ADDRESS OF THE PRESIDENT

The Senate proceeded to the Hall of the House of Representatives for the joint assembly of the two Houses, authorized by House Concurrent Resolution 25, for the purpose of receiving a communication from the President of the United States; and

The two Houses being assembled,

The President of the United States addressed them, as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, SENATORS AND REPRESENTATIVES IN CONGRESS:

I come before you at the opening of the regular session of the Seventy-third Congress, not to make requests for special or detailed items of legislation; I come, rather, to counsel with you, who, like myself, have been selected to carry out a mandate of the whole people, in order that without partisanship you and I may cooperate to continue the restoration of our national well-being and, equally important, to build on the ruins of the past a new structure designed better to meet the present problems of modern civilization.

Such a structure includes not only the relations of industry and agriculture and finance to each other but also the effect which all of these three have on our individual citizens and on the whole people as a nation.

Now that we are definitely in the process of recovery, lines have been rightly drawn between those to whom this recovery means a return to old methods—and the number of these people is small—and those for whom recovery means a reform of many old methods, a permanent readjustment of many of our ways of thinking and therefore of many of our social and economic arrangements.

Civilization cannot go back: civilization must not stand still. We have undertaken new methods. It is our task to perfect, to improve, to alter when necessary, but in all cases to go forward. To consolidate what we are doing, to make our economic and social structure capable of dealing with modern life is the joint task of the legislative, the judicial, and the executive branches of the National Government.

Without regard to party, the overwhelming majority of our people seek a greater opportunity for humanity to prosper and find happiness. They recognize that human welfare has not increased and does not increase through mere materialism and luxury, but that it does progress through integrity, unselfishness, responsibility, and justice.

In the past few months, as a result of our action, we have demanded of many citizens that they surrender certain licenses to do as they please in their business relationships; but we have asked this in exchange for the protection which the State can give against exploitation by their fellow men or by combinations of their fellow men.

I congratulate this Congress upon the courage, the earnestness and the efficiency with which you met the crisis at the special session. It was your fine understanding of the national problem that furnished the example which the country has so splendidly followed. I venture to say that the task confronting the First Congress of 1789 was no greater than your own.

I shall not attempt to set forth either the many phases of the crisis which we experienced last March, nor the many measures which you and I undertook during the special session that we might initiate recovery and reform.

It is sufficient that I should speak in broad terms of the result of our common counsel.

The credit of the Government has been fortified by drastic reduction in the cost of its permanent agencies through the Economy Act.

With the twofold purpose of strengthening the whole financial structure and of arriving eventually at a medium of exchange which will have over the years less variable purchasing and debt-paying power for our people than that of the past, I have used the authority granted me to purchase all American-produced gold and silver and to buy additional gold in the world markets. Careful investigation and constant study prove that in the matter of foreign exchange rates certain of our sister nations find themselves so handicapped by internal and other conditions that they feel unable at this time to enter into stabilization discussion based on permanent and world-wide objectives.

The overwhelming majority of the banks, both National and State, which reopened last spring, are in sound condition and have been brought within the protection of Federal insurance. In the case of those banks which were not permitted to reopen, nearly 600 million dollars of frozen deposits are being restored to the depositors through the assistance of the National Government.

We have made great strides toward the objectives of the National Industrial Recovery Act, for not only have several millions of our unemployed been restored to work, but industry is organizing itself with a greater understanding that reasonable profits can be earned while at the same time protection can be assured to guarantee to labor adequate pay and proper conditions of work. Child labor is abolished. Uniform standards of hours and wages apply today to 95 percent of industrial employment within the field of the National Industrial Recovery Act. We seek the definite end of preventing combinations in furtherance of monopoly and in restraint of trade, while at the same time we seek to prevent ruinous rivalries within industrial groups which in many cases resemble the gang wars of the underworld and in which the real victim in every case is the public itself.

Under the authority of this Congress, we have brought the component parts of each industry together around a common table, just as we have brought problems affecting labor to a common meeting ground. Though the machinery, hurriedly devised, may need readjustment from time to time, nevertheless I think you will agree with me that we have created a permanent feature of our modernized industrial structure and that it will continue under the supervision but not the arbitrary dictation of government itself.

You recognized last spring that the most serious part of the debt burden affected those who stood in danger of losing their farms and their homes. I am glad to tell you that refinancing in both of these cases is proceeding with good success and in all probability within the financial limits set by the Congress.

But agriculture had suffered from more than its debts. Actual experience with the operation of the Agricultural Adjustment Act leads to my belief that thus far the experiment of seeking a balance between production and consumption is succeeding and has made progress entirely in line with reasonable expectations toward the restoration of farm prices to parity. I continue in my conviction that industrial progress and prosperity can only be attained by bringing the purchasing power of that portion of our population which in one form or another is dependent upon agriculture up to a level which will restore a proper balance between every section of the country and every form of work.

In this field, through carefully planned flood-control, power-development, and land-use policies in the Tennessee Valley and in other great watersheds, we are seeking the elimination of waste, the removal of poor lands from agriculture, and the encouragement of small local industries, thus furthering this principle of a better balanced national life. We recognize the great ultimate cost of the application of this rounded policy to every part of the Union. Today we are creating heavy obligations to start the work and because of the great unemployment needs of the moment. I look forward, however, to the time in the not distant future when annual appropriations, wholly covered by current revenue, will enable the work to proceed with a national plan. Such a national plan will, in a generation or two, return many times the money spent on it; more important, it will eliminate the use of inefficient tools, conserve and increase natural resources, prevent waste, and enable millions of our people to take better advantage of the opportunities which God has given our country.

I cannot, unfortunately, present to you a picture of complete optimism regarding world affairs.

The delegation representing the United States has worked in close cooperation with the other American republics assembled at Montevideo to make that conference an outstanding success. We have, I hope, made it clear to our neighbors that we seek with them future avoidance of territorial expansion and of interference by one nation in the internal affairs of another. Furthermore, all of us are seeking the restoration of commerce in ways which will preclude the building up of large favorable trade balances by any one nation at the expense of trade debits on the part of other nations.

In other parts of the world, however, fear of immediate or future aggression and with this the spending of vast sums on armament and the continued building up of defensive trade barriers prevent any great progress in peace or trade agreements. I have made it clear that the United States cannot take part in political arrangements in Europe but that we stand ready to cooperate at any time in practicable measures on a world basis looking to immediate reduction of armaments and the lowering of the barriers against commerce.

I expect to report to you later in regard to debts owed the Government and people of this country by the governments and peoples of other countries. Several nations, acknowledging the debt, have paid in small part; other nations have failed to pay. One nation—Finland—has paid the installments due this country in full.

Returning to home problems, we have been shocked by many notorious examples of injuries done our citizens by persons or groups who have been living off their neighbors by the use of methods either unethical or criminal.

In the first category—a field which does not involve violations of the letter of our laws—practices have been brought to light which have shocked those who believed that we were in the past generation raising the ethical standards of business. They call for stringent preventive or regulatory measures. I am speaking of those individuals who have evaded the spirit and purpose of our tax laws, of those high officials of banks or corporations who have grown rich at the expense of their stockholders or the public, of those reckless speculators with their own or other people's money whose operations have injured the values of the farmers' crops and the savings of the poor.

In the other category, crimes of organized banditry, cold-blooded shooting, lynching, and kidnaping have threatened our security.

These violations of ethics and these violations of law call on the strong arm of government for their immediate suppression; they call also on the country for an aroused public opinion.

The adoption of the twenty-first amendment should give material aid to the elimination of those new forms of crime which came from the illegal traffic in liquor.

I shall continue to regard it as my duty to use whatever means may be necessary to supplement State, local, and private agencies for the relief of suffering caused by unemployment. With respect to this question, I have recognized the dangers inherent in the direct giving of relief and have sought the means to provide not mere relief, but the opportunity for useful and remunerative work. We shall, in the process of recovery, seek to move as rapidly as possible from direct relief to publicly supported work and from that to the rapid restoration of private employment.

It is to the eternal credit of the American people that this tremendous readjustment of our national life is being accomplished peacefully, without serious dislocation, with only a minimum of injustice and with a great, willing spirit of cooperation throughout the country.

Disorder is not an American habit. Self-help and self-control are the essence of the American tradition—not of necessity the form of that tradition, but its spirit. The program itself comes from the American people.

It is an integrated program, national in scope. Viewed in the large, it is designed to save from destruction and to keep for the future the genuinely important values created by modern society. The vicious and wasteful parts of that society we could not save if we wished; they have chosen the way of self-destruction. We would save useful mechanical invention, machine production, industrial efficiency, modern means of communication, broad education. We would save and encourage the slowly growing impulse among consumers to enter the industrial market place equipped with sufficient organization to insist upon fair prices and honest sales.

But the unnecessary expansion of industrial plants, the waste of natural resources, the exploitation of the consumers of natural monopolies, the accumulation of stagnant surpluses, child labor, and the ruthless exploitation of all labor, the encouragement of speculation with other people's money, these were consumed in the fires that they themselves kindled: we must make sure that as we reconstruct our life there be no soil in which such weeds can grow again.

We have ploughed the furrow and planted the good seed; the hard beginning is over. If we would reap the full harvest, we must cultivate the soil where this good seed is sprouting and the plant is reaching up to mature growth.

A final personal word. I know that each of you will appreciate that I am speaking no mere politeness when I assure you how much I value the fine relationship that we have shared during these months of hard and incessant work. Out of these friendly contacts we are, fortunately, building a strong and permanent tie between the legislative and executive branches of the Government. The letter of the Constitution wisely declared a separation, but the impulse of common purpose declares a union. In this spirit we join once more in serving the American people.

JANUARY 3, 1934.

Upon the conclusion of the address, the joint meeting was dissolved; and, at 2 o'clock and 10 minutes p.m.,

The Senate returned to its Chamber.

THE BUDGET

The Vice President laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read, and, with the accompanying document, referred to the Committee on Appropriations and ordered to be printed:

To the Congress of the United States:

I transmit herewith the Budget for the year ending June 30, 1935. It contains also estimates of receipts and expenditures for the current year ending June 30, 1934, and includes statements of the financial operations or status of all governmental agencies, including the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The estimates herein given and included in the Budget have to do with general and special funds—the Government's moneys. They do not relate to trust and contributed funds, which are not Government moneys, except where expressly referred to as such.

GENERAL FINANCIAL POSITION

In my annual message to the Congress I have already summarized the problems presented by the deflationary forces of the depression, the paralyzed condition which affected the banking system, business, agriculture, transportation, and, indeed, the whole orderly continuation of the Nation's social and economic system.

I have outlined the steps taken since last March for the resumption of normal activities and the restoration of the credit of the Government.

Of necessity these many measures have caused spending by the Government far in excess of the income of the Government.

The results of expenditures already made show themselves in concrete form in better prices for farm commodities, in renewed business activity, in increased employment, in reopening of and restored confidence in banks, and in well-organized relief.

THE CURRENT FISCAL YEAR
(Ending June 30, 1934)

Exclusive of debt retirement of $488,171,500 for this year, Budget estimates of expenditures, including operating expenses of the regular Government establishments and also all expenditures which may be broadly classed as caused by the necessity for recovery from the depression will amount this year (ending June 30, 1934) to $9,403,006,967. (See Budget Statement No. 3, table A.)

This total falls in broad terms into the following classifications:

Expenditures for fiscal year ending June 30, 1934

General:
Departmental	$2,899,116,200
Legislative	17,718,500
Independent establishments	616,857,067

Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation	150,000,000
National Industrial Recovery Administration	4,250,000
Total, emergency	6,357,486,700
Total, general and emergency, less public-debt retirements	9,403,006,967

As against these expenditures, which have either been appropriated for or for which appropriations are asked, the estimated receipts for this fiscal year (ending June 30, 1934) are $3,259,938,756. (See Budget Statement No. 2, table A.)

On this basis, including, however, certain additional expenditures for 1934 which are not included in the Budget estimates but which I believe to be necessary and amounting to $1,166,000,000 as shown in a subsequent table herein, the excess of expenditures over receipts will be $7,309,068,211. Interest charges on the borrowings in excess of Budget estimates will slightly increase this figure.

On the basis of these estimates, the public debt, in the strict sense of the term, at the expiration of this fiscal year will therefore amount to approximately $29,847,000,000, or an increase as shown above of $7,309,068,211.

However, as against this increase in the total debt figure, it is right to point out that the various governmental agencies have loans outstanding with a book value of $3,558,516,189 against which collateral or assets have been pledged.

In order to make clear to the Congress what our borrowing problem is for the next 6 months, permit me to remind you that we shall have to borrow approximately 6 billion dollars of new money and, in addition, 4 billion dollars to meet maturities of a like amount.

THE FISCAL YEAR 1935
(Ending June 30, 1935)

The Budget estimates of expenditures, exclusive of debt retirement of $525,763,800, and exclusive also of such sum as may be necessary for new and extraordinary recovery purposes, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1935, amount to $3,960,798,700.

Again summarizing the main headings of these expenditures they fall into the following items:

Expenditures for fiscal year ending June 30, 1935

General:
Departmental	$3,202,074,900
Legislative	18,734,500
Independent establishments	542,466,600
	3,763,276,000
Less public-debt retirements	525,763,800
Total, general	3,237,512,200
Emergency:
Public Works Administration	1,089,883,100
Agricultural Adjustment Administration	5,000,000
Emergency conservation work	65,190,000
Reconstruction Finance Corporation	[1] 480,436,600
Tennessee Valley Authority	31,000,000
Federal land banks	12,650,000
Total emergency	723,286,500
Total, general and emergency, less public-debt retirements	3,960,798,700

It will be noted that many of these items, such as public works, fall under appropriations made in 1933, the actual expenditures not taking place until after June 30, 1934. (For details of above expenditures see Budget Statement No. 3, table A.)

The above figures do not include additional loans by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. If its loaning authority is extended beyond June 30, 1934, it is contemplated that any additional loans by it would thereafter be taken from the new and additional recovery fund hereinafter referred to.

The estimates of receipts for the next fiscal year (ending June 30, 1935), exclusive of foreign-debt payments, of increased liquor taxes, and of increased revenue flowing from amendments to the existing revenue law, amount to $3,974,665,479. (See Budget Statement No. 2, table A.)

Therefore, exclusive of debt retirement, these Budget estimates for the next fiscal year show a small surplus of $13,866,779. But it must be borne in mind that this surplus does not include any additional expenditures for extraordinary recovery purposes.

[1] Excess of credits—deduct.

It is clear that the necessity for relief and recovery will still be with us during the year 1934–35. Additional relief funds will be necessary. Further needs of the country prohibit the abrupt termination of the recovery program. No person can on this date definitely predict the total amount that will be needed, nor the itemizing of such an amount. It is my best judgment at this time that a total appropriation of not to exceed 2 billion dollars will, with the expenditures still to be made next year out of existing appropriations, be sufficient.

I shall therefore ask the Congress for appropriations approximating that amount.

This amount is not included in the Budget estimates. If appropriated and expended, therefore, it will change the small estimated surplus of 13 million dollars into a debt increase of nearly 2 billion dollars. It is only fair, of course, to say that such a debt increase would be partially offset by loans made against collateral and assets pledged.

Therefore, the total debt, if increased by the sum of 2 billion dollars during the fiscal year 1935, would amount to approximately $31,834,000,000 on June 30, 1935. It is my belief that so far as we can make estimates with our present knowledge, the Government should seek to hold the total debt within this amount. Furthermore, the Government during the balance of this calendar year should plan to bring its 1936 expenditures, including recovery and relief, within the revenues expected in the fiscal year 1936.

Let me put it another way: The excess of expenditures over receipts during this fiscal year amounts to over 7 billion dollars. My estimates for the coming fiscal year show an excess of expenditures over receipts of 2 billion dollars. We should plan to have a definitely balanced Budget for the third year of recovery and from that time on seek a continuing reduction of the national debt.

This excess of expenditures over revenues, amounting to over 9 billion dollars during 2 fiscal years, has been rendered necessary to bring the country to a sound condition after the unexampled crisis which we encountered last spring. It is a large amount, but the unmeasurable benefits justify the cost.

The following table shows expenditures and receipts for the fiscal years 1934 and 1935 as contained in the Budget, plus the additional expenditures which will be made out of additional authorizations and appropriations here recommended. It shows, also, the estimated increase in the public debt and the book value of assets held as security against loans:

	1934	1935	2-year period 1934–35
Receipts [1]	$3,259,938,756	$3,974,665,479	$7,234,604,235
Expenditures (exclusive of debt retirement):
General	2,530,720,267	2,486,768,200	5,017,488,467
Agricultural Adjustment Administration	514,800,000	750,744,000	1,265,544,000
Emergency [2]	6,357,486,700	723,286,500	7,080,773,200
	9,403,006,967	3,960,798,700	13,363,805,667
Additional expenditures from additional appropriations	1,166,000,000	2,000,000,000	3,166,000,000
Total expenditures	10,569,006,967	5,960,798,700	16,529,805,667
Increase in debt [3]	7,309,068,211	1,986,133,221	9,295,201,432
Estimated book value of assets held as security for loans			5,461,969,273

[1] These estimates of receipts are predicated on Federal Reserve Board average index of industrial production of 81 for fiscal year 1934 and of 98 for the fiscal year 1935.

[2] These include net expenditures after deducting Reconstruction Finance Corporation repayments in 1935 of $480,436,600.

[3] This figure does not include contingent liabilities such as Reconstruction Finance Corporation debentures issued to banks and other institutions.

APPROPRIATIONS

The Budget estimates of appropriations for 1935, exclusive of Agricultural Adjustment Administration benefit payments and refunds of processing taxes, but inclusive of all other appropriations for regular departments and independent establishments, including interest on the debt and debt retirement, are $2,980,293,833.60. When compared with Budget estimates of appropriations transmitted in the Budget for 1934 they show a reduction of $684,913,167.

A tabular comparative summary of receipts, estimates, appropriations, and expenditures, classified according to general and emergency items and listed by departments and under other general heads, appears in Budget Statement No. 1, table B.

TAXES

The estimates of receipts take no account of the additional revenue which may be obtained from an increase in liquor taxes and from the proposed changes in the income-tax law. Since neither of these tax measures has come before Congress as yet, no accurate estimate can be made of their yield. However, if as proposed by the Committee on Ways and Means, the tax on distilled spirits is increased from $1.10 a gallon to $2 a gallon, and the rates of tax on wines are also increased, the estimated revenue would be increased by approximately $50,000,000, assuming that consumption is not affected by additional gallonage taxes imposed by the States. Considerable additional revenue can also be secured from administrative changes in the income-tax law, which may amount to as much as $150,000,000 for a full year.

The estimates for the Post Office Department are predicated upon a continuation of the 3-cent postal rate for non-local mail. It is highly important that this rate be continued. I recommend its continuance.

ECONOMY LEGISLATION

The estimates of appropriations submitted in the Budget are predicated on the continuation of certain economy legislative provisions which I ask to be enacted and which are appended hereto. The most important is that having to do with reduction of compensation of Federal employees. It is eminently fair that, the cost of living having fallen as compared with 1928, the employees of the Government sustain some reduction in compensation. This is not inconsistent with our policy of advocating an increase in wages in industry. For wages there had fallen far beyond any reduction contemplated for Federal employees and in most grades are even now substantially below compensation paid Federal employees under the maximum reduction of 15 percent.

Among the legislative provisions appended hereto is one prohibiting automatic increases in compensation except in the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps. The personnel of these three services are engaged in a life service to their country. Some, by reason of the pay freezes, have sustained reduction in compensation of more than 25 percent. They are, therefore, in a different category from those in other governmental agencies. They should, in 1935, be released from the restrictions on automatic increases in compensation.

CONTROL

Up to now there has been no coordinated control over emergency expenditures. Today, by Executive order, I have imposed that necessary control in the Bureau of the Budget.

Heretofore, emergency expenditures have not been subject to audit by the Comptroller General of the General Accounting Office. Today I am, by Executive order, reposing in him the authority to conduct such an audit and to continue to audit each such expenditure. Hereafter, therefore, just as in the departmental expenditures, there will be, in emergency expenditures, a pre-Budget and a post-audit.

By reason of the fact that the Bureau of the Budget has had no control in the past over the various expenditures, obligations, and allotments made by the emergency organizations, the task of preparing the present Budget has been the most difficult one since the Budget and Accounting Act went into effect in 1921. These difficulties, in future years, will be substantially minimized by the control which I have established.

It is evident to me, as I am sure it is evident to you, that powerful forces for recovery exist. It is by laying a foundation of confidence in the present and faith in the future that the upturn which we have so far seen will become cumulative. The cornerstone of this foundation is the good credit of the Government.

It is, therefore, not strange nor is it academic that this credit has a profound effect upon the confidence so necessary to permit the new recovery to develop into maturity.

If we maintain the course I have outlined, we can confidently look forward to cumulative beneficial forces represented by increased volume of business, more general profit, greater employment, a diminution of relief expenditures, larger governmental receipts and repayments, and greater human happiness.

OPPRESSION OF JEWS IN GERMANY

Mr. Tydings submitted the following resolution (S. Res. 120), which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations:

Whereas the present Government of the German Reich has deprived certain groups of its citizens of many of their civil and political rights and has imposed upon them restrictions, pains, and penalties harsh and severe in nature; and

Whereas among the groups so discriminated against by said Government are the 600,000 or more Jewish citizens of the Reich; and

Whereas it is manifest that, as regards the greater number of said Jewish citizens of the Reich, the actual causes for the discriminations against them are their religious beliefs or professions and their racial origin, neither of which is a ground reasonably affecting their rights and privileges as citizens of a modern state; and

Whereas the United States has on numerous occasions interceded on behalf of oppressed minorities in other lands, especially when their oppression proceeded from or was linked with religious intolerance; and

Whereas on at least nine historic occasions, beginning in the year 1840 and continuing down to the year 1919, such intercessions have been made by the United States on behalf of Jewish citizens of states other than the United States, oppressed or persecuted by their own governments or peoples; and

Whereas this honorable record of the United States has been the subject of painstaking research on the part of Mr. Max J. Kohler, of New York, who has published its results in a pamphlet entitled "The United States and German Jewish Persecutions", in which pamphlet, on pages 34 to 42, inclusive, there appears a full account of each of these intercessions, showing that for nearly 100 years the traditional policy of the United States has been to take official and diplomatic cognizance of such invasions of human rights; and

Whereas by express treaty the German Reich stands pledged to the United States to accord to its "nationals who belong to racial, religious, or linguistic minorities" * * * "the same treatment of security in law and in fact as the other nationals." Whereas the value of such cooperation and desirability of establishing and maintaining such harmonious relations has been fully recognized by two of the world's great maritime nations, Great Britain and Japan, in each of which national maritime boards have been organized jointly by shipowners and seamen for the express purpose of securing cooperation and fostering the sea power and the maritime supremacy of the respective nations; and

Whereas cooperation and the promotion of harmonious relations between American shipowners and American seamen could be obtained by means of an American national maritime board with the following objects and purposes:

(a) The development of seamanship, skill, and efficiency;

(b) The prevention and adjustment of differences between shipowners and seamen of all ratings.

