| 18-10-38 | Palkonda family—Allowances deducted.The ladies were all uniformly granted Rs. 20 each for themselves and Rs. 5 for each daughter. Camaliah received Rs. 30, i.e., Rs. 20 for herself and Rs. 10 for her two daughters. After the death of the daughter the daughter's allowance should have been deducted. But Camaliah feels it a disgrace to allow any deduction from her original pension.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 52-3         |

| 18-10-38 | Camaliah's allowances—History.On the death of the Rajah of Palcondah the Hon. Company vested the management of the zamindari in Camaliah, the Rajah's widow, for 7 years during the minority of her adopted son, Coormarauze. She says that she transacted all the business to the entire satisfaction of the Circar. She was at that time allowed a monthly present of Rs. 130. When Coormarauze was placed over the zamindari he caused some disturbance for which he was confined and the whole family were granted pensions according to their circumstances. At that time Camaliah was getting Rs. 90. But it was subsequently reduced to Rs. 30, i.e., Rs. 20 for herself and Rs. 10 for her two daughters at Rs. 5 each.When the families were brought to Vellore they were each allowed an increase of Rs. 2. Now Camaliah was getting Rs. 36 in all, i.e., Rs. 22 for herself and Rs. 14 for her two daughters at Rs. 7 each. This sum being insufficient, Camaliah was obliged to dispose of her personal jewels, etc | 54-5         |

From the deposition of Kismat Ally and the information obtained by Mr. Elliott in regard to Hajee Ameen there can be little doubt that both of them since their return from Mecca have been acting clandestinely.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |      |
| 24-5-39 | 3. Huzrat Moolavee Syed Shaw Mohideen, the owner of the mosque near the Vellore fort, was affording them every assistance. It is reported that he is the channel of communication with persons in the service of the Nabob.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |      |
| 6-6-39  | 4. According to clause 3 section VI of Regulation VII of 1832 the following persons were delivered over to the civil authorities.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |      |
|         | (a) Mohamad Poyeen.He is stated to be an inhabitant of Cabool, to have accompanied the Nabob's relation Salabat Khan to Mecca, to have returned 5 months ago landing at Cannanore and to have proceeded to Madras via Vellore. He lived in Triplicane near the gate leading to the Government House. He left Madras 40 days since, came to Vellore and lived at the Mukan near the fort. He then accompanied a detachment of the 15th Rt. to Trichinopoly where he lived in the house of Cassim Nawab Khan. He then went to Vellore via Salem to recover debts and when finally questioned by the Police he could give no sufficient reason for his stay at Vellore. |      |
|         | (b) Saiyid Lateef.He is in the service of the Nabob. He went to Bangalore to bring back his son who was in the service of an Officer of H.M. 4th Rt. He was brought before the Police and had no passport or documents. His deposition shows that he is acquainted with Mohamad Poyeen.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |      |
|         | (c) Saiyid Abdul Majeed.He is stated to be a native of Bhopaul. He went to Peshawar, Marwar and other places and from Surat to Bombay. He was wrecked near Kampla and from there came to Bangalore where he remained for one year. He obtained a passport and was returning to Bhopaul via Arcot. He was arrested as he could not give a convincing reason for his presence in Vellore.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |      |
|         | (d) Saiyid Haji Amin.As regards Syed Hajee Ameen already referred to, since his arrival he has kept entirely to his own abode with the exception of occasional visits to the mosque for prayers. He derives his livelihood from the ladies of the palace especially from Mustree Begum, a second class lady of the Mahal.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |      |
|         | (e) Boran Shaw Fakir.Boran Shaw Fakir is suspected of being a person authorized to convey intelligence to different persons. He is also delivered over to the civil authorities.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |      |
|         | (f) Buddroodeen Khan.He has always borne a good character. But on the present occasion he has acted with much duplicity. With regard to the allegation that Buddroodeen Khan assumed the title of the Nabob of Tunksaul there is reason to believe from enquiries that he has not done so.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |      |
|         | 5. The O.C., Vellore, proposes to reward the persons who furnished intelligence. Even though the information is of no great importance their zeal and consistency to Government merit the reward.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |      |
|         | 6. As regards Saiyid Hajee Ameen, the O.C. reports that he has had private interviews with persons of doubtful character the result of which has not yet transpired.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |      |

|         | 7. Capt. Awdry, the Superintendent of Police at Vellore, was informed by Mohamet Hussain, the Government Vakeel of the Zillah Court at Chittoor, that Moolavee Vallee Mohamad, Mooftee of the Zillah Court and Mohamad Habibullah, Sudre of the Collector's Cutcherry, are in the habit of receiving a Persian newspaper called "Sultana Akbar" printed by Rajahbully at Calcutta who is a Calipha of Moolavee Mohamad Ally. This Moolavee Mohamet Ally was some time back turned out of Madras for creating religious dissensions among the Nabob's followers. He told them that Dost Mohamad Khan would soon drive the English out of India and be the ruler of it. He used to give orations in the mosque soon after prayers, calling upon the faithful to be of one mind and be united in fight. Even though they had no country, army or money they would soon obtain these things. 8. Among the list of Caliphas and Mooreeds of Moolavee Mohamet Ally and Moolavee Moideen Sahib, Mokhandar of Vellore, the name of one Cawdermeah is conspicuous because he is understood to be in the habit of addressing the sepoys at Pallavaram. 9. Further information about the pamphlets is that they were composed by Burree Sahib. The person giving information has told the O.C. that a copy of the pamphlet will be found in Burree Sahib's house if a search is made.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |              |

| 30-6-39 | Vellore Disturbances 1. The O.C. forwards to Government extracts from a seditious work called "Rud Nusara" compiled by Moolavee Moideen Sahib, which have been distributed among his Mooreeds. The authenticity of the authorship of Moolavee Moideen Sahib is unquestionable. He received a letter from Moolavee Mohamet Ally written by direction of Dost Mohamad Khan urging him to keep the faithful in readiness and foretelling that ere long the country would be their own. Whereupon Moideen Sahib made promises to his adherents, of jagheers, etc. It is a fact well ascertained that seditious speeches were made in the Mukandar's mosque and elsewhere both by himself and others. 2. Information has also been obtained that Moolavee Moideen Sahib corresponds with the Nabob of Kurnool and they have an understanding that when the Mussalmans are ripe for revolt the Moolavee will acquaint the Nabob. If, on the other hand, the Nabob is attacked, the Moolavee is to create trouble at Vellore. 3. Hussain Buksh.A person calling himself Hussain Buksh was apprehended when entering Vellore. He states that he was an inhabitant of Delhi 25 years ago and that he now lives by begging. The Superintendent of Police, Mr. Awdry, sent two men in whom he had confidence, disguised as fakeers and caused them to be apprehended and confined in the same room in which Hussain Buksh was. Hussain Buksh was at first very cautious towards his associates but after gaining confidence in them he gave out his true tale which had no political interest. 4. Jamaloddeen.He is one of Mooreeds of Moolavee Moideen Sahib who is residing in the Mukhan. He resided at Bangalore in 1832 when the conspiracy took place there. A short time before the conspiracy he made butchers his disciples. But when the intended conspiracy was found out he came to Vellore and was in the habit of reading seditious speeches after prayers. 5. Hussain Jaman Khan is a meritorious ally of the British. His father Mohamad Zaman Khan was senior commandant of the native cavalry and resisted all attempts of Hyder Ally to seduce him from his allegiance. 6. His son Hussain Jaman Khan following his father's example has fearlessly come forward to oppose and make known the designs of the evil doers who endeavoured to subvert the British Raj. It was through him that the Superintendent of Police obtained information. 7. The O.C. recommends the grant to him of the full pension which his father was getting. This act will go to prove to the numerous Muham-madans in Vellore that those who are faithful servants of Government never fail to obtain due reward for their fidelity. | 23-112       |

8. Cashyгурrh.

Hoossain Buksh subsequently revealed that Cashyгурrh was a place in the jungles, that it was 15 days' march to the north of Delhi and Chota Lall was the chief of the inhabitants of this place. He received intelligence and communicated it to the Candahar chiefs. On a reference to Hamilton's Gazetteer it is found that in all probability the place described by Hoossain Buksh is one of the 24 Rajahships of Northern Hindoostan, viz., the Town of Kochi now subject to the Nepaulesse.

9. Subsequent information received is to the effect that Moolvee Mohamad Ally's Mooreeds were Golam Moideen, a native doctor, and Padshaw Khajan who kept the people of their sect under control who also preached the same gospel as the Moolvee. Moolvee Moideen Sahib's deposition is conclusive to prove that the seditious pamphlets were compiled by him. The O.C. requests orders to apprehend him by summoning him either to Madras or to the Collector's place, as it will rouse the Muhammadans at Vellore.

10. Syed Abdul Rhymon is one of Moolvee Mohamad Ally's principal allies who gave cover under the name of Padshaw Khodeen or Khajeem. He has come forward to reveal the designs of the enemies of the British. He states that when the Nabob of Carnatic died the Naibi Mooktar hoped to succeed him. On the installation of the Nabob's son on the throne by the British Government the Naibi became disappointed and tried to destroy the present Nabob in his infancy. Foiled in this attempt also he determined to use every attempt to subvert the British Government hoping thereby to obtain the rule of the Carnatic. After this he bribed Moolavee Mohamad Ally who was then at Madras with Pag. 5,000 and sent him with his two adherents to proceed to Sind, Peshawar, Cabool and other states to call upon their rulers to attack the Company's territories.

11. After a short time the Naibi's teacher, Moolvee Aslam, returned from Mecca and plotted the following.

An insurrection was to take place at the Mohurram festival under the pretence of a dispute between different sects. It so happened that when this took place the Government Agent was with the Naibi Mooktar who was thus unable to take an active part. Mr. Elliott, the Police Magistrate, ordered the Company's troops to fire on the rioters. The Naibi Mooktar then made another attempt sending off Moolvee Mohamad Ally on a secret mission under pretence of having expelled him.

The Naibi then sent other persons to Bangalore to sow disaffection. A man was sent to Woodagherry, Kurnool and other places.

12. Statement of Jaffar Beg, a pensioner.

Some 13 years previously Baker Ally Khan and his brother Hussain Sahib Jiffree returned from Mecca bringing with them Mohamad Syed, a Moolvee, who made more than 2,000 Mooreeds and selected 4 Caliphas from them, viz., (1) Meer Mohamad Ally who has charge of the Goombeez of Ibrahim Sahib at Bangalore, (2) Mohamad Ally Saib, (3) Abdool Khudus Sahib and (4) Hameed Beg Sahib.

13. Further statements and depositions from all other Muhammadans concerned are taken which go to prove that Moolvee Mohamed Ally and Moolvee Moideen Sahib were responsible for engendering hatred among the Mussalmans towards the British.

14. It is further reported that Moolvee Moideen Sahib's father was a nice man and he did not preach sedition and that Syed Abdool Rhyheem promised to obtain the chapter on the book "Suffena toon Nijiah Feetoofanil Mouliqueat" which excited the Muhammadans against the Company.

15. Cauder Mohideen and Dastagheer Sahib received a communication from the four Moolvees at Madras, inducing them to depose at variance with their former depositions. This was understood to be under the influence of the Nabob Begum. So it is recommended to the Government that the trial of the Moolvee should take place at the earliest opportunity as his influence is very great among the Mubama Jans.

16. The following are examples of the utterances of Moulvee Mahomad Ally.

"As a shepherd takes a thousand sheep to graze, so one of these people leads a thousand of the faithful. If one wolf seizes one sheep the remaining thousand cry out. It is the custom of the butcher to take one sheep and slay it before a thousand sheep who look on and do not understand. Like the wolf and like the shepherd and like the butcher are these Kafirs. If any one catches the jackal a thousand jackals will collect to defend him. In like manner if the Mussalmans collect and are of one heart the Caufirs cannot remain in this country." "The Mussalmans on account of their sin, pride, etc., are thus placed under subjection to the rulers who have no beards and mustaches."

17. It is understood that at the trial of the Moulvee in the Chittoor Court every means was adopted to intimidate the Company's adherents. The Lubbies of Vellore have been guilty of several seditious practices and have entered into a combination to murder Capt. Awdry, the Superintendent of Police.

18. Report is made to Government that throughout the trial of the Moulvee, Hussain Jaman Khan has acted a straightforward and honourable part unbiassed by the prejudices of his sect feelings.

She is a quiet woman. There is another woman of the same name, the foster mother of Vurdarauze Bunje who is of a different sort and deserving of no consideration.(2) Pedda Jamma, a young woman of 18, wants to go to Ganjam where she may have an opportunity of getting married. The O.C.'s opinion is that she and her mother are violent persons always quarrelling with Vurdarauze Bunje.(3) Broondavana Bunje, son of the late zamindar, with his mother Monyaka prays that an increase to their allowance may be granted. The O.C. thinks that the other two brothers by different mothers will expect a similar indulgence.(4) Pedda Rauny has adopted a girl aged 19 years. She is to be married. The Rauny requests that either she should be asked to go to Ganjam where she can find a suitor for her adopted daughter, or that a man from Ganjam may be sent to marry her. On this the O.C. remarks that the Collector of Ganjam might perhaps make arrangements to meet the wishes.(5) Balabudra Bunje, who is insane, desires to be restored to his family of whom he has heard nothing so far. The O.C. remarks that he may be restored to his family if no political objections exist.(6) Putta Mahadevy, widow of the late zamindar, requests that a fixed allowance may be granted to her for the performance of the fatiah ceremonies of her late lord. The O.C. recommends that a yearly sum of Rs. 50 would be sufficient for the purpose.(7) Vurdarauze Bunje prays that his monthly salary be increased to Rs. 500 the sum which was formerly fixed for him. The O.C. says that he did not find fault with Vurdarauze Bunje for the last 12 months. He is a very intelligent young man, reads and studies moderately and he sees no objection to the raising of the salary to Rs. 400 in the first instance subject to the usual deduction of Rs. 40 for hirecarriage and servants. | 6-8   |

| 20-7-42  | Pension—Payment of arrears.The O.C. reports to Government that the certificate granted to Malik Khader Ahmed Khan contained the names of five children, viz., (1) Malik Ibrahim Ally Khan (2) Malik Ahmed Khan (3) Azeezon-nassah, (4) Ahmedoonnassah and (5) Zuheerunnassah, whereas on information it is found that two male and one female child belong to a separate father who is Malik Khader Ahmed's second son. This information was elicited when the O.C. refused to pay the stipends due to any absentees, whose receipts were not authenticated by some public functionary. On a clear proof that all the recipients are alive the arrears are recommended to be paid. | 32-5         |

| 24-7-43  | Haidar and Tippoo's MahalsLady inmates—Clothing allowances.1. The O.C. Vellore reports to the Government that there is a sum of about Rs. 15,000 granted annually under the head of clothing money to the female inmates of the Hyder and Tippoo's Mahals who are gosha women. The money used to be sent to two head Begums to be distributed among the several members. The only way to find out whether the sums have actually been paid to the respective ladies is to affix a list of the recipients with the amounts against their names on the walls so that complaints can be made to the O.C. He further suggests that to prevent abuses he wants to send the money to each lady from his own hands through the medium of eunuchs, the gosha ladies remaining behind the screen. This system was contemplated in the time of Mr. Ottley but on the remonstrances of the khas Begums he had to yield to the old custom.2. Casualties.As regards casualties in the palace he suggests that a list of casualties be maintained up to date entering therein the latest deaths, etc.3. Servants.The names of the servants in the Mahal are entered against each mistress, with the exception of Monavar Begum, a first class lady. It is therefore to be concluded that it was the intention of Government that she should be left to her own discretion as to whom she would entertain as her servants. | 22-5                |

|          | In forwarding the arjee addressed by Vurdarauze Bunje, the O.C. remarks that he holds himself equal to the Government and has threatened that he would destroy himself if the women (the widow and daughters of the late zamindar) are allowed to leave his supervision and go to Berhampore. The Bunje was made aware that the restoration of Rs. 100 to his pension was on condition of his future good behaviour. |              |

|        | Some of the members of the Kandyan family petition that the British took possession of Kandy in 1815. When the ex-King and his relatives were brought to Coddambo they were favoured with pensions for their maintenance and that of their families. During marriages, child births, deaths, etc., the benign Government were helping them as they possessed no trade or landed property. | 69-70        |
|        | If however the Government resolve not to continue their pensions to their descendants, they will have great difficulty in finding a means of livelihood. As the petitioners are the nearest relatives of the late ex-King it will be a disgrace to their dignity if their sons are to enter services as it was never before done so by any of their forefathers.                          |              |
|        | Under these circumstances they pray that their pensions may be continued to their families after their lifetime.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |              |

| 20-4-48  | Mysore pensioner—Claim on the property of.One Suckenah Kaunum Begum had an adopted daughter Rymon Beebee. Her husband borrowed from Kaunum Begum Rs. 1,000. But Razah Shaw Caudry, Rymon Beebee's husband, died without repaying the sum. His brother Wahab Shaw Caudry took possession of all his brother's property and began to quarrel with Rymon Beebee. The deceased Rajah Shaw Caudry is understood to have left a will in favour of his wife which bears the seal of the Cauzy with the signature of several respectable people.Kaunum Begum requests the O.C., Vellore, to address the authorities at Mysore to make an enquiry and either to give the property to Rymon Beebee or to despatch it to her towards the liquidation of her dues. | 88-9                           |

|         | It appears from the statement of Moonavur Begum that a pair of ear-rings worth about Rs. 2,500 belonging to Mahanagar Begum, a third class lady in the Mahal, were lent to Gooljabeen, a fifth class lady of the same Mahal, who gave them to Khan Manomed, the doorkeeper to raise Rs. 500 as a loan on them. The shroff who lent the amount says that he lost the jewels and that he is willing to pay their value as written in his account books, viz., Rs. 800. The officer in charge of the stipend office reports the facts to the Assistant Magistrate of North Arcot to summon the shroff with a view to restoring the property on an adjustment of his claims. |       |

| 30-10-49 | Ghulam Ali's FamilyMysore pensioners—Ghulam Dastgir's pension.The Brigadier Commanding, Vellore, solicits orders of Government on the following :—Ghulam Ally Meer Sadoor, a Mysore pensioner, died. It became a question how the residue of his pension should be divided among the surviving members of his family. It was decided to grant to only those who were receiving maintenance from Ghulam Ally. A list was called for and forwarded to Government. In the list Hajee Ghulam Dastagheer who was reported to be the favourite of the great grandmother, the pensioner's wife, was allowed Rs. 72-4-0 per mensem. This distribution was adopted and continued for a time. The Begum, even though she was granted Rs. 27-10-0, applied to her own use Rs. 33-12-0, taken from the allowance of her great grandson. After the death of the Begum a dispute arose that Ghulam Dastagheer was paying the Begum out of his own income which he should continue for the maintenance and fatiah expenses of her tomb which he has refused.The Brigadier Commanding is of opinion that it is hardly necessary for a young man, a distant relative, to enjoy the highest stipend, and solicits orders from Government whether a new distribution may be made. | 65-9       |
| 8-12-49  | Vijlaram RauzePalkonde family—Debts.The Brigadier Commanding, Vellore, reports to the Chief Secretary to Government that Palcondah Vijlaram Rauze contracted debts at various times for some of which he has granted his bonds.An agreement was effected by which Rs. 50 was to be recovered from his stipends and paid to the parties every month. This arrangement was continued for some time. But, as other creditors set up their claims, Vijlaramrauze acknowledged the lack of means to meet their demands.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 78-89      |

|          | The Brigadier asks whether a state prisoner in confinement is legally liable for debts contracted by him in that condition. The Sudder Court has declared that state prisoners may be sued for debts. But he presumes that it means to debts contracted prior to their incarceration. |                     |
|          | Vijiarum Rauze's debts amount to Rs. 7,000, whereas his monthly stipend is only Rs. 110. Government have already notified that they would not be responsible for the debts contracted by the inmates of the Mahals.                                                                   |                     |
|          | As a means of effecting savings in the expenditure of Vijiarum Rauze and liquidating certain debts it is proposed to disband unnecessary personal servants of the Rauze who are too numerous. He is in a deplorable condition. But for his debts his allowance would be ample.        |                     |

| 14-11-50 | JaghirsGhulam Murtaza Khan's sons and daughters—Claims to.1. The Brigadier Commanding, Vellore, reports to Government on the memorial addressed by the sons and daughters of the late Gholam Moortuzah Khan stating that they are the legal offspring of the late native sovereigns of the Carnatic and that Nabob Chandah Sahib was their grandfather. It is observed from the records of the Stipend Pay Office that Gholam Moortuzah Khan is illegitimate.2. It is stated in the memorial that the revenue of the jaghirs of Polur, Terunamalay and Carnatic Doorgam was enjoyed by the petitioners' grandfather, Nabob Mohamad Ally Khan. On enquiry the Brigadier reports that it is not so, as there is no original document. As regards the Cauzi who is seen to have attested the spurious document, he is not of a character above suspicion.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | 98-101       |

