GANJAM DISTRICT.

GUIDE TO THE RECORDS

FROM 1774 TO 1835.

CHAPTER I.

INTRODUCTION.

This handbook is intended to serve as a guide to historical students who may have occasion to study those original records of the Ganjam Collectorate, which are now deposited in the Record Office at Madras. The series comprises 180 volumes and bundles ranging from 1774 to 1835. Some of the more important papers have been reprinted : a list of these will be found in Chapter III.

2. The guide does not profess to provide a substitute for original research. Its object is to save the student time by indicating, in a general way, what the volumes contain and by listing in detail a sufficient number of individual letters to facilitate a preliminary but fairly extensive collation of papers bearing on the subject of his study. In this exercise the index of headings given in Chapter V should be of material assistance.

CHAPTER II.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

Ganjam, the most northerly district in the Madras Presidency, is roughly triangular in shape, its south-eastern side being the sea coast. The population of the plains is Telugu in the south and Uriya in the north. The hills, which approach near to the sea, are inhabited by the primitive tribes of Khonds and Savaras who are administered under a special arrangement known as the Agency.

2. The district formed part of the ancient kingdom of Kalinga. In the 12th century the Gajapati kings added it to their kingdom of Orissa. They left the administration largely in the hands of local chieftains, the ancestors of some of the present-day zemindars. The Mahometans held it for nearly two centuries until 1752 when Salabat Jung, the Nizam of Hyderabad, assigned the Northern Sirkars to the French General, De Bussy. In 1758 the force under Colonel Forde defeated the French who never regained their control over the district.

3. From 1759 to 1767 the country was administered by Sitaram Razu of Vizianagram "whose ambitious designs kept it in a constant state of disturbance." When in 1768 Mr. Cotsford took charge as Resident at Ganjam, he found himself with 19 zemindars who held 34 forts and could put a force of 32,000 men into the field. On the north lay a Mahratta state from which an invasion was always probable. His own force amounted to but 2,000 men. From 1768 to 1779 disturbances were chronic. In 1774 a Chief and Council was appointed. But their administration was inefficient and often corrupt. Even with the introduction of the modern system of administration at the beginning of the last century, order was not easily restored among the refractory zemindars and both the prosperity of the people and the Government revenue suffered accordingly. In fact, the conditions prevailing in the Ganjam district are peculiar. The people of the hills are primitive to a degree and until lately practised human sacrifice. The plains are inhabited by two races speaking one an Aryan and the other a Dravidian language. The country is generally mountainous and a deadly type of fever is prevalent.

4. The land revenue and its near relation the land tenure of the Ganjam district still await adequate treatment at the hands of the historian. The British administration began in 1767 and their sole idea of administering the land revenue was to lease the right of collection not only from the zemindari lands but also from those called havili which, under their Mahometan predecessors, were tracts near towns, from which the revenue was directly collected by state officials and earmarked for the cost of maintaining garrisons and other Government establishments. The Committee of Circuit, appointed in 1783, made some valuable researches into then existing methods of assessing and collecting the revenue. The permanent settlement was introduced in 1803, and remains, with certain exceptions, the typical revenue system of the district.

CHAPTER III. REPRINTS.

The items in the list of reprints are arranged in the serial order of the reprint volumes as shown in the Record Office catalogue. This order is not strictly chronological owing partly to the fact that some of the volumes include reprints of more than one paper and partly because the numbering of the series was carried out as the Record Office succeeded in obtaining from outside offices fresh reprint volumes to add to its collection. No. 96 was catalogued by error in this series: it belongs to Vizagapatam district. Similarly No. 363 belongs to the general series.

CHAPTER V.

INDEX OF HEADINGS.

The table of contents arranges the volumes in the order in which they are found in the catalogue. Certain series of papers will, therefore, run parallel with or overlap others in respect of time. The table includes all papers, except for reminders and covering letters for the period ending with 1820. After that date it contains a selection of papers only.

2. Each paper is headed by a brief title in thick type; many of them bear a sub-title in ordinary type. This facilitates collation under different aspects of the same subject. Place names have been used as titles where the material under them is extensive and important, e.g., 'Kimedi,' 'Goomsur'. Personal names are used when the interest of the paper is mainly personal, e.g., the record of an appointment or claim for allowance.

3. Many of the more important papers are further described in a brief narrative abstract. The use of the imperative ordinarily indicates an order from higher authority.

4. The entries in the table of contents have been made as brief as possible. Each paper is understood to concern only an individual case, unless it is clear from the context or otherwise that it is an order or discussion of general application. Unless it is absolutely necessary to avoid obscurity, it is not specifically stated by whom or to whom a communication is sent or received, nor have references to reminders or mere covering letters been included. It is anticipated that, in the last resort, it is to the original that the student will go.

5. Under certain heads references have been given to the volumes and page numbers of more than one paper relating to the same subject thus involving the abandonment of a strict chronological order.

6. The spelling of words of Indian origin has generally been modernized. A few abbreviations are used, e.g., 'f' for 'fasli,' 'Rt.' for regiment, 'Bn.' for 'battalion'. The names of the months are indicated by the first three letters of the word.

7. To save space, page numbers, when consecutive, have been coalesced, thus, 17-20, 21, 22-3 would be printed 17-23. The page numbers do not, therefore, necessarily correspond precisely with the dates opposite which they are printed.

8. The object of the Key index is to group together under certain important divisions of the subjects dealt with, all the headings used in the table of contents. Many of these headings consist of more than one word but when the first word is precise and significant the subsequent words are not repeated in the Key index.

Ichchapuram Jamabandi, f. 1197. The zemindari and havili lands were let out for Rs. 7,68,582. The collections amounted to Rs. 7,10,937. A balance of Rs. 64,904 remained due on the last statement of which a sum of Rs. 59,300 has been paid. The increased revenue is attributable to greater internal consumption or to the higher price of grain. The Resident recommends a total abolition of inland duties or a duty of not more than 5 per cent on piece-goods purchased for export. The shipping is reduced from 200 vessels to 20 on account of want of employment and heavy land taxes on building materials which should be abolished. A sum of Rs. 1,25,000 was advanced to the weavers, but a balance of Rs. 33,000 is outstanding. Advances to the Committee of Circuit etc., amount to Rs. 2,91,771. Government consider that the assumption of management of the zemindari by the zemindar's brother is totally inadmissible. An assignment should be taken in the minor zemindar's name on the part of the Company for the security of the current revenue and a proportionate share of the old balance, allowing maintenance for the young zemindar and the family.	11- 9-90	340-3

Manufacture.	2- 3-93	85-165
1. The secretary to Government sends to the Resident a description by Doctor Roxburgh of the necessary apparatus and process for manufacturing indigo, with his botanical account of a newly discovered plant yielding that article.	12-10-93	347-8
2. The natives of the Vizagapatam and Ganjam districts and in some parts of the Carnatic are acquainted with the quality of the leaves of this plant. The tree is called Nerium Tinctorium which comes nearest Nerium Antidysentericum. It abounds in the hills and the lower regions of the mountains in the Rajahmundry Sirkar. To make it yield a large supply of the best leaves to make Indigo, it is necessary to keep it low.

3. The leaves give out their colour most readily in hot water. Copper vessels are better than the common earthen pots, for scalding the leaves. A big fire is necessary.
4. The months of April, May and June are best fitted for making Indigo. A plant from seed does not yield colour till upwards of 2 years. The best indigo is made by selecting the best leaves.
5. Copper vessels are filled with these leaves and water poured on. Fire is lighted and kept brisk till the liquor takes a deep green colour. The whole is drawn off, through a coarse blanket. It is then agitated from five to twenty minutes to produce the necessary degree of granulation. One seventy fifth part of strong lime water is then let in.

	17- 2-89	182-8
Mr. Snodgrass received from Mr. Williams in April 1787 a note to the effect that Lt. Darley had by irregular means acquired an undue knowledge of Public Proceedings and that every precaution should be used to prevent the business of the office from becoming public. Subsequently, Mr. Wynch is stated to have given expression to violent language in the presence of 8 or 10 gentlemen, the expression of which has excited general curiosity. Statements of Messrs. Mr. Munro.	23- 9-89	129-59
Mr. Munro considers that the differences have lately been so widely in extremes, and the minutes so voluninous, violent and personal that it is necessary to acquit his own conduct by a summary of the transactions.
The Chief and Mr. Wynch subscribe their minutes. The Chief remarks and seeks to prove that Mr. Munro's opposition to the measures of the Board is systematic and does not tend to promote the interest of the Company.

Zemindar's arrest.	5- 2-92	39-81
The Resident makes suggestions to the O.C., Berhampur, as to how to effect the apprehension of Moni Deo. The co-operation of the zemindars of Protapogiri, Chikati and Surangi has been assured. Jagannath Deo is his enemy and his proximity to the Vizianagar zemindari will help the operations. Moni Deo's peons are reduced to 600 in number, and they are ill-paid and half-fed and much discontented.	6- 2-92

Jagannath Narayan Deo represents that during the lifetime of his father, he held the Rajahship of the country but his father quarrelled with the Company and left it and died. Jagannath's brother, Gajapati, obtained the Rajahship from Vizaram Raz and settled the jamabandi of Kimedi for Rs. 60,000. Mr. Wynch, the Governor at Madras, sent a sanad and cowle to the petitioner and increased the jamabandi to Rs. 80,000 which he paid to the Company. Gajapati got into the favour of Mr. Casamajor, who, not enquiring into his conduct, gave him the Rajahship and the petitioner was dethroned and given a monthly allowance of Rs. 600 and a village. Mr. Williams restored the zemindari to him for a yearly rental of Rs. 1,60,000. Mr. Russell was not pleased with the petitioner and leased it out to renters. The petitioner prays that it may be restored to him.

