MADRAS PROVINCE

A Short Summary

The Madras Presidency is the Southernmost of the Indian Provinces. The Coast Line extends from Orissa in Bengal to Cape Comorin. On the West are the Indian States of Travancore and Cochin. After , MadrasPresidency again extends the Bombay Presidency at the thern extremity of the South nara District. In the centre of the ninsula are the Nagpur Country ıd Berar, the territories of the izam, generally known as the ecean, and the Province of Mysore; ut all the country south and east f Mysore belongs to the Madras Presidency.

The Presidency occupies an area of 142,260 square miles; excluding the area occupied by five Indian States of Sandur, Banganapalle, Pudukottah, Cochin and Travancore.

The Presidency has a Coast Line of about 1700 miles, and there is a large area of country but little elevated above the sea level. Mountain ranges run northward from Cape Comorin along the Western Coast, attaining an elevation in some parts of from 4000 to nearly 9000 feet. Ranges of hills follow also the general line of the East Coast. The Anaimudi Mountain in the Annamalai Range is the highest in Southern India, its summit being 8337 feet above the sea level. The drainage of the Peninsula is for the most part from West to East into the Bay of Bengal. The Country slopes from the Eastern base of the Western Mountain chain down to the Coromandel Coast, while the fall is sudden nd precipitous on the western side f the mountains. The centre of the Peninsula consists of undulating tablelands from 1000 to 3000 feet above the level of the sea.

Where the mountain range is of great height, as between Malabar and Coimbatore, the rain clouds are almost entirely diverted from the districts immediately below the mountains on the eastern side, and while the annual rainfall on the western side may be 150 inches, not more than 20 inches will be registered on the eastern side immediately within the influence of the mountain ranges. Where the mountain chain is of lower elevation, the rain clouds pass over the hills, and rain is precipitated in uncertain and varying amount over the peninsula to the east of the Western Ghauts, but except in the northern districts where the rainy season approximates to that of Bengal, the heaviest rainfall of the Southern portion of the eastern division of the peninsula occurs during the period of the north-west monsoon. During the continuance of the monsoon, the western ranges of the mountains have a similar effect in arresting the rainclouds so that at the season of the year, when the Carnatic is deluged by heavy rain, that Western Coast Districts enjoy clear weather.

To the physical barrier of the Western Ghauts must be attributed, not only the vast difference of climate but also those in the nature of the productions in the eastern and western divisions of the peninsula In the former the uncertain and capricious character of the rainfall has taught the cultivators of the soil the necessity of making provision for the storage of water for irrigation purposes, and the existence of innumerable tanks or reservoirs scattered all over the country, testify to the fact that from periods of remotest antiquity, the inhabitants of the tracts of country, which receive an irregular rainfall have exercised great ingenuity and readiness of resource in the construction of public works for the artificial irrigation of the soil On the western side, the periodical rains fall with great regularity, although in certain exceptional years there may be partial failures of crops, absolute famine as a result of bad seasons. Only three districts in the Madras Presidency lie within the influence of the never failing rains of the South-west monsoon.

The chief staples of Madras Presidency are rice, cholum, cumboo, ragi and varagu amongst food grains; gingelly amongst oil-seeds; and chillies, tobacco, sugarcane, plantains and betel-leaf amongst garden crops. Cotton is cultivated to an extent almost equalling that of ragi. The trees most grown for their fruits are: Cocoanuts, arecanuts, jack, tamarind and mango Rice is produced in largest quantities in the alluvial and highly-irrigated districts of Tanjore, East and West Godavari, Kistna and Guntur, Malabar and Kanara where the rainfall is abundant cholum is plenty in Bellary and Kurnool while cumboo and ragi are extensively grown in the Districts of Salem and Coimbatore. Cocoanut trees are grown in the Districts of Malabar and Kanara and arecanut palms in the lower slope of the Western Ghauts.

The Madras Presidency consists of five linguistic boundaries. Telugu language is spoken by the people of the Northern Circars, and in a portion of the Nizam's country, Kurnool, Cuddapah, part of North Arcot, Nellore and some part of Bellary. Tamil is the languages of the Districts from a few miles, north of Madras to the extreme south of the eastern division of the peninsula. Malayalam is the language of Travancore, Cochin and the Malabar Districts. Tulu is spoken in a limited portion of the South Canara District, and Canarese in certain portions of the Bellary Coimbatore, Salem and South Kanara Districts. Besides these five Dravidian languages the hill tribes of certain districts have dialects of their own. People from the Maharatta have settled in the South and in all the large towns there are colonies of silk weavers from Gujaret who still speak a language of their own. There is no instance of the Tamil people pushing their colonies up towards the north. The migrations appear to have been always from north to South. In the large military cantonments of Secunderabad and Bangalore, there are Tamil speaking populations.

The earliest inhabitants of Southern India were the pre-historic builders of the cairns, barrows and kistvens and dolmens found in many districts; the makers of the rude stone weapons discovered in considerable quantities on the tops of the hills of the Deccan, and the authors of the more finished utensils and implements now in course of excavation at the burial ground discovered in Adichanallur and other places in Tinnevelly. The earliest historical evidence is that furnished by the edicts of the Buddhist Emperor Asoka which have been discovered at Jaugada in Ganjam and in a village in Mysore close to the border of Bellary. These perhaps go to show that about 250 B.C. at least the northern half of the Presidency formed part of the Mauryan dominions. The south of it was divided between the Pandyas of Madura, who governed the extreme south, the Cholas who hold the country north and east of them, and the Cheras (Keralas), who ruled the West Coast.

Customs revenue being separately provided for; in the year 1870, the Chingleput district was again divided as before, leaving the administration of the Madras Town in the hands of the Sea Customs Collector. The Chingleput district was obtained from the Nawab of Arcot in 1763 in return for services rendered to him and his father by the Company. The grant was confirmed by the Great Moghul in 1765, and for a long time, the district was known as the "Jagire" of the East India Company, The site of the town of Madras was obtained in the year 1640 by a grant from the descendants of Vijianagar rulers subsequently confirmed by the Moghul Government.

The districts of Bellary and Cuddaph were ceded to the English by the Nizam in 1800 for the maintenance in perpetuity of a body of troops known as the Hyderabad subsidiary force and as payment for troops furnished during the Mysore Wars. The territories so made over are still known as the Ceded Districts.

In 1800 the rights of sovereignty exercised by the Nizam over the Kurnool country as Subadhar of the Deccan become vested in East India Company. The Nizam, in the treaty of partition, gave over to the British all his possessions south of Tungabhadra and Kistna rivers below their junction. At this the rulers of the Kurnool co paid an yearly tribute of on of rupees to the Nizam. In the Karnool District throu rebellion of them the rule country, was placed under Administration.

The districts of Salem and batore came into British poss the former in 1792 by the tre Seringapatam, and the latter after the final defeat of Tipp the partition of his territory be the British, the Nizam and the timate successor to the M Government—the Maharajah Mysore.

The Nilgiri Hills, formerly a Ta of the Coimbatore District, constituted a separate District un Act I of 1868.

The two districts of Mal and Kanara, on the Western s eserv Ghauts fell into the possess istres British in 1792 and 1799 res e o Kanara was in 1850 div ard t North and South Kanara nistrative purposes, and al North Kanara was tran tion convenience of administra to pro the Madras to the Bom able co dency. of the five Native States still in subordination to the Madras Government.

The territories thus rapidly acquired at the end of the 18th and the beginning of the 19th century were in most cases reduced to order with little trouble. The poligars in the Ceded Districts had to be supprezsed by an armed force and the turbulance of those in the extreme south necessitated more than one regular campaign. In the Northern Circars, the Hill Chiefs gave trouble as late as 1858. The last occasion on which the employment of regular troops was necessary was the rebellion in the Rampa Hill tracts of the Godavari Agency in 1879.

The chief remains of the historic times consist (beside coins) of incriptions, temples and forts. During the last thirty years, much has been done to survey, describe and preserve these links with the past. In 1882 the first list of antiquities in the Presidency was published and about the same time, archaeological survey in charge of a specialist was set on foot, while a few years later, a Government Epigraphist was appointed. These two officers make annual reports of the results of their works and also publish the more important of their discoveries in the Imperial series of Reports of the Archaeological Survey of india and in South Indian Inscriptions, the Epigraphia Indica and elsewhere. Madras Museum contains the well-known collection made in the Nilgiris by Mr. Breeks.

The Madras Presidency, according to existing boundary divisions, is made up of 26 districts, namely Northern, Vizagapatam, East Godavari, West Godavari, Kistna and Guntur; East Central, including Nellore, Madras, Chingleput, Chittoor, North Arcot and South Arcot; Ceded Districts including Kurnool, Bellary, Cuddappah and Anantapur; West Cen... Salem, Coimbatore and the Nilgiris; Southern including Tanjore, Trichinopoly, Madura, Ramnad and Tinnevelly; West Coast including South Kanara and Malabar.

The first six districts are known as the "Northern Circars". Prior to 1859 and 1860, these Circars consisted of five districts, but in that year the three districts of Rajamundry, Masulipatam and Guntur were divided to form the Godavari and Kistna districts, with effect from 1st October, 1904, the latter have been again spilt up into three distaicts known as: Godavari, Kistna and Guntur. The Northern districts were formerly under the Nizam's Government, and in that time, the divisions were as follows: Guntur, Condapally, Ellore, Rajumundry and Chicacole. They came finally into British possession in the year 1823 by payment to the Nizam's Government of Rs. 11,66,666 in lieu of an aunual tribute. When these districts fell into the hands of the East India Company, they consisted chiefly of large estates held by renters or zemindars of lands called "Havelly" which were the old "demesnes" or private estates of former rulers and of tracts near the principal towns which had been resumed by the Mohammedan Governors of the districts, and appropriated for the support of their humerous bands of soldiers and public establishments. For some years prior to 1855-56. these Northern Circars were under the charge of a separate Commissioner, but each district had then also its own revenue and Judicial establishments. th the other French possessions it was restored by the peace of Paris in 1763 that the power of the French in Southern India was never again formidable and it was thus in the Madras Presidency that question was decided which of the European nations should be supreme in India.