The Manager, Ram Rao, is charged with improperly supporting the case of Dasappasawmy, a Kandyan pensioner, with furnishing the Brigadier with a false list of members of the Kandyan family and with a similar fraud in respect of Hyder and Tippoo's Mahals. He is also accused of having taken bribes in a number of specific instances and of acting in an insubordinate manner.2. Ram Rao denied all the charges. The Brigadier finds them almost all proved against him.3. The Brigadier observes that the defendart, in respect of certain charges, did not call any witnesses but simply denied them. The enquiry establishes beyond doubt the deception practised by Ram Row.4. Ram Row is unworthy to be in Government employ as he used his power to oppress the most needy. He is a perfect illustration of the opinion expressed of his sect by that great statesman, the Hon'ble Mount Stuart Elphinstone, "A Mahrattah Brahmin, a race of all others who have least sympathy with other castes, who are most hardened and corrupted by power." | 131-340      |

| 9-6-51               | Varadaraj BunjeConduct—Report on.1. The Brigadier Commanding forwards to Government certain letters which came into his possession through the hircarra of the Stipend Pay Office, Sooboo Singh, and reports about the insolent and pernicious conduct of Vurdarauze Bunje towards his subordinates. He refused to attend on the occasion of tendering his pay. The Brigadier has therefore avoided visiting him and asked him to communicate everything to him in writing until he ceased to be in declared opposition to the orders of Government.2. His object in advertising his ponies for sale is to make others believe that he is without any subsistence in the Mahals and therefore the Brigadier has interdicted such an advertisement.3. His father's widow who lived with him as his concubine and who left an issue by him left at her death a reputed amount of Rs. 5,000 and his nurse who also died is reported to have left property worth Rs. 8,000.4. He is a suspicious character and is therefore in custody. Subsequently when a grass-cutter demanded his wages he threw at him a silver ornament stating that he had no money with him and that he might realize its value and take his wages. The grass-cutter refused to take it. | 51-5                |

| 11-5-03  | Daily ceremonies and annual festivals—Collection of funds.The O.C. Vellore is informed that, when Seatapah Chetti was confined for a sum of money which he owed to the Circar on account of the pagoda at Berinjipooram, he belonged to the Vellore pettah. He was therefore released and sent before the O.C. with a list of the demands against him. Seatapah Chetty's argument is that other oil-mongers are also equally responsible.The O.C. is further informed that the daily ceremonies, annual festivals, etc., of all other pagodas are carried on by allowances granted from the resources of Government and from contributions from various professions residing not only in the pettah of Vellore but in all villages in the country. If the chetties and oil-mongers in the Vellore pettah withhold their contributions the next alternative will be to appropriate an equivalent sum from the payments made by the O.C. to the treasury of Arcot, or to apply to Government for permission to set apart additional funds to defray the expenses of the pagoda or to discontinue the daily ceremonies and the annual festivals. | 29-31        |

|           | <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Mr. Edmonstone, Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal, reports to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Fort St. George, that the Committee of the Inquest for the investigation of the death of Prince Mohuudeen has finished its investigation and that the fact of the suicide of the prince has been established beyond all doubt.</li> <li>2. As regards the report of the other Committee appointed to investigate the supposed project of Mohuudeen to effect his escape and proceed southward, Mr. Edmonstone says that he will forward a copy to Fort St. George on receipt.</li> <li>3. Inquest.The body was found with a gunshot wound in the chest. The Surgeon, Mr. Cheese, thinks the wound was self-inflicted. The deceased's brother, Futteh Hyder, produced a paper in which the prince had settled his pension on his wife and two children and certain other mahal ladies and their children.</li> <li>4. Reason for suicide.This is alleged to have been the tyranny of Lt.-Col. Hawkins who listened to tale bearers and placed a guard over the prince's house and also to the evil advice of his younger brother. His brother and sister were examined but their evidence did not throw much light on the prince's death. Col. Hawkins denies having used an insulting expression attributed to him.</li> <li>5. The Begum would not allow the body to be removed until the coroner promised her, pending the orders of Government, a large sum to conduct the funeral with due honours.</li> <li>6. The Chief Secretary to the Bengal Government observes in a letter of acknowledgment that the investigation has been conducted with peculiar judgment, and the utmost impartiality and that, H. E. the Governor in Council is satisfied that no such expression was employed by Lt.-Col. Hawkins in his communication with the late prince.</li> <li>7. The Committee appointed to investigate Mohuudeen's project of escape on a close examination of 17 persons observes that Col. Hawkins was fully justified, on the facts, in anticipating the prince's escape.</li> <li>8. The whole of the circumstances attending on the appearance in that country of Fakir Mohamed who was a native of Serin-gapatam and a resident of Vellore, point to his object being to visit his Moorood or disciple Kaumgour, a eunuch in the family of prince Mohuudeen. It is unlikely that Fakir Mohamed should have no wish or curiosity to see the prince. But evidence shows that the prince had no knowledge of this man ever being at the house of Kaumgar, the eunuch.</li> <li>9. The Committee further remarks the suspicious conduct of Fakeer Mohamad Shaw at the mosque of Calcutta, the false stories which he told and the pretences which he used as well as the clandestine nature of his visit to Kaumgar.</li> <li>10. It finds that Col. Hawkins appears throughout this unpleasant business to have conducted himself with singular correctness, propriety and judgment in every respect.</li> <li>11. The Governor in Council at Bengal, on receipt of the proceedings and the report by the Committee, concurs in the view they have taken and compliments them on their services. He considers that the presence of Fakeer Mohamad Shaw combined with other circumstances, warranted a belief that some improper designs were in agitation and that the measures adopted by Lt.-Col. Hawkins were not merely justified by the intelligence, which he received, but were distinguished by a peculiar degree of prudence, judgment and propriety.</li> <li>12. A copy of the report and the proceedings will be sent to the Government at Fort. St. George with a request to discover any circumstances connected with Fakeer Mohamad calculated to explain his visit to Bengal.</li> </ol> |              |

| The daughters of the late Zamindar of Palkonda may be allowed to marry people of their own caste not being members or adherents of the family of the late Rajah and the couple after the marriage should not return to that part of the country where they once lived, provided these conditions are agreed to by Camaliah, the mother of the girls. Government will also be prepared to consider giving pecuniary help. |                                                                         |
| As regards the proposal of the marriage of Viziamrauze, the brother of the late zamindar, it will be referred to the O.C. Vellore, for remarks.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                         |

| 13-4-37 | Palkonda FamilyReport regarding Minutes of Consultation.1. Orders were already issued for transferring Pedda Juggiah from Bellary to Vellore. The allowance for this prisoner has been fixed at Rs. 90. Her application for an addition to her allowance is altogether inadmissible.2. Orders were already issued for the celebration of the marriage of the eldest daughter of Camaliah with Budriah. The matter will however be reported to the Collector of Vizagapatam. On the receipt of his report as to any objections or otherwise final orders will be issued.3. The marriage of Chendramah and Seetiah will be dealt with similarly.4. The Governor in Council is well pleased to observe the testimony to the kind and considerate treatment accorded to the state prisoners at Vellore by the O.C.Report from the First Judge of the Principal Court of Circuit. Pedda Juggiah, the widow of the late Zamindar, is confined in the Pottah of Bellary. Her son died at Ghooty. She understands that her relatives are at Vellore and wishes to be transferred to that place.Chendramah reported that she was an inoffensive woman and having lost her husband was anxious to live with her eight mothers-in-law and two daughters-in-law and her mother and requested her release.Seetayya reported that her son-in-law Lutcharayadoo lived with his father Coormarayadoo and was anxious to hear about them.There was not the least reason to suppose that the state prisoners suffered any undue restraint. | 109-22          |

There is no objection from a political point of view to the proposed marriage between Somarayadoo and Seetamah.2. Viziamrauze proposes to marry three wives. Even though the custom of plurality of wives is allowed among their caste, it is becoming only to zamindars. If Government accord their approval it would amount to recognizing Viziamrauze as a zamindar.3. With regard to Chendramah's request the Collector strongly opposes the return of any of the exiled party to their native place as it is possible that they may engage in intrigues.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | 127-30134-6 |
| 12-5-37 | TroopsVizagapatam detachment—Proposed restoration to former strength.1. The Collector of Vizagapatam reports to the O.C., Northern Division, that there is no objection from a military point of view to restoring the detachment at Vizagapatam to its former strength. This proposal is not the outcome of disturbances in Palcondah but as the country has come into the hands of the Government it will be wise to keep the army for some time as there are some who would gladly prove a thorn on the side of Government.2. Some troubles from Brinjaris take place now and then. So long as the Kemedi detachment is furnished from Vizianagram, the highway should be clear from molestation.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 131-4           |

| 8-4-1815 | Removal to the Madras Presidency—Proposals.1. H.E. Lt.-Col. Robert Brownrigg, Governor of Ceylon, writes to the Rt. Hon. Hugh Elliot, Governor of Fort St. George, of the expediency of removing the late King of Kandy, Vikrama Simhalendra Maharajah, with his immediate family and also a number of Malabars connected with him in various degrees of relationship, from the island of Ceylon.2. Col. Brownrigg considers that the King should reside among his own caste in or near the country from which his family originates. He need not be confined in a prison. It is enough if he is confined in a fort such as that at Madura with liberty to go out for air and exercise accompanied by a small guard. His accommodation and subsistence should be decent but not stately.The allowances for himself, his wives and his household, should be as far as possible of specific articles so as to reduce the necessity for money payments, which might be put to improper purposes.3. Col. Brownrigg proposes that these persons may be entrusted to the charge of some military officer, viz., a fort adjutant, to whom some consideration may be allowed; that it is necessary to take some precautions by securing certain pledges from them for the continuance of their allowance. He sends lists of the king's family, his nearest relatives, dependants, servants, etc., to be transported. As regards the body of strangers he proposes to banish them to the coast. Besides there are a few Malays, Caffrees and Bengalees.— Relatives of—Lists.— Custody of—Experience with the Elliah Rajah of Travancore.1. The Government ask the Collector of Chingleput with a view to secure personal comforts, etc., to the deposed King of Kandy, about the arrangements adopted in respect of the person lately styled the Elliah Rajah of Travancore, his accommodation and the precautions taken to prevent his escape or the exchange of improper communications between him and his adherents.2. They wish to know whether the deposed king can be kept in Chingleput on an equal scale of accommodation and ask for a report whether the system of granting pecuniary allowances to the Elliah Rajah is working satisfactorily as the Government of Ceylon are of opinion that such a system is prone to evil consequences. | 1-9                      |
| 26-4-15  | Kandyan FamiliesDeputation from Ceylon—Proposals.1. The Governor of Madras, on a report from the Governor of Ceylon that the families may be asked to live in or near their native countries, circularizes the Collectors south of the Palar river that the persons mentioned in the respective lists may be furnished with passports by the proper authorities and with such pecuniary assistance as may be necessary for their immediate support and to provide that they shall not be molested on their arrival.2. With regard to another set of people, the Collector's opinion is required whether their immediate admission into the districts will tend to disturbance and as to the time when they may be repatriated to their native districts, etc.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 10-2930-233-6    |
| 26-4-15  | King of KandyRemoval from Ceylon—Arrangements—Proposals.1. The Governor in Council at Fort St. George writes to the Governor of Ceylon that in deciding to transfer the deposed King of Kandy they are anxious to avoid any disturbance in the districts under them or the incurring by the Hon. Company of permanent expense.2. They are of opinion that the Ceylon Government's suggestion to deport him to Madura is objectionable in that the district is near to Ceylon and the influx of his men there might cause some disquietude. He should be taken to a far distant place and be separated from his relatives. If at a later date he wishes to live with his family he might be granted the indulgence on a full conviction that the security of the British interests in Ceylon will not be endangered by his escaping from the coast.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 37-6669-9395-144 |

3. The Madras Government do not think it expedient to place him in military charge. Other rajahs in the Madras Presidency are not similarly deposed in military charge. They also request the Ceylon Government to give them information as to the number and status of all the persons to be domesticated with the deposed king and the stipends which each is to receive.

—To the Chief Secretary.

4. The Collector of Chingleput reports that the Elliah Rajah when put in his charge was accompanied by a Brahmin Shastruloo and ten peons. He was granted an allowance of Rs. 1,000 per mensem. He resides in a small house in the petah of Chingleput and the Collector has not taken any precautionary measures against his escape. But he has placed certain restrictions on his movements. He reports that there is no suitable house procurable at Chingleput. If it is proposed to place the deposed King of Kandy under his charge he desires that a conicopillay be appointed to minister to the wants of the King for provisions, etc.
5. Another circular is sent to the Collectors of Chittoor, Bellary, Cuddapah, Nellore and Vizagapatam to ascertain whether any of them can find accommodation for the ex-king. The Governor in Council abandons the idea of accommodating the deposed king at Chingleput.
6. The Collector of Salem reports that there are no proper buildings in his district to accommodate the deposed king and suggests that a building be erected in a maidan and walled round in mud by the convicts.
7. The Collector of Chittoor replies that no accommodation can be found in his district and suggests that the fort of Chandragherri may serve the purpose, if it is provided with doors and windows. Later he reports the sale of a private house which might prove suitable.
8. The Collector of Bellary replies that a house property ready for sale then, might be purchased and improved to accommodate the ex-king and that the jails are not the proper places for such stately persons.
9. The Collector of Cuddapah replies that there is no proper building to accommodate the deposed King of Kandy in his district. If distance is not considered as objectionable the fort of Sidhout appears to be suitable.
10. The Governor in Council asks the Collector of Cuddapah to send a sketch of the fort and on consultation with the Magistrate on the advisability of permitting the ex-king at a distance of ten miles from town, the number of peons and whether and to what extent it will be necessary to increase the police establishment. A list of the persons who it is proposed shall accompany the ex-king is also forwarded. The Collector of Cuddapah reports in detail.
11. The Sidhout fort is built with much skill. But on the south of the river there is a range of hills which runs into His Highness the Nizam's territories. Anyone escaping into those mountains could conceal himself until he reached the Nizam's country.
12. The Collector of Vizagapatam replies that there is no building in his district fit for the purpose. The ports of Vizagapatam and Bimlipatam are much frequented by Chaliars, a kind of native merchants well known on the coast, most of whom come from the southern part of the peninsula about Negapatam. These persons might afford him a dangerous means of communication with the south.
13. The Collector of Coimbatore can find no person in the list whose family originated in his district.
14. The Collector of Tinnevely reports to the same effect.
15. The Collector of Madura replies that the persons on their arrival in his district are not molested, and that he has no objection to admitting all those whom the Government wish to send provided they sign the pledge as prisoners on parole.
16. The Collector of Trichinopoly replies that the persons may at once be taken into his country without prejudice to the peace of the district.

17. The Collector of Tanjore replies that he is supported in his conviction by the managers of the Rajah Tondaiman Bahadur that no injury or inconvenience will result if the people of Kandy return to the place from which they once migrated. As regards the stipends the Collector finds that hardly any of them are capable of earning a living. He forwards a list of the relatives of the deposed King of Kandy who proceeded to Kandy from the state of Poodocottah and whose names do not appear in the lists forwarded from Madras.

18. The Magistrate in Combaconam replies that there will be no evil consequences in admitting the relations and dependants of the late King of Kandy. In addition to giving their parole they should be ordered to show themselves to a police officer.

19. The Secretary of the Kandyan Provinces intimates to the Madras Government that certain Malabar prisoners have been shipped to the Coast of Coromandel after paying their full subsistence for the present month. A list of the persons embarking is sent to all Magistrates concerned.

20. In a despatch to the Rt. Hon. the Governor of Madras, the Governor of Ceylon requests further information. He wishes to know the nature of the climate of each of the places suggested as a possible residence for the ex-king. He forwards a schedule of the rates of stipends paid in Ceylon but solicits further information as to the status in India of the different castes involved. The question of maintaining the widows and children on the demise of the original pensioner should be considered in a spirit of fairness. He forwards also a list of the persons sent by sea to Tuticorin.

Tanjore Rajah

14-8-15 Report regarding.

145-54

The Resident at Tanjore, with a view to remove the suspicions of the honour and integrity of H.H. the Rajah of Tanjore towards the Hon. Company, reports that it has frequently been his duty to watch with caution the Rajah's conduct and that he has no reason to suspect his conduct towards the Company. In fact, with the gradual development of the Rajah's understanding, which is of a high order, his allegiance to the Company is confirmed beyond all doubt. Since the treaty of Tanjore he has lived in a state of perfect independence with perfect harmony in public affairs. He has entirely discontinued his authorized intercourse with the Court of Poonah and sincerely reposes on the good faith and protection of the British Government. He feels little interest in the events occurring beyond his province.

The Rajah of Tanjore delivered up to the Agent the soi-disant emissary of Bonaparte. It is, therefore, not probable that the Rajah of Tanjore would attempt to open a treacherous correspondence with the conquered, deposed and imprisoned King of Kandy.

The Rajah affirms that since the beginning of his reign not a single letter has passed between him and the King of Kandy. H.M.'s Government at Ceylon may be asked to verify this.

With reference to the alleged bird-catchers, the Agent reports that H.H. is fond of hawking and is prepared to spend anything to secure a particular species of hawk that satisfies him.

With a view to apprise the Madras Government of the loyalty of the Tanjore Rajah towards them, the Government Agent at Tanjore encloses copies of the inscriptions in five languages which is engraved on each face of the pentagonal column erected by His Highness to commemorate the downfall of Bonaparte in the year 1814.

22-7-15 ————Visit of his subjects to Ceylon.