Goomsur Consultations. Kisan Bhanj, Zemindar of Goomsur, died having appointed his second son to succeed him. The elder brother, Lakshmana Bhanj, was dissatisfied with his lot and, taking advantage of the Company's negotiation with his relation, the Zemindar of Dharakota sought their protection. The Board finds that the stipulated tribute has always been inadequate to the value of the Zemindari and that the present balance due is very considerable. It also thinks that the pretensions of Lakshmana Bhanj are founded in justice and that, in supporting him, the balance may be recovered. It is resolved that he should be set up in opposition to the younger brother. The Zemindar of Dharakota, having assisted the Company in this matter, his late conduct is condoned and his reinstatement recommended.	5- 6-74 18- 6-74 21- 6-74 12- 7-74 3- 8-74 20- 9-74 21- 9-74	28-37 40-3 52 64-76 121-35

On his furnishing security for Rs. 45,000, the detachment marched towards Mohiri. Revenue Improvement of system. The Board of Revenue is determined to go through an investigation of the Company's revenues in the hope that, by encouragement to the people of the countries under the Government, they may be rendered happy and the Company's revenues improved. Accounts from each of the subordinates are called for.	2- 9-74 31-10-74 1-11-74	145-9 155-6 158-9
Zemindaris Arrears. The Board offers suggestions to the Chief regarding the collection of arrears in several zemindaris. All the zemindars who are in arrears must be 'settled' at the usual rates. Such as may have cleared off their balances and whose tribute may with propriety be raised should be "obliged", if possible, to admit of such an increase as may be thought reasonable and equitable. If any zemindar should be dispossessed of his country "for ever so short a period", the sums received from it during such period should be entered under a particular head to be "erected" in the books for that purpose.	5-10-74 31-10-74 1-11-74 2-11-74	149-55 157-63

Jagat Sing, the principal servant of the late zemindar, has the management of the entire zemindari. Parmanand Sing, a relation of Madaver Sing, the late zemindar, who was put in possession of the zemindari by the Goomsur Zemindar was only employed by Jagat Sing to keep peace with the hill people who created disturbances. Woosanjan, the widow of the late zemindar, after the death of Parmanand Sing, adopted a son of the Zemindar of Sirgur and made over the zemindari to him. If he is confirmed in the zemindari, the discharge of the balance should be a necessary condition, otherwise, the taking possession of it for havili lands is the only alternative.	9-1-75	2-6

1. The Chief submits to the President and Governor-in-Council a summary account of the transactions for the last year comprised under Investment, Customs, Revenues and Debts, Expenses, Buildings and Repairs and Accounts together with the general affairs of the district.
2. Investment.
Scarcity of cotton reduced the supply of salampores. The weavers requested an addition to the prices. The exemption for the term of five years from import customs will serve as an encouragement to the Sonapur merchants etc.
3. Customs, Revenues and Debts.
The sea and river customs of Mansurkota, Sonapur and Baruva were let to Dinabandhu Chowdri for Rs. 13,000 and those of Ganjam yielded Rs. 5,342.
The revenues of the district for the last year commencing the 25th September 1774 and ending the 25th September 1775 amounted to Rs. 5,87,646 or Pag. 1,67,898 which exceeds the collections of former years.

Mr. Robert Hughes, the 'Sea Customer', writes to the Chief assigning reasons for the decline in the revenue for 1777. The export of grain during this season was only Ganjam garce 3,832 amounting to Rs. 9,003, the average export of normal years being 5,833 garce, amounting to Rs. 13,704. In order to ensure a good collection, it is necessary to have an old stock of grain for sale with a tolerable demand for it, 'to the south-ward.'

Misconduct Chief's butler. Mr. Robert Hughes, Member of Council, represents to the Chief, Mr. Morgan Williams, that his butler refused to allow the lascars to bring the Company's stores from the water side to the Fort without the Chief's orders and sends him under a guard for necessary action. The Chief treats this as being an insult to his "public station" and lays the matter before the Board. Vikrama Bhanj applies for restoration.	29-11-79	163-7
C. Trivikrama Bhanj represents he was invested with the management of the zemindari and behaved well towards the Company. Capt. Bandinell disregarded him and created disputes between him and his brother Lakshmana Bhanj. He was charged with a large balance of revenue and the management was given to Lakshmana Bhanj. He requests that the zemindari may be restored to him.	28-12-79	170-241
The Chief and Council report that Vikrama Bhanj refused to consent to the appointment of Lakshmana Bhanj's as a reward for the latter's services. He has misrepresented the facts and, in no case, has the Board exceeded the orders of Government.		243-8
They detail the history of Goomsur from the death of the Kissen Bhanj in December 1773 to the restoration of his second son Vikrama Bhanj to the zemindari in December 1779.

Goomsur—cont.
In 1773, Vikrama Bhanj succeeded his father. His elder brother Lakshmana was dissatisfied with his brother and sought the Company's protection. The Chief supported his claim. Vikrama was offered certain conditions, which he refused. Later on, he showed signs of compromise and was confirmed. But a dispute arose in respect of the villages to be assigned to Lakshmana. He withheld the tribute and a military force was sent. On his coming to terms, the troops were withdrawn. An award was passed but Vikrama refused to abide by it. He refused to grant sanad to the assigned villages and withheld the tribute again. The military force was sent and principal forts taken possession of. He fled to the Mahratta country. Lakshmana Bhanj was recommended for the zemindari and duly appointed.

The Resident reports that proposals for settlement were advertised and distinct agreements with the farmers of lands and renters of customs made. If the embankments, dams and nullahs are kept in perfect condition, much of the waste can be converted into cultivable lands. The revenue of the district is saddled with claims for inams, etc. A registered list shall be kept for this purpose so that the claimants may be paid regularly and receipts obtained from them. Ball Kistna's confinement.	18- 1-82	18-28
Ball Kistna, late renter of the Ichchapuram district, represents his case to Government.	10- 2-82 11- 5-82	74-92 209-14
On 15th October last, he was told by Mr. John Turing, Resident, that he was no longer to continue as the renter of the Ganjam District and was confined at his house. His cowle also was annulled.
He officiated as Head Dubash of the Honourable Company for 11 years and upwards and the public approval of his conduct appears on the records. His faithful services were rewarded by Government by the conferment on him of the rent of the Ganjam District for 10 years in their cowle, dated 27th August 1779. He performed the stipulated payments punctually. He stipulated for a reasonable deduction in case of losses by the depredations of foreign enemies. In 1775, the drought was so great that the zemindars found it impossible to pay their tribute and Mr. Smith, the then Chief, recommended that he might assist them with his credit. In this way, he lost about Rs. 3,50,000 which had to be recovered in proportion to the ability of the debtors. He has not deserved the displeasure of Government. He seeks redress.

The Chief reports to Government the state of affairs in the zemindari. Lakshmana Bhanj having been installed zemindar, offered to pay Rs. 5,00,000 in 5 years and a lack for every year afterwards and Rs. 6,000 for annual rent on account of the restored villages.
As regards provision for Vikrama Bhanj, he was willing to abide by the order of the Government. It is suggested that Rs. 20,000 per annum would be a handsome allowance.

1. Mr. Russell's Minute.	3-10-82
The offers greatly exceed what can possibly be collected without oppressing the inhabitants. It would be much for the advantage of the Company either to let the havilis out in 8 distinct farms to responsible people or to take them under their own management.	27-10-82	404-5
	7-12-82	416-7
2. Chief's Minute.
The system was strongly recommended by the late Resident and met with the approbation of the Rt. Hon'ble the President and Council and should be given a fair trial. The principal inhabitants were sent for to settle with them, and the offers were voluntarily made. If any change was deemed advisable, it would be proper to let each pargana separately to the principal inhabitants of sufficient responsibility.

The Chief, while agreeing with Mr. Corbett, states that Narsingrow has been removed but that Chengleroy cannot be divested of all authority and employment as Dubash as most of Kursoji's time is taken up as renter. Chengleroy is necessary to assist Kursoji in transacting the affairs of the district.	26-6-83

Kursoji was appointed as the Company's Dubash, although the Chief's servant conducted himself with care and fidelity. Not satisfied with this, Messrs. Munro and Corbett wanted to punish him, whereupon the Chief called for specific charges against him either of violence, extortion or oppression. They further charged the Chief of having misappropriated the Company's revenues. The accounts of the estate of Khallikote is proof of the falsity of the charge.	2-12-83	339-67

State of the District
Committee of Circuit's report.	6-10-88	69-109
The district consists of the havili lands and 20 zamindaris.
1. Havili .—The havili lands are divided into 8 parganas and 5 mittas. The proportion of produce allowed to the cultivators is not less than 6 or more than 10 punts in 20 of paddy. The average is from 7 to 8 in 20 'Nowties.' The dry grains are divided into equal shares. The cultivators pay a fixed rent instead of the produce in kind.
2. Zemindaris .—The Zemindari of Tarla, is well cultivated and being level is abundantly supplied with water. It produces mostly paddy.
Mandasa, which is north-east of Tarla, is hilly and produces the best paddy, where cultivated.
Budaro Singi is a very small zemindari.
Jalantra, situated north-east of Budaro Singi, is a zemindari in which the cultivation is neglected and the inhabitants oppressed both by the zemindar and by the surety.
Jerada is an inconsiderable zemindari but well-watered by a small river.
Surangi has also the benefit of a small river.
Chikati is of greater extent and watered by the Ichchapuram river and well-cultivated, yielding paddy, dry grains, etc.
Mohiri, which lies north-east of Chikati, ranks among the most valuable in the district. A greater regard is paid to cultivation in this zemindari than in others, although the crops are precarious as these depend entirely upon the rains that fall within its own extent. The average amount of revenue would be Rs. 1,30,000.
Vijayanagar is north of Surangi and west of Mohiri and is of considerable extent and hilly and watered by two small rivers. The produce consists of paddy, etc.
Protapogiri, Sirgur, Baragur, Kattinga, Surerah and Dharakota are of minor importance.
Goomsur is the most considerable in the province. On either side of the river, the soil is fertile but poor in the eastern and western extremities.
Hotgur is the finest country and watered by three small rivers. Humma, Palur, Biridi and Khallikote are minor zemindaris. The gross amount of the collections in the zemindaris is Rs. 9,59,864.
3. The imports into the district are raw silk, gold thread, copper, tin, spices, opium and Company's broad cloth. The staple commodities of this district are grain and cloth.