We have now reached the middle of the 18th century, when the native powers were the Mussalmans under the Nizam of the Deccan and the Nawab of the Carnatic, Mysore under Hyder Ali and the Mahrattas. The only European Force was that of the English, and between these four were the struggle for possession of the peninsula. The Nizam and the Mahrattas invited the English to assist them in clipping the wings of Haidar who was encroaching upon their territories. Haidar however bought off both Mussalmans and Mahrattas, and then made a decent upon the English possessions in the Carnatic. Warren Hastings, then Governor General of Bengal despatched Sir Eyre Coote to Madras with reinforcements; six years later, war once more ensued with Mysore, Tippu having provoked hostilities by raiding the native state of Travancore, which was in alliance with the British Lord Cornwallis, the Governor-General, commanded forces in the field in person, and this time the British were assisted by the Nizam and the Marattas. After two years' fighting Seringapatam, the Mysore capital, was beseiged; and thereupon Tippu, in 1792, agreed to cede to the Allies, one half of his territories and to pay an indemnity of three crores and fifty lakhs of rupees; The British share of the territory thus ceded uded the country round Dindigul the Districts of Salem and ar. Lard Mornington, the new or-General, realised the dan- British supremacy in India e South to deal with the The Nizam and the s again joined the British. r a terrible resistance in the field retired to Seringapatam. The fortress was stormed on May 4th, 1799, and Tippu's body was found among the slain. A representative of Hindu dynasty, whose rights had been usurped by Haidar in 1761, was placed upon the throne of Mysore proper and the rest of Tippu's territories were divided between the allies. The share of the British included Kanara, Coimbatore and Wynaad.

In the same year 1799, the Mahratta Rajah of the principality at Tanjore, in return for and received in gaining the throne, executed a treaty resigning the administration of his kingdom to the Company in consideration of an annual payment. In 1800, the Nizam ceded to the Company, in return for a subsidiary force to be established in his dominions, all the territories he had acquired from Mysore at the partitions of 1792 and 1799. These tracts included the present Districts of Bellary, Anantapur, Cuddapah and part of Kurnool, which are still known as the "Ceded Districts". When Seringapatam fell in 1799, a reasonable correspondence had been discovered between Tippu and the Nawab of Carnatic, who was nominally the ally of the Company. In consequence, after many negotiations a treaty was concluded with the Nawab in 1801, under which he resigned the Government of his country to the Company, but retained the titular dignity and received a considerable stipend. The existing representative of the family bears the title of Prince of Arcot and has the position of the first native nobleman of Madras.

The Company had thus obtained possession of the whole of the Madras Presidency from Cape Comorin to the Northern Circars, except part of the Kurnool District, the Danish Station of Tranquebar, the existing French settlements at Pondicherry and other places and the territories ere the first settlement here of the sixteenth occupied Calicut West Coast. Vasad visited that part as 98. For a century they ; but they were feebly subt home after the union of l with Spain and eventually the progress of the Dutch.

From the beginning of the seventeeth century the Dutch, who had long been powerful in the Eastern Archipelago, settled at Pulicat, Sadras and other places along the East and West Coasts. They ousted the Portuguese, but because of the remoteness of their headquarters at Batavia, they soon dropped out of the race. Another European Nation came on to India; and in 1764, Francis Martin founded and fortified the town of Pondicherry which has since been the French Head quarters in the Peninsula. In 1742 the famous Dupleix succeeded to the Governorship of the place, and rendered it the one European settlement in the South.

The earliest settlements of the English within the Presidency were at Vizagpatam and Masulipatam at which place Capt. Hippon of the ship Globe landed in 1611 and founded factories. Five years later settlements were planted on the West Coast at Cranganur and Calicut by the permission of the Zamorin. In 1619 another settlement was effected at Pulicat, but the jealousies of the Dutch compelled its abandonment. In 1865 two years after the massacre of the English by the Dutch at Amboyna, the Company's Agent at Bantam in Java despatched a vessel to Armagon in the present Nellore District and set up a small trading establishment there.

In 1639, Francis Day, the chief Official of Armagon, sought for and obtained through a subordinate of the last representative of the Vijayanagar dynasty, who was then living at Chandragiri in North Arcot, the grant of the land on which Fort St. George now stands. A small Fort was at once erected, and two years later, the place became the Company's headquarters on the Coromandel Coast. In 1653, Fort St. George was raised to the rank of a Presidency, independent of Bantam and in 1658 the factories in Bengal were placed under its orders. In 1690 the Company purchased from the Marathas the land on which Fort St. David, near Cuddalore, now stands. And at the end of the century, there were also English Factories within the present limits of the Madras Presidency at Porto Novo, Madapollam, Vizagapattam, Anjengo, Tellicherry and Calicut. In 1741, the War of the Austrian Succession lit the first flame of a conflict between them and the French which lasted until the capture of Pondicherry in 1761, followed by the Peace of Paris in 1763.

In 1757, news reached India that War again had broken out in Europe between England and France and the forces of the two nations in the South were once more at each other's throats. The advantage at first lay with the French. They captured the English Forts of Vizagapatam, Fort St. David & Devicottai, and in 1758, they besieged Madras. Col. Ford who had been despatched by Clive from Bengal to the Northern Circars had signally defeated them at Condore and captured Masulipatam. Farther South the struggle culminated in the battle of Wandivas which Eyre Coote utterly defe the French under Lally. G Arcot and other minor French ments fell in quick successic in May 1760, the English w position to attack Pondiche Pondicherry surrendered in

In the north, Mauryans were succeeded by the Andhras. They were Buddhists, and by them were erected the splendid marble Stupa at Amaravati and the other Budhist buildings of which ruins occur in Kistna and Guntur Districts. Their curios are still found in some of those parts. About the 5th Century after Christ the Chalukyas, who were immigrants from more northern parts, began to grow in impertance in Western Deccan. In the seventh century they divided into two branches, a Western and an Eastern.

The latter conquered the Pullava kings of the Vengi country, the tract between the Kistna and Godavari rivers and south of Kalinga—and settled in that locality. Alongside it, in the south-west of the Deccan and the north of Mysore, the Kadambas, whose capital was at Bhavanas in North Kanara, now rose to power. They defeated the Pallavas of Conjeevaram and continuously harrassed the western Chalukyas.

At the end of this period the Western Chalukyas rose to prominence and maintained their position until A. D. 1189, when they were finally overthrown by two of their own feudatories, the Yadavas of Deogiri and the Hoysalas of Dorasamudra, the modern Helebid in Mysore. Meanwhile, in the South and the East, the Cholas of Tanjore were extending their boundaries. By 999 they acquired the whole of the Coast possessions of the Eastern Chalukyas. These events form the first great landmarks in the history of Southern India.

t the end of the thirteenth ury, three dynasties of South- ndia were the Hoysalas, the and the Pandyas. At the ng of the 14th century, the ans of Delhi appeared sud- n 1363, the ruling King of dynasty of Delhi sent his dition into the Deccan and sever his genera torrent dow Yadavas, Hoy las and Pandya suppressed. Th Governors, repre said ruling families struggling for supere of the confusion rose t of Vijayanagar, which fro tal at Humpi in the Bellary for the next two centurie half checked the southward sion of Mohammedan power.

The Hindu chieftains admitte its sovereignty more willingly, and from chiefs, its rulers quickly grew into kings and from kings into Emperors. Within a century and a half from the foundation of the capital at Vijayanagar they governed the whole of the peninsula from the Kistna to Cape Comorin. The Empire reached the height of its power under Kistna Deva (1509-1530).

In 1686 Aurangazeb the Moghul Emperor of Delhi, marched South to reduce Bijapur and Golconda. He took Bijapur in that year and Golconda in the next and the territroies which had been won by these two kingdoms from the Hindu, thus became a portion of the Moghul Empire.

In 1724, Asaf Jah, the Viceroy whom the Moghul Emperor had appointed to govern his conquests in the South and who bore the title of Nizam-ul-mulk threw off all real allegiance to his suzerain and made himself virtually independent. He and his successors are known in history as Nizams or Subhadars of the Deccan and their chief subordinate in the South was the Nawab of the Carnatic, otherwise called the Nawab of Arcot.

Meanwhile, the Hindu Kingdom of Mysore had become more powerful owing largely to the exploits of a soldier of fortune in its army

PREFACE

WE have great Pleasure in presenting to the public the third issue of THE MADRAS DIRECTORY & WHO'S WHO. The public will find that we have made this edition more comprehensive and informative and covers the entire Madras Province including the neighbouring States. We have also added a Classified List of Trades and Professions, Colombo, Ceylon, which along with others we are confident will be of immense use to the reading public.

WE cannot forget to apologise to our subscribers and advertisers for the delay in releasing this edition. This is due to the fact that the Directory has been in the Press for prolonged months. We take this opportunity to thank our valuable advertisers and the reading public who, as in the past years, have given us all possible encourage ment. We appeal to our friends to continue their patronage to the publication in future also as in the past. Our thanks are due to a few of the Government Departments for their co-operation. We will be failing in our duty if we do not thank our printers, Messrs. Commercial Printing & Publishing House, Madras, for the Co-operation extended to us.

IT is possible that some discrepancies might have crept in certain Sections; and if such is the case, we can assure our readers that the same was not due to want of any vigilance on our part, but to the rapid changes during the months the Directory was in the Press.

IN conclusion, we would deem it an act of appreciation on the part of our readers, if they would communicate to us any valuable suggestions they can offer, or honest criticisms they can make which would result in the improvement of the Directory.

N.B.—The grain troy is the same as the grain avoirdupois.

Troy is the weight used by goldsmiths and jewellers. The grains Troy, Apothecaries' and Avoirdupois are equal, and the same in England, France, the United States, Holland and in most other countries: but the carat varies; in France it is 3·18 grains, in Holland 3·0 gr., and in the U. S. 3·2 gr. In the U, K., the jewellery ounce is divided into 151½ carats or 600 pearl grains.

The oz. Troy and Apothecaries'= 1·09714 oz. Avoirdupois; but the lb. Troy and lb. Apothecaries' only 4·88286 lb, avoirdupois; while 175 lb. Troy and Apothecaries'=144 lb. avoirdupois.

For gold and silver the ounce, divided decimally and not into grains, ts the sole unit or weight. The Troy ounce is the same as the Apothecaries' ounce—480 Avoirdupois grains in weight. There is no Troy pound.

Apothecaries' Weight.

Drachm	ʒ	3 Scrupples...	60	,,

The avoirdupois oz. of 437½ grains, and the lb. of 7,000 grains, are the weights named in the British Pharmacopœia: drugs are purchased by avoirdupois, but compounded by Apothecaries weight. The Apothecaries oz. and lb. may now be considered obsolete.

The Apothecaries' grain is the Avoirdupois grain and the Apothecaries' ounce is the Troy ounce of 480 grains. The Apothecaries drachm is not the same of the Avoirdupois dram and is spelt differently, A fluid ounce of distilled water at a temperature of 62° Fahrenheit is equal in weight to the Avoirdupois ounce. A fluid drachm is equal in weight two Avoidnpois drams.

Electrical Measures.

Electrical measurements are expressed in terms of the centimetre, the gramme, and the second (C.G.S. units) and the value of the units has been fixed by international agreement. The principal units are as follows—

Unit of resistance, the international Ohm which is based upon the ohm equal to 169 units of resistance of the C.G.S. system of electro-magnetic units and represented by the resistance offered to an unvarying electric current by a column of mercury at the temperature of melting ice, 14·4521 grammes in mass, of a constant cross sectionel area, and of a length of 106·3 centimetres.

