S. 2778. An act to amend an act entitled "An act to provide for a tax on motor-vehicle fuels sold within the District of Columbia, and for other purposes," approved April 23, 1924.

S. 2779. An act to amend an act entitled "An act to regulate the practice of the healing act to protect the public health in the District of Columbia," known as the Healing Arts Practice Act, District of Columbia, 1928, approved February 27, 1929.

DISAPPROVAL OF HOUSE BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS SUBSEQUENT TO SINE DIE ADJOURNMENT

The President of the United States, subsequent to the final adjournment of the first session of the Seventy-sixth Congress, transmitted to the Clerk of the House of Representatives a list of House bills and joint resolutions disapproved, with his reasons for such action, as follows:

H. R. 1881. "I have withheld my approval of H. R. 1881, Seventy-sixth Congress, 'An act for the relief of Anne Boice.'

"Section 2 (a) of the World War Adjusted Compensation Act, as amended (38 U. S. C. 592), provides, in part, as follows:

"'The term "veterans" includes any individual, a member of the military or naval forces of the United States at any time after April 5, 1917, and before November 12, 1918; but does not include (1) any individual at any time during such period or thereafter separated from such forces under other than honorable conditions, * * *.'

"The records of the War Department indicate that Leonard Theodore Boice was separated from the military service August 10, 1918, under other than honorable conditions. Approval of the bill, therefore, would have the effect of making eligible for adjusted-compensation benefits the widow of this veteran notwithstanding the requirements of the aforesaid section 2, thus discriminating against other cases similarly situated where claims for benefits have been or would be denied on account of the character of the veteran's discharge.

"This case has received sympathetic consideration but no facts or circumstances have been found which would warrant singling it out for preferential treatment.

H. R. 2049. "I have withheld my approval of H. R. 2049, an act for the relief of Olin C. Risinger.

"This bill is based upon the act of December 17, 1919, which provides, in the event of death, not the result of his own misconduct, of an enlisted man in the Regular Army, for payment to his widow, child, or children, or, if there be none of these, to any other dependent relative previously designated by the decedent, a gratuity in a sum equal to 6 months' pay at the rate received at time of death.

"It appears that Fred Risinger, Army serial No. 6266309, at his enlistment August 22, 1935, designated as his beneficiary under the act above cited Quilla Oswald, mother, general delivery, Batesburg, S. C. He died December 26, 1935, in line of duty and not as a result of any misconduct. Upon his death a voucher to cover payment of the gratuity, in the sum of $126, was sent to 'Quilla Oswald, general delivery, Batesburg, S. C.,' and was returned unclaimed. Subsequently it was learned that Quilla Oswald was the maiden name of Fred Risinger's mother, and that she had died in 1916.

"I accept the assumption set forth in the report of the House Committee on Claims that the designation by Fred Risinger of his long-deceased mother as beneficiary was simply an error by a confused or excited country boy. Nevertheless, during his short period of Army service, Fred Risinger made no contribution through the Army allotment system to any one person, and there is no evidence that Olin C. Risinger, his father, was in any degree dependent upon him for support.

"In view of these circumstances, Olin C. Risinger appears in no way to qualify as a proper recipient of this gratuity, and I do not feel that I should be justified in approving this bill.

H. R. 5516. "I have withheld approval of H. R. 5516, an act for the relief of Charlotte E. Hunter.

"The purpose of the bill is to place Miss Hunter, a former teacher in the public schools of the District of Columbia, on the list of retired teachers, and to pay her, from the teachers' retirement fund, an annuity computed as provided by existing law relating to retirement of teachers in the District of Columbia public schools.

"This teacher entered the service on February 5, 1895, and her service was terminated by voluntary resignation on April 12, 1919, prior to the establishment of a retirement system for District teachers by the Teachers' Retirement Act of January 15, 1920, which became effective on March 1, 1920.

"The report on this bill, made by the District Commissioners to the chairman of the House District Committee, states that there are a number of former teachers now living in the District of Columbia who are in the same position as Miss Hunter, in that they retired from the service prior to the passage of the Teachers' Retirement Act, have not contributed to the teachers' retirement fund, and are not, therefore, entitled to retirement benefits. There are likewise other former employees of the District, as well as the Federal Government, who resigned prior to the establishment of a retirement system for such employees, and are, therefore, excluded from retirement benefits.

"In spite of the apparently excellent service record of the employee in this case, I do not feel that I would be justified in approving a bill which would single her out for preferred consideration to the exclusion of other cases of a similar character.

H. R. 5923. "I have withheld my approval from H. R. 5923, a bill for the relief of Simon A. Brieger, as legal representative of the estate of Thomas Gerald Brieger, a deceased minor.

"The bill provides for the payment of $5,000 in full settlement of a claim against the United States on account of the death of a 4-year-old child. While I do not think that the record in the case establishes any high degree of negligence on the part of the employee who was driving the truck, my main objection to the bill is what I consider the excessive amount of the proposed settlement.

"I have before me H. R. 5259, for the relief of Mrs. Layer Taylor, in settlement of her claim against the United States for the death of an 18-year-old son. The amount involved in that claim is $1,360. The Congress estimated the probable loss of income for a period of 3 years, and made an allowance for medical and funeral expenses and for mental suffering and loss of companionship. It seems to me that the Congress adjudicated this claim on an equitable basis.

"In another bill now before me, H. R. 5698, for the relief of H. H. Rhyme, Jr., the sum of $3,000 is provided in settlement for the death of his 9-year-old daughter.

"In these circumstances, I consider the proposed settlement of $5,000 for the death of the 4-year-old son of Mr. Brieger as excessive, and therefore feel constrained to withhold approval of this bill.

H. R. 6899. "I have withheld my approval of H. R. 6899, Seventy-sixth Congress, an act granting pensions to certain veterans of the Civil War.

"This bill provides:

"'That the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs be, and he is hereby, authorized and directed to place on the pension rolls, subject to the provisions and limitations of the pension laws—

"'The name of Alfred Daugherty, late of Capt. Richard F. Taylor's Company C, Middle Green River Battalion, Kentucky State Troops, and pay him a pension at the rate of $50 per month.

"'The name of William H. Jones, late of Capt. John R. Curry's Company D, South Cumberland Battalion, Kentucky State Troops, and pay him a pension at the rate of $50 per month.'

"The above-described persons are ineligible for military pension from the Federal Government because of the fact that they were never mustered into the Federal service, their entire period of duty having been performed for the State of Kentucky.

"A number of semimilitary companies were organized in Kentucky during the last year of the Civil War to take the place of the regular State militia, which had been mustered into the Federal service. These companies were organized under the authority of the State for the sole purpose of affording police protection to life and property in certain parts of the State during the absence of the regular State military forces. They were not mustered into the Federal service and rendered no military service in connection with the Civil War.

"Approval of the enrolled bill would have the effect of granting benefits which are denied in other cases where facts are similar. Since there are no circumstances which would warrant ganting preferential treatment to the persons named in the bill, I find myself unable to give my approval to this enactment.

H. R. 4831. "I have withheld approval from H. R. 4831, a bill authorizing the Secretary of the Interior to pay salaries and expenses of the chairman, secretary, and interpreter of the Menominee General Council, members of the Menominee advisory council, and official delegates of the Menominee Tribe.

"This measure authorizes an annual expenditure from the tribal funds of the Menominee Indians in Wisconsin without further Budget or congressional review. It seems to me that the bill is contrary to one of the principal purposes of the Permanent Appropriation Repeal Act of 1934; that is, to bring before the Congress the estimated expenditures for a given agency. Moreover, a provision is contained in the Interior Department Appropriation Act, 1940, for defraying the expenses of tribal councils or committees thereof. It seems to me that annual expenditures from Indian tribal funds should be scrutinized by the Congress with the same care that proposed expenditures from the Federal Treasury are examined.

"For the foregoing reasons, I have withheld approval of this bill.

H. R. 5743. "I have withheld my approval of H. R. 5743 entitled, 'An act for the relief of Walter C. Holmes.'

"The indebtedness to the United States represented in this bill resulted from the payment to Mr. Holmes of the compensation of two positions, covering the same period of time, in contravention of the act of May 10, 1916, as amended. In view of the correspondence between the Lighthouse Service and Mr. Holmes regarding the position of lamplighter, I am of the opinion that Mr. Holmes could not have been completely ignorant of the existence of a limitation on the compensation which a Government employee occupying more than one position could receive, even if he were not aware of the actual amount of such limitation. This being so, he was under a duty to inquire into the matter when his compensation from the Coast Guard was increased. A disregard of the law in this case, if condoned by the relief here sought, would result in the establishment of a precedent tending to induce disregard of this and other laws enacted for the purpose of limiting and restricting the expenditure of public funds.

"For these reasons I am unable to approve this measure.

H. R. 1177. "I am withholding approval from H. R. 1177, a bill for the relief of Bessie Bear Robe. The bill provides the payment of $3,000 to the claimant by reason of the death of her son.

"On page 5 of House Report 750, Seventy-sixth Congress, on this bill is a reproduction of a claim for damages signed by Bessie Bear Robe. The amount stated in the claim is $2,000. Hospitalization and burial expenses in connection with the son of Mrs. Bear Robe were borne by the Government. No reason is given for the enactment of legislation authorizing an amount in excess of the sum stated by the claimant as being satisfactory to her.

"The bill provides that the amount is to be subject to expenditure for the benefit of Bessie Bear Robe. I have been advised, however, that she died on June 16, 1939.

"In the circumstances, I have withheld my approval from this bill.

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

"THE WHITE HOUSE, August 9, 1939."

H. R. 5953. "I am withholding my approval from H. R. 5953, a bill for the relief of Marie Heinen.

"Approval of the bill would authorize payment in the sum of $100 to Marie Heinen, Kaukauna, Wis., on account of burial expenses of Robert B. Heinen, a World War veteran.

"The records of the Veterans' Administration show that Robert B. Heinen died January 1, 1937, and was buried January 4, 1937, at Kaukauna, Wis.; that claim for reimbursement on account of burial expenses was executed by Marie Heinen under date of January 23, 1939, and received in the Veterans' Administration January 27, 1939.

"Veterans Regulation No. 9 (a), as amended, provides for the payment of burial allowance in an amount not to exceed $100 in the case of honorably discharged war veterans where the requirements of the regulation are met. Paragraph IV of Veterans Regulation No. 9 (a), as amended, provides, in part, 'Claims for reimbursement must be filed within 1 year subsequent to the date of burial of the veteran.'

"Claim for reimbursement on account of burial expenses not having been filed within 1 year after the veteran's burial, such allowance cannot be paid under existing laws and regulations.

"There are no circumstances in this case which would distinguish it from many other cases where reimbursement on account of burial expenses has been denied because claim therefor was not seasonably filed. This enactment would grant Mrs. Heinen a benefit which must be denied to many others similarly situated.

H. R. 6528. "I have withheld approval of H. R. 6528, a bill to provide for the creation of the George Rogers Clark National Memorial, in the State of Indiana, and for other purposes.

"Public Resolution No. 51, approved May 23, 1928 (45 Stat. 723), provided as one of the requirements for Federal participation in the construction of a permanent memorial commemorating the achievements of George Rogers Clark, the cost of which participation has amounted to approximately $2,000,000, that the State of Indiana shall assume, without expense to the Federal Government, the perpetual care and maintenance of said site and the memorial constructed thereon after such memorial shall have been constructed.

"I have not been advised of any changed conditions that would justify a repeal of this provision of existing law.

H. R. 6898. "I am withholding my approval from H. R. 6898, a bill granting pensions and increase of pensions to certain helpless and dependent children of veterans of the Civil War.

"The purpose of this bill is to grant pension at the rate of $20 per month to 160 helpless children of Civil War veterans; increased pension from $12 to $20 per month to 7 such children, and increased pension from $18 to $20 per month to 1 such child; a total of 168 cases. The ages of the beneficiaries vary from 33 to 81 years, and come within the following age groups:

"Age 30–39	5
"Age 40–49	17
"Age 50–59	67
"Age 60–64	40
"Age 65–69	29
"Age 70 and over	10
"Total	168

"According to the committee reports, in the great majority of cases in which the bill proposes to grant an original pension, there is no entitlement under general laws because the children were over 16 years of age at the time of the veteran's death, there being 156 cases in this category. In 5 cases the child's name had not been placed on the pension rolls prior to reaching the age of 16.

"Under the act of June 27, 1890 (26 Stat. 182–183; 38 U. S. C. 281), pension is denied a helpless child of a veteran of the Civil War, Indian wars, or Spanish-American War who attained the age of 16 prior to the death of the veteran.

"This provision reads in part as follows:

"'* * * in case of the death or remarriage of the widow, leaving a child or children of such officer or enlisted man under the age of 16 years, such pension shall be paid such child or children until the age of 16: Provided, That in case a minor child is insane, idiotic, or otherwise permanently helpless, the pension shall continue during the life of such child, or during the period of such disability, and this proviso shall apply to all pensions heretofore granted or hereafter to be granted under this or any former statute. * * *'

"In addition to the fact that each of the beneficiaries named in the bill is ineligible for pension on account of the above-quoted limitation, certain of the beneficiaries are ineligible on other grounds. Enactment of the bill, therefore, would establish special eligibility not only by waiving the above-quoted requirement but other general statutory requirements. While generally the cases covered by the bill invoke sympathy, there appears to be no compelling reason why they should be singled out for preferential treatment, excluding others who may be similarly situated. Moreover, it would seem that many of the persons named in the bill are eligible or will shortly be eligible for old-age assistance or other forms of assistance under the Social Security Act of August 14, 1935.

"In view of the discriminations which the bill represents I find myself unable to approve it.

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

H. R. 4252. "I have withheld approval of H. R. 4252, 'An act for the relief of J. George Pensel Co.'

"In the work of moving safes under contract, Tlpb–1266, dated December 1, 1936, with the Procurement Division, Treasury Department, the contractor caused his employees to work more than 8 hours per day in violation of the 8-hour law of June 19, 1912 (ch. 174, 37 Stat. 237; U. S. C., title 40, secs. 324, 325). For 28 apparent violations, at the stipulated rate of $5 each, the sum of $140 was deducted from the amount due the contractor.

"The contractor claims that he worked overtime to accommodate the chief of the mechanical engineers of the building, who requested on December 31, 1936, to have the safes moved to their new positions prior to the opening of the Department Monday morning, January 4, 1937, so that there would be no delay in the Government business.

"Nevertheless, further inquiry reveals that the contractor not only violated the 8-hour law but also failed to obtain all of his employees from the United States Employment Service and failed to pay the prevailing rate of wages. The Procurement Division of the Treasury Department required the contractor to pay the sum of $163.70 as a wage adjustment before receiving the balance due on the contract.

"In view of the fact that the contractor regularly engaged in business must be deemed to have had knowledge of the requirements of the 8-hour law and of the absence of authority in the chief of the mechanical engineers to permit work in excess of 8 hours, and in view of his other violations of law and Government regulations, I feel obliged to veto this enactment.

H. R. 5450. "I am withholding my approval of H. R. 5450, Seventy-sixth Congress, an act to extend the time within which applications for benefits under the World War Adjusted Compensation Act, as amended, may be filed.

"This act would have provided an additional 5 years for filing claim for adjusted-compensation benefits; that is, from January 2, 1940, to January 2, 1945.

"The World War Adjusted Compensation Act, which became law May 19, 1924, provided that application for benefits should be made on or before January 1, 1928. The amendatory act of May 29, 1928, extended the final date for filing application for benefits to January 2, 1930. The act of June 5, 1930, further extended the final date for filing application for benefits to January 2, 1935, and the act of August 23, 1935, extended the final date for filing application for benefits to January 2, 1940.

"Under the original act the veterans and their dependents were granted approximately 3½ years and by subsequent liberalization have been given a period of over 15 years from the date of enactment of the original act in which to claim these benefits. During this period much publicity was given the original act and amendments, including the Adjusted Compensation Payment Act, as amended, with every reasonable opportunity to file claim. This opportunity still exists and will continue to January 2, 1940.

"Further extension of the period for filing claim in my opinion is not justified.

H. R. 3927. "I have withheld my approval of H. R. 3927, a bill for the relief of Marijo McMillan Williams. The indebtedness to the United States represented in this bill resulted from the payment to Mrs. Williams the compensation of two positions, covering the same periods of time, in contravention of the act of May 10, 1916, as amended, notice of which act had been repeatedly given throughout the Postal Service by published bulletins of that Service. Such disregard of the law in this case, if condoned by the relief here sought, would result in the establishment of a precedent tending to induce disregard of this law and other laws enacted for the purpose of limiting and restricting the expenditure of public funds.

H. R. 3959. "I have withheld my approval of H. R. 3959, an act to authorize the Secretary of the Interior to dispose of recreational demonstration projects, and for other purposes.

"While the objective of this legislation is good, I am inclined to think that certain safeguards should at least be studied at the next session of the Congress.

"It should probably be made more clear that equitable arrangements with local communities taking over such recreational projects should involve the Federal Government in no legal or moral commitments.

"There should probably be a provision allowing departments of the Government to take over for their purposes such projects as it seems desirable for the Interior Department to part with.

"Probably the approval of the President should be given to any transfers of these properties to local communities or other departments as this is the general rule in similar cases.

H. R. 4117. "I have withheld my approval of H. R. 4117, a bill to provide for the payment of attorney's fees from Osage tribal funds.

"Briefly stated, this bill would authorize the payment of attorneys' fees in an amount not to exceed 12½ percent of the funds collected as a result of any suit or suits brought under a contract between the Osage Tribe of Indians and certain attorneys named in said contract.

"The customary percentage allowed by the Government to attorneys is not to exceed 10 percent. This bill, however, calls for 12½ percent, despite the fact that the Committee on Indian Affairs of the House of Representatives amended the bill to reduce the fees to 10 percent.

"I agree with the recommendation of the committee and, therefore, cannot approve the bill.

H. R. 4482. "I am withholding my approval of H. R. 4482, for the relief of Byron MacDonald.

"The bill proposes to pay to Byron MacDonald the sum of $2,500 in full settlement of his claim against the United States for the death of his minor son, Richard MacDonald, who was killed on July 21, 1937, by a truck in the service of the Civilian Conservation Corps. An examination of the record in this case fails to disclose negligence on the part of any employee of the United States. The report of the inquest on the death of Richard MacDonald indicates that the boy met an accidental death. The report of the associate medical examiner states that the boy lost his balance and fell between the front and rear wheels of the truck. It is apparent from the record that the driver of the vehicle was proceeding at a reasonable rate of speed and that he used caution in attempting to pass the boy.

"While the accident is regrettable, I find no justification for any claim against the United States as a result thereof.

H. R. 5405. "I am withholding my approval of H. R. 5405, authorizing the installation of parking meters and other devices on the streets of the District of Columbia, and for other purposes.

