C., Supp. V, title 40, sec. 258a), in any case in which any land or any interest therein is to be acquired by condemnation, the Secretary of the Treasury, through the Attorney General, may, prior to the institution of condemnation proceedings, file with the clerk of the district court of the district in which such land is located a declaration of taking, containing the matters required by such section to be included in a declaration of taking. The declaration of taking shall be accompanied by the deposit with such clerk, to the use of the parties who may be found to be entitled thereto, of the amount of the estimated compensation stated in the declaration. As soon as practicable after the filing of such declaration of taking, the Secretary of the Treasury shall cause to be posted in a prominent place upon the land a notice reciting (A) that the land or the interest therein is taken by the United States for public use, (B) that a declaration of taking in respect of such land or interest therein has been filed with the clerk of the court of the district, and (C) that there has been deposited with such clerk, to the use of the parties who may be found to be entitled thereto, the estimated just compensation for the land or interest therein taken. The Secretary of the Treasury shall give written notice similar to the posted notice, by personal service in the case of actual occupants of the premises or, if with reasonable diligence such personal service can not be made, he shall send such notice by registered mail directed to the premises, and he shall send notice by registered mail directed to their last known address in the case of all parties who the Secretary ascertains have or may have an interest in such land, and he may give such additional notice by newspaper publication or otherwise as he deems necessary. Upon posting notice on the land, title to the land or interest therein shall vest in the United States, and the right to just compensation therefor shall vest in the parties entitled thereto. The Secretary of the Treasury shall cause notice to be personally served upon, or if with reasonable diligence such service can not be made, to be sent by registered mail to actual occupants of the premises, setting a time (not earlier than twenty days after the service or sending of such notice) at which such parties shall surrender possession, and at the end of such time the right to possession shall vest in the United States. The Secretary of the Treasury may designate any person to serve any notice under the preceding provisions of this subsection and such person shall have power to enter upon such land for the purpose of posting notice or to make personal service of notice. If any such party fails or refuses so to surrender possession, upon summary petition for an order to surrender possession filed in such district court by or on behalf of the Secretary of the Treasury, the court may, by writ of assistance or other process, order the surrender of possession. A petition in condemnation shall be filed in such district court as soon after the filing of the declaration of taking as practicable. In any such condemnation proceeding, no further declaration of taking shall be required, and the provisions of section 1 of such act of February 26, 1931, authorizing the court to fix the time when parties in possession shall be required to surrender possession, shall not apply. If such petition for condemnation is not filed within a reasonable time after the filing of such declaration of taking, any person entitled to just compensation in respect of the property so taken shall be entitled to sue the United States in the court in which such declaration of taking was filed. The procedure in such suit shall be the same as in suits against the United States founded upon contract, except that such suit may be heard even if the amount of the claim is greater than $10,000 and except that the procedure for the ascertainment of the amount of just compensation shall be the same as such procedure in condemnation proceedings. If the petition for condemnation is filed prior to the time the commissioners in condemnation, jurors, or other persons charged with the duty of valuing the property are empaneled, such suit shall be dismissed, except that such suit and the condemnation proceedings may, in the discretion of the court, and under rules prescribed by it, be consolidated to such extent as the court may deem practicable. In any suit authorized to be brought under this subsection or in any condemnation proceeding involving land acquired in accordance with this subsection, the court shall enter judgment against the United States in favor of the parties entitled for the sum or sums awarded as just compensation, respectively, for the land or interest therein taken for the use of the United States and such judgment shall be paid out of the sums deposited with the court and such additional sums as may be awarded shall be paid in the same manner as sums awarded in judgments in cases in which the United States has consented to be sued. The provisions of such act of February 26, 1931, except as modified by this subsection, shall apply to all such suits or condemnation proceedings. The provisions of this subsection shall not be construed to be in substitution for but shall be supplemental to any method of acquiring land or interests therein provided in existing law.

Sec. 306. In the construction of post offices and of buildings for post offices and other offices provided for in section 301 (a) (10), the Secretary of the Treasury with the cooperation of the Postmaster General may use such standard plans (heretofore or hereafter prepared) as may be most adaptable to the particular building to be constructed.

Sec. 307. All contracts let for construction projects pursuant to this title shall be subject to the conditions that no convict labor shall be directly employed on any such project, and that (except in executive, administrative, and supervisory positions), so far as practicable, no individual directly employed on any such project shall be permitted to work more than thirty hours in any one week, and that in the employment of labor in connection with any such project, preference shall be given, where they are qualified, to ex-service men with dependents.

Washington, July 15, 1932.

The Hon. JOHN N. GARNER,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

SIR: I have the honor to refer to a resolution of the House of Representatives expressing sympathy with the people of the French Republic on the occasion of the death of President Doumer, the text of which, received from the White House, was, by direction of the President, transmitted through the American Embassy at Paris to the Government of France.

The Department of State is now in receipt of a dispatch from the embassy at Paris informing it of the delivery of the resolution adopted by the House of Representatives and of its receipt of a note from the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs requesting the embassy to convey to the House of Representatives the grateful thanks of the French Chamber of Deputies for the deeply appreciated mark of sympathy by which it was good enough to associate itself in the loss sustained by the people of France. 1. There shall be a motion for the previous question, which, being ordered by a majority of Members voting, if a quorum be present, shall have the effect to cut off all debate and bring the House to a direct vote upon the immediate question or questions on which it has been asked and ordered. The previous question may be asked and ordered upon a single motion, a series of motions allowable under the rules, or an amendment or amendments, or may be made to embrace all authorized motions or amendments and include the bill to its passage or rejection. It shall be in order, pending the motion for, or after the previous question shall have been ordered on its passage, for the Speaker to entertain and submit a motion to commit, with or without instructions, to a standing or select committee.

2. A call of the House shall not be in order after the previous question is ordered, unless it shall appear upon an actual count by the Speaker that a quorum is not present.

3. All incidental questions of order arising after a motion is made for the previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

RULE XVIII

RECONSIDERATION

1. When a motion has been made and carried or lost, it shall be in order for any Member of the majority, on the same or succeeding day, to move for the reconsideration thereof, and such motion shall take precedence of all other questions except the consideration of a conference report or a motion to adjourn, and shall not be withdrawn after the said succeeding day without the consent of the House, and thereafter any Member may call it up for consideration: Provided, That such motion, if made during the last six days of a session, shall be disposed of when made.

2. No bill, petition, memorial, or resolution referred to a committee, or reported therefrom for printing and recommitment, shall be brought back into the House on a motion to reconsider; and all bills, petitions, memorials, or resolutions reported from a committee shall be accompanied by reports in writing, which shall be printed.

RULE XIX

OF AMENDMENTS

When a motion or proposition is under consideration a motion to amend and a motion to amend that amendment shall be in order, and it shall also be in order to offer a further amendment by way of substitute, to which one amendment may be offered, but which shall not be voted on until the original matter is perfected, but either may be withdrawn before amendment or decision is had thereon. Amendments to the title of a bill or resolution shall not be in order until after its passage, and shall be decided without debate.

RULE XX

OF AMENDMENTS OF THE SENATE

1. Any amendment of the Senate to any House bill shall be subject to the point of order that it shall first be considered in the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union if, originating in the House, it would be subject to that point.

2. No amendment of the Senate to a general appropriation bill which would be in violation of the provisions of clause 2 of Rule XXI, if said amendment had originated in the House, nor any amendment of the Senate providing for an appropriation upon any bill other than a general appropriation bill, shall be agreed to by the managers on the part of the House unless specific authority to agree to such amendment shall be first given by the House by a separate vote on every such amendment.

RULE XXI

ON BILLS

1. Bills and joint resolutions on their passage shall be read the first time by title and the second time in full, when, if the previous question is ordered, the Speaker shall state the question to be: Shall the bill be engrossed and read a third time? and, if decided in the affirmative, it shall be read the third time by title, unless the reading in full is demanded by a Member, and the question shall then be put upon its passage.

2. No appropriations shall be reported in any general appropriation bill, or be in order as an amendment thereto, for any expenditure not previously authorized by law, unless in continuation of appropriations for such public works and objects as are already in progress. Nor shall any provision in any such bill or amendment thereto changing existing law be in order, except such as being germane to the subject matter of the bill shall retrench expenditures by the reduction of the number and salary of the officers of the United States, by the reduction of the compensation of any person paid out of the Treasury of the United States, or by the reduction of amounts of money covered by the bill: Provided, That it shall be in order further to amend such bill upon the report of the committee or any joint commission authorized by law or the House Members of any such commission having jurisdiction of the subject matter of such amendment, which amendment being germane to the subject matter of the bill shall retrench expenditures.

3. No bill for the payment or adjudication of any private claim against the Government shall be referred, except by unanimous consent, to any other than the following-named committees, viz: To the Committee on Invalid Pensions, to the Committee on Pensions, to the Committee on Claims, to the Committee on War Claims, to the Committee on the Public Lands, and to the Committee on Accounts.

4. No bill or joint resolution carrying appropriations shall be reported by any committee not having jurisdiction to report appropriations, nor shall an amendment proposing an appropriation be in order during the consideration of a bill or joint resolution reported by a committee not having that jurisdiction. A question of order on an appropriation in any such bill, joint resolution, or amendment thereto may be raised at any time.