(c) The establishment, revision, and maintenance of standard rates of wages and approved conditions of employment in the merchant marine.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE GOVERNOR OF PUERTO RICO

The Presiding Officer laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read and, with the accompanying report, referred to the Committee on Territories and Insular Affairs:

To the Congress of the United States:

As required by section 12 of the act of Congress of March 2, 1917, entitled "An act to provide a civil government for Puerto Rico, and for other purposes", I transmit herewith for the information of the Congress the Thirty-third Annual Report of the Governor of Puerto Rico for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1933.

This report contains valuable information which it is believed should be available in permanent form. It has heretofore been customary for the President to recommend to the Congress the printing of the annual report of the Governor of Puerto Rico, the cost of such printing being charged against War Department appropriations. In the present case, however, due to special conditions not ordinarily obtaining, the Government of Puerto Rico has arranged to make available to the War Department a number of printed copies of the enclosed report, sufficient to meet the minimum needs of the Federal executive departments, and also to supply a limited number of copies for the requirements of the Congress. In view of these facts and of the urgent need of effecting exceptional economies at this time, the customary recommendation for the printing of the annual report of the Governor of Puerto Rico is omitted.

REPORT OF BOARD OF DIRECTORS, PANAMA RAILROAD CO.

The Vice President laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read, and, with the accompanying report, referred to the Committee on Interoceanic Canals:

To the Congress of the United States:

I transmit herewith, for the information of the Congress, the Eighty-fourth Annual Report of the Board of Directors of the Panama Rail Road Company for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1933.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

THE WHITE HOUSE, January 10, 1934.

AMERICAN NATIONAL MARITIME BOARD

The Vice President laid before the Senate a resolution coming over from a previous day, viz, the resolution (S. 122) requesting the Secretary of the Department of Commerce, the Secretary of the Department of Labor, and the Postmaster General to confer concerning the advisability of initiating an American National Maritime Board, and for other purposes.

PAYMENT OF PRINCIPAL OF FARM CREDIT BONDS

The Presiding Officer (Mr. Logan in the chair) laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read:

To the Congress:

I have already suggested to the Congress that one of our tasks, in the light of experience, is to improve and perfect previous legislation.

I now recommend that the Emergency Farm Credit Act of 1933 be amended to provide responsibility by the Government for the payment of the principal of, as well as interest on, bonds issued.

Two billion dollars of bonds were authorized. While the interest was guaranteed, the ultimate obligation of the Government for payment of the principal was not legally assumed. We should supplement what most of us frankly believe to be the moral responsibility of the Government by adding the necessary legal responsibility. The result of providing a bond on which both the principal and interest are guaranteed would be to put such bonds on a par with Treasury securities.

By setting up a corporation to issue these bonds, the important task of refinancing agricultural indebtedness can be continued on virtually a self-sustaining basis.

The Farm Credit Administration is expediting the disbursement of funds. In order that progress in making loans may be uninterrupted, I hope that the Congress will give attention to this subject as soon as possible.

It is true that technically the responsibilities of the Government will be increased by the amount of $2,000,000,000, but it seems in every way right that we thus publicly acknowledge what amounts already to a moral obligation. In any event, the securities to be offered are backed, not only by the credit of the Government, but also by physical property of very definite value.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

THE WHITE HOUSE, January 10, 1934.

Ordered, That the message be referred to the Committee on Banking and Currency and be printed.

GREAT LAKES-ST. LAWRENCE WATERWAY

The Presiding Officer laid before the Senate, as in executive session, the following message from the President of the United States, which was read:

To the Senate:

I request the consideration of ratification by the Senate of the so-called "St. Lawrence Treaty with Canada." Broad national reasons lead me, without hesitation, to advocate the treaty. There are two main considerations—navigation and power.

Canada and the United States are possessed of a natural flow of water from near the center of the continent to the ocean—a flow which throughout the greater part of its length is today available for navigation by large-size vessels. A system of locks at the eastern end of Lake Superior, a dredged channel between Lake Huron and Lake Erie, and another series of great locks between Lake Erie and Lake Ontario provide free and adequate navigation to a point well down the St. Lawrence River. From there a series of three rapids, all of them within a distance of 120 miles, now impede navigation by ocean-going vessels; but a Canadian canal already provides facilities for smaller ships. This Canadian canal now is used substantially up to its capacity.

Two of the three rapids are wholly in Canadian territory, the other is in the so-called "international section." A great power development at the Beauharnois Rapids in Canada is already nearing completion, and locks for ocean-going ships have been planned for and could readily be built at a low cost as part of the plan. This means that only two additional series of locks are required for a complete and continuous seaway from Duluth to salt water. I call your attention to the simple fact that Canada alone can, if desired, build locks at the Lachine Rapids and at the international sector, and thus provide a seaway wholly within Canadian control without treaty participation by the United States. This, however, would be a reversal of the policy of cooperation which the United States and Canada have continuously maintained for generations.

I want to make it very clear that this great international highway for shipping is without any question going to be completed in the near future, and that this completion should be carried out by both nations instead of by one.

I am sending you herewith a summary of data prepared at my request by governmental agencies. This summary, in its relation to the economic aspects of the seaway, shows from the broad national point of view, first, that commerce and transportation will be greatly benefited and, secondly, local fears of economic harm to special localities or to special interests are grossly exaggerated. It is, I believe, a historic fact that every great improvement directed to better commercial communications, whether in the case of railroads into new territory, or the deepening of great rivers, or the building of canals, or even the cutting of the Isthmus of Panama, have all been subjected to opposition on the part of local interests which conjure up imaginary fears and fail to realize that improved transportation results in increased commerce benefiting directly or indirectly all sections.

For example, I am convinced that the building of the St. Lawrence seaway will not injure the railroads or throw their employees out of work; that it will not in any way interfere with the proper use of the Mississippi River or the Missouri River for navigation. Let us be wholly frank in saying that it is better economics to send grain or other raw materials from our Northwest to Europe via the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence than it is to send them around three sides of a square—via Texas ports or the Mississippi, thence through the Gulf of Mexico, and thence from the southern end of the North Atlantic to its northern end. In this illustration it is well to remember that a straight line is the shortest distance between two points.

I am satisfied that the treaty contains adequate provision for the needs of the Chicago Drainage District and for navigation between Lake Michigan and the Mississippi River. A special report from the Chief of Engineers of the War Department covers this subject.

On the affirmative side, I subscribe to the definite belief that the completion of the seaway will greatly serve the economic and transportation needs of a vast area of the United States and should, therefore, be considered solely from the national point of view.

The other great objective provided for in the treaty relates to the development of electric power. As you know, I have advocated the development of four great power areas in the United States, each to serve as a yardstick and each to be controlled by Government or governmental agencies. The Tennessee Valley plants and projects in the Southeast, the Boulder Dam on the Colorado River in the Southwest, the Columbia River projects in the Northwest are already under construction. The St. Lawrence development in the Northeast calls for action. This river is a source of incomparably cheap power located in proximity to a great industrial and rural market and within transmission distance of millions of domestic consumers.

The Legislature of the State of New York, by unanimous vote, set up the necessary State machinery during my term as Governor of New York, and the State stands ready to cooperate with the Federal Government in the distribution of power in accordance with what I believe is today a definite national policy.

Power in the international sector of the St. Lawrence cannot be developed without a treaty between the United States and Canada. On the other hand, Canada can develop a huge block of new power at the two other rapids, which lie wholly within Canadian territory. Here again, as in the case of navigation, it is better in every way that we should maintain the historic principle of accord with Canada in the mutual development of the two Nations.

I have not stressed the fact that the starting of this great work will put thousands of unemployed to work. I have preferred to stress the great future advantages to our country, and especially the fact that all of us should view this treaty in the light of the benefits which it confers on the people of the United States as a whole.

REPORT OF NATIONAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE FOR AERONAUTICS

The Presiding Officer (Mr. Hatch in the chair) laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read and referred to the Committee on Naval Affairs:

To the Congress of the United States:

Pursuant to the act of March 3, 1915, which established the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, I submit herewith the nineteenth annual report of that committee for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1933.

The attention of the Congress is invited to the opening pages of the committee's report giving the major reasons for the recent improvements in the speed and efficiency of airplanes for military and civil uses. The principal underlying cause of this remarkable progress has been the efficient functioning of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics in coordinating and planning for the research needs of aviation, civil and military, and in conducting the necessary fundamental scientific researches to serve the needs of all agencies.

I concur in the committee's opinion that the continuous prosecution of fundamental research in aeronautics is essential to the national defense and to the future of air transportation upon a sound economic basis.

VALUATION OF THE DOLLAR

The Vice President laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read:

To the Congress:

In conformity with the progress we are making in restoring a fairer price level and with our purpose of arriving eventually at a less variable purchasing power for the dollar, I ask the Congress for certain additional legislation to improve our financial and monetary system. By making clear that we are establishing permanent metallic reserves in the possession and ownership of the Federal Government, we can organize a currency system which will be both sound and adequate.

The issuance and control of the medium of exchange which we call "money" is a high prerogative of government. It has been such for many centuries. Because they were scarce, because they could readily be subdivided and transported, gold and silver have been used either for money or as a basis for forms of money which in themselves had only nominal intrinsic value.

In pure theory, of course, a government could issue mere tokens to serve as money—tokens which would be accepted at their face value if it were certain that the amount of these tokens were permanently limited and confined to the total amount necessary for the daily cash needs of the community. Because this assurance could not always or sufficiently be given, governments have found that reserves or bases of gold and silver behind their paper or token currency added stability to their financial systems.

There is still much confusion of thought which prevents a world-wide agreement creating a uniform monetary policy. Many advocate gold as the sole basis of currency; others advocate silver; still others advocate both gold and silver whether as separate bases, or on a basis with a fixed ratio, or on a fused basis.

We hope that, despite present world confusion, events are leading to some future form of general agreement. The recent London agreement in regard to silver was a step, though only a step, in this direction.

At this time we can usefully take a further step, which we hope will contribute to an ultimate world-wide solution.

Certain lessons seem clear. For example, the free circulation of gold coins is unnecessary, leads to hoarding, and tends to a possible weakening of national financial structures in times of emergency. The practice of transferring gold from one individual to another or from the Government to an individual within a nation is not only unnecessary but is in every way undesirable. The transfer of gold in bulk is essential only for the payment of international trade balances.

Therefore it is a prudent step to vest in the government of a nation the title to and possession of all monetary gold within its boundaries and to keep that gold in the form of bullion rather than in coin.

Because the safe-keeping of this monetary basis rests with the Government, we have already called in the gold which was in the possession of private individuals or corporations. There remains, however, a very large weight in gold bullion and coins which is still in the possession or control of the Federal Reserve banks.

Although under existing law there is authority, by Executive act, to take title to the gold in the possession or control of the Reserve banks, this is a step of such importance that I prefer to ask the Congress by specific enactment to vest in the United States Government title to all supplies of American-owned monetary gold, with provision for the payment therefor in gold certificates. These gold certificates will be, as now, secured at all times dollar for dollar by gold in the Treasury—gold for each dollar of such weight and fineness as may be established from time to time.

Such legislation places the right, title, and ownership to our gold reserves in the Government itself; it makes clear the Government's ownership of any added dollar value of the country's stock of gold which would result from any decrease of the gold content of the dollar which may be made in the public interest. It would also, of course, with equal justice, cast upon the Government the loss of such dollar value if the public interest in the future should require an increase in the amount of gold designated as a dollar.

The title to all gold being in the Government, the total stock will serve as a permanent and fixed metallic reserve which will change in amount only so far as necessary for the settlement of international balances or as may be required by a future agreement among the nations of the world for a redistribution of the world stock of monetary gold.

With the establishment of this permanent policy, placing all monetary gold in the ownership of the Government as a bullion base for its currency, the time has come for a more certain determination of the gold value of the American dollar. Because of world uncertainties, I do not believe it desirable in the public interest that an exact value be now fixed. The President is authorized by present legislation to fix the lower limit of permissible revaluation at 50 percent. Careful study leads me to believe that any revaluation at more than 60 percent of the present statutory value would not be in the public interest. I, therefore, recommend to the Congress that it fix the upper limit of permissible revaluation at 60 percent.

That we may be further prepared to bring some greater degree of stability to foreign exchange rates in the interests of our people, there should be added to the present power of the Secretary of the Treasury to buy and sell gold at home and abroad, express power to deal in foreign exchange as such. As a part of this power, I suggest that, out of the profits of any devaluation, there should be set up a fund of $2,000,000,000 for such purchases and sales of gold, foreign exchange, and Government securities as the regulation of the currency, the maintenance of the credit of the Government, and the general welfare of the United States may require.

Certain amendments of existing legislation relating to the purchase and sale of gold and to other monetary matters would add to the convenience of handling current problems in this field. The Secretary of the Treasury is prepared to submit information concerning such changes to the appropriate committees of the Congress.

The foregoing recommendations relate chiefly to gold. The other principal precious metal—silver—has also been used from time immemorial as a metallic base for currencies as well as for actual currency itself. It is used as such by probably half the population of the world. It constitutes a very important part of our own monetary structure. It is such a crucial factor in much of the world's international trade that it cannot be neglected.

On December 21, 1933, I issued a proclamation providing for the coinage of our newly mined silver and for increasing our reserves of silver bullion, thereby putting us among the first nations to carry out the silver agreement entered into by 66 governments at the London Conference. This agreement is distinctly a step in the right direction and we are proceeding to perform our part of it.

All of the 66 nations agreed to refrain from melting or debasing their silver coins, to replace paper currency of small denominations with silver coins, and to refrain from legislation that would depreciate the value of silver in the world markets. Those nations producing large quantities of silver agreed to take specified amounts from their domestic production and those holding and using large quantities agreed to restrict the amount they would sell during the 4 years covered by the agreement.

If all these undertakings are carried out by the governments concerned, there will be a marked increase in the use and value of silver.

Governments can well, as they have in the past, employ silver as a basis for currency, and I look for a greatly increased use. I am, however, withholding any recommendation to the Congress looking to further extension of the monetary use of silver because I believe that we should gain more knowledge of the results of the London agreement and of our other monetary measures.

Permit me once more to stress two principles. Our national currency must be maintained as a sound currency which, insofar as possible, will have a fairly constant standard of purchasing power and be adequate for the purposes of daily use and the establishment of credit.

The other principle is the inherent right of government to issue currency and to be the sole custodian and owner of the base or reserve of precious metals underlying that currency. With this goes the prerogative of government to determine from time to time the extent and nature of the metallic reserve. I am confident that the Nation will well realize the definite purpose of the Government to maintain the credit of that Government and, at the same time, to provide a sound medium of exchange which will serve the needs of our people.

OPPRESSION OF JEWS IN GERMANY

Mr. Tydings, by unanimous consent, submitted the following resolution (S.Res. 154), which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations:

Whereas the present Government of the German Reich has deprived certain groups of its citizens of many of their civil and political rights and has imposed upon them restrictions, pains, and penalties harsh and severe in nature; and

Whereas among the groups so discriminated against by said Government are approximately 600,000 Jewish citizens of the Reich and the great number of Christians of partly or wholly Jewish descent; and

Whereas it is manifest that, as regards the Jewish citizens of the Reich and such Christians of Jewish descent, the actual causes for the discriminations against them are their religious beliefs or professions and their racial origin, neither of which is a ground reasonably affecting their rights and privileges as citizens of a modern state; and

Whereas on many historic occasions, beginning in the year 1840 and continuing down to the year 1919, intercessions have been made by the United States on behalf of citizens of states other than the United States oppressed or persecuted by their own governments or peoples, including nine separate occasions on behalf of Jews in foreign states, indicating that for nearly 100 years the traditional policy of the United States has been to take cognizance of such invasions of human rights; and

Whereas the German Reich stands pledged to the United States to accord to its "nationals who belong to racial, religious, or linguistic minorities" * * * "the same treatment and security in law and in fact as the other nationals": Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate of the United States expresses its profound feelings of surprise and pain, as representatives of the people of the United States, upon learning of the discriminations and oppression imposed by the Reich upon its minority groups, including its Jewish citizens; and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate of the United States express its earnest hope that the German Reich will speedily alter its policy, restore to its minority groups the civil and political rights of which they have been recently deprived, and undo, so far as may be, the wrongs that have been done them.

Long, United States Senator from the State of Louisiana, for the purpose of making difficult or impossible or to prevent such Senator from having fair and reasonable opportunity to present and urge, or to oppose, proposed legislation in the Congress of the United States; that said committee shall further inquire into the sums of money spent and by whom, in undertaking to accomplish the defeat of said Senator, when a candidate for the United States Senate, both in the primary and the general election of the year 1930, and the use of the mails for publications and the use of facilities in interstate commerce to spread libels against said Senator in said campaign and the use made of United States agencies to affect him and his candidacies; that said committee shall pursue its inquiry into whether Senators and Members of Congress have been libeled and defamed through the use of telegraphic wire services used in interstate commerce, through publications circulating in interstate commerce, and through the mails of the United States, and by means of interstate radio communication if said Senators and Congressmen did not make or participate in the making of statements denunciatory to the said Senator, and to defame Members of Congress who do approve of any course of conduct of the said Senator, with a view to compelling unfavorable expressions affecting said Senator; that said committee shall inquire into whether or not interstate telegraph and telephone wires, radio facilities, and periodicals and publications passing through the mails of the United States were maliciously and improperly used to extol and applaud the misconduct of agents and servants employed by the United States Senate and its committees in which they may have been in contempt of the United States Senate or otherwise improperly acting so as to reflect upon the said Senator; said committee shall inquire into whether agencies and departments of the United States have been employed and used for the purpose of harassing and embarrassing and affording means of adverse publicity and false information and information in violation of the law, to defame and injure said Senator; that said committee shall make inquiry to determine whether said publications circulating through the United States mail and interstate telephone, telegraph, and radio facilities are employed to bring discredit and prosecution upon political and business associates and relatives and other colleagues of the said Senator, with the view and for the purpose of maligning the said Senator so as to render difficult and embarrassing his pursuing his work in the Congress of the United States; that said committee shall investigate whether publicity agencies have been hired and set up in the city of New York and the city of Washington to spread false information through the use of interstate telephone and telegraph wires, through interstate radio facilities, and through publications circulating in the mails of the United States, to malign and defame the said Senator; and it shall investigate all sources of funds, if any, supporting and financing any and all such efforts, to the end and for the purpose of preventing all interstate telephone and telegraph wires, interstate radio facilities, and the mails of the United States being used for fraud and for promotion of crime and to prevent fair, reasonable, and honorable action and expression in the Congress of the United States; that said committee in pursuing its investigation to determine whether there has or has not been a conspiracy or activity involving a misuse of such interstate facilities and the mails of the United States, shall conduct its inquiry into matters touching upon expenditures and facilities used in effort to bring about impeachment and removal from office of said Huey P. Long, or his defeat to said offices, of public service commissioner, governor, and United States Senator, insofar as the same tends to show such improper use of the facilities of interstate commerce and the mails of the United States, and make inquiry into all other facts in relation to the foregoing which would not only be of public interest but which would aid the Senate in enacting any remedial legislation.

Said committee is hereby authorized to act upon its own initiative and upon such information as in its judgment may be reasonable or reliable. Upon complaint being made before said committee, under oath, by any person, persons, candidate, or political committee setting forth allegations as to facts which, under this resolution, it would be the duty of said committee to investigate, the said committee shall investigate such charges as fully as though it were acting upon its own motion, unless after a hearing upon such complaint, the committee shall find that the allegations in said complaint are immaterial or untrue.

of the steel code and report the result thereof to the Senate as soon as practicable, showing:

First, the practice of the steel industry under the code with reference to price fixing, the increase of price of steel products, and such other matters as would give a full presentation of facts touching the industry since it went under the N.R.A. code.

