Leave and Allowances, the following rule should be inserted as No. 2 under sec. XVIII of the covenanted civil service leave code: "2—suspension adjudged as a punishment interrupts the continuity of duty required by this and the two following secs." 494; the following words should be added to rule 3 under chap. XIII of the covenanted civil service leave code: "the notification of an offr.'s retn. from furlough should be understood to cancel any unused part of it" 524; addns. to the directions for filling up last pay certis. in appendix D of the covenanted civil service leave code in consequence of the rate of exchange being fixed for 1871-72 at 1*s.* 11*d.* per rupee; this addn. will not, however, apply to the allowances of offrs. who left India before 1st July 1871, 524; in modification of g. g. o. No. 630, dated 9th June 1869, empowers the local govts. and depts. of govt. of the three presidencies to grant, subject to the rules laid down in this order, to mily. offrs. in civil employ under them leave in India for any period not exceeding three months as furlough, without reference to the govt. or c.-in-c. of the presdy. to which the offr. belongs, provided that in each case the authority granting the leave shall first satisfy itself that furlough to that amount is due to the offr. concerned 529; insertion of the following rule as No. 4 under chap. XIII of the covenanted civil service leave code, sanctioned: "the grant by the secy. of state to an offr. on leave of permn. to retn. to duty by a particular steamer is equivalent to an extn. of leave without prejudice to the offr.'s apptt. until the date the steamer may arrive;" this rule applies to uncovenanted offrs. also 576; sanctions the insertion of the following rule as No. 3 A in chap. XI of the covenanted civil service leave code: "if an offr. during transit from one apptt. to another obtains furlough on medl. certi. (with or without subsidiary leave prefixed), he will be allowed only the joining time calculated for the journey from his old station to the furthest place to which he has proceeded on his route to his new station" 576; directs the insertion of the following rule as rule 4 A under sec. VII of the covenanted civil service leave code: "it is not open to an offr. to surrender the lien to which he is entitled under this sec., nor is the local govt. at liberty to fill up his apptt. substantively without transferring him to another substantive apptt. of not less salary; the saving which accrues to the govt. by the payment of actg. allowances instead of substantive allowances must be carefully secured as a set-off against the cost of the furlough allowance" 577; the rules respecting actg. allowances at present in force in the civil depts. are arranged in this order in the form of a code; all previous notifications and orders respecting allowances, except sec. XXXI of the covenanted civil service leave code, are hereby abrogated; future rulings will take the form of addns. and corrections to this code; the only altn. made in this code to which attention need be directed is that sec. VII is slightly different in its effect from the order (No. 1682, dated 2nd July 1869, para. 4) on which it is based, clause (c) being entirely new 591; except on medl. certi., or on very urgent private affairs, furlough or special leave may not be granted by any local govt. if one-fifth of the total number of covenanted civil servants serving under its orders are already absent on furlough or special leave; this rule will not apply to Oudh, C P, British Burmah, Ajmere, Mysore and Coorg, and the Berars, where furlough or special leave may be granted so long as of the whole number of offrs., covenanted, mily., and uncovenanted, serving in the commn., the number absent on furlough or special leave does not exceed one-fifth 621; that no person shall be apptd. to the public service in India in a grade eligible to pension without a certi. by a comsd. medl. offr., or by a medl. offr. in charge of a civil station, that he has no disease, constitutional affection, or bodily infirmity impeding him, or likely to unfit him, for the public service 636; that the following rule shall be inserted [illegible] XXV of the covenanted civil [illegible] "subsidiary leave [illegible] taken h[illegible]