The Chief Secretary to the Government of Ceylon writes to the Resident at Tanjore pointing out to him a case of a Tanjore native visiting Jaffnapatam. He draws the attention of the Resident to the grave situation in Kandy and requests him to consider the expediency of directing some enquiry to be made as to the real business of any native of Tanjore wishing to visit Ceylon and issuing a passport under a full conviction on the part of the Resident that the purpose of their visit is entirely harmless.

| 25-8-15                    | Allegiance—Report.On receipt of reports from the Government of Ceylon of suspicious actions on the part of the Rajah of Tanjore, the Government of Madras reply that they have had long and most satisfactory experience of the loyal attachment of the Rajah of Tanjore to the British interests in India, and that it will occasion great concern to the Government if the feelings of the Rajah should be distressed by the observance of any precaution.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | 160-3        |
|                            | With this impression and with reference to the explanations received from the Resident at Tanjore which is forwarded to the Government of Ceylon for information, the Governor of Ceylon will not disapprove of the determination which has been taken not to adopt any measures towards the servants of the Rajah calculated to betray a suspicion of this nature.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |              |
| 4-9-15                     | The Chief Secretary to the Government of Ceylon forwards a copy of a letter from the Secretary for Kandyan Affairs to H.E. the Governor of Madras and the Resident at Tanjore, which states that a native of Tanjore by name Annahsawmy, presented himself before him to report his arrival. The passport does not contain the names of the three servants who accompanied him. But they all told of various missions on which they were sent to Ceylon by the Tanjore Samasthanam. But the Secretary for Kandyan Affairs is led to doubt their missions because not long before some bird-catchers under similar circumstances were found in Ceylon, who on enquiry stated that they were sent from the Tanjore palace. | 164-70       |
|                            | The Chief Secretary to the Government of Ceylon requests the Government of Madras and the Resident of Tanjore to cause some enquiries to be made about the mission of Annahsawmy and his followers.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |              |
| 9-9-15                     | The Ceylon Government finally decide not to press the matter, as the Madras Government do not wish to suggest to the Rajah of Tanjore that his integrity towards the British Government is being doubted and that authorities are watching his actions.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | 171-3        |

| 27-10-15                   | The Madras Government accept the proposal of the Ceylon Government that monthly allowances should not be given to persons who had stayed permanently in the island for 5 years. But they ask for permission to deviate from this rule where circumstances demand it.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 201-3        |

| —1-1818  | Voyage and subsequent arrangements. The Government of Ceylon inform the Government of Madras of the embarkation of the late King of Kandy on board H.M.S. Cornwallis Capt. O'Brien. Mr. William Grenville of H.M.'s Civil Service has been appointed to conduct the affairs connected with the late king and his family and he is ordered to hand them over to any person that the Government of Madras may nominate. The deposed king and family may be governed by the instructions in force with Messrs. Kerr &amp; Grenville.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 17-20        |
| 4-1-18   | The Governor of Ceylon writes to the Officer Commanding H.M.S. Cornwallis that the condition of the late king and his suite is that of prisoners of war and that they have been treated with all delicacy and tenderness and with much attention to their comforts; that while on board the ship they should be looked after with the same care, etc., and that it is desirable on grounds of policy that no parade or public honours should attend the embarkation of the late king. He informs the O.C. of the arrangements made with Mr. Grenville, regarding provisions, etc., on board the ship and thanks the O.C. for the sacrifice he will have to make in successfully piloting the scheme to its destination.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | 21-5         |
| 24-1-18  | The Secretary to the Kandyan Prince's affairs writes to Mr. William Grenville that His Excellency has been pleased to appoint him to conduct the Kandyan prisoners to Madras. Mr. Grenville is instructed that the ex-king should be made to understand (using at the same time every demonstration of personal kindness and attention towards him and his followers) that Capt. O'Brien's orders are founded on the established custom of H. M.'s naval service, that they will only be issued on positive necessity and that when once issued they cannot be objected to nor in any manner disputed. Mr. Sutherland, the Secretary for the Kandyan prisoners, then informs Mr. Grenville about the pecuniary and other allowances including the provisions for the prisoners. As regards the disembarking ceremonies Mr. Grenville shall report the arrival to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras. He will await the orders of H.E. the Governor of Madras as to the landing of the king and his suite and to their being transferred to proper custody. As soon as this change takes place Mr. Grenville will consider himself as relieved and should return to his duties as soon as possible. He is to open a diary immediately and note down in it all material occurrences. Joseph De Silva Mohandiram, of the Chief Secretary's office, will attend him as interpreter and another person as conicopillay and assist in Malabar interpretation. | 29-39        |
| 18-11-18 | Transfer to Vellore Fort—Proposals. The Chief Secretary to the Government at Fort St. George informs the Paymaster of Stipends at Vellore that it has been decided that the Kandyan King should be removed from Fort St. George and asks whether it will be possible to accommodate him conveniently within the Fort at Vellore. A list of his family members, etc., is enclosed.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 41-8         |

| 5-10-16  | The Ceylon Government think it objectionable to allow the captive king to be in possession of the gold made up into the form of a crown. His wearing any other ornament does not appear to be objectionable.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 143-5        |
| 11-9-16  | Status, dress, etc.—Ceylon Government's opinion.1. H.E. Col. Brownrigg, the Governor of Ceylon, writes to the Rt. Hon. Hugh Elliot, the Governor in Fort St George, forwarding a copy of the regulation prohibiting Malabars, formerly inhabitants of Kandy, from resorting to the island of Ceylon.2. The proposal to reduce the number of Nayakars at Vellore by dispersing them to their respective villages appears to deserve favourable consideration. The ungovernable temper of the captive king and his unreasonable demands are in a great degree imputable to these adherents. The beaten gold of which the late king is in possession was purchased with a view of being made up into a hat but the form of a crown is entirely inadvisable as encouraging troublesome pretensions. Orders have already been given for making ornaments for the wives and the mother of the captive king.3. The Governor of Ceylon considers that a style of dress conducive to the captive king's comfort and happiness is more to be desired than one which tends to the appearance of splendour or royal state and is more consonant with his situation as a prisoner of war. | 147-54       |

| 22-1-17  | Kandyan PrisonersMaintenance, etc.—General proposals—Acceptance by the Ceylon Governor.The Governor of Ceylon writes to the Government of Madras that he agrees to the allowance sanctioned for the deposed King of Kandy, that the provision of a palankeen for the use of the king is entirely reasonable, that the perfumes specified for the use of the king should be taken as a daily expense; but they should be restricted in use. The increase in servants is also accepted.As regards dress the Governor of Ceylon thinks it useless to indulge the fanciful and expensive tastes of the late king.The ornaments required by the deposed king for his ladies were about to be taken up by the goldsmiths. But as they could not obtain exact descriptions they could not be made in Ceylon and they may be made at Madras under the supervision of the ex-king.As regards the working of the rules and orders in respect of the Kandyan prisoners, the Paymaster of Stipends at Vellore may be requested to send periodical reports to the Chief Secretary to Government at Fort St. George and the Kandyan Secretary at Colombo. A similar course should be followed in the cases of Malabar prisoners.By these arrangements it is hoped that the charge which the Hon. Company's Government have undertaken in aid of H.M.'s Service will be materially simplified and lightened. He requests that the Accounts department of the Madras Government may be requested to prepare an estimate on the experience gained after the lapse of so much time. | 179-90       |
| 27-2-17  | The Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras writes to the Paymaster of Stipends at Vellore that the Governor of Ceylon has approved of allowances, i.e., ratibs and perfumery (restricted use) and as regards the servants and attendants the question may admit of a reconsideration on the removal of the Naickers from Vellore. The measure of providing the deposed king with a palankeen is entirely reasonable.Further the Government of Ceylon have acquiesced in the recommendation of the Rt. Hon. the Governor in Council that an allowance of Pag. 100 monthly should be granted to the Paymaster for superintending the Kandyan family.The attention of the Paymaster of Stipends is particularly drawn to the suggestion of the Government of Ceylon as to the regular submission of the reports regarding the Kandyan prisoners.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 191-7        |
| 17-3-17  | The Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras further writes to the Paymaster at Vellore that a palankeen will be purchased and accords sanction for the entertainment of twelve bearers.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 199-200      |

| 25-8-1820 | Ex-King of KandyAllowances—Arrears—Causes—Enquiry.-----Allowances—Arrears—Ceylon Governor's views.The Secretary for the Kandyan Provinces reports to the Government of Madras that the Lt. Governor has been apprised of the views of the Madras Government and he approves of the sum of Pag. 500. But in respect of the arrears he concludes from the tenor of the Paymaster's letter that they arose on the refusal by the captive king to receive the allowance of provisions and other articles. The Lt. Governor cannot approve any such claims for arrears nor of any cash allowance for the captive king as pocket money.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 13-4  |

| 12-7-22   | Ex-King of KandyRequirements—Ceylon Governor's views.The Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras forwards to the Paymaster of Stipends at Vellore a copy of a letter from the Government of Ceylon. The Ceylon Governor would be glad to make any reasonable additions to the comforts of the exiled King of Kandy but does not see the least ground for encouraging ostentation. H.E. will allow a large palankeen, clothing for the daughters of the ex-king and for Gumpal Naick and Coomaraswamy Naiek.In respect of the funeral of the ex-king's mother he leaves the decision to the Paymaster of Stipends in consultation with H.E. the Governor of Madras.As regards the request that on occasions of feasts more persons should be brought into the fort and allowance for feasts should be granted, the Governor of Ceylon does not consider it desirable.N.A.—40-a | 25-30 |

| 22-7-25  | Ex-King of KandyRequirements—Ceylon Governor's views.The Paymaster of Stipends at Vellore is furnished by the Madras Government with a copy of a reply from the Kandyan Secretary. The Governor of Ceylon will have no objection to the marriage of the daughter of the ex-king with such person as the Governor in Council at Madras may approve. But as the expenses have to be defrayed by the Ceylon Government, that Government should first be given an estimate of the expenses. But he does not agree to meeting the marriage expenses of other relatives. He has no objection to making any reasonable monthly allowance in cash for the ex-king's pocket money. In all other respects the Governor of Ceylon entirely agrees with the Madras Government in respect of ratibs, clothing, etc. | 69-72        |

It would be better to allow him to remain in the Madras Presidency itself, means being taken to secure him a proper education.It is suggested that an adequate estate be bought on the revenues of which he may be supported and educated.The other members of the family may be given adequate allowances on the distinct understanding that their removal from their original place of residence will entail forfeiture of allowances.Copies of this communication are forwarded to the Revenue Department in respect of the question of purchasing an estate and to the Paymaster of Stipends at Vellore in respect of other matters. | 241-6        |

| 5-7-33   | As regards the marriage allowances to the daughter of the late King, the Governor of Ceylon apprehends that it is scarcely necessary that the marriage should take place on such a grand scale as was contemplated in 1828 when her father was alive. This proposed diminution is an affair which H.E. the Governor in Council will be better able to decide.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |              |

| 24-3-51   | Standards introduced.In a complaint by the Commissariat department that the price lists furnished to them are not made out with reference to standard weights and measures, the Board of Revenue writes to the Collector of North Arcot enquiring whether means have been adopted to introduce them generally.The Government expect that in all transactions with them the standard weights and measures should be taken as the basis for all calculations. The Board is aware of the difficulties in replacing the old customs. But as for measure of capacity it is of much importance that in all events the price lists should be made out in such a way as not to lead either the Board or the Commissariat department astray by the usual utter inattention to accuracy.                                                                                                                                     | 16-28 |

| 25-6-53   | Regulation cancelled.The Fauzdaree Udalut recall their previous regulation regarding the summary trials in criminal cases.The former orders were issued to avoid unnecessary delay in the disposal of criminal cases which were forwarded to the zillah station by native police officers for trial before the Magistrates when the latter had gone into the interior before the arrival of the case. This procedure led to much unnecessary detention and fatigue on the part of witnesses, etc.The court is of opinion that such delays could be prevented if certain precautions were exercised by the magisterial authorities.It is proposed to locate the offices of Magistrates at a distance from the zillah station when it is believed to be most conducive to the speedy administration of justice.Copies are sent to Session Judges for their information and communication to Magistrates. | 39-43 |

| 7-1-52   | Attachment of properties, etc.—Advocate-General's opinion.A British subject of the name of Moran was fined Rs. 400 by the Joint Magistrate for an assault. On his failure to pay the fine, his house and property were sold at public auction and a sum of Rs. 1,850 was realized. This sum was deposited with the Magistrate who is vested with full magisterial powers. Moran did not give possession of the house but set up a third party to claim it as his own. Under these circumstances the Joint Magistrate referred to the District Magistrate for orders.The Advocate-General holds that the Magistrate may, in default of immediate payment, issue a warrant to collect the fine, but the offender is not bound to disclose his property. The Magistrate has no power to retain the defendant after conviction. | 50-62        |

Vellore is requested to ascertain from the prisoner Hussain Buksh in what part of India Kashygar is situated and the nature of the authority exercised by Chotta Lall who is described as the chief of that place.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | 51-2         |
|            | The Government resolve that the O.C., Vellore, should be required to state whether he can produce evidence to convict Moolanee Moideen Sahib of having either compiled or published the defamatory papers, etc.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | 55-6         |
|            | The Government inform the O.C., Vellore, that the Governor in Council notices with much satisfaction the fidelity and zeal evinced by Hussain Zuman Khan and will consider the question of rewarding him.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | 59-60        |
|            | The O.C. is informed that the Government will be prepared to sanction a considerable sum to secure the convictions of certain individuals.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 63-4         |
| 7-8-39     | The Commissioner at Bangalore informs the Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras, that the spread of Wahabee doctrines is generally repudiated by the Muhammadans in Mysore, and that an attempt was made by a person styling himself Moolony Akbar. He was detected, discouraged and finally compelled to abandon the effort. Several individuals of respectability were indignant at the covert attempt of Akbar Alee to propagate his heretic doctrines. Mr. Montgomery thinks that "Mussalmans are but little tainted with Wahabeeism." | 67-77        |
|            | The Superintendent of the Ashtagram Dum Mysore writes to the Commissioner for the Government of the territories of Mysore that a Moolvée professing the Wahabee faith visited this part of the country about twenty years ago but was not well received. The only Wahabee in the town is one Durgace, a disreputable fakeer, who is held in considerable detestation by the Muhammadans. He is said to have about 100 followers some of whom are in the army.                                                                                    | 77-84        |

| 8-8-39   | The Government resolve to authorize the Principal Collector and Magistrate of North Arcot to summon Moolvee Moodeen Sahib to Chittoor and to make a private examination of the charges of his having compiled and circulated the Hindustanee work called "Rudd Nasara" and to give his opinion as to whether the evidence is sufficient for his conviction before a court of justice. The Governor in Council thinks that Syed Abdool Ryhoem should give his information with reference to his memoranda before he quits Ellore. The Principal Collector and Magistrate of North Arcot is asked to proceed on the investigation of the charges against Moolvee Mohammad.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | 87-9091-295-6               |
| 10-9-39  | The police officer at Madras writes to the Chief Secretary that he received information that Syed Raheem had arrived at Madras. He waited to see if he would call upon him. Syed Abdool Rahim went to him the next day. He was shrewd and cautious. He did not disclose anything to him as the police officer could not understand Hindustanee. A native interpreter was offered but he refused to employ a native's services and Capt. Whistler who knew Hindustanee was deputed for the purpose. He repeated certain incidents touching the designs of the Naib-I-Mooktar against the British Government. He referred to a seditious pamphlet in Persian of about 400 pages composed by five persons. Lallah Mesh, the late diwan, who died the previous year, Moulvee Aslamoo Sahib, the Naib's tutor, Moulvee Jamal Sahib, Moulvee Irtoza Ally Khan and the Naib himself. He then stated who were the Naib's agents in the affair and what sums he had received from them and that he has set people to work to get the necessary information to prove his assertions and that he required Pag. 300 for the purpose. The information was well worth the money. Again on a reconsideration the officer proposes to tell Syed Abdul Ryhoem that as a dutiful subject of the British he should himself find means for all he proposed as he still doubted his fidelity. The Government reply that the police officer acted correctly in not advancing Syed Abdul Ryhoem any money. He is requested to get a copy of the seditious pamphlet. The Magistrate forwards to the O.C., Vellore, an extract from the proceedings of the Special Court, together with the depositions of certain important witnesses, on which the Special Commissioner remarks that some of them appear to be false. The O.C. Vellore is informed about the proclamation made after the trial of the Moulvee. He is informed that there appears in several of the recent depositions a degree of sectarian feeling and a desire to enlist the aid of Government in furtherance of religious party purposes; that the Government are therefore anxious to avoid altogether any reference to religious matters; while at the same time a watchful eye should be kept on the proceedings of those who make their religious professions a cloak for their treasonable designs. He is further enjoined to send the persons who made the depositions, to the Magistrate of North Arcot to give evidence at the trial of Moolvee Moideen Sahib. | 103-19121-40141-6149-53 |
| 15-10-39 | The Governor in Council declines to interfere in the trial of the Moolany Moideen Sahib until the proceedings have been submitted to them in the ordinary course through the Court of Foujdary Adalat.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 157                                 |

|         | The O.C., Vellore, is furnished with copies of a letter and its enclosure from the Resident at Hyderabad regarding the seizure of papers from Jadir Mohiudeen of Vellore, to help him to ascertain in a confidential manner all about that person.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | 186-92       |
|         | The Members of the Commission of Enquiry at Hyderabad have addressed a letter to the Government of Madras for orders. The letter runs as follows.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |              |
|         | About six years ago Judir Moheesooddeen, a son of Shah Abdul Hussain of Vellore, gave a dinner to Syed Ameenuddeen. After dinner he took him aside and showed him a mahazirnama to which Moobaruzood Dowlah's seal was attached. Syed Ameenuddin not rising to the bait, Judir Moheesooddeen entreated him not to reveal the secret about God and the Prophet.                                                                                                                                                                                                |              |
|         | The O.C., Vellore, is furnished with all the statements and other papers connected with the affair mentioned in the letter to assist his confidential enquiries.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |              |
| 22-2-40 | In the minutes of consultation the Governor in Council approves the sentence of acquittal of Moolanee Moideen passed by the Faujdari Adaulet and notices with regret that there are several irregularities and improper proceedings on the part of the Commissariat officers at Vellore. His Lordship, the third Judge, is perfectly satisfied that Capt. Awdry, the Superintendent of Police, was throughout actuated with a zealous desire to do his duty. The irregularities imputed to Capt. Awdry will be communicated to him through the O.C., Vellore. | 190          |
|         | As regards Hussain Jaman Khan, the Governor in Council does not deem it expedient to receive the subject of his claim to an increase in pension.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |              |
|         | The Superintendent of Police, Mr. Awdry, offers his explanations to the imputations made on his conduct.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |              |

Survey

- 25-10-1827 Arcot and Vellore villages—Revision of assessment—Collector's proposals. 1-12
- Remissions and commutation rate.*
Mr. O. Roberts, the Principal Collector of Arcot, reports to the Board of Revenue that his predecessors, who marked the survey and fixed the assessments, did not take into account the usual remissions to be allowed to the ryots on the crops reaped in the villages. They commuted the Government share of the crop into money at the selling price of the corn in the cusbah towns, thus unfairly raising it above the selling price in the villages.
  - Errors in accounts.*
They reported the conclusion of the pymash of 824 villages, and usmash in 450 villages and the assessment in 548. But subsequently they reported that the pymash had been extended to 988 villages, the usmash to 739 and the assessment to 954. So the reports contain errors and omissions. In a certain village, when the late pymash and assessment accounts were compared with the extent of land cultivated in a particular fasli there was a deficiency of 8 cawnies of nunjah and 34 cawnies of punjah land. This deficiency is rated at Rs. 478 and it amounts to 9½ per cent. of the total revenue. So this prompted Mr. Roberts to enquire into all villages where he could suspect some inaccuracy.
  - Remission recommended.*
The ryots cannot pay assessments so much above the outturn of their lands and their condition has deteriorated accordingly. Mr. Roberts recommends to the Board a reduction of 10 per cent. of the existing assessment which, if made, will be most joyfully accepted by the ryots and which will lead to extensive cultivation, e.g., the extended cultivation in ff. 1231-32 is the result of the remissions granted rather than of the favourable season.
  - He further remarks that the few villages settled by his predecessors in the Arcot and Vellore taluks are without the proposed remission. The result was that some villagers refused to accept pattas while others complained of the rates.
  - He asserts that if the Board would approve of his recommendations in paragraph 3 above, he could bring the entire settlement of the Southern division into the jumabandi of the current year to be followed, at a later date by the very general and correct completion of the survey and assessment of the villages. Even in spite of their complaint of the high level of the assessment, the ryots have paid it up. Mr. Roberts enquires whether he is to enforce the terms of the assessment on the ryots.
  - In support of his recommendations he furnishes the formula on which he proposes to base the reduced assessment.

