In the course of the investigation the commission shall hold hearings and give reasonable public notice thereof, and shall afford reasonable opportunity for parties interested to be present, to produce evidence, and to be heard at such hearings. The commission is authorized to adopt such reasonable procedure and rules and regulations as it deems necessary to execute its functions under this section. In no case shall the total increase or decrease of such rates of duty exceed 50 per centum of the rates expressly fixed by statute.

(b) Change to American selling price: If the commission finds upon any such investigation that such differences can not be equalized by proceeding as hereinbefore provided, it shall so state in its report to the President and shall specify therein such ad valorem rates of duty based upon the American selling price (as defined in section 402 (g)) of the domestic article, as it finds shown by the investigation to be necessary to equalize such differences. In no case shall the total decrease of such rates of duty exceed 50 per centum of the rates expressly fixed by statute, and no such rate shall be increased.

(c) Proclamation by the President: The President shall by proclamation approve the rates of duty and changes in classification and in basis of value specified in any report of the commission under this section, if in his judgment such rates of duty and changes are shown by such investigation of the commission to be necessary to equalize such differences in costs of production.

(d) Effective date of rates and changes: Commencing thirty days after the date of any presidential proclamation of approval the increased or decreased rates of duty and changes in classification or in basis of value specified in the report of the commission shall take effect.

(g) Prohibition against transfers from the free list to the dutiable list or from the dutiable list to the free list: Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize a transfer of an article from the dutiable list to the free list or from the free list to the dutiable list, nor a change in form of duty. Whenever it is provided in any paragraph of Title I of this act, or in any amendatory act, that the duty or duties shall not exceed a specified ad valorem rate upon the articles provided for in such paragraph, no rate determined under the provisions of this section upon such articles shall exceed the maximum ad valorem rate so specified.

WORLD WAR VETERANS' LEGISLATION—VETO MESSAGE

The SPEAKER laid before the House the message from the President, which was read, as follows:

To the House of Representatives:

I am returning herewith House bill 10381 without approval.

One of the most repugnant tasks which can fall to this office is to disapprove of measures intended to benefit our sick or disabled men who have served our country in war. Perhaps as much as any other person, I have full realization of the task, the hardships, and the dangers to which the Nation ordered its sons. In sentiment and in sympathy I should desire no greater satisfaction than to support just measures which are proposed for their benefit. But I want a square deal between veterans—not unjust discriminations between special groups, and I do not want wasteful or unnecessary expenditures.

The country already generously provides for the 280,000 men whose health or earning power is shown to have been impaired by their service in the war and for 91,000 dependents of the men who suffered or died. That is and should be a first charge upon the Nation.

This measure, except for a small part, adds nothing to aid of veterans wounded or disabled in the war. It is a radical departure from our full commitment to provide compensation to men for war disability into the field of pension to men who have incurred disabilities as the incident of civil life since the war and having no valid relation to their military service. It provides that in respect to veterans who between the years 1925 and 1930 shall have become afflicted with any one of an extensive category of diseases and thus disabled, there is established a "presumption" that these diseases originated from their service and that they should be "compensated" or pensioned upon the basis of men who suffered as the result of actual military service. This provision would give war disability benefits to from 75,000 to 100,000 men who were not disabled as the result of war. In other words, the bill purports to establish that men who have enjoyed good health for a minimum of 7 years (from 1918 to 1925) since the war, or a maximum of 12 years (to 1930),. and who have then become afflicted, have received such affliction from their war service.

I am informed by the Director of the Veterans' Bureau that the medical council of the bureau, consisting of most eminent physicians and surgeons, supported by the whole experience of the bureau, agree conclusively that this legal "presumption" that affliction from diseases mentioned in the bill between 1925 and 1930 is not a physical possibility and that the presumption constitutes a wholly false and fictitious basis for legislation in veterans' aid. This is confirmed by a recent resolution of so eminent a body as the American Medical Association.

The spectacle of the Government practicing subterfuge in order to say that what did not happen in the war did happen in war impairs the integrity of government, reduces the respect for government, and undermines the morale of all the people.

The practical effects of this enactment of a fictitious "presumption" into law are widespread. It creates a long train of injustices and inequalities. The first is to place men of this class who have in fact been disabled in civil life since the war upon the same basis as the men who were wounded in battle and suffered the exposures of the trenches. But a second injustice immediately arises. The Veterans' Bureau estimates that there are somewhere in the neighborhood of 380,000 possible cases of disability incurred in civil life since the war amongst the 4,300,000 living veterans. By this legislation all except somewhere between 75,000 and 100,000 of these men are excluded from this aid by the Government except for benefits which they already receive by hospitalization, the bonus, and insurance. This bill would, therefore, create a preferred group of one-third among the men who are suffering from disabilities incurred in civil life since the war.

The further injustice of this bill may become more apparent when it is realized that men who were enrolled in the Army who remained but comparatively a few days or weeks in service, without ever leaving their home States, will receive aid upon the same basis as those men who passed through the Battle of the Argonne. They may come upon the Government pay roll for life in case of total disability at rates from $80 to $200 per month. Beyond this again, under the provisions of this bill as it affects the existing law, many thousands of men who have in fact incurred their disabilities in civil life may receive larger allowances from the Government than the men actually wounded at the front.

It has been contended that the Government has the right to disprove the "presumption" that any of the long list of diseases enumerated in this bill are not of war origin. But the burden of such proof is placed upon the Government, and all the experience of the Veterans' Bureau shows that such rebuttal is ineffective, as the evidence surrounding such questions as a rule can not be secured or made clear and conclusive.

Additional inequalities and injustices arise from certain other provisions. At the present time any veteran who may become ill or disabled as the incident of civil life is received in Government hospitals if there is a vacant bed, and given free treatment. This bill provides that such cases received in the hospitals shall in addition to free treatment also receive cash allowances, and that a dependency allowance under certain restrictions shall be made to their families. The number of men of this type who are taken into Federal hospitals depends upon the number of beds unoccupied by men actually disabled from illness or injury incurred during the war, that being the major purpose of the hospitals. It is, therefore, a matter of accident or luck as to whether a given veteran, ill from sickness arising in civil life, is able to secure these facilities. An ill and destitute veteran may not have the luck to find a bed, in which case he neither receives treatment nor does his family receive an allowance. Yet a veteran of independent means may be fortunate enough to secure both. This is neither equitable nor just.

This bill departs from the traditional basis upon which we have given support to the veterans of the Civil and Spanish Wars. We have always recognized the principle in that legislation that the veterans of less than 90 days' service, unless they have a disability incurred in line of duty, should be excluded from benefits, because such men have not been called to actual war service. Recently in the Spanish War veterans' bill, against my protest, this was reduced to 70 days, but in the bill we are here considering there is no requirement whatever of service, and a man with one day's service after enrollment is entitled to all of the benefits. Here we create at once an injustice between veterans of different wars and between men whose lives were endangered and those who incurred no risks.

There is no provision in this bill against men of independent means claiming benefits from the Government for these disabilities arising in civil life. Surely it is of vital importance to the taxpayers, who directly or indirectly include all veterans themselves, that they shall not be called upon to contribute to such men of independent means. Moreover, it is equally important that the amount the Nation can find for this burden should not be dissipated over those without need but should be devoted to those who are in actual need. A declaration of destitution and pauperism from veterans is not necessary. I have never advocated such a declaration. It can, however, easily be provided in any legislation that the Secretary of the Treasury should return to the Veterans' Bureau a statement of the men who are exempt from income taxes at some level to be determined by Congress.

I have already protested to Congress in other connections against the inclusion of compensation for disablement due to vicious habits. This bill contemplates compensation for some misconduct disabilities the whole conception of which must be repugnant to decent family life.

No government can proceed with intelligence that does not take into account the fiscal effects of its actions. The bill in a wasteful and extravagant manner goes far beyond the financial necessities of the situation. General Hines, after renewed examination, reports that this bill as finally passed will cost $110,000,000 the first year; that this will increase to an annual burden of $235,000,000 and continue during the life of these veterans. The provision in the bill for review after three years, in my view, will never relieve us from commitments once entered upon. And this is but a portion of the costs, because the bill as enacted contains indirect liabilities to the Government of uncertain but very large possibilities. The amendments to section 19 of the World War veterans' act will increase the liabilities of the Government by a total of over $40,000,000, and the amendments to section 206 or 209 of the act will increase liabilities to a substantial but uncertain amount.

These costs are beyond the capacity of the Government at the present time without increased taxation. They are larger than the veterans have themselves proposed.

Beyond this, and of vital importance, are the potential obligations which are created and must finally be met. For instance, if we attempt to set up a system of relief to veterans suffering from disabilities incurred in civil life by establishing the "presumptions" of this bill, then we can not with fairness stop with a preferred group of 75,000 to 100,000 men. We shall have to extend these "presumptions" step by step over the entire group of 380,000. The additional cost upon the basis of the first 100,000 could readily add another $150,000,000 or $200,000,000 a year. If we are going to make cash allowances to men disabled from sickness or accident arising in civil life now in Government hospitals, together with cash allowances to their families, we must consider the fate of others in the same class who are so unfortunate as not to be able to find an empty bed. There are approximately 13,000 such cases of illness arising from civil life in the Federal hospitals at the present time. The medical council of the Veterans' Bureau states that there are at least 89,000 such cases that will eventually have a right to hospitalization if beds are available. In addition to hospitals now building, we should need to expend another $140,000,000 in construction to take care of such further cases, and then be faced with an annual maintenance cost of about $60,000,000, all in addition to what we are providing now. To this again must be added the cash allowance to the further number of men for whom we make additional beds available in hospitals, and the allowance to their families, which will in itself aggregate a further great annual sum.

It is disagreeable to point out these potentialities lest it be thought that the Government begrudges its veterans. I am not presenting these reasons in any such sense but in order that Congress and the country may be apprised of the real magnitude of the burden imposed and of the injustices arising from this legislation.

Even if I were able to overlook these burdens, for monetary considerations are indeed secondary, I can not overlook the discriminations and injustices which this legislation creates, together with its failure to meet the real need that exists to-day among our veterans in a fundamental and sound manner.

HERBERT HOOVER.

So, two-thirds not having voted in favor thereof, the House refused to pass the bill over the objections of the President.

The message, together with the bill, was referred to the Committee on World War Veterans' Legislation and ordered to be printed.

Mr. JOHNSON of South Dakota then moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H. R. 13174) to amend the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended, as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That section 5 of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended (sec. 426, title 38, U. S. C.), be hereby amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 5. The director, subject to the general direction of the President, shall administer, execute, and enforce the provisions of this act, and for that purpose shall have full power and authority to make rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, which are necessary or appropriate to carry out its purposes, and shall decide all questions arising under this act; and all decisions of questions of fact affecting any claimant to the benefits of Titles II, III, or IV of this act shall be conclusive except as otherwise provided herein. All officers and employees of the bureau shall perform such duties as may be assigned them by the director. All official acts performed by such officers or employees specially designated therefor by the director shall have the same force and effect as though performed by the director in person. Wherever under any provision or provisions of the act regulations are directed or authorized to be made, such regulations, unless the context otherwise requires, shall or may be made by the director. The director shall adopt reasonable and proper rules to govern the procedure of the divisions and to regulate and provide for the nature and extent of the proofs and evidence and the method of taking and furnishing the same in order to establish the right to benefits of compensation, insurance, vocational training, or maintenance and support allowance provided for in this act, the forms of application of those claiming to be entitled to such benefits, the methods of making investigations and medical examinations, and the manner and form of adjudications and awards: Provided, That regulations relating to the nature and extent of the proofs and evidence shall provide that due regard shall be given to lay and other evidence not of a medical nature."

SEC. 2. That section 10 of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended (sec. 434, title 38, U. S. C.), be hereby amended by adding thereto the following paragraphs:

"The director is further authorized to secure such recreational facilities, supplies, and equipment for the use of patients in hospitals, and for employees at isolated stations as he, in his discretion, may deem necessary, and the appropriations made available for the carrying out of the provisions of this section may be expended for that purpose."

SEC. 3. That section 16 of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended (sec. 442, title 38, U. S. C.), be hereby amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 16. All sums heretofore appropriated for the military and naval insurance appropriation and all premiums collected for the yearly renewable term insurance provided by the provisions of Title III deposited and covered into the Treasury to the credit of this appropriation, shall, where unexpended, be made available for the bureau. All premiums that may hereafter be collected for the yearly renewable term insurance provided by the provisions of Title III hereof shall be deposited and covered into the Treasury for the credit of this appropriation. Such sum, including all premium payments, is made available for the payment of the liabilities of the United States incurred under contracts of yearly renewable term insurance made under the provisions of Title III, including the refund of premiums and such liabilities as shall have been or shall hereafter be reduced to judgment in a district court of the United States or in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia. Payments from this appropriation shall be made upon and in accordance with the awards by the director."

SEC. 4. That section 19 of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended (sec. 445, title 38, U. S. C.), be hereby amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 19. In the event of disagreement as to claim, including claim for refund of premiums, under a contract of insurance between the bureau and any person or persons claiming thereunder an action on the claim may be brought against the United States either in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia or in the district court of the United States in and for the district in which such persons or any one of them resides, and jurisdiction is hereby conferred upon such courts to hear and determine all such controversies. The procedure in such suits shall be the same as that provided in sections 5 and 6 of the act entitled 'An act to provide for the bringing of suits against the Government of the United States,' approved March 3, 1887, and section 10 thereof so far as applicable. All persons having or claiming to have an interest in such insurance may be made parties to such suit, and such as are not inhabitants of or found within the district in which suit is brought may be brought in by order of the court to be served personally or by publication or in such other reasonable manner as the court may direct. In all cases where the bureau acknowledges the indebtedness of the United States upon any such contract of insurance and there is a dispute as to the person or persons entitled to payment, a suit in the nature of a bill of interpleader may be brought by the bureau in the name of the United States against all persons having or claiming to have any interest in such insurance in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia or in the district court in and for the district in which any of such claimants reside: Provided, That no less than 30 days prior to instituting such suit the bureau shall mail a notice of such intention to each of the persons to be made parties to the suit. The circuit courts of appeal and the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia shall respectively exercise appellate jurisdiction and, except as provided in section 346 and 347, title 28, United States Code, the decrees of the circuit courts of appeal and the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia shall be final.

"No suit shall be allowed under this section unless the same shall have been brought within six years after the right accrued for which the claim is made prior to May 29, 1929, whichever is the later date: Provided, That for the purposes of this section it shall be deemed that the right accrued on the happening of the contingency on which the claim is founded: Provided further, That this limitation is suspended for the period elapsing between the filing in the bureau of the claim sued upon and the denial of said claim by the director. Infants, insane persons, or persons under other legal disability, or persons rated as incompetent or insane by the bureau shall have three years in which to bring suit after the removal of their disabilities. If suit is seasonably begun and fails for defect in process, or for other reasons not affecting the merits, a new action, if one lies, may be brought within a year though the period of limitations has elapsed. Judgments heretofore rendered against the person or persons claiming under the contract of war-risk insurance on the ground that the claim was barred by the statute of limitations shall not be a bar to the institution of another suit on the same claim. No State or other statute of limitations shall be applicable to suits filed under this section.

"In any suit, action, or proceeding brought under the provisions of this act subpœnas for witnesses who are required to attend a court of the United States in any district may run into any other district: Provided, That no writ of subpœna shall issue for witnesses living out of the district in which the court is held at a greater distance than 100 miles from the place of holding the same without the permission of the court being first had upon proper application and cause shown. The word 'district' and the words 'district court' as used herein shall be construed to include the District of Columbia and the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia.

"Attorneys of the bureau when assigned to assist in the trial of cases, and employees of the bureau when ordered in writing by the director to appear as witnesses shall be paid the regular travel and subsistence allowance paid to other employees when on official travel status.

"Part time and fee basis employees of the bureau, in addition to their regular travel and subsistence allowance, when ordered in writing by the director to appear as witnesses in suits under this section, may be allowed, within the discretion and under written orders of the director, a fee in an amount not to exceed $20 per day.

"Employees of the United States Veterans' Bureau who are subpœnaed to attend the trial of any suit under the provisions of this act as witnesses for plaintiffs shall be granted official leave for the period they are required to be away from the bureau in answer to such subpœnas.

"The term 'claim' as used in this section means any writing which alleges permanent and total disability at a time when the contract of insurance was in force, or which uses words showing an intention to claim insurance benefits; and the term 'disagreement' means a denial of the claim by the director or some one acting in his name on an appeal to the director. This section, as amended, with the exception of this paragraph, shall apply to all suits now pending against the United States under the provisions of the war risk insurance act, as amended, or the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended."

SEC. 5. That a new subdivision be added to section 21 of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended (sec. 450, title 38, U. S. C.), to be known as subdivision (3), and to read as follows:

"(3) All or any part of the compensation or insurance the payment of which is suspended or withheld under this section may, in the discretion of the director, be paid temporarily to the person having custody and control of the incompetent or minor beneficiary to be used solely for the benefit of such beneficiary, or, in the case of an incompetent veteran, may be apportioned to the dependent or dependents, if any, of such veteran. Any part not so paid and any funds of a mentally incompetent or insane veteran not paid to the chief officer of the institution in which such veteran is an inmate or apportioned to his dependent or dependents under the provisions of section 202 (7) of this act may be ordered held in the Treasury to the credit of such beneficiary. All funds so held shall be disbursed under the order and in the discretion of the director for the benefit of such veteran or his dependents. Any balance remaining in such fund to the credit of any veteran may be paid to him if he recovers and is found competent, or otherwise to his guardian, curator, or conservator, or, in the event of his death, to his personal representatives, except as provided in section 26 of this act: Provided, That payment will not be made to his personal representative if, under the law of the State of his last legal residence, his estate would escheat to the State: Provided further, That any funds in the hands of a guardian, curator, conservator, or person legally vested with the care of the veteran or his estate, derived from compensation, automatic or term insurance payable under said acts, which under the law of the State wherein the veteran had his last legal residence would escheat to the State, shall escheat to the United States and shall be returned by such guardian, curator, conservator, or person legally vested with the care of the veteran or his estate, less legal expenses of any administration necessary to determine that an escheat is in order, to the bureau, and shall be deposited to the credit of the current appropriations provided for payment of compensation and insurance."

SEC. 6. That section 28 of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended (sec. 453, title 38, U. S. C.), be hereby amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 28. There shall be no recovery of payments from any person who, in the judgment of the director, is without fault on his part and where, in the judgment of the director, such recovery would defeat the purpose of benefits otherwise authorized or would be against equity and good conscience. No disbursing officer shall be held liable for any amount paid by him to any person where the recovery of such amount is waived under this section.

"When under the provisions of this section the recovery of a payment made from the United States Government life insurance fund is waived, the United States Government life insurance fund shall be reimbursed for the amount involved from the current appropriation for military and naval insurance.

"This section, as amended, shall be deemed to be in effect as of June 7, 1924."

SEC. 7. That section 30 of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended (sec. 456, title 38, U. S. C.), be hereby amended by adding thereto a new subdivision to be known as subdivision (e), and to read as follows:

"(e) The director may authorize an inspection of bureau records by duly authorized representatives of the organizations designated in or approved by him under section 500 of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended, under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe."

