Vol. I

MARCH 1937

No. 3

It is the agricultural products which give life to human beings and animals in this world. The products chiefly depend on rainfall, climatic conditions and fertility of soil. Of these, rainfall is most essential for their production. It is easy, with some experience, to select a good soil, but it is very difficult to foretell the climatic condition, the exact date on which rains may be expected. The climatic conditions and the rainfall can be predicted only with a sound knowledge of astrological science and practical experience to apply the above science. The rainfall and the climate of any place will always vary every minute according to the movements of the planets and their positions (longitudes and latitudes). We generally see in practical experience only the ordinary changes such as days, nights, months, seasons, years, Newmoons, Fullmoons, Eclipses, Cyclones, Earthquakes, fire, floods, high and low tides in the Ocean, epidemics, excess of rain and want of rain, shipwrecks, excess of heat, volcanic eruptions, sudden deaths of animals, men and plants by sunstroke and wars etc.

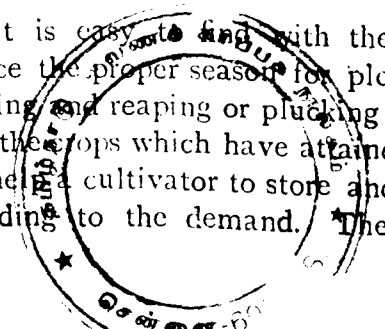

Why and how do these happen ?

All these take place owing to the different changes which occur among planets. When we experience all these and the effects of some important planets we see, like the Sun and the Moon in everyday life, is it not possible to study the science deeply and know the effects of the other planets which give many wonderful effects at every portion of a second of this universe, of which we can make out but a very few, that too only by those who are specialised in the science? It may not be incorrect to say that no science except astrology could foretell accurately about the rainfall well in advance. It is only in these modern days we find a department like the Government Statistical Department which publishes a rough idea of climate, rainfall and of production, depending on the past and present positions which may be generally correct but not always. In ancient days and even in these modern days it is only the astrologers who publish the Indian Calendars called 'Panchangams' wherein the occurrences for the current year regarding climatic conditions, rainfall, fluctuation of all commodities, loss of life, etc., are accurately predicted. Is it not interesting to know these things a year in advance and make the best use of the same so as to be profited. The business has been analysed as follows:—(1) production, (2) demand and (3) supply.

Of course, specially for the foodstuffs, it is natural that there will always be a demand. To meet the demand or supply we have to consider the production, which purely depends upon the soil, climate and mostly on the rainfall which no science except astrology can explain.

It is easy to find with the help of astrological science the proper season for ploughing, sowing, transplanting and reaping or plucking so that rains may not spoil the crops which have attained perfection. It will also help a cultivator to store and sell in proper season according to the demand. The prices of grains etc.,

will go down if the production is more and demand is less. If demand and production be equal the prices will be steady. If production is less and demand is more, the prices will naturally increase. To study the market as to its fall or rise, astrology is quite essential, by which alone one can be benefited. In our Magazine the "Kalanidhi" we give special attention to the agricultural section so that our readers may be benefited. Reference may be made to our January issue wherein the prices of Silver, Gold, Steel, Iron, Oil, etc., have been foretold and facts may be verified. Hence we wish the readers of our magazine would make the best use of the opinion contained therein.

We intend to publish in the future issues of our Magazine from April onwards the elementary principles on astrology and palmistry in a simple style, so that it may be easily understood by one and all of our readers.

(2nd, 11th, 14th, 20th, 22nd, 27th and 29th.)

2nd and 11th. The price of cotton will go down. In general the tendency of all market prices will be downward.

Those who are born in Virgo and Gemini will be worried very much by debtors, and enemies, about litigation and in travelling.

20th and 27th. Though it may look better for the first few days for those who are born in Gemini and Virgo yet they will be much worried in business, in service and love affairs etc. from about the middle of the month. The prices of food-stuff and cotton will go down considerably. It would be better to buy and stock, and those who do so will be profited within a few days or during the month.

General Condition of the Commodities and Various markets of the world.

The prices of Gold, Rubies, Beads, Medicines, Liquors, Electrical goods, Sugars, minerals, cements and Mines shares, etc., will gradually go down this month. It is advisable to be careful when dealing in gold.

The prices of Silver, Exchange, Diamonds, Banks' shares, etc. will go down still further from the 22nd of this month. It is advisable to make forward business of long duration. Those who stock silver will be profited.

Cotton, Greenstones, Industrials and mill shares: In these there will be a slight upward tendency. The rise in the cotton price from the 2nd and on the 11th may be clearly noted. On the 12th of this month the tendency of cotton price will be downward and this may be observed particularly from the 20th and more clearly on the 27th. From the 28th, the price of cotton will improve. This is a good time to buy and stock and will be much beneficial.

