]

“ My second objection, with great respect to the Hon. the Minister in charge of the Bill, is that this measure for the imposition of a surcharge on land revenue is a dishonest one. I am compelled to use this adjective. The principle underlying this Bill is no doubt a good one, namely, that the Government are asking those who are in a better position to make a contribution to the revenues of the Government. I also concede that there must not be a uniform rate of taxation on land for all classes of people. The present land revenue policy is defective in this respect. That is a person who owns 5 acres of land and a person owning a thousand or two thousand acres of land are assessed to land revenue at the same rate. There is no difference in the rate. If the principle that those who are in a better position should pay more is to be accepted, may I ask with great respect to the Treasury Bench, why they have not come forward with an honest measure for imposing an agricultural income-tax which is the only thing which would solve this problem? If the Government want to assess and tax the people according to their capacity and according to the income which they derive from the land, they should have come forward with a tax on agricultural income. I think the sister State of Travancore-Cochin has got a similar measure. That State Government are having an Agricultural Income Tax. Why should not this Government also try to have an agricultural income-tax instead of a surcharge on land revenue? There is a great advantage in having an agricultural income-tax in that the lower strata will be exempted. Even in regard to the ordinary income-tax, people with an annual income below Rs. 3,600 are not taxed. Municipalities also exempt certain lower income groups from the levy of profession tax. Why should not the Government adopt a similar principle in regard to the persons who are engaged in agriculture and who really contribute to the food requirements of the State and who are really working for the welfare of the country? Why should not the smaller classes of land owners be exempted? Why should not there be a graded system of land tax according to the capacity of the individual? Of course, I welcome the Land Revenue Surcharge Bill to the extent that it has introduced a graded system. But my complaint is that instead of this surcharge the Government could have come forward with proposals for an agricultural income-tax.

“ As far as the district of Malabar is concerned, we had some difficulties in regard to this surcharge on land revenue on account of the peculiar land tenure system obtaining there. On a previous occasion, when a similar surcharge was considered, the difficulties of Malabar were pressed before the Select Committee which accepted them. I am really glad that the difficulties of Malabar have been practically solved by the Government accepting the small amendment moved by my hon. Friend, Sri M. Narayana Kurup, in the other House. To this extent also I welcome the Bill but my general objections to this kind of taxation remain, namely, that first of all the Government must effect retrenchment and secondly there must be a scientific system of Agricultural Income Tax. With these few words, I am obliged to oppose this measure."

[Sri M. P. Govinda Menon] [13th May 1954]

SRI G. KRISHNAMURTHI :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, I beg to oppose this Bill. There seems to be no end to the enhancement of taxation by the Government. Our Government have been collecting a revenue of nearly Rs. 45 crores. Prior to the introduction of the Sales Tax we had the land tax as our Kamadhenu. But, after the appearance of the Sales Tax, this Kamadhenu of land tax began to kick and it also got famished. There were land disputes between the landowners and the tenants and the tendency of the Government has rightly been to support the tenant and I have been, in fact, supporting this tendency. Now, if the Government really want more benefits to flow to the tenants, they must make it convenient for the landlords to give such benefits to the tenants without grudging. The Government should see that no further impediments are placed in the way of the landlords and that they are not taxed further. But, I do not know how the Government thought it fit to just enhance the tax on land. Now, in the case of a person who is a landlord paying Rs. 500 as kist, it may only be a question of ownership of about 20 acres of wet lands. In our parts for about 20 acres of wet lands one will have to pay about Rs. 500 as kist. Do the Government think that a person who owns just over twenty acres of wet lands is rich enough just to come forward and pay the surcharge on land revenue especially when the Government have included in their Budget under Revenue Expenditure certain items which ought to go into the Capital account? If we survey last year's Budget, the Budget that was recently passed, we find that of the 200 odd Part II Schemes many of the items that ought to come under Capital Expenditure have been included under revenue expenditure. In fact, Capital expenditure is expenditure the benefit of which is to be enjoyed in the coming years by the next generation. Why should the present generation pay for the sake of those who are going to enjoy the fruits of such capital improvements in the future? It is something like the Government's policy of making the pavement dwellers go without houses and making the disabled beggars go without food and die. Now, it is the duty of the Government to see that the disabled beggars are given free rations and the people at present dwelling on the pavements are provided with houses. Then only the Government should see whether any surplus is available from the revenue account for capital expenditure. Even then, I do not think the financial provisions allow such a thing.

"If we take into consideration the 200 new schemes brought in by the Government in the last Budget, we will find that the deficit that has been given as one of the reasons for bringing in these new taxation measures is after all only 58 lakhs of rupees. If only we take off the items of capital expenditure which have been debited to the revenue account the deficit would be more than covered. I therefore do not see any reason why the Government think of bringing in these new legislative measures for additional taxation. Now we find that out of a revenue of Rs. 45 crores we have been spending a large amount on civil works. Of course, during the Rajaji Ministry the amount was reduced from Rs. 5½ crores to Rs. 3 crores and odd. That was done in the 1954-55 Budget. Previously, we were spending Rs. 9 crores and odd on the composite State and that was reduced to Rs. 5½ crores. Even now, out of the Rs. 3 crores allotted for civil works, we have to spend Rs. 1.77 crores on repairs to roads and repairs to buildings. There is no provision for new buildings. Is it advisable on the part of the Government to spend Rs. 1.77 crores on road works alone, especially in 1954-55 when we find that many people are without houses and that many disabled beggars are dying without food and so on? So, there must be a radical change in the preparation of the Budget, and the sooner we move ourselves out of the routine rut and various heads in the Budgetary provision, the better it would be for us. It is time for us to chalk out original programmes suited to the indigenous conditions and the genius of the country especially after the attainment of Independence. So, if the Budget had been recast in such a way or even if the Budgetary provisions are recast, as they lie within the powers of the Legislature, this Bill could have been avoided as also the additional taxation measures proposed under the various other Bills that are to come before this House. So I would like to submit to hon. Members of this House that this Bill is an unwanted Bill, that this Bill has been brought with a view to make up a deficit which could have been avoided by careful planning of the Budget and that this Bill is going to hit hard the landlords. If really we want the landlords to satisfy the tenants by giving effect to the various awards that are being granted rightly from time to time, we must see that no further taxation is put on the landlords. If that is the case and if we fully realise that India is an agricultural country, that we have to depend upon the landlords for increased production and that increased production can only go to increase the wealth of the country, we will see that it is a great mistake on our part to impose further taxation on the landlords. The landlords were already affected by some of the measures that had been brought up by the Government. But, even then, we fully sympathized with the Government because we thought that the man who milked the cow should not have troubles and that he should be encouraged. That is why we supported the Government in bringing forward measures that gave some relief to the tenants. I request the Government to see that they do not bring in any further measures to oppress the landlords. Instead they must give them facilities to part with complete satisfaction the benefits that are conferred on the tenants—after all these rights are taken away from the landlords. If the Government take into consideration these points, they will come to the conclusion that any further taxation on landlords is not advisable.

"Then, as was pointed out by my colleague Sri M. P. Govinda Menon, there is no distinction made between landlords who own 20 acres and those who own 2,000 acres. A flat rate of surcharge has been laid down. There must be a slab system and the rate should rise according to the various levels. Now, a man paying a kist of Rs. 500 should own nearly 20 acres. He is not on a par with a man owning 2,000 acres. The Government would do well to consider whether a slab system would not be advisable in the case of landlords who own large extents of land.

"On the whole, the principle of this Bill is not sound. The landlords should not be taxed further in the present day conditions when the Government have committed themselves to the conferment of more benefits on the tenants and when the Opposition has been sympathetic towards the Government in most of the cases just to encourage the tenant. This Bill is quite untimely, uncalled for and it will hit the landlords hard."

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, this Bill raises many questions of importance and I implore all hon. Members of this House to think calmly over the various aspects. It is clear from the Statement of Objects and Reasons that the Government do not lay so much stress upon the revenue that they would get. That is very clear and the Hon. the Mover of the Bill, in the other House, has made it clear that the total revenue as a result of levying this surcharge will come to Rs. 7 lakhs. The deficit according to the Budget is Rs. 58 lakhs. Therefore, this sum of Rs. 7 lakhs does not very much matter at all. That is why the Government give the other reason, namely, that they want an equitable distribution of taxation and that they want to see that the richer classes are mulcted. That is the chief reason given in support of the Bill. Does that principle apply to the ryotwari assessment? I am on that and I want to speak a few words. The speaker who preceded me was talking about the landlords. I do not think that the ryotwari proprietor is a landlord at all. Under the ryotwari system the landlord is the Government. This has been well described in all books on the ryotwari tenures. All the people are peasant proprietors. They range from a person having one acre only to persons having more than 1,000 acres. Very few persons are having more than 1,000 acres. According to the Subramaniam Committee Report, pattadars paying more than Rs. 1,000 will come to less than 1000. That is a very small number. Therefore, let not the Government make a fetish that they have adopted the Communist principle of hitting only the richer classes.

"Now, let us see whether there could be a surcharge on land revenue under present day conditions. Land revenue is fixed taking into account various factors. There were periodical resettlements—fortunately for us periodical resettlements have been given up. The rates are fixed according to the classification of the soil, the yield and so on and the theory is that we can go up to half the nett. That is the maximum limit that has been fixed, but as a matter of fact, now the Government charge from 25 to 33-1/3rd per cent. Seasonal variations and other factors are also taken into account. Unfortunately for the last seven years we were having no rains, and nobody could even think of a surcharge. The Government could only think of remission of revenue and not levy of surcharge. It was only last year that we had some rains and immediately the Government catch hold of this simple fact to levy a surcharge on land revenue. On the other hand, has the situation improved to any extent now? The Government would say not a word about it. I am perfectly sure that the Hon. Minister, who always speaks facts correctly, will agree with me when I say that the situation has not improved. The cost of cultivation has increased. The cost of all materials necessary for cultivation purposes has increased. So also the cost of cattle has increased twofold. If the proprietor has got larger extents of land, the greater is his commitment in regard to the cost of cultivation. As one hon. Member rightly pointed out, the greater the extent of land the lesser would be the yield. A man may have very fertile lands which will yield more. But if he has got a very large extent of lands—some of them may be in low lying areas and some of them may be of second taram or third taram—then the average yield would be much less. Thus, land revenue is fixed according to the unit per acre. This is not like income tax at all. So many factors are taken into consideration in fixing land revenue and a certain amount is fixed for each acre of land. We can go up to half of the nett yield. The Government have got ample provision for increasing it up to half of the nett if only circumstances help them to do so and those circumstances also are in the control of both Government and God. The seasonal conditions being the same, they can very well regulate the prices, the market, the various transport facilities and so on. If the Government do all those things, the yield will become much greater. It is for the Government who have got greater responsibility in such a matter to do all these things instead of merely levying a surcharge. I can understand this surcharge if they want really to make up the deficit. I can understand if they are taxing the richer classes. That is not so. There is no question of richer classes at all in this particular matter. They are not trading. They are not making any profits out of any advantages of exchange and all those speculative considerations and so on. Taking all these difficulties into consideration, the yield is there and they take their particular portion. Why should there be any surcharge on it, I cannot understand. The mirasdar and ryotwari proprietor cannot bear it. As the hon. Member Sri Ramaswami Reddiar has thrice mentioned, the peasant proprietors are unable to pay even their land revenue at the present time. Why should we think that they belong to the richer class? I do not call these ryotwari proprietors as richer class people. All the money they get they put again on the land except for the portion which they use for their own family.

purposes. It is a thing which is going with the land and again coming with the land. A mirasdar may be going in a motor car in Madras streets and that may be only for the purpose of meeting some of the Hon. Ministers and asking them for some help. One hon. Member mentioned that they were going to the races, and so on. But a mirasdar as such who is primarily relying upon land cannot spend on any of these matters. Whatever money he has, except for a portion of it for his family expenses, he will have to spend on the land itself. There are difficulties and various conditions and therefore, if he gets some money he may have it for the purpose of utilising it when bad seasonal conditions prevail. Therefore, it is wrong on principle to levy a surcharge. Government must have got a true picture of the situation and they should not be carried away by certain slogans which do not apply to the system of land revenue.

"We have got some general notions about equity and distribution of wealth between rich and poor. I do not argue against those principles at all. But let us see that these principles are applied to the land revenue system of our country and the land problems as they are at present. Are we sure that the seasonal conditions will be much better in the next year? Suppose, the seasonal conditions are bad, will the surcharge be reduced? Will the Government reduce the land revenue assessment? No. Unfortunately, the periodical revision of assessments has been stopped. That is what I understand. The periodical revision of assessments having been stopped, if the prices go down, there is no way out of it at all. That is the difficulty. The periodical settlement having been stopped, the fluctuations in prices can never be taken into consideration for the purpose of revising the assessments of land revenue. Under such circumstances, to add a surcharge on land revenue makes it a very difficult thing. Why did the Government stop the periodical settlement? Because at that time they thought that they would be helping the landlords. I think that periodical resettlement will be the proper thing and will be helpful to all the people. But it is not for me to decide. I have not got the whole picture of the situation before me. I am not here to advise the Government on this particular matter. I am perfectly sure that the mirasdar cannot bear this land revenue surcharge which the Government propose to levy, not for the purpose of replenishing their treasury, but for the purpose of advancing certain principles of equity and distribution of wealth and so on. I emphatically say that these principles do not apply to our land revenue system. The Government are wrong in applying those principles and imposing further taxation on that ground and not on the ground of replenishing their Treasury. That may be a different consideration altogether, but those principles should not be applied to this particular matter, viz., land revenue.

"It is stated in the Statement of Objects and Reasons that the rate of assessment is not higher in the case of the richer classes than in the case of the smaller peasants. The Government call them the richer classes as if they have no duties and obligations. They are helping in the food production of the country. Without the mirasdars of the Tanjore district, the whole of Tamil Nad will be in great difficulty. I am perfectly sure of that and, therefore it is, I should like to say, that this principle is wrong.

"I have got various other matters to say and I do not want to say them now. When I move my amendment, I shall speak about the water-cess and other matters. But as regards the main question whether there should be a surcharge or not, I think this is not the time for imposing a surcharge, and a surcharge on land revenue under the present circumstances is not at all appropriate, especially to achieve the object that has been set forth in the Statement of Objects and Reasons."

SRI K. BHASHYAM :—"Sir, so much has been said about the principle of the Bill and the undesirability of levying a surcharge upon land revenue. In olden days people were fighting for permanent settlement of land revenue. In those days they were against periodical revisions of land revenue. We have been saying all these days that there must be permanent settlement of land revenue. But those days are gone now. We have now come to the days, when, as a matter of fact, a revision must take place in respect of all sorts of exactions from people because there is a difference between those days and these days. In those days there was not the Welfare State. But, now there is the Welfare State, which is for the welfare of the people concerned. If we want the general welfare of the people, we must pay for it and, therefore, it is necessary to get money from all sources. From this point of view I think it is not correct to state that there ought not to be a surcharge on land revenue.

"But, my objection, however, is something different from this. This is not a scientific taxation. As pointed out by some speakers who preceded me, agricultural income-tax is more scientific and more equitable, and it is also possible to distribute the burden of the tax according to the income that is derived from the land. That must be the object with which we must start when we really levy a surcharge upon the land revenue. I believe that the Government propose levying the surcharge not because they want to make it a permanent measure on the statute book, but because this is only a first step in the matter of taking up the question of agricultural income tax. I should even go further and say that the policy of land tax itself should be revised completely. Though it may not be quite relevant, I think I should suggest to the Government that there must be a basic tax, e.g., Rs. 5 for wet land and Rs. 3 for dry land, and the tax must be levied on the income derived from the land, whether it is a commercial crop, or paddy or some other crop. Thus we will exactly know what the man has got out of the land and how much we can exact from him. Therefore, Sir, though land revenue surcharge is not quite so scientific as agricultural income-tax, I should like to point out that the Government have got in view the agricultural income-tax to be brought in on a future occasion and this is only a beginning for the purpose of getting into a structure of agricultural income-tax very soon, because the Hon. the Revenue Minister has stated that agricultural income-tax is not possible now, but only later.

"I should like to point out one important thing in this connexion. It may be an argument from this side, but still I should like to point out this. Agriculture is an industry like any other industry. Agriculturists want capital and persons having large capital can really produce more food than those having small capital. If this Bill is passed into law, it is quite probable that persons holding joint pattas and those whose property has not been divided will so divide the properties among themselves that they do not pay the surcharge contemplated in this Bill. Also this Bill will result in less production of food. As this Bill will have the effect of fragmentation of holdings, I am opposed to this Bill. A person would like to free himself from the joint patta and take a single patta for himself. Persons paying revenue exceeding five hundred rupees will divide the property among their sons and others in such a way that they are not made to pay any surcharge. Therefore, I believe that the greater objection is not to the principle as such. This Bill will lead to the fragmentation of the land and that will in turn lead to less production than we can imagine at present. We do not know, Sir, how far and how long the Government will keep this Act in force, and whether they will not in the near future bring forward a more scientific system of taxation. We do not know whether the Government will introduce the agricultural income-tax and will introduce changes in the basic tax on land. (Interruption by Dr. V. K. John.) The hon. Member Dr. V. K. John always asks me whether I am not supporting the Government. I am one who takes the point as it is, and I make critical observations so that persons who hear them may be benefited by them. If the Government take the observation I make in the spirit in which I make it, and act upon it, well and good. If they do not, well and better.

"Sir, as to the Bill, there are certain anomalies which I wish to point out. After all this is a surcharge upon land revenue. Who are the persons liable to pay this surcharge, is the question. I would like the Government to pay attention to what I am going to say more from a lawyer's point of view. Difficulties will arise when the matter goes to Courts of law. I am not saying that the matter will go to a Court of law on the question of interpretation of any clause. But the matter may go to Court on the score that the Articles of the Constitution are offended. We are seeking to levy a surcharge upon land revenue paid and payable by a person to-day. What about the large number of acres of land that are held as inam? Even to-day, in spite of conversions of land into ryotwari tenure, there are large extents of land held under inam, and these inamdars do not pay any land tax, though they are assessed for the purpose of collecting cess, which they have to pay. What happens to this large extent of land held under inam? Are the Government going to exempt them from the levy of surcharge? Why are not these lands brought under the scope of this Bill? Sir, we are making a discrimination between land owners paying land revenue direct to the Government and persons who are paying only cess. They do not pay assessment for historical reasons. The point that I wish to urge upon the attention of the Government is whether this discriminatory treatment is not open to objection. There is another difficulty I feel in the incidence of this tax. Let us take Clause 3. For example, if A, B and C pay each separately Rs. 300 they will not have to pay surcharge. But if B and C pay more than Rs. 500 on a joint patta, each will have to pay surcharge. A person who has a single patta and pays Rs. 499 as land revenue is exempted from the levy of the surcharge. The inequity of the provisions of the Bill will be still more apparent if, as a matter of fact A, who has got a joint patta with B, has got to pay the surcharge. It may be that A holds only one-twentieth of the lands held by B, and his (A's) tax in respect of his holding is only Rs. 15. Though he is liable to pay Rs. 315 only to the Government as land revenue, still under the proposed Bill he will have to pay the surcharge on the land revenue, because he has a joint patta with B. There is this anomaly. A person who has a single patta, and who pays land revenue up to Rs. 499 is exempted from the operation of this Bill, but a person who has got to pay a revenue of Rs. 300 in respect of his own lands and, in respect of lands held in joint patta with another, Rs. 50 (though the other person has to pay Rs. 250 as land revenue) has to pay this surcharge. In this case we are assessing surcharge on a person because he happens to hold a joint patta with another, both, however, paying separately less than Rs. 500 as land revenue. The man who suffers from this anomaly is worse off than the man who pays Rs. 499 as land revenue on a single patta.

"Then, Sir, what amount of surcharge is to be paid by the joint pattadar is the question. In Clause 2 it is stated, 'lands held' refers to the lands in respect of which a landholder is liable to pay land revenue. Sir, it is common knowledge that in respect of joint pattas land revenue is payable by all persons who have the joint patta. Therefore, a person who holds a joint patta with another is liable to pay land revenue for the whole of the lands, even if, for the land held by him, the amount of land revenue may be small, say, Rs. 15. But what happens in such a case is that, he is liable to pay all the tax on the lands held in joint patta, say, Rs. 500. That is what it comes to. A has to pay in respect of his lands on single patta Rs. 300, and A and B have to pay Rs. 300 in respect of the lands held by them in joint patta. Now, as per this Bill, A is liable to pay surcharge on Rs. 600. Is that what is intended? I do not think so. What is stated here is really difficult to understand. In Clause 5 (1) power is given to the Tahsildar to call for information in regard to the total extent of the lands held by the landholder in the State and the land revenue payable in respect thereof. The word is 'payable' and not 'liable'. Information is not asked as to how much of land revenue he is 'liable' to pay, but how much land revenue is 'payable' by him. The landholder may be liable to pay only Rs. 15 in respect of his lands held in joint patta, but the whole land revenue in respect of the joint patta may be recovered from him. That is the point. (Interruption). Therefore, I say that this Bill is full of ambiguities and inequities. On the Constitutional issue, neither the Hon. the Revenue Minister nor myself can say what the Courts will say. We do not know whether the courts will say that a certain provision in the Bill is objectionable. As stated by me a question may be raised whether inamdars should be exempt from the operation of this Bill. There is discrimination between a landholder under ryotwari tenure who pays a land revenue of more than Rs. 500 and another who holds inam lands and who pays in respect of those lands only a cess. There is discrimination also in respect of persons paying more than Rs. 500 and others paying less than Rs. 500. I am criticising the provisions of the Bill only to make them better. The Hon. the Revenue Minister may think over the points raised by me and see whether the defects cannot be remedied. I would like to suggest to him that this matter may be discussed by a select committee so that the Bill may be free from legal objections."

DR. V. K. JOHN :—“ Mr. Chairman, Sir, when the present Government was constituted I was expecting that all measures of taxation will be withdrawn and that no new taxation measuring will not be introduced in the Assembly and the Council. I thought that the present Chief Minister had one great advantage over the other Chief Ministers and other Ministers. He is not only with the people but of the people and he has lived a life of poverty and still continues to do so. I thought, therefore, that he would appreciate the fact that the people of this State had been impoverished by excessive taxation, both direct and indirect. If today there is impoverishment of the people, it is mainly due to the taxation imposed by the Government on the people from time to time. Unemployment, want of purchasing power, lack of production and the decrease in export and the increase in import into the State should all be ascribed to excessive taxation under the burden of which our people are now suffering. I thought when the new Ministry was constituted, they would turn a new leaf. But I am sorry to state that I am disappointed. Why is this taxation necessary? Have the Government first of all paid attention to the very heavy expenditure incurred by the Congress Government year after year? If only we look at the figures of expenditure, we will find that the expenditure has gone up by leaps and bounds. It is to meet that increase in expenditure that this Government are imposing fresh taxes. Why should not Government pay attention to this aspect of the matter and reduce their expenditure instead of imposing fresh taxes? I do not say that this Government are responsible for all that expenditure. It is perhaps an expenditure which they have inherited. But should not the present Government look into that aspect of the matter and see that they bring down the expenditure by at least a few crores of rupees? In the Budget speech of the Hon. the Finance Minister, figures were given about the expenditure incurred by the Government in the various departments. The expenditure on Police which was Rs. 1,60,00,000 in 1938-39 rose up to Rs. 2,98,00,000 in 1945-46. Then the expenditure jumped to Rs. 4 crores and before the partition of the State it was Rs. 7½ crores and odd. Has anybody investigated the reasons for the increase in expenditure? Is it because the Police people are paid many times their salary? No. The expenditure only has gone up and has gone up unnecessarily. So also is the case in regard to expenditure under ‘General Administration’. From Rs. 2 crores in 1938-39 it rose to Rs. 4 crores in 1945-46 and went up to Rs. 8 crores. I am now saying that attention should be concentrated on the reduction of expenditure and not on only increasing taxation to get more and more revenue. If only this Government which has Sri Kamaraj as its head, had concentrated attention on the excessive expenditure incurred by this State, and reduced it, there would have been no need for imposing this tax. Ordinarily I would have said that a tax on the rich is a progressive tax, and I would have supported a measure like this because it is the man who is able to pay that is asked to bear the burden of the tax. If we impose a tax just as the sales tax on the poor then it is regressive taxation. Now I cannot support this taxation measure because it is not based on any principle whatsoever. Is it a tax on land? If it is so, a man having 500 acres is paying for 500 acres and a man with one acre is paying for one acre. It is not a tax on land. Is it a tax on income? No. It is not, because Government do not enquire into the income of the man who holds the property. He is not asked to pay a portion of his income. When clearly analysed, one would see that this is not a tax at all. It is a penalty for holding large extents of land. It is a very wrong penalty to impose. Has this Government or this Legislature the power to impose a penalty on the holding of land? We can have a tax on holdings, that is, a tax on everybody in proportion to the acreage he holds, and we can have a tax on the rich people based on their income, but this surcharge is sheer penalty for holding land for which the land revenue payable is more than Rs. 500. As I said it is wrong to impose this surcharge, it is illogical and it is also irrational. This Government ought not to have attempted to adopt the principle of levying a penalty on large holdings to increase their revenue. We also do not know what is the income which the Government are going to get by this measure. It may be anything between 2 lakhs and 4 lakhs of rupees only. Also, the hon. Member, Sri K. Bhashyam, who always votes with the Government but speaks against them when he criticises their measures, said that the Bill will defeat its very object.

13th May 1954] [Dr. V. K. John]

“ I am also quite sure that there will be large scale transfers of land so that the surcharge may be evaded. Coupled with the Estate Duty, this Bill is only putting a premium on people transferring their lands, not to strangers or to members of the Government or to the Government themselves, but to their own relatives so that the surcharge may be evaded. Sir, I say any tendency to evade taxation is an immoral tendency and we are encouraging this immoral tendency by introducing measures like this. We ought to have a rational tax structure on land. Land tax is not a rational tax structure at all. If one holds movable property worth lakhs of rupees, there is no tax upon it but if one holds some waste lands, a tax has to be paid upon them. Time after time, people have realised that land tax is an irrational tax and it should be revised into one of a tax on agricultural income. What has this Congress Government which has come to power in 1945 done about it? Year after year the Government have been saying that they are looking into the question of the land tax structure, and up till now they have had no time and no leisure to do something by way of rationalising the tax on land! I say the real fact is that if a tax on agricultural income is to be imposed the Government would not get even a quarter of the revenue from land which they are getting today. They do not want to lose it because their expenditure is colossal though they cannot go beyond all limits. They have already impoverished this State by various measures of taxation and this levy is adding one more item to the list. This surcharge ought to wait until there is rationalisation of the tax on land. There should not be any penalty on large holdings.

"While I would have certainly welcomed a measure of taxation which is not passed on to the poor as in the present measure, I am sorry that, in spite of the particular characteristics of this measure that it is only the richer people who will pay this surcharge, I must oppose and strongly oppose this Bill.

"Also, I find that there is no provision for an appeal. In all taxation measures there must be provision for appeal to an impartial tribunal. There is no provision in the Bill unless it be that one is made by an executive order. But, the Government are an executive body and there must be provision for appeal to a judicial or quasi-judicial body. Why should the Government be afraid of making such a provision, when they want to do justice to the people? It is only recently that the Government created an Appellate Tribunal for Sales Tax though the value of it has been whittled down by another recent legislative measures. The Government must always provide for an appellate judicial or quasi-judicial tribunal to go into questions of taxation if any party is aggrieved. The Government have not done so here. I am sorry, Sir, I have to oppose this measure although it is presumably a tax on the rich and not on the poor. I would suggest to the Government, as the hon. Member Sri K. Bhashyam has suggested, that they could go into the question of the structure of the tax on land and introduce something which is more rational instead of going about in this irrational manner. I must conclude by saying that I am very disappointed indeed that the present Ministry has embarked on this measure of taxation. I find that there are other Bills also which are more objectionable and on which also I shall speak when they come before the House."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, I will begin by replying first to the hon. the acting Leader of the Opposition. The hon. the acting Leader of the Opposition said that the cost of administration was very high, it was mounting up every year, and without looking into the question of retrenchment, the Government came forward with fresh legislation to raise more revenue. Sir, I must tell him that a democratic set up of administration is a costly one and we have to pay the price for it. The days of one man's rule have gone for ever and we have to carry on under a democratic set up. I may also say that but for this democratic set up my hon. Friend, the acting Leader of the Opposition, would have no locus standi to speak so eloquently on this subject."

13th May 1954]

DR. V. K. JOHN :—"The Hon. Minister is not quite clear."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—"Sir, I may say that it is because of this democratic set up that my hon. Friend, Dr. V. K. John, is able to stand for an election, get elected as a Member of this House and contribute so well to the debate though it be to my detriment."

DR. V. K. JOHN :—"Does this not apply to the Hon. Minister also?"

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—"A democratic set up is common not only for the hon. the acting Leader of the Opposition, but for all functioning under it. If it is costly we cannot help it though it does not mean that we must be spending like spendthrifts. We must also be careful in husbanding our resources. We are trying to be as economical as possible.

"Another hon. Member said that if this was a measure intended to raise additional revenue in order to meet the deficit in the Budget, the deficit could very well have been made up by making necessary adjustments in the accounts. Sir, I do not want to repeat the arguments already put forth by my Hon. Colleague, the Minister for Finance, during the Budget debate. It was not possible to make these adjustments. Otherwise they would have been made then and there.

"Sir, the hon. Member, Sri M. P. Govinda Menon, and another asked, 'Why should not the Government have recourse to retrenchment?' Well, Sir, it is easily said but to carry it out is very difficult. Still the Government have been trying now and then to effect some retrenchment. When the word 'retrenchment' is pronounced, I am reminded of the question which I answered during the question-hour when my hon. Friend, Sri M. Ethirajulu, said that so many people had been retrenched. Therefore there is this difficulty also that if we want to retrench, many will be left starving. Many will be thrown out of employment, and there will be hunger strikes, starvation marches and so on. Retrenchment is not the only consideration and, circumscribed, as we are, by the aspect which I have just now mentioned, we cannot simply take the pen and say that ten Deputy Collectors and a hundred Tahsildars can be dispensed with. Probably my hon. Friend, Sri M. P. Govinda Menon, may do so."

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON :—"Give the power to do so along with the pen!"

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—"Yes, there will be a collapse of the administration and we must be prepared for that also. Simply because we have brought forward this measure, it does not mean that we have lost sight of this aspect of retrenchment. It is there; we are thinking about it and we will be carrying it out whenever it is possible."

[Sri M. A. Manickavelu Naicker] [13th May 1954]

"Then, Sir, the hon. Member, Sri M. P. Govinda Menon, has said that it is dishonest on my part to have brought forward this Bill instead of a Bill introducing Agricultural Income Tax. I think he used the word 'dishonest' in a loose sense and not with the connotation that this word sometimes carries with it."

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON:—"I used it in a legal sense."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"Anyhow, there is nothing dishonest about this Bill and it is with the best of intentions that it has been brought forward. Now, the hon. Member wants that agricultural income tax should be introduced. We also considered this matter but we found that there were quite a number of difficulties in the way. In the first place, this Bill applies to the rural population, and there is the question of the villagers maintaining accounts. But it is said that since the exemption limit is very high, the landlords who are affected by this Bill will be big landlords and that most of them will be literate. To some extent I concede that. But the matter does not end there. It is not a question of maintaining accounts alone. There are a number of other factors. For instance, in assessing the income we have to take into account the cost of cultivation. That will lead to a number of difficulties. The cost of cultivation may differ from person to person and that will have to be assessed by the Revenue officials. There may not be a correct assessment. All these difficulties will crop up. Then we have to take into account the difference in soil, the irrigation facilities available and the price factor. The price of produce varies from place to place. In some places it is very high. All these factors will have to be taken into account by the Tahsildar or the Revenue Inspector and he will have to come to a certain conclusion. If the assessment is not proper, then my hon. Friend, the Deputy Leader of the Opposition, will say 'No, it is not properly done. The Executive staff are no good. We should have a Tribunal to decide these matters'. That is why the Government have brought forward this simple Bill. There would be no need to incur further expenditure for appointing anybody to collect this surcharge. Already we have got an efficient staff who are collecting land revenue and this surcharge will be collected in addition to that. Now, this Bill applies to landlords who are paying a land revenue exceeding rupees five hundred. In the original Bill which was introduced in the Assembly and which was referred to a Select Committee, the exemption limit was only Rs. 50. Now, we have raised this limit to Rs. 500. So this would not create any hardship. If a man who pays Rs. 10 is asked to pay Rs. 15, then it will create hardship. But if a man who is paying more than Rs. 500 is asked to pay a little more, there is sufficient margin for him to bear the burden. I think that people who use motor cars know that they do not feel the jerks and shocks on account of the shock absorbers. Similarly, the landlords will not also feel the jerk of a small increase in tax. This Bill is in the nature of a shock absorber, because the landlords can bear the tax. If we really wanted more revenue, we would have imposed this levy even on persons paying Rs. 50 or Rs. 100. In that case, we would be getting Rs. 40 or Rs. 50 lakhs. By levying this surcharge on land revenue assessments on bigger holdings, there is sufficient margin for the landowners to bear the burden, and this would also be equitably distributed. This levy will not touch any of the necessities of the landlords. It will affect only some of their luxuries. If they get rid of some of their luxuries, they will improve in their health and it would be good for them. So, in an indirect way, the Government will be helping the landlords to lead healthy lives.

"Then it was pointed out that this measure will lead to fragmentation of holdings. True it may lead to fragmentation to some extent, but not to an uneconomic extent. Hon. Members might be aware that the air is thick with reports of the proposal of the Central Government to fix ceilings on land holdings—not only in respect of future holdings but even on the existing ones. We are also getting a lot of literature on this subject. Without having recourse to law, this measure will work it out. If people want to divide, let them divide. It will be distributing the land, but it will be quite an economic holding. This Bill will achieve that object also.

"The hon. Member Sri Bhashyam asked 'What is the rationale in bringing forward such a measure? A large number of inamdars are left out of the scope of this Bill'. Yes, Sir, they are left out. But, if the hon. Member wants to rope them in, I will indent upon his legal acumen. As it is, if we want to include them also, we will have to pay a large amount of compensation to the tune of about Rs. 20 crores to these estate-holders for acquiring their lands. That is the difficulty in the way of bringing in legislation in respect of the particular inams. The hon. Member next referred to the hardship caused to the joint pattadars, particularly those paying Rs. 100 or Rs. 200 and said that simply because they happened to hold joint pattas they were called upon to pay this surcharge. I need not dilate upon this aspect now. When we take up the consideration of the Bill clause by clause, I shall deal with it. As far as possible, I have explained how under the present circumstances this is a very simple, quite a workable and quite an equitable Bill that the present times call for. Otherwise, we will have to do something radical. This is a House of Elders. I am sure hon. Members will understand the significance of the times and help me in getting through this legislation. I wish that the hon. Member Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar was in the distinguished visitors' gallery in the Assembly. It was quite a hard job for me to explain to the Members of the other House why I had not lowered the exemption level. In spite of that, hon. Members go on criticising me. I commend this Bill to this House."

[13th May 1954]

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" The question is—

' That the Madras Land Revenue (Surcharge) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 18 of 1954), as passed by the Assembly, be taken into consideration.' "

The motion was carried.

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" We shall now take up the clause by clause consideration of the Bill. "

Clause 2.

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" The motion is—

' That clause 2 do stand part of the Bill. * "

* SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, I beg to move the amendment—if may not be correct to call it an amendment but it is only a recommendation—standing in my name, namely,—

' In clause 2, item (c), for the word " includes " . substitute the words " does not include " and for the words " but does not include " , substitute the word " or " .

Since this is a Money Bill, it should not be called an amendment but should be called only as a recommendation. My point is that water-cess should not be included in the term ' land revenue '. For that purpose, I think that the wording of the section should be changed so as to read ' land revenue means public revenue due on land but does not include water-cess payable to the Government for water supplied or used for the irrigation of land or any other cess '. So far as water-cess is concerned, as we all know, in regard to classified wet lands, the Government undertake to supply water. So it is part of the land revenue. But so far as the unauthorized use of water is concerned, the Government impose penal rates and that is also a water rate. As a matter of fact, the Government are collecting ten times the usual rate as the penal rate. Unfortunately, this penal rate is also sought to be included under the term ' water-cess payable to the Government ' for the purpose of computing this surcharge. Another surcharge is imposed upon the penal water-cess. Water-cess includes three kinds of rates. The first is when it is included in the land revenue, the second is for water supplied to dry crops which is generally fixed by rules, and the third is the penal rate for unauthorized use of water. All these three kinds of rates come under the same category of water rate. I do not want, Sir, that water-cess should be further increased. The Government have fixed some water rate, and for the unauthorized use of water they are imposing a penalty of ten times the water rate. Then, why should the Government impose a surcharge on the water-cess also? It should be a surcharge on land revenue only. Land revenue includes so many cesses, but it does not include water rate. Water rate is a different thing. It is imposed on different principles and different categories altogether. Therefore it is that I make bold to move this recommendation. I have very great doubt whether this recommendation will be accepted by the Government. Because, the difficulty is that this recommendation will have to go again to the Assembly but the Government do not want to delay this Bill further. But this being a question of principle and being a question in which the Government ought to take into consideration all these aspects at least in framing their rules in this aspect, I want to press strongly upon the Government this particular recommendation."

SRI MOHAMED RAZA KHAN :—" Sir, I second the amendment."

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" Amendment moved—

' In clause 2, item (c) for the words " includes " , substitute the words " does not include " and for the words " but does not include " , substitute the word " or " . "

DR. V. K. JOHN :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, let me express the hope that the Hon. Minister will at least accept this so clear and so rational a recommendation made by my hon. Friend Sri Balasubramanya Ayyar."

SRI K. BHASHYAM :—" I see the force of the arguments of the hon. Member Sri Balasubramanya Ayyar for not including water-cess in the definition of ' land revenue '. The water-cess which is included in the definition is not the penal rate for unauthorized use of water. If it includes the penal rate also, I agree with the hon. Member Sri Balasubramanya Ayyar that surcharge should not be levied on that. But, to my mind it is not so clear whether the water-cess which is included in the definition of ' land revenue ' includes also the penalties imposed by the Government in respect of unauthorized use of water, because they are not water-cess under the Act but certainly something really different and which is imposed as a penalty for unauthorized use of water. I venture to think that the penal rate for taking unauthorized water is not included in the water-cess. I do not know how far it is correct, and it has to be tested in courts. But if it is included in the water-cess, I see the force of the objection raised by the hon. Member Sri Balasubramanya Ayyar. In order to avoid such an objection being raised, I would request the Government to make it a part of the rule that water-cess will include only the water-cess payable in respect of water being taken by a person in the first instance for the purpose of irrigating the land and will not include the penal rate for unauthorized use of water. If this is done, the matter will be made clear and it will not be open to objection. But as things stand at present, it looks to me that water-cess does not include the penal rate. So as not to make it arguable in Courts of law, I would request Government to make it quite clear in the rules that water-cess does not include the penal rate for using unauthorized water."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—
“Sir, in most cases the tax is a consolidated one. Only in some cases it is separated. There is a sort of basic tax and in addition water tax is collected. I do not know, Sir, why the water-cess should be excluded. The water tax is levied because there is further availability of water and the cultivator raises an assured crop and he makes money out of it. The whole idea of this surcharge is that the tax must be raised from a man who makes money and who can afford to pay. By paying this water tax his cultivation is assured and thereby he gets an assured produce. If the water tax is consolidated in the tax itself, then there is no objection. Because for some reason or other, the water tax is not consolidated, but stands separated. I do not see any reason why it should be excluded from surcharge.

“Another point is, why surcharge should be levied on penal water rate also? Well, Sir, the very idea of levying penal rate is that the cultivators take water, which they are not normally entitled to, thereby depriving the ayacutdars lower down. That is why they are made to pay 10 or 15 or even 20 times the normal rate as penalty for unauthorized use of water. So, if this small surcharge is a hardship on them, I welcome it as it will be a further deterrent penalty against them. Even by penal assessment we are not able to prevent unauthorized use of water, and if this surcharge on the penal rate is going to add some more difficulty, I will welcome it, Sir. I do not see any reason why I should accept the amendment.”

MR. CHAIRMAN :—“I shall now put the amendment of the hon. Member Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar to the vote of the House. Before actually doing so, I would like to point out to the hon. Member Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar that only amendments are allowed to be moved and these amendments are sent to the other House as recommendations. The question is—

‘In clause 2, item (c), for the word “includes”, substitute the words “does not include” and for the words “but does not include”, substitute the word “or”.’

The amendment was lost.

Clause 2 was put and carried.

Clause 3.

MR. CHAIRMAN :—“The motion is—

‘That clause 3 do stand part of the Bill.’

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR :—“Sir, I move the amendment standing in my name, namely :—

‘In clause 3, after the words “in the State” occurring in line 4, insert the words “whether in a single patta or in a joint patta.”’

The amendment was duly seconded.

13th May 1954]

MR. CHAIRMAN :—“Amendment moved—

‘In clause 3, after the words “in the State” occurring in line 4, insert the words “whether in a single patta or in a joint patta.”’

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR :—“This amendment is for the purpose of removing certain anomalies which were also pointed out by the hon. Member Sri K. Bhashyam. There are a large number of joint pattadars. Some of the hon. Members said that there were very few joint pattadars. That is not correct. If we see the Subramanyam Committee’s report, we will find that there are equally a large number of joint pattadars in our State. As my hon. Friend Sri Gajapathy Nayagar has stated, there are even ten persons having a joint patta. If three persons hold a joint patta and the total land revenue payable on the joint patta comes to Rs. 900, each of the persons will have to pay surcharge because the total land revenue payable is Rs. 900. That is not fair at all. The Hon. Minister has stated that the Government do not want to tax the poor man and that they do not want to add to his burden. It is wrong to think that joint pattas are very few in number. There are a large number of joint pattas in our State and, therefore, what the Government are giving by one hand, they are taking away by the other. According to this Bill, only those who pay land revenue of more than Rs. 500 are liable for surcharge. My amendment is to the effect that a landlord is liable to pay surcharge if he pays a land revenue exceeding Rs. 500 in respect of lands held by him in the State whether in a single patta or in a joint patta. This will be more equitable. If A and B pay in a joint patta a land revenue of Rs. 300, B and C Rs. 300 and C and D Rs. 300, then all the three persons A, B and C, will have to pay the surcharge, whatever may be his particular portion because the total land revenue payable by them exceeds Rs. 500. That is the illustration which the Government have given in the Bill. That is the reasoning they have adopted and that is the conclusion to which they have come. But instead of that, if we say ‘whether in a single patta or in a joint patta’, A, B and C will all escape the surcharge, because the land revenue payable by each person will be only Rs. 300. There are some difficulties. We shall reduce the difficulties as much as possible. Government want to levy a surcharge on land revenue and we have to pay it. But let us pay it in the most equitable manner without any anomalies as far as possible. Therefore it is I make bold to move this amendment of mine.”

SRI K. BHASHYAM :—“Sir, the only difficulty I feel is that unless the hon. Member gives notice of an amendment to the Definition Clause (Clause 2), he will not be achieving the purpose he has in view. The definition of ‘lands held’ is given in sub-clause (b) of Clause 2. This should be suitably amended. Otherwise, the hon. Member will not achieve his object in view. Therefore it is I say that the word ‘liable’ in sub-clause (b) of Clause 2 should be changed into 'payable'. If this is made clear in the amendment the hon. Member has proposed, then it may be quite all right. Otherwise, the hon. Member cannot achieve the purpose he has in view."

[Sri K. Bhashyam]

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON :—"Sir, I support the amendment. The wording is not very clear. Suppose a person pays Rs. 300 on his single patta and joins with another and pays Rs. 300 on joint patta, both are liable for payment. Under the Malabar Land Registration Act, tenants and landlords enter into a joint patta, so that the tenant's share of the revenue may be collected from the tenant. The tenant may be paying Rs. 100 or Rs. 200, and the landlord may be paying a bigger amount. Under the provisions of this Bill, the position will be that every tenant who has been compelled to have a joint patta, registered under section 14 of the Malabar Land Registration Act, will be responsible for the payment of revenue. He may pay less than what his landlord pays. But still this tenant also will be liable to pay the whole revenue. To that extent, I support the amendment of the hon. Member. The change in the wording may be left to the Department and the Hon. Minister. I suggest, Sir, that we do adjourn now so that the Hon. Minister may have time to consider the amendment of Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar. The Clause has to be re-examined. I concede that the objects of the Hon. Minister must be carried out. But we must not go beyond that because of the defective wording. I support the amendment."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—"Sir, I oppose the amendment for this reason. The acceptance of this amendment will cause more confusion. It all depends upon the interpretation of the phrase. One hon. Member will interpret it in one way and another in another way. That is why we have introduced illustrations which will make the position clear. We know Shakespeare's plays and the various commentaries given by various authors. So also here I do not know whether lawyers will not give different interpretations. That is why, Sir, these illustrations have been given. I state that in the matter of calculating the amount payable, the fear that was expressed by the hon. Member Sri Bhashyam is unfounded. He said that a person who paid Rs. 300 on his single patta and had to pay only Rs. 50 in respect of lands held on joint patta with another (though the total amount on the joint patta would be Rs. 300) would be liable to pay the surcharge, because the total amount payable on his land on single patta and on the lands held on joint patta exceeded Rs. 500. Yes, he is responsible jointly and severally. We want to find out who are the assesses. We want to rope in all those who are jointly and severally responsible. But in calculating the amount we know in such cases who pays what amount. We will take only that amount which he has actually to pay under the joint patta, and add that amount to the amount payable by him in respect of lands held by him in his single patta.

[13th May 1954] [Sri M. A. Manickavelu Naicker]

It is only in order to fix the responsibility, we have put it in that way. It is not for making collections. In actual collection, it will be worked on the basis of the actual amount that he pays. The illustrations given make the position clear."

SRI K. BHASHYAM :—"One word of explanation, Sir. The rules proposed to be issued will remove this difficulty. But there are other objections. A person paying Rs. 499 as land revenue on a single patta is exempted whereas a man paying Rs. 300 on his single patta and paying Rs. 50 in respect of lands held by him on joint patta with another (though the assessment in respect of the joint patta is Rs. 300) is not exempted, because the total assessment for his lands and for the lands held on joint patta exceeds Rs. 500. I do not know how this defect can be set right by the issue of rules. There is this discrimination between these two persons, namely, one paying on his single patta Rs. 499 but not liable to surcharge and another paying Rs. 300 on his single patta and paying Rs. 50 in respect of lands held in joint patta with another (though the assessment on the joint patta is Rs. 300) but liable to pay the surcharge."

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR :—"Sir, the illustrations given in the Bill are as follows :—

Illustrations.—(1) A is liable to pay as land revenue rupees three hundred in respect of lands held by him on a patta solely in his name. A and B are liable to pay as land revenue rupees three hundred in respect of lands held by them on a joint patta. B and C are liable to pay as land revenue rupees three hundred in respect of lands held by them on a joint patta. C is liable to pay as land revenue rupees three hundred under section 23 of the Madras Estates (Abolition and Conversion into Ryotwari) Act, 1948 (Madras Act XXVI of 1948). Each of these persons A, B and C, is liable to pay surcharge under this section.

If a man has to pay Rs. 300 on one joint patta, and another Rs. 300 on another joint patta, and a third Rs. 300 on a third joint patta, he becomes liable for the whole Rs. 900."

SRI V. BASHYAM AYYANGAR :—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, this is a matter which requires careful examination. The illustrations given are confusing. The illustrations speak of three persons A, B and C. A is liable to pay land revenue of Rs. 300 on his individual patta. A and B have to pay land revenue to the extent of Rs. 300 on joint patta. B and C are similarly liable to pay land revenue to the extent of Rs. 300. C is liable to pay land revenue to the extent of Rs. 300. The illustrations say that all the three are liable for the surcharge. Taking A's individual patta and also his portion in the joint patta, it will be seen that he is not liable to any surcharge. It may be that his portion of the amount due on the joint patta is only Rs. 100. Even if A and B should have equal portions in their joint patta, A will have to pay only Rs. 150 in respect of his portion. This means A will have to pay land revenue to the extent of Rs. 450, and he need not pay the surcharge, because the amount is not in excess of Rs. 500. Sometimes the amount due on a joint patta will not be equal to all who hold joint pattas. Therefore this Bill will work a great hardship on persons holding joint pattas. There is another objection. What is the amount on which this surcharge is to be paid? A on his individual patta pays Rs. 300 as land revenue. On a joint patta, he is liable for another Rs. 300. If he pays a total of Rs. 600, then there will be overlapping of this tax. The tax will be much more. That is the possibility which arises out of this illustration. I think this is a matter which deserves careful consideration. It should be examined how this provision will work in actual practice.

"I think the illustration makes the whole matter confusing. If the idea is that a surcharge should be levied on a revenue liability of over Rs. 500 then the liability should be found out and assessed by somebody. That we can understand. But the illustration makes joint pattadars liable to pay surcharge even where only one of them may be liable to pay. Therefore, I really submit that this is a matter on which some attention must be bestowed."

DR. V. K. JOHN :—" May I know from the Hon. Minister whether this illustration has been given deliberately with a view to confusing people so that Government may collect more revenue from them? "

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—" Sir, I am sorry I have to meet the arguments of such eminent lawyers. It is a well-known principle in law in matters of joint and several liability. Let me give an illustration. There is a promissory note executed by A, B and C for Rs. 500. The three persons jointly and severally are liable for the amount. I do not think there can be any instance in which the hon. Member Sri Bhashyam Ayyangar as District Judge would have awarded a decree which allowed for the collection of the amount from all the three. The amount is collected only from one man, though there is joint liability on all the three. It cannot be collected from all the three. This is a clear principle of law. That being so, I do not know why hon. Members create so much confusion about it."

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" The question is—

'In clause 3, after the words "in the State" occurring in line 4, insert the words "whether in a single patta or in a joint patta".'

The amendment was declared lost.

K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR :—" Yes, Sir. I formally move my amendment, namely :—

'In clause 3, item (d), for the word "Eight", substitute the word "six".'

The amendment was duly seconded.

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" Amendment moved—

'In clause 3, item (d), for the word "Eight", substitute the word "six".'

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—" I formally oppose it, Sir."

SRI G. KRISHNAMURTHI :—" Sir, I should like to have enlightenment from the Hon. Minister piloting the Bill as to the rates specified in the Bill. In clause 3 it is stated that 'Every landholder who is liable to pay a sum exceeding rupees five hundred for a fasli as land revenue to the Government in respect of lands held by him in the State shall pay to Government . . .'. The term used here is 'exceeding Rs. 500.' Subsequently in the table where the rates are given it is stated under item (b) on the next Rs. 250 of the land revenue payable—two annas on each rupee.' It is not clear whether a person paying an assessment of Rs. 500 is liable to pay this surcharge or whether persons paying an assessment exceeding Rs. 500 are liable to pay this surcharge. I want enlightenment on this point. According to the statement contained in the first paragraph of clause 3, only those paying an assessment in excess of Rs. 500 are liable to pay this surcharge. But according to the subsequent paragraph where rates are given, a person who pays Rs. 500 as assessment is liable to pay surcharge."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—" It is intended to make it clear that a person who is liable to pay surcharge under this Bill will have to pay the surcharge on the second Rs. 250 upwards paid as land revenue."

[13th May 1954]

SRI G. KRISHNAMURTHI :—" I would like to know, Sir, whether a person who pays only Rs. 251 as land revenue is liable to surcharge under this Bill."

SRI K. BHASHYAM :—" Sir, every person who is liable to pay a sum exceeding Rs. 500 for a fasli as land revenue is liable to pay this surcharge. But, in regard to the rate at which the surcharge is payable, he is exempted in regard to the first Rs. 250 and what is the rate at which he is liable to pay in regard to the balance is fixed here. So there need not be any confusion."

SRI G. KRISHNAMURTHI :—" Sir, I would like to be enlightened as to whether a person paying Rs. 501 as land revenue is liable to pay surcharge only in respect of Rs. 251 out of this Rs. 501."

SRI K. BHASHYAM :—" Yes, it is so."

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" The question is—
In clause 3, item (d), for the word "Eight", substitute the word "Six". "

The amendment was lost.

Clause 3 was put and carried.

Clause 4 was put and carried.

Clause 5.

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" The motion is—

'That clause 5 do stand part of the Bill.' "

SRI K. BHASHYAM :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, I wish to say a word in respect of the power vested in the officer concerned to call for information. Information is to be given, as mentioned at the close of sub-clause (1), in regard to the total extent of land held by the landholder in the State and the land revenue payable in respect thereof. I want to point out that the emphasis is on the word 'payable'. In the case of a joint patta, do the words 'land revenue payable' mean the full amount of the joint patta? If the amount payable is taken to mean the land revenue as allocated between the joint pattadars, it becomes a different matter. I would like the Hon. the Minister for Land Revenue to give us information as to what he expects us to do. Suppose in a joint patta on which the land revenue payable is Rs. 300, one of the joint pattadars is liable to pay only Rs. 15. If he is liable to pay surcharge under this Bill, is he to be assessed on the basis of this Rs. 15 or on the basis of Rs. 300 the full assessment of the joint patta, though in the definition section, namely, sub-clause (b) of Clause (2), it is said that the expression 'land held' refers to the lands in respect of which a landholder is liable to pay land revenue? There is some inconsistency therefore in respect of a joint pattadar whether he is liable to surcharge in respect of all the lands held on the joint patta as a whole or only in respect of the portion of the land revenue payable by him."

[13th May 1954] [Sri K. Bhashyam]

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—" Sir, I believe that the liability to pay surcharge will be based on the amounts as actually allotted between the joint pattadars. We will make it quite clear in the rules."

Clause 5 was put and carried.

Clauses 6 and 7 were put and carried.

Clause 1 and the Preamble were put and carried.

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, I beg to move—
That the Madras Land Revenue (Surcharge) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 18 of 1954), as passed by the Assembly, be passed."

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" The question is—
That the Madras Land Revenue (Surcharge) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 18 of 1954), as passed by the Assembly, be passed."

The motion was carried and the Bill was passed.

[Sri M. A. Manickavelu Naicker] [13th May 1954]

notice. Some merchants expecting that a tax on tax would be levied have themselves collected the extra tax. How are we to make a distinction between the merchants who thus collected the extra tax in anticipation and the others who did not do so? Therefore there are such practical administrative difficulties and we regret that we are not able to give effect to the judgment in regard to past transactions. Of course, in regard to future transactions, we are giving effect to the judgment from the 1st April of this year."

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" Motion moved—

' That the Madras General Sales Tax (Definition of Turnover and Validation of Assessments) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 19 of 1954), as passed by the Assembly, be taken into consideration.' "

SRI K. BHASHYAM :—" Sir, the Government are always careful not to make their points very clear. What I would like to point out is that under Clause 3, what are sought to be validated are the collections that have already been made. But, as the clause stands, it looks as if all assessments made are also valid though they have not been paid. It also says that all judgments, decrees or orders pronounced by any Tribunal or Court are also valid even though the amounts might not have been collected. Is it the intention of the Government that in respect of collections already made they are sought to be validated or is it their intention that in respect of assessments already made but not paid that they should collect them also in spite of the fact that they are illegal assessments? Let the Government state clearly whether they want to make any more collections on these assessments or not."

SRI MOHAMED RAZA KHAN :—" Sir, may I make a submission to take up this question tomorrow. It is not so easy and there is bound to be more discussion on this Bill as it is an important measure. I would therefore request the Leader of the House to take it up tomorrow as this also appears to be the sense of the House."

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON :—" Sir, I also join the hon. Member Sri Mohamed Raza Khan in regard to this request."

SRI T. PURUSHOTHAM :—" Sir, on a point of information, may I ask the Hon. the Leader of the House to state, whether any timings has been fixed for the sitting of the Legislative Council as the Assembly is sitting from 8-30 a.m. to 12-30 noon? In view of the excessive heat I would have been glad if the Government had considered the holding of the mid-summer sittings of the Legislature in Ootacamund. I hope they would consider this proposal at least in future years. It would certainly be better to consider such taxation measures at Ootacamund instead of in Madras, in the middle of May."

13th May 1954]

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTAVATSALAM :—" Sir, I have no objection if the hon. Members desire that the discussion be continued tomorrow. The House can sit from 2-30 p.m. to 5 p.m. for a few days and finish the business before it."

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" The House will now adjourn to meet again at 2-30 p.m. tomorrow."

The House then adjourned to meet again at 2-30 p.m. on Friday, the 14th May 1954.

[4th January 1954]

THE STATE CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETIES (RECONSTITUTION AND FORMATION) BILL, 1954.

MR. SPEAKER :—“ I pass on to the next item. The Hon. Dr. Krishna Rao will move his motion.”

THE HON. DR. U. KRISHNA RAO :—“ Sir, I beg leave to introduce the State Co-operative Societies (Reconstitution and Formation) Bill^a, 1954, and move—

‘ That the Bill be taken into consideration at once.’

“ Sir, the partition of the State necessitated the reconstitution of the three State Co-operative institutions, namely, the State Co-operative Bank, the Co-operative Central Land Mortgage Bank and the State Handloom Weavers' Co-operative Society. An Ordinance called the Madras State Co-operative Societies (Reconstitution and Formation) Ordinance, 1953 (Madras Ordinance II of 1953) was therefore promulgated, providing for the reconstitution of these societies by excluding from the area of co-operation the territory now comprised in the Andhra State. With the said territory as their area of operation, new societies have been formed. As the ordinance will cease to operate at the expiration of six weeks from the date of reassembling of the legislature, it is necessary to give permanent effect to any act done and decisions taken in pursuance thereof. The Bill is a non-controversial one and is intended to achieve the above objects. There is only one printers' mistake and I would like to point that out. In the Short Title the figure ‘1953’ at the end of sub-paragraph (1) may be read as ‘1954.’ I request that the Bill be taken into consideration at once.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ Motion moved—

‘ That State Co-operative Societies (Reconstitution and Formation) Bill, 1954, be taken into consideration at once.’

“ The Bill is before the House for discussion. The hon. Sri Ramalingam has given notice of an amendment. He may move his amendment.”

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—“ Sir, I beg to move—

SRI K. VINAYAKAM :—“ Sir, before this House passes the Bill, I wish to have a small piece of information from the Hon. Minister. What are the new societies that have been formed and what are the societies that have been reconstituted after the promulgation of the Ordinance? ”

[4th January 1954]

THE HON. DR. U. KRISHNA RAO :—" Sir, as regards the point raised by my friend Sri K. Vinayakam, the answer to it is contained in items (c) and (d) of clause 2 which are as follows :—

'(c) Reconstituted societies means the Madras State Co-operative Bank, Limited, the Madras Co-operative Central Land Mortgage Bank, Limited, and the Madras State Handloom Weavers' Co-operative Society, Limited, as reconstituted in pursuance of the Ordinance; (d) "new societies" means the Andhra Co-operative Central Land Mortgage Bank and the Andhra Handloom Weavers' Co-operative Society.'

" Sri Ramalingam wanted to know the purpose of the provisions in the Ordinance. The purpose was to enable the Registrar of Co-operative Societies to give a decision should any difference of opinion arise on any matter during the partition, and if his decision was not acceptable, to enable the reference of the matter to a High Court Judge. I am glad to announce that no objection was raised on any point during the partition and that there was no occasion for the Registrar to give any advice or for any High Court Judge to intervene. I feel that Sri Ramalingam will now be satisfied that this Bill merely reproduces the provisions of the Ordinance.

" As regards the point raised by my hon. Friend Sri M. Palaniyandi, I submit that what he said does not come within the scope of this Bill. He wanted to go into the merits of the Co-operative Societies Act. That can be done when the Government bring forward a Bill to amend that Act or the hon. Member himself can bring forward a private Bill. This is a simple Bill reproducing the provisions of the Ordinance. My friend need not entertain any apprehension that any new provision has been introduced. This is a simple and harmless Bill which, I hope, will be accepted by the House."

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—" இதை (என்னுடைய திருத்தத்தை) நான் வாபஸ் வாங்கிக்கொள்ளுகிறேன்."

The amendment was by leave withdrawn.

MR. SPEAKER :—" The question is—

'That the State Co-operative Societies (Reconstitution and Formation) Bill, 1954, be taken into consideration at once.' "

The motion was put and carried.

Clause 2.

SRI K. VINAYAKAM :—" Sir, in the name boards put up in the offices of the Andhra co-operative institutions referred to in clause 2 (d), the word 'limited' is there. As far as my information goes, all these are limited concerns. I want to know whether the omission of the word 'Limited' in respect of the institutions referred to in clause 2 (d) is a slip."

THE HON. DR. U. KRISHNA RAO :—" With regard to the societies in the Andhra State, I have no information to give. I take the information from the hon. Member. But I do not think the omission of the word 'Limited' makes any difference whatever. If the hon. Member insists upon putting that word, I have no objection. But I suggest that we may leave the matter at that, and I will consider it."

SRI K. VINAYAKAM :—" Without the addition of that word, the Bill may be a defective one."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Sir, this is merely a question about the legal position. The description of the co-operative institutions as 'limited' may be right or wrong. If we do not say whether they are limited or not, there will be no difficulty whatsoever. Difficulty will arise only when we put in the word 'limited' when they are not limited."

Clause 2 was put and carried.

Clauses 3 and 4, the Preamble and clause 1 were put and carried.

THE HON. DR. U. KRISHNA RAO :—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, I move—

'That the Bill be passed into law.'

" I do not think I need make any speech now. I thank hon. Members for the suggestions and the co-operation they have given."

MR. SPEAKER :—" Motion moved—

'That the State Co-operative Societies (Reconstitution and Formation) Bill, 1954, be passed into law.' "

SRI P. S. KRISHNASAMY AYYANGAR :—" Sir, . . . "

MR. SPEAKER :—" The hon. Member ought to have stood up long before."

SRI P. S. KRISHNASAMY AYYANGAR :—" Sir, this Bill is necessitated by the formation of the Andhra State, and beyond the districts that have been included in the Andhra State, some portion of the quondam Madras State has gone over to Mysore. Nothing has been stated in regard to that portion. Has it been affected by this Bill or not? I want to know that."

THE HON. DR. U. KRISHNA RAO :—" Sir, so far as I know, no separate bank or handloom society or a land mortgage bank has been formed in Mysore as a result of the Andhra partition. There are already such institutions in the State of Mysore, and I submit, therefore, that question does not arise now."

SRI K. VINAYAKAM :—" Sir, the Hon. Minister has not made the position clear. If my information is correct, there are co-operative societies in the abovementioned area. They were all inside the composite Madras State. What happens to them? They have gone to the Mysore State. What happens to the bank and societies that were in Bellary area that has gone now to Mysore State? The Bill does not speak anything about these cases."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" Sir, I may be permitted to explain. We have to divide the banks and the handloom co-operative society into two separate institutions with reference to Andhra and with reference to the Madras State. That division has been made. For that purpose, we wanted legislative sanction. The House was not sitting then. So an Ordinance was promulgated. The partition has taken place, and two separate institutions have come into existence. The institutions are operating in their respective areas. As far as Bellary area is concerned, it has been tacked on to Mysore State where there is already a co-operative organization with reference to banking operations and also with reference to the handloom societies. Therefore, by an enactment of the Mysore Legislature, they have to take over the management of all these societies and their affairs in the Bellary area. As such, there is no question of constituting a separate bank or handloom society with reference to that area. There was, therefore, no necessity to go into that question when we divided the assets and liabilities to form separate societies and separate banks. That being so, any mention here of Bellary area will not be appropriate. Mysore will take care of it. That Legislature will pass an enactment extending the jurisdiction of the bank to the Bellary area, over which they have got jurisdiction."

SRI P. S. KRISHNASAMY AYYANGAR :—" It was previously included in the State Co-operative Societies Bill. Is it not to be excluded when the Andhra districts are excluded? Is not the Bellary area to be excluded from the operation of this Bill? "

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" Sir, in no circumstances can our enactment have jurisdiction over the Bellary area. Now it does not form part of our State. The Ordinance is being validated with reference to our society only operating within our State, whatever might have been our jurisdiction before 1st October 1953. We have absolutely no jurisdiction now over Andhra and Bellary areas. If we are validating, it is only with reference to the state of affairs prevailing in our State. Whether we exclude Andhra area or the Bellary area, whatever is passed here cannot have any validity with reference to the Andhra area or the portion of the Mysore State. Therefore, we need not bother about mentioning the Andhra area or the Bellary area. It is only validating the affairs pertaining to our State."

SRI A. RAMACHANDRA REDDIAR :—" What about the assets and liabilities? "

SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" They have already been allocated and decided. Hon. Members may refer to the Andhra State Act, wherein, I believe, provision has been made with reference to assets and liabilities."

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—" கூட்டுறவு கிரேடிட் சொசைட்டி, லான்ட் மார்ட்கேஜ் பாங்க் இவைகளில் நம்முடைய காபிடல் எவ்வளவு, எவ்வளவு பேர்கள் கடன் வாங்கி இருக்கிறார்கள், எவ்வளவு அங்கத்தினர்கள் இருக்கிறார்கள், பிரிந்துபோன ஆந்திர மாகாணத்தில் எவ்வளவு பேர்கள் இருக்கிறார்கள், எவ்வளவு கடன் இருக்கிறது, அவர்களுக்குக் கிடைக்கவேண்டிய தொகை என்ன இவைகளையெல்லாம் சொன்னால்தான் இந்த சட்டத்தை பாஸ் பண்ணமுடியும். இப்பொழுது இருப்பது வெளிச்சமாக இருக்கிறது. சும்மா குட்டையில் எருமை மாட்டை போட்டுக்கொண்டு விலை பேசுவது போல் இருக்கிறது. இதை யெல்லாம் தெரிந்து கொண்டால்தான் இந்த மசோதாவைப் பாஸ் பண்ணமுடியும்."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" Sir, I wish better language is used with reference to the proceedings of this House. Apart from that, if the hon. Member wanted that information, certainly it would be given to him. But he was keeping quiet during the first reading stage and also the second reading stage. But when the Bill is in its third reading stage, and is put to vote, if the hon. Member should rise and ask for information, I am really sorry for it. If the hon. Member is interested, certainly we will give the information to him. Even if he asks for information in the form of a question, the information will be made available to him. The question was gone into by the directors concerned. That is why Mr. Ramachandra Reddiar referred to the assets and liabilities of the banks and societies. After all, the shareholders are interested in this. They have taken these things into consideration when they divided the assets and liabilities. The only thing is that we have to give legislative sanction for that. For that only we are validating the ordinance."

defects. For example, if one of the three members takes leave for one month—every member is entitled to privilege leave for a month every year—the work of the Tribunal will come to a standstill, because it is incumbent that all the three should sit together. Again, if one member takes casual leave then the Tribunal cannot function. Again suppose one of the assesses, is a relation of one of the members, then that member cannot sit, and that is the difficulty. Again, the departmental member, who is one of the three members, might have given a decision as the Deputy Commissioner, when he was a Deputy Commissioner, and when the same case goes before him, he cannot sit on the Tribunal. If one member cannot take part in the proceedings of the Tribunal, the Tribunal cannot function, as it is incumbent under the Act that all the three should sit together. Therefore, it was found necessary that some alteration in the rules should be made. Further, when the Andhra Partition took place, of the three members who constituted the Tribunal then, two were allotted to the Andhra State. This reduced the number of the Tribunal to one. Therefore the Tribunal could not function. It was very necessary to see that the hearing of the cases was not delayed and the Government issued the ordinance on 31st October 1953. The rule requires that when an ordinance is promulgated, within six weeks from the date of the first meeting of the Assembly, a Bill should be brought before the Legislature and passed. That is why we have brought in this Bill. I commend this motion for the acceptance of this House."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Motion moved—

'That the Madras General Sales Tax (Amendment) Bill, 1954, be taken into consideration at once.'

SRI S. RAMALINGAM:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move—

'That the Madras General Sales Tax (Amendment) Bill, 1954, be referred to a Select Committee.'

"இந்த மசோதாவை ஒரு பொறுக்குக் கமிட்டிக்கு விடவேண்டும் என்று இந்த திருத்தத்தைப் பிரேரேபிக்கிறேன். காரணம் என்னவென்றால் கனம் மந்திரி அவர்கள் இந்த மசோதாவை பிரேரேபித்து பேசும்போது இந்த டிரிப்யூனலில் மூன்று பேர்கள் இருந்தார்கள், அவர்கள் உட்கார்ந்து விசாரிக்கவேண்டிய இடத்தில் இரண்டு பேர்கள் உட்கார்ந்து விசாரிக்கவேண்டும் என்ற காரணத்தை எடுத்துக் கூறினார். ஆனால் வியாபாரிகளுக்கு கஷ்டங்கள், தொந்தரவுகள் இருக்கின்றன என்பதைப்பற்றி அவர் சொல்லவில்லை."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"வியாபாரிகளுக்கு தொந்தரவுகள் கிடையாது."

SRI S. RAMALINGAM:—"வியாபாரிகளுக்கு நிறைய தொந்தரவுகள் இருக்கின்றன. ஆகையால் அவர்களுடைய அபிப்பிராயங்களையும் கேட்டு அதன் பிறகு ஒரு முடிவுக்கு வந்தால் நன்றாக இருக்கும். அது இல்லாமல் நாம் எதேச்சையாக சட்டம் செய்தால் அது நன்றாக இருக்காது. சம்பந்தப்பட்டவர்களைக் கேட்டு அவர்களுக்கு தங்களுடைய குறைகளைச் சொல்லிக் கொள்ள சந்தர்ப்பம் கொடுக்கவேண்டும். ஏற்கனவே இந்த விற்பனை வரி அதிகாரிகளால் வியாபாரிகளுக்கு அநேகம் தொந்தரவுகள் இருக்கின்றன வென்று இங்கும் வேளியிலும் எடுத்துச் சொல்லிக்கொண்டிருக்கிறார்கள். இவ்விதம் நாம் சட்டம் செய்தால் இன்னும் அவர்களுக்கு அதிகமாக தொந்தரவுகள் ஏற்படும், இதைப் பற்றி அநேகர் சாங்கோபாங்கமாக பேசி இருக்கிறார்கள். இன்னும் அதிகமான தொந்தரவுகள் ஆகாமல் இருப்பதற்காகவாவது அவர்களையும் கேட்டுக்கொண்டு இந்த சட்டத்தை நிறைவேற்றவேண்டும் என்பதற்காகத்தான் இதைப் பொறுக்குக் கமிட்டிக்கு விடவேண்டும் என்று கேட்டுக்கொள்கிறேன்."

SRI K. VINAYAKAM:—"Mr. Speaker, while supporting the amendment of the hon. Member Sri Ramalingam to refer this Bill to a Select Committee, I adduce different reasons for the same. Now, the Sales Tax Appellate Tribunal consists of three Members and the Government state that a difficulty has arisen since the decision in all cases referred to the Tribunal has under the Act, to be taken by all the three members sitting together. They also say that it is very difficult to get all the members together for a sitting so as to dispose of cases referred to it for decision and that it causes inconvenience to the Tribunal. My fear in this respect is this. After all, how many cases are disposed of by this Tribunal per year? There cannot be so many cases as to inconvenience the Members. The Hon. Minister must come forward with categorical instances showing that so many cases were brought up before the Tribunal with the result that in those days all the three Members could not be brought together for a sitting which caused a lot of harassment or undue delay in the disposal of cases. We feel that there may not be many appeals to be heard by this Tribunal because the members of the merchant community do not appeal in all cases. They appeal only in strong and hard cases where they feel that they have been harassed or overassessed. But, in many cases, I have found from experience that the ordinary merchants do not want to encounter all these practical difficulties by taking their cases to the appellate authorities, which, of course, on the face of it, may be justified as far as their cases are concerned. They rather willingly submit to the insane rulings of the officers concerned and pay the tax assessed in order to avoid trouble. Such being the natural tendency of merchants, there may not be many cases coming up before the Tribunal for decision. In view of the smallness of the number of cases to be decided by the Tribunal, would it not be possible to so adjust as to see that all the cases are brought up before it when the three Members are present? Really, they cannot be absent for the entire year. As the Hon. Minister was saying, each Member can take one month's privilege leave in a year. Assuming that all the three Members take leave in different periods of the year, three months in a year will be there when the Tribunal cannot function. But there are nine months in a year when they can dispose of all the cases. My fear is this. If power is vested with one Member to decide this case or that, it amounts to vesting more power or concentrating power in a few hands, whereas it should be diffused among three Members where there will be more of democracy than officialdom. That is the idea which prompts me to request the Government to refer this Bill to a Select Committee where this aspect can be looked into."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Sir, hon. Members may know that the arrears were very considerable and it caused great inconvenience to parties and not merely to the Finance Department of the Government. It is necessary to dispose of taxation cases fairly expeditiously from the point of view of both the public exchequer and the merchant's exchequer. So far as the question whether it is better to have three Members on the Tribunal than having two is concerned, I may point out to the hon. Members that even in the High Court where very important cases are dealt with, generally two Judges dispose of most important matters and the Full Bench is not called in. Here, we have three Members on the Tribunal so that the matter may be disposed of without difficulty as and when occasion arises. Ordinarily, a Bench of two Members could be constituted out of the three Members, and it would be more than enough for disposal of cases pertaining to sales tax assessment. Further, provision is made that where there is a difference of opinion on any point, the original decision will stand where there is no upsetting by a majority. This is a simple provision in this Bill. I submit that the most important consideration is quick disposal and especially, members of the mercantile community and shopkeepers should be told what the final decision is. As a matter of fact, it was with very great difficulty that we were able to reduce the arrears this year."

SRI K. VINAYAKAM :—" On a point of clarification, Sir. On a former occasion, a proposal for constituting such a Bench was brought forward in respect of cases coming up before the Taxation Appeals Committee of the Corporation. It was stated that difficulties were experienced by the assesses as a result of the arrangement that the cases should be disposed of by a committee consisting of three members, inside the Corporation building. Then, the Hon. the Chief Minister came forward and pleaded that in view of the difficulties caused to the assesses, an Appeals Committee consisting of two members, with the Chairman and another member, was enough to pass orders. Now, what is the experience that we are now gaining from the appeals referred to this Committee? I happen to be a Member of the Council of the Corporation. I may tell you, Sir, from my experience that as long as the entire Committee sat and decided cases, there was a little amount of justice meted out to the assesses in the City of Madras. But since a law empowering a Committee consisting of only two members to pass judgments over these appeals was passed, the people have been experiencing great hardship and they have been feeling that the judgments passed by this kind of Appeals Committee are not justified. They have also no resource to go to the Court of law. They shrug their shoulders and say, 'May God help us'. They simply pay the tax that is assessed and wash their hands of the business. That is the difficulty which we have been experiencing and out of practical experience, I am saying what effect this kind of curtailment of liberties has upon the assesses concerned."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Sir, the hon. Member, if I may be permitted to rise again, has given his own reasons. The comparison with the arrangement in regard to the Corporation affairs lends support to this Bill. Here, it is provided that two members shall decide the matter and that is what exactly the law relating to the Corporation affair also provides. Here, we have made a provision that two members may sit over these matters and an additional provision as to what should be done if there is a difference of opinion. If there is a difference of opinion, the original decision shall prevail. That is the principle governing the whole matter. I submit that there is no great point, as far as I am able to see, in what the hon. Member Sri Vinayakam has said."

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—" கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, கனம் முதல் மந்திரி அவர்கள் சொல்லும்போது இரண்டு அங்கத்தினர்கள் உட்கார்ந்து கொண்டு விசாரிக்கவேண்டுமென்று சொன்னார். இப்பொழுது க்ளாஸ் 2 (சி)யில் படி இரண்டு அங்கத்தினர்கள் உட்கார்ந்து விசாரிக்கும் போது இரண்டு அங்கத்தினர்களுக்கும் வித்தியாசம் ஏற்பட்டால் அவர்கள் தனித்தனியாக தீர்ப்புக் கூறவேண்டும் என்றும் என்னென்ன விஷயங்களில் அவர்கள் ஒப்புக்கொண்டிருக்கிறார்களோ அவைகளில் ஒருதலைத் தீர்ப்புக் கூற வேண்டும் என்றும் அவர்ளுக்கு வித்தியாசம் ஏற்பட்டிருக்கும்போது எப்படி தீர்ப்புக் கூற வேண்டும் என்றும் இருக்கிறது. இதனால் வியாபாரிகளுக்குத் தான் பதும் ஏற்படுவதோடு அவர்கள் அதிகப்படியான வரி கொடுக்கவேண்டியதாக இருக்கும். அதிகாரிகள் கொடுக்கும் கணக்கை வைத்துக்கொண்டுதான் அவர்கள் தீர்ப்புகள் சொல்லுவார்கள். அதனால் தான் கண்டிப்பாக இந்த மசோதாவைக் கொண்டு வருவதற்கு முன் வியாபாரிகளை விசாரித்து அவர்களுடைய அபிப்பிராயத்தைத் தெரிந்து கொள்ளவேண்டும். அதனால்தான் இந்த மசோதாவை ஒரு செலக்ட் கமிட்டிக்கு விட வேண்டும் என்ற திருத்தத்தைப் பிரேரேபிக்கிறேன்."

MR. SPEAKER :—" நீங்கள் இந்த திருத்தத்தை வாபஸ் வாங்கிக் கொள்ளுகிறீர்களா ?"

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—" நான் வாபஸ் வாங்கிக்கொள்ளவில்லை. வற்புறுத்துகிறேன். I press."

MR. SPEAKER :—" I am now going to put the amendment of hon. Member Sri S. Ramalingam to the vote of the House. The question is—

MR. SPEAKER :—" I am now going to put the original motion to the vote of the House. The question is—

The motion was put and carried.

Clause 2.

MR. SPEAKER :—" The motion moved—

'That clause 2 do stand part of the Bill.'

[4th January 1954]

SRI N. K. PALANISAMY :—" Sir, I shall move my amendment."

MR. SPEAKER :—" நீங்கள் இரண்டு திருத்தங்கள் கொடுத்திருக்கிறீர்கள். எந்த திருத்தத்தை இப்பொழுது நீங்கள் பிரேரேபிக்கப் போகிறீர்கள்? "

SRI N. K. PALANISAMY :—" Sir, I move my first amendment which reads,—

'In sub-clause (i), in line 3, after the words "appoint", insert the words "In consultation with the South Indian Chamber of Commerce".'

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—" I second the amendment, Sir."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" Sir, I move the following amendments standing in my name :—

'(1) In the proposed new sub-section (1) of section 2-A, add at the end, the words "but they shall be non-officials".'

'(2) In the proviso to the proposed new sub-section (3) (a), for the word "may" substitute the word "shall".'

'(3) In the proposed new sub-section (3) (c), after the words "appellant or applicant" in the fourth line, insert the words "if the Bench in its discretion does not think fit to post it before a Full Bench".'

SRI K. T. SREEDHARAN :—" I second the amendments, Sir"

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—" Sir, I move—

'In the proposed sub-section 3 (c), for the word "against" occurring in lines 4 and 7, substitute the words "in favour of".'

The amendment was duly seconded.

MR. SPEAKER :—" Clause 2 and the amendments thereto moved by hon. Members Sri M. Narayana Kurup, Sri N. K. Palanisami and Sri S. Ramalingam are now before the House for discussion."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" Sir, my intention in moving my first amendment is that there should be non-officials. As the provisions stand at present it may be that both the two members may be officials of the department. In regard to legal questions and technical matters, a man of the grade of District Judge and a man having knowledge of the department and its working may be essential. But let me submit that such a qualified man may be available outside, or we may even have retired officials. The danger of making the same person a prosecutor as well as a judge is inherent in any Committee or Tribunal. My amendment only says that there shall be non-officials. If the Government, however think that some qualifications are necessary for the people, such qualifications as the Government may think fit, may be prescribed. By doing this, their object can also be achieved with a certain amount of apparent fairness to the parties concerned, because they will not go in appeal before the same department which has assessed them or which has done them an injustice.

"As regards my second amendment I wish to submit that when complicated questions of law crop up, the matter should be referred to the Chairman and his opinion ascertained. It is possible that such questions of law may be discussed by a Bench of two members who are not at all conversant with law. Of course, this section gives them the option, or in other words, consultation with the Chairman is made optional. Inasmuch as two of the members are likely to be departmental officials, such complicated questions should be dealt with only after obtaining the permission or the opinion of the Chairman. That is why I want to substitute the word 'shall' for the word 'may' in this proviso.

"Sir, the Hon. Chief Minister just now explained how cases are being disposed of. Now, this is a Tribunal of three judges. It is quite possible that questions may be discussed by two of them. If there is a dissenting voice, they cannot, according to the present provisions, refer the matter to a third judge or place it before a Bench. In important matters, where members themselves feel that it is a fit case that should be considered by a Full Bench, the discretion of the two members should not be tied down. The section does not make it obligatory on them to refer the matter to a third member or judge. When the members differ in fundamentals and at the same time feel that a particular matter is a fit case to go before a third judge, they may be allowed to refer it to a third judge. I think this is a very reasonable amendment. I see no reason why the Government cannot accept this amendment as well as the other two amendments which are after all formal ones and do not materially affect the provisions of the Bill or the intention of the Government."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Sir, before you proceed to allow other hon. Members to speak on the amendments, I would like to know from hon. Member Sri Narayana Kurup what exactly he means by saying that there should be non-officials. Does he mean that the non-officials should be honorary members? Or is it his intention that in selecting the judges for the Tribunal we should select people who have no legal or other official qualifications and that we should select only non-officials? Let me inform the hon. Member that the Tribunal is a permanent Court. It is not an ad hoc courts sitting now and then. It is a permanent Court so to say."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" Sir, I only wanted to know whether these other two persons will be connected with the department which taxes these people."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" They are persons with judicial or accounts qualifications. Non-officials would be without any qualification for such work."

[4th January 1951]

SRI S. SWAYAMPRAKASAM :—“ They should not be connected with the taxation department.”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—“ They are permanently transferred to the Tribunal.”

SRI N. K. PALANISAMI :—“ Sir, I move—

‘ In clause (c) of the proposed sub-section (3), for the words “ the point shall be found . . . points on which they are divided,” substitute the words “ the appeal or application shall be referred to the Tribunal consisting of all the three members for decisions ”.’

“ கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, ட்ரிபுனலில் ஏற்கனவே மூன்று பேர்கள் உட்கார்ந்து கொண்டு விசாரிக்க வேண்டும் என்று இருந்தது. இந்த மீசா தாவைக் கொண்டு வந்த காரணம் நியாயம் கிடைக்கக் கூடாது என்பதற்காகத்தான். வியாபாரிகளுக்கு அப்படியே தொந்தரவுகள் இருக்கவேண்டும் என்பதற்காகத்தான் இதைக் கொண்டு வரப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. கண்டிப்பாக மூன்று பேர்கள் இருந்துகொண்டுதான் விசாரிக்கவேண்டு என்று இருக்க வேண்டும். இரண்டு பேர்கள் உட்கார்ந்து கொண்டு விசாரிக்கலாம் என்று இருக்கக்கூடாது. வியாபாரிகளுக்கு ஏற்கெனவே சர்க்கார் அதிகாரிகளால் கொடுக்கக்கூடிய தொல்லைகள் பற்றி எல்லோருக்கும் தெரியும். இருந்தபோதிலும் அனுபவம் இல்லாத அங்கத்துணர்களைப் போட்டால் அவர்கள் அதிகாரிகள் செல்லுவதைத்தான் ஏற்றுக்கொள்வார்கள். அவர்களும் வியாபாரிகளுக்கு சாதகமாக தீர்ப்புச் சொல்லமாட்டார்கள். வியாபாரிகளுடைய வருமானம் என்ன, அவர்களுடைய வியாபாரம் என்ன, அவர்கள் என்ன வரி கொடுக்கவேண்டும், என்ன வியாபாரம் செய்கிறார்கள் என்பதை தெரிந்து கொள்ளமுடியாது. இவைகளைப்பெல்லாம் அவர்கள் யோசித்துச் செய்ய முடியாது. சர்க்கார் அதிகாரிகள் என்ன தொகை கொடுக்கிறார்களோ அதை வைத்துக்கொண்டுதான் அவர்கள் தீர்ப்பு சொல்லுவார்கள். வியாபாரிகள் சம்பந்தப்பட்டதைச் சொல்ல தென்னிந்தியா வியாபாரிகள் சங்கம்தான் வியாபாரிகளுடைய விஷயத்தை எடுத்துச் சொல்ல முடியும். ஆகவே அவர்களைக் கலந்துகொண்டு இந்த ட்ரிபுனலுக்கு அங்கத்தினர்களைப் போடவேண்டும் என்று இந்த தீர்மானத்தை பிரேரேபிக்கிறேன்.”

The amendment was seconded.

MR. SPEAKER :—“ Motion moved—

‘ In clause (c) of the proposed sub-section (3), for the words “ the point shall be found . . . points on which they are divided,” substitute the words “ the appeal or application shall be referred to the Tribunal consisting of all three members for decision ”.’

DR. K. B. MENON :—“ I understand the point made by the Hon. the Chief Minister. But I do believe that the induction of a non-official with qualifications into the Tribunal will be a healthy factor.”

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—“ Once he is put on the Tribunal, he will become an official.”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—“ We are now appointing many tribunals. The hon. Member knows what is going on. We select people with judicial experience who are fairly free and have retired from service but are not too old. We provide that at least one should be a judicial officer. If it is possible to get more people with judicial qualifications, we would certainly prefer them. But at least one should be there and that is what is put down in clause 2. As regards others, we shall prescribe such qualifications as will secure us the right type of men. Hon. Members should also remember that in dealing with large trade matters and assessment matters, it is no use creating a state of things where public suspicion will be roused. So, there is no question of having non-officials in a semi-official position. They become officials as soon as they are put on the job. It will be exceedingly difficult to open out the Tribunal to non-officials as if it were a committee. I think that is the position. We have canvassed all probable difficulties and have dealt with them. We cannot improve on the terms of the Bill. This is all the assurance I can give. We have tried our best to constitute a proper court.”

SRI K. VINAYAKAM :—“ May I know from the Hon. the Chief Minister whether the Government had any difficulty in the matter of choosing members with proper qualifications from among non-officials for the present Tribunal? Had they any practical difficulty? Otherwise, why should they relax the qualifications in the Bill? ”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—“ We have not made any change in that respect. As far as I know, the position is this. The qualifications required are two-fold. One is they should be legally trained and they should have a judicial temperament. The other is that they should know something about the nature of the work that they have to do—namely, accounts, money, trade, business and the like. These are kept in mind in choosing members. It is not easy to get non-officials with judicial qualifications. There are several difficulties in making the selection. Even for a judge's post, we find difficulties. As regards the membership of the Tribunal it is not considered as good as a High Court judgeship to which with some difficulty we get the right type of people to help to some extent. Therefore, we have reduced the minimum number of judicial members to one, a district judge or a man like him. The other two will be carefully chosen with reference to other qualifications. Very likely, the other person will be one who has got accounts experience and experience in trade and commercial transactions. I do not think we can improve the position by opening out the Tribunal to non-officials. The great danger is that if we create a situation as exists in the case of the City Corporation with which my friend, Mr. Vinayakam, is conversant, persons concerned will try to go to the judges themselves, and we are anxious to avoid such things happening.”

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—“ My only anxiety was whether the officials of the department would be transferred as Members of the Tribunal.”

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—“ Once they go into the Tribunal they will not revert to their original jobs.”

[4th January 1954]

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" Once they go, I know they will become independent. But I want to know whether they will be appointed at all as Members."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" One Member will be from the Department because, otherwise, the Tribunal cannot know the nature of the work it has to do."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" How can we turn the scale entirely against the Government!"

MR. SPEAKER :—" I shall now put the amendments to the vote of the House. The question is—

'In sub-clause (i), in line 3, after the word "appoint", insert the words "in consultation with the South Indian Chamber of Commerce".'

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" I think the hon. Member, Mr. Palanisami, will withdraw the amendment for the sake of his party."

SRI N. K. PALANISAMI :—" I withdraw the amendment."

The amendment was, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

MR. SPEAKER :—" The question is—

'In the proposed new sub-section (1) of section 2-A, add at the end, the words "but they shall be non-officials".'

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" In view of the assurances pressed upon me, I do not press my amendment, Sir."

The amendment was, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

MR. SPEAKER :—" The question is—

'In the proviso to the proposed new sub-section (3) (a), for the word "may" substitute the word "shall".'

'In the proposed new sub-section (3) (c), after the words "appellant or applicant" in the fourth line, insert the words "if the Bench in its discretion does not think fit to post it before a full Bench".'

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" I withdraw the amendment."

The amendment was, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

MR. SPEAKER :—" The question is—

'In clause (c) of the proposed sub-section (3) for the words "the point shall be found . . . points on which they are divided", substitute the words "the appeal or application shall be referred to the Tribunal consisting of all the three members for decisions".'

SRI N. K. PALANISAMI :—" I withdraw my amendment."

The amendment was, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

MR. SPEAKER :—" I shall now put Mr. Ramalingam's amendment to vote."

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—" Sir, the Government are considering my amendment. I want the proposed sub-section (3) (c) to be so amended as to provide that, where the Bench consisting of two members are divided in their opinion, the point shall be found in favour of the applicant or appellant."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" That is, if there is difference of opinion, the appellant should succeed? This would be a very unique proposal in the whole of the Statute Book?"

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—" நான் என்ன சொல்ல விரும்புகிறேன் என்றால், சாதாரண கிரமினல் கேஸ்களில் கூட benefit of doubt is given to the accused."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Here the Government is the accused."

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—" Here the aggrieved party is the merchant, வியாபாரிகள் இவ்வளவு தொகை கொடுக்கவேண்டுமென்று அதிகாரிகள் நிர்ணயித்திருக்கும் தொகையானது அதிகம், அதைக் குறைக்க வேண்டுமென்று அப்பெல்லட் ட்ரிபுனலுக்கு அப்பீல் பண்ணுகிறார்கள். அதே நிலை அப்பீலுக்குப் போயும் நீடிக்குமானால் வியாபாரிகள் பாதிக்கப்படுகிறார்கள். அதனால், வியாபாரிகள் தான் 'aggrieved party' என்ற முறையில் இருக்கிறார்கள். ஆகவே, 'benefit of doubt' வியாபாரிகளுக்கு காட்டுவதுதான் நல்லது. அதுதான் நியாயம் என்றும் நினைக்கிறேன்."

"இரண்டாவதாக வியாபாரிகளும் மற்றவர்களும் கிளர்ச்சி செய்து கொண்டுவருகிறார்கள். அவர்கள் கிளர்ச்சிசெய்து வருவதினால், இதை அவர்களுக்குச் சாதகமாகச் செய்யலாம். அதனால் சர்க்காருக்கு நஷ்டமில்லை."

"மூன்றாவதாக இருந்த அங்கத்தினர் ட்ரிபுனலில் விஜாரிக்கட்டும். ஏற்கனவே உள்ள பிரிவு கூறுவதாவது—

'Provided, that if any case which comes up before a Bench (of which the Chairman is not a member) involves a question of law, the Bench may, in its discretion, reserve such case for decision by a Bench of which the Chairman shall be a member.'

"Judicial point இலே இருவருக்குள் லெற்றுமை ஏற்பட்டால், தலைவராக இருக்கக்கூடியவருக்கு அந்த மாதிரி கேஸ் ரிசர்வ் செய்துவிடலாம் என்று மசோதாவில் இருக்கிறது. அந்த மாதிரி இருக்கும்போது இருவருக்குமிடையே வித்தியாசமோ மாறுபட்ட அபிப்பிராயமோ ஏற்பட்டால், அவர்கள் முடிவு பண்ணட்டும் என்று இருப்பது நியாயம் அல்ல. இல்லையென்றால், வியாபாரிகள் மேலும் கஷ்டப்படுவதற்கே இந்தக் க்ளாஸ் இருக்கும். ஆகையால், சர்க்கார் இதை கவனித்து புனராலோசனை செய்து, ஒத்துக் கொள்வார்கள் என்று நினைக்கிறேன்."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" I am speaking informally. The proposal is that not only in questions of law but also in questions of fact also—I think it comes to that—the Bench may have discretion to refer the case to another Bench with the Chairman on it, the Chairman is not in the original Bench as in the proviso to the sub-clause. I do not think the hon. Member is pressing the other point, that wherever there is a difference of opinion the appellant shall be enabled to succeed. It is so unreasonable and I think he would not press it. His proposal is definitely a different one, namely, not merely on a question of law but even on a question of fact, the Bench should have discretion to refer the case to another Bench with the Chairman. The point is the person who is judicially qualified is bound to be the Chairman, and therefore, provision is made that where it is a question of law, it should be sent to a Bench with the Chairman. Difference of opinion may arise on points of fact because there are two in the Bench and how can we say that the Bench shall have discretion to refer the case again to another Bench. Even on that they would again differ, one from the other. It will be impossible to get a unanimous verdict on questions of fact. The existing provision is well-conceived. It would not be possible easily to improve upon it. If there is any difficulty in the working of the law, we will try to improve it by and by. As it is, we cannot improve it by adopting the amendment now proposed by the hon. Member."

MR. SPEAKER :—" Is the hon. Member withdrawing his amendment."

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—" No, Sir. I am pressing my amendment."

MR. SPEAKER :—" The question is—

' In the proposed sub-clause (3) (c), for the word " against " occurring in lines 4 and 7, substitute the words " in favour of " "

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER :—" There are no amendments to Clause 3. I am now going to put the Preamble and Clauses 1, 2 and 3 to the vote of the House."

Clauses 3, 2, 1 and the Preamble were separately put and carried.

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—" I beg to move—

' That the Bill be passed into law.' "

MR. SPEAKER :—" Motion moved—

' That the Bill be passed into law.' "

SRI K. VINAYAKAM :—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, I rise to oppose this Bill. I know I have very little chance of convincing the Government and make them withdraw this Bill. The object of constituting the Tribunal is to dispense justice to the parties concerned. The suspicion of the Opposition is gradually increasing that the intention of the Government is to create a departmental clique. The departmental demi-gods will be enabled to control the Tribunals. Whenever there is difference of opinion, the power to decide the issue is vested with the Chairman because he has judicial knowledge. The point which this side of the House was pressing upon the Government was that the appellant must have some scope to get justice from the Tribunal. But here the object with which the Bill has been drafted seems to be to create a ' steel frame.' Tribunal so that the man who goes before the Tribunal is only drawn into a series of appeals, just given a show-down, and finally he succumbs to the ruling of the Tribunal. This is the reason why, I once again appeal that the Bill should be referred to a joint Select Committee."

MR. SPEAKER :—" This is not the stage to make such a recommendation."

SRI K. VINAYAKAM :—" Then I appeal to the Government to reconsider the position and recast the Bill giving effect to the amendments moved by hon. Members."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—" Sir, in spite of the great emphasis laid by the hon. Member in his speech, he has not convinced me of the necessity for his voting against this Bill. I am afraid he has too much of the departmental phobia. The Tribunal will consist of three members. One will be a District Judge, a man possessing judicial knowledge and experience. The second will be a non-official, a chartered accountant. When he is appointed he will become a full-time servant of the Government. He will be coming with all his non-official experience and sympathies. The third will be a departmental man. He is being put in the Tribunal because, with his departmental experience he can advise the Tribunal on assessment and all such matters. Once he is appointed to the Tribunal he will cease to owe any allegiance to the Department. Probably after he becomes a Member of the Tribunal, with a vengeance he may turn the other way. One cannot say exactly.

" Sir, I request that in Clause 1, the year 1953 may be changed to 1954."

MR. SPEAKER :—" The question is—

' That the Madras General Sales Tax (Amendment) Bill, 1954, be passed into law.' "

SRI P. S. KRISHNASAMY AYYANGAR :—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, with regard to the provision in sub-clause (3) (a) giving discretion to reserve cases . . . "

MR. SPEAKER :—" I have already given a chance to the hon. Member. As a special case I shall allow him to speak again now."

SRI P. S. KRISHNASAMY AYYANGAR :—" Sir, I was not able to keep pace with the speed of the House and therefore I request I may be given an opportunity. According to the sub-clause, when difference of opinion on a question of law arises before a Bench, discretion is given to the Bench to reserve the case for decision by another Bench. Is the discretion confined only to reserve it for decision by some other Bench or is the right to determine the Bench which has got to decide it finally, also given to the Bench before which the question of law arises? It is not clear here. Conflict may later on arise. The Bench before which the question of law arises may say: 'I have got to determine the Bench which has got to finally decide this case.' The Chairman may say: 'I have the exclusive right to appoint such a Bench. The position is not clear in the Bill. To avoid such conflicts between one Bench and the Chairman of the Bench, I want that the point should be made clear.'

[Sri P. S. Krishnasamy Ayyangar] [4th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"The point made by the hon. Member Sri Krishnasamy Ayyangar is this. In the proviso a note should be made to the effect: 'in its discretion reserve any such cases for decision by a Bench to be constituted by the Chairman and the Chairman shall be a Member.' We may probably accept that, Sir."

MR. SPEAKER:—"There is no amendment before the House. If it is only a verbal amendment, I have no objection to accept the amendment proposed by Government. The Hon. Minister may move the amendment."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM:—"I move, Sir, that, clause 2 be re-opened for consideration and

'in proviso to sub-section (3) (a) after the word "Bench" occurring in line 4, insert the following words, namely, "to be constituted under this clause".'

The motion was carried and the consideration of the clause was re-opened.

MR. SPEAKER:—"With the permission of the House, I am re-opening clause 2. There is a verbal amendment to sub-clause (3) (a). The motion is—

'That in proviso to sub-section (3) (a) after the word "Bench" occurring in the line 4, insert the following words "to be constituted under this clause."

"I am going to put the amendment to the vote of the House."

SRI S. RAMALINGAM:—"Let the Hon. Minister explain it."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM:—"Since Mr. Ramalingam wants an explanation, I shall explain the position. A doubt has arisen as to who are to constitute the new Bench when the original Bench refers a question of law to another Bench. It is not as if discretion is given to the original Bench itself to decide this matter. So, for this purpose, I moved—

'That in proviso to sub-section (3) (a) after the word "Bench" occurring in line 4, insert the following words "to be constituted under this clause".'

4th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

'That in proviso to sub-section (3) (a) after the word "Bench" occurring in the line 4, insert the following words "to be constituted under this clause".'

The amendment was put and carried.

SRI P. S. KRISHNASAMY AYYANGAR:—"Sir, in sub-clause 3 (c) mention has been made about the difference of opinion between the members constituting the Bench on any 'point.' The 'point' may be a 'point of law' or a 'point of fact'. With regard to a 'point of law' provision is made in the proviso to the sub-clause but with regard to a 'point of fact' no provision is made. If there is difference of opinion as to whether a point is on a 'point of fact' or a point of law what is to be done? Therefore, instead of the word 'point' the words 'point of fact' should be there."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Many more difficulties will be raised. We may leave them to the lawyers concerned."

Clause 2 as amended was put and carried.

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

'That the Bill as amended be passed into law.'

The motion was put and carried and the Bill was passed into law.

MR. SPEAKER:—"The House will now adjourn for lunch and meet again at 2-30 p.m."

The House then adjourned for lunch.

authorized to advance money to the Government for being utilized on New Services. Later on, when the Legislature sanctions the expenditure and votes the Grant, this money is put back into the Contingency Fund so that the Contingency Fund, at the end of the year, will remain at the same figure. We had the Contingency Fund Act of 1950 with reference to the State as a whole, providing one crore of rupees for this Fund. After the separation of the Andhra State, the balance left over is only about forty or fifty lakhs of rupees which will go back to the Consolidated Fund. That is why a new Bill with reference to our residuary Madras State has been brought forward, and it is proposed that a sum of Rs. 75 lakhs may be constituted as the Contingency Fund. Therefore, I would request the hon. Members to pass this Bill."

MR. SPEAKER :—" Motion moved—

' That the Madras Contingency Fund Bill, 1953, be taken into consideration at once.' "

SRI K. P. GOPALAN :—" Sir, I move—

' That the Madras Contingency Fund Bill, 1953, be referred to a Select Committee.' "

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—" Sir, I second the amendment."

MR. SPEAKER :—" Amendment moved—

' That the Madras Contingency Fund Bill, 1953, be referred to a Select Committee.' "

The motion and the amendment are now before the House for discussion.

SRI K. P. GOPALAN :—" Sir, the Statement of Objects and Reasons appended to the Bill is very vague and not at all clear. In that statement, it is merely stated that ' it is proposed to re-constitute the Contingency Fund for the residuary State of Madras consisting of a sum of Rs. 75 lakhs to be transferred from the Consolidated Fund of the State '. Even the Hon. the Minister for Finance, in his speech, did not give full explanation as to the purpose of this Bill. In the Budget, there is already provision for discretionary grants. Moreover, the sum of Rs. 75 lakhs is a very huge amount though I may say that there should be some amount left in the hands of the Governor for discretionary purposes. We are meeting very often,—I think every two or three months—and whenever any emergency arises, we can meet and consider any Resolution or Bill that the Government may bring forward.

" Also, I want to know from the Hon. the Finance Minister whether this amount is accountable or not? I also want to know whether the money spent by the Governor also will come up before this House for approval. I want to get all this information and that is why I moved this amendment."

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—" Sir, it is stated in the Statement of Objects and Reasons that—

' Expenditure incurred from the fund from April to September 1953 on account of the composite State of Madras could not be recouped to the fund as required by section 2 (3) of the Act due to the partition of the State.' "

" முன்னமேயே சொல்லியது போல ஒரு கோடி ரூபாயில் கவர்னர் எவ்வளவு செலவு செய்தார். இதெல்லாம் ஒன்றும் சொல்லுவது இல்லை. ஆந்திர தேசம் பிரிந்த பிறகு ஏன் ஒரு கோடி ரூபாய் ரிப்ளேஸ் (replace) பண்ணவில்லை என்பதை தெளிவு படுத்தினால் நன்றாக இருக்கும்."

SRI K. VINAYAKAM :—" Sir, I am not harping on the point that this Bill should be referred to a Select Committee and I dissociate myself from that motion. But, by way of information, I would like to know what is the amount now in the Consolidated Fund with the Government of Madras? "

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" Sir, it is a daily account of the cash balance standing to the credit of the Madras Government. I am not able to give the information off-hand. It will be about Rs. 6 crores now.

" The difficulties raised by hon. Members, Sri K. P. Gopalan and Sri S. Ramalingam, have some importance because there seems to be a misapprehension that this sum of Rs. 75 lakhs is intended for use as discretionary grants to be spent at the discretion of either the Governor or the Government. There is absolutely no such thing. If only the hon. Members would go through Articles 204, 205 and 206 of the Constitution, I am sure that all these doubts will be very easily cleared. The point to be remembered in this connexion is that we cannot draw any amount from the Consolidated Fund except under the authority of the Legislature. The Governor is there only representing the Government and this has nothing to do with the discretionary grants of the Governor or any such thing. The Government as such could draw monies from the Consolidated Fund only with the authority of the Legislature. It is the Appropriation Act which gives this power to the Government but the monies could be drawn only with reference to the various items and schemes mentioned therein for which specific Grants have been made by the Legislature. But, sometimes unforeseen expenditure on new schemes have to be incurred. I will mention to the House an instance which happened last year before the partition of the State. We had to incur large expenditure over the location of the Andhra Capital. There was no Budget provision but the amounts had to be spent. We had to meet this expenditure from the Contingency Fund. So also, a new scheme may have to be started suddenly which was not contemplated before. It may be that a new health scheme may have to be started or, take for instance, expenditure on famine relief work. Suppose that sufficient provision has not been made in the Budget and we have to start new schemes of famine relief works. We cannot be summoning the Legislature immediately for getting its authority. So, we spend the money towards these new services from the Contingency Fund. It is not as if the amounts spent from the Contingency Fund do not come before Legislature for scrutiny and sanction. Every item has got to be placed before the Legislature under Articles 204, 205 and 206 of the Constitution and specific sanction obtained later on. Every amount has got to be ratified by the Assembly and then only the amount expended from the Contingency Fund can go back into the Fund. The discussion on these Supplementary Demands takes place as in regard to any other Demand during the General Budget Discussion. There have been no Supplementary Demands this year because every item of expenditure has been ratified by the Andhra State Bill. This is a peculiar situation which may not arise hereafter. I can assure hon. Members that whatever amounts the Government spend outside the Budget will be brought for ratification before the Assembly. There is no question, therefore, of this Fund being utilized for any unauthorized purpose without the proper sanction of the Legislature. This Fund is something like what we call in business a 'Suspense Account'. Money is spent immediately the need arises and subsequently the ratification of the Assembly is obtained. In regard to such expenditure, proper safeguards have also been laid down in the Constitution in Articles 205 and 206. I can assure hon. Members that by the creation of this Contingency Fund no irregularities can occur. It is only in pursuance of Article 206 of the Constitution that we are setting up this Fund and apart from this, there is nothing else. I would, therefore, request the hon. Member Sri K. P. Gopalan to withdraw his amendment to refer this Bill to a Select Committee which is absolutely unnecessary."

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—" Sir, on a point of explanation. Sir, இதிலே 1953 ஏப்ரல்-செப்டெம்பர் மாதங்களில் தனியாக எவ்வளவு தொகை செலவழிக்கப்பட்டிருக்கிறது என்று எடுத்துச் சொல்லப்படவில்லை. எதற்கு எதற்காக செலவுசெய்யப்பட்டது. என்பதைத்தான் நான் கேட்கிறேன். பொதுவாக கொள்கை பற்றி ஒன்றும் குறிப்பிடவில்லை."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" Sir, a sum of Rs. 77 lakhs was spent out of this one crore of rupees in the first six months. Out of this Rs. 77 lakhs, Rs. 40 lakhs were spent on expenditure incurred in connexion with the location of the Andhra Capital and about Rs. 20 to 25 lakhs were spent on various other small schemes. About Rs. 23 lakhs being the balance available will go back to the Consolidated Fund of our State and we will be constituting a new Contingency Fund with Rs. 75 lakhs. All the details regarding the expenditure met from the Contingency Fund will be placed item by item at the next Budget session."

SRI K. P. GOPALAN :—" Sir, I withdraw my amendment." The amendment was, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

MR. SPEAKER :—" I will now put the original motion to the vote of the House."

SRI P. S. KRISHNASAMY AYYANGAR :—" Sir, I have not given notice of any amendment but I would like to suggest a verbal alteration."

[4th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER :—" The hon. Member need not move any amendment now. He has got every right to do so when the Bill is taken up clause by clause. The question is—

'That the Madras Contingency Fund Bill, 1953, be taken into consideration at once.'"

The motion was put and carried.

Clause 2.

SRI P. S. KRISHNASAMY AYYANGAR :—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, in sub-clause (2) of clause 2, the Governor is given the authority to make advances from the Contingency Fund 'pending authorization' of the same by the State Legislature. The word 'pending' would indicate that the matter is already under consideration by the State Legislature and I think that the Hon. the Minister in charge of the Bill means by that expression 'in anticipation of'. So, the words 'in anticipation of' would be better than 'pending'. 'Pending' would indicate that the matter has already been brought before the Assembly and it is being actually considered by it when the expenditure is incurred. Suppose the Assembly is not in session when an expenditure is incurred and it is then brought before the Assembly for ratification. The Assembly could then say that it was never put before them for their consideration and it was never pending their consideration and therefore they would not authorize the particular expenditure. So, to obviate such difficulties, the better expression would be 'in anticipation of'. This is the verbal alteration that I want to suggest."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" Sir, I do not think it would be proper to put the expression 'in anticipation of authorization' for the words 'pending authorization'. The words 'pending authorization' are quite proper and when we say 'pending authorization' it does not mean that the matter should be actually pending before the Legislature. It is only the authorization that has to come later on. I think it is quite proper as it is."

Clause 2 was put and carried.

Clause 3.

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—" Sir, I want the words 'and the rules be placed before the State Legislature' be included at the end of clause 3."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" Sir, it is a very simple Bill and I do not think such a provision is necessary."

Clause 3 was put and carried.

Clause 4 was put and carried.

[4th January 1954]

Clause 1.

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" Mr. Speaker, Sir,
I move—

' That for the figures ' 1953 ', the figures ' 1954 ', be substituted. ' "

The amendment was put and carried.

Clause 1 as amended was put and carried.

The Preamble was put and carried.

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" Sir, I move—
' That the Madras Contingency Fund Bill, 1953, as amended be passed into law. ' "

The motion was carried and the Bill was passed into law.

THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

(1) THE MADRAS PRESERVATION OF PRIVATE FORESTS
(AMENDMENT) BILL, 1954.

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—" Sir, I beg leave to introduce the Madras Preservation of Private Forests (Amendment) Bill ^a, 1954, and move—

' That the Bill be taken into consideration at once '.

" Sir, the Madras Preservation of Private Forests Act was last extended in the year 1951 by Act XIII till 2nd December 1953. It was then thought that a comprehensive piece of legislation regarding the Forest Act would be completed by that time. But that could not be done. The Act expired on 2nd December 1953. So it was necessary to extend the life of the Act and it was done by the issue of an Ordinance on 2nd December 1953. We have now come here to regularize the Ordinance. When the matter is so simple, I am surprised to find one hon. Member, I mean Sri Ramalingam, moving an amendment that this Bill be referred to a Select Committee. I do not know what there is in this Bill to be referred to a Select Committee. What is sought to be done by the present Bill? We simply regularize the Ordinance and extend the life of the parent Act. That is all. There is already a Select Committee which is going into the provisions of the original Act to make suitable improvements. When such is the case, I do not know why an amendment that the present Bill be referred to a Select Committee should be moved."

MR. SPEAKER :—" Motion moved—

' That the Madras Preservation of Private Forests (Amendment) Bill, 1954, be taken into consideration at once. ' "

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—" I am not moving the amendment I have given notice of to the effect that the present Bill be referred to a Select Committee."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" Since the present Bill is one dealing with the preservation of private forests which are found mostly in Malabar and South Kanara, I wish to say a few words regarding how badly this Act is being worked and how it is abused in the actual working of it by the departmental officials. I shall point out the blemishes and pitfalls in the working of it. No doubt this Ordinance merely seeks to extend the life of the previous Act. Beyond that, it does not say anything. No new principle is now being enunciated. How is the Act worked in Malabar and South Kanara? It is well known that those two

[Sri M. A. Manickavelu Naicker] [14th May 1954]

"The Bill was discussed at length during three sittings of the Select Committee and we arrived at a more or less agreed Bill. I cautiously use the words 'more or less' because I see some hon. Members have given notice of amendments."

MR. SPEAKER:—"There are only two amendments. Motion moved—

'That the Madras Preservation of Private Forests (Amendment) Bill, 1953 (L.A. Bill No. 23 of 1953), as amended by the Select Committee be taken into consideration.'

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is an enactment which had its origin, I believe, in 1946 and then it was only a provisional measure for one year. Of course, there are many instances in this State where temporary legislations for one year are enacted and it is promised during their consideration stage that the Government will undertake a comprehensive permanent legislation on points covered by the Bills. But ultimately, the same Act is extended year after year and the real problem is not tackled at its root. We all know that forests are very important in the national wealth of a country or State and it has been the opinion of experts that a country or State must have at least a third of its area under forests. We know that the area of forests in this State compared with the total area of this State falls much below the proportion recommended by experts. The most important part of the forest wealth of this State is situated on the West Coast. But unlike in other parts of the State there is considerable difference in the matter of ownership of land in Malabar and we all know that the important forest wealth of Malabar is owned exclusively by landowners. They are the proprietors of forests. There has been indiscriminate cutting, destruction and denudation of forests on the West Coast. That is why people have been clamouring for a legislation by this State to preserve this important wealth. We know that many of the owners of forests on the West Coast are Devaswoms and Sthanis (trustees) having no personal interest in the forest. But when a sthani or trustee assumes office, his first idea is to make as much profit as possible in the course of his regime. He gives away on short-term lease the right of indiscriminate cutting of trees in the forests. So, there has been continuous deterioration in the matter of preservation of forests. It would not be surprising to know that even as early as the seventeenth century there had been compliments before the British Parliament that ships built out of the famous Nilambur teakwood were able to stand the waters of the Thames and that they lasted longer than ships built out of teakwood of any other country. Therefore, it is clear that Nilambur has produced the finest teakwood. But there has been no serious attempt on the part of this Government to preserve such a forest in our State. If I remember aright, even approaches have been made to this Government for purchasing or looking after these wide Nilambur forests and other connected areas because a branch or an individual to whom these areas are allotted is unable to look after the forests. Ultimately, it is not the individual but the State that suffers. Now, when the Government brought forward a provisional legislation in 1946, they gave a promise of comprehensive legislation but it is surprising to find that even sometime ago, they again extended the lease of life of that legislation by one year. I request that the Government should seriously take up the matter and bring forward a permanent legislation to preserve the forest wealth of our State."

SRI K. C. GOPALAN UNNI:—"മിസ്റ്റർ സ്പീക്കർ, സർ, ഏറ്റവും ചെറു താണെങ്കിലും വളരെ പ്രധാനമായിട്ടുള്ള ഒരു ബില്ലാണ് ഇത്. ഈ സഭയുടെ മുമ്പാകെ കൊണ്ടുവന്നിട്ടുള്ളത്. 1946 മുതൽക്കേ മലബാറിലെ വനങ്ങൾ സംരക്ഷിക്കുന്നതിനു വേണ്ടിയുള്ള പല ആലോചനകളും ഗവണ്മെന്റിനുമായിട്ടുണ്ടെങ്കിലും അവയെല്ലാംതന്നെ താൽക്കാലികമായ ചില നിയമങ്ങളിൽ കൂടിക്കടന്നു പോവുകയാണ് ചെയ്തിട്ടുള്ളത്. ബഹുമാനപ്പെട്ട മെമ്പർ ശ്രീ നാരായണകുറുപ്പ് പറഞ്ഞതുപോലെ ഒരു കൊല്ലത്തിനു വേണ്ടിയൊ രണ്ടു കൊല്ലത്തിനുവേണ്ടിയൊ മാത്രം നിയമമുണ്ടാക്കിയതുകൊണ്ടു ഈ പ്രശ്നത്തിനു ഒരു പരിഹാരം കാണാൻ സാദ്ധ്യമല്ല. മാത്രമല്ല, ഇത് ഈ നിയമം നടപ്പിൽവരുത്താൻ ചുമതലപ്പെട്ടിരിക്കുന്ന മന്ത്രിയെ സംബന്ധിച്ചിടത്തോളം തന്നെ വളരെ വ്യസനകരമായ ഒരു വസ്തുത നിലവിലുണ്ട്. മലബാറിനെ സംബന്ധിച്ച ഏതു കാര്യം പറഞ്ഞാലും മലബാറിന്റെ കാര്യമെല്ലാം ഒരു പ്രത്യേകതയാണെന്നു പറയുകയല്ലാതെ ആ പ്രത്യേകത എന്തെന്ന് ബഹുമാനപ്പെട്ട മന്ത്രി മനസ്സിലാക്കിയിട്ടുണ്ടോ എന്നു ഞങ്ങൾ സംശയിക്കുന്നു. മലബാറിനെ സംബന്ധിച്ച് എന്തെങ്കിലും പറഞ്ഞാൽ അദ്ദേഹത്തിനു മനസ്സിലാകുമോ എന്നു അറിഞ്ഞുകൂട. ഇക്കാര്യത്തെക്കുറിച്ച് പഠിക്കാൻ അദ്ദേഹം കറച്ചു മിനക്കടന്നമെന്ന് എനിക്കു അപേക്ഷയുണ്ട്. അല്ലെങ്കിൽ മറ്റൊരാൾക്കിലും ഒരേപ്പോഴുകൊണ്ട് ആ ബുദ്ധിമുട്ട് പരിഹരിക്കണം.

"നമുടെ വനങ്ങളെ സംരക്ഷിക്കുന്ന കാര്യത്തിൽ മദിരാശി ഗവണ്മെന്റ് എന്തെങ്കിലും ശ്രമം നടത്താൻ തുടങ്ങിയത് 1946 ന് ശേഷം മാത്രമാണെന്നു ഞാൻ ആദ്യമേ പറഞ്ഞല്ലോ. കഴിഞ്ഞ യുദ്ധകാലത്ത് മലബാറിലെ വനങ്ങളിലുണ്ടായിരുന്ന മരങ്ങൾ മുഴുവൻ യാതൊരു ഭാക്കിണ്ണവും കൂടാതെ വെട്ടിയഴിക്കുകയാണ് ചെയ്തിട്ടുള്ളത്. മരം കയറുമതി ചെയ്യുന്ന കാര്യത്തിൽ ലോകത്തിലെ ഒന്നാമത്തെ കേന്ദ്രമെന്ന് പ്രസിദ്ധിയാർജ്ജിച്ചിട്ടുള്ള കല്ലായി അതിനുശേഷം പൊങ്ങിവന്നിട്ടില്ല. കല്ലായി ഇന്നു ആകപ്പാടെ നശിച്ചു കിടക്കുകയാണ്. അതിനെ പുനരുജ്ജീവിപ്പിക്കാൻ ഗവണ്മെന്റ് ഇതുവരെ യാതൊന്നും ചെയ്തിട്ടില്ല. കഴിഞ്ഞ കൊല്ലത്തെ ഫോറസ്റ്റ് ഡിപ്പാർട്ട്മെന്റ് അഡ് മിനിസ്റ്റർ റിപ്പോർട്ടിൽ രണ്ടായിരത്തിനും മൂവായിരത്തിനുമിടയിൽ വനസംരക്ഷണം സംബന്ധിച്ച കേസുകൾ ഉണ്ടായിട്ടുണ്ടെന്നു കാണുന്നു. എന്നിട്ട് ഒരു കാര്യം എടുത്തു പറയാനുണ്ട്. ഇതെല്ലാം ചെറിയ ചെറിയ കുറുങ്ങുകയായി പാവപ്പെട്ട കൃഷിക്കാരുടെ പേരിലും മറ്റും എടുത്തിട്ടുള്ള കേസുകളാണ്. ലക്ഷക്കണക്കിനു ഉറപ്പിക വില്പിടിച്ചുള്ള മരങ്ങൾ തട്ടിക്കൊണ്ടുപോയ എത്രയോ കേസുകൾ ഗവണ്മെന്റ് അറിയാതെ പോയിട്ടുണ്ട്. ഏതൊരു താലൂക്കിൽതന്നെ കരുള എസ്റ്റേറ്റിൽ അഞ്ചുലക്ഷത്തിലധികം ഉറപ്പിക വില്പിടിച്ചുള്ള മരങ്ങൾ വ്യാജമായി മുറിച്ചുകൊണ്ടുപോയിട്ടുള്ള കാര്യം ഗവണ്മെന്റിന്റെ ശ്രദ്ധയിൽ കൊണ്ടുവന്നിട്ടുണ്ട്. അതിനെ സംബന്ധിച്ച് അതിന്റെ ഒരു വകാശി ഗവണ്മെന്റിന്മേൽ ഒരു നിവേദനം സമർപ്പിച്ചിട്ടുണ്ട്. ഈ കേസിൽ അവിടുത്തെ റെയിഞ്ചർ കൂടി ഉൾപ്പെട്ടിട്ടുണ്ടെന്നും ധാരാളം കൈക്കൂലി വാങ്ങിയിട്ടുണ്ടെന്നും ഒരു കേൾവിയുണ്ട്. ഇങ്ങനെ ലക്ഷക്കണക്കിനു വില്പിടിച്ചുള്ള മരങ്ങൾ ജന്മിമാരും വലിയ കച്ചവടക്കാരും ഫോറസ്റ്റ് ഉദ്യോഗസ്ഥന്മാരുടെ സഹായത്തോടുകൂടി തട്ടിക്കൊണ്ടു പോകുന്നതിന്റെ നേരേ കണ്ണടച്ചിട്ട് കൃഷിക്കാരെ സാധുക്കൾ കയ്യെടുക്കുകയോ ഇലപറിക്കുകയോ ചെയ്യാൻ കേസെടുത്തു അവരെ ഉപദ്രവിക്കുകയാണ് ഇന്നത്തെ നടപ്പ്. മലബാറിലെ വനങ്ങളെ സംരക്ഷിക്കുന്നതിനുള്ള അധികാരം ഇം നിയമമൂലം ഗവണ്മെന്റിനു കിട്ടുന്നുണ്ട്. എന്നാൽ അധികാരികൾ അതിനെ ദുരുപയോഗപ്പെടുത്താനനുവദിക്കാതെ വനങ്ങളെ വേണ്ട വിധത്തിൽ സംരക്ഷിക്കാൻ ഉപയോഗപ്പെടുത്തുമെന്ന് ഞാൻ പ്രതീക്ഷിക്കുന്നു.

“இதையெல்லாம் சர்க்கார் கவனித்து காடுகளைப் பராமரிக்கும்போது, அதனால் மக்களுக்கு எவ்வளவு நன்மை உண்டாகுமோ அவ்வளவும் உண்டாகுமாறு செய்யவேண்டியது ரொம்பவும் அவசியமாகும். முதன் முதலாக ஜமீன்தார்களுக்கு எல்லாம் காடுகளை அழிக்கக்கூடாதென்று உத்திரவு போட்டாகவேண்டும்.

SRI K. MADHAVAN NAMBIAR :—“മിസ്റ്റർ ചെയർമാൻ, സർ, മലബാറിനെ സംബന്ധിച്ചിടത്തോളം അതിപ്രധാനമായിട്ടുള്ള ഒരു നിയമമാണിത്. 5,802 ചതുരശ്രമൈലാണ് മലബാറിന്റെ ആകെ വിസ്തീർണ്ണം. അതിൽ രണ്ടായിരം ചതുരശ്രമൈലാണ് വനങ്ങളാണെന്നു കാണുന്നു. ഇതു വമ്പിച്ച ഒരു വനസമ്പത്തു നമുക്കുണ്ടുപോകുമെന്നു ഏതാനും സ.രക്ഷിക്കണമെന്നും അതിൽനിന്നു ഏതാനെ നമ്മുടെ വരുമാനം അതിനെ ഏതാനെ സ.രക്ഷിക്കണമെന്നും അതിൽനിന്നു ഏതാനെ നമ്മുടെ വരുമാനം വർദ്ധിപ്പിക്കണമെന്നും ഉള്ള കാര്യത്തിൽ ഗവണ്മെന്റിന് യാതൊരു നോട്ടവുമില്ല.

14th May 1954] [Sri K. Madhavan Nambiar]

SRI K. S. LAKSHMIPATHY NAICKER :—“கனம் சேர்மன் அவர்களே, தனிப்பட்ட காடுகளின் நலனைப் பாதுகாக்கவேண்டுமென்று சர்க்கார் இன்று ஒரு மசோதாவைக் கொண்டுவந்திருக்கிறது. அதைப்பற்றி சில முக்கியமான அம்சங்களைச் சொல்லிக்கொள்ள ஆசைப்படுகிறேன். முன்னால் மதுரை ஜில்லாவிலும், திருச்சி ஜில்லாவிலும், இன்னும் மற்ற ஜில்லாக்களிலும் சிற்சில இடங்களில் வனங்கள் தானாகவே வளர்ந்து மிகவும் அதிகப்படியான விறகுளும், கட்டிடங்களுக்கும் வேண்டிய நல்ல தேக்கு மரங்களும் கிடைத்துக்கொண்டிருந்தன. ஆனால் நெடுங்காலமாக வளர்ந்துகொண்டு வந்த மரங்கள், கடந்த 10 வருஷ காலத்திலே பூராவும் வெட்டப்பட்டு கொஞ்சம் கொஞ்சமாக குறைந்து, இன்று காடுகளே அழிந்து போகக்கூடிய நிலைமையில் இருந்துகொண்டிருக்கிறது. அதன் காரணமாகத்தான் பருவ மழையும் அதிகமாகப் பெய்யாமல் இருக்கிறது.

[Sri K. S. Lakshmipathy Naicker] [14th May 1954]

“ முக்கியமாக இந்த வனங்களிலிருந்து நிலங்களுக்கு கிடைக்கக்கூடிய பசுந்தழை உரங்கள், ஆடுமாடுகள் போன்ற கால் நடைகளுக்கு தீவனம் முதலியவைகள் கிடைத்துக்கொண்டு வந்திருக்கிறது. இதைச் சர்க்கார் விவசாயிகளுக்கு தாராளமாக கிடைக்கும்படி யோசனை செய்து, அதற்கான முறையை கையாள வேண்டும். முக்கியமாக நஞ்சை விவசாயம் செய்யக் கூடிய ஏழை விவசாயிகள் வனங்களில் கிடைக்கும் பசுந்தழை உரங்களை யே தங்களுடைய நிலங்களுக்கு உரமாக உபயோகித்து வந்தனர். இப்போது அந்த வனங்களெல்லாம் ஒருசில நிலச்சவான்தார்களுடைய கெட்ட எண்ணத்தினால் அழிக்கப்பட்டு வந்திருக்கின்றன.

(At this stage Mr. Speaker occupied the Chair.)

SRI P. KANDASAMY GOUNDER:—“ கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, 100 வருஷங்களுக்கு முன்னால் சர்க்கார் பொதுவாக விவசாயிகளுக்கு நிலத்தைக்கொடுத்திருக்கிறார்கள். அதில் மரங்களை விருத்தி செய்தும் இருக்கிறார்கள். தனிப்பட்ட எல்லாக் காடுகளையும் விருத்தி செய்ய வேண்டுமென்று கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகிறேன். நான்கு வெள்ளாடுகள், 50 ஏக்கர் நிலங்களிலுள்ள மரங்களை அழித்துவிடும் என்று சொல்லுவார்கள். இந்த ஆடுகளால் அழிந்துவிடும் என்று சொல்வது உண்மை. முன்பு காடுகளில் கால்நடைகளுக்கு தண்ணீர் குடிப்பதற்கு சரியான வசதி கிடையாது. பல காடுகளில் ஏரிகள் பாழடைந்து போயிருக்கின்றன. சீர்கேடான நிலைமையில் ரிப்பேர் செய்யப்படாமல் இருக்கின்றன. தோப்புக்களுக்கு அருகில் ஏரிகள் இருக்கின்றன. இவைகளை ரிப்பேர் செய்தால் தண்ணீர் அதிக மாவதற்கு வழி இருக்கும். அதனால் கால்நடைகளுக்கு அதிக பலன் ஏற்படும். கால்நடைகள் இப்பொழுது வெளியே சென்று தழைகளைத் தின்றுவிட்டு பக்கத்தில் தண்ணீர் கிடைக்காததினால் மாலை நேரத்தில் வீட்டிற்கு வந்துதான் தண்ணீர் குடிக்கின்றன.

“ இவ்விதமாக ஏரிகளும், குளங்களும் தூர்ந்து போய் இருப்பதினாலும் ரிப்பேர் செய்யப்படாமல் இருப்பதினாலும் கால்நடைகளுக்கு தண்ணீர் கிடைக்காமல் தவிக்கும் நிலைமை ஏற்படுகிறது. பல கிணறுகள் ரிப்பேர் செய்யப்படாமல் இருக்கின்றன. ஒரு ரிசர்வ் காட்டில் நல்ல கால்நடைகளை மேய்வதற்காக அதிகமான வரியைப்போட்டு அந்தப் பணத்தை காட்டின் அபிவிருத்திக்கு ஒதுக்கும்படியாகச் செய்யவேண்டும். இன்னும் அதிக புல் வளரும்படி செய்து, கால்நடைகளை மேய்ப்பதற்காக வசதி செய்யும் படியாக கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகிறேன். தவிர ரிசர்வ் காடுகளில் சில இடங்களில்தான் கூப் இருக்கிறது. ஒவ்வொரு கிராம பக்கத்திலும் 10, 15 ஏக்கர் நிலங்கள் ஒதுக்கப்பட்டு ஏரியின் பாய்ச்சலின் கீழ் அந்த நிலங்கள் வரும். தவிர, ஜாதி மரங்கள் வைத்து பயிர் செய்தால் காடுகள் வளர்வதற்கு ஏதுவாக இருக்கும். இப்போது இருக்கும் மரங்கள் மிகவும் பழமையாக இருப்பதால் இப்பேர்ப்பட்ட இடங்களில் மரங்களுக்கு வரிகள் வேண்டியதில்லை. பொதுவாக காடுகளில் விளைவதற்கு சர்க்கார் போதிய கவனம் செலுத்தவேண்டு என்று கேட்டுக்கொண்டு என் பேச்சை முடித்துக் கொள்ளுகிறேன்.”

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—“ Mr. Speaker, Sir, as a Member of the Select Committee, I had an opportunity to discuss the provisions of the Bill there and I do not want to say much now. But some important development has taken place since the meetings of the Select Committee came to a close. We all agreed to the following provision to be included in the Bill:—

‘ Nothing in this clause shall be deemed to apply to any land which was brought under fugitive or other cultivation prior to the 14th December 1949 by an owner or any person claiming under him.’

When we discussed this provision in the Select Committee, we wanted to see that lands under fugitive cultivation, that is, traditional lands, were exempted from the operation of this Bill. Now, on a comprehensive survey of some of the forest regions, I understand that there are thousands of acres of nanja lands, not even punja lands, in the middle of the forests. I do not know whether this provision will apply to them also. Otherwise, it will be a sin, and I am using the word 'sin' consciously, as far as Malabar is concerned. There is a great food deficit so far as Malabar is concerned and the Government have always been saying that it is a liability on them as far as food supply is concerned. In one village alone in Nilambur 170,240 acres of waste and arable forest lands are there under the Nilambur Palace. They have some 400 square miles of forest area. As far as my experience goes, and according to a recent survey which was made it was found that 15,000 acres can be cultivated. I had a discussion on this subject with the Hon. Minister for Forests who had been to our region recently. He also enquired into the matter and it seems that the Forest Department officers have also apprised the Hon. Minister of the fact that there are such lands. As far as the Nilambur and other suburban areas are concerned, I wish to draw the attention of the Hon. Minister to the urgent necessity for taking drastic steps to see that the lands are brought under cultivation without prejudice to the preservation of the forests in our country. In the following villages, there are lands which could very easily be brought under cultivation :—Poolappadam, Vallimittam, Vandakinpotti, Chathamangalam Poil, Chambankolli, Marutha, Maman-kara, Vallakkatta, Manalpadam, Churulipatti, Erumannunde, etc. These are places of that kind in Nilambur alone apart from other areas in other taluks. In this connection, I wish to state that even in the Preamble of the old 1949 Act, it was stated that pending a comprehensive Bill, that Act was brought and placed on the Statute book. Some five or six years have passed and the Government have not taken any step to bring forward such a comprehensive legislation. I wish to take this opportunity to point out that the forest wealth in our State, especially in Malabar, is a most important national wealth.

" Sir, I think there is some confusion or misunderstanding with regard to the Communist Party's stand. I am obliged to refer to this matter, because, very recently when I had an opportunity to discuss this matter with some of the high officials of the Revenue Department, I was told that there was some confusion and misunderstanding in the matter. That is why I thought that I must take this opportunity to clear that confusion and misunderstanding and to show that the Communists are not at all against the preservation of forests. As a matter of fact, we want the preservation of forests. Our complaint is that the officers of the Forest Department are not enforcing this Act efficiently. When a big landowner or janmi or some other rich persons cut away hundreds and thousands of trees, these officers of the Department do not intervene and stop it. These people may have a licence for cutting 50 or 100 trees, but in actual practice they will be cutting 500 or 1000 trees and no action is taken against them. I can quote number of such instances where such rich persons who cut away thousands of trees are let off and no action is taken against them whereas a poor kisan for cutting a few branches even, is punished. When a poor cultivator, or kisan, who might have taken a lease for collecting green manure, cuts away some branches, he is asked to pay for it. Very recently, some dead trees were taken by some peasants to construct a school building. They were charged. On the other hand some Hajeers in Irikkoor, Baliapatam and Payyanur firkas—I do not know their names—cut away hundreds of trees, but no charge was made in their case. If the Hon. Minister wants, I am prepared to give facts and figures. Last time, when this matter was discussed hon. Member Sri Krishna Ayyar gave some facts and figures. There is a proverb in Malayalam.

'കുടക് പോകുന്ന ദിക്ക് അടച്ചു ആന പോകുന്ന ഇടം തുറന്നിടുക.'

It means that a hole of the size of a mustard is being closed whereas a big hole through which an elephant could go is kept open. The officers of the department say that they want to be very strict in implementing the provisions of the Act but at the same time by receiving some money—I won't call it bribe as they are also suffering a lot—they let off big people and punish only the poor people. If it will not offend anybody and if it is parliamentary, I should say that we find this 'Kumbakonam' going on. I only wish to request the Government that they must instruct their officers in the department to strictly enforce the provisions of the Act without showing any distinction between rich and poor. I think there is a provision in the Act according to which private landlords are required to submit a scheme to the Forest Department as to where they will be cutting away the trees. Most of the landlords are not submitting these schemes. Even when some of them submit these schemes, they do not act according to that scheme, thinking that the scheme submitted to the department will not be scrutinised.

" I hope the Hon. Minister will see that the cases filed against the poor peasants who were tempted to cultivate some of the lands, as mentioned by me previously, are withdrawn and permitted to cultivate the lands of course without prejudicing the enforcement of the provisions of the Preservation of Private Forests Act. I again express my hope that this will be done."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—" Sir, Malabar is noted for its rich forest wealth and the hon. Member Sri Narayana Kurup took a legitimate pride in saying that Nilambur is noted for its timber and the ships built of that timber stands for longer time, namely, thrice the period for which the ships built of other timber will last. He referred to the plying of such ships in the river Thames and all that. In Malabar, the best forests are somehow owned by private people. Therefore, it has become necessary to preserve them against exploitation. Owing to the peculiar law prevailing there and for other reasons, the joint-owners make the best of the situation. They want to make easy money by selling these trees. There is also a tendency to resort to fugitive cultivation on account of the great pressure on land. There is large-scale indiscriminate fugitive cultivation. Certain lacuna in the existing Act makes them get over the provision which is meant for preserving the forests. When a piece of land exceeding 100 acres is in the possession of joint-owners, each owner tries to get over the rule by reducing the limit of 100 acres by tilling a patch of land or by taking advantage of streams or rocks in between two acres. In this manner, exploitation takes place to a very large extent and large tracts of forest areas are destroyed. In order to help our friends living in Malabar and in order to see that they are able to retain their forest wealth, this Bill has been brought forward.

"Sir, mention was made about the forests elsewhere. The hon. Member representing Dindigul said that a number of avenue trees were destroyed indiscriminately for charcoal and other purposes. Yes, it is so. That is why the Government are very keen in taking steps to preserve them as far as possible. In this connection, I may give an instance.

"Sir, in the State of Kashmir, forest trees as well as the avenue trees are very well preserved. In fact, when I was there a few years ago, I was much impressed by the very fine condition in which the avenue trees were kept there. I asked them how it was possible to maintain them in such a condition and I was told that a grandfather or a great grandfather of the existing Sardar-I Riyasat made it a rule that if anybody cut a tree or a branch of a tree, the punishment would be that his hand would be cut off. So, people were so much afraid of the drastic punishment that nobody would cut a tree or a branch and they told me that that was the reason why the avenue trees there were in such a good condition.

"Mention was also made about goats. It was said that goats are considered to be great enemies of forest growth and it was also mentioned that saliva of the goat had the quality of killing the shoots and all that. Whether the saliva of the goat produces any such effect or not, I know that goats are the greatest enemies of forest growth. I read sometime back that Hitler in Germany, he being an autocrat, made an order that all goats be exterminated and as a matter of fact, the order was carried out and that was why after that, the forests in Germany were well preserved. If I am also an autocrat here, I can do so. But I am not an autocrat and I have to conform to democratic ways of controlling these illicit cuttings of trees.

"Sir, Government in addition to having recourse to these enactments, also have taken up the question of increasing the planting of trees and that is why every year we are conducting the Vana Mahotsava when lakhs of trees are planted. Though it has not yielded results to the extent expected, there is some good return and if all hon. Members co-operate and if villagers co-operate, then that can be a complete success.

"Then it was complained, 'what is the use of bringing in piecemeal legislations now and then; you must tackle the problem as a whole.' Yes, Government do contemplate tackling the problem as a whole and a comprehensive Bill relating to Forests is under consideration and it will be taken up very soon. Therefore, hon. Members need not think that Government are not paying enough attention to this problem which affects, as was said, agriculture. We are interested in the preservation of the forests of the State and everything necessary will be done. Therefore, I submit that this Bill may be taken into consideration and passed."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

'That the Madras Preservation of Private Forests (Amendment) Bill, 1953 (L.A. Bill No. 23 of 1953), be taken into consideration at once.'

The motion was put and carried.

Clause 2.

MR. SPEAKER:—"The motion is that clause 2 do stand part of the Bill. The hon. Member Sri K. P. Gopalan may move his amendment, and speak on it, as there is only one amendment."

SRI K. P. GOPALAN:—"Sir, I move—

'In the explanation under sub-clause (a), for the figures, letters and word "14th November 1949", substitute the figures, letters and word "14th May 1954".'

Sir, as far as this amendment is concerned, I request the Hon. Minister for Revenue to consider this question most sympathetically. The Select Committee agreed that the peasants, who have cultivated the forest lands belonging to private land owners up to 14th November 1949, will be given the lands for cultivation. Sir, after 1949, so many landlords—I do not know whether they knew of the coming Act or not—had given many acres for cultivation and many peasants have also cultivated. Those lands will come within the meaning of 'forest'. If this Bill is passed, so many peasants will have to be evicted and those small peasants will lose their livelihood. That is why, Sir, I have brought this amendment before this House. Sir, I request the Hon. Revenue Minister to accept this amendment without further consideration for, if this amendment is accepted, Government will not be going against their own policy.

"Sir, I have seen in Malabar, especially in Ezurumala and other places, many peasants are asked to vacate their lands. In Malabar, cases against hundreds of peasants have been launched for cultivating the lands in forest areas. So, if this amendment is accepted, it will be a great boon for them and I am sure that the landlords in Malabar will not oppose this, because they will get rent from them. The only thing which the Government should do is that they should give sanction for cultivation of those lands. I am not against the intention of Government that forests should be preserved and that forest wealth should also be increased. As has been stated by the Hon. Revenue Minister, since the Government are going to bring in a comprehensive measure, I suggest that Malabar Government may take over the many acres of forests now owned by private landlords. In Travancore-Cochin forests wholly belong to the Government and from those forests they derive very good income. The Government preserve them and increase their income. Our Government can also profit by similar methods.

"Sir, as far as Malabar is concerned, it is common knowledge that private owners and landlords of private forests do not help the peasants. I have seen that hundreds of women who earn their livelihood by collecting green leaves for use as manure and for selling to peasants as such, are forbidden by these landlords and many women are unemployed on account of this.

"Sir, I need not speak much on this subject and it is a very simple amendment which I have moved. It will never go against the spirit of the Bill itself. So, I request the Hon. Minister to accept this simple amendment and save hundreds of peasants who are cultivating even after 1949 many acres of land in Malabar. With these words, I commend my amendment for the acceptance of the Government."

The amendment was duly seconded.

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"Sir, we would have been glad to give not only the powers under this Amending Bill, but much more to the Government. Let us not be misunderstood that we are not optimistic about the results. After all, this Bill, as stated by the Hon. Revenue Minister, is intended only to cure some defects which have been found out when prosecutions were launched in certain cases. There are extensive forests in Malabar. Though the amendment comes under the purview of the Madras Preservation of Private Forests Act, it is based on the working of the Act, as I just now observed, in those areas. Sir, it is well known that this Act is more honoured in its breach than in its observance.

"If this Act is applied to certain forests, then certain things follow. He cannot alienate the land. He cannot cut down trees of certain girth and he cannot do anything which will destroy the forest wealth. But what is now going on? Waste is being committed by persons burning young trees for charcoal. If you pay something to the forest officer he will allow you to cut a large number of trees. They are converted into charcoal. If the Hon. Minister will stand by the roadside and watch, he will find in the evening a procession of people carrying charcoal on their heads. This is one of the ways in which the laws are not observed. Then there are people who take up contracts of private forests in certain areas adjoining the Government reserve forests. Of course, reserve forests are there in Malabar also. The result is that the contractors cut and remove trees not only in that area but from a substantial portion of the reserve forests adjoining that area. You will be surprised at the way petty timber merchants in Nilambur become millionaires in no time. It is not as though they have come across a treasure trove. It is due to their indiscriminate cutting of trees in private forests as well as in Government reserve forests. Therefore, I am so sceptical about the results of the working of the Act. Of course charges of inefficiency and corruption have been levelled against Government officials before on the floor of this House. But I am sure in this respect some of the officials of the Forest Department will top the list, if we make an enquiry in this regard. It is well known that this Department requires very careful supervision because it gives room for corruption to be practised in such an easy way. Therefore, I wish that the amendment is accepted and that the Act is worked in its true spirit so that its objective may be achieved."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"I oppose the amendment. It is after great deliberation at the Select Committee stage that we decided the date of 14th December 1949 because at the time the ryots had had ample notice of the law that was coming. So, there cannot be any excuse on their part that they have been taken unawares. Now my friend, Mr. Gopalan, wants it to be altered as 1954. That means we will not be able to preserve the forests to any appreciable extent. Fugitive cultivation was going on very rapidly and as hon. Members have pointed out, it was not quite possible to control it. Now there is a provision whereby the Collector can issue permits for such cultivation if it will not prejudice the growth of forests. Wherever it will be conducive to the growth of forests and where it will not interfere with it in an adverse way, there cannot be much of a grievance. So, I see no reason why I should accept the amendment."

SRI K. P. GOPALAN:—"I want to know from the Hon. the Minister for Revenue, whether the Government, if the Collector has got the power to permit such cultivation, will take a sympathetic view of the case and make a liberal use of the provision. If so, I am prepared to withdraw my amendment."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"The Government will certainly take a sympathetic view of the case subject to this proviso that we are very anxious to preserve good forests with the help of hon. Members themselves."

SRI K. P. GOPALAN:—"I withdraw my amendment."

The amendment was, by leave, withdrawn.

Clause 2 was put and carried.

[14th May 1954

Clause 3.

Mr. SPEAKER:—“ The amendment given notice of by Mr. K. Parthasarathi, i.e., to add a new clause at the end of clause 3, namely :—

“ 3-A. In section 3, sub-section (2) of the principal Act after the word ‘ implements ’ add the words ‘ for gathering green manure.’ Seeks to enlarge the scope of the Bill since he wants the original Act to be amended. It is out of order. He can speak on the clause, if he wants.”

SRI K. PARTHASARATHY :—“ Sir, when the Select Committee was constituted, Members from Malabar and South Kanara were alone made members of it. Some time later, I became a Member of this House and I suggested that it was not a problem for Malabar or the West Coast alone but that it applied to other areas also. In fact a good portion of my own constituency has private forests in it to which the principal Act in this case is made applicable. There is practical difficulty in working this Act and, therefore, I suggested on a former occasion that suitable amendments might be brought in to the main Act itself. But I regret to find that the Select Committee has not gone into this question. This is a problem peculiar to my area. Agriculturists living adjacent to private forests had the customary right to remove green manure from the forests. They were permitted to remove green manure by headloads and cartloads. This right was exercised by agriculturists living within a radius of a few miles. Under the principal Act, there is a provision permitting people living even at a distance of 10 or 15 miles from the forest area to remove dead or fallen trees from the forests and also to acquire forest produce for making agricultural implements. But there is no provision in the Bill for the removal of green manure. In the rules framed under the Act, there is provision for removing green manure only in headloads. But in actual working, hon. Members who have experience of agricultural operations, will find that it is impossible to remove green manure in headloads if people live at a distance of five or six miles. That is the practical difficulty. It becomes imperatively necessary, therefore, that facilities should be given to take green manure in cartloads. Unless they are permitted to take it in cartloads it will be impossible for them to carry on agricultural operations. The saving provision here is not going to be of practical benefit to them. When we want that incentive should be given to increase food production, I fail to see how this restriction on the removal of green manure from private forests will increase food production. I would, therefore, request the Hon. the Minister to see that a suitable provision is brought in at least to the rules so as to substitute headloads by cartloads. I expected such an amendment to be introduced to this clause itself which seeks to amend section 3 of the principal Act. We do not have any such amendment now. Therefore, I would request him to have the rules at least amended in the way I have suggested.”

14th May 1954]

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—“ In the first place, I want the hon. Member to understand that conditions in Malabar are quite different from conditions in South Arcot. The manner in which cultivation is done there is quite different and the green manure that is referred to here is not to be seen in those forests, because forests in Malabar are thick and dense.

“ Again, Sir, this question of giving permit for taking green manure from the forests of private persons should be given by the owner of the forests.”

Clause 3 was put and carried.

Clause 4.

Clause 4 was put and carried.

Clause 1.

Clause 1 was put and carried.

PREAMBLE.

The Preamble was put and carried.

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—“ Sir,
I move—

'That the Madras Preservation of Private Forests (Amendment) Bill, 1953, be passed into law.' "

MR. SPEAKER:—“ Motion moved—

‘ That the Madras Preservation of Private Forests (Amendment) Bill, 1953, be passed into law.’ ”

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—“ At the third reading of this Bill, I would only make a request which I made already in discussing the merits and demerits of this Bill. The previous enactments contained many loopholes and from every section of the people, there have been complaints against the administration of forests laws and against the Forest Department. This complaint has been there for a very long time. I would earnestly request the Hon. Minister in charge of Forests to see to it that this enactment is strictly enforced, of course not to the detriment of the people and against their legitimate requirements. Let the Hon. the Minister for Forests see to it that those who evade the provisions of this law are punished and let him see to it that the provisions of this Bill are enforced in such a way so as to serve the real purpose enunciated in the Bill.”

SRI K. C. THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—“ Sir, this is a question of administrative detail. I will look into it. What is most needed is the co-operation from hon. Members belonging to that block. I hear a certain number of inroads, from the neighbouring State, on these forests had taken place. So I would request hon. Members hailing from that side to take care against such invasions. The preservation of these forests depends so much upon the co-operation we get from hon. Members belonging to that block.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ The question is—

‘ That the Madras Preservation of Private Forests (Amendment) Bill, 1953, be passed into law.’ ”

The motion was put and carried and the Bill was passed into law.

APPENDIX.

[Vide item on page 1 supra.]

Report of the Select Committee on the Madras Preservation of Private Forests (Amendment) Bill, 1953 (L.A. Bill No. 23 of 1953).

To

THE HONOURABLE THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY,
MADRAS.

The Select Committee appointed to consider the Madras Preservation of Private Forests (Amendment) Bill, 1953 (L.A. Bill No. 23 of 1953), has the honour to make the following report.

2. The Bill was published in English in the Fort St. George Gazette, dated the 17th June 1953, and in other languages in the Fort St. George Gazette, dated the 24th June 1953.

3. The Select Committee was appointed by the Legislative Assembly on the 28th July 1953.

4. The Select Committee met in the Ministers' Room, Government Estate, Mount Road, on the 25th December 1953, and on the 5th and 7th January 1954 and considered the provisions of the Bill.

5. The Committee has made it clear (1) that the land which was brought under fugitive or other cultivation prior to the 14th December 1949 by an owner or any person claiming under him shall be excluded from the operation of this Bill and (2) that a private forest exceeding 100 acres in extent shall not cease to be such by reason only of the fact that, in a portion thereof, trees or shrubs are felled with or without the permission of the District Collector, or lands are cultivated, or rocks, roads, tanks, rivers or the like exist; nor shall the area of such forest cease to be contiguous by reason only of the existence of all or any of the aforesaid circumstances.

14th May 1954]

SRI K. P. GOPALAN :—“ No, Sir. I am not moving my amendment for referring the Bill to a Select Committee.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ Then the general discussion on the Bill may begin. Mr. Gopalan may now speak.”

SRI K. P. GOPALAN :—“ I submit that this is a good piece of legislation. I support this Bill wholeheartedly. At the same time, I want to point out the mischief done by some village officers. From my experience, I know that 90 per cent of the village officers in Malabar are big landlords. They are engines of oppression in the villages. Even now, it is going on. In my constituency of Payyanur, there is an amsom called Kuttur. The people in that locality have got a bitter grievance against the village munsif there. There was an enquiry against that village munsif. The Revenue Divisional Officer or Collector cannot suspend the village munsif till the enquiry is completed. In the mean time, the village munsif somehow brought his influence to bear upon the police and terrorized the people when the enquiry was going on. What was the result? People feared to come and speak against him as witnesses during the course of the enquiry.

“ I submit that his Bill should help the poor people in the villages. I also want that the enquiry should not be prolonged, because if it is prolonged some extraneous influence could be brought to bear upon it. It will make the enquiry an unsuccessful one.

“ There should be more Harijan and other backward community village officers also. They should also be given some chance. I am sorry to find that not a single Harijan is a village munsif in Malabar. At the same time I am sorry to find that a majority of these village officers are corrupt. It is because they are very ineagrely paid. I want that their pay and allowance should be increased at least to a reasonable extent. If this Bill is brought into effect, the oppression by village munsifs will cease and the higher revenue officers will be in a position to take necessary steps against them. I am not speaking with any prejudice against village munsifs. They must be given a chance to prove their innocence and let in evidence before the revenue officers. If a complaint is found to be untrue, the suspended officer must be reinstated. I want to submit again and again that the enquiry must be conducted as early as possible. In Payyanur an enquiry was conducted by the Tahsildar of Chirakkal and only after one month he sent his report to the Revenue Divisional Officer. I met the Tahsildar and he said that he was busy with some other work and that therefore he could not send the report earlier. In an enquiry is prolonged, so many influences may be brought to bear during the pendency of the enquiry and people may not get justice. I have got some experience about this. So any enquiry must be conducted as early and as expeditiously as possible.

“ I support the Bill moved by the Hon. Minister wholeheartedly.”

THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Friday, 14th May 1954.

The House met in the Assembly Chamber, Government Estate, Mount Road, at eight of the clock, Mr. Speaker (THE HON. SRI J. SIVASHANMUGAM PILLAI) in the Chair.

THE MADRAS PROPRIETARY ESTATES VILLAGE SERVICE AND HEREDITARY VILLAGE OFFICES (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1954.

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—“ Sir, I move—

‘ That the Madras Proprietary Estates Village Service and Hereditary Village Offices (Amendment) Bill “, 1954, be taken into consideration at once.’

“ Sir, the object of the Bill is this. No doubt the administration is now being carried on without the necessity of this Bill. But we want to regularize the procedure. In the case of enquiry of these village officers, whenever they have done any wrong or have infringed the rules, they are suspended from service just as the other officers of other departments who infringe the rules are punished. But there is no exact provision in the previous Acts concerned specifying the mode of punishment. By this Bill we want to take the power, viz., that pending enquiry against any village officer, Government will have the power to suspend him when the enquiry is going on.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ Motion moved—

‘ That the Madras Proprietary Estates Village Service and Hereditary Village Offices (Amendment) Bill, 1954, be taken into consideration at once.’

“ I want to know whether Mr. Gopalan wants to move his amendment for referring the Bill to a Select Committee. If he is willing, he can move his amendment.”

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—“ Sir, if I support this Bill, it is not because I hold any animus against village officials. This Bill is intended to bring the enquiry against village officials in line with the other enquiries. I do not condemn village officials as a class. There may be good and bad officials among them as there are in every strata of society and in every class of officials. We know that some of them are very dangerous people who have real sway over the villages in which they serve and it has been found from experience that even District Collectors are unable to conduct proper inquiries, as the suspension of the official concerned was thought to be necessary during the period of the enquiry and the Collector had no sure authority to suspend him.

“ A statement was made on the floor of this House that all these officials belonged to the landlord class. That is not a true statement. Many of them are very petty people though they belong to the traditional landlord class. As citizens of our country, they have every right to hold their own opinions and have their own inclinations. It is only the holding of a particular form of political belief by particular village munsifs that has often proved dangerous and not all forms of political beliefs.”

DR. K. B. MENON :—" Sir, I do not like the principle of the Bill namely that of arming the State with more powers. I think that without any further legislation the State is fully armed with powers to correct wherever correction is necessary. It may be that in many cases those powers are not used. But to go in for more powers and to further strengthen the hands of the executive is, I feel, not correct. I feel that the village officers are more sinned against than they are sinning. Because they are considered as hereditary officers, many of the amenities are denied to them. I do admit that there is a lack of quality in certain cases and that it may be desirable on the part of the Government to improve the quality of village officers by setting up a certain standard. I know that in many cases appointments are not made entirely on a hereditary basis. Certain tests are given and some selections are made and in some villages, new appointments are made on this basis. Probably the Government may raise the standard of the test and thereby improve the quality of the village officers. I feel that that approach may be more healthy and more desirable than arming the executive with more powers."

SRI V. MADANAGOPAL :—“கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, இப்பொழுது இந்த மசோதா பொதுவாகக் கிராம அதிகாரிகள் செய்யும் தவறுகளைத் தடுக்கவேண்டும் என்ற நோக்கத்தோடு கொண்டு வரப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. சட்டத்தின் மூலமட்டும் ஒழுங்கீனங்களைத் தவிர்க்க நினைப்பது தவறு. இன்றுள்ள சமூக சூழ்நிலை மாறவேண்டும். பொருளாதார ஏற்றத்தாமல் தவிர்ப்பதின் மூலமும், கிராம, தாலுகா, ஜில்லா தலைமை அதிகாரிகளை சம்பந்தப்பட்ட பொதுமக்களால் தேர்ந்தெடுப்பதின் மூலமும், ஸ்தல பொதுஜன கமிட்டிகள் அமைத்து அவைகளால் நிர்வாகத்திற்கு யோசனையும் பரிசீலனையும் செய்வதற்கான ஏற்பாடுகள் செய்வதின் மூலமே, லஞ்சத்திற்கும், ஒழுங்கீனத்திற்கும் இறுதியாக விடை கொடுக்க முடியும். நீதிபதிகளைப்போல் கௌரவமாக நடத்தப்படவேண்டிய கிராம அதிகாரிகளின் இன்றைய சம்பளநிலை வருந்தத்தக்கதாக இருக்கிறது. அடுத்தபடியாக இந்த திருத்தத்தைப்பற்றி சில வார்த்தைகள் கூற விரும்புகிறேன். கிராம அதிகாரிகளுக்கு மிகப் பெரிய பொறுப்புள்ள கொடுக்கப்பட்டிருக்கின்றன. மக்களிடம் நேரடியாக தொடர்பு உள்ள அதிகாரம்கொண்ட அதிகாரிகளாக விளங்குகிறார்கள். இன்றைக்கு இவர்கள் கிராமத்தில் நீதிபதிகளாக இருக்கிறார்கள். போலீஸ் அதிகாரிகளாகவும் இருக்கிறார்கள். ரெவின்யூ டிவிஷன் ஆபீஸர்களாகவும் இருக்கிறார்கள். இவர்களுக்கு இவ்வளவு அதிகாரமும் கொடுக்கப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. இன்னும் சொல்லப்போனால் இவர்களைக் குட்டி ஜூனீஸ்தார்கள் என்று சொல்லிவிடலாம். இவர்கள் ஜூனீஸ்தார்கள் போலவே நடந்து கொள்கிறார்கள். இவர்கள் வாரிசு பாத்தியதை உடையவர்களாக இருக்கிறார்கள். இவர்களுக்கு இது பரம்பரைச் சொத்தாக இருக்கிறது. பெரும்பாலான கிராம அதிகாரிகள் அரசாங்கத்தைப்பற்றி கவலைப்படுவதேயில்லை. கிராம அதிகாரிகளை எப்படி லஞ்ச ஊழல்களிருந்து தடுக்கமுடியாது என்பதற்கு குறிப்பாக சில உதாரணங்களின் மூலமாக உங்கள் கவனத்திற்குக் கொண்டுவர விரும்புகிறேன்.

“ மதுரை ஜில்லா, திண்டுக்கல் தாலுகாவில் உள்ள ஜமீன் பிரதேசத் தில் இருக்கக்கூடிய ஒரு கிராமத்தில் உள்ள இரு அதிகாரிகள் விவசாயிகளுக்குத் தக்காவிக் கடன் கொடுக்கக்கூடிய காலத்தில் விவசாயிகளை மறித்து அவர்கள் பணத்தைப் பிடுங்கிக் கொண்டிருக்கிறார்கள். நபர் ஒன்றுக்கு பத்து ரூபாய் வீதம் 6 விவசாயிகளிடம் ரூபாய் 60 வாங்கி யுள்ளனர். இதைப்பற்றி நேரடியாகக் கலெக்டரிடம் புகார் செய்யப்பட்டது.

[Sri V. Madanagopal] [14th May 1954]

“இது மாதிரியாக இன்னொரு கிராமத்தில் கிராம அதிகாரி சென்ற வருஷம் வரி வஜா கொடுக்கிற காலத்தில் விவசாயிகளுக்கு இதைப்பற்றி ஒன்றும் தெரியாததினாலும் கணக்கு தெரியாததினாலும் மூன்று ரூபாய் கிஸ்து வாங்கிகொண்டு மூன்றாண்டு என ரசீது புஸ்தகத்தில் வரவு வைத்துக்கொடுத்துள்ளார். வேடசந்தூர் டிப்டி தாசிஸ்தாரிடம் நேரடியாக சம்பந்தப்பட்ட விவசாயிகள் ரிப்போர்ட் செய்தனர். பின் சம்பந்தப்பட்ட ரெவின்யூ இன்ஸ்பெக்டர் ஷே விவசாயிகளை பாாத்து ‘தவறாக எழுதப்பட்டுவிட்டது. இந்தத் தொகையை அடுத்த பசலிக்காக தாங்களே செலுத்தும் கிஸ்தியில் குறைத்துக்கொள்ள சொல்கின்றேன்’ என்று கூறியுள்ளார். விவசாயிகள் அதை ஒப்புக்கொள்ளவில்லை. ஜில்லா கலெக்டருக்கும் தெரிவிக்கப்பட்டுள்ளது. இதுவரை சரியான நடவடிக்கை ஒன்றும் எடுக்கப்படவில்லை. பாளையம் கிராமத்தை சேர்ந்த குஜிலியம்பாரை என்ற இடத்தில் கிராம அதிகாரி மாடுகளை பவுண்டில் அடைத்துவிட்டு அதற்காக 30 ரூபாய் வசூல் செய்து இருக்கிறார். ரசீது ஒன்றும் கொடுக்கப்படவில்லை. இவ்விதமாகப் பல காரியங்கள் செய்யப்பட்டு வருகின்றன. இந்த வஞ்ச ஊழலைத் தடுப்பதற்குத் தக்க நடவடிக்கை எடுக்கவேண்டும். இவர்களை சஸ்பெண்டு செய்து விட்டு சீக்கிரத்தில் விசாரித்து தீர்ப்பு வழங்கவேண்டும். வீணாகக் காலம் கடத்தக்கூடாது.

“இந்த கிராம அதிகாரிகளின் லஞ்ச ஊழலுக்குக் காரணம் இவர்களின் குறைவான சம்பளம்தான். இவர்கள் தாசில்தாரைப் பார்க்க வெளி ஊருக்குச் செல்வதற்கு T.A. வழங்குவது மிகமிகக் குறைவு. ஊருக்குத் தாசில்தாரோ, கலெக்டரோ வந்தால் அவர்களுக்கு வேண்டிய ஏற்பாடுகள் செய்வதற்கும் போக்குவரத்து செலவுக்கு கிராம அதிகாரிகள் எங்கு போவார்கள்? அதற்காகத்தான் Pocket money ஆக மற்ற வர்களிடமிருந்து வாங்குகிறார்கள். இவர்களுக்குக் கணக்குப் புல்தகங்களும் இதர ரிகார்டுகளும் வைத்துக்கொள்வதற்கு பெட்டிகள் கூட கிடையாது. பழைய துணிமில் மூட்டை கட்டிதான் ரிக்கார்டுகள் வைத்துள்ளார்கள். முப்பது, 40 வருஷ காலமாக கிராமங்களில் சர்வே செய்யப்படாமல் இருக்கிறது. இதனால் கூட்டுப் பட்டாக்களின் எண்ணிக்கை அதிகரித்துவிட்டது. தனிப்பட்டா செய்வது சிரமமான காரியமாக இருப்பதால் தக்கவைக்கடன் வாங்க முடியவில்லை. நிலத்தகராறுகளும் கிரிமினல், சிவில் கேசுகளும் இதனால் அதிகப்படுகிறது. உடனடியாக சர்வே செய்து தனிப்பட்டா வழங்க சர்க்கார் நடவடிக்கை எடுத்துக்கொள்ளவேண்டும்.”

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—“ Mr. Speaker, Sir, this piece of legislation is neither laudable nor condemnable. I do not, however, oppose the Bill in the circumstances in which it has been brought forward. I understand that it has been brought forward only to overcome a technical difficulty. I say it is not laudable because I stand for the grant of democratic service conditions for all employees in the State. With regard to village officials, I have to submit that it is not due to their fault that such unsatisfactory service conditions are granted to them. The hereditary system with regard to appointment of village officers was introduced by the Britishers. When they ruled this country, they sought the help of landlords. Of course, in order to safeguard their interests they sought the help of these people and therefore, they appointed these people as adhikaris. But that system is continued even after the attainment of Swaraj. That system should be abolished immediately. I spoke about it on a previous occasion also.

“ Now, when the Collectors or the Revenue Divisional Officers are given power to suspend the village officers pending enquiry, I request the Government to see that this power is not abused. Suppose the Tahsildars and others use this power indiscriminately. Then, it will be a very bad thing. You cannot give the dog a bad name and hang it. In the same way, once appointing a person as the adhi kari and then penalising him most undemocratically on the plea that there is the hereditary system, is not correct or proper. I hope that when the Village Panchayats Act is implemented—the Government have also said that it will be implemented in almost all the villages—the democratic panchayat boards will be entrusted with the tasks that village officers are doing. At the same time, the grievances of the village officers also should be redressed and democratic service conditions granted to them.”

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—“கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, 1894-ம் ஆண்டு சட்டத்தை திருத்த வேண்டுமென்பதற்கு ஒரு மசோதா சபைமுன் கொண்டுவரப்படுகிறது. அறுபது வருஷங்களுக்கு முன்பாக அதாவது ஐந்து மாமங்கங்களுக்கு முன்பாக ஏற்பட்ட சட்டத்தை திருத்த வேண்டுமென்பது நம்முடைய நோக்கம். பிரிட்டிஷர் ஆண்ட காலத்திலே அவர்கள் தங்களையே நலத்தை நாலுவதற்காக சில முறைகளைக் கையாண்டு அதற்கு சில சட்டங்களை ஏற்படுத்தியிருக்கிறார்கள். பிரிட்டிஷர் அதாவது வென்னையர் நமது நாட்டிலிருந்தபோது நம் நாட்டில் வரி

“மேலும் கிராம அதிகாரிகள் குற்றம் செய்துவிட்டால், அந்தக் குற்றத்தைப்பற்றி விசாரணை நடத்திக்கொண்டிருக்கும் காலம்வரை அவரை Suspense-ல் வைக்கவேண்டுமென்பது இந்த மசோதாவின் அர்த்தம். எத்தனைக்காலம் Suspense-ல் வைக்கவேண்டுமென்று குறிப்பிடப்படவில்லை. அல்லது Suspense-ல் இருந்த காலத்தில் அவர் குற்றவாளி அல்ல என்று நிரூபிக்கப்பட்டால் அந்த Suspense காலம் எப்படி சர்வீசோடு கணக்கிடுவது, சம்பளம் கணக்கிடுவது என்றெல்லாம். இந்த மசோதாவில் காணப்படவில்லை. சாதாரணமாக குற்றம் செய்தவரை Suspense-ல் வைக்கவேண்டுமென்ற ஒரு வரி மாதிரிம்தான் இருக்கிறது. அதையும் சர்க்கார் ஆலோசிக்கவேண்டுமென்று கேட்டுக்கொண்டு, என்னுடைய பேச்சை முடித்துக்கொள்ளுகிறேன்.”

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am glad that for once the hon. Member Sri Gopalan has welcomed a move from the Government in the shape of this Bill. I think he said that the adhi-kar-is in his district were all 99 per cent rich people holding landed properties. At the next breath, he said that the pay of the adhi-kar-is should be increased. I do not know what he means by that. Perhaps he came into clash with some adhi-kar-is and so he was against them. So, I think he said that they were rich landlords. Then he thought of the other adhi-kar-is who were kind or favourable to him. So, he said that their salary should be raised. I must explain it only in some such way.

“The hon. Member Sri Gopalan said that the Government should not have recourse to this punishment and that they must administer in such a way that there would be no necessity to resort to punishment. I agree with him in this respect. Now, I remember there were certain teachers who without resort to any sort of punishment were able to maintain complete discipline in the class. But there are also teachers who will always be having a cane in their hands and in spite of this, there will be no discipline in their classes and only pandemonium will prevail. Similarly, it all depends on the officers concerned. As far as possible, we shall try to administer this service without resorting to this punishment clause. But, in certain cases, it will be necessary. Only in such cases, it will be resorted to. Moreover, I wish to state that this is not a new power that we are taking under this Bill. We have been exercising this power all these years. In the Act, there is a clause for punishment after enquiry. There is no particular clause for punishment of a temporary nature pending enquiry. The Legal Secretary and others who went through the subject found these loopholes. We want to remove these loopholes. This is the sum and substance of the Bill. We want to make the statute as perfect as possible. It is only with that object this Bill has been brought forward. As regards suspension, even big I.C.S. officers are being suspended. There is nothing new or novel about the provision relating to this. We are only regularizing this by clearly providing for this.

“One of the hon. Members asked, ‘What will happen during the period of suspension?’ What happens to other officers who are suspended will happen in the case of these officers also. I think there is a rule or convention according to which the period of suspension is treated as one of leave. Well, this rule will also apply to those who come under this Act. So, there will be no difficulty at all with regard to it.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“The question is—

‘That the Madras Proprietary Estates Village Service and Hereditary Village Offices (Amendment) Bill, 1954, be taken into consideration at once.’”

The motion was put and carried.

[14th May 1954]

Clause 2.

MR. SPEAKER :—" The motion is—

' That clause 2 do stand part of the Bill.' "

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—" Sir, I move—

' In line 1 of the proposed paragraph, after the words " under suspension ", insert the words " for a period not exceeding three months ".' "

SRI C. KANDASAMY :—" I second the amendment, Sir."

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—" Sir, I also move another amendment standing in my name which reads as follows :—

' After the proposed paragraph, add the following as second new paragraph :—

" If the said officer is proved to be innocent or the charge levelled against him is not substantiated the period he was so under suspension will be treated as though he is in regular service and the said officer shall enjoy all privileges and pay as he is normally entitled to when he is having a continuous service.' "

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" I second the amendment, Sir."

SRI K. P. GOPALAN :—" Sir, I move the following amendment standing in my name :—

' Add at the end of the clause the words " and such enquiry must be concluded within two months ".' "

SRI C. KANDASAMY :—" I second the amendment, Sir."

MR. SPEAKER :—" Clause 2 as well as the amendments are now before the House for discussion."

SRI K. P. GOPALAN :—" Sir, I have moved my amendment with a view to see that the enquiry must be conducted and concluded as early as possible. Generally it is found that these enquiries prolong for a long time. As a result of it, all sorts of influence come into play and the people concerned do not get justice. This will not help the village officers also. If an enquiry is conducted as early as possible, a village munsif or some other village officer, who is really innocent, can prove his innocence and come back to service as early as possible. So I consider this as a very important amendment and request the Hon. Minister to kindly accept the same. With these few words, I resume my seat."

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—" கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, இந்த திருத்தம் சர்க்கார் கொள்கைக்கு விரோதமானதல்ல; அவர்களுக்கு உதவிகரமாகவேதான் இருக்கும். அதாவது ஒரு கிராம அதிகாரி குற்றம் செய்தால், விசாரணை செய்யவேண்டுமென்றும், அதுவரை அவரை

14th May 1954]

[Sri S. Ramalingam]

Suspension-ல் வைக்கவேண்டுமென்றிருப்பதை 'மூன்று மாதத்திற்கு அதிகமாக வைக்கக்கூடாது' என்பதுதான் என்னுடைய திருத்தத்தின் நோக்கம்.

"அடுத்தபடியாக, குற்றம் இழைக்கவில்லை என்று அவர்கள் நிரூபிக்கப்பட்டால் Suspension-ல் இருந்த காலத்தில், அவர்கள் உத்தியோகம் பார்த்தால் எப்படி சம்பளம் அளிக்கப்படுமோ, அந்த மாதிரி கிடைக்கவேண்டுமென்பதுதான் என்னுடைய மற்றொரு திருத்தம்.

"நடைமுறையில் சட்டம் இல்லாவிட்டாலும், அவர்களை ஜில்லா கலெக்டரோ, ரெவின்யூ டிவிஷனல் ஆபீசரோ Suspend செய்து விடுகிறார்கள். ஆனால் அவர்களை Suspend செய்துவிட்டு, விசாரணை நடத்தி தீர்ப்புக் கூற காலவரையரையின்றி வருஷக்கணக்கில் Suspend செய்திருக்கிறார்கள். இம்மாதிரியாக பல கேஸ்கள் இருக்கின்றன. உதாரணமாக சில சொல்ல முடியும். ஆகவேதான் குறைந்தபட்சம் மூன்று மாதம் இருக்கவேண்டும். அதற்குமேல் இருக்கக்கூடாது என்ற இந்த திருத்தத்தைக் கொடுத்திருக்கிறேன். அதை சர்க்கார் ஒத்துக்கொள்வார்களென்று நினைக்கிறேன்."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—" Sir, in opposing all the amendments I wish to state that the Government will certainly see that the enquiry is made and concluded as early as possible. A restriction that it should be concluded within two months and all that will be very impracticable to work. There will be so many other difficulties. A person may fall ill, or purposely say that he is ill and can produce a medical certificate. So, it will lead to a lot of similar practical difficulties.

"With regard to the other amendment that punishment should not be for more than three months, I wish to state that generally the punishment will be for a short period. Even in this case, I request the hon. Member not to put any restriction. We shall see that there is reasonableness.

"With regard to the other suggestion that during the period of suspension, they must be given pay and other privileges, I only wish to state that what is being done in regard to the other services will be done in their case also. I think there will not be any particular difficulty about it."

SRI K. P. GOPALAN :—" Sir, as my intention is that the enquiry should be conducted and concluded as early as possible without delay, as that is the spirit of my amendment and as the Hon. Minister has given the assurance that he will see that the enquiry is concluded as early as possible, I withdraw my amendment."

The amendment moved by Sri K. P. Gopalan was, by leave, withdrawn.

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—" கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, கனம் மந்திரி அவர்கள் கொடுத்த வாக்குறுதியின்பேரில் என் திருத்தங்களை வாபஸ் வாங்கிக்கொள்ளுகிறேன்."

The two amendments moved by Sri S. Ramalingam were, by leave, withdrawn.

[Sri O. P. Ramaswami Reddiar] [14th May 1954]

SRI MOHAMED RAZA KHAN :—“Mr. Chairman. Sir, I thought that the very persuasive speech of my hon. Friend Sri T. M. Narayanaswami Pillai and the very eloquent speech of the Deputy Leader of the Opposition, no doubt a little bit aggressive, might have made the Hon. the Minister for Revenue think whether it was worthwhile for him to pursue this Bill or withdraw it and come out again with suitable amendments. I was hearing very carefully the speech of the Hon. the Finance Minister who thought he should help his Colleague in pointing out some of the difficulties of the Government. Now, what is the case of our Government? The Deputy Leader of the Opposition referred in this connexion to a question put in the last Assembly somewhere in 1949. It is really a sad reflection that, in spite of the fact that this has been pointed out by Member after Member in the last Assembly and Council, the Government have chosen to collect illegally a tax on tax. They did not care either to consult their legal authorities or the Board of Revenue in the matter. They thought that rightly or wrongly they might collect the tax in spite of the opposition. I was also listening to the speech of the ex-Chief Minister Sri O. P. Ramaswami Reddiar, and I may bring to his notice that he too was present when this point was raised, and when it was brought to the notice of his colleague the then Finance Minister that what was being done or what was sought to be done was illegal, the then Finance Minister, who was also in charge of sales tax, said in reply ‘If anybody is aggrieved, let him go to a Court of Law and let there be a decision’. Now the matter has been decided by the High Court. Well and good.

“The question now is whether the Government want to give effect to this decision from 1st April 1954 or whether they want to give retrospective effect. The case of the Madras Government is that it is so difficult that it may not be possible for them to see to whom the money should be paid and how it should be paid, and that it is all a very cumbersome process. For instance, on the basis of a collection of Rs. 20 crores by way of sales tax in the then composite State, it looks as if the Madras Government were making Rs. 30 to Rs. 35 lakhs by collecting this illegal tax. Now, the question is how else the matter can be settled. I asked the Hon. the Finance Minister to clarify certain points. It is said that the Government propose to accept with effect from 1st April 1954 the statement of the law made by the High Court. The tax is being paid by the various merchants either on a provisional basis or on the annual turnover. But actually the finalization of accounts is made long after. Now, I wish to know whether the Government are going to levy on the old basis or on the present basis. For instance, the merchant might have paid the tax, say, from 1st April 1953 to 31st March 1954, either on the basis of provisional assessment or on the actual turnover. But the finalization of accounts is done only after 1st April 1954. It may take five or six months and in some cases even two years. Are the Government going to adopt in this case the new principle or the old principle? That is one clarification I wanted from the Hon. the Finance Minister but, he, however, did not give it.

“My next point is this. The Hon. the Minister for Land Revenue and the Hon. the Finance Minister, were saying that all along the merchants were also collecting the tax on tax. I do not think so. I ask the Government whether they can prove even one instance. It is not fair on the part of the Government to take shelter under such pleas. It is not a pleasure either for the Deputy Leader of the Opposition or for Sri T. M. Narayanaswami Pillai to fight. They are not businessmen. It is a question of principle. The Government should always enunciate a good principle so that their successors also may follow it. Even the future Legislature will quote that this was done in the year 1954. We must set up a good precedent. The hon. Member Sri K. Bhashyam thought it fit to support the Government. I expected that his speech will be more vehement than that of even Dr. John. I was surprised how such a change has come over him.”

SRI K. BHASHYAM :—" Everything surprises the hon. Member."

SRI MOHAMED RAZA KHAN :—" Sir, it is said that things have been done in good faith, that the amount has been spent for the country and that there should not be much fuss about refund, etc. I should like to bring to the notice of the Government that many merchants in this State, particularly the hides and skins merchants, have not charged tax on inter-State business. If to-day, after a lapse of five or six years the Government ask them to pay tens of thousands of rupees as tax, they cannot afford to pay. It is not as if I am talking on their behalf. They have not collected tax for the past five or six years because the law did not permit them to collect such a tax. There have been transactions between States and States amounting to crores and crores of rupees. But if the Government say all of a sudden 'We cannot believe your good faith. You ought to have been apprised of the law and you ought to have collected the tax. Inasmuch as you have not collected, you must pay tens of thousands of rupees', would it be fair? I therefore ask the Hon. the Minister for Land Revenue whether the Government are going to adopt the same principle in respect of these merchants also. I think that there has been a good deal of agitation in the place of my hon. Friend Sri T. M. Narayanaswami Pillai, namely, Tiruchirappalli, where merchants have been harassed to the maximum extent and asked to pay tens of thousands of rupees. I do understand and appreciate the difficulties of the Government. But it would be unfair on the part of the Government to say that they would not do justice simply because there are some difficulties in the way. Where there is a will there is a way. I request the Hon. the Revenue Minister to clarify what will be the method adopted in all the final assessments which will be made for the year 1953-54 and for the previous years. There may be cases pending before the Sales Tax authorities even from 1949. Where the tax on tax amounts to Rs. 10 or Rs. 15, it would not matter because it is a small amount. But if the turnover of a firm is Rs. 4 crores to Rs. 5 crores and if the firm has paid tax on tax, it may run to thousands of rupees.

"Now I come to the point raised by my hon. Friend, Sri Gurunandan Row. Is it right on the part of the Legislature to take shelter under the plea that it would be very difficult to return the amounts already collected, irrespective of the decision of the High Court? It would not be fair on the part of the Government to take shelter under the plea of retrospective effect. At this moment, it may not be possible for me to make any direct suggestions. But it is clear that the Government have not given their best consideration to this Bill. The Government ought to have consulted their legal experts. Sometimes the legal experts do not serve them well. But the Government did not care to consult the Legal Department and they were grossly negligent in not having done so. So the best thing for the Government under the circumstances would be to take some more time, consider all these aspects, find a way out, and bring forward suitable amendments. But to pass this Bill would be setting up a very bad precedent. It is bad for any Government, whether it is the Congress Government or any other Government."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—" Sir, the difficulty which arose in this matter is, in what way the turnover should be computed, and whether a tax on tax should also go into the computation of the turnover. The Commercial Tax Department officials according to their interpretation of the law thought that the tax also could be computed in the turnover and they have been following that practice for some time. Sir, as is seen from the judgment of the High Court also, the Judges had to go elaborately into the question of what is a 'sale' and what is a 'price' and all that in order to decide whether the tax will be included in the term 'sale price.' Simply because the officials of the department interpreted it in one particular way, it should not be said they did it with any mala fide intention. Sir, we have known cases where very eminent Judges of the High Court came to certain conclusions in interpreting the law. When those cases were taken to the Privy Council, the Privy Council set aside those conclusions, interpreting the law in a different way. So, this is a matter of interpretation. Therefore, even very eminent lawyers go wrong. So, we cannot blame the officials."

DR. V. K. JOHN :—" Is the Hon. Minister suggesting that the High Court judgment is wrong? "

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—" I gave quite a separate instance where the High Court came to a particular decision and the Privy Council set it aside. That has nothing to do with the present case. It was argued on the side of the Government that this tax paid on tax should be included in the cost price. But the High Court came to a different conclusion and said that the tax could not go into the contents of the price and so it must be excluded. We have accepted that decision and we have given effect to that as far as practicable. We are giving effect to it from 1st April 1954. But logically it must be given effect to from earlier than 1st April 1954 also. But, as I said there are certain practical difficulties and administrative difficulties upsetting the budgetary position. All these considerations weighed with the Government and that is why we could not give effect to the High Court's decision earlier than 1st April 1954. I now come across another difficulty also. We were then in the composite State, but now partition has taken place. Andhra merchants were also there, and so there will be further difficulty in dividing the collections. That is why we are unable to give effect to the judgment of the High Court retrospectively. But we are taking every precaution to see that from 1st April 1954 the decision of the High Court is given effect to. As far as collections are concerned, the tax had already been included in the turnover and assessment would also be made on the same basis for the previous period, i.e., before 1st April 1954. Suppose we make a distinction between the collections made and the assessments, then the hon. Member, Sri Gurunandan Row, will say that it is discrimination and is against Constitution. Therefore, we cannot make a distinction between collections made and assessments and we are forced to take the assessment made before 1st April 1954 also on the old basis."

SRI V. V. RAMASWAMI :—"வியாபாரிகளிடமிருந்து இப்படி அதிகரிப்பதாக வசூலிக்கப்பட்ட தொகை எவ்வளவு என்பதை கனம் மந்திரி அவர்கள் தெரிவிப்பார்களா?"

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—"The amount that had been additionally collected would come to about Rs. 20 lakhs to Rs. 25 lakhs roughly.

"The other legal implications have been very ably put forth before the House by my Hon. Colleague, the Finance Minister, and the veteran lawyer, my hon. Friend, Sri K. Bhashyam. I have become an outmoded lawyer not having been in active touch with the practice of law. So, as regards law I cannot speak with so much enthusiasm as others do because I have to brush up my knowledge of law and which, for the purpose of this Bill, I am brushing up now and then. I am very grateful to them for having clarified the situation and made the position clear. There is nothing unconstitutional or unjust in it. Government are doing this with the best of motives and as the hon. Member, Sri Bhashyam, has said, we must take into account the difficulties of the Government also.

"One word more, Sir, with regard to my hon. Friend, Sri Ramaswami Reddiar, our ex-Chief Minister. He has taken a most commonsense point of view. We all forgot about it. He said that after all the money really belonged to the consumer because it is he who paid it. We have never taken that into consideration at all and we have all along been talking only about merchants, turnover and so on. As is rightly pointed out, it is the consumer that has been greatly affected by it and not the dealer. Taking all these into consideration, Sir, it is better that we pass this Bill as framed by the Government."

MR. CHAIRMAN :—"The question is—

'That the Madras General Sales Tax (Definition of Turnover and Validation of Assessments) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 19 of 1954), as passed by the Assembly, be taken into consideration.'

The motion was carried and the Bill was taken into consideration.

Clauses 2 and 3.

MR. CHAIRMAN :—"The motion is—

'That clauses 2 and 3 do stand part of the Bill.'

14th May 1954]

SRI V. GURUNANDAN ROW :—"Sir, I move the amendment standing in my name, viz.,—

'For the existing clauses 2 and 3, substitute the following as clause 2 :—

"No assessment or collection or order made and no action taken by any Officer, and no judgment, decree, or order pronounced by any Tribunal or Court, in exercise of the powers under the Madras General Sales Tax Act, 1939 (Madras Act IX of 1939) (hereinafter referred to as the principal Act), before the 1st April 1954, shall be called in question in any Court, Tribunal or before any authority after the commencement of this Act on the ground only that any amounts collected by any dealer registered under the provisions of the principal Act and the rules made thereunder by way of tax has been included in his turnover."

SRI MOHAMED RAZA KHAN :—"I second the amendment."

MR. CHAIRMAN :—"Is the hon. Member Sri K. Bhashyam moving his amendment?"

SRI K. BHASHYAM :—"After all there are three amendments. It is better that my friends agree with me in any manner."

DR. V. K. JOHN :—"May I know, Sir, why the hon. Member is developing cold feet?"

SRI K. BHASHYAM :—"I do not bother about it. If the hon. Member goes on insulting me just as he insults the Government, I cannot take it lying down.

"I am moving the amendment standing in my name, viz.,—
'For the existing clauses 2 and 3, substitute the following as clause 2 :—

"All collections made before the 1st April 1954 under any assessment, order, judgment, decree, order pronounced by any Tribunal or Court shall be deemed valid, notwithstanding that such assessment, judgment, decree or order proceeded on the basis that the collection made by a registered dealer by way of tax under the principal Act formed part of the turnover of the dealer."

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR :—"I second the amendment."

MR. CHAIRMAN :—"The amendments are before the House for discussion."

SRI V. GURUNANDAN ROW :—"Sir, the main reason for my amendment is that clauses 2 and 3, as they are at present in the Bill, are, as I have already stated, so wide in their scope that even in assessments for 1953-54, which are not yet completed but which may be completed in 1954-55, the tax can be included as one coming within the meaning of turnover. That is, the Government give two definitions for the word 'turnover', namely, one definition applicable to assessments for the year 1953-54 and another definition applicable to assessments for the subsequent years. The officers will have to apply two different definitions to two different periods, i.e., one for the year before the 1st April 1954 and the other for the year from 1st April 1954. I cannot understand how the officers can apply two definitions at the same time. Therefore, I say that all this verbal jugglery of making a definition with retrospective effect is absolutely unnecessary. The only way to avoid this confusion is to accept my amendment. No assessment made already against the person before 1st April 1954 shall be called in question after the commencement of this Act. This means the persons whose cases are pending disposal by the appellate courts will be entitled to have a decision in their favour. The question is that a claim should not arise after the commencement of this Act. The acceptance of my amendment will solve the question of there being any unconstitutionality about the matter, and also bringing in two definitions, one applicable to the period before 1st April 1954 and the other applicable to the period after 1st April 1954. I cannot understand how the authorities will apply these two definitions at the same time. There can be only one of two definitions about turnover. My submission therefore is that my amendment will make the position clear. If a person has not gone to a court or tribunal in the matter before the commencement of this Act, he cannot do so after the commencement of this Act. Any person who was not vigilant enough to go to court within the prescribed time, cannot claim any refund after the commencement of the Act. The officers cannot make any differentiation regarding these two definitions. Because there is the High Court judgment all people cannot apply for refund as they were not vigilant enough to go to appellate authorities earlier, i.e., before the commencement of the Act. Nobody will be in a position to file a suit now. I think this is the just thing to do, and, I therefore, request hon. Members to accept my amendment."

SRI MOHAMED RAZA KHAN:—"While supporting the amendment of the hon. Member, Sri Gurusundaram Row, I may say, Sir, that I did not anticipate this difficulty and bring it to the notice of the Hon. the Revenue Minister. There are three sets of people whom we have got to consider. The first set are people who have paid, and in whose case it is difficult to refund. The second set are people whose cases are pending court decision. The third set of people are those whose cases are spread over the years of 1947-48, 1948-49, 1950-51, etc. The assessments for these years are not yet complete. When the Government say that this Act will come into force from 1st April 1954, the officers will not have to include the tax as one coming within the turnover for assessments for the year 1954-55 and later years. In the case of earlier assessments, which will be complete only in 1954-55, the officers will have to include the tax in the turnover. That is to say, the Government will be levying a tax on tax collected in the years 1954-55. I say that all assessments made after 1st April 1954 in respect of years previous to 1954-55 must not include the tax within the meaning of turnover. Otherwise the position will become very anomalous. All the dealers who have collected tax will be sending the returns only now, and the officers will be assessing them to tax only now. Although the Government say that this Act will come into force from 1st April 1954, still they will be making assessments for the year 1953-54 only in 1954-55, and they will include this tax in the turnover. The Government should say that all assessments made in 1954-55 should not include the tax collected by the dealers. (Interruption.) As an illustration, I say that if my business for the last year is Rs. 5 lakhs, the Government will now be assessing me on Rs. 5 lakhs plus the tax I have collected. The Government may consult their departments and bring in suitable amendments to remove this anomaly."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"Sir, as a piece of able drafting no doubt the hon. Member, who is an able lawyer, has made his amendment short and smart. I do not know what pitfalls there will be in his amendment. So I do not want to disturb the framework of my Bill. The idea is to give effect to the court's decision in respect of assessments from the year 1954-55. Hon. Members opposite concede that assessments in respect of previous years will be made on the old basis. Otherwise there will be discrimination between two sets of merchants, one from whom we have collected and another from whom we have not. Hereafter, i.e., from 1954-55 'turnover' will not include the tax collected by the merchants."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"The question is—

"For the existing clauses 2 and 3, substitute the following as clause 2:—

"No assessment or collection or order made and no action taken by any officer, and no judgment, decree, or order pronounced by any Tribunal or Court, in exercise of the powers under the Madras General Sales Tax Act, 1939 (Madras Act IX of 1939), thereafter referred to as the principal Act, before the 1st April 1954, shall be called in question in any Court, Tribunal or before any authority after the commencement of this Act on the ground only that any amounts collected by any dealer registered under the provisions of the principal Act and the rules made thereunder by way of tax has been included in his turnover." "

The amendment was lost.

SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"Sir, there is plenty of confusion in respect of this matter at least in the mind of the Government. That is what I think. There are two points to consider about the duty of the Government when they find that they have been in the wrong. One is to accept the decision of the High Court in good spirit and act up to it strictly, logically and to the fullest extent possible. I use the word 'possible'. Why I say 'possible' is that they should not make further mistakes, but should correct only those mistakes which they have committed already. That is the proper position for them to take. If they take any other position, they will have to justify it before the bar of public opinion. Government will have to say 'in spite of the fact that the High Court has said it is wrong, and even though we accept the judgment of the High Court, still we will persist in our own folly and go on collecting the amount in the same old way as we have been doing before'. This is a thing which the Government will find hard to justify when the matter is taken to the Court. I would like hon. Members of this House to go through clause 3 carefully and note the words used in that clause. The clause reads thus: 'All assessments and collections made, all orders passed, and all action taken by any officer in the exercise or purported exercise of jurisdiction or powers conferred by the principal Act and all judgments, decrees or orders pronounced by any Tribunal or Court in the exercise of its jurisdiction or powers with respect to matters in the principal Act, on the basis that amounts collected by a dealer by way of tax under the principal Act before the 1st April 1954, formed part of the turnover of the dealer are hereby declared to have been validly made, passed, taken or pronounced, as the case may be; and any finding recorded by any officer, Tribunal or Court to a contrary effect and any order, judgment or decree in so far as such order, judgment or decree embodies or is based on any such finding and does not relate merely to the costs of the proceeding which resulted in the judgment, decree or order, shall be void and of no effect'. What does this mean? The Government set at naught the High Court judgment altogether. The person who went to Court got a decree in his favour declaring that the assessment made by the Government was wrong. That High Court judgment is said to be void and it shall have no effect. That is what it comes to. With all due deference to the Government, I should think they should not have gone to the extent they have gone in this case. Is it their object to set at naught the judgment of the High Court which said that the action of the Government in including sales tax in turnover was wrong? I think not. The only excuse for the Government in not returning the money illegally collected is that they do not have that money in their pocket, and that they have spent it away. The Government are therefore not able to pay it back. Secondly, if it is to be paid back, to whom is it to be paid? That is a difficult matter. It may be easy in some cases but it will be difficult in most cases. The Government do not want to make a distinction between these persons. So they have decided not to return the money collected to anybody. That is the proper position to take. But to say further that any assessment made hereafter, any judgment delivered hereafter, any proceeding pending in courts today, and any decree to be passed hereafter shall be bound by this clause, which says that turnover shall include sales tax, is not proper. Suppose a matter is pending before the Tribunal. What will the Tribunal say? It will say: 'In our conscience we think that the tax should not be included in the turnover'. But the Bill will say that that judgment is wrong and shall be null and void. This is a thing which I cannot understand. It is most improper for any Government to do. Therefore, I feel very strongly that the clause as it stands goes far beyond what is proper, and should not be rushed through. There may be difficulties in administration, but we must do things honestly and properly. So, I would like the Government to reconsider the matter and come to a definite conclusion. I would even suggest that we may adjourn now so that Government may consider the position and come to a decision in respect of this matter. Of course I make this suggestion only if the Hon. Minister is convinced about my point. If he is not convinced to-day; I do not know how he is going to be convinced tomorrow. I would like the Hon. Minister to consider the enormity of the consequences that may ensue by such an enactment as this. I implore him, I beg of him, and I request him not to hesitate to take this course. My amendment is a simple one and makes the position clear. It is slightly different from the amendment given notice of by the hon. Member Sri Balasubramanya Ayyar, but it is almost the same thing. My amendment reads thus: 'All collections made before the 1st April 1954, under any assessment, order, judgment, decree, order pronounced by any Tribunal or Court shall be deemed valid, notwithstanding that such assessment, judgment, decree or order proceeded on the basis that the collection made by a registered dealer by way of tax under the Principal Act formed part of the turnover of the dealer'. This carries out all that the Government have in view as stated in the Statement of Objects and Reasons. The Statement of Objects and Reasons itself says that the Government want to respect the High Court judgment. My amendment will carry out the object of the Government fully and it is the proper thing to do."

