FARM TENANCY PROBLEMS

The Senate resumed the consideration of the bill (S. 2367) to create the Farmers' Home Corporation, to promote more secure occupancy of farms and farm homes, to correct the economic instability resulting from some present forms of farm tenancy, to engage in rural rehabitation, and for other purposes.

The question being on agreeing to the amendment yesterday proposed by Mr. Bailey, striking out all after line 6, on page 4, down to and including the word "authority" on page 5, line 25 and page 6, line 1,

Pending debate,

On motion by Mr. Vandenberg to recommit the bill to the Committee on Agriculture and Forestry with instructions to hold further hearings and to report it back at the present session of the Congress,

Pending debate,

Mr. Robinson raised a question of order, viz, that the Senate had voted on a previous motion to recommit the bill; that only one motion to recommit might be made; and that it was not in order to make a second motion to recommit with instructions.

The Presiding Officer (Mr. Clark in the chair) overruled the point of order, making the following statement:

"The Chair is unable to find anything in the rules of the Senate which forbids the repetition of a motion to recommit. The Chair is personally in entire agreement with the Senator from Arkansas [Mr. Robinson] on the question of what the rules should be, but rule XV of the Senate provides that—

"'It shall be in order at any time before the passage of any bill or resolution to move its commitment.'

"The rule of the Senate is essentially different from that of the House of Representatives referred to by the Senator from Arkansas. In that case it is provided specifically in the rule that—

"'After the previous question shall have been ordered on a bill for final passage, one motion to recommit shall be in order.'

"Which is in derogation of the general parliamentary rule as to the previous question. However, in view of the explicit statement in Senate rule XV that 'It shall be in order at any time before the passage of any bill or resolution to move its commitment', the Chair is constrained to overrule the point of order."

The question being taken on agreeing to Mr. Vandenberg's motion to recommit with instructions,

It was determined in the negative, {Yeas---------- 38 / Nays---------- 42}

On motion by Mr. Vandenberg,

The yeas and nays being desired by one-fifth of the Senators present,

Senators who voted in the affirmative are—

Adams, Austin, Bailey, Barbour, Borah, Bulkley, Burke, Byrd, Capper, Carey, Clark, Coolidge, Copeland, Couzens, Dickinson, Duffy, Gerry, Gibson, Glass, Gore, Hale, Johnson, Keyes, King, Lonergan, McNary, Metcalf, Moore, Radcliffe, Schwellenbach, Smith, Steiwer, Townsend, Truman, Tydings, Vandenberg, Walsh, and White.

Senators who voted in the negative are—

Ashurst, Bachman, Bankhead, Bilbo, Black, Bone, Brown, Bulow, Byrnes, Caraway, Connally, Costigan, Cutting, Dieterich, Donahey, Fletcher, Frazier, Guffey, Harrison, Hatch, Hayden, La Follette, Logan, McGill, McKellar, Minton, Murphy, Murray, Neely, Norris, Nye, Overton, Reynolds, Robinson, Russell, Schall, Sheppard, Shipstead, Trammell, Van Nuys, Wagner, and Wheeler.

89901—s J—74-1——19

The question recurring on agreeing to the amendment yesterday proposed by Mr. Bailey, striking out all after line 6, on page 4, down to and including the word "authority" on page 5, line 25, and page 6, line 1, as follows:

"The Corporation is authorized to issue bonds in an aggregate amount not to exceed $1,000,000,000, which may be sold by the Corporation to obtain funds for carrying out the purposes of this Act. Such bonds shall be in such forms and denominations, shall mature within such periods from the date of their issue, shall bear such rates of interest, shall be subject to such terms and conditions, and shall be issued in such manner and sold at such prices, as may be prescribed by the Corporation, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. Such bonds shall be fully and unconditionally guaranteed both as to interest and principal by the United States, and such guaranty shall be expressed on the fact thereof, and such bonds shall be lawful investments and may be accepted as security for all fiduciary, trust, and public funds, the investment or deposit of which shall be under the authority or control of the United States or any officer or officers thereof. In the event that the Corporation shall be unable to pay upon demand, when due, the principal of, or interest on, such bonds, the Secretary of the Treasury shall pay to the holder the amount thereof which is hereby authorized to be appropriated, out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, and thereupon to the extent of the amount so paid the Secretary of the Treasury shall succeed to all the rights of the holders of such bonds. The Secretary of the Treasury, in his discretion, is authorized to purchase any bonds of the Corporation issued under this subsection, and for such purpose the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to use as a public-debt transaction the proceeds from the sale of any securities hereafter issued under the Second Liberty Bond Act, as amended, and the purposes for which securities may be issued under such Act, as amended, are extended to include any purchases of the Corporation's bonds hereunder. The Secretary of the Treasury may, at any time, sell any of the bonds of the Corporation acquired by him under this subsection. All redemptions, purchases, and sales by the Secretary of the Treasury of the bonds of the Corporation shall be treated as public-debt transactions of the United States. The bonds issued by the Corporation under this subsection shall be exempt, both as to principal and interest, from all taxation (except surtaxes, estate, inheritance, and gift taxes), now or hereafter imposed by the United States or any District, Territory, dependency, or possession thereof, or by any State, county, municipality, or local taxing authority."

It was determined in the negative, {Yeas 29 / Nays 45}

The yeas and nays having been heretofore ordered,

Senators who voted in the affirmative are—

Adams, Austin, Bailey, Barbour, Bulkley, Byrd, Carey, Clark, Coolidge, Dickinson, Gerry, Gibson, Glass, Gore, Hale, Keyes, King, Lonergan, McNary, Metcalf, Minton, Radcliffe, Smith, Steiwer, Townsend, Tydings, Vandenberg, Walsh, and White.

Senators who voted in the negative are—

Ashurst, Bachman, Bankhead, Bilbo, Black, Brown, Bulow, Burke, Byrnes, Capper, Caraway, Connally, Copeland, Costigan, Dieterich, Donahey, Duffy, Fletcher, Frazier, Guffey, Harrison, Hatch, Hayden, La Follette, Logan, McGill, McKellar, Moore, Murphy, Neely, Norris, Nye, Overton, Reynolds, Robinson, Russell, Schall, Schwellenbach, Sheppard, Shipstead, Trammell, Truman, Van Nuys, Wagner, and Wheeler.

So Mr. Bailey's amendment was not agreed to.

The bill was further amended on the motion of Mr. Logan, the motion of Mr. Dickinson, and the motion of Mr. Byrnes.

On motion by Mr. Dickinson to further amend the bill by inserting on page 8, line 19, after the word "contracts" certain words,

Pending debate,

On motion by Mr. Steiwer to reconsider the vote agreeing to the amendment proposed by Mr. Bankhead, striking out on page 12, beginning in line 1, the words "acquired and held by the Corporation, or" and inserting in line 3, after the word "corporation" the words notwithstanding the legal title remains in the Corporation.

After debate,

The motion was agreed to.

On motion by Mr. Robinson, and by unanimous consent,

Ordered, That the question be again put on agreeing to Mr. Steiwer's motion.

Mr. Austin raised a question as to the presence of a quorum;

Whereupon

The Presiding Officer (Mr. Moore in the chair) directed the roll to be called;

When

Seventy-eight Senators answered to their names, as follows:

Adams, Ashurst, Austin, Bachman, Bailey, Bankhead, Barkley, Bilbo, Borah, Brown, Bulow, Burke, Byrd, Byrnes, Capper, Caraway, Carey, Clark, Connally, Coolidge, Copeland, Costigan, Couzens, Cutting, Dickinson, Dieterich, Donahey, Duffy, Fletcher, Frazier, Gerry, Gibson, Glass, Gore, Guffey, Hale, Hastings, Hayden, Johnson, Keyes, King, La Follette, Lewis, Logan, Lonergan, Long, McGill, McKellar, McNary, Metcalf, Moore, Murphy, Murray, Neely, Norris, Nye, O'Mahoney, Pittman, Pope, Radcliffe, Robinson, Russell, Schall, Schwellenbach, Sheppard, Shipstead, Smith, Steiwer, Thomas of Oklahoma, Thomas of Utah, Trammell, Truman, Vandenberg, Van Nuys, Wagner, Walsh, Wheeler, and White.

A quorum being present,

The question being again taken on agreeing to Mr. Steiwer's motion,

It was determined in the affirmative, {Yeas 44 / Nays 32}

On motion by Mr. Steiwer,

The yeas and nays being desired by one-fifth of the Senators present,

Senators who voted in the affirmative are—

Adams, Ashurst, Austin, Bailey, Borah, Burke, Byrd, Capper, Carey, Clark, Coolidge, Copeland, Couzens, Cutting, Dickinson, Duffy, Frazier, Gerry, Gibson, Glass, Hale, Hastings, Hayden, Johnson, Keyes, King, Lonergan, Long, McCarran, Metcalf, O'Mahoney, Pittman, Radcliffe, Schall, Schwellenbach, Shipstead, Smith, Steiwer, Trammell, Truman, Vandenberg, Walsh, Wheeler, and White.

Senators who voted in the negative are—

Bachman, Bankhead, Barkley, Bilbo, Brown, Bulow, Byrnes, Caraway, Connally, Costigan, Dieterich, Donahey, Fletcher, Guffey, La Follette, Logan, McGill, McKellar, Moore, Murphy, Murray, Neely, Norris, Nye, Pope, Robinson, Russell, Sheppard, Thomas of Oklahoma, Thomas of Utah, Van Nuys, and Wagner.

So Mr. Steiwer's motion to reconsider was agreed to.

On motion by Mr. Borah to recommit the bill to the Committee on Agriculture and Forestry with instructions to report it back not later than the 12th of May,

Mr. Robinson raised a question of order, viz, that a motion to recommit was heretofore made, which was rejected by the Senate; that subsequently a motion to recommit with instructions was made and also rejected by the Senate; and that under the rules and practice of the Senate it is not competent to consider an indefinite number of motions to recommit with instructions.

After debate, by unanimous consent,

The Vice President, in the following language, overruled the point of order:

The Chair agrees fully with the last statement of the Senator from Missouri [Mr. Clark] that there is nothing in the rules of the Senate, which the Chair has been able to find, which tends to restrict the freedom of the Senate, regardless of what it may be desired to do.

Rule XV of the Senate rules reads as follows:

"When a bill or resolution shall have been ordered to be read a third time, it shall not be in order to propose amendments, unless by unanimous consent, but it shall be in order at any time before the passage of any bill or resolution to move its commitment."

That does not say one motion to recommit, as is provided by the House of Representatives in its rule.

The Chair thinks the reasoning of the Senator from Missouri [Mr. Clark] yesterday, as the Chair has examined the matter within the last hour, was sound reasoning. The Senator from Missouri, as we all know, is one of the best parliamentarians not only in the Senate but, as the Chair believes, in the country, having had 6 years' experience in the House of Representatives as its Parliamentarian.

The remedy is for the Senate Committee on Rules to take cognizance of some of the situations which have developed on the floor of the Senate and undertake to remedy them. A change of one word in rule XV would remedy the situation; that is, by having it provide that there shall be but one motion to recommit. Would the Senate adopt such a change in its rule? The Chair is not certain that it would, because it might want to provide for two such motions.

The Chair overrules the point of order.

The question being taken on agreeing to Mr. Borah's motion to recommit the bill with instructions,

It was determined in the affirmative, {Yeas---------- 45 / Nays---------- 38}

On motion by Mr. Borah,

The yeas and nays being desired by one-fifth of the Senators present,

Senators who voted in the affirmative are—

Adams, Austin, Bailey, Borah, Brown, Burke, Byrd, Capper, Carey, Clark, Coolidge, Copeland, Couzens, Cutting, Dickinson, Duffy, Gerry, Gibson, Glass, Gore, Hale, Hastings, Johnson, Keyes, King, Lonergan, Long, McCarran, Metcalf, Minton, Moore, Nye, Pittman, Radcliffe, Schall, Schwellenbach, Shipstead, Smith, Steiwer, Townsend, Truman, Tydings, Vandenberg, Walsh, and White.

Senators who voted in the negative are—

Ashurst, Bachman, Bankhead, Barkley, Bilbo, Black, Bone, Bulow, Byrnes, Caraway, Connally, Costigan, Dieterich, Donahey, Fletcher, Frazier, Guffey, Hayden, La Follette, Lewis, Logan, McGill, McKellar, Murphy, Murray, Neely, Norris, O'Mahoney, Pope, Robinson, Russell, Sheppard, Thomas of Oklahoma, Thomas of Utah, Trammell, Van Nuys, Wagner, and Wheeler.

So the bill was recommitted to the Committee on Agriculture and Forestry with instructions.

BEQUEST OF LATE JUSTICE OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES

The Presiding Officer (Mr. McGill in the chair) laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read and referred to the Committee on the Library:

To the Congress of the United States:

The Congress is aware that Mr. Justice Holmes bequeathed his residuary estate to the Government of his country. It is the gift of one who in war and in peace devoted his life to its service. Clearly he thereby sought, with a generous emphasis, to mark the full measure of his faith in those principles of freedom and justice which the country was founded to preserve.

I shall, I think, be interpreting aright the feeling of the country and the wishes of the Congress if I suggest that this striking gift be devoted to some purpose worthy of the great man who gave it. Mr. Justice Holmes was fond of saying that we live by symbols. Our fellow citizens of this generation would, I am confident, desire the Congress to translate this gift into a form that may serve as a permanent impulse for the maintenance of the deepest tradition that Mr. Justice Holmes embodied.

That tradition was a faith in the creative possibilities of the law. For him law was an instrument of just relations between man and man. With an insight into its history that no American scholar has surpassed; with a capacity to mold ancient principles to present needs, unique in range and remarkable in prophetic power; with a grasp of its significance as the basis upon which the purposes of men are shaped, Mr. Justice Holmes sought to make the jurisprudence of the United States fulfill the great ends our Nation was established to accomplish. Our generation will not soon forget, as the learned the world over will long remember, his extraordinary achievements as judge, as historian, and as philosopher of the law.

The Congress will, I am sure, agree that it is fitting to utilize this opportunity to remind those who will come after us of our sense of the eminence of Mr. Justice Holmes. In so doing we do not merely commemorate the distinction of an American to whom the whole world has paid tribute. We also mark for posterity our pride in his faith in American democracy, his confidence in the power of our legal institutions to realize, when rightly used, the highest American ideals. Posterity which learns the significance of a life such as that of Oliver Wendell Holmes, Jr., draws inspiration from its understanding.

I therefore commend to the Congress that the bequest of Mr. Justice Holmes be not covered into the general fund of the Treasury but that it be set aside in a special fund at this time, and at a later date be devoted to purposes which will effectively promote the contributions which law can make to the national welfare. Once it is decided that the Holmes bequest be set apart for special use, the precise object may await ample deliberation. A select committee of Congress, acting in collaboration with a committee of the Supreme Court of the United States, will doubtless evolve the wisest uses to which this noble bequest should be put.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

"'(b) No payment shall be made nor bonds issued under this section until the certificate is in the possession of the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs and all obligations for which the certificate was held as security have been paid or otherwise discharged.

"'(c) If at the time of application to the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs for settlement under this section the principal and interest on or in respect of any loan upon the certificate have not been paid in full (whether or not the loan has matured), then the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs shall (1) pay or otherwise discharge such unpaid principal and so much of the unpaid interest (accrued or to accrue) as is necessary to make the certificate available for payment under this section, and (2) deduct from the amount of such settlement the amount of such principal with all interest to date of settlement under the provisions of this Act: Provided, That as to any loan on an adjusted-service certificate, properly made, which is unpaid and held by a bank at the time of filing an application under this section, the bank holding the note and certificate shall, upon notice from the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs, present them to the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs for payment to the bank in full satisfaction of its claim for the amount of unpaid principal and unpaid interest; except that if the bank, after such notice, fails to present the certificate and note to the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs within fifteen days after the mailing of the notice, such interest shall be paid only up to the fifteenth day after the mailing of such notice.

"'(d) Settlements under the provisions of this section shall be made as of the 1st day of the January or July next succeeding the date of the filing of the application with the Adminisrator of Veterans' Affairs, whichever is the earlier date.

"'(e) A veteran may receive the benefits of this section by application therefor filed with the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs during the lifetime of the veteran. Such application may be made and filed at any time (1) personally by the veteran or (2) in case physical or mental incapacity prevents the filing of a personal application, then by such representative of the veteran and in such manner as may be by regulations prescribed by the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs. Application made by a person other than the veteran or a representative authorized by such regulations shall be held void.

"'(f) If the veteran dies after the application has been filed, the settlement authorized under the provisions of this section shall be made to the estate of the veteran.

"'(g) (1) The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized and directed, upon receipt from the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs of a statement in a form to be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, to issue to the veteran negotiable bonds, with coupons attached, bearing interest at the rate of 3 per centum per annum payable semiannually, up to the highest multiple of $50 in the amount certified under subdivision (a). Such bonds shall be dated from the 1st day of the January or July (whichever is the earlier date) next succeeding the date of the filing of the application with the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs, and shall be redeemable in lawful money of the United States at a date to be fixed by the Secretary of the Treasury. The difference between the amount certified under subdivision (a) and the face amount of the bonds so issued shall be paid by the Secretary of the Treasury by check drawn on the Treasurer of the United States. For a period of six months from the date thereof, no bond issue under the authority of this Act shall be negotiable or assignable, or used as collateral security for a loan, by the person to whom the bond is issued, for any consideration less than the amount shown on the face of the bond as the redemption value; and any person or persons entering into any agreement either on behalf of themselves or others to procure by purchase, exchange, or otherwise any bond in violation of this provision shall be guilty of a fraud and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10,000 or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or both.

"'(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (1) of this subdivision, at the option of the veteran, to be indicated in the application for the benefits of this section, the Secretary of the Treasury shall pay to the veteran, by check drawn on the Treasurer of the United States, in lieu of the settlement authorized in paragraph (1), the amount certified under subdivision (a).

"'(h) The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized and directed to redeem from the United States Government life-insurance fund all adjusted-service certificates held by that fund on account of loans made thereon, and to pay to the United States Government life-insurance fund the amount of the outstanding liens against such certificates, including all interest due or accrued, together with such amounts as may be due under subdivision (m) of section 502, as amended. The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized and directed to make such payment by issuing to the United States Government life-insurance fund bonds of the United States which shall bear interest at the rate of 4½ per centum per annum, and no such bonds shall mature or be callable until the expiration of a period of at least ten years from date of issue.

"'(i) Bonds issued for the purposes of this section shall be issued under the Second Liberty Bond Act, as amended, subject to the limitations of this section.

"'(j) In making any settlement under this act the charge on account of interest on any loan shall not be at a rate in excess of 2 per centum per annum, compounded annually after September 30, 1931.

"'SEC. 510. If at the date of the maturity of any certificate or the prior death of the veteran such certificate has not been surrendered, and if at the time of application for payment under section 501 the amount of the adjusted-service credit and interest at 4 per centum per annum compounded annually from November 11, 1918, to the date of payment or to January 1, 1945, whichever is the earlier date, exceeds the maturity value of the certificate, then such amount (in lieu of the maturity value), less the amount of any indebtedness required to be deducted under this act, shall be paid immediately by check drawn on the Treasurer of the United States.'