Unit of current, the international Ampere, which is one-tenth of the unit of current of the C. G. S, system of electro-magnetic units and which is represented sufficiently well for practical use by the unvarying current which when passed through a solution of nitrate of silver in water in accordanee with a certain specification, deposits silver at the rate of 0·001118 of a gramme per second.

Unit of electro motive force, the international Volt which is the E.M.F. that, steadily aupplied to a conductor whose resistance is one international ohm, will produce a current of one international ampere, and which is represented sufficiently well for practical use by 1000/1434 of the E. M. F. between the poles of clectrodes of the voltaic cell known as Clark's cell at a temperature of 15° C, and prepared in the manner described in a certain specification.

Unit of quantity, the international Coulomb, which is the quantity of electricty transferred by a current of one inrernational ampere in one second.

Unit of capacity, the international Farad which is the capacity of a conductor charged to a potential of one international coulomb. The unit generally used in practice is one millionth part of this, or the microgard.

Unit of work, the Joule, which is 107 units of work in the C. G. S. system, and which is represented sufficiently well for practical use by the energy expended in one second by an international ampere in an internatlonal ohm. In practice the watt-hour is usually employed. It represents the work done by such a current in an hour, and equals 3,600 joules.

Unit of power, the Watt, which is 107 units of power in the C. G. S. system, and which is represented sufficiently well for practical use by the work done at the rate of one joule per second. 746 watts—1 horse-power and the value of a Board of Trade unit (B.O.T.U.) is 1,000 watt hours or 3,600,000 joules or 1⅓ horse power hours.

Unit of induction, the Henry, which is the induction in the circuit when the E.M.F. induced in the circuit is one international volt while the inducing current varies at the rate of one international ampere per second.

For practical and commercial purposes, the chief units are the—

VOLT—Electromotive force = about 22·6% of that given by one Daniall's battery cell.

OHM—Resistance = the resistance offered to the passage of a current of electricity by a thread of mercury 105 cm. long, and 1 mm. cross section at the temperature of melting ice.

AMPERE.—Current = the current 1 volt will drive through 1 ohm.

COULOMB.—Quantity = 1 ampere flowing in 1 second of time.

MICROFARAD—Capacity = ·000001 coulomb at 1 volt pressure.

WATT.—Power = 44 ft. lb per minute.

Board of Trade Unit = 1,000 watts 1 hour, 746 watts = 1 horse-power.

In incandescent lamps of 16 candle. power, (nominal) about four watts are required, per candle power to give good economical results for domestic purposes.

One Board of Trade unit wil keep a 16 candle incandescent lamp a light for about 16 hours.

METRIC WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

The Metric System is based upon the (assumed) length of the direct distance from the Equator to the North Pole. The ten millionth part of this distance, as calcutated in 1795, was adopted by the French Government as the unit of length and called a metre. All other measurements are derived from this unit; the cube of the tenth part of the metre is the unit of capacity, called a litre, and the weight of a little of water, at a certain temperature is the unit of weight, called a kilogramme. The unit of land measurement is 100,000 sq. metres, called a hectare. The above terms are now used in this country under the English names of meter, litre, kilogramme and hectare.

The Metric System is used in Belgium, France, Germany. Italy, Portugal, Spain, Sweden and Norway, and some other countries, the unit of which is the Gramme=15·432 grains; the chief multiple of the Gramme is the Kilogramme= 2·2046 lb.: in practical use this is found inconvenient for small purchases, and nearly all commodities are sold by the demi or half kilo. The Centner of 50 kilos=110¼ lb., very nearly represents the English cwt; but heavy goods are sold by the Tonneau of 2204·621 lb.; about 19 cwt. 77 lb., the Myriagramme being ignored.

In the United States and in Canada the cwt. is generally reckoned as 100 lb., and the ton of 20 cwt.=2,000 lbs. (one Short Ton).

In Russia the Pood of 36 lb. is the commercial weight; 622 Poods=1 English ton.

BRITISH WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

The Unit of the British Indian Ponderary System is called the Tola. It weighs 180 grains English troy Weight, as does the Rupee. From it upwards are derived the heavy weights, viz., Chattack, Seer and Maund; and by its sub-division, the small or jewellers' weights called Mashas Ruttees and Dhans.

SIZES OF TYPE.

All Founders cast their type to one uniform height ("type high") which is 11/12 inch. Individual letters vary in breadth but the "body" of each character is of uniform depth throughout the alphabet in each fount. The unit of breadth is the Pica M (Em)' of which, side by side, occupy one inch of space. The unit of depth is the Point (72 Points—1 inch) so that 6 lines of 12 Point occupy 1 inch in depth. The names and sizes of the various founts are:—

(17) For the registration of Powers-of-Attorney ...	4	8

(b) The consideration expressed in a document shall generally be taken to be its value for determining the registration fee. Where no consideration is expressed, the value of the property dealt with as shown in the document shall be taken.

(c) The provisions of Sections 5, 6, 20, 21, 23 and 25 of the Indian Stamp Act II of 1899 shall mutatis mutandis, apply to calculations of value for the purpose of determining the registration fee.

(d) In the case of agreements to render service for hire, or to let movable property for hire, the value of the document shall not be taken at a higher amount than the hire for one year.

(e) In the cases of leases, the value shall be taken—

(1) at the total rent for the whole term when the lease is for one year or less;

(2) at the average annual rent when the lease is for periods exceeding one year; and

(3) at one-fifth of the whole amount of rents payable for the first fifty years when the lease is perpetual. When a fine or premium is paid or is made payable, or money is advanced, that amount also should be added to the value. When a lessee undertakes to pay assessment, quit-rent, etc., in addition to the rent, the said payment should also be added to the rental value. If the rent is payable in kind and its money value is not specified in the lease, its value shall be taken to be the highest amount which the stamp borne by the document shall suffice to cover. If the document is exempt from stamp duty, the money value of the produce rent shall be calculated at the current market rates.

(f) In the case of deeds of partition, the value of the separated share or shares on which stamp duty is payable shall be taken as the value or consideration.

(g) In the case of all other documents in which neither the consideration for the transaction nor the value of the property affected, is expressed, or in which it is only partially expressed, the value shall be the maximum amount which the stamp borne by the document shall suffice to cover, if the document is one which is liable to stamp duty at ad valorem rates. If the value cannot be determined from the stamp, as for instance, when the deed is not liable to stamp duty at a fixed amount irrespective of the value of the transaction, or when the transaction is not susceptible of money valuation, the fee leviable shall be Rs. 9, provided that in cases where the value of only a portion of the property or consideration is given and that value exceeds Rs. 1,500, the fee shall be levied on the value so expressed.

NOTE.—In the case of documents evidencing petty transactions incapable of valuation, the Inspector-General may, if he considers that the levy of a fee of Rs. 9 would be productive of hardship, authorize registering officers to levy a lower fee, which, however, shall not be less than 6 annas.

An Association was started in 1937 for Zamindari Ryots. This developed in two years to the Tamil Nad Zamin Ryots' Association: in view of the starting of independent Kisan organizations by the Communists from the latter half of 1943, it was considered necessary to consolidate the strength of the Association working on peaceful parliamentary democratic and trade union methods, it was decided to form one Tamil Nad Agricultural Workers' Union from August 1943 with three sections; for cultivating tenants and agricultural labour; for cultivating owners and for ryots in Zamindari areas. In January 1946 the jurisdiction of the Association was expanded to the whole province of Madras and the name changed into "South Indian Federation of Agricultural Workers' Unions"; mainly working in Kulitalai, Karur, Musiri and Musiri Taluks, the Taluks of North Vizag Dt., Coondapur Taluk in South Canara District, Chingleput Taluk in Chingleput District and Kuppam Taluk of Chittoor District. Pres: K. A SHORT NOTE ON THE UNIVERSITY

The University of Madras was founded under the Act of Incorporation XXVII of 1857. Indian University Act VIII of 1904 was passed with the intention of reorganizing the Universities in India and supervising the Colleges affiliated to the University. This Act again has been superseded by the Madras University Act VII of 1923, which was passed by the Legislative Council of Madras early in 1923, and came into force on 1st May, 1923. This act was amended in 1929.

This new Act was passed so as to reorganize the University "with a view to establish a teaching and residential University at Madras while enabling the University to continue to exercise due control over the colleges affiliated to it." The Chancellor, the Pro-Chancellor, the Vice-Chancellor, the Senate, Syndicate, and the Academic Council constitute the body corporate of the University. The visitor of the University is the Governor-General; the Chancellor is the Governor of Madras, the Pro-Chancellor is the Minister for Education: the Vice-Chancellor is a whole-time officer, to whom a salary may be paid. He holds office ordinarily for three years, and is appointed by the Chancellor from among three persons recommended by the Senate. The authorities of the University under this Act are (1) the Senate, (2) the Syndicate, (3) the Academic Council, (4) the Faculties, (5) the Boards of Studies, and (6) such other authorities as may be declared by the Statutes to the Authorities of the University.

The present Senate under the new Act consists of 210 members made up of Class II—4 Life members, Class III—other members consisting of 30 members elected by Registered Graduates, 20 members by the Academic Council, 12 members by the non-official members of the Legislative Council from among their own body, 5 members elected by the Principals of second grade colleges, 3 members by Headmasters of Secondary Schools, 4 members by the Corporation of Madras from among their own body, 36 members by the District Boards and Municipalities from among themselves, 2 members by the Madras Chamber of Commerce, 2 members elected by the Madras Landholders' Association and by Muhammadan Educational Association of Southern India; 30 members nominated by the Chancellor and 6 members representing the chief vernacular languages in the Presidency. The Senate is the supreme governing body of the University having power to review the action of the Syndicate and the Academic Council.

The Syndicate consists of the Vice-Chancellor and the Director of Public Instruction as ex-officio members, 8 members elected by the Senate from among its members, 6 members elected by the Academic Council from among its members, and 3 members nominated by the Chancellor. The Syndicate is the chief executive authority of the University having powers to administer the property and funds of the University and to regulate and determine all matters concerning the University in accordance with the Act, Statutes and Ordinances.

The Academic Council consists of about 190 members and has power to advise the Syndicate on all Academic matters, to make regulations regarding the admission of students to the University and relating to courses of study and examinations to make proposal to the Syndicate for the institution of professorship, readerships, lectureships, etc., and to control and manage University Libraries.

The University has no direct control over high school education in the Presidency, but recognizes for University purposes the High Schools under the control of the Department of Education. Under the new Act the Intermediate Examination in Arts and Science is the admission test to the University Degree courses.