| 10-12-27     | In a further report he asks for a reply to his previous report in which he had recommended the granting of remissions to an extent of 10 per cent. and explains in detail the statements furnished with that report. He says that the reduction in turn which the comparison table exhibits is very inconsiderable in some villages whereas there is a great decrease in other villages. He computes the effect of a remission of 10 per cent. to be possibly a decrease of Pag. 800 on the whole lands of the taluk. But there is every reason to conclude that this reduction in turn will increase cultivation by the additional means which the ryots will possess coupled with the assurance of the support and protection which the Government will extend to them. 7. He believes that it was Col. Macleod's principle to fix the highest nunjah average per cawny at Pag. 6 which Mr. Ravenshaw proposed to reduce to Pag. 5. Mr. Roberts submits a statement demonstrating the average value of nunjah, poonjah and totkal of the former compared with that of the present on 55 villages of the Vellore taluk. 8. As regards his statement in the previous report that certain errors were found in the settlement, he submits that in 31 villages such errors were found and that these have been partially revised, resulting in a decrease of Pag. 1,021. This was partly due to the surveyors omitting items from the accounts.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 11-40        |
| 25-9-29      | 9. Mr. Roberts points out to the Board the loss sustained by the Government and the ryots by irregular, unequal and unduly high assessments hitherto imposed. Further loss has resulted from unfavourable seasons and the damaged condition of the reservoirs. The ryots have become discouraged. 10. Mr. Roberts further points out that in f. 1215 when a revision took place the increase was St. Pag. 95,085-15-43 above the revenue of the preceding year. In fixing the assessment the Government share was commuted to a money rent upon the average selling price of grain in 10 moderate years. The ryotwari settlement succeeded the triennial settlement, which was not fixed upon the survey accounts and rates. In lieu of these a series of averages of the collections for previous years of the Company's Government was taken as a basis in the hope that the method would afford a revenue to Government equal to what the resources of the country would admit. 11. The price at which the renters and cultivators disposed of their grain to merchants and the bazaar rates were in most taluks, more than 100 per cent. below the standard accepted in the survey rates. 12. To increase the stock of the common ryots of the district and to render them capable and respectable the Collector considers that a remission of 10 or 12 per cent. would be necessary upon the amount of rent remaining after deducting the items of partial over assessment. On account of this over assessment the Government have agreed to make a permanent reduction of St. Pag. 24,000. The Collector proposes a further reduction of 10 per cent. for the districts originally belonging to the Northern division of Arcot and on the Southern division, owing to its proximity to Madras and Pondicherry, of 6 per cent. Mr. Roberts then proposes to make a satisfactory settlement for a period of 16 years from f. 1215 and compares the working method of remissions granted to the Ceded Districts in 1807 with that of the Northern division of Arcot. He goes into every detail of how the over assessment was fixed, how it worked and what were its results. In order to make this clear he subjoins Mr. Ravenshaw's system of settlement for the taluks south of the river Palar extracted from his hookoom-namahs or instructions to the Hooloodars. 13. He reports that even though his whole time is utilized in the completion of the detailed survey under preparation in the southern districts his frequent visits and investigations into the state of the northern districts reveal to him the irregular and over assessments. Extensive tracts of the best land have been neglected by the cultivators. | 41-102       |

|         | 14. Mr. Roberts concludes that some of the richest lands which the country comprises are at present and have been for some years left waste, resulting in abject poverty of the population.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |              |
|         | 15. He emphasizes that Government is the only source of happiness to the ryots on which, in fact, the welfare of Government itself depends. Any attempt to improve the position of Government at the expense of the happiness of the ryots must lead to the certain destruction of both. He recommends that sanction may be granted for an additional maximum remission of 6 per cent. or a little more than one-sixteenth to apply to cases of irregular or over assessment.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |              |

| 12-2-29 | 1. Mr. Roberts intends to apply to the Collector of Chingleput for a transcript of his survey accounts of particular villages situated on the boundary of the two districts with a view to ascertaining whether the representations made by the ryots of North Arcot of the disparity in the survey assessment of the two districts as a consequence of which many of the bordering ryots of North Arcot had abandoned their cultivation and transferred their services to the Chingleput district, were founded on fact.2. As far as his enquiries go the representations of the people are founded on very correct grounds.3. In spite of Mr. Roberts's representations the Board has not yet made up its mind.4. He has taken up a single village for revision of the survey accounts. If approved he undertakes to conduct enquiries into all the villages of North Arcot the revenues of which have decayed. But before proceeding he requests the appointment of a temporary additional Sub-ordinate Collector who is to relieve him from purely revenue duties.                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | 104-20       |

| 3-1-30  | Mr. Roberts, who was asked to go into the complaints of certain ryots of Wandewash, Vellere, Arcot, etc., reports that the chief cause of complaints was that during the last five years whenever the cultivators extended their cultivation by their own exertions on lands taxed at one pagoda the Sircar took two pagodas instead of one. This system is what is known as "Bogjastee" and "Bognustee" introduced subsequent to the survey in f. 1215.In f. 1216 a revision took place when Mr. Gracie admitted the survey rates to be too high. The first means to correcting them was the introduction "Bogjasti" and "Bognustee" complained of. If the survey assessment had been correct this most impolitic measure would not have been resorted to.(For a description of "Bogjasty" and "Bognustee" see pp. 120-31.)The system is one causing incalculable loss to Government.The second subject included in the petition is the refusal of remission on loss of produce. As regards this allegation Mr. Roberts reports that no such application has ever been made to him during the last two falls. If it had been, the necessary remissions would have been granted.There are other circumstances connected with the petitions which induce him to suspect forgery. | 121-38       |
| 15-7-30 | Mr. Roberts reports to the Board that the fasli commenced under such favourable auspices that he is induced to solicit the Board's consideration of the opportunity offered for improving the land revenue administration which has seriously deteriorated by irregular survey assessment.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | 130-40       |

| 16-7-30                          | In this letter Mr. Roberts intimates to the Board the costs incurred in making the survey classification and assessment of the lands in a certain division of Arcot.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 141-3        |
| 31-7-30                          | In elucidation of the proposed alterations in the survey of the Northern and Southern districts, Mr. Roberts submits certain accounts and explains the results of the proposed remissions and how the cultivators will be enabled to attain the advantage of the reduction during the present favourable season, etc.                                                                                                                                                                      | 145-8        |

| 14-8-30                          | In this letter Mr. Roberts tries to explain precisely his intention in respect of the remissions proposed by him, i.e., to apply his methods as the state of the survey in each village may render practicable. Where the turn teerwa has been settled the remission should be granted on the teerwa and where the lands have been classed the remission should be on the commutation price. Mr. Roberts requests to be informed of the rates of assessment in the neighbouring districts. | 149-57       |
| 23-8-30                          | Mr. Roberts submits the various forms of survey and settlement accounts of about 38 villages in Hindoe with a comparative statement of the extent and value of cultivation in f. 1232.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 158-9        |

| 17-9-30                          | Mr. Roberts forwards to the Board the stalwar accounts of one village in each of the taluks of Vellore, Poloor, Trivettore from which he explains that the general rate of remission appears to be above Pag. 5 per cawny on nunjah lands and above Pag. 2 on poonjah lands and above Pag. 9 per cawny on totakal lands situated in the vicinity of towns. He submits also the merah dittam accounts.                                                                                      | 163-5        |
| 5-10-30                          | Mr. Roberts corrects a statement made by him in a previous report that on conclusion of his revision the excess proved to be 32-12½ cawnies of poonjah and 21-10 cawnies of nunjah assessed at Pag. 140-6-0 or Rs. 491-5-0 instead of 8 cawnies of nunjah and 34 cawnies of punjah assessed at Rs. 478 as was reported previously. The excess in the revision is 10 per cent. upon the former settlement.                                                                                  | 169-71       |

Kangundi Pollam

- 21-5-1823 Settlement, restoration of inams, etc. 1-51
1. Mr. Cooke, the Principal Collector, transmits the accounts of the settlement of the ayan lands of Kangundy palayam for f. 1231 amounting to Rs. 44,487-4-4. The settlement was made with the heads of the villages and does not vary in amount from the collections of previous years since the pollem has been under the superintendence of the Collector. Agreeably to the instructions conveyed to him the whole of the present inams of the pollem have been surveyed and he transmits the results. These inam lands consist of 170 villages with their hamlets with an extent of 4,295 cawnies and 12½ annas of land.
  2. In addition to these inams, Banjar lands to the extent of 12,045 cawnies and 1 anna have been surveyed and teerwa fixed on them. No survey or assessment of these lands ever seems to have been made, since the former survey changes have taken place regarding these lands as the poligars have assumed some and exchanged others.

3. When the amount of new inams granted by the poligar is deducted from those assumed by him, the net addition in the sircar villages will be Pag. 6,131-6-72.
4. Mr. Cooke remarks that the teerwas are all very moderate and at the same time are not very much below those of the adjoining taluks of Venkatagerrycootah.
5. It does not appear to be the intention of Government that any increase should take place upon the former peshkash of this pollam which was originally assessed at 60 per cent. on the revenue, while those of Chittoor only pay 40 per cent. But it is advisable that some registry should take place of the inams.
6. Mr. Cooke recommends the restoration of the pollam to the authority of the poligar on his engaging to maintain a competent force of police.
7. He forwards various statements. Of these one shows the net collections of the pollam and the amount, at the rate of 30 per cent., which has been annually paid to the poligar since Kangundy came under the management of the Government. When the extent of the former peshkash is deducted a balance of Rs. 20,300-10-7 is left. He solicits the orders of Government on the disposal of this large sum and on the restoration of the pollam.

27-11-1827 Settlement, inams, etc.

1-36

1. With reference to the resolution of Government relative to the future management of the Chittoor pollems, Mr. Roberts, the Principal Collector, reports to the Board that his attention is first directed to the preparation of a peshcush on the revenue of the pollem lands with the super addition of a certain portion of the survey valuations of the 'Rogbundoo' and chillara inam lands supposed to have been assumed and present in the possession of the respective poligars; that the peshcush was prepared on the principles already laid down. But Mr. Cooke's principles of peshcush were declared by his successor Mr. Nisbet to be incorrect inasmuch as Mr. Cooke had resumed the chillara and rajabundoo inams without authority and his assessment of the chillara inams was reduced beyond the one-third, etc. Mr. Roberts's opinion is that Mr. Cooke erred in assuming the chillara inams which are in the possession of the poligars. But his assumption does not extend to the rajabundoo lands, as stated by Mr. Nisbet, nor did he commit the irregularity imputed to him by Mr. Nisbet in the formation of too favourable an assessment on the inams. On the other hand Mr. Nisbet misunderstood the principle on which the settlement of the peshcush on these was directed.
2. Chillara inams are those granted to the servants and dependants and retinue of the poligars. These can be resumed at will as it will benefit the poligars. But the rajabundoo inams are those held by the relatives of the poligars and they cannot be resumed.
3. He reports that according to the wish of the Board he has delivered over the pollams of Bungoree and Tomba to the guardians of the minors.
4. Consequent on the transfer of many pollams from the taluks of Bungereed and Mogerel there may be a reduction in the establishment, and a necessity for the adjustment of accounts, etc. Likewise the pollems of Pooloor, Pakal, etc., were also restored.
5. Measures proposed consequent on the restoration of the pollams.
  - (a) Reduction in revenue establishment.
  - (b) Division of 9 pollems into two Tahsildaries to be termed the Bangary and Mogral taluks.
  - (c) A separate taluk of 3 of the remaining pollems and certain transfers of villages from one to other taluk.
  - (d) Police jurisdiction.—The Police Superintendent of the Norguntee pollam to be transferred to the Chittoor taluk on the restoration of Nurguntee pollam.
6. Mr. Roberts solicits the approval of the Board of all his proposals.

Chittoor Pollams

10-7-1823 Debts.

1. Mr. Cooke, the Principal Collector, while submitting to the Board the result of his enquiries regarding the demands existing against the poligars, together with the accounts which may be essential to determine the settlement of these debts and the consequent steps to be adopted on the restoration of the pollams, remarks that the polygars are to be admitted to the increased share from the expiration of the leases by which a further advantage will arise to them.
2. As regards the debts due by the polygars Mr. Græme submitted that only a sum of Pag. 11,125-43-34 was considered to be admissible. But Pag. 22,382-22-26 still remained for enquiry. In an investigation gone through as far as the parties have appeared the claims are considered as follows.
3. The poligars object on vague grounds to the principal part of the claims now urged. Under these circumstances Mr. Cooke is of opinion that to restore the pollams without an adjustment of these claims would involve these people in the courts where they will be subjected to more losses.
4. Mr. Cooke represents that it appears to be the intention of Government to restore the pollams at the expiration of the decennial lease. But the delay may prove advantageous to them because after deducting the 40 per cent. of the revenue towards the Government share they have 60 per cent. left to them which may relieve most of them from the claims brought against them.
5. As regards the disputed claims it is but just to adjust the claims by some compromise as their objections are bound to prove futile.
6. The creditors of the confiscated pollams exhibit different claims against them at no less than Pag. 20,188-16-76. There is every prospect of this sum being liquidated from their allowances. The forfeiture of the pollams consequent upon the rebellion of their former possessors cannot give these creditors any legal claim upon the Government for the discharge of the debts of the former incumbents. So it is left to the bounty of the Government to consider how far they can be helped. From the little hope the creditors have of realizing from the polygars they will readily consent to receive small portions of the debts and grant releases in preference to waiting longer for the precarious realization of their demands.
7. Mr. Cooke suggests that the amount so far admitted by the polygars and reported by Mr. Græme is trifling and may be adjusted at a very early date.
8. Besides there are some funds from which some relief may be afforded if Government so decide, i.e., the allowances of polygars fixed at 18 per cent. have not been paid in some cases. This surplus may afford considerable relief.
9. Bungaree pollam.
Pedda Ramappa Naidu who was considered as the eldest member of the family by Mr. Græme died. His two sons continued to enjoy the support which was granted to their father. The elder of the two sons Ramdoss Naidu is the proper heir to the pollam. But he is now a minor. So the courses now open are either to place the pollam under the management of the Collector or to place it in charge of his uncle Timapah Naidu, a younger brother of his father.
10. A claim has been brought by one Venkatapah Naidu, the son of the former poligar of Bungaree pollam. The former poligar married four wives. The mother of Pedda Ramappa was married as the first wife, on condition that any son born to her should be considered his successor and in fact the father of the woman declined to grant his daughter in marriage except under this admission. It therefore appears that Pedda Ramappah Naidu was the acknowledged heir of the former polygar and if his claim be admitted his son of course becomes his legal successor. Based on such an enquiry Mr. Græme did not admit the claims of Venkatapah Naidu. Mr. Cooke asks whether the pollam should be placed under the Court of Wards or the uncle should be placed in charge.

Abstract.

number.Chittoor Pollams—cont.*11. Poolloor pollam.

This pollam was confiscated consequent on the rebellion of the adopted son who assumed the right to it, though a son of the former polygar was at that time living. Mr. Cooke is of opinion that the son of the late polygar may be entitled to some consideration, as the adopted son obtained a monthly allowance of Pag. 60 and Mr. Cooke does not urge this as any ground for the restoration of the pollam to the son of the former polygar.

12. Mograul pollam.

The widow of the late polygar enjoys her allowance of Rs. 269-1-9 per mensem. She appears to have adopted one of the brothers of the Polygar of Paukaul and denied the adoption consequent on some disagreement with the party. Mr. Cooke is of opinion that the person claiming any consideration from Government as a right of the adoption is entitled to a share of the allowance granted to the family in the light of a pension if there is reason to believe that the members remain to require relief.

13. Narguntee pollam.

It is a Jaree pollam.

14. Poolloor pollam.

It is a zufted pollam. There seems to have been a decline of the revenues of both the pollams. On a close inspection the revenues appear to have varied little.

15. Succession.

In the other Jaree pollams the right to the allowances was considered the right of succession. But in the case of Narghantee Mr. Cooke fears that there may be some dispute or confusion.

16. Chillara and rajabandu inams.

Separate explanatory statements of assessment, etc., are forwarded by Mr. Cooke to the Board of Revenue.

17. Dasabandam tank lands.

Some modification is found to be necessary in respect of these lands. The whole land is computed. A certain portion is assigned to the Dassabandarcarrah, but before he is admitted to the advantage of his share the full teerva on circar lands is collected and if any portion of circar lands remained waste it might exceed the whole of the advantages which had been granted to him for the expenses incurred. Because the cultivation of this land is precarious.

18. Therefore Mr. Cooke suggests that the just way of remunerating parties in such cases is to take lands into account. According to the extent of the grant, whether  $\frac{1}{2}$ ,  $\frac{1}{3}$  or  $\frac{1}{4}$ , the division should be made on the teerva of the lands actually cultivated which would render it the interest of the proprietor to extend the cultivation and keep his interests in concert with those of the Sirkar.

30-5-1825 Debts—Report on.

1. Mr. J. Nisbet, the Principal Collector, reports to the Board (a) the real amounts due to the creditors of each of the five poligars whose pollams it is intended to restore, (b) the amount of funds now in deposit after deducting the Government demand and the charges incurred in collecting and the support of the poligars, and (c) the amount of surplus funds available after liquidation of their respective debts.
2. As regards the claims of the creditors all parties have been heard and those of a doubtful nature may without the risk of any inconvenience be decided in a court of law.
3. As regards the chillara and rajbandu inams Mr. Cooke has resumed them contrary to the advice of Government. Mr. Nisbet submits a statement to show that large sums are due to the Poligars of Bungaree, etc. The reason of these men having been so long deprived of their just dues cannot clearly be ascertained from the records. Their rights have been acknowledged by the Board and Mr. Cooke.

12-8-1822 Debts—Investigation of—Progress report.

1. The Head Assistant Collector reports to the Principal Collector in the Northern division of Arcot on the progress made by him on the investigation of debts due by the Chittoor Polygars.
2. When Mr. Græme made the first enquiry a certain amount was held over for further investigation. He enquired into these cases with much precaution against fraud and found there were also some fresh claims. He alludes to the creditors whose dues have been accepted by Mr. Græme as original creditors. He takes each pollam separately into consideration.
3. Bungarypalaiyam.
A statement showing the gross dues, those admitted by Mr. Græme, those objected to by the polygars, fresh debts, etc., is furnished and he explains the nature and tenability of each claim with proofs wherever possible.
He concludes it better to explain that the admissibility or otherwise of a great part of the debts depends on its being decided who of the late polygar's sons is to be considered the representative of his father as there has already been a dispute over succession.
4. Toombapalaiyam.
On this there is only one claimant. This claim is resisted as not being a private debt but money claimed on account of a theft within the Mograul province for which the Toomba Polygar was held responsible to  $\frac{1}{4}$  of the loss.
5. Norguntecpalaiyam.
There are two demands against this estate. One of them is incapable of any proof. The present polygar objects to paying the second claim under similar circumstances as the first.
6. Culloorpalaiyam.
Two claims were admitted in the former investigation against this pollam.
7. Poolicherlahpaldiyam.
There is only one claim against this estate, which has also been admitted.
8. Mograulpalaiyam.
There are fourteen claimants against this polyam. Of these 6 have failed on the present occasion to appear. He examines the merits of the three claims which have been advanced.
9. Poolloorpalaiyam.
There are 15 claims against this polyam and the Head Assistant Collector explains each of them in some detail. Besides there are other 5 claimants whose claims were admitted in the previous investigation.
10. Yadaroogondahpalaiyam.
There are 6 claims against this estate. The Head Assistant Collector explains them.