"This bill would authorize the Commissioners of the District in their discretion to secure and install, at no expense to the District, mechanical parking meters or devices on the streets, avenues, roads, highways, and other public spaces under the jurisdiction and control of the Commissioners; to make and enforce rules and regulations for the control of parking of vehicles on such public ways and other public spaces; and to prescribe fees for the privilege of parking vehicles where said meters or devices are installed. The bill also would provide that, in purchasing meters, the Commissioners may purchase 50 percent of the manually operated type meter, subject to specifications to be approved by the National Bureau of Standards, Department of Commerce.

"While I have no objections to the general purpose sought to be accomplished by the bill, I believe its provisions as to the manner in which meters may be secured and funds made available for their payment are sufficiently vague and ambiguous to render the measure inoperative, if approved. Therefore, I am withholding my approval.

"I would not object to future legislation to accomplish this same general purpose with all fees collected from such parking meters to be deposited in the Treasury of the United States to the credit of the gasoline tax and motor-vehicle fees, highway fund, District of Columbia, and with authorization for the submission of estimates of appropriations, payable from such fund, for the purchase and installation of meters.

H. R. 5931. "I have withheld my approval of H. R. 5931, a bill for the relief of Elizabeth Hessman.

"The purpose of the bill is to pay the sum of $1,665 to Mrs. Elizabeth Hessman in settlement of her claim against the United States for personal injuries sustained when the car in which she was a passenger was struck, on April 27, 1936, by a Government car driven by an employee of the Soil Conservation Service of the Department of Agiculture.

"The record in this case indicates that there appears to be no serious disability or permanent injury which can be attributed to the accident. Mrs. Hessman's actual medical expense was $165.45, and while it is felt that the pain and suffering as well as personal inconvenience caused by the unfortunate accident clearly warrant a reasonable gratuity, I feel that the approval of H. R. 5931 would result in the payment of an excessive amount to the claimant. Therefore I do not feel justified in giving my approval to this bill.

H. R. 5998. "I have withheld my approval of H. R. 5998, a bill entitled 'An act to amend section 32 of the act entitled "An act to authorize the construction of certain bridges and to extend the times for commencing and/or completing the construction of other bridges over the navigable waters of the United States, and for other purposes," approved August 30, 1935.'

"The bill would amend the act approved August 30, 1935 (49 Stat. 1074), to extend the times for commencing and completing the construction of a bridge across the Missouri River at or near Niobrara, Nebr., for 1 and 3 years, respectively, from August 30, 1939.

"The bill also would amend said act of August 30, 1935, by granting to Knox County, Nebr., its legal representatives and assigns, the right to sell, assign, transfer, and mortgage all rights, powers, and privileges conferred by the act. Any corporation to which, or any person to whom, such rights, powers, and privileges may be sold, assigned, or transferred would be authorized to exercise the same rights granted to Knox County as fully as though conferred directly by law upon such corporation or person.

"The bill further provides that any mortgage, assignment, or transfer of the franchise granted to Knox County, heretofore made by the governing body of said county, would be validated and of full legal force and effect.

"Neither the original act of August 30, 1935, nor the bill H. R. 5998 gives assurance that the proposed bridge would be made free after the tolls shall have provided sufficient funds to amortize its cost of construction in addition to meeting the annual maintenance, repair, and operation costs during the toll period. I do not recall the enactment into law of any bridge bills in recent years that have not contained such an assurance; and it seems to me that this is a wise policy to follow. The bill H. R. 5998 is objectionable also because of its authorization to Knox County, Nebr., to alienate to private corporations or persons the rights granted to it by Congress for the construction of a public bridge.

"I am, therefore, disapproving this bill in its present form and suggest that it be revised to limit appropriately the right of the county to dispose of its powers and privileges with respect to this bridge, and also to require definitely that the bridge shall be maintained and operated free of tolls after the recovery through the toll system of its cost of construction and the annual costs of maintenance, repair, and operation during the toll period.

H. R. 7411. "I withhold my approval of H. R. 7411, an act authorizing the construction, repair, and preservation of certain public works on rivers and harbors, and for other purposes.

"I have already signed one bill for the examination of a large number of additional river and harbor and flood-control projects. These projects, together with many other projects which have been examined and approved by the Army engineers, will take a long time to complete after future appropriations are made by the Congress, and I think it is time to go more slowly in the examination and authorization of these river and harbor projects.

"It has always seemed to me that projects should be examined and authorized primarily on the basis of the greatest good to the greatest number of people. I understand the urge to get Federal money for expenditure in every congressional district in the United States—but I believe, as I have often recommended to the Congress, that instead of taking a bite here and a bite there, there should be a well-considered and well-rounded plan for projects to be undertaken in a definite order of human and national preference and desirability instead of putting them only on a local geographical basis.

"Furthermore, this bill, unlike the other which I have signed today, contains no express provision recognizing the authority of the Federal Power Commission under existing law relative to making investigations and reports regarding potential power development and similar matters.

"I find it therefore necessary to give it my disapproval.

H. J. Res. 283. "I have withheld my approval of House Joint Resolution 283, to establish the Major General William Jenkins Worth Memorial Commission to formulate plans for the construction of a permanent memorial to the memory of Maj. Gen. William Jenkins Worth.

"On May 2, 1847, Congress recognized his distinguished service by presentation of a sword.

"I feel that the action now proposed raises definitely the broad question of how far the Federal Government should be expected to go in sponsoring and sharing the costs of permanent memorials to be erected throughout the country in honor of men and women whose services to the Nation are comparable in value to those of General Worth. Our national history is rich in similar examples of worthy service, and action such as contemplated in House Joint Resolution 283 might easily pave the way to numberless similar memorials, heavy expenditures, and to such relaxation of the standards which should govern national memorials as would defeat the high purpose they should serve.

"In the light of these considerations I feel that I should not be justified in approving this resolution.

DISAPPROVAL OF SENATE BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS SUBSEQUENT TO SINE DIE ADJOURNMENT

The Secretary of the Senate notified the Clerk of the House of Representatives that the President of the United States, subsequent to the final adjournment of the first session of the Seventy-sixth Congress, transmitted to him lists of bills and joint resolutions of the Senate disapproved, with his reasons for such action, as follows:

S. 6. "I have withheld approval of S. 6, entitled 'An act to return a portion of the Grand Canyon National Monument to the public domain.'

"I am constrained to veto this legislation, which proposes to return approximately 148,159 acres within the monument to the public domain, because it appears that insufficient consideration has been given to the matter.

"While appreciating the needs of the stockmen, and the desirability of affording them range facilities on the public domain when it can be done without unnecessary damage, I think that the stockmen will not be harmed by the delay necessary for full consideration of this subject. Grazing can be continued under special permits of the Department of the Interior while a further survey on the ground is being made of the lands proposed to be eliminated from the national monument.

"Before approving any measure which would eliminate lands from any national monument, I would want to receive a report from representatives of the National Park Service based upon a thorough investigation of the lands proposed for elimination from the monument.

"For the foregoing reasons, I am compelled to withhold my approval of the bill. I seek especially a report on the possibilities of this area for tree growth.

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

"THE WHITE HOUSE, August 7, 1939."

S. 5. "I have withheld approval of Senate bill No. 5, entitled 'An act to grant certain lands to the Arizona State Elks Association Hospital.'

"It appears that through error by the association authorities the hospital building of the Arizona State Elks Association, which was supposed to be placed on the SW¼SW¼ sec. 3, T. 14 S., R. 13 E., Gila and Salt River meridian, Arizona, was actually built so as to extend into the north 200 feet of the NW¼NW¼ sec. 10 of the township, or upon Government land included in a rifle range. Merely on account of such mistake the bill proposes that a patent issue to the Arizona State Elks Association for the north 200 feet of the NW¼NW¼ of section 10.

"Because of the favorable report that was made on this measure by the Secretary of the Interior, it is with some reluctance that I disapprove it. However, to grant public land without compensation, even in the circumstances set forth in the report on the bill, is not in the public interest.

"I am confident that at another session of the Congress the matter can be reconsidered and more suitable legislation enacted.

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

"THE WHITE HOUSE, August 9, 1939."

S. 555. "I have withheld my approval of Senate bill No. 555, entitled 'An act for the relief of Addison B. Hampel.'

"The indebtedness to the United States represented in this bill resulted from the payment to Mr. Hampel of the compensation of two positions, covering the same periods of time, in contravention of the act of May 10, 1916, as amended, notice of which act had been repeatedly given throughout the Postal Service by published bulletins of that Service. Mr. Hampel has already been relieved under the General Relief Act for the Postal Service, approved March 1, 1929, of $3,453.69 theretofore illegally paid to himself in his accounts as postmaster, and the amount which the enrolled enactment would authorize to be refunded to him represents the amount of collections made from him to apply against indebtedness, representing payments illegally made to himself thereafter. It would seem that as to these later payments even if not as to the earlier ones he could not plead ignorance of the law regarding dual compensation. Such disregard of the law in this case if condoned by the relief here sought would result in the establishing of a precedent tending to induce disregard of this and other laws enacted for the purpose of limiting and restricting the expenditure of public funds.

"For these reasons I do not feel justified in approving this bill.

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

"THE WHITE HOUSE, August 9, 1939."

S. J. Res. 160. "I have withheld approval of Senate Joint Resolution 160, providing for the maintenance for public use of certain highways in the Shenandoah National Park.

"The primary objection to this legislation is that it would subordinate national parks standards to local considerations. National parks are created for the benefit of the Nation as a whole, and for the preservation of specific areas in their natural condition, with a minimum of development. Such developments as may be required in national parks are undertaken for general public use, as distinguished from local use. The approval of Senate Joint Resolution 160 would encourage local communities to request the opening of minor roads in national park areas solely for the purpose of conferring local benefits upon adjacent communities, and would establish a dangerous precedent. Both the Congress and the executive agencies have in the past rejected similar attempts on the part of local interests to force construction of roads within the Yellowstone and other national parks. This proposed legislation for Shenandoah National Park would, therefore, be in direct conflict with an established precedent.

"I am informed that these roads are in bad condition, and that they are narrow and have excessive grades and hairpin curves. It has been estimated that it would cost over $1,000,000 to put these roads in safe condition. In addition, their annual maintenance cost would be approximately $10,000.

"The act of the General Assembly of Virginia ceding to the United States exclusive jurisdiction over the Shenandoah National Park in the State of Virginia, approved March 22, 1928, exempted from that cession only the Lee Highway and Spotswood Trail, thereby indicating that these were to be the only roads to remain free from Federal regulation.

"If it can be later shown that the opening of the roads in question would be to the benefit of the Nation, that the large expenditures involved would be justified, and that a precedent contrary to national park policies would not be established thereby, the problem can then be solved administratively.

"For the foregoing reasons, I am compelled to withhold my approval of the joint resolution.

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

"THE WHITE HOUSE, August 9, 1939."

S. 2. "I am withholding my approval of S. 2, a bill authorizing the Secretary of the Interior to convey certain lands to the State of Nevada to be used for the purposes of a public park and recreation site and other public purposes.

"This bill provides for the granting of more than 8,000 acres of federally owned land in the Boulder Dam-Lake Mead area to the State of Nevada. Eighty percent of this land is located within the boundaries of the Boulder Dam national recreational area, and the residue is immediately adjacent thereto. The entire tract is of national interest and value, both for the protection from pollution of the waters impounded in Lake Mead and for the enhancement of the recreational and scenic values created through the building of Boulder Dam.

"Since the lands proposed to be conveyed are appurtenant to a project of national importance, their ownership and administration should be retained by the Federal Government. The transfer of control over these lands to a non-Federal agency necessarily would open the door to uses which might be at variance with the national interest in the Boulder Dam-Lake Mead region. All of the people of the United States have a paramount interest in Boulder Dam and its related facilities for water conservation and utilization. Likewise, they have a paramount interest in the outstanding recreational and scenic attractions of Lake Mead and the surrounding territory. The expenditure of Federal funds was the chief, if not the only, factor in producing these values, and the lands proposed to be conveyed are an integral part of them. In the light of these facts, I firmly believe the Boulder Dam-Lake Mead region in its entirety should continue to be administered uniformly by the Federal Government in the interest of the Nation as a whole.

"The area from which the proposed grant would be carved is endowed with many features that appear to make it worthy of consideration as a possible national park or monument site. Independently of this, the area is one which has been definitely set apart for Federal purposes and which is actively being used for these purposes. Not only is the control of Lake Mead essential to the operation of Boulder Dam but also the recreational values of the region have attracted to the lake thousands of visitors from all parts of the Union. The recreational use of this area is truly national in character. A grant of the reserved lands would consequently set an undesirable precedent for the grant of other public lands already in actual utilization by the Federal Government, as well as for the grant of lands which should be retained in Federal ownership because of their potential value to fill anticipated future needs. Were this grant to be made, involving as it does a region of national significance, the denial of other grants affecting lands reserved for national uses would be difficult.

S. 68. "I am withholding my approval of S. 68, entitled 'A bill for the relief of the San Francisco Mountain Scenic Boulevard Co.,' for the following reasons:

"The purpose of this measure is to compensate the company in part for the value of a road constructed on Government property under a permit which has been revoked because of the inability of the company to complete its project.

"Although the measure does not appear to be wholly devoid of merit, the facts cited in its support do not, in my opinion, import or establish any obligation on the Government to award compensation. No obligation would rest upon a private landowner under like circumstances.

"To award compensation in this case would serve as a precedent in other cases involving much larger sums and would imply a moral obligation on the Government that might easily become embarrassing and very burdensome, if not a source of frequent scandal.

"Furthermore, if the public interest was not sufficiently involved in the first place to move the Government to undertake such a project, the mere circumstances that private interests have attempted it and failed after making a valuable improvement on Government property is not sufficient reason to justify the expenditure from the public funds.

"For these reasons I believe the practice of making compensation in such cases is improvident and unwise.

S. 821. "I am constrained to withhold my approval from the bill (S. 821) for for the relief of Charles L. Kee, of Portsmouth, Va.

"The bill proposes to provide for the payment of the sum of $9,000 to Charles L. Kee as a reimbursement for a loss that he sustained while demonstrating to representatives of the Navy Department a mine invented by him. It appears that during the demonstration the mine was lost at sea.

"The purpose of the demonstration was to interest officials of the Navy Department in Mr. Kee's invention. His loss was not caused by any act or neglect on the part of any Government officer, but was apparently an unavoidable accident. At the time that it occurred no Government officer or employee was in control of the apparatus which disappeared at sea.

"While it is to be regretted that Mr. Kee sustained this financial loss, no reason appears discernible why he should be compensated by the Government.

S. 2893. "I have withheld my approval of S. 2893, an act to provide for the local delivery rate on certain first-class mail matter. It is understood that the purpose of this bill is to apply the local 2-cent letter rate to the entire county of Queens, N. Y.

"I withheld my approval of a similar bill, H. R. 2716, passed by the Seventy-fifth Congress, and set forth my reasons therefor in a memorandum dated June 25, 1938, reading as follows:

"'I have withheld my approval of H. R. 2716, an act to provide for the local delivery rate on certain first-class mail matter.

"'It is understood the purpose of this bill is to make the 2-cent letter rate apply within the entire county of Queens, N. Y. This county is now served by four separate and independent post offices, namely, Long Island City, Jamaica, Flushing, and Far Rockaway.

"'Under existing law the local rate on first-class matter applies only to such matter addressed for delivery within the postal district of the mailing office. To extend it to the matter addressed to postal districts of other offices would mark a departure from the long-established basis for the application of the local rate and constitute a precedent upon which other communities served by separate post offices would justly base requests for a similar concession. It would be difficult, if not wholly impracticable, to apply the local rate under the proposed bill, for it would be an almost hopeless task to educate the public with respect to the territory entitled to the local rate.

"'In addition to the foregoing objections, the extension of the local rate as proposed would result in a considerable loss in revenue. The purpose of the 3-cent rate is to provide additional revenue in order to balance the postal budget, and as long as the continuance of the 3-cent rate for nonlocal first-class matter is necessary, it is felt there should be no piecemeal legislation making exceptions to its application.

"'For the above reasons and because of adverse recommendation of the Post Office Department, I do not feel justified in approving this bill, but I hope that in a few years the growth of Queens County and the development of consolidated postal facilities will justify applying the same rates as now exist in Kings County.'

"My objections and observations respecting H. R. 2716, Seventy-fifth Congress, have equal application to this bill, S. 2893.

S. 839. "I have withheld my approval of S. 839, 'An act to amend the Retirement Act of April 23, 1904.'

"Briefly stated, this bill would extend the act of April 23, 1904, authorizing the advancement by one grade of certain officers of the United States Army who served in the Civil War to include those officers not above the grade of colonel who served in the War with Spain between April 21, 1898, and April 11, 1899, with provision that such advance in grade shall be without any additional pay above that of the grade held by them at the date of retirement. It also amends the act of April 23, 1904, to include cadet service, and officers retired after 30 years' service, including cadet service.

"S. 839 would benefit a group of officers who are old enough to have served in the Spanish-American War, excluding those who entered military service after April 11, 1899, and served in later wars. It would also grant advanced rank on the retired list as a reward for war service, and thus utilize the retirement system of the Regular Establishment for a purpose for which it was not intended.

"The act of June 21, 1930, advanced officers on the retired list to grades in which they actually rendered service in the World War. The retirement system has been designed and maintained primarily to promote the efficiency of the officers' corps, and its use for other purposes is deemed contrary to sound policy. While not unmindful of the services rendered by these officers during the Spanish-American War, it is felt that any exception to the policy should be made only for the accomplishment of some larger purpose of improving the efficiency of the active officers' corps.

"In view of the foregoing I am unable to approve this measure.

S. 1042. "I have withheld my approval of S. 1042, an act for the relief of the Epes Transportation Corporation.

"This bill authorizes and directs the Secretary of the Treasury to pay, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, to the Epes Transportation Corporation the sum of $6,537.95 in full satisfaction of all claims of such corporation against the United States, such sum (it is alleged) representing taxes (with interest and penalty) paid to the United States by such corporation on account of certain cigarettes and tobacco products which were withdrawn from bonded warehouse in Winston-Salem, N. C., by such corporation (it is alleged) for export to foreign consignees, but which were not exported due to the fact that such cigarettes and tobacco products were stolen from the trucks of such corporation en route to the intended exportation point.

"The facts are that no such tax was paid by the Epes Transportation Corporation, nor did it withdraw the cigarettes and tobacco products for exportation. The cigarettes and tobacco products were in fact withdrawn without payment of tax by the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. from its factories for exportation and were delivered to the Epes Transportation Corporation, a common carrier, under contracts for transportation in its trucks to Norfolk, Va. During transit the trucks were hijacked and such cigarettes and tobacco products were stolen. As the products were not in fact exported, the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. paid the internal-revenue tax due on such products and through litigation it has been finally established that such tax was legally due. The transportation corporation, apparently because of its liability as a common carrier for hire, has reimbursed the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. for the amount of the tax and penalties paid by such company and now seeks reimbursement from the United States.