Under the new Act, colleges are either constituent or affiliated; Constituent Colleges are those which are maintained or recognized by the University in accordance with the provisions of the Act and which are situated within the "limits of the University" which means the territory within a radius of ten miles from Fort St. George. Affiliated colleges are those which are situated ouside the limits of the limits of the University and affiliated to the University as constituted prior to the commencement or the new Act or admitted to the privileges of affiliation under conditions prescribed in this behalf.

Under the new Act the Government have undertaken to contribute annually under section 14—(a) "a sum equal to the amount of contribution by the Local Government in financial year prior to the coming into force of this Act towards the recurring expenditure of the University". The Government have also under section 44—(b) sanctioned a sum equal to the salary of the Vice-Chancellor.

The University Library is located in the spacious new buildings immediately north of the Senate House.

Parents and students of the University are invited to visit the office with a view to obtaining information and guidance regarding educational programmes both in India and abroad.

A Short History of Madras City

Madras was first a fisherman settlement called Madraspatam. T miles south of it was the Portuguese trading settlement. The English m chants at Masulipatam wished to have a more suitable place and af several attempts at settlement, Francis Day landed at Madraspatam a decided to found a settlement here. In South India, the first factory es blished by the English was the one at Masulipatam, but the first fortif settlement of the English, was at Armagon. Francis Day, the Chie Armagon, went Southwards in search of a new settlement. He recei overtures from Damarla Venkatadri the Naick of Poonamallee, to establ an English settlement at Madras and it is also stated the Naick desi that town should be named after his father, Chinnappa Naick. Day sel ted a site in Madraspatam and obtained from the Naick in 1639 a grant the site and a cowle to build a fort on it. Francis Day and his chi Andrew Cogan, dismantled the Fort at Armagon and erected a fort on t site of Madraspatam and called it Fort St. George. Of this fort only t name and the site now remains.

Improvement of the defences and fortifications of Madras was taken hand in 1756 and completed in 1788. Fort St. George is connected witl long roll of distinguished Engineers. By the close of the eighteenth ce tury Fort St. George had passed through four phases of development. T first was Cogan and Day's castle; the second the quadrangular bastion enclosure of the White Town which converted the original castle int citadel; the third development of the walled town into a fortress plann as a half decogan; and the fourth the entire reconstruction of the fort a half octagon on Vauhan's system with ample outworks and a wide gla and Esplanade.

The Fort has four gates usually open to the public. The South S Gate is on the east and leads to the Beach Road. It has now been super ded by the two ornamental wrought iron gates leading to the Legislati Council, one on either side. The North Gate leads to the China Baza Road and High Court but closed to traffic. St. George's gate is open always and is the way into the Fort. The Wallajah Gate is on the we from where the Mount Road begins and is the egress out of the Fort. T main gate, St. George's Gate opens, on the north-west and leads to t General Hospital, Peddunaickpettah and Poonamallee Road.

The Mount Road, the Poonamallee Road and the Beach Road are t three main high ways in Madras. The first two are Military Roads. Th divide the city into three big areas. In 1714—15 a bridge, which does n now exist, was constructed from the north bank of the River where t Governer's Garden-House was connected to the Island. Governor Pitt h laid out north to south a "great walk on the Island." The Statue of Sir Thomas Munro is more or less in the centre of that "great walk." T road to Triplicane was from that bridge over the Island and the Gover ment House. Willingdon-Bridge was then called Triplicane Bridge. T famous Madras Garden House began to appear on the Choultry plain (open expanse which stretched south west of the Fort from Triplicane the Government House Bridge as far as Mylapore and the Long Tank). 1756 the Wallajah Bridge was constructed. It was widened and improv in 1820. The Mount Road from that time ran from the Fort. It w

THE MIRACLE MAN WITH UNRIVALLED POWER

He is the only Astrologer in India or even in the world who first predicted the Allies' Victory in the last world war on 3rd, Sept. 1939 within 4 hours the day of the declaration of war. This miraculous prophey has earned for him praise and honour from His majesty King George VI, and Viceroy of India and the Governor of Bengal, similarly the wonderful prediction made by Panditji (Vide his Telegraph No. 19 of Hatkhola P.O., dated 3rd September 1946) about the future of Interim Government headed by our Great leader Pandit Nehru have already been proved correct.

In recognition of his profound scholarship, genious and Miraculous powers Panditji was honoured with tittle of "Jyotish Shiromani by All India Padit Mahamandali in the gathering of hundred Scholars all over India at Calcutta In December 1938 and again in February 1947 whith gratest of all titles in Astrology "Jyotish Shamrat" in the presence of 250 scholars all over India at Benares in the Annual Conventions of Baranashi Pandit Sabha. No Astrologer in India has received this signal honour in the annals of India till to-day, who is also the consulting Astrologer of the Eighteen Ruling Chiefs of India.

It is well-known that the Astrological predictions of this great scholar, his wonderful methods of redressing the pernicious influence of evil stars, his power to bring success in complicated law-suits and also to cure incurable diseases are really uncommon. Many eminent personalities of the world (England, America Austra ia, Africa, C ina, Japan etc.) have given many unsolicited testimonials of the great Pandit's wonderful powers.

reformed in 1795—96. It passes over the Wallajah Bridge to the Island which still maintains its old reputation as a recreation ground. The Gymkhana grounds and Pavilion are on the east side of the road and on the other side are the Body guard lines, St. Andrew's Cemetery, St. Mary's Cemetery, and an open plain used for football by students and the soldiers of the garrison. In the centre is the statue of Sir Thomas Munro who arrived in Madras as Governor in 1820. He held office for seven years and on the eve of his retirement he was struck down by cholera near Gooty. His statue was erected by public subscription at a cost of £ 8,000. The Island is also the Brigade Parade ground. The road then takes you over the Government House Bridge to the old Choultry plain but now a most busy centre of trade. The Government House Bridge (St. George's Bridge) spans the Coum River, replaced an older structure which date the first quarter of the 18th century and was extended in 1923 to admit the passage of the tramway and has now become popular under the name of Willingdon Bridge. On the right before approaching Willingdon Bridge is a Statue of the late Mr. Justice Boddam of the Madras High Court erected in 1911. There is a statue of Lord Willingdon, Viceroy of India and ex-Governor of Madras on the eastern side on the road leading to the Gymkhana Club. On the left is the Government House. In 1681 a Garden House was Completed for the use of the Governor on the site now occupied by the General Hospital and Medical College. The House was destroyed by Labourdonnais, when he occupied Madras in 1746. In 1753 a new Garden House in Triplicane was acquired from the executors of Mr. Luis de Madeiros. The house was a large one with a frontage of 130 feet and stood in a rectangular compound laid down in the Italian style measur ng about 400 by 85 yards. The House was the nucleus of the present Government House. The Triplicane High Road ran north without deviation up to the Government House Bridge. Addition were made to the Compound and park from time to time. In 1778 the Government House was occupied by the French Count-de-Lally when besieging Madras. He pulled down its verandahs, destroyed private houses near it and burned the village of Chepauk. The house was put in order again in 1762 and was much improved between 1786 and 1789 when Sir Achibald Campbell was Governor. The second Lord Clive Carried out extensive alterations and improvements in the house between 1800 and 1802 and the banqueting Hall which stands by the side of the main House was formally opened in 1802 in Commemoration of the victories of Seringapatam and Plassy. The compound was extended to the Beach by including part of the Chepauk gardens which had lately been taken over from the Nawab of the Carnatic The present Government House has a frontage of 250 feet. The Park is 70 acres in extent. During 1920 to 1924 Her excellency Lady Willingdon effected vast improvements in adding several out-buildings for the occupation of the offices and officers attached to the Governmet House and excellent frontage was a most welcome and necessary addition due to Her excellency's keen sagacity.

The Museum contains an archaelogical section of much value Sculptured marbles from the railings of the Buddist stupa at Amaravati, a fragment of Budha's bones, a collection of arms and armour from the Fort St. George Arsenal and the Tanjore Palace, and a valuable collection of coins which some years ago suffered a loss by theft. The Connemara Public Liberary was opened in 1896 and attached to the museum. The marble statue of Lord Cornwallies, which stood in the Fort since 1800 was renovated by Mhatre and transferred to the interior of Connemara Library. The semi-circular building in the front is a theatre, designed to seat about 400 persons provided with a stage adapted for lectures, conferences and charitable entertainment by amateurs. The Victoria Technical institute owes its origin to the public demonstrations of loyalty and love to the Queen-Mother Victoria. South Indian indnstrial products and art may be seen exhibited there. It is under the control of a committee. The Government Maternity Hospital was founded in 1844 by public subscription and managed by a committee with State aid. In 1847 the Government assumed charge of it and in 1881 transferred it to its present building.

The other important buildings in the suburb are the Mansion. Doveton House, Mackay's Garden, Pycroft's Garden and Tulloch's Garden. The last two are portions of Dr. Anderson's famous Botanic Garden which covered an area of about 111 acres. His name still survives in Anderson's Bridge and Road.

At the junction of the Mount Road and the Gathedral Road you will find the Agri-Horticultural Gardens of Madras, With about 22 acres and it contains fine flower beds and tanks. An Annual Flower Show is held here in February.

Passing south along the Mount Road from the Gardens, you come to the newly developed suburb known as Tyagarayanagar with the Panagal Park in the centre. This is the quarters of the aristocratic and conservative Hindus of Madras. There are good roads and excellent specimens of big and small Buildings in attractive compounds.

From Fort St. George you will pass through the overbridge and get into the Poonamallee Road, where you first notice the medical college on the left; on the right is the Memorial Hall, erected in commemoration of the escape of Madras from the horrors of the Indian Mutiny. The Bible-Society and the Christian Literature Society have their premises there. The Mint Street has its southern end here. The squalid quarters John Pereira's has been cleared, and Railway offices have been built on the spot. Next to the Medical College is the General Hospital constructed in 1772 by John Sullivan. The hospital originated as an amalgamation of two formerly existing hospitals, the Garrison Hospital and old Naval Hospital. Facing the General Hospital and turning south to north is the Wall Tax Road. Opposite to the General Hospital is the Central Station, the principal terminus of the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway. The building was designed by R. F. Chisholm, Consulting Architect to the Government, and was built in 1873. A handsome clock-tower, rising to an altitude of 136 feet, surmounds the edifice—but the clock was removed in 1940, when the II World War started. Now re-erected. To the east of the Central Station are the offices of the M. & S. M. Railway recently built. Here the road passes over the bridge which crosses Cochrane's Cannal (formerly the north River). To the north of the road and along the western bank of this Canal is the People's Park.

