With these figures before me I am not disposed further to increase the burden on the taxpayers of the country for the maintenance and operation of the Postal Service, especially in view of the very substantial increases in pay given postal employees under the so-called postal reclassification act, approved February 28, 1925. Moreover, it is my understanding that a proposal to establish a night-work differential was considered by the proper committees of Congress in connection with the reclassification legislation, and eliminated by them because of the substantial flat-rate increases in pay that had already been agreed to and which were subsequently included in the reclassification act. If night work in the Postal Service has any basis whatever for a differential in pay, the action of the committees referred to would indicate that the present pay schedules include it.

It should be recalled that the postal-pay increases which I approved caused an increase in the Budget for 1928 of about $85,000,000. Every committee that approached me urged that this increase be granted because of certain night work that was involved in the duties of the postal clerks. It is well known that the pay received by those so employed is in excess of that which is paid for corresponding work in private enterprise. While I believe in good wages, they can only be advanced as our economic position improves. The burdens of the war debt have to be borne by all our people. The almost irresistible tendency of Government expenditure is to mount higher and higher. All incurred. The officials of the Government who are charged with the conduct of its affairs ought not to yield to constant and organized clamor for increases in pay, unless they are justified by the clearest evidence.

THE WHITE HOUSE, May 18, 1928.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

On motion of Mr. LA GUARDIA, consideration of the said message was postponed until Tuesday next.

ALLOWANCES FOR RENT, ETC., FOURTH-CLASS POSTMASTERS

The SPEAKER laid before the House a message from the President, which was read, as follows:

To the House of Representatives:

Herewith is returned, without approval, H. R. 7900, a bill granting allowances for rent, fuel, light, and equipment to postmasters of the fourth class, and for other purposes.

The bill would necessitate an increase of approximately $2,865,000 in the annual postal expenditures, based upon the aggregate compensation of postmasters of the fourth class for the fiscal year 1927. This amount would be increased or decreased as the compensation of postmasters for the fiscal year 1929 increases or decreases.

It is well known that fourth-class post offices are generally carried on in connection with the private business of the postmasters, usually in country stores, and are regarded as beneficial to the business. The space occupied is ordinarily insignificant and the location of the post office in the storerooms seldom involves additional expense for rent, light, and fuel.

The compensation of postmasters of the fourth class was materially increased by the act of June 5, 1920; again by the act of July 21, 1921; and again by the act approved February 28, 1925. In the debates preceding the passage of these acts the fact that postmasters at offices of the fourth class are required to furnish at their own expense quarters, including light and fuel, was brought out. It is not improbable, therefore, that part of the increase in compensation granted by these acts was due to the fact that the postmasters are required to furnish these facilities.

I believe that postmasters of fourth-class post offices are now reasonably compensated and, therefore, am not in favor of the additional compensation which this bill provides for.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

THE WHITE HOUSE, May 18, 1928.

Mr. LA GUARDIA moved that the consideration of the message be postponed until Tuesday next.

The question being put, Will the House postpone until Tuesday next the consideration of the said President's message?

On a division there appeared—yeas 138, nays 53. So, the motion was agreed to.

(b) The term "addict" means any person who habitually uses any habit-forming narcotic drug as defined in this act so as to endanger the public morals, health, safety, or welfare, or who is or has been so far addicted to the use of such habit-forming narcotic drugs as to have lost the power of self-control with reference to his addiction.

Sec. 2. That the Attorney General, the Secretary of the Treasury, and the Secretary of War be, and are hereby, authorized and directed to select sites for two institutions for the confinement and treatment of persons who have been or shall be convicted of offenses against the United States, including persons convicted by general courts-martial and consular courts, and who are addicted to the use of habit-forming narcotic drugs, and for the confinement and treatment of addicts who voluntarily submit themselves for treatment.

Sec. 3. That upon selection of appropriate sites the Secretary of the Treasury shall submit to Congress estimates of the cost of purchasing same, together with estimates of the expense necessary to construct the proper buildings thereon. The Secretary of the Treasury at the same time, and annually thereafter, shall submit estimates in detail for all expenses of maintaining the said United States narcotic farms, including salaries of all necessary officers and employees.

Sec. 4. That the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to cause the plans, drawings, designs, specifications, and estimates for the remodeling or construction of the necessary buildings to be prepared in the office of the Supervising Architect, Treasury Department, and the work of remodeling or constructing the said buildings to be supervised by the field force of said office: Provided, That the proper appropriations for the support and maintenance of the office of the Supervising Architect be reimbursed for the cost of preparing such plans, drawings, designs, specifications, and estimates for the aforesaid work and the supervision of the remodeling and construction of said buildings.

Sec. 5. That the control and management of the United States narcotic farms shall be vested in the Secretary of the Treasury, who shall have power to appoint competent superintendents, assistant superintendents, physicians, pharmacists, psychologists, nurses, and all other officers and employees necessary for the safe-keeping, care, protection, treatment, and discipline of the inmates. Sec. 6. That the care, discipline, and treatment of the persons admitted to or confined in a United States narcotic farm shall be designed to rehabilitate them, restore them to health, and where necessary train them to be self-supporting and self-reliant. For this purpose the Secretary of the Treasury shall have authority to promulgate all necessary rules and regulations for the government of the officers and inmates of said United States narcotic farms. The Surgeon General of the Bureau of the Public Health Service shall also give the authorized representatives of each State the benefit of his experience in the administration of said United States narcotic farms and the treatment of persons confined therein through the publication and dissemination of information on methods of treatment and research in this field, together with individual and group case histories, to the end that each State may be encouraged to provide similar facilities for the care and treatment of narcotic addicts within their own jurisdiction.

Sec. 7. That the authority vested with the power to designate the place of confinement of a prisoner is hereby authorized and directed to transfer to the United States narcotic farms, as accommodations become available, all addicts, as herein defined, who are now or shall hereafter be sentenced to confinement in or be confined in any penal, correctional, disciplinary, or reformatory institution of the United States, including those addicts convicted or offenders against the United States who are confined in State and Territorial prisons, penitentiaries, and reformatories: Provided, That no addict shall be transferred to a United States narcotic farm who, in the opinion of the officer authorized to direct the transfer, is not a proper subject for confinement in such an institution either because of the nature of the crime he has committed, or his apparent incorrigibility. The authority vested with the power to designate the place of confinement of a prisoner is authorized to transfer from a United States narcotic farm to the institution from which he was received, or to such other institution as may be designated by the proper authority, any addict whose presence at a United States narcotic farm is detrimental to the well-being of the institution, or who does not continue to be a narcotic addict under the terms of this act. All transfers to or from a narcotic farm shall be made by the officer in charge of such farm, and the actual and necessary expenses incident to such transfers shall be paid from the appropriation for the maintenance of such farm.

Sec. 8. That it shall be the duty of each prosecuting officer, when sentence is pronounced, to report to the authority vested with the power to designate the place of confinement the name of each convicted person believed by him to be an addict, as herein defined, his reasons for such belief, and all pertinent facts bearing on such addiction, together with the nature of the offense.

Sec. 9. That the inmates of said narcotic farms shall be employed in such manner and under such conditions as the Secretary of the Treasury may direct. The Secretary of the Treasury may, in his discretion, establish industries, plants, factories, or shops for the manufacture of articles, commodities, and supplies for the United States Government; require any Government department or establishment or other institution appropriated for directly or indirectly by the Congress of the United States to purchase at current market prices, as determined by the Secretary of the Treasury, or his authorized representative, such articles, commodities, or supplies as meet their specifications; and the Secretary of the Treasury shall provide for the payment to the inmates or their dependents such pecuniary earnings as he may deem proper, and establish a working-capital fund for said industries out of any funds appropriated for said narcotic farms; and said working-capital fund shall be available for the purchase, repair, or replacement of machinery or equipment, for the purchase of raw materials and supplies, and for the employment of necessary civilian officers and employees: Provided, That at the opening of each regular session of Congress the Secretary of the Treasury shall make a detailed report to Congress of the receipts and expenditures made from said working-capital fund.

Sec. 10. That any inmate of said narcotic farms or any narcotic addict confined in any institution convicted of an offense against the United States shall not be eligible for parole under sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 of the act of Congress approved June 25, 1910, being an act to provide for the parole of United States prisoners, and for other purposes, or under the provisions of any act or regulation relating to parole, or receive any commutation allowance for good conduct in accordance with the provisions of the act of Congress approved June 21, 1902, and entitled "An act to regulate commutation for good conduct for United States prisoners," and the acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, unless and until the Surgeon General of the Bureau of the Public Health Service shall have certified that said inmate is no longer a narcotic addict as defined by this act. When such certificate shall have been made, the board of parole of the penal, correctional, disciplinary, or reformatory institution from which such former addict was transferred may authorize his release on parole without transfer back to such institution.

Sec. 11. That not later than one month prior to the expiration of the sentence of any addict confined in a United States narcotic farm, he shall be examined by the Surgeon General of the Bureau of the Public Health Service or his authorized representative. If he believes the person to be discharged is still an addict within the meaning of this act and that he may by further treatment in a United States narcotic farm be cured of his addiction, the addict shall be informed, under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may promulgate, of the advisability of his submitting himself to further treatment. The addict may then apply in writing to the Secretary of the Treasury for further treatment in a United States narcotic farm for a period not exceeding the maximum length of time considered necessary by the Surgeon General of the Bureau of the Public Health Service. Upon approval of the application by the Secretary of the Treasury or his authorized agent, the addict may be given such further treatment as is necessary to cure him of his addiction: Provided, That if any addict voluntarily submits himself to treatment he may be confined in a United States narcotic farm for a period not exceeding the maximum amount of time estimated by the Surgeon General of the Bureau of the Public Health Service as necessary to effect a cure or until he ceases to be an addict within the meaning of this act.

Sec. 12. That any person, except an unconvicted alien, addicted to the use of habit-forming narcotic drugs, whether or not he shall have been convicted of an offense against the United States, may apply to the Secretary of the Treasury or his authorized representative for admission to a United States narcotic farm.

Any such addict shall be examined by the Surgeon General of the Bureau of the Public Health Service or his authorized agent, who shall report to the Secretary of the Treasury whether the applicant is an addict within the meaning of this act; whether he believes he may by treatment in a United States narcotic farm be cured of his addiction and the estimated length of time necessary to effect a cure, and any further pertinent information bearing on the addition, habits, or character of the applicant. The Secretary of the Treasury may, in his discretion, admit the applicant to a United States narcotic farm. No such addict shall be admitted unless he voluntarily submits to treatment for the maximum amount of time estimated by the Surgeon General of the Bureau of the Public Health Service as necessary to effect a cure, and unless suitable accommodations are available after all eligible addicts convicted of offenses against the United States have been admitted. The Secretary of the Treasury may require any such addict voluntarily applying to pay the cost of his subsistence, care, and treatment. All such money shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States to the credit of the appropriation from which the expenditure was made: Provided, That if any addict voluntarily submits himself to treatment he may be confined in a United States narcotic farm for a period not exceeding the maximum amount of time estimated by the Surgeon General of the Bureau of the Public Health Service as necessary to effect a cure of the addiction or until he ceases to be an addict within the meaning of this act: And provided further, That any person who voluntarily submits himself for treatment at a United States narcotic farm shall not forfeit or abridge thereby any of his rights as a citizen of the United States; nor shall such submission be used against him in any proceeding in any court, and that the record of his voluntary commitment shall be confidential and not divulged.

Sec. 13. Every person convicted of an offense against the United States shall upon discharge, or upon his release on parole, from a United States narcotic farm be furnished with the gratuities and transportation authorized by law to be furnished him his discharge or release from the penal, correctional, disciplinary, or reformatory institution to which he was sentenced or from which he was transferred.

Any court of the United States having the power to suspend the imposition or execution of sentence, and place defendants on probation under any of the existing laws, may impose as one of the conditions of such probation that the defendant, if an addict, as herein defined, shall be admitted and submit himself for treatment at a United States narcotic farm until discharged therefrom as cured. Upon the discharge of any such probationer from a United States narcotic farm, he shall be furnished with the gratuities and transportation authorized to be furnished by the act of July 3, 1926, entitled "An act to increase the clothing and cash gratuities furnished to persons discharged from prisons." The actual and necessary expense incident to such transportation and gratuities shall be paid from the appropriation for the maintenance of such farm: Provided, That where existing law vests a discretion in any officer as to the place to which transportation shall be furnished or as to the amount of clothing and gratuities to be furnished, such discretion shall be exercised by the Secretary of the Treasury with respect to addicts discharged from United States narcotic farms.

Sec. 14. Any person not authorized by law or by the Secretary of the Treasury who introduces or attempts to introduce into a United States narcotic farm or within the grounds adjoining or adjacent thereto any habit-forming narcotic drugs as defined in this act is guilty of a felony, and is punishable by confinement in the penitentiary for a period of not more than ten years.

Sec. 15. It shall be unlawful for any person properly committed thereto to escape or attempt to escape from a narcotic farm, and any such person upon apprehension and conviction in farm, and any such person shall be punished by imprisonment for a United States court shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than five years, such sentence to begin upon the expiration of the sentence for which said person was originally confined.

Sec. 16. It shall be unlawful for any person to procure the escape of any inmate properly committed to a narcotic farm or to advise, connive at, aid, or assist in such escape, or conceal any such inmate after such escape, and upon conviction in the United States court shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary for not more than three years.

Sec. 17. Wherever an alien addict has been transferred to either of the United States narcotic farms provided for in this act, who is entitled to his discharge but is subject to deportation in lieu of being returned to the penal institution from which he came, he shall be deported by the authority vested by law with power over deportations.

EMERGENCY OFFICERS

The SPEAKER laid before the House a message from the Senate, which was read, as follows:

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES,
May 24 (legislative day of May 3), 1928.

The President of the United States having returned to the Senate, in which it originated, the bill (S. 777) entitled "An act making eligible for retirement, under certain conditions, officers and former officers of the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps of the United States other than officers of the Regular Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, who incurred physical disability in line of duty while in the service of the United States during the World War," with his objections thereto, the Senate proceeded in pursuance of the Constitution to reconsider the same and resolved that the bill do pass, two-thirds of the Senate agreeing to pass the same.

The SPEAKER then laid before the House the said veto message of the President, which was read, as follows:

To the Senate:

Herewith is returned, without approval, S. 777, a bill making eligible for retirement, under certain conditions, officers and former officers of the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps of the United States, other than officers of the Regular Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, who incurred physical disability in line of duty while in the service of the United States during the World War.

This bill provides, among other things, that those who served as emergency officers of the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps during the World War and who during such service had incurred physical disability in line of duty, and who have been, or may hereafter, within one year, be rated in accordance with law at not less than 30 per cent permanent disability resulting directly from such war service, shall be placed upon an emergency officers' retired list, and shall receive retired pay at the rate of 75 per cent of the pay to which they were entitled at the time of their discharge from their commissioned service, except pay under the act of May 18, 1920.

What this bill proposes is to compensate a limited number of emergency officers not according to their disability but according to the rank which they held in the World War. It breaches the fundamental principles of our Government to compensate service, not rank. The policy which this bill proposes for the compensation of a limited number of disabled emergency officers is wrong. Aside from this, the bill discriminates against emergency officers of less than 30 per cent disability and all disabled enlisted men of the World War in favor of a limited number of disabled officers.

The most sacred duty of our citizenry is to enroll in the defense of their country in time of need. It is the proud record of our Nation that the sacredness of this duty has been recognized by all of the people at all times. When the emergency of the World War confronted us one of our great needs was an expansion of our regular military and naval services. Proper organization required that the expansion for the emergency be in commissioned officers and enlisted men. Both the commissioned officer and the enlisted man who entered the service for this emergency were serving in the same duty—the defense of their country. In this there was and could be no distinction between the two. There was no distinction as to the duration of their service.

We recognized no distinction in framing our laws for the care and benefit of those who were disabled. Under them both officer and enlisted man are treated alike. Their dependents are treated alike. We willingly and gladly recognized the merit of service, but we carefully guarded against the recognition of the rank or grade held during that service.

This Nation has pledged itself to care for the disabled of our World War veterans and their dependents. That pledge has and will be kept. No soldiers in history have been so bounteously cared for as we have cared for our veterans of the World War. If further aid is needed, it should be bestowed not by changing the policy of our Government, as is proposed in this bill, but by continuing that policy so that it will continue to apply alike to all disabled veterans of the World War.

