That section 6 of the immigration act of 1924, as amended by section 3 of joint resolution approved May 29, 1928, be amended to read as follows:

"(a) Immigration visas to quota immigrants shall be issued in each fiscal year as follows:

"(1) Fifty per centum of the quota of each nationality for such year shall be made available in such year for the issuance of immigration visas to quota immigrants who are the fathers or the mothers, or the husbands by marriage occurring after May 31, 1928, of citizens of the United States who are twenty-one years of age or over.

"(2) Any portion of such 50 per centum not required in such year for the issuance of immigration visas to the classes specified in paragraph (1) shall be made available in such year for the issuance of immigration visas to quota immigrants of such nationality who are the unmarried children under twenty-one years of age, or the wives, of alien residents of the United States who were lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence.

"(3) No portion of the quota of any nationality for any year not required for the issuance of immigration visas to the classes specified in paragraphs (1) and (2) shall be made available in such year for the issuance of immigration visas to other quota immigrants of such nationality unless authorized by the Secretary of Labor, and then only to such extent and in such classes of cases as are specified by regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor and approved by the Secretaries of State, Agriculture, and Commerce, jointly.

"(4) No alien shall be deemed to be a nonquota immigrant under section 4 (c) unless he is of a class of relatives described in paragraphs (1) and (2) hereof, or unless his admission be permitted by regulations authorized under paragraph (3), but the total number of immigrants admitted under section 4 (c) in any fiscal year shall not exceed seventy-five thousand.

"(b) The preference provided in paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (a) shall, in the case of quota immigrants of any nationality, be given in the calendar month in which the right to preference is established, if the number of immigration visas which may be issued in such month to quota immigrants of such nationality has not already been issued; otherwise, in the next calendar month."

Sec. 2. Section 11 of such act, as amended, is amended by adding after subdivision (g) thereof the following new subdivision:

"(h) Not more than 1 per centum of the total number of immigration visas which may be issued in any fiscal year to quota immigrants of any nationality shall be issued in such year to quota immigrants of such nationality who were born in the colonies, dependencies, or protectorates of the country by which such nationality is determined; except that in the case of any nationality the quota for which is less than ten thousand the above maximum shall be one hundred instead of such 1 per centum."

Sec. 3. If any provision of this act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstances, is held invalid, the remainder of the act, and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances, shall not be affected thereby.

Sec. 4. That with respect to quotas after June 30, 1930, for any nationality other than those within section 4 (c) of the immigration act of 1924 (Forty-third Statutes at Large, 153), such provisions of that act, or any act amendatory thereof, as relate to quotas based on national origins (as referred to in subdivision (b) of section 11 of such act) are hereby repealed; subdivision (a) of section 11 of the immigration act of 1924 (which provides for quotas based on the United States census of 1890) is amended by striking out the figure "2" and inserting in lieu thereof the figure "1½"; and the quotas for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1930, and for each fiscal year thereafter shall be determined and proclaimed (including any annual revision thereof, if necessary) in the same manner as such act prescribed for quotas for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1924, and shall be final and conclusive for every purpose.

Sec. 5. This act shall take effect July 1, 1930.

It was determined in the negative, { Yeas ---------- 11 / Nays ---------- 55

SEC. 2. Subdivision (c) of section 4 of the immigration act of 1924, as amended (which specifies certain geographical areas, immigrants born in which are defined to be nonquota immigrants), is hereby repealed; but the geographical areas specified in such subdivision shall continue to be excepted from the provisions of section 11 of such act, as amended (relating to national origins), in the manner and to the extent provided in such section 11.

SEC. 3. (a) For the purpose of regulating immigration from certain countries of the Western Hemisphere section 11 of such act, as amended, is amended by adding after subdivision (e) thereof the following new subdivision:

"(f) The annual quotas of the nationalities hereinafter specified shall be as follows, such figures approximating, in the case of Canada and Newfoundland, Mexico, and Cuba, four times the number of American citizens departing thereto for permanent residence during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1929, and, in the case of each of the other countries, the number of immigration visas issued during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1929, to immigrants born in such country, with a minimum quota of 100 for each nationality:

SEC. 4. (a) Section 11 of such act, as amended, is amended by adding after subdivision (g) thereof, as above relettered, the following new subdivision:

"(h) Not more than 1 per centum of the total number of immigration visas which may be issued in any fiscal year to quota immigrants of any nationality shall be issued in such year to quota immigrants of such nationality who were born in the colonies, dependencies, or protectorates of the country by which such nationality is determined; except that in the case of any nationality the quota for which is less than 10,000 the above maximum shall be 100 instead of 1 per centum."

(b) Subdivision (g) of section 11 of such act, as amended, is amended by striking out "(g)" and inserting in lieu thereof "(i)."

In the case of quota immigrants of any such nationality, the number of immigration visas to be issued prior to July 1, 1930, shall not be in excess of 10 per centum of the quota for such nationality, and the number of immigration visas so issued shall be deducted from the number which may be issued during the month of July, 1930. In the case of such immigration visas issued before July 1, 1930, the four-month period referred to in subdivision (c) of section 2 of the immigration act of 1924 shall begin to run on July 1, 1930, instead of at the time of the issuance of the immigration visa.

SEC. 6. That with respect to quotas after June 30, 1930, for any nationality other than those within section 4 (c) of the immigration act of 1924 (Forty-third Statutes at Large, page 153), such provisions of that act, or any act amendatory thereof, as relate to quotas based on national origins (as referred to in subdivision (b) of section 11 of such act) are hereby repealed; subdivision (a) of section 11 of the immigration act of 1924 (which provides for quotas based on the United States Census of 1890) is amended by striking out the figure "2" and inserting in lieu thereof the figure "1½"; and the quotas for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1930, and for each fiscal year thereafter shall be determined and proclaimed (including any annual revision thereof, if necessary) in the same manner as such act prescribed for quotas for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1924, and shall be final and conclusive for every purpose.

Whereas throughout the ages there has been a constant struggle between human forces—some seeking a suppression of the divine instinct of liberty and others a steadfast determination to extend its blessings to all mankind; and

Whereas there was instituted on the Western Hemisphere a government under the name United States of America, having for its declared supreme purpose the securing to its founders and their posterity the "blessings of liberty"; and

Whereas the Congress of the said United States has passed laws from time to time designed to protect the citizens of said United States at home and abroad in the enjoyment of this inestimable blessing; and

Whereas by act of Congress in the year 1868 it was provided by law that—

"Whenever it is made known to the President that a citizen of the United States has been unjustly deprived of his liberty by or under the authority of any foreign government, it shall be the duty of the President forthwith to demand of that government the reasons of such imprisonment; and if it appears to be wrongful and in violation of the rights of American citizenship, the President shall forthwith demand the release of such citizen, and if the release so demanded is unreasonably delayed or refused the President shall use such means, not amounting to acts of war, as he may think necessary and proper to obtain or effectuate the release; and all the facts and proceedings relative thereto shall, as soon as practicable, be communicated by the President to the Congress"; and

Whereas a citizen of the United States resident in Venezuela represents that in February, 1929, he was unjustly and illegally imprisoned in said country, and that certain other illegal acts were committed against his rights by the authorities of the Venezuelan Government; and

Whereas the said citizen of the United States represents that he promptly complained to the proper representative of the said United States Government stationed at the place of his imprisonment and pointed out to said official the fact that said imprisonment was unjust and illegal and urged said official to communicate the facts to the proper authorities in Washington; and

Whereas it appears that no action whatsoever was taken by anyone connected with the said United States Government to give this citizen the protection that he was justly entitled to receive under the laws of the United States; and

Whereas it appears that the rights of a citizen of the United States of America resident in Venezuela were grossly violated by agents, officials, or representatives of the Venezuelan Government, and that the said act of 1868 has been ignored and violated by the officials of the Government of the United States charged with the due enforcement thereof: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Committee on Foreign Relations, acting through a subcommittee, is hereby directed to investigate and report to the Senate:

(1) Whether the rights of any citizen or citizens of the United States of America have been violated by the Government of Venezuela or any official or representatives of any State or municipality thereof;

(2) What steps, if any, should be taken by the Government of the United States to obtain prompt redress for such citizen or citizens if it be found that his or their rights have been violated by the Venezuelan Government or any agency thereof;

(3) What steps should be taken with reference to failure of the officials of the Government of the United States to observe the laws enacted for the protection of the citizens of this country in Venezuela if it be found that such laws have been violated in letter or spirit.