RULE XXII

OF PETITIONS, MEMORIALS, BILLS, AND RESOLUTIONS

1. Members having petitions or memorials or bills of a private nature to present may deliver them to the Clerk, indorsing their names and the reference or disposition to be made thereof; and said petitions and memorials and bills of a private nature, except such as, in the judgment of the Speaker, are of an obscene or insulting character, shall be entered on the Journal, with the names of the Members presenting them, and the Clerk shall furnish a transcript of such entry to the official reporters of debates for publication in the Record.

2. Any petition or memorial or private bill excluded under this rule shall be returned to the Member from whom it was received; and petitions and private bills which have been inappropriately referred may, by the direction of the committee having possession of the same, be properly referred in the manner originally presented; and an erroneous reference of a petition or private bill under this clause shall not confer jurisdiction upon the committee to consider or report the same.

3. All other bills, memorials, and resolutions may, in like manner, be delivered, indorsed, with the names of Members introducing them, to the Speaker, to be by him referred, and the titles and references thereof and of all bills, resolutions, and documents referred under the rules shall be entered on the Journal and printed in the Record of the next day, and correction in case of error of reference may be made by the House, without debate, in accordance with Rule XI, on any day immediately after the reading of the Journal, by unanimous consent, or on motion of a committee claiming jurisdiction, or on the report of the committee to which the bill has been erroneously referred.

4. When a bill, resolution, or memorial is introduced "by request," these words shall be entered upon the Journal and printed in the Record.

5. All resolutions of inquiry addressed to the heads of executive departments shall be reported to the House within one week after presentation.

RULE XXIII

OF COMMITTEES OF THE WHOLE HOUSE

1. In all cases, in forming a Committee of the Whole House, the Speaker shall leave his chair after appointing a Chairman to preside, who shall, in case of disturbance or disorderly conduct in the galleries or lobby, have power to cause the same to be cleared.

2. Whenever a Committee of the Whole House or of the Whole House on the state of the Union finds itself without a quorum, which shall consist of 100 Members, the Chairman shall cause the roll to be called, and thereupon the Committee shall rise, and the Chairman shall report the names of the absentees to the House, which shall be entered on the Journal; but if on such call a quorum shall appear, the Committee shall thereupon resume its sitting without further order of the House.

3. All motions or propositions involving a tax or charge upon the people; all proceedings touching appropriations of money, or bills making appropriations of money or property, or requiring such appropriations to be made, or authorizing payments out of appropriations already made, or releasing any liability to the United States for money or property, or referring any claim to the Court of Claims, shall be first considered in a Committee of the Whole, and a point of order under this rule shall be good at any time before the consideration of a bill has commenced.

4. In Committees of the Whole House business on their calendars may be taken up in regular order, or in such order as the Committee may determine, unless the bill to be considered was determined by the House at the time of going into Committee, but bills for raising revenue, general appropriation bills, and bills for the improvement of rivers and harbors shall have precedence.

5. When general debate is closed by order of the House, any Member shall be allowed five minutes to explain any amendment he may offer, after which the Member who shall first obtain the floor shall be allowed to speak five minutes in opposition to it, and there shall be no further debate thereon, but the same privilege of debate shall be allowed in favor of and against any amendment that may be offered to an amendment; and neither an amendment nor an amendment to an amendment shall be withdrawn by the mover thereof unless by the unanimous consent of the Committee.

6. The Committee may, by the vote of a majority of the Members present, at any time after the five minutes' debate has begun upon proposed amendments to any section or paragraph of a bill, close all debate upon such section or paragraph or, at its election, upon the pending amendments only (which motion shall be decided without debate); but this shall not preclude further amendment, to be decided without debate.

7. A motion to strike out the enacting words of a bill shall have precedence of a motion to amend, and, if carried, shall be considered equivalent to its rejection. Whenever a bill is reported from a Committee of the Whole with an adverse recommendation and such recommendation is disagreed to by the House, the bill shall stand recommitted to the said Committee without further action by the House, but before the question of concurrence is submitted it is in order to entertain a motion to refer the bill to any committee, with or without instructions, and when the same is again reported to the House it shall be referred to the Committee of the Whole without debate.

8. The rules of proceeding in the House shall be observed in Committees of the Whole House so far as they may be applicable.

RULE XXIV

ORDER OF BUSINESS

1. The daily order of business shall be as follows:

First. Prayer by the Chaplain.
Second. Reading and approval of the Journal.
Third. Correction of reference of public bills.
Fourth. Disposal of business on the Speaker's table.
Fifth. Unfinished business.
Sixth. The morning hour for the consideration of bills called up by committees.
Seventh. Motions to go into Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union.
Eighth. Orders of the day.

2. Business on the Speaker's table shall be disposed of as follows:

Messages from the President shall be referred to the appropriate committees without debate. Reports and communications from heads of departments, and other communications addressed to the House, and bills, resolutions, and messages from the Senate may be referred to the appropriate committees in the same manner and with the same right of correction as public bills presented by Members; but House bills with Senate amendments which do not require consideration in a Committee of the Whole may be at once disposed of as the House may determine, as may also Senate bills substantially the same as House bills already favorably reported by a committee of the House, and not required to be considered in Committee of the Whole, be disposed of in the same manner on motion directed to be made by such committee.

3. The consideration of the unfinished business in which the House may be engaged at an adjournment, except business in the morning hour, shall be resumed as soon as the business on the Speaker's table is finished, and at the same time each day thereafter until disposed of, and the consideration of all other unfinished business shall be resumed whenever the class of business to which it belongs shall be in order under the rules.

4. After the unfinished business has been disposed of, the Speaker shall call each standing committee in regular order, and then select committees, and each committee when named may call up for consideration any bill reported by it on a previous day and on the House Calendar, and if the Speaker shall not complete the call of the committees before the House passes to other business, he shall resume the next call where he left off, giving preference to the last bill under consideration: Provided, That whenever any committee shall have occupied the morning hour on two days, it shall not be in order to call up any other bill until the other committees have been called in their turn.

5. After one hour shall have been devoted to the consideration of bills called up by committees, it shall be in order, pending consideration or discussion thereof, to entertain a motion to go into Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union, or, when authorized by a committee, to go into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union to consider a particular bill, to which motion one amendment only, designating another bill, may be made; and if either motion be determined in the negative, it shall not be in order to make either motion again until the disposal of the matter under consideration or discussion.

6. On Saturday of each week after the disposal of such business on the Speaker's table as requires reference only, it shall be in order to move that the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House to consider business on the Private Calendar. In the Committee of the Whole House the Chairman shall direct the Clerk to call the bills in numerical order that have been upon the Private Calendar for three legislative days. When the Clerk shall have read the bill the same shall be considered unless objection or reservation of objection is made to immediate consideration. Should objection or reservation of objection be made there shall be 10 minutes' general debate to be divided, 5 minutes controlled by the Member offering the objection or reservation, and 5 minutes controlled by the chairman of the committee reporting the bill, or in his absence by any Member supporting the bill. If, after such debate, three objections are not forthcoming the bill shall be considered under the 5-minute rule: Provided, however, That the total debate under the 5-minute rule shall not exceed 20 minutes. After the debate hereinbefore referred to, or when the bill is first called, if objection is made by three Members to the consideration of the bill, then the same shall be passed over and carried to a list designated as "deferred." It shall be in order for the bills on the "deferred list" to have the first call in their numerical order when the Private Calendar is called on the last Saturday of each month. At this time the bills on the "deferred list" shall be considered under the general rules of the Committee of the Whole House with 10 minutes' general debate to be divided equally, with 5 minutes controlled by the chairman of the committee reporting the bill or other Member supporting the bill, and 5 minutes controlled by any Member objecting or opposing the bill. After the debate the bill shall be read for amendment under the 5-minute rule: Provided, however, That the total debate under the 5-minute rule shall not exceed 20 minutes. If, however, after such consideration the Committee of the Whole House acts on the bill adversely, it shall be laid aside until the committee arises, whereupon it shall be reported back to the House with the adverse recommendation. Any bill under this rule reported back to the House with an adverse recommendation shall automatically be recommitted to the committee reporting it, and said bill shall not again be reported during the same Congress.

7. On Wednesday of each week no business shall be in order except as provided by paragraph 4 of this rule unless the House by a two-thirds vote on motion to dispense therewith shall otherwise determine. On such a motion there may be debate not to exceed five minutes for and against. On a call of committees under this rule bills may be called up from either the House or the Union Calendar, excepting bills which are privileged under the rules; but bills called up from the Union Calendar shall be considered in Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union. This rule shall not apply during the last two weeks of the session. It shall not be in order for the Speaker to entertain a motion for a recess on any Wednesday except during the last two weeks of the session.

Provided, That not more than two hours of general debate shall be permitted on any measure called up on Calendar Wednesday, and all debate must be confined to the subject matter of the bill, the time to be equally divided between those for and against the bill: Provided further, That whenever any committee shall have occupied one Wednesday it shall not be in order, unless the House by a two-thirds vote shall otherwise determine, to consider any unfinished business previously called up by such committee, unless the previous question had been ordered thereon, upon any succeeding Wednesday until the other committees have been called in their turn under this rule: Provided, That when, during any one session of Congress, all of the committees of the House are not called under the Calendar Wednesday rule, at the next session of Congress the call shall commence where it left off at the end of the preceding session.