"SEC. 4. Subdivisions (b) and (c) of section 302, section 311, subdivision (b) of section 312, section 602, and subdivision (b) of section 604 of the World War Adjusted Compensation Act, as amended (U. S. The payment in each case shall be in an amount equal to the face value of the certificate, except that if, at the time of application for payment under this Act, the principal with respect to any loan upon any such certificate has not been paid in full by the veteran (whether or not the loan has matured), then, the Administrator shall (1) pay or discharge such unpaid principal in such amount as is necessary to make the certificate available for payment under this Act, (2) deduct the same from the amount of the face value of the certificate, and (3) make payment in an amount equal to the difference between the face value of the certificate and the amount so deducted.

An application made by a person other than a representative authorized by such regulations shall be held void.

(b) If the veteran dies after the application is made and before it is filed, it may be filed by any person. If the death occurs after the application is made or filed but before the receipt of the payment under this Act, payment shall be made to the beneficiary designated.

(c) Where the records of the Veterans' Administration show that an application, disclosing an intention to claim the benefits of this Act, has been filed before the maturity of the certificate, and the application cannot be found, such application shall be presumed, in the absence of affirmative evidence to the contrary, to have been valid when originally filed.

(d) If at the time this act takes effect a veteran entitled to receive an adjusted-service certificate has not made application therefor he shall be entitled, upon application made under section 302 of the World War Adjusted Compensation Act, as amended, to receive, at his option, either the certificate under section 501 of this act, as amended, or payment under this act.

STABILIZATION OF WORLD CURRENCIES

Mr. Thomas of Oklahoma, by unanimous consent, submitted the following concurrent resolution (S. Con. Res. 15), which was referred to the Committee on Banking and Currency:

Whereas the paramount question in the United States, as in all nations, is the coinage, issuance, regulation of the value, and control of money and credit; and

Whereas under section 8 of article I of the Constitution the Congress has original and exclusive jurisdiction over the coinage of money and the regulation of the value thereof; and

Whereas the Congress has heretofore delegated permissive powers to the President, under certain conditions and limitations, to issue money and to regulate the value of such money; and

Whereas the money of the United States should be coined, issued, and regulated in value to serve the best interests of our people and with relation to the other currencies of the world; and

Whereas world currencies should and must be stabilized; and

Whereas the nations of the world are looking to the United States to initiate steps for concerted action leading to the stabilization of world currencies; and

Whereas the United States can and should take the lead in this necessary movement; and

Whereas the adjustment and regulation of the value of the several units of currencies of the several nations are the domestic problems of such several nations; and

Whereas in order to stabilize currencies which circulate in international exchange it will be necessary to adopt some form of monetary metal, either gold or silver, or both, at some fixed ratio, in order to definitely and positively support and back such currencies: Therefore be it

Resolved by the Senate (the House of Representatives concurring), That the President be, and he is hereby, authorized and requested to suggest to the responsible authorities of the nations of the world the advisability of preparing for early concerted action looking toward the stabilization of the currencies of such several nations; be it

Resolved further, That since some one-half of the people of the world use silver as money; since the other half of the people formerly used gold as money and as the basis for the issuance of currency; since most of the nations of the world today are on a commodity or managed currency basis; and since the United States has adopted a policy of using both gold and silver as money and the basis for the issuance of currency, the President is hereby authorized and requested to suggest to the several nations of the world the advisability of considering the use of both gold and silver at an agreed and fixed ratio as a form of specie to be secured and held as the basis of the currencies of the several respective nations; be it further

Resolved, That the President, acting as the agent of the Congress, be, and he is hereby, authorized and requested to take immediate steps looking toward the adjustment and regulation of the value of the dollar so as to have such dollar serve the best interests of our people and consequently promote our domestic economy; and that in the regulation and adjustment of the value of such dollar the President is authorized and requested to take into full account and give proper consideration to the following:

(a) The amount of the annual total tax bill of our several units of government.

(b) The amount of the annual total public and private interest items.

(c) The amount of the consolidated or massed debts, public and private, owed by the several units of government, corporations, and the people jointly and severally; be it further

Resolved, That when the United States, acting through the Congress and its agent or agents, has satisfactorily adjusted and regulated the value of the dollar, the President be, and he is hereby, authorized and requested to arrange for and call a world conference on monetary policies and the stabilization of world monetary units.

CONFERENCES ON WAR DEBTS AND WORLD ARMAMENTS

Mr. Tydings, by unanimous consent, submitted the following resolution (S. Res. 141):

Whereas the people of the United States, irrespective of political affiliations, have been desirous of promoting in every practical way the peace of the world and the economic and political welfare of other nations as well as their own, and have never failed to respond to the call of distress of other peoples and countries; and

Whereas the people of the United States are equally desirous of correcting any misapprehensions in this regard and to proclaim that no reason shall exist for questioning their desire to aid in every reasonable way the solution of the acute problems of the world arising from the war and the depression; and

Whereas the present administration has frequently declared that national economic recovery and world economic recovery are inextricably bound together and that the principle of the good neighbor should characterize the relationship between the United States and all other nations; and

Whereas similar views have been held by Republican administrations and leading statesmen of the Republican Party, so that these broad views have the endorsement of both our major political parties; and

Whereas it is universally recognized that there is no problem existing today which is operating more directly, constantly, and powerfully to make understanding and good will between nations difficult, and therefore to postpone the return of economic well-being and durable world peace than the chronic problem of intergovernmental debts arising and resulting from the war; and

Whereas the next installment of allied war debts owing to the United States is due and payable on the 15th of June 1935, and no payment on these debts was made when the last installment came due on December 15, 1934, and the value and collectibility of these debts are becoming more and more jeopardized by the passing of time and the failure to devise and consummate a workable and mutually reasonable settlement thereof; and

Whereas such officials and leaders of European public opinion and action as Premier Flandin, of France; Economic and Finance Minister Schacht, of Germany; and the Chancellor of the Exchequer Chamberlain, of Great Britain, have within recent weeks given public indication of their recognition of the gravity of the problem created by the unsettled state of intergovernmental debts and of their desire for an equitable settlement that will promote and not retard world trade and that is in keeping with the present economic and financial conditions of the world; and

Whereas in June and also in December of 1934, in the exchange of notes on the allied-debt subject, both France and Great Britain did not repudiate them but frankly acknowledged that validity and legality of their respective war debts to the United States and expressed a desire and willingness to make a reasonable and feasible settlement of these debts; and

Whereas it is the desire of the people of the United States as indispensable both to economic recovery and to world peace to secure reduction of armaments by all nations and to inaugurate an immediate 5-year holiday in arms construction, in order to facilitate and insure rapid recovery from the ravages of the protracted depression and to prove good faith to one another in their treaty commitments to peace; and

Whereas general and drastic reduction of armaments is vital to both world peace and to economic recovery, the expenditures for armaments and war being by far the largest items in the budgets of the nations; and

Whereas responsible statesmen of all the large nations of the world have repeatedly expressed their willingness to join in a general universal movement for the reduction of armaments, but the disarmament conferences have, during the past few years, failed to reach any substantial accord as to reduction largely because of the ill will, fear, and resentments engendered, particularly in Europe, by the destructiveness of the last war and the treaties resulting therefrom; and

Whereas a strong indication of the sentiment in Great Britain has just been obtained by a popular referendum wherein the vote on the question of all-around drastic reduction of armaments by international agreement showed over 90 percent in favor of such reduction and agreement, a percentage that well represents the overwhelming public opinion of our land; and

Whereas a 5-year holiday in arms construction accompanied by gradual, drastic, and pro rata reduction in arms, agreed to and carried out by the nations of the world, would be not only the sincerest guarantee of world peace but would also result in bringing national income and national expenditures within balance in all nations, would greatly reduce taxation, would vastly increase the buying power of all countries, and consequently would go far toward restoring to normal the benefits of the world trade, both for agriculture and for the industry; and

Whereas for the further advancement of world trade and therefore for the prosperity of all peoples there should be a revival of confidence in the money units of the world, now so disordered and almost chaotic, by a working stabilization of international currencies under international agreement, such as would inspire confidence in business men and producers everywhere, and which would largely restore normal foreign trade, thus tending to relieve unemployment and to reflate our sadly deflated market value of commodities, securities, and real estate; and

Whereas the United States, by reason of its unprecedented contributions to the World War, its unselfish and equally unprecedented abstention from all the spoils of war at the peace table, in harmony with the magnanimous pronouncements of President McKinley in 1898, and of President Wilson in 1917 (namely, that it is our settled policy not to wage wars of aggression and not to accept the spoils of victory), is in a position to take the lead in a world-wide movement for the solution of these four acute international problems, (1) war debts, (2) disarmament, (3) stabilization of currencies, and (4) a sound revival of world trade, which now so harass the world and retard both economic recovery and world peace, and to the solution of which a world conference should be called to be held at the city of Washington at the earliest convenient and practicable time: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the President of the United States is requested, if not incompatible with the public interest, to advise such governments as he may deem appropriate that this Government desires at once to take up directly with them, with a view to entering into international agreements and treaties with other nations at a conference to be held in the city of Washington, the following matters: The settlement of the intergovernmental debts, the means of obtaining a substantial curtailment in world armaments and a holiday in world armament construction, the means of securing a stabilization of the currency systems of the world, and the means for reviving world trade, all to such an extent and under such terms as may be agreed upon.

Ordered, That the resolution lie over 1 day under the rule.

RELATIONSHIP OF CERTAIN PERSONS TO NATIONAL RECOVERY ADMINISTRATION OR CODE AUTHORITIES

Mr. Nye, by unanimous consent, submitted the following resolution (S. Res. 142):

Whereas an organized group known as the "Industry and Business Committee for N. R. A. Extension" is admittedly seeking to influence legislation by means of mass demonstrations in Washington and by other methods; and

ADJUSTED COMPENSATION OF WORLD WAR VETERANS

The Vice President laid before the Senate the message this day received from the House of Representatives, transmitting to the Senate the bill (H. R. 3896) to provide for the immediate payment to veterans of the face value of their adjusted-service certificates, for controlled expansion of the currency, and to extend the time for filing applications for benefits under the World War Adjusted Compensation Act, and for other purposes, returned by the President of the United States, with his objections, to the House, in which it originated, and passed by that body upon a reconsideration thereof.

The message of the President was read, as follows:

Mr. Speaker, Members of the House of Representatives, 2 days ago a number of gentlemen from the House of Representatives called upon me and with complete propriety presented their reasons for asking me to approve the House of Representatives bill providing for the immediate payment of adjusted-service certificates. In the same spirit of courtesy I am returning this bill today to the House of Representatives. As I told the gentlemen who waited upon me, I have never doubted the good faith lying behind the reasons which have caused them and the majority of the Congress to advocate this bill. In the same spirit I come before you dispassionately and in good faith to give you, as simply as I can, the reasons which compel me to give it my disapproval.

And I am glad that the Senate by coming here in joint session gives me opportunity to give my reasons in person to the other House of the Congress.

As to the right and the propriety of the President in addressing the Congress in person, I am very certain that I have never in the past disagreed, and will never in the future disagree, with the Senate or the House of Representatives as to the constitutionality of the procedure. With your permission, I should like to continue from time to time to act as my own messenger.

Eighteen years ago the United States engaged in the World War. A Nation of 120,000,000 people was united in the purpose of victory. The millions engaged in agriculture toiled to provide the raw materials and foodstuffs for our armies and for the nations with whom we were associated. Many other millions employed in industry labored to create the materials for the active conduct of the war on land and sea.

Out of this vast army consisting of the whole working population of the Nation, 4¾ million men volunteered or were drafted into the armed forces of the United States. One-half of them remained within our American continental limits, the other half served overseas; and of these, 1,400,000 saw service in actual combat.

The people and the Government of the United States have shown a proper and generous regard for the sacrifices and patriotism of all of the 4¾ million men who were in uniform no matter where they served.

At the outbreak of the war, the President and the Congress sought and established an entirely new policy, however, in order to guide the granting of financial aid to soldiers and sailors. Remembering the unfortunate results that came from the lack of a veterans' policy after the Civil War, they determined that a prudent and sound principle of insurance should supplant the uncertainties and unfairness of direct bounties. At the same time their policy encompassed the most complete care for those who had suffered disabilities in service. With respect to the grants made within the lines of this general policy, the President and the Congress have fully recognized that those who served in uniform deserved certain benefits to which other citizens of the Republic were not entitled, and in which they could not participate.

In line with these sound and fair principles, many benefits have been provided for veterans.

During the war itself provision was made for Government allowances for the families and other dependents of enlisted men in service. Disability and death compensation was provided for casualties in line of duty.

The original provisions for these benefits have been subsequently changed and liberalized many times by the Congress. Later generous presumptions for veterans who became ill after the termination of the war were written into the statute to help veterans in their claims for disability. As a result of this liberal legislation for disability and for death compensation, 1,140,000 men and women have been benefited.

During the war the Government started a system of voluntary insurance at peace-time rates for men and women in the service.

Generous provision has been made for hospitalization, vocational training, and rehabilitation of veterans. You are familiar with this excellent care given to the sick and disabled.

In addition to these direct benefits, Congress has given recognition to the interest and welfare of veterans in employment matters, through veteran preference in the United States civil service, in the selection of employees under the Public Works Administration, through the establishment of a veterans' employment unit in the Department of Labor, and through provisions favoring veterans in the selection of those employed in the Civilian Conservation Corps. Many States have likewise given special bonuses in cash and veterans' preferences in State and local public employment.

Furthermore, unemployed veterans as a group have benefited more largely than any other group from the expenditure of the great public works appropriation of $3,300,000,000 made by the Congress in 1933, and under which we are still operating. In like manner the new $4,000,000,000 Work Relief Act seeks to give employment to practically every veteran who is receiving relief.

We may measure the benefits extended from the fact that there has been expended up to the end of the last fiscal year more than $7,800,000,000 for these items in behalf of the veterans of the World War, not including sums spent for home or work relief. With our current annual expenditures of some $450,000,000 and the liquidation of outstanding obligations under term insurance and the payment of the service certificates, it seems safe to predict that by the year 1945 we will have expended $13,500,000,000. This is a sum equal to more than three-fourths of the entire cost of our participation in the World War, and 10 years from now most of the veterans of that war will be barely past the half-century mark.

Payments have been and are being made only to veterans of the World War and their dependents, and not to civilian workers who helped to win that war.

In the light of our established principles and policies let us consider the case of adjusted compensation. Soon after the close of the war a claim was made by several veterans' organizations that they should be paid some adjusted compensation for their time in uniform. After a complete and fair presentation of the whole subject, followed by full debate in the Congress of the United States, a settlement was reached in 1924.

This settlement provided for adjustment in compensation during service by an additional allowance per day for actual service rendered. Because cash payment was not to be made immediately, this basic allowance was increased by 25 percent, and to this was added at compound interest for 20 years, the whole to be paid in 1945. The result of this computation was that an amount two and one-half times the original grant would be paid at maturity.

Taking the average case as an example, the Government acknowledged a claim of $400 to be due. This $400, under the provisions of the settlement, with the addition of the 25 percent for deferred payment and the compound interest from that time until 1945, would amount to the sum of $1,000 in 1945. The veteran was thereupon given a certificate containing an agreement by the Government to pay him this $1,000 in 1945, or to pay it to his family if he died at any time before 1945. In effect, it was a paid-up endowment policy in the average case for $1,000 payable in 1945, or sooner in the event of death. Under the provisions of this settlement, the total obligation of $1,400,000,000 in 1924 produced a maturity or face value of $3,500,000,000 in 1945.

Since 1924 the only major change in the original settlement was the act of 1931, under which veterans were authorized to borrow up to 50 percent of the face value of their certificates as of 1945. Three million veterans have already borrowed, under this provision, an amount which, with interest charges, totals $1,700,000,000.

The bill before me provides for the immediate payment of the 1945 value of the certificates. It means paying $1,600,000,000 more than the present value of the certificates. It requires an expenditure of more than $2,200,000,000 in cash for this purpose. It directs payment to the veterans of a much larger sum than was contemplated in the 1924 settlement. It is nothing less than a complete abandonment of that settlement. It is a new straight gratuity or bounty to the amount of $1,600,000,000. It destroys the insurance protection for the dependents of the veterans provided in the original plan. For the remaining period of 10 years they will have lost this insurance.

This proposal, I submit, violates the entire principle of veterans' benefits so carefully formulated at the time of the war and also the entire principle of the adjusted-certificate settlement of 1924.

What are the reasons presented in this bill for this fundamental change in policy? They are set forth with care in a number of "whereas" clauses at the beginning of the bill.

The first of these states, as reasons for the cash payment of these certificates at this time, that it will increase the purchasing power of millions of the consuming public; that it will provide relief for many who are in need because of economic conditions; and that it will lighten the relief burden of cities, counties, and States. The second states that payment will not create any additional debt. The third states that payment now will be an effective method of spending money to hasten recovery.

These are the enacted reasons for the passage of this bill. Let me briefly analyze them.

First, the spending of this sum, it cannot be denied, would result in some expansion of retail trade. But it must be noted that retail trade has already expanded to a condition that compares favorably with conditions before the depression. However, to resort to the kind of financial practice provided in this bill would not improve the conditions necessary to expand those industries in which we have the greatest unemployment. The Treasury notes issued under the terms of this bill we know from past experience, would return quickly to the banks. We know, too, that the banks have at this moment more than ample credit with which to expand the activities of business and industry generally. The ultimate effect of this bill will not in the long run justify the expectations that have been raised by those who argue for it.

The next reason in the first "whereas" clause is that present payment will provide relief for many who are in need because of economic conditions. The Congress has just passed an act to provide work relief for such citizens. Some veterans are on the relief rolls, though relatively not nearly as many as is the case with nonveterans. Assume, however, that such a veteran served in the United States or overseas during the war; that he came through in fine physical shape, as most of them did; that he received an honorable discharge; that he is today 38 years old and in full possession of his faculties and health; that, like several million other Americans, he is receiving from his Government relief and assistance in one of many forms—I hold that that able-bodied citizen, because he wore a uniform, and for no other reason, should be accorded no treatment different from that accorded to other citizens who did not wear a uniform during the World War.

The third reason given in the first "whereas" clause is that payment today would lighten the relief burden of municipalities. Why, I ask, should the Congress lift that burden in respect only to those who wore the uniform? Is it not better to treat every able-bodied American alike and to carry out the great relief program adopted by this Congress in a spirit of equality to all? This applies to every other unit of Government throughout the Nation.

The second "whereas" clause, which states that the payment of certificates will create an additional debt, raises a fundamental question of sound finance. To meet a claim of one group by this deceptively easy method of payment will raise similar demands for the payment of claims of other groups. It is easy to see the ultimate result of meeting recurring demands by the issuance of Treasury notes. It invites an ultimate reckoning in uncontrollable prices and in the destruction of the value of savings that will strike most cruelly those like the veterans who seem to be temporarily benefited. The first person injured by skyrocketing prices is the man on a fixed income. Every disabled veteran on a pension or allowance is on fixed income. This bill favors the able-bodied veteran at the expense of the disabled veteran.