INVESTIGATION OF CONDITIONS IN THE DAIRY INDUSTRY

Mr. McCarran, by unanimous consent, submitted the following resolution (S.Res. 168), which was referred to the Committee on Agriculture and Forestry:

Whereas on the 15th day of May 1933, Senate Resolution 76, Seventy-third Congress, first session, was agreed to, authorizing and directing the Committee on the District of Columbia, or any duly authorized subcommittee thereof, to investigate conditions with respect to the sale and distribution of milk, cream, ice cream, and other dairy products within the District of Columbia with a view to determining particularly whether any individual, partnership, or corporation, residing in the District of Columbia or elsewhere, was operating in restraint of trade or commerce, or was in any way monopolizing the dairy industry within the District of Columbia; and

Whereas, pursuant to said resolution, an investigation was held by a duly authorized subcommittee of the Committee on the District of Columbia and many witnesses were heard, including representatives of both producers and distributors; and

Whereas the testimony adduced at the hearings held in pusuance to the resolution aforesaid abundantly sustains the contention that over a period of years the producers of milk in the District of Columbia milk shed have been receiving far less than the cost of production, due to attempts by large distributors to monopolize the milk market within the District of Columbia; and

Whereas the testimony so adduced further tends to prove that this condition is not confined to the District of Columbia milk shed, but likewise exists in all the principal milk sheds in the United States; and

Whereas such testimony tends to substantiate complaints received from other localities to the effect that competition in trade in dairy products has likewise been stifled and that the cost to the consumer of such dairy products exceeds the cost to the producer by more than a fair margin of profit to the producer; and

Whereas such testimony tends also to establish that the sale of dairy products in the District of Columbia milk shed and the milk sheds of the principal cities of the country has been monopolized by large holding companies; and

Whereas such testimony tends also to show that the said holding companies are continuing to merge and consolidate in order further to monopolize and control the milk markets of this country; and

Whereas the continuation of the practices now engaged in by these large milk holding companies will in the end destroy the already sorely pressed agrarian populace: Therefore be it

Resolved, That a special committee consisting of five Senators, to be appointed by the President of the Senate, is authorized and directed to investigate conditions with respect to the sale and distribution of milk, cream, ice cream, and other dairy products within the territorial limits of the United States by any individual, partnership, association, or corporation with a view to determining particularly whether any such individual, partnership, association, or corporation is operating within any milk shed of the United States in such a manner as to substantially lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly in the sale or distribution of such dairy products, or is a party to any conspiracy in restraint of trade or commerce in any such dairy products, or is in any way monopolizing or attempting to monopolize such trade or commerce within the United States or any part thereof, or is using any unfair method of competition in connection with the sale or distribution of any such dairy products. The committee shall report to the Senate as soon as practicable the result of its investigations, together with its recommendations, if any, for necessary remedial legislation.

For the purposes of this resolution the committee, or any duly authorized subcommittee thereof, is authorized to hold such hearings, to sit and act at such times and places during the sessions and recesses of the Senate in the Seventy-third Congress and succeeding Congresses until the final report is submitted, to require by subpena or otherwise the attendance of such witnesses and the production of such books, papers, and documents, to administer such oaths, to take such testimony, and to make such expenditures as it deems advisable. The cost of stenographic services to report such hearings shall not be in excess of 25 cents per hundred words. The expenses of the committee, which shall not exceed $100,000, shall be paid from the contingent fund of the Senate upon vouchers approved by the chairman.

To the PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE:

I beg to report that, pursuant to the instructions contained in the warrant of arrest issued on February 2, 1934, by the President of the Senate to the Sergeant at Arms, I took into custody in this city, at 5:50 o'clock p.m., on said day, William P. MacCracken, together with certain correspondence, memorandums, books, files, and records, and I now bring the said William P. MacCracken to the bar of the Senate. Frank J. Hogan, Esq., counsel for the said William P. MacCracken, having given his personal bond for the appearance of the latter before the bar of the Senate, which said bond is hereto attached, I permitted the said William P. MacCracken to remain meanwhile in the technical custody of his counsel. The said correspondence, memorandums, books, files, and records are now in my custody. I submit herewith the original warrant of arrest, with my return.

CHESLEY W. JURNEY,
Sergeant at Arms, United States Senate.

CONTEMPT PROCEEDINGS AGAINST WILLIAM P. M'CRACKEN AND OTHERS

Mr. Black, from the Special Committee on Investigation of Air Mail and Ocean Mail Contracts, submitted the following additional report (Rept. no. 254, pt. 2):

To the President of the Senate and to the United States Senate:

Your committee appointed under Senate Resolution No. 349, Seventy-second Congress, asks to make this further partial report in connection with the performance of its duties under the resolution in addition to the previous report, no. 254, made February 2, 1934:

1. Subsequent to the service of subpena upon William P. MacCracken, Jr., as set forth in Report No. 254 to this Senate, made on February 2, 1934, the committee issued a subpena duces tecum to Col. L. H. Brittin and to Gilbert Givvin, copies of which subpenas are hereto attached, marked "Exhibits A and B."

2. On February 3, 1934, the committee met in room 318, Senate Office Building, and Col. L. H. Brittin and Gilbert Givvin appeared before the committee and testified.

3. The evidence of Gilbert Givvin showed in substance that the said Gilbert Givvin is an employee of the Western Air Express, Inc., and that Harris M. Hanshue is an officer of the Western Air Express, Inc.; that after service of the subpena duces tecum upon William P. MacCracken, Jr., as shown in report 254, the said William P. MacCracken, Jr., sent a telegram to Harris M. Hanshue, as follows:

"I have today been subpenaed to produce before the Black Committee all papers, memoranda, correspondence, maps, copies of telegrams relating to air and ocean mail contracts. Insofar as these involve confidential communications between us as attorney and client, I have felt it my duty to assert, and I have asserted, the privilege which the law places around such communications. The privilege may be waived only by you as client. The committee has requested me to inquire whether you desire to waive this privilege and authorize me to make these documents available to the committee investigators. Please wire your decision.

"(Signed) WILLIAM P. MACCRACKEN, JR."

4. That after said telegram had been sent to said Harris M. Hanshue and received by him and after the said William P. MacCracken, Jr., had declined to produce his papers, memoranda, maps, correspondence, and telegrams related to air mail and ocean mail contracts before your special committee, the said Harris M. Hanshue communicated with Gilbert Givvin and directed him to proceed to the office of William P. MacCracken, Jr., and remove from the files of the said William P. MacCracken, Jr., certain papers, memoranda, or correspondence contained in the files then under subpena of your committee. That thereafter the said Gilbert Givvin went to the office of William P. MacCracken, Jr., and did remove letters, telegrams, papers, and memoranda from the files of such papers contained in the "Western Air" file and did send such letters, telegrams, papers, and memoranda to another employee of the Western Air Express named Voorhes, addressing the same to the said Voorhes at The Essex House, New York City, which hotel was the New York living address of the said Voorhes and the said Harris M. Hanshue.

5. That after said files had been removed from the office of William P. MacCracken, Jr., the said Harris M. Hanshue sent a telegram to William P. MacCracken, Jr., and sent a copy of such telegram to the chairman of this committee, stating that the Western Air Express, Inc., had no objection to the committee inspecting all papers in the Western Air Express, Inc., files in the William P. MacCracken, Jr., office.

6. That on the 2d day of February 1934, the said Harris M. Hanshue sent a certain file of papers to Washington by the said Voorhes, which papers were turned over to the said Gilbert Givvin and which purported to be the letters, telegrams, and memoranda removed from the files of the said William P. MacCracken, Jr., but all of which were not identified by the said Gilbert Givvin before the committee as being the identical papers taken from the files of the office of William P. MacCracken, Jr. The evidence of the said Gilbert Givvin revealed that the said Harris M. Hanshue before directing Givvin to remove such papers told the said Givvin that the Senate committee was seeking the papers, memoranda, correspondence, maps, and copies of telegrams in the files of MacCracken and that he, the said Hanshue, wanted certain papers removed therefrom.

7. The said Gilbert Givvin further testified before your committee on February 3, 1934, that he did not actually or physically remove any part of the papers, memoranda, maps, correspondence, and telegrams set forth in the subpena of the said William P. MacCracken, Jr., but that said William P. MacCracken had said files in his own possession and made a decision as to which of said papers, memoranda, correspondence, and telegrams should be removed, and he, the said MacCracken, did actually remove said papers from the files himself and turn them over to the said Gilbert Givvin to be taken away from MacCracken's office and to be delivered to the said Hanshue.

8. On the 3d day of February 1934, Col. L. H. Brittin likewise appeared before your special committee and admitted that after he had received information that the Senate committee had served a subpena upon William P. MacCracken, Jr., to produce all of his papers, memoranda, correspondence, maps, and copies of telegrams, as shown in exhibit A of the report no. 254, made to this Senate; he, the said Col. L. H. Brittin, went to the office of William P. MacCracken, Jr., and removed from the files of the Northwest Airways, Inc., in said William P. MacCracken, Jr.'s office, certain letters and correspondence contained in such files.

30108—s J—73-2——6

At the time of such removal and prior thereto said L. H. Brittin was an officer of the Northwest Airways, Inc. The said L. H. Brittin admitted that after removing said correspondence he took it with him to his own office and there tore it into pieces and threw it into the waste-paper basket, and that it cannot now be obtained.

9. The said L. H. Brittin stated that he secured the said files in the office of William P. MacCracken, Jr., from his law partner, one Frederic P. Lee, who willingly delivered them to the said L. H. Brittin at said time and place. The claim made by the said L. H. Brittin before the Senate committee was that he had certain correspondence in these files of a personal and confidential nature and that he did not want it made public through the Senate committee, but since the correspondence has already been destroyed the committee is unable to prove the truth or falsity of this statement from the correspondence itself.

After said correspondence was destroyed by the said L. H. Brittin, he testified that he then gave his consent for the Northwest Airways, Inc., files to be inspected by the Senate committee.

The correspondence, papers, memoranda, and telegrams in the files of the said William P. MacCracken, Jr., constituted material and pertinent evidence for the committee to consider in connection with its investigation and recommendations for legislation concerning ocean mail and air mail Government contracts.

For the further information of the Senate there is attached hereto a stenographic report of the evidence before your committee, given by William P. MacCracken, Jr., L. H. Brittin, Gilbert Givvin, and J. A. Bradley. There is also presented to the Senate in a sealed envelop the letters, memorandums, and papers produced by Gilbert Givvin purporting to be the papers removed from said William P. MacCracken, Jr.'s files and sent to S. W. Voorhes.

Your committee believes that it is proper to report the foregoing facts to the Senate in order that the Seante may determine whether or not any action shall be taken by the Senate with a view to proceding against the said William P. MacCracken, Jr., Harris M. Hanshue, L. H. Brittin, Frederic P. Lee, and Gilbert Givvin in the nature of a proceeding for contempt or otherwise, or for such other and appropriate action as the Senate may deem it proper to take.

Respectfully submitted.

Pending debate,

Mr. McCarran submitted the following resolution (S.Res. 172):

ORGANIZATION AND ACTIVITIES OF BUSINESS REORGANIZATION COMMITTEES

Mr. McCarran submitted the following concurrent resolution (S.Con.Res. 8), which was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary:

Whereas the present national economic crisis has resulted in an emergency due to an abnormal decline of business enterprise and a corresponding decrease in the market value of real estate and other collateral securing issues of stocks, bonds, and mortgage notes; and

Whereas all such issues so secured were originally made in conformity with State laws regulating, defining, and restricting the pledging of collateral as security for such issues; and

Whereas great numbers of American people invested their life savings in such issues in reliance upon the protection guaranteed by incorporation act and acts regulating the issuance of securities; and

Whereas the economic situation has resulted in a "freezing" of the assets of many enterprises financed by such issues, resulting in a suspension of dividend and interest payments and a general depreciation in the market value of collateral pledged for such issues; and

Whereas in a great majority of such enterprises minority groups controlling large blocks of securities have organized "liquidating", "bondholders'", "reorganization", or "trust" committees, and have solicited proxies from minority stockholders and bondholders for the stated purpose of liquidating or refinancing defaulted issues, or otherwise reducing or reorganizing the capital structure of the enterprise; and

Whereas such committees have caused, through hasty liquidation, doubtful adjustment and questionable insolvency proceedings, the loss of much, if not all, of the investment of holders of a security interest in such enterprise; and

Whereas these methods of hasty liquidation through the medium of such committees are matters of tremendous disproportionate expense and result in bewilderment to the average small investor in such enterprises: Therefore be it

Resolved by the Senate (the House of Representatives concurring), That there is hereby established a joint committee of the Congress to be composed of four Senators, to be appointed by the President of the Senate, and three Members of the House of Representatives, to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives. The committee is authorized and directed to make a general study of the organization and activities of reorganization committees, known as "liquidating", "bondholders'", "reorganization", or "trust" committees, organized by minority groups controlling large blocks of securities of business enterprises, with a view to determining particularly the desirability of such reorganization committees and the integrity of the members thereof. The committee shall report to the Congress, as soon as practicable, the results of its studies, together with its recommendations for necessary legislation.

For the purposes of this resolution the committee, or any duly authorized subcommittee thereof, is authorized to hold such hearings, to sit and act at such times and places during the sessions and recesses of the Senate in the Seventy-third Congress, to employ such clerical and other assistants, to require by subpena or otherwise the attendance of such witnesses and the production of such books, papers, and documents, to administer such oaths, to take such testimony, and to make such expenditures as it deems advisable. The cost of stenographic services to report such hearings shall not be in excess of 25 cents per hundred words. The expenses of the committee, which shall not exceed $25,000, shall be paid from the contingent fund of the Senate, upon vouchers approved by the chairman.

No Senator shall be appointed upon said committee from a State in which a Senator is to be elected at the general election in November 1934.

The investigation hereby provided for, in all the respects above enumerated, shall apply to candidates and contests before primaries and conventions and the contests and campaign terminating in the general election in November 1934: Provided, That where complaint in writing, supported by affidavit of probable cause upon information and belief by any candidate of any party, or his authorized manager, is filed at least 20 days before the date of the primary or convention, the committee or duly authorized subcommittee shall immediately investigate the charges made in the complaint.

Said committee is hereby authorized to act upon its own initiative and upon such information as in its judgment may be reasonable or reliable. Upon complaint being made before said committee under oaths by any person, persons, candidate, or political committee, setting forth allegations as to facts which under this resolution it would be the duty of said committee to investigate, the said committee shall investigate such charges as fully as though it were acting upon its own motion, unless, after a hearing upon said complaint, the committee shall find that the allegations in said complaint are immaterial or untrue.

Said committee is hereby authorized, in the performance of its duties, to sit at such times and places, either in the District of Columbia or elsewhere, as it deems necessary or proper. It is specifically authorized to require the attendance of witnesses by subpena or otherwise; to require the production of books, papers, and documents; to employ counsel, experts, and clerical and other assistants; and to employ stenographers at a cost not exceeding 25 cents per 100 words.

Said committee is hereby specifically authorized to act through any subcommittee authorized to be appointed by said committee. The chairman of said committee or any member of any subcommittee may administer oaths to witnesses and sign subpenas for witnesses; and every person duly summoned before said committee, or any subcommittee thereof, who refuses or fails to obey the process of said committee or who appears and refuses to answer questions pertinent to said investigation shall be punished as prescribed by law.

The expenses of said investigation, not exceeding in the aggregate $25,000, shall be paid from the contingent fund of the Senate on vouchers signed by the chairman of the committee or the chairman of any subcommittee.

All hearings before said committee shall be public, and all orders or decisions of the committee shall be public.

Mr. Black submitted the following order, which was considered and agreed to:

Ordered, That in the matter of William P. MacCracken, Jr., L. H. Brittin, Gilbert Givvin, and Harris M. Hanshue, on an order to show cause, the mode of procedure and rules shall be as follows:

When the respondents shall present themselves at the bar of the Senate in obedience to the order of February 5, 1934, the Presiding Officer shall address them as follows:

" ---------- ----------
" ---------- ----------
" ---------- ----------
" ---------- ----------

"You have been brought before the Senate, by its order, to show cause why you should not be punished for contempt of the Senate on account of the destruction and removal of certain papers, files, and memoranda from the files of William P. MacCracken, Jr., after a subpena requiring the production of such papers, files, and memoranda had been served upon William P. MacCracken, Jr., as shown by the report of the Special Committee on Investigation of Air Mail and Ocean Mail Contracts."

The clerk shall then read Senate Report 254, Seventy-third Congress, second session, parts 1 and 2, submitted February 2 and 5, 1934, respectively, and Senate Resolution 172, agreed to February 5, 1934; after which the Presiding Officer shall address to each of the respondents the following question:

"Have you anything to say in excuse or extenuation of your connection with or participation in the matters described in such report and resolution?"

If the respondents shall answer, or fail to answer, they shall continue at the bar of the Senate until all the testimony in the proceedings (if any be adduced) shall be closed and then they shall retire while the Senate in closed executive session deliberates on the case; and when a decision is agreed upon the respondents shall, being previously notified of the time by the Sergeant at Arms or by a written notice left at their office or residence, appear at the bar of the Senate, in open session, and the Presiding Officer shall pronounce to them the decision.

The respondents shall be allowed the assistance of counsel while personally attending at the bar of the Senate, who, subject to the limitations hereinafter set forth, may be heard with respect to any matters charged against said respondents.

Counsel shall be limited to examination of respondents and other witnesses and to argument.

The respondents shall be permited to summon such witnesses to testify to matters pertinent to the issue as the Senate may think proper.

Counsel for the respondents and members of the Special Committee on Investigation of Air Mail and Ocean Mail Contracts shall be permitted to question respondents and witnesses orally; but no question shall be put by or at the request of any Senator not a member of the committee until completion of the examination by counsel and members of the committee, or by counsel if a witness is called by the Senate, until completion of the examination by the members of the committee.

After the completion of such examination by counsel and the members of the committee, if a Senator other than a member of the committee wishes a question to be put to a respondent or witness the question shall be reduced to writing and put by the Presiding Officer, but if any question put or any testimony offered shall be objected to by any member of the committee or by counsel, the member of the committee or counsel so objecting shall be heard briefly thereon and counsel or any member of the committee shall be heard briefly in reply thereto, after which the matter shall be decided by the Presiding Officer without further debate, unless a Senator or counsel shall ask that a formal vote be taken thereon, in which case it shall be submitted to the Senate for decision; or the Presiding Officer may at his option in the first instance submit any such question to a vote of the Senate.

Counsel for the respondents and Members of the Senate shall, subject to the foregoing limitations, have full opportunity to examine, cross-examine, and reexamine any respondent or witness with respect to any matter raised by any question.

All testimony shall be taken on oath or affirmation.

In all particulars not covered by the foregoing, the proceedings shall be governed by the Standing Rules of the Senate.

RELIEF OF SUGAR INDUSTRY

The Vice President laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read:

To the Congress:

Steadily increasing sugar production in the continental United States and in insular regions has created a price and marketing situation prejudicial to virtually everyone interested. Farmers in many areas are threatened with low prices for their beets and cane, and Cuban purchases of our goods have dwindled steadily as her shipments of sugar to this country have declined.

There is a school of thought which believes that sugar ought to be on the free list. This belief is based on the high cost of sugar to the American consuming public.

The annual gross value of the sugar crop to American beet and cane growers is approximately $60,000,000. Those who believe in the free importation of sugar say that the 2 cents a pound tariff is levied mostly to protect this $60,000,000 crop and that it costs our consuming public every year more than $200,000,000 to afford this protection.

I do not at this time recommend placing sugar on the free list. I feel that we ought first to try out a system of quotas with the threefold object of keeping down the price of sugar to consumers, of providing for the retention of beet and cane farming within our continental limits, and also to provide against further expansion of this necessarily expensive industry.

Consumers have not benefited from the disorganized state of sugar production here and in the insular regions. Both the import tariff and cost of distribution, which together account for the major portion of the consumers' price for sugar, have remained relatively constant during the past 3 years.

This situation clearly calls for remedial action. I believe that we can increase the returns to our own farmers, contribute to the economic rehabilitation of Cuba, provide adequate quotas for the Philippines, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands, and at the same time prevent higher prices to our own consumers.

The problem is difficult but can be solved if it is met squarely and if small temporary gains are sacrificed to ultimate general advantage.

The objective may be attained most readily through amendment of existing legislation. The Agricultural Adjustment Act should be amended to make sugar beets and sugarcane basic agricultural commodities. It then will be possible to collect a processing tax on sugar, the proceeds of which will be used to compensate farmers for holding their production to the quota level. A tax of less than one-half cent per pound would provide sufficient funds.

Consumers need not and should not bear this tax. It is already within the Executive power to reduce the sugar tariff by an amount equal to the tax. In order to make certain that American consumers shall not bear an increased price due to this tax, Congress should provide that the rate of the processing tax shall in no event exceed the amount by which the tariff on sugar is reduced below the present rate of import duty.

By further amendment to the Agricultural Adjustment Act, the Secretary of Agriculture should be given authority to license refiners, importers, and handlers to buy and sell sugar from the various producing areas only in the proportion which recent marketings of such areas bear to total United States consumption. The average marketings of the past 3 years provide on the whole an equitable base, but the base period should be flexible enough to allow slight adjustments as between certain producing areas.

The use of such a base would allow approximately the following preliminary and temporary quotas:

	Short tons
Continental beets	1,450,000
Louisiana and Florida	260,000
Hawaii	935,000
Puerto Rico	821,000
Philippine Islands	1,037,000
Cuba	1,944,000
Virgin Islands	5,000
Total	6,452,000

The application of such quotas would immediately adjust market supplies to consumption, and would provide a basis for reduction of production to the needs of the United States market.

Furthermore, in the negotiations for a new treaty between the United States and Cuba to replace the existing commercial convention, which negotiations are to be resumed immediately, favorable consideration will be given to an increase in the existing preferential on Cuban sugars, to an extent compatible with the joint interests of the two countries.

In addition to action made possible by such legislative and treaty changes, the Secretary of Agriculture already has authority to enter into codes and marketing agreements with manufacturers which would permit savings in manufacturing and distributing costs. If any agreements or codes are entered into, they should be in such form as to assure that producers and consumers share in the resulting savings.

CONTEMPT PROCEEDINGS AGAINST WILLIAM P. M'CRACKEN AND OTHERS

The Sergeant at Arms appeared and made the following report:

To the PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE:

I beg to report that, pursuant to the instructions contained in the order issued on February 5, 1934, by the President of the Senate to the Sergeant at Arms, I made service of the citation therein contained on William P. MacCracken, Jr., L. H. Brittin, Gilbert Givvin, and Harris M. Hanshue on said day, and said persons are now present in response to such citation, with the exception of William P. MacCracken, Jr., who has addressed a communication to the Senate of the United States, which is now on the desk of the Vice President.

CHESLEY W. JURNEY,
Sergeant at Arms, United States Senate.

The Vice President laid before the Senate the communication from William P. MacCracken, Jr., referred to in the foregoing report of the Sergeant at Arms, which was read and ordered to be printed, as follows:

WASHINGTON, D.C., February 9, 1934.

To the Senate of the United States:

On February 6, 1934, I received from the Sergeant at Arms of your honorable body a citation to appear before the bar of the Senate on this 9th day of February 1934 to show cause why I should not be punished for contempt of the Senate on account of the alleged destruction and removal of certain papers from my files after a subpena had been served upon me, "as shown by the report of the Special Senate Committee Investigating Ocean and Air Mail Contracts."