SEC. 8. That a new section be added to Title I of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended, to be known as section 37, and to read as follows:

"SEC. 37. Checks properly issued to beneficiaries and undelivered for any reason shall be retained in the files of the bureau until such time as delivery may be accomplished, or until three full fiscal years have elapsed after the end of the fiscal year in which issued."

SEC. 9. That a new section be added to Title I of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended, to be known as section 38, and to read as follows:

"SEC. 38. The director is hereby authorized to purchase uniforms for all personnel employed as watchmen, elevator operators, and elevator starters in the Arlington Building, city of Washington, D. C."

SEC. 10. That a new section be added to Title I of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended, to be known as section 39, and to read as follows:

"SEC. 39. The Secretary of War is hereby authorized and directed to transfer to and accumulate in the War Department in the city of Washington, D. C., all records and files containing information regarding medical and service records of veterans of the World War: Provided, That the necessary appropriation to accomplish the transfer of such records and files is hereby authorized."

SEC. 11. That section 200 of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended (sec. 471, title 38, U. S. C.), be hereby amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 200. For death or disability, resulting from personal injury suffered or disease contracted in the military or naval service on or after April 6, 1917, and before July 2, 1921, or for an aggravation or recurrence of a disability existing prior to examination, acceptance, and enrollment for service, when such aggravation was suffered or contracted in, or such recurrence was caused by, the military or naval service on or after April 6, 1917, and before July 2, 1921, by any commissioned officer or enlisted man, or by any member of the Army Nurse Corps (female), or of the Navy Nurse Corps (female), when employed in the active service under the War Department or Navy Department, the United States shall pay to such commissioned officer or enlisted man, member of the Army Nurse Corps (female), or of the Navy Nurse Corps (female), or women citizens of the United States who were taken from the United States by the United States Government and who served in base hospitals overseas, or, in the discretion of the director, separately to his or her dependents, compensation as hereinafter provided; but no compensation shall be paid if the injury, disease, aggravation, or recurrence has been caused by his own willful misconduct: Provided, That no person suffering from paralysis, paresis, or blindness shall be denied compensation by reason of willful misconduct, nor shall any person who is helpless or bedridden as a result of any disability be denied compensation by reason of willful misconduct. That for the purposes of this section and section 304 every such officer, enlisted man, or other member employed in the active service under the War Department or Navy Department who was discharged or who resigned prior to July 2, 1921, and every such officer, enlisted men, or other member employed in the active service under the War Department or Navy Department on or before November 11, 1918, who on or after July 2, 1921, is discharged or resigns, shall be conclusively held and taken to have been in sound condition when examined, accepted, and enrolled for service, except as to defects, disorders, or infirmities made of record in any manner by proper authorities of the United States at the time of, or prior to, inception of active service, to the extent to which any such defect, disorder, or infirmity was so made of record: Provided, That an ex-service man who is shown to have or, if deceased, to have had, prior to January 1, 1925, neuropsychiatric disease, spinal meningitis, an active tuberculosis disease, paralysis agitans, encephalitis, lethargica, or amœbic dysentery developing at 10 per cent degree of disability or more in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (4) of section 202 of this act, shall be presumed to have acquired his disability in such service between April 6, 1917, and July 2, 1921, or to have suffered an aggravation of a preexisting neuropsychiatric disease, spinal meningitis, tuberculosis, paralysis agitans, encephalitis lethargica, or amœbic dysentery in such service between said dates, and said presumption shall be conclusive in cases of active tuberculosis disease and spinal meningitis, but in all other cases said presumption shall be rebuttable by clear and convincing evidence; but nothing in this proviso shall be construed to prevent a claimant from receiving the benefits of compensation and medical care and treatment for a disability due to these diseases of more than 10 per cent degree (in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (4) of section 202 of this act) on or subsequent to January 1, 1925, if the facts in the case substantiate his claim: Provided further, That the provisions of this act shall apply only to ex-service men who entered the service, were inducted or who applied for enlistment, prior to November 12, 1918, and their dependents, but payment to any persons now receiving benefits under the act shall not be discontinued by reason of this proviso for a period of one year following approval of this amendatory act.

"On and after the date of the approval of this amendatory act any honorably discharged ex-service man who entered the service prior to November 11, 1918, and served 90 days or more during the World War, and who is or may hereafter be suffering from a 25 per cent or more permanent disability, as defined by the director, not the result of his own willful misconduct, which was not acquired in the service during the World War, or for which compensation is not payable, shall be entitled to receive a disability allowance at the following rates: 25 per cent permanent disability, $12 per month; 50 per cent permanent disability, $18 per month; 75 per cent permanent disability, $24 per month; total permanent disability, $40 per month. No disability allowance payable under this paragraph shall commence prior to the date of the passage of this amendatory act or the date of application therefor, and such application shall be in such form as the director may prescribe: Provided, That no disability allowance under this paragraph shall be payable to any person not entitled to exemption from the payment of a Federal income tax for the year preceding the filing of application for such disability allowance under this paragraph. In any case in which the amount of compensation hereafter payable to any person for permanent disability under the provisions of this act is less than the maximum amount of the disability allowance payable for a corresponding degree of disability under the provisions of this paragraph, then such person may receive such disability allowance in lieu of compensation. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to allow the payment to any person of both a disability allowance and compensation during the same period; and all payments made to any person for a period covered by a new or increased award of disability allowance or compensation shall be deducted from the amount payable under such new or increased award. As used in Titles I and V of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended, the term 'compensation' shall be deemed to include the term 'disability allowance' as used in this paragraph.

"The Secretary of the Treasury is hereby directed, upon the request of the director, to transmit to the director a certificate stating whether the veteran who is applying for a disability allowance under this paragraph was entitled to exemption from the payment of a Federal income tax for the year preceding the filing of application for the disability allowance, and such certificate shall be conclusive evidence of the facts stated therein."

SEC. 12. That section 201, subdivisions (f) and (1), of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended (sec. 472, title 38, U. S. C.), be hereby amended to read as follows:

"(f) If there is a dependent mother (or dependent father), $20, or both, $30. The amount payable under this subdivision shall not exceed the difference between the total amount payable to the widow and children and the sum of $75: Provided, That in case there is both a dependent mother and a dependent father, the amount payable to them shall not be less than $20. Such compensation shall be payable, whether the dependency of the father or mother or both arises before or after the death of the person: Provided, That the status of dependency shall be determined as of the first day of each year, and the director is authorized to require a submission of such proof dependency as he, in his discretion, may deem necessary: Provided further, That upon refusal or neglect of the claimant or claimants to

"(1) If death occur or shall have occurred subsequent to April 6, 1917, and before discharge or resignation from the service, the United States Veterans' Bureau shall pay for burial and funeral expenses and the return of body to his home a sum not to exceed $100, as may be fixed by regulation. Where a veteran of any war, including those women who served as Army nurses under contracts between April 21, 1898, and February 2, 1901, who was not dishonorably discharged, dies after discharge or resignation from the service, the director, in his discretion and with due regard to the circumstances of each case, shall pay, for burial and funeral expenses and the transportation of the body (including preparation of the body) to the place of burial, a sum not exceeding $107 to cover such items and to be paid to such person or persons as may be fixed by regulations: Provided, That when such person dies while receiving from the bureau compensation or vocational training, or in a national military home, the above benefits shall be payable in all cases: Provided further, That where such person, while receiving from the bureau medical, surgical, or hospital treatment, or vocational training, dies away from home and at the place to which he was ordered by the bureau, or while traveling under orders of the bureau, or in a national military home, the above benefits shall be payable in all cases and in addition thereto the actual and necessary cost of the transportation of the body of the person (including preparation of the body) to the place of burial, within the continental limits of the United States, its Territories, or possessions, and including also, in the discretion of the director, the actual and necessary cost of transportation of an attendant: Provided further, That no accrued pension, compensation, or insurance due at the time of death shall be deducted from the sum allowed: Provided further, That the director may, in his discretion, make contracts for burial and funeral services within the limits of the amounts allowed herein without regard to the laws prescribing advertisement for proposals for supplies and services for the United States Veterans' Bureau: Provided further, That section 5, title 41, of the United States Code, shall not be applied to contracts for burial and funeral expenses heretofore entered into by the director so as to deny payment for services rendered thereunder, and all suspensions of payment heretofore made in connection with such contracts are hereby removed, and any and all payments which are now or may hereafter become due on such contracts are hereby expressly authorized: Provided further, That no deduction shall be made from the sum allowed because of any contribution toward the burial which shall be made by any State, county, or municipality, but the aggregate of the sum allowed plus such contribution or contributions shall not exceed the actual cost of the burial.

"Where a veteran of any war, including those women who served as Army nurses under contracts between April 21, 1898, and February 2, 1901, who was not dishonorably discharged, dies after discharge or resignation from the service, the director shall furnish a flag to drape the casket of such veteran and afterwards to be given to his next of kin regardless of the cause of death of such veteran."

"(3) If and while the disability is rated as total and permanent, the rate of compensation shall be $100 per month: Provided, however, That the permanent loss of the use of both feet, or both hands, or of both eyes, or of one foot and one hand, or of one foot and one eye, or of one hand and one eye, or the loss of hearing of both ears, or the organic loss of speech, or becoming permanently helpless or permanently bedridden, shall be deemed to be total permanent disability: Provided further, That the compensation for the loss of the use of both eyes shall be $150 per month, and that compensation for the loss of the use of both eyes and one or more limbs shall be $200 per month: Provided further, That for double total permanent disability the rate of compensation shall be $200 per month.

"That any ex-service man shown to have a tuberculous disease of compensable degree, and who has been hospitalized for a period of one year, and who in the judgment of the director will not reach a condition of arrest by further hospitalization, and whose discharge from hospitalization will not be prejudicial to the beneficiary or his family, and who is not, in the judgment of the director, feasible for training, shall, upon his request, be discharged from hospitalization and rated as temporarily totally disabled, said rating to continue for the period of three years: Provided, however, That nothing in this subdivision shall deny the beneficiary the right, upon presentation of satisfactory evidence, to be adjudged to be permanently and totally disabled: Provided further, That in addition to the compensation above provided, the injured person shall be furnished by the United States such reasonable governmental, medical, surgical, and hospital services, including payment of court costs and other expenses incident to proceedings heretofore or hereafter taken for commitment of mentally incompetent persons to hospitals for care and treatment of the insane, and shall be furnished with such supplies, including wheel chairs, artificial limbs, trusses, and similar appliances, as the director may determine to be useful and reasonably necessary, which wheel chairs, artificial limbs, trusses, and similar appliances may be procured by the bureau in such manner, either by purchase or manufacture, as the director may determine to be advantageous and reasonably necessary: Provided, That nothing in this act shall be construed to affect the necessary military control over any member of the Military or Naval Establishments before he shall have been discharged from the military or naval service: Provided further, That where any person entitled to the benefits of this paragraph has heretofore been hospitalized in a State institution, the United States Veterans' Bureau is hereby authorized to reimburse such person, or his estate, where payment has been made to the State out of the funds of such person, or to reimburse the State or any subdivision thereof where no payment has been made for the reasonable cost of such services from the date of admission.

"There shall be paid to any person who suffered the loss of the use of a creative organ or one or more feet or hands in the active service in line of duty between April 6, 1917, and November 11, 1918, compensation of $25 per month, independent of any other compensation which may be payable under this act: Provided, however, That if such disability was incurred while the veteran was serving with the United States military forces in Russia, the dates herein stated shall extend from April 6, 1917, to April 1, 1920.

"(5) If the disabled person is so helpless as to be in need of a nurse or attendant, such additional sum shall be paid, but not exceeding $50 per month, as the director may deem reasonable."

"All or any part of the compensation of any mentally incompetent inmate of an institution may, in the discretion of the director, be paid to the chief officer of said institution to be properly accounted for and to be used for the benefit of such inmate, or may, in the discretion of the director, be apportioned to wife, child or children, or dependent parents in accordance with regulations.

"That any ex-service person shown to have had a tuberculous disease of a compensable degree, who in the judgment of the director has reached a condition of complete arrest of his disease, shall receive compensation of not less than $50 per month: Provided, however, That nothing in this provision shall deny a beneficiary the right to receive a temporary total rating for six months after discharge from a one year's period of hospitalization: Provided further, That no payments under this provision shall be retroactive, and the payments hereunder shall commence from the date of the passage of this act or the date the disease reaches a condition of arrest, whichever be the later date.

"The director is hereby authorized and directed to insert in the rating schedule a minimum rating of permanent partial 25 per cent for arrested or apparently cured tuberculosis."

"For the purposes of this section the Spanish-American War shall be construed to mean service between April 21, 1898, and July 4, 1902, and the term 'veteran' shall be deemed to include those persons retired or otherwise not dishonorably separated from the active list of the Army or Navy."

SEC. 16. That subdivision (15) of section 202 of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended (sec. 489, title 38, U. S. C.), be hereby amended to read as follows:

"(15) That any person who is now receiving a gratuity or pension from the United States under existing law shall not receive compensation under this section unless he shall first surrender all claim to further payments of such gratuity or pension, except as hereafter provided and in subdivision (7) of section 201: Provided, That in the event of surrender of pension as hereinbefore set forth, any disability incurred in the military service of the United States, by reason of which said pension would be payable, shall be evaluated in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (4), section 202, and shall be payable as compensation under this act: Provided further, That such compensation rating shall be combined with any other compensation rating awarded by reason of active service in the World War."

"SEC. 210. That no compensation shall be payable for any period more than one year prior to the date of claim therefor, nor shall increased compensation be awarded to revert back more than six months prior to the date of claim therefor: Provided, That nothing herein shall be construed to permit the payment of compensation under the World War veterans' act, as amended, for any period prior to June 7, 1924. Except in case of fraud participated in by the beneficiary, no reduction in compensation shall be made retroactive." This section as amended to be effective June 7, 1924.

SEC. 20. That section 212 of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended (sec. 422, title 38, U. S. C.), be hereby amended by adding thereto the following proviso:

"Provided further, That an application for compensation under the war risk insurance act, as amended, shall be deemed to be a claim for compensation under this act, and an application for compensation under the provisions of this act shall be deemed to be a claim for compensation under all subsequent amendments to said act, this proviso to be effective as of June 7, 1924."

SEC. 21. That a new section be added to Title II of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended, to be known as section 214, and to read as follows:

"SEC. 214. SEC. 22. That section 301, paragraphs 3 and 4, of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended (sec. 512, title 38, U. S. C.), be hereby amended to read as follows:

"In case where an insured whose yearly renewable term insurance has matured by reason of total permanent disability is found and declared to be no longer permanently and totally disabled, and where the insured is required under regulations to renew payment of premiums on said term insurance, and where this contingency is extended beyond the period during which said yearly renewable term insurance otherwise must be converted, there shall be given such insured an additional period of two years from the date on which he is required to renew payment of premiums in which to reinstate or convert said term insurance as hereinbefore provided: Provided, That where the time for conversion has been extended under the second paragraph of this section because of the mental condition or disappearance of the insured, there shall be allowed to the insured an additional period of two years from the date on which he recovers from his mental disability or reappears in which to convert.

"The insurance, except as provided herein, shall be payable in 240 equal monthly installments: Provided, That when the amount of an individual monthly payment is less than $5, such amount may in the discretion of the director be allowed to accumulate without interest and be disbursed annually. Provisions for maturity at certain ages, for continuous installments during the life of the insured or beneficiaries, or both, for refund of premiums, cash, loan, paid-up and extended values, dividends from gains and savings, and such other provisions for the protection and advantage of and for alternative benefits to the insured and the beneficiaries as may be found to be reasonable and practicable, may be provided for in the contract of insurance, or from time to time by regulations. All calculations shall be based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at 3½ per cent per annum, except that no deduction shall be made for continuous installments during the life of the insured in case his total and permanent disability continues more than 240 months. Subject to regulations, the insured shall at all times have the right to change the beneficiary or beneficiaries without the consent of such beneficiary or beneficiaries, but only within the classes herein provided."

SEC. 23. That the last proviso of section 304 of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended (sec. 515, title 38, U. S. C.), be hereby amended to read as follows: "And provided further, That, except as provided in section 301 of the World War veterans' act, as amended, no yearly renewable term insurance shall be reinstated after July 2, 1927."

SEC. 24. That section 307 of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended (sec. 518, title 38, U. S. C.), be hereby amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 307. All contracts or policies of insurance heretofore or hereafter issued, reinstated, or converted shall be incontestable from the date of issuance, reinstatement, or conversion, except for fraud, nonpayment of premiums, or on the ground that the applicant was not a member of the military or naval forces of the United States, and subject to the provisions of section 23: Provided, That the insured under such contract or policy may, without prejudicing his rights, elect to make claim to the bureau or to bring suit under section 19 of this act on any prior contract or policy, and if found entitled thereto, shall, upon surrender of any subsequent contract or policy, be entitled to payments under the prior contract or policy: Provided further, That this section shall be deemed to be effective as of April 6, 1917, and applicable from that date to all contracts or policies of insurance."

SEC. 25. That section 311 of the World War veterans' act, 1924, as amended (sec. 512b, title 38, U. S. C.), be hereby amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 311. The director is hereby authorized and directed to include in United States Government life (converted) insurance policies provision whereby an insured, who is totally disabled as a result of disease or injury for a period of four consecutive months or more before attaining the age of 65 years and before default in payment of any premium, shall be paid disability benefits at the rate of $5.75 monthly for each $1,000 of converted insurance in force when total disability benefits become payable. The amount of such monthly payment under the provisions of this section shall not be reduced because of payment of permanent and total disability benefits under the United States Government life (converted) insurance policy. Such payments shall be effective as of the first day of the fifth consecutive month, and shall be made monthly during the continuance of such total disability. Such payments shall be concurrent with or independent of permanent total disability benefits under the United States Government life (converted) insurance policy. In addition to the monthly disability benefits the payment of premiums on the United States Government life (converted) insurance policy and for the total disability benefits authorized by this section shall be waived during the continuance of such total disability. Regulations shall provide for reexaminations of beneficiaries under this section; and, in the event that it is found that an insured is no longer totally disabled, the waiver of premiums and payment of benefits shall cease and the United States Government life (converted) insurance policy, including the total disability provision authorized by this section, may be continued by payment of premiums as provided in said policy and the total disability provision authorized by this section. Neither the dividends nor the amount payable in any settlement under any United States Government life (converted) insurance policy shall be decreased because of disability benefits granted under the provisions of this section. The payment of total disability benefits shall not prejudice the right of any insured, who is totally and permanently disabled, to total permanent disability benefits under his United States Government life (converted) insurance policy: Provided, That the provision authorized by this section shall not be included in any United States Government life (converted) insurance policy heretofore or hereafter issued, except upon application, payment of premium by the insured, and proof of good health satisfactory to the director. The benefit granted under this section shall be on the basis of multiples of $500, and not less than $1,000 or more than the amount of United States Government life (converted) insurance in force at time of application. The director shall determine the amount of the monthly premium to cover the benefits of this section, and in order to continue such benefits in force the monthly premiums shall be payable until the insured attains the age of 65 years or until the prior maturity of the policy. In all other respects such monthly premium shall be payable under the same terms and conditions as the regularly monthly premium on the United States Government life (converted) insurance policy."