In the perpetuation of our present policy the Nation will be secure. Full justice will be accorded alike to our veterans of the World War and to the other taxpayers of the country. This bill would practically double the cost of the compensation of the 3,297 emergency officers who are now 30 per cent or more disabled. Their present compensation amounts to $2,874,000 per annum, while the cost under this bill would be $5,204,000. This gives some idea of the immediate cost of the policy which this bill proposes. Once adopted, that policy will open the door to a flood of expenditures that will likely surpass anything of the kind that we have yet experienced. It will at once be apparent that it is a gross discrimination against the enlisted men. It will be difficult to make any answer to their demand for like treatment. If such a request were granted the cost would be so great as to make it practically impossible to provide our country with national defense.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

THE WHITE HOUSE, May 22, 1928.

On motion of Mr. JOHNSON of South Dakota, the previous question was ordered on the passage of the bill over the President's veto.

The board shall organize by electing a chairman, vice chairman, and other officers, agents, and employees, and shall proceed to carry out the provisions of this act.

(b) The terms of office of the members first taking office after the approval of this act shall expire as designated by the President at the time of nomination, one at the end of the second year, one at the end of the fourth year, and one at the end of the sixth year, after the date of approval of this act. A successor to a member of the board shall be appointed in the same manner as the original members and shall have a term of office expiring six years from the date of the expiration of the term for which his predecessor was appointed.

(c) Any member appointed to fill a vacancy in the board occurring prior to the expiration of the term for which his predecessor was appointed shall be appointed for the remainder of such term.

(d) Vacancies in the board so long as there shall be two members in office shall not impair the powers of the board to execute the functions of the corporation, and two of the members in office shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of the business of the board.

(e) Each of the members of the board shall be a citizen of the United States, and shall receive compensation at the rate of $50 per day for each day that he shall be actually engaged in the performance of the duties vested in the board, to be paid by the corporation as current expenses, not to exceed, however, one hundred and fifty days for the first year after the date of the approval of this act, and not to exceed one hundred days in any year thereafter. Members of the board shall be reimbursed by the corporation for actual expenses (including traveling and subsistence expenses) incurred by them while in the performance of the duties vested in the board by this act.

(f) No director shall have any financial interest in any public utility corporation engaged in the business of distributing and selling power to the public nor in any corporation engaged in the manufacture, selling, or distribution of fixed nitrogen, or any ingredients thereof, nor shall any member have any interest in any business that may be adversely affected by the success of the Muscle Shoals project as a producer of concentrated fertilizers.

(g) The board shall direct the exercise of all the powers of the corporation.

(h) All members of the board shall be persons that profess a belief in the feasibility and wisdom, having in view the national defense and the encouragement of interstate commerce, of producing fixed nitrogen under this act of such kinds and at such prices as to induce the reasonable expectation that the farmers will buy said products, and that by reason thereof the corporation may be a self-sustaining and continuing success.

Sec. 3. (a) The chief executive officer of the corporation shall be a general manager, who shall be responsible to the board for the efficient conduct of the business of the corporation. The board shall appoint the general manager, and shall select a man for such appointment who has demonstrated his capacity as a business executive. The general manager shall be appointed to hold office for ten years, but he may be removed by the board for cause, and his term of office shall end upon repeal of this act, or by amendment thereof expressly providing for the termination of his office. Should the office of general manager become vacant for any reason, the board shall appoint his successor as herein provided.

(b) The general manager shall appoint, with this advice and consent of the board, two assistant managers who shall be responsible to him, and through him, to the board. One of the assistant managers shall be a man possessed of knowledge, training, and experience to render him competent and expert in the production of fixed nitrogen. The other assistant manager shall be a man trained and experienced in the field of production and distribution of hydroelectric power. The general manager may at any time, for cause, remove any assistant manager, and appoint his successor as above provided. He shall immediately thereafter make a report of such action to the board, giving in detail the reason therefor. He shall employ, with the approval of the board, all other agents, clerks, attorneys, employees, and laborers.

(c) The combined salaries of the general manager and the assistant managers shall not exceed the sum of $50,000 per annum, to be apportioned and fixed by the board.

Sec. 4. Except as otherwise specifically provided in this act, the corporation—

- (a) Shall have succession in its corporate name.
- (b) May sue and be sued in its corporate name, but only for the enforcement of contracts and the defense of property.
- (c) May adopt and use a corporate seal, which shall be judicially noticed.
- (d) May make contracts, but only as herein authorized.
- (e) May adopt, amend, and repeal by-laws.
- (f) May purchase or lease and hold such personal property as it deems necessary or convenient in the transaction of its business and may dispose of any such personal property held by it.
- (g) May appoint such officers, employees, attorneys, and agents as are necessary for the transaction of its business, fix their compensation, define generally their duties, require bonds of them and fix the penalties thereof, and dismiss at pleasure any such officer, employee, attorney, or agent, and provide a system of organization to fix responsibility and promote efficiency.

(h) The board shall require that the general manager and the two assistant managers, the secretary and the treasurer, the bookkeeper or bookkeepers, and such other administrative and executive officers as the board may see fit to include, shall execute and file before entering upon their several offices good and sufficient surety bonds, in such amount and with such surety as the board shall approve.

(i) Shall have all such powers as may be necessary or appropriate for the exercise of the powers herein specifically conferred upon the corporation, including the right to exercise the power of eminent domain.

Sec. 5. The board is hereby authorized and directed—

- (a) To operate existing plants for experimental purposes, to construct, maintain, and operate experimental plants at or near Muscle Shoals for the manufacture of fertilizer or any of the ingredients comprising fertilizer for experimental purposes.

- (b) To contract with commercial producers for the production of such fertilizers or fertilizer materials as may be needed in the Government's program of development and introduction in excess of that produced by Government plants. Such contracts may provide either for outright purchase by the Government or only for the payment of carrying charges on special materials manufactured at the Government's request for its program.

- (c) To arrange with farmers and farm organizations for large-scale practical use of the new forms of fertilizers under conditions permitting an accurate measure of the economic return they produce.

- (d) To cooperate with national, State, district, or county experimental stations or demonstration farms, for the use of new forms of fertilizer or fertilizer practices during the initial or experimental period of their introduction;

- (e) The board shall manufacture fixed nitrogen at Muscle Shoals by the employment of existing facilities (by modernizing existing plants), or by any other process or processes that in its judgment shall appear wise and profitable for the fixation of atmospheric nitrogen. The fixed nitrogen provided for in this act shall be in such form and in combination with such other ingredients as shall make such nitrogen immediately available and practical for use by farmers in application to soil and crops.

- (f) Under the authority of this act the board may donate not exceeding 1 per centum of the total product of the plant or plants operated by it to be fairly and equitably distributed through the agency of county demonstration agents, agricultural colleges, or otherwise as the board may direct for experimentation, education, and introduction of the use of such products in cooperation with practical farmers so as to obtain information as to the value, effect, and best methods of use of same.

- (g) The board is authorized to make alterations, modifications, or improvements in existing plants and facilities.

- (h) To establish, maintain, and operate laboratories and experimental plants, and to undertake experiments for the purpose of enabling the corporation to furnish nitrogen products for military and agricultural purposes in the most economical manner and at the highest standard of efficiency.

- (i) The board shall have power to request the assistance and advice of any officer, agent, or employee of any executive department or of any independent office of the United States, to enable the corporation the better to carry out its powers successfully, and the President shall, if in his opinion the public interest, service, and economy so require, direct that such assistance, advice, and service be rendered to the corporation, and any individual that may be by the President directed to render such assistance, advice, and service shall be thereafter subject to the orders, rules, and regulations of the board and of the general manager.

- (j) Upon the requisition of the Secretary of War or the Secretary of the Navy to manufacture for and sell at cost to the United States explosives or their nitrogenous content.

- (k) Upon the requisition of the Secretary of War the corporation shall allot and deliver without charge to the War Department so much power as shall be necessary in the judgment of said department for use in operation at all locks, lifts, or other facilities in aid of navigation.

- (l) To produce, distribute, and sell electric power, as herein particularly specified.

- (m) No products of the corporation shall be sold for use outside of the United States, her Territories and possessions, except to the United States Government for the use of its Army and Navy or to its allies in case of war.

Sec. 6. In order to enable the corporation to exercise the powers vested in it by this act—

- (a) The exclusive use, possession, and control of the United States nitrate plants numbered 1 and 2, located, respectively, at Sheffield, Alabama, and Muscle Shoals, Alabama, together with all real estate and buildings connected therewith, all tools and machinery, equipment, accessories, and materials belonging thereto, and all laboratories and plants used as auxiliaries thereto; the fixed-nitrogen research laboratory, the Waco limestone quarry in Alabama, and Dam Numbered 2, located at Muscle Shoals, its power house, and all hydroelectric and operating appurtenances (except the locks), and all machinery, lands, and buildings in connection therewith, and all appurtenances thereof are hereby intrusted to the corporation for the purposes of this act.

- (b) The President of the United States is authorized to provide for the transfer to the corporation of the use, possession, and control of such other real or personal property of the United States as he may from time to time deem necessary and proper for the purposes of the corporation as herein stated.

Sec. 7. (a) The corporation shall maintain its principal office in the immediate vicinity of Muscle Shoals, Alabama. The corporation shall be held to be an inhabitant and resident of the northern judicial district of Alabama within the meaning of the laws of the United States relating to venue of civil suits.

- (b) The corporation shall at all times maintain complete and accurate books of accounts.

Sec. 8. (a) The board shall file with the President and with the Congress, in December of each year, a financial statement and a complete report as to the business of the corporation covering the preceding fiscal year. This report shall include the total number of employees and the names, salaries, and duties of those receiving compensation at the rate of more than $2,500 a year.

- (b) The board shall require a careful and scrutinizing audit and accounting by the General Accounting Office during each governmental fiscal year of operation under this act, and said audit shall be open to inspection to the public at all times and copies thereof shall be filed in the principal office of the Muscle Shoals Corporation at Muscle Shoals in the State of Alabama. Once during each fiscal year the President of the United States shall have power, and it shall be his duty, upon the written request of at least two members of the board, to appoint a firm of certified public accountants of his own choice and selection which shall have free and open access to all books, accounts, plants, warehouses, offices, and all other places, and records, belonging to or under the control of or used by the corporation in connection with the business authorized by this act. And the expenses of such audit so directed by the President shall be paid by the board and charged as part of the operating expenses of the corporation.

Sec. 9. The board is hereby empowered and authorized to sell the surplus power not used in its operations and for operation of locks and other works generated at said steam plant and said dam to States, counties, municipalities, corporations, partnerships, or individuals, according to the policies hereinafter set forth; and to carry out said authority the board is authorized to enter into contracts for such sale for a term not exceeding ten years. And in the sale of such current by the board it shall give preference to States, counties, or municipalities purchasing said current for distribution to citizens and customers.

Sec. 10. It is hereby declared to be the policy of the Government to distribute the surplus power generated at Muscle Shoals equitably among the States within transmission distance of Muscle Shoals.

Sec. 11. In order to place the board upon a fair basis for making such contracts and for receiving bids for the sale of such power it is hereby expressly authorized, either from appropriations made by Congress or from funds secured from the sale of such power, to construct, lease, or authorize the construction of transmission lines within transmission distance in any direction from said Dam Numbered 2 and said steam plant: Provided, That if any State, county, municipality, or other public or cooperative organization of citizens or farmers, not organized or doing business for profit, but for the purpose of supplying electricity to its own citizens or members, or any two or more of such municipalities or organizations, shall construct or agree to construct a transmission line to Muscle Shoals, the board is hereby authorized and directed to contract with such State, county, municipality, or other organization, or two or more of them, for the sale of electricity for a term not exceeding fifteen years, and in any such case the board shall give to such State, county, municipality, or other organization ample time to fully comply with any local law now in existence or hereafter enacted providing for the necessary legal authority for such sale with the board for such power: And provided further, That any surplus power not so sold as above provided to States, counties, municipalities, or other said organizations, before the board shall sell the same to any person or corporation engaged in the distribution and resale of electricity for profit, it shall require said person or corporation to agree that any resale of such electric power by said person or corporation shall be sold to the ultimate consumer of such electric power at a price that shall not exceed an amount fixed as reasonable, just, and fair by the Federal Power Commission; and in case of any such sale if an amount is charged the ultimate consumer which is in excess of the price so deemed to be just, reasonable, and fair by the Federal Power Commission, the contract for such sale between the board and such distributor of electricity shall be declared null and void and the same shall be canceled by the board.

Sec. 12. The net proceeds derived by the board from the sale of power and any of the products manufactured by the corporation, after deducting the cost of operation, maintenance, depreciation, and an amount deemed by the board as necessary to withhold as operating capital, shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States at the end of each calendar year.

Sec. 13. The Secretary of War is hereby empowered and directed to complete Dam Numbered 2 at Muscle Shoals, Alabama, and the steam plant at nitrate plant numbered 2 in the vicinity of Muscle Shoals, by installing in Dam Numbered 2 the additional power units according to the plans and specifications of said dam, and the additional power unit in the steam plant at nitrate plant numbered 2: Provided, That the Secretary of War shall not install the additional power unit in said steam plant until, after investigation, he shall be satisfied that the foundation of said steam plant is sufficiently stable or has been made sufficiently stable to sustain the additional weight made necessary by such installation.

Sec. 14. It is hereby declared to be the policy of the Government to utilize the Muscle Shoals properties for the fixation of nitrogen for agricultural purposes in time of peace.

Sec. 15. The Secretary of War is hereby authorized, with appropriations hereafter to be made available by the Congress, to construct, either directly or by contract to the lowest responsible bidder, after due advertisement, a dam in and across Clinch River in the State of Tennessee, which has by long usage become known and designated as the Cove Creek Dam, according to the latest and most approved designs of the Chief of Engineers, including its power house and hydroelectric installations and equipment for the generation of at least two hundred thousand horsepower, in order that the waters of the said Clinch River may be impounded and stored above said dam for the purpose of increasing and regulating the flow of the Clinch River and the Tennessee River below, so that the maximum amount of primary power may be developed at Dam Numbered 2 and at any and all other dams below the said Cove Creek Dam.

Sec. 16. In order to enable and empower the Secretary of War to carry out the authority hereby conferred, in the most economical and efficient manner, he is hereby authorized and empowered in the exercise of the powers of national defense in aid of navigation, and in the control of the flood waters of the Tennessee and Mississippi Rivers, constituting channels of interstate commerce, to exercise the right of eminent domain and to condemn all lands, easements, rights of way, and other area necessary in order to obtain a site for said Cove Creek Dam, and the flowage rights for the reservoir of water above said dam and to negotiate and conclude contracts with States, counties, municipalities, and all State agencies and with railroads, railroad corporations, common carriers, and all public utility commissions and any other person, firm, or corporation, for the relocation of railroad tracks, highways, highway bridges, mills, ferries, electric-light plants, and any and all other properties, enterprises, and projects whose removal may be necessary in order to carry out the provisions of this act. When said Cove Creek Dam and transportation facilities and power house shall have been completed, the possession, use, and control thereof shall be entrusted to the corporation for use and operation in connection with the general Muscle Shoals project and to promote flood control and navigation in the Tennessee River and in the Clinch River.

Sec. 17. The corporation as an instrumentality and agency of the Government of the United States for the purpose of executing its constitutional powers, shall have access to the Patent Office of the United States for the purpose of studying, ascertaining, and copying all methods, formulae, and scientific information (not including access to pending applications for patents) necessary to enable the corporation to use and employ the most efficacious and economical process for the production of fixed nitrogen, or any essential ingredient thereof, and any patentee whose patent rights may have been thus in any way copied, used, or employed, by the exercise of this authority by the corporation, shall have as the exclusive remedy a cause of action to be instituted and prosecuted on the equity side of the appropriate district court of the United States for the recovery of reasonable compensation. The Commissioner of Patents shall furnish to the corporation, at its request and without payment of fees, copies of documents on file in his office.

Sec. 18. The Government of the United States hereby reserves the right, in case of war, or national emergency declared by Congress, to take possession of all or any part of the property described or referred to in this act for the purpose of manufacturing explosives or for other war purposes; but, if this right is exercised by the Government, it shall pay the reasonable and fair damages that may be suffered by any party whose contract, for the purchase of electric power or fixed nitrogen or its ingredients, is thereby violated after the amount of the damages have been fixed by the United States Court of Claims in proceedings instituted and conducted for that purpose under rules prescribed by the court.