10-1-1828 Establishment—Increase—Statement.

With the exception of the huzur vendor, the sale of stamp paper was conducted by the taluk sarishtadars. No great facilities were afforded to individuals, which led to disuse in situations remote from the vendors. The establishment in addition to the sarishtadar, of the several peshcars, turfdars and ammeens of police is, therefore, recommended.

A commission of 5 per cent. has always been drawn upon the value of rowanahs and licences used in the districts as well as upon the amount of sales of other stamp papers and cadjans.

Several burglaries occurred within his jurisdiction, in one of which the godowns of a gentleman were broken open and property worth about Rs. 400 was taken away. Several representations were also made about the inattention of the Cutwall to the requisitions of individuals. He was therefore dismissed.

1. The Collector explains to the Board the principles on which his orders were issued, in reply to the Board's reference that they seem to uphold the system of "constrained cultivation".
2. The ryots are expected to cultivate whatever lands they may possess to the extent the Tahsildar may allot, on consideration of their condition, ability, etc. On their refusal, they shall resign their lands to those who are willing to cultivate, or pay the value of such lands as they may continue to keep waste. Far from facing cultivation, this principle is expected to secure "the full cultivation of the land and the full employment of other additional lands". The consideration that the cultivation of a portion of a ryot's land will tend to keep up the price of grain in a season when it may be expected to fall considerably will, in the district, tend to preclude the

| 26-6-28                 | 1. The poligar applies for remission of customs revenue. As the sayer revenue of the Congoondy pollam was included in the peshcash, when it was originally fixed, and was sequestered in 1802, he is entitled to the sum of St. Pag. 34,665-1-0 for the period since the sequestration and to future remission from his peshcash.2. The claim refers to the original revenue arrangement conducted 36 years since. The poligar is incorrect in saying that the sayer formed a portion of the jummah on which peshcash was originally arranged. It ill-requires the favourable consideration which prompted Government in the settlement of the peshcash originally and enabled the polygar, more recently, to draw from the State nearly double the amount.3. Col. Read's report on the settlement of the Baramahal, etc., dated 4th April 1800, states "that the portion which tributes are of their revenue being nowhere prescribed, he determined it by a comparison of the collections made by Tippoo's Amildars from the Pollams and Jaghirs which he had to settle in 1791, by taking nearly the average proportion of their former tributes to those collections". In those districts which suffered much from depredation, he reduced the percentage to 60 or 3/5ths and he determined in 1792 the tribute from Congoondy by the same rule. The pollam was supposed to yield "equal to Tippoo's rental", viz., 13,350 chuckrums and the tribute was settled at 8 and 10 chuckrums or Pag. 6,781-6-70 i.e., 60 per cent. Had the peshcash been fixed including the sayer, as the poligar alleges, "the proportion payable to Government would at 60 per cent. have been St. Pag. 28,754-8-26 or 424 per cent. superior to the Peshcash".4. The demand of the poligar on customs is at the rate of Pag. 1,336-16-0 per annum from f. 1211 to f. 1236, nearly treble the amount as the value of the poligar's portion of the customs would be but Pag. 524 per annum. He possesses considerable advantages over the other poligars in the moderate rent at which his lands are assessed. His claim is therefore unworthy of consideration. | 173          |

|          | The entire outstanding balance to the end of f. 1236 is Rs. 34,690-10-10. This sum, due for 27 years, "with the exception of Rs. 465 and the chance of a small sum to be realized on account of land customs", must be written off to profit and loss.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |              |

|          | A comparison of the statement with that of f. 1236 shows an increase of Rs. 53,938 and for f. 1237 Rs. 16,610 decrease. The increase in the sayer and abkary was occasioned by competition between the old and new renters and the decrease is in salt, owing to the injuries to the salt pans by storm and to the decreased sale of stamps. The balance of f. 1237 is Rs. 4,887. Of this, Rs. 2,824-1-2 have been realized.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |              |

|          | 1. The subject relates to the position, etc., of an arrack shop in the Southern division of Arcot, with respect to the fort of Arnee, which the Collector is requested to investigate and report on.2. There is no shop licensed by the Collector which is situated between the hamlet of Varadarajpooram and the town of Arnee. The shop is therefore "in an objectionable site in regard to the troops". There is a shop at Varadarajpooram referred to by the Principal Collector as being seven miles off Arni. The distance between the two places is only 2 miles and the shop at Varadarajpooram is but 6 furlongs and 8 yards from the exercising grounds of the dragoons, whereas it is 1 mile 1 furlong and 36 yards from the skirt of the town of Arnee.3. The complaint of the military authority is the diminished price at Varadarajpooram, and the facility with which the article could be obtained there. The South Arcot contractor who owns the shop is a resident at Arnee and derives an advantage over the chief contractor. The suppression of this shop will afford no extra benefit but will merely enable the Arnee man to attain the extent of sale guaranteed to him by the pettah. |              |

15-1-1829 Report to Government.

1. The subject relates to the question how far the plan of levying nuzzarana on succession to estates is applicable to the district and could with advantage be adopted. It embraces 3 items, viz., the rewarding of natives by granting jaghiros in recognition of their distinguished service, the operation of nuzzarana on inheritance of land or office and the appointment by warrant, or commission and mode of dismissal of the higher native servants.
2. The policy of remunerating faithful servants by a grant of land would not only be congenial to the feelings of the native servants, whose desire is to possess landed property, but also to place them beyond corruption.
3. The imposition of nuzzars is a usage derived from time immemorial, rather as a recognition of a tribute to the supreme authority than as a fixed income to the State. This was common throughout the Northern division during the Hindoo and Mahomedan Governments but was not defined by any system. It was more like a system of speculation among public servants than a benefit to the supreme authority. But, as the payment of nuzzars was discontinued in the districts, upon the substitution of the peshcash and as the whole estates have been reduced to the form of permanent management, the question does not apply to them. The poligars of the Chittoor pollams appear to have been subject to nuzzars more than any superior zamindar. The nuzzar was about St. Pag. 750 or Rs. 2,625; it bore no reference to the proceeds of the pollam but was general.

4. Reg. I of 1809 and Reg. V of 1811 were promulgated for regulating "appointments and removals of the native officers of Government." But these were rescinded by Reg. VII of 1822, "expressive of the inconvenience of the rules in force." A fee might be levied on the appointment of superior officers, but the aggregate receipts would be too trifling to be of any consideration. The intimate knowledge which the European Superintendents have attained in every minute detail of revenue affairs and their acquaintance with the native languages render them dictators to their servants and not subservient to their misplaced confidence. Want of zeal and inactivity are the more general causes of dismissal and frequent changes of new servants cause interruption to official transaction. Every European Superintendent may, therefore, prefer to mitigate punishment and not to extend to it that degree of severity which may demand the interference of Government.

| 19-1-29 | Wootcaudoo—Complaint against the Shrotriyamdar, Sawmy Naidu.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | 16                             |
| 10-6-29 | 1. The complaints, 17 in number, have been preferred by the inhabitants of Wootcaudoo. They involve questions of a revenue, magisterial and judicial nature and relate to the general misconduct of the shrotriendmar. 2. Charges. Some of the charges are :— (a) "That the Shrotriendmar refused a continuation of the lease, which prevailed, and established an amany and proposed to allow mara (grain fees payable to village officers on the division of the crop) and coopatum, which he discontinued and fixed a money payment in lieu of the maniums of the village and that he afterwards discontinued them entirely to the petitioners' great ruin, by which Sawmy Naick is indebted to the petitioners for a sum of Rs. 1,700." (b) "That he practised an illegal custom of receiving from the petitioners 6,000 bundles of straw, the value of which is Rs. 1,250 since his assuming the charge of the village." (c) "That he deprived the petitioners of 50 cawnies of nanja and 10 cawnies of punjah land and erected gardens therein." 3. (a) Sawmy Naick produced a stamped cadjan, dated 21st November 1817, signed by 32 inhabitants containing a request to him to keep the village under amany, allowing him warum and sotantrum and an assurance that they will cultivate as much as possible. The legality of the document is open to question. The petitioners presented a petition to the Collector in January 1817 in which they complained of the introduction of the amany system by Sawmy Naidu to the discontinuance of the lease. The privileges of the amany should, however, have been allowed to the petitioners, which was not the case; a sum of Rs. 710 and Rs. 205½ should be adjudged to the petitioners being the value of mera and coopatum for 10 years and the manigars' pay. (b) The petitioners stated that the established share of the shrotriendmar was 1 bundle from each umbdram (a heap of grain), but that in addition he demanded and received 1 bundle on each cawny of land cultivated. The defendant stated that it was customary under amany tenure for the ryots, besides the melwaram share, to allow straw at the rate of 1 bundle per cawny for the melwaram umbaram, or protection of the landlord's share of grain. If the amany system was forced on them, the defendant should be held responsible for the straw so taken which is worth Rs. 1,141-8-0. (c) The defendant states that the petitioners left a considerable quantity of land waste, and urged him to convert them into his cumtum, or private cultivation. A razeenamah was entered into. This document bears no relation to the lands in question. The portion formed into a dhurm tope should be resigned to the ryots. | 115 34 39 |

4. The entire sum claimed by the petitioners is Rs. 8,928 of which a sum of Rs. 3,638-4-0 is proved to have been taken. This sum is due to the inhabitants generally and should the defendant be required to repay it, the disbursement will be made according to the portion collected from each individual.

Vellore Cantonment

13-5-29 Encroachments.
To Government.

1. In company with the O.C., the Collector inspected the line of demarcation which defined the portions of land assigned to the Military, but since converted to other purposes.
2. The boundary claimed by the Military in the northern extremity of the Bangalore road is considerably lower than the glacis and being rich garden land and irrigated by a nullah would be as unfit for the purposes of a parade, as unhealthy for the purposes of residence. Substantial houses have been erected and a mosque is situated at a corner of the fort which, at the clearing of the glacis in 1806-7, was placed beyond the power of the garrison.
3. The glacis of the fort fronting the pettah has been carried up to the very shop doors, whereas the high road to Arni which extended in front of the houses as well as the bazaar is the proper boundary. It affords great convenience to the inhabitants and travellers and should again be opened to the public, and have its western line, nearest to the fort, as the military limit. It affords a revenue to Government of Rs. 460-4-0 per annum.

Revenue Establishments

8-7-29 Reduction of.

To the Committee for the Revision of the Civil Establishment.

136

The Committee has proposed a Reduction of 10 per cent. of the whole establishment. The Collector objects to this and observes that the establishment of servants in North Arcot has invariably been almost too low to admit of efficiency. The establishment was less expensive than that of many other collectorates. A comparison of the statement from each collectorate of its annual revenue with the total disbursements thereon, with the percentage, would exhibit the particular districts in which reduction is most advisable and would secure the object of Government, without entailing an inefficiency in these departments, upon the ability of which so much of the strength of Government depends.

Goodepat

3-8-29 Death of the Poligar, Vencata Timmapah Naik.

146

The poligar was only 7 years of age when he died. Sooramah, the mother of the deceased, desires that Shashum Naik, her nephew, should be permitted to succeed. According to the Hindoo Law, Sheshum Naik is entitled to the succession. He is the son of Ram-budra Naik, the eldest of the 3 brothers of Timapah Naik, father of the deceased poligar. He is 25 years of age.

Extra Revenue

5-9-29 For f. 1238—Statement.

163

The extra sources are salt, sayer, abkari, sundry, small farms and licences, stamps, motupha and Tripetty canicka. The total amount of revenue for f. 1237 was Rs. 4,55,918-1-10 and that for f. 1238, Rs. 5,06,790-8-2. The increase is Rs. 59,402-7-9 and the decrease is Rs. 8,530-0-5 which relates to the Tripetty canicka. The decrease is due to the reduction in the number of pilgrims, especially those from the northern parts, by whom the large offerings are usually made.

Mirasi Rights

21-10-29 Satghur Taluk, Catacoopum village—Appeal—Remarks.
To the Board.

181

1. The Collector considers that the courts have no jurisdiction to consider the question of the merasy monigar rights and privileges.

Date.

Abstract.

number.Mirasi Rights—cont.*2. Plaintiff's case.

The plaintiff states that the merasy is munnawaid or gowd, i.e., the property of the Sudras and not agraaharam, claimable by Brahmins, but that a division of the merasy has been made into agraaharam and gowd, by which the plaintiff, whose ancestors purchased the merasy, has lost that portion of the merasy, which is valued at Rs. 40 per annum and seeks to receive Rs. 80, the entire amount of mera and manium of which he is in possession of one half. The plaintiff appealed to the Board but the Collector's explanation was accepted by the latter and the plaintiff, therefore, moved the court for an enquiry.

3. Defence.

The plaintiff admitted the Board of Revenue to be the authority by which the question was to be decided, but this decision proving adverse, he rejects that authority and endeavours to place the subject under the jurisdiction of the court, a jurisdiction which is not authorized by any regulation. The revenue administration would be left very inefficient, if it was not clearly understood, that it was to be enforced and that the resumption of the lands and privileges was to be conducted by the revenue authority and not by the judicial tribunals.

In f. 1231, the period of resuming the ryotwar system, the Tahsildars were instructed to ascertain and invest the merassydars with their privileges. The petitioner claimed the monigar merassy, and the defendant Paupien being absent, the petitioner who was both the monigar and curnam effected the insertion of his name as the sole monigar.

Paupien sent a petition to the late Sir Thomas Munro and to the Board and an investigation was directed and made by Mr. Cooke, the then Collector, in 1824 who decided that the merassy was half agraaharam and half munnawaid or gowd, according to which the petitioner and defendant conducted their duties for f. 1234. Permission is, therefore, requested to defend the suit by the Government vakeel, should the court hold jurisdiction over the case.

9-12-29

The Collector transmits the defence to be offered in the case.

Ryots' representation—Remarks.

To the Board.

1. The Collector intends to apply to the Collector of Chingleput for a transcript of his survey accounts for villages situated on the boundary of the two districts with a view to ascertain whether it is a fact that representations were made by the ryots of North Arcot of the disparity in the survey assessment of the two districts, in consequence of which many of the bordering ryots of North Arcot had abandoned their cultivation and migrated to the Chingleput district.

2. The accounts show that the representations of the people are founded on very correct grounds and demand consideration. The village of Koosaput in the Ootramalloor Taluk in Chingleput and the village of Kaurom in the Wandewash Taluk of North Arcot are situated in the same pachal, i.e., irrigation and are only half a mile apart. A comparison of these shows that the punjah assessment in Chingleput is 13 2/16 annas of a pagoda, whereas that of the North Arcot village is 1 6/16 making the latter Pag. 24-12 annas per cent. higher than the former, and that the punjah assessment in Chingleput is shown to be Pag. 2-3 2/16 annas whereas in Arcot it is Pag. 4-10 2/16 annas or a difference against the latter of no less than 111 pagodas per cent. The former has no totakal or garden land, whereas in Arcot totakal is 4-9 per cawny.

3. The Collector proposes an investigation into the data on which the survey is carried on in the neighbouring districts of Nellore, North and South Arcot and Chingleput in order to find out whether there is any similarity to each other. Otherwise, no survey can be satisfactorily concluded, inasmuch as the scale of assessment, when discovered by the ryots, to be disproportionate, will always be objected to and submitted for revision.

Reduction of Assessment

5-1-1830 Complaint from the inhabitants of Satghur, Vellore, Arcot, Wandewash, etc.

1. Bogzastee and bognushtee system.

The petitioners complain that "during the last 5 years, whenever the cultivators have by their own exertions extended their cultivation, on land taxed at Pag. 1, the Sircar takes Pag. 2, Pag. 6 instead of Pag. 3, etc." The tax relates to bogzastee and bognushtee, a system introduced subsequent to the survey in f. 1215, as a means of correcting the irregularities in that survey, but which, in consequence of the intervention of the triennial and decennial leases, was scarcely brought into practice, till f. 1233 or 5 years since. Though the system alleviated the condition of the ryots to a great extent, it has been, on the other hand, the cause of throwing the richest, and more highly assessed lands out of cultivation and consequently reduced the revenues of Government.

The principle of bogzasti was to levy from a 10th to a 12th upon the assessment fixed on each cawny for one crop, thus land assessed as 2 crop, paid Pag. 9, i.e., Pag. 5 per cawny for the first and 4 for the second crop; in many places, however, the survey being irregular, ryots cultivating Pag. 9 land were permitted to cultivate but 1 crop, and transfer the means of irrigation to inferior 1 crop land assessed at Pag. 3 per cawny, paid for its 2nd crop Pag. 2, in all Pag. 5; thus while they received a remission bognushtee of Pag. 4 for not cultivating the 2nd crop on Pag. 9 land, they paid an addition, bogzasti, on raising a 2nd crop on 1 crop land. The effect was that the ryots threw out the richest 2 crop lands and the resources of the Government deteriorated. If the assessment is reformed, there will be an inducement to the ryots to cultivate the best lands and the interests of the Government and the ryot will then be reciprocal.

Peshkash

18-5-30 Statement of.

63

1. Calculation.

To the land beriz is added 3/4th of the value of the rajabundoo inams and 2/3rd of that of the chiller inams, making the total, from which 60 per cent. being deducted as the poligar's share, the remainder or 40 per cent. amounting to Rs. 30,082-0-3 is the Government's share. To this is added the moturpha, Rs. 772-0-6, which makes the total of Government peshcash and receipts as Rs. 30,854-0-9. The sum hitherto received is Rs. 30,391-6-3 or Rs. 463-3-6 less than that now suggested.

2. Payment.

The entire peshcash is paid direct by the poligars to Government and there is no interference by Government with their rajabundoo and chiller inam holders. It is understood, however, that the poligars derive from these inams, a revenue equal to the proportion which he pays to Government upon them, viz., 40 per cent., and the payment to the poligar does not vary annually, i.e., does not depend on the actual extent of the cultivation upon these inams, but is fixed upon the average of the same number of years, as applied to the fixing of his peshcash.

Krishna Rao

31-5-30 Late Naik Sarishtadar—Resignation.

Kistna Row was an excellent arithmetician and possessed ability and experience sufficient for the situation of the naik sarishtadar. Shortly after his appointment as naik, he, however, proved inefficient, and instead of taking the Collector's orders, on doubtful points, he entered into a correspondence with one of the sarishtadars of the Board for the purpose of obtaining certain information. He was often fined for want of attention and inaccuracy in the preparation of public accounts. He was later appointed Tahsildar on Rs. 120 per mensem in one of the easiest assessed taluks, to acquire experience. He represented that he was incompetent as a Tahsildar and requested that he might be considered to have resigned the appointment.