Mr. Munro thinks that Moja Deo having been apprehended and the Company's Government having run that zemindari for upwards of three years, it is but just and politic to take possession of it.
The conduct of the surviving brothers of the Mohiri family has been such as to exclude them for ever from any share in the administration. Its central situation and other considerations render its acquisition of great moment.
The Chief, Mr. Morgan Williams, then delivers his minute. He understands that there are two sons of one Sadhu Sant in a collateral branch of the Mohiri family and it is suspected that the eldest, aged about 12 years, is residing with the Rani at Berhampur. An enquiry should be made whether her adoption of this youth would not serve as a means of annulling the claims of Sano Deo and of conciliating the zemindars and inducing them to forsake Sano Deo's cause.

It was left to the Ganjam Board in 1782 to elect either Vikrama or Lakshmana Bhanj to the zemindarship of Goomsur but conditionally on the latter paying a lakh yearly and accepting Corsugee as his Patro. Lakshmana who was elected to the zemindarship agreed to the terms but the disorders in the country disabled him from paying. A scale of revenue for 5 years was agreed upon, which averaged a lakh a year. Lakshmana fell into heavy arrears and Nasarawanjee did not wish to continue as surety. The management may be taken over by the Board and the zemindar pensioned on Rs. 12,000 a year until his encumbrances are cleared.

The Secretary, Mr. Thomas Snodgrass, reports to the Governor-in-Council. The report contains a statement of the jamabandi and rents of the zemindari and havili lands and an account of the collections of f. 1197 including the sea and river customs.
Owing to the decline of trade, an increase in the revenue could not be expected. With a view to encourage the exportation of the staple commodities of the district, a total abolition of unnecessary taxes or a duty of not higher than 5 per cent on piece-goods is recommended.

Mr. Keating's Dubash against the custom of watering the taluk conveyed it to that of Ramavadanlu, who had, for a long time, attempted to rent it. The Resident does not recommend converting the zemindari into havili. The loyalty of Jagannath Deo, the zemindar of Protapogiri and brother of Moni Deo in the Company's cause which led to the surrender of Moni Deo is mentioned and the restoration of Vijayanagar to Jagannath Deo is recommended.

The prospect of any revenue from Surangi is remote.
In connection with Sano Deo's affair, the Jalandra zemindar escaped and the Surangi zemindar was kept in confinement. His release is recommended.

The Collector apprehends that the plan could not be adopted in the district on account of a difference of local circumstances. It appears that granaries on the sea-coast, especially at Calingapatam, would be best adapted to the district. The Collector offers further suggestions on the proposals in general.

Declaration by Ramavadanlu to Andrew Scott, Esq.
Deposition of Mr. George Lavale.
He deposed that Mr. Keating's Dubash, Tomiah, used to take money out of the Company's cash chest and use it for Mr. Keating's private trade, but could not tell whether the money belonged to Mr. Keating or to the Company.
Deposition of Guzzavellee Tuggiah.
Mr. Keating kept his own cash in the same place as the Company's cash and took money from the cash chest as he had occasion for it, but he could not say whether Mr. Keating employed the Company's cash to his private account. He could not specify the amount of Ramavadanloo's payments, as the accounts were delivered up to Mr. Keating before he went away.

In May 1813, Durga Razu who went to Benares, having died, his son, Pudmanabha Deo was made manager. His acts created universal disgust and he had to seek refuge at Chicacole. The district was brought under the Company's protection and Pudmanabha Deo brought back under military protection. His headstrong passions and cruel disposition disqualified him for the manager's place. He, thereupon, endeavoured to create disturbances and the irruption of the Pindaris added to the disturbed state of the district. Martial law should be enforced and two field forces stationed in the district to restore peace.	28- 1-17	65-70

Minor zemindar.	7- 2-18	23-36
Mr. Peter Reade Cazalet, the acting Collector, reports to Government the result of his enquiries into the whereabouts of Balabhadra Bhanj, the minor son of the late zemindar.		45-120
The boy was given into the care of Sonna Sing and Brindavana Bhanj by his father, who was afraid that the grand-father, previously deposed from the position of zemindar, would use the son to get him out of the zemindari. Three of the late zemindar's concubines stated that the boy was dead, but they had not seen his body. Other witnesses had last seen him in 1817 and 1818.
He appears to be still alive and in the care of Sonna Sing and Brindavana Bhanj.
————— Settlement report.	7-12-18	36-45
The Acting Collector and Magistrate reports to Government about the unsettled state of the zemindari, the apprehension of the people, the late incursions of the Pindaris, etc. Dhananjaya Bhanj, having forfeited his rights to the zemindari, his son, Balabhadra Bhanj, has also lost his claim. Some time must elapse before the ryots will regain their confidence. It is suggested that Government may consider favourably the petition of Balabhadra Bhanj. During his minority, the Government will hold in possession the surplus revenue and the Collector will superintend the education and habits of the minor so as to make him in future a better zemindar and a better subject than his forefathers.		121-2

Sarsungi Maharta's rebellion.	20-10-18	289-99
Mr. Charles Bird, Head Assistant Magistrate and Collector, Berhampur, reports to Mr. Peter Reade Cazalet, Acting Collector and Magistrate, Ganjam, about the rebellion in the Mohiri Hills under Sarsungi Maharta.	13-11-18	307-9
This man, whose real name is Bennu, lived peaceably in Berhampur until 1801 when he openly appeared as an insurgent. For some time, he took refuge with Srikara Bhanj, Zemindar of Goomsur. Then he joined the disaffected in Khurda. He was next heard of in 1817, when the irruption of the Pindaris into the district and the disturbances in Kimedi and Goomsur gave him an opportunity. It is proposed to take possession of the Mohiri Hills and hunt him out of the jungles.

The zemindaris of Kimedi, Goomsur, Mohiri and other hereditary hill zemindars were in a disturbed state. Kimedi is now quiet. A small military force is stationed there during the present minority of the zemindar. The restoration of Srikara Bhanj to Goomsur has rendered that district quiet. The arrangements about the zemindari of Mohiri are reported.

The present Zemindar, Dhanunjaya Bhanj, is charged with the murder of his son, Balabhadra Bhanj, and deposed from his Zemindari. But he states that he has sent his son to the Khonds and is unable to produce him as he does not know his whereabouts. The Secretary to Government directs the Collector to report whether the boy is alive or dead. The reports are varying and doubtful, and hence the Collector is unable to say anything definitely.	27- 9-17 } 15-11-17 }	236-42 249

The old corps of the Hill Rangers numbers 325 men and the new one 442; but not one of them would be qualified to discharge the duties contained in the instructions and at the same time it will not be possible to discharge the corps, considering the present state of the country. The commander suggests a plan for the reduction of the corps. Those men, who are disqualified for service on account of wounds or long services, should be discharged with a pension and new men recruited to fill up their places, from persons other than military peons and highlanders. Other suspicious persons should also be discharged.		126

These places are also quite unfit for the service of the regular troops owing to the prevalence of disease and the nature of the country. Hence, the fighting peons of the country, who have a good knowledge of the country and who can withstand the climate, should be recruited for the purpose. Lt. Zemindaris.	2-12-02	139-42
A permanent settlement is necessary for the Ganjam zemindaris. The non-payment of the regular tributes to Government may be attributed to the distress they occasion themselves by maintaining unnecessary armed men and by internal feuds. The Collector gives the average collection for the last 34 years.
The zemindars are no longer allowed to collect customs. Duties on cotton, thread and iron were abolished, but they are still collected in certain zemindaris.

Zemindaris
Settlement, f. 1213.	30-11-03	133-217
The management of the zemindaris was placed in the hands of Bamertah till his death in f. 1212.
The Collector reviews, in general, the different zemindaris, their gross revenue collections, the arrears and management.
There are two difficulties in introducing the permanent settlement (1) want of correct and satisfactory accounts; (2) impracticability of subdividing the several zemindaris into portions equivalent to the portions of kists.
Customs.
The management of the chowkis has been taken over by the Company; and if any remission has to be made to the zemindaris on account of customs, it may be general and not refer to a particular country. (Reprint 489/1-7.)

The zemindari had been transferred from Jagannath Deo to his brother Gajapati and the former was given a pension of Rs. 12,000 a year, which was afterwards reduced to Rs. 5,000 by Mr. Scott, Collector of Chicacole. Gajapati was confined by the Government (1797-8) and Jagannath Deo, fearing a similar fate would befall him, wandered from place to place. He was ordered to appear before the Collector and on his refusal, a reward of Rs. 10,000 was offered for his apprehension. When he took refuge at Surada, he was captured and the reward was distributed between the zemindar of Surada and the Military peons.	2-10-04	362

The town and frontier duties are very high and need reduction. The introduction of chowkies in the zemindaris has not yet been completed.
Sea Customs.
Considered in a revenue point of view, the sea customs are of little importance as all imports by sea pay duty at the Presidency, and the exports chiefly consist of grain, sugar and the Company's bale goods, which are exempted from duty as the Land duty is collected on them.

Chicacole Havili
Settlement.	25- 2-07	180-98
Several of the estates of the Chicacole havili are assessed far beyond their means. The revenues assessed had been formed without sufficiently adverting to the surplus revenues of the proprietor for the maintenance of cultivation. In fixing the assessment, the special commission took a too general view of the havili without sufficiently adverting to the particular circumstances of each estate. The amount of rent during the management of Mr. Crawford is the criterion for the special commission to fix their rent.

Jagannath Rao.
The facts reveal that there was gross mismanagement and corruption in the Collector's department (Mr. Snodgrass). The Collector thinks it would be very difficult to find matter to justify a prosecution of Jagannath Rao. Brazabellah Doss, the important witness, is dead. A sealed packet, left by Mr. Brown to his successor, supposed to contain material documents relating to the conduct of Jagannath Rao, when, opened, was found deficient.