8. The second and fourth Mondays in each month, after the disposition of motions to discharge committees and after the disposal of such business on the Speaker's table as requires reference only, shall, when claimed by the Committee on the District of Columbia, be set apart for the consideration of such business as may be presented by said committee.

RULE XXV

PRIORITY OF BUSINESS

All questions relating to the priority of business shall be decided by a majority without debate.

RULE XXVI

UNFINISHED BUSINESS OF THE SESSION

All business before committees of the House at the end of one session shall be resumed at the commencement of the next session of the same Congress in the same manner as if no adjournment had taken place.

RULE XXVII

CHANGE OR SUSPENSION OF RULES

1. No rule shall be suspended except by a vote of two-thirds of the Members voting, a quorum being present; nor shall the Speaker entertain a motion to suspend the rules except on the first and third Mondays of each month, preference being given on the first Monday to individuals and on the third Monday to committees, and during the last six days of a session.

2. All motions to suspend the rules shall, before being submitted to the House, be seconded by a majority by tellers, if demanded.

3. When a motion to suspend the rules has been seconded, it shall be in order, before the final vote is taken thereon, to debate the proposition to be voted upon for 40 minutes, one-half of such time to be given to debate in favor of, and one-half to debate in opposition to, such proposition; and the same right of debate shall be allowed whenever the previous question has been ordered on any proposition on which there has been no debate.

4. A Member may present to the Clerk a motion in writing to discharge a committee from the consideration of a public bill or resolution which has been referred to it 30 days prior thereto (but only one motion may be presented for each bill or resolution). Under this rule it shall also be in order for a Member to file a motion to discharge the Committee on Rules from further consideration of any resolution providing either a special order of business, or a special rule for the consideration of any public bill or resolution favorably reported by a standing committee, or a special rule for the consideration of a public bill or resolution which has remained in a standing committee 30 or more days without action: Provided, That said resolution from which it is moved to discharge the Committee on Rules has been referred to that committee at least seven days prior to the filing of the motion to discharge. The motion shall be placed in the custody of the Clerk, who shall arrange some convenient place for the signature of Members. A signature may be withdrawn by a Member in writing at any time before the motion is entered on the Journal. When Members to the total number of 145 shall have signed the motion, it shall be entered on the Journal, printed with the signatures thereto in the Congressional Record, and referred to the Calendar of Motions to Discharge Committees.

On the second and fourth Mondays of each month, except during the last six days of any session of Congress, immediately after the approval of the Journal, any Member who has signed a motion to discharge which has been on the calendar at least seven days prior thereto, and seeks recognition, shall be recognized for the purpose of calling up the motion, and the House shall proceed to its consideration in the manner herein provided without intervening motion except one motion to adjourn. Recognition for the motions shall be in the order in which they have been entered on the Journal.

When any motion under this rule shall be called up, the bill or resolution shall be read by title only. After 20 minutes' debate, one-half in favor of the proposition and one-half in opposition thereto, the House shall proceed to vote on the motion to discharge. If the motion prevails to discharge the Committee on Rules from any resolution pending before the committee, the House shall immediately vote on the adoption of said resolution, the Speaker not entertaining any dilatory or other intervening motion except one motion to adjourn, and, if said resolution is adopted, then the House shall immediately proceed to its execution. If the motion prevails to discharge one of the standing committees of the House from any public bill or resolution pending before the committee, it shall then be in order for any Member who signed the motion to move that the House proceed to the immediate consideration of such bill or resolution (such motion not being debatable), and such motion is hereby made of high privilege; and if it shall be decided in the affirmative, the bill shall be immediately considered under the general rules of the House, and if unfinished before adjournment of the day on which it is called up it shall remain the unfinished business until it is fully disposed of. Should the House by vote decide against the immediate consideration of such bill or resolution, it shall be referred to its proper calendar and be entitled to the same rights and privileges that it would have had had the committee to which it was referred duly reported same to the House for its consideration: Provided, That when any perfected motion to discharge a committee from the consideration of any public bill or resolution has once been acted upon by the House it shall not be in order to entertain during the same session of Congress any other motion for the discharge from that committee of said measure, or from any other committee of any other bill or resolution substantially the same, relating in substance to or dealing with the same subject matter, or from the Committee on Rules of a resolution providing a special order of business for the consideration of any other such bill or resolution, in order that such action by the House on a motion to discharge shall be res adjudicata for the remainder of that session: Provided further, That if before any one motion to discharge a committee has been acted upon by the House there are on the Calendar of Motions to Discharge Committees other motions to discharge committees from the consideration of bills or resolutions substantially the same, relating in substance to or dealing with the same subject matter, after the House shall have acted on one motion to discharge, the remaining said motions shall be stricken from the Calendar of Motions to Discharge Committees and not acted on during the remainder of that session of Congress.

RULE XXVIII

CONFERENCE REPORTS

1a. The presentation of reports of committees of conference shall always be in order, except when the Journal is being read, while the roll is being called, or the House is dividing on any proposition.

1½a. After House conferees on any bill or resolution in conference between the House and Senate shall have been appointed for 20 calendar days and shall have failed to make a report, it is hereby declared to be a motion of the highest privilege to move to discharge said House conferees and to appoint new conferees, or to instruct said House conferees; and, further, during the last six days of any session of Congress, it shall be a privileged motion to move to discharge, appoint, or instruct House conferees after House conferees shall have been appointed 36 hours without having made a report.

1b. And there shall accompany every such report a detailed statement sufficiently explicit to inform the House what effect such amendments or propositions will have upon the measures to which they relate.

2. It shall not be in order to consider the report of a committee of conference until such report and the accompanying statement shall have been printed in the Record, except on either of the six days preceding the end of a session.

RULE XXIX

SECRET SESSION

Whenever confidential communications are received from the President of the United States, or whenever the Speaker or any Member shall inform the House that he has communications which he believes ought to be kept secret for the present, the House shall be cleared of all persons except the Members and officers thereof, and so continue during the reading of such communications, the debates, and proceedings thereon, unless otherwise ordered by the House.

RULE XXX

READING OF PAPERS

When the reading of a paper other than one upon which the House is called to give a final vote is demanded, and the same is objected to by any Member, it shall be determined without debate by a vote of the House.

RULE XXXI[1]

DRAWING OF SEATS

1. At the commencement of each Congress, immediately after the Members and Delegates are sworn in, the Clerk shall place in a box, prepared for that purpose, a number of small balls, of marble or other material, equal to the number of Members and Delegates, which balls shall be consecutively numbered and thoroughly intermingled, and at such hour as shall be fixed by the House for that purpose, by the hands of a page, draw said balls one by one from the box, and announce the number as it is drawn, upon which announcement the Member or Delegate whose name on a numbered alphabetical list shall correspond with the number on the ball shall advance and choose his seat for the term for which he is elected.

2. Before said drawing shall commence each seat shall be vacated and so remain until selected under this rule, and any seat having been selected shall be deemed forfeited if left unoccupied before the call of the roll is finished; and whenever the seats of Members and Delegates shall have been drawn, no proposition for a second drawing shall be in order during that Congress.

[1] Repealed by H. Res. 8, Sixty-third Congress.

RULE XXXII

HALL OF THE HOUSE

The Hall of the House shall be used only for the legislative business of the House and for the caucus meetings of its Members, except upon occasion where the House by resolution agrees to take part in any ceremonies to be observed therein; and the Speaker shall not entertain a motion for the suspension of this rule.

RULE XXXIII

1. The persons hereinafter named, and none other, shall be admitted to the Hall of the House or rooms leading thereto, viz: The President and Vice President of the United States and their private secretaries, judges of the Supreme Court, Members of Congress and Members elect, contestants in election cases during the pendency of their cases in the House, the Secretary and Sergeant at Arms of the Senate, heads of departments, foreign ministers, governors of States, the superintendent of the Capitol Building and Grounds, the Librarian of Congress and his assistant in charge of the Law Library, the Resident Commissioner to the United States from Puerto Rico, the Resident Commissioners from the Philippine Islands, such persons as have, by name, received the thanks of Congress, ex-Members of the House of Representatives who are not interested in any claim or directly in any bill pending before Congress, and clerks of committees when business from their committee is under consideration; and it shall not be in order for the Speaker to entertain a request for the suspension of this rule or to present from the chair the request of any Member for unanimous consent.

2. There shall be excluded at all times from the Hall of the House of Representatives and the cloakrooms all persons not entitled to the privilege of the floor during the session, except that until 15 minutes of the hour of the meeting of the House persons employed in its service, accredited members of the press entitled to admission to the press gallery, and other persons on request of Members, by card or in writing, may be admitted.

RULE XXXIV

OF ADMISSION TO THE GALLERIES

The Speaker shall set aside a portion of the west gallery for the use of the President of the United States, the members of his Cabinet, justices of the Supreme Court, foreign ministers and suites, and the members of their respective families, and shall also set aside another portion of the same gallery for the accommodation of persons to be admitted on the card of Members. The southerly half of the east gallery shall be assigned exclusively for the use of the families of Members of Congress, in which the Speaker shall control one bench, and on request of a Member the Speaker shall issue a card of admission to his family, which shall include their visitors, and no other persons shall be admitted to this section.

