THE RAIL-BORNE TRADE OF 1893-94.

The statements appended show full details of the statistics of the rail-borne traffic as recorded during the official year 1893-94. They have been compiled in this office from the quarterly returns received from the Examiner of Guaranteed Railway Accounts, Bombay.

2. Lines open.—The total mileage of railways open for traffic at the end of the year was 2,621½ miles as shown below. This includes an additional length of 173½ miles of the East Coast Railway (from Rajahmundry to Vizianagram and the branch lines to Cocanada and Vizagapatam) opened during the year:—

* This is the correct figure and not 71½ miles as given in the corresponding statement of the last year's review.

3. Season.—The season was generally favourable throughout the year; the rainfall was in excess of the normal, and though in the Circars, the Deccan and the West Coast it was less than the exceptionally heavy fall of the previous year, it has nearly everywhere been sufficient. There was a slight fall in the prices of food-grains, the annual averages being less than in 1891-92; but they still continued very high and were in some districts 40 to 120 per cent. in excess of the average of the ten years ending 1889-90.

4. The total trade of the Presidency showed an increase of 5½ per cent. in volume as compared with that of the previous year, but was 6 per cent. less than that of 1891-92, when, owing to the prevalence of distress in many districts, there was an exceptionally heavy increase in the internal trade. The value of the articles carried was, however, 10 per cent. greater than in the last-named year. Compared with the average of the five years ending 1890-91, the volume of trade increased by about 20 per cent., the imports being more than double, and the exports nearly 70 per cent. in excess of the averages, the internal trade being almost the same :—

5. The imports into the Presidency increased by 5.6 per cent. in volume and by 2 per cent. in value as compared with 1892-93. The increase was contributed mainly by Mysore, the imports from the Nizam's territory and Bombay showing decreases amounting to over 450,000 maunds. The exports to other provinces were greater by 13.5 per cent. in volume and about 7.2 per cent. in value than in the previous year. The bulk of the increase occurred in the exports to Bombay, which nearly doubled during the year, and in those to Mysore. The exports to the Nizam's territory also increased slightly. The subjoined table shows the distribution of the imports and exports between the different provinces outside the Presidency. Mysore as usual contributed the largest share of the trade under both heads :—

6. The local or internal trade increased by 3.8 per cent. in volume and 4.9 per cent. in value as compared with the previous year; the increase in traffic occurring chiefly under grain, stone and lime, cotton, coal and coke and sugar.

7. The next table shows the distribution of the traffic as between the sea-port towns and the rest of the Presidency and the fluctuations therein during the last three years :—

8. Compared with 1892-93 there was an increase both in the import and export trade of the sea-ports and in the traffic in portions of the Presidency outside the sea-ports, the increase in the latter being more than double the increase in the former. Of the imports from beyond the Presidency, just over a sixth only, is received into the sea-port towns while the remaining five-sixths is taken by the rest of the Presidency. In the case of the exports to other provinces, however, the difference in the quantities sent from the sea-ports and from the rest of the Presidency is very small, being about 500,000 maunds.

9. The imports of the year are shown below in detail for the principal articles as compared with those of the previous year :—

10. The grain traffic increased by nearly 1 per cent. over that of the previous year, but amounted to only 48 per cent. of the total import trade as against 50 per cent. in the previous year, while that in coal and coke which is the next in importance amounted to over 1½ millions of maunds against slightly over a million maunds in the previous year. There were also large increases in the traffic in raw cotton, salt, oils, sugar, liquors and metals. On the other hand there were heavy decreases in the imports of oil-seeds, hides and skins, and provisions, while the quantity of railway plant and rolling stock imported was only 8,500 maunds against 186,000 in the previous year.