TO CONSOLIDATE ACTS RESPECTING COPYRIGHT

Mr. PURNELL, by direction of the Committee on Rules, called up the following resolution (H. Res. 264):

Resolved, That upon the adoption of this resolution it shall be in order to move that the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the consideration of H. R. 12549, a bill to amend and consolidate the acts respecting copyright and to permit the United States to enter the International Copyright Union. That after general debate, which shall be confined to the bill and shall continue not to exceed two hours, to be equally divided and controlled by the chairman and ranking minority member of the Committee on Patents, the bill shall be read for amendment under the 5-minute rule. At the conclusion of the reading of the bill for amendment the committee shall rise and report the bill to the House with such amendments as may have been adopted, and the previous question shall be considered as ordered on the bill and the amendments thereto to final passage without intervening motion except one motion to recommit.

Mr. CHINDBLOM made the point of order that the resolution was not in order for the reason that it was reported prior to the bill to which it was to apply.

After debate,

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order, and said:

"The Chair is prepared to rule. It is not necessary to pass upon the question of whether the original rule for the consideration of this bill is still alive or not. The Chair, when the matter was originally submitted to him, informally expressed a grave doubt as to whether it would be considered alive. But this rule is an entirely different rule. It appears now for the first time for consideration. The Chair is aware that this bill has had a rather stormy passage. It has been twice rereferred to the committee, but as the bill now appears, so far as the Chair is advised, it is properly on the calendar as of June 24, 1930, and this special rule is properly reported to consider that bill. The Chair thinks that all that special rules of this sort do is to put bills for which they are provided in the same status that a revenue or appropriation bill has under the general rules of the House. Clause 9 of Rule XVI provides:

"'At any time after the reading of the Journal it shall be in order, by direction of the appropriate committees, to move that the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the purpose of considering bills raising revenue, or general appropriation bills.'

"Now all that this special rule does is to give the same status to this particular bill at this particular time. The Chair has no hesitation in saying that the Committee on Rules has acted with authority, and that it will be in order to move that the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the consideration of this bill after the resolution is passed."

After further debate,

On motion of Mr. PURNELL, the previous question was ordered on the resolution to its adoption or rejection, and under the operation thereof the resolution was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. PARKER, pursuant to House Resolution 254, the House resolved itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the further consideration of the bill (H. R. 11204) to regulate the entry of persons into the United States, to establish a border patrol in the Coast

Guard, and for other purposes; and after some time spent therein,

The SPEAKER resumed the chair,

When Mr. CRAMTON, Chairman, pursuant to House Resolution 254, reported the bill back to the House with the following amendment adopted in the Committee:

Strike out all after the enacting clause and insert:

That this act may be cited as the "Border patrol act, 1930."

Sec. 2. (a) There is hereby established in the Department of the Treasury an organization to be known as the United States border patrol. In order to secure close cooperation between the patrols along the land and water boundaries of the United States the United States border patrol shall be assigned, for administrative purposes, to the office of the Assistant Secretary of the Treasury having supervision of the United States Coast Guard.

(b) The President is authorized to transfer to the United States border patrol all or any part of the personnel of the border patrols of the Bureau of Immigration of the Department of Labor and of the Bureau of Customs of the Department of the Treasury, or of other border patrols, together with their equipment and appurtenances, and to discontinue such border patrols, or parts thereof, from time to time, when in his judgment such action is advisable by reason of the establishment and effective operation of the United States border patrol created by this act: Provided, That officers and men transferred from any service to the United States border patrol shall be permitted for one year from time of transfer to wear the uniforms then owned by them. In case of any such transfer or discontinuance, any unexpended appropriations apportioned for expenditure for the compensation of, or in connection with the performance of the duties of, the personnel transferred or the patrol discontinued, shall be available for expenditure in carrying out the provisions of this act.

(c) The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to appoint such officers and employees, in accordance with the civil service act, and to purchase such motor vehicles, boats, airplane, horses, supplies, and equipment as are necessary in the administration of this act.

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of the United States border patrol to enforce the provisions of this act against unlawful entry of persons into the United States, except at ocean boundaries of the United States, and to perform under regulations that may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury such other duties as are, in his judgment, advisable in connection with the unlawful entry of persons or property into the United States.

Sec. 4. (a) It shall be unlawful for any person to enter the United States from a foreign country at any place other than a point of entry which shall be designated by the President, except that this section shall not be applicable in the case of—

(1) Any person who in entering the United States complies with regulations which shall be prescribed by the President for the convenience of persons residing or owning property on or in the neighborhood or vicinity of the boundaries of the United States or for the convenience of persons entering the United States on vessels which under the laws applicable thereto are exempt either from reporting arrival or from making formal entry at a customshouse;

(2) Any person who in entering the United States complies with the air commerce act of 1926 and the regulations prescribed thereunder.

(b) Any officer or member of the United States border patrol may arrest any person unlawfully entering the United States; may seize any merchandise unlawfully transported into the United States or in the possession of any person unlawfully entering the United States, or any vessel, vehicle, or aircraft, in which such unlawful entry is made; and shall promptly deliver any such person, merchandise, vessel, vehicle, or aircraft into the custody of the appropriate officer.

(c) Any person who violates the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor subject to a penalty of $100. Such penalty shall be a lien against any vessel, vehicle, or aircraft in which the entry in violation of this section is made. Such penalty may be enforced, or may be remitted or mitigated, in the same manner as a penalty for a violation of the customs revenue laws of the United States. Action to enforce the penalty provided in this paragraph shall not be taken if in violating the provisions of this section a penalty (whether criminal or civil) has been incurred for violation of any other law of the United States.

(d) Any vessel or vehicle seized by officers or agents of the Treasury Department and forfeited to the United States as specified in sections 1 and 2 of the act entitled "An act relating to the use or disposal of vessels or vehicles forfeited to the United States for violation of the customs laws or the national prohibition act, and for other purposes," approved March 3, 1925, as amended, may, in the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury, be taken and used, or may, upon application of the Secretary of the Treasury, be ordered by the court to be delivered to the Treasury Department for use in the enforcement of the provisions of this act instead of for use as provided in such act of March 3, 1925.

Sec. 5. That no person in the civil service transferred from any service to the United States border patrol shall lose any civil-service rating earned by him to the date of his transfer.

Sec. 6. There are authorized to be appropriated such amounts as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act and for the establishment and maintenance of points of entry designated under this act, including the acquisition of necessary sites and the construction of necessary buildings, or in the execution of the customs, immigration, and other laws regulating or prohibiting the entry into the United States of persons and merchandise as a result of the establishment of such points of entry.

Sec. 7. This act shall take effect upon its approval, except that sections 3 and 4 shall take effect upon the first day of the seventh month after its approval.

COPYRIGHT REGISTRATION OF DESIGNS

Mr. VESTAL moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H. R. 11852) amending the statutes of the United States to provide for copyright registration of designs, amended to read as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That any person who is a citizen of or domiciled in the United States, or who is a citizen or subject of a foreign State or nation with which the United States shall have established reciprocal copyright relations, and who is the author of any design as hereinafter defined, or the legal representative or assignee of the author of such a design, may secure copyright therein upon compliance with the provisions of this act.

Within the meaning of this act—

(a) An author is one who originates a design and in so doing contributes intellectual or artistic effort to the composition thereof.

(b) A design is a pattern applied to, or a shape or form of, a manufactured product which is not of itself a work of art, and shall include dies, molds, or devices by which such a pattern, shape or form may be produced, original in its application to or embodiment in such manufactured product, by reason of an artistic or intellectual effort, and which produces an artistic or ornamental effect or decoration, but shall not include patterns or shapes or forms which have merely a functional or mechanical purpose.

Sec. 2. The owner of a design copyright shall have, within all the territory which is under the jurisdiction and control of the United States, for the periods and subject to the limitations hereinafter prescribed, the right to exclude others from selling or distributing manufactured products which embody or contain copies of or colorable imitations made by copying the copyrighted design or any characteristic original feature thereof, if such manufactured products are in the same class as, or are similar to, the product to which the copyrighted design has been applied or in which it has been embodied.

Sec. 3. As prerequisites to copyright protection under this act the author or his legal representative or his assignee must (1) actually cause the design to be applied to or embodied in the manufactured product; (2) mark such product in the manner specified in section 5 of this act; (3) introduce such product to the public in territory under the jurisdiction and control of the United States, by selling it or offering it for sale; and (4) within six calendar months of the time when such manufactured product was first actually so introduced to the public, file an application in the copyright office in the form prescribed under authority of section 21 of this act, and to such application state under oath (a) that he is the author of the design for which he solicits registration or (b) that he is the assignee or legal representative of such author and verily believes the author named in the application to be the originator of such design. Such application shall include the prescribed number of copies of a photograph or other identifying representation of the design as applied to or embodied in the said manufactured product and shall give the date when such manufactured product was so introduced to the public; and copyright shall be secured upon and from the date of such introduction of the manufactured product to the public, subject to the provisions of this act: Provided, however, That such application is filed within six calendar months of any sale in any country of such manufactured product and of any publication not under copyright protection in any country of such design, if such sale or such publication is made by or with the consent of the author, his assignee, or legal representative.

Sec. 4. Upon each entry of a claim for copyright in any design made subject matter of copyright by this act, the person recorded as the claimant of copyright shall be entitled to a certificate of registration under the seal of the copyright office, which shall state the name, citizenship, and address of the author of the design and of the owner of the copyright in such design, if other than the author; the name or designation of the class of manufactured product in which the design has been embodied or to which it has been applied; the date when the application for registration was filed in the copyright office; the date when copyright was secured as provided in section 3 of this act; and such marks as to class designation and entry number as shall fully identify the entry of the claim of copyright. Said certificate shall be prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein. A duplicate certificate under the seal of the copyright office shall be supplied to any person requesting the same upon payment of the fee. When a design actually embodied in or applied to one manufactured product is in substantially the same form to be embodied in or applied to a set of manufactured products of the same general character ordinarily on sale together or intended to be used together, a single application for registration and one certificate of registration shall suffice.

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the owner of a design in which copyright is secured under this act or his licensee to give notice to the public that the design is protected under this act by affixing to the manufactured product the mark "Design copyrighted" and by adding thereto with reasonable promptness after registration the number of the registration entry. When the nature of the product will not permit the affixing of these marks in full it shall be sufficient to use the abbreviation "D. copr." or the letter "D" inclosed within a circle, thus ⓓ with or without the registration number.

When such abbreviation or symbol is used, or when the product itself will not permit the affixing of any of these marks, it shall be sufficient and necessary to attach a label or tag to the product or to the package or cover containing the product in which the design is embodied or to which it is applied, containing the name of the manufactured product and plainly marked with the words "Design copyrighted," to which must be added with reasonable promptness after registration, the registration number.

In the case of any manufactured product in which the design is repeated, such as wall paper or textiles, one marking on the manufactured product embodying or containing the design shall suffice.

In any action or suit for infringement by a party failing to comply with the above-stated provisions of this section no recovery shall be adjudged the plaintiff and no injunction shall be granted except on proof that the failure to mark was merely occasioned and inadvertent: Provided, however, That there shall be no recovery against an innocent infringer who has been misled by the omission of the notice, and in such case no permanent injunction shall be had unless the copyright owner shall reimburse to the innocent infringer his reasonable outlay innocently incurred, if the court, in its discretion, shall so direct.

Sec. 6. Copyright secured under this act shall initially endure for a term of two years from the first sale or offer for sale of the manufactured product to which the design is applied or in which it is embodied. At any time before the expiration of the two-year term an extension of the copyright may be registered for a further period of eighteen years to secure a total period of protection of twenty years upon filing an application for such extension and paying the fees prescribed in section 22 of this act.

Sec. 7. Every copyright secured under the provisions of this act, or any interest therein, shall be assignable in law by an instrument in writing; and the copyright owner may, in like manner, grant and convey an exclusive right under such copyright for the whole or any part of the United States.

Such assignment, grant, or conveyance shall be void as against any subsequent purchaser or mortgagee for a valuable consideration, without notice, unless it is recorded in the copyright office within three calendar months after its execution in the United States, or within six calendar months after its execution without the limits of the United States, or prior to such subsequent purchase or mortgage. If such assignment, grant, or conveyance be acknowledged before any notary public of the several States or Territories or the District of Columbia, or any dependencies of the United States, or before any officer authorized to administer oaths in the United States or its dependencies and the Panama Canal Zone or the Philippine Islands, or any clerk or commissioner of any United States district court, or before a secretary in the Diplomatic Service or a diplomatic or consular officer of the United States authorized by law to administer oaths or perform notarial acts, or before any notary public, judge, or magistrate of any foreign country authorized to administer oaths or perform notarial acts in such country, whose authority shall be proved by the certificate of a secretary in the Diplomatic Service or a diplomatic or consular officer of the United States, the certificate of such acknowledgment or the record thereof in the copyright office, when made, shall be prima facie evidence of the execution and delivery of such assignment, grant, or conveyance.

Sec. 8. Infringement shall include unlicensed copying of or colorable imitation by copying the copyrighted design or any characteristic original feature thereof in manufactured products in the same class, or any similar product, for the purpose of sale or public distribution; or selling or publicly distributing or exposing for sale or public distribution any such product embodying or containing such a copy or colorable imitation: Provided, however, That if such sale or public distribution or exposure for sale or public distribution is by anyone other than the manufacturer or importer of the copy or colorable imitation, it shall be unlawful only as to goods purchased after written notice of a restraining order or preliminary injunction, or of an order granting a preliminary injunction, or of a decree by any court having jurisdiction in the premises, in any action brought under this act by the copyright owner for infringement of such copyright, or of any order or decision in such an action in which the court, although refusing injunctive relief, states that in its opinion, based on the affidavits or testimony submitted, such copyright is for an original design and otherwise valid, and in the absence of such notice the remedies and penalties provided for in section 10 of this act shall not apply; the words "manufacturer" and "importer" as used in this section shall be construed as including anyone who induces or acts in collusion with a manufacturer to make, or an importer to import, a colorable imitation or an unauthorized copy of a copyrighted design, but purchasing or giving an order for purchase in the ordinary course of business shall not in itself be construed as constituting such inducement or collusion: Provided, however, That to obtain the benefit of this exemption a prompt and full disclosure must be made to the copyrighted owner upon request as to the source and all particulars of the purchase of the goods, and the evidence thereof must be given if requested in any suit or action against the manufacturer or importer.

Sec. 9. The following shall not be held infringing acts:

(a) Repairing manufactured articles protected under this act, or making or selling parts of manufactured articles, whether individually protected or not, for use as repair parts;

(b) Making and/or illustrating or selling patterns for dressmaking, or making a garment from such a pattern or embodying a copyrighted design for the individual use of the maker or a member of the family of the maker, or having such a garment made by an individual employee for the use of the employer or a member of the family of the employer;

(c) Illustrating designs by pictorial representation, or publicly distributing or exhibiting such illustrations or pictorial representations of designs;

(d) Making any reproduction, copy, use, sale, or public distribution of any design copyrighted under this act in any motion picture, and in whatever form used in connection with the advertisement, distribution, or sale or other disposition of motion pictures: Provided, however, That none of the acts specified in this section shall affect the force and validity of any copyright in any design under this act.

Sec. 10. Anyone who shall infringe any copyrighted design shall be liable—

(a) To an injunction restraining such infringement;

(b) To account for and pay the profits and damages resulting from the infringement, which in the discretion of the court may be trebled.

The court may dispense with an accounting—

(1) In cases where the plaintiff may so request, or where from the record it is apparent to the court that an accounting would not find damages or profits to exceed $2,500 where defendant is a manufacturer or importer and $100 in any other case. In any such case where the defendant is a manufacturer or importer the defendant shall be held liable to pay to the plaintiff not less than $2,500, and in any other such case the defendant shall be held liable to pay the plaintiff not less than $100 as compensation and not as a penalty.

(2) In cases where the copying complained of was without knowledge or notice of the copyright.

The court may order to be delivered up and destroyed or otherwise disposed of, as shall be just as between the parties, all infringing articles, products, or parts, and all dies, models, and devices useful only in producing the infringing article or product, and all labels, prints, or advertising matter relating to the infringing article or product.

Sec. 11. No relief shall be granted where an infringement has continued with the knowledge of the owner of the copyright for a period of two years prior to the commencement of the suit or action; and in no event shall there be a recovery of profits or damages for acts of infringement committed more than three years prior to the commencement of the suit or action.

Sec. 12. When registration has been made in the copyright office of any design as provided in this act, written, printed, or photographic copies of any papers, drawings, or photographs relating to such design reserved in the copyright office shall be given to any person making application therefor and paying the fees required by this act, and such copies when authenticated by the seal of the copyright office shall be evidence of the same force and effect as originals.

Sec. 13. In an action or suit for infringement of copyright in a design registered under this act there shall be a presumption of originality in the registered design and of validity in the registration thereof; and a presumption of copying may in the discretion of the court be held to arise from substantial resemblance to the registered design in defendant's design.

Sec. 14. The district and Territorial courts of the United States and its insular possessions, including the courts of first instance of the Philippine Islands, the District Court of the Canal Zone, and the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, shall have original jurisdiction, and the Circuit Courts of Appeals of the United States, the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia, and the Supreme Court of the Philippine Islands shall have appellate jurisdiction of proceedings respecting designs protected under the provisions of this act.

Sec. 15. Writs of certiorari may be granted by the Supreme Court of the United States for the review of cases arising under this act in the same manner as provided in the Judicial Code as amended by the act of February 13, 1925.

Sec. 16. After adjudication and entry of a final decree by any court in any action brought under this act, any of the parties thereto may, upon payment of the legal fees, have the clerk of the court prepare a certified copy or copies of such decree, or of the record, or any part thereof, and forward the same to any of the designated courts of the United States, and any such court to which such copy or copies may be forwarded under the provisions of this section shall forthwith make the same a part of its record; and any such record, judgment, or decree may thereafter be made, as far as applicable, the basis of an application to that court for injunction or other relief; and in the preparation of such copies the printed copies of the record of either party on file with the clerk may be used without charge other than for the certificate. When the necessary printed copies are not on file with the clerk either party may file copies which shall be used for the purpose, and in such cases the clerk shall be entitled to charge a reasonable fee for comparing such copies with the original record before certification and for certifying the same.

Sec. 17. If the copyright in a design shall have been adjudged invalid and a judgment or decree shall have been entered for the defendant, the clerk shall forward a certified copy of such judgment or decree to the register of copyrights who shall forthwith make the same a part of the records of the copyright office.

Sec. 18. (a) Any person who shall register a design under this act, knowing or having reason to know that the design is not an original work of authorship of the person named as author in the application for registration, or knowing or having reason to know that the ownership of the copyright therein is falsely stated in the application for registration, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of $2,500, or such part thereof as the court may determine.

(b) Any person who shall bring an action or suit for infringement of a design alleged to be protected under this act, and known by the plaintiff to be not an original work of authorship of the person alleged to be the author of said design, shall, upon due showing of such knowledge, be liable in the sum of $2,500, or such part thereof as the court may determine, as compensation to the defendant to be charged against the plaintiff and paid to the defendant in addition to the customary costs.