Sec. 19. (a) All general penal statutes relating to the larceny, embezzlement, conversion, or to the improper handling, retention, use, or disposal of public moneys or property of the United States, shall apply to the moneys and property of the corporation and to moneys and properties of the United States intrusted to the corporation.

- (b) Any person who, with intent to defraud the corporation, or to deceive any director or officer of the corporation or any officer or employee of the United States (1) makes any false entry in any book of the corporation, or (2) makes any false report or statement for the corporation, shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both.

- (c) Any person who shall receive any compensation, rebate, or reward, or shall enter into any conspiracy, collusion, or agreement, express or implied, with intent to defraud the corporation, or wrongfully and unlawfully to defeat its purposes, shall, on conviction thereof, be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both.

Sec. 20. In order that the board may not be delayed in carrying out the program authorized herein the sum of $10,000,000 is hereby authorized to be appropriated for that purpose from the Treasury of the United States, of which not to exceed $2,000,000 shall be made available with which to begin construction of Cove Creek Dam during the calendar year 1929.

Sec. 21. That all appropriations necessary to carry out the provisions of this act are hereby authorized.

Sec. 22. That all acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Sec. 23. That this act shall take effect immediately.

So, the motion to recommit was not agreed to.

The question being on the passage of the bill.

Mr. LEATHERWOOD demanded that the vote be taken by the yeas and nays, which demand was not supported by one-fifth of the Members present, so the yeas and nays were refused.

The bill was then passed.

A motion by Mr. SMITH to reconsider the vote whereby said bill was passed was, on his motion and by unanimous consent, laid on the table.

Ordered, That the Clerk request the concurrence of the Senate in said bill.

TAX BILL

Mr. HAWLEY submitted a conference report (Rept. No. 1882) on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the amendments of the Senate to the bill (H. R. 1) to reduce and equalize taxation, to provide revenue, and for other purposes, together with a statement thereon, for printing in the Record under the rule.

POSTAL SERVICE RATES

Mr. GRIEST submitted a conference report (Rept. No. 1883) on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the amendments of the Senate to the bill (H. R. 12030) to amend Title II of an act approved February 28, 1925 (43 Stat. 1066, U. S. Code, title 39), regulating postal rates, and for other purposes, together with a statement thereon, for printing in the Record under the rule.

RURAL POST ROADS—OVER VETO

The SPEAKER laid before the House a message from the Senate, which was read, as follows:

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES,
May 3 (calendar day of May 24), 1928.

The President of the United States having returned to the Senate, in which it originated, the bill (S. 3674) entitled, "An act to amend the act entitled 'An act to provide that the United States shall aid the States in the construction of rural post roads, and for other purposes,' approved July 11, 1916, as amended and supplemented, and for other purposes," with his objections thereto, the Senate proceeded, in pursuance to the Constitution, to reconsider the same; and

Resolved, That the bill do pass, two-thirds of the Senate agreeing to pass the same.

The SPEAKER then laid before the House the said veto message of the President, which was read, as follows:

To the Senate:

There is returned herewith, without my approval, S. 3674, a bill to amend the act entitled "An act to provide that the United States shall aid the States in the construction of rural post roads, and for other purposes," approved July 11, 1916, as amended and supplemented, and for other purposes.

The bill would authorize appropriations of $3,500,000 each for the fiscal years 1929, 1930, and 1931, to be allocated to States having more than 5 per cent of their area in unappropriated or unreserved public lands, nontaxable Indian lands, or other Federal reservations, for the construction, by the Bureau of Public Roads, of the main roads through such lands.

From 1917 to 1929, inclusive, Federal appropriations aggregating $840,000,000 have been authorized for cooperative construction of rural post roads and appropriations aggregating $733,200,000 have been made to meet the requirements as they have developed. From 1922 to 1929, inclusive, Federal appropriations aggregating $58,000,000 have been authorized for forest-development roads and forest highways and appropriations thereunder aggregating $54,055,000 have been made. From 1925 to 1929, inclusive, $10,000,000 have been appropriated for the construction of roads in national parks.

While expenditures from appropriations for cooperative construction of rural post roads are contingent upon equal contributions by State or local agencies, no such requirement obtains with reference to appropriations for roads in national forests and national parks, since such roads are required for the protection, administration, utilization, or development of Federal resources. The bill would provide for entire construction from Federal funds of main roads through unappropriated or unreserved public lands and nontaxable Indian lands. Such expenditures could not be justified on the basis of protection or development of Federal resources and would constitute a radical departure from the established policy of Federal aid on a cooperative basis in road construction.

Having in mind the increasing ability of the States to finance road construction due to the general adoption of the gasoline tax and the increase in revenue from this source which would accrue to States from roads constructed through public and Indian lands therein, I see no reason why the States should be relieved from their contribution toward the construction of these roads as required by existing law. I am constrained therefore to return this bill without my approval.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

THE WHITE HOUSE, May 18, 1928.

On motion of Mr. COLTON, the previous question was ordered on the passage of the bill over the President's veto.

The question being put,

Will the House, upon reconsideration, agree to pass the bill, the objections of the President to the contrary notwithstanding?

WORLD WAR VETERANS

On motion of Mr. JOHNSON of South Dakota, by unanimous consent, the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union was discharged from the further consideration of the bill of the Senate (S. 2372) to amend section 201, subdivision (1), of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended.

When said bill was considered and read twice.

The following amendments recommended by the Committee on World War Veterans' legislation were agreed to:

Page 1, line 4, after the word "amended," insert (section 472, title 38, United States Code).

Page 1, strike out all after line 5 down to and including line 21 on page 3 and insert:

(1) If death occur or shall have occurred subsequent to April 6, 1927, and before discharge or resignation from the service, the United States Veterans' Bureau shall pay for burial and funeral expenses and the return of body to his home a sum not to exceed $100, as may be fixed by regulation. Where a veteran of any war, including those women who served as Army nurses under contracts between April 21, 1898, and February 2, 1901, who was not dishonorably discharged, dies after discharge or resignation from the service, the director, in his discretion and with due regard to the circumstances of each case shall pay for burial and funeral expenses and the transportation of the body (including preparation of the body) to the place of burial, a sum not exceeding $107 to cover such items and to be paid to such person or persons as may be fixed by regulations: Provided, That when such person dies while receiving from the bureau compensation or vocational training the above benefits shall be payable in all cases: Provided further, That where such person, while receiving from the bureau medical, surgical, or hospital treatment, or vocational training, dies away from home and at the place to which he was ordered by the bureau, or while traveling under orders of the bureau, the above benefits shall be payable in all cases, and in addition thereto the actual and necessary cost of the transportation of the body of the person (including preparation of the body) to the place of burial, within the continental limits of the United States, its Territories, or possessions, and including also, in the discretion of the director, the actual and necessary cost of transportation of an attendant: Provided further, That no accrued pension, compensation, or insurance due at the time of death shall be deducted from the sum allowed: Provided further, That the director may, in his discretion, make contracts for burial and funeral services within the limits of the amounts allowed herein without regard to the laws prescribing advertisement for proposals for supplies and services for the United States Veterans' Bureau: Provided further, That section 5, title 41, of the United States Code, shall not be applied to contracts for burial and funeral expenses heretofore entered into by the director so as to deny payment for services rendered thereunder, and all suspensions of payment heretofore made in connection with such contracts are hereby removed, and any and all payments which are now or may hereafter become due on such contracts are hereby expressly authorized: And provided further, That no deduction shall be made from the sum allowed because of any contribution toward the burial which shall be made by any State, county, or municipality, but the aggregate of the sum allowed plus such contribution or contributions shall not exceed the actual cost of the burial.

Sec. 2. That section 19 of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended (section 445, title 38, of the United States Code), be amended by adding the following:

"No suit shall be allowed under this section unless the same shall have been brought within six years after the right accrued for which the claim is made, or within one year from the date of the approval of this amendatory act, whichever is the later date: Provided, That for the purpose of this section it shall be deemed that the right accrued on the happening of the contingency on which the claim is founded: Provided further, That this limitation is suspended for the period elapsing between the filing in the bureau of the claim upon and the denial of said claim by the director. Infants, insane persons, or persons under other legal disability, or persons rated as incompetent or insane by the bureau shall have three years in which to bring suit after the removal of their disabilities. If suit is reasonably begun and fails for defect in process, or for other reasons not affecting the merits, a new action, if one lies, may be brought within a year through the period of limitations has elapsed. Judgments heretofore rendered against the person or persons claiming under the contract of war-risk insurance on the ground that the claim was barred by the statute of limitations shall not be a bar to the institution of another suit on the same claim. No State or other statute of limitations shall be applicable to suits filed under this section. This section shall apply to all suits now pending against the United States under the provisions of this section."

Sec. 3. That section 21, subdivision (2), of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended (section 450, title 38, of the United States Code), be hereby amended to read as follows:

"(2) Whenever it appears that any guardian, curator, conservator, or other person is not, in the opinion of the director, properly executing the duties of his trust or has collected or is attempting to collect fees, commissions, or allowances that are inequitable or are in excess of those allowed by law for the duties performed or expenses incurred, or has failed to make such payments as may be necessary for the benefit of the ward or the dependents of the ward, then and in that event the director is hereby empowered by his duly authorized attorney to appear in the court which has appointed such fiduciary and make proper presentation of such matters to the court: Provided, That the director, in his discretion, may suspend payments to any such guardian, curator, conservator, or other person who shall neglect or refuse, after reasonable notice, to render an account to the director from time to time showing the application of such payments for the benefit of such minor or incompetent beneficiary.

"Authority is hereby granted for the payment of any court or other expenses incident to any investigation or court proceeding for the appointment of any guardian, curator, conservator, or other person legally vested with the care of the claimant or his estate or the removal of such fiduciary and appointment of another, and of expenses in connection with the administration of such estates by such fiduciaries, when such payment is authorized by the director."

Sec. 4. That section 28 of the World War veterans' act, as amended (section 453, title 38, of the United States Code), is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 28. There shall be no recovery of payments from any person, who, in the judgment of the director, is without fault on his part, and where, in the judgment of the director, such recovery would defeat the purpose of benefits otherwise authorized or would be against equity and good conscience. No disbursing officer shall be held liable for any amount paid by him to any person where the recovery of such amount is waived under this section."

"When under the provisions of this section the recovery of a payment made from the United States Government life-insurance fund is waived, the United States Government life-insurance fund shall be reimbursed for the amount involved from the current appropriation for military and naval insurance."

Sec. 5. That a new section be added to Title I of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended (title 38, United States Code), to be known as section 34 and to read as follows:

"Sec. 34. The director is hereby authorized to contract for the services of translators without regard to the provisions of the act of August 5, 1882 (sections 39, 45, 46, 50, title 5, United States Code), and the classification act of 1923 (sections 43, 45, 46, title 5, United States Code). This section shall be deemed to be in effect as of June 7, 1924."

Sec. 6. That a new section be added to Title I of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended (title 38, United States Code), to be known as section 35 and to read as follows:

"Sec. 35. The director is hereby authorized to purchase transcripts of the record, including all evidence, of trial of litigated cases. This section shall be deemed to be in effect as of June 7, 1924."

Subject to regulations, the insured shall at all times have the right to change the beneficiary or beneficiaries without the consent of such beneficiary or beneficiaries, but only within the classes herein provided."

"If no beneficiary be designated by the insured as beneficiary for converted insurance granted under the provisions of Article IV of the war risk insurance act, or Title III of this act, either in his lifetime or by his last will and testament, or if the designated beneficiary does not survive the insured, then there shall be paid to the estate of the insured the present value of the remaining unpaid monthly installments; or if the designated beneficiary survives the insured and dies before receiving all of the installments of converted insurance payable and applicable, then there shall be paid to the estate of such beneficiary the present value of the remaining unpaid monthly installments: Provided, That no payments shall be made to any estate which under the laws of the residence of the insured or the beneficiary, as the case may be, would escheat, but same shall escheat to the United States and be credited to the United States Government life insurance fund."

"The bureau may make provision in the contract for converted insurance for optional settlements, to be selected by the insured, whereby such insurance may be made payable either in one sum or in installments for thirty-six months or more. The bureau may also include in said contract a provision authorizing the beneficiary to elect to receive payment of the insurance in installments for thirty-six months or more, but only if the insured has not exercised the right of election as heretofore provided; and even though the insured may have exercised his right of election the said contract may authorize the beneficiary to elect to receive such insurance in installments spread over a greater period of time than that selected by the insured. This section, as amended, shall be deemed to be in effect as of June 7, 1924."

ACQUISITION OF LAND IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

Mr. ZIEHLMAN moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H. R. 13461) to provide for the acquisition of land in the District of Columbia for the use of the United States, amended to read as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That whenever the head of any executive department or independent bureau, or other officer of the United States, or any board or commission of the United States, hereinafter referred to as the acquiring authority, has been, or hereafter shall be, authorized by law to acquire real property in the District of Columbia for the construction of any public building or work, or for parks, parkways, public playgrounds, or any other public purpose, such acquiring authority shall be, and hereby is, authorized to acquire the same in the name of the United States by condemnation under judicial process whenever in the opinion of such acquiring authority it is necessary or advantageous so to do; and in every such case the Attorney General of the United States, upon the request of such acquiring authority, shall cause a proceeding in rem for such condemnation to be instituted in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, holding a special term as a district court of the United States, which court is hereby vested with jurisdiction of all such cases of condemnation with full power to hear and determine all issues of law and fact that may arise in the same.

Institution of proceedings

Sec. 2. Every such condemnation proceeding shall be instituted by filing in said court a verified petition which shall contain or have annexed thereto the following:

(1) A statement of the authority under which and the public use for which the lands are to be acquired.

(2) A description of the lands to be acquired sufficient for the identification thereof. Where such lands, taken together, constitute all privately owned land in any square in the city of Washington, it shall be sufficient to designate the same by the number of the square as the same appears on the records of squares in the office of the surveyor of the District of Columbia.

(3) A plan showing the lands to be acquired.

(4) The names of the owners of the lands to be acquired, so far as ascertainable by reasonable inquiry, and of the persons in actual and open possession of the same. If it shall appear from the land records of the District of Columbia that a right, title, interest, or estate in said lands was formerly vested in any person who is known or may be presumed to be deceased, which right, title, interest, or estate, if valid and subsisting, would be adverse to the person in present possession claiming to be owner of said lands, and the names of the heirs or devisees of such deceased person are not known, it shall be sufficient to describe them in the petition and in any order of citation or publication or other process thereon as "the unknown heirs or devisees" of such deceased person. And such designation shall be valid and effective to all intents and purposes as if all persons claiming by, through, or under said deceased person had been specifically named.

(5) A statement of the estate or interest in said lands which petitioner intends to acquire for the public use stated.

(6) A prayer that said lands be condemned and taken for the use of the United States and that the title to the same in fee simple, or such estate or interest as may be specified, be vested in the United States.

Citation and notice

Sec. 3. The court shall cause public notice of the institution of such proceeding to be given by an order of citation requiring all persons claiming to have any right, title, interest, or estate in the lands to be acquired, or to be entitled to compensation in respect of the taking of the same, and all persons occupying the same, to appear in said court on a day to be named in said order of citation to answer the petition and make claim for the compensation to which they deem themselves entitled.

Sec. 4. Such order of citation shall contain a description of the lands to be acquired sufficient for the identification thereof and the names of the persons given in the petition as claiming to have any right, title, interest, or estate in said lands or to be entitled to compensation in respect of the taking of the same and as occupying the same. If any such person is alleged in said petition to be a nonresident of the District of Columbia, the order of citation shall also state the last place of residence of such person, if known.

Sec. 5. Said order of citation shall be published at least once a week for three consecutive weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the District of Columbia.

Sec. 6. Upon the filing of said petition, the court shall pass on order directing a citation to issue for each of the persons named therein who is, so far as ascertainable by reasonable inquiry, residing, or sojourning at the time within the District of Columbia, to be served in the same manner as a citation in action at law and to be returned by some day to be named in said order, not less than ten days or more than twenty days from the day of filing of said petition. If personal service be not had before the return day, the order may be renewed from time to time as the court may think proper. If any such person is reported nonresident or unknown, or is returned non est, the court may order the United States marshal for the District of Columbia to set up a copy of the order of citation for such persons upon the property. The court shall also require notice of said proceedings to be given by mailing, by registered mail, postpaid, a copy of said order of citation to such of the persons named therein as may be shown by said petition or by affidavit, or by information acquired by the United States marshal, to be nonresidents of the District of Columbia, such copy to be addressed to such person or persons at the last-known place of residence.