XXXI of the criminal civil service leave code: "if an offr. who draws allowances under this sec. takes furlough, the sec. will continue to apply to him on his retn. from that furlough, unless the circumstances are such that if he had a substantive apptt. he would have lost it by operation of the rules" 652; that a comsd. medl. offr. of the army holding a civil medl. apptt. is subject to the leave rules applicable to other mily. offrs. in civil employ 708; directs that the words "to Europe" in sec. 18 of the rules of 13th Apl. 1864, for the grant of leave of absence to uncovenanted servants, shall be understood to signify beyond India 709; in substitution of clause (c) of sec. VIII of the covenanted civil service leave code, directs the following to be used: (c)—furlough taken without medl. certi. or under clause (a) of this sec. may be extended, provided that the whole period, together with the extn., does not exceed three years; when on furlough under this clause, an offr. will retain a lien and will be granted allowances, as prescribed in sec. VII, till the end of the second year of the furlough; but in the third year of the furlough he will not retain a lien, and will be entitled only to subsistence allowance 709; secy. of state's despatch approving of decision communicated in para. 5 of mily. letter No. 320, dated 30th Nov. 1870—"that leave taken under clause XI of the furlough rules of 1868 may be reckoned as a portion of the three years' service after retn. to duty required by rule VIII before furlough can again be taken" 712; correspondence with the secy. of state for India relative to the leave to be allowed to a lt. govr., and, with reference thereto, sanctions the amendment of the 3rd para. of notification, finl. dept., No. 780, dated 8th Feb. 1871, preparatory to the covenanted civil service leave code by the insertion in that para. of the words (1) lt. govrs. of provinces before the words "(1) members of the council of the govr. genl.;" the numbers (1), (2), (3), (4), as they stand in that para., should be correspondingly altered 757; the insertion of the following rule as rule No. 4 under sec. XXXI of the covenanted civil service leave code sanctioned: "an offr. drawing allowances under this sec. should be apptd. to the first apptt. XIII of the covenanted civil service leave code 810; the insertion of the rule shown in this order as No. 5 in chap. I, covenanted civil service leave code: "there is no rule under which a covenanted civil servant resigning his office, or by his own choice remaining out of employ, can obtain subsistence allowance; time thus spent without allowances does not count as actual service" 810; directs the addn. of the following rule as rule 3 under sec. XVIII of the covenanted civil service leave code: "if an offr. remains absent after the expiry of exmn. leave or of joining-time, the period of absence cannot count as duty qualifying for privilege leave, and, unless the absence is accounted for to the satisfaction of the local govt., it interrupts the continuity of duty required by the sec." 851; the following rule to be inserted as No. 1*a* under sec. XII of the covenanted civil service leave code: "unless it be specially otherwise ordered, leave must begin within thirty-five days from the date on which it is granted" 851; directs the substitution of the rule shown in this order for rule 3 under sec. XI of the mily. furlough regulation of 10th Nov. 1868 as during the furlough itself, and that the allowances of a mily. offr. in civil employ on a staff salary during preparatory leave before or after furlough of any kind shall be regulated by finl. order No. 3205, dated 22nd Oct. 1865, 952; difficulties having been found in applying the various rules regarding the salary. drawn by offr. in apptt. of which the pay rises from a minimum to a maximum, directs the publication of the statement, as shown in this order, of the rules in force for the counting of increments of progressive pay and salary; secs. Pensions and gratuities, finl. resolution relative to the abolishment of the police superannuation funds, and notifies that the govr. genl. in council, considering it unadvisable to maintain longer so many different sets of rules for the grant of—, has determined to abolish the rules of the said superannuation funds, so far as may be consistent with keeping faith with the members who subscribed to them, and to extend to the members of the police forces in which they were established the uncovenanted service pension rules, which give in most cases greater advantages than the rules of the funds gave, and which certainly give much more than the subscriptions to the funds could, consistently with their solvency, procure; H. E. in council accordingly resolves that, in future, the rules shown in this resolution alone shall regulate the grant of—to members of the police forces constituted under Act XXIV of 1859, Act V of 1861, Act VII of 1867 of the govr. of Bombay in council, and members of the Madras town police, constituted under Act XIII of 1856, 556; has reference to the order of govt. of Madras, finl. dept., No. 188, dated 10th May 1871, granting to Mr. R. G. Clarke, of the covenanted civil service, an annuity of sicca Rs. 10,000, under terms of secy. of state's despatch, dated 16th Feb. 1871, and resolution of govt. of India, No. 1939, dated 31st Mar. 1871, and observes that the adoption of the scale of — laid down in the above despatch is contgt. upon the acceptance by the service of the terms set forth in the resolution of the govt. of India of 31st Mar. last; — cannot, meantime, be granted except under the rules previously in force 577; directs the abolition in future of the rule that in calculating fractions less than a quarter of a rupee shall be omitted 602; directs the abolition, from 1st Sept. 1871, of the rule which at present applies in the case of servants in ineligible grades that a single break in the continuity of their service, caused by resignation, and not exceeding twelve months in duration, is not fatal to their claim to compassionate allowance and gratuity on acct. of service previous to its occurrence; any servant resigning on or after 1st Sept. next will be deemed to have absolutely forfeited all claims to compassionate allowance or gratuity 602; extends to cases of service in grades ineligible for pension, finl. resolution No. 2197, dated 24th Apl. 1868, permitting local govts. at their discretion to grant — (or compassionate allowances) to offrs. serving under certain local funds; the — will be awardable only on the scale prescribed for ineligible service 602; that service in the regular sett. depts. of the Punjab and Oudh shall be held to qualify for — in the same manner as service in regular stipendiary estabts. under govt.; this rule will apply to offrs. now in the service of govt., as well as to those entertained in future, but it will not apply to offrs. entertained on the understanding that their service is required only for a limited time, or that they will be liable to discharge after a short period of service 602; in modification of resolutions of finl. dept., No. 583, dated 30th Jan. 1857, and No. 1648 dated 23rd Apl. 1863, permitting commutation of small life-pensions for single payments, rules that commutation cannot be permtd. if the pensioner's age exceed seventy years, save under special orders of govt. of India 637; that if an uncovenanted servant who has obtained — on the submission of a medl. certi. of incapacity for further work, regains his health and is re-employed in the public service, the rules as to refunding gratuity, drawing pension, and counting service, shall be the same as in the case of re-employment after — in consequence of discharge on abolition of office 653; rules that if the pension applied for by an applicant exceeds Rs. 100 per mensem, a certi. by a single medl. offr. should not be accepted as sufficient, and that if it is possible, without inconvenience, an invaliding comttee. should be convened or the applicant caused to appear before a medl. board 653; refers to finl. orders No. 2223, dated 25th Apl. 1867, ruling that services in the reve. surv. dept. temply. lent to municipalities for duty which, though paid for by them, also promotes imperial interests, shall count for pension, directs that in future the sanction of govt. of India must be given to such arrangements 653; refers to finl. resolution No. 504, dated 6th June 1867, that service under native states of govt. offrs. transfd. to those states for a purpose in which govt. is interested, shall count for — directs that such transfers in future must have the sanction of the govt. of India 653; if an offr. of govt., who has been suspended pending enquiry into his conduct, is reinstated, but with forfeiture of any part of his allowances for the period of suspension, this period does not count for pension, unless the reinstating authority expressly declares at the time that it shall do so 691; that policemen, who are allowed an election under sec. IV of the rules in finl. resolution No. 2091, date 19th July 1871, will, if the rules of their superannuation fund give them any pensionary advantages attd. to good service pay, count their good service pay as part of their ordy. pay towards pensions under the uncovenanted service pension rules, otherwise the good service pay will not count 691; finl. resolution relative to the surrender of the accumulated capital of the Bengal civil service — and annuity fund upon the terms offered in resolution No. 1939, dated 31st Mar. 1871, and that subject to the sanction and approval of the secy. of state, H. E. the govr. genl. in council is pleased to declare the scale of annuities set forth in the above resolution to be in force with effect from 24th June 1870, and to direct that the accumulated Bengal covenanted pension annuity funds be credited to the govt. of India as an extraordinary asset in the accounts of 1871-72; annuities and gratuities, whether already granted or to be granted in future, being borne as a [illegible] against the govt. of India 852; rul[illegible] tion of the present practice b[illegible] offr. who has been [illegible] service rem[illegible]