Resolved further, That in the course of such investigation the Committee on Foreign Relations, or any subcommittee thereof, is given full power to subpœna witnesses and compel their attendance before the committee, or any subcommittee thereof, and to require their testimony and to compel the production of books and papers, to the end that the Senate may be fully advised as to the result of such investigation, and report what further action or legislation is necessary to fully protect citizens of the United States resident in Venezuela in their persons, property, and rights, and what should be done as to the violation of the laws of the United States enacted by the Congress for protection of its citizens resident in Venezuela.

PROPOSED GOVERNMENTAL EXPENDITURES

Mr. McKellar, by unanimous consent, submitted the following resolution (S. Res. 255):

Whereas under date of April 18, 1930, the President, in a letter to the Hon. Wesley L. Jones, chairman of the Senate Committee on Appropriations, states that "a reexamination of our fiscal situation for the next year by the Director of the Budget shows * * * we are faced with a deficit of some twenty or thirty millions of dollars"; and

Whereas the President further states in said letter: "Something over 125 acts have been passed by either the Senate or the House or favorably reported by different committees, which would authorize an additional expenditure of three hundred or three hundred fifty million dollars next year"; and

Whereas the President further states in said letter: "* * * I know you will agree with me that there is cause for real alarm in the situation * * *"; and

Whereas it is exceedingly important that Congress and especially the Appropriations Committees of the Senate and the House be advised as to just what the acts referred to in such letter are: Therefore be it

Resolved, That the President is respectfully requested, if not incompatible with the public interest, to furnish to the Senate a list of the "something over 125 acts" in order that they may be examined to the end that the facts in the possession of the President may be had by the Appropriations Committee of the Senate for use by it in the consideration of appropriation measures, and which of such appropriation measures providing for expenditures that he approves and those which he disapproves, in order that improper, wasteful, or improvident expenditures may be better prevented.

Ordered, That the resolution lie on the table.

CRIMINAL-LAW ENFORCEMENT

The Acting President pro tempore laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read, referred to the Committee on the Judiciary, and ordered to be printed:

To the Congress of the United States:

In my messages of June 6 and December 3, 1929, I placed before Congress the urgency of certain improvements necessary to effective criminal-law enforcement. Substantial progress has been made upon some of the measures proposed, yet we are nearing the end of the present session, and I can not too strongly urge the necessity of action upon all these recommendations before adjournment.

The most important recommendations made by me were five in number:

1. There should be a transfer of the functions of detection and prosecution of prohibition cases from the Treasury Department to the Department of Justice, and thus an ending of divided responsibility and effort. An act providing for this transfer was passed by the House of Representatives and has now been reported to the Senate by its Judiciary Committee.

2. There must be relief afforded from congestion in the courts. While this congestion is evidenced by the dockets in many courts, its full implications are not shown by them. The so-called bargain days, when light fines are imposed as the result of pleas of guilty, clear the docket, but the result distinctly undermines respect for law. No conclusion appears to have been reached as to the method of accomplishing this either by the Judiciary Committee of the Senate or by the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives.

3. There must be extension of Federal prisons, with more adequate parole system and other modern treatment of prisoners. We have already 11,985 prisoners in Federal establishments built for 6,946. The number of Federal prisoners in Federal and State institutions increased 6,277 in the nine months from June 30, 1929, to April 1, 1930. The Attorney General has stated that we can not hope to enforce the laws unless we can have some point of reception for convicted persons. The overcrowding of the prisons themselves is inhumane and accentuates criminal tendencies. Bills providing for this relief were passed by the House and are now, I understand, in course of being reported to the Senate by the Judiciary Committee.

4. We are in need of vigorous reorganization of the border patrol in order to consolidate various agencies so as effectually to prevent illegal entry of both aliens and goods. Proposals to bring about such reorganizations are before the committees of Congress.

5. The District of Columbia is without an adequate prohibition enforcement law. A bill for that purpose has been introduced and hearings have been held before the Senate District Committee. It should contain the safeguards recommended by the Attorney General.

We have within the limits of existing legislation improved the personnel and greatly increased the efficiency of the existing Federal machinery in criminal law enforcement during the past year. The above reforms are necessary, however, if I am to perform the high duty which falls upon the Executive of enforcement of the Federal laws.

While a considerable part of this condition arises from the laws relating to intoxicating liquors, yet the laws relating to narcotics, automobile thefts, and so forth, which have been enacted by the Congress during recent years, also contribute to create the present conditions. This is well indicated by the fact that less than one-third of Federal prisoners are due to prohibition.

Our obedience to law, our law enforcement and judicial organization, our judicial procedure, our care and methods of handling prisoners, in relation to not only Federal Government but also to the State and municipal governments, are far from the standards that must be secured. These proposals, while they do not comprehend the whole which remains to be done in the Nation, are a step toward lifting the Federal standards which must have a general beneficial influence.

Mr. Norris submitted the following resolution (S. Res. 262):

Whereas on the 19th day of May, 1926, the Senate of the United States by resolution created a committee of five members and authorized and directed said committee "to investigate what moneys, emoluments, rewards, or things of value, including agreements or understandings of support for appointment or election to office have been promised, contributed, made, or expended, or shall hereafter be promised, contributed, expended, or made by any person, firm, corporation, or committee, organization, or association, to influence the nomination of any person as a candidate of any political party or organization for membership in the United States Senate, or to contribute to or promote the election of any person as a Member of the United States Senate"; and

Whereas in pursuance of its duty under said resolution the committee held a meeting at Washington, in the District of Columbia, on February 21, 1927, at which meeting Thomas W. Cunningham, in obedience to the subpœna of said committee, appeared as a witness; and

Whereas the said Thomas W. Cunningham refused to answer certain pertinent questions propounded to him by said committee; and

Whereas said Thomas W. Cunningham, by virtue of said refusal, violated section 102 of the Revised Statutes of the United States; and

Whereas the said Thomas W. Cunningham was thereafter, to wit, on April 20, 1928, indicted by a grand jury in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia for refusing to answer the questions so propounded to him by said committee; and

Whereas the said Thomas W. Cunningham was afterwards, by virtue of a warrant issued on account of said indictment, arrested in the city of Philadelphia; and

Whereas the said Thomas W. Cunningham swore out a writ of habeas corpus in the District Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas upon the hearing in said district court the said Thomas W. Cunningham was remanded to the custody of the United States marshal for removal to the District of Columbia; and

Whereas the said Thomas W. Cunningham appealed from said order of the district court of the United States to the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit; and

Whereas upon such appeal the said circuit court of appeals, by a divided opinion reversed the said district court and ordered the said Thomas W. Cunningham discharged from custody; and

Whereas on the same state of facts and on account of the refusal of the said Thomas W. Cunningham to answer said questions as above set forth, the Senate of the United States issued its warrant directed to the Sergeant at Arms of the Senate, commanding the Sergeant at Arms to bring the said Thomas W. Cunningham before the Senate to answer the questions which he had refused to answer before said committee; and

Whereas in said case arising out of the same condition and the same state of facts, the said Thomas W. Cunningham in like manner swore out a writ of habeas corpus in the same courts above named and with like result; and

Whereas in said last-mentioned case, the Senate of the United States directed the committee to take an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States, and the Supreme Court, upon the hearing of said appeal, reversed the order of the said Circuit Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit and reinstated the judgment of the district court, thereby holding that the said Thomas W. Cunningham was in contempt of the Senate for refusing to answer the questions above referred to and in effect holding that the circuit court of appeals, in ordering the dischardge of the said Thomas W. Cunningham, was in error, and in effect reversing said decision (279 U. S. 597); and

Whereas after said decision of the Supreme Court of the United States the United States attorney filed a motion for a rehearing in the case above referred to, wherein the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit had ordered the discharge of said Thomas W. Cunningham; and

Whereas the said Thomas W. Cunningham has never been tried upon the indictment above referred to and there exists under the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States above referred to no reason why the said Thomas W. Cunningham should not be brought to trial in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia upon said indictment: Therefore be it

Resolved, That the Hon. Leo A. Rover, United States attorney for the District of Columbia, be, and he is hereby directed to report to the Senate:

(1) Whether said motion for a rehearing in the Circuit Court of Appeals of the Third Circuit has been disposed of.