[Sri K. Bhashyam] [14th May 1954]

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, I have agreed to support the amendment of the hon. Member Sri K. Bhashyam and not to press my amendment. The point is very simple and I take my stand on the commonsense point of view as was mentioned by the hon. Member Sri O. P. Ramaswami Reddiar. The amount collected by the Government has been declared to be wrong by the High Court. So long as there is no appellate court judgment differing from this judgment, the judgment of the High Court declares the law in respect of this matter from the beginning. That is a well-accepted principle of law. Therefore, let us not say that collection to be made in future including the tax in the turnover will also be valid. We shall confine ourselves to the actual collections which have already been made and leave the rest out of consideration, because the High Court has said that it is irregular. I say, Sir, Government have been well advised in accepting the law. Government have done magnanimously well in saying that they will not levy a tax on tax after 1st April 1954. The collections made already have been held invalid by the High Court and unfortunately as was pointed out by the hon. Member Sri O. P. Ramasami Reddiar the money has been spent and the Government are not going to refund the money to the persons who paid them. Therefore the money is held by the Government (and the Government are the Government of the people) and therefore let them have it for the benefit of the people. (An hon. Member: 'It has already been spent.') That has been spent for the benefit of the people by the Government. My submission is, let us confine ourselves to the legal position. Let all collections made in pursuance of orders, judgments or decrees that have already been made stand. That is the simple commonsense point of view."

DR. V. K. JOHN :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, I want to say only a word more in regard to the amendment of the hon. Member Sri K. Bhashyam. I am quite sure I can take a bet with anybody that this Bill when passed into law will be declared ultra vires of this Legislature by our Courts. As I am quite sure of that I would welcome the amendment brought in by the hon. Member Sri K. Bhashyam. I am glad that he has come forward with this amendment. Eminent lawyer and draftsman as he is, he has drafted something which is simple and understandable and at the same time meets our objective to some extent. It also takes up the position that we are not attacking the judgments of Courts. Now, I am only wondering whether the Hon. the Minister in charge will be so obstinate as not to accept the amendment. If anybody reads the clause, he will find that it is perhaps the most ill-drafted clause which has come before this House. Instead of this clumsy clause the hon. Member Sri K. Bhashyam has given us a very short draft. I find that it is very embarrassing for an eminent lawyer like the hon. Member Sri K. Bhashyam to be a member of the Congress Party. He has felt it his duty to correct the clause and he has boldly come forward with his amendment. I appeal to this Government not to be obstinate but to accept his amendment. Let them take some time as the Mover of the amendment has suggested and prove at least in one instance they are not obstinate. Let not the Hon. Minister get up and say that the Government do not accept the amendment although it has been moved by one of their own partymen eminent as he is as a lawyer and draftsman."

SRI S. NARSAPAYYA :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, I beg to oppose this amendment though it has been moved by a Member from this side of the House. Let it not be thought that the Government will accept the amendment because of the encomiums paid by the hon. the Deputy Leader of the Opposition to the hon. Member Sri K. Bhashyam. I am in perfect agreement with the view that it was done with a motive. (Interruption.) As the Hon. the Minister for Land Revenue says the hon. Member Dr. V. K. John has paid encomiums to the hon. Member Sri K. Bhashyam not because the amendment has come from him but because it suits the hon. Member Dr. V. K. John to do so.

"Now, the position of the Government has been made very clear both by the Hon. the Minister for Land Revenue and by the Hon. the Minister for Finance. The question is that so far as the assessments for the period up to 1st April 1954 are concerned, the Government want that the turnover must include the tax collected, and in deference to the judgment of the High Court, after the 1st April 1954, the turnover must not include the tax collected. There is absolutely no disrespect meant either to the Appellate Tribunal or to any judgment of the High Court. The Hon. the Minister for Finance has made absolutely clear the basis of the judgment, namely, that as the law stands at present the definition of turnover does not include any tax that might have been collected by a registered dealer, and he has also stated that this House is quite competent to amend the definition or turnover to include the tax collected up to 1st April 1954. The main criterion or the main point that divides the two, namely, the definition according to law as laid down by the High Court and the definition now provided for in this Bill, is the crucial date, 1st April 1954. According to the Bill, on tax payable up to 1st April 1954 the turnover will include the tax collected by the dealer and after the 1st April 1954 the tax collected will not be included in the turnover. So far as this provision is concerned, I would only invite the attention of this House to the anomaly we would have to face if the amendment is accepted. There are cases where the merchants or the dealers have been regularly paying the tax as assessed by the Government. There are others who have been putting obstacles at every stage, who have not paid regularly and who have been going to Tribunals and Courts engaging eminent lawyers like the hon. Member Dr. V. K. John, contending against every order of the assessing authority or the Tribunal or even against the judgments of the High Court. We would only be putting a premium on these recalcitrant assesseees who have not been paying regularly and, on the other hand, we would be levying a fine on those who have been paying regularly by not returning the tax on tax that had been collected. This sort of distinction between those who have been regularly paying and those who have not been regularly paying is certainly not correct, and the Government are perfectly right in stating that the turnover up to 1st April 1954, shall include the tax collected, that is, whoever has collected the tax, whether he has been paying the tax regularly or whether he has been putting obstacles at every stage and has been able to put off paying the tax up to now, his turnover shall include the tax collected.

"I would also invite the attention of the House to the fact that we have rejected the amendment moved by the hon. Member

[Sri S. Narsapayya] [14th May 1954]

Sri V. Gurunandan Row which goes much further than the hon. Member Sri K. Bhashyam's amendment. His amendment was to the effect that no assessment or collection or order made and no action taken by an officer and no judgment, decree or order pronounced by any Tribunal or Court before the 1st April 1954 shall be questioned. After rejecting this amendment that even the assessments made prior to 1st April 1954 should not be questioned, how are we to accept the amendment moved by the hon. Member Sri K. Bhashyam? It is not correct to say that we are going against the judgment of the High Court by saying that the turnover for purposes of assessment shall include the tax collected up to 1st April 1954. I therefore beg to oppose the amendment."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, I am not able to accept the amendment even though it has been moved by an hon. Member sitting behind me. The position has been clearly explained by the last speaker, the hon. Member Sri S. Narsapayya, who is also a lawyer and probably my hon. Friend Dr. V. K. John may not shower any encomiums on him, at any rate, on this occasion. The Government have accepted the principle enunciated by the High Court and we are giving effect to it from the 1st April 1954. Hon. Members who oppose the Bill say that because the Government expressed some difficulties in regard to refund they have no objection to the validating of such assessments where the amounts have been collected, but they want the Government not to validate those assessments made for the period ending 31st March 1954 if the amounts have not been collected because the difficulty regarding refund does not arise in their case. There are some administrative difficulties here also. The judgment was actually pronounced in January 1954 and the Government did not want to break the financial year which ended by the 31st of March. Administrative convenience requires that the financial year should not be split. I do not think that any great hardship will be caused by this. I have therefore to oppose this amendment."

SRI K. BHASHYAM :—" Sir, I would like to point out as a final appeal to the Government that I have taken upon myself a very big responsibility in moving an amendment like this against a Government measure. I did it with full responsibility because I felt that the Government would be stultifying itself if it really persisted in the way it is doing. I did it for the sake of the credit of the Government and not as a step against it. I want to make this clear on the floor of this House."

" My hon. Friend, Sri S. Narsapayya, who defended the measure made out a very good point which I would like to answer. He has said that, if the amendment is to be accepted, persons who have been regularly paying their assessments will be penalised while persons who have not been paying regularly and have been persistently defaulting either because they have no money or for some other reason, will get the benefit of it. It is no doubt a very good point. Now let us see what we have been doing all these years in respect of prior legislations. In the case of arrears of rent, the tenants who had been paying rent regularly were penalised, but persons who were persistently making default got the benefit. Similarly, under the Agriculturists' Relief Act, all interest was wiped out. Persons who were paying interest regularly were penalised. Therefore, this is the effect of legislation in respect of things which go against nature. So, when we go against nature, we have to do some injustice somewhere or other. There are always bound to be hard cases. The least injustice that we can do is to say that those who have not paid may get the benefit. There is also another point. If an assessment has been made already, whether the person has paid it or not, the assessment is there. In such cases also the assessee is penalised.

" One more point, Sir, and I have done. Even the return of the amount can be only under the provisions of the Act, that is to say, persons who object to the assessment must have preferred appeals to the Commissioner within 30 days or to the Appellate Tribunal within sixty days or to the High Court within the prescribed time. That is the only way in which the assessment is going to be impeached. Such cases may not be very many. Therefore, if my amendment is accepted, the question of returning a large amount of money may not arise. Persons who really want refund of the money will be only very few because most of them might not have preferred appeals in time. The matter is closed in their case. Even from the administrative point of view, the Government need not hesitate to accept my amendment, because the cases of return will be fairly few."

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" I shall now put the amendment of the hon. Member Sri K. Bhashyam to the vote of the House. The question is—

" For the existing clauses 2 and 3, substitute the following as clause 2 :—

" All collections made before the 1st April 1954 under any assessment, order, judgment, decree, order pronounced by any Tribunal or Court shall be deemed valid, notwithstanding that such assessment, judgment, decree or order proceeded on the basis that the collection made by a registered dealer by way of tax under the principal Act formed part of the turnover of the dealer." at the conclusion of the consideration of the Bill, object to a motion being made at the same sitting for its being passed. Thereupon, the Chairman shall, unless he again that the Government should reconsider the matter and see that this Bill is not passed.”

Bill. If still the Government persist in doing things in their own way we will only say that it is Government's responsibility and that

THE MADRAS GENERAL SALES TAX (SECOND AMENDMENT)
BILL, 1954 (L.A. BILL NO. 20 OF 1954).

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, I beg to move—

' That the Madras General Sales Tax (Second Amendment) Bill ^a, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 20 of 1954), as passed by the Assembly, be taken into consideration.'

Sir, this Bill is intended to levy an extra tax on mill cloth of a certain variety at one anna three pies at the first point. It also provides for an extra tax of six pies on precious stones only. This has got a taxation value. Also incidentally this Bill will effectively encourage the sales of handloom cloth."

[Sri M. A. Manickavelu Naicker] [15th May 1954]

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" Motion moved—

' That the Madras General Sales Tax (Second Amendment) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 20 of 1954), as passed by the Assembly, be taken into consideration.' "

DR. V. K. JOHN :—" Sir, I would very earnestly request the Government not to impose a fresh sales tax on mill goods in addition to the sales tax already levied. First of all, let me say, Sir (as I already said in my budget speech), that sales tax is a measure of regressive taxation. The regressive sales tax hits the poor hard. The poor are hit hard by various items of tax, cost of transport, etc. Therefore I would suggest that this additional sales tax on mill cloth should not be imposed. Sir, the effect of this tax would be to kill the mill industry in our State. Even now we are importing every month into our State 8,000 bales of mill cloth to the value of Rs. 12 crores. We should help the mill industry and see that we are self-sufficient in cloth so that we do not import cloth from outside. But if we levy this additional sales tax, what will happen is that the textile business will go out of our State. The consumption of mill cloth will be less, and, therefore, production of mill cloth also will be less. We have invested Rs. 104 crores in this textile business, and about 7.43 lakhs of labourers are employed in the mills. If the mill industry is not carried on well, not only will we have to import mill cloth from outside, but we will be hitting hard the poor people employed as labourers. Therefore, instead of increasing the volume of mill business which will make this State self-sufficient in mill cloth, we will be ruining the mill business. (Interruption by the Hon. Sri C. Subramaniam.) The mill goods were controlled once with the object of securing them to the consuming public at reasonable rates. Since then excise duties have been imposed. Recently an excise duty of Rs. 6 crores has been imposed by the Government of India for the sake of protecting the handloom weavers. The result is that the prices of mill cloth, have already gone up by 25 per cent over the prices obtaining in 1943, when control was imposed on mill goods. The price of mill cloth will go up very much more by the imposition of this tax of Re. 0-1-3 in the rupee. I say this increase Re. 0-1-3 in the rupee is very rigorous. Even if the Government wanted to impose a tax on mill cloth they should have imposed very much less. No particulars have been given by the Hon. Minister regarding the revenue that is expected to be raised by passing this Bill. According to the Budget Estimates, we are deficit only by about Rs. 58 lakhs. It has been suggested both in this House and in the other House that we need not impose any further tax to meet this deficit. What the Government should have done is to have gone into the expenditure which has risen up in recent years and cut it down to the extent of at least Rs. 58 lakhs to make up the deficit in the budget instead of imposing new taxes.

15th May 1954] [Dr. V. K. John]

" Sir, this is a regressive measure of taxation which will hit the poor, which will affect prejudicially the mill industry in the State, and which will effect the labourers, the consumers and also the people who have invested money on the mill industry. Already the revenue from sales tax is coming down, and I am quite sure, if the Government impoverish the poor people still further by the imposition of this tax the result will be that this State will become the poorest in the whole of India. The neighbouring States have not imposed this kind of tax. Therefore the result of this tax will be that the business in this State will be diverted to other neighbouring States. The wholesalers will be ruined and the retailers will go and buy elsewhere. I do not think the Government have investigated the dire consequences that will ensue all round by the introduction of this measure of taxation.

" Sir, I have always held the view that sales tax ought to have been a Central subject and it should have been introduced by the Centre in all the States, in the same form and in the same measure. Now we are adding to the tax on mill cloth and the result would be that the business in mill cloth will go outside this State. I therefore suggest that the Government should think twice before introducing this additional sales tax on mill cloth. It is stated that only the rich people will suffer if superfine cloth is taxed. I say it is a mistaken impression because there are varieties of superfine cloth which cost only about ten annas a yard and poor people also buy such varieties. I do not think the Government have investigated the consequences of this measure. If they had only investigated them they would not have introduced this measure.

" I must say one thing more. Government do not seem to take note of the State-wide agitation not only from consumers but also from merchants and others against the imposition of this tax. Government seem to ignore absolutely public opinion in this matter. Though it is not for me to say it, I must tell the Government that if the Congress Party Members go again before the electorate, they will find the whole body of people against them, the consumers of cloth, the sellers of cloth and all others. It is for the leaders of the Congress Party to consider this aspect also. But I feel, Sir, that there is very great public discontent in regard to the imposition of this additional tax on cloth. I would therefore request the Government in all humility and with as much strength as I can command not to resort to this regressive form of taxation any more and not to add to it further. It is high time they revised the sales tax structure. As I have said very often on the floor of this House, it is not a sales tax at all; it is not even a purchase tax. It is a concealed tax and if a person analyses his expenditure, he will find that about Rs. 50 out of Rs. 100 which he gets by way of income is paid away to the Government as tax. A major portion of it is paid away as sales tax and the other portion by way of tax on petrol and other things. It is a regressive form of taxation. The principle of progressive taxation is that a person getting a small income must not be made to pay anything by way of tax, direct or indirect. That is

L.A. BILL No. 23 OF 1953.

A Bill further to amend the Madras Preservation of Private Forests Act, 1949.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Madras Preservation of Private Forests Act, 1949 (Madras Act XXVII of 1949), for the purposes hereinafter appearing; it is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Madras Preservation of Private Forests (Second Amendment) Act, 1954.

2. Amendment of section 1 . . . Madras Act XXVII of 1949.—In section 1, sub-section (2), of the Madras Preservation of Private Forests Act, 1949 (Madras Act XXVII of 1949) (hereinafter referred to as the principal Act),—

(a) in clause (i), the words “and owned by a single person or by more than one person jointly” shall be omitted; and the following Explanation shall be added at the end, namely:—

“Explanation.—Nothing in this clause shall be deemed to apply to any land which was brought under fugitive or other cultivation prior to the 14th December 1949 by an owner or any person claiming under him”;

(b) the following explanation shall be added at the end, namely:—

“Explanation.—A private forest exceeding 100 acres in extent shall not cease to be such by reason only of the fact that, in a portion thereof, trees or shrubs are felled with or without the permission of the District Collector, or lands are cultivated, or rocks, roads, tanks, rivers or the like exist; nor shall the area of such forest cease to be contiguous by reason only of the existence of all or any of the aforesaid circumstances.”

[14th May 1954]

3. Amendment of section 3 of principal Act.—In section 3, sub-section (1), of the principal Act, for clause (b), the following clause shall be substituted, namely:—

“(b) Any alienation in contravention of clause (a) shall be null and void—

(i) if the alienation is of any forest declared by the State Government to be a forest under clause (iii) of section 1 (2) or of any portion of such a forest, and is made on or after the date on which the declaration takes effect;

(ii) if the alienation is of any forest in the districts of Malabar and South Kanara having a contiguous area exceeding 100 acres [not being a forest owned by a single person or by more than one person jointly before the commencement of the Madras Preservation of Private Forests (Second Amendment) Act, 1954], or of any portion of such a forest, and is made on or after the 24th June 1953;

(iii) if the alienation is of any other forest or of any portion of such a forest, and is made on or after the 16th August 1946.”

4. Amendment of section 5 of principal Act.—In section 5 of the principal Act, to sub-section (1), the following Explanation shall be added, namely:—

“Explanation.—Sub-section (1) shall be construed—

(a) in the case of any private forest declared by the State Government to be a forest under clause (iii) of section 1 (2), as if for the words ‘which may be instituted after such commencement’ occurring in that sub-section, the words, brackets and figures ‘which are pending on, or may be instituted after, the date on which the declaration under clause (iii) of section 1 (2) takes effect’ had been substituted; and

(b) in the case of any private forest in the districts of Malabar and South Kanara having a contiguous area exceeding 100 acres [not being a forest owned by a single person or by more than one person jointly before the commencement of the Madras Preservation of Private Forests (Second Amendment) Act, 1954], as if for the words ‘which may be instituted after such commencement’ occurring in that sub-section, the words, brackets and figures ‘which are pending on, or may be instituted after, the commencement of the Madras Preservation of Private Forests (Second Amendment) Act, 1954’ had been substituted.”

Secretary to the State Legislature.

[Dr. V. K. John]

why in the case of income tax, if a person gets only an income of Rs. 300 he need not pay income tax at all because he cannot bear the burden of the tax. But in sales tax you will find that the person getting a hundred rupees is paying fifty rupees as tax while purchasing materials. This is too much of a burden that can be placed on a poor man. He cannot bear it. Our State has been impoverished by the imposition of the sales tax. The Government seem not to take note of the bad effects of the regressive taxation and the impoverishment of the people. But they in their career—I won't say mad career—are intent upon adding to the regressive form of taxation. This I say is not in the interest of the State. This is not in the interest of the Government also. The consequences are that the revenue will go down as it has already gone down. It is not in the interest of the people, and it is not in the interest of the Government. Government should pay their particular attention to the evil effects of this tax. I submit again that the Government should go into the matter and should not introduce Bills which will impose regressive taxes on the poor people from time to time."

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, before I speak on the Bill I have got a complaint to make against the Treasury Bench for having snatched away the hon. Member Sri T. Purushotham from this side to their side. He was very active during question time and I hope he will continue to be active even after he has gone over to the other side.

" Now, Mr. Chairman, I oppose all taxation measures. Even the other day I opposed the taxation measure brought in by Government. I do so because I find that there has been no attempt at effecting retrenchment in Government expenditure. But as far as this Bill is concerned, I am going to support it and welcome it. The reason is this. We who had followed the Father of our Nation during the struggle for freedom, had been dreaming that this Government, which is in the hands of the disciples of Gandhiji, would encourage the cottage industries entirely and would allow no mill industry to compete with the cottage industry because we believed that the economic salvation of the country, the rural development of this country, the salvation of the millions of poor people of this country lay really in the encouragement of the cottage industries. This is the lesson that we have learnt at the feet of the Father of our Nation. It had been a sorrowful picture to us that during the seven years of Congress rule in this State and in the Centre, cottage industries were neglected and industrialisation was encouraged with the result that the beggar problem has increased, and the unemployment problem has increased by leaps and bounds. I can say with authority that the unemployment problem and the beggar problem have increased more than what they were during the British period. Even my unfortunate district of Malabar which cannot meet its own needs of food is invaded by swarms of Tamilian beggars coming from the Tamil districts—people who were engaged in the handloom industry. These people could not make both ends meet. This is the condition to which we have reduced ourselves.

" However, Sir, there is a gleam of hope when we see that this Government have after all decided to tax the mill cloth so that that amount may be utilized for encouraging the handloom weavers and the handloom industry. Really I am not saying anything in anticipation, Sir, but suppose I were a Dictator for a short period in this State . . . "

SRI MOHAMED RAZA KHAN :—" God forbid."

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON :—" God forbid, because people like the hon. Member Sri Raza Khan will not be able to prevent it. I am not likely to become a Dictator anywhere in the near future. But if I were to become one I would close the mill industry and encourage the handloom industry and the cottage industries so that the millions of the rural population will be saved from poverty and unemployment. I know also the danger involved in it. Persons like the hon. Member Sri Raza Khan will try to overthrow such a Government.

" Mr. Chairman, what has been our experience? When the distinguished leader, Sri T. Prakasam, as Chief Minister of our State, tried to stop the import of spindles, his Ministry was thrown out. Then the great and distinguished leader, Sri C. Rajagopalachari, wanted that the entire production of saris and dhotis should be reserved for the handloom. He is also out of office now. I do not know what will be the fate of the present Chief Minister who has brought forward these taxation measures. Whenever there has been an attempt to follow in the footsteps of the great Mahatma and to encourage the handloom industry at the expense of the mill industry that Ministry has gone out of office—thanks to Sri Mohamed Raza Khan and other friends who believe in other ideologies.

" I would suggest that the entire amount collected under this tax must be utilized only for encouraging the handloom industry. The Hon. Minister concerned must have it earmarked for the handloom industry and, if it is not possible to do so under the statute, the Ministry must at least bear it in mind, namely, that the amount got by way of this taxation measure must be kept separate for the encouragement of the handloom industry.

" Another difficulty in this regard is that the Government entrust the encouragement of cottage industries to officials. How could we expect cottage industries to flourish when they are put in charge of persons who do not believe in these ideals? I have seen Deputy Registrars of Co-operative Societies selling handloom cloth while they themselves are adorned in mill and foreign cloth. I have also seen Deputy Tahsildars in charge of Government Khadi Depots attempting to sell Khadi while they themselves are dressed in foreign cloth. How could these people act as proper advertisement agents for these industries? The Government must take courage in both their hands and put the handloom industry and the cottage industries in charge of persons who believe in such industries. In the days of the freedom struggle we had millions of young men and women who went to jail for the sake of cottage industries and swadeshi. Can we not find some young men now, give them some money and make them work these schemes?

"How is this money to be utilized for the encouragement of the handloom industry? The poor weavers find it very difficult to get yarn. This money may first of all be utilized as a sort of subsidy to them so that they could get yarn at a cheaper rate and thus compete with the mill industry. I am glad that the Government have taken a step in the right direction and that they will go forward step by step until this State's requirements of cloth are met from the handloom industry or from the khadi industry. I hope, Sir, that the present Ministry will see that such a state of affairs is soon achieved.

"I have no objection to the present Ministry calling themselves a Congress Ministry even though I see on the Treasury Bench some non-Congressmen. I do not know how far they are entitled to call this a Congress Ministry but my complaint is that as long as they call themselves Congressmen and believe in the ideology of the Congress, not after 1947 but before 1947, they need not drag in the mighty and glorious name of Mahatma Gandhi. If they really believe in the Congress ideology, I hope this Government will by a series of legislations encourage khadi and cottage industries and see to it that the production of mill cloth is done away with."

SRI MOHAMED RAZA KHAN :—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, I know that it is a very difficult job that the Hon. the Minister for Land Revenue is performing for the last seven or eight days coming forward with one legislation after another attempting to increase taxation. I really wonder whether he himself feels happy over what he is doing. I have got every sympathy for him because I find that he is the unfortunate victim of circumstances.

"With regard to this Bill, if the Budget debate is to have any meaning or value and, if the Hon. the Minister for Finance, takes the sense of the House—I am sorry if I am misinterpreting it—he will see that most of the hon. Members who spoke were against this taxation measure. Even some members of the Congress Party were against it. The consensus of opinion is that hon. Members are opposed to this kind of taxation. If I remember aright, the Hon. the Minister for Finance and the then Chief Minister, Sri C. Rajagopalachari, made it definite on the floor of this House and in the other House that this measure was not for the purpose of augmenting the revenues of the State and that it was intended only to find a way out for giving proper protection and relief to the handloom industry. Subject to correction, I think that this was the categorical statement made by the Hon. the Minister for Finance. I do distinctly remember that the case of the Government and the then Chief Minister and the Finance Minister (who fortunately continues in his office), was that this was not a taxation measure intended to augment the revenues of the State. Therefore, Sir, while the Hon. the Finance Minister was replying to the debate, a definite question was put to him whether, if at any time the Government of India decided to give protection to the handloom industry, this Government would put off this tax as there would be no necessity for it then. If the Government do make any declaration, they should stand by it. But, what we find is that so soon after the Budget Debate the Government have come forward with this Bill stating that it is for the purpose of augmenting the revenues of this State.

"I was really surprised to find that the Government of Madras were going to increase the Sales Tax on cloth from 3 pies to 1 anna 3 pies, an increase of 500 per cent, though it be that it is to be levied only at one point. I therefore think that in fairness to the public and the business community this measure ought to have gone before a Select Committee. The Government could have invited some people who could speak with authority on the subject and they would have explained the difficulties of the industry and, if in spite of this, the Government felt that there was no case for those who were opposed to the tax, they could proceed with this measure. But this measure did not at all go before a Select Committee. I know, Sir, that in the past there were many occasions when the Government felt very strongly on certain matters but in the course of the discussions in the Select Committee the Select Committee was able to convince the Government that they were wrong, and the Government were then forced to withdraw those measures.

"Both the Hon. the Minister for Finance and the Hon. the Minister for Land Revenue anticipated some difficulty. As was pointed out during the Budget Debate the sanction of the Government of India or rather that of the President is necessary. That is why the Government have thought it fit to split the Sales Tax on cloth into two separate Bills, one for taxing medium cloth and the other for taxing other varieties of cloth. The Government of India may not sanction the taxation on medium cloth. I may also express my wish that the Government of India will say that both the Bills are not assented to so that the poor people of this State may escape from this taxation. This is not such an easy thing as the Hon. the Minister for Revenue and the Government seem to imagine. If the people are to be taxed at one-anna three pies per rupee instead of at the present rate of three pies, the repercussions or the consequences will be very grave. Already, the people of our State are paying about an anna by way of Sales Tax which is being levied at different levels, namely, at the level of production, at the level of distribution, at the level of the wholesaler and at the level of the retailer. They have to pay in addition a quarter anna as cess for the protection of the handloom industry and also an excise duty varying from six pies to two annas. On account of these the trade has shrunk. If in addition this trade is asked to bear the burden of the additional taxation now proposed, from what little I know of it, can say that it is bound to diminish still further. As the Hon. the Minister for Revenue is aware, from the diminishing returns of Sales Tax that he is having, the turnover of this business has fallen considerably when compared with that of last year and the year previous to that. In such circumstances, I am not able to understand the logic behind the Government of Madras who have come forward with these two Bills to raise the Sales Tax on cloth by 500 per cent.

"It was also pointed out in this connexion that this was intended to give relief to the handloom industry. Well and good. I am one for giving relief to this industry. I also feel, Sir, that the hon. Member, Sri M. P. Govinda Menon, is a very good man and he is supporting all good things but, unfortunately, all the causes that he supports never succeed. In his speech, the hon. Member tried to cut some jokes here and there. I am not going to touch upon them. I am for giving all possible relief to the handloom industry but I can say this sort of spoonfeeding is not going to help the industry very much. If the handloom industry is to thrive and flourish, it has to do so by itself. Unfortunately it has not, and neither the Government of India nor the Government of Madras are responsible for this. The Government say that by imposing this additional sales tax on mill-made cloth they want to give protection to the handloom industry. It may appear to be a good plan on paper, but in actual working it may not be possible. If really the Government of Madras are very sincere that they should protect this handloom industry, they should fight with the Government of India and force them to agree that such and such varieties of cloth should be exclusively reserved for the handloom industry. That was the original proposal of Sri C. Rajagopalachari. The present Chief Minister should have taken up the matter with the Commerce Ministry of the Government of India pointing out to them 'Here are millions and millions of handloom weavers spread throughout this State. This industry has got to be protected. The only way to give them the required protection is by imposing a ban on the mills from entering into a competition with the handloom industry in the manufacture of certain varieties of cloth.' Speaker after speaker has dwelt at considerable length on this subject. After all, what is the deficit in the Budget of this year? It is nearly 58 lakhs of rupees and to cover up this Rs. 58 lakhs legislation after legislation is brought before this House resorting to all sorts of taxes. I may say that if one were to sit and compile a history of all the taxes that have been imposed from 1946 to 1953, it will take three or four volumes to write it. The Government should know how this measure will affect the trade, though it is all too easy to pass legislations.

"One effect of this measure will be to shift the sphere of business to border areas. For instance, the border areas of Chittoor and Kalahasti, which are in the Andhra State, are not far off. Many business shops will be opened there, for, if we purchase from the border areas, we can escape payment of this additional sales tax of 1 anna and 3 pies in the rupee.

"The second thing is that the Government say that they are bringing in this Bill with a view to augmenting the revenues of the

State, which is not going to happen. There is the law of diminishing returns, because the purchasing capacity of the people is very low. In fact, so far as our State is concerned, on account of the various taxes that are already in force, the purchasing power of the people has come down. The law of diminishing returns will set in and the result will be that instead of getting more revenue, the Government will be getting only less. I do not understand on what logic the Hon. the Minister for Land Revenue has brought forward this measure. As I have already pointed out, one effect of this measure will be that the business will shift from Madras area to the border areas. People know how to evade this tax.

"The other thing that I want to refer to is that there are not many weaving mills in our State. There are a number of spinning mills. With this increase of 1 anna 3 pies in the rupee in the sales tax, will there be any possibility of any more mills being started, particularly in these days of depression? Is this the way to encourage more industries to come up? The hon. Member Sri M. P. Govinda Menon said that we must all support the handloom industry. It is a good slogan. I know that the money which is being collected as cess on the mill cloth and in which our State also gets a share is being wasted and is not being put to proper use. Any complaint is not going to help. I do not know how this increase of 1 anna 3 pies in the rupee is really going to help the handloom industry to flourish in this State.

"Sir, this subject has been debated on a number of occasions. There was a good deal of discussion during the Budget debate. We thought that the Hon. the Chief Minister will take into consideration all the viewpoints expressed on the floor of this House. There is an erroneous impression that this cloth is purchased only by the richer sections of the people. It is only the lower middle class people and the poor people who purchase this mill cloth. They cannot go in for the costlier cloth. It is said that this increase will affect only the richer classes. I cannot understand how. I do say that this is a tax not on the rich people, but on the poor people. Even now, I request the Government to consider whether it is worthwhile for them to pursue this taxation measure. They can examine the whole case. I know, Sir, there is no case for any increase in taxation particularly when there is a persistent demand from the business sector to reduce even the present level of taxation. Of course, the Hon. the Minister for Land Revenue has been accustomed to so many demands. He will say 'Let them go on representing but I shall go my own way'. When there is a demand for the levy of single point tax, it is really surprising that the Government of Madras are increasing the tax from 3 pies to 1 anna and 3 pies. Even though this Bill has been passed by the Assembly—I know that with the majority they command the Government will be able to pass any measure—the Government should know what will be the repercussions, how the trade will be affected, whether there is any possibility of the industry developing further in the State and whether the trade will not shift to border areas. It will not be difficult for people to have their purchases made in the neighbouring States like Travancore-Cochin or Andhra and evade the payment of this tax. I do maintain that the Madras Government did not bestow proper attention on the various aspects of the matter. In conclusion, I wish to state that Government themselves are not consistent as to what the object of the Bill is. First they said that their object was to give protection to the handloom industry. Now they say that their object is to augment the revenues of the State. This itself shows that the Government seem to have lost their case. As I have pointed out at the outset, the deficit this year is about Rs. 58 lakhs. Speaker after speaker has said that this is a very small deficit, and even persons like Dr. A. Lakshmanaswami Mudaliar have said that this small deficit could be met by effecting certain economies in expenditure, and that even if that was not possible the deficit may be left uncovered, and that there was no necessity for further taxation. But the Government have not paid heed to their advice. If the Government continue their present policy, the trade will be ruined and ultimately the Government will stand to lose rather than stand to gain."

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, this measure has been brought forward for augmenting the revenues of the State. There cannot be any question of protecting the handloom industry by the present measure. The hon. Member Sri Govinda Menon invoked the name of Mahatma Gandhi. Why should we invoke the name of Mahatma Gandhi in this matter? After all, the handloom industry depends upon mill-made yarn. When we talk about Mahatma Gandhi we forget for a moment that we are not following him. We forget the fact that the handloom industry depends on mill-made yarn. Mahatma Gandhi wanted the whole nation to spin. But what are we doing? We do not spin at all. Unless some convention is established that everyone of us should spin, it may not be possible for the whole nation to be clothed. Therefore, if we want to manage without mill-made yarn, everyone of us in the country must spin. What is the use of talking about Mahatma Gandhi? Let us follow Mahatma Gandhi as much as my hon. friend would like to follow him.

"But we are not on this fact at all at the present juncture. Sales tax is a consumers' tax and under the present conditions sales tax is never approved of throughout the world except in our Madras State. When the Sales Tax Bill was passed I pointed out to the Hon. the Finance Minister that sales tax was never popular and was never resorted to because it was finally a consumers' tax. Goods are sold to the poor and as soon as the sales tax is levied, the seller passes it on immediately to the consumer. Immediately the price of the article increases. When we impose sales tax we should not look to the merchants alone, but to the thousands of consumers also. Coarse cloth between 35s. and 60s. is used by middle class people and they will now be hit hard.

Handloom cloth is made of mill-made yarn. Unless we encourage the mill-made industry also at the same time, we cannot have handloom cloth. We are not here to say anything against relief being given to handloom weavers. Let us always remember handloom weavers. If it is khadi, that is quite a different matter. We are not concerned with khadi at all in this Bill.

"The other difficulty is that this is really an inter-State question. It is proposed to levy the additional tax on the first sale effected in the State on account of the restrictions imposed by Article 286 (1), (2) and (3) of the Constitution. This article is there in the Constitution for the purpose of seeing that unnecessary and unreasonable restrictions are not placed on Inter-State trade and commerce. According to Article 301 of the Constitution, the trade and commerce between various States of India shall be free. Most of the mill-made cloth is imported into our State from Bombay and Ahmedabad. Bombay has not made any progress in the handloom industry. This is a question which depends entirely upon the Centre. On a long range view it is the Centre which should take up this question. Therefore, I am forced to point out that this Bill is against the spirit of the Constitution. If we impose a tax of Re. 0-1-3 on mill-made cloth it will be imposing a restriction on Inter-State trade and commerce. Let us not go into the question whether this Bill is ultra vires or not. But I am perfectly sure that this is a thing which goes against the spirit of our Constitution. The handloom industry will not be helped even with this additional sales-tax of Re. 0-1-3 on mill-made cloth. Even then, mill-made cloth will be resorted to. I am perfectly sure of that. The handloom cloth will not be much cheaper than the mill-made cloth. The difficulty is that the mill yarn is not cheap. If mill yarn that is supplied to the handloom weavers is very cheap, then we can always have handloom cloth. Therefore, by this Bill we are not really solving the problem at all so far as the handloom weavers are concerned. This Bill cannot be of much help to the handloom weavers. I am sorry to say it is all mere talk to support the Bill. This is really intended for augmenting the revenues of the State. It is opposed to the Constitution, even though we may wriggle out of the question on account of the recent Supreme Court's decision which says that the first sale within the State is one on which tax can be imposed by the local Legislature even on non-resident dealers. Otherwise, this Bill will hit all the provisions of Article 286 of the Constitution. Are we justified in affecting Inter-State Commerce and in imposing restrictions upon Inter-State Commerce? These are really very indirect restrictions on Inter-State Commerce. Are we really justified in imposing these restrictions for augmenting the resources of our State hitting hard the poor consumers and at the same time not helping the handloom industry?"

SRI K. BHASHYAM :—“ Sir, I am surprised that such a measure as this which has been brought in for the purpose of augmenting the resources of this State and also to meet the deficit should have met with such an opposition from hon. Members opposite. They say that this imposition of taxation should be justified only on the ground of augmenting revenue and not upon any other ground. What is the reason for saying so? If as a matter of fact, the Government want revenue, they can justify the imposition of this tax upon other grounds also than augmentation of revenue. Why should they not say that the Bill is also intended to help the handloom industry? There is nothing wrong in it. For the purpose of emphasizing their arguments, hon. members invoke the name of Gandhiji. It is asked ‘ Why should they drag in here the name of that great Seer of all persons for the purpose of arguments?’ (Interruption by Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar.) My hon. Friend is very angry no doubt. But I would like to point out to him that as a matter of fact that anger does not solve the problem or meet the arguments that I have placed before the hon. Member. My argument is this. The Government want revenue and revenue can be collected so as to be useful to other persons as well. While collecting the revenue, this Bill will also be useful to support an industry which is suffering under a great disadvantage. Is that justifiable or not? If it is justifiable, I will call upon Gandhiji’s name because it is really supporting the idea of self-sufficiency not only in cloth but also in other things. At least in cloth requirements we shall be self-sufficient. If I call upon Gandhiji’s name why should the Opposition get out of temper over it? I do not see anything wrong at all. The hon. Member is angry for another reason also. He says that if we follow Gandhiji’s principles, we must follow fully. But is it possible always to do so? A man is enjoined by Sastras to do certain things. He does not do most of the things, but he does something. We must be thankful for that. Therefore it is I say, if, as a matter of fact, in the present case, at least in the name of Gandhiji we are able to help the cottage industries to the extent we can, then I think, Sir, there is nothing wrong in this Bill. I, of course, ask people who are interested in cottage industries to support this measure.

“ One other fact I would like to mention, Sir. There is always a contest between mill industries and cottage industries and between wholesale production of goods and goods produced by hand in villages or in the houses. That is the position. We are not now complaining against the one or the other. The time has come when machine and handicraft are really opposed to each other. Are we going to support the one or the other? Are we going to kill the one altogether and support the other altogether? We have come to the parting of the ways. True there is a body of opinion saying that we must industrialise the country to such an extent that all handicraft would be killed in favour of machine-made goods. People who are really interested in the welfare of the country should not and cannot subscribe to that opinion. Why not industrialise the big industries, and why should small industries, like the cottage industries, be industrialised? We must not kill the cottage industries. That is accepted by most people—even by economists who have something to say about the economics of our country. The argument that this tax is sought to be imposed on mill goods with a view to augmenting the revenues of this State, but not with a view to helping the handloom industry, is based on a very fallacious principle altogether.

“ The second point is that the mill industry is competing with the handloom industry. True. It is said that after all the handloom industry depends upon the mill industry to a large extent. I agree. If it is possible for the country not to depend upon the machine altogether and to get all the yarn made out of hand, we would certainly welcome that. Mr. Balasubramanya Ayyar is so much interested in the affair that he wants other people to follow his suggestion. I would like him to consider this question seriously. There are still people who are engaged in the production of handloom goods. There is no doubt about it. There are people who are patriotic enough to feel that in the long run they would be able to persuade other people to their ideal about the handloom industry. All honour to them. I wish them all success, if not to-day at least some time later. I would ask in this connection, why not mill yarn be sold at a cheap rate to the handloom weavers? Who are responsible for the high price of mill yarn? The mill owners whose mills really spin, and not merely weave, are able to produce yarn cheaply, and therefore they are able to compete with the handloom goods. If any control is to be imposed on the mills to the effect that they should not weave, and that their yarn should be sold in the open market for the benefit of the handloom weavers, that will be the best thing that can be done and ought to be done. If this is not done it is because there are persons who do not have the interests of the country at heart. There are persons interested in the mill industry. They cannot forget their own interests. There are persons in Northern India who are interested in the mill industry. People in other States, whenever they speak about the mill industry, do not know that in the Madras State the weaving mills are very few in number. The weaving mills are not so very flourishing as the spinning mills are. There is only a very small number of weaving mills especially in Coimbatore. Therefore the apprehensions entertained by hon. Members that all the mill business will go into other States are unfounded. I do not share their apprehensions. I do believe that people who are running spinning mills to-day will go on flourishing and they will be able to supply all the yarn they produce to the handloom industry perhaps at cheaper rates. The only question is, how to supply cheap yarn to the handloom weavers. The Government must consider this question. The idea levying a tax on mill-made goods is at best only a protective measure. It does not help the handloom industry to a very large extent. We only protect our handloom industry against exploitation by mills in other States. After all mill cloth is mostly imported from outside our State, and imported cloth does really compete with handloom goods in our State. Are we not entitled to protect our own handloom cloth against the import of mill cloth from other States? Is that a crime? Is it not proper to protect our handloom goods. Therefore, Sir, I think that all the objections that have been raised by hon. Members for the purpose of saying that this tax will kill the mill industry, etc., are not to be considered seriously.

“Then, Sir, it has been stated that sales tax is passed on to the consumer, and that the consumer will pay this tax of one anna and three pies. It is stated that to that extent the consumer is hit. True. But I ask, Sir, why should men purchase the mill cloth at all? Why should they not make a little sacrifice and purchase handloom goods? Why should they not do it? Cinemas are flourishing. Dramas are flourishing. Exhibitions are flourishing, and so many other things are flourishing. But if we are to levy a tax of one anna three pies on the sale of mill-made goods so that the handloom industry may be benefited, I do not understand why there should be so much of objection. If it is possible for me I would compel all to purchase only handloom cloth. If it is not possible, let me at least say that we should support this levy of additional tax on mill-made goods. In this matter let us all fight the Central Government unitedly. If only the Central Government had been sympathetic, the handloom industry would have been flourishing from a very much earlier period. But there are persons in the Central Government who are really not of our view. They are interested mostly in the mill owners of Bombay and Ahmedabad. They want that the mill industry should be flourishing. They have got the interests of these mill owners at heart. Therefore we cannot make much headway with the Central Government. But to the extent to which we can help the handloom industry, we shall try to help it, even if the help be a very small help. After all, the Central Government also feel and say that we have got to help the handloom industry in some way or other. They have levied a cess upon the mill cloth. They have collected the cess, and they are distributing it. Of course that is inadequate. That is not what we wanted. We did not want any charity. We want pucca help to the handloom industry. We want that the handloom weavers should be able to get yarn as cheaply as possible. I have experience in the handloom industry, and I have managed four looms. I was in charge of a Swadeshi Store. I know the difficulties of the handloom weavers. If all the spinning mills are made to disgorge all their yarn—at any rate up to 50 per cent—in the open market, the problem of the handloom weavers will be solved to a large extent. I believe—I have experience of it—that the handloom weaver can then produce cloth as cheaply as the mill produces, if only there is not the increase in the cost of the yarn. The mill's produce yarn cheaply, and therefore it is that they are able to compete with the handloom weavers. If we really get yarn for the handloom weaver at the same price as it costs the mill owner, the handloom goods can certainly compete with mill-made goods. It is a pity that persons who have dexterity and fineness in their hands and who are engaged in this handloom industry should take to other professions. They have become masons, coolies, factory labourers, etc., to eke out their livelihood. What I say is that a good craftsman is really lost to the world. I agree with the hon. Member Mr. Balasubramanya Ayyar that this Bill will not help the handloom industry much. But to the extent that it does, why should we not help it? We are all not united in this matter. If we are all united and if we fight the Central Government on this matter, possibly we will make the Central Government agree to our request. But on account of fissiparous tendencies, we do not agree among ourselves. That is why the Central Government themselves are acting against us. If we do not present a united demand, I should like the Opposition to keep quiet at least. We really want to help the handloom weavers as much as we can. We do not help them fully, but to the extent we can help, we should help them. There are millions of people engaged in the industry, and the handloom industry comes next to agriculture. Therefore, I appeal to hon. Members opposite to drop their opposition.”

SRI MOHAMED RAZA KHAN :—“We are not going to accept the suggestion of the hon. Member.”

SRI A. M. ALLAPICHAJ :—“Mr. Chairman, Sir, but for the unkind attack against my hon. Friend Mr. Govinda Menon I would not have risen today to speak on this measure. The hon. Member Sri Govinda Menon is a Gandhian.” (An hon. Member : ‘Is he speaking on the Bill, Sir?’)

DR. V. K. JOHN :—“Is it in order, Mr. Chairman, that simply because an hon. Member made an irrelevant attack, another hon. Member should reply to it? I think we have to speak on the Bill.”

SRI K. BHASHYAM :—“Sir, we attack only ideas and not persons.”

SRI A. M. ALLAPICHAJ :—“Sir, I am speaking on the Bill. The hon. Member Sri Govinda Menon firmly believes in the Gandhian principles. Whether the whole world follows those principles or not, the hon. Member has a right to say that people should follow the Gandhian principles and no one can prevent him from saying so. We the Congressmen in our own humble way are doing our very best in averting the advent of Communism in this country. Hon. Members opposite do not seem to realize this fact. When the Government bring in a taxation measure or some other measure, hon. Members Opposite think that the Government are the enemy of the rich people and so they begin to attack the Government. It is not so. The Congressmen want to be fair to all. While appreciating the right of the rich people to property, it is the principle of Congressmen to stand by the poor men in the country. They did not win freedom from the Britisher simply to make the rich richer and the poor poorer. It was won with a view to make the poor men rich, and to make them feel happy and prosperous and to make them also feel proud of this great country. That being the case and when we are doing our best in our own humble way to better the lot of the poor people, all sorts of obstacles are put in our way.

"I would like to ask, what is it that is wrong in this measure? The mill owners are making lakhs and lakhs of rupees. What is the harm in taxing them? Even if the middle-class people are asked to pay this tax what is the harm? Where is this amount to go? It does not go into the pocket of the Government. It is not going to be thrown into the Bay of Bengal. It is not to be taken by the Congressmen and put into their pockets. It is to go to the poor people of this State, it is going to be used for bettering the conditions of the poor people. The consumers are going to pay it and the benefit will go to all the people of this State. Therefore I do not know why there should be so much of opposition to this tax. What is the difficulty? (An hon. Member: 'The difficulty is we cannot understand this tax.') The hon. Member will understand only when the Communists come into power. Then it will be rather too late." (An hon. Member: 'Then all our troubles will be put an end to.')

SRI V. V. RAMASWAMI:—"I hope the hon. Member is not an enemy of Communism."

(The hon. Member Dr. John rose.)

SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, is it proper to interrupt the hon. Member like this when he is on his legs?"

DR. V. K. JOHN:—"It is the hon. Member Mr. Bhashyam who is interrupting now."

SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"I interrupt because the hon. Member Dr. John interrupted the speaker."

SRI A. M. ALLAPICHAJ:—"Sir, there is another thing which hon. Members should take into consideration. Ours is a State where we have a large number of weavers. If we are blind to their state of affairs, perhaps people will be justified in trying to move for the abolition of this House itself. We do not seem to be quite aware of what is taking place outside. Hundreds and thousands of our people are suffering from poverty. They have been thrown out of their jobs. Thousands of weavers are now unemployed. Their wives, children, sisters and everybody depending on them are suffering hell on earth. When such is the state of affairs are we to be blind to them? Are we to say, 'don't come forward with such a measure to impose tax on mill cloth. After all the mills and the mill owners will be getting on in spite of this tax. They are very clever people. They are very rich people. Let them produce the best cloth and compete in foreign countries. If they do that, who can prevent them? Therefore, Sir, I feel that the Congress Government are really doing a great service by standing by the poor people and teaching the rich people to render service to the poor people. Therefore, I support this measure."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, the view that the handloom industry should be protected and encouraged in this country is shared by the Government of India also. That is why they introduced the cess on mill cloth so that, that amount could be utilized in popularizing the handloom cloth even though at the Centre as it is said, the mill industry has greater representation and greater influence. In spite of this the Government of India thought it fit to introduce this cess. But in introducing this cess, they treated all the States alike because they did not know the very peculiar conditions of this State. They treated all the States alike in the matter of protecting the handloom industry. The peculiar conditions of the handloom industry in this State call for a drastic method of protection. In this State there are about 30 to 32 lakhs of people who are entirely depending on this industry. If the industry is not protected, all these people will be thrown into the streets. As a matter of fact they were on the streets a few months ago and the Government had to run a number of gruel centres spending many lakhs of rupees to feed them. That is why in the Assembly a resolution was unanimously passed—that bordered dhotis and coloured saris of certain counts should be reserved for the handloom industry. We expected that that resolution would be accepted by the Centre and the problem of the handloom weavers solved. But, unfortunately, they could not realise the peculiar circumstances in which this State is placed and so they did not accept the resolution. Then we had to think of other ways of protecting this industry and encouraging it. After a very lengthy deliberation we thought this was the only constitutional weapon that we had of protecting the handloom industry. If any hon. Member of this House had attended the Assembly during the discussion on this Bill, he would have listened to the speeches made by certain hon. Members of that House who even asked that the Government should adopt unconstitutional weapons. (An hon. Member: 'Like what?') Like what the Dravida Kazhagam people say. But we have to think only of constitutional weapons. We have therefore decided that this is the only best way of doing it, that is, by imposing a tax of Re. 0-1-3 in the rupee on mill cloth of certain varieties. Though we are not quite sure of the revenue that would be realized by imposing this tax,—it all depends on the handloom industry and other factors and I am not now prepared to hazard any definite figure about the income—we feel it will bring in a handsome amount. That is our hope. Apart from the income from this tax which we need, this tax will go a long way to protect the handloom industry, and that is what we want.

“ Then the hon. Member, Sri M. P. Govinda Menon, referred to the fact that the poor Tamilians strayed into his domain, the district of Malabar. This is not the first time that he is referring to it. He has referred to it once before. Let me point out to the hon. Member that this is so according to the well known law that Nature abhors a vacuum. When there is a vacuum in the atmosphere, air from other places rushes in there. All scientists know this for a fact. Similarly from Malabar a very large number of people stray into non-Malayalee areas to pursue various professions from the highest to the lowest like hotel-keeping, running of pan and bidi shops and aerated water shops that the law of nature operates and into the vacuum thus created the unfortunate Tamil people enter. There is nothing strange in this phenomenon. If only the hon. Member, Sri M. P. Govinda Menon, will give a guarantee that he will take back to Malabar all his brethren in non-Malayalee areas, I will assure him that no Tamilian will ever stray into his district.”

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON :—“ I am prepared to give such a guarantee.”

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—
“ Sir, it was also said that the people in charge of the handloom industry themselves do not wear handloom cloth and the sales would be better if they also wore handloom cloth. This logic cannot be pushed too far because it will result in absurdities. Can we ask a man selling saris that he should market it only wearing a sari himself? We cannot go to this length. The hon. Member, Dr. John said that there were about seven lakhs of textile workers in our State. Probably, he has no idea as to the actual figures. At the most there will be a lakh of workers in the textile industry in our State. He probably furnished all-India figures. Apart from this, the same hon. Member said that yarn should be made available at very cheap rates and that then only it would be useful to the handloom industry. I agree with him, and the Government will take all possible steps to see that yarn is available as cheaply as possible. We are trying in every way to help these unfortunate handloom weavers.

“ The hon. Member, Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar, asked how we were going to help the handloom industry by imposing these taxes. We have to do things one by one. Suppose a tank breaches. The Engineering Supervisor first goes there and puts up a ring bund to prevent water from other places entering the breached tank and then begins to repair the tank. This additional taxation is something like the ring bund to prevent the import of mill cloth. Then we will take other steps like making yarn cheaper, etc. In this manner, this additional taxation is only a sort of protection against the inroads of the mill cloth.

“ Then with regard to prices, it is said that the handloom cloth is costlier and the poor and the middle classes would naturally prefer to buy mill cloth. I may inform the House my own experience. On the face of it, it appears, as if mill cloth is cheaper and handloom cloth is costlier. But, if we go deep into the matter, we will see that the handloom cloth has got at least 50 per cent more wearing quality than the mill cloth. This fact must be made to catch the imagination of the people by means of propaganda. We must tell them that not only will they be helping the suffering handloom weavers who would otherwise be thrown into the streets (or would have to go to Malabar as my hon. Friend, Sri M. P. Govinda Menon, is afraid of) but that they will also be not making such a sacrifice if they took into consideration the wearing quality of the handloom cloth. In the long run, it will not cost more than mill-made cloth. I will give an instance. In my student days, I had a fellow student in the Law College. Though he belonged to a middle class family, he always used to come in silk suits. I asked him how he managed to do so. He said that he did not spend a pie more than what people who wore cotton suits did because the silk suits were longer. He also said that without spending more money he looked more gentlemanly and more respectable than others, thanks to the better wearing quality of silk. Therefore, even if we pay 50 per cent more than the price of mill cloth to purchase handloom cloth, it is worthwhile doing so because of the better wearing quality of the handloom cloth. Though mill cloth looks cheaper in the first instance it is really costlier than handloom cloth in the long run. Generally, people look at the surface of things only and never go deep. Therefore, if we explain all these things to the people they will surely become handloom-minded and all people including my hon. Friend Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar, will begin to wear handloom.”

DR. V. K. JOHN :—“ What about khaddar? ”

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—
“ Sir, I consider that people of a self-sacrificing spirit wear khaddar. I would like to call people who wear khaddar as first-class people, people who wear handloom cloth as second-class people and people who wear mill cloth as third, fourth or fifth class or ‘ no class ’ people.

“ With these remarks, I would like once more to request hon. Members who are opposed to this Bill not to oppose it because this Bill has been brought forward only in the interests of the handloom weavers.”

[15th May 1954]

MR. CHAIRMAN :—“ The question is—

‘ That the Madras General Sales Tax (Second Amendment) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 20 of 1954), as passed by the Assembly, be taken into consideration.’ ”

The motion was carried and the Bill was taken into consideration.

Clause 2.

MR. CHAIRMAN :—“ The motion is—

‘ That Clause 2 do stand part of the Bill.’ ”

SRI G. KRISHNAMURTHI :—“ Mr. Chairman, Sir, I beg to oppose this Bill with all the vehemence that I can command. I am not opposing this Bill for the reason that I am not convinced by the arguments put forth by the Hon. Minister piloting the Bill or the hon. Members who spoke in support of cottage industries. I am one of those who stand for cottage industries and, in fact, I have been pleading for the promotion of cottage industries. But, have the present Government committed themselves to the improvement of cottage industries? If they had really committed themselves to such a task, it would not have taken them a second to stop all the rice mills and thereby give employment to thousands and thousands of villagers. If this had really been their policy, it would not have taken them much time to prevent the establishment of the plastic industry and the glass industry which are detrimental to indigenous industries.

“ I quite appreciate and sympathise with the points just placed before the House by the hon. Member, Sri M. P. Govinda Menon. We do not in any way lag behind anybody else in the matter of patriotism or in regard to the encouragement of cottage industries or the improvement of the economy of our country. This Bill has been dealt with more or less as a Bill for the encouragement of the handloom industry. Is it really for this purpose? No, not at all. It is a Bill which has been brought forward to tax the public to augment the revenues of the State. Not a word has been mentioned in it regarding the handloom industry. This is not at all a Bill to support the handloom industry. What guarantee is there that the money that is obtained by the introduction of these additional taxes is going to be spent for the benefit of the handloom industry? There is no such guarantee. The Government have not yet come forward to say how much they will be realising by the collection of these taxes. If at all they agree to state the amount expected to be realised, they have not given a guarantee that the whole of this amount will be earmarked for helping the suffering weavers. As such, it is not proper for us to view this Bill simply intended to encourage the poor suffering weavers. This Bill has no connection with the handloom industry whatsoever. On the other hand, the Government want to augment their revenues by imposing this additional tax on the poor and middle class people. They are not only not going to encourage the handloom weavers but they are going to create difficulties for the poor and the middle class people by imposing a tax of 1 anna 3 pies in the rupee on the mill goods that they are daily using. After all, what is this Bill aiming at? It is aiming at increased taxation. Who are to bear the tax? It is the middle and the poor class people. The Government are taxing the piecegoods which are generally used by the poor and the middle class people. What is the rate of tax that the Government propose to levy now? The incidence of taxation is 1 anna 3 pies in the rupee, that is, nearly 1/12th of the cost. An artificial silk sari that can be had by a poor lady for Rs. 12 will now cost Rs. 13 as soon as this Bill becomes law. The Government are really taxing the poor and the middle classes. At the same time they are not guaranteeing relief to the poor handloom weavers for whose benefit the Bill is supposed to be brought in. Artificial silk is a kind of silk that is being used by the poor women and the middle class women for the reason that that they are not able to purchase the genuine silk on account of its prohibitive cost. They cannot afford to have it either in this generation or for generations to come. Why should the Government stand in the way of these poor women satisfying themselves by wearing this silk? After all, it is very difficult to preserve this silk in a box against moth attack. Why should this artificial silk be taxed to the extent of 1/12th of its original cost? It is only the poor people, the clerical sections and the middle class people who use the cotton cloth. Are we not taxing them by this measure? Food, clothing and shelter are the three necessities of life. I wonder how the tax on gold and silver has been left out in this Bill while the tax on the artificial silk and the poor man's cloth is being retained. All of us are not purchasing gold and silver every year, not even once a year. Once in our lifetime we purchase one-fourth or one-half of a sovereign on marriage occasions for making tali (Thirumangalyam).

“ It is a very sound principle of taxation to impose the tax on gold and silver which are luxury articles. Cloth is not a luxury. It is a need, a necessity of life and a daily necessity. We judge the popularity of a Government by its capacity to feed its people, to clothe its people and to give shelter to the people by building dwelling houses. Next we judge the popularity of a Government by its ability not to enhance the existing prices but to reduce them. Why should the Government enhance the price of the cloth which is being worn by the poor people? The Government are raising the tax that is already there. They say that they do not require any extra machinery to collect this tax. That is all right. But is it proper to tax one of the necessities of life to the extent of 1/12th of its present cost? I would therefore request the Government to see that this tax on the poor man's cloth is removed. Let them tax people who are buying gold, who are buying silver, places are noted for their forest wealth. Even though the aim of the Act is a laudable one, in the actual working of it, it is put to all sorts of misuse by the officials in charge of its working. I am not casting aspersions against anyone in particular. By both the Revenue and Forest Departments being in charge of the work concerning the preservation of private forests, the result has been that two departments are running a sort of three-legged race. The Act is put to much abuse. Forest rangers and guards who are so meagrely paid and whose salaries are not sufficient for their subsistence easily fall a prey to big timber traders. There is no use blaming officials inasmuch as they are paid meagrely and as such easily succumb to the temptation of the bigwigs of the timber trade. Suffice it to say that the working of this Act, the Madras Preservation of Private Forests Act and the enforcement of it by the officials in charge, are far from satisfactory.

"I shall now come to the inordinate delay with which one comes across in the matter of issue of permits for felling of trees. Enormous amount of red-tapism has crept in. In spite of the fact that the D.F.O. (District Forest Officer) is at the top, who is it that actually scrutinizes the application for permits? It is the petty clerks at the bottom. Who is it that actually supervises the work of felling operations? It is the forest ranger. Can we say that he is above suspicion and that he would not succumb to the temptation of the rich timber traders? No, surely not. They are meagrely paid and it is but natural that they would succumb to the temptation easily. I can specifically say that when a permit is given to a private trader for the felling of 100 trees, it usually happens that taking advantage of the petty officials in charge of supervision and maintenance of forests, the trader, who is a wealthy man, usually gets away with a larger number—(of course he sees to it that the petty officials who helped him are sufficiently rewarded). Nobody seems to bother about the way in which our forests are exploited. Nobody takes care to preserve our forest wealth. More often than not they forget (I mean they who are put in charge of the work of preservation of forests) the fact that forests are our national wealth. Looking at the picture from one angle, we cannot blame the petty officials for it is but natural that due to poverty they succumb to the temptation of bribery. If an application for a permit is made, it usually happens that six months at least elapse before any investigation is carried out and as is but usual no tangible result is achieved. In the matter of issue of permits the Government adopts a circuitous procedure. What is the result? A permit usually reaches a man who has applied for it after the lapse of considerable time. If a man applies from a particular place, the application will go to Kozhikode, which is the official headquarters of District Collector. The journey will then proceed from the Forest to the Revenue Department. It will come to the Tahsildar, Deputy Tahsildar and to the village munsif. From the bottom, right again it will be sent back to the Forest Department and by the time it goes to the District Forest Officer, several months would have elapsed. It usually happens that the big merchants, I mean the timber traders,—I have referred to them as 'sharks' in my last speech—somehow get the permits, go on felling trees far in excess of the permit and go away unpunished. But the contrast is glaring when a petty villager who cuts down branches for either domestic or some other purpose or who tries to cultivate on a patch of reserved forest land is brought to book and is punished. These gullible folk, these poor ryots get frustrated, and are put to trouble while the rich walk off merrily with their bounty. That is the present state of affairs obtaining in our forest administration.

"I shall now come to the 'working plan'. The Madras Preservation of Private Forests Act requires that an owner of a private forest should submit a 'working plan' detailing the way in which the forest would be regenerated. But what is it that the authorities do with the 'working plan'? Do they approve them within a reasonable time? The answer is only in the negative. I am sorry to say it. But that is what is happening. I am sure that the 'working plans' are not properly scrutinized. The forests are not kept properly as is laid down under the Act. What is the result? The people are not at all satisfied with the way in which the Madras Preservation of Private Forests Act is enforced. It has become scandalous in its working.

"I, therefore, urge upon the Government to bestow their attention in rectifying the defects I have pointed out, viz., (1) the red-tapism prevalent in the issue of permits, (2) the abuse to which our Madras Preservation of Private Forests Act is put to, (3) the exploitation of forests by the permit-holders in excess of the permit quota and lastly (4) the rectification of the present labyrinthine and circuitous procedure adopted in the matter of issue of permits. Let the Government realize that our forests are our national wealth and any piece of legislation for the preservation of our natural wealth will go a long way in enriching our national wealth."

SRI K. PARTHASARATHY:—"I support the motion moved by the Hon. Minister. Since I am interested in the provisions of the main Act, I shall make a few observations.

"I wish to draw the attention of the House to one thing and that is when the original Act was passed in 1949, it was said in the Preamble that the Act was passed 'pending further legislation'. So, when it was passed, the Act contemplated passing of further legislation to carry out the intentions of the Act, but so far no further legislation has come into being. This is a very sorry state of affairs. So from 1949 onwards, we have not been able to make any comprehensive Act. So, it is necessary that Government should take steps to pass legislation which is pending for a very long time, that is from 1949 and I may even say from 1946. Therefore, I request the Government to take steps to pass an enactment at a very early date.

"Section 5 of the original Act relates to suits and other execution proceedings and that section is now sought to be given a new lease of life by this Bill which we are now passing. It amounts to this that suits and other execution proceedings are stayed from 1946 onwards till 1953 or 1954. My submission is that this state of affairs should not be allowed to continue. Now the question of customary rights is pending in civil courts and execution of decrees is also pending. We now seek to continue this state of affairs. I submit that proceedings should not be allowed to be stayed indefinitely for a long time. I know of cases where decrees were passed declaring the customary rights of the ryots in adjacent private forests. The existing rights are for the purpose of carrying on of agricultural operations better and for gathering green manure, fuel and other materials like bamboo, etc., for cottage industries. In these cases, the provisions of section 5 act as a restraint on the exercise of such rights. So it is better and desirable that a comprehensive legislation is passed at a very early date.

“Again, section 3, sub-clause (2) of the original Act has a proviso. This is not wide enough. The hon. Sri Krishna Ayyar said that this measure affected the district of Malabar more. It is not so. There are other areas in the State where the Act is enforced and it affects the life of so many persons there. As a matter of fact, to half the area of my constituency, this Act is made applicable and ryots are put to a lot of difficulties in the working of this Act. In my constituency, there are three hilly tracts, namely, Jadaya Gounden Jagir, Ariya Gounden Jagir and Kurumba Gounden Jagir, and these are full of forests. The ryots in the villages of the plain below have a right to gather green manure for agricultural operations. The ryots find it very difficult to enjoy the natural and customary rights. It is very difficult to exercise the rights with the consent of the Revenue Department and the Forest Officers. There is also delay, as pointed out by the hon. Mr. Krishna Ayyar, in getting permits. The headquarters of the Revenue Official is located in a distant place and the ryot has to go there and get a permit. All these things cause very great hardship to the ryots in carrying on agricultural operations. When the aim of the Government is to increase food production, the passing of this Act does not encourage the ryot to increase food production. So I request that at the time of passing the comprehensive Act, the proviso to sub-clause (2) of section 3 should be made wide enough to provide not only for the removal of forest produce for domestic purposes and for agricultural implements, but also for the removal of green manure and other materials necessary for agriculture and cottage industries.

“The Hon. Minister has given an assurance that the Select Committee is going to meet even to-day and that steps are being taken for passing a comprehensive legislation. In view of this, I support the Hon. Minister's motion and I am sure that the House also will support it.”

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—“Sir, with regard to the remarks made by the hon. Member behind me, I had already stated that a comprehensive legislation is under contemplation for amending the Madras Forest Act, and it will take some time. But the Madras Preservation of Private Forests Act came to an end on 2nd December 1953. Therefore, it had to be extended pending the regular Bill being brought here. By an Ordinance, the lifetime of the Act has been extended beyond that date. This is only to regularize the action under the Ordinance by a Bill and nothing more. who are dashing in their cars throwing dust on the poor man's mouth and eyes and who are waving their leather bags with bundles of currency notes in them.

"We are not in any way going to help the handloom industry by imposing this levy. There is no guarantee that the poor handloom weavers would get the benefit of this levy. The mills have been there all these days. My brother who was a seniormost Congressman in Tiruchirappalli thought it fit to buy this mill-made cloth, which was called Swadeshi in 1916 or 1917 in preference to the 1703 foreign mull. There were days when we depended upon the mills. It is not easy at all to throw out all these mills. The speakers who preceded me have said that the yarn that is used by the handloom industry is manufactured by the mills. Why should we suddenly turn them into our enemies? Till we draw a plan for the whole of India, let us have a compromise as between the machine and the man. It is not advisable to tax poor people in the hope that the money so collected would be earmarked for the handloom industry especially in the absence of a specific guarantee from the Government that this money would be earmarked for the benefit of the poor handloom weavers. We have got the greatest sympathy for the handloom weavers. This Bill has no connection with the handloom industry. It is clearly stated in the Statement of Objects and Reasons appended to the Bill that this is a measure to augment the revenues of the State. There are many other ways of augmenting the revenues of the State. I would therefore request the Government not to tax the poor people and the middle class people in respect of their cloth which is a necessity of life."

SRI T. M. DAIVASIKHAMANI ACHARIAR:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, originally I had no intention of participating in this discussion but for the fact that Sri Govinda Menon referred to the fact that handloom weaving had been left out of consideration because it did not come under cottage industries and that the Government have not taken any steps for the past seven or eight years towards the improvement of that cottage industry. I will go a step further and say that it is not during the past seven years alone that they have not taken any steps but they have been treating these cottage industries in a step-motherly way for the past twenty years. This handloom industry has all of a sudden evoked the sympathy of not only the public but also the members of the Government. During the days when the alien Government were ruling this country, the great authority on the handloom industry Sri P. T. Thyagaraja Chettiar installed about 200 handlooms and all these looms had eventually to be sold and even the roof was not excluded. What is the root cause for this? This has not been considered by our Government even to-day. Sir, the evil is somewhere else. By merely increasing the tax on the mill-made cloth, or by granting liberal Government subsidies we cannot improve the handloom industry as we are supposed to. Sir, we can even treble the taxation on the mill-made goods for meeting the needs of the handloom industry. But before we talk of improving the handloom industry, we must go into the root cause of the defects. The root cause is that to-day in the handloom industry we have not got the proper implements, the looms and the improved shuttles. The shuttle that we are using to-day in the handloom industry can go only one way, not return back, or go back automatically three or four times. Until the handloom shuttle is improved and the handlooms are made to synchronise with the improved shuttle, it is not possible to improve the handloom industry or help the starving handloom weavers. It is not very easy for the Government to do it without the co-operation or advice of specialists, otherwise they could have found a solution long, long ago. They have not found it out yet and so, the very many defects are still in the machinery, in the plant shuttle themselves. So far as the mill industry is concerned, I know, Sir, in the matter of finish or in the matter of artistic lay-out and production, no mill-made cloth can beat the fineness or the quality or the artistic design of the handloom cloth. Sir, mills are worked with lifeless and soulless machines, whereas the handloom industrialists use both their hands which lend themselves to the mental perfection of these workmen. That is the essential difference and therefore, whatever may be the improvement in outturn of the mill industry, this cottage industry cannot be defeated by mill-made cloth.

"Then again, Sir, by increasing the tax to Re. 0-1-3 over the mill-made cloth, how is it going to help the handloom weavers? It may help the coffers of the Government and not the handloom weavers. Nothing has been stated in this Bill that the amount so taxed will be exclusively utilised for the benefit of this or other cottage industries. Sir, it is said that it is going to augment the resources of the Government and that is the sole object with which this Bill has been introduced. The hon. member Sri Govinda Menon has mixed up the handloom industry with cottage industries in general. That is why I thought it proper to say something about the other cottage industries. What is the position of the cottage industries today in this land, Sir? They have been totally neglected and no cottage industry has been helped so far. Sir, it was stated in answer to a question on the floor of this House that the Government have introduced Sri Visveswarayya's antiquated scheme of cottage industries in Nellore district and in Musiri in Tiruchirappalli district. Leaving alone Nellore district the Government have established an aerated water factory in Musiri taluk and an artisan has been granted a loan or subsidy. Is aerated water manufacture a cottage industry, I ask? Is that a cottage industry which ought to be aided or improved? Sir, that is how the cottage industries are improved and the Government are bestowing their so-called best attention according to them on the improvement of cottage industries.

"The cottage industrialists are denied even the smallest benefit which they enjoyed before. They have been totally neglected. The village artisans are not granted adequate loans even though they are prepared to deposit their properties with the Government and even though they are not raising a loan of more than Rs. 500. Free tools were supplied by the Government to the people engaged in select cottage industries till April 1953. But the Government have all on a sudden stopped that. With just one stroke of the pen they have removed the privileges which were enjoyed by these cottage industrialists for several years. Sir, that being the case, are we going to improve the cottage industries in reality in this State? Let it be handloom industry or let it be any other industry, the Government are not going to improve any industry at this rate. As one who is interested in cottage industries, I plead for those voiceless thousands of unprotected men engaged in cottage industries and ask that some good treatment should be accorded to them in the matter of improving their cottage industries. It will be a waste of Government energy to revert to the subject of cottage industries over and over again and merely talk about them without doing anything to improve them. In all earnestness I request the Hon. Minister in charge of this subject to put his shoulders to the wheel and see that the cottage industries are put on a sound basis.

"With these words, Sir, I do not know whether to support the Bill or to oppose it. These are my views and the Chairman is at liberty to take it in whatever light he thinks. Thank you, Sir."

SRI V. BASHYAM AYYANGAR:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, I wish to give my strong support to this Bill which has been brought forward by the Government and in doing so, I would like to answer only one objection that has been raised by the hon. Member Sri G. Krishnamurthi. He has said that in this Bill it is nowhere stated that it is intended to support the handloom weavers and that only a tax is levied on mill-made cloth. It seems to me that it is not correct to take this Bill in that light. The Government want some money to meet necessary expenditure and they want to levy a tax for the purpose. The first question is whether the tax is necessary. I take it that we all proceed on the assumption that funds are necessary to carry on the Government and therefore, some tax or other is necessary. The second question is whether the taxing of the mill-made cloth which is suggested in this Bill is or is not correct. In addition to getting some money, the taxation must be in the right direction. It must have a right perspective and a right object in taxing goods. The question now is whether taxing of mill-made cloth is not an indirect help to the handloom industry. I can go even further and say that it is a direct help to the handloom industry and it also brings some money to the Government. It helps the handloom industry which everybody has at heart and there is nobody in this House who wishes that the handloom industry should not be encouraged. Millions of people are suffering for want of food and for want of necessities. This measure is no doubt intended to be a taxation measure and while it brings some funds to the Government, it also goes to support the handloom industry. In that way it gives great help to the handloom industry and I think it deserves the support of this House. In so far as mill-made cloth is taxed by the Bill it puts a premium upon the mill-made cloth and to that extent also it will encourage the sale of handloom goods. In that way it will encourage handloom weaving and also bring food and other necessities to the handloom weavers who are suffering from want of work and from want of sale of their goods. In so far as the mill-made goods are made dear, the handloom goods will be encouraged. In that way it is a measure which goes to support the handloom industry. I say that both as a taxation measure and as a measure which will have the effect of encouraging handloom industry, this Bill deserves the unanimous support of this House."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—

"Sir, I am really surprised that of all persons, the hon. Member Sri G. Krishnamurthi is enamoured of artificial silk. He says that the increase in the price of artificial silk will deprive the poor women, who are fond of dressing very gaudily, of it. I may tell him, Sir, that artificial silk has very little wearing quality, and it develops holes in saris. I would be quite glad if people are prevented from purchasing artificial silk. In the interests of the poor people artificial silk should not be encouraged. The price of artificial silk is high also. It has been said that we are interested only in getting revenue to the Government, and that we have not earmarked the revenue for encouraging the handloom industry. It is not so, Sir. Because we are interested in the handloom industry, we are genuinely trying all means and taking every step to protect that industry. If we get good revenue, hon. Members may rest assured that we will try to get improved looms. There is difficulty in the budgetary framework to earmark this revenue for the protection of the handloom industry. It is even unconstitutional to do so. Suppose we get a certain amount of revenue from this tax. Is it suggested that the whole of that revenue should be spent on encouraging the handloom industry? The object is there, namely, that handloom industry should be protected. We certainly will make use of the revenue collected. Suppose we utilize the revenue that we get from this tax on irrigation works, and some other revenue is utilized for helping the handloom industry, what is the wrong? I do not think that hon. Members can object to this course. Somehow money should be spent, and that will be spent in some way or other. Whether money will be spent on protecting the handloom industry to the same extent as the revenue from this tax is derived, I cannot say. But something will be done to protect the handloom industry."

Clause 2 was put and carried.

Clause 1 and the Preamble were put and carried.

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—

"Sir, I beg to move—

'That the Madras General Sales Tax (Second Amendment) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 20 of 1954), as passed by the Assembly, be passed.'"

THE MADRAS SLUM IMPROVEMENT (ACQUISITION OF LAND) BILL, 1954.

THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Tuesday, 5th January 1954.

The House met in the Assembly Chamber, Government Estate, Mount Road, at ninth of the clock, Mr. Speaker (THE HON. SRI J. SIVASHANMUGAM PILLAI) in the Chair.

(2) THE MADRAS SLUM IMPROVEMENT (ACQUISITION OF LAND) BILL, 1954.

THE HON. SRI A. B. SHETTY :—“ Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg leave to introduce the Madras Slum Improvement (Acquisition of Land) Bill, 1954, and move—

‘ That the Bill be taken into consideration at once.’

“ This is a very useful legislative measure and the need for it is very urgent. The object of the Bill is explained in the Statement of Objects and Reasons—

‘ There are a number of slum areas in the City of Madras which are a source of danger to the public health and sanitation of the City. Slums existing on Government or Corporation lands can be improved by the Government or by the Corporation. But clearance of slums on private lands presents many difficulties. Private owners are not willing to carry out improvements to the lands which are really costly. The only method of solving this difficulty is to acquire the lands and provide the necessary amenities. Under the law, as it stands, land can be acquired under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, the Madras Town-Planning Act, 1920, or the Madras City Improvement Trust Act, 1950; but all these enactments provide for payment of compensation on the basis of market value. Acquisition of land under these enactments is therefore very costly. Government consider it necessary to provide for the acquisition of slum areas on payment of reasonable compensation based on actual income from the land. The Bill is designed to achieve this object and it provides for payment as compensation of 20 times the net average annual income during the five years immediately preceding the acquisition.’ ”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ Motion moved—

‘ That the Madras Slum Improvement (Acquisition of Land) Bill, 1954, be taken into consideration at once.’ ”

SRI P. RAMAMURTHI :—“ கனம் சபைத் தலைவர் அவர்களே இந்த மசோதா கொண்டு வருவதன் மூலமாக உடனடியாக சென்னை நகரத்திலுள்ள சேரிகளில் உள்ள நிலங்களை சர்க்கார் நேரடியாக தங்கள் வசப்படுத்திக் கொண்டு அங்குள்ள மக்களுக்கு ஒரு நியாயமான முறையில், சுகாதார முறையில் குடியிருப்புக்கு வேண்டிய வசதி செய்து கொடுக்கும் நோக்கத்தோடு கொண்டுவரப் பட்டது என்று சொல்லப்பட்டுள்ளது. ஒட்டுமொத்தமாகப் பார்க்கும் போது இந்த வசதி செய்து கொடுக்கும் நோக்கம் சரியான நோக்கமாக இருந்தாலும்கூட இதில் இருக்கக்கூடிய சில ஷரத்துக்களை நோக்கும்போது நிலைமை இன்று பயங்கரமாக, ஆபத்தாகத்தான் இருக்கிறது. குறிப்பாக அவர்களுக்கு என்ன நஷ்ட ஈடு கொடுக்க வேண்டுமென்று இதில் குறிப்பிட்டுள்ளது ஆட்சேபகரமானது. அதாவது இன்றைக்கு அவர்களுக்குவருஷத்திற்கு கிடைக்கும் சராசரி வருமானம் போல் 20 மடங்கு நஷ்ட ஈடு கொடுக்க நிர்ணயிக்கப்பட்டுள்ளது. ஆனால் இன்று சென்னை நகரத்தின் நிலைமையை பார்க்கும்போது, சமீப காலத்தில் அதுவும் குறிப்பாக யுத்தம் ஏற்பட்ட பிறகு சென்னையில் ஜனத்தொகை அதிகரித்துவிட்ட காரணத்தால் இந்த சேரிகளில் உள்ள நிலங்களின் சொந்தக்காரர்கள் இங்கிருக்கக்கூடிய குடிசைகளுக்கு வாடகை உயர்த்தி இருக்கிறார்கள். சமீப காலத்தில் என்றால் இப்பொழுதில்லை; இந்த மசோதா வருவதற்கு முன்னதாகவே இந்தநிலை ஏற்பட்டுள்ளது என்று சொல்லுகிறேன். ஒரு குடிசைக்கு மாதமொன்றுக்கு 2 ரூபாய் முதல் 3 ரூபாய் வரை சாதாரணமாக இன்றைக்கு வாடகை வாங்கப்படுகிறது. அப்படிப்பட்ட நிலைமையில் எடுத்துக்கொண்டால் குறைந்த பட்சம் வருஷத்திற்கு ரூ. 24-க்கு மேல் ஆகிறது. ஒரு கிரவுண்ட் நிலத்தை எடுத்துக்கொண்டால் ரூ. 2,400 முதல் ரூ. 2,800 வரை இன்று அவர்களுக்கு அதிகப்படியான நஷ்ட ஈடு கொடுக்க வேண்டுமென்றிருக்கிறது. இந்த கணக்கை எடுத்துக்கொண்டு பார்த்தால் இம்மாதிரியான விலை சென்னையில் மவுண்ட் ரோடு போன்ற இடங்களிலுள்ள மார்க்கெட் விலையாக இருக்கலாம். மற்ற இடங்களில் ரூ. 2,000-க்கும் குறைவாகவே மார்க்கெட் விலை இருப்பதை கவனிக்கலாம். ஆகவே இந்த சட்டம் வர வேண்டுமென்று நிறைவேற்றப்பட்டால், அதற்கு முன்பாக இந்த நஷ்ட ஈட்டுத் தொகையை அல்லது விகிதத்தை பெரிய அளவுக்கு குறைத்தாக வேண்டும். அதாவது இப்போது அவர்களுக்கு ஐந்து மடங்குமேல் நஷ்ட ஈடு கொடுக்கக்கூடாது என்று ஒரு ஷரத்தை இந்த மசோதாவில் புதியதாக சேர்க்கப்பட வேண்டும். இன்றைக்கு இருக்கிற அரசியல் சட்டத்தின் கீழ் நஷ்ட ஈடு கொடுக்காமல் நிலங்களையோ, ஸ்தாவர சொத்துக்களையோ வசப்படுத்தக்கூடாது என்று இருக்கிறது. ஆகையால் கொடுக்கும் நஷ்ட ஈட்டை ஒரு குறைந்த விகிதமாக நியாயமாக கொடுக்க வேண்டும்.

யால் முனிசிபல் ஏரியா, மற்றும் பல பிற்பட்ட இடங்கள், குறிப்பாக சென்னை நகரத்துக்குச் சமமான மேற்சொன்ன மூன்று நகரங்களுக்கும் உடனடியாக இதை விஸ்தரிக்க வேண்டும்.

“இப்பேர்ப்பட்ட மசோதா கொண்டு வருவதற்கு முன்பு மாகாண சர்க்கார் இன்றுள்ள அரசியல் சட்டத்தின் கீழ் மத்திய சர்க்காரின் அங்கீகாரத்தை பெற வேண்டுமென்று இருக்கலாம். அம்மாதிரி இருந்தால் சீக்கிரத்தில் இந்த மாதிரியான மசோதாவை இந்த மூன்று நகரங்களும் போக, மற்றும் இருக்கக்கூடிய முனிசிபல் ஏரியா பூராவும் இதை அமுல் செய்வதற்கு உடனடியாக சட்டங்களை நிறைவேற்றி, அம்மாதிரியான ஒரு நியாயமான மசோதா மூலம் ஏழை மக்களுக்கும், தொழிலாளர்களுக்கும் வசதி செய்து கொடுக்க வேண்டும். அதோடு இந்த மசோதா கொண்டு வரும் அளவில் இங்கு குறிப்பிட்டுள்ள நஷ்ட ஈட்டுத் தொகையை உடனடியாக குறைக்க வேண்டும். அம்மாதிரி நிறைவேற்றப்படாவிட்டால் அது சர்க்காருக்கு பெரிதும் ஆபத்தாக ஏற்படும். ஆகையால் இந்த மசோதாவை ஏற்றுக்கொள்வதற்கு முன் இதை கவனிக்க வேண்டும். அல்லது இதை பரிசீலனைக் கமிட்டிக்கு விட்டு பரிசீலனை செய்ய வேண்டுமென்று என்னுடைய பிரேரேபணையை பிரேரேபிக்கின்றேன்.”

SRI V. GOPALA GOUNDER :—“ Sir, I support the amendment for referring this Bill to a Select Committee. I wish to submit to the House a few points as to why the Bill should be referred to a Select Committee. This Bill is intended to take all necessary precautions against the danger from the existence of slums in the City. We must know that under the Constitution, no man can be deprived of his property without the payment of reasonable compensation. Under the existing Land Acquisition Act, some compensation is paid to the owners when private properties are acquired by the Government. The validity of even that Act has been questioned as being against the Fundamental Rights guaranteed under the Constitution. This Bill also is to a certain extent against the Fundamental Rights guaranteed to private parties under the Constitution. Sir, the provisions relating to the powers taken by the Government under this Bill regarding the acquisition of land, determination of compensation, mode of payment of compensation, etc., need redrafting. Then, even the term 'slum' cannot be applied strictly to all the slum areas in the City. Although this Bill may be intended to cover all such areas, some of the areas which are contemplated under this Bill may not strictly come under the term 'slum'. Further, large powers are reserved to the Government under this Bill. Therefore, I submit that the whole Bill may be referred to a Select Committee so that that Committee may have the opportunity to go into all these provisions carefully, make suitable modifications and bring the revised Bill before the House for approval.”

SRI C. RAJAM RAMASWAMI :—“ The House should feel very grateful to Hon. the Chief Minister for this very valuable Bill that has been introduced in the Assembly to-day. Hundreds of thousands of slum-dwellers in Madras City will be ever grateful to him for this measure. I know, Sir, from personal knowledge during the last two years, a number of slums that were about to be cleared and the dwellers evicted from their homes. The Chief Minister immediately after he assumed office initiated a new policy to be followed in this regard and that was that slums should remain where they were, and improved. He issued orders prohibiting the clearance of any slum by the City Improvement Trust or the Corporation. Improving of the slums in their existing locations presented many difficulties to the Corporation as many of them were situated on private lands. So this measure has been brought forward. I do not think there is any necessity to refer this Bill to a Select Committee. My own feeling is that we should get through this Bill as quickly as possible and see that the required amenities are provided as quickly as possible. There are over 241 slums in the City of Madras, with a population of 2,64,577 dwelling in 36,671 huts occupying an area of about 16,385 grounds. Over 102 slums are situated on private lands, and 44 are on Corporation lands, the others being 'squatters' on Government land.

5th January 1954] [Sri C. Rajam Ramaswami]

“ The Hon. the Leader of the Opposition Sri P. Ramamurthi referred to the question of payment of compensation. I agree with him to this extent that the payment of compensation at twenty times the nett average annual income actually derived from the land sought to be acquired during the period of the previous five consecutive years may be a little too much. But we could add a proviso to the effect that the compensation should not exceed Rs. 500 per ground and that the former or latter, whichever is lower, should be the amount. This is a very important aspect of the question that the Leader of the Opposition has raised and which I believe should be acceded to by Government.

“ Clause 3 of the Bill gives power to Government to acquire any land in a slum area for the purpose of clearing and improving the area. Generally the authorities concerned are more interested in clearing the slum rather than improving it. I do not want this to take place. The authorities should be clearly told that they should improve the slum and not clear it. No doubt the interests of the slum-dwellers are very well protected in the hands of our Chief Minister, but a clear directive should be given to the authorities that no slum should be disturbed and they should be improved at the places where they stand. It has been the experience in the past that everytime a slum is cleared, the dwellers are evicted and made to shift for themselves. This is very wrong and the dwellers should not be asked to go away. The Chief Minister is against it. If at all any slum should be cleared for reasons of sanitation, alternative accommodation should be provided to the dwellers in the vicinity of the slum. This is the fundamental principle on which the Hon. Chief Minister has been laying emphasis and I hope that it will find practical expression in clause 3 by means of a suitable amendment.

“ In regard to the improvement of the various slums in the City of Madras, the Government should also provide the necessary money to the Corporation to acquire the lands and to provide the essential amenities to the dwellers. The mere passing of a Bill without the necessary provisions for providing the essential amenities will be of no use. I earnestly appeal to the Government to give the Corporation sufficient money to improve the slums in the City of Madras, if necessary, by imposing an additional tax on the City Gardenhouse dwellers. As we all know, the Government are reaping a very rich harvest from sales tax in Madras City. I do not see any reason why we should not spend a portion of it in improving the lot of the slum-dwellers. In fact, the 14 lakhs of people living in Madras City contribute a very large sum of money by way of sales tax to the revenues of the State. There is no reason why the slum-dwellers should not expect a small portion of it to be diverted for the improvement and betterment of their lot.

"With these few words, I strongly support the Bill and oppose the amendment for reference to a Select Committee. I urge that the Bill should be immediately taken into consideration and speedily passed and the necessary money provided for improving the lot of the slum-dwellers."

SRI S. C. C. ANTHONY PILLAI :—"Mr. Speaker, I welcome the introduction of this Bill as this tries to meet a long-felt need of the City of Madras. Ever since 1939, the population of the City of Madras has gone up by leaps and bounds. From seven lakhs it has increased to fifteen lakhs. The pressure on housing in the City has led to a large increase in the number of slums and also in the slum population. The Corporation of Madras has been attempting, to the best of its ability, to improve the slums. It has already spent during the last two or three years something like Rs. 30 lakhs to improve the slums on Corporation-owned lands. The second stage of the programme is to improve the slums on Government-owned lands. I am surprised to note that the Government have not taken adequate steps to improve the slums on their own lands and are proceeding to the third stage, namely, the acquisition of slums on private lands. Up till now, the Corporation had the authority to issue instructions to the owner of a land in a slum area to provide certain amenities to the slum-dwellers. But, in practice, it is found that no such thing is done. The Corporation is unwilling to provide the amenities because the provision of amenities will only lead to an increase of the rents payable by the slum-dwellers concerned. Therefore, while I welcome this particular piece of legislation which will create the basis for a radical solution of the slum problem of Madras, I would like to point out that this is only the mere beginning of a much bigger task. Unless and until the Government change their policy with regard to giving funds and financial support to municipalities and to the Corporation of Madras to provide the amenities which would be required after the acquisition of these lands, this will only be a mere nominal piece of legislation of very doubtful value. The only reason why I am supporting the amendment, that this Bill be referred to a Select Committee, is this. I myself was a little doubtful about the value of wasting time in referring such a Bill to a Select Committee. I have been persuaded by my Friends to support the amendment only on this ground, namely, that this is a piece of legislation which is likely to be contested very hotly in courts of law. Therefore, the greatest amount of caution should be exercised in regard to the wording of the Bill so that time may not be wasted on unnecessary litigation with regard to the validity of this legislation that is sought to be enacted.

"The second reason why I would like this Bill to be referred to a Select Committee is this. Unless the compensation that is payable is fixed at a low amount, I do not think anything useful is likely to emerge as a result of this particular piece of legislation. If the compensation is fixed at a low amount, it may be possible for some slum-dwellers to come forward and say, 'All right, we shall pay that amount provided the Government take over the slum.' But if the compensation is fixed at a high amount, the net result will be that the Government will have to bear the whole burden of the acquisition. If that happens, we are afraid from our past experience that the Government will always tell us that they have not the necessary funds to take particular steps under the enactment which they themselves have brought forward. Nevertheless, with this reservation, I welcome, on behalf of the citizens of Madras, this Bill and hope and trust that it will be passed expeditiously into law."

SRI T. K. RAMA :—“கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, இந்த மசோதாவை ஆதரித்து சில வார்த்தைகள் பேச விரும்புகின்றேன். பெரிய நகரங்களிலும், முனிசிபாலிட்டிகளிலும் சேரிகள் ஏற்படுவதை தடுக்க முடியவில்லை. பல ஆண்டுகளாக இந்த சேரிகள் பிரச்சனை தீர்க்க முடியாமல் இருந்து வருகிறது. இன்று அதற்கான ஒரு மசோதா கொண்டுவரப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. இந்த மாதிரி ஒரு மசோதா வெகு காலத்திற்கு முன்பே வந்திருந்தால் மிகவும் நல்ல தாய் இருந்திருக்கும். ஆனால் இம்மசோதா மற்ற நகரங்களுக்கும் இடங்களுக்கும் விஸ்தரிக்கப்படவேண்டுமென்ற விஷயம் கவனிக்கப்பட வேண்டியதாகும். இந்த மசோதா சட்டமாக ஆக்கப்பட்ட பின்பு, சென்னை நகரத்தில் அநேகமாக ஸ்லம் ஏரியா அதாவது சேரிகளே இல்லாமல்கூட போகலாம். ஏனென்றால் தனிப்பட்டவர்களுடைய நிலங்களை குடிசைகள் கட்டி குடி இருப்பவர்களுக்கு சட்டபூர்வமாக பாத்தியமாக்கிவிட்டால், நிலத்தின் சொந்தக் காரர்கள் மிகவும் பாதிக்கப்படுவார்கள். ஆகையால் தனிப்பட்டவர்கள் தங்களுடைய இடங்களில் இனி நல்ல முறையில் வீடுகள் கட்டிக்கொள்ளும்படி பார்த்துக்கொள்வார்கள். இம்மாதிரியான அனுகூலமான சட்டம் சென்னை நகரத்திற்கு மாத்திரம் அமுலுக்கு வருவதைத் தவிர மற்ற நகரங்களுக்கும் இந்த சட்டம் கொண்டுவரவேண்டுமென்பது என்னுடைய கோரிக்கை. சென்னைக்கு அடுத்தபடி ஜனத்தொகையிலோ, அல்லது வேறு விஷயங்களிலோ மதுரை விசேஷமாக இருந்துவருகிறது அங்கு ஐந்து நூற்பு மில்களும், பல தொழிற்சாலைகளும் இருக்கின்றன. 60 ஆயிரம் தொழிலாளர்கள் இருக்கிறார்கள், மேலும் அது 60 ஆயிரம் நெசவாளர்களும் வசிக்கும் நகரமாகும். அப்பேர்ப்பட்ட மதுரையில் குடிசைப்பிரதேசத்திற்கு பஞ்சமே இல்லை. சேரிகளில் வசிப்பவர்கள் படும்கஷ்டத்தைப் பற்றி ஸ்ரீ ராமமூர்த்தி அவர்கள் கூறினார்கள். ஆனால் அதைத் தவிர இன்னும் வேறுமாதிரியான சில பிரதேசங்களும் இருக்கின்றன. இந்த பிரதேசங்களில் வசிப்பவர்களைக் காப்பாற்றப்படவேண்டியது மிகவும் அவசியமாகும். இச்சட்டம் கொண்டுவர யூனியன் பிரசிடென்ட் அவர்களிடம் அனுமதி வாங்கும்பொழுது சென்னைக்கு மாத்திரம் என்று அனுமதி வாங்கப்பட்டிருக்கலாம் என்று ஸ்ரீ ராமமூர்த்தி அவர்கள் சொல்வது சரியாக இருக்காது என்று நினைக்கிறேன். இச்சட்டத்தின் பெயர் மெட்ராஸ் ஸ்லம் என்று இருக்கிறதே தவிர, மெட்ராஸ் சிட்டி ஸ்லம் என்று குறிப்பிடப்பட்டவில்லை. ஆகையால் இச்சட்டம் மெட்ராஸ் நகரத்திற்கு மட்டும் குறிப்பாக உள்ளது என்று சொல்வதற்கில்லை. ஆகையால் இச்சட்டத்தை மதுரை, திருச்சி, கோயம்புத்தூர் ஆகிய நகரங்களுக்கும் இப்போதே கொண்டுவருவதாக ஏற்றுக்கொண்டாலும் சரி, அல்லது சென்னை நகரத்திற்கும், சர்க்கார் அவ்வப்பொழுது அறிவிக்கும் மற்ற நகரங்களுக்கும் கொண்டு வருவதாக ஒரு திருத்தம் ஏற்றுக்கொண்டாலும் போதுமானதாகும். இந்த உதவி இந்த சந்தர்ப்பத்தில் செய்வதுதான் நல்லது. ஒரே மாதிரியான நிலமையிலிருக்கும் மற்ற நகரங்களை பாரபட்சமாக நடத்துவதுகூடாது என்பதை தெரிவித்துக் கொள்ள ஆசைபடுகின்றேன். ஆகையால் இவைகளை ஆலோசனை செய்ய இந்த மசோதாவை பரிசீலனை கமிட்டிக்கு அனுப்பலாம் என்று கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகிறேன்.”

SRI K. VINAYAKAM :—“Mr. Speaker, I am aware of the good objects and laudable aims of this Bill that is now brought before this House. We thank the Government for having brought this good piece of legislation. I had a talk with the Hon. Chief

[5th January 1954] [Sri K. Vinayakam]

Minister as to why this Bill should not be referred to a Select Committee. The Hon. Chief Minister was expressing his doubts whether people who work for this kind of reference to a Select Committee are on the side of the landlords. That is a wrong impression which he has gained out of our intention to refer this Bill to a Select Committee. We are not trying to pamper or encourage the owners of slums. Even in the first instance, I would like to clear this wrong impression. Sir, out of some practical experience which we have gained in the City of Madras, we are for the eradication of slums. There can be no two opinions as far as the necessity for the improvement of slums is concerned. But, how are we to do it? What are the legal lacunae in this Bill? These are things which I want the Government to ponder over. To clear all these troubles, I want this Bill to be referred to a Select Committee. I may assure the Government that we, the Opposition Members, will not delay this Bill in the Select Committee for a long time. The Hon. Chief Minister was expressing his doubts that this Bill is likely to be hotly contested by the owners of the slums in the High Court and they are likely to get a favourable verdict. I am aware of such kinds of pitfalls in this Bill and that is the very reason why I want this Bill to be thrashed out properly by a Select Committee.

“Coming to the merits of the Bill, I want to expatiate on one or two points. In the first instance, the word, ‘slum’ is not properly defined in this Bill. I have perused the literature concerning this subject, viz., the City Improvement Trust Act, the Madras District Municipalities Act and the Town-Planning Act. Nowhere the term, ‘slum’ is properly defined. There is a misapprehension that slum means a cheri. It is not so. ‘Slum’ is an exhaustive term which includes cheri also. Slum is a place where not only Harijans but also other economically backward classes of people live. It is partially defined in the Bill as a place where sanitary facilities are not properly provided and is likely to cause danger to public health. This definition is not exhaustive. For instance, I will presently quote some cases out of my experience. In Kodambakkam, there are a few temples which own vast lands. They are lands donated to the temples and have now become slums. Originally, these were vast lands where there was no habitation of any kind. Some years back, some generous philanthropists donated these lands to the temples. Afterwards, due to the influx of population into the City, mostly poor people who had no means of livelihood, wanted to put up some houses on these lands. It is the natural tendency of anyone to own a house of his own. So, these people approach the trustees of the temple and get on lease a piece of land for putting up a hut. Then they put up huts. It is my experience that the trustees charge Rs. 2 or Rs. 3 per ground. I also know instances in which private slum-owners are charging Rs. 2 to Rs. 3 per hut which will be only 10 feet by 10 feet. So, the rates vary from Rs. 2 per ground to Rs. 40 or Rs. 50 per ground. The Corporation is charging one anna per hut. Hon. Member Sri Ratnam has been posted with incorrect information. I may tell him straightway that the Corporation is not charging beyond 8 annas per slum. Even in those places where it charges 8 annas, it provides the dwellers with all amenities which any part of the City could boast of. In places where the Corporation does not provide any amenities, it charges only one anna. This is done only to get over some legal trouble. If the Corporation did not charge any money, it is likely to be contested by the dwellers after some years, say 12 years or so, that they have gained prescriptive rights. These are some of the practical difficulties which have got to be settled by a Select Committee.

"It is not as if we are trying to delay the passage of this Bill and see that landlords get fat amounts from the Government by way of compensation. Sir, there is another 'slum' in Kodambakkam owned by the Government called Thiruvalluvarpuram Colony. The landlords are the Government. I have been approaching the Government authorities including the Collector of Madras on behalf of the dwellers, if they cannot make out pattas in favour of these people. The Government are aware that there is a ban in force on making out pattas and leasing out lands within a radius of ten miles around the City of Madras. The G.O. stares at the Collector whenever he takes up the question of leasing out lands with the result that it has been possible neither to give the slum-dwellers the land free nor to lease it out to them. What is happening now? There are two hundred huts on this land with no amenities provided to the dwellers. We cannot find fault with the Corporation because they cannot effect any improvements on Government-owned or private-owned slums. If they do anything, there will be audit objections and so the Corporation cannot spend its own money on slums other than their own. The Government also have not done anything to the slum-dwellers. These are the defects in the Bill which we want to rectify at the Select Committee stage. In fact, we help the Government by asking them to refer the Bill to a Select Committee. Sir, there is yet another slum near the Kodambakkam Railway station with nearly 400 huts. Round about this slum have sprung up beautiful colonies like the United India Colony. The owner of this vast slum is harassing the dwellers and is collecting a rent of two rupees per hut. The landlord has not provided them with amenities like flush-out, latrines, water-supply, electric light and passable roads. Therefore, the Government should not rush with this legislation, however laudable its objects may be. If they proceed with it in haste, they will be put in a very inconvenient position later on of having to defend themselves in the High Court against suits. Of course, they may then bring in an amending legislation to rectify the defects contained in the original Act. But we want that such a thing should not happen. These are the factors which have actuated our motion for reference to a Select Committee. The Hon. the Chief Minister was saying that Communists were a large-hearted people and were for this good piece of legislation and that we, meaning me and people of my way of thinking, were for the landlords getting more money. Sir, I say that the Government benches are more for the landlords. If we were in power, we would not give any compensation to zamindars and the rest of them. So, Sir, the factors which have actuated us to take up this attitude are equally laudable as those of Congressmen, if not more laudable.

"With these words, I would commend the motion for referring the Bill to a Select Committee."

DR. K. B. MENON :—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I certainly welcome the principle of the Bill as it has been welcomed by many a Member of this House. Nobody contests the principle of the Bill. It is very good that the Government have brought out such a Bill. The very fact that they have done so is an acceptance on the part of the Government of the responsibility of taking care of the poor in the City. To that extent, the Bill is all right and only to that extent, I would like to compliment the Government for bringing forward the Bill.

"Sir, I do not believe that the Bill is so innocuous or so innocent as it seems. It certainly is an important measure and deserves to be carefully gone into. The Hon. the Minister in charge of the Bill, in introducing it, did not give us sufficient information. He was very brief in his remarks and I must confess that we are unable to say much about the Bill itself. This is what happens not only with regard to the present Bill but with regard to every Bill that is presented in this House. Members take a leap in the dark. Members do not have information. They do not have facts. So, I commend it to the Government that when measures of this kind are introduced, full facts must be given to the Opposition. The Government have the advantage of having the information but the Opposition has not got the advantage of having the information. So, the Opposition is unable to express a considered opinion on important measures of this nature. I claim that the Bill before the House is not so innocuous because—I do not wish to question the motives of the Government—one suspects that the Bill, since it is in the interests of the landlords, might have been even suggested by the landlords themselves. The reason is the slums may be depressing the value of lands nearby and the landlords may make an effort to increase the value of their lands by doing away with the slums. But we have no facts. We do not know where the slums are located and how many of them exist in the City. We do not know what the Government propose to do for the poor people. We are not interested in the compensation paid to the landlords. The appreciation in land values in the City is in fact an unearned increment for landlords. It is a social contribution and therefore, the Government would be perfectly justified in confiscating this increment by not paying any compensation at all. But, however, if they decide to pay, they should take a normal year as the basic year and determine the compensation amount on that basis. I do not think that any heavy compensation need be paid to landlords. We have not had any guarantee from the Government that, when the slums are cleared, the slum people will be provided with accommodation elsewhere. We do not know, if they will be provided, how they will be provided, how many of them will be provided and all that. We do not know how many of them will be thrown into the street. We want to know the plan of the Government. These are the facts we want the Government to place before us before they press a measure of this kind to be passed. The measure in itself may be good. But once it is brought into force, what would be its social effects, economic effects, upon the people? That is the question that is to be considered. We want more details before we consider this measure. I, therefore, commend that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee and even to an expert committee, if need be, and not immediately pressed here."

SRI B. K. NALLASWAMI :—"கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, இந்த மசோதாவானது நகர பிரதேசத்திற்கு மிகவும் நன்மை அளிக்குமென்பதில் சந்தேகமில்லை. இந்த மசோதா எல்லா கிராமப் பகுதிகளுக்கும் விஸ்தரிக்கப்பட வேண்டுமென்பதைச் சொல்வதற்காகவே நான் இங்கு எழுந்திருக்கிறேன். குறிப்பாக, பவானி, திருச்செங்கோடு தாலுகாக்களை எடுத்துக்கொண்டால் 20, 30 வருஷங்களாக பட்டா பூமிகளில் ஹரிஜனங்கள் குடியிருந்துகொண்டு வருகிறவர்களுடைய நிலங்களை இன்னும் பட்டா செய்து கொடுக்காமல் இருக்கிறது. ஒவ்வொரு வீட்டிலும் சராசரி 10 பேருக்குமேல் 20 தலை வரை இருந்துகொண்டிருக்கிறார்கள். அங்கே அவர்கள் குடியிருந்துகொண்டு வருவதற்குப் பதிலாக அங்குள்ள கிராம மிராசதாருக்கு வருஷந்தோறும் ஆயிரம், இரண்டாயிரம் ரூபாய் பெரும்படியான குப்பையை கடந்த 20, 30 வருஷங்களாகவே கொடுத்துக் கொண்டு வருகிறார்கள். பழைய தர்மப்படி பார்த்தாலும்கூட, கடங்காரர்கள் கணக்குப்படி பார்த்தாலும்கூட, ஒரு அசலானது கொஞ்ச நாட்களில் இரண்டு மடங்கு வட்டி கொடுத்துவிட்டால் அந்த கடன் ஒழிந்துவிடும் என்றுள்ளது. ஆகையால் அம்மாதிரி அங்குள்ளவர்கள் 500 முதல் 1,000 ரூபாய் வரை பெருமானமுள்ள குப்பைகளை வருஷந்தோறும் கடந்த 20, 30 வருஷங்களாக மிராசதார்களுக்கு கொடுத்தும்கூட இன்னும் அந்த பூமிகள் ரூ. 500 பெருமானமானதாயிருந்தாலும் அங்கு வாழும் மக்களுக்கு பட்டா செய்யப்படாமல் இருக்கிறது. அது மாத்திரம் அல்ல. அவர்கள் அடிமையாக வாழக்கூடிய மக்களாகவும், அவர்கள் சொல்லுகிறபடி நடக்கும்படியும் செய்யப்படுகிறார்கள். ஆனால் நம் அரசியல் நிர்ணய சட்டத்தின் கீழ் பெரிய சுதந்திரம் பெற்றுவிட்டதாக சொல்லப்படுகிறது. இந்த அநீதிகளை நீக்க மட்டும் செய்யவில்லை. அந்த சேரிகளிலுள்ள மக்கள் அவர்கள் சொல்லுகிறபடி ஒட்டு போடாவிட்டாலும்கூட அவர்களை அப்புறப்படுத்துவதின் மூலம் ரொம்ப துன்பமெல்லாம், மனித தன்மைக்கும் கேவலமான கொடுமைகளால் துன்பங்களை அனுபவித்துக் கொண்டிருக்கிறார்கள். இந்த மாதிரி இடங்களில் இந்த மசோதா விஸ்தரிக்கப்பட வேண்டுமென்று கூறுவதற்குத்தான் நான் பேசுகின்றேன். காலையிலே கேள்வி நேரத்திலே பார்த்தால்கூட பெரும்பாலான கிராமச் சேரிகளில் தொத்து நோய்கள் பரவுகின்றன என்பதை அங்கத்தினர்கள் தெரிவித்தார்கள். அதிலும் மலபாரை எடுத்துக்கொண்டால் காலரா, டைபாயிடு போன்ற தொத்து வியாதிகள் ஸ்லம் ஏரியாவில் அதாவது பொதுவாக சேரிகளில் அதிகமாக பரவுவதைக் காணலாம். அப்படி இருக்கும்போது இதை நகரத்திற்கு மட்டும் கொண்டு வருவது என்பதில்லாமல், எல்லாப் பிரதேசங்களுக்கும் இந்த மசோதா விஸ்தரிக்கப்பட்டால், அங்குள்ள மக்கள் இந்தமாதிரியான துன்பங்களுக்கு ஆளாக வேண்டியதில்லை என்பதைத் தெரிவித்துக்கொண்டு இந்த மசோதா மற்ற பிரதேசங்களுக்கும் குறிப்பாக கிராமங்களுக்கும் கொண்டுவரவேண்டுமென்று அரசாங்கத்தைக் கேட்டுக்கொண்டு இதை ஆதரிக்கின்றேன்."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—"I rise to warmly welcome this particular legislation which has been introduced by Government. There is hardly to be any opposition to measures of social amelioration of the sort that is now proposed. Certainly there will be unanimous support of the House to the present measure. But all the same I would like to make some suggestions to make the Bill more efficient and more sensible in its working. I join in the criticism that has been made just now, I cannot call it a criticism but rather a constructive suggestion, that Government should not always be city-conscious but should extend these amenities, these ameliorative measures, to those slums outside the City of Madras. There are various places in the districts and mofussil towns where slum-dwellers live in large numbers. It is imperative that the municipalities and other towns should improve their lot. They should be given financial assistance by the Government. I would urge upon this Government to extend the present piece of legislation to other mofussil towns also, where the slums are in large number. They should not concentrate their attention on the city alone. Of course I should admit that I have not personally examined the pros and cons of such a legislation for the improvement of slums in the mofussil towns also. There may be constitutional difficulties. But those difficulties could be overcome if only Government were to apply their minds to them and take necessary action."

"Coming to the subject of compensation, that is now suggested in the present Bill, I find the present rate proposed is rather too high. Government may find themselves ultimately in a position when on calculating the amount of compensation, they would arrive at a large figure and they may say that because such a huge amount is involved, they cannot proceed with the improvement of the slums. I do not want that such a situation should arise in future. That is why I plead that the quantum of compensation now proposed may be reduced. There is a proposal in the schedule to the present Bill that the average annual income for five consecutive years multiplied by 20 shall be paid as compensation. That works out to 20 times the income from the land. It should be realised that the income from the land is derived by extorting huge rents from these poor slum-dwellers. That should not be lost sight of. Take the case of the Madras Buildings Lease and Rent Control Act. How does it work? How does the controller fix fair rent? When that is the case for buildings, it is all the more necessary that fair rent should be first fixed for these slum dwellings and then on that basis, compensation should be calculated. Otherwise, if we proceed with the present method of calculation, I am afraid that the total compensation to be paid will hit our finances too much. Fair rent is fixed at 25 or 50 per cent in excess of the rent obtaining a year before 1940 (viz., the outbreak of war). That is how the calculation of fair rent is arrived at under the Rent Control Act. The landlords have got no scruples. They extort from these poor slum-dwellers any rent they choose. Poor slum-dwellers have no chance to voice forth their grievances. Who is there who fixes fair rent for them? Therefore if we are to pay compensation to the already rich landlords by adopting this principle of taking the average annual income from the land for five consecutive years and then multiply it by 20, not only will we be exploiting our own meagre resources but at the same time we will be giving the landlords some more bounty. That is why it is better to adopt the principle followed in the case of the Rent Control Act. Take the average rent prevailing a year before 1940, viz., 1939 (just before the war broke out and rents shot up) and then multiply that fair rent by a smaller multiple than the present 20. Let the multiple be say 15 or 18. After all this piece of legislation is for social amelioration of these poor slum-dwellers. Instead of spending our resources for their uplift, why go on feeding the landlords by way of paying very high compensation?

"This Slum Improvement Bill is not a final say in the matter. Mere acquisition of lands in slum areas in the City of Madras is not going to confer everlasting benefit on the slum-dwellers or usher in a millennium. What is the cry of the hour? Slum improvement. That is where we should concentrate more. Let me not be mistaken as though I am against Government acquiring the lands wherein the slums are now situated. No doubt, it is a laudable object. But they should not overlook the prime need of the hour. I do not find any mention in the Bill as to the manner in which they are going to improve the condition of the slums. No authority has been specifically entrusted with the work of slum improvement. I do not find either the City Corporation or the City Improvement Trust entrusted with the working of carrying out improvements to the slums by way of provision of electric lights, better roads, suitable provision for clearance of refuse and other civic amenities. I would request the authorities concerned to prepare at least a 'minimum plan'. (I mean the plan which will cost us the minimum) for providing better housing for these slum-dwellers. Let not the spectacle of inordinate delay in the matter of land acquisition proceedings repeat itself here also in the matter of acquisition of lands for slum-dwellers. Let the men in charge of enforcement of this work be asked to be vigilant in their work and let the Government carry out both in letter as well as in action the spirit behind this Bill, viz., the improvement of social condition of our slum-dwellers, who deserve our sympathy."

SRI R. S. ARUMUGAM :—"கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, ஏழைகளுக்கு மனைக்கட்டுகள் கொடுக்கும் விஷயமாக இப்பொழுது இந்த சட்டசபையில் விவாதிக்கப்பட்டு வருகிறது. அவர்கள் இருக்கும் இடங்களை நஷ்ட ஈடு கொடுத்து வாங்கி அவர்களுக்கே அந்த இடங்களைக் கொடுத்து விடவேண்டும் என்று சொல்லப்படுகிறது. இந்த திட்டத்தை என்னைப் போல் உள்ளவர்கள் பாராட்டாமல்

[Sri R. S. Arumugam] 5th January 1954]

இருக்க முடியாது. இப்பொழுது பல ஏழைகள் சொந்த வீடுகள் இல்லாமல் இருக்கிறார்கள். ஏழை மக்கள் வேலைக்கு போய்விட்டு வீட்டுக்கு வந்தால் வீடு தன்னுடைய சொந்த வீடாக இருக்கவேண்டும் என்ற கவலை ஏற்படாமல் இருக்காது. தன்னுடையதாக இருக்க வேண்டாமா என்று எண்ணம் தோன்றத்தான் செய்யும். ஏழைகளுக்கு சொந்த வீடு ஒன்று வரப்போகிறது என்பதைக் கேட்க என்னைப் போன்றவர்களுக்கு மிகவும் சந்தோஷமாக இருக்கிறது.

"அதே நேரத்தில் ஒரு வருஷ மொத்த நில வருவாயைப் போல 20 மடங்கு அவர்கள் நஷ்ட ஈடு செலுத்தவேண்டும் என இருக்கிறது. அது அவர்களால் கொடுக்க முடியாது என்பதைப்பற்றி முன்பு பேசிய பலரும் சொன்னார்கள். அதையே தான் நானும் அப்பிராயப்படுகிறேன். அந்தத் தொகை முழுவதையும் அந்த வீட்டில் வசிப்பவர்கள் கொடுக்கவேண்டும் என்றால் அவர்களால் அவ்வளவு தொகை செலுத்த முடியுமா? என்பதை சிறிது யோசித்துப்பார்க்கவேண்டும். அதைக் குறைத்து 10 மடங்கு க்குமேல் எவ்விதத்திலும் அதிகப்படாமல் செய்யவேண்டும்.

"அடுத்தபடியாக நண்பர் ரத்தினம் அவர்கள் சொன்ன மாதிரி தொகை எல்லாவற்றையும் அவர்களே கட்டவேண்டும் என்பதை ஓரளவு தளர்த்தி சர்க்கார் அதில் ஒரு பகுதியை செலுத்தினால்தான் அந்த மக்களுக்கு ஒரு அளவு கஷ்டம் இல்லாமல் இருக்கும் என்பதை இந்த இடத்தில் சொல்லிக்கொள்ள ஆசைப்படுகிறேன்.

"மேலும் கிராமங்களில் இருக்கும் தாழ்த்தப்பட்டவர்களை விட நகரங்களில் இருக்கும் தாழ்த்தப்பட்டவர்கள் ஓரளவு அதிகமாக கஷ்டப்பட்டுக் கொண்டிருக்கிறார்கள் என்பதை யாரும் மறுக்க முடியாது. நகரங்களில் வாழும் தாழ்த்தப்பட்டவர்களைவிட கிராமங்களில் வாழும் தாழ்த்தப்பட்டவர்கள் சிறிது விஸ்தாரமான இடத்தில் வசிக்கிறார்கள் என்று கூட நான் சொல்வேன். நகரத்தில் தாழ்த்தப்பட்டவர்கள் பத்து அடி அகலமுள்ள குடிசைகளில் 2, 3 பேர்கள் கூட வாழ்ந்து வருகிறார்கள். இந்த நிலை நகரங்களில் இருந்து வருகிறது. ஆகையால் சகல விதத்திலும் அவர்களுக்கும் பாதுகாப்பு அளிக்க வேண்டியதுதான்.

"சென்னை நகரத்திற்கு மாத்திரம் தான் அது அமுலுக்கு வரப்போகிறது என்றால் அதை நான் ஒத்துக்கொள்வதற்கில்லை. பல நகரங்கள் செல்வது போல் இதை எல்லா இடங்களுக்கும் கொண்டுவரவேண்டியதாக இருக்கிறது. இந்த கஷ்டம் சென்னை நகரத்தில் மட்டும் அல்ல, மதுரை, திருநெல்வேலி, கோயம்புத்தூர், போன்ற நகரங்களிலும் இருக்கத்தான் செய்கிறது. ஆகவே இந்த சட்டத்தைச் செய்யும் போது எல்லா இடங்களுக்கும் தான் செய்யவேண்டும். அதைவிட்டு விட்டு சென்னை நகரத்தோடு மட்டும் நிறுத்தி விடக்கூடாது. மற்ற இடங்களுக்குக் கொண்டு வராமல் சென்னை நகரத்திற்கு மட்டும் கொண்டு வந்தால் அங்கங்குள்ள நிலச் சொந்தக்காரர்கள் முன்னாக்கிரதையாக இப்பொழுதே அங்கு வசிப்பவர்களை வெளியேற்றி விடுவார்கள். அவ்விதம் அப்புரப்படுத்தும் நிலைமை ஏற்படும். இதற்கு அவர்களுக்கு இடம் கொடுக்காமல் சட்டம் செய்யவேண்டும். தஞ்சையில் விவசாயிகளுக்கு அனுசூலமாக ஒரு சட்டம் வருகிறது என்றால் உடனே அந்த சட்டம் மற்ற இடங்களுக்கும் வந்து விடுமோ என்று அங்கங்குள்ள நிலச்சுவான்தார்கள் முன் ஜாக்கிரதையாக இருக்கிறார்கள். அதுபோல் சென்னை நகரத்தில் சட்டம் வரும்போது மற்ற இடங்களில் வராமல் இருந்தால் மற்ற இடங்களில் இருக்கும் தாழ்த்தப்பட்டவர்கள் அவதிப்படுவார்கள். அந்த நிலைமை ஏற்படாமல் ஒரே சந்தர்ப்பத்தில் தூத்துக்குடி திருநெல்வேலிபோன்ற சென்னை மாகாணத்தில் இருக்கக்கூடிய எல்லா முனிசிபல் நகரங்களுக்கும் இது அமுலுக்கு வரும் படியாக ஏற்பாடு செய்யவேண்டும். இல்லா விட்டால் இப்பொழுது 20 மடங்கு நஷ்ட ஈடு கொடுக்கவேண்டும் என்று இருப்பதைவைத்துக்கொண்டு இப்பொழுதே 4, 5 வருஷமாக அதிகமாக வருமானம் வந்ததாக அவர்களிடமிருந்து எழுதி வாங்கிக்கொண்டுவிடுவார்கள். இதற்கு இடம் கொடுக்கக்கூடாது என்று கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகிறேன். மேலும் கிராமத்துக்கும்

“அது ஒருபுறமிருக்க. இந்த மசோதாவில் நிலச் சொந்தக்காரர்களுக்கு கொடுக்கப் போவதாக இருக்கும் நஷ்ட ஈட்டைக் குறைக்கவேண்டும் என்றும் அதிலும் சர்க்கார் ஒரு பகுதியைக் கொடுக்க ஏற்றுக்கொள்ளவேண்டும் என்றும் தெரிவித்துக்கொள்கிறேன். ஏழைகளுக்கு பாதுகாப்பு அளிக்க வேண்டியதற்காக சகல வசதிகளையும் செய்வதற்கு சர்க்கார் முன்வரவேண்டும். எல்லா நகரங்களுக்கும் முதலிலேயே விஸ்தரிக்கும் ஒரு முடிவுக்கு வரவேண்டும். இந்த முறையை ஆலோசனை செய்வதற்கு ஒரு கமிட்டியை நியமித்து அதன் மூலம் நல்ல முடிவுக்கு சீக்கிரமாக வருவதும் தவரானது அல்ல என்ற என்னுடைய அபிப்பிராயத்தைத் தெரிவித்துக் கொண்டு என்னுடைய பேச்சை இத்துடன் முடித்துக்கொள்ளுகிறேன்.”

SRI K. R. SAMBANDAM:—“கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, ஸ்ரீ ரத்னம் அவர்கள் கொண்டு வந்த திருத்த பிரேரணையை ஆதரித்து நான் சில விஷயங்களை சர்க்காருடைய கவனத்திற்குச் கொண்டுவர ஆசைப்படுகின்றேன்.

“இந்தப் பிரச்சினையானது சென்னை நகரத்தில் மட்டுமல்லாமல் இந்த ராஜ்யம் பூராவிலுமே தாழ்த்தப்பட்ட மக்களும் சரி, பிற்பட்ட வகுப்பினரும் சரி, மற்ற ஏழைகளாக இருக்கக் கூடியவர்களும் ஸ்லம் ஏரியாக்களில் திண்டாடுகிறார்கள். அவர்களுக்கு எந்த விதமான பாதுகாப்பும் கிடையாது. சென்னை நகரம் போன்ற மற்ற முனிசிபல் ஏரியாக்களிலும், பஞ்சாயத்து ஏரியாக்களிலும் வசிக்கும் ஏழை மக்களுக்கு, எந்த விதமான பாதுகாப்பும் கிடையாது. அவர்களுக்கு பாதுகாப்பு அளிக்காவிட்டால் அந்த சமுதாயமானது மிகவும் கீழான நிலையிலே போய்க்கொண்டிருப்பது மாத்திரமல்ல, அது ஒரு தொத்து நோயைப் போல் பரவி ஜனசமுதாயத்தையே அரித்துக்கொண்டிருக்கக்கூடிய நிலைமைக்கு கொண்டுவரப்படும் என்பதை நான் சொல்லவேவியல்லை. ஏனென்றால், இப்பொழுது இந்த மசோதாவை சர்க்கார் கொண்டுவந்திருப்பதிலிருந்தே ஸ்லம்களில் வாழும் ஏழை மக்களின் நிலைமை எந்த அளவுக்கு மோசமாகிக் கொண்டு போகிறது என்பதை உணர்ந்தே கொண்டு வந்திருக்கிறார்கள் என்பதைத் தெரிந்துகொள்ளலாம். இந்தப் பிரச்சினையானது உடனடியாகக் கவனிக்கப்படவேண்டிய விஷயம். அதுவும் சென்னை நகரத்தில் மாத்திரமல்ல; இந்த ராஜ்யம்பூராவிலுமே இதே நிலைமைதான் இருக்கிறது.

[5th January 1954] [Sri K. R. Sambandam]

SRI C. KANDASAMY:—“கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, இந்த மசோதா சம்பந்தமாகப் பேசிய பல அங்கத்தினர்கள் இதை ஒரு பொறுக்குக் கமிட்டிக்கு விடவேண்டுமென்று பேசிவிட்டார்கள். அவர்கள் சொன்ன விஷயங்களையே நான் இப்பொழுது திருப்பிப் பேச விரும்ப வில்லை. இது ஒரு முக்கியமான பிரச்சனை. சென்ற காலத்தில் அரசாங்கத்தின் நடைமுறையைக் கணக்கில் எடுத்துக்கொண்டு நான் இதைப்பற்றி விளக்கம் கூறுவதற்கு எழுந்து நிற்கின்றேன்.

SRI A. RAMASAMY TEVAR:—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, I want to say a few words on the Bill brought by the Hon. Chief Minister. It is a very good measure. But from my own experience I say in practical application there will be much difficulty. Just like so many hon. Members, I too want that this legislation should be extended to the rural parts. I have got some experience of the Tiruchirappalli Municipal Council. It is very difficult to spend money for the improvement of slums. I know Hon. Ministers visit municipalities, but go away even without looking at the slum areas. Now that Government have chosen a young Minister for Local Administration, if ever he visits Tiruchirappalli, I request that he should necessarily visit some of the slum areas and try to understand the difficulties there. Some hon. Member said that the Madras Corporation charges rent at Rs. 2 per hutment while in other municipalities, no rent is charged but free land and free huts are provided. It is very difficult to improve the slum areas unless Government spend some money.

“Of course, this is a good measure and a welcome measure. The Hon. Chief Minister has come forward to improve the slums in the Madras Corporation area. I would request him to kindly visit slum areas within municipal limits also whenever he goes to mufassal areas and extend this Act to municipalities also. Thereby we could do something for the betterment of Harijans and backward classes living in slum areas.”

SRI S. VADIVELU:—“மதிப்புக்குரிய சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, இப்பொழுது கொண்டுவந்திருக்கும் பிரச்சனை மிகமிக முக்கியமானது. குறிப்பாக இந்நாடு சுதந்திரம் அடைந்து ஆறு ஆண்டுகள் ஆகியும் ஆதி திராவிட மக்கள் ஒருவித உரிமையும் இல்லாமல் இருப்பதை மிக மிக வருத்தத் துடன் சொல்லவேண்டியதாயிருக்கிறது. இருந்தாலும் கனம் சுகாதார மந்திரி அவர்கள் இந்தச் சென்னை சேரி அபிவிருத்தி மச்சாதாவைக் கொண்டு வருவதற்காக சந்தோஷப்படுகிறேன். ஆதிதிராவிட மக்களின் நலம் கருதி தீர ஆலோசித்துக் கொண்டுவர வேண்டுமெயல்லாது அள்ளித் தெளித்த அவசரக் கோலமாக இருக்கக்கூடாது. நண்பர் ராமலிங்கம் அவர்கள் இந்த மச்சாதாவை பரிசீலனைக்குப் பொறுக்கு கமிட்டிக்கு விட வேண்டும் என்பதை நான் ஆதரிக்கிறேன். இன்று பாடுபடக்கூடிய பழங் குடி மக்களின் அவலநிலையைப் போக்குவதற்கு இம்மச்சாதா பேருதவியாயிருக்குமென்று நினைக்கிறேன். இப்பொழுதிருக்கும் நெருக்கடியைப் போக்கவேண்டுமென்றால், இம்மச்சாதாவை மற்றெல்லா நகரங்களுக்கும் விஸ்தரிக்கப்பட வேண்டும்.

“தஞ்சை ஜில்லாவை எடுத்துக்கொண்டால் ஆதிதிராவிடப் பழங்குடிமக்கள் அதிகப்படியாக இருக்கிறார்கள். கடந்த 1952-ம் ஆண்டு பட்ஜெட் விவாதத்தின் போது நான் “அங்கு இருக்கும் நிலப்பிரபுக்களும், ஜமீன்தாரர்களும், மிராஸ் தார்களும் அங்கு குடியிருந்த ஆதிதிராவிட பாட்டாளி மக்களை விரட்டி அவர்கள் வீடுகளைக் கொளுத்தி இருக்கிறார்கள்” என்று சொல்லி இருக்கிறேன் இன்றைக்கும் அவர்களை வெளியேற்றிக்கொண்டிருக்கிறார்கள் என்பது கனம் முதல் மந்திரி அவர்களுக்கும் தெரிந்த விஷயம். இன்றைக்கு இந்தச் சட்டம் சென்னை நகருக்கு மட்டுமின்றி மற்றெல்லா இடங்களுக்கும் கொண்டுவந்தால் வீடின்றி வாடும் ஆதிதிராவிட மக்கள் பயன் அடைவார்கள் என்பதைச் சபையின் கவனத்திற்குக் கொண்டுவருகின்றேன். இந்த நாட்டிலே உழைக்கக்கூடிய மக்களுக்கு அவர்கள் குந்தி இருக்கக்கூட குடிசையில்லாமல் கிராமத்திரங்களிலே தவிக்கிறார்கள். இது கிராமங்களுக்கு முக்கியமாகக் தேவைப்படுகிறது. ஆதலால் நண்பர் ராமலிங்கம் கொண்டுவந்திருக்கும் இந்தத் ஆலோசனையை எந்த விதமான எதிர்ப்பும் இல்லாமல் ஆதரிக்குமாறு எல்லா அங்கத்தினர்களையும் கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகிறேன்.”

SRI M. JAGANNATHAN:—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, while supporting this Bill, I would like to make some observations. This Bill seeks to provide for the acquisition of lands in slum areas in the City of Madras. By introducing this Bill, Rajaji has shown his courage of conviction, as the benefit of this Bill goes to the vast mass of Harijans who are slum-dwellers in the City of Madras. Rajaji is worth his weight in gold for all his generosity, sympathy and goodness towards Harijans. This legislation is a clear indication of all his best intentions for the uplift of the Harijans in the City. By this legislation, the living condition of the Harijans in Madras will be improved. Most of these people are living under very insanitary conditions which are heart-rending to see. Their huts are mere mud and slush during rainy seasons; their huts are half in ruins and they lead a sort of sub-human life. This Bill will, therefore, be a panacea to them.

“Sir, I do not want to dilate upon the merits or demerits of this Bill, excepting to make a few remarks regarding clause 4. This clause provides for the transfer of land in a slum area by Government. As hon. Mr. Ratnam remarked, if the land is handed over to the Corporation or the City Improvement Trust or the Board of Trustees, the improvement will not be satisfactory. For these agencies are not interested in the uplift of the Harijans as such. Therefore, it is the duty of the Government to see that they themselves take over the lands and deal with matters of improvement, etc., directly.

"Again, with regard to payment of compensation, it is provided that 20 times the net average annual income be paid. This is rather harsh to the slum-dwellers. Therefore, I suggest that Government may reduce this amount and make it ten times instead of 20 times. I also request that Government should not only reduce the amount, but also bear at least half the cost of acquisition of such lands. Therefore I support this Bill, whole-heartedly with these few words."

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—"கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, இதன் பேரில் இருக்கக்கூடிய திருத்தப் பிரேரணையை ஆதரித்துப் பேசுவதற்கு முன்னதாக கனம் (Public Health) சுகாதார மந்திரி கொண்டு வந்திருக்கும் இந்த மசோதாவை வரவேற்கிறேன். ஏனென்றால் சென்னையில் இருக்கக்கூடிய சேரிகளை அபிவிருத்தி செய்வதற்காக நடவடிக்கை எடுக்கவேண்டுமென்று கொண்டுவந்திருக்கிறார்கள். இதே சமயத்தில் சென்னைப்போன்ற நகரங்களுக்கு மட்டுமல்லாமல் மற்ற முனிசிபல் நகரங்களிலும் இந்த நிலைமைதான் நிலவி வருகிறது. ஆகையால் இந்த மாதிரி அபிவிருத்தி செய்வது சென்னை நகரத்திற்கு மட்டுமல்லாமல் மற்றெல்லா முனிசிபல் நகரங்களுக்கும் விஸ்தரிக்கவேண்டும்.

"இதில் காணப்படும் முக்கியமான அம்சங்களிலே ஒன்று சர்க்கார் இந்த சேரிகளை எடுத்துக்கொண்டால் சேரிவாசிகள் நஷ்ட ஈடு கொடுக்க வேண்டுமென்று காணப்படுவது. சர்க்கார் எடுத்துக்கொண்டால், சர்க்காரே நஷ்டஈட்டை ஏற்றுக்கொள்ளவேண்டும். இல்லையேல் கார்ப்பொரேஷன் எடுத்துக்கொண்டால் அவர்களே அந்த நஷ்ட ஈட்டை கொடுக்கவேண்டும். சேரியில் வாழும் மக்கள் மிகவும் கஷ்ட நிலையில் இருப்பதனால் அவர்கள் இந்த நஷ்ட ஈட்டைக் கொடுக்க வேண்டுமென்பது பொருந்தாது. மேலும் சேரி வாசிகள் எவ்வளவு கொடுக்க வேண்டுமென்பதுபற்றி சர்க்கார் என்ன நினைக்கிறார்களோ அது நிர்ணயிக்கப்படவில்லை. அதைப்பற்றி ஒன்றும் சரியாகத் தெரியவில்லை. இந்த நஷ்ட ஈடு எவ்வளவு என்பதில் இந்தச் சேரியின் சொந்தக்காரர்களுக்குள் அபிப்பிராய பேதம் ஏற்படுகிறது. ஒரு வருஷத்தில் கிடைக்கக்கூடிய மொத்த வருமானத்தைப்போல் 20 மடங்கு கொடுக்கவேண்டுமென்று இருக்கிறது. அந்த 20 மடங்கு என்று சொல்லுவது மிகவும் அதிகம்தான் என்று நினைக்கிறேன். சேரிகளைப் பார்த்தால் சில இடங்களில் 10, 12 குடிசைகள் இருக்கின்றன. ஒவ்வொரு குடிசைக்கும் இரண்டு மூன்று ரூபாய் வாடகை வசூல் பண்ணுகிறார்கள். இந்தத் தொகை இந்த மசோதாமூலம் கொடுக்க வேண்டி வருகிறது. அவர்கள் மிகவும் ஏழைகளாக இருப்பதால் இந்த அதிகமான தொகை குறைக்கப்படவேண்டும். சாதாரணமாக இவ்வளவு அதிகமான தொகை இந்த மசோதாவின் பிரகாரம் பார்த்தால் சேரியில் வாழும் ஏழை மக்கள் கொடுக்கும்படியான நிர்பந்தம் ஏற்படுகிறது.

"இதைப்பற்றி ஆராய்வதை பொறுக்குக் கமிட்டிக்கு விட்டால் அது நன்றாகப் பரிசீலனை செய்து ஒரு முடிவு ஏற்படுமென்று நினைக்கிறேன்.

"The gross rent shall be determined by the prescribed authority by local enquiry, and if necessary, by obtaining certified copies of extracts from the property-tax assessment books of the Corporation showing the rental values of any such lands, huts or buildings.

மூலமாக அவர்கள் கொடுக்கவேண்டிய வாடகை, இதற்காக நியமிக்கப்பட்டிருக்கும் அதிகாரிகளால், நிர்ணயிக்கப்படுகிறது என்று நினைக்கிறேன். இது அவசியம் இல்லை என்று தோன்றுகிறது.

"பல அங்கத்தினர்கள் இங்கு சொன்ன மாதிரி சேரிகள் அபிவிருத்திக் காகவும், அங்கே தொத்து நோய் பரவாமலிருக்க வேண்டிய சுகாதார வசதிகளை செய்யவேண்டும். இதற்காக அவசியம் செலவிட வேண்டியிருக்கிறது.

"இதில் முக்கியமான இரண்டு ஆட்சேபணைகள் இருக்கின்றன. முதலாவதாக சேரியில் குடியிருப்போர் வாழும் இடத்திற்கு நஷ்ட ஈடுத் தொகை மிகவும் அதிகமாகக்கொடுக்கப்படுகிறது. ஆகையால் அது குறைக்கப்படவேண்டும். அதற்காக ஒரு குறிப்பிட்டத் தொகையை நிர்ணயிக்கவேண்டும்.

"இரண்டாவதாக இந்த மசோதா சென்னைக்கு மட்டு மல்லாமல் மற்றெல்லா முனிசிபல் நகரங்களுக்கும் இதை விஸ்தரிக்க வேண்டுமென்று கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகிறேன். இதை நன்கு பரிசீலனை செய்வதற்காக பொருக்குக் கமிட்டிக்கு விடவேண்டும். இதற்கு சர்க்கார் வேண்டிய ஏற்பாடுகள் செய்யவேண்டுமென்று கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகிறேன்."

SRI N. GOPALA MENON :—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think this is one of the best measures that has been introduced in this session. If a prize were to be awarded for the best measure introduced in this session, I think the Hon. Minister for Public Health will walk away with that prize. Slum clearance has been engaging the attention of the Government and the Corporation of Madras for a very long time, and it has baffled all attempts at a satisfactory solution. There are in the City of Madras a large number of Government slums, Corporation slums and private slums. Government slums are almost equal in number to the slums that are owned by private parties and also the Corporation. For a very long time, the Government have not taken any step for clearance of their own slums. When they introduce a Bill like this, they should see that their own slums are put in order. Every time the Corporation or other public bodies came forward saying that the slums ought to be cleared, the question of finance always stood in the way. I know that for the last twenty or thirty years every Mayor and every Corporation Councillor has been saying that their paramount duty is the clearance of slums. They were not able to make much headway because of financial difficulties and possibly also because of the absence of a measure like this enabling the Government to acquire lands belonging to private parties. Whenever the Government initiate proceedings under the Land Acquisition Act, they are practically stirring up the hornets' nest.

[Sri N. Gopala Menon] [5th January 1954]

We find a large number of persons immediately claiming a right to the huts and superstructures and for benefits under the City Tenants Protection Act and so on and so forth. So it takes a very long time for acquiring the lands and clearing the slums. Therefore the Corporation and the Government have been very hesitant in launching proceedings under the Land Acquisition Act. This measure will certainly expedite the acquisition of land, and I hope the Government will take early steps for the acquisition of slum areas.

"There is a provision in the Bill which, I think, may not get public support or at any rate the support of the owners of slums, and that is the provision for the determination of compensation in respect of these slums. The Bill provides that the compensation shall be twenty times the net average annual income during the five years immediately preceding the acquisition. In most of the slums, the owners may get practically no income at all. It is all a vast tract of land where there are numerous huts, the land being uneven, and slushy during the rainy season. The slum owners may agitate for market value as compensation. When their income from the slums is nothing, they may say that twenty times nothing is nothing and that they may not get any compensation at all. It is not fair to acquire lands without paying any compensation. It is better that the Government reconsider that provision and provide for the payment of market value as compensation.

"I find in this Bill a clause barring the jurisdiction of civil courts in respect of matters coming under the purview of this Act. Unfortunately in Bill after Bill we find that the jurisdiction of civil courts is taken away. When the jurisdiction of civil courts is barred, the public feel that there is something wrong, something which is not proper or fair and which therefore cannot be placed before a court. That feeling must be dispelled, and we cannot dispel it as long as we introduce a clause like this in the Bills. If a person feels really aggrieved, it is for the judiciary to go into his grievance, see whether the Government have applied the provisions of the law properly and then decide. Why should we fight shy of placing the matter before a court for proper adjudication? I feel that a measure like this should not contain a provision barring the jurisdiction of civil courts.

"Several speakers who preceded me have said that the condition of slums in the City of Madras and in other cities is extremely bad. People who have been doing social work either in Madras or elsewhere will agree with me that these miserable and unfortunate people are living in places which are not fit for even cattle to live in. When the rains come, the whole place is flooded, and the belongings of the slum-dwellers have to be removed as otherwise they are washed away. Slum dwellers do not have even ordinary public conveniences and bathing places. They are suffering for want of even the ordinary amenities of life. The Government should implement this Act quickly, acquire the slums and provide them amenities so as to enable the slum-dwellers to live in better and healthier surroundings."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am grateful for the very warm reception that has been given to the Bill. I am grateful in spite of the doubts expressed and the questions raised along with the appreciation, because the totality of appreciation is very important in a measure of this kind.

"Coming to the proposal for reference to a Select Committee, I am earnestly pleading that it should not be pressed. I am extremely anxious that this Bill should not be delayed. Though it may be thought that we can get the report of the Select Committee very quickly and dispose of the whole matter, it will not always work. The question is full of very delicate difficulties. I think this is the first time that a measure of this kind providing for acquisition of very valuable property has been attempted, and all sorts of difficulties can be raised. Without going into details, I would appeal to hon. Members, who are all at one with us in getting this measure through, not to press for a Select Committee. We shall go into the reasons for some Members pressing for a Select Committee. The first point mentioned was that this should not share the fate of many other well-meaning legislative measures which were not really put into practice on account of the difficulties that had to be overcome. I am humble enough to accept what Mr. Ratnam has urged that we do many things hoping to achieve something, but we fail on account of practical difficulties in achieving as much as we expected. While I admit that, I do not think that that should be a reason for our not attempting to do things. All social reform measures are difficult and are not as easy as they look on paper. A thing may look very simple, but there may be difficulties in actually working it. We have to tolerate one another and work for overcoming the difficulties.

"Most of Sri Ratnam's observations are based on the notion that all these slum-dwellers or squatters are Harijans. It is not so. Quite a number of non-Harijans are also there. It is not as if Harijans have migrated from the mufassal. Their residences in the villages are much better than the huts they have got in the City. It is poverty, business in the City and occupational necessity that produce these slums. It is poverty and pressure of work that brings people here. All communities who are prepared to do manual work are involved in this, and we need not give it the colour of any sub-communal character. The problem is quite different from a communal question.

"With regard to the actual difficulties that have been pointed out and the doubts that have been raised, I would like to mention this. Reference was made to, what are called, Government slums. The difference between the Government slum and the private owner's slum is this. In the latter case, the slum dwellers pay to the owner something, whether it is small or big, regular or irregular. But in the case of the Government land, they occupy it without any permission, simply as invaders. To that extent, they have so to say held the land like conquerors and not like tenants. Therefore, the Government have naturally not been in a position to regularize such a matter because we do not take any rent and we do not claim to take any rent; we do not even expressly permit it. That is my answer to what has been urged, namely, that the Government are even more remiss in this matter than private people. I do not at all support the attitude and I have always stood against that attitude, namely, that we can clear these people out. The entire phraseology adopted in this connection is, in my opinion, wrong. The phraseology of slum clearance is wrong. Of course, we have to clear these people out in some places. But their improvement and the question of providing housing accommodation for these manual labourers who are in the City for a very essential purpose of society should be prominent before us rather than anything else. That is why this Bill has been introduced. At the same time, some hon. Members have spoken as if every squatter should be given the right to squat. That would be a dangerous thing to do. It should not be accepted as a universal proposition that anybody may go and squat anywhere, that he has only to wait for a little time and that then we must give him the right to continue there. That would not be right. We would be undermining the very foundation of order and social peace if we do such a thing. Therefore, we should steer in between and see what is right and just to do. Every squatter should not be entitled to remain where he is. There are instances where really the so-called slum should be cleared. But, as a matter of fact, in most cases, the men and women who live in such slums in the City of Madras do so in order to do very essential work. They have chosen those places in spite of the inconveniences involved because they have to work in the neighbourhood and they have to live near the place of their occupation. Therefore, we must protect their right of residence in the City and we must, as far as possible, recognize the desirability to let these men live in that locality. Then, we must improve their living conditions. For that purpose, nothing can be done unless we acquire the land from those who own the private property. If we acquire these sites, then the whole picture will be clear to us and we can improve the general position. It is with this object that this Bill has been introduced. I do not mitigate the charges that have been levelled against whosoever it may be, who are responsible for and who have permitted this kind of thing. I am only explaining how it has arisen. Our policy clearly is (1) a bias in favour of improvement rather than clearance, and (2) a bias in favour of providing a place to live in to the persons who are working in the City and who are not merely speculators but who have come in and who are really engaged in some occupation in the City. Taking all these into account, I submit that the proposals that have been made in the Bill are good enough and elastic enough for the purposes of effective execution.

" It has been stated, first of all, that an amendment is necessary to extend the provisions of the Bill to the other municipalities also. That is No. 1. Personally, I have no objection to do it. It can be done by the insertion of a suitable clause. But I would rather that hon. Members do not launch out to do something that will delay matters. We would rather pass this Bill and we can bring in an amendment at the next session for the purpose of having an enabling clause to extend it to the other municipalities. We have gone through a certain procedure in order to make this Bill regular and proper. I would not now like to open that subject by adding substantially to the jurisdiction of the Bill. I would, therefore, request hon. Members to be content with the Bill as it is and to wait for an amending Bill for extending it to other municipalities from time to time. I promise to do that if I have any connection with Government then. I promise to do that in the next session. I would rather like the present Bill to get through in the form in which it stands.

" Then, the question of compensation comes up. I may not be able to take hon. Members into all the ramifications of this delicate question. There is an article in the Constitution which binds us and we have to give reasonable compensation. We cannot be unreasonable in any case. Therefore, we have evolved a formula. Now, I want hon. Members to examine that formula closely along with the Schedule that is attached to the Bill. The formula is that we take the average of the previous five years' actual returns, not paper returns, to the owner of the property and the compensation is calculated on that basis. It is likely that fictitious accounts come into existence after this discussion. So, not only the present returns but the previous five years' returns will have to be taken into account. We will make the best of the situation and where there are no documents, the Government will always make presumptions as to the returns to the owner from whom they have to acquire the land. There is no difficulty about that. Therefore, the formula that has been put down here is sufficiently reasonable so far as the law is concerned, so far as the article in the Constitution is concerned and so far as the finances of the Government and the Corporation are concerned.

" Then, with regard to the formula, I give this assurance that there is nothing to be afraid of and that the principle of fixing the compensation at twenty times the net average annual income actually derived from the land during the previous five years is a fairly just and reasonable one. But if, in the course of the discussion, it appears necessary to reduce it to any lower figure, the Government would have no objection whatsoever to it. If it comes to that, we would agree to a compromise. For this purpose, we need not set up a Select Committee.

" Regarding the other matter, I understand that the hon. the Leader of the Opposition has just given notice of an amendment that there should be a limit placed on the amount or proportion of the cost of acquisition that has to be recovered from the allottee of the land. Now, I submit, with all the earnestness that I can command, that it is not necessary or even desirable to have this limitation because once we put a limitation, it becomes the minimum and that is the tendency always. Hon. Members will remember that there are two sub-clauses in clause 4 of the Bill, which deal with the transfer of land in a slum area by the Government. Sub-clause (2) provides for the cost of acquisition being transferred as a liability to the Corporation and there too, the State fixes the proportion, taking into account the finances of the body concerned and the merits of the particular land and the situation created by the acquisition. Sub-clause (3) deals with the allotment of the land by the Government, when they themselves take over the area by means of acquisition, and how the burden should be distributed. We have in both the cases provided a very flexible rule. Where the land is transferred to the Corporation or the Board of Trustees, it shall be liable to pay such portion of the cost of acquisition as the State Government may fix in each case. In the case of the private allottee, the squatter, so to say, will bear the burden which, in the particular case, may be found suitable for the situation. Now, the Government have already provided in the Bill that it shall only be a proportion that is transferred and not the whole. The Government have taken power to fix the proportion thereof. Now, there are squatters of all kinds. We do not know who may be, in any particular case, the person involved as the allottee. It is better that we provide a very wide and flexible rule rather than fix a percentage like 50 per cent as the hon. the Leader of the Opposition Sri Ramamurthi proposed just now. I am afraid that will not really benefit the allottee. It will work the other way about and it is not good or desirable to fix, even by way of caution, an excess or top limit, because the maximum has a tendency to become the average. I would rather that the flexible rule remains as it stands and I would beg of the hon. the Leader of the Opposition not to press his amendment of which he has just now given notice. Therefore, I earnestly beg that no delay need be caused by referring the Bill to a Select Committee. These are too very small matters. On the question of extension of the Bill to the other municipalities, I am appealing to hon. Members not to press for it now but to wait for the next session and it may be provided then by a comprehensive clause in the form of an amendment that the Government may extend it to various municipalities from time to time. This assurance of mine should be deemed enough instead of getting a clause inserted and still depending on the Government for extending the Bill to the other municipalities later on. There will be no great difference within the short period that has to elapse for the next sitting of the Assembly. If this Bill is passed now, we will make a concrete first step in the direction of the progress of slum work.

"It is necessary to get this law passed and it is necessary to get it as early as possible. The danger lies in the manufacture of all sorts of accounts. If we now discuss it in the House and put it off for execution at a later date, what will happen is, incomes will be shown and accounts will be produced. We will have to go into all sorts of these difficulties. I submit that we should not do that, but get through this Bill now. If we succeed in getting a workable scheme for the City of Madras based upon this legislation which is now before the House, I am sure it will be the first step towards improvement of slums throughout the State of Madras. With this assurance of mine, I hope all the amendments suggesting the consideration of this Bill by a Select Committee and other amendments will not be pressed by the hon. Members who have moved them or who might have given notice of them, and that all of them will be withdrawn."

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—"கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, கனம் பிரதம மந்திரி அவர்கள் இந்த மசோதாவை, இதர முனிசிபாலிட்டிகளுக்கும் அடுத்த செஷனில் கண்டிப்பாக விஸ்தரிக்க நடவடிக்கை எடுத்துக்கொள்வேன் என்று உறுதியாக சொன்னதின்பேரிலும், நஷ்ட ஈடு கொடுக்கும் தொகை அதாவது கரம்பன்சேஷன் தொகையை ஓரளவு குறைக்க யோசனை செய்யலாம் என்று சொன்னதின்பேரிலும் என்னுடைய திருத்தத்தை வாபஸ் வாங்கிக் கொள்ளுகிறேன்."

MR. SPEAKER :—"I hope the House gives the hon. Member Sri S. Ramalingam permission to withdraw his amendment."

The amendment was, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

MR. SPEAKER :—"I am now going to put the original motion to the vote of the House. The question is—

'That the Madras Slum Improvement (Acquisition of Land) Bill, 1954, be taken into consideration at once.'"

The motion was put and carried.

Clause 3.

MR. SPEAKER :—"I am now going to take the Bill clause by clause. The Preamble and clauses 1 and 2 will be taken up at the end. Now, the motion before the House is—

'That clause 3 do stand part of the Bill.'

"Hon. Member Sri T. K. Rama may move his amendment to this clause."

SRI T. K. RAMA :—"Mr. Speaker, I move . . ."

* THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—"Sir, before the hon. Member proceeds further and speaks on the amendment, may I suggest to him one thing? His amendment would exceedingly complicate the whole thing far too much. 'Undeveloped area' will be practically any area. The whole scheme under this Bill, I may tell the hon. Member, is worked around the slum area and slum improvement. That being so, it would not be right for us to have a general acquisition procedure, so to say at present which will rather complicate matters far too much. Moreover, the considerations that would be brought to bear upon compensation for slum area would be totally different from considerations that would be brought to bear upon undeveloped areas. Therefore, I would ask the hon. Member not to propose his amendment."

[Sri C. Rajagopalachari] [5th January 1954]

SRI T. K. RAMA :—" Sir, I move the following amendment standing in my name :—

'At the end of sub-clause (1) add the words "or an undeveloped area".'

'கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, "ஸ்லம் ஏரியா" என்ற பதங்களுக்கு அடுத்தாப்போல் "அன்டெவலப்ட் ஏரியா" என்ற வார்த்தைகளைச் சேர்க்க வேண்டும். இவ்வார்த்தை கால கிரமத்தில் ஒரு வியாக்யானத்தை கொடுக்கும். இதுவே சரியான வார்த்தை என்று நினைக்கிறேன். பொருத்தமாகவும் இருக்கும். ஸ்லம் ஏரியா என்று சொல்லும் பிரதேசங்களிலும் சில வீடுகள் இருக்கும் அதற்குப் பக்கத்தில் பல நூறு குடிசைகளும் இருக்கும். தனிப்பட்டவர்களுக்கு சொந்தமான பல இடங்களில் நல்ல வீடுகள் கட்டப்பட்டிருந்தாலும் அங்கு ரோடு, குடிதண்ணீர், விளக்கு, சாக்கடை முதலிய வசதிகள் கிடையாத பல பிரதேசங்கள் ஒவ்வொரு நகரங்களிலும் இருக்கின்றன. இட சொந்தக் காரர்கள் இவ்வசதிகள் தங்கள் சிலவில் செய்து கொடுக்க வேண்டுமென்று முனிசிபல் கவுன்சில்கள் சட்ட பூர்வமான நடவடிக்கைகள் பல காரணங்களால் எடுக்க முடியவில்லை. உதாரணமாக மதுரையிலுள்ள ஒரு பிரதேசத்தைப்பற்றி கூறுகிறேன்.

"மதுரையில் தைக்கால் என்று ஒரு இடம் இருக்கிறது. இந்த ஸ்தலம் முஸ்லீம்களின் பொது சொத்தாகும். அங்கு 48-ம்வருடம் என்று நினைக்கின்றேன், சுமார் 400 குடிசைகள் இருந்தன. ஒரு குடிசைக்கும், மற்றொரு குடிசைக்கு மிடையே இரண்டு அல்லது இரண்டரை அடி இடை வெளிதான் இருக்கும். தற்செயலாக இக்குடிசைகள் தீப்பற்றி எரிந்து போகவே, நகர சபையார் அந்த இடத்தை ஸ்லம் ஏரியா என்று டிக்லேர் செய்திருந்தால் அந்த எரிந்த குடிசைகளை போலீஸ் பந்தோபஸ்துடன் தரை மட்டமாக்கப்பட்டது. அங்கு இன்று 400 குடிசைகளுக்கு பதிலாக 60 வீடுகளே இருக்கின்றன. இந்த 60 வீட்டுக்காரர்களும் இந்த 400 குடிசைக்காரர்கள் கொடுத்து வந்த மனை வாடகையை பங்கிட்டுக் கொண்டு கொடுக்கிறார்கள். அதனால் ஒவ்வொரு வீட்டுக்காரருக்கும் வாடகை மிக அதிகமாகிற்று. வாடகை அதிகமாக கொடுக்கிறோம் என்பதால், அவர்கள் நல்ல வீடுகள் அமைத்துக் கொள்ள வேண்டுமென்று ஆசைப்பட்டனர். ஆகவே அந்த வீட்டுக்காரர்கள் தங்களுடைய மூலதனத்தில் ரூபாய் 4 ஆயிரம் முதல் ரூபாய் 10 ஆயிரம் வரை செலவு செய்து வீடுகள் கட்டிக் கொண்டனர். ஆனால் இன்றுவரை அந்த பிரதேசத்தில் ரஸ்தா வசதி இல்லை. குடிதண்ணீர் கிடையாது, சாக்கடை கிடையாது, மற்ற நகரத்தின் வேறு பாகத்தில் கிடைக்கும் எந்த வசதியும் கிடையாது, கக்கூஸ் வசதி கூட கிடையாது. இந்த பிரதேசத்தை ஆர்ஜிதம் செய்து ரோடு, சாக்கடை வசதி செய்து கொடுக்க நகர சபையார் நடவடிக்கை எடுக்க முன் வர முடியவில்லை. குடிசைகள் அப்புறப்படுத்த வேண்டுமென்று நடவடிக்கைகள் எடுக்கும்பொழுது குடிசை போட்டுக் கொண்டிருந்த இடத்தை காலி செய்து விட்டு, அந்த குடிசையிலுள்ள கலையும் மண்ணையும் மூங்கிலையும் ஒலையையும் கொண்டு வேறு இடங்களில் குடிசைகள் கட்டிக் கொள்வார்கள். ஆனால் மேலே விவரித்த மாதிரியான வீடுகள் கட்டிக் கொண்டிருப்பவர்களை காலி செய்து விட்டுப் போகச் சொன்னால் என்ன செய்வார்கள். தங்களுக்கு நிலம் ஆர்ஜிதத்தின்மூலம் பின்னால் கிடைக்கும் என்று நம்பி, கடன் வாங்கி பணம் செலவு செய்து வீடு கட்டிக் கொண்டுள்ளவர்களின் கதி என்னாவது? நிலத்தின் சொந்தக்காரர்கள் போ என்று சொன்னால் அவர்கள் எங்கு, எப்படிப் போகமுடியும்? கட்டியுள்ள வீடுகளை இடித்துக்கொண்டு வேறு எங்கேயாவது கட்டிக்கொள்ளத்தான் முடியுமா? - இம்மாதிரியான வீடுகள் மதுரையில் இரண்டாயிரத்துக்குமேல் இருக்கின்றன. அவைகளின் மொத்த மதிப்பு சுமார் 4 அல்லது 5 லட்சமாகும். இவர்கள் நல்ல முறையிலே கஷ்டப்பட்டுள்ளனர் ஆகையால் இவர்களுக்கும் முக்கியமாக பாதுகாப்பு அளிக்கப்படவேண்டும். அவர்கள் கட்டிக்கொண்டிருக்கும் வீடுகள் உள்ள நிலங்களை அவர்களுக்கே ஆர்ஜிதத்தின் மூலம் சொந்தமாக்கப்படவேண்டும். இந்த 'ஸ்லம் இம்புருமென்ட் பில்லில்' அபிவிருத்தியடையாத பிரதேசங்களும் சேர்த்துக்கொள்ள முடியாது என்று சொல்வது ஏனென்று எனக்கு விளங்கவில்லை. அபிவிருத்தியடையாத பிரதேசங்களையும் இந்த பில்லில் சேர்த்துக்கொண்டால்தான் பல இடங்களில் நல்ல வீடுகள் நல்ல முறையில் ஏற்பட சொளகரியங்கள் ஏற்படும். இதை அவசியம் செய்ய வேண்டும். 'அன்டெவலப்ட் ஏரியா' என்பது அன்பில்ட் (unbuilt) ஏரியா என்று நினைப்பது சரியல்ல. முதல் சப்-செக்ஷன் ஜனங்களுக்கு குடிதண்ணீர் சுகாதார வசதிகளைப்பற்றி சொல்லுகிறது. இந்த நிலைமையே சீர்திருத்தம் செய்யப்படாதபிரதேசங்களிலும் இருந்துவருகிறது. ஆகையால், 'அன்டெவலப்ட் ஏரியா' என்று சேர்த்துக்கொள்ளுவதினால் இந்த பிரிவின் கருத்திற்குள் இப்பிரதேசத்தையும்கொண்டு வரமுடியுமென்று நினைக்கிறேன். சர்க்கார் ஏற்று ஆவன செய்யுமென்று நம்புகிறேன். பிரதம மந்திரி அவர்கள் மனது வைத்து இந்த திருத்தத்தை ஏற்றுக் கொண்டால் மிகவும் அனுகூலமாக இருக்குமென்று நம்புகிறேன்."

SRI AYYANAR :—" நான் ஸ்ரீ டி. கே. ராமா அவர்கள் சொன்னதை ஆதரிக்கிறேன்."

MR. SPEAKER :—" Motion moved—

'At the end of sub-clause (1), add the words "or an undeveloped area".'

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Sir, I want the hon. Member, Sri Rama, to remember these things in connection with the amendment that he had proposed. He should remember that it will be extended to other municipalities later on by an amending Bill. The Bill before the House does not apply to the conditions he refers to. Secondly, it is not anywhere in this Bill or elsewhere defined that a slum should be a slum having thatched huts or anything of that kind. Clause 2 (e) defines 'slum area' as an area so declared under clause 3 (1). Clause 3 (1) says—

'Where the State Government are satisfied that any area is or may be a source of danger to the public health, safety or convenience of its neighbourhood by reason of the area being low-lying, insanitary, squalid or otherwise, they may . . . declare such area to be a slum area.'

Therefore, if as Sri Rama pleads the huts he refers to are really as bad as the slum area huts contemplated in the Bill, then there is enough provision in the Bill itself to meet the case. But if, on the contrary, he wants to have a general Housing Plan Bill which would cover the middle-class gentlemen's houses, I think it is not right to introduce it sideways into this Bill. I would, on the whole advise him not to press his amendment but to rely on the definition contained in the Bill. We may make such use of it as may be necessary."

SRI T. K. RAMA :—“கனம் பிரதம மந்திரி அவர்கள் இப்பொழுது அறிவித்ததிலிருந்து எந்த வரியாவையும் Slum area என்று declare செய்யலாம் என்று சொல்லுவதால் நான் என்னுடைய திருத்தத்தை வாபஸ் வாங்கிக் கொள்ளுகிறேன்.”

The amendment was, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

SRI N. K. PALANISAMI :—“Sir, I move—

‘Add the following new sub-clause after sub-clause (3) :—

“If in the process of clearing or improving a slum any hut or building is removed, the occupant thereof shall be provided with a suitable alternative accommodation and he shall not be evicted until such an accommodation is found for him in the same locality.”

“கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, இந்த சர்க்காருக்கு 1894, 1920, 1950-ம் வருஷத்திய சட்டங்களில் சட்ட பூர்வமாக ஆர்ஜிதம் செய்வதற்கு அதிகாரம் இருந்த போதிலும் இன்று இந்த சட்டத்தைக்கொண்டு வந்திருக்கிறார்கள். இந்த இரண்டு வருஷங்களாக காக்கஸ் சேரியிலும் மற்ற சேரிகளிலும் என்ன நடந்து வந்திருக்கிறது என்பது எல்லோருக்கும் தெரியும். அங்கு இருக்கக்கூடிய பல வீடுகள் தரைமட்டமாகிவிட்டன. அந்த இடங்களிலெல்லாம் பெரிய பங்களாக்களைக் கட்டுவதற்காக இடம் கொடுத்திருக்கிறார்கள். இது எல்லோருக்கும் தெரியும். அதே சமயத்தில் சர்க்கார் ஸலம் இம்ப்ருவ்மெண்ட் என்று சொல்லிக் கொண்டு அங்கே இருக்கக்கூடிய சேரியில் வாழக்கூடிய மக்களுக்கு இடம் இல்லை என்பதை ஒத்துக்கொள்ளமுடியாது. அதற்காக ஒரு புரோ விஷன் சேர்த்திருக்கவேண்டும். இப்பொழுது அதற்கு யார் நஷ்டஈடு கொடுக்கிறார்கள். நஷ்டஈடு கொடுக்கக்கூடியவர்கள்தான் அங்கே இருக்கமுடியும். கொடுக்காதவர்கள் அங்கே இருக்கமுடியாது. சர்க்கார் வேண்டும் என்றால் எந்த இடத்தையும் ஸலம் ஏரியா என்று சொல்ல முடியும். அந்த நிலையில் அந்த அளவிற்கு திட்டவட்டமாக ஒன்றும் இதில் கிடையாது. மேலும் 25 ஆயிரம் ரூபாய்க்கு மேற்பட்டவர்கள்தான் கோர்ட்டுக்குப் போவதற்கு உரிமை இருக்கிறது. அதற்குக் கீழே உள்ள சின்ன சின்னவர்கள் வீடுகள் வைத்துக்கொண்டிருக்கிறார்களே அவர்களுக்கு எந்த விதமான நியாயமும் வழங்குவது கிடையாது. இந்த மாதிரி நிலைமையில் அவர்களுக்கு வேறு இடத்தில் சேரிகளுக்கு ரோடு போடுவதென்றாலும் லைட் போட்டுக்கொடுப்பதாலும் அவர்கள் சீர்திருத்தம் அடையமுடியாது. இவைகளையெல்லாம் கொடுத்துவிட்டால் அவர்களை அந்த இடத்தைவிட்டு துரத்தக்கூடியதாக இருக்கிறது. ஏனென்றால் அவர்கள் கொடுக்க வேண்டும் என்ற தொகை அவர்களால் கொடுக்க முடியவில்லை. இந்த மாதிரியான திட்டம் கொண்டுவரப்படுகிறது அவர்களை துரத்துவதற்காகவோ என்று சந்தேகப்படக்கூடியதாக இருக்கிறது. ஆகவே எந்த விதமான காரணத்தாலும் அவர்கள் இருக்கும் இடத்திலிருந்து வெளியேற்றுவது இல்லை. கொடுக்கக் கூடிய வாடகை இருக்கிறதே அது இப்பொழுது கொடுத்து வருவதற்கு மேல் வசூல் செய்யக்கூடாது என்று ஒரு புரோவிஷன் அதில் சேர்க்கப்பட்டிருந்தால் நன்றாக இருந்து இருக்கும். அந்தப்படி ஒரு விதியைச் சேர்க்க வேண்டும் என்று கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகிறேன்.”

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—“நான் முதலில் சொன்ன மாதிரி சேரிகளை அபிவிருத்தி செய்கிறோம் அல்லது காலி செய்கிறோம் என்ற பெயரால் அவர்களை குடிசைகளைவிட்டு அப்புரப்படுத்தும்போது அவர்களுக்கு சரியான இடம் கொடுக்கப்பட்டு வசதி செய்து கொடுத்துவிட்டு அந்த இடத்தில் அபிவிருத்தி செய்தால் போதும். இந்தப்படி இந்த திருத்தம் கொடுக்கப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. இதை சர்க்கார் ஒத்துக்கொள்ள வேண்டும் என்று கேட்டுக் கொள்ளுகிறேன். அதை ஆதரிக்கிறேன்.”

[5th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER :—“Motion moved—

‘Add the following new sub-clause after sub-clause (3) :—

“If in the process of clearing or improving a slum, any hut or building is removed, the occupant thereof shall be provided with a suitable alternative accommodation and he shall not be evicted until such an accommodation is found for him in the same locality.”

SRI K. VINAYAKAM :—“Sir, now that the proposal to refer the Bill to a Select Committee has been withdrawn, we will go into the merits of the Bill. The amendment moved by my friend, Mr. Palaniswami, is a very pertinent one because he has quoted one instance, and quoted rightly, that has occurred in the City of Madras itself. I am now referring to the Cox cheri incident. When that cheri, which consisted of many poor families, was cleared, the dwellers were weaned away from the slum by a promise that the colony would be reorganized on better lines, and that houses would be constructed and let out to them on a monthly rental of two rupees per house. These were the ‘carrots’ held before these credulous people who were dwelling there. They were tempted to vacate the slum because a very good future was assured to them.”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—“When was it done?”

SRI K. VINAYAKAM :—“I think it was in 1947, when the City Improvement Trust launched this scheme. I am citing this instance to show that these are the troubles involved in this kind of hasty legislation. What happened later? The men who vacated the slum were almost stranded for some time and the interval between the period of their vacating the slum and the period when they were shown an alternative site in Kodambakkam was well over four years. The site is next to the Varadarajapet colony. (The Hon. C. Rajagopalachari : ‘Bigger than Cox cheri.’) May be a tract of about five acres of land was acquired by the City Improvement Trust after a lapse of four years and then they laid out some roads worth the name. They filled the pits with rubbish collected in the City of Madras. They installed some street lamps and constructed a dry latrine. Then the people who were driven from the Cox cheri slum were given the option to go and settle there. Sir, it is not enough if we just show them an alternative site. We must consider whether the people will be tempted to go and live on the alternative site provided. After all, as the Hon. the Chief Minister, has explained, these are people who make a living out of manual labour. If they are shifted to places like Kodambakkam, what is the amount of practical difficulty involved to them? That is the question that we must consider. A worker cannot walk all the distance from Kodambakkam to his place of work in the City—Godown street or Moore Market or whatever it is. He cannot travel by train because he will have to spend a few annas which he cannot afford. The result is not more than ten huts are there in Kodambakkam even though there are facilities like roads, electric lights, etc., provided to them. We must consider the practical difficulties that the slum dwellers are faced with.

"The Hon. Chief Minister was attacking us for trying to delay the Bill. In this connection, let him realize that this kind of hasty legislation cannot find an easy passage through the House. Before clearing slums we must first of all decide on alternative steps to meet the demands of the slum-dwellers immediately. I already referred to the untold sufferings to which the slum-dwellers were put to when the City Improvement Trust launched upon the project (in 1947) of slum clearance and rehabilitating the slum dwellers in some other decent locality. But ultimately the locality decided upon by the Trust did not prove to be decent. These are all problems that have to be dealt with whenever any question involving slum-improvement or slum-clearance is taken into account. Acquisition proceedings may take some time. We have had the experience in land acquisition proceedings. That is why I say let the Bill be referred to a Select Committee. Let the Select Committee go into the pros and cons of the problem and suggest any improvements they like. Let us not come to hasty conclusions ourselves. Any problem connected with slum-improvement cannot be rushed through so quickly by passing a Bill as the present one. Let the practical difficulties involved by bringing in a measure of this sort be gone through by the Select Committee.

"We have had the example of Cox cheri. The City Improvement Trust launched upon a big scheme of building tenements for slum-dwellers in Cox cheri. They constructed the tenements. But did they realize the fact that the poor slum-dwellers could not pay the rent which was demanded? No, they had their own notions. What is the result? The slum-dwellers, not only were they cleared off from their original places but were stranded. A day or two before, I read from the papers that the Trust had advertised in big columns that these tenements in Cox cheri would be let out on a rent they have fixed. They had also stated in the advertisement about the neatness of the locality and about the modern conveniences provided therein. But I ask did they ever pay heed to the needs of the Law College students who were all the time clamouring for a hostel. They put in some sort of legal difficulty. The Law College students had to suffer. They could not be provided with a good hostel. Of course that is a different question. There is no use asking one to go to Tambaram or Guindy, far away from the city. That will not satisfy the people. What is the prime need of the hour? The minimum conditions of housing and living should be provided for the poor slum-dwellers. A provision to that effect is not found in the present Bill. Therefore I request that this Bill may be referred to a Select Committee."

5th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—"Sir, I am rising again because this is a legal matter. Any provision that we put into a Bill should be a justiciable provision. A provision of this kind will be practically impossible for the Judge to decide what the Legislature has asked him to do. The provision now sought to be introduced is no doubt good. I admit it. But it should be left as a policy to be executed by Government and not made into a legislative provision. As a matter of fact the hon. Member who spoke last knows very well that it is because the Government, I am referring to the present Government, did not like the idea of clearing these slum-dwellers from their place, disturbing them from their place of habitation irrespective of the requirements of their occupation, this Bill has been sponsored. Government have taken into account the difficulties mentioned by hon. Members and the present Bill is the result of their desire that people should not be evicted and driven from one place to other. The object of this Bill is to fulfil the very purpose which the hon. Member wants, namely, to allow these people to remain where they are and at the same time try to improve conditions without sending them out. It may be taken for granted that we want these people not to shift from one place to some other place outside, which is not reasonable from their standpoint. On the other hand, we consider it desirable that they should be retained in the City itself close to the place where they work and where they could live with contentment and comfort. It is because we think it desirable to give these people some sort of proprietorship in the place where they live in and not allow them to be continuously fleeced by bad characters who profit by intimidating and exploiting them, we have brought forward this Bill. These are the causes which have led to the introduction of the present Bill. I am asking Mr. Palanisami not to press his amendment for what he suggests is the accepted policy of the Government and what he has in mind would be properly carried out by the policy of Government rather than by making a judicial provision which simply says that unless and until such and such accommodation is given for the slum-dweller, he shall not be evicted. Where and what kind of accommodation should be given and by whom it should be given are all difficult things to say in a Court of Law. So I would request the hon. Member Mr. Palanisami to leave it to the Government to execute their policy and not to introduce a clause as the one he had suggested which in fact is not right. I would beg of him to withdraw his amendment. At the same time, I assure him that the object of keeping this law is to carry out the very principle embodied in his amendment."

SRI N. K. PALANISAMI :—"கனம் பிரதம மந்திரி அவர்கள் சொன்ன வாக்குறுதியின்பேரில் நான் என்னுடைய திருத்தத்தை வாபஸ் வாங்கிக்கொள்கிறேன்."

The amendment of Sri Palanisami was, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

Clause 3 was put and carried.

[5th January 1954]

Clause 4.

SRI P. RAMAMURTHI:—"I would request clause 6 dealing with compensation be taken up first and then clause 4."

MR. SPEAKER:—"I have no objection if the Government agree to it."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"I have no objection, Sir."

MR. SPEAKER:—"So clause 6 will be taken up for consideration."

Clause 6.

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Due to the intervention of many hon. Members in the House on the ground that the compensation amount now fixed, viz., 20 times the average annual income from the land during five consecutive years, is too large and unreasonable a limit for the City of Madras, though our appreciation of the actual income derived by the land-owners may differ, on behalf of the Government I would suggest that instead of the figure '20', '12' may be substituted. I accordingly move the amendment, viz.—

'That in line 3 of clause 6 for the words "twenty" the words "twelve" may be substituted.'"

MR. SPEAKER:—"Motion moved—

'That in line 3 of clause 6 for the words "twenty" the words "twelve" may be substituted.'"

The motion was put and carried.

The Clause as amended was then put and carried.

Clause 4.

MR. SPEAKER:—"I am ruling the following amendments given notice of, viz., 5 (a), 5 (b) and 5 (c) by Messrs. T. K. Rama, M. S. Muniswamy Pillai, A. Ramaswami Tevar, A. S. Subbaraj and S. Ramasami Naidu as out of order because those amendments are outside the scope of the Bill:—

5. (a) In sub-clause (1) after the words "City of Madras" in the seventh line, add the words "or the Municipal Councils of Madurai, Tiruchirappalli and Coimbatore".

(b) In the last line of sub-clause (1), after the words "Board of Trustees" add the words "or the Municipal Councils of Madurai, Tiruchirappalli and Coimbatore".

(c) In the second line of sub-clause (2) after the words "Board of Trustees" add "or the Municipal Councils of Madurai, Tiruchirappalli and Coimbatore".

5th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"In view of what I had stated I think these amendments are not necessary."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Not only that, I have ruled them out of order because they are beyond the scope of the Bill."

SRI P. RAMAMURTHI:—"3-வது சப்-க்ளாஸ்க்குப் பிறகு

'but in no case shall the proportion of the cost recoverable from the persons referred to above exceed 50 per cent of the cost of acquisition.'

என்ற வார்த்தைகளைச் சேர்க்கவேண்டுமென்று மூவ் செய்கிறேன்.

"வாங்கின தொகையில் 50 பர்செண்டிக்கு மேல் சர்க்கார் வசூல் செய்வது சரியல்ல என்று சட்ட பூர்வமாக போடுவதைக் காட்டிலும் நெளிவு சுருவு இருக்கக்கூடிய முறையில் இருந்தால் நல்லது என்று சொன்னார். அந்த வாதத்தைக் கேட்ட பிறகும்கூட இது சரி இல்லை என்று சொல்லுகிறேன். மந்திரிகள் ஒவ்வொரு குடிசைக்கும் போய் நஷ்ட ஈட்டுத் தொகையை நிர்ணயிக்க முடியாது. இந்த அளவிற்கு இன்று குடிசைக்காரர்கள் கொடுக்க வேண்டும் என்று நிர்ணயிக்கும் பொறுப்பு சட்டத்தில் இருந்தாலும்கூட நடைமுறையில் அதை அதிகாரிகள் எந்த விதத்தில் நிர்ணயிக்கப் போகிறார்கள்? அவர்கள் இருந்த இடத்திலேயே இருந்துகொண்டு நிர்ணயிப்பார்கள். அப்படி அவர்கள் நிர்ணயிக்கும்போது பல விதமான தொந்தரவுகள் ஏற்படும். அதற்குப் பிறகு ஒவ்வொரு குடிசையிலிருந்து சர்க்காருக்கு தூது கோஷ்டி வரும். அந்த வேலையை கவனிக்கத் தான் சர்க்காருக்கு இடம் இருக்கும். ஆகவே 50 சத விசதத்திற்கு மேல் அதிகம் போகாமல் வசூல் செய்யவேண்டும் என்று சட்டத்தில் நிறைவேற்றப்படவேண்டும். அதுதான் நியாயம் என்று நினைக்கிறேன். இதை சர்க்காரும் ஒப்புக் கொள்ளுவார்கள் என்று நினைக்கிறேன்."

SRI A. RATNAM:—"Sir, I second the amendment."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Motion moved—

'After sub-clause 3, add the following at the end:—

"but in no case shall the proportion of the cost recoverable from the persons referred to above exceed 50 per cent of the cost of acquisition."

THE HON. C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Sir, I beg again that the hon. Member may be pleased not to press this amendment. Apart from what I said when I spoke on the general debate, I wish to add this. It is open to Government and likely that they will lay down a policy from time to time regarding the principle and with due regard to the particular area with which it is concerned. If we lay it down here in the Act itself as 50 per cent what will happen is just what the hon. Member is afraid of. Officers would act on that basis and it would be unreasonable for Government to fix less than 50 per cent, say 30 per cent or even one-eighth. Therefore, I would request him to leave this without specifying in the Act. It is not possible for the Government to extort money from people who are living in slum areas and people squatting on slums are not likely to be very rich clients. So, it is better to drop the amendment."

[5th January 1954]

SRI P. RAMAMURTHI :—“நாம் இல்லாமல் போனாலும் பின்னால் வருகிறவர்கள் கட்டாயமாக 50 சத விதிகம் வாங்குவார்கள். அப்ப யில்லாவிட்டால் 100 சத விதிகம்கூட வாங்குவார்கள். அதனால் இதற்கு வரையறுக்கப்பட வேண்டும் என்ற காரணத்திற்காகத்தான் இந்த திருத்தத்தை நான் ப்ரஸ் பண்ணுகிறேன்.”

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER :—“The question is—

‘That clause 4 of the Bill do stand part of the Bill.’”

Clause 13 was put and carried.

MR. SPEAKER :—“The question is—

‘That clause 5 of the Bill do stand part of the Bill.’”

The motion was put and carried.

MR. SPEAKER :—“The question is—

‘That clauses 7, 8, 9 and 10 do stand part of the Bill.’”

The motion was put and carried.

MR. SPEAKER :—“The question is—

‘That clauses 11 and 12 do stand part of the Bill.’”

The motion was put and carried.

Clause 13.

RAJA MUTHIAH CHETTIAR OF CHETTINAD :—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to raise a very important point of privilege of the public which is being trampled down day in and day out by the legislature—not by the legislature primarily, but by the Ministry, whoever the Ministers that hold office. This practice of completely ignoring the judiciary is not fair. I would ask the Government straightway to announce, ‘Let us have no judiciary at all in the State and the country.’ It would be much cleaner politics to say that we shall not have any judiciary and we shall carry on justice by executive orders, we shall dispense with justice and carry on with majority rule. The effect of clauses 13, 14 and 15 as also the earlier clauses comes to that only, whereby legal proceedings under this Act is limited. Only appeal lies with the High Court on points of law. Clauses 13 and 15 say that no further proceedings are possible. There are distinguished lawyers here and they will realize what a grave injustice it would be to the public. Sir, why should Government fight shy of proper proceedings. Sir, now that the Constitution is proposed to be amended, let the Madras Government suggest to the Government of India that the Constitution be amended providing for the abolition of the High Courts. If there are no High Courts, the trouble about the location of the Andhra High Court will also not arise. The Hon. Chief Minister is himself a distinguished jurist and was an eminent lawyer long before he entered politics. Today we are very proud of him. If a World Court is established, I am sure he would be invited to occupy the seat of the Chief Justice of the World Court. But the provisions of this Bill do no credit to him—I am not attacking him sitting behind him. Just because he wants to show to the slum people that something wonderful is done, this is brought forward. I want to stress that later on the provisions of this Bill will put the slum people into greater difficulties. I have already expressed to him that there are many things which are not of a beneficial nature. Government themselves owe an explanation to the House and the State. There are many slums in Government lands. I want an assurance from the Hon. Chief Minister and the Government that their slums would be improved first. When they have not improved these slums, what is the good of talking about other slums? (The Hon. Chief Minister : ‘I have given an assurance during the general debate.’)

“I do not know. It is because the Assembly meets at 9 o'clock and I have not been able to attend. Government should take up for improvement slums in Government lands first, then in Corporation lands, then City Improvement Trust lands and fourth in order only other slums. Government should provide the necessary money for these things. Money is the most important thing needed.

“As for compensation, I feel that by the time the compensation is paid, there might be even legal objection to the nature of acquisition itself. If we go to the Court on that point, as lawyer Members here know, the judge may say, ‘it is not a point of law, but it is a point of fact’ and so on.

“It has been provided in the Act that Government may make rules as they like. Of course, it is the Governor who will make rules. But the Governor approves whatever the Ministry recommends. It will be a grave injustice to the public, because the rules framed by the Government are not placed before the legislature. Some 30 or 20 years ago, what was happening was whenever rules were framed under any section of an Act, they were placed on the table of the House, a resolution would be moved that the rules be approved and they will be approved by the legislature. So, I would request the Government to place the rules on the table of the House and move a resolution for the approval of those rules by the Legislature. I request an assurance from Government that they will no longer interfere with the dignity of the Courts. It is a very important matter. It is designed to restrict the right of the public. Here there is no question of the poor man and the rich man. It is a question of property and acquisition of property. Of course, improving slums is a laudable object. I congratulate the Hon. Chief Minister and the Government on this Bill. But they should do things in a realistic way. Let them provide money for the Corporation for carrying on the necessary improvements, etc. I am glad that the Hon. Chief Minister has given an assurance.

“Incidentally, I may say that Government should issue general orders to the Legal Department not to provide for such clauses in future in any Act. It would be only doing real justice to the public and it would redound to the credit of our Chief Minister, the great jurist that he is."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Sir, I do not accept the compliments paid to me. But I must answer his point. It is my unfortunate lot to answer points raised by Members on these Benches. But he is perfectly within his right in raising the point. The reason for introducing clause 13 which bars the jurisdiction of civil courts is not want of confidence in the judiciary. I have absolutely no doubt in my mind that the judiciary should be supported, that the prestige of the judiciary and people's confidence in it should be maintained, and I have said this more than once. I believe that the judiciary itself has no doubts in regard to that point. But confidence in the judiciary is different from belief in litigation. There are some matters in which we should not encourage litigation. The judiciary cannot help receiving litigation once litigation is permitted. In this case we are interested in removing the scandal of squatting on vacant land which is going apace in the City of Madras along with the growth of population and consequent unemployment and the invasion of the entire population of the State into the City of Madras to get employment. Also in consequence of the laziness of people who depend upon other people to do manual work, we have allowed the slums to develop apace. We are in a hurry to improve the slums and make the City of Madras presentable to our own conscience and to the outside world. The landlord has been allowing all these days huts to be built and occupied by people and the development of slums."

RAJA MUTHIAH CHETTIAR OF CHETTINAD :—" In spite of himself."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" In some cases; the landowner has entered into an agreement with the slum-dwellers. 'In spite of himself' may be true so far as the Government are concerned. That was what I said when the hon. Member was absent. The position of a squatter on Government land is different from the position of a squatter on private land. In the case of a private owner, there is the considerable advantage of getting a revenue from these unfortunate people who, because their holding is insecure, are willing to pay anything that is demanded of them from month to month. Should we allow litigation by the high power landlord—I say this because money is power—the value of whose land in the city has gone up just because of the growth of population? The value of the land has increased not on account of any exertion on the part of the landlord but simply on account of the activity of the people in giving birth to children and the unemployment that is prevailing in the country side. Why should we allow the land value to go up? That is why we want to acquire the slum areas as soon as possible. We have provided in clause 13 that we should not be stayed in this good activity of ours by the filing of petitions in courts which may make the whole matter get stuck up for years and years. We have provided a similar clause in other Bills barring particular kinds of litigation. Here, litigation in respect of the acquisition itself is not to be allowed. That is why clause 13 is inserted. I hope the House will not accept the suggestion that the clause should be given up."

5th January 1954] [Sri C. Rajagopalachari]

Clause 13 was put and carried.

Clause 14 was put and carried.

Clause 15.

RAJA MUTHIAH CHETTIAR OF CHETTINAD :—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, clause 15 is another instance of interference by Government with the existing law. They have no respect for the existing laws. If they have no respect for the Land Acquisition Act, let them repeal it. If the Act is good enough for other purposes, why should the proceedings taken under that Act be declared void under this Act? This takes my breath away. I cannot understand how the lawyer-Members of the Cabinet came to think of an unlawful provision like this. The proceedings already started under the Land Acquisition Act are wiped out by this provision. I have no doubt that the validity of this will be contested. Some lawyer-Members of this House are nodding their head. Any person can request the Governor of Madras and the President of India not to give their assent to this Bill. But I do not think that anybody will be so serious in the City of Madras. If anybody were to write a petition to the Governor of Madras and the President of India, I am almost certain that this Bill will be held up and the object of the Hon. Chief Minister to expedite the passage of this Bill will not be fulfilled. Let him think over this at this stage. No doubt, the clause will be passed with the majority that the Government have got. Let this House which adjourns at 1-30 p.m. be re-assembled at 2-30 p.m. and the third reading stage of this Bill be taken up in the after-lunch session. In the meantime, let the Hon. Chief Minister consult the Law Secretary. After all, there may not be many cases of acquisition proceedings under the Land Acquisition Act pending in the City of Madras. If this provision is to form part of the statute, all I can say is that it is awful."

SRI K. VINAYAKAM :—" Sir, I have made it clear that it is not my intention to delay the Bill. We feel that there are some clauses introduced in this Bill only to create a lot of confusion in working the Act. The clause barring the jurisdiction of civil courts, over which there was some discussion, is dictatorial in character. It goes against the fundamental rights of human beings. The clause under discussion is also similar in character. I want information on these points. What are the cases which the Government have in mind about which they harbour such apprehensions or suspicions? What is the number of pending cases and if there are no pending cases, why should this clause be introduced?"

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—“ If no cases are pending, the hon. Member need have no worry.”

SRI K. VINAYAKAM :—“ Our fear is that this clause is introduced to safeguard the position of Government against any decision that may be given by Courts of Law or by the Collector of Madras. To dispel that fear, why should not the Government be more explicit and give us information about the number of cases pending in the courts? As the Member who preceded me remarked, the Government with the majority that they have may carry the day. But do they not owe a rudimentary obligation to the Opposition to give the latest position about the number of pending cases? I request clarification on these points.”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—“ Sir, when this Bill was drafted, every necessary examination was made as to the legality and propriety of the measure. The hon. Member who preceded the last speaker referred to the need or the desirability of our consulting legal opinion before proceeding with the Bill, I submit that all that consultation has taken place and this is a good and proper form in which the Bill has emerged from the Legal Department of the Government. There is nothing improper or illegal in the matter. Clause 15 was provided because we did not know how long it would take for this Bill to be passed into law, as it would have to be published and introduced in the Assembly and possibly there could be committees examining it. We could not anticipate that hon. Members would appreciate our arguments for hurrying through it so quickly, and I am grateful for that. But at the time when the Bill was drafted, it was necessary to provide this clause 15 that if anything should take place in the interval, it should not serve to stop the acquisition proceedings. Therefore, clause 15 is here. There may be some case or other but I am not able to say offhand whether there is any stray case pending before the Collector for acquisition or not. There are bound to be cases. If there is a case like that, it is not an oppressive condition but it is to provide that the same procedure should apply to it also. Otherwise, totally different rules would apply to such a case. Therefore it is that clause 15 provides that the provisions of this legislation shall apply to such cases also. I submit that there is nothing wrong in it. On the contrary, no advantage should be gained by a particular landowner when we introduce a law like this. There are certain areas where cases are pending and certain other areas where this law would be applicable. There should be no discrimination between the two. Clause 15 provides that the provisions that apply to cases of new acquisition will apply to pending acquisition cases also. Therefore, there is nothing very extraordinary in this and nothing to make the President or the Governor stop the whole business as a scandal, as was suggested by my hon. Friend Raja Muthiah Chettiyar of Chettinad. I submit that this is a very proper provision. If time were given to me, I could satisfy hon. Members that there are precedents for this and Acts like this in other countries passed for this purpose, and that in all these places so far as the acquisition of land is concerned, there is no question of litigation being permitted. It is only in our country that everyone hungers to go to the High Court on every matter.”

Clause 15 was put and carried.

Clause 16.

MR. SPEAKER :—“ The motion is—

‘ That clause 16 do stand part of the Bill.’ ”

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—“ Sir, this clause read as follows :—

‘ If any difficulty arises in giving effect to the provisions of this Act, the State Government may, as occasion may require, by order, do anything which appears to them necessary for the purpose of removing the difficulty.’

I would like, Sir, that the words ‘ and shall place such orders on the table of the House ’ be added at the end.”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—“ That means the order may be delayed.”

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—“ I do not want to delay it. But such orders can be placed on the table of the House so that amendments may be suggested within fifteen days after they have been so placed.”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—“ I give that assurance.”

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—“ That assurance can be expressed in the Bill itself.

Power to remove difficulties.

‘ Sir, if any difficulty arises in giving effect to the provisions of this Act, the State Government may, as occasion may require, by order, do any thing which appears to them necessary for the purpose of removing the difficulty.’

HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—“ Sir, here also I beg my assurance to be accepted. It is only when difficulties arise that the Government will have to pass orders. Difficulties will certainly arise in these cases and the sooner they are removed the better. The hon. Member may take the assurance from me that any such orders will, as a matter of course, be placed on the table of the House, and even if we do not do so, the newspapers will be publishing them and everybody will understand them.”

Clause 16 was then put and carried.

THE SCHEDULE.

MR. SPEAKER :—“ The hon. Member Sri T. K. Rama has given notice of an amendment. It is out of order because it seeks to enlarge the scope of the Bill. It reads like this—

“ I paragraph 2 of the Schedule, after the word “ corporation ” in the fourth line add the following words :—

“ or of the Municipal Councils of Madurai, Tiruchirappalli and Coimbatore. ” ” SRI T. K. RAMA :—“ மிஸ்டர் ஸ்பீக்கர், ஸார், என்னுடைய திருத்தத்தில் . . .

‘ It extends to the whole of the City of Madras ’.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ It extends to the whole of the City of Madras ” என்று இந்த மசோதாவின் ‘ short title ’ இல் சொல்லப்பட்டிருக்கும்போது, மதுரை, திருச்சி போன்ற நகரங்களுக்கெல்லாம் இது வராது. This clearly out of order. . . .

SRI T. K. RAMA :—“ நான் சொல்வதைச் சிறிது தயவு செய்து கேளுங்கள்.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ When the Chair is on its legs, the hon. Member should resume his seat. நீங்கள் தயவு செய்து உட்காருங்கள். Scope of the Bill ஐயே நீங்கள் மாற்றவேண்டுமென்று சொல்லுகிறீர்கள். ‘ Title ’ ஐயும் ஐயும் Preamble ’ நீங்கள் பார்க்கவேண்டும். . . . In the long title, it is stated that this is a Bill to provide for the acquisition of lands in slum areas in the City of Madras. In the Preamble, it is stated, ‘ Whereas there are a number of slum areas in the City of Madras which are likely to become a source of danger to the public health and sanitation of the City; . . . Therefore, the amendment of the hon. Member is out of order.”