"No evidence has been produced to show that the United States was in any way negligent in failing to prevent the theft or that it was in any way responsible for the failure to deliver the tobacco products to the port of exportation. Furthermore, no evidence has been produced to show that the transportation corporation has any just claim against the United States. I do not believe that under the circumstances of this case there is any justification for the use of Federal funds to reimburse the transportation corporation on account of its liability as a common carrier for hire and believe that to do so would establish a bad precedent.

S. 1164. "I have withheld my approval of S. 1164, a bill for the relief of Nadine Sanders.

"It is the purpose of the bill to pay to Nadine Sanders the amount of $1,096.40 in settlement of her claim against the United States for damages sustained on account of personal injuries received on February 13, 1937, when the automobile in which she was riding was struck by a Soil Conservation Service truck.

"The record in this case shows that the expenses of the claimant by reason of this accident aggregated $96.40, and that she has no permanent injury other than the loss of two teeth, which were extracted and a bridge constructed to replace them. It appears, therefore, that the injury sustained does not justify the payment of the amount proposed by the bill.

"I would not object to the enactment of a bill to pay the claimant an amount more commensurate with the injury sustained.

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

"THE WHITE HOUSE, August 11, 1939."

S. 1467. "I have withheld my approval of S. 1467, a bill for the relief of the Standard Oil Co., Inc., in Kentucky.

"This bill authorizes and directs the Secretary of the Treasury to pay to the company out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of $941.59, an amount alleged to be due by reason of error in making settlement for gasoline furnished the War Department under contract W-535-AC-8868, dated June 13, 1936. The price of the gasoline furnished under this contract was not to exceed the net (tax excluded) posted tank-wagon price on the dates of deliveries. The asserted error, clerical in nature, is said to be attributable to the fact that an entry was made in the company records of a reduction in the price of gasoline of the type called for in the contract when no reduction had in fact been made or authorized, the result being that the company billed the Government and received payment at less than the correct tank-wagon price.

"The prices to be charged the Government under the contract were not a matter of public information but were peculiarly within the knowledge of the contractor. The invoices submitted by the company to cover the gasoline delivered were regular on their face, were certified as correct and just, and were paid under circumstances which led the Government to believe that the amounts shown thereon represented the entire sum due. Where invoices of this nature, prepared on the basis of price information which is peculiarly within the knowledge of the one making claim, are paid from public funds in good faith, the presumption arises that the payment completely liquidates the obligation. The granting of relief to a claimant who, after requesting and accepting payment in full satisfaction of an obligation on the basis of its own certified invoices, alleges in a self-serving statement not substantiated by any conclusive evidence in support thereof that due to the negligence or inadvertence of one of its employees the invoices and certifications were incorrect, would in my judgment be entirely unjustified and establish a dangerous precedent. Furthermore, there is no clear authority under existing law, statutory or general, for the allowance of claims of other claimants under such circumstances, and after consideration of the record in this case I am not convinced that there are here present such elements of equitable merit as would justify the according of preferential treatment to this claimant.

S. 1617. "I am withholding approval of the bill S. 1617, entitled 'An act for the relief of John Nicholas Chicouras.'

"The bill proposes to legalize the entry into the United States for permanent residence as of November 25, 1925, of John Nicholas Chicouras.

"The records show that the above-named alien, a citizen of Greece, resided in the United States from 1915 to 1923, when he departed for Greece. He reentered this country in 1925 as a seaman and remained unlawfully beyond the period of time for which he was temporarily admitted to pursue his calling as a seaman. He was naturalized in 1928, but his certificate of naturalization was canceled on July 7, 1938, because of false statements made under oath in his petition for naturalization. He was permitted and did voluntarily leave this country on December 16, 1938, for the purpose of obtaining a quota immigration visa and is not now in the United States.

"I am withholding my approval of this bill because of my conviction that it represents an unjustified condonation of violations of law on the part of the proposed beneficiary, namely, illegally remaining in the United States in 1925 beyond the period of his immigration permit at that time and perjury committed in connection with fraudulent securing of a certificate of naturalization in 1928.

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

"THE WHITE HOUSE, August 11, 1939."

S. 1989. "I have withheld approval of S. 1989, an act to provide for the alteration of certain bridges over navigable waters of the United States, for the apportionment of the cost of such alterations between the United States and the owners of such bridges, and for other purposes.

"The bill proposes to set up a new procedure whereby the United States would be required to bear a part of the cost of alterations or changes in bridges over navigable waters used and operated for the purpose of carrying railroad traffic, or both railroad and highway traffic, which are found to be necessary by the Secretary of War for free and unobstructed navigation. It provides that the Secretary of War shall determine in such cases the proportionate part of the total cost of alterations or changes to be borne by the bridge owner and by the United States. The bridge owner would be required to pay the cost of such part of the changes as may be attributable to the direct and special benefits which will accrue to him. The United States would be required to pay the remainder of the cost.

"The General Bridge Act of March 3, 1906 (34 Stat. 84), authorizes the Secretary of War to require the alteration of any bridge which, in his opinion, may at any time unreasonably obstruct navigation, the cost of such alteration to be borne entirely by the owner. This has been a condition precedent to the construction of bridges over the navigable waters of the United States, and the owners are fully apprised of the condition before the construction work is undertaken. The Supreme Court has repeatedly held that where a bridge is an unreasonable obstruction to navigation the removal of such obstruction may be required without compensation from the United States, and such removal cannot be regarded as a taking of private property within the meaning of the Constitution. To require the Federal Government to pay the cost of alterations which do not directly benefit the bridge owners would impose upon it heavy financial liabilities. It is the duty of the Government to preserve and protect the navigability of our navigable waters, and when any person, association, corporation, or other body is authorized to build a structure over any such stream, the United States should not be required to bear any part of the cost of alterations which are necessary to avoid obstructions to navigation.

"I have, therefore, withheld my approval of the bill, as it does not appear that any valid reason exists for the assumption of this additional burden by the Federal Government.

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

"THE WHITE HOUSE, August 11, 1939."

S. 2061. "I am withholding my approval from the bill (S. 2061) for the relief of William Hillock.

"Mr. Hillock was employed by the Office of Indian Affairs as a carpenter, in charge of a water and sewer system project at Pine Ridge, S. Dak. It appears that in the course of his employment he was required to perform 90 hours of overtime work, because quicksand was being encountered in the excavation. The bill proposes to recompense him in the sum of $90 for the services so rendered.

"The policy of passing special legislation to compensate an individual employee of the Government for overtime services performed by him seems highly questionable. In view of the fact that Government employees frequently, in the course of the performance of their duties, either because so requested by their superiors or of their own accord, feel obliged to work overtime, no reason is perceived why a particular employee should receive special preferential treatment under such circumstances, and be awarded additional compensation not paid to others under parallel conditions.

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

"THE WHITE HOUSE, August 11, 1939."

S. 2271. "I am withholding my approval of S. 2271, a bill for the relief of Barnet Warren.

"It is the purpose of the bill to pay to Barnet Warren the amount of $2,459.34 for medical services and hospital expenses, and the additional sum of $100 per month in an amount not to exceed $5,000 for permanent injury and pain and suffering, in settlement of his claim against the United States growing out of any damages or personal injuries suffered by him when a Civilian Conservation Corps truck operated by the National Park Service collided with the said Barnet Warren on March 17, 1939.

"While some question might be raised as to the extent of the negligence of the driver of the Government truck, my principal objection to the bill is that the payments proposed appear to me to be excessive. I would not object to the enactment of a bill which would provide payments in this case of a more reasonable amount for expenses, and for an amount more commensurate with the injuries sustained.

S. 2306. "I have withheld my approval of S. 2306, a bill entitled 'An act relating to the construction of a bridge across the Missouri River between the towns of Decatur, Nebr., and Onawa, Iowa.'

"The bill would amend subsections (a), (b), and (c) of section 29 of the act approved August 30, 1935 (49 Stat. 1072), to authorize the counties of Burt, Nebr., and Monona, Iowa, singly or jointly, to construct, maintain, and operate a bridge and approaches thereto across the Missouri River between Decatur, Nebr., and Onawa, Iowa. Said counties would be authorized to charge tolls for transit over such bridge. Subsection (d) of section 29 of said act of August 30, 1935, provides that the rates of toll shall be so fixed as to yield a fund sufficient to meet maintenance, repair, and operation costs, and create a sinking fund sufficient to amortize the cost of construction of such bridge and its approaches within not to exceed 20 years from the date of completion thereof. Subsection (d) also provides that after a sinking fund sufficient for its amortization, the bridge shall be maintained and operated free of tolls, or the rates of toll shall be so adjusted as to yield an annual revenue sufficient only for maintenance, repair, and operation costs.

"As drafted, the bill gives no assurance that the proposed bridge would be made free after the tolls shall have provided sufficient funds to amortize its cost of construction in addition to meeting the annual maintenance, repair, and operation costs during the toll period. I do not recall the enactment into law of any bridge bills in recent years that have not contained such an assurance; and it seems to me that this is a wise policy to follow.

"I am, therefore, disapproving this bill in its present form and suggest that it be revised so as to require definitely that the bridge shall be maintained and operated free of tolls after recovery of the specified costs.

S. J. Res. 139. "I have withheld my approval of Senate Joint Resolution 139, to authorize compacts or agreements between or among the States bordering on the Atlantic Ocean with respect to fishing in the territorial waters and the bays and inlets of the Atlantic Ocean on which such States border, and for other purposes.

"This joint resolution is not in conformity with the usual and accepted method of granting the consent of the Congress to the execution of interstate compacts or agreements, in that it lacks a provision requiring the approval by the Congress of such compact or agreement as may be entered into before it shall become effective. I believe that it would be unwise to establish the policy of granting in advance the consent of the Congress to interstate compacts or agreements in connection with subjects described only in broad outline as in Senate Joint Resolution 139.

1. Any amendment of the Senate to any House bill shall be subject to the point of order that it shall first be considered in the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union if, originating in the House, it would be subject to that point.

2. No amendment of the Senate to a general appropriation bill which would be in violation of the provisions of clause 2 of rule XXI, if said amendment had originated in the House, nor any amendment of the Senate providing for an appropriation upon any bill other than a general appropriation bill, shall be agreed to by the managers on the part of the House unless specific authority to agree to such amendment shall be first given by the House by a separate vote on every such amendment.

RULE XXI

ON BILLS

1. Bills and joint resolutions on their passage shall be read the first time by title and the second time in full, when, if the previous question is ordered, the Speaker shall state the question to be: Shall the bill be engrossed and read a third time? and, if decided in the affirmative, it shall be read the third time by title, unless the reading in full is demanded by a Member, and the question shall then be put upon its passage.

2. No appropriations shall be reported in any general appropriation bill, or be in order as an amendment thereto, for any expenditure not previously authorized by law, unless in continuation of appropriations for such public works and objects as are already in progress. Nor shall any provision in any such bill or amendment thereto, changing existing law be in order, except such as being germane to the subject matter of the bill shall retrench expenditures by the reduction of the number and salary of the officers of the United States, by the reduction of the compensation of any person paid out of the Treasury of the United States, or by the reduction of amounts of money covered by the bill: Provided, That it shall be in order further to amend such bill upon the report of the committee or any joint commission authorized by law or the House Members of any such commission having jurisdiction of the subject matter of such amendment, which amendment being germane to the subject matter of the bill shall retrench expenditures.

3. No bill for the payment or adjudication of any private claim against the Government shall be referred, except by unanimous consent, to any other than the following-named committees, viz: To the Committee on Foreign Affairs, to the Committee on Invalid Pensions, to the Committee on Pensions, to the Committee on Claims, to the Committee on War Claims, to the Committee on the Public Lands, and to the Committee on Accounts.

4. No bill or joint resolution carrying appropriations shall be reported by any committee not having jurisdiction to report appropriations, nor shall an amendment proposing an appropriation be in order during the consideration of a bill or joint resolution reported by a committee not having that jurisdiction. A question of order on an appropriation in any such bill, joint resolution, or amendment thereto may be raised at any time.

RULE XXII

OF PETITIONS, MEMORIALS, BILLS, AND RESOLUTIONS

1. Members having petitions or memorials or bills of a private nature to present may deliver them to the Clerk, endorsing their names and the reference or disposition to be made thereof; and said petitions and memorials and bills of a private nature, except such as, in the judgment of the Speaker, are of an obscene or insulting character, shall be entered on the Journal, with the names of the Members presenting them, and the Clerk shall furnish a transcript of such entry to the official reporters of debates for publication in the Record.

2. Any petition or memorial or private bill excluded under this rule shall be returned to the Member from whom it was received; and petitions and private bills which have been inappropriately referred may, by the direction of the committee having possession of the same, be properly referred in the manner originally presented; and an erroneous reference of a petition or private bill under this clause shall not confer jurisdiction upon the committee to consider or report the same.

3. All other bills, memorials, and resolutions may, in like manner, be delivered, endorsed, with the names of Members introducing them, to the Speaker, to be by him referred, and the titles and references thereof and of all bills, resolutions, and documents referred under the rules shall be entered on the Journal and printed in the Record of the next day, and correction in case of error of reference may be made by the House, without debate, in accordance with rule XI, on any day immediately after the reading of the Journal, by unanimous consent, or on motion of a committee claiming jurisdiction, or on the report of the committee to which the bill has been erroneously referred.

4. When a bill, resolution, or memorial is introduced "by request," these words shall be entered upon the Journal and printed in the Record.

5. All resolutions of inquiry addressed to the heads of executive departments shall be reported to the House within 1 week after presentation.

RULE XXIII

OF COMMITTEES OF THE WHOLE HOUSE

1. In all cases, in forming a Committee of the Whole House, the Speaker shall leave his chair after appointing a Chairman to preside, who shall, in case of disturbance or disorderly conduct in the galleries or lobby, have power to cause the same to be cleared.

2. Whenever the Committee of the Whole House or of the Whole House on the state of the Union finds itself without a quorum, which shall consist of 100 Members, the Chairman shall cause the roll to be called, and thereupon the Committee shall rise, and the Chairman shall report the names of the absentees to the House, which shall be entered on the Journal; but if on such call a quorum shall appear, the Committee shall thereupon resume its sitting without further order of the House.

3. All motions or propositions involving a tax or charge upon the people; all proceedings touching appropriations of money, or bills making appropriations of money or property, or requiring such appropriations to be made, or authorizing payments out of appropriations already made, or releasing any liability to the United States for money or property, or referring any claim to the Court of Claims, shall be first considered in a Committee of the Whole, and a point of order under this rule shall be good at any time before the consideration of a bill has commenced.

4. In Committees of the Whole House business on their calendars may be taken up in regular order, or in such order as the Committee may determine, unless the bill to be considered was determined by the House at the time of going into Committee, but bills for raising revenue, general appropriation bills, and bills for the improvement of rivers and harbors shall have precedence.

5. When general debate is closed by order of the House, any Member shall be allowed 5 minutes to explain any amendment he may offer, after which the Member who shall first obtain the floor shall be allowed to speak 5 minutes in opposition to it, and there shall be no further debate thereon, but the same privilege of debate shall be allowed in favor of and against any amendment that may be offered to an amendment; and neither an amendment nor an amendment to an amendment shall be withdrawn by the mover thereof unless by the unanimous consent of the Committee.

6. The Committee may, by the vote of a majority of the Members present, at any time after the 5 minutes' debate has begun upon proposed amendments to any section or paragraph of a bill, close all debate upon such section or paragraph or, at its election, upon the pending amendments only (which motion shall be decided without debate); but this shall not preclude further amendments, to be decided without debate.

7. A motion to strike out the enacting words of a bill shall have precedence of a motion to amend, and, if carried, shall be considered equivalent to its rejection. Whenever a bill is reported from a Committee of the Whole with an adverse recommendation and such recommendation is disagreed to by the House, the bill shall stand recommitted to the said Committee without further action by the House, but before the question of concurrence is submitted it is in order to entertain a motion to refer the bill to any committee, with or without instructions, and when the same is again reported to the House it shall be referred to the Committee of the Whole without debate.

8. The rules of proceeding in the House shall be observed in Committees of the Whole House so far as they may be applicable.

RULE XXIV

ORDER OF BUSINESS

1. The daily order of business shall be as follows:

First. Prayer by the Chaplain.

Second. Reading and approval of the Journal.

Third. Correction of reference of public bills.

Fourth. Disposal of business on the Speaker's table.

Fifth. Unfinished business.

Sixth. The morning hour for the consideration of bills called up by committees.

Seventh. Motions to go into Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union.

Eighth. Orders of the day.

2. Business on the Speaker's table shall be disposed of as follows:

Messages from the President shall be referred to the appropriate committees without debate. Reports and communications from heads of departments, and other communications addressed to the House, and bills, resolutions, and messages from the Senate may be referred to the appropriate committees in the same manner and with the same right of correction as public bills presented by Members; but House bills with Senate amendments which do not require consideration in a Committee of the Whole may be at once disposed of as the House may determine, as may also Senate bills substantially the same as House bills already favorably reported by a committee of the House, and not required to be considered in Committee of the Whole, be disposed of in the same manner on motion directed to be made by such committee.

3. The consideration of the unfinished business in which the House may be engaged at an adjournment, except business in the morning hour, shall be resumed as soon as the business on the Speaker's table is finished, and at the same time each day thereafter until disposed of, and the consideration of all other unfinished business shall be resumed whenever the class of business to which it belongs shall be in order under the rules.

4. After the unfinished business has been disposed of, the Speaker shall call each standing committee in regular order, and then select committees, and each committee when named may call up for consideration any bill reported by it on a previous day and on the House Calendar, and if the Speaker shall not complete the call of the committees before the House passes to other business, he shall resume the next call where he left off, giving preference to the last bill under consideration: Provided, That whenever any committee shall have occupied the morning hour on 2 days, it shall not be in order to call up any other bill until the other committees have been called in their turn.

5. After 1 hour shall have been devoted to the consideration of bills called up by committees, it shall be in order, pending consideration or discussion thereof, to entertain a motion to go into Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union, or, when authorized by a committee, to go into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union to consider a particular bill, to which motion one amendment only, designating another bill, may be made; and if either motion be determined in the negative, it shall not be in order to make either motion again until the disposal of the matter under consideration or discussion.