2. Kistna Row is not "a fit object for a pension, his services are available in the situation of Tahsildar, to which he should consider it sufficient promotion to be appointed and from which it is not the Collector's desire to remove him." "He should, if desirous of returning to it, solicit my consideration of his services, and forgiveness of the intemperate manner in which he resigned it."

| 12-7-30 | 1. The probable outturn of the estate for the current year will not meet those demands which the estate is primarily subject to. Because it was unable to pay but a small portion, if any, of the debts, it was proposed in the jamabandi report of the 18th January last, as an inducement to the creditors to come forward, to distribute the surplus balance at the close of the fasli. They had exhibited in their accounts, a percentage of the sum due to each individual.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 135 |
| 24-8-30 | 2. The case of Messrs. Seth & Gregory Sam is not clear. The statement will show that 24 villages bearing an annual beriz, according to that of f. 1238, of Rs. 18,310-7-4 were mortgaged prior to the transaction with Messrs. Seth & Gregory Sam & Co. On 12th June next, the last kist of the peshcash becomes due, amounting to Rs. 62,552. The amount on hand is Rs. 13,798-9-2 which is less than the amount directed to be paid by the court's precept. The debt on jewels mortgaged amounts to Rs. 23,557-2½ and the value of the jewels is Rs. 30,483-12-0. In view of the general interests of the estate, it would be a good policy "to recover these mortgaged jewels at the earliest opportunity and by their disposal to secure more effectual means of liberating the estate." | 179 |
| 30-7-30 | In respect of the claim preferred in the Provincial Court of the division by one DeSilva of Madras, calling himself a creditor of the late Vencut Perumal Raj, Zamindar, it is found on enquiry that "no portion of the debt remains uncanceled." "DeSilva, in bringing forward this suit, is solely supported by the chance, that in the perplexed situation of the late Zamindar's pecuniary transactions, some of the documents might not be known to those at present about the minor or might have been mislaid."                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 108 |

| 12-7-30 | Principal Collector—Extra tent allowance.There was no public diary kept in the cutcherry from which to ascertain the number of days and the names of places at which extra tentage was drawn in the last 6 months of the year 1828. During that period, the extra tent allowance was drawn in conformity with the authority of Government, dated 13th May 1828, which specifies that Collectors and their subordinates may draw extra tent allowance although not actually resident in tents. This authority was superseded by the order of the Board on 22nd December 1828, which requires that there should be an actual residence in tents alone, and, in conformity with it, an account has been kept from that day of the places at which extra tent allowance is drawn. If the Board gives the order a retrospective effect to a period of nearly two years, when the allowance was drawn under the authority of Government, the Collector should decline acquiescence in it, not only because the allowance for the period has already been sanctioned by the Board, but because it was drawn in conformity with the rule of the highest authority. "The tent allowance drawn by Collectors during a great portion of the triennial and decennial settlement was at the rate of St. Pag. 69 per mensem, without reference to their period of circuit." "It is well known that the then revenue duties of a Collector by no means required the frequent visits to the district which a ryotwar settlement demands; it is not improbable that the Government in altering the tent allowance, and subsequently permitting it to be drawn either when tents were used, or a more substantial accommodation provided by the Collector for his cutcherry, had in view rather the security of a more active superintendence of revenue details than a reduction of the means by which Collectors could accomplish this and with less ease | 145 |

| 14-8-30      | Statement—Remarks. 1. Principles of remission. The additional remission of 6½ per cent. was to be distributed not indiscriminately but solely to those villages in which a reduction of assessment was absolutely essential. The survey of the Coded districts was on more favourable terms to the ryot than that of N. Arcot and the remission granted in those districts was as high as 25 per cent. and a similar remission was suggested for N. Arcot. The aggregate proposed is 18½ per cent. i.e., 12½ already granted and 6½ now proposed to be distributed in such proportions as the irregularity of the settlement in particular villages more expressly demands.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | 166          |         |           |  |           |     |              |          |          |              |          |          |     |

| 8-9-30       | Principles of—Board's remarks on the Collector's explanation. The Board considers that the principles of settlement adopted by the Collector are calculated "to compel the ryots to undertake cultivation beyond their means, or what the nature of the season holds out the prospect of effecting." The Collector explains that the point is determined by the result of the administration; had the ryots been compelled to cultivate beyond their means and the prospect of the season, additional tuccavi would have been necessary; claims for shavee would have been advanced and found expedient; and the collections would not have been realized in due season, or without recourse to confiscation and restraint. But none of these defects has resulted from the method adopted by the Collector. "The wishes of the Board have ever been considered by me as the sole rule for my conduct, and paramount to my opinion."                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 197          |         |           |  |           |     |              |          |          |              |          |          |     |

| 22-12-30     | Estates—Temporary management. 1. The decision of the Government passed on the 28th ultimo directs that Collectors of unsettled districts are to be "precluded drawing commission on estates temporarily under their management." The Board requires the Collector to carry "the commission of the last two years being the period the estate has been superintended by me to the account of the Carvetnuggur zemindary." 2. The Government would have intended that the order should take effect for the future management of estates by Collectors of unsettled districts or, if a retrospective effect had been contemplated, "the period from which such should take place would have been specifically noticed." The Collector draws the attention of the Board to "the real labour and anxiety in which I have been involved in obtaining information and establishing some degree of regularity in the revenues and accounts of Carvettenuagar," which "have far exceeded what I have ever found it requisite to bestow on double the quantum of land in any other portion of the country in which I have been employed." He requests "the Board will not deem it too liberal a construction that the decision of Government is not intended to bear a retrospective effect", "which would preclude me, in particular, from a remuneration for services performed, and permitted to others, similarly situated", and further requests that, if otherwise, "the Board will take a favourable view of the case, and recommend, as refers solely to the period prior to the date of the decision, to the consideration of the Government." | 227          |         |           |  |           |     |              |          |          |              |          |          |     |

Military Bazaars

12-4-1831 Collector's powers.

1. The subject relates to a complaint by the bazaarmen of the 6th Lt. Cav. at Raneepet that some opulent merchants have established themselves in the midst of the military camp and monopolized the custom of the regiment.

2. Facts of the case.

Government in their order, dated 2nd January 1830, to H.E. the Commander-in-Chief exempted "all registered bazaarmen from the Veesoobaudy and Moturpha taxes" and directed "that on the arrival of a regiment in a new district, a register of regimental bazaar men shall be furnished to the Collector as also that all subsequent alterations be notified to him and that the limits of the regimental bazaars be accurately defined and plans submitted to the Collector."

On the arrival of the 6th Lt. Cav., the required register was submitted to the Collector but no report or plan of the limits of the bazaar has been furnished. On requisition, the O.C. transmitted new registers, by which it appeared that six additional bazaarmen had been admitted since the arrival of the regiment, and orders were issued by the Collector to exempt them from the tax. Neither the 6th nor the 8th Rt. of Cav. established any new bazaar, but occupied the houses already constructed by the Raneepet merchants, on spots occupied by other preceding regimental bazaars.

3. Opinions and discussions.

A monopoly results from a want of competition, and is assuredly a serious evil, but here, the evil charged against the merchants is that by competition, it enables the soldiers, etc., to purchase the necessities of life at a cheaper rate than the regimental bazaarmen. It cannot be said that the sepoys and followers can be compelled to purchase exclusively from them, "thereby sacrificing the pay and comforts of the party most requiring support to the pecuniary profit of the bazaarmen." Many of the sepoys in the regiment reside in the town and they cannot be compelled to make purchases in the regimental bazaars alone, and not to make purchases in such places as afford them the greatest convenience and profit.

1. The Collector explains to the Board for "what reason the whole farm was resumed, what offers were made by the parties from time to time with a view to recover the management of their farms and why they were not accepted."

2. Dissensions among the renters.

Since the month of March 1830, the renters fell into disputes among themselves and exhibited irregularity in the payment of their kists; on the 27th of the month, the balance against them was Rs. 6,224. Each party began to seize upon the collections for his private advantage without keeping any accounts. In June, the balance was Rs. 6,072 and on the 16th July or 5 days subsequent to the closing of the fasli, the balance was Rs. 7,474.

3. Alleged rejection of offer for payment.

The renters proposed on one occasion to pay down Rs. 8,000 and to give securities for the balance, and they were informed that the security was sufficient, but that the payment of the balance must conform to the terms of their moochelikas. They were instructed that if they would make good the entire balance due to Cuddapah, Salem and N. Arcot, the assumption would be removed. But they were not prepared to pay down even a moiety of the balance.

1. The petitioners about 16 in number, claim 7 villages each without any reason and state that the allowances formerly paid by the Arnee Jaghirdar have been discontinued by the present incumbent. They state that in consequence of the distress of the members of the family, Government were pleased to restore the jaghir to Sreenivasa Row who mortgaged it on account of his debts, and the members agreed to receive a reduced rate of subsistence, the income being small; but he died, prior to the liquidation of the debts and Government resumed the jaghir and restored it to Termul Row, the adopted son of the widow. The Jaghirdar, when prosecuting the Ragoonad-poor Jaghirdar for peshcash, stated to the court that he continued to pay Rs. 27,000 per annum to the family, whereas his expenses on this account were only Rs. 3,000. The present jaghirdar, his son, was permitted to succeed to the jaghir, but he discontinued the whole mamool and rights payable to the members of the family.

2. The jaghirdar reports that several of the petitioners have not for some months applied for their pensions but that he awaits their claim. The jaghirdar explains that the disbursement of Rs. 27,000 relates not only to the charity but also to other items such as the usual subsistence to the complainants, peshcash and kangee, etc., house expenses.

3. So long as the jaghirdar continues the payment to his dependants of the allowances, which they have been accustomed to receive during the last 24 years, i.e., since the majority of the late Jaghirdar, Tirumul Row, the petitioners have no reasonable cause of complaint.

The total decrease in f. 1240 is Rs. 10,793-9-11. The increase relates to three items, salt, moturpha and Tirupathy canicka, viz., Rs. 2,474-1-0, Rs. 636-10-1 and Rs. 913-10-1 respectively and the decrease to sayer, sundry small farms and licences and stamps, viz., Rs. 6,100-0-0, Rs. 2,742-7-4 and Rs. 5,975-7-8 respectively.

8-10-31 ~~Boundary Disputes~~ Gooroomcondah and Pennuree taluks—Report.

142

1. The subject refers to certain boundary disputes arising on the borders of the taluks of Gooroomcondah of the Cuddapah district and of Pennuree of the N. Arcot district.

2. Facts of the case.

The facts are taken from the survey accounts of f. 1215. The disputed land is situated in Ila Ubbereddygarripilly, a muzzer of Poolecherla cusbah, and is entered in the survey accounts as No. 1 punjah. It has always been attached to that village. The local enquiry of the Tahsildar also proves that it belonged to the Poolecherla cusbah.

Police Poons

18-11-31 Establishment.

1. The Collector pointed out in his previous report, dated 7th February last, that the further decrease ordered by the Revision Committee in the moyenzabitah establishment was not advisable and while the Government effected a saving of Rs. 28,148-0-0, the reduction has rendered the Revenue department very inefficient.
2. The general increase of crime, "the altered description of crime and the audacity, skill and overwhelming force attendant on its preparation" show that the present state of the police is inadequate and require that the reduced staff should be restored.

Carvotnuggur

13-2-1832 Debts—Messrs. Seth &amp; Gregory Sam's claim.

1. The above firm are creditors of the late zamindar for the large sum of Rs. 77,365-0-0. A difference of Rs. 15,000 exists between the accounts of Messrs. Seth & Gregory Sam and that of the zamindari. On the demise of the zamindar, certain villages were held by these gentlemen, in liquidation of the debt due to them. These villages, with others similarly situated, fell under the superintendence of the Court of Wards and several applications were made for their recovery by the several holders of these villages, among whom were Messrs. Seth & Gregory Sam.
2. The creditors, when granting loans to the zamindar, apparently satisfied themselves with having made a favourable arrangement without taking into consideration the probability or otherwise of the realization of their expectations. But, it is found that the several original contracts of the zamindars extend to three times the value of the whole zamindari.
3. Under the circumstances, therefore, of a large sum being due to them, the exact sum, "still undefined by the parties", nothing more can be done than replacing these gentlemen in the situation in which they were found at the period of the zamindar's death, viz., in charge of certain villages deducting from the assets the share of the peshcash which the land pays to the Circar.

Kalahasti

9-4-32 Succession—Rajah Timthanahid Bahadur

54

The zamindar represents that his health is precarious and that, in the event of his death, the zamindari may be continued to his wife, Sooriah, as his heiress, with permission to adopt one of his "kindred" after his death. The latter request appears to be opposed to the Hindoo Law and the uncle of the queen, Ravoo Lingam Naidu, who possesses considerable influence in the country, fears that should any adoption take place during the Rajah's lifetime, and the Rajah afterwards die, the estate would have to be managed by the Circar "for a long minority" and is probably anxious to get the uncontrolled management of it himself.

| 23 10-32 | Permanent settlement.The poligar, from the year 1792 onwards, has been addressed by all the authorities, with the exception of Mr. Cooke, by the designation of "Samasthan," instead of "Poligar". The Collector is not aware of any circumstances connected with the pollam which would render it expedient to depart from the recognized and general principle of Government retaining under its direct control the collection and regulation of the moturpha. The poligar has, up to the present time, collected it on his own account. If this branch of the revenue should be resumed, the poligar would have a right to remission of the moturpha, but this is a question justly to be determined by the decision whether the peshcash is now open to alteration or is permanent as fixed on the estimate of the resources made in the time of Col. Read, or, whether it is, to be fixed on the present resources of the pollam.In the former case, the poligar has realized a net increase of Pag. 6,131 to his resources since the resumption of the villages by him, and he is not entitled to a remission of the moturpha. Whereas, in the latter case, if the peshcash is fixed with reference to his present resources, it is proper if 60 per cent. upon the total amount of moturpha be allowed to the poligar as compensation, in accordance with the rule observed in the case of the other poligars. | 172 |

The villages were granted to one Dorabidda Timma Naidu in 1791 by a poligar named Jeewajee Vencatapuddy Naik and subsequently, in 1794, to one Mooncapah. It appeared that Dorabidda Timmanaid had taken up arms against the British Government and had joined with the Poligar of Peddanaikdroog. The Poligar of Congoondy was directed to deliver up Timma Naidu within 8 or 10 days, and in the event of his disappearance, to confiscate his property, etc., to the Circar. Mooncapah was the nephew of Timma Naidu and had married the daughter of the Poligar Jeewajee Vencatapady Naik. | 16-4-34  | For f. 1242—Report—Board's remarks—Explanation.Statement of tanks.The Board refers to the accounts of the state of the tanks in ff. 1233 and 1242 and observes that the accounts are given from the returns of the Tahsildars, on which the Board "do not however place any reliance", "as they appear not only inconsistent with the monthly reports of the season of 1833 but with the cultivation statements forwarded with the report for f. 1242". The Collector explains that he "sees no reason to doubt their accuracy as, from certain established facts, and from the mode in which such statements are prepared, they are generally the most correct of those received from a Tahsildar." It is probable that, when an inconsistency exists in an account, it is more to be ascribed to an error in the translation than in the account itself.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 59          |

| 24-11-34 | Arcot taluk—Brumadasem—Falsification of—Enquiry and report.The enquiry reveals the existence of a systematic attempt to defraud the Government by incorrect village and Mahrattah jamabandi accounts. Attempts to conceal cultivation from the village accounts are of common occurrence. Similar transactions might have taken place in other villages also. The Collector has obtained possession of a puttah for f. 1243, bearing the Sub-Collector's stamp, to which no allusion is made in the village accounts.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 244         |

It was, after 20 years, restored to Seenevas Row, the grandfather of the present jaghirdar. As Tirumal Row was a minor, the jaghir was managed by the Court of Wards. The petitioners admit that the entire sum paid by the Collector at that time, was Rs. 2,316 per annum. On his attaining his majority, this allowance was increased by him to Rs. 3,912 per annum. The yearly payment of the present jaghirdar is Rs. 3,870.3. Proof of claim.As to the proof of the statement that the sum of Rs. 27,320 had been at any time, enjoyed by the family, the petitioners refer to the reply of the Vakcel of the late Tirumal Row in a suit before the Provincial Court of Circuit, Centre division, in 1818, instituted by Coonary Row, Jaghirdar of Raghoonathapuram. This is to the effect that the sum of Rs. 27,000 relates to the jaghirdar's expenditure on account of the payments to the members of the family for subsistence and the value of mokasah villages granted in inam.4. Conclusion.The admission shows that the present allowances "fully equal those admitted or allowed at any time since the Arnee jaghir has been held under a sunnud from the British Government." | 288         |

15-2-1814 Resumption of inams—Zamindar's representation.
To the Board.

1. The zamindar represents the increased difficulty in paying his peshcash, if he is obliged to resume the inam villages in his zamindari, which he considers himself authorized to assume, and requests a refund of the amount he has made from them from the period of their assumption. He apprehends a severe loss if the restitution is awarded for all the villages respecting which suits are now pending.
2. "It is but justice to the zamindar to say that there are strong circumstances attending the assumption of the villages which would seem to excuse the interposition of the Government in his behalf." The validity of the grants in respect of the authority under which they were made is doubtful. The villages were assumed before the promulgation of Reg. XXXI of 1812 A.D. which regulates the manner of assuming such inams, or, were assumed when the regulation, though in existence, was not known to the zamindar, the additional revenue which the zamindar agreed to pay to Government under the treaty negotiated by Mr. Stratton was declared to have been not an increase of tribute which had already been fixed by the authority of the Government at a former period. Mr. Stratton is declared to have assured him that he might resume the villages in question, whenever he pleased. The regulation which puts a limit to the resumption of alienations of land gives the grantees the appearance of strength and validity which they did not possess before and which the grantees had not failed to avail themselves of.

15-7-18

Board's proceedings—Extract.

37

The alienated villages are held by the present possessors under invalid titles and the Board requires the Collector to proceed "in the manner prescribed in Reg. XXXI of A.D. 1802 for the recovery on account of Government of such of them as have been declared by a decree of court as not the right of the Zemindar of Calastry."

17-1-1802 Death of Poligar Dauserry Naidu.

Dauserry Naidu, who was a minor, was the only son of his father, Verragavapa Naidu, and, he being dead, the true heir to the pollam at present of the nearest affinity is his aunt, Akala, and her offspring, but, as she has only one daughter, both she and her daughter are excluded from the succession to the pollam, as from the Hindu Law, the females are considered ineligible. The nearest male relation to the deceased poligar, then, is the present Poligar of Carumbandy, being both descendants of the two sons of Dauserry Naidu, the present poligar's ancestor. The pollam will remain under the charge of the mother of the deceased poligar, Nauncharamah, pending the Board's orders.

Chittoor

21-3-02 Poligars—Succession—Procedure, etc.—Report to the Board.

39

The Collector explains the two points raised by the Board, the one relating to the usual line of succession of these poligars and the other, whether a female has, at any time, succeeded, since the females are not "excluded by the general law of the Hindoos."

Date.

Abstract.

number.Chittoor—cont.*(a) 1st point.

The poligars generally conform to the laws prescribed by the 'Shaster', though, in some instances, some deviations take place, which seem to have been "countenanced by the managers of the late government, no less probably, from motives of private consideration than views of policy from being sensible of their inability to oppose the poligar's will."

(b) 2nd point.

Only one instance has occurred among the Chittoor Poligars, in which a female has succeeded to the pollam. Seetamah, the widow of the late Poligar of Paukaul pollam, managed the concerns of the pollam for 2 or 3 months in her own name and in the interval, adopted one Venkatappa Naidu and during his minority, she managed the pollam.

What is stated in the general law of the Hindoos is that females have not full power over real effects. This would mean that they cannot bestow inam lands to any great extent so as to alienate materially the substance of the inheritance they succeed to.

Tirupati District*8-8-02 Renting for ff. 1208-11—Statement.

The statement relates to the renting of the Tripetty district for four years, ff. 1208-11. The proposal No. 1 is recommended as preferable to the rest as it affords a security of St. Pag. 8,000 to be paid in advance. The proposal for the first year is St. Pag. 65,000, which is above the net revenue of the average of three and four years, and above the net revenue of ff. 1208 and 1209 and near the net revenue of the last fasli. It is also proposed to abolish the capitation tax levied on pilgrims resorting to the pagoda on the hill, not only because it is "liable to abuse and vexation in the collection" but also because it serves "as the means of further confirming through the remotest parts of the Peninsula a conviction of the indulgence of the Company's Government to the religious prejudices of the natives."