SRI T. K. RAMA :—“ ‘ Preamble ’ ஐ மாற்றவேண்டும்.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ ‘ Preamble ’ ஐ மாற்றமுடியாது.”

SRI T. K. RAMA :—“ ‘ Preamble ’ ஐ மாற்றவேண்டுமென்று திருத்தம் கொடுத்திருந்தேன். ‘ Preamble ’ ம், முதல் clause இலே இரண்டாவது sub-section ஐயும் சேர்த்து யோசித்தால் என்னுடைய திருத்தமானது out of order ஆக இருக்கமுடியாது.”

5th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER :—“ உடம்பு எல்லாம் வைத்தாயிட்டு. தலை ஒன்றுக்குத்தான் இப்பொழுது தொப்பி வைக்கவேண்டியிருக்கிறது. ஆகையால், அதற்குத் தகுந்த தொப்பியாக நாம் பார்த்து வைக்க வேண்டும்.”

“ தலைக்கு தகுந்தபடிதான் தொப்பி இருக்க வேண்டுமென்பதையே தொப்பிக்குத் தகுந்த தலை இருக்க முடியாது ; நீங்கள் சொல்வது அப்படித்தான் இருக்கிறது.”

SRI T. K. RAMA :—“ ‘ Preamble ’ இன்னும் முடியவில்லை. அது இன்னும் சபை முன்னாலே இருக்கிறது.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ I rule this amendment out of order.”

The Schedule was put and carried.

MR. SPEAKER :—“ All the following amendments of hon. Members Sri T. Rama, M. S. Munisami Pillai, A. Ramasami Tevar, A. S. Subba Raj and S. Ramaswami Naidu in respect of clauses 2, 1 and the Preamble are out of order, because they seek to enlarge the scope of the Bill. For instance, one of his amendments reads—

‘ After the words “ slum area ” in sub-clause (1) of clause 3, add the words “ or an undeveloped area ”.’

Already the hon. Member has withdrawn that amendment. If the House had accepted that amendment, I can allow the present amendment as a consequential one. As he has withdrawn his previous amendment, these amendments are out of order. So, these amendments are also out of order—

‘ In the Preamble (a) after the words “ slum area ” add “ and undeveloped areas.”’

(b) after the words “ City of Madras ” add “ and in the municipal towns of Madurai, Tiruchirappalli and Coimbatore.”

(c) in the third line, for the word “ City ” substitute the words “ respective areas ”.’

Clause 1.

‘ In sub-clause (2) after the words “ City of Madras ” add the words “ and to the municipal towns of Madurai, Tiruchirappalli and Coimbatore ”.’

Clause 2.

‘ In item (a) after the words “ Madras City Civil Court ” add the words “ and the Civil Courts in the towns of Madurai, Tiruchirappalli and Coimbatore ”.’

(b) ‘ In item (e) after the words “ Slum area ” add the words “ or undeveloped area ”.’

(c) In item (f) after the words, figures and brackets “ (Madras Act IV of 1919) ” add the words, figures and brackets “ the District Municipalities Act, 1920 (Madras Act V of 1920) ”.’

Clause 2, the Preamble and clause 1 were put and carried.

THE HON. SRI A. B. SHETTY :—“ Sir, I move—

‘ That the Bill, as amended, be passed into law.’ ”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ Motion moved—

‘ That the Madras Slum Improvement (Acquisition of Land) Bill, 1954, as amended, be passed into law.’ ”

[5th January 1954]

RAJA MUTHIAH CHETTIYAR OF CHETTINAD :—“ Mr. Speaker, though I had not the opportunity to listen to the assurances given by the Hon. the Chief Minister with reference to carrying out the objects of this Bill in respect of Government slums, Corporation slums and other slums, I trust that the assurances have been given fairly clearly. I would also like the Hon. Minister who has now moved that the Bill be passed into law to tell us that the Government will not indiscriminately act Ek Dham and announce the application of this law to the hundred odd slums straightway and not take any action afterwards, for I can say from experience that it will take some time—I won't say a long time—for the Government to make up their mind to place large sums of money in the hands of the Corporation and also any Government official who may be asked to improve the Government slums. So, I do hope that till such time as the Government actually carry out the improvements to the Government and the Corporation slums by providing money and other facilities, they will not merely issue notices under this Bill with reference to other slums unless for matters of an urgent nature. Suppose there is a private slum adjoining a Government slum or Corporation slum which the Government are now trying to improve. Let them by all means issue notices. This Bill says that notices shall be given. My only point is that long time should not be taken in disposing matters connected with this. It will not be a healthy proposition and we will be doing injustice. From the moment the Government issue notice to the owner of a private slum, that land vests with the Government of Madras and the owner of that land has no responsibility at all. If the Government leave him alone without issuing a notice to him, I know there are many provisions in the City Municipal Act by which the Corporation will ask him to carry out certain improvements and keep his place and its surroundings in a perfect sanitary condition, until such time the Corporation has got enough funds to take up the improvement of the area. Therefore, by having a provision in this Bill to issue notices to such people 'Ek Dham' they will be preventing the Corporation from taking action in this regard. Let me not get the usual reply. I want the Government to carefully consider this point. Let them not come forward with their usual reply which we have been accustomed to get nowadays, viz., 'Everything is all right. There is no need for any change' and so on. I am suggesting this only from the point of view of expediency in furtherance of the objects of this Bill itself. Let us not prevent the slight improvements that are capable of being carried out by the Corporation. Until they are in a position to take up the improvement work slum by slum, let us allow the Corporation also to do it. That is my point.”

THE HON. SRI A. B. SHETTY :—“ Mr. Speaker, the Government are grateful to the hon. Members for the very warm welcome that they have accorded to this Bill, and the spirit of accommodation that they have shown on account of the appeals made to them by the Hon. Chief Minister and the assurance that he has given in regard to several of their doubts. The suggestion made by my hon. Friend Sri Muthiah Chettiar will be borne in mind and given due consideration.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ The question is—

‘ That the Madras Slum Improvement (Acquisition of Land) Bill, 1954, as amended, be passed into law.’ ”

The motion was put and carried and the Bill as amended was passed into law.

THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Wednesday, 6th January 1954.

The House met in the Assembly Chamber, Government Estate, Mount Road, at nine of the clock, Mr. Speaker (THE HON. SRI J. SIVASHANMUGAM PILLAI) in the Chair.

* * * * *

THE MALABAR TENANCY (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1953 (L.A. BILL NO. 12 OF 1953).

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—“ Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to present the Report ^a of the Joint Select Committee on the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1953 (L.A. Bill No. 12 of 1953) and move—

‘ That the Bill, as amended by the Joint Select Committee, be taken into consideration. ’ ”

SRI K. P. GOPALAN:—“ On a point of order, Sir, In rule 93 of the Madras Assembly Rules, it is stated that after the expiry of fifteen days from the making of the Report, the Member in charge may move that the Bill, as reported by the Select Committee, be taken into consideration.”

MR. SPEAKER:—“ The other day the same question was raised by some hon. Member and I told the House that I had waived notice.”

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—“ Sir, I think it will be necessary to apprise the House of the changes made by the Joint Select Committee.

“ The Joint Select Committee held six sittings in all, and considered the provisions of the Bill in the light of the several representations received from the various landed interests in the areas to which the Malabar Tenancy Act applied. In the Bill, as originally introduced in this House, the Committee has made certain important changes. I shall state them briefly:

“ ‘ Ulkudi ’ as defined in the original Amendment Bill referred to a hut on a dry land or garden land but not to a hut on wet land. As it was represented that in certain areas ulkudis are put up on wet lands also the Committee decided to widen the definition so as to make it applicable to ulkudis on wet lands also. Under the original Bill the holders of ulkudis situated outside Fort Cochin were not entitled to fixity of tenure and were liable to be evicted on the landlord giving them three years' notice. The Joint Select Committee thought that this provision was inadequate and decided in favour of granting fixity of tenure to all ulkudi holders, who had been in occupation of the ulkudis continuously for a period of three years.

^a Printed as Appendix on pages 275-293 infra.

[Sri K. P. Kuttikrishnan Nair] [6th January 1954]

"Sections 14 and 20 of the Malabar Tenancy Act specify the grounds on which the tenants governed by the Act can be evicted. Under clause (5) of these sections a landlord can evict a tenant if the holding is needed by him bona fide for raising crops for his own maintenance or that of his family. The Bill as originally introduced sought to provide that the landlord shall pay to the tenant on eviction a compensation equal to one year's net income derived by him from the holding. After a full and detailed consideration of all the issues involved, the Committee decided that no tenant should be rendered liable to eviction under clause (5) of section 14 or 20 if he or his family has been in occupation of the holding continuously for a period of 12 years."

"Over and above this, to define the scope of the expression 'bona fide need' in relation to clause (5), the Committee decided to add an explanation stating that in considering requirements of maintenance, regard shall be had only to primary needs. The insertion of the explanation strengthens the position of those few tenants who may have obtained possession of the holding within the last 12 years."

"The Joint Select Committee has introduced another change in sections 14 and 20, namely, that, under clauses (5) and (6), no eviction should be allowed in favour of an alienee until after the expiry of two years from the date of the alienation in his favour."

"Another important change made by the Joint Select Committee relates to fair rent. Under section 6 of the principal Act the tenant of a wet land has to pay as fair rent, an amount equal to one-half of the annual assessment on the land, in addition to the prescribed share of the produce. The Joint Select Committee considered that the tenant should not be made liable for half the assessment and decided to delete clause (b) of section 6."

"Under the original Bill, the rent court was to be presided over by an officer not below the rank of a Revenue Divisional Officer. The Joint Select Committee thought that it would be more convenient for the tenant if Tahsildars also could be authorized to function as rent courts. Accordingly, the Committee has amended the definition of 'rent court' so that its functions may be performed by a Tahsildar also."

6th January 1954] [Sri K. P. Kuttikrishnan Nair]

"Section 52-A of the existing Act enables any person interested in any land to apply to the Rent Settlement Authority for a declaration that a transaction entered into on or after 1st January 1916 and purporting to be a mortgage is not a mortgage, but a transaction by way of kanam, kuzhikanam, verumpattam or other lease. As the provision for the appointment of Rent Settlement Authorities is being deleted, it was proposed to delete section 52-A also in the expectation that the civil courts could decide issues of the kind covered by that section. The Joint Select Committee however thought that a specific provision was necessary and accordingly decided to insert a new section (section 11) under which any person interested in any land may claim and prove that a transaction of the kind under reference is not in fact a mortgage but one in the nature of a regular tenancy."

"New section 52-C introduced by clause 22 of the Bill, provides that any document executed by a cultivating verumpattamdar after 28th July 1950 and before the commencement of the present Amendment Bill, purporting to affect his rights or status as tenant shall be voidable at the option of the cultivating verumpattamdar. The period of limitation applicable for a suit to avoid a document is six years under article 120 of the Limitation Act. As the six years' period is too long, this new section has been redrafted so that the tenant can claim possession of the holding by giving the landlord a registered notice within three months and thereafter, if he is not let into possession, he can file a suit for possession within the next three months."

"The Bill as amended by the Joint Select Committee introduces a new section—section 52-D—specially applicable to the 33 villages of the South Kanara district to which the Malabar Tenancy Act applies. In these villages, the tenures are described both by the Kanarese terms such as mulgeni, kayamgeni, vaidegeni, chalgeni, etc., and the Malayalam terms such as kuzhikanam, kanam and varachit. The terms kanam, kuzhikanam, etc., have a slightly different meaning in the villages of South Kanara. The new section 52-D has therefore been introduced so that the Government may by notification apply the Act to the areas in question subject to the necessary adaptations, exceptions and modifications."

"The mulgeni tenant in the South Kanara district now enjoys more or less absolute fixity of tenure and has more advantages than any category of tenant under the Malabar Tenancy Act. It has therefore been made clear in the Act by an amendment to the definition of 'tenant' that the Act shall not apply to a mulgenidar."

"The Joint Select Committee has amended section 54 (3) of the principal Act to the effect that the rules issued under the Act will come into effect as soon as they are published in the Fort St. George Gazette."

[Sri K. P. Kuttikrishnan Nair] [6th January 1954]

“ Clause 19 of the original Bill sought to extend the benefits of the Act to a mortgagee who has been in actual possession of the mortgaged land for 20 years or more by preventing his eviction except when the mortgagor required the land for his own cultivation. The Committee has deleted that clause.

“ Sir, I have now briefly summed up all the important changes introduced by the Joint Select Committee. I am sure, Sir, that all sections of this House will agree that the Bill as it has emerged from the Committee is a definite improvement on the previous Bill and confers very substantial benefits on the tenant classes in Malabar and the other areas to which it applies and which their counterparts in the other areas of the State do not enjoy. Sir, the Malabar land tenure system, as you are no doubt aware, is one of the most complicated land tenure systems in the world and consequently, in the course of its deliberations, the Joint Select Committee had to deal with several intricate issues and it was but natural that there had not been complete unanimity of opinion on some such issues. At any rate, Sir, I am glad to state that although there had not been complete unanimity, my friends opposite who served on the Committee had given their maximum co-operation and have contributed in no small measure to make the deliberations of the Committee a complete success.

“ Seven dissenting minutes by the hon. Members have been received. They deal mainly with bona fide evictions, fixation of fair rent, fixity to ulkudi holders, etc. These points were fully discussed in the deliberations of the Select Committee and it was only after taking into consideration all the aspects of the question the report of the Select Committee was finalized. The Government have decided to introduce an amendment to section 7 of the principal Act under which, for the first 12 years, the fair rent payable by the tenant shall not exceed three times the rent payable by him for the agricultural year 1949-50. Provision is also made that such increase shall be spread over a number of years so that in no year shall the rent be more than one and a half times the rent payable for the year immediately preceding. Provision is also made to enable the tenant, if he so elects, to pay the rent fixed in kind.

“ The Government are proposing an amendment to section 51 to enable the fixation of price every three months so that the complaints voiced forth on the floor of the House that the Collector has not notified the price may not be repeated hereafter. It is also decided to fix the price as the average price within those three months.

“ Sir, I hope the Bill when passed into an Act will be able to restore harmony between the landlords and the tenants. I have nothing more to add. Whatever I have to say, I will say in the course of my reply to the various points raised by the hon. Members during the discussion.”

6th January 1954]

Mr. SPEAKER:—“ Motion moved—

‘ That the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1953 (L.A. Bill No. 12 of 1953), as amended by the Joint Select Committee be taken into consideration.’ ”

MOTION UNDER PROVISIO TO RULE 24 OF THE MADRAS ASSEMBLY RULES.

THE HON. SRI C. SURRAMANIAM:—“ Sir, before we proceed to consider the Malabar Tenancy Bill, I wish to move the following motion:—

‘ That rule 24 of the Madras Assembly Rules be suspended and the House do resolve to transact Government business on Thursday, the 7th January 1954.’

“ I may inform the hon. Members that 9th January 1954 will be a non-official day.”

MR. SPEAKER:—“ I think the Hon. Leader of the House has moved the motion in consultation with the leaders of various parties and so the House will give permission to the Government to transact official business to-morrow. The question is—

‘ That rule 24 of the Madras Assembly Rules be suspended and the House do resolve to transact Government business on Thursday, the 7th January 1954.’ ”

The motion was put and carried.

6th January 1954]

THE MALABAR TENANCY (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1953

SRI P. RAMAMURTHI:—"Sir, now I would like to speak on the Bill that is now before the House. This is a very important Bill in spite of the fact that it touches only a part of the State, viz., Malabar district and I hope Members who have come here from other parts of the State will evince keen interest in this Bill and take the fullest share in its discussion and voting. The question of tenancy is nothing new to this House. It has been before the House for nearly thirty years. But I would like to go a little back to the days when this struggle started. The urgency of the problem was so great in Malabar even a century ago that there were several revolts, peasant revolts in that part of the State. In 1884, there was a peasant revolt. Again in 1921, there was staged one of the biggest of revolts which was otherwise called the Moplah Rebellion. The British Government did not like the revolt to be called an agrarian revolt and tried to give it a communal turn."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"The hon. Member probably had not much knowledge of the details of the Moplah Rebellion. That was entirely over the Khilafat question and there was a rumour circulated that a Turkish ship was waiting in the harbour and hence the rebellion."

[6th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM:—"That is the Russian method of talking."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"It is not so. The Kerala Provincial Congress Committee itself has passed a unanimous resolution stating that it was an agrarian revolt."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"The hon. Member is too young, I fear, to speak authoritatively on what happened in 1920. I was in it. I was in Malabar also and I lived with some of the prisoners for some time in prison also. The hon. Member is very wrong in connecting agrarian matters with this. There was no agrarian agitation. But of course, the Communists' technique is to make everything agrarian and industrial." (Ministerialist cheers.)

SRI. P. RAMAMURTHI:—"In spite of the remarks of the Hon. the Chief Minister that it was not connected with agrarian matters, I must beg to differ from him and I would like to tell him that I do not accept his opinion as based on history nor do I accept him to be an authority on history."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"I was referring to my personal experience."

SRI P. RAMAMURTHI:—"I admit that the Chief Minister was in jail with some of the Moplah prisoners. The fact that he was in that area at that particular time does not mean that he knows the entire history of the origin of the Moplah Rebellion. Therefore, I do not want to enter into a controversy over this fact."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"That I am not an authoritative historian will be admitted even by me. But when it comes from the Leader of the Opposition, he cannot put forward the claim that on the connected subjects he is an authority."

SRI P. RAMAMURTHI:—"Neither do I claim to be an authority on this subject. What is relevant to our purpose now is this. We must consider the course and development of that so-called rebellion, in which thousands of Malayalees belonging to each and every community went against the landlords. It all happened during the period of the rebellion and the Congress Committee itself has recorded this fact."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"I dispute its correctness."

SRI P. RAMAMURTHI:—"The Hon. the Chief Minister may dispute it but the organisation to which he belongs, viz., the Congress, has itself after a full enquiry come to the conclusion that the revolt was an agrarian revolt and that it had its origin in agrarian discontent. I take the Malabar Congress Committee to be a greater authority which has direct knowledge of the people and their condition than the Chief Minister." (Opposition cheers.)

[6th January 1954] [Sri P. Ramamurthi]

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"When was the resolution passed?"

SRI P. RAMAMURTHI:—"I think in the year 1929."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"The Rebellion took place in 1921 and the resolution was passed in 1929."

SRI P. RAMAMURTHI:—"It was a resolution which went into the whole matter. It was passed after detailed enquiry into the history of the rebellion. So, I do not want to dilate on this question further. I would like to point out that this kind of organised agitation has been going on for a very long time. In 1930, therefore, the British Government thought it necessary for the first time to satisfy the peasants with some reform if they wanted to avoid rebellions for ever. Although they were able to suppress the earlier rebellion, they feared that many more might crop up unless they undertook some legislation to satisfy the demands of the peasants at least partially. And so the 1930 Act came. But even then the British Government did not want to do away with the rights of the landlord class because the Government wanted the support of the landlord element for their own existence. They did not want to touch their rights to any fundamental or material extent. Therefore, the agitation continued for some more years and the Congress Party itself, which was no opposition to the then Government, supported it. As a result of this opposition to the original Act, the Kuttikrishna Menon Committee came and it submitted its report in 1940.

"It has taken nearly eight years for the Congress to bring forward an amending Bill. They brought forward a Bill in 1950 and it was passed in 1951. It was sponsored by the ex-Minister Sri Madhava Menon. But though that Bill was enacted in 1951, it came into force only in March 1952; but such was the opposition to the provisions of that Act from the public of Malabar, that the Government thought it necessary to suspend the operations of that Act ever since it came into force. Let us now try to see whether the present Bill which ostensibly seeks to make certain changes notably with regard to the peasants really seeks to do something at least which would help the peasants to maintain a decent standard of living not to speak of leading a luxurious life. Does this Bill assure a reasonable wage for them? No, surely the answer is a bland 'no'. The Bill does not even touch the fringe of the problem. The three fundamental questions concerning the peasantry have been left untouched. The question of eviction and the question of right of occupancy by the peasant do not find a place here. Particularly the question assuring a share. I mean a decent share, for the peasant by whose sweat and toil the produce is raised, has not been thoroughly discussed and an agreed solution arrived at. Let me tell hon. Members that these three questions I have mentioned above are inter-related questions. They do not form separate entities as the Government seem to imagine. Although these three questions seem to be different on the face of it, none the less they are inter-related to one another. They are fundamentally connected with each other. What does this Bill say about these three questions? That is what we are concerned. Does it make any material change? Does it bring about any radical change so that the tenant who actually tills the soil through his sweat is enabled to live in security? Is the tenant assured of a living wage? Is he assured of a fair share in the produce? Does this Bill ensure for him a decent standard of life so that he might get enthused and concentrate on more production? These things have not been assured to the poor tenants. That is why I say this Bill has not touched even the fringe of the problem.

"I would like to inform all hon. Members of this House coming from places other than Malabar that the Malabar Tenancy system is not a wonderful system or strange system entirely different from ours. I shall explain the terms used there. Let not hon. Members, because the names appear to be strange, imagine that the tenancy is also different and beyond our comprehension. The Kanamdar is the intermediary. He takes certain lands on a contract basis from the proprietor who is called the 'Jenmu'. The Kanamdar then sublets. I do know that there are Kanamdars who themselves cultivate. But their number is relatively few. The sublettees are the cultivators. They are called 'Verumpattamdars'. Pattam in Malayalam means varam in Tamil. 'Verum' means 'mere'. This is the meaning of these Malayalam terms. Let us not therefore imagine that this Malabar Tenancy system is one that is altogether different from that of ours. The relationship between landlord and tenants are termed as the relationship between the 'Kanamdar' and the 'Verumpattamdar' here. The present Bill does not seek to improve the relationship between the two. Of course that is a different question and I shall not dilate much upon it. I can only say that when the facts are as I had stated before, to say that the present Bill would change the very basis of the relationship between the landlord and tenant cannot be obviously true. The one peculiar system that we find prevalent in Malabar is that there are a number of intermediaries between the actual owner of the land and the man who actually cultivates, viz., the verumpattamdar. Has any material change been effected in the relationship between the verumpattamdar and kanamdar? No, surely the answer is in the negative. The Bill therefore has totally failed to satisfy the needs of the peasants of Malabar.

"No doubt in the principal Act of 1951, certain provisions were sought to be introduced. There the question of eviction was covered by sections 14 and 20. I am not going into the details of it. But under the Act, the right of eviction under certain conditions was prescribed. Let me read the relevant clauses which are as follows: No suit for eviction against a cultivating verumpattamdar shall lie at the instance of his landlord except on the following grounds:—

'(1) That the tenant has not paid, within three months after the due date, the whole or any portion of the rent due in respect of the holding;

(2) that the tenant has collusively allowed a stranger to encroach on the holding or part thereof adversely to the interests of the landlord.'

"I am particularly referring to the provision that if the tenant fails to pay within three months after the due date, the whole or any portion of the rent due in respect of this holding, he will be summarily evicted. Thus, we find, even though the Government say that the present Bill ostensibly seeks to improve the condition of the tenants, that the Bill in reality is only in name. It does not confer any benefit on the tenant. The Government say that they are conferring on the tenant the right of occupancy and security against eviction so long as he pays the fair rent. What is this fair rent? How is it fixed? Can you say that the present fixation of rent is fair? You say that you confer a right on the tenant against any eviction and at the same time, you insert a clause wherein it is definitely stated in clear language that within three months from the due date if the tenant fails to pay the fair rent, he will be evicted forthwith. When all along the tenant is crying that the present fair rent is too heavy a burden on him, the Government ask him to continue to pay that fair rent all along and say that if and when three months elapse within which the tenant fails to pay his rent, he shall be evicted. In the same view they say that they confer the right of security on the tenant. ask: is this justice? Is any real benefit given to the tenant?

"There is another provision in the Act to which I wish to refer. It says: [Clause (5) of section 14 of the principal Act.]

'That if at the end of an agricultural year the landlord needs the holding bona fide for the purpose of raising crops or other produce for his own maintenance or for that of any member of (his tarwad, tavazhi, illom, kutumba, kavaru or family) who has a proprietary and beneficial interest in the holding, the tenant shall be evicted.'

Of course the Government have clarified that the requirements of the landlord for his maintenance shall only be in respect of his 'primary needs'. To that extent I am glad for the clarification. But at the same time it should be borne in mind that unlike the families in other parts of the State, in the families of Malabar, viz., in a tarwad, tavazhi, there are as many as 100 to 300 members. All these people have got a proprietary right on the land, even though they may not be the head of the family. The head of the family has a right under the existing provisions to assign a portion of his land (it may be 1,000 or 2,000 acres in a rich family) to any one of the members of his family, tavazhi or tarwad, whom he chooses. Therefore, they can within the orbit of this law alienate every single inch of the land to the various people and under those conditions it is possible to evict the peasants. In spite of the fact that this amending Bill ostensibly seeks to confer some benefit on the peasants on the question of eviction, unless we know the conditions, unless we know the family system that is prevalent in Malabar and the proprietary right of every member of the family in Malabar, we will not be able to understand it fully. We will be fooled if we say that something wonderful is conferred on the peasants. Therefore, I say the question of eviction stands still where it was under this law. The peasants are liable to be evicted as they were evicted even before.

"Then, Sir, let us take fair rent. That is the most important thing. Now the Congress Government talks day in and day out of land reform. But if this is the piece of legislation that they are going to bring forward after so much of mature consideration, then what are we to expect for the other parts of the State? This Bill gives an indication of the kind of land reform they are contemplating. That is why I say that this question of fair rent is of fundamental importance. Take for example, the Five-Year Plan of the Congress Government. It promised that normally speaking nowhere should the rent, that is the share the peasant pays to the landlord, exceed 20 or 25 per cent. This is what has been categorically stated in the Five-Year Plan. We are now in the third year of the Plan. In another two years, the Five-Year Plan would be over. Obviously, even at the end of the third year, in a place like Malabar, with this piece of legislation that is now before the House, the fair rent that has been promised in the Five-Year Plan is not conferred. Then I would like to know what would become of the effect of the whole Plan? Is that Plan only for propaganda purposes? Is this the way we are going to do justice to the peasants? What is it that is provided in this Bill? Is it a very great improvement? I would like to point out that far from being an improvement, this is something which will work in the reverse direction as far as the peasants are concerned.

"In the Principal Act, under sections 4 to 9, it was provided that different amounts of rent shall be payable for different types of land. In Malabar, there are certain garden lands; there are pepper gardens. But in respect of pepper gardens, what was provided under the principal Act was not enforced because of the opposition of the peasants. What was provided was that at the end of the first five years, the entire crop will go to the landlord and thereafter every year one-fifth of it will go to the landlord. It has now been amended providing for one-sixth of the crop. How is it necessary that the landlord should get one-sixth? We all know that the lands on which pepper is grown are barren lands on the mountains."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Do Malabar members accept the word 'barren'? It is uncultivated land."

SRI P. RAMAMURTHI:—"I accept the correction. It is uncultivated land on the mountains. Does the landlord do anything in order to clear the land, to clear the forest? No, he does not do anything. He simply owns the land. It is the peasant who clears the land and after clearing, he makes it fit for cultivation. The entire cost of clearing and cultivation is the peasant's. The landlord does not put in a single ounce of energy or money or contribute anything in that regard."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"The Leader of the Opposition, a Tamil Member, should know that even Government in olden days used to take a sixth of the produce of the land and Government did nothing. Whether the man owned it, hired it, bought it, inherited or conquered it, he was entitled to a sixth."

SRI P. RAMAMURTHI:—"I am very glad that the Hon. Chief Minister equates the landlords to the Government. This only proves my contention that the Government itself is a Government of landlords." (Laughter.)

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"It is a very confused commentary."

SRI P. RAMAMURTHI:—"The Hon. Chief Minister knows that when Government in ancient times took Rajabhaga of one-sixth, that was for a fixed, specific purpose. It was for the purpose of seeing that the peasants got certain irrigation facilities, certain defence against marauders. But here is a landlord who does nothing to clear the land and make it fit for cultivation. And here is the peasant who does everything, clears the land, cultivates, manures and does all other things. After the peasant does all these things, the landlord is entitled to one-sixth.

"Again, if there is a piece of waste land which the peasant cultivates, the landlord under the provisions of this Bill is entitled to three times the annual assessment by the Government. Let us take another piece of land, an ordinary garden land where some crop is raised and along with it in a portion, pepper is also grown. Under the provisions of this very Bill, the landlord is entitled to one-eighth. Simply because a particular peasant is more energetic and is capable of spending a little more money, the landlord is entitled to one-sixth of the produce.

"In regard to coconut gardens, the existing practice is that the produce is shared by the landlord and the tenant under a system of contract. Let us assume that in an acre there are 75 coconut trees,—I am subject to correction, it may be more in some cases or it may be less in other cases, normally it would be about 75 trees. Assuming that each bears about 100 nuts, we will get in all 7,500 coconuts per year. Out of this one-sixth has to go to the landlord. That means about 1,250 coconuts will have to be handed over to the landlord, which would work out to Rs. 158 or even more. Normally, for an acre of coconut garden, the contract rent is nowhere beyond Rs. 50. It is between Rs. 30 and 40. Now the wonderful benefit sought to be conferred on the peasant by this law is that the peasant is obliged in the name of fair rent to pay about Rs. 150 or more, instead of the existing contract rent of Rs. 30 or 40. I am here reminded of the usurious money-lenders who would say 'I am taking interest only one thambadi for one thambadi'. Similarly, it has been provided to pay the landlord one-sixth of the produce and that is how justice is being sought to be meted out to the peasants.

"Then take for example the question of paddy cultivation. With regard to the lands where paddy is cultivated, Section 5 of the parent Act fixes the fair rent. It says: 'Fair rent in the case of dry lands converted into wet by the tenant's labour shall be one-fifth of the net paddy produce of the land'. Section 6 lays down: 'In the case of wet lands not falling under the previous section, fair rent shall be--

(a) one-half of the net paddy produce of the land or in the case of land cultivated on the punjakol or kaipad system, one-fourth of the gross paddy produce of the land; and

(b) an amount equal to one-half of the annual assessment payable in respect of the land.'

The only amendment that has been sought to be introduced to Section 6 after a good deal of discussion in the Select Committee is to omit this sub-clause (b), namely, 'an amount equal to one-half of the annual assessment payable in respect of the land'. I would like to know how this 50 per cent of the net produce is decided upon. A certain amount has been fixed in perpetuity. Twenty-two paras have been fixed as the cost of cultivation per acre. Nobody knows how this has been fixed and the Government do not say that there is any scientific method by which these 22 paras have been fixed. If we go through the report of the Kuttikrishnan Nair Committee, we find that the Committee itself has admitted that in a number of places the cost of cultivation goes up to 40 or 45 paras. Normally, in a number of places it is about 30 paras. These factors have not been taken into consideration and an ad hoc fixation of 22 paras towards the cost of cultivation is made here and on that basis, the net produce is decided upon. This would obviously mean that the peasant will have to pay, under the provisions of the Bill that is now being sought to be enacted, not 50 per cent but something more than 50 per cent. His share is going to be definitely far less. The result of all this comes to this, that so far as the peasant is concerned, out of the 50 per cent that he gets, he has to spend a good lot of it towards cultivation expenses. The cost of cultivation is not being shared equally between the landlord and the tenant. The peasant has got to pay more with the result that what remains with him is hardly sufficient for him to meet his own expenses. Such is the plight of the peasant who toils day in and day out. He has to maintain his family and sometimes he engages hired labour and has to pay for it. Added to all this, cultivation in Malabar is extremely difficult. It is not so easy as in Tanjore district where water is available in plenty and irrigation facilities are available in plenty. Excepting in certain areas, cultivation is a difficult problem. When the peasant has got to contribute so much of his toil in order to raise the crop, at the end, he finds that he has not the wherewithal even to continue his cultivation. It is this that has led to the position that the peasants of Malabar in large numbers have left their own places and gone elsewhere. They are indebted to an extent never known before in the history of the country. Their indebtedness has been increasing day by day and year after year. Can you expect such a peasant to give his best for the purpose of cultivating what is needed for the people of this country? Then, obviously there is no enthusiasm. Oftentimes we talk of creating enthusiasm. The only question before us is in what are we interested. This is a human problem. The peasant must have the incentive to produce and he must have the joy to put forth his best to produce. Therefore when we talk of the peasant and say that he has got to produce, certainly we should understand that there is such a thing as joy of creation. The peasants are overwhelmed with joy when they see what they have produced, but when that produce is taken away from them year after year and they get nothing out of it then how will you be able to enthruse them to produce more? This is the simple question before us and unless an answer to that simple question is found, the basic problem before our country can never be solved. As I have pointed out, more than 50 per cent of the produce goes to the landlords. What is their number? They form about 5 per cent of the entire population of Malabar. Thus you will see that 5 per cent of the population get about 50 per cent and more of the total produce from the land. The remaining 50 per cent is divided among the 95 per cent of the peasantry. Is this equity for those who toil day in and day out? The Congress Government stands here for reducing this disparity of income among the various sectors of the people. The Congress Government is interested in seeing that there is no inequality between the rich and the poor. In this the way in which inequality is sought to be reduced? Because of the Government's failure to tackle this problem, because of their failure to fix up a conscionable fair rent and on account of the continuation of the unconscionable rate of rent that has been prevailing in Malabar, whatever rights might be conferred on the tenants by means of certain provisions got completely nullified by other provisions of the Act."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"I do not wish to interfere, but I wish to mention to the Hon. Speaker and the Hon. Leader of the Opposition that these matters have been discussed by the Joint Select Committee which was appointed. I do not wish to belittle the importance of the observations of the Leader of the Opposition. But the point is that we should get through this Bill this Session if possible and I am sure hon. Members will co-operate. Because a Joint Select Committee has already sat and discussed the question very thoroughly, we need not go into every detail here."

SRI M. PALANIYANDI:—" (On a point of information) எதிரக் கட்சித் தலைவர் பேசும்போது மந்திரிகள் தாங்கள் செய்த ரிப்போர்ட்டுகளை மறுத்து வேண்டுமோடு போடுவது வழக்கம் என்றார். சுப்ரமணியம்

SRI P. RAMAMURTHI:—"I believe I have made a mistake. It is Kuttikrishna Menon Committee."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Nair and Menon both mean the same thing."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"But the persons are different."

SRI P. RAMAMURTHI:—"It is true that these questions were discussed by the Joint Select Committee. But, unfortunately, our viewpoint was not accepted by the Government in the Joint Select Committee. Therefore, my only purpose in pointing out these things is to make hon. Members on the other side change their minds so that they need not stick to what has been already agreed to by the Joint Select Committee as something sacrosanct. That is why I am pointing out that exactly the same old system is sought to be perpetuated in this new Bill also. The question is one of fixing the fair rent and unless the Government are prepared to consider this question taking into account the difficulties of the tenant, no appreciable benefit will accrue to the peasant. Therefore, I urge upon the Government even now to consider the change."

"Lastly I would like to make one more observation. On the question of the arrears of rent, this amending Bill provides that all the arrears of rent from 1947-48 ending with 1952-53, that is, for a period of six years, must be paid by the tenant to the landlord before a certain date that might be fixed by the District Collector or in any particular manner. Now, it is well known that these were the very years when the whole of Malabar was affected by drought. Last year there was a terrific flood and as a result paddy and other crops were completely spoiled. The peasants got nothing out of their toil. All their labours were a waste. Is it equity then to ask these peasants, who got nothing to pay as the landlord's share of the produce a certain amount of fair rent year after year? This is treated as a permanent liability on the peasant. I know that in 1938 when our present Chief Minister was the Premier of this State, the Congress Party took up a different position. The Congress Party at that time was in opposition to the British Government and as such it was much nearer the people than it is to-day. (Interruption by the Hon. Sri C. Rajagopalachari.) The Communist Party was there, but it was not allowed to function openly by the present Chief Minister."

[6th January 1954] [Sri P. Ramamurthi]

"Taking into account the fact that the period between 1930 and 1934 was a period of economic crisis throughout the world, the Government in 1938 wiped out completely all arrears of rent except for the preceding two years, if I remember right. We know the condition of the peasantry in general and the condition of the Malabar peasantry in particular. The last six years have been years of drought and indebtedness and unemployment have increased during the period. When that is the position, to ask the tenant to pay arrears of rent for six years is something which I cannot understand."

"On the basic and fundamental questions, this Bill does not touch even the fringe of the problem of the peasantry. I want to remind the Congress Members and the Congress Government of one thing. The previous Minister from Malabar sought to enact the 1951 Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill. That Bill became the bone of contention in the last general election. Every party that stood in opposition to the Congress, particularly the Communist Party and the Praja Party, placed it as the main issue before the electorate of Malabar. We know what the fate of that Minister was. We also know what the fate of the Congress Party was in Malabar over this very question. The Party was reduced to a minority of four, out of 29 seats, they could win hardly 4 seats. The present Minister from Malabar, who is sponsoring this Bill, got through by a very small majority of four hundred odd votes, that too when his opponent was not given even the ordinary facilities of election campaign. Sri Sankaran Nambudiripad remained underground at that time. I would remind the Government of the tremendous opposition of the peasantry of Malabar and the fate of the Congress Party as a result of that. Do the present Government want the same fate to overtake the Congress Party this time also is the simple question that I wish to ask. As far as this Bill is concerned, the volume of opposition to it in Malabar is well known. Every section, to whichever party its members may belong, is opposing the Bill. Let not the Government persist in this Bill. If they persist, I would make this simple request. Let them convene a conference of the Members of this Assembly coming from Malabar and accept the majority recommendations of that conference. At least that will be going to some extent in doing justice to the people of Malabar. If, in spite of the opposition of the majority of Members elected from Malabar, the Government pass the Bill with the majority they have got from the Members of Tamilnad and other places and impose the Act on the people of Malabar, the Government will be responsible for creating enmity between the people of Malabar and the people of Tamilnad. The Malabar people will feel that this unwanted measure has been thrust upon them because they do not have a separate legislature of their own and because their fate has to be decided by non-Malabar representatives as well. That will be the result of passing this measure against the wishes of the majority of the Members from Malabar. Therefore, I would make a final appeal to the Government to stay the Bill and immediately convene a conference of the Members coming from Malabar. Let the Members of the Congress Party also be there—I am not opposed to it. Let the Members of the Congress Party, Muslim League, Praja-Socialist Party and Communist Party and Independents be invited. Let all the 29 Members coming from Malabar sit together and go through the Bill, and let the Government accept the majority verdict. That is the minimum thing that I ask the Government to do if they want to do justice to the people and peasantry of Malabar.” (Cheers from the Opposition Benches.)

MR. SPEAKER:—“ I wish to know from the Leader of the House how much time should be allotted for the discussion of this motion. I think the discussion can go on till 1 p.m. and the Hon. Minister can begin his reply at 1 p.m.”

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN:—“ This is not enough.”

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM:—“ We have already discussed this Bill once before, and it is the Select Committee's report which is under consideration. When the clause by clause discussion is taken up, various points of view will be put forward.”

MR. SPEAKER:—“ Clause by clause discussion will be taken up to-morrow.”

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM:—“ I respectfully submit that we can finish the discussion of the motion to-day. The Hon. Minister can be called upon to reply at 1 p.m. and I think half an hour will do for him. There is no use of simply repeating the same arguments. Of course, there is the satisfaction of our having expressed our viewpoints. I appeal to the Members for their co-operation.”

SRI P. RAMAMURTHI:—“ Sir, for the benefit of the Malabar Members, I will speak in English.

“ It is not a question of repeating certain things. I would like the Government also to appreciate the difficulty in considering a Bill of this type. Most of the Members who come from areas outside Malabar do not know the implications of this Bill in all their aspects. They do not understand even the basic principles of the Malabar Tenancy System. Certain basic things have to be explained, as, without this explanation, clause by clause discussion and the moving of amendments will carry no meaning to the Members, and the system of block voting or party voting will be the result. So far as this Bill is concerned, every Member must judge the clauses on their own merits. So I would like to-morrow also to be allotted for the discussion.”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—“ May I remind hon. Members, especially those coming from Malabar, that the position is that we are not writing on a clean state? There is an Act already in force and this Government are only introducing some amendments. The hon. Leader of the Opposition said that we must stop the whole thing and have a conference and so on. If the Government are not interested in the Malabar affairs, we can certainly agree to that. But I am afraid it will be very improper. We have to deal with the amendments and dispose of them. I hope the hon. Members from Malabar will pay attention to this aspect that we will have to finish this Bill. If it is not good, we will amend it later.”

DR. K. B. MENON:—“ It is now quarter past eleven, and we will have hardly two hours and a half for general discussion.”

MR. SPEAKER:—“ Half an hour must be allowed to the Hon. Minister for reply.”

DR. K. B. MENON:—“ That means only two hours are available, and this is absolutely inadequate for Members to express their opinion. The general opinion is that the debate should be continued to-morrow.”

MR. SPEAKER:—“ Let me see as the debate proceeds and then give my verdict.

“ I have received notice of ninety amendments. No doubt the Presiding Officer has got the power of selecting the amendments which are to be allowed to be moved. But I do not want to exercise that power. It is better that hon. Members who have given notice of amendments sit together and come to a conclusion as to which of the amendments they consider best and should be moved. That is my suggestion.”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—“ The Hon. the Leader of the House suggests that we may sit in the afternoon for a couple of hours.”

MR. SPEAKER:—“ I have no objection to it.”

DR. K. B. MENON:—“ Sir, two objections are raised. One is some hon. Members have already fixed up some engagements. The other is that we received amendments even to-day.”

MR. SPEAKER:—“ Amendments will be taken up only to-morrow.”

DR. K. B. MENON:—“ Sir, things are done on collective basis on collective thinking and we must have time to meet, discuss and take decisions. If we have an afternoon session to-day, there will be no time left for us to consider the amendments.”

SRI P. RAMAMURTHI:—“ Hon. Speaker has just now suggested that nearly 90 amendments have been given notice of and that those hon. Members who have given notice of them might confer together and try to select amendments to be moved. Obviously, this requires some time. It also requires some consideration. So, if it is suggested that we might have an afternoon session, obviously the Government Members do not understand the seriousness of the problem. As far as the amendments are concerned, it requires serious thinking and discussion by all these people. Some of them might also have other engagements. So, in order to be able to meet together in the afternoon outside this House and discuss the question, it is better that we are left free here in the afternoon. In fact, I have suggested to the Hon. Speaker that all the concerned hon. Members would meet in the Speaker's room at about 3 o'clock. Therefore, I suggest that the afternoon be left free for this purpose."

MR. SPEAKER:—"All right. I fix a time-limit of 20 minutes for each speaker. As the debate progresses, I will have to cut short that time also."

SRI K. P. GOPALAN:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have gone through the amending Bill which has been brought before the Assembly by the Hon. the Law Minister, Sri Kuttikrishnan Nair. I have to submit that this Bill is quite unsatisfactory and I am sure the people of Malabar will never agree to such a Bill. After reading the Bill, I have come to the conclusion that this Bill is brought forward by the Congress Ministry, not to support the peasants, but to support the landlords of Malabar.

(At this stage, the hon. Member Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar occupied the Chair and there was an applause from Members.)

"Mr. Chairman, Sir, the Congress Government had given so many promises in the past, during the election period and during 1947 and 1948, to the people of Malabar and to the people of the country that they would concede the demand of the right of land to tiller of the soil and that the peasants would be given permanent occupancy right. But I beg to submit that this Government have brought forward a very reactionary Bill instead of a progressive Bill. To-day, the peasants of Malabar will be looking to this Assembly to know what is taking place here, what benefits they will be getting on account of this Bill, whether this is a progressive measure to improve their conditions, and whether they will get occupancy rights. But I am sure that all the people of Malabar will be disappointed with this Bill. I am very much surprised to see how bold the Hon. the Law Minister Sri Kuttikrishnan Nair is in bringing forward a measure of this kind before the Assembly. I respectfully submit that if the Hon. the Law Minister is prepared to resign his office on this issue, . . ."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Sir, this is almost becoming an election contest. It amounts to that if a challenge is thrown out that if a person resigns his office, he cannot get re-elected and all that."

6th January 1954]

SRI K. P. GOPALAN:—"I have come to this Assembly mainly to convey the feelings of Malabar people to this Honourable House. So, I am entitled to speak and I am speaking about it. The Malabar peasants have been thinking for a pretty long time that the Government would bring in a good Bill to improve their lot. Sir, the Hon. the Chief Minister made a statement that the Communist Party did not interpret things from a national point of view. Sir, during the Malabar rebellion, the Malabar Moplah peasants fought against the janmis because they were supporting the British Government. That is why they stood against the British Government as well as the janmis. Now, the Hon. the Chief Minister wants to support the feudalists who supported the British Government at that time to enslave our country and who opposed the national movement and national freedom. Now our Government want to support the same landlords who wanted to perpetuate slavery in this country. I am sure that this Government are not convinced of the feelings of the Malabar people. I can say only this much that history will teach the Congress Ministry the lessons they need to be taught. That is all I can say now. The hon. the Leader of the Opposition also stated that if this Government wanted to bring in a measure for the approval of the Malabar Members, they should first call for a conference of the Members coming from Malabar and consult them. There are Members belonging to various parties like the Congress Party, the Praja-Socialist Party and the Communist Party. There are also Independent Members. If all of us meet in a conference, we can come to unanimous decisions on 95 per cent of the issues involved. But this Government hesitate to do that. I know that even the Congress Members themselves will oppose this Bill brought forward by the Government. I can cite one instance here. The hon. Member Sri Gopala Menon made some statement in the Assembly regarding ulkudis when the original Bill was brought before the Assembly. Afterwards, in his constituency when he wanted to address a meeting, there was black flag demonstration and he could not address the meeting. He had simply to go away from the meeting. That is the situation prevailing in Malabar."

SRI N. GOPALA MENON:—"Sir, if the hon. Member is referring to me, I can tell him that there was no meeting which I addressed in which there was black flag demonstration. I can repudiate it strongly and say that it is mischievous and deliberate misrepresentation. I challenge his statement."

TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN (Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar):—"That is only a personal explanation."

SRI K. P. GOPALAN:—"I never said that the hon. Member Sri Gopala Menon addressed the meeting."

"Mr. Chairman, Sir, I only said that the hon. Member was not at all allowed to address the meeting and there was black flag demonstration against him and the hon. Member went away."

[6th January 1954]

SRI N. GOPALA MENON:—"This sort of misrepresentation should not be carried further. I was told of the demonstration only after I had left the place. So, there is no use in the hon. Member's stating things which he had heard when I am here in flesh and blood and am telling that what he has heard is absolutely wrong."

SRI K. P. GOPALAN:—"I do not want to prolong discussion on this point. The people of Malabar know very well what took place there. So I leave it at that."

"Coming to the Bill, I wish to state that the basic principles of any land reform should be provision of occupancy rights and fair rent. Under no circumstances, the peasants should be evicted. If we go through this Bill, we will find that both these principles have not been incorporated in it. It is stated in this Bill that a janmi can evict a tenant whenever he wants the land for his own requirements. This Bill will support only the landlords and not the tenants. At any rate, that is what I understand from the provisions of the Bill. Regarding rent, I wish to state that it should be contract rent or fair rent, and Government must adopt whichever is less. Otherwise, it will become very unfair and peasants in Malabar will have to pay more rent to the janmis. It will be very harmful to the peasants."

"Regarding pepper gardens, I want to submit that in North Malabar, the practice is that every fifth year the janmi will come and take the pepper field. Moreover, the kariasthar, servant or some agent of the janmi will come and fix the yield and quantity that the janmi should get in a particular year. Naturally, he will fix the rent only in favour of the janmi. I can boldly say before this honourable House that many pepper-garden owners were ruined. If a referendum was taken in North Malabar, it will be seen that every pepper-garden owner will oppose this measure and I am sure about it. A tenant possessing a small land has to give rent to the janmi. The janmi cannot have 1/6th share. I want to tell this House that only 1/12th share can be given to the janmi. I am really surprised why the Hon. Minister from Malabar is not convinced of this fact."

"Regarding the Ulkudi affair, under no circumstances the poor people living as ulkudis should be evicted. That must be the spirit with which this Bill ought to have been brought forward. It is said that if a person has occupied the ulkudi for a period of three years or so he cannot be evicted. But I want to bring to the notice of the hon. Members of this House that in Malabar, many of the poor people are living on janmis' lands and that there are no records or documents. They live there by oral agreement. If they are sent out, they will have no place to live in. If this Bill is passed, it will be very harmful to them. Sir, the peasants of Malabar have given so many memoranda to the Congress Ministry and the hon. Members disapproving of this measure. Even when the question of referring the Bill to a Select Committee was discussed, I requested the Hon. Sri Kuttikrishnan Nair and the Government that the sittings of the Committee may be held in Malabar. But this was not done. I do not know why Sri Kuttikrishnan Nair is not convinced of the feelings of the peasants of Malabar and why he has not agreed to hold the sittings of the Committee in Malabar. I have great regard for him. But, let me respectfully submit that he has forgotten the poor peasants of Malabar. He thinks that the peasants of Malabar will welcome this measure. I think the Hon. Chief Minister is also of the view that this Bill will benefit the poor peasants of Malabar. I wish to point out to them that the people, I mean the peasants of Malabar have been agitating for the last so many years not for this piece of legislation which is before the House, but for a more progressive legislation. I appeal to all the hon. Members of this House, to whichever party they may belong, to reject this Bill, so that a more comprehensive and more progressive Bill for the benefit of the poor peasants of Malabar may be brought forward."

[6th January 1954] [Sri K. P. Gopalan]

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"Mr. Chairman, we are to-day seeking to amend a legislation which has been on the statute book for one year without being enforced. That justifies the dictum of Waltair Lippmann that you can make the Parliament pass a Bill but not make the whole people support it against its will. It has literally been the fate of the 1951 Amendment Act which was passed in the teeth of opposition and imposed on the people of Malabar. We thought that when a new Bill was introduced, the Government will take a lesson from past experience, but that lesson seems to have been forgotten. It seems as though it is the settled policy of the Congress Government not to do the right thing at the proper moment. They will not concede anything gracefully unless it is wrested from them. Sir, it was usual for the rulers to keep tenancy reform and agrarian reform in separate water-tight compartments and to deny the benefits of both to the people of the country. We know that the Congress Governments have no presentable record in this field. The measures that they bring forward are all half-hearted and halting and this is a typical example of one of them."

"However, it is not our intention to confuse agrarian reforms with tenancy reforms. Our demands are only within the strict limits of tenancy reform which has been thus described by the Subramaniam Committee. We consider that peasant proprietorship should be the normal feature of any scheme of tenancy reform in this State and that, in consequence, the aim should be to secure as general an approximation as possible between the owners and the cultivating class. The question of making leasing of lands less attractive applies not merely to non-agriculturists but to tenancy as well. We have identified ourselves with this view. It is exactly on these lines that we have framed our recommendations. You will be surprised to know, Sir, that there is nothing revolutionary in our demands. On the other hand, it

errs on the side of moderation. Anybody who is in a general way acquainted with the history of the Malabar tenancy legislation will understand that the 1951 Act was preceded by a series of committee meetings and conferences and that the Government in 1950 arrived at certain decisions at the highest level. What we are now demanding, what we are asking and what we are requesting the Government to do is that they will be pleased to implement the decisions which they took in 1950 by which we stand still. I do not propose to go into all details which will be discussed when the amendments are before the House. I would like to refer in a general way to three important aspects which have also been touched upon by the Leader of the Opposition. The three questions I want to deal with are fixity of tenure, fair rent and protection to ulkudis. Fixity of tenure of course is the most important thing and is the foundation of any tenancy question. Since 1930, we have had a qualified fixity which now remains as it was. As the law stands, the landlords are given the right to evict tenants under sections 14 and 20 which contain seven clauses or seven grounds on which the landlord can evict tenants. The most debatable question or the point on which we are in disagreement with the Government is about clause 5 which gives the landlord the right to resume lands for personal cultivation. It has been noted by the Special Officer, Mr. Raghavendra Rao, that this right has been abused to the extreme by landlords. Therefore, we say that whatever benefits the other parts of tenancy legislation may confer on the tenants in the shape of fair rent or other amenities, if they have not got fixity of tenure, all the other benefits will not be available to them. This point has been specially emphasised in his report. Therefore it is that we propose and press for the deletion of this clause. Still, Sir, you will find in the Bill such clauses remain in order to threaten the security of the tenant. We feel that our demand is very modest. No doubt, the clause which gives fixity of tenure to tenants who had been in occupation of the land for twelve years is an important one. However, I am afraid it does not provide any help or assistance to the sector which is badly in need of it. The very fact that the tenant has been in continuous occupation of the land for twelve years shows that he can stand against the landlord and generally such a category includes some of the big tenants also. But who is in dire need of assistance? It is those poor peasants who are at the mercy of the landowners and who are driven from pillar to post without any security. We, therefore, demand that security should be provided to every tenant to a limited extent. We do not wish that, if a tenant has got a big holding and if he has been in possession of it for a very short period, he should be given security over the entire holding. We have tabled amendments that security at least to the extent of five acres which a family can reasonably, by its own labour, cultivate, should be provided. At this stage, we wish to clear a misapprehension that we are standing for rich tenants as against poor landlords. No such idea is in our mind. We want only to give protection to small tenants, desirable tenants who are in dire need of such protection. If we are given the choice between absolute protection or protection over the entire holding to tenants of twelve years' standing and qualified protection to the extent of five acres to all tenants, we would have no hesitation in accepting the latter choice. Therefore, it is not at all our intention to protect big tenants and rich tenants. We are opposed to monopoly of land or concentration of land in the hands of a few, either landlords or tenants. That is an important matter which deserves consideration at the hands of the Government.

"Then, Sir, with regard to fair rent, the 1930 Act fixed the fair rent at a certain level, i.e., 66-2/3 of the net produce. But you will be surprised to know, because there was no security of tenure and because there was no compulsory fixation of rent, not even one tenant during these long years dared to apply to the authorities concerned and get fair rent fixed. They had the fear of eviction. This fact has been referred to and reiterated and emphasised by the Special Officer, Mr. Raghavendra Rao, who says that eviction or the threat of eviction, however restricted it might be, so long as it remains, would make the tenant give up the idea of getting fair rent fixed against the wishes of the landlord. The 1951 Act had at least this merit. It is easy to understand how the fixation of fair rent and the right of fixity are inter-related. If you do not give fixity to anyone, at least you must provide for compulsory fixation of rent so that it may be in operation even for the small period, say one year, during which the tenant is in occupation of the land and the tenant may pay only a reasonable rent. Sir, the 1951 Act had this redeeming feature. There was a machinery proposed for the creation of a record of rights or, in other words, compulsory fixation of fair rent. This provision was inserted after careful consideration by experts and the Special Officer himself in his valuable report has said that it is the duty of the Government to fix fair rent irrespective of the cost or trouble involved. Now in the sense that this salutary provision is being deleted now, this measure is regressive. We would have reconciled ourselves to the deletion of this provision had the tenants been given fixity of tenure at least to the extent of five acres. Now they have neither fixity of tenure nor the machinery for fixation of fair rent. Still the Hon. the Minister for Law claims that this Bill is an improvement on the old measure. Then, Sir, about the quantum of rent payable, I have read through many a tenancy legislation, the Report of the Land Revenue Reforms Committee and the Raghavendra Rao Committee's Report. The idea behind fixation of fair rent is that a maximum limit should be fixed to the rent that a tenant can or is liable to pay.

"Of course nobody will contend that the State to-day has no right to interfere in the relationship of landlord and tenant in the name of sanctity of contract.

"Mr. Chairman, in the matter of fixation of fair rent the State envisages relief for the tenant in respect of the contract or out of his contract and it is not just to penalise him for having contracted for better terms in the contract. Such a curious provision is not to be found either in the Bombay or Hyderabad Tenancy Acts. Nor is it found even in the Tanjore Tenants and Pannaiyal Protection Act. The provisions obtaining in those cases have been given the go-by and it is a curious thing to find here in this tenancy legislation there is provision made to increase the rent payable by the cultivating tenant. At one time, it was suggested to increase the rent by 300 per cent. I say it is monstrous to do so. It is unjust. Therefore we would strongly plead that the maximum liability of the tenant to pay rent to his landlord must be reduced to the minimum. It may be equal to the contract rent or fair rent whichever is less.

"I shall now come to the subject of 'Ulkudi.' Yesterday hon. Members may remember that we had a discussion about the slums, and the need for their improvement in the City of Madras. Those who had attended that discussion would know what an 'ulkudi' means. There was a persistent demand yesterday from hon. Members that if a slum-dweller is driven out and the slum is cleared, he should be immediately provided with alternative accommodation. But what is it that we find in the case of an 'ulkudi'? Our demand is nothing more or nothing less. We only want that whenever an ulkudi is cleared, the poor man residing there should be provided with another place to reside. But that is denied. Yes, denied totally. There are about five lakhs of poor Harijans in Malabar who are homeless. Those who reside in these 'ulkudis' are mostly Harijans. They could be driven out immediately at the will and pleasure of the landlord without a moment's notice. That is the state of affairs now. This is how the poor Harijans residing in the 'ulkudis' are put to social bondage and economic subjugation. Therefore it should be our desire to give these Harijans a sort of proprietorship in the places where they live; either we should say that they will not be cleared out or we should say that if and when they are cleared out of their place of residence, alternative accommodation would be provided for them. What is now sought to be done is that those who have been in three years' continuous possession will be given protection. Sir, I do not think that three years is a very lengthy period. If one has not been in continuous possession, he could now be evicted. To prevent being evicted, the concerned man has to establish in a Court of Law that he has been in continuous possession of that ulkudi for three years. If he is unable to prove it, he is liable to be driven out. Recently I had a personal experience. A man who had been for more than ten years in continuous possession of an ulkudi was driven out. When the man was returning home in the evening, he found his hut was not there. It was destroyed and reduced to the ground. He went to the Police. He gave a complaint. But what was done? The Police came to enquire. But behold! the poor man could not produce witnesses who could testify that he had been in continuous possession of that ulkudi for more than ten years, because the other poor ulkudidars were afraid of their janmis. Perhaps they thought that if they were to give evidence in favour of the man, their janmis would get angry and drive them out. That is why I say let us first give some security for these poor ulkudidars.

"Hon. Members of this House have been told that this Malabar tenancy question is a most complicated one and that was perhaps the reason why it was excluded from the purview of the Subramanyam Committee. However, I place this weighty fact before the House for the consideration of the mover of the Bill as well as others that the stand taken by us in Malabar regarding the question of Malabar tenancy is above party politics and party affiliations. Let it be known that out of 29 members who took part in the discussion of this Bill when it was first discussed as many as 28 members have expressed unanimous agreement on major issues. Even the Member who gave a dissenting minute regarding some particular point agreed with us on major issues. All these people are elected representatives of the people. That should be first clearly understood. The stand taken by us has been approved by the highest Congress organization, I mean, the Malayala Pradesh Congress Conference which the Hon. Chief Minister opened recently. It is my inference that the Hon. Mr. Kuttikrishnan Nair also actively participated in the deliberations of this particular resolution. Sir, Mr. Kuttikrishnan Nair is not new to us. We knew him well before he became Honourable Kuttikrishnan Nair. His tenancy reform ideas were so advanced then that some of us thought he was a revolutionary. But I do not know how he has changed so much now? I think he is piloting this Bill as an obedient Member of the Cabinet, suppressing his ego. Let it be once again said that on the question of Malabar tenancy there is so much of unanimity amongst us. The Hon. Leader of the Opposition has said so. Let it be realised that all of us are elected representatives of the people of Malabar, and that we had keenly contested the election wherein this question of tenancy reform in Malabar was one of the major issues. Therefore I would request the Hon. Minister to realise the justness of our stand. I would request him to support the stand taken by us in regard to Malabar tenancy because we represent the views of the people of Malabar for whose benefit this Bill is intended."

SRI E. K. SANKARA VARMA RAJA:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, I come here under the category of landlords hailing from Malabar. My family has been paying an assessment of Rs. 15,000 to the Government. I have to bring to the notice of the House that because we are paying such a huge assessment, we ought to be collecting rents from our tenants much in excess of what we pay to Government. But the fact is after paying the tax to Government what we are getting from our tenants is only very little. Mr. Ramamurthi said that the contract rent was about

[Sri E. K. Sankara Varma Raja] [6th January 1954]

Rs. 50 per acre with regard to the garden in Malabar. He is entirely wrong and he has misrepresented things. Supposing a garden could yield about 3,000 or 5,000 coconuts, we are getting only Re. 1 to Rs. 2 excluding Government revenue. Is this supposed to be fair? I am just saying this to show how we are put to a lot of difficulties.

“The present Chairman himself knows the difficulties of the small landholders. He has himself witnessed—he told me about it—how one janmi had a lot of difficulty in collecting Rs. 2 from his tenant. Such is the plight of the petty landholders today. According to the statistics furnished by the Government, there are some two lakhs odd petty landholders. I do not know what will be their position if they are not given some help to cultivate their own lands and live as citizens of the Indian Union.

“ I do not say that the tiller of the soil should not be given anything. At one time, I had to go more than 10 times to my tenant and only after foregoing 15 paras of paddy I was able to get 200 paras of paddy in bits. Even after that, I had to forego some portion. This is the fate of petty landholders who had leased out to tenants. It is not the landlords that are giving trouble to the tenants, but it is the intermediaries. These kanamdars are big merchants. On account of the partition prevalent in Malabar, these kanamdars give money to these landholders when they are in difficulties and they are taking away the lands as mortgagors and are leasing out to small tenants. They are taking a big toll from the produce and paying very little to the landholders. If a remedy for this should be found, the present day kanamdars should be minimised. Then the tiller of the soil and the actual janmi will be benefited. I do not say that the kanamdars should not exist in the country. The Hon. Law Minister himself said while introducing the Bill that this amending Bill will not be good for all and that the evil cannot be completely corrected. It is quite correct. All people will not be satisfied with this measure. But I think there is provision made for all people concerned.

“ Formerly, landholders were getting a renewal fee. Under the provisions of this Bill, we will not be able to get any renewal commission from our tenants or from intermediaries. Thus, we shall be put to very great difficulties and we shall find it difficult to maintain our families. The Government should see that the actual tiller of the soil should be given some relief, as well as the intermediaries and the jannies.”

"அடுத்தபடியாக தென்னந்தோப்பைப் பற்றி கூறப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. அதற்கு வாடகை அதிகமாக விதிக்கப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. அதை நிலப் பிரபுவான கனம் சங்கர வர்ம ராஜா அவர்கள் கூட ஒப்புக் கொண்டிருக்கிறார்கள். ஒரு ரூபாயிலிருந்து மூன்று ரூபாய்கள் வரை அதிகப்படுத்தப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. அது அமுலில் நடக்குமா என்பதை யோசிக்க வேண்டும். இந்த வகையில் இந்த சட்டம் வரக்கூடியதாக இருந்தால் அது வருத்தப்படக்கூடியதாக இருக்கிறது. மக்கள் இதைப்பார்த்து சிரிக்கக் கூடிய நிலைமையில் இது கொண்டுவரப் பட்டிருக்கிறது. இதை அரசாங்கம் யோசித்து ஒரு முடிவிற்கு வர வேண்டும்."

"மிளகு சம்பந்தமாக கனம் பி. ராமமூர்த்தி அவர்கள் எடுத்துக் காட்டி இருக்கிறார். மிளகு விவசாயம் ஏற்றுக்கொண்ட அந்தக் காலத்தில் விவசாயிகள், இந்த அளவிற்கு அதன் விலை உயரும் என்று எதிர் பார்க்கவில்லை. மலையில் கரடு முரடான இடங்களை விவசாயத்திற்கு லாயக் கற்ற நிலங்களை எடுத்து அந்தக் காலத்தில் விவசாயம் செய்து மிளகு உற்பத்தி செய்தார்கள். இப்பொழுது தான் அதன் விலை உயர்ந்து இருக்கிறது. அதன் வருமானத்தைப் பார்த்தால் பத்து மடங்கு இருபது மடங்கு அதிகமாக வருமானம் வருகிறது. அந்த நிலையில் இப்பொழுது அதன் விலை இருக்கிறது. ஆறு வருஷம் கஷ்டப்பட்டு தண்ணீர் ஊற்றி காட்டை அழித்து அதை சாகுபடிக்குக் கொண்டுவந்து அதன் பிறகு ஆறில் ஒரு பங்கு ஜன்மிக்குக் கொடுக்க வேண்டும் என்று சொல்வது சரியல்ல. பத்தில் ஒரு பங்கு கொடுக்க வேண்டும் என்று கூறிக் கொள்ள விரும்புகிறேன். அது தான் ஜன நாயக முறை. இதை அரசாங்கம் கவனித்து வசதி செய்ய வேண்டும் என்று கேட்டுக்கொள்கிறேன்."

DEPUTY SPEAKER:—“I reduce the time-limit from 20 to 15 minutes.”

SRI N. GOPALA MENON:—“Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the speech of the hon. the Leader of the Opposition has been so full of wrong facts, wrong inferences and wrong conclusions that I thought that he was living in a world of unreality and got all his information from books and pamphlets. We, Sir, from Malabar, do not want the reports of Sri Kuttikrishna Menon or Raghavendra Rao or others to tell us about things happening there. He, in order to make confusion worse confounded, gave some figures purporting to be correct. He said that in Malabar there are five per cent of landlords ‘fattening’ themselves (of course, the expression is mine), on the toil and sweat of the brow of 95 per cent of the tenants. He does not in this case speak of the realities in Malabar. The fact is that in Malabar out of 271,469 patta-holders, 266,000 people are single patta-holders who pay less than Rs. 100. The expressions ‘janmi’ and ‘landholder’ make one believe that these are akin to zamindars in Tamil districts whereas they are not. A janmi or landholder merely means that he has got the freehold interest in a plot of land and according to figures given by me, there are about 266,000 people who own land for which they pay only Rs. 100 or less as kist. There are landholders in Malabar who own vast extents of land, but ordinarily they do not have even one cent of land in their own actual possession to till. It is something like what we have read in the ‘Ancient Mariner’ ‘Water, water everywhere, but not a drop to drink’. Many landholders in Malabar may say ‘Land, land everywhere, but not a cent to till.’ That is the position of many of the big landholders in Malabar. Therefore, the statement of the Leader of the Opposition that five per cent of the landlords in Malabar are getting the fruits of the labours of the 95 per cent of the tenants is an entirely wrong statement of fact. I may tell hon. Members that I am not here to say that this Bill is the best that could be produced. I am not saying that this Bill will satisfy everybody. It cannot, in the nature of things, satisfy everybody, because if you put in something in one clause it affects somebody else’s interest and you are treading on another man’s corn. Therefore, if you lay down something in favour of the janmi or the landholder, to that extent, it affects the tenant. The Leader of the Opposition also said that the hon. Members from Malabar here would have sat together, discussed and evolved a Bill which would be satisfactory to all. I do not know if all the interests in Malabar are represented in this Assembly. I do not know if the really big landlords of Malabar are represented in this Assembly, and so far as I know, they are not represented. If I am not mistaken I am speaking only from memory the names of Dr. K. B. Menon and Sri M. Narayana Kurup were included in the original list of Members for constituting the Select Committee. The hand of co-operation was, therefore, offered to them but it was rejected with disdain which may mean thereby that whatever Bill be brought forward will never satisfy them. There was not that spirit of co-operation shown by them. They have not that democratic spirit of sitting around a table, expressing their opinions and trying to convert others to their viewpoint. After all, even the Members of the Government are reasonable human beings. They have got the electorate to face and they have got their own opinions. The Opposition cannot say that they are so thoroughly unreasonable and that any Bill they may bring forward will be thoroughly unsatisfactory. That is prejudging the issue and saying that although the Government may appoint them as members of the Select Committee, they decline the offer with thanks. The Leader of the Opposition now asks: 'Why not all the Members coming from Malabar sit round a table and do it?' That as the very thing which was attempted to be done, and that was the very thing which was rejected. There is no use now in saying so many things after the matter has come up before the Assembly. As I said before, I for one, do not agree with every clause of this Bill. In fact, I have given a dissenting minute. We will discuss that later on in detail. We are now having only an overall picture of the Bill.

"The Leader of the Opposition said that tenancy legislation in Malabar was attempted for the first time in 1930. It was another of the series of mistakes that he committed. The agrarian agitation started very early, even as early as the nineteenth century, and the tenants were clamouring that the value of the improvements which they made on the lands was not paid to them when they were evicted by the landlord, and legislation was enacted for the purpose of giving them the value of the improvements which they made on the land. Landlords tried to circumvent this law by entering into contracts saying that notwithstanding any law, they would not pay the value of the improvements. Legislation stepped in and said that any such condition in a contract or lease would be void. Therefore it is wrong to say that for the first time tenants' interests were protected only in 1930.

"Coming to the Bill itself, under the conditions prevailing in Malabar it is absolutely necessary that tenants should be given fixity of tenure. The Act of 1951 gave them fixity of tenure only to this extent that if the landlord wanted the land for his own maintenance, he could evict the tenant. This Bill goes one step further and says that if the tenant has been in possession of the land and cultivating it for over twelve years, he cannot be evicted under any circumstances except of course on grounds of non-payment of rent and the like. I should think that this is really a definite advance. In my humble opinion, the people of Malabar will prefer the Government taking away the twelve-year limitation altogether and saying that the tenant is entitled to cultivate the land so long as he pays the fair rent. In the contiguous State of Travancore-Cochin, there is a provision in the law to this effect, and it is not possible to evict a tenant so long as he pays the fair rent that has been fixed. Of course, the other conditions which are in this Bill are also there in the Travancore-Cochin law. In the dissenting minute, I have said: 'Let us not have a half-hearted measure'. The tenants will be clamouring and they should be given fixity of tenure. For some reason or other—we need not go into the origin of it—the landlord has parted with the possession of the land and it is only fair that he should not disturb the tenants who are actually cultivating the land. He bargains only for the fair rent. So long as the tenant pays the stipulated fair rent, the landlord has no business to evict him. I think that will satisfy the people of Malabar much better. I can tell the House the likely reaction of the janmies to a clause like that from my knowledge of the situation in Malabar. Very few janmies will be really affected by it. Of course, there are a certain number of small janmies who would like to take back their land and till it themselves. A clause like the one I have suggested will be to the disadvantage of such people. In a tangle we are and we must help one person or the other. I would certainly prefer the insertion of a provision to the effect that tenants should not be evicted so long as they pay fair rent without fixing any arbitrary limit of twelve years or any other period. Of course, the tenant should satisfy also the other conditions laid down. As I said, this will be in consonance with the law prevailing in the neighbouring State of Travancore-Cochin.

"As regards fair rent, the Leader of the Opposition quoted from the Five-Year Plan. He quotes it when it suits him and discards it when it does not suit him. No doubt, it is said in the Five-Year Plan that the rent should be between 20 to 25 per cent. But the Plan also says that every landlord has got the right to till his own land. What are we doing under this legislation and what have we done? We have said that the owner of a land has no right to till his own land if he has, or his ancestors have parted with the possession of the land for some reason or other. When we say that the owner cannot get back his land and till it, we are depriving him of what I may call the very fundamental right of choosing his own occupation. Every person has got a right to make himself an agriculturist or a tiller of the soil. It is really hard on the landlord that he should be deprived of the right of getting back his own land for self-cultivation merely because he or his ancestors, for some reason or other, parted with the possession of the family land, may be years and years ago. The Leader of the Opposition conveniently forgets that the Five-Year Plan provides for the owner of a land getting back his land for personal cultivation. This Bill deprives him of that right, unless it be for meeting his primary needs, the primary needs being food, clothing and shelter. We may picture to ourselves the position of that unfortunate landlord who calls himself a landlord but who has nothing to feed himself with unless he gets back the few cents of land which unfortunately has gone into the possession of some other person. I do not say that this Bill will be the final word. We have to fix some sort of ceiling. A landlord should be allowed a certain extent of land for his own cultivation and also a tenant who has got a small acreage of land for his own cultivation should not be deprived of that land. Supposing a tenant has got only less than five acres of land, it is rather hard that he and his family should be thrown out of their employment on their own land. Therefore, the legislation must enact that in cases where tenants have only a minimum extent of five acres or so, they should not be deprived of the land which they are cultivating so long, of course, as they pay the fair rent to the landlord."

DEPUTY SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member's time is up."

SRI N. GOPALA MENON:—"In view of the importance of the question, will you, Sir, please give me a few minutes more? In the case of the landlord also, if he wants to cultivate the land, a ceiling should be fixed. If a landlord has no land to cultivate and the tenant has got hundreds of acres of land belonging to the landlord which he cultivates, it is only fair that the landlord should be given a few acres for his own cultivation. Now, the paramount object of land legislation should be that the land must yield the best results. In fact, there is a legislation passed in 1948 in England whereby the Government could seize the land which is not properly cultivated and hand it over to some person who would be able to cultivate it properly. The person who cultivates the land must have the necessary cattle wealth, the machinery and the wherewithal to purchase manure and so on. If a person or a lessee does not have them, one has only to put in an application to the Ministry who will make enquiries, get hold of the land and give it to some person who can cultivate it properly. The object of the legislation is that the best results must be attained from the land. Now, a legislation similar to that could be taken up here also. I am only saying that there are defects in the Bill. In the case of fair rent, of course, it is a thing to which we can only arbitrarily agree. Now, according to the Tanjore Tenants and Pannaiyal Act, two-thirds of the produce go to the landlord and one-third goes to the tenant. I believe our people in Malabar will be shocked if it is said that two-thirds should go to the landlord. The present Bill reserves one half of the net produce to the landlord in the case of wet lands and tenants want it to be reduced still further. That is a matter for fixation on agreement. I may say that things are getting on fairly well in Malabar in spite of legislation. From 1930 when a provision was incorporated in that Act for the fixation of fair rent, one will find that up to date the applications made under the Act of 1930 are very, very few. In spite of the legislation that we may pass, people will adjust themselves. They know what exactly will be the produce of the land. They know what the landlord should get. It is only in the case of bad landlords and greedy or other tenants that this sort of legislation is necessary. Otherwise, they adjust themselves. But still, society is becoming complex and it is necessary that this should be regulated by rules. Therefore, one-half of the produce is fixed now. It can be changed at any time if public opinion demands it. Therefore, I do not propose to say anything about the fixation of fair rent. After all, a person who is neither a tenant nor a landlord is fixing the rent on the evidence that he takes. A Rent Court is going to be established and I think everything will be fair as far as the fixation of fair rent is concerned. There is no purpose in a general discussion like this to say that two-thirds or one-half is too much or too little.

"On the whole, I think that the Bill tries to focus the opinion of most of the people in Malabar. Of course, there are people who think that the land must belong to the tenant. Now, that is a different conception altogether and unless and until all the lands are parcelled out and given to the tillers of the soil, they may not be satisfied. That is another political philosophy. But until we go to that extent, there is no use of simply saying that the land must be given to the tiller. Under the present circumstances and having regard to the existing conditions in Malabar, I think this Bill is fairly good and will be appreciated by impartial persons. I, therefore, commend this Bill for the acceptance of the House."

SRI K. M. SEETHI SAHIB:—“Mr. Deputy Speaker, the present amending Bill as reported on by the Joint Select Committee is naturally receiving a mixed reception on the floor of this House. I am not one who subscribes to the view that this measure is intended to benefit the janmis, nor can I say that it is an ideal piece of legislation that will give the much-needed relief for which the tenants have been agitating and fighting.

“Sir, while I heard my hon. Friend Sri Gopala Menon, I could very well accept his statistics regarding the small pattadars. But, I thought that the citation of the statistics would give a rather untrue and unreal impression to this House about the real hardship that is being suffered by the tenantry of Malabar. While there might be a large number of small pattadars, it cannot be denied that the vast majority of tenants in Malabar are peasants who are highly indebted and who find it very difficult to meet their obligations after paying the rent to the janmi and after meeting the essential necessities of life and also the requirements connected with the cultivation of their lands.

“With reference to the constituency which I have the honour to represent, viz., the Malappuram constituency, I can say without fear of contradiction that the vast majority of the tenants are heavily indebted and by the working of the natural law of productivity find the maximum productivity for their lands insufficient to meet the obligations attached to the land. If we go on increasing the burden of the peasants, it will very cruelly tell upon their lot. That is a fact which cannot be gainsaid. While it may be conceded that there are small landlords or pattadars, the lot of the small tenants, the lot of the suffering tenants, the lot of the heavily indebted tenants cannot be clouded by referring to the existence of small landholders and small pattadars. While I agree with Mr. Gopala Menon that there are small landlords or landholders in Malabar and that they are not like big zamindars in other parts of the country, I also wish to state that it should not in any way cloud the reality of the situation, viz., that the vast majority of the tenants are really in need of immediate relief in the matter of rent and other obligations relating to the cultivation of the land. That was the reason that prompted me and the members of my party to send up amendments to urge upon the Government that the amendment now proposed should not in any way enable the landlords to enhance the present rent which the tenant is paying, for the simple reason that it will be almost impossible for him to pay any higher rent with the increasing obligations that he has to discharge. I wish to state that the amendment proposed by the Government will hardly give any relief to the tenant. If three times the present rent is allowed to the landlord, it will not be a small thing for an average tenant to pay. The object of the Government is to benefit the tenants and it was evident during the discussions in the Select Committee and from the remarks made by the Hon. Chief Minister, Hon. Law Minister and the Hon. the Revenue Minister who presided over the Select Committee meetings. There is a common intention to benefit the tenants. Unless we make it perfectly clear that the tenant will not be called upon to pay anything more than the rent that he is at present paying, I am afraid that common intention cannot be fulfilled.

“Sir, the Bill is defective in another respect and requires careful consideration and modification. It is with reference to the possible circumvention of the benefit given to the tenants in the matter of fixity of tenure, by the landlord transferring the land in favour of his own dependants, friends or other persons who may be interested in presenting the poor tenants by taking assignment from the janmi and filing a suit against the tenant for eviction on the ground that they bona fide required the land for their own cultivation. I was always maintaining—I had also given notice of an amending Bill in which I wanted to incorporate this proposition—that the right of eviction for bona fide cultivation or building purposes should be a right available to the janmi and not to the transferee because it is liable to abuse and the tenant might be harassed so that the salutary purpose of fixity will be defeated by the transfer. The Select Committee went to the extent of saying that a limit of two years was placed on the transferee in the matter of filing suits. I feel this provision is inadequate. In my humble view, the transferee should not be given that right because this principle is conceded even in the existing Tenancy Act in the case of melcharatdars. I believe hon. Members understand what I say. Melcharat means the transfer of the right of the landlord to another person with the right of collecting rents and, also with the conditional right of eviction also. In the case of such melcharatdars or transferees, according to the existing Act which has been in force for a long time, they are not given the right of eviction on the ground of ‘bona fide cultivation or building purposes’. When the landlord has got a right to evict a tenant on grounds of bona fide cultivation or building purposes, why should the melcharatdar be denied such a right? It is for the simple reason that the right to evict on this specific ground is a personal right given to the landlord and, therefore, it is not to be available to the melcharatdar. When this principle is conceded, I do not see any reason why it should not be followed even in respect of transferees for purposes of sections 14 and 20 of the Act. I have been pressing this view and have also given notice of amendments seeking to do away with the two years’ limitation provided for the transferees and to place a ban on the transferee’s right to evict tenants on grounds of bona fide cultivation or building purposes.

“One other point on which we are unable to see eye to eye with the Government is this. The Government make a distinction between sub-clauses 5 and 6 of sections 14 and 20 of the Act. While a landlord will not be entitled to evict for his bona fide cultivation, a tenant, who has been in occupation of the land for 12 years, I can do so for his bona fide building purposes. We fail to see how a distinction could be made between sub-clauses 5 and 6 in the matter of eviction. We are pressing, therefore, for the inclusion of sub-clause (6) also in the matter of giving fixity to the tenant who has been in possession of the land for twelve years. In fact, in an amending Bill which I had given notice of, I said that even within this twelve years’ period the impecunious janmi could recover possession. I suggested that where a janmi needed land for bona fide cultivation or for building purposes he might be given the right to evict the tenant where the tenant did not require the land for his bona fide cultivation or residential purposes. No doubt, ‘residential purposes’ does not come in in the case of tenants because kudiyruppu has been given absolute fixity irrespective of any other conditions, or circumstances. These are the main points on which we urge the Government to reconsider the Bill.

6th January 1954] [Sri K. M. Seethi Sahib]

“Then, Sir, with reference to allowing the existing rent to continue without being enhanced at the instance of the janmi, I would bring to the notice of the Government one fact. In connexion with the promulgation of the amending Act of 1951, the Government called conferences of the representatives of various interests concerned with land tenures in Malabar both at Calicut and in Madras. A decision was taken that there must be a provision in the Act that the existing rent should not be enhanced and that the tenant need pay only the contract rent or fair rent whichever was less. The public of Malabar were given to understand that such a provision would be made in the amending Bill which was under contemplation then. But when the Bill came to be drafted that provision was not included in it and that was one of the main causes of the agitation throughout Malabar.”

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—“It was included in the original Bill but was dropped at the Select Committee stage.”

SRI K. M. SEETHI SAHIB:—“Mr. Kurup says it was included in the original Bill. But I speak subject to correction. I do not think that in the draft Bill a provision was made to that effect. Anyway I speak subject to correction. I was one of those who attended the conferences. The decision arrived at at those conferences was that the tenant should be required to pay either the contract rent or the fair rent whichever was less. It was not carried into effect. But my friend, Mr. Kurup, tells me that the draft Bill contained such a provision.”

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—“I shall read the original provision—

“Every cultivating tenant of a holding, every tenant of a commercial site who is entitled to fixity of tenure in this Act, every tenant of a kudiyruppu or ulkudi or kudikidappu shall be bound to pay as rent to the landlord or, where there is a contract . . . the fair rent or the contract rent whichever is less.”

SRI K. M. SEETHI SAHIB:—“So, Sir, even in the draft Bill such a provision enabling the tenant to pay the contract rent or fair rent whichever was less was made but as a result of the deliberations of the Select Committee it was removed. It really gave room for a lot of discontent among the peasantry throughout the district of Malabar. This was one of the main causes of the agitation against the amending Act of 1951. I would request the Government not to repeat the mistake. There seems to be as much psychological resentment as material hardship among the people because of the decision of the Government to drop the provision which was originally decided upon and promised to them. It is not too late even now for the Government to reconsider the matter. I would request the Government to incorporate the provision decided upon in 1950 in the matter of fair rent when the appropriate stage is reached when we consider amendments to the Bill.

“About other matters, I would like to speak later when we discuss amendments. Sir, reference was made this morning to the

[Sri K. M. Seethi Sahib] [6th January 1954]

Moplah Rebellion in the year 1921. I would like to make one or two observations on it. The Moplah Rebellion was in a way a political agitation as was suggested by the Hon. the Chief Minister this morning. It developed to show signs of agrarian discontent when it took a certain course. It was really a socio-political-economic agitation on the part of the people of Malabar. It was a Khilafat agitation. It was a Swaraj agitation. You will be surprised to know that among the earlier internees, there were Hindus as well as Muslims. They were leading the movement and it was a political movement, a Swaraj movement. Khilafat and Swaraj were the slogans in those days. But when the movement reached a certain stage, it developed into an agrarian agitation and the tenantry turned their attention to the landlords. So, it is incorrect to say that it was an agrarian agitation. Nor can it be said it had no agrarian manifestations in the course of the rebellion. As more than one political leader said it was a war of independence.

"The Chief Minister was right in his observation about the character of the rebellion. He knew all about it. He had come into contact intimately with it. Of course some of us were students at that time. We had also intimate knowledge about it. Of course it is not necessary for me to go into the details. It should be admitted that where there is agrarian discontent among the tenantry and where the tenants undergo hardship, it is essential that they should be given some relief. I cannot say that the Government are not anxious to give relief to the tenants of Malabar. The only thing is that to the extent to which we want relief to be given to the tenants it is not being given. Of course it should be admitted that some relief is now being afforded to the tenants. But they want some more relief to be given. I do hope that the Government would pay heed to what we say and accept some of the amendments which we propose to move in that connexion when the clause by clause discussion of the Bill comes up before the House. I would request the Hon. Minister in charge of this Bill to accept the amendments relating to the points that the existing rent should not be enhanced, the denial of the right of eviction to the transferee of the janmi and the removal of the distinction between sub-clauses (5) and (6) in sections 14 and 20 in the matter of giving fixity to tenants. I would quite appreciate the action of Government in doing away with the rent settlement authority for preparing a record of rights to complete the work which would have taken at least a quarter of a century. I am glad that they had at last realised that they had spent lakhs and lakhs of rupees over this machinery without any satisfactory work being turned out. A provision has been made for fixation of fair rent by Rent Court in place of the previous Rent Settlement Authority. It is good they have done what they ought to have done much earlier.

"With these remarks I shall conclude reserving further comments when the clause by clause consideration of this Bill comes before the House and when our amendments would be discussed."

6th January 1954]

SRI B. VAIKUNTA BALIGA :—"Mr. Deputy Speaker, heard the speeches made on the floor of the House with keen interest. There were number of approaches to the Bill from various aspects. The Bill has been termed on all sides as a very complex measure. Matters have not been rendered easy because this Bill is limited to Malabar tenures which are said to be very complicated or most complicated in the whole world. But at the same time it was mentioned by the Hon. Leader of the Opposition that there was nothing complicated about it and that this was a simple measure, once we understood the basic principles involved in it. I may amplify that idea by mentioning that this Bill that is before the House may be considered in two aspects. One relates to the basic principles that govern the relationship between the landlord and the tenant as it has developed up till now, in Malabar. We should not forget the basic fact that the entire society is under the Government of the State and as such we, hon. Members of the House, as guardian of the people, should approach any question in an impartial manner and at the same time take care to see that the interests of one are not advanced at the expense of the other. The relative rights of none should be unduly undermined. This basic principle should not be lost sight of. It was mentioned that there has been rack-renting and the tenants in Malabar had been put to undue hardship. It was mentioned that that was the cause of the agrarian discontent. Those who have given notice of amendments that rack-renting should go and that the present rent should be reduced still further, have spoken about the realities of the situation as they visualised it, and the Hon. Leader of the Opposition has spoken about the necessity for protecting the tenants from unnecessary eviction by landlords, for whom those in the Opposition Benches do not have a soft corner in their hearts. On the other hand the hon. Member, Mr. Sankara Varma Raja has also voiced forth his opinion about the rack-renting of tenants by the janmis and has painted the picture, as he viewed it from his experience as a janmi. Mr. Gopala Menon has given several figures pertaining to the pattadars in Malabar. Out of 271,469 pattas in the whole of Malabar, the number of single pattas paying less than Rs. 100 comes to Rs. 2,66,000. That works out the percentage of small landlords in Malabar. It is now clearly made out that 98 per cent of pattadars in Malabar are small landlords. In the light of this clear exposition, was I not right in saying that the House will not be wise in thinking that 5 per cent of the people of Malabar constitute the bulk of landlords who oppress the tenants? That is why I say let us approach the problem from the basic standpoint. I find that there is a great unanimity amongst all members with regard to the basic principle. No doubt we all desire that the tenant should have first and foremost fixity of tenure. It is an admitted fact that prior to the introduction of the principal Act, barring the 'saswatham' (permanent) tenures the poor tenants of Malabar had no other claim to compensation for their sweat and labour but the meagre wage which the landlords were prepared to give. Usually the wages used to be distributed by way of cash payment. That is all that the poor labourers used to get as reward for their work. Thanks to the efforts of successive Governments, their lot has been improved and to some extent the tenants have fixity of tenure now. But even now their grievances do not seem to have been redressed. Spokesmen from the other side object to the stipulation in the present Bill for the tenant paying the contract rent agreed to between him and the landlord. They object to the provision that if the tenant fails to pay the rent due within three months from the due date, he shall be liable for eviction. The Hon. Leader of the Opposition has objected to the right of the landlord to recover the rent due by the tenant. He has characterised it as an infringement of the right of the tenant. Might I ask whether the landlord has no right for himself being the owner of the land? Is it to be taken for granted that the tenant can choose to pay his rent at whatever time he chooses? It should be realized that the rights of citizens are protected under the Fundamental Rights enshrined in our Constitution. Let us, therefore, realize that any provision we make in order to show our sympathy to the tenant does not in fact go against the fundamental rights granted under the Constitution to all citizens of India. After all the landlords are also citizens of India. Let us give the tenant what is reasonable. Let us not deprive any person of his property. In this connexion, I feel called upon to refer to two observations in the two dissenting reports of some Members of the Select Committee. In one report it is said that the Malabar janmi is not the real proprietor and his right is limited to take a share of the produce. I do not know whether it is a correct view. Opinion is divided on this. Suffice it to say for the purpose of the discussion, that this is only an amending Act and not a new Act to supersede any existing Act. This is an amending Act designed to protect the rights of the tenant. What follows from that? It is that there is relationship between the landlord and the tenant. A landlord is always a landlord; but so far as the tenant is concerned, he should be given relief. It could be done by a Statute like this. Even then, what justification is there to come to the conclusion that landlords have no right to a share of the produce? There are many eminent scholars who know about the janmi's rights in Malabar—that it is the nearest approach to freehold property. Let us leave it aside. Let us now make an independent approach altogether. There is no real fixity of tenure given to the tenant, barring the enunciation of different principles. Certain rights are vested in the tenant and others in the landlord. Thus, two persons become practically co-owners. There is really no difference between the two approaches. The tenant is entitled only to be given the right of a tenant and nothing more. Under this Act, we are taking away the right of the landlord to evict the tenant and while taking that away, why should he be denied a proper rent? What is really wanted is fixity of tenure and not at all any expropriation of the rights of anybody.

“Another remark in the dissenting minute is that the ‘land is for the tiller’. No doubt the land is for the tiller. But the idea should be with regard to the possession and enjoyment of the land and not with regard to the proprietary rights. Supposing there is a vacant land and it is reclaimed by somebody; then it becomes his property. That is the idea which is found in the dissenting minute. Now let us take the land which was vacant; it was either Government land or private land. That has nothing to do with landlord and tenant. Government will deal with it.

“What is all necessary is fixity of tenure and there is no warrant to go beyond that. If any person wants the property for his own cultivation, he should be given the right to evict the tenant. But let me state that such instances will not be many and they will be only few and far between. There may be even genuine causes for the landlord; he may have a number of tenants. Why should he evict only a particular tenant? It may be that he wants to return to agriculture. Why should he be denied such a genuine right and desire? Has he not the sympathy of the House as anybody else?

“Then mention was made about pepper gardens. I may say that so far as pepper gardens are concerned, there is a very very great demand for them now. The high price of pepper has induced many people to take to this crop. It is very good for the country. But as for the rent to be fixed, it was stated by some hon. Members that landlords contribute nothing. But vacant uncultivated lands which were yielding nothing are taken by the tenants; there the tenants plant and cultivate. I may say that the requirements of pepper crop are very meagre. The pepper gardens are invariably situated on hill slopes. All that is done is to clear the jungle growth and then plant the pepper vines. About 250 vines could be planted in an acre. The working expense will be very small. The price of pepper now ruling is high. How could it be said that one-sixth of the produce to the landlord is too high? There is a technical word in Malabar ‘pathinurandu—i.e., two per ten—’ i.e., one fifth and that has been prevailing. The House in its efforts to better the lot of the tenants is making it one-sixth as against one-fifth. It is clearly in favour of the tenants. It is possible to keep it lower still later on. This is not the last word on the Malabar Tenancy Act and it cannot be said that this amending Act is final. Whatever it is, one thing is certain and that is it is the duty of this House to hold the balance even between the tenant and the landlord and mete out justice both to the tenant and the landlord fairly, squarely and equitably.”

Report of the Joint Select Committee on the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1953 (L.A. Bill No. 12 of 1953).

To

THE HONOURABLE THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY,
MADRAS.

The Joint Select Committee appointed to consider the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1953 (L.A. Bill No. 12 of 1953), has the honour to make the following report.

2. The Bill was published in English in an Extraordinary issue of the Fort St. George Gazette, dated the 28th March 1953, and in Malayalam in the Fort St. George Gazette, dated the 8th April 1953.

3. The Joint Select Committee was appointed by resolutions of the Assembly, dated 2nd April 1953, and of the Council, dated 4th April 1953.

4. The Joint Select Committee met in the Council Chamber at Fort St. George on the 1st June, 27th August, 9th and 10th October and 8th December 1953 for the consideration of the provisions of the Bill and in the Minister's Room, Government Estate, Mount Road, to-day, i.e., 26th December 1953, for passing the report.

5. The Joint Select Committee at the outset considered the necessity for enquiry in the district. The Law Minister pointed out that the amendments proposed related only to three items and there was already on record elaborate evidence on the questions and therefore there was no need to take further evidence.

6. The numerous memoranda and representations on the provisions of the Bill received from various individuals and associations were placed before the Joint Select Committee.

7. On the 27th August 1953, the Committee together with representatives of the Praja-Socialist Party and Jenmi Sangh converted itself into a kind of conference and discussed the various provisions of the Bill.

8. The more important among the changes made by the Joint Select Committee are the following:—

Clause 2.

The Committee have amended the definition of 'Rent Court' so that its functions may be performed by a Tahsildar also.

The definition of 'Ulkudi' as proposed in the Bill was confined to huts standing on dry or garden land. The Committee have made it applicable to a hut situated in a portion of any land in the occupation of a person who has been permitted by the person entitled to possession of such land to occupy the hut and who otherwise has no interest in such land. The definition has also been so amended as to confine only to an ulkudidar of three years' standing, the benefits given to him by this Bill.

Clause 7.

The amendment proposed in this clause was to omit ulkudi from section 9-B (relating to the fixing of fair rents for ulkudis and kudikidappus). The Committee, however, considered it necessary to retain them but made it clear that it will apply only to ulkudis for which rent is payable under the permission given to the holder thereof and that no rent shall be payable if the hut belonged to the holder of the ulkudi or kudikidappu.

Clause 14.

(Section 20 of the Act.)

The Committee agreed that the provision regarding the resumption of land by the landlord for his own maintenance [Section 14 (5)] should not be made applicable to cases where the cultivating verumpattamdar or members of his family had been continuously cultivating the land for a period of twelve years and that in considering the requirements of maintenance, regard shall be had only to primary needs. Provision has also been made to the effect that no eviction should be allowed in favour of an alienee until a lapse of twenty-four months after the date of the alienation in his favour. Section 14 of the Act has been amended accordingly.

Similar changes have also been made in section 20 of the Act.

Clause 15.

A few members of the Committee urged the need for a substantial reduction of the fair rent payable in respect of all classes of lands. After considerable discussion, it was agreed by the Committee that clause (b) of section 6 of the Act which requires the tenant to pay one half of the annual assessment payable in respect of the land might be deleted.

Clause 17.

This clause has been so amended that even outside Fort Cochin, no holder of an ulkudi or any member of his family can be evicted if he had been in possession of his ulkudi for three years unless an alternative site was given as provided in the main part of the section.

Clause 20.

This clause proposed the deletion of section 52-A. The Committee agreed to it but have inserted instead a new provision to the effect that nothing in this Act shall prevent any person in possession of land from claiming and proving in a civil court, that a document purporting to be a usufructuary mortgage is not a mortgage but only a kanam.

9. The other changes made by the Committee are all shown in the Bill, as amended, which is appended to this report.

10. Some members have given dissenting minutes and they are all appended to this report.

11. The committee considers that the Bill as amended need not be republished.

"9-BB. Exclusion of certain lands from liability to fair rent.—Notwithstanding anything contained in sections 5 to 9-B, where any land included in a holding is set apart for communal purposes, and is used as such, the extent of the land so set apart shall not be taken into account when determining the fair rent of the holding in accordance with those sections.

[6th January 1954]

9. Substitution of new sections for section 9-C in Madras Act XIV of 1930.—For section 9-C of the principal Act, the following sections shall be substituted, namely:—

“9-C. Rent Courts.—(1) The State Government may, by notification in the Fort St. George Gazette, constitute for any area specified therein, a Rent Court which shall be presided over by an officer not below the rank of a Tahsildar for the purpose of performing the functions entrusted to a Rent Court by this Act.

(2) In hearing an application under this Act, the Rent Court shall, so far as may be, have the same powers as are vested in, and follow the same procedure as is followed by, a Court of Small Causes hearing a suit or other proceeding under the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act, 1887 (Central Act IX of 1887), subject to the modification that the Rent Court shall have the power to depute any officer of the Revenue Department to make local enquiry and inspection and to collect data and the report and the records submitted by such officer may be read as evidence in the case.

9-CC. Determination of fair rent by Rent Court.—If any dispute arises as to the amount of fair rent payable in respect of any land under the foregoing provisions of this Chapter, either the tenant, or, after the expiry of three years from the commencement of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954, the landlord may apply to the Rent Court for the determination of the fair rent; and on such application being made, the fair rent shall be determined by the Rent Court:

Provided that such determination shall take effect in respect of any agricultural year, only if the application is made in that year or within three months of the expiry thereof.”

10. Amendment of section 9-D, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 9-D of the principal Act, for the words, brackets, figures and letter “ under sub-section (4) of section 8 or under sub-section (1) of section 9-C ”, the words, figure and letters “ under section 9CC ” shall be substituted.

11. Substitution of new section for section 9-G in Madras Act XIV of 1930.—For section 9-G of the principal Act, the following section shall be substituted, namely:—

“9-G. Revision of fair rent.—The fair rent determined by the Rent Court under section 9-CC shall not be liable to be revised on the application of the landlord before the expiry of a period of twelve years from the date on which such fair rent takes effect, but may for sufficient cause be reduced by the said Court on the application of the tenant.”

12. Repeal of section 9-H, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—Section 9-H of the principal Act shall be repealed.

[6th January 1954]

13. Amendment of section 10, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In Section 10 of the principal Act, for the words ‘ an ulkudi,’ the words ‘ a protected ulkudi ’ shall be substituted.

14. Insertion of new section 11 in Madras Act XIV of 1930.—After section 10 of the principal Act, the following shall be inserted as section 11, namely:—

“11. Right to prove real nature of transaction.—Notwithstanding anything in the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 (Central Act I of 1872), or in any other law for the time being in force, any person interested in any land may claim, adduce evidence and prove that a transaction entered into on or after the 1st January 1916 and purporting to be a mortgage of that land is not in fact a mortgage, but a transaction by way of kanom, kanom kuzhikkanam, kuzhikanam, verum pattam or other lease, under which the transferee is entitled to fixity of tenure in accordance with the provisions of section 10.”

15. Amendment of sections 14 and 20, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In sections 14 and 20 of the principal Act—

(1) after clause (5), the following shall be added, namely:—

“ Explanation.—In considering requirements for maintenance, regard shall be had only to primary needs.

Exception.—Nothing in this clause shall apply to any holding which has been in the continuous occupation of the tenant or of any member of his tarwad, tavazhi, illom, kutumba, kavaru or family for not less than twelve years ”.

(2) in clause (6) the word ‘ bona fide ’ occurring between the word ‘ thereof ’ and the words ‘ for the purpose ’ shall be omitted and the word ‘ bona fide ’ between the words ‘ a building ’ and the words “ for his own residence ” shall be inserted;

(3) in the second proviso—

(i) in clause (ii), for the words ‘ an ulkudi ’ the words ‘ a protected ulkudi ’ shall be substituted;

(ii) after clause (ii), the following shall be added as clause (iii), namely:—

“ (iii) no person whose right to evict arises under an instrument of transfer inter vivos shall be entitled to sue for eviction on the ground specified in clause (5) or clause (6) until the expiry of two years from the date of the instrument.”

16. Amendment of section 20, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 20 of the principal Act, the last proviso commencing with the words ‘ Provided also ’ and ending with the words ‘ twelfth year thereafter ’ shall be omitted.

17. Substitution of new section for section 28, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—For section 28 of the principal Act, the following section shall be substituted, namely:

[6th January 1954]

"28. Every cultivating tenant of a holding other than a kanamdar or customary verumpattamdar, every tenant of a commercial site who is entitled to fixity of tenure under this Act, every tenant of a kudiyiruppu, every holder of a protected ulkudi and every holder of a kudikidappu shall be bound to pay to his landlord—

(a) in case fair rent has been determined under section 9-CC, such fair rent as modified in appeal, if any, under section 9-D,

(b) in case there has been no such determination, the rent agreed to by both the parties to be the fair rent payable in accordance with the provisions of sections 4 to 9-B,

(c) in case there is no such agreement, the fair rent, if any, fixed under this Act, as it stood before the commencement of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1951 (Madras Act XXXIII of 1951), or

(d) in case no fair rent has been fixed as aforesaid, the rent payable according to the contract, express or implied between the parties:

Provided that in the case mentioned in clause (a), where there is a contract, the tenant shall, until the expiration of the period of contract, pay at his choice, either the contract rent or the fair rent and shall thereafter pay the fair rent."

18. Amendment of section 29, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 29, sub-section (2) of the principal Act, for the word 'municipality' in the two places where it occurs, the words 'municipality or cantonment' shall be substituted.

19. Substitution of new section for section 35 in Madras Act XIV of 1930.—For section 35 of the principal Act, the following section shall be substituted, namely:—

"35. Landlords' rights in relation to protected ulkudi and kudikidappu.—In the case of a protected ulkudi or a kudikidappu, the person entitled to possession of the land in which the protected ulkudi or the kudikidappu is situate shall be entitled to provide an alternative and suitable site of equal area in any other portion of the same land or in any other land at his disposal in the same revenue village and the holder of the protected ulkudi or kudikidappu shall be bound to accept the arrangement and be entitled to receive from the person providing the alternative site the expenses reasonably required to shift to the said site."

20. Amendment of section 39, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 39, sub-section (1), of the principal Act, in the proviso, for the words 'an ulkudi' the words 'a protected ulkudi' shall be substituted.

[6th January 1954]

21. Repeal of section 52-A, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—Section 52-A of the principal Act is hereby replaced.

22. Insertion of new sections 52-C and 52-D in Madras Act XIV of 1930.—After section 52-B of the principal Act, the following sections shall be inserted, namely:—

"52-C. Surrender deeds executed by tenants previously not to affect their rights in certain cases.—(1) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (2), any document executed by a cultivating verumpattamdar after the 28th July 1950 and before the commencement of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act 1954, purporting to affect his rights or status as tenant shall be voidable at the option of the cultivating verumpattamdar:

Provided that the landlord or his successor-in-interest has not admitted any other tenant to the possession of the land before the 28th March 1953.

(2) Any person entitled to rescission of a document under the provisions of sub-section (1) shall within three months of the commencement of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1953, send a notice by registered post to the landlord demanding possession of the land. On such notice being sent, the cultivating verumpattamdar shall be entitled to be restored to possession of the land as if no such document had been executed and he shall have all the rights (including the right to dispossess any other person who has been let into possession of the land . . . on or after the 28th March 1953) of a cultivating verumpattamdar as if he had been in possession as such verumpattamdar on the date of commencement of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954, and shall become liable to restore to the landlord any money or other consideration received from him under the document.

(3) A person who has sent a notice under sub-section (2), may institute a suit for possession of the land within six months of the commencement of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954, against the landlord and any person let into possession of the land on or after the 28th March 1953. The Court shall, in such suit, on proof of the facts stated in sub-section (1) pass a decree for possession:

Provided that, if the plaintiff has received any money or other consideration under the document from the landlord, the Court shall make the execution of such decree conditional on the restoration of such money or the money equivalent of such consideration with such interest as the Court may deem just.

(4) The right conferred by sub-sections (1), (2) and (3) are personal to the cultivating verumpattamdar who executed the document and cannot be exercised by any person claiming to be such cultivating verumpattamdar's successor-in-interest as heir, assignee or otherwise:

Provided that, if such cultivating verumpattamdar dies during the pendency of a suit instituted by him under sub-section (3) such suit may be continued by his legal representative subject to the defences available against the original plaintiff.

52-D. Special provision for application of the Act to tenures prevailing in South Kanara district.—If any difficulty arises in the application of the provisions of this Act as amended by the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1951 (Madras Act XXXIII of 1951), and the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954, to the villages of South Kanara district to which this Act applies, on account of local variations between the tenures prevailing in the said villages (by whatever name such tenures may be known) and the corresponding tenures prevailing in the Malabar district, the State Government may, by notification published in the Fort St. George Gazette, direct that the said provisions shall apply to the aforesaid villages of South Kanara district subject to such adaptations, exceptions and modifications as may be specified in this behalf in such notification."

23. Amendment of section 54, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 54 of the principal Act, for sub-section (3), the following sub-section shall be substituted, namely:—

"(3) The rules made under this Act shall, on publication in the Fort St. George Gazette, have effect as if enacted in this Act. The rules shall be placed on the table of the Legislative Assembly of the State as soon as possible after they are published and shall be subject to such modifications whether by way of repeal or amendment as the Assembly may make during the session in which they are so laid."

24. Amendment of section 53, Madras Act XXXIII of 1951.—In section 53 of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1951 (Madras Act XXXIII of 1951)—

(i) for the words "from the commencement of this Act", the words, brackets and figures "from the commencement of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954", and for the words and figures "six agricultural years beginning with 1944-45 and ending with 1949-50", the words and figures "six agricultural years beginning with 1947-48 and ending with 1952-53" shall be substituted;

(ii) after the words "as amended by this Act", the words, brackets and figures "and the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954" shall be inserted;

(iii) for the words "any arrears of rent", the words "any outstanding arrears of rent" shall be substituted.

25. Repeal of Madras Act XXIV of 1949 in its application to the Malabar district and of sections 54 and 55 of Madras Act XXXIII of 1951.—(1) The Madras Tenants and Ryots Protection Act, 1949 (Madras Act XXIV of 1949), in so far as it applies to the district of Malabar, the Gudalur taluk of the Nilgiri district and the villages in the South Kanara district which are specified in the Schedule to the principal Act, and sections 54 and 55 of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1951 (Madras Act XXXIII of 1951), are hereby repealed.

(2) All suits, appeals and other proceedings (other than proceedings in execution of a decree or order) which are pending at the commencement of this Act and in respect of the subject-matter of which the provisions of the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1929, are in force, shall, from and after such commencement, be disposed of in accordance with the provisions of the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1929, as amended by Madras Act XXXIII of 1951 and this Act:

Provided that in any such suit or proceeding, the court may award full costs to the plaintiff or applicant if it is satisfied that the claim made in the suit or proceeding was in accordance with the law in force at the time of the institution of such suit or proceeding.

(3) Where the execution of a decree or order stands stayed under the Madras Tenants and Ryots Protection Act, 1949, or section 54 or section 55 of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1951, the tenant may, within a month after due service of notice on an application to execute such decree or order or within six months of the commencement of this Act, whichever event happens earlier, file an application to the court which passed the decree or order, to amend the decree or order on the ground that such decree or order would not have been made if the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1929, as amended by Madras Act XXXIII of 1951 and this Act were in force immediately before the passing of the decree or order. If, on such application being made, the court finds that such decree or order would not have been made if the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1929, as amended by Madras Act XXXIII of 1951 and this Act were in force immediately before the passing of the decree or order, the court shall, after receiving such additional pleadings and such further evidence as it considers just and necessary, amend the decree or order so as to be in accord with the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1929, as amended by Madras Act XXXIII of 1951 and this Act. If no such application is filed within the time allowed or if such application is filed and dismissed, the decree or order may, subject to the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (Central Act V of 1908), and the Indian Limitation Act, 1908 (Central Act IX of 1908), be executed in accordance with its tenor.

(4) The date on which any decree or order is amended under sub-section (3) shall, for the purposes of section 48 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, and Article 182 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, be deemed to be the date of the decree or order.

DISSENTING MINUTES.

I

I had suggested in an amendment to section 8, clause (1), of the principal Act, that in the case of dry lands, the fair rent shall be one-fifth of the gross produce or three times the annual assessment payable in respect thereof, whichever is higher. A general principle of three times annual assessment in all cases is unfair. Revenue assessment cannot form a correct or proper basis for fixing the fair rent of dry lands. The revenue authorities in arriving at the assessment do not differentiate between one dry crop and another. In the case of dry lands, in many places in Malabar, especially in Palghat taluk, three times the assessment will be too low in the case of food crops like ragi, cholam, kambu, blackgram, horsegram, etc., and the disparity will be most marked in the case of commercial crops such as groundnut, cotton, tobacco, sugarcane, etc. The customary practice seems to be for the tenant to pay one-fifth of the gross produce to the janmi. This customary payment is referred to by Mr. Raghavendra Row, Special Officer, in his report at page 85. I am suggesting this amendment, therefore, for the consideration of the Assembly and the Council when the Bill is placed before them.

Though I agree with many of the conclusions set out in the report, in one matter, I feel I must express my dissent to the adoption of an amendment to section 14 of the principal Act, clause (5) and section 20, clause (5), which was not proposed in the Bill brought by Government and placed before the Select Committee. This relates to the right of the janmi to evict the tenant from that part of the holding he needs bona fide for the purpose of raising crops or other produce for his own maintenance or that of any member of his family. The amendment states that this right shall not be given to the janmi when the tenant has been in possession for twelve years or more. While this may give relief in hard cases where poor tenants are in possession of one or two acres, it affects seriously the large majority of poor janmis in Malabar. It is worth remembering in this connexion, that the janmi, even according to the definition in the Malabar Tenancy Act IV of 1939, as amended by Act XXIII of 1951, is entitled to the absolute proprietorship of the land and to deny him the right of cultivation for his maintenance is a serious and unreasonable restriction on his rights of absolute proprietorship. The State should have the same solicitude for the poor janmi as for the poor verumpattamdar. I see from the figures given in the memorandum of the Malabar Landholders' Association, Kozhikode, that out of a total of 271,469 pattas, the number of single pattas paying below Rs. 100 comes to Rs. 2,66,000. If a poor janmi has been forced to go out for eking his livelihood and after some years returns to his own land to cultivate the land and live on the produce, he will find himself absolutely stranded and unable to do so.

II

I feel that the provision in the amending Bill which enables the landlord to raise the contract rent after the period of the contract when it is less than the fair rent as determined under the Act will cause great heart-burning and hardship to the tenants. A Bill intended to improve the lot of the tenants by lessening their burdens should not have the effect of adding to their present burdens. In many cases, especially in the cases of holdings under big jenmis, including kovilagams and devaswams, contract rent fixed with due regard to the money and labour spent by the tenants to make the holdings what they now are and acquiesced in by the landlords all these years would be raised severalfold if it is to be substituted by fair rent under the Act. This applies equally to wet lands and garden lands, though in the case of the latter the increase might be higher on account of the rise in the price of coconuts in the recent past. I am afraid a provision of this kind will produce adverse effects on the tenants, psychological as well as material, and has to be removed to ensure the welfare and the contentment of the tenants for whose benefit the Act is sought to be amended. There is also another important fact to be remembered. Government during the early stages of their deliberations which led to the enactment of Act XXXIII of 1951 placed the definite proposal before a conference of representative men held at Kozhikode and Madras that the amendment would provide for the payment by the tenants of fair rent or contract rent whichever is less and the failure to incorporate that proposal in the amending Act was quite against the hopes and expectations raised in the minds of the tenants. This was one of the points on which there was all-round opposition to the amending Act of 1951. It is, therefore, quite necessary that the present amending Act should not repeat the mistake of the last amending Act. I would, therefore, urge that section 28 should be so amended as to provide for the payment by the tenant of fair rent or contract rent, whichever is less. I had provided for this point in my Bill for amending the Malabar Tenancy Act of which I gave notice as early as 30th May 1952. Another point on which I disagree with the majority view of the Select Committee is with reference to the distinction made between sub-clause (5) and sub-clause (6) of clauses 14 and 20 of the Act in the matter of giving fixity to tenants who have been in possession of the land for twelve years and more. The scheme of the Act does not make any distinction between sub-clauses (5) and (6) as is illustrated by section 40 (2) under which a melcharthdar is denied the right of claiming possession on grounds 5 and 6. Again on the healthy principle contained in section 40 (2), I would also urge that the right of eviction granted to a landlord under sub-sections (5) and (6) of sections 14 and 20 should not be available to his transferee as the landlord can easily circumvent the provisions regarding fixity given to the tenants by the Act by making transfers in favour of his dependants or persons interested in harassing the tenant who might unlike the landlord satisfy the requirement of the Act regarding primary need for eviction.

III

The tenancy problem in Malabar cannot be satisfactorily solved unless the main principles of land legislation are borne in mind. A tenant requires fixity of tenure so that the land to which he is so much attached may be developed and made to yield more. A fair rent should be fixed for each holding so that the cultivator may enjoy a fair share of the produce of his labours. The tenant wants the land which he cultivates to be regarded as his own, together with all the incidents of ownership subject only to the liability to pay fair rent to the landlord. Any legislation which ignores these fundamental principles cannot satisfy the tenants.

The proposal now is that a cultivating verumpattamdar who has been continuously cultivating the land for a period of twelve years cannot be evicted from his holding for the personal cultivation of the landlord and that a tenant who has been cultivating the land for a lesser period can be evicted for the primary needs of the landlord. This will be regarded as a half-hearted measure. It will actually benefit only a small percentage of landlords. It cannot be reckoned as being helpful either to those whom it is intended to protect or to those on whom an advantage is sought to be conferred. A cultivating verumpattamdar should be given fixity of tenure regardless of the period of his cultivation. This may, however, lead to some hardship in the case of small landholders who want to resume the land for their personal cultivation. It is, however, a choice of evils as to whether a small landholder should be deprived of the right to resume possession of his land or a still poorer tenant should suffer by reason of the eviction. It is necessary to prevent the hardship that may be caused to a poor landlord by depriving him of the right to resume his land for his personal cultivation in cases where the tenant is in enjoyment of large holdings. On grounds of social justice a limit may be prescribed in respect of the holdings both of the landlords and of the tenants. There are difficulties in the way, but they must be faced and solved if there is to be contentment in the land.

The landlord should be assumed of a fair rent payable in kind at the option of the landlord so that both the landlord and the tenant may have the benefits as well as the disadvantages of market fluctuations. A sort of partnership is to be established between the landlord and the tenant, so that both of them may be benefited by increased production. Failure to pay the fair rent should entail forfeiture of tenancy. Instead of prescribing rigid rules it is better to lay down elastic principles which may be applied by the Tribunal in determining fair rent in each case. The calculation of fair rent in the case of punjakoles and dry lands require revision. Fair rent cannot be arbitrarily fixed on the basis of assessment but must depend on the produce of the land. The cultivation expenses for each holding should be left to be decided by the Tribunal.

The question of ulkudis is a problem created by the Amendment Act of 1951. There are no large-scale evictions of ulkudi dwellers in Malabar. There is really therefore no need to make them tenure-holders and introduce further complications. Ulkudidars are only licensees allowed to live in huts put up in garden lands and cannot be entitled to permanent occupancy rights. The original provision in the Bill was that ulkudidars can be evicted on three years' notice being given to them. Now the proposal is to give fixity of tenure to those who were in occupation thereof for three years. There is neither equity nor any principle involved in this proviso.

The occupants of ulkudis are now sought to be given higher rights even than tenants. A tenant may be evicted under some circumstances but an ulkudidar cannot be ejected from his hut, although he may commit acts of waste or be a source of nuisance to others. If the hut belongs to the holder of the ulkudi he need not even pay rent.

IV

While welcoming amendments to the Malabar Tenancy Act I am constrained to state that the present amending Bill as it emerges from the Select Committee is far from being satisfactory or complete. In appending this note of dissent to the Report of the Select Committee, on the Bill, I very much hope that the arguments put forward by me to safeguard the interests of the tiller of the soil would be appreciated.

The following extracts from Mr. William Logan's "Malabar" (1951 Reprint) would throw considerable light on the relationship between the "jenmi" and the "kudiyar" in Malabar:—

"The essential difference between a Roman dominus and a Malayalee jenmi was unfortunately not perceived or not understood at the commencement of the British administration. The jenmi has by the action of the Civil Courts been virtually converted into a dominus and the result on the workers, the cultivators, has been and is very deplorable"—Page 604.

"What he (the jenmi) pledged was evidently not the soil itself but only his share of its produce so far as that went . . . But the Civil Courts acting on the idea that the jenmi was a dominus and as such entitled to take what he could get out of the land, viewed his pledges as pledges of the soil itself, and in this way they have almost completely upset the native system of customary sharing of the produce”—Page 605.

“Custom, not competition, adjudged the shares into which the produce was to be divided. The grant of freedom to a community thus organized meant (as soon as the custom had given way) freedom for the strong to oppress the weak; freedom for the newly created proprietor (the present day jenmi) to take an ever increasing portion of the share of the nett produce left over after paying the government dues. What wonder then, that the DRONES IN THE HIVE HAVE PROSPERED AND GROWN FAT OR THAT THE WORKING BEES HAVE BECOME FAMISHED AND LEAN!”—Page 683.

The learned author was of the view that customary relations were disturbed in favour of the jenmi after the British rule and the kudiyan (tenant) who had a very stable right in the soil under his cultivation found his position insecure only thereafter. All the world over exclusive possession and occupation resulted in private ownership of property. The origin of property in Malabar must have been only the same. To cover it up and to maintain that the whole of Malabar was gifted to the jenmis by the mythical hero Parasurama who is supposed to have redeemed the land from the sea, without any basis for such a supposition, was one among the several clever manipulations the lazy men of the day indulged in to hoodwink the ardent worker. “Sages who knew former times . . . pronounce cultivated land to be the property of him who cut away the wood or who cleared and tilled it”, observes Manu. The Rajas, Devasthanams and Namboodiris of Malabar who were the jenmis were prevented from cultivation or clearing of jungles on account of their duties and their inclinations. On the other hand the “Cheramas” (the children of CHERA—of Kerala—as the term means) and the “Kanakars” were in flesh and blood on the soil clearing it or tilling it so that one cannot easily wipe them out as any other than the original proprietors of land in Malabar. It may not be far from being true to maintain that the present day jenmi was at one time only a guardian or a kind of a watchman appointed by the tillers of the soil or chosen by them to protect them from possible aggression and who was paid for the service a remuneration in the form of a customary share in the produce without giving them any right whatsoever in the land itself. British administrators and the civil courts which functioned under the British rule failed to perceive this peculiar position of a jenmi in Malabar and very wrongly declared him to be the absolute owner of the land. Agitation for tenancy reform in Malabar has been an agitation to rectify this wrong done by the British to the true proprietor of the soil, the “kudiyan” of Malabar, the actual cultivator, who now stands expropriated.

Mr. William Logan reported in 1881 that the only person interested in the soil to whom the Government should look was the actual cultivator so that it was in the interest of the public that eviction should be prevented. His report did not find favour with Government who referred the matter to a special commission which was presided over by Sir T. Madhava Rao. The commission after a detailed investigation submitted its report to Government in 1884 adopting the view of Mr. Logan and strongly recommending fixity of tenure to the tiller of the soil. The then Chief Justice of Madras blew up the report opposing any measure providing for fixity of tenure. Thereupon Government constituted another Committee hoping that they would suggest a more “agreeable” measure. The Committee which was presided over by Mr. Master submitted its report recommending payment of compensation for improvements on eviction which resulted in the “Malabar Compensation for Tenants Improvements Act of 1887.” The Improvements Act did not have the desired effect of preventing capricious eviction of tenants from holdings. Discontent remained and agitation for fresh legislation continued. In 1900 the then Collector of Malabar who was convinced about the “melcharth” evil in Malabar recommended enactment of the “Melcharth Bill” to prevent “melcharth” and consequent eviction. Government refused to act on the recommendation. In 1915 Mr. Charles Innes, who was then the Collector of Malabar, realizing the extreme difficulties under which the tenants were groaning submitted a report to Government requesting for immediate steps to remedy the evils of insecurity of tenure and rack-renting in Malabar. He observed that it was a matter of economic necessity to give fixity of tenure to the tenant as the extension of cultivation would be greatly accelerated if the tenants who reclaimed the lands were given complete protection against eviction. Nothing was done by Government and in 1921 the Mappilla Rebellion which is supposed to be the tenants’ revolt having taken a different turn broke out. In 1928 the Raghaviah Committee which was entrusted with the duty of going into the question of further tenancy reform for Malabar submitted a detailed report and the Malabar Tenancy Act XIV of 1930 followed. It was not a comprehensive piece of legislation. Evictions were made possible in several cases and harassment of the tenant continued with greater vigour. There was complete discontentment on the side of the tenants and in 1939 Government constituted the Kuttikrishna Menon Committee to investigate and report on certain points relating to land tenure in Malabar including the necessity to provide fixity of tenure to the tenure-holders. The Committee after a detailed investigation submitted its report and recommendations in 1940. The majority of the members of the Committee came to the conclusion that the farmer was the original owner of the soil. They recommended the grant of fixity of tenure for all classes of lands except lands transferred for felling timber, fugitive cultivation, etc., prevent evasion of legislation which was so common the Committee also recommended the grant of fixity of tenure to any mortgagee whose mortgage is shown to have been granted in place of tenure. On the question of rent the Committee recommended that no tenant should be compelled to pay more than the fair rent. Nothing turned upon this report except that a Special Officer was deputed in 1947 for the investigation of land tenures in Malabar on the recommendations of the Malabar

Tenancy Committee. The said Special Officer, Sri N. Raghavendra Rao, submitted his report in due course and the matter ended there. In 1951 Government realizing the immediate necessity for betterment of the conditions of the tenants passed the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act XXXIII of 1951 which came into force on 15th March 1952. The Act was found to be defective in several respects. The provisions made for eviction, for fixation of fair rent and for settlement of what was called a record-of-rights found no favour with the people of Malabar and agitation was more intense than before to revise the whole enactment bearing in mind the absolute necessity to grant unqualified fixity of tenure to the tiller of the soil securing only a fair rent to the landlord. The Act instead of providing fixity of tenure for the tenant enabled eviction in more cases than before. By sections 14 and 20 eviction on account of need to extend a temple or other place on a certificate from the Collector of the district to the effect that the tenant's holding is needed for the purpose was made possible. The scope for eviction on the ground that the holding was needed by any member of the landlord's family was enlarged by adding a wide explanation to the term "member of the family." Provisions were made for the protection of ulkudis and kudikidappus but those provisions were made applicable only to a negligible area, viz., Fort Cochin, while there was a crying need to make them applicable to the whole of Malabar. Huts and not houses were protected as ulkudis. Melcharth was provided for and evils remained. The Rent Settlement Authority which functioned under the Act was an unwanted nuisance to the cultivator and a drain on the State's funds. There was a clamour for further legislation and it was in this background that the present Bill was brought forward.

Instead of improving upon the definition of "ulkudi" and "kudikidappu" the present amending Bill has mutilated the original definition and it would appear as though the ulkudi tenant has to cling on to the superstructure of his hut and not stay on the site and the appurtenant land so absolutely needed for his residence. While the amending Act of 1951 defined "ulkudi" as any portion of a garden land the present Bill seeks to restrict the definition to a hut in any portion of a garden land or dry land so that once the hut falls down the ulkudi ceases. It is my view that the definition should remain as it is in the amending Act of 1951 with the following additions to it:—

After the words "garden land" appearing in the definition, the words "or wet and dry land" should be added and after the word "hut" in the same definition the words "or house" should be added. After such additions the provisions relating to ulkudis and kudikidappus may be extended forthwith to the whole of the Malabar district. There is no necessity to disturb the existing definition except to the extent suggested herein and any further disturbance to the detriment of the poor will foment further trouble. The present Bill is markedly retrograde compared to the amending Act of 1951 in the above respect.

My next suggestion will be to repeal the whole of sections 14 and 20 of the Malabar Tenancy Act as they now stand. Section 10 of the Act gives fixity of tenure to the tenure-holder while sections 14 and 20 permit eviction on numerous grounds. What is given by the right hand is taken away by the left. Once it is understood that the Malayalee landlord had only an interest in a share of the produce and that he had no title whatsoever to the land, the absolute necessity for the abrogation of sections 14 and 20 of the Act becomes very evident. The tiller of the soil is its proprietor except when he is a paid-agricultural labourer. That the tiller of the soil was the owner of it in Malabar has also been revealed by the investigations of eminent men in the field. The landlord was only benefiting under a customary sharing of the produce without any title to the soil. His customary right to a share of the produce alone needs protection to maintain the equilibrium. This is well protected as there are ample provisions in the Act now itself providing for security of rent to the landlord. If the rent is kept in arrear, section 41 of the Act provides for a charge on the interest of the tenant and the charge can be enforced by bringing to sale the tenant's rights through Court. If a landlord wants the tenant's land for himself, instead of paying value of improvements through Court, leave him to purchase the tenant's right in the open market if the tenant chooses to sell. The necessity to give fixity of tenure to the tenant was recognized and recommended for by almost every committee and individual appointed for the purpose by Government from 1881 up to the present day. It will be therefore unsound to ignore the consensus of expert opinion on the subject and bring out an Act to please the richer people of the realm alone.

V

While I am in general agreement with the Bill as piloted by the Hon'ble Minister for Law, I wish to add the following:—

(1) Wherever the words "Rent Court" occur, the words "Civil Court" shall be substituted in the Act.

(2) In the matter of the rent payable by the tenants to the landlords, "fair rent or contract rent, whichever is less" shall be imported in the Acts.

V. R. NAGARAJAN.

VI

There are certain basic facts underlying any attempt to amend the Malabar Tenancy Act:

(i) the existing Act, even as amended by the 1951 Act has been found to be unsatisfactory in many important aspects and has provoked profound discontent among the agricultural classes of Malabar;

[6th January 1954]

(ii) there are significant features about Malabar land tenure which make the problem different from measures regulating landlord-tenant relationships in other parts of the State;

(iii) it is in consonance with democratic principles and the peculiarities of the case that the representatives from Malabar should have the predominant voice in determining the changes required suitably to the wishes of the Malabar people who, ultimately, have the right to determine this issue.

The vital concern and interest in the matter of the amending Bill for the people of Malabar is best respected by the representatives of the various affected interests being heard and given the virtual right to decide upon the necessary amendments. A conference of Malabar M.L.As. and M.L.Cs. and M.Ps. would be the best conceivable method by which a formula for amendment could be forged. Indeed in the earlier discussions of the Select Committee, even the Government members informally agreed to a conference as silhouetted above to be convened or attended by the Minister for Law and to be held at Kozhikode. The propriety of consulting leading men from Malabar belonging to political parties not represented in the Select Committee was more or less accepted when Sri Kelappan and Sri Govinda Menon were specially invited for the Select Committee meeting and the Select Committee converted itself into a kind of informal conference. Although Government members coquetted with the idea, they did not pursue it seriously. No conference was held, no agreed formula of Malabar Members of the Legislature was sought and the Select Committee proceeded with its deliberations and produced certain results not altogether happy nor even indicative of an awareness to the realities of the Malabar agrarian problem.

Technically speaking and approaching the whole question in a narrow legalistic manner, only those amendments to the Malabar Tenancy Act which are touched upon by the amending Bill, could be considered by the Select Committee. Indeed the Government measure is so scrappy and inadequate and omits to deal with the major issues involved in the problem that the containment of the possible changes to be brought about by the Select Committee within those limits would be foredoomed to failure. We, among others, had therefore raised this question at the earliest stages of the Committee's meetings and had demanded of the Chairman and the Chief Minister that the entire Parent Act must be available for discussion and change. This had also been more or less agreed to by the Chief Minister at the committee meetings provided some kind of unanimity existed on the proposals for amendment among the members from Malabar. In the later discussions, however, many of the important amendments of sections not covered by the Bill were not considered, with the result that the amplitude of the changes sought to be brought about by members like us was not available; the result was obviously unsatisfactory from our point of view. Unless the entire Parent Act is thrown open for discussion, change and amendment, the real demands of the Malabar tenantry will hardly be met.

For the above reasons, we broadly express our dissent to the procedure adopted at the Select Committee meetings in regard to the scope of the discussions and the failure to have consultations with the representatives of various interests on land in Malabar and the Kisan organizations and also the failure to hold enquiries in the district regarding the needs and grievances of the ryots in Malabar bearing on the question of Tenancy Reform.

While we are convinced that only a reorientation of agrarian policy based on the motto "land for the tiller" conformably to the Constitution (and not mere amendments to an outworn statute which postulates the permanent existence of landlordism and seeks only to reduce the friction between landlord and tenant) leading to a bold new legislation will really answer the needs of the situation; yet, at least as a temporary palliative and as a step in the right direction, substantial changes in the key provisions of the existing Tenancy Act might be very desirable. But we have been disappointed.

In regard to eviction, some general discussion took place, but the ultimate decision has not been very satisfactory. Complete immunity from eviction should be conferred on the cultivating tenant except in respect of the extent he has over an optimum size of holding, say, 5 acres. There should be a distinction between petty landlords (now large in numbers) and the big landlords and similarly there should be a clear difference drawn between the ordinary, average tenant who is principally an agriculturist and those who are very big tenants and have large extents under them (oftentimes as intermediaries) and have some lucrative non-agricultural vocation to boot. When society is complicated, complicated patterns of law to deal justly with categories must also be promulgated.

Dealing with fair rents, the Select Committee's conclusions have not been very agreeable in the light of the demands of the ryots of Malabar. Where the contract rent is different from the fair rent, the rent which is to be payable must be the lesser of the two—this is an agitation and a demand universally approved in Malabar. The various reasons in support of this demand urged at the meeting were not acceded to, probably because not all the non-Malabar members could not appreciate the feelings of the people of Malabar in this regard. Those reasons are briefly as follows:—

(i) Landlords have not clamoured for increased rentals but it is the tenants who have asked for reduction in the past. It is the weaker party, the tenantry, who has to be given protection in all legislation of this character, and not the stronger party, the landlords. The latter could, in equity, be tied down to their contract. There is thus no justification, historically speaking, to increase the rent over the contract rent; it will be like an unexpected boon to landlords if, under the guise of fixing fair rents, they are given a sudden increase;

(ii) that this is the effect of fair-rent fixation according to the present formula, is particularly obvious to those who are familiar with conditions in garden lands of Malabar. Where a tenant pays Rs. 100 now for a garden, the application of the fair-rent principle would result in its being multiplied several times; and in certain cases he may have to pay even a thousand rupees in the place of a hundred. And remember, garden lands are by far, the main kind of agricultural land in Malabar; most often the improvements on those garden lands are made by the cultivating tenant at great expense and after hard toil for years, since the land, to start with, was just waste;

(iii) this fact was half conceded even by the knowledgeable Law Minister of the previous Government. In the Bill to amend the Malabar Tenancy Act brought in 1950, this provision now demanded by, us had been included. Even the present Law Minister must be conscious about it and that is why he is seeking to put a clog, though nugatory, on the landlord's right to get the fair-rent fixed only at the end of three years from the date of this Act. Even the benefit in the existing Act, of spreading over the increase in rent (consequent on the fixation of fair-rent) through a period of fifteen years is now sought to be removed. The present move of Government without acceding to the demand "contract rent or fair rent whichever is less" will be an unkind cut to the tenants, but an unsought for blessing to the landlord;

(iv) the impact of the fair-rent provisions without the safeguarding cause suggested above is so ruinous to the tenants that all political parties and Kisan Organizations working in Malabar have unanimously supported the "whichever is less" principle. It is unfortunate that Government's sense of justice does not enable it to see the justice in this demand.

Fugitive cultivation (punam) is an extensive practice for the poorer ryots and landless agriculturists of Malabar. This is an arduous kind of cultivation in the hills and jungles. We demand, as suggested by the Kuttikrishna Menon Committee that the provisions regarding fair-rents for the dry lands (twice the land revenue) be extended to fugitive cultivations.

The modus operandi for fixing fair-rents is, according to the amending Bill, to be rent courts presided over by Revenue Divisional Officers. Faith in popular representatives would take us to panchayat boards as the best Tribunals for fixing fair rents as they have the requisite knowledge of the local conditions and proceedings will be cheap for the parties. Whenever there are no panchayat courts, a Three-man Tribunal representing tenants, representing landlords and the third a Government Officer would take that place. Right of appeal to the District Munsifs will correct perverse findings, if any, by panchayats boards. The next best is the civil courts. There are about twenty courts in Malabar and so easy accessibility for ryots. Revenue Divisional Officers are few and far between. The cost of legal service in the munsif's courts is much less than before the Revenue Divisional Officers. The competency to deal with civil law is next to nothing for the Revenue Divisional Officer. Ultimately the Revenue Divisional Officer will simply okay the Revenue Inspector's report. Thus the Revenue Inspector of the circle will be the arbiter of fair-rents, in the last analysis. What with numerous kinds of work of a miscellaneous sort allotted to the Revenue Divisional Officers, they will hardly find time for the comparatively less important work (from their point of view) of fair-rent fixation. Delay in civil courts can be eliminated by prescribing special procedure. The cost of commission batta can be reduced by having a panel of Commissioners and other suitable regulations. On the whole courts with the Revenue Divisional Officers as Judges are an unwholesome machinery for fair-rent fixation. We press for panchayat boards being made rent courts failing which District Munsifs may be made rent courts.

We endorse the suggestion made at the Select Committee that restrictions must be put upon landlords attempting to circumvent the provisions regarding non-evictability by transferring lands in the name of dependents who might be seemingly needy. We also endorse and commend for consideration by the Legislature the amendments proposed by the Malabar Kisan Sangham and those contained in the Malabar Agrarian Relations Bill introduced by one of us.

Regarding the fixation of fair-rents for wet lands, a controversial question arises regarding the expenses of cultivation. Under the existing provision, 22 paras of paddy have been provisionally fixed. But considerable agitation has been carried on, based upon actual facts regarding the inadequacy of this figure. As a matter of fact, as early as 1947 the K.P.C.C. Sub-Committee on Land Reform recommended 25 paras as the expenses required per acre. This is the minimum. In actual practice, the North Malabar fields have been found to require considerably more; in certain cases going up to 40 paras per acre. A reasonable via media would be 30 paras per acre which we commend for acceptance by the legislature.

Fair-rents of pepper gardens, as fixed by the majority view of the Select Committee elicits our dissent. In all these cases, dry, infertile lands are leased and the entire pepper vines are planted up by the tenant. Under the existing provisions, in respect of tenants' vines in garden lands, one-eighth of the produce is the fair-rent; dry lands being far inferior to garden lands, the fair-rent must be a lesser proportion, certainly not more than one-eighth. So we suggest that one-tenth of the produce shall be the fair-rent.

In regard to arrears of rent we suggest that a payment of nothing more than two years' rent should be deemed to be a statutory discharge of all arrears of rent. The Madras Agriculturists' Relief Act, 1938, provided likewise. It is common knowledge the agriculturists of Malabar are now more sunk in indebtedness than even in 1938, thanks to continued failure of seasonal rains during the past several years. A six-year deposit within one year will be so heavy a burden on the ryot as to amount to a denial of the benefit of wiping up of arrears; and if arrears exist eviction will follow. Thus, if our recommendation of a two-years' deposit were not accepted even the provisions restricting evictions will become futile. The calamity consequent on the insistence of a six-years' deposit would be so serious and widespread that even the other benefit, conferred by the amendments would vanish.

The deletion of section 52-A would be catastrophe. The need for re-opening transactions contemplated by that section still remains, as landlords have been circumventing tenancy legislation by converting what in fact and substance is a lease into a mortgage to facilitate eviction. The mere fact that the Rent Settlement Authorities are to be abolished is no excuse for taking away the substantive right which can be adjudicated upon hereafter by the substitute authority created, viz., rent courts.

With the above observations we conclude our minute of dissent.

I agree to the above dissent so far as it relates to the question of 'fair-rent'. At least, a limit should be placed on the increase, say, about 20 per cent.

THE MADRAS SLUM IMPROVEMENT (ACQUISITION
OF LAND) BILL, 1954 (L.A. BILL NO. 6 OF 1954)

7th January 1954] [Sri A. B. Shetty]

“ Sir, the problem of slums in this City has been engaging the attention of the Government for some time past. There has been a growing influx of labouring classes from the rural areas to Madras City during the last few years due, among other causes, to drought, food shortage and unemployment. This class of population forms the largest percentage of pavement dwellers who are said to be about 18,000 in number in this City. The more enterprising among the persons coming here in search of work and wages occupy vacant plots of land wherever they are available and they put up huts of their own. It is unauthorized occupation in the case of Government and Corporation lands, and sometimes in private lands also. Some of the private owners parcel out vacant lands on rental to these people. Many slums have grown up in the City. The poorest sections of the community are huddled together in conditions of squalor and filth in these highly congested areas. Madras City is said to have now 241 such slum areas. Of these, 49 slums are on Government lands, 44 on Corporation lands and 148 on private lands. The number of huts in these slum areas is 36,671 and the slum dwellers are about 265,000 in number. Insanitation, overcrowding, etc., make these slum areas a danger to the health of the people living there and to the public health of the City.

“ The removal of such slums from the midst of the City to other places makes it difficult to re-house the displaced families. Slums will develop again in the areas where these people are shifted. The City dwellers want men for domestic service and other kinds of work. The labouring classes cannot live far away from their places of work. Government have therefore decided upon a new policy, namely, to stop liquidation of slums and carry out improvements in slum areas providing roads, water-supply, sewerage, sanitary conveniences, side drains, etc.

“ The City Improvement Trust have been executing some improvement schemes with the aid of contributions from the Government and the Corporation and also the loans provided by Government. They have cleared the slums in a few areas and provided house plots to the lower middle class and poor class people. Government have passed orders that slum improvement work should be done by the Corporation. The Madras Corporation has, during the last two or three years, provided civic amenities in several slum areas and spent about Rs. 26,00,000 so far out of the public loan of Rs. 30,00,000 raised for the purpose. All slums on Corporation lands, 12 of the slums on Government lands and a few of the private slums have been improved. The Corporation has made a demand for a sum of about Rs. 5½ lakhs from Government for the work done calculating 50 per cent grant for the cost of improvement on Government land slums and 25 per cent grant for the Corporation and private land slums. The work remaining to be done for the benefit of about 30,000 families including the pavement dwellers will require a sum of a little over Rs. 4 crores. The Corporation has submitted a comprehensive Slum Improvement Scheme to the Government of India in connexion with their

THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL

Thursday, 7th January 1954.

The House met in the Council Chamber, Fort St. George, at four of the clock, Mr. Chairman (THE HON. DR. P. V. CHERIAN) in the Chair.

THE MADRAS SLUM IMPROVEMENT (ACQUISITION OF LAND)
BILL, 1954 (L.A. BILL NO. 6 OF 1954).

THE HON. SRI A. B. SHETTY :—“ Mr. Chairman, Sir, I beg to move—

‘ That the Madras Slum Improvement (Acquisition of Land) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 6 of 1954), as passed by the Legislative Assembly, be taken into consideration.’

“ The Statement of Objects and Reasons indicates briefly the purpose of this Bill and the need for it. As the hon. Members of this House may like to have some further information, I wish to speak a few words.

[Sri A. B. Shetty] [7th January 1954]

scheme of financial assistance to slum improvement works. They have asked for a loan to cover half the cost of improvements and a subsidy to meet the rest of the expenditure in four equal instalments. This Government have forwarded the scheme with their own recommendations to the Central Government who are considering it now.

“Private owners are not willing to incur expenditure on improving the slums on their lands since they cannot enhance the rental or recover from the occupiers the money spent for improvements. They resist the demands of the Corporation for carrying out slum improvement and they file suits for the eviction of tenants. The only solution is to acquire their lands and provide the necessary amenities. When the City Improvement Trust institute land acquisition proceedings, the owners demand compensation at high rates on the basis of the value of similar lands in their neighbouring areas. Land acquisition under the existing enactments provides for payment of compensation on the basis of market value which becomes very costly. This legislation is intended to authorize such acquisition on a valuation basis related to the present income the owner is getting and not based on market values. The provision for payment as compensation has been reduced from 20 to 12 times the net average annual income during the five years immediately preceding the acquisition as a result of an amendment in the Legislative Assembly. I trust this Bill will meet here with the same warm welcome which it has received in the other House.”

MR. CHAIRMAN :—“Motion moved—

‘That the Madras Slum Improvement (Acquisition of Land) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 6 of 1954), as passed by the Legislative Assembly, be taken into consideration.’”

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR :—“Mr. Chairman, Sir, I extend a extend a warm welcome to the Bill which has been introduced by the Hon. Minister for Health, and the object of the Bill is indeed a very laudable one. I wish to speak only on one or two points about the procedure which the Government have adopted in this Bill.

“Slums are situated on Government lands, on Corporation lands and on private lands. I find from the figures given by the Hon. Minister that there are 93 slums on Government and on Corporation lands. On private lands, we have been told that there are 148 slums. Therefore nearly half the total number of slums are on Government and Corporation lands. I submit for the consideration of the House whether it is not the duty of the Government and the Corporation to see that they take upon themselves the duty of improving the slums on their own lands, before they undertake the improvement of slums on private lands. I think, the Government can very well wait for some more time before they embark upon the improvement of slums on private lands. The Hon. the Minister for Health has stated that the work of improvement of the slums remaining to be done will require a sum of a little over Rs. 4 crores. This amount must necessarily be paid by the public either by way of subscriptions to public loans or by way of taxes. Provision has been made in the Bill for payment of compensation at 12 times the net average annual income during the five years immediately preceding the acquisition and this compensation amount must naturally come from the tax-payer's money. I submit, Sir, that this extraordinary procedure of acquiring lands for the sake of improving a portion of slums on private lands can very well be postponed for some more time. I am very anxious that we should contribute for the improvement of slum areas and in fact we are contributing as general tax-payers to the general revenues of the Government from which the latter spend for the improvement of slums. My first point, therefore, is that this Bill can very well be postponed for some more time.

“It has been stated in the Statement of Objects and Reasons that the only method of carrying out improvements on slum areas is by acquiring the lands and providing the necessary amenities and that this can be done only by enacting a special legislation. I have got very great doubts whether slums can be improved by means of legislation. I have looked into the literature regarding clearance of slums in European countries and I find therein that the various Governments there have taken advantage of private philanthropy. The action of the Government in trying to acquire lands of private owners where slums are situated compulsorily by means of a special legislation creates altogether a very different psychology among the people and they will cease to think that the improvement of slums is a very laudable object. I would very much request the Government to proceed slowly in this matter as I have been urging them to go slow on all matters. Let us not try to cover the track of centuries on a giddy basis. Even in European countries which have a very disciplined population it has taken fifty or hundred years for effecting improvements on slums. Here our people cannot appreciate these things and it is better that the Government educate public opinion on this matter, as they have been doing on so many other matters. They must also see that private owners also contribute voluntarily for the improvement of slums on their lands. Instead of the Government trying to acquire the lands of private owners on which slums are situated and paying them compensation from the general tax-payer's money, it would be very much better if we appeal to the philanthropy of these private owners and we somehow induce them to part with some money for slum work. At any rate, if the Government and the Corporation improve the slums situated on their own lands, the private owners also, I am perfectly sure, will begin to effect improvements in regard to slums situated on their own lands. That is the latest procedure adopted in the European countries. It has been stated so in ‘Housing problems in European countries.’

“Our Government have decided to pay compensation for lands acquired by them and I am very glad about it. Article 31 of the

[Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar] [7th January 1954]

Constitution says that no person shall be deprived of his property unless compensation is paid. I do not know why the principles of payment of compensation prescribed in the Land Acquisition Act are not applied in this Bill. The Land Acquisition Act provides for payment of compensation on the basis of market value. But in this Bill the Government propose to pay compensation based on actual income of the land. The principle of 'purchase system' adopted in the old system is, if the money representing property is invested in gilt-edged securities, the interest that is paid on those gilt-edged securities if multiplied by the period of the securities, should make up the capital.

(Deputy Chairman occupied the Chair at this stage.)

"I will give an illustration. If the gilt-edged security is at 3½ per cent, then thirty years hence it will come to 100. That is the general principle that has been adopted by the High Court in all decisions. That is why our Chief Minister who is a great lawyer, put it originally at twenty times. Unfortunately there is the Communistic ideology on all matters, and on account of the havoc of the Communistic ideology, in the Legislative Assembly our Chief Minister had to accept the amendment to reduce the compensation to twelve years' net average annual income. This is no compensation. This is a very little amount. Therefore it is I say that when once we depart from the general principles of the Land Acquisition Act, we will not know where we go. (The Hon. Sri C. Rajagopalachari: 'What is the compensation in Burma?') I say that no compensation need have been paid at all there. But our Constitution says that there should be some compensation. I do not find even that 15 per cent solatium, which is the usual rule under the Land Acquisition Act for the purpose of compulsory acquisition. (Interruption by the Hon. Sri C. Rajagopalachari.) Because it is compulsory, 15 per cent is given. Why should this rule be removed? Put it at 10 per cent. Why should nothing be mentioned about compensation at all? I am sorry to say, even though I much sympathise with the necessity for slum improvement, that the Government can very well wait for some time. First let them put their own houses in order before they ask others to put their houses in order or to contribute for the slum improvement. So many have given land free. Is that not an act of philanthropy to some extent? They want to recover the cost of acquisition from these very people in slums in some proportion. Of course, the Leader of the Opposition in the Assembly said 50 per cent, and nothing more than that. But the Chief Minister said that it might even be reduced, and, therefore, it should not be put at 50 per cent. I feel that the Government may not recover even 15 or 20 per cent. It is good so far as the tenants are concerned. The Government must have some general principles. We are talking in the name of the poor and the common man. I too want to talk in the name of the common man. We are not a communist State. We are in a democratic State. All land is nationalised in a Communistic State. We are living in a democratic State where people have got their rights to property, etc. They have to get the full value of their land. All decisions under the Land Acquisition Act have emphasized the fact that full compensation should be paid. We do not find here any mention of damage to property. I do not want, for the sake of the poor, to insist on this. But Government should choose between thirty years' purchase price and twenty years' purchase price. The 15 per cent addition should be there as a solatium. (The Hon. Sri C. Rajagopalachari: 'We can have ten years' purchase price.') Any calculation by which the amount is reduced! I am not for that kind of argument. I want that full compensation should be paid to private owners."

SRI V. BASHYAM AYYANGAR:—"Sir, I wish to support this Bill very heartily. This Bill has been long overdue, and there ought to be no objection to it from any quarter. I do not know if the hon. Member Mr. Balasubramanya Ayyar has seen any of these slums.

(Mr. Chairman resumed the Chair at this stage.)

"He asks, when the slums on Government land and Corporation land are not kept well, where is the urgency for the Government to acquire private lands on which there are slums. I have seen slums on Government lands and also slums on Corporation lands. I have also seen slums on private lands. I have seen more than 50 per cent of these slums, in this City. I can assert without fear of contradiction that slums on Corporation lands and Government lands are hundred times better than the slums on private lands. Slums on private lands are kept in a very insanitary condition. To say that private slums ought not to be acquired and improved because greater improvements to slums on Government lands and Corporation lands have yet to be effected, is, I think, neither just nor equitable. The hon. Member while extending his lip sympathy to the residents of these slums in private lands has stated that the acquisition of these private lands can wait for some more years. These residents have waited long enough, and the inconvenience and trouble which the owners of these private lands have caused to them are indescribable. When the Corporation proposes improvements in these slums, the owners will not come forward to effect them and instead raise legal objections. The private owners will not also agree to the improvements being made by the Corporation, and the cost being recovered from them. Unfortunately, the Corporation has no legal power to insist that the improvements should be effected by private owners. I think this Bill has been long over-due. So far as compensation is concerned, I beg to disagree with the opinion of the hon. Member Mr. Balasubramanya Ayyar. For every one rupee these people have been getting so far, they will now get a lump sum of Rs. 144 if twelve years' rental is taken as the value. I think this is a fair compensation—especially in a case involving the improvement of slums. There is no cause for complaint. I do not agree with the 15 per cent addition which is asked to be given for compulsory acquisition. Owners of these slums, as a rule, have been very obstructive as regards the improvement of their slums. The hon. Member Mr. Balasubramanya Ayyar said that if only we made some propaganda, the private owners would voluntarily come forward to effect improvements on their land. I am unable to agree with him. Social reform workers have tried to do their best. But the owners of these slums have been hard-hearted, and they would not do anything themselves nor would they allow others to effect any improvements on their land. I very strongly support this Bill, and I request the House to accept it."

SRI T. PURUSHOTHAM :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, I rise to support this Bill. The slums in Madras City are so bad and my hon. Friend Sri V. Bashyam Ayyangar has put forward the case of these slum dwellers very forcefully. He has also shown how it is very necessary to improve their condition. If land acquisition proceedings are instituted under the Land Acquisition Act, it is not only a costly course as stated by the Hon. Minister but it is also very tardy in spite of the emergency clauses in the Act. Therefore there can be no two opinions about the need for the improvement of these slums whether they be on Government lands or Corporation lands or on private lands. I disagree with the view put forward by the hon. Member Sri Balasubramanya Ayyar that improvement of slums in private lands should wait till the Government discharge their duty of improving the conditions in slums on Government lands. The Madras City Improvement Trust Board in its Administration Report for the year 1951-52 has stated that the big obstacle in the way of achieving quick results in slum improvement is the delay in acquiring the lands. They have also suggested that for all their improvement schemes a better and more speedy land acquisition procedure should be set up. I believe Government have done well now in devising a suitable measure for reducing this delay. I submit that provision should be made in this Bill for extending it with suitable amendments if necessary for all cases of acquisition of lands required for improvement schemes undertaken by the City Improvement Trust. If that is done I am sure it will be possible for the Trust to show appreciable progress in their programme of work which covers not only slum improvement but other improvements also.

" The present Bill, I presume, is intended to tackle the existing slums. If that is so, it would be better to make a list of existing slums in the State and publish it. Government must take steps to stop new slums springing up. The problem of squatters should be seriously considered. Private owners are helpless against squatters and all open spaces and even garden lands may become squatting grounds. This menace, I feel, should also be tackled. Such a legislative measure as the present one should be restricted in its scope and ought not to apply to future cases.

" The Bill provides for the transfer of land acquired to the Corporation of Madras and the City Improvement Trust for the purpose of undertaking improvement of the slums. When such transfers are made, specific provision should be there for the fulfilment of the object of the acquisition within a period to be stated in the Bill itself. There is such a provision in the Land Acquisition Act stating that the purpose of acquisition should be carried out within a specified period. Even in this Bill, it should be laid down as a statutory obligation that the improvement of the slum areas transferred to the Corporation or the Trust Board should be carried out within a period of two or three years. A similar condition must also be enforced in respect of land held by Government so that improvements could be carried out within a specified time. Mere acquisition of land will not do. The primary object of acquisition is to improve the slums from the public health point of view. The Government must provide adequate finance by way of loan to the Corporation and the City Improvement Trust for such purposes. The aid of the Planning Commission should also be sought by submission of definite schemes to them as there is provision for the same in the Five-Year Plan.

" As regards payment of compensation, under the Municipal Act the capital value of land for the purpose of property tax assessment is calculated at twenty times the annual rental value. So compensation in respect of lands acquired under this legislation should be equal to twenty times the net average income. I wish that this is considered by the Government. I find in clause 13 of the Bill, a ban is put on the jurisdiction of civil courts. I am sure legal pundits here will examine the constitutional aspect of this question and see whether any State legislation of this kind could be passed which lays an injunction against any court or any other authority questioning any action taken under this enactment. I feel that the right of private individuals for obtaining lawful relief in civil courts is sought to be taken away and I think this is not justifiable. With these remarks I support the Bill."

DR. A. LAKSHMANASWAMI MUDALIYAR :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, it is a matter for congratulation that after all the Government have come to realize that slum clearance is one of the most important and urgent measures that has to be taken if the health of the public are to be satisfactorily protected. Not only in the City of Madras but in several large cities and even in smaller towns large numbers of slums have grown up in several places. As a resident of the City for over fifty years, I can say that to-day slums are existing side by side with very big buildings. Wherever there are vacant lands and whomsoever may be the owner, these slums have come up. The difficulty was so great that the Hon. the Chief Minister once said it was necessary for these people to go and occupy the vacant lands so that they could live somewhere. We therefore fully appreciate the act of the Government in bringing forward this measure to improve the conditions of the slum dwellers and remove the slums as far as possible. In that way there will be an appreciable reduction in the expenditure that they will have to spend on the maintenance of the health of the population. If therefore, after supporting in full the measure for slum reclamation one feels inclined to offer certain criticisms also, it must not be taken, or nobody need jump to the conclusion that the person who offers such criticisms is necessarily against the dwellers or against these poor people. Such sort of criticisms are being made everywhere and I should certainly not wish hon. Members of this House to take it that if there are criticisms offered about the Bill it necessarily means that the policy underlying the Bill so far as slum clearance is at any time questioned.

"I only hope that this Bill will not share the same fate of many other Bills, that it will not be a mere legislative enactment to be recorded in one of the four big volumes. I find there are four big volumes of the Madras Code. I have asked for the supply of these volumes on payment so that I may know what are all the Bills that have been passed at least since I became a Member of this Council and what are all the Bills that have been kept in cold-storage so far. I think a majority have been kept in cold-storage. Let me quote an instance: Sri Kala Venkata Rao, when he was Revenue Minister brought in a measure to prevent agricultural land from being utilized for construction of buildings. But actually we find large extents of agricultural lands are being now utilized for construction of houses. The Bill has been kept in cold-storage. Nobody looks into it. I only hope that the Bill before us will not share the same fate."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—"Tinnevely has been completely urbanized. Beautiful lands that could grow rice have been used for construction of houses."

DR. A. LAKSHMANASWAMI MUDALIYAR :—"Three-fourths of Mylapore in my student days were green fields. To-day I would say it is a slum of well built houses."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—"A number of houses have been built and every house has become a shop now-a-days."

DR. A. LAKSHMANASWAMI MUDALIYAR :—"Sir, I only hope that apart from the acquisition of slums, the Government will proceed logically to the next and more important step of remodelling these slums and constructing proper houses for those who have to utilize the vacant land—the poor city dwellers.

"Sir, this Bill follows the traditional pattern of this Government over a long period of years. First of all, it is an expropriatory measure. Secondly, it is a measure which bars all legal proceedings being instituted. Thirdly, it seeks to keep up this expropriatory measure by a curious method of calculation which is just to avoid the particular section in our Constitution regarding payment of compensation and for nothing else. I wish that section was not there. When we wanted to acquire the Zamindaris, we, first of all, reduced the rent on no proper basis whatsoever. As the Government could not afford to pay the amount, they reduced the rent. Having reduced the rent, it had to be multiplied by a number. The result is more or less like an arithmetical formula. What is a multiple of zero is well-known! It is more or less on that formula, that the rent was reduced, the amount was multiplied and the compensation was calculated on that basis. I find the same principle enacted in this measure also. Sir, I have one great fear, which I have expressed on more than one occasion, about the rule-making power of the Government, envisaged in this Bill. This power gives the Government perfect freedom to change from time to time many of those things which they consider as matters of policy. Sometimes, it is carried to such an extent that we do not know where we may stand when the rule-making power is exercised."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—"In the schedule, we have provided for calculation."

DR. A. LAKSHMANASWAMI MUDALIYAR :—"Let me come to the schedule. Clause 3 under the schedule to section 6 says—

'Where there are trees on the land acquired, the prescribed authority shall take into account the income, if any, actually derived by the owner from such trees during the said period of five years.'

There are certain trees like the mango trees and coconut trees—very valuable trees—planted five years ago but which may not yield anything at all at the end of five years. According to this schedule, the owner of these trees is entitled to no compensation, because he was not getting any income from these trees during the last five years. I am only pointing out this example to show that rules can be interpreted in this way and quite rightly according to the provisions of this Bill. (Interruption.) Sir, neither the Finance Minister nor I have visited the slums. But I can say that there are certain 'topes' where people have come and settled in huts. In Tondiarpet, it has occurred. I would like to tell the Hon. Minister that this is no exaggeration and there are also other places where this has occurred. According to this Bill, it is quite open to the Government to take over the slum area and pay no compensation for what the landlord can reasonably expect when the trees mature and give very good yield to him. But I realise that it is very little use talking about these things. I am not the owner of slums or for that matter I am not the owner of many other things but I do feel that all the Bills that we pass take into consideration only one aspect of the question, viz., how little the Government may spend on any of these measures and how much benefit they can get—not for themselves, no doubt—but for the common man. The benefit for the common man is all to the good of the community. By passing a Bill of this kind, we are really giving a good handle to those people who think and feel that they have a different ideology of their own. When such people come into power—I hope they may never come into power but if unfortunately they come into power—one single instance or one single clause is quite enough. (The Hon. Sri C. Subramaniam: "They do not honour precedents.") The Government have shown the way and it is much more easy to quote them as example and guidance in the future. Sir, many of these expropriatory measures—I must respectfully call them 'expropriatory measures'—are not calculated to give the just dues to those who are entitled to them. I do not want a slum owner to make a profit but, at the same time, I do not want him to feel that he has become a poverty-stricken pauper. Let us not, in our zeal to improve the slums—a most laudable idea—forget what we owe to those who have been and are getting some benefit. Even a poor widow may be the owner of a slum. Let the impression not be with the Government that only rich people own slums. On the other hand, the majority of slums are owned by people who are poor and who are, therefore, not in a position to improve their slum area and get the benefit of the modern price that is given for the lands there. All such poor people will also be affected. This Bill may, in its attempt to do everything possible to the poor people in a left-handed manner, make others poorer still and bring about a problem. I know that the Government, having had to pass this Bill and having been forced to accept the amendment in the Assembly reducing even the amount of compensation from twenty to twelve times the net average annual income, will not be in a position to change their mind at the present moment. If they do change, whatever the argument may be, they may find themselves in a difficult position. I would only appeal to Government that, under the rule-making powers, they must make things a little more clear and just—I would not say, generous—so that there may not be a feeling that a certain section of the people have been badly treated on account of the improvements which are so necessary and urgent for another section of the people."

SRI MOHAMMAD RAZA KHAN :—" Can we not adjourn now and meet to-morrow? "

DR. V. K. JOHN :—" It is a very important measure and many of us want to speak on this Bill."

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" I have limited the speech of each hon. Member to five minutes."

DR. V. K. JOHN :—" This is a very important Bill and it should not be rushed through."

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" It is not rushed through. The limitation of time is left to me."

DR. A. LAKSHMANASWAMI MUDALIYAR :—" Can we not have a meeting to-morrow? There is a general feeling on this side of the House that a proper discussion of the Bill may not be possible to-day. I hope the Hon. Leader of the House will consider the matter."

7th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" The little time we have, need not be spent on discussing what we should do. It should be decided one way or the other. The idea is that to-morrow may be saved from being a working day for the House and that is what I told the Hon. Chairman when he wanted to know beforehand whether we would sit to-morrow. The Bill is important but the matters involved are not so long as to require much time. After all, we are discussing the Bill in a general way. Why not we sit till half-past seven and finish the Bill? "

SRI MOHAMMAD RAZA KHAN :—" There are a number of hon. Members who want to speak on the Bill."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Even our ablest and lengthy speakers have finished their speeches one by one."

SRI MOHAMMAD RAZA KHAN :—" But poor speakers will take more time."

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" The Bill is not rushed through if the speeches are limited to five minutes."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" The trouble is, we have very difficult matters pending in the other House to-morrow and they will take a good deal of time. Moreover, hon. Members are aware that Pongal is approaching and many hon. Members wish to go home on the 11th. Also, there are some other Bills coming up for discussion here on the 11th instant."

DR. V. K. JOHN :—" Then, let us sit till eight of the clock."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Yes, Sir."

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" Let us sit till 8 o'clock and finish. I do not wish to hurry the speakers; it is only a question of time."

SRI K. BHASHYAM :—" Sir, I hope the time-limit of five minutes does not apply now that we have extended the time for discussion till 8 o'clock. I only want to say a few words on this Bill and I do not want to touch on topics which have been already dealt with by the previous speakers. One thing which I would, however, like to mention is the psychological effect of this Bill, which has been spoken of by other hon. Members, will really make these private owners come forward to improve their slums. Perhaps, it will not be possible to cajole them into doing this. In this connexion, I may remind the House that the Corporation has been insisting or rather requesting the various slum owners to improve their slums but they have not done so. These slums have been responsible, if I may say so, for spreading a lot of disease in the City. What the private owners have done to improve these disease-carrying slums is nothing and so it is better that something is done to improve them in some form or other. I therefore think that this Bill which has been brought here is a thing of great urgency. One other fact which has to be remembered is that if the Government have such a legislation in their hands, it is possible to drive these people by threatening to use the powers under it to make them undertake improvements in their slum areas. They will be obliged to do these improvements if they want to avoid their slums being notified and acquired according to the provisions of this Bill. It is better that this Act is put on the Statute Book as a sort of threat against persons who are not complying with the request either of the Government or of the Corporation to undertake improvements in their own slum areas. It is therefore necessary that this Bill ought to be passed as a matter of expediency and the Government must be armed with the powers to notify such areas of private owners who do not at all comply with the request for improving them.

"As regards the question of the expropriatory nature of the Bill, I certainly sympathise with the owners. As a lawyer I must say I do not like this legislation at all. (Interruption.)"

"Sir, lawyers may be a despised lot but it does not matter what happens to them. What I want to say is that considering the fact that these slums have been in existence for quite a long time, the question arises whether they ought not to be acquired at whatever cost it may be. But the slums having been the breeders of disease and the owners having brought about such a state of things, the question arises whether they ought not to be made to pay in some form or other. I want to place before the House how they should be made to pay. I would like to fine all these people, who have been allowing the slum dwellers to continue in the slum areas, in some form or other. But even when we are fining a man we have to be reasonable and we ought not to do it in a way that he cannot bear it. I therefore consider that the compensation to be paid which is itself in the nature of a fine, namely, 20 times the average annual income as mentioned in the original Bill may be held to be very reasonable. I think that considering all these circumstances 12 years' annual income has been accepted by the other House though 20 years is the usual rule which is applied in all cases. Even if we attempt to raise it to 20 or 30 years there is no hope of its being accepted by the other House. It will be thrown out and we have not got the power to enforce it on the other House. We can justify ourselves and take consolation in the fact that these people have been sinners in the past and therefore they must pay for it.

"As regards the trees standing on these slums, I do feel that there is great difficulty in accepting the Government's position. There are not merely trees of the ordinary kind but there are also a number of valuable trees like the tamarind tree. Though the cash value of the yield from tamarind may be low, the trunk of the tree is very valuable as firewood. There may be other trees whose trunks may be valuable as timber. It will be something, at any rate, if in the rules to be framed by the Government, they allow the private owners to cut and carry them away before the slums are acquired. It will go some way towards mitigating the rigour of the application of these rules. The Government should not therefore say that the yield from a tamarind tree is about Rs. 2 per annum and therefore they will pay Rs. 2 multiplied by 5, that is, Rs. 10, whereas the value of the tree itself as firewood would come to about Rs. 50 or Rs. 60. Therefore in the matter of paying compensation there must be some sort of reasonableness and fairness in dealing with these various persons who own these slums.

"This question of improvement of the slums is a very urgent one. I would also like to mention one other matter. As was pointed out, the Government themselves are the worst sinners because they have got a large number of slums in their hands and they have not tried to improve them in the way it ought to be done. It may be a question between the Government and the Corporation as to who has got to do it but I may respectfully submit to the Government through this House that they must start with their own slums in the first instance. Let them not enforce this enactment against the private owners but only keep it as a threat against them and really set to work in the slums in their lands as well as those on the Corporation lands so that the private owners may know how it is to be done and how profitable it would be to do so. When once the slums are improved, they will be able to get more money than they have been getting so far and also considering the fact that ultimately it will be to the benefit of the owners to do so it will be possible to induce the various owners to start work on their slums if only the Government set an example.

"I will make one appeal to the Government, namely, not to hand over this work to the Corporation or to the City Improvement Trust Board because it will not really achieve the object which the Government have in their minds. The Corporation is so deficit in finance that they will not be able to bear the cost. If the Corporation itself is not able to bear the cost, the person who has to occupy the improved area is also too poor to pay the cost. Therefore, it will bear heavily on the Corporation and I think it would be much better for the Government to keep this work in their own hands. So far as the City Improvement Trust Board is concerned, it is after all a Board created by the Government and financed by the Government. It is really like putting money into one pocket and taking it out of another. There is one other difficulty in respect of the Trust Board. They are for the purpose of getting rid of the persons who are slum dwellers out of the places which they are now occupying because they want to improve those areas and want the slum dwellers to go to another place where they can congregate and give them some facilities like transport, etc. These lands are improved at a very high cost and cost about rupees three to four thousands a ground. This is what happened in the Mylapore slum area which the Improvement Trust took up. The present policy is to keep the slum dwellers at some place or other in the area which we are now trying to improve. This could not be done by the Trust Board which is a very very mercenary body. They want to make as much money as possible to make further improvements in other areas."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" They have lost as much as possible."

SRI K. BHASHYAM :—" The Hon. the Finance Minister mentions that the Trust Board have lost already on the work they have done. Naturally one cannot obtain quick results. They have to sell the improved lands at a high cost and only then the money spent will be recouped. This was so, so far as the Mambalam area was concerned.

" I would like to point out again that the City Improvement Trust Board cannot be trusted to give the slum dwellers a chance to dwell near their own places as the Board wants to get them out of it.

" How slums are created is itself a very interesting study. As soon as a person puts a little hut, he sends for his brother and other relations living the mufassal parts and each one of them as soon as they come builds a hut nearby, and thus a new slum area is created, by the side of slums which have already been existing. It is a very difficult thing to prevent the creation of new slums. It is very difficult to prevent the influx of poor persons who come to the city to earn their livelihood. Some method must be devised for the purpose of seeing that no more slums are created, along with the slums already existing."

DR. V. K. JOHN :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, I would support and support strongly any measure which is intended to improve the slums in the City and elsewhere. I must compliment the Government and congratulate them on the attention that they have paid to the improvement of slums in the city. Sri Rajaji, by his order that slum dwellers should not be ejected, has earned the deep gratitude of the slum dwellers in the city. It is a great pity to have them ejected for even improving the places and I think everybody ought to be obliged to Sri Rajaji, for giving this great boon to the slum dwellers all over the city.

" The question of slums has to be considered from three points of view, from the national point of view, from the view point of this City and from the point of view of the slum dwellers. Now there has been an exodus into the City from the villages, and there are people who have come here and not finding places to reside have created slums and have squatted wherever they could, either on Corporation lands or Government lands or on private lands. It is not fair to say that private owners have created slums. The attention of the Government must be directed to the cause of the creation of slums. Even if we improve hundreds of slums in the City, new slums will be created and they are in fact being created every day. What is the reason for this? The Government must now improve the rural parts, if they want to improve the slums in the City and prevent further slums from being created. They must see that people do not come to the City. They must find employment for the people in the rural parts. This can be done only by devolution of authority and power to the local authorities and they must be entrusted with the work of finding employment for the people. In my opinion, this Government must attend to this work immediately. Then only people will not come to the City and create more slums. In doing so, the Government will only be implementing Article 46 of the Constitution which states that the State shall promote the economic interests of the weaker sections of the people. When you, Sir, were the Mayor of this City, for the first time attention was paid to the improvement of the slums in the City. The late Sri. Satyamurthi when he was Mayor of Madras wanted to make Madras 'the City beautiful'. Now, it is not the City beautiful! There are slums everywhere all over the City. More than the fact that the beauty of the City has gone, the health of the City has also gone, and we have to look at it from the point of view of slum dwellers. I have gone into hundreds of slums during the last two or three years and I can tell you that one would weep when they see these people living in squalor, dirt, poverty, hunger and unemployment. If one should go to any slum he will find that a large majority of people are not even having a single square meal a day. Therefore it is very good of the Government to give attention to the improvement of slums.

" As hon. Member Mr. Bhashyam pointed out, it may be that the object of the Hon. the Chief Minister in bringing forward this Bill is to frighten the private owners of lands on which slums are situated so that they may attempt to improve them. Much has been said that compensation provided for in this Bill for the acquisition of lands where slums exist is very low. It has been a principle provided for, not only in the City Municipal Act but accepted all over the world, that when persons own lands in a crowded place like the City of Madras, certain obligations are cast upon them. I do not know whether the framers of this Bill ever thought of Chapter X-A of the Madras City Municipal Act which gives powers to the municipal authorities to require the owner of a slum area to carry out certain improvements. If the owner of a slum area is too poor to carry out the improvements, the cost of effecting improvements will have to be borne by the Corporation. What is the principle underlying these provisions in the City Municipal Act? It is this, namely, that there is a responsibility cast on those people who own property to keep it neat and clean. Therefore the owner of a slum area is bound to keep it neat and clean. The Corporation has got powers under the City Municipal Act to ask him to improve that area. But unfortunately the man will not do it. The Corporation also has no funds to improve it. Thus these slum areas remain unimproved. In this connection

[Dr. V. K. John] [7th January 1954]

I must pay a very high compliment not only to the Mayors but also to the Commissioners who had been in charge of the affairs of the City Corporation during the last several years and also to the present Commissioner, who takes a great interest in the improvement of slums. It is a great pity that the Government owning more than 50 slums in the City have not been able to spend money for effecting improvements therein.

"I must take serious objection to one provision in the Bill—Clause 4—which states that the cost of acquisition shall be borne by the persons to whom the land is allotted for residence. I say, Sir, this is a very cruel thing to do. The poor people living in the slum areas can never afford to pay the cost of acquisition. I say, Sir, that acquisition of lands is not required at all. The Government have got powers to proceed under Chapter X-A of the City Municipal Act and have the slums improved at the expense of the owners and at the expense of the Corporation if the owners are too poor to improve the lands. But, the Corporation has no finances and the Government also will not give them money as the policy of the Government is to starve the local bodies. The Corporation has been asking the Government to pay them Rs. 50 lakhs as compensation for the loss of income from the motor transport in the City. The Corporation is maintaining the roads in the City but the Government do not find it possible out of its own revenues to help the Corporation. Therefore the Corporation has been borrowing for effecting improvements to the slums. When Rs. 4 crores are required for improving the slums—and we must improve the slums—this Government must make every effort to see that the Government of India give this money half as grant and half as loan. If that is done, the slums can be improved. I do not think it is essential or very necessary to acquire the slums which means more money. What money the Government of India can spare, and what money this State Government can spare must be spent on improving the slums and not on acquiring the lands where slums are situated. I suggest that every rupee which we can find for improving slums be spent only on it, and the owner of the slums should also be required to contribute an equal amount if he is in a position to do so. There is provision in the City Municipal Act for acquisition of slum areas. It is said that the powers of the Courts are taken away. I find in one portion of the Bill that the City Civil Court is given powers. I do not quite agree with the taking away of the powers of courts. There may be occasions when expeditious acquisition of areas will be necessary. I suggest to the Government, though this Bill may be passed into law, not to enforce it. Let it, as the hon. Member Sri Bhashyam pointed out, be the Damocles' sword hanging over the heads of private owners, so that they may be persuaded to effect improvements to the slums. Let Government give every financial help to the Corporation to improve the slums."

7th January 1954]

SRI G. KRISHNAMURTHI:—"Sir, I heartily welcome this measure. This is a measure that is long overdue, and I am glad that the present Government headed by our revered Rajaji has taken up this measure seriously. I am sorry that the hon. Member Sri Balasubramanya Ayyar has advised the postponement of this measure, which is none too early. I have got my own fears whether the Bill as it has come before this House will fulfil the objects of the framers of the Bill. The definition says that a slum area is an area which is or may be a source of danger to the public health of its neighbourhood by reason of the area being low-lying. There is every chance of this measure being extended to other municipal areas as has been promised by our revered Chief Minister in some other place. We find that even very good areas have become low-lying areas in recent years on account of the policy of metalling the roads over and over again. I do not know if the Government are aware of the fact that even the richest men's houses in places like Tiruchirappalli have gone two feet below the level of the road on account of the metalling of the roads very often—each time going down by two or three inches. The definition of the term 'slum' is rather vague. In my opinion, it ought to be improved. I do not know whether the object of the framers of the Bill will be fulfilled by not including a Clause here to the effect that the present occupants of the slums must be given preference in respect of the occupation of the improved slums. There is no provision like that, and there is every danger of middle-class men, just buying lands in various names and becoming the owners of these slums.

"Regarding the question of compensation, as has been pointed out by several hon. Members, 20 times the annual income of the lands in question is a reasonable amount, but 12 times is not quite reasonable. The owner of the lands may not be hard hit. The Government must come to the rescue of the slum dwellers. It is but right on the part of the Government to pay 20 times the average net income and get only 50 per cent of the cost of acquisition from the slum dwellers. Even this 50 per cent must be recovered from them in easy instalments spread over a period of years. Nobody can be expected to pay in a lump sum the money that has to be paid—i.e., half the cost of acquisition. The money must be recovered in easy instalments from the future occupants of these slums. Let there be a guarantee that every present occupant of the slum must have preference over that place. Otherwise many middle-class men will interfere. They may purchase the slums, and the object of the Bill will be frustrated. While the Bill proposes to bring relief to the poor, it must also bring relief to the present owners of the slums. It must not hit them hard. The owners have to part with their property. Though they have been philanthropically allowing these people to remain on their land, justice requires that they must be given a proper sum. They have to completely give away their whole property. They get some immediate cash. That cash must be able to fetch some reasonable rate of interest which would at least amount to the price money after 20 years. Of course there is the fluctuation. The owners may be prepared to overlook the fluctuation in prices. They must be paid at least 20 times the annual average net income.

“In regard to the point brought to the notice of the House by the Hon. the Leader of the Opposition just now, I should like to say I agree with him, and say that in regard to trees, the actual value must be fixed and not exactly as the income derived during five years. With these words, Sir, I support the Bill wholeheartedly.”

THE HON. C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—“Sir, the observations made by several hon. Members are most valuable and helpful. At the very outset let me defend the Governments which have not been successful. It was feared that this Government also will not be successful in respect of this legislation. After all, hon. Members should remember that the financial resources of this Government are reflected in every matter. I need not labour that point too much. Social reform is difficult. Social reform may be admitted to be difficult. But legal difficulties must first be got over before we attempt to bring in such social reforms and at such pace as we may be able to. Legal difficulties have to be removed from time to time in several matters including untouchability. We may abolish untouchability, but first we must remove the legal difficulties. That is the justification for a measure like this. It is not as if we pretend that everything will be accomplished as soon as the Bill receives the approval of this House and is put into force. The conditions in slums have been referred to. They have been referred to as a scandal and a disgrace. True. But they also are a reflection of the standard of income of the people who dwell there. This is no use of trying to get out of it. What are we paying to those people for the work that they do? How much do we expect them to save for housing after spending their money on primary necessities of life like food and clothing? Let us not imagine that it is all neglect on the part of the Corporation or this or that body. These are all reflections of very real matters which we cannot easily get over, unless we work hard and very long. So I say that we need not blame ourselves a little too much. We shall blame ourselves where it is justified, and we shall try to work more. But so far as the point of view of the hon. Member Sri Balasubramanya Ayyar is concerned—he appeared to be the sole advocate of the point of view that he represented—I wish to say this. These measures some people think will become precedents for greater expropriation. On the contrary, those who are ready to do anything expropriatory and about whom we are afraid in regard to expropriation do not want any precedents, as was stated at once by the Hon. the Minister for Finance.

“They do not wait for precedents. On the contrary what we do really stems the tide of such expropriation. If we do not do these things quickly enough that party will have more and more justification for claiming to govern the country and that is what is likely to happen. So I wish to assure hon. Member Sri Balasubramanya Ayyar and others who think with him that much as we may appear to be yielding to expropriatory demands, much as we may appear to be almost in league with those who wish to expropriate, much as we may appear to encourage them, we are really stemming the tide of such expropriation which is really hanging over our heads. If we do not like that kind of civilisation we must try to do something like what we are trying to do now. That is my only defence in support of the matter.

“Then, Sir, much was said that the Government is the main defaulter in this matter. It looks like that. But hon. Members should remember one thing. I have been made to see these slums because of the anxiety I had in the matter. The difference is this. Private slums are agreement slums. The men who live there have been allowed to remain there and rents are collected from them, large or small, irregularly or regularly. They are there by agreement as tenants of a kind. As I said the reflection of their financial condition is seen in the manner in which they are living. So far as Corporation lands are concerned they start with squatting and the Corporation levies a nominal fee. They reconcile themselves to levying one rupee, half a rupee, even four annas, two annas or one anna and things like that just to maintain their legal position in regard to the matter, so that it cannot be claimed by these people afterwards that they have acquired a right over these lands. So far as Government is concerned, we have not done even that. We do not levy any fees. We cannot levy any fees. We do not wish to accept that position. We do not wish to say they have a licence to live there. We have a longer time by way of prescription. Therefore there is this essential difference between the two or three kinds of slums. Government cannot afford to improve the slums unless they get a legal position like the one we are trying to get now. They cannot permit squatters to have a right unless they have a legal authority and undertake the business properly. Private owners' lands, we cannot touch. We have to get them under the present proposal in order that we may do something. The Corporation will be able to do it once the machine is set rolling.

“I should like to explain a little further the position with reference to private owners or private lands on which slums have come to exist. The private owners are getting rents. On what basis? Not on the basis of the value of the house in which these slum dwellers live. The houses are built by the slum dwellers themselves. I call them houses because the dictionary meaning of house is a place where a man lives. The houses are built by these slum dwellers and not by the owner of the land. Therefore it is not really any housing arrangement. It is really, the man is allowed to build a house there and the owner of the land is entitled to only ground rent. These slum dwellers get this land under the condition, namely, continual fear of being evicted. There is no legality in the position. There is no stability. Therefore many of these very poor people who are rooted in Madras City, so to say, by reason of their occupation, but still having no house of their own and having no site of their own, are continually subjected to threats of eviction. When ever these people have some money, the landowners even use coercive methods to extort money from these people. That is not a desirable state of affairs. What we are proposing to do is to take over the lands where such slums have come up. Then the Government will be in possession of the land, so to say, on which the huts exist. Then improvements could be effected. But the very announcement of the policy of Government that we are not going to encourage any eviction, that we will even support the squatters and maintain them on the private lands has resulted in a certain amount of stability for the slum dwellers. Hereafter these owners of private lands will not be able to coerce the people to the extent they have been doing hitherto, because the insecurity has been removed. Therefore they will not be able to extort so much. That policy has itself done some good. Therefore I hope and believe that this plan will be welcomed even by the owners of lands. Hitherto they were bothered about the insecurity. That has been removed now. They would rather be eager to give us the lands on fair compensation. The owners of lands won't claim so much compensation as people just now imagine. The compensation that has been provided for in the Bill is not unreasonable. I do not say it is the market value that is proposed to be paid as compensation. In fact, if it were market value, the amount we may have to pay by way of compensation will go into crores of rupees as calculated by the Corporation and nothing could be done. What is after all this market value? It is a wrong term to call it market value, at all. Market value is the result of the condition of the slum dwellers and the necessity for their having to live there and the population ratio in Madras. All these things have given an unearned value to the lands in the Cities and the value will rise very fast as the population increases. So Government want to step in and put down a reasonable principle on which compensation should be given. I ask what were the landowners doing with their lands before? They did not put the lands to use. They should not claim an unearned income. They were getting something from these lands and Government now propose to give a multiple of that income. Therefore it is reasonable. The amount could have been fixed at 20 times as was proposed in the original Bill. But we had to agree to a compromise and that is why it stands as recommended by the Assembly at 12 times. It is not unreasonable. I wish our people get 12 times everywhere, the zamindars, or the people in Burma or elsewhere. If they got 12 times, it would be accepted immediately by everybody. I think, here the people who did not make use of their lands, who were only waiting for land values to go up by reason of other people's activities cannot complain that this is unfair. Twelve times is fair enough. It is true if they waited for some time and got the help of the Government to evict the people and sold the land to middle-class people or upper class people they might get better value. But they are not going to get the help of the Government to clear the lands of slum dwellers and the slum dwellers are not going to clear out voluntarily when they know that the Government will come to their assistance. So the value of these lands will not rise as they expect. Therefore the owners of these lands must accept this as a fair compensation. They must not expect to get anything like the market value. Market value is only a phenomenon arising out of several causes. When once the Government say they cannot evict the squatters, as a matter of policy and on humanitarian principles, the land value will not and cannot rise and the present estimate can be looked upon as proper market value so far as that is concerned.

“ Regarding difficulties about trees and such other things, there is a section wherein we have provided for removing such difficulties. Government would frame rules to make allowance for cases not provided for in the valuation and all that. There may be trees, I accept, not yielding trees but still they will yield timber. It is not always the fruits that should be counted. The value of the timber would also be taken into account. We would provide for these things in the rules.

“ Sir, I wish to say to hon. Members who said: ‘ First improve the slums on your own lands, show us your capacity to do your things and then come to private lands ’, that it is not right to say so, because by that time the population will increase and the value of lands also will increase. We will have to hasten in the matter of acquisition although the planning may be slow and gradual. Acquisition cannot wait. People living in these slums must feel ‘ Now that the Government have taken over the slums, we are stable and we have a place to live.’ Then they could spend a little more money to improve the houses and make their own houses more decent than they are. I have seen a glorious phenomenon, which hon. Members also must see. There, some of the houses are kept quite clean although they are small and ugly to look at. They are clean and nice. I actually saw a shop which is run very well. The lady in charge of the shop could get me very easily whatever I wanted, as if they were all kept quite properly as we see in first class shops. That is how people adjust themselves. Not only that, I have seen high class people living in the midst of these people. I see the castes mixing up there. Poverty is a great social reformer, if I may say so. Thousands of these people will improve their houses once they know that Government have taken over these slums and that they will not be disturbed from their places. They will put a little more money on their dwellings as they are earning well in these days. They do not spend on drinks; they cannot spend on drinks. They do not also spend much on vanities or waste money on other matters. Therefore they will be able to invest some money on improving their houses.

“As regards the improvement of slums, as soon as our position is stabilized legally, improvements will come in fairly and quickly by reason of the pressure of public opinion in regard to this matter. I have no doubt that we may even get philanthropy to rise to the occasion. If the owners of lands, taking their cue from all this, improve the position themselves and keep the place tidy, this Government are not going to interfere with such owners. They may rest assured that the Government have no hunger for land acquisition. What they want is improvement of the place and if that is done voluntarily and philanthropically out of their own initiative, nobody is going to interfere with them. Only the legal position will have to be cleared and nobody will interfere unnecessarily.

“Then, the question is about housing. Some people think that the huts are ugly and that the new cement structures that come up are very beautiful. It will take only a few more years for them to say that these cement houses are ugly structures and wish that they have thatched cottages, something green. Therefore, if we look after the sanitation by providing ordinary sanitary conveniences, lighting and a place to run about for the children, and tidy roads with green plants growing wherever possible, these places which are now called slums will really look more beautiful to the eye of the man who has a real taste for beauty, than the middle class or upper class houses of the same pattern, classified as ‘A’, ‘B’ and ‘C’, like prisoners in the jail (laughter). There is nothing specially beautiful in that kind of monotony of seeing the same pattern of houses. Outsiders who come and see the so-called slums will say that really they are the better and beautiful part of Madras and there is no question about it. Many people think that Madras is more beautiful than Bombay and other cities because of these thatched huts that they find here and there in between these houses.

“The hon. Member, Mr. Gurunandan Row, is not here and there is no need to discuss his amendment which wants that some provision should be made in the Bill against the eviction of slum dwellers. That is the policy of the Government but it cannot be put in a Bill. Stability or alternative accommodation can be provided by executive action and it is not a justiciable matter. So, it will be done as a matter of policy. The only thing I would request Mr. Balasubramanya Ayyar is that he must reconcile himself to this Bill and not press for the amendment as regards compensation.”

7th January 1954]

SRI MOHAMMAD RAZA KHAN :—“On a point of information, Sir. There may be cases in which the slum dwellers may not be paying anything to the owners for the last so many years. I want to know whether they can get any compensation as they have not received any income from those lands.”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—“If hitherto, the land owner simply allowed these slums to grow and took no income from it, I do not see why he should not get 12 times zero (laughter). But that is not a fact and there will always be some amount, and it will be very big. In fact the Opposition in the Assembly calculated and estimated that compensation would come to more than the market value—and wanted that it should be fixed at five times the average annual income.”

THE HON. SRI A. B. SHETTY :—“Mr. Chairman, the Hon. the Chief Minister has dealt with the several points raised by the hon. Members who have spoken on this Bill and it is hardly necessary for me to add anything to what he has said except to thank the hon. Members for the appreciation they have shown regarding the purpose of this Bill. I am glad that even our formidable friend, Dr. John, who is usually unsparing in his criticism of Government measures, has complimented the Government on bringing this piece of legislation. The hon. Member, Mr. Balasubramanya Ayyar, who opened the discussion, was also in sympathy with the objects of this Bill. He only stated that we ought to go a little bit slow. I may tell him that the Corporation have effected improvements in all the slums on their lands. They have carried out improvement work in some of the slums on the Government lands also.

“As regards the compensation, the Hon. the Chief Minister has already stated, how in the other House, some hon. Members wanted to reduce the compensation to five times the average annual income. As a result of his persuasion, a compromise was arrived at and it was fixed at 12 times. I am told that several private owners are hardly getting any rent from the slum dwellers and they would only be too glad to get the compensation which is now provided for in the Bill. I hope, Sir, the hon. Members of this House will agree to the passing of this legislation.”

MR. CHAIRMAN :—“The question is—

“That the Madras Slum Improvement (Acquisition of Land) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 6 of 1954), as passed by the Legislative Assembly, be taken into consideration.”

The motion was carried.

MR. CHAIRMAN :—“Is the hon. Member, Mr. Balasubramanya Ayyar, moving his amendment to Clause 6? I have disallowed his amendment to Clause 13, as it is a negative amendment.”

[7th January 1954]

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR :—“ I am not moving my amendment to Clause 6 as I feel no useful purpose will be served.”

Clauses 2 to 16 were put and carried.

The Schedule was put and carried.

Clause 1 was put and carried.

The Preamble was put and carried.

THE HON. SRI A. B. SHETTY :—“ Sir, I move—

‘ That the Madras Slum Improvement (Acquisition of Land) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 6 of 1954), as passed by the Legislative Assembly, be read a third time and passed.’ ”

MR. CHAIRMAN :—“ The question is—

‘ That the Madras Slum Improvement (Acquisition of Land) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 6 of 1954), as passed by the Legislative Assembly, be read a third time and passed.’ ”

The motion was carried and the Bill was read a third time and passed.

MR. CHAIRMAN :—“ The House will now adjourn and meet again at 4 p.m. on Monday, the 11th instant.”

The House then adjourned.

APPENDIX.

L.A. BILL No. 6 OF 1954.

(As passed by the Assembly.)

[Vide item at page 448 supra.]

A Bill to provide for the acquisition of lands in slum areas in the City of Madras.

WHEREAS there are a number of slum areas in the City of Madras which are likely to become a source of danger to the public health and sanitation of the City;

AND WHEREAS under the existing law, it has not been possible to provide for the basic needs of sewerage, water-supply and road and side-drains in these slum areas, without causing excessive financial strain on the owners of the lands affected;

AND WHEREAS to obviate this difficulty it is expedient first to acquire the lands in those areas and thereafter to undertake the execution of works designed to improve those areas;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. Short title, extent and commencement.—(1) This Act may be called the Madras Slum Improvement (Acquisition of Land) Act, 1954.

(2) It extends to the whole of the City of Madras.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

2. Definitions.—In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context—

(a) ‘ Court ’ means the Madras City Civil Court;

(b) ‘ land ’ includes things attached to the earth or permanently fastened to anything attached to the earth;

(c) ‘ person interested ’, in relation to any land, includes all persons claiming, or entitled to claim, an interest in the compensation payable on account of the acquisition of that land under this Act; and a person shall be deemed to be interested in land if he is interested in an easement affecting the land;

(d) ‘ prescribed ’ means prescribed by rules made under this Act;

(e) ‘ slum area ’ means any area declared to be a slum area under section 3, sub-section (1);

(f) all expressions not defined in this Act but defined in the Madras City Municipal Act, 1919 (Madras Act IV of 1919), shall have the respective meanings assigned to them in the latter Act.

3. Power to acquire land.—(1) Where the State Government are satisfied that any area is or may be a source of danger to the public health, safety or convenience of its neighbourhood by reason of the area being low-lying, insanitary, squalid or otherwise, they may, by notification in the Fort St. George Gazette, declare such area to be a slum area.

(2) Where the State Government are satisfied that it is necessary to acquire any land in a slum area for the purpose of clearing or improving the area, they may acquire the land by publishing in the Fort St. George Gazette a notice to the effect that they have decided to acquire it in pursuance of this section:

Provided that, before publishing such notice, the State Government shall call upon the owner of, or any other person who, in the opinion of the State Government, may be interested in, such land to show cause why it should not be acquired; and after considering the cause, if any, shown by any person interested in the land, the State Government may pass such orders as they deem fit.

Explanation.—Cause shown by the person interested in the land, may be against the declaration of the area as a slum area under sub-section (1) as well as against the necessity to acquire the land for the purpose of clearing or improving the area.

(3) When a notice as aforesaid is published in the Fort St. George Gazette, the land shall, on and from the beginning of the day on which the notice is so published, vest absolutely in the State Government free from all encumbrances.

(4) The State Government may, by order, authorize any authority or officer subordinate to them to exercise all or any of the powers conferred and perform all or any of the duties imposed on them by this section, subject to such conditions and restrictions as may be specified in the order.