Wealth is not created, nor is it more equitably distributed by this method. A government, like an individual, must ultimately meet legitimate obligations out of the production of wealth by the labor of human beings applied to the resources of nature. Every country that has attempted the form of meeting its obligations which is here provided has suffered disastrous consequences.

In the majority of cases printing-press money has not been retired through taxation. Because of increased costs, caused by inflated prices, new issue has followed new issue, ending in the ultimate wiping out of the currency of the afflicted country. In a few cases, like our own in the period of the Civil War, the printing of Treasury notes to cover an emergency has fortunately not resulted in actual disaster and collapse, but has nevertheless caused this Nation untold troubles, economic and political, for a whole generation.

The statement in this same second "whereas" clause that payment will discharge and retire an acknowledged contract obligation of the Government is, I regret to say, not in accordance with the fact. It wholly omits and disregards the fact that this contract obligation is due in 1945 and not today.

If I, as an individual, owe you, an individual Member of the Congress, $1,000 payable in 1945, it is not a correct statement for you to tell me that I owe you $1,000 today. As a matter of practical fact, if I put $750 into a Government savings bond today and make that bond out in your name you will get $1,000 on the due date, 10 years from now. My debt to you today, therefore, cannot under the remotest possibility be considered more than $750.

The final "whereas" clause, stating that spending the money is the most effective means of hastening recovery, is so ill considered that little comment is necessary. Every authorization of expenditure by the Seventy-third Congress in its session of 1933 and 1934, and every appropriation by the Seventy-fourth Congress to date, for recovery purposes, has been predicated not on the mere spending of money to hasten recovery, but on the sounder principle of preventing the loss of homes and farms, of saving industry from bankruptcy, of safeguarding bank deposits, and, most important of all, of giving relief and jobs through public work to individuals and families faced with starvation. These greater and broader concerns of the American people have a prior claim for our consideration at this time. They have the right-of-way.

There is before this Congress legislation providing old-age benefits and a greater measure of security for all workers against the hazards of unemployment. We are also meeting the pressing necessities of those who are now unemployed and in need of immediate relief. In all of this every veteran shares.

To argue for this bill as a relief measure is to indulge in the fallacy that the welfare of the country can be generally served by extending relief on some basis other than actual deserving need.

The core of the question is that a man who is sick or under some other special disability because he was a soldier should certainly be assisted as such. But if a man is suffering from economic need because of the depression, even though he is a veteran, he must be placed on a par with all of the other victims of the depression. The veteran who is disabled owes his condition to the war. The healthy veteran who is unemployed owes his troubles to the depression. Each presents a separate and different problem. Any attempt to mingle the two problems is to confuse our efforts.

Even the veteran who is on relief will benefit only temporarily by this measure, because the payment of this sum to him will remove him from the group entitled to relief if the ordinary rules of relief agencies are followed. For him this measure would give, but it would also take away. In the end he would be the loser.

The veteran who suffers from this depression can best be aided by the rehabilitation of the country as a whole. His country with honor and gratitude returned him at the end of the war to the citizenry from which he came. He became once more a member of the great civilian population. His interests became identified with its fortunes and also with its misfortunes.

Some years ago it was well said by the distinguished Senior Senator from Idaho that "The soldier of this country cannot be aided except as the country itself is rehabilitated. The soldier cannot come back except as the people as a whole come back. The soldier cannot prosper unless the people prosper. He has now gone back and intermingled and become a part of the citizenship of the country; he is wrapped up in its welfare or in its adversity. The handing out to him of a few dollars will not benefit him under such circumstances, whereas it will greatly injure the prospects of the country and the restoration of normal conditions."

It is generally conceded that the settlement by adjusted-compensation certificates made in 1924 was fair and it was accepted as fair by the overwhelming majority of World War veterans themselves.

I have much sympathy for the argument that some who remained at home in civilian employ enjoyed special privilege and unwarranted remuneration. That is true, bitterly true, but a recurrence of that type of war profiteering can and must be prevented in any future war.

I invite the Congress and the veterans with the great masses of the American population to join with me in progressive efforts to root a recurrence of such injustice out of American life. But we should not destroy privilege and create new privilege at the same time. Two wrongs do not make a right.

The herculean task of the United States Government today is to take care that its citizens have the necessities of life. We are seeking honestly and honorably to do this, irrespective of class or group. Rightly, we give preferential treatment to those men who were wounded, disabled, or who became ill as a result of war service. Rightly, we give care to those who subsequently have become ill. The others—and they represent the great majority—are today in the prime of life, are today in full bodily vigor. They are American citizens who should be accorded equal privileges and equal rights to enjoy life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—no less and no more.

It is important to make one more point. In accordance with the mandate of the Congress, our budget has been set. The public has accepted it. On that basis this Congress has made and is making its appropriations. That budget asked for appropriations in excess of receipts to the extent of four billions of dollars. The whole of that deficit was to be applied for work relief for the unemployed. That was a single-minded, definite purpose. Every unemployed veteran on the relief rolls was included in that proposed deficit—he will be taken care of out of it.

I cannot in honesty assert to you that to increase that deficit this year by $2,200,000,000 will in itself bankrupt the United States. Today the credit of the United States is safe. But it cannot ultimately be safe if we engage in a policy of yielding to each and all of the groups that are able to enforce upon the Congress claims for special consideration. To do so is to abandon the principle of Government by and for the American people and to put in its place Government by and for political coercion by minorities. We can afford all that we need; but we cannot afford all that we want.

I do not need to be a prophet to assert that if these certificates, due in 1945, are paid in full today, every candidate for election to the Senate or to the House of Representatives will in the near future be called upon in the name of patriotism to support general pension legislation for all veterans, regardless of need or age.

Finally, I invite your attention to the fact that solely from the point of view of the good credit of the United States, the complete failure of the Congress to provide additional taxes for an additional expenditure of this magnitude would in itself and by itself alone warrant disapproval of this measure.

I well know the disappointment that the performance of my duty in this matter will occasion to many thousands of my fellow citizens. I well realize that some who favor this bill are moved by a true desire to benefit the veterans of the World War and to contribute to the welfare of the Nation. These citizens will, however, realize that I bear an obligation as President and as Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy, which extends to all groups, to all citizens, to the present, and to the future. I cannot be true to the office I hold if I do not weigh the claims of all in the scales of equity. I cannot swerve from this moral obligation.

I am thinking of those who served their country in the Army and in the Navy during the period which convulsed the entire civilized world. I saw their service at first hand at home and overseas. I am thinking of those millions of men and women who increased crops, who made munitions, who ran our railroads, who worked in the mines, who loaded our ships during the war period.

I am thinking of those who died in the cause of America here and abroad, in uniform and out; I am thinking of the widows and orphans of all of them; I am thinking of 5,000,000 of Americans who, with their families, are today in dire need, supported in whole or in part by Federal, State, and local governments who have decreed that they shall not starve. I am thinking not only of the past, not only of today, but of the years to come. In this future of ours it is of first importance that we yield, not to the sympathy which we would extend to a single group or class by special legislation for that group or class, but that we should extend assistance to all groups and all classes who in an emergency need the helping hand of their Government.

I believe the welfare of the Nation, as well as the future welfare of the veterans, wholly justifies my disapproval of this measure.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I return, without my approval, House of Representatives bill no. 3896, providing for the immediate payment to veterans of the 1945 face value of their adjusted-service certificates.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

THE WHITE HOUSE, May 22, 1935.

The Senate proceeded, as the Constitution prescribes, to reconsider the said bill, which is in the following words:

H. R. 3896

SEVENTY-FOURTH CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA: AT THE FIRST SESSION, BEGUN AND HELD AT THE CITY OF WASHINGTON ON THURSDAY, THE THIRD DAY OF JANUARY, ONE THOUSAND NINE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIVE

AN ACT To provide for the immediate payment to veterans of the face value of their adjusted-service certificates, for controlled expansion of the currency, and to extend the time for filing applications for benefits under the World War Adjusted Compensation Act, and for other purposes

Whereas the immediate cash payment of the adjusted-service certificates will increase tremendously the purchasing power of millions of the consuming public, distributed uniformly throughout the Nation, and will provide relief for the holders thereof who are in dire need and distress because of the present unfortunate economic conditions; and will lighten immeasurably the burden which cities, counties, and States are now required to carry for relief; and

Whereas the payment of said certificates will not create any additional debt, but will discharge and retire an acknowledged contract obligation of the Government; and

Whereas since the Government of the United States is now definitely committed to the policy of spending additional sums of money for the purpose of hastening recovery from the present economic crisis, the immediate cash payment at face value of the adjusted-service certificates, with cancelation of interest accrued and refund of interest paid, is a most effective means to that end: Therefore

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That title V of the World War Adjusted Compensation Act, as amended, is amended by adding at the end thereof three new sections, to read as follows:

Payment of certificates before maturity

Sec. 509. (a) The Administrator of Veterans' Affairs is authorized and directed to pay to any veteran to whom an adjusted-service certificate has been issued, upon application by him and surrender of the certificate and all rights thereunder (with or without the consent of the beneficiary thereof), the amount of the face value of the certificate as computed in accordance with section 501.

(b) No payment shall be made under this section until the certificate is in the possession of the Veterans' Administration, nor until all obligations for which the certificate was held as security have been paid or otherwise discharged.

(c) If at the time of application to the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs for payment under this section the principal and interest on or in respect of any loan upon the certificate have not been paid in full by the veterans (whether or not the loan has matured), then, on request of the veteran, the Administrator shall (1) pay or otherwise discharge such unpaid principal and so much of such unpaid interest (accrued or to accrue) as is necessary to make the certificate available for payment under this section, and (2) deduct from the amount of the face value of the certificate the amount of such principal and so much of such interest, if any, as accrued prior to October 1, 1931.

(d) Upon payment under this section the certificate and all rights thereunder shall be canceled.

(e) A veteran may receive the benefits of this section by application therefor, filed with the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs. Such application may be made and filed at any time before the maturity of the certificate (1) personally by the veteran, or (2) in case physical or mental incapacity prevents the making or filing of a personal application, then by such representative of the veteran and in such manner as may be by regulations prescribed. An application made by a person other than a representative authorized by such regulations, or not filed on or before the maturity of the certificate, shall be held void.

(f) If the veteran dies after the application is made and before it is filed, it may be filed by any person. If the veteran dies after the application is made, it shall be valid if the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs finds that it bears the bona fide signature of the applicant, discloses an intention to claim the benefit of this section on behalf of the veteran, and is filed before the maturity of the certificate, whether or not the veteran is alive at the time it is filed. If the death occurs after the application is made or filed but before the receipt of the payment under this act, payment shall be made to the beneficiary designated.

(g) Where the records of the Veterans' Administration show that an application, disclosing an intention to claim the benefits of this section, has been filed before the maturity of the certificate, and the application cannot be found, such application shall be presumed, in the absence of affirmative evidence to the contrary, to have been valid when originally filed.

Sec. 510. (a) If, at the time this section takes effect, a veteran entitled to receive an adjusted-service certificate has not made application therefor, he shall be entitled, upon application made under section 302, to receive at his option either the certificate under section 501 or payment of the amount of the face value thereof under section 509.

(b) Subdivisions (b) and (c) of section 302, section 311, subdivision (b) of section 312, section 602, and subdivision (b) of section 604 of the World War Adjusted Compensation Act, as amended (U. S. C., Supp. VII, title 38, secs. 612, 621, 622, 662, and 664), and hereby amended, to take effect as of December 31, 1934, by striking out "January 2, 1935" wherever it appears in such subdivisions and sections and inserting in lieu thereof "January 2, 1940."

Sec. 511. The Administrator of Veterans' Affairs, in the exercise of his powers to make regulations for payment under section 509, shall to the fullest extent practicable provide a method by which veterans may present their applications and receive payment in close proximity to the places of their residence.

SEC. 2. (a) Payment of the face value of adjusted-service certificates under section 509 or section 510 of the World War Adjusted Compensation Act, as amended, shall be made in United States notes not bearing intrest. The Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized and directed to issue such notes in such amount as may be required to make such payment, and of the same wording, form, size, and denominations as United States notes issued under existing law, except that the wording thereon shall conform to the provisions of this act. The Administrator of Veterans' Affairs and the Secretary of the Treasury are hereby authorized and directed jointly to prescribe rules and regulations for the delivery of such notes in payment under section 509 or section 510 of the World War Adjusted Compensation Act, as amended, and there is hereby appropriated out of the Treasury such amount of such notes as may be necessary to make such payment.

(b) United States notes issued pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be lawful money of the United States and shall be fixed by law. Such notes shall be legal tender in payment of all debts and dues, public and private, and shall be receivable for customs, taxes, and all public dues, and when so received shall be reissued. Such notes, when held by any national-banking association or Federal Reserve bank, may be counted as a part of its lawful reserve. The provisions of sections 1 and 2 of the act of March 14, 1900, as amended (U. S. C., title 31, secs. 314 and 408), and section 26 of the Federal Reserve Act, as amended (U. S. C., title 31, sec. 409), are hereby made applicable to such notes in the same manner and to the same extent as such provisions shall apply at the time of the enactment of this act or in the future to United States notes.

SEC. 3. (a) Whenever the index number of the wholesale all-commodity prices rise above the index number of such prices for the years 1921 to 1929, as computed by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the Department of Labor, notwithstanding any provisions of law to the contrary, the following methods for contracting the issues of currency in the United States may be in force and effect, in the manner and to the extent prescribed in subsection (b) of this section:

(1) Termination of the issuance and reissuance of Federal Reserve notes secured by direct obligations of the United States.

(2) Termination of the issuance and reissuance of national-bank circulating notes, and the retirement of such notes from circulation as rapidly as practicable.

(3) Termination of the issuance and reissuance of Federal Reserve notes secured only by gold or gold certificates.

(4) Termination of the issuance and reissuance of Federal Reserve notes secured by notes, drafts, bills of exchange, acceptances, or bankers' acceptances which are not issued in direct benefit of commerce, industry, or agriculture.

(b) Any such method of contracting currency issues may be applicable when the Secretary of the Treasury finds that its application is necessary in order to maintain the index number of wholesale all-commodity prices at the approximate level of the index number of such prices for the years 1921 to 1929, or to prevent undue expansion of the currency, and issues an order setting forth such finding. Each such order shall prescribe such rules and regulations as are necessary and appropriate to carry out the provisions of this section with respect to the method of contraction made applicable in the order. The Secretary may make such methods applicable in the order in which they are set forth in subsection (a) of this section, or in any order he chooses. When any such order is issued with respect to Federal Reserve notes, the Federal Reserve Board shall take such action as may be necessary to facilitate the enforcement of the order.

SEC. 4. Section 505 (authorizing annual appropriations ending with the year 1946 for the payment of adjusted-service certificates of the World War Adjusted Compensation Act, as amended), except the first sentence thereof, is hereby repealed. Amounts in the adjusted-service certificate fund are hereby made available for the expenses of printing and engraving United States notes issued under this Act, for paying fractional parts of a dollar which cannot be paid in United States notes issued under the provisions of this Act, and for paying the principal and interest on or in respect of loans pursuant to the provisions of subsection (c) of section 509 of the World War Adjusted Compensation Act, as amended.

SEC. 5. This Act may be cited as "the Adjusted Compensation Act, 1935."

The Senate resumed the consideration of the bill (H. R. 7672) making appropriations for the Navy Department and the naval service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1936, and for other purposes.

On motion by Mr. Vandenberg to further amend the bill by inserting on page 52, after line 5, the following:

No part of any appropriation made by this act or by later acts shall be available for payment to any contractor of the Navy Department who sells, or in any way imparts, to any person not in the employ of such contractor or a subcontractor thereof, any design, plan, patent, machinery, or other equipment used by the Navy Department at any time prior to five years after the first use thereof by the Navy Department.

Pending debate,

Mr. Byrnes raised a question of order, viz, that the amendment was general legislation upon a general appropriation bill, particularly because of the language that "No part of any appropriation made by this act or by later acts shall be available for payment on a contract of the Navy Department."

The Vice President held that the amendment was, under rule XVI, paragraph 4, general legislation, and sustained the point of order.

On motion by Mr. Vandenberg to further amend the bill by inserting on page 52, line 5, after the word "made", the following proviso:

: Provided further, That no contract for the construction of a vessel shall be entered into by the Navy Department, and no contract for the construction of a vessel once entered into by the Navy Department shall be modified, without the approval of the Comptroller General.

Pending debate,

Mr. Byrnes raised a question of order, viz, that the amendment sought to place upon another official of the Government the duty, not now devolved upon him, of passing upon contracts before they are entered into, that it went beyond the scope of a limitation, and was general legislation, and therefore in violation of rule XVI, paragraph 4.

The Vice President, sustaining the question of order, said: "Let the Chair say for the benefit of the Members of the Senate, as well as the Record, that while he was a Member of another body, and had occasion a number of times to preside over the Committee of the Whole, and later on over the House itself, he was called upon to rule upon many amendments which appealed very much to the Chair. He would have liked to see them become part of the pending legislation; but as it was then the duty of the presiding officer to interpret the rules of the House of Representatives, as it is now his duty to interpret the rules of the Senate, he sometimes found himself in a position where he was compelled to sustain points of order against amendments for which otherwise he himself would have voted.

"The Chair desires to have the clerk read a ruling rendered in the House of Representatives by an able parliamentarian, Mr. Lehlbach, confirming an earlier ruling by Mr.

Crisp, of Georgia. The Chair will ask the clerk to read the ruling, which also applies to this particular amendment."

The Chief Clerk read as follows:

"The House, on January 7, 1929, had under consideration the Treasury and Post Office appropriation bill, when Mr. Byrns, of Tennessee, offered an amendment inserting in a section the following:

"'Provided, That no part of the appropriation herein made shall be available for paying any tax refund in excess of $75,000 which has not been approved by the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation.'

"Mr. Anthony made a point of order that the amendment would require the approval of the joint committee and was contrary to existing law.

"After debate, the Chairman, Mr. Lehlbach, sustained the point of order, saying:

"'It is a well-known rule of the House that amendments which limit expenditures of money appropriated for a general purpose by excluding some specific purpose embraced in the general purpose are in order, but the rule is clear that such limitation to be in order must simply forbid the use of the money for a certain given purpose. It is the rule that anything carrying an affirmative, substantive change in existing law, that limits the functions or jurisdiction of an executive officer so drastically as to constitute a change of policy, or that imposes upon a governmental agency new duties not imposed upon it by law, is beyond the definition of a limitation and is, therefore, not in order.

"'The amendment under consideration provides that no tax refunds shall be paid by the Treasury Department in excess of $75,000 which have not been approved by the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation. In the first place, ever since the existing income-tax law has been in force, the Treasury Department has had full discretion in making refunds where it was found that taxes had been improperly paid. To subject that function to the review of another body which has not at present that function is new legislation, involving an important change of policy, and is such a limitation on existing rights and powers of the Secretary of the Treasury as to constitute new legislation.

