During this period 15 per cent. of the effective strength of Native Regiments are permitted to take furlough. In Regiments, however, in which it is the practice to sub-divide the period of furlough into two periods of $3\frac{1}{2}$ months each, the indulgence of free passage to the men going and returning must in no case exceed 30 per cent. of the effective strength of the regiment in the year.

The grant of furlough may be withheld, in whole or in part, by General Officers commanding Districts if considered necessary, the circumstances being reported to Army Head Quarters.