RULE XXXV

1. The appointment and removal, for cause, of the Official Reporters of the House, including stenographers of committees, and the manner of the execution of their duties shall be vested in the Speaker.

2. Such portion of the gallery over the Speaker's chair as may be necessary to accommodate representatives of the press wishing to report debates and proceedings shall be set aside for their use, and reputable reporters and correspondents shall be admitted thereto under such regulations as the Speaker may from time to time prescribe; and the supervision of such gallery, including the designation of its employees, shall be vested in the standing committee of correspondents, subject to the direction and control of the Speaker; and the Speaker may assign one seat on the floor to Associated Press reporters, one to the Sun Press Association, one to the United Press Association, one to the National News Association, one to the Central News Association of America, and one to the New York Herald Syndicate, and regulate the occupation of the same. And the Speaker may admit to the floor, under such regulations as he may prescribe, one additional representative of each press association.

RULE XXXVI

The rule for paying witnesses subpœnaed to appear before the House or either of its committees shall be as follows: For each day a witness shall attend, the sum of $6; for each mile he shall travel in coming to or going from the place of examination, the sum of 7 cents each way; but nothing shall be paid for traveling when the witness has been summoned at the place of trial.

RULE XXXVII

The clerks of the several committees of the House shall, within three days after the final adjournment of a Congress, deliver to the Clerk of the House all bills, joint resolutions, petitions, and other papers referred to the committee, together with all evidence taken by such committee under the order of the House during the said Congress and not reported to the House; and in the event of the failure or neglect of any clerk of a committee to comply with this rule the Clerk of the House shall, within three days thereafter, take into his keeping all such papers and testimony.

RULE XLIII

JEFFERSON'S MANUAL

The rules of parliamentary practice comprised in Jefferson's Manual shall govern the House in all cases to which they are applicable, and in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the House and joint rules of the Senate and House of Representatives.

QUESTIONS OF ORDER

DECIDED IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES AT THE FIRST SESSION OF THE SEVENTY-SECOND CONGRESS, COMMENCING MONDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1931

JOHN N. GARNER, OF TEXAS, SPEAKER; SOUTH TRIMBLE, OF KENTUCKY, CLERK

DECEMBER 17, 1931

Mr. BYRNS, by direction of the Committee on Appropriations, submitted a joint resolution (H. J. Res. 141) to provide additional appropriations for the Veterans' Administration for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1932, and asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

Whereupon Mr. BLANTON made the point of order that unanimous consent was not necessary, being a deficiency it is privileged under the rule.

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order.

JANUARY 12, 1932

Mr. LUCE, of Massachusetts, rose to a question of privilege of the House, and said:

"Possibly it should be a question of the privileges of the House which would require me to present a resolution. I will follow that course if anybody desires it.

"There is presented to me this morning an opportunity to call to the attention of the House a matter that has disturbed me for some time. This is my first convenient chance to lay it before the House. I find in the RECORD this morning that a few remarks I made yesterday are printed as follows on page 1694:

"'Mr. Speaker, ladies, and gentlemen.'

"Not since I have been a Member have I thus broken parliamentary law. Of course, I desire not to go on record as supporting a practice which is obnoxious to me.

"When I came here 12 years ago, nobody, so far as I can recollect, ever deviated from the parliamentary rule that saluation should be confined to the occupant of the chair, either 'Mr. Speaker' or 'Mr. Chairman.' Within a very few years the practice has grown up of addressing the House en masse by some form of preliminary language. This is contrary to the parliamentary precedent of several hundred years.

"I would read to you a statement by Sir Thomas Smith, who described the practice of the Parliament of Queen Elizabeth's time. He said:

"'Though one do praise the law, the other dissuade it. For every man speaketh as to the speaker, not as one to another, for that is against the order of the house.'

"Jefferson's Manual, which is the law of the House when it has no rule to the contrary, says that 'when any Member means to speak * * * he is * * * to address himself not to the House, nor to any particular Member, but to the Speaker,' and so forth. Notice that he is to address himself not to the House, but to the Speaker of the House.

"I called this matter to the attention of Speaker Longworth, and he was even more severe than I would be in criticizing the practice and in expressing the hope that some means might be found to call it to the attention of the House. Possibly the present Speaker has the same feeling in the matter, although I am not authorized to read your mind in that case, but I am quite sure that the reason for the rule has always persisted and will continue to persist, because it is, as the writers say, to avoid altercations. Its purpose is to prevent men from directly addressing each other and thus invite a breach of decorum."

The SPEAKER said: "The Chair is in entire sympathy with the remarks made by the gentleman from Massachusetts [Mr. LUCE]. It is supposed to be a slight upon the Chair, according to the expressions of former Speakers of the House, when Members address the Chairman of the Committee of the Whole or the Speaker and then address the Members on the floor en masse. The Speaker represents the House of Representatives in its organization, and by addressing the Chair gentlemen address the entire membership of the House."

On motion of Mr. LUCE, by unanimous consent, the words "ladies and gentlemen," referred to in his remarks, were ordered to be stricken from the RECORD.

JANUARY 15, 1932

Proceeding under a special rule providing for one motion to recommit, the House was considering the bill (H. R. 7360) to provide emergency financing facilities for financial institutions to aid in financing agriculture, commerce, and industry, and for other purposes.

The bill having been read the third time,

Mr. MCFADDEN, of Pennsylvania, moved to recommit the bill to the Committee on Banking and Currency, with instructions to that committee to report the bill back to the House with the following amendment:

Strike out all after the enacting clause and insert:

That the Secretary of the Treasury be, and hereby is, authorized immediately to purchase gold to the extent of $1,000,000,000 and silver to the extent of $200,000,000 and to issue gold and silver certificates in all denominations against the same, dollar for dollar against the gold, and dollar for dollar against the silver, and to give to such gold and silver certificates a distinguishing mark and color and a distinctive name. That the issue of Federal reserve notes against such gold and silver certificates be forbidden and that such gold and silver certificates shall be paid by the United States Government to the people on the Government pay rolls and for all public works as needed, and that such method of payment shall, so far as possible, take the place of payment by check and shall be a preferred method of payment. Such gold and silver certificates shall bear on the face thereof in print the notation that "This note is legal tender at its face value for all debts public and private and for all other purposes."

Mr. STEAGALL, of Alabama, made the point of order that the instructions in the motion to recommit were not germane to the provisions of the bill.

The SPEAKER sustained the point of order.

Mr. LAGUARDIA, of New York, then moved that the bill be recommitted to the Committee on Banking and Currency, with instructions to that committee to report the bill back to the House forthwith with an amendment.

Whereupon Mr. O'CONNOR, of New York, made the point of order that only one motion to recommit was in order.

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order, and said:

"The point of order having been sustained to the motion to recommit by the gentleman from Pennsylvania, a motion to recommit by the gentleman from New York is now in order."

JANUARY 18, 1932

During consideration of business on the Consent Calendar the Clerk called the bill (H. R. 5484) extending the provisions of the act entitled "An act to provide for the sale of desert lands in certain States and Territories," approved March 3, 1877 (19 Stat. 377), and acts amendatory thereof, to ceded lands of the Fort Hall Indian Reservation.

When Mr. STAFFORD made the point of order that the report on said bill did not conform to the provisions of clause 2a, Rule XIII.

After debate,

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order.

FEBRUARY 5, 1932

Mr. HOWARD, as a question of privilege, moved to discharge the Committee on Banking and Currency from further consideration of the following resolution (H. Res. 123):

Resolved, That the President of the United States be, and he is hereby, respectfully requested to transmit to the House of Representatives a list of the names of all persons who certified to the President one Harvey W. Couch as a member of the Democratic Party, and who urged the appointment of said Couch as an official of the Reconstruction Corporation, provided the divulging of such information shall not, in the judgment of the President, be inimical to the best interests of the Republic, and shall not be distressing to those persons who recommended the appointment of the aforesaid Couch.

Mr. MAPES of Michigan made the point of order that the motion was not privileged, in that in contravention of the rule the resolution called for an investigation as well as an opinion.

After debate,

The SPEAKER sustained the point of order, and said:

"In 1913 one of the first rulings made by Speaker Clark was on a resolution of this kind, and, so far as the Chair is able to ascertain, the philosophy of that ruling of Speaker Clark has been followed up to this time. The Chair will read his language for the information of the House.

"Speaking of the resolution before the House at that time, Speaker Clark made these remarks:

"'The practice in regard to a resolution of this kind is this: That it is in order if it calls for facts only or information only. It does not make any difference which one of the two words is used, but it is out of order if it calls for an opinion or an investigation.'

"The resolution now before the House calls for facts and then concludes with this language—

"'And shall not be distressing to those persons who recommended the appointment of the aforesaid Couch.'

"The President would have to make an investigation to determine whether it was distressing to any person. The Chair thinks that then the President, on the basis of the investigation, would have to formulate an opinion concerning the distress that might be caused to certain persons. So the resolution calls for both an investigation and an opinion, which is violative of both precedents laid down by Speaker Clark.

"The Chair thinks the point of order is clearly well taken and sustains the point of order."