"'The point that remains, which is governing, in the mind of the Chair, is that it imposes upon the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation a function that is not now imposed upon it by law, and this incumbent of the Chair has repeatedly held that such imposition of new duties, in the guise of a limitation, is not in order. The Chair will cite but one precedent and that precedent, the Chair thinks, will be given weight by every Member of this House because of the person who handed down the decision, a person who is still a Member of this House and one whose knowledge of parliamentary law and whose clarity in expounding it is unquestioned. I read from a decision rendered by the gentleman from Georgia [Mr. Crisp] in the Sixty-fourth Congress, on March 11, 1916: "But such limitations must not give affirmative directions and must not impose new duties upon an executive officer of the Government."

"'Now, whether it is an executive officer or a legislative body, an agency of the Government must not, in the form of a limitation, have imposed new duties. Therefore, the amendment is held out of order.'" (Congressional Record, Jan. 7, 1929, pp. 1315, 1316.)

The clerk having concluded the reading of the decision, the Vice President further said:

"The Chair may say, for the benefit of the Record, that he was very much in favor of the amendment which was offered in the House of Representatives at that time. He was a member of the joint committee, and wanted an opportunity to function, but he could not get it.

"The Chair sustains the point of order."

The bill was further amended on the motion of Mr. Vandenberg.

On motion by Mr. Pope to further amend the bill by inserting on page 52, after line 16, the following:

That none of the appropriations provided by this act or by later acts shall be available for the expenses of any naval missions to foreign countries or of any person acting as a teacher or instructor in foreign countries.

Mr. Byrnes raised a question of order against the amendment, viz, that the words "or by later acts" would affect other appropriation bills, that it was therefore not a limitation upon the expenditure of funds under the pending bill, but was legislation upon a general appropriation bill, and in violation of the rule.

Mr. Pope thereupon modified his amendment by striking out the words "or by later acts."

On the question of agreeing to the amendment, as modified,

It was determined in the negative.

On motion by Mr. Bone to further amend the bill by inserting on page 43, line 6, after the numerals "$500", the following proviso:

Provided further, That not less than 25 per centum of each succeeding lot of aircraft, including the engines for such aircraft, the procurement of which is authorized by this act and hereafter undertaken, shall be constructed and/or manufactured in Government aircraft factories and/or other plants or factories owned and operated by the United States Government.

The foregoing proviso is subject to the further condition that if it shall be determined by the President that present plants, factories, and equipment owned and operated by the Government are not such as to permit the construction and/or manufacture of the said aircraft and/or engines in such Government plants and factories in the proportions therein specified and required, then and in that event the President may by proclamation suspend such requirement in whole or in part, to the extent that capacity in such plants, factories, and equipment is insufficient to meet such requirement.

Whenever any such proclamation is made, the President shall, at the opening of the next succeeding session of the Congress, submit to the Congress a detailed estimate of (1) the expansion of existing plants, factories, and facilities owned and operated by the Government, and (2) the increase in personnel required to operate the same, necessary for the meeting of the requirement specified in the foregoing proviso. The funds necessary for the enlargement and expansion of existing plants and facilities owned by the Government, for the construction and acquisition by condemnation or otherwise of plants, factories, facilities, and equipment, for the construction and manufacture of naval aircraft, and for the personnel required to operate the same, are hereby authorized to be appropriated.

Pending debate,

Mr. Byrnes raised a question of order, viz, that the amendment modified the provisions of the so-called "Trammell Act" of March 27, 1934, with reference to the construction of aircraft in Government aircraft factories, and was therefore general legislation, and not in order under the rule.

The Presiding Officer (Mr. Robinson in the chair) sustained the question of order.

On motion by Mr. Bone to further amend the bill by inserting on page 54, line 2, after the word "plants" the following:

; it being the intent and purpose of such acts that the Government shall, insofar as practicable, develop its navy yards, arsenals, and other plants and facilities to the end that it may—

(a) At all times hereafter be able to construct, maintain, and repair its authorized vessels and naval equipment;

(b) As speedily as possible become self-sufficient in time of war; and

(c) Insofar as may be possible, eliminate private profit in war and in the preparation therefor.

Pending debate,

Mr. Byrnes raised a question of order, viz, that the amendment proposed to construe the so-called "Trammell Act" of March 27, 1934, as to the elimination of private profit, that it sought otherwise to modify the above act, and was therefore legislation and not in order on a general appropriation bill.

The Presiding Officer sustained the question of order.

On motion by Mr. Clark to further amend the bill by inserting on page 52, after line 16, the following:

No part of the appropriations made in this act shall be used for the expenses of any naval maneuvers or war game held outside the territorial waters of the United States, unless the same shall have first been approved by the Secretary of State.

Mr. Byrnes raised a question of order, viz, that the amendment took away from the Secretary of the Navy the right to determine where maneuvers should be held and vested it in the Secretary of State and was therefore legislation.

The Presiding Officer sustained the question of order.

On motion by Mr. Clark to further amend the bill by inserting on page 52, after line 16, the following:

No part of the appropriations made in this act shall be used for the salary or pay of any naval officer or of any official or employee of the Navy Department who shall make any public statement as to the policy of the United States in international affairs or its relation with foreign countries unless such statement is first approved by the Secretary of State.

Mr. Byrnes raised a question of order, viz, that it was general legislation upon a general appropriation bill.

The Presiding Officer sustained the question of order.

REORGANIZATION OF TRANSPORTATION SYSTEMS

The President pro tempore laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read, and referred to the Committee on Interstate Commerce:

To the Congress of the United States:

It is high time to deal with the Nation's transportation as a single, unified problem. For many years in the past transportation meant mainly railroads. But the rise of new forms of transportation, great expenditures of Government funds for the development of waterways, and for the building of great highways, and the development of invention within the railroad system itself have enlarged the problem far beyond that conception which dominated most of our past legislation on the subject. In some instances the Government has helped a little. In others it retarded. In still others it has given special assistance from time to time—in many instances without rhyme nor reason—in all instances without considering each aspect of the problem in the light of all the others. It is small wonder that in a transportation picture so confused the public has been inadequately served.

I have from time to time, in this session, addressed the Congress as to the necessity of various forms of Government aid and regulation of transportation. I now wish to draw together and supplement these various suggestions for the consideration of the Congress in this session.

In the railroad field there has been a growing recognition of the necessity for reorganization and coordination. To that end there was created the office of Federal Coordinator of Transportation. The Coordinator has considered various ways of effecting economies through the physical coordination of railway facilities and services, and, in addition, has studied and made suggestions for legislative measures covering both the railroads and other forms of transportation.

Another type of reorganization necessary for the sound and healthy recovery of our railroad system is financial. Many of our railroads are in a sound financial condition. Others are in need of reorganization. To enable necessary financial reorganizations to be effected inexpensively and promptly the Congress passed, 2 years ago, certain amendments to the Federal Bankruptcy Act. Shortcomings in this legislation have appeared which have prevented an efficient and extensive use of it. In order to correct these shortcomings the Coordinator has recommended certain amendments which are now before the Congress for action. Various differences of opinion as to these amendments are rapidly being adjusted and it is my hope that this legislation may be promptly enacted.

I have already recommended to the Congress my views with regard to the relations that should exist between the Federal Government and air carriers. Legislation has been introduced for the purpose of carrying out these recommendations. I am in general accord with the substance of this legislation, although I still maintain, as I indicated in my message on that subject, that a separate commission need not be established to effectuate the purposes of such legislation. Air transportation should be brought into a proper relation to other forms of transportation by subjecting it to regulation by the same agency.

A bill for the regulation of highway motor carriers has passed the Senate and is now before the House of Representatives. The practical unanimity with which the Senate passed this bill convinces me of the extent to which all of the difficult adjustments among the interests concerned were made and I recommend its early passage by the House.

Another bill for the regulation of intercoastal and coastwise trade and of some of the inland-waterway carriers prepared by the Coordinator has been introduced and is before the Congress for action. I recommend that this bill be considered by the appropriate committees and pressed to early passage. I can see no reason why the responsibility for the regulation of intercoastal, coastwise, and inland waterways should not be vested in the Interstate Commerce Commission, with proper provision for the departmentalizing of the work of the Commission.

It is my hope that the Interstate Commerce Commission may, with the addition of the new duties that I have indicated, ultimately become a Federal Transportation Commission with comprehensive powers. It had been my intention to recommend this strongly to this session of the Congress, but the time remaining seems to preclude the discussions necessary for such changes. Such a reorganization should not be delayed, however, beyond the second session of the Seventy-fourth Congress.

The efforts toward the coordination of the railroads and the general improvement of transportation conditions which were begun by the Emergency Railroad Transportation Act of 1933, should proceed, and I recommend that the act and the office of Coordinator be extended for at least another year.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

EXTENSION OF NATIONAL INDUSTRIAL RECOVERY ACT

The Senate resumed the consideration of the amendments of the House of Representatives to the joint resolution (S. J. Res. 113) to extend until April 1, 1936, the provisions of title I of the National Industrial Recovery Act, and for other purposes.

The question being on agreeing to Mr. Long's motion to reconsider the vote agreeing to Mr. Gore's amendment to Mr. Harrison's amendment to the House amendment to the text of the joint resolution,

During the delivery of an address by Mr. Long,

Mr. Thomas of Oklahoma raised a question as to the presence of a quorum;

89901—S J—74-1——28

The Presiding Officer (Mr. Guffey in the chair), in response to a parliamentary inquiry by Mr. Gore, held that Mr. Long could yield for the purpose of a quorum call without losing his status.

The Vice President, taking the chair, held, in response to a parliamentary inquiry by Mr. Harrison, that under the practice of the Senate a Senator yielding for the purpose of giving another Senator an opportunity of raising the point of no quorum did not yield the floor, and that it did not terminate his speech.

Mr. Clark raised a question of order, viz, that no business had been transacted since the last roll call.

The Vice President stated that the Senate voted on a motion, that the vote on that motion developed a quorum, and under the practice of the Senate that did not count as a quorum call.

He thereupon directed the roll to be called;

When

Eighty-six Senators answered to their names, as follows:

Adams, Ashurst, Austin, Bachman, Bailey, Bankhead, Barkley, Black, Bone, Borah, Brown, Bulkley, Bulow, Burke, Byrd, Byrnes, Capper, Caraway, Carey, Chavez, Clark, Connally, Coolidge, Copeland, Costigan, Couzens, Dickinson, Dieterich, Donahey, Duffy, Fletcher, Frazier, George, Gerry, Gibson, Glass, Gore, Guffey, Hale, Harrison, Hastings, Hatch, Hayden, Johnson, Keyes, King, La Follette, Lewis, Lonergan, Long, McCarran, McGill, McKellar, McNary, Maloney, Minton, Moore, Murphy, Murray, Neely, Norbeck, Norris, Nye, O'Mahoney, Overton, Pittman, Pope, Radcliffe, Reynolds, Russell, Schall, Schwellenbach, Sheppard, Shipstead, Smith, Steiwer, Thomas of Oklahoma, Thomas of Utah, Townsend, Trammell, Tydings, Vandenberg, Van Nuys, Wagner, Walsh, and White.

A quorum being present,

Pending debate,

Mr. Gore raised a question as to the presence of a quorum;

Mr. Clark raised a question of order, viz, that no business had been transacted since the last quorum call.

The Presiding Officer (Mr. Connally in the chair) sustained the question of order.

From the decision of the Chair, Mr. Gore appealed to the Senate.

The Presiding Officer stated the question to be, Shall the decision of the Chair stand as the judgment of the Senate? and, on a division,

It was determined in the affirmative.

Pending debate,

Mr. McCarran raised a question as to the presence of a quorum;

Mr. Barkley raised a question of order, viz, that no business had been transacted since the last quorum call.

The Presiding Officer (Mr. Minton in the Chair) held that the vote on Mr. Gore's appeal from the decision of the Chair constituted the transaction of business under the precedents; and

He directed the roll to be called;

When

Sixty-five Senators answered to their names, as follows:

Adams, Ashurst, Austin, Bachman, Bailey, Bankhead, Barkley, Black, Bone, Borah, Brown, Bulkley, Burke, Byrnes, Capper, Clark, Connally, Copeland, Costigan, Dickinson, Duffy, Frazier, George, Gerry, Gibson, Gore, Guffey, Hale, Harrison, Hastings, Hatch, Hayden, King, La Follette, Lewis, Lonergan, Long, McCarran, McGill, McKellar, McNary, Maloney, Minton, Moore, Murphy, Murray, Norris, O'Mahoney, Pittman, Pope, Radcliffe, Russell, Schall, Schwellenbach, Sheppard, Shipstead, Smith, Thomas of Oklahoma, Thomas of Utah, Townsend, Trammell, Tydings, Vandenberg, Van Nuys, and Walsh.

A quorum being present,

Mr. Long, during the further delivery of his address, propounded the following parliamentary inquiry to the Chair: "Could I ask unanimous consent, without losing the floor, to have the clerk propound an inquiry to every Member of the Senate as to whether he is willing to stay here and listen to me or whether he really does not care about it?"

The Vice President held that he would lose the floor if that were done, but suggested he might ask them individually as to their sentiments.

Mr. Long thereupon proceeded to submit such an inquiry to Mr. Adams.

Mr. LaFollette raised a question of order, viz, that Mr. Long could not yield except for a question.

The Vice President held Mr. La Follette's point of order was well taken.

Pending debate,

Certain parliamentary inquiries were submitted by Senators, in reply to which opinions were expressed by the President pro tempore.

Mr. Thomas of Oklahoma, saying that it had been stated once or twice this afternoon that one Senator could make only two speeches upon any given proposition, submitted a parliamentary inquiry if that was the holding of the present occupant of the Chair (the President pro tempore).

The President pro tempore stated it was.

Mr. Thomas of Oklahoma stated that he appealed from that decision.

Mr. Barkley raised a question of order, viz, that there had been no decision by the Chair.

The President pro tempore said: "The Senator from Oklahoma has propounded a parliamentary inquiry, which the Chair has attempted to answer; but there has been no decision, because no question has been raised, and no ruling has been made."

Mr. Thomas withdrew the appeal.

Mr. Barkley submitted a parliamentary inquiry if, aside from the mere calling of a quorum, when an appeal is taken from a ruling of the Chair and a vote is had upon that appeal, that was the transaction of business by the Senate.

The President pro tempore stated that to be his opinion.

Pending further debate,

Mr. Long yielded to Mr. McCarran, who addressed the following inquiry to him, viz: "Does the Senator from Louisiana realize that this whole matter was involved in the preparation and presentation and augmentation of the organic law when that organic law was presented to the Thirteen Original Colonies?"

Mr. Barkley raised a question of order, viz, that, under the guise of a question, no Senator had a right to deliver a dissertation on the origin of the Constitution.

The Presiding Officer (Mr. Connally in the chair) stated that, in his opinion, the question of order was well taken.

From the decision of the Chair, Mr. Gore appealed to the Senate.

The Presiding Officer stated the question to be, Shall the decision of the Chair stand as the judgment of the Senate?

Pending debate,

Mr. McCarran withdrew the question propounded by him to Mr. Long.

The Presiding Officer held that Mr. McCarran having withdrawn his question, the appeal fell with it.

Pending debate,

Mr. Long yielded to Mr. McCarran, who propounded the following inquiry, viz: "Does the Senator from Louisiana realize that in keeping with the signing of the organic law there was a presentation by letter and by spirit in the organic law itself, the everlasing doctrine, that wherever there was a sovereign State, within that sovereign State there should be a sovereign government to control its internal affairs?"

Mr. Barkley raised a question of order, viz, that, under the guise of a question, a Senator could not make a speech, and that he was not propounding a question within the meaning of the rule.

The Presiding Officer stated that he did not regard Mr. McCarran's remark as being a question in the parliamentary sense, and sustained the question of order.

From the decision of the Chair, Mr. Gore appealed to the Senate.

Pending debate,

Mr. Barkley moved to lay the appeal on the table.

Certain parliamentary inquiries having been made, and response thereto made by the Vice President,

Mr. Gore withdrew his appeal.

The Vice President having stated that Mr. Long had the floor,

Mr. Barkley raised a question of order, viz, that Mr. Long had lost the floor, and was not again entitled to it.

The Vice President held that Mr. Long had not lost the floor, because Mr. Gore had withdrawn his appeal, and that he [Mr. Long] had the same rights now that he had before the appeal was taken.

Mr. Barkley appealed from the ruling of the Chair.

The Vice President held that a Senator could rise at any time and make a point of order or a parliamentary inquiry, which did not take another Senator off the floor.

Pending debate,

Mr. Long, still in possession of the floor, asked to have the Lord's Prayer read by the clerk, to which Mr. Guffey, Mr. Schwellenbach, and other Senators objected.

Mr. Long thereupon said:

"I do not understand that kind of sentiment. All right; I see now that the Senators will not listen to reason. It is beyond reason. It is clear and it is obvious to my mind that they do not want to hear their own party platform read. They do not want to hear the Lord's Prayer read.

"'The guilty flee when no man pursueth.' They flee from their own incriminating consciences, that they are violating the platform of the party, that they will not even let it be read, and they will not let the Lord's Prayer be read."

Mr. Ashurst raised a question of order, viz, that Mr. Long was out of order for reflecting on other Senators.

The Presiding Officer (Mr. Clark in the chair) stated that, under rule XIX, Mr. Long was required to take his seat.

On motion by Mr. Lewis that Mr. Long be allowed to proceed in order,

The motion was, upon a division, agreed to.

Mr. Long thereupon continued his address.

Pending debate,

Mr. Long asked unanimous consent to withdraw his motion to reconsider, to which objections were made by Mr. McKellar, Mr. Minton, Mr. Guffey, and other Senators.

The Vice President, in response to a parliamentary inquiry by Mr. Harrison, held that a motion to reconsider could only be withdrawn by unanimous consent or by a majority vote of the Senate, as provided in paragraph 2 of rule XIX.

Mr. Long having subsequently concluded his address.

The Presiding Officer (Mr. Clark in the chair) put the question on Mr. Long's motion to reconsider the vote agreeing to Mr. Gore's amendment to Mr. Harrison's amendment; and

He announced that the ayes had it.

Mr. Schall was recognized, and asked unanimous consent that an address prepared by him be read from the desk by the clerk, to which an objection was made by Mr. McKellar.

Certain parliamentary inquiries were submitted to the Chair, and points of order raised, and a discussion arose as to whether Mr. Long's motion to reconsider had been agreed to; when

Mr. Barkley raised a question of order, viz, that the question before the Senate was on agreeing to the amendment proposed by Mr. Gore to Mr. Harrison's amendment.

The Vice President sustained the point of order.

Mr. McNary asked unanimous consent that the clerk be directed to read the remarks of Mr. Schall, when Mr. La Follette objected.

Mr. McNary thereupon moved that the clerk be directed to read Mr. Schall's remarks.

Mr. McCarran raised a question as to the presence of a quorum;

Whereupon

The President pro tempore directed the roll to be called;

When

Fifty-six Senators answered to their names, as follows:

Adams, Austin, Bachman, Bailey, Bankhead, Barkley, Black, Brown, Bulkley, Bulow, Burke, Byrd, Byrnes, Capper, Clark, Connally, Costigan, Dickinson, Duffy, Frazier, Gore, Guffey, Harrison, Hastings, Hatch, Hayden, King, La Follette, Lewis, Lonergan, Long, McCarran, McKellar, McNary, Maloney, Minton, Moore, Murphy, Murray, Norris, O'Mahoney, Pittman, Pope, Radcliffe, Russell, Schall, Schwellenbach, Sheppard, Smith, Thomas of Oklahoma, Thomas of Utah, Townsend, Trammell, Vandenberg, Van Nuys, and Wagner.