It is a great relief to turn to the Ripon Buildings the office of the Corporation in white plaster. This New office of the Madras Corporation was opened by Lord Hardings in 1913. The Southern side of the road is occupied by Sir Salavai Ramaswami Mudaliar's Choultry and the Park Station of the S. I. Railway. The Madras Penitentiary is situated to the south of these and extends as far as the cut connecting the Coum and Cochrane's Canal The Penitentiary faces east and opens on a small road connecting the Poonamallee Road and the Island. Going westwards along the Poonamallee Road you get to Periamet, where, in former days, the Moors collected land Custom. The principal inhabitants are Muhammadans dealing in skin and hides. The Naval Hospital Road where the Madras Land Custom House formerly stood is north and south. Madras Medical Store which now occupies the buildings of the Carriage Factory opens into this road. At the end of this road is the Government Veterinary Hospital. The Dovetent Protestant College is very near. The portion of the City is Vepery a residential suburb. It was granted to the English in 1642 by Nawab Mahammad Syed. Vepery was the scene of an engagement between the French and the English in February 1759. The S. P. C. K. establised a printing press here. This Society began its educational work about the year 1717. Petrus Uscan of Marmalong Bridge fame had built a chapel at his own cost in Vepery, which the Company handed over to the Danish Mission to put down the influence of Catholics in Madras. On the sight of this chapel St. Matthias Church has been built. The S. P. G. maintains a School in Vepery.

The Madras School of Arts and Crafts established about the middle of the last century is on the south side of Poonamallee Road; to the west of it is the Scotch Kirk It was built by the famous Engineer De Havilland in 1821. The Church is of much architectural importance. Opposite to the Kirk and on the northern side of the road are the head. quarters of the Madras Volunteer Guards! Rundall's Road is on the west of this building. The Young Women's Christian Association is in the Poonamallee Road. The Madras Electric Tramway Company has its power station and shed on the Poonamallee Road. For the greater part of the last century Poonamallee Road was one of the favourite residential quarters of Europeans in Madras. Indians are also now moving to this ground.

The Governor's Garden house was the southern end of it on the site of which the present General Hospital has been erected. The Company's washing garden was situated in the north of this town It was also called Comerpetta from the colony of potters in the west of it near the canal. In 1774, there were 139 streets and 5,542 houses. The main Street is Mint Street, which runs through the whole length of the town. The southern portion of the street is occupied by the Beri Chettis, Linga Chetty's castemen. Marwaris and Guzarati's live in the middle portion of it which is hence known as Sowcarpet. The northern portion is occupied by various other castes. At the end of the street is the Government Printing Press in the building once occupied by the Madras Mint. The "Seven Wells" which supplied water to the garrison and the Europeans in the Fort is there. Govindappa Naick Street belongs to Komity Chetties. The trade of Madras may be said to lie in there two streets. The Godown Street and Bunder street are occupied by piece-goods merchants-mostly Muhammadans —and petty cloth mechants. The Y.M.C.A., building fronts the Esplande. It is a superb stucture built entirely of the beautiful sandlestone brought from a quarry forty miles north of Madras. The Armenian Street contains the Roman Catholics Cathedral which was erected by the Capuchins in 1775, and the Armenian Church. Many commercial firms have their offices in this street. The two Chetti streets which are now being occupied by hardware merchants, lawyers and students go up to old north wall of Black Town. The enterprising Nattukottai Chettys have their quarters in the Coral Merchant Street midway between the two streets towards the north end. This is surmised to be the site of an old pettah, Pagadalapettah or Coral town. The merchants of those days traded in corals. Between Armenian Street and Thambu Chetty Street rise the grand building of the late Agra Bank (now owned by the Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China). Facing the College on the Esplanade is the statue of Dr. William Miller, C.I.E., the popular Missionary Educationalist of Southern India.

On the Esplanade Maidan rise the grand pile of buildings of the High Court with the Madras Lighthouse erected on the central cupola; the old Lighthouse built of granite, a high column chaste in design and execution, erected in 1844; the newly built Law College, and the small Causes Courts. The High Court was completed in 1892 and is a specimen of a Hindu Saracenic style of Architecture. On the North side is the Rev. Dr. Miller's statue facing the old Christian College. The Christian College, a large missionary institution, was founded in 1837 and is now at Tambaram. Adjoining the High Court buildings is the law-College which was occupied in 1899. On the Esplanade has also been recently constructed the Central Exchange and offices of the Madras Telephone Company and the Corporation Fruit Market, nearly there has risen the pylonic structure, the Burma Shell Buildings. To the north is situated the suburb of Royapuram. A large community of Roman Catholic boatmen have long been living here. The shipping trade of the port of Madras has had to suffer not a little in the past by the opposition of this commuuity. These Christians have built a Church out of their funds. The Madras Railway had its terminus in Royapuram some years ago, During the seige of Madras by the French in 1758-59, the enemy had erected-work in Muthialpettah, one at Parry's Corner and the other south of it; and the place was practically occupied by them. In 1775, there were in Muthialpettah 16 streets and 3208 houses according to Popham's computation.

The Madras Beach is divided by the Fort St. George fortification and Military zone into two big divisions. The north beach is the busiest portion of the city. The Madras harbour and its works and the premises of Oil Companies cover even the sands. Clive's Battery was previously to the north of the harbour. Facing the sea on the Road are Parry & Co., the National Bank, the Imperial Bank of India, the General Post Office, Best & Co., Mercantile Bank buildings, the Bentinck Buildings of the Indian Bank, the Sea Custom Office, the Bidden Home and a number of Commercial firms. South of this range of big buildings come to the High Court, and the Lighthouse and the old Lighthouse column, then the Fort with the steeple of St. Mary's Church and the flagstaff; passing the Fort, you get to the old Band stand which was the favourite resort in the evenings before the South Beach Road was formed On this site there existed in Pitt's time a fishermen's hamlet. Napier Bridge, reconstructed quite recently, spans the Cooum at its mouth. Except during the rainy season a bar of sand forms itself there and closes the mouth of the river, whose current is not strong enough to force its way through the bar into the sea, To prevent the strench from the silvery Cooum becoming a nuisance during the hot season, the bar is opened artificially and the sea water is let in by the tidal action. The recently constructed Cenotaph in commemoration of Victory in the Great War (1914-18) stands on this road to the north of Iron Bridge at the place where the Beach divides itself into two Branches, one leading to the new Railway overbridge and the other to the Parry's Corner. The Marina on the South Beach is a creation of the Governor, Sir. M. E. Grant Duff. He himself described it as "one of the most beautiful promenades in tho world." It runs along the sea front to the suburb of santhome. The octogonal Marine Villa, which has been replaced by the Madras University Library and Administrative Building, is constructed.

the Senate House designed by Chisholm and Queen Victoria's statue by its side, the Chepauk Palace of the Nawab of Arcot (now used as the offices of the Board of Revenue) which was constructed, about 1768, the Public Works Offices, the Presidency College designed by R. F. Chisholm the recently built University Examination Hall; the Ice House built in 1840 to store natural ice which came from America (now the Widows Home), the Queen Mary's College, the Capper House (now part of the Queen Mary's College for Women), the old Masonic temple (now the office of Inspector General of Police) and the San Thome Cathedral are on the sea front on the South Beach Road and give to the city grandeur and architectural richness. Opposite the Presidency College, on the beach, is the old Aquarium, building which contained an interesting and representative collecton of the fish found in Madras waters, now having been shifted to the Museum.

The Senate House, offices of the Board of Revenue, the Chief Engineer's Office and the Presidency College all situate in the Chepauk Park, which is divided into two halves by the Buckingham Canal running north and south the whole length of Madras. Portions of the offices of the Board of Revenue formed the Old Chepauk Palace built by the Nawab Wallajah in 1770 and became attached to the Government on the death of the last titular, Nawab of the Carnatic in 1855. The other and western portion is occupied by the Madras Cricket Club Ground and Pavilion, the Victoria Hostel for students erected by public subscriptions and managed by a committee and the Government Hospital for Women, which was built by the Raja of Venkatagiri and public subscriptions and opened in 1890 and taken over by the Government recently.

The internal administration of the city is in the hands of the municipal Corporation, which consists of a Mayor elected by the members of the Corporation. The Mayor is assisted in his executive work by a Commissioner, an Engineer, a Health Officer, and a Revenue Officer. Its working is governed by a legislative enactment. The History of this Municipal Government is full of interest and very much resembles that of any English Municipal institution with some features of Indian Village Government. The Municipal Act was recently modified.

This short history of Madras would hardly be complete without alluding to the fact that it is the only city in India that has acctually been under bombardment during great War. On the evening of September 22nd, 1914, the German Cruiser "Emden" visited Madras and opened fire on the City. Several people were killed and injured and much damage was done to the large oil installation in the Harbour premises. A commemoration stone has been placed in the High Court wall in North Beach Road, in the spot where a large shell from one of the "Emden"s guns exploded.

BUCKINGHAM CANAL.

A navigable canal was first cut from Madras northwards to the Ennore lake as long ago as the year 1806. This was known as 'Cochrane's Canal.' The extension of this short length of 15 miles of canal was soon afterwards made to the public at lake, thus extending it to a length of 25 miles north of Madras Town. In 1837 this canal, which was the property of Mr. Cochrane, was taken over by Government. By the year 1857 the canal had been extended to Dugarazapatnam, 69 miles north of Madras. Then it was named the "East Coast Canal".

An entirely new canal has also been excavated by the year 1857 from the Adyar River in the town of Madras, southwards to Sadras a total length of 35 miles. Though north of the Cooum river in Madras, for 60 miles and south of the Adyar River in the same town for 35 miles canals existed in 1847, there was no junction between both these for a distance of about 5 miles for 20 years afterwards.

About 1877, the connecting cut the "Junction Canal" between the Cooum and Adyar Rivers in the town of Madras thus completed. It is in 1878, the present name Buckingham Canal was given to it. By 1882, the canal south of Madras had been cut through from Sadras, 40 miles from St. Mary's Bridge in Madras town, to its southern limit in the Mercanum backwater. This Canal of 66 miles, south of Madras, was known as the 'South Canal'.

The Buckingham Canal is a salt water canal, 262 miles in length, running 196 miles north and 66 miles south of Madras City along the east coast. Its southern terminus is the large Marcanum backwater in the District of South Arcot and the northern limit Pedda Ganjam in the District of Kistna, passing through South Arcot District, Chinglepet District, Madras Town, Nellore District and Kistna District. The Kistna canal has communicated with the Godavari delta. The canal throughout its length, usually runs less than half-a-mile from the sea and in a few places so close to the sea that the tide washes the east bank.

CORPORATION OF MADRAS.

History of the Corporation with a survey of legislations relating to it.