NOTIFICATIONS.

(FIBRES AND SILK.)

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870:

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labour being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

3.—The requirements of the case appear to be some machinery or process capable of producing, with the aid of animal, water, or steam-power, a ton of fibre of a quality which shall average in value not less than £50 per ton in the English market, at a total cost—all processes of manufacture and allowance for wear and tear included—of not more than £15 per ton. The said processes are to be understood to include all the operations performed, after the cutting and transport of the plant to the place of manufacture to the completion of the manufacture of fibre of the quality above described. The machinery must be simple, strong, durable, and cheap, and should be suited for erection at or near the plantations, as the refuse is very useful as manure for continued cultivation.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are, therefore, requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

NOTIFICATIONS.

(FIBRES AND SILK.)

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870;

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labour being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are, therefore, requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

No. 1867.—A charge for interest and commission was lately incurred by a public officer for funds obtained for a public purpose from a private firm. The officer was severely censured, but his motives having been unexceptionable, the Government agreed to pay the money.

Public officers of all ranks and departments are, however, hereby warned that to employ private agents or to obtain funds from private agents for the public service, is wholly unauthorized and wrong; and that, in future, the Government will absolutely decline to pay any expenses thus incurred.

LEAVE AND ALLOWANCES.

The 7th July 1871.

No. 1714.—The following rule should be inserted as No. 2 under Section XVIII. of the Covenanted Civil Service Leave Code :

2. Suspension adjudged as a punishment interrupts the continuity of duty required by this and the two following Sections.

Secretary to the Govt. of India.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Simla, the 1st July 1871.

No. 588 of 1871.—The following despatch from the Right Honorable the Secretary of State for India is published for general information and guidance :

To His Excellency the Right Honorable the Governor General of India in Council.

MILITARY. INDIA OFFICE;
No. 114. London, the 27th April 1871.

MY LORD,—In the letter from the Government of India, dated the 23rd of June 1868, No. 230, it was recommended in the 22nd paragraph, that all payments of the equivalent of Indian pay to Officers on furlough at Home should be made at the exchange of two shillings for the rupee.

2. In the reply dated the 26th of August 1868, No. 297, Sir Stafford Northcote observed in the 16th paragraph that, "in accordance with the present practice," payments of that character would be made at the proposed rate of exchange.

3. Accordingly, in the General Order issued by the Government of India on the 10th November 1868, No. 1064, publishing the revised Furlough Rules of 1868, it was stated that furlough pay in all future orders and references would be understood as the half Indian salary, within the prescribed limits, converted at the exchange of two shillings for the rupee.

4. It is not clear whether it was intended by this order that furlough pay issued to officers under the rules of 1854, should also be issued at this fixed rate.