Wheat, jute, copper and Yellow stones: The prices of these commodities will slowly go down till the 14th. A marked downfall in price may be noticed on the 29th after which they will improve.

Cloths, silks, Rice, Yarns and colours: The price of the above commodities will go up gradually and will remain almost steady throughout the whole month. Those who sell now can make a little profit.

Iron, steel, skins and Hides, oilseeds and shares of companies concerned with the above goods: These will go up in this month. People who stock will be very highly profited.

The Silver market.

The general tendency of the market will be as follows:— From the 3rd of this month the tendency will be downward till the 9th and then the prices will further go down till the 18th. Then gradually they will show an upward tendency till the 23rd and then will rise further from the 24th till the end of the month. Heavy fall on the 12th and much rise on the 26th (N. B. This rule does not apply to the rest.)

For all other commodities, the price will rise or fall as explained below. From the 3rd of this month the tendency of the prices of all commodities will go up till the 9th and then they will further go up till the 18th. Then gradually, it will show a downward tendency till the 23rd and will fall further from the 24th till the end of the month. Heavy rise near 12th and much fall near the 26th may be noticed. But silver will be quite contrary i.e. much down near the 12th and much up near the 26th.

The Climate, Rainfall and Agriculture

There will be floods in the Indus river. The temperature will be rising rapidly day by day. People will feel it difficult to bear the heat from the 29th of this month. Occasionally dry clouds may appear here and there.

Rainfall will be certain on the 22nd and 30th of this month. Other days mentioned may be cloudy, or it may rain lightly here and there. Rain may be expected on the dates mentioned in the following places:—

PLACES.	DATES.
Ceylon	4th, 30th.
Cochin
Coorg
Western Ghats
Places close to the Himalayas
North West Frontiers	9th, 14th.
The Punjab
Lahore
Rajputana

Northern areas	}	16th
Nepal
Kashmir
Eastern areas	}	22nd
The Madras Presidency
Bengal
A portion of Mysore	}

This year all crops will fail owing to excess or untimely rain (i.e.) this refers to the produce which may be expected at the end of this year. There will be discontentment between the ruler and the ruled. There will be heavy loss of cattle. People may suffer from different ailments and famine. There may be a great war wherein almost all the leading nations will be involved. Many poor and innocent people will suffer. The prices of all commodities will go up. These are expected to take place in this year 1937, but symptoms of the above may be noticed in this month. The prices of oils, iron, steel, etc., will go up very much.

Cultivators may sow, plant or transplant on the following days:—17th, 22nd, and 30th. They will grow splendidly and the farmers will be benefitted. 22nd is the best date among these. All sorts of fruits, flowers and vegetables such as mangoes, oranges, water-Lily, Roses, Jasmine and cucumber etc., will grow abundantly in this season. The farmers and dealers will both be profited. Dry fruits which are scarce in other seasons may now be stocked.

It is advisable to have the following commodities well cleaned, dried and stocked so as to be sold when the market for these goods goes up:—all kinds of grains, sugar, Jaggery all kinds of wood, fuel, silk, etc. In this month silk-farming in India will prove beneficial. (So we expect the prices of sugar, Jaggery fuel, wood, silk (locally made) to go down).

Fruits and vegetables will grow better than dry crops. This is the proper season in India to manure the fields and keep them ready for ploughing. Gardens may be improved in this season and benefits may be derived thereby.

This is a very busy month for the poor agriculturists as they have to reap, collect, clean, dry and stock or sell and to clear liabilities and pay taxes etc.

It is only the well-to-do agriculturists who will be free from all the above worries as they employ labourers to do the above duties. In these days, especially in India, such agriculturists are rarely seen. Agriculturists are generally poor due to (1) the political conditions of the country, (2) Heavy Revenue (3) Large quantities of food-stuffs being exported for which we are paid back in kind such as Glass and China-ware, artificial silks etc. and (4) Heavy debts. In general, the expenses of an agriculturist will be more during production; when the production is fit for sale he will be compelled to sell his stock at any price so as to meet his liabilities etc., and the market rate being the same all over the country, he will be a loser and a sufferer. Indian farmers are not industrialists and cannot take up any other business except their own.

This is the proper season to buy and stock all the above goods and not to sell. Cotton may be plucked and cleaned in this month. Cotton dealers and agriculturists should carefully pack and stock in this season. Those who stock now will be benefitted later. This applies to all grains such as paddy, wheat etc. Those who do business as per advice given in this magazine "Kalanidhi" will always be benefitted and save themselves gradually from the above worries from which generally almost all the agriculturists suffer.

