intended at first, is a nobler and a wiser scheme than is reflected in the press. It is for the purpose of calling public attention to this point that we now take the opportunity afforded us by the approaching centenary of the Press, to congratulate it on its past successes, and to endeavour to suggest how both the institution and the public might be benefited from change in the present method of work. We are justified, therefore, in one of the chief objects of the Asylum the attempt to benefit the children of European soldiers. To facilitate this, the Press was established in connection with the original institution. The object avowedly to help the parent stock and to find employment for the pupils of the Asylum. Thus the Press was, in effect, to become the channel through which those pupils who had been sufficiently trained might pass, adding on their way, by their work, to the prosperity of the parent institution, and thus assisting the authorities not only by making room for new comers, but by adding to the funds available for supporting them. As a matter of fact, the spirit of this scheme has not been acted upon of late. The Press still affords very valuable financial support to the parent institution, it probably helps it in this way now than was ever previously the case; it takes away also a few pupils and trains them. But the Press is not what it might be, a training school for the pupils of the Asylum, aiming to enable them to earn their own living, to relieve the institution of all care about their well-being, and to give room for others to follow in the same track. We believe we are correct in saying that the Asylum supply more youths than the Press is in a position to take, and further that the pupils of the institution are now but a very small minority in the staff of the Press. From being a branch of the Asylum, closely allied in every way, supported by the name of the principal institution, encouraged and aided as a part of a great charity, the Press has become a separate mercantile enterprise, still trading with the extraneous advantages of name &c., as of old, and practically paying so many rupees per annum to the Asylum for the goodwill, the name, the sheltering shadow of its associations.

In these comments the Times undoubtedly interprets the opinion of that portion of the public which is acquainted with the working of the Lawrence Asylum Press. The feeling that the Press is going far beyond its proper sphere has found expression occasionally before, and would have found much stronger expression had not a feeling of delicacy, and respect for the Directors and officials of the Press, overpowered the desire to expose what was felt to amount almost to injustice to private enterprise. To talk of the Press being "absolutely independent of Government" is nonsense. The Committee in charge of it is formed of the Venerable the Archdeacon, the Director of Public Instruction, and the Inspector-General of Ordnance—all Government officials—with Mr. E. J. Firth, another Government official, as Secretary. Given what practically amounts to three heads of the Departments as directors, "Pity the poor orphans" for a signboard, and a monopoly of work which includes items upon which a profit of 100 per cent. can be secured, a Press ought to be successful. We don't for a moment despise orphans, or begrudge them liberal maintenance and education, but there seems to us no necessity for appealing to the public for support upon the ground of charity when "the funded capital of the Asylum amounts to Rs. 4,89,200."

The Asylum Press Annuals.—New Year's Day brings not only innumerable hines and oranges, with cards and good wishes,—the Asylum Press Almanac for the new year generally arrives upon that day. This year was no exception, and we have to acknowledge receipt of the Almanac (over 1,000 pages), the Pocket Almanac, and the Sheet Almanac. The two latter are much the same as usual, and some improvements in the bigger volume, which we have to acknowledge, we think are well. The Retrospect has been more carefully written than in the last volume, though it is not nearly so complete as it should be. Many events of local and general interest which ought to find mention in such a compilation are omitted. At the end of it is an interesting notice of the Lawrence Asylum Press, written "to correct an erroneous impression" that has somehow gone abroad about the Lawrence Asylum Press. The last paragraph of this statement throws dust in the eyes of the public which it may become our duty to clear away ere long. The Almanac is better printed than usual, and is a compilation of which the Superintendent of the Lawrence Asylum Press may well be proud. We notice a few little errors here and there, but nothing serious. By some printer's blunder the Madras News is given as "a weekly publication" and not as a "newspaper"! If there is anything printed in Madras that deserves to be called a Newspaper, surely the Madras News does. However, we will forgive Mr. Taylor and his subordinates if they promise to keep up to this year's high standard of excellence in future volumes.—Madras News, January 4th, 1890.