5. As the rate of exchange has not varied since 1860-61 until the present financial year, for which it has been fixed at one shilling eleven pence, it is only on the question at what rate furlough pay for the current quarter should be issued that my attention has been specially drawn to the point, although the order was sanctioned in my despatch dated the 31st of March 1869, No. 93.

6. On a careful consideration of the matter, it appears to me that there is no reason why the pay of Officers in this country should be issued at a different rate from that at which those in India are allowed to remit a portion of their salary to England.

7. I have accordingly to request that your Lordship will at once issue an order cancelling so much of that of the 10th of November 1868, No. 1064, as fixed the uniform rate of two shillings, and announcing that all payments of furlough pay will be made at the current rate of exchange fixed for the official year.

8. Until the date of the General Order which you will issue under these instructions, payments of furlough pay will be made to Officers under whatever rules they may be, at the rate of two shillings for the rupee.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) ARGYLL.

With reference to the above, the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council is pleased to notify, with the sanction of the Right Honorable the Secretary of State for India, that Officers who have embarked for England on furlough before this date, will be exempted from the operation of this Order for the period of their present furloughs.

The 5th July 1871.

No. 589 of 1871.—With the sanction of Her Majesty's Government, the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council is pleased to notify that Non-Commissioned Officers who, though they have not completed their first term of service, have re-engaged on the completion of two-thirds of the period of service for which they first enlisted to complete twenty-one years' service, are not excluded from furlough under the provisions of G. G. O. No. 540 of 1860.

No. 590 of 1871.—With the sanction of Her Majesty's Government, the admission to the Bengal Staff Corps of Ensign (now Lieutenant) James Butler, of the 19th Foot, Assistant Commissioner, British Burmah, and his promotion to the rank of Lieutenant in that corps notified in the Government General Orders as per margin, are held to have effect from the 9th July 1868, instead of the date previously announced.

No. 582, dated 1st June 1870.

No. 591 of 1871.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to make the following appointment :

No. 595 of 1871.—With the sanction of the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India in Council, the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council is pleased to notify that the indulgence of furlough is extended to passed Hospital Apprentices under the following conditions:

1st.—The indulgence of furlough will only be granted to men of certified good character and prudent habits, and under circumstances in which the Government may consider it advisable.

2nd.—Each application is to be accompanied by a certificate from a medical committee, to the effect that the state of health of the passed Hospital Apprentice renders a change of climate highly desirable.

3rd.—The services of men to whom furlough may be granted are always, when the state of their health allows it, to be made available for duty with invalids or discharged men on the voyage from India.

4th.—With every application for the indulgence a descriptive roll in the form annexed is to be furnished, and applications are not to be forwarded on account of passed Hospital Apprentices of less than one year's service in that grade, except in cases where the necessity for furlough is caused by wounds received in action.

5th.—Furlough will invariably, in the first instance, be limited to the period of one year from date of quitting India. Men whose state of health, when that period has expired, does not admit of their return to duty in India, will be subjected to medical examination in view to the leave being extended for a period not exceeding eight months, or to discharge being effected if reported unfit for further service.

6th.—No portion of the furlough will be allowed to reckon as service for pension.

7th.—A free passage to and from England will be provided by the State for passed Hospital Apprentices granted furlough, but not for their wives or families; but to assist them in taking Home and bringing out their families, an allowance of £20 will be granted as allowed to Non-Commissioned Officers by G. G. O. No. 961 of 1861. Should the services of a Hospital Apprentice be dispensed with on being reported unfit for further service while on furlough, he will, if he should desire it, be provided with a free return passage to India.

8th.—The furlough pay will be 50 per cent. of the monthly rate of pay laid down in paragraph 19 of G. G. O. No. 550 of 1868.

Descriptive Roll of a Hospital Apprentice recommended for the indulgence of furlough to Europe.

NOTIFICATIONS.

(FIBRES AND SILK.)

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870:

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labour being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are, therefore, requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

ACCOUNTS.

Simla, the 11th July 1871.

No. 2019.—Several instances have lately come before Government of advances, in lump sums, having been taken for defrayal of special contingent expenses which were spread over several months. The advances were taken on an outside estimate of the probable charges, so that eventually the actual expenditure fell short of the advances, and the excess had to be refunded. Besides this inconvenience, there is a tendency in advances of lump sums to induce officers to postpone submission of their bills on account of the actual expenditure till completion of the service for which the advance may have been taken.

2. The Governor General in Council desires that this objectionable system should be discontinued as far as possible. Heads of Departments and other authorities are reminded that bills for contingent expenses are payable in the usual course immediately on presentation; that more than one such bill may be presented in a month should necessity arise; and that accordingly the instances should be rare in which funds for contingent expenses or special services need be obtained in any other form than that of payment of bills for the expenditure.

3. Accountants General should use their best endeavours to discourage such advances, reporting to the Local Government, and, if necessary, to the Supreme Government, any instances to which they object and which they cannot prevent.

4. This order does not interfere with the system of permanent advances for ordinary contingencies.

EXPENDITURE.

The 13th July 1871.