FEBRUARY 27, 1932

The House had under consideration the bill (H. R. 9642) to authorize supplemental appropriations for emergency highway construction, the bill coming over from the Committee of the Whole with amendments and the amendments agreed to.

The bill having been read the third time,

Mr. COCHRAN of Missouri moved to recommit the bill to the Committee on Roads, with instructions to that committee to report the bill back to the House forthwith with the following amendment:

Page 3, line 24, after "labor," insert a comma and add the minimum use of machinery and the use of equipment and material of domestic manufacture and production.

Mr. STAFFORD, of Wisconsin, made the point of order that the motion to recommit was not in order, in that the amendment proposed to amend an amendment just agreed to by the House.

The SPEAKER sustained the point of order.

APRIL 13, 1932

Mr. CARTWRIGHT, of Oklahoma, during consideration of Calendar Wednesday business, called up the bill (H. R. 9071) to authorize appropriations to pay in part the liability of the United States to certain Indian pueblos.

Mr. STAFFORD, of Wisconsin, made the point of order that the bill was not in order for the reason that the report on said bill did not conform to the provisions of clause 2a, Rule XIII.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. O'CONNOR, of New York) sustained the point of order, and said:

"The gentleman from Wisconsin makes a point of order that the report accompanying the bill (H. R. 9071) does not comply with the so-called Ramseyer rule, and points out that, on page 9 of the bill, section 16 of the act of June 7, 1924, is amended, and that this amendment is referred to on page 5 of the report and that nowhere in the report is the so-called Ramseyer rule complied with by setting forth the changes made in the act.

"The point of order is sustained, and the bill is automatically recommitted to the Committee on Indian Affairs."

On the same day the House was about to resolve itself into Committee of the Whole to consider the bill (H. R. 8898) authorizing the deferring of collection of construction costs against Indian lands within irrigation projects.

When Mr. Goss of Connecticut made the point of order that the report on the bill did not comply with the provisions of clause 2a, Rule XIII.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. O'CONNOR, of New York) overruled the point of order.

APRIL 27, 1932

Mr. BANKHEAD, of Alabama, by direction of the Committee on Rules called up the following resolution (H. Res. 203):

Resolved, That after the adoption of this resolution it shall be in order in the consideration of H. R. 11267, the legislative appropriation bill, for the chairman of the Economy Committee or any member of the Economy Committee acting for him, by direction of that committee, to offer an amendment to said bill, any rule of the House to the contrary notwithstanding. On said amendment there shall be two hours of general debate, one-half to be controlled by the chairman of the Economy Committee and one-half by the ranking minority member of that committee. At the termination of such debate the amendment shall be considered under the 5-minute rule as an original bill and shall be considered by titles. Each title as it is read shall be open to four amendments, said amendments not being subject to amendment, and no further amendments shall be entertained by the Chair. The provisions of clause 7, Rule XVI, or clause 2, Rule XXI, shall not apply to the substitute amendment offered to Title I of the Economy Committee amendment. At the conclusion of the consideration of the bill in the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union the committee shall rise and report the bill to the House with the amendments, including the amendment offered by the Economy Committee as amended, and any Member may demand a separate vote in the House on any of the amendments adopted in the Committee of the Whole to the Economy Committee amendment. The previous question shall be considered as ordered on the bill and Economy Committee amendment, including the amendments to the Economy Committee amendment, to final passage without intervening motion except two motions to recommit, and such motions to recommit shall be in order, any rule of the House to the contrary notwithstanding.

The previous question on its adoption had been ordered.

When Mr. CANNON, of Missouri, demanded that the resolution be divided.

Whereupon Mr. BANKHEAD, of Alabama, made the point of order that the resolution was not divisible.

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order and said:

"The Chair has already read the rule to the House. An examination of this particular rule shows that it contains a number of substantive propositions. In a ruling made by Mr. Speaker Cannon on April 8, 1908 (Record, p. 4509), he said:

"'The Chair is prepared to rule. On a careful examination of this rule, the Chair finds that there are five substantive propositions and five only, so that if the gentleman demands a separate vote upon either or all of them, a separate vote will be taken.'

"The Chair has examined the rule in that case. If the House had adopted two substantive propositions and left out three substantive propositions, it would not have known what it was all about. The House could not possibly have known what it was considering if it had been so foolish as to adopt two of the substantive propositions and reject three, or reject two and adopt three.

"As the Chair said awhile ago, it is the presumption that the House, in voting upon the proposition, will act intelligently and not emasculate the rule.

"The rule is quite specific. It provides that if there is a substantive proposition left a Member is entitled to a division.

"The Chair overrules the point of order."

APRIL 28, 1932

The House had under consideration the bill (H. R. 11452) making appropriations for the Navy Department and the naval service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933, and for other purposes, coming over from the Committee of the Whole with amendments, the amendments were agreed to and the bill read the third time.

Mr. COLLINS of Mississippi moved to recommit the bill to the Committee on Appropriations, with instructions to that committee to report the bill back to the House forthwith with the following amendment:

On page 25, line 19, before the semicolon, insert:

Provided further, That the total number of enlisted men in the ratings of bandmaster, first musician, musician first class, and musician second class on April 18, 1932, shall be reduced by three hundred and fifty-five by discontinuing new enlistments and reenlistments not continuous in such ratings and/or placing in such ratings men otherwise rated.

Mr. CHINDBLOM made the point of order that the motion to recommit was not in order because the language proposed to be inserted in the bill by the motion had previously been stricken from the bill by the adoption of an amendment in the House.

The SPEAKER sustained the point of order and said:

"The gentleman from Illinois makes the point of order that the motion to recommit attempts to reinsert language that was stricken out of the bill in the House by agreeing to an amendment reported from the Committee of the Whole. The rulings are uniform that you can not undo in a motion to recommit that which the House has just disposed of, so the point of order is well taken."

APRIL 28, 1932

Mr. JOHNSON of Washington rose to a question of privilege of the House and was proceeding in debate,

When Mr. LEHLBACH, of New Jersey, made the point of order that a resolution must be submitted in the first instance in order to raise a question of privilege of the House.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. RAINEY of Illinois) sustained the point of order.

MAY 19, 1932

The House had under consideration the bill (H. R. 11897) making appropriations for the military and nonmilitary activities of the War Department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933, and for other purposes, coming over from the Committee of the Whole with amendments, the amendments were agreed to and the bill read the third time.

Mr. BARBOUR moved to recommit the bill to the Committee on Appropriations, with instructions to that committee to report the bill back to the House forthwith with the following amendments:

Page 8, line 19, strike out "$27,209,927" and insert $31,833,427; line 23, strike out "$8,356,200" and insert $8,545,011.

Page 9, line 4, strike out "$1,914,948" and insert $9,447,323; line 14, strike out "$4,648,006" and insert $6,281,824; line 15, strike out "$5,122,479" and insert $5,928,389; line 22, strike out "$133,257,790" and insert $137,042,204.

Page 10, line 1, strike out "$132,457,790" and insert $136,242,204; line 15, commencing with the colon, strike out the remainder of the paragraph.

Mr. COLLINS made the point of order that the instructions in the motion to recommit proposed to eliminate an amendment just agreed to by the House.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. CRISP) overruled the point of order, and said:

"The Chair is advised that in the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union a perfecting amendment was adopted to the paragraph known as the McSwain amendment. The bill was reported from the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union to the House, the House has agreed to the amendments, and has ordered the bill engrossed and read a third time.

"The question is whether a motion to recommit, as offered by the gentleman from California, is in order which seeks to change something that the House has agreed to.

"The motion to recommit was placed in the rule to give a substantial privilege to the minority of the House—I do not mean any political minority but a minority of the House—so as to give them a chance to go on record as to legislation.

"In the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union there is no roll-call vote, so that the only opportunity that a minority may have to go on record is by means of a motion to recommit in the House. If the motion to recommit of the gentleman from California sought simply to eliminate from the bill the McSwain amendment, it would not be in order, because the question of estoppel would apply. When the House has acted on a matter it must be res adjudicata. However, as the Chair understands the proposition, the McSwain amendment was adopted as a perfecting amendment to the paragraph. The motion to recommit of the gentleman from California proposes to strike out a substantial portion of the paragraph comprehending the McSwain amendment. Under the general rules of the House, where a motion is made to strike out a paragraph, a perfecting amendment changing the paragraph is preferential and the vote is first taken on the perfecting amendment. If the perfecting amendment is adopted, then it is in order to move to strike out the entire paragraph, notwithstanding the House or the committee has adopted a perfecting amendment to the paragraph.

"The Chair thinks that the same rule applies to a motion to recommit where it is proposed in such a motion to strike out a paragraph or a portion of a paragraph which may have been perfected by amendments.

"The Chair is therefore constrained to rule that the point of order is not good, and overrules the point of order."

Mr. BLANTON, of Texas, then submitted the following substitute for the motion to recommit:

To recommit the bill to the Committee on Appropriations with instructions to report the same back forthwith with the following amendments:

Page 16, line 4, before the period, insert the following proviso:

Provided, That no appropriation contained in this act shall be available for or on account of any expense incident to the permanent change of station of any commissioned officer of the Army except (1) officers appointed to and relieved from positions that are filled by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, (2) officers detailed to and from Army schools as students, (3) military attachés, (4) officers ordered to and from duty in the Canal Zone and in the Philippines, and (5) officers ordered to replace officers who die or may be separated from the active list.