The widow of the late zemindar has entered into an agreement with the Jalandra zemindar and has delegated all powers of management to him, making herself and her minor son answerable for any sums he may have to pay to the Company. Zemindaris
Revenue arrears.	24- 9-08	342-53
1. The Collector's report is divided into 3 parts. Old zemindaris, Ganjam Havili Estates and Chicacole Havili Estates.
Hautghur.—The Balance for f. 1217 has already been fully liquidated.
Mohiri.—The money advanced to Moji Deo for his subsistence is due.
Barraghur.—Part of his land will be sold for arrears.
2. Ganjam Havilis.
There is a balance of Rs. 11,255 for f. 1216 and Rs. 11,075 for f. 1217. The highest balance of Rs. 19,138 is due from Zagarikatakam.
3. General.
The principal error in the permanent assessment is that the amount of rent in Mr. Keating's management was taken as the actual receipt notwithstanding the heavy irrecoverable balances and throughout the statements the actual Kham produce and the Company's settlement are indiscriminately blended. C. Ramavadanlu, a rich merchant, was the principal renter of the Havili after Sitarama Razu. With the aid of his trade, he was able to pay the heavy assessment, concentrating in himself the joint advantages of renter, merchant and ship owner. He fell in arrears and most of his vessels were sold and he was reduced to great embarrassment from which he is by no means extricated.

Hence, the assessment is beyond the actual resources of the country, which naturally results in heavy arrears.
However, the Collector is confident that the whole arrears can be liquidated "within the prescribed period."

As there was an enormous balance, an amin was sent to collect it.
But, Balam Deo, a brother of the zemindar, was giving trouble to the amin. He was appointed as the joint manager of the estate along with the Patro, as Jagannath Sing was unable to manage the estate. The Collector paid a visit to the zemindari and the first and the second kists were realized.
The attachment was withdrawn and the country was restored to the zemindar.

The Collector is of opinion that the entire removal of the Zemindar may occasion discontent. On the ground of incapacity, he may be placed under the charge of Court of Wards.
The plan of uniting the Patro and Balaram Deo has failed. As the latter was hostile to the zemindar he was removed from his office. It may not be advisable to appoint Balaram Deo as the manager as he will create disturbances. Some respectable persons should be appointed by Government as Patros of the Zemindari.

Police
No police establishment existed in the time of the Moorish Government. The Chief and Council who were the first agents to the Circars have practically left it to the zemindars to decide differences and inflict punishment.	20- 8-12	300-4
In later times, the town kotwals acted as police officers.
The Dundassy is generally considered as a village watchman and a small mauniam is allowed him.
The Collector is of opinion that no mere police could be efficient in the hill zemindaris and that to ensure peace, a sibbandi force is essential.

Form of settlement.	5- 4-16	64 68-71
The Collector thinks that the ryotwar system could only be introduced by compulsion as a ryot would not take land for money rent, which a would not be paying to him.
Again, even when the system is introduced, it would be very difficult to realise the revenue as the sum is paid from the surplus of produce which remains after local consumption. The surplus has to be exported and there is no merchant who will undertake the task.
The best method would be to rent the whole village for 5 or 10 years, to the inhabitants, who will have the choice of sub-renting.
The Collector does not favour the settlement on " anchana " (valuation of crops).	18- 5-16	118-20

There are no mocassa peons who are obliged to serve the Government. In the hill zemindaris, lands are given to peons for the services rendered. In Kimedi there are 350 peons. They are given from Rs. 8 to Rs. 24 a year.	27- 5-17	139-40
The Wodia peons belong to a fighting race.
The only way by which an enemy could enter the district is through the hills, hence the people in the hills should not be allowed to have any fortified villages or strong-holds.

Hill Zemindaris Revenue management. All the hill zemindaris have paid their kistbundi. Gudesa Venkatakrishnama is in charge of Mohiri zemindari. He is willing to give up the zemindari for Rs. 60,000. The Collector is of opinion that it would be a great loss to pay him Rs. 60,000 as the further settlement of the zemindari would amount to Rs. 60,000. The late Board wanted to prosecute him for false registry and the Collector wishes that the prosecution could be effected.	9- 8-20	173-6

Settlement Report For f. 1229—Jalumuru, Nagarikatakam, Dusi, Purushottapuram, Wadada, Bhairi, Vamaravalli and Gaura. These estates were overassessed when they were permanently settled in 1807 and the gradual failures of the proprietors to pay the revenue brought them under the management of the Collector from f. 1221. The settlements for ff. 1222—3. were in grain. The quinquennial settlement commenced in f. 1224 and was also a failure. In f. 1229, the lands were rented to actual cultivators for one year. Settlement for f. 1224 was Rs. 1,13,846. The average annual collection of quinquennial lease—Rs. 1,12,562.	19- 9-20 23- 9-20	201-40 246
Mohiri Motarpha. The Collector reports that the motarpha or profession tax was not excluded from the settlement. It continued to be collected by the Collector when it was brought under the management of the Government. It was leased in f. 1226. The inhabitants instituted suits against the renters, stating that the tax was an unauthorised exaction and the Judge passed decrees against the renters, who had to refund the amount. They, in their turn, proceeded against the Manager of the estate, Venkatakrishnama, and on his refusal to take any responsibility, they had to file a suit against the Collector. The Collector is of opinion that the proceedings of the Court are in direct opposition to the Regulation.	26- 9-20	249-52

Kimedi Disturbances. Subba Rao is of the Madras-Malabar caste. He was appointed as writer and afterwards an English translator in 1793. During the temporary resignation of Narsinga Row, he acted as the Manager of Kimedi, but his conduct was unsatisfactory during that period. Through his misconduct disturbances broke out. He embezzled about Rs. 2,000 from the accounts of the zemindari.	5-10-20	259-67

Mr. Snodgrass, Collector of Ganjam, was removed from his position in August 1800, under strong suspicion of corruption. Mr. Brown, who succeeded him, took up the investigation, which was continued by Mr. Peter Cherry and had lasted for 3 years. Mr. Snodgrass left the whole administration in the hands of his dubash, Jagannath Rao, who treated the people very cruelly. The prosecution against Mr. Snodgrass was abandoned as substantial evidence could not be produced. Jagannath Rao was also released.

Katingia
The Katingia villages are inhabited by wild men who acknowledge no government or law and pay tribute to no one.
Ten or twelve years back some revenue was collected by the zemindar of Barraghur who still claims these villages. His relation Harihara Sing Tatirzaz also claims them and is creating disturbances.
The Magistrate suggests that the villages may be taken over by the Company for a nominal tribute.	3- 4-07	273-81

The main objection against village rent is that the people will be oppressed by the head inhabitants. But the appointment of Commissioners will materially diminish the oppression. The ryotwari system involves a constant interference with the cultivator and a constant exercise of domiciliary control on the part of the officers. The village rents are to be in force for three years.
This system was introduced with advantage in Tanjore, Dindigul and Madura.

2. The Board remarks that the establishments of the Land and Sea Customs Departments may be amalgamated, with advantage. Goods manufactured in a town are exempted from town duties. To prevent any abuse they recommend chopping all piece-goods. The sea customs should be considerably reduced. The payment of town duty will not exempt from a subsequent payment of duty at a remote frontier or from a reduced export duty by sea of 3 or 3½ per cent.
3. Tax on betel and tobacco. "The principle of the proposed tax will not be found to be applicable to many situations." The tax may be levied in one of the following ways :— 1. By town duties. 2. Exclusive sale by individual licence. 3. Exclusive sale by rent or general licence. The exclusive sale by rent was strenuously opposed in Tanjore.
4. The Governor-in-Council approves the re-establishment of town duties including those on betel and tobacco. Duty on grain should be levied only with the sanction of the Supreme Government.
Salt Manufacture Improvements at Tanjore. The Board suggests that banksalls should be constructed to store the salt, that depots should be established at inland stations for the sale of salt and that the monopoly price of salt should be raised to Pag. 30 per garce.	30-11-08	66-85

Settlement
The Board considers that the great increase in the settlement of most of the estates is highly satisfactory. The most extraordinary and irregular "dilapidation" of the resources of the Estate of Wadada must be investigated. The unfortunate circumstances relating to the Cunnapilly family renders the sale of the mocassa lands a hardship and the Zemindar Appa Rao must be called upon to liquidate the balances.	14- 1-11	22-8

1. A questionnaire is sent to the Collector on the various points suggested by the Mint Committee relative to the discontinuance of the coinage of double pagodas in gold and of double rupees, of half and quarter pagodas and fanam pieces in silver, and the adoption of a coinage consisting of arcot rupees, and their fractions in silver and of a currency of 3 pice, 1½ and 3¼ pice in copper.	18-12-11 }
2. Colonel Munro, in his report to the Secretary of the Mint Committee, dated 25th January 1806, upon the quantity of circulating specie in the Ceded Districts states that it is variously estimated from fifteen to thirty lacs of pagodas. There is no possibility of obtaining any satisfactory account of the specie exported by individuals during the last five years but whatever the amount may be, it is counterbalanced by the importation. The excess of the exportation above the importation of specie in 5 years is Pag. 1,03,775, but no bad consequences have attended it.
3. He considers that the paper currency will prove ineffectual, as the public will view it with distrust. The use of large notes, may however, be gradually adopted by the principal merchants, who carry on their trade with Madras. The adoption of a uniform currency for the whole of British India will be of great advantage. The madras pagoda and the company's rupee will be the best suited for this purpose.

1. The Board of Revenue sends to the Collector a copy of the Report of the Committee for revising the Customs Regulations.

2. The new regulations are four in number.
(a) A Regulation for rescinding Regulation XII of 1803 and certain sections of Regulation XV of 1808.
The Customs Regulation of 1803 provides for four distinct duties. The aggregate of these duties being too high, a reduction should be made by lowering the centage of each instead of making the payment of the first duty exempt from all further demands.
(b) A Regulation for amending certain sections of Regulations IX and XI of 1803 and of Regulations XIV and XV of 1808. It is recommended that grain, the produce of these territories, be exempt from the operation of the inland duty as well as from the duty on import at Madras, and that it be subject only to the payment of 3 per cent on export from a subordinate port or on exportation by the land frontier.
(c) A Regulation for rescinding certain sections and clauses of Regulations X of 1803, XV of 1808, I of 1804, and V of 1809.
(d) A Regulation for the conduct of the trade of foreign nations with the ports settlements of the British nation under the Presidency of Fort St. George and for defining the duties on such trade.
3. Provisions and stores for the use of His Majesty's Navy, which are the immediate property of the Crown certified as such by the public officers shall be passed free of duty, but articles of provision furnished to His Majesty's Squadron by contractors or their agents are not to be exempted from the payment of the prescribed duties.