Default in appearance

Sec. 7. In default of appearance on or before the return day specified in said order of citation (or on or before such further day as the court for cause shown may allow for the purpose) every person having any right, title, interest, or estate in the lands described in said order, or entitled to compensation in respect of the taking of the same or entitled to the possession of, or occupying the same, shall be deemed to have consented to the taking and condemnation of said lands for the public purpose stated at and for such compensation as may be finally awarded therefor in the proceeding and shall be bound by all orders, judgments, and decrees that may be entered in said proceeding.

Sec. 8. The court may, by order, upon application and for cause shown, at any time prior to final judgment permit any person claiming any right, title, interest, or estate in the lands to be acquired or to be entitled to compensation in respect of the taking of the same to appear in said proceeding upon such terms and conditions as the court may direct.

Guardians ad litem

Sec. 9. If any person having, or claiming to have, any right, title, interest, or estate in the lands to be acquired, or entitled, or claiming to be entitled, to compensation in respect of the taking of the same, or entitled or claiming to be entitled, to the possession of the same, appears to be under legal disability by reason of infancy, insanity, idiocy, or other like cause, the court, after the return day specified in the order of citation, upon the application of any person interested, shall appoint some suitable person as guardian ad litem to appear for such person under disability. Failure to apply for the appointment of a guardian ad litem for any such person under disability shall not affect the validity of the proceedings.

Vesting of title and right to compensation

Sec. 10. The petitioner may file in the cause, with the petition or at any time before judgment, a declaration of taking signed by the authority empowered by law to acquire the lands described in the petition, declaring that said lands are thereby taken for the use of the United States. Said declaration of taking shall contain or have annexed thereto—

(1) A statement of the authority under which and the public use for which said lands are taken.

(2) A description of the lands taken sufficient for the identification thereof.

(3) A statement of the estate or interest in said lands taken for said public use.

(4) A plan showing the lands taken.

(5) A statement of the sum of money estimated by said acquiring authority to be just compensation for the land taken.

Upon the filing of said declaration of taking and of the deposit in the registry of the court, to the use of the persons entitled thereto, of an amount equal to the assessed value of the land to be taken, title to the said lands in fee simple absolute, or such less estate or interest therein as is specified in said declaration, shall vest in the United States of America, and said lands shall be deemed to be condemned and taken for the use of the United States, and the right to just compensation for the same shall vest in the persons entitled thereto; and said compensation shall be ascertained and awarded in said proceeding and established by judgment therein, and the said judgment shall include, as part of the just compensation awarded, interest at the rate of 6 per centum per annum on the amount finally awarded as the value of the property as of the date of taking, from said date to the date of payment; but interest shall not be allowed on so much thereof as shall have been paid into the registry. No sum so paid into the registry shall be charged with commissions or poundage.

Upon the application of the parties in interest the court may order that the money deposited in the registry of the court, or any part thereof, be paid forthwith for or on account of the just compensation to be awarded in said proceeding. If the compensation finally awarded in respect of said lands or any parcel thereof shall exceed the amount of the money so received by any person entitled, the court shall enter judgment against the United States for the amount of the deficiency.

Upon the filing of a declaration of taking, the court shall have power to fix the time within which and the terms upon which the parties in possession shall be required to surrender possession to the petitioner. The court shall have power to make such orders in respect of encumbrances, liens, rents, taxes, assessments, insurance, and other charges, if any, as shall be just and equitable.

Setting date for trial and selection of jury

Sec. 11. When all the persons who have been summoned or published against in said case, as hereinbefore provided, have either answered or are in default as aforesaid, and all persons under legal disability have answered by their guardians ad litem, or, in the judgment of the court, ample opportunity has been given for the same, the case shall be regarded as ready for trial, and, upon the application of any party to said suit, the court shall forthwith set an early date to be especially fixed by it, not less than ten nor more than twenty days from the date of such application, for the trial of the issues of law and fact raised in said case and the ascertainment of the compensation or damages to be awarded for the taking of the lands to be condemned. The court shall thereupon order the jury commission to draw from the special box provided for by law the names of as many persons, not less than twenty, as the court may direct, and to certify said names to the clerk of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia as a panel of prospective jurors. The persons so certified shall be thereupon summoned by the United States marshal for the District of Columbia to appear in said court on the day specially fixed for the trial of said cause. Before selecting or impaneling said jury the court may, in its discretion, cause a second, third, or other further list of prospective jurors to be drawn, certified, and summoned in like manner. From the persons so certified and summoned the court, after examination on oath and in open court as to their qualifications, shall select and impanel a jury of five capable and disinterested persons who shall have the qualifications of jurors as prescribed by law for the courts of the District of Columbia, and in addition thereto shall be freeholders of said District and shall not be in the service or employment of the United States or of the District of Columbia.

Oath of juror

Sec. 12. To the jurors so selected and impanelled the court shall administer an oath or affirmation that they are not interested in any manner in the lands to be condemned and that they are not to their knowledge related to any person interested therein, and that they will impartially and to the best of their judgment ascertain, appraise, and award just compensation for the lands to be condemned and taken in said proceeding.

View

Sec. 13. After being selected, impanelled, and sworn, and before hearing the evidence, the jury shall be taken by the marshal upon the lands to be acquired at a time to be fixed by the court in order to view the said lands; and all parties in interest, their attorneys, and representatives shall have the right to be present at such view.

Trial

Sec. 14. After such view and the jury shall have returned to the court, the trial of said cause shall be proceeded with before the court and jury. Any person who has appeared in the cause claiming any right, title, interest, or estate in the land to be taken, or compensation on account of the taking of the same, shall have the right to submit evidence concerning the value of such land, parcel by parcel, the nature and extent of his right, interest, or estate therein, and the compensation justly due for the taking of the same. No new structure or substantial alteration of a permanent nature, the purpose or natural effect of which is to enhance the value of the land to be taken, erected, or made thereon after the institution of the condemnation proceedings shall be taken into consideration in assessing and awarding compensation for said land. If the land to be valued shall have been taken by virtue of a declaration of taking, as provided in this act, said land shall be valued for the purposes of compensation as of the date of such taking; and if, by act of the owner or other party claiming to be entitled to compensation, the value of the land for the use for which it is to be taken has been diminished, as by cutting trees, excavating, grading, or otherwise altering its physical condition, allowance, if petitioner so elects, shall be made in assessing compensation for such diminution in value. Every party, whether petitioner or respondent, may except to any ruling of the court admitting or excluding evidence, granting, rejecting, or modifying prayers for instruction, or other ruling made in the cause in like manner as in other civil trials.

Verdict

Sec. 15. At the close of the evidence the court shall charge the jury as in other trials at law and furnish them with a written form to be used in returning their verdict. The members of the jury may separate when not engaged in the consideration of their verdict. When the jury, or a majority thereof, shall have agreed upon their verdict they shall, through their foreman, so notify the court, which shall thereupon pass an order setting a day for the return of the verdict in open court. The verdict shall be in writing subscribed by the jurors concurring therein, and shall set forth, parcel by parcel, the compensation to be paid for the taking of the lands to be condemned.

Setting aside verdict

Sec. 16. The court shall have power to set aside or vacate the verdict of the jury, or any award contained therein, and to grant a new trial upon the same grounds as in other trials at law and upon the ground that said verdict, or any award contained therein is, in the judgment of the court, grossly excessive, or inadequate, or otherwise unreasonable or unjust. In case the verdict or any award contained therein is set aside or vacated, the court shall award a new trial with respect to the lands as to which said verdict or such award is set aside or vacated; and the court shall fix a date for a new trial and order a new panel of prospective jurors to be drawn, certified, and summoned as hereinbefore provided; and the cause shall be proceeded with as if no such verdict or award had been rendered.

Proceedings after verdict

Sec. 17. No motion for a new trial or to set aside or vacate the verdict, in whole or in part, or any award contained therein, shall be made after the expiration of twenty days, Sundays and legal holidays excluded, from the rendition thereof; and if no such motion be filed within such time, the verdict and the award or awards contained therein shall become final and conclusive, and judgment shall be entered thereon.

Judgment

Sec. 18. In the event that any verdict or any award contained therein shall become final by lapse of time or that any motion filed to set aside or vacate the same or to grant a new trial in respect thereof shall have been denied or overruled, the court shall enter judgment against the United States in favor of the parties entitled for the sum or sums awarded as just compensation, respectively, for the lands condemned for the use of the United States.

Payment of judgment

Sec. 19. Any final judgment rendered against the United States under any provision of this act shall have like force and effect as a money judgment rendered against the United States by the Court of Claims in a suit in respect of which the United States has expressly consented to be sued; and the amount of any such final judgment shall be paid out of any specific appropriation applicable to the case, if any such there be; and when no such appropriation exists, said judgment shall be paid in the same manner (except with respect to interest) as judgments rendered by the Court of Claims in cases under its general jurisdiction.

Appeal

Sec. 20. Any party aggrieved by any final judgment in a proceeding under this act may appeal therefrom to the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia, and upon such appeal said court shall have power to review said judgment and affirm, reverse, or modify the same as on appeals in other actions at law. No such appeal, nor any bond or undertaking given therein, shall operate to prevent or delay the vesting of title to said lands in the United States, but upon the filing of a declaration of taking or (if no declaration of taking is filed) upon payment to the party entitled or deposit in the registry of the court of the amount awarded by any judgment, title shall vest in the United States, saving to all parties their right to just compensation. In the event that the compensation finally awarded and adjudged for such lands shall exceed the amount awarded and adjudged by the judgment appealed from, said court shall enter judgment for the deficiency with interest as hereinbefore provided.

Payment of compensation into court

Sec. 21. Payment into the registry of the court for the use of all parties entitled of the sum of money adjudged to be just compensation for the lands to be condemned and taken, or for any parcel thereof, or any interest therein, shall constitute payment of such compensation. Upon such payment the petitioner shall be entitled to an order declaring that the title to the lands in respect of which such compensation is so paid is vested in the United States of America. The money so paid into the registry of the court shall be deemed to be vested in the persons owning or interested in said lands, according to their respective estates and interests, and said money shall take the place and stand in lieu of the lands condemned. The court, upon the application of the petitioner or of any party in interest, shall have power to determine and direct who is entitled to receive payment of the money so paid into the registry, and may, in its discretion, order a reference to the auditor of the court or a special master to ascertain the facts on which such determination and direction are to be made.

Delivery of possession

Sec. 22. In cases in which possession shall not have been awarded pursuant to a declaration of taking, when the adjudged compensation shall have been paid into the registry as directed in the judgment of the court and a certified copy of such judgment, with a certificate of the clerk of the court showing such payment, has been served upon the person in possession of said lands, such person shall, upon demand, deliver possession thereof to the petitioner. In case possession is not delivered when so demanded, the petitioner may apply to the court without notice (unless the court shall require notice to be given) for a writ of assistance, and the court, upon proof of the service of the copy of the final order or judgment and certificate of the clerk showing payment as aforesaid, shall thereupon cause such writ to be issued, which shall be executed in the same manner as when issued in other cases for the delivery of possession of real property.

Amendments

Sec. 23. In all proceedings under this act the court shall have power at any stage of the proceeding to allow amendments in form or substance in any petition, citation, summons, process, answer, declaration of taking, order, verdict, or other proceeding, including amendment in the description of the lands sought to be condemned, whenever such amendment will not impair the substantial rights of any party in interest.

General provisions

Sec. 24. In all proceedings under this act, where the mode or manner of conducting the proceedings is not expressly provided for by law, the court shall have power to make all necessary orders and give all necessary directions to carry into effect the object and intent of this act and of the several acts of Congress heretofore or hereafter enacted conferring authority to acquire lands for the use of the United States.

Provisions for saving pending proceedings

Sec. 25. The repeal, express or implied, of any existing law or the alteration or amendment thereof by virtue of anything in this act contained shall not affect (1) any act done or any right, including the right to appeal, accruing or accrued under the law so repealed, altered, or amended, or (2) any suit or proceeding pending in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, or in the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia, or the Supreme Court of the United States upon writ of error, appeal, certificate, writ of certiorari, or upon application for writ of error, appeal, certificate, or writ of certiorari, at the time of the taking effect of this act; but all suits and proceedings shall be proceeded with and disposed of in the same manner and with the same effect as if this act had not been passed, save and except only that in any condemnation suit or proceeding for the condemnation of land for the use of the United States pending in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia in which commissioners of appraisal shall not have been appointed by the court at the time of the taking effect of this act, the trial of said condemnation suit or proceeding shall proceed and be conducted from that point forward in accordance with the provisions of this act; and all evidence as to the value of the property to be condemned and taken shall be given before the court and jury as in this act prescribed and the matter shall be proceeded with and disposed of in the same manner and with like effect as if the proceeding had been originally begun and the petition filed and all prior proceedings had under and pursuant to the provisions of this act and after the taking effect of the same.

Proceedings on behalf of the District of Columbia not affected by this act

Sec. 26. This act shall not affect any suit or proceeding begun, now pending, or hereafter to be instituted under chapter 15 of the Code of Law for the District of Columbia, by or on behalf of the Commissioners of the District of Columbia for the condemnation of land for sites of schoolhouses, fire or police stations, or for a right of way for sewers, or for any other municipal use; but as to all such suits and proceedings, and the right of said commissioners to institute the same, said chapter shall be and remain in full force and effect as if this act had not been made.

3. After a bill which has been favorably reported shall be upon either the House or the Union Calendar, any Member may file with the Clerk a notice that he desires such a bill placed upon a special calendar to be known as the "Consent Calendar." On the first Monday of each month immediately after the reading of the Journal, and on the third Monday of each month immediately after the disposition of motions to instruct committees which may be called up, the Speaker shall direct the Clerk to call the bills which have been for three days upon the "Consent Calendar." Should objection be made to the consideration of any bill so called, it shall immediately be stricken from such calendar, but such bill may be restored to the calendar at the instance of the Member, and if again objected to by three or more Members, it shall be immediately stricken from such calendar, and shall not thereafter be placed thereon: Provided, That the same bill shall not be called twice on the same legislative day.

4. There shall also be a Calendar of Motions to Instruct Committees, as provided in clause 4 of Rule XXVII.

5. Calendars shall be printed daily.

RULE XIV

OF DECORUM AND DEBATE

1. When any Member desires to speak or deliver any matter to the House, he shall rise and respectfully address himself to "Mr. Speaker," and, on being recognized, may address the House from any place on the floor or from the Clerk's desk, and shall confine himself to the question under debate, avoiding personality.

2. When two or more Members rise at once, the Speaker shall name the Member who is first to speak; and no Member shall occupy more than one hour in debate on any question in the House or in committee, except as further provided in this rule.

3. The Member reporting the measure under consideration from a committee may open and close, where general debate has been had thereon, and if it shall extend beyond one day, he shall be entitled to one hour to close, notwithstanding he may have used an hour in opening.

4. If any Member, in speaking or otherwise, transgress the rules of the House, the Speaker shall, or any Member may, call him to order; in which case he shall immediately sit down, unless permitted, on motion of another Member, to explain, and the House shall, if appealed to, decide on the case without debate; if the decision is in favor of the Member called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed, but not otherwise; and, if the case require it, he shall be liable to censure or such punishment as the House may deem proper.

5. If a Member is called to order for words spoken in debate, the Member calling him to order shall indicate the words excepted to, and they shall be taken down in writing at the Clerk's desk and read aloud to the House; but he shall not be held to answer, nor be subject to the censure of the House therefor, if further debate or other business has intervened.

6. No Member shall speak more than once to the same question without leave of the House, unless he be the mover, proposer, or introducer of the matter pending, in which case he shall be permitted to speak in reply, but not until every Member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

7. While the Speaker is putting a question or addressing the House no Member shall walk out of or across the hall, nor, when a Member is speaking, pass between him and the Chair; and during the session of the House no Member shall wear his hat, or remain by the Clerk's desk during the call of the roll or the counting of ballots, or smoke upon the floor of the House; and the Sergeant at Arms and Doorkeeper are charged with the strict enforcement of this clause. Neither shall any person be allowed to smoke upon the floor of the House at any time.