(2) If said motion for a rehearing has been disposed of and decided adversely to the contention of the United States, whether he, the said Leo A. Rover, has taken an appeal therefrom to the United States Supreme Court.

(3) If said motion for a rehearing has not been disposed of, why has the same been delayed?

(4) If said motion has been disposed of by the circuit court of appeals for the third circuit, and the said Thomas W. Cunningham has been remanded to the United States marshal for the District of Columbia, why has the said Thomas W. Cunningham not been put upon trial upon the charges contained in said indictment?

Ordered, That the resolution lie over one day under the rule.

DEFINITION OF OLEOMARGARINE

The Senate resumed the consideration of its unfinished business, viz, the bill (H. R. 6) to amend the definition of oleomargarine contained in the act entitled "An act defining butter, also imposing a tax upon and regulating the manufacture, sale, importation, and exportation of oleomargarine," approved August 2, 1886, as amended.

The question being on agreeing to the amendment yesterday proposed by Mr. Hebert,

Pending debate,

Mr. Norbeck raised a question of order, viz, that the amendment was not germane and therefore not in order.

The Vice President overruled the point of order in the following language:

The Senate has no rule in regard to germaneness except as to appropriation bills. The House has a rule to that effect. While the amendment would be subject to a point of order in the House, it is not subject to a point of order under the rules of the Senate.

After debate,

The question being taken on agreeing to the amendment proposed by Mr. Hebert, viz, on page 2, after line 20, insert the following new section:

SEC. 2. That the proviso in section 8 of the act entitled "An act defining butter, also imposing a tax upon and regulating the manufacture, sale, importation, and exportation of oleomargarine," approved August 2, 1886, as amended, is amended to read as follows: "Provided, That when oleomargarine is free from any ingredient or artificial coloration that causes it to look like butter of any shade of yellow said tax shall be one-fourth of 1 cent per pound."

It was determined in the negative, {Yeas ---------- 27 / Nays ---------- 37}

On motion by Mr. Hebert,

The yeas and nays being desired by one-fifth of the Senators present,

Those who voted in the affirmative are—

Messrs. Baird, Barkley, Blease, Bratton, Brock, Caraway, Connally, Couzens, Gillett, Goff, Goldsborough, Hale, Harris, Hatfield, Hayden, Hebert, Heflin, McKellar, Metcalf, Overman, Robinson of Arkansas, Sheppard, Stephens, Trammell, Walcott, Walsh of Massachusetts, and Watson.

Those who voted in the negative are—

Messrs. Allen, Blaine, Borah, Capper, Cutting, Dale, Deneen, Dill, Fess, Frazier, Greene, Howell, Johnson, Jones, Kendrick, Keyes, La Follette, McCulloch, McMaster, McNary, Norbeck, Norris, Nye, Oddie, Patterson, Pine, Ransdell, Robinson of Indiana, Robsion of Kentucky, Schall, Steck, Steiwer, Sullivan, Thomas of Idaho, Thomas of Oklahoma, Walsh of Montana, and Waterman.

So Mr. Hebert's amendment was not agreed to.

On motion by Mr. Connally to amend the bill by inserting on page 2, at the end of line 20, the following:

, nor to liquid emulsion, pharmaceutical preparations, oil meals, liquid preservatives, illuminating oils, cleansing compounds, or flavoring compounds.

Pending debate,

On motion by Mr. Hebert to amend the foregoing amendment by inserting after the words "oil meals," the words oil compounds,

After debate,

It was determined in the negative, {Yeas ---------- 28 / Nays ---------- 40}

On motion by Mr. Norbeck,

The yeas and nays being desired by one-fifth of the Senators present,

Those who voted in the affirmative are—

Messrs. Ashurst, Baird, Black, Brock, Broussard, Caraway, Connally, George, Gillett, Goldsborough, Hale, Harris, Hatfield, Hawes, Hayden, Hebert, Heflin, McKellar, Metcalf, Overman, Phipps, Robinson of Arkansas, Sheppard, Simmons, Trammell, Tydings, Walcott, and Walsh of Massachusetts.

Those who voted in the negative are—

Messrs. Sec. 336. Equalization of costs of production.

(a) Change of classification or duties.—In order to regulate the foreign commerce of the United States and to put into force and effect the policy of Congress by this act intended, the commission (1) upon request of the President, or (2) upon resolution of either or both Houses of Congress, or (3) upon its own motion, or (4) when in the judgment of the commission there is good and sufficient reason therefor, upon application of any interested party, shall investigate the differences in the costs of production of any domestic article and of any like or similar foreign article produced in the principal competing country or countries. In the course of the investigation the commission shall hold hearings and give reasonable public notice thereof, and shall afford reasonable opportunity for parties interested to be present, to produce evidence, and to be heard at such hearings. The commission is authorized to adopt such reasonable procedure and rules and regulations as it deems necessary to execute its functions under this section. The commission shall report to the President the results of the investigation and its findings with respect to such differences in costs of production. If the commission finds it shown by the investigation that the duties expressly fixed by statute do not equalize the differences in the costs of production of the domestic article and the like or similar foreign article when produced in the principal competing country, the commission shall recommend in its report such increases or decreases in rates of duty expressly fixed by statute (including any necessary change in classification) as it finds shown by the investigation to be necessary to equalize such differences. In no case shall the total increase or decrease of such rates of duty exceed 50 per centum of the rates expressly fixed by the statute.

(b) Change to American selling price.—If the commission finds upon any such investigation that such differences can not be equalized by proceeding as hereinbefore provided, it shall recommend in its report to the President a change in the basis of value to the American selling price (as defined in section 402(g) of this act) of the domestic article and such ad valorem rates of duty based upon such American selling price as it finds shown by the investigation to be necessary to equalize such differences. In no case shall the total decrease of such rates of duty exceed 50 per centum of the rates expressly fixed by statute, and no such rate shall be increased.

(c) Proclamation by the President.—Within sixty days after the date any report of the commission is received by the President, he is authorized by proclamation to—

(1) Approve the rates of duty and changes in classification and in basis of value recommended therein, if he is of opinion that such rates of duty and changes are necessary to equalize such differences in costs of production; or

(2) Disapprove such rates of duty and changes if he is not of such opinion.

(d) Effective date of the rates.—Commencing ten days after the date of any presidential proclamation of approval the increased or decreased rates of duty and changes in classification or in basis of value recommended in the report of the commission shall take effect with respect to the foreign articles when imported from any foreign country into the United States or into any of its possessions except the Philippine Islands, the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, and the island of Guam. In the event the President makes no proclamation of approval or disapproval within such sixty-day period, the commission shall immediately by order publicly declare such fact and the date of expiration of such period, and the increased or decreased rates of duty and the changes in classification or in basis of value recommended in the report of the commission shall, commencing ten days after the expiration of such period, take effect with respect to the foreign articles when so imported.