I have the greatest respect for the Senate of the United States and would not knowingly or intentionally commit any act in contempt of its constitutional rights and powers. I am constrained, however, to deny the constitutional right of your honorable body to compel the attendance before its bar of a private citizen of the United States to there show cause why he should not be punished for an alleged past and completed act.

The Supreme Court of the United States has distinctly held that while each House of the Congress has implied power to deal directly with contempt so far as is necessary to preserve and exercise the legislative authority expressly granted, this being a power of self-preservation, a means and not an end, the power does not extend to infliction of punishment as such. It is, the highest judicial tribunal of our Nation has held, a power to prevent acts which in and of themselves inherently prevent or obstruct the discharge of legislative duty and to compel the doing of those things which are essential to the performance of the legislative functions. That Court has clearly announced the constitutional principle that punishment for completed acts is exclusively a judicial function and not a legislative one.

To appear at the bar of the Senate in response to the above-mentioned citation would be to give assent to the exercise by your honorable body of powers which do not constitutionally belong to it and to voluntarily aid in permitting it to violate rights guaranteed to me as a citizen of the United States under the Constitution of my country. This I respectfully decline to do.

On January 31, 1934, the Senate Committee on Ocean and Air Mail Contracts, by its subpena, commanded me to appear before it "instanter" and to "bring all books of account, bank pass books, canceled checks, check stubs, deposit slips, papers, memoranda, correspondence, maps, copies of telegrams relating to air mail and ocean mail contracts."

Compliant to that subpena I appeared before your committee on the date of its issue, and on that date I produced and made available to said committee to the best of my ability, knowledge, information, and belief, all papers in my possession in any way relating to air mail and ocean mail contracts, except those which under the law, as I understood it and as I was advised respecting it by counsel whom I had consulted, I was not lawfully at liberty to produce, because of the privilege which attached to them as communications between attorney and clients.

I made known to your committee the privilege of my clients in good faith, and I repeat, after having sought advice of counsel who at the time had no connection with or interest in the clients of mine whose papers were concerned.

I made known to your committee the name of every client of mine who had air mail contracts, and the fact that I had no clients who, known to me, had ocean mail contracts. At the committee's request, immediately following my appearance before it, I communicated with all of my clients who were concerned, by telegraph, informed them of the subpena, told them that the committee had requested me to inquire whether they waived their privilege and authorized me to make the documents available to the committee, and asked for telegraphic advice of their decision. The telegrams thus sent to my clients were, before they were sent, submitted to your committee's chairman and by him approved. A true copy of said telegrams appears in the record of the proceedings before your committee on February 2, 1934.

On February 1, 1934, I again communicated by telegraph to such of my clients as had not promptly responded to my first telegram, and urged them to expedite their decision and their advice to me with respect to their waiving the privilege referred to. A copy of this second telegram also appears in the record of your committee's proceedings of the 2d instant.

I recognize the power and right of your committee to issue the above-mentioned subpena and to compel my attendance before the committee as a witness, and to compel the production of relevant and material documents, to the extent that I could lawfully produce them without my clients' consent.

Late in the afternoon of February 2, 1934, the Sergeant at Arms of the Senate took me into custody, compliant to the command of an order or warrant issued by the President of the Senate directed to its Sergeant at Arms, pursuant to Senate Resolution 169 of this session. When said warrant was served the Senate had adjourned to reconvene on Monday, February 5, at noon, and my appearance at that time under said warrant was arranged for.

Immediately prior to the service of that warrant I had received from all of my above-mentioned clients waivers of their privilege and consent to the production by me of all papers in my possession relating to their air mail contracts. Had those waivers and consents not been communicated to me, I would not have been lawfully able to comply with the commands of the aforesaid warrant and would have sought release from arrest thereunder by judicial process. The privilege having been waived and no lawful reason being any longer in existence to require my declining to produce any document called for in the aforesaid subpena and warrant, I produced all of the same, to the best of my ability, knowledge, and belief, under the subpena's command, and they were taken into the custody of your Sergeant at Arms under the pretended authority of the aforesaid warrant.

The Senate's warrant of February 2, 1934, quoting Resolution 169, adopted that date, set forth that "the appearance and testimony and correspondence, records, files, and books" called for by the committee's subpena "are material and necessary in order that the committee may properly execute the functions imposed upon it, and obtain information necessary as a basis for such legislation as the Senate may deem necessary." And the command of the warrant was that I be brought before the bar of the Senate, together with "the correspondence, memoranda, books, files, and records referred to, and then and there to answer such questions pertinent to the matter under inquiry with reference to facts regarding correspondence, memoranda, books, and files as the Senate may propound."

The privilege above referred to having been waived by those who alone had the power to waive it, I recognized that the legislative purpose declared by and the inquiries sought to be had as set forth in the above-quoted portions of the Senate's warrant were within the constitutional power of your honorable body, and I was ready to appear and to submit to whatever examination the Senate deemed appropriate in the premises.

I do not deny, but freely concede, the right and power of the Senate, or its committees thereunto authorized, to compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of pertinent testimony, and the production of material documents. Likewise, and as freely, I concede the Senate's power to commit a recalcitrant witness to custody until, but no longer than, he agrees to, and does, testify or produce documents as lawfully required.

With the assistance of counsel I had prepared, and was ready to deliver to the Senate at its bar on the 5th instant, the following response:

WASHINGTON, D.C., February 5, 1934.

STATEMENT OF WILLIAM P. M'CRACKEN, JR., TO THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES IN RESPONSE TO WARRANT OF FEBRUARY 2, 1934

MR. PRESIDENT: As stated in the report of your committee appointed under Senate Resolution No. 349, Seventy-second Congress, second session, there was served on me January 31, 1934, subpena, copy of which is attached to the committee's report, marked "Exhibit A", which copy is printed on page 875 of the Congressional Record, proceedings of February 2, 1934.

In response to that subpena I appeared as a witness before the Senate Committee on Ocean Mail and Air Mail Contracts and offered to produce for the examination and use of that committee all documents in my possession relating to ocean and air mail contracts which, under the law, as I understand it, I was then at liberty to produce.

I am an attorney at law; as such I was retained by several corporations having contracts with the United States for the carriage of mail by airplanes. Among the papers relating to air mail contracts in my possession were communications from my clients to me. I understand the law to be that an attorney cannot produce or disclose any communication relating to the matter in connection with which he is employed made to him by a client. I understand further that this is not a privilege of the attorney but a restriction upon him; that the privilege belongs exclusively to the client. I respectfully so informed the committee. At the committee's request I communicated with all of my clients concerned by telegraph, informed them of the subpena, told them the committee had requested me to inquire whether they waived their privilege and authorized me to make the documents available to the committee, and asked for telegraphic advice of their decision. The telegrams thus sent to my clients were, before they were sent, submitted to your committee's chairman and by him approved.

My files were not subpenaed. Nor were my office files. Nor was any subpena issued for all of the papers in, or the entire contents of, my files. I have no such thing in my office as an air mail or ocean mail contract file. Folders in my firm's files which pertain to the business of clients who have or have had air mail contracts frequently contain papers in no way relating to the subject of such contracts. Before replying to my request for instructions regarding the production of papers relating to air mail contracts, which the committee's subpena called for, three of my clients requested an opportunity to examine the files containing such papers.

One of these requests did not come to me and I had no knowledge of it until after it had been made and acted upon by my partner. As to each of these requests the facts are as follows:

1. One made by Col. L. H. Brittin, of the Northwest Airways, Inc., did not come to me, nor did I have any knowledge of it until after it had been made and acted upon. Colonel Brittin had used my firm's office last summer for his own purposes and had, while there, I am informed, dictated several personal letters, which, I am further informed, had no relation to air mail and ocean mail contracts. I have no personal knowledge respecting such papers and therefore speak of them on information. Before answering the above-referred-to request Colonel Brittin requested my partner to permit him to look at the files, and, I am told, took therefrom his personal papers, which were in no way affected by or subject to the Senate committee's subpena.

2. Mr. Harris M. Hanshue, president of the Western Air Express, was sent one of the telegraphic requests to which I have referred. Before giving his consent to the production of papers relating to aid mail contracts, he informed me, by telephone, that he intended to send his secretary to my office to look over the papers in our files and to obtain therefrom some purely personal papers of his. Subsequent to that telephone message, Mr. Gilbert Givvin, Mr. Hanshue's secretary, telephoned me that he was coming to my office pursuant to Mr. Hanshue's instructions. He came and I saw him personally. I produced for him the files and he took therefrom certain papers. At a hearing before your committee on the 2d instant I informed the committee that I would use my best efforts to have those papers returned, and they have since, I am informed, all been produced by Mr. Givvin and delivered to your committee. Through inadvertence, and without my knowledge, I have been informed, since the 2d instant, some papers, the contents of which do relate to air mail contracts, were included among the papers taken by Mr. Givvin as personal papers of Mr. Hanshue. These and, I am informed and believe, all papers which Mr. Givvin took from my office are, I repeat, now in the possession of your committee. Immediately after my appearance before the committee on the 2d I exerted, as I promised the committee I would do, my best efforts to have those papers returned.

3. Mr. Francis Scheetz, general counsel of the Ludington Air Lines, Inc., one of the companies to whom I sent the above-referred-to telegram, informed me that he felt that his duty to his client required that he should inspect the papers relating to his client before giving his advice as to whether the company should or should not waive its privilege in connection with those papers. Mr. Scheetz came to my office for that purpose on the 2d instant. He did not, however, inspect any of the papers in my office and his company has consented to their production.

Prior to the presentation to the Senate of the committee's report on February 2 I had received waiver of their privilege from 5 of 9 clients concerned; had communicated that fact to the committee; had produced all documents comprehended within the description of the committee's subpena, under that subpena, which concerned the clients who had waived their privilege and consented to such production; and had communicated with the four clients who had not answered my earlier telegrams urging them to expedite their decision and instructions to me.

At about the time that this honorable body ordered the issuance of its warrant I had received instructions from the four clients, who up to the time of my last appearance before the committee on February 2 had not given me instructions, to the effect that they also waived any privilege pertaining to documents in my possession and consenting to my producing the same under the committee's subpena. I received the last of these instructions shortly prior to the service by your Sergeant at Arms of the warrant. As my clients informed me of their decision in the premises I promptly communicated the same to the chairman of your committee and to investigators employed by it.

There have now been produced, compliant to the command of the committee's subpena and the Senate's warrant, to the best of my ability, knowledge, and belief, all documents and records in my possession relating to air mail and ocean mail contracts.

I have twice appeared, compliant to the demand of your committee's subpena, before the committee, and I have never refused to answer any question propounded to me by any member thereof.

I have the greatest respect for the Senate of the United States and have at no time had any desire to disobey its processes or to appear to be in contempt of its authority.

There having been produced the documents which the committee's subpena and the Senate's warrant commanded the production of, and I having answered all questions propounded to me, and being ready to answer all material and pertinent questions which may be propounded by this honorable body or its committee, I respectfully ask to be discharged from custody of the Sergeant at Arms of the Senate.

(Signed) WILLIAM P. MACCRACKEN, JR.

Although the Sergeant at Arms reported that I was in his custody, I was neither required nor permitted to appear before the bar of the Senate on the 5th instant, but after proceedings were had in the Senate on a report submitted by the special committee, I was, by vote of the Senate, ordered to be released from custody, and was thereupon forthwith released.

Your special committee had in its possession every document of which I then had any knowledge covered by its subpena. I have at no time refused to answer any question propounded to me by the committee. As fast as I received waivers and consents to the production of privileged communications I advised the chairman of your committee thereof and made available, under the subpena, all documents which it called for.

Since the 5th instant some few papers relating to air mail contracts of a former client, dating back to matters occurring about 7 years ago, have been found and produced for the committee under the subpena.

Not having been discharged from my obligation to again appear as a witness under the committee's subpena, but having, as I understand, been only temporarily excused from attendance thereunder, I stand ready at any and all times required to appear and testify fully in respect of any matters pertinent and material to the subject of the committee's inquiry.

Being advised and convinced that the Senate's citation, the proposed trial of myself at its bar, and the assertion of power by it to punish me for an alleged consummated offense, are each and all beyond its constitutional powers, and are, on the one hand, an invasion of the functions delegated by the Constitution exclusively to the judicial power, and, on the other, a plain violation of my constitutional rights, I am, with great regret, forced to deny the now asserted right of your honorable body in the premises and to seek protection under the Constitution in the courts.

Yours very respectfully,

WILLIAM P. MACCRACKEN, JR.

Mr. Black thereupon submitted the following order, which was considered and agreed to:

Ordered, That an order for the immediate arrest of William P. MacCracken, Jr., be ordered by the United States Senate, directing the Sergeant at Arms of the Senate to take into custody immediately the body of William P. MacCracken, Jr., and bring him forthwith before the Senate to show cause, if any he has, why he should not be punished for contempt of the Senate, for the matters and things as shown by the reports of the Special Senate Committee on Ocean and Air Mail Contracts, and as directed in the citation previously served upon William P. MacCracken, Jr., by the Sergeant at Arms of the Senate.

Ordered, by unanimous consent, That further proceedings in the pending contempt matter be suspended until a return has been made by the Sergeant at Arms on the foregoing order of arrest.

CONTEMPT PROCEEDINGS AGAINST WILLIAM P. M'CRACKEN AND OTHERS

Mr. Black raised a question as to the presence of a quorum;

Whereupon

The President pro tempore directed the roll to be called; When

Eighty-nine Senators answered to their names, as follows:

Adams, Ashurst, Austin, Bachman, Bailey, Bankhead, Barbour, Barkley, Black, Bone, Borah, Brown, Bulkley, Bulow, Byrd, Byrnes, Capper, Caraway, Carey, Clark, Connally, Coolidge, Copeland, Costigan, Couzens, Cutting, Davis, Dickinson, Dieterich, Dill, Duffy, Erickson, Fess, Fletcher, Frazier, George, Gibson, Goldsborough, Gore, Hale, Harrison, Hatch, Hayden, Hebert, Johnson, Kean, Keyes, King, La Follette, Lewis, Logan, Lonergan, Long, McAdoo, McCarran, McGill, McKellar, McNary, Murphy, Neely, Norris, Nye, O'Mahoney, Overton, Patterson, Pittman, Pope, Reed, Robinson of Arkansas, Robinson of Indiana, Russell, Schall, Sheppard, Shipstead, Smith, Steiwer, Stephens, Thomas of Oklahoma, Thomas of Utah, Thompson, Townsend, Trammell, Tydings, Vandenberg, Van Nuys, Wagner, Walsh, Wheeler, and White.

A quorum being present,

The Sergeant at Arms appeared and made the following report:

To the PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE:

With reference to the order of the Senate I have been unable to locate William P. MacCracken, Jr. I went to his office and was told that he had not been there since 11 a.m. Having been told by Frank J. Hogan this morning that in case I wanted to locate William P. MacCracken, Jr., I could do so through him. I called Mr. Hogan's office, and was asked to go there. I went to his office and Mr. Hogan said that he would take me to William P. MacCracken, Jr., but that he would not tell me where he was; but that Mr. Hogan would produce him at a certain agreed time in a judge's chambers so that he could apply for a writ of habeas corpus. I asked Mr. Hogan to tell me where I could find Mr. MacCracken and he declined to do so. I have not been able to locate William P. MacCracken, Jr.

On motion by Mr. Black,

Ordered, That the report be accepted, that the Sergeant at Arms be given more time in which to apprehend Mr. MacCracken under the original order issued by the Senate, and that it may be continued in full force and effect for that purpose.

The respondent L. H. Brittin, accompanied by his counsel, Seth W. Richardson, Esq., and Alfons B. Landa, Esq., and the respondents Gilbert Givvin and Harris M. Hanshue, accompanied by their counsel, Frank K. Nebeker, Esq., and S. N. MacInnis, Esq., were then brought into the Chamber by the Sergeant at Arms.

The President pro tempore, pursuant to the order agreed to on the 8th instant, addressed them as follows:

"Mr. L. H. Brittin, Mr. Gilbert Givvin, and Mr. Harris M. Hanshue, you have been brought before the Senate, by its order, to show cause why you should not be punished for contempt of the Senate on account of the destruction and removal of certain papers, files, and memoranda from the files of William P. MacCracken, Jr., after a subpena requiring the production of such papers, files, and memoranda had been served upon William P. MacCracken, Jr., as shown by the report of the Special Committee on Investigation of Air Mail and Ocean Mail Contracts."

In further pursuance of the said order, the clerk, in the presence of the three respondents above named, then read Senate Report No. 254, parts 1 and 2, submitted on February 2 and 5, 1934, respectively, and Senate Resolution No. 172, agreed to February 5, 1934.

The President pro tempore, as provided by the order of the 8th instant, addressed to the respondent L. H. Brittin the following question: "Have you anything to say in excuse or extenuation of your connection with or participation in the matters described in such report and resolution?"

The respondent having answered in the affirmative, he was duly sworn by the President pro tempore, and thereupon submitted a statement in writing, which was read by the Secretary, and ordered to be printed, as follows:

UNITED STATES SENATE

IN RE CITATION UNDER DATE OF FEBRUARY 5, 1934, DIRECTED TO L. H. BRITTIN

The above-named L. H. Brittin hereby respectfully submits to the Senate of the United States the following response to the citation and order to show cause issued by the President of the Senate under date of February 5, 1934, and returnable 12 o'clock noon on Friday, February 9, 1934:

That upon the record in this matter, the said L. H. Brittin respectfully asserts that the Senate of the United States is without lawful jurisdiction to hear, try, and determine the alleged matters and things contained in and referred to in the above-entitled citation as charged against and affecting the said L. H. Brittin, and is without jurisdiction to fix and impose punishment upon the said L. H. Brittin as set forth and referred to in the said citation, and that the said citation and the whole thereof and all proceedings thereon or in connection therewith is void.

II

Further responding, and without waiving his rights concerning the matters and things set up and alleged in the first paragraph of this response, the said L. H. Brittin respectfully advises the Senate of the United States that he, the said L. H. Brittin, is 57 years of age, and was born in the State of Connecticut, and is now a citizen and resident of the State of Minnesota. That he is an engineer by profession, and was a United States soldier in the Spanish-American War with the rank of corporal, and was thereafter a United States soldier in the Great War, and was thereafter honorably discharged with the rank of lieutenant colonel; that said Brittin is a married man, now separated from his wife, and has no family of any kind.

That the said Brittin did, in 1926, organize an aviation company known as the Northwest Airways, Inc., a Michigan corporation, and later the Northwest Airways, Inc., a Delaware corporation, having their main office in St. Paul, Minn. That these corporations were organized for the purpose of establishing, maintaining, and operating an airways system, in general, from the city of Chicago westward through the States of Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Washington, and elsewhere. That the said corporations thereafter did consummate such purpose, and did construct, and are now maintaining, a commercial airways line from the city of St. Paul, Minn., to the city of Seattle, Wash., through the States above mentioned. That such company is now transporting, under contracts and agreements with the United States, mails of the United States over said line between the cities of St. Paul, Minn., and Billings, Mont., and has been so engaged for more than 1 year last past. That, in connection with the operation of such airways, the said Northwest Airways maintains a fleet of some 22 transport planes, and operates and maintains suitable air fields and conveniences along the route of the said airway, and that the said system is in all respects, both in character and operation, a modern first-class commercial airway system.

Said Brittin further states that he was an officer in the said Northwest Airways, Inc., until February 8, 1934, and held the position of executive vice president with a salary of $12,000 a year, which constituted practically his sole income. That it has been a part of his duties as such official to attend upon and carry on the interests and duties of his said company in Washington, D.C., and that for several years last past he has been required to, and has spent a large portion of his time in the city of Washington, for the purposes indicated, and that he was the sole representative of his company so employed. That his legal residence is in the city of St. Paul, Minn., and that he has no home or residence in the District of Columbia, but that when in said city he has lived at various hotels and other public inns. That prior to the month of January 1934 he maintained no office of his own in the city of Washington, but transacted his office work either in his room at particular hotels or in temporary quarters in the offices of various other persons in Washington.

That in the spring of 1933 he carried on such office routine in the offices of MacCracken & Lee in the National Press Building in the city of Washington, and that thereafter and in the early fall of 1933, he left such offices and assumed a similar routine at the offices of Aeronautical Radio Institute, and that after remaining there approximately 3 months he removed to the office of a public stenographer in the Albee Building in said city, where he remained until occupation of his present office at no. 1090 in the said National Press Building. That the office in said building now occupied by the said Brittin is the first office he has had in the city of Washington wherein to transact his business and that of his employer, and that at such office he now has a secretary and stenographer named Miss Stella Randolph. That the said office was first occupied by the said Brittin on the 22d day of January 1934. That prior thereto in connection with the officing arrangements at the various places mentioned above, the said Brittin carried about with him papers, letters, and various documents which had come into his possession in connection with his affairs and those of his employer, and that he was accustomed upon changing his officing arrangements to take with him such papers and documents as aforesaid, and also, at times, stored them temporarily in the check rooms of various hotels.

That upon opening up his said present office in the said National Press Building, he removed thereto such accumulated papers and documents for the purpose of necessary examination, sorting, elimination, and filing in accordance with proper office practice. That since his installation in such new office quarters, the said Brittin and his said secretary have been, and up to the present time are engaged in, in part, examining, sorting, and tabulating the accumulation of papers and documents aforesaid which have come into the possession of the said Brittin under the circumstances as above stated, and that, as such work has progressed, a large number of said papers have been eliminated as duplicates or as unimportant, or as generally obsolete, and have, therefore, been eliminated from the mass of said papers and from the present filing system, and upon such elimination have been at intervals consigned to the waste-paper basket for removal in the usual and ordinary way. That the said papers thus eliminated and disposed of have consisted in part of matters relating to the affairs of the said Northwest Airways, as well as the personal affairs and interests of the said Brittin, and that the said files as now existing in said office contain likewise papers and documents relating to the affairs of the Northwest Airways, as well as the personal affairs and interests of the said Brittin.