The idea of establishing the Corporation for the City of Madras seems to have been first suggested by the Court of Directors. King James II granted a Chapter and it was issued under the East India Company's Seal on the 30th December 1687. The Corporation was inaugurated on Saturday the 29th September 1688. There were 8 Aldermen presided over by the Mayor. Though the Charter authorised the levy of rates, no direct municipal tax was imposed owing to the troubles arising from the War with the Moguls and the presence of Aurangazeb in the Deccan. The President and the Council of Fort St. George were requested in the year 1689 to assign over to the Corporation the petty dues of Banksall Toll, measuring of grain and weighing of goods as was usual in all the Corporation in England. To secure better administration the original charter was renewed from time to time and the last one was granted directly by the Crown in the year 1753 to the Company.

A parlimentary Act of 1793 finally gave the Company power to levy municipal taxes in the City. A subsequent Act of 1836 of the Government of India imposed the condition that the Muncipal assessment should have the approval of the Governor-in-Council. The Act of 1841 which modified the Acts of 1792 and 1836 gave a greater latitude of action and something of the reality of the local Self Government. The 1856 Act was passed for levy of tax on carriages, animals, etc. within the limits of town and for the proper conservancy and improvement of the City. The Act of 1865 gave larger taxation powers to the Corporation. It was the Act IX of 1867 that first divided the City into 8 wards each represented by 4 Commissioners who were appointed by the Government from among the residents of the divisions. The Act V of 1871 and Act V of 1878 enabled election of representatives of the people as Commissioners in addition to Commissioners appointed by Gov. ernment. The Scheme of protected water supply was begun in 1866 and finished in 1872. The water supply to the City is drawn from the Red Hills Lake since then. The Municipal Law of the City was again revised in 1884-89. The supplementary Act of 1892 created the post of a Revenue Officer, a Health Officer and an Engineer.

The Madras Act III of 1904 raised the number of Commissioners 32 to 36 and allowed the Madras Chamber of Commerce and other bodies to elect 8 Commissioners. It provided the formation of a standing Committee and converted the Water-tax into a Water and Drainage tax. The Act IV of 1919 brought many radical changes in the administration of the Corporation. It divided the City into 30 divisions, raised the number of Commissioner now designated as Councillors, from 36 to 50, and increased the number of elected Councillors from 20 to 30, one Councillor being elected from each division. It also raised the number of Standing Committees from one to four and created a new post styled the " Commissioner ". The Amendment Act of 1933 changed the designation of the " President " to that of the "Mayor". By the Madras City Municipal Act of 1936 the City was divided into 40 divisions and the number of Councilors was raised from 40 to 50. The election of 5 Aldermen of whom one should be a woman was then provided for the fist time. Provision for the appointment of Special Councillors, not exceeding three at a time, by the Provincial Government was also made. This Act increased the number of standing Committee from 4 to 6 and also made provision for the formation of a Committee for dealing with Taxation Appeals. The Amended Act also provided for the appointment by the Council of a Water Works Engineer, an Elecirical Engineer and an Educational Officer as Heads of Departments to work along with the other statutory heads of Departments under the control of the Commissioner.

Administration.

The Muncipal authorities charged with the admministration of the provisions of the Madras City Munipal Act are :

1. The Council,
2. The Standing Committees, and 3, The Commissioner.

The Council consists of 65 elected Councillors as per the details given below : 45 Councillors are elected to the divisions of whom 40 shall be elected to the general seats, 3 to seats specially reserved for the members of the Scheduled castes and 2 to seats specially reserved for labour ; 3 Councillors elected by the Madras Chamber of Commerce ; 3 Councillors elected by the Madras Trade Association ; one each by the South India Chamber of commerce, the Andhra Chamber of Commerce, the Natukottai Nagarathars' Association, the Southern India Skins and Hides Merchants' Association, the Madras Port Trust, the University of Madras, the Anglo-Indian Association, the Sonth Indidan Railway and the M & S. M. Railways and 5 Aldermen of whom one should be a woman.

In addition to the above, the Government may appoint Special Councilors having special knowledge of experience of any subject relating to Municipal administration not exceeding three in number.

All Councillors hold office for a period of three years ordinarily. Under the procedure prescribed in Section 411 (c) of the Act 15 of the 45 divisional Councillors should vacate their seats every year.

Under Section 25 of the Madras City Municlpal Act, the Municipal Administration of the City vests with the Council but it is not entitled to exercise the functions expressly assigned to a Standing Committee or to the Commissioner. At its first meeting in November every year, the Council elects one of its members as the Mayor and one another as Deputy Mayor. There are six Standing Committees dealing respectively with (1) Taxation and finance, (2) Works (3) Health (4) Education (5) Accounts (6) Town Planning and Improvements The Chairman of all these six Standing Committees are elected in November every year immediately after the Mayoral election.

General Transaction of Business.

The Commissioner, appointed by the Government, holds office for a renewable period of three years. The executive powers to carry out this provisions of the Madras City Municipal Act vest in exercises supervision and control over their acts and proceedings. He has the right to attend the meetings of the Council and the Standing Committees, and take part in the proceedings but not to vote. He is assisted in his daily work by a Deputy Commissioner, a post newly created by the Government. The principal officers of the Corporattion are the Revenue Officer the Health Officer, the Engineer, the Water Works Engineer, the Electrical Engineer, the Special Engineer, the Educational Officer and the Chief Accounts Officer. Besides there is a Mechanical Engineer who is in charge of the Drainage Pumping Stations and a Lady Superintendent who is incharge of the Child Welfare and Maternity Centres. Each of these Officers is the Head of a particular department and is assisted by a staff consisting of Assistant Officers and other ministerial officers in the performance of their respective duties. The General Department which form the important link between the Commissioner and other executive heads of departments is directly under the control of the Deputy Commissioner.

Drainage.

The City of Madras presents very difficult problem in drainage, as it is particularly flat with no slopes whatever This has necessitated a Pumping scheme as opposed to gravitation scheme. Large quantities of sub-soil water are encountered within a feet below ground surface at all times of the year. These natural difficulties make it possible to lay sewers below a certain depth except at prohibitive cost and necessitate the erection of a number of pumping stations. There are 20 pumping stations in the City, the location of which are given below. For drainage purposes, the City is divided into a number of areas and each area is served by a pumping station to which sewers in that area gravitate. The sewage from the houses flows into the street sewers which convey it by gravity to the pumping station in the area. At the pumping Station the sewage of the whole area is lifted up by pumps into a cast iron pumping main. The sewage is conveyed in this manner to the north eastern corner of the City, where it is allowed to discharge into sea. The total length of swers laid in the City is 327·50 miles.

The Corporportion has already constructed 60·05 miles of storm water drains in various parts of the City to carry away the rain water which at present stagnates on roads the size of the drain varying from 2 ft. width to twin drains each 10 ft. wide. The drains are covered over where. ever necessary in the interest of safey of the public. The storm water drains are connected to the City waterways which ultimately reach the sea.

At all important places in the City Public Conveniences of the improved type with mordern sanitary appliances have been contructed to serve theneeds of the public. At present there are 44,850 flush-out-latrines in the City. The installation of Flush-out-latrines in the place of existing dry latrines and insanitary ones is rapidly progressing.

Water Supply.

Till about the middle of last centuary, the water supply of Madras was obtained solely from shallow wells, which were subject to very serious pollution owing to the porous nature of the subsoil and the want of proper drainage. In 1866, it was decided to adop the proposal of Mr. Fraser, C,E., to take water from the Kortalayar River. The supply is obtained from the Kortalayar River and its tributaries. A masonry weir, 6 ft. high, has been built across the Kortalayar River at Tamarapakkam, about 17 miles north west of Madras to divert the flood water and lead it through the upper supply channel to the Cholavaram Lake and from there through the lower supply channel to the Red Hills Lake from which the City supply is drawn. Both these Lakes also receive a considerable supply from their own catchment areas to the extent of 140 sq. miles. Besides the supply to the City, water from both the lakes is also used to irrigate an area of about 7,600 acres of paddy fields.

The water supply to the City is drawn directly from the Red Hills Lake through an in-take tower known as as the "Jones Tower" located at the deepest point in the lake. The water drawn through the in-take tower passes through a tunnel and enters a screening chamber and roughing filters at Red Hills where grosser impurities are removed by passing the water through a gravel bound. The water then flows by gravity through a masonry arched under-ground conduit, 7 miles long and enters the Kilpauk Water Works where it is filtered, chlorinated and pumped into the City Distribution System. In Kilpauk before filtration the raw water is treated with chlorine to kill all harmfull bacteria and then filtered through 17 slow sand filters.

To meet the increased demand for water for the growing needs of the City, it was found necessary to augment the source of supply. After investigating various possibilities, it was decided in 1940 to consruct a dam across Kotalayar River and form a Reservoir at Poondi, 12 miles above Tamarapakam Anicut. This reservoir designed to impound 2,500 million C. Ft. of water and will have a water spread of nearly 12½ Sq. Miles. Its storage capacity will be nearly equal to the combined storage capacity the Cholavaram and Red Hills Lakes. The construction of the Poondi Reservoir was inaugurated in August 1940 and completed in June 1944 by the P.W.D. The maintainance of the Reservoir is in the hands of the P. W. D., the cost thereof being entirely borne by the Corporation every year. The construction of this Reservoir was financed by the Corporation by way of loans and grants obtained from the Government. The storage of Water at Red Hills, Cholavaram and Poondi is intended to meet the supply for a population of over one million at the rate of 30 gallons per head per day even if there were to be successive failures of the monsoon for two years subject to slight restrictions in the third year.

Lighting.

The Madras City had oil lighting in its streets till 1910 when for the first time electric lighting was introduced. The improvement in street electric lighting was steadily maintained till the year 1924-25 when all the then existing 6269 oil lights were fully replaced by electric lamps. The progress from year to year in the number of street electric lamps, the street lighting load, and the length of electric cable laid in the city has been steadily maintained.

At present the Madras City is served with 16,422 street electric lamps. The type of lamp standards in use are mainly of cast iron manufactured in the Corporation workshops. The Glow Lamp posts which are 14 ft high with ornamental scroll work are commonly used in all streets not subject to heavy traffic. In the more important thoroughfares, cast iron lamp post of 24 ft. high are in use.

In addition, steel tabular poles with long arm brackets are also used for fixing mercury discharge lamps.

The electric power for lighting the streets is obtained in bulk at a single point at the Corporation Main Controlling Station in Basin Esplanade Road, Perambur, at 5,000 volts from the Madras Electric System Power Station. This is transmitted by means of underground cables to 22 street lighting electric sub-stations belonging to the Corporation where the voltage is stepped down to 250 for distribution to public lighting. Each of these 22 substations controls street lighting in an area of the City. Their location is furnished below.

In 1939 mercury discharge lighting was introduced for the first time in the Teynampet section of Mount Road. As this lighting was found both economical and efficient, it was extended throughout the Mount Road and other important thoroughfares of the City. The lighting at important traffic junctions was also changed over to this kind of illumination to ensure better traffic visibility and enhance the safety both of the vehicles and of the pedestrians. Proposals are on hand for extending this improved lighting in all the major thoroughfares of the City and the work is being taken up in this direction.