11. The imports of grain from Mysore were higher than in any previous year and exceeded the imports of 1892-93 by 809,000 maunds of 35 per cent. About 83 per cent. of the total imports under this head came from this province, while the remainder was contributed chiefly by Bombay and the Nizam's territory. There was a heavy falling off in the imports from these two provinces principally under jowar and bajra (chohlu and cumbu), the decrease being mainly in the consignments to the Ceded districts and Salem and Coimbatore. The large increase in the imports from Mysore was chiefly under ragi and partly also under paddy. The following table shows the distribution of the grain trade as between the several provinces:—

Do. 1893-94 ..	3,075,561	249,299	274,071	56,656	3,654,987

12. The coal traffic which formed 20 per cent. of the total imports of the year shows an advance of 48 per cent. over the trade of the previous year. In the past four years it has risen from nearly 268,000 maunds to over ½ million maunds or by 460 per cent. Almost the whole of the imports came from the Nizam's territory (Singaruni coal fields), 96 per cent. being received in the Kistna district and 4 per cent. in the Deccan districts.

13. The bulk of the imports under oil-seeds consist of castor oil-seeds from the Nizam's territory chiefly into Kistna and of gingelly from Mysore. The imports declined by 16·6 per cent. as compared with those of 1892-93 and by 27 per cent. as compared with those of the year preceding. The falling off was mainly in the trade with the Nizam's territory. There was a small decrease also under rape and mustard seeds and in ground-nuts.

On the other hand there was a comparatively large increase under oils due chiefly to the large imports of castor-oil from Mysore to the Madras port (13,310 maunds against 675 maunds in the previous year) and of kerosine-oil from Bombay to the Ceded districts and Kurnool.

14. The trade in hides and skins and provisions also declined considerably during the year. The decrease in the former was chiefly in the imports of dressed hides from Hyderabad and the Central Provinces and of dressed skins for Mysore, Hyderabad and the North-West Provinces and Oudh. The decrease would have been greater, but for the increase in the consignments of raw skins from Bombay, Central India and Mysore. The decrease under provisions was chiefly in the imports of dried fruits and nuts from Mysore.

15. Under dyes and tans there was a decrease in the traffic with Mysore and Bombay which was however more than counterbalanced by an increase in that with the Nizam's territory.

16. The imports of raw cotton from Bombay more than doubled during the year while those from the Nizam's territory increased by 7·9 per cent. Most of the imports from these two provinces are received into the Ceded districts and Madras Port. Mysore also sends a small quantity to the latter block.

17. In the trade in sugar, which is chiefly from Mysore in the proportion of two-thirds refined and one-third unrefined, there was an increase of over 21 per cent. on that of the previous year; but compared with the average of four years ending 1890-91, there was a falling off of 37·5 per cent. in the total imports.

18. There was a large increase in the imports into the Deccan districts of European and Indian twist and yarn from Bombay, and of Indian piece-goods from that province and Mysore; while the quantities of Indian twist and yarn sent from Mysore to the Madras port were more than one-half of the imports in the previous year.

The increase under liquors is due to increased imports of beer from Bombay and of country spirits from Hyderabad.

19. The imports of salt from Bombay into the Deccan districts were higher than any received during the past six years and showed an advance of more than 50 per cent. on the figures of 1892-93. Madras salt is being steadily displaced in these districts by cheaper salt from Bombay.

Under metal the chief article is iron, which is imported largely from Bombay and to a moderate extent also from Mysore and the Nizam's territory. The imports during the year from each of these provinces were higher than those of any previous year on record.

There were practically no imports of railway plant and rolling stock into the Ceded districts from Bombay while those into Kistna were trifling.

20. The exports of the principal articles are shown in the next table compared with the amounts exported in the previous year:—

21. Coal continues to occupy the first place in the export traffic and accounts for 30 per cent. of the exports during the year. The total quantity exported was more than double that of 1891-92 and 19·7 per cent. more than in 1892-93. Nearly 97 per cent. of the coal was sent to Mysore chiefly from the Madras port and about 1·3 per cent. from the Kistna-Godavari block to Bombay.

22. The grain trade which comes next in importance showed a decrease of 10 per cent. as compared with the previous year. Nearly three-fifths of the exports consisted of rice, the greater portion of which went to Mysore and the rest chiefly to Hyderabad. There was a considerable falling off in the consignments to Hyderabad from Kistna and to Mysore from the Madras port; but the exports from the Deccan districts consisting mainly of rice, cholam and cumbu, and sent chiefly to Mysore and Hyderabad, amounted to over 181,000 maunds against only 13,648 maunds in the previous year.