That with the exception of the time when the said Brittin maintained his office routine in the offices of MacCracken & Lee as aforesaid, the said Brittin had no specific personal or professional connection with the said offices variously occupied by him, or the persons occupying the same. That while the said Brittin was maintaining such office routine in the said offices of the said MacCracken & Lee, the said firm was consulted by the said Brittin both with respect to the affairs of the Northwest Airways, Inc., and the personal affairs and interests of the said Brittin; and that such contracts with said firm were had by the said Brittin solely with William P. MacCracken of the said firm. That by reason of the said professional employment of the said firm by the said Brittin for the purposes indicated, there accumulated in the offices of the said firm such papers and documents as came into existence by reason of, or related to, the professional services extended by said firm to said Brittin, and that the said papers and documents aforesaid remained in the offices of the said MacCracken & Lee while the said Brittin carried on his office routine in the said offices, and at all times thereafter so far as the said Brittin is advised.

That in addition to the papers and documents which were the result of consultation between the said Brittin and the said firm, and while using such offices as aforesaid, the said Brittin himself prepared, conducted, and formulated in such offices, many letters, telegrams, and other documents both in connection with the affairs of Northwest Airways, Inc., and with the affairs and interests of the said Brittin personally, which said papers and documents last referred to, had no connection with the firm of MacCracken & Lee, and were not in anywise associated with any of the work or activities of the said firm, but were the affairs of the said Brittin alone, either as an officer of the said Northwest Airways, or personally, and were not intended to come into the possession or control of said MacCracken & Lee, or form a part of any papers, records, or files in the possession of the said firm, or in its office, as to all of which papers it was at all times the intention of the said Brittin to take the same away with him, if and when he should change his office arrangements and assume an office [illegible] elsewhere. That if any of the said papers or documents above referred to found their way into any of the papers, records, and files of the said MacCracken & Lee, that the same were there present, inadvertently, and without such intention on the part of the said Brittin or anyone else.

The said Brittin further states that he was absent on official business in the Dominion of Canada between January 16, 1934, and January 21, 1934, and that upon his return to Washington from Canada on January 21, 1934, did not return to his new office in the National Press Building until Monday morning, January 22, 1934, at which time the said Secretary took up her duties in said office.

That the said Brittin, while in Canada, was informed by employees in the office of the Northwest Airways in St. Paul, Minn., that representatives of the Senate investigating committee had presented themselves at St. Paul, and had requested a delivery of files of the Northwest Airways and its officials in St. Paul. That the said Brittin immediately advised the St. Paul office to turn over and deliver to such representatives any and all files, papers, and documents there present, without reservation, and that as he is informed and believes, all of said files were presented to the said investigators, and that the same have been fully investigated, and every purpose of the Senate investigating committee in connection therewith has been fully expedited and consummated; that so far as the said Brittin is informed and believes, such files as have thus been delivered contain all material correspondence, papers, and documents with respect to the business and affairs of the said Northwest Airways, Inc., of whatever kind or nature, whether relating to ocean or air mail contracts, or otherwise, existing since the organization of the company.

That the said Brittin conducted no business with the said firm of MacCracken & Lee, and had no contacts or conferences with either member of said firm, for a long time prior to Brittin's return from Canada to Washington on January 21, 1934. That following such return and up to the present time, said Brittin has had no contact, conference, or conversation, personally or over the telephone or otherwise, with the said William P. MacCracken, except a chance conversation, in passing, in the National Press Building concerning an inquiry of said MacCracken concerning a fee due him from the said Northwest Airways. That any matters of papers, and documents concerning the Northwest Airways, or the affairs of the said MacCracken & Lee, or of the said Brittin, have at no time since January 1, 1934, and long prior thereto, been discussed with the said William P. MacCracken, directly or indirectly, or with his said partner, Frederic Lee, except as hereinafter set forth.

III

That said Brittin further states to the Senate that on or about Thursday, February 1, he became advised through the newspaper and general report, that Mr. MacCracken had been called before the Senate committee, and that it was probable that various documents and files in the office of the said MacCracken would be required and requisitioned by the said committee. That thereafter without consultation with anyone, acting solely on his own initiative and without mature reflection, the said Brittin conceived the idea that it was possible that there might be personal papers and documents inadvertently present among the papers and documents of the Northwest Airways, Inc., in the said office of the said MacCracken & Lee, on account of the somewhat loose and general way in which the said Brittin had looked after his papers in said office while carrying on a business routine therein, and which personal papers ought to be removed, and not be made public in connection with the examination of the papers of the Northwest Airways by the Senate committee. That the said Brittin immediately sought to get in touch with the said firm, and failing therein immediately went personally to the offices of the said firm in the said National Press Building for the purposes of examining the papers and records of the Northwest Airways there present, to see whether there were included there among any personal letters, papers, or other documents belonging to the said Brittin, and having no connection with the said Northwest Airways papers, and documents properly belonging in the MacCracken & Lee file of the Northwest Airways as requested by the Senate committee.

That upon arrival at the office of MacCracken & Lee, around midday on February 1, 1934, the said Brittin asked to see Mr. MacCracken and was advised by the office clerk that Mr. MacCracken was engaged. Thereupon the said Brittin asked to see Mr. Lee, and, upon being permitted to see Mr. Lee, he advised Mr. Lee of the purpose of his visit, stating he desired to examine the so-called "Northwest Airways papers" for the purpose of ascertaining whether they embraced any of his own personal papers or documents, and, if so, he desired to remove such personal papers from the said file so that the same would not become public if and when the said papers properly in said file should come into the possession of the said Senate committee. That the said Lee advised the said Brittin that such request was proper, and thereupon the said Lee produced, or caused to be produced, the said so-called "Northwest Airways file" which consisted of various papers and documents contained in a folder, aggregating approximately a couple of inches in thickness.

That thereupon, and in the immediate presence of the said Lee, and upon the desk of the said Lee, the said Brittin hastily examined such papers, and laid aside from said papers five or six papers which the said Brittin then and there believed and still believes to have been his personal private property, having no proper place in the MacCracken & Lee file of the said Northwest Airways, and having no relevancy or pertinency concerning the purposes of the said Senate committee in investigating the affairs of the Northwest Airways, Inc. That such papers thus removed from the said so-called "file" were then handed by the said Brittin to the said Lee, who thereupon made a cursory examination thereof, stating that he desired to be sure that the papers removed were such papers as personally belonged to the said Brittin and were not papers properly in the possession of the said MacCracken & Lee, and that, after an examination thereof, the said Lee returned the said five or six papers thus referred to to the said Brittin, stating that it seemed proper to the said Lee for the said Brittin to have such papers, and, as the said Brittin was in the habit of accepting the opinion of the members of the firm on legal matters, he thought that his action was perfectly proper and thereupon put said papers in his pocket and left the office of MacCracken & Lee and returned to his own office. Thereafter, without further examination of said papers deeming them to be of no interest or consequence to any other person than himself, said Brittin tore the same up and deposited them in his office wastebasket, in exactly the same way as he had been accustomed to dispose of other papers currently discarded from his existing office accumulations.

The said Brittin further states that his own examination of the said papers thus removed and destroyed was of the most cursory character, and was only sufficiently made to enable him to conclude that the nature of the said papers was with respect to it being private and personal or otherwise. That the said Brittin knows that the same had no reference to airway matters transacted through the office of MacCracken & Lee affecting the air mail contracts of the Northwest Airways. That the entire visit to the said office of the said MacCracken & Lee and the removal and destruction of the said papers occupied not to exceed 15 minutes and was done by the said Brittin, in a hurry, on impulse and on his own initiative, without any particular reflection concerning the equivocal effect or appearance involved in such acts, and without any intention, directly or indirectly, on the part of said Brittin, to impede or obstruct the Senate or its committee in its investigation, or in any proposed examination into the affairs of the said Northwest Airways, Inc., which it might be desiring to carry on. That the removal and destruction of the said papers by the said Brittin was wholly due to feeling on the part of the said Brittin that the said papers had no place in the MacCracken & Lee file of the Northwest Airways, and in the honest belief that said Brittin had a proper right to protect his personal papers from being made public, in the event the papers and files of the said MacCracken & Lee should be turned over to the said Senate committee. That the said Brittin was not under subpena to appear before the Senate committee until February 2, subsequent to the transactions aforesaid.

That the said Brittin on February 1, 1934, received a telegram from the said William P. MacCracken under date of January 31, 1934, but whether before or after his visit to the office of MacCracken & Lee on February 1, said Brittin is unable to state. That on February 2, 1934, the said Brittin advised the said MacCracken that he was fully authorized to deliver to the Senate committee any and all papers referred to in or covered by the request of said Senate committee.

Said Brittin further states that his action in removing the said papers and the destruction thereof was without the knowledge, consent, or approval of the said Northwest Airways or any officer thereof, and that the said Brittin is wholly and individually responsible for what was done.

The said Brittin further states to the Senate committee that he regrets very deeply having removed the said papers from the said office of the said MacCracken & Lee, and the subsequent destruction of the same, as herein alleged; that he now full appreciates that it would have been proper and effectual to have exhibited such papers to the said committee with a personal request that the same be eliminated from the papers and files involved, but that he had never before been connected with or involved in any Federal investigation or procedure, and was inexperienced in connection therewith.

The said Brittin further states that he was endeavoring to make arrangements to institute a search through the waste-paper receptacles of the said National Press Building to recover such papers aforesaid, but before any steps could be taken to that end, he was advised that the Department of Justice had already undertaken the same task. For the foregoing reasons it is physically impossible for said Brittin to now produce said papers so taken.

The said Brittin further states that he has not consciously withheld from this response any material fact which would be relevant to the matter now before the Senate, and that, in accordance therewith, he presents the foregoing as his response to the order to show cause heretofore issued by the President of the Senate under date of February 5, 1934.

L. H. BRITTIN.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
District of Columbia, ss:

L. H. Brittin, being sworn, says he has read the foregoing response, and knows the contents thereof, and that the same are true, of his own knowledge.

Subscribed and sworn to before me February 9, 1934.

MARGARET H. RAEDY,
Notary Public, District of Columbia.

On motion by Mr. Robinson of Arkansas, and by unanimous consent,

Ordered, That the contempt proceedings be temporarily suspended to permit the receipt and reading of a message from the President of the United States.

REGULATION OF STOCK EXCHANGES

The following message was thereupon received from the President of the United States, by Mr. Latta, his secretary, which was read, referred to the Committee on Banking and Currency, and ordered to be printed:

To the Congress:

In my message to you last March proposing legislation for Federal supervision of national traffic in investment securities I said:

"This is but one step in our broad purpose of protecting investors and depositors. It should be followed by legislation relating to the better supervision of the purchase and sale of all property dealt with on exchanges."

This Congress has performed a useful service in regulating the investment business on the part of financial houses and in protecting the investing public in its acquisition of securities.

There remains the fact, however, that outside the field of legitimate investment naked speculation has been made far too alluring and far too easy for those who could and for those who could not afford to gamble.

Such speculation has run the scale from the individual who has risked his pay envelop or his meager savings on a margin transaction involving stocks with whose true value he was wholly unfamiliar, to the pool of individuals or corporations with large resources, often not their own, which sought by manipulation to raise or depress market quotations far out of line with reason, all of this resulting in loss to the average investor, who is of necessity personally uninformed.

The exchanges in many parts of the country which deal in securities and commodities conduct, of course, a national business because their customers live in every part of the country. The managers of these exchanges have, it is true, often taken steps to correct certain obvious abuses. We must be certain that abuses are eliminated, and to this end a broad policy of national regulation is required.

It is my belief that exchanges for dealing in securities and commodities are necessary and of definite value to our commercial and agricultural life. Nevertheless, it should be our national policy to restrict, as far as possible, the use of these exchanges for purely speculative operations.

I therefore recommend to the Congress the enactment of legislation providing for the regulation by the Federal Government of the operations of exchanges dealing in securities and commodities for the protection of investors, for the safeguarding of values, and, so far as it may be possible, for the elimination of unnecessary, unwise, and destructive speculation.

CONTEMPT PROCEEDINGS AGAINST WILLIAM P. M'CRACKEN, JR., AND OTHERS

The Senate resumed the consideration of the contempt proceedings against William P. MacCracken, Jr., L. H. Brittin, Gilbert Givvin, and Harris M. Hanshue.

The respondent, Gilbert Givvin, pursuant to the order of the 8th instant, was asked the following question by the President pro tempore: "Have you anything to say in excuse or extenuation of your connection with or participation in the matters described in such report and resolution?"

An affirmative reply having been made by the respondent, he was duly sworn by the President pro tempore, and thereupon submitted a statement in writing, which was read by the Secretary, and ordered to be printed, as follows:

My name is Gilbert L. Givvin. Mr. Hanshue has already truthfully stated my present and past connections with the Western Air Express. Since March of 1933 my office has been in Washington, D.C., and my duties have been those stated by Mr. Hanshue. On Thursday, February 1, I received notice that Mr. Voorhes had called me from New York, while I was away from the hotel. I then returned the call and Mr. Voorhes told me that Mr. Hanshue wanted to talk to me. Mr. Hanshue told me that he had received a wire from Mr. MacCracken in regard to his files and that he wanted to have me go over and see Mr. MacCracken, look at the files, and see what was in the files, including his personal files. I phoned Mr. MacCracken and told him that I had received a phone call from Mr. Hanshue and wanted to know when I could come over to see him. He told me that he had not had lunch, that he would be busy after lunch, and asked me to call him back about 4:30. At about 4:30 I called him, asked him if it would be convenient for me to come over, and he said that it would. Because of the weather I took a street car and arrived at Mr. MacCracken's office at about 5:10 p.m. Mr. MacCracken was engaged at the time I arrived at his office. Shortly after that the men who were in his office left. Mr. MacCracken came out, saw me, and brought me in his office. Mr. MacCracken asked me if I wanted to look over the Western Air Express files, and then rang for his secretary and asked her to bring them in. When the files were placed on Mr. MacCracken's desk, he took the top file, opened it on his lap and began to take out letters which he indicated, and which I believed, did not belong there. He hastily went through the entire file, and as he found letters which neither he nor I regarded as being properly in the file, he laid them aside. After he had gone through the entire file in that way, I took the letters which he had removed from the file, rolled them up, put them in my pocket, and went back to the hotel.

Just as I left Mr. MacCracken said, "You understand, of course, if I am interrogated I will have to tell the committee about these." My reply was, "Yes, of course."

When I reached the hotel I put all of the papers in an envelope, addressed it to Mr. Voorhes at New York City, had the necessary stamps put thereon, and dropped it in a box at the mail window.

On Friday evening, February 2, at about 7 p.m. I received a telegram from Mr. Voorhes to the effect that he was coming to Washington, leaving New York at 5:30 p.m. He arrived here a little after 10 o'clock and handed me a sealed envelop which he said contained all of the papers which I had mailed up to him. The following morning I took the papers, without opening the envelop, to Mr. Patterson's office. I remained in Mr. Patterson's office until about 11 a.m., when the committee convened, except for a period of about 20 minutes when I went out to get a cup of coffee and left the papers with Mr. Patterson's secretary.

I then took the papers to the committee room and after awhile the committee began to assemble and I was soon called upon to take the stand. I laid the papers in the sealed envelop on the committee table, where they remained until I was requested to open the envelop and to testify with regard to some of the papers. I was examined at length, or for about 2 hours, by the committee and told them all that I knew about the matter. My testimony appears in volume 36, report of the proceedings, and commences at page 5339 and ends at page 5393. From the examination I made of the papers during the course of my examination, I am morally certain that they were the identical papers, and all of them, that I mailed to New York. At the time I received the papers from Mr. MacCracken I did not know that they were under subpena and I did not realize that I was doing anything wrong in removing them from his office, but as I understand the matter now, I am satisfied that I should not have taken them, and very much regret having done so. I can only say that I felt at the time that if there was anything improper about receiving the papers, Mr. MacCracken would have advised me to that effect. I realize now that I made a mistake in considering that all of the letters which were removed from Mr. MacCracken's file were personal in character, but this error was due to my long experience as a private secretary, when letters of this character were always classified by me and by others in the office as personal letters, as distinguished from company letters. I also realize that I made a mistake in not exercising my own judgment as to the papers to be removed from the files, instead of relying upon the judgment of Mr. MacCracken.

The respondent Harris M. Hanshue was also asked the same question by the President pro tempore, as follows: "Have you anything to say in excuse or extenuation of your connection with or participation in the matters described in such report and resolution?"

Whereupon Mr. Nebeker, of counsel for said respondent, presented and read the following statement, prepared by Mr. Hanshue, which was ordered to be printed:

My name is Harris M. Hanshue. I reside in Los Angeles, Calif. I am the president of Western Air Express and have been such ever since it was organized in 1925. I am 52 years of age, and have been engaged in air transportation operations since the spring of 1926. I frequently visit New York City, and while there I make my headquarters at the offices of North American Aviation, 1775 Broadway. I was in New York on Thursday, February 1 of this year, and was stopping at Essex House, 160 Central Park South. Between 9:30 and 10 a.m. of that day I received a night letter dated January 31, 1934, from Mr. William P. MacCracken, Jr., which I now produce and read. It is as follows:

"I have today been subpenaed to produce before the Black committee all papers, memoranda, correspondence, maps, copies of telegrams relating to air and ocean mail contracts. Insofar as these involve confidential communications between us as attorney and client I have felt it my duty to assert and have asserted the privilege which the law places around such communications. This privilege may be waived only by you as client. The committee has requested me to inquire whether you desire to waive this privilege and authorize me to make these documents available to the committee investigators. Please wire your decision.

"WILLIAM P. MACCRACKEN, JR."

The papers, memoranda, correspondence, etc., referred to in Mr. MacCracken's night letter were those which had accumulated in Mr. MacCracken's files during the time that he was attorney for Western Air Express from the inception of the company in 1925 until August 1926 and from January 1930 to about July 1932. During the time that Mr. MacCracken was attorney for the company it was my practice whenever I was in Washington, D.C., to make use of his office for the purpose of dictating letters, telegrams, etc., both of a personal character as well as such as were connected with the operation of the company. The correspondence other than such as was of a personal character consisted of the usual correspondence between the company and its attorney, Mr. MacCracken. I understood from Mr. MacCracken's night letter that there was no question as to my right to refuse to release him from the privilege which he claimed, but I did not desire to obstruct the committee in any way and some time between 10 and 11 o'clock a.m. called Mr. MacCracken by telephone. I told him that I had received his night letter and I asked him when he would have to advise the committee in regard to the release. He told me that he thought I would have a day or two, and I asked him if Gilbert Givvin would have an opportunity to look through the files and see if in the files there were any of my personal papers. Mr. MacCracken told me that it would be all right for Mr. Givvin to look through the files, and to have Givvin get in touch with him.

After completing the conversation with Mr. MacCracken, I asked Mr. S. W. Voorhes, the traveling auditor of Western Air Express then staying at the Essex House in connection with business of the company and who was present during my telephone conversation with Mr. MacCracken, to get Mr. Givvin on the wire. Mr. Voorhes put the call through to Mr. Givvin at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, D.C., but Mr. Givvin did not answer. Between 12:30 and 1 o'clock Mr. Givvin returned the call and Mr. Voorhes turned the call over to me. I told Mr. Givvin that I had received a night letter from Bill MacCracken in regard to his files and that I had arranged to have him examine them and that I wanted him to advise me whether there was any correspondence of a personal nature in the files.

Mr. Givvin is the representative in Washington, D.C., in connection with matters which the company has from time to time with the Post Office Department concerning the flying of the mails, schedules, stops, delays in mail due to weather and other causes, and accounting procedure; and with the Department of Commerce in connection with the airway, beacons, radiobeacons, and radio generally, weather, conditions of the flying fields, equipment, and rules and regulations of the Department in connection with personnel and the operation and maintenance of airplanes and engines. He has been employed in this capacity at Washington, D.C., since the spring of 1933. He was with me as secretary from the spring of 1931 until he came to Washington.

The next morning, February 2, 1934, Mr. Voorhes told me that he had received a package of correspondence from Givvin. I asked him what was in the package and he said that he had not examined it, but it looked like some personal correspondence that was in MacCracken's files. Later on in the afternoon I learned that some report had been given out to the effect that the Western Air Express had taken papers from Mr. MacCracken's files and I then, for the first time, made a hasty examination of the papers. They were in a bureau drawer in Voorhes' room. On glancing over the papers I saw that in the main, although addressed to my personal friends, they referred to business matters. I put the papers back into the original envelop and Mr. Voorhes and I took them to the offices of the North American Aviation to get a new envelop to send them back in because the old envelop could not be used. In my presence Voorhes put the papers in a new envelop, addressed it to Givvin, and sealed it. Upon consideration I thought it would be better instead of mailing the envelop to have Voorhes personally deliver it. Voorhes left the office hoping to catch the 4:30 train to Washington, D.C., with the understanding that if he missed that train he was to take the next train. Mr. Voorhes left New York on the 5:30 train. With the exception of the short time I was looking over the papers, they were kept in Mr. Voorhes' room, and so far as I have been able to ascertain by diligent inquiry the only other persons besides myself who were in that room during the day were Voorhes, Charley Franz, division superintendent of Western Air Express domiciled at Denver, Colo., and A. E. Cahlan, a newspaper friend of mine. I did not take a single paper out of the files and to the best of my knowledge no one else did so, and certainly no one did so with my consent or under my instructions. Mr. Voorhes has told me that he was in the room after the receipt of the envelop all of the time with the exception of two short intervals. While Voorhes was away the first time, Mr. Franz was in the room alone, and when he was away the second time Mr. Franz, Mr. Cahlan, and I were in the room. Mr. Voorhes and Mr. Franz are here and are available as witnesses.

Immediately after Voorhes left for Washington to take the papers, I wired MacCracken, as follows:

"Re telegram. You are hereby authorized to permit Senate Air Mail and Ocean Mail Investigating Committee to inspect all papers, memoranda, correspondence, maps, copies of telegrams relative to air mail contracts held by this company.

"WESTERN AIR EXPRESS, INC.,
"HARRIS M. HANSHUE, President."