Zamindars*17-9-02 Military service—Venkatagerry, Calastry, Bomrauzepollam and Syda-poor—Commutation agreements.

1. The principal objections of the zamindars to the arrangement proposed arose from an idea that it would lessen their dignity but they were assured that the Government had allowed them to retain about their person a sufficient number of peons for the purposes of state.
2. The sayer chowkis throughout these zamindaris have been abolished, agreeably to the Board's orders. The zamindars have been informed that they are responsible for the police and for the safety of the merchants and travellers and the property passing through their zamindaris. The salt revenue and the revenue derived from the sale of spirituous liquors have been resumed.

Poligars*20-8-1800 Venkatagerry, Calastry and Bomrauzepollam—Conduct of.5

1. Mr. George Stratton is appointed the Collector of the Pesheash from the western poligars. His immediate object should be the investigation into the circumstances contained in the letters from the O.C. to the Government relating to the conduct of the Calastry poligar.
2. The succession to the Mutlewar district is disputed by two brothers. Bomrauze assisted the elder, viz., Venkataramarauze and the Calastry man sponsored that of the younger Venkataraghavarauze. The spirit of independence and interference is so incompatible with the situation of the poligar and with the orders relating to the employment of military force that the Government direct that an investigation should be made into their violation.

Pollgars—cont.

3. The Collector is to ascertain particularly "the number and description of the troops employed by them and the expense of maintaining them, whether defrayed in money or land," "the number and condition of the forts and strongholds and their means of defence, also the number of prisoners in confinement and their alleged crimes." He is also to ascertain the actual state of those pollams, their population, the number of cattle and ploughs and the method of cultivation and assessment and the state of the tanks, etc.
4. The ultimate intention of the Government is "to reduce the overgrown independence of these tributaries by commuting their military services for the payment of a ready money tribute, as has been already successfully introduced among the Tinnevely pollgars."

Prices

30-10-00 Grain—Statement. 205

Currency

1-11-00 Regulation of exchange. 219

From the Government to the Board.

The revenue officers "substitute a different rate of exchange in the same coins at the different periods of receiving them in payment of the revenues and of issuing them for military disbursements". This practice results in a very serious injury, by encouraging the "traffic of shroffs", and by causing "a continual fluctuation in the value of military pay", which it is necessary "to preserve from variation". Government, therefore, prohibit in the most positive manner all artificial difference in the rate of exchange "between the receipt of money on account of the public revenue and the subsequent disbursement of it for military purposes". The exchange of Arcot rupees and Star pagodas is fixed at Arc. Rs. 350 per Pag. 100 and of Star pagodas and Bahdry pagodas at St. Pag. 108 for Bahdry Pag. 100.

Murder

21-11-00 Of Narniah, a messenger. 231

1. The Board, in a letter to Government, reports the result of the enquiry directed in consequence of the representation of Latchmanya, the brother of a hircarrah in the service of Mr. Stratton, the Collector of the Western Peshkash, who was reported to be cut off in the discharge of his duty. The body discovered in the tank is that of the person missing.
2. The spot where the body was found lies in the Sitwar district adjoining Calastry. The Board recommends that H.H. the Nabob should be requested to institute an enquiry and "to ascertain the perpetrators of this murder", and that the pollgars or villagers nearest to the place of murder should be compelled to pay a sum of Pag. 2 for the maintenance of the deceased's family.

Ryotwar Settlement

22-3-1821 Introduction—F. 1231—Measures—Board's remarks.

1-164

1. The Board requires the Collector to furnish information as to,
  - (a) whether the settlement for the whole district is to be made by an assessment on each field, or,
  - (b) whether a preference will be given by any of the cultivators, to the putout farm system, and
  - (c) what is the amount of remission proposed to be granted.
2. In making the reduction of the survey field assessment, Mr. Graeme has recommended that the reduction made, during the present lease, by the renters, should be taken as the principal guide. The cultivation was thereby increased to 40,000 cawns beyond that of any year from f. 1211 to f. 1217, giving to the renters a revenue of Pag. 67,000 above the highest settlement during that period. The putout system had been adopted by the people themselves, when left, under the decennial lease, to adjust matters with the renters.
3. The Board observes that the inhabitants have given a preference to the individual ryotwar, rather than the putout lease, and that the former has been adopted. Under this mode of settlement, the assessment of each field will be defined.
4. Remission.
The accounts given by the renters of the remission granted to them, during the decennial lease, should be received with great caution, as they are likely to overestimate them. In order to render the remission fair and equitable, the Board considers that it should, in general, be given in nearly the same proportion to all the ryots of the village. The great object is to secure the benefits of the remission to those who actually stand in need of it.

Zamindaris

22-10-21 Ancient families—Territorial rights—Regulation—Board's remarks.

59

The Board requests the Collector to prepare and forward a list of all zamindars, poligars, etc., holding territorial offices consisting of one village or more. He is also to ascertain the feelings of the zamindars and their wishes relative to the proposed reversion to the former system.

Customs Duty

21-6-1824 Cloth regulation.

51

The Government perfectly concur with the Board in considering "that no cloths are exempt from duty, which have been sold, within the limits of a chowky, whatever may have been the mode of payment for them, and also that persons defrauding the customs are liable to the penalties prescribed in Section xxi Reg. I. A. D. 1812".

Annual Settlement

3-1-1825 For f. 1233—Board's remarks.

1-123

Assessment.

(a) Calculation.

The total assessment for f. 1232 was Rs. 28,14,972-6-6 and for f. 1233, Rs. 18,27,469-1-7. The increase in the latter year was Rs. 32,784-11-0 and the decrease, Rs. 10,20,287-15-11.

(b) Remission.

The net remission amounts to Rs. 1,23,649-8-5 for f. 1232 and Rs. 1,44,386-3-6 for f. 1233, resulting in an increase of Rs. 20,736-11-1 in the latter year. This explains the cause of the reduction in the land revenue of Rs. 9,42,207-0-1.

|        |    |    |    |    |    | Net increase | 3,85,570  | 1  | 1  |

(b) Remission.

The important features of the settlement are the general reduction of 1½% in the survey assessment amounting to Rs. 96,365-2-7; the remission of the 2nd crop assessment, Rs. 27,366-9-5; the reduction of the rent of all the fields which the ryots were unable to cultivate, Rs. 4,03,935-13-1; an abatement of the land tax in favour of those individuals whose grain was destroyed, Rs. 28,810-3-9; and the restoration of the privileges of the village officers amounting to Rs. 1,68,127-4-0.

(c) Soil classification.

"The earth was not sufficiently moistened to admit of the plough being used, until the later end of August, at which time the season was far advanced enough to enable the ryots to redeem the time that had been lost."

2. Results.

(a) Prices.

The price of the grain rose in some taluks to nearly 300 % above the rates at which the survey commutation was calculated, and the decrease in the population is estimated at "73,071 souls".

(b) Financial.

The result of the settlement is as favourable as could be anticipated. It exceeds that of f. 1233 by Rs. 4,05,393-11-6 and appears to have been conducted on just principles.

Annual Settlement

5-3-1827 For f. 1235—Board's remarks.

1. Assessment.

(a) Calculation.

The net increase in land revenue in f. 1235 is Rs. 83,575-13-4. "The Collector employed his own cutcherry in making the village settlement of the whole district and the individual settlement of the 2 taluks. The individual settlement in the remaining taluks was made by the Tahsildars under the special instructions from the Principal Collector."

(b) Remission.

The actual remission on account of the land taken but not cultivated amounting to Rs. 1,83,112 was rendered necessary by the failure of the rains. Other remissions were on account of the failure of the means of cultivation and loss of crops. "The remission which has been usual on account of parts of fields left waste was reduced to an inconsiderable amount, by the enforcement of the rule requiring the ryots to cultivate the good and bad parts of fields together or to relinquish both."

Remission to the amount of Rs. 23,813 was granted on land rated as 2 crop land but on which for want of water only 1 crop was raised. This remission was fully made up by extra assessment on poonjah lands yielding a wet crop and on 1 crop land yielding 2 crops.

(2) Results.

Prices.

The price of grain was generally above the survey rates and afforded an advantage to the ryots, "by which they were enabled to pay their kists with great ease."

Annual Settlement
17-4-1828 For f. 1236—Board's remarks.

1-26

1. Assessment.(a) Calculation.

The total of land revenue for f. 1235 and 1236 are as follows:—

| Fasli        | Rs.       | A. | P. |
|--------------|-----------|----|----|
| 1235 .. .. . | 19,09,266 | 3  | 4  |
| 1236 .. .. . | 20,71,933 | 8  | 2  |
| Increase ..  | 1,62,667  | 4  | 10 |

(b) Soil classification.

The season was on the whole very favourable, and there was an increase of 22,567 cawnis in the extent of land occupied, the assessment thereon being Rs. 89,935. The extent of land relinquished from want of water was cawnis 15,320, assessed at Rs. 88,805.

(c) Remission.

The whole amount of deductions was Rs. 2,71,330, being Rs. 85,474 less than in the preceding fasli.

2. Results.(a) Agricultural.

The number of ploughs employed in the cultivation of last year exceeded the number employed in the preceding year by 1,536, and there was an increase of 3,468 in the number of cultivating ryots and of 2,753 in the number of puttalis. These still fall short of the number in f. 1232, by 9,650 ploughs and 10,173 ryots.

(b) Financial.

The progressive increase of the land revenue since f. 1233 in which year, the districts by the calamities of the season, was greatly reduced, is satisfactory. The settlement of f. 1236, exclusive of pesheash, exceeds that of f. 1233 by Rs. 6,29,650, but still falls short of the settlement of f. 1232 by Rs. 3,12,558 and of f. 1231 by Rs. 1,31,072.

(c) Prices.

The return of the produce was so favourable as to make up for the fall in prices, which averaged 30 per cent. below the dowie, or survey commutation price.

Annual Settlement
15-1-1829 For f. 1237—Board's remarks.

1-35

1. Assessment.(a) Calculation.

The land revenue for f. 1237 is Rs. 14,54,318-0-8, which shows a net decrease of Rs. 1,60,941-14-6.

(b) Remission.

The amount of the assessment deducted is Rs. 2,56,985 which is less than that in the preceding fasli by Rs. 1,69,944.

2. Results.(a) Prices.

The extreme lowness of the prices have tended greatly "to discourage agricultural exertion."

(b) Financial.

Notwithstanding the low prices, the revenue was collected with punctuality. Of the permanently settled revenue amounting to Rs. 4,51,438, the sum of Rs. 4,48,590 had been realized up to the 30th September last and of the revenue not permanently settled amounting to Rs. 14,54,318, the sum of Rs. 14,48,011 had been realized at the same period, the whole balance being Rs. 3,154, which has been since reduced to Rs. 8,109.

1. Assessment.*(a) Calculation.*Extent of land.

It was less than in f. 1237 by cawnis 16,254 and the amount of the survey assessment was less than Rs. 82,458. "The rains upon which the dry land depended had greatly failed and this precluded the nunjah sumba sowing."

(b) Remission.

The total amount of deductions including the established remission of 12½% of the survey assessment was Rs. 3,71,110-7-9 being less by Rs. 43,785-4-10 than that allowed in the preceding year.

2. Results.*(a) Financial.

The net land revenue was Rs. 18,66,370-10-3 "being Rs. 29,386-6-3 less than the available revenue of f. 1237."

Annual Settlement

For f. 1239—Board's remarks.

24-1-1831

Government observe "that there was a falling off in the land revenue of the district to the extent of Rs. 1,53,800 and that the remissions on account of withered crops were unusually large and of doubtful necessity." In the extra sources of revenue there appears to have been an increase of Rs. 16,049.

Annual Settlement

For f. 1240—Board's remarks.

21-11-31

1. Results.*(a) Prices.

The prices of grain "were more favourable to the ryots than they have been latterly."

(b) Financial.

The land revenue amounted to Rs. 19,30,456-3-7 exceeding that of f. 1239 by Rs. 2,22,945-15-2.

2. Assessment.*(a) Calculation.*Extent of land.

The total extent taken up by the ryots was cawnis 2,59,480-3-0, the survey assessment of which was Rs. 16,90,906-13-4, falling short of the extent and survey rent of the preceding fasli by cawnis 17,451-3-0 and Rs. 1,44,200-0-0.

(b) Remissions.

The deductions amounted to Rs. 1,88,342-0-0.

Narguntee, Kulloor, Poolecherlah, etc.—Restoration—Report.

The poligars of rajbundoo and chiller inams are left to act as they would have done in ancient times but the Government have a right to interfere in case of complaints. As regards the poligars of Bungaree and Zombah, they should be taken under the charge of the Court of Wards, the first being only 8 years and the second 11 years old.

As regards the late poligar, Chendrashekhhar Nair, there are now three claimants to the estate, two sons and a grandson, "each the offspring of a different wife". The latter is, in the Collector's opinion, the legal heir.

State of affairs—Report to the Board.

1. The Bomraz or as it is denominated the Carvetnuggar zamindari, having fallen under the superintendence of the Court of Wards upon the demise of Veeracavetraz on 29th July 1828, requires a detailed statement of its history, in order that the Court of Wards might learn all its details.

2. Early history.

The ancient records were engraved on "tambra shashanums" and "seela shashanums or copper" and "stone tables", but these were lost during the wars. The family records however were preserved and they were prepared in A.D. 1814. These refer to the primary rule and the Government of the country to Chola Maharaz. He has been the King of Tondamandalam with his seat of government at Narnavarum, the chief town of the country. About A.D. 1248, the Rayaloo dynasty conquered the country and Buckroyl, its founder, built Vijayanagur or Bejanagur. The late zamindar is said to be the 149th in succession.

3. Zamindari villages.

The zamindari constitutes 777½ villages, of which 500 belong to the Sirkar and 277½ inams. At the close of the f. 1237, it yielded a revenue of Pag. 72,411½ and 82,097 cullas of grain.

4. Remission.

"If the ryot who experiences deficiency of produce (Pulnushtee) reports the same to the monigar, when he applies for permission to cut the crop, it is the duty of the monigar, curnam and ryot, etc., to inspect the crops to prepare an estimate and to report the result to the catcherry." "Should the field of a ryot yield a deficient revenue in one part, and a favourable produce throughout the remainder, or if the average appears favourable, no deduction is made for Pulnushtee." It is not customary to grant remission for totacal land.

18-11-1830 Permanent settlement—Proposals to the Collector.

The Board informs the Collector that the Government propose to issue a deed of permanent settlement for the pollam of Congoondy and wishes to be informed about the exact name and designation of the poligar and the present kistbandi according to which the peshcash is paid by the poligar.

Remission—Claim.

Combenany Jevajy Ramapa Naidoo, poligar of Congoondy, prefers a claim of a sum of St. Pag. 34,665-1-0 on account of the sayor revenue of his pollam which was sequestered in 1802 and a future remission from his peshcash to the value of the sayor, in consideration of this branch of revenue being included in the assets upon which the peshcash was originally fixed.

Mr. Roberts considers the claim inadmissible on the ground that the sayor was not included in the assets with reference to which the peshcash was fixed by Col. Read in 1792.

The Board is not prepared to admit that the poligar is entitled to remission on account of the subsequent resumption of this branch of the revenue. The Board "does not think that the Poligar can claim remission as a matter of right and considering that his assessment is light and that he has added to his revenues by the resumption of lands excluded from the resources upon which the permanent beriz was fixed, they do not consider that he has any right to expect that Government should grant the remission as a boon."

 Shaikh Muddoom's appointment approved.
 Government in their letter to the Board approve of the appointment of Shaikh Muddoom as superintendent, with the allowances in arrears from the date when the office fell vacant.
- Besha Bibi, the guardian and grandmother of the minor, filed a plaint claiming the office and salary of the superintendent, "which correspondence took place at various times relative to the right of the court of justice to interfere in the appointment to a service yeomiah, which, though in general bestowed hereditarily, is avowedly in the gift of Government."
- On the death of the last incumbent, Ibrahim Sheriff, the Zillah Judge had named one Syed Mahomed to succeed to the yeomiah, under the power vested in the Zillah Court of nominating the hereditary successor. The Provincial Court on appeal declared on 24th February 1815 that the right vested in Shaikh Muddoom, the minor, and that Meera Sheriff should execute the office for him. "This decree was between the two parties claimant and did not involve the question of the paramount right of Government." The plaint now referred to was filed against the Collector to recover possession of the yeomiah.

- 5-7-21 Transfer of control to the Collector—Interpretation of rules.
 The Board explains that the revenue and police establishments are to be blended together, and the object of the transfer is "to vest the revenue officers with those duties which were before performed by a separate establishment entertained for that purpose." No person must be employed by the Collector solely for police duties, with the exception of the huzzoor establishment, viz., an English writer, record-keeper, jevaubnevees, gomastahs and persons to administer oaths. The duty hitherto performed by police peons is to be discharged by the revenue peons and "it is expected that in an efficient revenue establishment, at least one-half of the peons now entertained by you in the police department may be discharged; the remainder must be incorporated with your revenue establishment."

- 28-9-1822 Calapalambut—Sub-Collector's objection to a dam.
 1. The Sub-Collector offers his remarks relative to the lately reconstructed condom which aids the irrigation of the lands of Calapalambut.
2. He was much inclined to order its immediate removal, in consequence of the serious loss of revenue, which, from the Revenue Surveyor's representation, appeared likely to arise to Government from its being lately rebuilt. But he considered that, before a work of this kind was destroyed, it would be proper to enquire into the rights of the mecrassdars of Calapalambut to possess this condom and also into the positive profits which will arise to Government from its reconstruction.
3. With regard to the original existence of the condom, it is a fact that on the same channel leading from the Cauverepauk tank to the Golden channel, there have existed from time immemorial 17 condoms, 8 above and 8 below Calapalambut. Of the total, only one causes the irrigation of the lands of this district. If then the lands of so many villages are irrigated by the waters of the channel, before those of Neelumbully (No. 9) can receive a drop of water, it is "against all reason" that the "reinterposition of the single one of Calapalambut should lessen the quantity of water to which the Neelumbully mecrassdars have a mamool claim." If the claims of the Calapalambut mecrassdars are denied, those of the Neelumbully mecrassdars must also fall to the ground.

4. As regards the expected profits to Government, the Revenue Surveyor has underrated them. If the condom of Neelumbully is raised, most of the obstacles now existing against the re-construction of the Calapalambut condom will be removed. It will supply "a most abundant supply of water for the irrigation of the lands of Neelumbully." The condom of Calapalambut should not be removed and the inhabitants of Neelumbully should not again interfere as they had done in f. 1226 on pain of prosecution for trespass and damages.

19-11-1823 Cullumpullumpootoor dam—Remarks of the Inspector-General of Civil Estimates.

1. The Inspector-General of Civil Estimates forwards the report of the Civil Engineer.
2. Capt. Sim states that he has personally inspected the condom or dam and made all possible enquiries. The dam in question was destroyed 70 or 80 years ago and no attempt has been made to re-establish it till 1817; hence, the opposition of the inhabitants, to the measure from the neighbouring district as being not only contrary to mamool, since the assumption of the country by the Hon'ble Company but also on account of the loss of cultivation which the villagers of Nudumbully must sustain.
3. As regards the probable profit and loss in the respective taluks, it is expected that the villages of Neddumbully, etc., in North Arcot district will sustain a total loss of Rs. 800, while the villages of Chellumpullumpootoor, etc., in the Chingleput district will get a gain of Rs. 350. The total net loss will be Rs. 450.
4. "Since the Government has undergone the expense of reconstructing the condom and as the whole extent of the advantages or disadvantages likely to accrue from the work are not yet positively determined I am disposed to recommend that it be allowed to remain for another season." "In the meantime, it will be the duty of the Civil Engineer in conjunction with the Collector of the several districts, to ascertain more distinctly if by the introduction of a sluice in the body of the work or by opening a small outlet at its extremities for supplying the lands of the village Keelavandy, the object in view can be attained, without encroaching upon what the inhabitants of Neddumbully consider their rights."