A quorum being present,

The question being taken on agreeing to Mr. McNary's motion,

It was determined in the affirmative, { Yeas 38 / Nays 17 }

On motion by Mr. McNary,

The yeas and nays being desired by one-fifth of the Senators present,

Senators who voted in the affirmative are—

Adams, Austin, Bachman, Barkley, Bulkley, Byrd, Capper, Clark, Costigan, Dickinson, Duffy, Frazier, Gore, Hastings, Hatch, Hayden, King, Lewis, Lonergan, Long, McCarran, McNary, Maloney, Minton, Norris, O'Mahoney, Pope, Radcliffe, Russell, Schall, Sheppard, Smith, Thomas of Oklahoma, Townsend, Trammell, Vandenburg, Van Nuys, and Wagner.

Senators who voted in the negative are—

Bailey, Bankhead, Black, Brown, Bulow, Burke, Byrnes, Connally, Guffey, Harrison, La Follette, McKellar, Moore, Murphy, Murray, Pittman, and Schwellenbach.

So Mr. McNary's motion was agreed to.

The address was thereupon read by the clerk.

On motion by Mr. McCarran that the Senate proceed to the consideration of the bill (H. R. 7260) to provide for the general welfare by establishing a system of Federal old-age benefits, and by enabling the several States to make more adequate provision for aged persons, dependent and crippled children, maternal and child welfare, public health, and the administration of their unemployment compensation laws; to establish a Social Security Board; to raise revenue; and for other purposes; and

Mr. McCarran having been recognized,

Mr. Clark moved to lay the motion on the table,

The Vice President held that the motion was not in order, in view of the fact that Mr. Clark did not have the floor.

Pending debate,

On motion by Mr. Barkley to lay Mr. McCarran's motion on the table,

Mr. McCarran and Mr. Long raised a question as to the presence of a quorum.

Mr. Barkley raised a question of order, viz, that no business having been transacted since the last roll call, the call for a quorum was not in order.

It appearing that the Senate subsequently voted on Mr. McNary's motion that the clerk be directed to read Mr. Schall's speech,

The President pro tempore, taking the chair, directed the roll to be called;

When

Fifty-seven Senators answered to their names, as follows:

Adams, Ashurst, Austin, Bachman, Bailey, Bankhead, Barkley, Black, Bone, Borah, Brown, Bulkley, Bulow, Burke, Byrd, Byrnes, Capper, Clark, Connally, Costigan, Dickinson, Frazier, Gore, Guffey, Harrison, Hastings, Hatch, Hayden, King, La Follette, Lewis, Lonergan, Long, McCarran, McKellar, McNary, Maloney, Minton, Moore, Murphy, Murray, Norris, O'Mahoney, Pittman, Pope, Radcliffe, Russell, Schall, Schwellenbach, Sheppard, Thomas of Oklahoma, Thomas of Utah, Townsend, Trammell, Vandenberg, Van Nuys, and Wagner.

A quorum being present,

Mr. Barkley's motion to lay Mr. McCarran's motion on the table was agreed to.

The question recurring on agreeing to Mr. Gore's amendment to Mr. Harrison's amendment,

On motion by Mr. Barkley to lay on the table Mr. Gore's amendment,

Mr. Long raised a question as to the presence of a quorum;

Mr. Barkley raised a question of order, viz, that a quorum had just been developed.

The President pro tempore held that business had been transacted (agreeing to Mr. Barkley's motion to lay Mr. McCarran's motion on the table); and

He directed the roll to be called.

When

Fifty-seven Senators answered to their names, as follows:

Adams, Ashurst, Austin, Bachman, Bailey, Bankhead, Barkley, Black, Bone, Borah, Brown, Bulkley, Bulow, Burke, Byrd, Byrnes, Capper, Clark, Connally, Costigan, Dickinson, Frazier, Gore, Guffey, Harrison, Hastings, Hatch, Hayden, King, La Follette, Lewis, Lonergan, Long, McCarran, McKellar, McNary, Maloney, Minton, Moore, Murphy, Murray, Norris, O'Mahoney, Pittman, Pope, Radcliffe, Russell, Schall, Schwellenbach, Sheppard, Thomas of Oklahoma, Thomas of Utah, Townsend, Trammell, Vandenberg, Van Nuys, and Wagner.

A quorum being present,

Mr. Barkley's motion to lay Mr. Gore's amendment on the table was agreed to.

On motion by Mr. Borah to amend Mr. Harrison's amendment,

Mr. Harrison modified his amendment accordingly; and

The amendment, as modified, was agreed to.

Mr. Harrison's motion to concur in the House amendment with an amendment was thereupon agreed to.

On motion by Mr. Harrison that the Senate agree to the amendment of the House to the title of the joint resolution,

On motion by Mr. McNary, and by unanimous consent,

The vote by which Mr. Harrison's motion to concur in the House amendment to the text of the said joint resolution with an amendment was agreed to was reconsidered.

On motion by Mr. McNary, and by unanimous consent,

Ordered, That a yea-and-nay vote be had, without further debate, on the question of agreeing to the motion of Mr. Harrison, viz, that the Senate concur in the House amendment to the text of the joint resolution with the following amendment: After the said House amendment insert the following:

Provided, That the exemption provided in section 5 of such title shall extend only to agreements and action thereunder (1) putting into effect the requirements of section 7 (a), including minimum wages, maximum hours, and prohibition of child labor; and (2) prohibiting unfair competitive practices which offend against existing law, including the antitrust laws, or which constitute unfair methods of competition under the Federal Trade Commission Act, as amended; and

Whereas General Daggett is the oldest officer on the retired list of the United States Army, the oldest officer who served during the Civil War and the Spanish-American War; and

Whereas Gen. Aaron Simon Daggett, who was born at Green Corner, Maine, June 14, 1837, and who enlisted as a private in Company E of the Fifth Maine Volunteer Infantry on April 27, 1861, served throughout the Civil War, attaining the rank of lieutenant colonel, participated in 18 battles of the Civil War, was twice wounded, and thrice commended for gallant and meritorious service during the Civil War; and

CLAIM OF CONCRETE ENGINEERING CO.

The Presiding Officer (Mr. Clark in the chair) laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read:

To the Senate:

I return herewith without my approval S. 931, an act for the relief of the Concrete Engineering Co.

The bill authorizes and directs the Secretary of the Treasury to pay to the Concrete Engineering Co., of Houston, Tex., the sum of $4,304.61 or so much thereof as will refund certain amounts assessed and collected as duties on imported steel building forms between the dates of February 23, 1926, and September 30, 1927. These amounts were not refunded under the ordinary procedure applicable to such cases because the importers failed to comply with the provisions of section 514, Tariff Act of 1922 (U. S. C., title 19, sec. 398), which made the collector's decision final and conclusive on all persons if written protest was not filed within 60 days thereafter.

In the absence of special circumstances giving merit to the claim, I think that an importer who fails to protect his rights in the manner provided by law should not be given preferential treatment over other importers who find themselves in the same position. I believe that a reasonable limitation upon the time within which protest may be filed is necessary to the orderly conduct of customs business and that the field of special legislation should not be opened to relieve importers from compliance with such provision.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

REFUND OF BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION TAXES

The Vice President laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read:

To the Senate:

I return herewith, without my approval, S. 279, an act to extend the time for the refunding of certain taxes erroneously collected from certain building and loan associations.

This bill authorizes the filing of claims for the refund of taxes which were, under the principle laid down by the United States Supreme Court in United States v. Cambridge Building & Loan Co. (278 U. S. 55), erroneously assessed and collected, regardless of the fact that claims for refund thereof were not filed within the prescribed statutory period for filing such claims.

Congress has determined that it is sound policy to include in all the revenue acts statutes of limitations, by the operation of which, after a certain period of time, it becomes impossible for the Government to collect additional taxes or for the taxpayer to obtain a refund of an overpayment of taxes. This bill selects a small class of taxpayers for special treatment by excepting them from this policy. The whole body of Federal taxpayers is thus discriminated against, and a precedent is established, opening the door to relief in all cases in which the statute operates to the prejudice of a particular taxpayer, while leaving the door closed to the Government in those cases in which the statute operates to the disadvantage of the Government.

I know of no circumstances which would justify the exception made by S. 279 to the long-continued policy of Congress, and do not believe that the field of special legislation should be opened to relieve special classes of taxpayers from the consequences of their failure to file claims within the period fixed by law.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

THE WHITE HOUSE, June 14, 1935.

Ordered, That the message, with the accompanying bill, be referred to the Committee on Claims and be printed.

TAKING OF FISH AND GAME WITHIN INDIAN RESERVATIONS IN NEW YORK

The Vice President laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read:

To the Senate:

I return without my approval the act, Senate 1942, "An act to repeal the act entitled 'An act to grant to the State of New York and the Seneca Nation of Indians jurisdiction over the taking of fish and game within the Allegany, Cattaraugus, and Oil Spring Indian Reservations', approved January 5, 1927."

The status of game and fish protection by law in the three Indian reservations mentioned in this act prior to the act of January 5, 1927, for the repeal of which this act has been passed, was somewhat chaotic, for the reason that, while theoretically the conservation laws of the State of New York applied to hunting and fishing in the reservations such laws were unenforceable with respect to the tribal Indians hunting therein, the Indians being wards of the National Government and Congress not having authorized the enforcement of the State conservation laws against them. Persons other than Indians hunting and fishing on such reservations were still subject to the New York conservation laws.

Repeal of the act of January 5, 1927, which was intended to set up an orderly and more nearly uniform administration of the conservation laws of New York throughout the State, would restore the chaotic situation to which I have referred.

It is highly desirable in this day of rapid disappearance of our wildlife, particularly the game species, that hunting and fishing throughout the land be restrained within those limits deemed by legislatures and responsible conservation officials essential for the preservation and perpetuation of the Nation's stock of wildlife.

I can perceive no reason why, at this time, tribal Indians in the State of New York should not be subject to the restrictions of the State conservation laws which apply to all other persons hunting or fishing in the same territory, certainly those features of the conservation laws which limit the seasons during which hunting and fishing may be indulged in and the numbers of game and fish that may be taken within fixed periods. It is manifest that numbers of species, especially of game birds, are only temporarily or periodically resident on the Indian reservations, passing therefrom to other portions of the State and in numbers of cases to other portions of the United States. It is, therefore, strictly true to say that the Indians are no more vested with a property interest in this game than are the people of the rest of the State or country.

Furthermore, game produced naturally or artificially in territory adjacent to the reservations inevitably pass back and forth between such territory and the reservations, as to which game it cannot with reason be contended that the Indians should have the privilege of taking it regardless of State law applicable to everybody else. The Indians are fully safeguarded against discriminative State law by the act of January 5, 1927, and by that act enjoy exemption from the hunting and fishing license feature of the State conservation law, and, in addition, are vested with the exclusive right to authorize the taking of game and fish within their reservations, and if they permit hunting and fishing, to issue the permits and licenses therefor.

JAPANESE POLICY IN MANCHURIA AND CHINA

Mr. King, by unanimous consent, submitted the following resolution (S. Res. 154), which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations:

Whereas by the Kellogg Peace Pact, signed at Paris on August 27, 1928, the high contracting parties (including the United States and Japan) solemnly declared that they condemn recourse to war for the solution of international controversies; and

Whereas by the Nine Power Treaty, signed at Washington on February 6, 1922, the contracting powers (including the United States and Japan) agreed to respect the sovereignty, the independence, and the territorial and administrative integrity of China and to refrain from taking advantage of conditions in China in order to seek special rights or privileges which would abridge the rights or subjects or citizens of friendly States; and

Whereas it is alleged that the policy pursued by Japan in Manchuria in establishing the Manchukuoan Government, in setting up a government oil monopoly of foreign oil interests, and the refusal by Manchukuo, as stated in the Japanese press, to observe the open-door policy except as to nations according her recognition, is a violation of the above treaties; and

Whereas it is alleged that more recently Japan has invaded and taken possession of Provinces in China proper south of the Great Wall, and has made demands upon China which, if insisted upon, will violate the sovereignty and independence, the territorial and administrative integrity, and the honor of China, in violation of the above treaties: Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Committee on Foreign Relations or any duly authorized subcommittee thereof, is authorized and directed to examine into the policy pursued by Japan in Manchuria and in China proper, as set forth above, with a view to determining whether such policy has violated any of the provisions of the Kellogg Peace Pact or the Nine Power Treaty, and to submit such recommendations as in their judgment are warranted by the facts.

For the purposes of this resolution the committee, or any duly authorized subcommittee thereof, is authorized to hold such hearings, to sit and act at such times and places during the sessions and recesses of the Senate in the Seventy-fourth Congress, to employ such clerical and other assistants, to require by subpena or otherwise the attendance of such witnesses and the production of such books, papers, and documents, to administer such oaths, to take such testimony, and to make such expenditures as it deems advisable. The cost of stenographic services to report such hearings shall not be in excess of 25 cents per hundred words. There is hereby authorized to be appropriated to the Account for each fiscal year, beginning with the fiscal year ending June 30, 1937, an amount sufficient as an annual premium to provide for the payments required under this title, such amount to be determined on a reserve basis in accordance with accepted actuarial principles, and based upon such tables of mortality as the Social Security Board shall from time to time adopt, and upon an interest rate of 3 percent per annum compounded annually. The Social Security Board shall submit annually to the Bureau of the Budget an estimate of the appropriations to be made to the Account.

"(b) It shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury to invest such portion of the amounts credited to the Account as is not, in his judgment, required to meet current withdrawals. Such investment may be made only in interest-bearing obligations of the United States or in obligations guaranteed as to both principal and interest by the United States. For such purpose such obligations may be acquired (1) on original issue at par, or (2) by purchase of outstanding obligations at the market price. The purposes for which obligations of the United States may be issued under the Second Liberty Bond Act, as amended, are hereby extended to authorize the issuance at par of special obligations exclusively to the Account. Such special obligations shall bear interest at the rate of 3 percent per annum. Obligations other than such special obligations may be acquired for the Account only on such terms as to provide an investment yield of not less than 3 percent per annum.

"(c) Any obligations acquired by the Account (except special obligations issued exclusively to the Account) may be sold at the market price, and such special obligations may be redeemed at par plus accrued interest.

"(d) The interest on, and the proceeds from the sale or redemption of, any obligations held in the Account shall be credited to and form a part of the Account.

"(e) All amounts credited to the Account shall be available for making payments required under this title.

"(f) The Social Security Board shall include in its annual report the actuarial status of the Account.

"OLD-AGE BENEFIT PAYMENTS

"SEC. 202. (a) Every qualified individual (as defined in sec. 210) shall be entitled to receive, with respect to the period beginning on the date he attains the age of 65, or on January 1, 1942, whichever is the later, and ending on the date of his death, an old-age benefit (payable as nearly as practicable in equal monthly installments) as follows:

"(1) If the total wages (as defined in sec. 210) determined by the Board to have been paid to him, with respect to employment (as defined in sec. 210) after December 31, 1936, and before he attained the age of 65, were not more than $3,000, the old-age benefit shall be at a monthly rate of one-half of 1 percent of such total wages;

"(b) In no case shall the monthly rate computed under subsection (a) exceed $85.

"(c) If the Board finds at any time that more or less than the correct amount has theretofore been paid to any individual under this section, then, under regulations made by the Board, proper adjustments shall be made in connection with subsequent payments under this section to the same individual.

"(d) Whenever the Board finds that any qualified individual has received wages with respect to regular employment after he attained the age of 65, the old-age benefit payable to such individual shall be reduced, for each calendar month in any part of which such regular employment occurred, by an amount equal to 1 month's benefit. Such reduction shall be made, under regulations prescribed by the Board, by deductions from one or more payments of old-age benefit to such individual.

"PAYMENTS UPON DEATH

"(b) If the Board finds that the correct amount of the old-age benefit payable to a qualified individual during his life under section 202 was less than 3½ percent of the total wages by which such old-age benefit was measurable, then there shall be paid to his estate a sum equal to the amount, if any, by which such 3½ percent exceeds the amount (whether more or less than the correct amount) paid to him during his life as old-age benefit.

"(b) After any individual becomes entitled to any payment under subsection (a), no other payment shall be made under this title in any manner measured by wages paid to him, except that any part of any payment under subsection (a) which is not paid to him before his death shall be paid to his estate.

"AMOUNTS OF $500 OR LESS PAYABLE TO ESTATES

"OVERPAYMENTS DURING LIFE

"SEC. 206. If the Board finds that the total amount paid to a qualified individual under an old-age benefit during his life was more than the correct amount to which he was entitled under section 202, and was 3½ percent or more of the total wages by which such old-age benefit was measurable, then upon his death there shall be repaid to the United States by his estate the amount, if any, by which such total amount paid to him during his life exceeds whichever of the following is the greater: (1) Such 3½ percent, or (2) the correct amount to which he was entitled under section 202.

"METHOD OF MAKING PAYMENTS

TAX METHODS AND POLICIES

The Vice President laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read, referred to the Committee on Finance, and ordered to be printed:

To the Congress of the United States:

As the fiscal year draws to its close it becomes our duty to consider the broad question of tax methods and policies. I wish to acknowledge the timely efforts of the Congress to lay the basis through its committees for administrative improvements, by careful study of the revenue systems of our own and of other countries. These studies have made it very clear that we need to simplify and clarify our revenue laws.

The Joint Legislative Committee, established by the Revenue Act of 1926, has been particularly helpful to the Treasury Department. The members of that committee have generously consulted with administrative officials, not only on broad questions of policy but on important and difficult tax cases.

On the basis of these studies and of other studies conducted by officials of the Treasury, I am able to make a number of suggestions of important changes in our policy of taxation. These are based on the broad principle that if a government is to be prudent its taxes must produce ample revenues without discouraging enterprise; and if it is to be just it must distribute the burden of taxes equitably. I do not believe that our present system of taxation completely meets this test. Our revenue laws have operated in many ways to the unfair advantage of the few, and they have done little to prevent an unjust concentration of wealth and economic power.

With the enactment of the income-tax law of 1913 the Federal Government began to apply effectively the widely accepted principle that taxes should be levied in proportion to ability to pay and in proportion to the benefits received. Income was wisely chosen as the measure of benefits and of ability to pay. This was and still is a wholesome guide for national policy. It should be retained as the governing principle of Federal taxation. The use of other forms of taxes is often justifiable, particularly for temporary periods; but taxation according to income is the most effective instrument yet devised to obtain just contribution from those best able to bear it and to avoid placing onerous burdens upon the mass of our people.

The movement toward progressive taxation of wealth and of income has accompanied the growing diversification and interrelation of effort which marks our industrial society. Wealth in the modern world does not come merely from individual effort; it results from a combination of individual effort and of the manifold uses to which the community puts that effort. The individual does not create the product of his industry with his own hands; he utilizes the many processes and forces of mass production to meet the demands of a national and international market.