84231—H J—72—1——70

Page 15, line 20, strike out "$4,126,865" and insert in lieu thereof $3,126,865.

Page 52, line 10, before the word "Members," insert not to exceed 10,000.

Page 56, line 23, after the word "instruction," insert not to exceed 36,000.

Mr. CHINDBLOM made the point of order that the substitute was not germane to the motion to recommit and that it proposed legislation on an appropriation bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore [Mr. CRISP] overruled the point of order, and said:

"The Chair does not feel compelled to pass on the question of whether the substitute of the gentleman from Texas is germane to the original motion to recommit of the gentleman from California or not. The gentleman from California made a motion to recommit dealing with certain features of the bill. The previous question was not ordered. The gentleman from Texas has offered a substitute with instructions as to other features of the bill, and the Chair thinks it is clearly within the province of the House to pass on which one of the motions to recommit they desire to pass upon and will, of course, have a chance to pass on both of them. If the Blanton amendment as a substitute is adopted for the Barbour motion to recommit, that would eliminate the instructions in the motion of the gentleman from California [Mr. BARBOUR], and the question would come as to whether the House desired to adopt the instruction of the gentleman from Texas [Mr. BLANTON].

"The Chair overrules the point of order."

MAY 23, 1932

Mr. O'CONNOR, of New York, pursuant to clause 4, Rule XXVII, called up the motion to discharge the Committee on Ways and Means from further consideration of the bill (H. R. 10017) to provide additional revenue, and for other purposes.

Mr. BLANTON, of Texas, made the point of order that the motion to discharge was not in order for the reason that a motion to discharge a committee from consideration of substantially similar legislation had previously been acted upon by the House.

After debate,

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order and said:

"This identical question was brought up in the Democratic caucus at the time it passed on the amendments to the rules prepared by the gentleman from Georgia [Mr. CRISP]. This same question was asked the gentleman from Georgia [Mr. CRISP], and this particular case was used as an illustration in the Democratic caucus. When the House was considering the adoption of this particular rule the gentleman from Georgia again illustrated the situation by this identical case, and, according to the Chair's recollection, the gentleman said that in case a motion to discharge a committee from considering a bill authorizing 2 per cent beer was voted down there could not be another motion for the purpose of voting on the question of 4 per cent beer, or even 1 per cent beer; but it was distinctly discussed and understood at the time that the question to amend the Constitution was one question and that the question of legalizing beer was another. The House has passed on the question of a constitutional amendment, but has not passed on the question of whether or not the House would provide a different definition of legalized beer. The Chair overrules the point of order."

JUNE 6, 1932

During consideration of bills on the Consent Calendar, the bill of the Senate (S. 3085) relating to the tribal and individual affairs of the Osage Indians of Oklahoma was read by title,

When Mr. BLANTON, of Texas, made the point of order that the bill was not in order for the reason that the report on said bill did not conform to the provisions of clause 2a, Rule XIII.

The SPEAKER sustained the point of order.

JUNE 11, 1932

The House had under consideration the conference report on the bill (H. R. 7912) making appropriations for the Department of Agriculture for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933, considering the amendments in disagreement.

Mr. BUCHANAN, of Texas, moved that the House recede from its disagreement to the amendment of the Senate No. 61 and concur therein with the following amendment: In lieu of the matter inserted by said amendment insert:

Provided, That the act entitled "An act to permit the granting of Federal aid in respect of certain roads and bridges," approved March 3, 1927 (44 Stat. 1398), is hereby amended to read as follows: "That notwithstanding any provision of the act entitled 'An act to provide that the United States shall aid the States in the construction of rural post roads, and for other purposes,' approved July 11, 1916, or of the Federal aid highway act, the Secretary of Agriculture may extend, on the same basis and in the same manner as in the construction of any free bridge, Federal aid under such acts, in the construction of any toll bridge and approaches thereto, and of any highway leading thereto, by any State or States, or political subdivision or subdivisions thereof, upon the condition that such bridge is owned and operated by such State or States, or political subdivision or subdivisions thereof, and that all tolls received from the operation thereof, less the actual cost of operation and maintenance, are applied to the repayment to the State or States, or political subdivision or subdivisions thereof, of its or their part of the cost of construction or acquisition of such bridge, and upon the further condition that when the amount contributed by such State or States, or political subdivision or subdivisions thereof, in the construction or acquisition of such bridge, shall have been repaid from the tolls the collection of tolls for the use of such bridge shall thereafter cease, and the same shall be maintained and operated as a free bridge."

Mr. DOWELL made the point of order that the amendment to the Senate amendment was not germane.

The SPEAKER pro tempore [Mr. RAINEY, of Illinois] sustained the point of order.

JUNE 16, 1932

The House had under consideration the joint resolution (H. J. Res. 418) authorizing the distribution of Government-owned wheat and cotton to the American National Red Cross and other organizations for the relief of distress, coming over from the Committee of the Whole with amendments. The amendments were agreed to and the joint resolution read the third time.

Mr. HOPE, of Kansas, moved to recommit the joint resolution to the Committee on Agriculture, with instruction to that committee to report the joint resolution back to the House forthwith with the following amendment:

In order to carry out the purposes of this resolution such wheat, or the products thereof, may be milled, processed, or manufactured into, or exchanged for, flour of any kind, bread, or other food or feed of which wheat, or any by-product thereof, is a substantial ingredient, and such cotton may be processed or manufactured into, or exchanged for, cloth and wearing apparel, made of cotton, but such milling, processing, or manufacturing shall be without profit to any mill, organization, or other person. So far as necessary, such wheat and cotton, and the products thereof, may be used in meeting transportation, storage, and handling expenses in carrying out the purposes of this resolution.

Mr. BANKHEAD made the point of order that the motion to recommit was not in order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore [Mr. RAINEY, of Illinois] overruled the point of order.

JUNE 20, 1932

The House had under consideration the conference report on the bill (H. R. 11267) making appropriations for the legislative branch of the Government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933, and for other purposes. The conference report was agreed to and the House proceeded to consider the amendment in disagreement, Senate amendment 46, the Economy Committee amendment, as follows:

Page 44, beginning with line 11, strike out:

"TITLE I—COMPENSATION REDUCTION OF FEDERAL EMPLOYEES

"REMITTANCES FROM CONSTITUTIONAL OFFICERS

"SEC. 105. In any case in which the application of the provisions of this title to any person would result in a diminution of compensation prohibited by the Constitution, the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to accept from such person, and cover into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts, remittance of such part of the compensation of such person as would not be paid to him if such diminution of compensation were not prohibited.

"REDUCTIONS INAPPLICABLE WHEN COMMODITY PRICE LEVEL RISES

"SEC. 106. If at any time prior to June 30, 1933, the President finds that for a period of 120 days the average wholesale commodity price level is within 10 points as high as the average wholesale commodity price level of the year 1926, indicated by the figure 100 in the revised index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the Department of Labor, he shall issue a proclamation to that effect, and upon the issuance of such proclamation the foregoing provisions of this title shall cease to be in effect.

"LIMITATION ON JURISDICTION OF COURTS

"SEC. 107. No court of the United States shall have jurisdiction of any suit against the United States or against any officer, agency, or instrumentality of the United States arising out of the application of any provision of this title, unless such suit involves the Constitution of the United States.

"(b) The salaries of all judges (except judges whose compensation may not, under the Constitution, be diminished during their continuance in office), if such salaries are in excess of $10,000 per annum, shall be at the rate of $10,000 per annum.

"SEC. 111. After June 30, 1932, no officer or employee of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall receive a salary at a rate in excess of $10,000 per annum.

"APPROPRIATIONS IMPOUNDED

"SEC. 112. The appropriations or portions of appropriations unexpended by reason of the operation of this title shall not be used for any other purposes, but shall be impounded and returned to the Treasury."

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Title I—Furlough of Federal Employees

Furlough provisions

Section 101. During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933—

(a) The days of work of a per diem officer or employee receiving compensation at a rate which is equivalent to more than $1,200 per annum shall not exceed five in any one week, and the compensation for five days shall be ten-elevenths of that payable for a week's work of five and one-half days: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be construed as modifying the method of fixing the daily rate of compensation of per diem officers or employees as now authorized by law: Provided further, That where the nature of the duties of a per diem officer or employee render it advisable, the provisions of subsection (b) may be applied in lieu of the provisions of this subsection.

(b) Each officer or employee receiving compensation on an annual basis at the rate of more than $1,200 per annum shall be furloughed without compensation for one calendar month, or for such periods as shall in the aggregate be equivalent to one calendar month, for which latter purpose twenty-four working days (counting Saturday as one-half day) shall be considered as the equivalent of one calendar month: Provided, That where the nature of the duties of any such officer or employee render it advisable, the provisions of subsection (a) may be applied in lieu of the provisions of this subsection: Provided further, That no officer or employee shall, without his consent, be furloughed under this subsection for more than five days in any one calendar month: Provided further, That the rate of compensation of any employee furloughed under the provisions of this act shall not be reduced by reason of the action of any wage board during the fiscal year 1933.

(c) The compensation paid any officer or employee to whom this section applies shall, notwithstanding the provisions of this section, be an amount not less than an amount calculated at the rate of $1,200 per annum.