(e) Publication of commission's report.—At the time of making any proclamation under this section the President shall make public the report of the commission upon which the proclamation is based and transmit a copy of the proclamation and the report to the Congress. If no proclamation with respect to a report of the commission is made within such sixty-day period, then at the time of the expiration of such period the commission shall make public the report and transmit a copy thereof to the Congress. If the Congress is not in session at such time, the copy of the report and/or proclamation shall be transmitted at the commencement of the next session of the Congress.

(f) Ascertainment of differences in costs of production.—In ascertaining the differences in costs of production under this section, the commission shall take into consideration, in so far as it finds it practicable:

(1) In the case of a domestic article,—(A) the cost of production as hereinafter in this section defined; (B) transportation costs and other costs incident to delivery to the principal market or markets of the United States for the article; and (C) other relevant factors that constitute an advantage or disadvantage in competition.

(2) In the case of a foreign article,—(A) the cost of production as hereinafter in this section defined, or, if the commission finds that such cost is not readily ascertainable, the commission may accept as evidence thereof, or as supplemental thereto, the weighted average of the invoice prices or values of the foreign article for a representative period, and/or the average wholesale selling price for a representative period, which price shall be that at which the article is freely offered for sale to all purchasers in the principal market or markets of the principal competing country or countries in the ordinary course of trade and in the usual wholesale quantities in such market or markets; (B) transportation costs and other costs incident to delivery to the principal market or markets of the United States for the article; (C) other relevant factors that constitute an advantage or disadvantage in competition, including advantages granted to the foreign producers by a government, person, partnership, corporation, or association, or a foreign country.

(g) Modification of changes in duty.—The commission and the President proceeding as hereinbefore provided for shall, if it is found that the differences in costs of production which led to an increase or decrease in a rate of duty or a change in classification or in basis of value under this section have changed or no longer exist, modify, or terminate such increased or decreased rate or change in classification or in basis of value in accordance with such finding.

(h) Prohibition against transfers from the free list to the dutiable list or from the dutiable list to the free list.—Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize a transfer of an article from the dutiable list to the free list or from the free list to the dutiable list, nor a change in form of duty. Whenever it is provided in any paragraph of Title I of this act, or in any amendatory act, that the duty or duties shall not exceed a specified ad valorem rate upon the articles provided for in such paragraph, no rate determined under the provisions of this section upon such articles shall exceed the maximum ad valorem rate so specified.

(l) Investigations prior to enactment of act.—All uncompleted investigations instituted prior to the approval of this act under the provisions of section 315 of the tariff act of 1922, including investigations in which the President has not proclaimed changes in classification or in basis of value or increases or decreases in rates of duty, shall be dismissed without prejudice; but the information and evidence secured by the commission in any such investigation may be given due consideration in any investigation instituted under the provisions of this section.

The House has passed the following joint resolutions, in which it requests the concurrence of the Senate:

H. J. Res. 346. Joint resolution to supply a deficiency in the appropriation for the employees' compensation fund for the fiscal year 1930;

ENROLLED BILLS SIGNED

Mr. Greene, from the Committee on Enrolled Bills, reported that they had examined and found truly enrolled the following bills:

S. 15. An act to amend the act entitled "An act to amend the act entitled 'An act for the retirement of employees in the classified civil service, and for other purposes,' approved May 22, 1920, and acts in amendment thereof," approved July 3, 1926, as amended;

TARIFF REVISION

On motion by Mr. Smoot, and by unanimous consent,

The Senate proceeded to consider the report of the committee of conference, submitted by him on yesterday, on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on certain amendments of the Senate to the bill (H. R. 2667) to provide revenue, to regulate commerce with foreign countries, to encourage the industries of the United States, to protect American labor, and for other purposes, upon which the first committee of conference had not agreed.

Pending debate,

Mr. Fess raised a question as to the presence of a quorum;

Whereupon

The Vice President directed the roll to be called;

When

Eighty-six Senators answered to their names, as follows:

Messrs. Allen, Ashurst, Barkley, Bingham, Black, Blaine, Borah, Bratton, Brock, Broussard, Capper, Caraway, Connally, Copeland, Couzens, Cutting, Dale, Deneen, Dill, Fess, Frazier, George, Gillett, Glass, Glenn, Goff, Goldsborough, Greene, Hale, Harris, Harrison, Hastings, Hatfield, Hawes, Hayden, Hebert, Heflin, Howell, Johnson, Jones, Kean, Kendrick, Keyes, La Follette, McCulloch, McKellar, McMaster, McNary, Metcalf, Norbeck, Norris, Nye, Oddie, Overman, Patterson, Phipps, Pine, Pittman, Ransdell, Reed, Robinson of Arkansas, Robinson of Indiana, Robsion of Kentucky, Schall, Sheppard, Shortridge, Simmons, Smoot, Steck, Steiwer, Stephens, Sullivan, Swanson, Thomas of Idaho, Thomas of Oklahoma, Townsend, Trammell, Tydings, Vandenberg, Wagner, Walcott, Walsh of Massachusetts, Walsh of Montana, Waterman, Watson, and Wheeler.

A quorum being present,

Mr. Barkley raised a question of order, viz, that, with reference to the so-called flexible tariff provision amendment, neither the House bill nor the Senate amendment authorized the Tariff Commission to fix rates, and, therefore, the conferees in granting such power to the commission had exceeded their authority; and second, that the conferees had also exceeded their authority by taking from the President of the United States the jurisdiction to increase or decrease rates and by taking from the Congress altogether the power to deal with that question.

Pending debate, permitted by unanimous consent,

The Vice President, in the following language, sustained the point of order:

"The Chair is ready to rule. The Chair recalls that many complaints were made years ago in regard to the action of conferees in inserting new matter, legislative in character, in reports submitted by them. The present occupant of the chair proposed the following rule to cure the practice then at times indulged in, and it was embodied in Rule XXVII of the Standing Rules of the Senate:

"'Conferees shall not insert in their report matter not committed to them by either House, nor shall they strike from the bill matter agreed to by both Houses. If new matter is inserted in the report, or if matter which was agreed to by both Houses is stricken from the bill a point of order may be made against the report, and if the point of order is sustained the report shall be recommitted to the committee of conference.'

"The Chair is clearly of the opinion that the following language in the conference report is new matter:

"'In the event the President makes no proclamation of approval or disapproval within such 60-day period, the commission shall immediately by order publicly declare such fact and the date of expiration of such period, and the increased or decreased rates of duty and the changes in classification or in basis of value recommended in the report of the commission shall, commencing 10 days after the expiration of such period, take effect with respect to the foreign articles when so imported.'

"The point of order is sustained."

The report, under the rule, was thereupon recommitted to the committee of conference.

SPANISH WAR PENSIONS

The Vice President laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read:

To the Senate:

I am returning this bill (S. 476) without approval. The bill establishes a new basis for pension of Spanish War veterans. I am in favor of proper discharge of the national obligation to men who have served in war who have become disabled and are in need. But certain principles are included in this legislation which I deem are opposed to the interest both of war veterans and of the public. My major objections to this bill are these:

1. In the whole of our pension legislation over past years we have excluded from such national award persons whose disabilities arise from "vicious habits." This bill breaks down that exclusion and opens the door for claims of disability incurred at any time in the life of the pensioner arising from venereal diseases, alcoholism, drug habits, etc. Certainly such claims for public help can not be fairly based upon sacrifice to the Nation in war and must be opposed to national policy.