No. 2005.—It is hereby notified that all Native Doctors, on being graded as Hospital Assistants under the G. G. O. Military Department, No. 550 of 5th June 1868, are entitled to the lower scale of pay laid down in that order for the class in which they are placed, until they qualify themselves in English according to the test laid down in G. G. O. No. 945 of 7th October 1868. Those men, however, who, on or before 27th May 1868, were drawing a higher aggregate than the lower scale of the new rates of pay, on being graded as Hospital Assistants, will continue to draw the higher aggregate under paragraph 4 of G. G. O. No. 152 of 1870.

Those locally-entertained men who are not yet graded shall continue to draw the rate of pay that they drew before the issue of G. G. O. No. 550 of 1868.

LEAVE AND ALLOWANCES.

The 8th July 1871.

No. 1917.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the addition of the following words to Rule 3 under Chapter XIII., Covenanted Civil Service Leave Code:

> The notification of an officer's return from furlough should be understood to cancel any unused part of it.

The 14th July 1871.

No. 2016.—The following financial despatch from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 151, dated the 11th May 1871, is published for general information:

> MY LORD,—The rate of exchange for 1871-72 having been fixed at 1s. 11*d.* the rupee, the absentee allowances of Covenanted and Uncovenanted Civil Servants will be converted into sterling at that rate; and I have therefore to request that you will give instructions that, in all cases where a Civil Servant is entitled to the maximum or minimum allowance under the rules, his absentee pay shall be stated in his leave and pay certificate in pounds sterling per annum, instead of in rupees per mensem, as has been hitherto done in the majority of cases.
> I have, &c.,
> (Signed) ARGYLL.

2. The orders in the above despatch do not apply to the allowances of officers who left India before the 1st July 1871.

3. In accordance with the foregoing orders, the following words are added to the first of the directions for filling up last pay certificates in Appendix B of the Covenanted Civil Service Leave Code:

> and in entering "the rate of absentee allowance," it should be stated, in the first place, without reference to the maximum or minimum applicable, and then if a maximum or minimum applies, or if the allowance is such that a future change in the official rate of exchange may render a maximum or minimum applicable, the words should be added "subject to a maximum (or minimum) of £ sterling."

Provided that this remission shall not extend to cases in which a trustee has the power of appointing or otherwise conferring a beneficial interest in the trust property.

R. B. CHAPMAN,

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Simla, the 10th July 1871.

No. 599 of 1871.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council is pleased to notify, for general information that, in future, soldiers of the Unattached List who are selected for the Thomason College, Roorkee, will be required to resign their positions on that list, and revert to the regimental pay and allowances of the rank which they held previous to their transfer.

No. 600 of 1871.—With reference to G. G. O. Nos. 1137 dated 6th December 1867, and 345 dated 18th April 1871, the following despatch from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India is published for general information:

MILITARY.

No. 142.

INDIA OFFICE;
London, the 31*st May* 1871.

To His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council.

MY LORD,—Your letter No. 89, dated 15th March 1871, relates to the pay to be drawn while on furlough by an Officer of the rank of Inspector or Deputy Inspector General of Hospitals, who has completed his tour of service.

2. I concur with your Government in the decision that an Officer so situated who may take furlough within Indian limits under the rules of 1796 is entitled to receive his unemployed pay for such period as he would have received it if resident in India.

3. With regard, however, to the Officer who may take furlough under 1868 rules, you will have observed from my despatch No. 55 of 23rd February 1871 (paragraph 13), that I do not consider that the unemployed pay which can only be received in India for six months can be taken as a basis for the calculation of furlough pay under these rules, and that Officers who have completed their tour taking furlough under the 1868 rules are to receive the British* furlough pay of their rank and standing.

* Para. 13 of despatch of Secretary of State, No. 152, 16th May 1864.

4. This of course in no way affects the cases of Officers taking sick leave under the rules of 1854, which are governed by the despatch No. 297 of 24th October 1867.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) ARGYLL.

No. 613 of 1871.—In modification of the provisions of G. G. O. No. 630, dated 9th June 1869, the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council is pleased to empower Local Governments and Departments of the Governments of the three Presidencies, to grant to Military Officers in civil employ under them leave in India for any period not exceeding three months, as furlough, without reference to the Government or Commander-in-Chief of the Presidency to which the officer belongs, provided that, in each case, the authority granting the leave shall first satisfy itself that furlough to that amount is due to the officer concerned.

2. In the event of their being no furlough due to the officer, the leave may be granted as if it were furlough (in India) under the provisions of Rule XI. of the Military Furlough Rules of 1868, provided the urgency of the case, whether on the ground of sickness or from any other cause, is such as, in the opinion of the Local Government, or Department of Government, to justify the exceptional indulgence.

3. It is not considered necessary to prescribe any fixed intervals within which a repetition of the indulgence cannot be permitted; but the Governor General in Council looks to the Local Governments, and Departments of Government, to see that such leave is not granted too frequently, or without sufficient grounds.