Irrigation Dispute

26-3-23 Perundoor and Podayore villages.

89

From the Assistant Collector, Chingleput, to the Magistrate of North Arcot.

The inhabitants of Perundoor have frequently complained to the Chingleput Collector of the aggressions of the inhabitants of Podayore and subsequently of the violence of the Tahsildar of Cauverypank. The Assistant Collector is prepared "to hazard an opinion that an investigation will lead to a decision that the channel in dispute and the spot where the affrays have taken place are within the lands of the village of Perundoor." He further adds, "It is by no means clear under what authority the scene of these affrays is situated, and this being the case, your investigation of the case without reference to the boundary dispute, and the eventual fining of the inhabitants of Perundoor by the Criminal Court of Chittoor has prejudiced the case in a manner very much to be regretted." "It is evident that a thorough investigation of the case must take place" and "until then, no decision should have been passed." "The fire imposed upon the inhabitants of Perundoor bears reference only to assault and by no means to the right to effect any claim to land in the channel."

Annual Settlement

23-1-1825 In f. 1233.

45

From Government to the Board.

1. Assessment.(a) Calculation.

The nature of the late season led Government to expect a great reduction in the land revenue, but the actual decrease, which amounts to Rs. 9,42,207-9-1 or about 49 per cent. on the land revenue of the previous year is even greater than was anticipated.

(b) Remission.

With reference to the sum of Rs. 3,65,527-14-0 from remission on account of the failure of crops, the explanation of the Collector is, by no means explicit, and where claims for abatement are numerous, "it is obvious that a great opening exists for fraud and embezzlement." "It is not, of course, expected that he should detail his proceedings in each particular case, but he ought, at least, to explain the general principles by which he may have regulated his enquiries and determined the extent of the abatement."

Village Service Inams

28-2-25 Restoration of.

49

From the Board.

1. Mr. Chamier states that since f. 1213 when the mauniums were resumed, portions of these mauniums have been converted from punjah into nunjah. In such cases, the rule as to what extent shall be restored will vary according to the circumstances of the case.

2. Principles of restoration.

If the land be in the same state as when it was resumed, it should be restored absolutely. If the land be improved, regard must be paid to the means by which the improvement has been made. If it has been improved at the cost of the mauniumdar while in his possession, it should be given up to him on the old terms. If it has been improved by means of water obtained from the circular reservoir, or at the circular cost, it should be subject to a rent equivalent to the usual additional assessment upon improved land. If the land remained in the hands of those other than the mauniumdar and improved by them, they should be allowed to keep it and other land should be assigned to the mauniumdar instead, equal in value to that of his maunium land before the improvement was made.

3. Right of individuals.

Mr. Chamier wants to know whether the village mauniums are to be given up to those only who perform the circular duty or whether they are to be enjoyed by all the meerassdars. It would be impossible for the Collector to assign to each his share, nor does it appear proper to portion out an official grant, intended as a recompense for service, in such a manner as to leave it insufficient as a remuneration to the person performing the service.

4. Money payment.

In villages where there are no merahs, there will generally be mauniums, but where neither is found, mauniums should be granted. Merahs cannot be imposed where they have not been usual. It is expedient to give the eurnams an interest in the cultivation, as they will then have an object in preventing concealment. The Board therefore doubts the propriety of substituting a money payment for their merahs.

Irrigation Dispute

29-11-25

Caveripauk taluk.

167

From the Collector of Chingleput.

1. The Tahsildar of Conjeevaram complains of an act of aggression on the part of the inhabitants of Tirumalperoor in the taluk of Caveripauk, in throwing a dam across the channel by which the taluks of Govindavady and other villages are supplied from the Palar.

Date.

Abstract.

2. The dispute arose from the circumstance of the channel crossing a small channel belonging to the village of Tirumalperoor, which supplies the tanks with such chance water as may come from the higher lands. The people now assert their right to the whole of the water and have thrown a dam across the new channel, by which they take the whole supply of the river water.
3. The Collector is requested to cause an examination to be made into the case and to issue orders to prevent a recurrence of the circumstance.

Zamindaris

1-8-25 Bungaree, Toomba, Narguntee, Kulloor and Poolecherla—Restoration—Board's remarks.

271

1. Claims of the creditors.

The Board approves of the rejection of the sums entered in the statement and of the parties being left to prosecute their claims in the Court of Adawlut.

2. Restoration of the pollams.

The pollams of Narguntee, Kulloor and Poolecherla should immediately be restored to the poligars' possession and the balances due to them should also be made over to them.

The poligars of Bungaree and Toomba are minors. It should be reported whether it is desirable, or whether it is the wish of the family that these estates should be taken under the management of the Court of Wards.

3. Rajahbundoo and chiller inams.

Government doubt the justice of authorizing the poligars to resume these inams, "as, if it were exercised, the poligars would need to pension the relations and dependants who enjoy the inams". Mr. Cooke misunderstood the intention of the Government and actually resumed the whole and incorporated the chiller inams among the circar lands of the pollams. Such being the case, it would be difficult at this stage to apportion them to each of the late inamdars and the poligars would undoubtedly have provided for the maintenance of such of the relations and dependants as remained alive or in their service, out of the personal allowance granted for their maintenance.

Boundary Dispute

12-5-1826 Cosavareepully and Auvelpully villages—Arbitration.
From the Sub-Collector.

35

1. Cosavareepully village belongs to Bungauree and Auvelpully to Poonganoor territories. The only satisfactory way of settling the dispute is by a communication between the Principal Collector of the district and that of Cuddapah.

2. Origin.

The late Tahsildar of Bungauree forwarded to the late Collector, Mr. Cooke, on the 29th December 1823, proposals for the rent of certain tamarind trees in Cosavareepully and reported to him that the Poonganore people were in the habit of collecting and carrying off the produce and requested that the Poonganur Rajah might be called on to interfere to prevent these aggressions. On a further representation, Mr. Cooke required the Tahsildar "to proceed to the spot and find out by whom the trees in dispute were planted and in whose charge and possession they had usually been." The Tahsildar reports that they were of spontaneous growth and that their possession, according to the mamool, was with the Bungauree people but had, for some years, been disputed by the people of Poonganoor.

3. Method of enquiry.

The documents showed two things; the one, that the bed of the Beerachervoo tank had been, for many years, circar property and the teervah oil crops growing on it had been taken into account in Bungauree; the other, that the survey of the disputed land had not been correctly made.

4. The Tahsildar suggested, as all parties agreed thereto, that "the boundary should be laid down by the ceremony of walking over the line, on oath that such line is correct." Mr. Cooke assented, but, as it appeared that the bed of the tank really was circar property, he desired that it might, at all events, be excluded from the above mode of decision. The extent of the excluded bed of the tank was then disputed. A fresh difficulty was then started on the part of the Bungauree people, who were dissatisfied with the manner in which the boundary line was marked under Mr. Cooke's orders. The Poongancor people objected to the decision by a Panchayat on the plea of the former proceedings being correct. Under the circumstances, the matter is referred to the Principal Collector for arbitration in conjunction with the Principal Collector of Cuddapah.

1. The Collector is requested to offer his opinion as to the additional facilities to persons desirous of procuring stamp paper.

2. Defects.

The number of vendors at present is too few and sundry dealers resort to places inhabited by the legal vendors, either to retail them at an advance in their villages, which is illegal, or to hoard them, and "by selling them at a time long subsequent to the date which may be entered by the stamp vendor, they facilitate forgery, to which the principal check is the comparison of the date of the sale with that of the instrument, and of the circumstances and events to which the instrument relates." The Board thinks that it is desirable that every Collector's servant of the class contemplated in Regulation IV of 1821 should be authorized to sell stamps. In accordance with the provisions of Clause 8 Section x, Regulation XIII of 1816, the vendors of stamp papers should be required to keep a day book of sales and to endorse their names with those of the purchasers and the date of the sale upon the paper.

Some objections are considered to exist to the indiscriminate appointment as licensed vendors of stamps of the whole of the class of servants contemplated by Regulation IV of 1821. In pointing out the police amins as eligible agents for carrying on the sale of stamps, the Board considers that they should be stationed in different parts of each taluk so as to be readily accessible to the purchasers. The Collector will select from the revenue police establishments including the servants employed in the salt, customs, tobacco, post office, etc., departments, the "most fit persons, to be appointed as stamp vendors." The sale would be promoted if the allowance is distributed to actual vendors.

2. The Hookeonnamah enjoins on Tahsildars to make the people cultivate to the utmost possible extent. It directs them to inform the ryots, who were driven away by famine in ff. 1233 and 1234, but who had returned and could not cultivate all the lands they formerly held, that they must pay for them, whether cultivated or not or they will be deemed to have forfeited them for ever. "Far from allowing the people the option of contracting or enlarging their farms according to their means and agricultural stock, it directs the Tahsildars to 'allot' to each such extent of land as to him may appear right upon considering his condition."
3. "It were difficult to conceive any orders less consistent with the spirit of the Board's instructions than those are." The interference which they enjoin on the part of the revenue servants should be discontinued. In a district which has been suffering so much from famine, it should be the object of the Collector to encourage those who were driven away, by kind and conciliatory measures, rather than to urge them to cultivate beyond their present reduced means, by holding out threats of depriving them of part of their lands."
- 18-8-28 4. The Collector requested the Board's instructions "as to the means to be employed for the security of the cultivation and the revenues of Government in instances when ryots refuse either to cultivate their lands or to permit the cultivation by other ryots of the village or strangers." The Board remarks that "no individual can have a right to monopolize the whole of the land of a village and at the same time pay for such part only as he thinks fit, without the consent of the officers of the Government." "His right can extend no further than the land he cultivates, and depends upon his cultivating it and paying the assessment. The other lands are free to be occupied by any persons willing to undertake their cultivation."

19-1-1829 Allowances to Zamindar—Reduction of Board's remarks.

1. The Collector's statement of charges to be allowed for the maintenance of the minor Zamindar of Bomrauz and his family and for the establishment, amounts to Rs. 4,036 per mensem or Rs. 48,432 per annum. The sum of Rs. 1,563-12-0 is proposed for the maintenance of the minor and his family and household expenses, besides Rs. 636-4-0 for the minor's private sibbendy, including the allowances proposed to be made to the guardian and his establishment, total being Rs. 2,198 per mensem or Rs. 26,376 per annum.
2. The court is of opinion that, with reference to the embarrassed state of the zamindaris every practicable retrenchment should be made. The court directs that the charge for the maintenance of the minor and his family and for his private establishment be limited to 10 per cent. on the peshcash, viz., Rs. 1,563-12-0 per mensem. The allowances of Rs. 52-8-0 to the guardian and the proposed allowance for the huzur sibbendy at Rs. 110 per mensem are sanctioned.

number.Bomrauz—cont.*2. Revenue.

The zamindari contains 777½ villages. The total demand, collection and balance are,

|---------------|----------|------|
| Demand ..     | 1,79,602 | 12½. |
| Collection .. | 1,15,372 | 12½. |
| Balance ..    | 64,229   | 15½. |

The revenues were realized partly in money and partly in grain. The number of sirkar villages are 500 and inam villages 277½. Of the 500 sirkar villages, 462 are stated to have been kept under aumany and 38 rented.

3. Establishment.

The amount of salary paid to the zamindar's sibbendy for f. 1237 was Rs. 5,369-4-3 per mensem and the number of persons was 1,434. The amount proposed for f. 1238 is Rs. 2,326-4-0 per mensem and the number of persons is 334. The increase in the revenue sibbendy and saderward is Rs. 410-10-0 and the decrease in the expenditure on account of the guardian or private sibbendy is Rs. 36,926-13-0. The net decrease is Rs. 36,516-3-0.

1. Comparative statement.

The settlement for f. 1237 was Rs. 4,55,918-1-10. The total collection was Rs. 4,51,030-12-2. The balance on 12th July 1828 was Rs. 4,887-5-8.

The settlement for f. 1238 was Rs. 5,06,790-9-2, total collection Rs. 5,05,624-4-10 and the balance on the 12th July 1829, Rs. 1,166-4-4.

The settlement as compared with that of f. 1237, shows a total decrease of Rs. 8,530-0-5 and a total increase of Rs. 59,402-7-9. The collections as compared with those of f. 1237, show a decrease of Rs. 8,530-0-5 and an increase of Rs. 63,123-9-1.

Zamindar's debts—Statement—Board's remarks.

Out of the total debts of Rs. 6,51,496-0-2½, those for which villages are mortgaged amount to Rs. 3,74,090-14-7. The number of villages is 77 and the amount of beriz for f. 1238 is Rs. 61,186-5-0. The 77 villages have been resumed on the ground that without them the estate cannot pay the circar pesheash. The collections of the whole zamindari for f. 1237 amounted to Rs. 4,03,802, the average collection of the seven preceding years being Rs. 3,30,032-8-0, "it was to be expected that, exclusive of the mortgaged villages, the zamindari under circar management would yield a revenue much more than sufficient to pay the pesheash, the amount of which is Rs. 1,87,663 and all necessary charges." But, if, on the other hand, the collections from the rest of the zamindari are found to be inadequate, still it is to be presumed that the whole revenue of the mortgaged villages will not be required to make good the deficiency. The Collector should state what is to be done with the surplus and whether the mortgagees have not got "a preferable claim to those creditors whose debts are secured by a simple bond." The Collector is requested to state whether, in respect of the mortgaged jewels, the family approves of the course proposed by him, for the sale on condition of their claims being first satisfied from the proceeds.

1. Assessment.

Calculation.

Extent of land.

The zamindari contains about 20,54,343 goontahs of land, of which 2,60,178 goontahs are inams. Of the remainder, 6,76,627 goontahs of sircar lands were cultivated during the year.

Sharing of crop and commutation.

The settlement was partly teerwaput or in money, and partly waraput or in kind.

Outturn.

The total assessment was Rs. 2,35,568-2-1 but the usual remissions having been allowed, the amount was reduced to Rs. 2,17,065-9-6. The revenue derived from other sources amounted to Rs. 97,246-0-10 and made the total demand of the year Rs. 3,14,311-10-4.

2. Collection.

Of the above, current demand of Rs. 2,78,610 was collected within the fasli by the Principal Collector, Rs. 9,831-6-1 by the zamindar previous to the country coming under the Circar, leaving a balance of Rs. 24,790-9-6 outstanding at the close of the fasli. Of this balance, a sum of Rs. 18,609-10-2 had been collected at the end of December.

His Highness, on the occasion of his pilgrimage to Benares, passed through the Bomraz country, and then made the acquaintance of this zamindar. His Highness stated that he knew nothing of the Bomraz family before, but that they had then shown him great civility. The Resident instructed His Highness to acknowledge the letter with civility but to dismiss the messenger, as he had been sent without his previous knowledge or concurrence. He also informed His Highness that he should not hold any correspondence with any native prince without the knowledge of the Government.
2. Government request the Board to instruct the Collector to warn the Zamindar of Bomraz "that he is not permitted to enter into communication of any kind with any native prince at whose court there may be a British Resident, without the previous sanction of Government and that a repetition of the irregularities now noticed will subject him to the severe displeasure of the Government."

12-3-1818 Grants of land—Collector's remarks.
To the Board.

1. The Collector, Mr. H. S. Græme, offers his opinion in respect of the grant of land for constructing tanks and watercourses, etc., under the dusavandum regulation.
2. The grants are an advantage to Government even if nothing is done by grantees more than constructing the tank. It saves them the original expense and they only continue to repair even if the tank by the neglect of the grantee falls into their hands. There can be no speculation before the tank is constructed, as nothing is advanced or laid by Government. There is no better mode of expending the public money than assisting by advances any respectable persons inclined to enter into these speculations, on the security for repayment within a certain time.
3. The fourth part of the land, according to the "Chuckbundy" account (i.e., the original account of the extent estimated to be likely to be cultivated), will be placed in the actual possession of the duswandum grantee, and should the whole of the sircar land be cultivated, then the grantee will be entitled to the full produce of his duswandum land free of rent and all demand whatever. "But, should the sircar land, from a deficiency of water or other cause, not be cultivated to its complete extent, then the duswandum fourth shall be calculated upon the actual extent of the sircar cultivation and the duswandum holder will pay a rent for all excess of land cultivated beyond his proportion." The restriction to one-fourth of the actual extent of land cultivated every year and the assessment on all excess, seem necessary to prevent the heads of the villages having an undue influence on the irrigation or apportioning an unreasonable quantity of duswandum tenure.
4. The duswandum holder will have no claim, however, to remission on account of a deficient cultivation of his duswandum, unless the deficiency should fall short of his proportion to the whole cultivation and occasioned by the proportionate share of water not having been allowed to him, when it will be made good by the Sircar.
5. If the tank is not kept in repair, the duswandum will be liable to resumption by the Collector and the repair will be made out of the produce.

Dasabandham Inams

6-4-1835 Collector's report.

Mr. C. Ross, Collector, replies to the Board's circular, dated 6th November last.

1. The dusbandum inams, both for tanks and watercourses, were very generally granted during the Nabob's government. The inamdar who have no sunnads to show assert that ¼ of the land situated under each tank cultivated by them or by their ancestors, was granted. The intention appears to be to give them ¼ of the extent actually cultivated annually, and not a specific quantity of land, otherwise, the inam would, in unfavourable seasons, be entirely cultivated with the reduced supply in the reservoirs, leaving a large portion of the remaining ¾ uncultivated. The rules now issued expressly state that the dusbandum share shall be ¼th of the land cultivated. "The rules proposed by the Board are in unison with the practice of Dusbandum inams granted in the district."

Date.

Abstract.

2. No inams have hitherto been granted for wells and none has been instructed in the district but the principle is good and may be acted upon. In 1810, Mr Græme notified that the ryots were permitted to convert poonja into totacal, if irrigated by wells constructed by individuals, and assured that poonja assessment alone on such lands would be levied. This permission has, since the return to the ryotwar system, been erroneously extended to poonja converted into nunja by such wells, which is at variance with Mr Græme's instructions. There was no prohibition to the excavation of wells on spots in the vicinity of springs and channels, irrigating nunjah lands. The effect would be that springs would be considerably reduced by the excavation of wells and then render the latter description of land, nunjah waste. "I have deemed it advisable to prohibit the excavation of wells in positions by which the irrigation of spring channels would be impaired."

1. The taluks of Chittoor and Tripetty have been transferred to the Sub-Collector in lieu of Cauteypauk and Trivellum, making his superintendence to comprise the taluks of Chittoor, Tripetty, Sholingur and Suttavaid. His headquarters would be at Chittoor.
2. The Tahsildar should be directed to make immediate and direct communication with the Sub-Collector on every point connected with the various details of land revenue management and to be guided by his orders. The Sub-Collector will report to the Collector monthly by a public letter, the nature of the duties on which he had been employed for such period and the state of the revenues of the taluks, during the month.
3. In order to secure the tanks in an efficient state of repair, it is suggested that each reservoir for which the Tahsildar transmits estimates should receive a personal inspection from him.
4. His magisterial duties will extend over the whole of his revenue jurisdiction.