Therefore, in spite of the great importance in our national life of the efforts and ingenuity of unusual individuals, the people in the mass have inevitably helped to make large fortunes possible. Without mass cooperation great accumulations of wealth would be impossible save by unhealthy speculation. As Andrew Carnegie put it, "Where wealth accrues honorably, the people are always silent partners." Whether it be wealth achieved through the cooperation of the entire community or riches gained by speculation—in either case the ownership of such wealth or riches represents a great public interest and a great ability to pay.

I

My first proposal, in line with this broad policy, has to do with inheritances and gifts. The transmission from generation to generation of vast fortunes by will, inheritance, or gift is not consistent with the ideals and sentiments of the American people.

The desire to provide security for one's self and one's family is natural and wholesome, but it is adequately served by a reasonable inheritance. Great accumulations of wealth cannot be justified on the basis of personal and family security. In the last analysis such accumulations amount to the perpetuation of great and undesirable concentration of control in a relatively few individuals over the employment and welfare of many, many others.

Such inherited economic power is as inconsistent with the ideals of this generation as inherited political power was inconsistent with the ideals of the generation which established our Government.

Creative enterprise is not stimulated by vast inheritances. They bless neither those who bequeath nor those who receive. As long ago as 1907, in a message to Congress, President Theodore Roosevelt urged this wise social policy:

"A heavy progressive tax upon a very large fortune is in no way such a tax upon thrift or industry as a like tax would be on a small fortune. No advantage comes either to the country as a whole or to the individuals inheriting the money by permitting the transmission in their entirety of the enormous fortunes which would be affected by such a tax; and as an incident to its function of revenue raising, such a tax would help to preserve a measurable equality of opportunity for the people of the generations growing to manhood."

A tax upon inherited economic power is a tax upon static wealth, not upon that dynamic wealth which makes for the healthy diffusion of economic good.

Those who argue for the benefits secured to society by great fortunes invested in great businesses should note that such a tax does not affect the essential benefits that remain after the death of the creator of such a business. The mechanism of production that he created remains. The benefits of corporate organization remain. The advantage of pooling many investments in one enterprise remains. Governmental privileges such as patents remain. All that is gone is the initiative, energy, and genius of the creator—and death has taken these away.

I recommend, therefore, that in addition to the present estate taxes there should be levied an inheritance, succession, and legacy tax in respect to all very large amounts received by any one legatee or beneficiary; and to prevent, so far as possible, evasions of this tax, I recommend further the imposition of gift taxes suited to this end.

Because of the basis on which this proposed tax is to be levied and also because of the very sound public policy of encouraging a wider distribution of wealth, I strongly urge that the proceeds of this tax should be specifically segregated and applied, as they accrue, to the reduction of the national debt. By so doing, we shall progressively lighten the tax burden of the average taxpayer, and, incidentally, assist in our approach to a balanced Budget.

II

The disturbing effects upon our national life that come from great inheritances of wealth and power can in the future be reduced, not only through the method I have just described, but through a definite increase in the taxes now levied upon very great individual net incomes.

To illustrate: The application of the principle of a graduated tax now stops at $1,000,000 of annual income. In other words, while the rate for a man with a $6,000 income is double the rate for one with a $4,000 income, a man having a $5,000,000 annual income pays at the same rate as one whose income is $1,000,000.

Social unrest and a deepening sense of unfairness are dangers to our national life which we must minimize by rigorous methods. People know that vast personal incomes come not only through the effort or ability or luck of those who receive them, but also because of the opportunities for advantages which government itself contributes. Therefore, the duty rests upon the Government to restrict such incomes by very high taxes.

III

In the modern world scientific invention and mass production have brought many things within the reach of the average man which in an earlier age were available to few. With large-scale enterprise has come the great corporation drawing its resources from widely diversified activities and from a numerous group of investors. The community has profited in those cases in which large-scale production has resulted in substantial economies and lower prices.

The advantages and the protections conferred upon corporations by Government increase in value as the size of the corporation increases. Some of these advantages are granted by the State which conferred a charter upon the corporation, others are granted by other States which, as a matter of grace, allow the corporation to do local business within their borders. But perhaps the most important advantages, such as the carrying on of business between two or more States, are derived through the Federal Government—great corporations are protected in a considerable measure from the taxing power and the regulatory power of the States by virtue of the interstate character of their businesses. As the profit to such a corporation increases, so the value of its advantages and protections increases.

Furthermore, the drain of a depression upon the reserves of business puts a disproportionate strain upon the modestly capitalized small enterprise. Without such small enterprises our competitive economic society would cease. Size begets monopoly. Moreover, in the aggregate these little businesses furnish the indispensable local basis for those Nation-wide markets which alone can insure the success of our mass-production industries. Today our smaller corporations are fighting not only for their own local well-being but for that fairly distributed national prosperity which makes large-scale enterprise possible.

It seems only equitable, therefore, to adjust our tax system in accordance with economic capacity advantage and fact. The smaller corporations should not carry burdens beyond their powers; the vast concentrations of capital should be ready to carry burdens commensurate with their powers and their advantages.

We have established the principle of graduated taxation in respect to personal incomes, gifts, and estates. We should apply the same principle to corporations. Today the smallest corporation pays the same rate on its net profits as the corporation which is a thousand times its size.

I, therefore, recommend the substitution of a corporation income tax graduated according to the size of corporation income in place of the present uniform corporation income tax of 13¾ percent. The rate for smaller corporations might well be reduced to 10¾ percent, and the rates graduated upward to a rate of 16¾ percent on net income in the case of the largest corporations, with such classifications of business enterprises as the public interest may suggest to the Congress.

Provisions should, of course, be made to prevent evasion of such graduated tax on corporate incomes through the device of numerous subsidiaries or affiliates, each of which might technically qualify as a small concern even though all were in fact operated as a single organization. The most effective method of preventing such evasions would be a tax on dividends received by corporations. Bona fide investment trusts that submit to public regulation and perform the function of permitting small investors to obtain the benefit of diversification of risk may well be exempted from this tax.

In addition to these three specific recommendations of changes in our national tax policies, I commend to your study and consideration a number of others. Ultimately we should seek through taxation the simplification of our corporate structures through the elimination of unnecessary holding companies in all lines of business. We should likewise discourage unwieldy and unnecessary corporate surpluses. These complicated and difficult questions cannot adequately be debated in the time remaining in the present session of this Congress.

I renew, however, at this time the recommendations made by my predecessors for the submission and ratification of a constitutional amendment whereby the Federal Government will be permitted to tax the income on subsequently issued State and local securities and likewise for the taxation by State and local governments of future issues of Federal securities.

In my Budget message of January 7 I recommended that the Congress extend the miscellaneous Internal Revenue taxes which are about to expire and also to maintain the current rates of those taxes which, under the present law, would be reduced. I said then that I considered such taxes necessary to the financing of the Budget for 1936. I am gratified that the Congress is taking action on this recommendation.

If any sale, lease, transfer, assignment, mortgage, or conveyance of such property is made without complying with the foregoing requirements, or if any property is abandoned, the Corporation may declare all unpaid installments of principal and interest (accrued or to accrue) to be immediately due and payable.

Whereas various European nations indebted to the United States, with the exception of the Republic of Finland, have ceased to make payment of their obligations to the United States; and

Whereas the United States holds the unconditional obligations of said nations, duly ratified by the parliaments thereof, agreeing to make payment of principal and interest of the amounts due the United States; and

Whereas it has been repeatedly stated that while said nations are desirous of discharging their obligations according to the terms thereof, exchange difficulties and lack of sufficient gold prevent payment in full in money, and that payment in goods manufactured or produced in said debtor nations is the only practicable method of payments of a large part of said obligations; and

Whereas the United States has an inadequate merchant marine, particularly as to modern passenger vessels; and

Whereas several of said debtor nations have recently built passenger vessels of the largest size and highest speed, of a type which the United States does not possess, but which it is desirable and necessary for the United States to possess; and

Whereas it is both possible and practicable for said debtor nations to build for the United States, in part payment of their debts, passenger and freight vessels of modern type, thereby employing labor and utilizing material in the countries of said debtor nations, and avoiding exchange difficulties arising from the transfer of money between debtor and creditor: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the President of the United States be, and he is hereby, respectfully requested to bring the facts above set forth to the attention of maritime European nations indebted to the United States, and invite them to build and furnish to the United States such number and types of passenger and freight vessels as may be mutually agreed upon, the value of said vessels to be applied in part payment of the obligations due to the United States from said nations.

Whereas it is understood that the Philippine Government and the Philippine people are sympathetic to the belief that because of the unusual governmental relations and other bonds which have existed between the Governments of the islands and of the United States, the products of American workmen are entitled to protection in the islands against those of foreign industries whose wage and living standards are not comparable with American standards; and

Whereas the Philippine Government has unofficially indicated its willingness to sanction such protection in one form or another upon indication that such protection for the products of its citizens is desired by the Government of the United States; and

Whereas the Philippine Legislature is now in session: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the President of the United States be respectfully requested to advise the Governor General of the Philippine Islands to convey to the president of the Philippine Senate and the speaker of the Philippine House of Representatives a request that the legislature, before adjourning its present session, take such action as will protect effectively American textiles in the Philippine market.

NATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS ACT

Mr. Walsh submitted the following conference report:

The committee of conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the amendments of the House to the bill (S. 1958) to promote equality of bargaining power between employers and employees, to diminish the causes of labor disputes, to create a National Labor Relations Board, and for other purposes, having met, after full and free conference, have agreed to recommend and do recommend to their respective Houses as follows:

That the House recede from its amendments numbered 9, 23, 24, and 25.

That the Senate recede from its disagreement to the amendments of the House numbered 1, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 10, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, and 22, and agree to the same.

Amendment numbered 2: That the Senate recede from its disagreement to the amendment of the House numbered 2, and agree to the same with an amendment as follows: In lieu of the matter proposed to be inserted by the House amendment, insert the following:

Section 1. The denial by employers of the right of employees to organize and the refusal by employers to accept the procedure of collective bargaining lead to strikes and other forms of industrial strife or unrest, which have the intent or the necessary effect of burdening or obstructing commerce by (a) impairing the efficiency, safety, or operation of the instrumentalities of commerce; (b) occuring in the current of commerce; (c) materially affecting, restraining, or controlling the flow of raw materials or manufactured or processed goods from or into the channels of commerce, or the prices of such materials or goods in commerce; or (d) causing diminution of employment and wages in such volume as substantially to impair or disrupt the market for goods flowing from or into the channels of commerce.

The inequality of bargaining power between employees who do not possess full freedom of association or actual liberty of contract, and employers who are organized in the corporate or other forms of ownership association substantially burdens and affects the flow of commerce, and tends to aggravate recurrent business depressions, by depressing wage rates and the purchasing power of wage earners in industry and by preventing the stabilization of competitive wage rates and working conditions within and between industries.

Experience has proved that protection by law of the right of employees to organize and bargain collectively safeguards commerce from injury, impairment, or interruption, and promotes the flow of commerce by removing certain recognized sources of industrial strife and unrest, by encouraging practices fundamental to the friendly adjustment of industrial disputes arising out of differences as to wages, hours, or other working conditions, and by restoring equality of bargaining power between employers and employees.

It is hereby declared to be the policy of the United States to eliminate the causes of certain substantial obstructions to the free flow of commerce and to mitigate and eliminate these obstructions when they have occurred by encouraging the practice and procedure of collective bargaining and by protecting the exercise by workers of full freedom of association, self-organization, and designation of representatives of their own choosing, for the purpose of negotiating the terms and conditions of their employment or other mutual aid or protection.

And the House agree to the same.

Amendment numbered 11: That the Senate recede from its disagreement to the amendment of the House numbered 11, and agree to the same with an amendment as follows: In lieu of the matter proposed to be inserted by the House amendment insert the following:

(b) The Board shall decide in each case whether, in order to insure to employees the full benefit of their right to self-organization and to collective bargaining, and otherwise to effectuate the policies of this Act, the unit appropriate for the purposes of collective bargaining shall be the employer unit, craft unit, plant unit or subdivision thereof.

SUITS FOR PAYMENTS UNDER GOLD CLAUSE OF BONDS

The Vice President laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read, and referred to the Committee on Banking and Currency:

To the Congress of the United States:

Before the termination of this session of the Congress I believe that it is important that definite action be taken to eliminate any uncertainty with respect to the right of holders of gold-clause bonds of the Government to sue for payment either in gold or else in legal tender, with an additional sum of 69 cents on every dollar.

To this end I urge the withdrawal by the United States of its consent to be sued upon its currency or securities. The question of the effect of the so-called "gold clause", in the light of the monetary legislation of the Seventy-third Congress, came before the Supreme Court at the term just closed. A suit for additional payment under existing circumstances, the Court said, would "constitute not a recoupment of loss in any proper sense but an unjustified enrichment." Bonds of the United States containing gold clauses—all of them issued, sold, and payable wholly within the United States—have been continuously quoted on the exchanges at no higher prices than bonds not containing such clauses. But the continuing possibility of actions by litigious persons leaves open the continuing possibility of speculation. There is no public interest, under these conditions, in permitting a handful of private litigants to exploit the general public in the hope of a wholly speculative private profit.

This conclusion will hold so long as the Congress adheres to its declared policy, now more than a third of a century old, to maintain the equal value of every dollar in the market.

I recommend, therefore, the enactment of legislation which will make clear that it is our fixed policy to continue to treat the bondholders of all our securities equally and uniformly, to afford any holder of any gold-clause security who thinks he could by any possibility sustain any loss in the future an opportunity to put himself immediately in a position to avoid such future loss, and to remove all possibility of any suits designed to hamper the Government in administering the public debt and in financing its ordinary and emergency expenditures.

More specifically, I recommend the immediate enactment of legislation (1) that will authorize and direct the Secretary of the Treasury, at the request of the holders of gold-clause securities of the United States, to make payment therefor in cash, dollar for dollar, with accrued interest, or, at the holder's election, to exchange such securities for non-gold-clause securities with the same interest rate and maturity; (2) that will terminate any consent which the United States may have voluntarily given to be sued on its securities, coins, or currencies; and (3) that will reaffirm the fixed policy of the United States to make payment to all holders of its securities, coins, and currencies on an equal and uniform dollar-for-dollar basis and will make appropriations available for payments on this basis and on this basis only.

There is no constitutional or inherent right to sue the Government; on the contrary, the immunity of the sovereign from suit is a principle of universal acceptance, and permission to bring such suits is an act of grace which with us may be granted or withheld by the Congress. The courts, it is hardly necessary for me to add, will always be open to those who seek justice; but they were not established for use by a few to enrich themselves at the expense of the many, nor to enable a few to harass and embarrass sovereign action by the Government when taken for the benefit of all.

Not only justice to the holders of our currency and of our securities, who support and rely on our policy of equal and uniform treatment to all, but also the interests of our entire people require that the Government of the United States make it clear that it cannot and will not consent to the use of its courts in aid of efforts to sabotage the operations of Government or in aid of private speculation.

This proposal reasserts and makes definite the control of the Congress over the securities and money issued by the United States of America.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

THE WHITE HOUSE, June 27, 1935.

CLAIMS OF FIDELITY TRUST CO. AND OTHERS

The Vice President laid before the Senate the following communication from the Secretary of the Senate, which, together with the accompanying message from the President of the United States, was read, and, with the accompanying papers, was referred to the Committee on Claims and ordered to be printed:

UNITED STATES SENATE,
Washington, July 1, 1935.

Hon. JOHN N. GARNER,
President of the Senate.

MY DEAR MR. PRESIDENT: On Tuesday, June 18, 1935, the Committee on Enrolled Bills of the Senate presented to the President of the United States the enrolled bill (S. 694) for the payment of the claims of the Fidelity Trust Co. of Baltimore, Md., and others, which had passed both Houses of Congress and been signed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the President of the Senate.

The Senate, at 5:35 p. m. Thursday, June 27, 1935, took a recess until 12 noon on Monday, July 1, 1935.

During the interim the President of the United States sent by messenger a message addressed to the Senate, dated June 27, 1935, giving his reasons for not approving this bill. The Senate not being in session on the last day which the President had for the return of this bill under the provisions of the Constitution of the United States, in order to protect the interests of the Senate so that it might have the opportunity to reconsider the bill, I accepted the message, and I now present to you the President's veto message, with the accompaying papers, for disposition by the Senate.

Sincerely yours,

EDWIN A. HALSEY,
Secretary of the Senate.

To the Senate:

I return herewith, without my approval, S. 694, an act for the payment of the claims of the Fidelity Trust Co. of Baltimore, Md., and others.

This bill authorizes refunds of the bankers' special taxes which were, under the principles laid down by the United States Supreme Court in Fidelity & Deposit Co. v. United States (259 U. S. 296) and United States v. Fidelity & Deposit Co. (266 U. S. 587), erroneously collected many years ago under the acts of June 13, 1898, and October 22, 1914, notwithstanding the fact that the prescribed statutory periods for refund have long since expired.

But recently there was submitted to me another bill which proposed to except certain taxpayers from the operation of the statutes of limitations pertaining to the revenue laws by extending the time for the refunding of certain taxes to such taxpayers. At that time I had occasion to express my accord with the enacted policy of Congress that it is sound to include in all revenue acts statutes of limitations, by the operation of which, after a fixed period of time, it becomes impossible for the Government to collect additional taxes or for the taxpayer to obtain a refund of an overpayment of taxes. I pointed out in that instance that legislation, such as the proposed bill, selects a small class of taxpayers for special treatment by excepting them from that policy. Such legislation thus discriminates against the whole body of Federal taxpayers and establishes a precedent which would open the door to relief in all cases in which the statute operates to the prejudice of a particular taxpayer, while leaving the door closed to the Government in those cases in which the statute operates to the disadvantage of the Government.

In this regard the instant measure (S. 694) does not differ in principle from S. 279, which was under consideration on the prior occasion. With regard to S. 694, too, I know of no circumstances which would justify the exception made by that bill to the long-continued policy of Congress. Again I must express my belief that the field of special legislation should not be opened to relieve special classes of taxpayers from the consequences of their failure to perfect their claims for the refund of taxes within the period fixed by law.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

THE WHITE HOUSE, June 27, 1935.

CLAIM OF HEIRS OF JAMES TAYLOR, DECEASED

The Vice President laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read, and, with the accompanying bill, referred to the Committee on Agriculture and Forestry and ordered to be printed:

To the Senate:

I return without approval Senate 2306, an act to confer jurisdiction upon the Court of Claims to hear, determine, and render judgment upon the claim of the heirs of James Taylor, deceased Cherokee Indian, for the value of certain lands now held by the United States, and for other purposes.

The bill involves a claim of approximately $389,706 made by the heirs of James Taylor, a deceased Cherokee Indian, for some 22,800 acres of land in North Carolina, now a part of the Nantahala National Forest. A finding of facts in connection with this claim was transmitted to Congress by the Court of Claims on November 11, 1915, and is contained in the Senate report, no. 875, Seventy-third Congress, second session, on Senate 3092, a bill similar in purpose, which was vetoed by me, both because I considered that it tied the hands of the Court of Claims and prevented an equitable determination of the case, and because of other objectionable features.