(c) Any person who shall, because of notice given under section 8 of this act by the owner of a copyright secured under this act, or by his licensee, discontinue the purchase, sale, or distribution of products alleged by such owner or licensee to be an infringement of such copyright, shall recover from such owner and/or licensee such damages as he shall have sustained by reason of compliance with such notice, if such owner or licensee knew, or had reason to know, that the design alleged to be protected under this act was not an original work of authorship of the person alleged to be the author of said design.

(d) Any person who, with fraudulent intent, marks one or more manufactured products which are not protected by design copyright, so as falsely to indicate that they are so protected, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding $500.

Sec. 19. Nothing in this act shall be construed to impair, limit, or annul the right of an author of a design, or the legal representative or assignee of such author, prior to the copyrighting of such design under this act, to prevent unauthorized application or embodiment of such design or any characteristic original feature thereof, to or in any manufactured product, and the exposure for sale or public distribution, or the sale or public distribution of such manufactured product, as a result of the confidential disclosure of such design, and to recover the profits and damages arising therefrom by suit in equity or action at law; and the marking upon a drawing or other representation of such design of the name of the author and the words "design copyright reserved" is hereby authorized as reserving the right to have the design copyrighted under this act as and when applied to or embodied in a manufactured product and introduced to the public pursuant to this act.

Sec. 20. Registration under this act shall not constitute any waiver or abandonment of any trade-mark rights in the design registered.

Sec. 21. The register of copyrights shall be authorized, for convenience of copyright-office administration, to determine and designate the different classes of manufactured products under which registration may be made, and, subject to approval by the Librarian of Congress, to make rules and regulations for such registration, and for the form of the required certificate: Provided, however, That such classification shall not be held to limit or extend the rights of the author of the design or his legal representative or assignee.

Sec. 22. The register of copyrights shall receive, and the persons to whom the services designated in this act are rendered, shall pay the following fees: (1) For the registration for the first term of two years under this act, $3; (2) for the registration of the extension of the period of protection to 20 years, as provided herein, $20; and the payment of the said fees shall include, in each case, the certificate provided for in this act; (3) for a duplicate certificate of any registration made, $1; (4) for recording any document in the copyright office, as provided in section 7 of this act, or for furnishing certified copies of any such document, $1 for each copyright office record-book page or fraction thereof up to five pages, and 50 cents for each such page or fraction thereof beyond five pages; (5) for copies of any registration made, or of drawings or photographs or other identifying reproductions filed in relation to any design registered, and for comparing such copies with the originals before certification, a reasonable fee and 50 cents additional for certification of each such copy under seal of the copyright office.

Sec. 23. All designs registered for the first term of two years shall be listed in the Catalogue of Copyright Entries prepared and printed under the provisions of the act of March 4, 1909, and shall be further identified by a representation of the design, and each extension registration shall be listed in said catalogue. The periodic issues of said catalogue may be subscribed for upon application to the Superintendent of Public Documents, at a price to be determined by the register of copyrights for each part of the catalogue, not exceeding $10 for the complete Catalogue of Copyright Entries provided by the act approved March 4, 1909, or $10 for the catalogue of designs registered under this act. The Catalogue of Copyright Entries for designs shall be admitted in any court as prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated as regards any copyright registration for a design made under the provisions of this act.

Sec. 24. There is hereby authorized to be appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, for clerical services, office rental and equipment, stationery and supplies, for carrying into effect this act for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1931, $100,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, the same to be available immediately upon the approval of this act, and thereafter such sums as Congress may deem necessary, to be expended by the Librarian of Congress.

Sec. 25. The Librarian of Congress shall annually submit estimates in detail for all expenses of carrying this act into effect, and he is hereby authorized to appoint such subordinate assistants to the register of copyrights as shall be necessary for the prompt and efficient execution of the work involved.

Sec. 26. The following sections of the United States Revised Statutes are hereby repealed: Section 4929, as amended by the act of May 9, 1902; sections 4930 and 4931; and section 4934, as amended by the acts of February 18, 1922, and February 14, 1927, is further amended by striking out the words "except in design cases" wherever they appear, and also by striking out the following words: "In design cases: For 3 years and 6 months, $10; for 7 years, $15; for 14 years, $30": Provided, however, That design patents issued under the sections herein repealed shall have full force and effect as if said sections were still in effect: And provided further, That notwithstanding the six months' limitations in section 3 of this act, an applicant who has duly filed in the Patent Office an application for a design patent, and whose application has not become abandoned when this act goes into effect, or his assigns and legal representatives may within six months after this act goes into effect elect either to demand a design patent which may be granted him and have full force and effect as if the section herein repealed were still in effect, or to abandon said application for a design patent and secure copyright protection under this act by complying with the provisions of this act, so far as applicable, and upon payment of the fee or fees prescribed in section 21 of this act, filing an application for registration of said design under this act, or two or more applications in different classes, if the design as disclosed in said application is entitled to registration in such different classes, the initial term of such copyright protection under this act to commence with the sale or offer for sale of manufactured products to which the design has been applied or in which it is embodied, marked in the manner specified in section 5 of this act. No design copyright under the provisions of this act shall be valid to an author or to the legal representative or assignee of such author to whom shall have been issued a design patent in this country for the same design.

Sec. 27. This act shall go into effect on January 1, 1931, and may be cited as the design copyright act of 1931.

S. C., title 30, sec. 226), as amended, are amended to read as follows:

Sec. 17. That all unappropriated deposits of oil or gas situated within the known geologic structure of a producing oil or gas field and the unentered lands containing the same, not subject to preferential lease, may be leased by the Secretary of the Interior to the highest responsible bidder by competitive bidding under general regulations to qualified applicants in areas not exceeding six hundred and forty acres and in tracts which shall not exceed in length two and one-half times their width, such leases to be conditioned upon the payment by the lessee of such bonus as may be accepted and of such royalty as may be fixed in the lease, which shall not be less than 12½ per centum in amount or value of the production, and the payment in advance of a rental of not less than $1 per acre per annum thereafter during the continuance of the lease, the rental paid for any one year to be credited against the royalties as they accrue for that year. Leases shall be for a period of twenty years, with the preferential right in the lessee to renew the same for successive periods of ten years upon such reasonable terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Interior, unless otherwise provided by law at the time of the expiration of such periods: Provided, That any lease heretofore or hereafter issued under this act that has become the subject of a cooperative or unit plan of development or operation of a single oil or gas pool, which plan has the approval of the Secretary of the Interior as necessary or convenient in the public interest, shall continue in force beyond said period of twenty years until the termination of such plan: And provided further, That the Secretary of the Interior shall report all leases so continued to Congress at the beginning of its next regular session after the date of such continuance. Whenever the average daily production of any oil well shall not exceed 10 barrels per day, the Secretary of the Interior is authorized to reduce the royalty on future production when in his judgment the wells can not be successfully operated upon the royalty fixed in the lease. The provisions of this paragraph shall apply to all oil and gas leases made under this act.

Sec. 27. That no person, association, or corporation, except as herein provided, shall take or hold coal, phosphate, or sodium leases or permits during the life of such leases or permits in any one State exceeding in aggregate acreage two thousand five hundred and sixty acres for each of said minerals; no person, association, or corporation shall take or hold at one time oil or gas leases or permits exceeding in the aggregate seven thousand six hundred and eighty acres granted hereunder in any one State, and not more than two thousand five hundred and sixty acres within the geologic structure of the same producing oil or gas field; and no person, association, or corporation shall take or hold at one time any interest or interests as a member of an association or associations or as a stockholder of a corporation or corporations holding a lease or leases, permit or permits, under the provisions hereof, which, together with the area embraced in any direct holding of a lease or leases, permit or permits, under this act, or which, together with any other interest or interests as a member of an association or associations or as a stockholder of a corporation or corporations holding a lease or leases, permit or permits, under the provisions hereof for any kind of mineral leases hereunder, exceeds in the aggregate an amount equivalent to the maximum number of acres of the respective kinds of minerals allowed to any one lessee or permittee under this act. of lands provided in this act, the lease thereof shall be forfeited by appropriate court proceedings.

Should objection be made to the consideration of any bill so called, it shall immediately be stricken from such calendar, but such bill may be restored to the calendar at the instance of the Member, and if again objected to by three or more Members, it shall be immediately stricken from such calendar, and shall not thereafter be placed thereon: Provided, That the same bill shall not be called twice on the same legislative day.

2. When two or more Members rise at once, the Speaker shall name the Member who is first to speak; and no Member shall occupy more than one hour in debate on any question in the House or in committee, except as further provided in this rule.

3. The Member reporting the measure under consideration from a committee may open and close, where general debate has been had thereon, and if it shall extend beyond one day, he shall be entitled to one hour to close, notwithstanding he may have used an hour in opening.

4. If any Member, in speaking or otherwise, transgress the rules of the House, the Speaker shall, or any Member may, call him to order; in which case he shall immediately sit down, unless permitted, on motion of another Member, to explain, and the House shall, if appealed to, decide on the case without debate; if the decision is in favor of the Member called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed, but not otherwise; and, if the case require it, he shall be liable to censure or such punishment as the House may deem proper.

5. If a Member is called to order for words spoken in debate, the Member calling him to order shall indicate the words excepted to, and they shall be taken down in writing at the Clerk's desk and read aloud to the House; but he shall not be held to answer, nor be subject to the censure of the House therefor, if further debate or other business has intervened.

6. No Member shall speak more than once to the same question without leave of the House, unless he be the mover, proposer, or introducer of the matter pending, in which case he shall be permitted to speak in reply, but not until every Member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

7. While the Speaker is putting a question or addressing the House no Member shall walk out of or across the hall, nor, when a Member is speaking, pass between him and the Chair; and during the session of the House no Member shall wear his hat, or remain by the Clerk's desk during the call of the roll or the counting of ballots, or smoke upon the floor of the House; and the Sergeant at Arms and Doorkeeper are charged with the strict enforcement of this clause. Neither shall any person be allowed to smoke upon the floor of the House at any time.

RULE XV

ON CALLS OF THE ROLL AND HOUSE

1. Upon every roll call the names of the Members shall be called alphabetically by surname, except when two or more have the same surname, in which case the name of the State shall be added; and if there be two such Members from the same State, the whole name shall be called, and after the roll has been once called, the Clerk shall call in their alphabetical order the names of those not voting; and thereafter the Speaker shall not entertain a request to record a vote or announce a pair unless the Member's name has been noted under clause 3 of this rule.

2. In the absence of a quorum, 15 Members, including the Speaker, if there is one, shall be authorized to compel the attendance of absent Members, and in all calls of the House the doors shall be closed, the names of the Members shall be called by the Clerk, and the absentees noted; and those for whom no sufficient excuse is made may, by order of a majority of those present, be sent for and arrested, wherever they may be found, by officers to be appointed by the Sergeant at Arms for that purpose; and their attendance secured and retained; and the House shall determine upon what condition they shall be discharged. Members who voluntarily appear shall, unless the House otherwise directs, be immediately admitted to the Hall of the House, and they shall report their names to the Clerk to be entered upon the Journal as present.

3. On the demand of any Member, or at the suggestion of the Speaker, the names of Members sufficient to make a quorum in the Hall of the House who do not vote shall be noted by the Clerk and recorded in the Journal, and reported to the Speaker with the names of the Members voting, and be counted and announced in determining the presence of a quorum to do business.

4. Whenever a quorum fails to vote on any question, and a quorum is not present and objection is made for that cause, unless the House shall adjourn there shall be a call of the House, and the Sergeant at Arms shall forthwith proceed to bring in absent Members, and the yeas and nays on the pending question shall at the same time be considered as ordered. The Clerk shall call the roll, and each Member as he answers to his name may vote on the pending question, and, after the roll call is completed, each Member arrested shall be brought by the Sergeant at Arms before the House, whereupon he shall be noted as present, discharged from arrest, and given an opportunity to vote and his vote shall be recorded. If those voting on the question and those who are present and decline to vote shall together make a majority of the House, the Speaker shall declare that a quorum is constituted, and the pending question shall be decided as the majority of those voting shall appear. And thereupon further proceedings under the call shall be considered as dispensed with. At any time after the roll call has been completed, the Speaker may entertain a motion to adjourn, if seconded by a majority of those present, to be ascertained by actual count by the Speaker; and if the House adjourns, all proceedings under this section shall be vacated.

RULE XVI

ON MOTIONS, THEIR PRECEDENCE, ETC.

1. Every motion made to the House and entertained by the Speaker shall be reduced to writing on the demand of any Member, and shall be entered on the Journal with the name of the Member making it, unless it is withdrawn the same day.

2. When a motion has been made, the Speaker shall state it or (if it be in writing) cause it to be read aloud by the Clerk before being debated, and it shall then be in possession of the House, but may be withdrawn at any time before a decision or amendment.

3. When any motion or proposition is made, the question, Will the House now consider it? shall not be put unless demanded by a Member.

4. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received but to adjourn, to lay on the table, for the previous question (which motions shall be decided without debate), to postpone to a day certain, to refer, or to amend, or postpone indefinitely; which several motions shall have precedence in the foregoing order; and no motion to postpone to a day certain, to refer, or to postpone indefinitely being decided, shall be again allowed on the same day at the same stage of the question. After the previous question shall have been ordered on the passage of a bill or joint resolution, one motion to recommit shall be in order, and the Speaker shall give preference in recognition for such purpose to a Member who is opposed to the bill or joint resolution.

5. The hour at which the House adjourns shall be entered on the Journal.

6. On the demand of any Member, before the question is put, a question shall be divided if it includes propositions so distinct in substance that one being taken away a substantive proposition shall remain: Provided, That any motion or resolution to elect the members or any portion of the members of the standing committees of the House and the joint standing committees shall not be divisible.

7. A motion to strike out and insert is indivisible, but a motion to strike out being lost shall neither preclude amendment nor motion to strike out and insert; and no motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment.

8. Pending a motion to suspend the rules, the Speaker may entertain one motion that the House adjourn; but after the result thereon is announced he shall not entertain any other motion till the vote is taken on suspension.

9. At any time after the reading of the Journal it shall be in order, by direction of the appropriate committees, to move that the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the purpose of considering bills raising revenue, or general appropriation bills.

10. No dilatory motion shall be entertained by the Speaker.

RULE XVII

PREVIOUS QUESTION

1. There shall be a motion for the previous question, which, being ordered by a majority of Members voting, if a quorum be present, shall have the effect to cut off all debate and bring the House to a direct vote upon the immediate question or questions on which it has been asked and ordered. The previous question may be asked and ordered upon a single motion, a series of motions allowable under the rules, or an amendment or amendments, or may be made to embrace all authorized motions or amendments and include the bill to its passage or rejection. It shall be in order, pending the motion for, or after the previous question shall have been ordered on its passage, for the Speaker to entertain and submit a motion to commit, with or without instructions, to a standing or select committee.

2. A call of the House shall not be in order after the previous question is ordered, unless it shall appear upon an actual count by the Speaker that a quorum is not present.

3 All incidental questions of order arising after a motion is made for the previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

RULE XVIII

RECONSIDERATION

1. When a motion has been made and carried or lost, it shall be in order for any Member of the majority, on the same or succeeding day, to move for the reconsideration thereof, and such motion shall take precedence of all other questions except the consideration of a conference report or a motion to adjourn, and shall not be withdrawn after the said succeeding day without the consent of the House, and thereafter any Member may call it up for consideration: Provided, That such motion, if made during the last six days of a session, shall be disposed of when made.

2. No bill, petition, memorial, or resolution referred to a committee, or reported therefrom for printing and recommitment, shall be brought back into the House on a motion to reconsider; and all bills, petitions, memorials, or resolutions reported from a committee shall be accompanied by reports in writing, which shall be printed.

RULE XIX

OF AMENDMENTS

When a motion or proposition is under consideration a motion to amend and a motion to amend that amendment shall be in order, and it shall also be in order to offer a further amendment by way of substitute, to which one amendment may be offered, but which shall not be voted on until the original matter is perfected, but either may be withdrawn before amendment or decision is had thereon. Amendments to the title of a bill or resolution shall not be in order until after its passage, and shall be decided without debate.

RULE XX

OF AMENDMENTS OF THE SENATE

1. Any amendment of the Senate to any House bill shall be subject to the point of order that it shall first be considered in the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union if, originating in the House, it would be subject to that point.

2. No amendment of the Senate to a general appropriation bill which would be in violation of the provisions of clause 2 of Rule XXI, if said amendment had originated in the House, nor any amendment of the Senate providing for an appropriation upon any bill other than a general appropriation bill, shall be agreed to by the managers on the part of the House unless specific authority to agree to such amendment shall be first given by the House by a separate vote on every such amendment.

RULE XXI

ON BILLS

1. Bills and joint resolutions on their passage shall be read the first time by title and the second time in full, when, if the previous question is ordered, the Speaker shall state the question to be: Shall the bill be engrossed and read a third time? and, if decided in the affirmative, it shall be read the third time by title, unless the reading in full is demanded by a Member, and the question shall then be put upon its passage.

2. No appropriations shall be reported in any general appropriation bill, or be in order as an amendment thereto, for any expenditure not previously authorized by law, unless in continuation of appropriations for such public works and objects as are already in progress. Nor shall any provision in any such bill or amendment thereto changing existing law be in order, except such as being germane to the subject matter of the bill shall retrench expenditures by the reduction of the number and salary of the officers of the United States, by the reduction of the compensation of any person paid out of the Treasury of the United States, or by the reduction of amounts of money covered by the bill: Provided, That it shall be in order further to amend such bill upon the report of the committee or any joint commission authorized by law or the House Members of any such commission having jurisdiction of the subject matter of such amendment, which amendment being germane to the subject matter of the bill shall retrench expenditures.

3. No bill for the payment or adjudication of any private claim against the Government shall be referred, except by unanimous consent, to any other than the following-named committees, viz: To the Committee on Invalid Pensions, to the Committee on Pensions, to the Committee on Claims, to the Committee on War Claims, to the Committee on the Public Lands, and to the Committee on Accounts.

4. No bill or joint resolution carrying appropriations shall be reported by any committee not having jurisdiction to report appropriations, nor shall an amendment proposing an appropriation be in order during the consideration of a bill or joint resolution reported by a committee not having that jurisdiction. A question of order on an appropriation in any such bill, joint resolution, or amendment thereto may be raised at any time.

RULE XXII

OF PETITIONS, MEMORIALS, BILLS, AND RESOLUTIONS

1. Members having petitions or memorials or bills of a private nature to present may deliver them to the Clerk, indorsing their names and the reference or disposition to be made thereof; said petitions and memorials and bills of a private nature, except such as, in the judgment of the Speaker, are of an obscene or insulting character, shall be entered on the Journal, with the names of the Members presenting them, and the Clerk shall furnish a transcript of such entry to the official reporters of debates for publication in the Record.

2. Any petition or memorial or private bill excluded under this rule shall be returned to the Member from whom it was received; and petitions and private bills which have been inappropriately referred may, by the direction of the committee having possession of the same, be properly referred in the manner originally presented; and an erroneous reference of a petition or private bill under this clause shall not confer jurisdiction upon the committee to consider or report the same.