4. As all leave so taken in India will reckon as part of the eight years to which an officer's total furlough is restricted by Rule XVI., it will be necessary that a copy of the order granting the leave shall in every case be forwarded to the Military Department of the Government of the Presidency to which the officer belongs.

5. Officers obtaining leave under paragraph 1 of this order, will be entitled during the period of their absence on it, to furlough pay, as laid down in Rule V. of the Military Furlough Rules of 1868. Those who obtain leave under paragraph 2 of this order, will be restricted to the English furlough pay of their rank, as follows:

General Officer (Staff Corps)	1	5	0	a day.
Colonel of Royal Engineers of Royal Artillery of the local Service (and Lieutenant-Colonel, Staff Corps, if receiving the Colonel's allowance)	1	5	0	„
Lieutenant-Colonel (with the exception mentioned above)	1	0	0	„
Major	0	16	0	„
Captain	0	10	6	„
Lieutenant	0	6	6	„

6. If an officer exceeds the period of leave granted to him under the provisions of this order, he will forfeit his appointment, and can only be re-appointed, as a special case, with the sanction of the Government of the Presidency to which the appointment appertains. Should he desire an extension of it as furlough, he can obtain it in the Military Department of his own Presidency to such extent as he may be entitled under the rules.

7. No leave as furlough out of India, can be granted by any authority excepting the Government (in the Military Department) of the Presidency under which the officer may be serving.

NOTIFICATIONS.

(FIBRES AND SILK.)

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870:

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labour being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are, therefore, requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

17. All alterations in the register of prostitutes shall be forthwith communicated by the Superintendent of Police to the Medical Officer in charge of the Lock Hospital.

18. Whenever any prostitute changes her residence, she shall give due notice thereof to the Superintendent of Police or other officer appointed in this behalf, and the necessary alteration shall be made in the register of prostitutes and in the ticket furnished to her.

Whenever any brothel-keeper changes his residence or acquires or enters into the occupation of any house, room, or place, of which the situation has been registered as aforesaid, he shall give notice thereof to the Superintendent of Police or other officer appointed in this behalf, and the necessary alterations or additions shall be made in the registers. 22. If found to be affected with any venereal disease, she shall, unless sentenced by the Magistrate to imprisonment, be detained in the Lock Hospital until cured.

23. If sentenced by the Magistrate to imprisonment, the fact of such woman being diseased shall be notified by the Superintendent of Police to the Officer in charge of the Jail, with a view to her medical treatment while undergoing imprisonment. " V. of 1861; were abolished by Act X. of 1869,—the assets of the funds being transferred to the Government of India, which undertook also all their liabilities.
" VII. of 1867, of the Governor of Bombay in Council,

2. The Superannuation Fund, which had been established in the Madras Town Police under Act XIII. of 1856, was by Act VIII. of 1867 of the Governor of Madras in Council amalgamated with the Fund established under Act XXIV. of 1859, and was therefore abolished along with it by Act X. of 1869.

3. Up to the present date the rules of the various Superannuation Funds have regulated the grant of pensions and gratuities to members of the forces specified above.

4. The Governor General in Council, considering it unadvisable to maintain longer so many different sets of rules for the grant of pensions and gratuities, has determined to abolish the rules of the said Superannuation Funds, so far as may be consistent with keeping faith with the members who subscribed to them, and to extend to the members of the police forces in which they were established the Uncovenanted Service Pension Rules, which give in most cases greater advantages than the rules of the Funds gave, and which certainly give much more than the subscriptions to the Funds could, consistently with their solvency, procure.

5. His Excellency in Council accordingly resolves that, in future, the following rules alone shall regulate the grant of pensions and gratuities to—

Act XXIV. of 1859,
" V. of 1861,
" VII. of 1867, of the Governor of Bombay in Council.

(2.)—Members of the Madras Town Police, constituted under Act XIII. of 1856.

I.—To members of the police forces enumerated above, pensions and gratuities will hereafter be awarded under the rules applicable to Uncovenanted Servants of Government in other Departments, except that service in the police forces in question counts as eligible service, even though the pay do not exceed Rs. 10.

II.—Police officers, who at the time of taking pension or gratuity are on pay not exceeding Rs. 20, will enjoy, in addition, the following privileges:

(1.)—They can count their service in the police from the age of 18 upwards;

(2.)—In addition to the leave which may under ordinary rules count towards pension, they are permitted to count one year's leave in fifteen years' service, and two years' leave in thirty;

(3.)—If the Inspector General deems them worthy of the concession, a break in continuity of service caused by resignation, and not exceeding twelve months in duration, will not affect their right.

III.—An officer, who, through being promoted to pay exceeding Rs. 20, has lost any of the advantages conceded in the last section, has the option of taking pension or gratuity at the rates and under the conditions which would have applied to him had the promotion not taken place.