While the present bill omits most of the objectionable features of that bill, I invite particular attention to section 4 of the present bill, which authorizes the court to allow attorney's fees in addition to the award on the claim. Such action is without precedent, and if permitted to stand, the United States would be placed in the position of paying the fees for attorneys representing both the plaintiff and the defendant. If the court awarded the claimants in this case the total amount stated, the Government, in addition to paying $389,706 or any other amount found due, would pay a sum of not to exceed an additional 10 percent to the attorneys for the plaintiffs. Any fees to attorneys should be paid out of the amount recovered.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

THE WHITE HOUSE, June 26, 1935.

THOMAS G. CARLIN

The Vice President laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, which was read, and, with the accompanying bill, referred to the Committee on Military Affairs and ordered to be printed:

To the Senate:

I return herewith, without my approval, S. 1410, entitled "An act for the relief of Thomas G. Carlin."

This bill authorizes me to summon Thomas G. Carlin, formerly a captain in the Regular Army, before a retiring board to inquire whether at the time of his resignation he was incapacitated for active service, and whether such incapacity was a result of an incident of service, and if, as a result of such inquiry, it is found that he was so incapacitated, to take the necessary action to have him placed upon the retired list of the Army.

From the facts in this case of record in the War Department it appears that on September 9, 1929, a board of general officers placed the then Captain Carlin provisionally in class B, under the provisions of the National Defense Act, as amended; that on December 2, 1929, charges were preferred against him involving drunkenness and disorderly conduct; and that while these charges were pending he tendered his unconditional resignation, which was accepted. It further appears that although Captain Carlin, at the time of his separation from the service, expressed the belief that he was suffering from the effects of being gassed in France in 1918, and an injury received in an automobile accident in October 1929, his final physical examination on January 4, 1930, by the Army medical authorities showed that he was not incapacitated for active field service at that time. Also, as I am advised, his annual physical examinations for several years prior to and including 1928, as well as a 4 months' period of observation and general medical survey in a general hospital, failed to develop any incapacity for the performance of full military duty.

I am also advised by the Veterans' Administration that a claim filed by Thomas G. Carlin for disability compensation was disallowed November 20, 1930, because of his failure to establish as much as a 10-percent service-connected disability.

In view of the foregoing, it would be a futile thing for me to order this man before an Army retiring board, even if I considered him entitled thereto, which I do not. It is not good policy subsequently to reopen the cases of officers separated from the military service with a view to placing them upon the retired list, when at the time of their separation they were clearly not entitled to such treatment. The retirement system of the Regular Army was provided for the twofold purpose of attracting desirable permanent personnel to the service and of vitalizing the active list. Its maintenance for such purpose is vital to the national defense, and should not be jeopardized by utilizing it as a means of relief or for placing upon the retired list persons other than the permanent personnel of the Military Establishment.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

THE WHITE HOUSE, June 27, 1935.

INVESTIGATION OF PATENT POOLS AND PATENT HOLDING CORPORATIONS

Mr. Fletcher, by unanimous consent, submitted the following resolution (S. Res. 164), which was referred to the Committee on Interstate Commerce:

Whereas the following combinations of patent holding corporations, patent pools, and major companies in each commodity and industry, directly or indirectly affecting interstate commerce, the national defense, and relations with foreign governments and interests, viz: Glass-container industry—including milk bottles, beverage bottles, and pharmaceutical ware; radio industry; electrical industry—including electrical equipment manufacturing and articles approved by underwriters; railway signaling apparatus and systems—including automatic train control; business-machine industry—including stenciling machines, tabulators, bookkeeping machines, and cash registers; ethyl-gasoline industry; and telephone and telegraph equipment industry; and

Whereas the combinations of holding corporations, patent pools, and the major companies in each industry simultaneously control most, if not all, of the thousands of patents covering products of the above-mentioned industries through patent pools and exclusive franchises to the continuing disadvantage of other manufacturers, small enterprises, and the consuming public; and

Whereas it is alleged that the control of these patent pools and patents is tantamount to the power to dominate the industries and to fix all prices for the products thereof by mentioning royalties under the patents on the one hand and by issuing or refusing to issue franchises for the manufacture and use of patented articles on the other hand; and

Whereas the military and naval forces cannot effectively operate without the patented articles so essential to the national defense; and

Whereas it is alleged that the advantages inherent in the exercise of the exclusive franchise to manufacture and use the various patented articles are not available to all manufacturers in each of the industries upon open, equal, and reasonable terms but are granted or withheld solely within the absolute discretion of the holding corporations or patent pools; and

Whereas it is alleged that such limitations upon the free use of the patented products tends to substantially lessen free and open competition and constitutes an unreasonable restraint of trade, and

Whereas it is alleged that this control of holding corporations and patent pools is preventing the full recovery of small industries, preventing the reemployment of hundreds of thousands of unemployed: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Committee on Interstate Commerce, or any duly authorized subcommittee thereof, is authorized and directed to make a full and complete investigation of patent pools, patent holding corporations, and the major companies and corporations in each of the above-named industries, with a view to determining to what extent, if any, their patent rights, trade practices, trade policies, contracts, financial status, and other functions directly or indirectly affect interstate commerce, and national defense, and our relations with foreign governments, and to determine the cost of Government purchase of patented articles manufactured by such industries and such other matters as may be pertinent thereto. The committee shall report to the Senate as soon as practicable the result of its investigation, together with its recommendations.

For the purposes of this resolution, the committee, or any duly authorized subcommittee thereof, is authorized to hold such hearings, to sit and act at such times and places during the sessions and recesses of the Senate in the Seventy-fourth and succeeding Congresses, to employ such clerical and other assistants, to require by subpena or otherwise the attendance of such witnesses and the production of such books, papers, and documents, to administer such oaths, to take such testimony, and to make such expenditures as it deems advisable. The cost of stenographic services to report such hearings shall not be in excess of 25 cents per hundred words. The expenses of the committee, which shall not exceed $———, shall be paid from the contingent fund of the Senate upon vouchers approved by the chairman.

EXTENSION OF AIR MAIL SERVICE

Mr. McKellar submitted the following conference report:

The committee of conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the amendment of the Senate to the bill (H. R. 6511) to amend the air-mail laws, and to authorize the extension of the Air Mail Service, having met, after full and free conference, have agreed to recommend and do recommend to their respective Houses as follows:

That the House recede from its disagreement to the amendment of the Senate and agree to the same with an amendment as follows:

In lieu of the matter proposed to be inserted by the Senate amendment insert the following:

That subsection (a) of section 3 of the Act entitled "An Act to revise air-mail laws, and to establish a commission to make a report to the Congress recommending an aviation policy", approved June 12, 1934, as amended (48 Stat. 933, 1243), is amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 3. (a) The Postmaster General is authorized to award contracts for the transportation of air mail by airplane between such points as he may designate, and for initials periods of not exceeding three years, to the lowest responsible bidders tendering sufficient guaranty for faithful performance in accordance with the terms of the advertisement at fixed rates per airplane-mile: Provided, That where the Postmaster General holds that a low bidder is not responsible or qualified under this Act, such bidder shall have the right to appeal to the Comptroller General, who shall speedily determine the issue, and his decision shall be final: Provided further, That the base rate of pay which may be bid and accepted in awarding such contracts shall in no case exceed 33⅓ cents per airplane-mile for transporting a mail load not exceeding three hundred pounds. Payment for transportation shall be at the base rate fixed in the contract for the first three hundred pounds of mail or fraction thereof plus one-tenth of such base rate for each additional one hundred pounds of mail or fraction thereof, computed at the end of each calendar month on the basis of the average mail load carried per mile over the route during such month, except that in no case shall payment exceed 40 cents per airplane-mile."

Sec. 2. Subsection (c) of section 3 of such Act is amended to read as follows:

"(c) If, in the opinion of the Postmaster General, the public interest requires it, he may grant extensions of any route: Provided, That the aggregate mileage of all such extensions on any route in effect at one time shall not exceed two hundred and fifty miles, and that the rate of pay for such extensions shall not be in excess of the rate per mile fixed for the service thus extended."

Sec. 3. The first sentence of subsection (d) of section 3 of such Act is amended to read as follows:

"The Postmaster General may designate certain routes as primary or as secondary routes. He shall designate as primary routes at least three transcontinental routes, with such termini as he may deem advisable, and, in addition thereto, such other routes as he may consider in the public interest, but no route less than seven hundred and fifty miles in length shall be designated as a primary route: Provided, That the present routes from Seattle to San Diego and from Newark (or New York, as the case may be) to Miami, Florida, may be held and regarded as other than primary routes: Provided further, That the Southern Transcontinental Route from Boston via New York (or Newark, as the case may be) and Washington to Los Angeles, shall be designated as a primary route."

Sec. 4. Subsection (f) of section 3 of such Act is amended to read as follows:

"(f) The Postmaster General shall not award contracts for air-mail routes or extend such routes in excess of an aggregate of thirty-two thousand miles, and shall not pay for air-mail transportation on such routes and extensions in excess of an annual aggregate of forty-five million airplane-miles. Subject to the foregoing, the Postmaster General shall prescribe the number and frequency of schedules, intermediate regular stops, and time of departure of all planes carrying air mail, with due regard for the volume of mail carried over each route and for connecting schedules, and he may, under such regulations as he may prescribe, authorize and, notwithstanding any other provisions of this Act, compensate for a special schedule or an extra or emergency trip in addition to any regular schedule over air-mail routes or portions thereof at the same mileage rate paid for regular schedules on the contract route or routes, or at a lesser rate if agreed to by the contractor and the Postmaster General, and he may utilize therefor any scheduled passenger or express flight of the contractor between the terminal points or over a portion of any route whenever the needs of the service may so require: Provided, That the Postmaster General may, upon application by an air-mail contractor, authorize said contractor for his own convenience to transport air mail on any nonmail schedule or plane, with the understanding that the weights of mail so transported will be credited to regular mail schedules and no mileage compensation will be claimed therefor and the miles flown in such cases will not be computed in the annual aggregate of flown mileage authorized under this section."

Sec. 5. Subsection (a) of section 6 of such Act is amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 6. (a) The Interstate Commerce Commission is hereby empowered and directed, after notice and hearing, to fix and determine by order, as soon as practicable and from time to time, the fair and reasonable rates of compensation within the limitations of this Act for the transportation of air mail by airplane and the service connected therewith over each air-mail route, and over each section thereof covered by a separate contract, prescribing the method or methods by weight or space, or both, or otherwise, for ascertaining such rates of compensation, and to publish the same, which shall continue in force until changed by the said Commission after due notice and hearing, and so much of subsection (g) of section 3 of this Act as is in conflict with this section is hereby repealed."

Sec. 6. Subsection (e) of section 6 of such Act is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

"In arriving at such determination the Commission shall disregard losses resulting, in the opinion of the Commission, from the unprofitable maintenance of nonmail schedules, in cases where the Commission may find that the gross receipts from such schedules fail to meet the additional operating expense occasioned thereby. In fixing and determining such rates, if it shall be contended or alleged by the holder of an air-mail contract that the rate of compensation in force for the service involved is insufficient, the burden of establishing such insufficiency and the extent thereof shall be assumed by him. In no case shall the rates fixed and determined by the said Commission hereunder exceed the limits prescribed in section 3 (a) of this Act.

"The Commission is hereby authorized and directed, after having made a full and complete examination and audit of the books, and after having examined and carefully scrutinized all expenditures and purported expenditures, of the holders of the contracts hereinafter referred to, for goods, lands, commodities, and services, in order to determine whether or not such expenditures were fair and just, and were not improper, excessive, or collusive, in the cases of the eight air-mail contracts which are allowed, by a previous report of the Commission, the rate of 33⅓ cents per mile, under the provisions of the Act of June 12, 1934, on routes Numbered 7, 12, 13, 14, 19, 25, 27, and 32, and the Commission shall make a report to the Congress, not later than January 15, 1936, whether or not, in its judgment, a fair and reasonable rate of compensation on each of said eight contracts, under the other provisions and conditions of said Act, as herein amended, is in excess of 33⅓ cents per mile; together with full facts and reasons in detail why it recommends for or against any claim for increase."

Sec. 7. Subsection (b) of section 6 of such Act is amended to read as follows:

"(b) The Interstate Commerce Commission is hereby directed at least once in each calendar year from the date of the award of any contract to examine the books, accounts, contracts, and entire business records of the holder of each air-mail contract, and to review the rates of compensation being paid to such holder in order to be assured that no unreasonable profit is being derived or accruing therefrom, and in order to fix just rates. In determining what may constitute an unreasonable profit the said Commission shall take into consideration the income derived from the operation of airplanes over the routes affected, and in addition to the requirements of section 3 (f) of this Act, shall take into consideration all forms of expenditures of said companies in order to ascertain whether or not the expenditures have been upon a fair and reasonable basis on the part of said company and whether or not the said company has paid more than a fair and reasonable market value for the purchase or rent of planes, engines, or any other types or kind, or class, or goods, or services, including spare parts of all kinds, and whether or not the air-mail contracting company has purchased or rented any kind of goods, commodities, or services from any individuals who own stock in or are connected with the said contracting companies or has purchased such goods and services from any company or corporations in which any of the individuals employed by or owning stock in the air-mail contracting company have any interest or from which such purchase or rents any of the employees or stockholders of air-mail contracting companies would be directly or indirectly benefited. Within thirty days after a decision has been reached upon such review by the Interstate Commerce Commission touching such profit a full report thereof shall be made to the Postmaster General, to the Secretary of the United States Senate, and to the Clerk of the House of Representatives."

Sec. 8. The first sentence of subsection (c) of section 6 of such Act is amended to read as follows:

"Any contract (1) let, extended, or assigned pursuant to the provisions of this Act, and in full force and effect on March 1, 1935, or (2) which may be let subsequent to such date, pursuant to the provisions of this Act and shall have been satisfactorily performed by the contractor during its full initial period, shall, from and after such date, or from and after the termination of its initial period, as the case may be, be continued in effect for an indefinite period, and compensation therefor, on and after March 1, 1935, during such period of indefinite continuance, shall be paid at the rate fixed by order of the Commission under this Act, subject to such additional conditions and terms as the Commission may prescribe, upon recommendation of the Postmaster General, which shall be consistent with the requirements and limitations contained in section 1 of this Act; but any contract so continued in effect may be terminated by the Commission upon sixty days' notice, upon such hearing and notice thereof to interested parties as the Commission may determine to be reasonable; and may also be terminated, in whole or in part, by mutual agreement by the Postmaster General and the contractor, or for cause by the contractor upon sixty days' notice."

Sec. 9. Subsection (d) of section 7 of such Act is amended to read as follows:

"(d) No person shall be qualified to enter upon the performance of, or thereafter to hold an air-mail contract (1) if, at or after the time specified for the commencement of mail transportation under such contract, such person is (or, if a partnership, association, or corporation, has a member, officer, or director, or an employee performing general managerial duties, that is) an individual who has theretofore entered into any unlawful combination to prevent the making of any bids for carrying the mails: Provided, That whenever required by the Postmaster General or Interstate Commerce Commission the bidder shall submit an affidavit executed by the bidder, or by such of its officers, directors, or general managerial employees as the Postmaster General or Interstate Commerce Commission may designate, sworn to before an officer authorized and empowered to administer oaths, stating in such affidavit that the affiant has not entered nor proposed to enter into any combination to prevent the making of any bid for carrying the mails, nor made any agreement, or given or performed, or promised to give or perform, any consideration whatever to induce any other person to bid or not to bid for any mail contract, or (2) if it pays any officer, director, or regular employee compensation in any form, whether as salary, bonus, commission, or otherwise, at a rate exceeding $17,500 per year for full time: Provided further, That it shall be unlawful for any such officer or regular employee to draw a salary of more than $17,500 per year from any air-mail contractor, or a salary from any other company if such salary from any company makes his total compensation more than $17,500 per year."

Sec. 10. Section 10 of such Act is amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 10. All persons holding air-mail contracts shall be required to keep their books, records, and accounts under such regulations as may be promulgated by the Postmaster General, and he is hereby authorized, if and when he deems it advisable to do so, to examine and audit the books, records, and accounts of such contractors, and to require such contractors to submit full financial reports in such form and under such regulations as he may prescribe.

"Whenever an audit of the books, records, or accounts of any air-mail contractor is made by the auditors of the Interstate Commerce Commission, a full and complete report thereof shall be made to the Post Office Department within thirty days, and that report shall contain all instances in which the contractor has failed to comply with any of the provisions of the uniform system of accounts prescribed by the Post Office Department; and the Postmaster General shall, upon request, have at all times access to the records and reports of the Commission concerning air mail and air-mail contracts. There is authorized to be used from the appropriations for Contract Air Mail Service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1936, a sum not in excess of $25,000 for the purpose of auditing the books and records of air-mail contractors by the Post Office Department."

Sec. 11. Section 13 of such Act is amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 13. It shall be a condition upon the holding of any air-mail contract that the rate of compensation and the working conditions and relations for all pilots and other employees of the holder of such contract shall conform to decisions heretofore or hereafter made by the National Labor Board, or its successor in authority, notwithstanding any limitation as to the period of its effectiveness included in any such decision heretofore rendered. This section shall not be construed as restricting the right of any such employees by collective bargaining to obtain higher rates of compensation or more favorable working conditions and relations."

Sec. 12. Section 15, as amended, of such Act is amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 15. After June 30, 1935, no person holding a contract or contracts for carrying air mail on a primary route shall be awarded or hold any contract for carrying air mail on any other primary route, nor on more than three additional routes other than primary routes. In case one person holds several contracts covering different sections of one air-mail route as designated by the Postmaster General, such several contracts shall be counted as one contract for the purpose of the preceding sentence. It shall be unlawful for air-mail contractors, competing in parallel routes, to merge or enter into any agreement, express or implied, which may result in common control or ownership. After June 30, 1935, no air-mail contractor shall be allowed to maintain passenger or express service off the line of his air-mail route which in any way competes with passenger or express service available upon another air-mail route, except that off-line competitive service which has been regularly maintained for at least four months next preceding July 1, 1935, and such seasonal schedules as may have been regularly maintained during the year prior to July 1, 1935, may be continued if restricted to the number of schedules and to the stops scheduled and in effect during such period or season.

"Upon application of the Postmaster General or of any interested air-mail contractor, setting forth that the general transport business or earnings upon an air-mail route are being adversely affected by any alleged unfair practice of another air-mail contractor, or by any competitive air-transport service supplied by an air-mail contractor other than that supplied by him on the line of his prescribed air-mail route, or by any service inaugurated by him after March 1, 1935, through the scheduling of competitive nonmail flights over an air-mail route, the Interstate Commerce Commission shall, after giving reasonable notice to the air-mail contractor complained of, inquire fully into the subject matter of the allegations; and if the Commission shall find such practice or competition or any part thereof to be unfair, or that such competitive service in whole or in part is not reasonably required in the interest of public convenience and necessity, and if the Commission shall further find that in either case the receipts or expenses of an air-mail contractor are so affected thereby as to tend to increase the cost of air-mail transportation, then it shall order such practice or competitive service, or both, as the case may be, discontinued or restricted in accordance with such findings, and the respondent air-mail contractor named in the order shall comply therewith within a reasonable time to be fixed in such order. The compensation of any air-mail contractor shall be withheld during any period that it continues to violate any order of the Commission or any provision of this Act."