XV

ON CALLS OF THE ROLL AND HOUSE

1. Upon every roll call the names of the Members shall be called alphabetically by surname, except when two or more have the same surname, in which case the name of the State shall be added; and if there be two such Members from the same State, the whole name shall be called, and after the roll has been once called, the Clerk shall call in their alphabetical order the names of those not voting; and thereafter the Speaker shall not entertain a request to record a vote or announce a pair unless the Member's name has been noted under clause 3 of this rule.

2. In the absence of a quorum, 15 Members, including the Speaker, if there is one, shall be authorized to compel the attendance of absent Members, and in all calls of the House the doors shall be closed, the names of the Members shall be called by the Clerk, and the absentees noted; and those for whom no sufficient excuse is made may, by order of a majority of those present, be sent for and arrested, wherever they may be found, by officers to be appointed by the Sergeant at Arms for that purpose; and their attendance secured and retained; and the House shall determine upon what condition they shall be discharged. Members who voluntarily appear shall, unless the House otherwise directs, be immediately admitted to the Hall of the House, and they shall report their names to the Clerk to be entered upon the Journal as present.

3. On the demand of any Member, or at the suggestion of the Speaker, the names of Members sufficient to make a quorum in the Hall of the House who do not vote shall be noted by the Clerk and recorded in the Journal, and reported to the Speaker with the names of the Members voting, and be counted and announced, in determining the presence of a quorum to do business.

4. Whenever a quorum fails to vote on any question, and a quorum is not present and objection is made for that cause, unless the House shall adjourn there shall be a call of the House, and the Sergeant at Arms shall forthwith proceed to bring in absent Members, and the yeas and nays on the pending question shall at the same time be considered as ordered. The Clerk shall call the roll, and each Member as he answers to his name may vote on the pending question, and, after the roll call is completed, each Member arrested shall be brought by the Sergeant at Arms before the House, whereupon he shall be noted as present, discharged from arrest, and given an opportunity to vote and his vote shall be recorded. If those voting on the question and those who are present and decline to vote shall together make a majority of the House, the Speaker shall declare that a quorum is constituted, and the pending question shall be decided as the majority of those voting shall appear. And thereupon further proceedings under the call shall be considered as dispensed with. At any time after the roll call has been completed, the Speaker may entertain a motion to adjourn, if seconded by a majority of those present, to be ascertained by actual count by the Speaker; and if the House adjourns, all proceedings under this section shall be vacated.

RULE XVI

ON MOTIONS, THEIR PRECEDENCE, ETC.

1. Every motion made to the House and entertained by the Speaker shall be reduced to writing on the demand of any Member, and shall be entered on the Journal with the name of the Member making it, unless it is withdrawn the same day.

2. When a motion has been made, the Speaker shall state it or (if it be in writing) cause it to be read aloud by the Clerk before being debated, and it shall then be in possession of the House, but may be withdrawn at any time before a decision or amendment.

3. When any motion or proposition is made, the question, Will the House now consider it? shall not be put unless demanded by a Member.

4. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received but to adjourn, to lay on the table, for the previous question (which motions shall be decided without debate), to postpone to a day certain, to refer, or to amend, or postpone indefinitely; which several motions shall have precedence in the foregoing order; and no motion to postpone to a day certain, to refer, or to postpone indefinitely being decided, shall be again allowed on the same day at the same stage of the question. After the previous question shall have been ordered on the passage of a bill or joint resolution, one motion to recommit shall be in order, and the Speaker shall give preference in recognition for such purpose to a Member who is opposed to the bill or joint resolution.

5. The hour at which the House adjourns shall be entered on the Journal.

6. On the demand of any Member, before the question is put, a question shall be divided if it include propositions so distinct in substance that one being taken away a substantive proposition shall remain: Provided, That any motion or resolution to elect the members or any portion of the members of the standing committees of the House and the joint standing committees shall not be divisible.

7. A motion to strike out and insert is indivisible, but a motion to strike out being lost shall neither preclude amendment nor motion to strike out and insert; and no motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment.

8. Pending a motion to suspend the rules, the Speaker may entertain one motion that the House adjourn; but after the result thereon is announced he shall not entertain any other motion till the vote is taken on suspension.

9. At any time after the reading of the Journal it shall be in order, by direction of the appropriate committees, to move that the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the purpose of considering bills raising revenue, or general appropriation bills.

10. No dilatory motion shall be entertained by the Speaker.

RULE XVII

PREVIOUS QUESTION

1. There shall be a motion for the previous question, which, being ordered by a majority of Members voting, if a quorum be present, shall have the effect to cut off all debate and bring the House to a direct vote upon the immediate question or questions on which it has been asked and ordered. The previous question may be asked and ordered upon a single motion, a series of motions allowable under the rules, or an amendment or amendments, or may be made to embrace all authorized motions or amendments and include the bill to its passage or rejection. It shall be in order, pending the motion for, or after the previous question shall have been ordered on its passage, for the Speaker to entertain and submit a motion to commit, with or without instructions, to a standing or select committee.

2. A call of the House shall not be in order after the previous question is ordered, unless it shall appear upon an actual count by the Speaker that a quorum is not present.

3. All incidental questions of order arising after a motion is made for the previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

RULE XVIII

RECONSIDERATION

1. When a motion has been made and carried or lost, it shall be in order for any Member of the majority, on the same or succeeding day, to move for the reconsideration thereof, and such motion shall take precedence of all other questions except the consideration of a conference report or a motion to adjourn, and shall not be withdrawn after the said succeeding day without the consent of the House, and thereafter any Member may call it up for consideration: Provided, That such motion, if made during the last six days of a session, shall be disposed of when made.

2. No bill, petition, memorial, or resolution referred to a committee, or reported therefrom for printing and recommitment, shall be brought back into the House on a motion to reconsider; and all bills, petitions, memorials, or resolutions reported from a committee shall be accompanied by reports in writing, which shall be printed.

RULE XIX

OF AMENDMENTS

When a motion or proposition is under consideration a motion to amend and a motion to amend that amendment shall be in order, and it shall also be in order to offer a further amendment by way of substitute, to which one amendment may be offered, but which shall not be voted on until the original matter is perfected, but either may be withdrawn before amendment or decision is had thereon. Amendments to the title of a bill or resolution shall not be in order until after its passage, and shall be decided without debate.

RULE XX

OF AMENDMENTS OF THE SENATE

1. Any amendment of the Senate to any House bill shall be subject to the point of order that it shall first be considered in the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union if, originating in the House, it would be subject to that point.

2. No amendment of the Senate to a general appropriation bill which would be in violation of the provisions of clause 2 of Rule XXI, if said amendment had originated in the House, nor any amendment of the Senate providing for an appropriation upon any bill other than a general appropriation bill, shall be agreed to by the managers on the part of the House unless specific authority to agree to such amendment shall be first given by the House by a separate vote on every such amendment.

RULE XXI

ON BILLS

1. Bills and joint resolutions on their passage shall be read the first time by title and the second time in full, when, if the previous question is ordered, the Speaker shall state the question to be: Shall the bill be engrossed and read a third time? and, if decided in the affirmative, it shall be read the third time by title, unless the reading in full is demanded by a Member, and the question shall then be put upon its passage.

2. No appropriations shall be reported in any general appropriation bill, or be in order as an amendment thereto, for any expenditure not previously authorized by law, unless in continuation of appropriations for such public works and objects as are already in progress. Nor shall any provision in any such bill or amendment thereto changing existing law be in order, except such as being germane to the subject matter of the bill shall retrench expenditures by the reduction of the number and salary of the officers of the United States, by the reduction of the compensation of any person paid out of the Treasury of the United States, or by the reduction of amounts of money covered by the bill: Provided, That it shall be in order further to amend such bill upon the report of the committee or any joint commission authorized by law or the House Members of any such commission having jurisdiction of the subject matter of such amendment, which amendment being germane to the subject matter of the bill shall retrench expenditures.

3. No bill for the payment or adjudication of any private claim against the Government shall be referred, except by unanimous consent, to any other than the following-named committees, viz: To the Committee on Invalid Pensions, to the Committee on Pensions, to the Committee on Claims, to the Committee on War Claims, to the Committee on the Public Lands, and to the Committee on Accounts.

4. No bill or joint resolution carrying appropriations shall be reported by any committee not having jurisdiction to report appropriations, nor shall an amendment proposing an appropriation be in order during the consideration of a bill or joint resolution reported by a committee not having that jurisdiction. A question of order on an appropriation in any such bill, joint resolution, or amendment thereto may be raised at any time.

RULE XXII

OF PETITIONS, MEMORIALS, BILLS, AND RESOLUTIONS

1. Members having petitions or memorials or bills of a private nature to present may deliver them to the Clerk, indorsing their names and the reference or disposition to be made thereof; and said petitions and memorials and bills of a private nature, except such as, in the judgment of the Speaker, are of an obscene or insulting character, shall be entered on the Journal, with the names of the Members presenting them, and the Clerk shall furnish a transcript of such entry to the official reporters of debates for publication in the Record.

2. Any petition or memorial or private bill excluded under this rule shall be returned to the Member from whom it was received; and petitions and private bills which have been inappropriately referred may, by the direction of the committee having possession of the same, be properly referred in the manner originally presented; and an erroneous reference of a petition or private bill under this clause shall not confer jurisdiction upon the committee to consider or report the same.

3. All other bills, memorials, and resolutions may, in like manner, be delivered, indorsed with the names of Members introducing them, to the Speaker, to be by him referred, and the titles and references thereof and of all bills, resolutions, and documents referred under the rules shall be entered on the Journal and printed in the Record of the next day, and correction in case of error of reference may be made by the House, without debate, in accordance with Rule XI, on any day immediately after the reading of the Journal, by unanimous consent, or on motion of a committee claiming jurisdiction, or on the report of the committee to which the bill has been erroneously referred.

4. When a bill, resolution, or memorial is introduced "by request," these words shall be entered upon the Journal and printed in the Record.

5. All resolutions of inquiry addressed to the heads of executive departments shall be reported to the House within one week after presentation.

RULE XXIII

OF COMMITTEES OF THE WHOLE HOUSE

1. In all cases, in forming a Committee of the Whole House, the Speaker shall leave his chair after appointing a Chairman to preside, who shall, in case of disturbance or disorderly conduct in the galleries or lobby, have power to cause the same to be cleared.

2. Whenever a Committee of the Whole House or of the Whole House on the state of the Union finds itself without a quorum, which shall consist of 100 Members, the Chairman shall cause the roll to be called, and thereupon the Committee shall rise, and the Chairman shall report the names of the absentees to the House, which shall be entered on the Journal; but if on such call a quorum shall appear, the Committee shall thereupon resume its sitting without further order of the House.

3. All motions or propositions involving a tax or charge upon the people; all proceedings touching appropriations of money, or bills making appropriations of money or property, or requiring such appropriations to be made, or authorizing payments out of appropriations already made, or releasing any liability to the United States for money or property, or referring any claim to the Court of Claims, shall be first considered in a Committee of the Whole, and a point of order under this rule shall be good at any time before the consideration of a bill has commenced.

4. In Committees of the Whole House business on their calendars may be taken up in regular order, or in such order as the Committee may determine, unless the bill to be considered was determined by the House at the time of going into Committee, but bills for raising revenue, general appropriation bills, and bills for the improvement of rivers and harbors shall have precedence.

5. When general debate is closed by order of the House, any Member shall be allowed five minutes to explain any amendment he may offer, after which the Member who shall first obtain the floor shall be allowed to speak five minutes in opposition to it, and there shall be no further debate thereon, but the same privilege of debate shall be allowed in favor of and against any amendment that may be offered to an amendment; and neither an amendment nor an amendment to an amendment shall be withdrawn by the mover thereof unless by the unanimous consent of the Committee.

6. The Committee may, by the vote of a majority of the Members present, at any time after the five minutes' debate has begun upon proposed amendments to any section or paragraph of a bill, close all debate upon such section or paragraph, or, at its election, upon the pending amendments only (which motion shall be decided without debate); but this shall not preclude further amendment, to be decided without debate.

7. A motion to strike out the enacting words of a bill shall have precedence of a motion to amend, and, if carried, shall be considered equivalent to its rejection. Whenever a bill is reported from a Committee of the Whole with an adverse recommendation and such recommendation is disagreed to by the House, the bill shall stand recommitted to the said Committee without further action by the House, but before the question of concurrence is submitted it is in order to entertain a motion to refer the bill to any committee, with or without instructions, and when the same is again reported to the House it shall be referred to the Committee of the Whole without debate.

8. The rules of proceeding in the House shall be observed in Committees of the Whole House so far as they may be applicable.

RULE XXIV

1. The daily order of business shall be as follows:
First. Prayer by the Chaplain.
Second. Reading and approval of the Journal.
Third. Correction of reference of public bills.
Fourth. Disposal of business on the Speaker's table.
Fifth. Unfinished business.
Sixth. The morning hour for the consideration of bills called up by committees.
Seventh. Motions to go into Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union.
Eighth. Orders of the day.
2. Business on the Speaker's table shall be disposed of as follows:

Messages from the President shall be referred to the appropriate committees without debate. Reports and communications from heads of departments, and other communications addressed to the House, and bills, resolutions, and messages from the Senate may be referred to the appropriate committees in the same manner and with the same right of correction as public bills presented by Members; but House bills with Senate amendments which do not require consideration in a Committee of the Whole may be at once disposed of as the House may determine, as may also Senate bills substantially the same as House bills already favorably reported by a committee of the House, and not required to be considered in Committee of the Whole, be disposed of in the same manner on motion directed to be made by such committee.

3. The consideration of the unfinished business in which the House may be engaged at an adjournment, except business in the morning hour, shall be resumed as soon as the business on the Speaker's table is finished, and at the same time each day thereafter until disposed of, and the consideration of all other unfinished business shall be resumed whenever the class of business to which it belongs shall be in order under the rules.

4. After the unfinished business has been disposed of, the Speaker shall call each standing committee in regular order, and then select committees, and each committee when named may call up for consideration any bill reported by it on a previous day and on the House Calendar, and if the Speaker shall not complete the call of the committees before the House passes to other business, he shall resume the next call where he left off, giving preference to the last bill under consideration: Provided, That whenever any committee shall have occupied the morning hour on two days, it shall not be in order to call up any other bill until the other committees have been called in their turn.

5. After one hour shall have been devoted to the consideration of bills called up by committees, it shall be in order, pending consideration or discussion thereof, to entertain a motion to go into Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union, or, when authorized by a committee, to go into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union to consider a particular bill, to which motion one amendment only, designating another bill, may be made; and if either motion be determined in the negative, it shall not be in order to make either motion again until the disposal of the matter under consideration or discussion.

6. On Friday of each week, after the disposal of such business on the Speaker's table as requires reference only, it shall be in order to entertain a motion for the House to resolve itself into Committee of the Whole House to consider business on the Private Calendar in the following order: On the second and fourth Fridays of each month preference shall be given to the consideration of private pension claims and bills removing political disabilities and bills removing the charge of desertion. On every Friday except the second and fourth Fridays the House shall give preference to the consideration of bills reported from the Committee on Claims and the Committee on War Claims, alternating between the two committees.

7. On Wednesday of each week no business shall be in order except as provided by paragraph 4 of this rule unless the House by a two-thirds vote on motion to dispense therewith shall otherwise determine. On such a motion there may be debate not to exceed five minutes for and against. On a call of committees under this rule bills may be called up from either the House or the Union Calendar, excepting bills which are privileged under the rules; but bills called up from the Union Calendar shall be considered in Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union. This rule shall not apply during the last two weeks of the session. It shall not be in order for the Speaker to entertain a motion for a recess on any Wednesday except during the last two weeks of the session.

Provided, That not more than two hours of general debate shall be permitted on any measure called up on Calendar Wednesday, and all debate must be confined to the subject matter of the bill, the time to be equally divided between those for and against the bill: Provided further, That whenever any committee shall have occupied two Wednesdays it shall not be in order, unless the House by a two-thirds vote shall otherwise determine, to consider any unfinished business previously called up by such committee, unless the previous question had been ordered thereon, upon any succeeding Wednesday until the other committees have been called in their turn under this rule.

8. The second and fourth Mondays in each month, after the disposal of such business on the Speaker's table as requires reference only, shall, when claimed by the Committee on the District of Columbia, be set apart for the consideration of such business as may be presented by said committee.

RULE XXV

PRIORITY OF BUSINESS

All questions relating to the priority of business shall be decided by a majority without debate.