4. Transfer of land in a slum area by Government.—(1) Where any land in a slum area has been acquired under this Act, the State Government may either hold the land under their own control and management and undertake the clearance or improvement of the slum area or transfer the land to the Corporation of Madras or the Board of Trustees for the Improvement of the City of Madras for the purpose of undertaking the clearance or improvement of the slum area; and in the latter case, the land shall vest in the Corporation or the Board of Trustees, as the case may be.

(2) Where land is transferred under sub-section (1) to the Corporation or the Board of Trustees, it shall be liable to pay the cost of acquisition of the land or of such portion thereof as the State Government may fix in each case.

(3) Where the State Government hold the land under their own control and management and undertake the clearance or improvement of the slum area, the cost of acquisition shall be borne by the persons to whom the land is allotted in parcels for residence and such cost shall be recoverable from them in such proportion and in such manner as may be prescribed.

7th January 1954]

5. Right to receive compensation.—Every person whose right, title or interest in any land is acquired under this Act shall be entitled to receive and be paid compensation as hereinafter provided.

6. Basis of determination of compensation.—(1) The amount payable as compensation in respect of any land acquired under this Act shall be an amount equal to twelve times the net average annual income actually derived from such land during the period of five consecutive years immediately preceding the date of publication of the notice referred to in section 3, sub-section (2).

(2) The net average annual income referred to in sub-section (1) shall be calculated in the manner and in accordance with the principles set out in the Schedule to this Act.

(3) The prescribed authority shall, after holding an inquiry in the prescribed manner, determine in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (2), the net average annual income actually derived from the land and publish a notice in the Fort St. George Gazette specifying the amount so determined and calling upon every person interested to intimate to it before a date specified in the notice whether such person agrees to the amount determined, and if not, what amount he claims to be the net average annual income actually derived from the land.

(4) (a) Any person who does not agree to the amount of the net average annual income determined by the prescribed authority under sub-section (3) and claims a sum in excess of that amount, may prefer an appeal to the Court within thirty days from the date specified in the notice referred to in that sub-section.

(b) Against any decision of the Court under clause (a), a second appeal on any question of law shall lie to the High Court within thirty days from the date of such decision if the amount claimed by the person concerned exceeds twenty-five thousand rupees.

7. Apportionment of compensation.—(1) Where there are several persons interested, the prescribed authority shall determine the persons who in its opinion are entitled to the compensation and the amount payable to each of them.

(2) If any dispute arises as to the apportionment of the compensation or any part thereof, or as to the persons to whom the same or any part thereof is payable, the prescribed authority may refer such dispute to the decision of the Court; and the Court shall, in deciding any such dispute, follow, so far as may be, the provisions of Part III of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 (Central Act I of 1894).

8. Payment of compensation or deposit of same in Court.—(1) The prescribed authority shall tender payment of the compensation to the persons entitled thereto and shall pay it to them.

[7th January 1954]

(2) If they shall not consent to receive it, or if there be no person competent to alienate the land, or if there be any dispute as to the title to receive compensation, or as to the apportionment of it, the prescribed authority shall deposit the amount of the compensation in the Court, and the Court shall deal with the amount so deposited in the manner laid down in sections 32 and 33 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 (Central Act I of 1894).

9. Payment of interest.—When the amount of such compensation is not paid or deposited on or before taking possession of the land, the prescribed authority shall pay the amount with interest thereon at the rate of four per cent per annum from the time of so taking possession until it shall have been so paid or deposited.

10. Powers of prescribed authority.—(1) The prescribed authority may, with a view to carrying out the purposes of section 5 or section 6 or section 7, by order, require any person to furnish such information in his possession relating to any land which is acquired under this Act as may be specified in such order.

(2) The prescribed authority shall, while holding an inquiry under section 6, sub-section (3), have all the powers of a Civil Court, while trying a suit, under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (Central Act V of 1908), in respect of the following matters, namely:—

(a) summoning and enforcing the attendance of any person and examining him on oath;

(b) requiring the discovery and production of any document;

(c) reception of evidence on affidavits;

(d) requisitioning any public record from any Court or office;

(e) issuing commissions for examination of witnesses.

11. Service of notices and orders.—(1) Save as otherwise provided by this Act and subject to the provisions of this section, and of any rules that may be made under this Act, every notice issued or order made under this Act shall—

(a) in the case of any notice or order of a general nature or affecting a class of persons, be published in the Fort St. George Gazette; and

(b) in the case of any notice or order affecting an individual, corporation or firm, be served in the manner provided for the service of summons in rule 2 of Order XXIX, or rule 3 of Order XXX, as the case may be, in the First Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (Central Act V of 1908); and

[7th January 1954]

(c) in the case of any notice or order affecting an individual person (not being a corporation or firm), be served on such person—

(i) by delivering or tendering it to that person; or

(ii) if it cannot be so delivered or tendered, by delivering or tendering it to the head of the office in which such person is employed or to any adult male member of the family of such person, or by affixing a copy of it on the outer door, or on some conspicuous part of the premises in which that person is known to have last resided or carried on business or personally worked for gain; or

(iii) failing service by these means, by post.

(2) Where the ownership of the land is in dispute or the persons interested in the land are not readily traceable and the notice or order cannot be served without undue delay, the notice or order may be served by publishing it in the Fort St. George Gazette, and where possible, by affixing a copy thereof on any conspicuous part of the land to which it relates.

12. Protection of action taken in good faith.—(1) No suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding shall lie against any person for anything which is in good faith done or intended to be done in pursuance of this Act or of any rule or order made thereunder.

(2) No suit or other legal proceeding shall lie against the State Government or the prescribed authority or any officer or authority subordinate to the State Government or the prescribed authority, for any damage caused or likely to be caused by anything which is in good faith done or intended to be done in pursuance of this Act or of any rule or order made thereunder.

13. Bar of jurisdiction of Civil Courts.—Save as otherwise expressly provided in this Act, no Civil Court shall have jurisdiction in respect of any matter which the Government or the prescribed authority is empowered by or under this Act, to determine, and no injunction shall be granted by any Court or other authority in respect of any action taken or to be taken in pursuance of any power conferred by or under this Act.

14. Power to make rules.—The State Government may, by notification in the Fort St. George Gazette, make rules to carry out the purposes of this Act.

15. Application of the Act to certain pending cases of acquisition.—The provisions of this Act shall, if the State Government so direct, apply also to any case or cases in which proceedings have been started before the commencement of this Act for the acquisition of any land in a slum area under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 (Central Act I of 1894) (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), but no award has been made by the Collector under section 11 of the said Act before such commencement, as if—

(i) the notification published under section 4, sub-section (1), of the said Act, or

[7th January 1954]

(ii) the declaration made under section 6 of the said Act, or
(iii) the notice given under section 9, sub-section (1), of the said Act, were a notice to show cause against the acquisition of the land served by the State Government under the proviso to section 3, sub-section (2), of this Act.

16. Power to remove difficulties.—If any difficulty arises in giving effect to the provisions of this Act, the State Government may, as occasion may require, by order, do anything which appears to them necessary for the purpose of removing the difficulty.

THE SCHEDULE.

[See section 6 (2).]

1. The net average annual income referred to in section 6, sub-section (1), shall be one-fifth of the gross rent actually derived by the owner, from the land acquired and the huts and buildings, if any, thereon, during the period of five consecutive years referred to in that sub-section after deducting municipal taxes, revenue charges and cost of repairs for the said period of five years from such gross rent.

2. The gross rent shall be determined by the prescribed authority by local enquiry, and if necessary, by obtaining certified copies of extracts from the property tax assessment books of the Corporation showing the rental values of any such lands, huts or buildings. The cost of repairs to the huts and buildings on the land shall be calculated at the rate of one month's rent per year in each case.

3. Where there are trees on the land acquired, the prescribed authority shall take into account the income, if any, actually derived by the owner from such trees during the said period of five years.

4. If the land, or the huts or buildings thereon remained unoccupied, or the owner has not been in receipt of any rent for the occupation of such land, huts or buildings during the whole or any part of the said period of five years, the gross rent shall be taken to be the income which the owner would in fact have derived if the land, huts or buildings had been leased out or given for rent during the relevant period, and for this purpose the income actually derived from similar lands, huts or buildings in the vicinity shall be taken into account.

THE MADRAS GENERAL SALES TAX (AMENDMENT)
BILL, 1954 (L.A. BILL No. 2 OF 1954)
(AS PASSED BY THE ASSEMBLY)

7th January 1954] [Sri M. A. Manickavelu Naicker]

of the members of the tribunal, this member cannot sit on the tribunal and it cannot work. So also, in the case of the Deputy Commissioner of Sales Tax who is also a member of the tribunal, even if he does not happen to be a relation of the assessee but had disposed of the case as Commercial Tax Officer he cannot sit on the tribunal and take part if this particular case is to come up before it. To obviate this difficulty it is proposed to constitute a Bench of two. The hon. Member, Dr. John, and other advocate friends know very well that in the High Court even big cases involving large sums of money or other big issues are decided by a Bench of two. Similarly, in the case of the Sales Tax Appellate Tribunal I do not see any reason why there should be three members on the Bench. Two members can as well do the function.

“There is also another reason, namely, that on account of the partition of the State two of the members of the tribunal were allotted to the Andhra State. This meant that the tribunal was left with only one member and it could not function. Therefore, on 30th October 1953, the Government thought it necessary to issue an Ordinance on which this Bill is based, namely, that two people could carry on the work of the tribunal. We have also provided that in cases where no question of law is involved a Bench of two consisting of the Chairman and another member or the other two members alone deal with them, and where any question of law is involved the full Bench sit including the Chairman. When a Bench of two sit and the members are divided in their opinion the point or points on which they differ shall be found against the appellant, that is, the original decision will stand or the status quo will be maintained. This Bill has been introduced only to regularise the Ordinance which the Government found it necessary to promulgate. I, therefore, commend this motion to this honourable House.”

MR. CHAIRMAN :—“ Motion moved—

“ That the Madras General Sales Tax (Amendment) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 2 of 1954), as passed by the Legislative Assembly, be taken into consideration.”

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR :—“ Mr. Chairman, Sir, I am taking it that the present Bill is only an amendment to section 2-A of the General Sales Tax Act and therefore we have nothing to do with the question whether section 2-A should be there or not. We are all agreed about it. The only point is that this amending Bill is for the purpose of enacting that the Appellate Tribunal need not always function with all the three members being present but it can function with only two, the Chairman and one other member or the other two members only. As regards sub-clause (c) of clause 3, I have given notice of a small amendment about which I shall speak later but, so far as the principle of the Bill is concerned, it is quite all right and it has to be put on the Statute Book. All the three members need not sit together. In

THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL

Thursday, 7th January 1954.

The House met in the Council Chamber, Fort St. George, at four of the clock, Mr. Chairman (THE HON. DR. P. V. CHERIAN) in the Chair.

THE MADRAS GENERAL SALES TAX (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1954
(L.A. BILL NO. 2 OF 1954) (AS PASSED BY THE ASSEMBLY).

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—“ Mr. Chairman, Sir, I beg to move—

“ That the Madras General Sales Tax (Amendment) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 2 of 1954), as passed by the Legislative Assembly, be taken into consideration.”

“ Sir, in the year 1951 an Appellate Tribunal was constituted to hear appeal cases arising in the working of the Madras General Sales Tax Act. It consisted of three persons, namely, one of the status of a District Judge, the second a Chartered Accountant and the third being the Deputy Commissioner of Sales Tax. We found certain drawbacks in the working of this tribunal. I may mention one or two of them. There are three officers in the tribunal and if one of them took leave the tribunal could not function because under the law all the three had to sit together. Each one of them is entitled to a month's privilege leave. If every officer exercises this right, three months go away from one year. The second difficulty is that if it so happens that an assessee is a relation of one regard to this, I would also point out another difficulty. If any member ceases to exist as a member of the tribunal, the decisions of the tribunal will certainly be affected. I do not find any Clause in the Act as it is to cover such cases. If, on the day on which the tribunal is functioning, a member ceases to be a member on account of his being on other duty, difficulties are bound to arise. In the case of the Bank Tribunal, when Justice Chandrasekhara Ayyar who was a member of the Tribunal was on other duty, it was decided that the whole of the proceedings of this tribunal were vitiated."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" What does it matter, if only two members sit on the tribunal? "

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR :—" Sir, so long as the tribunal has been constituted with three judges and one member has to be away on other duty, the difficulty that arose in regard to the Bank Tribunal is bound to arise here also. This must also be provided for in the Act."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" Sir, the High Court is constituted as such with 15 judges and out of them Benches of two Judges are constituted. Because a Bench is so constituted, the judgments do not in any way become ineffective. Similarly in the case of the Sales Tax Appellate Tribunal, even though there are three members in the tribunal a Bench can be constituted with two members. Therefore, if a member goes away on other duty the proceedings will not be vitiated. If the hon. Member wishes to say that even though two members sit as a Bench for hearing a taxation appeal they should sit together throughout the particular case as otherwise the proceedings will be vitiated, we are prepared to consider the suggestion."

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR :—" Sir, I will make the position clear."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, the point raised by Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar is this. A certain function is given to a tribunal constituted in a particular statutory way and, if there is any defect in that statutory constitution, all acts committed by that tribunal would be affected including even the continuity of a previous order of the Bench and the like. It is a nice point of law which may be argued in these days when every possible point is taken advantage of by eminent advocates and Judges are confused in giving judgments in appeals and the like. No doubt, it is very good that Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar has suggested it but there is one difference in the circumstances. In the case of the Bank Tribunal it was one of long drawn proceedings; arbitration, etc. There was room for such difficulty arising and seriously affecting the decision. Here the judges, that is the members of the tribunal, take up a particular case at a particular time and it is very likely that when there is a vacancy it will soon be filled up and there will be no practical difficulty. Anyhow, the point will be remembered by Government and we are grateful to the hon. member Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar."

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR :—" Sir, now that we are passing this legislation, it is better to have it done properly."

SRI V. CHAKKARAI CHETTY :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, it has been stated in the Bill that where an application or appeal is heard by a Bench consisting of two members, and the members are divided in their opinion on any point, the point shall be found against the applicant or the appellant. I do not see any reason why the appellant should be put at a disadvantage when there is a difference of opinion between the two members constituting the Bench. I am not a lawyer and I do not know why the Government want that the difference of opinion should operate against the appellant and not in favour of him."

DR. V. K. JOHN :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, in my opinion, this is a most mischievous amendment which can be proposed by any Government. The General Sales Tax Act was passed in 1939 and the final authority for adjudication of cases under this Act was the executive. The Board of Revenue was the revising authority and we all know how the Board of Revenue was exercising their revisionary powers. There were many complaints—continuous complaints—and great hardship was felt by the assesses. As a result of these complaints and State-wide agitation, in 1951 the Government thought it fit to introduce a Bill for the purpose of creating an Appellate Tribunal. Under that Bill, they created an Appellate Tribunal of three members, one of whom should be a judicial officer not below the rank of a District Judge and the other two Members should possess such qualifications as might be prescribed by the Government. As a matter of fact, what the Government did was to have a District Judge as the Chairman of the Tribunal and an Accountant and an Officer of the Sales Tax Department as the other two members of the Tribunal. You know, Sir, that a person under the employ of this Government is the third member of this Tribunal.

" Now, Sir, the Government are very unhappy that all the three members of the Tribunal should sit together and dispose of cases and that decisions should be arrived at by a majority of two members. I quite recognize the difficulties of having a Tribunal of three members functioning continuously throughout the year. One member may sometimes take leave or one member may be ill. But the Government, if only they wish to do justice to the assesses can certainly appoint four or even five members. I do not mind Sir, having a Bench consisting of even two members if only the Government can provide a rule that if there is a difference of opinion between the two members, the points of difference should either be referred to a third member or the points should be decided in favour of the assessee. I do not want to say anything about the members of the Tribunal although they are drawn from the executive but I must say this frankly and boldly that what will really happen in a Bench constituted without the Chairman of the Tribunal or even with the Chairman and the third member of the Tribunal—an executive officer of the Government—is that the latter will differ from the former and that the appellant will lose his case. Thus, from a practical point of view, the functioning of such an Appellate Tribunal will become really useless and this Government, instead of trying to do justice to the assessee by making the Tribunal really useful, want to make it a farce. Have the hon. Members here ever heard of a law which provides that when two members in a Bench differ in regard to an appeal the points of difference will be found against the appellant when especially a third member is available to whom these points of difference can be referred? What is happening, Sir, in the High Court is that if there is a difference of opinion between two judges constituting a Bench the matter is referred to a third judge."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" Are there not cases in the High Court where such points of difference between two Judges constituting a Bench not being referred to a third Judge? "

SRI K. BHASHYAM :—" There are such cases."

DR. V. K. JOHN :—" My point is this. In matters of taxation, when there is a difference of opinion between the two members constituting a Bench the points of difference should be decided in favour of the assessee because it is a fundamental principle of taxation that the law relating to taxation must be construed, and construed in favour of the assessee, even if one of the two members constituting a Bench decides in his favour."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Is it about the principle regarding interpretation of sections or is it about taxation? "

DR. V. K. JOHN :—" The rule, as far as taxation is concerned, should not be that if there is a difference of opinion between two members constituting a Bench the points of difference should go against the appellant. I suggest that the points of difference should be referred to a third member. Then only, Sir the public will have confidence in this Tribunal. Let not the Government destroy the confidence of the people in the Tribunal constituted under this General Sales Tax Act. It is of paramount importance that the public should have confidence in the judiciary and in Tribunals which are quasi-judicial. This Bill as presented by the Government is calculated to do injustice to the assessee and this will also destroy that faith which ought to be preserved in quasi-judicial bodies like the Sales Tax Tribunal. This Government is very unhappy about the amending Bill passed in 1951 regarding the constitution of the Sales Tax Appellate Tribunal. I protest, Sir, against the amendment now proposed by the Government. The Government by passing this Bill are opening the flood-gates of discontent and there will be wide agitation in the State against it. It has even been conceded by the Hon. Minister for Finance that there is some oppression in the matter of collection of this Sales Tax. There will be strong and wide agitation and deep discontent over the passing of this Bill by the Government. By passing this Bill the Government will only be discrediting the Tribunal and not enhancing its prestige. Therefore I suggest to this Government to withdraw the Bill or at least to provide in the Bill that if there is a difference of opinion between the two members constituting a Bench the points of difference will either be referred to a third member or the points will be decided in favour of the assessee. (Sri A. M. Allapichai: 'In favour of the citizens.') Regarding the suggestion of the Hon. Deputy Chairman who himself is an eminent lawyer I wish to point out that we are concerned now with 'assessee' and not with 'citizens'. I suggest that in the interest of Government, in the interest of the reputation of quasi-judicial bodies, in the interests of fairplay and justice and in the interest of assessee, I want the Government not to pass the present Bill as it is. The amendment suggested in the Bill by the Government is a mischievous one though it may look all right.

"The Hon. Minister, a learned lawyer himself, will notice how necessary it is to have a Bench of three instead of two. I quite agree that we can have a Bench of two. But the mischievous part of the Bill is that, when there is a difference, the assessee suffers. Let District Judges be appointed. Then the public will have confidence. By appointing the Tribunal contemplated in the Bill, let not the good name of quasi-judicial tribunals be spoiled. Because justice is not only to be done, but must appear also to be done. I very strongly protest against the introduction of this mischievous rule, when there is a difference of opinion."

SRI T. PURUSHOTHAM :—" 'Mischievous' has been used once, twice and thrice."

DR. V. K. JOHN :—" Sir, I do not use any unparliamentary language at all. It is said that the law is an ass but not the lawyer. (Laughter.) I am only criticising the measure and not the men. I very strongly protest against this rule, because the assessee will suffer, when there is a difference of opinion between the two Members of the Tribunal."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Sir, let me first speak about the words used. It is quite open to the hon. Member to say in various degrees of intensity of voice that a measure is fraught with mischief. But if he repeats the word 'mischievous' so often, then it means that the intention is mischievous. That is wrong."

DR. V. K. JOHN :—" That was not my intention at all. Far from it."

[7th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"I now come to the merits of the points that were put forward by hon. Members. It is true that this is a taxation appeal and not a mere appeal as ordinary appeals on facts and law. It is an appeal involving accounts. The scheme of the tribunal is to have at least one judicial officer in the Tribunal. The intention is to have two others, namely, one who is a Chartered Accountant and another a departmental officer. The practical difficulties that have arisen have already been pointed out in the Statement of Objects and Reasons and also in the speech with which this Bill was introduced. I think the generality of opinion in this House will not object to the power given to the Tribunal to constitute a Bench. This power has been exercised in all Tribunals and High Courts of all States. There are rules by which sometimes, when there is a difference of opinion, the judgment of the senior judge prevails as against the junior judge. This has been long in force, and no great mischief has resulted from such a provision. Here too it could easily have been provided that the senior judge's decision shall prevail. But it was thought that that would not be satisfactory in transactions of the kind in question. Because seniority alone either in age or otherwise may not quite suit the circumstances of a taxation appeal. So, it was suggested that provision should be so drafted as to bring about this result, namely, that where questions of facts are concerned the decision, if it is a confirming decision of the lower Court's decision on the facts, by the Bench that is constituted by the Tribunal, shall stand confirmed. But if there is a reversal, the position is different. If it is a unanimous decision of the Bench, it prevails. But if in reversing a judgment, there is a difference of opinion, and, therefore, there is no majority decision, the idea is that if it is a question of confirming the judgment on facts, it must confirm that judgment. But if it is a question of law, power is given here to resort to another Bench. It is open to the Bench to provide that it shall be referred to a second Bench of which the Chairman shall be a member. This is a non-mischievous, innocent and effective provision in the Bill. There is nothing more in this. Of course, the remedy suggested is there. That is a matter for appointing more and more judges, but which is not relevant just now."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"The suggestion is that a lawyer may be made a Munsif and the Head clerk may be made a Munsif. Once he is made a Munsif he is a Munsif."

SRI A. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"Sir, a good deal of controversy has arisen over this question of difference of opinion. The matter is going to be decided by a Bench of two judges. Of course the composition of the Tribunal is somewhat peculiar. One of the Members will be a trained judge, the other is a trained accountant, and the third is a Government officer and the Government think it is quite suitable. The one guarantee that all assesseees want is that there must be some judicial element in the Tribunal which decides these cases. In a Bench of two members alone, very often it may happen that the Chairman may not be there. Where is the trained lawyer and where is the trained judge then? Therefore, I am only saying that many of these cases may be decided by a person who is not trained in law and who has had no experience in judging cases. These assesseees in that case will not be satisfied. It is possible also that the fair name of the Tribunal itself is may be spoiled which would otherwise not be the case. This Bench of two judges alone, I would welcome, if one of the two is one who has judicial experience. This would be the proper thing to do. There must be some judicial element in the Tribunal for the purpose of assessing a person to sales tax. This point has really been overlooked in constituting a Bench of only two judges. No serious objection has been raised by the hon. Member Dr. John. True, there are cases in the High Court where if two judges differ in their opinion, the ruling of the senior judge prevails under the Letters Patent though there is no provision to that effect in the Civil Procedure Code. But there is this guarantee. You can file an appeal against the judgment. Here there is nothing like that. True, there is provision in the Letters Patent that when the matter is heard by a Bench of two judges, and if there is difference of opinion between the two judges, the senior judge's opinion should prevail. But the practice is to refer it to a third judge. I know even recently in a particular case there was difference of opinion between Justice Subramaniam and another and the judgment of the senior judge prevailed. But the party has always the right even then, to appeal against that judgment because the judgment was only that of one judge. This is a fact which has to be considered. (Interruption.) If there is difference of opinion there is provision for appeal. I will give references to the Hon. the Chief Minister if he wants. I will send the records of the relevant case to the Hon. the Chief Minister for his reference. (Interruption.) On the floor of the House one should not say anything which is not correct and if a statement is disputed it is much better it is proved by producing relevant records. My view is that the party can go on appeal to a higher judge. Therefore what I would suggest is, in case there is a difference of opinion, it would be quite alright if it is referred to a third judge. Simply because one member of the Tribunal who is a departmental official, has come to a definite conclusion and another member agrees with him and the third alone is against the decision, it is not correct to call it a majority decision. The only justification for a provision of that sort is that this is a taxation measure. Taxation measures are generally considered to be oppressive and not popular with the public. Therefore one has to be very careful in framing taxation measures. If not, the Government are likely to become more unpopular than they are today. In the matter of setting up a Tribunal, it is very necessary that they should be so constituted as to command the general acceptance and confidence of the assessee. Therefore I suggest that the amendments given notice of may perhaps be considered favourably by Government. Otherwise I support the Bill."

SRI V. CHAKKARAI CHETTY:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, I am sorry prominent lawyer Members here disagree among themselves. That being so, to whom are we to refer this problem, this disagreement? How are the Government going to find a solution? When there is a difference of opinion between the two members of the Tribunal, then the case may be referred to a third judge. That seems to be the opinion of some hon. Members. I do not know whether this would rectify matters. Unless there is a majority opinion in the Tribunal, I do not think the assessee will be satisfied even if the case is referred to the Chairman who may after all be a Government servant. These District Judges and others are Government servants, and assessee may say they are favourable to the Government. I do not see how a reference to the Chairman would satisfy the assessee, unless the decision of the Tribunal is a majority decision."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, will you kindly allow me to say a few words. I am not replying to the discussion. I just want to explain the position. The practical position is known to the Members on the Government Benches and to some hon. Members on the other side but not to every one. The trouble is to get people to serve on these tribunals. It is very well to say 'you must have lawyers with judicial experience and all that'. But hon. Members must realize that there are varying degrees of capacity among lawyers. It is very difficult to get leading lawyers even to take up a High Court Judgeship. It is almost impossible to get these people to serve on Tribunals of this kind. Therefore, we get only ordinary people for these Tribunals, the younger people who do not like taking a chord in the profession. Therefore, Government servants are appointed to these Tribunals. This is the practical difficulty. It is not the intention of the Government to win all Government appeals and all that. If we wanted to win all appeals, we could have framed different laws. But as it is we have given Tribunals. As the hon. Member Sri Bhashyam suggested we might make improvements on that provision also. But hon. Members must realise the amount of arrears that had accumulated in these appeals. The accumulation is so enormous and very difficult to justify. We have to dispose of these cases quickly so that the assessee may know where they stand. We have been able to dispose of a good lot with a special drive. Here in this legislation we have provided a Bench, so that the cases may not keep on accumulating. The best thing under the circumstances has been done. The observations made by hon. Members during the course of the discussion will certainly be kept in mind in constituting these Benches as well as in making references wherever there is a substantial question of importance to be decided by a judicial mind. With these observations, Sir, I hope the Bill will not be sent back to the Assembly with amendments but accepted by this House."

SRI MOHAMMAD RAZA KHAN:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, as usual the hon. Member opposite, Sri Bhashyam criticised the provisions but supported the Bill. There is therefore nothing surprising in his speech. I do not know whether the Hon. Minister in-charge of the Bill went through the proceedings of the last Assembly discussions on this subject in 1951. As I said on the previous occasion Government must make out a case for a definite change in the composition of the Tribunal. The provision for constituting a Tribunal is made after four years of agitation in the last Assembly and in the Council. There has been a good deal of harassment in this matter. The then Finance Minister who was in charge of this portfolio also agreed to the setting up of Tribunals. There was a good deal of discussion on the floor of the House then regarding the constitution of the Tribunal and many different points of view were put forward. It was impressed on the party in power then, that the Tribunal should be similar to the one constituted for Income-tax assessment cases. After a good deal of discussion it was decided that the Tribunal should consist of three members, one District Judge, one accountant and the other from the department, who is just on the verge of retirement. It was then agreed by the Hon. Minister that the member from the department should be on the verge of retirement, a man who has a year or two to retire from service. The very purpose of setting up a Tribunal was to create confidence in the assessee. I know the Sales-tax officer. His tendency always is to get as much money as possible for the Government coffers. It may be a good tendency from the Government point of view. But there is considerable dissatisfaction among the general public about the way the assessments are made. Small traders are asked to pay sums out of all proportion to their turnover with the result many of them have to close down their business. Therefore it is, they wanted that Tribunals should be set up so that they could appeal against the orders of these petty officers. And the Government have now decided to set up the Tribunals. But, what have the Government really done? It seems to me that what was done by the then Hon. Minister Mr. B. Gopal Reddy is being undone by the present Minister in-charge of the portfolio, Sri Manickavelu Naicker. This is not a thing for which he would like to take credit. I admit there was an enormous amount of accumulation of work. After partition, I think there must be some reduction in the number of cases pending. If there were 2,000 cases pending then, now it may not be more than 1,000 or 1,200 at the most. But there is this contingency. One of the members of the Tribunal may be absent. The Tribunal can be constituted with only two members. Again I do not know how the Tribunal is working, whether they sit from 10 in the morning to 5 in the evening and dispose of cases every day or whether they will sit only on some days in the week and for a few hours in the forenoon or in the afternoon and dispose of cases.

"Sir, I do not think, in spite of what the Hon. the Chief Minister has said, we are satisfied with the way in which these Tribunals are going to be constituted. I would appeal to Government to take the view points expressed by the Members of this House into consideration in constituting these Tribunals.

"Sir, before I conclude, I wish to refer to one other matter. With regard to the point raised by our Deputy Leader of the Opposition as to why a point of fact should not be referred to the Chairman of the Tribunal by a Bench consisting of two members, the Hon. the Chief Minister said that only a question of law could be referred to the Chairman of the Tribunal and not a question of fact. I hope the Hon. the Chief Minister will agree that in most of the appeals, it is not a matter of law which is involved but a matter of fact. I do maintain that in 99 cases out of 100, only a matter of fact is involved and not a matter of law. Sir, if this is the attitude of the Government in respect of this matter, I am afraid they are not giving the parties concerned a fair trial. Even a point of fact should be referred to the Chairman of the Tribunal."

DR. V. K. JOHN :—"Even this reference is in the discretion of the Bench."

SRI MOHAMMAD RAZA KHAN :—"In short, there is no immediate urgency for this measure and they are not going to lose anything by withdrawing this Bill. I hope, after the way in which it was forcefully opposed by our Deputy Leader, the Government will withdraw it."

7th January 1954] [Sri Mohammad Raza Khan]

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—"Sir, the Tamil-biassed hon. Member—I mean the hon. Gentleman who spoke in Tamil—referred to the High Court and High Court Judges and said that the Tribunal also must have 'a head, legs, hands, etc.' Sir, the High Court Judges do not drop ready-made from the sky. They are just selected by the Government. The posts of High Court Judges are filled up from among advocates, munsifs and I.C.S. officers. Once they occupy the position of High Court Judges, they are all equal and deal with all cases. So also, when an officer belonging to the department becomes a judge, he is really a judge and not a departmental man. He has nothing to do with it. But he has got the additional advantage of the experience of the department which the judges do not have. So also with regard to Chartered Accountant, he has got a lot of experience in respect of this matter and would have spent most of his lifetime in winning cases for the assessee. His whole bent of mind will be in favour of the assessee. When he becomes a judge or a member of the Tribunal, he gets equal status and judges each case on its merit. There is no difficulty about it. Therefore, it is not necessary that only High Court Judges should be members of the Tribunal.

"Now, let me come to the point raised by my hon. and learned Friend, Dr. John. I do not know, what attitude he took when the Madras General Sales Tax (Amendment) Act, 1951, was passed. I believe, he was then a Member of the Legislature. Now only, I am aware of his attitude. He is also afraid that a member of the Tribunal selected from the department will have all the bias of an officer. Sir, the member selected will be a senior man and only the Deputy Commissioner of Commercial Taxes is selected. He occupies that position practically at the fag end of his official career and so there is no difficulty about it. I do not think, there will be any possibility of his reverting back to the department. Even if it is not so, I will bear in mind while selecting these officers that only the seniormost are selected."

DR. V. K. JOHN :—"Even if he gives a decision in favour of the Government, it will only be bona fide!"

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—"It would not be that way, but it would be the other way. If he is a little disgruntled man, he may also do quite the opposite thing. (Laughter.)

"Sir, one hon. Member said that after the partition of the State, there would not be much work for the Tribunal. On the other hand, there is a lot of arrears. Hundreds of cases are pending disposal. Unless we have recourse to the constitution of a Bench with two members, it may not be possible to dispose of these cases. Even in the High Court, the Bench dispose of cases and I do not know why the Bench envisaged in this Bill should not do it."

[Sri M. A. Manickavelu Naicker] [7th January 1954]

DR. V. K. JOHN :—" I may tell the Hon. Minister that in the High Court, a single Judge disposes of important cases. But the Tribunal is not the High Court."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—" For the sales tax cases, the Tribunal is more or less the High Court. A senior District Judge and other experienced men will be in the Tribunal. Most probably a senior Civilian Judge will preside over the Tribunal. I may assure the House that there will be no failure of justice, but justice will be done. As there is a lot of cases pending disposal, this Bill is necessary and I request hon. Members to put themselves in my position and judge. As regards the amendments given notice of by hon. Members, I will deal with them as and when they are moved."

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" The question is—

'That the Madras General Sales Tax (Amendment) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 2 of 1954), as passed by the Legislative Assembly, be taken into consideration.' "

The motion was carried.

DR. V. K. JOHN :—" Before the amendments are moved, I wish to rise on a point of order. Sir, the procedure which is prescribed in the Council Rules should be followed and exemptions should not be given in every case. In this connection, I might refer to rule 107 of the Rules of Procedure of the Madras Legislative Council. Rule 107 says—

'Unless the Chairman otherwise directs, no such motion shall be set down in the list of business for any day which is less than three days from the receipt of the notice.'

The Chair has waived notice in this case and I do not complain about it. According to Rule 108, we have discussed the principles of the Bill. Under rule 109, unless a Joint Select Committee of both Houses considered the Bill, any Member may move, as an amendment, that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee. Then, I come to rule 110 which says—

'If the motion that the Bill be taken into consideration is carried, the Bill shall be taken into consideration, and the provisions of the rules of the Council regarding consideration of clauses of Bills and the amendments to such clauses and the subsequent procedure in regard to the passing of Bills shall apply.'

That requires us to revert back to the rules 93 and 94. Rule 93 (2) says—

'If the Member in-charge moves that the Bill be taken into consideration any Member may move as an amendment that the Bill be re-committed.' Then rule 94 says—

'When a motion has been agreed to by the Council that a Bill be taken into consideration, any Member may propose an amendment of such Bill.'

[7th January 1954] [Dr. V. K. John]

The principle is that amendments are brought in only after a discussion of the general principles underlying a Bill. Then only any Member will be in a position to move an amendment. The next rule makes it very clear. Rule 95 says—

'(1) Notice of a proposed amendment shall be sent to the Secretary at least three clear days before the sitting of the Council at which the Bill is to be considered.'

Now, Sir, there must be a motion to take the Bill into consideration. When this motion has been agreed to amendments may be given an, three days' notice must be given. Then there is a fundamental rule, namely, rule 98, which gives the spirit of the procedure."

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" We know all these things. Rule 114 covers all such cases."

DR. V. K. JOHN :—" Sir, rule 98 says—

'(2) If, when a Bill is considered, any amendment is made, any member may, at the conclusion of the consideration of the Bill, object to a motion being made at the same sitting for its being passed. Thereupon, the Chairman shall, unless he considers that the request is frivolous or unreasonable, not allow a motion that the Bill be passed into law to be moved at the same sitting, but the Bill shall be brought up for further consideration at a subsequent sitting.'

These are the various stages and even at the last stage a Member may say that the third reading shall not be taken up that day and unless this request is found to be frivolous or unreasonable, the rule says that you, Mr. Chairman, shall not allow it but shall adjourn it to another date. No doubt, Sir, there is another rule 114 which enables you to dispense with the rules regarding periods of notice and the interval between the different stages of a legislation. I submit, Sir, that in appropriate cases you may exercise your discretion under rule 114. If this exception is to be made the general rule, let us delete all the other rules in the Rules of Procedure. You may exercise your discretion under rule 114 in exceptional cases but, I submit, Sir, with great respect that in almost every case this exception under rule 114 is made the general rule and the various stages of a Bill are considered at the same sitting, and at a stretch. I submit, Sir, that we the Members on this side of the House feel that we should have time as provided for in the rules to bring in and move amendments. Sufficient time may be given to us particularly in regard to important Bills and this is a very important Bill affecting a very large number of persons in the State."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, we have to transact the business of the House and you exercise your discretion as such to enable us to carry on. Certainly, if there are very important Bills which require careful study and time for the giving of notice of amendments, you will certainly exercise your discretion against the carrying on of the business of the House without the necessary periods of notice mentioned in the rules. Sir, in these cases you have exercised your discretion not to follow the rules strictly with regard to the periods of notice provided for in the rules as these are very small Bills and it is quite unnecessary to follow the usual procedure. In this instance, you have exercised your discretion in favour of carrying on with the Bill as it is now and the House has voted in favour of considering the Bill. We have therefore to proceed with the consideration of the Bill and whatever amendments you have already admitted will be discussed. Only, later on it is open to hon. Member, Dr. V. K. John, to say that the third reading of the Bill be postponed and then it is for you to decide whether it is frivolous or proper. But, that stage has not arisen. We have therefore to consider the Bill clause by clause. Dr. V. K. John may raise his objection at the third stage."

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" As a matter of fact, hon. Members had three days' notice and they had enough time to put in amendments. There has really been no departure from the proper procedure."

DR. V. K. JOHN :—" Sir, my point is that amendments can be moved only after the motion for taking the Bill into consideration is adopted. That is the provision in the rules."

SRI K. BHASHYAM :—" Sir, hon. Member Dr. V. K. John's objection is a little premature. He can raise it only after we have considered the Bill clause by clause."

Clause 2.

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" The motion is—

'That clause 2 stand part of the Bill.'

"May I know whether the hon. Member, Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar, is moving his amendment?"

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, I beg to move—

"That in sub-clause 3 (c), for the words beginning with "the point shall be found" and ending with "divided" the following be substituted :—

"the point shall be referred by the Bench to the third member of the Tribunal for his decision on the point and the appeal or application shall be decided in accordance with his decision on the point."

This amendment confines itself to the question where two members constitute the Bench and where they differ on a particular point. The sub-clause as at present says—

"... the point shall be found against the appellant or applicant and the members shall, after delivering their separate opinions, pronounce a joint judgment announcing the result of the findings, if any, on which they are agreed and of the findings recorded against the appellant or applicant on points on which they are divided."

This, I submit is rather a clumsy way of mentioning it. Nobody in a Legislature can say 'the point shall be found against the appellant or applicant'. It is a matter for the Judges to say whether a point will be found against the appellant or applicant or not. I take it that in substance it means that the point shall be decided against the appellant or applicant. It is rather a very awkward phrase in any legislation. The Legislature cannot order the Judges and say 'the point shall be found against the appellant or applicant'. I submit, Sir, that even if my amendment is to be voted against, this is a very clumsy way of putting it and the Bill should be properly worded. My amendment is to the effect that the point shall be referred by the Bench to the third member and the point of the appeal or application shall be decided in accordance with his decision. This is the procedure which is laid down in section 98 of the Civil Procedure Code and so far as these Tribunals are concerned the general principle is that the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code apply to them and I therefore submit that the question of Letters Patent does not arise at all. In the Letters Patent the judgment of the senior Judge shall prevail but it is applicable purely to the High Court and has nothing to do with these Tribunals. The Letters Patent was conferred on the High Court by His Majesty when we were under British rule."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—" Why not we adopt the Letters Patent?"

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR :—" Sir, it is not as easy as the Hon. Minister for Revenue says. Let us not imitate the Letters Patent here. If so, another difficulty will arise. Two members may constitute a Bench and the question will arise as to who is the senior, because this is a Tribunal to which appointments will have to be made from time to time. Further, as constituted the Tribunal consists of three members and if they sit together as a full Bench the question of seniority will not arise. The Bill does not therefore say that the view of the senior member shall prevail. I am not saying anything against this but my objection is to the provision 'the point shall be found against the appellant or applicant'. So far as this is concerned the better rule would be what I have proposed in my amendment that the difference of opinion may be submitted to the third member which is in accord with section 98 of the Civil Procedure Code. This may very well apply to the case where there are two members sitting as a Bench and they differ on a particular point. This particular point may be referred to the third member of the Tribunal and if the third member agrees with the opinion of one of the two other members, his opinion should prevail. Section 98 of the Civil Procedure Code makes it clear that when a point is referred to a third Judge and the third Judge agrees with the opinion of either of the two Judges, then they together form a majority and their judgment shall therefore prevail.

"The procedure I have suggested is workable and no delay also will be caused by referring the point of difference to a third Judge for settling them. After all questions arising out of this Act are not very difficult questions. They are very ordinary questions which may very easily be decided. My amendment only says this that the point of difference shall be referred by the Bench to the third member of the Tribunal for his decision on the point and the appeal shall be decided in accordance with his decision on the point. If the decision of the third member is favourable to the decision of one of the two members then that decision becomes a majority decision. My point, therefore, is a clear one and I request that my amendment may kindly be accepted."

SRI T. M. NARAYANASWAMY PILLAI:—"I second the amendment proposed by Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"Amendment moved—

'That in sub-clause 3 (c), for the words beginning with "the point shall be found" and ending with "divided", the following be substituted:—

"the point shall be referred by the Bench to the third member of the Tribunal for his decision on the point and the appeal or application shall be decided in accordance with his decision on the point."

DR. V. K. JOHN:—"I strongly support the amendment for the reasons given by the mover of the amendment. I repeat, Sir, that the amendment suggested in the Bill by the Government is the most objectionable one. The amendment of Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar only seeks to remove the grave objection to the Bill."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, the points raised by the hon. Member who moved the amendment and those who supported the amendment were also made at the time of the general discussion of the Bill. No doubt the amendment proposed is very tempting from the standpoint of a lawyer but from the point of view of laymen the amendment will not be very conducive for the working of this Sales Tax Tribunal. As regards the language used in clause (2) I admit that the clause will read better if the language can be improved. But there is this difficulty. Even if some verbal changes are made in the clause, we will have to send the Bill again to the other House for their approval of the changes made here in this House. When we are seized of the substance of the points we need not fight for the shadow. Even though the language may not be quite appropriate, still we can read the meaning correctly. Sir, I oppose the amendment."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"The question is—

'In sub-clause 3 (c), for the words beginning with "the point shall be found" and ending with "divided", substitute the words,

"the point shall be referred by the Bench to the third member of the Tribunal for his decision on the point and the appeal or application shall be decided in accordance with his decision on the point."

7th January 1954]

The amendment was put and declared lost. A poll was demanded and division bells were rung. The motion was again put and declared lost. The demand for poll was not pressed.

SRI V. GURUNANDAN ROW:—"I beg to move—

'in the last sentence of sub-clause (1) after the words "the other two members" and before the words "shall possess" insert the following words:—

"who shall not be persons in Government service."

I will state briefly why I have brought forward this amendment. It has already been stated by the Government that the Appellate Tribunal consists of three members, of whom one is a judicial officer not below the rank of a District Judge and another is an officer of the department. The Hon. Minister for Revenue stated that the officer of the department nominated for membership of the Tribunal will be a person of very great experience in the department and that he will certainly be in favour of the assessee. I do not know whether the Hon. Minister is talking with his tongue in his cheek. We know as lawyers what the department has instructed their subordinates. Their motto is 'when in doubt, tax'. There is no question of the departmental people deciding things in favour of the assessee and the very fact that such a large number of appeals are pending before the Appellate Tribunal is proof of the fact that these officers do not go into the claims of the assessees properly. In fact I am not very particular about the appointment of the Tribunal at all. As a matter of fact, the only way by which the assessees will be satisfied is to allow them to appeal to the High Court direct. This will prevent them from wasting their time. Because the Tribunal happens to be in the City, people from the mufassal, who have been taxed, will have to come to this City on appeal. They have to come from far off places leaving their business to suffer in these days of slump. The Act provided for a judicial Tribunal to decide the cases, because, no justice can be rendered by the Deputy Commissioner of Commercial Taxes or the Commercial Tax Officer. Therefore it is there is the need to have a real and impartial Tribunal which does not consist of Government servants. In my amendment I have suggested that anybody may be appointed with the necessary qualifications, but those persons shall not be Government servants. I have no objection to people, who have retired from Government service, being appointed to the Tribunal. But as long as a person is in Government service, it is really a fiction to say that when once a person in the Sales Tax department has been appointed to the Tribunal, he will give up his ideas on levying taxes."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM:—"Is the District Judge not a judicial officer?"

SRI V. GURUNANDAN ROW:—"He is a judicial officer not under the control of the executive Government. The District Judge is a person who is under the direct control of the High Court. Nobody can do anything to him. His prospects do not depend upon the views of the executive Government. But a person in the department, e.g., the Deputy Commissioner of Commercial Taxes, will always be thinking 'what will be my future if I do not assess this assessee'. It is all right to say that once a man is on the tribunal, he will be impartial. But in practice we know what happens. If the Government want really an impartial tribunal and if they want the purpose of the tribunal to be fulfilled satisfactorily, they must not appoint Government servants to the tribunal. They should not appoint anybody over whom they can exercise their influence. As a matter of fact, a person like the Deputy Commissioner of Commercial Taxes who has come up to that position from below will, when in doubt, tax. It is impossible for me to conceive that from such a person we can get justice. To-day if that Deputy Commissioner of Commercial Taxes sits along with the other judge, there is no hope for the assessee. What is the point in having a tribunal like the one mentioned in the Bill? It is better that it is not there. It is better that the whole tribunal idea is dropped. If the Government find so much difficulty in constituting this tribunal, let them give the direct remedy, namely, an appeal to the High Court. That would be the best thing. I am sure that most of the assessees will thank this Government if they are given the right of a direct appeal to the High Court against the decision of the Commercial Tax Officer. This Sales Tax Tribunal, though it may be good for lawyers has become a real engine of oppression and harassment. It is no use of going to the Deputy Commissioner of Commercial Taxes on appeal against the decision of the Commercial Tax Officer. I am not one of those who say 'we want more and more tribunals'. If the Government are really serious in constituting an impartial tribunal, I submit that my amendment will achieve the object in view."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—"The amendment says that the members shall not be in Government service. After their appointment will they be non-officials or Government servants?"

SRI V. GURUNANDAN ROW :—"They may be members of the tribunal."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—"The amendment says that they shall not be Government servants. The amendment is not properly worded."

The amendment was duly seconded.

MR. CHAIRMAN :—"Amendment moved—

'In the last sentence of sub-clause (1) after the words "the other two members" and before the words "shall possess" insert the following words :—

"who, shall not be persons in Government service." "

7th January 1954]

DR. V. K. JOHN :—"Sir, I rise to support this amendment. I make a suggestion to the Government that they may utilise the provision in Section 2-A (1) to the effect that the other two members shall possess such qualifications as may be prescribed by appointing judicial officers—retired judges—or District Judges who are in service. If the Government would agree to this, I would even go to the extent of saying that instead of a Bench, let one judge decide. That would be sufficient, because we will have one who has judicial experience. And, people also would be satisfied with his appointment. If the Government do not want to have more judges, let us have at least one man who will have that judicial temperament and impartiality in whom the public will have confidence. A judge of the High Court or the District Court, either in service or retired, can be the tribunal. There will surely be a lot of complaint against the tribunal if the tribunal is packed with people in whom the public do not have any confidence. Without moving any amendment in this regard, I appeal to the Government to appoint a District Judge or a High Court Judge to the tribunal. I am sure that this Government, after hearing the criticisms of this House, will certainly do their very best to see that persons in whom the public have confidence are appointed. I have no doubt that it is not the intention of the Government in introducing this Bill to constitute a tribunal which is useless. If only the Government appoint persons to the tribunal in whom the public have confidence, the people will be satisfied. Let me express the hope that this Government headed by our revered Rajaji will appoint only those persons who command the confidence and trust of the assessees. It does not matter at all if the tribunal should decide against the assessee although I would prefer that that decision should go before a third judge. Anyway some judicial minded man must be appointed to the tribunal. The real point of criticism in this House is that persons who command the confidence of the assessees should be appointed to the tribunal. I am quite sure, as far as I am able to see, that it is not the intention of the Government at all to constitute tribunals who will not command the confidence of the assessees and the public. I appeal to the Government that, without amending any of these provisions, they should give an assurance that only men who command the confidence of the public will be appointed. I express the hope that this Government will certainly see to it, and will not give room for any complaint."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—"Sir, I am grateful to the speech of the Deputy Leader of the Opposition. The intention is to appoint the best possible men available. The intention is also to appoint those who will give satisfaction to all people concerned. The amendment proposed, however, is not suitable, and we cannot accept that. Sometimes an official of experience and long satisfactory service will be a better appointee than a raw judge or somebody from somewhere. It is necessary to appoint the best men. It is not their technical qualifications that count. But here we must remember the general principle involved, namely, that we want a judicial officer, a man knowing accounts, and also one who knows the trade and the business with which he is concerned. With these things in view, the Government will do their best to appoint the right type of men and will even take advice before appointing such men. Then only they will appoint the men. That is the usual procedure. Therefore, I submit that the amendment need not be pressed."

[Sri C. Rajagopalachari] [7th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—
" Mr. Chairman, Sir, regarding the remarks of the hon. Member about the probable leanings of the Member selected for the tribunal, I made only a hypothetical argument; I met his extreme argument with another extreme argument. As a lawyer he ought to be familiar with such types of arguments. A diamond alone can cut another diamond. In that way only I made those arguments."

The amendment of Sri V. Gurunandan Rao was by leave of the House withdrawn.

Clause 2 was put and carried.

Clause 3 was put and carried.

Clause 1 and the Preamble were put and carried.

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—
" Mr. Chairman, Sir, I move—

' That the Bill be read a third time and passed. ' "

The motion was put and carried and the Bill was read a third time and passed.

APPENDIX

L.A. BILL No. 2 OF 1954.

(As passed by the Assembly.)

[Vide item at page 2 supra.]

A Bill further to amend the Madras General Sales Tax Act, 1939.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Madras General Sales Tax Act, 1939 (Madras Act IX of 1939), for the purpose hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Madras General Sales Tax (Amendment) Act, 1954.

2. Amendment of section 2-A, Madras Act IX of 1939.—In section 2-A of the Madras General Sales Tax Act, 1939 (Madras Act IX of 1939),—

(i) for sub-section (1), the following sub-section shall be substituted, namely :—

“(1) The State Government shall appoint an Appellate Tribunal consisting of three members to exercise the functions conferred on the Appellate Tribunal by or under this Act. Of the three members, one shall be a judicial officer not below the rank of District Judge. He shall be the Chairman of the Tribunal. The other two members shall possess such qualifications as may be prescribed ”;

(ii) sub-sections (3) and (4) shall be re-numbered as sub-sections (4) and (5) respectively and after sub-section (2), the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely :—

“(3) (a) The functions of the Appellate Tribunal may be exercised by a Bench consisting of all the members of the Tribunal or by a Bench consisting of two members constituted by the Chairman or, in the event of the office of a member other than the Chairman being vacant, by a Bench consisting of the Chairman and the other member :

Provided that, if any case which comes up before a Bench (of which the Chairman is not a member) involves a question of law, the Bench may, in its discretion, reserve such case for decision by a Bench to be constituted under this sub-clause of which the Chairman shall be a member.

(b) Where an appeal or application is heard by all the three members of the Tribunal, and the members differ in opinion on any point, the point shall be decided in accordance with the opinion of the majority.

(c) Where an appeal or application is heard by a Bench consisting of two members, and the members are divided in their opinion on any point, the point shall be found against the appellant or applicant and the members shall, after delivering their separate opinions, pronounce a joint judgment announcing the result of the findings, if any, on which they are agreed and of the findings recorded against the appellant or applicant on points on which they are divided.”

[7th January 1954]

3. Repeal of Madras Ordinance III of 1953.—(1) The Madras General Sales Tax (Amendment) Ordinance, 1953 (Madras Ordinance III of 1953), is hereby repealed.

(2) Any judgment pronounced, decision passed, action taken or thing done in the exercise of any power conferred by or under the said Ordinance shall be deemed to have been pronounced, passed, taken or done in the exercise of the powers conferred by or under this Act as if this Act were in force on the day on which such judgment was pronounced, decision was passed, action was taken or thing was done.

THE MADRAS CONTINGENCY FUND BILL, 1954
(L.A. BILL No. 3 OF 1954)

7th January 1954]

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" Motion moved—

'That the Madras Contingency Fund Bill; 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 3 of 1954), as passed by the Legislative Assembly, be taken into consideration.' "

DR. V. K. JOHN :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, this appears to me to be an unnecessary Bill. I want to put three questions and would like the Hon. Minister to answer them. The Contingency Fund of 1950 consisted of a crore of rupees drawn from the General Reserve Fund of the State. Now this Bill proposes to transfer Rs. 75 lakhs to the Fund from the Consolidated Fund of the State. That is one difference between the previous Act and the present Bill. Then, for the composite State of Madras they had a crore of rupees in the Fund. Why should the Government require Rs. 75 lakhs now when the State has been partitioned? A smaller amount would do for the residuary State of Madras. Then, the third point is, Section 2 (3) of the Madras Contingency Fund Act of 1950 says: 'As often as any such expenditure is authorised by law as aforesaid, the State Government shall recoup to the Contingency Fund an amount equal to the advance taken from such Fund to meet the expenditure'. The Government have not done that. This action of Government is not only against the 1950 Act but it is against the provisions contained in Article 267 (2) of the Constitution. That Article of the Constitution says that the Fund shall be recouped. In the Statement of Objects and Reasons, it is stated that expenditure incurred from the Fund from April to September 1953 on account of the composite State of Madras could not be recouped to the Fund as required by Section 2 (3) of the 1950 Act, due to the partition of the State. Probably the Hon. the Minister for Finance will explain to us how the partition of the State affected the recoupment and why the provisions of the 1950 Act and the Constitution were offended. I want to be enlightened on these three points."

SRI T. PURUSHOTHAM :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, I rise to support the Bill and in doing so I wish to make one observation. This Bill is being brought before this House under Articles 204 and 206 of the Constitution of India. While this House has to accord legislative sanction for such Bills, it is regrettable to note that this House has no power to scrutinise the details of State expenditure. The report of the Public Accounts Committee is being circulated to the Hon. Members of this House but they have no opportunity to discuss the report on the floor of this House as is done by the other House. I should like a convention should be set up by which the report of the Public Accounts Committee will not only be circulated to the Members of this House but the Members will be given an opportunity to discuss the report. In this connection I may also refer to the observation I made the other day that two or three Members of this House should be appointed to serve on the Public

THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

THE MADRAS CONTINGENCY FUND BILL, 1954 (L.A. BILL
NO. 3 OF 1954).

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, I move—

'That the Madras Contingency Fund Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 3 of 1954), as passed by the Legislative Assembly, be taken into consideration.'

"Sir, I do not think any argument is necessary in support of this Bill. We had a Contingency Fund Act of 1950. By the time the separation of the Andhra State was effected, we had spent about Rs. 75 lakhs out of the one crore of rupees. It is not possible to reimburse that fund now because the accounts have been closed up to the 30th September 1953. We have therefore taken steps to have another Act to constitute another fund. Whatever is left over in the other fund will go into the Consolidated Fund of the State. We are asking for the creation of this fund only under Articles 204, 205 and 206 of the Constitution of India. I therefore hope that this Bill will be accepted by the House."

[Sri T. Purushotham] [7th January 1954]

Accounts Committee. As it is no Member of this House is a Member of the Public Accounts Committee. I hope the Government would consider this suggestion also. With these remarks I support the Bill."

SRI V. GURUNANDAN ROW :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, in the Statement of Objects and Reasons it is stated that this Fund was constituted for the composite State of Madras with a crore of rupees drawn from the Revenue Reserve Fund and that the expenditure incurred from April to September 1953 could not be recouped to the Fund. The Hon. the Finance Minister has not explained to us how that money was spent, for what purpose the money was spent, why it was necessary to constitute that Fund from the Revenue Reserve Fund while the sum of Rs. 75 lakhs required for the present Fund is proposed to be drawn from the Consolidated Fund of the State. No supplementary grant was asked for, for the amounts spent from the Contingency Fund. A Budget was presented recently. Why was not a supplementary grant asked for, for the amount spent from the Contingency Fund then? And as far as I could see, there was no provision in the Budget for constituting a Contingency Fund with Rs. 75 lakhs. It is only fair that the Hon. the Finance Minister should explain these matters to the House."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" Sir, with regard to the wording, 'the sum of Rs. 75 lakhs to be transferred from the Consolidated Fund of the State' and the language used in the previous Act of 1950, I wish to say that I do not know, how that was used in the previous Act. We had a Revenue Reserve Fund which has been exhausted. The hon. Deputy Leader of the Opposition referred to it and said that we had squandered away about Rs. 43 crores."

DR. V. K. JOHN :—" I did not say that."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" Those forty-three crores of rupees have been spent and now there is no Reserve Fund. Now if we refer to a Fund wherein there is no amount available, it will have no meaning at all. Apart from that, under Article 266 of the Constitution, whatever money we have, has to come into one Fund, known as the 'Consolidated Fund of the State', whether it is obtained by loans or taxes. Whatever be the form, it has to go into the Consolidated Fund of the State. Whatever money has to be drawn, it has to be drawn only from that Fund. Therefore, at any rate, the wording in the present Bill, 'Consolidated Fund of the State' is correct.

"With regard to the point, why the expenditure incurred from April to September 1953 could not be recouped to the Contingency Fund, as required by the Act of 1950, the only answer I can give, is that that expenditure was incurred with reference to the composite State of Madras and the entire expenditure has been validated by an Act of Parliament. Therefore, the matter is completely closed and nothing further can be done. The procedure laid down in Articles 204 and 205 of the Constitution for recouping the amount drawn from the Contingency Fund could not be followed in this case as these accounts have been completely closed by virtue of the provisions of the Andhra State Act. There was only a small amount of about Rs. 30 lakhs left. We wanted a sufficiently large amount to meet the expenditure on new services and therefore it became necessary to enlarge that amount. Of course, we could have asked for sanction to draw some more money but instead of doing that, we thought that it would be better if we re-enacted the Contingency Fund Act and revised the amount also. The hon. Member Dr. V. K. John also wanted to know why that amount should be Rs. 75 lakhs when it was one crore of rupees for the composite State of Madras. If only he looks into the financial position of the State, he will find that the present Revenue is nearly 75 per cent of the composite State. Apart from that, simply because we make a provision of Rs. 75 lakhs or one crore of rupees, it does not mean that we spend away anything without any account or proper estimate or without placing it before the Assembly. For that also, the procedure is laid down in Articles 204 and 205. Even though we may spend it from the Contingency Fund, it will have to be placed before the Assembly by way of Supplementary Demand for Grant and it has got to be discussed and voted upon by the Assembly and formally presented and discussed in this House also. Now, the only question is, what should be the amount? We think there should be a sufficiently large amount in the Contingency Fund to meet any expenditure which we could not anticipate in the Budget. Sir, if we want to draw any money from the Consolidated Fund, there should be a legal authority given by the Legislature as such and that is the Appropriation Bill which we pass every year. Without the Appropriation Act, no amount can be drawn from the Consolidated Fund. That is why the Legislatures constitutes another fund known as the 'Contingency Fund', from which money can be drawn under the authority of the Governor to meet the expenditure on any new services which may be started and which could not be anticipated in the Budget. Therefore, it is only for the purpose of getting over the difficulty of obtaining the specific sanction of the Legislature to draw any amount from the Consolidated Fund to meet such an expenditure, that we have made this provision.

"The hon. Member, Mr. Purushotham, referred to the Public Accounts Committee. It has nothing to do with the Constitution of the Contingency Fund. Whatever we spend from the Contingency Fund, will come by way of Supplementary Demands before this House. But with regard to the Public Accounts Committee, it is a separate matter. I do not know exactly the procedure which is being followed in Parliament. I do not think, the Council of States discusses the Report of the Public Accounts Committee. Anyway, I am prepared to look into the matter and if necessary, amend the rules of this House in this respect so that members of this House can also be members of the Public Accounts Committee. We have constituted a Committee to revise the rules of the other House. I do not know whether any such Committee has been constituted to revise the rules of this House. My own view is that it would be better if we have an Estimates Committee. Then it may be useful to have some Members of this House on that Committee. I am not giving a final opinion in the matter. It has got to be considered.

"The hon. Member, Mr. Gurunandan Row wanted to know, what has been done to the one crore of rupees. It has been validated and when we give revised figures in the next Budget, some observations may then be made in respect of that matter."

SRI T. M. NARAYANASWAMY PILLAI:—"Has that expenditure been made with the sanction of the Legislature?"

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM:—"The expenditure has been made without the sanction of the Legislature and that is why it has been validated by an Act of Parliament. As the Andhra State Act was enacted for the specific purpose of forming a new State, that expenditure was not validated by the Assembly as such, but validated by the Parliament. In any event, there will be an opportunity to scrutinize the expenditure under that 'head' when the next Budget is presented. We will give details in that Budget. In fact, most of the amount was spent for the purpose of constructing buildings in Kurnool and for carrying out flood relief operations in Godavari. We cannot be thinking about it now and it has been validated."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"The question is—

'That the Madras Contingency Fund Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 3 of 1954), as passed by the Legislative Assembly, be taken into consideration.'

The motion was carried.

Clauses 2, 3 and 4 were put and carried.

Clause 1 and the Preamble were put and carried.

APPENDIX

L.A. BILL No. 3 OF 1954.

(As passed by the Assembly.)

[Vide item at page 2 supra.]

A Bill to re-enact the Madras Contingency Fund Act, 1950.

WHEREAS it is expedient to re-enact the Madras Contingency Fund Act, 1950 (Madras Act XIV of 1950), with certain modifications, as a result of the formation of the State of Andhra and the increasing of the area of the State of Mysore; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title, extent and commencement.—(1) This Act may be called the Madras Contingency Fund Act, 1954.

(2) It extends to the whole of the State of Madras.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

2. Establishment of a Contingency Fund.—(1) There shall be established for the State of Madras a Contingency Fund in the nature of an imprest, called the "Contingency Fund of the State of Madras", and consisting of a sum of seventy-five lakhs of rupees transferred from the Consolidated Fund of the State of Madras.

(2) Such Contingency Fund shall be at the disposal of the Governor of Madras; and he shall have authority to make advances therefrom for the purpose of meeting any unforeseen expenditure, pending authorization of such expenditure by the State Legislature by law under Article 205 or Article 206 of the Constitution.

(3) As often as any such expenditure is authorized by law, as aforesaid, the State Government shall recoup to the Contingency Fund an amount equal to the advance taken from such Fund to meet the expenditure.

[7th January 1954]

3. Power to make rules.—The State Government may, by notification in the Fort St. George Gazette, make rules for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Act.

4. Repeal.—The Madras Contingency Fund Act, 1950 (Madras Act XIV of 1950), is hereby repealed; and the balance in the Fund established by the said Act is hereby transferred to the Consolidated Fund of the State of Madras.

THE MADRAS PRESERVATION OF PRIVATE FORESTS
(AMENDMENT) BILL, 1954 (L.A. BILL NO. 5 OF 1954)
(AS PASSED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY).

7th January 1954]

THE MADRAS PRESERVATION OF PRIVATE FORESTS (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1954 (L.A. BILL NO. 5 OF 1954) (AS PASSED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY).

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—
“ Mr. Chairman, Sir, I beg to move—

That the Madras Preservation of Private Forests (Amendment) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 5 of 1954), as passed by the Legislative Assembly, be taken into consideration.”

The Madras Preservation of Private Forests Act came into being in 1949 and it was amended in 1951. By the amending Act of 1951 it was extended up to and inclusive of 2nd December 1953. The idea was that in the meantime the Forest Act itself would be amended in an all embracing manner and the provisions of the Preservation of Private Forests Act also would be embodied in it. This could not be done and this Act itself expired on the 2nd December 1953. The Government was therefore constrained to issue an Ordinance on 2nd December 1953 and in pursuance of this Ordinance this Bill has been drafted and it is now before this House. The simple object of this Bill is to extend the life of this Act by a year and nothing more.”

MR. CHAIRMAN :—“ Motion moved—

That the Madras Preservation of Private Forests (Amendment) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 5 of 1954), as passed by the Legislative Assembly, be taken into consideration.”

DR. V. K. JOHN :—“ Mr. Chairman, Sir, this Bill does not reflect much credit on the Government. The Government wanted to examine an Act of 1882 and introduce certain changes. They wanted to do this in 1946, eight years ago, and the preamble to this Madras Preservation of Private Forests Act of 1946 stated that pending further legislation the indiscriminate destruction of private forests should be prevented. Everybody agreed and the Act was passed. This Act provided that the Government might extend the period of the Act by notification in the Fort St. George Gazette by a period not exceeding two years in the aggregate. Again in 1949, they brought in an Act to extend the period by another year up to 1950. Of course the Government had four years' time but they never made any amendment to the Act of 1882. Again a third Act was passed in 1951 extending the period to 2nd December 1953. Now, this is the fourth Act preceded by an Ordinance. Can any Government who had an intention to introduce legislation for the purpose of amending an Act of 1882 and had this thought in their minds eight years ago in 1946 take credit now for passing this Bill into law and extending the period up to and inclusive of 2nd December 1954? I am quite sure that at the end of another year they will come forward with a fifth Act extending the period by another year and I am also sure that the Forest Act of 1882 will not be amended. This reflects no credit on the Government who ought to have gone into this matter, I say in 1947, or 1948, or 1949 or 1950 or, at any rate, earlier than to-day. I say again, Sir, that this Bill does not reflect any credit on this Government."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—
" Mr. Chairman, Sir, as regards the past delays, I am afraid the hon. Member Dr. V. K. John was also partly responsible when he was a Member of the Legislature. I am responsible for this latest delay which is due to events in the nature of a major dislocation like the formation of the Andhra State. This dislocated the whole work of the Government for a considerable time. But for this, things would have moved a little faster and probably the amended Forest Act also would have been passed into law. But it has not happened and we could not help it. If we had not been able to pay more attention to this, the blame could be partly laid at the doors of the Andhra partition business."

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" The question is—

' That the Madras Preservation of Private Forests (Amendment) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 5 of 1954), as passed by the Legislative Assembly, be taken into consideration.' "

The motion was carried.

Clauses 2 and 3 were put and carried.

Clause 1 and the Preamble were put and carried.

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—
" Sir, I move—

' That the Madras Preservation of Private Forests (Amendment) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 5 of 1954), as passed by the Legislative Assembly be read a third time and passed.'

" I hope the Hon. Members including Dr. V. K. John will support it."

The motion was carried and the Bill was read a third time and passed.

APPENDIX

L.A. BILL No. 5 OF 1954.

(As passed by the Assembly.)

[Vide item at page 447 supra.]

A Bill further to amend the Madras Preservation of Private Forests Act, 1949.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Madras Preservation of Private Forests Act, 1949 (Madras Act XXVII of 1949), for the purpose hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Madras Preservation of Private Forests (Amendment) Act, 1954.

2. Amendment of section 1, Madras Act XXVII of 1949.—In section 1, sub-section (3), of the Madras Preservation of Private Forests Act, 1949 (Madras Act XXVII of 1949), as in force immediately before the commencement of the Madras Preservation of Private Forests (Amendment) Ordinance, 1953 (Madras Ordinance IV of 1953), for the words, figures and letters “ up to and inclusive of the 2nd December 1953 ”, the words, figures and letters “ up to and inclusive of the 2nd December 1954 ” shall be substituted.

3. Repeal of Madras Ordinance IV of 1953.—(1) The Madras Preservation of Private Forests (Amendment) Ordinance, 1953 (Madras Ordinance IV of 1953), is hereby repealed.

(2) Notwithstanding such repeal, anything done or any action taken in the exercise of any power conferred by or under the said Ordinance shall be deemed to have been done or taken in the exercise of the powers conferred by or under this Act, as if this Act were in force on the day on which such thing was done or action was taken.

THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

THE STATE CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETIES (RECONSTITUTION AND FORMATION) BILL, 1954 (L.A. BILL NO. 1 OF 1954) (AS PASSED BY THE ASSEMBLY).

THE HON. DR. U. KRISHNA RAO :—“ Sir, I move—

‘ That the State Co-operative Societies (Reconstitution and Formation) Bill^a, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 1 of 1954), as passed by the Legislative Assembly be taken into consideration.’

Sir, the partition of this State necessitated the reconstitution of the three State co-operative institutions, that is, the State Co-operative Bank, the Co-operative Central Land Mortgage Bank and the State Handloom Weavers' Society. An Ordinance—The Madras State Co-operative Societies (Reconstitution and Formation) Ordinance, 1953 (Madras Ordinance II of 1953), was, therefore, issued providing for the reconstitution of these societies by excluding from their area of operation the territory now comprised in the Andhra State and for the formation of the new societies for the said territory. The then existing societies have accordingly been reconstituted and new societies have been formed. As the Ordinance will cease to operate at the expiration of six weeks from the reassembly of the Legislature, it has become necessary to enact legislation to give permanent effect to the acts done and decisions taken in pursuance of the Ordinance. The Bill which is before this House achieves this object. I, therefore, move that this Bill be taken into consideration."

^a Printed as Appendix on pages 10-11 infra.

[Dr. U. Krishna Rao] [7th January 1954]

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" Motion moved—

'That the State Co-operative Societies (Reconstitution and Formation) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 1 of 1954), as passed by the Legislative Assembly, be taken into consideration.'

DR. V. K. JOHN :—" I feel, Sir, that further information or fuller information should have been given to this House. I have read a copy of the Ordinance, dated the 4th September 1953. That Ordinance provides for general body meetings of these various societies and their consent being taken for reconstitution. Now the Hon. Minister does not tell us whether general body meetings have taken place, whether consent was taken, or whether the vote was unanimous or whether it went before a judge. If the reconstitution was with the consent of the general body, I do not see any reason why there should be an enactment binding on the members and the creditors, because, general body meetings have taken place, and the general bodies concerned have decided to reconstitute the societies. So, fuller information as to how the Ordinance was worked out should have been given to this House to enable the House to know the need for this enactment. Secondly, the Ordinance provides that the guarantee of the Government for the liability of these various societies would still continue. As a matter of information, I want to know whether the guarantee of the Madras Government continues in the case of the newly constituted societies in Andhra. We would like to know this. I feel that, if these societies were reconstituted with the consent of the share-holders, this enactment is unnecessary and superfluous."

SRI S. NARASAPAYA :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, while fully supporting the Bill moved by the Hon. Minister for Co-operation, I think it will not be out of place, if I take this opportunity to bring to the notice of the Government and to this House one or two matters in particular which have come into being as a result of the splitting up of this composite bank. At the time of the separation of the Madras State, the Madras State Co-operative Bank was functioning for the entire State and advanced various sums of money to the District Central Co-operative Banks. One such bank which had taken a large sum of money was the Bellary District Central Co-operative Bank. At the time of partition a sum of Rs. 18 lakhs was due from this bank to the Madras State Co-operative Bank. That debt remains unpaid even to-day. Formerly the Registrar of Co-operative Societies had jurisdiction over the Bellary District Co-operative Bank. After partition he has no control over that bank and he can do nothing to recover the debt.

"The Bellary District Co-operative Bank which borrowed the money had in its turn advanced this money to the various co-operative societies in the undivided Bellary district. A sum of about Rs. 12 lakhs was advanced to societies which are existing and functioning in the three taluks of Adoni, Rayadurg and Alur which have now gone to the Andhra State and Rs. 6 lakhs to societies in seven other taluks in Mysore State. Now, the Andhra State Co-operative Bank cannot take responsibility to pay the debt because it has no jurisdiction over these seven taluks. The Bellary Central Bank has no jurisdiction over the banks in the other three taluks and they refuse to undertake responsibility to pay the debt due from those societies. So, the sum of Rs. 18 lakhs remains unpaid even now since three States, namely the Mysore, Andhra and Madras States are involved in this matter. Therefore there is no use of taking up the matter for discussion at the lower levels. It is a matter which has to be taken up and dealt with at Government level. I bring this to the notice of the Government so that necessary steps might be taken in consultation with the Governments concerned to recover the sum of Rs. 18 lakhs that is due to the Madras State Co-operative Bank.

"There is another matter which I wish to bring to the notice of the House and the Government. Hon. Members are well aware that in co-operative banking there are different grades of societies and banks with very well-defined areas of operation. In the villages we have the village co-operative bank, in the districts we have the district co-operative bank and in the State we have the State co-operative bank. The Madras State Co-operative Bank was operating and functioning for the entire State of Madras. Now it is operating over the entire residuary Madras State or the Madras State, as it is now called. Another co-operative bank was started for the Andhra State with the definite object of serving the Andhra area. It is necessary that each co-operative bank should function within its area of operation. Now the Andhra Co-operative Bank intends opening a branch of that bank in the Madras City. Now this will result in unhealthy competition and a lot of complications because they will be infringing the fundamental principle of co-operative banking, namely, the area of operation of one society or bank should not extend into the area of operation of another bank or society. For example if a village society is lending money to its members, the district bank should not come in there; similarly, the State Bank cannot come into the jurisdiction of the district bank or society. So the area of operation of these banks are very well defined and kept exclusive of one another. So far as the Madras State is concerned if any one society or bank should infringe upon the area of operation of another society or bank there is the Registrar of Co-operative Societies who comes and says: 'Your area of operation is this. You cannot go out of your area.' So far as the Andhra Bank is concerned the Registrar of Co-operative Societies, Madras, has no jurisdiction over the bank. Even in ordinary banking business, branches can be opened only after obtaining the permission of the Reserve Bank of India. The Reserve Bank refuses permission to open a branch if there is a possibility of competition or complications arising as a result of the opening of a branch in a particular locality. But the Reserve Bank has no hold upon co-operative banks. If it is the branch of a bank functioning within the State then the Registrar of Co-operative Societies can supervise the work of the bank and see that no complications arise. But the branch proposed to be opened in Madras City is that of a co-operative bank of a different State over which the Registrar of Co-operative Societies of the Madras State will have no jurisdiction. It is Government alone that can take suitable action in this matter. Unfortunately there is a lacuna in the Co-operative Societies Act of the Madras State. There is no provision in it prohibiting another State Co-operative Bank opening a branch in this City. It does not also say that the entire Madras State must be under the exclusive jurisdiction of the Madras State Co-operative Bank. It is time Government looked into this matter. As it is, they cannot prohibit the Andhra State Co-operative Bank from opening its branch here. They must therefore immediately bring in necessary amendments to the Act and prevent the Andhra State Co-operative Bank opening a branch in the City. It may be asked: 'Why should the Andhra State Co-operative Bank be prevented from opening a branch? Why should they not be allowed to open a branch?' If they are allowed to open a branch, a lot of complications will arise as I said already. The fundamental idea of co-operation is that there should not be competition between two co-operative institutions. If the Andhra State Co-operative Bank is allowed to open a branch here there is bound to be competition in the matter of deposits, in the matter of lending and so on. The Registrar of Co-operative Societies, Madras, cannot supervise the work of the branch of the Andhra State Co-operative Bank. It is therefore not proper to allow the Andhra State Co-operative Bank to open a branch here. It is time and right too for the Madras Government to prevent the opening of a branch under the existing laws or if necessary by bringing in suitable amendments to the existing Act.

"With these observations, which I hope the Government will take note of, I support the Bill moved by the Hon. Minister for Co-operation."

SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, I am really indebted to the previous speaker for the points that he has put forward. The principle of the Bill which separated the original State Co-operative Bank into two banks was that each separated bank will have responsibility for the loans and other things that were given in their respective areas. I think this principle was also accepted by the general body meeting of the separated banks. That being so, if the Bellary District Co-operative Bank went to the Mysore Government they take the liability or at least the responsibility of supervising the work of the banks there, which had taken loans in that area. Similarly the Andhra Government will take responsibility for the banks within its jurisdiction. That being so, I do not know how the question of recovering the 18 lakhs of rupees can arise at all. I am unable to see the point raised by my hon. Friend. Because he is connected with the bank as a member of the Managing Committee he will be able to explain it further with the permission of the Chairman. As regards the principle he has enunciated, I agree with him. But, what I want to know is this. Who will suffer by the Andhra State Co-operative Bank opening a bank here? Under the Co-operative Societies Act, the Registrar of Co-operative Societies has got the power to have these matters examined, by an arbitrator or anything like that, pass awards and have the awards summarily executed as between the banks and the parties which come under the Act. If as was stated by the hon. Member, the Andhra Registrar of Co-operative Societies has no jurisdiction over the branch to be opened in Madras, it follows that the branch here taking deposits or granting loans to third parties may not be able to recover the amounts summarily which they can do under the Act. It is the Andhra State Co-operative Bank that will suffer if they open a branch here.

"Perhaps they want to take a risk, thinking that even if it is so, they will still take steps to open a branch and also think of suing in ordinary courts of law for the purpose of recovering loans which they may advance to persons in the Madras City. It is a risk that they are taking and I do not know why they are taking it. We do not know the motive behind it. Perhaps they want to claim that Madras City still belongs to the Andhras and that it is a City jointly owned by Andhras and Tamils. Is it their idea to keep alive that controversy? It may be that way or it may be from the commercial point of view. Perhaps, they do not want to forgo the advantage of having a branch here and receiving deposits from the Andhra people of this City. After all, any bank can open a branch here. There is nothing to prevent it. But the depositors must be aware that if it is a co-operative bank, they have got the right to ask the Registrar of Co-operative Societies to supervise the working of the bank from time to time. If the Andhra State Co-operative Bank opens a branch here, they would be taking a risk and perhaps they will gain more here by receiving large deposits from the Telugu-speaking people here. As my hon. Friend has suggested, the Government must take steps in respect of this matter and even correspond with the Andhra Government. It is a valuable suggestion and nothing should be done against co-operative principles. I, therefore, endorse all that has been said by the previous speaker and support the Bill."

[7th January 1954]

SRI P. N. MARTHANDAM PILLAI :—“ Mr. Chairman, Sir, I do not see any difference between an Andhra State Co-operative Bank to be opened here and the Hyderabad Bank which has been opened. The British Government can open a bank here. The Government of the United States of America can open a bank here. If the bank is called a co-operative bank, we are not in the least affected by it. It may not come within the jurisdiction of the Registrar of Co-operative Societies, Madras. Therefore, the naming of a bank as a co-operative bank need not offend us. It is an independent institution. We are not concerned whether they call it a co-operative bank or some other bank. Our Acts do not apply to it. Our Registrar of Co-operative Societies is not going to have jurisdiction over it. As the hon. Member, Sri Bhashyam, has pointed out, the Andhra Co-operative Bank is taking a risk and, therefore, there is no point in saying that the Andhra Co-operative Bank should not open a branch here.”

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—“ Sir, with regard to the question, whether the Andhra State Co-operative Bank can open a branch here, I confess, I have not studied it. As far as ordinary banks are concerned, there is an all-India Act, under which they can be constituted and certainly they have got the liberty to open branches anywhere in the country and carry on their banking operations. But, as far as co-operative banks are concerned, they are the creatures of State Acts and those Acts can apply only within the State. There is no question of extra-territorial application of any State Act. That being so, that bank can operate only within the area where that Act has validity and force. Certainly it cannot come from outside the State and operate here under a law which is not applicable to it. Therefore, I have got very serious doubts whether they are right in opening a branch here at all. That is a matter for consideration and certainly we shall take note of it and have it properly examined. I think, we should, if necessary, correspond with the Andhra Government and arrive at a settlement in regard to this matter. But my own view is, if it is possible, this should not be allowed to happen here. It is not as if it is an ordinary bank but it is a co-operative bank and we will have to examine the matter fully.

“ Sir, with reference to Rs. 18 lakhs borrowed by the Bellary District Co-operative Bank, my hon. Colleague will deal with it. I think, even with reference to that, the Andhra Act is applicable so far as the guarantees are concerned.”

SRI S. NARASAPAYA :—“ The Hospet Co-operative Bank is outside the Andhra area.”

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—“ If this amount of Rs. 18 lakhs has nothing to do with the Andhra Act, we will have to refer the matter to the President who will intervene and pass orders on it. My hon. Colleague will deal with the other matters mentioned by the hon. Members.”

7th January 1954]

THE HON. DR. U. KRISHNA RAO :—“ Sir, I thank the hon. Members for their valuable suggestions. The hon. Member, Dr. John, wanted more information on the necessity for the Ordinance. Sir, the Ordinance was issued for the purpose of overcoming any objections that might be raised or any point of view that might have arisen as a result of partition of the State. Luckily, nothing has happened and the division took place most amicably and there was no necessity for either the Registrar to intervene or to seek the help of a High Court Judge. It was only as a safeguard that the matter relating to the intervention of the Registrar or the High Court Judge was mentioned. Since that catastrophe did not occur, it does not find a place in the Bill itself.

“ With regard to guarantees, surely all the guarantees that we are making are only for the Residuary State. The Andhra Government will give guarantees with regard to the banks in the Andhra area.

“ With regard to the points raised by the hon. Member, Sri Narasapaya, my hon. Colleague, the Finance Minister, has answered them. We have also written to the Mysore Government pointing out the difficulties mentioned by the hon. Member and asked them to undertake the necessary legislative measure and see that any lacuna is rectified. They wrote back to us saying that the matter is receiving their most urgent attention but actually we have not received any information about the action taken in respect of this matter.

“ As regards the opening of a branch of the Andhra State Co-operative Bank in the Madras City, the hon. Member will see from the discussion in this House itself, that there are many opinions on this question. The hon. Member who pointed out the consequences of opening the branch here also referred to the lacuna in the Act which does not give the State enough power to prevent it. As my hon. Friend, Mr. Bhashyam, and the Finance Minister have made it clear, perhaps the Bank is taking a big risk in the matter and it may not be desirable. In this connexion, I must say that I was aware of this matter only this morning and I have not had enough time to consult my departmental officials on this matter and see whether any political aspect is involved or the interests of the depositors in this State are affected. I will examine and do what is needful in the matter. I can only say that, at this moment, I have no official intimation of the branch being opened here.

“ But, whether in the general political interest it is feasible to permit such a bank to function here is another matter. It has got to be taken up at the State level and discussed at ministerial and Governmental level. I cannot answer now what will be the result of that discussion. I can only give an assurance that I shall initiate that correspondence and I hope it will be fruitful to us. Both these points are really outside the purview of this Bill because it is only intended to validate the Ordinance and to see that the division is made properly and the guarantees for the existing shareholders are continued. I feel that with the assurance given on these two vital points as also with the assurance that my hon. Colleague, the Finance Minister and I have given on the other points, the hon. Members will pass this Bill unanimously."

Mr. CHAIRMAN :—" The question is—

' That the State Co-operative Societies (Reconstitution and Formation) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 1 of 1954), as passed by the Legislative Assembly, be taken into consideration.' "

The motion was carried.

Clauses 2 to 4 were put and carried.

Clause 1 and the Preamble were put and carried.

THE HON. DR. U. KRISHNA RAO :—" Sir, I move—

APPENDIX

L.A. BILL No. 1 OF 1954.

(As passed by the Assembly.)

A Bill to give permanent effect to the reconstitution and formation of State Co-operative Societies in the State of Madras.

WHEREAS, in pursuance of the Madras State Co-operative Societies (Reconstitution and Formation) Ordinance, 1953 (Madras Ordinance II of 1953), each of the following societies, that is to say, the Madras State Co-operative Bank, Limited, the Madras Co-operative Central Land Mortgage Bank, Limited, and the Madras State Handloom Weavers' Co-operative Society, Limited, was reconstituted by excluding from its area of operations, the territory now comprised in the State of Andhra and with the said territory as their area of operations, three new societies, called the Andhra Co-operative Bank, the Andhra Co-operative Central Land Mortgage Bank and the Andhra Handloom Weavers' Co-operative Society, were formed;

AND WHEREAS it is necessary to give permanent effect to the reconstitution of the then existing societies and the formation of the new societies;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title, extent and commencement.—(1) This Act may be called the State Co-operative Societies (Reconstitution and Formation) Act, 1954.

(2) It extends to the whole of the State of Madras.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

7th January 1954]

2. Definitions.—In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context—

(a) 'Ordinance' means the Madras State Co-operative Societies (Reconstitution and Formation) Ordinance, 1953 (Madras Ordinance II of 1953);

(b) 'the then existing societies' means the Madras State Co-operative Bank, Limited, the Madras Co-operative Central Land Mortgage Bank, Limited, and the Madras State Handloom Weavers' Co-operative Society, Limited, as they existed on the date of the promulgation of the Ordinance;

(c) 'reconstituted societies' means the Madras State Co-operative Bank, Limited, the Madras Co-operative Central Land Mortgage Bank, Limited, and the Madras State Handloom Weavers' Co-operative Society, Limited, as reconstituted in pursuance of the Ordinance;

(d) 'new societies' means the Andhra Co-operative Bank, the Andhra Co-operative Central Land Mortgage Bank and the Andhra Handloom Weavers' Co-operative Society;

(e) 'corresponding new society' means the Andhra Co-operative Bank in relation to the reconstituted Madras Co-operative Bank, Limited, the Andhra Co-operative Central Land Mortgage Bank in relation to the reconstituted Madras Co-operative Central Land Mortgage Bank, Limited, and the Andhra Handloom Weavers' Co-operative Society in relation to the reconstituted Madras State Handloom Weavers' Co-operative Society, Limited.

3. Acts done under Ordinance to be effective and binding on share-holders and creditors.—The reconstitution of the then existing societies, the registration of changes in their by-laws consequent on the reconstitution of the said societies, the formation of the new societies and their registration, the division of assets and liabilities as between, in each case, the reconstituted society and the corresponding new society, the terms and conditions subject to which such division of assets and liabilities was made, the adjustments of rights, liabilities and guarantees, and the creation, transfer and allotment of liabilities as between, in each case, the reconstituted society and the corresponding new society and all acts done and decisions made in pursuance of the Ordinance shall, in all respects be effective and binding on all the share-holders and the creditors of each of the then existing societies, the share-holders and the creditors of each of the reconstituted societies and the Government of the State of Madras.

4. Act to override certain enactments.—The provisions of this Act shall have effect, notwithstanding anything to the contrary, in the Madras Co-operative Societies Act, 1932 (Madras Act VI of 1932), and the Madras Co-operative Land Mortgage Banks Act, 1934 (Madras Act X of 1934).

(L.A. BILL NO. 12 OF 1953)—DISCUSSION—cont.

THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Thursday, 7th January 1954.

The House met in the Assembly Chamber, Government Estate, Mount Road, at nine of the clock, Mr. Speaker (THE HON. SRI J. SIVASHANMUGAM PILLAI) in the Chair.

SRI A. APPU :—“ Mr. Speaker, Sir, I was a member of the Joint Select Committee. I have appended a minute of dissent to the report of that Committee and my object is to make the Members of the House know something about the history of the tenancy problem in the Malabar district. No doubt, the Bill as it has emerged from the Select Committee is a good one. But it will not solve the problem. I am not an expert. But I have consulted persons of experience and high position in Government service such as Judges and so on. Their view is that unless the tenants are given permanent fixity of tenure and the janmis assured of fair rent, the problem cannot be solved at all. There is still agitation going on in Malabar. I have traced the history of tenancy agitation in Malabar from 1881 onwards in my dissenting minute. But it has a still older history. I had an opportunity of going through Government publications dating from 1749 onwards. There was agitation in those times also, and there were a number of cases of murder and arson. In the taluks of Wynaad and Waluvanad, Muslims form a majority of the population. As a result of persecution by janmis, there were Moplah risings on several occasions. On these occasions, several janmis were killed. In 1921 there was a Moplah rebellion in which several janmis were beheaded. I know of certain instances in which big janmis were taken to the river sides and their heads were cut off. Such unhappy incidents were common till 1921. Fortunately, there has been no such incidents after that year. I submit that unless the tenants are given fixity of tenure, the problem can never be solved. I am prepared to pay any fair rent to the janmi.

“ My hon. Friend Sri Sankara Varma Raja said that he belongs to a very rich janmi family, that he is paying an assessment of about Rs. 15,000 and that his annual income is only Rs. 5,000. I know that he belongs to a very respectable and good janmi family, and his rent is nominal in some cases. But I submit that he is not paying the assessment; the assessment is paid by the tenants under a contract between the janmi and the tenant.

“ I was surprised to read the dissenting minute of Mr. Gopala Menon. He does not want ulkudidars to be given any rights at all. Ulkudidars have been suffering a lot for a very long time; they are practically slaves. Mr. Gopala Menon comes from an area where there are a very large number of ulkudidars. He himself is a big landlord, he has inherited lands from his own family and from his wife's side. I understand that there are more than two hundred ulkudidars in his estate. I do not say he is a bad landlord. He does not give any trouble to his ulkudidars. But I know that he is worried by other landlords in the district to see that ulkudidars are not given any right at all. Unless they are given fixity of tenure, there will be a good lot of trouble. I submit that they should be given fixity of tenure in respect of their ulkudis just as the tenants are given fixity of tenure in respect of their holdings.

“ Mr. Seethi Sahib and Mr. Narayana Kurup gave a very good account of the actual conditions in Malabar. I entirely agree with them and I do not want to repeat what they said and waste the time of the House.

“ Provision has been made in the Bill to enable landlords to evict their tenants in certain cases. I submit that this will give further trouble. There are more than seven thousand eviction suits pending before the courts now. Whether the eviction is bona fide or mala fide, janmis will resort to filing suits in courts. If a janmi files a suit, the tenants will not be able to defend themselves. All of us know that the expenses in a civil court are very high. Tenants as a class are very poor and they cannot defend themselves. If they defend themselves, they will get ruined. I submit that sections 14 and 20 of the Act should be repealed. Otherwise there will be no safety for the tenants at all.

(At this stage, Deputy Speaker occupied the Chair.)

“ Under the old Act, a janmi could evict his tenant for bona fide purposes. There was a case in the High Court in which the Judge held that bona fide purposes included sending of children to England and other places. It was to avoid such interpretation that the provision was modified. In this Bill, it is provided that a tenant could be evicted if eviction becomes necessary for meeting the primary needs of the landlord. It is a good thing. That suggestion came from the Hon. Chief Minister and I am very thankful to him for the lively interest he has taken in the matter. If he had not taken a lively interest in our affairs, I am sure the Bill could not have been as satisfactory as it is now. I read a leader written by The Mail yesterday in which the scope of the term 'primary needs' had been discussed. I submit that an explanation should be added so that the term 'primary needs' may include only absolute needs for maintenance and clothing and not anything else. However, I shall leave it to the Hon. the Chief Minister to decide what explanation should be given to the term 'primary needs'.

[Sri A. Appu]

"I know an instance in Kurumbranad taluk in which a tenant was given on lease about 150 acres of waste lands. His forefathers improved those lands and planted the entire area with coconut trees. It is a very good garden and now there is a case pending for eviction of this tenant from the garden. What the janmi has done is this. He transferred the janmam right to his daughter for a nominal amount and this daughter has filed a suit for eviction of the tenant. Such cases are common in the district. It was to avoid such cases that the hon. Member Sri Seethi suggested that alienees should not be given an opportunity to evict the tenants in such circumstances. So, I submit that there should be a special provision in the Bill that alienees should not be allowed to evict the tenants in such circumstances.

"I have nothing more to add and I shall make my remarks about other matters when the Bill is taken up for discussion, clause by clause. Thank you, Sir."

SRI N. GOPALA MENON :—"On a point of personal explanation, Sir. My hon. Friend Sri Appu unnecessarily dragged my name in his speech and said that I was against ulkudidars being given any fixity of tenure and all that. Those who were present here and listened to my speech yesterday, would have noted that I did not utter a single word about ulkudidars. But in my dissenting note to the Report of the Joint Select Committee, I have said that ulkudidars are given higher rights than even tenants. It is regrettable that my hon. Friend should have said that I am against ulkudidars and so on, which is not at all warranted either by the speech that I delivered yesterday or by my dissenting note."

SRI A. APPU :—"In his speech the hon. Member said that our forefathers might have given our lands to the tenants. It is well known that we should not be allowed to evict them."

DEPUTY SPEAKER :—"The hon. Member Sri V. R. Krishna Ayyar will now speak."

(Sri V. R. Krishna Ayyar was sitting on the front Opposition Bench.)

[7th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—"Sir, I do not mind hon. Members sitting anywhere they like when they do not participate in the debate. But the convention should be that hon. Members, when they deliver speeches at least, should remain in their seats. That is a convention which is being followed in all Houses."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—"Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, on this question of Malabar tenancy, hon. Members coming from Malabar have expressed considerable dissent as reflected in the Report of the Joint Select Committee and in the speeches delivered up till now. I am sure that this will be given serious consideration by hon. Members who do not come from Malabar and who, therefore, perhaps may not be posted with the details of local conditions in Malabar so much as hon. Members coming from that area. I am sure that hon. Members from other districts will bestow sufficient attention on this matter and post themselves with the actual conditions so that they may be in a real position to judge the relative merits of the contentions put forward here by the Government on the one side and by hon. Members sitting in the Opposition and also sitting on the Congress Benches in part. One might have been noticing with perhaps a little surprise that the last speaker, Sri Appu, a Member sitting on the Congress side, had been putting forward a case which, if one would seriously consider, would show the intrinsic merit of the contentions put forward. (Interruption.) (The Hon. Sri C. Rajagopalachari : 'He is just sitting on the Congress side.') The Congress side being associated with the landlords' side and the landlords' side being championed efficiently by the Government, of course, Sri Appu is just sitting on the Congress side, because that is the only way one can annotate the statement of the Hon. the Chief Minister. But in fact, it is clear and absolutely certain that, whether one is returned as a Member on the Congress ticket or on the Muslim League ticket, the Hon. the Chief Minister has considerable regard for the Deputy Leader and the Leader of the Muslim League Party. They are not revolutionaries; they are not likely to be carried away by mere sentiment; they are not likely to be influenced and they will not succumb to the vote-catching devices which are the lower methods of mere democrats and not of those who are here without the aid of elections. Now, the Muslim League, a very sober party and representing also landlords and tenants in the country, some of the Congress Members—Sri Appu is one of the Members returned from Malabar on the Congress ticket—the Praja-Socialist Party, represented by its leaders, some of whom have already expressed their views on the floor of the House, Independent Members, Members of the Communist Party and others have all voiced their opposition to the measure or the amendments brought in here. So, this question calls for serious consideration. That is my point. Hon. Members from other districts will certainly not assume that the Government must have considered all aspects at the Joint Select Committee stage, that there must have been some discussion, that therefore whatever is recommended by the Government or whatever Bill has been brought up, with such amendments as they have chosen to accept, should be to the benefit of all the interests concerned and must be a kind of justice, and that it may be readily accepted. That kind of complacent attitude may not be adopted. Here, it is a case where grave suspicions or doubts are attached to the attitude taken up by the Government. Now, the opposition to this measure is coming not merely from all the political parties in Malabar but also from the Congress Party itself in particular. Therefore, I call upon hon. Members to bestow serious reflection on this issue and come to a decision. Of course, the Members coming from Malabar are few comparatively and, therefore, they may not be able to influence the majority decision here. But they can speak out their minds and impress their views on others so much so that other hon. Members can accept their verdict on the merits of the contentions put forward. There is one very important thing that must be remembered in this connection. It is the tendency to underrate every argument on the ground of vote-catching or just trying to gather support from the people. That is, if I may say so, a fling at democracy altogether. It may be that vote-catching is the motive that is imputed. But the real position is that people do not throw away their votes but that they vote only for those who champion their interests. This Bill is for the commonalty and is decided upon by the majority votes here. The majority votes here depend, in some measure, upon the minority having confidence in the majority and their right action. Therefore, it is quite clear that we must consider the view of the minority. The majority may be there. But the vested interests should not find special favour with the Government. We must consider what exactly makes for the common weal or the welfare of the common lot or the ordinary people. If that be the outlook, there can hardly be any doubt that more and more ameliorative provisions must be introduced in the Malabar Tenancy Act.

"One fundamental difference—it is not exactly fundamental but one major difference—between the system of tenure in Malabar and that prevalent elsewhere in the Madras State is this. So far as Malabar is concerned, absentee landlordism is the rule. The landlord, whether he lives close by or far away, has absolutely no interest in the land at all. All that he does is to collect the rent. He is not interested in better farming, better manuring and better irrigational facilities being provided there. It is all entirely the concern of the ryot. The improvements made therein, in the majority of cases, will be by the tenant. The cultivation, manner of cultivation, things cultivated, the kind of improvements made and all those things will practically be the responsibility of the tenant and the landlord is there only to collect the rent. He is only concerned with his unearned income, viz., the rents that he collects from the tenants. Absentee landlordism in Malabar is something different from what hon. Members from other parts of the State imagine. They are not a humble lot just putting up with all kinds of legislation passed in the Legislature. It is not a question of taking away or depleting their rights. They are as tenacious of their rights as any other landlord in other parts of the State. However, it is a fact that they are not doing anything towards production. They do not contribute anything towards the productive factor. That is a reality which cannot be denied and which everyone will have to accept. They are mainly landlords, having inherited or got at property and are called janmis. This system of ancient janmis is not prevalent anywhere else except in Malabar. As I said, they do not take any interest in the cultivation of the land, but only collect the rent. That is why we see in Malabar these landlords filing suits for 50 years' arrears. I do not think that anybody in Tamilnad would have come across cases where the landlords claim 50 years' arrears. But in Malabar these landlords do file suits for collection of 50 years' arrears—and even 100 years' may not be unknown—and also evict the tenants when they find it difficult to pay the 50 years' arrears. Irrespective of the fact that the tenants might have spent quite a large amount in improving the land in the course of many years, they are sought to be driven away from the land when they find it impossible to pay the 50 years' arrears to the landlords. This is one of the reasons why hon. Members coming from Malabar seek to impress upon the hon. Members of the Legislature that it is really the tenant who is vitally interested in production, who is cultivating the land and who is making improvements to the land. He is the person who has cast his lot with the land and who has bound himself to the land. That is why we plead so much for certain rights being conferred on him. Certain plenary rights to the land have got to be conferred on these tenants who are the actual tillers of the soil and who are called upon to pay enormous rents to the landlords who have no interest in the land and who do nothing in the process of production, but merely extract rent, huge rents from the poor, toiling tenants.

"Sir, coming to the actual amendments that have been brought up here, there are quite a few controversial matters and I wish to dwell upon one or two of them. The various Opposition Members including, I suppose, the Congress Member I have adverted to, have been asking for one provision which has been tenaciously resisted by the Government. It is this. Suppose the landlord and tenant enter into an agreement with regard to the rent that the tenant has to pay. The present provision in the Bill that has been brought before the House with reference to fair rent will work in such a manner that in many cases, particularly in the case of garden lands, the rent will be multiplied by 2, 3, 5 and even 10 times. Where a person may have been paying Rs. 5, he will have to pay Rs. 50 in some cases according to the fair rent provision. There has not been any agitation on the part of the landlords that their rents should be increased. The Government must come to the help of the weaker sections in such cases. The principle of the many relief measures and social reform measures, such as the Factories Act, is to help the weaker sections. Here in this case, the weaker party is the tenant. So he should be helped as against the landlord. He has to get relief from the Government as against the landlord. Where the fair rent goes higher, on account of the operation of the fair rent provision, than the contract rent, the tenant should be allowed to pay only the contract rent and the landlord should not be allowed to collect the higher rent, viz., the fair rent according to the provisions of the present Bill. That is why we have given notice of amendments in regard to this provision to the effect that it should be provided that the landlord should collect contract rent or fair rent whichever is less. All the political parties in Malabar have been agitating for this provision. All kisan organizations have also been saying that there is necessity for adopting such a provision. I do not know why the Government could not agree to such a provision. Furthermore, the background is quite clear. There has never been an agitation by the landlords for increasing the rent. They were content with the contract rent all the time and there is no real point in having a provision in the Bill which will make them collect increased rent from the tenants. Under these circumstances, I humbly commend to the House the acceptance of the amendment that we have given notice of, in regard to this matter, so that the poor tenants may be enabled to pay either the contract rent or the fair rent, whichever is less.

"I now come to another thorny question, viz., eviction of tenants. It is not possible to have a simple rule or a clear provision to the effect that there will be no eviction at all. I agree that it may not be possible. The pattern of holdings is somewhat complicated. Generally speaking, an average tenant who has a minimum holding must not be disturbed from his holding. It has been suggested that 5 acres would be a fairly optimum size of holding beyond which alone a tenant could be disturbed by way of eviction. Even in respect of the tenants who own lands in excess of 5 acres, we have got to recognise one fact. There are tenants who have large extents of land and they too may have large cultivation. Such people need not be masquerading as tenants and pleading disabilities. There is also a large section of petty landholders. On account of the division of families, a number of small landholders have come up. They may have only a few acres and may have hardly anything to fall back upon. Provision may have to be made for such poor landholders also, so that there may be a sensible scheme for eviction. Poor tenants with very small holdings should be protected from eviction. But in the case of big tenants owning enormous extents of land, the petty landlords may be allowed to evict them in certain circumstances and with certain limitations. If some such provisions and safeguards are made, there may be a general contentment in respect of eviction clauses."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"I have been listening to the constructive suggestion made by the hon. Member. But, could we make a discrimination like that? I would like the hon. Member to throw some light on this point."

7th January 1954]

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—"If the Hon. Chief Minister has in mind the Constitution and the articles relating to discrimination mentioned in it, in my humble view there is nothing illegal and there is nothing offending the Constitution. Equality before law always permits classification. The law certainly permits classification in certain matters. Petty landholders who have really nothing to fall back upon and own only a small acreage of land can be classified as one group and the small tenants who cultivate only a small acreage of land can be classified as another group. There is no discrimination in classifying those tenants owning 5 acres and less as one class and classifying those tenants who have 50 or 100 acres as a different class. This will not offend the Constitution. Reasonable classification is permissible and it is not discrimination. Therefore I suggest that some such remedy may be evolved and suitable amendments may be incorporated to this clause dealing with evictions. Generally speaking, eviction as a rule must be tightened up and should not be permitted. However, necessary safeguards for small and petty landholders and small tenants have got to be provided in the manner suggested by me just now.

"Regarding ulkudis, hon. Member, Sri Appu, has dealt with this subject at great length. He also dealt with the speech made by my hon. Friend, Mr. Gopala Menon. I do not think there is much more to be said about Sri Gopala Menon's point in the light of the exposure made this morning.

"There has been considerable dispute regarding fair rents from wet lands. The Hon. Leader of the Opposition, while dealing with this subject observed that one of the important considerations that might arise will be the question as to what should be the cultivation expenses. If I can claim to possess some integrity, I can give particulars regarding the actual position in North Malabar. The cultivation expense which is provided as 22 paras is not at all adequate. It is not an exaggeration if I say that actually it will be anything between 30 and 40 paras. One might wonder at this. But it is the real fact. The fact remains that the wet lands in North Malabar are not fertile and are very poor in quality and they require considerable improvement at great expenditure. Moreover, the wages are also high in North Malabar. The same cannot be said of South Malabar where conditions differ. So far as North Malabar is concerned, anything between 30 and 40 paras by way of cultivation expenses must be provided, as 22 paras now provided is hardly adequate. This should not be extended to the whole of the Malabar district in view of the fact that conditions obtaining in North Malabar district are quite different from those obtaining in the other part of the district.

"Regarding fair rent in respect of garden lands, I suggest that there should be a reduction. In respect of arecanut gardens under the existing Malabar Tenancy Act, the fair rent is one-eighth of the produce whereas in respect of coconut gardens it is one-sixth. I suggest that this anomaly be removed. If a tenant who grows arecanut trees in large numbers need pay only one-eighth, I see no reason why he should pay one-sixth when he grows coconut trees whose cultivation is also an equally difficult process, perhaps a more expensive one also. So, I would request the Government to reduce the fair rent on coconut garden lands to the level of arecanut garden lands.

"In respect of pepper gardens, the present provision is that one-fifth of the produce constitutes fair rent in respect of dry or waste lands. The Hon. the Law Minister is trying to reduce it to one-sixth in his amending Bill before the House. What he forgets is this. In respect of garden lands, the landlord has given the land to the tenant as garden land and not waste land because the land is much better. The provision of fair rent is one-eighth of the pepper produce in respect of garden lands. When that is so, why is it fixed as one-sixth in respect of dry or waste lands? I am sure, the Hon. the Law Minister cannot defend himself against this argument. Where there are garden lands, which are a better type of lands, the fair rent is only one-eighth. Then why in respect of waste lands—jungle lands—whose cultivation involves arduous labour, the present provision is one-fifth which is sought to be reduced to one-sixth? I want this to be reduced to one-eighth of the produce.

"So, Sir, on these three points—fair rent, eviction and generally ulkudis—I want a progressive policy to be followed. I want also a progressive attitude on the part of hon. Members irrespective of party affiliations because this is a matter where there is no politics involved. I suggest that the artificial notions of justice be given up. We want that justice should be viewed as a social concept. After all, what was just yesterday is not just today. What was just a century ago is not just now. So, justice is a relative notion. A progressive notion of justice social conditions of the people. A progressive notion of justice would be better than an abstract notion thereof. Abstract legal rights may have had a particular meaning in the past but to-day society is not willing to concede it. I hope, hon. Members will adopt such a progressive attitude and will be perfectly free to vote for the amendments which the Opposition Members will move. I hope the Government also will revise their notions of justice and see that they accept our amendments."

from the dissenting minutes, I feel we have no regrets for not having offered our co-operation and for not having participated in the Select Committee meeting.

"From the dissenting minutes and also from the opinions expressed by Hon. Members on the floor of the House, I could cull a certain chorus of opposition to some of the main issues in the Bill. I mean particularly to the three main issues, viz., (1) the question of occupancy rights, (2) the fixation of fair-rent and (3) protection of ulkudis. These were the main issues against which the dissenting minutes are appended. These three main issues, for the proper solution of which the people of Malabar have all along been clamouring, have not been solved satisfactorily in the Bill that is now on the anvil here to-day. Then is it any wonder that we, who represent the people of Malabar, have been incessantly protesting against the Bill? Let me say a few words about each of these items.

"Let me first take the question of giving occupancy rights to tenants. Security is a factor which has played a very dominant part in the life of all peoples and of all nations. Human history has been a history of struggles for security. In every country, in every age and in every strata of society that struggle has been going on from time immemorial. As far as Malabar is concerned it has been an unending ceaseless and continuous struggle on the part of the peasant for security, for occupancy rights. This has been repeatedly pointed out by member after member hailing from Malabar. Numerous efforts were made in Malabar on various occasions by the Government of the time to study this question of giving security to the tenant. The first person to study the subject, as far as I know, was Mr. Logan. Logan's Manual is a valuable source of information on matters pertaining to the tenancy prevailing in Malabar. In that book, Mr. Logan has claimed that security should be accorded to the tiller of the soil in the interest of better production. Necessity for offering security for the tenant has been pointed out time and again by committees after committees appointed by the Government. I shall not go into details here. I only wish to point out that in the last enquiry conducted by the Kuttikrishna Menon Committee, Mr. Menon went a little further and pointed out that the owner of the land was not the janmi but it was the tiller of the land who should be considered as the owner of the land. Any legislation will only make a de facto situation de jure. The claim of ownership that the janmi makes is only one of force or of conquest. It is only the tiller of the soil who works from dawn to dusk that has any real title to the land. That is why I say that giving the tiller of the soil the ownership right will be only giving a legal recognition to a matter of fact position.

"In the Bill that is before the House now, security of tenure is provided for those tenants who have been in possession of the land for the last twelve years. That this is an improvement on the present Act, I concede. But it is defective in many ways and does not go far enough. In the first place, the time fixed is arbitrary. It may be urged that many undeserving persons may profit by this provision. It is also possible that deserving persons may be excluded. In the second place, the Act makes provision only for time and not for extent of acreage. This clause, perhaps the most crucial clause in the Act, fails to meet in a satisfactory way the basic demand of the people for occupancy rights. The most logical and perhaps the best thing to do is to concede outright occupancy right to the tiller of the soil. Perhaps the Congress Government may not be willing to go to that extent and may, therefore, venture to suggest that the acreage may be fixed as five acres and that occupancy rights may be given to those who hold five acres. I am quite aware and conscious of the fact that that also will create some problems but we can make the necessary adjustments. That is my submission. We are opposed to clause (5) of sections 14 and 20. We are for the complete deletion of it. As it is, a primary right is given for eviction and it is capable of being misused and abused by the landholder. We have been against it and we are still against it. The general consensus of public opinion is also against it. This question of occupancy rights is an important and ticklish problem, over which the minds of Members as well those of the people of Malabar are very much agitated and if a satisfactory compromise is not arrived at on that issue, I am sure, it will lead to terrible discontent in Malabar and awful uncertainty in the life of the peasant.

"The next question is that of fair rent. As has been pointed out, the problem of fair rent is very closely inter-related with that of fixity of tenure. If the question of fixity of tenure is satisfactorily settled, the question of fair rent becomes more easy of solution. It has been pointed out by one of the Special Officers appointed by the Government, Sri Raghavendara Rao, that the Malabar Tenancy problem can be solved to a very large extent if the question of security of tenure is satisfactorily solved. Eviction and threat of eviction, he contends, is the main source of worry and consequently of agrarian discontent. One must remember and particularly our Tamil Nad friends should remember the fact that the relationship between the landlord and the tenant in Malabar is quite different from what obtains in Tamil Nad. Even Sri Madhava Menon has accepted the fact that the landlord in Malabar absolutely does not give the least consideration to the tenant, that he advances not a single pie, that he gives no capital, that he supplies no manure and that he in no way helps the tenant. Therefore, when we talk of the relationship of landlord and tenant in Malabar, the average man from Tamil Nad is unable to understand it. The tenant in Malabar always lives under constant threat of being evicted. Because he is in danger of this constant threat, because he belongs to a low strata of society and has no resources, and because the landlord often drags him straightway to the court and at times to the High Court—after all, justice in the society as it is to-day constituted can be valued or estimated in terms of money and the heaviness of the bank balance—the tenant is incapable of fighting the landlord. Any provision regarding the fixation of fair rent will be unfair to the tenant under conditions that are obtaining in Malabar to-day and so long as he has no permanent occupancy rights, it will go very much against the tenant. We must always in tenancy legislation take into consideration the interest of the tenant more than that of the landlord. Otherwise, it will be against the very spirit of any tenancy legislation. That is all what I have to say about the fixation of fair rent.

“ I shall conclude with a few remarks about Ulkudis. The question of Ulkudis also seems to have agitated the minds of the Members of Malabar. It is a very vital problem to-day as far as Malabar is concerned. It has been pointed out that there are five lakhs of Harijans, who are poor, down-trodden, homeless and illiterate, with no means of earning a livelihood except through manual labour. The Government were generous in promising 15 cents of land for every Harijan. But I must confess this is a political stunt, for the Government have not got 15 cents of land to give to every Harijan in Malabar. More lands outside Malabar say in Tamil Nad have been allotted to the Harijans because Government have got in Tamil Nad plenty of poramboke lands to allot. That is why I claim that it is merely a political stunt to say that the Congress Government is giving 15 cents of land. I would like to ask a straight question: ‘ To how many Harijans have the Government given lands in Malabar? ’ The institution of ulkudi in Malabar is the product of occupational necessity and also of economic stress. If the Harijans had enough occupation and enough lands, the institution of ulkudi would not have arisen. Ulkudi is a kind of forced labour. The ulkudidar receives very low wages from the man who owns the land. A Harijan or non-Harijan, who lives in the ulkudi, has to be at the beck and call of his master all the twenty-four hours. He serves his master day in and day out. It is under those conditions that the institution of ulkudi has arisen in Malabar. Failure to make a satisfactory provision in the Tenancy Act in favour of the Ulkudi dweller will be unfair and will even be cruel. The provision that has been made, namely that he may be evicted from the ulkudi if land is given to him within the amsam is also unfair. Every man, who lives on his manual labour, has a certain area or field of work and if he is evicted from that area, naturally he is rendered helpless. An amsam may be three or four miles square and if an ulkudi dweller is asked to shift from his area of work and go to a place three or four miles away, he will be thrown into an environment where he will find it difficult to get work. Therefore, a provision should be made to give him land within a radius of half a mile or three-quarters of a mile from the ulkudi where he lives. The provision of three years is not a workable proposition. These persons cannot read and write. They know nothing of law and they will be unable to produce evidence. On the other hand, the landlord who gets the ulkudi dweller evicted from his property, will be able to produce plenty of evidence. These are considerations that should be borne in mind when any legislation is made affecting the ulkudidar. I wish to repeat once again that the ulkudis in Malabar are the result of occupational necessity and economic stress. If it is borne in mind that there is no land to be given to the ulkudi dwellers, I am sure the framers of this Bill will be much more considerate towards them. The Hon. Chief Minister was in Malabar recently, and I think he has sensed the feeling of the people there. He should have known how intensely they feel on this one issue. The Ministers are fully aware of the trouble created by the absence of a satisfactory Tenancy Act for the last so many years and by the stay orders. The Bill that has been brought up before this House now is very unsatisfactory. We were talking of Mr. Madhava Menon's Bill. The original draft Bill of Mr. Menon as it was introduced was far more acceptable to the people of Malabar than the Bill as it emerged from the Select Committee. I even make bold to say that the draft Bill of Mr. Madhava Menon as it was introduced is much more acceptable to the people of Malabar than the Bill that is on the anvil to-day. I therefore urge that the Malabar Tenancy Act as it is to-day should be thoroughly overhauled and made more acceptable to the people of Malabar. That is all I wish to say at this stage. I wish that the Congress Government would not use its majority to push through this Tenancy Act but that they would consider all aspects of the question.”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—“ Sir, it should be understood that I am not winding up the debate. The debate will be continued. I am only intervening to try if we can reduce the conflict and regulate the debate so that we may finish the Bill at this sitting. I think it is highly desirable that we should not let this matter be pending when we disperse after this sitting. We ought to be able to produce a Bill as approved by this House and wait for the other House to deal with it. It will be unfortunate if we disperse without concluding the consideration of this Bill in this sitting. I wish to mention how far we could go in meeting the criticisms of the various Members who have spoken. My hon. Colleague Sri Kuttikrishnan Nair has asked me to represent the position of the Government in that respect.

“ Before I come to the Bill, I would like to mention that Dr. K. B. Menon has not improved his position, as the complaint made by Mr. Gopala Menon still stands unrefuted in my opinion. Dr. Menon gave the reason for his Party's non-co-operation with the Joint Select Committee. The reason makes the position worse, in my opinion. He gave the reason that the members of his Party were convinced that nothing good could come out of this Government. That was the substance of what he said, whatever may be the language used. I am in the habit of putting things clearly though somewhat crudely and I hope hon. Members will forgive it. He has prejudged the issue in saying that nothing good could come out of this Government. I should think that is not fair. At any rate it is not expedient in the management of human affairs for any one to start with such a prejudice, when we have to get on with a Government and an Assembly with a mixed body of people. Though all our ideas may not coincide with the views of other groups still we can carry on our affairs successfully. I am sorry for his Party's non-co-operation. At the same time, I must remind hon. Members if they have forgotten it or tell hon. Members who do not know it that we took the step of inviting even the members of the Party to which Dr. Menon belongs and which he is leading to come even though they were not members of the Joint Select Committee. We had an informal meeting at which their views were heard. I was very gratified at the very harmonious and sweet atmosphere that prevailed during that informal conference and we dispersed in the same atmosphere. I am grateful to the gentlemen belonging to Dr. Menon's Party for this, even though formally they non-co-operated and have given rise to this issue.

"It has been said over and over again that the accepted principle of the Congress Party is, judging from the statements made on behalf of the Congress, that the tillers of the soil should be the owners of the land, and that the obstructions placed in the way of reaching that desirable termination are not good. It is true that tillers should be owners and owners should be tillers. But we should not imagine that that solves the difficulty. We are a rapidly increasing population. Whatever acreage we may fix now, and the admittedly difficult proposition was put forward that we might put the limit at five acres, immediately after that we will have more people and no lands to till. Our children and the children's families will grow up. We will have a large population who are willing to till the soil but who have no soil to till. It is easy enough to suggest that any one who happens to be a tiller of the soil in 1954 January should be made the owner of the land. It is far too simple a proposition, and is not a correct one. If the persons who are now the owners according to law, who have been exercising the rights of ownership and who have been admitted to be owners both by the Government and the people, become or are ready to become tillers of the soil, what is there wrong or unreasonable in that soil being handed over to the owner for tillage? Therefore, it is that provision was made in the previous amending Bills and is made in this Bill also to the effect that when a family becomes poor and the members of that family are willing to till the land which is their own for meeting their primary needs, it should be permitted. If that is done, the owner becomes the tiller or the tiller becomes the owner. It is not by one-way change only that we should achieve the result. The Leader of the Opposition eloquently argued that the tiller of the soil should be made the owner of the land if food production was to be increased. It is right that the owner should be the tiller and the tiller should be the owner so that we may get the best out of the land. But it does not follow that a man who has squatted on the land or has become a tenant for one or two years should be declared the owner when the owner is prepared to become the tiller. Simple solutions are not always correct. It is easy enough to expatiate eloquently imagining that that is the only solution. But what we have always stood for and we will stand for is a progressive policy by which the owner tills his land and the tiller becomes the owner of the land. From both sides we must proceed with the movement and we must see finally that he who is in legal possession of the land is also the tiller of that land. That end cannot be reached within a reasonable time by expropriation and injustice. It should be reached by a process which is juster, softer and gentler. With this end in view, various amendments were sought to be made from time to time.

"It is quite true that what is just to-day will not be just to-morrow. My hon. Friend Mr. V. R. Krishna Iyer, for whom I have very great regard, put forward the proposition that what is just to-day may not be just to-morrow and what was just yesterday may not be just to-day. Theoretically that is a correct proposition which any philosopher will accept. A basic defect in the Communist Party's thinking is that justice can be altered from time to time and that the right of to-day may become the wrong of to-morrow and the wrong of yesterday may become the right of to-day. If it is interpreted in that way, I would not accept the proposition. But if it is interpreted more philosophically and more soundly, it is true that ideas of justice and ideas of right and wrong are progressive and ideas must change. But it should not be a justification for expropriation and a justification for laying down anything that is unjust at the moment. That is what I would like to mention about it.

"Then much, was said about the demands of poverty and the demands of people who were in a difficult position. All that is accepted. But I would like to warn hon. Members in this and other matters that it is not enough that we just provide relief and charity, so to say, to people who are now in distress before us and who are clamouring for it. It is necessary to remember that any step that we take should not close the shop, so to say, and should not make it impossible for other people to come in. I would say that there are large numbers of children waiting to till the soil and it is not right that the present tiller of the soil should be made the means of punishing future people who are willing to serve and work on the land. This applies to industry, agriculture and everything. Trade unions and parties that work progressively from trade unionism to communism, socialism and the like forget that the closed shop or whatever is alike to it, is a gross piece of injustice to the nation. We cannot say, 'A man is here in possession; put him in possession. A Harijan is cultivating here; make him the owner.' If we say that, what about other Harijans who are willing to take it and cultivate it? It is the duty of the Government to keep the resources of the State available for a larger number of people and to cover a larger number of cases than the immediate present. While, on the one hand, we should make the owner the tiller and the tiller the owner, and while, on the one hand, we must provide land for cultivation for those who are wanting it we must, on the other hand, remember that we must provide for a sufficient amount of elasticity to meet the needs of the future also. Therefore it is that owners of lands should not be tied down in a rigid manner for which very often proposals come from the Opposition Benches. Now, if these principles are kept in mind, it will be more easy for hon. Members to appreciate the proposals contained in the Bill. It is said that all the people in Malabar are against the Bill, that therefore it is no use and that the old Act is better. That was how the hon. Member Dr. Menon wound up his speech. He said, 'The law as it stands is better than the law which the present Government are proposing.' If that is the opinion of the House, it will relieve the Government of a great deal of trouble. We have no objection whatsoever to it."

DR. K. B. MENON :—" I did not say, 'The law as it stands is better than this Bill.' I said, 'Sri Madhava Menon's original Bill was better than this.' "

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Sir, I have not read Sri Madhava Menon's original Bill. I have hardly time enough to read the present Bill. I think it is very necessary to change the law as it stands and, therefore, the present Bill should be accepted. If the hon. Member Dr. Menon had come into the Joint Select Committee, not even as a Member, but as a visitor or an honorary invitee, and said, 'The old Bill is quite good and we do not want the new Bill' very probably the Joint Select Committee would have gone into that Bill. It is no use now saying it for the first time and referring to an inchoate Bill which was not made into law and which is not before the House now.

"Then, appeals were made that this was a question of landlords and tenants of Malabar and that the Tamil people should not, by their action, get into being thought as tyrannizing over the Malayalam people who were primarily concerned with this Bill. Now, it is good parliamentary tactics. That is all I can say about it. It is good parliamentary tactics to divide one's opposition I have done it and the Opposition is also trying to do it. It is all right as tactics, but it is not fair. We are playing with fire in that matter to rouse feelings like this by a suggestion or indication of Tamil against Malabar and Malabar against Tamil. It should not be suggested that unless the views of the Members now sitting in the Opposition are accepted, it must be assumed and presumed that the Tamil people have done an injustice to the Malayalam people. This kind of suggestion is not good; it is not healthy."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" We did not say that."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" I do not say that you said that. That is why I used the word suggestion or indication. I don't say that you said that, but the result was that, if the Members of the Opposition were suggesting one after another, 'This is about Malabar. Let the Malabar people decide the question. Let not others interfere with it. If they interfere and approve of the Bill, they would be dubbed as the enemies of Malayalam people.' Let us talk plainly and frankly. Now, that is not good, I say. I do not say it is out of order. But I say that it is not good. I would request hon. Members to forget that chapter of the debate. The whole House is seized of the Bill. We cannot delegate the rights of legislation to a section of the House to do as they like in substance or in an informal manner. We meet here together though we may pay more attention and greater regard to what those particular hon. Members say. But the decision should be that of the whole House. As yet, we have not handed over the fate of Malabar to six or eight Members who have come from that place. It would not be right to do that. I would submit that that attitude is wrong. It is not a question of Malabar; it is not a question of language; it is not a question of political party; but it is a question of rearrangement of the rights and obligations as between landlords and tenants. It is not a party question in the sense of being a political party question. If there were a landlords' party here and if there were also a tenants' party here, then we could have justice by a debate between the two parties. But what is the state of things now? An election has been conducted on an entirely general plane. It is a general election and Members have come into this House from the Malabar area, belonging predominantly to a particular political party. Now, the one material side in this issue, namely, the landlords, is very poorly represented. I don't say that their case is just. I don't say that their claims are just and the claims of others are wrong. But what I say is that their representation is not fair. Therefore, it would be wrong to hand over the right of legislation entirely to Members who have come from a particular area. That is why the whole House is seized of it. That is why the Government are trying to do justice and not merely to act on a mandaté I may repeat a greater man's phrase here. Our democracy is not a mandatory democracy. We have authority to debate and to decide. We are entitled to consider what is just and to decide. We are representatives elected by the people. On each issue we do not get a mandate from the people. That would be, what is called, a mandatory democracy which was put aside as wrong even from the time of Burke up to the time of Winston Churchill. Our position is exactly the same. The Members who come from the constituencies are independent people. They decide all questions and they decide on a basis of justice, right, truth and the like, and not merely on mandates received from a particular section. If not it would mean that this law relating to landlords and tenants should be altered every time an election takes place and that no law on the statute book should be deemed as really permanent law. That would mean that that is only a party law, like the appointment of judges of Courts in America where as soon as the President is changed, the judges also change. All that is not what we admire or what we desire. The issues involved in the present Bill are issues between landlords and tenants, issues involved in agrarian problems and issues involved in social reform to the extent that the peasants and landlords come into the field for discussion in matters of social reform. We must discuss it from that point of view and not merely say, 'All the Members from Malabar are here. If they agree to a piece of legislation, other Members should accept it unless they wish to earn a bad name from the people of Malabar.' That is not right and proper.

[7th January 1954] [Sri C. Rajagopalachari]

"The next suggestion dealing with this problem was that it would not be wrong to classify the landlords and that it would be constitutional to do so. It may be expedient to make different laws so to say and to create different rights and obligations for particular classes of landlords and particular classes of tenants. Well, it may be possible. I believe that Mr. Krishna Ayyar has given me good legal advice when he said that it would not be unconstitutional to make this classification. In the legal field it may not be considered as an infringement of fundamental rights. But there are all kinds of classification and it may be dangerous to classify in the manner it is proposed to be done. I concede that it may be justified and it may be constitutional. It is not possible however on the spur of the moment to come to any just conclusion regarding the creation of a new line of classification of landlords and of tenants. We may have to wait for sometime if we have to appoint a Committee to find out what should be the real and proper classification. For instance, let me quote an illustration. Suppose we classify these janmi-pattadars who pay Rs. 100 as one class or unit. The condition of the pattadars in Tanjore who pay the same Rs. 100 will be different. The position of this class of pattadars in other districts may be different. Many such complications are bound to arise in a classification of this kind. So, I do not think the Government can now launch upon a programme of classification based on the amendments that may be proposed. There is no good hon. Members' expecting the Government to agree to such amendments. I would beg of hon. Members not to depend upon that, because it is too complicated a procedure. We must have general laws applying to everybody. I looked into the matter and was able to get information from my Colleague, as to how things stand at present with regard to landlords or landholders in Malabar. I find that in all, joint pattas and separate pattas there are about 4½ lakhs of janmi-pattadars. Out of these 430,000 persons are those who pay an assessment of less than Rs. 50 per annum, about 9,000 pattadars pay an assessment varying between Rs. 50 and Rs. 100 and only about 6,000 pattadars pay an assessment above Rs. 100. So, whatever law we may make will apply 4 lakhs odd janmi-pattadars or small proprietors or small landholders who may pay an assessment of Rs. 10 to Rs. 50. That being so, there is no good calling them all janmis and damning them."

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN :—"They are peasant proprietors."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—"This phrase is not yet a vernacular term. Janmi is still the phrase. He is a small

7th January 1954] [Sri C. Rajagopalachari]

janmi, or small proprietor or small landholder. Let us use our own language. The fact is he is a proprietor. Whether he is a big or small proprietor depends on the size of the holding and not on the name that we give to him."

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN :—"Janmi is one who rents out his land and who does not till it himself."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—"That is all right. Now we tried in Tanjore to find out who exactly may be defined as a cultivator and who is not a cultivator, whether one who is engaged in cultivation for six days in a week or one day in a week and whether he can be called a cultivator and so on. Let us not try to classify these people. Hon. Member Sri Gopalakrishnan seems to imagine it is easy. Before we try to make the classification, we must at least give these people a chance. We cannot straightway make a classification. We will have to ask these people, 'My dear friends, will you cultivate these lands yourselves or will you hand over those lands to us?' We must give them a chance to decide. There are many of them who will be prepared to cultivate the lands themselves. So classification is not possible. Now, I am trying to give a picture of the problem before us. I am not dealing with big janmis who are like big zamindars. But in the case of the 4 lakhs odd small proprietors, we must give them a chance to decide whether they were prepared to cultivate the land themselves or give fixity of tenure to those who cultivate for them. If they do not do so, they will go out and they will be wiped out with the advance of time. We have to be just when we pass these laws. We should not be misguided by wrong notions and wrong ideas. Let us see how things stand and what is the just thing that we should do. It is easy to say that nothing has been done and so on. The Government felt that some just changes must and could be made and certain amendments have been brought forward. I met the friends who were brought to the Assembly yesterday to wait on me in deputation regarding this matter. I had a fairly good discussion with half a dozen of them who put their case from their own point of view. We also know what hon. Members have said here. Although the discussion has been general, they have suggested certain points to which we should apply our minds. We have done that. It is open to Government to wait for the amendments to come up and to answer them then and there with counter amendments and the like, and also to come to some compromise. All that could be done if we had a much longer time than we have at the present moment. Therefore I am anticipating hon. Members and am suggesting that they may accept what seems to me very just. I am appealing to them to do so. To the extent we are able to effect changes, we shall do it to meet the ends of justice. Hon. Members know, though they may not admit it, that I am very gullible person. I am waiting for you to laugh and say 'No'. Whatever it is, I am a gullible person and the Communist party is extracting its utmost from me in every matter. There is no doubt about it; the whole countryside knows it. The complaint is that I am yielding too much to pressure. But it is a matter of duty and that is why I do it. It does not matter who makes it. It does not matter whether a proper thing proceeds from my own sense of justice, or the Government's sense of justice or whether it can be equated with the pressure used by able persons among other parties who have been vigorously making the claim. Whatever it is, it is not relevant for the purpose of legislation. For the purpose of political progress and political development and things of that sort, it may be relevant and everybody is entitled to use his own ingenuity and alacrity in claiming this and that. So far as sense of justice goes, it is Government's view that some changes may be allowed and although there may be doubts it is better to yield in these matters so that we will be able to dispose of this Bill quickly.

"The first point to be considered, or I should say the basic point to be considered is, what is the proper share of fair rent that we must provide under this Act. As regards wet lands, the share according to the law as it stands to-day is half and half. In garden lands, especially pepper gardens, it was once 1/5th. The proposal is to make it 1/6th. In the case of coconut gardens, it has been always 1/6th. All these relate to gross produce. I have given only a rough fraction and my Colleague will deal with this subject more accurately. I am suggesting what I think we might agree to. Hon. Members are requested to accept these things. The provision relating to half and half share is left to remain as it is. As for pepper gardens, it is proposed to make the share 1/6th. So far as the coconut gardens are concerned, we are prepared to make it 1/8th instead of the present share of 1/6th. The Government are going to ask hon. Members to accept these amendments. It is easy to make suggestions that it should be 1/10th and so on. It is not for the purpose of bargaining, I am saying these things. If I had intended to bargain, I would not have begun giving the Government's ideas with regard to these matters. I am therefore suggesting that hon. Members may accept these things.

"Then comes the question of cultivation expenses. Now, it has been said that 22 paras is not enough. Heaven only knows what would be enough!—It differs from place to place and from man to man. So, I suggest the House should accept 25 paras, Palghat paras, mentioned by a leading member of the Communist Party, in a dissenting minute in a Committee report, Sri Sankaran Nambudripad. Twenty-five paras may be taken as fairly reasonable and this amendment can be introduced in the relevant clause when we reach it to-day.

"Sir, it is wrong to say that only a tenant should have the right to go to a fair rent Court and that the landlord should be prevented from doing so. This is the meaning of saying: 'Fair rent, if it is less than the rent which it was the practice of the tenant to pay previously, which is called contract rent.' Fair rent should be fair. Fairness demands that if a Court after looking into the whole matter especially prices decides that a certain amount of money rent is fair, which is above the previous money rent it should be accepted. To say that a landlord should not be allowed to use this provision, as was suggested by an hon. Member on the other side, is not fair. If for any reason we accept this suggestion, then it would not be a fair rent court at all. It would be perfectly wrong and misleading vocabulary to designate it as such. It is saying something like this. Let us have justice, provided it is like this. Let us have a decision from the court provided it is in favour of the accused person. We have to accept the principle of fairness to both sides. Then, there is another kind of fairness and that is that fair rent should not be imposed in such a way as would work harshly on the poor man. This element has to be taken into account when we determine the money value of the fair rent. Where payment is made in kind, there would be no difficulty. But since people want kind to be converted into cash and since prices vary in the world—and vary very enormously in respect of coconut and other commercial products—the question has arisen what the fair rent should be and to what extent the right of the landlord should be reduced to equate it to the capacity of the tenant to pay. Every tenant has a right to go the Court and demand an examination of the matter as to how much will constitute fair rent and how much he has to pay. Provision has been made for that because we cannot deny it. But I agree on behalf of the Government that we should put a maximum limit to the rent that Court may decide on, that is, we must restrict the worst that a landlord can do in respect of fair rent to the tenant. So, I suggest that where a court decides fair rent in favour of the landlord it shall not be more than double the amount that he was getting by way of rent previously. We have had in the Bill a provision that it shall not be more than three times the previous rent. I think that frightened the people and we thought that it should never be more than twice the previous rent. The maximum fair rent cannot be raised to more than twice the previous rent. But I go a step further and add that in no year should it be imposed except to the extent of twenty-five per cent over the previous years rent. Therefore, it should be spread out until it becomes twice the previous amount and cannot be increased further. I submit that this is a fair proposal that I am making. Please accept it wholeheartedly. I am asking hon. Members to do so because no piece of legislation will improve and help society unless it goes with prestige and with sufficient goodwill on all sides. Therefore it is that we make these changes and ask hon. Members to accept them. All these decisions will be carried out in the proper form, in the form of amendments to the Bill."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"I want to mention some points which have not been looked into in connexion with the question of fair rent. The Hon. the Chief Minister said that 1/6th may be changed into 1/8th in respect of coconut gardens. But there are two kinds of rent."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Probably the hon. Member is referring to coconut trees raised by landlords and those raised by the tenant. I am referring only to those which are raised by the tenant. Otherwise, there is no reason why any such provision is necessary. So far as the provisions of the Bill go, with reference to the three points raised by the hon. Member we have done so much. As regards the landlord himself, I do not propose to make any change in the matter of coconut gardens raised by him."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR:—"In respect of fair rent for garden land on which pepper and arecanut are raised, the present provision is 1/8th of the produce. It is 1/4th if improvement is made by the landlord. In respect of pepper there are three categories of . . ."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"What I would like to make clear is this. In respect of pepper crop, 1/5th has been proposed to be converted into 1/6th of the produce . . . Let me complete it because I may be wrong and I am not quite sure whether I am right or wrong. I may be corrected if I am in error. In respect of coconuts where they are grown by the tenants, I propose 1/8th instead of what is now obtaining. With regard to trees where the landlord has grown them, the present provision is allowed to remain. With regard to arecanut it is 1/8th and coconut gardens are brought to that level."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR:—"There are two things to be said with regard to pepper. One-fifth is made into 1/6th in respect of gardens where principally pepper vines are grown. In respect of gardens where pepper and areca and coconut are grown, there is a differential treatment in respect of pepper vines and areca. The existing provision is that the rent should be 1/4th if the improvement has been effected by the landlord and 1/8th if it has been effected by the tenant. In respect of coconut it is 1/3rd if improvement is done by the landlord and 1/6th if it is done by the tenant. Now that the Government have agreed to bring the fair rent in respect of coconut down to the level of areca or pepper, I want to know whether a consequential amendment will follow making 1/3rd in respect of coconut where it is grown by the landlord into 1/4th as in the case of areca or pepper."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"My attention was drawn to that and we considered whether we should tinker with the existing position. I do not think it is a corollary to the amendment I have suggested, except that it may be so in a mathematical way. Where two things are not connected with each other, the provision may remain as it is. That is what I think."

"In respect of ulkudis, I agree at once that the three-year period may be reduced to one year, as far as protection to ulkudis is concerned. I hope we may stop with that. Then reference was made to the twelve year period mentioned in sub-clause 5 of sections 14 and 20 relating to eviction. Sir, this provision really makes no difference at all because the conditions for eviction have been made so hard and impossible that there is no harm in keeping this provision as it is. I have no objection still to make this twelve-year period six years so that there may be no further difficulty about" that. I submit this is also a very reasonable change and I hope it will be accepted by all. We are dealing with a period when there have been many agitations and the like and so we agree to this six-year period. I am making all these suggestions in the hope that they will quicken the process of getting the Bill passed with the changes I have proposed."

"Sir, finally as regards recovery of arrears, a suggestion was made that the provision relating to this should be changed in so far as it related to the period of claims. I am sorry that it is difficult to do so for the reason that it will be unjust. Hon. Members should not think that I wish to be harsh on the tenants in respect of this. But this difficulty arises. Many suits have been filed and arrears of rent have been deposited in Courts. Therefore, it would not be fair to discriminate between those who have paid the arrears of rent and those who have not cared to go to courts. It will be unjust to those who have already gone to court and who have been law-abiding and have paid the deposits. It is also not right to ask people who have taken the arrears of rent to refund the money. I think it is right that we leave the provision as it is."

DEPUTY SPEAKER:—"I fix a time-limit of ten minutes for each hon. Member."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"I wish to speak on one important point . . ."

DEPUTY SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member can have his say when the clause by clause consideration of the Bill comes up. Mr. T. C. Narayanan Nambiar may now speak."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"I shall speak afterwards."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"It has been stated that assignees will not be entitled to claim any share in respect of the produce for two years. But it should not be forgotten in this connexion that the tenants are handicapped to a great extent by the insertion of this provision. Inasmuch as no correct records are now being kept in respect of assignment of lands, it more often than not happens that the tenant is not able to take advantage of the provision. He is not able to establish in a Court of law that on such and such a date the assignment has been made and that for two years the assignee should not claim any share in the produce. Moreover the legal proceedings take a long time and in the meantime the two-year period invariably lapses by the time the judicial decision is finally delivered. So the tenant is without any remedy. Therefore I would particularly urge that it would be by far better to provide a longer period, which is very essential."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"I just wish to add a sentence. I had made these changes so that it would be agreed to by all the Members and would be acceptable to the House. I would only add that a great improvement has been made now."

[Sri C. Rajagopalachari] [7th January 1954]

But no one has pointed it out or taken care to point out the greatest improvement that has been made in the present Bill. For the first time fixity in respect of a holding has been given statutorily. Now it is necessary to be more careful in dealing justly with the landlord. That is why I laid so much stress on the landlord. If there is no fixity, there is nothing to be gained by going into the question of fair rent. But there is fixity now. We should not be hasty, therefore, in expropriating the landlord to the extent that is now proposed. If hon. Members will agree, clause by clause consideration of the Bill might be taken up now."

(At this stage Mr. Speaker occupied the Chair.)

MR. SPEAKER:—"Have the Government replied?"

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"I have tried, Mr. Speaker to reply to some points raised by hon. Members. I have not covered the whole ground. Of course the Hon. Minister for Law will reply. I do hope hon. Members will co-operate with us in making the procedure brief."

MR. SPEAKER:—"I think there are some hon. Members who want to speak. (Mr. P. K. Gopalakrishnan was seen rising to speak).

"Let Mr. Gopalakrishnan speak now. The Hon. Minister will reply to the debate afterwards."

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, of course the Hon. Chief Minister was making certain suggestions some of which are no doubt acceptable, though not all. Before I come to the points covered by the Hon. Chief Minister, I want to point out that we are not as a whole characterizing the Bill as a retrograde measure. Our only grievance is that this Bill has not fulfilled our aspirations.

"I find that section 52 (A) of the original Act is now deleted. In its place a new clause is added. The Hon. Law Minister while introducing the Bill had suggested that the new clause would serve the purpose. Let me point out that it is not so. In the proviso to section 52 (A) of the original Act, it is stated, viz.,

'Provided that in cases where the amount secured by the mortgage is in South Malabar less than sixty per cent of the value of the janmi's rights in the holding, and in other places less than forty per cent of the value of such rights, the Rent Settlement Authority shall until the contrary is proved, presume, that the transaction is not one of mortgage.'

This important provision is now removed. In Malabar there are certain peculiar kinds of tenancy. If you look at a particular kind of kanam, in name it may be a mortgage but in reality it is a kanam deed. There is a history behind this. As far back as 1916 when the tenants began to agitate for occupancy rights, the voice of the landlords of Malabar was in the ascendance. The landlords of Malabar changed the kanam deeds into mortgage deeds. Therefore in reality the deeds are kanam deeds and not mortgage deeds; even though superficially they may appear so. Right from the early ages, ever since the landlords of Malabar in 1916 changed their

kanam deeds into mortgage deeds, the deeds continue to remain the same. Subsequently no change has been effected. But that fact is now lost sight of. The relationship between the two is one of landlord and tenant and not of a mortgagor or mortgagee, because in reality it is only a kanam deed and not a mortgage deed, as is now sought to be shown. In the proviso to section 52 (A) of the original Act it had been definitely laid down that if the amount secured by the mortgage is in South Malabar less than 60 per cent of the value of the janmi's rights in the holding and in other places less than 40 per cent of the value of such rights, the Rent Settlement Authority (it may be the Rent Court now) shall until the contrary is proved, presume that the transaction is not one of mortgage. I stress the word 'presume'. That was a valuable provision. That presumption is now removed. We cannot now decide whether a deed is a kanam or mortgage deed. Taking advantage of the non-existence of that important proviso, the landlords can now take the law into their own hands, and gain their own purpose by showing their deeds which appear superficially as mortgages but which in reality are kanam deeds, as I had pointed out before after tracing the historical background behind it. That is why I say this Bill is a retrograde step on the original Act in this aspect. Unless the original proviso to section 52 (A) of the old Act is inserted as a new clause in the present Bill, this present Bill, will not in any way prove to be anything like a beneficial piece of legislation to the tenants even though it is now paraded that the present Bill is intended for bettering the lot of the tenant. I say that unless that proviso is inserted, more than 50 per cent of the tenants in my constituency would suffer. They could not prove that their deeds are kanam deeds. They would be subjected to the cruelties of the landlords. Now the burden of proof rests with the tenant. He has to prove that it is a kanam and not a mortgage. But how can the poor tenant prove it when this valuable proviso to section 52 (A) of the original Act is removed? He is now left in the lurch. When the Government have thought it fit to remove this important proviso, why have they retained the proviso to section 10 of the original Act which says—

'Provide further that in the case of a kanamdar whose kanartham exceeds in South Malabar sixty per cent of the value of the janmi's rights in the holding, and in other places forty per cent of the value of such rights, the kanamdar shall not have fixity of tenure.'

It is also said in respect of a proviso just before this that 'Provided that no tenant of a commercial site shall have fixity of tenure in respect thereof unless immediately before the commencement of the Malabar Tenancy Amendment Act, 1951, he had fixity of tenure in such site or a right to obtain a renewal of his tenancy thereof.'

Not only have the Government removed the important proviso to section 52 (A) of the original Act, which afforded some security for the tenant, but they have retained the above provisos I have pointed out, viz., provisos to section 10 of the original Act. This proviso to section 10 in fact gives the right of eviction to the landlord. He can now evict the tenant whose kanartham exceeds 60 per cent of the value of the janmi's rights in the holding if the holding is situated in South Malabar and he can evict the tenant whose kanartham exceeds 40 per cent of the value of such rights in North Malabar. I do not know why this provision is retained and proviso to section 52 (A) is cancelled. I would strongly plead for the restoration of the proviso to section 52 (A) which in fact would give the right of presumption to the Rent Court to assume in case where the amount secured by the mortgage in South Malabar is less than 60 per cent of the value of the janmi's rights and in other places less than 40 per cent of the value of rights, the transaction is not one of mortgage. The majority of the deeds are kanam deeds and if this provision is retained all those deeds could be proved to be kanam deeds.

Another point I wish to make is with regard to the arrears of rent due. The Hon. the Chief Minister said that no change in that regard can be made and that six years' rent has to be paid. This means that no tenant will be able to pay six years' rent at a time. All of us are aware that during all these years the crops had been failing continuously on account of the failure of the monsoon and for want of sufficient rains. The tenants were not able to remit the rent. Now the Hon. Chief Minister says that all the six years' rent should be paid immediately. This in effect means that all the tenants are liable to eviction and the relief given to the tenants by one hand by means of some provisions of the Act is taken away by the other hand. Unless the period is reduced to one or two years, or at least to a maximum of three years, no tenant will be benefited by this legislation."

* SRI K. T. SREEDHARAN :—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am sorry to say that this Government have not come forward to respect the wishes of the people, more especially of the tenants of Malabar. The cry of the people for the last several years had been to give the tenants fixity of tenure. A fair rent must be worked out and as between the fair rent and the contract rent, the lesser of the two should be implemented. The question of ulkudis is a major issue in Malabar and the people of Malabar are demanding that the ulkudi-dwellers must also be allowed fixity of tenure. The Government have not come forward to respond to the wishes of the people on all these major issues and so far the Act has not been progressive. As soon as the general election was over and the first session of the Assembly began in Madras, the M.L.As. of Malabar represented to the Hon. the Chief Minister their ultimate stand in this matter and requested him to bring forth a legislation so that everybody's interest may be safeguarded and public opinion respected. The Hon. Chief Minister was kind enough to say then 'After all, you are all united in this matter. I cannot stand in your way. You will definitely have it'. He assured us that he will consider the whole aspect of the matter and will bring forth a legislation on the lines of the joint memorandum then submitted to him. We waited for long and afterwards the Hon. the Law Minister was good enough to consult us on a draft of the Bill. But we were much disappointed to note that all our joint representations had no effect to bring forth a piece of progressive legislation. We disagreed and almost all the members were unanimous in suggesting a draft proposal which the Hon. the Law Minister promised to look into and after making some modifications he promised to bring in a piece of legislation before this House. Again, we had to wait for long and after all this, this legislation is before this House for discussion.

"As hon. Members who had spoken previously had pointed out, the Bill now presented to this House is not and cannot be acceptable to the people of Malabar, especially to the tenants. The fact that even Members from the Congress side have also given dissenting minutes goes to show that all shades of public opinion in Malabar are in agreement on the major issues, namely, fixity of tenure for the tenants; fixation of fair rent and the rights of ulkudi dwellers. So I am really surprised why this Government is taking this stiff attitude when all shades of opinion are definitely in favour of the suggestions made by the opposition. It is high time that the Government decide to accept the modifications suggested by all the members that have spoken on this subject. I am glad that the Hon. Chief Minister has met half way the suggestions made by some members. I hope he will consider still further and adopt some reasonable measures. I do not want to take much time. I once again request the Hon. the Minister for Law to accept the reasonable modification that are suggested by the Opposition members. I thank you, Sir, for giving me an opportunity to speak."

* SRI KUNHI MOHAMED SHAFEE:—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, the main issues that have to be considered when we discuss the Malabar Tenancy Bill are giving fixity of tenure to tenants and the fixation of fair rent. Provision has been made in the present Bill for giving fixity of tenure. As far as eviction is concerned, it is provided that no eviction should be allowed unless it be that the janmi requires the land bona fide for the purpose of raising crops for his own maintenance or for the maintenance of any member of his family. But in the matter of construction of building a loophole as provided by allowing the janmi to apply for eviction if he wants his land for the construction of a building for his own residence. That loophole should be removed.

“There is another loophole under which janmis are likely to evict the tenants and put them to a lot of suffering. It is provided in the present Bill that a transferee can sue for the eviction of his tenant after two years from the date of the instrument of transfer. Our experience in Malabar is that if any provision is made for giving the janmi the right to evict his tenant, that provision is always misused or abused and undue advantage is taken by the janmi by transferring his land to his dependants or relatives. That loophole also must be removed.

"As far as clauses 5 and 6 of sections 14 and 20 of the Act are concerned, a distinction is made between the requirement by a janmi of his own land for constructing a building under clause 6, for his own residence and for personal cultivation under clause 5 for meeting his primary needs. Both these must be treated alike.

"At the time of every renewal, the janmi in Malabar used to enhance the rent. Now the rent has reached the maximum, so to say, and the tenant cannot afford to pay more. What we in Malabar want is that there should not be any enhancement of the present rent. But I am of opinion that as a compromise we may accept the concessions announced by the Hon. Chief Minister, because they go a long way to relieve the tenants from the hardships which they have been experiencing. I hope the tenants will avail themselves of those concessions and be very grateful to the Government. Our main object is that there should be contentment and good relationship between janmis and tenants and that the delightful district of Malabar should be put on the road to prosperity and happiness."

* SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would have been the most fortunate and happy man if I had been in a position to sign the Report of the Joint Select Committee without recording a dissenting minute. But it was most unfortunate, I would say, that the persuasions, the arguments and the fight—fight in the sense for issues that we raised in the Joint Select Committee—were not fully fruitful as far as the demands of the peasantry of Malabar were concerned. To-day, the position in Malabar is such that the peasant problem, the agrarian problem, the kudiyar prasnai, is not a party question. It is above parties. It has become a national question. That is the reason why even—I say 'even' with emphasis—some of the Congress M.L.As., the whole of the Praja-Socialist Party Members, the Muslim League Members and, of course, we, the Communist Members, are unanimous that certain immediate and burning issues should be solved here and now. We do not expect here and now from this Government a radical and basic solution of the agrarian problem, but some burning issues have to be solved. It is for that that we pray.

"With regard to the fixation of fair rent, all of us unanimously argued that the principle of contract rent or fair rent, whichever was less, should be adopted. It is argued on the contrary that it will not be fair to all and that the Government will have to be fair to the janmis. On the question of making the tillers of the soil the owners of the soil and making the owners of the soil the tillers of the soil, I would most humbly suggest that the tillers of the soil should not be made the beggars of the soil. Why I say so is this. The argument that some 20,000 cases have already been filed in the Courts and that the peasantry have already deposited the arrears of rent due so far is baseless. I personally know that in thousands of cases the peasants have mortgaged everything that they had, houses, buffaloes, household utensils, etc. Even then, they have got a lot of debts. Out of lakhs and lakhs of peasants, it is only 16,000 peasants that have paid the arrears of rent. Even there all the peasants who were dragged to courts were not compelled to pay by certain courts. I do not know the reason for it. In certain courts only two years' rent was asked to be deposited. Now, the Government claim that fixity of tenures given in this Bill to the peasant to a certain extent. There is a provision in the Bill that failure to pay the arrears of rent is one of the bona fide reasons for which the tenant can be evicted. That means what the Government are giving with one hand, that is, fixity of tenure, is being taken away by the other hand.

"The landlords who are bent upon evicting tenants under some pretext are doing so without any justice and peasants are becoming landless wage-earners. That is what is happening to-day. Thousands and thousands of peasants are being evicted and have become mere agricultural labourers and the landlords' monopoly has increased. Unless and until the tenants are given some protection, this Bill will not be beneficial to the tenants to the expectation of the Hon. Chief Minister which he claims as well as that of the people. The arrears of rent must be wiped out. In 1938, Sri C. Rajagopalachari, who was also the Chief Minister then was convinced of the fact that the wiping out of arrears was a dire necessity and with this end in view he brought forward a provision to the effect that if two years' arrears of rent were paid all the other arrears must be deemed to have been paid. But in 1954, after two world wars, the same Sri Rajagopalachari says that six years' arrears of rent has to be paid. May I humbly ask him whether the material condition of the peasantry of Malabar has changed to-day. I may respectfully submit that it has not. Unfortunately, only the Chief Minister has changed. The condition of the peasantry in Malabar is the same in 1954 as it was in 1938 and even worse. The Hon. Chief Minister is not convinced of the need to relieve the poor peasants of their sufferings. I request the Hon. Chief Minister to be kind enough to reconsider the matter and see that the arrears of rent are wiped out, or at least let him agree to providing that one year's arrears may be paid and the other years' arrears may be wiped out. Otherwise, this Bill will not be beneficial to the peasants of Malabar.

"With regard to pepper gardens, under the existing provisions, in respect of tenants' vines in garden lands, one-eighth of the produce is the fair rent. In the case of dry lands, cultivators have to spend quite a lot of money. Even in the Kuttikrishna Menon Committee's report, which I have here, but have no time to read on the floor of the House, it is definitely stated that the expenditure on dry lands was very heavy. The cultivators of dry lands have to incur a lot of expenditure on labour. So, as these dry lands are very much inferior to garden lands, the fair rent must be a lesser proportion and certainly it should not be more than one-eighth.

"In the name of fairness, the owners of the soil are sought to be made the tillers of the soil. But we only want that the actual tillers of the soil should not be driven out of the land and should not be made beggars. In short, let not the owners become tillers at the cost of the actual tillers. There are poor landlords, I agree. They want homesteads to live in. Provision will have to be made for such people. We are not against such provisions. It is the very reason why we say that a minimum acreage will have to be fixed. Even if we say that six years' time will be given, it will not benefit these people. Because, so many thousands of people will be affected and so many artificial records will be created. That is why I say that a minimum acreage has to be fixed. Fix it as 5 acres. To that effect, we have given an amendment. Unless our amendment in this regard is incorporated, I am sure, this Bill will not at all benefit the poor people.

"Sir, in the name of non-interference, the Government say that the wholesome principle of adopting whichever rent was less, cannot be accepted. In my humble opinion, it is a wrong view that the Government have taken. It is the bounden duty of the Government to interfere in the best interests of a large section of poor people. It is the bounden duty of the Government to come and help weaker section of society, viz., the peasantry. They must interfere in the matter in the interest of the majority of the poor people. That is human justice. I request the Hon. Chief Minister to look into the matter and see that justice is meted out to the poor peasants so that they are not compelled to pay a higher rent than the one that they are paying now.

"With regard to the waste land question, I can give statistics so far as North Malabar is concerned. This place is shown as a deficit area. Why is it a deficit area? Because, the poor peasants are not able to apply the necessary manure to the lands and carry out other necessary improvements to the land, as rack-renting is rampant in that area. In the face of such heavy rack-renting, the peasants cannot be expected to be rich enough to apply the necessary manure to the lands. As a matter of fact, nearly 4 or 5 crores of rupees are being paid to the landlords of Malabar by the poor cultivating tenants by way of rent. These people pay such a heavy rent, which is very excessive and which is very much higher than the rent paid by similar tenants in other parts of the State. The landlords do not pay even a single pie towards providing the necessary irrigation facilities. If the rent is reduced as suggested by us, some money will be saved by the poor peasants and that money can be utilized by them to purchase good cattle, fertilisers and manure and better conditions will prevail. This will naturally result in increased production of foodgrains. I request the Hon. Chief Minister to be kind enough to consider our amendments and our views on the various points and accept our amendments so that thousands of poor peasants of Malabar may be saved from the clutches of starvation, death, poverty and misery."

[7th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER :—“ Before I call upon the Hon. Minister for Law to reply to the debate, I have to announce that amendments to the South Kanara Cultivating Tenants Protection Bill, 1954, and the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill, 1954, will be received in the office till 9 o'clock to-morrow.”

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—“ Mr. Speaker, I am thankful to hon. Members for the suggestions they have made on the floor of this House. Sir, reference was made to certain incidents in the elections. It is not as if I am not in a position to answer them. But I think it is out of place for me to answer them here.

“ When I undertook to pilot this Bill, I knew that this is a difficult Bill and that all sorts of propaganda will be there and I will have to face it. I did it, because I knew Malabar was suffering and I also knew that in spite of the difficulties that I may have to encounter, it was my duty to see that those difficulties were removed.

“ The position of Malabar as far as the agricultural owners are concerned is very peculiar. There are about 4,13,000 pattadars of whom about 1,91,311 are persons who hold less than 10 cents of property. Those who hold more than 10 cents and within 1 acre are 2,34,854. These persons are called the landlords of Malabar and as such, difficulty arises in taking up agrarian reform legislation in Malabar.

“ But the cultivator has to be protected. The petty owners of land have to be given their share of the produce. These are the troubles the Government have to face in Malabar. There is another handicap also as far as Malabar is concerned. That is in respect of each holding there are, on an average, five persons who live on the income from the holding. Therefore, it is not easy to exterminate all the intermediaries. About a fourth of the population of Malabar will have to be exterminated if we do so. That is why the Government have always been considering how best to carry out remedies to the evil of tenures without disturbing a large section of the population. It is true that the agrarian trouble started as early as 1880. But after the 1930 Act was passed, there was not much of difficulty and a perusal of the report of the Kuttikrishna Menon Committee will show that the landlord and the tenant were pulling together. The relationship was good and there was no trouble. It was only after the 1951 Act was passed—unfortunately, I would say, on the eve of the general elections—there was lot of propaganda against it. After that, there has been considerable trouble. Suits filed in 1946 have been stayed and as much as four years' rent has been deposited in courts. Even after the 1951 Act was passed, the suits could not be disposed of because the Act itself did not come into effect. All these things prompted me to see that some land legislation was resorted to to remedy the defects. The most outstanding consideration which prompted the Government to take up this question urgently was fixity of tenure to Ulkudis because residence is the most essential thing which a man needs. Strictly speaking, it may not come under any tenancy legislation and even the Kuttikrishna Menon Committee did not recommend it. Yet, we felt that the Ulkudi-holders should not be disturbed and as such, we want to give them as much protection as could be given. It is not possible to do away completely with the provision requiring one year's minimum residence because, if we do it, it is doubtful whether we will be acting according to the provisions of the Constitution. Then, Sir, the ulkudi in Fort Cochin is different from the one in Malabar. The ulkudi in Fort Cochin bears a high incidence of rent which is not the case with Malabar ulkudis. If we apply the same principles to Malabar ulkudis as we do in the case of Fort Cochin, then we will be depriving the ulkudi-holders of Malabar the advantages that they have been having till now. That is why we have made a distinction between the two. I am sure that we have done what is possible under the circumstances in respect of ulkudis.

[7th January 1954] [Sri K. P. Kuttikrishnan Nair]

“ Fixity of tenure is another thing which is more important, as far as any tenancy legislation is concerned. It was granted in the 1930 Act. It was modified in the 1951 amending Act. Now we have gone further and have placed some more restrictions on the landlord in requiring the land for bona fide cultivation. You will be surprised to hear, Sir, that before Mr. Madhava Menon took up the amending Act of 1951, the question was ‘ what was the limit to be placed on the landlords requirements? ’ We have to congratulate Mr. Madhava Menon on giving a switch over to this question and making it that ‘ the tenants’ needs should be taken into consideration and not the landlords’ needs’. In the Kuttikrishna Menon Committee's Report, Mr. E. M. Sankaran Nambudripad recorded a minute of dissent. Even in that dissenting minute, he says that the landlord should be left with 20 acres of land and the tenant should be given five acres. The Government have been going ahead of this suggestion. The Congress has been trying to meet the demands of the people of Malabar and so, now, we have provided that persons who have been in occupation for six years should not be evicted even for bona fide cultivation by the landlord. There is a distinction between clauses 5 and 6 of sections 14 and 20. Reference was made to these sections by certain Members of the House and it was said that there should be no distinction between the two. The Government are keeping that distinction because sub-clause (6) of sections 14 and 20 deals with the primary need of the landlord to acquire a plot to build a house of his own. We can deprive him of the enjoyment of his land but we cannot deprive him of his right to get his land back for building a house for residential purposes. That is why the distinction is made. I feel that it should be retained.

“ Hon. Members were saying that the cultivation expenses worked out to be more than fifty paras. Some said it was more than forty paras. But the fact is that nowhere it is more than twenty-two paras. Mr. Kuttikrishna Menon's Committee went into this question thoroughly. They got about five hundred memoranda. They examined about hundred witnesses. Mr. E. M. Sankaran Nambudripad in his dissenting minute claims only twenty-five paras as cultivation expenses."

SRI C. H. KANARAN :—" That was at that time."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" Sir, I am not aware whether the question of seed has become more costly or the expenses have become more since then. I can understand it if it is adjusted in terms of money. But it is in terms of paddy and I think when estimated in terms of paddy, twenty-five paras is reasonable."

" Regarding the portion to be shared between the landlord and the tenant in respect of paddy, of course it should be half and half. That is the principle which Mr. Sankaran Nambudripad had laid down in his dissenting minute. I claim, Sir, that if I am conservative, as the Opposition has said I would be as conservative as Mr. E. M. Sankaran Nambudripad. (Laughter.)

" Regarding ' garden land ', the share which the tenant is entitled to has been fixed according to the enquiries made by that committee. Not a word complaining against the rate fixed by the committee is to be found in any one of the dissenting minutes. It is now complained that the principle laid down by that committee is too vague and that it is beyond the capacity of the tenant to pay. But no member of that committee has appended in his minute of dissent any remark about it. I am one of those who has absolute confidence in the work of Mr. Sankaran Nambudripad. He is an intellectual genius of Malabar and unless and until he is fully convinced of what he should say, Mr. Nambudripad will not say anything. The mere fact that he has not mentioned anything against the principle laid down by the committee in respect of sharing of produce in garden lands is proof of the fact that Mr. E. M. Sankaran Nambudripad has accepted the principle laid down by the Committee. Otherwise he would have made mention of it in his dissenting minute."

" I shall now come to ' pepper cultivation '. Hon. Members should realize that whereas in the Act of 1951 the pepper-share was fixed at 1/5th, we have now made it into 1/6. In this respect also Mr. Sankaran Nambudripad claims the rent which a tenant is entitled to pay in respect of pepper cultivation, as 1/6. We have now incorporated in this Bill what Mr. Sankaran Nambudripad had laid down."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" On a point of Order, Sir. The Hon. Minister for Law has all along been referring to the hon. Mr. Nambudripad . . ."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" Mr. Nambudripad was not a Minister."

7th January 1954]

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" He was an hon. Member of the then Legislature. The Hon. Minister for Law has been frequently referring to Mr. Sankaran Nambudripad. Let it be understood that Mr. Sankaran Nambudripad was a Member of the previous Select Committee and not a Member of the present Joint Select Committee on the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1953."

MR. SPEAKER :—" Is it a point of order." (Laughter.)

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" Sir, I will be able to convince, item by item, the justness of the stand taken by us and how the Government have gone far ahead in this Bill in the matter of tenancy reform in Malabar. Of course, hon. Members in the Opposition had characterised this as a retrograde step. It is not true. Sir, I have got certain disadvantages in bringing forward this legislation. I have also to consider that when we bring in this measure, we do not go beyond the Constitution. We should remember that we should not allow the fundamental rights guaranteed to each citizen of India under the Constitution, to be nullified by a tenancy legislation. Our only wish in bringing this Bill is to bring in some sort of measure which will benefit the tenant and give him some fixity of tenure. That has been granted now."

" I shall now come to the question of fair-rent and contract rent. Hon. Members had complained that we have removed the provision in the original Act by which the tenant could pay the contract rent or fair-rent whichever was less."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" But Mr. Sankaran Nambudripad has said it."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" Just as the hon. Member differs in many respect with our conclusions, and with the Five-Year Plan, I would like to differ from Mr. Nambudripad in this respect. It is not fair, when after elaborate enquiry by the Kuttikrishna Menon Committee the share of the produce which that tenant has to pay as rent has already been reduced, to reduce it still further. Already the rent has been reduced. That is why after going deep into the problem we thought it would be better to delete the provision enabling the tenant to pay either the contract or fair-rent whichever is less. We cannot say that the tenant should be asked to pay the barest minimum, he chooses. That is not correct. Once the tenant has agreed to pay a certain rent to the landlord, he is bound by that agreement. He cannot all of a sudden be allowed to reduce the rent. I am sure that what we have done in this connexion is the best that could be done under the circumstances. I am sure that with the modifications made by the Select Committee and with the modifications now proposed by the Hon. Chief Minister, this Bill when it finally emerges as a law would be surely welcomed by the people of Malabar. Let me say that I also, just like all other hon. Members."

[Sri K. P. Kuttikrishnan Nair] [7th January 1954]

represent the people. I come from Malabar and I also represent the people of Malabar. However much hon. Member on the other side may champion the cause of peasantry, I know the peasants of Malabar would welcome this Bill. I have no doubt about it."

SRI V. GOPALAKRISHNAN :—" Let the Hon. Minister resign and contest the election on this issue."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" I think it would be better for me not to talk about the challenge at the present time. •

" Let me now come to the amendment proposed for section 51 of the principal Act. We have to remember that the 1951 Act came into operation only on the 15th of March 1952.

" We have only brought this bill to remedy certain defects, palpable defects, and this is only an amending Act. After watching the progress of this new Bill, which, I am sure, will be passed into an Act, there will be time enough for us to see what modifications we have to resort to in respect of the specific questions about which we have discussed. Sri Narayana Kurup has remarked that the Rent Settlement Authority ought not to have been abolished. We were compelled to abolish the Rent Settlement Authority not because it was not scientific. It is very scientific to have a Rent Settlement Authority as contemplated by the 1951 Act. But in the working of this machinery we found that we had not sufficient personnel. We also found that at least six years would elapse before we could prepare the Record of Rights and before we could assess the fair rent in respect of all the items. It was also found that the whole operation will cost about 70 lakhs of rupees. People were also dissatisfied with this machinery and there was agitation to scrap that machinery. There was agitation in Malabar that compulsory fixation of rent would be unfair and would lead to clash between the landlords and the tenants. Considering all these things, we came to the conclusion that we could give the power to fix the fair rent in disputed cases to Revenue Divisional Officers or Tahsildars as the case may be. We do not want to give that power to the civil court because the tenants have been agitating that if they were to go to a civil court they would be compelled in each case to deposit Rs. 50 or Rs. 100 as the case may be. That was why we thought that it may be decided by a Rent Court which would be available to him and the matter could be speedily disposed of without any financial commitments to the tenant.

" Sir, at this juncture, I need only say that I am confident that this Bill, with these amendments, would satisfy a good section of the people of Malabar. I know that another section of the people may not be satisfied because there are a series of persons, at least five in number, enjoying the profits or proceeds from a single property. So, if by means of a legislation you help one, the other four, who depend upon the same property for their maintenance, will be affected and it is but natural that there will be some people who are dissatisfied with any kind of legislation. I hope that after the announcement of the Hon. the Chief Minister the Opposition will co-operate and see that this Bill is passed into law in this session itself. I know that the Praja Socialist Party has been co-operating and they desire that this legislation should be passed in this session itself. I am sure that Sri Narayanan Nambiar and his party are likewise anxious. Everyone in Malabar is anxious that this Bill should be passed into law and I am sure that every hon. Member will co-operate with us and see that this Bill is passed to-morrow itself, if possible. Thank you, Sir, for having given me an opportunity to explain the position."

[Sri K. P. Kuttikrishnan Nair] 7th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER :—" The question is—

' That the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1953, as amended by the Joint Select Committee be taken into consideration.' "

SRI S. SWAYAMPRAKASAM :—" Sir, the Hon. the Minister for Revenue has moved that the Bill be taken into consideration. On a point of . . ."

MR. SPEAKER :—" He has not yet moved the Bill. As soon as he stood up, points of order were raised. So, let him move this Bill first."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—" Mr. Speaker, I beg to introduce the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill ^a, 1954, and move—

'That the Bill be taken into consideration at once.'

The object of introducing this Bill is as stated in the Statement of Objects and Reasons appended to the Bill itself. Hon. Members are aware that there has been continuous drought during the last five or six years in the State. It is only this year we have had timely rains and the agriculturists have welcomed it and are very enthusiastically taking to cultivation. Naturally, creditors will think that this is the best time for them to collect their dues from agriculturists and they will pounce upon them. This will retard the agriculturists' enthusiasm and make them not enthusiastic in their work. In order that the agriculturists may be spared the distractions and expenditure involved in litigation, this Bill has been brought to give them some time of relief. There is a Tamil proverb, 'when a creditor demands money from the debtor, he feels very upset and even the ruler of Ceylon felt so in his distress'. This Bill has been brought forward to provide some temporary relief to the tenants and agriculturists for at least a year."

Friday, 8th January 1954.

The House met in the Assembly Chamber, Government Estate Mount Road, at nine of the clock, Mr. Speaker (THE HON. S. J. SIVASHANMUGAM PILLAI) in the Chair.

MR. SPEAKER :—" Motion moved—

'That the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill, 1954, be taken into consideration at once.'"

THE MADRAS INDEBTED AGRICULTURISTS (TEMPORARY RELIEF) BILL,

SRI E. L. RAGHAVA MUDALIAR :—" Sir, I request time may be given for hon. Members to give notice of amendments to the present Bill. The Bill itself had been circulated only recently. Many of us are anxious to move amendments."

MR. SPEAKER :—" The discussion on the motion that the Bill be taken up for consideration now may now begin. Amendments to the Bill may be given notice of till 9 o'clock to-morrow morning."

[8th January 1954]

SRI E. L. RAGHAVA MUDALIAR :—“ But some of us want to move amendments that the consideration of the Bill itself may be taken up at a later date, and that it may be put off now.”

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—“ That means that the hon. Member is anxious to move a negative amendment. The purpose is to oppose. Let the hon. Member move a motion now, opposing the Bill.”

DR. K. B. MENON :—“ I do not know the reason why these things are rushed through the House. Why did the Government give a recess? Why did they not give information to us even before the recess? Why should these laws be brought before the House just on the eve of the close of the session? Why should this Bill be rushed through now and Members not given an opportunity for mutual consultations, for party consultations and for collective thinking? I am against rushing this Bill just at the fag end of the session.”

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—“ The Bill was published day before yesterday in the Gazette and copies of the Bill were circulated to the Members yesterday morning and hon. Members had sufficient time, therefore, to study the Bill. Moreover, this is not as if this Bill is a new one. The Ordinance has been before the public since 5th December 1953, when it was promulgated. Only slight modifications had been made in the Bill. Therefore, it cannot be contended that this is a new subject, as if hon. Members had not been aware of the subject all along. In view of the recent publication of the Bill we are prepared to go even further and allow if any hon. Member were to move an amendment even now at this late stage opposing the Bill. Let us not be criticised as though we are trying to rush this legislation through. This subject had been before us since 5th December 1953, the date when the Ordinance was promulgated. I request that the Bill be taken into consideration.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ Does any hon. Member want to move any amendment? ”

SRI K. VINAYAKAM :—“ Sir, I move—

‘ That the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill, 1954, be referred to a Select Committee. ’”

SRI V. GOPALA GOUNDER :—“ I second it.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ Motion moved—

‘ That the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill, 1954, be referred to a Select Committee. ’

“ This motion as well as the main motion are now before the House for discussion.”

SRI V. GOPALA GOUNDER :—“ Sir, as Mr. Swayamprakasam had pointed out earlier, this Bill is not one that simply reproduces the provisions of the Ordinance. In fact, in the Bill that is now before the House we find drastic changes. For instance, in the Ordinance the definition of an ‘ agriculturist ’ was given in a certain way. Now, in the present Bill an entirely different definition is given. By the present definition, instead of giving relief to the indebted agriculturists, in fact relief is now sought to be given for absentee landlords. There are other sections of the Bill which are controversial. Therefore, I think it would be better if the Bill is referred to a Select Committee, so that all its main clauses may be thrashed out and correct conclusions arrived at. Instead of rushing through hastily with this legislation, I think it would be better if we refer the same to a Select Committee and pass this legislation after bestowing mature consideration on it first by the Select Committee and then by the House.”

8th January 1954] [Sri V. Gopala Gounder]

SRI K. VINAYAKAM :—“ Coming from the Opposition, we are conscious of the laudable approaches the Bill has made. It is our intention that the agriculturist of our State who has been seriously affected by the drought condition prevailing in our State for the past six years should be given relief by such a kind of moratorium as is now sought to be given by the Bill which is under discussion now. Nobody can object to the laudable objects which the Bill seeks to fulfil. What is the intention of the present Government in bringing forward this Bill? They want that the agriculturist who mainly depends upon agriculture for his livelihood should be given some fillip to step up the food production of our State, by giving him relief from paying arrears of rent for one year and by giving him fixity of tenure and protection from eviction. But what is now sought to be done is not to confine the protection to the tiller of the soil alone. Under the present definition of the term ‘ agriculturist ’ anyone could be termed as an agriculturist. Any person who holds an interest in a land, no matter where he resides, be he either in Delhi or anywhere, he comes under the category of agriculturists. Absentee landlords are thus given relief. For instance, a man may own an acre of land say in Chingleput, and he may do a lucrative business in Madras. But still he is an agriculturist. He is covered by the definition now given. He is now protected. Is it Government’s intention that a person doing business in other fields also but who is an absentee landlord should be termed an agriculturist and protected by the Bill? On the other hand, relief is meant only for the poor agriculturist who tills the soil and depends only on agriculture for his living. It is that person who should be protected and not all and sundry who have little interest in the land. But even one paying a land revenue of Rs. 500 is termed as an ‘ agriculturist ’. Even a merchant who reaps huge profits by business in Madras who pays income-tax and who is an absentee landlord owning some few acres is an ‘ agriculturist ’! Can he by any logic be given any protection? It is the poor villagers who work from dawn to dusk and by whose sweat and labour the produce is raised and who are now heavily indebted that, should be protected. That is why I say it is better if the Bill, instead of being rushed through hastily now, be referred to a Select Committee for mature consideration. The Select Committee can go into the pros and cons of the problem and may suggest any improvements they like. Anybody who pays 'sales tax' means he is doing some kind of transactions as far as his business is concerned. Therefore one who pays 'sales tax' should not be considered as an agriculturist. But under the present definition of an agriculturist, he may come in. That is why I repeat, to set right some of the loose definitions given in the present Bill, it would be in the interest of the State if the Bill is referred to a Select Committee to avoid some of the lacunae in the present Bill.

"What is now the lot of the villagers engaged in cultivation in our rural areas? They are heavily indebted. No doubt the Ordinance would be welcomed by them. But it has its own repercussions. Rural credit facilities have now broken down. Any man who wants to purchase small quantities of manure, seeds, or bullocks to plough his land is not now in a position to command rural credit. He cannot now run to a money-lender for such facilities. The money-lender says, 'The Government are coming to your help. Why should I help you? We are prevented from collecting our debts for a period of one year. We are not in a position to help you.'"

SRI V. GOPALA GOUNDER:—"On a point of order, Sir. This is a discussion on an amendment to refer the Bill to a Select Committee. My hon. Friend Sri K. Vinayakam is indulging in a general discussion on the Bill."

SRI K. VINAYAKAM:—"This is not a point of order of a correct nature. I am now convincing the Hon. Speaker as well as the House why I am moving this amendment that this Bill be referred to a Select Committee and I am perfectly right to adduce reasons why I am persuading this House to do so. Now, coming to the point about which I was talking, rural credit facilities have broken down and the Government should find alternative methods of giving them aid through co-operative societies or they should promote some other organization which would easily come to their aid. If such facilities could be given in villages, this moratorium would work well. For these reasons, Sir, I request the Government may be pleased to refer this Bill to the Select Committee."

(At this stage Sri A. Ramasami Tevar occupied the Chair.)

SRI P. G. KARUTHIRUMAN:—"கனம் சேர்மன் அவர்களே, இந்தச் சர்க்காரால் கொண்டுவரப்பட்டிருக்கும் கடன் ஒத்திவைப்புச் சட்டத்தை ஓரளவு ஆதரிக்கிறேன். இப்போது இருக்கும்படியான ஒரு சூழ்நிலை என்ன, சுமார் 25 வருடத்திற்கு முன்னால் இருந்த விவசாயிகளுடைய நிலை என்ன என்பதை பார்க்கவேண்டும். அதைப் பார்க்கும்போது இப்போது எடுத்திருக்கும் கடன் ஒத்திவைப்பு மிகவும் சிறந்ததுதான். ஆனால் அதற்குமுன் விவசாயிகளுடைய விவசாய நிலைமை முன்னால் எப்படி இருந்தது, இப்போது எப்படி இருக்கிறது என்பதையும் ஆலோசனை செய்யவேண்டும். சுமார் 25 வருஷங்களுக்கு முன்னால் விவசாயிகளுடைய நிலையை எடுத்துப் பார்த்தால் விவசாயத் தொழில் மிகவும் இழிவான தொழிலாகக் கருதப்பட்டு வந்தது. அக்காலத்து நிலையானது விவசாயிகளைப் பற்றி யாரும் கவனிப்பது கிடையாது. அப்பொழுது விவசாயிகளுடைய நிலையை ஒருவரும் அறிந்ததும் கிடையாது.

"சுமார் 25 வருஷங்களுக்கு முன்னால் அமெரிக்கா தேசத்திலே என்ன நடந்தது என்பதைப் பார்க்கலாம். அதாவது விவசாயிகளால் விளைவிக்கப்பட்ட பொருள்களை அறுவடை செய்வதற்கு அவர்களால் செல வழிக்கப்பட்ட உற்பத்திச் செலவை விட அதிகமாக செலவான காரணத்தால், விளைந்த பொருள்களையெல்லாம் தீ வைத்து கொடுத்தி அறுவடை செய்யாமலே இருந்து விட்டார்கள். இது 1931-32-ம் வருஷ காலத்திலே. அந்த நிலையை நாம் சென்னை மாகாணத்திலே எடுத்துக்கொண்டாலும், அன்று விவசாயிகள் பட்ட கஷ்டம் சொல்லி முடியாது. அன்று விவசாயிகள் மிகவும் கஷ்டமான ஒரு நிலையில் வாழ்ந்து வந்தார்கள். ஒரு கலம் ரூ. 1-8-0 ஆக இருந்தது. ஆனால் இப்போது இரண்டாவது உலக யுத்தம் வந்த பின்னர்தான் விவசாயிகளுடைய நிலைமை முக்கியமானது என்பதைச் சர்க்காரும் உணர்ந்தார்கள்; உலக மக்களும் உணர்ந்தார்கள். யுத்தம் காரணமாக விவசாயப் பொருள்களுடைய விலை ஏறு முகமானதன் காரணமாக விவசாயத் தொழிலுக்கு ஒரு உயர்ந்த நிலை ஏற்பட்டது. பழைய விவசாய பொருள்கள் விலையோடு இப்போதுள்ள விவசாயப் பொருள்களின் விலையை ஒப்பிட்டுப் பார்க்கும்போது ஒன்றுக்கு மூன்று பங்காக இருக்கிறது. இந்த நிலையில் ஒரு உண்மையான விவசாயி தன்னுடைய, தனக்கு ஏற்கனவே இருக்கும்படியான கடனை அடைக்க முடியாத நிலைமையில் இருக்கிறானென்றால் மிகவும் வருந்தத்தக்கது தான். ஒரு கண்டி மிளகின் விலை முன்பு 300 ரூபாயாக இருந்தது. இப்போது 4,000 ரூபாயாக இருக்கிறது. அப்படி விற்பனையும், இப்போது இந்த விவசாயிகளுடைய கடன் ஒத்திவைப்பு மசோதா ஏற்படுமானால் அதற்கு அடிப்படையான காரணம் என்ன என்பதை அறியவேண்டும். இந்த யுத்தத்தின் காரணத்தால் விவசாயப் பொருள்களுடைய விலைகள் தாறுமாறாக ஏறுமுகமான காலத்திலே சில விவசாயிகள் வியாபாரத்தில் ஈடுபட்டிருக்கிறார்கள். இதில் மூன்று வகையுண்டு. ஒன்று “தவிர, இதைப்போல் பல மில் முதலாளிகள் யுத்த காலத்தில் கண்ட ரோல் வந்ததாலும், ரேஷன் ஏற்பட்டதாலும் அவர் அவர்களுக்குத் தேவையான சில பூமிகளை வாங்கி அங்கே விவசாயிகளை வைத்துக்கொண்டு பயி ரிட்டு, தங்களுக்குத் தேவையான அரிசியைக் கொண்டு வருவதற்காக சில வியாபாரிகள், மில் முதலாளிகள் விவசாயிகளாக மாறினர். இந்த வியா பாரிகள் இவ்விதமாக தங்கள் நலனுக்காக வேண்டி செய்துகொண்ட தற்கும் நிவாரணம் அளிக்க இச்சட்டம் இடம் தருகிறது. அதையெல்லாம் விலக்கவேண்டும். ஆகையால் இந்த கடன் ஒத்தி வைப்பு சட்டத்தை நன்று ஆலோசனை செய்து இவர்களுக்கு இந்த சட்டத்திலே எந்த வித மான பாத்தியதையும் ஏற்படாத நிலைமை ஏற்படவேண்டும்.

[Sri P. G. Karuthiruman] [8th January 1954]

உண்மையான சாதாரண விவசாயி. இரண்டாவது, விவசாய வியாபாரி. மூன்றாவது, வியாபாரிகள் அதிகப்படியான பொருள் வேண்டி விவசாயிகளாக மாறும்படியான நிலைமை. இதில் உண்மையாக ஆராய்ந்து பார்த்தால் சாதாரண விவசாயிதான் கஷ்டப்பட்டுக் கொண்டிருக்கிறான். இந்த விலை பொருள்கள் தாறுமாறான காரணத்தால் விவசாயிகள் வியாபாரிகளாக மாறி மஞ்சள், கரும்பு, புகையிலை, வாழை முதலிய பொருள்களை வாங்கி விற்றுக்கொண்டிருந்தார்கள். மார்க்கெட் மந்தம் ஏற்பட்ட காரணத்தால் கடன் ஏற்பட்டது. இதுதான் உண்மை.

“சாதாரண விவசாயிகளை எடுத்துக்கொண்டால் அவர்கள் உண்மை யாகவே உற்பத்தி செய்கிறார்கள். இந்த விவசாயிகளுடைய நிலை பல இடங்களில் பலவிதமாக இருக்கும். தஞ்சை அங்கத்தினர் ஒருவர் சொன் னார். அங்குள்ள பூமிகளுக்கு, அதாவது சில இடங்களில் நீர்ப்பாசன வசதி இல்லாவிட்டாலும், மழை பெய்யாவிட்டாலும் விவசாயம் செய்யலா மென்றார். அவர்களுக்கு கிணற்று பாசனமாவது முக்கியம். அதற்காக அவர்களுக்கு விலக்கு அளிக்கப்படவேண்டும். இதெல்லாம் முக்கியமாக கவனிக்கப்படவேண்டும். இப்படிப்பட்ட பூமிகளில் கால மழை பெய்யாத தாலும், வேறு பல காரணங்களாலும் விவசாயிகள் தாங்கள் எதிர் பார்த்த அளவு விவசாயம் பொருள்கள் விளையாது போகலாம். அந்த முறையில் கஷ்டப்படும் விவசாயிகளுக்கு, அந்தக் காலங்களில் நிவாரணம் அளிக்கப்படவேண்டியது சர்க்காரின் முக்கிய பொறுப்பு. சாதாரணமாக ஒரு ஏக்கர் சாகுபடி செய்வதற்கு ரூபாய் 300 செலவாகிறது என்று வைத்துக் கொள்வோம். மழை பெய்யாத காரணத்தாலும், இன்னும் பல மாதிரி யான சூழ்நிலையாலும் அவன் எண்ணியபடி நிலைமை வராது போகலாம். அதற்கு சர்க்கார் என்ன செய்யவேண்டுமென்று கேட்டால், நான் ஒரு ஆலோசனை சொல்ல முடியும். சாதாரணமாக விவசாயிகளுக்கு இன்கூரன்ஸ் திட்டம் செய்யவேண்டியது அவசியம். இந்தத் திட்டத்தால் வெள்ளாமை செய்ய முடியாத காலத்தில், ஏழை விவசாயிகள் காப்பாற்றபடுவார்கள். ஆகையால் இந்த இன்கூரன்ஸ் திட்டம் விவசாயிகளுக்கு மிகவும் சிறந்த ஒரு முறையாதலால் இதைச் சர்க்காரோ அல்லது வேறு கோவாபரேடிவ், அதாவது அடமான பாங்கு மூலமாகவோ அவர்களுக்கு வேண்டிய செல வுக்கு குறைந்த பணம் கொடுப்பதற்கு ஏற்பாடு செய்யவேண்டும். இந்த முறை அல்லாது வேறு யாரையாவது கடன் கொடு என்றால் இன்றுள்ள நிலை யில் யாரும் கடன் கொடுக்கக்கூடிய நிலையில் இல்லை.

“1937-ம் வருஷத்திலே விவசாய கடன் மசோதா வந்தது. அது வரவேற்கத் தகுந்ததுதான். ஆனால் பயன் என்ன? இதன்படி ரூபாய் 100-க்கு 2 அல்லது 3 ரூபாய் வட்டி வாங்கும்படியான நகரத்து பாங்கர்கள் ஒழிக்கப்பட்டார்கள். இவ்வாறு நாட்டுக்கோட்டை செட்டியார்கள் ஒடுக்கப் பட்டது வாஸ்தவம்தான். அது வெற்றியைத்தான் அளித்தது. ஆனால் இன்றுள்ள நிலைமை வேறு. இந்த விவசாயத்தில் மிகவும் அக்கரையோடு பாடுபட்டு வரும் விவசாயிகளுக்கு ஒரு சரியான விலை கிடைக்காததால், இன்று விலைபொருள்கள் மிகவும் பாதிக்கப்படுகிறது. ஆகவே இன்று இன்கூரன்ஸ் திட்டத்திலே விவசாயிகளுக்கு நஷ்டத்தை கொடுக்க வசதி செய்தாகவேண்டும். தமிழன் மிகவும் பண்பாடுடையவன். வாங்கியதை எப்படியும் திருப்பிக்கொடுத்து விடுவான். கம்பராமாயணத்திலே கூட

8th January 1954] [Sri P. G. Karuthiruman]

‘கடன் பட்டார் நெஞ்சம் போல கலங்கினான் இலங்கை வேந்தன்’ என்று இருக்கிறது. ஆனால் இன்று ‘கடன் கொடுத்தான் நெஞ்சப்போல கலங்குகிறான்’ என்று சொல்லவேண்டும். ஆகையால் இந்த இன்கூ ரன்ஸ் திட்டத்தை கொண்டுவந்தால் சர்க்கார் செல்வாக்கு வளரும். அதைக் கொண்டுவரும்படி சர்க்காரை கேட்டுக்கொண்டு, இந்த வசதி இருக் கும்படியான நிவாரணத்தை மிகவும் நல்லதென ஆதரித்து, இதை எல்லா அங்கத்தினர்களும் ஏகமனதாக ஆதரிக்கும்படி கேட்டுக்கொள்ளு கிறேன்.”

SRI V. BALAKRISHNAN :—“Mr. Chairman, Sir, before we go into a further discussion of the Bill and discharge much heat for or against this Bill, I would like to know whether the Govern ment are referring the Bill to a Select Committee. Of course, I am cent per cent behind the Ordinance, but in order to save the precious time of the House, I am asking this information.”

TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN (Sri A. Ramasami Tevar) :—“I request the Hon. the Chief Minister to answer.”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—“Mr. Chair man, Sir, we discussed the matter in the hon. Speaker's room and it has been agreed that we should carry on the discussion till 1 p.m. The Hon. Speaker will make the announcement, but I am doing it unofficially as the Chairman has asked me. We will carry on the discussion till 1 p.m. and when we meet after lunch at 3 p.m. the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill will be taken up and continuously proceeded with, so that hon. Members, who are interested in this Bill, will have time till to-morrow to make any amendments or to consider any suggestions. We will take this Bill as soon as the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill is finished. If necessary, we shall sit on Monday also and finish both the Bills.”

SRI E. L. RAGHAVA MUDALIAR :—“Mr. Chairman, Sir, the Bill was circulated only yesterday. Many provisions of the Ordinance have been recast and new provisions have been intro duced with the result that a certain class of people who were not intended to get any benefit really get the benefit and some class of people who were intended to get some benefit do not get any benefit at all. Many provisions have to be altered after a little consultation and exchange of views. Though this Bill is intended to be in force only for a year, it may have far-reaching conse quences, because after Madras Act IV of 1938 was introduced, the agricultural credit of this State has, to a certain extent, been shattered and just when the agriculturists are rehabilitating their credit position, this Ordinance has come up and again the position of the agriculturists has become very bad. No doubt, the local or the village marwari or money-lender might have been hit hard, but he is a very indispensable factor in the rural agricultural economy. If the agriculturist loses his credit with the local money lender, he would be very much hard pressed and the relief given by this Ordinance is only for a temporary period of one year. After the expiry of this moratorium period, the money-lender will press the agriculturist for payment of his dues.

[Sri E. L. Raghava Mudaliar] [8th January 1954]

"There is another objectionable feature in this Bill, because the most hard-hearted and inexorable persons are the Government and, to a certain extent, co-operative societies, who have lent moneys to most of the agriculturists. The provisions of this Bill will not apply to 'debts' payable to the Government or to any co-operative society. Thus the only debts that are payable in time are the dues to Government and the co-operative societies and under the existing conditions unless those dues are paid within time, coercive steps are taken and moneys are collected by distress or by sale of immovables without granting any time to the agriculturists. But at least a private creditor, if the debtor approaches him properly, will give him time and the agriculturist will get the required relief. The real relief is to be had from the Government and not from the private creditor, because the private creditor realizes the difficulties of the debtor and normally he is willing to give some time.

"Apart from this, I would like to refer to the provision made regarding the bar of suits. Of course, I can understand the provision for staying the filing of suits. But once suits have been filed, I cannot understand why the trial of those suits should be stayed. They can proceed up to the stage of the decree and execution can be stayed."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"That is the practice as lawyers understand it."

SRI E. L. RAGHAVA MUDALIAR:—"I say 'Let that practice be stopped'. When once a person has come to the law court before the Ordinance, why not you allow him to proceed up to the stage of the decree? Let execution of the decree be stayed."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Let there be peace for the lawyer."

SRI E. L. RAGHAVA MUDALIAR:—"Let there be peace for both the lawyer and the party. Apart from this, if you take statistics of old suits pending in next January, you will find that a large number of old suits have been allowed to stagnate. This means that some additional courts will have to be established."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"I may inform the hon. Member that I have collected statistics from three Munsif's Courts and about 1,500 suits have been stayed. I can understand the objection of the Bar all over."

SRI E. L. RAGHAVA MUDALIAR:—"I am not voicing forth the viewpoint of the Bar. I am only asking that suits which have become old and which are ripe for trial should not be stayed."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"If they are so old, they can wait a little more." (Laughter).

SRI E. L. RAGHAVA MUDALIAR:—"What I wish to point out is that by next January there will be heavy accumulation of work in all civil courts and to clear off the arrears we will have to establish some additional courts. This means additional expenditure to the Government.

(At this stage, the Speaker occupied the Chair.)

"Sometimes, we file suits for payment of money coupled with other reliefs also. Suits with regard to payment of money can be stayed, but the other reliefs prayed for may be allowed to be pursued."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"The object of the Government is that the peasant should not be drawn to the court. He should be left in his field. That is why we have not attempted any classification. The primary point is that the tenant should be given some relief."

SRI E. L. RAGHAVA MUDALIAR:—"I agree that the primary point is that the tenant should be given some relief. The definition of 'agriculturist' in the Bill is very wide and all-embracing. I am not on that point.