During the month of April 1946, Government passed orders to include Saidapet, Sembiam and some other adjoining villages within the City limits. Each of the newly included areas has its own independent electric sub-station having direct connection with the Madras Electricity System.

Radio Installations.

The Corporation maintains 12 public radio sets in parks and other public places of the City. These sets diffuse the programme of the Madras Centre of the All India Radio and work over two hours every evening. They have proved not only very popular but also instructive to the public which gathers in the City parks during evenings. In addition to this the Corporation has provided in many of its Schools, beggar Homes, poor houses and Reading Rooms.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Vaccination.

The vaccination Department was originally administered by the Government Inspector of Vaccination and was transferred to the Corporation in 1878. Compulsory vaccination was introduced in the City in 1884 and it is now enforced under the provisions of the Madras City Municipal Act by which every parent or guardian of an unprotected child more than 6 months old and residing within the Municipal limits is bound to get it vaccinated. Provision has been lately made for the enforcement of compulsory revaccination as well. Vaccination is done free of cost on certain specified days and hours in all Corporation dispensaries, and re-vaccination is done on all the days in the week. Facilities for vaccination in private residences are also afforded on application to the Health Officer. Till the year 1909, the Corporation was preparing its own lymph for vaccination purposes and the King's Institute at Guindy has been supplying glycerinated lymph since then.

A list of the Vaccination Depots in the several divisions of the City is given separately elsewhere.

Registration of Births and Deaths.

Registration of deaths was first intorduced in the City on 1st January 1855. Registration of both births and deaths was made compulsory by Act IX of 1867 and the work devolved on the Corporation.

The Poor House.

The Poor House maintained by the Corporation was opened on the 14th November 1927 in the Government Leper Hospital which was handed over to the Crorporation for the purpose. It is situated in Royapuram at the end of Suryanarayana Chetty St, very near the sear. There is separate accommodation for males and females in this institution. It is in charge of a Sub-Assistant Surgeon under the control of the Health Officer. There is accommodation for about 100 persons in this Home.

The Special Home.

A Special Home for the compulsory segregation of diseased and disabled poor was opened by the Corporation on 5-1-45 as required by the amended section of the Madras City Police Act for dealing with beggars in the City. This Home is situated in Krishnampet and is under the control of the Health Department. Diseased inmates are segregated according to the nature of diseases and treated by the Supdt.

The Work House.

In accordance with the amended provision of the Madras City Police Act, a Workhouse for beggars physically capable of ordinary manual labour was opened in April 1946 by the Corporation. Beggars committed to this institution do manual work such as basket making, rope making, paper making and tape weaving. It has separate accommodation for male and female inmates and is under the control of the Health Officer.

Medical Relief.

The Corporation maintains 28 general dispensaries, 5 special clinics and one infectious diseases hospital. The Health Department also conducts medical inspection of the children of all Corporation Schools with the help of Medical Inspectors and Inspectresses.

Nuisances.

Nuisances arising from the accumulation of refuse or nightsoil or from defective drains or privies, etc. should be reported to the Health Officer of the Corporation. To prevent committal of nuisances in the streets, the provisions of the Public Health Act are being enforced.

Maternity and Child Welfare Scheme.

The Scheme was inaugurated by the Corporation in the year 1917 as an experimental measure. The object of the scheme was mainly to reduce the maternal and infantile mortality rates in the City of Madras which was appalingly high by providing skilled midwifery treatment to the women specially of the poor classes, free of cost. The first Child Welfare Centre was started in Triplicane in 1917 with a staff of four mid-wives and one Lady Doctor. Two additional Centres, one in Washermenpet and one in Purasawalkam were opened in 1919. More centres were opened gradually and at present there are 25 Centres and 14 Maternity wards.

Government to appoint a Committee to consider the question of providing school buildings free of rent for aided elementry schools in the City. On the recommendations of the Committee appointed by the Government the Corporation agreed to construct and maintain forty Elementary Model Schools within a period of ten years. In view of the heavy outlay involved in this scheme the Corporation was relieved of the liability to make teaching grants to elementary schools in the city for a period of ten years. The Corporation was able to construct only 26 schools and to maintain four other schools in rented buildings within the prescribed period.

In 1921, a beginning was made towards starting elementary schools exclusively for girls. During 1921-24 the number of schools maintained by the Corporation for boys and girls increased to 38 and 4 respectively.

Besides, the Corporation has opened 21 slum branch schools for the benefit of the children of the school-going age in these undeveloped localities. Recently, the Corporation has started 10 adult education centres in the City in order to eradicate illiteracy among the poor labourers and these centres have proved to be of great success.

In 1924, the Corporation resolved to introduce Compulsory Elementry Education in divisions 24 to 27 as an experimental measure. There are at present 173 schools (104 boys and 69 girls) maintained by the Corporation including those in the extended areas (List of schools elsewhere).

HISTORY OF CERTAIN IMPORTANT PARKS.

People's Park.

In the year 1866, the entire management of People's Park was transferred to the Municipality. The Madras Fair was held in this Park for the first time (1878). In the year 1883 the plot of land on which the Victoria Hall now stands was leased to the Town Hall Committee for a term of 99 years. The Zoo has been the main attraction from the start. The wild animals were at the beginning kept scattered about the Park and gradually one after another was moved within the enclosure of the Zoo. In the year 1909-10, a portion of land in the north-eastern side was leased for theatrical pandal (Royal Theatre) where the Home for Homeless has since been built up. Another portion on the south-eastern side of the Peoples Park leased to S.I.A.A. is now occupied by the Military rest camp and Hope Club.

A Flower Show is being held every year in the People's Park during the month of February to focus public attention on its aesthetic and economic value and with a view to stimulate an interest in the citizens to form and maintain private gardens.

The Central portion of the People's Park was levelled with the help of the Military authorities in 1946 and a very spacious and attractive Sports Arena has been constructed there by the Corporation. The sports arena provide facilities for first class criket, hocky and foot-ball matches. It has a seating capacity of over 17,000. Another equally attractive Stadium has been constructed by the Corporation behind the Record Office in Egmore exclusively for Tennis, This has a seating accommodation of over 5,000.

From the beginning the administrative control of the parks was under the direct charge of the President (now termed as Commissioner) and it was transferred to the city Engineer on 19th May 1921.

Napier Park.

In the year 1869, this plot of land was handed over to the Municipal Commissioner for the formation of a park and the park was formed in 1879 This serves as a lung to the crowded locality of Chintadripet. The Park is named after Lord Napier, the then Governor of Madras. A swimming pool has been constructed inside the park for the use of children and this is functioning satisfactorily.

Robinson Park.

On 1-2-1819, the management of the Park was transferred to the Municipality when it was under the direct charge of the President and latterly under the Engineer in 1921.

WORLD'S FASTEST TYRES

In September, 1947, John Cobb set up a new world record by driving his Dunlop-shod Napier Railton car at the breath-taking speed of 394.196 m.p.h. Commenting on the performance of his Dunlop tyres, Cobb says : "The tyres were absolutely unmarked. Really, I can only say they were fantastically good."

The Dunlop gain in craftsmanship and knowledge acquired in equipping this and every other record-bid since 1929 is the EXTRA EXPERIENCE which makes Dunlop the leading tyre.

COCHIN STATE

Ruler

H. H, Sri Kerala Varma.

MINISTERS

T. K. Nayar—Prime Minister.
K. Balakrishna Menon &
Paranbi Lonappen.

Area.—1,480 Square Miles.

Population.—14,22,875 according to the census of 1941 (Males 6,96,889 and Females 7,25,986).

Communities.—Hindus (896950), Christians (3,99,394), Muslims (1,09,188), Jews (1,528), Anglo-Indians (9,859), Tribes (5,183), Jains (335), Parsis (34), Budhists, Sikhs, etc., (35), Non-Indians including Englishmen, Americans (350).

Occupation. Agriculture, industry and trade support the great majority of the population. Agriculture is the predominant occupation and the chief means of livelihood. In the sea board and sandy tract the main occupation is the cultivation of cocoanut palm and manufacture of various kinds of articles from cocoanut, conversion of the kernel of the cocoanut into copra, extraction of oil from copra, preparation of fibre and its conversion into yarn from which matting, door mats, ropes, coir mats and cordage are manufactured. Tapping for toddy and manufacture of jaggery are other allied industries. Backwaters and canals as also the sea that washes the Cochin coast teem with fish life and provide occupation to a large number of fishermen, fish-curers and boat and bargemen. The forests that cover the eastern part of the State provide employment to a number of wood cutters, sawyers, collectors of forest produce, etc.

Cotton weaving is the only textile industry and is carried on mainly by hereditary weavers who adhere to their primitive looms.

Industries.—The main industries are spinning and weaving cocoanut fibre industry, oil industry, plywood manufacture, millings of rice, tiles and bricks manufacture, tea, rubber and coffee production, cashewnut industry, electroplating, soap manufacture, etc. There are 119 registered factories including 3 cotton mills, 11 oil mills, 4 saw mills, one ceramic factory, 35 tiles and brick works, 22 rice hulling mills, 4 coir factories, 7 combined rice and oil mills, 2 match factories and one plywood factory. The following are the important cottage industries—handloom, weaving and spinning, coir and other fibre industry, mat making with kora, screwpine and myra leaves, oil pressing, groundnut decortication, soap making, manufacture of agricultural implements and articles for domestic use, bell metal industry, carving, furniture making, leather works, etc.

For the development of industries Cochin has an all weather major port that stretches out its arms to receive the commerce of the world, a broad gauge railway connection and facilities with regard to land, siding, skilled advice and finance. The Poringalkuthu Hydro-Electric Works are being pushed through with great rapidity and after their completion additional power will be easily and cheaply available. At present power from other sources is available for industrial purposes. Relatively lower wages and reputed skill of workmen are additional en-ing up of colonies and settlements, provision of house sites, organisation and running of co-operative societies, etc.

Ruling Family.—Traditionally the Ruling Family traces its descent from the last of the Perumals. The Kingdom of Cochin came into existence on the division of dismemberment of Kerala in the sixth century. The first King of Cochin was the nephew of the last of the Perumals, being his sister's son, and, therefore, his direct heir according to the Marumakathayam Law of Succession prevalent in Kerala. He ruled in the sixth century. The rivalry between the Rulers of Cochin and the Zamorins of Calicut was the most important feature in the politics of Kerala for 3 or 4 centuries. The history of the Rulers during the periods of the Portuguese and Dutch Supremacy is a creditable one and their policy was based and their actions regulated by high principles of good Government. They faithfully kept their treaty obligations with the foreigners in spite of want of reciprocation on the part of the latter. After the treaty with the East India Company in 1809 a new chapter was opened, and the last 140 years was a marvellous period of accelerated progress in all directions under a long line of distinguished and illustrious Rulers.