23. There was an increase of 26 per cent. under provisions, due to larger exports of dried fruits and nuts to Hyderabad, Bombay and Mysore. The quantity exported to the two last-mentioned provinces was about three times the quantity exported in 1892-93.

24. Over 92 per cent. of the exports of metals consisted of iron, most of which (ten-elevenths) was sent to Mysore from Madras. The increase as compared with the previous year was mainly due to increased exports of this metal to Mysore.

25. The exports of refined sugar to Bombay and of unrefined sugar to Mysore were nearly four times what they were in the previous year.

26. Eighty-seven per cent. of the exports under oil-seeds consisted of linseed and castor, sent mainly from the Deccan districts to Bombay. The trade in linseed increased by more than three and a half times and that under castor by nearly three times as compared with the previous year.

27. The exports of salt were distributed in about equal quantities between Mysore and Hyderabad, the former receiving its supply chiefly from Madras and Calicut, and the latter mainly from the Kistna-Gôdâvari block; the decrease of 25 per cent. as compared with the previous year occurred in the exports from this block and from Calicut, and was doubtless due to increased imports from Bombay. Mysore took in the year a less quantity of stone and lime which it obtains chiefly from the Salem-Coimbatore block.

28. Almost the whole of the raw cotton was exported from the Deccan districts to Bombay, only about a sixteenth going to Mysore. The excellent harvests obtained during the past two years enabled the cotton growers in the above districts to send an unusually large quantity of the produce to the Bombay markets, over 183,500 maunds against 33,500 maunds in the previous year. Nearly 90 per cent. of the exports of tobacco consisted of the unmanufactured leaf, chiefly from the Kistna-Gôdâvari block to the Nizam's territory and from the Salem-Coimbatore block to Mysore. The manufactured article was exported chiefly from Trichinopoly and to a small extent also from Madura (Dindigul). The large falling off under oils was chiefly in the quantity of kerosine-oil sent from Madras to Mysore. More than two-thirds of the exports under liquors consisted of beer and the remainder of spirits and wines. The bulk of the export trade is from Madras port to Mysore.

29. The Deccan districts increased their exports of spices by about a third and the exports of pepper sent chiefly from the Calicut port and Malabar district were doubled; on the other hand the exports of chillies from Kistna to Hyderabad and Bombay declined from 19,000 to 2,730 maunds.

30. Almost the whole of the decrease under dyes and tans occurred in the consignments of turmeric from Kistna to Bombay. The exports of indigo from the Deccan districts to Bombay also declined by about a fourth (1,700 maunds).

31. Nearly the whole of the increase under Railway plant and rolling-stock went to Mysore, while a portion went also to Bombay from the Chingleput and North Arcot block.

32. The internal trade or the traffic between different parts of the Presidency is summarized below in comparison with that of 1892-93:—

33. There was an increase of 426,800 maunds or 6.4 per cent in the grain trade as compared with the previous year, but it still slightly fell short of the proportions attained in 1891-92. Over three-fifths of it was in rice, husked and unhusked, and between a fourth and a fifth was in other grains and pulse. The quantity of grain sent inland from the sea-ports was about 2.4 millions of maunds or 27 per cent. more than in the previous year, of which more than two-fifths was gram and pulse. Madras, Negapatam and Tuticorin received less than in the previous year and the other ports more. The imports into the Ceded districts and Nellore declined, but those into the other internal blocks increased generally, the largest increase going to Madura and Tinnevely. There was a decline of over 928,000 maunds in the exports from the South Arcot, Tanjore and Trichinopoly block, while those from the Ceded districts more than doubled, the quantity sent out being 1,026,568 maunds against 435,368 maunds in the previous year. Including also the receipts from, and quantities sent to, other provinces, the net results of the grain trade of the year are shown in the following table as compared with the traffic of the preceding years:—

+ = Net imports.

— = Net exports.