Sec. 102. No officer or employee shall be exempted from the provisions of subsections (a) and (b) of section 101, except in those cases where the public service requires that the position be continuously filled and a suitable substitute can not be provided, and then only when authorized or approved in writing by the President of the United States.

Sec. 103. All rights now conferred or authorized to be conferred by law upon any officer or employee to receive annual leave of absence with pay are hereby suspended during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933.

Definitions

Sec. 104. When used in sections 101, 102, and 103 of this act—

Remittances from constitutional officers

Sec. 110. In any case in which the application of the provision of compensation prohibited by the Constitution, the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to accept from such person, and cover into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts, remittance of such part of the compensation of such person as would not be paid to him if such diminution of compensation were not prohibited.

No court of the United States shall have jurisdiction of any suit against the United States or against any officer, agency, or instrumentality of the United States arising out of the application of any provision of this title, unless such suit involves the Constitution of the United States.

Mr. McDUFFIE moved that the House recede from its disagreement to Senate amendment No. 46 and concur therein, with the following amendment:

Restore the matter stricken out by said Senate amendment amended to read as follows:

Title I. Compensation Reduction of Federal Employees

Compensation defined

Section 101. As used in this title, the term "compensation" means any salary, pay, wage, allowance (except allowances for subsistence, quarters, heat, light, and travel), or other emolument paid for services rendered in any civilian or noncivilian office, position, or employment; and includes the retired pay of judges, and the retired pay of all commissioned and other personnel of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Lighthouse Service, and the Public Health Service, and the retired pay of all commissioned and other personnel (except enlisted) of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard; but does not include the active or retired pay of the enlisted personnel of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard; and does not include payments out of any retirement, disability, or relief fund made up wholly or in part of contributions of employees.

Schedule of temporary reductions

Sec. 102. (a) During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933, the rate of compensation for each civilian or noncivilian office, position, or employment in any branch or service of the United States Government or the government of the District of Columbia, is reduced as follows: If more than $1,200 per annum, but less than $12,000 per annum, 10 per centum; if $12,000 per annum or more, but less than $15,000 per annum, 12 per centum; if $15,000 per annum or more, but less than $20,000 per annum, 15 per centum; if $20,000 per annum or more, 20 per centum.

(b) Subsection (a) shall not operate: (1) So as to reduce any rate of compensation to less than $1,200 per annum, or (2) so as to reduce the rate of compensation of any postmaster or postal employee of a post office of the first, second, or third class whose salary or allowances are based on gross postal receipts, or of any postmaster of the fourth class, to a rate which is less than 90 per centum of his average rate of compensation during the calendar year 1931.

(c) In the case of any office, position, or employment, the compensation for which is calculated on a piecework, hourly, or per diem basis, the rate of compensation per annum shall be held to be the total amount which would be payable for the regular working hours, and on the basis of 307 working days, or the number of working days on the basis of which such compensation is calculated, whichever is the greater.

Exemptions from reduction

Sec. 103. Section 102 of this title shall not apply to—

(a) Any office, position, or employment the compensation for which is expressly fixed by international agreement, or

(b) Compensation paid under the terms of any contract in effect on the date of enactment of this act, if such compensation may not lawfully be reduced, or

(c) Compensation which may not, under the Constitution, be diminished, or

(d) Any office, position, or employment the compensation for which is adjustable to conform to the prevailing local rate for similar work, but the wage board or other body charged with the duty of making such adjustment shall immediately take such action as may be necessary to effect such adjustment, or

(e) Persons whose compensation is derived from assessments on banks and/or is not paid from the Federal Treasury, or

(f) Salaries or retired pay reduced or fixed by section 107.

Government corporations

Sec. 104. In the case of a corporation the majority of the stock of which is owned by the United States, the holders of the stock on behalf of the United States, or such persons as represent the interest of the United States in such corporation, shall take such action as may be necessary to apply the provisions of sections 101, 102, 103, and 107 to offices, positions, and employments under such corporation and to officers and employees thereof, with proper allowance for any reduction in compensation since December 31, 1931.

Remittances from constitutional officers

Sec. 105. In any case in which the application of the provisions of this title to any person would result in a diminution of compensation prohibited by the Constitution, the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to accept from such person, and cover into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts, remittance of such part of the compensation of such person as would not be paid to him if such diminution of compensation were not prohibited.

Limitation on jurisdiction of courts

Sec. 106. No court of the United States shall have jurisdiction of any suit against the United States or (unless brought by the United States) against any officer, agency, or instrumentality of the United States arising out of the application of any provision of this title, unless such suit involves the Constitution of the United States.

Special salary reductions

Sec. 107. (a) During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933—

(1) The salary of each of the members of the International Joint Commission, United States section, shall be at the rate of $5,000 per annum;

(2) The salaries of the following officers shall be at the rate of $10,000 per annum: Commissioners of the United States Shipping Board, members of the Federal Farm Board (except the Secretary of Agriculture), members of the Board of Mediation, commissioners of the Interstate Commerce Commission, commissioners of the United States Tariff Commission, the American commissioner of the General Claims Commission, United States and Mexico, and the umpire and American commissioner of the Mixed Claims Commission, United States and Germany;

(3) No officer or employee of any of the boards or commissions enumerated in paragraph (1) or (2) shall (except as provided in paragraph (4)) receive salary at a rate in excess of $10,000 per annum:

(4) No officer or employee of the United States Shipping Board, the United States Shipping Board Merchant Fleet Corporation, or the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall receive a salary at a rate in excess of $10,000 per annum, except that in the case of any position the salary of which at the date of the enactment of this act is at a rate in excess of $12,500 per annum such salary may be at a rate not in excess of $12,500 per annum; and

(5) The salaries and retired pay of all judges (except judges whose compensation may not, under the Constitution, be diminished during their continuance in office), if such salaries or retired pay are at a rate exceeding $10,000 per annum, shall be at the rate of $10,000 per annum.

(b) The reduction in compensation provided in other sections of this title shall not apply to any salary or retired pay reduced or fixed under the provisions of subsection (a) of this section.

Appropriations impounded

Sec. 108. The appropriations or portions of appropriations unexpended by reason of the operation of this title shall not be used for any purpose, but shall be impounded and returned to the Treasury.

Mr. LaGUARDIA of New York made the point of order that the amendment to the Senate amendment was not germane, and that the conferees had not sponsored the recorded position of the House.

And Mr. SCHAFER of Wisconsin made the further point of order that the amendment goes beyond the range of difference between the action of the House and the Senate. The furlough plan incorporated in the bill by the Senate and the salary-reduction plan as passed by the House contain no salary reductions in salaries below $2,500 per year. I believe on that point alone the amendment is not germane, and therefore it is not in order, as the conferees have exceeded their authority.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. RAINEY of Illinois) overruled the points of order, and said:

"The gentleman from New York [Mr. LAGUARDIA] interposes a point of order against the amendment offered by the gentleman from Alabama [Mr. MCDUFFIE] to the Senate proposal upon the ground that it does not affirmatively appear that the House conferees really took into consideration the action and voice of the House in the conference. That, of course, is a matter entirely beyond the province of the Chair, and is a matter of speculation, necessarily. The Chair, therefore, overrules that point of order.

"The gentleman from Wisconsin [Mr. SCHAFER] raised the point of order that the provisions embodied in the motion of the gentleman from Alabama to recede and concur with an amendment to the Senate amendment was beyond the limits fixed in either the House bill or the Senate amendment. The Parliamentarian has furnished the Chair with a syllabus of an opinion by Chairman Hepburn, of Iowa, made on February 26, 1902, which may be found in Hinds' Precedents (vol. 5, sec. 6187). It is as follows: 'In amending a Senate amendment the House is not confined within the limits of amount set by the original bill and the Senate amendment.' The Chair thinks that that decision disposes of the point of order raised by the gentleman from Wisconsin. The Chair desires to say in passing upon these points of order that in cases of this kind the only requirement is that the amendment proposed in the motion to recede and concur with an amendment must be germane to the Senate amendment. This question arose on May 3, 1922, when Mr. Speaker Gillett, in overruling a point of order similar to this, held that to a Senate amendment providing a new method of taxation in the District of Columbia and revising the fiscal relationship of the District of Columbia and the United States with other incidental propositions and an amendment proposing a different scheme is germane, although different in detail.

"The Chair thinks that these decisions fully cover points of order raised by the gentleman from New York and the gentleman from Wisconsin, and therefore overrules the points of order."

JUNE 28, 1932

The House had under consideration the conference report on the bill (H. R. 11452) making appropriations for the Navy Department and the naval service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933, and for other purposes, and was considering the amendments of the Senate in disagreement.

Mr. AYRES, of Kansas, moved that the House recede from its disagreement to the amendment of the Senate No. 16 and concur therein with the following amendment:

In lieu of the matter inserted by said amendment insert $1,157,535 (none of which shall be available for increased pay for making aerial flights by nonflying officers or observers except eight officers above the grade of lieutenant commander, to be selected by the Secretary of the Navy).

Whereupon Mr. LAGUARDIA, of New York, made the point of order that the amendment of Mr. AYRES was beyond the jurisdiction of the conferees.

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order.