3. All other bills, memorials, and resolutions may, in like manner, be delivered, indorsed with the names of Members introducing them, to the Speaker, to be by him referred, and the titles and references thereof and of all bills, resolutions, and documents referred under the rules shall be entered on the Journal and printed in the Record of the next day, and correction in case of error of reference may be made by the House, without debate, in accordance with Rule XI, on any day immediately after the reading of the Journal, by unanimous consent, or on motion of a committee claiming jurisdiction, or on the report of the committee to which the bill has been erroneously referred.

4. When a bill, resolution, or memorial is introduced "by request," these words shall be entered upon the Journal and printed in the Record.

5. All resolutions of inquiry addressed to the heads of executive departments shall be reported to the House within one week after presentation.

RULE XXIII

OF COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE HOUSE

1. In all cases, in forming a Committee of the Whole House, the Speaker shall leave his chair after appointing a Chairman to preside, who shall, in case of disturbance or disorderly conduct in the galleries or lobby, have power to cause the same to be cleared.

2. Whenever a Committee of the Whole House or of the Whole House on the state of the Union finds itself without a quorum, which shall consist of 100 Members, the Chairman shall cause the roll to be called, and thereupon the Committee shall rise, and the Chairman shall report the names of the absentees to the House, which shall be entered on the Journal; but if on such call a quorum shall appear, the Committee shall thereupon resume its sitting without further order of the House.

3. All motions or propositions involving a tax or charge upon the people; all proceedings touching appropriations of money, or bills making appropriations of money or property, or requiring such appropriations to be made, or authorizing payments out of appropriations already made, or releasing any liability to the United States for money or property, or referring any claim to the Court of Claims, shall be first considered in a Committee of the Whole, and a point of order under this rule shall be good at any time before the consideration of a bill has commenced.

4. In Committees of the Whole House business on their calendars may be taken up in regular order, or in such order as the Committee may determine, unless the bill to be considered was determined by the House at the time of going into Committee, but bills for raising revenue, general appropriation bills, and bills for the improvement of rivers and harbors shall have precedence.

5. When general debate is closed by order of the House, any Member shall be allowed five minutes to explain any amendment he may offer, after which the Member who shall first obtain the floor shall be allowed to speak five minutes in opposition to it, and there shall be no further debate thereon, but the same privilege of debate shall be allowed in favor of and against any amendment that may be offered to an amendment; and neither an amendment nor an amendment to an amendment shall be withdrawn by the mover thereof unless by the unanimous consent of the Committee.

6. The Committee may, by the vote of a majority of the Members present, at any time after the five minutes' debate has begun upon proposed amendments to any section or paragraph of a bill, close all debate upon such section or paragraph, or, at its election, upon the pending amendments only (which motion shall be decided without debate); but this shall not preclude further amendment, to be decided without debate.

7. A motion to strike out the enacting words of a bill shall have precedence of a motion to amend, and, if carried, shall be considered equivalent to its rejection. Whenever a bill is reported from a Committee of the Whole with an adverse recommendation and such recommendation is disagreed to by the House, the bill shall stand recommitted to the said Committee without further action by the House, but before the question of concurrence is submitted it is in order to entertain a motion to refer the bill to any committee, with or without instructions, and when the same is again reported to the House it shall be referred to the Committee of the Whole without debate.

8. The rules of proceeding in the House shall be observed in Committees of the Whole House so far as they may be applicable.

RULE XXIV

ORDER OF BUSINESS

1. The daily order of business shall be as follows:

First. Prayer by the Chaplain.

Second. Reading and approval of the Journal.

Third. Correction of reference of public bills.

Fourth. Disposal of business on the Speaker's table.

Fifth. Unfinished business.

Sixth. The morning hour for the consideration of bills called up by committees.

Seventh. Motions to go into Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union.

Eighth. Orders of the day.

2. Business on the Speaker's table shall be disposed of as follows:

Messages from the President shall be referred to the appropriate committees without debate. Reports and communications from heads of departments, and other communications addressed to the House, and bills, resolutions, and messages from the Senate may be referred to the appropriate committees in the same manner and with the same right of correction as public bills presented by Members; but House bills with Senate amendments which do not require consideration in a Committee of the Whole may be at once disposed of as the House may determine, as may also Senate bills substantially the same as House bills already favorably reported by a committee of the House, and not required to be considered in Committee of the Whole, be disposed of in the same manner on motion directed to be made by such committee.

3. The consideration of the unfinished business in which the House may be engaged at an adjournment, except business in the morning hour, shall be resumed as soon as the business on the Speaker's table is finished, and at the same time each day thereafter until disposed of, and the consideration of all other unfinished business shall be resumed whenever the class of business to which it belongs shall be in order under the rules.

4. After the unfinished business has been disposed of, the Speaker shall call each standing committee in regular order, and then select committees, and each committee when named may call up for consideration any bill reported by it on a previous day and on the House Calendar, and if the Speaker shall not complete the call of the committees before the House passes to other business, he shall resume the next call where he left off, giving preference to the last bill under consideration: Provided, That whenever any committee shall have occupied the morning hour on two days, it shall not be in order to call up any other bill until the other committees have been called in their turn.

5. After one hour shall have been devoted to the consideration of bills called up by committees, it shall be in order, pending consideration or discussion thereof, to entertain a motion to go into Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union, or, when authorized by a committee, to go into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union to consider a particular bill, to which motion one amendment only, designating another bill, may be made; and if either motion be determined in the negative, it shall not be in order to make either motion again until the disposal of the matter under consideration or discussion.

6. On Friday of each week, after the disposal of such business on the Speaker's table as requires reference only, it shall be in order to entertain a motion for the House to resolve itself into Committee of the Whole House to consider business on the Private Calendar in the following order: On the second and fourth Fridays of each month preference shall be given to the consideration of private pension claims and bills removing political disabilities and bills removing the charge of desertion. On every Friday except the second and fourth Fridays the House shall give preference to the consideration of bills reported from the Committee on Claims and the Committee on War Claims, alternating between the two committees.

7. On Wednesday of each week no business shall be in order except as provided by paragraph 4 of this rule, unless the House by a two-thirds vote on motion to dispense therewith shall otherwise determine. On such a motion there may be debate not to exceed five minutes for and against. On a call of committees under this rule bills may be called up from either the House or the Union Calendar, excepting bills which are privileged under the rules; but bills called up from the Union Calendar shall be considered in Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union. This rule shall not apply during the last two weeks of the session. It shall not be in order for the Speaker to entertain a motion for a recess on any Wednesday except during the last two weeks of the session.

Provided, That not more than two hours of general debate shall be permitted on any measure called up on Calendar Wednesday, and all debate must be confined to the subject matter of the bill, the time to be equally divided between those for and against the bill: Provided further, That whenever any committee shall have occupied two Wednesdays it shall not be in order, unless the House by a two-thirds vote shall otherwise determine, to consider any unfinished business previously called up by such committee, unless the previous question had been ordered thereon, upon any succeeding Wednesday until the other committees have been called in their turn under this rule.

8. The second and fourth Mondays in each month, after the disposal of such business on the Speaker's table as requires reference only, shall, when claimed by the Committee on the District of Columbia, be set apart for the consideration of such business as may be presented by said committee.

RULE XXV

PRIORITY OF BUSINESS

All questions relating to the priority of business shall be decided by a majority without debate.

RULE XXVI

UNFINISHED BUSINESS OF THE SESSION

All business before committees of the House at the end of one session shall be resumed at the commencement of the next session of the same Congress in the same manner as if no adjournment had taken place.

RULE XXVII

CHANGE OR SUSPENSION OF RULES

1. No rule shall be suspended except by a vote of two-thirds of the Members voting, a quorum being present; nor shall the Speaker entertain a motion to suspend the rules except on the first and third Mondays of each month, preference being given on the first Monday to individuals and on the third Monday to committees, and during the last six days of a session.

2. All motions to suspend the rules shall, before being submitted to the House, be seconded by a majority by tellers, if demanded.

3. When a motion to suspend the rules has been seconded, it shall be in order, before the final vote is taken thereon, to debate the proposition to be voted upon for 40 minutes, one-half of such time to be given to debate in favor of, and one-half to debate in opposition to, such proposition; and the same right of debate shall be allowed whenever the previous question has been ordered on any proposition on which there has been no debate.

4. A Member may present to the Clerk a motion in writing to instruct a committee to report within 15 days a public bill or resolution which has been referred to it 30 days prior thereto (but only one motion may be presented for each bill or resolution). The motion shall be placed in the custody of the Clerk, who shall arrange some convenient place for the signature of Members. A signature may be withdrawn by a Member in writing at any time before the motion is entered on the Journal. When a majority of the membership of the House shall have signed the motion it shall be entered on the Journal, printed with the signature thereto in the Congressional Record, and referred to the Calendar of Motions to Instruct Committees.

On the third Monday of each month, immediately after the approval of the Journal, any Member who has signed a motion to instruct which has been on the calendar at least seven days prior thereto, and seeks recognition, shall be recognized for the purpose of calling up the motion, and the House shall proceed to its consideration in the manner herein provided without intervening motion except one motion to adjourn. Recognition for the motions shall be in the order in which they have been entered.

When the motion shall be called up, the bill or resolution shall be read by title only prior to a second being ordered by tellers. After the reading of the bill by title the motion shall not be submitted to the House unless seconded by a majority of the membership of the House to be determined by tellers, and clause 4 of Rule XV shall not apply to such second; if such motion fails of a second, it shall immediately be stricken from the calendar and shall not be thereafter placed thereon.

If a second be ordered, debate on such motion shall be limited to 40 minutes, one-half thereof in favor of the proposition and one-half in opposition thereto. Such motions shall require for their adoption an affirmative vote of a majority of the membership of the House. Whenever such motion shall prevail the committee shall report said bill or resolution to the House within 15 days thereafter and said bill or resolution shall be referred to its appropriate calendar.

RULE XXVIII

CONFERENCE REPORTS

1a. The presentation of reports of committees of conference shall always be in order, except when the Journal is being read, while the roll is being called, or the House is dividing on any proposition.

1b. And there shall accompany every such report a detailed statement sufficiently explicit to inform the House what effect such amendments or propositions will have upon the measures to which they relate.

2. It shall not be in order to consider the report of a committee of conference until such report and the accompanying statement shall have been printed in the Record, except on either of the six days preceding the end of a session.

RULE XXIX

SECRET SESSION

Whenever confidential communications are received from the President of the United States, or whenever the Speaker or any Member shall inform the House that he has communications which he believes ought to be kept secret for the present, the House shall be cleared of all persons except the Members and officers thereof, and so continue during the reading of such communications, the debates, and proceedings thereon, unless otherwise ordered by the House.

RULE XXX

READING OF PAPERS

When the reading of a paper other than one upon which the House is called to give a final vote is demanded, and the same is objected to by any Member, it shall be determined without debate by a vote of the House.

RULE XXXI [1]

DRAWING OF SEATS

1. At the commencement of each Congress, immediately after the Members and Delegates are sworn in, the Clerk shall place in a box, prepared for that purpose, a number of small balls, of marble or other material, equal to the number of Members and Delegates, which balls shall be consecutively numbered and thoroughly intermingled, and at such hour as shall be fixed by the House for that purpose, by the hands of a page, draw said balls one by one from the box and announce the number as it is drawn, upon which announcement the Member or Delegate whose name on a numbered alphabetical list shall correspond with the number on the ball shall advance and choose his seat for the term for which he is elected.

2. Before said drawing shall commence each seat shall be vacated and so remain until selected under this rule, and any seat having been selected shall be deemed forfeited if left unoccupied before the call of the roll is finished; and whenever the seats of Members and Delegates shall have been drawn, no proposition for a second drawing shall be in order during that Congress.

RULE XXXII

HALL OF THE HOUSE

The Hall of the House shall be used only for the legislative business of the House and for the caucus meetings of its Members, except upon occasion where the House by resolution agree to take part in any ceremonies to be observed therein; and the Speaker shall not entertain a motion for the suspension of this rule.

RULE XXXIII

OF ADMISSION TO THE FLOOR

1. The persons hereinafter named, and none other, shall be admitted to the Hall of the House or rooms leading thereto, viz: The President and Vice President of the United States and their private secretaries, judges of the Supreme Court, Members of Congress and Members elect, contestants in election cases during the pendency of their cases in the House, the Secretary and Sergeant at Arms of the Senate, heads of departments, foreign ministers, governors of States, the superintendent of the Capitol Building and Grounds, the Librarian of Congress and his assistant in charge of the Law Library, the Resident Commissioner to the United States from Porto Rico, the Resident Commissioners from the Philippine Islands, such persons as have, by name, received the thanks of Congress, ex-Members of the House of Representatives who are not interested in any claim or directly in any bill pending before Congress, and clerks of committees when business from their committee is under consideration; and it shall not be in order for the Speaker to entertain a request for the suspension of this rule or to present from the chair the request of any Member for unanimous consent.

2. There shall be excluded at all times from the Hall of the House of Representatives and the cloakrooms all persons not entitled to the privilege of the floor during the session, except that until 15 minutes of the hour of the meeting of the House persons employed in its service, accredited members of the press entitled to admission to the press gallery, and other persons on request of Members, by card or in writing, may be admitted.

RULE XXXIV

OF ADMISSION TO THE GALLERIES

The Speaker shall set aside a portion of the west gallery for the use of the President of the United States, the members of his Cabinet, justices of the Supreme Court, foreign ministers and suites, and the members of their respective families, and shall also set aside another portion of the same gallery for the accommodation of persons to be admitted on the card of Members. The southerly half of the east gallery shall be assigned exclusively for the use of the families of Members of Congress, in which the Speaker shall control one bench, and on request of a Member the Speaker shall issue a card of admission to his family, which shall include their visitors, and no other persons shall be admitted to this section.

RULE XXXV

OFFICIAL AND OTHER REPORTERS

1. The appointment and removal, for cause, of the Official Reporters of the House, including stenographers of committees, and the manner of the execution of their duties shall be vested in the Speaker.

[1] Repealed by H. Res. 8, Sixty-third Congress.

2. Such portion of the gallery over the Speaker's chair as may be necessary to accommodate representatives of the press wishing to report debates and proceedings shall be set aside for their use, and reputable reporters and correspondents shall be admitted thereto under such regulations as the Speaker may from time to time prescribe; and the supervision of such gallery, including the designation of its employees, shall be vested in the standing committee of correspondents, subject to the direction and control of the Speaker; and the Speaker may assign one seat on the floor to Associated Press reporters, one to the Sun Press Association, one to the United Press Association, one to the National News Association, one to the Central News Association of America, and one to the New York Herald Syndicate, and regulate the occupation of the same. And the Speaker may admit to the floor, under such regulations as he may prescribe, one additional representative of each press association.

RULE XXXVI

PAY OF WITNESSES

The rule for paying witnesses subpœnaed to appear before the House or either of its committees shall be as follows: For each day a witness shall attend, the sum of $6; for each mile he shall travel in coming to or going from the place of examination, the sum of 7 cents each way; but nothing shall be paid for traveling when the witness has been summoned at the place of trial.

RULE XXXVII

PAPERS

The clerks of the several committees of the House shall, within three days after the final adjournment of a Congress, deliver to the Clerk of the House all bills, joint resolutions, petitions, and other papers referred to the committee, together with all evidence taken by such committee under the order of the House during the said Congress and not reported to the House; and in the event of the failure or neglect of any clerk of a committee to comply with this rule the Clerk of the House shall, within three days thereafter, take into his keeping all such papers and testimony.

RULE XXXVIII

WITHDRAWAL OF PAPERS

No memorial or other paper presented to the House shall be withdrawn from its files without its leave, and if withdrawn therefrom certified copies thereof shall be left in the office of the Clerk; but when an act may pass for the settlement of a claim, the Clerk is authorized to transmit to the officer in charge with the settlement thereof the papers on file in his office relating to such claim, or may loan temporarily to an officer or bureau of the executive departments any papers on file in his office relating to any matter pending before such officer or bureau, taking proper receipt therefor.

RULE XXXIX

BALLOT

In all cases of ballot a majority of the votes given shall be necessary to an election, and where there shall not be such a majority on the first ballot the ballots shall be repeated until a majority be obtained; and in all balloting blanks shall be rejected and not taken into the count in enumeration of votes or reported by the tellers.

RULE XL

MESSAGES

Messages received from the Senate and the President of the United States, giving notice of bills passed or approved, shall be entered in the Journal and published in the Record of that day's proceedings.

RULE XLI

EXECUTIVE COMMUNICATIONS

Estimates of appropriations and all other communications from the executive departments, intended for the consideration of any committees of the House, shall be addressed to the Speaker, and by him referred as provided by clause 2 of Rule XXIV.

RULE XLII

QUALIFICATIONS OF OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES

No person shall be an officer of the House, or continue in its employment, who shall be an agent for the prosecution of any claim against the Government, or be interested in such claim otherwise than as an original claimant; and it shall be the duty of the Committee on Accounts to inquire into and report to the House any violation of this rule.

RULE XLIII

JEFFERSON'S MANUAL

The rules of parliamentary practice comprised in Jefferson's Manual shall govern the House in all cases to which they are applicable, and in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the House and joint rules of the Senate and House of Representatives.

QUESTIONS OF ORDER

DECIDED IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES AT THE SECOND SESSION OF THE SEVENTY-FIRST CONGRESS

NICHOLAS LONGWORTH, OF OHIO, SPEAKER; WILLIAM TYLER PAGE, OF MARYLAND, CLERK

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

THE COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS IS BOUND BY THE PROVISIONS OF CLAUSE 2A OF RULE XIII.

THE COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS IN REPORTING AN APPROPRIATION BILL MUST SHOW IN ITS REPORT THE NEW LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS CARRIED IN THE BILL.

INASMUCH AS THE LEGISLATION MAY BE IN THE FORM OF A PROVISION UNDER THE HOLMAN RULE, IT IS MANIFESTLY IMPOSSIBLE TO SHOW IN THE REPORT BY TYPOGRAPHICAL DEVICES THE CHANGES IN EXISTING LAW PROPOSED.

IT IS SUFFICIENT IF THE REPORT CONTAINS A PARAGRAPH SPECIFYING CHANGES IN EXISTING LAW. (JANUARY 9, 1930.)

On January 9, 1930, Mr. BARBER moved that the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the further consideration of a bill (H. R. 7955) making appropriations for the military and nonmilitary activities of the War Department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1931, and for other purposes.

Mr. LAGUARDIA made the point of order that consideration of said bill was not in order in that the report accompanying the bill did not carry out the provisions of clause 2a of Rule XIII of the rules of the House.

After debate,

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order and said:

"The Chair is ready to rule. In view of the fact that this is the first time that the Chair or the House has been called upon to construe this rule, it becomes a matter of considerable importance, because it will apply to all appropriation bills to be considered in the House in the future. The rule which was adopted January 28, 1929, Rule XIII, clause 2a, commonly called the Ramseyer rule, is as follows:

"'Whenever a committee reports a bill or a joint resolution repealing or amending any statute or part thereof it shall include in its report or in an accompanying document—

"'(1) The text of the statute or part thereof which is proposed to be repealed; and

"'(2) A comparative print of that part of the bill or joint resolution making the amendment and of the statute or part thereof proposed to be amended, showing by stricken-through type and italics, parallel columns, or other appropriate typographical devices the omissions and insertions proposed to be made.'