34. It will be seen that the Ceded districts and Kurnool and Nellore instead of importing as in the two preceding years were able to export largely (over a million maunds), while in the South Arcot, Tanjore and Trichinopoly block, including the Pondicherry and Negapatam sea-ports, the net exports declined by more than one-half as compared with 1892-93. In the Madura and Tinnevely block, including Tuticorin, the net imports declined by 18 per cent., while in the Salem, Coimbatore and Malabar block they increased by 29.2 per cent. The net imports into the Madras port also nearly doubled, though they were less than half the average of the three years ending 1891-92. On the whole the net imports of grain into the Presidency amounted to over 3 millions maunds, the whole of which went to the Salem, Coimbatore, Madura and Tinnevely districts. The quantity imported was 3.6 per cent. more than in 1892-93 and 8.3 per cent. and 21.3 per cent. more than in 1891-92 and 1890-91.

35. Next to grain and pulse, stone and lime shows a large increase, almost the whole of which occurs in the imports from the Chingleput-North Arcot block to Madras port and was due to the large supplies required for the harbour works, the public buildings under construction and for road materials.

36. The imports of ground-nuts from the South Arcot, Tanjore and Trichinopoly block to Pondicherry were one-fifth less than in the previous year; but the exports of gingelly, castor and other oil-seeds from Salem, Coimbatore and Malabar increased by about a third.

37. Nearly eight-ninths of the traffic in sugar consisted of unrefined jaggery, of which nearly one-half was exported from Madras and Tinnevely and the port of Tuticorin. There was a large decrease in the exports of refined sugar from South Arcot, Tanjore and Trichinopoly and of refined and unrefined sugar from Chingleput and North Arcot; but these decreases were more than counterbalanced by a general increase in the traffic in unrefined sugar.

38. Nine-tenths of the traffic in metals consisted of iron, and Tuticorin sent inland nearly double the iron, that it sent in 1892-93, but there was large falling off in the supplies sent from Madras, and those from Negapatam were less than a third of the quantity sent inland from this port in the previous year.

39. The large increase in the coal trade is wholly due to the increased quantities of this article sent from Kistna to the Ceded districts and from thence to Chingleput and North Arcot. On the other hand there has been a fall in the quantities sent inland from Madras, Negapatam and Tuticorin.

40. The large increase in the cotton trade is wholly due to increased exports from the Ceded districts in consequence of a favorable harvest. They were between two and three times what they were in 1892-93, though still less than in 1890-91. On the other hand, Tuticorin received only two-thirds of its usual supplies from the Madura and Tinnevely block.

41. The traffic in pepper increased from 20,500 maunds in 1892-93 to 36,500 maunds, and the increase occurs in the exports from the Calicut port inland and from the Salem-Coimbatore-Malabar block; this block and that of Madura and Tinnevely also increased their exports of chillies.

42. There was a further advance in the trade in Indigo over that noted in 1892-93; the South Arcot-Tanjore-Trichinopoly block having nearly doubled its export of Indigo to the Madras port. The quantity received from Kistna was also 20 per cent. greater than in the previous year, but there was a decline in the quantities sent out by the other important blocks producing this article, viz.:—Ceded districts Nellore, Chingleput and North Arcot. The Ceded districts nearly doubled their exports of turmeric and the total traffic in this article was two-thirds more than in 1892-93.

43. There was a large increase in the quantities of Indian twist and yarn sent to the Tuticorin and the Negapatam ports and a similar increase in those of European twist and yarn sent inland for consumption, especially through the Tuticorin and Calicut ports; but the traffic in European piece goods chiefly sent inland from Madras and Tuticorin slightly declined.

44. The Salem-Coimbatore-Malabar block nearly doubled its exports of castor-oil, while the internal blocks, except the Ceded districts, generally increased their consumption of kerosine-oil.

45. There was an increase of over 22,000 maunds in the traffic in unmanufactured tobacco chiefly due to increased exports from Kistna and Gódvári to the Ceded districts, but this was more than counterbalanced by diminished exports of cigars and other manufactured products to the sea-ports.

46. There was a large decrease in the exports to the Ceded districts of wooden sleepers and other materials for the construction of railways from South Arcot, Tanjore and Trichinopoly and from Madras; on the other hand the supplies of materials from this port to Chingleput and North Arcot were nearly doubled.