2. This legislation lowers the minimum service period from 90 days to 70 days for nonservice connected disability pension. Under other provisions of law, men who served only one day and during that day suffered injury or impaired health, became eligible for pensions. This law, however, provides that if a man should incur any disability at any time in his life he may claim pension with only 70 days of service. The 90-day minimum service has been maintained against the Civil War veterans all these years because less service than this was not considered to imply personal danger or risk which warranted pension. If injury or impaired health incident to service is clearly proven, other laws cover such cases.

3. It seems to me that in the interest of justice to the taxpayer and to maintain the fine body of citizens comprised in our war veterans free from the stigma of encroachment upon the Public Treasury, there should be a requirement of "need" as well as disability as a basis for these pensions. It is to me the height of injustice that citizens who are less well placed should be called upon to support from taxes those whose station in life enables them to support themselves or to live in independent security. The whole spirit of the pension system is that of a grateful nation rising to the support of those who have served in war, were injured or who have met with legitimate difficulties in afterlife which impose privation upon them. While many veterans may refuse to accept such pensions when they can get along otherwise, yet the cases of selfishness are bound to cause a constant irritation of feeling against a pension system that permits these unmerited and unnecessary payments.

HERBERT HOOVER.

THE WHITE HOUSE, May 28, 1930.

Ordered, That the message, with the accompanying bill, lie on the table and be printed.

(b) The Secretary shall refuse to issue a license to an applicant if after notice and hearing he finds (1) that the applicant has previously been responsible in whole or in part for any violation of the provisions of section 2 for which a license of the applicant, or the license of any partnership, association, or corporation in which the applicant held any office or, in the case of a partnership, had any share or interest, was revoked or (2) in case the applicant is a partnership, association, or corporation, that any individual holding any office or, in the case of a partnership, having any interest or share in the applicant, had previously been responsible in whole or in part for any violation of the provisions of section 2 for which the license of such individual, or of any partnership, association, or corporation in which such person held any office, or, in the case of a partnership, had any share or interest, was revoked. (b) Any officer or agency of any State or Territory having jurisdiction over commission merchants, dealers, or brokers in such State or Territory and any employee of the United States Department of Agriculture or any interested person, may file, in accordance with rules and regulations of the Secretary a complaint of any violation of any provision of section 2 by any commission merchant, dealer, or broker, and may request an investigation of such complaint by the Secretary.

(c) If there appear to be, in the opinion of the Secretary, any reasonable grounds for investigating any complaint made under this section, the Secretary shall investigate such complaint and may, if in his opinion the facts warrant such action, have said complaint served by registered mail or otherwise on the person concerned and afford such person an opportunity for a hearing thereon before a duly authorized examiner of the Secretary in any place in which the said person is engaged in business.

(d) After an opportunity for a hearing on a complaint the Secretary shall determine whether or not the commission merchant, dealer, or broker has violated any provision of section 2.

(e) In case complaint is made by a nonresident of the United States before any action is taken thereon, that the complainant shall be required to furnish a bond of double the amount of the claim, the bond to be conditioned upon the payment of costs, including attorney's fees of respondents, in case of failure to sustain the case.

(b) If any commission merchant, dealer, or broker does not comply with an order for the payment of money within the time limit in such order, the complainant, or any person for whose benefit such order was made, may within one year of the date of the order file in the district court of the United States for the district in which he resides or in which is located the principal place of business of the commission merchant, dealer, or broker, or in any State court having general jurisdiction of the parties, a petition setting forth briefly the causes for which he claims damages and the order of the Secretary in the premises. Such suit in the district court shall proceed in all respects like other civil suits for damages except that the findings and orders of the Secretary shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated, and the petitioner shall not be liable for costs in the district court nor for costs at any subsequent state of the proceedings unless they accrue upon his appeal. If the petitioner finally prevails, he shall be allowed a reasonable attorney's fee, to be taxed and collected as a part of the costs of the suit.

Suspension and revocation of license

Sec. 8. Whenever the Secretary determines, as provided in section 6, that any commission merchant, dealer, or broker has violated any of the provisions of section 2, he may publish the facts and circumstances of such violation and/or, by order, suspend the license of such offender for a period not to exceed ninety days, except that, if the violation is a flagrant or repeated violation of such provisions, the Secretary may, by order, revoke the license of the offender.

Accounts and records

Sec. 9. Every commission merchant, dealer, and broker shall keep such accounts, records, and memoranda as fully and correctly disclose all transactions involved in his business, including the true ownership of such business by stockholding or otherwise. If such accounts, records, and memoranda are not so kept, the Secretary may publish the facts and circumstances and/or, by order, suspend the license of the offender for a period not to exceed ninety days.

Effective date and finality of order

Sec. 10. Any order of the Secretary under this act other than an order for the payment of money shall take effect within such reasonable time, not less than ten days, as is prescribed in the order, and shall continue in force until his further order, or for a specified period of time, accordingly as it is prescribed in the order, unless such order is suspended, modified, or set aside by the Secretary or is suspended, modified, or set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction. Any such order of the Secretary, if regularly made, shall be final, unless before the date prescribed for its taking effect application is made to a court of competent jurisdiction by the commission merchant, dealer, or broker against whom such order is directed to have such order set aside or its enforcement, operation, or execution suspended or restrained.

Injunctions

Sec. 11. For the purposes of this act the provisions of all laws relating to the suspending or restraining of the enforcement, operation, or execution, or the setting aside in whole or in part, of the orders of the Interstate Commerce Commission are made applicable to orders of the Secretary under this act and to any person subject to the provisions of this act.

General provisions

Sec. 12. The Secretary may report any violation of this act for which a civil penalty is provided to the Attorney General of the United States, who shall cause appropriate proceedings to be commenced and prosecuted in the proper courts of the United States without delay. The costs and expenses of such proceedings shall be paid out of the appropriation for the expenses of the courts of the United States.

Sec. 13. (a) In the investigation of complaints under this act, the Secretary or his duly authorized agents shall have the right to inspect such accounts, records, and memoranda of any commission merchant, dealer, or broker as may be material for the determination of any such complaint. If any such commission merchant, dealer, or broker refuses to permit such inspection, the Secretary may publish the facts and circumstances and/or, by order, suspend the license of the offender until permission to make such inspection is given.

(b) The Secretary, or any officer or employee designated by him for such purpose, may hold hearings, sign and issue subpœnas, administer oaths, examine witnesses, receive evidence, and require by subpœna the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of such accounts, records, and memoranda as may be material for the determination of any complaint under this act.

(c) In case of disobedience to a subpœna, the Secretary or any of his examiners may invoke the aid of any court of the United States in requiring the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of accounts, records, and memoranda. Any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of which any hearing is carried on may, in case of contumacy or refusal to obey a subpœna issued to any person, issue an order requiring the person to appear before the Secretary or his examiner or to produce accounts, records, and memoranda if so ordered, or to give evidence touching any matter pertinent to any complaint; and any failure to obey such order of the court shall be punished by the court as a contempt thereof.

(d) The Secretary may order testimony to be taken by deposition in any proceeding or investigation or incident to any complaint pending under this act at any stage thereof. Such depositions may be taken before any person designated by the Secretary and having power to administer oaths. Such testimony shall be reduced to writing by the person taking the deposition or under his direction and shall then be subscribed by the deponent. Any person may be compelled to appear and depose and to produce accounts, records, and memoranda in the same manner as witnesses may be compelled to appear and testify and produce accounts, records, and memoranda before the Secretary or any of his examiners.

(e) Witnesses summoned before the Secretary or any officer or employee designated by him shall be paid the same fees and mileage that are paid witnesses in the courts of the United States, and witnesses whose depositions are taken and the persons taking the same shall severally be entitled to the same fees as are paid for like service in the courts of the United States.