The Deputy Secretary to the Board of Revenue transmits a copy of a circular letter addressed to the several Zillah Magistrates under the Presidency. The Collector is requested to offer his suggestions. The report should contain information as to the number, description and pay and other emoluments and allowances whether paid by Government or derived from the inams. The Government consider that in the present general state of tranquillity, the body of military peons is probably unnecessary.

Commission to Collectors
The Secretary to the Board of Revenue circulates to the Collector a copy of a correspondence with Government on the subject of commission paid to Collectors on salt, sayar, abkari and tobacco revenue.	12-11-12	300-18
The resolution of the Governor in Council communicated on the 22nd March 1899 was not given effect to as no limit had been prescribed and the aggregate revenue arising from the several branches might produce a larger sum than was intended or would be considered proper to grant. The receipt was therefore postponed until separate accounts were furnished of the proceeds of each branch of the revenue.

Bills	The Accountant General is of opinion that if the Collectors, at the half-yearly periods when the resources of Government are about to be appropriated, report to his office the amount of bills eventually to be negotiated, out of their collections during the succeeding half-year, a computation could be formed. (Continued on page 439).

The Accountant General is further of opinion that the best way of affording aid to the provincial treasuries, through the medium of bills, is by issuing drafts upon them from the General Treasury at the Presidency. If the agents of the persons who are to pay the revenue in any district possess the funds for which the bills now taken by Collectors are drawn, no objection can exist to the agent applying at the Presidency for bills which would always be received in payment of revenue at sight, and all bills so issued should state on the face of them that they are in payment of revenue.

(2) The other roads in the Presidency are very poor. Messrs. W. Garrow, Ravenshaw and Wallace make certain proposals.
(3) The Board calls on the Collector to report where ferries are needed and to submit estimates for diverting roads, clearing jungle, improving dangerous slopes and surfaces and building causeways.
(4) The improvements should be restricted to cases "where the detention of travellers, the obstruction to the march of troops, to the movement of grain and military stores, of supplies going to the interior, or wheel carriages and supplies coming to the Presidency, or other large towns, meet with serious impediments and delay from the badness of the particular part of the road at other periods than during the rainy months."

The attention of the Collectors is drawn to the provisions of Regulation I of 1809 as modified by Regulation V of 1811.
By the law as it now stands no servant enjoying a salary exceeding Rs. 10 per mensem can be removed from his situation without the orders of the Board of Revenue. The Board considers that the greater the permanency attached to the situations held by native revenue officers, the greater will be the inducement to an honest discharge of their duties.

The regulation was made to tax "the Commerce of the country" (1) in transit through the province, (2) as it supplies the large towns in each province.
It is difficult to distinguish between "the Commerce of the country" and "Petty trade." The latter must not be taxed.
The former consist of "all staple articles of produce, those of luxury, cloths, drugs, etc."

Judicial Administration
1. Court of Directors' Despatch.	1-5-15	56-7
The Despatch is divided into three branches :—		63-104
(1) The established system of judicature.
(2) The present police arrangement.
(3) Administration of criminal justice.
2. The Court of Sudder Adawlut should be directed to prepare regulations for the following :—
(a) To restore the Village Police to the Heads of villages.
(b) The direction of Village Panchayats.
(c) Appointment of Native District Judges or Commissioners and District Panchayats.
(d) To authorize Collector as Magistrate to enforce Pottah Regulation.
(e) To prevent Zemindars, etc., from distraining lands without the authority of the Collector.
(f) To refer boundary disputes to the Collector.
3. The important change recommended by the Court of Directors is the transfer of the Police and Magisterial duties from the Zillah Judge to the Collector. They object to this existing system on the following grounds :—
(a) It is too expensive, (b) Litigants, witnesses, etc., have to undertake long journeys, (c) Want of knowledge of the native language on the part of judges, (d) It admits too freely the right of appeal.
They recommend that natives should be employed as Judges and the expenses to be reduced.
Certain disputes should be referred to the Patels and Panchayats.
An original and appellate Judicatory should be established immediately between the Patels and the Judges and a native of the highest rank and respectability should preside over it.
No stamp duties shall be charged.
4. Village officers should be recruited for police duties.
Revenue and police powers may safely and advantageously be united.
5. Administration of Criminal Justice.
The provincial courts will attend to the criminal business of their circuits. The Collectors acting as Magistrates should be empowered to punish offenders to a limited extent. Zillah Judges should be invested with certain jurisdiction in criminal matters.
The sentence of the Circuit Court should not be executed without a reference to the Foujdary Adawlut.

Kulwar System
Col. Munro reports that this is an ancient system.	..	53-61
Districts are divided into villages under the management of potails or head farmers who settle the respective villages and fix the rent.
A district paying a revenue of Pag. 50,000 contains about 100 villages. Each village has got its native revenue servants. When the ploughing season begins, the potails ascertain what land each ryot can cultivate. He does not fix the rent, which is done by the Collector by the valuation of the crop. The potails and curnams of villages are persons most capable of making settlement correctly, but they cannot be trusted because they are cultivators themselves. Tahsildars are appointed for the purpose.

1. The Governor-in-Council says, "The tendency to corruption on the part of the native revenue servants is due to the defect of their education. The Government agree to the plan of Mr. Ross, Collector of Cuddapah, to establish seminaries for the education of the natives."
2. The Board is of opinion that the defects in the native public servant are due to the want of proper education and also to the fact that their allowances are so restricted as almost to debar them from accumulating any property by means of lawful gains.
A new graduated scale of allowances for the head native servant in each district is sanctioned.	22-4-16	79-81

Low standard of morality.	22-4-16	79-111
1. An organized system of corruption existed among the native revenue servants throughout the presidency. A regulation was drafted empowering the Collector to investigate into the conduct of the native servants and village officers.
2. The corruption was attributed to defective education, laxity of morals, uncertainty of promotion and low salary. The remedies suggested are.—
(a) The establishment of a seminary for the education of the natives.

Vol. 816—cont.
Item.	Date.	Page number.
(b) The allowances should be increased, honorary distinctions and shrotriyams should be granted. "The grant of titles or other honorary distinctions is certainly a cheap mode of purchasing fidelity of our native servants . . . and they are held in the highest estimation . . . in India."
(c) As regards the uncertainty of their situation, it is suggested that greater the permanency attached to their office, the greater will be their inducement to an upright discharge of their duty.
(d) The prospect of promotion and reward for faithful service.
(e) The establishment of pension fund for the families of servants deceased.
(f) The allowance of certain commission to the manager in the salt and sayer department.

Resumption—Complaint.	1-5-18	147-50
The villages of Ancoolie and Old Berhampur were granted to Buddah-pondah and his brother by the Zemindar of Mohiri. During the disturbance in Mohiri the inams were confirmed by the Collector, Mr. Spottiswoode, in appreciation of their services. But when the estate was purchased by Bandam Chelliah they were resumed. The petitioner prays for their restoration. The Government do not consider the petitioner can hold the villages under Government nor do they think they are competent to ask the Zemindar to give them up.

Restoration.		293
The Board of Directors concur with the opinion of the Board of Revenue in restoring the inams which were once resumed to the cultivators and village officers.	17- 9-18	294-305
The Board opines that “by recurring to the institution of the ancient Government we expect to conciliate the affection of the people and at the same time to secure better foundation for the proper discharge of these duties, in the interests and attachment of the officers themselves.”
The word inam means a gift and applies to the minor alienation of land generally granted during Mahometan rule.
The inams were first resumed by Col. Read in the province of Salem.
The Board directs that all the endowments in lands belonging to the religious establishments should be restored.

Mohiri (See pages 45-8). The Zemindari was sold to Bundam Balakrishnamah for Rs. 40,000 being the arrears of rent. Bundam Balakrishnamah and Bundam Chellama belonged to a joint family and on their death, the Zemindari fell to the lot of Bundam Veeriah, the son of Balakrishnamah, the only surviving male member of the family. As Veeriah was a minor, the Board allowed the Collector to manage the Zemindari, till the minor came of age and to draw a commission of 5 per cent on the revenue. In the meantime, the Rani of Moherry, belonging to the "ancient family" applied to the Collector that the sale of the Zemindari was illegal and requested that it should be restored to her. Mr. Thackeray was deputed to investigate and he reported that "the grievances of the Raunee should be immediately redressed." The Government want to know if the present proprietors will relinquish the Zemindari for Rs. 34,000 (paid by them). An allowance of not less than Rs. 9,000 and not more than Rs. 12,000 per annum is sanctioned for the ancient Moherry Family.	31-5-19	242

Salt
Department—Management—Board's Proceedings—Extract.
Salt monopoly was introduced towards the close of 1805. By this system salt will be purchased from the manufacturers by the Government and resold on their behalf at a monopoly price which is fixed at Rs. 70 per garce.	10-7-19	338-42
The administration of this system was vested in the Collectors under the orders of a general agent, under the control of the Board of Revenue.		410
The monopoly was extended to Malabar and Canara in 1807.	31-5-19	297-330
The office of General Salt Agent was abolished in 1808 and was managed by Collectors and Head Assistants.
"Salt in almost every country has been among the articles selected as object of taxation; in England, the tax is levied in the form of a high excise duty and in some other of the European states by a monopoly of the article itself."
The latter system is adopted in India.
A monopoly price of Rs. 105 is levied on salt worth only from 5 to 12 rupees.
Rules for the Salt Department.
Advances for the manufacture of salt should be continued.
Sale.
Salt should be sold by heaps at the rate of Rs. 100 per garce and Rs. 105 if sold by measure.
Head gollah peon shall be appointed at Rs. 15 per month.
The Board of Revenue does not wish to transfer the Salt Department to the Board of Trade. The Board also desires that the Sea Customs may be transferred to the Revenue Department.