The Annuals.—We have to acknowledge, with thanks, receipt of the Asylum Press Almanac for 1890, which is replete with information of every kind. Mr. Taylor, the energetic and enterprising Superintendent, has not been wanting in fact and ability to render the publication a complete success. Improvements are to be seen in every direction, and the publication is one which will find its way into the library of every business man. No institution can be considered complete without this useful and valuable Almanac, and we, therefore, commend it heartily to the general public. We have also to acknowledge receipt of the Asylum Press Pocket Almanac which maintains its old reputation as a useful guide and vade mecum. The binding and printing are excellent, and the information contained in it are of much utility and accuracy. We commend this also to the general public.—Madras Standard, January 6th 1890.

The Lawrence Asylum Press Annuals.—The Lawrence Asylum Press Annuals have appeared punctual to time, and all of them are in every way equal to their predecessors. The publications sent us are:

THE ASYLUM PRESS ALMANAC, DIRECTORY, AND COMPENDIUM OF INTELLIGENCE.

THE ASYLUM PRESS POCKET ALMANAC AND GENERAL DIRECTORY.

THE ASYLUM PRESS SHEET ALMANAC.

The large neatly bounded "Directory" is as familiar throughout the Presidency as ink-bottles are. Nobody who has business to transact ever dreams of trying to do without it, for the information it contains is always useful, and the man who "wants to know you know" is sure to get what he wants to know in this work. Of late years the annual has increased considerably in size; years ago it was much smaller than it is now, therefore its compilers must be credited with keeping abreast of the times. Twelve hundred pages of information regarding the Madras Presidency, its rulers, its army, public services, trade, commerce, inhabitants, legal customs and institutions, are enough to satisfy the most exacting. All possible needs have been thought of and inserted, so that as far as experienced men of nothing has been over-looked or omitted. The volume before us has a very useful index, and on radius lines marked, showing the distances from Fort St. George, which is taken as the centre. The Lawrence Asylum Press Almanac and Directory is complete in matter and perfect in arrangement, it is a model of what an Annual Directory ought to be: while in printing and binding it is a credit to the office that has published it.

The Pocket Almanac is a handy little guide to Madras, and got up with due regard to the requirements of men who need to make notes of their daily transactions.

The Sheet Almanac is an article as full as can be of information. We have found it of great use in a business office, in a household its utility is unquestionable.—Bangalore Spectator, January 8th 1890.

The Asylum Press Almanac.—The Asylum Press Almanac, Directory and Compendium of Intelligence for 1890 is certainly far in advance of its predecessors and shows that a patient and skilful hand has been at the labor of collecting, condensing and arranging the vast materials for it. The Retrospect is well written and we look upon such retrospects, which this Almanac has supplied for some years past, as useful and interesting histories in miniature form. The chief political events of the times, the educational, and other reforms, and the progress of local administration, with other information are of general value and will be so to future readers and writers. The Retrospect is followed by a narrative of the Lawrence Asylum Press which was established in April 1790. Thus in the beginning of the second quarter of the year the Press will have celebrated its Centenary. The story, as related, reads like a romance and in some parts it is pathetic. The Press is connected with the Orphan Asylum and has experienced many vicissitudes of prosperity and decline, and its present prosperity is owing to the careful management and energetic labors of Mr. G. W. Taylor, its Superintendent. The Asylum has done good work during the century. The writer of the history of the Press states "that between 7000 and 8000 orphans have proceeded from it to fight the battle of the world and some 600 others sleep in Saint Mary's Burial Ground cut off before their fight commenced. From the school have sprung immediately, or remotely, a great number of men who have become respectable and useful members of the community. In its early days it received the sons of many of the officers and soldiers who carved out the British Power in this Presidency and saved them to Christianity and respectability."