RULE XXVI

UNFINISHED BUSINESS OF THE SESSION

All business before committees of the House at the end of one session shall be resumed at the commencement of the next session of the same Congress in the same manner as if no adjournment had taken place.

RULE XXVII

CHANGE OR SUSPENSION OF RULES

1. No rule shall be suspended except by a vote of two-thirds of the Members voting, a quorum being present; nor shall the Speaker entertain a motion to suspend the rules except on the first and third Mondays of each month, preference being given on the first Monday to individuals and on the third Monday to committees, and during the last six days of a session.

2. All motions to suspend the rules shall, before being submitted to the House, be seconded by a majority by tellers, if demanded.

3. When a motion to suspend the rules has been seconded, it shall be in order, before the final vote is taken thereon, to debate the proposition to be voted upon for 40 minutes, one-half of such time to be given to debate in favor of, and one-half to debate in opposition to, such proposition; and the same right of debate shall be allowed whenever the previous question has been ordered on any proposition on which there has been no debate.

4. A Member may present to the Clerk a motion in writing to instruct a committee to report within 15 days a public bill or resolution which has been referred to it 30 days prior thereto (but only one motion may be presented for each bill or resolution). The motion shall be placed in the custody of the Clerk, who shall arrange some convenient place for the signature of Members. A signature may be withdrawn by a Member in writing at any time before the motion is entered on the Journal. When a majority of the membership of the House shall have signed the motion it shall be entered on the Journal, printed with the signature thereto in the Congressional Record, and referred to the Calendar of Motions to Instruct Committees.

On the third Monday of each month, immediately after the approval of the Journal, any Member who has signed a motion to instruct which has been on the calendar at least seven days prior thereto, and seeks recognition, shall be recognized for the purpose of calling up the motion, and the House shall proceed to its consideration in the manner herein provided, without intervening motion except one motion to adjourn. Recognition for the motions shall be in order in which they have been entered.

When the motion shall be called up, the bill or resolution shall be read by title only prior to a second being ordered by tellers. After the reading of the bill by title the motion shall not be submitted to the House unless seconded by a majority of the membership of the House to be determined by tellers and clause 4 of Rule XV shall not apply to such second; if such motion fails of a second, it shall immediately be stricken from the calendar and shall not be thereafter placed thereon.

If a second be ordered, debate on such motion shall be limited to 40 minutes, one-half thereof in favor of the proposition and one-half in opposition thereto. Such motions shall require for their adoption an affirmative vote of a majority of the membership of the House. Whenever such motion shall prevail the committee shall report said bill or resolution to the House within 15 days thereafter and said bill or resolution shall be referred to its appropriate calendar.

RULE XXVIII

CONFERENCE REPORTS

1a. The presentation of reports of committees of conference shall always be in order, except when the Journal is being read, while the roll is being called, or the House is dividing on any proposition.

1b. And there shall accompany every such report a detailed statement sufficiently explicit to inform the House what effect such amendments or propositions will have upon the measures to which they relate.

2. It shall not be in order to consider the report of a committee of conference until such report and the accompanying statement shall have been printed in the Record, except on either of the six days preceding the end of a session.

RULE XXIX

2. Before said drawing shall commence each seat shall be vacated and so remain until selected under this rule, and any seat having been selected shall be deemed forfeited if left unoccupied before the call of the roll is finished; and whenever the seats of Members and Delegates shall have been drawn, no proposition for a second drawing shall be in order during that Congress.

RULE XXXII

2. There shall be excluded at all times from the Hall of the House of Representatives and the cloakrooms all persons not entitled to the privilege of the floor during the session, except that until 15 minutes of the hour of the meeting of the House persons employed in its service, accredited members of the press entitled to admission to the press gallery, and other persons on request of Members, by card or in writing, may be admitted.

RULE XXXIV

The Speaker shall set aside a portion of the west gallery for the use of the President of the United States, the members of his Cabinet, justices of the Supreme Court, foreign ministers and suites, and the members of their respective families, and shall also set aside another portion of the same gallery for the accommodation of persons to be admitted on the card of Members. The southerly half of the east gallery shall be assigned exclusively for the use of the families of Members of Congress, in which the Speaker shall control one bench, and on request of a Member the Speaker shall issue a card of admission to his family, which shall include their visitors, and no other persons shall be admitted to this section.

APPENDIX

And the Speaker may admit to the floor, under such regulations as he may prescribe, one additional representative of each press association.

RULE XXXVI

The rule for paying witnesses subpoenaed to appear before the House or either of its committees shall be as follows: For each day a witness shall attend, the sum of $2; for each mile he shall travel in coming to or going from the place of examination, the sum of 5 cents each way; but nothing shall be paid for traveling when the witness has been summoned at the place of trial.

RULE XXXVII

The clerks of the several committees of the House shall, within three days after the final adjournment of a Congress, deliver to the Clerk of the House all bills, joint resolutions, petitions, and other papers referred to the committee, together with all evidence taken by such committee under the order of the House during the said Congress and not reported to the House, and in the event of the failure or neglect of any clerk of a committee to comply with this rule the Clerk of the House shall, within three days thereafter, take into his keeping all such papers and testimony.

RULE XXXVIII

RULE XLIII

QUESTIONS OF ORDER

DECIDED IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES AT THE FIRST SESSION OF THE SEVENTIETH CONGRESS

NICHOLAS LONGWORTH, OF OHIO, SPEAKER; WILLIAM TYLER PAGE, OF MARYLAND, CLERK

GERMANENESS

TO A JOINT RESOLUTION PROVIDING FOR A COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE AND REPORT UPON THE FACTS CONNECTED WITH THE SINKING OF A SUBMARINE, AN AMENDMENT PROVIDING THAT THE PRESIDENT SHOULD BEGIN NEGOTIATIONS LOOKING TO AGREEMENTS AND TREATIES WITH THE OTHER NATIONS THAT WILL OUTLAW THE USE OF SUBMARINES IN WARFARE WAS HELD NOT GERMANE. (JANUARY 7, 1928.)

On January 7, 1928, the House as in Committee of the Whole was considering the joint resolution (H. J. Res. 131) to provide for a commission to investigate and report upon the facts connected with the sinking of the submarine S-4.

Mr. EDWARDS submitted the following amendment:

Page 4, after line 3, add a new section to be known as section 8, as follows:

That the President be, and he is hereby, authorized and requested to at once begin negotiations looking to agreements and treaties with the other nations that will outlaw the use of submarines in warfare, and otherwise, so that they will be discontinued and no longer constructed or used.

Mr. SNELL made a point of order against said amendment. The Speaker sustained the point of order that the amendment was not germane.

TO A JOINT RESOLUTION PROVIDING FOR A COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE AND REPORT UPON THE FACTS CONNECTED WITH THE SINKING OF A SUBMARINE, AN AMENDMENT PROVIDING THAT THE COMMISSION MAY RECOMMEND TO THE CONGRESS AN APPROPRIATION FOR THE RELIEF OF THE FAMILIES OF THE CREW OF THE SUBMARINE WAS HELD NOT GERMANE. (JANUARY 7, 1928.)

On January 7, 1928, the House as in Committee of the Whole was considering the joint resolution (H. J. Res. 131) to provide for a commission to investigate and report upon the facts connected with the sinking of the submarine S-4.

Mr. GREEN of Florida submitted the following amendment:

Page 4, after the amendment adopted at the end of line 3, insert: The commission may recommend to the Congress an appropriation for the relief of the families of the crew of the "S-4."

Mr. SNELL made a point of order against said amendment. The Speaker sustained the point of order that the amendment was not germane.

SIMPLE RESOLUTIONS OF THE SENATE

SIMPLE RESOLUTIONS OF THE SENATE ARE MESSAGES TO THE HOUSE MERELY FOR THE INFORMATION OF THE HOUSE. NO ACTION IN THE HOUSE IS REQUIRED UPON SUCH RESOLUTIONS. A MOTION IN THE HOUSE TO REFER THE RESOLUTION TO THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE HOUSE ON THE STATE OF THE UNION OR TO THE COMMITTEE ON WAYS AND MEANS IS NOT IN ORDER. (JANUARY 17, 1928.)

On January 17, 1928, a message from the Senate announced that the Senate had passed the following resolution:

Senate Resolution 52

Resolved, That many of the rates in existing tariff schedules are excessive, and that the Senate favors an immediate revision downward of such excessive rates, establishing a closer parity between agriculture and industry, believing it will result to the general benefit of all;

Resolved further, That such tariff revision should be considered and enacted during the present session of Congress; and

Resolved further, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the House of Representatives.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee, rising to a parliamentary inquiry, asked the Speaker what disposition was to be made of the message from the Senate. The Speaker replied that it did not require any action in the House or any reference. Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee then moved that the Senate resolution be referred to the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union. The Speaker said:

"The Chair does not think that motion is in order."

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee then moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means. The Speaker ruled out that motion.

Mr. GARNER of Texas arose and said:

"Then the Chair takes the position that this resolution can not be referred to the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union or to the Ways and Means Committee or to any other body and that the House has no control over it whatever."

The Speaker replied:

"The Chair thinks it can not be referred to any committee under the rules. Only such messages and portions of messages as require action by the House can be referred to committees under the precedents. There is no rule of the House under which this document may be referred to a committee. The Chair thinks that it comes to the House in the same manner and subject to the same disposition as messages relating to the organization of the Senate, which are merely received and spread upon the Journal."

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee renewed his motion to refer the resolution to the Committee on Ways and Means. Mr. TILSON made a point of order against the motion and the Chair sustained the point of order. Mr. GARRETT, appealing from the decision of the Chair, on motion by Mr. TILSON, the appeal was laid on the table.

QUORUM

WHEN A MOTION IS MADE TO GO INTO THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE HOUSE ON THE STATE OF THE UNION TO CONSIDER A BILL, AND PENDING THAT MOTION UNANIMOUS CONSENT IS ASKED LIMITING AND CONTROLLING THE TIME A POINT OF NO QUORUM MAY INTERVENE AND ALL BUSINESS MUST CEASE UNTIL A QUORUM IS PRESENT.

THE SPEAKER MAY, AFTER ANNOUNCING THAT A QUORUM IS PRESENT, PUT THE UNANIMOUS-CONSENT REQUEST BEFORE ANNOUNCING THE RESULT OF THE ROLL CALL. AFTER THE ANNOUNCING OF THE RESULT OF THE ROLL CALL, THE HOUSE IS AUTOMATICALLY IN THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE. (JANUARY 31, 1928.)

On January 31, 1928, Mr. BARBOUR moved that the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the consideration of the War Department appropriation bill. Pending that motion he asked unanimous consent that the time for general debate be limited to 10 hours, one-half to be controlled by himself and one-half by the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. HARRISON).

Mr. BLANTON, of Texas, made the point of order that a quorum was not present. A quorum not being present, and the question being, Will the House resolve itself into the Committee? the roll was called under clause 4 of Rule XV.

Pending the announcement of the vote, the Speaker announced that 328 Members were present, a quorum.

The unanimous-consent request of Mr. BARBOUR was then agreed to.

The SPEAKER announced the result of the vote—yeas 328, nays 0.

Accordingly, the House resolved itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the consideration of said bill.

DEBATE

HOUSE BILLS CALLED UP ON CALENDAR WEDNESDAY DO NOT COME UNDER THE RULE PROVIDING FOR TWO HOURS' DEBATE. THE MEMBER CALLING UP THE BILL CONTROLS THE TIME BY THE USE OF THE PREVIOUS QUESTION. AMENDMENTS OF OTHER MEMBERS MAY NOT BE OFFERED UNLESS HE YIELDS FOR THAT PURPOSE. (FEBRUARY 1, 1928.)

On February 1, 1928 (Calendar Wednesday), Mr. McFADDEN called up (H. R. 6491) a bill to amend section 8 of the act entitled "An act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints of monopolies, and for other purposes," approved October 15, 1914, as amended, was considered and read twice.

Mr. McFADDEN rose to proceed in debate when the question arose as to time for debate on a House Calendar bill called up on Calendar Wednesday.

The Speaker said:
"The Chair is prepared to rule on the question presented. The Chair has before him an exact precedent on the question now at issue. On April 21, 1920, the same point was made by the gentleman from Arkansas [Mr. Wingo], as has been made by several gentlemen this morning, to wit, that the same rule of two hours' debate should apply to bills on the House Calendar as applies to bills on the Union Calendar. After some discussion Mr. Speaker GILLET made a very well-considered ruling as to the philosophy of the Calendar Wednesday rule. The Chair will not read all of it; it is of some length. It appears on page 5046 of the Record of April 21, 1920. The Chair will read one or two paragraphs of that decision. After discussing the philosophy of the rule and the necessity of preserving the integrity of Calendar Wednesday against what might be filibustering or otherwise to prevent consideration of a bill, Mr. Speaker GILLET said:

"So the Chair thinks the main purpose of adopting this rule was speed and expedition in the transaction of the business of the House on Calendar Wednesday.

"That being so, it seems to the Chair that that purpose will be best furthered by holding that this clause applies to bills on the Union Calendar only, and that when bills on the House Calendar are brought up on Calendar Wednesday the previous question can be ordered at any time."

Further:
"Therefore the Chair thinks that it would best be carrying out the intention of those who framed this provision and expediting the business of the House to rule that the previous question can be ordered. That leaves it all in the control of the House, because if the House desires debate the previous question can be voted down. Therefore the Chair rules that the previous question, which was moved by the gentleman from New York [Mr. Platt], is in order."

"The gentleman from Arkansas [Mr. Wingo] appealed from that decision, and the Chair was sustained by a vote of 274 to 15.

"Under the circumstances the Chair is constrained to hold that the Calendar Wednesday rule as to two hours' debate applies only to Union Calendar bills, and not to bills on the House Calendar; and if the House desires to debate this question at any length, it can vote down the previous question whenever moved by the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. McFADDEN]. But the Chair holds that so far as the bills on the House Calendar are concerned, they are governed by the same rules as prevail on any other day, and that the two-hour debate rule applies only to bills on the Union Calendar.

"The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Pennsylvania for one hour."

JURISDICTION

A POINT OF ORDER THAT A COMMITTEE DOES NOT HAVE JURISDICTION OVER THE SUBJECT MATTER OF A BILL COMES TOO LATE IF THE COMMITTEE HAS REPORTED THE BILL AND CONSIDERATION HAS BEGUN IN THE HOUSE. (FEBRUARY 1, 1928.)

On February 1, 1928, the House proceeded to the consideration of the bill (H. R. 6491) to amend section 8 of the act entitled "An act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraint of monopolies, and for other purposes," approved October 15, 1914, as amended.

After some time spent in consideration of the bill, Mr. LaGUARDIA made the point of order that the bill was improperly before the House inasmuch as the Committee on Banking and Currency did not have jurisdiction over the subject matter embodied in the bill.

Mr. McFADDEN made the point of order that the point of order of Mr. LaGUARDIA came too late.

The SPEAKER said:

"The Chair is prepared to rule. The Chair recalls when this bill was before him for reference that the reference was correct, in matter and it was quite clear that the reference was correct, in view of the fact this is an amendment of the Federal Reserve act, and under the rules the Committee on Banking and Currency has jurisdiction of questions arising under the Federal Reserve act; but whether that be true or not, the point of order is evidently made too late. The precedents are uniform that after a public bill has been reported it is too late to raise the point of order as to the jurisdiction of the Committee."

GERMANENESS

TO A BILL AMENDING SECTION 8 OF THE ACT ENTITLED "AN ACT TO SUPPLEMENT EXISTING LAWS AGAINST UNLAWFUL RESTRAINT OF MONOPOLIES, AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES," APPROVED OCTOBER 15, 1914, AS AMENDED, AN AMENDMENT PROVIDING FOR THE REPEAL OF A PROVISION OF THE ACT SOUGHT TO BE AMENDED, WAS HELD TO BE GERMANE. (FEBRUARY 1, 1928.)

On February 1, 1928, Mr. GOLDSBOROUGH moved to recommit the bill (H. R. 6491) to the Committee on Banking and Currency, with instructions to report the bill back to the House forthwith with an amendment, as follows:

Strike out all of the language after the enacting clause and insert in lieu of the matter stricken out the following language: That the last proviso of the second paragraph of section 8 of the act entitled "An act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies, and for other purposes," approved October 15, 1914, as amended, is hereby repealed: Provided, That nothing in this act shall affect relations already in existence.

Mr. McFADDEN made the point of order that the amendment was not germane to the bill.