6. On the first Tuesday of each month after the disposal of such business on the Speaker's table as requires reference only, the Speaker shall direct the Clerk to call the bills and resolutions on the Private Calendar. Should objection be made by two or more Members to the consideration of any bill or resolution so called, it shall be recommitted to the committee which reported the bill or resolution, and no reservation or objection shall be entertained by the Speaker. Such bills and resolutions, if considered, shall be considered in the House as in the Committee of the Whole. No other business shall be in order on this day unless the House, by two-thirds vote on motion to dispense therewith, shall otherwise determine. On such motion debate shall be limited to 5 minutes for and 5 minutes against said motion.

On the third Tuesday of each month after the disposal of such business on the Speaker's table as requires reference only, the Speaker may direct the Clerk to call the bills and resolutions on the Private Calendar, preference to be given to omnibus bills containing bills or resolutions which have previously been objected to on a call of the Private Calendar. All bills and resolutions on the Private Calendar so called, if considered, shall be considered in the House as in the Committee of the Whole. Should objection be made by two or more Members to the consideration of any bill or resolution other than an omnibus bill, it shall be recommitted to the committee which reported the bill or resolution and no reservation of objection shall be entertained by the Speaker.

Omnibus bills shall be read for amendment by paragraph, and no amendment shall be in order except to strike out or to reduce amounts of money stated or to provide limitations. Any item or matter stricken from an omnibus bill shall not thereafter during the same session of Congress be included in any omnibus bill.

Upon passage of any such omnibus bill, said bill shall be resolved into the several bills and resolutions of which it is composed, and such original bills and resolutions, with any amendments adopted by the House, shall be engrossed, where necessary, and proceedings thereon had as if said bills and resolutions had been passed in the House severally.

In the consideration of any omnibus bill the proceedings as set forth above shall have the same force and effect as if each Senate and House bill or resolution therein contained or referred to were considered by the House as a separate and distinct bill or resolution.

7. On Wednesday of each week no business shall be in order except as provided by paragraph 4 of this rule unless the House by a two-thirds vote on motion to dispense therewith shall otherwise determine. On such a motion there may be debate not to exceed 5 minutes for and against. On a call of committees under this rule, bills may be called up from either the House or the Union Calendar, excepting bills which are privileged under the rules; but bills called up from the Union Calendar shall be considered in Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union. This rule shall not apply during the last 2 weeks of the session. It shall not be in order for the Speaker to entertain a motion for a recess on any Wednesday except during the last 2 weeks of the session.

Provided, That not more than 2 hours of general debate shall be permitted on any measure called up on Calendar Wednesday, and all debate must be confined to the subject matter of the bill, the time to be equally divided between those for and against the bill: Provided further, That whenever any committee shall have occupied one Wednesday it shall not be in order, unless the House by a two-thirds vote shall otherwise determine, to consider any unfinished business previously called up by such committee, unless the previous question had been ordered thereon, upon any succeeding Wednesday until the other committees have been called in their turn under this rule: Provided, That when, during any one session of Congress, all of the committees of the House are not called under the Calendar Wednesday rule, at the next session of Congress the call shall commence where it left off at the end of the preceding session.

8. The second and fourth Mondays in each month, after the disposition of motions to discharge committees and after the disposal of such business on the Speaker's table as requires reference only, shall, when claimed by the Committee on the District of Columbia, be set apart for the consideration of such business as may be presented by said committee.

RULE XXV

PRIORITY OF BUSINESS

All questions relating to the priority of business shall be decided by a majority without debate.

RULE XXVI

UNFINISHED BUSINESS OF THE SESSION

All business before committees of the House at the end of one session shall be resumed at the commencement of the next session of the same Congress in the same manner as if no adjournment had taken place.

RULE XXVII

CHANGE OR SUSPENSION OF RULES

1. No rule shall be suspended except by a vote of two-thirds of the Members voting, a quorum being present; nor shall the Speaker entertain a motion to suspend the rules except on the first and third Mondays of each month, preference being given on the first Monday to individuals and on the third Monday to committees, and during the last 6 days of a session.

2. All motions to suspend the rules shall, before being submitted to the House, be seconded by a majority by tellers, if demanded.

3. When a motion to suspend the rules has been seconded it shall be in order, before the final vote is taken thereon, to debate the proposition to be voted upon for 40 minutes, one-half of such time to be given to debate in favor of, and one-half to debate in opposition to, such proposition; and the same right of debate shall be allowed whenever the previous question has been ordered on any proposition on which there has been no debate.

4. A Member may present to the Clerk a motion in writing to discharge a committee from the consideration of a public bill or resolution which has been referred to it 30 days prior thereto (but only one motion may be presented for each bill or resolution). Under this rule it shall also be in order for a Member to file a motion to discharge the Committee on Rules from further consideration of any resolution providing either a special order of business, or a special rule for the consideration of any public bill or resolution favorably reported by a standing committee, or a special rule for the consideration of a public bill or resolution which has remained in a standing committee 30 or more days without action: Provided, That said resolution from which it is moved to discharge the Committee on Rules has been referred to that committee at least 7 days prior to the filing of the motion to discharge. The motion shall be placed in the custody of the Clerk, who shall arrange some convenient place for the signature of Members. A signature may be withdrawn by a Member in writing at any time before the motion is entered on the Journal. When a majority of the total membership of the House shall have signed the motion, it shall be entered on the Journal, printed with the signatures thereto in the Congressional Record, and referred to the Calendar of Motions to Discharge Committees.

On the second and fourth Mondays of each month, except during the last 6 days of any session of Congress, immediately after the approval of the Journal, any Member who has signed a motion to discharge which has been on the calendar at least 7 days prior thereto, and seeks recognition, shall be recognized for the purpose of calling up the motion, and the House shall proceed to its consideration in the manner herein provided without intervening motion except one motion to adjourn. Recognition for the motions shall be in the order in which they have been entered on the Journal.

When any motion under this rule shall be called up, the bill or resolution shall be read by title only. After 20 minutes' debate, one-half in favor of the proposition and one-half in opposition thereto, the House shall proceed to vote on the motion to discharge. If the motion prevails to discharge the Committee on Rules from any resolution pending before the committee, the House shall immediately vote on the adoption of said resolution, the Speaker not entertaining any dilatory or other intervening motion except one motion to adjourn, and, if said resolution is adopted, then the House shall immediately proceed to its execution. If the motion prevails to discharge one of the standing committees of the House from any public bill or resolution pending before the committee, it shall then be in order for any Member who signed the motion to move that the House proceed to the immediate consideration of such bill or resolution (such motion not being debatable), and such motion is hereby made of high privilege; and if it shall be decided in the affirmative, the bill shall be immediately considered under the general rules of the House, and if unfinished before adjournment of the day on which it is called up it shall remain the unfinished business until it is fully disposed of. Should the House by vote decide against the immediate consideration of such bill or resolution, it shall be referred to its proper calendar and be entitled to the same rights and privileges that it would have had, had the committee to which it was referred duly reported same to the House for its consideration: Provided, That when any perfected motion to discharge a committee from the consideration of any public bill or resolution has once been acted upon by the House it shall not be in order to entertain during the same session of Congress any other motion for the discharge from that committee of said measure, or from any other committee of any other bill or resolution substantially the same, relating in substance to or dealing with the same subject matter, or from the Committee on Rules of a resolution providing a special order of business for the consideration of any other such bill or resolution, in order that such action by the House on a motion to discharge shall be res adjudicata for the remainder of that session: Provided further, That if before any one motion to discharge a committee has been acted upon by the House there are on the Calendar of Motions to Discharge Committees other motions to discharge committees from the consideration of bills or resolutions substantially the same, relating in substance to or dealing with the same subject matter, after the House shall have acted on one motion to discharge, the remaining said motions shall be stricken from the Calendar of Motions to Discharge Committees and not acted on during the remainder of that session of Congress.

RULE XXVIII

CONFERENCE REPORTS

1a. The presentation of reports of committees of conference shall always be in order, except when the Journal is being read, while the roll is being called, or the House is dividing on any proposition.

1½a. After House conferees on any bill or resolution in conference between the House and Senate shall have been appointed for 20 calendar days and shall have failed to make a report, it is hereby declared to be a motion of the highest privilege to move to discharge said House conferees and to appoint new conferees, or to instruct said House conferees; and, further, during the last 6 days of any session of Congress, it shall be a privileged motion to move to discharge, appoint, or instruct House conferees after House conferees shall have been appointed 36 hours without having made a report.

1b. And there shall accompany every such report a detailed statement sufficiently explicit to inform the House what effect such amendments or propositions will have upon the measures to which they relate.

2. It shall not be in order to consider the report of a committee of conference until such report and the accompanying statement shall have been printed in the Record, except on either of the 6 days preceding the end of a session.

RULE XXIX

SECRET SESSION

Whenever confidential communications are received from the President of the United States, or whenever the Speaker or any Member shall inform the House that he has communications which he believes ought to be kept secret for the present, the House shall be cleared of all persons except the Members and officers thereof, and so continue during the reading of such communications, the debates, and proceedings thereon, unless otherwise ordered by the House.

RULE XXX

READING OF PAPERS

When the reading of a paper other than one upon which the House is called to give a final vote is demanded, and the same is objected to by any Member, it shall be determined without debate by a vote of the House.

RULE XXXI[1]

DRAWING OF SEATS

1. At the commencement of each Congress, immediately after the Members and Delegates are sworn in, the Clerk shall place in a box, prepared for that purpose, a number of small balls, of marble or other material, equal to the number of Members and Delegates, which balls shall be consecutively numbered and thoroughly intermingled, and at such hour as shall be fixed by the House for that purpose, by the hands of a page, draw said balls one by one from the box, and announce the number as it is drawn, upon which announcement the Member or Delegate whose name on a numbered alphabetical list shall correspond with the number on the ball shall advance and choose his seat for the term for which he is elected.

2. Before said drawing shall commence each seat shall be vacated and so remain until selected under this rule, and any seat having been selected shall be deemed forfeited if left unoccupied before the call of the roll is finished; and whenever the seats of Members and Delegates shall have been drawn, no proposition for a second drawing shall be in order during that Congress.

RULE XXXII

HALL OF THE HOUSE

The Hall of the House shall be used only for the legislative business of the House and for the caucus meetings of its Members, except upon occasion where the House by resolution agrees to take part in any ceremonies to be observed therein; and the Speaker shall not entertain a motion for the suspension of this rule.

2. There shall be excluded at all times from the Hall of the House of Representatives and the cloakrooms all persons not entitled to the privilege of the floor during the session, except that until 15 minutes of the hour of the meeting of

QUESTIONS OF ORDER

DECIDED IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES AT THE FIRST SESSION OF THE SEVENTY-SIXTH CONGRESS

WILLIAM B. BANKHEAD, OF ALABAMA, SPEAKER; SOUTH TRIMBLE, OF KENTUCKY, CLERK

QUESTION OF ORDER

On February 3, 1939, the House had under consideration the resolution (H. Res. 26) authorizing the Special Committee to Investigate Un-American Activities, appointed under authority of House Resolution 282, Seventy-fifth Congress, to continue its investigations during the Seventy-sixth Congress.

Mr. HOOK made the point of order that the resolution was not in order for consideration, for the reason that the Special Committee to Investigate Un-American Propaganda and Activities had made its report, and therefore was dissolved.

After debate,

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order and said: "The Chair is ready to rule.

"The gentleman from Michigan raises the point of order against the resolution on the grounds that the functions and authority conferred upon the select committee by the Seventy-fifth Congress have expired, and therefore that the Rules Committee has no authority to report a resolution reviving and continuing the activities of that committee.

"The Committee on Rules, of course, is a highly privileged committee. Under the rules of the House it has authority to report on matters of this character. As the Chair understands the resolution, reading the letter and the spirit of it, it provides not only for the continuance of the select committee appointed by virtue of the resolution of the Seventy-fifth Congress but also for a revival of said committee. In other words, in the opinion of the Chair, the Committee on Rules had the authority, under the rules of the House, to breathe life into this select committee if they saw fit to do so, and the resolution was approved by the House.

"This is not a new matter. The Chair has not before it immediately the precedents, but in the Seventy-fourth Congress and in the Seventy-fifth Congress similar resolutions were presented. It has been held that the Committee on Rules has the power and jurisdiction to report resolutions similar in character and substance to this. As a matter of fact, the precedent cited by the gentleman from Michigan [Mr. HOOK], section 4403, Hinds' Precedents, sustains the position which the Chair feels impelled to take. The Chair will reread that:

"'When a select committee reports in full on the subject committed, it is thereby dissolved; but it may be revived by a vote.'

"As the Chair understands it, the purpose and object of this resolution is to revive this committee by a vote in the House. Therefore, the Chair overrules the point of order."

QUESTION OF PRIVILEGE OF THE HOUSE

On February 14, 1939, Mr. WOLCOTT rose to a question of privilege of the House, and submitted the following resolution (H. Res. 93):

Whereas in the Revenue Act of 1926 there was established the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation, to be composed of 10 members, 5 of whom are members of the Comittee on Finance of the Senate, 3 from the majority party and 2 from the minority party, to be chosen by said committee; and 5 members who are members of the Committee on Ways and Means of the House of Representatives, 3 from the majority party and 2 from the minority party, to be chosen by such committee; and

Whereas it is the legal duty of this joint committee to investigate the operation and effects of the Federal system of internal-revenue taxes; to investigate the administration of such taxes by the Bureau of Internal Revenue or any executive department, establishment, or agency charged with their administration; to make such other investigations in respect to such system of taxes as the joint committee may deem necessary; to investigate measures and methods for the simplification of such taxes, particularly the income tax; to publish, from time to time, for public examination and analysis, proposed measures and methods for the simplification of such taxes, and to report, from time to time, to the Committee on Finance and the Committee on Ways and Means and, in its discretion, to the Senate or to the House of Representatives, or both, the results of its investigations, together with such recommendations as it might deem advisable; and

Whereas the present membership of this Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation is composed of the following members: Hon. Pat Harrison, Mississippi; Hon. William H. King, Utah; Hon. Walter F. George, Georgia; Hon. Robert M. La Follette, Jr., Wisconsin; Hon. Arthur Capper, Kansas, all Members of the United States Senate; Hon. Robert L. Doughton (chairman), North Carolina; Hon. Thomas H. Cullen, New York; Hon. John W. McCormack, Massachusetts; Hon. Allen T. Treadway, Massachusetts; Hon. Frank Crowther, New York, all Members of the House of Representatives; and

Whereas Colin F. Stam is chief of staff of the said Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation and has certain technical assistants, a statistician, and attorneys of expert ability; and

Whereas President Franklin D. Roosevelt in messages to the Congress on April 25, 1938, and January 19, 1939, recommended legislation which would subject to Federal and State income-tax statutes the interest paid on future issues of Federal, State, and municipal bonds, and the salaries of Federal, State, and municipal officers and employees; and

Whereas, subsequent to the President's message of April 25, 1938, at the request of the Treasury Department, the Department of Justice undertook a study of the problems and transmitted its report to the Treasury Department on June 24, 1938; and

Whereas the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation, under the direction of the Congress and with the assistance of its staff of experts, also undertook an investigation and study of these same tax proposals; and

Whereas the question of the constitutionality of the legislation proposed by the President was studied by an agency of the executive branch of the Government and by an agency of the Congress; and

Whereas the studies and conclusions of the Department of Justice and the Treasury Department were reported to the Senate Finance Committee, the special Senate Committee on Taxation of Government Securities and Salaries, and the Special Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation were made available to several libraries, the press, and, in general, to all persons interested, these studies and conclusions thus having a wide circulation in the Congress and throughout the country previous to the action of the House on H. R. 3790; and

Whereas the report of the Department of Justice was placed before each member of the Ways and Means Committee when H. R. 3790 was being considered, and a synopsis thereof made available to all Members of Congress; and

Whereas a representative of the Department of Justice discussed the constitutionality of H. R. 3790 before the Ways and Means Committee and submitted himself to cross-examination; and

Whereas, although he admitted that he was not free from doubt as to the constitutionality of H. R. 3790, he nevertheless urged the enactment of this legislation; and

Whereas the staff of experts of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation had made an exhaustive study and report, which was "printed for the examination and use of the members of the committee," meaning the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation; and

Whereas there appears on the title page of this report this language: "Note.—This report has been ordered printed for purposes of information and discussion, but it has not yet been considered or approved by the committee or any member thereof"; and

Whereas Government Printing Office officials have stated that this report was printed and delivered to the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation on January 15, 1939; and

Whereas the members of the Ways and Means Committee, at least the minority members thereof, and other Members of the House of Representatives, were denied access to this report and had no knowledge of it, and were thus deprived of the benefit of the investigation and conclusions of the staff of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation while the Ways and Means Committee was considering H. R. 3790; and

Whereas the first intimation the Members of the House had of the existence of this report was through an item concerning it published in a Washington newspaper on February 10, 1939, the day after H. R. 3790 was passed; the newspaper article referred to this report as having been mentioned in a Senate hearing on the very day the House of Representatives debated and passed H. R. 3790; and

Whereas this report to the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation states on page 47 thereof: "It appears that the only way all of the salaries of State and political subdivision officers and employees could be reached by the Federal Government, and all the salaries of Federal officers and employees could be reached by the State governments, is by a constitutional amendment"; and

Whereas this conclusion by the staff of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation undoubtedly would have had great influence and bearing upon the final action of the House of Representatives concerning H. R. 3790; and

Whereas the members of the Ways and Means Committee and of the House of Representatives were thus deprived of the studies and conclusions of the staff of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation, although their report had been printed and delivered 25 days previous to the consideration of H. R. 3790 by the House of Representatives; and

Whereas copies of this printed report have not yet been made generally available to the Members of the House of Representatives, although they have been printed since January 15, 1939; and

Whereas the House of Representatives has been given no reason why the printed copies of this report were ignored, neglected, or sequestered until H. R. 3790 had been passed by the House of Representatives; and

Whereas no explanation has been offered why the Ways and Means Committee was denied the benefit of these investigations and conclusions of the staff of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation, although the Ways and Means Committee did not begin its hearings on H. R. 3790 until January 26, 1939, 11 days after the report had been printed and delivered to the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation, and although the report of the investigations, conclusions, and opinions of the Treasury Department and the Department of Justice, representing the executive branch of the Government, were, during this time, brought to the attention of the members of the Ways and Means Committee, the House of Representatives, and the press; and

Whereas the Members of the House of Representatives who voted on H. R. 3790 were thus denied the benefit of the research and conclusions of the staff of its own agency, the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation; and

Whereas knowledge of this report of the staff of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation might have affected the votes of some Members of the House of Representatives, and might have altered the action of the House by which the bill was passed; and

Whereas the ignoring, neglecting, or sequestering of this report impaired the ability of the Members of the House of Representatives to fulfill their oaths of office to uphold and defend the Constitution by due exercise of study and judgment of legislation which they might believe to be in violation of the Constitution; and

Whereas such action in ignoring, neglecting, or sequestering pertinent and important information bearing upon the constitutionality of legislation did adversely affect the safety, dignity, and integrity of proceedings of the House of Representatives, and of the Members thereof; and

Whereas such ignoring, neglect, or sequestration of this report to the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation has had the effect of concealment to deceive, mislead, and cause the Members to vote, with a lack of adequate and available information upon an important tax measure of questionable constitutionality; and

Whereas such ignoring, neglect, or sequestration of a report to a standing committee of this Congress, pertinent to pending legislation, if deliberate, is utterly indefensible and in violation of constitutional procedure in the Congress; and

Whereas the belated knowledge of this report to the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation has placed many Members of the House of Representatives in an embarrassing and humiliating position; and

Whereas Hon. DANIEL A. REED of New York, a minority member of the Ways and Means Committee, and other Members of the House, raised the question of the constitutionality of the legislation during the debates on H. R. 3790, calling attention to the fact that a fundamental constitutional question affecting the sovereignty and independence of the several States of the Union was involved; these Members contending that the objectives sought by the legislation could be achieved only by a constitutional amendment; this contention would have been fully supported and confirmed by the aforementioned report had it not been concealed from the Members of the House; and

Whereas the ignoring, neglecting, or concealing of the aforementioned report constitutes a denial to the Members of the House of Representatives of their official rights and privileges; and

Whereas the said H. R. 3790, having been passed by the House, has been sent to the Senate for its consideration: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate be, and is hereby, requested through the proper channels to return H. R. 3790 to the House of Representatives for such further consideration as it may deem proper.