"I am not here pleading for lawyers. I am speaking about the administration of justice and the adjustment of work in courts. The creditors will be anxious to recover the money immediately after the expiry of the moratorium. To avoid the creditors rushing to courts immediately after the moratorium and the hardship that may be caused to the tenants in having to repay the debt in one lump, we suggest that provision may be made to spread over the repayment in three or four annual instalments. To consider all these things, we request that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee. The Select Committee may be asked to submit its report within a very short time."

MR. SPEAKER:—"We will continue the discussion on this Bill till 1 p.m. When we meet again at 3 p.m. after the lunch interval, we will take up the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, and continue the discussion to-morrow also. After the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill is disposed of to-morrow, we will take up this Bill. If this Bill is not finished by to-morrow, we will have to sit on Monday."

SRI K. VINAYAKAM:—"Are we not having a non-official day on Monday? Let the Government give us an assurance that there will be a non-official day."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"We are in the midst of two very important Bills. They are matters of great urgency and we cannot bring in other business now. If necessary we can give non-official days liberally at the next sitting, because then there will not be urgent work."

SRI V. GOPALA GOUNDER:—"Leave for introduction for the Prohibition (Amendment) Bill, 1953, of which I gave notice was granted in the last session. If that Bill is not moved in this session, I think it will lapse under rule 9 (b) of the Assembly Rules. If there is no non-official day during this session, I have no opportunity of moving the Bill."

[8th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—“ I shall consult the Speaker and Leaders of Parties and see whether any day can be given within this sitting for non-official work.”

SRI S. T. ADITYAN :—“ Mr. Speaker, Sir, I happen to be a lawyer-Member of this House and perhaps come within the purview of the remarks of the Hon. Chief Minister. In spite of his remarks, I make bold to say that this Bill ought to be referred to a Select Committee. The Hon. Chief Minister seems to think that lawyers are at the back of all litigation. Certainly they are not. As a class, we, lawyers, are not very much worried what is going to happen to us. So long as man is man and so long as man has got quarrelsome nature, we can live and there is absolutely no doubt about it. We are not depending on the tender mercies of the Government.”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—“ I did not mean lawyers as such; I am myself one.”

SRI S. T. ADITYAN :—“ I shall try to dissociate myself from that appeal which comes to me from my profession and look into the Bill on its own merits.

“ The Madras Agriculturists' Relief Bill was hustled through the Assembly in 1938. I was not a Member of the Assembly then, but I read the news in the papers. Pretty little time was given for its consideration and if I remember right, the Bill was passed at 10 o'clock or 11 o'clock in the night.”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—“ The hon. Member should know that in those days Members did not feel any fatigue at all. It was the early period of Swaraj so to say. If the hon. Member will take the total number of hours that were given to any Bill, I dare say no Bill ever received better attention than they received in those days.”

SRI S. T. ADITYAN :—“ I do not dispute the fact that our predecessors considered elaborately the questions that were referred to them. With all respect to them, I wish to submit that the procedure they were made to follow in hustling the Bill through was defective. As everybody inside and outside this House knows, the Agriculturists' Relief Act was termed a paradise for lawyers. It was bristling with difficulties which could have been foreseen and provided against if the Bill had been considered more carefully and more solemnly. Unfortunately it was hustled through with the result that a large number of cases cropped up. At a certain stage, the High Court had to appoint a Special Bench to decide cases coming under the Agriculturists' Relief Act alone. I submit that a similar position will be repeated, if we rush through this Bill. I do not oppose the principles of the Bill; I stand by them. I want the Bill to become an Act. What I am submitting is that, if we devote a little more time and attention and consider the Bill more solemnly and more deliberately, we will make it not a paradise for lawyers but a paradise for agriculturists.

8th January 1954]

[Sri S. T. Adityan]

“ I have got a small doubt and I hope the Hon. Speaker will clear it. Are we on the motion that the Bill for referring the Bill to a Select Committee or on a general discussion of the Bill or on both? ”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ The motion as well as the amendment are before the House. The hon. Member can go into the merits of the Bill.”

SRI S. T. ADITYAN :—“ Then, I will have to go into one or two questions relating to the Bill. I will not go into the matter in detail now, because I will have an opportunity of expressing my view when the amendments that I have given notice of are taken up. In this Bill, we are giving relief to agriculturists for at least one year. That is one side of the picture. On the other side of the picture, we have got this, namely, all dispositions or transfers of property of agriculturists are banned for one year, although the Bill does not say so in so many words. Nobody will take an agriculturist's land on mortgage, and that means agricultural credit will be disturbed at the very fountain-head. For a year, not a single person will be willing to lend to agriculturists. I doubt whether the Land Mortgage Bank and the Co-operative Societies will be able to meet the large demand for credit from agriculturists that will arise during the course of the year. I submit that they will not be able to meet the demand. I do not know what alternative arrangements the Government are contemplating. It is not as though this Bill is all an advantage: there are disadvantages also. Every rose has got its thorns, and the thorn in this case is rather sharp and pricking. I expect the Government to consider this aspect and say at the end of the discussion that every effort will be made to stabilize rural credit and that rural credit will not be disturbed.

“ There are one or two other aspects which I am going to refer to now. One of them is this. There are cases in which this Bill seeks to stay the whole of the proceedings. Instances may arise where the agriculturist himself may not want to reopen the whole of the case but only a part of the case. For example, a plaintiff landlord may file an affidavit before the court and obtain ex parte and injunction order. He may pray for two reliefs, one for payment of arrears of rent and the other for possession of the land or, alternatively, an injunction order. He may file an ex parte affidavit and obtain an injunction order from a civil court prohibiting the defendant agriculturist from entering into the land. Under the present arrangement, in this case if the agriculturist wants to reopen the case, he has to reopen the whole of it and not a part of it. Therefore, some arrangement will have to be made so that the agriculturist may be able to reopen a part of it. Otherwise, he will have to reopen the whole case and submit himself to a decree or he will have to refrain from entering his own land which he has been cultivating and which, he believes, he has got a right to cultivate and which, perhaps, is also covered by a lease deed. That is to say, he is caught between Scylla and Charybdis.

[Sri S. T. Adityan] [8th January 1954]

Either he has to submit himself to a decree or he cannot reopen the case at all. I submit such a case may arise and does not arise in practice. As a practitioner, I am telling this hon. House that such cases are quite common. They will have to be provided against.

"There are again other snags. For instance, a dispute may be whether the defendant agriculturist is in possession of the land or not. In such a case, the defendant agriculturist will have to show that he was and is in possession of the land. That can be shown only by taking out a commission before the Court. Here, I find that the taking out of a commission is also stayed. The only things that are allowed are the addition of a party, substitution of a party, removal of a party and also the addition of legal representatives for a party. But the benefit of the ordinary procedure of taking out a commission which will be so helpful to the cultivating agriculturist to show that he has been in possession of the land is denied to the agriculturist. All these things will have to be considered deeply.

"I am afraid there is one other aspect which I should deal with even now. I find, and I am free to admit, that the present Bill as it is introduced, looking at it from the point of view of draftsmanship alone, is much better than the Ordinance. The Ordinance as it was published gave room for a large number of doubts. For instance, one of the doubts was who was a regular cultivator. 'Regularly cultivating the land' was the expression used therein and the question might arise who was a regular cultivator, what was regular cultivation and what was irregular cultivation."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Why discuss the Ordinance now?"

SRI S. T. ADITYAN:—"I want only to compare the Ordinance and not to discuss the merits of the Ordinance. I have read the Ordinance in full and I find that the present Bill, as far as draftsmanship goes, is much better than the Ordinance. But as far as the reliefs, substantial reliefs, are concerned, I think that this Bill is a little retrograde when compared with the Ordinance. That is the point that I want to make out, not that I want to discuss the Ordinance. The Ordinance, as far as I am able to see, tried to make a distinction between the actual cultivator as such and the landowner and the person who has got some vague interest in the land. But the Bill leaves alone the cultivating factor as such and the test here is whether a person has got an interest in the land. A mere mortgagee in possession of the land, whether he is the actual cultivator or not, is also an agriculturist under this Bill. A person who is an income-tax payer may also be an agriculturist under this Bill. Many a person who is not actually the tiller comes in as an agriculturist under this Bill. These are things which could be thrashed out better in a Select Committee than in the whole House. However short the time may be, all the provisions of the Bill should be properly examined by a Select Committee. I, therefore, request the Government not to oppose but to accept the amendment for referring this Bill to a Select Committee."

8th January 1954] [Sri S. T. Adityan]

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, broadly speaking, I welcome the Bill and, from the point of view of draftsmanship, it is certainly clearer and better than the Ordinance. But there are a few things which I would like to point out. The basic idea which had prompted the Government to bring in this Bill and promulgate the earlier Ordinance was to save the ryots or the cultivators from the distraction mentioned in the Preamble, or from the botheration and the troubles of litigation and the claim and pressure by creditors for their moneys. But, unfortunately, unless we very clearly define the two basic concepts involved in the Bill, namely, who is an agriculturist who should be given relief and what is a debt which must be stayed, there will be a large number of people who will be masquerading as agriculturists and seeking relief although they are not entitled to it, and similarly, there may be a number of people who may be really entitled to relief but who may go without it. So, we have got to see how far the present Bill has realized that objective. Speaking for myself, what I find is that the definition of an 'agriculturist' is rather too wide and takes in a larger number of people who cannot claim to be agriculturists, in the strict sense of the term, and any man who has an interest in the land is straightaway an agriculturist. In the Madras Agriculturists' Debt Relief Act, 1938 (Act IV of 1938), there were some wholesome restrictions. A man who pays more than Rs. 500 as kist, a man who has paid income-tax during the preceding two years, a man who pays profession tax or property tax of over Rs. 600 for a half-year, persons whose main avocation or means of livelihood will be non-agricultural, an agriculturist who pays more than Rs. 500 as assessment and can stand on his own feet—all these people did not require any Ordinance or Bill to come to their succour. Such people should not be entitled to relief under this Bill. Otherwise, very rich and commercial men who may simply own a plot of land will certainly come under this Bill, and I can easily imagine big industrialists and commercial magnates also coming in and seeking relief under this Bill. The general effect is that faith in contracts will be lost and there may be a general shake-up. Therefore I would suggest the tightening up of the definition of 'agriculturist'. We must bring under this term only those who are real agriculturists and whom this House and I suppose the Government also seek to benefit. Those tillers of the soil who entirely depend upon agriculture as the means of their livelihood may come under this term. Some of the provisions in the Agriculturists' Relief Act of 1938 may have to be applied, with suitable modifications wherever necessary, instead of making the definition of 'agriculturist' wide.

"I now wish to dwell upon another important matter. The object of the Bill as set out here is to relieve agriculturists from the botheration of litigation and the pressure of creditors. Now, institution of suits is prevented. The proceedings in suits are stayed. It has been expressly and deliberately mentioned that appeals could be continued or instituted; second appeals could be filed and continued and even revision petitions could be propelled in the High Court. If I may be permitted to say so, suits in District Munsif's Court will not be much of a bother for the agriculturist as this court will be in his own place or very near his place. But, if it is an appeal in a District Court, it will involve lot of expenditure and distraction for the agriculturists. This expenditure and distraction will be much more in the case of second appeals and revision petitions in High Court. If it is really the object of the Government, as set out in the Bill, to help the agriculturists and to save them from expenditure, litigation and distractions, it cannot be achieved unless the provisions of the Bill apply in the case of appeals and other proceedings. The object of the Government cannot be fully achieved by merely staying suits. In fact, suits filed in District Munsif's Court do not really distract the agriculturist or deplete his resources or take him away from his holding for a long time. There is no reason why appeals and revision petitions could not also be included. Unless these proceedings are also brought within the purview of the Bill, I am sure the Government will not be really helping or sparing these poor agriculturists from the worries and annoyance caused by unnecessary litigation. I request the Government to carefully consider this question."

"There is a clause dealing with limitation. It is said that if the creditor bona fide believed that a particular agriculturist was covered by this provision and refrained from instituting a suit or making an application, the time during which the institution of the suit or application was barred may be excluded. The creditor may bona fide be under some impression. But the Court or the agriculturist need not be convinced of the bona fides of the creditor. These are some of the points which require careful and detailed consideration."

"The amending Bill is good. It is good that we must see that the ryots are not harassed vexatiously by the creditors. After so many years, they have seen some green crops and are happy. So it is necessary that these people must be given some protection particularly in this year. But, unless these agriculturists are given some alternative source of credit wherefrom they can get some money to carry on their usual agricultural operations, this Bill cannot effectively help them. Barring the usual money-lenders, they do not have any other alternative source of credit. So they will be between two stools. Along with the passing of this Bill, the Government must also take steps to provide some alternative source for these agriculturists. They should be enabled to get greater amounts from the Co-operative Credit Societies. Takkavi loans should be granted more generously. Hereafter, there should not be a niggardly provision in the Budget under the head, 'takkavi loans'. If the Government seriously want to help the poor agriculturists, there is no point in their passing this legislation without providing alternative source of credit. Their allotment to Co-operative Credit Societies should be considerably increased. There is no use of the Government simply removing the money-lenders from the scene without creating an alternative credit machinery which can be taken advantage of by the agriculturists. I hope the Government will look into the matter and accept my suggestion to make larger amounts available for these agriculturists under takkavi loans and to allot larger sums of money to Co-operative Credit Societies."

MR. SPEAKER :—"To-day being Friday, the House will adjourn at 1 p.m. and reassemble at 3 p.m. after lunch. It is desired by the Government that when the House reassembles after lunch, it should take up the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill for consideration. In that case the Hon. Leader of the House has to make a motion."

THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Friday, 8th January 1954.

The House met in the Assembly Chamber, Government Estate, Mount Road, at nine of the clock, Mr. Speaker (THE HON. SRI J. SIVASHANMUGAM PILLAI) in the Chair.

* * * * *

(After lunch—3 p.m.)

THE MALABAR TENANCY (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1953.

MR. SPEAKER :—“ We shall take up the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1953. I shall take up clause 3 first since clause 2 deals with definitions and it can be taken up later.”

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—“ I have given notice of an amendment to introduce a new clause after clause 3. There is no amendment to clause 3 of the Bill and I hope I can move my amendment.”

[8th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Sir, we have an amendment proposing a new clause (clause 1-A) after clause 1. When shall we take it up?"

MR. SPEAKER:—"After we dispose of other clauses, we shall take up clauses 2 and 1 of the Preamble. No hon. Member has given notice of any amendment to clause 3 and so the Hon. the Minister for Law can move his amendment for inserting a new clause after clause 3."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"Sir, clause 9 is intimately connected with section 9-H of the principal Act which is supposed to be repealed. Clause 3 seeks to amend this section so as to substitute the words 'Rent Settlement Authority' with 'Rent Court'. Hence it can be taken up later."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Then, we shall take up clause 4. We shall come to clause 3 later, after we have disposed of section 9 of the principal Act."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"I want you, Sir, to look into clause 12 which repeals section 9-H of the principal Act, which is closely connected with Rent Settlement Authority."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"The hon. Member has not given notice of any amendment to clause 12."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"I oppose the clause which seeks to repeal section 9-H of the Act. Therefore, clause 3 cannot be taken up independently."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"The Government amendment seeks to insert a new clause 3-A. It has nothing to do with clause 3."

MR. SPEAKER:—"We shall take up then clause 4."

New clause 9-A.

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"Mine is a new amendment and therefore I move it. It has nothing to do with clause 3. I move—

'In the Explanation to clause (c) of section 4 of the principal Act, for the word "twenty-two" substitute the word "twenty-five".'

This is in respect of cultivation expenses. I would request hon. Members who have given notice of amendments in this regard not to move them."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Motion moved—

'In the explanation to clause (c) of section 4 of the principal Act, for the word "twenty-two" substitute the word "twenty-five".'

[8th January 1954] [Mr. Speaker]

"I cannot prevent any hon. Member from moving his amendment. Let him say that he is not moving it."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR:—"I am unable to say that I am not moving it. I accept 25 paras suggested by the Government provisionally."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"But he does not actually move his amendment."

MR. SPEAKER:—"That means he is not moving it. However, I shall read Mr. Krishna Ayyar's amendment for the information of the House—

'After clause 3, insert the following as new clause 3-A:—

"3-A. Amendment of section 4, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 4, for the existing Explanation, the following Explanation shall be substituted, namely:—

'Explanation.—Notwithstanding anything contained elsewhere in this Act for the purposes of fixation of fair rent under this section and sections 5 and 6-A, 25 paras of paddy shall be deemed to be the cultivation expenses per acre per crop except in the Wynaad, Kozhikode, Kurumbranad, Kottayam and Chirakkal taluks of the Malabar district and Gudalur taluk of Nilgiri district and any other notified area where 200 seers shall be deemed to be the said cultivation expenses:

'Provided that it shall be open to the court to fix any higher quantity of paddy as cultivation expenses in case of any land or class of lands.'"

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"I want to move my amendment."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"I would request the hon. Member not to move his amendment."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"In order to help the other side, we have suggested an amendment. They have given notice of amendments which they do not actually move. If they do not move, then it may be taken as not moved because to extract the word 'withdraw' seems to be rather difficult."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Then the hon. Member is not moving his amendment?"

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"I am not moving."

MR. SPEAKER:—"I shall read his amendment for the information of hon. Members—

'After clause 3, insert the following new clause:—

"I. Amendment of section 4 of the principal Act.—In the Explanation, for the words 'twenty-two', the word 'thirty' shall be substituted."

He has not moved this. Then, the next amendment relates to the same Member."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM:—"He does not get up. It means that he is not moving it. Let not hon. Member later on say that he was prevented from moving his amendment."

[8th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"We give him an opportunity. We do not steal his time. But they do not move."

SRI K. VINAYAKAM:—"I want to know, Sir, whether 'not moving' means 'withdrawing'."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Not moving' means that the amendment is not before the House. Withdrawal means that it was before the House but was withdrawn after discussion."

SRI K. VINAYAKAM:—"There are several amendments standing in the name of the hon. Member. If he does not want to move them, let him make it clear. It is not proper that he should be asked not to move, not to press and to withdraw. Let us know what is going on in the House. Let the Member be more explicit."

MR. SPEAKER:—"I cannot help promptings in the House. Members have their own parties and such things may go on."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"When Members do not press their amendments, there is no point in saying that we must get oral confessions from them. When the person does not do a thing, it means he does not do it, he does not press it."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"I came just now, Sir, and it is my fault. Proceedings have already begun. I am unable to trace my amendment."

MR. SPEAKER:—"It is amendment No. 64."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"It is an amendment to an independent section and I request the hon. Member not to move it."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The difficulty is that there are a number of amendments and the hon. Members themselves are confused."

SRI C. H. KANARAN:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, Amendment No. 63 has not been taken up and disposed of. I beg to move that amendment:—

New clause after clause 3.

'After clause 3, insert the following new clause:—

(i) Amendment of section 4 of the principal Act.—In the Explanation, for the word "twenty-two", the word "thirty" shall be substituted'.

(ii) In the proviso to the Explanation, the words "on application by the tenant" shall be added at the end.'

The motion was duly seconded.

[8th January 1954]

SRI C. H. KANARAN:—"തൃക്കിഴലപ്പ" 25 പാറ എന്ന് നിശ്ചയിച്ചുകൊണ്ട് ഗവർണ്മെന്റ് ഒരു റേറ്റഗതി കൊണ്ടുവന്നിട്ടുണ്ട്. ഏതായാലും അതിൽ കുറഞ്ഞ ഒരു സംഖ്യ കൊണ്ടുവരാൻ ജന്മിമാർക്കു സൗകര്യം കൊടുക്കരുത്. തൃക്കിഴലപ്പ കുറച്ചുകൊണ്ടു വാരം വർദ്ധിപ്പിക്കാമെന്നുള്ള ഒരു സ്ഥിതി ഉണ്ടാകരുത്. തൃക്കിക്കാരന് രക്ഷ കിട്ടാൻ വേണ്ടിയുള്ള ഒരു റേറ്റഗതിയാണിത്. അതുകൊണ്ട് ഇതു സ്വീകരിക്കേണ്ടതാണ്. ഗവർണ്മെന്റ് ഇതു സ്വീകരിക്കണമെന്നു അപേക്ഷിക്കുന്നു."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM:—"Just one word of explanation, Sir. New Clause 3-A relates to amendment of clause (c) of section 4 of the parent Act. Unless there is an amendment corresponding to this, there is no point in considering the amendment of the hon. Member."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"There is one other way. There is really no difference of opinion and we are spending time for nothing. There is no amendment to the new clause 3-A and it can be put to vote with the consent of the House and passed. Anything contrary to this will be out of order."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The Government have moved an amendment. Hon. Member wants to move an amendment to the Government's amendment. This amendment should be disposed of before I put that to the vote of the House."

SRI N. GOPALA MENON:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, there is really no necessity for this amendment because there is a proviso to section 4 which says 'Provided that it shall be open to the Rent Settlement Authority (now the Rent Court) to fix any other quantity of paddy as cultivation expenses in respect of any land or class of lands.' It will be thus seen that 25 paras have been fixed only tentatively. It is always open to a party to go to a Court and claim that the actual cultivation expenses really come to a much higher figure or even to a smaller figure. It is equally open to the Rent Court to decide the actual cultivation expenses. Therefore, I submit that there is no real necessity for this amendment which seeks to increase it from 22 paras to 30 paras."

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN:—"I want to support the amendment of the hon. Member Sri C. H. Kanaran. Twenty-five paras have been fixed as the minimum cultivation expenditure and very often it varies between 30 to 40 paras. This amendment to the Explanation is therefore quite necessary. I support it."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"I oppose it, Sir, because the allowance of 25 paras is most reasonable and one of the most active peasant workers has stated that that is absolutely sufficient."

MR. SPEAKER:—"I am putting the amendment of Sri C. H. Kanaran to the vote of the House. The question is—

'After clause 3, insert the following new clause:—

(i) Amendment of section 4 of the principal Act.—In the Explanation, for the word "twenty-two," the word "thirty" shall be substituted.

(ii) In the proviso to the Explanation the words "on application by the tenant" shall be added at the end.'

The amendment was put and lost.

[8th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar proposes to move an amendment (amendment No. 64) to section 5 of the parent Act. I would like to know whether it is in order."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"Strictly speaking, it is not in order and I request the hon. Member to withdraw it."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM:—"In any event, the new clause 3-A will have to be put to vote. There is no further amendment with reference to that and then the question may be taken whether with reference to section 5 of the principal Act a new amendment can be allowed or not."

MR. SPEAKER:—"I now put the Government amendment to the vote of the House. The question is—

Clause 3-A:

'In the Explanation to clause (c) of section 4 of the principal Act, for the word "twenty-two", substitute the word "twenty-five".'

The motion was put and carried.

SRI C. H. KANARAN:—"I want to move amendment No. 64."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member wants to re-open section 5 of the principal Act. I do not know whether it is in order."

SRI C. H. KANARAN:—"I beg to move—

'After clause 3, insert the following new clause:—

Amendment of section 5 of the principal Act.—In section 5 of the principal Act—

(i) clause (a) shall be omitted;

(ii) after clause (b), after the number (ii), the words "the enhanced portion of" shall be inserted;

(iii) in clause (b), the words "whichever is higher" shall be omitted.'

"പുതുതായിട്ടുള്ള ഒരു ക്ലോസ് ഭേദഗതിയായി കൊണ്ടുവരമോ എന്നുള്ള ചോദ്യത്തിന് നാണെങ്കിൽ, ഇവിടെ പല ക്ലാസ്സിലും അങ്ങനെ ഭേദഗതികൾ കൊണ്ടുവന്നിട്ടുണ്ട്. ആ നിലക്കാണ് ഞാനും ഈ ഭേദഗതി കൊണ്ടുവരുന്നത്?"

The amendment was duly seconded.

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"My submission is that the Government themselves have moved an amendment to section 4. Of course, we did not object to that. We are now dealing with an amendment with regard to fair rents, that is, Chapter II. Strictly speaking, this is not an amendment to a section."

[8th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"We did not oppose it on that account."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"This is an amendment to a section in the chapter dealing with fair rent. My submission is that the amendment is within the ambit of the Bill and that it does not enlarge the scope of the Bill. Of course, we are making mutual adjustments. Even though the amendment may not be directly related to a clause in the Bill, such amendments used to be taken up. A strict interpretation of the rules need not stand in the way."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Having given sufficient time, I will put the amendment to vote. The question is—

'After clause 3, insert the following new clause:—

Amendment of section 5 of the principal Act.—In section 5 of the principal Act—

(i) clause (a) shall be omitted;

(ii) after clause (b), after the number "(ii)", the words "the enhanced portion of" shall be inserted;

(iii) in clause (b), the words "whichever is higher" shall be omitted.'

The amendment was put and lost.

Clause 4.

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"Sir, I move—

'In clause (a) of section 6 of the principal Act, for the word "one-fourth", substitute the word "one twentieth".'

"This amendment is about the fair rent for kypad cultivation. Punjakole or kypad cultivation is a system of river-bed cultivation. The expenses involved in it are very high and such cultivation fetches practically nothing for the tenants. Therefore, it will be very difficult for them to pay as rent one-fourth of the gross produce. As some relief has to be given to the tenant, I have moved the amendment."

SRI C. H. KANARAN:—"Sir, I second the amendment."

SRI N. GOPALA MENON:—"Sir, my Friend Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar says that the expenses involved in kypad cultivation are very high. I suppose punjakole and kypad cultivations are more or less similar. In this system, it is the landlord who bears the entire expenses of bund-building and the baling out of water. So far as punjakole cultivation is concerned, I am very definite. But I am not definite about kypad cultivation which is probably in vogue in North Malabar. What happens in punjakole cultivation in South Malabar is this. The bunds will have to be thickened and the water will have to be baled out. These are expensive processes which are ordinarily done by the landlord at his own expense. What the actual cultivator does is merely to plough the land and sow the seeds. The reaping expenses are borne half and half by the landlord and tenant. This is a complicated system, and it will be unwise to reduce the rent from one-fourth to one-twentieth merely on the strength of the statement made by the hon. Member Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar that the cultivation expenses are high, without making any investigation. Even as it is, there is a lot of grumbling among landlords that their share has been reduced to one-fourth of the gross produce. Therefore, I submit that this should not be tampered with."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" Sir, the facts stated by my hon. Friend Sri Gopala Menon are not correct. If the landlord is himself cultivating, there is no question of rent. Kypad cultivation is cultivation of water-logged regions. Tenants engage machinery or manual labour to bale out water about knee-deep or even deeper. It is a very difficult cultivation. Kypad cultivation is not on a par with other systems of cultivation, because it involves heavy expenditure. That is why it has been treated on a different footing even in the original Act."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, regarding kypad cultivation, which is more or less the same as punjakole cultivation, Sri Gopala Menon spoke as if from personal experience. I have also some familiarity with that kind of cultivation. So far as I can gather, it is entirely wrong to say that the landlord bears the expenses of bunding up and the baling out of water and shares the harvesting expenses. It is unknown in the whole of North Malabar where kypad cultivation is widely prevalent. Kypad cultivation is more hazardous and the crop is more fluctuating, as such cultivation depends upon a series of uncertain factors. The amount of cultivation expenses is very heavy, relatively speaking. For instance, water inundation of the land is a common thing. If the rains do not come in time, there may have to be baling out of water and prevention of salt water entering from the sea or backwater and all kinds of complications will arise. Considerable attention and expenditure are required. That is why there has been agitation for a separate and differential treatment for punjakole and kypad cultivation. I, therefore, support the amendment moved by Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" There is already a differential treatment."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" No doubt there is already a differential treatment in the Statute, but it is not at all fair. The proportion must be further reduced from the existing one-fourth to one-twentieth."

8th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Hon. Members may be right in saying that Sri Gopala Menon has exaggerated the position. Even now it is one-fourth and not one-half and that is the difference."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" One-fourth of the gross produce."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Three-fourths of the gross produce the tenant gets."

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN :—" The statement made by Sri Gopala Menon is not correct so far as South Malabar is concerned. I have got personal experience about punjakole cultivation in the constituency from which Mr. Gopala Menon hails. No landlord pays even a single pie for the construction of bunds or the baling out of water. About three-fourths of the gross produce will have to be expended on cultivation. If the tenant is to give the landlord the remaining one-fourth, there will be nothing at all left for the tenant."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" I oppose the amendment. The fair rent fixed is reasonable. I request the hon. Member to withdraw the amendment."

(Sri C. H. Kanaran rose to speak.)

MR. SPEAKER :—" It is a very bad practice for any hon. Member to rise after the Minister replies. Hereafter, if any Member wants to speak, let him stand up before the Minister replies."

SRI C. H. KANARAN :—" സാർ, കയ്യാട് നിലങ്ങളെ സംബന്ധിച്ചിടത്തോളം മറ്റൊരാൾക്ക് ശരിയായ വിവരമില്ല. അതിൽ സാധാരണ ചെലവുണ്ട്. ആരെങ്കിലും തിരികെ ഏകദേശം മുക്കാൽഭാഗത്തിലധികം ചെലവാകും. നാലിലൊന്ന് എന്ന പദം അതിൽ കൃഷിക്കാരന് ആദായമുണ്ടാകുകയില്ലെന്നു മാത്രമല്ല, വളരെ നഷ്ടവും ഉണ്ടാകും. പുത്തൂർക്കോളിനെപ്പറ്റി എനിക്ക് നല്ല അറിവില്ല. അതുകൊണ്ട് ഞാൻ അതിനെപ്പറ്റി ഒന്നും പറയുന്നില്ല."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" அவர்களுக்குத்தான் கால் பங்கு கிடைக்கப்போகிறதே. அவர்கள்தானே எடுத்துக்கொள்ளப் போகிறார்கள்."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" On a point of order, Sir. May I know whether the Hon. Chief Minister spoke in Tamil so that he may not be understood by the Malabar Members? "

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" I spoke in Malayalam."

MR. SPEAKER :—" The question is—

'In clause (a) of section 6 of the principal Act, for the word "one-fourth", substitute the word "one-twentieth".'

The amendment was put and lost.

[8th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER :—" I will put clause 4 to vote. Then I will take up the Government amendment to the proposed clause 4-A."

Clause 4 was put and carried.

New clause 4-A and clause 17.

MR. SPEAKER :—" The Hon. Minister for Law will move his amendment."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" There is an amendment to section 6-A of the principal Act given notice of by me. The amendment to be moved by the Hon. the Minister for Law seeks to amend section 7 of the principal Act. Therefore, I may be allowed to move my amendment first."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" The amendment of the hon. Members seeks to amend a section of the principal Act not contemplated by the Bill."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" We can take it up afterwards, Sir."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" Let us take up the amendments seriatim. First, let us take up the amendment to section 6-A of the principal Act. Afterwards, we can take up the other amendments."

MR. SPEAKER :—" All right. The hon. Member Sri Narayana Kurup will now move his amendment."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" Sir, I move the following amendment which stands in my name—

' After clause 4, insert the following as clause 4-A :—

" 4-A. Amendment of section 6-A, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 6-A, after the words ' the Nilgiris district ', the words ' and such other like regions in Malabar district to be notified by the Collector ' shall be added."

Sir, section 6-A of the principal Act, gives more favourable terms in regard to paddy rent in mountainous areas than in other areas. Two taluks are mentioned therein for that purpose, namely, Wynaad and Gudalur taluks. The purpose of my amendment is to extend that concession to similar regions of other taluks. For instance, Nilambur and Attapadi in Walluvanad taluk are worse than Wynaad and Gudalur taluks. Those places are also malarial regions and the same conditions which prevail in Wynaad and Gudalur prevail there also. Therefore, I submit that my amendment is not a revolutionary one. The concession referred to may be extended also to other areas to be notified by the Collector as being similar in conditions to Wynaad and Gudalur."

The amendment was duly seconded.

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" I oppose the amendment because it is not necessary, all things being considered, the necessary restrictions have been put in the Act."

[8th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER :—" The question is—

' After clause 4, insert the following as clause 4-A :—

" 4-A. Amendment of section 6-A, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 6-A, after the words ' the Nilgiris district ', the words ' and such other like regions in Malabar district to be notified by the Collector ' shall be added."

The amendment was put and lost.

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" Sir, there is an amendment of mine to the same section 6-A, namely, amendment No. 66."

MR. SPEAKER :—" I shall do one thing. I shall ask the Government to move their amendment. After it is moved, hon. Members may move their amendments."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" Sir, the amendment of the hon. Member introduces a new provision."

MR. SPEAKER :—" But if it comes within the scope of the Bill, I cannot help allowing it."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" Sir, I move the following amendment given notice of by me on 4th January 1954 :—

' After clause 4, insert the following as new clause 4-A :—

" 4-A. Amendment of section 7, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 7 of the principal Act—

(i) in sub-section (1), after the words ' fair rent ' where they first occur, the words, figures and brackets ' subject to sub-sections (5), (6) and (7), ' shall be inserted;

(ii) in sub-section (2), for the word ' one-sixth ', the word ' one-eighth ' shall be substituted;

(iii) after sub-section (4), the following sub-sections shall be inserted, namely :—

' (5) Fair rent determined under section 9-CC shall not exceed twice the rent payable for the agricultural year 1949-50 and fair rent determined under section 9-G shall in no case exceed twice the rent payable for the year immediately preceding the date of the application for revision.

(6) Where fair rent under sub-sections (2) to (5) exceeds the rent payable for the year 1949-50 or for the year immediately preceding the date of the application for revision, as the case may be, the increase shall be spread over more than one year so that in no year the rent shall be more than one and a quarter times the rent payable for the year immediately preceding.

[8th January 1954]

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" Sir, I do not claim any particular virtue for my amendment. But, inasmuch as it covers the points at issue, I think the House can consider it."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" The principle underlying the hon. Members' amendments is the same, viz., adoption of either contract rent or fair rent, whichever is less. Whatever be the language, this is what is mentioned in the Praja Party's resolution as well as the Communist Party's resolution. The Government want to come to some compromise."

MR. SPEAKER :—" It is better if we follow the amendments in the order in which they are given."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" My amendment No. 31 relates to the same subject. All these are connected matters. This is my amendment, Sir. (i) After item (1), insert the following new item : " after clause (f)"

MR. SPEAKER :—" It relates to clause 2. When we take up clause 2 for consideration and discussion, the hon. Member may move it."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" If one amendment is accepted, the other will be rejected automatically."

SRI K. M. SEETHI SAHIB :—" As the matter is not very clear, I would like to have clarification from the Hon. Minister concerned or from the Hon. the Chief Minister. With regard to the ceiling now placed as to the increased rent, may I know whether it applies to garden lands as well as wet lands?"

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" I think I have made it clear that the ceilings apply to all."

MR. SPEAKER :—" I will ask the Government to move their amendment. Then I will dispose of amendment No. 66. If Sri V. R. Krishna Ayyar wants to move his amendment No. 31, I have no objection."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" I think we can take amendment No. 62 also along with amendment No. 66."

MR. SPEAKER :—" It relates to a different clause. How can that be moved here? When we come to the clause to which it relates, we can take up that amendment."

SRI C. H. KANARAN :—" When we fix fair rent, we must also provide that, either contract rent or fair rent, whichever was less, must be adopted."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" As the Hon. the Chief Minister has himself said that the Government amendment and our amendments are closely connected, I say all the amendments may be moved, discussed and voted upon."

[8th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" All these amendments may be deemed to have been moved. At the end, they may be separately put to the vote of the House, if necessary."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" I have no objection to Sri Narayana Kurup moving his amendment."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" Sir, I think if the Government move their amendment, i.e., new section 28, I can move my amendment."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" Sir, the objection seems to be that I have not moved clause 17, as reported by the Joint Select Committee. So, I move—

' That clause 17 as reported by the Joint Select Committee do stand part of the Bill. '

MR. SPEAKER :—" Motion moved—

' That clause 17 as reported by the Joint Select Committee do stand part of the Bill. '

" Now, the hon. Member Sri Narayana Kurup may move his amendment."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" Sir, I move my amendment"

MR. SPEAKER :—" Let the hon. Member kindly tell the number of his amendment. We have got 90 amendments or so. Unless the hon. Member gives the number of his amendment, it will be very difficult to follow him."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" Sir, I move amendment No. 13 standing in my name which reads as follows :—

' For the proposed section 28, substitute the following :—

" 28. The maximum rent payable by every cultivating tenant, of a holding other than a kanomdar or a customary verumpattomdar, every tenant of a commercial site who is entitled to fixity of tenure under the Act, every tenant of a kudiyruppu, every holder of an ulkudi and every holder of a kudikidappu shall be fair rent fixed under this Act or the rent which he has been paying before, if such rent is less than the rent thus fixed. "

SRI K. T. SREEDHARAN :—" I second the amendment, Sir."

MR. SPEAKER :—" Motion moved—

' For the proposed section 28, substitute the following :—

" 28. The maximum rent payable by every cultivating tenant, of a holding other than a kanomdar or a customary verumpattomdar, every tenant of a commercial site who is entitled to fixity of tenure under the Act, every tenant of a kudiyruppu, every holder of an ulkudi and every holder of a kudikidappu shall be fair rent fixed under this Act or the rent which he has been paying before, if such rent is less than the rent thus fixed. "

[8th January 1954]

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"Sir, before speaking on my amendment, I will have to refer to the proposed section 28 which reads as follows:—

'28. Every cultivating tenant of a holding other than a kanomdar or customary verumpattamdar, every tenant of a commercial site who is entitled to fixity of tenure under this Act, every tenant of a kudiyiruppu, every holder of a protected ulkudi and every holder of a kudikidappu shall be bound to pay to his landlord—

(a) in case fair rent has been determined under section 9-CC, such fair rent as modified in appeal, if any, under section 9-D,

(b) in case there has been no such determination, the rent agreed to by both the parties to be the fair rent payable in accordance with the provisions of sections 4 to 9-B,

(c) in case there is no such agreement, the fair rent, if any, fixed under this Act, as it stood before the commencement of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1951 (Madras Act XXXIII of 1951), or

(d) in case no fair rent has been fixed as aforesaid, the rent payable according to the contract, express or implied between the parties:

Provided that in the case mentioned in clause (a), where there is a contract, the tenant shall, until the expiration of the period of contract, pay at his choice, either the contract rent or the fair rent and shall thereafter pay the fair rent.'

The main difference is with regard to the question as to what is the rent payable by a tenant, when to-day he is paying a lesser amount. I do not want to say much in detail because of the fact that the tenants in Malabar to-day are paying very exorbitant rent. One hon. Member gave a very rosy picture of the income of the tenants. But it is our experience and it is the experience of all that what the tenant gets to-day is not what is fixed or determined by the Tenancy Act, but very much less. As you know, the 1930 Act fixed the tenant's share of the income as one-third of the net produce. But as has been observed by everyone who went into the question, land especially South Malabar is notoriously and grievously rack-rented. Not only that. It was in 1953 that an American expert who was engaged by the Government of India to advise them on agrarian questions that observed, after a careful survey of the conditions in Malabar and Tanjore, that the cultivating tenants were giving the landlords 75 per cent of the gross-produce. You will contrast this 75 per cent which the tenants give to the landlords with the one-third net which they are entitled to. Therefore it is that we plead for the intercession of the Government to reduce the rack-rent. The Government have often interfered and always interfered to protect the weaker section which is in this case the tenant class. The enactments made by the Government were always intended to protect the tenant and to give him relief in respect of the contract wherever the tenant had contracted more favourable terms. It has never been the practice for the Government to say that the tenants must pay more. It is exactly in this respect that my amendment differs from the Government amendment. The simple question before the House is whether in a tenancy legislation as a result of the measure which the Government bring forward the tenants' burden should be increased or whether the existing state of things should continue where the tenant has got advantageous terms. The Hon. the Chief Minister said that words were immaterial. But I do believe that words are material, very material in dealing with such a question. The expression 'contract rent or fair rent, whichever is less' will not suffice because we know what is meant by 'contract rent'. It means this legally. Suppose a tenant has taken lands on lease for a particular period of years. Within that period it will be construed as contract rent. But all those who are acquainted with conditions in Malabar know that the leases especially in respect of paddy lands are registered only for one year and even leases for longer periods are only 'holding over'. Leases may be for sixty years and the lessee may be holding the land under the same conditions. That is why I have said the liability of the tenant is to pay only the fair rent or the existing rent whichever is less.

"Then, Sir, I most vehemently oppose clause (b) of the proposed section 28, because, as I said, the aim of the Government should be to give protection to the tenants against contracts. This clause means to give legal sanction to contracts entered into by parties even though it might be that the rent is higher than the rate fixed by this enactment. It says—

'(b) In case there has been no such determination, the rent agreed to by both the parties to be the fair rent payable in accordance with the provisions of sections 4 to 9-B.'

Take the case where a tenant has filed a petition to get the hundred rupees rent that he has been paying reduced to a reasonable level. If the landlord is able to get the signature of the tenant to a document saying that the rent was Rs. 150, then this clause (b) will validate that agreement. I can understand if complete fixity is given to the tenant. But that is not given. Still we have a provision which is capable of such interpretation as I pointed out. Therefore, it is such a mischievous clause which is not to be found in any other tenancy legislation.

"Then the proviso says—

'Provided that in the case mentioned in clause (a), where there is a contract, the tenant shall, until the expiration of the period of contract, pay at his choice, either the contract rent or the fair rent and shall thereafter pay the fair rent.'

This is definitely in favour of the landlord. You will find, Sir, there is a principle embodied here that where the terms of the contract are favourable to the tenant, the Government say that he must pay the higher rent. Take for instance, the clause dealing with pepper. There it is said that the rent payable by the tenant is one-sixth and that it must be paid every sixth year and every 12th year. But there also there is a proviso saying that if the tenant has contracted for payment every year, that should be paid accordingly. We know that it is the most oppressive provision."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member is making a very long speech."

[8th January 1954]

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"I am contrasting this to show that where the contract is favourable to the landlord, it is given effect to and where it is favourable to the tenant it is given the go-by. If such provisions are included in the Bill, the Government must be prepared to face the accusation that they intend to favour the landlord wherever possible. I strongly press that the tenant's liability should never be increased and that it should continue as it is. I, therefore, commend my amendment to the House for its acceptance."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR:—"Sir, in seconding the amendment, I have hardly a word to add to what Mr. Narayana Kurup has mentioned. The Hon. the Chief Minister has been saying in season and out of season that the notion of fairness will always be adhered to and that fair rent will be really fair. It is like saying that if it is in favour of the tenant, then the fair rent should be denied and if it is against him, then it should be given effect to. This is the very basic notion of the Government and this is most unjust. It is not mere legalistic argument that I put forth. I want that the system of compelling the tenant to pay a rent that is unreasonable should be put an end to."

"Public opinion has all along been that the existing rents which are high should be brought down so that these poor gullible folk, I mean, the poor tenants might carry on their work with satisfaction. But what is now sought to be done is a strange thing. All along the fair rent has been less than the contract rent agreed to between the landlords and tenants, because the landlords had the upper hand and they dictated their own terms and the poor tenants for fear of eviction agreed to those terms. This was the state of affairs prior to 1951. But after 1951 Act when some sort of fixity of tenure was given to the tenant and fair rent was fixed statutorily by the Rent Settlement Authority the provision was laid down giving the option to the tenant to pay either the contract rent or fair rent whichever was less. But that provision is now deleted. It is an accepted principle, in fact it has been the accepted policy of the people of Malabar irrespective of party affiliations to stick to that principle enabling the tenant to pay whichever was less. That was what the former Ministry also accepted when the 1951 Act was passed and put into force from 15th March 1952. I do not know by what logic it is now proposed to delete that valuable provision. If the Hon. Chief Minister were to characterize this important provision as simply a verbal one without attaching the importance it deserves, may I crave his indulgence to accept the amendment of Mr. Narayana Kurup which is more or less on the same lines as mine and which in fact stipulates that the maximum rent which a cultivating tenant has to pay in respect of a holding for which fixity of tenure has been given shall be the fair rent fixed under this Act or the rent which has been paying before, if such rent is less than the rent thus fixed. In fact, it has been the cry all along from all quarters of Malabar that the poor cultivator should not be rack-rented and that he should be given some protection. When with that laudable object this tenancy legislation is brought forth, I do not see any reason why this provision, prohibiting the tenant from paying either the contract rent or fair rent whichever is less, a provision on which the whole crux of the problem lies, is now deleted. May I appeal to the good sense of the Hon. Chief Minister if only verbal stipulations alone hurt his conscience, to accept the amendment of Mr. Kurup to which I had already referred. As I have stated before let us not do away with the salient provision in the original Act enabling the tenant to pay the lesser of the contract or fair rent, when all along the cry has been there that the poor cultivator should be given security and all that. Let us understand that it is the landlord who has the upper hand. If you do not give the benefit of paying the rent which is less of the two, to the tenant, then he has no other go but to pay the landlord the contract rent which in all probability will be higher than the fair rent. That is the pitiable situation in which the tenant is placed. Let us remember that. In fact if one were to ascertain public opinion in Malabar, there will be only one voice and that voice will be in support of the provision enabling the tenant to pay the rent either the contract or fair rent whichever is less. In fact, that has been what the tenants had been clamouring for all along. So, I request that either my amendment or Mr. Kurup's amendment running on similar lines may be accepted. I do not know how the Hon. Chief Minister thinks that, by accepting this amendment, the notion of fairness would be violated. On the other hand, I am inclined to think that the acceptance of that amendment would, on the other hand, strengthen the hands of the tenant, for whose welfare this tenancy reform is contemplated."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Let Sri Seethi Sahib now move his amendment."

SRI K. M. SEETHI SAHIB:—"I now move my amendment:—

'For the existing proviso under the proposed section 28 (d) (of the principal Act and now clause 17 of the present Bill), substitute the following:—

"Provided that in the case mentioned in clause (a) where there is a contract, express or implied, the tenants shall pay the contract rent or the fair rent whichever is less."'

The amendment was duly seconded.

SRI K. M. SEETHI SAHIB:—"While moving my amendment, let me also support the amendment of Mr. Krishna Ayyar and Mr. Kurup, for all these try to fulfil the same purpose, by enabling the tenant to pay the rent either the contract or fair rent, whichever is less. There seems to be an opinion that the existing rent, I mean, the contract rent which has been agreed to be paid by the tenant to the landlord, was fixed many years back and that it is reasonably liable to be revised, occasionally. Evidently it is thought that that rent is very low. But I think people forget the fact that these rents were subject to periodical revisions every twelve years and that when renewals were effected, the rents were enhanced. Thus the contract rent that is prevalent now is the result of periodical revisions and looking at it from the tenants' point of view it is fairly high and hardly within his capacity to pay. Now that fixity of tenure is assured for the tenant and there is provision for fixation of fair rent, it is but fair and reasonable that the tenant should be allowed to pay either the fair rent or in case the fair rent is not fixed, and he is bound by the contract he had entered into between himself and the landlord, the contract rent whichever is less. The tenant should be given the opportunity to choose the lesser of the two. I think it is but fair and reasonable that our amendment seeking to provide the benefit of paying the rent which is less, is fair and reasonable. I think the acceptance of that amendment would go a long way to satisfy the needs of the peasants and improve the relationship between the landlord and tenant, which is so necessary to step up food production. My amendment as well as the amendments of Mr. Krishna Ayyar and Narayana Kurup are on almost identical terms. Any one of the amendments may be accepted."

[Sri K. M. Seethi Sahib] [8th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER:—"I think, Mr. Shafee has also given notice of the same amendment. Let him formally move it."

SRI KUNHI MUHAMED SHAFEE:—"Sir, I move—

'For the existing proviso under the proposed section 28 (d) (of the principal Act and now clause 17 of the present Bill), substitute the following:—

"Provided that in the case mentioned in clause (a) where there is a contract, express or implied, the tenants shall pay the contract rent or the fair rent whichever is less."

The motion was duly seconded.

MR. SPEAKER:—"Motion moved—

'For the existing proviso under the proposed section 28 (d) (of the principal Act and now clause 17 of the present Bill), substitute the following:—

"Provided that in the case mentioned in clause (a) where there is a contract, express or implied, the tenants shall pay the contract rent or the fair rent whichever is less."

"I think Mr. Gopalan wants to move an amendment. Let him move it."

SRI K. P. GOPALAN:—"Sir, I move—

'In the proviso to the proposed section 28 (d), for the words "pay at his choice, either the contract rent or the fair rent and" substitute the words "pay either the contract rent or the fair rent, whichever is less, and".'

"While moving my amendment, I also support the amendment moved by M. Narayana Kurup."

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN:—"I second it."

8th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER:—"Motion moved—

'In the proviso to the proposed section 28 (d), for the words "pay at his choice, either the contract rent or the fair rent and" substitute the words "pay either the contract rent or the fair rent, whichever is less, and".'

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN:—"While supporting the amendment, I wish to point out the necessity for allowing the tenant to pay the fair rent or contract rent whichever is less. This is an important provision. The Hon. Chief Minister has not taken care to point out how the fair rent is arrived at. He seems to be under the impression that the fair rent in fact is much lower than the contract rent. It is not true. In the fixation of fair rent proper allowance should be made for cultivation expenses. That has not been taken into account. I shall now come to the coconut gardens. The Hon. Law Minister had now come forward with an amendment proposing that rent should be one-eighth of gross-produce. It may be in certain areas that the cultivation expenses are low. But that cannot be taken into account in arriving at the fair rent. It should be noted in this connexion that watering and manuring of coconut gardens costs much. It is the tenant who has to undertake all these works. Therefore when we take the gross-produce into account for fixation of fair rent, we must make due allowance for cultivation expenses, viz., the labour which the tenant had undertaken to raise the produce. The same is the case in respect of cultivation in wet lands in Malabar. But what do we find in this Bill? The valuable suggestion enabling the tenant to pay either the contract rent or fair rent whichever is less is removed. If that is not acceptable to those sitting in the Treasury Benches at least Mr. Narayana Kurup's amendment may be accepted."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"I am supporting the amendment just moved. In fact, all the amendments given notice of by us are almost identical in the respect that we want to reduce the burden on the poor tenant. From time immemorial the cry has been there to lessen the rack-renting of tenants. But now what is done? Not only is the valuable provision enabling the tenant to pay either the contract rent or fair rent whichever is less is removed from the original Bill drafted in 1950 but the power to increase the rent is now provided for. I say unless and until the original provision enabling the tenant to pay either the contract or fair rent whichever is less is restored, all the tenants of Malabar would be doomed. If the present state of affairs continue, the poor tenants have got to pay 100 or 150 per cent more than the rent which they should normally be expected to pay."

DR. K. B. MENON:—"I wish to make a last minute appeal to the Hon. the Chief Minister not to press his point of view. I know that in 1951 when Sri Madhava Menon introduced his last Bill, this provision of contract rent or fair rent, whichever was less, was there. The Congress mind then was like that and I do not know of anything that has happened during the last two or three years that has made the Congress change its mind. If the Congress was fair then, I wish the Congress to be fair to-day and I therefore appeal to the Hon. the Chief Minister not to press the Government amendment."

[Dr. K. B. Menon] [8th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Sir, every attempt has been made to put a political complexion, a political interpretation and a political consequence on what is now going on. I do not think that we should look at things in that way. A great deal of argument was advanced by Sri Narayana Kurup that all these things show one by one that the Government are in favour of landlords. If he thinks that anything can be gained for his party or for his Friends by enunciating such a construction, he is free to do so. But the Government are not ashamed of being just, whether it is in favour of the landlord or whether it is in favour of the tenant. It is not any definite policy of the Government to favour one or the other. There is no creed or dogma to be accepted in this matter. It has been suggested that it should be a dogma with the Government always to be in favour of the tenant as against the landlord. Why? It is because the tenants are the class of people who are larger in number and therefore it is 'public opinion' and the opinion which is in accordance with justice. If it is in favour of the landlords, it is the opinion of a smaller number of people and therefore it is not 'public opinion' and should be rejected. Sir, all this is fallacious. It is extremely bad besides being fallacious. We should all decide to do things justly. Now, it was rightly pointed out to me and it was again indicated here that if it is a question of rack-rent we should try to reduce it till it reaches the normal level. But all the information that we have had—at any rate that I have had—is that the landlords in Malabar have dealt with their tenants far more justly, far more kindly and far more humanly than landlords in other places. That is my impression. It is no good looking at a few odd big janmis and getting jealous of their good condition and way of living and then imagining that everybody is badly treated. Hon. Members coming from Malabar do not know or care to compare the ratios that are prevailing between the landlord's share and the tenant's share in other parts of the country. Otherwise, they would not have been saying all this and they would be more grateful to the generous janmis who have been fair hitherto. But we need not come to a decision on that. Opinions may differ. Now, because it was alleged that the basis of the whole thing is the fairness of what is called the 'fair rent', if that is correct, then it will be agreed that 'fair rent' should be fair rent for either side. I accept that proposition. I asked them where the basis was wrong. After considering the matter further, we said that the cultivation expenses in the case of paddy lands should be raised to 25 paras instead of 22 paras. With regard to coconut gardens, it was mentioned that the labour that the tenant puts in over raising coconut plantations should be taken into account and that a large handicap must be given in his favour. We admitted that and that is why the ratio is further reduced in the case of coconut garden lands. Now, taking all these things into consideration, we have tried to make out a formula for just treatment of the tenants. It has allowed for the mistakes that are possible and we have presented this formula. If this is all taken together without forgetting one when we are dealing with another, it will be seen that the formula which the Government have evolved by this amendment makes the whole thing quite fair and proper. Then again it was said that a sudden rise in prices may happen. If a thing is shared in a particular ratio, say 1/6th or 1/8th or 1/12th, both the landlord and the tenant get their corresponding share because it is in kind, but when it is converted into money, then the question of prices comes in and in recent times prices have risen very high. So when there was no fixity, the landlord was agreeable to take a very low rent converted into money so to say for he was content with it and that is why I say that the landlord in Malabar is better than the landlords elsewhere. He was content with it for a long time. Can we hit him in both ways? We must either make it possible for him to get a better tenant or we must allow him to get a fair rent from court. That is what is provided for. Then it was said that even though it may be just in terms of money value according to present day prices of commodities like coconuts, pepper and the like, it may be too much of a sudden rise. It was asked: 'Last year the tenant was paying Rs. 5. Is he to pay Rs. 175 this year?'. He won't be asked to pay Rs. 175. If last year he was paying a rent of Rs. 5, it can never go beyond Rs. 10 and that too spread over a number of years before that Rs. 10 is reached. But if we exaggerate the premises, we get these anomalous results. If last year a man was paying Rs. 5 and if he is asked to pay Rs. 20 now, it may be wrong. Under the present proposal you cannot raise it to more than Rs. 10 at the most. Even if you go to a court, it cannot be increased beyond this. Very probably you will get decree for a much smaller sum. If what is unexpected happens and it is doubled, then it has to be spread out. Therefore, I submit that we have met the difficulties from every point of view and the House should be one in accepting this. But I am sorry that parties are eager to push their own case forward and make out that the Government are bad and favouring the landlords. We will try to meet such propaganda as best as we can."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"Sir, the Government said that they were not ashamed of the position taken by them and we on our part are not the least ashamed for the position taken by us which we think is just. The Hon. the Chief Minister made out that the landlords of Malabar were very generous and he will not give credence to anything that we are saying because it comes from the Opposition. He need not believe us, but I will quote a paragraph from the speech of ex-Minister Sri Madhava Menon who introduced the Bill describing the pitiable condition of the tenants of Malabar. He said: 'As I said now, the present position of rent in Malabar, ordinarily—of course, there may be exceptions—is that the actual cultivator gets very little from the land. In Malabar, the landlord does not spend anything by way of seed, or cultivation expenses or fertiliser or manure; but the seed and entire cost of cultivation are borne by the tenant and so the tenant practically gets nothing; but perhaps in some cases he may get some straw."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"After all that long and eloquent speech, he has reduced it to a certain extent and we are reducing it more. What is the point of reading that speech?"

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"He might have reduced it in spite of himself!"

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"But he has made a generous speech!"

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"Under the 1951 Act, the rent could not be increased in the first five years and even with regard to the rest it was spread over a period of 15 years with the result that the entire rent would be claimable only at the end of 20 years. Can the Government contend that the provision which they have now made is an improvement over section 28 of the 1951 Act? The principle that we have advanced is a principle which is accepted by all jurists and by persons who have had anything to do with this subject on governmental side. Sri N. Raghavendra Rao who considered this question aptly says that in cases where the prevailing rent is lower than the fair rent fixed, he would recommend no change and that the existing rate which has been in force for a long time may be presumed to be fair according to the general principles of fixing the rent and allowed to continue. I have nothing to add to this."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"On a point of personal explanation, Sir. The Hon. Chief Minister said that we were advocating this principle for propaganda purposes and that it was all a competition or race between parties. It is not at all so. In 1948 the Government convened a conference at Kozhikode in which different interests participated. This principle was unanimously accepted by the conference. This is a life and death question for the Malabar peasants. That is why we are pressing the principle."

"It was argued that the Government should be fair to all parties. That is right. As far as landlords are concerned, in certain cases the rents are very low. I have got a paramba in Narath village. At present the landlord is a Nambudri, manager, grandfather's property. He thought it was his pride and glory to be the tenant of a Nambudri, the manager of a temple. So he leased out his land in favour of the temple and he became a tenant of course on a very nominal rent. But actually the land was in our hands."

[Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar] [8th January 1954]

"That is why, Sir, in certain cases the rent is very low. But now, if this principle of contract rent or fair rent whichever is less is not accepted and the provision made by the Government stands as it is, the rent can be enhanced considerably. That is the reason why I say that the principle contained in the amendment moved by Sri M. Narayana Kurup should be accepted by the Government."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I oppose the amendments. We have taken into account the share payable by the tenant as fixed by the 1951 Act. We have taken samples from each taluk and I may tell the House that nowhere is the rent enhanced to two, three or four times. Only in Fort Cochin, there is a rise from the existing rate of rent. Reference was made to the remarks of Sri K. Madhava Menon. The then existing condition was bad. A committee was formed and in that committee all these things were considered. Sri E. M. Sankaran Namboodiripad was a member of that committee and he also gave a minute of dissent to the report of that committee. Then none of the members raised the point that the rent fixed was excessive. In spite of that, we had talks with the Members of the Opposition and reduced the rent still further. Even for the enhancement, we have provided a ceiling limit of twice the existing rent and the increase is spread over a number of years. There is another factor also which we have taken into consideration. The landlord is not at liberty to go to the Rent Court for the determination of fair rent for three years from the date of the commencement of this Act. So for three years the rent will not be enhanced, unless the tenant himself applies to the Court and gets it enhanced. I think the proportion that we have fixed in the Bill is reasonable."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"Under Madhava Menon's Act of 1951, the period is five years, but under this Act it is three years."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Are we now competing with Sri Madhava Menon or making a law?"

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

"For the proposed section 28, substitute the following:—

"28. The maximum rent payable by every cultivating tenant of a holding other than a kanomdar or a customary verumpattomdar, every tenant of a commercial site who is entitled to fixity of tenure under the Act, every tenant of a kudiyiruppu, every holder of an Ulkudi and every holder of a Kudikidappu shall be fair rent fixed under this Act or the rent which he has been paying before if such rent is less than the rent thus fixed." "

The amendment was declared lost.

The amendment was lost.

The amendments of the hon. Members Sri Seethi, Shafeo and Sri Gopalan were, by leave, withdrawn.

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—“ Of course, my amendment has been defeated. But the proposed section 28 has a number of clauses. So, the amendment to this section may be put to the vote of the House clause by clause.”

8th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER :—“ I am going to put clause 17 to the vote of the House. When we come to section 28, we can consider that.”

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—“ I request the Chair to put it to the vote of the House clause by clause.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ I do not understand what the hon. Member says. I am going to put clause 17 to the vote of the House.”

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—“ I have not been correctly understood, Sir. Clause 17 makes amendments to section 28 of the principal Act. There are so many clauses in this section. I request that those clauses may be put to vote separately.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ It is a wrong procedure.”

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—“ I submit it is quite within the competence of the Chair to put to vote each clause separately when there are various clauses in a section.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ The Speaker can separate them but we should not do a thing in the wrong way.”

Then clause 17 was put and carried.

MR. SPEAKER :—“ I shall now put the amendments of the hon. Member Sri Narayanan Nambiar. The question is—

‘ In sub-section (2) of section 7 of the principal Act, for the word “ one-sixth ”, substitute the word “ one-twelfth ” and for the word “ one-third ”, substitute the word “ one-sixth ”.

‘ In sub-section (3) of section 7, for the words “ one-eighth ”, substitute the word “ one-sixteenth ” and for the word “ one-fourth ”, substitute the word “ one-eighth ”.

‘ Add the following proviso to sub-section (3) of section 7 :—

“ Provided that the usufructs belonging to the landlord will be deemed to have been not existing after twelve years from the date of this enactment coming into force for purposes of calculating rent.”

The amendments were put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER :—“ I shall now put the Government amendment, namely, amendment No. 4 to vote. The question is—

‘ 4. After clause 4, insert the following as new clause 4-A :—

“ 4-A. Amendment of section 7, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 7 of the principal Act—

‘ (i) in sub-section (1), after the words “ fair rent ” where they first occur, the words, figures and brackets “ subject to sub-sections (5), (6) and (7), ” shall be inserted;

[Mr. Speaker] [8th January 1954]

(ii) in sub-section (2), for the word "one-sixth", the word "one-eighth" shall be substituted;

(iii) after sub-section (4), the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely:—

"(5) Fair rent determined under section 9-CC shall not exceed twice the rent payable for the agricultural year 1949-50 and fair rent determined under section 9-G shall in no case exceed twice the rent payable for the year immediately preceding the date of the application for revision.

(6) Where fair rent under sub-sections (2) to (5) exceeds the rent payable for the year 1949-50 or for the year immediately preceding the date of the application for revision, as the case may be, the increase shall be spread over more than one year so that in no year the rent shall be more than one and a quarter times the rent payable for the year immediately preceding.

(7) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-sections (5) and (6) or section 9-E, the tenant may elect to pay in kind and, if he does so, the landlord shall be bound to accept, the share of the produce ascertained by the Rent Court in accordance with sub-sections (2) to (4) " " " " " "

The amendment for the insertion of a new clause 4-A was put and carried.

Clause 5.

SRI C. H. KANARAN :—" I move the following amendment that stands in my name:—

"In item (i), for the words "sixth year" substitute the words "tenth year".

"സാർ, കരുമുളകു തോട്ടങ്ങളെ സംബന്ധിച്ച കെ. പി. സി. സി. ഒരു സബ്ക്ലോസ് ററിയെ നിയമിച്ചിരുന്നു. ആ സബ്ക്ലോസ് ററിയെപ്പോലും 1/8 എന്ന് ഗുവാർശ ചെയ്തിട്ടുണ്ട്. ആറിലൊന്നെങ്കിൽ പത്തിലൊന്നെന്നാക്കണമെന്നാണ് എന്റെ ഭേദഗതി. കരുമുളകു കൃഷിക്ക് ചെലവു വളരെയുണ്ട്. മറ്റുള്ള വിളവുകൾക്കു നിശ്ചയിക്കുന്നതു പോലെ കരുമുളകിന്റേ നിശ്ചയിക്കുന്നതു ശരിയല്ല. കരുമുളകു തോട്ടങ്ങളുടെ വില നോക്കിയാൽ, സ്ഥലങ്ങൾ തുച്ഛമായ വിലയ്ക്കു വാങ്ങിയിട്ടുള്ളവയാണ്. ഏക്കറിനു നൂറു രൂപ കയിലധികം ആവുകയില്ല. എന്നാൽ കൃഷിചെലവു ഏക്കറിന് 2,500 രൂപയിലധികം വരും. ആറിലൊന്നാണ് ജന്മിയുടെ അവകാശമായിട്ടു കണക്കാക്കിയിരിക്കുന്നത്. കെ. പി. സി. സി. സബ്ക്ലോസ് ററിയെന്ന പരയുന്നത് 1/8 കൊടുക്കണമെന്നാണ്. ഞാൻ 1/10 എന്നേ എന്റെ ഭേദഗതികൊണ്ടുദ്ദേശിക്കുന്നുള്ളൂ. ഗവർണ്മെന്റ് ആരു സീക്രട്ടിക്കുമെന്ന് വിശ്വസിക്കുന്നു."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" I second the amendment, Sir. In doing so, I wish to mention one or two points. As far as garden lands are concerned, we have made our position clear. Even according to the existing provision of the Malabar Tenancy Act, the rent is three times the assessment in the case of dry lands. It is by the sweat and toil of the tenants that these pepper vines are grown. I do not see any justice in demanding that one-sixth has to be paid. Under the existing provisions relating to tenants' vines in garden lands, one-eighth of the produce is the fair rent. As the dry lands are far inferior to garden lands, the rent must be of a lesser proportion. In the case of these dry lands, the tenants have to spend quite a lot of money for making improvements. The tenants should not be penalised for the additional labour that they put and for the additional expenditure that they have to incur on these dry lands. So I request that this amendment may be accepted."

[8th January 1954] [Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar]

MR. SPEAKER :—" Motion moved—

"In item (i), for the words "sixth year", substitute the words "tenth year".

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" I have only a word just to point out whether there is any justice or fairness in this provision. In the case of dry lands, I wish to submit that they are far inferior to garden lands. That being so, the tenants on dry lands should not be asked to pay the same share to the landlord as the tenants cultivating fertile lands. Such a provision is against all sense of justice. If the Government think that this is a just provision, then it is all right. Let them think so. But the fact is, it is against all canons of justice. Even the K.P.C.C. Special Committee which was appointed to study the agrarian problem came to the conclusion that the tenants who raise these pepper gardens by their own labour should be shown some consideration and should not be asked to pay the same share as other tenants cultivating fertile lands. I therefore submit that the amendment may be accepted."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" Sir, I have a request to make the Hon. Speaker. If I remember aright, on former occasions when Bills were considered, every sub-clause used to be put by you for discussion as well as vote."

MR. SPEAKER :—" Can the hon. Member please tell me when I put the sub-clauses? I have put only the clause as a whole for discussion as well as vote."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" In some cases, the Hon. Speaker has put the sub-clauses one by one and then the clause as a whole to the vote of the House. So"

MR. SPEAKER :—" Can the hon. Member point out one instance from the Official Proceedings in which I have done in the manner suggested by the hon. Member? I am sure I would not have done that. I would have put only the clauses as a whole and not sub-clauses."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" Where the various sub-clauses of a particular clause deal with an important matter and where they are different, they have been put to the vote of the House."

[8th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER :—" Let me again tell the hon. Member that I would not have put sub-clauses to the vote of the House. I would have put only the main clauses to the vote of the House."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" Sir, I have given notice of an amendment (No. 5) to omit item (iii) of clause 5 which deals with contract rent. It is provided that the tenant is liable to pay the rent in the sixth year and then in the 12th year. The effect of the proviso is that if there is a contract, the tenant will be liable to pay one-sixth in each year. The bone of contention between the landlord and the tenant is, what is the rent payable and what is the share that each should get. If it is fixed as once in six years or once in twelve years, the landlord will take the entire produce at the 12th year or the 6th year as the case may be, and there will be no controversy. Otherwise, there will be interminable controversy between the landlord and the tenant and the tenant will be subjected to considerable harassment. Therefore, I wish to say that no useful purpose will be served by inserting the proviso. It will only embitter the relationship between the landlord and the tenant. The usual practice in these areas is for the landlords to take the share in the sixth year and then in the twelfth year. Therefore, this unnecessary and harassing proviso need not be incorporated in this clause."

SRI K. P. GOPALAN :—" Sir, I move my amendment No. 28 which reads as follows :—

'In item (i), for the words "every sixth year" substitute the words "every eleventh year".'"

SRI R. KRISHNAN :—" I second the amendment, Sir."

SRI K. P. GOPALAN :—" Sir, I come from a constituency where there are thousands of acres of pepper gardens. So I know the position of the pepper gardeners very well. If we take into account the condition of pepper growers, I can say without fear of contradiction that the properties of 90 per cent of them have been mortgaged. Especially in North Malabar, there is a custom according to which every fifth year, the janmis' or landlords' agent will go to the tenant and he will fix the yield. He will fix it in such a way as to enable the landlord to get a larger share. That is the custom obtaining in North Malabar, especially in Payyanur firka. Owing to some reason or other, the yield may not be good in some years. Even in such years, the poor tenants will have to give the share of the landlord. In this way, I know many of the tenants have been ruined in Payyanur firka. I request the Hon. Chief Minister to look into the matter and accept my amendment so that these people may derive some real benefit out of this Bill."

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN :—" Sir . . . "

MR. SPEAKER :—" The hon. Member need not move the first part of his amendment No. 41. It is enough if he moves the second part."

[8th January 1954]

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN :—" Sir, I move the following amendment standing in my name :—

'(ii) In item (ii) for the words "six years" substitute the words "eleven years".'

Sir, wherever the rent is payable in cash under the contract it should be open to the tenant to continue to pay it in cash. I request the Government that the existing system of paying rent in money may not be disturbed wherever the landlord and tenant may have agreed. Let the Government allow the existing practice in this regard to continue. That is all what I want to say, Sir."

The amendment was duly seconded.

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" Sir, I move—

'In item (i), for the words "every sixth year", substitute the words "every eighth year".'"

The amendment was duly seconded.

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" I move—

'In item (ii) for the words "six years", substitute the words "eight years", and for the words "sixth year", substitute the words "eighth year".'"

The amendment was duly seconded.

SRI E. T. KUNHAN :—" Sir, I move—

'In item (ii) for the words "six years" substitute the words "ten years" and for the words "sixth year", substitute the words "tenth year".'

'In item (iii), for the second proviso, substitute the following :—

"Provided further that where under the existing contract rent is payable in money or in some other manner than the crop of the year or share in the crop of a year, it shall be open to the tenant to continue on the existing basis notwithstanding which has been stated above."

'In sub-section (3) of section 8 of the principal Act, for the word "one-eighth" substitute the word "one-twelfth".'"

The amendment was duly seconded.

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" Sir, I move—

'Omit item (iii) of the clause.'"

The amendment was duly seconded.

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" Sir, I move—

'Omit item (iv) of clause 5.'"

The amendment was duly seconded.

[8th January 1954]

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"Sir, I move—

"Add the following as item (v):—

"(v) after sub-section (4), the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely:—

"(5) A cultivator who raises punam or fugitive cultivation shall not be bound to pay by way of rent or compensation per year more than twice the annual assessment payable in respect of the land so cultivated." "

The amendment was duly seconded.

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR:—"Sir, under the existing law, the tenant is not entitled to any reduction of rent if in respect of a holding—say under paddy—there is complete failure of crops on account of drought conditions. What I say is if there is a revenue remission there should be a proportionate reduction of rent. On account of the compounded tax system in Malabar, unless both the crops fail, there cannot be any revenue remission in respect of wet lands. On account of the Board Standing Orders and other technical rules framed by the Government, there is no abatement with regard to the rent notwithstanding the general failure of crop. I only want that the Court should be in a position to order a just reduction in rent where there is a general failure of crops."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"Sir, I oppose all the amendments before the House and would request the House to accept clause 5 as it stands. There is no enhancement of the rate of fair rent. You know that even Mr. E. M. Sankaran Nambudripad in his dissenting minute has stated that only 1/6 need be taken as constituting fair rent. He is a man who knows the situation in Malabar and he is one who is working for the welfare of the people. We differ only in respect of ideologies. Sir, it has been brought to our notice that in respect of garden lands the same principle is not maintained. That is because this is a mixed garden where commercial crops are grown. As you know, Sir, prices have gone up to 3,000 to 3,500 rupees from Rs. 300 obtaining previously in respect of pepper. So, there is no scope for reducing the proportion of rent and I submit the Government have proposed a most reasonable rent."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"Is it the contention of the Government that they will believe in the statements made by persons on this side and not those made by their own friends who are sitting in the House?"

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"I thought the hon. Member was quoting profusely from other people's opinions."

SRI C. H. KANARAN:—"Sir, the position is in places like Chirakkal and Kottayam, the share system does not prevail. I cannot agree to the share proposed by the Government."

h January 1954]

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"I come from Malabar and I know the position."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR:—"The Hon. the Chief Minister has said nothing at all about reduction of rent with reference to cases where there is a general failure of monsoons."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"There is no use of appealing to the Chief Minister when all his attempts at trying to get at a settlement have thoroughly failed."

MR. SPEAKER:—"I shall now put the amendments to the vote of the House. The question is—

"In item (i), for the words "sixth year", substitute the words "tenth year"."

The amendment was put and lost.

[Mr. Speaker] [8th January 1954]

III.—GOVERNMENT BILLS.

(1) THE SOUTH KANARA CULTIVATING TENANTS PROTECTION BILL, * 1954.

* SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to introduce the South Kanara Cultivating Tenants Protection Bill, 1954, and move—

'That the Bill be taken into consideration at once.'

"Sir, for the past several months, Government have been receiving representations that the landlords in South Kanara district have been evicting cultivating tenants on an increasing scale and that the relationship between the landlords and tenants are tending to become strained. Hon. Members from South Kanara sitting behind me have also been urging the Government to take immediate action in this regard. Government have reason to believe that such evictions are being resorted to in anticipation of the fear that the Government may introduce land reforms in South Kanara. Government are of the opinion that pending comprehensive legislation the situation in South Kanara calls for immediate protective legislation so that cultivating tenants may not be needlessly disturbed. This Bill accordingly seeks to provide that, subject to payment of current rent, no cultivating tenant in South Kanara district shall be evicted from his holding for a period of one year from the date on which it comes into force. The Bill will not apply to the 33 villages of Kasargod taluk to which the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1929, applies, as conditions there are different and sufficient protection against eviction already exists there. I request the House to give permission for moving this motion of mine."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Motion moved—

'That the South Kanara Cultivating Tenants Protection Bill, 1954, be taken into consideration at once.'"

* SRI L. C. PAIS:—"Mr. Speaker, this Government and especially the Hon. Chief Minister deserve to be congratulated on the manner in which they have been trying to help the cultivating tenants of South Kanara, and on their having brought forward this legislation at the opportune moment. This House may be aware that there are three classes of tenants in South Kanara. In the first place, we have what is known as the 'Mulgeni' or the 'permanent' class of tenants. These tenants do not require any help from anybody because their relationship with the landlords are regulated by written agreements which are registered. But there are two other classes of tenants who require definite help from the Government. I refer to the second class who are called 'term lease tenants' or 'vaidegeni' tenants. These tenants enter into agreements with landlords to carry on cultivation on some fixed terms for some fixed period. After the term is over they are liable to be evicted by the landlords at any time the landlords choose. Then there is the third class of tenants.

* Published in the Fort St. George Gazette, dated 2nd January 1954.

[Sri L. C. Pais] [8th January 1954]

"They are the chalgeni tenants or 'tenants at will'. They are otherwise called 'chalgeni' tenants. It should be remembered in this connexion that the second class of tenants are reduced practically to the status of chalgeni tenants, the moment the period of their term is over. There is no fixed agreement governing the relationship between chalgeni tenants and their landlords. These tenants enjoy fixity of tenure, terms and conditions being stipulated in printed forms. The High Court has held that the terms and conditions embodied in these printed list are valid and binding on the tenants. The result is the landlords are entitled to evict the tenant after the lapse of a year without any prior notice also. He is entitled to evict the tenant without paying a pie of compensation for any improvement the tenant might have effected on the land. I know several cases where tenants who have been in possession for a very long time (in some cases even for hundred years) have been evicted without payment of any compensation. The question may be asked why these evictions are on the increase. There is a reason behind it. Ever since the days of the Prakasam's Ministry, the Ministers in charge proclaimed that the tenants will be provided with some sort of fixity of tenure and that the fair rent would also be fixed in their case. The landlords naturally began to get panicky and began to evict tenants. In spite of many of us pressing for a tenancy legislation of some kind nothing was done. I am inclined to think that vested interests did prevail in the matter. One of the argument was put forth on behalf of Government, viz., that there was no need for it in South Kanara. This argument was met by departmental statistics called for and produced before the Assembly. The second reason adduced was that the Government cannot bring in piecemeal legislation for a particular district. We are glad that the Hon. Chief Minister has overcome all those obstacles and has brought forward a beneficial piece of legislation at the opportune moment.

"Of course the Hon. Minister for Revenue had stated that pending comprehensive legislation, this beneficial measure may be approved by the House. I welcome his statement. I shall bring to the notice of Government certain aspects concerning the tenancy in South Kanara, which I do request the Government to take notice of, so that they might incorporate what is necessary to remedy those defects in the comprehensive legislation that they might bring some time later.

8th January 1954] [Sri L. C. Pais]

"The majority of the landlords in South Kanara are small landlords. We do not have big janmis in South Kanara as we have in Malabar. There are innumerable cases in South Kanara where tenants are in huge arrears to the extent of two or three years. The landlords are also petty landlords. When you give a fixity of tenure for the cultivating tenant (for a year now—it may be extended later on) and when the cultivating tenants get an advantage, is it not also just that the landlords should be protected? Is it not necessary that he should get back his arrears of rent, especially when he has to depend on others. I am only bringing this to the notice of Government so that it may be taken due notice of when the comprehensive legislation is drafted. The landlords should be allowed to take to personal cultivation, after paying the requisite compensation to the tenant. I would also urge whenever a tenant is evicted, the landlord should be asked to pay the necessary compensation.

"There have been tenants who have made very valuable improvements to the property during the last fifty or sixty years. To deprive them of it would be a great hardship to them. I do not want to say more, as most of my South Kanara friends would also like to have their say. I am thankful to the Hon. the Chief Minister and the Hon. the Revenue Minister for this New Year's Gift to South Kanara."

* SRI Y. MANJAYA SHETTY :—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, in supporting the South Kanara Cultivating Tenants Protection Bill, I wish to say a few words. Let me take this opportunity to express my deep sense of gratitude to the Government for bringing this legislation to prevent the unjust eviction of tenants in South Kanara. The people of this district have been intensely feeling that in spite of their agitation nothing has been done by the Government to prevent evictions and to afford relief to the tillers of the soil, though a legislation of that sort is long overdue. What the people desire to have is a legislation which prevents unjust evictions and which assures security of tenure and fair rent. Representatives of the district have, on the floor of this House, more than once impressed upon the Government the urgent need and the imperative necessity for bringing in such a legislation. We are glad that by means of this Bill Government have met our demand half way. In this connection, I must say that our State is singularly fortunate in having a Chief Minister who can understand and appreciate human problems and difficulties. Since he assumed office, several important measures have been introduced by this Government and I must confess that the present Bill under discussion is one of such measures. Let me tell plainly, Sir, that but for the personal interest evinced by the Hon. Chief Minister after his recent tour of the district, this Bill would not have seen the light of the day so soon.

"At present, more than 1,000 eviction suits are pending in the several courts of the district. Thousands of tenants who are about to be evicted and rendered homeless have been protected and saved by the present Bill. I must say that this is a timely measure which has conferred great benefits upon the cultivating tenants of the district. The protection granted under this Bill enables the tenants to pay more attention to cultivation operations and grow more food and thereby better their lot without any fear of being evicted by the landlords on flimsy and unreasonable grounds. But let it be understood by the Government that the tenancy problem in the district is not completely solved by this small piece of legislation. The peasants of the district want a more comprehensive legislation which could assure to them fixity of tenure and fair rent. What is wanted is a comprehensive legislation which would establish good and harmonious relationship between tenants and landlords and which would bring happiness and prosperity to the tillers of the soil. I request the Government not to lose sight of these aspects and I hope that the Government will bring forward a comprehensive tenancy legislation which will solve the problem in the district and which will render justice to all classes of people concerned. Let me thank once again this Government, the Hon. the Chief Minister and the Hon. the Revenue Minister for introducing this Bill. Thank you, Sir, for the opportunity given to me."

* SRI T. ANANTA PAI :—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am glad that I am following the foot-steps of two of my hon. colleagues of South Kanara. We are grateful to the Government for having brought this measure. A measure like this which brings land reforms in a district naturally bristles with great difficulties. The question of land reforms is not so easy as everyone of us seems to feel. Of course, this measure is intended to prevent unjust evictions of tenants for a period of one year and there will be sufficient time for the landlords to adjust their relationship with the tenants. Personally I feel that very comprehensive land reforms, which would not leave any uncertainty in the mind of either the tenant or the landlord, are absolutely necessary for a happy relationship between the landlord and the tenant. I feel that the only solution to the problem would be to make the tiller of the soil the owner or the landlord himself the tiller of the soil. To have two classes of people continued like this and try to regulate their relationship by a sort of legislation is like regulating the relationship between a husband and a wife by some sort of law. At one stage or other, this becomes a political game and party after party would like to take up and play the game without caring to know what happens to the country at large. Mr. Pais has already pointed out how this process of eviction began in the district. What happened was that immediately after the publication of the report of the Subramaniam Committee on land reforms, to implement which the Government did not take immediate steps, some of the landlords, taking advantage of a provision which enabled them to increase the rent, thought that they should increase the rent even before the recommendations were accepted. If the increase in rent was not accepted by the tenants, naturally they were asked to quit. In that way, the process of eviction began in the first stage. Then there was requisition of rice in force in the district and naturally when the tenants found that rice was selling at a higher price in the market, they were rather tempted to remit to the landlord only the stipulated price or the price fixed by the Government. But when the landlords did not accept this, the second stage of the process of eviction began. Now there has been decontrol and this objection no longer remains. But by that time the general elections took place and it had become a matter of political game. I wish, as was pointed out by the Hon. the Chief Minister yesterday, that the matter of land reforms does not become a matter for any party to take credit, because the reforms that we are introducing are of a far-reaching nature and unless sufficient time is allowed to pass, we cannot say whether the desired results have been achieved or not. The main reason why we say that the tiller of the soil must be in complete possession of the soil is that it gives him a sense of duty of creation, it is said, and the tenant is able to devote greater attention because he is entitled to a larger portion of the produce. Time alone can show whether it is so, because in the neighbouring State of Bombay where tenancy legislation has been in force, until recently, the landlord was entitled to one-third of the produce. Recently the Government brought an amendment to the tenancy legislation in Bombay to the effect that the landlord was entitled only to one-sixth of the produce and that even the assessment should be borne by him. Of course, some years have elapsed and it has not been shown that there has been a substantial increase in production from the soil as a result of this revision. Merely conferring a right on the tenant alone cannot improve matters. The tenant requires provision of capital by way of seeds, manure and implements and unless the State is prepared at the same time to bring about an agency which can provide all these in the place of the displaced landlord, it would be difficult indeed for the tenant to get any benefit out of certain rights conferred on him by legislation.

" Then the question arises what happens to the landlord if he wants to till. Are we only conferring the right of occupancy on the tenant and bringing into existence another class of people, another type of zamindari class, who have no interest in the land at all and who only own it and are entitled to the rents every year without having any responsibility to look after the land at all? A time may come when this class may become the so-called parasite class. But if, on the other hand, the absentee landlords, who require to be brought to their senses, are given a chance to go back to their soil and cultivate it themselves—there are educated young men who want to go back to the soil and that is becoming quite an interesting occupation nowadays—should we also not encourage that sort of movement when the landlords like to go back to the soil and cultivate the lands themselves? If we are interested in larger production, naturally we should give sufficient scope for such landlords to come forward and take up cultivation. Then the question arises what is going to happen to the tenants who are displaced. That is a problem which we cannot ignore. We have sufficient lands in the district in South Kanara in the possession of Government. The Government must come forward to give such lands to the tenants who are displaced and give them the necessary resources to develop them. There are lands in the Malnad area. The Government can provide them with sufficient capital or start co-operative societies for land improvement. Co-operative farming can also be carried on in such cases.

"On the question of comprehensive land reforms, we found that there was a lot of difficulty in coming to certain conclusions. The first question is what should be the fair rent. Secondly, if the landlord wants to cultivate the land for himself, what should be the ceiling that should be fixed? Because we could not come to a satisfactory conclusion, we thought we should not try to bring comprehensive land reforms for the present. This does not mean that they will not come. They will certainly come. But in a measure like this, we cannot ignore the claims of the landlords, however bad they are supposed to be. We cannot presume that every landlord is necessarily a bad landlord. Any legislation that we pass will affect both the good landlord and the bad landlord. A bad landlord will always be trying to find out loopholes by which he will be able to circumvent the law.

"Unfortunately what has happened in South Kanara is that a large number of landlords belonging to the political parties which are opposing the Congress have been going about creating trouble and asking the tenants to agitate for tenancy legislation. I was always feeling whether the landlords could not confer on their tenants the very rights, which a tenancy law would give, without a law being enacted at all. The system of land tenure prevailing in South Kanara is the mulgeni system, which is a sort of permanent tenure subject to certain conditions. Subject to an enabling legislation, I think it should have been possible for the landlords to have conferred the rights on the tenants. But they did not do it. They only wanted to create a sort of agrarian trouble by asking people to agitate for a tenancy legislation. I have received letters from many tenants of the landlords belonging to the political parties in Opposition asking me to see that they are not evicted. I have forwarded those letters to the leaders of the Praja-Socialist Party and requested them to intervene and see whether the matter could not be settled amicably. They have not intervened. Even after the publication of this Bill in the Gazette, tenants have been threatened with eviction. I have received letters which clearly show that some of the landlords have not been behaving properly. I think the one-year's time that is allowed is sufficient for them to reconsider their position and adjust themselves. This Bill provides that no cultivating tenant shall be evicted from his holding for one year if he pays the current rent.

8th January 1954] [Sri T. Ananta Pai]

The landlord cannot get back the land even if he wants it. He cannot also enhance the rent, because even if he enhances it, no tenant will pay.

"I hope and trust that the Act arising from this Bill will be the harbinger of peace so far as the landlord-tenant relationship is concerned. I do hope that the comprehensive legislation that will come up before the House will be a legislation agreed to by all the political parties. Let not the parties be wrangling here for taking political credit for this or that, because it is wrong to take political credit which may mean happiness or a store of unhappiness for the people at large."

* SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" Mr. Speaker, I associate myself with the sentiments expressed by the hon. Member, Sri M. Narayana Nambiar, and other hon. Member from South Kanara district. The District Ryoti Sangam affiliated to the All-India Kisan Sabha was agitating for years and months for a piece of legislation restricting evictions, protecting the ryots from exaction of heavy rents, and tackling the problems of rural labour and agricultural workers and other allied questions. I think that it is my duty to state that though this is a belated piece of legislation, the Government have at last recognized the fact that a large number of evictions are taking place in South Kanara. Hundreds of peasants have been evicted from their holdings. Now, no provision is being made in this piece of legislation for the reinstatement of those people. Also, the eviction of a cultivating tenant will be stayed provided he pays the arrears of rent due for about a year within a month after the commencement of this enactment. It will be a great hardship on the peasantry if they have to pay it within one month. But it will be argued that as far as the Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill is concerned, only one year's stay is granted. But here, if the payment is not made within one month, the peasant will lose the whole holding. Therefore, I hope and trust that the Government will rectify such defects."

SRI S. S. KOLKEBAIL :—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, better late than never. After all, the Congress Government have thought of bringing in this measure though pressure was brought to bear on them for the last seven or eight years for this purpose. In 1947, the Congress came into the Legislature without much contest in South Kanara district. Ever since 1947 there was no election. So, they thought that they were the masters of the situation. But during the general elections in 1951 there was a mass upheaval. The people of South Kanara then rose up against the anarchy of the Congress Government. They said, 'No, you cannot go to the Assembly this time. You are not representing the poor people. You are not espousing the cause of the tenants.' Hence, there was opposition to the Congress everywhere. Now, they put up all rich landlords, rich bankers and very powerful persons as candidates for elections. Especially, in my constituency one of the richest landlords of the district was pitched against me. The main issue before the electorate was whether they wanted land reform or not. The people voted for me and sent me up here. To-day, the hon. Member, Sri Ananta Pai, had the cheek to say that the Praja-Socialist members were carrying on a propaganda among the tenants to agitate for a tenancy legislation. It is a lie. . ."

SRI T. ANANTA PAI :—" On a point of order, Sir."

SRI S. S. KOLKEBAIL :—" I apologize, Sir."

MR. SPEAKER :—" The hon. Member has used an unparliamentary word. He said that the hon. Member Sri Ananta Pai had uttered a lie. 'Lie' is an unparliamentary word."

SRI S. S. KOLKEBAIL :—" The statement which he made is a lie."

[8th January 1954]

SRI S. S. KOLKEBAIL :—" The hon. Member Sri Ananta Pai said that he had received so many letters that the Praja-Socialist Party was carrying on a propaganda. Such a statement is a lie."

MR. SPEAKER :—" What I say is that ' lie ' is an unparliamentary word."

SRI S. S. KOLKEBAIL :—" It is parliamentary. If necessary, I shall quote chapter and verse from the relevant records."

MR. SPEAKER :—" I know much better than the hon. Member, Sri Kolkebil. Let him withdraw the word."

SRI S. S. KOLKEBAIL :—" If it is unparliamentary, I call it a terminological inexactitude."

MR. SPEAKER :—" Let him first withdraw the word ' lie ' and then say that it is a terminological inexactitude."

SRI S. S. KOLKEBAIL :—" I withdraw it, Sir, and use the expression ' terminological inexactitude '."

The hon. Member Sri Ananta Pai rose in his seat.

MR. SPEAKER :—" Let the hon. Member Sri Kolkebil continue his speech."

SRI T. ANANTA PAI :—" On a point of order, Sir. The hon. Member used another unparliamentary expression ' cheek to say '."

MR. SPEAKER :—" The hon. Member did not bring it to my notice then."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" Just before the hon. Member was called upon to apologize, he said, ' cheek to say '."

MR. SPEAKER :—" I shall go through the proceedings and then give my ruling. I did not hear it. The hon. Member, Sri Kolkebil, will now continue his speech. Let him not get excited now."

SRI S. S. KOLKEBAIL :—" Because the hon. Member, Sri Ananta Pai, gave so much of food for this excitement, I was excited. Otherwise, I had no business to attack him. Because he said that this particular Party was carrying on this propaganda just for political purposes, I had to attack him. What he said was not correct. As a matter of fact, the entire election was fought on this issue. But, all the same, Congress Members were returned in a majority because they had the money and they threatened almost all the tenants in their holdings for getting support."

* THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" I want to draw the attention of the hon. Member when I tell you, Sir, that we are dealing with a Bill which stops evictions for one year, and we need not expand into all these political rivalries now."

8th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER :—" The hon. Member is excited now. Shall I give him some time and allow him to speak again afterwards? "

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" He is not excited, Sir. He is whipping himself into excitement."

SRI S. S. KOLKEBAIL :—" The excitement was not started by me. As a matter of fact, I did not want to speak on this Bill. After all, this is a very small measure. We are all agreed on this point. So, I did not want to talk on this measure. But because the hon. Member, Sri Ananta Pai, attacked the Praja-Socialist Party, I took objection to it."

* THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" It is well known that the smaller a Party the greater is the excitement." (Laughter.)

SRI S. S. KOLKEBAIL :—" I will here and now contradict what the Hon. the Chief Minister has said. In the last general election, our Party has secured more votes than the Congress Party. But, unfortunately, because the Congress played all kinds of acrobatic feats by putting up particular candidates in the constituencies, they succeeded. But there was a straight fight in my constituency and I defeated one of the most reactionary landlords. There is no meaning in saying that our Party is a weak Party. We are the strongest Party. We are representing a major portion of the electorate. But because of the request or ruling of the Speaker, that I should not get offended at the way in which the hon. Member, Sri Ananta Pai, attacked our Party, I am not going to dilate upon it. This is a measure by which the peasants who form nearly 50 per cent of the population are going to be benefited. In a way, in the Preamble itself and in clause 1, it is indicated that the Government are going to bring in a comprehensive land legislation within a year. Now, I have already given notice of some amendments to various clauses of the Bill, one of which relates to the life of this Bill. I shall speak on them when the relevant clauses are taken up for discussion."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" Sir, on this occasion of the first, though meagre, instalment of tenancy reform in South Kanara, my Party, though it is a small Party, has to take some interest in it. Because ours is a small Party, it has a future, whereas big Parties are now on the decline."

" I wish to make only one or two points in regard to the Bill. In clause 3, it is stated that a cultivating tenant cannot be evicted in execution of a decree or order of a Court or otherwise. What I am driving at is that this does not prevent eviction suits from being instituted. Only the execution of the decree has to be deferred for one year."

" Another point I want to make is this. The immunity from eviction that is conferred on the tenant is only from eviction by his landlord. Now, it is well known that in South Kanara there are a number of landlords. Suppose 'A' is the first landlord, 'B' is the tenant and 'C' is the sub-tenant. Under this Bill, 'C' cannot be evicted by 'B'. It is well known that there is no tenancy legislation in South Kanara and hence, eviction suits will be governed by the principle analogous to that contained in the Transfer of Property Act. If 'A', the landowner, puts an end to the tenancy of 'B' who is his tenant, automatically the tenancy of 'C' terminates. What I want to impress upon the Hon. Minister is that even under this Bill, if 'A' institutes a suit against 'B' and 'C' together, then 'C' has no defence, in such suit, and this Bill will not give him any relief. This point also should be remembered. This point may also be remembered. As has been spoken to by many hon. Members, because of the uncertainty of land tenure in South Kanara not only land, but also Harijans and certain other classes of people are bought and sold along with the land. Their condition is so very pitiable. We are glad that at least at this late stage this tenancy reform Bill has been brought forward by the Government to do some justice to these poor people."

[Sri M. Narayana Kurup] [8th January 1954]

a.m.

* SRI N. N. SUVARNA :—“ Mr. Speaker, in supporting this Bill, I intend associating myself with the sentiments of gratitude expressed by my colleagues from South Kanara, of course except the hon. Member, Sri Narayanan Nambiar, who spoke in Malayalam. I could not follow him and could not say whether he has expressed his assent or dissent to this Bill. While expressing my gratitude, I wish to add that our gratitude would have been real if only this relief measure had come in a bit earlier. The delay in the introduction of this Bill for affording some relief to the tenantry of South Kanara has resulted in great hardship and injustice. As the previous speakers had given a catalogue of the number of eviction suits, one can readily infer that the landlords have taken the time by the forelock by filing a number of eviction suits against the poor tenants. In South Kanara, the Congress stood for tenancy legislation and everybody knew that. Even the candidates who got elected during the last elections had made all sorts of promises in respect of tenancy legislation. All that was of no avail. Very possibly, our suspicion was that there was some influence in the inner circles of the Cabinet creating an impression that all was well between the tenants and landlords in South Kanara. That is what we suspected. Of course, my Friend, Sri Pais, referred to vested interests. Well, it is not necessary now to know who formed the vested interests. Anyhow, now that the present Bill has been brought forward, we do not want to enter into this controversy. At any rate, the landlord who took the hint began to file a number of eviction suits and that too on a very large scale. So, hardships increased and what made matters worse was the indiscretion committed by one of our Ministers in the former regime. When once he came to my constituency, Mulki and presided over a Tenants' Conference, he promised that in the next session itself tenancy legislation or legislation to stay

8th January 1954] [Sri N. N. Suvarna]

evictions would be introduced in the Legislature. But nothing of that sort was done. This was followed by the recent general elections during which we had to go round the various places. As a matter of fact, people had more faith in us. That is why, even in the face of non-fulfilment of the promises made by the candidates at the time of the previous election that they would do this and that, the people did not react against us, but elected us to the present Assembly. I really disagree with Mr. Kolkebail when he says that his election was not on this ticket. I may inform him that out of 10 candidates of South Kanara, 9 of the Congress candidates have been returned on this ticket. (Cheers.) After the elections were over, we made repeated representations regarding tenancy legislation. All those representations were put off. People were given to understand that a comprehensive legislation was being attempted for the whole of the State and that South Kanara would also be included in it and so their representations were put off. But suddenly, last year the Hon. Chief Minister came forward with the Tanjore Tenants and Pannaial Protection Ordinance which was later converted into an Act. That Act was passed with such rapidity that we were surprised. At the same time, the position of the representatives from South Kanara became pitiable. Because there was a feeling of frustration in the minds of the people of South Kanara we were thrown out of gear. The people of our constituencies have begun to remark that we have no pull and absolutely no influence with the Cabinet. They seemed to feel that some pull with the Cabinet was necessary. In spite of the fact that we did not hear of any agrarian troubles in Tanjore, suddenly an Ordinance was issued and later it was converted into a Bill and introduced into the Legislature and was also passed. On the other hand, the people of South Kanara have been urging the Government, for the last 7 or 8 years, to bring forward some tenancy reform measure. Unfortunately, nothing of that sort, no Bill whatsoever was brought forward by the Government. So, the people began to think that we have been making false statements or giving them false hopes saying that the Government will bring a comprehensive legislation very soon and all that. Thus a feeling of frustration took hold of the people. Fortunately for us, the Hon. Chief Minister visited our place on 22nd December 1953 and met us. In a conference of the representatives of South Kanara held in Mangalore, a united demand was put forward to him and he was requested to bring in immediately the necessary relief measures for the poor tenants. He was convinced of the urgent necessity to bring forward the necessary legislation and he promised to bring forward the necessary Bill in the next session. In bringing the present Bill which is before the House, he has shown that, 'where there is a will, there is a way.' The Government need not have put off this legislation till now. If only they had a will even before, they could have brought forward this Bill much earlier. Anyway, at least at this late stage, this Bill has been brought forward. We only regret that a large number of tenants have been evicted and the hardships that they are undergoing have become intolerable. In fact, I can just give an instance where a tenant with a large family who has been on the land from time immemorial has been recently evicted. When the Commissioner went to the locality he apprised the value of the improvements at Rs. 11,000. Not a pie has been paid to the tenant and the entire family of this tenant was driven out and he has now to seek some shelter in some portion of Malnad area. If only the Government can help those tenants who are already evicted, it will be a great benefit for these poor people. Anyway, we are thankful for the small mercies shown by the Government. Therefore, I join my other colleagues from South Kanara in thanking the Government and particularly the Hon. Chief Minister, for sponsoring this Bill in this session itself."

SRI B. VAIKUNTA BALIGA:—"Mr. Speaker, I join the other hon. Members in supporting the Bill that is before the House. There is absolute unanimity of opinion in support of this measure. The measure is very simple and an initial step. I would not have ventured to get up and speak except for the small incident which took place when two different views were espoused. As far as South Kanara is concerned, the people are very simple. I may also add that nobody should go with the impression that in South Kanara there was divergence of opinion as might be indicated or sought to be implied by what transpired here.

10-40 a.m. "Then, Sir, my friend, Mr. Kolkebil, is a very nice gentleman and I have rarely seen him get into the temper such as he has revealed to-day. I am sure he did not mean much of what he said. As far as the fact that he fought the election on this issue in his constituency and that tenants are not behind the Congress is concerned, I believe these are statements which cannot be taken at their face value. It is unnecessary to get into a controversy over these for that will make matters worse. But I do maintain that the voters in South Kanara including tenants—and they are a large number—supported the Congress candidates.

"Coming to the measure again . . . (Sri C. S. Kolkebil: 'Look at statistics.') Statistics will not reveal what the hon. Member has said. Repetition of a wrong statement will not add to the efficacy of the argument. Therefore, I would request my friend not to repeat what he said. Now, Sir, as to the merits of the Bill, so far as the tenants in South Kanara are concerned, they are really desirous of two things. One is fixity of tenure. They do not want to harass the landlords and the landlord also does not want to harass the tenant. What we want in South Kanara is an equitable distribution, right for all to the property so that the tiller of the soil may put in his best in order to make the land give a good yield. I am only hoping that the Government will not stop with introducing measures for guaranteeing fixity of tenure and apportionment of the produce between the two parties in a fair manner but will bestow their attention on providing more ameliorative measures. I am anxious that as far as . . .

8th January 1954] [Sri B. Vaikunta Baliga]

South Kanara is concerned, there should be a continual partnership between the landlord and the tenant on the best of terms. Apart from helping on this manner, the Government can do much more for the district as well as the whole State. When I said 'ameliorative measures' I had only the production of food in mind. You are aware, Sir, that in South Kanara we have got perennial rivers which offer great potentialities for undertaking large irrigation projects. If the Government will only aid the cultivator or the tenant with loans or with the supply of pumpsets, may I say that all lands in South Kanara—at least a good portion of them—could be made to yield double the quantity of food that is raised now. With financial assistance and with the proposed supply of power from the Jog, I visualise in the light of this enactment and the further enactment that is to come and which would promise fixity of tenure, peace will prevail, prosperity will come and the tenant will be contented. The Government should do their part of the work in providing cheap power and affording the facilities that I have mentioned now to the cultivators. Besides, manure must be supplied. Facilities must be provided to them to get leaf manure from forests nearby. They should be encouraged in all directions possible so that the tenants in South Kanara may be contented and rise to the highest level that is possible for the common man to reach, and play his part in contributing to the prosperity and advancement of the nation as a whole. Sir, I support the measure wholeheartedly and I thank you for the opportunity you have afforded me for saying these few words."

* SRI M. S. MOGRAL :—“ Mr. Speaker, Sir, I congratulate the Hon. the Chief Minister on bringing forward this beneficial measure. I do not say that it is a perfect measure. Anyhow, I may submit that this is a beginning in the right direction. This Bill heralds the opening of a bright chapter in the history of the South Kanara district. It marks the beginning of a new era in the relationship between the landlords and the tenants of our district. The poor peasants of our district have been looking forward to such a piece of legislation for a long time and I am sure that, though it is a bit belated, it will be welcomed by the tenants as well as by the landlords with gratitude. Sir, the protection afforded to the tenants against arbitrary eviction by capricious landlords is quite adequate and the provision requiring tenants to deposit the current rent in time is quite reasonable, from the landlord's point of view as well. The tiller of the soil will now shake off his lethargy and utilize all the time available to him to see that more food is produced. Rack-renting and evictions under frivolous pretexts which were resorted to by landlords more out of party feelings and personal prejudices will now cease and this Bill will apply a brake to the deterioration of the conditions obtaining now in my district. Sir, I sincerely submit that if this Bill is passed into law, it will lay the foundation for a progressive understanding between the landlords and the tenants and pave the way for comprehensive reforms which the Government intend to introduce ere long.

10-50 a.m. “ We are aware of the fact that the welfare of the tiller of the soil should be the primary concern of Government and as such, our country, being an agricultural one, would prosper by leaps and bounds if our cultivating tenants are taken proper care of. I am sorry my friend Mr. S. Kolkebail has imparted a lot of heat into the discussion. I do not want to enter into any controversy. The previous speaker Mr. Vaikunta Baliga has replied suitably. I feel there is no necessity for me to reply. If my friend Mr. Nambiar and his partymen think that they would carry the day, we shall see it in the next district board election. We need not fight here. Mr. Nambiar had said that he had to approach a certain Congress M.L.A. to set right the eviction of a certain tenant by a certain landlord who is a Congressman. I do not know whether Mr. Nambiar's reference is directed towards us. I do not know whom Mr. Nambiar particularly means. I have told him that I had a discussion with the gentleman who had been referred to and he had made me understand that the information which Mr. Nambiar had asked him to carry was not true. That is all what I want to say on this score.

“ There are many others coming from South Kanara who are anxious to speak. Suffice it for me to once again congratulate the Government on having brought forward this useful tenancy legislation for South Kanara.”

*SRI R. S. ARUMUGAM :—“ கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, விவசாயி 10-53 களைத் தவிர மற்ற தொழிலாளிகளுக்கெல்லாம் சட்டத்தின் மூலமாக a.m. பாதுகாப்பு இருந்து வந்தது. ஆனால், விவசாயிகளுக்கு இதுவரை சட்டத்தின் மூலமாக சில இடங்களைத் தவிர மற்ற இடங்களில் பாதுகாப்பு இல்லையே என்று ஏங்கிக் கொண்டிருந்த சந்தர்ப்பத்திலே, இந்த ராஜ்யத்தின் ஒரு பகுதியிலுள்ள விவசாயிகளுக்கு இந்தச் சட்டத்தின் மூலமாக முதலாவதாக ஆதரவு கிடைத்திருக்கிறதையெண்ணி என் போன்றவர் சந்தோஷப்படாமலிருக்க முடியாது.

“ விரிவான முறையில் நிலச் சீர்திருத்தச் சட்டம் பின்பு கொண்டுவர வேண்டியிருப்பதனால், அப்பொழுது வாரம், கட்டுக் குத்தகை போன்ற விஷயங்களை யோசிக்கவேண்டிய சந்தர்ப்பம் ஏற்படும். அப்படிப்பட்ட விரிவான நிலச் சீர்திருத்தச் சட்டம் கொண்டு வருவதற்கு முன்பாக, தென் கன்னட ஜில்லாவில் இருக்கக்கூடிய விவசாயிகள் நிலத்திலிருந்து வெளியேற்றப்படாமலிருப்பதற்கு இப்படிப்பட்ட ஒரு சட்டம் மிக அவசரமானது என்ற நிலைமையை சர்க்கார் நன்கு உணர்ந்த காரணத்தினாலே அந்தப் பகுதிக்கு இந்தச் சட்டம் கொண்டுவரப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. அதைக் குறித்து நான் சந்தோஷப்படுகிறேன்.

“ அதே நேரத்தில், இந்த ராஜ்யத்திலுள்ள பாக்கி இடங்களிலும் நிலத்திலிருந்து விவசாயிகளை வெளியேற்றும்படியான இந்த ஆபத்து இருக்கிறதென்பதை எனக்கு முன்பு பேசிய அன்பர்கள் பலர் எடுத்துச் சொன்னார்கள். நானும் அதைத்தான் சொல்ல விரும்புகிறேன். திருநெல்வேலி ஜில்லா போன்ற இடங்களிலே அடிக்கடி இம்மாதிரி தகராறுகள் ஏற்படும் போது, பெரும்பாலும் அங்கிருக்கிற காங்கிரஸ் அங்கத்தினர்களாகிய நாங்கள் அந்தத் தகராறுகளை சுமுகமான முறையிலே சில விஷயங்களை தீர்த்துக் கொள்ளுகிறோம். இருந்தபோதிலும்கூட, அதற்கென ஒரு சட்டம் இல்லாத காரணத்தினால் பல தகராறுகள் சுமுகமான முறையில் தீர்க்கப்பட்டு முடிவுக்கு வரமுடியாமல் இருக்கிறது.

“ இப்போது இந்தச் சட்டமானது தென் கன்னட ஜில்லாவிற்கு மாத்திரம் வரப் போகிறபடியினாலே எங்களுடைய ஜில்லாவில் இன்னும் அதிகப்படியான தொந்தரவுகள் ஏற்படும் என்பதை தெரிவித்துக் கொள்ளுகிறேன். ‘கூடிய சீக்கிரம் சட்டம் வர இருக்கிறது, அதற்கு முன்னால் இருக்கிற விவசாயிகளை நிலத்தைவிட்டு காலி செய்துவிடவேண்டும்’ என்ற மனப்பான்மை நிலச்சுவாந்தார்களுக்கு ஏற்படும். இந்தச் சட்டத்தினால் அந்த மாதிரி நிலைமை எங்கள் ஜில்லாவில் அதிகப்படியாக ஏற்படும். ஏதாவது ஒரு தகராறு ஏற்பட்டால், அதை நாங்கள் போய் சுமுகமாக தீர்க்கவேண்டுமென்று எண்ணினால் கூட, இங்கே சட்டம் இல்லையே என்று சொல்வதற்கு ஏதுவாக இருக்கிறது. ஆகவே, அதிக நாள் கிடக்காமல் அடுத்த

சட்டசபைக் கூட்டத்திற்குள்ளாகவே ஒரு 'நோட்டிபிகேஷன்' மூலமாக தமிழ் நாட்டிலுள்ள எல்லாப் பகுதிகளுக்கும் ஆங்காங்குள்ள விவசாயிகளை அந்தந்த நிலத்தை விட்டு அப்புறப்படுத்த விடாமல் கண்டிப்பாக ஒரு உத்திரவு அனுப்புமாறு கனம் ரெவின்யூ மந்திரி அவர்களையும் கனம் முதல் மந்திரி அவர்களையும் கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகிறேன். இந்தச் சட்டத்திற்கு எனது பாராட்டுதலையும் தெரிவித்துக்கொள்ளுகின்றேன்."

* THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—" I am thankful to hon. Members for stating the agricultural conditions prevalent in South Kanara on the whole. It has been explained by one hon. Member that there are three classes of tenants in the district and that in the case of first two classes of tenants there is no necessity for any piece of tenancy legislation and that only in respect of the third-class of tenants, viz., the Chalgeni tenants, this legislation is necessary."

* SRI L. C. PAIS :—" May I clarify the position, Sir? I think the Hon. Minister is referring to me. I said that the first-class of tenants are known by the name of "Mulgeni" or "permanent" tenants who are governed by some fixed agreement. I said that in respect of this class, no legislation was necessary. But in regard to the second-class of tenants, viz., 'term tenants', as soon as the terms of their contract are over, they are evicted and the moment they are evicted they are as good as the 'tenants at will' and as such in respect of the second category therefore, this legislation is necessary. Of course I said that the poor third-class 'tenants at will' should be helped."

* THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—" I am thankful to the hon. Member for the clarification. I need not go into the details. I am also thankful to the hon. Members hailing from South Kanara for their having stated that an all-embracing tenancy legislation in respect of South Kanara should not be hustled through but that it should be done after mature consideration. Sir, I have always held the opinion that people coming from South Kanara are business-like people. My opinion has come true. Like business-like people they have appreciated the difficulties that lie in the way of bringing forward a comprehensive tenancy legislation. I am thankful to them for it. At the same time, I am sorry to note that some hon. Members from South Kanara went into a sort of post-mortem examination. It was not necessary on the part of Mr. Kolkebail to have done so. He is a man of superlatives and only superlatives can tackle him. I shall not dilate much upon it."

"I have already explained the necessity for bringing this measure and I do hope that the House will pass it."

MR. SPEAKER :—" The question is—

'That the South Kanara Cultivating Tenants Protection Bill, 1954, be taken into consideration at once.'

The motion was put and carried.

8th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER :—" We shall now take up clause by clause discussion."

Clause 3.

SRI K. R. VISWANATHAN :—" I move my amendment—
'For the words "a month" wherever they occur, substitute the words "three months".'

11
a.m.

The motion was duly seconded.

SRI S. S. KOLKEBAIL :—" I move my amendments—

'After sub-clause (1), insert the following new sub-clause :—

"No holding of a tenant shall be liable to be sold or brought to sale in pursuance of a decree, or order, or other proceeding for recovery of rent or debt or mesne profits."

'In sub-clause (2), for the words "within a month", substitute the words "two months after notice from the landlord".'

'In sub-clause 3 (a), after the words "market value", insert the figures, words and brackets "(the price as published in the District Gazette of South Kanara for the month of February 1954)".'

'In items (i) and (ii) of sub-clause (3) (a), for the word "month", substitute the words "two months".'

'In sub-clause (3) (b), for the words "a month", substitute the words "two months".'

The motion was duly seconded.

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—" I move my amendment—

'For the words "as if this Act had not been passed", substitute the words "under the orders of the Court or on an application made by the landlord".'

The motion was duly seconded by Sri K. C. Gopalan Unni.

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" I beg to move my amendment to clause 3, sub-clause (2)—

'For the words "a month", substitute the words "one year".'

SRI R. KRISHNAN :—" I second it."

MR. SPEAKER :—" The motion as well as the amendments are before the House for discussion."

SRI S. S. KOLKEBAIL :—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not wish to make a long speech on this point. The intention of my amendment is very clear. Now, land reform is the most important reform to be introduced in our State because most of our people are agriculturists. By accepting this amendment, you will find that some of the tenants, who are to-day enjoying the lands either under Alivaigeni lease (term lease) or under Kayamgeni lease (permanent lease), are suffering on account of certain inherent difficulties in the leases and their rights are being brought to-sale and they are evicted in due course of law. So, in order to prevent that, I want to introduce this particular sub-clause, namely, "No holding of a tenant shall be liable to be sold or brought to sale in pursuance of a decree, or order, or other proceeding for recovery of rent or debt or mesne profits". Sir, this particular sub-clause emanates from out of my own imagination. There is a similar clause in the Madras Tenants and Ryots Protection Act (Act XXIV of 1949) passed in this very House when you were the Speaker. So if this amendment is accepted, you will find that the Alivaigeni tenants holding under term leases and the Kayamgeni and Mulgeni tenants holding under permanent leases will be saved if their lands are brought to sale for non-payment of arrears of rent. The comprehensive legislation may take about a year or even more. Of course, there is the Moratorium Act which gives protection to these people. I hope the Government will have no objection to accept this amendment."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" Sir, I have not moved any formal amendments. Still I wish to place before the Hon. Minister the suggestion that I made at the outset. My suggestion is that after the words "his landlord"; the words "or his superior landlord" may also be added, because otherwise the protection granted by this Act to the tenants will be incomplete. Of course, there are experts in this House who have got sufficient experience in such kinds of legislation. I do feel and really feel that unless the words "or his superior landlord" are also added, the position of the sub-tenants will not be safeguarded."

11-04 a.m. * SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—" என்னுடைய திருத்தம் என்னவென்றால் இந்த மசோதாவின் மூன்றாவது பிரிவிலே (b) என்னும் உப பிரிவின் இறுதியிலே வரும் 'as if the Act had not been passed' என்னும் வார்த்தைகளுக்குப் பதிலாக, 'or an application made by the landlord' என்னும் வார்த்தைகளை அமைத்துக்கொள்ளவேண்டும் என்பதுதான்.

"அதாவது, 'விவசாயி வாடகையைக் கொடுக்காவிட்டால், அவனை இந்தச் சட்டம் வராததுபோல் கருதி நிலத்தைவிட்டு நிலச்சுவாந்தார் அப்புறப்படுத்தலாம்' என்று இந்த மசோதாவிலே இருக்கிறது.

"என்னுடைய திருத்தமானது, 'அவன் அம்மாதிரி கொடுக்காமலிருந்தால், நிலச்சுவாந்தார் கோர்ட்டுக்கு அந்த மாதிரி விவசாயி கொடுக்க வேண்டிய வாரத்தைக் கொடுக்கவில்லையென்றும், அதனால் அந்த விவசாயியை வெளியேற்ற வேண்டுமென்றும் மனு செய்து, கோர்ட்டின் மனு உத்தரவைப் பெற்று, அதன் பிறகு தான் நிலத்தை விட்டு அப்புறப்படுத்தவேண்டும்' என்று சொல்லுகிறது. இந்தத் திருத்தமானது மசோதாவினுடைய முக்கியமான கொள்கைக்கு விரோதமானதில்லை.

"A cultivating tenant may deposit in court the rent, என்று மூன்றாவது பிரிவு (a) சொல்லுகிறது. அதாவது, விவசாயி நிலச்சுவாந்தாருக்குக் கொடுக்கவேண்டிய வாரத்தை கோர்ட்டிலே கட்ட

8th January 1954] [Sri S. Ramalingam]

வேண்டுமென்று சொல்லியிருக்கிறது. அப்படியிருக்கும்போது, இந்தச் சட்டத்தின் பிரகாரம் நியாயம் வரி என்ன, நியாயமான வாரம் என்ன, நியாயமான குத்தகை என்ன என்று சட்டத்தில் நிர்ணயம் செய்யப்படவில்லை. ஏற்கெனவே இருக்கிற மாமூல்படி, ஏற்கெனவே செய்து கொண்ட ஒப்பந்தத்தின் பிரகாரம் அவன் வாரத்தையோ குத்தகையையோ கட்டவேண்டுமென்று கண்டிருக்கிறது. அதிகப்படியான வாடகையோ குத்தகையோ கொடுக்கவேண்டுமென்று கோர்ட்டிலே மனுச் செய்துகொண்டு விவசாயிகளின்மேல் ஒரு நிர்ப்பந்தத்தைக் கொண்டுவர சாத்தியம் இருக்கலாம்.

"The court shall cause notice of the deposit to be issued to landlord and determine, after a summary enquiry . . . ' என்று 3 (b) சொல்கிறது. விவசாயி ஏதாவது குத்தகையோ வாடகையோ கோர்ட்டிலே கொடுத்திருந்தால் அந்த மாதிரி குத்தகை எங்களுக்கு வந்திருக்கிறது என்று நிலச்சுவாந்தாருக்கு நோட்டீஸ் கொடுத்து குத்தகை கொடுத்தது சரிதானா? சரியில்லையா? என்று கோர்ட்டார் நிர்ணயிக்கிறார்கள். அதிகப்படி கொடுக்க வேண்டுமென்று நிர்ணயித்தால், அதன் பிறகு விவசாயி மனுச்செய்து கொள்ளலாம். டைம் கொடுக்கலாம். ஆகையால், சர்க்கார் என்னுடைய திருத்தத்தை ஒத்துக்கொள்வார்களென்று நினைக்கிறேன்."

* SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" My amendment is a very important one, Sir, which is to the effect that the time-limit given to the tenant should be enhanced from one month to one year. Otherwise, so many tenants will be evicted. I therefore plead that my amendment should be accepted. Sir, it is not a question of money or a question of expenses alone. In other cases, if the tenant does not pay within the time fixed, he will have to pay only some interest. But here it is a question of wholesale eviction and the tenant will be thrown in the street. I, therefore, request that my amendment may be accepted."

* SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" I have only a word or two to say. I support the suggestion made by my hon. Friend Sri Narayana Kurup, because unless it is made clear that 'superior landlords' are also debarred from resorting to eviction proceedings and unless it is made plain that cultivating tenants will be protected, however low they may be in the picture, there is bound to be serious trouble. A similar position arose under the Malabar Tenancy Act and the High Court has repeatedly pointed out that the provision applied to the landlord and the superior tenant. So, there is always difficulty for the cultivating tenant if he happens to be a sub-tenant. He does not get protection. He cannot apply for relief and he will be bundled up if there is collusion between the tenant and the landlord above him. So the sub-tenant will be entirely without redress. We really seek to protect the cultivating tenant by this legislation and if that is the objective—there is no doubt at all about the objective—we should make it clear by introducing a provision in the Act that even though the tenant may not be the immediate tenant under the suing landlord or the plaintiff-landlord, even though he is a sub-tenant only, being the man actually cultivating as a tenant, he must be protected. I support the suggestion of Sri M. Narayana Kurup that the words 'or his superior landlord' may be added after the words 'his landlord' in sub-section (1) of Section 3, or, in the alternative the words 'or sub-tenant' may be added after the words 'cultivating tenant'."

11-10 a.m. SRI K. R. VISWANATHAN:—"Sir, under clause 3 of the Bill, a cultivating tenant should pay the rent within a month after the commencement of this Act or within one month after the rent becomes due. The previous several years have been years of drought and it will be very difficult for the tenant to find the money for paying rent or surplus grains for paying the landlord in lieu of rent within one month. So I have moved an amendment for extending the period of payment of rent to three months."

*SRI P. VENKATESHA SHOLAGAR:—"கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, இந்த திருத்தத்தைப் பற்றி நான் கூறும்போது சில விளக்கங்களைக் கூறலும்புகிறேன். தென் கன்னட மக்களுக்கு ஒரு நில வெளியேற்ற தடை சட்டம் கொண்டு வந்து அவர்களை பல கஷ்டங்களிலிருந்து மீட்க வைத்து சௌகர்யம் செய்யவேண்டும் என்று இப்பொழுது இந்த சட்டத்தைக் கொண்டு வந்திருக்கிறார்கள். அதைப் போலவே தமிழ் நாட்டிலும் பார்த்தால் அநேகம் நிலவெளியேற்றம் நடந்துகொண்டு வருகிறது. இந்த நிலைமையில் மலையாளம் தென் கன்னடம் போன்று தஞ்சை ஜில்லா விற்கும் இந்த சட்டத்தைப் போன்ற சட்டம் கொண்டுவரவேண்டிய அவசியம் ஏற்பட்டிருந்தது. சமீபத்தில் கூட தமிழ் நாட்டில் விவசாயிகள் மகாநாடு கூட்டி அதில் 400 பிரதிநிதிகள் இருந்து இந்த நில வெளியேற்றத்தை நிறுத்தவேண்டும் என்று ஒரு தீர்மானம் போட்டு அதுவும் ஸ்டீக் கணக் கான மக்களுடைய முன்னிலையில் தீர்மானம் நிறைவேற்றப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. ஆகவே இந்த நிலைமை மாகாணம் எங்கும் இருந்தும் கூட சர்க்கார் பல முறைகளில் அதை அலட்சியம் செய்துவருகிறார்கள். அப்போதைக்கப்போது ஏற்படும் சிற்சில பிரச்சனைகளை மட்டும் சமாளிப்பதற்கு இதைப்போன்று கொண்டு வருகிறார்கள். அப்படி இல்லாமல் தமிழ் நாடு பூராவும் இந்த சட்டத்தைக் கொண்டு வந்து நில வெளியேற்றத்தை நிறுத்திவிட வேண்டும் இது விவசாயிகளின் ஜீவாதாரமான கோரிக்கை. ஆகவே இதை அலக்கியப்படுத்தாது தமிழ் நாடு அல்லது மாகாணம் பூரவுக்கும் விஸ்தரிக்க வேண்டும் என்று கேட்டுக் கொள்கிறேன்."

* SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"Sir, I move—

'Add the following as new sub-clause (4) to clause 3:—

"(4) The tenants evicted on or after 1st April 1950 be reinstated and to that effect this Act will have retrospective effect."

SRI N. K. PALANISWAMI:—"I second the amendment."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Motion moved—

'Add the following as new sub-clause (4) to clause 3:—

"(4) The tenants evicted on or after 1st April 1950 be reinstated and to that effect this Act will have retrospective effect."

* SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"Sir, the Government have admitted in the Statement of Objects and Reasons of this Bill that the landlords in South Kanara district have been evicting their tenants with a vengeance in anticipation of the fear that the Government may pass some legislation restricting evictions. From 1950 when the Malabar Tenancy Amendment Act was passed, landlords in South Kanara have been evicting their tenants on the presumption that some legislation banning eviction may be extended there also. Therefore I plead in my amendment that the tenants who were evicted from on or after 1st April 1950 should be reinstated."

* THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Sir, may I intervene? We should not make matters more complicated than they need be. The need for this Bill is urgent. It is a short Bill which will have effect only for one year. If we think of expanding it to the whole State or re-open old cases by giving retrospective effect or include inter-district relations, that is relations between landlords in one district and tenants in another district or vice versa, the position will become more complicated. The best thing is to restrict the present Bill to the scope of its objects and get through it quickly. Hon. Members should not imagine that all the difficulties and complications that are expected in Malabar will arise in South Kanara. Our experience and even the information received from the hon. Members of this House is to the effect that affairs are smooth and easy in South Kanara. So we need not imagine more complications than what actually exists. In view of this, I hope the hon. Members will accept the advice given by the Mover of the Bill."

* SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"Sir, it is not from a mere imagination of the difficulties that I have moved my amendment. The South Kanara District Ryots' Association, which is affiliated to the All-India Kisan Sabha, has represented this matter to me and therefore I have moved the amendment."

* THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"Sir, the scope of the Bill is very simple and that is to give the tenants protection against eviction for a year. Conditions in South Kanara are pretty fair and things are going on smoothly. So hon. Members need not create unnecessary difficulties there. Hon. Members coming from South Kanara met together and came to the conclusion that the Bill would satisfy the present object in view.

"As regards the amendment for enhancing the period for payment of rent from one to three months, I submit that only the current rent is insisted upon and there is no demand for arrears.

"The other difficulties that have been pointed out will be covered by the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill. The amendments are not acceptable, and I request hon. Members to withdraw them."

MR. SPEAKER:—"I will put the amendment and clause 3 to vote. Then I will take up the amendment given notice of by Sri S. S. Kolkebil for adding new clause 3-A. The question is—

'For the words "a month" wherever they occur, substitute words "three months".'

The amendment was put and lost.

[8th January 1954]

SRI S. S. KOLKEBAIL :—“ I beg leave to withdraw my amendment.”

The amendment was, by leave, withdrawn.

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—“ I beg leave to withdraw my amendment.”

The amendment was, by leave, withdrawn.

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—“ I beg leave to withdraw my amendment which reads as follows :—

‘ In clause 3, sub-clause (2), for the words “ a month ” substitute the words “ one year ”.’ ”

The amendment was, by leave, withdrawn.

MR. SPEAKER :—“ The question is—

‘ Add the following as new sub-clause (4) :—

“ (4) The tenants evicted on or after 1st April 1950 be reinstated and to that effect this Act will have retrospective effect.” ”

The amendment was put and lost.

Clause 3 was put and carried.

New Clause 3-A.

SRI S. S. KOLKEBAIL :—“ Sir, I move—

‘ After clause 3, insert the following as clause 3-A :—

“ 33-A. All suits proceedings in execution of decrees or orders and other proceedings—

(a) for the eviction of tenants from their holdings or land, as the case may be, or in which a claim for such eviction is involved, whether in addition to a claim for rent or not; or

(b) in which the sale of the holding of a tenant for recovery of rent is claimed shall stand stayed.” ”

This clause is taken word for word from the Madras Tenants and Ryots Protection Act of 1949.

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—“ The hon. Member should know that the object of this amendment will be covered by the Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill. It is unnecessary to bring in the amendment here.”

SRI S. S. KOLKEBAIL :—“ The Moratorium Bill will cover the case. But what is to happen if that Bill is not taken up and passed tomorrow? ”

8th January 1954]

SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—“ It may be referred to a Select Committee.”

SRI S. S. KOLKEBAIL :—“ So, just by way of abundant caution, I am introducing this amendment and I think the Government will have no objection to it. If anything, it may be redundant, if the other Bill is passed into law.”

The amendment was duly seconded.

* THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—“ I oppose the amendment. As for stay of suits and other proceedings, the other Bill will make the necessary provision.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ The question is—

‘ After clause 3, insert the following as clause 3-A :—

“ 3-A. All suits, proceedings in execution of decrees or orders and other proceedings—

(a) for the eviction of tenants from their holdings or land, as the case may be, or in which a claim for such eviction is involved, whether in addition to a claim for rent or not, or

(b) in which the sale of the holding of a tenant for recovery of rent is claimed shall stand stayed.” ”

The amendment was put and lost.

Clauses 4 and 5 were put and carried.

MR. SPEAKER :—“ I shall now take up the Preamble and clauses 1 and 2. I must tell the House that the hon. Member Sri Ramalingam has given notice of the following amendment :—

‘ For the words “ the District of South Kanara ”, substitute the words “ the State of Madras ”.’

It is beyond the scope of the Bill. This Bill is intended for South Kanara. The hon. Member wants to enlarge the scope of the Bill so as to extend it to the whole of the State of Madras. So, it is out of order.”

* SRI S. RAMALINGAM :—“ கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, இந்த மசோதா தென்கன்னட ஜில்லாவுக்குக் கொண்டுவரப்பட்டாலும் நான் கொடுத்திருக்கும் திருத்தம் லாங் டைட்டில் இன் சவுத் கானரா (Long Title in South Kanara) “என்று நான் இருக்கிறேன்.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ இது அரைட் ஆப் ஆர்டர். (Out of order.) So this amendment of his to the Long Title or the Preamble and a similar amendment to clause 1 are out of order. He has given notice of the following amendment to sub-clause (2) of clause 1 :—

‘ Insert the following before the word “ extends ” in line 3-- “ and the Tanjore Tenants and Pannaial (Protection) Act ”.’

It is not relevant to the Bill and so, it is also out of order. Then comes the amendment of the hon. Member Sri K. R. Viswanathan.”

[8th January 1954]

SRI K. R. VISWANATHAN :—" Sir, I move the following amendment that stands in my name :—

' For the words " for a year " ; substitute the words " until a comprehensive Land Reform Bill comes into force " . '

The amendment was duly seconded.

SRI S. S. KOLKEBAIL :—" I do not move my amendment in view of the assurance given by the Hon. the Chief Minister and the Hon. the Revenue Minister."

SRI K. R. VISWANATHAN :—" In the Statement of Objects and Reasons it is stated that just because landlords are afraid of the land reform proposals which are under the consideration of the Government, they have begun evicting the tenants on a large scale. It is only with a view to prevent that large-scale eviction that this Bill has been brought before this House. The time-limit of one year is not at all sufficient because already the Government have taken two years for the consideration of the Report of the Land Revenue Reforms Committee and I do not know whether within one year, they, in all sincerity, will be able to bring the Land Reforms Bill before the House. So, I would like to give permanent relief to the tenants through this Bill until the Land Reform Bill is brought before the House."

* THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—" Such a vague expression cannot be put in law. What will come up, how it will come up, whether it will come up at all—these are all possibilities. So, this is not a very happy amendment and I cannot accept it."

The amendment was, by leave, withdrawn.

The Preamble and clause 1 were put and carried.

Clause 2.

* SRI A. RAMACHANDRA REDDIAR :—" Sir, I move the following amendment :—

' In sub-clause (c), delete the words " or any waste, vacant or forest land " . '

I am moving this very simple amendment in order to bring the definition of ' land ' into line with the definition of ' cultivating tenant ' and ' cultivation '."

The amendment was duly seconded.

* THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—" I do not know what the object of this amendment is. The hon. Member is thinking in terms of conditions in North Arcot district. He must be aware that conditions in South Kanara are different from those in North Arcot."

8th January 1954]

The amendment was, by leave, withdrawn.

Clause 2 was put and carried.

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—" Sir, I move—

' That the Bill be passed into law. ' "

MR. SPEAKER :—" Motion moved—

' That the South Kanara Cultivating Tenants Protection Bill, 1954, be passed into law. ' "

* DR. K. B. MENON :—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, at the fag-end of the debate of this Bill, I wish to say just a few words. If emotion is the weakness of a small Party, I submit that arrogance should never be the privilege of the powerful and the big. I shall now attempt to place a few sane facts in a very sane way."

* THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" I would like to know whether the hon. Member is referring to my remarks in which case I hasten to explain that it was not arrogance but the contrary of it. I want hon. Members who belong to small parties to be active, to be enthusiastic and even to be excited up to a point, and I am indicatively warning the majority party not to try to prevent such excitement too prematurely, which would only increase the reaction."

* DR. K. B. MENON :—" I shall leave the thing at that stage. South Kanara is our nearest and next neighbour, and the boundary of Malabar just merges or almost dissolves itself into South Kanara. There is, consequently, very much in common in physical features, in the habits of the people, in the economic and social position and, may I also add, in the exploitation of the poor by the rich. South Kanara is a typical example of that old adage."

* THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" Sir, we are on the third reading stage and we cannot now discuss general principles. So, hon. Members have to confine their remarks only to the general working of the Bill and give suggestions with regard to the general working of the provisions of the Bill. Hon. Member Dr. Menon cannot take advantage of the third reading of the Bill to make a reply to the Hon. Chief Minister or to claim friendship with South Kanara and things like that."

* DR. K. B. MENON :—" Sir, this is the first time that I am seeing serious objection being raised in this House against freedom of speech."

MR. SPEAKER :—" It is not a question of freedom of speech. As this is the third reading, the hon. Member has to confine his remarks to the general working of the Bill and the various clauses."

[8th January 1954]

* DR. K. B. MENON :—" I shall put it in a different way and give my opinion. I never knew that we were observing such technicalities till now, as the Hon. Leader of the House claims. I hope and trust that such technicalities will not be brought about in discussions of Bills at different stages."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM :—" Then rules have to be abrogated! "

MR. SPEAKER :—" It is not a question of technicality or any such thing. There are certain rules and we have to follow them. That is all."

* DR. K. B. MENON :—" Rules after all are a matter of convenience. (Laughter.) The situation in South Kanara is a typical example where only the people who ask for or agitate for a particular thing get it. It is only the crying child that gets milk. In Malabar, tenancy agitation has been 50 or 60 years old. For example, take the compensation paid to the tenants in Malabar and South Kanara. The whole history of legislation so far as South Kanara is concerned is barren of even a minor land tenure or land reform legislation. So, I do not wish to compliment the Government for bringing about this Bill, because I feel that any emergency legislation exposes the weakness of the Government. It shows lack of alertness on the part of the Government. The Government should have long ago realized that South Kanara was in need of land legislation and should have taken steps to introduce the measure long ago. The Government failed to do this in the last so many years and have brought about this legislation at the last minute. That being so, it is not a matter where the Government should be complimented, but it is matter to be regretted. I hope this emergency legislation is being passed for the time being and that the Government will make every effort to bring in a more comprehensive legislation as early as possible."

* THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Sir, as for the general remarks, made by Dr. Menon, I do not propose to raise any technical objection. What I feel is, far from drawing an adverse inference, I am drawing a positive and favourable inference. So far as my experience goes, the relationship between the landlord and tenant in South Kanara, though very near to Malabar, does not present the same difficulties as it presents in Malabar. There is more accord, mutual understanding, moderation in treatment of one another in South Kanara. I am only hoping that the introduction of this small Bill will not create a new chapter in South Kanara. With these remarks, I commend the Bill to the acceptance of the House."

MR. SPEAKER :—" The question is—
'That the South Kanara Cultivating Tenants Protection Bill, 1954, be passed into law.' "

The motion was put and carried.

MR. SPEAKER :—" As to-day is Friday, the House will sit till 1 o'clock and meet again at 3 p.m. in the afternoon."

"Now the Hon. Revenue Minister may move his motion."

THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Saturday, 9th January 1954.

The House met in the Assembly Chamber, Government Estate, Mount Road, at nine of the clock, Mr. Speaker (THE HON. SRI J. SIVASHANMUGAM PILLAI) in the Chair.

MR. SPEAKER :—" We are now in the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1953. We have passed clauses 4, 4-A, 5 and 6. We are now in clause 7."

Clause 7.

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, I move the amendment standing in my name, namely :—

'That in item (i), line 6, for the words "a protected ulkudi or" substitute the words "an ulkudi or".'

[9th January 1954]

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN :—" Sir, I second it."

MR. SPEAKER :—" Amendment moved—

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, you have reserved the clause relating to ' Definitions ' to the end. The definitions relating to this clause may also be considered now so that both may be disposed of. We are now considering the rent of the ulkudi, kudikidappu and the protected ulkudi but the definitions themselves have not yet been taken up."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, when definitions are taken up, the hon. Member wants that to be postponed. When the clauses are taken he wants them also to be postponed. We must get on one way or the other. It would be best to take the definitions first, I quite agree. But the definitions carry no meaning unless the clauses are passed. We may therefore take that whatever we do now is subject to revision of the definitions."

MR. SPEAKER :—" Hon. Member, Sri P. K. Gopalakrishnan, has also given notice of an amendment, No. 58, which defines what an ' Ulkudi ' is. All these things can be taken up in the end when we come to definitions."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Sir, nothing is lost. Let it be clearly understood that when we take up the definitions, if any consequential changes become necessary, we will also take them up."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" If the definition is accepted, there may not be any controversy at all whether there should be ulkudi, protected ulkudi and kudikidappu or whether there should be only ulkudi. It is not my idea at all that we should postpone taking a decision on this matter. Inasmuch as one is dependent on the other, both these may be considered and any disposal of this question will automatically cover the other."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" We began with the definition and then, as the hon. Member Sri M. Narayana Kurup objected to it we passed on to clause 7. Under clause 17 which we have already passed the word ' protected ulkudi ' has been approved."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, as hon. Member, Sri P. K. Gopalakrishnan, has given a similar amendment to clause 2 and as it is going to come up for discussion before the House, I am not pressing the following amendment standing in my name—

' In item (1), line 6, for the words " a protected ulkudi or ", substitute the words " an ulkudi or " . "

The amendment was by leave of the House withdrawn.

[9th January 1954]

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" The question before the House is whether there should be these differences in respect of ' ulkudi '. In the Bill, ' ulkudi ' has been defined as a hut in any portion of a land outside Fort Cochin in the occupation of a person who has been permitted by the person entitled to possession of such land to occupy the hut and who otherwise has no interest in such land. Protected ulkudi has been defined as an ulkudi which has been in the continuous occupation of a holder for not less than one year. Protected ulkudis and ulkudis in Fort Cochin are described as ' kudikidappu '. We are all aware of the history of these names. Originally these names meant only ' ulkudis '. Then the Government wanted to treat Fort Cochin area separately and gave the name ' kudikidappu ' to ulkudis in that area. I submit these words are a distinction without difference. An ulkudi which has been in continuous occupation for not less than a year is called ' protected ulkudi ' and there is no need for making this distinction between ulkudis and protected ulkudis in view of the fact that it would be very difficult to prove the period of occupation. I submit that all the rights attached to ' protected ulkudis ' must be conferred on all ulkudis and therefore I oppose the classification of ulkudis into ulkudis and protected ulkudis and kudikidappus."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" I submitted in my speech introducing the Bill that this classification of ulkudis is absolutely necessary. Kudikidappu in Fort Cochin has got a peculiarity, namely, that rent is paid. In the rest of Malabar where ulkudi holders live, rent is not paid. That is why we have split it up into ulkudis and kudikidappus. We are also giving fixity to holders of ulkudis who have been in continuous occupation for one year and they are called ' protected ulkudis '. Therefore, this classification of ulkudis is absolutely necessary and I request that the clause as it stands may be passed."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" I wish to know whether the distinction is based on payment of rent or non-payment of rent or on the difference in areas in which they are situated."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" The classification is made because the incidence of the holding differs and because custom also differs. Both are totally different kinds of licences or permission."

Clause 7 was put and carried.

Clause 8.

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" I beg to move—

' That in the proposed section 9-BB, after the words " a holding " occurring in line 3, insert the words " is lost for purposes of agriculture on account of reasons beyond the control of the tenant " and after the words " extent of the land ", insert the words " so lost or " . '

[Sri V. R. Krishna Ayyar] [9th January 1954]

*The proposed clause 9-BB reads thus—

'Exclusion of certain lands from liability to fair rent.—Notwithstanding anything contained in sections 5 to 9-B, where any land included in a holding is set apart for communal purposes, and is used as such, the extent of the land so set apart shall not be taken into account when determining the fair rent of the holding in accordance with those sections.'

To make this clause all-comprehensive, I suggest that the words suggested in my amendment may be added to the clause. It is proper, Sir, that a tenant should be given some benefit when land is lost for purposes of agriculture on account of reasons beyond his control such as actions of Nature. Though the amendment suggested is not a material change, still it will provide for certain situations of hardship. I do not think there can be any grounds for objecting to this amendment."

The amendment was duly seconded.

SRI P. S. KRISHNASWAMY AYYANGAR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move the following amendment:—

'That in the proposed section 9-BB, for the words "as such" occurring in line 4, substitute the words "for such purposes".'

It is only a verbal amendment or a schoolmaster's amendment, if I may say so. In clause 9-BB, it has been stated, " . . . where any land included in a holding is set apart for communal purposes, and is used as such . . . 'The word 'such' used here is a pronoun which should stand for some noun going before it . . . "

SRI C. RAJAM RAMASAMI:—"I second the amendment."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"The amendment suggested by the hon. Member is quite correct and the Government will accept it. Instead of the words 'as such' we should have 'for such purposes'."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"Sir, the hon. Member, Sri V. R. Krishna Ayyar's amendment is out of place. There is a section in the Malabar Tenancy Act which contemplates such cases. What we do under clause (a) is only to examine whether communal lands set apart for communal purposes come under the purview of fixation of fair rent. So, I have to oppose the amendment."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR:—"So far as I can gather, there is no section in the Malabar Tenancy Act. If the Hon. Minister says there is, I would like to know from him what is that section."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"The hon. Member will forgive me for explaining to him that according to the general law if the tenant has lost lands, he has a right to say 'I do not pay'. If it is a question of raising a dispute every time about the actual extent—one cent more or one cent less—it would lead to more litigation. If the land is entirely lost, it will be hardly necessary to fix the proper rent."

[9th January 1954]

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR:—"When there is a special law as against the general law, it may be that the courts accept a reduction in rent or abatement only if there is specific provision. It is only to clear up a possible apprehension and dispute, I have brought forward my amendment. There is no harm in accepting the amendment. It is only by way of abundant caution I have moved my amendment."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"The amendment is not necessary. There is already provision in the Malabar Tenancy Act."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

'In the proposed section 9-BB, after the words "a holding" occurring in line 3, insert the words "is lost for purposes of agriculture on account of reasons beyond the control of the tenant" and after the words "extent of the land", insert the words "so lost or".'

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER:—"Are the Government accepting the amendment of the hon. Member Sri P. S. Krishnaswami Ayyangar?"

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"Yes, Sir."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

'In the proposed section 9-BB, for the words "as such" occurring in line 4, substitute the words "for such purposes".'

The amendment was put and carried.

Clause 8, as amended, was put and carried.

Clause 9.

SRI S. S. KOLKEBAIL:—"Sir, I move the amendment standing in my name, namely—

- (i) 'In sub-section (1) of the proposed section 9-C, for the word "Tahsildar", substitute the words "Revenue Divisional Officer".'
- (ii) 'In sub-section (2) of the proposed section 9-C, for the words "shall have the power to depute any officer of the Revenue Department", substitute the words "shall have the power, or to depute any officer of the Revenue Department".'
- (iii) 'In sub-section (2) of the proposed section 9-C, after the words "any officer" occurring in line 7, insert the words and brackets "(not below the rank of a Tahsildar or Deputy Tahsildar)".'
- (iv) 'In sub-section (2) of the proposed section 9-C, after the words "to make local enquiry and inspection and to collect data", insert the words "after due notice to the parties".'

[Sri S. S. Kolkebail] [9th January 1954]

(v) 'Add at the end of sub-section (2) of the proposed section 9-C, the words and brackets "(after giving the parties the right to cross-examine the officer who held the local enquiry)".'

(vi) 'Other consequential amendments be made to this clause'.

"I am moving these amendments because we are ousting the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts. The Rent Courts must be presided over by the Revenue Divisional Officer and decisions must be taken by them. Because there will be lot of complications and lot of troubles in the administration of this Act between the landlord and the tenant, it is better that an officer of the status of the Revenue Divisional Officer is entrusted with these powers.

"The Government have given powers under this clause to the presiding officer to depute any officer of the Revenue Department to make local enquiry and inspection. The local inspection must be held by the presiding officer, and he should not delegate his power of inspection to anybody else. If the Government want that power to be delegated to a subordinate officer, then that power should also vest in the officer presiding, because there will be lot of troubles otherwise. Further I find in the main clause that the report that will be submitted by the officer concerned, after holding the necessary local inspection, will be treated as evidence. My submission is that evidence which is not subject to cross-examination cannot be accepted, because such a thing is in direct contravention of the Evidence Act itself. The party must be given the necessary opportunities to cross-examine the evidence, just to see on what grounds it is based. I find also no provision in the section for issue of notice to the parties before holding the necessary local enquiry. These are all things not conducive to a proper enquiry of the case. So, I submit that all these amendments are very ordinary ones, and there is no harm in accepting them. So, I commend them to the acceptance of the House."

The amendment was duly seconded.

SRI P. S. KRISHNASWAMY AYYANGAR:—"Sir, I move the amendment standing in my name, namely,—

'In sub-section (2) to section 9-C after the words "any officer of the Revenue Department", insert the words "subordinate to the officer functioning as Rent Court".'

Sir, the reason for this amendment is this. The Revenue Court may depute an officer of the Revenue Department to make a local inspection. It does not impose any restriction on the choice of the revenue officer that it has to make. A Tahsildar who functions as a Revenue Court—an eccentric Tahsildar—may take it into his head to ask a Collector of his own district to attend to this business of local inspection. This will look absurd. Therefore, the Revenue Court, wherein the Tahsildar functions, should assign this work only to an officer subordinate to him. Otherwise such oddities may occur. To prevent such things, I move this amendment."

The amendment was duly seconded.

9th January 1954]

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"I shall move my amendment to Section 9-C and also my amendment to Section 9-E. I think both can be moved."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Amendment to section 9-E relates to Clause 10."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"But the amendment is to Section 9-E of the principal Act."

MR. SPEAKER:—"When we come to Clause 10, the amendment to Section 9-E can be moved."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"Sir, I move the amendment standing in my name, namely —

'For the proposed section 9-C, substitute the following:—

"9-C. (1) The fair rent payable under sections 5 to 7 and 9 to 9-B, the instalments, if any, in which it shall be payable, and the date or dates, on or before which such fair rent or the instalments thereof shall be payable, shall be determined by the Rent Settlement Authority in such manner as may be prescribed.

(2) The Rent Settlement Authority shall be the village Panchayat Board wherever there is one and in places where there is not one, a representative of the Government and the representative of the Jenmi Sabha, the Kisan Sabha and Kisan Panchayat and the Kisan Congress which are accorded recognition by the Collector will constitute the rent settlement authority."

"The modus operandi for fixation of fair rent according to the amendment of Government is the Rent Court. It is a known fact that Revenue Officers would be there and the Revenue Divisional Officer would preside. As has been pointed out by some Members, usually it happens in Malabar that the Tahsildar's office is situated far away and the revenue officials are not fully conversant with the conditions obtaining in the local areas. On the other hand, the elected representatives of the people, the Panchayats elected by the villagers are more conversant with the local conditions. Therefore, it would be advisable that panchayats or a tripartite organization as suggested in my amendments should constitute the machinery for fixation of fair rent rather than the Rent Court as is now sought to be provided in the Bill."

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN:—"While seconding the amendment just moved, I shall cite an example from my own experience. The offices of the Tahsildar and the Revenue Divisional Officer are far away from certain villages. For instance, the distance from my village to the office of the Tahsildar is 60 miles. When such is the case, can we expect Revenue officials working 60 miles away to be fully alive to the needs of our villages? Can we say with confidence that all the difficulties of agriculturists are known to them? No, the answer is surely in the negative. On the other hand, who are the people who are most conversant with local conditions? It is the Village Panchayatdars. It is the local elected representatives of the people. That is why I say instead of putting the Revenue officials in charge of the Rent Court, it would be advisable to constitute a machinery consisting of the Panchayatdars, and some members of the Janmi and Kisan Sabhas (where there is no Panchayat Board) for the fixation of fair rent. Otherwise, I am afraid that justice will not be done to the poor cultivators. The Revenue Divisional Officer invariably is not at all fully conversant with local conditions. He does not know the local conditions prevalent in each taluk. That is why I say it would be better to have the Panchayatdars to be in charge of fixation of fair rent."

SRI C. H. KANARAN :—" Even though Government appoint so many persons to be in charge of Revenue administration of the State, I am sure the question of fixation of fair rent could not be easily solved within five or six years. It is a complicated question. Government cannot think that the Tahsildar or the Revenue Divisional Officer is the competent person to decide the question of fair rent. It is not so. The Tahsildar's office is far away from many of the villages. The Tahsildar is not aware of the local conditions in many of the taluks under his jurisdiction. The case is all the stronger in the case of the Revenue Divisional Officer who is above the Tahsildars. Then the question may be asked who are the persons who are fully conversant with local conditions? I say it is the Panchayat Boards and the local representatives of the people of those areas, viz., the M.L.A's. Some may say that the village karnams are fully alive to the needs of the villages. But I know how these village karnams have become corrupt. I know how they will behave if they are asked to share out the produce between the tenant and the landlord. They will try to propitiate their stomachs first. That is why I say it would be by far better to entrust this work of rent fixation to a corporate body like the Panchayat Board. I know that even now Panchayat Boards try so many minor cases and they have conducted themselves creditably. That is why I support the idea of a corporate body like the Panchayat Board being entrusted with the work of fair rent fixation rather than the Tahsildar or the Revenue Divisional Officer. Let not the Government think that anything would go wrong by entrusting the Panchayat Boards with the work of fixation of fair rent."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" In the midst of the variety of suggestions just offered, may I champion, as I had so often done before, the cause of the Civil Court. On more than one occasion, I had expressed the view that the Revenue officials are not sufficiently conversant with the law pertaining to the fixation of rent. My experience has been bitter in this line. Revenue officials are not fully conversant with local conditions and with the laws governing rent settlement, fixation of fair rent and the like. Therefore, I would suggest that it would be by far better to have civil courts rather than rent courts. Incidentally, the difficulty pointed out by my friend Mr. Gopalakrishnan, viz., that the villagers are far away from the office of the Tahsildar or the Revenue Divisional Officer and as such, these authorities are not fully alive to the needs of the agriculturists, may be overcome if we have the civil courts as the authority in charge of rent fixation. Civil courts are much nearer. Revenue officials have got to be going on to various places for umpteen jobs and they cannot be expected to possess full facts regarding the legal issues involved in the matter of rent fixation. It is better inasmuch as his work itself is voluminous in the other sphere, to keep the Revenue Divisional Officer aloof. These Revenue officials have got to cover 50 to 60 miles to reach villages to ascertain the local conditions. When such is the case and when even their normal work takes their breath away, I see no reason why this additional burden of fixation of fair rent is also imposed on the Revenue Divisional Officer. A suggestion had been made that inasmuch as the Panchayats are fully alive to the needs of the respective locality in which they are situated, it would be far more feasible to constitute them and the local representatives of the people into a machinery in charge of fixation of fair rent. I am in agreement with that suggestion."

SRI N. GOPALA MENON :—" Mr. Speaker, it will be very unwise to entrust this question of fixation of fair rent to local officials, for they are, for one reason or other, intimately connected or associated with the tenants or owners in the village and as such, they cannot be expected to be impartial in their outlook. If a dispute in a village between a landlord and a tenant regarding the sharing of the produce is referred to the Panchayat Board, it invariably happens that one of the members is interested in one party or the other in the dispute. So, we cannot expect an impartial verdict. That is my view. Therefore it is very essential if you want to instil confidence in the tenants as well as in the landlords that justice will be meted out to them both, and for that the deciding authority should be away from the village and unconnected with it so that the disputes may be decided in an impartial manner. I also very strongly deprecate public bodies like the Kisan or Jenmi sabhas taking active part in the dispensation of justice to the people in their own areas. The actual execution of work should be entrusted to officers who are conversant with that type of work. I know that in Malabar there is some little difficulty because of distances. My friend Mr. Gopalakrishnan has complained that the office of the Tahsildar and the Revenue Divisional Officer being situated far away from villages, the parties will have to travel long distances; I concede that the distance between Nattika and Ponnani is about 40 miles and not 60 as the hon. Member had observed. Of course, it is desirable that the Tahsildar or the Revenue Divisional Officer concerned camps from place to place if there are a sufficient number of cases to be disposed of, so that poor villagers may not be put to undue hardship. It is also a fact that it is not at all completely quasi-judicial work that these officers have to do. For instance, in England, we do not have any Rent Courts but we have officers known as 'Arbitrators'. They decide the question of eviction, fixation of fair rent, etc. Of course, these may incidentally raise some big questions where big legal issues are involved. These may be referred to the higher judicial authorities, or the parties themselves may have recourse to the same. I think that even the people of Malabar will not mind the civil courts being entrusted with this work. I do not think that such a procedure would cause too much litigation. But the difficulty is that the number of cases are on the increase to-day. I think it would be by far better for the expeditious disposal of cases to entrust the work to an arbitrator it may be the Tahsildar rather than the civil court. I think that Government could alleviate the difficulties of tenants and landlords having to go long distances for the settlement of their disputes to the Tahsildars' offices, by directing the Tahsildars to periodically go to these places where there is accumulation of work. In these circumstances, I oppose the amendment just now moved by the Opposition."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" I would not have spoken on this amendment but for its close inter-connection with section 9-C. When I try to bring to the notice of this House that certain clauses are connected and may be considered together, nobody need suspect my motive. It is not dilatory tactics. It is done with the best of intentions so that the whole thing may be accepted and we may not be asked to take up positions inconsistent with the ones previously taken up. I hope such a contingency will not arise. The practical result of this amendment is to annul the existing provision regarding the Rent Settlement Authority which confers a valuable right with regard to compulsory fixation of fair rent. The Hon. Law Minister was pleased to describe this as a scientific arrangement, but he said that it was not practicable. Sir, when a thing is scientific, it is given the go-by because it is impracticable and when a thing is practicable it is ignored because it is unscientific. I would not have raised this unless I sincerely believe that, in the absence of security to all tenants, compulsory fixation of fair rent is essential to give them even the smallest benefit. Of course, I realize that they have tabled amendments giving fixity of tenure to tenants who have been in occupation for six years, but it will not give real relief to the rack-rented peasantry who are likely to be excluded from that category. Therefore, any provision for fixation or determination of fair rent will be incomplete unless there is a machinery provided for it and the State undertakes to fix the responsibility. It was pointed out by the Hon. the Law Minister that it will involve a huge cost of about Rs. 70 lakhs. It is a question concerning many lakhs of people. An expenditure of Rs. 70 lakhs is nothing. The Government are not a trading concern run for profit. Where money has to be expended for the benefit of large sections of people, it has to be expended. I would not have raised this if the Government had gracefully consented to give fixity of tenure to the cultivating tenant so that he may go to the court with the conviction that he will not be driven out of his property and he can approach the authority to get the fixation of fair rent. Special emphasis was laid by the Officer who went into this question. It was not as though the rent was fair in Malabar that though twenty years had elapsed since the provisions had been made, no complaint has been made. It was not because the rent was not rack-rent but it was due to the fear of the tenant that the landlord might use the weapon of eviction to drive him away. Therefore, in the absence of fixity of tenure to the tenant, I have to oppose this clause which has the effect of annulling the machinery provided for compulsory fixation of rent."

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN :—" On a point of information, Sir. The distance from my village to Ponnani is sixty miles by bus route via Chowghat, not less and not more."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Sir, I wish to clear the position. The hon. Member can explain the whole thing after me. Mr. Krishna Ayyar's suggestion is that the power should be given to civil courts and Mr. Narayanan Nambiar's suggestion is that the Rent Settlement Authority should be kept up and all the lands in the district should be settled, so to say, notwithstanding any question of cost. Apart from that, I admire the courage of hon. Members of the opposite block who suggest that the fixation of rent should be handed over to local political bodies of a kind whose operations are such that practically the entire fate of the areas would be handed over to these political bodies if their suggestion is to be accepted. We must also have a large police in these places to maintain order with regard to the disputes that will arise. Here is a question where an assessment has to be made from a judicial point of view after taking the data into account. It is impossible to entrust it to elective bodies such as are proposed."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" I should like to point out to the Hon. Speaker that I have given notice of an amendment in regard to the definition of the expression 'Rent Court' [Amendment No. 31 (ii)]."

MR. SPEAKER :—" We will take it up when we come to definitions."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" The Hon. the Chief Minister was, of course, appreciating the courage that I had in moving the amendment. I take it as a compliment. As representatives of the public, we have got the courage to say that we have got more faith and confidence in the elected representatives. If the representatives of the Congress political party can rule this State, I ask, why should not the elected representatives be entrusted with this task of fixing a fair rent with regard to fields and gardens in a village? "

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" There is no point in shouting. Do you presume to give judgment in these cases? "

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" I am not in favour of continuing the old Rent Settlement Authority. Of course, the form will be there with different content. I am putting forward a more democratic content in it. I want that Panchayat Board, composed as it is of elected representatives of the people, should determine the fair rent. But where there is no Panchayat Board, a representative of the tenants, a representative of the landlords and also a representative of the Government, who can be a Judicial Officer, can constitute the Rent Settlement Authority. That is the reason why I have moved this amendment."

[Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar] [9th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—"The function of these bodies should be to reconcile and give conciliatory suggestions and not to decide."

SRI C. H. KANARAN :—"Panchayat Boards are now dealing with so many cases and police force has not been employed till now. Apart from this, we have suggested that there should be a representative of the Government in addition to representatives of the Janmi Sabha, the Kisan Sabha, the Kisan Panchayat and the Kisan Congress. The Government representative is not excluded here."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—"Sir, the whole mistake lies in not realizing that this machinery is to assess fair rent. It requires a knowledge of the quality of the soil, the yield, conditions prevailing in the places and other things. Panchayat Boards are already looking after sanitary arrangements, road-laying and they have also other functions. We will be burdening them with this additional responsibility and they would not be able to carry on. That is why, Sir, we have proposed that a Revenue Divisional Officer or a Tahsildar shall fix the fair rent. The provision for Rent Settlement Authority contained in the principal Act has been scrapped as it would not give benefit to either party for a long time. There are about ten lakhs of holdings in Malabar and if the fair rent in respect of these holdings is to be fixed and the Record of Rights is to be prepared, it will take six years. Besides, the staff required for this work, is one Collector, 12 Deputy Collectors, 47 Tahsildars, 63 Upper Division Clerks, 173 Lower Division Clerks, 48 Typists, 146 Revenue Inspectors and about 800 other subordinate staff. We were not able to provide sufficient staff and without the machinery and without the equipment, it is not possible to work out that scheme. That is why it was scrapped and the people also agitated for its abolition."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—"Are this Government incapable of providing such a machinery?"

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—"That is why we had to give it up. What is required is quick disposal of disputes between the landlord and the tenant. That is the reason why we have come forward to revise the machinery itself. We have been very careful to revise the rates and we have been very careful to give them further facilities. The original Bill constituted only the Revenue Divisional Officer as the Rent Court. The amendment that the Tahsildar also may function as a Rent Court was taken into consideration to enable the tenants to get at closer quarters with the Rent Courts concerned. Regarding the suggestion of Sri V. R. Krishna Ayyar, it is out of question because if in each case the tenant is asked to pay a commission batta of Rs. 50 or Rs. 100, that will be denying the relief what we are giving to him and he will be at the mercy of the money-lenders. The tenants have been agitating that it would not be possible for them to agitate their claims against rich landlords in civil courts.

"As regards the amendment relating to instalments, we have fixed the fair rent. We have also fixed the maximum up to which it can be increased, and provided the facility of spreading over the increase over a number of years. So that amendment also is not necessary."

"As regards Mr. Krishnaswami Ayyangar's amendment for adding the words "subordinate to the officer functioning as Rent Court" after the words "any Officer of the Revenue Department", the Officer can order his subordinates to make local enquiry and inspection even without this amendment. So the amendment is not necessary."

"As regards the amendment proposing that the application should be to the Rent Court 'having jurisdiction over the area in which the particular land is situated', the application can only be to the Court which has jurisdiction over the area. Therefore that amendment also is not necessary."

"Sri Kolkebail's amendment is not necessary. The Select Committee thought that the inclusion of Tahsildar for the purpose of performing the functions entrusted to a Rent Court was absolutely necessary in the interests of the tenant. If we accept the amendment, the tenant will be deprived of a concession which the Select Committee has given."

"Regarding the proposed section 9-C (2), it gives power to the Rent Court to depute any officer of the Revenue Department to make local enquiry and inspection. In all Courts, the Judges have got the power of local enquiry and inspection as every lawyer knows."

"I think I have covered all the main points. I am unable to accept the amendments, and I request the hon. Members to withdraw them."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—"Even assuming that the Government over-rule all the other amendments, I submit that Sri Kolkebail's amendment about giving of notice to the parties concerned is a reasonable one and may be accepted. If the Revenue Inspector collects the data and submits a report, the Tahsildar or Revenue Divisional Officer will simply okay that report. So it is absolutely necessary to give notice to the parties and hear them if they have got to make any representation."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—"Sub-section (2) says that the Rent Court shall follow the same procedure as is followed by a Court of Small Causes and the procedure to be followed by a Court of Small Causes is laid down in the Provincial Small Causes Court Act, 1887. So the amendment is not necessary."

[9th January 1954]

SRI K. C. GOPALAN UNNI :—“ഏതാണ്ടു പത്തു ലക്ഷം ഹോൾഡിംഗ്സു ഉണ്ടെന്നു ബഹു : മന്ത്രി പറയുകയുണ്ടായി. മുമ്പത്തെ നിയമപ്രകാരം കുറെ കലക്ടർമാരെയും മറ്റും ഉൾക്കൊള്ളുന്നതിനായിട്ടായിരിക്കണം അവർക്കു പാട്ടു നിജപ്പെടുത്താൻ ആവശ്യം വേണ്ടി വരുമെന്നും മന്ത്രി പറയുകയുണ്ടായി. അപ്പോൾ പത്തു ലക്ഷം ഹോൾഡിംഗ്സിനെ സംബന്ധിച്ച് തീരുമാനമെടുക്കണമെങ്കിൽ എത്ര കാലം വേണ്ടിവരുമെന്നാണ് ഗവണ്മെന്റിന്റെ ഉദ്ദേശം? അതോ അങ്ങിനെ പാട്ടു നിജപ്പെടുത്താനുള്ള ഹിരജി ഉണ്ടാകയില്ലെന്നാണോ ഗവണ്മെന്റിന്റെ വിചാരം?”

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—“We are not having compulsory fixation of fair rent. It is only optional for the tenant, and the landlord also can apply after three years. So the question put by him does not arise. He has not read the Bill. That is why the mistake has arisen.”

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—“Have the Government considered the suggestion in the Raghavendra Rao's Report that this need not be magnified? Officials more or less know which are the most rack-rented areas and this can be done very easily without going into all the ten lakhs of holdings.”

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—“The Government have considered all these aspects and they have come to the conclusion that the provisions made in this Bill are the best to safeguard the interests of the tenant and the landlord in Malabar.”

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—“Sir, as regards Sri Kolke-bail's amendment, no doubt the sub-section provides that the Rent Court shall follow the procedure laid down in the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act. But it does not compel the Revenue Inspector, who will probably be deputed to inspect and report, to give notice to the parties and hear their representation. If no notice is given it may even be held illegal. It is a very very simple demand. That the amendment should be viewed with suspicion simply because it comes from the Opposition is rather strange.”

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—“It is not correct to say that I am not accepting the amendment because it comes from the Opposition. I will always accept what is reasonable. Sri Krishna Ayyar knows, I know and all lawyers know, that it is not necessary.”

SRI C. H. KANARAN :—“Will this authority tour and see things on the spot or arrive at decisions sitting at the office table?”

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—“An interpellation may be asked about this.”

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—“The Hon. Minister for Law said just now that Sri V. R. Krishna Ayyar and the lawyers on this side know the thing. I consider it an insult. We may not know jurisprudence and the various Acts. But we know one thing that Revenue Inspector cannot do justice to the parties without hearing them. The Hon. Law Minister was saying that he was not accepting the amendment simply because it came from the Opposition.”

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—“That is not correct. The misunderstanding must be due to my not being clear in my speech or due to the hon. Member not correctly following the speech.”

SRI P. S. KRISHNASWAMY AYYANGAR :—“Sir, speaking about my amendment, I wish to submit that there should not be any void in the legislation that we pass.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“But the Government are not accepting the hon. Member's amendment.”

SRI P. S. KRISHNASWAMY AYYANGAR :—“I wish to make one more representation. If the Government do not accept my amendment, I shall not press it.”

“We should not take it for granted that a Tahsildar who functions as a Rent Court will always depute only a subordinate of his to make the local enquiry and inspection. There may be charges pending against a Tahsildar who is appointed as a Rent Court. The charges might have been initiated by the Collector and there may be ill-feeling between the Tahsildar and the Collector. The Tahsildar may be quite sure that the charges against him would be proved and he may like to exercise his power just on the eve of the charges being proved and punishment being inflicted upon him. So he may send an order to the Collector to go and make the local enquiry and inspection. The Collector may resent the order and say: ‘I am your superior. I am the Head of a District and you cannot pass an order asking me to do the inspection’. But then the Tahsildar may say: ‘I am the Rent Court and under this Act, I have got every authority to order you to make the local enquiry and inspection’. There will be an anomalous position, if my amendment is not accepted.”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—“Sri Krishnaswamy Ayyangar need not think that his suggestion has been ignored. It is not necessary to repeat in every section the point of jurisdiction and the point of authority. It is always presumed that a person cannot be given power to direct somebody superior to him and that somebody cannot do anything outside his own jurisdiction. All these are presumed while framing a law.”

SRI S. S. KOLKEBAIL :—“Sir, I would not have moved my amendment but for the fact that from the Report of the Joint Select Committee I find that certain extraordinary powers have been given to the Tahsildar or the Rent Court to appoint or depute anybody to go, hold an enquiry and collect data, and that such report might be marked as evidence. Such being the case, certainly the parties must be given the right to have notice of the inquiry. For instance, when the Munsiff appoints a commission, the rule provides that the commissioner should give notice to the parties concerned in the locality. We are asking only that much of right to be given. Here, there is no provision at all that the party should be given the right to cross-examine the officer who is responsible for submitting the report. But power has been given to mark such report straightway as evidence. By this amendment, I am seeking to give a right to the party concerned to cross-examine the officer responsible for submitting such report in the presence of the officer who is going to treat it as evidence. This is a simple amendment. I do not think that there will be any great harm in accepting it."

[Sri S. S. Kolkebail] [9th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

(i) In sub-section (1) of the proposed section 9-C, for the word "Tahsildar", substitute the words "Revenue Divisional Officer".

(ii) In sub-section (2) of the proposed section 9-C, for the words "shall have the power to depute any officer of the Revenue Department", substitute the words "shall have the power, or to depute any officer of the Revenue Department,".

(iii) In sub-section (2) of the proposed section 9-C, after the words "any officer" occurring in line 7, insert the words and brackets "(not below the rank of a Tahsildar or Deputy Tahsildar)".

(iv) In sub-section (2) of the proposed section 9-C, after the words "to make local enquiry and inspection and to collect data", insert the words "after due notice to the parties".

(v) Add at the end of sub-section (2) of the proposed section 9-C, the words and brackets "(after giving the parties the right to cross-examine the officer who held the local enquiry)".

(vi) Other consequential amendments to be made to this clause."

The amendment was put and lost.

The following amendment of Sri P. S. Krishnaswamy Ayyangar was, by leave, withdrawn:—

"(i) In sub-section (2) of section 9-C, after the words 'any Officer of the Revenue Department', insert the words 'subordinate to the officer functioning as Rent Court.'"

The following amendment of Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar was, by leave, withdrawn—

"For the proposed section 9-C, substitute the following:—

9-C. (1) The fair rent payable under sections 5 to 7 and 9 to 9-B, the instalments, if any, in which it shall be payable, and the date or dates on or before which such fair rent or the instalments thereof shall be payable, shall be determined by the Rent Settlement Authority in such manner as may be prescribed.

(2) The Rent Settlement Authority shall be the Village Panchayat Board wherever there is one, and in places where there is not one, a representative of the Government and the representative of the Janmi Sabha, the Kisan Sabha and Kisan Panchayat and the Kisan Congress which are accorded recognition by the Collector will constitute the Rent Settlement Authority."

Clause 9 was put and carried.

[9th January 1954]

Clause 10.

MR. SPEAKER:—"Now, let us take up clause 10."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"Before that, there is an amendment to section 9-E of the principal Act given notice of by me, namely, amendment No. 70."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Let us first dispose of clause 10. The hon. Member wants to introduce a new clause by means of his amendment."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"My amendment is an amendment to section 9-E of the principal Act."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"The clause proposed by the hon. Member is a new one. So, let us dispose of clause 10 first."

Clause 10 was put and carried.

New clause after clause 10.

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"Sir, I move the following amendment which stands in my name:—

'For section 9-E of the principal Act, substitute the following:—

"9-E. It is left to the option of the tenant to pay the rent, either in cash or in kind."

"In Section 9-E of the principal Act, with regard to the mode of payment of fair rent, it is stated that if the landlord and the tenant agree, the tenant can pay the rent in kind or in cash, as the case may be. In this connection, I have to say this. Most of the big landlords live in far-off places. For example, in my own village, namely Narath village, we have got some 300 tenants whose landlords live in places thirty or forty miles away. If the landlord does not agree to the suggestion of the tenant that the fair rent will be paid in cash, the tenant concerned will have to carry the bags of paddy thirty or forty miles to the place of residence of the landlord, in which case the wages to be paid to the coolies who carry these bags of paddy will be too much of a hardship on the tenant."

"There is also another point to be considered. When this paddy, that is, rent in kind, is carried to the barn or the granary of the janmi concerned, there the janmi or his agent will measure it. While measuring it, the janmi or his agent, as the case may be, will put aside paddy, which we call 'nuri', for every ten measures is over, he will take which may amount to some two or three paras of paddy. Apart from that, when the tenant takes the paddy to the granary of the landlord, the tenant will have to be at the mercy of the kariasthans or agents concerned. My humble suggestion is this. I have no objection to payment of rent in kind if the tenant so agrees. If it is left to the discretion of the landlord also, there is no purpose in saying 'at the option of the tenant'. I request the Hon. the Chief Minister to take these things into consideration and accept my amendment which gives the option only to the tenant."

SRI K. MADHAVAN NAMBIAR :—“ സർ, ഞാൻ ഈ ഭേദഗതിയെ പിന്തുടരുന്നു. കടിയൻ കന്നം മലയം കയറി വളരെയധികം ദൂരം കടന്നു ജന്മിയുടെ വീട്ടിൽ കൊണ്ടുവരികയും എന്നുള്ളതുതന്നെ വളരെ വിഷമമാണ്. അങ്ങിനെ ചെറുകുട്ടിത്താൽതന്നെ പലപ്പോഴും അളവിൽ കൃത്രിമം കാണിച്ചു മടക്കി അയക്കുന്നുണ്ട്. ജന്മിമാരെന്ന് പറഞ്ഞാൽ അദ്ധ്വാനിക്കുന്നവന്റെ പ്രയത്നഫലം തട്ടിത്തന്നെ അളക്കുകയാണ്. അതുകൊണ്ട് കടിയന്മാരുടെ സൗകര്യമനുസരിച്ചു വേണം പാട്ടം കൊടുക്കൽ, എന്നു വ്യവസ്ഥ ചെയ്യണം. ജന്മിമാരുടെ ഹിതമനുസരിച്ചു പാടില്ല. കാരണം നെല്ലിനും അരിയ്ക്കും ക്ഷാമം നേരിടുന്ന കാലത്തു അദ്ധ്വാനിച്ച കൃഷിക്കാരൻ തിന്നാതെ ജന്മിയുടെ ധാന്യം തന്നെ കൊണ്ടുകൊടുക്കേണ്ടിവരിക എന്നതു കഷ്ടമാണ്.”

SRI C. H. KANARAN :—“ സർ, കൂടാതെ പറ്റ, കോട്ടയം പറ്റ എന്നിങ്ങനെ പലതരം പറ്റകൾ നടപ്പിലുണ്ട്. നെല്ലു കൊണ്ടുപോയാൽ അളവു ഏല്പിക്കാൻ സാധിക്കാതെ ജന്മി തികയില്ലെന്നു പറഞ്ഞു മടക്കിയതിനാൽ നിരിയ കൊണ്ടുപോരേണ്ടിവന്നിട്ടുണ്ട്. അതുകൊണ്ട് നെല്ലല്ലെങ്കിൽ നെല്ലിന്റെ മാർക്കറ്റു വില കൊടുത്താൽ മതിയെന്നുള്ള വ്യവസ്ഥ ആവശ്യമാണ്. കൃഷിക്കാർക്കു അല്ലെങ്കിൽ വളരെ ബുദ്ധിമുട്ടുണ്ടാകുന്നതാണ്.”

SRI R. KRISHNAN :—“ സർ, കടിയന്മാർ ജന്മിയുടെ വീട്ടിൽ പോയി അളവുകൊടുക്കുന്നതെങ്കിൽ ജന്മിയുടെ സൗകര്യം നോക്കണം. നെല്ലുകൊണ്ടു ചെന്നാൽ നാളെയോ മറ്റൊന്നാണോ വരാൻ പറയും. ഇതു സാധാരണ പരിവാറാണ്. പാവപ്പെട്ട കൃഷിക്കാരെ ഇങ്ങിനെ ഉപദ്രവിക്കുവാനുള്ള ഒരു വ്യവസ്ഥ ഇം ബില്ലിൽ ഉൾപ്പെടുത്തരുതേ എന്നു എനിക്കു ബഹുമാനപ്പെട്ട മന്ത്രിമാരോടു ചരപേക്ഷയുണ്ട്.”

SRI N. GOPALA MENON :—“ Mr. Speaker, the amendment that Mr. Narayanan Nambiar wants to introduce is against all humane considerations. Suppose there is a landlord who has got a plot of land which he has leased out to a tenant. If that tenant takes away the harvested yield to his home saying that he would pay cash for the paddy that he has harvested, the poor landlord on whose land the paddy is grown has to go to the Government Ration Shop and get rice, a description of which has been very frequently given on the floor of the House. That will be the position of many of the landlords if a provision is incorporated to the effect that the tenant will have the option to give the paddy to the landlord or not. Therefore, it is I say that humane consideration should be shown to the landlord.

“ One of the hon. Members said that the tenants have to take the paddy to great distances. Section 52 of the principal Act which refers to this subject clearly states as follows :—

‘ Where the rent is payable in kind, it shall be delivered to the landlord or his agent at the granary or some other place belonging to the landlord in the village where the holding is situated and of which due intimation has been given to the tenant, or in case the landlord has no such place, at the threshing floor where there is one, and where there is none, at some place in the village belonging to the tenant and of which due intimation has been given to the landlord.’

Therefore, it is clear that the produce has to be given in the village at the threshing floor of the tenant or the granary of the landlord. To say that the tenants will have to carry the produce for long distances and pay hire and so on, is all absolutely incorrect.”

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—“ Sir, I do not have anything to say except to oppose the amendment.”

9th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER :—“ I am now going to put Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar's amendment to the vote of the House. The question is—

‘ For section 9-E of the principal Act, substitute the following :—

“ 9-E. It is left to the option of the tenant to pay the rent, either in cash or in kind.” ”

The amendment was put and lost.

Clause 11.

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—“ Sir, I move the following amendment :—

‘ For the existing clause, substitute the following, namely :—

“ 11. Substitution of new section for section 9-G in Madras Act XIV of 1930 :—for Section 9-G of the Principal Act, the following section shall be substituted, namely :—

‘ 9-G. Revision of fair rent.—The fair rent determined by the Rent Court shall not be liable to be revised on the application of the landlord before the expiry of twelve years from the date of the order of the Rent Court but may, for sufficient cause, be reduced by the said Court on the application of the tenant.’ ” ”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ As this amendment is to substitute a new clause for the existing clause 11, I do not think hon. Member Sri P. S. Krishnaswamy Ayyangar will press his amendment to the original clause.”

SRI P. S. KRISHNASWAMY AYYANGAR :—“ Sir, even here the word ‘ date ’ is mentioned. My amendment to the original clause, was to substitute the expression ‘ date ’ by the expression ‘ year ’. Now that the entire clause has been substituted by another new clause, I do not propose to move the amendment, Sir.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ I think hon. Member Sri V. R. Krishna Ayyar also will not move his amendment No. 35 to this clause as the entire clause has been substituted by a new clause.”

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—“ I have spoken in support of this amendment while speaking on some other clause and it has had its fate. I am not moving it now.”

The Government amendment was put and carried.

Clause 11, as amended, was put and carried.

Clause 12.

MR. SPEAKER :—“ Hon. Member Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar cannot move his amendment as it has a negative effect. If he wants, he can oppose the clause.”

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—“ Sir, I oppose clause No. 12, which has now been taken up for consideration. If this clause is passed, the present controversies, disputes, and troubles in the villages will continue. If a record of rights is maintained, so much trouble in the villages can be averted. So far as Malabar is concerned, from 1836 onwards, there have been agrarian troubles and quarrels due to disputes over the rights of properties of the parties concerned. Now, with regard to every holding if a record of rights was maintained, we could easily ascertain the right of the janmi, the right of the intermediary kanamdar and the right of the cultivating tenant, verumpattamdar, and the nature of the right of a particular tenant. A record of rights would, therefore, be very useful. Even in the interests of public peace and tranquility, it is quite essential to have a record of rights. I request the Government to accept my suggestion in this regard."

SRI K. M. SEETHI SAHIB :—" Sir, I strongly support clause 12 and oppose the points raised by my Friend Sri Narayanan Nambiar, who wanted the creation of a record of rights. Mr. Kurup was harping on the point that the abolition of the Rent Settlement Authority was an undesirable step and would cause great hardship and injustice to the tenant. I am of the opinion that if there is one beneficial and prompt thing done by the Government even before the enactment of this Bill with reference to the relationship between the landlord and tenant in Malabar, it is the abolition of the Rent Settlement Authority. The attempt to prepare a record of rights through that Authority has been found to be absolutely futile. From the experience of the Government too, and on representation from the public, the Government have rightly abolished that Authority. As a matter of fact, there is no necessity for the preparation of record of rights with the cost and the inconvenience and the inordinate delay that are incidental to such an attempt. The tendency of the present legislation being the liquidation of the intermediaries, there is no necessity for the preparation of a record of rights laying down the rights of the various links that constitute the relationship between the head janmi and the bottom tenant or the cultivating tenant. In cases of disputes, it will be open to the Rent Court and the Civil Court to decide them. For this purpose, we need not have the Rent Settlement Authority.

" The amendment of the Government is very necessary and the earlier the Rent Settlement Authority goes, the better will be the prospects of peace and tranquillity in the district. As a matter of fact, it is only when there are disputes, that there should be someone to bring about a settlement. In all civilized countries, there exist land courts only to settle disputes regarding lands when they are referred to them. When there is no dispute between the landlord and the tenant, it is unwise to have compulsory fixation of fair rent which will unsettle the peaceful relations existing between the landlord and the tenant. We can have such a machinery where disputes arise and not otherwise. We need not stir up disputes and rouse the tenants or landlords to unsettle the present relationship by a compulsory settlement of rights and fixation of rents. That is absolutely unnecessary and undesirable in my humble opinion. I support the Government amendment and oppose Mr. Kurup and Mr. Nambiar."

9th January 1954]

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" Sir, I oppose the Government amendment. Many of the defects in any tenancy or agrarian reform can be traced to the fact that there are no statistics. The very fact that Malabar tenancy is something very strange to the people in other parts of the State indicates that there is no proper record of rights. I believe that such a record is maintained in respect of land in other parts of the State. The preparation of a record of rights need not be confused with the Rent Settlement Authority. Whenever the question of agrarian reform is taken up, the Government are saying that there are no proper statistics. They say : ' We have been considering it for years but still, in order that a satisfactory solution of the whole problem on a comprehensive scale might be evolved, we want statistics and we are preparing statistics.' So, if, for effecting an agrarian reform, a record of rights is not necessary, then for what else it is necessary I do not know. By this means, the Government are trying to postpone introduction of agrarian reforms at least in respect of Malabar. I am sure no reform satisfactory to the various interests in Malabar can be evolved in the absence of a record of rights. Therefore, I oppose the Government amendment."

SRI A. APPU :—" Sir, I rise to support the Government amendment and oppose the suggestions made by Mr. Kurup and Mr. Nambiar. The preparation of a record of rights is not an easy task. It would mean regular resettlement work and take a lot of time. It is also dangerous to allow such a thing to take place at this stage because it will take at least six years for the Rent Settlement Authority to finish the work and we have to depend upon the unscrupulous karnams. I understand that the village karnams were siding with landlords and sometimes with the tenants also with the result false records were prepared when the work was taken up last. It is not at all desirable to create a record of rights at this stage. Rent settlement will take at least six years to be completed. As suggested by Mr. Seethi, if there is a dispute it may be settled by a civil court. As I said, a record of rights was prepared at the time of the last resettlement in Malabar and this will be changing now and then. It can never be brought up-to-date. Therefore, I support the Government amendment."

DR. K. B. MENON :—" Sir, it is surprising how a modern Government as the Madras Government claim themselves to be, can say that there is no necessity to keep records. Records are essential for any constructive reform to be taken up. I would ask the Government the question whether they are saying that no Government records need be kept and that the whole situation may be left in a nebulous state. Are the Government not preparing the ground to say that the Government have no information whenever a reform is asked for? Even with regard to unemployment, the Government have confessed on the floor of the House that they have no records, no facts, and that they cannot gather statistics because it would be very expensive and difficult. Therefore, is it not better at least at this stage to begin keeping records so that in future such facts and statistics as can be collected now may be available? I oppose the clause, Sir."

[9th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Sir, the Leader of the Praja Socialist Party has made an observation which may have far-reaching effects. It is true that the Government of Madras claim to be a model for others. But it is not true to say that they do not keep any records. The Socialist Party is getting internationally important now. That is why I am rising to answer his charge. The tenants and landlords are concerned with this legislation. In the proposed record of rights what is really intended to be done is to compile the landlord's rights. But the landlord's rights are in the record. Pattas are registered and the village officers have those records. If we now create a record of rights, it cannot include anyone who has no rights. As a matter of fact, we are proposing in this Bill to give various rights to persons who have no rights to be recorded at present. The tenants have no such rights such as will go into record. All that we can do is to prepare a list of names of persons who are really cultivating and nothing else can be done. If a record of rights is created, it will come to this that thereafter no landless man will have any chance to become a cultivator or tenant. Therefore, to create a record of rights in Malabar as is demanded by Mr. Kurup would be very adverse to the very people on whose behalf we are considering this Bill."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"Sir, Sri Seethi was saying that if a record of rights was maintained, then there would be troubles in future and that in the interests of peace and tranquillity, no such thing should be maintained. Sir, it is just like saying, 'we will give medicine if any epidemics or other diseases come, but we will not do anything to prevent them.' My suggestions are preventive in character and prevent the disease. But Sri Seethi says that it can be cured when it comes. I would request the Hon. the Chief Minister to reconsider the matter. He was saying that in the best interests of the tenants, who have no right at all at present, there should be no record of rights. What I say is that they have even now occupancy rights. They have got so many other interests which can be proved and also recorded. Therefore, it would be in the best interests of the tenantry, if it is maintained."

SRI K. C. GOPALAN UNNI:—"റിക്കാഡ് ആഫ് റെറ്ററേഷിനെ സംബന്ധിച്ചുണ്ടാകുന്ന കഴിവില്ലായ്മ മേന്മയെക്കുറിച്ചുള്ള ഒരു ശിപാശയെക്കുറിച്ച് കെ. പി. സി. സി.യുടെ ഒരു ശിപാശയും ഉണ്ട്. അതെങ്കിലും ഗവണ്മെന്റ് അംഗീകരിക്കുമോ എന്നറിഞ്ഞാൽ കൊള്ളാം."

SRI K. M. SEETHI SAHIB:—"I am sorry to say that the hon. Member Sri Nambiar has not understood what I said and brought in an analogy which did not apply to the remarks I made. I did not say that the record of rights will bring about troubles in the district in the sense in which he put it. What I said was, where there are no disputes there is no necessity for compulsory raising of disputes and settlement of matters. So his analogy does not apply to what I said. He has misunderstood and misquoted me. I never made the remarks ascribed to me by the hon. Member."

The clause was put and carried.

[9th January 1954]

Clause 13.

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN:—"I beg to move—

'That for the words "a protected ulkudi", substitute the words "an ulkudi".'

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"How can these words be added or subtracted when the words themselves have not been defined? We have left the consideration of the definition clause to a later stage."

MR. SPEAKER:—"If consequential changes are necessary, we can make them then."

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN:—"Sir, the object of the Government is to protect only the 'protected ulkudis'. The purpose of my amendment is that protection should be given to all. It is the prime necessity of life that every one should have an abode to live in. Government do not want to give that protection to all. I hope the Government will now reconsider the position and accept my amendment."

SRI E. T. KUNHAN:—"I second the amendment, Sir, and also move my amendment that—

'Renumber the existing clause 13, as item (1) of that clause and insert the following as item (2):—

"(2) the following proviso shall be added at the end:—

'Provided that any ulkudidar who has been evicted from possession of ulkudi on or after 15th March 1952, shall be restored to possession on an application.'"

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"I second the amendment, and move my amendment, namely,—

'For the second proviso in section 10 of the principal Act, substitute the following:—

"Provided further that, in the case of a kanamdar whose kanartham exceeds 60 per cent of the values of the janmi's rights in the holding, the kanamdar shall not have the fixity of tenure."

"Sir, I am moving this amendment in order to see that the difference between North and South Malabar is not maintained. So far as South Malabar is concerned, it is 60 per cent and so far as North Malabar is concerned it is 40 per cent. Actually there is not much difference between North and South Malabar. I therefore want that it should be 60 per cent for both North and South Malabar."

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN:—"I second the amendment, Sir."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The Hon. Minister will now reply."

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN:—"The amendment moved by the hon. Member Sri Kunhan has not been explained, Sir."

[9th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER :—" Let him explain, I have no objection."

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN :—" I will do it on his behalf, Sir. The object of the amendment is to see that ulkudidars ousted from the land should be restored. The date 15th March 1951 is fixed in the amendment because it was on that date that the Malabar Tenancy Act of 1951 came into operation. Landlords have been evicting tenants because in that Act there is a provision stating that the provisions relating to ulkudi can be extended to all places in Malabar by a notification in the Gazette. Expecting that Government would issue such a notification, landlords were evicting ulkudidars even before this provision was actually extended to other places in Malabar. Now when a new amendment is brought to that Act, naturally those ousted from the land should be restored to possession from that date, namely, 15th March 1951. That is the intention of the amendment given notice of by the hon. Member Sri Kunhan. I hope Government will consider this and see that ulkudidars evicted are restored to possession from 15th March 1951."

SRI C. H. KANARAN :—" Sir, I want to speak on the amendment moved by the hon. Member Sri Nambiar. വടക്കു മലബാറും തെക്കു മലബാറും തമ്മിൽ വ്യത്യസ്തമായ ഒരു നിയമ വെച്ചിട്ടുണ്ട്. കാനാമം വടക്കു മലബാറിൽ 40 ശതമാനമെന്നും തെക്കു മലബാറിൽ 60 ശതമാനമെന്നും കാണുന്നു. വടക്കു മലബാറിലും തെക്കു മലബാറിലുപോലും 60 ശതമാനമാക്കണമെന്നാണ് ഞാൻ പറയുന്നത്. കാനസംഖ്യ വർദ്ധിച്ചിട്ടുണ്ടെന്ന് കടിയന്തരമായ അവകാശങ്ങളെ നിഷേധിക്കാനുള്ള ശ്രമം നടക്കുന്നുണ്ടെന്നു തോന്നുന്നു. കോട്ടയം മുതലായ താലൂക്കുകളിൽ അധികം കാനസംഖ്യ തന്നെമെന്നു പറഞ്ഞു കടിയന്തരമായ ഉപദേശിക്കുന്നുണ്ട്. കൃഷിക്കാരന്മാരും കിട്ടാൻ വേണ്ടി 60 ശതമാനമെന്നുള്ളത് വടക്കു മലബാറിലേക്കും കൂടി ബാധകമാക്കണമെന്നാണ് എന്റെ അഭിപ്രായം."

SRI E. T. KUNHAN :—" ഞാൻ ഈ ഭേദഗതി ഹാജരാക്കാനുള്ള കാരണം ഈ ബിൽ തയ്യാറാക്കിയിട്ടുള്ളത് 1953 മാർച്ച് 28-ാം തീയതിയാണ്. അന്നുതന്നെ അന്നുവധം ഉൾക്കൊള്ളാൻ ബലമായി ഒപ്പുവെച്ചിട്ടുണ്ട്. അവർക്കു ആ ഭേദഗതി തിരികെ കൊടുക്കണമെന്നുള്ളതാണ് എന്റെ ഭേദഗതിയുടെ ഉദ്ദേശം. അതു സ്വീകരിക്കുമെന്ന് വിശ്വസിക്കുന്നു."

SRI K. UPPI :—" Sir, it is very surprising to hear hon. Members from North Malabar saying that the kanam in North Malabar is the same as the kanam in South Malabar. Kanam of North Malabar is nothing but usufructuary mortgage with the condition that only after a stated period the kanam amount will be paid and the kanari, the man who takes the land on kanam, is never considered a tenant. They are always big jennmis or moneyed people. The difference between North and South Malabar is, in South Malabar, Kanam is a tenure. Kanam amount is very nominal for the land the income from which might be thousand paras of paddy; the kanam is only 100 panams or so according to modern money it is about Rs. 20 only. There is michavaram, that is the tenant has to pay to the landlord a rent. On the other hand in North Malabar the kanari—I do not know whether any of the hon. Members from outside Malabar understands this term, kanari is one who takes the land on kanam—need not pay anything to the landlord. On the other hand, he will be receiving interest on the money invested by him on this land, from the rent on the land. It was to distinguish this from the South Malabar kanam that the clause was added in the Act of 1930. Kanam in North Malabar is entirely mortgage. It is only a misnomer to call it a kanam. It is just like saying that a man who mortgages his property should not have the right to take back the land by paying the amount. What is suggested in the amendment is really surprising and if it is accepted, it would really be a revolutionary thing, it would only be expropriation."

[9th January 1954]

[Sri K. Uppi]

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" Sir, I regret to point out that Mr. Uppi Sahib unfortunately did not speak about the realities as they took place in the year 1953. He referred to the Malabar Tenancy Act of 1929 which classified kanamdars as 'kanamdars of North Malabar' and 'kanamdars of South Malabar'. We are living in the year 1954 and do we want that classification to be continued now also? On the other hand, in the Madras Agriculturists' Relief Act, 'Kanartham' has been excluded and there is no reference either to North Malabar or South Malabar. Common experience shows that kanam tenures are all of a sort and there is no need to make an invidious distinction and thus further complicate the law."

SRI K. UPPI :—" Let my hon. lawyer friend tell me whether the kanam of North Malabar is a tenure? "

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" I believe, Sir, we are discussing clause 13 relating to 'ulkudi'. How the question of kanam of North or South Malabar comes here? It has nothing to do with this clause."

MR. SPEAKER :—" The hon. Member, Sri Uppi, said something about 'Kanam'."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" Sir, now we are not concerned with the 'Kanam' of North or South Malabar."