We are glad to find a considerable improvement in the Index. Last year's Index was specially meant to puzzle those who consulted it as an aid to information. It was not a bad Index; but it was evidently compiled for those who understood the method and not for the general public. That Index was prepared on certain principles laid down by officialdom. It will be found that the Indices in the Secretariat branches and even those of the Board of Revenue adopt nearly a similar plan. The author was, perhaps, a subordinate official. But the present one is simpler and more readily adapted for the public, and we therefore approve of it and prefer it to its predecessor. We need not refer to the other portions of the Almanac. Mr. Taylor deserves every credit and praise for the excellent way in which it is got up, for its almost faultless arrangement, and for its accuracy and neatness.—The Cosmopolite, January 8th, 1890.

The Lawrence Asylum Press Almanac.—This book, which is annually issued from the Lawrence Asylum Press at Madras, the oldest and the best establishment of its kind in Southern India, is already well known and does not require any special recommendation from us. But we may say that it is a most useful and valuable work. It contains a great deal of information of a variety of subjects. The volume opens with an interesting and instructive retrospect for 1889 and ends with a brief account of all the Acts passed in 1889 by the Governor General of India in Council, and applicable to the three Presidencies. It contains also a list of the Residents in Madras which is illustrated by a companion Map of the City, and thus is an infallible guide to strangers, enabling them to find out easily any place or person they may be in search of. It contains a list of all the important public and private institutions in the Presidency with the names, titles, &c., of the officers attached to them, an account of Unconvenanted Civil Service Examination rules, postal, telegraph and sea custom regulations, stamp duties, a list containing all the names of pleaders practising in the Mofussil Courts, and a number of useful tables besides a good deal of other miscellaneous matters. It is almost impossible to praise the book in too high terms, even a brief account of what it contains in this necessarily brief review. The get-up of the volume, regarded apart from the valuable information it contains, is simply excellent. The book is in every way worthy of the Press from which it is issued, and Mr. Taylor, the Superintendent is to be congratulated, on his successful publication. The Press Pocket Almanac and General Directory is very handy and every man of business ought to possess a copy of this invaluable guide. It also contains an excellent Map of Madras.—The Argus, January 10th, 1890.

The Lawrence Asylum Annuals.—It may, probably, be only a courteous tribute to pay when we congratulate the Lawrence Asylum Press on the completion, or thereabouts, of its centenary. The annuals which have been placed, by the courtesy of the Superintendent, before us contain ample evidence of the desire to excel in volume and finish on previous publications. To give it its full title the Asylum Press Almanac, Directory and compendium of Intelligence consists of 1,164 pages of solid interesting matter and 185 pages devoted to minor subjects, while the table of contents will be found to be an improvement on previous issues in that it is alphabetically arranged, thereby saving time and money to those whose business day is all too short. But we will endeavour to place before our readers a brief outline of the contents. The first portion that meets the eye is an exhaustive retrospect of the past year occupying 32 pages of closely printed matter; amongst which will be found, what will doubtless prove interesting reading to many, the detailed account of H. E. Lord Connemara's tour in Ganjam, compiled by Mr. Claude Vincent. In part I under the heading of Calendar, on page 36 will be found many hints on ancient gardening which should prove exceedingly useful, particularly we should think, to mofussil residents. Under the head of Government of India pp. 56—79 we find the personnel of three Presidencies and Burma. The various orders of the Indian Empire are fully detailed of pp. 89—91, when we come across "Warrant of Precedence" which is a sine qua non to every official. Passing over Finance, Public offices and a multitude of other matters we find on pp. 179—250 a summary of the services of H. M. Convenanted and Civil Servants on the Madras Establishment, corrected up to the 31st December 1889, to which many an Editor will doubtless turn with gratitude in his hour of need. Revised rules for the examination of assistants in the Civil Service occupy pp. 251—277, and then follows the U. C. S. examination rules,