At the same time I wired MacCracken I sent a wire to Senator Black, as follows:

"We have today sent the following telegram to William P. MacCracken, Jr., re telegram: 'You are hereby authorized to permit Senate Air Mail and Ocean Mail Investigating Committee to inspect all papers, memoranda, correspondence, maps, copies of telegrams relative to air mail contracts held by this company.'

"WESTERN AIR EXPRESS, INC.,
"HARRIS M. HANSHUE, President."

About an hour later I received the following wire from Senator Black and also opened and read an identical wire from Senator Black to Voorhes:

"HARRIS M. HANSHUE,

"The Essex House, 160 Central Park South:

"Certain papers from the office of Mr. MacCracken have been sent to you. You are hereby notified to send these or bring these in the original package immediately to the Senate committee room, no. 101, Senate Office Building. Please wire reply.

"HUGO L. BLACK, Chairman."

A few minutes later two men came to my room and said they had a subpena from the Black committee directing me to appear before the committee and to return the papers. I told them that papers mentioned in the subpena had been given to Mr. Voorhes, who was then on the train returning them to Washington. The gentlemen then withdrew the subpena and left my room. I thereupon wired Senator Black to the effect that I had issued instructions to return all papers immediately.

I want to make it perfectly plain that the papers were not removed from Mr. MacCracken's files at my request or with my knowledge, I did not know that they had been sent to New York until they arrived, and I ordered them returned as soon as I learned that they were wanted by the committee. I call attention to the fact that Mr. Voorhes was on his way to Washington with the papers before I received Senator Black's wire and also before the subpenas were brought to my room.

The respondent L. H. Britten took the stand and was examined by Mr. Black, of the Special Committee on Investigation of Air Mail and Ocean Mail Contracts, and by his counsel, Mr. Richardson, reexamined by Mr. Black, and further examined by Mr. King, of the said special committee.

CLAIM OF STELIO VASSILIADIS

The President pro tempore laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read, and, with the accompanying report, referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations:

To the Congress of the United States:

I enclose herewith a report which the Secretary of State has addressed to me in regard to a claim of Mr. Stelio Vassiliadis, former vice consul of Spain at Kiev, Russia, for expenditures made by him at that post from March 1, 1918, to the end of February 1920, in representing the interests of the United States at that post in the absence of the American consul, Mr. Douglas Jenkins, who was obliged to depart on account of war conditions.

I recommend that an appropriation in the amount suggested by the Secretary of State be authorized in order to reimburse Mr. Vassiliadis for the expenditures made by him during the above-mentioned period.

That the Senate recede from its disagreement to the amendment of the House and agree to the same with an amendment as follows:

In lieu of the matter proposed to be inserted by the House amendment insert the following:

That the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration, hereinafter in this Act referred to as the "Governor", is hereby authorized to make loans to farmers during the year 1934 for crop production, planting, fallowing, and cultivation and, to the extent of not exceeding $1,000,000, for feed for livestock in drought- and storm-stricken areas.

Sec. 2. (a) A first lien on all crops growing or to be planted or grown or harvested during the year 1934, or on livestock, shall be required as security for any such loan: Provided, however, That in the case of a loan for the purpose of summer fallowing or the production of winter wheat, a first lien, or an agreement to give a first lien, on crops to be harvested in 1935 may, in the discretion of the Governor, be deemed sufficient security. Except as hereinafter provided, such loans shall be made through such agencies, upon such terms and conditions, and subject to such regulations as the Governor shall prescribe. Recording and other fees in connection with such loans shall not exceed $1 in any case, which shall be paid by the Farm Credit Administration. Loans made pursuant to the provisions of this Act shall bear interest at the rate of not to exceed 5½ per centum per annum. For the purpose of collecting loans made under this Act and under prior Acts of the same general character, the Governor may use the facilities and services of the Farm Credit Administration or of any officer or officers thereof and may pay for such services and the use of such facilities from the funds made available under section 5 hereof for the payment of necessary administrative expenses; and such institutions are hereby expressly empowered to enter into agreements with the Governor for such purposes.

(b) The amount which may be loaned to any borrower pursuant to this Act shall not exceed $250 unless, in the opinion of the Governor, the circumstances surrounding the loan are such as to warrant a larger amount, in which event the borrower shall be entitled to a loan not in excess of $400: Provided, however, That in any area certified by the President of the United States to the Governor as a distressed emergency area, the Governor may make loans without regard to the foregoing limitations, under such regulations and for such time as he may prescribe therefor.

(c) No loan shall be made under this act to any applicant who shall not have first established to the satisfaction of the proper officer or employee of the Farm Credit Administration, under such regulations as the Governor may prescribe (1) that such applicant is unable to procure from other sources a loan in an amount reasonably adequate to meet his needs for the purposes for which loans may be made under this act; and (2) that such applicant is cooperating directly in the crop production control program of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration or is not proposing to increase his 1934 production of basic agricultural commodities in a manner detrimental to the success of such program.

Sec. 3. (a) The moneys authorized to be loaned by the Governor under this act are declared to be impressed with a trust to accomplish the purposes provided for by this act, namely, the production, planting, fallowing, cultivation of crops, and feed for farm livestock, which trust shall continue until the moneys loaned pursuant to this act have been used for the purposes contemplated by this act, and it shall be unlawful for any person to make any material false representation for the purpose of obtaining any loan or to assist in obtaining such loan or to dispose of or assist in disposing of any crops given as security for any loan made under authority of this act, except for the account of the Governor, and for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act.

(b) It shall be unlawful for any person to charge a fee for the purpose of preparing or assisting in the preparation of any papers of an applicant for a loan under the provisions of this Act.

(c) Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or both.

Sec. 4. So Mr. Black's resolution was agreed to.

The Senate, in open session, resumed further consideration of the contempt proceedings.

The respondents, William P. MacCracken, Jr., accompanied by his counsel, Frank J. Hogan, Esq.; L. H. Brittin, accompanied by his counsel, Seth W. Richardson, Esq., and Alfons B. Landa, Esq.; Gilbert Givvin and Harris M. Hanshue, accompanied by their counsel, Frank K. Nebeker, Esq., and S. N. MacInnis, Esq., entered the Chamber and took the seats assigned them.

On motion by Mr. Robinson of Arkansas,

Ordered, That the President of the Senate proceed to read to the respective respondents the resolutions and orders of the Senate agreed to in closed session.

Senate Resolution 184, as modified, adjudging William P. MacCracken, Jr., guilty of contempt of the Senate, was thereupon read.

Senate Resolution 185, fixing the punishment of William P. MacCracken, Jr., for contempt of the Senate, was read.

The Vice President announced that to be the order of the Senate.

Senate Resolution 186, adjudging L. H. Brittin guilty of contempt of the Senate, was read:

Senate Resolution 187, fixing the punishment of L. H. Brittin for contempt of the Senate, was also read.

The Vice President announced that to be the order of the Senate.

The Vice President further announced that the judgment of the Senate concerning Mr. Hanshue and Mr. Givvin was that they were not in contempt of the Senate.

Mr. Hogan, counsel for William P. MacCracken, Jr., presented the following application made on behalf of the said respondent, which was read:

WASHINGTON, D.C., February 14, 1934.

To the Senate:

There is pending in the Federal court of this district a case instituted by William P. MacCracken, Jr., in which he has raised a grave question of constitutional law. In that case he has alleged that the proceedings which have led to the order just made by the Senate deprive him of rights guaranteed a citizen by the Constitution.

That case and the constitutional question it presents cannot be heard and determined on Mr. MacCracken's appeal within the time fixed by the order which the Senate has now entered. Hence, unless the respondent is permitted to enter into recognizance for his appearance, should the court proceedings be finally determined against him, his right to such judicial determination will be destroyed. The Senate will recognize that should Mr. MacCracken be confined for the period specified and released at the expiration thereof before the courts can, under the most expeditious procedure practicable, enter final decision in his case, the questions that case presents would then be moot and his appeal would fail.

In order that the opportunity for judicial determination may be given and the right to appeal may be preserved, the respondent MacCracken asks that the Senate make an order permitting his release on bond, in such penalty as the Senate may prescribe; that bond to be in force until the case is finally determined; provided that his appeal is perfected and filed in the appellate court in not less than 2 days from this date; and provided further that his brief on appeal shall be filed in the appellate court in not less than 15 days from this date. These time limitations are suggested to insure the promptest practicable submission of the matter on appeal. Respondent, if this application is granted, will instruct his counsel to enter into any stipulation requested by the United States district attorney, representing the Sergeant at Arms, for an advancement of the case for hearing in the District of Columbia Court of Appeals, and, should it go to the United States Supreme Court, in that Court.

Respondent assures the Senate that if the action hereby requested is taken the record on appeal in his present habeas corpus proceedings will be lodged in the court of appeals within 24 hours; that his brief on appeal will be filed within the time herein asked; and that he will, as above stated, stipulate with the district attorney for any advancement of the case which that official may desire.

Mr. Richardson, of counsel for the respondent L. H. Brittin, briefly addressing the Senate, submitted a request that a direction, informal in its nature be given to the Sergeant at Arms to retain the said respondent in his custody under such circumstances and for a sufficient length of time as would enable counsel, with the proper judgment and proper celerity, to apply for a writ of habeas corpus, and to institute proceedings for appeal and bond.

On motion by Mr. Long that the Senate instruct the Sergeant at Arms to retain these prisoners in his custody for a period not to exceed 4 days before actual incarceration, to the end that they may make such application to the courts of the country as they may wish, and thereafter have some restraining process issued, and proceed to enforce the sentence,

Mr. Robinson of Arkansas moved, as a substitute, that the execution of the sentences in the cases of the respondents MacCracken and Brittin be suspended for 4 days.

Mr. Long modified his motion in accordance with the motion of Mr. Robinson of Arkansas; and the motion, as modified, was agreed to.

On motion by Mr. Robinson of Arkansas,

Ordered, That the respective respondents be retained in the custody of the Sergeant at Arms until the expiration of the 4 days, when the sentences may be executed.

On motion by Mr. Robinson of Arkansas, and by unanimous consent,

The vote agreeing to the foregoing order was reconsidered; and having been modified, the order, as modified, was agreed to, as follows:

Orderd, That the respondents William P. MacCracken, Jr., and L. H. Brittin be taken into custody under the orders of the Senate, and that the execution of the prison sentences be not begun until after the expiration of 4 days.

EXECUTIVE WITHDRAWALS OF PUBLIC LANDS

Mr. King, by unanimous consent, submitted the following resolution (S.Res. 194), which was referred to the Committee on Public Lands and Surveys:

Whereas the Supreme Court of the United States held in the case of United States v. Midwest Oil Co. (236 U.S. 459) that the practice of the withdrawal of public lands by the President, in aid of legislation, without special authorization from Congress, dates from an early period in the history of the Government and the power so exercised has never been repudiated; and that the rule that long acquiescence in a governmental practice raises a presumption of authority applied to the practice of Executive withdrawals of lands opened by Congress for occupation, and accordingly that there existed a presumption that the power is exercised in pursuance of the consent of Congress or of a recognized administrative power of the Executive in the management of the public lands; and

Whereas the Constitution of the United States gives to the Congress power to dispose of and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the public lands of the United States; and

Whereas the soundness of the decision in the case of United States v. Midwest Oil Co. may be seriously questioned in the light of this constitutional provision, and in any event the decision would seem to be a dangerous inroad upon legislative prerogatives; and

Whereas recent and contemplated withdrawals of public lands from entry are apparently not based upon any specific statutory authorization by the Congress: Therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Senate that the practice of Executive withdrawal of public lands, even though there has been no statutory disaffirmance by the Congress, shall not be considered to have been done with the implied acquiescence and consent of the Congress.

INVESTIGATION OF GRAIN EXCHANGES

Mr. Frazier, by unanimous consent, submitted the following resolution (S.Res. 195), which was referred to the Committee on Agriculture and Forestry:

Whereas one of the primary purposes of the agricultural adjustment program adopted at the last session of Congress is to increase the prices received by producers of agricultural products; and

30108—s J—73-2——9

Whereas there is no chance of accomplishing such purpose or of carrying out the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act to give the farmers honest prices so long as gamblers manipulate the grain markets; and

Whereas a controlled market is necessary to prevent such gambling and to increase the purchasing power of producers of agricultural commodities; and

Whereas it is essential that the Senate be informed with respect to the practices on the grain exchanges: Therefore be it

Resolved, That the Committee on Agriculture and Forestry, or any duly authorized subcommittee thereof, is authorized and directed to investigate all phases of the operations of grain exchanges in the United States, with a view to determining the effect of such operations upon the cost of agricultural commodities to producers and consumers and the fluctuations of the market prices for such commodities as a result of gambling and manipulation upon such exchanges. The committee shall report to the Senate as soon as practicable the result of its investigations, together with its recommendations, if any, for necessary remedial legislation.

For the purposes of this resolution, the committee, or any duly authorized subcommittee thereof, is authorized to hold such hearings, to sit and act at such times and places during the sessions and recesses of the Senate in the Seventy-third Congress and succeeding Congresses until the final report is submitted, to require by subpena or otherwise the attendance of such witnesses and the production of such books, papers, and documents, to administer such oaths, to take such testimony, and to make such expenditures, as it deems advisable. The cost of stenographic services to report such hearings shall not be in excess of 25 cents per hundred words. The expenses of the committee, which shall not exceed $———, shall be paid from the contingent fund of the Senate upon vouchers approved by the chairman.

WITHDRAWAL OF PAPAGO INDIAN LANDS FROM MINERAL ENTRY

Mr. Ashurst submitted the following resolution (S.Res. 197), which was referred to the Committee on Indian Affairs:

Whereas a gross injustice has been done to the State of Arizona and to its citizens and residents by reason of the withdrawal order of October 28, 1932, made by the then Secretary of the Interior, Hon. Ray Lyman Wilbur, temporarily withdrawing certain alleged Papago Indian lands from mineral entry; and

Whereas said withdrawal order provides that "* * * all Papago Indian lands covered by Executive order of February 1, 1917, be temporarily withdrawn from all forms of mineral entry or claim under the public land mining laws until further notice, pursuant to the authority found in section 4 of the act of March 3, 1927 (44 Stat.L. 1347); in order that Congress may consider the claim of the Indians to the mineral rights within those lands"; and

Whereas the said withdrawal order directly violates an understanding and agreement between the Government of the United States and the State of Arizona pursuant to which the said Papago Indian Reservation was created; and

Whereas the said withdrawal order is illegal and beyond the power of the Secretary of the Interior; and

Whereas the said Papago Indian Reservation was created by an Executive order of February 1, 1917, with the specific understanding that all the lands therein contained shall be "subject to exploration, location, and entry under existing mining laws of the United States * * * and shall continue to be subject to such exploration, location, and entry notwithstanding the creation of this reservation"; and

Whereas certain attorneys purporting to represent the said Papago Indians have and hold a pretended contract alleged to have been made with a council pretending to represent the said Papago Tribe of Indians, which said pretended contract provides for a 10 percent fee plus expenses of said attorneys "from any funds or property which may be recovered for the said Indians * * *"; and

Whereas the said Papago Indians do not now and never did have or hold any title to the said lands or minerals therein and thereupon, either within or without the said reservation; and

Whereas the said withdrawal order has been and is now unjustly depriving citizens of Arizona from entering upon the said lands and exercising their legal rights in prospecting for and locating minerals on said lands: Therefore be it

Resolved, That the Committee on Indian Affairs of the Senate or any subcommittee thereof is hereby authorized and directed to make a complete investigation respecting the legality and propriety of said withdrawal order of October 28, 1932; and is further authorized and directed to make a complete investigation of the said alleged contract between said attorneys so pretending to represent said Papago Indians, and is hereby further authorized and directed to investigate all other questions necessarily involved in determining the rights of citizens of the United States to enter upon the said lands and explore for and locate minerals and mining claims.

For the purposes of this resolution, such committee or any subcommittee thereof is hereby authorized to hold hearings; to sit and act at such times and places within the United States, and to employ such clerical and stenographic assistance as it deems advisable. The cost of stenographic service to report such hearings shall not be in excess of 25 cents per hundred words. The committee or any subcommittee thereof is further hereby authorized to send for persons and papers, to administer oaths, and to take testimony, and the expense attendant upon the work of the committee or subcommittee shall be paid from the contingent fund of the Senate, but shall not exceed $3,000. Such committee or subcommittee shall make a report of the results of such investigation, with recommendations, to the Seventy-fourth Congress, first session.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

The President pro tempore laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read, referred to the Committee on Interstate Commerce, and ordered to be printed:

To the Congress:

I have long felt that for the sake of clarity and effectiveness the relationship of the Federal Government to certain services known as "utilities" should be divided into three fields—transportation, power, and communications. The problems of transportation are vested in the Interstate Commerce Commisison, and the problems of power, its development, transmission, and distribution, in the Federal Power Commission.

In the field of communications, however, there is today no single Government agency charged with broad authority.

The Congress has vested certain authority over certain forms of communications in the Interstate Commerce Commission and there is in addition the agency known as the "Federal Radio Commission."

I recommend that the Congress create a new agency to be known as the "Federal Communications Commission", such agency to be vested with the authority now lying in the Federal Radio Commission and with such authority over communications as now lies with the Interstate Commerce Commission—the services affected to be all of those which rely on wires, cables, or radio as a medium of transmission.

It is my thought that a new commission such as I suggest might well be organized this year by transferring the present authority for the control of communications of the Radio Commisison and the Interstate Commerce Commission. The new body should, in addition, be given full power to investigate and study the business of existing companies and make recommendations to the Congress for additional legislation at the next session.

Sec. —. Title V of the World War Adjusted Compensation Act, as amended, is amended by adding at the end thereof three new sections to read as follows:

"Payments of certificates before maturity

"Sec. —. (a) The President of the United States, in his discretion, is authorized to pay to any veteran to whom an adjusted-service certificate has been issued, upon application by him and surrender of the certificate and all rights thereunder (with or without the consent of the beneficiary thereof), the amount of the face value of the certificate as computed in accordance with section 501.

"(b) No payment shall be made under this section until the certificate is in the possession of the Veterans' Administration, nor until all obligations for which the certificate was held as security have been paid or otherwise discharged.

"(c) If at the time of application to the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs for payment under this section, the principal and interest on or in respect of any loan upon the certificate have not been paid in full by the veteran (whether or not the loan has matured), then, on request of the veteran, the Administrator shall (1) pay or otherwise discharge such unpaid principal and so much of such unpaid interest (accrued or to accrue) as is necessary to make the certificate available for payment under this section, and (2) deduct from the amount of the face value of the certificate the amount of such principal and so much of such interest, if any, as accrued prior to October 1, 1932.

"(d) Upon payment under this section the certificate and all rights thereunder shall be canceled.

"(e) Any veteran may receive the benefits of this section by application therefor, filed with the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs. Such application may be made and filed at any time before the maturity of the certificate (1) personally by the veteran or (2) in case physical or mental incapacity prevents the making or filing of a personal application, then by such representative of the veteran and in such manner as may be by regulations prescribed. An application made by a person other than a representative authorized by such regulations, or not filed on or before the maturity of the certificate, shall be held void.

"(f) If the veteran dies after the application is made and before it is filed it may be filed by any person. If the veteran dies after the application is made, it shall be valid if the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs finds that it bears the bona fide signature of the applicant, discloses an intention to claim the benefit of this section on behalf of the veteran, and is filed before the maturity of the certificate, whether or not the veteran is alive at the time it is filed. If the death occurs after the application is made but before the negotiation of the check in payment, payment shall be made to the estate of the veteran, irrespective of any beneficiary designation, if the application is filed (1) before the death occurs, or (2) after the death occurs but before the mailing of the check in payment to the beneficiary under section 501.

"(g) Where the records of the Veterans' Administration show that an application disclosing an intention to claim the benefits of this section has been filed before the maturity of the certificate, and the application cannot be found, such application shall be presumed, in the absence of affirmative evidence to the contrary, to have been valid when originally filed.

"Sec. —. If at the time this section takes effect a veteran entitled to receive an adjusted-service certificate has not made application therefor, he shall be entitled, upon application made under section 302, to receive at his option either the certificate under section 501 or payment of the amount of the face value thereof under section —.

"Sec. —. The Administrator of Veterans' Affairs, in the exercise of his powers to make regulations for payment under section —, shall to the fullest extent practicable provide a method by which veterans may present their applications and receive payment in close proximity to the place of their residence."

Sec. —. Payment of the face value of the adjusted-service certificate under section — or of the World War Adjusted Compensation Act, as amended, shall be made in United States notes of the character described in subsection (b) (1) of section 34 of this act; and the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized and directed to issue such notes in an amount sufficient for such purpose. The amount of the notes authorized by such subsection is hereby reduced by the amount of the notes issued pursuant to this section.

GUARANTEE OF PRINCIPAL OF HOME-LOAN BONDS

The Presiding Officer (Mr. Barkley in the chair) laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read:

To the Congress:

On January 10 I recommended to the Congress the passage of legislation guaranteeing the principal as well as the interest of the $2,000,000,000 of bonds authorized for the refinancing of agricultural indebtedness.

I now recommend that the Home Owners' Loan Act be similarly amended. The purpose of such legislation, as in the case of farm financing, will be to assure the continued progress on a self-sustaining basis of the making of loans for the purpose of refinancing home mortgages without interruption. There is the same reason for acknowledging publicly what already amounts to a moral obligation in respect to these bonds as there was in the case of bonds authorized to be issued through the Farm Credit Administration.

By making provision for an exchange of the new type of bonds guaranteed as to principal as well as interest for those already issued, those mortgagees who have shown their willingness to cooperate with the Government's program by accepting the original bonds will be placed on an equal footing with mortgagees who will hereafter obtain the fully guaranteed obligations proposed by this legislation.

Out of the funds which may be made available as a result of the proposed guaranty of principal of these bonds the Home Owners' Loan Corporation should be enabled to extend further assistance for the modernization of homes as well as for the making of repairs. Authority should also be given to the Home Owners' Loan Corporation to purchase bonds of the Federal home-loan banks, thus enabling the Corporation to make funds available to those banks and to building and loan associations which are in need of financing in order to encourage private building.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

Ordered, That the message be referred to the Committee on Banking and Currency and be printed.