Mr. RAYBURN made the point of order that the resolution did not present a question of privilege of the House, and therefore is not in order for consideration.

After debate,

The SPEAKER sustained the point of order and said:

"The Chair is ready to rule.

"The gentleman from Michigan offers a resolution providing that the Senate be requested to return the bill H. R. 3790 to the House of Representatives for such further consideration as the House of Representatives may deem proper.

"A reading of the subsequent allegations contained in the preamble seems to support the idea that the gravamen of the objection made by the gentleman from Michigan is that in the course of the performance of its duty the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation failed to offer to or concealed from certain members of the House Committee on Ways and Means the study compiled by its staff with reference to the constitutionality of the statute seeking to tax the salaries of State officials. The gentleman from Michigan in his argument rather tacitly admitted he had grave doubts as to whether or not under the usual rules and precedents of the House the facts stated justified the submission of the resolution as involving privileges of the House.

"The Chair is very clearly of the opinion that one or two precedents, which are found in Hinds' Precedents, volume 4, sections 3477 and 3478, lay down sufficient guidance for the Chair in determining this question.

"'On August 16, 1856, an order directing the Clerk to request the Senate to return the Mississippi land bill in order that an error in engrossment might be corrected, was offered by unanimous consent, and does not seem to have been contemplated in the light of a privileged proposition.'

"In the other precedent, Mr. Speaker Crisp, in interpreting the question of whether or not matter of this sort constituted a privileged proposition, said:

"'If the gentleman from Indiana would modify his resolution so as to allege that this bill was reported unfavorably from the Committee of the Whole, and was considered by the House under the idea that it had been favorably reported, the Chair thinks the resolution would be privileged. But a simple resolution to recall a bill can hardly be considered privileged, because in that case such a resolution might be presented with regard to any bill that is passed. To make the resolution privileged, it should show that the House has acted under some misunderstanding of the report of the Committee—'

"The Chair interpolates there that he assumes that was a report of a Committee of the Whole—

"'or something of that kind.'

"The fact suggested that all Members of the House were deprived of the benefits of the legal opinion formulated by the staff of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation does not justify the Chair in assuming that, even if they had had such information, it would have changed the vote of the House. The Chair recollects that this particular problem of the constitutionality of this bill from the Committee on Ways and Means was very ably debated on the floor of the House.

"Under the rules and under the precedents the Chair has suggested, although the Chair realizes there are cases in which it might be proper to offer a resolution to recall a bill for some clerical misprision or for some patent misstatement of the Record, the Chair is of the opinion that this matter does not present a privileged resolution and, therefore, sustains the point of order made by the gentleman from Texas."

Mr. WOLCOTT again rose to a question of privilege of the House, and submitted the following resolution (H. Res. 94):

Whereas in the Revenue Act of 1926 there was established the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation, to be composed of 10 members, 5 of whom are members of the Committee on Finance of the Senate, 3 from the majority party and 2 from the minority party, to be chosen by said committee; and 5 members who are members of the Committee on Ways and Means of the House of Representatives, 3 from the majority party and 2 from the minority party, to be chosen by such committee; and

Whereas it is the legal duty of this joint committee to investigate the operation and effects of the Federal system of internal-revenue taxes; to investigate the administration of such taxes by the Bureau of Internal Revenue or any executive department, establishment, or agency, charged with their administration; to make such other investigations in respect of such system of taxes as the joint committee may deem necessary; to investigate measures and methods for the simplification of such taxes, particularly the income tax; to publish, from time to time, for public examination and analysis, proposed measures and methods for the simplification of such taxes, and to report, from time to time, to the Committee on Finance and the Committee on Ways and Means, and, in its discretion, to the Senate or to the House of Representatives, or both, the results of its investigations, together with such recommendations as it might deem advisable; and

Whereas the present membership of this Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation is composed of the following members: Hon. Pat Harrison, Mississippi; Hon. William H. King, Utah; Hon. Walter F. George, Georgia; Hon. Robert M. La Follette, Jr., Wisconsin; Hon. Arthur Capper, Kansas, all Members of the United States Senate; Hon. Robert L. Doughton (chairman), North Carolina; Hon. Thomas H. Cullen, New York; Hon. John W. McCormack, Massachusetts; Hon. Allen T. Treadway, Massachusetts; and Hon. Frank Crowther, New York, all Members of the House of Representatives; and

Whereas Colin F. Stam is chief of staff of the said Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation, and has certain technical assistants, a statistician, and attorneys of expert ability; and

Whereas President Franklin D. Roosevelt, in messages to the Congress on April 25, 1938, and January 19, 1939, recommended legislation which would subject to Federal and State income-tax statutes the interest paid on future issues of Federal, State, and municipal bonds and the salaries of Federal, State, and municipal officers and employees; and

Whereas subsequent to the President's message of April 25, 1938, at the request of the Treasury Department, the Department of Justice undertook a study of the problems, and transmitted its report to the Treasury Department on June 24, 1938; and

Whereas the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation, under the direction of the Congress and with the assistance of its staff of experts, also undertook an investigation and study of these same tax proposals; and

Whereas Hon. DANIEL A. Resolved, That the acts and omissions herein charged constitute a question of privilege affecting the safety, dignity, and the integrity of the proceedings of this House of Representatives.

Mr. RAYBURN made the point of order that the resolution did not present a question of privilege of the House and, therefore, is not in order for consideration.

After debate,

The SPEAKER sustained the point of order and said:

"The Chair is prepared to rule.

"The gentleman from Michigan [Mr. WOLCOTT] raises in a new form the original question of privilege submitted for the determination of the Chair. The resolution now pending provides—

" 'Now, therefore, be it

" 'Resolved, That the acts and omissions herein charged constitute a question of privileges affecting the safety, dignity, and integrity of the proceedings of this House of Representatives.'

"The Chair, in its former decision, announced the general principle of parliamentary law that should govern this question; but in addition to the statements there made in connection with this resolution and the admissions that have been made upon the floor, the only matter now apparent in the record about which the gentleman from Michigan can complain is that a staff of experts employed by the joint committee made certain suggestions with reference to the legal aspects of proposed legislation. It is admitted that the committee itself never took any action upon those suggestions, and, for aught appearing in this record, the committee might have entirely differed from the legal conclusion submitted by the staff of experts.

"In addition to that, the mere fact that a committee of the House fails to make available to the membership of the House the hearings or the opinions of persons appearing before such committee does not give a Member the right to raise the question of privilege of the House, when such privilege is based solely upon that ground. As a matter of fact, a great many proceedings before committees of the House are not submitted to the House or to the Members. A great many meetings of committees are in executive session. A great mass of evidence appearing before a committee that might be valuable to Members of the House in drawing conclusions on legislation is never, as a matter of fact, presented to the House or to the membership.

"For those reasons the Chair is constrained to sustain the point of order made by the gentleman from Texas [Mr. RAYBURN] that the facts asserted in the preamble to this resolution do not constitute a matter affecting the safety, dignity, and integrity of the proceedings of the House of Representatives."

GERMANENESS

On March 9, 1939, the House had under consideration the conference report on the bill (H. R. 2866) making appropriations to supply deficiencies in certain appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1939, to provide supplemental appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1939, and for other purposes.

Mr. WOODRUM moved that the House recede from its disagreement to said Senate amendment No. 23 and concur therein with the following amendment:

Restore the matter stricken out by said amendment amended to read as follows:

Procurement Division, Public Buildings Branch

General Federal Office Building, Washington, District of Columbia: For the acquisition of the necessary land and the construction of a building for additional office space in the District of Columbia under the provisions of the Public Buildings Act approved May 25, 1926 (44 Stat. 630), as amended, including the extension of steam and water mains, removal or diversion of such sewers and utilities as may be necessary, and for administrative expenses in connection therewith, $3,500,000.

And on page 5 of the bill, in line 2, after the figure "$850,000", insert the following: : Provided, That such additional sum shall be available for administrative expenses of the Wage and Hour Division for the fiscal year 1939 heretofore or hereafter incurred and otherwise properly chargeable thereto.

Mr. TABER made the point of order that the amendment to the Senate amendment attempts to amend an item that has not been in disagreement, and therefore is not in order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. WARREN) sustained the point of order.

GERMANENESS

On March 13, 1939, the House had under consideration the resolution (H. Res. 113) authorizing an investigation of the milk industry in the District of Columbia.

Mr. HALLECK submitted the following amendment:

Page 2, line 7, after "thereto", strike out the period and insert: (6) the propriety and feasibility of licensing or otherwise permitting under proper regulation in such manner as to fairly protect the safety and health of consumers in the District of Columbia, the entry into the District of Columbia of so-called western cream and milk, and cream and milk from any available sources in the United States for fluid, manufacturing, or other use in the District of Columbia and on the Washington market; (7) and whether the 1925 Milk Act, and all other acts relating to the importation, distribution, and inspection of milk and dairy products require modification, alteration, or improvement in order to insure an adequate supply of milk and dairy products for the residents of the District of Columbia at reasonable and fair prices.

Mr. SMITH of Virginia made the point of order that the amendment was not germane to the resolution.

After debate,

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order, and said: "The gentleman from Indiana [Mr. HALLECK] offers an amendment to the pending bill, which has been read by the Clerk and to which the Chair has given consideration.

"It seems that the general purpose of the resolution now pending before the House is to authorize the House Committee on the District of Columbia, or a duly authorized subcommittee thereof, to make a complete investigation of, first, the sources and purity of the milk and cream supply of the District of Columbia, and then under five different subdivisions the resolution authorizes the committee or subcommittee to make investigations of other matters affecting the supply of milk and cream within the District of Columbia.

"On page 3 of the resolution, beginning at line 21, is the following language:

" 'That the said committee shall report to the House of Representatives at the earliest practicable date the result of its investigation, together with its recommendations for the enactment of desirable or necessary legislation or regulations.'

"So that as the matter is presented to the Chair, the committee is authorized to make investigations into a number of matters relating to the supply of milk and cream in the District of Columbia, involving possibly all phases of that subject. The gentleman from Indiana offers an amendment extending, as the Chair reads the amendment, the jurisdiction and the authority of the committee or subcommittee to investigate another phase of the importation of milk and cream.

"There is a very well-considered line of opinions and precedents holding that where a number of subjects are embraced in a bill, it is germane to add another subject of the same class thereto, and inasmuch as the committee is authorized to make recommendations affecting legislation to cure or change the situation with reference to the supply of milk or cream, the Chair is of the opinion that the amendment is in order and is germane to the resolution and overrules the point of order."

DECORUM IN DEBATE

On March 16, 1939, the House was in Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for consideration of the bill (H. R. 4852) making appropriations for the Department of the Interior for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1940, and for other purposes; and after some time spent therein,

The SPEAKER resumed the chair,

When Mr. BUCK, Chairman, reported that during consideration of said bill in Committee certain words used in debate were objected to and upon request were taken down and read at the Clerk's desk.

The Clerk read the words taken down, as follows: "I have seen him come out with a hand that only he possesses, a hand like a ham, and grasp this delicate instrument until it groaned from mad torture. I have seen him come on the floor and stamp up and down like a wild man."

The SPEAKER said: "The rule governing situations of this character provides as follows:

" 'OF DECORUM AND DEBATE

" 'When any Member desires to speak or deliver any matter to the House he shall rise and respectfully address himself to "Mr. Speaker," and, on being recognized, may address the House from any place on the floor or from the Clerk's desk, and shall confine himself to the question under debate, avoiding personality.'

"The words objected to and which have been taken down and read from the Clerk's desk very patently violate the rule, because the words alleged do involve matters of personal reference and personality."

Thereupon, on motion of Mr. GEYER of California, by unanimous consent, said objectionable words were withdrawn.

The Committee resumed its session; and, after some further time spent therein,

The SPEAKER resumed the chair,

When Mr. BUCK, Chairman, reported that during further consideration of said bill in Committee certain words used in debate were objected to and upon request were taken down and read at the Clerk's desk.

The Clerk read the words taken down, as follows: "Mr. Chairman, I tell you what is behind all this. You need not camouflage it. The Power Trust that paid a lot of campaign expenses last year. That is what is behind it."

The SPEAKER said: "The Chair has listened very attentively to the reading of these words by the reading clerk and, under the rule as announced by the Chair and read by the Chair heretofore this afternoon, the Chair cannot see in the language used any reflection or any personal reflection upon the gentleman from New York or any other Member of the House, and therefore holds that the words do not violate the rules or the proprieties of debate."

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

On March 27, 1939, Mr. HOFFMAN rose to a question of personal privilege, and said:

"A magazine circulating in Washington, in its issue of the 28th of February 1939, contained these statements:

"'What do the men who know them best—the Washington correspondents—really think of the men who make up the Seventy-sixth Congress of the United States, now in session?

"'——— decided to find out by conducting the only poll of its sort ever taken—a secret vote among Capital newsmen.

"'Correspondents who write about Congress were asked which Senator and which Representative are most useful, least useful.'

"This was followed by the following language:

"'——— (I omit the name) is the least useful Member of the House of Representatives, Washington correspondents voted.

"'But he barely nosed out ——— of ———, ——— of ———, and C. E. HOFFMAN (Republican), of Michigan, who shared a three-way tie for runner-up.'

"This language raises a question of personal privilege for the reason that if the statement that the Representative from Michigan named is the least useful man in the House is true, the statement is false for the reason that no such poll was conducted among the Washington correspondents who know the Congressmen best and that no secret vote was taken among Capital newsmen, and as so made it calls in question the ability, the industry, the influence, the capacity, as a Representative of the Member from Michigan."

The SPEAKER said:

"The gentleman from Michigan rises to a question of personal privilege, which question is based upon the language he has just read from a paper he held in his hand. It seems that the gravamen of the matter relates to a newspaper poll that was purported to have been made with reference to the usefulness, standing, and so forth, of Members of the House of Representatives.

"Of course, there are sometimes border-line cases in which it is rather difficult for the Chair to reach, for himself, a definite conclusion on the question of personal privilege, but the Chair thinks the rule should again be stated, because this question is frequently stated.

"Rule IX provides:

"'QUESTIONS OF PRIVILEGE

"'Questions of privilege shall be, first, those affecting the rights of the House collectively, its safety, dignity, and the integrity of its proceedings; second, the rights, reputation, and conduct of Members, individually, in their representative capacity only; and shall have precedence of all other questions except motions to adjourn.'

"The gentleman from Michigan takes the position that this newspaper criticism, if the Chair may call it that, states a question of personal privilege. While the Chair is inclined to give the greatest elasticity and liberality to questions of personal privilege when raised, the Chair is of the opinion that in this particular instance the mere statement of opinion by a group of newspaper correspondents with reference to a Member's record or position in the House of Representatives does not present in fact, or under the rules of the House, a matter of personal privilege.

"Therefore, the Chair is constrained to rule that the gentleman has not presented a question of personal privilege."

Mr. HOFFMAN rose to a further question of personal privilege, and said:

"The March 23, 1939, issue of the New York Times, referring to John L. Lewis, chairman of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, among others, carried this statement:

"'Maintaining that the C. I. O. was an American institution, Mr. Lewis denied that it was controlled by Communists, saying that anyone who charged such communistic control was a knave, a liar, and a poltroon.'

"Labor's Non-Partisan League, during the campaign of 1938, circulated throughout the press of the country a statement to the effect that I was on its blacklist and should be defeated for the reason that it considered me unfair to its legislative policy.

"On June 1, 1937, in the House, a speech was made by me in which it was charged, among other things, that the methods used by the C. I. O. in the sit-down strikes were communistic and that some of those who directed the activities of the C. I. O. in those strikes were Communists.

"Inasmuch as more than 100,000 copies of that talk were distributed and that the Labor Board held that its circulation among employees was an unfair labor practice, and in view of the fact that I have, on several occasions, charged on the floor of the House and elsewhere that the methods used by some of the C. I. O. organizers were those of the Communists and that some of their officials were Communists, under the precedents heretofore established, even though the statement by Lewis does not refer to me by name, it raises a question of personal privilege, growing out of the fact that he charges that the statements that were made by me on the floor were untrue."

The SPEAKER said:

"The Chair is ready to rule on this question of personal privilege presented by the gentleman from Michigan.

"The question now raised is the following language that was purported to have been quoted in the March 23, 1939, issue of the New York Times as coming from John L. Lewis, chairman of the Congress of Industrial Organizations:

"'Maintaining that the C. I. O. was an American institution, Mr. Lewis denied that it was controlled by Communists, saying that anyone who charged such communistic control was a knave, a liar, and a poltroon.'

"The gentleman from Michigan takes the position that because of something that he may have said heretofore on the floor of the House brings him within the purview of the definition given by Mr. Lewis. But in the language quoted there is certainly no reference to any particular individual. The gentleman is not named, and for aught appearing in this statement that has been made the gentleman who is quoted may have been referring entirely to some other individual or some other group of individuals rather than the gentleman from Michigan.

"The Chair is clearly of the opinion that it would be stretching the rule too far to construe the general statement here made as giving the gentleman from Michigan a question of privilege."

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

On March 30, 1939, Mr. PIERCE of New York rose to a question of personal privilege, and said:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to discuss and deny statements contained in a newspaper article which appeared yesterday morning on the editorial page of the Washington Times-Herald in the column entitled 'Washington Daily Merry-Go-Round,' which reflected upon my conduct and integrity as a member of the Judiciary Committee of the House and as a Member of the House itself, and also affected my rights and the rights of the House collectively, its dignity, and the integrity of its proceedings."