(f) No person shall be excused from attending, testifying, answering any lawful inquiry, or deposing, or from producing any documentary evidence, before the Secretary or any officer or employee designated by him, in obedience to the subpœna of the Secretary or any such officer or employee, in any cause or proceeding, based upon or growing out of any alleged violation of this act, or upon the taking of any deposition herein provided for, upon the ground or for the reason that the testimony or evidence, documentary or otherwise, required of him may tend to incriminate him or subject him to a penalty or forfeiture. But no natural person shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter, or thing, concerning which he is compelled under oath so to testify, or produce evidence, documentary or otherwise, before the Secretary or any officer or employee designated by him, in obedience to the subpœna of the Secretary, or any such officer or employee, or upon the taking of any such deposition, or in any such cause or proceeding: Provided, That no person so testifying shall be exempt from prosecution and punishment for perjury committed in so testifying.

Sec. 14. The Secretary is hereby authorized, independently and in cooperation with other branches of the Government, State, or municipal agencies, and/or any person, whether operating in one or more jurisdictions, to employ and/or license inspectors to inspect and certify, without regard to the filing of a complaint under this act, to any interested person the class, quality, and/or condition of any lot of any perishable agricultural commodity when offered for interstate or foreign shipment or when received at places where the Secretary shall find it practicable to provide such service, under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, including the payment of such fees and expenses as will be reasonable and as nearly as may be to cover the cost for the service rendered: Provided, That fees for inspections made by a licensed inspector, less the percentage thereof which he is allowed by the terms of his contract of employment with the Secretary as compensation for his services, shall be deposited into the Treasury of the United States as miscellaneous receipts, and fees for inspections made by an inspector acting under a cooperative agreement with a State, municipality, or other person shall be disposed of in accordance with the terms of such agreement: Provided further, That expenses for travel and subsistence incurred by inspectors shall be paid by the applicant for inspection to the disbursing clerk of the United States Department of Agriculture to be credited to the appropriation for carrying out the purposes of this act: And provided further, That certificates issued by such inspectors shall be received in all courts of the United States as prima facie evidence of the truth of the statements therein contained.

Sec. 15. The Secretary may make such rules, regulations, and orders as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, and may cooperate with any department or agency of the Government, any State, Territory, District, or possession, or department, agency, or political subdivision thereof, or any person; and shall have the power to appoint, remove, and fix the compensation of such officers and employees not in conflict with existing law, and make such expenditures for rent outside the District of Columbia, printing, binding, telegrams, telephones, law books, books of reference, publications, furniture, stationery, office equipment, travel, and other supplies and expenses, including reporting services, as shall be necessary to the administration of this act in the District of Columbia and elsewhere, and as may be appropriated for by Congress; and there is hereby authorized to be appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, such sums as may be necessary for such purpose. This act shall not abrogate nor nullify any other statute, whether State or Federal, dealing with the same subjects as this act; but it is intended that all such statutes shall remain in full force and effect except in so far only as they are inconsistent herewith or repugnant hereto.

Sec. 16. In construing and enforcing the provisions of this act the act, omission, or failure of any agent, officer, or other person acting for or employed by any commission merchant, dealer, or broker, within the scope of his employment or office, shall in every case be deemed the act, omission, or failure of such commission merchant, dealer, or broker as that of such agent, officer, or other person.

Separability

Sec. 17. If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of the act and of the application of such provision to other persons and circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

On the question of agreeing to the report,

Mr. Barkley raised a question of order, viz, that the conferees had exceeded their authority in dealing with Senate amendment numbered 327, relating to watches and clocks, in the following instances, namely:

(1) That they had changed the language of both the House and Senate provisions as to watches worn on or about the person, the effect of which was to transfer from paragraph 367 to paragraph 388 time-keeping mechanisms not designed to be worn on the person, thereby imposing a duty in excess of that contained in either the House or Senate provisions; and

(2) That, by the insertion of the word "unset" after the word "jewels" in subdivision (d) of paragraph 367, the result was to impose a specific duty of 20 cents on set jewels instead of a 10 per cent ad valorem duty as provided by both the House and Senate provisions.

Pending debate,

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

A message from the House of Representatives by Mr. Haltigan, one of its clerks:

Mr. President: The House of Representatives has passed the bill (H. R. 9937) to provide for summary prosecution of petty offenses, in which it requests the concurrence of the Senate.

The Speaker of the House having signed two enrolled bills, viz, H. R. 937 and H. R. 9806, I am directed to bring the same to the Senate for the signature of its President.

HOUSE BILL REFERRED

The bill H. R. 9937, this day received from the House of Representatives for concurrence, was read the first and second times by unanimous consent and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

ENROLLED BILLS SIGNED

Mr. Greene, from the Committee on Enrolled Bills, reported that they had examined and found truly enrolled the following enrolled bills:

H. R. 937. An act for the relief of Nellie Hickey; and

H. R. 9806. An act to authorize the construction of certain bridges and to extend the times for commencing and completing the construction of other bridges over the navigable waters of the United States.

The Vice President thereupon signed the same, and they were delivered to the committee to be presented to the President of the United States.

VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION OF DISABLED PERSONS

Mr. Metcalf submitted the following conference report:

The committee of conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the amendments of the Senate to the bill (H. R. 10175) to amend an act entitled "An act to provide for the promotion of vocational rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry or otherwise and their return to civil employment," approved June 2, 1920, as amended, having met, after full and free conference have agreed to recommend and do recommend to their respective Houses as follows:

That the House recede from its disagreement to the amendment of the Senate numbered 1, and agree to the same.

That the House recede from its disagreement to the amendment of the Senate numbered 2, and agree to the same with an amendment as follows: In lieu of the matter proposed to be inserted by the Senate amendment insert $80,000; and the Senate agree to the same.

JESSE H METCALF,
JAMES COUZENS,
DAVID I. WALSH,
Managers on the part of the Senate.

DANIEL A. REED,
E. HART FENN,
LOKING M. BLACK, JR.,
Managers on the part of the House.

The Senate proceeded, by unanimous consent, to consider the said report; and

Resolved, That the Senate agree thereto.

Ordered, That the Secretary notify the House of Representatives thereof.

"(1) The amendment takes out of the operation of the paragraph all time-keeping and time-measuring mechanisms not designed to be, or such as are not ordinarily, worn on or carried about the person."

It is contended by the Senator from Utah [Mr. SMOOT] that no transfer of watches results from the change in language for the following reasons:

(1) All commercial watch movements are specifically provided for by name in paragraph 367 of the House bill, the Senate amendment, and the conference report, and are not removed from the operation of the paragraph by any changes in descriptive language, such as "whether or not designed, etc."

(2) All commercial clock movements are specifically provided for by name in paragraph 368 of the House bill, the Senate amendment, and the conference report. These provisions are more specific than the descriptive language in paragraph 367, "time-keeping mechanisms, etc., not designed to be worn on the person, etc." Hence, no movements or mechanisms have been removed from the operation of paragraph 368 at any time. The Chair is in doubt on this point, but inasmuch as the report goes back to conference it would seem that the amendment objected to might well be made more definite and certain.

Point No. II

(a) That the conference report eliminated the words "if having any type of stem, rim," and so forth, in paragraph 367 (a).

This point of order is apparently based on the assumption that the conference report transfers certain articles from paragraph 367 to paragraph 368, with resultant higher rates, by reason of the omission of the words "if having any type of stem, rim, or self-winding mechanism."

It seems to the Chair that the removal of words of limitation can not be construed as narrowing the scope of the paragraph.

If it be a watch movement, no transfer has taken place because watch movements are under paragraph 367 both in the House bill and the conference report; if it be a clock movement, the omission of the language has not had the result of making any transfer from paragraph 368 to paragraph 367, for the reason that the language in paragraph 368 of the conference report, namely, "clocks, clock movements," is more specific than the general language in paragraph 367, namely, "time-keeping, etc., mechanisms, etc., if less than 1.77 inches wide."

This point is overruled.