Kimedi
Disturbances—Mr. Bird, Sub-Collector—Report.	28- 7-19	361-72
Kimedi has been disturbed for 6 years past.
There are two parties in Kimedi, one under Putta Mahadevee, widow of Guzzaputty Deo and the other under Swagee Mahadevee, second widow of the late Zemindar.
After the resignation of Narasinga Row, Sooba Row became the manager and took great part in the disturbances, with the help of the vessoys. Sooba Row was suspended and Narasinga Row was re-appointed.
Roiguddah was restored to Dundoo Shanah, head of a section of vessoys.
The strength of the two parties was nearly equal; Swagee Mahadevee had control in the town but Putta Mahadevee was strong in the country.
If Putta Mahadevee, who is in the country, returns to Kimedi serious disturbances will occur. It would be necessary to raise a body of five hundred peons to meet any emergency.
"Wherever there is a zemindar there is a little danger."

Letters from the Board on the Permanent Settlement.
Permanent Settlement
Introduction.	8-7-1804	1-63
Ganjam or more properly the Ichchapuram district is the northern division of the ancient Chicacole Sircar.
The boundaries, physical features, agricultural and mineral products and manufactures are discussed.
The district contains 20 zemindaris, 1 new havili, 8 old havilis and 4 mittas. Its gross revenue is Rs. 12,40,931 and net Rs. 11,83,918.
Mr. Cherry proposes a 5 or 10 years' settlement preparatory to introducing the permanent settlement. But the Board wishes to introduce the latter at once. At present the cost of maintaining troops to keep the zemindars in order swallows up a good part of the revenues.

Detailed proposals are indicated below.

Goomsur.

The Zemindari is the largest and produces the most rent. The young Zemindar, Dhanunjaya Bhanj, being rebellious, he was kept under restraint. His father Serikara Bunje is holding the tract of country west of Kollada. The gross revenue is Rs. 1,66,140 (excluding inams). The average collection of 17 years is Rs. 71,297. The Board recommends a jumma of Rs. 70,000 from f. 1214.

This is of considerable extent and mountainous. It is not very fertile. The gross produce is Rs. 90,000 and the average Rs. 22,375. The jumma recommended Rs. 23,000. Muni Deo, the former Zemindar, was confined in 1792 for misconduct, escaped from prison in 1801 and eventually forfeited his Zemindari, which was conferred on his son Balabhadra Deo.

Protapogiri.

Formerly included in the Vizianagaram Zemindari. The gross produce is Rs. 70,881 and the average Rs. 17,957. The jumma recommended is Rs. 20,000. The former Zemindar, was imprisoned in 1796, on a charge of murdering his pauter. He escaped from prison in 1800 and continued to be turbulent. The Zemindari was conferred on his son Chandra Muni Deo.

Tarla.

This is fine level country, abundantly watered and well cultivated. The gross produce is Rs. 15,347 and the average Rs. 5,219. The jumma recommended is Rs. 4,000.

Palur and Humma.

Chikati.

This is watered by the Ichchapore river—Fertile and well cultivated. Burraghur is thinly populated and its chief produce is wheat. Seergur is fertile and yields fine crops of paddy. Surada is not very fertile. Mandasa is a hilly tract full of wood; it produces the best paddy.

Khallikote and Jalandra.

They were assigned to the Sircar for arrears of rent. Jellandra was taken in the minority of Rama Chendra Deo. Calicote is situated along the banks of the Chilka lake.

Mohiri.

Narayan Deo, the former Zemindar, was murdered in 1786 by his own brothers Sone Deo and Moja Deo. As he had no heir the Zemindari reverted to the Government. Krishna Periya Rani, the wife of the late Zemindar, was recalled and the Zemindari was conferred on her.

In 1791, the Board recommended the resumption of the Zemindari and the Rani was allowed a pension of Rs. 12,000 per annum but the Rani refused to relinquish her right.

Gajapati Deo, Zemindar of Kimedi, forfeited his Zemindari for breaches of his engagement and died on 4th February 1802.

His son, a minor, succeeded and Durga Rao was appointed to manage the affairs.

Vissoys.

By a proclamation of 1800, Vissoys are exempted from being dependent on the Zemindari.

Chicacole.

On the acquisition of Northern Circars, the Havally of Chicacole was rented to Seetarama Rauze for 10 years.

Although the Vessabuddy system and destructive practice of cist, cum-modees, do not appear to have existed in this Havally, the revenues were constantly fluctuating.

Tekkali.

This was held by the ancient Zemindari of Orissa on a jumma of about Rs. 20,000 in 1797. After the death of the Zemindar, the Zemindari reverted to Government.

The havallis suffered very much from the disturbances at Kimedi.

Board's Proceedings.

The report of the Special Commission was approved.

Advertisement.

The jumma of the estates and havally lands will be permanently assessed. The sale of estates will begin on 30th June 1803.

Letters from the Board on Ryotwari Settlement.

Vol. 823.

Ryotwari System

Introduction of.

Opinions from the Collectors are called for on the introduction of the Ryotwari System.

In the lands where a settlement has already been made, it is not necessary to disturb it.

Although the new plan will change the payment in kind to a payment in money, the people shall have the option to pay the revenue in grain. If the ryots are in favour of village rents it should be renewed after 10 years.

In other cases, the Pateat Individual Ryotwari Settlement may be introduced.

The whole of the Ganjam district is in the possession of zemindars who hold their lands under the permanent zemindari tenure, with the exception of Ichchapuram pargana granted to the late Major Evans.

The village lease settlement prevails in Ichchapuram and Bavanapur. The Board reports about the existence of village lease and ryotwari system in the presidency.

Regular plans are being prepared by the Board for the formation of the ryotwari settlement.

It is based on a money assessment. In most of the provinces, the revenue from nanja lands and in some punja lands, was paid in kind.

The Board intends to forbid the Collectors to admit any persons to enter into agreements direct with the officers of Government under the ryotwari system who are not by hereditary or prescriptive right entitled to pay the dues directly to the Sircar. The object of the Board is to preserve the rights of the mirasidars, vekudis and kadims.

The Government with a view to uphold the dignity and status of ancient Zamindaris, asks the Board to draft a regulation to govern succession, the mode of recovering arrears, the adjustment of private debts, the management of police and the procedure against Zemindars accused of crimes.	16- 2-21 } 22-10-21 }	352-66
The Board suggests that in addition to the existing regulations,
(1) The powers vested in the Zemindars to dispose of the Estate by sale, gift or otherwise should be withdrawn.
(2) The hereditary tenure of the Estate should continue and it should not be held answerable for private debts.
(3) The debts now due should be liquidated by the Collector from the surplus revenues of the Estate.
The Board consulted the views of some important Zemindars and creditors also in regard to the proposed changes.
It asks the Collector to furnish a list of all Zemindars, Poligars and other Chiefs holding Estates, with the names and rules of succession in each of them for this purpose.

Application by Court.	15- 2-22	64-6
The Civil Judge at Guntur applied for the grant of certain documents to a pauper on unstamped paper. The Collector declined to comply with the application. Thereupon the Judge made a reference to the Chief Court. The Chief Court supported the views of the Collector and states that he is fully justified in his refusal according to the provision of the law in force.
The proper course is to summon the Record keeper of the Collector to produce the records in Court for evidence.
The Judge accordingly issues summonses for the production of the required records.

The Sub-Collector, Berhampur, reports that his attempts to persuade Parasuram Deo to desist from his rebellious course have proved vain, and Parasuram Deo has actually taken possession of the Zemindar's fort and is growing more powerful. He forwards and supports the request of the Zemindar for Government to take over the management of the estate.
Parasuram Deo is capable of administering the estate; but the old Zemindar's enmity towards him is such that he does not want him to succeed to his estate.

— Motarpha.
A sum of Rs. 5,257-5-1 was held in deposit being the motarpha collections of Mohiri. This was neither credited to the Zemindar nor to Government for the following reasons. The permanent assessment was made including the motarpha taxes and subsequently a regulation was passed by which the motarpha collection was resumed by Government. The Zemindari was under the Court of Wards which did not know whether the collections should be resumed or not, as the permanent settlement was concluded before the regulation came into force.
A similar instance occurred in the Zemindari in Mr. Cazalet's time. The rent was collected on behalf of Government and the renters instituted a suit against the Collector and got a decree in their favour. The Collector had to return the amount, which was distributed among the ryots.