The SPEAKER said:

"The Chair is prepared to rule on the question of privilege raised by the gentleman from New York.

"The Chair, of course, can well understand the indignation of any Member of the House at a newspaper article that appears to be absolutely unfair or critical of his conduct as a Member of the House, but on this question of personal privilege the Chair is of course compelled to follow the precedents of the House, very few of which were established by the present occupant of the chair.

"The Chair has read the newspaper article which the gentleman from New York has read, to see if under the precedents and under the philosophy of the rule the gentleman would be entitled to present this matter as a question of personal privilege. The Chair, within the past few days, has upon several occasions read into the Record the rule affecting this question of personal privilege. There are several precedents upon this particular question of newspaper criticism. One of them is found in section 2712 of Hinds' Precedents, volume 3:

"'A newspaper article in the nature of criticism of a Member's acts in the House does not present a question of personal privilege.'

"That is the syllabus of the decision.

"Another decision holds that a newspaper article criticizing Members generally involves no question of privilege.

* * * * * * *

"The Chair stated in the beginning of his decision on this question that the Chair can, of course, well understand the spirit that animates the gentleman from New York; but the Chair, as the gentleman from Michigan well knows, must conform to the general principles involved in this question of personal privilege, and unless pretty sharp restrictions were thrown around its interpretation it would probably open a very great field for Members to rise to questions of personal privilege upon adverse newspaper criticism.

"The Chair can find nothing in the newspaper article referred to which charges anything that would be a violation of the oath of office of the Member from New York. There is no statement in the article that it was a confidential or executive communication of any sort, and there is nothing in the article that charges any moral obliquity on the part of the gentleman from New York as the Chair understands it for the reason that he would have the right, if he chose to do so, to have done the particular acts charged in the newspaper article.

"Having recourse again to the precedents the Chair finds the following: 'The fact that a Member is misrepresented in his acts or speech does not constitute a matter of personal privilege, nor does misrepresenting a Member's vote.'

"The Chair personally would be delighted to have the gentleman from New York given the opportunity to address himself to the membership of the House on the question presented by him. The Chair, however, is constrained to rule in this instance as well as all others according to the precedents of the House and therefore rules that the matter complained of does not, in the opinion of the Chair, constitute a matter of personal privilege."

GERMANENESS

On May 1, 1939, the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union was discharged from further consideration of the bill (H. R. 892) to extend to custodial service employees employed by the Post Office Department certain benefits applicable to postal employees.

When said bill was considered and read twice.

The following amendment recommended by the Committee on the Post Office and Post Roads was agreed to:

Page 1, lines 9 and 10, strike out "This act shall be effective with respect to service after June 30, 1938."

Mr. CELLER submitted the following amendment:

Page 1, line 5, after "Department", insert and the Treasury Department.

Mr. TABER made the point of order that the amendment was not germane.

The SPEAKER sustained the point of order.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

On May 2, 1939, Mr. GEARHART rose to a question of personal privilege, and said:

"Mr. Speaker, with the indulgence of the Chair, may I point out that I will during the course of my remarks introduce or read copies of telegrams and an envelope, and I ask unanimous consent of the House that the telegrams may be printed in capital type."

The SPEAKER. The Chair would rather have the gentleman present his question of personal privilege in order to determine whether or not he has a question of personal privilege.

Mr. GEARHART. Mr. Speaker, there is one other request I will address to the Chair before proceeding to answer that. Since the matters and things which I am about to discuss will involve another Member of this body, with the indulgence of the Chair, I will now present to the Chair copy of telegram which I have this morning sent to the Representative of the Tenth Congressional District of California, Hon. A. J. ELLIOTT.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will send up the telegram.

The Chair may say to the gentleman from California that, in order for the Chair to pass upon the question whether or not the gentleman presents a question of personal privilege, it is incumbent upon the gentleman from California to present for the consideration of the Chair statements or articles that reflect upon his character and reputation as a Member of the House of Representatives. The Chair is of the opinion that the telegram which the gentleman from California [Mr. GEARHART] sent to a colleague is not a sufficient basis to present a question of personal privilege. In other words, in order to be entirely fair to the gentleman, the Chair will give him full opportunity to present his alleged question of personal privilege, and calls the attention of the gentleman to the fact that he must present for the review of the Chair some charges or attacks that have been made upon him.

The Chair is of the opinion that the telegram which the gentleman sent to another colleague, a Member of Congress, is not a sufficient basis or ground for the matter of personal privilege.

Mr. GEARHART. Mr. Speaker, the telegram is offered as notice that I am going to discuss the conduct of a Member of this body. I did not want to do this without giving him ample notice, and in the telegram I set forth in detail what I intend to discuss and establish by proof. For these reasons I think the telegram should be received to show that notice has been given.

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman establishes the matter of personal privilege, of course, he may use his own judgment about presenting the text of the telegram in his statement; however, the gentleman has not as yet presented for the consideration of the Chair any matter involving a question of personal privilege that affects the gentleman from California [Mr. GEARHART].

Mr. GEARHART. Mr. Speaker, I am confident I will be able to do that.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires the gentleman to do that now.

Mr. GEARHART. Mr. Speaker, I do not desire to speak in a derogatory way in reference to a colleague of this House without first demonstrating to the membership of the House that I gave him due and formal notice of exactly what I intended to say. That is the only purpose for which I sent the telegram to the desk and the only reason I ask that it be read.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman kindly present now the matter upon which he bases his question of personal privilege?

Mr .GEARHART. Mr. Speaker, I ask the recognition of the Chair on these grounds and because of these reasons:

(a) That my rights in my representative capacity to propose and urge upon the appropriate legislative bodies the favorable consideration of legislation has been unjustifiably interfered with, restricted, and circumscribed by reason of unparliamentary, unfair, character-destroying, personal attacks, based upon falsehoods and misrepresentations by the Representative of the Tenth Congressional District of California.

(b) That my reputation in my representative capacity for truth, honesty, and integrity has been impugned and brought into question by reason of the malicious initiation and circulation of false rumors by the Representative of the Tenth Congressional District to the effect that I am a cheap, money-taking, grafting, self-serving politician in the worst sense of that term, and by the exhibition at public gatherings, open meetings, and private conferences, and in the presence of numerous persons, collectively and individually, of photostats of certain documents, among others a check purporting to be that of Mrs. Gertrude Achilles, with the representation, express and implied, that such photostats constituted and were conclusive evidence of the base character and dishonest propensities of the Representative from the Ninth District of California in respect to his representative capacity.

(c) That my conduct in my representative capacity has been maliciously misrepresented by the Representative from the Tenth Congressional District and by others deceived and misled by him, to the people of the country, and especially to the people of the Ninth and Tenth Congressional Districts of California as base, dishonest, corrupt, and as utterly inconsistent with the high obligation which is that of those who compose the membership of this honorable body, to my damage and detriment.

In support of the grounds and reasons just mentioned I present the following proofs and explanations:

Mr. Speaker, on the 7th day of February 1939 I introduced in the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States——

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman pardon the Chair for just a moment? Does the gentleman state upon his responsibility as a Member that the charges to which he has referred affecting the character and reputation and standing of the gentleman who is presenting this question were made by the other gentleman from California, a Member of this House?

Mr. GEARHART. I state that on my own responsibility as a Member of this body and from affidavits which I will present in the course of this statement.

The SPEAKER. Has the gentleman the affidavits?

Mr. GEARHART. The affidavits come to me from persons whom I know to be of the utmost respectability and upon whose word I place complete reliance.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman kindly present one or more of those affidavits for the consideration of the Chair?

Mr. GEARHART. I will state to the Chair with all due respect that I have arranged everything in chronological order, and if I am required to present my evidence in a disorderly way I am afraid the import thereof will be lost.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has no disposition to interfere with the order of the gentleman's argument, but the Chair has a very solemn preliminary decision to make; that is, whether or not the gentleman has sufficient evidence of these charges being made, by affidavit or in the public prints or otherwise, before the Chair can entitle the gentleman to the floor to discuss his matter of privilege.

The Chair trusts that the Member will feel that the Chair has no inclination whatever to interfere with his method of presenting his case, but the Chair must have before him some substantive or rather conclusive evidence that the gentleman's character and reputation as a Member have been assailed. The Chair cannot recognize the gentleman on a matter of personal privilege until the gentleman has furnished evidence of that fact; in other words—and the Chair does not know whether or not the gentleman is a lawyer—under the procedure here the gentleman must make out and establish a prima facie case involving the question of personal privilege. This has been the uniform practice in all cases heretofore arising in the House.

Mr. GEARHART. I may state to the Chair that I am legally trained.

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman has an affidavit and desires to present fully his question of privilege, the Chair suggests that the gentleman furnish it to the Chair at this point.

Mr. GEARHART. Do I understand that the Chair desires to glance at it?

The SPEAKER. Only.

Mr. GEARHART. Very well.

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not desire to mislead the gentleman. If the affidavit is offered, it probably on request will go in the RECORD; but that, the Chair thinks, will not interfere with the gentleman's presentation.

The Clerk will read the affidavit for the benefit of the RECORD.

The Clerk read as follows:

AFFIDAVIT

STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
County of Santa Clara, ss:

Gertrude S. Achilles, being duly sworn, deposes and says:

I reside near Morgan Hill, Calif.; I am interested in the proposed John Muir-Kings Canyon National Park and received literature from some of the organizations interested in the creation of that project. These communications requested me to write Congressman B. W. GEARHART and Congressman ALFRED J. ELLIOTT.

On March 4, 1939, I wrote two notes on cards; one of these I addressed to Congressman B. W. GEARHART and the other to Congressman ALFRED J. ELLIOTT, both in my own handwriting. These I enclosed in envelopes of the same type of stationery as the cards, and these envelopes were large enough to hold the cards without the cards being folded. I enclosed in the envelope addressed to Congressman ALFRED J. ELLIOTT by mistake a check for $100, payable to Congressman B. W. GEARHART, which I expected to be used in furthering the project.

I later received a letter from Congressman B. W. GEARHART dated March 9, 1939, in which he thanked me for my interest in the project. I later received a letter dated March 15, 1939, from Congressman B. W. GEARHART in which he thanked me for my proffered assistance and with which he returned to me the above-mentioned check, which check I had formerly sent in the envelope addressed to Congressman ALFRED J. ELLIOTT.

I have been shown an envelope addressed by a typewriter to Congressman B. W. GEARHART, postmarked San Jose, Calif., March 13, 1939, with an air-mail sticker attached. I had never seen this envelope until it was recently shown me on March 27, 1939. I did not send this envelope to Congressman GEARHART. I do not possess any such stationery; I do not own a typewriter, and I did not authorize anyone to address such envelope for me on a typewriter. My letters are written by me in my own handwriting, as were the two notes dated March 4, 1939, above mentioned, and I did not authorize anyone to address an envelope by a typewriter to Congressman GEARHART. I addressed but one envelope to Congressman GEARHART, and that contained the note dated March 4, 1939, and was in my own handwriting.

GERTRUDE S. ACHILLES.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 1st day of April A. D. 1939.

A. M. FREE,
Notary Public in and for the County of Santa Clara, State of California.

Mr. GEARHART. Mr. Speaker, may I ask that the second affidavit be read, as it will indicate the misuse of the check in question by the Representative of the Tenth Congressional District of California?

The Clerk read as follows:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
County of Fresno, ss:

H. B. Williams, being first duly sworn, deposes and says:

That he is a citizen of the United States of America and a resident of the county of Kings, State of California; that his post-office address is route 2, box 417, Kingsburg, Calif.; that he is by occupation a farmer, and has resided at his present address continuously for the past 22 years;

That for some time last past he has been in favor of the creation of the John Muir-Kings River Canyon National Park and the Pine Flat bill; that on the evening of April 13, 1939, he was invited by one W. B. Wilbur, of Tulare, Calif., to attend a conference to be held at the city of Tulare, county of Tulare, State of California, with Congressman A. J. ELLIOTT; that affiant was informed that there would be exhibited at such conference photostatic copies of certain documents that would compromise Congressman B. W. GEARHART in his efforts to establish the national park and enact the so-called Pine Flat bill; that these documents were in the possession of Congressman ELLIOTT, but that Mr. GEARHART did not know of Mr. ELLIOTT's possession of said documents.

That the following persons, all residents of Kings County, Calif., were invited by the said W. B. Wilbur to attend said conference, to wit: C. L. Montgomery, J. J. Dawson, S. W. Tome, Nick Weiss, Ralph Gilkie, Clarence Salyers, and Louis Robinson; that affiant attended said conference on Friday morning, April 14, 1939, at the offices of the Tulare Chamber of Commerce in Tulare, Calif.; that all of the persons heretofore mentioned attended said conference and in addition there were present W. B. Wilbur, R. W. Wilbur, Congressman A. J. ELLIOTT, and three other persons unknown to this affiant; that at said conference Mr. ELLIOTT stated that he had not arranged the meeting but had received an invitation to attend;

That shortly after Mr. ELLIOTT's return to California in April of 1939 a report spread through Tulare and Kings Counties that Mr. ELLIOTT had in his possession certain documents which would discredit Mr. GEARHART and his support of the park and Pine Flat bills;

That after Mr. ELLIOTT had concluded his statement of his reasons for opposing the park bill, questions were asked him regarding the subject of insincerity on the part of those who were supporting the bills; that Mr. ELLIOTT then produced three photostats consisting (1) of an ordinary envelope addressed to A. J. ELLIOTT, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C., (2) a short note or letter from Mrs. Achilles, and (3) a check in the sum of $100 made payable to W. B. GEARHART, signed by Mrs. Achilles;

That before producing the photostatic copies herein mentioned Mr. ELLIOTT stated that he always believed Mr. GEARHART to be honest, and after exhibiting the photostatic copies herein mentioned Mr. ELLIOTT stated, in substance and effect, that those present could use their own judgment; that after affiant had inspected the check, he stated to Mr. ELLIOTT that the documents did not appear to him to be evidence of corruption, because $100 would be only small change. Mr. ELLIOTT stated to affiant that it wouldn't be small change if one received enough of them.

That during the course of the conversation one of the person present asked Mr. ELLIOTT what had become of the check and Mr. ELLIOTT stated that he gave the check to Mr. GEARHART, but he didn't know what GEARHART had done with it.

H. B. WILLIAMS.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 25th day of April 1939.

[SEAL] EMMA DELK,
Notary Public in and for the County of Fresno, State of California.

The SPEAKER said:

"The Chair is of the opinion that the affidavit just offered might have a tendency, although not very clearly or definitely, charging corruption, but it affords the gentleman from California a basis for a question of personal privilege, and the Chair recognizes the gentleman."

Mr. GEARHART then proceeded to address the House.

QUESTION OF REFERENCE OF A BILL

On May 2, 1939, the House had under consideration the following resolution (H. Res. 175):

Resolved, That immediately upon the adoption of this resolution it shall be in order to move that the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for consideration of H. R. 5643, a bill to invest the circuit courts of appeals of the United States with original and exclusive jurisdiction to review the order of detention of any alien ordered deported from the United States whose deportation or departure from the United States is not effectuated within 90 days after the date the warrant of deportation shall have become final; to authorize such detention orders in certain cases; to provide places for such detention; and for other purposes. That after general debate, which shall be confined to the bill and shall continue not to exceed 2 hours, to be equally divided and controlled by the chairman and the ranking minority member of the Committee on the Judiciary, the bill shall be read for amendments under the 5-minute rule. At the conclusion of the reading of the bill for amendment the Committee shall rise and report the same to the House with such amendments as may have been adopted, and the previous question shall be considered as ordered on the bill and amendments thereto to final passage without intervening motion except one motion to recommit.

Mr. DICKSTEIN made the point of order that the bill for which said resolution provides consideration was not properly before the House, said bill having been reported from the Committee on the Judiciary instead of the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization.

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order and said:

"The gentleman from Mississippi, on behalf of the Committee on Rules of the House, has offered a resolution, which has been reported, providing for the consideration of H. R. 5643.

"The gentleman from New York, chairman of the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization, has raised a point of order, which may be stated in two different forms, possibly, that the resolution now offered is out of order. Primarily, as the Chair understands, the point of order is raised against consideration of the bill because of the fact that the Committee on the Judiciary, to which it was referred, had no jurisdiction or authority under the rules of the House to consider the bill; therefore it had no legal right to report the bill to the House for its consideration under the rules of the House.

"The Chair has given considerable consideration to the problem, because it is a matter of some importance. It is a matter of grave importance, of course, to all committees, their chairmen, and members, affecting as it does the matter of jurisdiction of the committees over important legislation. For this reason it is not to be acted upon capriciously or without due consideration.

"This is not a new matter that is now raised by the gentleman from New York. It may be proper here to state that the present occupant of the chair nor any other Speaker who has been his predecessor has had any personal interest in reference to any bill. The Speaker does not participate in the deliberations by the committees. His function is entirely to undertake to preserve the rules and precedents of the House as its presiding officer.

"This bill now being attacked in the ordinary course was referred to the Parliamentarian, and, with the consent of the Speaker, referred to the Committee on the Judiciary, for the reasons rather admirably stated by the gentleman from Alabama. It was felt at that time that the Committee on the Judiciary was the proper committee to which the bill should be referred. But for the purpose of this decision the Chair does not think it necessary to review the arguments on that question of jurisdiction.

"The defect in the position taken by the gentleman from New York, although earnestly and conscientiously contended for, is that under the uniform practices and precedents of the House, as far as the Speaker has been able to find them, the gentleman has slept upon his rights in raising this question, if the Chair may use that term, although he may not have been actually advised of this bill until recently called to his attention; however, constructively at least, he has been guilty of parliamentary laches.

"In making this ruling, the Chair desires to refer to a decision heretofore made by the present Speaker of the House on an identical question involving the jurisdiction of a committee. This is found on page 1526 of the Congressional Record of January 26, 1938.

"On January 26, 1938, Mr. MAY, by direction of the Committee on Military Affairs, called up the bill (H. R. 8176) providing for continuing retirement pay, under certain conditions, of officers and former officers of the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps of the United States, other than officers of the Regular Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, who incurred physical disability while in the service of the United States during the World War, and for other purposes.

"The gentleman from Texas [Mr. PATMAN] made the point of order that the bill was improperly referred to the Committee on Military Affairs, the proper committee being the Committee on World War Veterans' Legislation. He made the point of order that the bill was not in order for consideration at that time. As the Chair understands, that is the principle invoked by the gentleman from New York.

"The gentleman from Kentucky [Mr. MAY] made the point of order that the question of order raised by Mr. PATMAN came too late, inasmuch as the bill had been reported to the House.