No. 5.—Native Lines—Hutting.—The following rules on the subject of "Native Lines, the property of the State" are, with the sanction of Government, published for information and guidance:—

1. On the march of any regiment or detachment, a certificate, signed by the officer commanding the regiment or detachment and the Executive Engineer, that the whole of the regimental lines are left in an habitable state must be sent to the Officer Commanding the Station.
2. When it shall appear to the authorities that the lines have fallen into disrepair by culpable neglect or injury, the Regimental Commanding Officer will be held responsible. For this reason Commanding Officers will be liable to produce their accounts of disbursements of the hutting allowance.
3. When a corps leaves a station without immediate relief and after a considerable interval the lines are about to be re-occupied, a committee may be assembled, if necessary, to report on the damage caused by the weather since the lines were vacated. The expense of repairing this additional damage will be borne by Government.
4. Commanding Officers are responsible for the state of their regimental lines, and will arrange for periodical inspections being made to ensure every hut being kept in a proper state of repair. All repairs will be carried out under arrangements to be made by Commanding Officers who will defray the cost out of the hutting fund money. No sums will be disbursed to the men.
5. In the event of destruction of huts by fire or otherwise compensation will only be payable in cases when the injury is proved to have been purely accidental.

6. On all occasions of movements in relief of troops the station standing barrack committee is to survey and report on the number and condition of the huts on the occasion. One copy of the committee's report will be forwarded, through the Officer Commanding the station to the district authorities, in lieu of the certificate required by para. 1; another copy will be attached to the bill submitted by the Officer Commanding the relieved corps for hutting allowance at his new station; and a third copy will be retained for reference by the Officer Commanding the station.

7. On occasions of ordinary reliefs when a wing only of a Native corps relieves a complete regiment, it should occupy the lines of one wing only, and draw hutting allowance for those lines alone, the lines of the other wing being looked after and kept in repair at the expense of the State by the Executive Engineer on the requisition of the Commanding Officer of the station.

8. When the lines of Native troops and of mustered followers entitled to hutting money become vacant, the Officer Commanding the station will be held responsible for their custody to the extent of protecting them from wilful damage, and for this purpose he should detail a small guard or entertain watchmen under the authority of a Station Order. The pay of these watchmen will be adjusted in the usual manner.

9. Should repairs be necessary during the vacancy of the lines they are to be carried out by the Public Works Department on the requisition of the Officer Commanding the Station, the cost of the work being debited to the Military Department, supported by a bill signed by the Executive Engineer, countersigned by the Officer commanding the Station, and adjusted from the hutting allowance of the corps or mustered followers next occupying the lines, or by debit to the regiment or followers that vacated them, should they return and re-occupy the lines within 6 months, in which case, hutting money is not admissible.

Para. 886 (j).—The rule in para. 890 (j) is applicable to Bengal.

Para. 888.—Dele from "The" in line 8 to end of sentence and insert—The actual cash balance remaining in the cash chest at the close of each month will be ascertained by examination on the 1st of the succeeding month (not being Sunday or other holiday) by a Committee of officers. The Committee will report to the Commanding Officer the actual cash balance of each fund in charge of the Quarter Master, and of all other funds lodged in the chest in sealed bags, including the Mess and Band Funds, also all advances from the chest whether Government or Regimental. Their report to be forwarded to the head-quarters of the district, for the inspection of the General Officer Commanding, as soon as possible after the monthly examination of books by the Commanding Officer, with an endorsement by the latter officer to the effect that having compared the Committee's report with the several regimental cash books, he finds the cash correct.

The current Bank balances will be examined quarterly by a Committee of officers, as soon as possible after the close of the quarter and receipt of the Pass Books made up by the Bank, but not later than the 15th of the following month. To allow of this being done, cheques should not be drawn towards the close of the last month of the quarter, unless this is unavoidable. They will also record the amount of the fixed deposits and Government paper, &c., seen by them, and forward the report through the Officer Commanding, to the General Officer Commanding the district.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND ASSURANCE INSTITUTION.
ESTABLISHED 1840.