"The point of order made by the gentleman from New York raises the question whether the Ramseyer rule applies to the Committee on Appropriations as well as to the legislative committees of the House. When this rule was discussed on the day it was passed, January 28, 1929, the gentleman from Iowa [Mr. RAMSEYER], the author of the rule, in explaining it, said:

"'The proposal in this new rule is simply this: Many bills which are introduced are to amend statutes. Such bills are reported back to the House, and there is nothing, either in the bill or in the report accompanying the bill, to advise Members of the House just what specific changes the bill proposes to make in the statute under consideration. If this amendment to Rule XIII is adopted, then hereafter a committee which reports a bill to amend an existing statute must show in the report just what changes are proposed.'

"Evidently the primary purpose of this rule applies only to legislative committees, because only legislative committees have the right to legislate. However, further on in the discussion the gentleman from Texas [Mr. BLANTON] asked the gentleman from New York, the chairman of the Committee on Rules:

"'Will this rule apply to appropriation bills?'

"The gentleman from New York [Mr. SNELL] replied:

"'It will apply to all bills carrying any legislation. Appropriation bills are not supposed to carry any legislation.'

"It occurs to the Chair that if it were not for the existence of the Holman rule, as the gentleman from Georgia indicated, it might be very debatable whether this rule would apply to appropriation bills at all, because the Appropriations Committee is not permitted to legislate by the rules of the House except in the case of the Holman rule. Now, it becomes a question whether when the committee frankly admits that it proposes to change existing law it then becomes bound by the provisions of the Ramseyer rule. In this case, and in the case of all appropriation bills that have been recently reported, there is a frank admission in some part of the report that the committee recommends a change of existing law. The Chair finds on page 26 of the report the following:

"'LIMITATIONS AND LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS

"'The following limitations on expenditure or legislative provisions, not heretofore enacted in connection with any appropriation bill are recommended.'

"And then follow three recommendations specifying changes in existing law.

"The Chair understands that those are the only cases in this bill where recommendations are made for a change of existing statutes and that therefore the Ramseyer rule was complied with.

"The query now comes, that being admitted, whether the mere change of a paragraph indicating how the money for this year is to be spent, applying only for a year as the appropriations do in all appropriation bills, the committee then is bound to indicate what those changes are in the same way they are bound in the matters of change of existing statutes.

"The Chair thinks such a construction of the rule would cause endless confusion, an immense amount of trouble, and does not think that the House intended, when it passed the Ramseyer rule, to cover mere changes in annual appropriations, because, after all, an appropriation is a mere direction as to how the money for one year is to be spent; no direction as to the future and no change of the legislation of the past.

"The Chair therefore holds that the Committee on Appropriations in reporting a bill is always bound by the provisions of the Ramseyer rule relating to changes in existing law, but is not bound by that rule to indicate every change in every paragraph containing an appropriation. The Chair therefore overrules the point of order."

WORDS TAKEN DOWN

WHEN WORDS UTTERED IN THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE ARE OBJECTED TO, AND A DEMAND IS MADE THAT THE WORDS BE TAKEN DOWN, THE CHAIR DIRECTS THE CLERK TO REPORT THE WORDS, THE COMMITTEE ARISES BY DIRECTION OF THE CHAIRMAN, AND THE CHAIRMAN REPORTS THE WORDS OBJECTED TO TO THE HOUSE.

IF THE SPEAKER HOLDS THE WORDS OBJECTED TO TO BE NOT UNPARLIAMENTARY, HE DIRECTS THE COMMITTEE TO RESUME ITS SESSION.

IT HAS BEEN HELD THAT LANGUAGE THAT CRITICIZES THE JUDICIARY IS NOT UNPARLIAMENTARY. (JANUARY 18, 1930.)

On January 18, 1930, Mr. WOOD moved that the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the further consideration of the bill (H. R. 8531) making appropriations for the Treasury and Post Office Departments for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1931, and for other purposes; and after some time was spent therein,

Mr. TILSON took the chair as Speaker pro tempore.

When Mr. SNELL, Chairman, reported that during consideration of the bill in Committee the following words used by Mr. SABATH in debate were objected to and on demand were taken down:

"Mr. SABATH. It is true. Instead of being prosecuted he (the Government officer) is being defended by district attorneys in each and every case."

The SPEAKER pro tempore held that the words as reported were not objectionable, and directed the Committee to resume its session.

GERMANENESS

TO A BILL PROVIDING THAT THE ATTORNEY GENERAL SHOULD SELECT TWO SITES FOR THE ERECTION OF PRISONS, AN AMENDMENT PROPOSING THAT ONE OF THOSE SITES SHOULD BE IN IDAHO AND ONE IN OHIO WAS HELD TE BE GERMANE. (JANUARY 22, 1930.)

On January 22, 1930, on motion of Mr. GRAHAM, by unanimous consent, the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union was discharged from the further consideration of a bill (H. R. 6807) establishing two institutions for the confinement of United States prisoners.

When said bill was considered and read twice, as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Attorney General is hereby authorized and directed to select forthwith and procure two sites, of not less than 1,000 acres each, and cause to be erected thereon suitable buildings for two institutions for the confinement of male persons who have been or shall be convicted of offenses against the United States. One of such sites to be selected shall be situated north of 38° north latitude and east of 80° longitude to serve the northeastern section of the United States, and one of such sites shall be situated west of the Mississippi River. Both sites shall be selected with due regard to the source of commitments, climatic conditions, and transportation facilities.

Mr. SCHAFER of Wisconsin submitted the following amendment:

On page 1, line 4, following the comma after the word "sites," insert "one in the State of Idaho and one in the State of Ohio."

Mr. McKEOWN made a point of order that the amendment was not germane.

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order.

TO A BILL PROPOSING THAT THE COMMISSIONER OF PROHIBITION SHALL DO CERTAIN THINGS, AN AMENDMENT PROVIDING THAT THE CIRCUIT COURT OF APPEALS SHOULD DO THEM WAS HELD NOT GERMANE. (JANUARY 20, 1930.)

ONE SPECIFIC PROPOSITION MAY NOT BE AMENDED BY ANOTHER SPECIFIC PROPOSITION.

On January 20, 1930, the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union was discharged from the further consideration of the bill (H. R. 3395) authorizing the Commissioner of Prohibition to pay for information concerning violations of the narcotic laws of the United States.

When said bill was considered and read twice, as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Commissioner of Prohibition is authorized and empowered to pay to any person, from funds now or hereafter appropriated for the enforcement of the narcotic laws of the United States, for information concerning a violation or attempted violation of any narcotic law of the United States, such sum or sums of money as he may deem appropriate, without reference to any moieties or rewards to which such person may otherwise be entitled by law.

Mr. O'CONNOR of New York submitted the following amendment:

Page 1, line 8, strike out the words "he may deem appropriate," and insert may be approved by the circuit court of appeals in the district where such seizure shall be made.

Mr. LAGUARDIA made the point of order that the amendment was not germane.

Mr. SNELL (Speaker pro tempore) sustained the point of order and said:

"The Chair is ready to rule. The Chair thinks we have a proposition before us dealing with the Commissioner of Prohibition, and the amendment offered by the gentleman from New York [Mr. O'CONNOR] attempts to add another subject. All the rulings are to the effect that you can not amend one subject by adding a second. The point of order is sustained."

PRIVATE BILL

A PRIVATE BILL IS ONE THAT AFFECTS AN INDIVIDUAL, INDIVIDUALS, CORPORATIONS, INSTITUTIONS, ETC.

A BILL PROVIDING FOR "THE RELIEF OF CERTAIN NEWSPAPERS; FOR ADVERTISING SERVICES RENDERED THE PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE OF THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT" WAS HELD TO BE A PRIVATE BILL.

BILLS ON THE WRONG CALENDAR ARE TRANSFERRED TO THE PROPER CALENDAR, AS OF DATE OF ORIGINAL REFERENCE, BY DIRECTION OF THE SPEAKER. (MARCH 17, 1930.)

On March 17, 1930, the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union was discharged from the consideration of the bill (H. R. 5917) for the relief of certain newspapers for advertising services rendered the Public Health Service of the Treasury Department.

When said bill was read by title,

Mr. STAFFORD made the point of order that the bill was a private bill, and therefore improperly on the Union and Consent Calendars.

Mr. MICHENER (Speaker pro tempore) sustained the point of order and said:

"As the Chair understands the situation, this bill as originally drafted in slightly different form was on the Private Calendar. It was redrafted and then found its way to the Consent Calendar. Where a bill affects an individual, individuals, corporations, institutions, and so forth, it should and does go to the Private Calendar. Where it applies to a class and not to individuals as such, it then becomes a general bill and would be entitled to a place on the Consent Calendar. In the judgment of the Chair this bill, while affecting a class of concerns, specifies individuals, and for the purpose of the rule the Chair holds that the bill is improperly on this calendar and transfers it as of the date of the original reference to the Private Calendar."

When said bill was referred to the Committee of the Whole House and ordered to be printed.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

A POINT OF ORDER AGAINST A BILL THAT THE REPORT DOES NOT CONFORM TO THE PROVISIONS OF CLAUSE 2A OF RULE XIII (THE RAMSEYER RULE) PREVENTS CONSIDERATION.

WHERE THE CHAIR SUSTAINS A POINT OF ORDER UNDER CLAUSE 2A OF RULE XIII THE CHAIR, ACTING UNDER THE IMPLIED AUTHORITY CONTAINED IN THE RULE, RECOMMITS THE BILL AND REPORT TO THE COMMITTEE REPORTING THE MEASURE IN ORDER THAT THE COMMITTEE MAY AMEND ITS REPORT TO CONFORM TO THE PROVISIONS OF THE RULE. (MARCH 17, 1930.)

On March 17, 1930, the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union was discharged from the further consideration of the bill (H. R. 7585) to amend the act entitled "An act to provide that the United States shall aid the States in the construction of rural post roads, and for other purposes," approved July 11, 1916, as amended and supplemented, and for other purposes.

When said bill was read by title.

Mr. LAGUARDIA made the point of order that the bill was not properly reported according to clause 2a of Rule XIII.

Mr. SNELL (Speaker pro tempore) sustained the point of order and said:

"The Chair is of the opinion that the report does not carry out the provisions of the Ramseyer rule. Therefore the point of order is sustained, and the bill will be recommitted to the Committee on Roads in order that the committee may make a report in conformity with the Ramseyer rule."

When said bill was recommitted to the Committee on Roads and ordered to be printed.

PRIVILEGED REPORTS

A JOINT RESOLUTION PROVIDING FOR A COMMISSION COMPOSED OF MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE AND SENATE AND CERTAIN PERSONS TO BE APPOINTED BY THE PRESIDENT IS PROPERLY WITHIN THE JURISDICTION OF THE COMMITTEE ON RULES.

THE COMMITTEE ON RULES REPORTS SUCH A RESOLUTION AS PRIVILEGED.

IF THE RESOLUTION AUTHORIZES AN APPROPRIATION THE RESOLUTION IS REFERRED TO THE UNION CALENDAR.

A MOTION TO GO INTO THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE HOUSE ON THE STATE OF THE UNION TO CONSIDER SUCH A JOINT RESOLUTION IS PRIVILEGED. (APRIL 1, 1930.)

On April 1, 1930, Mr. SNELL, by direction of the Committee on Rules, under clause 45 of Rule XI, called up the joint resolution (H. J. Res. 251) to promote peace and to equalize the burdens and to minimize the profits of war.

Mr. STAFFORD made the point of order that the joint resolution was not privileged.

After debate,

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order and said:

"The Chair is prepared to rule. The Chair has not the slightest doubt that this joint resolution is brought before the House in the proper way. It has been the common practice of the present occupant of the chair, and I think of many of his predecessors, to invariably refer bills and joint resolutions which create a joint commission, partly consisting of Members of the House, to the Committee on Rules. There is no other committee to which they could possibly go. Where a bill or resolution is reported by the committee having jurisdiction, the Committee on Rules, and the bill or resolution involves the creation of a joint committee, which is in itself a quasi legislative committee, the Chair believes it comes before the House properly and is privileged. It is a change in the rules in so far as it permits and provides that Members of the House shall serve on the commission which it creates. Therefore the Chair overrules the point of order."

Mr. SNELL then moved that the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the consideration of said joint resolution.

GERMANENESS

TO A BILL PROVIDING AMONG OTHER THINGS THAT ACTIONS BROUGHT AGAINST A CARRIER SHALL ONLY BE IN A STATE THROUGH OR INTO WHICH THE DEFENDANT CARRIER OPERATES A LINE OF RAILROADS, AN AMENDMENT PROPOSING AS AN ADDITION THAT SUCH ACTION MIGHT BE BROUGHT IN THE DISTRICT OR STATE WHERE THE RAILROAD MAINTAINED AN AGENT. WAS HELD TO BE NOT GERMANE.

ONE INDIVIDUAL PROPOSITION MAY NOT BE AMENDED BY ANOTHER.

INSTRUCTIONS IN A MOTION TO RECOMMIT MUST BE GERMANE TO THE PROVISIONS IN THE BILL SOUGHT TO BE RECOMMITTED. (APRIL 3, 1930.)

On April 3, 1930, the bill (H. R. 3141) to amend paragraph (11) of section 20 of the interstate commerce act, as amended, was considered and read twice.

After debate,

On motion of Mr. PARKER, the previous question was ordered on the bill to its passage or rejection.

The bill was ordered to be engrossed and read a third time, and was read a third time by title.

Mr. JONES of Texas moved to recommit the bill to the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, with instructions to that committee to report the bill back to the House forthwith with the following amendment.

On page 5, line 5, after the word "railroad," insert the words or maintain an agent.

Mr. MAPES made the point of order that the amendment was not germane to the bill.

After debate,

The SPEAKER sustained the point of order and said:

"As the Chair understands this provision it is intended to apply only to States in which a railway line is actually operated. It might be wise to provide that where a railroad runs between the States of Texas and Oklahoma there should be the right to serve an agent who resides in Maine, but that is not what this bill provides.

"In the opinion of the Chair the instructions embodied in the motion to recommit are not germane to the provisions of the bill and, therefore, the Chair sustains the point of order."

TO A BILL PROVIDING THAT OFFICERS, SOLDIERS, SAILORS, AND MARINES WHO SERVED IN THE WORLD WAR SHOULD HAVE PREFERENCE OF ENTRY UNDER THE HOMESTEAD OR DESERT LAND LAWS, AN AMENDMENT PROPOSING THAT LIKE ENTRY MIGHT BE HAD ON THE OREGON-CALIFORNIA LAND GRANTS WITH THE ADDITIONAL RIGHT OF EXEMPTION FROM COUNTY TAXATION, WAS HELD NOT GERMANE (APRIL 11, 1930.)

On April 11, 1930, the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union was discharged from the further consideration of the joint resolution (H. J. Res. 181) to amend a joint resolution entitled "Joint resolution giving to discharged soldiers, sailors, and marines a preferred right of homestead entry," approved February 14, 1920, as amended January 21, 1922, was considered and read twice.

Mr. MCCLINTIC of Oklahoma submitted the following amendment:

Page 3, after the word "States," on line 7, insert Provided, That the lands known as the Oregon-California land grants shall be subject to said entry, and when filed on the same shall be exempt from taxation by the counties where the same are located.

Mr. SWING made the point of order that the amendment was not germane.

Mr. MAPES, Speaker pro tempore, sustained the point of order.

QUESTION OF PRIVILEGE

A RESOLUTION PROVIDING "THAT A RESPECTFUL MESSAGE BE SENT TO THE SENATE CALLING THE ATTENTION OF THE SENATE TO THE REMARKS OF THE SENATOR FROM GEORGIA (MR. GEORGE) * * * WITH THE REQUEST THAT SUCH ACTION BE TAKEN BY THE SENATE AS WILL ELIMINATE FROM THE RECORD SUCH REMARKS AS ARE IN VIOLATION OF PROPER PARLIAMENTARY PRACTICE AND THE PROPER COMITY EXISTING BETWEEN THE TWO HOUSES" WAS HELD NOT TO BE PRIVILEGED. (APRIL 28, 1930.)

On April 28, 1930, Mr. LUCE rose to a question of privilege of the House and submitted the following resolution:

Resolved, That a respectful message be sent to the Senate calling the attention of the Senate to the remarks of the Senator from Georgia [Mr. GEORGE], found in the proceedings of the Senate for April 25, 1930, with the request that such action be taken by the Senate as will eliminate from the Record such remarks as are in violation of proper parliamentary practice and the proper comity existing between the two Houses.

Mr. CRISP made the point of order that the resolution does not present a question of privilege of the House.

After debate,

The SPEAKER sustained the point of order and said:

"There is not the slightest question that there are several sections of Jefferson's Manual applying to comity between the two Houses, which would cover a case like this, if the Vice President had not made a ruling the other day in which he said that the Senate is not bound in any respects by Jefferson's Manual. The Vice President said:

"'The Chair is ready to rule on the question. The Senate has not adopted Jefferson's Manual as a part of the rules of the Senate. It is left to the discretion of Senators as to what they may or may not say about the proceedings of the House in connection with the resolution under consideration.

"'Mr. FESS. That is not a rule.

"'The VICE PRESIDENT. The Chair makes that rule now.'

"The matter under consideration in the Senate at that time was the matter to which the gentleman from Georgia [Mr. CRISP] has just referred. In other words, it is left to the conscience of Senators as to what they may or may not say about the proceedings of the House, and the last thing that the present occupant of the chair would be willing to rule upon is a question of that sort.

"The Chair holds that the resolution of the gentleman from Massachusetts is not privileged."

ORDER IN DEBATE

IT IS NOT IN ORDER IN DEBATE TO CRITICIZE THE ACTION OF A SENATOR IN CONNECTION WITH HIS LEGISLATIVE DUTIES.

A MEMBER OF THE HOUSE MAY NOT REFLECT IN ANY WAY IN DEBATE ON THE FLOOR OF THE HOUSE ON THE ACTIONS, SPEECHES, OR PROCEEDINGS OF A SENATOR OR OF THE SENATE ITSELF.

IT IS IN ORDER IN DECIDING QUESTIONS OF ORDER TO REFER TO PARLIAMENTARY DECISIONS OF THE SENATE. (MAY 6, 1930.)

On May 6, 1930, Mr. LAGUARDIA having obtained the floor, and during the course of his remarks said:

"The information which this Senate committee obtained is of vital importance at this time. We have been unable to obtain the hearings for some reason. I think I know the reason. The chairman of this committee was Senator Shortridge, of California. The committee consisted of three members. The personnel of the committee has been changed, and with the exception of Senator Shortridge I believe the committee is inactive.

"Now, the information obtained is public property; it is useful at this time. I should like to know what pressure is being brought on Senator Shortridge that he is improperly withholding this information."

Whereupon,

Mr. SNELL made the point of order that the gentleman was not in order in criticizing an individual Senator in connection with his legislative capacity.

After debate,

The SPEAKER sustained the point of order, and said:

"Since the ruling of the Vice President just referred to by the gentleman from New York [Mr. LAGUARDIA] on April 21 of this year, in which he specifically overruled the decision of the President pro tempore of the Senate made on July 31, 1917, on the subject, the Chair has regarded it as inevitable that a situation would speedily arise of which this House must take cognizance. A comparatively recent decision of the Senate is directly in point as to whether the rules of Jefferson's Manual do or do not, impliedly at least, govern the proceedings of that body, certainly with reference to matters spoken in derogation of the actions or attitude of Members of another body, or of that body itself.