Food-grains Surplus, Export to Masulipatam. Owing to the superfluity of grains in Ganjam the price is falling. Many merchants from various places have flocked here to export but they are not sure to which place they should book their grains. There are very few people from Masulipatam.	14- 1-1833	3-4

Armed Peons The expenditure incurred on the maintenance of armed peons in Kimedi exceeds the revenue realised from the estates and the present system enhances the arrears against the Zemindari. The oppression of the Zemindar on the people was the cause of all these troubles. Once he was dismissed, people found rest and repaired to their respective places and vocations. Bissoyes are a lawless nomadic set of people who live by plunder. They have numerous followers. They will never be amenable to any Government.	5- 2-33	18-28

Surada Lutchmenarinsing, the Zemindar of Surada, has lost confidence and respect of his people. All respectable people have migrated and their place is taken by thieves, plunderers and free-booters. The ordinary revenue is small and even that is not being realised. The Zemindar of Goomsur offers Rs. 7,000 for this Zemindari and promises to reorganise it on the lines of his own. Costs Payment by Government. In an appeal suit decided against the Collector, he was asked to remit Rs. 84-15-2 as the court cost, etc. He declined on the ground that he is not authorised to disburse more than Rs. 20 without the previous sanction of the Government. A reminder has been issued for early compliance and he was shown that under section XV of the Regulation II of 1802, special sanction of Government in this case is unnecessary.	5-12-34	77-8

Pensions Somada Grovanah's widows' claim. Somada Goorvanah, Cutwal's peon at Ganjam, having been killed when he was bringing the pay of the establishment, his widows have become supportless. Hence the widows pray for some pension.	-1-1821	4-5
Police Sibbandi Peons Retention. The armed police are accustomed to hilly tracks and can pursue plunderers without fear. Their inclusion in the establishment means a loss of possible recruits to the ranks of plunderers. The Collector considers that they should be retained.	19- 3-21	13-6
Mohiri Dispute about Samasthanam jewels. On the death of Musa Deo, the late Zemindar of Mohiri, certain idols belonging to the ancient Samasthanam were taken away by the first widow with a view to deprive the minor, the son of the second widow, of them. The second widow prosecuted her for robbery. She now intends to make away with the property secretly. The Collector reports that proper measures should be adopted by the Criminal Judge to dispose of this case and that members of the family should not be placed in the dock without the previous sanction of the Government as this would touch their respectability. He also ventures to report that the charge is exaggerated. The Criminal Judge has now come to the same conclusion and orders that if any restraints have been placed over the mother of the minor Zemindar they should be withdrawn.	26- 4-21	19-23 25
Christian Marriage Solemnized by the Assistant Collector. As there is no clergyman in Berhampur and Chicacole where a large number of Europeans reside, the Assistant Magistrate, Mr. Bayard, solemnized the marriage of Mr. J. Mathison with Maryan Pance. Orders are solicited whether it is regular for Civil Servants to perform the ceremonies of marriages, baptism, etc. (See 3938/126-7).	21- 8-21	42
Pindaris Travellers detained on suspicion. Rumours of an incursion of Pindaris have proved to be groundless. Two Arabs having been found travelling in this district were detained on suspicion. Chikati and Surangi Dispute. Some of the peons of the Surangi Zemindari fired at the ryots of the Chikati Zemindari and killed two men. The Collector did not deem it expedient to prosecute the Surangi Zemindar as the evidence was very slender. It has been a great task for the Government to win these Zemindars to their side and their honour and status should not be damaged without very strong reason.	25- 1-1822	5-6

ood-grains Prices. The seasonal rains having failed, there occurred a fluctuation in the price of grain. To meet the shortage grain was imported duty free and the merchants were given perfect freedom in their dealings. This had the desired effect. Lt.-Col. The constant fluctuation of price and the pressure of other work precluded the Collector from giving these particulars.	17- 1-1824	3-9

The explanation accompanying the statements of crimes, apprehensions and punishments reveals that the number of crimes committed is very great, and of cases apprehended and punished few. The lack of support by the zemindars and the existence of hills in the vicinity which affords shelter to criminals are responsible for partial failure on the part of the police but does not reflect any slur on their vigilance and activity.

The district police are working to his great satisfaction. The village police is backward; they will not or cannot understand the authority vested in them and very few indeed can understand the instructions and regulations.

Judgments
Delays to be avoided.
The Judges of the Sadar and Foujdari Adalat complained that the reports of the criminal cases are rendered useless by being submitted so late. The Judges expect the reports within a month after the expiry of the period covered by the report.	10-6-35	104-5
Police Establishments
Improvement proposals.
The inadequacy of the present police establishment, is more striking when the nature and extent of the district is considered. The Magistrate proposes an increase in the establishment which he thinks would make it more efficient.	25-7-35	126-32
Efficiency also depends upon the improvement of the village police. Owing to large zemindaris and the renting system, the villagers are unacquainted with the regulation and practice of police.
The regeneration of the police cannot spring up all of a sudden. Little can be done without the active co-operation of the zemindars. Excepting a few zemindaris and those that are under amani arrangements, the rest have no establishment at all. One police peon will be appointed who may report such outrages as he may happen to hear of but the less serious offences are seldom brought to notice.
He proposes to make a net work of sub-divisions throughout the district with a station in each.
Fear of criminals has sunk deep into the hearts of the people and the prosecution is more often than not defeated. They will disown their own property in prosecution for robbery. The limited powers of a Magistrate are another drawback. He cannot apprehend an offender whom the zemindar wishes to protect. A further obstacle lies in the long journey that prosecutors and witnesses must perform to reach the Court.
In order to obviate these drawbacks, Judges should be given more power in the examination of witnesses. Magistrates' powers also should be extended. In cases of gang robbery circumstantial evidence may be accepted. The Magistrate should have powers to apprehend offenders even in zemindaris.

The Zemindar of Nawaguddah reports that the Zemindar of Goomsur sent a few peons who killed about 7 persons in the house of Joghunatha Bunjee in the former's Zemindari. The Goomsur Zemindar says that nothing like this has happened and it is a mere fabrication to bring him into disrepute.
Taking into consideration the character of the victim, Joghunatha Bunjee, the allegation does not appear to be well-founded.
Palkonda
Disturbances.	15-3-21	20-1
A thousand free-booters from the Kimedi Zemindari invaded Palkonda and attacked and plundered Yelloomahanty Seetarampanta's house. On enquiry it was found that Y. Seetarampanta, the Dewan of the Palkonda Zemindar was not popular in the country and, with a view to upset his administration, some people of the Zemindari paid a large sum to the free booters to do this act. Hence these principal people of Palkonda have to be dealt with seriously before punishing the free-booters of Kimedi.

Sometime back the dispute about the water-courses was settled by the construction of dams but the Zemindar of Surangi being dissatisfied with the decision, broke the dams and was made to pay a fine of Rs. 100.
Now he brought some of his peons and ordered them to fire at the inhabitants of the Chikati Zemindari with the result that two ryots died on the spot. All the witnesses deposed that the Zemindar was present. The police gave contrary evidence. Having brought to the notice of the Governor in Council that dealers in grain are forced to keep their bazaars open and that attempts to raise prices is attended with the punishments of confinements, the Collector is informed that such procedure is not only illegal but also improper. It is universally believed that a free market adjusts the supply to the demand and the price to the expense of production more accurately than any public officer can do by force and coercion. The case of scarcity forms an exception to this rule.

Police Enquiry
Irrelevant questions.	20- 4-24	73
In the preliminary enquiry held by the police officers, they ask whether the prisoner was concerned in offences totally unconnected with the charge under investigation. This irregular and improper practice should be discouraged.
Apprehensions
Power not to be abused.	2- 9-24	75-7
On finding a remarkable discrepancy between the total number of persons apprehended and the number of persons acquitted, the Magistrate was asked to explain. He explained that the depositions made on this were taken into consideration and on account of insufficiency of proof the accused were acquitted.
In the first instance it has to be observed that there is no provision for the police to take depositions on oath and the practice should be discouraged. At the same time the Judges see no reason to believe that the Heads of the Police do not take notice of the humane provisions which prevent the unnecessary privation of personal liberty.
Evidence
Preparation of statements—Instructions.	11-10-23 11- 4-25	93-5 132
Confessions
Use of torture.	29-10-24	108-10
In a certain case it has been abundantly proved that the peons of a peishkar employed atrocious cruelties to extort a confession with the result the accused died. This practice is not only barbarous and involves in itself the most aggravated criminality but it is calculated to subvert the administration of criminal justice. Hence peons should be warned against carrying out orders for the maltreatment of prisoners and it should also be proclaimed that those who so do will suffer capital punishment.
Depositions
Language of record.	..	113
In a case it has been found that the accused persons know only Hindustani and the depositions are written in Telugu. This is a gross dereliction of duty and in defiance of the regulations. The examination and deposition must always be taken in the language in which the deponents may desire to have them recorded.
Sentences
Return of warrant.	7- 3-25	119-21
To make the practice uniform it is ordered that a warrant of transportation should be acknowledged on receipt and sent with the officer in charge of the prisoner. A warrant for corporal punishment should be endorsed and returned. A warrant for imprisonment should be retained till the expiration of the term of imprisonment.
Confessions
The offer of favour or threats should be discouraged.	14- 3-25	122-3 154-5
Police Enquiry
Order of recording.	16- 3-25	124-5 138-9
Heads of the Police and their subordinates should be instructed to take down in the first instance in the presence of the accused the deposition of the complainants and the witnesses and on the completion of this to take down the depositions of the accused either in affirmative or negative.
Prisoners
Use of fetters.	24- 3-25	127-9
The practice of tying the arms of the prisoners with ropes, etc., behind their backs to prevent their escape causes great hardship. They can be effectively secured by the use of iron rings on the wrists to which a rope may be fastened.

Abduction The regulations provide no penalty for abduction. The Advocate-General opines that the regulation against carrying off people out of the Company's territory to be sold as slaves may be used when children are abducted. Such cases are cognizable only by the Supreme Court. If necessary legislation may be passed.	29- 7-25	140-4
Robbery Rewards for apprehensions. The Court of Foujdari Adalat desires that the several Judges of Circuit when recommending rewards for the injuries sustained in apprehending criminals should also state the manner in which the liberality of the Government can be extended.	9- 1-26	51-3
False Accusations Legislation discussed. False accusations are not at present punishable by law. Consequently, people make them continuously. Government solicit the opinions of the courts on the nature of the necessary legislation to penalize them.	18- 1-27	173-4
Warrants Particulars to be stated. All the particulars about the amount of security, number of sureties, the period for which the sureties are to be responsible and the period for which the prisoner has to be detained under custody are to be specified in warrants.	22- 5-28	184-5
Prisoners Detention by Magistrates. It has been submitted to the Court of Foujdari Adalat whether it is proper for the Magistrates to detain prisoners when they are released by the Court of Circuit, by a higher tribunal. The practice is irregular unless the Magistrate receives distinct charges against the released prisoner, or possesses information against his general character, etc., which the Court of Circuit does not possess.	22-12-28	197-200
Apprehension Beyond the boundaries of the district. The Magistrate of Vizagapatam has applied to the Magistrate of Ganjam to apprehend a person charged with murder and hand him over to him for adjudication. The Magistrate of Ganjam thinks that orders should issue from the Criminal Court. It has been observed that the case should be tried at the Criminal Court at Vizagapatam and both the Magistrates should send their preliminary enquiries direct to that Court along with the accused.	24- 1-29	202-3
Trial Where separate trials are necessary. If two or more crimes of the same description are charged against the same person as having been done at the same time and place the case is entirely one but if the time and place of the alledged crimes are different though the prisoners are the same, each case must be shown distinctly and separately.	2- 3-29 } 25- 2-29 }	216-9
Goldsmiths Proposed regulation. It is rarely possible to trace property which has been robbed, as the offenders immediately take it to a goldsmith who melts it down. In fact there are too many goldsmiths for honest business and hardly a gang robbery occurs in which some goldsmith is not implicated. This is not to speak of their dishonesty in the ordinary way of business by debasing coins, alloying jewels and substituting glass for gems. It is now proposed to restrain the activities of the goldsmiths by insisting on them, taking out licences to exercise their calling and maintaining accounts of the purchase and sale of precious materials. The extent of their manufacture is also to be restricted.	15- 1-29	224-34
Petitions Jurisdiction of Circuit Court. It is submitted for ruling whether a Judge in Circuit has authority to take cognizance of any proceedings of a Magistrate in cases not included in the calendars laid before him. It was observed as irregular. The Court of Circuit has power to receive petitions and refer them the Magistrates for remarks.	14- 5-29	247 50