HEAD OFFICE—KING STREET, CHEAPSIDE, LONDON.
EMPOWERED BY SPECIAL ACT OF PARLIAMENT.

Subscribed Capital £1,000,000.

“Short Term” and “Whole Life” Assurances are granted.

In addition to ordinary Assurances this Company issues Policies by which the sums assured are made payable to the Policy-holder himself on his attaining a specified age or to his representatives in the event of his previous death. By this means Officers and others may both provide for their families and secure Retiring Provision for themselves.

Also “FREE” Policies are granted which can never altogether lapse in consequence of the non-payment of Premium.

Special allowances made from the Proprietors’ fund in aid of Premium on assurances effected by Clergymen and Schoolmasters.

Premium may be paid annually, half-yearly, quarterly or monthly as desired.

Thirty days’ grace are allowed for the payment of annual, half-yearly and quarterly premium, and fifteen days for monthly premium. The validity of the Policy will, in every case, be maintained by payment of the Premium within the stipulated period, notwithstanding the death of the Assured may have occurred before such premium shall have been received.

No extra rate is charged for sea-passages, and on arrival in Europe a reduction is made in the premium without the assured being required to pass any Medical examination.

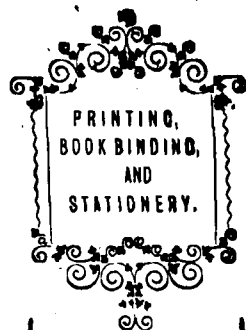

Policies effected by parties on their own lives, and assigned as a bonâ fide security to others, will not be rendered void in the event of death by suicide, duelling, or the hands of justice. Claims will become payable within three months after satisfactory proof of death.

Policies issued in Sterling or Rupees.

The Medical Officer, Dr. E. F. Drake-Brockman, sees applicants for Assurance at his residence Pycroft’s Gardens, Nungumbaukum on Wednesdays at 11 A.M.

Detailed Prospectuses, with the names of the Directors, Full Tables of Life Premium, and the necessary Forms of Proposal, may be obtained on application to

THE MADRAS EQUITABLE ASSURANCE SOCIETY,

(SUCCESSOR TO THE MADRAS LAUDABLE SOCIETY, ESTABLISHED IN 1829)

Regulated by Act No. VI of 1869 of the Legislative Council of Fort Saint George.

G. LOXDALE MURRAY, Esq., (MURRAY & Co.)

Medical Examiner.

Surgeon Major A. M. BRANFOOT, M.B.

Actuary.

A. H. BAILEY, Esq., of the London Assurance Corporation.

The chief characteristics of this Society are:—

Mutual Assurance.

Policies for terms of years issued at largely reduced rates, without participation in Surpluses.

Premiums payable half yearly, on 1st January and 1st July.

Claims paid immediately after satisfactory proof of death. An official Notice of death in any of Her Majesty's Government Gazettes is a sufficient proof.

Claims can be adjusted, and premiums can be paid in London, if desired by the Policy-holders.

Surrender Values allowed for Life Policies issued at fixed rates of premium which have paid three years' premiums.

The Society's funds must be invested in Indian Government Securities, or in other guaranteed Indian Securities.

Quinquennial valuations, by a London Actuary, of Assets and Liabilities. The reduction of premiums for the Quinquennium 1886-90 is at the rate of 70 per cent. of original Annual premiums paid during 1881-85.

Assurances granted on the lives of Europeans, East Indians or Eurasians, and Parsees.

Past experience leads the Directors to anticipate that the retention of the "Mutual" principle and the Quinquennial distributions of Surpluses, will bring down the cost of Assurance by this Office, for Life, to the lowest possible point.

The Medical Examiner sees Applicants for Assurance at his residence, Pantheon Road, Egmore, on Wednesdays and Saturdays between 11 and 12 A.M.