JULY 5, 1932

Mr. LAMBERTSON of Kansas rose to a question of personal privilege, and said:

"Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Kansas [Mr. STRONG] said this:

"'My colleague'—

"Referring to me"—

"'dated his remarks June 14, 1930, but it was not printed in the Congressional Record until July 7, 1930, four days after Congress had adjourned.'

"Then he said:

"'I call attention to the fact that after the last session of Congress two years ago, to which he refers and which adjourned on the 3d day of July, on the 7th of July my colleague put a speech in the Record, by extension of remarks, four days after the Congress had adjourned.'

"We were not in session then, and I think I should have an opportunity to answer those remarks."

Mr. MCDUFFIE of Alabama made the point of order that Mr. LAMBERTSON did not state facts constituting a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore [Mr. WOODRUM of Virginia] sustained the point of order.

JULY 11, 1932

The SPEAKER laid before the House a message from the President of the United States vetoing the emergency relief and construction act of 1932.

Mr. RAINEY, of Illinois, moved that the message and bill be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means and ordered printed.

Whereupon Mr. CHINDBLOM of Illinois made the point of order that the question before the House has not been stated by the Speaker pro tempore. The question prescribed by the Constitution is whether the House, upon reconsideration, will pass the bill, the veto of the President to the contrary notwithstanding; and when that question has been stated, or if it may be assumed that it was stated, I desire to prefer a parliamentary inquiry whether, under the rules of the House, I may not be recognized to move upon that question the previous question, as a preferential motion under paragraph 4 of Rule XVI.

The SPEAKER pro tempore [Mr. WOODRUM] overruled the point of order.

JULY 12, 1932

The House had under consideration the amendments in disagreement in the conference report on the bill (H. R. 11897) making appropriations for the military and nonmilitary activities of the War Department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933, and for other purposes.

Mr. COLLINS moved that the House recede from its disagreement to the amendment of the Senate No. 8 and concur therein with the following amendment:

In lieu of the matter inserted by said amendment insert: Not to exceed an average of 12,000 commissioned officers up to and including September 30, 1932, and after such date up to and including June 30, 1933, of not to exceed 11,000.

Mr. GOSS made the point of order that the amendment is legislation on an appropriation bill, and therefore not in order.

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order.

JULY 15, 1932

The House had under consideration the amendments in disagreement in the conference report on the bill (H. R. 12280) to create Federal home-loan banks.

Mr. STEAGALL, of Alabama, moved that the House recede from its disagreement to the following amendment of the Senate (No. 46):

Amendment No. 46: Page 41, after line 9, insert:

Sec. 29. That notwithstanding any provisions of law prohibiting bonds of the United States from bearing the circulation privilege, for a period of three years from the date of enactment of this act all outstanding bonds of the United States heretofore issued or issued during such period, bearing interest at a rate not exceeding 3⅜ per centum per annum, shall be receivable by the Treasurer of the United States as security for the issuance of circulating notes to national banking associations, and upon the deposit with the Treasurer of the United States by a national banking association of any such bonds, such association shall be entitled to receive circulating notes in the same manner and to the same extent and subject to the same conditions and limitations now provided by law in the case of 2 per centum gold bonds of the United States bearing the circulation privilege; except that the limitation contained in section 9 of the act of July 12, 1882, as amended, with respect to the amount of lawful money which may be deposited with the Treasurer of the United States by national banking associations for the purpose of withdrawing bonds held as security for their circulating notes, shall not apply to the bonds of the United States to which the circulation privilege is extended by this section and which are held as security for such notes. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to modify, amend, or repeal any law relating to bonds of the United States which now bear the circulation privilege.

As used in this section, the word "bonds" shall not include notes, certificates, or bills issued by the United States.

There are hereby authorized to be appropriated such sums as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

and concur therein with the following amendment:

In lieu of the matter proposed to be inserted by the Senate amendment insert:

Sec. 29. (a) That notwithstanding any provisions of law prohibiting bonds of the United States from bearing the circulation privilege, for a period of three years from the date of enactment of this act, all outstanding bonds of the United States heretofore issued or issued during such period, bearing interest at a rate not exceeding 3⅜ per centum per annum, shall be receivable by the Treasurer of the United States as security for the issuance of circulating notes to national banking associations, and upon the deposit with the Treasurer of the United States by a national banking association of any such bonds, such association shall be entitled to receive circulating notes in the same manner and to the same extent and subject to the same conditions and limitations now provided by law in the case of 2 per centum gold bonds of the United States bearing the circulation privilege, except that the limitation contained in section 9 of the act of July 12, 1882, as amended, with respect to the amount of lawful money which may be deposited with the Treasurer of the United States by national banking associations for the purpose of withdrawing bonds held as security for their circulating notes, shall not apply to the bonds of the United States to which the circulation privilege is extended by this subsection and which are held as security for such notes. Nothing contained in this subsection shall be construed to modify, amend, or repeal any law relating to bonds of the United States which now bear the circulation privilege.

(b) As used in subsection (a), the word "bonds" shall not include notes, certificates, or bills issued by the United States.

(c) There are hereby authorized to be appropriated such sums as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of subsection (a).

(d) The Federal reserve act is amended by adding at the end thereof a new section to read as follows:

"Sec. 31. It is hereby declared to be the policy of the United States that the average purchasing power of the dollar as ascertained by the Department of Labor in the wholesale commodity markets for the period covering the years 1921 to 1929, inclusive, shall be restored and maintained by the control of the volume of credit and currency."

(e) The Federal Reserve Board, the Federal reserve banks, and the Secretary of the Treasury are hereby charged with the duty of making effective the policy set forth in subsection (d).

(f) Acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the terms of subsection (d) or (e) are hereby repealed.

Mr. MCFADDEN made the point of order that the subject matter of section 29 of the bill and the proposed amendment refer to distinct and different matters, and therefore the amendment is not in order.

After debate,

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order and said:

"The Chair is ready to rule. Wherever an amendment has for its purpose the accomplishment of the same results, it is germane. However different the language may be, if its ultimate object results in the same purpose, undoubtedly it is germane.

"The Chair believes that the so-called Goldsborough amendment—and he has read the debate on it—had for its purpose the increasing not only of the credit but of the currency of the country. The Members voted on it with that understanding. The Glass proposal undoubtedly has for its purpose the extension of the national bank note currency so far as the banks desire to use bonds for that purpose. So both of these propositions have for their purpose the expansion of the currency of the United States and making it less valuable in comparison with commodity prices.

"In answer to the gentleman from Massachusetts [Mr. LUCE] that the rule ought to be—and the Chair believes it ought to be as far as it can be enforced—that the House should not be surprised, and therefore no amendment ought to be considered on a wholly new subject matter, the Chair will state that that happens not to be the case in this instance. The House did discuss the Goldsborough amendment, but it has never had a chance to discuss the Glass amendment. It did vote on the Goldsborough amendment and voted 289 to 60 in favor of the Goldsborough amendment. In the opinion of the Chair, it can not be said that after the House so overwhelmingly voted in favor of the Goldsborough amendment—as the Chair stated, 289 for the amendment and only 60 against it—the House is taken by surprise.

"The Chair believes that they both have the same purpose; and although the Glass amendment would not have been in order to this bill originally in the House, having been put on in the Senate in violation of the House rules, under our rules we are compelled to consider the Senate amendment, and therefore an amendment to the Senate amendment which does not violate the rules of the House is germane; and the Chair overrules the point of order."

JULY 15, 1932

Mr. O'CONNOR, of New York, by direction of the Committee on Rules, reported the following resolution pursuant to clause 45, Rule XI (H. Res. 288):

Resolved, That all Members of the House shall have leave to extend their own remarks in the Congressional Record until the last issue of the Record of the present session.

The resolution and report were referred to the House Calendar and ordered to be printed.

Mr. O'CONNOR, of New York, by direction of the Committee on Rules, then called up said resolution, and it was put on its adoption.

Whereupon Mr. MAPES, of Michigan, made the point of order that the question of consideration should be determined before the resolution was put on its adoption.

After debate,

The SPEAKER sustained the point of order and said:

"This is the rule:

"'It shall always be in order to call up for consideration a report from the Committee on Rules (except it shall not be called up for consideration on the same day it is presented to the House, unless so determined by a vote of not less than two-thirds of the Members voting, but this provision shall not apply during the last three days of the session).'

"The second clause of the exception applies to this resolution. Unless two-thirds of the Members of the House vote in favor of considering the resolution to-day it could not be adopted to-day."

The House had under consideration the conference report on the bill (H. R. 9642) to authorize supplemental appropriations for emergency highway construction with a view to increasing employment.

Mr. TREADWAY, in the course of debate, proceeded to read certain papers.

When Mr. HOWARD made the point of order that, under the rule, Mr. TREADWAY could not read from a document.

The SPEAKER sustained the point of order.

JULY 16, 1932

Mr. TAYLOR of Colorado moved to suspend the rules and pass the joint resolution (H. J. Res. 479) making an appropriation for the Federal Home-Loan Board for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933.

Mr. O'CONNOR, of New York, made the point of order that a motion to suspend the rules is not in order except on the first and third Mondays of each month.

The SPEAKER pro tempore [Mr. MCDUFFIE, of Alabama] overruled the point of order.