Point No. III

That the conference inserted the word "unset" after the word jewels in paragraph 367 (3) (d) and added to paragraph (c) (3) the following:

"Each assembly or subassembly (unless dutiable under clause (1) of this paragraph) consisting of two or more parts or pieces of metal or other material joined or fastened together shall be subjected to a duty of 3 cents for each such part or piece of material, except that in the case of jewels the duty shall be 20 cents instead of 3 cents."

The House provision, subsection (d) reads as follows:

"Jewels suitable for use in any movement, etc., 10 per cent."

The Senate provision reads:

"All jewels for use in the manufacture of watches, etc., 10 per cent."

The conference provides:

"Jewels, unset, suitable for use in any movement"—

And so forth. The words "unset" does not appear in the measure as it passed the House, or as it passed the Senate, but was added in conference, thereby creating a new classification of jewels.

The point of order is sustained.

CHERRIES

Under the tariff act as it came to the Senate from the House cherries in their natural state carried a duty of 2 cents per pound (par. 737). S. D. 1.

Under Senate amendment 448, cherries, frozen, if not sweetened, were dutiable at 2 cents per pound.

Under the four subdivisions of paragraph 737: In the measure as it came from the House maraschino, candied, and so forth, carried a duty of 5½ cents per pound and 40 per cent ad valorem.

As amended in the Senate, the words "frozen cherries, if sweetened" were added by amendment 454 and the duty increased from 5½ cents per pound and 40 per cent ad valorem to 9½ cents per pound and 40 per cent ad valorem.

In the conference amendment 448 the words "frozen cherries, if not sweetened" were eliminated, and in amendment 454 the words "if sweetened" were omitted. This left frozen cherries, whether sweetened or not, carrying a duty of 9½ cents per pound and 40 per cent ad valorem.

If frozen cherries are to be considered as cherries in their natural state, as is indicated in amendment 448, then the change made in conference would be subject to the point of order; but if frozen cherries are to be considered as coming under clause 4, cherries prepared, and so forth, as is contended by the Senator from Oregon [Mr. McNARY], the change made would not be subject to a point of order. The Chair is in doubt on the question, and as the report goes back to conference on other points raised, the question is not passed upon.

LIVESTOCK

Amendments 848 and 849: It seems to the Chair that the conferees exceeded their authority in amendment 849 by separating the boundaries and prescribing different time limits from those carried in either the act as it came from the House or as it passed the Senate.

This point of order is sustained.

RAYON

Amendment No. 657: The Chair has had submitted quite a number of briefs on the rayon amendments and is thoroughly of the opinion, after most careful consideration, that the conferees exceeded their authority in changing the rates in that schedule and sustains this point of order.

The points of order are sustained as indicated.

On motion by Mr. Smoot,

Resolved, That the Senate further insist upon its amendments specified in the foregoing report upon which the conferees reached an agreement, and ask a further conference with the House on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses thereon.

Ordered, That the conferees on the part of the Senate be appointed by the Vice President; and

The Vice President appointed Mr. Smoot, Mr. Watson, Mr. Shortridge, Mr. Simmons, and Mr. Harrison.

Ordered, That the Secretary notify the House of Representatives thereof.

OCEAN MAIL CONTRACTS

TARIFF REVISION

The Senate resumed the consideration of the first report of the committee of conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the amendments of the Senate to the bill (H. R. 2667) to provide revenue, to regulate commerce with foreign countries, to encourage the industries of the United States, to protect American labor, and for other purposes, submitted by Mr. Smoot on April 29, 1930.

Mr. Barkley submitted the following additional points of order, viz, that the conferees had exceeded their authority in dealing with the following Senate amendments:

Senate amendments 424 and 425, relating to cheese, by fixing a rate of 8 cents per pound on feta cheese, which was above the rate fixed in either the House or Senate provisions;

Senate amendment 454, relating to cherries, by imposing a rate of duty on frozen cherries in excess of that contained in either the House bill or the Senate amendments; and

Senate amendment 657, relating to rayon, by imposing a duty on filaments of rayon not justified by either the House or Senate provisions of the bill.

Mr. Hayden raised a question of order, viz, that the conferees had exceeded their authority in respect to Senate amendments 848 and 849, relating to cattle and livestock crossing international boundary lines for temporary pasturage purposes only, by providing different periods of time for the northern and southern boundaries within which such cattle or livestock might be returned to the United States without the payment of duty thereon.

The Vice President, in ruling upon the points of order, including those raised yesterday by Mr. Barkley, said:

The Chair is ready to rule if there are no further points of order to be made.

CHEESE

Amendment 424, paragraph 710, page 132.

The rates on cheese as carried in the tariff act are as follows:

House

Cheese and substitutes therefor, 8 cents per pound, but not less than 35 per cent ad valorem (this included all cheese and substitutes).

Senate

Cheese and substitutes therefor, 8 cents per pound, but not less than 42 per cent ad valorem.

Cheese made from sheep's milk, etc., 8 cents per pound.

Feta white, 5 cents per pound.

The conference report

Cheese and substitutes therefor, 8 cents per pound, but not less than 40 per cent ad valorem.

It will be seen from the above that the duty on cheese made from sheep's milk, etc., and feta white, is increased beyond the rates carried in either the House or Senate provisions, therefore this point of order is sustained.

POINTS OF ORDER ON PARAGRAPHS 367 AND 368

Three points of order are made against paragraphs 367 and 368, to the watch and clock schedules of the tariff bill.

Point No. I

That the conference substituted the words "all the foregoing designed to be, or such as ordinarily are worn or carried on or about the person" in paragraph 367 (a) for the words "whether or not designed to be worn or carried on or about the person."

It is claimed by the Senator from Kentucky [Mr. Barkley] that the changes made would transfer watches not designed to be worn on the person from paragraph 367 to paragraph 368, with resultant rates higher than those applied in either the House bill or the Senate amendment. The Senator from Kentucky exhibited certain watches which he claimed would be so transferred. The following statement of the House managers in the conference report submitted to the House seems to sustain this contention (see p. 56, par. 1):

"(1) The amendment takes out of the operation of the paragraph all time-keeping and time-measuring mechanisms not designed to be, or such as are not ordinarily, worn on or carried about the person."

It is contended by the Senator from Utah [Mr. SMOOT] that no transfer of watches results from the change in language for the following reasons:

(1) All commercial watch movements are specifically provided for by name in paragraph 367 of the House bill, the Senate amendment, and the conference report, and are not removed from the operation of the paragraph by any changes in descriptive language, such as "whether or not designed, etc."

(2) All commercial clock movements are specifically provided for by name in paragraph 368 of the House bill, the Senate amendment, and the conference report. These provisions are more specific than the descriptive language in paragraph 367, "time-keeping mechanisms, etc., not designed to be worn on the person, etc." Hence, no movements or mechanisms have been removed from the operation of paragraph 368 at any time. The Chair is in doubt on this point, but inasmuch as the report goes back to conference it would seem that the amendment objected to might well be made more definite and certain.

Point No. II

(a) That the conference report eliminated the words "if having any type of stem, rim," and so forth, in paragraph 367 (a).

This point of order is apparently based on the assumption that the conference report transfers certain articles from paragraph 367 to paragraph 368, with resultant higher rates, by reason of the omission of the words "if having any type of stem, rim, or self-winding mechanism."

It seems to the Chair that the removal of words of limitation can not be construed as narrowing the scope of the paragraph.

If it be a watch movement, no transfer has taken place because watch movements are under paragraph 367 both in the House bill and the conference report; if it be a clock movement, the omission of the language has not had the result of making any transfer from paragraph 368 to paragraph 367, for the reason that the language in paragraph 368 of the conference report, namely, "clocks, clock movements," is more specific than the general language in paragraph 367, namely, "time-keeping, etc., mechanisms, etc., if less than 1.77 inches wide."