" Kanam tenures are distinct from mortgages. The very use of the word 'Kanam' indicates it is not a mortgage. Really there is no reason why we should not classify Kanam lease-hold as a kind of tenure. If we accept the position that Kanam is a kind of tenure—as it is a tenure—then the point is, whether there is any reason why we should make a distinction between South and North Malabar by providing 60 per cent and 40 per cent respectively. There is no reality in it. I, therefore, commend the proposal to make it uniform for the whole of Malabar."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" Sir, I oppose all the amendments. The hon. Member Sri Gopalakrishnan in his amendment wants that the words 'an ulkudi' should be substituted for the words 'a protected ulkudi'. The term 'protected ulkudi' is defined in the Act. Special privileges are given to these ulkudidars and an ulkudidar of even one year's standing enjoys all the benefits. Therefore, the Government are unable to accept this amendment."

[Sri K. P. Kuttikrishnan Nair] [9th January 1954]

"As regards the amendment of Sri Kunhan, it is not possible to accept it. That amendment wants that retrospective effect should be given from 15th March 1952. If retrospective effect is given, many difficulties will arise. Therefore, we are unable to accept it."

"The third amendment relates to fixing the terms for security at 60 per cent. This matter was fully gone into and it was found necessary to make a distinction between North and South Malabar and the terms were fixed accordingly. I oppose that amendment also."

MR. SPEAKER:—"I am going to put the amendment of Mr. Gopalakrishnan to the vote of the House. The question is—

'For the words "a protected ulkudi", substitute the words "an ulkudi".'

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER:—"I am going to put the amendment of Mr. Kunhan to the vote of the House. The question is—

'Renumber the existing clause 13, as item (1) of that clause and insert the following as item (2):—

"(2) the following proviso shall be added at the end:—

'Provided that any ulkudidar who has been evicted from possession of ulkudi on or after 15th March 1952, shall be restored to possession on an application.'"

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER:—"I am going to put the amendment of Sri Narayanan Nambiar to the vote of the House. The question is—

'For the second proviso in section 10 of the principal Act, substitute the following:—

"Provided further that, in the case of a kanamdar whose kanartham exceeds 60 per cent of the values of the jenmi's rights in the holding, the kanamdar shall not have the fixity of tenure."

The amendment was put and lost.

Clause 13 was put and carried.

Clause 14.

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"Sir, I move—

'For the proposed section 11, substitute the following:—

"11. Right to prove real nature of transaction.—(1) Notwithstanding anything in the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 (Central Act I of 1872), or in any other law for the time being in force, any person interested in any land may, plead, adduce evidence and prove that a transaction entered into on or after the 1st January, 1916 and purporting to be a mortgage of that land is not in fact a mortgage, but a transaction by way of kanam, kanam kuzhikanam, kuzhikanam, verumpattam or other lease, under which the transferee is entitled to fixity of tenure in accordance with the provisions of section 10.

(2) Where under the last foregoing sub-section the Court holds that the transferee is entitled to fixity of tenure in accordance with the provisions of section 10, it shall be lawful for the Court to pass a decree containing directions regarding the application of the sum, if any, advanced to the landlord and making other suitable alterations in the terms recorded in the instrument executed by the parties."

"I shall answer the points raised by hon. Members in my reply."

MR. SPEAKER:—"In view of the Government amendment, I do not think it is necessary for the hon. Members Messrs. Narayana Kurup, Sankaranarayana Menon, Sreedharan, Koran, Kunhirama Kurup and Dr. K. B. Menon to move their amendments. The Government amendment seeks to change section 11."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"My submission is that in the Bill as presented to us, there was no sub-section. Therefore, I wanted to insert a new sub-section (2) and renumber the proposed section 11 as sub-section (1) of section 11. No doubt, the Government have incorporated in the new amendment some of the things which I wanted. That does not go the whole hog. Therefore, I want to move this portion of the amendment."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Let the hon. Member move that portion of the amendment."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"Sir, I move—

'Insert the following as sub-section (2):—

"(2) Where according to a decision under section 11 (1) a transaction has been held to be a mortgage in fact, but a transaction by way of Kanam, Kanam Kuzhikanam, Kuzhikanam, Verumpattam or other lease, the amount purporting to be secured by way of mortgage shall with effect from date of decision—"

Here in the Government amendment, it has been left nebulous, and I want to make it clear—

- (i) be treated as Kanartham in case the transaction has been held to be a Kanam or Kanam Kuzhikanam and security for due payment of rent on other cases, and
- (ii) bear interest at the rate specified in the instrument relating to the transaction or at five and a half per cent per annum whichever is less.'

In fact, it is an amplification of the unknown power that is vested in the amendment. Therefore, it is necessary."

SRI C. H. KANARAN:—"I second it."

[9th January 1954]

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—“ Now that I have moved my amendment, I want to explain it. Sir, this is an important clause. Persons connected with the tenancy system in Malabar would know that the first organized attempt at a tenancy reform was started in 1915 and the land-owners in order to overcome the probable effects of any legislation, converted since 1916 a number of Kanams and Kuzhikanams and other leases into mortgages. It was to safeguard the tenants against these transactions and to confer upon them the rights which these documents stood for originally, that section 52 (a) was incorporated in the Act of 1951. It is a very valuable section and I do not see that any purpose is served by deleting that section and incorporating a new section. It was no doubt a very long section but it was inevitable. Now, in trying to compress the whole matter into a small compass, it has been made obscure. In fact, the amendments proposed by me are bodily taken from the latter part of section 52-A of the Act of 1951. As I said, the substance of it is here but one important factor has been omitted. As we all know, Sir, this section gives the right to the tenant to claim, adduce evidence and prove that the transaction is not a mortgage but a lease. We can understand the heavy burden that is placed on the tenant in proving such a thing. The burden of proof is, therefore, an important factor in this case. What section 52-A of the Act of 1951 did was to lay down certain principles so that . . . ”

SRI Y. MANJAYA SHETTY :—“ Sir, on a point of order, a crow has entered the Assembly Hall and is causing a lot of disturbance.”

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—“ Sir, in the 1951 Act, in section 52-A, it was provided that if the kanam or the amount secured by a particular document was below a certain amount, there was a presumption in favour of the tenant that the document will be presumed not to be a mortgage. But a change has now been made inasmuch as this right has been taken away. Moreover, Sir, when the court or any other authority, has to decide whether a or a lease, what principles it should follow has not been explicitly stated. Even in the present amendment proposed by Government, I submit that it is bad to leave things in a nebulous state. Therefore what the Courts should do, as provided for in the original section must also be provided here. If the Government is bent upon inserting this section in place of section 52-A of the Act of 1951, my submission is that the purpose will be better served if this new Clause is not pressed and the old Clause is allowed to stand. In case the Government think that it is absolutely necessary to do so, I would press for my amendment.”

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—“ Mr. Speaker, Sir, in the original Bill that the Hon. the Minister for Law introduced in this House, there was a Clause directing the deletion of section 52-A.

[9th January 1954] [Sri V. R. Krishna Ayyar]

The content of section 52-A is simply that in respect of a transaction which has come into being on or after 1st January 1916, the tenant is given the right to agitate the real character of the transaction whether it is a tenancy, a leasehold or a mortgage. I think that after 1st January 1916, the date statutorily presumed to be the date from which the agitation for tenancy reform started the landlords have been trying the ruse of converting all the kanam and other leasehold rights into mortgages. If it is a mortgage, it cannot obviously be a tenure and it is easy for the landlord to recover possession at will or to alter the terms at his will because it is a mortgage governed by the Transfer of Property Act. Under section 52-A of the Act of 1951 it was open to the tenant to approach the Rent Settlement Authority and establish the true character or the real nature of the transaction and to prove that it was only a leasehold right and not a deed in the guise of a mortgage. This has now been changed. The tenant must be given all the rights and protection to which he is entitled as a tenancy holder. This Statute of 1951 has provided yet another valuable presumption and though it is only of a provisional character it amounts to almost a substantive right. The proviso to sub-clause (1) of Clause 52-A states that if it is found that the mortgage amount is less than 60 per cent of the value of the janmi's rights in the holding in South Malabar and in other places less than 40 per cent of the value of such rights the presumption is in favour of the tenant that it is really a kanam and not one of mortgage. This is the most important part of the whole of section 52-A. A very innocuous reason, a very harmless reason and a very pious-looking reason was given, namely, that after all they were doing away with the Rent Settlement Authorities and therefore there was no reason why they should have section 52-A of the Act of 1951. This was the reason given for the deletion of this Clause when the present Bill was introduced. It could hardly convince anyone and I am sure that even the Hon. the Minister for Law himself is not convinced. If the Rent Settlement Authority is to be taken away, why should the right of the tenant to agitate the real nature of the transaction be also taken away? It passes one's comprehension and there is very little of logic behind it. If the Rent Settlement Authority is to be done away with, in section 52-A, instead of the words 'Rent Settlement Authority' the words 'Rent Courts' or the 'Civil courts' or whichever authority, as the case may be the Government choose to nominate, may be substituted. This authority may be clothed with the powers of the Rent Settlement Authority and the substantive rights given to the tenants need not be taken away under the guise or the pretext of the elimination of the Rent Settlement Authority. Suppose, we say that a particular Tribunal is to be eliminated, that does not mean that the rights conferred upon the parties to agitate before that Tribunal should also be extinguished. The powers should be conferred on the alternative Tribunal that is to be provided. In this case, the Rent Settlement Authority has been abolished but the valuable right of the tenant to agitate the real nature of the transactions has been taken away. This aspect was urged before the Select Committee and what has come up as a result of this is the new section 11 to the principal Act of 1930. In the beginning, all that the Hon. the Law Minister gave as the reason was that as the Rent Settlement Authorities were to be abolished the Government did not want section 52-A of the Act of 1931. The real object, as it has now been disclosed, is to see that as much as possible of the right to agitate the real nature of the transaction is taken away. When in the Select Committee this cause was championed by various sections of the Members of the Committee the Hon. the Law Minister found that the clause to delete section 52-A had to be replaced and in the replacement thereof he did what harm he could to the tenantry, if I may put it that way. I am only bringing it to the notice of the Government because, if the Hon. the Chief Minister also adverts to it, it will be apparent that it is an unnecessary harm inflicted upon the tenant. The new section 11—Right to prove real nature of transaction—says that it shall be open to the party to go before the Rent Court notwithstanding anything contained in the Indian Evidence Act. But it has not been so specified in the section and the Rent Court is not specified in it."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" It is not specified as the Rent Court and therefore it has to come before a Civil Court."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" But Sir, we cannot take leave so completely of the practical side of things. What happens in a Civil Court is that when a document describes itself as a mortgage, although in all its previous history and in all its previous career, it was described as kanam, the Civil Courts always hold that the parties with their eyes open described it as a mortgage and there is no reason why it should be considered as a kanam deed. This will always be so unless there is some rule, a presumption or a statutory indication to the Courts that it is a kanam deed and not a mortgage. In a very recent case, 1, M.L.J. 1952, if the hon. Members would only consult it, the same point arose. For over 50 years a party was having a leasehold right and then right about 1924 or so, if I may say so, it was quietly converted into a mortgage. The same point was agitated before the Courts saying that the entire character of the transaction and the entire history of the transaction showed that the party was only a lessee and was only a tenure holder and the transaction was not a mortgage. The matter came up before the High Court in 1952 and the hon. Justice Raghava Rao held in spite of all these protests that the parties had entered into the transaction with their eyes wide open and they had themselves chosen to call it a mortgage and, therefore, there was no reason not to recognize the formal character of the words in which the deed was couched and that it was really a mortgage and not a kanam.

" It has been stated that the new section (section 11 to the principal Act) introduced by the Government is a substitution for section 52-A of the principal Act. But the main valuable guarantee provided under section 52-A has been taken away. There is no reason why such a substantive right should be taken away. In the beginning, a lame reason was given that as the Rent Settlement Authorities are to be abolished, the Government do not want section 52-A of the old Act. If the Rent Settlement Authorities are to be abolished, why not the Government nominate some other authority and clothe them with the powers of the Rent Settlement Authority so that substantive rights given under section 52-A may not be taken away. I entreat and beg of the Government to consider this matter. The amendment moved by Sri M. Narayana Kurup does not offend any principle, and may be accepted."

SRI K. M. SEETHI SAHIB :—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, we have given notice of an amendment relating to section 52-A of the principal Act."

MR. SPEAKER :—" The hon. Member's amendment relates to clause 21 of the Bill and can be taken up when we come to that clause."

SRI K. M. SEETHI SAHIB :—" What I wish to emphasise, Sir, is that the presumption provided in section 52-A is a very valuable right in favour of the tenant and that the proviso to section 52-A should be inserted in the new section 11 proposed by the Government under clause XIV of the Bill, if that section is really to be useful for the tenant. As it is, there is a very wide margin left to the civil courts in the matter of judging the real nature of a transaction, as has been pointed out by the previous speaker Sri V. R. Krishna Ayyar in the reference to the reported case 1 M.L.J. 1952. I request that either section 52-A should be retained or that the most important part of section 52-A should be inserted in the new section—section 11—and it is only then the section will serve the purpose for which it is intended."

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN :—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, I support whatever has been stated by hon. Members Sri V. R. Krishna Ayyar, Sri M. Narayana Kurup and Sri K. M. Seethi. The new section 11 is ostensibly a substitute for section 52-A which gives a presumption valuable to the tenants. The proviso to section 52-A reads as follows :—

' Provided that in cases where the amount secured by the mortgage is in South Malabar less than sixty per cent of the value of the janmi's rights in the holding, and in other places less than forty per cent of the value of such rights, the Rent Settlement Authority shall until the contrary is proved, presume that the transaction is not one of mortgage.'

In the above section, the words ' Rent Settlement Authority ' can be replaced by the words ' Rent Court '. As far back as 1916, the janmis have been changing kanam deeds into mortgage deeds. In my very constituency fifty per cent of the kanam deeds have been converted into mortgage deeds. The presumption provided for in the proviso to section 52-A has been working very usefully in favour of the tenants. I do not know why this important proviso should be removed. I trust the Hon. Chief Minister will restore it in the new section."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, I oppose the amendment. It is not necessary to accept it, as all the material things that the members who spoke in favour of the amendment are in the new section 11 proposed by the Government. Hon. Members are aware that we have abolished the Rent Settlement Authorities altogether. When questions have to be settled by such a Tribunal as the Rent Settlement Authority, specific directions, the method of procedure, etc., have to be dealt with in detail in the new section. Deciding the nature of a transaction is within the inherent rights of a civil court. I have already submitted at the time of the Select Committee that this is a right which the civil courts have got. Every man can go to a civil court to prove that a document is not a mortgage or tenancy or conditional assignment and get them agitated in a civil court and no presumption or procedure is to be prescribed in respect of that. But to satisfy some of the Members, we have brought this section and this deals with all the materials necessary and we cannot say that the civil court has to proceed in this or in that manner. Sir, in the Government amendment a new sub-section is brought forth to see that clarification is made how the amounts secured in the document are to be treated. With the addition of this, the whole problem can be easily solved and there is no difficulty as to the suffering of a tenant or the suffering of a landlord. I request that the Government amendment may be passed and that the other amendment may be withdrawn."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" Sir, on a point of clarification, section 52-A confers certain rights. There is hardly any reason why at all under a Government with a progressive complexion we should take away, the rights conferred by Mr. Madhava Menon's law. If a right which is claimed by all the Members belonging to Malabar district as valuable is taken away, then the measure cannot be called progressive. Originally the Government told us that the reason for the repeal of this section 52-A was that Rent Settlement Authorities were being abolished. Now the Government are saying that as the Rent Settlement Authorities are not conversant with the law 'presumptions' had to be given to them. But as far as the civil courts are concerned, no such presumptions need be given because they know all about the law. 'Presumptions' are an important branch of law and where presumptions have to be drawn, it is better to lay down in the law the circumstances under which a presumption should be raised. The civil courts always attach importance to the formal character of the documents. Even under the Debt Relief Act . . ."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" On a point of order. It has become a habit in the course of this debate that replies by Members are given after the Law Minister's speech and the Law Minister is left behind. Once or twice it does not matter. I would like to know whether it is all right."

[Sri C. Rajagopalachari] 9th January 1954]

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" The Law Minister is not left behind because he can certainly answer any point that is left behind and if continuity is necessary for the completion of discussion, such a procedure may be necessary. I was saying that the civil courts take into account the formal character of the documents whether they are single transactions of mortgage or whether they are double transactions of mortgage and lease. Civil courts always hold that legally they are two formal transactions. The danger arising from such a position has already been brought home by the recent decision of the High Court which I have mentioned earlier. In spite of that, the Hon. Minister clings to his point of view."

" The formal character is what is going to be enforced by Civil Court. Therefore, I say once a document is found to be not a mortgage deed we are not going to care whether it is kanam or any other deed. There should be certain circumstances under which a presumption may be raised. In fact, in the original Act such a presumption was given. But now it is deleted. This is a matter of prestige. The existence of presumption is a question wherein the tenants would be protected for, in a majority of cases, the deeds are kanam deeds even though it is argued that they are mortgage deeds. By the deletion of that provision the real object of Government seems to be to take away the rights of the tenants to prove that the deeds are kanam deeds, which right had been given by the previous Act. I, therefore, implore the Hon. Minister for Law not to exhibit a recalcitrant attitude but accept our salient suggestion restoring the right of presumption to the Rent Court, which right had been given under the original Act to the Rent Settlement Authority."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" I have nothing to say because my stand had been ably supported by hon. Members sitting behind me. Whenever anything is said about the landlords, the Government feel very touchy. Whatever beneficial provision in respect of tenants the Act of 1951 contained, has now been deleted. The Government are determined to do some mischief or other. For instance, they have now removed this important provision giving the right of presumption, which right had been given to the Rent Settlement Authority by the 1951 Act. I do not know the reason why the Hon. Law Minister is so very persistent to delete the previous important proviso and in its stead incorporate a reactionary provision, in a progressive piece of legislation."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Since everyone has been rising again and again for clarification, I rise to make one matter clear to hon. Members sitting opposite. It may be taken for granted and it is not necessary to repeat it. The Opposition may hold and maintain that Sri Madhava Menon's Bill was better than this Bill and that this Government are always favouring the landlords. It is not necessary to repeat these charges at every stage. They may preserve it as a propaganda point. But the question here is really a question of law. It is a legal procedure and not a matter to be dealt with otherwise. Mr. Krishna Ayyar says that a presumption should be raised and should not be allowed to be dropped by any amendment now made. As a matter of fact, in the amendment now moved, that presumption is preserved. In respect of any written document, in spite of the provision in the Evidence Act that a written document cannot be reversed by oral evidence, it is now specifically provided as a specific measure of law that a presumption may be raised. The only question is that the presumption should not be a conclusive presumption, as Mr. Krishna Ayyar wants it, but it should be a rebuttable presumption. In fact, in the present amendment the existing presumption as a rebuttable presumption is preserved."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" On a point of personal explanation, Sir, I am not for irrebuttable or conclusive presumption. In fact in the 1951 Act an irrebuttable presumption is provided for. That is why I said inasmuch as that presumption is now taken away, it is wrong on the part of Government to have done so. That is why I pleaded for the re-insertion of that important proviso to section 52-A of the principal Act."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" I have nothing to say on the merits of the clause. The position has been made clear by the Hon. the Chief Minister. I do not think it would be proper for me to answer here to the political aspect of the speeches."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" If points are raised, they have got to be met here. I think hon. Members have a right to raise their points in this House. A duty is cast on the Hon. Ministers to consider the suggestions of hon. Members. I want to raise the point of order whether it is not wrong if the hon. Members are denied the right to express their viewpoints in this House and even when they do raise some points, the Hon. Ministers do not reply to them."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Instead of arguing on the merits of the clause under discussion if the hon. Members were to go on accusing the Government of being always in favour of the landlords, that they are pro-landlord, and that some other Bill, perhaps Mr. Madhava Menon's Bill, was by far better than the present Bill now under discussion there is nothing gained, and I say it is wrong for hon. Members to indulge in that kind of argument. That is only propaganda. Hon. Members should raise points in respect of the merits of the provisions contained in the Bill and not compare them with some other proposals made at some other time. They should not repeat the slogan that the Government are always pro-landlord, which is not true."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" Sir"

9th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER :—" I have given enough time. I shall now put amendment No. 7 to the vote of the House. The question is—

Insert the following as sub-section (2) :—

" (2) Where according to a decision under 11 (1) a transaction has been held to be a mortgage in fact, but a transaction by way of Kanam, Kanam Kuzhikkanam, Kuzhikkanam, Verumpattam or other lease, the amount purporting to be secured by way of mortgage shall with effect from date of decision :—

(i) be treated as Kanartham in case the transaction has been held to be a kanam or kanam kuzhikanam and security for due payment of rent on other cases, and

(ii) bear interest at the rate specified in the instrument relating to the transaction or at five and a half per cent per annum whichever is less." " "

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER :—" I shall now put the Government amendment to the vote of the House. The question is—

For the proposed section 11, substitute the following :—

" 11. Right to prove real nature of transaction.—(1) Notwithstanding anything in the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 (Central Act I of 1872), or in any other law for the time being in force, any person interested in any land may plead, adduce evidence and prove that a transaction entered into on or after the 1st January 1916 and purporting to be a mortgage of that land is not in fact a mortgage, but a transaction by way of kanam, kanam kuzhikanam, kuzhikanam, verumpattam or other lease, under which the transferee is entitled to fixity of tenure in accordance with the provisions of section 10.

(2) Where under the last foregoing sub-section the Court holds that the transferee is entitled to fixity of tenure in accordance with the provisions of section 10, it shall be lawful for the Court to pass a decree containing directions regarding the application of the sum, if any, advanced to the landlord and making other suitable alterations in the terms recorded in the instrument executed by the parties." " "

The amendment was put and carried.

The clause as amended was put and carried.

Clause 15:

MR. SPEAKER :—" I wish to inform hon. Members who have given notice of amendments in respect of this clause, that the Government have given notice of an amendment substituting a new clause for the existing clause. The amendments of hon. Members which relate to the original clause are not necessary now. Therefore I wish to know whether in the circumstances the hon. Members wish to press those amendments."

[9th January 1954]

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—“ It is true that the Government have now come forward with a new amendment by which a new clause is now sought to be substituted in respect of the original clause 15. But the Government have not made substantial changes. For instance, I think, our amendment that clause (5) of section 14 of the principal Act dealing with bona fide cultivation be omitted, is necessary.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ I shall allow the hon. Member to move that amendment then.”

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—“ Sir, I move—

‘ For the existing clause, substitute the following :—

“ 15. Amendment of sections 14 and 20, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In sections 14 and 20 of the principal Act—
(1) after clause (5), the following shall be added, namely :—

‘ Explanation.—In considering requirements for maintenance, regard shall be had only to primary needs.’

(2) in clause (6) the word ‘ bona fide ’ occurring between the word ‘ thereof ’ and the words ‘ for the purpose ’ shall be omitted and between the words ‘ a building ’ and the words ‘ for his own residence ’ the word ‘ bona fide ’ shall be inserted.

(3) in the second proviso—

(i) in clause (ii), for the words ‘ an ulkudi ’, the words ‘ a protected ulkudi ’ shall be substituted,

(ii) after clause (ii), the following shall be added as clause (iii), namely :—

(iii) no person whose rights to evict arises under an instrument of transfer inter vivos shall be entitled to sue for eviction on the ground specified in clause (5) or clause (6) until the expiry of two years from the date of the instrument.’

(4) In section 14 of the principal Act, after the Explanation to clause (5), add the following :—

‘ Exception.—Nothing in this cause shall apply to any holding which has been in the continuous occupation of the tenant or of any member of his tarwad, tabazhi, illom, kutumba, kavaru or family for not less than six years.’ ”

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—“ Sir, I move the amendment standing in the name—

‘ For the existing item (1), substitute the following :—

“ (1) Clause 5 shall be omitted.” ”

[9th January 1954] [Sri M. Narayana Kurup]

Sir, the Government have moved an Exception to Clause (5) to sections 14 and 20 of the principal Act. I am moving another Exception, namely :—

‘ Re-number the proposed Exception under Clause (5) as Exception No. 1 and insert the following as Exception No. 2 :—

“ Exception No. 2.—In case of any other holding in the occupation of a tenant it shall apply only to that part of the holding in excess of lands assessed to or assessable to Rs. 50 per annum.” ”

I am not moving the amendment for the insertion of the new item (2-A). The Government have said that an assignee or a transferee will not be entitled to take advantage of Clause (5) for two years. My proposal is to raise it to twelve years. The Government have said ‘ under an instrument of transfer inter vivos ’. I want to insert the words ‘ either voluntary or involuntary ’ after the words ‘ inter vivos ’ so as to cover cases of involuntary transfers by Courts. I am moving this amendment also, namely—

‘ In the proposed new clause (iii) to the second proviso,

(i) after the words “ inter vivos ”, insert the words “ either voluntary or involuntary ”;

(ii) for the words “ two years ”, substitute the words “ twelve years ”.” ”

The motion was duly seconded.

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN :—“ I am moving the amendment, standing in my name, namely,—

‘ For the existing clause, substitute the following :—

“ 15. Repeal of Sections 14 and 20, Madras Act XIV of 1930 :—Sections 14 and 20 of the principal Act shall be repealed and the following section shall be inserted, namely :—

‘ A landlord possessing less than five acres of land can evict upto five acres of land from a tenant possessing land more than five acres :

Provided that the total extent of land in the possession of landlord including land to which he becomes entitled for possession after evicting the tenant shall not exceed five acres :

Provided also the land in the possession of the tenant after eviction shall not be less than five acres.’ ” ”

[9th January 1954]

SRI K. P. GOPALAN :—" Sir, I am moving the amendment standing in my name—

" For the existing clause, substitute the following :—

" 15. Repeal of Sections 14 and 20, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—Sections 14 and 20 of the principal Act shall be repeated." "

The motion was duly seconded.

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" Sir, I am moving the amendments standing in my name—

' Add at the end of the Explanation the words " of food, shelter and clothing ".

After item (3), insert the following as item (4) :—

" (4) after the existing provisos, the following further provisos and Explanations shall be added, namely :—

' Provided further that no holding shall be evicted if the tenant or occupant thereof or any part thereof be an educational, charitable, philanthropic or other public institution;

Provided further that no tenant shall be evicted by any person who is a " large farmer ", or a " non-agriculturist " on the date of the institution of the proceeding for eviction;

Provided further that if the tenant, in the event of such eviction, will have in his actual enjoyment either as tenant or otherwise, in all only less than five acres of land, he shall not be evicted from the holding or any part thereof; if there are more suits than one for eviction against the same tenant, the landlord who institutes the earlier suit will have preference under this clause in respect of any land held by the tenant in excess of the extent specified above;

Provided further that a landlord who requires any holding bona fide for the cultivation of himself or of any member of his family, shall be entitled to evict a tenant who is a large farmer in respect of any excess over the minimum required to make him a " large farmer ".

Explanation.—Large farmer with reference to any particular date means any person who being an individual has more than the equivalent of 25 acres of wet land in his actual possession and if a family has in its actual enjoyment more than the equivalent of 60 acres or five acres per member (whichever is less) of wet lands;

Explanation.—For the purpose of this section if the context requires it one acre of wet land shall be treated as the equivalent of three acres of garden land and 10 acres of dry land (forests and mere waste being excluded).

[9th January 1954] [Sri V. R. Krishna Ayyar]

Explanation.—" Non-agriculturist " with reference to a particular date, means a person who has been assessed in any of the two financial years immediately preceding the date of suit to income-tax under the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922 or has, in all, the four half year immediately preceding the date of suit been assessed profession tax on a half-yearly income of more than Rs. 750 derived from a profession other than agriculture under the Madras District Municipalities Act, the Cantonment Act, the Madras Local Boards Act or the Madras Village Panchayats Act or has been assessed to property or house tax under any of the aforesaid four Acts within the same period where the aggregate annual value of the property or building is not less than Rs. 1,000 as ascertained in the manner prescribed." "

The motion was duly seconded.

SRI K. M. SEETHI SAHIB :—" Sir, the existing provision in the Act gives a loophole to the landlord to circumvent the Act I have given notice of an amendment and I move—

' 11. (i) Omit the Exception under item (1).

(ii) After item (2), insert the following as item (2-A) :—

" (2-A) after clause (6), the following shall be added, namely :—

' Exception.—Nothing in sub-clauses (5) and (6) shall apply to any holding which has been in the continuous occupation of the tenant or any member of his tarwad, tarazhi, illom, kutumba, kavaru or family for not less than twelve years.' "

(iii) In item (3) (ii), in the proposed clause (iii), omit the words " until the expiry of two years from the date of the instrument ".

The motion was duly seconded.

SRI T. C. NARAYANA NAMBIAR :—" I am moving the amendment standing in my name, namely :—

' Omit items (1), (2) and (4) of sections 14 and 20 of the principal Act.

In item (3) of section 14 of the principal Act for the words " three months ", substitute the words " one year ".

Add the following proviso to that item :—

" Provided that if the tenant in the event of eviction under items (5), (6) or (7) will have in actual enjoyment either as tenant or otherwise in all only five or less than five acres of wet land he shall not be evicted from the holding and if he has more than five acres of wet land only the excess shall be available for eviction and in no case shall the landlord be entitled to claim eviction under the aforesaid clause if he has already in his actual cultivation an extent of five acres of land.

[Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar] [9th January 1954]

Explanation.—One acre of land is equal to two acres of garden land and three acres of dry land."

In item (3) (ii) of clause 15, in the proposed clause (iii) for the words "two years", substitute the words "six years." "

The motion was duly seconded.

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN :—" I am moving amendment standing in my name—

' After item (3), add the following item (4) :—

" (4) the following further proviso shall be added, namely :—

' Provided further that any tenant of "ulkudi", "protected ulkudi" or "kudikidappu" who has been evicted from possession of the site of land in his possession from 28th March 1953 shall be restored to possession of the land in question." " "

The motion was duly seconded.

MR. SPEAKER :—" All these amendments are before the House for discussion."

SRI T. C. NARAYANA NAMBIAR :—" Sir, in moving the amendment to delete items (1), (2) and (4) of Sections 14 and 20 of the principal Act, I wish to submit that this is a very important amendment. Landlords want to keep the peasantry in perpetual fear and slavery. No useful purpose will be served by keeping these clauses on the Statute Book. That is why I say that these clauses should be omitted. Clause (3) of Section 14 of the principal Act lays down that a suit for eviction shall lie if the tenant has not paid, within three months after the due date, the whole or any portion of the rent due in respect of the holding. The custom in Malabar is that the first harvest takes place in the month of Kanni, that is September. The second crop is harvested by the month of Kumbum, that is March-April. I want to raise the time-limit to one year. The harvesting seasons in Malabar, as pointed out by me, are such that it will be absolutely impossible for the tenant to stick to the time-limit provided in the clause. Because some concessions are made in favour of the tenants, the landlords will get infuriated and they will try to wreak vengeance upon the peasantry. I request that this amendment raising the time-limit to one year may be accepted.

" The object of my other amendment is this. Under Clauses (5), (6) and (7) of Section 14 of the principal Act, the tenant can be evicted if the landlord requires the holding bona fide for his own purposes at the end of an agricultural year. Although the Government have considered our request and the representation made by the jatha which came and met the Hon. Chief Minister and as a result of our discussion the Hon. Chief Minister was kind enough to reduce 12 years to six years for occupancy right, there are poor people who have got one or two acres or even less and who may not have six years occupancy also. These people will be hit hard and they can be evicted by the landlords. Even our friend Sri Sankaravarma Raja pointed out the other day that there are a large number of poor landlords. My suggestion is that a tenant who has in actual enjoyment either as a tenant or otherwise only five or less than five acres of wet lands shall not be evicted from the holding. Only the excess over five acres should be made available for eviction and it is to this effect that I have given notice of this amendment. I request that this may also be favourably considered."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" I shall only briefly refer to my amendments. As I have said already, the most important questions are fair rent and fixity of tenure. On the question of fair rent, we have been found against. We are on the second line of defence and of course, our discussion on this tenancy Bill will practically conclude with this section. Sir, security of tenure is the most-prized right of a tenant. Insecurity has been made a lever for rack-renting, and that has been the bane of cultivating tenants in Malabar. Therefore security of tenure is very important. We realize that the security or fixity of tenure given to tenants with six years' standing is an improvement. We do not grudge to give credit where it is due; it should not be thought that we are opposing even good laws. As has been pointed out, a large class of small tenants who are at the mercy of landlords are outside the protection of security of tenure given by this Act. Therefore I have moved an amendment that at least with respect to such tenants, the eviction may be restricted to land in excess of five acres. Of course, our main demand is that clause (5) should be deleted, because if any loophole for eviction is given, the provision is likely to be abused. 'Bona fide purpose' is capable of such varied and various interpretations that the provision is likely to be abused. Such abuse has been there in the past and it will continue in future also.

" Length of possession has never been recognized as a basis for conferring occupancy right, and the opinion of the Subrahmanyam Committee on this aspect is very illuminating. In fact, to base occupancy right on the length of possession of the tenant is tantamount to penalising a good and benevolent landlord who allowed the same tenant to cultivate his lands for a period of years and conferring an undue advantage on a bad and malevolent landlord who has been changing his tenants capriciously. Therefore I press my plea that it is not a sound proposition. If we give fixity of tenure, it must be to all tenants alike irrespective of the length of occupation.

" One of the ways in which the provision permitting eviction for bona fide purposes has been abused is by the assignment of the lands by the owner. If a tenant is not in the good books of his landlord, the landlord, even though he may have thousands of acres, may assign that particular plot of land in his possession to a third party. If that assignee institutes a suit for eviction, the tenant has no defence under sections 14 and 20 of the principal Act. Such abuse has been going on ever since these sections have been there on the Statute Book. Of course, in this Bill the Government have provided for a two-year period. But a two-year period is too short. I have suggested twelve years, because twelve years is the period prescribed for obtaining a prescriptive right under the Limitation Act. If the Government are not prepared to disallow the right of the assignee, I submit that at least the twelve-year period may be accepted.

"There is another provision in this Bill which confers upon the tenant the right to treat any document executed by him as void and not binding upon him. There it has been provided—I am not accusing the Government of partiality—that the assignee or transferee is not entitled to that right. It has been conferred as a personal right and it cannot be availed of by a transferee. In the same manner why should not the right of eviction for bona fide purposes be confined to the owner himself and the assignee or transferee debarred from enjoying that right? I find neither logic nor reason in this. Therefore I press that this right must be conferred on the owner as a personal right. It should not be extended to assignees and if at all it should be extended to them, it may be after twelve years.

"Then, transfer inter vivos is a transaction between two parties, but it does not cover sales involuntary by Court. A landlord may become insolvent and his property may be sold by the Official Assignee or Official Receiver. This Bill does not cover such transactions. We know how section 73 of the Civil Procedure Code has been misused. When an honest creditor obtains a decree, bogus and collusive documents are obtained for the purpose of ratable distribution. In the same manner, if a landlord cannot get at the property by assignment, he will suffer a suit to be filed. A property may be sold in adjudication or a mortgaged property may be sold for realizing the mortgage amount. This Bill does not cover such transactions, because they are not transfer inter vivos. So I request the Government to so amend the Bill as to cover sales involuntary also. I have covered the most important points that I wanted to say in a very summary way. After the Hon. Minister replies to these points, I shall offer my remarks if I have got anything to say."

SRI K. M. SEETHI SAHIB :—"Sir, I have to explain the amendments that I have given notice of. These amendments relate to sections 14 and 20 of the principal Act. Under sub-sections (5) and (6) of section 14 the landlord has been given the right of evicting the tenant. Sub-section (5) relates to the bona fide requirement of the landlord for the cultivation of the land for his own primary needs and the needs of the members of his family. Sub-section (6) relates to the bona fide requirement of the landlord to recover possession of the land for the purpose of building a house for his own occupation. Now fixity is proposed to be given to the tenant. Under sub-section (5) the landlord can evict the tenant if he wants the land for his bona fide cultivation. He cannot exercise that right now in respect of a tenant who has been in occupation of the land for not less than six years. But sub-section (6) even now stands and enables the landlord to evict any tenant without regard to his period of occupation. Under this sub-section the landlord can evict a tenant for the bona fide purpose of putting up a house for his own residence. The object of my amendment is that there is no justification for making a distinction between sub-sections (5) and (6) in this respect. Neither under sub-section (5) nor under sub-section (6) should the landlord be entitled to evict a tenant who has been in possession of the land for six years. The very scheme of the Act makes no distinction between sub-sections (5) and (6). Section 40 (2) of the principal Act relating to the melcharthdar makes no distinction between sub-sections (5) and (6) of section 14 or section 20. A melcharthdar cannot exercise the right of eviction under sub-sections (5) and (6) of section 14 and section 20. I hardly find any reason why the Government should make a distinction between sub-sections (5) and (6). I say that sub-section (6) also must be brought within the ambit of the amendments moved by the Government for giving fixity of tenure to the tenant.

"The other point which I have raised is with reference to the denial of the right of eviction to the transferee of the landlord. The landlord is entitled to exercise the right of eviction. While this right may be deemed to be a personal right to him, the transferee should not have this right of eviction for the reasons given by the hon. Member who preceded me. This will be a loophole given to the landlord to circumvent the fixity of tenure given to the tenant by exercising his right of transferring the lands in favour of his own dependants or his own relations and getting the tenant evicted thereby by enabling the transferee to put forward the claim that he wants the land bona fide for his primary needs. This right may not be available to the landlords or the janmis, in many cases and, in such cases they may transfer the land in favour of their own dependants. So, I have moved for the deletion of the words

'until the expiry of two years from the date of the instrument.'

The result will be that the transferee does not get the right of evicting the tenant under sub-clauses (5) and (6) of sections 14 and 20."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—"Sir, I have moved my amendment. I shall read the amendments which are self-explanatory. The amendments read thus—

'After item (3), insert the following as item (4) :—

"(4) after the existing provisos, the following further Provisos and Explanations shall be added, namely :—

'Provided further that no holding shall be evicted if the tenant or occupant thereof or any part thereof be an educational, charitable, philanthropic or other public institution :

Provided further that no tenant shall be evicted by any person who is a 'large farmer', or a 'non-agriculturist' on the date of the institution of the proceeding for eviction ;

Provided further that if the tenant, in the event of such eviction, will have in his actual enjoyment either as tenant or otherwise, in all only less than five acres of land, he shall not be evicted from the holding or any part thereof; if there are more suits than one for eviction against the same tenant, the landlord who institutes the earlier suit will have preference under this clause in respect of any land held by the tenant in excess of the extent specified above ;

[Sri V. R. Krishna Ayyar] 9th January 1954]

Provided further that a landlord who requires any holding bona fide for the cultivation of himself or of any member of his family, shall be entitled to evict a tenant who is a large farmer in respect of any excess over the minimum required to make him a "large farmer";

Explanation.—Large farmer with reference to any particular date means any person who being an individual has more than the equivalent of 25 acres of wet land in his actual possession and if a family has in its actual enjoyment more than the equivalent of 60 acres or 5 acres per member (whichever is less) of wet lands ;

Explanation.—For the purpose of this section if the context requires it, one acre of wet land shall be treated as the equivalent of three acres of garden land and 10 acres of dry land (forests and mere waste being excluded).

Explanation.—'Non-agriculturist' with reference to a particular date, means a person who has been assessed in any of the two financial years immediately preceding the date of suit to income-tax under the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922 or has, in all, the four half year immediately preceding the date of suit been assessed profession tax on a half-yearly income or more than Rs. 750 derived from a profession other than agriculture under the Madras District Municipalities Act, the Cantonment Act, the Madras Local Boards Act or the Madras Village Panchayats Act or has been assessed to property or house-tax under any of the aforesaid four Acts within the same period where the aggregate annual value of the property or building is not less than Rs. 1,000 as ascertained in the manner prescribed. "

I suppose there cannot be any controversy over the amendments. Suppose there is a school, which is in a leasehold property—If the landlord wants to evict the school from that place, naturally in public interests that school should be protected. Similarly charitable and philanthropic institutions should be protected from the private interests of the landlord. I have moved my amendment only for the purpose of protecting public institutions, although the institutions may only have a lessee's right. It might widely affect the rights of the landlords, but public institutions have to be protected from eviction. My amendment is a very desirable amendment.

"My amendment regarding 'large farmer' or a 'non-agriculturist' is a very wholesome one. Under the existing Act Sthanis are precluded from evicting their tenants. On the same principle large farmers and non-agriculturists must be precluded from evicting their tenants. They are persons who have large extents of land under their cultivation already. Such people are in no need whatever of evicting their tenants. Eviction proceedings should be taboo in their case. Non-agriculturists are big magnates and commercial men, and they derive their income from operations other than agriculture. Such people need not crowd into the land on which there is already enough crowd. There is no need to invite these people to come to the land."

MR. SPEAKER :—"The hon. Member can continue his speech after lunch. The House will now rise for lunch and meet again at 3 p.m."

[9th January 1954]

(After lunch—3 p.m.)

MR. SPEAKER :—“ I must tell the House that our progress in regard to this Bill is very slow. We are proceeding at snail's pace. With the co-operation of the House, I want to expedite the passing of this Bill. A large number of amendments have been given notice of. It is better hon. Members confine themselves to one amendment in regard to amendments of similar nature. Further, one hon. Member wants to speak on all amendments. I hope the House will co-operate with me, in expediting the disposal of this Bill.”

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—“ Sir, in the forenoon I was dealing with the question of protection that should be extended to educational, charitable, philanthropic and other public institutions. As I said, it is really non-controversial and very much desirable in public interests that a school which happens to be the occupant should not be evicted even for the default of the manager thereof who may be the tenant—as it is obviously argued—because the persons who will consequently suffer will be the public, namely, the students studying therein. Similarly, if a charitable institution is to suffer by way of eviction on account of the manager thereof committing a default, it will be too serious a consequence to be visited upon the public who are really the beneficiaries. That is why I commend this somewhat innocuous and very desirable provision that no holding should be evicted if the tenant or occupant thereof or any part thereof be an educational, charitable, philanthropic or other public institution.

“ The second provision which I am suggesting is a new concept, if I may say so. That is to say, if a person has a considerable acreage under his own cultivation, i.e., a large farmer or an owner of a large extent of land, or if a person depends for his livelihood upon, or has his source of income from, non-agricultural occupations, such a person should not be allowed to evict a tenant, because there are enough people who are seeking to cultivate the land and there is not space enough for all of them. There is no reason why a non-agriculturist or a person who has a large extent of land already under his cultivation should come into the land. That is covered by another portion of my amendment.

“ Next, I have suggested a very important thing, namely, a holder of less than 5 acres should be immune to eviction. In fact, that is a sentiment which does not at all come from me for the first time. It has been in the air for a long time. The K.P.C.C. Sub-Committee has recommended it. Various other Parties have also suggested the same thing. If less than 5 acres is the optimum extent of a holding immune to eviction, it will help in seeing to it that good farming is promoted because a tenant will have 5 acres under his cultivation and it will also prevent the evils of eviction in a substantial measure. I do not wish to make a long speech on this matter. I am not quite sure how far the Government will be convinced by my contentions. Anyway, they are contained in the amendment and I have already explained the salient points. I, therefore, suggest that the House may accept my amendment.”

The amendment was duly seconded.

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN :—“ Sir, I have moved the following amendments which stand in my name :—

“ For the existing clause 15, substitute the following :—

“ 15. Repeal of sections 14 and 20, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—Sections 14 and 20 of the principal Act shall be repealed and the following section shall be inserted, namely :—

“ A landlord possessing less than five acres of land can evict up to five acres of land from a tenant possessing land more than five acres ;

Provided that the total extent of land in the possession of landlord including land to which he becomes entitled for possession after evicting the tenant shall not exceed five acres ;

Provided also the land in the possession of the tenant after eviction shall not be less than five acres.”

“ After item (3) of clause 15, add the following item (4) :—

“ (4) the following further proviso shall be added, namely :—

“ Provided further that any tenant of ‘ ulkudi ’, ‘ protected ulkudi ’ or ‘ kudikidappu ’ who has been evicted from possession of the site of land in his possession from 28th March 1953 shall be restored to possession of the land in question.”

Sir, my first amendment expresses that small landlords who are not in possession of lands even up to five acres are entitled to get land evicted up to five acres from big tenants. That disproves the allegation made against the Opposition that we are not allowing landlords to resume personal cultivation.

“ My second amendment suggests that an ulkudi tenant who was evicted from his land on or after the 28th March 1953 should be restored possession of the land in question. This is quite different from the amendment moved by my hon. Friend Sri E. T. Kunhan. His amendment suggested that ulkudi tenants who had been evicted from the land since the 15th March 1952 should be restored possession of the land. But my amendment refers to the 28th March 1953, the date on which the present Bill was introduced in its original form. From that day onwards, eviction of ulkudi tenants has been going on. It was stated in the original Bill that three years' notice should be given before evicting an ulkudi tenant. Therefore, the landlords feared that they could not evict any ulkudi tenant for the next three years and they began evicting such tenants forcibly. The amendment which I am suggesting seeks to restore possession of the land to such an ulkudi tenant. I hope that the Government will accept my amendments.”

The amendments were duly seconded.

SRI N. GOPALA MENON :—" Sir, these sections of the Act, namely, sections 14 and 20, are the two sections around which a lot of controversy has raged. I am glad to say that this Bill has received a good reception at the hands, generally, of the vernacular Press in Malabar and I have also received letters from some of my friends saying that the Bill is fairly satisfactory to all of them, in spite of the opposition that may be raised here. Some of the hon. Members have said that one clause in section 14, which says that if the tenant does not pay the rent within three months after the due date, he should be evicted, causes a hardship. But they forget that there is another provision, namely, section 15 (3) which says that even if a suit has been filed for eviction, it is open to the tenant to deposit the rent in Court, in which case there will be no eviction at all.

" Then, another point has been raised regarding the provision that if there is a transfer inter vivos, there could be no eviction for two years. The object of this provision is to see that in cases of mala fide transfers, the transferee may not be able to resume possession of the land. In every similar measure, much shorter period is provided. For instance, take the Madras Buildings Lease and Rent Control Act where a period of three months is provided. If a person after purchasing a house, wants to take possession of the house and evict the tenant, he gets only three months. Here, in this Bill, the period provided is two years. I, however, want to say that this clause, although it has been considered so often and so long contains certain inherent defects. For instance, in the second proviso to section 20 of the parent Act, it is stated that 'nothing contained in clauses (5) to (7) shall apply to the holding or that portion of the holding which consists of a kudiyiruppu, an ulkudi or a kudikidappu.' There is no provision in the whole enactment whereby an ulkudi-holder could be evicted. He can with immunity deny the landholder's title and prescribe a title to himself by adverse possession. This is an oversight in drafting. The right of the ulkudi-holders has been granted by this legislation. It was not there in the 1951 Act. This is an inherent defect in this enactment, which I hope the Government will somehow or other try to correct. There is also an Explanation under section 14 of the parent Act which says, 'In the case of a landlord governed by a law other than the Marumakkattayam law (or the Aliyasantana law) the wife or husband and the father, mother and children of the landlord shall be deemed to be members of the landlord's family having a proprietary and beneficial interest in the holding.' This provision was found in the old Act. Under the old law, the wife and child of those landlords governed by the Marumakkattayam law were not considered to be their heirs. But now they have become heirs of the landlord. Still, the definition of family that wife and child shall not be included is still retained. This is another defect which is noticeable and I hope the Government will take steps to correct this also.

" Under section 20 relating to kanamdars and others, we may say that persons who have been in continuous possession or occupation should not be evicted and they should be given fixity of tenure. These are a few observations which I have to make regarding the purport of these clauses. There has been much discussion regarding these clauses which are not very happily worded.

" Then, Sir, my hon. Friend Sri Seethi Sahib said that the provision regarding giving fixity of tenure should also be made applicable to sub-section (6) of section 14. That is, no person should get any portion of his own land for the purpose of constructing a building for himself. This was discussed in the Select Committee and it was thought that there may be cases where persons who had left Malabar or other occupations might want to come back to Malabar and spend the evening of their life there. For that purpose, they may require some place to construct a house so that they may live there and die there. That is why a provision has been incorporated that in such cases if the person is actually in need of a building for his residence in his own holding, he could evict the occupant thereof for this bona fide purpose. On the whole, I am glad that these two sections have been more or less satisfactorily settled and there is a sort of general agreement that these provisions will satisfy both the landlord and the tenantry of Malabar. The time that has been spent in discussing this Bill would be justified, I think, by the result, viz., that it is fairly satisfactory."

DR. K. B. MENON :—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, the two sections, 14 and 20 are perhaps the most important sections. Talking on these two sections, I am willing to concede that the sections as they stand in the Bill make some liberal concessions, more than the draft Bill of Mr. Madhava Menon which subsequently became the Amending Act of 1951. In this connection, I would like to say that accusations were made that the Opposition is making use of Mr. Madhava Menon in order to condemn the Government now in power. It is not so. If the Government suspect that we want to make political capital of it, they should also know that we in the process are accumulating political liabilities along with it. We know Mr. Madhava Menon is a Congress member and a potential rival at that. We are only interested in giving—if I am not using an unparliamentary expression—the devil its due. That is the only reason why the draft Bill of Madhava Menon was often quoted as better than some aspects of the present Bill.

" Sir, even while I was talking during the first reading of the Bill, I said that clause (5) of sections 14 and 20 in the parent Act should go. I still stand by it. As long as that clause stands, the very purpose of the Bill will be defeated. I know that it has been amended to a very slight degree, but that amendment does not make any substantial concession and is still unsatisfactory, inadequate and it will not work in the best interests of the tenants of Malabar. One must remember that in a place like Malabar where there are so many intermediaries, it is very difficult if any of the intermediaries are allowed to evict a tenant. If the tenant has always to live in dread of being evicted, such evictions in the long run will upset the economic equilibrium of the agricultural community, and the larger interests of the community as a whole. I feel that some amount of security from eviction must be provided to the tenant. In the second place, one must also remember that in Malabar, these intermediaries are absentee-landlords. They are merely rent collectors. The verumpattamdar, who is the last in the ladder has certain rights. It is not fair that these intermediaries are given the right to evict.

"Finally, I would like to point out that in the case of assignees, under no circumstances, they should be given more privileges than the landlords. As it stands to-day, the assignees have certain preferential rights which will make the position of the tenant very weak and insecure. These are the points that I have to say at this stage."

SRI A. APPU :—"Sir, I had also given notice of an amendment to sections 14 and 20 of the Act but in view of the important announcement made by the Hon. the Chief Minister giving liberal concessions to the tenant and in view of the amendments brought in by the Hon. the Law Minister incorporating those concessions, I did not move it. I do not propose to move that amendment even now. But I must say a few words on the provision which enables transferees to evict tenants after the expiry of two years. Even now there are cases in which some bogus transfers have been made and suits have been filed for eviction of the tenants. I quoted an instance in my speech the other day wherein a tenant, whose family was holding about 150 acres of land completely planted with coconut trees, was sought to be evicted. To avoid such things happening, I submit that that particular clause should be deleted. Mr. Seethi Sahib put forth a very able argument in this behalf and I entirely agree with him. I request that the Government will be pleased to consider the matter sympathetically."

"Sir, there is a clause which says that a jenmi can evict a tenant on grounds of 'primary needs'. I request that the Government will give an explanation as to what primary needs are. I hope the Hon. the Chief Minister will define what primary needs are. Otherwise, the janmis are likely to raise that point in a court of law and different courts are likely to give different interpretations. Sir, on the whole, I am satisfied with the Bill and I am very thankful to the Chief Minister for all the concessions that he has been pleased to make. He has taken a very lively interest in this measure. I said it in my speech on the Bill during the introduction stage though that was mistranslated by the Mathrubhoomi as 'lovely interest'. He has been taking a lively interest and I thank him again."

9th January 1954]

SRI. K. MADHAVAN NAMBIAR :—"സർ, തിരുവിതാംകൂർ-കൊച്ചിയിൽനിന്നു ലക്ഷക്കണക്കിനു കൃഷിക്കാർ മലബാറിന്റെ കിഴക്കൻ പ്രദേശങ്ങളിൽ ചാർത്തുവാങ്ങി കൃഷി ചെയ്യുന്നവരാണ്. മിക്കവാറും കഴിഞ്ഞ ആറു കൊല്ലത്തിനു ശേഷം വന്നവരാണ്, ആറു കൊല്ലമെന്ന വെറുക്കയറണങ്കിൽ ലക്ഷക്കണക്കിനുള്ള കൃഷിക്കാരെ ഇതുകൊണ്ട് ഒഴിപ്പിക്കുന്നതിനുള്ള സാധ്യതയുണ്ട്. മറ്റൊരു സംഗതി ജീവികാൻ നിഷ്ഠാമതിലാത്തവരും വിട്ടുകൊട്ടി താമസിക്കാൻ സ്ഥലമില്ലാത്തവരായ ജന്മിമാർക്കുവേണ്ടി 5 ഏക്കറുടെ ഒഴിപ്പിക്കാമെന്നും, അതുകൊണ്ട് 5 ഏക്കറിൽ കൂടുതലുള്ള കൃഷിക്കാരിൽനിന്നു മാത്രമേ ഒഴിപ്പിക്കാൻ പാടുള്ളൂവെന്നും വ്യവസ്ഥ ചെയ്യുന്നത് അത്യാവശ്യമായിരിക്കുന്നു എന്നിങ്ങനെ ബലമായ അഭിപ്രായമുണ്ട്."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—"Sir, I beg to submit that the amendment moved by the Government was decided upon after taking all aspects of the question into account. We have to consider while we scan this amendment, the fact that fixity is given to all tenants and the provision now under discussion relates to cases of exemption when a landlord seeks to evict a tenant. If the landlord bona fide wants to have a part of the land to be redeemed for purposes of building a house for himself, when he has no house, it is a case which we have to consider to be as essential as that of the tenant. It is because of this fact that we have given fixity in the case of ulkudis where huts exist and where people having no particular interest are now allowed to stay on. The Government are not able to accept the suggestion that they must prescribe a maximum area in terms of acres. I must again bring to the notice of the Members that out of 444,725 pattas, about 430,032 relate to land below six acres in extent. That is why we are finding it very difficult to fix a ceiling in terms of acres in this case. There is also another difficulty because the productive capacity of the soil in Malabar differs from place to place. So, to adopt the basis of acreage is not possible. What we have done now is to see that, if a person has been in occupation of the land for six years, he is prevented from being evicted, under clause 5 for purposes of bona fide cultivation. We have narrowed down the scope of the clause in this way. We have narrowed it down in another way also. We have stated that bona fide requirements would mean only 'primary needs'. We have restricted the scope of operation of the clause as much as possible. As I have already said once, Sir, the 1951 Act and this Bill have considered the needs of the tenant only in the matter of eviction and not the needs of the landlord. Until these were taken up, everybody was agreed on the question that a certain acreage of land should be left in the possession of the landlord. But we have now completely changed the outlook and we must view the eviction question from the background of the changed outlook."

"Sir, most of the points raised by hon. Members have been answered already, mostly by hon. Members themselves. I think I need not take any more time. This is a most difficult problem which we have to solve. We have to solve it without putting others to difficulties and without infringing the provisions of the Constitution. Without violating the Fundamental Rights of the individual, we have to give fixity of tenure to tenants. We have considered all these aspects of the question and the amendment of the Government alone is the solution as far as this aspect of the legislation is concerned. I have nothing more to say."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR:—"Sir, I want to know whether the Government are opposed or not to eviction being disallowed in the case of educational and other public institutions. I specifically raised this point and I am not clear about the Government's attitude to this question. I want the Government to clear the doubt."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"I wish to know whether the Government have any reply to the points raised by me. I want to know whether transfers effected through court sales and by the Official Receivers and the Official Assignee, will also be covered by the provision. That point has not been touched upon."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"Up till now there was no restriction made. Now we have said that within two years he cannot evict the tenant. He cannot take advantage of the clause to evict the tenant. If we say here that the alienee will not get full rights in property, it will bring down price of property in Malabar and also offend the clause pertaining to transfer. So we have gone to the extent to which we can go."

"In this connexion, Sir, I may also add that I must be given the last chance to reply. The hon. Members may make suggestions but I should be given the last chance to reply."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Will Government always have the last word? Hon. Members who have moved amendments have a right of reply. They have said what they wanted to say by way of reply. Then the Hon. Minister has a right of further reply."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"I only request I may not be called twice, thrice or even four times."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR:—"If the Hon. Minister has no word to say, he may not be compelled to say the last word."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"Sir, it has now been made amply evident that the Government do not intend to cover such transfers."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Under what rule is the hon. Member entitled to speak after the Minister has replied? I have already allowed him the right of reply. But he is speaking again."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"Sir, the Hon. the Minister for Law quoted figures and there has been a jugglery in figures. He mentioned that there were four lakhs of pattas in Malabar . . ."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member cannot speak on the amendment. I am now going to put the amendments to the vote of the House."

9th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"If you will permit me, Sir, I want to say a few words. I think the Opposition is sometimes arguing against its own case. I shall explain it. The various suggestions made as to acreage and things like that really reduce the case of the tenants a little more than the Government proposals bring it to, because whatever may be the extent of the holding, the Government amendment prohibits the taking over of the land on the ground of requirement for maintenance unless it is for primary needs, even if it be that the landlord has only one acre. This amendment is more in favour of the tenants. So I would advise hon. Members not to press the acreage clause. With regard to the further definition of primary needs, both bona fide and primary needs taken together, it restricts the landlords opportunity very greatly. I would, therefore, ask hon. Members not to press their amendments."

The amendments of Sri P. K. Gopalakrishnan were by leave of the House withdrawn, namely,

(1) For the existing clause, substitute the following:—

"15. Repeal of sections 14 and 20, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—Sections 14 and 20 of the principal Act shall be repealed and the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

"A landlord possessing less than five acres of land can evict up to five acres of land from a tenant possessing land more than five acres:

Provided that the total extent of land in the possession of landlord including land to which he becomes entitled for possession after evicting the tenant shall not exceed five acres:

Provided also the land in the possession of the tenant after eviction shall not be less than five acres."

(2) After item (3) add the following item (4):—

"(4) the following further proviso shall be added, namely:—

"Provided further that any tenant of "ulkudi", "protected ulkudi" or "kudikidappu" who has been evicted from possession of the site of land in his possession from 28th March 1953 shall be restored to possession of the land in question."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Then comes hon. Member Sri K. P. Gopalan's amendment. The question is—

For the existing clause, substitute the following:—

"15. Repeal of sections 14 and 20, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—Sections 14 and 20 of the principal Act shall be repealed."

The amendment was put and declared lost.

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

For the existing item (1), substitute the following:—

"(1) clause (5) shall be omitted; "

The amendment was put and declared lost.

Sri M. Chadayan.

Ayes—51; Noes—76; Neutral—3.

The amendment was lost.

MR. SPEAKER:—“ Is the hon. Member Narayana Kurup pressing the other amendment? ”

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—“ Yes, Sir.”

MR. SPEAKER:—“ The question is—

‘ Re-number the proposed Exception under clause (5) as Exception No. 1, and insert the following as Exception No. 2:—

“ Exception No. 2.—In case of any other holding in the occupation of a tenant it shall apply only to that part of the holding in excess of lands assessed to or assessable to Rs. 50 per annum.” ”

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER:—“ Is the hon. Member pressing the other part of the amendment? ”

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—“ I am not pressing it, Sir.”

The amendment, i.e.,

“ In the proposed new clause (iii) to the second proviso,

(i) after the words ‘ inter vivos ’, insert the words ‘ either voluntary or involuntary ’; and

(ii) for the words ‘ two years ’, substitute the words ‘ twelve years ’.”

was by leave of the House, withdrawn.

MR. SPEAKER:—“ I will now put the amendment of hon. Member Sri V. R. Krishna Ayyar to the vote of the House. The question is—

‘ Add at the end of the Explanation the words “ of food, shelter and clothing ”.’ ”

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER:—“ Then comes the amendment of Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar. Is he pressing the amendment? ”

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—“ I am not pressing the first part, Sir. The latter part of it may be put to the vote of the House.”

MR. SPEAKER:—“ The question is—

Omit items (1), (2) and (4) of sections 14 and 20 of the principal Act.

In item (3) of section 14 of the principal Act for the word “ three months ” substitute the words “ one year ”.

[Mr. Speaker] [9th January 1954]

Add the following proviso to that item :—

“ provided that if the tenant in the event of eviction under items (5), (6) or (7) will have in actual enjoyment either as tenant or otherwise in all only five or less than five acres of wet land he shall not be evicted from the holding and if he has more than five acres of wet land only the excess shall be available for eviction and in no case shall the landlord be entitled to claim eviction under the afore-said clause if he has already in his actual cultivation an extent of five acres of land.

Explanation.—One acre of land is equal to two acres of garden land and three acres of dry land.”

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—“ Withdraw this part of my motion.”

The amendment was by leave withdrawn.

MR. SPEAKER :—“ The question is—

‘ In item (3) (ii) of clause 15, in the proposed clause (iii) for the words “ two years ”, substitute the words “ six years ”.’ ”

The amendment was put and lost.

Then amendment of Sri V. R. Krishna Ayyar for insertion of new clause (4) was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER :—“ Now I am going to put the amendment of Sri K. M. Seethi Sahib to the vote of the House. The question is—

‘ (i) Omit the exception under item (1).

(ii) After item (2), insert the following as item (2A) :—

“(2-A) after clause (6), the following shall be added, namely :—

“ Exception.—Nothing in sub-clauses (5) and (6) shall apply to any holding which has been in the continuous occupation of the tenant or any member of his tarwad, tavashi, illom, kutumba, kavaru or family for not less than twelve years.”

(iii) In item (3) (ii) in the proposed clause (iii) omit the words “ until the expiry of two years from the date of the instrument ”.

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER :—“ Now I will put the Government amendment to the vote of the House. The question is—

‘ For the existing clause, substitute the following :—

“ 15. Amendment of sections 14 and 20, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In sections 14 and 20 of the principal Act—

‘ (1) after clause (5), the following shall be added, namely :—

“ Explanation.—In considering requirements for maintenance, regard shall be had only to primary needs.”

(2) in clause (6), the word “ bona fide ” occurring between the word “ thereof ” and the words “ for the purpose ” shall be omitted and between the words “ a building ” and the words “ for his own residence ” the word “ bona fide ” shall be inserted.

9th January 1954] [Mr. Speaker]

(3) In the second proviso—

(i) in clause (ii), for the words “ an ulkudi ”, the “ a protected ulkudi ” shall be substituted;

(ii) after clause (ii), the following shall be added as clause (iii), namely :—

“ (iii) no person whose right to evict arises under an instrument of transfer inter vivos shall be entitled to sue for eviction on the ground specified in clause (5) or clause (6) until the expiry of two years from the date of the instrument.”

(4) In section 14 of the principal Act, after the Explanation to clause (5), add the following :—

“ Exception.—Nothing in this clause shall apply to any holding which has been in the continuous occupation of the tenant or of any member of his tarwad, tavazhi, illom, kutumba, kavaru or family for not less than six years.”

The amendment was put and carried.

Clause 15 as amended was then put and carried.

Clause 16.

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—“ I move that—‘ The clause be omitted.’ ”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ Hon. Members from the other side also have given notice of amendments to omit the clause. Therefore I think it is not necessary to allow a discussion on this. I will put the amendment to the vote of the House.”

The amendment was put and carried.

Clause 18.

MR. SPEAKER :—“ I want to make the position clear to hon. Members. I will put clause 18 to the vote of the House now. Then I will take up all the new clauses referred to in amendments 76, 77, 78 and so on.”

Clause 18 was put and carried.

New clause after clause 18.

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—“ Sir, I move the amendments standing in my name—

‘ In sub-section (2) of section 29 of the principal Act, omit the words “ to the extent such rent . . . tax in equal shares ”.

In the first proviso to sub-section (3), for the words “ borne wholly by the tenant ”, substitute the words “ in equal shares by the tenant as well as by the landlord ” and after the word “ labour ”, insert the words “ the increased portion of ”.

[Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar] [9th January 1954]

For the existing section 29-B of the principal Act, substitute the following:—

“29-B. Whenever for any reason the whole or any part of the crop or any yields have failed the tenant shall be entitled to get rent remitted by the Rent Fixation Authority on an application by the tenant for the period concerned.

The State Government on report from the Rent Fixation Authority and on request from the pattadar shall remit the whole or any part of the assessment payable in respect of the land for which remission of the rent has been made by the Rent Fixation Authority.”

Retain the provisos under section 29-B.

(i) In section 32-B of the principal Act, for the words “twenty times”, substitute the words “ten times”.

In the first proviso, for the words “one month”, substitute the words “six months”.

In the second proviso, for the words “on condition that sufficient security is furnished by the tenant”, substitute the words “the security for the regular payment of such instalments being the tenant’s right on the holding”.

(ii) In section 33 for the words “consecutive ten years”, substitute the words “consecutive three years”.

In the proviso, for the words “on condition . . . of such instalments”, substitute the words “the security for the regular payment of such instalment being the tenant’s right on the holding”.

Add the following Explanation—

“Explanation.—Any tenant who had kudiyruppu right over a holding for three consecutive years after September, 1940, although the right had been changed into ‘Kooli sheet’ or any such document denying the kudiyruppu right of the tenant, that holding will be treated as kudiyruppu and shall be restored as though no such document to the contrary had been made.”

(iii) Omit section 34.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“The amendments are now before the House for discussion.”

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—“Sir, I have nothing to say. I oppose the amendments.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“For the sake of convenience, I am going to put all the amendments together to the vote of the House even though it is not a proper method. The question is—

‘In sub-section (2) of section 29 of the principal Act, omit the words “to the extent such rent . . . tax in equal shares”.

In the first proviso to sub-section (3), for the words “borne wholly by the tenant”, substitute the words “in equal shares by the tenant as well as by the landlord” and after the word “labour”, insert the words “the increased portion of”.

For the existing section 29-B of the principal Act, substitute the following:—

“29-B. Whenever for any reason the whole or any part of the crop or any yields have failed the tenant shall be entitled to get rent remitted by the Rent Fixation Authority on an application by the tenant for the period concerned.

The State Government on report from the Rent Fixation Authority and on request from the pattadar shall remit the whole or any part of the assessment payable in respect of the land for which remission of the rent has been made by the Rent Fixation Authority.”

Retain the provisos under section 29-B.

(i) In section 32-B of the principal Act, for the words “twenty times”, substitute the words “ten times”.

In the first proviso, for the words “one month”, substitute the words “six months”.

In the second proviso, for the words “on condition that sufficient security is furnished by the tenant” substitute the words “the security for the regular payment of such instalments being the tenant’s right on the holding”.

(ii) In section 33, for the words “consecutive ten years”, substitute the words “consecutive three years”.

In the proviso, for the words “on condition . . . of such instalments”, substitute the words “the security for the regular payment of such instalment being the tenant’s right on the holding”.

Add the following Explanation:—

“Explanation.—Any tenant who had kudiyruppu right over a holding for three consecutive years after September 1940, although the right had been changed into “Kooli sheet” or any such document denying the kudiyruppu right of the tenant, that holding will be treated as kudiyruppu and shall be restored as though no such document to the contrary had been made.”

(iii) Omit section 34.”

The amendments were put and lost.

[9th January 1954]

Clause 19.

MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Members, Messrs. Moidu, M. Narayana Nambiar, Kunhirama Kidav, Velukkan and others have given notice of an amendment. It is only a consequential amendment. I think, the House has already given its verdict against a similar amendment to clause 13. This amendment is not therefore in order."

SRI M. NARAYANA NAMBIAR:—"I am not moving it."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Is the hon. Member, Mr. T. C. Narayanan Nambiar, moving his amendment?"

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"Yes, Sir, I am moving the amendment. I move—

'For the existing clause, substitute the following:—

"Amendment of section 35, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 35 of the principal Act, the words 'and in constructing the new hut' shall be added at the end."

Sir, in the existing clause only expenses to be incurred in shifting the site are taken into consideration. The expenses to be incurred in constructing a new hut are not taken into consideration. My amendment provides for such a thing. It is a reasonable amendment and I hope the Government will accept it."

SRI C. H. KANARAN:—"I second the amendment."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Amendment moved—

'For the existing clause, substitute the following:—

"Amendment of section 35, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 35 of the principal Act, the words 'and in constructing the new hut' shall be added at the end."

"The amendment is now before the House for discussion."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"I oppose the amendment because the Government have now conferred on the ulkudidars more benefits than were even contemplated in the previous Act."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

'For the existing clause, substitute the following:—

"Amendment of section 35, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 35 of the principal Act, the words 'and in constructing the new hut' shall be added at the end."

The amendment was put and declared lost.

Clause 19 was put and carried.

Clause 20.

Clause 20 was put and carried.

[9th January 1954]

New clause 20-A.

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"Sir, I move—

'After clause 20, insert the following as new clause 20-A:—

"20-A. Amendment of section 51, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 51 of the principal Act—

(a) in sub-section (1)—

(i) for the words 'every month', the words 'in the months of January, April, July and October every year' shall be substituted;

(ii) for the words 'current market price', the words 'the average market price during the immediately preceding three months' shall be substituted;

(b) For sub-section (2), the following sub-section shall be substituted, namely:—

'(2) Where, for the payment of rent or michavaram by a tenant to whom the provisions of this Act apply, the cash value of any of the crops referred to in sub-section (1) has to be determined, such value shall be determined at the market price at the taluk headquarters last published under sub-section (1) before the date when such rent or michavaram became payable.'"

Sir, the Government have brought this amendment because there were complaints that though the price of the produce had to be declared every month by the Collector, it was not declared for months together, with the result the tenant was put to difficulties and he was compelled to pay a price which the landlord asked him to pay. It was also represented to the Government that different prices were fixed in different courts by adopting different methods. It is in pursuance of the above considerations, the Government have brought this amendment. I am sure, no hon. Member will oppose this amendment."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is not at all an improvement on the existing provision and it carries no sense. As it is, to-day the Collector has to notify and publish the paddy price every month. The prices are published in the papers also. We have, therefore, some tangible evidence now to produce before the Collector that there is some discrepancy in the notification made by him. Now, what is attempted here is that the notifications are to be made once in three months. We are unable, Sir, without statistics to verify the notifications. If the Collector notifies the average price of paddy for the first quarter of the year, he will not notify that in January the price was so much, in February the price was so much, etc. If, due to some reason, the Collector notifies a wrong figure it is impossible for us to verify it. It will be more difficult for verification than it is now."

"There is also another point. The rents to be paid by the tenants are governed by the price notified when the rents are due."

[Sri M. Narayana Kurup] [9th January 1954]

Now, it may so happen that the notification made by the Collector when the rents are due may relate to the three months previous to the month when the rents are due. Thus the tenant will be affected.

"Therefore, my objections are two-fold. It is not possible to verify the notification made by the Collector if he publishes merely the average price once in three months and secondly this section does not say that the notified price that is to be taken into account is that which relates to the month in which the rents are due. I do not question the intention of the Government, Sir, but this section does not help us in carrying out their intention. Of course, we can personally represent to the Collector. I think some improvement is necessary in regard to the notification of prices, but from what the Hon. the Minister for Law has said, and though I tried my best to understand it, I can say this is no improvement. We wanted some change but this is not the change which will help us. This is all my complaint, Sir."

SRI R. KRISHNAN :—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move the amendment standing in my name—

'That at the end of section 46 of the principal Act, the following be added :—

"Notwithstanding anything mentioned in any lease the tenant shall pay rent measured in Palghat para or Macleode seer."

"സർ, പാലക്കാട് തലൂക്കിൽ പലതരത്തിലുള്ള പാട്ടപ്പറകളും ഉപയോഗിച്ചു വരുന്നുണ്ട്. ഗവർണ്മെന്റ് അംഗീകരിച്ചിട്ടുള്ള മുദ്രപ്പറയ്ക്കു പാട്ടം അളന്നാലും പറവാൾ എന്ന പേരിലും മറ്റും കൂടുതൽ എടുക്കുന്നുണ്ട്. അതനുവദിച്ചുകൊണ്ട് കോടതികളിൽ വിധികളും ഉണ്ടായിട്ടുണ്ട് അതിനെ തടയാൻ വേണ്ടിയാണ് ഞാൻ ഈ മേലേതരി കൊണ്ടുവന്നിരിക്കുന്നത്."

SRI K. MADHAVAN NAMBIAR :—"സർ, വടക്കെ മലബാറിൽ പറക കൂടേയും ഇടങ്ങഴികൂടേയും ഗുൽമാൽ വളരെയുണ്ട്. ആനപ്പറ, അഞ്ചാനപ്പറ, കച്ചാണിപ്പറ ഇങ്ങനെ പല ഗുൽമാൽപറകളുമുണ്ട്. മാത്രമല്ല, കോട്ടയം സേർ, കോട്ടയം വാരസേർ, മുദ്രസേർ എന്നിങ്ങനെ ഒരു വ്യവസ്ഥയുമില്ലാത്ത അളവുകളുണ്ട് അതെല്ലാം നിറുത്തണം. പകരം കൂടീകരിച്ച ഒരു ഗവർണ്മെന്റ് നട്ടപ്പിൽ വരുത്തണം. അല്ലെങ്കിൽ വലിയ കഷ്ടപ്പാടുണ്ട്. I second the amendment."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move the amendments standing in my name, namely—

'In sub-section (1) (a) of section 43 of the principal Act, for the words "one year", substitute the words "two years" wherever they occur.'

'In sub-section (2) of section 51 of the principal Act, omit the word "paddy".'

'Insert the following as sub-section (3) :—

"(3) Where any rent of a wet land has to be converted into money, paddy shall be valued for the purpose of determining the sum due at the average market price of the previous five years published under sub-section (1)."

The amendment was duly seconded.

[9th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER :—"Motion moved—

'That at the end of section 46 of the principal Act, the following be added :—

"Notwithstanding anything mentioned in any lease the tenant shall pay rent measured in Palghat para or Macleode seer."

MR. SPEAKER :—"Motion moved—

'In sub-section (1) (a) of section 43 of the principal Act, for the words "one year" substitute the words "two years" wherever they occur.'

'In sub-section (2) of section 51 of the principal Act, omit the word "paddy".'

'Insert the following as sub-section (3) :—

"(3) Where any rent of a wet land has to be converted into money, paddy shall be valued for the purposes of determining the sum due at the average market price of the previous five years published under sub-section (1)."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, my amendment to sub-section (1) (a) of section 43 of the principal Act, namely, the substitution of two years for one year is a very important one in the sense that it extends the time by another year within which a tenant can institute proceedings to get back the holding from which he has been evicted by the landlord under sub-section (5) of section 14 of the principal Act. A doubt may arise whether this amendment would not be more in favour of the landlords than in favour of the tenants. My contention is that the poor tenant may not be in a position to file a suit within the stipulated time and hence he may have to lose his right to get the holding restored to him. I have, therefore, suggested this amendment."

"My second amendment is to the effect that the word 'paddy' should be omitted from the items given in sub-section (2) of section 51 of the principal Act for which the prices are to be fixed by the Collector and that paddy should be treated separately. In so fixing the price of paddy, the average price of the previous five years should be taken into account. It is only for this purpose I have moved my second amendment."

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN :—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, one of the biggest agitation that is going on in Malabar is in regard to the fixing of the price of varam paddy, that is, the price of paddy to be given as rent. The Collector fixes the price arbitrarily and at times it goes up to Rs. 5 per para. At the time of decontrol the price of paddy per para was only Rs. 2. The Collector now fixes the price arbitrarily at Rs. 4-8-0 or Rs. 5 and usually the courts also accept it in their decrees. Therefore a tenant who was paying Rs. 200 as rent for 100 paras at Rs. 2 per para at the time of decontrol has now to pay Rs. 500 which is an increase by 250 per cent over what he was paying. A great agitation is therefore going on amongst all classes of tenants in Malabar to fix the price of paddy at the controlled rate. Now, the suggestion made by hon. Member, Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar, is that the price of paddy should be fixed as the average price of the last five years. I hope the Government will accept this amendment. If the price of paddy during the last five years is taken into consideration, the average price may be taken as the price of varam paddy."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" Sir, I wish to associate myself wholeheartedly with what has already been said on the point. The 1929 Act provided for fixing the price as the average of the last five years. Therefore, what is now asked for is nothing new nor is there anything alarming or disquieting about it for the Government to accept it. It is only a very moderate demand for restoring the rights of the tenants under the 1929 Act, namely, that they may not be called upon to pay the present very high prices prevailing but may be called upon to pay the average price of the last five years. I submit that this is a particularly moderate demand because the tenants are suffering on account of the notified prices of the Collector being very high. In fact, the prices of foodstuffs in the rest of the districts in the State compare favourably with that of Malabar. If only we look into the notifications made every month, the prices prevailing in the various taluks of Malabar are so high that the tenant's back is broken. I submit that the tenant's position has to be considered and that could be achieved only by taking the average of the last five years into account."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" Sir, I have to oppose the amendment for substituting two years for one year. I feel, Sir, the tenant will be at a loss. He will be delayed by one year in getting back possession of the property. This aspect was considered and that is why one year was fixed.

" Regarding the question of taking into account the five years' average price, I think, it will work as a hardship because this is to be applied only in cases where value has to be paid under the Improvements Act. The current price is cheaper and better for the tenant and I therefore oppose this amendment."

MR. SPEAKER :—" The question is—

' Add at the end of section 46 of the principal Act, the following :—

" Notwithstanding anything mentioned in any lease the tenant shall pay rent measured in Palghat para or Macleode seer." "

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER :—" The question is—

' In sub-section (1) (a) of section 43 of the principal Act for the words " one year ", substitute the words " two years ", wherever they occur.' "

The amendment was put and lost.

9th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER :—" The question is—

' In sub-section (2) of section 51 of the principal Act, omit the word " paddy ".

' Insert the following as sub-section (3) :—

" (3) Where any rent of a wet land has to be converted into money, paddy shall be valued for the purpose of determining the sum due at the average market price of the previous five years published under sub-section (1). " "

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER :—" The question is—

' After clause 20, insert the following as new clause 20-A :—

" 20-A. Amendment of section 51, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 51 of the principal Act—

(a) in sub-section (1)—

(i) for the words ' every month ', the words ' in the months of January, April, July and October every year ', shall be substituted;

(ii) for the words ' current market price ', the words ' the average market price during the immediately preceding three months ', shall be substituted;

(b) for sub-section (2), the following sub-section shall be substituted, namely :—

' (2) Where, for the payment of rent or michavaram by a tenant to whom the provisions of this Act apply, the cash value of any of the crops referred to in sub-section (1) has to be determined, such value shall be determined at the market price at the taluk headquarters last published under sub-section (1) before the date when such rent or michavaram became payable.' "

The motion was put and carried.

Clause 21.

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN :—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, Clause 21 provides for the repeal of section 52-A of the principal Act and the Government have introduced a new section—section 11 to the principal Act—under clause 14 of the Bill in the place of section 52-A of the principal Act. Section 52-A of the principal Act deals with the right of tenants to prove before the Rent Settlement Authority whether a transaction is a mortgage or a tenancy. A part of this section has been incorporated in the new section—section 11—but the important part of section 52-A has been omitted. The proviso to section 52-A of the principal Act states that if it is found that the mortgage amount in South Malabar is less than sixty per cent of the value of the janmi's rights in the holding and in other places less than 40 per cent, the Rent Settlement Authority shall, until the contrary is proved, presume that the transaction is not one of mortgage. I want to know from the Hon. the Chief Minister why the Government do not want to incorporate this very important proviso."

[9th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—“ We have already discussed that question and we are now on a different clause.”

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—“ The hon. Member Sri P. K. Gopalakrishnan referring to the proviso to section 52-A wanted to know only why the powers conferred on Rent Courts to decide whether a deed is a mortgage or tenancy have been taken away. The Rent Courts decide whether a deed is a mortgage or tenancy and if the latter is proved, fixity of tenure is given to the tenants. The hon. Member referred only to this aspect of the matter and not to the ratio 60 : 40 per cent on which basis the Rent Courts decide whether a deed is a mortgage or a tenancy.”

Clause 21 was put and carried.

New clause after clause 21.

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—“ I beg to move—

‘ For sub-section (1) of section 52-B, substitute the following :—

“ (1) The rent-fixing authority shall on application from any person desiring to cultivate any waste land or forest land require by order, the landlord of such land to lease it for agricultural purposes to such person within such time as may be specified in the order in tenancy terms.”

Retain the proviso under sub-section (1).

In sub-section (2) of section 52-B, omit the words “ or officer ” and for the word “ may ” substitute the word “ shall ”.

“ My amendment is a very important one. Every hon. Member is aware of the fact that the district of Malabar is deficit in food. Some hon. Members even call my district as a liability on the State, in the sense that the Government have to spend a large sum of money for supplying food to the people of that district. There are lakhs and lakhs of acres of cultivable land remaining uncultivated. Unlike the Andhra State or the remaining districts of this State, the cultivable waste lands in the district of Malabar belong to private parties and not to the Government. These private owners of waste lands are not willing to lease these lands to poor cultivators for cultivation purposes. Under section 52-B of the principal Act, the State Government or such officer as they may authorise in this behalf may, by order, require the landlord of any waste land to lease it for agricultural purposes. It is in that connection that I have given the amendment and my amendment lays down that the rent-fixing authority shall on application from any person desiring to cultivate any waste land require the landlord of such land to lease it for agricultural purposes. It is a very important amendment. Even now I have got several telegrams and memoranda that landlords are not allowing the poor tenants to cultivate their lands. Realising the importance of the matter,

[9th January 1954] [Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar]

at least as far as the food deficiency in the district of Malabar is concerned, I would request the Hon. the Chief Minister to give attention to this matter.”

The amendment was duly seconded.

MR. SPEAKER :—“ Motion moved—

‘ For sub-section (1) of section 52-B, substitute the following :—

“ (1) The rent-fixing authority shall on application from any person desiring to cultivate any waste land or forest land require by order, the landlord of such land to lease it for agricultural purposes to such person within such time as may be specified in the order in tenancy terms.”

Retain the proviso under sub-section (1).

In sub-section (2) of section 52-B, omit the words “ or officer ” and for the word “ may ”, substitute the word “ shall ”.

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—“ Mr. Speaker, Sir, under section 52-B of the existing Act, the State Government or such officer as they may authorise may require the landlord of any waste or forest land to lease it for agricultural purposes to such person, for such term, subject to such conditions and within such time as may be specified in the order. Although the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1951, came into force on the 15th of March 1952 and though two years have nearly elapsed, no officer has been authorised by the Government to exercise the powers under section 52-B. In the book called ‘ Five Years’ Achievements ’ regarding the district of Malabar, it is stated that the extent of cultivable waste land available is about 18 lakhs of acres. In an answer to a question in the earlier days of the Assembly, the Hon. the Revenue Minister was pleased to say that there are five to six lakhs of acres of cultivable land. Whether the extent of cultivable land is five or six or eighteen lakhs of acres, it is immaterial. The fact is there that there is an enormous extent of waste land available for cultivation purposes. Malabar is a deficit district and more and more food production should be encouraged. Instead, there has been inordinate and inexplicable delay in the matter and the Government is indifferent to promotion of cultivation of waste lands. Not an acre of waste land has been brought under cultivation. The amendment proposed seeks to create a machinery, namely, a Rent Court to whom a willing cultivator may make an application and the Rent Court may straightaway consider the application. A machinery is absolutely essential for the purpose of carrying out section 52-B and the purpose of the amendment is only to create that machinery.”

SRI C. H. THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"Sir, there is already section 52-B of the original Act. We are taking steps to see that the lands are distributed. Necessary action is being taken in that regard. Regarding the appointment of a machinery, viz., a Rent Fixation Authority, I do not think it will be able to function properly. We have to appoint a Special Officer. All these things are under the active consideration of Government. It was held up because of the impending Bill. But as soon as we pass this Bill, I think we will be able to move quickly. That is all what I have to say. I think the suggestion put forward is not workable. It may land us in difficulties."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR:—"Has the Hon. Minister for Law given active consideration as to how to implement section 52-B of the original Act? Have they decided upon the officers to be appointed for this purpose? The Hon. Minister has not given a definite answer. I think the acceptance of the suggestion now put forward would definitely go to create a concrete machinery for bringing waste land under cultivation."

SRI C. H. KANARAN:—"The Hon. Minister for Law said just now that steps are being taken by Government for bringing waste lands under the plough. Will the Hon. Minister amend the Bill now itself in such a way that a concrete machinery could be created for carrying out the work of bringing waste lands under cultivation?"

MR. SPEAKER:—"I shall now put the amendment of Sri T. C. Narayana Nambiar to the vote of the House. The question is—

For sub-section (1) of section 52-B, substitute the following:—

"(1) The rent-fixing authority shall on application from any person desiring to cultivate any waste land or forest land require by order the landlord of such land to lease it for agricultural purposes to such person within such time as may be specified in the order in tenancy terms."

Retain the proviso under sub-section (1).

In sub-section (2) of section 52-B, omit the words "or officer" and for the word "may", substitute the word "shall".

The amendment was put and lost.

Clause 22.

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"I intend first moving my amendment seeking to substitute a new section for section 52-E."

MR. SPEAKER:—"How can that be done? I shall take up amendments to section 52-C first. 'E' must come after 'C'." (Laughter.)

SRI P. S. KRISHNASWAMY AYYANGAR:—"Sir, I move—
In the proviso to sub-section (4) of the proposed section 52-C add at the end the following:—

"Whose rights claimed in the suit, the legal representative shall succeed subject to the liability to which the original plaintiff would be subject if the latter were alive and conducted the suit to its end."

"I have got a little doubt to be cleared and if the Government say that there is no room for any doubt and if they clarify the position, I shall not press my amendment. It is said in sub-section (4) of the proposed section 52-C that certain rights are personal to the cultivating verumpattamdar. But even when he has filed a suit, and dies subsequently it is said that his legal representative may continue the suit and if the legal representative continues as such he shall be subrogated to the rights which the original verumpattamdar possessed when he instituted the suit. I want to know whether the expression that the 'legal representative shall be entitled to continue the suit' also implies that the legal representative shall succeed to the rights of the original plaintiff subject to the liability to which the original plaintiff would be subject to if the latter were alive and conducted the suit to its end. I want to have that doubt cleared. If it is cleared, I shall withdraw my amendment."

SRI M. JAGANNATHAN:—"I second the amendment just moved."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Motion moved—

In the proviso to sub-section (4) of the proposed section 52-C, add at the end the following:—

"Whose rights claimed in the suit, the legal representative shall succeed subject to the liability to which the original plaintiff would be subject if the latter were alive and conducted the suit to its end."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"I may tell the hon. Member that I had gone through the new section 52-C carefully and I do not think it is necessary to include the present amendment suggesting an addition to the proviso to the proposed section 52-C."

The amendment was, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

[9th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER :—" I shall now take up the amendment of Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar. Let the hon. Member move it."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" Sir, I move—

' In the proposed section 52-C, sub-section (1) omit the proviso :—

" In sub-section (2) for the figures and words ' 28th March 1953 ' substitute the figures and words ' 28th July 1950 ' "

" I congratulate the Hon. Law Minister and the Hon. Chief Minister on their having brought forward a new amendment for the insertion of the new section 52-E to the original Act. I have given the same amendments and also representations have been made on that issue. I hope the Hon. Minister will move it shortly. I congratulate him beforehand. That amendment deals with fugitive cultivation. I am glad that the Government have taken into consideration the difficulties of the tenants engaged in fugitive cultivation and have come to their rescue.

" Apart from that, coming to my amendment which I have just moved, I request the Government to accept it, for in fact it seeks to give relief to the verumpattamdar, to raise whose standard of living and status, the present Bill is intended. This is a vital issue. The tenants should be given protection from 28th March 1950 and not from last year."

SRI C. H. KANARAN :—" I second it."

MR. SPEAKER :—" The question is—

' In the proposed section 52-C, sub-section (1) omit the proviso :—

" In sub-section (2) for the figures and words ' 28th March 1953 ' substitute the figures and words ' 28th July 1950. ' "

The amendment was put and lost.

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" Sir, I move—

' Insert the following as new section 52-E :—

" 52-E. Rent for fugitive cultivation.—Where only a crop known in Malabar as Punam crop is raised on land let for fugitive cultivation rent shall be twice the assessment payable on the land or, where the land has not been assessed, twice the assessment payable on similar land in the neighbourhood. " "

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" The amendment that is now sought to be introduced is no doubt good. But let it be understood that this has been already recommended by the Kuttikrishna Menon Committee as early as 1939. I am grateful to the Government for agreeing to that suggestion at least now."

[9th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER :—" The question is—

' Insert the following as new section 52-E :—

" 52-E. Rent for fugitive cultivation.—Where only a crop known in Malabar as Punam crop is raised on land let for fugitive cultivation rent shall be twice the assessment payable on the land or, where the land has not been assessed, twice the assessment payable on similar land in the neighbourhood. " "

The amendment was put and carried.

The clause as amended was put and carried.

Clause 23.

Clause 23 was put and carried.

Clause 24.

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" Since the present Malabar Tenancy Amendment Bill is an important one and since we have no time to go through the clause-by-clause consideration of the Bill leisurely, I suggest if it is agreeable to the House that we would better sit till 6 o'clock and finish the clause-by-clause consideration of the Bill."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" I heartily commend that suggestion, Sir."

SRI K. VINAYAKAM :—" May I bring to the notice of the House that the Hon. Minister for Harijan Uplift had invited some hon. Members belonging to the Backward Classes for an engagement to-day evening and as such the acceptance of Mr. Krishna Ayyar's suggestion would amount to depriving us of being present here at 6 o'clock."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" But Malabar is more backward, Sir." (Laughter.)

MR. SPEAKER :—" The hon. Member is at liberty to attend that engagement. The only question is whether he would like to be present here till 6 o'clock he would not press for a division when a specific amendment is put to vote."

SRI K. VINAYAKAM :—" How can we give a blank cheque like that, Sir." (Laughter.)

SRI E. K. MOIDU :—" Sir, I move—

' For the words and figures " six agricultural years beginning with 1947-48 and ending with 1952-53 ", substitute the words and figures " three agricultural years beginning with 1950-51 and ending with 1952-53. " "

The amendment was duly seconded.

[9th January 1954]

Mr. SPEAKER :—" Motion moved—

' For the words and figures " six agricultural years beginning with 1947-48 and ending with 1952-53 ", substitute the words and figures " three agricultural years beginning with 1950-51 and ending with 1952-53 " . ' "

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" I move that—

' For the words " six agricultural years . . . 1952-53 ", substitute the words " one agricultural year, i.e., 1952-53 " . ' "

The amendment was duly seconded.

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN :—" I move that—

' For the words and figures " six agricultural years beginning with 1947-48 and ending with 1952-53 " substitute the words and figures " two agricultural years beginning with 1951-52 and ending with 1952-53 " . ' "

SRI R. KRISHNAN :—" I second the amendment."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" I am not moving the amendment No. 87 as No. 45 moved by Sri P. K. Gopalakrishnan deals with the issue."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" I am not moving the amendment No. 37 as it only overlaps the hon. Member Mr. Moidu's amendment."

Mr. SPEAKER :—" I wish to know whether the Government want to say anything."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" I oppose the amendments, Sir."

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN :—" This is a very important matter, Sir. This pertains to arrears of rent payable by the tenant. All these six years, there had been failure of crops and drought prevailing. Now the Government come forward and say that tenants who had been unable to pay rent for the last six years should pay it immediately within three months . . . "

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Sir, if it is on the ground of ' unable ', most of the tenants have deposited the money in courts. It will lead to discrimination."

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN :—" Many have even cleared their rent dues. It is no reason why that rent remission should not be given to those who are unable to pay the rent."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Suits have been filed and money has been deposited in many pending cases. We cannot make a discrimination. It is a very difficult thing."

9th January 1954]

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN :—" Sir, the question is this that for the last six years there had been failure of crops and drought conditions. It is a known fact that in Malabar the situation is much worse. If provision is made now that six years' rent should be paid, the tenants will not be able to pay such large amounts. The security of tenure that is given by one hand is taken back by the other hand. All the tenants who have got arrears to pay would be ousted from land. I hope Government would reconsider the suggestion put forward by me. Even the Malabar Pradesh Congress Committee has recommended only three years' arrears of rent and not six years'. (Interruption by Hon. the Finance Minister.) The Communist Party says ' one year ' ; the Praja Socialist Party says, ' two years ' and the Congress Party says ' three years ' . We may accept if a compromise is arrived at ' three years ' ."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP :—" Sir, the statement made by the Hon. Chief Minister that the tenants have deposited the amounts in suits is not correct. Though there had been suits since 1947, what the Courts did was that they interpreted section 55 of the existing Malabar Tenancy Act as covering all cases and even cases where the suits should have been stayed only on deposits they stayed without deposits due to some reason or discretion. Now therefore in a good number of cases that are pending . . . "

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" The hon. Member Mr. Kurup has really thrown more light on the difficulty that I pointed out. Even though there was necessity for depositing as per law, some have been good enough, orderly enough to deposit, but some have not deposited. So any change now will mean discrimination and it would be unfair."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" In fact, some people have not deposited. They have been tripped on law. Certain courts interpreted the rights and protection given under the section in such a manner that even without deposits they had stayed; but the High Court held that there will be no stay without deposit. Thus, they were tripped on the law. (Interruption by the Hon. Finance Minister.) The Hon. Food Minister knows what lawyers do and I suppose he is certainly aware that lawyers are faithful to their clients in espousing their cause. When judges take certain views and those views become accepted, there are other litigants. There were divergent views in the Courts. That is one reason. Another reason is, I shall give a constructive suggestion, whatever the period fixed whether it is one year, two years or three years—I have already expressed my views when speaking on my amendments—it will not be possible for the tenant to deposit a large amount that might have accumulated within a year, that is, twelve months. Even under the Ordinance, the Indebted Agriculturists Relief Bill, the tenant gets one year. Even within that one year he will not be able to pay. So, in any case, it must be two years' period within which he will be enabled to deposit the rent, whatever the period fixed for arrears of rent."

[9th January 1954]

SRI R. KRISHNAN :—“ മലബാർ കടിയായ്ക്കു നിയമത്തിൽ പാസ്സായിരിക്കുന്നതിനുള്ള വകുപ്പുകളുടെ എല്ലാ ഗുണങ്ങളും രാജിപ്പെടുത്താൻ ജന്മിമാർക്ക് സൗകര്യം നൽകുന്ന ഒരു വ്യവസ്ഥയാണ് ആദ്യ കൊല്ലത്തെ പാട്ടബാക്കി കൊടുക്കണമെന്നു പറയുന്നത്. മിക്ക ജന്മിമാരും പാട്ടം അടയ്ക്കാൻ രാജിതി കൊടുക്കാത്തവരാണ്. ഈ നിയമം ഇങ്ങനെ പാസ്സായാൽ പാട്ടബാക്കിയുടെ പേരിൽ കൃഷിക്കാരന്റെ വീടും പറമ്പും വീട്ടുസാമഗ്രികളും ജപ്തിചെയ്യുന്നതിന് സൗകര്യം ജന്മിക്ക് കിട്ടുന്നുണ്ട്. അതുകൊണ്ട് ഈ വകുപ്പു ഭേദഗതി ചെയ്യണമെന്നാണ് എന്റെ അഭിപ്രായം.”

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—“ The difficulty expressed by the Hon. Chief Minister was that it will be a discrimination against those of the tenants who had already deposited. Sir, it is quite customary if there had been any excess payment of rents, it will be counted for the next year. Thus, there is no difficulty so far as those who have already deposited are concerned. In view of what the Hon. Law Minister said yesterday about those people who had remitted arrears of rent, I hope the Hon. Chief Minister will consider this question again. As I said yesterday, it was during his time when he was the Chief Minister in 1938 that the arrears of rent were wiped off provided two years' arrears were paid. I do not find any more prosperity or any more improvement in the condition of the tenants of Malabar now so that they can be asked to pay six years' arrears of rent. Moreover I am afraid that it is for the Hon. Chief Minister that a change has come in the sense that he does not help the tenantry, as he was doing in 1938. I hope the Hon. Chief Minister will see the justice of this demand.”

SRI K. MADHAVAN NAMBIAR :—“ ആദ്യ കൊല്ലത്തെ പാട്ടത്തെ കൊടുക്കണമെന്നു നമ്പ്രം പടിക്കുന്ന ബഹുമാനപ്പെട്ട മിഷ്ട്രിയെ 1937 ൽ ക്രൈസ്തവസമിതിയുടെ പാസ്സാക്കിയത് കർമ്മപ്പെടുത്തിക്കൊള്ളണം.”

SRI C. H. KANARAN :—“ Is it a question of discrimination? I ask. We cannot look at the problem like that. There are a large number of tenants who are yet to deposit the arrears and those who have paid have mortgaged their ornaments, etc. and have sold everything. I would request that there should be a provision only for two years' arrears. The provision requiring the tenant to deposit the arrears of rent for six years will cause considerable hardship.”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—“ When my colleague (the Hon. Minister for Law) was absent, Sri V. R. Krishna Ayyar suggested that the period may be two years instead of one year. There will be no difficulty. But look at the whole Act and the present changes. It will be rather difficult to make a new provision just now. In the old Act itself there is a provision to the following effect: 'If before the expiry of twelve months from the commencement of this Act or such further time as the Collector may from time to time allow.' So the Collector can grant further time. I request the hon. Member not to press his amendment.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ Is the hon. Member pressing his amendment?”

9th January 1954]

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—“ Yes, Sir.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ I am now putting Sri K. Moidu's amendment to the vote of the House. The question is—

‘For the words and figures “six agricultural years beginning with 1947-48 and ending with 1952-53”, substitute the words and figures “three agricultural years beginning with 1950-51 and ending with 1952-53”.’

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER :—“ I am now putting Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar's amendment to the vote of the House. The question is—

‘For the words “six agricultural years . . . 1952-53”, substitute the words “one agricultural year, i.e., 1952-53”.’

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER :—“ I shall now take up the amendment of Sri P. K. Gopalakrishnan—

‘For the words and figures “six agricultural years beginning with 1947-48 and ending with 1952-53”, substitute the words and figures “two agricultural years beginning with 1951-52 and ending with 1952-53”.’

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—“ I am appealing to my Friend not to press his amendment. I have explained the difficulty. Surely there will be discrimination especially because some have already paid and some have not paid. It will be unfair to a very large number of persons if we allow this amendment. Then there will have to be a provision barring those who have already deposited to get refund.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ Is the hon. Member pressing his amendment?”

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN :—“ I would like to know whether the Hon. Chief Minister would accept the position.”

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—“ We are not able to accept it.”

MR. SPEAKER :—“ I am putting the amendment of Sri P. K. Gopalakrishnan to the vote of the House. The question is—

‘For the words and figures “six agricultural years beginning with 1947-48 and ending with 1952-53”, substitute the words and figures “two agricultural years beginning with 1951-52 and ending with 1952-53”.’

The amendment was declared lost.

A poll was demanded. The division bell was rung. The amendment was again put and lost. The demand for poll was not pressed.

Clause 24 was put and carried.

[9th January 1954]

Clause 25.

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"Sir, I move only the amendment standing in my name—

'After sub-clause (2), insert the following proviso:—

"Provided further that where suits, execution and other proceedings have been stayed by Courts under section 54 or 55 of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1951 (Madras Act XXXIII of 1951) without going into the question whether they came under section 54 or 55, and stay has been ordered without deposit as required by section 4 of the Madras Tenants and Ryots Protection Act, 1949 (Madras Act XXIV of 1949), then the Court shall have discretion, notwithstanding the time-limit fixed by section 4 of the Madras Tenants and Ryots Protection Act, 1949 (Madras Act XXIV of 1949) to allow such deposits to be made within three months after the commencement of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954."

"In moving this amendment, I have to say that I have brought forward this amendment to overcome the difficulty that was mentioned before. Under sections 54 and 55 of the existing Act, there are a number of suits pending in Malabar Courts, without going into the question whether really those suits are governed by section 54 or section 55, think that they are entitled to stay all suits. The difference between these two sections is this, namely, if a suit comes under section 54 and is governed by the provisions of the Madras Tenants and Ryots Protection Act, a deposit has to be made of two years' arrears and the tenant must continue to make the deposit in future also, but in other cases no such deposit need be made. Now, what happened was—of course it may be due to misinterpretation or wrong interpretation of the law by courts—that even cases which came under section 54 were stayed under section 55 without any order for making the deposit. In certain cases that went on appeal, the Hon. the Judges of the High Court have held that if a case really came within the scope of section 54 of the Act it should not be stayed without the necessary deposit. The difficulty arises in this way. If a suit, which ought to have been really stayed under section 54, is stayed under section 55 without any deposit and the time for deposit is also over, the tenants will be helpless and they will automatically be evicted. We are now repealing the Tenants and Ryots Protection Act. What is contemplated in this amendment is to give an opportunity to the Court to rectify any mistake by asking the tenant to deposit the arrears of rent and giving the relief that he is entitled to under this Act, if mistakes have crept in for no fault of the parties to the suit but due to interpretation of the Statute by the Court. Otherwise a large class of tenants whose suits have been stayed without deposits will be hard hit which is not the intention of the Legislature nor the intention of the Judges who granted the stay without

[Sri M. Narayana Kurup]

9th January 1954] deposit. Let the Government examine the amendment. My amendment need not be accepted, but I shall be satisfied if relief is given in the way the Government think fit."

SRI S. S. KOLKEBAIL:—"I second the amendment."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR:—"Sir, I understand from the Hon. Law Minister that he is going to modify the clause in conformity with the substance of the amendment of which I have given notice. Hence I do not propose to move my amendment."

SRI K. M. SEETHI SAHIB:—"Sir, I have given notice of an amendment. The object of it is to give the benefit of the present Act to the tenants who have been dispossessed of the land in their possession. There is a provision in the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act of 1951 giving the benefit of that Act to persons who were dispossessed of the land in their possession. I want a similar right to be given under this Act also. I would like to know the attitude of the Government towards my amendment."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"As regards the first part of the amendment notified by Sri M. Narayana Kurup, the Government have no objection to accept it. It could be bodily incorporated in clause 25 of the Bill."

"As regards the amendment given notice of by Mr. Seethi Sahib, it proposes to give retrospective effect which will mean dispossession of people and re-instatement of others."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"The proviso in Sri Narayana Kurup's amendment may be included as the second proviso under sub-clause (2) of clause 25 with slight verbal changes. The first part of the amendment should read as follows:—

'After sub-clause (2), insert the following as the second proviso:

"Provided further that where suits, execution and other proceedings have been stayed by Courts under section 54 or 55 of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1951"

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"I accept the changes proposed."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR:—"I take it that the Hon. Law Minister is extending the operation of the Act to pending decrees and orders, as I suggested. I thought he had agreed to it."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Is the hon. Member Mr. Seethi Sahib moving his amendment?"

SRI K. M. SEETHI SAHIB:—"I have not heard the view of the Hon. Law Minister regarding my amendment."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"Sir, we have already taken certain decisions. If Mr. Seethi Sahib's amendment is accepted, there will have to be dispossession and re-possession of land and so on. Hence we are not in a position to accept the amendment."

[9th January 1954]

SRI K. M. SEETHI SAHIB:—"I am not moving my amendment as the Government are not willing to accept it."

MR. SPEAKER:—"I will put to vote the amendment of Sri K. Narayana Kurup with the verbal changes proposed by the Hon. Law Minister and accepted by the hon. Member. The question is—

'After sub-clause (2), insert the following as the second proviso:—

"Provided further that where suits, execution and other proceedings have been stayed by Courts under section 54 or 55 of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1951 (Madras Act XXXIII of 1951) without going into the question whether they came under section 54 or 55, and stay has been ordered without deposit as required by section 4 of the Madras Tenants and Ryots Protection Act, 1949 (Madras Act XXIV of 1949), then the Court shall have discretion, notwithstanding the time-limit fixed by section 4 of the Madras Tenants and Ryots Protection Act, 1949 (Madras Act XXIV of 1949), to allow such deposits to be made within three months after the commencement of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954." "

The amendment was put and carried.

Clause 25 as amended was put and carried.

New Clause 26.

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"Sir, I move—

'After clause 25, insert the following as clause 26:—

"26. The Secretary to Government in the Law Department shall renumber the sections and divisions of sections of the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1929, as amended by this Act, so that the sections and divisions shall bear consecutive numbers or letters as the case may be and make necessary consequential corrections in the references to sections and divisions of sections occurring in the Act; and the Act so prepared and certified by the said Officer shall be deemed to be the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1929 as amended by the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954." "

"This is only a formal amendment."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

'After clause 25, insert the following as clause 26:—

"26. The Secretary to Government in the Law Department shall renumber the sections and divisions of sections of the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1929, as amended by this Act, so that the sections and divisions shall bear consecutive numbers or letters as the case may be and make necessary consequential corrections in the references to sections and divisions of sections occurring in the Act; and the Act so prepared and certified by the said Officer shall be deemed to be the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1929, as amended by the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954." "

The amendment was put and carried.

Schedule to the Principal Act.

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"Sir, I move the amendment standing in my name, namely,—

'Add the following 22 villages to the Schedule:—

"Chittari, Kekkanam, Panayal, Pallikaru, Uduma, Baara, Kalanad, Chananad, Perimbusha, Thikkil, Adur-1, Adur, Adur-1-1, Katakam, Muliya-1, Muliya-2, Chengalam, Pata, Muttathodi, Kasaragod, Kootal, Kalingara." "

"The Malabar Tenancy Act has been extended to thirty-three villages of the South Kanara district. My amendment is for further extension of this Act to 22 more villages in the South Kanara district, because the tenure system and other conditions are the same there as prevail in other parts where this Act is in operation. I request the Government to accept my amendment."

SRI C. H. KANARAN:—"I second the amendment, Sir."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"May I make an appeal that this substantial addition to Malabar area need not be pressed now? If it is only a question of examination of the conditions in a few villages the Government will look into it and bring in the necessary measures. No need to take them up now, because it will be a question of deciding whether they are really Kannada area or Malabar customs area."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"Sir, on the assurance given by the Hon. the Chief Minister that if necessity arises, the Act will be extended to other areas by a notification, I beg leave to withdraw my amendment."

The amendment was, by leave, withdrawn.

Clause 3.

Clause 3 was put and carried.

Clause 2.

MR. SPEAKER:—"Motion moved—

'That clause 2 do stand part of the Bill'."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"Sir, I move the amendment standing in my name, namely,—

'In paragraph (ii) (v) in item (iv) of clause 2 for the word "three" substitute the word "one".' "

[9th January 1954]

* THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Instead of ' three ' to be made into ' one ', an explanation can be added to it. I want hon. Members to listen to the explanation that I now read. The explanation is—

Explanation.—Any interruption of the continuity of possession of an ulkudi that has taken place after the 28th March 1953 and before the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act comes into force shall be deemed not to have taken place."

MR. SPEAKER :—" Is the hon. Member Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar moving his amendment to Clause 2 ? "

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" I am not moving my amendment, Sir."

SRI P. S. KRISHNASWAMY AYYANGAR :—" Sir, there are three amendments standing in my name, namely :—

(i) After the definition of " Rent Court ", insert the following proviso :—

" Provided that where a Revenue Divisional Officer is appointed to function as a rent court, no Tahsildar subordinate to him shall be appointed to function as a Revenue Court within the said Revenue Divisional Officer's Division."

I move this amendment, but if the Government think that they can accept it, I shall press my amendment. Otherwise, I drop it. The Revenue Divisional Officer or a Tahsildar may constitute the Rent Court. If a Tahsildar is the Rent Court of any particular area within a Revenue Division, the Revenue Divisional Officer, having jurisdiction over the same Revenue Division, cannot be a Rent Court in regard to some other area of that Revenue Division. If a Revenue Divisional Officer and a Tahsildar happen to be Rent Courts in the same Revenue Division, then the independence of the Courts, for which we are pleading on all occasions, will be jeopardised. For instance, there may be two similar cases pending before the Revenue Divisional Officer and the Tahsildar."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" May I know whether it is in order for an hon. Member to speak of a condition, namely, ' if the Government are prepared to accept my amendment ' ? Is the hon. Member in order in moving this amendment so conditionally as to depend upon the grace of the Government? "

SRI P. S. KRISHNASWAMY AYYANGAR :—" Sir, if I am not in order, I withdraw my condition, and I move the amendment " (Laughter.)

The amendment was duly seconded.

MR. SPEAKER :—" Is the hon. Member Sri V. R. Krishna Ayyar moving his amendment? "

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" It has already been dealt with on an earlier occasion. I am not moving my amendment."

MR. SPEAKER :—" Is the hon. Member Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar moving his amendment? "

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" What is the number of the amendment, Sir? "

[9th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER :—" It is 62 (iii). It reads—

" (iii) Re-number the existing item (iii) as item (iii) (b) and insert the following as item (iii) (a) :—

" (iii) (a) In clause (v) defining ' tenant ', after the words ' and includes ' the words ' a sub-tenant how low so ever ' shall be inserted. " "

If the hon. Member is not moving his amendment let him say so."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" I do not know where is this to be inserted."

SRI C. H. KANARAN :—" This amendment was not circulated Sir."

MR. SPEAKER :—" It was circulated." " The amendment was not moved.

MR. SPEAKER :—" Is the hon. Member Sri V. R. Krishna Ayyar moving his amendment? "

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" What is the number of my amendment, Sir? "

MR. SPEAKER :—" The amendment reads as follows :—

(iv) Add the following as item (iii) (c) :—

" (iii) (c) To clause (v), the following proviso shall be added, namely :—

" Provided that any person who cultivates the land of another for consideration as lessee or as sub-lessee or on any other customary tenure, shall be entitled to claim the benefits conferred upon a tenant by this Act even though he may not be the immediate tenant under the landlord against whom he claims the benefit. " "

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" Is the Hon. Speaker asking me about amendment No. 31 ? "

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" The whole of it hinges on the other amendment relating to ' contract rent or fair rent whichever is less '."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" If I heard the Hon. Speaker aright, I want to extend it not merely to tenants who often times happen to be intermediaries but to the actual cultivating tenants who may be described as sub-tenants, so much so that the privileges or the benefits extended under the Act to a tenant may be available to a sub-tenant who is an actual cultivating tenant. That is the purport of my amendment."

SRI P. S. KRISHNASWAMY AYYANGAR :—" Sir, I move the following amendment to clause 2 of the Bill :—

" In item (iv) for the word " or " occurring between the word " ulkudi " and the word " kudikidappu ", substitute the word " and " "

[Sri P. S. Krishnaswamy Ayyangar] [9th January 1954]

As I stated with regard to a previous amendment it is only a grammarian's amendment. The Government may kindly accept the amendment."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"With reference to a definition in the previous Act, the word 'or' has been used. Therefore, it is correct to use here the word 'or'."

SRI P. S. KRISHNASWAMY AYYANGAR:—"Sir, I shall say what I wish to say. After that, if the Government feel that the word 'or' is all right, I have no objection. Now, if copies of the Act are printed and if in some copies 'ulkudi' alone is defined and in some other copies 'kudikidappu' is defined, then one may say that the proposed definition may be accepted as the definition of 'ulkudi' or 'kudikidappu'. But in every copy that we print, there is the definition of 'ulkudi' and 'kudikidappu'. Therefore, 'and' would be the proper word here. Even then, if the Government think that the word 'or' is properly used here, I have no objection. But to me it seems that 'and' alone would be the proper word here. If the mistake has already been committed in a previous Act I feel that that mistake need not be continued here."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"We are revising the previous Act and in the previous Act on page 9 of the printed book, the hon. Member will see clauses (v), (vv) and (vv). In clause (vv) it is stated 'Ulkudi' or 'kudikidappu' means 'so and so.' So, we have to refer to it only that way."

SRI M. NARAYANA KURUP:—"Sir, I move the following amendment which stands in my name—

'After item (iv), insert the following as item (v):—

"(v) in clause (iv) (2) defining 'cultivating verumpattamdar' the words 'or substantially the whole of it' shall be added as the end."

Sir, this is a very small amendment to the definition of 'cultivating verumpattamdar'. The object of my amendment is this. A cultivating verumpattamdar must be first a verumpattamdar and must cultivate the land. Now, in a holding of, say, ten acres there may be one or two kudiyruppus or a few cents which are in the possession of tenants. Courts have held that in order that a verumpattamdar may be a cultivating verumpattamdar, he must be in entire possession of every inch of the property. That the object is not so is clear on a reading of the other provisions which refer to the major portion of it or substantially the whole of it in his possession. Therefore, my amendment is intended only to rectify this defect. It is more or less a technical amendment. No material changes are proposed and my amendment is intended only to cure this defect created by some judicial decisions. I hope it will be accepted by the Government."

The amendment was seconded.

9th January 1954]

SRI C. H. KANARAN:—"Sir, I move—

'Renumber the existing item (iii) as item (iii) (b) and insert the following as item (iii) (a):—

"(iii) (a) in clause (v), defining 'tenant' after the words 'and includes', the words 'a sub-tenant how low so ever' shall be inserted."

The amendment was duly seconded.

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN:—"Sir, I move the following amendment that stands in my name:—

'For item (iv), substitute the following:—

"(iv) clause (vv) defining 'ulkudi' or 'kudikidappu', the following clause shall be substituted, namely:—

"(vv) (i) "Ulkudi" means any portion of land outside Fort Cochin in which a person is allowed to put up a hut and reside therein or is allowed to reside in a hut put up by the landlord whether such person has agreed to pay rent or not.

(ii) "Protected ulkudi" means an ulkudi which has been in the continuous occupation of the holder or of any member of his tarwad, tavazhi, illom, kutumba, kavaru, or family for not less than one year.

(iii) "Kudikidappu" means any portion of a land in Fort Cochin in which a person is allowed to put up a hut and reside therein or is allowed to reside in a hut put up by the landlord whether such person has agreed to pay rent or not."

Sir, my amendment is in consonance with the provisions of the principal Act. The present Bill seeks to amend the definition of 'ulkudi', as meaning a hut in any portion of a land whereas in the original Act 'ulkudi' or 'kudikidappu' was defined as meaning any portion of a garden land wherein a hut was allowed to be put up. There is much difference between the two. According to the definition proposed in the Bill, an ulkudidar has got a right only over the hut and has no right over the appurtenant land. Naturally an ulkudidar will be raising some plantains or some vegetables around his hut. Now, if the definition proposed in the Bill is accepted as it is, the janmi or the landlord will be able to see that all those plantains and vegetables are removed. That is going on now in Malabar. I have come across dozens of cases of ulkudidars trying to raise plantains and other vegetables around their huts and the landlord coming and forcibly removing them unless all the fruits are given to him. Now, the present Amending Bill seeks to give protection in this respect to the landlord and not to the tenant. In this connexion, I would draw the attention of the House as well as of the Government to the dissenting note written by the hon. Member Sri A. Appu to the Report of the Joint Select Committee, wherein he has said—

'Instead of improving upon the definition of "ulkudi" and "kudikidappu", the present Amending Bill has mutilated the original definition and it would appear as though the ulkudi tenant has to cling on to the superstructure of his hut and not to stay on the site and the appurtenant land so absolutely needed for his residence The present Bill is markedly retrograde compared to the Amending Act of 1951 in the above respect."

This is a very important thing because the attack on the part of landlords against ulkudidars raising vegetables and other things around the hut has been going on and ulkudidars have been in a disadvantageous position. Now the Government come forward to give legality to the attacks of the landlord. I hope that the Government will realize the position and amend the definition suitably. Again, the Hon. the Chief Minister the other day promised that for protected ulkudi, one year's stay would be enough for security of tenure. That has not been expressed in the Bill. So, that question has also to be considered."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" Sir, I want to draw the serious attention of the Government to one small point and it is just this. Under the existing Act as interpreted by the Courts, it has always been held that the Act is concerned only with the landlord and his immediate tenant. So, a sub-tenant who is entitled to relief under the Act has always been denied that relief for the reason that he is not a tenant but only a sub-tenant. The Malabar Tenancy Act does not deal with a sub-tenant. Actually what the Government and the House intend is to benefit the cultivator. The cultivator may not have the right at all to claim the benefits under the Act if he is not a tenant but is only a sub-tenant. It is common knowledge that in Malabar we have got a number of intermediaries and each intermediary becomes a tenant, a man below him being only a sub-tenant. I, therefore, seek by this amendment to confer all the benefits that a tenant can claim, that is, that an intermediary can claim, upon the cultivator even though he may happen to be a sub-tenant. The Government must protect this class of people also. Therefore we suggest that some suitable provision may be inserted so that these sub-tenants can also be brought within the field of beneficiaries under this Bill."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" Sir, regarding the definition of Ulkudi, we have given the correct definition. We have given them further rights and I do not think there is any difficulty with reference to the present definition. Regarding the point raised by Mr. Krishna Ayyar, if a sub-tenant was actually cultivating the land, he is also protected under the Act. He also gets benefit under this Act and there is no necessity to have a provision as suggested by Mr. Krishna Ayyar."

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" As regards sub-tenants, there are some hard cases decided by the High Court right from 1941 to 1952, to the effect that they are not included within the category of tenants. I will be thankful to the Hon. Minister if it could be expressly stated that these people also come under the category of tenants. By so doing, nothing will be lost, but much may be gained."

9th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" There is no difficulty as to that. Regarding Mr. Kurup's amendment, we find it difficult to accept the same. As for Mr. Krishna Ayyar's suggestion, the Government are not prepared to accept any one of the amendments, as they are not necessary. As regards ulkudi and protected ulkudi, we have come to certain conclusions and according to those conclusions, we will act."

SRI C. H. KANARAN :—" What about our amendment No. 62, Sir? "

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" Sir, the Government are not able to accept that amendment, as it is not necessary to accept it. Regarding Mr. Kurup's amendment also, the Government find it difficult to accept it as it is unnecessary."

MR. SPEAKER :—" What has the Hon. Minister to say about the amendments of Sri P. S. Krishnaswami Ayyangar? "

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" Those amendments are also unnecessary. I request him to withdraw them."

MR. SPEAKER :—" Is the hon. Member Sri Krishnaswami Ayyangar withdrawing his amendments? "

SRI P. S. KRISHNASWAMY AYYANGAR :—" I have moved two amendments. To which amendment, is the Hon. Minister referring, Sir? "

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" All the amendments."

SRI P. S. KRISHNASWAMY AYYANGAR :—" I withdraw all the amendments, Sir."

The amendments of Sri P. S. Krishnaswami Ayyangar were, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

The amendment of Sri M. Narayana Kurup was put and lost.

SRI C. H. KANARAN :—" What about our amendment for the inclusion of the words, ' a sub-tenant how low so ever ' ? "

MR. SPEAKER :—" Is he withdrawing the amendment? "

SRI C. H. KANARAN :—" No, Sir."

MR. SPEAKER :—" The question is—

' Renumber the existing item (iii) as item (iii) (b) and insert the following as item (iii) (a) :—

" (iii) (a) in clause (v) defining ' tenant ', after the words ' and includes ', the words ' a sub-tenant how low so ever ' shall be inserted." "

The amendment was put and lost.

[9th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER :—" I am now going to put the amendment of hon. Member Sri P. K. Gopalakrishnan to the vote of the House. The question is—

' For item (iv), substitute the following :—

" (iv) for clause (vv) defining 'ulkudi' or 'kudikidappu', the following clause shall be substituted, namely :—

' (vv) (i) "Ulkudi" means any portion of land outside Fort Cochin in which a person is allowed to put up a hut and reside therein or is allowed to reside in a hut put up by the landlord, whether such person has agreed to pay rent or not.' "

(ii) "Protected ulkudi" means an ulkudi which has been in the continuous occupation of the holder or of any member of his tarwad, tavazhi, illom, kutumba, kavaru, or family for not less than one year.

(iii) "Kudikidappu" means any portion of a land in Fort Cochin in which a person is allowed to put up a hut and reside therein or is allowed to reside in a hut put up by the landlord, whether such person has agreed to pay rent or not.' "

The amendment was put and lost.

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" On a point of order, often-times, when 'ayes' are called, we find the voice from Government benches is raised so much that it appears that it is one and the same voice that is being reflected." (Laughter.)

MR. SPEAKER :—" I am now going to put the Government amendment to the vote of the House. The question is—

' In paragraph (ii) of (vv) in item (iv) of clause 2, for the word "three", substitute the word "one".' "

The amendment was put and carried.

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" Sir, I move that the following be added to paragraph (ii) of (vv) in item (iv) of clause 2 :—

' Explanation.—Any interruption of the continuity of possession of an ulkudi that has taken place after 28th March 1953, and before the Malabar Tenancy Amendment Act, 1954, comes into force, shall be deemed not to have taken place.' "

The amendment was put and carried.

Clause 2, as amended, was put and carried.

Clause 1.

Clause 1 was put and carried.

9th January 1954]

New Clause 1-A.

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" Sir, I move the following amendment standing in my name, which is a consequential one :—

' After clause 1, insert the following as clause 1-A :—

" Amendment of section 2, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 2 of the principal Act,—

' (i) in sub-section (1), the words "or for fugitive cultivation" shall be omitted.

(ii) in the same sub-section, after the words "for the market", the words "or, subject to section 52-E, land let only for fugitive cultivation" shall be added.' "

The amendment was put and carried.

PREAMBLE.

MR. SPEAKER :—" The motion is—' That the Preamble do stand part of the Bill.' "

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" Sir, I move—

' Insert the following further Preambles :—

" And whereas rents of agrarian holdings are being levied at high and unreasonable rates;

And whereas there has been widespread demand for protection of cultivating tenants against exorbitant rentals and fixing up of more moderate and fairer rentals by bringing down the existing rents;

And whereas it is necessary to protect the tenants from eviction and give fixity of tenure to them.' "

SRI K. C. GOPALAN UNNI :—" I second the amendment."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" It is unnecessary, Sir. I oppose it. What is mentioned in the Bill is sufficient and I would request the hon. Member to withdraw his amendment."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR :—" The Bill has provided for fixity of tenure and reduction of rent, according to the Government. Then why should they fight shy of having the Preamble that I have suggested? "

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" Sir, it will be a bad precedent to introduce propaganda in statutes."

SRI C. H. KANARAN :—" Why should amendments that do not go against the purposes of the Bill be withdrawn? "

[9th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER :—" It is only the title of the Bill. I shall put the amendment to the vote of the House. The question is—

'Insert the following further Preamble :—

"And whereas rents of agrarian holdings are being levied at high and unreasonable rates;

And whereas there has been widespread demand for protection of cultivating tenants against exorbitant rentals and fixing up of more moderate and fairer rentals by bringing down the existing rents;

And whereas it is necessary to protect the tenants from eviction and give fixity of tenure to them." "

The amendment was put and lost.

The Preamble was put and carried.

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR :—" Sir, I move—

'That the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1953, as amended be passed into law.'

Sir, in doing so, I have to thank hon. Members for the way in which they have co-operated with the Government in getting through this piece of legislation which is perhaps one of the most difficult of measures which the House has ever had to consider. I must also thank you, Sir, for giving us an opportunity to discuss this Bill in such detail."

MR. SPEAKER :—" Motion moved—

'That the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1953, as amended be passed into law.' "

(At this stage Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar occupied the Chair.)

SRI P. K. GOPALAKRISHNAN :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill is going to be passed into law in a few moments. It does not meet some of the most important demands of the peasants of Malabar. It falls short of the demands of the peasants of Malabar in three respects. One is with regard to security of tenure; that is, we demanded deletion of sections 14 and 20 of the principal Act. That has not been done. With regard to wiping out of arrears of rent, it has not met our demand. Then, thirdly with regard to definition of ulkudis and kudikidappus, again it falls short of our expectations. Almost ninety per cent of the demands of the peasants of Malabar have thus not been met. Therefore, I would like to point out that if the Government seek to remove the difficulties of the tenants in Malabar, they will have to bring forward another amending Bill in the near future. Unless the Government bring forward another amending Bill which seeks to give all the facilities that the tenants demand by way of security of tenure, reduction of rent, etc., I am sure that the tenants will start agitating against this Act itself. Of course, the Bill contains some provisions which are acceptable to us. But that does not mean that the main demands of the peasants of Malabar are met. The Government have always tried to prevent any reasonable amendment moved by the Opposition being accepted by the House. Only four Members from Malabar belonging to the Congress Party did not stand with the Opposition while a large majority of Members from Malabar were proposing amendments acceptable to the tenants. That should show what the will of the people and what the mind of the people of Malabar are. I hope Government have understood it and they will immediately—say within a few months' time—bring forward another Bill to amend this Act and provide facilities for tenants to live in peace."

9th January 1954] [Sri P. K. Gopalakrishnan]

SRI V. R. KRISHNA AYYAR :—" Mr. Chairman, Sir, I rise with mixed feelings on this occasion. I unhesitatingly recognize that the provisions of this Bill will certainly improve the lot of the ryot or the tenant in Malabar. But I also see that the large expectations of the tenantry of Malabar and the fairly unanimous public opinion in Malabar have not been fully respected. With some disappointment, I may mention that in certain respects there has been even certain retrograde features in the Bill. It is unfortunate that the Government have viewed the various suggestions made by the Opposition with considerable suspicion. Even the salutary suggestions that have been made have been carried by the Government saying they are unnecessary or that they do not accept them. That was the sort of argument put forth by the Government. There were many suggestions, many good and constructive suggestions put forth by the Opposition. They were also very moderate in their tone. They were positive, constructive and sober. All the same, they did not commend themselves to the Government. They were rejected. I do not know why. This attitude of the Government has created a sense of sadness. Even in respect of fairly unanimous demands made by the people of Malabar, the Government did not accept them. They have not chosen to feel the pulse of the people. They have not understood the feelings of the people of Malabar. On the whole, the Government did not permit the Opposition to help them with constructive suggestions. On the other hand, by a majority—I do not know if 'brute majority' is a parliamentary expression—I would say by a mute majority they have allowed themselves to overrule the feelings and sentiments of the Malabar people. All the same, I must thank the Government for certain improvements made in the Bill, particularly the one relating to fugitive cultivation and the like. Whatever it is, this question cannot be solved just by tinkering with the problem in a piecemeal way and by bringing forward patchwork amendments. This kind of policy will not achieve anything. Unless a comprehensive legislation, which will establish peasant proprietorship on a compensatory basis which is possible and practicable, is brought forward we cannot tackle this problem. The wish of the people and the consciousness of the people are ripe enough to work such a reform and that alone will be a happy consummation of their wish. We devoutly wish for the early consummation of that wish and I wonder whether we will have it achieved during the life of the present Government itself."

SRI K. M. SEETHI SAHIB :—“ Mr. Chairman, Sir, when the Government Bill was first published, it came to us all as a disappointing piece of legislation and some of us expressed frankly our views about the Bill. But while the Bill was considered by the Select Committee and later when it came up for discussion on the floor of this House, I should gratefully acknowledge that the Government took a very helpful attitude. Government showed very sympathetic attitude towards the points raised by us a definite bias in favour of the welfare of the tenants. They agreed to and formulated a number of amendments which will give far-reaching benefits to the tenant class in Malabar. It will be sheer ingratitude on the part of hon. Members here to deny the credit due to Government for having given all these concessions to the tenants. I convey my heartiest congratulations to Government for having extended those concessions to the tenants of Malabar. Firstly in the matter of fixity, Government have given fixity of tenure to all tenants who have been in occupation of the land for six years, a proposition which came as an agreeable disappointment to most of us on this side of the House. Fixity of tenure after a period of occupation of twelve years was considered by some of the leading organs of public opinion in Malabar to be a very liberal concession made by the Government. The present concession, namely, that six years period would be sufficient to give fixity of tenure to the tenant, is a greater concession. But we, the Members of the Muslim League, have to express our disappointment at the Government not accepting some of the amendments moved by us on account of the difficulty which Government expressed in reconciling conflicting interest with reference to land tenure in Malabar. All

[Sri K. M. Seethi Sahib]

9th January 1954] the same, we, the Members of the Muslim League Party, have to certainly congratulate the Government on this piece of legislation they are placing in the Statute Book. It is undoubtedly a great advance on the existing Act as amended by the amending Act of 1951. It will certainly be appreciated by the tenants of Malabar. Indeed no piece of legislation can be considered to be the final word on the subject. As time advances amendments may come in. Public opinion might veer round and Government may have to accept such amendments as would meet the demands of the public. For the time-being, the legislation that is being placed on the Statute Book should be welcomed by very large sections of the public in Malabar. In this connexion, it is my earnest wish and prayer that all of us should contribute to the contentment and prosperity of the people in Malabar by bringing about good understanding between the landlords and tenants. We should give them a stimulus to cultivate the land peacefully and well so that food production may increase and with the increase in food production the prosperity of the land may also increase. This can only be achieved by the establishment of good relationship between the landlords and the tenants. May this piece of legislation bring in peace and contentment among the people in the district of Malabar.”

SRI K. P. GOPALAN :—“ Mr. Chairman, Sir, for the past two days we have been discussing this Bill. We brought forward many amendments and pressed them for the acceptance of Government and opposed many of the amendments brought forward by Government. From the deliberations here, I am sure, the people of Malabar will judge what we have done in the Assembly and what the Government have done for the good of the people. I need not speak much on that.

“ Even for this piece of legislation the people of Malabar fought so many big battles. It is because of the great sacrifices made by the people of Malabar that the Government were forced to bring in this legislation. When the original Bill was introduced in the House, I protested vehemently against the provisions contained in that Bill. Though some concessions have been made by Government in the present Bill, they have not effected any basic change in the tenure system of Malabar and this Bill I am sure, will not satisfy the people of Malabar. I have no doubt about it. Regarding the amendments moved by us I am certain the people of Malabar, the peasants of Malabar, will support us in having moved those amendments and oppose the Government for rejecting them. Government did not take a favourable view especially in regard to arrears of rent for the non-payment of which the landlord could evict the tenant from his holding. We pressed the Government to accept the formula that in fixing fair rents, the fair rent or the contract rent whichever is less should be accepted. But Government did not agree to this formula. Now provision has been made in the Bill that if a tenant was in possession of a holding for a period of six years, he shall not be evicted from his holding. But I wish to bring to the notice of Government, there are thousands and thousands of peasants who are in possession of the land for

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—“ Mr. Speaker, Sir, I must first express my gratification that we have come to the concluding stage of this Bill in spite of all the difficulties involved. I am very glad that it has been possible to make a great improvement in the position of the tenants. Notwithstanding the observations of the hon. Members sitting opposite that what has been done is not much, I do feel sincerely that a great deal has been done and that the position of the tenants has been very greatly eased.

“ The number of concessions that we introduced in the Bill and which I enunciated the other day, I thought, would satisfy hon. Members to the extent of changing their minds and their attitude altogether. I am grievously disappointed at the persistent stand which they have taken. But I can understand that policy of theirs. Because, if the sum-total of the concessions are important and if they changed their attitude, it means that they must wind up their party in Malabar, which it is impossible for them to do. If our concessions are really so big and good and if that should satisfy the Communist Party, they have no future, as they imagine in Malabar. It is very natural indeed. And, therefore, I can understand the vehement statements and protests that they are making at the concluding stage of the proceedings, which indicate that they have really appreciated the great changes made and that they are very much concerned about their own future. That is why they say, this Bill will never satisfy the people of Malabar and they will bring the entire people against this Bill.

“ Sir, after all, they should deal with me in a different way. They might deal with the party that is in office in the way in which they have done. But, I think, they are wrong in dealing with me in this manner when I have broken all conventions and have allowed myself to be exploited by the hon. Gentlemen sitting opposite. I have allowed myself willingly and voluntarily to be exploited by them and have made many concessions. As a matter of fact, though it was the Government's own decision and the Government's own voluntary decision, still I am willing to put it this way: that the concessions were due to the requests made by them and due to the pressure brought to bear on us by them. Yet they did not take advantage of that position. They could have gone out and said to the people of Malabar: ‘ These are the concessions that we got. Look at the statement of the Chief Minister. He says that he gave them on account of pressure brought to bear upon him by us. That is our utility and you must, therefore, recognise us as an important party in the country.’ They could have done that in a reasonable way. If I had been leading their party, I would have done it. But they are unable to understand the position that way. They think on narrow lines. They think that only forceful speaking, shouting and vehement utterances bring strength to the party. They are greatly mistaken. After receiving the announcement of the concessions from me and after expressing great and cordial approval in the manner in which they received it in the House, I saw Members and the deputation that came and I questioned them, understood their case, considered their position. Then I saw Mr. Kelappan who came on his party's account and mentioned to me certain points. Although they non-co-operated when they were invited to participate in the Joint Select Committee, they came and explained their view points. We dispersed in a cordial atmosphere. We have carried out here in this House, most of the things pressed for and some that were refused in the Joint Select Committee. Now, hon. Members sitting opposite and the same deputation go out and hold public meetings and shout, at the top of their voice, that this Bill has been forced by the Government on the people of Malabar and they will resist it to the last drop of their blood. I do not know if they used the word ‘ blood ’. (Voices from the Opposition: ‘ No.’) I am glad that they did not use the word ‘ blood ’. Metaphorically, it means not the blood but all the energy that it contains. This is not a fair way of dealing with one who has done so much not only for the tenants but so much for the party opposite in every respect, not only in this matter but in every respect. I am treating them like my children. They do not appreciate it. I am expressing my feelings as a father would do. But after all this, what is the position? In this connection, I wish to point out a fundamental mistake. It is true, in a political contest, any particular party, whether it is the Congress Party or the Communist Party or any other party, may come on top in the elections. We have a Constitution and it is not the Communist Constitution but the Congress has given a Constitution to the country which has been accepted. This Constitution is based on adult suffrage so that the larger number of people have a majority and govern. Now, does it mean, therefore, that under the Constitution, whatever the larger number of people, who will always be on the top, demand in their interests, must be the law? But, to claim that what pleases the majority of the people or the larger number of people and what satisfies the private interests of the majority of the people must be taken to be the law for the country and accordingly, must be made the law of the country, would be a demonstration that adult suffrage and democracy are unjust. No country can tolerate such a tyranny of the majority. I stand for another principle. Hon. Members should understand it. If they do not immediately understand it, I want them to reflect on it. It may be that adult suffrage is right. It gives the majority always to the 'have-nots.' But that does not mean that the 'have-nots' can oppress the 'haves.' It does not mean that the majority should always have it according to their own private interests. Now, the claim of the tenants here is the claim of the interests of the tenants. It is true that the number of tenants is larger than the number of landholders. That does not mean that it is always right to legislate in the democracy that we are working under, on the basis that whatever the larger number of the people demand, must be made into law. We must resist that wrong principle. It is not what is demanded, that should guide us. We have a right to sit together, consider and discuss things and we must do the right thing and not merely what the larger number of people want. This applies to any party. Therefore, I want the younger Members of the Communist party to realise that until we adopt a different system of life and Government, we ought not to act in this manner. Simply because a large number of people have signed certain printed forms or a large number of people have been returned on the tenants' side, must landholders be liquidated? Must there not be landholders at all? But that is not possible. Therefore, hon. Members should reflect on the position. We must consider the Bill not from the point of view of what a large number of people of Malabar would be pleased with, but from the point of view of what is good for the largest number of people. If the landlords are bad and oppressive, whether they are in a majority or minority, I can understand a move to prevent those landlords from oppressing the tenants and to give due rights to the tenants. But what is exactly the case? Lakhs and lakhs of landlords are miserably poor people. It has been proved by statistics that four lakhs of people are small owners of land. What does it matter whether the poor man is called a landlord or a tenant? Is there any justice in saying that the tenants shall have all the rights in the land and that these other poor people, who imagined till now that in reality they are owners, should become practically beggars in the street? We cannot allow that. Therefore it is that we have provided, I say, fairly good terms for both sides and they can live happily together.

"Now, I wish to point out to my young Friends in this House that happiness is not to be got by laws or by regulations. All these years the law has grown. Did anybody make any law defining a Verumpattamdar or an Ulkudi? All these terms have grown by themselves. This tenancy law has grown in the culture of Malabar. It is a voluntary law which has grown, so to say, by custom. Let us not break it by imagining that we can draft a law better than what custom has made into law. The culture of Malabar is inherently connected with these rights, these duties and obligations. If we break all that made the culture, we will break up the culture also. I say to my Friends from Malabar that if they want the culture of Malabar to be retained they must not break all that produced that culture. If we cut at the root, the tree falls to the ground. There is nothing else to result from it. If, therefore, my Friends of Malabar desire that they should maintain their culture, they should maintain their laws and customs, the substantial ones that produced that culture and remove only the dead wood—remove only what is unfair and unjust. They must not replace one set of poor people by another set of poor people and create starvation and begging in the streets of Malabar. Therefore, I submit, that the Bill that we have concluded to-day is a good law and hon. Members should go to the country and say 'This is a good law.' They must even now say that they withdraw their statement that this is an oppressive legislation and that it has been forced on the people against their will. It is not true to say that it has been forced by us. We did not want this. It is because the people of Malabar altogether wanted certain things that we have tried to do these things.

"I want my young Friends on the other side to tell the people that much of what was asked for has been conceded. Let them not over-state or under-state things. They may even go to the extent of saying that the Government would not have conceded these things but for them. That may not be true but they can claim it according to the practice of politicians but they should not say 'This is oppressive.' This is useless.' They will only make the people unhappy while they have no reason to be unhappy.

"Let us make progress. It is admitted that the people of Malabar are on the whole poor. How shall we become richer? We can become richer, wealthier and happier only if we try and make further progress. But, how is this further progress possible? The 'haves' as well as the 'have-nots' must unite, co-operate and work together. What about the general condition of Malabar when the last public loan was raised? I wish to mention this now at the end of to-day's business. We raised a public loan of Rs. 10 crores. All the twenty-five districts each contributed on the average about twenty to twenty-five lakhs of rupees. Some districts contributed more and they are only one or two, Coimbatore and probably Krishna also. But, on the whole, Chingleput contributed 23 lakhs, North Arcot 13 lakhs, Salem 18 lakhs, Madurai 23 lakhs, Ramanathapuram 21 lakhs, South Kanara 38 lakhs and Malabar also contributed 23 lakhs of rupees. I want the young hon. Members to think about it. Did the tenants contribute this money? Could they have contributed it? It is not possible because where money is so distributed in dribblets they cannot do it. Do we not want any loans at all? How can the country progress unless there are some people who can contribute to capital expenditure? Here are the 'so-called landlords'—a few and not too many—and these few have been able to retain wealth instead of wasting it. They have been able to retain it because they are not too many and they were able along with others to make up this average contribution from Malabar also. Now, if we abolish all these and if we remove all possibility of accumulation, saving and contribution to public expenditure, we will only be worse off than we were before. Let my young Friends reflect over it. Their ideology cannot permit them immediately to accept what I say but they will accept it when they see the progress of events. Suppose, we destroy all our reservoirs

[Sri C. Rajagopalachari] [9th January 1954]

The dry land-owners in our country may easily be gulled into saying: 'We do not want wet lands. We do not want mirasdars. We do not want any reservoirs. Let there be rainfall every year. Let no reservoirs be constructed.' What applies to water applies also to wealth. A certain number of people must save and retain and imagine that they are very rich, very happy and important and the Government must take the money from them and spend it on the people. Supposing all the landlords are gone and everyone is a cultivator tenant, what will be the position? No one tenant will be able to save anything. Malabar will not progress and there will be no improvement. This is only my general observation. I do not imagine that the Communist party will accept this doctrine but the Communist party consists of members who are intelligent, consists of members who are Indians, consists of members who are Malayalees and consists of members who know something about the culture of their own country. I, therefore, hope that they will reflect on this and will accept this Bill in a mood of cheerfulness and present it to the people that it is a gain which they have made from the recalcitrant Congress Government and not say it is bad and useless."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I will not take much of the time of the House and will simply recount whatever things we have done in enacting this Bill. More than two dozen of amenities and advantages have been granted to the tenants by this Bill. I claim, Sir, that we have done much more in this legislation than in any other legislation in respect of tenancy in Malabar. We have given fixity to ulkudis. A mere extension of the advantages of ulkudidars in Fort Cochin to the rest of Malabar would never have given them the advantages we have given by this new legislation. We have also seen to it that in cases where no rent is payable as per the contract between the landlord and the ulkudidar, the ulkudidar need not pay any rent while in Fort Cochin he has to pay rent. We have also added that a suitable site, not any site, has to be given to an ulkudidar in the event of his eviction from a particular site. We have also provided that ulkudidars in dry lands as well as wet lands get the same advantages. Sir, these are very important things and, perhaps, I would claim this as the most important piece of legislation that we have enacted.

"Regarding fixity, we have given fixity of tenure in respect of tenants who are in possession of the land for six years continuously. Fixity, the primary thing, has been prescribed and there is no likelihood of rich people exercising the right of eviction as alleged or as has been alleged to have taken place in recent years. An assignee also could not evict a tenant unless two years elapse after the assignment. These are regular improvements or safeguards in respect of sections 14 and 20 of the principal Act which give fixity of tenure to the tenants.

"With regard to fair rents, we have done much in this Bill. In wet lands the tenant had to pay half the assessment. We have eliminated that provision and he is given relief to this extent. Up to this time 25 paras was fixed as cultivation expenses. Now, we have raised it to 30 paras.

"In respect of garden lands and in respect of coconut gardens the rent that was payable was one-sixth of the produce. We have now reduced it to one-eighth.

"In respect of the rise in prices, if fair rent is to be ascertained, we have fixed a ceiling that it shall never exceed twice the contract rent. We have also given a provision that the collection of this enhanced rate is to be spread over a number of years. In respect of pepper gardens we have reduced the tenant's liability to pay rent from one-fifth of the produce to one-sixth and also we have prescribed that the first instalment should be paid 12 years after plantation instead of 11 years. In respect of communal lands for which the tenant had to pay rent hitherto, we have exempted him from payment of rent. We have, under this law, enacted that in respect of punam cultivation of paddy the tenant is required to pay only twice the assessment. The extent of this relief can be realised from the fact that there are one and a half lakhs of acres under this kind of cultivation.

"Sir, we have simplified the machinery for ascertaining fair rent and we have made it available to the tenant and that too without much cost. We have also extended the time for deposit of rent in case the tenant has not deposited it under sections 54 and 55 of the Malabar Tenancy Act.

"I do not wish to say anything more. We have done all that could be done in the circumstances. It is for the people of Malabar to decide whether this is enacted for their benefit, whether this will give them peace and whether this will tend to promote good feelings and friendly relationship between the landlord and the tenant. I have also to say that all the Members of the Assembly coming from Malabar have co-operated and I have to thank them for the suggestions they have made. I have also to thank you, Sir, for giving us the opportunity to express our views in this House. I have nothing more to add and I am sure this Bill will be welcomed by the people of Malabar."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"On a point of order. The Hon. Minister for Law in his anxiety to exaggerate the concessions already given stated in his speech that the cultivation expenses per acre per crop have been raised from 25 to 30 paras, which is not a fact."

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—"Sir, it is a mistake. The cultivation expenses per acre have been raised from 22 to 25 paras."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is:

'That the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1953, as amended, be passed into law.'

The motion was carried and the Bill, as amended, was passed into law.

THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

Monday, 11th January 1954.

The House met in the Council Chamber, Fort St. George, at four of the clock, Mr. Chairman (THE HON. DR. P. V. CHERIAN) in the Chair.

THE SOUTH KANARA CULTIVATING TENANTS PROTECTION BILL^a,
1954 (L.A. BILL NO. 7 OF 1954) (AS PASSED BY THE ASSEMBLY).

MR. CHAIRMAN :—“ The Hon. Sri C. Subramanian, Minister for Finance, will now move that the South Kanara Cultivating Tenants Protection Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 7 of 1954) (as passed by the Assembly), be taken into consideration.”

(The Hon. Sri C. Subramanian rose.)

DR. V. K. JOHN :—“ May I rise on a point of information. Sir? We have now received a letter from the Secretary to the Legislative Council that we must send in our amendments to certain Bills which may come up before this House. In fact, one of them has not yet been passed by the Assembly, and it is being discussed there. Two Bills have come before this House only to-day and you, Sir, kindly read to us the communication received from the Hon. Speaker. Now, if we are asked to send in our amendments before the Assembly passes the Bills and sends them to this House for the mere reason that copies of the Bills submitted to the Assembly have been sent to us by some courtesy, I submit, Sir, it would be offending the provisions contained in the Rules of Procedure of the Madras Legislative Council. It will also be absolutely inconvenient and even premature for the Members of this House to send in their amendments to Bills before they are passed by the Assembly and before they are laid on the table of this House. Actually rule 105 provides: ‘ As soon as possible, after a Bill which has been passed by the Assembly is received in the Council, copies of the Bill shall be laid on the table at a meeting of the Council ’. Rule 107 even goes to the extent of saying ‘ Unless the Chairman otherwise directs, no such motion shall be set down in the list of business for any day which is less than three days from the receipt of the notice ’. We do not know whether you, in your discretion, would have directed otherwise than as contemplated in Rule 107. We can know it only to-day. If we are asked to send in our amendments without sufficient notice, I think it is hurrying up matters and is against the rules of procedure of this House. So we have a grievance in this respect and we want to bring it to the notice of the Chair."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"I think that, in the case of the South Kanara Cultivating Tenants Protection Bill, hon. Members had sufficient notice. But in respect of the other Bill, I think hon. Members may have a legitimate grievance. Hon. Members will be given time to bring in amendments."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM:—"If hon. Members want time, I have no objection. But hon. Members who are interested in this Bill told me that they were ready, and we thought that the Bill could be taken up. I am prepared to abide by the convenience of hon. Members with regard to the Malabar Tenancy Bill."

DR. V. K. JOHN:—"Sir, if you are acting under Rule 107, the general principles of the Malabar Tenancy Amendment Bill can be discussed now. Actually, only after the principles are discussed, the amendments can be brought in. Hon. Members must know what are the underlying principles. I do not think there can be any objection to this, if the House is given time as provided in Rule 107."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"It is only for the amendments that we have to rely on Rule 107."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM:—"Sir, with reference to the Malabar Tenancy Bill, as I have already stated, I am prepared to abide by the convenience of hon. Members. I thought that if hon. Members were ready, we could take up the Bill, and pass it into law even to-day. We are meeting again on the 18th January. If hon. Members so wish, it is open to them to have further discussion on the 18th. As pointed out by hon. Member Dr. V. K. John, we can have the general discussion of the Bill (that is the first reading stage of the Bill) now, and we may take up the clause by clause discussion on the 18th. The business of the House can be adjusted, and it is not as if we are in a hurry to get it through."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"To-day we may take up the Malabar Tenancy Amendment Bill for general discussion. We can have the clause by clause discussion on the 18th January."

DR. V. K. JOHN:—"We are very keen on assisting the Government as much as we can."

11th January 1954]

SRI V. GURUNANDAN ROW:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, I would like to raise a point of order. Rule 108 lays down 'On the day on which such motion is set down in the list of business, the member in charge of the Bill may move that the Bill be taken into consideration'. From the Agenda I find it is stated that the Hon. Sri M. A. Manickavelu Naicker is the Member in charge of the Bill and that the motion will be moved by him. But the Hon. the Finance Minister rose to move the Bill."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"I would, in this connection, invite the attention of the hon. Member to rule (h) (vide page 1) of the Council Rules. The Hon. Sri Subramaniam will now move the motion."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM:—"Sir, I beg to move—

'That the South Kanara Cultivating Tenants Protection Bill, 1954, (L.A. Bill No. 7 of 1954), (as passed by the Assembly) be taken into consideration.'

Sir, in introducing this Bill, I have to state that for some time past Government have been receiving representations that the landowners in South Kanara district have been evicting cultivating tenants on an increasing scale and as a consequence of that, relations between landlords and tenants are tending to become strained. South Kanara is adjoining Malabar. As far as Malabar is concerned, we are introducing a tenancy legislation, far in advance, when compared to any other part of the State.

"There is an apprehension in the minds of the landlords of this district that South Kanara being adjacent to Malabar, tenancy legislation might also be brought in for that district, not on the same basis as for Malabar but on a basis which is likely to give a certain amount of fixity of tenure to the tenants. In anticipation of such a legislation being brought in by Government, it has been represented to Government that there has been eviction of tenants by the landlords to a certain extent. The Government are not now in a position to introduce a comprehensive land legislation for the district of South Kanara. It requires a great deal of study and thought. Pending the introduction and passing of such a legislation, Government think it necessary to protect the tenants who are now in occupation and enjoyment of land. That is why this short and simple Bill has been brought forward for staying eviction of tenants from lands for a period of one year pending the introduction of a comprehensive legislation. It is our hope that it would be possible for us to finalise the Bill with regard to South Kanara tenancy within that period and get it passed by the legislature also. That is why we have now brought in this short Bill.

"In this connection I may mention that the elected members in the Assembly and also the representative from South Kanara in this House have been pressing this matter on the Government. They wanted that legislation should be brought in immediately to provide for continuity of tenure for at least a period of one year pending further consideration and the passing of a comprehensive Bill. That is another reason why we have brought in this measure. This has been passed by the Assembly and now it is before the House for its acceptance.

[Sri C. Subramaniam] [11th January 1954]

"This measure will not apply to the 33 villages of Kasaragod taluk to which the provisions of the Malabar Tenancy Act will apply. This is a simple measure and I need not explain it to hon. Members who are well versed in law, especially the tenancy law. During the clause by clause discussion of the Bill, if points are raised, I shall certainly explain them."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"Motion moved:—

'That the South Kanara Cultivating Tenants Protection Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 7 of 1954) (as passed by the Assembly) be taken into consideration.'

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON:—"I heartily support the short measure that has been introduced by the Hon. the Minister for Finance for giving protection to the tenants in the district of South Kanara. Coming as I do from the district of Malabar, I can understand the difficulties the tenants of my sister district, South Kanara, are undergoing for the last few years. As far as that district is concerned, the tenants are the worst sufferers because they cannot at the time of eviction even claim compensation for improvements carried out by them. In Malabar, at least from the year 1884, we had the advantage of claiming and getting the improvements valued at the time of eviction. But the tenants in South Kanara, I understand, have to surrender the property without getting anything for the improvements carried out by them. The Ryots Protection Act may also be made applicable to them as the tenants there do not come under the Malabar land tenure system or the ryotwari system. Therefore it is high time that the Government pass a comprehensive legislation which will give protection to the tenants of South Kanara for at least some years. My whole sympathy is with the tenants of South Kanara. I have a brotherly affinity for them. But I have to complain also, Sir."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM:—"The hon. Member has not taken an imperialist attitude."

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON:—"I have not come to that stage. Rather I am in a Tamil Imperialistic State. That apart, my complaint is this. When we, people of Malabar, have got a soft corner for them, and want to get relief for them, the representatives from South Kanara including the hon. Member Sri Narasappaya do not reciprocate. They all opposed the amendments to the Malabar tenancy legislation when that came up for discussion in the other House. They do not help us. We do not want to retaliate. We want to help them to get this legislation passed to give protection to the tenants in South Kanara.

"The Hon. the Minister for Finance just now remarked that all the elected members from South Kanara—a majority of them at least—in the Assembly and hon. Member Sri Narasappaya made representations to Government that such a legislation was very necessary. I congratulate the Government on being responsive to the representations made by the representatives of the people of South Kanara. But they are not responsive to the representations made by the representatives from Malabar. Unfortunately we have returned a number of members to the Opposition bloc and not to the Congress bloc. Anyway we are glad that the Government give consideration to the representations made by the representatives of the people of South Kanara. I welcome this measure, and I hope a comprehensive legislation will be introduced to help the tenants in South Kanara."

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, my hon. friend from Malabar said that because he came from Malabar, and South Kanara was his sister district, he would support the measure. I neither belong to Malabar nor to South Kanara. I belong to the Madras State of which Malabar and South Kanara are parts. Therefore I have a brotherly, sisterly and parental interest for both the districts of Malabar and South Kanara. At the same time I take a detached view of the matter, neither favourable to the landlords nor favourable to the tenants. I would also request the Government to take a just view of the relations of both the landlords and the tenants."

"Sir, I have grave doubts, whether this Bill will be of any use, because when I look into the various stages that the Malabar Tenancy Bill has gone through, regarding restraints on evictions. I see, from the year 1946 the Government have been passing legislation year after year or at least once in two years. So much so, now so many anomalies and troubles have arisen, and things are in favour of one party and not in favour of the other party. I was told by hon. Members of the Assembly that relations between the landlord and the tenant were harmonious in South Kanara, and not like what they were in Malabar. Now a legislation like this, I am afraid, will tamper with the harmony that subsists between them. I know the agitation in Malabar has spread the contagion to the district of South Kanara, being a sister district, and also because hon. Members from those districts sit together here and also in the Assembly. But let us not on that account pass legislation endlessly from year to year without finally deciding the relations that should subsist between the landlords and the tenants so that the tenants may settle down on the lands and produce food. In our country production is the most important and immediate need. Cultivation must go on. We should not quarrel with each other frequently. If we do I am afraid the programme of food production in the country will be in danger. That is why I say a legislation like this should not be undertaken. On the other hand a comprehensive legislation would be much better."

SRI S. NARASAPPAYA:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, I must heartily welcome this measure and fully support the Bill introduced by the Hon. the Minister for Finance. In some quarters this legislation is termed as a hasty legislation and even a responsible daily of Madras has termed it as such. But I say it is certainly not a hasty legislation. On the other hand this piece of legislation was long over due. Ever since 1939, the people of South Kanara have been agitating for tenancy legislation. Time and again representations were made to the previous Governments. Representations were also made to the present Government for passing tenancy legislation for that district. In fact a few years back, the Secretary of the South Kanara District Congress Committee went on a seven days fast for the purpose of focussing the attention of the Government on the necessity to introduce tenancy legislation for that district. All parties are agreed that tenancy legislation for the district is absolutely essential, and representations were made not only by Congress legislators but also by other political parties in the district. Knowing the district fully as I do, I can assure the hon. Members of this House that even the landlords are not against the introduction as a reasonable tenancy legislation for the district.

"An objection has been raised as to why this tenancy legislation should be confined only to the South Kanara district and not to the entire State. The tenancy system of South Kanara and the land tenure system obtaining therein, are certainly different from that of the other parts of the State. Such of the hon. Gentlemen who have studied the Malabar Tenancy Act will know the complicated nature of land tenure and tenancy system in Malabar. Half a dozen people have interests, one over the other, in the same piece of land, and the system of tenancy and other tenures obtaining therein are really complicated. In South Kanara, there is absolutely no such complication, nor is there any system, as is prevalent in other districts, of either sharing the produce or of the landlord providing for the expenses of cultivation or the grain being divided on the thrashing floor. The landlord lets in a tenant and the tenant is in the exclusive possession of the holding and at the end of the year, he pays a rent that is already agreed upon,—whether there is good harvest or bad harvest it is all the tenant's look out. In South Kanara, there are three kinds of tenants. The first class of tenants—a small class are called 'Mulgeni', that is permanent tenants. So far as they are concerned, they do not require any protection because they cannot be evicted and rent also cannot be increased. There is another class of tenants called 'Vaidegeni', that is, 'term-lease tenants', who are there for a definite period. During the subsistence of their lease period, they also do not require protection. They can neither be evicted nor their rent be increased. Once the period of contract is over, then they are on a par with the other tenants. Then, there is the third class of tenants who form the bulk of the agriculturists. They are about 80 to 90 per cent of the cultivating class who are known as 'Chalgeni' tenants, that is, year-by-year tenants. They have absolutely no security of tenure. The landlord, at the end of the agricultural year, by giving two or three months' notice, can evict them and, in some cases, as my hon. Friend Mr. Govinda Menon pointed out, even without paying compensation. It is not that landlords are evicting every tenant. The trouble is, both the psychological factor and the treatment that is given to the tenants are involved in this matter. After all, in these days the tenants are conscious of their rights and of the fact that they also are citizens of the country entitled to live as normal citizens and they do not want to act according to the whims and fancies of the landlords. What really happens is, under the threat of eviction, which the landlord, under the present law, is entitled to issue the tenants are made completely subservient to the landlord and to be under his mercy. It is to prevent that kind of uncertainty in the mind of the tenant that repeated representations have been made to the Government for the introduction of a tenancy legislation. As it is, the tenant can be evicted at any time and there is absolutely no security of tenure, and for continuing his occupation of the land, he depends on the sweet will and pleasure of the landlord. Such a tenant certainly would not have the heart either to improve the land or cultivate it in a manner in which the best produce can be obtained. It is for this reason that a tenancy legislation is absolutely essential.

"So far as this measure is concerned, it is only a temporary measure. Only eviction of a tenant for a period of one year is stayed, but I am welcoming it for two reasons. Firstly, apprehending that the tenancy legislation will be brought in, the landlords cannot evict the tenants until the tenancy legislation is actually brought in. But the still more important factor is, once this measure is passed, the Government are bound to introduce the tenancy legislation. This is only a beginning and it is certain that by the end of the year, a permanent measure of tenancy legislation will be introduced and passed. That is why this measure is most welcome.

"Sir, the hon. Gentleman, Mr. Govinda Menon said that hon. Members coming from South Kanara had not got the same sympathy towards the Malabar Tenancy Act as he had got towards this measure. I am afraid, the hon. Gentleman is very much mistaken. I am not only representing the district of South Kanara, but I am also representing Malabar. I have got as much interest in Malabar as he has. But opinions can certainly be divided. If a certain measure or a certain point of view which looks very reasonable to him and which does not look as equally reasonable to me or to the hon. Members coming from South Kanara of the other House, it does not mean that we have not the interests of Malabar at heart. Therefore the hon. Gentleman will certainly pardon us if we differ from him, and from this let him not conclude that we have no interest in Malabar or that we are not supporting the tenants of Malabar.

"The hon. Member, Mr. Balasubramanya Ayyar, expressed apprehensions by saying that this temporary measure need not have been brought in and the Government could have brought in a permanent measure, and that by extending temporary measures like this year after year, a lot of complications would arise. Sir, I do not think there is room for any such apprehension, for I hope and believe—I think I am correct in saying—the Government are intending to bring in a permanent measure very soon. In fact, all the hon. Members coming from South Kanara have agreed to a certain measure that has been put before the Government and the Government are scrutinising it. As the Hon. Minister for Finance has rightly stated, being a permanent measure, it has got to be looked at from all points of view, and all precautions should be taken to see that the intentions of the framers of the Bill are carried out. I am sure it will be brought forward very soon, if possible at the very next session of the Legislature, and passed into an Act.

"So far as this measure is concerned, as I said before, it is not a controversial measure, and there is no divided opinion on it. I, therefore, earnestly request the House to pass this measure. Before concluding, I have got to thank most heartily the Government, and particularly the Hon. the Chief Minister who is mainly responsible for bringing in this measure. During his recent tour of the district, representations were made to him by various political parties, and he gave the assurance there that some reasonable tenancy legislation would be brought forward. As soon as he came back, with the utmost expedition he set his hands on the Bill that is now under discussion here. We, who come from South Kanara, are most grateful to the Hon. the Chief Minister for the very kind consideration that he has shown to our district and for having introduced this measure which, for the last 16 years, no Government introduced in spite of repeated representations, and, as I said before, even a fast by the Secretary of the District Congress Committee. Once more, I thank the Government and the Hon. the Chief Minister for having introduced this measure, and I earnestly appeal to them to bring forward the permanent measure, if possible, even during the next session itself."

SRI P. N. MARTHANDAM PILLAI :—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, the matter before the House is a very simple one. When the Government say that a number of tenants are being evicted in South Kanara district, I think most of us will not dispute that fact. If this fact is true, I think a legislation of this kind is absolutely necessary to protect the interests of the tenants. Once the tenants are evicted, then all the evidence regarding tenancy disappears. Most often these are cases of oral tenancy. If the Government are really going to bring in a comprehensive tenancy legislation in the near future, a legislation like the one before the House will be very useful, and the tenants ought to be provided against any eviction. Therefore this Bill has my whole-hearted support."

SRI V. GURUNANDAN ROW :—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, while I also support the principle of this Bill, I have to say that as usual the Government have been very hesitating and halting in regard to any measures in favour of tenants. For example, Sir, the Preamble says:

'Whereas it is necessary pending further legislation, to protect cultivating tenants in the district of South Kanara from unjust eviction; It is hereby enacted as follows :—'

This makes it quite clear that there have been unjust evictions in South Kanara even according to the statements of the Government. If so, why should not the Government protect the rights of those tenants who have been evicted unjustly? If the Government are for justice, this Bill should not only protect the existing tenants from eviction but also protect those who have been unjustly evicted as stated in the Preamble. It is very necessary to do so, as otherwise it would mean that the landlords who have unjustly evicted the tenants get away while only the landlords who have been good and have not evicted their tenants unjustly are now prevented from doing so. What happens to those landlords who have unjustly evicted their tenants? Should not the Government seek to do some justice to the tenants who have been unjustly evicted as a consequence of the threatened measures of land reform for South Kanara?

"Is it not necessary that just as in the Tanjore Tenants and Pannaiyal Protection Act a certain date should be fixed and, if on that date a tenant has been in possession, he should be restored to his land? Otherwise, I do not understand the meaning of this legislation. It means as much as to say that in every place unless the landlords start unjust evictions and unless the relations between the landlords and the tenants are strained, the Government are not prepared to do anything in regard to tenancy reform. I do not see any reason why the Government should not extend this interim legislation to the whole State? Why should there be this piecemeal legislation? The hon. Gentleman, Sri S. Narasappaya said that the South Kanara tenancy was a complicated matter. I know that, but it has nothing to do with the question of stopping the eviction of tenants. The question of eviction of tenants is the same whether it is in South Kanara or in any other district. Though a comprehensive land reform is an absolute necessity in the interest of the general public and for the production of more food, this sort of an interim legislation is required not only for South Kanara but for the entire State. As I have already said, the present Bill only amounts to saying that unless the landlords unjustly evict the tenants or the tenants bring about strained relations between themselves and the landlords, the Government are not going to intervene and stop evictions. Why should there be this half-hearted justice? When the Government say that in future the tenants shall not be evicted, what about the tenants who have already been unjustly evicted, as admitted in the Preamble? I therefore request the Government to consider this matter and see that a proper amendment is brought forward so that the tenants who have been unjustly evicted after the promulgation of the Tanjore Tenants and Pannaiyal Protection Ordinance of 1952, which made the landlords think that some land reform was coming and therefore the tenants should be evicted, are reinstated and the injustice done to them is removed. I, therefore, again request the Government to consider carefully the matter and accept the amendment of which I have given notice."

SRI G. KRISHNAMURTHI:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, I heartily welcome this measure. This is a simple measure that aims at stopping the eviction of tenants that has been going on in the South Kanara district. I should have very much liked that the Government should have brought in some Bill in the case of the teachers also who are being evicted. Now, I am very glad that the Government are realizing that it is very necessary that there should be security of tenure for these tenants if at all they must have good produce and if at all there must be peace in those parts. It is equally true in the field of education also where there should be continuity of service and where there should be peace and prosperity also. I very much appreciate the attitude of the Government in running to the rescue of these evicted tenants by an interim legislation and putting an end to the eviction that is going on. This is true in all spheres and I hope the Government will heartily support the cause of the teachers also who are being evicted continually and run to the rescue of these teachers with an interim legislation till definite rules are framed.

11th January 1954] [Sri G. Krishnamurthi]

"I heartily support this Bill."

DR. V. K. JOHN:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, this is a measure of agrarian reform and in regard to agrarian reforms I would certainly support any measure which helps the tiller of the soil, because the primary object of every agrarian reform should be to get the largest output from the land and the tiller of the soil should be certainly helped in every way. But, Sir, the question is whether agrarian reform can be introduced without expropriating the owner of the soil. Can we help both the tiller and the owner by a measure which will be satisfactory to both? It is said that the three characteristics of British legislation are conflict of interests, compromise and caution. In all these cases of land reform there are conflict of interests, compromise and caution. There is always a tendency to find a solution by perpetuating the relationship between the landlord and the tenant. It is an economic waste, in my opinion, to perpetuate that relationship.

"We can introduce agrarian reform by making the cultivator of the land the owner of the soil, by having an independent peasantry cultivating their own land and paying over to the landlord and all others interested in the land—may be intermediaries—the full value of the land so that we help the cultivator and at the same time do not expropriate the landlord. I do not say that in cases where the landlord can cultivate his own land he should not be given that freedom to resume his land and cultivate it. The point is that there are two ways of solving the tenancy problem which has been created by pressure of population on land. One way is to have a measure providing for fixity of tenure and also providing for fair rent. The other way is to enable the cultivator of the soil, that is the tenant, to purchase all the interests in the land by an annuity system which I shall explain when I speak on the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill and which will not lead to expropriation of the landlord but will give the tenant a permanent right of ownership of the land.

"These are the two ways in which agrarian reforms have been introduced in many countries in the world. I have made a fairly good study of agrarian reforms in all parts of the world when I was studying the land tenure system in Malabar years ago. Sir, in many parts of the world, attention has been concentrated on adopting one method or the other. In Germany, which I shall explain in the speech which I am going to make on the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, a scheme was adopted by which the cultivator was made the owner of the land. No one was expropriated and no cultivating tenant was prejudicially affected. The other way is to have a perpetual relationship between the landlord and the tenant and asking the tenant to pay continuously a rent to the landlord, and this relationship, as far as I can see in our country, will never work and there will be continuous agitation, by tenants and on their behalf, to reduce the rent and for other amenities, which in almost every other country it will be expropriation of the landlord's interests, and continuous agitation by the landlord for the restoration of privileges and powers enjoyed by him. The Government do not seem to have gone into this question in a really scientific manner after making a careful study of agrarian reforms in all parts of the world. When I speak on the Malabar Tenancy Bill, I will point out how it has become an impossible proposition to have good relationship between the tenant and the landlord. Now, Sir, the Government seem to prefer the system of giving security to tenants. I do not find any provision, in the Bill before us, for fixing fair rent. The Bill is only a temporary enactment and the Government will have to consider very seriously the way to bring in a measure of agrarian reform. They must consider what is the object that an agrarian reform must achieve and how it can be permanently achieved without injuring the interests of the cultivator and without injuring the interests of the landlord. I shall explain this point in my next speech on the Malabar Tenancy Bill because I have made a careful study of land reforms in all parts of the world.

" This Bill is said to be a temporary measure. Sir, I am very much against these temporary legislations. First of all, it shows that the Government do not take time by the forelock and, after all, the agitation by the tenants or the creation of difficulties for cultivators in the district of South Kanara could not have been created yesterday or the day before. It should have existed for many years. It might become more acute in the future. I do not see why our Government, at least after independence was achieved, did not consider the question of a comprehensive agrarian reform for South Kanara and for other places in this State. I find one point of view expressed and I regret to find that certain members think that they belong to the district of Malabar, certain other members think that they belong to South Kanara district and so on. I think it is a wrong way of looking at things. Any person belonging to the part of this State where Tamil is spoken certainly must have the same sympathy and consideration for the suffering people in the district of Malabar or South Kanara.

" Our experience with regard to these temporary measures has been, that once a temporary measure is passed, the Government go to sleep and that has been the case in a similar case of agrarian reform. On 4th October 1946, we passed a measure called the

11th January 1954] [Dr. V. K. John]

Madras Tenants and Ryots Protection Act (Act XVII of 1946). Under this Act, no tenants in the district of Malabar, no ryots in estates governed by the Madras Estates Land Act, 1908 and no tenants of private lands in such estates shall be evicted and all suits, proceedings in execution of decrees or orders and other proceedings were stayed. This was for two years with freedom to Government to extend the life of the Act for another period of two years. Sir, this Act was passed in 1946 pending a comprehensive legislation. Then this Act was followed by another Act—Act XXIV of 1949—which came into force on 8th December 1949. That Act again, Sir, incorporated all the material provisions of the earlier Act of 1946 and it was provided that its duration was up to 7th October 1950. Now, Sir, we had two instances of temporary legislations passed pending introduction of comprehensive legislation. It might be said that the Congress Ministry unfortunately had changed many times during this period. I hope this will not happen in the near future. Anyway, what really happened was that they had to pass another piece of legislation—The Madras Tenants and Ryots Protection (Amendment) Act, 1951—which extended the period of expiry of the original Act up to 7th October 1953. Sir, in 1946, in 1949 and in 1951, this legislation relating to the protection of tenants and ryots was passed. What happened to this Act after 7th October of last year, we do not know. This procedure of bringing in temporary enactments with the object of bringing comprehensive legislation later on has not worked very well. It was only the other day that I pointed out that an enactment passed in 1946 for the preservation of private forests was extended from time to time and it was only on that day that we gave another extension but I won't call it a last extension. There is a tendency on the part of the Government to put on the Statute a temporary legislation and then they come the next year before the Legislature and say 'Let us have it extended for a year or for another two years.' It is the duty of the Government—and it has its own responsibility—that immediately temporary enactment is drafted and placed before both the Houses they should set up an organization which will bring in a comprehensive legislation within the period referred to in the temporary enactment. All the previous enactments were extended by ministries which are not functioning to-day. May I express the hope that at least this Government whenever they approach the Legislature for passing a temporary measure in anticipation of bringing in a comprehensive enactment will take the responsibility and consider it their duty to set up immediately a machinery which will introduce this comprehensive legislation within the period mentioned in the temporary enactment? This Bill is for one year and let me hope that the comprehensive legislation will come into existence within this period of one year. Otherwise it is a fraud on everybody concerned and it does not give credit to the Government to extend every temporary enactment year after year. This I hope will not happen in future.

[Dr. V. K. John] [11th January 1954]

"Now, Sir, on the provisions of the Bill, I do not wish to say anything now because it is after all a temporary enactment. Although I am afraid it will be extended, still I do not wish to say anything at this stage because after all let me have faith in the Government that it will not be extended from year to year. It is my hope that it will not be extended. There are two ways of introducing an agrarian reform. One way is to see that the market price for the land is given, that the landowner is not expropriated by giving fixity of tenure to the cultivator and at the same time the cultivator is never evicted from his holding.

"That is the way of creating an independent peasantry cultivating its own land and passing the ownership of the land to the cultivator after paying the market value to the owner of the land or those others interested in it. The other way is to have perpetual relationship between the landlord and the tenant and asking the tenant to pay continuously a rent to the landlord, but this will create difficulties year after year and will never solve the problem of landlord and tenant. The Government must make up their mind as to which principle they should follow and then introduce a comprehensive enactment. The system by which the owner is not expropriated and the tenant is allowed to purchase the land in annuities has been introduced all over the Western world and has worked well. I will explain this in further detail when I speak, later on, on the Malabar Tenancy Bill. But here I would like to impress upon the Government that before they introduce any measure of agrarian reform they should consider that this is also a measure of agrarian reform and not something to ward off the evil of eviction. When they introduce a comprehensive measure, let them consider which is best suited to the country and introduce that measure. I must compliment this Government for particularly paying attention to the needs of the poor so that a welfare State may be created. In many measures brought before this House it has been the intention of this Government to assist the poor. But, at the same time the Government must have expert advice on difficult problems like agrarian reforms. I am quite sure that by this measure the Government want to give temporary relief to the cultivating tenants. I do not find any provision which helps the intermediaries, which is against all principles of land reform and I find that only the cultivating tenant is helped. I thank the Government for the sympathy they have for the tenants. But I would request them to go into these questions thoroughly with the help of experts. Thank you, Sir."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM:—"Sir, there has been almost unanimous support to this measure except for a word of caution by the hon. Gentleman Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar. That word of caution is also necessary because any hasty step taken in this direction is likely to deteriorate conditions rather than improve them. Therefore when he said that we should be very cautious in making proposals for agrarian reform, I take it that he did not mean that there should be no agrarian reform at all. He only said that there should be a proper study of the conditions and that whatever legislation we may make should be for the smooth working of the society as a whole. Taking that into consideration, I am sure hon. Members will realize the difficulties in bringing forward a comprehensive legislation as such.

"A tenancy legislation has got to be fitted into the circumstances and conditions prevailing in various areas. Conditions are different from area to area, from district to district and in certain cases even from village to village. Therefore, an all-comprehensive measure for the entire State, I think, will not work smoothly. We will have to take into consideration the peculiar features prevailing in the various areas and districts and we will have to model our legislation accordingly. That is why there is a separate Tenancy Bill for Malabar where conditions are completely different. Conditions have developed in Malabar for centuries to suit the genius of the people there. To import into Malabar theories and notions which are prevailing in other parts of this State or in other parts of the country may not work well. Therefore we have to consider these things very carefully and then only we can enunciate propositions to solve these problems. That is why we are taking some time.

"Sir, almost every member has given his approval to the principle of this Bill. But the hon. Gentleman Sri V. Gurunandan Row said that if there had been unjust evictions, as has been stated in the preamble to the Bill, it is necessary to remove those injustices so that tenants who have been unjustly evicted might be put back into occupation of the land. That is very easily said, but in all these things we must take into account the balance of convenience. Suppose we embark upon a district-wide enquiry as to who are the protected tenants, who are the tenants who have been evicted and who have got to be put back into occupation, what is the cause and what is the benefit we would be conferring on the tenants who have been evicted by putting them back into possession of certain pieces of land and for this we will have to take an enormous amount of trouble. Then I have absolutely no doubt that Mr. Gurunandan Row will agree and even if he does not agree --because he has made up his mind that the evicted tenants should be put back in occupation of the land--persons who can realize the difficulties will agree that the balance of convenience is 'Let us protect the tenants as they are and if they are continued, it would be more than sufficient.' After all, if a tenant is evicted from one piece of land, I am sure he would have got into possession of another piece of land elsewhere. The landlords have only the satisfaction of changing the tenants. It is not as if the landlords are taking to cultivation themselves. Even though there may be a few hard cases—even a good law always does not cover all hard cases—we have taken them into consideration and we will have, to a certain extent, resist the temptation of saying 'Let us launch upon a big enquiry and put back all these evicted persons into possession of the land.' Therefore we have formulated our proposals and even though there may be few unjust cases of eviction, we will have to put up with them in the interest of the society as a whole and I am sure whoever has been evicted will be able to find alternative land for purposes of cultivation.

"Sir, even though this is a temporary measure, suggestions have been made, especially by the Hon. Deputy Leader of the Opposition, for solving this problem in a permanent way. Of course, it is easy to formulate proposals for solving this problem but the particular solution gives rise to further problems. Therefore we will be going on endlessly and that is the law of life. Let us leave the impression that we will be able to solve any problem permanently without giving rise to further problems in its turn. It was asked 'Why should not the Government purchase the entire interest of the landlords at market price and then distribute the land to the tenants?' Who is to pay the market price? Are the tenants to pay? If the tenants are to pay, will they be able to do so? If they are unable to pay, will the Government be able to pay? And if the Government have to pay for it, it is not as if they are paying it from somewhere. They have to get it from the general tax-payer. All these things will have to be taken into consideration when such proposals are made. It is easily said that the tiller of the land should be the owner of the soil. All right. Will that solve all problems? There can be uniform tenancy rules and regulations only in a totalitarian regime where you can say that no person shall alienate the land without the permission of the Government. It is not as if merely for the sake of giving to another person the pleasure of owning that land, we should distribute the land. We want that land should be utilized to the best advantage. Even though a person might be the owner of the soil, what would happen if he does not engage himself in the proper cultivation of the land? Are we going to set up standards of good cultivation and say that if a tenant does not conform to the standard, he should be evicted and somebody else should be put into occupation? All these are things which we will have to take into consideration unless we are prepared to have a totalitarian regime where everything will be regimented and controlled, where everything will be controlled by the bureaucracy; a system of Government which will order about each citizen as to what he should think, what he should speak and what he should do. Unless we are prepared to have such an administration, I am afraid we cannot have uniform rules made in respect of all matters. That is the difficulty we are facing in respect of tenancy legislation. Certain things have developed in the course of a long time. Those things developed, not out of nothing, but they developed out of conditions existing in society. If conditions change, then we have naturally also to make changes in the existing order. We cannot also forget the entire past. We have to take into consideration what the past has been, what change has taken place in the present and what the future is likely to be. And, with reference to all these we have to make changes so that in the process of making changes we do not create greater difficulties and more difficult problems. From that point of view, Government are examining the question of agrarian reforms. After all so many committees were set up to go into this question. I have myself sat in one committee. Each committee had suggested its own remedies for the solution of agrarian troubles and each committee thought its solution was the best and the hon. Member Dr. John thinks that what he has got in his mind is the best solution. I am not at all surprised about his view. Everybody thinks that he alone has the right remedy for these ills prevailing in society today. But what I say is this that the question has got to be looked at from various aspects and from the political point of view also, and proposals formulated for introducing tenancy reforms. From this point of view alone, Government are now examining the various problems. We are hoping that we will be able to solve this problem, if not permanently—my humble opinion is that a permanent solution of this problem is not possible—at least to find a solution which will be a progressive one, which will establish cordial relationship between the tenant and the landlord. The position of the tillers of the soil will be made satisfactory enough so that the land which so many treasure and which has got to be utilized to the greatest possible extent to feed the millions who are existing to-day and those yet to come—we are producing millions every year—may be put to the best possible use. With this object in view this Bill has been introduced before the House. When the comprehensive measure is ready it will be placed before the House when hon. Members will have an opportunity to discuss this question in greater detail, and express their views.

"Sir, I am grateful to hon. Members for the various suggestions made by them not only with regard to this temporary measure but for the ultimate solution of this very difficult problem. In fact if we extend the life of some of these temporary measures, it is not that we are content with it, but because we are compelled by the very difficulties of the problem to do so. When once Government think that they are in sight of the solution and put forward proposals, the examination of those proposals discloses that the problem requires further examination. That is why it goes on endlessly. But we hope to find a sound solution soon. I hope the Bill will be passed by this House."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"The question is—

Clauses 2, 3, 4 and 5 were separately put and carried.

Clause 1 was put and carried.

The Preamble was put and carried.

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—“ I want to say only a word, Sir. The Preamble of the Bill states: ‘ Whereas it is necessary, pending further legislation, to protect cultivating tenants in the district of South Kanara from unjust eviction; it is hereby enacted as follows:’. From a reading of this Preamble it looks as though unjust evictions in large numbers have already taken place in the district of South Kanara. In fact it is not so.
Ordinarily the Preamble of the Bill should state that a particular Bill is being brought forward for the purpose of preventing unjust eviction. If the landlord takes into his head to evict the tenant unjustly that should be prevented by Government by a legislative enactment. (An hon. Member: ‘ There has been unjust evictions.’) That does not mean that there have been thousands and thousands of unjust evictions and that the Government have not done their duty by the tenants.”

DR. V. K. JOHN:—“ Mr. Chairman, Sir, the Hon. the Minister for Finance has misunderstood my remarks. He said my idea was that Government should pay the price of the land from out of Government funds and then the cultivator should be made the owner of the land. That was not my idea. I shall explain my idea later on when we discuss the Malabar Tenancy Amendment Bill.”

APPENDIX.

[Vide item on page 1 supra.]

L.A. BILL No. 7 OF 1954.

(As passed by the Assembly.)

A Bill for the protection from eviction of cultivating tenants in the district of South Kanara.

WHEREAS it is necessary, pending further legislation, to protect cultivating tenants in the district of South Kanara from unjust eviction; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title, extent, commencement and duration.—(1) This Act may be called the South Kanara Cultivating Tenants Protection Act, 1954.

(2) It extends to the whole of the district of South Kanara other than the areas therein to which the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1929 (Madras Act XIV of 1930), extends.

(3) It shall come into force at once and shall be in force for a year.

2. Definitions.—In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires—

(a) “cultivating tenant” means a person who cultivates, by his own labour or by that of any other member of his family or by hired labour under his supervision and control, any land belonging to another, under a tenancy agreement, express or implied, and includes any such person who continues in possession of the land after the determination of the tenancy agreement;

(b) “holding” means a parcel or parcels of land held by a cultivating tenant;

(c) “land” means land used for the purpose of agriculture or horticulture and includes any building, or any waste, vacant or forest land, appurtenant thereto; and “cultivation” means the use of lands for the purpose of agriculture or horticulture;

(d) “landlord”, in relation to a holding or part thereof, means the person entitled to evict the cultivating tenant from such holding or part.

3. Landlords not to evict cultivating tenants.—(1) Subject to the next succeeding sub-sections, no cultivating tenant shall be evicted from his holding or any part thereof, during the continuance of this Act, by or at the instance of his landlord, whether in execution of a decree or order of a Court or otherwise.

(2) Subject to the next succeeding sub-section, sub-section (1) shall not apply to a cultivating tenant who, if in arrear at the commencement of this Act with respect to rent payable to the landlord and accrued due subsequent to the 31st March 1953, does not pay such rent within a month after the commencement of this Act or who, after the commencement of this Act, does not pay rent within a month after such rent accrues due.

[11th January 1954]

(3) (a) A cultivating tenant may deposit in Court the rent or, if the rent be payable in kind, its market value on the date of deposit, to the account of the landlord—

(i) in the case of rent accrued due subsequent to the 31st March 1953, within a month after the commencement of this Act;

(ii) in the case of rent accrued due after the commencement of this Act, within a month after the date on which the rent accrued due.

(b) The Court shall cause notice of the deposit to be issued to the landlord and determine, after a summary enquiry, whether the amount deposited represents the correct amount of rent due from the cultivating tenant. If the Court finds that any further sum is due, it shall allow the cultivating tenant time not exceeding a month for depositing such further sum inclusive of such costs as the Court may allow. If the Court adjudge that no further sum is due, or if the cultivating tenant deposits within the time allowed such further sum as is ordered by the Court, the cultivating tenant shall be deemed to have paid the rent within the period specified in the last foregoing sub-section. If, having to deposit a further sum, the cultivating tenant fails to do so within the time allowed by the Court, the landlord may evict the cultivating tenant as if this Act had not been passed.

(c) The expression “Court” in this sub-section means the Court which passed the decree or order for eviction or, where there is no such decree or order, the Court which would have jurisdiction to try a suit by the landlord for eviction of the cultivating tenant from the holding or part thereof to which the deposit relates.

4. Exclusion of time for limitation.—In computing the period of limitation or limit of time prescribed for an application for the execution of a decree or order for the eviction of a cultivating tenant, the time during which he was protected by section 3 from eviction shall be excluded.

Explanation.—A decree or order shall be deemed to be a decree or order for the eviction of a cultivating tenant, notwithstanding that any other relief is also granted by such decree or order.

5. Power to make rules.—The State Government may, by notification in the Fort St. George Gazette, make rules to carry out the purposes of this Act.

THE MADRAS INDEBTED AGRICULTURISTS
(TEMPORARY RELIEF) BILL, 1954.

11th January 1954] [Sri V. Gopala Gounder]

சட்டம் அவசரம் அவசரமாகப் பிரகடனப்படுத்தப்படவேண்டும் என்பதையும் நீங்கள் நன்றாக யோசித்துப் பார்க்கும்படி கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகின்றேன். இந்தச் சட்டம் இல்லாவிட்டால் விவசாயிகளுக்கு பெரிய கெடுதல் உண்டாகிவிடும். ஆகையால் இம்மாதிரி ஒரு சட்டம் அவசரமாக வரவேண்டும் என்று சொல்லக்கூடிய ஒரு சூழ்நிலை ஏற்பட்டதாகத் தெரியவில்லை. பொது ஜனங்களிடத்திலிருந்தோ, மற்ற எந்த இடத்திலிருந்தோ இம்மாதிரியான சட்டம் அவசரமாக—அதுவும் சட்டசபை கூடுவதற்கு ஒரு வாரத்திற்கு முன் முன்பாகவே—கொண்டுவரப்படவேண்டும் என்ற எந்தத் தகவலும் சர்க்காருக்குக் கிடைத்ததாக நமக்குத் தெரியவில்லை. சட்டசபை கூடப்போகிறது என்று தெரிந்தும்சூட அவசரம் அவசரமாக இந்தச் சட்டம் பிரகடனம் செய்யப்பட்டதின் மர்மம் என்ன என்பது சர்க்கார் பின்னால் சொல்லப் போகும் பதிலிலிருந்துதான் ஏற்படவேண்டும்.

“இந்தச் சட்டம் உண்மையிலேயே விவசாயிகளுக்கு என்று பிரகடனப் படுத்தப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. அது உண்மையில் விவசாயிகளுக்குப் பொருந்துமா? சட்டத்திலுள்ளபடி விவசாய மக்களுக்கு இது ஏதாவது நிவாரணத்தை அளிக்குமா என்பதைப்பற்றி நாம் யோசிக்க வேண்டியிருக்கிறது.

“இந்த மசோதாவில் ‘விவசாயி’ என்ற பதத்திற்கு இரண்டு விதமாக பொருள்படும்படி வியாக்யானம் இருக்கிறது. இன்றைக்கு கொடுத்திருக்கும்படியான திருத்தத்தின்படி பார்த்தால் என்னென்ன விதமாக அந்தப் பதத்தை அர்த்தம் செய்யமுடியுமோ அந்த மாதிரி யெல்லாம் மாற்றி மாற்றி சொல்லப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. பிரகடனப்படுத்தப்பட்ட அவசரச் சட்டத்திலே விவசாயி என்ற பதத்திற்கு சாதாரணமாக உழு பவனும், நேராக பயிரிடுவனும், நிலச் சுவாந்தார் தன் சொந்த மேற்பார்வையிலே பயிரிடுவனும் என்று அர்த்தம் என்று பிரகடனம் செய்யப்பட்டிருக்கிறது.

“சட்ட ரூபமாக இந்த சபைக்கு வருகிற காலத்திலே அந்தச் சட்டத்திலே விவசாயி என்ற பதம் யாருக்கு நிலத்தில் அக்கரை உண்டோ அவரையும் அந்த அக்கரை காரணமாக அந்த நிலத்தில் சம்பந்தப்பட்டுக்கொண்டிருக்கிற அவரையும், பின்னால் அந்த நிலத்தில் வருமானம் பெறுகின்ற அவரையும் குறிக்கும் என்று இரண்டாவது மசோதாவில் காணப் பட்டிருக்கிறது.

“திருத்தத்தைப் பற்றி பின்னால் பேசுகிறேன்.

“இந்தப்படி, விவசாயி என்ற பதத்திற்குப் பொருள் என்ன ஏற்படுகிற தென்று பார்த்தால், உண்மையிலேயே நிலத்திலே பயிரிடக்கூடிய அவனுக்கு இந்தச் சட்டத்தில் இடம் இல்லை என்று இந்த மசோதாவில் கண்டிப்பாக ஏற்படும். நிலத்தில் சொந்தக்காரனுக்குத்தான் அக்கரை உண்டாகுமே தவிர, குத்தகைக்கு பயிரிடுகிறவனுக்கு இருக்க முடியாது. வெகு காலமாக அந்த நிலத்திலே குத்தகைக்குப் பயிரிட்டு ஜீவனம் செய்பவனுக்கு இந்தச் சட்டத்தில் இடமே கிடையாது. ஏனென்றால், குத்தகைக்காரனுக்கு நிலத்தில் அக்கரை ஏற்படாது. நிலத்திலிருந்து வரும் மகசூலில் அக்கரை ஏற்படும். ஆகவே, இந்தச் சட்டத்தின்கீழ் பார்த்தால், அந்தக் குடியானவன் நிலத்திலே பயிரிடக்கூடியவனுக்கு குத்தகை செலவுகளுக்கும் ஒரு வித செலுகரியமும் இல்லை. யாருக்கு இந்தச் சட்டம் அனுகூலம் கொடுக்குமென்று சொன்னால், பெரிய மிராசு தாரர்கள் நிலங்களை விட்டு விட்டு எங்கோ வெளியூர்களிலே இருந்துகொண்டு வேறு விதமான வியாபாரத் துறைகளிலே காலம் கழித்துக் கொண்டிருப்பவர்களுக்கு இந்தச் சட்டம் நிவாரணம் அளிக்குமே யொழிய, உண்மையிலேயே உழைக்கக்கூடிய ஒரு விவசாயிக்கு இந்தச் சட்டம் அனுகூலத்தை அளிக்கும் என்று நான் நினைக்கவில்லை.

“பிறகு ஏதோ ஒரு திருத்தம் சர்க்கார்த் தரப்பிலே கொடுக்கப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. அதைப்பற்றி அவசியமானால் பின்னால் பேசிக்கொள்ளுகின்றேன். பொதுவாக இந்தச் சட்டத்தினால் விவசாயிகளுக்கு ஏதாவது நன்மை வருமா, வராதா என்றுதான் கேள்வி. சாதாரண விவசாயி அன்றாட

THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Monday, 11th January 1954.

The House met in the Assembly Chamber, Government Estate, Mount Road, at eleven of the clock, Mr. Speaker (THE HON. SRI J. SIVASHANMUGAM PILLAI) in the Chair.

THE MADRAS INDEBTED AGRICULTURISTS (TEMPORARY RELIEF) BILL, 1954.

SRI V. GOPALA GOUNDER :—“கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, இப்பொழுது விவாதத்தில் இருக்கும் கடன்பட்ட விவசாயிகளுக்கு ஒரு வருஷ காலத்திற்கு நிவாரணம் அளிக்கக் கொண்டு வந்திருக்கும் மசோதாவைப் பற்றி நான் சில வார்த்தைகள் பேச விரும்புகிறேன்.

“இந்த மசோதாவானது சென்னை கவர்னர் அவர்களால் 1953-ம் ஆண்டு டிசம்பர் 5-ல் அன்று அவசரச் சட்டத்தின் மூலமாக பிரகடனப்படுத்தப் பட்டது. அன்று முதல் மாகாணத்திலுள்ள எல்லா பாகங்களிலும் இந்த அவசரச் சட்டமானது அமுலுக்கு வந்துவிட்டது.