IV.—Present members of the police forces above enumerated, who being on pay not exceeding Rs. 20 are entitled to pension and gratuity under the rules of the Superannuation Funds, are to elect whether they will continue to serve under the rules of their Fund, or under the rules stated in Sections I., II. and III. above.

V.—If they elect the latter, they will be entitled to count for pension or gratuity under the ordinary rules all the service which would count towards pension or gratuity under the rules of the Fund; and if they have any service which does not count towards pension or gratuity under the Superannuation Fund Rules, but which is continuous with their present service, they will have the option of taking such pension or gratuity as may be admissible for that part of their service which counts, or of taking for the whole of their service, eligible and ineligible, gratuity or compassionate allowance as follows:

Gratuity—

One month's pay for every complete two years of service, not exceeding twelve months' pay in all.

Compassionate allowance—

After 30 years, if discharged on reduction; or after 35 years, if certified unfit for further service—half pay not exceeding Rs. 4 per mensem.

(Note.—The option at present allowed is between pension and gratuity under Superannuation Fund Rules for that service only which counts, and compassionate allowance or gratuity for the whole service on the following scale:

Gratuity—

After	5	years' service,	3 months' pay.
„	10	„	4 „
„	15	„	5 „

Compassionate allowance—same as above stated.)

VI.—The claims of members of the Police Forces above enumerated, who, before the date of this Resolution, have become entitled to pension or gratuity, but whose pension or gratuity has not yet received the requisite sanction, will be regulated by the rules of their respective Superannuation Funds.

VII.—Pensions and gratuities, under whatever rules awarded, are to be calculated upon the net or reduced pay, and not upon the gross pay (i. e., the rate of pay from which were deducted the subscriptions to the Funds).

Provided that this rule shall not be applied so as to reduce the rate at which any present member of the force is entitled by the rules of his Fund to have his gratuity or pension calculated, until he be either promoted to higher pay or degraded for misconduct to lower pay.

VIII.—The Local Governments will direct the necessary arrangements for recording the election, which, under Section IV., is required to be made at once, and it should be understood that the election once made cannot be re-called.

ORDER.—Ordered, that the foregoing Resolution be published in the Gazette of India.

E. C. BAYLEY,

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, REVENUE, AND COMMERCE.

NOTIFICATIONS.

(FIBRES AND SILK.)

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870 :

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labour being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are, therefore, requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

Cases where it becomes necessary on public grounds to discharge an officer without any fault of his own, because a change has been made in the nature of the duties falling to be performed by him, are not provided for in the Pension Rules; and if it be considered necessary to award a pension, they should be referred, as special cases, to the Government of India.

FIBRES AND SILK.

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870:

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labour being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are, therefore, requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

No. 1635.—The following despatch from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India is published for general information:

POLITICAL.
No. 81.

INDIA OFFICE;
London, the 29th June 1871.

To His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council.

MY LORD,—I have received at various dates during the past year, and subsequently up to the present time, the interesting correspondence from your Excellency's Government noted on the margin, relating to the several demonstrations made by Native Princes and Chiefs of India in honour of the visit of His Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh to India.

Public letter dated 22nd February (No. 20) 1870.
" " " 8th March (No. 27) "
" " " 26th April (No. 47) "
Para. 15 of Military letter dated 10th May (No. 123) 1870.
Foreign letter dated 27th May (No. 93) 1870.
" (General) letter dated 14th July (No. 18) 1870.
" " " " 2nd September (No. 22) 1870.
Foreign letter dated 21st December (No. 258) 1870.
" " " 25th January (No 15) 1871.
" (General) letter dated 25th January (No. 6) 1871.
Foreign letter dated 1st February (No. 22) 1871.

2. Wishing to have before me all the information relating to the circumstances of this visit, I have hitherto delayed addressing you on the subject; but, although it is possible that some further reports may be received from your Excellency's Government bearing upon the same subject, I think that the time has come when I should no longer abstain from recording the satisfaction with which Her Majesty's Government have regarded the loyalty and devotion with which so many of the Princes and Chiefs of India have welcomed His Royal Highness to their country, and declared their attachment to Her Gracious Majesty the Queen.

3. It was natural that the first visit of a Prince of the blood royal of England to Her Majesty's Indian dominions should have been regarded by the Princes and Chiefs of India and of the adjacent countries as an event of much interest. The feelings with which they hailed the arrival of His Royal Highness would have been testified by demonstrations on a scale of unusual magnificence, had it not been that the measures which were in contemplation to give full effect to the royal visit were arrested by an unfortunate event. Many parts of the country were afflicted with a great famine. Your Excellency therefore very rightly abandoned on your own part, and discouraged on the part of others, all idea of a vast assemblage at some central point, which would have brought from a distance many Princes and Chiefs, with large numbers of attendants, at a heavy cost to themselves, and to the injury of the people of the Districts through which they might have been compelled to pass.