"The Chair has taken the pains to look up a number of these decisions, some of which he will quote, because, as the Chair has already said, he was morally certain that a situation would speedily arise in which a final, definite ruling might have to be made in the House.

"On August 26, 1912, in the Senate during the consideration of the conference report upon the deficiency appropriation bill, Mr. Charles A. Culberson, of Texas, having the floor in debate, said:

"'I ask that the Secretary may read from the Record the marked paragraph which I send to the desk, from page 13016, in the debate in the House of Representatives.

"'The Secretary read as follows:

"'Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker, I move the House adhere'——

"At that point Mr. John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, made the point of order that under the rules of the Senate it was not permissible to animadvert upon the proceedings of the other

House. The President pro tempore, Mr. Jacob H. Gallinger, of New Hampshire, said:

"'The Chair thinks it will be found in Jefferson's Manual, not in the rules of the Senate.'

"Mr. Culberson submitted that Jefferson's Manual, while persuasive in determining proceedings, was not in fact, part of the rules of the Senate. The President pro tempore ruled:

"'The Chair has always been of opinion that Jefferson's Manual, so far as it is pertinent, is, and has been recognized as a part of the rules of this body, and the Chair finds in Jefferson's Manual this statement:'

"And here he quotes from the precedent referred to by the gentleman from New York [Mr. SNELL]:

"'It is a breach of order in debate to notice what has been said on the same subject in the other House, or the particular votes or majorities on it there, because the opinion of each House should be left to its own independency, not to be influenced by the proceedings of the other; and the quoting of them might beget reflections leading to a misunderstanding between the two Houses.'

"He then proceeded with his decision:

"'While undoubtedly in debate in this body, and perhaps in the other body, that rule has not always been strictly adhered to, yet, the point of order having been made, the Chair feels constrained to sustain it.'

"On July 31, 1917—and this is the last decision of the Senate that the Chair has been able to find, and he is not aware that there has been any other decision on the subject up to the one recently made on April 21 of this year—the Senate, as in Committee of the Whole, had under consideration the joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution prohibiting the sale, manufacture, and transportation of intoxicating liquor.

"Mr. William H. Thompson, of Kansas, being recognized for debate, proposed to have read at the desk a letter certifying that Jacob E. Meeker, a Representative from Missouri, was formerly a Congregational minister and had resigned under censure. Mr. LEE S. OVERMAN, of North Carolina, made the point of order that the rules of the Senate did not permit the introduction of matter reflecting upon a Member of the House of Representatives.

"The Presiding Officer (WILLIAM H. KING, of Utah), President pro tempore, sustained the point of order and said:

"'There is a rule that would make it improper and out of order to refer to a Member of the House of Representatives in opprobrious terms and to impute to him unworthy motives. No Senator ought to make any statement that would be a reflection upon any Member of the House or impute to him improper conduct or an unworthy motive. He is not here to defend himself. It would seem to the present occupant of the chair unfair for any Senator to make any comment upon the life or character or political conduct of a Member of the House of Representatives that would reflect upon his honor or his integrity or his good faith. The point of order is sustained.'

"Mr. Thompson submitted that Mr. Meeker had himself, on a previous occasion, violated the privileges of debate by inserting in the Record an extension of remarks reflecting on the State of Kansas. The Presiding Officer said:

"'The Chair will say that an infraction of the rules of the House by a Member of the House would not, in the opinion of the Chair, warrant an infraction of the rules of the Senate by an attack upon a Member of the House. In the opinion of the Chair, nothing should be stated by Senators that would be a reflection upon the integrity or moral character of a Member of the House, or impute to him improper or unworthy motives. (Record, 65th Cong., 1st sess., 5597).'

"On April 21, 1930, the Senate was considering a resolution (S. Res. 245) which provided that the Vice President should appoint a committee of five Senators to investigate the delay of the Speaker of the House of Representatives in not referring Senate Joint Resolution 3 to a committee of the House and to report to the Senate what action, if any, should be taken in the premises.

"Mr. GEORGE W. NORRIS, of Nebraska, in speaking on the resolution, criticized the Speaker and imputed to him unworthy motives in not referring the joint resolution to a committee.

"Mr. SIMEON D. FESS, of Ohio, made the point of order that under section 17 of Jefferson's Manual it was not in order for a Member of the Senate to criticize the actions of the Speaker of the House or of any Member of the House.

"The Vice President (Charles Curtis, of Kansas) overruled the point of order and said:

"'The Chair is willing to rule on the question. The Senate has not adopted Jefferson's Manual as a part of the rules of the Senate. It is left to the discretion of Senators as to what they may or may not say about the proceedings of the House in connection with the resolution under consideration.'

"Mr. FESS objected to the ruling and said:

"'That is not a rule.'

"The Vice President replied:

"'The Chair makes that ruling now.'

"The Chair has no hesitation in quoting these decisions in extenso, because it is a recognized principle that one House may refer to the parliamentary decisions of the other House in deciding questions of order (sec. 9442, Cannon's Precedents).

"So far as the Chair knows, the decision of the then Presiding Officer, Mr. King, is the last decision up to the recent one by Vice President Curtis which involves the question of how far the Senate is bound by Jefferson's Manual, and while it is true that the Senate never by express rule has made Jefferson's Manual a part of the Senate rules, as the House has done, nevertheless it has been fair for the House to assume, certainly up to 1917, and, if the Chair is not greatly in error, up almost to the present moment, that in the absence of a specific rule to the contrary Jefferson's Manual did wherever applicable govern the proceedings of the Senate.

"In the note of introduction to Jefferson's Manual of Parliamentary Practice it is stated, on page 93 of the House Rules and Manual, as follows:

"'Jefferson's Manual was prepared by Thomas Jefferson for his own guidance as President of the Senate in the years of his Vice Presidency, from 1797 to 1801. In 1837 the House, by rule which still exists, provided that the provisions of the manual should "govern the House in all cases to which they are applicable and in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the House." In 1880 the committee which revised the rules of the House declared in their report that the manual "compiled as it was for the use of the Senate exclusively and made up almost wholly of collations of English parliamentary practice and decisions, it was never especially valuable as an authority in the House of Representatives, even in its early history, and for many years past has been rarely quoted in the House" (V. 6757). This statement, although sanctioned by high authority, is extreme, for in certain parts of the manual are to be found the foundations of some of the most important portions on the House's practice.'

"But that was back in 1880. That statement or sanction by high authorities is strengthened, for certain parts of the manual are found to be the foundation of our parliamentary practice, and the Chair thinks that is daily growing more important as time goes on.

"The parliamentary practice of the House of Representatives emanates from four sources: First, the Constitution of the United States; second, Jefferson's Manual; third, the rules adopted by the House itself from the beginning of its existence; and, fourth, the decisions of the Speakers of the House and decisions of the chairmen of the Committee of the Whole.

"Scarcely a day passes in this House when Jefferson's Manual is not a basis for some of our legislative proceedings. On all matters relating to appointment of standing committees and designation of duties of chairmen, the Committee of the Whole, risings of the Committee of the Whole for various reasons, reports from the committee, and amendments of the committee, most of the provisions relating to the decorum and debate, many matters relating to bills and committees, to amendments in the House, to amendments between the Houses, and particularly to all matters dealing with amendments and conferences between the two Houses, the provisions of Jefferson's Manual are basic.

"There is no doubt, then, that even if the House had not specifically provided that Jefferson's Manual should govern in all cases where applicable, it could be safely laid down as a general proposition that Jefferson's Manual should so govern.

"In fact, it must be conceded that Jefferson's Manual is the primary authority for all parliamentary proceedings in this country, and the Chair thinks that if Thomas Jefferson had never done anything except to write this monumental manual he would merit the thanks of his countrymen.

"The Chair will not attempt to comment upon any phase of this question except that which relates to the rules of comity between the two Houses. There are three provisions, at least, of Jefferson's Manual which are particularly relative to this question. I read:

"'SEC. 301. It is highly expedient, says Hatsel, for the due preservation of the privileges of the separate branches of the Legislature that neither should encroach on the other, or interfere in any matter depending before them, so as to preclude, or even influence, that freedom of debate which is essential to a free council. They are, therefore, not to take notice of any bills or other matters depending, or of votes that have been given, or of speeches which have been held, by the Members of either of the other branches of the Legislature, until the same have been communicated to them in the usual parliamentary manner (a Hats. 252; 4 Inst. 15; Seld. Jud. 53).

"'SEC. 364. It is breach of order in debate to notice what has been said on the same subject in the other House, or the particular votes or majorities on it there; because the opinion of each House should be left to its own independency, not to be influenced by the proceedings of the other; and the quoting them might beget reflections leading to a misunderstanding between the two Houses. (8 Grey, 22.)

"'SEC. 367. Where the complaint is of words disrespectfully spoken by a Member of another House it is difficult to obtain punishment, because of the rules supposed necessary to be observed (as to the immediate noting down of words) for the security of Members. Therefore it is the duty of the House, and more particularly of the Speaker, to interfere immediately and not to permit expressions to get unnoticed which may give a ground of complaint to the other House, and introduce proceedings and mutual accusations between the two Houses, which can hardly be terminated without difficulty and disorder. (3 Hats. 51.)'

"The effect of the recent decision of the Vice President is to hold that the three sections of Jefferson's Manual just quoted do not govern the proceedings of the Senate, and that Senators may use their own discretion in making any comment, insinuation, or attack upon any Member of the House or any proceeding of the House.

"The Chair makes no criticism whatever of the decision of the Vice President. He wants that clearly understood. But he thinks it is clear that under these changed conditions relating to the comity of the two Houses the House must take some action one way or the other.

"Concerning those precedents in Jefferson's Manual, Mr. Speaker Clark went so far as to say that it is not in order even to compliment Members of the Senate. From Cannon's Precedents I quote the following:

"'SEC. 9444. It is not in order to refer to a Member of the other House even for the purpose of complimenting him.

"'On June 27, 1918, Mr. Ben Johnson, speaking by unanimous consent, in discussing the bill H. R. 9248, the antiprofiteering rent bill, referred to Mr. Atlee Pomerene, a Member of the Senate from Ohio.

"'Mr. Oscar William Swift, of New York, made the point of order that it was not permissible to refer to a Senator in debate.

"'Mr. Johnson argues that the rule applied to criticism only, and was not applicable to his remarks in praise of the Senator.'

"The Speaker ruled:

"'The rule is that a Member of the House can not discuss a Senator at all, not even compliment him, because if you do compliment him somebody might jump up and say he was the grandest rascal in the country, and you would then have on your hands a debate of a very acrimonious nature.'

"There would seem to be but two alternatives for us to adopt in dealing with this situation. If the House desired to retaliate, it might, by rule, provide that these rules in Jefferson's Manual relating to comity between the two Houses should not apply to proceedings in the House. In other words, to say that Members of the House should be guided solely by their own discretion in making any comment, insinuation, or attack upon any Senator or any proceedings of the Senate.

"The other alternative is to rigidly insist upon strict adherence to both the spirit and letter of Jefferson's Manual.

"In the opinion of the Chair, the adoption of the first alternative would be violative of the spirit in which the House for 140 years has followed the precepts of Thomas Jefferson in our manner of association and dealing with the other legislative body. After all, Jefferson's general precepts are but a restatement of the manner in which all legislative bodies, particularly the British Parliament, have dealt with each other for centuries. They are but a restatement of what is and ought to be true sportsmanship in the dealings between the legislative branches of great governments.

"The Chair is firm, and he believes that the House will remain firm in our adherence to the rules of sportsmanship and comity as laid down in Jefferson's Manual.

"A situation arose sooner than the Chair expected where he was called upon to rule upon at least one phase of this question. On April 28, one week after the decision of the Vice President, the gentleman from Massachusetts [Mr. LUCE] offered, as a matter of privilege, a resolution providing that a respectful message be sent to the Senate calling attention to certain remarks of a Member of the Senate in which he criticized certain proceedings in the House. The debate upon this resolution, and the ruling of the Chair, are to be found on pages 8158 and 8159 of the Record and the Chair will not quote them here.

"Having had no notice in advance that such a resolution was to be brought up, the Chair had not then been able to give such investigation to this question as he has since. Nevertheless, he ruled that the resolution was not privileged in that the House, under Jefferson's Manual, had not the right to criticize the remarks of any Senator or occurrence on the floor of the Senate. Since then the Chair has had the opportunity to make more careful investigation of the principles and precedents governing this question, in anticipation that the question might again be brought up, and has already quoted what the believes to be the general rules underlying.

"The remarks of the gentleman from New York [Mr. LAGUARDIA] raise a question which, while it differs in form from that upon which the Chair has previously ruled, pertains to the same general governing principles.

"The question raised by the gentleman from New York is whether a Member may reflect in any way on the floor of the House against the actions, speeches, or proceedings of another Member or of the body itself.

"To put it in another way, Shall the House, notwithstanding any adverse action by the other body, adhere to the provisions laid down in Jefferson's Manual, which have always governed?

"The answer of the Chair is emphatically 'Yes.' Indeed, it appears to the Chair that it has become all the more necessary, if the rules of comity between the two Houses are to be at all preserved, that Members of the House should be limited even more rigidly than ever by Jefferson's rules prohibiting reference in terms of the slightest disparagement of the remarks or actions of Members or any of the proceedings of the other body.

"If no rules of comity are to be followed in either House, then legislation may become chaos indeed.

"In conclusion the Chair will say that so long as he remains Presiding Officer of this body he will see to it that the rules of Jefferson's Manual, in so far as they apply to the friendly relations between the Members of the two Houses and the Houses themselves, shall be enforced with the utmost rigidity, not only in the letter but in the spirit.

"The Chair therefore sustains the point of order."

GERMANENESS

TO A BILL AMENDING THE PURE FOOD AND DRUG ACT BY SPECIFICALLY DEFINING THE CLASS OF FOODS AFFECTED, AN AMENDMENT PROVIDING THAT "THE STANDARDS OF QUALITY AND CONDITION FOR ANY CANNED FOODS WHICH HAVE BEEN OR WHICH IN THE FUTURE MAY BE ESTABLISHED BY OR UNDER AUTHORITY OF ANY OTHER ACT OF CONGRESS SHALL BE AND ARE HEREBY ADOPTED FOR THE PURPOSE OF THIS ACT," WAS HELD NOT TO BE GERMANE.

A SPECIFIC SUBJECT MAY NOT BE AMENDED BY A GENERAL PROVISION, EVEN WHEN OF THE SAME CLASS. (MAY 7, 1930.)

On May 7, 1930, the bill (H. R. 730) to amend section 8 of the act entitled "An act for preventing the manufacture, sale, or transportation of adulterated or misbranded or poisonous or deleterious foods, drugs, medicines, and liquors, and for regulating traffic therein, and for other purposes," approved June 30, 1906, as amended, was considered and read twice.

Mr. MENGES submitted the following amendment:

Page 2, line 23, after the word "require" insert a colon and the following: Provided, That the standards of quality and condition for any canned foods which have been or which in the future may be established by or under authority of any other act of Congress shall be and are hereby adopted for the purpose of this act as the official standards of the United States for canned foods.

Mr. CHINDBLOM made a point of order that the amendment was not germane.

After debate,

The SPEAKER sustained the point of order, and said:

"The gentleman from Illinois [Mr. CHINDBLOM] has made an argument which impresses the Chair in regard to the definition of class, but the Chair does not see where the word 'class' is mentioned before. * * * As the Chair understands, the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. CHINDBLOM] founds his point of order on the ground that the class is defined in this act and that the amendment of the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. MENGES] goes beyond the class as defined in the bill? * * * The Chair rather thinks that it does, and sustains the point of order."

CREDENTIALS OF MEMBER ELECT

OBJECTION BEING MADE AGAINST THE OATH BEING ADMINISTERED TO A MEMBER ELECT ON THE GROUND THAT HIS CREDENTIALS WERE NOT IN DUE FORM, THE CHAIR HELD THAT IT WAS A QUESTION FOR THE HOUSE TO DETERMINE UNDER THE CONSTITUTION. (JUNE 2, 1930.)

On June 2, 1930, Mr. GARNER presented Mr. THOMAS L. BLANTON, Representative elect from the seventeenth district of Texas, to take the oath of office, asserting that Mr. BLANTON'S credentials had been received and were in proper form.

Mr. CLANCY objected on the ground that the credentials were not in proper form.

The credentials being read for the information of the House, it was found that the certificate of the governor set forth that Mr. BLANTON was "duly elected as Congressman" instead of "Representative in Congress."

The SPEAKER said:

"The Chair is prepared to express his opinion on this matter. There is sufficient ground here for contending that this certificate is not without fault, because it has used the word 'Congressman,' which is never used, and which has never been used, so far as the Chair knows, in swearing in a Member. The Clerk informed the Chair this morning that on a number of occasions he has returned certificates to Texas, where the word 'Congressman' was used, and when the correction was made and certificate was returned here the Member was sworn in as a Representative in Congress. So far as the Chair knows, no man has ever taken the oath as 'Congressman' but only as 'Representative in Congress.' Under the circumstances, however, the Chair would not undertake to assume the responsibility of refusing administration of the oath to any person where the certificate was no more to be criticized than this. However, the Chair thinks that is a matter for the House to determine. Section 5 of Article I of the Constitution says:

"'Each House shall be the judge of the elections, returns, and qualifications of its own Members.'

"Under the circumstances the Chair will put the question to the House. Does the House desire that the Chair shall administer the oath of office to the gentleman from Texas?"

The question was taken, and the House responded in the affirmative.

QUESTION OF PRIVILEGE

LANGUAGE IN A PAID POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT SETTING FORTH THAT "DURING THIS PERIOD WASTE AND EXTRAVAGANCE RUN RAMPANT AND BAD BILLS OF EVERY KIND PASS WITHOUT READING," AND "HE (MR. BLANTON) KNOWS HOW TO STOP AND KILL STEALS WHEN THEY ARE ATTEMPTED" WERE HELD TO AFFECT THE INTEGRITY OF THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE HOUSE. (JUNE 2, 1930.)

On June 2, 1930, Mr. CLANCY rose to a question of privilege of the House and submitted the following resolution:

Resolved, That the paid advertisement appearing in the Abilene Daily Reporter, a newspaper of Abilene, Tex., on May 19, 1930, setting forth the following:

"SERVICE OR SENTIMENT—VOTE MAY 20 FOR YEAR'S SERVICE—THE LAST FEW WEEKS OF EVERY SESSION OF CONGRESS

"Toward the close of each session of Congress many Members leave Washington. Those who remain become careless, with minds preoccupied with approaching campaigns and thoughts of home. During this period waste and extravagance run rampant, and bad bills of every kind pass without reading. Rules are suspended. Junketing trips abroad are arranged. It is at this time, more than any other, there is urgently needed on the floor at all times some Member to stand guard and watch the interests of the people.

"BLANTON ON THE FLOOR AT ALL SESSIONS

"When Governor Moody called this special election, why was it that the press reported a howl from some leaders in Washington? They believed that the people would return BLANTON to Congress. They knew he would upset some of their riotous spending and their arrangements for summer junkets.