We give below a table showing the general condition of the different market centres with daily fluctuations. We request our readers not to get confused with the points (fluctuating) mentioned in this book and those published in the newspapers. These are entirely different from those published in newspapers. Ours are calculated on astrological basis. We would ask our readers to transact business only on such days on which the highest number of points are marked in our Table in this month. We give below a list of the important days on which buying or selling will be profitable to our readers (particularly businessmen). New York, Liverpool and Bombay markets should be dealt with for cotton only. For exchange, silver, industrial stocks and shares etc., London and Bombay markets should be dealt with. In general, for all commodities such as wheat etc., all the markets may be dealt with. This may vary only under some extraordinary circumstances such as political and local situations. Such changes may very rarely take place and on such occasions businessmen should not lose their presence of mind, but use their skill. As far as possible, by practical experience and to the best of our ability we try to help our customers to get through such extraordinary circumstances too, but it is always better to warn our readers against such risks, as 'to err is human'.

The following are the predictions for the month of March for persons born under the 12 Lagnas (Birth signs) or Rasis (moon signs)

In Southern India many eminent astrologers give importance to the moon sign (Rasi) and predict. Some others in other parts give importance to Birth sign (Lagna) and predict. Western astrologers give importance to Sun's sign and give the general predictions.

I find that the Great Maharshi Varah-Mihearacharya, the greatest authority on astrology says that importance should be given to that sign which is stronger of the two, (i.e.) Lagna (Birth sign) or Rasi (Moon sign).

In my experience I find the predictions to be accurate according to this method.

Should the readers of this journal find it difficult to say which of their signs (Birth or Moon sign) is stronger, we will be pleased to help them on receipt of 2 annas stamp to cover the postage.

N.B. To those who are born in India, daily results will come on the same day, with a slight change in time depending upon the Longitude and Latitude of the place.

For those born in Europe, the results will come a day earlier.

For persons who do not know the Rasi in which they are born the following table will help them to find it out.

We request our readers to make use of such statements or predictions which are applicable and most suitable to them; if not applied properly they may seem absurd, as for example, when we say that a person born under a certain (Rasi or lagna) Birth sign, will be married on a certain date, we mean only the unmarried persons, or persons of marriageable ages. This does not apply to people who are already married. Same holds good in the case of liabilities, business and employment etc.

	Rasi	Saturn
Lagna (Birth)
Moon Jupiter Kethu

	Rahu Mercury	Sun
	Navamsa
Lagna (Birth) Saturn		Jupiter Moon
	Mars Venus Kethu

We give here a few salient features of the horoscope of this great Dictator, which may be of interest to our readers and to students of astrology and to the public.

1. He is endowed with strength, courage, fame, personality and war-like spirit.
2. He will neither marry nor have matrimonial happiness. He may be interested in actresses and dancers to whom his company or association will do more harm than good.
3. He will have no happiness through his parents or relatives.
4. At every stage of his life he will meet with all sorts of dangers and risks to his life, which he will overcome and be a very successful general and dictator.
5. His financial condition will never be good nor will he be happy in love affairs, nor will he have a son born to him.
6. He will come across great enemies in his life and various difficulties.

This is a wonderful horoscope. It shows that Herr-Hitler will have pleasure in undertaking any difficult task. He is bold and enthusiastic and colly welcomes troubles. This may be surprising and wonderful to the public but for him it is quite a common thing.

7. He will have a very few confidential friends. He will understand and grasp things very quickly and will never lose his presence of mind.

8. He is a man of strong determination and practicability and will never budge an inch to his opponents.

PRESENT EVENTS

1. His dictatorship will go unchallenged during his life and there will be no chance for any of his countrymen to take his place as dictator.

2. He will be passing through an anxious period which may be dangerous to his life from the end of March, 1937.

3. His country and himself may be the cause of war in the near future.

4. He will have a really trying period during the coming two and a half years. About August 1938, he will come across accidents of a serious type during war or through his enemies which he may find difficult to overcome. Hence, he should be well guarded and be very careful in his actions, since he is likely to live for many more years, if he tides over the difficult period.

5. He will be ever powerful and valiant, not only in his country but all over the world also during his life time.

6. Under his eminent and well guided leadership, Germany will stand to gain much, though he may not be lucky to enjoy the benefits of his success.

7. He and his country will achieve their object, establish their supremacy and attain the level with the other great powers of the world existing at that time.

8. He will be a terror to the world and will be recognised by all leading nations as the most powerful dictator and the greatest Statesman and General.

9. He will have the proudest achievement of steering the political life of his country most successfully and ably, as no other of his countrymen had ever before achieved. He will see his country's progress in all respects and become great to his entire satisfaction.

10. The Army and Navy will increase in strength under his command.

11. Scarcity of food stuffs and want of finance will be felt for some time.

12. He will meet with severe disappointment from his own countrymen or through love affairs and be landed in difficulties thereby.

13. He must guard against accidents, which seem to be too common for him, and he ought to be very careful in his travels.

14. He will be interested in machines and machinery as much as he is in politics. He possesses engineering skill and practical ability.