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order and said: "The Chair is of the opinion that the motion to recommit is germane."

SENATE BILL

SENATE BILLS SIMILAR TO HOUSE BILLS ALREADY FAVORABLY REPORTED AND ON THE HOUSE CALENDAR MAY BE DISPOSED OF ON MOTION OF THE COMMITTEE REPORTING THE HOUSE BILL.

THIS RULE APPLIES EVEN THOUGH THE HOUSE MAY HAVE PREVIOUSLY PASSED THE HOUSE BILL.

THE FACT THAT A HOUSE BILL SUBSTANTIALLY THE SAME AS A SENATE BILL ON THE SPEAKER'S TABLE HAS PASSED THE HOUSE AND GONE TO THE SENATE DOES NOT DETRACT FROM THE PRIVILEGE OF THE SENATE BILL UNDER THE RULE. (FEBRUARY 15, 1928.)

On February 15, 1928, Mr. DENISON called up Senate bill 2348 from the Speaker's table.

Mr. DENISON then submitted the following inquiry: "Mr. Speaker, in this connection I would like to submit a parliamentary inquiry to the Speaker. It is the same inquiry I submitted yesterday afternoon to the Acting Speaker [Mr. TILSON]. When a Senate bill has been passed by the Senate and is messaged over to the House and is lying on the Speaker's table, and a similar bill, or a bill substantially similar, has been reported by a House committee, it is proper under the rules to move to take the Senate bill from the Speaker's table and consider it in the House. The question I wish to present is, Does the same rule apply where the House bill has not only been reported by the House committee but has been passed by the House and sent over to the Senate? When I propounded my inquiry yesterday afternoon there was some discussion about the matter, and there appeared quite a difference of opinion respecting it among several of our best parliamentarians, although the Acting Speaker [Mr. TILSON] seemed to be practically sure that the rule would apply in such a case just the same as if the House bill had been reported but not passed. I would like to present that inquiry to the Speaker before this bill is acted upon, in order that there may be a ruling of the present Speaker and the question may be definitely settled for the guidance of Members when similar questions hereafter arise."

The SPEAKER ruled:

"The Chair remembers that a short time ago the present occupant of the chair was about to make a ruling on the subject sustaining the right to call up a bill under these circumstances. However, at that time the gentleman calling up the bill changed his request to one of unanimous consent, so it was not necessary for the Chair to pass directly upon the question. The Chair, however, has before him a precisely similar situation which developed in the third session of the Sixty-second Congress, where a question arose as to whether a Senate bill could be called up as a matter of right when a similar House bill had been passed. Speaker Clark, in ruling on that question, decided, in substance, that the situation, in so far as the House bill was concerned, was the same whether it had been merely reported or had actually passed. Speaker Clark held that the same rule applied, and the present occupant of the chair, having been of that opinion hitherto and being reinforced by this ruling of Speaker Clark, has no hesitation in ruling that such a bill may be called up as a matter of right."

LIMITATION

A PROVISION DENYING THE USE OF AN APPROPRIATION FOR THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE NATIONAL PROHIBITION ACT WHICH DOES NOT GO SO FAR AS TO PLACE ADDITIONAL DUTIES UPON EXECUTIVES, BUT WHICH IS A MERE NEGATIVE ON THE APPROPRIATION WAS HELD TO BE A PROPER LIMITATION.

A LIMITATION MAY NOT GIVE AFFIRMATIVE DIRECTIONS NOR INTERFERE WITH THE DISCRETION OF AN OFFICER. IT MAY, HOWEVER, GO SO FAR AS TO CHANGE A POLICY OR NULLIFY AN ACT, PROVIDED THIS IS ACCOMPLISHED BY A RESTRICTION ON THE USE OF THE MONEY APPROPRIATED. (FEBRUARY 15, 1928.)

On February 15, 1928, Mr. LINTHICUM moved to recommit the bill (H. R. 10635) to the Committee on Appropriations with instructions to that committee to report the bill back to the House forthwith with the following amendment:

Add to the end of the bill the following as a new section: That no money herein appropriated for the enforcement of the national prohibition act shall be used in the preparation or issue of any permit for the removal or use of any industrial alcohol known to be denatured by any deadly poisonous drug.

Mr. BLANTON made the point of order that the amendment was legislation, and therefore not in order on the bill.

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order and said:

"The Chair was not present yesterday when this question was ruled on in Committee of the Whole, but the Chair understands that the amendment is practically the same. The Chair has read the debate and read the decision of the Chairman, the gentleman from Michigan [Mr. MICHENER], and thinks that the decision was quite correct. He therefore overrules the point of order."

GERMANENESS

TO A BILL PROVIDING THAT THE SECRETARY OF WAR SHALL ISSUE MEDALS TO VETERANS OF CERTAIN WARS, AN AMENDMENT PROPOSING THAT THE SECRETARIES OF THE NAVY AND OF THE TREASURY SHALL ISSUE MEDALS TO THE PERSONNEL OF THE NAVY AND THE COAST GUARD WAS HELD NOT TO BE GERMANE.

ONE SPECIFIC PROPOSITION MAY NOT BE AMENDED BY ANOTHER SPECIFIC PROPOSITION OR BY A GENERAL PROPOSITION. (MARCH 19, 1928.)

On March 19, 1928, the House was considering the Consent Calendar when the bill (H. R. 5789) was called, which provided as follows:

Be it enacted, etc., That the Secretary of War be, and he is hereby, authorized and directed to procure and issue without expense to persons entitled to them, and to the families of such as may be dead, the following service medals, together with the ribbons, clasps, stars, and similar devices as may be prescribed as a part thereof:

(a) Civil War campaign medal; (b) Indian campaign medal; (c) Spanish campaign medal; (d) Spanish War service medal; (e) Cuban occupation medal; (f) Porto Rico occupation medal; (g) Philippine campaign medal; (h) Philippine congressional medal; (i) China campaign medal; (j) Cuban pacification medal; (k) Mexican service medal; (l) Mexican border service medal; (m) Victory medal and clasps; (n) fourragere as an individual decoration; (o) any service medal or similar device hereafter authorized: Provided, That the fact that a person is not in or did not die in the service shall not preclude such gratuitous issue.

Sec. 2. That whenever any article presented under the provisions of this act shall have been lost, destroyed, or rendered unfit for use, without fault or neglect on the part of the owner, such article may, under such regulations as the Secretary of War may prescribe, be replaced at cost price: Provided, That to persons in the military service of the United States such article may be replaced free of charge.

Sec. 3. That the Secretary of War be, and he is hereby, authorized to expend from the appropriations for the support of the Army so much as may be necessary to defray the cost of the issues provided by this act.

Sec. 4. All laws or parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Mr. LINTHICUM offered the following amendment: Page 2, line 21, after the word "War," strike out "be, and he is" and insert:

The Secretary of the Navy and the Secretary of the Treasury be, and they are.

Mr. LaGUARDIA made the point of order that the amendment was not germane. The Speaker pro tempore [Mr. SNELL] ruled:

"The Chair is ready to rule. We have before us a proposition authorizing the Secretary of War to do certain things. The gentleman from Maryland seeks to amend this proposition by authorizing the Secretary of the Navy and the Secretary of the Treasury to do the same thing; in other words, the gentleman is offering to amend an individual proposition by a general provision so as to include several departments.

"There is a long list of precedents which state that one individual proposition may not be amended by another individual proposition even though the two may belong to the same class, such as admitting a Territory, an amendment providing for the admission of another Territory is not in order; to a bill providing pensions for veterans of the Indian wars, an amendment providing for pensions for veterans of the Mexican War is not in order. Also, in section 9809 there is a precedent exactly similar to the one pending, where to a bill for the relief of dependents of men in the Regular Army an amendment proposing to extend the benefits of the act to dependents of men in the National Guard and the Reserve Corps was held not to be germane. This decision was afterwards upheld by Speaker GILLET.

"The Chair therefore sustains the point of order."

TO A BILL PROVIDING FOR THE REFUND OF VISA FEES TO IMMIGRANTS WHO WERE EXCLUDED BECAUSE OF THE EXHAUSTION OF THE QUOTA, AN AMENDMENT PROPOSING TO ADMIT THESE IMMIGRANTS REGARDLESS OF THE QUOTA AND IN LIEU OF THE REFUND FEES WAS HELD NOT GERMANE. (MARCH 29, 1928.)

On March 29, 1928, the House as in Committee of the Whole was considering the bill (H. R. 12407) to authorize the refund of visa fees in certain cases. The first section of the bill was read, which provided as follows:

Be it enacted, etc., That any person who made application to a consular officer for the visa of his passport or other travel document, or to whom such a visa was issued, between July 1, 1923, and June 30, 1924, inclusive, shall, upon application made within two years after the enactment of this act, be entitled to a refund of the fees collected for such service if such person shows to the satisfaction of the officer to whom application for refund is made that he (1) never proceeded to the United States, or (2) proceeded to the United States under such visa and was excluded because of the exhaustion of the quota of his country or, if he arrived in the United States after June 30, 1924, because of his failure to have an immigration visa, required by the immigration act of 1924, or (3) proceeded to the United States under an immigration visa (whether or not he was admitted to the United States), having paid the required fee of $10 for such immigration visa and the application therefor.

In the event that any person entitled to the refund authorized in this act has died since the issuance of the visa of his passport or other travel document, or the execution of an application therefor, such refund may be made, upon application made within two years after the enactment of this act, to a duly authorized legal representative of the estate of such deceased person, or, if there is no duly authorized legal representative, then to the persons found by the Secretary of State to be entitled thereto.

Mr. SABATH offered the following amendment: Page 1, line 6, after the word "inclusive," insert the following: "shall be permitted to enter the United States outside of the quota."

Mr. BOX made the point of order that the amendment was not germane.

The SPEAKER ruled:

"The Chair is prepared to rule. The Chair can find nothing in this bill that has anything to do with the admission of immigrants, the quota notwithstanding. He thinks it clearly has nothing to do with any of the provisions of the bill as it exists, and is not germane, and therefore sustains the point of order."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

AN IMPUTATION IN A NEWSPAPER THAT "BLANTON MADE COP SIGN FALSE PAPER" WAS HELD SUFFICIENT TO GIVE THE MEMBER THE "RIGHT TO RISE TO A QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE."

IN SPEAKING TO A QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE THE MEMBER MUST CONFINE HIMSELF TO THE QUESTION THAT HE PRESENTS. (APRIL 9, 1928.)

On April 9, 1928, Mr. BLANTON rose to a question of personal privilege and submitted the following headline from a newspaper: "BLANTON made cop sign false paper."

The SPEAKER ruled that a question of personal privilege was involved.

After Mr. BLANTON had proceeded with his remarks for a short while, Mr. SNELL made the point of order that Mr. BLANTON was not confining himself to the question of privilege.

The SPEAKER said:

"The Chair thinks there is point in what the gentleman from New York [Mr. SNELL] says. The Chair does not think the headline in the newspapers of itself constitute a question of personal privilege. The Chair does think that the implication that the gentleman from Texas compelled a policeman to sign false statements does raise a question of personal privilege. The Chair thinks the gentleman should confine himself to that as closely as possible."

QUESTION OF CONSIDERATION

ON CALENDAR WEDNESDAY THE QUESTION OF CONSIDERATION IS PROPERLY RAISED ON UNION CALENDAR BILLS IN THE HOUSE BEFORE AUTOMATICALLY GOING INTO COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE HOUSE ON THE STATE OF THE UNION. (MAY 9, 1928)

On May 9, 1928 (Calendar Wednesday), Mr. CRISP, of Georgia, arose and propounded the following inquiry to the Speaker:

"Mr. Speaker, I desire to address a parliamentary inquiry to the Speaker. This is Calendar Wednesday. Under the rules of the House, the question of consideration is always in order. Under the Calendar Wednesday rule, when a bill on the Union Calendar is called up the House automatically resolves itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union to consider the bill. If a question of consideration is to be raised to the bill which has been called up, should that question be raised in the House or should it be raised in the committee after the House has resolved itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union? I am aware, of course, of the decision by Mr. Speaker Clark in which he ruled that the question should be raised in the committee. I know the Speaker has considered the matter. I do not know whether he has reached a determination as to what is the proper parliamentary procedure in such a case. Hence the inquiry. If the Speaker is prepared to and cares to answer that parliamentary inquiry I would be very glad to have him state whether the question must be raised in the House or in Committee of the Whole."

The SPEAKER, in reply, ruled:

"The Chair is glad to answer the question of the gentleman from Georgia [Mr. CRISP]. While not of extreme importance, the question raised is of considerable importance. The last time the question was raised in the House was on March 20 of this year, when the gentleman from Tennessee [Mr. GARNETT] raised the question of consideration in the House. The present occupant of the chair, following the precedents, held that the proper place to raise the question of consideration was in the committee. It was raised in the committee, and then the question came up as to whether the committee must at once report back to the House its decision on the question of consideration. The occupant of the chair at the time, the gentleman from Michigan [Mr. HOOPER], held that it did. Therefore the question was ultimately determined by the House, which voted to consider the bill."

"Now, it does seem perfectly apparent that on that occasion the House went through two practically useless motions: First, in going into Committee of the Whole; and then, second, raising the question of consideration and reporting back to the House what it had decided on the question of consideration, the House having ultimately to determine."

"Now, the Chair, of course, is rather loath, under the rules, to overturn by his decision long and well-established precedents; but numerous Speakers—at least one Speaker—expressed grave doubt some years ago as to whether we ought not to overrule this precedent, in response to a similar inquiry by the gentleman from Georgia [Mr. CRISP] as to whether the question of consideration should be raised in the House or in the committee; and Mr. Speaker GILLERT said:

"The Chair is not disposed to express his opinion offhand without careful study of the question as to which would be the better practice; but, as the gentleman from Georgia suggests, the ruling has been—and it was a very carefully considered ruling by the last Speaker of the House when this question came up—that the question of consideration should be raised in the committee, and not in the House; and although to raise the question of consideration in the committee is an anomaly, the Chair would not feel disposed to overrule that without a very thorough study and consideration of the question."

"The Chair has made careful investigation of that question, and has prepared a decision of some length, making quotations from the precedents, which, with the permission of the House he will insert in the Record without reading. But the Chair is decidedly of the opinion that the former decision should be overruled. In every other case and at every other time in the case of a Union Calendar bill the question is always raised in the House, and the reason announced by Mr. Speaker Clark, when he ruled that it ought to be raised in the committee, was on account of the phraseology of the Calendar Wednesday rule, which provides that on Calendar Wednesday 'bills called up from the Union Calendar shall be considered in the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union,' without the necessity of a motion being made, but it has frequently happened that in the case of a Union Calendar bill the gentleman in charge may ask unanimous consent that it be considered in the House as in Committee of the Whole, which is, after all, an intervening motion."

"So that the word 'automatically' as used in the Cannon decision does not apply to that. Speaker Clark held that the words 'bills called up from the Union Calendar shall be considered in the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union' meant that no intervening motion could be made; that the House must at once resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union. The Chair is inclined to think, though, that the logic of the situation is where the provision is that the House automatically resolves itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union that that phraseology was put in merely to make it unnecessary to move that the House go into the Committee of the Whole. That is certainly in the direction of speeding up legislation, because on a motion, of course, the question could be put and a roll call had. But the present occupant of the chair does not think that would preclude the raising of the question of consideration in the House at the beginning. It must be raised in the House finally. Therefore why should we go through the useless motion of going into the Committee of the Whole, have the question of consideration raised in the committee, and then reported back to the House for its ultimate action? The Chair thinks the logic of the situation is all in favor of overruling the previous precedents, and as the Chair has said, while he is not disposed as a general thing to overrule well-established precedents he thinks that the necessity of the case justifies him in doing so now. So the present occupant of the chair will say that when the question is raised the next time he will hold that the question of consideration should be raised in the House and not in the committee."

"On December 15, 1909, Mr. Mann, of Illinois, by direction of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, called up a bill on the Union Calendar. This day being Calendar Wednesday, the Speaker, Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, caused the Clerk to read clause 4 of Rule XXIV, and said:

"This bill is called up by direction of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce by the chairman of that committee. The part of the rule that governs the action of the House at this time is as follows:

"On a call of committee under this rule bills may be called up from either the House or the Union Calendar, excepting bills which are privileged under the rules; but bills called up from the Union Calendar shall be considered in Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union."