H. H. Sri Kerala Varma, Maharaja of Cochin, who ascended the musnad on the 31st January 1946 was born in July 1870. After his early education in Sanskrit under the guidance of his father he joined the Patasala at Tirpunithura where he continued his Sanskrit studies and commenced his studies in English and other subjects. He is the first member of the Cochin Ruling Family to take the B.A. Degree of the Madras University. He was an examiner in Malayalam for the Madras University Examination and for malayalam and Sanskrit for the S.S.L.C. and Middle School Examinations.

His Highness has visited many important places of pilgrimage in South India. He has widened his knowledge by extensive reading. His outlook is very progressive and democratic and he believes in constitutional rule. He has transferred all departments of Government to Ministers and has introduced a cabinet system of administration in Cochin. He has declared full responsible Government to the people. The present arrangement is an interim one. A Committee consisting of a majority of mebers elected by the Legislative Council is drawing up a new constitution for Cohcin based on adult franchise and full responsible Government. Many progressive reforms have been introduced for the welfare and well-being of his subjects.

His Higness has by his first wife two sons and three daughtersa nd by his second wife one son and one daughter.

Legislature.—Legislation rests with the Legislative Council but without prejudice to the right of the Ruler to make laws. The Council which was inaugurated in 1925 is now composed of 53 members of whom 38 are elected on a wide franchise falling only a little short of adult franchise. Of the remaining fifteen members, 5 alone are officials and the rest belong to communities like the Backward and Depressed Classes, Jews, Anglo-Indians, etc. The only subjects that are kept beyond the purview of the Council are the Ruling Family and Devaswoms. The Council has its own elected President and Deputy President.

Judiciary.—The Government of Cochin Act of 1938 contains provisions for the separation of the functions of the Executive and the Judiciary. At the head of the judicial administration in the State is the High Court and subordinate to it are District Courts and Munsiff Courts to exercise civil jurisdiction and Sessions Courts and Sub-Magistrate's Courts to exercise criminal jurisdiction. Litigation up to the value of Rs. 50/- is decided by Village Courts. The Judiciary is completely independent of the Executive.

Reforms.—Government is carried on according to the provisions contained in the Government of Cochin Act of 1938. An amendment to the Act promulgated in August 1947 has terminated the constitutional position of the Diwan in the framework of the Cochin constitution. All subjects governing purely Governmental activities have been transferred to the elected representatives of the people. It is a settled convention of the Cochin constitution that the Legislative Council has got the right to throw out a Ministry by a vote of no-confidence. The transfer of the subject of "Finance" to the Ministry gives the control of the purse to the people.

His Highness the Maharaja has declared that he would act as a purely Constitutional Ruler. The administration is carried on by a cabinet of four Ministers of whom one is designated as Prime Minister. The prerogative power of His Highness to make and pass acts and proclamations is preserved by the Government of Cochin Act. Every constitution has provided an ultimate authority in the State. The prerogative powers will be exercised only in exceptional cases and extraordinary circumstances. These powers far from being an obstruction or an impediment to the rule of law will be the real safety valve of the constitution. The State of Cochin is not only the first to have full responsible Government, but the first where the rule of law is made absolute.

The Ministers are assisted by a Secretariat and a Civil Service. An independent Public Services Commission has also been constituted. The Cabinet consists of 3 Ministers —Sri T. K. Nayar, Prime Minister, Sri K. Balakrishna Menon, Minister, for Food and Education and Sri Parambi Lonappan, Minister for Revenue.

Cochin was the first Indian State to declare its decision to join the Indian Union. In the Constituent Assembly Cochin is represented by an elected representative.

MYSORE STATE

A PROGRESSIVE SURVEY (Contributed)

By reason of its notable achievements in Administration and industrialisation Mysore has earned the reputation of being a 'Model State'. Few places in India have a greater wealth of beauty spots than Mysore or are so high in picturesque scenery and places of historical interest. Mysore has an area of nearly 30,000 square miles, and has a population of about seven millions. Nearly three-fourths derive their livelihood from agricultural pursuits. It has a revenue amounting to Rs. 10 crores. The climate is health and without extremes, the average rainfall being 30 inches a year. The three great dynasties that ruled Mysore also in the centuries that are gone, are the Kadambas, the Hossalas and the Kings of Vijayanagar. The Capital is the City of Mysore. Here His Highness the Maharaja resides. The Administrative Headquarters are in the City of Bangalore, which has a Civil and Military Station.

THE RULER AND ADMINISTRATION

The Ruler of Mysore State is His Highness Sri Jayachamaraja Wadiyar Bahadur, G.C.B., G.C.S.I., who maintains the high traditions of His Great Uncle, His late Highness the Maharaja.

His Highness, widely travelled that he is, has visited every part of his State to study local conditions personally.

Bangalore is an important industrial centre, the city. Its fine parks and public gardens, is imposing offices, arts and technical colleges and hospitals and its various factories have won for the City a foremost place in India. The Indian Institute of Science, founded by the late J. N. Tata, is situated here. Nandi Hill near Bangalore is a popular summer hill Station.

Mysore is the only place where gold is mined on a commercial scale in India. Mysore produces two per cent of the world production of gold. Two of the Mines in the Kolar Gold Field are as deep as the deepest mines in the world. Siwasamudram, 30 miles from Maddur on the Bangalore-Mysore Railway Line, where the Cauvery makes a descent of about 200 feet in a succession of rapids and cascades, is the premier of hydro-electric station in the State.

Famous throughout India for its colossal 60-feet stone statue of Sri Gomateswara, Sravanabelagola, just lying of the Bangalore-Hassan Road, Sravanabelagola is the spiritual capital of all Jains in India. Belur and Halebid are famed for their temples built over nine hundred years ago, which, for fertility of design and perfection of finish, deeply impress the visitor. The serene Sringeri, the seat of his Holiness the Jagadguru, well-known centre for Hindu Culture.

The Gersoppa Falls, about 175 miles from Mysore City or Bangalore, are reached by car or by bus from Talaguppe, the terminus of the Birur-Shimoga-Talaguppe Railway Line. They are considered to be the highest waterfalls in the world. The River Sharavati falls over a tremendous charm about half a mile wide and 830 feet deep.

The State is known for its gold and iron, silk, sandalwood soap, porcelain, cement, paper, sugar, tobacco, fertilisers, vegetable oils, electrical batteries, and accumulators, coffee and pharmaceuticals. The State is now considered to develop the aeroplane, radio and rayon industries.

The hydro-electric works at Sivasamudram (the first of its kind in All-India) and Shimsha supply the State with cheap electric power which is available in the more remote parts. A scheme for harnessing the Jog Falls to cost over Rs. 8 crores and estimated to generate 1,20,000 k.w. is almost completion.

The Mysore University is in the forefront of institutions of learning, and the principal towns are equipped with up-to-date colleges and schools. There are now nearly 9,000 primary schools, 524 Middle Schools, 90 High Schools and 13 Colleges. In the field of higher and technical education Mysore stands prominent with its engineering schools and colleges technical and occupational institutions, besides the Medical and Agricultural Schools and Colleges.

The average area served by each hospital or dispensary in the State is 73 square miles against 126 in Madras, 130 in Bombay, 510 in Bengal, 176 in United Provinces and 131 in Bihar and the average population served by each hospital works to about 19,000 as against the all India figure of 41,000.

The Government Departments have achieved great industrial success. The Mysore Iron and Steel Works at Bhadravati is entirely State-owned. This factory has the only charcoal blast-furnace in the East, produces pig-iron and a wide variety of steel products useful for house-holders and manufacturers. The cement plant of the work turns out over 25,000 tons of cement a year. The Mysore Paper Mills, which manufacture paper of different grades and varieties.

The manufacture of radios textile machinery and other industrial tools are being taken up by the newly floated companies. The possibilities of making rayon out of the abundantly available forest bamboo are under consideration.

A number of industries, subsidiary to agriculture, have been introduced.

TRADE PROBLEMS OF MYSORE (Contributed)

Mysore is an inland State and the bulk of its external trade is carried on with the adjoining districts of the Bombay and Madras Presidencies and also through the following principal ports viz., Madras, Marmugoa and Mangalore. The distinct feature of Mysore's foreign trade is that it has been exporting largely raw and semi-manufactured articles, as well as articles included under item "Food, Drink and Tobacco" in the Review of the Foreign Rail-borne and Road-borne Trade of the State, while importing manufactured articles from abroad. The total value of merchandise imported into this State has been in excess of the value of merchandise exported. But this excess of import can be, however, set off against the deficit of exports and the Balance of trade maintained in favour of the State. To a considerable extent the export of gold from the Gold Mines in K. G.F. area contributes to this result.

Among the more important of the articles of merchandise exported from the State, mention may be made of the following, viz., coffee, cardamom, cotton, groundnut, cocoanut and copra, betlnut, tanned hides and skins, woollen druggets and sandal-wood oil. Of these, tanned hides and skins and woollen druggets are exported to foreign countries through the Madras port. Marmugoa is a distributing and shipping centre for groundnut and cotton, which are consigned chiefly from Chitaldrug and Davangere Railway Stations in the State.

Considerable quantities of machinery were imported from the United Kingdom, Germany and several other continental countries in Europe before the War. The annual imports of machinery before the War were valued at about a crore of rupees. During the war period, the imports of machinery from foreign countries suffered a very heavy fall. The necessity for the import of machinery from abroad both for replacement and expansion of the industrial concerns in the State is, however, keenly felt. Steps are being taken to import textile, chemical and engineering machinery needed for the postwar expansion scheme of the Governemnt.

Owing to the conditions created by the war, the foreign trade and commerce of the whole of India has been considerably affected. In so far as Mysore State is concerned, the reaction has been similar. Further the unfavourable seasonal conditions prevailing in recent years have not only reduced the available surplus for export of most kinds of agricultural produce, but have also brought about a shrinkage in the output of the chief articles of food, which is far below the actual requirements, while the supply position with regard to textiles, consumer goods, drugs and medicines, machinery and mill stores, etc., has been rendered acute owing to the absence of shipping facilities and the imposition of trade restriction. With the cessation of War in Europe and the Far East in 1945 and the postwar reconstruction schemes which have now been taken on hand by the Government, the situation is, however, being brought under control and vigorous and systematic efforts are also being made to obtain increased supplies of food and other essential article from other countries while augmenting the local output with the available resources. It is hoped that these measures will go a long way in easing the supply position with regard to many articles of merchandise and stabilising the trade and commerce of Mysore.

The Government of Mysore have appointed a Trade Commissioner in the United Kingdom for the purpose of improving the trade of the State in Europe. Similarly, in the United States of America, an American representative has been appointed.