"The Speaker, in sustaining a point of order made by Mr. MAY, said:

" 'The gentleman from Texas [Mr. PATMAN] raises the point of order against consideration of the bill, that it was not referred under the rules of the House to the Committee on World War Veterans' Legislation, to which, according to his contention, it should have originally been referred.

" 'Pending that question, the gentleman from Kentucky [Mr. MAY], the chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs, raises the point of order that the point of order made by the gentleman from Texas comes too late.

" 'In view of that issue being raised, the Chair feels it is his duty primarily to dispose of that question, because a disposition of that question possibly might settle the original point of order raised by the gentleman from Texas.

" 'This is not a matter of first impression, the Chair will state, as there have been a number of decisions and precedents upon this particular question. The Chair refers especially to a decision made by Mr. Speaker Longworth, as reported in volume 7 of Cannon's Precedents of the House of Representatives, section 2113.'

"Then quoting Speaker Longworth's decision:

" 'After a public bill has been reported'—

"As is the case here, the bill having been referred to the Committee on the Judiciary, whether properly or erroneously referred, the quotation goes on to say:

" 'it is not in order to raise a question of committee jurisdiction'—

"And so forth. The gentleman from Michigan has cited for consideration of the Chair a syllabus found on page 401, section 854, of the House Rules Manual, which the Chair will quote:

" 'According to the later practice, the erroneous reference of a public bill, if it remains uncorrected, in effect gives jurisdiction to the committee receiving it, and it is too late to move a change of reference after such committee has reported the bill.'

"The Chair desires particularly to direct the attention of the House to a decision made by Mr. Speaker Crisp which may be found in Hinds' Precedents, volume IV, section 4365. In that instance Speaker Crisp delivered an elaborate opinion on a question which the Chair thinks is on all fours with the one now before him.

"The Chair could cite, of course, a number of other precedents along the same line by former occupants of this chair; but for the purposes of this decision the Chair is clearly of the opinion that despite the fact there might be considerable merit in the contention made by the gentleman from New York so far as the spirit and purposes in the establishment of committees are concerned, nevertheless, under these precedents, which seem to be absolutely uniform, the Chair is constrained to overrule the point of order made by the gentleman from New York."

QUESTION OF REFERENCE OF A BILL

On May 4, 1939, Mr. SCHULTE, by direction of the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization, moved that the Committee on the Judiciary be discharged from further consideration of the bill (H. R. 5138) to make unlawful attempts to overthrow the Government of the United States; to require licensing of civilian military organizations; to make unlawful attempts to interfere with the discipline of the Army and Navy; to require registration and fingerprinting of aliens; to enlarge the jurisdiction of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in certain cases; and for other purposes, and that said bill be referred to the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization.

Mr. SMITH of Virginia made the point of order that it does not appear from the motion that there was any formal action taken by the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization in regard to the re-reference of said bill, and the further point of order that there is no showing on this bill that the original reference by the Speaker was erroneous.

After debate,

The SPEAKER overruled the points of order, and said:

"The Chair is ready to rule.

"In reference to the first point of order, made by the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. SMITH], challenging the fact that the motion made by the gentleman from Indiana [Mr. SCHULTE] was made by authority of the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization, the Chair asks the gentleman from Indiana if such was the case?"

Mr. SCHULTE. It was, Mr. Speaker. I was instructed by the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization to move that this bill be re-referred.

The SPEAKER. By a vote of the committee?

Mr. SCHULTE. By a unanimous vote of the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization.

The SPEAKER. The Chair accepts that statement and overrules the first point of order made by the gentleman from Virginia.

On the second point of order the Chair thinks it might be proper to have read into the Record the rule governing propositions of this character. Clause 3 of rule XXII provides as follows:

"All other bills, memorials, and resolutions may, in like manner, be delivered, endorsed with the names of Members introducing them, to the Speaker, to be by him referred, and the titles and references thereof and of all bills, resolutions, and documents referred under the rules shall be entered on the Journal and printed in the Record of the next day, and correction in case of error of reference may be made by the House, without debate, in accordance with rule XI, on any day immediately after the reading of the Journal, by unanimous consent, or on motion of a committee claiming jurisdiction, or on the report of the committee to which the bill has been erroneously referred."

Under any fair construction of that rule, the Chair is compelled to hold that the gentleman from Indiana is clearly within his rights and the rights of the committee for which he is acting in making this motion to re-refer this bill from the Committee on the Judiciary to the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization.

In reference to the suggestion made by the gentleman from Virginia that for aught appearing the committee had made a report on this bill, of course, the Journal of the House itself shows that no such report has been made to the House by the Committee on the Judiciary.

The Chair, therefore, overrules the points of order made by the gentleman from Virginia.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

On May 15, 1939, the House had under consideration the bill (H. R. 6260) making appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1940, for civil functions administered by the War Department, and for other purposes, pending and unfinished when the House adjourned on Wednesday last, the question being the third reading of the bill, the demand having been made for the reading of the engrossed copy.

The bill was then read a third time by title from the engrossed copy.

Mr. POWERS moved to recommit the bill to the Committee on Appropriations, with instructions to that committee to report the bill back to the House forthwith with amendments reducing the total amount of the bill $50,000,000.

Mr. COLLINS made the point of order that the motion to recommit undertakes to do indirectly what cannot be done directly.

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order, and said: "The Chair may state, in connection with the point of order made by the gentleman from Mississippi, that the Chair understands the purpose of the motion to recommit, one motion to recommit always being in order after the third reading, is to give to those Members opposed to the bill an opportunity to have an expression of opinion by the House upon their proposition. It is true that under the precedents it is not in order by way of a motion to recommit to propose an amendment to an amendment previously adopted by the House, but the motion now pending does not specifically propose to instruct the Committee on Appropriations to do that. The Chair is inclined to the opinion that the motion to recommit in the form here presented is not subject to a point of order.

"The Chair overrules the point of order."

MOTION TO RECOMMIT LEGISLATION ON AN APPROPRIATION BILL

On May 19, 1939, the House had under consideration the bill (H. R. 6392) making appropriations for the Departments of State and Justice and for the judiciary, and for the Department of Commerce, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1940, and for other purposes.

When said bill, as amended, was ordered to be engrossed and read a third time, and was read a third time by title.

Mr. HAWKS moved to recommit the bill to the Committee on Appropriations, with instructions to that committee to report the bill back to the House forthwith with the following amendment: At the end of the bill insert a new paragraph, as follows:

No part of the funds appropriated in this bill shall be used for the purpose of purchasing any foreign dairy or other competitive foreign agricultural products which are not produced in the United States in sufficient quantities to meet domestic needs.

Mr. THOMAS S. McMILLAN made the point of order that the motion to recommit is not in order in that it proposed legislation on an appropriation bill.

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order, and said:

"The point of order has been made that the motion to recommit is not in order because of the fact that it sets up matters of legislation in an appropriation bill. The Chair has tried carefully to read the provisions of the motion. On a fair reading and construction of the whole motion it appears that there is nothing affirmative in the motion in the way of legislation. It appears to the Chair on the whole to be a restriction or a limitation upon the expenditure of funds.

"The Chair, therefore, overrules the point of order."

GERMANENESS

On May 22, 1939, the House had under consideration the joint resolution (H. J. Res. 247) to provide minimum national allotments for cotton.

When said joint resolution was considered and read twice.

After debate,

Mr. HARE submitted the following amendment:

At the end of line 8 add: Provided, That allotment of acreage to the various States be based upon the ratio of the number of cotton growers and their dependents in each State bears to the total number of such persons in the United States.

Mr. JONES of Texas made the point of order that the amendment was not germane.

The SPEAKER sustained the point of order, and said:

"The gentleman from Texas makes the point of order against the amendment offered by the gentleman from South Carolina on the ground that it is not germane to the pending joint resolution. The Chair has considered the amendment offered by the gentleman from South Carolina and finds upon a careful reading of the amendment that it does not relate to the section of the act that the resolution under consideration seeks to amend and, therefore, cannot possibly be in order.

"The point of order is sustained."

POINT OF ORDER AMENDMENT COMES TOO LATE

On May 25, 1939, the House had under consideration the omnibus bill (H. R. 6261) for the relief of sundry claimants, and for other purposes.

(Title X.—H. R. 2356. For the relief of the International Grain Co., Inc.)

Mr. COSTELLO submitted the following amendment:

Page 13, strike out all of title X (H. R. 2356).

After debate,

The question being put,

Will the House strike out title X?

On a division there appeared—yeas 41, nays 42.

So, the House refused to strike out title X.

Mr. HOOK submitted the following amendment:

Page 13, line 8, strike out "$18,499.61" and insert $8.80.

Mr. KENNEDY of Maryland made the point of order that the amendment comes too late.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. PARSONS) overruled the point of order, and said: "The bill has not been finally passed upon, and the Chair thinks that we are still upon that particular paragraph, or title X of the bill, and overrules the point of order."

QUESTION OF PRIVILEGE OF THE HOUSE

On June 1, 1939, Mr. HOFFMAN rose to a question of privilege of the House, and submitted the following resolution (H. Res. 208):

Whereas on Wednesday, May 31, after the House had resolved itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the consideration of the bill H. R. 6466, and was in session in the Committee, the gentleman from Oklahoma [Mr. MASSINGALE] was recognized by the Chairman of the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union and addressed the House, and, while addressing the House, made a statement, the exact words of which I cannot now recall, and the reports of which are not available to me and which remarks to which reference is now being made were not printed in the Record but which, in substance and effect, intimated that in the future the action of the Ways and Means Committee of the House on the bill which was then under discussion would be regarded as pusillanimous; and

Whereas the word "pusillanimous" is defined by the Funk & Wagnalls Practical Standard Dictionary as meaning: "(1) Lacking strength of mind, courage, or spirit; mean-spirited; cowardly; (2) characterized by weakness of purpose or lack of courage," and the words "cowardly, dastardly, effeminate, faint-hearted, feeble, mean-spirited, recreant, spiritless, timid, timorous, weak," are given as synonyms of the word "pusillanimous"; and

Whereas, as a Member of this House, the Representative of the Fourth District of Michigan made a point of order that the gentleman from Oklahoma [Mr. MASSINGALE] was not in order and demanded that the words so uttered be taken down; and

Whereas the Committee thereupon rose, the House convened in session, and the Speaker of the House made a ruling upon the point of order so raised, and the gentleman from Oklahoma was permitted to proceed; and thereafter the House again resolved itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the considera-

any reference I made in the colloquy in my remarks this

[Mr. MASSINGALE] thereafter, in continuing his remarks, made a certain charge involving the integrity of another Member of the House; and

Whereas the Member from the Fourth Congressional District of Michigan again made the point of order that the gentleman was not proceeding in order and demanded that the words be taken down; and

Whereas the Committee again rose, the House convened, the words were taken down, reported to the House, and a ruling made by the Speaker, and the point of order sustained; and

Whereas thereafter, in the left-hand column of page 9067 of the Record, under date of May 31, 1939, the following now appears:

"Mr. MASSINGALE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to be permitted to delete from the Record, or have it done, any reference I made in the colloquy in my remarks this afternoon concerning the gentleman from Michigan [Mr. MAPES]. I think I got that permission in the Committee, but some seem to understand not.

"The SPEAKER. Is there objection?

"Mr. HOFFMAN. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the right to object. Does the gentleman know whether or not those remarks will be printed in the Townsend Weekly next week and capital made of it?

"The SPEAKER. Is there objection?

"Mr. HOFFMAN. Mr. Speaker, for the moment I object, because I understand the gentleman remarked that he would get the headlines.

"Mr. MASSINGALE. The gentleman is just talking about something he does not know anything about.

"Mr. HOFFMAN. I am not, and I object.

"The SPEAKER. The Chair is under the impression that the gentleman from Oklahoma has obtained unanimous consent to withdraw his remarks.

"Mr. MASSINGALE. I thought I obtained it, but in talking with the gentleman from Michigan [Mr. MAPES] he thought I did not.

"Mr. MAPES. Mr. Speaker, if I may be permitted to make a statement, the gentleman from Oklahoma [Mr. MASSINGALE] spoke to me about the request, and as far as I am concerned I have no objection. I would be glad to have it granted"; and

Whereas there also appears in the Record of May 31, 1939, in the right-hand column of page 9068, the following:

"Mr. RAYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that the proceedings under which the remarks of the gentleman from Oklahoma [Mr. MASSINGALE], in reference to the gentleman from Michigan [Mr. MAPES], were taken down may be deleted from the Record and that the gentleman from Oklahoma may have the right to revise and extend his remarks"; and

Whereas it now appears from an examination of the Record of May 31 that the Record nowhere now contains the remarks, nor any portion of the remarks, made by the gentleman from Oklahoma [Mr. MASSINGALE], there having been deleted from the Record not only the reference made in such remarks concerning another Member of the House but the remarks made by the gentleman from Oklahoma and the point of order and the demand for the taking down of the remarks of the gentleman from Oklahoma when he referred to the action of the Ways and Means Committee of the House; and

Whereas a question involving the integrity of the House itself and of the Record of the House is now raised and the Record as it stands is not a true transcript of what occurred on the floor of the House; and

Whereas the Record of the House, as now printed, is not a true and correct record of the proceedings of the House, insofar as the same relate to the remarks of the gentleman from Oklahoma as to the action of the Ways and Means Committee, as to the making of a point of order thereon, and as to the ruling of the Speaker thereon: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the Speaker of the House, or, in the discretion of the Speaker, make reference to a standing committee of the House, to ascertain from the reporters of the House and from such other sources as they may deem trustworthy a true and correct Record of what did occur, deleting from such Record all such matters which the gentleman from Oklahoma [Mr. MASSINGALE] was given permission to delete, and retaining in the Record all such other transactions and proceedings which occurred on the floor of the House and for the withdrawal of which permission was not given; and thereupon to report its conclusions to the House, together with such recommendations as it may deem desirable.

Mr. HOFFMAN then said: "Mr. Speaker, the privilege of the House is involved in this respect: That while the gentleman from Oklahoma [Mr. MASSINGALE] obtained permission to withdraw and did withdraw what he had said with reference to another Member of the House, at no time did he obtain permission to withdraw what he said with reference to the committee. At no time did he obtain permission to withdraw the point of order that was made by the Member from Michigan; at no time did he obtain permission to withdraw the demand that his words with reference to the committee be taken down; and the Record as it stands today, as printed this morning, is nowhere a true record of what happened yesterday. If it be true that the Record of the House of Representatives is not a true record, is not in accord with the facts, then that is the point I would like to have determined, as to whether the Record shall stand or be corrected."

The SPEAKER said: "The Record shows that the gentleman from Oklahoma [Mr. MASSINGALE] did obtain unanimous consent to revise and extend his remarks. Under the general practice of the House, that gave to the gentleman from Oklahoma the right to withhold revision of his remarks from the Record. The Chair is of the opinion that the other subject matter stated in the resolution of the gentleman from Michigan [Mr. HOFFMAN] probably does raise a question of the privileges of the House."

By unanimous consent, said resolution was referred to the Committee on Rules.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

On June 22, 1939, the House had under consideration the bill (H. R. 6971) making additional appropriations for the Military Establishment for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1940, and for other purposes.

The bill was ordered to be engrossed and read a third time, and was read a third time by title.

Mr. POWERS moved to recommit the bill to the Committee on Appropriations with instructions to that committee to report the bill back to the House forthwith with reductions in the appropriations carried in the bill aggregating $23,817,000, with reductions in contractual authority carried in the bill aggregating $13,048,000, and with the following additions:

For experimental and research activities, $5,000,000.

For the provision of experimental and research facilities at Moffett Field, Sunnyvale, Calif., $4,000,000.

Mr. RANKIN made the point of order against the motion to recommit because it contains provisions already defeated in the Powers amendment.

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order and said: "The Chair has examined the Powers amendment, and the motion to recommit is a substantial departure from the original amendment. The Chair overrules the point of order."

PREFERENTIAL MOTION

On June 22, 1939, the House had under consideration the conference report on (H. R. 5269) making appropriations for the Department of Agriculture and for the Farm Credit Administration for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1940, and for other purposes.

Mr. CANNON of Missouri moved that the House recede from its disagreement to the amendment of the Senate No. 146 and concur therein with the following amendment:

At the end of the matter inserted by said amendment strike out the period, insert a colon and the following: Provided further, That of that part of the funds appropriated in this paragraph which may be allocated for expenditure in connection with cotton not less than 50 per centum shall be allocated for use in carrying out clause (3) of such section, or in carrying out clause (2) of such section, which clause (2) is hereby amended by inserting before the semicolon after "commerce" the following: "or by increasing their utilization through benefits, indemnities, donations, or by other means, among persons in low-income groups as determined by the Secretary of Agriculture."

Mr. DIRKSEN offered a preferential motion to substitute the following amendment for the amendment proposed by Mr. CANNON of Missouri to Senate amendment No. 146:

To enable the Secretary of Agriculture to carry out that provision of section 32, as amended, of the Act entitled "An Act to amend the Agricultural Adjustment Act, and for other purposes," approved August 24, 1935, which provides for the encouragement of domestic consumption of such commodities or byproducts by diverting them through the payment of benefits or indemnities or by other means, from the normal channels of trade and commerce and subject to all provisions of law relating to the expenditure of funds appropriated by such section, $113,000,000. Such sum shall be immediately available and shall be in addition to and not in substitution for other appropriations made by such section or for the purpose of such section: Provided, That not in excess of 20 per centum of the funds herein made available may be devoted to any one agricultural commodity.

Mr. CANNON of Missouri made the point of order that the motion was not preferential.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. PATMAN) sustained the point of order.

BILL NOT PROPERLY BEFORE THE HOUSE

On June 26, 1939, Mr. RANDOLPH moved that the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for consideration of the bill (H. R. 6316) to amend an act entitled "An act to regulate within the District of Columbia the sale of milk, cream, and ice cream, and for other purposes," approved February 27, 1925.

Pending which,

Mr. SMITH of Virginia made the point of order that the bill was not properly before the House for the reason that the hearings on this bill to a large extent were held during the time that the House was in session, and that no consent had been given by the House for that committee to continue its sittings; and the further point of order that while the subcommittee on investigation was in the midst of its hearings, at which those of us interested were required to attend, the gentleman from Indiana [Mr. SCHULTE], who was the author of the Schulte bill, undertook to hold hearings simultaneously with the regular committee. In other words, without any consent of the House, without any consent of the chairman of the Committee on the District of Columbia, the subcommittee split itself into two subcommittees and proceeded to hold hearings at the same time on matters, both of which related to the same subject.

After debate,

The SPEAKER overruled the points of order and said: "The pending bill, against which the points of order have been made, is a bill to amend the act entitled 'An act to regulate within the District of Columbia the sale of milk, cream, and ice cream, and for other purposes,' approved February 27, 1925.