This point is overruled.

Point No. III

That the conference inserted the word "unset" after the word jewels in paragraph 367 (3) (d) and added to paragraph (c) (3) the following:

"Each assembly or subassembly (unless dutiable under clause (1) of this paragraph) consisting of two or more parts or pieces of metal or other material joined or fastened together shall be subjected to a duty of 3 cents for each such part or piece of material, except that in the case of jewels the duty shall be 20 cents instead of 3 cents."

The House provision, subsection (d) reads as follows:

"Jewels suitable for use in any movement, etc., 10 per cent."

The Senate provision reads:

"All jewels for use in the manufacture of watches, etc., 10 per cent."

The conference provides:

"Jewels, unset, suitable for use in any movement"—

And so forth. The words "unset" does not appear in the measure as it passed the House, or as it passed the Senate, but was added in conference, thereby creating a new classification of jewels.

The point of order is sustained.

CHERRIES

Under the tariff act as it came to the Senate from the House cherries in their natural state carried a duty of 2 cents per pound (par. 737). S. D. 1.

Under Senate amendment 448, cherries, frozen, if not sweetened, were dutiable at 2 cents per pound.

Under the four subdivisions of paragraph 737: In the measure as it came from the House maraschino, candied, and so forth, carried a duty of 5½ cents per pound and 40 per cent ad valorem.

As amended in the Senate, the words "frozen cherries, if sweetened" were added by amendment 454 and the duty increased from 5½ cents per pound and 40 per cent ad valorem to 9½ cents per pound and 40 per cent ad valorem.

In the conference amendment 448 the words "frozen cherries, if not sweetened" were eliminated, and in amendment 454 the words "if sweetened" were omitted. This left frozen cherries, whether sweetened or not, carrying a duty of 9½ cents per pound and 40 per cent ad valorem.

If frozen cherries are to be considered as cherries in their natural state, as is indicated in amendment 448, then the change made in conference would be subject to the point of order; but if frozen cherries are to be considered as coming under clause 4, cherries prepared, and so forth, as is contended by the Senator from Oregon [Mr. McNARY], the change made would not be subject to a point of order. The Chair is in doubt on the question, and as the report goes back to conference on other points raised, the question is not passed upon.

LIVESTOCK

Amendments 848 and 849: It seems to the Chair that the conferees exceeded their authority in amendment 849 by separating the boundaries and prescribing different time limits from those carried in either the act as it came from the House or as it passed the Senate.

This point of order is sustained.

RAYON

Amendment No. 657: The Chair has had submitted quite a number of briefs on the rayon amendments and is thoroughly of the opinion, after most careful consideration, that the conferees exceeded their authority in changing the rates in that schedule and sustains this point of order.

The points of order are sustained as indicated.

On motion by Mr. SMOOT,

Resolved, That the Senate further insist upon its amendments specified in the foregoing report upon which the conferees reached an agreement, and ask a further conference with the House on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses thereon.

Ordered, That the conferees on the part of the Senate be appointed by the Vice President; and

The Vice President appointed Mr. Smoot, Mr. Watson, Mr. Shortridge, Mr. Simmons, and Mr. Harrison.

Ordered, That the Secretary notify the House of Representatives thereof.

OCEAN MAIL CONTRACTS

(a) Change of classification or duties.—In order to put into force and effect the policy of Congress by this act intended, the commission (1) upon request of the President, or (2) upon resolution of either or both Houses of Congress, or (3) upon its own motion, or (4) when in the judgment of the commission there is good and sufficient reason therefor, upon application of any interested party, shall investigate the differences in the costs of production of any domestic article and of any like or similar foreign article. In the course of the investigation the commission shall hold hearings and give reasonable public notice thereof, and shall afford reasonable opportunity for parties interested to be present, to produce evidence, and to be heard at such hearings. The commission is authorized to adopt such reasonable procedure and rules and regulations as it deems necessary to execute its functions under this section. The commission shall report to the President the results of the investigation and its findings with respect to such differences in costs of production. If the commission finds it shown by the investigation that the duties expressly fixed by statute do not equalize the differences in the costs of production of the domestic article and the like or similar foreign article when produced in the principal competing country, the commission shall specify in its report such increases or decreases in rates of duty expressly fixed by statute (including any necessary change in classification) as it finds shown by the investigation to be necessary to equalize such differences. In no case shall the total increase or decrease of such rates of duty exceed 50 per centum of the rates expressly fixed by statute.

(b) Change to American selling price.—If the commission finds upon any such investigation that such differences can not be equalized by proceeding as hereinbefore provided, it shall so state in its report to the President and shall specify therein such ad valorem rates of duty based upon the American selling price (as defined in section 402 (g)) of the domestic article, as it finds shown by the investigation to be necessary to equalize such differences. In no case shall the total decrease of such rates of duty exceed 50 per centum of the rates expressly fixed by statute, and no such rate shall be increased.

(c) Proclamation by the President.—The President shall by proclamation approve the rates of duty and changes in classification and in basis of value specified in any report of the commission under this section, if in his judgment such rates of duty and changes are shown by such investigation of the commission to be necessary to equalize such differences in costs of production.

(d) Effective date of rates and changes.—Commencing thirty days after the date of any presidential proclamation of approval the increased or decreased rates of duty and changes in classification or in basis of value specified in the report of the commission shall take effect.

(e) Ascertainment of differences in costs of production.—In ascertaining under this section the differences in costs of production, the commission shall take into consideration, in so far as it finds it practicable:

(1) In the case of a domestic article.—(A) The cost of production as hereinafter in this section defined; (B) transportation costs and other costs incident to delivery to the principal market or markets of the United States for the article; and (C) other relevant factors that constitute an advantage or disadvantage in competition.

(2) In the case of a foreign article.—(A) The cost of production as hereinafter in this section defined, or, if the commission finds that such cost is not readily ascertainable, the commission may accept as evidence thereof, or as supplemental thereto, the weighted average of the invoice prices or values for a representative period and/or the average wholesale selling price for a representative period (which price shall be that at which the article is freely offered for sale to all purchasers in the principal market or markets of the principal competing country or countries in the ordinary course of trade and in the usual wholesale quantities in such market or markets); (B) transportation costs and other costs incident to delivery to the principal market or markets of the United States for the article; (C) other relevant factors that constitute an advantage or disadvantage in competition, including advantages granted to the foreign producers by a government, person, partnership, corporation, or association in a foreign country.

(f) Modification of changes in duty.—Any increased or decreased rate of duty or change in classification or in basis of value which has taken effect as above provided may be modified or terminated in the same manner and subject to the same conditions and limitations (including time of taking effect) as is provided in this section in the case of original increases, decreases, or changes.

(g) Prohibition against transfers from the free list to the dutiable list or from the dutiable list to the free list.—Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize a transfer of an article from the dutiable list to the free list or from the free list to the dutiable list, nor a change in form of duty. Whenever it is provided in any paragraph of Title I of this act, or in any amendatory act, that the duty or duties shall not exceed a specified ad valorem rate upon the articles provided for in such paragraph, no rate determined under the provisions of this section upon such articles shall exceed the maximum ad valorem rate so specified.

(h) Definitions.—For the purpose of this section—

(1) The term "domestic article" means an article wholly or in part the growth or product of the United States; and the term "foreign article" means an article wholly or in part the growth or product of a foreign country.

(k) Investigations prior to enactment of act.—All uncompleted investigations instituted prior to the approval of this act under the provisions of section 315 of the tariff act of 1922, including investigations in which the President has not proclaimed changes in classification or in basis of value or increases or decreases in rates of duty, shall be dismissed without prejudice; but the information and evidence secured by the commission in any such investigation may be given due consideration in any investigation instituted under the provisions of this section.

And the Senate agree to the same.