Police Powers of zamindari—Instructions. It is competent to grant to zemindars, etc., such portion of the police powers vested by regulation in Tahsildars as the Magistrates deem proper, but it will be better for the Magistrate to select certain native revenue officers under such landed proprietors to perform the duties as belonging to officers subordinate to Tahsildars in each taluk so as to relieve the landlords from all police details.	22-12-28	251-3
Prisoners Submission of police records. In spite of repeated warnings the police authorities, instead of transmitting the proceedings of their cases cognizable by Criminal Court to that Court, send them to the Magistrates, thereby incurring great delay in the transmission of the prisoners. The Judges desire that it may once more be brought to their notice that a recurrence will be viewed with censure.	21- 5-29	254-5
Criminal Lunatics Custody. It is the duty of the Magistrate to send all insane persons charged with crimes to the Criminal Judge or Joint Criminal Judge. Such persons shall be confined in the hospital attached to the jail under care of an European Medical Officer. On his report the Criminal Judge may restore him to his friends without obtaining permission from the higher courts. But cases of confirmed lunacy should be sent to Madras Lunatic Hospital. When they be found in an undoubted state of sanity they shall be placed on their trial. If the evidence establishes that there was mental derangement at the time of the commission of crime, he shall be acquitted.	1- 6-29	256-60
Prisoners Escape is punishable as a distinct crime.	13- 7-29	270-2
Police Reports by Magistrates. The Foujdari Adalat recommends to the Government that the Magistrates may be called upon to report, along with the statements of crimes, etc., the state of the police in their respective districts. Such reports may suggest action for the improvement of efficiency.	20- 5-29	284-6

Punishments Cat-of-nine-tails. The second Judge on Circuit reported that the cats-of-nine-tails used in districts are different from those used by the Military. He was misinformed: there is no difference between the two. But the peons who use it do not understand its correct use. Hence it is no wonder that constant complaints about it are made.	10-11-1829	4-6
Prisoners Delay in transmission. In a certain case an European Magistrate delayed the transmission of prisoners beyond the prescribed time. The Criminal Court desired him to explain this delay; to which he demurred. It was the fear that the delay might operate in favour of the prisoner and not a want of confidence in the Magistrate, that prompted the query. It is true that the rules do not require him to offer such an explanation. In future, to meet the ends of justice, every delay beyond 48 hours should be explained in a note.	8- 2-30	9-10
Evidence Husband and wife. The Assistant Judge asks the Court of Foujdari Adalat whether either a husband or wife, accused together by a third party, is competent to give evidence against the other. The Judges declare that the question cannot be decided by Mahomedan or English law; the general principle must be modified according to the local view of the marriage state. The Court is inclined to admit such evidence but to discount its value in comparison with other forms of evidence.	4- 3-30	27

Superior Magistrate's interference. Foujdari Adalat's remarks. From the statements it is clear that the convictions are far less than the apprehensions. Magistrates are repeatedly requested to see that no unnecessary and fruitless apprehensions are made. A statement of the fines remitted by the District Police Officers should be submitted. Native police heads should also be instructed to transmit cases to the proper authorities. Cases cognizable by police heads are transmitted to the local Magistracy.	17- 6-30	68-71

Allegation against the Police. Karku Lakshmi complains to the Court of Circuit that her petition about maltreatment by the Amin of Chicacole was not considered by the Magistrates. When it was referred to the Magistrate for report, he states that such a complaint came to him but the Amin and Police denied its truth and no evidence was produced.	27- 6-1832	4-5
Prisoners
Pedda Davu, etc. These convicts are notorious members of a gang, each one of whom had been convicted not less than six or seven times. The Magistrate is convinced that if they are let loose they will add to the disturbed state of the country and represents that if the Court should form a different opinion, the matter may be referred to the Government.	2- 7-32	14-5 49-50

Cases of murder. The Court of Foujdari Adalat views with serious concern the neglect of the village officers in holding an inquest on the bodies in a certain case. In future such neglect will be visited with dismissal. It is a duty that is universally neglected in zemindaris.	30- 1-33	7-9

Surada Succession—Dispute. On the death of the Zemindar a conflict regarding the succession arose between the widow of the deceased's elder brother and his nephew. The Collector put the latter in possession of the Zemindari. The Board did not approve this, but did not like to undo what has been done. In return for help rendered by the Zemindar of Goomsur, the Zemindar of Surada gave him some villages. But the peons and sirdars objected to giving them up and the Sub-Collector proclaimed that this was an unauthorized transaction. The Board directs the Collector to prevail upon the Zemindar of Goomsur to extinguish pretensions at least for the present. The Collector is also asked to take steps to quiet the disturbances in the Zemindari.	23- 2-30	15-6
Vizianagaram Succession—Dispute. The estate is under Government management pending a dispute for the succession between the two sons of the late Zemindar. The villages were generally rented. The Board observes that the parties ought to have moved the Provincial Court and not the Zilla Court for this adjudication.	1- 4-30	17
Mohiri Petition. Government are unwilling to upset the division of the Estate already carried out.	9-12-31	1
Kimedi The Board directs that the present manager should be removed and banished. Martial law need not be proclaimed but troops should be requisitioned, if necessary.	20-10-31	2
Goomsur Management. The Zemindari was given to Srekara Bhanj for his life only and liable to be resumed at the pleasure of Government. At one time he was declared unfit for management and his son was installed in his place; but the latter forfeited it by resistance to legal process. He was confined at Chingleput and his father was again made Zemindar. Of late he has become a devotee and has become slack in the management of the Zemindari. Arrears have accumulated and it is feared that he is a wilful defaulter, trying to accumulate a large purse for his expenses as a devotee. The Collector is directed to get into personal touch with him to recover the arrears and pave the way for bringing the Estate under Government management.	1- 9-31	3
Dharakota Management report for f. 1240. The demand is the same as that for last fasli. The greater part of it has been collected; authority has been given to strike off the irrecoverable arrears.	8-12-31	4
Surada Management. The Collector of Ganjam intimated to the Board that disturbances have again broken out in the Zemindari, in spite of increasing the number of peons. The Collector despairs of bringing about an amicable settlement between the widow and Lakshminarayan Sing. He therefore recommends that it may be brought to sale for arrears and bought in by Government which he hopes, will bring tranquillity to the Estate. The Board is inclined to fear the possibility of the Estate being purchased by the Zemindar of Goomsur or by some person less creditable than the present Zemindar.	30- 8-31	5
Mohiri and Dharakota Management for f. 1239. The demand in this fasli was greater than the last fasli. The surplus funds of the Zemindari are invested in the Government loan. The charges for the fasli are rather high owing to the disturbed state of the country.	24- 2-31	8

Aska Sale of Estate. The Board confirms the sale of the Aska Estates and orders that the surplus remaining after clearing the arrears due to Government should be paid to the late proprietor. The Government approve conditionally of buying in of Palanki and Paltalagam Estates.	1-12-31	11
Mohiri Management for f. 1240. A triennial settlement was concluded in f. 1239 and the demand for this fasli was less than in the last. The surplus funds are ordered to be sent to the Accountant-General to be invested in Government loan.	24-10-31	12
Surada Agreement. The Board sees no objection to the agreement now made between the widow and Lakshminarayan Sing, the present Zemindar, provided it is understood that the lands set apart for the maintenance of the widow for her life are inalienable from the Zemindari and no deduction in the beriz is made.	1- 1-31	13
Appeal Procedure for the Collector. In cases of appeal against the decisions of the subordinates to a Collector, he will entertain the appeal, call for the proceedings and decide, revise, confirm or annul, as the case may be, and then transfer it to the Board for confirmation. In cases where he agrees with the decisions of his subordinates, he may merely transfer the appeal with reasons for such concurrence.	11- 8-31	14
Surada Management. Before taking any decisive step about the alteration in the management of the Zemindari, the ejection of the Goomsur Zemindar from a mita of the Zemindari has to be considered.	1- 9-31	19
Karakavalasa Transfer of jurisdiction. The Zemindar petitions that the jurisdiction of his Estate might be transferred from Ganjam to Vizagapatam on the plea that constant disturbances break out in this district. Government decline the request on the ground that there was only one such disturbance and that since the agreement with the ringleader, the Zemindari has been quite peaceful.	15-10-31	20

Management. The removal of Srikara Bhanj from the Zemindari and the installation of his son Dhanunjaya Bhanj as Zemindar have been approved. Zemindaris
Incapacitated proprietors. The Judges of the Sadr Adalat opine, that the provisions of Reg. V of 1804, which provide for the realisations of public revenue from the estates of incapacitated proprietors, do not authorize the Court of Wards to retain possession of the estate on account of arrears. On the other hand the provisions demonstrate that they were intended to secure the estates from ruin and encumbrance of debts, etc.	15- 5-32	17