AMERICAN CONDITIONS WITH RELATION TO FOREIGN COUNTRIES

Mr. Schall, by unanimous consent, submitted the following resolution (S.Res. 202), which was referred to the Committee on Finance:

Whereas the Congress has received from the President a message asking for new powers of treaty making and tariff making, and a further message pertaining to the Philippines; and

Whereas the administration is expending large sums of money for military purposes in the form of larger Army, Navy, air forces, and subsidiary forces readily available for war purposes such as the Civilian Conservation Corps and like organizations; and

Whereas the Government has now embarked upon a gold-purchasing plan by paying $35 per ounce for foreign gold, causing large gold movements toward this country, which makes possible large sums of credit in the event of war, internal or external; and

Whereas the normal effect of 300 price-boosting codes under the so-called "Recovery Administration" is to invite imports from all nations, thereby forecasting as a defensive measure a world cartel in cooperation with the League of Nations, as advocated by the President when a candidate for Vice President in 1920; and

Whereas the administration recently established a $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund for the purpose of dealing in gold, silver, foreign exchange, and Government bonds with the expressed reservation that there shall be no report about operations of said fund and that no report shall be given Congress of such operations and that they shall specifically be shrouded in secrecy: Therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate, before taking further action pursuant to the extension of the powers of the President in economic dealing with foreign powers, proceed to investigate the conditions involving the state of the Union with relation to countries abroad, and appoint a committee of five Senators, who shall hold public hearings, call upon Government departments for information, and, when necessary, subpena witnesses to the following end:

1. To investigate the effect upon American labor, agriculture, and industries of the policy involved in the President's proposal that Congress shall grant him power to raise or lower American tariff duties at will;

2. To investigate to what extent the Government is committed to the policy of a world cartel pursuant to the aims of the League of Nations;

3. To lay before the American people full information of our relations with the League of Nations through "unofficial Government observers", international conventions, and conferences held pursuant to the policy and advice of said League, and the diplomatic activities of the American ambassador at large in Europe in cooperation with League policies;

4. To obtain information of the vast sums reported to be contributed by American holding companies, or the officers thereof, for League support or for the erection of the new million-dollar office of the League at Geneva, and the activities of international bankers and industrial trusts in making the United States a de facto agent and commercial member of the League, if not eventually a de jure member thereof;

5. To remove the ban of secrecy on our international relations, financial, commercial, and industrial, likewise the political contacts and commitments to the end that American investors holding $15,000,000,000 of foreign bonds largely defaulted may know what steps have been taken to set up an organization in accordance with title II of the Securities Act of May 1933 and that American taxpayers saddled with $12,000,000,000 of unpaid foreign debts due the United States Treasury may know what is being done to enforce collections thereof, and that the American people engaged in industry may know whither, when, and how the American ship of state is drifting under the so-called "emergency" powers which the President has asked Congress to make permanent.

For the purposes of this resolution, the committee, or any duly authorized subcommittee thereof, is authorized to hold such hearings, to sit and act at such times and places during the sessions and recesses of the Senate in the Seventy-third Congress and subsequent Congresses until a final report shall be made, to employ such legal and clerical and other assistants, to require by subpena or otherwise the attendance of such witnesses and the production of such books, papers, and documents, to administer such oaths, to take such testimony, and to make such expenditures as it deems advisable. The cost of stenographic services to report such hearings shall not be in excess of 25 cents per hundred words. The expenses of the committee, which shall not exceed $20,000, shall be paid from the contingent fund of the Senate upon vouchers approved by the chairman.

CONSTRUCTION OF NAVAL VESSELS

The Senate resumed the consideration of its unfinished business, viz, the bill (H.R. 6604) to establish the composition of the United States Navy with respect to the categories of vessels limited by the treaties signed at Washington, February 6, 1922, and at London, April 22, 1930, at the limits prescribed by those treaties; to authorize the construction of certain naval vessels; and for other purposes.

The question being on agreeing to the amendment proposed by Mr. Trammell as a substitute for the proviso on page 4, beginning in line 11,

Pending debate,

Mr. Connally raised a question as to the presence of a quorum;

Whereupon

The President pro tempore directed the roll to be called;

When

Ninety-two Senators answered to their names, as follows:

COMMERCIAL AGREEMENTS WITH FOREIGN NATIONS

The Presiding Officer (Mr. Lewis in the chair) laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read and referred to the Committee on Finance:

To the Congress:

I am requesting the Congress to authorize the Executive to enter into Executive commercial agreements with foreign nations; and in pursuance thereof within carefully guarded limits to modify existing duties and import restrictions in such a way as will benefit American agriculture and industry.

This action seems opportune and necessary at this time for several reasons.

First, world trade has declined with startling rapidity. Measured in terms of the volume of goods in 1933, it has been reduced to approximately 70 percent of its 1929 volume; measured in terms of dollars, it has fallen to 35 percent. The drop in the foreign trade of the United States has even been sharper. Our exports in 1933 were but 52 percent of the 1929 volume and 32 percent of the 1929 value.

This has meant idle hands, still machines, ships tied to their docks, despairing farm households, and hungry industrial families. It has made infinitely more difficult the planning for economic readjustment in which the Government is now engaged.

You and I know that the world does not stand still; that trade movements and relations once interrupted can with the utmost difficulty be restored; that even in tranquil and prosperous times there is a constant shifting of trade channels.

How much greater, how much more violent is the shifting in these times of change and of stress is clear from the record of current history. Every nation must at all times be in a position quickly to adjust its taxes and tariffs to meet sudden changes and avoid severe fluctuations in both its exports and its imports.

You and I know, too, that it is important that the country possess within its borders a necessary diversity and balance to maintain a rounded national life, that it must sustain activities vital to national defense and that such interests cannot be sacrificed for passing advantage. Equally clear is the fact that a full and permanent domestic recovery depends in part upon a revived and strengthened international trade and that American exports cannot be permanently increased without a corresponding increase in imports.

Second, other governments are to an ever-increasing extent winning their share of international trade by negotiated reciprocal trade agreements. If American agricultural and industrial interests are to retain their deserved place in this trade, the American Government must be in a position to bargain for that place with other governments by rapid and decisive negotiation based upon a carefully considered program, and to grant with discernment corresponding opportunities in the American market for foreign products supplementary to our own.

If the American Government is not in a position to make fair offers for fair opportunities, its trade will be superseded. If it is not in a position at a given moment rapidly to alter the terms on which it is willing to deal with other countries, it cannot adequately protect its trade againt discriminations and against bargains injurious to its interests. Furthermore, a promise to which prompt effect cannot be given is not an inducement which can pass current at par in commercial negotiations.

For this reason, any smaller degree of authority in the hands of the Executive would be ineffective. The executive branches of virtually all other important trading countries already possess some such power.

I would emphasize that quick results are not to be expected. The successful building-up of trade without injury to American producers depends upon a cautious and gradual evolution of plans.

The disposition of other countries to grant an improved place to American products should be carefully sounded and considered; upon the attitude of each must somewhat depend our future course of action. With countries which are unwilling to abandon purely restrictive national programs or to make concessions toward the reestablishment of international trade no headway will be possible.

The exercise of the authority which I propose must be carefully weighed in the light of the latest information so as to give assurance that no sound and important American interest will be injuriously disturbed. The adjustment of our foreign-trade relations must rest on the premise of undertaking to benefit and not to injure such interests. In a time of difficulty and unemployment such as this the highest consideration of the position of the different branches of American production is required.

From the policy of reciprocal negotiation which is in prospect, I hope in time that definite gains will result to American agriculture and industry.

Important branches of our agriculture, such as cotton, tobacco, hog products, rice, cereal, and fruit raising, and those branches of American industry whose mass-production methods have led the world, will find expanded opportunities and productive capacity in foreign markets and will thereby be spared, in part at least, the heart-breaking readjustments that must be necessary if the shrinkage of American foreign commerce remains permanent.

A resumption of international trade cannot but improve the general situation of other countries and thus increase their purchasing power. Let us well remember that this in turn spells increased opportunity for American sales.

Legislation such as this is an essential step in the program of national economic recovery which the Congress has elaborated during the past year. It is part of an emergency program necessitated by the economic crisis through which we are passing. It should provide that the trade agreements shall be terminable within a period not to exceed 3 years; a shorter period probably would not suffice for putting the program into effect. In its execution the Executive must, of course, pay due heed to the requirements of other branches of our recovery program, such as the National Industrial Recovery Act.

I hope for early action. The many immediate situations in the field of international trade that today await our attention can thus be met effectively and with the least possible delay.

INDEPENDENCE OF THE PHILIPPINES

The Presiding Officer laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read and referred to the Committee on Territories and Insular Affairs:

To the Congress:

Over a third of a century ago the United States as a result of a war which had its origin in the Caribbean Sea acquired sovereignty over the Philippine Islands, which lie many thousands of miles from our shores across the widest of oceans. Our Nation covets no territory; it desires to hold no people over whom it has gained sovereignty through war against their will.

In keeping with the principles of justice and in keeping with our traditions and aims, our Government had many years has been committed by law to ultimate independence for the people of the Philippine Islands whenever they should establish a suitable government capable of maintaining that independence among the nations of the world. We have believed that the time for such independence is at hand.

A law passed by the Seventy-second Congress over a year ago was the initial step, providing the methods, conditions, and circumstances under which our promise was to be fulfilled. That act provided that the United States would retain the option of keeping certain military and naval bases in the islands after actual independence had been accomplished.

As to the military bases, I recommend that this provision be eliminated from the law and that these bases be relinquished simultaneously with the accomplishment of final Philippine independence.

As to the naval bases, I recommend that the law be so amended as to provide for the ultimate settlement of this matter on terms satisfactory to our own Government and that of the Philippine Islands.

I do not believe that other provisions of the original law need be changed at this time. Where imperfections or inequalities exist, I am confident that they can be corrected after proper hearing and in fairness to both peoples.

May I emphasize that while we desire to grant complete independence at the earliest proper moment, to effect this result without allowing sufficient time for necessary political and economic adjustments would be a definite injustice to the people of the Philippine Islands themselves little short of a denial of independence itself. To change, at this time, the economic provisions of the previous law would reflect discredit on ourselves.

In view of the fact that the time element is involved, I suggest that the law be amended as I have above suggested and that the time limit for the acceptance of the law by the proper authorities and by the people of the Philippine Islands be sufficiently extended to permit them to reconsider it.

For 36 years the relations between the people of the Philippine Islands and the people of the United States have been friendly and of great mutual benefit. I am confident that if this legislation is passed by the Congress and accepted by the Philippines, we shall increase the mutual regard between the two peoples during the transition period. After the attainment of actual independence by them, friendship and trust will live.

EXECUTIVE AGENCIES ENGAGED IN ENFORCEMENT OF INTERNAL-REVENUE LAWS

The Presiding Officer (Mr. Byrd in the chair) laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read, and, with the accompanying Executive order, referred to the Committee on Finance and ordered to be printed.

To the Congress of the United States:

Pursuant to the provisions of section 1 of title III of the act of March 20, 1933 (ch. 3, 48 Stat. 8, 16), I am transmitting herewith an Executive order consolidating the executive agencies which are engaged in the enforcement of the internal-revenue laws.

The need for such a consolidation at this time springs primarily from the repeal of the eighteenth amendment. The tax and enforcement agencies of the Government should be reorganized in harmony with the changes which have occurred in the laws relating to the manufacture, transportation, and sale of intoxicating liquors. The changes made by this order will permit a more efficient administration of the internal-revenue laws as well as the laws carrying out the protective features of the twenty-first amendment.

Because of the obvious desirability of accomplishing the proposed changes at the earliest possible moment, I recommend that the order be given consideration by Congress with a view to the enactment of a joint resolution making its provisions immediately effective.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

THE WHITE HOUSE, March 10, 1934.

Whereas the Seventy-first Congress, by Public Resolution No. 98, approved June 27, 1930, responding to the long-standing demands of American war veterans, speaking through the American Legion, for legislation "to take the profit out of war", created a War Policies Commission, which reported recommendations on December 7, 1931, and on March 7, 1932, to decommercialize war and to equalize the burdens thereof; and

(b) To investigate and report upon the adequacy or inadequacy of existing legislation, and of the treaties to which the United States is a party for the regulation and control of the manufacture of and traffic in arms, munitions, or other implements of war within the United States, and of the traffic therein between the United States and other countries; and

(c) To review the findings of the War Policies Commission and to recommend such specific legislation as may be deemed desirable to accomplish the purposes set forth in such findings and in the preamble to this resolution; and

The Vice President laid before the Senate the following communication from the Secretary of the Senate, which, together with the accompanying message from the President of the United States, was read, as follows:

UNITED STATES SENATE,
Washington, March 19, 1934.

Hon. JOHN N. GARNER,
President of the Senate.

MY DEAR MR. PRESIDENT: On March 5, 1934, the Committee on Enrolled Bills of the Senate presented to the President of the United States the enrolled bill (S. 1724) authorizing the reimbursement of Edward B. Wheeler and the State Investment Co. for the loss of certain lands in the Mora grant, New Mexico, which had passed both Houses of Congress and been signed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the President pro tempore of the Senate.

The Senate at 5:36 p.m., Thursday, March 15, 1934, took a recess until 12 noon on Monday, March 19, 1934.

On Friday, March 16, 1934, the President of the United States sent by messenger a message addressed to the Senate, dated March 15, 1934, giving his reasons for not approving this bill. The Senate not being in session on the last day which the President had for the return of this bill under the provisions of the Constitution of the United States, in order to protect the interests of the Senate so that it might have the opportunity to reconsider the bill, I accepted the message, and I now present to you the President's veto message, with the accompanying papers, for disposition by the Senate.

Sincerely yours,

EDWIN A. HALSEY,
Secretary of the Senate.

To the Senate:

I return herewith without my approval Senate bill 1724, entitled "An act authorizing the reimbursement of Edward B. Wheeler and the State Investment Co. for the loss of certain lands in the Mora grant, New Mexico."

The parties to whom payments are authorized by this bill entered into a stipulation with the United States on March 6, 1917, in consideration of a suit to be brought by the United States to quiet title to lands within the tract known as the "Mora grant", whereby they obligated themselves not to molest any bona-fide settler within the disputed strip, and further agreed to make quitclaim deeds to such settlers in the event that the lands claimed by them should, as a result of said suit, be found to be within the limits of the grant. Such quitclaim deeds have already been furnished by these claimants covering the greater portion of this acreage.

I am attaching hereto a memorandum from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth more fully the reasons for this action.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

THE WHITE HOUSE, March 15, 1934.

That the House recede from its disagreement to the amendments of the Senate numbered 5, 6, and 7, and agree to the same.

Amendment numbered 1: That the House recede from its disagreement to the amendment of the Senate numbered 1, and agree to the same with an amendment, as follows: In lieu of the matter stricken out and inserted by said amendment insert the following: That the first and each succeeding alternate vessel of each category, except the fifteen-thousand-ton aircraft carrier, upon which work is undertaken, and the main engines, armor, and armament for such vessels, the construction and manufacture of which is authorized by this act, shall be constructed or manufactured in the Government navy yards, naval stations, naval gun factories, naval ordnance plants, or arsenals of the United States, except such material or parts as were not customarily manufactured in such Government plants prior to February 13, 1929: Provided further, That, if inconsistent with the public interests in any year to have a vessel or vessels constructed as required above, the President may have such vessel or vessels built in a Government or private yard as he may direct; and the Senate agree to the same.

However, in the event of such order or suspension being made by the President, then at his discretion the existing plants, factories, and facilities now owned and/or operated by the Government shall forthwith be expended and equipped to enable the Government to construct, manufacture, and repair not less than 10 per centum of its naval aircraft therein, except that it shall be discretionary with the President as to the per centum constructed and/or manufactured in Government plants if he should find it impracticable for the Government to undertake the construction and/or manufacture of not less than 10 per centum of its naval aircraft therein.

(2) The President is also authorized to employ Government establishments in any case where—

(a) It should reasonably appear that the persons, firms, or corporations, or the agents therefor, bidding for the construction of any of said aircraft, engines, spare parts, or equipment have entered into any combination, agreement, or understanding the effect, object, or purpose of which is to deprive the Government of fair, open, and unrestricted competition in letting contracts for the construction of any of said aircraft, engines, spare parts, or equipment, or—

(b) Should it reasonably appear that any person, firm, or corporation, or agents thereof, being solely or peculiarly in position to manufacture or furnish the particular type or design of aircraft, engines, spare parts, or equipment required by the Navy, in bidding on such aircraft, engines, spare parts, or equipment, have named a price in excess of cost of production plus a reasonable profit, as provided in section 3 of this act.

The funds necessary for the enlargement and expansion of such existing plants and facilities now owned by the Government for the construction and manufacture of naval aircraft, are hereby authorized to be appropriated.

And the Senate agree to the same.

(c) To make no subdivisions of any contract or subcontract for the same article or articles for the purpose of evading the provisions of this act, but any subdivision of any contract or subcontract involving an amount in excess of $50,000 shall be subject to the conditions herein prescribed.

(d) That the manufacturing spaces and books of its own plant, affiliates, and subdivisions shall at all times be subject to inspection and audit by any person designated by the Secretary of the Navy, the Secretary of the Treasury, and/or by a duly authorized committee of Congress.

(e) To make no subcontract unless the subcontractor agrees to the foregoing conditions.

The report shall be in form prescribed by the Secretary of the Navy and shall state the total contract price, the cost of performing the contract, the net income, and the per centum such net income bears to the contract price. A copy of such report shall be transmitted to the Secretary of the Treasury for consideration in connection with the Federal income-tax returns of the contractor for the taxable year or years concerned.

The method of ascertaining the amount of excess profit to be paid into the Treasury shall be determined by the Secretary of the Treasury in agreement with the Secretary of the Navy and made available to the public. The method initially fixed upon shall be so determined on or before June 30, 1934: Provided, That in any case where an excess profit may be found to be owing to the United States in consequence hereof, the Secretary of the Treasury shall allow credit for any Federal income taxes paid or remaining to be paid upon the amount of such excess profit.

The contract or subcontracts referred to herein are limited to those where the award exceeds $50,000.

That the House recede from its disagreement to the amendments of the Senate numbered 5, 6, and 7, and agree to the same.

Amendment numbered 1:

That the House recede from its disagreement to the amendment of the Senate numbered 1, and agree to the same with an amendment, as follows:

In lieu of the matter stricken out and inserted by said amendment, insert the following:

That the first and each succeeding alternate vessel of each category, except the fifteen thousand-ton aircraft carrier, upon which work is undertaken, and the main engines, armor, and armament for such vessels, the construction and manufacture of which is authorized by this act, shall be constructed or manufactured in the Government navy yards, naval stations, naval gun factories, naval ordinance plants, or arsenals of the United States, except such material or parts as were not customarily manufactured in such Government plants prior to February 13, 1929: Provided further, That, if inconsistent with the public interests in any year to have a vessel or vessels constructed as required above, the President may have such vessel or vessels built in a Government or private yard as he may direct.

However, in the event of such order of suspension being made by the President, then at his discretion the existing plants, factories, and facilities now owned and/or operated by the Government shall forthwith be expanded and equipped to enable the Government to construct, manufacture, and repair not less than 10 per centum of its naval

(2) The President is also authorized to employ Government establishments in any case where—

(a) It should reasonably appear that the persons, firms, or corporations, or the agents therefor, bidding for the construction of any of said aircraft, engines, spare parts, or equipment have entered into any combination, agreement, or understanding the effect, object, or purpose of which is to deprive the Government of fair, open, and unrestricted competition in letting contracts for the construction of any of said aircraft, engines, spare parts, or equipment, or—

(b) Should it reasonably appear that any person, firm, or corporation, or agents thereof, being solely or peculiarly in position to manufacture or furnish the particular type or design of aircraft, engines, spare parts, or equipment required by the Navy, in bidding on such aircraft, engines, spare parts, or equipment, have named a price in excess of cost of production plus a reasonable profit, as provided in section 3 of this act.

The funds necessary for the enlargement and expansion of such existing plants and facilities now owned by the Government for the construction and manufacture of naval aircraft are hereby authorized to be appropriated.

Amendments numbered 3 and 4: That the House recede from its disagreement to the amendments of the Senate numbered 3 and 4, and agree to the same with an amendment as follows: In lieu of the matter stricken out and inserted by amendment numbered 3, and in lieu of the matter inserted by amendment numbered 4, insert the following:

(d) That the manufacturing spaces and books of its own plant, affiliates, and subdivisions shall at all times be subject to inspection and audit by any person designated by the Secretary of the Navy, the Secretary of the Treasury, and/or by a duly authorized committee of Congress.

(e) To make no subcontract unless the subcontractor agrees to the foregoing conditions.

The report shall be in form prescribed by the Secretary of the Navy and shall state the total contract price, the cost of performing the contract, the net income, and the per centum such net income bears to the contract price. A copy of such report shall be transmitted to the Secretary of the Treasury for consideration in connection with the Federal income-tax returns of the contractor for the taxable year or years concerned.

The method of ascertaining the amount of excess profit to be paid into the Treasury shall be determined by the Secretary of the Treasury in agreement with the Secretary of the Navy and made available to the public. The method initially fixed upon shall be so determined on or before June 30, 1934: Provided, That in any case where an excess profit may be found to be owing to the United States in consequence hereof, the Secretary of the Treasury shall allow credit for any Federal income taxes paid or remaining to be paid upon the amount of such excess profit.

In the application of such section with respect to the portion of the fiscal year 1934 beginning February 1, 1934, and ending June 30, 1934, the percentage of reduction shall be the percentage applicable to officers and employees of the Federal Government generally.

(e) There is hereby appropriated so much as may be necessary for the payment of sums due, and payable out of the Treasury of the United States, by reason of the diminution under this title in the percentage of reduction of compensation, and other amendments to existing laws made hereby; and limitations on amounts for personal services are hereby respectively increased in proportion to the increase in appropriations for personal services made in this subsection. THE WHITE HOUSE, March 27, 1934.