“மாகாணத்திலே ஒரு நெருக்கடியான சூழ்நிலை ஏற்படுகிற காலத்திலே, சட்டசபை நடக்காமலிருந்தால், அந்தக் காலத்திலே கவர்னர் அவர்கள் சூழ்நிலைக்குத் தகுந்த முறையில் ஒரு அவசரச் சட்டத்தைப் பிரகடனப் படுத்த அரசியல் சட்டம் அதிகாரம் அளித்திருக்கிறது. அந்த அதிகாரத்தின் கீழ்தான் அந்தச் சட்டம் கொண்டுவரப்பட்டிருப்பதாக அந்தச் சட்டத்தின் Preamble-ல் சொல்லப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. இந்தச் சபை டிசம்பர் 14-ந் தேதி துவங்கியிருக்கிறது. டிசம்பர் 5-ந் தேதி இந்த அவசரச் சட்டம் அமுலுக்கு வந்திருக்கிறது என்பதை நீங்கள் ஞாபகத்தில் வைத்துக்கொள்ளவேண்டும். சட்டசபை கூடுவதற்கு ஒருவாரத்திற்குள்ளாகவே ஏன் இந்த அவசரச்

[Sri V. Gopala Gounder] [11th January 1954]

வாழ்க்கைக்கு, அன்றாடக் கொடுக்கல் வாங்கலுக்கு செளகரியம் இருந்தாலொழிய அவன் தன் வாழ்க்கையை நடத்த முடியாது என்பது உங்களெல்லோருக்கும் தெரியும். அந்தந்த ஊரிலே ஏதோ ஒரு பணக் காரனிடமிருந்து தினம் தினம் அவன் குடும்பச் செலவுக்கும், பயிர்ச் செலவுக்கும், மற்ற இதர செலவுகளுக்கும் அடிக்கடி கொடுக்கல் வாங்கல் செய்ய நாணயம் இருந்தால்தான் அவன் தன்னுடைய வாழ்க்கையை நடத்த முடியும். இந்தச் சட்டம் வந்தவுடனே அம்மாதிரி குடும்பச் செலவுக்கு தினம் தினம் கொடுத்து உதவும் பெரிய பணக்காரர்கள் தங்களுடைய கொடுக்கல் வாங்கலை உடனே நிறுத்திக்கொள்ளுவார்கள். அதனால் அவன் வாழ்க்கையே கண்டிப்பாக பாதிக்கப்படும் என்பதில் சந்தேகமேயில்லை. விவசாயிக்கு இருந்த நாணயம் கிராமத்தில் கெட்டுவிடும் என்பது என்னுடைய அபிப்பிராயம். அந்த முறையிலே பார்த்தால், இந்தச் சட்டமானது அந்த ஊரிலே ஏழை விவசாயிகளின் நாணயத்தைக் கெடுக்குமே யொழிய அவனுக்கு உதவி செய்யும் என்று நாம் நம்ப முடியாது. அதையும் நீங்கள் நன்றாக யோசிக்கவேண்டுமென்று கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகின்றேன்.

“சதாரணமாக, இந்தச் சட்டத்தைப் பார்த்தால் பூரா நிவாரணம் கொடுத்ததாக இல்லை. ஏதோ பட்டிருக்கும் கடனை ஒரு வருஷம் பொறுத்துக் கொடுக்கலாம் என்று சொல்லப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. அதனால் அவனுக்கு ஒரு வருஷத்திற்கு நிவாரணம் கொடுக்கப்பட்டிருக்கிறது என்றுதான் அர்த்தம். அந்த ஒரு வருஷத்திற்கு வட்டி இல்லாமற் போனாலும், பட்ட கடனைக் கொடுக்கக் கடமைப்பட்டவன் என்பதில் சந்தேகம் இல்லை. அவன் பட்ட கடனை எப்படியும் கொடுத்துத்தான் ஆகவேண்டும்.

“கடனைத் திருப்பிக் கொடுப்பதில் அனேக சங்கடங்கள் இருக்கின்றன. தனிப்பட்டவர்களிடம் பட்ட கடனை மட்டும்தான் அவன் ஒரு வருஷத்திற்குக் கொடுக்காமல் நிறுத்திக்கொள்ளலாமே தவிர, அவன் சர்க்காரிடம் பட்ட கடனை நிறுத்த முடியாது. சர்க்காருக்கு செலுத்த வேண்டிய கிஸ்தி தொகை, சர்க்கார் உதவி பெற்ற பாங்குகளில் வாங்கிய கடன் ஆகியவைகளை அவன் நிறுத்த முடியாது. தனிப்பட்டவர்களிடமிருந்து வாங்கிய கடனை ஒரு வருஷம் நிறுத்திக்கொள்வதனால் அவனுக்கு ஒரு அளவு நிவாரணம் இருக்கிறதே யொழிய, சர்க்காருக்குச் செலுத்தவேண்டிய கிஸ்தி போன்றவைகளை அவன் எப்படியும் கொடுக்கத்தான் வேண்டியிருக்கிறது. இந்தக் குறைபாடுகளும் இந்த மசோதாவில் இருக்கின்றன.

“நான் ஏற்கெனவே சொன்னேன், ஊரிலுள்ள பணக்காரர்களிடமிருந்து வாங்கிக்கொண்டிருந்தவர்கள் இனி அவர்களிடமிருந்து இந்தச் சட்டத்திற்குப் பிறகு கடன் வாங்க முடியாது என்று. இந்த ஒரு வருஷத்திற்குத்தான் இந்த சட்டம் நிவாரணத்தை அளிக்கும். ஐந்து, ஆறு வருஷமாக மழை பெய்யாமலிருந்து இப்பொழுது ஏதோ மழை பெய்திருக்கிறது. அதனால் அவர்களுக்கு அதிகமான பலன் கிடைத்துவிட்டது என்று சொல்ல வாஸ்தவம். ஆனால், அவனுக்கு இன்னும் அனேக சங்கடங்கள் ஏற்பட்டிருக்கின்றன. பயிர்களில் பூச்சி ஏற்பட்டு சரியான மகசூல் கிடைக்குமோ கிடைக்காதோ என்ற நிச்சயமில்லாத நிலையில் இருந்துகொண்டிருக்கிறார்கள். அப்படியிருக்கும்போது, மழை பெய்துவிட்டது, அதனால் விவசாயிகளுக்குப் பூரண மகசூல் கிடைத்துவிடும், ஜனங்கள் மழை பெய்துவிட்டதனால் உன்னத நிலையை அடைந்துவிட்டார்கள் என்று எண்ணுவது நியாயமில்லை. அவர்களுக்கு கிடைத்த மகசூலிலிருந்து ஏற்கனவே பட்ட கடனைக் கொஞ்சமாவது கொடுத்தால்தான் தங்கள் காரியங்களுக்கு பிறகு கடனைப் பெறமுடியும். அந்த நாணயத்தை இதனால் கெடுத்து விடுகிறோம். சர்க்காருக்குக் கொடுக்க வேண்டிய கடன்களுக்கும், மற்ற கடன்களுக்கும் இவர்களுடைய விவசாயப் பொருள்களை அநியாயமான விலைக்கு விற்கும் படி நேரிகிறது. இந்தக் கடன்களைக் கொடுப்பதற்காக அவர்களுக்கு கிடைத்த பொருளை அநியாயமான விலைக்கு விற்கும்படியாக நிர்ப்பந்தம் இந்த மசோதாவினால் ஏற்படுகிறது.

[11th January 1954] [Sri V. Gopala Gounder]

“கடன்காரர்களுக்குக் கடனைத் திருப்பிக்கொடுக்க அவனிடம் பண வசதி இல்லை. ஆகவே, மகசூல்களைக் கொண்டுவந்து விற்க முயற்சிப்பார்கள். அந்தக் காலத்திலே வியாபார மந்தம் கண்டிப்பாக ஏற்படும். அப்படி வலுவிலேயே தானியங்களைக் கொண்டு போய் விற்க முயற்சிப்பதனால் அவனுடைய பொருள்களுக்கு நல்ல விலை கிடைக்காமல் குறைந்த விலைக்கு விற்க வேண்டிய நிர்ப்பந்தம்தான் இந்த மசோதாவினால் ஏற்படுகிறது.

“ஆகவே, இந்த இரண்டு வாதங்களையும் பார்த்தால், இந்த சட்டம் விவசாயிகளுக்கு நன்மை அளிப்பதாக இல்லை. இந்தச் சட்டமானது இந்த நிலையில் அவசியமும் இல்லை. ஒருக்காலத்தில் சட்டம் வேண்டுமென்று சொன்னது வாஸ்தவம். இரண்டு வருஷங்களுக்கு முன்னாடி, ஜனங்கள் பஞ்சத்தால் பாதிக்கப்பட்டு, அதிக தொந்தரவுக்குள்ளாகிக்கொண்டிருந்த காலத்தில் இந்தச் சட்டம் அவசியம் இருந்தது. இந்தச் சபையிலுள்ள ஒரு தரப்பார் சொன்னது உண்டு. சர்க்கார் அப்பொழுது இம்மாதிரியான ஒரு காரியத்தைச் செய்ய முன்வரவில்லை. இப்பொழுது நிலைமை சரிப் பட்டுக்கொண்டு வருகிற சமயத்தில், ஒவ்வொருவனும் மற்ற இதர செலவுகளை ஒருவாறு சமாளிக்கிறான் என்ற நிலை ஏற்படுகிற காலத்திலே இம்மாதிரியான சூழ்நிலை உண்டாக்கி தங்களுடைய நாணயத்தைக் கெடுக்கக் கூடிய இந்தச் சட்டம் வரவேண்டிய அவசியம் இல்லை என்பது என்னுடைய கருத்தாகும்.

“ஆனால், ஒரு வருஷத்தில் இந்தச் சட்டம் சர்க்காருக்கு உதவிகரமாக இருக்கலாம். இந்த சட்டத்திலே நாம் என்ன பார்க்கிறோம். விவசாயிகளுக்கு தற்கால நிவாரணம் அளிக்கிறது என்று சொல்லும்போது, அதே சமயத்தில் சர்க்காருக்கு இந்தச் சட்டம் உதவிகரமாக இருக்கிறதென்றுதான் சொல்ல முடியும். ஏனெனில், பஞ்சத்தின் காரணமாக இதுவரை சர்க்காருக்குச் சேரவேண்டிய கடன்கள், நிலத் தீர்வை, இவைகளை சுலபமாக வசூலிக்க, இந்த சட்டம் வந்ததற்குப் பிறகு, ஒரு வழி ஏற்படும். அது கண்டிப்பாக ஏற்படலாம். அதைப்பற்றி சந்தேகம் இல்லை. நான் தவறாகச் சொல்லவில்லை. சர்க்காருக்குச் சேரவேண்டியது நியாயம்தான். அது இல்லாமல் சர்க்கார் நடக்க முடியாது என்பதை ஒத்துக்கொள்ளுகிறேன்.

“இந்தச் சட்டத்தைப் பற்றி நான் சொல்லும்போது வக்கீல் என்ற ஹோதாவில் நான் சொல்லவில்லை. சட்டசபை அங்கத்தினர் என்ற முறையில் நான் சொல்லுகின்றேன். இந்த சட்டம் பிரகடனப்படுத்தப்பட்டவுடன் அனேக சிவில் கோர்ட்டுகளும், ரிஜிஸ்திரார் ஆபீஸ்களும் மூடப்படும் என்பதில் எனக்குச் சந்தேகம் இல்லை. அதனால் அனேக உத்தியோகஸ்தர்களுக்கு வேலையில்லாமல் போகும்படியான நிலைமை ஏற்படும். அதனால் சர்க்காருக்கு மிச்சம் உண்டாகலாம். அதைப்பற்றி கவலையில்லை. ஆகவே, இந்தச் சட்டத்தின் நேரடியான லாபம் சர்க்காருக்கு இருக்கலாமேயொழிய, உண்மையிலேயே விவசாய மக்களுக்கு அதிக லாபம் இருக்காது என்பது என்னுடைய அபிப்பிராயம். ஆகவேதான் இந்தச் சட்டம் பிரகடனப்படுத்தப்பட்டவுடனே நான் இந்தச் சபை அங்கீகாரத்திற்கு ஒரு தீர்மானத்தை சபாநாயகர் அவர்களுக்கு அனுப்பினேன். துரதிருஷ்டவசமாக, என்னுடைய தீர்மானம் பின்னால் போய்விட்டது. அதைப்பற்றி அதிகமாக இப்பொழுது பேசத் தயாராயில்லை.

“முதலில் பிரகடனப்படுத்தப்பட்ட அவசரச் சட்டத்தின் விதிகளுக்கும், இந்தச் சட்டத்தில் இருக்கும் விதிகளுக்கும் அனேக முரண்பாடுகள் இருக்கின்றன. அதன் காரணமாக நியாயஸ்தலங்களில் இந்தச் சட்டம் வந்ததற்குப் பின்னால் சரியான நீதி கிடைக்குமென்று நான் நினைக்கவில்லை. சுப்ரீம் கோர்ட்டு வரையில் போகும்படியான பிரச்சனைகள் கிளம்பலாம். விவசாயிகளுக்கு நிவாரணம் அளிக்க நாம் நினைக்கிறோம். ஆனால், கடைசியில் கிளம்பும் சட்டப் பிரச்சனைகளினால் சுப்ரீம் கோர்ட்டுக்குப் போகக்கூடிய நிலையில் இந்த அவசரச் சட்டம் பிரகடனப்படுத்தப்பட்டிருக்கிறது.

“அவசர சட்டத்தின்பின் இந்த சர்க்கார் மசோதா ஒன்று கொண்டு வந்து, அதற்குச் சில திருத்தங்களும் கொண்டுவந்திருக்கிறார்கள். அந்தத்

[Sri V. Gopala Gounder] [11th January 1954]

“அதற்குப் பிறகு அனேகம் குறைகளைப்பற்றி அங்கத்தினர்கள் அனேகமாக இந்த சட்ட விதிகளைப்பற்றி சர்க்கார் முடிவிற்கு திருத்தங்கள் அனுப்பியிருக்கிறார்கள். அந்தத் திருத்தங்களைப் பார்த்தால் சட்டப் பிரச்சினைக்குரிய அம்சங்கள் இருக்கின்றன. அதற்கு சட்ட நுணுக்கத்துடன் ஆராய்ச்சி செய்தாலொழிய இந்தச் சட்டத்தின் முடிவு எந்த விவசாயிக்கும் லாபத்தைக் கொடுக்காது. கோர்ட்டுக்குப் போனாலும்கூட, உண்மையிலேயே நல்ல சௌகரியங்கள் அவர்களுக்குக் கிடைக்குமென்று என்னால் நம்ப முடியாது. ஆகவே, நான் சொன்னேன், இந்த மசோதாவை பொறுக்குக் கமிட்டிக்கு விட்டு, இந்த சட்ட விதிகளை ஒவ்வொன்றாக தீர யோசித்து, அதன் பின்னால் இந்த சட்டத்தைக் கொண்டுவந்தால் நல்லதாக இருக்குமென்று எண்ணித்தான் நண்பர் ஸ்ரீ வினாயகம் அவர்கள் பிரேரேபித்த பிரேரே பணியை நான் ஆதரித்துப் பேசினேன். ஆகவே, நான் வக்கீல் என்ற முறையில் பேசுவதாக சில பேர்கள் தப்பிப்பிராயம் கொள்ளுகிறார்கள். இந்த சட்டத்திற்கு இங்குள்ள வக்கீல் அங்கத்தினர்கள் எதிர்ப்பாக இருக்கிறார்கள் என்றும் மற்றவர்களெல்லோரும் இதற்குச் சாதகமாக இருக்கிறார்கள் என்றும் ஒரு கெட்ட அபிப்பிராயம் இருந்துவருகிறது. இங்கு மட்டுமல்லாமல் வெளியேயும் இம்மாதிரியான அபிப்பிராயம் கிளம்பியிருக்கிறது. அதற்கு என்ன பதில் சொல்கிறேன் என்றால், உண்மையிலேயே நான் வக்கீல் தான். இருந்தாலும் நான் Civil கோர்ட்டுக்குப் போனதே இல்லை. ஆகவே, இந்தச் சட்டமானது என்னைக் கட்டுப்படுத்தாது.”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—“நீங்கள் பேசின தோரணையிலேயே அது தெரிகிறதே.”

SRI V. GOPALA GOUNDER :—“ஆகவே, நானும் சரி மற்ற வக்கீல் தோழர்களும் சரி இந்தச் சட்டம் வேண்டாமென்று சொல்லவில்லை. எனது வக்கீல் தோழர்கள்கூட உண்மையிலேயே Civil கோர்ட்டுக்கு அதிகமாகப் போவதில்லை என்று தெரியும். இருந்தாலும் இந்தச் சட்டம் அவர்களை ஒன்றும் பாதிக்காது. நான் இதைப் பொதுவாக வக்கீல் என்ற தோரணையில் சொல்லவில்லை. இந்தச் சபையின் சாதாரண அங்கத்தினர் என்ற எண்ணத்தில் நான் என்ன நினைக்கிறேன். இந்தச் சட்டத்தைப்பற்றி எனக்கு என்ன தோன்றுகிறதோ அதைத்தான் பேசுகிறேனே யொழிய, வக்கீல் என்ற முறையில் பேசவில்லை. ஆகவே, நான் ஏற்கனவே சொல்லியபடி இந்தச் சட்டம் அவசரம் அல்ல என்று மீண்டும் சொல்லுகின்றேன். அவசரச் சட்டம் பிறப்பிக்கப்படவேண்டுமென்றால், அதற்கு ஒரு அவசரம் இருக்கவேண்டும். அதற்காக எங்கு பார்த்தாலும் கிளர்ச்சி இருக்கவேண்டும். அந்தக் கிளர்ச்சியின் காரணமாக அந்தச் சூழ்நிலையைத் தவிர்க்க வேறு வழியில்லாமல் போனால், சட்டசபை அப்பொழுது இல்லாமலிருந்தால், அந்த மாதிரி சமயத்தில் திடீரென்று பிரகடனப்படுத்துவது நியாயம். அந்த மாதிரி சந்தர்ப்பம் ஏதாவது இருக்கிறதா என்று பார்த்தால் ஒன்றுமில்லை.

“ஜன்வரி மாதம் வந்தால் வசூல் ஆரம்பிக்கவேண்டும். அதற்காக ஒரு வேளை சர்க்காருக்கு சந்தேகம் இருக்கலாம். மற்ற கடன்காரர்கள் வந்து தங்களுடைய கடனை வசூல் செய்துகொண்டுபோய்விட்டால், சர்க்காருக்கு விவசாயிகள் செலுத்தவேண்டிய கடன் தொகை, மற்றும் கிஸ்தி போன்றவைகளை செலுத்தாமல் இருந்து விடப்போகிறார்களே என்ற ஒரு காரணத்தினால் செய்திருக்கலாமோ என்று நினைக்கிறேன். அம்மாதிரியான நோக்கம் சர்க்காருக்கு இருக்குமோ என்னவோ என்று

[11th January 1954] [Sri V. Gopala Gounder]

நினைக்கிறேன். அதைப்பற்றி நான் கவலைப்படவில்லை. ஏனென்றால், சர்க்காருக்குச் சேரவேண்டியது வந்தால்தான் சர்க்காரை நடத்த முடியும். சர்க்கார் வசூலித்துக்கொள்வதற்கு நான் தடை சொல்வதாக சர்க்கார் நினைக்கவேண்டாம். நான் சொல்வது என்னவென்றால், சர்க்கார் கடனைப் போலவே இதர மனிதர்களுடைய கடனையும் பாவிக்கவேண்டும். இதரர்களுடைய கடனைக் கொடுத்தால்தான் விவசாயிகள் மீது மற்றவர்களுக்கு ஒரு நல்ல எண்ணம் இருக்கும். இல்லாவிட்டால் விவசாயிகளுடைய நாணியம் பாதிக்கப்படும். விவசாயிகள் தங்களுடைய கிராமங்களில் ஒரு நாணியத்தோடு இருக்கும்படியாக இருந்தால்தான் வாழ்க்கையை நடத்த முடியும். ஆகவேதான் நான் இதைச் சொல்லுகிறேன்.

“இந்தச் சட்டம் வந்ததினால் விவசாயிகள் தங்களுடைய குடும்பச் செலவுக்குக் கூட கடன் வாங்க முடியாத நிலையில் இருக்கிறார்கள். அடுத்து வரக்கூடிய பொங்கல் பண்டிகைக்குக்கூட கடன் வாங்கி நடத்த முடியாத அளவுக்கு அவர்களுடைய நாணயம் பாதிக்கப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. அனேக குடும்பங்கள் இந்தச் சட்டத்தினால் பாதிக்கப்பட்டிருக்கிறார்கள் என்று கட்டாயமாகச் சொல்ல முடியும். ஏன் இதைச் சொல்கிறேன் என்றால், நாளைக்குப் பொங்கல் வருகிறது. இதுவரை இன்னும் மகசூல் அறுவடையாகாமல் அனேக கிராமங்கள் இருக்கின்றன. அவன் கடன் கேட்டுத்தான் பொங்கல் பண்டிகையை நடத்தக்கூடிய நிலையில் இருக்கிறான். இந்தச் சட்டத்தின் காரணமாக கிராமத்திலிருக்கும் பணக்காரர்கள் கடன்கொடுத்து உதவமுடியாத நிலை ஏற்பட்டிருக்கிறது. அந்த நிலையிலே இந்தச் சட்டம் என்ன செய்யப்போகிறது என்பதைத்தான் நீங்கள் யோசிக்கவேண்டும்.

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—“I wish to speak, Sir, for one purpose, and that is to reduce the amount of discussion and I hope hon. Members will bear with me and accept my object as genuine. We all of us have been told that everybody is anxious to go away and book his seat on account of Pongal. That is the reason why I intervene in this manner, namely, that we should reduce the discussion. Of course, it would be good to have any amount of discussion so that we can understand all points of view. But we have to work under the special circumstances that I have mentioned.

“Therefore, after studying the one hundred odd amendments that have been given notice of, I make bold to say that there are certain things which we cannot accept and there are other things which can be provided for by a couple of amendments which I propose to introduce apart from other verbal changes. You will permit me to say that the hon. Member, Mr. Gopala Gounder has tried to take contrary attitudes in a very able manner and I concede or rather I promise that it will not be said by any of us that the party to which he belongs has stood in the way of this Bill. Yet, he wants to stand in the way . . . (interruption); whatever it may be, I will try my best to see that the hon. Member

[Sri C. Rajagopalachari] [11th January 1954]

Sri Gopala Goundar and his Friends do not stand in the way. He wanted to improve the Bill. He said, 'this Bill will not help the agriculturists; much more should be done' and so on. Therefore, what he wanted to do? 'Nothing should be done.' I wish to know whether it will help anybody if we did nothing. It may be that we have to do much more. It may be that we are doing only very little. It may be that we should have done this much earlier. But that does not mean, nothing should be done now. I submit that that is a wrong attitude to take up and that is why I lay the charge that he took up a contrary attitude. If we really wish to help people, let us do it as far as we can and as far as possible in the circumstances. Let us do what we can now and later on we can improve. We need not postpone the whole thing.

"All the arguments about the legal difficulties that will be raised are also present in my mind. I have reconciled myself to this: so long as there are able lawyers—and they are progressive both in number and in quality, they are getting abler and abler and larger and larger in number—we cannot prevent litigations and questions being raised in Courts. That is an unfortunate fact to which we should reconcile ourselves. Nor are we entitled to say that we do not want lawyers. It will not be right to say so. Even if we are entitled to say so, it would be not correct to say so. So we want lawyers also to get on in this world somehow. We can try our best to reduce the amount of litigation and that is what we are trying to do. There are two evils from which we should choose the lesser. One is to increase litigation and the other is to try to save the debtor peasants from a particular situation. I think it is far more important to prevent unnecessary litigation than to add to the benefits at the risk of litigation. After all the object of the Bill is only to give time for one year. Let me make it categorically clear on the floor of this House that it is not the policy or intention of the Government to wipe off these debts progressively. It is necessary to maintain the credit of the agriculturists and cultivators and it is necessary therefore not to wipe out the debts and create an impression that the man or the Bank who lends money, would lose his money. I may make it perfectly clear on this occasion that our intention is only to give time strictly in the sense of a moratorium. It is not the intention to wipe off debts. The object of the Bill, as stated, will be stuck to, namely, to give time, a temporary moratorium in respect of those classes who are likely to suffer.

"Then the next point is, if in our attempt to improve the Bill, we create doubts, what follows is that the whole year would be spent in litigation as against the relief we wish to give. That is why we have not classified, as we would have classified, 'an agriculturist' in a more detailed manner. If we went about classifying more and more, all those points would be taken up by the tribe to which the hon. Sri Gopala Gounder belongs, the hon. Sri Raghava Mudaliar belongs and the hon. Sri Swayamprakasam belongs. It is not a fault of theirs. It is the fault of the civilization itself to which we belong. But we cannot allow that thing to happen and so, if there is some defect, we prefer that to continuous litigation. So, Sir, I propose that those who are assessed to income-tax and there is a minimum income fixed for assessment—either in this year or the last two years—which would disclose the status in a way of the person,—shall not be entitled to the benefits of this moratorium. If that is done, I think, we get away from a lot of mischief, that is, apprehended, namely, disturbance of credit, safeguarding money lent out by banks, and this and that. When we exclude persons assessed to income-tax, we exclude a large number of cases of misuse of the concession that we give. So I propose, in the definition of agriculturist to make one thing clear, namely, to change the word 'owns'. The definition 'a person who owns an interest in land' has led to some doubts. Some people fear that it will exclude lessees and mortgagees. So I propose to change that. We will have, instead of 'owns', 'possesses an interest in land' and we also add clearly to include 'essees' so that there will be no doubt about it. So, we propose to add at the end of the clause 'shall include a lessee, provided that on one shall be deemed an agriculturist for the purpose of this Act if he has been assessed to income-tax in any of the years 1951-52, 1952-53 or 1953-54.' And this same proviso will be added to Explanation II also, namely, 'where a joint Hindu family, etc., is an agriculturist, every coparcener, etc., shall be deemed to be an agriculturist,' provided he has not been assessed to income-tax in any of the years 1951-52, 1952-53 and 1953-54.

"So, that clears a large number of amendments that have been proposed and a large number of alternative amendments that have been proposed also. It was also possible to provide an exclusion based on the amount of land revenue that a man pays. But if we did that, what would happen is, we would be opening up litigation, as to whether a man is within the limit or not, whether assessment in one taluk, two taluks or all taluks should be counted or not and so on, and questions may be raised even in clear cases and will be taken to courts, so that the whole year will be spent upon that. So I submit that the House may accept the 'income-tax formula' for the purpose of limiting the benefit and we need not have the 'land revenue formula'. After full consideration, I have given up that idea, for I do not want to increase litigation through this measure or take away with one hand what we give with another hand. Secondly, all these—some of these—land owners will have some business and pay some income-tax. Therefore, I think the proviso as to income-tax will exclude most of these people. If somebody who is not a businessman at all, but is purely an agriculturist, a big land-owner, had borrowed only for the purpose of the business of the land, he must have borrowed from someone richer than himself. It does not matter if we give the benefit of postponement to him. We need not very much worry about it.

"Then, we propose that in Clause 2, that sub-clause (b) shall be omitted, namely, definition of 'creditor'. It is used only in two places and it could be better described in those places and we need have no definition which may raise doubts as to the substantive law. So we propose that the word 'creditor' in the definition be omitted altogether.

"Then we come to definition of 'debt'. This has created some doubt. It was rightly pointed out that it reads as if we were thinking only of rent and not ordinary debts. We have recast it completely. It will read thus, if hon. Members will please look into the Bill and the amendments circulated—"debt" means any sum of money which a person is liable to pay under a contract and includes rent in cash or kind which a person is liable to pay or deliver in respect of land under a contract (express or implied)."

This will not include mesne profits, trespasser's claim and other things. It will include only rent as such, as we all understand. This definition may therefore be accepted as better than the definition in the Bill.

"Then by another amendment, we exclude rent due for house property from the scope of this Bill. Under 'Exception' we insert items (i) and (ii) in advance of the exceptions already on the paper and it will read as follows:—

- (i) Rent or compensation for the use and occupation of house property;
- (ii) rent or compensation for the use and occupation of immovable property not being house property, accrued due after the 31st March 1953."

"The amendments of many hon. Members are met by this. Rent due for the current year must be given.

"There was another question raised about the clause relating to wages. For the existing clause, we propose, 'wages or remuneration due as salary or otherwise for services rendered.' Petty officials' wages who may not be agricultural labourers should be protected. So we have since exempted wages or remuneration due for services rendered.

"Then, doubt was raised whether land suits would be held up on account of this law. So we propose to provide in Explanation II of clause 3, which reads, 'a suit shall be deemed to be a suit for the recovery of a debt notwithstanding that other reliefs are prayed for in such suit, etc.,' a clear proviso at the end, namely, 'provided that a suit for possession of land shall not be deemed to be a suit for recovery of a debt by reason merely of mesne profits being also prayed for in such suit.' But ordinary land suits—partition suits and the like—will not be held up merely because mesne profits are also prayed for in connection with the suit.

"In clause 6, instead of the words 'under section 53 (1) of the Transfer of Property Act . . . ' We propose to put in the words 'any suit or proceedings' so that claim petition in execution and the like also may be covered. This is only a verbal amendment, and my Hon. Colleague will explain when the amendment comes up.

[Sri C. Rajagopalachari] [11th January 1954]

"So the position is like this. We have accepted the suggestion made by a large number of Members for excluding income-tax payers, rent for house property and current rent. I hope that with these amendments the Bill will be acceptable to the House and that we can proceed with the clause by clause discussion and finish the Bill, instead of postponing, before we disperse for Pongal. I say that we should look upon this Bill as our Pongal present to the agriculturists of our country.

"It was mentioned by Mr. Gopala Gounder that this Bill benefited the Government. As he himself admitted, benefit to Government is not a bad thing. Government must go on. If we disturb the normal working of co-operative societies and other bodies by a moratorium of this kind, the whole of our economic structure will be disturbed. Especially rural economics is built-up and intertwined with the working of co-operative societies. Like the Finance Departments of the Government of India and the Government of Madras, co-operative societies should be protected. Therefore we do not propose to disturb them.

"The argument that either everything should be given or nothing should be given is not correct. Even admitting the proposition that consistency demands that this moratorium should cover debts due to co-operative societies and the Government, it does not go to show that what we propose to give is not good. We cannot disturb the financial organization of the country too much. When we are not able to give five things, let us give at least two. It should not be pressed that the other three also should be given or none at all. To say that all the amendments should be accepted for this Bill to go through or we will delay the passage of the Bill is, I submit, not a correct attitude."

DR. K. B. MENON:—"Sir, I rise to seek clarification on one point. In Explanation I in clause 2, there is reference to 'any special Indian law'. May I ask the Chief Minister to tell us the scope of it?"

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM:—"For example, the Indian Banking Act."

SRI K. VINAYAKAM:—"On a point of personal explanation, Sir. The House may be aware that I was the person who wanted this Bill to be referred to a Select Committee. The way in which the Hon. Chief Minister painted the picture impels me to explain my position."

MR. SPEAKER:—"I will give an opportunity to the hon. Member afterwards.

"The hon. Member Sri Swayamprakasam can move his amendment for circulating the Bill to elicit public opinion and then speak.

[Mr. Speaker] [11th January 1954]

"I suggest that the discussion can go on till 12-30 p.m. At 12-30 I will call upon the Hon. Member to reply. Then I will put the amendments and the motion to vote. In the afternoon session, we can take the Bill clause by clause."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Is it necessary to put it so late as 12-30?"

MR. SPEAKER:—"I want to know the consensus of opinion of the House."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"If at the end of it all the Bill is not passed, I will not be misunderstood if I carry on a furious propaganda that the delay in the passage of the Bill was entirely due to the Opposition."

SRI S. SWAYAMPRAKASAM:—"Let the Chief Minister carry on the propaganda with all the facilities available with the Government."

SRI S. RAMALINGAM:—"சில முக்கியமான திருத்தங்கள் கொண்டு வரவிருப்பதாலும் சபையிலுள்ள பல அங்கத்தினர்கள் இதைப்பற்றி வற்புறுத்திப்பேசப் போவதாலும், இன்று பூராவும் சர்ச்சையை மட்டும் வைத்துக்கொண்டு, நாளை Clause by clause reading ஐ வைத்துக்கொள்ளுமாறு கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகிறேன். சாயங்காலம் பில்லை முடித்துக்கொள்ளலாம்."

MR. SPEAKER:—"பல மெம்பர்கள் தங்கள் ஊருக்குப் போவதற்காக முன்னாலேயே டிக்கட்டுகளை 'புக்' பண்ணி விட்டார்களே?"

SRI S. RAMALINGAM:—"போகிறவர்கள் போகட்டும். நாளைக்கு முடிவு செய்துகொள்ளலாம். அதற்கு time கொடுக்கும்படி கேட்டுக் கொள்ளுகிறேன்."

SRI S. SWAYAMPRAKASAM:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I move—

'That the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill, 1954, be circulated to elicit public opinion.'

"At the outset I thank the Hon. Chief Minister for the readiness with which he accepted the substance of some of the amendments. We on this side welcome the Bill so far as it goes. Whether the amendments accepted by the Government satisfy all the demands made from this side is another question. The Hon. Chief Minister was saying that lawyers from a certain section of the House were adopting dilatory tactics to delay the passage of the Bill. It is absolutely incorrect. As a matter of fact, I welcome the principle underlying this Bill and wish that the Bill should be passed early. So also many other Members on this side share that view."

"The Ordinance was issued on 5th December 1953. What is the reason for the Government delaying this Bill so long and bringing it before the House at the fag end of the session? Who asked the Government to give an interval of eight days from 27th December to 3rd January? We were prepared to go on with this

[11th January 1954] [Sri S. Swayamprakasam]

Bill. No doubt, Budget takes the first place in the order of priority of business. Immediately after the budget discussion, the Government could have brought forward this Bill. If this Bill had then been placed before the House, we could have devoted as much time as was necessary."

"For future occasions, I am suggesting this. I am putting it not from a legal point of view but from the commonsense point of view. The Ordinance is issued under Article 213, clause (1). The Governor says 'And whereas the Legislature of the State is not in session' the Ordinance is issued. As soon as the Legislature meets, the Bill embodying the Ordinance should be placed for the consideration of the House. The Legislature is a sovereign body. As soon as the Assembly meets, it must take up the Bill and consider it."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"If it is a complaint about the procedure, I wish hon. Members to hear our explanation immediately. The Ordinance was issued on 5th December and there was ample notice to every one of what the Government were proposing to do. So there cannot be any substantive complaint that the Members did not know what the Government proposed to do."

"As regards introducing the draft Bill to replace the Ordinance, certain preliminary things had to be gone through. Laws like the Civil Procedure Code are touched by this Bill and therefore we had to get a number of concurrences. The Bill has been introduced on the earliest possible day."

SRI S. SWAYAMPRAKASAM:—"My point is that it is the duty of the lawyer-Members of this House to point any legal flaws that may exist so that they may be cured at the earliest possible opportunity. The business of the doctors is not only to cure the disease but also to prevent it. Similarly the business of a lawyer is not only to argue in courts of law but also to prevent litigation as far as possible. It is from that point of view that I am putting forward my view. The Prohibition Act was passed several years ago. Recently a case under that Act has been launched, a preliminary objection has been taken and arguments are going on in a court of law. As the Hon. the Chief Minister has very often said, lawyers are there to take advantage of loopholes in particular provisions of the Act and the courts are there to uphold the points raised. When the Government are bringing forth a legislation for the benefit of illiterate, innocent persons like agriculturists, the language must be simple so that there cannot be any two meanings for a particular word and there cannot be any scope for ingenious lawyers to cling to any loopholes. The object of this Bill is this. A certain section of the public, namely, the agriculturist class, is engaged in cultivation operations. So, the time of such an agriculturist should not be wasted in going to the court of law to find out whether there is any relief available to him or not."

[11th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Time is not the only thing relevant. Capacity is also a factor to be taken into consideration."

SRI S. SWAYAMPRAKASAM:—"The agriculturists are actually engaged in cultivation operations and they must know beforehand what relief is given to them under the particular Act. Therefore, the language must be very simple. If a particular word is likely to have two meanings, the Government must eschew that word and use simple language in such a way that ingenious lawyers will have no scope for interpreting it as they like. (Interruption.) There is bound to be that kind of hair-splitting. Lawyers are there to do that. So long as lawyers are there, so long as the Government or any other machinery has not put an end to the lawyer class and so long as the courts are there, we must anticipate all the arguments of ingenious lawyers and make suitable provisions taking them into account. Now, the point I was driving at was this. The Ordinance was issued when the assembly was to meet shortly. That sovereign body, namely, the Assembly, must have the opportunity to say 'yes' or 'no' to the Ordinance. That body has the power to legislate and pass laws. That power was taken away by the Governor in issuing the Ordinance. I have met some Members of Parliament and they have said that the practice in the Parliament with respect to such matters is this. When an Ordinance is issued, it is afterwards introduced in the House or in the Parliament without any change in the form of a Bill. Only on the floor of the House or the Parliament, if the Government want to make any changes, it can be modified by way of amendments. Otherwise, certain ingenious lawyers may later on take the matter to the Court of Law and argue that the procedure adopted by the Government is not proper. Then, the whole Bill may be declared ultra vires and it may become a nullity. Therefore, if such a contingency should arise and if the enactment is declared null and void, then what is the relief that we are giving to the public concerned? That is the anxiety of lawyer Members on this side of the House.

(At this stage, the Deputy Speaker occupied the Chair.)

"Now, the Hon. the Chief Minister was saying that he had come forward with an amendment to the clause relating to definitions so that the term 'agriculturists' would include lessees also. Originally it was, as a matter of fact, argued by some of my lawyer friends and by some Ministers also that the expression 'a person who owns an interest in land' would include a lessee also. Now, even 'The Hindu' wrote a leader the other day agreeing with my view and saying that this Bill would exclude lessees. The Hon. the Chief Minister may say, 'Do not put it this way that even 'The Hindu' has written such and such a thing.'"

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Yes, what if 'The Hindu' says it?"

[11th January 1954]

SRI S. SWAYAMPRAKASAM:—"The Hindu is not an ordinary paper. It is read by all the judicial officers and they come to conclusions, taking into account the view expressed by it."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"The newspaper is there simply to raise all sorts of doubts."

SRI S. SWAYAMPRAKASAM:—"As I said, the language must be very simple. One gentleman may read a particular portion of the Bill and understand it one way. Another lawyer may read it in his own way and understand it differently. Suppose the Judge happens to feel like myself, what will be the fate of the agriculturists? The relief sought to be given cannot be given. I am glad that the amendment is introduced at least now. Only income-tax assesses have been excluded from the purview of the Bill. What about the big mirasdars? It is stated that people who are actually engaged in the cultivation of lands should not be disturbed by having to go to a Court of Law and waste time. Sir, big mirasdars are not going to the field for cultivation purposes. Why do the Government contemplate giving relief to big mirasdars owning 1,000 and 2,000 acres? Where is the necessity for it? The object of the Bill is to give relief to agriculturists who are actually engaged in the cultivation of lands. (Interruption.) Surely, credit facilities will be affected. Why should the Government give relief to big mirasdars?"

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"I have already explained that I do not want litigation to go on as to the amount or extent of land in three or four districts and so on. If the hon. Member will give me a list of names, I shall proscribe those people."

SRI S. SWAYAMPRAKASAM:—"As a matter of fact, I do not have in my possession any names. But there are persons of the kind referred to. I only complain about the way in which the Bill has been brought up for discussion towards the end of the session. The Government do not allow us to have a free discussion and understand the implications of the various amendments. The Government have got in their minds some big people to whom they want to give relief."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Let the hon. Member give me a list of such persons."

SRI S. SWAYAMPRAKASAM:—"I am not interested in all these things. The Government have asked the concerned people to prepare a Bill for this purpose and they have for months considered this matter. At last, the Ordinance was promulgated which gave relief to both the big people and the poor people. Now, in the Bill, you take away the relief sought to be given to the poor people."

[11th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI SUBRAMANIAM:—"I want to know whether the Deputy Speaker has taken away anything. The hon. Member should address the Deputy Speaker."

SRI S. SWAYAMPRAKASAM:—"I do not understand why the Hon. the Leader of the House interrupted me."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM:—"The hon. Member should address the Deputy Speaker and not me."

SRI S. SWAYAMPRAKASAM:—"Mr. Deputy Chairman, Sir, . . ."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM:—"He is not Deputy Chairman; he is Deputy Speaker."

DEPUTY SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member should address the Chair."

SRI S. SWAYAMPRAKASAM:—"Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I am only complaining about the way in which the Bill has been introduced and the provisions of the Ordinance have been changed. According to the Ordinance, relief would be available to the big mirasdars as well as the poor agriculturists."

(At this stage, there was some noise in a section of the House.)

DEPUTY SPEAKER:—"If hon. Members want to speak with one another, let them leave the House and do so."

SRI S. SWAYAMPRAKASAM:—"In this Bill, the relief sought to be given to poor persons has been taken away. But, on the other hand, the relief given to big mirasdars is kept. It leads us to think that the Government have got some proposals to give relief to certain particular set of persons."

"That is exactly our argument and that is exactly why I raised a point of order the other day. There is no point in asking me to supply names. That is all beside the point. When we bring forward a legislation like the one that we are now considering, we ought to be careful and ought to comply with objects underlying the Bill. The statement of Objects and Reasons appended to the Bill states very clearly that the Bill provides relief only to those who are actually engaged in cultivation. It is definitely stated that this Bill has been brought forward in the best interest of the Grow More Food Campaign and in the best interests of those persons who are actually engaged in cultivation. But we find that according to certain provisions in the Bill, even those people who are far away from the lands and who do some other business are also sought to be included here. That is exactly the point which I wish to bring to the notice of the Government. I request the Government to look into the matter and see that only those who are really engaged in cultivation get the benefit."

[11th January 1954] [Sri S. Swayamprakasam]

"The Hon. Chief Minister was pleased to say that co-operative institutions must be exempted. Nowadays, some people have been saying that co-operative institutions are bringing relief to poor agriculturists. We find that to-day the number of persons who get relief from these co-operative institutions is increasing day by day. A great number of them get relief from these societies. That being so, what is the point in excluding the co-operative societies from the operation of this Bill? What is the real remedy that these poor agriculturists will get when these societies are excluded? Practically, they will get no remedy at all. Their suffering will not be reduced, but will only increase. It so happens that many a private money-lender and many a private creditor accommodate these poor agriculturists to a greater extent than these co-operative societies. These people are inclined to give some time to these poor agriculturists to clear off their dues, but not these co-operative societies. The method adopted by these societies is this. Even for a paltry sum, they take away the valuable properties of the debtors and that too without their knowledge. Actually, these poor people are not aware of the societies' action for taking away their things for the paltry sum that they owe them. This creates a lot of difficulties and suffering for the poor agriculturists. If we calculate the number of people, I mean the poor agriculturists in Tamilnad who are indebted to these co-operative societies, I am sure it will be a very great number. That being so, I cannot really understand the reason for excluding co-operative societies from the operation of the Bill. I request the Government to see that these societies are also brought within the purview of the Bill."

"About the clause relating to limitation, I myself am not quite clear. There are people who doubt whether the Government are within their rights and whether they have got power to give this limitation. The limitation question has got to be considered very carefully and examined. If this clause relating to limitation is decided to be ultra vires, the whole Bill goes to the ground. The relief that has been given in the Bill will be taken away. When the Bill has now come before us for consideration, it is but proper that we should have facilities and we should also take some time to study the various provisions carefully. This Bill must be considered leisurely and properly. There is no point in rushing the Bill. This is a very important legislation which should give relief to those who are really in need of it. It should not be hastened like this. With these few words, I insist that it must be properly considered and should be circulated for eliciting public opinion."

The motion was duly seconded.

DEPUTY SPEAKER:—"I fix a time limit of 5 minutes for each hon. Member. Hon. Member Sri Rajachidambaram will now speak"

[11th January 1954]

SRI P. B. K. “ கனம் முதல் மந்திரி அவர்கள் குத்தகைக்காரர்களுக்கு இதில் விதிவிலக்கு அளிக்கக்கூடாது என்று கூறினர். இதனால் கிராமத்திலுள்ள குத்தகைக்காரர்களுக்கு மிகவும் பாதகம் ஏற்படும் என்பதை அறியவேண்டும். அரசாங்கத்தால் பொதுமக்களுக்கு 20 வருஷ காலத்தவீணையில் பணம் வசதி செய்துகொடுக்க ஏற்பாடு செய்யப்படுகிறது. அவ்வாறு ஒதுக்கியுள்ள பணத்தில் இந்தக் குத்தகைக்காரர்களையும் சேர்த்துக் கொண்டு நிவாரணமளிக்க என்ன ஆட்சேபனை இருக்கிறது என்று தெரியவில்லை. அவர்களுக்கும் விதிவிலக்களித்து இதில் சேர்த்துக்கொள்ள வேண்டுமென்று மீண்டும் கேட்டுக்கொள்கிறேன்.”

SRI S. RAMASAMY NAIDU :—“ கனம் உதவி சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே ! பழுதில்லா உழுதொழில் மேற்கொண்டும் தொழுதுண்டு வாழ் கிறான் விவசாயி. அவனுக்கு சர்க்கார் உதவி செய்ய முன்வந்தது நியாயமானதே. ஆனால் இன்று அந்த விவசாயிக்கு உண்ண உணவு இல்லை ; நல்ல வீடு இல்லை ; சௌகரியமாக படுக்க படுக்கையில்லை. நிலத்தை உழுது பயிரிடும் விவசாயிக்ே உண்ண உணவில்லாது இருக்கும் நிலையில், இன்று அரசாங்கம் அவர்களுடைய சௌகரியத்திற்காக கடன் வசூலிப்பை ஒத்தி வைத்திருக்கிறது. அப்படிப்பட்ட மானியத்தை இன்னுக்கு சர்க்கார் கொண்டுவந்து ஓரளவு நிவாரணம் அளிக்க முன்வந்திருப்பதற்கு மிகவும் பாராட்டுகிறேன்.”

“ குறிப்பாக 6 வருஷங்களுக்குப் பிறகு இன்றைக்கு பருவ மழை பெய்ததினால் இயற்கையின் அருளால் விவசாயிகள் உண்ண உணவும், கைச்செலவிற்கு சிறிது பணமும் வைத்திருக்கும் நிலையில் இருக்கிறார்கள். அதை கடன்காரர்கள் வந்து கேட்காமல் இருப்பதற்கு அவர்களுக்கு இந்தக்

கடன் ஒத்திவைப்பு மசோதா செளகரியம் செய்கிறது. பின்னால் கடனை கொடுத்துக்கொள்ளலாம் என்பதற்காகவும், அதிக கடன் பளு ஏறாமலிருப்பதற்காகவும் தங்கள் கையிலிருக்கும் பொருளை வைத்து அதிக மகசூல் செய்து அடுத்த வருஷம் சேரவேண்டியதை செலுத்த அதிக சக்தியிருக்கும் என்ற நோக்கத்தோடுதான் இந்தக் கடன் ஒத்திவைப்பு மசோதா கொண்டு வரப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. இந்த மாதிரியான ஒரு நல்ல முறையால் இன்றைக்கு எல்லாப் பெரிய விவசாயிகளுக்கும் சலுகை கொடுக்கப்படுகிறது என்று சொல்லுகிறார்கள். அவர்களுக்கு மட்டும் ஒத்தாசை செய்வதை மனதில் கொண்டுதான் இன்றைக்கு எல்லோருக்கும் செளகரியம் செய்யப்படுவதாக சர்க்கார் இந்த மசோதாவைகொண்டு வந்திருப்பதாக சிலர் கருதுகின்றனர். அதை ஒப்புக்கொள்ள முடியாது. 'நெல்லுக்கிறைத்த நீர் வாய்க் கால் வழியோடி புல்லுக்கும் ஆங்கே பொசியுமாம்' என்பதைப்போல், ஏழை விவசாயிகளுக்கு செய்யப்படும் செளகரியங்கள் காரணமாக ஒரு சில பெரிய விவசாயிகளுக்கும் செளகரியம் ஏற்படுகிறது என்றே சொல்லவேண்டும். அவர்களை கணக்கெடுத்தாலும் வெகு சிலரே இருப்பார்கள். அதைப் பற்றி கவலைப்படவேண்டியதில்லை. ஏழைகளின் கஷ்டத்தை நீடிக்க விடாமல் நிவர்த்திசெய்ய இந்தச் சட்டத்தை அமுலுக்கு கொண்டுவந்ததற்காக எதிர்க்கட்சிக்காரர்களாயிருந்தாலும், காங்கிரஸ் கட்சிக்காரர்களாயிருந்தாலும், இந்தச் சட்டசபையிலுள்ள எல்லா அங்கத்தினர்களும் பெருமை கொள்ளவேண்டும். ஆகவே இச்சட்டத்தை நிறைவேற்றி ஏழைமக்களுக்கு பொங்கல் பரிசாக நாம் அளிக்கவேண்டுமென்று கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகிறேன்.

“இப்போது கூட்டுறவு இயக்கத்தில் கொடுக்கப்பட்டிருக்கும் கடனையும் ஒத்திவைக்கவேண்டுமென்று எதிர்க்கட்சி நண்பர்கள் பலர் கேட்டார்கள். கூட்டுறவு இயக்கத்தில் விவசாயிகளுக்கு எவ்வளவு பணம் எந்த முறையில் கொடுக்கப்பட்டிருக்கிறது என்பதை கணக்கெடுத்துப் பார்க்கவேண்டும். அப்படி கணக்கெடுத்துப் பார்த்தால் 8 மாதம், 10 மாதக் கடனை அதிகமாகக் காணப்படுகிறது. அந்தக் கடனும் 6 வருஷ காலத்திலே எவ்வளவு கொடுக்கப்பட்டு வசூலிக்கப்பட்டிருக்கிறதென்பதை கணக்கெடுத்தால் அந்த பாங்குகளுள்ள ஒவ்வொரு பிரதேசத்திலும் அதிகப்படியாக 100-க்கு 90-க்கு மேல் வசூல் செய்யப்பட்டே இருக்கிறது. பணம் கிடைக்காத புஞ்சு காலத்திலே விவசாய சமயத்திற்கு சொற்ப வட்டிக்கு, கடன் கொடுக்கப் பட்டதென்பதையும் நாம் நினைவில் வைத்துக்கொள்ளவேண்டும்.

“தவிர, அதிகப்படியான பணத்திற்கு 20 வருஷக் கடன் வாய்தா மூலம் நில அடமான பாங்கால் (Land Mortgage Bank) கொடுக்கப்பட்டு, 20 வருஷத்திற்கு வசூலிக்கும்படி செய்யப்பட்டுள்ளது. அது விவசாயிகளை பாதிக்காது என்பது நிச்சயம். ஆகையால் இன்றைக்கு இந்த ஒரு வருஷக் கடன் ஒத்திவைப்புச் சட்டத்தை நாம் வரவேற்கவேண்டும். அதற்காக நாம் பெருமைப்படவும் வேண்டுமென்று சொல்லிக்கொள்ளுகிறேன். இன்றைக்கு விவசாயிகள் மிகவும் கஷ்டப்படும் நிலையில் இருக்கிறார்கள்.

‘ஆவீன மழை பொழிய இல்லம் வீழ

அகத்தடியாள் மெய் நோவ அடிமை சாவ

மாவீரம் போகுதென்று விதை கொண்டோட

வழியிலே கடன்காரர் மறித்துக்கொள்ள’

என்பதுபோல் இந்த வருஷத்துப் பலனை ஆதாரமாக வைத்து கடவுளருளால் நல்ல மழை பெய்து அடுத்த வருஷம் விதைக்கப்போகும் வேளையிலே கடன்காரர்கள் வழிமறிக்க இல்லாமலிருப்பதற்காக இன்றைக்கு இந்தச் சட்டத்தைக் கொண்டுவந்திருக்கிறார்கள். ஆகவே இந்தச் சட்டம் விவசாயிகளுக்கு மிகவும் உபயோகமாக இருப்பதாகும். அதை அனைவரும் ஆதரித்து, நாளை வரப்போகும் பொங்கல் புதுதினப் பரிசாகக்கொண்டு போக இதை அமுலுக்கு கொண்டுவரவேண்டுமென்று கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகிறேன்.”

Sri S. S. RAMASAMY PADAYACHI :—“கனம் உதவி சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, இன்றைக்கு விவசாயிகளுக்கு தற்காலிகமாக நிவாரணம் அளிப்பதற்கு அவர்கள் வாங்கிய கடனை ஒரு வருஷத்திற்கு வசூலிக்காமல் இருப்பதற்கு அரசாங்கம் ஒரு சட்டம் கொண்டுவந்திருப்பதை நான் வரவேற்கிறேன். அதை ஆதரிக்கும் முறையில் சில வார்த்தைகளைக் குறிப்பிட விரும்புகிறேன். இன்றைக்கு நாட்டில் இந்த சட்டத்திற்கு எந்த தரப்பிலிருந்து எதிர்ப்பு வந்திருக்கிறது என்றால் அது வக்கீல் சங்கங்களிலிருந்துதான் வந்திருக்கிறது. இந்த மாகாணத்திலுள்ள வக்கீல் சங்கங்கள்தான் இதற்கு எதிர்ப்பு செய்துகொண்டுவருகின்றன. இது நாடு அறிந்த உண்மை. அதைப்பற்றி கவலைகொள்ளவேண்டியது இல்லை. ‘விவசாயிகளுக்கு எந்த விதமான நன்மைகளும் இல்லை. இந்த சட்டத்தில் அநேகம் இழுக்குகள் இருக்கின்றன’ என்ற பலச் சட்ட நுணுக்கங்களை எடுத்துக்காட்டி இருக்கிறார்கள். இந்த சட்டம் சரியில்லை. இதைத் தள்ளுபடி செய்யவேண்டும் என்றும் சொல்லிவருகிறார்கள். இந்த சட்டம் எந்த விதத்திலும் நிறைவேற்றப்படாமல் இருக்க அதை தடுத்துவிடவேண்டும் என்று சொல்லக்கூடிய அளவில் இந்த சட்டத்தைக் கொண்டுவராமல் இருப்பதற்கு அவர்கள் முயற்சி செய்துவருகிறார்கள். அதனால் இதை select Committee-க்கு விடவேண்டும் என்று சொல்லி வருகிறார்கள். அதையெல்லாம் எடுத்துக்கொள்ளாமல் இன்றைக்கு இந்த சட்டத்தில் பலவித திருத்தங்கள் செய்து அவைகள் விவசாயிகளுக்கு பயனளிக்கும் படியாக அதை சட்டமாக்கவேண்டும் என்று கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகிறேன்.

“கடந்த ஏழு எட்டு வருஷங்களாகப் பருவ மழை இல்லாமல் விவசாயிகள் பல கடன் தொல்லைகளுக்கு ஆளாகி இருக்கிறார்கள். கிராம விவசாயிகளுக்கு சொத்துக் கிடையாது. அவர்களுடைய நாணயத்தின்பேரில் தான் அவர்களுக்குக் கடன் கொடுத்துவருகிறார்கள். சில இடங்களில் வட்டி வாங்காமலும் நாணயமாக கடன் கொடுத்துவருகிறார்கள். பருவ மழை தவறியதால் இதுவரையிலும் அவர்களால் கடனைக் கொடுக்க முடியவில்லை. இந்த வருஷம் அதைக்கொடுக்க முன்வருகிறார்கள். அவர்கள் வாங்கிய பணத்திற்கு வட்டி கொடுக்காமல் கடனைக் கொடுக்க வசதி வந்தவுடன் அவர்களுக்கு வட்டி விலக்கு அளிக்கவேண்டும் என்று வீட்டை தேடிக்கொண்டு வருகிறார்கள். கோர்ட்டு வழக்கைத் தடுத்து வருவதோடு அவர்களாகக் கொடுக்க முன்வருவதைத் தடுத்து நிறுத்தவேண்டும் என்ற எண்ணம் இந்த சட்டத்தில் எழவில்லை. தற்காலிகமாக ஒரு வருஷத்திற்குக் கடன் கொடுக்கவேண்டும் என்று நிர்ப்பந்திக்கக்கூடாது என்றுதான் சட்டத்தில் சொல்லப்படுகிறது. இப்பொழுது பருவ மழை பெய்து நன்றாக விவசாயம் ஏற்பட்டிருக்கிறது. இந்த வருஷத்திலாவது அவர்கள் முன்னேறலாம் என்பதற்காகத்தான் இதைக் கொண்டுவந்திருக்கிறார்கள். இந்த எண்ணம்தான் அரசாங்கத்திற்கு இருக்கிறது. இந்த விதத்தில் விவசாயிகளுக்கு பாதுகாப்பு அளிப்பதற்கு அரசாங்கம் முன்வந்ததற்கு அரசாங்கத்தைப் பாராட்டவேண்டும். அதன்படி அவர்களுக்கு இதைச் சட்டமாக்கி வசதி செய்துகொடுக்கவேண்டும். அதே மாதிரி கூட்டுறவு மூலமாக வாங்கிய கடன்களைக் கொடுப்பதிலும் அவர்களுக்கு நிவாரணம் அளிக்கவேண்டும். ‘கனம் ராஜா சிதம்பரம் சொன்னதை நான் வரவேற்கிறேன். அரசாங்கம் மாத்திரம் கொடுத்த கடனை வசூலிக்கலாம் மற்றவர்கள் கொடுத்த கடனை மட்டில் ஒரு வருஷம் தள்ளி கொடுக்கலாம் என்று சொல்வது எந்த வகையில் நல்லது என்று கேட்கிறேன். ஒரு விதத்தில் நிவாரணம் அளிக்கவேண்டும் என்று சட்டம் கொண்டுவரும்போது இதையும் கவனிக்கவேண்டும். இப்பொழுது ஒரு வருஷம் கழிந்த பிறகு எல்லா கடனையும் ஒரே தடவையில் வசூலிக்கக்கூடிய ஆபத்தும் இதில் இருக்கிறது. இந்த ஆபத்தைத் தடுக்க அரசாங்கம் ஒரு திருத்தம் கொண்டுவரவேண்டும். அதாவது கடன்கள் வாங்கியதை மூன்று தடவைகளாகக்கொடுக்கவேண்டும் என்ற ஒரு திருத்தம் கொண்டு வரவேண்டும். மற்றொரு விஷயம். இப்பொழுது விவசாயிகள் குறைந்து இருக்கிறது. விவசாயம் செய்யும் செலவுகள் இன்னும் குறையவில்லை. சென்ற வருஷம் ரூ. 30 என்று விற்பது இந்த வருஷம் ரூ. 20

[Sri S. S. Ramasamy Padayachi] [11th January 1954]

ஆகையினால் விவசாயிகள் தங்களுடைய கணக்கை சரிக்கட்ட முடியவில்லை. ஆகையால் வாங்கிய கடனை ஒரேயடியாக கொடுத்துவிட முடியாது. மூன்று ஆண்டுகளில் மூன்று தடவைகளில் அதைக்கொடுக்க ஏற்பாடு செய்யவேண்டும். ஆகவே மூன்று தடவைகளில் திருப்பிக்கொடுக்கவேண்டும் என்ற யோசனையை இந்த சட்டத்தில் சேர்த்து இதை நிறைவேற்றவேண்டும் என்று கேட்டுக்கொண்டு இத்துடன் முடித்துக்கொள்ளுகிறேன்.”

SRI V. K. RAMASWAMI MUDALIAR:—“Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, though I welcome this Bill, I am of opinion that it should be gone into in detail and in all its aspects. Unless it is examined carefully, I am afraid, agricultural credit will disappear and the villagers will be put to much hardship. Therefore, the Bill should be referred to a Select Committee now and then it should be taken up leisurely, in the next session if possible. I am of opinion, that it requires certain modifications in respect of certain provisions, particularly ‘Definitions’. Before I speak on those modification, I would request the Government to extend this concession to the loans advanced by them, like takkavil loans, pump-set loans, etc. They should not think that other loans alone should be taken into account. I know in some cases certain landlords—I mean house-owners in Madras—have purchased waste lands in the adjoining Chingleput district in places like St. Thomas Mount and Pallavaram. They purchased these waste lands during ration days for purposes of bringing rice into the city. They did not pay any income-tax or property tax nor do they pay now. They borrowed money for business purpose and they should not be allowed to take shelter under this Bill in the matter of repayment of such loans. No protection should be given to such people.

“Then, Sir, I shall speak about the amendments which I consider essential. In the Preamble, wherever the expression ‘agriculturist’ occurs, the words in the State of Madras should be added. There are business people here in Madras having lands and they may come forward to claim the concession now afforded. That is a matter for serious consideration. Therefore, the term ‘agriculturist’ should be defined as one who holds and owns lands in the State of Madras. Then, to clause 2 (c), there should be a proviso, ‘provided that the debt arises or is incurred in connection with agriculture. I have another amendment also to the effect that any sum payable to any company or bank under the Indian Companies Act or to any co-operative society should be added to clause 2 (c) after item (v). We must give some protection to the banks and if adequate protection is not given to banks, the credit of the country will go. If this is not done, agriculturists will be hard hit by this measure.”

SRI C. KANDASAMY:—“கனம் உதவி சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே! இந்த சபை முன்பாக இருக்கக்கூடிய கடன் ஒத்திவைப்பு சட்டம் சம்பந்தமாக ஒரு வருஷத்திற்கு விவசாயிகளுக்கு கடன் தொந்தரவுகள் இல்லாமல் பாதுகாப்பு அளித்ததை நான் வரவேற்கிறேன்.

“அடுத்தபடியாக கனம் முதல் மந்திரி அவர்கள் பேசும்போது இந்த சட்டத்தை தவறாக புரிந்துகொள்ளக்கூடாது என்றும், ஒரு வருஷத்திற்கு இந்த சட்டப்படி நடவடிக்கைகள் எடுக்கக்கூடாது என்பதற்காக இந்த

[11th January 1954] [Sri C. Kandasamy]

சட்டம் கொண்டுவரப்பட்டிருக்கிறது என்றும் கடனை குறைப்பதற்கோ அல்லது கடனை ரத்து செய்வதற்கோ எந்த எண்ணமும் அரசாங்கத்திற்குக் கிடையாது என்றும் சொன்னார். இதைப்பற்றிச் சிந்தித்துப் பார்க்கும் போது விவசாயிகள் ஒரு வருஷத்திற்கு கடன் தொந்தரவுகள் இல்லாமல் இருந்தாலும் அவர்களுக்கு தங்களுடைய வாழ்க்கையை நடத்துவதற்கு ஏதாவது ஒத்தாசை செய்யவேண்டும். விவசாயிகள் நல்ல வாழ்க்கையை நடத்தவேண்டும் என்றாலும் அல்லது விவசாயிகளுக்கு ஏதாவது வசதி செய்யவேண்டும் என்றாலும் அவர்களுக்கு நிவாரணம் அளிக்கக் கூடிய வழியில் வசதி செய்து கொடுப்பதோடு அவர்கள் இனிமேல் கடன் வாங்குவதற்கும் தக்க நடவடிக்கைகளை எடுத்து அவர்களுக்கு வசதி செய்து கொடுக்கவேண்டும். இது ரொம்பவும் அத்தியாவசியமாக இருக்கிறது என்பதை இந்த சந்தர்ப்பத்தில் எடுத்து சொல்ல ஆசைப்படுகிறேன். இதே மாதிரிதான் காங்கிரஸ் விவசாய சீர்திருத்த கமிட்டியும் சிபாரிசு செய்திருக்கிறது. ஒரு நில சீர்திருத்த சட்டம் கொண்டுவந்தால் முதலில் விவசாயிகளுக்கு வசதி செய்துவிட்டுதான் அந்த விதமான சட்டம் கொண்டு வருவது சௌகரியமாக இருக்கும். அவர்கள் கடன் வாங்குவதற்கு வசதி செய்து கொடுத்தால்தான் அதைத் தொடர்ந்து செய்யும் சட்டங்களால் அவர்களுக்கு வசதி செய்து கொடுப்பதாகும். விவசாயிகள் முன்னேற்றம் அடைவதற்கு வேண்டிய நடவடிக்கைகள் எடுத்துக்கொள்ள வேண்டும். ஆகவே விவசாயி சமூகம் முன்னேற்றம் அடைவதற்கு திட்டவட்டமாக காங்கிரஸ் விவசாய சீர்திருத்த கமிட்டி சிபாரிசு செய்திருக்கிறது. இதை இந்த சந்தர்ப்பத்தில் ஞாபகப்படுத்த விரும்புகிறேன்.

“ஒரு வருஷ அவகாசம் கொடுத்திருந்தாலும் அவர்கள் ஒரு வருஷத்திற்குள் எந்த அளவு தங்களுடைய கடனை குறைத்துக்கொள்வதற்கு முடியும் என்பதைப் பார்க்கவேண்டும். இந்த ஒரு வருஷ அவகாசத்தை அவர்கள் பூர்ணமாக பயன்படுத்திக்கொள்ள முடியுமா என்பதைப் பார்க்க வேண்டும். இதை ஆட்சியாளர்களுக்கு எடுத்துக்காட்ட விரும்புகிறேன்.

“அடுத்தபடியாக இந்த சட்டத்தில் இருக்கக்கூடிய முக்கியமான விஷயம் இப்பொழுது விவசாயிகளுக்கு கூலி கடன் இல்லை என்று நினைத்து விட்டார்கள். பி. வி. நாராயணசாமி கமிட்டி யுத்த காலத்திற்குப் பின் விலைவாசிகளைப் பற்றியும், கடன்களைப்பற்றியும் விசாரித்து பரிசீலனை செய்து திட்டவட்டமாக ரிப்போர்ட் எழுதி இருக்கிறார்கள். அதாவது 25 ஏக்கருக்கு அதிகமாக உள்ள விவசாயிகளுக்குத் தான் கடன் குறைந்து இருக்கிறது என்றும் அதற்குக் குறைவாக நிலம் உள்ள விவசாயிகளுக்கு கடன் அதிகரித்து இருக்கிறது என்றும் தெரிவித்திருக்கிறார்கள். ‘Debts of the landless labourers has increased more than that of the others’ என்று கூறி இருக்கிறார்கள். ஆகவே சிறு நிலக் காரர்கள்தான் அதிகமாகக் கடன் பட்டிருக்கிறார்கள். அவர்களுக்கு சொத்து இல்லாமல் இருக்கலாம். ஆனால் அவர்கள் நாணயமாக நடந்து கொண்டு வருவதால் அவர்களால் கடன் வாங்க முடிகிறது. அவர்களுக்கு சொத்து இல்லாவிட்டாலும் தங்களுடைய சொந்த உழைப்பினால் அவர்கள் மாதா மாதம் கொஞ்சம் மிச்சம் பிடித்து வந்து நாணயமாக தாங்கள் வாங்கிய கடனை திருப்பிக்கொடுத்து வருகிறார்கள். அதனால் மிராசுதார்கள் கடன் கொடுப்பதை ஒரு கருவியாக வைத்துக்கொண்டு அவர்களுக்கு ரூ. 100 கடன் கொடுத்துவிட்டு குறைந்த கூலிக்கு வேலைவாங்கி வருகிறார்கள். தாங்கள் கடன் வாங்கி இருக்கிறோம் என்று அவர்களும் உழைத்து வருகிறார்கள். இப்படிப்பட்டவர்களுக்கு அரசாங்கம் கொஞ்சம் வசதி செய்து கொடுக்கவேண்டும் என்று நான் கேட்டுக்கொள்கிறேன். ஆகவே நில சீர்திருத்த சட்டம் கொண்டுவரும்போது இவர்களுக்கு வசதி செய்துவிட்டுத் தான் அதைக்கொண்டுவரவேண்டும். இப்பொழுது பருவ மழை பெய்திருக்கிறது. ஒரு வருஷமாவது அவர்கள் கடன் தொல்லை இல்லாமல் இருப்பதற்கு இதைக்கொண்டு வந்தது நல்லதுதான். அதற்கு ஆட்சேபனை இல்லை. அவர்கள் சாகுபடி செய்வதற்கு வசதியாகத்தான் இருக்கும். ஆனால் ஒரு வருடத்திற்கு அவர்கள் கடன் தொல்லை இல்லாமல் இருந்தால் அவர்களுடைய கடன் தொல்லை வெகுவாக குறைந்துவிடாது. சர்க்கார்

[Sri C. Kandasamy] [11th January 1954]

கடன்களையும், சொசைடி கடன்களையும் இது பாதிக்காது என்று சொல்லுகிறார்கள். அதனால் விவசாயிகளுக்கு கடன் தொல்லை குறைந்துவிடப் போவது இல்லை. அதைக்கூட கொஞ்சம் தளர்த்திவிட்டால் நல்லது. சர்க்காருக்கு அதனால் நஷ்டம் ஏற்படும் என்று நினைத்தால் இப்பொழுது சர்க்கார் செய்யும் சில அனுவசிய செலவுகளைக் குறைத்துக்கொள்ளலாம். அவ்விதம் குறைத்துக்கொண்டு இந்த கடனுக்கு சரிக்கட்டிக்கொள்ளலாம். எந்த செலவுகள் அனுவசியமான செலவுகள் என்பதை இப்பொழுது நான் எடுத்துக்காட்ட விரும்பவில்லை. நம்முடைய அத்தியாவசிய செலவுகள் என்ன என்பதை என்னால் எடுத்துக்காட்ட முடியும். அரசாங்கம் எவ்வளவோ செலவுகளை குறைத்துக்கொள்ளலாம். அந்த மாதிரி செய்தால் அந்தக் கடனுக்குச் சரிக்கட்டிக்கொள்ளலாம். இப்பொழுது வந்திருக்கும் சட்டம் பணக்காரர்களுக்குத் தான் சலுகை அளிக்கக்கூடியதாக இருக்கிறது. விவசாயிகளுக்கு நன்மை அளிக்கக்கூடியதில் பல ஒட்டைகள் இருந்தாலும் அதை சரிப்படுத்திக்கொள்ளலாம். இருந்தாலும் அதை எவ்வளவு தூரம் திருத்திக்கொள்ளமுடியுமோ அதுவரையில் திருத்திக்கொள்ளவேண்டும். இப்பொழுது முடியாவிட்டாலும் பின்னால் நடவடிக்கைகள் எடுத்துக்கொள்ளலாம். அதற்காக இந்த சட்டத்தை ஒத்திப்போடக்கூடாது. எப்படியாவது இப்பொழுதே இரண்டொரு நாட்கள் உட்கார்ந்து இதை நிறைவேற்றவேண்டும் என்று நான் கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகிறேன். சர்க்கார் அவர்கள் நில ஆர்ஜிதம் சம்பந்தமாகவும், நிலவாரம் சம்மந்தமாகவும் குறிப்பிட்டார்கள். சென்ற வருஷம் அமுலுக்கு வந்த சட்டப் பிரகாரம் விவசாயிகளை வெளியேற்றி இருந்தால் அவர்களை இந்த சட்டம் கட்டுப்படுத்தாது என்று சொல்வது சரியானது அல்ல. அதில் மாறுதல் செய்யப்படவேண்டும். கடன் என்பதற்கு வியாக்யானம் செய்திருக்கும் இடத்தில் இதைச்சேர்த்து விட்டால் அதைக் cover பண்ண முடியும். அப்பொழுது விவசாயிகளுக்கு ஏற்பட்டிருக்கக்கூடிய கஷ்டத்தை நிவர்த்திக்க முடியும். பல்லாயிரக்கணக்கான விவசாயிகள் இப்பொழுது கிராமங்களில் கூலி வேலை செய்து பிழைத்துக்கொண்டு வருகிறார்கள். அவர்களுக்கும் நிலம் இல்லாமல் இருக்கிறவர்களுக்கும் இந்த சலுகையை அளிக்கவேண்டும். அவர்களுக்கு ஆதரவு அளிப்பதில் விலக்கு அளிப்பது கூடாது என்றும் கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகிறேன்.”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—“அவர்களுக்குத்தான் நிலம் இல்லையே? அவர்களுக்கு நிலம் எப்படி கொடுக்க முடியும்.”

SRI C. KANDASAMY :—“இந்தக் கடன் மசோதா காரணமாக அவர்களுக்கு ஒரு வருஷத்திற்கு கடன் வாங்குவதற்கு முடியாமல் இருக்கும். ஏனென்றால் ஒருவரும் அவர்களுக்குக் கடன் கொடுக்க முன் வரமாட்டார்கள். காங்கிரஸ் விவசாய கமிட்டி ரிப்போர்ட்டில் ஒரு முக்கியமான அம்சம் குறிப்பிடப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. கடன் சட்டம் செய்யும்போது கடன் வாங்குவதற்கு வசதி செய்து கொடுக்கவேண்டும் என்று குறிப்பிட்டிருக்கிறார்கள். இதில் ரொம்ப கவனம் செலுத்தவேண்டும். இப்பொழுது விவசாயிகள் கடன் வாங்கி விவசாயம் செய்யக்கூடிய நிலையில் இல்லை. அதனால் சர்க்கார் கூட்டுறவு மூலமாகவும், அரசாங்கம் மூலமாகவும் குறைந்தபட்ச கடன் கொடுத்து சலுகை காட்ட ஏற்பாடு செய்யவேண்டும். இப்படி இல்லாவிட்டால் இப்பொழுது விவசாயிகளுக்கு கடன் கொடுக்கும்போது அவர்களுடைய சொத்துக்களை எழுதிவாங்கிக்கொண்டுதான் கடன் கொடுப்பார்கள். அவர்களுடைய சொத்தில் ஒரு பகுதியை விலைக்குக் கொடுக்கும்படியும் நிர்ப்பந்தம் செய்யலாம். அந்த நிலைமை ஏற்படும். அதன் பிறகு தன்னுடைய சொத்தில் ஒரு பகுதியை எழுதிவைத்துவிட்டு பாக்கியை சாகுபடி செய்யவேண்டிய நிர்ப்பந்தமான நிலைமை ஏற்படும். ஆகவே அரசாங்கம் அவர்களுக்கு கடன் வாங்குவதற்கு வசதி செய்துவிட்டு இந்த சட்டத்தை நிறைவேற்றவேண்டும். அதற்காகத் தான் நாங்கள் திருத்தம் கொடுத்திருக்கிறோம். அந்தத் திருத்தங்களை ஏற்றுக்கொள்ளவேண்டும் என்று கேட்டுக்கொண்டு இத்துடன் முடித்துக்கொள்ளுகிறேன்.”

[11th January 1954]

SRI K. R. NALLASIVAM :—“கனம் உதவி சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே! கடன் ஒத்திவைப்பு அவசரச் சட்டத்தை நான் சில திருத்தங்களுடன் பரிபூர்ணமாக ஆதரிக்க விரும்புகிறேன். இன்றைக்கு இந்தச் சட்டம் வந்தவுடனேயே நகரபுறங்களிலுள்ள வக்கீல்களும், பத்திரிகைகளும் இதை ஆட்சேபிப்பதிலேயே கிராம விவசாயிகளுக்கு ஓரளவு பாதுகாப்பு கிடைக்கும் என்பதை எல்லோரும் உணர் முடியும். எவ்வளவுக்கெவ்வளவு சிலில் கோர்ட்டுகளுக்கும், வக்கீல்களுக்கும் வேலையில்லாமல் போகின்றதோ அவ்வளவுக்கவ்வளவு உண்மையிலேயே விவசாயிகளுக்கு நன்மை உண்டு என்பது எல்லோரும் காணக்கிடக்கின்ற உண்மை. (சிரிப்பு). அதுமட்டுமல்ல, இந்தச் சட்டம் சரியான சந்தர்ப்பத்தில் கொண்டுவரப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. இந்த மாகாணத்தில் விவசாயிகளுக்கு கடனால் எல்லையற்ற துன்பங்கள் ஏற்பட்டிருக்கின்றன. இந்த மசோதாவில் பல குறைகள் இருந்தபோதிலும்கூட மொத்தத்தில் விவசாயிகளுக்கு நன்மை ஏற்படுகிறது.”

“கூட்டுறவு சங்கங்கள் மூலமாக ஒவ்வொரு விவசாயிக்கும் கடன் கொடுப்பதற்கு தேவையான ஏற்பாட்டை செய்யவேண்டும். மற்றும் இந்தச் சட்டத்தை இன்னும் மூன்று வருஷம் வரையில் நீடிக்கச் செய்ய வேண்டும். இன்னும் இதுபோன்ற திருத்தங்களும் தேவையாய் இருக்கின்றன. அவைகளைப் பின்னால் பிரேரேபிக்கப் போகின்றார்கள். ஆகவே இந்தத் திருத்தங்களுடன் நான் இந்தச் சட்டத்தை பரிபூர்ணமாக ஆதரிக்கிறேன்.”

[11th January 1954]

SRI S. PANCHAKSHARAM:—"Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I also belong to the unfortunate class of the much-maligned tribe of lawyers. My only consolation is that I am a humble member of the galaxy of eminent men to which seven Members on the Treasury Bench as also several others belonging to this and the opposite sides belong. If I rise to speak now, it is not with a view to embarrass the Treasury Bench or the Chief Minister in particular. On a former occasion, the Chief Minister has said that it was his misfortune to answer criticisms from this side of the House. Therefore, I wish to make it clear that I rise not to embarrass anybody but to make certain suggestions in order to get certain clarifications made with regard to the general frame of the Bill, so that there may be more definiteness as to what the Bill intends to do. It has been very lightly said that the lawyers are hit and, therefore, they are really vociferous and do not want this Bill. I am really sorry that the whole thing has been misunderstood. On a former occasion when the present Chief Minister was Prime Minister of Madras, an Act, viz., the Madras Agriculturists Relief Act was passed. That was in 1937-38. Then it was said lawyers would be completely thrown out of their profession. But what actually happened then? It was something totally different from what was feared. Lawyers had more work and courts had more work. I am of the same view with regard to the present Bill also. If it deprives lawyers of work for a time or if it gives no work to courts for a time, it is going to doubly compensate the lawyers in terms of work and will increase the work of courts. Many more courts will have to be established after this legislation which is passed now dies and is buried. On that account, I have no fear. I want to make a few suggestions in regard to the drafting of the Bill. When the Government come forward to give relief to agriculturists let them make their purpose clear, namely, relieving agricultural indebtedness temporarily.

"When I read the Preamble and also the comprehensive definition of the term 'agriculturist', and 'debt' I am inclined to think that the effect of the Bill is going to be far-reaching. It is not only going to grant relief to the agriculturists who till the soil but it includes within its scope all sorts of people who pay huge income-tax, who pay a large amount of sales tax on lakhs and lakhs of turnover, the landlords who do business in the cities but at the same time own a few cents of land in Kodambakkam. (An hon. Member: 'Kodambakkam is here in the city.') I am sorry, in Koyambedu or Poonamallee. I sincerely want to know whether traders and merchants who depend for their credit on scheduled banks and other private money-lenders are to be protected? There are absentee landlords, who are sought to be put on the same footing as the poor agriculturist who depends on his agriculture alone for his subsistence and who due to his present indebtedness is in dire need of some relief. Do these traders and merchants want any relief from their indebtedness? I am sure that they are not in need of this measure. They are not in need of this protection. I know one or two memoranda have been submitted to the Government urging that the scope of the Bill may be restricted only to agriculturists and the scope of the definition of the word 'debt' may also be restricted to agriculturists. It seems they had stated that otherwise their credit economy will be upset, their business will be upset, and even their export and import business will dwindle. Most of them depend upon scheduled banks and money-lenders for their business. The definition of the word 'debt' includes in its operation all such people who have borrowed from these banks and money-lenders. I do not think Government intend to grant relief to all of them. Sir, this is not agricultural indebtedness. Commercial indebtedness and agricultural indebtedness are two different things.

"I also want to bring to the notice of Government another point. The agriculturists have been advanced loans by this Government under several heads. Large sums of money have been advanced to agriculturists in the shape of takkavi loans, well subsidies, loans for purchase of agricultural implements like pumpsets, etc. That is agricultural indebtedness. There is no meaning in taking away these debts from the scope of this Bill. To-day in my own district I know No. (1) forms are issued in hundreds. In Revenue parlance it means coercive steps are to be taken against agriculturists to extract their dues to Government in respect of the loans they had taken. Hundreds of forms are being issued against these agriculturists for realising their dues to Government to-day. That is also agricultural indebtedness. I do not like coercion of this kind. The real object of relieving agricultural indebtedness could not be met if the agriculturists are put to all sorts of difficulties as I had pointed out. I think that the dues to co-operative societies are also intended not to be stayed. Inasmuch as the scope of the definition 'agriculturist' as is now given is so wide, it has given rise to complexities. The ordinary creditors like yourself and myself who advance money to the agriculturists for any short period are now prevented from recovering the same from the agriculturists for a period of one year. Supposing those persons like yourself and myself who have given some short-term loans to the agriculturists and who are now being prevented from recovering them for one year, owe some money to the Government, or some society or some private money-lender, what is the position of the relative parties to-day? Where can they get their money? They cannot institute any proceedings against their debtors who are agriculturists, for this Bill gives the latter protection. Then will the Government or the Co-operative Society keep quiet without trying to recover the dues which they owe to them? On the other hand, they will bring the properties of the agriculturists to sale under arbitration proceedings or under the Revenue Recovery Act. I know how quickly the properties would be sold by the departments without a chance of the ordinary creditor sharing the sale proceeds. Such is the fate of the ordinary creditors now. I do not think either intentionally or otherwise the Government seek to perpetrate this kind of injustice. The day before yesterday, the Hon. the Chief Minister while speaking during the third reading of the Malabar Tenancy Bill told the House that the landlords after all were a handful in number and they should also be protected. He had told us that they (the landlords) also must be treated with justice, just as the tenants. I am inclined to echo the sentiments of the Hon. Chief Minister word for word and letter for letter and replace the word 'landlord' there by the word 'creditor' here. Under the provisions of the present Bill and taking the definitions as they are now given, a great injustice is being done to the creditor."

[Sri S. Panchaksharam] [11th January 1954]

DEPUTY SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member's time is up."

SRI S. PANCHAKSHARAM:—"Just a minute more, Sir. I submit to the Government and request them to clearly define what is 'agricultural indebtedness' and what is 'commercial indebtedness'. They must clearly bring out the distinction between the two. The present conditions in urban areas are entirely different from the conditions in rural areas. The credit economy of the rural areas is totally different from urban economy. The credit economy is completely thrown out of gear now. The poor agriculturist is not able to take a loan from his neighbour or the local money-lender. For all the past six years, there has been continuous drought. Taking advantage of the indebtedness of the poor cultivator, the up-country money-lender has invaded the villages. Let not people imagine that he is only in the city. The invasion has spread to the rural areas also. The local money-lender is nowhere in the picture now. These rich money-lenders from up-country are being approached by the poor cultivators for loans. These people lend money on even torn sarees or small trinkets. They extract abnormal interest from the poor agriculturists. Neither this piece of legislation, nor the Debtors Protection Act, nor the Usurious Loans Act—none of these Acts are going to prevent this class of money-lenders and the burly 'Kabuliwala' from extracting all that he can from the poor agriculturists to whom they had lent money and who in addition takes interest which is double the principal."

DEPUTY SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member had taken more than the allotted time."

SRI S. PANCHAKSHARAM:—"One word more and I have done. Supposing one agriculturist were to lend to another agriculturist may be at that time the former may have some money to lend to the latter though at all times it is not the case, under the existing provisions of the Bill, the former cannot get back his dues from the latter. I think that that would put the former into lot of difficulties. How can he find his way out under the present Bill, if he wants to recover his dues. I would request Government to rectify that defect. With these words I shall conclude, Sir."

ஆகவேண்டுமென்ற திருத்தம் சர்க்காரால் கொண்டுவரப்பட்டால் நலமாக இருக்கும். அவர்களுக்கு எல்லாவிதமான வசதி இருப்பதால்தான் நகரத்தில் இருக்கிறார்கள். விவசாயிகள் தங்களுடைய வாழ்க்கையை நடத்துவதற்கே முடியாமல் கஷ்டப்பட்டுக்கொண்டிருக்கிறார்கள். ஆகையால் இந்தத் திருத்தத்தை இப்படி ஏற்றுக்கொள்ளவேண்டுமென்று கேட்டுக் கொள்ளுகிறேன். நானும் இந்த மாதிரியான திருத்தம் கொடுத்து இருக்கிறேன். அதை ஏற்றுக்கொள்ளுவார்கள் என்று நம்புகிறேன்.

“Economic Advisory Board-ல் இருந்த டாக்டர் B. V. நாராயணசாமி நாயுடு அவர்கள் சொல்லும்போது விவசாயிகள், கடனிலே பிறந்து, கடனிலே வாழ்ந்து, கடனிலே இறக்கிறார்கள் என்று சொல்லுகிறார். அதை உற்று நோக்குமிடத்து 1938-ம் வருஷத்தில் விவசாயிகள் கடன் நிவாரண மசோதா என்று கொண்டு வரப்பட்டு மிராஸ்தார்கள் மாத்திரம் நன்மை அடைந்ததைப் போலவே புதிய சட்டத்தில் மிராஸ்தாருக்கு மாத்திரம் பாதுகாப்பு வந்து விடுமோ என்ற பயம் ஏற்படுகிறது. ஆகையால் அந்த மாதிரி இல்லாமல் விவசாயிகளுக்கே அதனுடைய முழுப் பயன் கிடைக்கவேண்டுமென்றே நிலைமையை சர்க்கார் தெளிவுபடுத்த வேண்டுமென்று நான் கேட்டுக்கொள்கிறேன். இந்த மாதிரியான சிக்கல்கள் வரும்போது வக்கீல்கள் பலவிதமான சட்டப் பிரச்சினைகளை வைத்துக் கொண்டு அவர்கள் பல விவாதத்திற்கு இடம் கொடுக்கிறார்கள். ஆனால் இந்த மாதிரியான சிக்கலான நிலைமையை கிராமத்தில் இருக்கக்கூடிய விவசாயிகள் புரிந்துகொள்ள முடியாது. அவர்கள் அந்த மாதிரி செலவு செய்து கோர்ட்டுக்கு வந்து தன்னை விவசாயி என்றே நிலம் இருக்கிறவன் என்றே lessee என்றே சொல்லிக்கொண்டு வாதாடுவதற்கு முடியாது. விவசாயிகள் 50, 100 கடன் வாங்கியதும் இந்தக் கோர்ட்டுச் செலவுக்கே சரியாகப் போய்விடும். ஆகையால் அதிகமான நிலம் வைத்திருக்காத ஏழை எளிய விவசாயிகள் மட்டும் பயன் அடையக் கூடிய முறையில் இந்த மசோதா இருக்கவேண்டுமென்று கேட்டுக்கொண்டு சில திருத்தங்களுடன் இந்த மசோதாவை நான் வரவேற்கிறேன்.”

SRI K. V. RAMASAMY :—“கனம் உதவி சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, தற்சமயம் இந்தச் சபையில் விவாதத்திலிருக்கும் இந்தச் சட்டம் எதைக் காட்டுகிறது? பத்து வருஷங்களுக்கு மேலாக தமிழ் நாட்டில் இருக்கக்கூடிய விவசாயிகள் கடன் பட்டுத் தத்தளித்துக்கொண்டிருக்கக் கூடிய நிலைமையில் தங்களுக்கு கடன் நிவாரணம் வேண்டுமென்று கோரியிருக்கிறார்கள். அந்தக் கோரிக்கை நியாயமானது. அந்தக் கோரிக்கைக்கு ஏதாவது செவி சாய்க்கவேண்டுமென்ற எண்ணத்தை இப்பொழுது கொண்டு வந்திருக்கக்கூடிய மசோதாவானது காட்டுகிறது.

“இந்த மசோதாவில் பல குறைபாடுகள் இருந்தாலுங்கூட மொத்தத்தில் பார்க்கும்போது ஸ்ரீ B. V. நாராயணசாமி நாயுடு அவர்கள் சொல்கிறபடி, கடனிலே பிறந்து, கடனிலே வாழ்ந்து, கடனிலே இறந்துக் கொண்டிருக்கக்கூடிய விவசாயிகளுக்கு, நிச்சயமாக நிவாரணமளிக்கும் என்பதில் சந்தேகமில்லை. எனவே, கடனிலே துவண்டு கொண்டிருக்கக் கூடிய விவசாயிகள் சார்பிலே இந்த மசோதாவை நான் வரவேற்கின்றேன்.

“இந்த நிலைமையில், விவசாயிகள் யார் என்பதற்கு சர்க்கார் விளக்கம் கொடுக்கிறது. அந்த விளக்கம் அவ்வளவு சரியானது அல்ல என்பது என்னுடைய அபிப்பிராயம். விவசாயி என்றிறபோது, அதற்கு கொடுத்திருக்கிற வியாக்கியானம் சாதாரண விவசாயிகளோடு நிலலாமல், மிகப் பெரிய நிலப் பிரபுக்களுக்குக் கூட, இதிலே சாதகம் இருக்கிறதென்பது ஒப்புக்கொள்ளக்கூடிய விஷயம். அதே சமயத்தில் சர்க்கார் தரப்பிலிருந்து ஒரு திருத்தம் வந்திருக்கிறது. அந்தத் திருத்தம் கூட வரவேற்கத்தக்க ஒரு திருத்தம் தான். விவசாயிகள் என்றிறபோது, ‘who is in receipt of rents or profits thereof’ என்பதை மாற்றிவிட்டு, ‘who pays rent and receives wages’ என்றிற வார்த்தைகளை சர்க்கார் போட்டிருந்தால் இன்னும் உதவிகரமாக

[11th January 1954] [Sri K. V. Ramasamy]

இருந்திருக்கும். அப்படிச் செய்திருந்தால், சாதாரண விவசாயிகளுக்கும் கூலி விவசாயிகளுக்கும் நிச்சயமாக உதவியாக இருக்குமென்று நான் சர்க்காருக்கு எடுத்துச் சொல்ல ஆசைப்படுகிறேன்.

“ரூ. 250-க்கு மேல் நிலவரி கொடுக்கக் கூடியவர்கள் விவசாயிகள் என்று கருதப்படக் கூடாது என்கின்ற ஷரத்து சேர்க்கப்படுவது அவசியம் என்பது என்னுடைய அபிப்பிராயம்.

“1951-52, 1952-53 அல்லது 1953-54 வருஷங்களில் வருமான வரி தருபவர் என்று நிர்ணயிக்கப்பட்டவர்கள் இந்த சட்ட வரம்பிற்குட்பட்டு விவசாயி என்ற வியாக்கியானத்திற்குள் வரமாட்டார்களென்று இருக்கிற திருத்தம் நியாயமானது, சரியானது. ஆகவே, அதை வரவேற்கிறேன்.

“கிராமப் புரங்களில் காலையிலிருந்து மாலை வரை வெய்யிலிலே வேலை செய்யக்கூடிய விவசாயக் கூலிகளாகிய அவர்களுக்கு இதனால் எந்த விதமான நிவாரணமும் கிடையாது. கனம் அங்கத்தினர் ஸ்ரீ ராஜா சிதம்பரம் அவர்கள் சொன்னார், தங்களுடைய நாணயத்தை வைத்துக்கொண்டுதான் கிராமப்புரங்களில் வாழ்கின்றார்கள் என்று அவர்களுக்கு எந்த விதமான நிலபுலனும் இல்லாவிட்டாலுங் கூட, அவர்களுடைய நாணயத்தின் பேரில் இன்றைக்கு அவர்கள் கடன் வாங்கிக் கொண்டிருக்கிறார்கள். அவர்களுக்கு இன்றைக்குப் பல நிர்ப்பந்தங்கள் இருக்கின்றன. மாடு கன்றுகள் வைத்திருந்தாலுங்கூட, அவைகளை ஜப்தி செய்யப்படும்படியான பல தொந்தரவுகள் இருக்கின்றன. எனவே, விவசாயத் தொழிலாளிகளாக இருக்கக்கூடியவர்களுக்குக் கூட நிவாரணம் கிடைக்கக்கூடிய வகையில் சட்டத்தில் அவர்களுக்கு சாதகம் இருக்க வேண்டுமென்று வற்புறுத்திக் கூற விரும்புகின்றேன்.

“இந்தக் கடன் ஒத்திவைப்பானது ஒரு வருஷத்திற்கு என்று இருக்கிறது. இது நிச்சயமாகப் போதாது. ஐந்து வருஷமாவது தவணை கொடுக்கப்படவேண்டும். குறைந்த பசும் மூன்று வருஷமாவது தவணை கொடுக்கவேண்டுமென்று கேட்டுக் கொள்ளுகின்றேன்.

“இந்த நிவாரணம் உண்மையில் விவசாயிகளுக்கு பயன்பட வேண்டுமானால், நிச்சயமாக சர்க்கார் அவர்களுக்கு கடன் வாங்க வசதி செய்து கொடுக்கவேண்டும். இன்றைக்கு சட்டம் வந்து விட்டது. அதனால் கிராமத்தில் லேவாதேவிக் காரர்கள் உஷாராக இருக்கிறார்கள். அவர்களிடமிருந்து கடன் வாங்குவதற்கு முடியாமல் விவசாயிகள் திண்டாடுகிறார்கள். நிலம் சாகுபடி செய்பவன் மாடு கன்றுகளை வாங்கவேண்டும், உழுபடைகளை வாங்கவேண்டும். இதற்காக கடன் வாங்குவதற்கு விவசாயிகள் செல்லுகின்றபோது, கிராமப்புரத்தில் இருக்கக்கூடிய லேவாதேவிக் காரர்கள் கடன் கொடுக்க மறுக்கிறார்கள். நிலத்தைக் கிரயம் எழுதிக்கொடுத்தால்தான் பணம் கொடுப்பேன் என்று லேவாதேவிக் காரர்கள் சொல்லுகிறார்கள். ஏன் சொல்லுகிறார்களென்றால், இந்தச் சட்டம் வந்ததுதான் காரணம். இந்தச் சட்டத்தினால் இப்படிப்பட்ட ஒரு கஷ்டம் விவசாயிகளுக்குப் புதிதாக ஏற்பட்டிருக்கிறது. எனவே, கிராமப் புரங்களில் இருக்கக்கூடிய விவசாயிகளுக்கு தக்காவிக் கடன் முதலியன கூட்டுறவு சங்கங்களின் மூலமாக போதிய அளவுக்கு கடன் வசதி செய்து தருவதற்கு சர்க்கார் ஆவன செய்யவேண்டுமென்று கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகின்றேன்.”

SRI S. VENKATRAMA AYYAR :—“Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I feel that the Ordinance which was promulgated recently was timely and opportune. There cannot be two opinions in the matter of affording relief to the agriculturists of our State. We are grateful to our Government with our Hon. Chief Minister at its head, who have come forward with a number of such relief measures in quick succession. To start with, we had the Tanjore Pannaiyals and Tenants Protection Act and it has been subsequently extended to South Arcot, then the South Kanara Tenants Protection Act and recently we had the Malabar Tenancy Act.

[Sri S. Venkatrama Ayyar] [11th January 1954]

Now we have the Bill for affording temporary relief to indebted agriculturists. I am sure all this is a forerunner to a future comprehensive land reform legislation. Of course, these are done with a view to render all possible help and afford relief to the agriculturists and with a view to stabilise our agricultural economy and step up food production. On a first reading, we had a doubt whether this measure is at all necessary for a deltaic area like Tanjore district, but on a careful consideration and deep thought over the implication of the Bill, we are convinced that this measure is immensely beneficial, especially at a time when the agriculturists of the coastal regions in Tanjore district, comprising several taluks, were afflicted by the cyclone in November-December 1952. They had to borrow heavily not only from other creditors, but also from Government. They had lost all their paddy and there had been great devastation of coconut topes in that area. It necessitated heavy borrowing. Of course, Government gave a helping hand in advancing loans promptly to afflicted agriculturists. I am, therefore, constrained to point out to the Government that suitable provisions will have to be incorporated at least for postponing recovery of all such loans. I know that, Government administration will have to be carried on with the receipts of land revenue and other taxes. But as a special and exceptional case, recovery of these loans may be postponed, as also the accumulated arrears of rent in the inam and zamin villages recently taken over. The accumulation of arrears relate to the last three years or so. It is not due to the apathy on the part of the ryots to pay rents, but to other causes. There are writs pending in the High Court and there are also repeated representations to the Government to reduce the rates of rent which stood at the highest district level, to that of the taluk highest rate. After considerable time, Government were pleased to pass favourable orders making rent reduction. But all at once when the ryots are asked to pay, they find it difficult. I, therefore, request that suitable provisions may be made in the Bill itself to enable ryots to pay in easy instalments, spread over two or three years. It may be said by the Government that suitable instructions have been issued to the Collector and other Revenue authorities to deal with cases of real hardship. I submit no amount of executive instructions will be of any use. If such a provision is made in the Bill itself, it will confer lasting benefit to the afflicted ryots.

“Regarding the definition of ‘agriculturist’, a mirasdar who owns several hundreds of acres of land, having no other business and having agriculture as his occupation, borrows heavily not with a view to improve his agricultural operations, but for various purposes, like marriages, purchase of excellent cars and so on. If they are also given the benefit under this Act, I am afraid, it will not be taken in the spirit with which the Act is intended to provide relief to the agriculturists. In such cases, suitable provision should be made excluding such agriculturists from the benefits under this Act.

[11th January 1954] [Sri S. Venkatrama Ayyar]

“Suitable provision should also be made in connexion with debts due to women who have absolutely no other means of livelihood except the loans advanced to agriculturists.

“I plead and request the Government to come forward with a comprehensive land legislation at a very early date so that the agricultural economy of our State may be developed to its utmost extent.”

SRI D. K. RAJU:—“Sir, the Bill is an important one, because it affords relief to the agriculturists who are the back-bones of the State. But I do not know why it is being hurried through like this. First of all, instead of taking the House, into confidence an ordinance was promulgated; again, instead of introducing the Bill in the beginning of the Session, it was delayed and now on the pretext of Pongal, this measure is being hurried through. However, I am glad that the Hon. Chief Minister is trying to concede the points raised by the Opposition Party to a very great extent. In spite of all that, I feel there was no need to promulgate an Ordinance and now pass the law in a hurry.

“Many hon. Members suggested that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee for scrutiny and opinion. Before that, public opinion ought to have been obtained. Nothing of the kind has been done.

“Hon. Members know that the majority of the agriculturists depend on loans either from banks, or from petty money-lenders. Because of this measure, the relationship between the money-lender and the agriculturist has become strained. Unless the relationship between the agriculturist and the money-lenders is kept cordial, there will not be any real relief to agriculturists. Apart from this, as far as my knowledge goes, in foreign countries which are supposed to be forward countries, there are no such measures to help the ryots in an indirect way. Government should help the ryots in a direct way by starting Credit Loan Societies, for, this kind of indirect help only jeopardises the credit of the agriculturist.

“Of course, any legislation has two phases, good and bad. But in my opinion such a Bill passed into law so hurriedly will do more bad than good. So, I request the House not to hurry like this, for, the promulgation of the Ordinance and the way in which the Bill was delayed in the beginning and rushed through now have created a suspicion in the minds of the public and the Members of the Opposition Benches. So I request the Hon. Chief Minister to see that at least in future, he takes the Members of the House into confidence in carrying on legislative business, so that cordiality may be maintained between Government and Opposition.”

SRI M. MUNI REDDY:—“Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, several Members have spoken for and against the Bill and criticised the

[Sri M. Muni Reddy] [11th January 1954]

Government for having hurriedly rushing through this Bill. There is no alternative for us than to agree with the Government when they say that they want to pass this Bill by this evening.

"Whenever we meet people, they say that this Act will not be helpful to them. Already debtors are executing not only conditional deeds but also sale deeds. The Government will have to give loans more liberally to ryots, and the result will be that corruption will increase in all taluk offices. The Hon. Chief Minister was kind enough to concede to very many demands. But there are still three important amendments that are to be conceded. If they also are accepted by the Government, Mr. Swayamprakasam has agreed to the passage of the Bill by this evening. My amendments are very important and simple. I do not know why the Hon. Chief Minister has not taken notice of them. Perhaps they escaped his notice. One of my amendments proposed is to exempt from the operation of this Act 'any sum due to a widow or woman who does not subsist on the maintenance of her husband and who does not own any immovable property other than a dwelling house'. There may be widows or other women who have lent to agriculturists from the money that they might have got for their maintenance either through the Court or otherwise and they may be actually living upon the interest that they get. They may be getting by way of interest two hundred or three hundred rupees and that may be just enough for their subsistence. Under this Act, they will not get the interest on the loans they have advanced to agriculturists. I request that the debts due to such women must be included in the list of exemptions from the operation of this Act.

"Even very big landlords, landlords who pay a land revenue of even Rs. 1,000 per year, are given the benefit under this Act. We must give the benefit only to small landlords. I think very many Members of this House will agree if the benefit is confined to those who pay a land revenue of Rs. 500 or less a year.

"As I have already said, moneylenders are not prepared to advance loans to agriculturists. So the agriculturists cannot maintain themselves and carry on agricultural operations. To induce money-lenders to lend to agriculturists at least for carrying on their agricultural operations, I have moved an amendment for exempting from the operation of this Act any debt that might be incurred after this Act comes into force. Co-operative credit societies are not prepared to give loans liberally to ryots. I request the Government to see that the ryots are given long-term loans. If a person applies to the Land Mortgage Bank for a loan; it takes three years to get it sanctioned. For a loan of Rs. 1,000, the applicant has to spend about Rs. 300. Under these circumstances, this Bill will not be helpful to ryots. If the amendments relating to the three subjects that I have referred to are accepted, the Bill can be rushed through and got approved by this House."

SRI K. S. LAKSHMIPATHI NAICKER :—"கனம் உதவி சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, இப்பொழுது விவசாயிகளுக்கு உடனடியாக உதவியளிக்க வேண்டுமென்ற நோக்கத்தோடு இந்த மசோதாவானது கொண்டு வரப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. அதை நான் மனமார ஆதரிக்கின்றேன். அதில் முக்கியமான சில அம்சங்களை திருத்தியமைக்கவேண்டுமென்றும் கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகின்றேன்.

"அனேக வருஷங்களாக மழை இல்லாது விவசாயிகள் கஷ்டப்பட்டுக் கொண்டிருக்கின்ற காரணத்தினால், அவர்களுக்கு உடனடியாக உதவியளிக்க வேண்டுமென்ற நோக்கத்தோடு சர்க்கார் இந்த மசோதாவைக் கொண்டு வந்திருக்கிறார்கள். அது உண்மையில் எவ்வளவு தூரம் பலனளிக்கப் போகிறது என்பதை நாம் சிந்திக்கவேண்டும். இவ்வளவு அவசரமாகவும், இவ்வளவு வேகமான முறையிலும் இந்த மசோதா 'பாஸ்' செய்யப் பட்டிருப்பதென்று நான் சொல்லிக்கொள்ள விரும்புகிறேன். அதிக நேரம் கொடுத்து, முக்கியமான திருத்தங்களை அங்கீகாரம் செய்து, இதை நிறைவேற்றவண்டும் என்பதுதான் என்னுடைய நோக்கமாகும்.

"முக்கியமாக, எஸ்டேட் ஒழிப்புக்குப் பின்னால், 'survey' ஆகாத எஸ்டேடுகளில் நில அடமான பாங்குகளோ அல்லது இதர கடன் வாங்கக்கூடிய ஸ்தாபனங்களோ உதவியளிப்பதில்லை. அந்தக் கிராமங்களிலுள்ள விவசாயிகள், பக்கத்திலுள்ள விவசாயி மக்களிடமிருந்து கடன் வாங்கிக்கொள்ளுகிறார்கள். விவசாயிகள்தான் இங்கு 'creditors' னாக மாறுகிறார்கள். நில அடமான பாங்குகளிலிருந்து எந்தவித உதவியும் கிடைப்பதில்லை. காரணமென்னவென்றால், அந்தக் கிராமங்களில் சர்வே ஆகாததினால் நில அடமான பாங்குகள் கடன் கொடுக்க முன் வருவதில்லை. இப்பொழுது நடைமுறையில் என்ன செய்துகொண்டு இருக்கிறார்களென்றால், அடுத்தபடியாக இருக்கும் விவசாயிகளிடத்திலிருந்து கடன் வாங்கிக்கொண்டிருக்கிறார்கள். கடன் மசோதா வந்ததற்குப் பின்னால், ரூ. 100 கடன் பெற வேண்டுமானால், ரூ. 200-க்கு எழுதிக்கொடுத்தால்தான் ரூ. 100 கொடுக்கிறார்கள். இதுவரையில் கிடைத்துக்கொண்டுவந்த கடனும், இந்தச் சட்டம் வந்ததற்குப் பின்னால், கிடைக்காதபடி ஏற்பட்டுவிட்டது. எவ்வளவு தூரம் இந்தச் சட்டமானது பலனளிக்கவேண்டுமென்று நினைக்கிறோமோ அவ்வளவு தூரம் பலன் அளிக்காது என்பதுதான் நான் அஞ்சுகின்றேன். அதற்காக சர்க்கார் ஏராளமான பண உதவியை கிராமங்களுக்கு அவ்வப்போது தேவையான போது கொடுக்கவேண்டும். விவசாயிகள் அன்றாட வாழ்க்கைச் செலவுக்குக் கூட இனி கடன் வாங்கமுடியாத நிலையில் இருக்கிறார்கள். வருகிற பொங்கலுக்குக்கூட அவர்கள் கையில் பணமில்லாமல் கடன் வாங்க முடியாத நிலையில் திண்டாடிக்கொண்டிருக்கிறார்கள். உண்மையிலேயே சமீபத்தில் வருகின்ற பொங்கல் பண்டிகையை சரியாகக் கொண்டாட முடியாத நிலையில் இருக்கிறார்கள் என்று இந்த சந்தர்ப்பத்தில் சொல்லிக் கொள்ளுகின்றேன்.

"எஸ்டேட் ஒழிப்புக்குப் பின்னால் கடன் வாங்குவது என்றால் அதிகப் படியான தொகைக்கு எழுதிக்கொடுத்துதான் வாங்கவேண்டியிருக்கிறது. அதிலும் சில பேர்கள் தங்கள் குடும்பத்திலே இருக்கக்கூடிய நிலங்களைக் குத்தகைக்கு விட்டு விரும்போது, ரிஜிஸ்திரார் மூலமாக குத்தகைபதிவு செய்யாமல் 'pro-note' எழுதி வாங்கிக்கொண்டு குத்தகைக்கு விட்டிருக்கிறார்கள். அவர்கள் அந்த குத்தகைப் பணத்தை வாங்கிக்கொண்டு குடும்பத்தை நடத்தி வருகிறார்கள். உண்மையில் அந்த நிலைமையில் இருக்கக்கூடிய விவசாய மக்களுக்கு இப்பொழுது வரக்கூடிய சட்டமானது எந்த விதமான உதவியையும் அளிக்காமென்று தெரியவில்லை. முச்சியமாக, அது உதவியளிப்பதற்கு பதிலாக கெடுதல்தான் செய்யும் என்று சொல்லிக்கொள்ளுகிறேன். கிராமங்களிலே ஒரு வருஷத்திற்கு தங்களுடைய நிலங்களை குத்தகைக்கு அடைப்பவர்கள் 'pro-note' மூலமாக அடைத்து வருகிறார்கள். 'pro-note' மூலம் அடைத்து அதிலிருந்து வரும் வருவாயைக் கொண்டு ஜீவனம் நடத்துகிறார்கள். கிராமங்களில் 'Capitalist'

[Sri K. S. Lakshmipathi Naicker] [11th January 1954]

ஆக இருக்கக்கூடியவர்களும், அந்தக் கிராமங்களில் “Creditors” ஆக இருக்கக்கூடியவர்களும் விவசாயிகள்தான். அவர்களுக்குத் திரும்பி வரவேண்டிய பணம் திரும்பக் கிடைக்காவிட்டால், அவர்கள் எப்படி விவசாயத்தைச் செய்ய முடியும்? அவர்களுடைய விவசாயத்தை இது எவ்வளவு தூரம் பாதிக்கும் என்பதை சர்க்கார் யோசிக்கவேண்டும். சர்க்கார் உண்மையிலேயே விவசாயிகளுக்கு நன்மையைச் செய்து உற்பத்தியைப் பெருக்கவேண்டுமென்று சொல்லிக்கொண்டிருப்பது எப்படி சாத்தியமாகும்? இதைச் சர்க்கார் யோசனை செய்து பார்க்கவேண்டும்.

“தனிப்பட்டவர்களுடைய (சர்க்கார் அல்லாத)—கடனை மட்டும்—ஒத்திவைக்கவேண்டுமென்று சர்க்கார் இந்த அவசரச் சட்டத்தைக் கொண்டு வந்திருக்கிறது. “மற்றவர்களுக்கு கொடுக்கவேண்டாம், எங்களுடைய கடனை மட்டும் கொடுங்கள்” என்று சொல்வதுபோல் இருக்கிறது. ஆகவே, சர்க்கார் தக்காவிக் கடன், கால்நடைத் தீவனத்திற்கான கடன் (Fodder Loan) இம்மாதிரியான கடன்களைக் கொடுத்து உதவியிருப்பதையும் இதில் சேர்த்து, இதில் பலன் அளிக்கும்படியாக அவர்கள் ஒத்தாசை செய்யவேண்டும். அப்படிச் செய்தால்தான் ‘Survey’ ஆகாத எஸ்டேட் ஒழிப்பு இடங்களில் இந்த கடன்களை பெற்றுள்ளவர்களுக்கு வாஸ்தவத்திலேயே உண்மையான பன்னித்ததாகச் சொல்ல முடியும். ஆகவே, இப்பொழுது இருக்கக்கூடிய இந்த மசோதாவில் சர்க்காருடைய கடன்களையும் ஒத்திவைப்பதற்கு அவர்கள் முன்வரவேண்டுமென்று கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகின்றேன். அப்படிச் செய்ய அவர்கள் முன்வந்தால்தான் உண்மையிலேயே விவசாயிகளுக்கு உதவியளிக்கக்கூடிய நிலைமை இருக்கலாமெய்யெழிய, தனிப்பட்டவர்களுடைய கடனை மட்டும் ஒத்தி வைத்திருப்பதினால் அதிக பலன் ஏற்பட முடியாது. ஆகையால், இதை சர்க்கார் தங்களுடைய கருத்தில் வைத்துக்கொண்டு, அதற்கு வேண்டிய மாறுதல்களைச் செய்து, இந்த மசோதாவை நிறைவேற்ற வேண்டுமென்று கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகின்றேன்.

SRI G. NARAYANASWAMI NAIDU :—“கனம் தலைவரவர்களே ! விவசாயிகளுக்காக சமீபத்தில், சர்க்கார் கொண்டுவந்திருக்கும், ‘விவசாயிகள் கடன் ஒத்திவைப்பு சட்டத்தை’ நான் ஆதரிக்கிறேன். இந்த சட்டம், காலத்தில் செய்த உதவி எனவும் கருதுகிறேன். எதிர்பாராமல் யாரும் கேட்காமல் சர்க்காரே இதைச் செய்துள்ளார்கள் என்பதைக் கொண்டும் இதைப் பாராட்டுகிறேன். தஞ்சை ஜில்லா பண்ணையான் பாது காப்பு சட்டம் கொண்டுவந்த உடன் கனம் பிரதம மந்திரி அவர்கள் தன் ஜில்லா சுற்றுப் பிரயாணத்தை சீர்காழியில் முடித்து பிளாட் பாரத்தில் ரயில் வரவுக்காக தங்கி இருக்கும்போது, என்னை அழைத்து எல்லாம் திருப்திதானே என்று கேட்டார்கள். பரம திருப்தி. ஆனால், கடன் தொல்லை கடுமையாக இருக்கின்றது என்று தெரிவித்தேன், கனம் பிரதமர் அவர்கள் இத்துடன் இப்பொழுது திருப்தி அடையுங்கள் என்று தெரிவித்தார்கள். ஆனால் இந்த சட்டம் சீக்கிரத்திலேயே, ஜனனம் ஆகி விட்டது மகிச்சிக்குறிய விஷயமாகும்.

“தொழிலாளர்களிடே நீண்டகாலமாக வேலை செய்த நாங்கள், விவசாயத் தொழிலாளரின் கடன், அதை அவர்கள் பெற்றுக்கொண்ட விதம், பல ஆண்டுகளாக, நீண்டு, நீண்டு மூன்று ஆண்டுகளுக்கு ஒரு முறை ஒரு புதிய 1 அண தலையை ஒட்டிக்கொண்டு முதலீட்போல் பல மடங்கு பெருகி, உழவர்களை சதா அச்சுறுத்தி, திகிலையும், என்ன நேருமோ,

[11th January 1954] [Sri G. Narayanaswami Naidu]

என்ற ஏக்கத்தையும் தந்த இந்த சனியன் அடியோடு துலையாமல், ஒரு வருஷம் கழித்து வட்டியும் முதலும் சேர்ந்து கோர சுரூபம் எடுக்கப் போகின்றது என்றால் அதுவும் பெரிய திகிலாய் இருக்கிறது.

“உழவர் கோருவது கடன் ஒத்திவைப்பல்ல, கடன் ஒழிப்புதான் என்பதை அழுத்தமாக சர்க்காருக்கு எடுத்துச் சொல்ல விரும்புகிறேன்.

“விவசாயி, என்றால் உழவர், என்று தான் பொருள். ஆனால் நிலச்சுவான்தாரும் இதில் சேர்ந்தவர் என்றால் எதிர்ப்பு கடுமையாகிறது. உழவர், குறிப்பிட்ட அளவு குறைந்த நிலம் வைத்திருப்பவர், வாரம் அல்லது சிறு குத்தகைகாரர் இவர்களுக்கு கடன் ஒழிப்பும், மற்றையோர்க்கு கடன் ஒத்திவைப்பும் அளித்தால் போதுமானது என்று கருதுகிறேன். இதை சர்க்கார் நன்றாக பரிசீலனை செய்யவேண்டுமென்றும் விரும்புகின்றேன்.

“சட்டத்தை எவ்வளவு ஜாக்கிரதையாய் செய்தாலும் எங்கள் ஜில்லா வாசிகள் தங்களுக்கு சாதகமாக பயன்படுத்திக் கடன் ஒத்தி வைப்பு சட்டம் வந்த உடன் இந்த திருவாடுறை பண்டாரம் என்ன செய்தார் என்பது ஒரு வேடிக்கை. ஒரு குடியானவர் பக்கிரி படையாச்சி என்று பெயர் பாரம்பர்யமாக பண்டாரங்களுக்கு பணி செய்தவர். அவர் நீண்ட நாள் குடிக்குக்கு பாதகமாக, பண்டாரத்திற்கு ஆதரவாக, நடந்தமைக்கு பரிசாக, அவர் மாடி வீட்டை இடிக்கவேண்டுமென்று கோர்ட்டில் தாவா நடந்து வருகிறது. குடியானவர், தனக்கு சேரவேண்டிய சம்பள பாக்கிக்காக முன்சீப் கோர்ட்டில் தாவா செய்திருந்தார். இந்த கடன் ஒத்திவைப்பு சட்டம் வந்த உடன், பிரஸ்தாப பண்டாரம் தான் விவசாயி ஆனதால், பிரஸ்தாப தாவாவை ஒத்திவைக்க வேண்டுமென்று கோர்ட்டாரை கோறி இருக்கிறார்.

“இப்படிப்பட்டவர்களுக்காகவா சட்டம்கொண்டு வரப்பட்டது? எங்கள் ஜில்லாவில், ஒரு பழமொழி உண்டு, ‘எட்டுக் குடியான் சம்பாதிக்க, வேதாரண னியத்தான் தின்று பார்க்க’ என்று கூறுவார்கள். அதே போல், நம்முடைய முன்னோர்கள், நல்ல எண்ணத்தின் காரணமாக லட்சக்கணக்கான ஏக்கர் நிலங்களை, கடவுளின் பேரால் அளித்து ஏழை மக்களுக்கு உதவி செய்யச் சொன்னால், இப்பண்டாரங்கள் விலகி விநாயகர்க்கும், பிராந்தியைப் பெருமாளுக்கும் நிவேதித்து லேடிமார்களுக்கு மாடி வீடு கட்டிக் கொடுத்து, ஆஸ்திக வேஷம் போட்டு பல டாம்பீக்கார்களில், பவனி வந்து உழைத்த கூலியை கொடு என்றால், டிஸம்பர் மாதம் வரை கெடு கேட்கவா இந்த சட்டம் பயன்படவேண்டும்.

“இது கடவுளின் அடியார்களான வேஷதாரிகள் எண்ணத்தில் நல்ல நோக்கு இல்லாமல், மாநாடுகளும் மதநாடுகளும், கூட்டி ஆஸ்திகர்களை ஏமாற்றிக்கொண்டிருக்கும்போது, கோவிலில் டிரஸ்டிகள், எக்ஸிக்யூட்டிவ் ஆபீஸர்கள் என்ற பேரால், குட்டிப்பண்டாரங்கள் குடிகளை கடன்களின் பேரால் செய்யும் இம்சையும், வக்கீல்மார்களுடன் பங்கு போட்டுக்கொண்டு தொடுக்கும் விவஹாரங்களும், தயை செய்து துப்பறியும் போலீசாரையாவது அனுப்பி, மயூரநாதஸ்வாமி தேவஸ்தானத்தைச் சேர்ந்த மன்னமந்தலையாவது, பந்தநல்லூர் தேவஸ்தானத்தைச் சேர்ந்த சிறுகடம்புரையாவது விசாரித்தால், பழைய கடன்கள் பேரால், குடிகள் எவ்வளவு இம்சைக்கு ஆளாகி இருக்கிறார்கள் என்பது தெரியும்.

“இந்தக் கடவுளெல்லாம், தங்கள் கடனை எல்லாம் நீக்கிக் கொண்டு, ஓரளவு பெரிய பணமுடைய, பணக்காரசாமிகளாகவும் ஆகி உள்ளது.

PALANIYANDI:—“கனம் உதவி சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே! எனக்கு முன்பு பேசிய நண்பர்களெல்லாம் இந்த கடன் ஒத்தி வைப்புச் சட்டத்தை எதிர்த்தும், வரவேற்றும் விளக்கமாக பேசினார்கள். ஆனால் மொத்தத்தில் பார்க்கும்போது இது ஏழை மக்களுக்கு மிகவும் கஷ்டத்தைத்தான் கொடுக்குமென்பதைச் சொல்ல முடியும். கனம் முதல் மந்திரி அவர்கள் காலையில் பேசிய காலத்தில் ஏதோ எதிர் கட்சி நண்பர் பலர் திருத்தங்களை கொடுத்து அதை மாற்றவேண்டுமென்று சொல்லுகிறார்கள் என்றார்கள். கனம் ராஜா சிதம்பரம் அவர்கள் திருத்தக் கூடியதைத்தானே செய்யச் சொல்லுகிறோம் என்றார்கள். அம்மாதிரி திருத்தக் கூடியதை திருத்தினால்தான் விவசாயத் தொழிலாளர்களுக்கு ஒரு நல்ல திட்டம் செய்தவர்களாவோம். பெரும் மிராசுதாரர்களுக்கு நாம் சலுகை கொடுக்க வேண்டுமென்று நினைத்தால் மட்டும் போதாது. இம்மசோதா மூலம் நிலத்தை உழும் உண்மை விவசாயிகளுக்கே நிவாரணம் அளிக்கப்பட வேண்டும். ஆகவே விவசாயத் தொழிலாளர்களுக்கு இவ்விதமான நோக்கங்கள் செய்யக் கூடிய நல்ல அம்சங்களுள்ள மசோதாவை கொண்டு வரவேண்டுமென்று கேட்டுக் கொள்ளுகிறேன். மேலும் இந்த அரசாங்கத்தில், ஒரு வருஷக் கடன் ஒத்திவைப்புச் சட்டத்தை அமுல் செய்ய வேண்டுமென்று கொண்டு வந்து விட்டு, அரசாங்கத்தினுடைய கடனை மட்டும் ஒத்திப் போடாதிருப்பது மிகவும் வருந்தத்தக்க விஷயமாகும். ஏனென்றால் நம் பிரதம மந்திரி அவர்கள் அரசாங்கக் கடனை ஒத்திப்போட்டால் அரசாங்கம், மற்ற கூட்டுறவு ஸ்தாபனம் முதலியவை நடைபெறுவது கஷ்டமென்று சொல்லுகிறார். அதுவும் ஓரளவு வாஸ்தவம்தான். ஆனால் அதே சமயத்தில் இந்த அரசாங்கம் தங்க

[Sri M. Palaniyandi] [11th January 1954]

ளுடைய கடனையும் இரண்டாம் தடவையாக ஒத்திப்போடுவதால் நம் நாட்டிலுள்ள 10 கோடி விவசாய மக்களுக்கு பெரிய உதவி செய்தவர்களாவோம். அவர்களாலும் நம் அரசாங்கம் மிகவும் நல்ல அரசாங்கம் என்று பேசப்படும். மந்திரி சபையும், மற்றவர்களும் பெருமைப்படுவர். இவ்வாறு அரசாங்கக் கடனை சில ஆண்டுகளுக்கு ஒத்திப் போடுவதால் ஒன்றும் அது பாதிக்கப்படாது. ஆகவே இந்த அரசாங்கம் இதைக் கருத்தில் கொண்டு, ஏழை விவசாயிகளின் நிலையை உணர்ந்து அரசாங்கக் கடனையும் ஒத்திப்போடும்படி மன்றாடிக் கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகிறேன். அதோடு அதை அரசாங்கம் ஒத்துக்கொள்ளுமென்றும் நினைக்கிறேன்.

“அடுத்தபடியாக, இந்த ராஜாஜி மந்திரிசபை பலவிதமான சட்டங்களை கொண்டு வந்திருக்கிறது. அடிப்படையை மாற்றாமல், பலவித சட்டங்களைச் செய்வதால் ஒருவித காரியத்தையும் சாதிக்க முடியாது. இன்றுள்ள நிலையிலே விவசாய மக்களுக்கு உதவியளிக்க முக்கியமாக கிராப் இன்சூரன்ஸ் (Crop Insurance) திட்டத்தை கொண்டு வரவேண்டும். விவசாயிகள் கடன் வாங்கி பணம்போட்டு பயிர் செய்கிறார்கள். ஆனால் தங்களளுடைய நிலங்களில் விளைந்த பயிர்கள் பூச்சடிப்பதாலும், இன்னும் மற்ற பல காரணத்தாலும் பாதிக்கப்படலாம். அவர்களுக்கு இந்த (Crop Insurance) திட்டம் கொண்டு வந்தால் மிகவும் உதவியளிக்கும். இது பற்றி கனம் முதல் மந்திரி அவர்களுக்கும் நன்கு தெரியும். ஆகவே நன்கு யோசித்து இந்த (Crop Insurance) திட்டத்தைக் கொண்டு வர வேண்டுமென்று இந்த மந்திரி சபைக்கு சொல்லிக்கொள்ள ஆசை படுகிறேன்.

“1948-ல் அரசாங்கத்தார் விவசாயிகளுக்கு உதவி செய்வதாக முன் வந்தார்கள். பல விவசாய மக்கள் அரசாங்கத்திடமிருந்து பணம் பெற்று, மேலும் தாங்கள் வெளியில் ஆயிரம், இரண்டாயிரம் கடன் வாங்கி செலவழித்து கிணறுகளை வெட்டினார்கள். பல கிணறுகள் வெட்டி தண்ணீர் வராமல் இருக்கின்றன. சில பாதி வெட்டி அதற்கு மேல் பிரயோசனமில்லாமல் அதோடு நிறுத்தப்பட்டிருக்கின்றன. இம்மாதிரி பல வித கஷ்டங்களுக்கு விவசாயிகள் ஆளாகியிருப்பது காங்கிரஸ் அரசாங்கத்திற்குத் தெரியும். அப்படியிருந்தும் இன்று இவ்வாறு பல கஷ்டங்கள் அனுபவிக்கும் விவசாயிகளிடம் தாங்கள் கடனாகக் கொடுத்த அந்த தொகைகளைக் கொடுக்க வேண்டுமென்று அரசாங்கம் வற்புறுத்திக் கேட்பது அபிஷியல் அட்மினிஸ்ட்ரேஷன் (Official Administration) குறையையத்தான் காண்பிக்கின்றது. ஆகையால் இதைக் கவனித்து இந்த கிணறு மான்யத்தைத் தள்ளி வைக்க வேண்டுமென்று கேட்டுக் கொள்ளுகிறேன். அவ்வாறு இந்த கிணறு மான்யத்தை ஒத்தி வைப்பதோடு, முக்கியமாக விவசாயிகளுக்கு (Crop Insurance) திட்டத்தையும் கொண்டுவர வேண்டுமென்று கேட்டுக்கொண்டு, என்னுடைய வார்த்தையை இத்துடன் முடித்துக்கொள்ளுகிறேன்.”

SRI A. GOVINDASWAMY NAYAGAR:—“கனம் உதவி சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, தற்சமயம் சர்க்கார் கொண்டு வந்திருக்கும் இந்த விவசாயக் கடன் ஒத்திவைப்பு மசோதாவை நான் ஆதரித்துப் பேசும்போது சில திருத்தங்களை வலியுறுத்திக் கூற ஆசைப்படுகிறேன். திருத்தங்கள் கொடுத்திருக்கிற காரணத்தால் என்னுடைய அபிப்பிராயத்தைச் சுருக்கமாகத் தெரிவித்துக்கொள்ளுகிறேன். நான் எதிர் கட்சியில் இருக்கிற காரணத்தால் எதையும் எதிர்ப்பேன் என்று நினைக்கவேண்டாம்.

“எதிர்க் கட்சியிலிருந்து வருகின்ற நல்ல திருத்தங்களை சர்க்கார் ஏற்றுக் கொள்ளவேண்டும். அப்படி ஏற்றுக்கொண்டால் தான் ஜனநாயக சர்க்கார் நடத்துகிறோம் என்று பெருமைப்பட முடியும். ஆகவே, நாங்கள் கொடுத்த திருத்தங்களை கனம் ராஜாஜி அவர்கள் ஆலோசித்து ஏற்றுக்கொள்ளுவார்கள் என்ற நம்பிக்கையோடு சில வார்த்தைகள் சொல்லுகிறேன்.

[11th January 1954] [Sri A. Govindaswamy Nayagar]

“இப்பொழுது கொண்டு வந்திருக்கக்கூடிய மசோதாவானது பெரும் பணக்காரர்களுக்கும் நன்மை அளிக்கிறது என்பதை யாரும் மறுக்க முடியாது. ஏழை விவசாயிகளுக்கு நன்மை வேண்டும் என்பதுதான் என்னுடைய நோக்கம். இது வக்கீல்களைப் பாதிக்கின்றது. ஆகையால், அவர்களில் சிலர் இதை எதிர்க்கிறார்கள்.

“நான் ஒரு ஐயங்கார் வக்கீல் அவர்களுடன் பேசிக்கொண்டிருந்தேன். நாங்கள் கல்வி திட்டத்தை எதிர்த்த சமயத்தில் ‘ராஜாஜி கொண்டு வந்த கல்வி திட்டத்தை ஏன் எதிர்க்கிறீர்கள்? அவருடைய மூளை அபரமானது’ என்று அவர் சொன்னார். (His brain is as sharp as the razor blade) ஆனால் அதே வக்கீல் என்ன சொல்லுகிறார் என்றால் இந்த சட்டம் வந்தால் இது அவருடைய தொழிலை பாதிப்பதால் அவர் என்ன சொல்லுகிறாரென்றால் ராஜாஜிக்கு வயதாகி மூளை குழம்பி விட்டது என்று சொல்லுகிறார்.”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—“கொஞ்ச காலமாகத் தான் என் மூளை குழம்பி விட்டது. உண்மை தான்.”

SRI A. GOVINDASWAMY NAYAGAR:—“இந்தச் சட்டம் வந்த பிறகு விவசாயிகள் எந்த அளவு பாதிக்கப்பட்டிருக்கிறார்கள் என்று பார்க்கவேண்டும். சமுட்டிக்குப்பம் ராஜாவேல் சமுட்டியார் என்ற ஒரு விவசாயி அகரம் ஆறுமுக செட்டியார் என்பவரிடம் வாங்கின ரூ. 450-க்கு புரோ நோட்டு ரூ. 1,260-க்கு எழுதிக் கொடுத்து கடன் வாங்கினார். அது மட்டுமல்ல. வேறு ஒருவரை, அதாவது நடராஜ பட்டையாச்சி என்பவர் Surety ஆக இருப்பதற்கு அவருக்கு ரூ. 1,260-க்கு புரோ நோட் எழுதிக் கொடுக்கும்படியான நிலைமை இருக்கிறது. ரூ. 450 கடனுக்கு ரூ. 2,520-க்கு புரோ நோட்டு எழுதிக் கொடுக்கக் கூடிய நிலைமை இருக்கிறது. கனம் ஸ்ரீ ராஜகோபாலாச்சாரிக்கு அந்த ராஜாவேல் சமுட்டியார் பல மகஜர் அனுப்பியிருக்கிறார். அநியாயமாக விவசாயிகள் ஏமாற்றப் பட்டு கோர்ட்டிலே ஆஜர் பண்ணப்படுகிறார்கள். கனம் ஸ்ரீ ராஜகோபாலாச்சாரி அவர்கள் இதைக் கவனிப்பார் என்று நினைக்கிறேன். எப்ரல் மாதத்தில் முதல் மகஜர் வந்திருக்கிறது. செப்டம்பர் மாதத்திலும் இரண்டாவது மகஜர் வந்திருக்கிறது. இறுதியாக டிசம்பரில் ஒரு மகஜர் வந்துள்ளது. அதை அவர்கள் கவனித்து தக்க நடவடிக்கை எடுத்துக்கொள்ள வேண்டுமென்று கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகிறேன்.

“இன்றையதினம் தனிப்பட்டவர்களிடம் வாங்கிய கடனை ஒத்திவைப்பது போல், சர்க்கார் கடன்களும் ஒத்தி வைக்கப்படவேண்டும். தனிப்பட்ட மனிதனைப் பாதிக்கின்ற சட்டம் தான் சர்க்காரையும் பாதிக்கவேண்டுமென்று வற்புறுத்தி சொல்ல ஆசைப்படுகிறேன். தனிப்பட்டவர்களிடம் விவசாயிகள் பட்ட கடன்களுக்கு சர்க்கார் அந்தத் தொகைக்கு ஒரு Cheque ஓ அல்லது ஒரு Pro-note ஓ எழுதிக் கொடுக்கவேண்டும். சர்க்காரிடம் அதற்குப் பணம் எங்கே இருக்கிறது என்று கேட்கலாம். கனம் ஸ்ரீ ராஜகோபாலாச்சாரியார் அவர்கள் மனது வைத்தால் பொது மக்களுக்காக கடன் வாங்க முடியும். ஏற்கனவே 5 கோடி ரூபாய் கடன் வேண்டுமென்று சொன்ன மாதத்திரத்தில் மந்திரிகள், ஜமீந்தார்கள், பணக்காரர்கள் எல்லோரும் கேட்ட தொகைக்கு அதிகமாகவே கொடுத்தார்கள். அதே போல், விவசாயிகளின் கடன் நிலவாரணத்திற்கென்று மறுபடியும் கடன் கேட்டால் கொடுக்கத் தயாராயிருப்பார்கள். அப்படி கடன் வாங்கி ஏழை விவசாயிகளுக்கு உதவியளிக்கவேண்டுமென்று வற்புறுத்திக் கூற ஆசைப்படுகிறேன்.

“அப்படிக் கொடுத்தால், விவசாயிகள் கடனை சர்க்காருக்குத் திருப்பிக் கொடுத்து விடுவார்கள். கடனைத் திருப்பிக் கொடுக்க ஒரு ஆண்டு தவணை போதாது. மூன்று ஆண்டுகளுக்குள் கடனைத் திருப்பிக் கொடுக்கலாம் என்று செய்யவேண்டும்.

[Sri M. A. Manickavelu Naicker] [11th January 1954]

Therefore, he understands and welcomes this Bill. I congratulate the Leader of the Toilers Party on the stand he has taken. The other Member of that Party I referred to oppose this Bill. That also I can understand. He lives in a different atmosphere and moves in an atmosphere of his own. Therefore, he is not able to understand the situation. So, I really sympathise with him.

"From the general trend of the discussion, I find that about half a dozen points have been made out. I shall meet them in a general way in so far as is necessary here and in a particular way when the appropriate clauses are taken up for discussion. The first point is that the Bill should be referred to a Select Committee. It has already been explained why it is not practicable now to think of a Select Committee. Ordinarily, when we find time and time does not sit tight on us, we refer Bills to a Select Committee and there have been instances when we referred Bills to a Select Committee, e.g., the Malabar Tenancy Bill and the Preservation of Private Forests Bill. Here in this case we are not in a position to do that. This is an urgent Bill. This is not of a permanent nature. This is a simple Bill consisting of seven or eight clauses of which only two or three clauses are really important. Therefore, we are not able to oblige hon. Members in that direction.

"Some criticism was made that this Bill was being hurried through and that it was not brought up soon after the Ordinance was promulgated. Sir, the Government took every step to publish the Bill as early as possible. But still in the matter of preparing a Bill, there are so many factors to be considered. The Bill has to be revised in a way more suitable and then it has to go through various processes in the Department. All that took time and the earliest one found possible was on the 5th or the 6th January 1954 and we published it without any delay. So, the charge of delay should not be levelled against the Government. Any other charge I may accept but not that charge.

"Another point was that the Bill went too far. It was contended that it protected people who ought not to be protected. An allegation was also made that it did not protect people who ought to be protected. So there are these two extremes. In making a statute, it is not always possible to fit in everything. It is not like a tight jacket to be fitted in exactly. Legislation cannot be made exactly to the point. If this is done, there is no need for courts at all. The very fact that there are courts, lawyers arguing cases and judges giving judgment shows clearly that there is some loophole in the legislation. We have tried our best to bring within the scope of the Bill all people who deserve this help. We have tried our best to do the maximum good in that way. If some escape and if some who are not entitled to come in are included, we cannot help it. Sir, when a beneficial legislation is brought, it is in the nature of rain. When it rains, it makes no distinction between good men and bad men, those who deserve it and who do not deserve it and those who want it and those who do not want it.

[11th January 1954] [Sri M. A. Manickavelu Naicker]

A beneficial legislation is also like that. It is expected to do good for those to whom it is intended. But, if it causes some hardship and inconvenience to certain others, we cannot help it. In legal drafting, we shall try as far as possible to bring the desired people within the scope of the Bill.

"Now, we have met one point, viz., the exclusion of rich people, by the amendment that was suggested by the Hon. Chief Minister. By introducing a clause that income-tax assesses will be beyond the purview of this Act, we have done a good deal. Because, that will cover many cases. Big mirasdars and businessmen who may now come within the scope of the Bill, will be excluded. If some mirasdars escape, it does not matter. After all, mirasdars have also got to collect money from the tenant. As it now stands, they cannot collect the money from the tenant. So they are also hit. The idea of some people seems to be that the mirasdars should be hit somehow or other. They are also hit by this particular legislation. They cannot collect the money from the ryots below them. So, let those hon. Members have the satisfaction that the mirasdars are also affected by this legislation.

"Sir, some of the lawyer Members have suggested that the 'stay' should apply only to execution and not to suits. They said there would be accumulation of work and that soon after one year, the courts will find it very difficult to cope with the work. My answer to those friends is this. I know these courts. I was also a practising lawyer once and I know what is taking place in a court. The Judges generally take simple cases and they try to postpone very complicated cases, like suits relating to titles, etc., as far as possible. This will give an opportunity to the courts, when they have no work, to take up such cases and clear off the arrears. The lawyer friends also will have good work then."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"And big fees also." (Laughter.)

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"So, let it not be complained that the courts will come to a standstill.

"As regards the point, as to why we gave this stay of suits, it was clearly explained. We wanted that the ryots should not be embarrassed. The very fact that there is a suit against him terrifies many a ryot. When I say this, I am not referring to the court-bird variety. I only refer to the ordinary variety of ryots, who are very much afraid of suits. I know very many ryots do not go to a court; they would rather prefer to prostrate before the creditor and get time to repay the money than face court proceedings. For such people, the very notice of a suit will be a great embarrassment and will put them out of sorts. Members know the difficulties of these poor ryots. The ryot has to come from a far off place. When he comes to the lawyer's house, the lawyer will not be found and only the clerk will be available. When he comes a second time, he will find the lawyer, but not the clerk. When both the lawyer and the clerk are available, the lawyer may be engaged in some other work. In this manner, the poor ryots are likely to be put to embarrassment in many ways. We only want to avoid such embarrassments to the ryot. That is all.

“ It was suggested by some hon. Member that the collection has to be done in three instalments. It is a matter of detail whether it should be in one instalment or three instalments. That has got to be discussed and we shall see that later on.

“ Some hon. Members said that takkavi loans and other Government loans should also come under this Bill and the ryots have to be given protection from these loans also. Yes, it will be a good thing. Even if the whole amount, I mean all the loans are wiped off—I am saying this only for argument—it will be a better thing. But, it is not possible to do so. The Government are like parents to the ryots. They know when to do good for the ryots. They know when to give tax exemption. As a matter of fact, during the period of famine and distress, the Government granted so many remissions. In such times, the Government will certainly come to the rescue of these poor ryots. Hon. Member Sri Raja Chidambaram spoke on takkavi loans and well subsidies. He also gave a petition to me a few days back and I took action on it immediately. In dry areas which had experienced drought continuously and where distress and famine were prevalent, we have asked the Collector to postpone the collection of these loans. In such cases, we do interfere and come to the rescue of the ryots. So, people need not be afraid of the Government. There is always difference between an ordinary creditor and a ‘Government creditor.’ That is all what I want to make out.

“ Sir, I think the hon. Member Sri Manali Kandasamy welcomed this Bill. But, he said that this does not go far enough, there was no use in postponing the payment of arrears for one year, and the whole thing must be wiped out. His speech amounted to that. I want to make the position clear. Let no impression be created that as a result of agitation or otherwise, the Government will be prepared to wipe off these debts. That is not going to happen. I think that has been made very clear. Hon. Members have pointed out that rural credit was in danger, the ryots were not able to get any loan because of the declaration of a moratorium and because of the fear that it was likely to be extended by another two or three years and it was also likely that the whole thing would be wiped out. Let me say here and now that no such thing will happen. The Government are not going to do it, as it will not be in the interests of the ryots themselves. We want that rural credit should be readily available for the ryots. Already, sufficient money is not available to them and we have taken various steps to make money easily available for the ryots. Anyway, that is a bigger question which has to be considered at the All-India level in Delhi. So, we need not go into it just now. Let nobody be under the impression that this is only the first instalment of a possible or probable measure for wiping off the arrears at a later stage. It would be bad for the ryots. I want that people should not have this impression.

“ Hon. Member Sri Karuthiruman and some others advanced the plea for a crop insurance scheme. As I said in the beginning, this is a small, temporary Bill which declares a moratorium for one year. It is not quite right to bring all these bigger questions within the scope of this small Bill which has a very limited objective. All these bigger questions have to be considered at the proper time.

“ My lawyer friend behind who comes from the same district as I do, has given certain suggestions. If I were to adopt Mr. Panchaksharam Chettiar's suggestions, it will involve an elaborate enquiry. We are not going to have an inquisitorial enquiry to go into each and every question. The idea is to avoid such enquiry as far as possible, so that the relief can be given to the ryots easily and there may not be any doubts about it. That is why we are not able to accept certain amendments relating to banks, big businessmen and so on. If we were to accept such suggestions and amendments, it will considerably delay matters. Such delays will of course be welcomed by one section of people who will have a very good crop. But that will defeat the very object of this Bill. I see the force of some of the amendments. But I must tell the hon. Members that it is not humanly or legally possible to fit in everything. There will be some loophole and we cannot help it.

(At this stage, Mr. Speaker occupied the Chair.)

“ Let us view it in an overall way and see how far it will justify itself. Sir, it is one of the clock. All hon. Members are hungry and I am also hungry. We shall now pass the motion and meet in the afternoon to take up the Bill clause by clause. I would request the hon. Mover of the amendment to refer the Bill to a Select Committee to withdraw it.”

MR. SPEAKER:—“ I wish to know whether Mr. Vinayakam withdraws his motion.”

SRI K. VINAYAKAM:—“ Sir, before we come to any decision on the motion, I have got to explain a few points. It is I that moved that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee. After me, a sufficient number of Members have spoken in support of the Motion, but from other points of view than mine. A few lawyers and a few mirasdars—to quote the language of the Minister in charge of the Bill—have also adduced several reasons why it should go before a Select Committee. Here, I would like to clear a misapprehension as Dr. Menon put it. I am not a practising lawyer. I am not interested in legal quibblings that this Bill may give rise to. It is also very difficult to trap me and, therefore, it is not that lawyers tempted me to table these amendments. I want to make the Bill a perfect one. This is a haphazard Bill.

[Sri K. Vinayakam] [11th January 1954]

This is a Bill which seeks to give protection to agriculturists, but does not satisfy the needs felt in the villages. I would ask the Minister in charge to ponder over the amendments tabled by me. I wanted that the term 'agriculturists' must be defined properly so that an absentee landlord may not get the benefit of the Bill. And now the Government have come forward with a slight modification of the definition exempting agriculturists who are income-tax assesseees. What about agriculturists who pay property tax, house tax, etc.? If the Government had come forward with a little more clarification, I would have been satisfied. Then, Sir, there is another factor to be considered. There are certain institutions in Madras giving loans to the residents of Madras on house property and the like. Such kind of institutions should not be brought within the scope of the Bill simply because the men who run for the aid of such banks are agriculturists. The Government are interested in safeguarding the finances of the State and co-operative institutions. What about 'Nidis' which have advanced loans on property in Madras? Their transactions will come to a standstill if the Bill applies to them. Such 'Nidis' should also be exempted. Otherwise rural credit will go."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"Sir, my experience of discussions and debates is that after the Minister in charge replies, there will be no speech by any hon. Member because there is no opportunity for the Minister to reply again."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The Mover has got a right of reply. After he replies, I will ask the Minister to reply again."

SRI K. VINAYAKAM:—"I am very glad, Sir, that the past experience of the Minister has not stood him all right on this occasion. (Laughter.) Sir, I was harping on the point that the Government should not only come forward to help the agriculturists in a negative way but that they should be provided all facilities on the positive side."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member has the right of reply but he should be brief." (Laughter.)

SRI K. VINAYAKAM:—"Agriculturists are now at the mercy of usurious money-lenders who adopt all sorts of questionable methods in the matter of lending money to them. These are all the points which I want a Select Committee to consider. The Hon. the Chief Minister says that if we obstruct the passage of this Bill to-day, he will go about the country and tell the people: 'They are against giving aid to agriculturists'. Sir, we want to give the agriculturists better facilities. We want to be more helpful to them than the Government are. The Government should not create a harvest for the lawyers to reap, as the Hon. the Minister for Revenue said. If you have a definition like the one contained in the Bill, you will only be encouraging intelligent lawyers to make a harvest out of the Bill. These are the points which I want to be clarified and, therefore,

[11th January 1954] [Sri K. Vinayakam]

I want the Bill to go before a Select Committee. I am not satisfied with the abundance of reasons with which he tried to defend his Bill. Therefore, it should go before a Select Committee."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"My reply is I oppose the Motion."

SRI K. VINAYAKAM:—"I regret my inability to withdraw the motion."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

'That the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill, 1954, be referred to a Select Committee.'"

The motion was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

'That the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill, 1954, be circulated for eliciting public opinion.'"

The motion was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER:—"I will now put the Government motion to the vote of the House. The question is—

'That the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill, 1954, be taken into consideration at once.'"

The motion was put and carried.

MR. SPEAKER:—"I adjourn the House to meet again at 3 p.m."

The House then rose for lunch.

(After lunch—3 p.m.)

MR. SPEAKER:—"We shall now take up the consideration of the Bill clause by clause."

Clause 3.

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"Sir, I move—

'In clause 3 add the following proviso to Explanation II—

"Provided that a suit for possession of land shall not be deemed to be a suit for recovery of a debt by reason merely of mesne profits being also prayed for in such suit." "

MR. SPEAKER:—"Motion moved—

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—" I hope the hon. Member will not mind my saying that there is one difficulty in regard to all the amendments now moved. If you make a provision in favour of one joint debtor and at the same time another joint debtor is excluded, the result will be that a surety may be proceeded against and the principal debtor cannot be proceeded against. Again we cannot make a difference between one kind of creditor and another, one creditor can proceed against a debtor and dispose or bring to sale all the latter's property, thereby ruining the other creditor. That is the difficulty in respect of these amendments. The hon. Member Mr. Swayamparakasam being a lawyer ought to know this."

[Sri S. Ramalingam] [11th January 1954]

திட்டவட்டமாக ஒரு வருஷத்திற்கு மேல் ஒத்தி வைக்கப்படும் என்று இல்லாமல் இருக்கிறது. இப்பொழுது ஒரு வருஷம் மறை பெய்திருக்கிறது. இதைத் தொடர்ந்து மறை பெய்யுமோ என்னமோ தெரியாது. அதனால் பின்னடி நன்மை ஏற்படுமோ என்னமோ என்பதற்காகத் தான் இந்த திருத்தம் கொடுக்கப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. இந்த திருத்தம் என்ன வென்றால் இந்த சட்ட சபையில் ஒரு தீர்மானம் கொண்டு வந்து அதன் மூலமாக எவ்வளவு காலத்திற்கு இந்த மாதிரியான கடனை ஒத்தி வைக்க வேண்டும் என்று தீர்மானிக்கப்படுகின்றதோ அவ்வளவு காலத்திற்கு ஒத்தி வைப்பதற்கு இடம் இருக்க வேண்டும் என்பதற்காகத் தான் இந்த திருத்தம் கொண்டு வரப்பட்டிருக்கிறது.

‘Explanation III.—In any suit or proceeding or application of the nature mentioned in Section 3, any agriculturist may be represented by an agent authorized in writing other than a Pleader or an Advocate only to prove whether such person is an agriculturist or not.’

கனம் ராஜாஜி விரும்புவது போல் விவசாயிகளுக்கு அதிகப்படியான செலவைக் கொடுக்கக் கூடாது. மேலும் விவசாயிகளை கோர்ட்டு விவகாரங்களில் இழுத்து விடக் கூடாது என்பதற்காகத் தான் இந்த திருத்தம் கொண்டு வரப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. இவ்விதம் இல்லாமல் போனால் இந்த சட்டம் கொண்டு வந்ததன் நோக்கம் நிறைவேறாமல் போய் விடும். எவன் கடன் கொடுக்க வேண்டுமோ அவன் விவசாயி இல்லை என்று மனுப் போடுவதற்கு முடியும். இந்தக் கேஸில் கோர்ட்டுக்குச் சென்று அதை ஆட்சேபினை செய்து தான் ஒரு விவசாயி என்று ரூஜா பண்ணுவதற்கு சட்ட வரம்பு இருக்கிறது. அதற்கு ஒரு வக்கீலை வைத்துக்கொண்டு அந்த வக்கீலின் மூலமாக அந்த கேசை நடத்தித்தான் ரூஜாப்பிக்க முடியும். இந்த திருத்தத்தை நாம் ஒப்புக்கொண்டால் அந்த மாதிரி வக்கீல் வேண்டியது இல்லை. ஒரு விவசாயி தான் ஒரு விவசாயி என்று வக்கீல் வைக்காமல் தன் எஜெண்ட் மூலமாக நிரூபிக்கமுடியும். இந்தத் திருத்தத்தைக் கொண்டு வருவதனால் வக்கீல்களுடைய வருமானத்தை குறைக்க வேண்டும் என்ற நோக்கம் எனக்கு இல்லை. அங்கு இருக்கக் கூடிய ஒரு விவசாயி தான் ஒரு விவசாயி என்று நிரூபிப்பதற்கு ஒரு எஜெண்ட் மூலமாகவோ அல்லது தானாக நேராகச் சென்று எழுத்து மூலமாக எழுதிக் கொடுத்து அதன் மூலம்தான் ஒரு விவசாயி என்று நிரூபிப்பதற்கு வசதி செய்து கொடுக்கவேண்டும் என்பதற்காகத் தான் இந்த திருத்தம் கொடுக்கப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. இந்த திருத்தங்கள் ரொம்பவும் நியாயமானது. இதைப்பற்றி பொது விவாதத்தில் கூட இந்தப் பக்கத்தில் அதைப்பற்றி பிரதிபலித்திருக்கிறார்கள். சர்க்கார் இவைகளை ஏற்றுக் கொள்ள வேண்டும் என்று கேட்டுக்கொண்டு என்னுடைய உரையை இத்துடன் முடித்துக் கொள்ளுகிறேன்.”

SRI S. RAMASWAMI NAIDU :—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have nothing particular. I wanted to say that the time at our disposal is short and the number of amendments are also very large. Can we not take all the amendments as moved?”

நாட்டில் நியாய ஸ்தலங்கள் வருஷத்தில் 180 நாட்கள் வேலை செய்கின்றன. மீதி நாட்களில் இதைப் போன்ற ஒரு சட்டம் இருந்தாலும் இல்லாவிட்டாலும் விவசாயி மீது எந்தவித நடவடிக்கையும் எடுக்க முடியாது இருக்கிறது. ஆகவே, உண்மையாக நீங்கள் ஒரு வருஷகாலத்திற்கு இந்தச் சலுகையை அளிக்கவேண்டுமானால், ஏற்கனவே இருக்கக்கூடிய சட்ட திட்டங்களில் 180 நாட்களுக்குச் சலுகை இருக்கிறது. 180 நாட்களுக்கு நீடித்துக் கொடுப்பதற்கு உங்கள் சட்டத்தை இருக்கிறது. நீடிக்க வேண்டும் என்பது உட்கருத்து. அரசாங்கம் எந்தக் காரணத்திற்காக இதைக் கொண்டு வந்திருக்கிறதோ, அதே காரணத்திற்காகத்தான் நான் இந்தத் திருத்தத்தை பிரேரிப்பதற்கு முன் வந்திருக்கின்றேன். அரசாங்கம் இதற்கு எந்த விதமான ஆட்சேபணையும் சொல்லமாட்டார்கள் என்று நினைத்து என்னுடைய பேச்சை முடித்துக்கொள்ளுகின்றேன்.”

SRI N. K. PALANISAMI :—“கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, பொதுவாக இந்தச் சட்டத்தில் டிசம்பர் முதல் டிசம்பர் வரையில் என்று இருக்கிறது. எந்த அடிப்படையில் டிசம்பருக்கு டிசம்பர் என்று கணக்கிட இருக்கிறார்கள் என்று தெரியவில்லை. உதாரணமாக, தஞ்சாவூர் பண்ணையார் பாதுகாப்புச் சட்டத்தில் இரண்டாவது வியாக்கியானத்தில் (Definition இல்) ‘Agricultural year commences on the 1st day of May’ என்று சொல்லப்பட்டிருக்கிறது. சாதாரணமாக ஒரு விவசாயிக்கு அறுவடை சமயம் புஞ்சைப் பிரதேசங்களில் ஏப்ரல் முதல் மே என்று இருக்கிறது. அதே அறுவடை பாக்கி டெல்டா பிரதேசங்களில் நவம்பர் முதல் டிசம்பர் என்று இருக்கிறது. இந்தச் சட்டத்தின் பிரகாரம் ஒரு வருஷ தவணை தீர்ந்தவுடன் நிலச்சுவான்தார்களின் காலில் விழ வேண்டிய நிலையில் விவசாயிகள் இருக்கிறார்கள். அந்தச் சமயத்தில் 1,500 ரூபாய்க்கு பாண்டு எழுதிக் கொடுத்தால்தான், கையில் 1,000 ரூபாய் விவசாயிகளுக்கு கடன் கிடைக்கிறது. அந்த சமயத்தில் உடனடியாக அடுத்த டிசம்பர் வரும்போது அந்த விவசாயியிடம் பணம் இருக்காது. ரூ. 1,500-க்கு வட்டியும் போட்டு, கடன் கொடுத்தவன் நிலத்தை ஜப்தி செய்ய முற்படுகிறான். டிசம்பருக்கு டிசம்பர் என்று இருக்கிறதே அது எந்த அடிப்படை என்று தெரியவில்லை. தஞ்சாவூர் பண்ணையார் பாதுகாப்புச் சட்டத்தில் விவசாய வருஷம் என்பது மே மாதம் என்று இருக்கிறது. அதுதான் அறுவடை சமயம். ஆகையால், குறைந்தது மே மாதம் வரை இதை ‘extend’ பண்ணவேண்டுமென்று வற்புறுத்துகின்றேன்.”

SRI K. T. RAJU :—“கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, கனம் அங்கத்தினர் ஸ்ரீ ராமலிங்கம் அவர்கள் கொண்டு வந்திருக்கிற திருத்தத்தை ஆதரிக்கிறேன். ஒரு வருஷம் என்பது மசோதாவின் நோக்கம். மூன்று வருஷம் என்று கனம் அங்கத்தினர் ராமலிங்கம் அவர்களின் திருத்தம் கோருகிறது.

“கிராமங்களில் புரோநோட்டு எழுதிக் கொடுப்பது என்பது கடன் வாங்கிய தொகைக்கு அல்ல. 100 ரூபாய் கடன் வாங்கினால், ரூ. 200-க்கு எழுதிக் கொடுத்தால்தான் பணம் கொடுக்கிறார்கள். கோர்ட்டிலே கேஸ் போடும் போது எழுதிக் கொடுத்த 200 ரூபாய்க்கு தான் போடுகிறார்கள்.

“ஒரு வருஷத்திற்கு இந்த மசோதா தவணை அளித்திருக்கிறது. எப்பொழுது அந்தத் தேதி தீரும், எப்பொழுது கோர்ட்டிலே கேஸ் போடலாம் என்று எதிர்பார்த்துக் கொண்டிருப்பார்கள் கடன் கொடுத்தவர்களெல்லாம். ஒரு வருஷம் என்பது குறுகிய காலம். ஒரு வருஷம் முடிந்தவுடன் பழையபடி கடன் கொடுத்தவர்கள் விவசாயிகளை நெறுக்கிப் பணத்தைப் பெறக்கூடிய நிலைமை ஏற்படும். குறைந்தபட்சம் மூன்று வருஷ அவகாசம் இருந்தால்தான் நல்லது.

“இந்த சட்டமானது வந்ததற்குப் பிறகு இடைக் காலத்தில் விவசாயிகளெல்லாம் கடன் வாங்க முடியாமல் கஷ்டப்படுகிறார்கள். ஆயிரக்கணக்கான விவசாயிகள் கடன் தொகையைவிட இரண்டு மூன்று மடங்குக்கு புரோநோட்டு எழுதிக்கொடுத்து கடன் வாங்கிக்கொண்டிருக்கிறார்களென்பதை இந்தச் சபையின் ஞாபகத்திற்குக் கொண்டுவருகின்றேன். அதற்

காக ஒரு கமிட்டியை ஏற்படுத்தி விசாரணை செய்யவேண்டும். அதற்கென ஒரு சட்டம் கொண்டுவர வேண்டியது அவசியம். எழுதிக் கொடுத்த பணத்தைப் பாதி ரத்து செய்துவிடவேண்டும். அப்பொழுதுதான் ஏழை விவசாயிகள் உருப்படியாக வாழ முடியும்.

“கடன் நிவாரணச் சட்டம் பல வருஷங்களுக்கு முன் வந்த போது லேவாதேவிக்காரர்கள் இந்த முறையைக் கையாண்டு கொண்டிருந்தார்கள். 100 ரூபாய்க்கு பதிலாக 200 ரூபாய்க்கு புரோதோட்டு வாங்கும் முறை சட்டப் பூர்வமாக நடந்திருக்கிறது. பணம் கொடுக்காவிட்டால், எழுதிக்கொடுத்த தொகைக்கு கோர்ட்டில் கேஸ் போட்டு வசூல் செய்துவிடுகிறார்கள். விவசாயிகளுக்குப் பணம் கிடைக்காத காரணத்தினால் அவர்கள் இந்த மாதிரி அதிகத் தொகைக்கு எழுதிக்கொடுக்க வேண்டிய நிர்ப்பந்த நிலையில் இருக்கிறார்கள். ஒரு வருஷ தவணை என்பது வெகு குறுகிய காலமாக இருக்கிறது. ஒரு வருஷம் எப்பொழுது முடியுமோ என்று காத்துக் கொண்டிருந்து கடன்காரர்கள் விவசாயிகளை நெறுக்குமபடியான நிலைமை ஏற்படும். இந்த மசோதாவை விவசாயிகளுடைய நன்மைக்காகக் கொண்டு வந்திருக்கிறோம் என்பது உண்மையானால், இந்த சட்டத்தை மூன்று வருஷத்திற்கு நீடிக்கவேண்டும். அப்பொழுது தான் கடன் பட்ட ஏழை விவசாயிகளுக்கு உண்மையாகவே ஓரளவுக்கு நன்மை செய்ததாக ஏற்படும். அதன்படி இந்தச் சட்டத்தில் திருத்தம் செய்யப்பட வேண்டுமென்று கேட்டுக் கொள்ளுகின்றேன். அந்த அடிப்படையிலே கனம் அங்கத்தினர் ஸ்ரீ ராமலிங்கம் அவர்கள் திருத்தம் கொண்டு வந்திருப்பதனால், அந்தத் திருத்தத்தை நான் ஆதரிக்கின்றேன். கனம் அமைச்சர் அவர்கள் இந்த விஷயத்தில் கவனம் செலுத்த வேண்டுமென்றும் கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகின்றேன்.”

SRI K. ARANGANATHAN :—“கனம் அவைத்தலைவர் அவர்களே, தற்காலிகமாக விவசாயிகளுக்கு கடன் தொல்லையிலிருந்து நிவாரணம் அளிக்கக்கூடிய ஒரு மசோதாவை அரசாங்கம் கொண்டுவந்திருப்பதை நான் வரவேற்கின்றேன். விவசாயிகள் கடன்பட்டிருக்கிறார்கள். அதனால் அவர்களுக்கு தொல்லைகள் அதிகமாக ஏற்பட்டிருக்கிறது. அவர்களுக்கு நிவாரணம் அளிக்கவேண்டுமென்ற எண்ணத்தைக்கொண்டு தான் அரசாங்கம் இந்த மசோதாவைக் கொண்டு வந்திருக்கிறது. நாங்களும் அப்படித்தான் நினைக்கிறோம். மற்றவர்களும் நினைக்கிறார்கள். 1944-ம் வருஷத்திலிருந்து தென்னாற்காடு வடாற்காடு மாவட்டங்களில் பருவ மழை தவறிவிட்டது”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI :—“இதெல்லாம் காலையிலேயே பேசியாய்விட்டதே !”

SRI K. ARANGANATHAN :—“ஒவ்வொரு ஆண்டிலும் விவசாயிகள் நஷ்டம் அடைந்துகொண்டு வந்திருக்கிறார்கள். நஞ்சைப் பயிரில் ஏக்கருக்கு ரூ. 180 முதல் ரூ. 200 வரையிலும், புஞ்சைப் பயிரில் ரூ. 40 முதல் 60 வரையிலும் விவசாயிகள் நஷ்டம் அடைந்திருக்கிறார்கள். சென்ற 9 ஆண்டுகளுக்கு கணக்கிட்டுப் பார்த்தால் விவசாயிகள் சராசரி ரூ. 2,000 வரையில் நஷ்டம் அடைந்திருக்கிறார்கள். சமீபத்தில் மழை பெய்த காரணத்தால் ஏதோ நல்ல பலன் கிடைக்குமென்று எதிர்பார்த்துக்கொண்டிருந்த காலத்தில், பயிர்கள் பூச்சிகளால் பாதிக்கப்பட்டுவிட்டன. ஆகவே கொஞ்ச நஞ்சும் இருந்த நம்பிக்கையையும் அவர்கள் இழந்திருக்கிறார்கள். இந்த சந்தர்ப்பத்தில் இந்த அவசரச் சட்டம் வந்ததை வரவேற்கின்றோம். ஆனால், ஒரு ஆண்டு தவணை மட்டும் கொடுத்திருப்பது போதாது. அதைக் கண்டு நாங்கள் வருந்துகிறோம். குறைந்தபட்சம் மூன்று ஆண்டுகளுக்கு நிவாரணம் அளிக்கக்கூடிய முறையில் இந்தச் சட்டத்தைத் திருத்தியமைக்க வேண்டுமென்று கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகின்றேன். ஸ்ரீ ராமலிங்கம் அவர்கள் கொண்டுவந்த திருத்தப் பிரேரணையை நான் வரவேற்கின்றேன்.”

SRI K. P. GOPALAN :—“Sir, my amendment is a very simple one. If ‘agriculturist’ alone is added, agricultural labourers would be left out. The Hon. Minister's explanation did not deal with agricultural labourers. There are thousands of agricultural labourers. They are really landless poor people and their condition is a miserable one. If we go into the history of these people, we will know that they owned lands once, but they have become landless now, and they are labourers. Apart from that, because of the drought, famine and flood, these people have incurred heavy debts. If this Bill is not going to benefit them, there is no hope for them. Our Chief Minister claims that he is championing the cause of the poor people. Everybody will praise that. (Interruption by Chief Minister: ‘Say, accept that’.) If we forget agricultural labourers, we will not be doing good to the poor. I request the Hon. Chief Minister to include agricultural labourers also. (The Hon. Chief Minister was heard to say: ‘We cannot have general insolvency. Credit will be ruined.’) I understand that the landlords will be benefited by this Bill; but I do not know why the poor agricultural labourers should not be benefited.”

SRI P. VENKATESHA SHOLAGAR :—“கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, தோழர் ராமலிங்கம் அவர்கள் கொண்டுவந்திருக்கும் திருத்தத்தை நான் ஆதரிக்கும் முறையில் சில வார்த்தைகள் சொல்ல விரும்புகிறேன். சென்ற வருஷம் கொண்டுவந்த சட்டத்தில் விவசாயிகளுக்கு சரியான பாதுகாப்பு அளிக்கப்படவில்லை. ஏழை விவசாயிகள் சென்ற வருஷம் கொடுக்க வேண்டிய பாக்கியை இன்னும் கொடுக்க முடியாத நிலையில் இருக்கிறார்கள். இந்தக் கடன் தொகையை விவசாயிகளிடமிருந்து வசூல் செய்ய பல பேர்களுக்கு கோர்ட்டுகளில் உத்திரவு இருக்கிறது. இன்னும் விவசாயிகளிடமிருந்து கடன் வசூல் செய்யவும் அவர்களை வெளியேற்றவும் கோர்ட்டுறாலில் உத்திரவு பெருவதற்கு பலர் காத்துக் கொண்டிருக்கிறார்கள். சென்ற வருஷம் கொடுக்க வேண்டிய கடனை ஒரு வருஷம் தள்ளிக்கொடுக்கவேண்டுமென்றிருக்கிறது. அப்படி இருந்தும் சிலர் மட்டும் கொடுக்கவேண்டிய அவசியம் இருக்கிறது. இந்த சட்டமும் யாவருக்கும் பயன்படவேண்டுமானால் ரெவன்யூ சிவில் கோர்ட்டுகளில் தாவா இருந்தாலும் அவர்களை கட்டுப்படுத்தாது என்று இருக்கவேண்டும் என்று கேட்டுக் கொள்கிறேன். கோர்ட்டுகளில் வக்கீல்களை வாதிப்பதற்கு உபயோகப்படுத்துகிறார்கள். விவசாயிகளிடம் சட்டத்தை விளம்பரம் செய்யாததால் ஜனங்கள் சரியாக இதைப் புரிந்துகொள்ளவில்லை. இதனால் பல அதிகாரிகள் நியாயத்தைப்பார்க்காமல் சட்டத்தைப் பார்த்துக்கொண்டு பலரை நிலத்திலிருந்து வெளியேற்ற திட்டமிடும் ஏற்பாடு செய்கின்றனர்; பல ஏழை விவசாயிகளை வெளியேற்றியுமிருக்கிறார்கள். இப்படித் தவறாகப் பட்டிக்கொண்டிருக்கிற விவசாயிகளுக்கு நிவாரணம் அளிக்கவேண்டுமென்பதற்காகத்தான் இந்தத் திருத்தத்தைக் கொடுக்கிறோம்.

“குத்தகை பாக்கிக்காக பல்லாயிரக்கணக்கான விவசாயிகள் அப்புறப்படுத்தப்பட்டிருக்கிறார்கள். மேலும் அவர்கள் தாங்கள் கட்டவேண்டிய கடன் தொகையைக் கட்டத் தவறுவதால் அடிக்கடி கோர்ட்டுகளுக்கு இழுக்கப்படுகிறார்கள். சட்டநுணுக்கம் தெரியாததால் அவர்கள் வக்கீல்களின் உதவியை நாடுகிறார்கள். கோர்ட்டில் தான் ஒரு விவசாயி என்று நினைப்பதற்கு ஒரு பிரதிநிதி மூலமாகவோ அல்லது தானாகவோ நேரில் சென்று எழுத்து மூலமாக எழுதிக்கொடுத்து அதன் மூலம் தான் ஒரு விவசாயி என்று நினைப்பதற்கு வசதி செய்துக் கொடுக்க வேண்டும். இதற்காக விவசாயிகள் வக்கீல் ஒத்தாசைக் கொண்டு பேசாமல் இருந்தால் நலமாக இருக்கும். தஞ்சை சட்டத்தில் இவ்விதம் இருப்பதால் என்றும் பாதகமில்லை. ஆகையால் விவசாயிகளுக்கு அதிக கஷ்டமோ பண நஷ்டமோ ஏற்படாது. இதனால் பல செளகர்யங்கள் ஏற்படு மென்று

[Sri P. Venkatesha Sholagar] [11th January 1954]

இந்தச் சந்தர்ப்பத்தில் சொல்ல விரும்புகின்றேன். சர்க்கார் இதை ஏற்றுக் கொள்ளும்படியாகக் கேட்டுக்கொண்டு இதை நான் வற்புறுத்துகிறேன். இதனால் ஜனங்களுக்கும் சர்க்காருக்கும் எவ்வித நஷ்டமும் ஏற்படாது.”

* SRI P. S. KRISHNASWAMI AYYANGAR:—“ Sir, I am sorry, I was not present when my name was called. I apologise to the Speaker. I may be permitted to move my amendment. Both the amendments Nos. 80 and 81 relate to clause 3 and I will move them together. I beg to move—

‘ For paragraph 1, substitute the following :—

“ Bar of suits and applications—Before the expiry of a year from the date of commencement of this Act, the following legal proceedings cannot be instituted :—

- (1) suits for recovery of debts from agriculturists,
- (2) applications for the execution of decrees for payment of moneys passed in suits for recovery of debts from agriculturists,
- (3) insolvency proceedings against agriculturists, and
- (4) suits for ejectment of agriculturists from their leaseholds on the ground of forfeiture for non-payment of rent. ”

Below Explanation II add the following explanation :—

“ Explanation III.—A suit shall not be deemed to be a suit for recovery of a debt merely by reason of a prayer in the plaint for award of costs to the plaintiff.”

“ With regard to stay of suits, there may be a case where there may be a lease deed wherein there may be a provision for the landlord or lessor to take possession of the property if default is made in the payment of rent within the stipulated time. In such a case, the landlord may file a suit for ejecting the tenant and in such a suit, the tenant will be relieved against ejectment if he pays arrears of rent into the Court. Therefore, in such a suit, he will be indirectly compelled or forced to deposit the arrears of rent. Thus, though outwardly the suit may be for ejectment, it will be a suit for recovery of rent actually. For unless he deposits the rent into Court, he will not be permitted to remain on the land. He will be dispossessed of the land by means of a decree. There is no provision to prevent such a suit.

“ Again, in the case of insolvency proceedings, when once the insolvency petition is filed by the creditor, the entire property of the insolvent vests in the Official Receiver or Official Assignee. In that case, he is deprived of his property, which means he has necessarily to pay the debts. Therefore, insolvency proceedings also will have to be included in the category of proceedings that will have to be eschewed.

“ Now a Government amendment has been brought in wherein it is said that a suit for possession of land will not be a suit for recovery of debt also merely by reason of the fact that there is a prayer added in the plaint for recovery of mesne profit. So a prayer for recovery of mesne profits will not make a suit for possession of a suit for recovery of rent; but, some people even argue that if there is a prayer for award of costs, it should be considered a suit for recovery of money. Therefore, I have suggested an amendment that ‘ a suit shall not be deemed to be a suit for recovery of debt merely by reason of a prayer in the plaint for award of costs to the plaintiffs’. If Government accept this, it may be incorporated in the respective clause.”

The motion was duly seconded.

MR. SPEAKER:—“ Motion moved—

‘ For paragraph 1, substitute the following :—

“ Bar of suit and applications—Before the expiry of a year from the date of commencement of this Act, the following legal proceedings cannot be instituted :—

- (1) suits for recovery of debts from agriculturists,
- (2) applications for the execution of decrees for payment of moneys passed in suits for recovery of debts from agriculturists,
- (3) insolvency proceedings against agriculturists, and
- (4) suits for ejectment of agriculturists from their leaseholds on the ground of forfeiture for non-payment of rent.”

and below Explanation II, add the following Explanation :—

“ Explanation III.—A suit shall not be deemed to be a suit for recovery of a debt merely by reason of a prayer in the plaint for award of costs to the plaintiff.”

SRI S. PANCHAKSHARAM:—“ Sir, the original clause as it stands proposes to bar or ban suits even against non-agriculturists. I do not think Government want to give protection to non-agriculturists. If the creditor is not able to recover from an agriculturist why should he be banned from filing a suit against the non-agriculturist? I can understand if Government wants that after obtaining a decree and if the amount is not realised from the non-agriculturist-debtor, the execution may be stayed for at least one year and further, allowed to be taken after the expiry of the said period. Therefore, my object is that non-agriculturist debtors should not be given protection under this clause.

“ My next amendment is ‘ before the expiry of the year 1954’. The span of life of the Bill is one year. It will be 15th January or so before it comes into effect. There may be more definiteness if we stipulate the exact period.

“ As for my amendment to the Explanation, the object of the Bill is to give protection for agriculturist-debtors, that is, if a creditor wants to file a suit for recovery of moneys due to him, it is all right to prevent that. But why should all suits where action against an agriculturist, lies be banned? Supposing there is damage to my property by a trespasser or my goods are carried away. Such a person is protected by the comprehensive definition of the word 'debt.' Even such cases are sought to be banned by this Bill within the four corners of the definition of the word 'debt'. I want the Government to permit all other suits and other reliefs."

SRI S. S. SRI E. L. RAGHAVA MUDALIAR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, one of my amendments proposes that this Act should be in force for three years. But I do not plead that the repayment of the whole debt should be postponed for three years. In another amendment, I have proposed that the debts stayed under this Act should be made repayable in three annual equal instalments and that a debtor defaulting to pay any one instalment shall not be entitled to stay or relief under this Act. If the moratorium is for one year, creditors will rush to courts and resort to coercive processes immediately at the end of the year. The instalment system that I have proposed will make repayment easy, especially when no alternative machinery to private money-lenders is provided. The acceptance of my amendments will make the relief real and effective."

அவசரச்சட்டம் பிரகடனம் செய்யப்பட்டதைக் கேட்டு இந்த மாகாணத்தில் கடன் பட்டுள்ள லட்சக்கணக்கான விவசாயிகள் சந்தோஷமடைந்தார்கள். தங்களுடைய கடனுக்கு பயன் உள்ள நிவாரணம் கிடைக்கும் என்று எதிர்பார்க்கிறார்கள்.

"இந்தச் சட்டம் கடன் நெருக்கடியை தவிர்ப்பதாக இல்லை. கனம் அங்கத்தினர் ஸ்ரீ ராமலிங்கம் மூன்று வருடத்திற்கு கடன் வசூலை நிறுத்தி வைக்கவேண்டுமென்று கொண்டு வந்துள்ள திருத்தம் மிகவும் நியாயமானது. சபை இதை ஏற்றுக் கொள்ள வேண்டியது அவசியம்."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—

“Sir, the amendment for extending the operation of this Act to either two years or three years, or for the matter of that even the amendment for allowing repayment in three annual instalments, seems to be good on the face of it. But the amendments go against the very object of this Bill. Already Members from certain sections of the House have been complaining that rural credit has been very much disturbed and that the ryots are not able to secure money. We should not place before the ryots the temptation to put off repayment of debt by extending the period. If we extend the period, there will be a lot of difficulty; the longer the period, the more difficulty they will have in course of time. So, in the interests of the ryots themselves, it is not advisable to extend the period. This is only a moratorium, and in the very nature of it, it can only be for a short period. I have not heard of a moratorium for such a long period as three years. A moratorium is a special provision for meeting an extraordinary situation.

“One hon. Member said that there were defects in certain other Acts. This Bill is not in the nature of a General Clauses Act to rectify all the defects in other Acts. This Bill is intended to remove a particular difficulty, and it can contain references to other Acts only to the extent to which they have a bearing on this Bill. The defects in other Acts cannot be rectified by this Bill.

“It was urged that a non-agriculturist member of a family living jointly with an agriculturist member should not be allowed the relief given by this Act. If we begin to split a family, it will lead to a lot of difficulty and confusion. It does not matter even if the non-agriculturist member gets the relief. The balance of convenience is in favour of giving him also the relief than denying the relief to the agriculturist-member. If the non-agriculturist member is compelled to repay, he will apply pressure on the agriculturist-member and worry him.

“The hon. Member Sri P. S. Krishnaswami Ayyangar wanted only certain suits to be banned. He forgets that in the mufassal everybody is not as clever and as good a lawyer as he is, and on the Bench also we do not always get such clever men. So it is better to include all suits.

[11th January 1954] [Sri M. A. Manickavelu Naicker]

“One hon. Member wanted agricultural labourers also to be included for giving the benefit of this Act. That is a very big classification. The object of this Act is to give relief to those who have got an interest in land and not to bring in labourers and such others.

“Sri Raghava Mudaliar wanted that the repayment should be spread over three annual instalments. A lawyer as he is, he knows that under the Civil Procedure Code the Court allows repayment in instalments. Nowadays Courts are very liberal and there will be no difficulty.”

SRI K. VINAYAKAM:—“Arising out of the discourse of the Hon. Minister, may I point out that he must realize that Courts allow repayment in instalments only on grounds of compassion? A debtor cannot claim it as a matter of right. A Court has got the right to order repayment even in one instalment. We want a definite provision so that the benefit of this Act may be enjoyed by an agriculturist-debtor for a longer time than what is proposed.”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—“Must Sri Vinayakam always speak after Sri Manickavelu Naicker in every matter?”

MR. SPEAKER:—“The Chief Minister is asking under what rule the hon. Member is speaking. Personal explanations should be short.”

SRI K. VINAYAKAM:—“The Hon. Minister was not clear; he was elusive. Is it not for the benefit of the House that the Hon. Minister must be explicit and not evade the issue?”

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—“Sir, I have not evaded the issue. I explained so clearly as would have convinced many of the hon. Members. With your leave, Sir, I beg to move a small amendment which will meet the wishes of the hon. Member also. It reads as follows:—

“Substitute the following for the existing main clause 3:—

“No suit for the recovery of a debt shall be instituted, no application for the execution of a decree for payment of money passed in a suit for the recovery of a debt shall be made and no suit or application for the eviction of a tenant on the ground of non-payment of a debt shall be instituted or made against any agriculturist in any civil or revenue Court before the expiry of a year from the date of commencement of this Act.”

This will satisfy the hon. Member.”

[11th January 1954]

SRI C. H. KANARAN:—"On a point of order, Sir. What about agricultural labourers?"

MR. SPEAKER:—"I think the present Government amendment would satisfy the hon. Member. Motion moved—

'No suit for the recovery of a debt shall be instituted, no application for the execution of a decree for payment of money passed in a suit for the recovery of a debt shall be made and no suit or application for the eviction of a tenant on the ground of non-payment of a debt shall be instituted or made, against any agriculturist in any civil or revenue Court before the expiry of a year from the date of commencement of this Act.'

SRI C. H. KANARAN:—"It is not clear, Sir."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Is it a point of order?"

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"What is the penalty, Sir, when a member rises to point of order and does not raise it?" (Laughter.)

SRI N. K. PALANISAMI:—"கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, கனம் மந்திரி அவர்கள் பேசும்போது டிசம்பர் மாதத்தை ஆரம்ப மாதமாகக் கொண்டுவருவதாகச் சொன்னார். அவ்விதம் டிசம்பர் மாதத்தை அடிப்படையாக வைத்துக்கொள்ளுவானேன் என்று கேட்டதற்கு பதில் சொல்ல வில்லை. ஆனால் தஞ்சை பண்ணையான் பாதுகாப்பு சட்டத்தில் விவசாயி களுடைய வருஷம் மே மாதம் என்று ஒத்துக்கொண்டிருக்கிறார். அதன்படி இது ஏன் இல்லை. டிசம்பர் மாதத்தில் உண்மையாகவே விவசாயிகளிடத்தில் பணம் இருக்காது. இல்லாவிட்டால் இந்த சட்டம் ஒரு கண் துடைப்பு சட்டமாகிவிடும். ஆகவே டிசம்பர் மாதத்தை ஏன் அடிப்படையாக வைத்துக் கொண்டார்கள் என்பதற்கு பதில் சொல்லவேண்டும்."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"We are quite prepared to say that the debtor should pay off this May as soon as the harvest is over. We have extended the time so that they may dispose of their produce and pay up. It is rounded off in a year."

The following amendments of Sri P. S. Krishnaswami Ayyangar were, by leave, withdrawn:—

"For paragraph 1, substitute the following:—

'Bar of suits and applications.—Before the expiry of year from the date of commencement of this Act, the following legal proceedings cannot be instituted,—

- (1) suits for recovery of debts from agriculturists,
- (2) applications for the execution of decrees for payment of moneys passed in suits for recovery of debts from agriculturists,
- (3) insolvency proceedings against agriculturists, and
- (4) suits for ejectment of agriculturists from their leaseholds on the ground of forfeiture for non-payment of rent.'

[11th January 1954]

'Below Explanation II, add the following Explanation:—

"Explanation III.—A suit shall not be deemed to be a suit for recovery of a debt merely by reason of a prayer in the plaint for award of costs to the plaintiff."

The following amendments of Sri Panchaksharam were, by leave, withdrawn:—

"(1) After the words 'for the recovery of a debt shall be made' add 'Except where a debt is payable by an agriculturist jointly or jointly and severally with a non-agriculturist'.

(2) Omit the words in last line 'from the date of the commencement of this Act' and add after the words 'before the expiry of the year' the figure '1954'.

(3) For Explanation II, substitute the following:—

'Explanation II.—A suit shall not be deemed to be a suit for the recovery of a debt as defined in section 2 (c) if other reliefs are prayed in such suit and a decree shall not be deemed to be decree for payment of money unless the decree obtained is on a debt as defined in section 2 (c).'

The following amendments of Sri S. Ramalingam were, by leave, withdrawn:—

"After the words 'of a debt' occurring in line 2, insert the words 'and no application for eviction from any land for non-payment of arrears of rent which accrued before 31st March 1953.'

For the words 'civil court' occurring in line 5, substitute the words 'Revenue Court'."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

'For the words "a year", substitute the words "three years".'

The amendment was put and declared lost. A poll was demanded.

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Sir, I am making a last-minute appeal to hon. Members. It does not require too much pressure for any reasonable claim to be accepted by the Government. We have accepted many important suggestions and we are anxious that we should finish consideration of this Bill before we disperse. I hope hon. Members will not press for a division. I am not against it, but it is a waste of time."

SRI C. KANDASAMY:—"மூன்றாவது செக்ஷன் மிக பொருத்தமான பகுதி. அதாவது ஒரு வருஷம் என்று சொல்லக் கூடிய பகுதி."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Then, Sir, I have no objection. You can proceed to take a poll."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

'For the words "a year", substitute the words "three years".'

[11th January 1954]

The amendment was put and declared lost. A poll was demanded and the House divided as follows:—

MR. SPEAKER:—“ The question is—
‘ After the words “ any agriculturist ” add the words “ or a labour ”.’ ”

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER:—“ The question is—
‘ For the words “ before the expiry of a year from the date of commencement of this Act ”, substitute the words and figures “ before 31st May 1959 ”.’ ”

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER:—“ Sri K. V. Ramaswamy’s amendment is—‘ Substitute the following for “ a year ” occurring in line 5: “ five years ”.’ ”

SRI K. V. RAMASWAMY:—“ I withdraw my amendment namely:—

‘ In line 5 of clause 3 for the words “ a year,” substitute “ five years ”.’ ”

The amendment was, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

MR. SPEAKER:—“ The question is—

‘ In clause 3, after the words “ commencement of this Act ”, insert the words “ or such other period as may be resolved upon by the Legislative Assembly on a motion made in that behalf ”.’ ”

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER:—“ The question is—

‘ In Explanation I, for the words “ no suits or application of the nature . . . before the expiry of the period mentioned in this section ”, substitute the words “ suits can be filed but execution of decree that may be passed shall be taken against non-agriculturists only.”’ ”

‘ For the existing Explanation II, substitute the following:—

“ Explanation II.—In suits wherein other reliefs are coupled with payment of money, the suit can be tried and decree may be passed, but the decree can be executed only in respect of the other reliefs and not for payment of money.”’ ”

The amendments were put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER:—“ The question is—

‘ In Explanation I, omit the words “ either against the non-agriculturist or ” after the word “ made ” in the fourth line and before the word “ against ” in the fifth line.’ ”

The amendment was put and lost.

[11th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER:—"Sri S. Ramalingam's amendments are—

(1) Add at the end of clause 3, the following proviso:—

"Provided that the Government may extend the operation of this Act to such further period on a resolution being passed to that effect by the Legislative Assembly."

(2) After Explanation II, insert the following new Explanation:—

"Explanation III.—In any suit or proceeding or application of the nature mentioned in section 3, any agriculturist may be represented by an agent authorized in writing other than a Pleader or an Advocate only to prove whether such person is an agriculturist or not."

(3) For the words "a year" substitute the words "two years".

SRI S. RAMALINGAM:—"I withdraw my amendments, Sir."

The amendments were, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

The following amendment of hon. Member Sri S. S. Ramaswami Padayachi was withdrawn by leave of the House:—

"Add at the end of clause 3 the words 'and such debt shall be recovered in three equal annual instalments'."

MR. SPEAKER:—"There are three Government amendments. I am now going to put them to the vote of the House. The question is—

Substitute the following for the existing main clause 3:—

"No suit for the recovery of a debt shall be instituted, no application for the execution of a decree for payment of money passed in a suit for the recovery of a debt shall be made and no suit or application for the eviction of a tenant on the ground of non-payment of a debt shall be instituted or made, against any agriculturist in any civil or revenue court before the expiry of a year from the date of commencement of this Act."

The amendment was put and carried.

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

In clause 3, add the following proviso to Explanation II:—

"Provided that a suit for possession of land shall not be deemed to be a suit for recovery of a debt by reason merely of mesne profits being also prayed for in such suit."

The amendment was put and carried.

[11th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

Number the existing Explanations I and II as II and III and insert the following as Explanation I:—

"Explanation I.—'Suit' does not include a claim to a set off made in a suit instituted by an agriculturist."

The amendment was put and carried.

Clause 3, as amended, was put and carried.

MR. SPEAKER:—"Some hon. Members have told me that they were leaving Madras by the Cochin Express to-day which starts at about 6 o'clock. I hope we will be able to finish the business before 5-30 so that the hon. Members who have already booked their berths may catch the train in time."

Clause 4.

MR. SPEAKER:—"Motion moved—

'That clause 4 do stand part of the Bill.'"

SRI S. C. VIRUPAKSHIAH:—"Sir I move the following amendment standing in my name:—

'Add at the beginning of sub-clause (1), the following:—

'On the application of one or more defendants'."

"Sir, this is a simple amendment. Somebody should apply for such stay. Otherwise, it will not be possible for the parties to proceed in the matter. That is why I want a provision to be incorporated to the effect that one or more defendants may apply for it. I hope the Government will accept the amendment."

SRI S. PANCHAKSHARAM:—"I second the amendment, Sir."

SRI S. RAMALINGAM:—"Sir, I move the following amendment standing in my name:—

'For the existing proviso under sub-clause (1), substitute the following:—

'Provided that in regard to movable property no attachment or in case of an order of eviction of an agriculturist from land the Court shall on application by the agriculturist vacate such attachment or restore the possession of the evicted agriculturist.'"

SRI K. T. RAJU:—"I second the amendment, Sir."

SRI S. RAMASAMY NAIDU:—"Sir, I move the following amendment standing in my name:—

'In the proviso to clause 4, after the words "in regard to" and before the word "property", insert the word "movable".'

"This is a harmless amendment and I hope the Government will accept it."

[11th January 1954]

SRI N. RAMAKRISHNA AYYAR:—"I second the amendment, Sir."

SRI S. PANCHAKSHARAM:—"I move the following amendment standing in my name:—

'Omit sub-clause (2)'. "

SRI A. K. MASILAMANI CHETTIAR:—"I second the amendment, Sir."

SRI M. PALANIYANDI:—"What about my amendment for the insertion of the words 'or such other period as may be resolved upon by the Legislative Assembly on a motion made on that behalf'?"

MR. SPEAKER:—"It has already been declared lost under clause 3. So, he cannot move his amendment under this clause. It is out of order."

SRI K. C. GOPALAN UNNI:—"Sir, I move the following amendment standing in my name:—

'In the last but one line, for the words "a year" substitute the words "two years."'

SRI C. H. KANARAN:—"I second the amendment, Sir."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Clause 4 and the amendments moved by the hon. Members are now before the House for discussion."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"Sir, I accept the amendment moved by hon. Member Sri S. Ramasamy Naidu."

* SRI S. RAMALINGAM:—"கனம் சபா நாயகர் அவர்களே, என்னுடைய பெயரில் இருக்கும் திருத்தம் பின் வருமாறு:

'Provided that in regard to movable property no attachment or in case of an order of eviction of an agriculturist from land the Court shall on application by the agriculturist vacate such attachment or restore the possession of the evicted agriculturist.'

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"I do not accept the amendments."

[11th January 1954]

SRI S. PANCHAKSHARAM:—"Sir, I have proposed that sub-clause (2) be omitted. It says:

'On application made by the defendant or the respondent or by all the defendants or all the respondents, as the case may be, the stay effected by sub-section (1) in a suit or application shall be dissolved and the suit or application shall be proceeded with from the stage which had been reached when further proceedings in the suit or the application were stayed.'

My submission is that this sub-section means nothing because it conveys no meaning at all. If by the operation of clause 4 (1), a suit is stayed until the expiry of a year from the date of commencement of the Act and if a mandatory provision is made in sub-clause (2) that a stay can be vacated on application either by the defendant or the respondent, then which judgment-debtor will come forward and tell the Court: 'Here I am repaying the loan or here I am willing to repay the loan; therefore, dissolve the stay.' The respondent is the debtor. Will he say that he is paying the loan amount and that the stay be dissolved? Can such a position be ever envisaged at all? I do not think such honest debtors are there, either in the form of defendants or judgment-debtors."

SRI P. S. KRISHNASWAMY AYYANGAR:—"Sir, I want an explanation."

MR. SPEAKER:—"If the hon. Member wants to speak, let him stand and I shall call him. Then he can speak."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"The Government are not accepting the amendments."

SRI S. PANCHAKSHARAM:—"If the Government intend to cover that class of compromise during the stay period should be considered, then a memorandum signed by both parties and filed in the Court will do. This provision is unnecessary."

SRI P. S. KRISHNASWAMY AYYANGAR:—"In the proviso to the section, there is provision made for the sale of articles which are liable to speedy delay. There may be judgment-debtors who have been committed to jail and who might be still lingering in jail. When are they to be released? The Jail Superintendent cannot of his own accord release them. The Court would have stayed proceedings and would not reopen it. Who is to move the court to order the Jail Superintendent to release the judgment-debtor? Unless there is an order from the court, he will not be released. If the creditor, for the sake of spiting the judgment-debtor, is paying subsistence allowance every month, then such a person will be kept in jail for the maximum period of six months. 'There is no provision for his early release here.'"

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"I am afraid that more confusion is brought in than existed already. The proviso is intended to make it possible for the Court to pass an order in spite of the provision in the preceding paragraph which says that all proceedings shall be stayed. In view of the previous paragraph, the proviso is very properly added that such things as this can be done in spite of what is mentioned in section 4. I hope hon. Members will not tinker with this. It will lead to destruction of property."

[Sri C. Rajagopalachari] [11th January 1954]

MR. SPEAKER:—"I shall put the amendments to the vote of the House. Mr. Virupakshiah's amendment is—

'Add at the beginning of sub-clause (i), the following:—

"On the application of one or more defendants".'

SRI S. C. VIRUPAKSHIAH:—"I withdraw my amendment."

The amendment was, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

MR. SPEAKER:—"I think Mr. Gopalan Unni's amendment is out of order."

SRI C. H. KANARAN:—"Sir, this amendment has nothing to do with the amendment proposed to clause 3 which was lost. This is about stay of proceedings. This is a different one."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Then I shall put it to vote. The question is—

'In the last but one line, for the words "a year", substitute the words "two years".'