"So far as the Chair has recollection, whenever special orders which are rules of the House for special occasions have provided that the House should immediately resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the consideration of a bill, the invariable practice of the House has been that the Speaker should at once declare the House in committee without a vote of the House on the question. It seems to the Chair that the intent of the rule now in operation, as shown by its purpose and language, is that the House shall without vote be resolved into the Committee of the Whole for the consideration of the bill specified by the committee having the right at this time to call a bill up for consideration. If such were not the case, we would have a motion to resolve the House into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the consideration of the bill specified, with the possibility of a roll call, thus consuming time. And under the precedents for the prompt transaction of business, the Chair, in construing this rule, will declare the House in Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the consideration of the bill."

"At this time the Chair ruled that the House automatically resolved itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union, he evidently did not contemplate the possibility of a Member raising the question of consideration."

"In the above ruling there is no mention of it, although he does say that it does not require a motion to go into the committee. Ordinarily the motion to resolve into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union is equivalent to raising the question of consideration. In this connection, Speaker Cannon's attention was not directed to Rule XVI, providing for the raising of the question of consideration. In the decision it will be seen that the question of consideration is not raised directly. The Chair merely decided that the House automatically went into the Committee of the Whole."

"On April 15, 1914, Mr. Mann, of Illinois, propounded this inquiry to the Chair:

"Mr. Speaker, this bill is on the Union Calendar. Under the rules of the House, it being called up by the committee, the House automatically resolves itself into Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union. The parliamentary inquiry is, When is it in order to raise the question of consideration on the bill? I will say to the Chair that Mr. Speaker Cannon ruled under this same rule that it was in order in Committee of the Whole to raise the question of consideration. It must be in order some time, and I make the parliamentary inquiry as to whether it is in order now in the House or whether it would be in order in Committee of the Whole."

"Speaker pro tempore Alexander in reply said:

"The rule, paragraph 4, Rule XXIV, provides: "After the unfinished business has been disposed of the Speaker shall call each standing committee in regular order, and then select committees, and each committee when named may call up for consideration any bill reported by it on a previous day and on the House Calendar, and if the Speaker shall not complete the call of the committees before the House passes to other business he shall resume the next call where he left off, giving preference to the last bill under consideration."

"Paragraph 7, Rule XXIV, with reference to Calendar Wednesday, provides:

"7. On Wednesday of each week no business shall be in order except as provided by paragraph 4 of this rule, unless the House by a two-thirds vote on motion to dispense therewith shall otherwise determine. On such a motion there may be debate not to exceed five minutes for and against."

"On a call of committees under this rule bills may be called up from either the House or the Union Calendar, excepting bills which are privileged under the rules; but bills called up from the Union Calendar shall be considered in Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union."

"The unfinished business having been disposed of and the Committee on Revision of Laws having the right to call up bills reported from that committee for consideration, and that committee having called up a bill on the Union Calendar for consideration, it is the opinion of the Chair that it is the duty of the Speaker under the rules, paragraphs 4 and 7 of Rule XXIV, to declare that the House automatically resolves itself into Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the consideration of the bill and to call some one to preside in committee."

"Whether or not the question of consideration may be raised in committee, the Chair does not feel called upon to decide. He is inclined to the opinion, however, taking the spirit of the rule and the purpose it was intended to accomplish into consideration, that it is very doubtful if such a motion would be in order."

"The gentleman from Louisiana, Mr. Watkins, calls up the bill (H. R. 15578) to codify, revise, and amend the laws relating to the judiciary. The House automatically resolves itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the consideration of the bill."

"In this case Speaker pro tempore Alexander evidently had in mind the ruling of Speaker Cannon of the preceding year. It may be well to note that in this connection the Chair expressed doubt as to whether the question of consideration was in order in the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union."

"When the House automatically went into the Committee to consider the bill, Mr. Mann attempted to raise the question of consideration, but the committee rose before opportunity was given to pass on the question."

"On April 22, 1914—Calendar Wednesday—the bill was again called up and the House automatically went into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union. Mr. Mann demanded the question of consideration. Mr. Hay made the point of order against the demand for the question of consideration in the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union."

"Chairman Russell ruled as follows:

"The Chair would like to state, in the first place, that he believes that there ought to be some opportunity at some time for either the House or the committee to determine the question of consideration of any bill, and by a majority vote. The Chair has great respect for the opinion of the gentleman from Virginia, Mr. Saunders, but he can not agree with him that this rule is intended to enable the House to dispense with a part of Calendar Wednesday. As the Chair reads the rule and construes it, he is persuaded to believe that it means to dispense with the entire business of the day, or none. There are several reasons; among them there are several decisions of the Speakers of the House that there shall be no preference between House bills and Union Calendar bills upon the calendar on Wednesday. While it is admitted and has frequently been ruled that a majority vote on a House Calendar bill will prevent its consideration, and the argument is made which, if correct, would require a two-thirds vote to dispense with one that was on the Union Calendar, so there would be a distinction. Now, if this were an original proposition, the Chair is disposed to believe that he would have held that under Rule III that the consideration could have been raised before the House resolved itself into the Committee of the Whole House. The Chair knows that question may be raised where a motion is made to go into the Committee of the Whole House to consider a bill. The rule reads this way:

"When any motion or proposition is made, the question, Will the House now consider it? will not be put, unless demanded by a Member."

"It say 'any motion or proposition.' The Chair is inclined to believe that this was intended to cover cases of this sort. When a bill is called it is a proposition, it would seem to the Chair, to go into the Committee of the Whole to consider the bill, not a motion, because you automatically go into the Committee of the Whole House to consider a bill on the calendar, if on the Union Calendar, as this bill was. If it were an original proposition, he would feel disposed to hold that at that time the question of consideration might have been raised in the House. But the Chair is impressed with the belief that there ought to be some time when a majority of the House or the Committee of the Whole House can determine whether or not it will consider a bill. In view of the ruling of Speaker Cannon and Speaker pro tempore Mr. Alexander, who, in this very case, decided when the motion was made raising the question of consideration that it could not be raised at that time. I think the opportunity to raise the question should now be permitted. Speaker Cannon decided that after you go into the Committee of the Whole House in a matter exactly like this—

"The question being taken on the demand for the question of consideration, the committee decided not to consider the bill."

"In the House, a point of order being made against the report of the Chairman of the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union, Speaker Clark ruled as follows:

"The Chair is ready to rule. There are several questions involved in this matter, and the Chair will try to straighten them all out."

"Until the Calendar Wednesday rule was made it was the privilege of any Member of the House to raise the question of consideration on any bill, resolution, or proposition. Speaker Reed once said that the purpose of all rules was to expedite business and not retard it. That is the correct light in which to examine them all."

"The House has the right to do as it pleases about any bill, and should have a chance to express its opinion. If it does not want to consider it, it has a perfect right to say that it will not consider it. That is no abridgment of anybody's privilege. It is to maintain the integrity of the House. The gentleman from Kentucky, Mr. Sherley, has a very terse and luminous way of stating things, and on the 14th day of December, 1910, he delivered these remarks:

"Mr. Speaker, if the Chair will permit me, it seems to me that the surest way to determine every debatable proposition is by answering the question. What ruling gives the House the greatest freedom? Now, the purpose of Calendar Wednesday was not to guarantee that certain committees should have certain bills considered but that they should have an opportunity to present bills that they had reported, and then the House should have the right to say whether it would consider them or not."

"And so forth. Now, until the Calendar Wednesday rule, as I said, was adopted, you could raise the question of consideration on any legislative proposition. Most of the men who have participated in this long debate here to-day—and the Speaker remained in the Chamber and heard every word—were here when this Calendar Wednesday rule was adopted, and we know precisely why it was adopted. In those same remarks the gentleman from Kentucky, Mr. Sherley, stated this:

"The abuse that Calendar Wednesday was meant to cure was the constant feeding into the House of matters that had privilege and prevented the calling of the calendar; but it was not meant, by making a call of the calendar peremptory on certain days, to compel the House necessarily to consider matters on the calendar but simply to give the House opportunity to consider them."

"That is the exact truth about this, and the complaints that led to the adoption of Calendar Wednesday were precisely what the gentleman from Kentucky says they were—that committees went to work and reported bills and never got any chance to call them up. The call of the committees has been a part of the House proceedings, I suppose, from the beginning; anyhow, antedating any of us. But they fell into the habit of crowding privileged matters in here, sometimes on purpose and sometimes in the ordinary course of business, so that Members could not get their bills up at all, and therefore we established Calendar

Wednesday. Nobody has any disposition to overthrow it. I know that the Chair has none.

"The reading of that Calendar Wednesday rule is peculiar. It provides:

"On a call of committees under this rule bills may be called up from either the House or the Union Calendar, excepting bills which are privileged under the rules."

"That last clause was put in there to prevent any of the big committees having jurisdiction of appropriations, revenue bills, etc., from crowding in on Calendar Wednesday. They have to stand aside on Wednesday and let somebody else have the right of way. The rule provides further:

"But bills called up from the Union Calendar shall be considered in Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union."

"Now, I differ with these gentlemen, and I agree with Speaker Cannon and the temporary Speaker, Mr. Alexander. I do not believe that any other reasonable construction can be put upon that clause except that it meant an automatic going into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union; and the reason why that was done was to prevent filibustering on going into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union. I know that is so, because I was here, and while I was not on the Committee on Rules I participated in the establishment of that rule.

"There must be some place, somewhere—there ought to be, at least—to raise the question of consideration; and failing to be able to raise the question of consideration in the House in the first instance on bills on the Union Calendar on Wednesday it ought to be permitted to be raised in committee. As to the suggestion that somebody made—that 51 members in Committee of the Whole could upset the proceedings—the Chair is inclined to believe with the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. Mann], that when a report like this is brought in it ought to be ratified by the House.

"The Chair does not believe that the committee is acting ultra vires when it reports to the House that it will not consider this bill any more on this occasion. The Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union had its origin in England, and its history, which need not be stated here, is a very interesting one. It is simply a committee of the House, that is all it is, just like the Committee on Ways and Means, the Committee on Appropriations, etc., except that 100 Members make a quorum and 51 are a majority of a quorum. The Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union has the right to make its recommendations to the House. Of course, as the gentleman from Georgia, Mr. Bartlett, suggested, it might make some recommendation which was beyond its power. Now, if anyone does not like this Calendar Wednesday rule, the right thing to do is to offer an amendment to it. That is easy enough to do.

"In the first place, the Chair sustains the ruling of Speaker Cannon and of Temporary Speaker Alexander, and he sustains the contention that you may raise the question of consideration on Calendar Wednesday—on no other day—in the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union. On every other day you have the opportunity to raise it in the first instance in the House. The motion to go into the committee raises the question on every other day.

"Secondly, the Chair thinks that in this case the motion ought to be put to the House, which is the greater body, and the controlling body, as it takes 217 to make a quorum in the House, just as the House votes on the recommendation of the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union when the committee reports back a bill with the recommendation that it lie on the table or with the recommendation that the bill do not pass or with the recommendation that the enacting clause be stricken out or that everything after the enacting clause be stricken out. The committee has the right to report any one of those recommendations.

"Therefore the question is on agreeing to the recommendation of the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union."

"On October 1, 1919, Mr. CHAIR, of Georgia, rising to a parliamentary inquiry, said:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the opinion of the Chair as to this question: I know that it has been ruled in the House that on Calendar Wednesday, when a bill is on the Union Calendar and is called up, the House automatically goes into Committee of the Whole to consider it, and that the question of consideration should be raised in the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union. I know that has been ruled several times, but I want to ask the opinion of the Chair if the Chair does not think it would be better practice for the question of consideration to be raised in the House before we go into the Committee of the Whole, for this reason:

"The Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union is an agent or creature of the House, and if the House goes into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union, directing the committee to consider a bill, may the question of consideration then be raised in the committee as to whether the committee will consider it when the House has gone into Committee of the Whole directing that committee to consider it? I just want to present that proposition to the Speaker. I will say to the Speaker very frankly that the rulings have been that the question of consideration is not raised until we get into the Committee of the Whole, when we go automatically into the Committee of the Whole; but it seems to me that the logic of it is that the better practice would be to determine in those cases whether we would consider it before taking up the time of the House to go into the Committee of the Whole."

"Speaker GILBERT replied:

"The Chair is not disposed to express his opinion offhand without careful study of the question as to which would be the better practice; but, as the gentleman from Georgia suggests, the ruling has been—and it was a very carefully considered ruling by the last Speaker of the House when this question came up—that the question of consideration should be raised in the committee and not in the House; and although to raise the question of consideration in the committee is an anomaly, the Chair would not feel disposed to overrule that without a very thorough study and consideration of the question."

"On December 17, 1924, it being Calendar Wednesday, Mr. LA GUARDIA, of New York, by direction of the Committee on the Post Office and Post Roads, called up a bill establishing an air mail service, which was on the Union Calendar. Mr. THOMAS L. BLANTON, of Texas, raised the question of consideration against the bill. The question being taken, the Speaker [Mr. GILBERT] announced:

"The House automatically resolves itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union."

"On April 28, 1926, when the Committee on Foreign Affairs was reached on Calendar Wednesday call of committees, Mr. FISH, of New York, in behalf of that committee, called up a bill to erect an American military monument in France. Mr. CONNALLY of Texas offered as privileged the motion to dispense with proceedings in order on Calendar Wednesday under the Calendar Wednesday rule. Speaker pro tempore SNELL ruled the motion out as not being privileged over the right of Mr. FISH to call up the bill. Thereupon Mr. CONNALLY raised the question of consideration against the bill. The question being put, it was decided in the affirmative."

The Committee on Military Affairs having the call, Mr. MOHR, chairman of the committee, called up Senate Joint Resolution 46.

Mr. LINTHICUM raised the question of consideration.

The SPEAKER put the question, Shall the House consider the joint resolution?

INDEX-DIGEST OF QUESTIONS OF ORDER
DECIDED IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES DURING THE FIRST SESSION OF THE SEVENTIETH CONGRESS

Consideration, Question of: On Calendar Wednesday the question of consideration is properly raised on Union Calendar bills in the House before automatically going into Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union.	1016	Jurisdiction: A point of order that a committee does not have jurisdiction over the subject matter of a bill comes too late if the committee has reported the bill and consideration has begun in the House.	1014
Debate: House bills called up on Calendar Wednesday do not come under the rule providing for two hours' debate.	1013	Limitation: A provision denying the use of an appropriation for the enforcement of the national prohibition act which does not go so far as to place additional duties upon executives, but which is a mere negative on the appropriation was held to be a proper limitation.	1014
Germaneness: To a joint resolution providing for a commission to investigate and report upon the facts connected with the sinking of a submarine, an amendment providing that the President should begin negotiations looking to agreements and treaties with other nations that will outlaw the use of submarines in warfare, was held not germane.	1013	Privilege, personal: An imputation in a newspaper that "Blanton made cop sign false paper" was held sufficient to give the Member the right to rise to a question of personal privilege.	1015
To a joint resolution providing for a commission to investigate and report upon the facts connected with the sinking of a submarine, an amendment providing that the commission may recommend to the Congress an appropriation for the relief of the families of the crew of the submarine, was held not germane.	1013	Quorum: When a motion is made to go into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union to consider a bill, and pending that motion unanimous consent is asked limiting and controlling the time and a point of no quorum is made, all business must cease until a quorum is present. The Speaker may, after announcing that a quorum is present, put the unanimous-consent request before announcing the result of the roll call.	1013
To a bill amending section 8 of the act entitled "An act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraint of monopolies, and for other purposes," approved October 15, 1914, as amended, an amendment providing for the repeal of the provision of the act sought to be amended, was held to be germane.	1014	Resolutions: Simple resolutions of the Senate are messages to the House merely for the information of the House. No action in the House is required on such resolutions. A motion in the House to refer the resolution to the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union or to the Committee on Ways and Means is not in order.	1013
To a bill providing that the Secretary of War shall issue medals to veterans of certain wars, an amendment proposing that the Secretaries of the Navy and of the Treasury shall issue medals to the personnel of the Navy and the Coast Guard, was held not to be germane.	1015	Senate bill: Senate bills similar to House bills already favorably reported and on the House Calendar may be disposed of on motion of the committee reporting the House bill. This rule applies even though the House may have previously passed the House bill.	1014
To a bill providing for the refund of visa fees to immigrants who were excluded because of the exhaustion of the quota, an amendment proposing to admit these immigrants regardless of the quota and in lieu of the refund fees, was held not germane.	1015