* * * * * * *

"BLANTON NEEDED ON GUARD IN CLOSING WEEKS OF THIS CONGRESS

"If you elect BLANTON on May 20, he will be sworn in on May 22. He will take his seat immediately. He will begin functioning immediately. He knows the rules and precedents as well as any other Member. He knows how to stop and kill steals when they are attempted. And he will attend the special session contemplated by Hoover in September and the regular session from December 1, 1930, to March 4, 1931. And during this time the 500,000 people of this district will have a man of experience to attend to their business with the several hundred bureaus of Government."

vitally affects the rights of the House, collectively, its dignity, and the integrity of its proceedings; and second, the rights, reputation, and conduct of Members, individually in their representative capacity.

Resolved further, That the Speaker appoint a select committee of three Members of the House and that such committee be instructed to inquire into the above-mentioned charges, and for such purposes it shall have the power to send for persons and papers and enforce their appearance before said committee and to administer oaths and shall have the right to report at any time what action should be taken.

Mr. STAFFORD made the point of order that the resolution did not present a question of privilege of the House.

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order and said:

"The Chair is prepared to rule.

"The question is whether these quoted statements form the basis for a question of privilege.

"Rule 9 provides as follows:

"'Questions of privilege shall be, first, those affecting the rights of the House collectively, its safety, dignity, and the integrity of its proceedings.'

"Query. Does this statement affect the integrity of the proceedings of the House; that is, the words—

"'During this period waste and extravagance ran rampant and bad bills of every kind pass without reading.'

"And in another place 'he' [Mr. BLANTON]—

"'Knows how to stop and kill steals when they are attempted?'

"The only precedent of which the Chair is aware occurred on January 3, 1917 (64th Cong., 2d sess., RECORD, p. 807), when Mr. WOOD, of Indiana, rose to a question of privilege on some newspaper statements of Thomas W. Lawson, of Boston, in which, among other things, he used this phrase:

"'The good old Capitol has been wallowing in Wall Street leaks for 40 years, wallowing hale and hearty.'

"The gentleman from Illinois, Mr. Mann, supported it on the ground that this affected privileges of the House, and the Speaker so held.

"It seems to the Chair that the statements in the advertisement reflecting on the integrity of the proceedings of the House, are at least as bad as those of Mr. Lawson. The Chair therefore holds that the resolution is privileged."

GERMANENESS

TO A BILL FIXING THE TERMS OF COURT, AN AMENDMENT CHANGING THE DIVISION OVER WHICH THE COURT HAS JURISDICTION, WAS HELD NOT GERMANE. (JUNE 2, 1930.)

On June 2, 1930, the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union was discharged from the further consideration of a bill (S. 1317) to amend section 108 of the Judicial Code as amended, so as to change the time of holding court in each of the six divisions of the eastern district of the State of Texas, and to require the clerk to maintain an office in charge of himself or a deputy at Sherman, Beaumont, Texarkana, and Tyler.

When said bill was considered and read twice, as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled, That the second and third sentences of the third paragraph of section 108 of the Judicial Code, as amended, are amended to read as follows:

"Terms of the district court of the Tyler division shall be held at Tyler on the first Monday in October and the second Monday in February; for the Beaumont division, at Beaumont on the fourth Monday in October and the first Monday in March; for the Sherman division, at Sherman on the fourth Monday in November and first Monday in April; for the Paris division, at Paris on the second Monday in December and third Monday in April; for the Jefferson division, at Jefferson on the first Mondays in January and May; and for the Texarkana division, at Texarkana on the third Mondays in January and May. The clerk of the court for the eastern district shall maintain an office in charge of himself or a deputy at Sherman, at Beaumont, at Texarkana, and at Tyler, which shall be kept open at all times for the transaction of the business of said court."

Mr. SANDERS of Texas submitted the following amendment:

At the end of the bill insert the following: That the counties of Upshur and Camp be transferred from the Jefferson division to the Tyler division.

Mr. PATMAN made a point of order that the amendment was not germane.

The SPEAKER sustained the point of order.

VETO MESSAGE

THE MOTION TO POSTPONE CONSIDERATION OF A VETO MESSAGE TO A DAY CERTAIN, OR TO REFER, IS OF EQUAL PRIVILEGE WITH A MOTION TO CONSIDER FORTHWITH. (JUNE 2, 1930.)

On June 2, 1930, the Speaker laid before the House the veto message of the President of the United States on the bill (S. 476), an act entitled "An act granting pensions and increase of pensions to certain soldiers, sailors, and nurses of the war with Spain, the Philippine insurrection, or the China relief expedition, and for other purposes."

The objections of the President were, under the Constitution, spread at large upon the Journal.

Mr. KNUTSON moved that action on the veto message of the President be postponed until immediately after the reading of the Journal on Thursday, June 5, 1930.

Mr. GASQUE submitted as preferential a motion that the House proceed forthwith to reconsider, the objections of the President to the contrary notwithstanding.

The SPEAKER held:

"The Chair does not think that is a motion of higher precedence than the motion of the gentleman from Minnesota.

"The Chair has had occasion several times to rule on this question. The Chair thinks it would be the duty of the Chair, in the absence of any motion, to lay the veto message at once before the House. The Chair thinks that a motion to postpone to a day certain or to refer is of equal privilege with a motion to forthwith consider."

CORRIDORS OF THE HOUSE

THE SPEAKER CONTROLS THE CORRIDORS AND PASSAGES IN THE HOUSE WING OF THE CAPITOL.

INSTANCE WHEREIN THE SPEAKER, UNDER AUTHORITY OF CLAUSE 3 OF RULE I, HAD REMOVED FROM THE SPEAKER'S LOBBY A PLACARD CONTAINING LANGUAGE WHICH WOULD HAVE BEEN SUBJECT TO BEING TAKEN DOWN HAD THE LANGUAGE BEEN UTTERED ON THE FLOOR OF THE HOUSE. (JUNE 5, 1930.)

On June 5, 1930, Mr. JOHNSON of Washington propounded the following parliamentary inquiry:

"I would like to inquire if the rules of the House forbid the placing of propaganda in the Speaker's lobby when no debate on the subject of the propaganda is on at the time that the propaganda is put there? And further, is it proper to put printed matter in large placarded letters in the lobby, criticizing this body?"

The SPEAKER said:

"The Chair will simply state that he ordered the Doorkeeper to remove the documents yesterday.

"As soon as it was called to the attention of the Chair it was ordered removed, under the authority which the Chair possesses under rule 1, clause 3, which provides as follows:

"'He (the Speaker) shall have general control, except as provided by rule or law, of the Hall of the House, and of the corridors and passages and the disposal of the unappropriated rooms in that part of the Capitol assigned to the use of the House, until further order.'

"The Chair was of the opinion that at least two of the sentences in that document were sentences which, if pronounced on the floor of the House, would have been subject to being taken down, and were not in order, and, by analogy, the Chair thinks it is even more improper to have such publications posted where no one can criticize them.

"As soon as the matter was called to the attention of the Chair, the matter was ordered removed."

RECOMMIT

IT IS NOT IN ORDER IN A MOTION TO RECOMMIT TO PROPOSE AS INSTRUCTIONS ANYTHING THAT MIGHT NOT BE PROPOSED DIRECTLY AS AN AMENDMENT.

WHERE THE HOUSE HAS AGREED TO AN AMENDMENT IT IS NOT IN ORDER IN A MOTION TO RECOMMIT WITH INSTRUCTIONS TO DIRECT AN ALTERATION IN THE AMENDMENT JUST ADOPTED BY THE HOUSE. (JUNE 11, 1930.)

On June 11, 1930, the House had ordered the bill (H. R. 7638) to authorize the acquisition for military purposes of land in the county of Montgomery, State of Alabama, for use as an addition to Maxwell Field to be engrossed and read a third time, and said bill was read a third time.

Mr. TABER moved to recommit the bill to the Committee on Military Affairs with instructions to that committee to report the same back forthwith with an amendment as follows:

In line 10, on page 2, strike out the sign and figures "$200,000" and insert in lieu thereof the sign and figures $100,000.

Mr. STAFFORD made the point of order that the motion was not in order in that it proposed to change an amendment just agreed to by the House.

The SPEAKER sustained the point of order and said:

"The rule is very clear that when the House has agreed to an amendment, it can not thereafter by a motion to recommit, change that amendment."

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

UNDER A SPECIAL RULE PROVIDING FOR THE CONSIDERATION OF A BILL EMBODYING THE FOLLOWING LANGUAGE, "THAT UPON THE ADOPTION OF THIS RESOLUTION IT SHALL BE IN ORDER TO MOVE THAT THE HOUSE RESOLVE ITSELF INTO A COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE HOUSE ON THE STATE OF THE UNION FOR THE CONSIDERATION OF H. R. 12549," IT WAS HELD THAT SUCH SPECIAL RULE DID NOT PROHIBIT THE RAISING OF THE POINT OF ORDER THAT THE REPORT DID NOT COMPLY WITH CLAUSE 2A OF RULE XIII.

WHEN A POINT OF ORDER THAT A COMMITTEE REPORT DOES NOT COMPLY WITH THE PROVISIONS OF CLAUSE 2A OF RULE XIII IS SUSTAINED, UNDER THE IMPLIED AUTHORITY CONTAINED IN THE RULE THE CHAIR RECOMMITS THE BILL AND THE REPORT TO THE COMMITTEE WHICH REPORTED IT. (JUNE 12, 1930.)

On June 12, 1930, Mr. VESTAL, of Indiana, moved that the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the consideration of the bill (H. R. 12549) to amend and consolidate the acts respecting copyright and to permit the United States to enter the International Copyright Union, which motion had been made in order by a special rule from the Committee on Rules, which was as follows:

House Resolution 243

Resolved, That upon the adoption of this resolution it shall be in order to move that the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the consideration of H. R. 12549, a bill to amend and consolidate the acts respecting copyright and to permit the United States to enter the International Copyright Union. That after general debate, which shall be confined to the bill and shall continue not to exceed two hours, to be equally divided and controlled by the chairman and ranking minority member of the Committee on Patents, the bill shall be read for amendment under the 5-minute rule. At the conclusion of the reading of the bill for amendment the committee shall rise and report the bill to the House with such amendments as may have been adopted, and the previous question shall be considered as ordered on the bill and the amendments thereto to final passage without intervening motion except one motion to recommit.

Mr. BUSBY made the point of order that the bill was not properly reported according to clause 2a of Rule XIII.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. TILSON) sustained the point of order, and said:

"The Chair is ready to rule.

"Paragraph 2a of Rule XIII reads:

"'Whenever a committee reports a bill or a joint resolution repealing or amending any statute or part thereof, it shall include in its report or in accompanying document—

"'(1) The text of the statute or part thereof which is proposed to be repealed; and

"'(2) A comparative print of that part of the bill or joint resolution making the amendment and of the statute or part thereof proposed to be amended, showing by stricken-through type and italics, parallel columns, or other appropriate typographical devices the omissions and insertions proposed to be made.'

"Section 64 of the bill provides:

"'The provisions of this act apply to existing copyright save as expressly indicated by this act. All other acts or parts of acts relating to copyrights are hereby repealed, as well as all other laws or parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act.'

"The gentleman from Indiana argues well that it would be a task of considerable magnitude to do what is proposed here, and yet that seems to be the purpose of the rule that the Member making the report of the committee shall do the work of investigation and submit to the House the information as to what statutes are to be repealed.

"On March 17, 1930, a point of order was made against a bill in very much the same situation as this bill, that it did not conform to section 2a of Rule XIII. In that case the Speaker pro tempore, who happened to be the gentleman from New York [Mr. SNELL], chairman of the Rules Committee, that reports this rule, sustained the point of order. It seems to the Chair clear that the ruling then made was correct and that no other ruling can be made here than to sustain the point of order and send the bill back to the committee for a report in accordance with the rule. The Chair therefore sustains the point of order."

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

WHERE A BILL PROPOSES TO AMEND EXISTING LAW BY ADDING A PROVISO AT THE END OF A SECTION THE IMMEDIATE SECTION OF LAW PRECEDING THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT SHOULD BE PRINTED IN THE COMMITTEE REPORT IN ORDER TO COMPLY WITH THE PROVISIONS OF CLAUSE 2A OF RULE XIII (THE RAMSEYER RULE). (JUNE 16, 1930.)

On June 16, 1930, during the call of the Consent Calendar, the joint resolution (H. J. Res. 303) to amend public resolution No. 80, Seventieth Congress, second session, relating to payment of certain claims of grain elevators and grain firms, was reported by the Clerk, when,

Mr. STAFFORD made the point of order that the bill was not properly reported according to clause 2a of Rule XIII.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. SNELL) sustained the point of order and said:

"Under a strict application of clause 2a, Rule XIII, the Chair thinks the immediate section of law preceding the proposed amendment should have been printed in the report.

"The point of order is sustained and the bill is recommitted to the Committee on War Claims."

A BILL WHICH SETS UP A SCHEDULE OF PAY AND RATINGS FOR THE PERSONNEL OF THE NAVAL ACADEMY BAND WITHOUT SPECIFICALLY REPEALING OR AMENDING EXISTING LAW IS NOT SUBJECT TO A POINT OF ORDER UNDER CLAUSE 2A OF RULE XIII. (JUNE 18, 1930.)

On June 18, 1930, under the Calendar Wednesday call, Mr. BRITTEN, by direction of the Committee on Naval Affairs, called up the bill (H. R. 10380) adjusting the salaries of the Naval Academy Band.

The Clerk read the bill as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Naval Academy Band shall hereafter consist of one leader with the pay and allowances of a lieutenant, senior grade, United States Navy; one second leader with the pay and allowances of a warrant officer; and of such enlisted men and in such ratings as may be assigned to that band by the Navy Department: Provided, That the ratings and the proportionate distribution among the ratings of the enlisted men shall be substantially the same as in the Navy Band: Provided further, That the leader, assistant leader, and the enlisted men of the Naval Academy Band shall be entitled to the same benefits in respect to pay, emoluments, and retirement arising from longevity, reenlistment, and length of service as are or hereafter may become applicable to other officers and enlisted men of the Navy.

Mr. STAFFORD made the point of order that the bill was not properly reported according to clause 2a of Rule XIII.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. TILSON) overruled the point of order and said:

"The Chair does not find in this bill a repeal or amendment of any statute whatever. Therefore, the Chair rules that the Ramseyer rule (clause 2a of Rule XIII) does not apply in this case."

WHERE A BILL AMENDS A STATUTE DIRECTLY AND THE COMMITTEE IN REPORTING THE BILL STRIKES OUT ALL AFTER THE ENACTING CLAUSE AND INSERTS NEW LANGUAGE IN THE FORM OF A COMMITTEE AMENDMENT WHICH DOES NOT AMEND EXISTING LAW DIRECTLY, IT HAS BEEN HELD THAT REGARDLESS OF THE ACTION OF THE COMMITTEE IN AMENDING THE BILL, THE PROVISIONS OF CLAUSE 2A OF RULE XIII APPLY. (JUNE 23, 1930.)

On June 23, 1930, the House was considering bills on the Consent Calendar in the House as in Committee of the Whole, when the bill (H. R. 10676) to restrict the expeditious handling, transportation, and delivery of certain mail matter where local or contractual conditions are inadequate was read by the Clerk by title.

Mr. LAGUARDIA made the point of order that the report accompanying the bill did not comply with the provisions of clause 2a of Rule XIII.

Mr. KELLY submitted that the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads had reported the bill to the House with the recommendation that the bill do pass with an amendment which struck out all after the enacting clause and inserted language which did not directly amend any statute.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. RAMSEYER) sustained the point of order and said:

"What is before the House is the bill (H. R. 10676) as originally introduced and as amended. As originally introduced, the bill does undertake to change existing statutes, and in that respect it is a violation of Rule XIII, paragraph 2a. The Chair sustains the point of order. The bill is recommitted to the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads."

PUBLIC BILL

A BILL WHICH AUTHORIZES THE PAYMENT OF AN INDEMNITY TO A FOREIGN GOVERNMENT ON ACCOUNT OF LOSSES SUSTAINED BY A SUBJECT OF THAT GOVERNMENT IS A PUBLIC BILL AND IS THEREFORE PROPERLY ON THE CONSENT CALENDAR. (JUNE 25, 1930.)

On June 25, 1930, the House was considering bills on the Consent Calendar in the House as in Committee of the Whole, and the bill (H. R. 9702) authorizing the payment of an indemnity to the British Government on account of losses sustained by H. W. Bennett, a British subject, in connection with the rescue of the survivors of the U. S. S. Cherokee was read by title.

Mr. LAGUARDIA made the point of order that this bill was a private bill and therefore not properly on the Consent Calendar.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. LUCE) overruled the point of order and said:

"The gentleman from New York makes the point of order that this bill is not in order on the Consent Calendar. This bill authorizes the payment of an indemnity to the British Government. The Chair overrules the point of order."

COMMITTEE ON RULES

A POINT OF ORDER THAT THE COMMITTEE ON RULES HAS REPORTED A SPECIAL RULE PROVIDING FOR THE CONSIDERATION OF A BILL PRIOR TO THE TIME THAT THE BILL TO BE CONSIDERED WAS REPORTED AND UPON THE CALENDAR DOES NOT LIE. (JUNE 28, 1930.)

On June 28, 1930, Mr. PURNELL, by direction of the Committee on Rules, called up the following resolution:

House Resolution 264

Resolved, That upon the adoption of this resolution it shall be in order to move that the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the consideration of H. R. 12549, a bill to amend and consolidate the acts respecting copyright and to permit the United States to enter the International Copyright Union. That after general debate, which shall be confined to the bill and shall continue not to exceed two hours, to be equally divided and controlled by the chairman and ranking minority member of the Committee on Patents, the bill shall be read for amendment under the 5-minute rule. At the conclusion of the reading of the bill for amendment the committee shall rise and report the bill to the House with such amendments as may have been adopted, and the previous question shall be considered as ordered on the bill and the amendments thereto to final passage without intervening motion except one motion to recommit.

Mr. CHINDBLOM made the point of order that the Committee on Rules had no authority to call up a special rule for the consideration of a bill which was not upon a Calendar of the House under the conditions which existed when the resolution was reported by the Committee on Rules.

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order and said:

"The Chair is prepared to rule. It is not necessary to pass upon the question of whether the original rule for the consideration of this bill is still alive or not. The Chair, when the matter was originally submitted to him, informally expressed a grave doubt as to whether it would be considered alive. But this rule is an entirely different rule. It appears now for the first time for consideration. The Chair is aware that this bill has had a rather stormy passage. It has been twice rereferred to the committee, but as the bill now appears, so far as the Chair is advised, it is properly on the calendar as of June 24, 1930, and this special rule is properly reported to consider that bill. The Chair thinks that all that special rules of this sort do is to put bills for which they are provided in the same status that a revenue or appropriation bill has under the general rules of the House. Clause 9 of Rule XVI provides:

"'At any time after the reading of the Journal it shall be in order, by direction of the appropriate committees, to move that the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the purpose of considering bills raising revenue, or general appropriation bills.'

"Now all that this special rule does is to give the same status to this particular bill at this particular time. The Chair has no hesitation in saying that the Committee on Rules has acted with authority, and that it will be in order to move that the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the consideration of this bill after the resolution is passed."