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

'For the existing proviso under sub-clause (1), substitute the following:—

"Provided that in regard to movable property no attachment or in case of an order of eviction of an agriculturist from land the Court shall on application by the agriculturist vacate such attachment or restore the possession of the evicted agriculturist."'

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER:—"Then comes Mr. Ramasami Naidu's amendment. It reads:

'In the proviso to clause 4, after the words "in regard to" and before the word "property" insert the word "movable".'

SRI S. RAMASAMY NAIDU:—"I am prepared to withdraw it but I want to make one or two points here. In cases where the crops are under attachment, it means the Court has to harvest the crop. That means the crops will be in the Court's custody which again means that the creditor will be paid his dues even within the moratorium period. But the intention of the Bill seems to be that the crop should be with the debtor. If the Court holds the crops, then it will pay the creditor his dues at the end of the year automatically and even the holding of the crops in the debtor's favour will not help him. If the Government come forward to do something in this respect to help the debtor, it will be better."

[Sri S. Ramasamy Naidu] 11th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"If all executions are stayed and all further proceedings are prohibited as we want to do, we must provide for that which deteriorates. Any inconvenience or convenience arising out of that will be disposed of by the court."

The amendment was, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

MR. SPEAKER:—"Then comes the last amendment moved by Mr. S. Panchaksharam. It reads:

'Omit sub-clause (2).'

SRI S. PANCHAKSHARAM:—"I withdraw my amendment."

The amendment was, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

Clause 4 was put and carried.

Clause 5.

SRI P. S. KRISHNASWAMY AYYANGAR:—"Sir, I move—

'Number the present Explanation as Explanation I and add the following second Explanation:—

"Explanation II.—For the purpose of instituting insolvency proceedings against an agriculturist debtor, an alienation amounting to an act of insolvency made by him during the period intervening between a date falling within three months just prior to the commencement of this Act and the date immediately preceding the three months ending with the date of expiry of this Act shall be deemed to have been made on the date of the expiry of this Act."'

SRI M. JAGANNATHAN:—"I second it."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Motion moved—

'Number the present Explanation as Explanation I and add the following second Explanation:—

"Explanation II.—For the purpose of instituting insolvency proceedings against an agriculturist debtor, an alienation amounting to an act of insolvency made by him during the period intervening between a date falling within three months just prior to the commencement of this Act and the date immediately preceding the three months ending with the date of expiry of this Act shall be deemed to have been made on the date of the expiry of this Act."'

[11th January 1954]

SRI P. S. KRISHNASWAMI AYYANGAR:—"In the case of insolvency proceedings, the proceedings should be started by a creditor within three months of the act of insolvency and this explanation is to the effect that any insolvency act committed by the debtor, any alienation amounting to an act of insolvency made by the debtor in the interim period (which I have mentioned in my amendment) would be considered to have been made on the date of the expiry of this Act. That is he would have three months time from the date of expiry of this Act to present the insolvency petition. I want to know the attitude of Government in this regard."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"I do not exactly catch the implication of this amendment. I think it is unnecessary."

The amendment was, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"Sir, I move—

'In clause 5, substitute the words "plaintiff or his predecessor-in-title" for the word "creditor".'"

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

'In clause 5, substitute the words "plaintiff or his predecessor-in-title" for the word "creditor".'"

The amendment was put and carried.

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"Sir, I move—

'Number the existing clause as sub-clause (1) and insert the following as sub-clause (2):—

"(2) Where in a suit or an application in which the question of the exclusion of time under sub-section (1) arises, the defendant or the respondent, or one of the defendants or respondents, with respect to whom the question is raised, would have been an agriculturist but for the fact that in the year ending 1951-52, 1952-53 or 1953-54 he had been assessed to income-tax (Central Act XI of 1922), it shall be conclusively presumed that, in refraining from instituting the suit or making the application, the creditor believed in good faith that such defendant or respondent was an agriculturist."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—Act XI of 1922), it shall be conclusively presumed that, in refraining from instituting the suit or making the application, the creditor believed in good faith that such defendant or respondent was an agriculturist."

The amendment was put and carried.

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"Sir, I move—

'The words "section 3 of this Act" occurring in lines 6 and 8 be inserted after the words "section 3 of the Ordinance" occurring in the same lines.'"

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

'The words "section 3 of this Act" occurring in lines 6 and 8 be inserted after the words "section 3 of the Ordinance" occurring in the same lines.'"

The amendment was put and carried.

Clause 5 as amended was put and carried.

Clause 6.

SRI E. L. RAGHAVA MUDALIAR:—"Sir, I move—

'Re-number the existing clause as sub-clause (a) of that clause and insert the following sub-clauses as sub-clause (b) and sub-clause (c):—

"(b) In cases of debtors who do not own immovable property and the debt can be recovered only by attachment of movables, a suit can be filed and movables may be attached and be stayed after that stage.

(c) That the payments of debts stayed under this Act be payable in three annual equal instalments, during the harvest season (December-January) and the debtor defaulting to pay any one instalment shall not be entitled to stay or relief under this Act."

SRI M. PALANIYANDI:—"I second it, Sir."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

The amendment was put and lost.

[11th January 1954]

SRI S. PANCHAKSHARAM:—“ Sir, I move—

The amendment was duly seconded.

MR. SPEAKER:—“ Motion moved—

‘ In clause 6 ’ for the words “ from the commencement of the Act shall ” occurring in line 5, substitute the following “ be presumed to have been made with intent to defeat or delay the creditors of the transferor who believing in good faith refrained from filing a suit or making an application by virtue of section 3 ”.’ ”

SRI S. PANCHAKSHARAM:—“ The clause as it is at present worded will give rise to a crop of litigation. It is because under one section, I mean, section 3, the debtor is given protection. No suit to recover his debts could be instituted against him. There is a bar on suits against him during the period of one year from the commencement of this Act. Therefore, he is likely to sell away or alienate his property during the period of operation of this Act. That is why I suggest instead of a creditor filing a suit or somebody else filing a suit for obtaining a declaration of the alienation, the section may be made clearer by stating that such alienations, of property on the part of the debtor during the period of operation of this Act will be presumed to be fraudulent, without having a recourse to the Court itself. Otherwise every debtor is likely to alienate his property and every creditor will have to file a suit for a declaration regarding the alienation of his property during the period of operation of this Act. Only in order to avoid the delay that would be caused in the disposal of a large number of suits and to avoid the rush of the suits that would be filed in this connection, I have brought forward this amendment.”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—“ The section as now amended by Government would read—

‘ Every transfer of immovable property by a debtor entitled to the benefit of section 3 or section 4 made after the commencement of the Ordinance and before the expiry of a year from the commencement of this Act shall, in any suit or other proceeding with respect to such transfer, be presumed, until the contrary is proved, to have been made with intent to defeat or delay the creditors of the transferor.’

I may inform the hon. Member Sri Panchaksharam that he is wrong, that there is no question now of filing a suit. Nobody is asked to file a suit. We only say that in any suit or proceeding with respect to transfer of immovable property by a debtor during the period of operation of this Act, it may be presumed, until the contrary is proved, that the transfer has been made with intent to defeat or delay the creditors of the transferor. We cannot make a presumption unless there is a court proceeding.”

The amendment of Sri Panchaksharam, was by leave of the House, withdrawn.

SRI S. SWAYAMPRAKASAM:—“ Sir, I move—

‘ Add the following in the end “ Provided the debt is subsisting at the expiry of the period of one year ”.’ ”

“ The clause as it stands at present makes a provision to prevent the debtor from transferring any of his immovable property during the period when the Act is in force. But suppose a man transfers his immovable property and by such transfer discharges his debt, then the presumption as is now provided for in the Bill need not be entertained. That is why I say, provided the debt is subsisting at the expiry of the period of one year, such presumption as is provided for in the Bill in respect of this clause may be entertained. Otherwise when there is no debt outstanding, let it not be understood that the transfer of the debtor of his immovable property for the discharge of his debt is a fraudulent one.”

The amendment was duly seconded.

MR. SPEAKER:—“ Motion moved—

‘ Add the following in the end “ Provided the debt is subsisting at the expiry of the period of one year ”.’ ”

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—“ The whole idea of the Government in bringing forward this amendment is to prevent the fraudulent transfer of immovable property by a debtor because he had been already given protection under clauses 4 and 5 of the present Bill. Hon. Members seem to forget that we have provided for a presumption. It has been laid down that in any suit or proceeding against a transfer of a debtor, during the operation of this Act, of his immovable property a presumption may be raised, unless otherwise proved, that the transfer had been done with a view to defeat or delay the creditors of the transferor. This is so simple. I do not know how the hon. Member thinks this is complicated. If the transfer had been effected for a legitimate purpose, viz., for discharge of debts, then the case becomes all the more simple.”

MR. SPEAKER:—“ The question is—

‘ Add the following in the end “ Provided the debt is subsisting at the expiry of the period of one year ”.’ ”

The amendment was put and lost.

"or any debt due to any company registered before 1935 under the Indian Companies Act, 1913 (Act VII of 1913), in respect of any property situated within the limits of any Municipality or Corporation not being agricultural lands."

[11th January 1954] [Sri K. Vinayakam]

"I invite the attention of the Government to this pertinent amendment. There are in this State Nidhis and funds which advance loans to agriculturists as well as others on house property and not on agricultural or arable land. Especially in the City of Madras there are many funds like the Mylapore Hindu Permanent Fund, the Triplicane Bank and the Egmore Benefit Fund. Out of the money collected from the shareholders they advance loans on house property, postal insurance policy and so on. The loan is repaid in monthly instalments. There may be agriculturists owning some lands outside the City of Madras who have raised a loan from a fund in the City. They may say that, as they are agriculturists and therefore entitled to the relief given by this Act, they need not repay the loan and that they cannot be dragged to the Courts for the period of the operation of this Act. In such a case, several Nidhis and funds in Madras may not have any appreciable transaction and may have to be closed down. This Act will work against their interests. That is why I want the Government to accept this amendment which excludes from the operation of this Act debts raised by agriculturists on other than agricultural properties."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Sir, the three amendments to clause 2 (a) given notice by the Hon. Sri M. A. Manickavelu Naicker have to be combined and moved. So I move (in the place of the amendment moved by the Hon. Minister for Land Revenue):—

'In clause 2 (a) after the words "or profits thereof" insert the following:—

"and shall include a lessee; but shall not include—

'(i) a firm registered under the Indian Partnership Act, 1932 (Central Act IX of 1932), or a company as defined in the Indian Companies Act, 1913 (Central Act VII of 1913), or a corporation formed in pursuance of an Act of Parliament of the United Kingdom or of any special Indian Law; or

(ii) any person who was assessed to income-tax under the Indian Income-tax Act (Central Act XI of 1922) in any of the years 1951-52, 1952-53, 1953-54.' "

Omit Explanation I under item (a) and omit the figures "II" in the existing Explanation II.' "

SRI K. VINAYAKAM:—"May I request the Government to explain the implications of this amendment? If this amendment covers the substance of my amendment, I will withdraw my amendment."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"The implication is this. The word 'agriculturist' to whom we have given relief under this Act will explicitly include lessees also and will exclude persons who are assessed to income-tax. Secondly, while we give relief under this Act to a joint family comprising agriculturist and non-agriculturist members, we do not give the relief to firms, companies or corporations referred to in the amendment."

SRI P. S. KRISHNASWAMY AYYANGAR:—"If a member of a joint family happens to be an income-tax assessee, is that family within or outside the purview of this Act?"

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"It is covered by Explanation II which, under the amendment I have moved, will become the first and only explanation: Where a joint Hindu family or a tarwad, tavazhi, kutumba or kavaru is an agriculturist, every co-parcener or member of the tarwad, tavazhi, kutumba or kavaru, as the case may be, shall be deemed to be an agriculturist. SRI S. RAMALINGAM:—"After we finish sub-clause (2), we can go to the other sub-clauses, Sir."

“Provided that a person shall not be deemed to be an agriculturist if he

(a) is assessed to income-tax or

(b) is assessed to profession tax by a Municipality or a Local Board as a half-yearly income of Rs. 600 or more or

(c) is assessed to property or house tax by a Municipality or a Local Board on an aggregate rental value of buildings or lands to Rs. 600 or more.”

In item (b) add at the end the following proviso:—

“Provided a person shall not be deemed to be a creditor for purpose of this Act if he solely depends for his livelihood and maintenance on lands, the land revenue on which is Rs. 25 only or less.”

In the exception under item (c)—

“(1) In item (iv) omit the words ‘or loan’ and add at the end of it ‘and shall not include loans’.”

“Omit item (v).”

The following amendment of Sri S. Swayamprakasam was, by leave, withdrawn:—

“Add the words ‘or enjoys’ after the word ‘own’ in the first line.”

The following amendment of Sri A. Veloo was deemed to have been withdrawn; as hon. Member was not in his seat:—

“In item (a) after the words ‘owns an interest in land’ add the words ‘and who is regularly engaged in the cultivation of land and shall not include mere intermediaries who had taken more than 25 acres on lease or who had sub-leased them.’”

[11th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"He was originally a lessee and he has lost the land. Then he is no longer in the position of agriculturists whose affairs are sought to be covered by this Bill. It does not at all seem to be relevant to this Bill, Sir."

The amendment of Sri S. Ramalingam was put and lost.

SRI P. S. KRISHNASWAMY AYYANGAR:—"There are two parts in my amendment. One relates to the definition of the expression 'coparcener' and the other refers to the definition of 'debt'. I am not pressing the second part. With regard to the first part, if the Government are not prepared to accept it, I withdraw it, Sir."

The following amendment of Sri P. S. Krishnaswamy Ayyangar, was by leave of the House, withdrawn:—

"In item (a) add the following at the end of Explanation II:—

"For the purposes of this Act, a co-parcener of a joint Hindu family shall also include a woman on whom an undivided share in the joint family properties has devolved under the provisions of the Hindu Women's Rights to Property Acts, both Central and Provincial, such share still remaining undivided from the rest of the joint family properties."

In item (c)

"In the definition of 'debt' for the sake of easy understanding, remove the expression 'for the lawful use and occupation of land' found at the end of the definition and insert it between the expressions 'is liable to pay or deliver' and 'under a contract (express or implied)' and between the expression so removed and the expression 'under a contract (express or implied)' insert the word 'or'."

In the definition of debt, delete the word "or" found after the expression "deliver such sum or produce."

The following amendment of Sri N. K. Palaniswami was, by leave of the House, withdrawn:—

"(i) In the definition of 'creditor', after the words 'a person', insert the words 'or a body'."

(ii) In the definition of 'debt',—

(a) Omit items (i), (iii) and (v) under the Exception.

(b) in item (iv) under the Exception, for the words 'by way of revenue, tax, cess, or loan or otherwise'; substitute the words 'by way of tax or cess.'"

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

'In item (b) add at the end the words "up to the amount of Rs. 3,000".'

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER:—"What about the amendment of Mr. Kandasamy?"

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Sir, I think Mr. Kandaswamy should have listened to me when I explained the position to Mr. Vinayakam. The proposal is that one who has document for more than Rs. 3,000 should be allowed to proceed against the debtor. That is to say, a creditor who has got in his favour a document for Rs. 5,000 or Rs. 20,000 should be allowed to proceed against the debtor whereas we have stopped the smaller creditor who has lent a small amount of money from proceeding against the debtor. If we accept the amendment, it will come to this. The entire property can be taken away by a scheduled bank or by others. So it is dangerous to accept such an amendment. I gave long consideration to these amendments and have to reject them on these grounds."

[11th January 1954] [Sri C. Rajagopalachari]

The following amendment of Sri C. Kandasami was, by leave of the House, withdrawn:—

"In item (c)

(1) In line 1, after the word 'money', insert the words 'not exceeding Rs. 3,000.'

(2) In line 2, after the word 'land,' insert the words 'not exceeding in value Rs. 3,000'."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

'In item (i) of the Exception, for the words and figures '31st March 1953', substitute the words and figures '6th January 1954'."

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

'In the Exception under item (c), in item (iv), for the words "whether by way of revenue, tax, cess or loan or otherwise;" substitute the words "by way of revenue, tax or cess."'

The amendment was put and lost.

The following amendment of Sri M. Palaniandi was, by leave of the House, withdrawn:—

"In the Exception under item (c), in item (iv), omit the words 'or loan or otherwise.'"

In the Exception under item (c), omit item (v).

In item (g), for the words 'does not include', substitute the word 'includes'."

The amendment of hon. Member Sri M. Jagannathan was, by leave of the House, withdrawn, namely:—

"In the exception under item (c) in item (iv) omit the words 'by loan' and add at the end the words 'excluding loans.'"

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

'In item (c) Exception item (iv), delete the words "or loan" and add the following at the end:—

"but does not include loan."'

The amendment was put and lost.

SRI K. VINAYAKAM:—"Sir, I am aware that I am fighting a losing battle. I still would try to convince the Government about the reasonableness of my amendment. On a former occasion, a small committee was constituted to draft the Money-lenders' Bill. In that committee, I had the honour to serve. The Hon. Minister for Land Revenue was presiding over that committee. Then, I brought to the notice of the Minister that Nidhis and

[Sri K. Vinayakam] [11th January 1954]

Funds must be exempted from the operation of that Act and the officers should not be allowed to go and harass those working in the Nidhis and Funds, under the pretext of looking into the accounts and things like that. Then, the Minister was convinced and agreed to exempt those Nidhis and Funds. Now, they have not been exempted from the operation of the present Bill now before the House. I am afraid if the Government bring these Nidhis also within the scope of the Bill, there would be no transaction and most of the Nidhis will have to close down their business for a period of one year. This will cause great hardship to the employees of the fund. These are the repercussions which the Hon. Chief Minister must consider. I once again request the Hon. Chief Minister to look into the matter and do justice."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"If the points of hon. Members are correct, then there should be no moratorium. If there should be a moratorium, then the points are wrong. If peasant proprietor A lends money to peasant proprietor B in a village, we have declared a moratorium and peasant proprietor A cannot proceed against peasant proprietor B. But in a Nidhi, the man lives in Madras being an agriculturist in Chingleput. If the Nidhi's amount of Rs. 5,000 is allowed to be collected by instituting proceedings in a Court, then peasant proprietor A loses his whole property which is involved in the loan he has given to the other man. I have explained the position clearly. The position in respect of the Money-lenders Act is totally different from the position we seek to create, viz., that the agriculturist should be given a respite."

SRI K. VINAYAKAM:—"Why exempt only co-operative societies?"

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Because they are public bodies, a democratic body of the villagers."

SRI K. VINAYAKAM:—"Am I to understand that Nidhis are not public bodies but individual concerns?"

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Nidhis or Funds in Madras are a body of urban people."

SRI K. VINAYAKAM:—"May be. But still it is a public body, Sir."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"They do not lose their money; they have only to wait for a year."

SRI K. VINAYAKAM:—"I am sorry, I cannot withdraw my amendment."

MR. SPEAKER:—"I shall put it to vote. The question is—

'In the Exception under item (c), add at the end of item (iv) the words—

"or any debt due to any company registered before 1935 under the Indian Companies Act, 1913 (Act VIII of 1913)"

11th January 1954] [Mr. Speaker]

"or any debt due to any company registered before 1935 under the Indian Companies Act, 1913 (Act VII of 1913) in respect of any property situated within the limits of any Municipality or Corporation not being agricultural lands "' "

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER:—"I shall now put Mr. R. Krishnan's amendment to vote. The question is—

'In item (c), Exception, omit item (v) "' "

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER:—"Then comes Mr. Ramalingam's amendment. The question is—

'In item (g), after the word "appeal", insert the words "filed by a creditor"' "

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER:—"I shall now take up Mr. Adityan's amendment which reads—

'In item (g) after the words "appeal", add "or revision or review of"' "

SRI S. T. ADITYAN:—"The Government have decided to exempt appeals from the operation of this Bill. I want them to exempt civil revision petitions which are also a kind of appeal. That is all my amendment and I hope the Government will accept it."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"If I understood you, I would accept it."

SRI S. T. ADITYAN:—"The Bill is intended only to stay suits or applications for execution of a decree. It does not cover appeal from a decree or order passed in a suit or application. That is to say, suits are stayed but appeals are not. I want you to say that not only appeals but civil revision petitions also are stayed. I mean not only regular appeals but first and second appeals."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"You mean civil revision petitions in the High Court against Small Causes Court decrees?"

SRI S. T. ADITYAN:—"Yes, but only not against Small Causes Court decrees."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"There is another difficulty I am faced with here. Appeals include such petitions."

SRI S. T. ADITYAN:—"On the contrary, I may say that it is a disputed point. It is better it is made clear in the Bill itself. Appeal does not ordinarily include revision petitions."

[11th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"I think as a rare case we can accept it. You say: 'It does not include appeals from a decree or order or civil revision petition against Small Causes Court decrees'. Is that correct?"

SRI S. T. ADITYAN:—"I say: 'It does not include appeal from or revision or review of a decree or order passed in a suit or application'. I think it is the term that is at issue. If the Government accept the principle, it is all right."

MR. SPEAKER:—"We should be clear in these matters when we are making a law. Let the Government propose a suitable amendment."

SRI S. T. ADITYAN:—"In that case, I withdraw my amendment, so that Government may move one."

The amendment was by leave of the House withdrawn.

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"Sir, I move—

'that for item (g) of clause 2 item (f) as re-numbered, the following shall be substituted, viz.:—

" 'suit' or 'application' does not include an appeal from a decree or order passed in a suit or application or an application for revision or review " . "

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

'that for item (g) of clause 2, item (f) as re-numbered, the following shall be substituted, viz.:—

" 'suit' or 'application' does not include an appeal, from a decree or order passed in a suit or application or an application for revision or review " . "

The amendment was put and carried.

MR. SPEAKER:—"I think Mr. Rajam Ramasami withdraws his amendment which reads—

'In the Exception under item (c), after item (vi), insert the following as item (vii):—

" (vii) for moneys secured on property other than agricultural land. " . "

SRI C. RAJAM RAMASAMY:—"I withdraw my amendment."

The amendment was, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"Sir, I move—

'In the Exception under item (c), in item (i), for the figures and word "31st March 1953," substitute the figures and word "1st December 1953" . "

I want to invite the attention of the Chief Minister to the fact that in Malabar the custom is to pay the rent in two instalments.

[11th January 1954] [Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar]

It is a well-known fact that the Kanni (September) crop was completely destroyed during the last floods. Under the Malabar Tenancy Act, suits will be filed if the tenants do not pay the rent after three months of the harvest.

"We have already passed that provision day before yesterday. It will be no use if landlords are allowed to wreak their vengeance on the poor tenants. The second crop had been completely devastated. That is why I request that my amendment, which seeks to protect the tenants from the tyranny of the landlords of Malabar, may be accepted."

The amendment was duly seconded.

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"The position is that the mover of the amendment, Sri T. C. Narayanan Nambiar, wants us now to revise the Malabar Tenancy Amendment Bill, which we had already passed day before yesterday. It is our object to give moratorium to those dues accrued before 31st March 1953 and not to rent dues accrued after March 1953. Only those dues accrued before 31st March 1953 are covered. The current rent is not to be covered. That is the meaning of Exception (i). If rent is to be paid in two or three instalments, it will not be covered according to the law. But any rent accrued after 31st March 1953 will not be covered by this moratorium. I think if we leave the Exception (i) as it is, it would be better. We need not insert a separate provision for Malabar."

SRI T. C. NARAYANAN NAMBIAR:—"We are prepared to pay the dues as far as the first crop is concerned. But the second crop is completely devastated. The tenants are suffering. There is food scarcity. That is why I request that my amendment may be accepted."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Mr. Nambiar does not know probably where we stand. The hon. Member should know that we should not disturb the current relationship between the landlords and tenants by this Bill."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The question is—

'In the Exception under item (c), in item (i), for the figures and word "31st March 1953," substitute the figures and word "1st December 1953" . "

The amendment was put and lost.

MR. SPEAKER:—"I want to know whether the Government have moved all their amendments."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"Yes, Sir."

Clause 2 as amended was put and carried.

Clause 1.

Clause 1 was put and carried.

[11th January 1954]

PREAMBLE.

SRI S. RAMALINGAM:—"Sir, I move—

‘For the existing Preamble, substitute the following:—

“Whereas famine and drought conditions have been existing for the past many years due to which conditions the burden of debt and pressure by the creditors on the peasants increasing year after year;

“And whereas it is in the interest of the general public that at the present time, agriculturists be spared the distractions and expenditure involved in litigation launched by their creditors, and as a first step to declare a moratorium on the debts of the peasantry; ” ” ”

SRI C. H. KANARAN:—"I second it."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Motion moved—

‘For the existing Preamble, substitute the following:—

“Whereas famine and drought conditions have been existing for the past many years due to which conditions the burden of debt and pressure by the creditors on the peasants increasing year after year;

“And whereas it is in the interest of the general public that, at the present time, agriculturists be spared the distractions and expenditure involved in litigation launched by their creditors, and as a first step to declare a moratorium on the debts of the peasantry ” ” ”.

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"It is obvious Government cannot accept it. It means that we should bring in another kind of Bill."

SRI S. T. ADITYAN:—"I think the whole of the Preamble might be dropped."

MR. SPEAKER:—"There should be a preamble to an Act."

SRI S. T. ADITYAN:—"I submit it is unnecessary that an Act should have a preamble, for in the Statement of Objects and Reasons, all these things are covered. It has been held that a preamble does not control the interpretation of the Act."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Ordinarily I would accept Mr. S. T. Adityan's opinion in such matters. Ordinarily I agree that for a Bill in modern times, we do not make a long preamble or any preamble at all. But in the case of a moratorium I submit it is necessary."

SRI S. RAMALINGAM:—"I beg leave to withdraw my amendment."

The amendment was by leave of the House withdrawn.

The Preamble was put and carried.

[11th January 1954]

SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"Sir, I move—
‘That the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill, 1954, as amended, be passed into law.’

“In doing so, I thank the hon. Members for their hearty co-operation and various suggestions. I want to say that the fact we have sat for long hours with concentration and finished consideration of the clause-by-clause discussion of the Bill completely to-day, shows and reminds me of the proverb that ‘where there is a will, there is a way’. This has been amply proved in our case.”

MR. SPEAKER:—"Motion moved—

‘That the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill, 1954, as amended be passed into law.’ ”

SRI M. PALANIYANDI:—"கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, இன்று இந்தக் கடன் ஒத்தி வைப்புச் சட்டத்தைக் கொண்டு வந்ததற்காக அரசாங்கத்திற்கு நான் மிகவும் நன்றி செலுத்தக் கடமைப்பட்டிருக்கிறேன். இன்னும் இது மாதிரியான நல்ல சீர்திருத்தங்களைச் செய்வதற்கு அரசாங்கம் அடிக்கடி இம்மாதிரி மசோதாக்களைக் கொண்டு வந்து சட்டசபையில் நிறைவேற்றவேண்டும்.

“எதிர்க்கட்சியினுள்ளவர்களாகிய நாங்கள் இந்தக் கடன் ஒத்திவைப்புப் பானது ஒரு வருஷத்திற்கு என்று இருப்பது போதாது என்றும், குறைந்தபட்சம் மூன்று வருஷத்திற்காகவாவது ஒத்திவைக்கப்படவேண்டுமென்றும், இன்னும் எவ்வளவோ குறைந்தபட்ச திருத்தங்களைக் கொடுத்திருந்தோம். ஆனால், அரசாங்கம் அவைகளுக்குச் செவிசாய்க்கவில்லை. இருந்தாலுங்கூட, கடந்த ஐந்தாறு வருஷங்களாக பருவ மழையில்லாத காரணத்தினால் ஏற்பட்ட பஞ்சத்திற்குப் பிறகு இம்மாதிரியான சட்டத்தை கனம் முதல் மந்திரி அவர்கள் கொண்டு வந்ததற்கு என்னுடைய வந்தனத்தைத் தெரிவித்துக்கொள்ளுகின்றேன். இதுமாதிரி முற்போக்கான சட்டங்களை சர்க்கார் அடிக்கடி கொண்டுவந்து நிறைவேற்றவேண்டுமென்று மீண்டும் கேட்டுக்கொண்டு என்னுடைய வார்த்தையை முடித்துக்கொள்ளுகிறேன்.”

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"I wish to say a few words by way of repetition and also by way of emphasis that it should not be understood that this is the first step to wipe off debts and also to disturb the credit of the country. It should be absolutely made clear that this is a moratorium and it is not the policy or principle of the Government to make it worse than it is. Of course there are evils in a moratorium. But we have to bear with those evils. But let me tell hon. Members that any larger extension of such things will disturb the credit of the country. Therefore it is I am re-emphasising that matter."

SRI P. B. K. RAJACHIDAMBARAM:—"மன்றத் தலைவர் அவர்களே, விவசாயிகளுக்கு உடனடியாக ஒரு ஆதரவைக் கொடுக்கக் கூடிய ஒரு நல்ல முறையை அரசியலார் கொண்டு வந்ததற்காக முதலில் கனம் முதல் அமைச்சர் அவர்களையும் கனம் நில வருவாய் அமைச்சர் அவர்களையும் பாராட்டுகிறேன்.

“இந்தச் சீர்திருத்தமானது சென்ற மாதத்தில் முதன் முதலில் பத்திரிகையில் வந்ததிலிருந்து இதைப்பற்றி நாட்டில் பல விதமான சர்ச்சைகள் எழுந்தன. நாட்டில் பல துறைகளிலிருந்து இதற்கு எதிர்ப்புகளும், அதே சமயத்தில் பல இடங்களிலிருந்து ஆதரவுகளும் உண்டாயின."

[Sri P. B. K. Rajachidambaram] [11th January 1954]

அதிலிருந்து இது எவ்வளவு தூரம் நாட்டிற்கு ஓரளவு நன்மை பயக்கக் கூடிய திட்டம் என்பதை நாம் சொல்லாமலேயே தெரிந்து கொள்ளலாம்.

“நிதானத்திற்குப் பெயர்போன Hindu பத்திரிகை இதற்கு இரண்டு தலையங்கங்கள் எழுதிவிட்டது. அதை எழுதும் போது, சென்ற வாரத்தில் தென் கன்னட நிலச் சீர்திருத்தம் பற்றி செய்த ஒரு சட்டத்தை இரண்டு மணி நேரத்திற்குள்ளாகவே நிறைவேற்றிவிட்டது சரியல்ல; அது சரியாக யோசிக்காமல்கூட சட்டமாக்கப்பட்டது என்று ஒரு வித கேலி தொனிக்கும் படியாக எழுதியிருந்தது. ஆனால், இந்த மசோதாவை நாம் 6 மணி நேரத்திற்கு மேலாக தலைவர் அவர்களுடைய அனுமதியைக் கொண்டு நாம் நன்றாகத்தான் சர்ச்சை செய்து பார்த்திருக்கிறோம். 6 மணி நேரம் எடுத்துக்கொண்டு இதை விவாதித்திருந்தபோதிலும் கூட, அவசரமாகத்தான் இதைக் கவனித்தோம் என்று சொல்ல வேண்டியிருக்கிறது. இன்னும் சற்று நிதானமாக இதை நாம் கவனித்திருந்தால் கனம் முதலமைச்சர் அவர்களையும் அரசியலாளரையும் இன்னும் சில முக்கியமான திருத்தங்களை ஒப்புக்கொள்ளும்படியாக நாம் செய்திருக்க முடியும் என்ற நம்பிக்கை எனக்கு இருக்கிறது. இன்று விவாதத்தின் கடைசி நேரத்தில்கூட சில விஷயங்களை நாம் எடுத்துக்கொள்ளப்போது கனம் முதலமைச்சர் எடுத்துச் சொன்னார்கள். இன்னும் சற்று அவகாசம் இருந்திருந்தால், இன்னும் நல்ல விதமாக இதைச் செய்திருக்கமுடியும் என்ற நம்பிக்கை இருக்கிறது.

“ஆனால், இதைப் பிரேரேபிக்கும்போது அமைச்சர் அவர்கள் சொன்னார்கள், நாம் எவ்வளவு வேகமாக பாடுபட்டாலும்கூட இதைவிட வெகு விரைவாக வெளியிட முடியவில்லை என்று. ஒரு மாதத்திற்குள்ளாகவே சட்டசபை கூடியிருக்கலாம். பொங்கல் பண்டிகை அடுத்து வருவதால், சட்டசபை அங்கத்தினர்களை இன்னும் அதிக நாள் நிறுத்தி வைக்கக்கூடாது, சீக்கிரமாக இந்தச் சட்டத்தை நிறைவேற்றி, அங்கத்தினர்கள் போகும்போது இதை பொங்கல் பரிசாக வழங்கவேண்டுமென்று சொன்னார்கள். உண்மைதான். பொங்கல் பரிசாகவே சட்டசபையில் நாம் இதை முடிவுசெய்து நமது சென்னை அரசாங்கத்தின் பரிசாக விவசாயிகளுக்கு நாம் கொடுப்போம். இந்த பொங்கல் பரிசு அவர்களுக்கு எவ்வளவு தூரம் நன்மை பயக்குமென்பதை அரசாங்கம் சற்று கவனித்து, இதைபோல் மீண்டும் விவசாயிகளுக்கு கடன் ஏற்படாதவாறு ஒரு சூழ்நிலையை ஏற்படுத்தலாம் அரசியலாளரைக் கேட்டுக்கொள்ள விரும்புகிறேன். விவசாயிகளுக்கு கடனே இல்லாத முறையில் விவசாயத்தை நடத்தும்படியான ஒரு சூழ்நிலையை ஏற்படுத்த வேண்டும். அப்பொழுதுதான் விவசாயமானது நல்ல முறையில் செழித்து வளர முடியும். கடன் தொல்லையினால் கஷ்டப்படும் விவசாயிகளுக்கு இவ்விதம் கடன் ஏற்படாமல் இருப்பதற்கு என்னென்ன திட்டங்களைச் செய்யவேண்டுமோ அவைகளையெல்லாம் இன்னும் அதிக நாள் கடத்தாமல், வெகு விரைவில் செய்யவேண்டுமென்று கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகின்றேன். விவசாயிகளுக்கு அனுகூலமாகக் கொண்டுவரப்படும் எந்த சீர்திருத்தங்களுக்கும் இந்தப் பக்கத்திலிருக்கும் எங்களுடைய ஆதரவு அரசாங்கத்திற்கு எப்பொழுதும் இருக்கும் என்பதை அரசியலாளருக்குச் சொல்லிக் காண்க. இந்த நல்ல திட்டத்தைக் கொண்டுவந்ததற்காக மீண்டும் ஒரு முறை அரசியலாளரைப் பாராட்டுகிறேன்.”

SRI K. VINAYAKAM:—“Sir, we are now in the final stages of the Bill. I shall not take much time, but only say a few words. We have gone through a tedious work and I may add here that the Bill has been almost hustled through. Yet, I am convinced of the good objects of the Bill, though it could have been perfected a little more, had the Government chosen to listen to the Opposition. I congratulate the Government on having brought this piece of legislation. I wholeheartedly commend it to the acceptance of the House on behalf of that section of the Opposition which I have the honour to represent.”

[11th January 1954] [Sri K. Vinayakam]

SRI S. RAMALINGAM:—“கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, விவசாயிகளுக்கு ஏற்பட்டிருக்கும் கடன் தொல்லையை ஒத்தி வைப்பதற்கு இந்தச் சட்டத்தைக் கொண்டு வந்து நிறைவேற்றியதற்காக நான் கனம் ஸ்ரீ M. A. மாணிக்கவேலு நாயகர் அவர்களைப் பாராட்டுகிறேன். அந்தப் பக்கத்தில் இருக்கக் கூடிய பல அங்கத்தினர்கள் கனம் ராஜாஜி அவர்களைத் தான் பாராட்டிக் கொண்டிருந்தார்கள். இருந்தாலும், நான் பிரத்தியேகமாக கனம் ஸ்ரீ M. A. மாணிக்கவேலு நாயக்கர் அவர்களையும் பாராட்டுகிறேன்.

“பல எதிர்ப்புக்கள் இருந்தபோதிலும் இந்த மசோதாவைச் சட்டமாக்கியிருக்கிறோம். எதிர்க்கட்சிக்காரர்கள் எடுத்துச் சொல்லிய பல முக்கியமான குறைகளை சர்க்கார் கவனிக்காமல் இருந்தாலும்கூட, விவசாயிகளுடைய கடன் தொல்லையைக் குறைப்பதற்கு ஒரு வருஷத்திற்கு இந்தச் சட்டத்தின் மூலம் நிவாரணம் ஏற்படுகிறது. அரசாங்கத்திற்கு ஒரு விஷயத்தை முக்கியமாக வற்புறுத்திச் சொல்ல விரும்புகிறேன். அதாவது, விவசாயிகளுக்கு மீண்டும் கடன் தொல்லை ஏற்படாமல் இருப்பதற்கு என்ன காரியங்களைச் செய்யவேண்டுமோ அதிலே சர்க்கார் தீவிர கவனம் செலுத்தவேண்டும். விவசாயிகளுக்கு கடன் வசதி மிகவும் குறைவாக இருக்கிறது. இந்தக் கடன் வசதியை அடைவதற்குக் கூட விவசாயிகள் பெரிய கஷ்டத்திற்குள்ளாகியிருக்கிறார்கள். அவர்களுக்கு தாராளமாக கடன் வழங்குவதற்கு சர்க்கார் என்னென்ன காரியங்களைச் செய்யவேண்டுமோ, அவைகளை உடனடியாகச் செய்தால்தான் இந்தக் கடன் ஒத்தி வைப்புச் சட்டத்தைக்கொண்டு வந்ததினால் விவசாயிகள் உண்மையாகவே பலன்டைந்தவர்களாகக் கருதமுடியும்.

“சென்ற வருஷம் ஐந்து கோடி ரூபாய் கடன் வேண்டுமென்று கேட்ட போது 10 கோடி ரூபாய் வரையில் வசூல் செய்ய முடிந்தது. அந்த மாதிரி விவசாயிகளுக்கு கடன் கொடுப்பதற்கென்று மார்க்கெட்டில் 4½ பெர்சண்டு அல்லது 5 பெர்சண்டு வட்டிக்கு கடன் வாங்கி, விவசாயிகளுக்கு சர்க்கார் மூலமாகவோ கூட்டுறவு சங்கங்கள் போன்ற இதர ஸ்தாபனங்கள் மூலமாகவோ கடன் கொடுத்து உதவினால், அவர்களுக்கு உபயோகமாக இருக்கும். அப்படிக் கடன் கொடுத்து, அரசாங்கம் நீண்ட காலத் தவணைகளில் விவசாயிகளிடமிருந்து வசூலித்துக்கொள்வதற்கு வேண்டிய நடவடிக்கையை எடுத்துக் கொள்ளலாம். அப்படி அவர்களுக்கு வேண்டிய கடன் வசதியை அரசாங்கம் செய்து கொடுத்தால் தான், இப்பொழுது இந்தக் கடன் ஒத்திவைப்புச் சட்டத்தைக் கொண்டு வந்ததின் நோக்கம் நிறைவேற முடியும். இப்பொழுது நிறைவேற்றப்பட்ட சட்டமானது உண்மையிலேயே அப்பொழுதுதான் விவசாயிகளுக்கு பொங்கல் பரிசாக இருக்கும். நமது நண்பர் கனம் ஸ்ரீ ராஜா சிதம்பரம் சொன்னதுபோல இதை விவசாயிகளுக்கு பொங்கல் பரிசாக அர்ப்பணிக்கிறோம்.”

SRI K. R. VISWANATHAN:—“கனம் அவைத்தலைவர் அவர்களே, இந்தக் கடன் ஒத்தி வைப்பு மசோதாவானது நேற்றுக்கு முன்னாலும் இன்றைக்கும் விவாதிக்கப்பட்டு வந்திருக்கிறது. இன்றைக்கு இது முடியுமோ முடியாதோ என்ற ஒரு ஐயப்பாடு இருந்து வந்தது. இன்றைக்கு இது சட்டமாக நிறைவேற்றியதைக் கண்டு நாங்கள் ஒருவாறு சந்தோஷமடைகிறோம். அமைச்சர் அவர்கள் மிக விரைவிலே இந்த மசோதாவைக் கொண்டுவந்து நிறைவேற்றியதற்கு நான் கனம் முதல் அமைச்சர் அவர்களையும், அதற்குக் காரணமாக இருந்த எல்லோரையும் பாராட்டுகிறேன்.

“இப்பொழுது இந்த மசோதா வருவதற்கு ஒரு திங்களுக்கு முன்னால் அவசரச் சட்டம் பிறப்பிக்கப்பட்டது. இன்றைக்கு இந்தச் சட்டமானது பொங்கல் பரிசாக மக்கள் ஏற்றுக்கொள்ளப்போகிறார்கள் என்று சொல்

ஸ்பட்டது. இது பொங்கல் பரிசாக இருக்க முடியாது. ஏனென்றால், ஒரு திங்களுக்கு முன்னால் பிரகடனப்படுத்தப்பட்ட அவசரச் சட்டத்தைத் தான் இப்பொழுது நாம் நிரந்தரமான சட்டமாகச் செய்திருக்கிறோம். ஒரு திங்களுக்கு முன்னால் அவசரச் சட்டம் வந்தபோதே இதனால் ஒரு மகிழ்ச்சி மக்களுக்கு ஏற்பட்டுவிட்டது. இப்பொழுது புதிதாக ஒரு மகிழ்ச்சி அவர்களுக்கு ஏற்பட்டுவிடப் போவதில்லை என்பதைத் தெரிவித்துக்கொள்கிறேன்.

“மக்களுக்கு நன்மை செய்யக்கூடிய எந்தக் காரியத்தையும் சட்ட சபையில் கொண்டுவந்து விவாதித்து நிறைவேற்றுவது முறை. அப்படிச் செய்யாது முதலமைச்சர் அவர்கள் இதுபோன்ற சட்டங்களை தாமாக அவசரமாகப் பிறப்பித்து தமக்குமட்டும் பெருமை தேடிக்கொள்கிறார். நல்ல காரியத்தை அவர் செய்யும்போது எல்லோரும் அவரைப் பெருமைப் படுத்துகின்றோம். ஆனால், ஒவ்வொரு காரியத்தையும் முதன் முதலில் அவசரச் சட்டமாகக் கொண்டு வந்துவிடுவதினால் சட்டசபையிலுள்ள எல்லோரும் அதைப்பற்றி விவாதிக்க முடியாமல் போகிறது. முதன் முதலில் தாம் கொண்டு வந்தோம் என்று அவர் பெருமைப்பட வேண்டும் என்ற நினைவோடு அவர் இப்படிச் செய்கிறார்போலும். நல்ல காரியத்தைச் செய்யும்போது அவரை பெருமைப் படுத்துகிறோம். பாராட்டுகிறோம். அவர் செய்கின்ற காரியங்களை வரவேற்கிறோம். கல்வித் திட்டத்திலும்கூட . . .”

MR. SPEAKER :—“கல்வித் திட்டத்திலிருந்து ரொம்ப தூரம் போய் விடும்” (சிரிப்பு.)

SRI K. R. VISWANATHAN :—“யாரையும் கலக்காமல் தான் மட்டும் யதேச்சாதிகாரமாகச் செய்கிறார் என்று நாம் அவரைப்பற்றி குறை கூறினோம். அதில் அவருக்குப் பெருமை கிடையாது. அதில் பல குறைபாடுகள் இருக்கின்றன என்று எடுத்துக் கூறப்பட்டன. ஆனால் அந்தக் கூப்பாடுகளையெல்லாம் அவர் பொருட்படுத்தாது தாம் கொண்டு வந்த திட்டத்தை நிலைநிறுத்த வேண்டுவன செய்தார். நல்லதாக இருந்தாலும் சரி, கெட்டதாக இருந்தாலும் சரி பொருட்படுத்தாது, தானே அந்தக் காரியத்தைச் செய்யவேண்டும், அதற்கான பெருமையையும் தாழ்விருப்பின் தாழ்வையும் அடைகிற நோக்கம் உடையவராகக் காண்கின்றார்.

“இந்தப் பெரிய சட்டமானது நாட்டிலே இருக்கின்ற உழைப்பாளிகளுக்கும் ஏழை விவசாயிகளுக்கும் ஒரு பெரிய வரப்பிரசாதம் போன்று வந்திருக்கிறது என்று சொல்லிக்கொள்ளவிரும்புகிறேன். இந்தச் சட்டமானது அவர்களுக்கு ஒரு ஆண்டு வரையில் நன்மை செய்திருக்கிறது. இந்த மாரடோரியம் என்பது ஒரு குறுகிய கால அளவுக்குத்தான் கொண்டுவரமுடியும் என்று மந்திரி அவர்கள் பதிலளித்தார்கள். அந்தக் குறுகிய கால அளவை மறுபடியும் ஒரு குறுகிய கால அளவுக்கு நீடித்துத் தர அந்தச் சமயத்தில் சர்க்கார் முன் வரவேண்டுமென்று கேட்டுக்கொண்டு நான் மறுபடியும் சர்க்காரைப் பாராட்டிக்கொண்டு என்னுடைய வார்த்தையை முடித்துக்கொள்கிறேன்.”

SRI S. T. ADITYAN :—“Sir, I rise neither to congratulate nor to criticize the Government. I only want to throw a suggestion for the future administration of this law. Section 4 is the staying section and section 3 is a section which different Courts will interpret differently. There should not be room for dismissing suits. I hope the intention of the Act is not to dismiss suits and bury them for ever. There is also rule-making power vested in the Government under section 7. I suggest that Government may make rules which may cover the difficulty I have mentioned, that is to say, if a suit is pending, it will be stayed under the Act.

[11th January 1954] [Sri S. T. Adityan]

If, however, a suit is filed after the Act comes into force, then after satisfying that the suit is against an agriculturist, Courts may perhaps return them for presentation after the moratorium period. If this suggestion is accepted, it may be useful for the proper administration of the law.

“Another thing I want to stress is that Government have rushed through this legislation, and I want to impress on Government that this should not be the normal procedure hereafter.”

SRI V. GOPALA GOUNDER :—“கனம் சபாநாயகர் அவர்களே, இந்த மசோதா இன்று சட்டமாக நிறைவேறியிருக்கிறது. காலையில் கனம் ரெவின்யூ மந்திரி அவர்கள் சொல்லும்போது, நான் ஒரு மெம் பர்தான் இந்தச் சட்டத்திற்கு எதிர்ப்பாகப் பேசினேன் என்று சொன்னார்கள். நான் அதில் பெருமைப்படுகின்றேன். நான் ஏன் இந்தச் சட்டத்தை எதிர்க்கவேண்டும்? ஏன் இந்தச் சட்டம் அவசியம் இல்லை என்பதை விளக்கிக் கூறினேன். ஆனால், அதை என்னுடைய சகோதர மெம் பர்கள் ஏதோ ஒரு வழியில் ஆமோதித்தாலும், பொதுவாக இந்தச் சட்டம் இப்பொழுது வேண்டுமென்று அவர்கள் சொன்னார்கள். அதன்படியே இந்தச் சட்டமானது நிறைவேறிவிட்டது.

“நான் சொன்ன கருத்தெல்லாம், இவ்விதமான சட்டத்தினால் நாட்டிலே கிராம மக்களுக்குள்ள நாணயம் கெட்டுப்போய்விடும், பணச் செலாவணி கெட்டுப்போய்விடும் என்பதுதான். ஆகவே, அம்மாதிரி சூழ்நிலையை கிராமத்திலே உண்டுபண்ணக்கூடாது என்பதுதான் என்னுடைய வாதத்தின் முக்கியமான கருத்து. அந்தக் கருத்தை இப்பொழுது கனம் முதல் மந்திரியவர்கள் கடைசியாகச் சொல்லுகிற நேரத்திலே ‘இப்பொழுது கொடுத்த நிவாரணம் கொஞ்ச நாளைக்குத்தான், இம்மாதிரி சூழ்நிலையை அடிக்கடி உண்டுபண்ணிக் கொள்ளக்கூடாது. அப்படிச் செய்தால் செலாவணி கெட்டுப்போகும்,’ என்ற முறையில் கடைசியாக ஒத்துக்கொண்டார்கள். அதைக் கேட்டவுடனே நான் சொன்ன வாதம் தப்பு அல்ல, சரியான வாதத்தைத்தான் செய்தேன் என்று தெரிவித்துக் கொள்கிறேன். ஆனால், இங்கேயுள்ள கனம் அங்கத்தினர்களுடைய ஆதரவு கிடைக்காவிட்டாலும் பரவாயில்லை, என்னுடைய கருத்தை அவர் ஒப்புக்கொண்டார். அதை மற்ற அங்கத்தினர்களும் ஒப்புக்கொண்டார்கள் என்பதில் சந்தேகமில்லை.

“கனம் முதல் மந்திரி அவர்கள், ‘இம்மாதிரி சூழ்நிலையை நாம் ஏற்படவிடக்கூடாது. அப்படி விட்டால் நம்முடைய நாட்டிலே நாணயம் கெட்டுவிடும். இப்பொழுது ஏதோ ஒரு காரணத்திற்காக இந்தச் சட்டம் கொண்டுவரப்பட்டது.’ என்று சொல்லியதன்பேரில் எல்லோருடைய ஆதரவிலும் இந்தச் சட்டம் இப்பொழுது நிறைவேற்றப்பட்டது. ஆனாலும் இதில் ஒரு குறை இருக்கிறது. எவ்வளவோ கஷ்டப்பட்டு முதல் மந்திரி அவர்கள் அனைத்து திருத்தங்களை இந்தச் சட்டத்தின் விதிகளில் செய்த போதிலும் கூட, ஒரு வருஷத்திற்கு இதில் உண்டாகப்போகும் சட்ட நுணுக்கங்களுக்கு கோர்ட்டிலே போய் வாதாட முடியாது. கனம் ரெவின்யூ மந்திரி அவர்கள் இந்தச் சட்டத்திற்கு திருத்தங்களை ஜாக்கிரதையாகச் செய்திருக்கிறார்கள். ஆனால், வக்கீல் ஜாதியைச் சேர்ந்தவனாகையால் எனக்கு இதில் இன்னும் சந்தேகம் இருக்கிறது. சட்டத்தில் பலவித குறைபாடுகள் இருந்தாலும் ஒரு வருஷத்திற்கு மட்டும் என்று இருப்பதனால் சந்தோஷப்படுகிறேன். அம்மாதிரி சூழ்நிலை மீண்டும் ஏற்பட விடக்கூடாது என்பதுதான் என் கருத்து.”

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER :—
“Sir, I sincerely thank the hon. Members for the kind words they have expressed on the Government's endeavour to bring this legislation. Sir, I cannot agree with the remarks of certain hon. Members that this legislation was hustled through and that a request to refer it to a Select Committee was not acceded to. But I wish to say that in a Select Committee there can be at best only 20 or 30 members. But, to-day Sir, with your kind permission, the whole House went into the debate and discussed very informally, forgetting all formalities. So, the whole House was a Committee to-day, so to say. I have read that in the British Parliament sometimes the whole House goes into a Committee. Similarly, we have done more or less the same thing to-day.

[Sri M. A. Manickavelu Naicker] [11th January 1954]

“ One hon. Member said that we had sat for seven hours and worked under pressure. But considering the utmost concentration without any distraction, with which we have worked, I should say we have worked for 14 hours by doubling it.

“ Sir, one hon. Member expressed the hope that a public loan may be raised and it may be utilized for the benefit of the ryots. Well, Sir, if he really intends that, I should say that we must have a very peaceful and cordial atmosphere in the land. The ryots no doubt should be well-treated. But at the same time we should see that landlords also live and prosper. Because, only the landlords can have a margin of profit, the ryots can never hope to have. So it is in our own interest, in the interest of the ryots themselves that the landlords should have a little margin for contributing to public loans so that that loan may be utilized for the benefit of the ryots. Therefore, I am anxious that all should work for a good and cordial atmosphere between the ryots and the landlords in the country.

“ Now, the provision of one year moratorium is for those who cannot afford to pay. That does not mean that those who can pay, should not pay. There is no bar for such people to pay. It is better to pay and shake off the burden as far as possible. (Interruption.) The moratorium does not prevent people from paying if they can. (The Hon. Chief Minister: ‘ Three-fourths of the debts are being paid without anybody going to the Courts ’.)

“ Sir, we went a long way in conceding many of the reasonable demands from the other side of the House. We meet them whenever they are reasonable, but when they are unreasonable, Government stand for justice and fair play and so cannot accept their demands.

“ Finally, I thank you, Sir, for your kindly forgetting all formalities. I wish you, Sir, and all hon. Members a happy Pongal. I move that—

‘ The Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill, 1954, as amended be passed into law. ’”

MR. SPEAKER:—“ The question is that—

‘ that the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill, 1954, as amended, be passed into law. ’”

The motion was carried and the Bill was passed into law.

MR. SPEAKER:—“ I now adjourn the House sine die.”

The House then adjourned sine die.

THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

Monday, 11th January 1954.

The House met in the Council Chamber, Fort St. George, at four of the clock, Mr. Chairman (THE HON. DR. P. V. CHERIAN) in the Chair.

* * * * *

THE MALABAR TENANCY (AMENDMENT) BILL^a, 1953 (L.A. BILL NO. 12 OF 1953) (AS PASSED BY THE ASSEMBLY).

DR. V. K. JOHN:—“ Mr. Chairman, Sir, I wish to make a submission. The desire of hon. Members on this side of the House is that the Bill may be introduced by the Hon. Minister and the general discussion on the Bill might be taken up on the 18th.”

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM:—“ Mr. Chairman, Sir, we have sat only for just half an hour. Of course I am prepared to be guided by the Chair and the wishes of hon. Members on the other side. But I think after the introduction of the Bill we can sit for some more time and do some work till 6-30.”

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—“ This is a very urgent measure, and I would like that the discussion of the Bill is taken up now itself.”

MR. CHAIRMAN:—“ The motion for consideration will be moved now and the general discussion will go on till 6-30 to-day. The Hon. Minister may move his motion.”

THE HON. SRI K. P. KUTTIKRISHNAN NAIR:—“ Mr. Chairman, Sir, I beg to move—

‘ That the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1953 (L.A. Bill No. 12 of 1953) as passed by the Assembly, be taken into consideration. ’

“ In doing so, I think it is my duty to place before this House the absolute necessity for this Bill. It is to be remembered, Sir, that the agrarian agitation in Malabar dates back from 1836. The first time Government took up the issue for consideration was in 1880. A petition was received by the Government and that was referred to Messrs. Logan Wingram and McGregor. They submitted their report and said that there was serious agrarian agitation in Malabar and that it had to be remedied. In 1881, Mr. Logan was appointed as a Special Commissioner to go into this question. He recommended fixity to cultivators and also recommended that the rent should be fixed at two-thirds of the net produce. The Government again in 1884 appointed another Commission with Sir T. Madhava Rao as President. Messrs. Logan Wigram, Karunakara Menon and Sir C. Sankaran Nair were members. In their report they recommended fixity of tenure. Their report was mercilessly criticized by Mr. Charles Turner, the then Chief Justice of the Madras High Court. Hence a new committee with Mr. Master as Chairman was constituted. It recommended that in case of eviction, the tenant had to be given value of improvements.

"As a result of all these, Act I of 1887 was passed. Even then the agitation continued and in 1899 Mr. Ross was entrusted to draft a Tenancy Bill. He died in the course of a few months. So tenancy legislation was given up. But an amendment to Act I of 1887 was passed as Act I of 1900. It only dealt with payment of the value of improvement. Not being satisfied, the Government entrusted to Mr. Dance the work of drafting a Bill. The Malabar Melcharth Bill was prepared but subsequently legislation in respect of that was dropped. In 1915, Mr. Enis, then Collector of Malabar, sent a report to the Government recommending fixity for the tenants. But as per the report of his successor, Mr. Evans, nothing was further done. Finally in 1924 Sir M. Krishnan Nair's Tenancy Bill was introduced and it was passed by the Legislature in 1926. But the Governor withheld his assent. Another Committee with Mr. Raghavayya as President was constituted. It recommended fixity to tenants, fixation of rent and renewal fee, and creation of charge for arrears of rent, etc. Ultimately the Malabar Tenancy Act XIV of 1930 was passed.

"It gave fixity to tenants, right of purchase to the kudiyruppu holders in case of suit for eviction, right to surrender uneconomic units, right to get receipts for payments, etc. It took away the right of melcharthdar to get possession. It fixed proportion of rent and renewal fee to be paid. It provided for fixation of price of commodities and fixed the place of delivery of rent in kind.

"Again in 1938 another amending Bill was given notice of by the Government but subsequently it was dropped. In 1939, a Committee with Sri K. Kuttikrishna Menon as Chairman was constituted. It recommended that stains, etc., need not be given the rights to evict tenants under sections 14 and 20. It recommended 22 paras of paddy to be allowed for tenants as cultivation expenses, fixity to kudiyruppus, fixing interest on arrears of rent at $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent, abolition of feudal levies, fixation of rents and the extension of the Act to the taluks of Gudalur and Kasaragod.

"Bona fide requirements under sections 14 and 20 was misused and so the amending Act XXIV of 1945 was passed. Again the agitation continued and in 1951 a new amending Act was passed. It relied much on Sri Kuttikrishna Menon Committee's report and granted reduction in the rates of fair rents, fixity to kudiyruppus, remission of rent in case of remission of assessment, wiping off of arrears of rent prior to 1944-45, abolition of renewals and renewal fees, abolition of feudal perquisites, etc. Under that, provision was made for the establishment of Rent Settlement Authority for the purpose of fixing fair rent and for recording of rights. These amendments came into effect only in March 1952.

"The Rent Settlement Authority with its complicated machinery and the inevitable delay that would be caused in its working created a lot of agitation in Malabar. The tenants were not satisfied with the remissions and the reduction of rent rates. Ulkudi holders outside Fort Cochin were not given fixity and hence they were also dissatisfied. From 1946 onwards all suits for possession and for arrears of rent were stayed. These and subsequent suits continued to be stayed. The number of suits swelled to such an extent that there are about 20 thousand such suits pending now.

"It was in this background that Government took up this issue. The Rent Settlement Authority was abolished forthwith. A draft Bill was published and moved in both the Houses and it was referred to a Joint Select Committee. The Bill sought to establish Rent Courts presided over by Revenue Divisional Officers. Instead of compulsory fixation of rents, the Bill made it only optional in cases of disputes. It provided for payment of one year's income to be paid to the tenant in case of eviction under sub-section (5) of sections 14 and 20. It provided that no ulkudi holder should be evicted unless a site equal in size is given in the same village or without three years' notice being given. It enhanced the share of the tenants in case of pepper gardens by making the rent payable as one-sixth instead of one-fifth. It also sought to make voidable surrender deeds executed after 28th July 1950. It also sought to wipe off two years' arrears of rent.

"The Joint Select Committee after six sittings, carefully went into the whole question and examined memoranda received from various persons and interests in Malabar. The Joint Select Committee recommended that mulgenidar who enjoyed a greater right than the tenant in Malabar should be exempted from the purview of the Act. It recommended fixity to ulkudi holders in case of three years continuous occupation, exemption of payment of rent in case of protected ulkudi if there was no agreement to pay rent and exemption from the operation of clause 5 of sections 14 and 20 if the tenant was in continuous possession for twelve years. It further reduced fair rent on garden lands by exempting the tenant from payment of half the assessment. It also decided that Tahsildars could also function as Rent Courts. It prohibited the assignees from exercising the rights under sections 14 and 20 within the lapse of two years. It extended the benefits of ulkudi holders on ulkudis on wet lands. A provision was also recommended for proving the real nature of transactions.

"The Legislative Assembly has considered the recommendations and has modified them further. In the case of ulkudi one year's continuous possession was decided to be sufficient. Protection was given to tenants who were in actual possession for six years in the case of evictions under sections 14 and 20. Cultivation expenses were raised from 22 paras to 25 paras. The fair rent of garden lands was reduced to one-eighth from one-sixth. In case the fair rent under section 7 is more than the contract rent, a limit that two times the contract rent is to be the fair rent for twelve years was decided upon and the excess amount was spread over a number of years so that in no year it shall exceed one and one-fourths of the previous year. It was also decided to extend the Act to punam cultivation and the rent was fixed at two times the assessment. Ulkudi holders from 28th March 1953 were also given protection. Permission was also given for the tenant to elect to pay in kind in case of increased fair rent being fixed. It was also decided that section 51 was to be modified so that instead of fixing the price of commodities monthly, quarterly fixation could be done. It was also decided that amounts thus fixed shall be uniform throughout the area.

"I am sure the Bill, as now presented before this House, will be welcomed by the majority of the people of Malabar. All the aspects were considered and a fair solution of all the problems has been made in this Bill.

"I think, Sir, that by the passing of this Bill, there will be goodwill between the landlord and the tenant and each will perform his part for the welfare of the whole State.

"I move, Sir, that this Bill may now be taken into consideration and disposed of as early as possible as it is an emergency measure which requires due consideration by this House.

"Thank you, Sir."

Mr. CHAIRMAN:—"Motion moved—

'That the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1953 (L.A. Bill No. 12 of 1953) (as passed by the Legislative Assembly), be taken into consideration.'

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, I am very happy that I am a Member of the Madras Legislature when this Bill is discussed by this House. I am also glad that I have an opportunity to associate myself with an important legislation which affects lakhs of people in my district. The Hon. Minister for Law, while introducing the Bill, traced the history of the agrarian agitation in Malabar from 1836 onwards up to the present day, that is upto day before yesterday when this Bill was passed by the Legislative Assembly. He had touched the main points in the course of that agitation. I do not like to repeat the very same history of the agrarian agitation in Malabar which had been done by the Hon. Minister for Law but I want to touch upon some of the important links in that history which the Hon. Minister failed to mention in his speech. Before we go into that history, we must consider why this is such an important problem which has been troubling the people of Malabar for the last so many years.

11th January 1954] [Sri M. P. Govinda Menon]

"I think my hon. Friend, Dr. John, had me in his mind when he said that certain people considered themselves as people of Malabar or people of South Kanara. Dr. John may not have known it but I have spent my life in the struggle for the freedom of the country and not for the freedom of Malabar alone. I think that I am first and last an Indian, a citizen of this country to which I have the honour to belong. I also had the honour to belong to an organization under the banner of which I never considered myself as belonging to this caste or that caste or to this district or that district. Sir, I know the conditions of Malabar much more than what Dr. John knows. He is a citizen at large. He does not belong to any particular area. He has settled down in Madras and has acclimated himself to the City of Madras. So, when I speak of the conditions in Malabar and the grievances of that district I speak with authority and I am entitled to speak with authority.

"Why is there so much of trouble in Malabar? The trouble arose in this manner. Mr. Chairman, I am taking you to the pre-British days. In those ancient days when our Rajas were ruling our country and when Malabar was under the administration of Malabar chieftains there was no land tenure trouble nor was there the Hindu-Muslim trouble. Malabar was considered to be one of the happiest areas of Bharata Varsha. You know, Sir, that when the Zamorin of Calicut was ruling over Malabar his Generals were Moplahs, his navy was under the command of Moplahs and the Moplah armies were protecting the Hindu State of Malabar because there was harmonious relationship between the landlords and tenants in Malabar during those pre-British days. In those days there was no janmi or landlord in Malabar. As far as Malabar was concerned, there was no question of ownership of land in those days and nobody was considered as the owner of even a piece of land before the advent of the British. There was only the question of the division of the produce between the various persons. I am speaking with authority, authority collected by the British administrators. My Friend, the Hon. the Minister for Law, just now referred to Mr. Logan. Mr. Logan was the Collector of Malabar for a long period. He had lived in Malabar for a number of years, knew the Malayalam language even to the extent of delivering lectures in Malayalam and also knew very well the customs and manners of the people of Malabar. He had gone into the question of land tenure in Malabar and he says: 'The essential difference between a Roman dominus and a Malayalee janmi was unfortunately not perceived or not understood at the commencement of the British administration.' (Mr. 'William Logan's 'Malabar'—1951 reprint.) The British people came with their notions of Roman jurisprudence. They thought that the man who sat at the top was the dominus and that he had dominion over the land. They thought he was the landlord as they had in England. Mr. Logan further says that 'The janmi has, by the action of the civil courts, been virtually converted into a dominus and the result on the workers, the cultivators, has been and is very deplorable.'

[Sri M. P. Govinda Menon] [11th January 1954]

There was no janmi during the pre-British days. There was only an arrangement for the division of shares in the produce and a certain amount was set apart for the janmi, the kanamdar and the cultivating tenants. These shares were set apart because each had some functions in the administration of the country. The so-called janmis were holding some positions in the polity of the country and to meet the expenses of the administration of such powers a part of the produce was set apart. When the British took over Malabar from Tippu Sultan after the Mysore wars, they brought with them their notions of Roman jurisprudence and British notions of overlordship and proprietorship. In the district of Malabar, the Judges of the Civil Courts converted these janmis into actual proprietors. In the 1951 Act also the definition of 'janmi' as a person entitled to the absolute proprietorship of land still persists. Perhaps, in those parts of the country on this side of the Western Ghats this conception is not understood. In these parts, the Government is the owner of the land. In the zamindari and ryotwari tenures the landlords are not the owners of the land and it is the Government that own these lands. In our parts the Government are not the owners of the land. Probably they own some poramboke lands or waste lands adjoining the beds of the rivers. The conception that each janmi is the absolute owner of the piece of land over which he sits was borrowed from British jurisprudence. This was the beginning of the trouble and that is why there has been this agrarian trouble in Malabar over so many years. As the Hon. the Minister for Law said it is more than a century old. The year 1836 is the relevant date. The British administration started in the beginning of the nineteenth century and the trouble began in 1836.

"The Hon. the Minister for Law did not refer to what the trouble exactly was. There had been serious outbursts in the Moplah portion of the district almost every year during the Ramzan months. All these outbursts and attacks had been due to agrarian troubles. My hon. Friend, Sri Raza Khan, said the other day that I attacked the Muslims. I will be the last person to attack the Muslims. I live in the midst of the Moplahs. They are my supporters and they are my professional clients. I know what they are. I have been with them during the Moplah Rebellion of 1921. Many members of my family suffered for the sake of the Moplahs."

Dr. C. NATHAMUNI NAIDU:—"You were also made a Raja for a day."

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON:—"Because of this agrarian trouble, the Moplahs committed serious outrages. The poor ignorant Moplah is not civilized, and he is not educated. If this poorest man in the district was to be sent away from his land and what was more important was to be driven out his homestead . . ."

11th January 1954]

Dr. V. K. JOHN:—"Sir, on a point of order, is it in order for the hon. Member to say that the Moplah is not civilized?"

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON:—"I am speaking only out of a feeling of consideration for the poor, ignorant Moplah, whom we did not civilize or educate. Dr. V. K. John may not have the same feeling. Coming to my point, when a man was driven out of his homestead he naturally took the cudgel in his hands because he had not got any other method open to him. The courts which were on the side of the janmis did not give him any relief. The only method of protest known to the Moplah was to take the cudgels."

"Therefore, Mr. Logan and other good British administrators who had lived in Malabar for a long time recommended the year 1836 for conferring fixity of tenure. (Interruptions.) My hon. Friend, Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar, says that at present I am a landlord. I was saying that the British administrators who were in Malabar and who had experience of its customs and manners recommended 1836 as the year for giving absolute fixity of tenure, as far as the tenants were concerned. But, unfortunately we are living in a composite State and were so doing when the foreigners were ruling over us. Let me not be misunderstood when I say that we are living in a composite State. I am not attacking my Tamil brethren or any others in this State. My complaint is that they could not feel for us and understand our difficulties. Our land tenure is not easily understood. Even our Marumakkattayam is not understood by those people on the other side of the West Coast, I do not say that it is so because of lack of love or affection for us. Now, I can say with all the gratitude that I am capable of expressing that here is a Chief Minister who could understand us, whose intellect could help him to understand us and perhaps his association with us during the freedom struggle would also help him to do so. Only two leaders who led us during the freedom struggle, Sri C. Rajagopalachari and Sri T. Prakasam alone on this side of the Western Ghats could understand our problems and it is they who know the conditions in Malabar. I was therefore very glad when this Bill was brought when Sri C. Rajagopalachari is the Chief Minister."

Dr. V. K. JOHN:—"What about the present Finance Minister?"

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON:—"He is too young. He was perhaps not born during those days."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM:—"I have gone to Malabar only once or twice."

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON:—"Though he has been our closest neighbour he had not the opportunity to understand our problems. I was glad when this Bill was brought in because the Chief Minister could understand our problems. He had moved with us inside and outside the jails in Malabar. He could understand the feelings of the Malayalees. That is why I said that we were unfortunately is a composite State. It is not an attack nor is it any anxiety on my part to get away from my Tamil brethren. The problem is so difficult and that is why this land tenure question has been delayed for a long time. The foreigners were ruling this country and we were unfortunately in a composite State where the majority of people were not in a position to understand our difficulties.

"The Hon. Minister for Law referred to the then Chief Justice of the High Court of Madras—Sir Charles Turner—in connexion with giving of fixity of tenure to tenants. As stated by the Hon. Minister, Sir Charles Turner turned down the recommendations made for giving fixity of tenure to tenants by the officers of the then British Government itself and the people of Malabar have had to wait till 1954 for this reform.

"The first Act—the Improvements Act—giving to tenants when evicted the value of improvements effected by them was passed in 1887, which was again subsequently amended in 1900. Till this Act was passed, the position was that if a tenant was evicted, he was not given anything by the landlord, not even the value of the improvements effected by him. The tenant might have, by his own efforts, converted a waste land into a perfect garden, by planting jack trees, coconut trees, etc., but still if he was asked to vacate the land by the janmi, he had to give possession of the land and leave the place. Not only that. He had also to leave the building put up by him for his residential purposes without receiving in return any payment as compensation. I think, to-day in South Kanara, the tenants are in the same position, as pointed out by my Friend Sri Narasapaya. That was the position of tenants in 1887. The Improvements Act of 1887 as amended in 1900 gave some relief to the tenants. But the people were not completely satisfied. New ideas about tenancy reforms were coming into the district and therefore troubles again started. During the course of the first world war, in 1914-15, there was agitation for Home Rule under the leadership of Dr. Beasant throughout the State and there was also agitation in the district of Malabar, for Home Rule. Along with this agitation for Home Rule, there was agitation for agrarian reforms. Hon. Members will find in the Bill, now under consideration, a clause stating that any person interested in any land might adduce evidence and prove that a transaction entered into on or after 1st January 1916 purporting to be a mortgage is not in fact a mortgage but a transaction by way of kanam, etc., etc. This shows how in 1916 janmis were converting demises and leases into mortgages so that they could sue for redemption under the Transfer of Property Act. So from 1916 agitation was again started for land reforms.

"As a result of the introduction of the Montague Chelmsford Reforms, elections were held throughout this State. There was then a ban by the Congress organisation on 'Council entry!'

[Sri M. P. Govinda Menon] [11th January 1954]

Though the people of Malabar followed in the footsteps of Mahatma Gandhi more than anybody else in other parts of the country, still they did take part in the elections and elected the late Sir M. Krishnan Nair (then he was only a Diwan Bahadur) who championed the cause of tenants. The hope of the people that some tenancy reform would be introduced and passed, as a result of the efforts of Sir M. Krishnan Nair, did not materialise. In 1924, there was again election to the Legislative Council and this time Sir M. Krishnan Nair was returned to the Council. He introduced a tenancy reform and it was passed by the Legislature in 1926. But the Governor withheld his consent to the Bill in spite of the fact that the people of Malabar had supported it and in spite of the fact that the Justice Party which was in power also supported it.

"Then we come to the year 1921. The people of Malabar began to take a different attitude towards the Government and the land lords. Under the leadership of Mahatma Gandhi they were being trained in non-violent non-co-operation. Those were the glorious days when no janmi dared to evict a tenant even though the people including the Moplahs did not take up arms. The people never went to a Court of law or legislature. They only saw to it that whenever a tenant was evicted by a landlord no other tenant went in his place. Many hon. Members will be surprised to hear that many lands particularly in the Moplah areas of Ernad and Walluvanad taluks were lying waste without cultivation. Many landlords who had evicted their tenants would not be served by the washermen, or the barbers. There were cases where even money was offered for the cultivation of lands, but still anybody came to undertake cultivation. Unfortunately the Moplah rebellion broke out in 1921. There was a discussion in the other House as to whether it was an agrarian one or otherwise, and there was an exchange of words between the Hon. the Chief Minister and other Members belonging to the great Communist Party. Sir, I was in the midst of the rebellion. I saw with my own eyes treasuries being looted, offices being burnt and Court records being destroyed. I lived with the rebels for 21 days, when there was no British Government and as my Friend suggested I had some part in the administration set up by the rebels. When the Moplah rebellion broke out, it was neither agrarian nor anti-Hindu. It was not communal. It was purely anti-British. Uneducated and uncivilized as some of them were, Dr. John will pardon me for saying so, the rebellion turned anti-Hindu and later on agrarian also. There is a saying in the Moplah Malayalam language that if you grow hair there is hair and if you remove them there is no hair—mottai (മൊട്ടൈ കടമ് കെരട്ടാൽ മൊട്ട) That is also the paraphrase of the Communist slogan introduced by Kal Marx who stated: 'what have you to lose except the chain which binds your legs?' For these poor Moplahs who had to work so hard from morning to evening, who were so poor and had nothing else in the world—not even a homestead which was rather very barbarous and cruel—there was no other way except to rebel and that was why the rebellion started.

[Sri M. P. Govinda Menon] [11th January 1954]

"From 1921 to 1928 we had to wait patiently. In 1928 elections again came and the Swarajist Party decided to enter Councils. There was again agitation for land reforms. As a result of this agitation, as hon. Members are aware, the 1930 Act was passed. This 1930 Act gave fixity of tenure to tenants. As far as kanam was concerned, a tenant could apply for renewal after the 12th year. As regards verumpattamdar tenancy was concerned, verumpattamdars were given some qualified fixity of tenure. As regards fair rents also, a tenant could apply to the court on the basis of two-thirds net produce. The Act also took away the right of melcharthdars to get possession, and prevented them from evicting tenants. These melcharthdars are usually third parties. The greatest harm done to Malabar is not by ancient Rajas or Nambudhries or landlords but by these Melcharthdars. These Melcharthdars are a new class of landlords who as a result of work in various professions like law, medicine, trade, etc., have earned large wealth and have made themselves big landowners.

"The 1930 Act did not give complete satisfaction to the people of Malabar. We were waiting for an opportunity. In 1935 a new Government was formed here under the provincial autonomy conferred by the Government of India Act of 1935 and our great Rajaji became the Chief Minister of this State. My friend the late Mr. Ramunni Menon, who was one of the greatest heroes the district of Malabar has produced, became the Law Minister then and a draft Bill was prepared by him. You know our Rajaji wants to do things in a leisurely way and he wants to study things. He did not want to rush the Bill through and he suggested that a Committee might be appointed. A Committee was accordingly appointed and Mr. Kuttikrishna Menon, who was a member of the Madras Bar and who was Advocate-General for some time, was the Chairman. Of the then Members of the Madras Legislature, some representatives of Malabar were the members of that Committee. That Committee went into the question. They travelled throughout Malabar, recorded evidence, received memoranda and had discussions. A report was published in 1940. The Committee has taken much pains and has dealt with all aspects of the question of Malabar tenancy. Even a man, who is not at all conversant with the Malabar tenancy problem, if he goes through that report, will know much about Malabar tenancy. That report made certain recommendations. Unfortunately, the Congress was not able to implement them. Then there was the Second World War in 1939. The Congress was not in power. There was no democratic administration in this State for some time. As a result of the 'Quit India' campaign, almost all Congressmen were in jail. At that time, Sir, a havoc was done even to the 1930 Act. I have got very great respect to our Judges. Our judiciary is one of the best that we have inherited from the British Government—not at all corruptible, not at all corrupted. Able and eminent persons adorn the Benches both in mufassal Courts and High Courts. But there is one defect with our lawyers and Judges. They are very conservative. With great respect to Sri K. Balasubramania

11th January 1954] [Sri M. P. Govinda Menon]

Ayyar, who is a lawyer—of course, I am also a lawyer but I am in the political field—I have to say that lawyers and Judges have always been very conservative. They always look backwards and not forwards. They take pride in quoting the decisions of previous years with the result that cases cited in 3 Madras and 4 Madras are quoted even in 1953 and 1954. And our Judges—good Judges and eminent jurists—could interpret the law and in interpreting the position of law, they always show an unconscious bias in favour of the landlord. This is not because they are alive to the Communist theory of class conscience, but somehow or other their interpretation is always in favour of the landlords, not in favour of the tenants. In 1942 there was a Full Bench decision. That decision nullified the intentions of the 1930 Act. Sections 14 and 20 of the principal Act were referred to by the Hon. Minister for Law. Section 14 says, 'no suit for eviction of a cultivating verumpattamdar from his holding shall lie at the instance of his landlord except on the following grounds'. Section 20 says 'no suit for eviction of a customary verumpattamdar, kanamdar or kuzhikanamdar shall lie at the instance of his landlord except on the following grounds'. One of the grounds mentioned is that the janmi wants it bona fide for his own cultivation. The mufassal Courts in Malabar interpreted that 'bona fide necessity' meant that the janmi must prove that his family is destitute, that he wanted the land for himself and that without it he cannot maintain the family. Unfortunately, the Full Bench decision of the Madras High Court of 1942 said 'no, bona fide is an adverb modifying the verb "requires" and not an adjective qualifying the word "necessity"'. You know, Sir, how the lawyers can make white black and black white. As in a contest between Noes and Ayes, they change sides and argue both ways. An absolute right conferred on the tenants by a very good piece of legislation was in no time taken away by the High Court by saying that if the landlord said 'I require the land bona fide and my intention is bona fide', his contention should be accepted. It is not surprising therefore that a large number of evictions were made not by the petty landlords referred to by the Hon. Minister but by big landlords. People were sitting on the top. They filed a large number of suits and got eviction of the poor tenants. Congressmen were in jail. There was no public agitation. Fortunately, during the Advisers' regime in 1945, Mr. Austin, who was one of the Advisers, knew Malabar. He took up the matter and it was due to him that the Amendment Act of 1945 was passed by the Governor. The Governor had legislative power in those days. This Act said that the landlord must prove that he had necessity and that unless he got the land he could not live. This was the interpretation given to the expression 'bona fide'. Then, Sir, in 1946 the popular Government came to power. Again there was agitation. Some people said that this agitation was started by interested persons. But I can tell you, Sir, that no agitation can thrive for three days unless there is real grievance behind it. Do you think that thousands of people will stand by agitators unless they have got a real grievance? Agitation is the reflection of the sufferings of the people and in 1946 when the popular Government came, we asked for reforms. My respected leader Sri T. Prakasam, who was then the Chief Minister, passed the Ryots Protection Act. He said that he would consider bringing in some legislation as the one we are having for South Kanara, namely, that all evictions will be stayed for some time. The Ryots Protection Act was passed. Not only that. He appointed a Committee—Sri Raghavendra Rao Committee—to go into this question and that Committee prepared a report. This report is a classical report and the presentation is very nice. Though I would not be able to agree with many of the conclusions arrived at by that Committee, I must say that the Committee has marshalled facts and has presented them in a cogent manner so that everybody can understand the report. On the basis of this report, we wanted a Bill. Somehow or other it was delayed. My esteemed friend and ex-Minister Sri Madhava Menon, who was the Minister for Law introduced a legislation in 1951. When he placed some proposals, all of us were taken aback. They were so revolutionary in character. A conference was convened at Kozhikode. The proposals were examined. Even Sri Kuttikrishnan Nair's Bill has not come up to the stage which Sri Madhava Menon's Bill aimed at. There was a conference at Madras and the Bill was discussed. But it went to a Select Committee and came in a different form. That Bill was passed. It conferred some little concessions. We welcomed even those small mercies because the Assembly, as was then constituted, was on a limited franchise and we could not get a better Bill. But even though we welcomed that Bill, there was a huge agitation in the district again. You know, Sir, the result of that agitation. I am not talking of any party. The 1951 Elections were fought on political grounds. But so far as Malabar was concerned, the tenancy question played a very important part in that election. The Congress, the Praja Socialists and the Communists contested the elections. We fought against the Congress. The Congress had some reverses in the rest of the State, but so far as Malabar was concerned it was broken to pieces. If this tenancy problem had been solved satisfactorily, the history of the general elections in Malabar would have been different. Out of 30 seats, Sir, set apart for the Malabar area, the Congress got only four seats. Twenty-six seats went to the opposition parties. I do not say that this is entirely due to the Malabar tenancy question. I do not also say that it is entirely due to the views held by the other political parties that won the elections. I say it is due to a great extent to the misdeeds of the previous Government also. In a way the land tenure question played a very important part. You know, Sir, Mr. Madhava Menon is one of the gems of Malabar, he was one of the able Ministers of the previous Cabinet. I think he was a dominating Minister in the previous Cabinet. He was not a minor Minister or a satellite. He was an important Minister of the previous Cabinet. He was defeated in the last elections. That shows the feeling in Malabar regarding the agrarian reforms.

[Sri M. P. Govinda Menon] [11th January 1954]

[Sri M. P. Govinda Menon] [11th January 1954]

"When the Bill was originally introduced by the Hon. Minister Sri Kuttikrishnan Nair, we were all taken aback. That Bill went back even on the every unpopular Act passed during the time of Mr. Madhava Menon, and hated by the people of Malabar. It was a great surprise to us that Hon. Mr. Kuttikrishnan Nair should have introduced such a Bill, because we know him as one of the greatest workers in the Congress and a worker for the cause of the poor people in Malabar. You know, Sir, he is one of the very few good Congress men of the residuary Congress of Malabar—practically the Malabar Congress is dead now. In the residuary Congress he is one of the very few good Congress workers. In the last elections when everybody set up by the Congress was defeated, you know, Sir, he defeated the great Communist leader Sankaran Nambudripad and got himself elected. It came as a thunder to all of us. It was therefore a surprise to us that he should have introduced a Bill in such a form. I do not blame him personally for that. I know his heart is good. If he had been sitting on this side of the House he would be more vehement than I am in speaking about this Bill. After all this is the tragedy of politics. When people adorn some particular benches, they have to stick to them. That was why Mr. Madhava Menon failed, and not because he was not in sympathy with the demands of the tenants of Malabar. I know it is the tragedy of politics.

"Sir, when the Bill was originally introduced by the Hon. the Minister for Law, Sri Kuttikrishnan Nair, there was a huge agitation against it. But we wanted to co-operate with the Government. A conference was held in Payanoor purely under the auspices of the Praja Socialist Party. It had nothing to do with the Communists. That conference was attended by thousands of people. The conference was presided over by one of the greatest leaders of South India, Pattom Thanu Pillai. It was inaugurated by my leader, Sri T. Prakasam. Another great leader Sri Kelappan participated in the conference. Can any one say that there are greater leaders in South India than these three—excluding Rajaji—Pattom Thanu Pillai, Sri T. Prakasam and Sri Kelappan? That conference passed a series of resolutions containing constructive suggestions (and not destructive suggestions) and placed them before the Government. Not only that, Sir. A big 'Jatha' not like the one which we saw the other day when the Assembly was discussing the Malabar Tenancy Bill (a show of a 'Jatha') walked miles and miles in the district of Malabar under the leadership of my eminent leader Mr. Kelappan. That 'Jatha' came to Madras and saw the then Hon. the Chief Minister and the Hon. the Minister for Law.

"Sir, when the Bill was originally introduced my Party did not join the Joint Select Committee. We non-co-operated. There was also a talk about that, and people asked why we non-co-operated. I may tell this House, Sir, that the Praja Socialist Party is not for opposing anything for mere opposition's sake. We are not out to destroy a particular political party. If the Congress revises its policy we will be glad. If the Congress does good things to the country we will welcome such things. But we non-co-operated and did not participate in the deliberations of the Joint Select Committee. The reason for our non-co-operation is this. Mr. Narayana Kurup, a Member of the Legislative Assembly, brought forward a resolution in the Assembly and asked the Government to reopen certain sections in the principal Act and accept amendments to various sections of the principal Act. The Government opposed the resolution and did not allow the reopening of the principal Act. So we thought no useful purpose would be served by our co-operating with the Government in the Joint Select Committee. We walked out and therefore we were not in the Joint Select Committee.

"Sir, a great leader that he is, the Hon. the Chief Minister and the Government wanted to get our views on the matter. Government sent special invitations to my leader, Sri Kelappan and myself to attend the Joint Select Committee meetings. We responded to the invitation and attended the meeting. The Hon. the Chief Minister was good enough to convert the meeting of the Joint Select Committee into an informal conference and we had free and full discussion. We placed all our views before the conference and the Hon. Ministers and especially the Hon. the Chief Minister. He understood our viewpoints. He questioned us. There was a very free exchange of views and we went away satisfied with the impression that the Hon. the Chief Minister had understood us. When the Joint Select Committee submitted its report a ray of hope emerged. The Joint Select Committee did really suggest certain changes in the Bill as it was originally published, and introduced by the Hon. the Minister for Law. But we were not completely satisfied. Who is satisfied till the last thing is given? We thought: 'What shall we do now?' Fortunately for us our leader, Sri Kelappan, after the session of Parliament, came to Madras soon after the report of the Joint Select Committee was published. He rushed to the Hon. the Chief Minister. He suggested to the Hon. the Chief Minister how the suggestions made by the Joint Select Committee could be incorporated in the Bill and the Bill improved and made acceptable to the people of Malabar. Sir, in fairness and in gratitude to the Hon. the Chief Minister and the Government and especially to my hon. Friend, the Minister for Law, Sri Kuttikrishnan Nair, I must say that the majority of the demands placed by my leader Sri Kelappan were conceded by the Government and Government themselves proposed amendments to the Bill in the Assembly. So, Sir, though we are not completely satisfied, I must concede that this legislation which had been passed by the Assembly and sent to us for consideration is an improvement upon the previous Acts. It has done some real good to the tenants of Malabar and so in that way my party and myself and my leader Kelappan welcome this Bill.

"Now let me come to the improvements made in this Bill over the 1951 Act. The fair rent to be given by a cultivating tenant was fixed as half of the net produce in the case of paddy lands with liability to pay half the assessment. This Bill says that the tenant need not pay any assessment. He need only pay half the net produce. This is a great improvement. Regarding garden lands . . . (An hon. Member: 'What about cultivation expenses?') I have everything in my mind. I shall refer to it. Regarding cultivation expenses, it was fixed at 22 paras in the earlier Act. That had been increased in the present Bill to 25 paras. That was one of the points raised in the minute of dissent appended to the Kuttikrishna Menon Committee's report. As regards fair rent for dry lands, garden lands, coconut gardens, and other lands, the fair rent has been reduced. So far as fair rent is concerned it is all good. But then who is to fix the fair rent? There is a dispute always whether the Civil Court or the Rent Court should be allowed to fix the fair rent. Mr. Madhava Menon's Act suggested an important machinery for the fixing of permanent fair rent throughout the district of Malabar, the machinery known as the Rent Settlement authority. That was a fine idea. We were very glad that once for all fair rent would be fixed without leaving any room for further dispute, and a record of rights created. But unfortunately it was found unworkable by the department and to a certain extent by the public also. When the Hon. Minister Sri Kuttikrishnan Nair took up office in the present Cabinet he also considered this question and felt that it was unworkable. We do not dispute their contention. Therefore we gave up that demand. Now the question is who is to decide this fair rent. As arranged in this Bill, it is left to the Revenue officers, a Revenue Divisional Officer, or a Tahsildar. Very often it is argued: 'Why not give this work to a Civil Court.' Coming as I do from the Civil Courts—still I am a practising lawyer in the Civil Courts—I have sufficient experience of Civil Courts. I have no experience of the High Court. I have experience of the mufassal Courts. If a tenant has to get the rent fixed, it is an uphill task as far as he is concerned. Sir, it is often suggested that the Revenue Officer may not be beyond temptation. Quite correct. No human being is beyond that. Nowadays, after the last war and perhaps after we attained our independence, the standard has gone down. The trouble is, in no country, human beings are beyond temptation. I would like to ask, are others beyond temptation. If the tenant is asked to go to the Civil Court he will be put to great hardship. If he has to go to the Civil Court he has to engage a big lawyer and if the landlord engages a bigger lawyer his chances of success are very poor. The tenant cannot engage a big lawyer. And when a judge gives a decision you have to go to a higher court for appeal and this means additional expenses to the tenant. The landlord can take the case on second appeal and drag the poor tenant to the court and bring him to ruin. Sir, if a Tahsildar misbehaves I can come to the Hon. Minister and make representations to him. Sitting as I do on the opposite side, Government may not pay so much heed to my representations as they may to representations made from the other side. (Interruption) I can make representations to the Government and tell them: 'Here is a Tahsildar who misbehaves' please do the needful'.

[Sri M. P. Govinda Menon] [11th January 1954]

"Sir, in a Civil Court, the tenant is at a disadvantage. I do not consider that this is the best machinery. Even the Revenue Court is not the best machinery. I know the difficulties and we have to work with human agencies with all the imperfections. The only body which can determine this fair rent is the Revenue Court. There is an appeal provided to the Sub-Judge if there is any injustice done by the Revenue Court. As far as the fixation of fair rent is concerned, we have no quarrel with the Government. There is one point on which I feel very strongly and I want to make a passionate request to the Hon. the Chief Minister—unfortunately he is not here and I hope the other Hon. Ministers will convey it to him. Sir, if the fair rent fixed by the Revenue Court happens to be higher than the contract rent, what is the position? The then Hon. Minister, Mr. Madhava Menon, when he introduced the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1951, said that if there was to be any difference between the contract rent and the fair rent, the tenant need pay only that rent which was less. I think, that is a most reasonable proposal. It may be argued that the rent fixed should be fair to both sides. The hon. Member, Mr. Balasubramanya Ayyar, will argue on behalf of the landlords and say, that we must be fair to both sides. Sir, after all, what is the contract rent? The 'contract rent' is a rent imposed and dictated by the landlord to the tenant. It is not a free contract between the landlord and the tenant as such. It is a contract between an elephant and an ant."

SRI S. NARASAPPAYA:—"Landlords are only ants!"

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON:—"They belong to the elephant class. Sir, the rent is fixed by the landlord, and he says 'this is the contract rent'. Why are Government so anxious to help the landlord in getting a higher rent than he is getting to-day? Was there any agitation by the jannmis to increase the rent? No, Sir, I have not heard even a word about such an agitation. On the other hand, it is the tenants who are agitating that this rack-renting should go and the Government should come to their help. Therefore, it is not fair to ask the tenant to pay the fair rent if it happens to be higher than the contract rent. There is no logic behind it. There is no reason behind it. There is no humanitarian consideration behind it. Sir, if the Government accede to my request in respect of this matter, I will not say that, on account of the political pressure brought to bear upon the Government, they have conceded it. I will only say that it is only their goodwill that is responsible for it. I will not make political capital out of it. I am thankful to the Government for all that they have done to the people of Malabar. In this connection, I want to make a suggestion. If the fair rent is higher than the contract rent, the tenant should pay only a cent per cent increase in the contract rent. For example, if Rs. 10 is the contract rent and the fair rent is higher than that, the higher rent must never exceed more than cent per cent, that is, Rs. 20. In this connection, I wish to draw the attention of the House to the minute of dissent by the hon. Member, Sri K. Bashyam, another eminent lawyer in the Madras High Court, who knows the conditions of the Malabar tenants. (At this stage the Hon. the Chief Minister entered the House.) I am glad the Hon. the Chief Minister has come."

[Sri M. P. Govinda Menon] [11th January 1954]

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"I allow five more minutes to the hon. Member to finish his speech."

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON:—"Sir, now I am the only Member representing Malabar and I must be given more time."

"Sir, I was referring to the minute of dissent of the hon. Member, Sri Bashyam. He says, in his minute of dissent—

'I agree to the above dissent so far as it relates to the question of "fair rent". At least, a limit should be placed on the increase, say, about 20 per cent.'

Mr. Seethi Sahib, a stalwart Muslim Leaguer, and a supporter of the Government in the other House, also says, in his minute of dissent, that the tenant should pay fair rent or contract rent, whichever is less. I take this opportunity to make a very humble request to the Hon. the Chief Minister. I may tell frankly this House that we are not thinking in terms of gaining any political advantage over this issue. After all, what is the advantage or disadvantage gained to any party? If the Congress Government have done something to the tenants, my influence with the tenants is lessened to that extent. If the Government show goodwill to the tenants, the Congress prestige is increased. When I fight for the rights of the tenants of Malabar and more and more concessions are given by the Government, I lose the chance of attacking the Party in power. Therefore, I make this final appeal that the proposition, 'fair rent or contract rent whichever is less' shall be accepted. There is also another reason why we should accept it. So far this House has never contributed successfully by way of an amendment to any piece of legislation. At least on this occasion, let us send this Bill to the Assembly with this small amendment, thereby justifying our existence also. I am sure, if this amendment goes to the other House, the whole House will unanimously accept it."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"There are many other opportunities."

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON:—"I think, this may be taken as one such opportunity."

"Then, I come to eviction. As regards eviction, the Government have done a very good thing. The power of eviction has been restricted considerably. I know what advantages it will give to the persons who have been in possession of the land for six years. This is a very great concession. A large number of tenants will be benefited. The term 'primary needs' or 'bona fide' need mentioned in clause 15 of the Bill should not be there. Let us define what is 'primary need'. I know the Hon. the Chief Minister has many things in his mind. I know his heart and he wants to do many things for the tenants. But when clever lawyers come to the court, they will interpret the definition of 'primary need' in various ways. It may be argued that, what is the primary need of one man is not the primary need of another man and what is the primary need of a zamindar is not the primary need of an ordinary man. Thus, the concessions given by the Government will not be enjoyed by the tenants. Therefore, I request the Government to do away with clause (5) of section 14 or section 20 of the principal Act. After all, the Government have granted fixity of tenure and let them be generous in this respect also and see that there is no more eviction on any account in Malabar. We want that the tenant who is actually cultivating the land should be allowed to continue his cultivation. As the hon. Member, Dr. John, has pointed out, we do not want him to become the owner or the proprietor of the land he is cultivating. So long as he pays rent to the landlord, he should not be evicted.

"Then, I come to the question of alienation. Provision has been made in the Bill that an alienee can ask for eviction after a period of two years. That is too short a period. In this connection, I am reminded of a custom prevalent in Malabar. If one measure of paddy is to be given to a person, before it is actually given, something is taken away from it. In the same way, the Government want to give something but take away a part of it before it is actually given. The Government have given fixity of tenure to the tenants but, at the same time, they make provision for eviction in certain cases. I am not able to understand the motive behind it. The Government can be very generous in this matter also and create a psychological revolution in Malabar. The Hon. the Chief Minister can make the tenants of Malabar more happy by accepting some of the suggestions made by me. Let us send this Bill with the amendments suggested by me to the other House. Let the Assembly pass this amended Bill unanimously and it will be a glorious day. The Hon. the Chief Minister has rendered great services to this country in various ways. He is probably even now held in great respect and reverence in Malabar. Let him give an opportunity to the people of Malabar to hold him in greater respect and greater reverence by conferring absolute and unqualified fixity of tenure to the tenants and fixing the question of fair rent as 'fair rent or contract rent whichever is less.' These are the two small points which we put forth. I hope the Government will seriously consider them.

"Sir, we do not want to be ungrateful for the things that have been done, and I want to express a word of gratitude to the Government. I may tell the House that I never expected this Bill to go to this extent and I know to whom I am indebted for this. I am again repeating my request to that great heart to be a little more generous in considering this Bill on the 18th instant. We are on the 11th. Sir, there is one week's time for the Hon. the Chief Minister and the Law Minister to consider this passionate appeal made by Sri M. P. Govinda Menon, not on behalf of himself, not on behalf of his party and not for political purposes, but on behalf of the lakhs and lakhs of poor tenants of Malabar so that they may have a permanent tenure and lead a happy life. I hope, Sir, that within this week a miracle would happen. The other day the Hon. the Chief Minister said that we should not expect miracles to happen. But, I am a believer in miracles. Why should not the heart of the Chief Minister melt? He may reconsider these points and accept them."

L.A. BILL No. 12 OF 1953.

(As passed by the Assembly.)

A Bill further to amend the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1929.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1929 (Madras Act XIV of 1930), for the purposes hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title and commencement.—(1) This Act may be called the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954.

(2) It shall come into force on such date as the State Government may, by notification in the Fort St. George Gazette, appoint.

1-A. Amendment of section 2, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 2 of the principal Act,—

(i) in sub-section (1), the words “or for fugitive cultivation” shall be omitted;

(ii) in the same sub-section, after the words “for the market”, the words “or, subject to section 52-E, land let only for fugitive cultivation” shall be added.

2. Amendment of section 3, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 3 of the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1929 (Madras Act XIV of 1930) (hereinafter referred to as the principal Act)—

(i) in clause (f), defining “Fair rent”, for the words and figures “rent as determined in accordance with the provisions of Chapter II”, the words and figures “the rent payable in accordance with the provisions of Chapter II” shall be substituted;

(ii) clause (uu) defining “Rent Settlement Authority” shall be omitted; and in lieu thereof the following shall be inserted, namely:—

“(uu) ‘Rent Court’ means in relation to any area, the Rent Court constituted under this Act for such area, and where no Rent Court has been constituted, the Revenue Divisional Officer or the Tahsildar having jurisdiction over such area, appointed by the State Government to exercise the functions of Rent Court under this Act;”

(iii) in clause (v) defining ‘tenant’, the following shall be added at the end, namely:—

“but does not include a ‘mulgenidar’ as defined in the Mulgeni Rent Enhancement Act, 1920 (Madras Act XIII of 1920), in the villages in the South Kanara district specified in the schedule”;

[11th January 1954]

(iv) for clause (vv) defining ‘Ulkudi’ or ‘Kudikidappu’, the following clause shall be substituted, namely:—

“(vv) (i) ‘Ulkudi’ means a hut in any portion of a land outside Fort Cochin in the occupation of a person who has been permitted by the person entitled to possession of such land to occupy the hut and who otherwise has no interest in such land;

(ii) ‘Protected Ulkudi’ means an ulkudi which has been in the continuous occupation of the holder or of any member of his tarwad, tavazhi, illom, kutumba, kavaru or family for not less than one year;

Explanation.—Any interruption of the continuity of possession of an ulkudi that has taken place after 28th March 1953 and before the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954, comes into force shall be deemed not to have taken place.

(iii) ‘Kudikidappu’ means a hut in any portion of a land in Fort Cochin in the occupation of a person who has been permitted by the person entitled to possession of such land to occupy the hut and who otherwise has no interest in such land;”.

3. General amendments to Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In the principal Act, for the words “Rent Settlement Authority”, wherever they occur, the words “Rent Court” and for the words “Rent Settlement Authorities” in section 54 (2) (d), the words “Rent Courts” shall be substituted.

3-A. Amendment of section 4, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In the Explanation to clause (c) of section 4 of the principal Act, for the word “twenty-two” the word “twenty-five” shall be substituted.

4. Amendment of section 6, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 6 of the principal Act, the brackets and letter ‘(a)’ at the beginning of clause (a), and clause (b) shall be omitted.

4-A. Amendment of section 7, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 7 of the principal Act—

(i) in sub-section (1), after the words “fair rent” where they first occur, the words, figures and brackets “subject to sub-sections (5), (6) and (7),” shall be inserted;

(ii) in sub-section (2), for the word “one-sixth”, the word “one-eighth” shall be substituted;

(iii) after sub-section (4), the following sub-sections shall be inserted, namely:—

“(5) Fair rent determined under section 9-CC shall not exceed twice the rent payable for the agricultural year 1949-50 and fair rent determined under section 9-G shall in no case exceed twice the rent payable for the year immediately preceding the date of the application for revision.

(6) Where fair rent under sub-sections (2) to (5) exceeds the rent payable for the year 1949-50 or for the year immediately preceding the date of the application for revision, as the case may be, the increase shall be spread over more than one year so that in no year the rent shall be more than one and a quarter times the rent payable for the year immediately preceding.

[11th January 1954]

(7) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-sections (5) and (6) or section 9-E, the tenant may elect to pay in kind and, if he does so, the landlord shall be bound to accept, the share of the produce ascertained by the Rent Court in accordance with sub-sections (2) to (4)."

5. Amendment of section 8, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 8 of the principal Act—

(i) in sub-section (2), clause (a), in the first paragraph, for the words "eleventh year", the words "twelfth year" and for the words "every fifth year", the words "every sixth year" shall be substituted;

(ii) in the same sub-section and clause, in the proviso, for the words "five years", the words "six years", and for the words "fifth year" in both the places where they occur, the words "sixth year" shall be substituted;

(iii) in the same sub-section, after clause (c), the following provisos shall be added, namely:—

"Provided that nothing contained in this sub-section shall be deemed to affect any agreement in writing, registered, between the landlord and the tenant to the effect that the tenant shall pay rent for any such land every year (commencing from the seventh year after the planting of the crop), but in every such case the rent payable after the commencement of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954, shall not exceed one-sixth of the produce of the land for the year to which it relates:

Provided further that in the case referred to in the foregoing proviso, the assessment and local cesses referred to in clause c) shall be paid each year by the landlord and the tenant in the same proportion in which the produce of the land is shared between them";

(iv) sub-section (4) shall be omitted.

6. Amendment of section 9, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 9, clause (a), of the principal Act, after the word "municipality", the words "or cantonment" shall be inserted.

7. Amendment of section 9-B, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 9-B of the principal Act—

(i) for the portion beginning with the words "Notwithstanding anything contained" and ending with the words "in respect of the extent thereof", the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"Notwithstanding anything contained in sections 5 to 9, in the case of a protected ulkudi or a kudikidappu, if rent be payable for the site of the protected ulkudi or the kudikidappu under the permission granted for occupation, then, fair rent shall be an amount equal to twice the annual assessment payable in respect of the extent of the site";

[11th January 1954]

(ii) in the proviso, for the words "where there is a hut in the ulkudi or kudikidappu belonging to the landlord, the holder of the ulkudi or kudikidappu", the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"where the hut does not belong to the holder of the protected ulkudi or kudikidappu, the said holder";

(iii) after the words "for the hut" and before the words "as may be determined", the following words shall be inserted, namely:—

"as may be agreed on or in the absence of agreement".

8. Insertion of new section 9-BB in Madras Act XIV of 1930.—After section 9-B of the principal Act, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

"9-BB. Exclusion of certain lands from liability to fair rent.—Notwithstanding anything contained in sections 5 to 9-B, where any land included in a holding is set apart for communal purposes, and is used for such purposes, the extent of the land so set apart shall not be taken into account when determining the fair rent of the holding in accordance with those sections."

9. Substitution of new sections for section 9-C in Madras Act XIV of 1930.—For section 9-C of the principal Act, the following sections shall be substituted, namely:—

"9-C. Rent Courts.—(1) The State Government may, by notification in the Fort St. George Gazette, constitute for any area specified therein, a Rent Court which shall be presided over by an officer not below the rank of a Tahsildar for the purpose of performing the functions entrusted to a Rent Court by this Act.

(2) In hearing an application under this Act, the Rent Court shall, so far as may be, have the same powers as are vested in, and follow the same procedure as is followed by, a Court of Small Causes hearing a suit or other proceeding under the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act, 1887 (Central Act IX of 1887), subject to the modification that the Rent Court shall have the power to depute any officer of the Revenue Department to make local enquiry and inspection and to collect data and the report and the records submitted by such officer may be read as evidence in the case.

9-CC. Determination of fair rent by Rent Court.—If any dispute arises as to the amount of fair rent payable in respect of any land under the foregoing provisions of this Chapter, either the tenant, or, after the expiry of three years from the commencement of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954, the landlord may apply to the Rent Court for the determination of the fair rent; and on such application being made, the fair rent shall be determined by the Rent Court:

[11th January 1954]

Provided that such determination shall take effect in respect of any agricultural year, only if the application is made in that year or within three months of the expiry thereof."

10. Amendment of section 9-D, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 9-D of the principal Act, for the words, brackets, figures and letter " under sub-section (4) of section 8 or under sub-section (1) of section 9-C ", the words, figure and letters " under section 9-CC " shall be substituted.

11. Substitution of new section for section 9-G in Madras Act XIV of 1930.—For section 9-G of the principal Act, the following section shall be substituted, namely:—

" 9-G. Revision of fair rent.—The fair rent determined by the Rent Court shall not be liable to be revised on the application of the landlord before the expiry of twelve years from the date of the order of the Rent Court, but may for sufficient cause be reduced by the said Court on the application of the tenant."

12. Repeal of section 9-H, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—Section 9-H of the principal Act shall be repealed.

13. Amendment of section 10, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 10 of the principal Act, for the words ' an ulkudi ' the words ' a protected ulkudi ' shall be substituted.

14. Insertion of new section 11 in Madras Act XIV of 1930.—After section 10 of the principal Act, the following shall be inserted as section 11, namely:—

" 11. Right to prove real nature of transaction.—(1) Notwithstanding anything in the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 (Central Act I of 1872), or in any other law for the time being in force, any person interested in any land may plead, adduce evidence and prove that a transaction entered into on or after the 1st January 1916 and purporting to be a mortgage of that land is not in fact a mortgage, but a transaction by way of kanam, kanam kuzhikanam, kuzhikanam, verumpattam or other lease, under which the transferee is entitled to fixity of tenure in accordance with the provisions of section 10.

(2) Where under the last foregoing sub-section the court holds that the transferee is entitled to fixity of tenure in accordance with the provisions of section 10, it shall be lawful for the court to pass a decree containing directions regarding the application of the sum, if any, advanced to the landlord and making other suitable alterations in the terms recorded in the instrument executed by the parties."

15. Amendment of sections 14 and 20, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In sections 14 and 20 of the principal Act—

(1) after clause (5), the following shall be added, namely:—

" Explanation.—In considering requirements for maintenance, regard shall be had only to primary needs."

[11th January 1954]

(2) in clause (6) the word ' bona fide ' occurring between the word ' thereof ' and the words ' for the purpose ' shall be omitted and between the words ' a building ' and the words ' for his own residence ' the word ' bona fide ' shall be inserted;

(3) in the second proviso—

(i) in clause (ii), for the words ' an ulkudi ', the words ' a protected ulkudi ' shall be substituted;

(ii) after clause (ii), the following shall be added as clause (iii), namely:—

" (iii) no person whose right to evict arises under an instrument of transfer inter vivos shall be entitled to sue for eviction on the ground specified in clause (5) or clause (6) until the expiry of two years from the date of the instrument."

(4) in section 14 of the principal Act, after the Explanation to clause (5), add the following:—

" Exception.—Nothing in this clause shall apply to any holding which has been in the continuous occupation of the tenant or of any member of his tarwad, tavazhi, illom, kutumba, kavaru or family for not less than six years."

16. . . .

17. Substitution of new section for section 28, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—For section 28 of the principal Act, the following section shall be substituted, namely:—

" 28. Every cultivating tenant of a holding other than a kanamdar or customary verumpattamdar, every tenant of a commercial site who is entitled to fixity of tenure under this Act, every tenant of a kudiyiruppu, every holder of a protected ulkudi and every holder of a kudikidappu shall be bound to pay to his landlord—

(a) in case fair rent has been determined under section 9-CC, such fair rent as modified in appeal, if any, under section 9-D,

(b) in case there has been no such determination, the rent agreed to by both the parties to be the fair rent payable in accordance with the provisions of sections 4 to 9-B,

(c) in case there is no such agreement, the fair rent, if any, fixed under this Act, as it stood before the commencement of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1951 (Madras Act XXXIII of 1951), or

(d) in case no fair rent has been fixed as aforesaid, the rent payable according to the contract, express or implied between the parties:

Provided that in the case mentioned in clause (a), where there is a contract, the tenant shall, until the expiration of the period of contract, pay at his choice, either the contract rent or the fair rent and shall thereafter pay the fair rent."

[11th January 1954]

18. Amendment of section 29, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 29, sub-section (2), of the principal Act, for the word 'municipality' in the two places where it occurs, the words 'municipality or cantonment' shall be substituted.

19. Substitution of new section for section 35 in Madras Act XIV of 1930.—For section 35 of the principal Act, the following section shall be substituted, namely:—

" 35. Landlords' rights in relation to protected ulkudi and kudikidappu.—In the case of a protected ulkudi or a kudikidappu, the person entitled to possession of the land in which the protected ulkudi or the kudikidappu is situate shall be entitled to provide an alternative and suitable site of equal area in any other portion of the same land or in any other land at his disposal in the same revenue village and the holder of the protected ulkudi or kudikidappu shall be bound to accept the arrangement and be entitled to receive from the person providing the alternative site the expenses reasonably required to shift to the said site."

20. Amendment of section 39, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 39, sub-section (1), of the principal Act, in the proviso, for the words 'an ulkudi', the words 'a protected ulkudi' shall be substituted.

20-A. Amendment of section 51, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 51 of the principal Act—

(a) in sub-section (1)—

(i) for the words "every month", the words "in the months of January, April, July and October every year" shall be substituted;

(ii) for the words "current market price", the words "the average market price during the immediately preceding three months" shall be substituted;

(b) for sub-section (2), the following sub-section shall be substituted, namely:—

" (2) Where, for the payment of rent or michavaram by a tenant to whom the provisions of this Act apply, the cash value of any of the crops referred to in sub-section (1) has to be determined, such value shall be determined at the market price at the taluk headquarters last published under sub-section (1) before the date when such rent or michavaram became payable."

21. Repeal of section 52-A, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—Section 52-A of the principal Act is hereby repealed.

22. Insertion of new sections 52-C, 52-D and 52-E in Madras Act XIV of 1930.—After section 52-B of the principal Act, the following sections shall be inserted, namely:—

" 52-C. Surrender deeds executed by tenants previously not to affect their rights in certain cases.—(1) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (2), any document executed by a cultivating

[11th January 1954]

verumpattamdar after the 28th July 1950 and before the commencement of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954, purporting to affect his rights or status as tenant shall be voidable at the option of the cultivating verumpattamdar:

Provided that the landlord or his successor-in-interest has not admitted any other tenant to the possession of the land before the 28th March 1953.

(2) Any person entitled to rescission of a document under the provisions of sub-section (1) shall, within three months of the commencement of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954, send a notice by registered post to the landlord demanding possession of the land. On such notice being sent, the cultivating verumpattamdar shall be entitled to be restored to possession of the land as if no such document had been executed and he shall have all the rights (including the right to dispossess any other person who has been let into possession of the land on or after the 28th March 1953) of a cultivating verumpattamdar as if he had been in possession as such verumpattamdar on the date of commencement of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954, and shall become liable to restore to the landlord any money or other consideration received from him under the document.

(3) A person who has sent a notice under sub-section (2), may institute a suit for possession of the land within six months of the commencement of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954, against the landlord and any person let into possession of the land on or after the 28th March 1953. The Court shall, in such suit, on proof of the facts stated in sub-section (1), pass a decree for possession:

Provided that, if the plaintiff has received any money or other consideration under the document from the landlord, the Court shall make the execution of such decree conditional on the restoration of such money or the money equivalent of such consideration with such interest as the Court may deem just.

(4) The rights conferred by sub-sections (1), (2) and (3) are personal to the cultivating verumpattamdar who executed the document and cannot be exercised by any person claiming to be such cultivating verumpattamdar's successor-in-interest as heir, assignee or otherwise:

Provided that, if such cultivating verumpattamdar dies during the pendency of a suit instituted by him under sub-section (3), such suit may be continued by his legal representative subject to the defences available against the original plaintiff.

52-D. Special provision for application of the Act to tenures prevailing in South Kanara district.—If any difficulty arises in the application of the provisions of this Act as amended by the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1951 (Madras Act XXXIII of 1951), and the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954, to the villages of South Kanara district to which this Act applies, on account of local variations between the tenures prevailing in the said villages

[11th January 1954]

(by whatever name such tenures may be known) and the corresponding tenures prevailing in the Malabar district, the State Government may, by notification published in the Fort St. George Gazette, direct that the said provisions shall apply to the aforesaid villages of South Kanara district subject to such adaptations, exceptions and modifications as may be specified in this behalf in such notification.

52-E. Rent for fugitive cultivation.—Where only a crop known in Malabar as Punam crop is raised on land let for fugitive cultivation, rent shall be twice the assessment payable on the land or, where the land has not been assessed, twice the assessment payable on similar land in the neighbourhood."

23. Amendment of section 54, Madras Act XIV of 1930.—In section 54 of the principal Act, for sub-section (3), the following sub-section shall be substituted, namely:—

"(3) The rules made under this Act shall, on publication in the Fort St. George Gazette, have effect as if enacted in this Act. The rules shall be placed on the table of the Legislative Assembly of the State as soon as possible after they are published and shall be subject to such modifications whether by way of repeal or amendment as the Assembly may make during the session in which they are so laid."

24. Amendment of section 53, Madras Act XXXIII of 1951.—In section 53 of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1951 (Madras Act XXXIII of 1951)—

(i) for the words "from the commencement of this Act", the words, brackets and figures "from the commencement of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954", and for the words and figures "six agricultural years beginning with 1944-45 and ending with 1949-50", the words and figures "six agricultural years beginning with 1947-48 and ending with 1952-53" shall be substituted;

(ii) after the words "as amended by this Act", the words, brackets and figures "and the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954" shall be inserted;

(iii) for the words "any arrears of rent", the words "any outstanding arrears of rent" shall be substituted.

25. Repeal of Madras Act XXIV of 1949 in its application to the Malabar district and of sections 54 and 55 of Madras Act XXXIII of 1951.—(1) The Madras Tenants and Ryots Protection Act, 1949 (Madras Act XXIV of 1949), in so far as it applies to the district of Malabar, the Gudalur taluk of the Nilgiri district and the villages in the South Kanara district which are specified in the Schedule to the principal Act, and sections 54 and 55 of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1951 (Madras Act XXXIII of 1951), are hereby repealed.

[11th January 1954]

(2) All suits, appeals and other proceedings (other than proceedings in execution of a decree or order) which are pending at the commencement of this Act and in respect of the subject-matter of which the provisions of the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1929, are in force, shall, from and after such commencement, be disposed of in accordance with the provisions of the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1929, as amended by Madras Act XXXIII of 1951 and this Act:

Provided that in any such suit or proceeding the court may award full costs to the plaintiff or applicant if it is satisfied that the claim made in the suit or proceeding was in accordance with the law in force at the time of the institution of such suit or proceeding:

Provided further that where suits, execution and other proceedings have been stayed by courts under section 54 or 55 of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1951 (Madras Act XXXIII of 1951), without going into the question whether they came under section 54 or 55, and stay has been ordered without deposit as required by section 4 of the Madras Tenants and Ryots Protection Act, 1949 (Madras Act XXIV of 1949), then the court shall have discretion, notwithstanding the time limit fixed by section 4 of the Madras Tenants and Ryots Protection Act, 1949 (Madras Act XXIV of 1949), to allow such deposits to be made within three months after the commencement of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954.

(3) Where the execution of a decree or order stands stayed under the Madras Tenants and Ryots Protection Act, 1949, or section 54 or section 55 of the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1951, the tenant may, within a month after due service of notice on an application to execute such decree or order or within six months of the commencement of this Act, whichever event happens earlier, file an application to the court which passed the decree or order, to amend the decree or order on the ground that such decree or order would not have been made if the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1929, as amended by Madras Act XXXIII of 1951 and this Act were in force immediately before the passing of the decree or order. If, on such application being made, the court finds that such decree or order would not have been made if the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1929, as amended by Madras Act XXXIII of 1951 and this Act were in force immediately before the passing of the decree or order, the court shall, after receiving such additional pleadings and such further evidence as it considers just and necessary, amend the decree or order so as to be in accord with the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1929, as amended by Madras Act XXXIII of 1951 and this Act. If no such application is filed within the time allowed or if such application is filed and dismissed, the decree or order may, subject to the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (Central Act V of 1908), and the Indian Limitation Act, 1908 (Central Act IX of 1908), be executed in accordance with its tenor.

[11th January 1954]

(4) The date on which any decree or order is amended under sub-section (3) shall, for the purposes of section 48 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, and Article 182 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, be deemed to be the date of the decree or order.

26. The Secretary to Government in the Law Department shall renumber the sections and divisions of sections of the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1929, as amended by this Act, so that the sections and divisions shall bear consecutive numbers or letters as the case may be and make necessary consequential corrections in the references to sections and divisions of sections occurring in the Act; and the Act so prepared and certified by the said officer shall be deemed to be the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1929, as amended by the Malabar Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1954.

THE MADRAS INDEBTED AGRICULTURISTS
(TEMPORARY RELIEF) BILL, 1954 (L.A. BILL
No. 8 OF 1954) (AS PASSED BY THE ASSEMBLY)

THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

Monday, 18th January 1954.

The House met in the Council Chamber, Fort St. George, at eleven of the clock, Mr. Chairman (THE HON. DR. P. V. CHERIAN) in the Chair.

THE MADRAS INDEBTED AGRICULTURISTS (TEMPORARY RELIEF) BILL, 1954 (L.A. BILL NO. 8 OF 1954) (AS PASSED BY THE ASSEMBLY)

* THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—
“Sir, I beg to move—

‘That the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 8 of 1954) (as passed by the Assembly) be taken into consideration.’

I do not have much to say on this Bill. It has been before the public for quite a long time, first in the form of an Ordinance, then as a published Bill, and now after being passed by the Assembly it has come over here. The Bill is very short and simple. The object is to give a sort of relief to the ryots just for a year especially as they had gone through a gruelling time for the past five or six years owing to drought and famine conditions. The Bill has been passed in the Assembly with many changes. They are all welcome changes, and all that is desirable has been done. I may say that the Bill as it is now is like cream got after churning the milk well, and therefore I think it will be very acceptable. I commend the Bill for the acceptance of the House.”

MR. CHAIRMAN:—“Motion moved—

‘That the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 8 of 1954) (as passed by the Assembly) be taken into consideration.’”

DR. V. K. JOHN:—“Mr. Chairman, Sir, under rule 109 of the Madras Council Rules, I move—

‘That the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill, 1954, be referred to a Select Committee.’”

“Rule 109 provides that any member may (if the Bill has not already been referred to a Select Committee of the Assembly or to a Joint Committee of both Houses but not otherwise) move as an amendment that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee. I understand that the Bill was not referred to a Select Committee in the Assembly and I know that it was not referred to a Joint Select Committee. Therefore I have moved the motion.

“Sir, this is a highly controversial measure, a measure with far-reaching consequences. I am deeply sympathetic to any measure which is intended for the solution of the problem of the indebtedness of not only agriculturists but also of the middle classes who are suffering from chronic indebtedness. This Bill was preceded by an Ordinance. I realise that the Bill was introduced not as a political stunt or as a bid for popularity as somebody complained, but was introduced out of the large-heartedness and great kindness which our Chief Minister has towards the suffering people. When the first Congress Ministry was formed in this State in 1937, he introduced the Agriculturists Relief Bill. Later on he introduced many measures which only evidence his large-heartedness and kind-heartedness. But we have to analyse and find out whether the solution now offered is correct or not. If I criticize the solution now offered, I am not doing it as a matter of captious criticism; I am only trying to assist the Government to introduce a measure which will help the solution of the problem of agricultural indebtedness. The essence of this Bill is the freezing of debts due from agriculturists. I realize that the measure is only for one year.”

18th January 1954] [Dr. V. K. John]

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—“It may be extended.”

DR. V. K. JOHN:—“I will come to that later on. I know that the Bill underwent many changes in the Assembly. I am glad to find that the Chief Minister as very accommodative. In spite of the changes made, I say that the principle underlying this Bill is wrong and very defective. The principle is the freezing of debts due from agriculturists. This is a wrong approach to the solution of the problem of agricultural indebtedness. If we freeze debts, the reaction will be that hereafter loans will become very shy. As soon as the Congress Party took over the reins of Government, they gave publicity to the fact that they might nationalise many industries and private undertakings. The declaration of this policy frightened people who were in a position to invest some money into industry and business. People did not know where they stood and capital became shy. The result was unemployment and fall in production. The Government have since reversed this policy and said that in many matters the private sector will be allowed to operate. If we create the impression that loans will be frozen, then loans will become very shy. This is an elementary thing which anybody can understand. People will think twice or thrice before they advance any loan, because they do not know what will happen to that loan.

“Agriculturist debtors will certainly agitate for the extension of this Act beyond the one-year period. I find that the Hon. the Chief Minister has given an assurance that this Act will not be extended. But I am as positive as he is positive that the Act will not be extended, that there will be an agitation for extension and the Government will find it almost impossible not to grant the extension. Extension of time for payment of debt will ultimately lead to extinction of debt. In the history of the economic structure of society throughout the centuries, two factors have been in operation—one is exploitation and the other is expropriation. What will happen in this case is that the agitation will continue and at the end expropriation will take place. This is giving a handle to agitators. There will be continued agitation, particularly by a certain section of the people, the Communists, for extending the Act. The Chief Minister who undertook a whirlwind tour in Travancore-Cochin State compared the Communists to tigers and scorpions. But previous to that, he called the Communists his enemy No. 1. But I think this Act will give him an opportunity to call them his ally No. 1, because he is on the path which will encourage agitation by this section of the people not only for extension of time for repayment but for the very extinction of the debt."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Does the hon. Member want the Bill to be referred to a Select Committee or is he opposing the Bill?"

DR. V. K. JOHN:—"I want a Select Committee for examining the very principle underlying this Bill.

"I have got one serious objection. This Act is indiscriminate in its application. I know that certain exemptions have been introduced which will do justice to certain cases. On a superficial reading it may be said that this Bill embodies the three leading characteristics of British legislation in matters like this, namely, conflict of interests, compromise, and caution. There is conflict of interest between creditor and debtor, the Government have effected a compromise by granting some exemptions, and they are proceeding cautiously as they have put the life of this Act only at one year. But if we go deep, we will find that it is indiscriminate in its application. I boldly assert that it is so indiscriminate as to dislocate and destroy the economy of the country-side. It is indiscriminate in its application like an atom bomb which destroys not only those who deserve to die but also those who deserve to live.

"The widow who lent money will have to wait for one year, and she will not get her money for a year. So long ago as the time in which Socrates lived, it was accepted that a general principle enunciated for all would work hardship in particular cases. In all civilised countries, the law has two characteristics, namely, certainty and flexibility. In this case there is certainty but hardly any flexibility at all. I would suggest that it is for an impartial tribunal to consider the question whether in a particular case justice would be done by a decree passed against the debtor and money realised quickly or by a decree asking the debtor to pay money in instalments or by staying the execution proceedings for a long time. I do not know why the Government would not leave this matter to judicial officers—impartial tribunals—to look into the relative position of the debtor and the creditor. It may be that the creditor is a more needy person. In country parts a loan is not always an investment at all. It may be merely sympathy which impels a creditor to give a loan to an agriculturist. Now, is that creditor to suffer for his sympathy? Therefore, the proper course to be adopted, if such a Bill is to be introduced, is not to order the stay of execution proceedings or to prevent or bar the filing of suits in Courts, but to ask a judge to go into the matter bearing in mind one important point, namely, that the agriculturists must have sufficient money to cultivate their lands during the year. That judge will examine in a summary manner whether in a particular case the agriculturist or the borrower is a rich man, and he can afford to repay the debt, or whether he himself wants that money for cultivating his lands. There are hundreds and hundreds of cases which will differ from one another, and justice has to be done to all. This Bill has no flexibility at all. It lays down certain rigid rules. I am sure that this Bill, when passed into law, will be applied indiscriminately, and this law will work great hardship on poor people. I suggest that freezing of debts, even if that were allowed, should not be indiscriminate. There must be flexibility and elasticity and the only way to get flexibility is to ask a tribunal, even if it be in a summary manner, to go into the relative position of the debtor and the creditor. Then only justice can be done. Justice is not done under this bill, and I am afraid great justice would be done to the people and this Bill, as I already stated, will become an atom bomb and will destroy everybody and the economic fabric of the countryside. I condemn the principle and also the provisions of this Bill. What is required in solving the problem of agrarian indebtedness is not freezing of debts. The one way of solving the problem is first to see that there is no usurious money-lending in villages. If Rajaji not only bars the filing of suits by usurious money-lenders but also extinguishes their loans to agriculturists—they may have collected many times their principal—I would be the first man to support him. Because usurious money-lending is exploitation of the agriculturists. Let us see that there is no exploitation. In a conflict between exploitation and expropriation, we should condemn both. A usurious money-lender is an exploiter, and if the Government should extinguish his loans to agriculturists, they (the Government) need not worry about it very much. But, Sir, there are other ways of solving the problem. The Government must sit down and think out what is the best way of solving this chronic problem of agricultural indebtedness and also the indebtedness of others, particularly the middle classes. The one way of solving the problem is to give employment to all people. Let them earn and let them work hard."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"The hon. Member is straying from the main points. The hon. Member has five minutes more."

DR. V. K. JOHN:—"I am giving a constructive suggestion, Sir."

[18th January 1954]

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"The hon. Member is not to make a very long speech."

DR. V. K. JOHN:—"I am speaking on the merits of the Bill, Sir. I am giving a constructive suggestion as to how the problem of agricultural indebtedness can be solved. I am saying that the principle underlying the Bill is wrong, and that it must be examined by a Select Committee. My suggestion to the Government is that they should first introduce a Bill which will enable people in the country-side to work hard and earn, and this can be accomplished by bringing in agrarian reforms and by decentralising administration. The Government must encourage co-operative societies in villages to pool the resources of the rich, and bring money in. If this Bill is passed into law, who knows whether this will not affect the co-operative societies in the villages? People will fight shy of putting their money into co-operative societies. Another defect of this Bill is that, it opens up by saying that it is in the interests of the general public that freezing of debts should happen. If it is in the interests of the general public, why should the burden be taken up by a body of people who are merely small creditors in the villages? Why should not the Government or the general tax payer take up that burden? Why don't the Government give remission of kist to the agriculturist? The Government are free. The co-operative societies are free. But who is not free? The poor people in the villages who have given loans are not free. I say that the principle underlying this Bill is wrong, and that it should be examined by a Select Committee. There is a rush in all these matters, and if the Chief Minister will excuse my saying so, this is not only evidence of his kind-heartedness but also evidence of his feeling that there is nobody near him in his intellectual eminence. It is intellectual arrogance. It is also evidence of his autocratic method. He first introduced the ordinance under Article 213, which is not applicable. Probably he thought that the ordinance would gather public opinion, which it did. I condemn the principle underlying this Bill, namely, freezing of debts. This Bill will not solve the problem of agricultural indebtedness. On the other hand it will do just the opposite. I, therefore, think it necessary that the Bill should be referred to a Select Committee to examine the principles of the Bill."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"The amendment has been moved—

'That the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill, 1954, be referred to a Select Committee.
The original motion and the amendment are now before the House for discussion."

SRI V. CHAKKARAI CHETTY:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, I support the amendment that has been moved, not on the grounds put forward by the hon. Member Dr. John, but on just the very opposite grounds. The Mover of the amendment said that this would give a hand to the agitators and that this would lead to a good deal of agitation. I do not know whether the hon. Member Dr. John has any comprehensive and revolutionary proposal to put a stop to agitation in this world. As a matter of fact, he himself has been principally responsible for a good deal of agitation in regard to this and other matters. If agitation is put an end to, I do not know what position the hon. Member Dr. John will occupy in public life. After all, agitation is the very breath of our life, as a great Congress leader in the past used to say as against the British Government which always condemned agitation and agitators because agitators were rather disliked by them in those days since they wanted to lead a quiet life. I do not believe that the Hon. the Chief Minister or this Government want to lead an easy-going life. On the contrary, they are living in difficult times."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"The motion and the amendment are before the House for discussion. But the hon. Member is talking of something else."

SRI V. CHAKKARAI CHETTY:—"Sir, I am only supporting the amendment on the ground that this measure should be more thoroughly examined and not to stop agitation or to placate anybody of people whom the Hon. the Chief Minister or anybody else may regard as enemy No. 1, No. 2, No. 3, No. 4 or No. 5."

18th January 1954] [Sri V. Chakkarai Chetty]

As a matter of fact, I do not believe the Hon. the Chief Minister has any enemies at all in this country. Sir, I am always amenable to reason. When the Hon. the Chief Minister puts forward a reasonable proposal, I am prepared to support it with all my might and main. I do not think that the matter should be looked at from the point of view of any particular political party being regarded as enemies. Even the Communists in this country are in one sense very good allies of the Hon. the Chief Minister for the simple reason that they are trying to make him realize the responsibilities of his high office. In that way, one should certainly be thankful to them. Unless the Ministry in power understands this position, it is likely to run into greater dangers. Therefore, it is being warned in time that unless proper measures are taken to ameliorate the conditions of those who have been suffering from disabilities for long, greater dangers and more of revolutions are inevitable. That has happened in other countries of the world when the Government concerned were adamant and ignored the representations of rebel parties. A time came in those countries when the rebel parties disappeared and the most revolutionary parties had the upper hand and overthrew the Government. I do not know whether the hon. Member Dr. John wants to give a warning in regard to the more revolutionary parties which believe in real violence and overthrow of constitutional Government in this country.

"Sir, this Bill may be examined further for the simple reason that it does not go far enough to bring about contentment and satisfaction among the indebted labourers in agricultural areas. I believe that the Government would have before them a lot of materials to strengthen their position. I believe that they would have gathered information as to the amount of agricultural indebtedness in this country, especially in Tamil Nad. I remember some years ago a report was published by an officer of the Government, giving details of agricultural indebtedness. From the figures given then, of which I have only a vague recollection now, it was evident that indebtedness was enormous. The Government have now been roused to give some kind of relief to those people who have been suffering for long. My own suggestion would be that all debts should be extinguished. That is a good suggestion to make and it is feasible without any injustice being done to any particular party. If it is possible for the Government to assume responsibility for all the indebtedness and to pay back the creditors, it will be an even greater blessing and it will satisfy even the soul of the hon. Member Dr. John in that no injustice will be done to anybody because all debts will be honourably repaid. Well, it seems to me that creditors belong to a very superior class of philanthropists. They lend money on purely altruistic grounds and for the sake of helping people in need. They have abundant sympathy for the poor. The milk of kindness is flowing from them. But I do not know what kind of people agitators are. Generally, people won't lend money unless there is plenty of money to lend. It seems to me that all these questions cannot be referred to a judicial tribunal. If they are s referred, it will simply mean protracted trials which will not be liked by the creditors at all. For all these reasons, I support the amendment and hope that the Select Committee that may be appointed to go into all these questions will see whether greater justice cannot be done to the debtors without altogether destroying credit facilities in our country. The hon. Member Dr. V. K. John made a passing suggestion that nationalization has frozen capital. I do not believe that is the reason. Whether there is going to be nationalization or not, the labouring classes are now quite alive to their position and responsibilities and will not allow capitalists to exploit them for their own benefit. That is the reason why capital is shy and it is not because of the Government's coming forward to nationalize some of the industries. I do believe that this Bill has to be referred to a Select Committee so that it may be made more liberal and satisfactory from the point of view of the debtors than it is to-day. With these words, I support the amendment moved by hon. Member Dr. John for reasons that are not exactly the same as those that he has put forward."

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—"Mr. Chairman, I support the motion for referring the Bill to a Select Committee, not on the ground that I accept the principles of the Bill and the Select Committee can examine the various amendments, but on the ground that we must carefully examine whether it is proper, whether it is useful, whether the Bill is based on principles of sound economy and whether we should have a moratorium at all like this. Those are the questions that should be examined by a Select Committee. I think the chief aim of Dr. John in making this motion is to give sufficient opportunity for a Select Committee to examine all these very important issues. It may be that moratorium may be frequently resorted to hereafter by our Government. Because, I am afraid that agricultural indebtedness cannot and will not be removed completely even within the life of the present Government. We must carefully look into the working of the various co-operative societies in our State and also the various annual reports prepared by them. Even in 1945, the Gadgil Committee had gone thoroughly into the whole matter and they have found that co-operative societies were under very great disabilities especially in the matter of granting loans on a short-term credit basis and also cheap loans on personal credit of the debtor for the agriculturist wants loans at a particular time during the season. He is sure to take a loan during the season and he will pay it back after the harvest. He can sell the paddy produced on the land and he can pay the debt back. Agriculturists want the loan on a short-term basis during the period of cultivation. There are many things which they have to buy and for which they have to raise a loan. During the time of cultivation, they have to incur expenses in buying seeds, manure, ammonium sulphate and things like that and even cattle, the price of which is very high nowadays. Besides these, they have to perform a number of social duties and obligations, such as marriages, for which also they have to incur heavy expenditure. For all these purposes the agriculturists have necessarily to raise loans on a short-term basis.

"So far as the co-operative societies are concerned, the Gadgil Committee report has made the position clear, by stating that the co-operative societies were finding it very difficult to give short-term loans. The whole procedure is very complicated. Moreover, the co-operative societies look also to the solvency of the agriculturists. When they observe so many formalities like this, it is very difficult for them to give short-term loans immediately on personal credit. Therefore it is I say that the co-operative societies will not be of very great use and will not help the agriculturists to an appreciable degree. The other alternatives open to the agriculturists in our country are private money-lenders, commercial concerns, industrial corporations, Banks, chit funds and other organizations. The agriculturists have to rely on these organizations. Therefore I am constrained to say that this Bill, when passed into an Act, will disturb the rural credit as a whole in this State and this will not be beneficial to the agriculturists themselves, whom the Government want to help. I do not say anything against the motive behind this Bill. The Government's motive is quite laudable. It is for the purpose of giving some breathing time to the agriculturists. Oh, yes. Certainly, we agree. But, is this the way to do it? This is a new way of paying old debts and we have to be very careful in this matter. Agriculturists have to borrow in a particular season. That is the state of things in which we find ourselves placed to-day. That will continue to be so unless everybody gets into an Arcadia of peasants toiling and moiling for their own satisfaction without being indebted to any society or anybody and when in each one is a peasant proprietor, full, strong and robust, doing his duty."

SRI T. PURUSHOTHAM:—"Mr. Chairman, I rise to support the motion that the Bill be taken into consideration and to oppose the amendment moved by the Deputy Leader of the Opposition, hon. Member Dr. V. K. John. Some of the hon. Members who preceded me, have adduced different reasons as to why this Bill should be referred to a Select Committee. Hon. Members will remember that a non-official resolution was moved by my hon. Friend Sri Annamalai Pillai in this house that a moratorium of this kind should be declared as early as possible to relieve agricultural distress. After all, this is only an emergency measure and I do not think there can be any objection to have this simple Bill passed in this House. I have attended some of the ryots' conferences presided over by my Friend the Hon. Sri M. Bhaktavatsalam, especially in the Chingleput district in places like Vallur, Tiruvallure and so on. In those conferences, resolutions were adopted by agriculturists requesting the Government to grant one year's moratorium. (Sri K. Balasubramania Ayyar: 'Were there creditors?') Yes, they were there. This Bill will do some good to the agriculturists. After all, the objection to this Bill seems to be that it will disturb rural credits. That is a different problem and has to be tackled in a permanent way and not while considering a temporary Bill of this kind. Perhaps, the establishment of an agricultural credit corporation on the lines of the industrial credit corporation may solve this question. But, that is a different problem altogether covering a large field of agricultural economy and should not be mixed up with the consideration of this emergency Bill. Even the establishment of an agricultural credit corporation will only help the bigger ryots to get tractors and things like that, and the small landholders and ryots will necessarily have to depend on co-operative societies and Government loans. The Government loans are now being given by different agencies. The takkavi loans are given, some by the Agricultural department and other items by the Revenue department. I raised this question some time ago and suggested that there must be only one agency to distribute these loans to the ryots, and that agency may be the Revenue department under a special loans officer for each taluk, and the Agricultural department need not have anything to do with it. The then Minister for Agriculture, Sri Nagan Gowda promised to examine the question. There is great difficulty and delay in the agriculturists getting these Government loans for various purposes. These are vital aspects of the rural problem that should be carefully examined. As stated by the hon. Member Sri Bhashyam Ayyangar the other day, most of the agriculturists do not really know about the several kinds of loans that they could get and the procedure to be followed. They are not getting necessary assistance at the hands of the subordinate officials at taluk level. They are completely ignorant of the different loans they could get and the different channels of applications to get these loans. Information regarding these matters must be published in the form of a 'Villagers' Guide Book and circulated to the ryots in the regional languages. I am sure the Government will consider this aspect of the question and take steps to instruct the departmental subordinates to guide the ryots in the proper way. I also feel that the Government should take steps permanently to solve the question of rural credit though that may be considered separately. The Bill that is before the House is only intended to afford some temporary relief to the agriculturists and I hope it will be welcomed by all sections of the House. With these words, I support the motion that the Bill be taken into consideration."

SRI T. G. KRISHNAMURTHI:—"Mr. Chairman, I rise to oppose the amendment moved by the hon. Member Dr. John and to support the Bill. I was indeed surprised when I heard hon. Member Dr. John, as I did not know when he became the protagonist of creditors. Because, I heard him some time ago deciding to champion the cause of the 'have-nots' in the same House."

"Our impression is that the Bill, coming as it does at this stage, is really a God-send to the indebted agriculturists. Hon. Member Dr. John stated an amusing fact that the creditor was actuated by humanitarian principles when he advanced loans to agriculturists. Of course, the creditor has as much sympathy for his debtor as a cat has for the mouse when it plays with it before devouring it. That is our experience in the rural areas. Another misconception seems to be that so long as the moratorium is there, no debtor will pay his debt. That is not the case. Debtors who can afford to repay the debts will pay. They would not like the idea of being debtors for ever. (Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar: 'That is not our experience'.) That is not the experience of creditors, the hon. Member Mr. Balasubramania Ayyar says. But I am not a creditor. I am a debtor and that is why I am welcoming it. I am an agriculturist debtor. If what hon. Member Mr. Balasubramania Ayyar says is a fact, most of the creditors would have gone out of business by now. They manage to get back their dues. They do not stop there. They even fleece their debtors and that is what is happening in the rural areas. Conscientious debtors there are just as there might be a few conscientious creditors. One thing, I would request the Government to look into. So many hon. Members in this House champion the cause of creditors. (The Hon. Sri C. Rajagopalachari: 'Not many'.) Yes, only a few; there cannot be many in these days. Creditors may take it into their head to be a bit conservative in coming forward to advance loans to the agriculturists. The Government should, therefore, come forward to enlarge the credit facilities now available to the agriculturists. The hon. Member Mr. T. Purushothama Mudaliar referred to the delay in disbursing loans. This delay should be curtailed. I know of a funny incident which occurred in my place seven months ago. An agriculturist applied for a loan to the District Collector. Unfortunately, the petitioner was not aware that he ought to have gone and interviewed the clerk concerned before he applied. What happened was the petition was being returned to the Taluk office with query after query, and though the petitioner made his application on the eve of the commencement of agricultural operations, the latest query with which it was returned by the Collector's office to the Taluk office was: 'Does the agriculturist still require the loan?' The agricultural operations had far advanced in the meantime and naturally the Collector's office felt that there was no longer any need for the loan! Sir, it is really scandalous that the Government's intentions should be so frustrated by the 'clerk-baby'. I interviewed the Collector and apprised him of the facts of the case. He said: 'There are certain genuine doubts that have arisen and so the paper has been sent back to get those doubts cleared'. I told him to call for the file and look into it so that he may be satisfied that the queries of the clerk did not relate to any bona fide doubts, and he may take action against the clerk concerned. So, Sir, I would request the Government to issue instructions to Collectors to see that such delays do not occur in future and that the agriculturists, when they apply for loans, get their loans as early as possible without this inordinate delay. Then only the agriculturists will be better off. (Dr. V. K. John: 'Why did not the applicant see the clerk concerned?') He is not an educated man like the hon. Member Dr. John to see the clerk before making the application.

18th January 1954] [Sri T. G. Krishnamurthi]

[Sri T. G. Krishnamurthi] [18th January 1954]

"Then, Sir, it is said that the Government loans which are still pending repayment will be collected in the regular course. The Government can issue instructions that their loans need not be collected now and that collections may be postponed by one year, even though such a provision is not contained in the Bill itself. For instance, loans advanced for purchasing pump-sets need not be collected now. In certain cases, in my own district of Madurai, loans have been advanced to agriculturists for purchasing pump-sets. The agriculturists have also purchased pump-sets. But the trouble seems to be that electricity has not been supplied to this area. Electric motors and pump-sets are there but they are not put to any use for lack of electrical energy. The Revenue Department is pressing these people to pay back the loan in instalments as promised. Such instances as may be brought to the notice of the Government by parties may be quickly and sympathetically disposed of. The indebted agriculturist should get relief whether it is the Government that is the creditor or it is a private individual that is the creditor. I hope the Government will take note of this fact and issue urgent instructions in the manner I have suggested.

"Sir, referring this Bill to a Select Committee is not going to take us far. On the contrary, the whole thing will be delayed. The Select Committee will have to go into the whole question and if the Council adopts any modifications, then the Bill may have to go to the Lower House again. What will really happen is the moratorium will cease meanwhile and another Ordinance may have to be promulgated to prolong the life of the dying Ordinance. Nothing is going to be gained by referring the matter to a Select Committee. The Government in their rule-making power as well as in their executive capacity can issue necessary instructions to the authorities concerned to make the Bill a boon to agriculturists which it really is."

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON:—"Mr. Chairman, I had a suspicion that the inspiration for the Moratorium Ordinance and this Bill came from my district. When the Hon. the Chief Minister had a tour of Malabar some time ago, my district presented him a very green appearance as a result of the north east monsoon which had just set in and I think that he referred to the coming Ordinance or the Bill in a speech he delivered on that occasion in my own place, Ottapalam, in Malabar. Knowing him as I do, I anticipated some such thing when I read that speech. But the unfortunate Malabar is not going to get the benefit of this Bill. The Preamble to this Bill says: 'Whereas, after successive years of drought, by the bounty of Nature there has been adequate rainfall this year . . . ' Unfortunately, my district, though it was promised by the bounty of Nature plenty of rainfall, was denied the benefit of the north-east monsoon with the result that there is complete failure of the second crop. I am, however, glad that Nature has been very kind to the rest of the State and therefore I associate myself with the sentiments expressed by those who support this Bill sent by the Assembly. The enactment is only for the duration of one year. Hon. Members who want this Bill to go before a Select Committee need not be very much worried, because this is only a temporary measure. The Government feel that as a result of the bounteous crop that the agriculturists are going to get this year they may have a sense of relief if they are not disturbed by the creditors. They may preserve the produce—I mean whatever they can save—and utilize it for the next year's crop. The moratorium is for a very short period. Of course, there may be defects here and there. Even then such a temporary measure is absolutely necessary and I hope the hon. Member Dr. John will withdraw his amendment to refer the Bill to a Select Committee.

"Then, Sir, there may be some dispute about particular clauses. As far as I am concerned, I feel that the definition of the word 'agriculturist' is very wide. We are giving protection not only in deserving cases but even to bring landlords, who will also come within the definition given in the Bill. Of course, there is the question of income-tax and that is the only type of exemption proposed in the Bill. I think the definition given in the Agriculturists' Debt Relief Act of 1938 (Act IX of 1938) is quite all right. Anyway, while we are giving some relief to persons who are not really deserving, the Bill will do a lot of good to those who really deserve relief. Therefore we would like to support this Bill.

"About the availability of rural credit facilities, I anticipate there will be some trouble. The Government can really face the situation by helping the co-operative societies and enabling them to give loans to the needy agriculturists. So far as my district is concerned there is a big organization which I am afraid is not put to proper use. When rationing of foodstuffs was introduced we started in our district what were known as Producer-cum-Consumer Co-operative Societies. There are about 103 such societies in the district and they have huge reserve funds. After food was derationed, these societies have no work. I would seriously suggest to Government to consider utilizing these huge reserve funds that are available with the societies. We can convert these societies into rural urban banks throughout the district of Malabar. There will be ample credit facilities for the needy agriculturists if this is done. I hope the Hon. the Minister for Co-operation and other Hon. Ministers will seriously consider this suggestion of mine, because I am sure if they are converted into urban banks they will be of great help to the agriculturists.

"With these words, Sir, I oppose the amendment of the hon. Member Dr. John and support the Bill before the House."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"Sir, I do not feel my way to accept the amendment moved by the hon. Member Dr. John for referring the Bill to a Select Committee. Hon. Members from this side as well as the other side have spoken as to how it was not at this stage necessary to refer the Bill to a Select Committee. The mover of the amendment traversed a wide field and talked about centralization, decentralization, freezing of debts and so many other things. I shall not try to meet those points at this stage, because he has given notice of specific amendments on some of these and these can be dealt with at the time the Clauses are discussed. This a short Bill with only eight clauses and only two or three of these require to be looked into carefully. Most of the hon. Members who have given notice of amendments to the clauses being able lawyers themselves, there will be no difficulty, I think, in going through the amendments, discussing them and coming to a sound conclusion. Therefore I feel it is not really very necessary to refer this Bill to a Select Committee.

[Sri M. A. Manickavelu Naicker] [18th January 1954]

"Then, Sir, some hon. Members wanted that Government should come to the aid of agriculturists by way of postponing the collection of loans advanced to them. One hon. Member also said that disbursement of loan should be expedited. All these are different matters and they do not strictly come under the purview of this Bill. As we go on with the discussion of the Bill clause by clause, I shall try to explain how far we can try to meet the points raised by hon. Members. Now it is only left to me to oppose the motion for referring this Bill to a Select Committee."

DR. V. K. JOHN:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, before I reply to the points raised during the discussion, I would like to look into the rules, especially the convention that we discuss the principles of the Bill, and while we discuss the principles we move an amendment for referring the Bill to the Select Committee."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"I said that both the motions, the one that the Bill be taken into consideration and the other that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee, were under discussion."

DR. V. K. JOHN:—"Then, Sir, the Hon. Minister who moved the motion that the Bill be taken into consideration, has not met the points raised during the discussion. I strongly suggest that while a solution for liquidating agricultural indebtedness and also other indebtedness is required, freezing of debts is not the method which should be applied. It will defeat its own purpose. The cure suggested is worse than the disease. It will whet the appetite of those people to agitate for the extinction of loans. 'Let us suggest some other method', is what I suggested to the Hon. Minister. He had not the kindness to say whether the principle underlying the Bill, namely, the freezing of the debts, is or is not the correct principle to be applied to those cases, though the Act is to be in force only for a year. It is on that basis that I wanted that this Bill should go before a Select Committee for a thorough discussion of the principle underlying it. It is only in the Select Committee stage of the Bill that the principle can be discussed. Only if the principle is accepted, Members can bring in amendments to clauses which are not acceptable to them."

18th January 1954] [Dr. V. K. John]

But my suggestion now is that the principle itself has not been discussed and agreed to. If this Bill were to be passed as it is placed before this House, I say it will have far-reaching consequences, and the economy of the rural parts will be dislocated and destroyed. The Hon. Minister, I know, has a majority in the House. He can have my amendments defeated easily. I regret to say he has not met even one point I made for the discussion of the principle underlying the Bill. He ought to have at least defended the principle, namely, freezing of debts as a solution for solving the problem of agricultural indebtedness."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"I have nothing more to say at present, Sir. I would like to meet the points made by the hon. Member when we take up his amendment for extending the period of the Act to three years."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"The question is—

'That the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill, 1954, be referred to a Select Committee.'

The amendment was lost.

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"The question is—

'That the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief Bill), 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 8 of 1954) (as passed by the Assembly), be taken into consideration.'

The motion was carried.

The consideration of the Bill, clause by clause, was then taken up.

Clause 2.

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"Motion moved—

'That clause 2 do stand part of the Bill.'

DR. V. K. JOHN:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, I have given notice of amendments to clauses 2, 1 and also 3 to 6. They are all inter related and if you will permit me, I would like to speak on all of them together and that too only for a few minutes."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, there is no objection to the hon. Member moving his amendment to clause 2 and incidentally referring to other amendments to explain the position. Technically we are discussing clause 2 and we shall discuss amendments to clause 2. The hon. Member while moving amendments to clause 2 may incidentally refer to other matters to explain the position."

DR. V. K. JOHN:—"My amendment to clause 2 relates to definition. I move the amendment, namely,

[Dr. V. K. John] [18th January 1954]

'For clause 2, substitute the following:—

"Definition.—In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires, 'agriculturist' means a person who is in actual possession and cultivation of agricultural land."

"Now, Sir, the definition of the term 'agriculturist' as given in the Bill under clause 2 (a) includes 'a person who owns an interest in land, and who, by reason of such interest, is in possession of such land or is in receipt of the rents or profits thereof and shall include a lessee but shall not include, etc., etc.'"

"Now, Sir, under the present definition of the term 'agriculturist' not only does it include within its scope actual cultivators, tillers of the soil who are in actual possession of land but also intermediaries and landowners who are in receipt of rents and profits thereof. I say, Sir, it is not the object of the Bill to help landowners and intermediaries. What is it that is stated in the Preamble? The Preamble of the Bill seeks to help cultivators. In the Preamble of the Bill it is stated, 'we must help the cultivators, the actual tillers of the soil, through whose sweat and labour the produce is raised'. But what is it that we find under clause 2 (a) dealing with definitions? By the present definition of the term 'agriculturist' the very purport of the Bill, viz., to help the poor cultivators, is nullified, because under the loose definition now given even a non-cultivator is helped. If a non-cultivator owns a patch of land and is indebted, he is given protection now. Intermediaries are protected. That is why I say it is very wrong to extend the benefit to intermediaries who are non-cultivators. It is going against the very principle enunciated in the Preamble. The help that is now sought to be given to agriculturists must be confined to real agriculturists, viz., those who cultivate the lands, the tillers of the soil, and not intermediaries and absentee landlords, for they also are owners of lands and receive rents and profits thereof and as such come under the definition of 'agriculturists' as enunciated in clause 2 (a). On the other hand my amendment which seeks to define an 'agriculturist' as a person who is in actual possession and cultivation of agricultural land, will, if accepted, exclude the intermediaries and confer the benefit now sought to be given only to the real agriculturists."

"Coming to clause (3) which puts a bar on suits and applications, I want that clauses 3 to 6 are omitted and in their place, the following are substituted."

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—"We are in clause 2 now. Why should we discuss amendments to clauses 3, 4, 5, 6 and so on?"

DR. V. K. JOHN:—"As I explained at the beginning, I intend to speak on all the amendments I had given notice of with regard to the different clauses of the Bill, at the same time, because all the amendments are inter-related. For instance, I have given notice of an amendment to clause (1), sub-clause (3), viz., that this Act shall remain in force for three years from the date this Act comes into force. Then come my amendments seeking to omit clauses 3 to 6 and to substitute the following:—

18th January 1954] [Dr. V. K. John]

'For clauses 3 to 6, substitute the following:—

"3. In any suit or proceeding for the recovery of a debt due by an agriculturist, it shall be open to the Court to give him time for payment of the decree amount and extend such time from time to time on equitable considerations particularly the ability of the defendant to pay the decree amount without prejudice to the expenditure required for cultivation and the need of the decree-holder and the respective financial position of the parties."

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in any other enactment in force, the Court may in its discretion order refund of the Court-fee paid in any suit or proceeding to which this Act applies."

I submit, Sir, that the bar on suits and proceedings and also stay of execution of decrees should not be granted in favour of people who are not actually cultivating the land. That is the purport of the amendment which I had given notice of for omitting clauses 3 to 6 of the present Bill and substituting in their place the amendment which I have just read out."

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—"I second the amendment of hon. Member Dr. John to Clause 2."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"Amendment moved—

'For clause 2, substitute the following:—

"Definition.—In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires, 'agriculturist' means a person who is in actual possession and cultivation of agricultural land."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"I suggest as usual that hon. Members who have given notice of amendments to this Clause 2 which is now under discussion, might discuss all their amendments to this clause so that Government might reply to them after the discussion is over."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"The whole of Clause 2 as well as the amendment are now before the House for discussion."

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—"Sir, I move—

'In sub-clause (a) in the second line, after the word "Land" add the words "in the State of Madras"; and "after the words "in possession of such land" add the words "and regularly engaged in cultivation thereof" and omit the words "or is in receipt of the rents or profits thereof".'

"I want to make it clear that by the term 'agriculturist' it should be construed to mean a person who owns an interest in lands situated in the State of Madras. Otherwise if we leave the definition as it is at present, even people who have interest in lands in Andhra but remain here and borrow money will come under the definition of the term 'debtor'. My amendment seeks to render help only to agriculturists who are in possession of lands in the State of Madras and who are regularly engaged in cultivation thereof. Then only we would have fulfilled the real object of the Bill, viz., to give relief, to the tillers of the soil who are now heavily indebted, by granting a moratorium. Otherwise if we leave the definition as it is, even a land owner having some interest in land and who is an absentee landlord, will be protected since he is having a technical, rather I can say a symbolic, possession of land because he engages some tenants and carries on cultivation through them and as such is in receipt of the rents or profits thereof. Therefore, he comes under the present definition of the term 'agriculturist'. Therefore even persons who are not engaged in direct cultivation of lands are now being termed as 'agriculturists' and are given protection. In the Ordinance it was said that an agriculturist would mean persons engaged in direct cultivation of lands. But that definition is dropped now. Under the present loose definition even a landlord residing here and who carries on cultivation of his lands in his village through his tenants is in legal possession of the land and as such becomes an 'agriculturist'. As an hon. Member observed even a merchant doing business here and owning some interest in land somewhere in his village and who carries on the cultivation by means of tenants becomes an 'agriculturist'. If he is indebted, he is now given protection. But that is not exactly the main purport of the Bill. That is why I have given notice of the amendment which I had just moved. Of course if the merchant pays income-tax and has been assessed to income-tax for any of the years 1951-52, 1952-53 and 1953-54, he will be excluded. But I say that is not enough. The definition ought to be made clear on the lines of the amendment which I had moved. Then only we would have fulfilled the object of the Bill, viz., to bring succour to the agriculturists who cultivate the lands and raise the produce. If all our agriculturists are cultivators, then the necessity for clarification of the term 'agriculturist' would not have arisen. But unfortunately that is not the case now. I long to see the day when all the agriculturists would be engaged in personal cultivation of their lands, and when there would be no more absentee-landlords. But until then it would be better to extend the relief now sought to be given only to those agriculturists who till the soil and through whose sweat and labour, the produce is raised. That is why I request that my amendment may be accepted."

[Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar] [18th January 1954]

DR. V. K. JOHN:—"I second the amendment of the hon. Member, Sri Balasubramanya Ayyar."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"Amendment moved—

"In sub-clause (a), in the second line, after the word "Land" add the words "in the State of Madras"; and after the words "in possession of such land" add the words "and regularly engaged in cultivation thereof" and omit the words "or is in receipt of the rents or profits thereof."

18th January 1954]

SRI T. PURUSHOTHAM:—"Sir, I move—

'Omit item (i) in sub-clause (a).'

All these firms referred to here were included in the exception provided under this clause in the original Ordinance. But now they have been removed from item No. (VI) of clause 2 (b) under the head 'Exception'. They are now included as item (1) in sub-clause (a) and at the same time not included under item No. (VI) under the head 'Exception' in sub-clause (b). That is why I have given notice of an alternative amendment either we should have co-operative societies also omitted from the Exceptions in clause 2 of the Bill or . . . "

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"I wonder if hon. Member Mr. Purushothama Mudaliar knows what he is doing. The removal of these banks from clause 2 (a) would mean that they are not entitled to this moratorium. Is it the intention of the hon. Member to include these firms registered under the Indian Partnership Act, 1932, or a company as defined in the Indian Companies Act, 1913, or a corporation formed in pursuance of an Act of Parliament of the United Kingdom or of any special Indian Law, under exception (vi) of clause 2? Or is it the intention of the hon. Member to include these under the definition of 'agriculturist' in clause 2 (a)? That is to say, does the hon. Member want that these firms also should be entitled to a moratorium in case they are not able to discharge their loans? Is that the intention of the hon. Member? It is one thing to say 'Remove it from the definition of 'debt'. It is another thing to say 'Remove it from the definition of agriculturists'. Perhaps the intention of the hon. Member is that relief should be given to debtors who owe money to those firms, which he had mentioned in his amendment. That is to say just as the co-operative societies, these firms also should be included in the exception (vi) to Clause 2 so that those agriculturists who owe money to these firms might be given a moratorium. Is that the real intention of the hon. Member?"

SRI T. PURUSHOTHAM:—"I want either the co-operative societies to be omitted under the exception clauses, or in case it is persisted in, I wish to add at the end of (Madras Act VI of 1942) in line 4 of exception (vi) of clause 2 (b), the following words and figures:—

'or a firm registered under the Indian Partnership Act, 1932 (Central Act IX of 1932), or a company as defined in the Indian Companies Act, 1913 (Central Act VII of 1913) or a Corporation formed in pursuance of an act of Parliament of the United Kingdom or of any special Indian law,'

"I had also given notice of an amendment to the clause under sub-clause (a) in item (ii) wherein I had suggested that all those who pay income-tax of Rs. 200 and less might be protected under the Act. I want and a ceiling to be fixed so that only those who pay more than Rs. 200 (The Hon. Sri C. Rajagopalachari: 'You mean tax') as income-tax might not be classified as agriculturists for purposes of this relief. I have suggested in another amendment that only those who have been paying income-tax in all the three years 1951-52, 1952-53 and 1953-54 might be denied the benefit of this measure."

[Sri T. Purushotham] [18th January 1954]

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"Is there anyone to second the amendment of the hon. Member Mr. Purushotham?"

"I find there is no one to second the amendment. For want of a seconder, the amendments of the hon. Member Sri Purushotham fall through."

SRI G. KRISHNAMURTHI:—"Sir, I support the amendment moved by the hon. Member Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar. In my opinion, the definition of the term 'agriculturist' ought to be limited to persons who are actually engaged in tilling the soil. If the intention of the Government is just to extend the moratorium only to those who are actually engaged in tilling the soil and who cannot repay their debts, naturally the definition of an agriculturist must be a person who is actually engaged in the cultivation of the soil. Now, there is another difficulty in having the definition vague and in including persons who have got interest in land as agriculturists. There is a subsequent clause in this same Bill which says that no immovable property can be disposed of by these agriculturists for a year from the commencement of this Act. House property also comes under the definition of immovable property. A person who may depend for 90 per cent of his income on trade or some other business and depending only for 10 per cent of his income on land also comes under the provisions of this Bill. If the term 'agriculturist' stands as it is in the Bill before the House, such a person cannot even dispose of his house property or any other immovable property."

"The term 'land' has been defined to be 'not being land appurtenant to a residential building.' Now, in the case of Malabar, I do not know how the people who have got their houses on lands which are really farms are to get the benefit of this legislation so long as the term 'land' is defined to be 'land used for agriculture or horticulture, not being land appurtenant to a residential building.'"

"In addition to the question of inability to dispose of house property for a year arising in the case of a landlord who depends only to a limited extent on his income from land, there is also the question of a dispute arising under the Transfer of Property Act questioning the disposal of the house property within a year by this kind of an agriculturist who is not really an agriculturist as he depends only to a very little extent on his income from land. Considering all these factors, I am of opinion that the definition of 'agriculturist' should be limited to those agriculturists who depend for their main income on their lands or those who are actually engaged in the cultivation of the soil."

18th January 1954] [Sri G. Krishnamurthi]

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"I think, I should put hon. Member Dr. V. K. John's amendment to the vote of the House."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Sir, there are only two amendments before us, hon. Member Dr. V. K. John's amendment and hon. Member Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar's amendment and the discussion can be on both and this will conclude sub-clause (a) of Clause 2 and then we can take up the amendments to sub-clause (b). If hon. Member Dr. V. K. John's amendment is not accepted, the amendment of hon. Member Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar also cannot come in."

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—"Even then the portion of my amendment to add the words 'in the State of Madras', after the word 'land' in the second line of sub-clause (a) has to be put to vote."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, hon. Gentleman Dr. V. K. John's amendment intends to restrict the meaning of the word 'agriculturist'. He wants that it should apply to a person who is in actual possession and is also in cultivation of it. Hon. Gentleman Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar says that he should not only be in cultivation but he must also be regularly engaged in cultivation. He also wants to omit the words 'or is in receipt of the rents or profits thereof.' This is the very crux of the matter behind the idea of the Government in having the word 'agriculturist' defined as it is in the Bill. (Interruption: Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar: 'So also are the words "regularly engaged in cultivation thereof"'.) Sir, if we accept this amendment, it will lead to a lot of difficulty in the matter of interpretation of the words 'regular cultivation'. It will raise a crop of petitions and counter-petitions and affidavits and counter-affidavits. What is regular cultivation and what is irregular cultivation will become matters of enquiry and the word 'cultivation' may even be disputed. Can we expect the Courts to go into all these things when the scope and object of the Bill is so short. I can understand such a thing in the case of the Agriculturists Relief Act which was passed in 1938. Then there was time to go into all these matters leisurely to give effect to the provisions of this Act. Here relief has to be given at once. All these amendments so to say curb the definition and, if accepted, there will have to be a lot of enquiry. It is only to avoid this that the definition of 'agriculturist' has been made a little wider. We cannot help it if some people are benefited by it. There is no harm even if some landowners are benefited. Just as the ryot has got his own difficulties in a small way the landowner has got his difficulties in a big way. We have therefore put a curb, namely, that those who pay income-tax do not come under this Bill. I hope this will satisfy hon. Members as by this provision big and monied people will not come under this Bill. Sir, I therefore oppose these amendments."

[18th January 1954]

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, as regards the amendment to add the words 'in the State of Madras' after the words 'agriculturist' means a person who owns an interest in land', it could be added without any objection. But, the question is whether it is necessary to amend the Bill just now at this stage and send it back. This amendment was suggested even in the other House and I may also add why it is not there in the Bill. We would be excluding from the benefits of this moratorium people who have just borrowed here and have no land here but have land in the neighbouring area. I do not think we should convert this moratorium into a matter over which there should be any difference between people who are just on this side of the border or on that side of the border. It was not considered necessary. It will not make any material difference either by way of borrowing or by way of lending. A few border villages on both sides may have common dealings. We do not propose to erect an 'iron curtain' between the two areas and, therefore, I think that the Hon. Member will withdraw his amendment."

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—"Sir, the difficulty is in respect of persons who have lands outside the State."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"If he has borrowed here it is just the same. Why should we make any difference?"

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"The question is—

'For Clause 2, substitute the following:—

"Definition.—In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires—'agriculturist' means a person who is in actual possession and cultivation of agricultural land."

The amendment was lost.

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"The question is—

'In sub-clause (a), in the second line, after the word "Land" add the words "in the State of Madras"; and after the words "in possession of such land" add the words "and regularly engaged in cultivation thereof" and omit the words "or is in receipt of the rents or profits thereof".'

The amendment was lost.

Clause 2:

Sub-clause (b).

* SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, I beg to move that—

'In item (ii), under "Exception", after the words and figures "31st March 1953" add the words "and arrears of rent due on or before 31st March 1953".'

[18th January 1954]

DR. V. K. JOHN:—"Sir, I second the amendment."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"Amendment moved—

'In item (ii), under "Exception", after the words and figures "31st March 1953" add the words "and arrears of rent due on or before 31st March 1953".'

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—"Sir, under the provisions of the Malabar Tenancy Act, the Tenants and Ryots Protection Act, many suits for arrears of rent have been stayed and if we now extend it beyond 31st March 1953 also it will work as a great hardship. This stay was granted by the Legislature or rather was imposed by the Legislature. What I want by the addition of these words 'and arrears of rent due on or before 31st March 1953' is that I want to exclude from the definition of 'debt' rent as well as arrears of rent also."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"It means to say that we do not give under this Bill the benefit of the moratorium to current dues, that is, arrears accrued after 31st March 1953. The hon. Member's amendment, I suppose, proposes that there should be some benefit even in respect of old arrears accrued on or before 31st March 1953."

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—"Yes, Sir, but it should not be said that the amendment is not acceptable because the Bill has been passed in the other House."

SRI T. PURUSHOTHAM:—"I beg to move—

'That in clause 2, sub-clause (b), item (v), under "Exception", omit the words "or loan".'

I want, Sir, that the benefit of this intended relief to agriculturists should cover the debts due to co-operative societies and the loans due to Government on account of supply of pump sets, purchase of bulls, well-subsidy, etc., I want that the recovery of all these loans should be put off for one year."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"The hon. Member's amendment falls through for want of a seconder."

SRI T. PURUSHOTHAM:—"Mr. Chairman, Sir, I am not moving the other two amendments given notice of by me for sub-clause (b) of clause (2)."

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—"I beg to move—

'That in sub-clause (b), clause 2 in item (vi) under "Exception", after the words and figures "1st October 1953" add the words "or a Company incorporated under the Indian Companies Act, 1913, or under any special law in force or a Chit Fund registered under the Indian Companies Act, 1913".'

[Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar] [18th January 1954]

Sir, I seek by my amendment that the chit funds also like co-operative societies should be exempted from the application of this Bill. I should like to say that the chit fund is a well known form of credit organization in our State. I know there are a large number of chit fund organizations whose members are all poor small agriculturists. In this connexion, I am only referring to chit funds registered under the Indian Companies Act and not to those chit fund organizations which are not so registered. This chit fund organization has got all the advantages of a co-operative society but without its disadvantages. These chit funds are generally taken advantage of by poor agriculturists. It is really a co-operative society without its formality, such as furnishing of sureties, etc. Subscriptions to chit funds are payable monthly and payments are made punctually. It is being worked out in many districts, in Tirunelveli, Ramanathapuram, Madurai, etc. I understand these organizations have made representations in this regard to the Hon. the Chief Minister. As a result of the passing of this measure these organizations will be put to a real difficulty because most members of these organizations are small agriculturists. This is one of the best ways of getting credit on a co-operative basis in our country. These chit funds are working very well and they have also been accepted by our courts of law. Therefore these organizations should be given special protection from the application of this Act. This is an organization which has been evolved by the genius of our own people. I do hope that the Government will recognize the help rendered by these chit funds to the people."

DR. V. K. JOHN:—"Sir, I second the amendment."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"Amendment moved—

'That in sub-clause (b), clause 2 in item (vi) under "Exception", after the words and figures "1st October 1953" add the words "or a Company incorporated under the Indian Companies Act, 1913, or under any special law in force or a Chit Fund registered under the Indian Companies Act, 1913".'

DR. V. K. JOHN:—"I strongly support this amendment. to omit 'chit fund registered under the Indian Companies Act' from the application of the provisions of this Bill. The chit fund is an indigenous system of pooling the resources and helping the members of the fund so that one member may get something one month, another member may get something another month and so on. The Government did not pay attention to this matter when the Ordinance was issued, when the Bill was drafted and also when the Bill was discussed on the floor of the other House. If the Government are not helpful in this matter, the economy of the countryside, particularly, in the district of Malabar will be disturbed. There is not one place where such chit funds are not functioning and almost every individual is a member of a chit fund. If chit funds are not exempted from the purview of this Bill, the economy of the countryside will be disturbed. I appeal to the Government to bring in either an amendment to meet this object or to provide for it in the rules to be framed by them under the provisions of this Bill. Somehow some protection will have to be given in the case of these chit funds. I know every amendment moved here will be lost. But I again appeal to the Government to give protection in some manner or other to these chit funds."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Sir, I wish to explain the position so that hon. Members who have moved amendments may not feel that we bear them down with strength of numbers. There are two amendments before us. One amendment is that arrears of rent also should not be given the benefit of the moratorium. It is somewhat difficult to deal with amendments moved by hon. Members who take up contradictory positions. On the one hand they do not want this moratorium Bill at all. They do not want it to be passed. They do not want moratorium to be given, because it will disturb the credit structure. At the same time they propose amendments which will increase the field of disturbance. It is difficult to argue with them. But let me forget the general attitude and deal only with the proposals. Arrears of rent are really in the nature of a debt. Current arrears should be paid, according to the view of the Government, because it is an essential and vital fact connected with the relationship of landlord and tenant. But when the rent is allowed to go into arrears for a number of years it is a debt and not really that which the tenant can easily recover from the land and pay, because in the year what he can pay is the rent, that is, fair rent or fixed rent or contract rent, as the case may be. But so far as arrears are concerned, he has been unable to pay them for some reason or other. He cannot get out of the same land double or treble of what he would otherwise recover so that arrears have been treated as 'debt' and dealt with like other debts. That is the justification that Government offers for excluding arrears of rent from the liability to pay and including arrears of any debt to be entitled to moratorium."

"Then the other amendment that is proposed is about chit funds. I want hon. Members to appreciate our difficulties. We cannot include chit funds alone. Then we would have to include Scheduled Banks and other Banks like that. They go together, fall or stand together. Now, I want hon. Members, who are lawyers, to appreciate this position. If we do not allow one class of creditors to file any suits to recover the money through Courts under this moratorium but allow another class of creditors to file suits and to recover the money, what will happen is that the property of the debtor can be attached and sold, but the creditor who has been stayed compulsorily under this law will lose the advantage of recovering his money. Therefore it is that we say that we cannot allow a discrimination like that. We cannot allow the Bank creditors and Chit creditors to take away the property of the debtor and steal a march over other creditors who have not been allowed to file suits. The other side may say 'Then, why do you allow it in favour of Co-operative Societies and Government dues?'. They stand as a class apart because they are not creditors so to say. Co-operative Societies have all pledged their joint security and they are all working together. We must protect the Co-operative Societies even though Chit funds may suffer. Now, Chit funds are very good as pointed out by Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar. I agree, that in a large number of cases, they are good. But in a certain number of cases, I would not say large or small, they have been also acting for purposes of exploitation and fraud. That is not the point. Assuming that they are all good, I want to know why these Chit funds should not recover the money without going to Courts. This moratorium gives protection only against going to Courts. It does not prevent anybody from paying. But, if it is argued that the fact that the Chit funds cannot go to Court will make the men unpunctual and they will not pay, then I submit that in such cases there is no great point in protecting such organizations. They ought to be able to pay and should be willing to pay because they are private organizations with 10 or 20 people. I am sure Chit funds will not go to Court and they will not suffer. They will continue to work even with this moratorium. It is not possible, without protecting the Indian Bank or the Indo-Commercial Bank or any other bank, to protect the Chit funds alone. Then these Banks or organizations will take away the property of the debtor and there will be nothing left for the man who is prevented by the moratorium."

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON:—"I have a very strong reason why the amendment of hon. Member Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar regarding sub-clause (b) of Clause 2 cannot be accepted, because under the Malabar Tenancy Bill which we are going to discuss in the afternoon and which is likely to become an Act soon, there is a provision that six years' arrears of rent can be claimed immediately by the landlord. Some suits are pending and if protection is not given to the agriculturist in respect of arrears of rent—not for the current rent there is the danger that all tenants in Malabar will be called upon to pay all the existing arrears. At least they may be given one year's breathing space to pay the arrears of rent. I therefore oppose the amendment of Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar because he wants to exclude all the arrears and not only the current rent from the definition of 'debt'."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"I will now put amendment of the hon. Member Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar to the vote of the House. The question is—

'In item (ii), under "Exception", after the words and figures "31st March 1953" add the words "and arrears of rent due on or before 31st March 1953".'

The amendment was lost.

18th January 1954]

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"I will now put the next amendment of hon. Member Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar to the vote of the House. The question is—

'That in sub-clause (b), clause 2—

"in item (vi), under "Exception", after the words and figures "1st October 1953" add the words "or a Company incorporated under the Indian Companies Act, 1913, or under any special law in force or a Chit Fund registered under the Indian Companies Act, 1913".'

The amendment was lost.

Clause 2 was put and carried.

Clause 3.

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"Motion moved—

'That Clause 3 do stand part of the Bill.'

DR. V. K. JOHN:—"Sir, I beg to move this very important amendment—

'For Clauses 3 to 6, substitute the following:—

"3. In any suit or proceeding for the recovery of a debt due by an agriculturist, it shall be open to the Court to give him time for payment of the decree amount and extend such time from time to time on equitable considerations particularly the ability of the defendant to pay the decree amount without prejudice to the expenditure required for cultivation and the need of the decree-holder and the respective financial position of the parties.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in any other enactment in force, the Court may in its discretion order refund of the court-fee paid in any suit or proceeding to which this Act applies."

There should be equity and not discrimination between the debtor and the creditor. The creditor himself may be an agriculturist. I submit that the best course to adopt is to enable the Court or the Tribunal concerned to have a summary disposal and dispose of the claim by giving some time for payment of the decree amount or by asking the judgment-debtor to pay in instalments. This will do justice both to the creditor and the debtor. It is the practice obtaining in Courts to-day that if a debtor requests the Court to grant him time for payment giving good reasons, the Court grants him time. Now, I have mentioned 'without prejudice to the expenditure required for cultivation'. The Court can take that also into consideration, although it is not usually taken into consideration. Such an amendment will satisfy all parties and avoid discrimination between a particular creditor and a particular debtor. It may be that a rich man, who is a debtor and an agriculturist, will have to pay to a poor creditor who also may be an agriculturist. As I said in my opening speech, there must be certainty and flexibility, with regard to every piece of legislation. If there is no flexibility, that enactment ought to be condemned. The present enactment has no flexibility whatsoever. It gives exemptions in certain cases but these exemptions are not rational. Let us have flexibility. In cases like this, flexibility can be introduced only by giving power to the Court to dispose of a particular matter on merits. A general rule which has a characteristic of certainty might work injustice in many cases and we must leave the matter to be decided by the Tribunal on the merits of each case. If the Government's object is only to protect the needy agriculturist I would request the Government to accept this amendment and not to be obstinate simply because they have, without consulting anybody, issued an Ordinance and they have also got this Bill passed by the Assembly. It is very simple. The only thing is that power is to be given to the Court to dispose of the matter on its merits. Hundreds of cases under the Madras Buildings (Lease and Rent) Control Act are disposed of and justice is done to the parties. But if the parties are prohibited from going to Courts, justice can never be done to them.

"I must make one comment on Clause 6. It is provided therein that a debtor who transfers his immovable property will have to prove that the transfer is bona fide. This is an extraordinary provision. In any legislation it is the person who attracts the transfer, the person who pays the money, that will have to prove that the transfer was not with intent to defeat or delay the creditors. But just the contrary rule has been introduced. I say that this kind of provision, which is apparently new, will not do good to anybody, but will introduce uncertainty in transfer of property and in dealings between creditor and debtor and cause injustice to a very large number of people. If my amendment is accepted, every matter will be enquired into by a Court. My amendment gives certainty and flexibility to the law."

The amendment was duly seconded.

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"Amendment moved—

'For Clause s 3 to 6, substitute the following:—

"3. In any suit or proceeding for the recovery of a debt due by an agriculturist, it shall be open to the Court to give him time for payment of the decree amount and extend such time from time to time on equitable considerations particularly the ability of the defendant to pay the decree amount without prejudice to the expenditure required for cultivation and the need of the decree-holder and the respective financial position of the parties.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in any other enactment in force, the Court may in its discretion order refund of the court-fee paid in any suit or proceeding to which this Act applies." "

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON:—"Sir, this amendment is absolutely unnecessary. A Civil Court has got the right even to-day to give relief wherever necessary to the judgment-debtor or defendant in a suit for the recovery of a debt. That power is already there and in addition this Act gives a moratorium for one year. The amendment has nothing to do with the Bill under discussion."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Sir, since the amendments cover clauses 3 to 6 and since Dr. John has elaborately attacked the provision about presumption, I would like to explain the position. The presumption will come into play only in respect of transfers made during the period of compulsory non-suing. It should be the duty of the transferor then to show that the transfer was a bona fide transaction and not merely a transaction with intent to defeat or delay the creditors, taking advantage of the relief given by this Act."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"The object of the Bill is to make the agriculturist forget the Court for a year. If the amendment is accepted, he will be constantly reminded of the Court, and he will have to be visiting the Court. Dr. John wants the Court to find out the ability of the defendant to pay the decree amount without prejudice to the expenditure required for cultivation and the need of the decree-holder and the respective financial position of the parties. This involves a very elaborate enquiry and there will have to be petitions, arguments and so on. The object is to avoid all that. If we accept the amendment, we will be defeating the very object of this Bill. As the Hon. Chief Minister already pointed out, the presumption affects only the transfers made during the period of the Ordinance and this Act, and the presumption can be easily rebutted. I oppose the amendment.

"As for the court-fee being refunded, if a suit is recklessly filed, it will wait only for one year and there will be no great harm caused."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"The question is—

'For Clauses 3 to 6, substitute the following:—

"3. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in any other enactment in force, the Court may in its discretion order refund of the court-fee paid in any suit or proceeding to which this Act applies." "

The amendment was lost.

[18th January 1954]

Clause 3.

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—"Sir, I move—

'At the end of the first paragraph and before Explanation I, add the following proviso:—

"Provided he sends a registered notice under his signature to his creditor within one month from the date of the commencement of the Act, that he is an agriculturist and claims the benefit of the Act."

"In the Ordinance protection was given to a creditor who did not file a suit for the recovery of a debt in the honest belief that his debtor was an agriculturist who was entitled to relief under the Ordinance. But that provision has been omitted in this Bill. Thinking that this debtor is an agriculturist, a creditor may not have filed a suit for the recovery of the debt. But if he is not an agriculturist, the limitation period of three years will lapse, and the debtor may plead that as an excuse. For avoiding such a contingency, my amendment proposes that the debtor should give notice to his creditor that he is an agriculturist and claim the benefit of the Act."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"May I draw the attention of Sri Balasubramania Ayyar to Clause 5 which provides a presumption in favour of the creditor in such a case? It conclusively protects a creditor who does not file a suit believing in good faith that his debtor is an agriculturist entitled to relief under the Ordinance or this Act. It is provided more definitely in this Bill than in the Ordinance."

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—"If the creditor is unable to show sufficient reason, there will be difficulty. It is only as safeguard that I want this provision. However, in view of the reply of the Hon. Chief Minister I beg leave to withdraw my amendment."

The amendment was, by leave, withdrawn.

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—"Sir, I move—

'In Explanation II, omit the words "either against the non-agriculturist or".'

"Where there are joint debtors, that is where one of the debtors is an agriculturist and the other a non-agriculturist, the suit against the non-agriculturist can very well be proceeded with and it need not be stayed. He will have his remedies as against the agriculturist later on. He can pay the debt and recover the money from the agriculturist. This is a very reasonable amendment."

DR. V. K. JOHN:—"Sir, I second the amendment. This Bill protects not only agriculturists, but also non-agriculturists who owe a debt jointly with agriculturists. In the definition of

18th January 1954] [Dr. V. K. John]

'agriculturist', the Government have brought in intermediaries who do not cultivate the land. Nothing except obstinacy should stand in the way of the Government accepting this amendment."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"Amendment moved—

"In Explanation II, omit the words 'either against the non-agriculturist or'."

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON:—"When a debt is payable by an agriculturist jointly with a non-agriculturist, staying of suit against the agriculturist and proceeding with the suit against the non-agriculturist will create complications. When we pass a measure for a temporary period, we need not create all sorts of complications. So I oppose the amendment."

THE HON. SRI C. SUBRAMANIAM:—"In the filing of suits, there is something like the splitting up of the cause of action. Suppose there are two defendants in a suit. The plaintiff can file a suit against one person and recover money from that person alone. The hon. Member said this with reference to the pending suits. But with reference to the filing of new suits, when the creditor is entitled to recover from two persons, if he is to recover only from one person, the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code will be attracted. This will lead to all sorts of complications. That is why we have advisedly retained this provision."

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"Sir, the non-agriculturist mentioned in the Bill is not any non-agriculturist. He is one involved in the transaction. He has got to give if he has entered into a transaction. We do not want to separate them, because pressure will be brought to bear on the agriculturist. That is why we have included the non-agriculturist here, apart from the legal point raised by the hon. Member."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"The question is—

"In Explanation II, omit the words "either against the non-agriculturist or"."

The amendment was lost.

Clause 3 was put and carried.

Clause 4.

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"Motion moved—

'That Clause 4 do stand part of the Bill.'

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—"Sir, I move the amendment standing in my name, namely,—

'In sub-clause (1),

"After the words 'stand stayed', add the words 'as against the agriculturist defendant or judgment-debtor in respect of such of the reliefs claimed therein as are of the nature mentioned in section 3'."

[Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar] [18th January 1954]

Sir, this amendment is an answer to the various points mentioned by the Hon. the Finance Minister and others. There would not be any complication at all. This is a reasonable amendment, and this will expedite proceedings. Thousands of suits have now been stayed. In the whole State, thousands of suits have been stayed and most of the District Munsifs are without work. (A Voice: 'They may be happy.') But, unfortunately public money is spent on them. What about the revenue from court-fee? The Government will lose the court-fee. The whole work is now at a standstill. We cannot dispose of the matter by simply saying that it concerns only lawyers. Everybody is concerned in the matter. Lawyers are there to represent the case of their clients because it is the clients who suffer. Let us not have this lawyer phobia. The Hon. the Finance Minister is a lawyer, and, therefore, I am emboldened in saying this. Nothing will happen if the suit is stayed or the execution of a decree is stayed for only one year. Because it will proceed from that stage."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Then, the hon. Member says that it shall be proceeded against."

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—"A decree must be given. Sir, I want that we remember that it is only for one year, and that all the other stages can go on. After one year, the decree can be passed. Otherwise, the further trial would take place after one year is gone."

The amendment was duly seconded.

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"Amendment moved—

'In sub-clause (1),

"After the words 'stand stayed', add the words 'as against the agriculturist defendant or judgment-debtor in respect of such of the reliefs claimed therein as are of the nature mentioned in section 3'." "

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Is the hon. Member, therefore, moving his other amendment also?"

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—"Yes, Sir. I move the other amendment standing in my name, namely,—

'Add the following as sub-clause (4):—

"(4) On the application of a party to the suit or proceedings stayed under the Madras Ordinance V of 1953, the Court shall proceed with the trial of the suit or proceeding from the stage where it was stayed, if it is proved that the present Act does not apply to the suit or proceeding." "

The amendments were duly seconded.

SRI M. P. GOVINDA MENON:—"I rise on a point of order. Sir. The hon. Member Mr. Balasubramanya Ayyar's second amendment is out of order. To clause 3, the hon. Member Mr. Balasubramanya Ayyar moved an amendment seeking to omit the words 'either against the non-agriculturist or'. That amendment was outvoted. Clause 4 (1) says, 'All further proceedings in suits and applications of the nature mentioned in section 3 . . .'. The amendment now moved by the hon. Member Mr. Balasubramanya Ayyar is out of order, because all proceedings and suits are of the nature mentioned in clause 3. The hon. Member's amendment to omit 'either against the non-agriculturist or' in Explanation II to clause 3, was outvoted. Therefore, this amendment is out of order according to me."

18th January 1954] [Sri M. P. Govinda Menon]

SRI K. BALASUBRAMANYA AYYAR:—"It did not become out of order only now."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"Amendment moved—

'Add the following as sub-clause (4):—

"(4) On the application of a party to the suit or proceedings stayed under the Madras Ordinance V of 1953, the Court shall proceed with the trial of the suit or proceeding from the stage where it was stayed, if it is proved that the present Act does not apply to the suit or proceeding." "

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"I thank the hon. Advocate Member for meeting the argument of the hon. Member Sri K. Balasubramanya Ayyar."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Sir, the objection of the hon. Member Mr. Govinda Menon is quite correct. But as the amendment has been moved and seconded, it has to be voted out."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"The question is—

'In sub-clause (1),

"After the words 'stand stayed', add the words 'as against the agriculturist defendant or judgment-debtor in respect of such of the reliefs claimed therein as are of the nature mentioned in section 3'." "

The amendment was lost.

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"The question is—

'Add the following as sub-clause (4):—

"(4) On the application of a party to the suit or proceedings stayed under the Madras Ordinance V of 1953, the Court shall proceed with the trial of the suit or proceeding from the stage where it was stayed, if it is proved that the present Act does not apply to the suit or proceeding." "

The amendment was lost.

Clause 4 was put and carried.

[18th January 1954]

Clause 5.

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"Motion moved—

'That clause 5 do stand part of the Bill.'

SRI T. PURUSHOTHAM:—"Sir, as clause 2 has been adopted already, these amendments I have given notice of do not arise."

Clause 5 was put and carried.

Clauses 6, 7 and 8 were put and carried.

Clause 1.

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"Motion moved—

'That clause 1 do stand part of the Bill.'

DR. V. K. JOHN:—"Sir, I am not moving my amendment to this clause. In this House, there is no hope of getting any amendments passed. I withdraw my amendment."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"I certainly agree to the withdrawal. But the reason that the hon. Member has given is very wrong. He should really withdraw, because it is wholly contradictory to the general position he has taken up."

Clause 1 was put and carried.

The Preamble was put and carried.

THE HON. SRI M. A. MANICKAVELU NAICKER:—"Sir, I move—

'That the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 8 of 1954), (as passed by the Assembly), be read a third time and passed.'

I wish to thank especially the lawyer Members for raising objections on one hand and some other lawyer Members meeting them on the other. I will bear in mind the suggestions that were put forward. As far as the reasonable ones are concerned, they will be borne in mind while framing rules if they can be accepted legally. We shall try to improve matters, Sir."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"Motion moved—

'That the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 8 of 1954) (as passed by the Assembly), be read a third time and passed.'

DR. V. K. JOHN:—"Sir, after hearing all the discussion and explanation from the other side, I still believe that this is not a rational piece of legislation. Let me express the hope that the creditors and debtors, agriculturists and non-agriculturists as they are, will ignore this piece of legislation and pay off their debts as and when they can irrespective of the fact . . ."

SRI T. PURUSHOTHAM:—"Sir, as the Bill has gone through all the stages, is it in order for the hon. Member to call it not rational?"

18th January 1954]

DR. V. K. JOHN:—"I am expressing only my hope. I am quite in order in saying what I said. I am expressing the hope that this Bill will be ignored by the public to whom this is intended to apply."

THE HON. SRI C. RAJAGOPALACHARI:—"Sir, it may look strange, but I heartily support what Dr. John has said. I do want that debtors should ignore this Bill. I do want that creditors should ignore this to the extent the law permits them to ignore. But the debtors should ignore this altogether if they can and if their finances permit. We do hope that conditions will become better, and that this law will be utilized only by those who are unable to pay their debts. Then there is the question 'what about credit'? I hope, Sir, that this one year's moratorium will not interfere with credit, because it is not the intention of the Government to wipe off any debts. It is not the intention of the Government to extend the moratorium. It is not also the intention of the Government to bring it only as the first step. It is really intended to give time only for one year, and we do really hope that it will help the debtors."

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"The Question is—

'That the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Bill, 1954 (L.A. Bill No. 8 of 1954) (as passed by the Assembly), be read a third time and passed.'

The motion was carried and the Bill was read a third time and passed.

MR. CHAIRMAN:—"The House will now rise for lunch and meet again at 2-30 p.m."

The House then adjourned.

APPENDIX.

[Vide item on page 584 supra.]

L.A. BILL No. 8 OF 1954.

(As passed by the Assembly.)

A Bill to provide temporary relief to indebted agriculturists.

WHEREAS, after successive years of drought, by the bounty of Nature there has been adequate rainfall this year and agriculturists are applying themselves with assiduity to the cultivation crops; AND WHEREAS, agriculturists have borrowed or added to their debts during the years of drought and may, if freed for a time from the pressure of creditors, be enabled to rehabilitate themselves;

AND WHEREAS, it is in the interests of the general public that, at the present time, agriculturists be spared the distractions and expenditure involved in litigation launched by their creditors, in order that the maximum possible advantage may result to the State in the matter of production of food crops;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title, extent and commencement.—(1) This Act may be called the Madras Indebted Agriculturists (Temporary Relief) Act, 1954.

(2) It extends to the whole of the State of Madras.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

2. Definitions.—In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires—

(a) 'agriculturist' means a person who owns an interest in land, and who, by reason of such interest, is in possession of such land or is in receipt of the rents or profits thereof and shall include a lessee; but shall not include

(i) a firm registered under the Indian Partnership Act, 1932 (Central Act IX of 1932), or a company as defined in the Indian Companies Act, 1913 (Central Act VII of 1913), or a corporation formed in pursuance of an Act of Parliament of the United Kingdom or of any special Indian law; or

(ii) any person who was assessed to income-tax under the Indian Income-tax Act (Central Act XI of 1922) in any of the years 1951-52, 1952-53 and 1953-54.

Explanation.—Where a joint Hindu family or a tarwad, tavazhi, kutumba or kavaru is an agriculturist, every co-parcener or member of the tarwad, tavazhi, kutumba or kavaru, as the case may be, shall be deemed to be an agriculturist provided that he has not been assessed to income-tax in any of the years 1951-52, 1952-53, 1953-54.

18th January 1954]

(b) 'debt' means any sum of money which a person is liable to pay under a contract (express or implied) for consideration received and includes rent in cash or kind which a person is liable to pay or deliver in respect of the lawful use and occupation of land.

Explanation.—It is immaterial that the sum or produce is recoverable only by sale of property in enforcement of a mortgage or charge or that the contract was entered into by the person's predecessor-in-title or by the manager of the joint Hindu family or the karnavan of the tarwad or tavazhi or the yajaman of the kutumba or kavaru of which such person was or is a member.

Exception.—'Debt' does not include—

(i) rent or compensation for the use and occupation of house property;

(ii) rent or compensation for the use and occupation of immovable property not being house property, accrued due after the 31st March 1953;

(iii) any liability arising out of a breach of trust;