"The gentleman from Virginia has raised two points of order against the bill, and the Chair assumes against its consideration by the House.

"The first point of order made by the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. SMITH] is that hearings on the bill were held during sessions of the House of Representatives by a subcommittee. Second, that such subcommittee split into two subcommittees or divisions for the purpose of considering the subject matter.

"The gentleman from Virginia [Mr. SMITH] has very properly called attention to the rule of the House with reference to the sitting of committees, which the Chair will quote:

" 'No committee except the Committee on Rules shall sit during the sitting of the House without special leave.'

"It so happens that these hearings and the jurisdiction conferred upon the District of Columbia Committee and the subcommittee was by special resolution of the House itself, of which the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. SMITH] was the author.

"The Chair quotes from the resolution:

" 'Resolved, That the House Committee on the District of Columbia, or a duly authorized subcommittee thereof, be, and is hereby, authorized and directed to make a full and complete investigation of (1) the sources and purity of the milk and cream supply of the District of Columbia; (2) of any violation of the law of the District of Columbia or regulations of the District Commissioners made pursuant thereto with respect to the importation of milk or cream into the District of Columbia or importation of unlicensed milk or cream into the District of Columbia and the method by which such violations are perpetrated; (3) the possible effect upon the health of the community by reason of the unlawful importation of unlicensed milk or cream into the District of Columbia; (4) whether and to what extent cream for ice-cream purposes, under section 4 of the 1925 Milk Act of the District of Columbia, is being diverted unlawfully to milk or cream for fluid consumption; (5) whether any conspiracy exists on the part of any distributor of any dairy products to violate the provisions of the 1925 District Milk Act or the regulations made pursuant thereto; (6) the propriety and feasibility of licensing, or otherwise permitting under proper regulation, in such manner as to fairly protect the safety and health of consumers in the District of Columbia, the entry into the District of Columbia of so-called western cream and milk, and cream and milk from any available sources in the United States for fluid, manufacturing, or other use in the District of Columbia and on the Washington market; (7) and whether the 1925 Milk Act and all other acts relating to the importation, distribution, and inspection of milk and dairy products require modification, alteration, or improvement in order to insure an adequate supply of milk and dairy products for the residents of the District of Columbia at reasonable and fair prices.

* * * * * * *

" 'For the purposes of this resolution, the said committee or any subcommittee thereof is hereby authorized to sit and act at such times and places within the United States, whether the House is sitting, or has recessed or has adjourned, to hold such hearings, to require the attendance of such witnesses, and the production of such books or papers or documents or vouchers by subpena or otherwise, to take such testimony and records, and to employ such clerical and other assistants as it deems necessary.

* * * * * * *

" 'That the said committee shall report to the House of Representatives at the earliest practicable date the result of its investigation, together with its recommendations for the enactment of desirable or necessary legislation or regulations.'

"For the purposes of this decision, the Chair is clear that the following authority given the full committee is absolutely governing on the points of order raised by the gentleman:

" 'For the purposes of this resolution the said committee, or any subcommittee thereof, is hereby authorized to sit and act at such times and places within the United States, whether the House is sitting or has recessed or has adjourned, to hold such hearings, to require the attendance of such witnesses, and the production of such books or papers or documents or vouchers by subpena or otherwise, to take such testimony and records, and to employ such clerical and other assistants as it deems necessary.'

"The resolution further provides:

" 'That the said committee shall report to the House of Representatives at the earliest practicable date the result of its investigation, together with its recommendations for the enactment of desirable or necessary legislation or regulations.'

* * * * * * *

"The Chair is of the opinion that the full and plenary power given under this resolution to the committee or subcommittee would authorize the committee to sit and consider anything relating to the subject matter of the investigation.

"The Chair is clearly of the opinion from the excerpts of the resolution just read, authorizing this investigation, that it was a departure from the fixed rules of the House, and there was given to the committee exceptional power which conferred upon it jurisdiction to do the matters which apparently it has done.

"The Chair is furthermore constrained to feel that the full committee in reporting to the House under the jurisdiction conferred upon it by House Resolution 113 has the authority to report this bill for the consideration of the House.

"For the reasons stated above, the Chair overrules the points of order made by the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. SMITH]."

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

On June 30, 1939, Mr. HOFFMAN rose to a question of personal privilege, and said:

"Mr. Speaker, on the 27th day of March 1939, when the matter of confirmation of the former Governor of Michigan was before the Senate for consideration, I made a few remarks on the floor of the House in which I attempted to indicate that the former Governor, Mr. Murphy, would not make a good Attorney General. A reason I mentioned, among others, being that while he was Governor of Michigan, after he had taken an oath of office to support the Constitution and enforce the laws of the State, he not only failed to do that but he used some 3,700 State troops——

* * * * * * *

"Mr. Speaker, I ask that I be not interrupted further by Members who have not properly secured the floor.

"At the time the interruption occurred I was referring to the fact that in this talk which was made before the 27th day of March 1939 I attempted to show that the former Governor of Michigan, the former High Commissioner of the Philippine Islands, was not a man properly qualified, either by training or natural ability, to hold that office. During the course of those remarks I stated, in addition to what I said before, that the Governor had deliberately failed to enforce the laws of the State. In addition to that, he had used the troops of the State——

* * * * * * *

"Mr. Speaker, I am endeavoring to state the point as concisely as I may, and I trust that the Speaker will bear with me in my ignorance and my inexperience and let me state it.

"What I was attempting to show on the floor was that Governor Murphy was not a fit man to be Attorney General of these great United States. In the Senate on the 17th day of January 1939, as reported at page 598 of the Congressional Record, the Senator from Missouri, among other things, said this, and I quote from that page, the fifth paragraph in the left-hand column:

" 'Mr. CLARK of Missouri. Mr. President, Representative HOFFMAN has the undoubted right to be heard in the House of Representatives, the body of which he is a Member. He was heard in that body at very great length the other day, and his observations were published in full in the Congressional Record to the extent of several pages. It does not seem to me to be proper again to inflict upon the Congressional Record the remarks of Representative HOFFMAN made in the House of Representatives.' "

Mr. RANKIN made the point of order that the statement that the gentleman from Michigan is making does not in any way constitute a question of high constitutional privilege.

The SPEAKER said: "The Chair is ready to rule on the point of order.

"The Chair is of the opinion that although the gentleman from Michigan may have been guilty of very great delay in undertaking to present this matter to the floor, inasmuch as it occurred last January, the Chair does not know of any statute of limitations, so to speak, which would apply to this situation.

"The gentleman will proceed to state the precise language of which he complains and upon which he bases his question of personal privilege."

Mr. HOFFMAN (continuing) said: "Mr. Speaker, may I be permitted, in answer to the gentleman from Mississippi, to state that on page 4694 of the Congressional Record he will find that at the request of the Speaker I withheld the point of order, and, in my judgment, now is the proper time to present it. It would seem, the relief bill not having been sent to the Senate, a most opportune time.

"Now, continuing to read:

" 'Mr. CLARK of Missouri: Mr. President, certainly I have no disposition to insist on any course which would seem in any degree to preclude the printing of the whole record in this case. My motion was based upon the fact that the House of Representatives is the sole judge of its own record and the Senate of the United States is the sole judge of its own record. But an intemperate, vituperative, libelous attack having been printed once in the Record of the proceedings of the House of Representatives seems to me to be no justification for repeating that same sort of an intemperate, libelous attack in the Record of the Senate.' "

The SPEAKER recognized Mr. HOFFMAN on his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HOFFMAN then proceeded to address the House.

GERMANENESS

On July 6, 1939, the House had under consideration the bill (H. R. 6634) amending previous flood-control acts and authorizing certain preliminary examinations and surveys for flood control, and for other purposes.

When Mr. LUDLOW submitted the following amendment:

Page 2, after "department", in line 12, insert a new section:

Sec. 3. Section 3 of the Act entitled "An Act authorizing the construction of certain public works on rivers and harbors for flood control, and for other purposes," approved June 22, 1936, as amended, is amended by adding before the period at the end thereof a colon and the following: "And provided further, That if, after investigation, the President finds that any city or town is, by reason of its financial condition, unable to comply with the requirements of this section as to local cooperation, he is hereby authorized to waive such requirements on any individual levee or flood-wall project not to exceed 50 per centum of the estimated costs of the lands, easements, and rights-of-way."

The first paragraph of section 2 of the Act entitled "An Act authorizing the construction of certain public works on rivers and harbors for flood control, and for other purposes," approved June 28, 1938, is amended to read as follows:

"That section 3 of the Act of June 22, 1936 (Public, Numbered 738, Seventy-fourth Congress), as heretofore amended, as herein further modified, and as amended after June 28, 1938, shall apply to all flood-control projects, except as otherwise specifically provided by law."

Mr. WHITTINGTON made the point of order that said amendment was not germane to the bill.

After debate,

The SPEAKER pro tempore sustained the point of order, and said: "The Chair is ready to rule.

"The bill before the House is a bill to amend the Flood Control Act of 1937. That act had one purpose. The Flood Control Act of 1936 had another purpose. The gentleman from Indiana [Mr. LUDLOW] offers an amendment as an amendment to the Flood Control Act of 1936. The amendment clearly is not germane to the bill, and the Chair sustains the point of order."

GERMANENESS

On July 6, 1939, the House had under consideration the bill of the Senate (S. 2222) to provide for a Deputy Chief of Staff, and for other purposes.

When said bill was considered and read twice.

Mr. HARTER of Ohio submitted the following amendment:

Amendment to the committee amendment: Add a new section, as follows:

Sec. 2. That the present incumbent of the position of president of the Mississippi River Commission shall, upon retirement from active service in the Army, be retired with the rank of major general and with the pay and allowances authorized by law for an officer on the retired list of such rank.

Mr. WADSWORTH made the point of order that the amendment was not germane to the bill.

After debate,

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. MCCORMACK) sustained the point of order, and said:

"The mere fact that this is a committee amendment in no way changes the parliamentary situation from that which would exist if an individual Member of the House offered the amendment. The rule of germaneness applies to a committee amendment just the same as to an amendment offered by a Member in his individual capacity.

"The bill before the House relates to one subject. The proposed amendment relates to another subject. The bill before the House confines itself to one subject, and the amendment attempts to inject into the bill an entirely different subject from that which is contained in the bill pending before the House. In the opinion of the Chair, the amendment is not germane to the pending bill, and for that reason the Chair sustains the point of order."

QUESTION OF ORDER

On July 28, 1939, Mr. DUNN having obtained the floor, and while addressing the House,

Mr. MARTIN of Massachusetts made the point of order that the gentleman from Pennsylvania cannot divulge what happened in the committee.

The SPEAKER sustained the point of order and said: "The gentleman from Massachusetts [Mr. MARTIN] makes the point of order that the gentleman from Pennsylvania is undertaking to disclose the proceedings before a committee of the House on a matter which has not been reported by the committee to the House. The rules and precedents sustain the point of order made by the gentleman from Massachusetts, and the gentleman from Pennsylvania, under the rules, is not privileged to discuss matters which occurred before the committee."

CONCERNING POINTS OF ORDER

On August 1, 1939, Mr. SABATH, from the Committee on Rules, called up the following resolution (H. Res. 286):

Resolved, That upon the adoption of this resolution it shall be in order to move that the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the consideration of H. R. 7120, a bill to provide for the construction and financing of self-liquidating projects, and for other purposes, and all points of order against said bill are hereby waived. That after general debate, which shall be confined to the bill and continue not to exceed 5 hours, to be equally divided and controlled by the chairman and ranking minority member of the Committee on Banking and Currency, the bill shall be read for amendment under the 5-minute rule. It shall be in order to consider without the intervention of any point of order the substitute committee amendment recommended by the Committee on Banking and Currency now in the bill, and such substitute for the purpose of amendment shall be considered under the 5-minute rule as an original bill. At the conclusion of such consideration the Committee shall rise and report the bill to the House with such amendments as may have been adopted, and any Member may demand a separate vote in the House on any of the amendments adopted in the Committee of the Whole to the bill or committee substitute. The previous question shall be considered as ordered on the bill and amendments thereto to final passage without intervening motion except one motion to recommit, with or without instructions.

When said resolution was considered,

Mr. TABER made a point of order against certain sections of the bill referred to in the resolution.

The SPEAKER said: "The Chair is ready to rule on the point of order.

"The Chair has no disposition to limit the argument of the gentleman from New York [Mr. TABER], but the Chair is very clearly of the opinion that the points of order the gentleman seeks to raise against certain provisions of the bill are not in order at this time. The House is now considering a resolution providing for the consideration of the bill against which the gentleman desires to raise certain points of order. The resolution which is now being considered itself provides, if adopted, that all points of order against the bill are waived. This is no innovation or new matter. Time after time the Committee on Rules has brought to the House resolutions waiving points of order against bills. Under the general rules of the House, the Chair will say to the gentleman, aside from the considerations which the Chair has mentioned, points of order cannot be raised against the bill until the section is reached in the bill which attempts to make appropriations and against which the point of order is desired to be made.

"For those reasons the Chair does not feel like recognizing the gentleman at this juncture to state points of order against the proposed bill."

GERMANENESS

On August 1, 1939, the House had under consideration the bill (H. R. 5129) authorizing and providing for the construction of additional facilities on the Canal Zone for the purposes of more adequately providing for the defense of the Panama Canal and for increasing its capacity for the future needs of interoceanic shipping.

When said bill was considered and read twice.

The following amendment was recommended by the Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries:

Page 2, line 9, insert after "authorized", "a" in parentheses, strike out "with" on line 10 and all of lines 11, 12, 13, 14, and 15, insert a colon and Provided, That the compensation of such persons shall not be lower than the compensation paid for the same or similar services to other employees of the Panama Canal: Provided further, That rates of compensation in excess of those authorized by law for other employees of the Panama Canal shall not be paid without the approval of the Secretary of War: And provided further, That the Governor of the Panama Canal, with the approval of the Secretary of War, is authorized to engage, under agreement, when deemed necessary, expert assistance in the various arts and sciences upon terms and rates of compensation for services and incidental expenses in excess of the maximum compensation provided by law for employees of the Panama Canal; (b) to authorize the making of contracts, without the advertisement hereinafter prescribed, with architectural or engineering corporations, firms, or individuals for the production and delivery of designs, plans, drawings, and specifications; and (c) to authorize the making of any and all contracts necessary for the prosecution of the work herein authorized.

After debate,

Mr. STARNES of Alabama submitted the following amendment to the committee amendment:

Page 1, line 3, after "Canal" strike out the colon and insert a comma and and all such persons occupying skilled, technical, clerical, administrative, and supervisory positions shall be citizens of the United States.

Mr. BLAND made the point of order that the amendment was not germane to the bill.

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order, and said: "The gentleman from Virginia makes the point of order that the amendment offered by the gentleman from Alabama [Mr. STARNES] is not germane to the committee amendment. From a very cursory and hurried reading of the committee amendment it appears that the first part of that proviso deals with the compensation of such persons; that is, persons who may be employed on the Canal. As the Chair reads the amendment offered by the gentleman from Alabama, it is a limitation upon the nature and character of such employees. The Chair is, therefore, of the opinion that the amendment is germane to the committee amendment, and overrules the point of order."

Mr. SCHAFER of Wisconsin submitted the following substitute amendment for the amendment submitted by Mr. STARNES to the committee amendment:

Insert Provided, That all contracts herein authorized shall be made with American citizens or with American corporations and employment preference shall be given to American citizens.

Mr. BLAND made the point of order that the amendment was not in the nature of a substitute.

The SPEAKER sustained the point of order and said: "This is an amendment in the third degree which is not in order as a substitute to the Starnes amendment."

After debate,

The question being put,

Will the House agree to the amendment of Mr. STARNES to the committee amendment?

On a division there appeared—yeas 24, nays 29.

So, the amendment was not agreed to.

Mr. SCHAFER of Wisconsin submitted the following amendment to the committee amendment.

At the end of the amendment offered by Mr. BLAND insert Provided, That all contracts herein authorized shall be made with American citizens, or with American corporations, and employment preference shall be given to American citizens.

Mr. BLAND made the point of order that the amendment was not germane to the bill.

The SPEAKER overruled the point of order, and said: "The Chair is of opinion that the opinions expressed on the ruling in the Starnes amendment apply to this amendment and therefore overrules the point of order."

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

On August 3, 1939, Mr. HOFFMAN rose to a question of personal privilege and said: "Mr. Speaker, this involves the integrity of the Record. Under date of July 27, when the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. KELLER] had the floor, certain remarks were made by me under a reservation of the right to object. I send to the Speaker's desk a printed copy of the Record and a transcript from the Official Reporters, which shows that all of those remarks made by me were stricken from the Record by the gentleman from Illinois. That is the question of personal privilege and of the privilege of the House I now present, and which will be followed by a motion."

The SPEAKER said: "The Chair is of the opinion that the gentleman presents a question affecting the privileges of the House and is recognized."

Mr. HOFFMAN then proceeded to address the House.

GERMANENESS

On August 4, 1939, the House had under consideration the bill (H. R. 7235) to prohibit the maintenance of gambling establishments within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States, and for other purposes.

When said bill was considered and read twice.

The following amendments recommended by the Committee on the Judiciary were agreed to:

Page 1, line 5, after "whoever", strike out the balance of line 5, all of lines 6 and 7, and "gaming", in line 8, and insert On any waters within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States and out of the jurisdiction of any particular State, or upon the high seas, on board any vessel used principally for a violation of any provision hereinafter set out and belonging in whole or in part to the United States or any citizen thereof or any corporation created by or under the law of the United States, or of any State, Territory, or District thereof, shall set up or operate any common gaming.

Page 2, beginning in line 15, after "both", strike out the balance of line 15 and all of lines 16, 17, 18, and 19.

Mr. GEYER of California submitted the following amendments:

Sec. 287B. Whoever shall knowingly transport or cause to be transported in interstate or foreign commerce any roulette wheel, gambling outfit, loaded dice, marked cards, or any machine, apparatus, or mechanical device designed or adapted for the playing of any game of chance for money or other thing of value, or whoever shall receive, possess, or dispose of any article which has been transported in violation of this section, knowing the same to have been so transported, shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not more than $5,000 or imprisonment for not more than two years, or both such fine and imprisonment. As used in this section the term "interstate or foreign commerce" means commerce between any State, District, Territory, or possession of the United States and any place outside of such State, District, Territory, or possession.

Mr. CELLER made the point of order against the amendment on the ground that it is not germane. "The bill under consideration concerns the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States, whereas the amendment deals with matters of interstate commerce, the transportation or carriage of so-called roulette wheels, marked dice, and other paraphernalia used in games of chance across State borders. For this reason it is not germane to the bill."

The SPEAKER sustained the point of order, and said: "The Chair is ready to rule. For the reason stated by the gentleman from New York, the Chair sustains the point of order."