Sec. 13. Section 6 of such Act is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof a new subsection to read as follows:

"(f) Each holder of an air-mail contract shall file with the Interstate Commerce Commission, in such form as the Commission shall require, on July 1st and January 1st of each year, a full statement of all free transportation hereafter, furnished during the preceding semiannual period to any persons, including in each case the regular tariff value thereof, the name and address of the donee, and a statement of the reason for furnishing such free transportation."

For reimbursement to the State of California of the net balance due said State for actual expenditures made in aiding the United States during the War between the States as found and certified by the Comptroller General of the United States, August 14, 1930, and printed in Senate Document Numbered 220, Seventy-first Congress, third session, the sum of $6,462,145.35.

Pending debate,

Mr. Adams raised a question of order, viz, that the amendment provided for the payment of a private claim and, under rule XVI, paragraph 5, was not in order.

The President pro tempore, in the following language, overruled the point of order:

"The junior Senator from California [Mr. McAdoo] has offered an amendment to the pending deficiency appropriation bill, providing an appropriation of $6,462,145.35 to carry out an authorization provided in an act which was passed by the Senate at the present session, authorizing such an appropriation.

"There are two grounds on which the amendment might be subject to a point of order. The first ground is that it adds a new item of appropriation to an appropriation bill. The amendment is not subject to a point of order on that ground, because it is especially stated in rule XVI, paragraph 1:

"'Or to add a new item of appropriation, unless it be made to carry out the provisions of some existing law, or treaty stipulation, or act, or resolution previously passed by the Senate during that session.'

"The bill authorizing the appropriation of the $6,462,145.35 was passed by the Senate during the present session of Congress.

"Paragraph 5 of rule XVI reads as follows:

"'No amendment, the object of which is to provide for a private claim, shall be received to any general appropriation bill, unless it be to carry out the provisions of an existing law or a treaty stipulation, which shall be cited on the face of the amendment.'

"The question arises as to whether the claim in question is a private claim. Undoubtedly claims which are not private claims are not subject to such a point of order as has been raised against this claim. The committee preparing the rules must have had in mind a distinction between private and public claims.

"It has been held by the Senate on several occasions that an amendment to an appropriation bill to pay a claim of a State or a municipality is not a private claim. If we go back to 1853, we shall find that a question very similar to this question arose. The Chair reads from Gilfry, volume 1, page 87:

"'The general deficiency appropriation bill was under consideration. An amendment was proposed "that the sum of $300,000 be paid to the State of California to be applied to the expenses of the State government prior to the admission of California into the Union as a State."

"'An objection was made, but the President pro tempore decided he thought that the item having been previously agreed to in a bill that passed the Senate at the last session but not yet acted upon by the House, was in order.'

"It is the opinion of the Chair that the general precedents of this body are to that effect, and that they hold that a claim by a State, such as the one for which appropriation is now asked, is not a private claim but is a public claim, and therefore the point of order is not sustained."

Mr. McAdoo's amendment was then agreed to.

The bill was further amended on the motion of Mr. McKellar, the motion of Mr. Adams, from the Committee on Appropriations, the motion of Mr. Thomas of Oklahoma, the motion of Mr. Bone, the motion of Mr. Byrnes, and the motion of Mr. Fletcher.

The Senate resumed the consideration of the reported amendment on page 76, beginning in line 15,

Pending debate,

Mr. La Follette raised a question as to the presence of a quorum;

Whereupon

The Presiding Officer (Mr. Clark in the chair) directed the roll to be called;

TREATMENT OF JEWISH AND CATHOLIC CITIZENS OF GERMANY

Mr. King, by unanimous consent, submitted the following resolution (S. Res. 174), which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations:

Whereas the present Government of the German Reich has deprived groups of its citizens of many of their civil and political rights and has imposed upon them restrictions, pains, and penalties of a harsh and severe character; and

Whereas among the groups who are victims of persecution and discrimination at the hands of the Reich State are more than 600,000 Jewish citizens and a large number of Christians of partly or wholly Jewish descent; and

Whereas it is claimed that the Reich State has inaugurated and is carrying into effect a plan for the purpose of driving all Jewish citizens from Germany or depriving them of all civil and political rights, including the right to hold and own property and to sustain themselves and their families; and

Whereas the Reich State is also discriminating against German citizens who are members of the Catholic Church and is subjecting them to restrictions which deprive them of rights and privileges to which they are entitled as citizens of such state; and

Whereas the anti-Semitic campaign of the Reich State in part parallels the cruel and inhuman policies adopted by a number of nations in former centuries, and is opposed to the spirit of liberty and tolerance and justice which prevails among civilized peoples; and the antireligious activities of the state respecting members of the Catholic faith are contrary to the traditions of freedom of conscience and liberty of religious worship which are the cherished traditions of all civilized governments; and

Whereas the Government of the United States, as well as other governments, have not infrequently, through appropriate channels, protested against the cruel and inhuman treatment accorded the citizens of other States, and have sought in all appropriate ways to mitigate the sufferings to which such citizens were subjected: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate, or a subcommittee thereof, be authorized to conduct hearings and receive such evidence as may be presented relating to the treatment of the Jewish and Catholic citizens of Germany above referred to, and particularly to inquire into the charges that Jewish citizens have been denied their political and civil rights and have been compelled to leave Germany, and that others who remained are being persecuted and subjected to indignities and deprivation of property and opportunities to obtain sustenance for themselves and families; and also to inquire into the treatment of Catholic citizens and the extent to which they have been discriminated against and deprived of their political and civil rights and the freedom of conscience and liberty of religious worship; and

Resolved further, That the said committee, after such inquiry, shall submit its report to the Senate with such recommendations as it deems proper relating to the policy of the United States with reference to the matters herein referred to and in what way the cause of tolerance and religious freedom may be served.

For the purposes of this resolution the committee, or any duly authorized subcommittee thereof, is authorized to hold such hearings, to sit and act at such times and places during the sessions and recesses of the Senate in the Seventy-fourth Congress, to employ such clerical and other assistants, to require by subpena or otherwise the attendance of such witnesses and the production of such books, papers, and documents, to administer such oaths, to take such testimony, and to make such expenditures as it deems available. The cost of stenographic services to report such hearings shall not be in excess of 25 cents per hundred words. The expenses of the committee, which shall not exceed $5,000, shall be paid from the contingent fund of the Senate upon vouchers approved by the chairman.

BANKING ACT OF 1935

The Senate resumed the consideration of the bill (H. R. 7617) to provide for the sound, effective, and uninterrupted operation of the banking system, and for other purposes.

The question being on agreeing to the amendment, as modified, yesterday proposed by Mr. Nye as a substitute for title II, viz, in lieu of the language proposed to be inserted on page 144 beginning with line 10 and extending down to and including line 6 on page 154 (relating to amendments of the Federal Reserve Act) insert the following:

Title II.—To issue money and regulate the value thereof

It is the purpose of this title to restore to Congress its constitutional power to issue money and regulate the value thereof; to provide for the orderly distribution of the abundance with which a beneficent Creator has blessed us; to establish and maintain the purchasing power of money at a fixed and equitable level; to restore the values of property to just and equitable levels; to increase the prices of agricultural products to a point where they will yield the cost of production plus a fair profit to the farmer; to provide a living and just annual wage which will enable every citizen willing to work and capable of working to maintain and educate his family on an increasing level or standard of living; to repay debts with dollars of equal value; to lift in part the burden of taxation; and for other purposes.

The Constitution of the United States in article I, section 8, clause 5, provides that Congress shall have the power to coin money and regulate the value thereof and of foreign coins;

The present practice of issuing book credits by commercial banks, and transferring the title of said credits by check, provides a supplementary medium of exchange, abrogating the said constitutional provision and establishing a separate, private, and independent monetary system; and

The permanent welfare of the people and the protection of the economic life of the Nation are dependent on the establishment of a monetary system wholly subject to the control of Congress, which will promote the interests of agriculture and labor, of industry, trade, commerce, and finance for the economic well-being of all citizens by the maintenance of price levels, which will avoid excessive expansion or disastrous contraction and which will protect the national credit and currency at home and in the world's markets.

Section 1. There is hereby created a central bank, which shall be known as the "Bank of the United States of America", which may be abbreviated as the "Bank of the U. S. A."

Sec. 2. The Bank of the United States of America, so created, shall be the agency of the Congress of the United States to issue the money of the United States, to control the value thereof, and the value of foreign moneys, and it shall have sole jurisdiction over all monetary stocks and all moneys and shall be the custodian of the public credit of the United States. It shall be the central depository of all reserve funds of all banks, banking institutions, and banking firms under the jurisdiction of the United States. It shall be the sole fiscal agent of the United States Government. All acts of Congress providing for the issuance of circulating notes by national banks are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. (a) There is hereby created a governing board of the Bank of the United States of America, which shall be known as the "Board of Directors of the Bank of the United States of America", which shall be the monetary authority and agent of Congress of the Government of the United States. The Board of Directors of the Bank of the United States of America shall be composed of one representative from each State, appointed by the President of the United States by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, for a period of twelve years. Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the appointment and confirmation, they shall be divided by lot equally into six classes; the seats of the directors of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year; the seats of the second class at the expiration of the fourth year; the third class at the expiration of the sixth year; the fourth class at the expiration of the eighth year; the fifth class at the expiration of the tenth year; and the sixth class at the expiration of the twelfth year; so that one-sixth may be chosen every second year; and if vacancies happen by resignation or otherwise the President may make a temporary appointment subject to Senate confirmation to fill the vacancy. The Board of Directors shall choose from among their own number an executive board consisting of seven members and including a governor and a vice governor selected by a majority of the forty-eight directors. The salary of each director shall be the same as that of an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, paid out of the funds of the United States Treasury not otherwise appropriated. The directors shall not during their term of office hold any direct or indirect financial interest in any bank, banking institution, banking firm, or financial institution, or any firm or corporation as stockholder, director, or officer either in the United States or in any foreign country. The Board of Directors shall assembled on the first Monday in December and remain in session at least nine months during each year. A majority shall constitute a quorum. The Board may determine the rules for its proceedings. Congress may, by the process of impeachment, remove a director. No director shall be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States or of the States, Territories, or possessions, nor be a Member of either House of Congress. Any director shall be eligible for reappointment. Upon attaining the age of seventy years, each director shall retire, with an annual pension for the rest of his natural life equal to $1,000 per year for each year of service or major fraction thereof: Provided, That the maximum annual pension shall be $12,000, which shall be paid out of the funds of the United States Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

(b) The Secretary of the Treasury and the Comptroller of the Currency shall be ex-officio members of the Executive Board of the Bank of the United States of America.

(c) The members of the Federal Reserve Board at the time of the enactment of this act shall serve as members of the Executive Board of the Bank of the United States of America until their successors are appointed and confirmed, as herein specified.

Sec. 4. (a) The Board of Directors of the Bank of the United States of America is authorized to appoint and fix the compensation of a president and vice president and such other executive officers, examiners, economists, and other experts as may be necessary to carry out its functions under this act, without regard to provisions of other laws applicable to the employment and compensation of officers and employees of the United States; and, in addition thereto, the Board may, subject to the civil-service laws, appoint such further officers and employees as in their judgment may be necessary, and fix their salaries in accordance with the Classification Act of 1923, as amended.

(b) The Board of Directors of the Bank of the United States of America shall have its principal office in Washington, District of Columbia. It shall establish branch offices in each State of the United States and in its Territories and possessions and may establish agencies to conduct a general business of banking and to provide banking facilities in any recognized trading center of the United States which is denied adequate banking facilities by private institutions, and shall formulate policies and regulations for the management of such branch offices and agencies. Branch offices shall be designated by States, as "Maine Branch, Bank of the United States of America"; "California Branch, Bank of the United States of America", and so forth.

Sec. 5. (a) After the passage of this act no currency shall be issued under the authority of the United States except the notes of the Bank of the United States of America of the same size as the present Federal Reserve notes and of such denominations as may be determined by the Executive Board of the Bank of the United States of America, which said bank notes shall be full legal tender at face value for all debts, public and private, within the United States or its Territories or possessions.

(b) Within one year from the passage of this act all present Federal Reserve notes, Federal Reserve bank notes, national bank notes, gold certificates, silver certificates, Treasury notes of 1890, and United States notes issued and outstanding shall be recalled for redemption, and those turned in for redemption shall be retired and destroyed, and notes of the Bank of the United States of America herein provided shall be issued to exchange, it being the purpose of this act to substitute the notes of the Bank of the United States of America herein provided for all other forms of paper currency of the United States.

Sec. 6. In the exercise of its jurisdiction as agent of the Congress of the United States to issue money and to control the value thereof, the Executive Board of the Bank of the United States of America may from time to time order and direct the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States to engrave or cause to be engraved, and to print or cause to be printed, United States Bank notes as provided in this act, in such quantities and denominations as the said Board may deem necessary, and to hold the said United States Bank notes subject to further order of the said Board.

Sec. 8. (a) Immediately upon the passage of this act, the Bank of the United States of America is hereby authorized and directed as soon as possible to purchase the capital stock of the twelve Federal Reserve banks and branches, and agencies thereof, and to pay to the owners thereof in the notes of the Bank of the United States of America the paid-in value of said stock, with six per centum per annum interest from the last dividend date.

(b) That all member banks of the Federal Reserve System are hereby required and directed to deliver forthwith to the Bank of the United States of America all the stock of the said Federal Reserve banks owned or controlled by them, together with any and all claims of any kind or nature in and to the capital assets of the said Federal Reserve banks, it being the intention of this act to vest in the Government of the United States the absolute and unconditional ownership of the said Federal Reserve banks.

Sec. 9. Upon the purchase of the stock of any Federal Reserve bank by the Bank of the United States of America as herein provided, the said Federal Reserve bank shall immediately become a branch of the Bank of the United States of America and subject in every respect to the jurisdiction of the Board of Directors of the Bank of the United States of America herein provided for, and the terms of the officers of the Board of Governors of the said Federal Reserve bank shall immediately cease and terminate: Provided, however, That the chairman of the Board of Governors of the said Federal Reserve bank and all the executive officers or employees thereof shall continue to perform their customary duties and obligations in the operation of said Federal Reserve bank until their successors shall be appointed by the Board of Directors of the Bank of the United States of America.

Sec. 10. (a) All individuals, firms, associations, or corporations engaged in the business of banking as defined by law and among other things receiving deposits of money or credit from the citizens or firms, corporations, or associations of any State and transferring or transporting said money or credit or the title thereto to other banks or individuals, firms, associations, or corporations of any other State or States, Territories, and possessions of the United States, are hereby declared to be engaged in interstate commerce, and as such are subject to Federal jurisdiction and to the jurisdiction of the Bank of the United States of America and all the provisions of this act.

(b) Within one year after the passage of this act, all banking institutions under the jurisdiction of the Bank of the United States of America shall be required to keep on deposit with the Bank of the United States of America, or in its vaults, United States bank notes herein provided for a full 100 per centum of its deposits which are subject to check and payable on demand; and, in addition thereto, it shall keep within its vaults the further sum equal to 5 per centum upon all savings or investment deposits commonly known as "time" deposits. All demand deposits shall be held in trust for the benefit of the depositors and shall not be merged with or become a part of the assets of the bank, nor shall such trust deposits be liable for any debt or obligation of the said bank.

(c) For the purpose of creating the lawful money reserve hereinabove required, the Bank of the United States of America shall purchase from banks and from individuals, firms, and corporations in the United States, bonds of the United States Government, or guaranteed by the United States Government, and may purchase obligations of States or municipalities of the United States whenever necessary to carry out the purposes of this act.

Sec. 11. The Bank of the United States of America is hereby authorized to purchase or sell gold, silver, and foreign exchange in the financial markets of the United States at such times and in such quantities as in its discretion is necessary to carry out the purposes of this act, namely, to regulate the value of money of the United States and of foreign countries.

Sec. 12. (a) The Bank of the United States of America shall have jurisdiction over and shall control and supervise all banking institutions whatsoever of the United States and Territories and possessions thereof, subject to law, and shall have the power to prescribe such rules and regulations not inconsistent with the law as it may deem desirable for the safe and proper conduct of the banks and banking institutions within its jurisdiction.

(b) The Comptroller of the Currency and all officers of the Government of the United States, exercising any supervisory powers or duties over the banks of the United States, or any of them, shall carry out and perform such rules and regulations for the conduct of banks and banking institutions in the United States or Territories or possessions thereof as may, from time to time, be prescribed by the Bank of the United States of America through its duly designated officers.

Sec. 13. Directly upon the passage of this act, the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the Department of Labor shall be transferred to the Bank of the United States of America, and such Bureau shall thereafter be under the supervision of the Board of Directors of the Bank of the United States of America. The statistical department of the present Federal Reserve Board, together with the statistical departments of the Comptroller of the Currency, the Secretary of the Treasury, and of the Treasurer of the United States, together with the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce and the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, shall all be consolidated with the Bureau of Labor Statistics, and the name of the consolidated bureaus and departments shall be the "Bureau of United States Statistics." The duties of said Bureau, in addition to all those now prescribed by law for the bureaus and departments consolidated therein, shall be to collect, assemble, and analyze authentic data, for the purpose of determining the true and correct relation of the total amount of money in actual circulation, including both currency and credit money commonly called "demand deposits", to prices, wages, industry and commerce, the standard of living, employment and unemployment, to the end that the Board of Directors of the Bank of the United States of America and the executive Board thereof may scientifically and accurately determine the rate at which progressive additions to the stock or circulating money, including coin, currency, and credit, must be made in order to maintain an even and stable purchasing power, and to promote a constantly rising standard of living for the people of this Nation, unlimited except by the extent of natural resources and the willingness of the people to work.

Sec. 14. It is hereby made mandatory upon the Board of Directors of the Bank of the United States of America and the executive Board thereof to provide such stable purchasing power of money and equitable price levels, first, by the progressive purchase of the bonds of the United States and the creation of the 100-per centum reserves behind demand deposits, and, further, if necessary, by increasing the money in circulation by paying the extraordinary and then the ordinary expenses of government by currency issue until the average commodity price level reaches the index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics for 1926. The Board of Directors of the Bank of the United States of America will determine a true and equitable commodity price level to succeed that of 1926, and it is made mandatory on the Board of Directors to provide issues of currency which will maintain this level.

Sec. 15. The Board of Directors of the Bank of the United States shall recommend to Congress the retirement through taxation of such excesses of currency as may be necessary to keep the price level from rising above the level prescribed by section 14 of this act.

Sec. 16. All laws or parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 17. If any provision of this act or the application of such provision to any person or circumstance shall be held invalid, the remainder of this act or the application of such provision to persons or circumstances other than those as to which it is held invalid shall not be affected thereby.

Sec. 18. This act shall take effect January 1, 1936, or sooner by proclamation of the President.

Sec. 19. This act may be cited as the "National Banking and Monetary Control Act of 1935."