Ordered, That the message, with the accompanying bill, lie on the table.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

A message from the House of Representatives, by Mr. Haltigan, one of its clerks:

Mr. President: The Speaker of the House of Representatives having signed an enrolled bill, viz, H.R. 7513, I am directed to bring the same to the Senate for the signature of its President.

ENROLLED BILL SIGNED

Mrs. Caraway, from the Committee on Enrolled Bills, reported that they had examined and found truly enrolled the bill (H.R. 7513) making appropriations for the Departments of State and Justice and for the judiciary, and for the Departments of Commerce and Labor, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1935, and for other purposes.

The Vice President thereupon signed the same, and it was delivered to the committee to be presented to the President of the United States.

APPROPRIATIONS FOR INDEPENDENT OFFICES

The Vice President laid before the Senate the message yesterday received from the House of Representatives, transmitting to the Senate the bill (H.R. 6663) making appropriations for the Executive Office and sundry independent executive bureaus, boards, commissions, and offices, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1935, and for other purposes, returned by the President of the United States, with his objections, to the House, in which it originated, and passed by that body upon a reconsideration thereof.

The message of the President was read, as follows:

To the House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval H.R. 6663, entitled "An act making appropriations for the Executive Office and sundry independent executive bureaus, boards, commissions, and offices, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1935, and for other purposes." I am impelled to do this on a number of grounds, any one of them sufficient to require disapproval of the bill.

In March 1933 the Congress passed, and I signed, "An act to maintain the credit of the United States Government." This law became one of the principal pillars of national recovery for the clear reason that for the first time in many years the recurring annual expenses for the maintenance of the Government were brought within the current revenues of the Government. It is true that very large but wholly distinct funds are being dispensed daily for emergency purposes, but these funds are going directly to the purpose of saving farms, saving homes, and giving relief and employment to millions of our fellow citizens. They are nonrecurring in nature, while the increases contemplated in this bill are continuous and permanent.

Furthermore, the Budget submitted by me to the Congress on January 4, 1934, laid down a definite program of expenditures and a definite estimate of receipts. Because of the emergency expenditures for relief and unemployment, the expected total deficits this year and in 1935 are necessarily large; but at the same time a program for a completely balanced Budget by June 30, 1936, was determined upon as a definite objective.

The bill exceeds the estimates submitted by me in the sum of $228,000,000. I am compelled to take note of the fact that in creating this excess the Congress has failed at the same time to provide a similar sum by additional taxation. Moreover, to the extent that the amount of money appropriated by the Congress is in excess of my Budget estimates, and in the absence of provision for additional revenues, there must be a decrease in the funds available for essential relief work.

This bill increases the compensation for employees of the United States Government $125,000,000 over my Budget estimates for this purpose. I have great sympathy for the employees, but I cannot forget that millions of American citizens are today still without employment, and reduction in the compensation of Federal employees has been and still is on the average less than the reduction in compensation that has been patiently endured by those citizens not in the employ of the United States Government.

Let me be specific. This bill makes a portion of the restored compensation retroactive to February 1, 1934. I believe it unwise to establish this precedent, and I cannot overlook the serious administrative difficulties involved in paying back pay to individuals, many of whom are no longer in the employ of the Government.

The bill also contains several discriminatory provisions, such as paying employees in some departments of the Government 48 hours' pay for 40 hours' work.

In submitting the Budget estimates last December, I recommended compensation restoration of 5 percent for the next fiscal year. The cost of living seems to be rising slowly. The present authority is not responsive enough to changing conditions. I therefore shall be glad to confer with the Congress on improving the methods of restoring Federal pay so that in actual practice the pay will keep ahead of the cost of living increases instead of lagging behind. Adjustments can well be made immediately on the passage of appropriate legislation followed by more frequent adjustments in the future.

I come now to the provisions in this act relating to World War veterans. First let me speak of principles. Last October I said this to the American Legion Convention:

"The first principle, following inevitably from the obligation of citizens to bear arms, is that the Government has a responsibility for and toward those who suffered injury or contracted disease while serving in its defense.

"The second principle is that no person, because he wore a uniform must thereafter be placed in a special class of beneficiaries over and above all other citizens. The fact of wearing a uniform does not mean that he can demand and receive from his Government a benefit which no other citizen receives. It does not mean that because a person served in the defense of his country, performed a basic obligation of citizenship, he should receive a pension from his Government because of a disability incurred after his service had terminated, and not connected with that service.

"It does mean, however, that those who were injured in or as a result of their service, are entitled to receive adequate and generous compensation for their disabilities. It does mean that generous care shall be extended to the dependents of those who died in or as a result of service to their country."

I am very confident that the American people, including the overwhelming majority of veterans themselves, approve these principles and in the last analysis will support them.

Applying them to the provisions of this bill, I cannot give it my approval.

Last year it was determined—and I had hoped permanently—that a service-connected disability is a question of fact rather than a question of law. In other words, each individual case should and must be considered on its merits, and there is no justification for legislative dicta which, contrary to fact, provide that thousands of individual cases of sickness which commenced 4, 5, or 6 years after the termination of the war are caused by war services. Therefore local boards were established—boards on which 3 out of the 5 members were in no way connected with the Veterans' Administration and on which two thirds of those serving were ex-service men. These local boards approved disallowances in the cases of 29,000 veterans and these decisions were unanimous in 94 percent of the cases. Not content with that, I created a board of appeals, the majority of which again are in no way connected with the Veterans' Administration and a majority of which are ex-service men. This board is now engaged in hearing appeals of those cases disallowed by the local boards.

A few weeks ago I gave approval to an amendment the purpose of which was, pending the determination of their appeals, to restore to the rolls at 75 percent of their compensation, those veterans in whose cases the presumption of service connection was disallowed by the local boards. This, however, was rejected in the Congress. I intend now by regulation forthwith to direct an appeal by the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs in each and every one of these disallowed 29,000 cases with the further direction that in the final determination of these cases every reasonable doubt be resolved in favor of the veteran, and every assistance be rendered in the preparation and presentation of these cases. While these cases are pending, the veterans will be paid 75 percent of the compensation they received prior to the time they were removed from the rolls. If the appeal is allowed, they will receive back compensation. Only in cases disallowed by the board of appeals will the veteran thereafter be permanently removed from the rolls. This regulation will be put into effect at once.

By reason of the fact that many totally and permanently disabled veterans have been the recipients of benefits from their Government for a long period of time, it is difficult in the event of a disallowance of service connection by the final board of appeals to remove them completely from the rolls. Existing regulations therefore provide that if their cases are disallowed and if they are found to be totally and permanently disabled they shall, notwithstanding fundamental principles enunciated, if in need, receive $30 a month and domiciliary care and hospitalization.

It is a simple and undeniable fact that the United States, in terms of compensation and in terms of hospitalization, has done and is doing infinitely more for our veterans and their dependents than any other government.

I come now to the provisions of the bill relating to Spanish-American War veterans. To this group of ex-service men I have devoted much thought. Because of their age, they command sympathy. Nevertheless, we must recognize also that many abuses have crept into the laws granting them benefits.

The Spanish-American War veterans amendment to this act provides for service pensions. This violates the principles upon which benefits to veterans should be paid and the principles to which I have referred in this message. Moreover, if that principle should in the future be applied to the World War veterans at the same rate as contemplated for Spanish-American War veterans by this bill, the annual and continuing charge upon the people of this country by 1949 will amount to more than $830,000,000 for that item alone. This would be in addition to the large cost of all existing veterans' benefits and future hospitalization. This I cannot approve.

However, I am today directing the restoration to the rolls of those Spanish-American War veterans who in 1920 were receiving pensions as a result of having sustained an injury or incurred a disease arising out of their war service.

By Regulation 12 a presumption of service origin was extended to Spanish-American War veterans on the rolls on March 19, 1933. In order to take the same action which I am taking in regard to World War veterans, I am directing the restoration to the rolls, as of this date, at 75 percent of the amount they were receiving on March 19, 1933, all Spanish-American War veterans pending a final determination of their cases before the Board of Appeals.

Without going further into all of the details relating to the treatment—past, present, and future—of Spanish-American War veterans, it seems sufficient to repeat that I am wholly and irrevocably opposed to the principle of the general service pension, but I do seek to provide with liberality for all those who suffered because of their service in that war. As in the case of World War veterans, I shall not hesitate to further alter or modify the regulations in order that substantial justice may be done in every individual case.

What you and I are seeking is justice and fairness in the individual case. I call your specific attention to the fact that since the original regulations were established a year ago actual experience has shown many cases where these regulations required modification. I have not hesitated to take the necessary action and have issued regulations which have made many changes. These changes based on principles of justice to the individual veteran involve additional expenditures of approximately $117,000,000. It goes without saying that I shall not hesitate to make further changes if the principles of justice demand them.

On the basis of the original regulations following the economy act, the annual cost to the United States of veterans' relief was $486,000,000. Since that time by Executive order the addition of $117,000,000 increases to $603,000,000 the total cost for veterans' relief for the fiscal year 1935.

My disapproval of this bill is not based solely on the consideration of dollars and cents. There is a deeper consideration. You and I are concerned with the principles herein enunciated. I trust that the Congress will continue to cooperate with me in our common effort, to restore general prosperity and relieve distress.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

Mr. Long thereupon proceeded to make a statement; when

Mr. Robinson of Arkansas raised a question of order, viz, that Mr. Long was not stating a matter of personal privilege.

The Presiding Officer held that, having no time left on the amendments, he must state his question of personal privilege and confine himself wholly to that.

Mr. Long continued with his statement.

During which,

Mr. Harrison raised a question of order, viz, that Mr. Long was violating the unanimous-consent agreement of yesterday limiting each Senator to one speech on the pending amendment.

The Presiding Officer held that Mr. Long must confine himself wholly to the question of personal privilege.

Mr. Long then yielded the floor.

REVENUE ACT OF 1934

The Senate resumed the consideration of the bill (H.R. 7835) to provide revenue, equalize taxation, and for other purposes.

The question being on agreeing to the amendments heretofore proposed by Mr. La Follette,

Mr. Couzens raised a question as to the presence of a quorum;

Whereupon

The Presiding Officer (Mr. Dieterich in the chair) directed the roll to be called;

When

Eighty-five Senators answered to their names, as follows:

Adams, Ashurst, Austin, Bachman, Bailey, Bankhead, Barbour, Barkley, Black, Bone, Borah, Brown, Bulkley, Bulow, Byrd, Byrnes, Capper, Caraway, Carey, Clark, Connally, Coolidge, Copeland, Costigan, Couzens, Davis, Dickinson, Dieterich, Dill, Duffy, Erickson, Fess, Fletcher, Frazier, George, Gibson, Goldsborough, Gore, Hale, Harrison, Hastings, Hatch, Hayden, Johnson, Kean, Keyes, King, La Follette, Lewis, Logan, Lonergan, Long, McAdoo, McCarran, McGill, McKellar, McNary, Metcalf, Neely, Norbeck, Norris, Nye, O'Mahoney, Overton, Patterson, Pope, Reed, Reynolds, Robinson of Arkansas, Robinson of Indiana, Russell, Schall, Sheppard, Shipstead, Smith, Steiwer, Thomas of Oklahoma, Thomas of Utah, Thompson, Townsend, Tydings, Vandenberg, Wagner, Walsh, and White.

A quorum being present,

The question being taken on agreeing to Mr. La Follette's amendments en bloc,

It was determined in the negative, { Yeas ---------- 36 / Nays ---------- 47 }

On motion by Mr. Harrison,

The yeas and nays being desired by one fifth of the Senators present,

Senators who voted in the affirmative are—

Ashurst, Black, Bone, Borah, Bulkley, Bulow, Capper, Caraway, Clark, Connally, Costigan, Couzens, Dill, Erickson, Frazier, Hatch, Hayden, Johnson, La Follette, Long, McCarran, McGill, Neely, Norbeck, Norris, Nye, Overton, Pope, Reynolds, Russell, Schall, Sheppard, Shipstead, Thomas of Oklahoma, Thompson, and Vandenberg.

Senators who voted in the negative are—

Adams, Austin, Bachman, Bailey, Bankhead, Barbour, Barkley, Brown, Byrd, Byrnes, Carey, Coolidge, Copeland, Dickinson, Dieterich, Duffy, Fess, Fletcher, George, Gibson, Goldsborough, Gore, Hale, Harrison, Hastings, Kean, Keyes, King, Lewis, Lonergan, McAdoo, McKellar, McNary, Metcalf, O'Mahoney, Patterson, Reed, Robinson of Arkansas, Smith, Steiwer, Thomas of Utah, Townsend, Tydings, Van Nuys, Wagner, Walsh, and White.

So Mr. La Follette's amendments were not agreed to.

Mr. Long obtained recognition, and in replying to certain statements of Mr. Harrison, used the following language:

"We all have our way of working. One is just as honest as the other. One is, catch your friend in trouble, stab him in the back, and drink his blood. The other is, stand by your friend and try to heal his wounds."

Mr. Clark called him to order, alleging that the words uttered by Mr. Long imputed to Mr. Harrison the motive of drinking the blood of his friend, and were in contravention of rule XIX, paragraph 2.

Mr. Long, by direction of the Presiding Officer (Mr. Ashurst in the chair), acting under the above rule, took his seat.

On motion by Mr. Robinson of Indiana,

Ordered, That Mr. Long be permitted to proceed in order.

Mr. Long thereupon resumed the delivery of his address, in the further course of which Mr. Clark again called him to order under rule XIX, clause 2, stating that he was attempting to cast discredit upon Mr. Harrison.

Mr. Robinson of Indiana addressed the Chair and proceeded to debate the matter; when

The Presiding Officer ruled that it was not debatable.

Mr. Robinson of Indiana moved that Mr. Long be permitted to proceed in order; and

The motion was rejected.

Mr. Long, rising to a parliamentary inquiry, stated that he understood he could not continue his remarks along the line of his address and asked if he might be recognized to speak on the bill.

The Presiding Officer recognized Mr. Long to speak in order; and

He thereupon resumed and concluded his address.

Mr. Murphy obtained the floor and yielded to Mr. Harrison, at the latter's request, who proceeded to make an address in reply to certain statements of Mr. Long, in the course of which he yielded to Mr. Robinson of Arkansas for certain observations, continuing thereafter with his remarks.

The Presiding Officer, in response to a parliamentary inquiry by Mr. Borah, held that Mr. Murphy still retained the floor.

Mr. Couzens made the point of order that Mr. Murphy had exhausted the number of times he could yield and had, therefore, lost his right to the floor.

The Presiding Officer ruled it was technically true.

Mr. Clark thereupon obtained recognition and yielded to Mr. Murphy, who was recognized by the Chair, and who declined to yield to Mr. Long for a reply to Mr. Harrison.

Mr. Long raised a question of order, viz, that Mr. Clark could only yield for a question.

The Presiding Officer overruled the point of order.

Mr. Murphy thereupon proceeded with his address and concluded same.

The question being on agreeing to the amendment heretofore proposed by Mr. Murphy, amending subdivisions (a) and (b) of section 117 (relating to capital gains and losses), and adding a new subdivision at the end thereof,

Pending debate,

Mr. McNary raised a question as to the presence of a quorum;

Whereupon

The Presiding Officer (Mr. O'Mahoney in the chair) directed the roll to be called;

When

Eighty-one Senators answered to their names, as follows:

Adams, Austin, Bachman, Bailey, Bankhead, Barkley, Black, Borah, Brown, Bulkley, Bulow, Capper, Caraway, Carey, Clark, Connally, Couzens, Davis, Dickinson, Dieterich, Dill, Duffy, Erickson, Fess, Fletcher, Frazier, George, Gibson, Glass, Goldsborough, Gore, Hale, Harrison, Hastings, Hatch, Hatfield, Hayden, Hebert, Johnson, Kean, Keyes, King, La Follette, Lewis, Logan, Lonergan, Long, McAdoo, McCarran, McGill, McKellar, McNary, Metcalf, Murphy, Neely, Norris, Nye, O'Mahoney, Overton, Patterson, Pittman, Pope, Reed, Reynolds, Robinson of Arkansas, Robinson of Indiana, Russell, Sheppard, Shipstead, Smith, Steiwer, Thomas of Oklahoma, Thomas of Utah, Thompson, Townsend, Tydings, Vandenberg, Van Nuys, Walcott, Walsh, and White.

A quorum being present,

The question being taken on agreeing to Mr. Murphy's amendment, viz, strike out all after line 2, on page 93, down to and including line 4, on page 94, as amended (being subdivisions (a) and (b) of section 117), and insert in lieu thereof the following:

Sec. 117. Capital gains and losses.

(a) Tax in the Case of Exceptional Capital Net Gain.—In the case of any taxpayer, other than a corporation, who for any taxable year realizes an exceptional capital net gain (as defined in subsection (b) of this section), the tax under this title shall be determined, under regulations to be prescribed by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, as follows:

(1) A partial tax shall first be computed on the ordinary net income at the rates and in the manner as if this section had not been enacted.

(2) To this amount shall be added an additional tax on the exceptional capital net gain, equal to—

Five times the additional tax that would be imposed, at the rates and in the manner as if this section had not been enacted, on one fifth of the exceptional capital net gain if the capital assets sold or exchanged by the taxpayer at a gain in the taxable year have been held by him an average of five years or more.

Four times the additional tax that would be similarly imposed on one fourth of the exceptional capital net gain if the said capital assets have been held by the taxpayer an average of four years.

Three times the additional tax that would be similarly imposed on one third of the exceptional capital net gain if the said capital assets have been held by the taxpayer an average of three years.

Twice the additional tax that would be similarly imposed on one half of the exceptional capital net gain if the said capital assets have been held by the taxpayer an average of two years.

The entire amount of the additional tax that would be similarly imposed on the entire exceptional capital net gain if the said capital assets have been held by the taxpayer an average of one year or less.

(3) The Commissioner (with the approval of the Secretary), in prescribing the method of determining the average number of years for which capital assets have been held, may limit the number of years that shall be counted in the case of a capital asset held for more than five years. He may also extend the method prescribed by this section for computing the tax on an exceptional capital net gain to cases in which the said average number of years, between one and four, is determined in whole numbers and fractions thereof.

(b) Definitions.—For the purposes of this title—

(1) "Capital assets" means property held by the taxpayer (whether or not connected with his trade or business), but does not include stock in trade of the taxpayer or other property of a kind which would properly be included in the inventory of the taxpayer if on hand at the close of the taxable year, or property held by the taxpayer primarily for sale in the course of his trade or business.

(2) "Capital gain" means taxable gain upon the sale or exchange of a capital asset.

(3) "Capital loss" means loss upon the sale or exchange of a capital asset.

(4) "Capital net gain" means the excess of the taxpayer's capital gains for the taxable year (including his distributive share of the capital gains of any partnership of which he is a member and of any trust, the income of which is taxable to him in whole or in part, under sections 162, 165, 166, and 167 of this title) over (A) his capital losses for the taxable year and (B) such deductions, allowed by section 23 for the purpose of computing net income, as are properly allocable to or chargeable against the capital assets sold or exchanged.

(5) "Exceptional capital net gain" means the amount by which the taxpayer's capital net gain for the taxable year exceeds the average amount of his capital net gains for that number of immediately preceding taxable years (not exceeding four) which is equal to one less than the average number of years during which the taxpayer has held the capital assets sold or exchanged by him at a gain in the taxable year: Provided, however, That the excess so determined shall not be considered an exceptional capital net gain unless it exceeds twenty per centum of the taxpayer's ordinary net income.

(6) "Ordinary net income" means the taxable net income less the exceptional capital net gains.

(7) The additional tax that would be imposed on an exceptional capital net gain or any fraction thereof means the difference between (A) a tax computed on the ordinary net income and (B) a tax computed on the sum of the ordinary net income and the exceptional capital net gain or fraction thereof.

On page 97, after line 4, insert the following:

(g) The Commissioner may, with the approval of the Secretary, direct that a taxpayer who reports an exceptional capital net gain shall compute and pay his tax as though this section had not been enacted. In that event the Commissioner shall cause the tax to be recomputed as promptly as practicable and shall immediately credit or refund any overpayment indicated by such recomputation.

ADMINISTRATION OF CIVIL SERVICE RETIREMENT ACT

The Vice President laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read:

To the Congress of the United States:

Pursuant to the provisions of section 16 of the act of March 3, 1933 (ch. 212, 47 Stat. 1517), as amended by title III of the act of March 20, 1933 (ch. 3, 48 Stat. 16), I am herewith transmitting an Executive order transferring to the United States Civil Service Commission the duties, powers, and functions now vested in the Veterans' Administration pertaining to the administration of the Civil Service Retirement Act and the Canal Zone Retirement Act.

The administration of laws governing the retirement of civil employees of the Government is logically and properly a function of the Civil Service Commission, and the transfer effected by this order will permit a more efficient administration of the activities involved. The Director of the Bureau of the Budget has informed me that the transfer will result in an annual saving of approximately $45,000.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

THE WHITE HOUSE, April 7, 1934.

Ordered, That the message, with the accompanying Executive order, lie on the table.

AMENDMENT OF VETERANS' REGULATIONS

To the Congress of the United States:

Pursuant to the provisions of section 20, title I, of the act entitled "An act to maintain the credit of the United States Government", approved March 20, 1933, I am transmitting herewith copies of Executive Orders No. 6668, Veterans' Regulation No. 1 (e), and No. 6669, Veterans' Regulation No. 12 (b), approved by me April 6, 1934.

These veterans' regulations have been issued in accordance with the terms of title 1, Public, No. 2, Seventy-third Congress. Executive Order No. 6661, Veterans' Regulation No. 1 (d), and Executive Order No. 6662, Veterans' Regulation No. 12 (a), contained provisions carrying out the purpose as expressed in my message of March 27, 1934, to the House of Representatives, returning without my approval H.R. 6663, entitled "An act making appropriations for the Executive Office and sundry independent executive bureaus, boards, commissions, and offices for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1935, and for other purposes." The provisions of Public, No. 141, Seventy-third Congress, March 28, 1934, have gone far beyond the intent of these regulations. The regulations transmitted herewith are, therefore, for the purpose of canceling them.