47. The next table shows the distribution of the total trade between the different blocks and the fluctuations as affecting each. Most of the latter have been fully explained above:—

48. The usual statements are appended, and in Appendix II a review of the road traffic registered during the year.

49. The subjoined table exhibits the chief variations in the table of value rates appended as compared with the rates adopted last year. The rates adopted in 1892-93 and previous years were the averages of the prices reported quarterly from all the railway districts. Last year, however, it was decided, under instructions issued by the STATEMENT showing the trade in the principal articles that are of Provincial importance both by rail and coastwise to and from the sea-ports.

[illegible]

In the case of the following articles the prices given in the appended table are not the averages of the prices given in the several quarterly returns. This is due to the circumstance that the rates in the table appended to the return for the first quarter of 1893-94 were calculated on the old system, while in computing the annual averages rates calculated according to the new method were adopted for all the quarters :—

APPENDIX II.

Road Traffic.—The scheme for the registration of inter-provincial and of internal traffic at selected stations sanctioned in G.O., No. 754, dated 1st November 1888, contemplated registration being carried on in particular tracts each year, the work being completed in the course of five years. The registration of the traffic at all the stations sanctioned in 1888 was completed by the close of 1892-93 and the results have already been published. In 1890, the Government of India issued a circular regarding the registration of road and river traffic which required that traffic on each road or river should be registered for a number of years representative of the average capacities of the tracts concerned and not for a season or two which might happen to be exceptional. A period of three years was considered a sufficiently long one for the purpose indicated, but as the scheme sanctioned in 1888 had not then been fully carried out, it was considered advisable to continue the existing arrangements till the end of 1892-93, when a fairly complete registration of traffic, both internal and inter-provincial, would have been secured and it would be possible to decide which of the roads dealt with were really important and to arrange for the registration of traffic on them for a further period as suggested by the Government of India, by a trained permanent establishment. The subjoined table shows the roads and stations selected for the registering of traffic during the year under review:—

2. The statements appended give the detailed particulars of the traffic registered, while in the subjoined tables the principal results are abstracted.

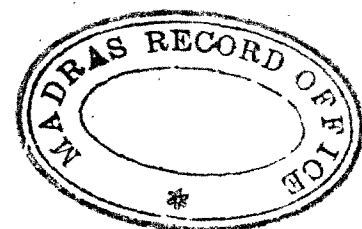

3. In Nellore, the traffic northwards and southwards on the great trunk road from Madras to Guntur was registered at three stations, namely, Nayadupet, Kaval and Ongole. At Nayadupet, the cross traffic with Kalahasti and Venkatagiri zamindaris was also registered, while at the other two stations the cross traffic east and west was recorded in addition to the traffic on the trunk road. The subjoined table exhibits the total long distance traffic registered at the three stations and the principal articles carried on them:—

5. The next statement gives the traffic registered at four stations in Coimbatore and Madura and shows roughly the traffic from Madura and Trichinopoly to Coimbatore and Malabar. The statement also shows the traffic between Malabar and Coimbatore registered at Pollachi and that from Ramnad to Sivaganga and Madura registered at Manamadura. There appears to be a brisk trade on the road leading from Pollachi eastwards to Madura and Trichinopoly and on the road from Madura to Ramnad.

Note.—All traffic between Bezwada and Cocanada appears twice in the statement, once in columns 2 and 3 and once in column 4; see also the following foot-note:—

- (1) The figures in columns 2 and 3 include all the traffic that passes between Cocanada and Bezwada as well as that between Cocanada and other places. The figures in column 4 include all the traffic that passes between Cocanada and Bezwada as well as between Ellore and other places west of the Godavari river. It is impossible to separate the through traffic between Bezwada and Cocanada from the other traffic on the canals dealt with.
- (2) No entries are made in this statement for the Kistna canal from Bezwada to Ellore, as all traffic between Bezwada and Cocanada by that canal necessarily passes over the Godavari canals here given in columns 2, 3 and 4.
- (3) "Up" on the Cocanada, Samalkot and Ellore canals means towards the Godavari river; on the Masulipatam canal towards the Kistna (Bezwada).