4. Nevertheless the Princes and Chiefs of India, on the approach of His Royal Highness to their several territories, took occasion to demonstrate their sense of the honour done to them by the visit of the Duke of Edinburgh, and their devotion to Her Majesty the Queen, by pressing forward to meet the Prince, and, not merely by verbal expressions of loyalty, but also by substantial acts, testified the pleasure which it afforded them to meet the son of Her Majesty the Queen.

5. It has, indeed, been a source of much satisfaction to Her Majesty's Government to know that many of the Native Princes and Chiefs have sought to commemorate the sojourn of His Royal Highness in India, not by costly pageants, as in days gone by, but by enlightened acts of philanthropy, especially by endowing institutions for education, which will confer lasting benefits upon the people.

6. It affords me much satisfaction also to record the high opinion which Her Majesty's Government have formed, from the public correspondence laid before them by your Excellency, of the judgment, tact, and courtesy by which His Royal Highness, during his tour, won the respect and regard of all classes in India.

7. It is satisfactory to learn that, at a time when it was necessary, owing to the condition of your finances, to put some pressure upon the Indian tax-payer, the good results attending His Royal Highness's visits have been attained without laying any perceptible burden upon the people of the country.

8. All the circumstances of His Royal Highness's progress through India, as reported by your Excellency, have been laid before Her Majesty, and I have been commanded to inform you that it is Her Majesty's wish that her grateful acknowledgments should be conveyed to those Princes and Chiefs of India who have thus manifested their attachment to the family of the Queen and their loyalty to the Crown of England.

9. I am commanded also to convey to your Excellency, to the Governors, the Lieutenant-Governors, the Chief Commissioners, and other public functionaries under your Excellency, Her Majesty's thanks for your successful efforts to render the visit of the Duke of Edinburgh acceptable to the Native Princes and Chiefs, and to all classes of the communities of India.

10. I cannot conclude this despatch without recording my hearty acknowledgment of the excellent judgment and discretion evinced, in all their arrangements, by Sir Neville Chamberlain, Sir Seymour Blane, and Captain John Clerk, the officers especially appointed to the Personal Staff of the Duke of Edinburgh. The high character of Sir Neville Chamberlain as a soldier, the fame of whose achievements in the field had extended beyond the borders of India, naturally gave him great influence and authority, which he turned to the best account, whilst full effect was given to his judicious efforts by the zeal and assiduity on all occasions displayed by the officers under his command.

I have the honor to be,

MY LORD,

Your Lordship's most obedient, humble Servant,

ARGYLL.

GENERAL.

I.—Definitions and Explanations.
II.—General Rules.
III.—The Covenanted Civil Service.
IV.—Military Officers in Civil Employ.
V.—The Public Works Department.
VI.—The Survey Department.
VII.—Other Officers.
VIII.—Plural Appointments.
IX.—Exceptional Cases.

CHAPTER I.—DEFINITIONS AND EXPLANATIONS.

Section I.—Unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context, "Local Government" includes a Department of the Government of India, a Chief Commissioner and the Resident at Hyderabad.

Local Government.

Section II.—Appointments are said to be in the same "class" when they are in the same Department and bear the same designation, or have been declared by the Government of India to be in the same class. Appointments in the same class are sometimes divided into "grades" according to pay.

Class and Grade.

Section III. (a.)—The "pay" of an officer is as follows:

Pay and Salary.

(1.) In the case of an officer with a substantive appointment: the amount which he would receive monthly under any of the following designations if he were doing the work of his substantive appointment:

Substantive pay,
Consolidated pay,
Military pay and allowances, and staff salary,
Staff corps pay and staff salary.

(2.) In the case of an officer without a substantive appointment: his subsistence allowance (if a Covenanted Civil Servant), and his military pay and allowances, or staff corps pay (if a military officer).

(b.)—"Progressive Pay" is pay which rises from a minimum to maximum.

(c.)—"Salary" is the sum of "pay" and "acting allowance;" it does not include personal allowances, travelling allowances, or the like.

(d.)—"Consolidated Pay" includes military pay and allowances or staff corps pay, which cannot be separately drawn.

(e.)—"Staff Salary" is an allowance to a military officer in addition to the military pay and allowances or the staff corps pay of his rank.

Section IV.—Unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context, "Appointment" means "Appointment in which an officer is officiating for an absentee."

Absentee.

Section V.—An "absentee" is an officer absent, whether on leave or on duty, from an appointment on which he has a lien.

CHAPTER II.—GENERAL RULES.

Maximum and Minimum.

Section VI. (a.)—The maximum salary of an officiating officer shall be the pay of the appointment.

(b.)—The minimum salary of an officiating officer shall be half the pay of the appointment.

Section VII. (a.)—If the pay of the appointment is progressive, the maximum salary of the officiating officer shall be the pay which he would, from time to time, receive, if he held the appointment substantively, non-continuous periods of tenure being counted towards his increments; and the minimum salary shall be half the said pay.

(b.)—If the officer's pay is not less than the minimum pay of the appointment, he is entitled to the maximum salary stated in clause (a).

(c.)—The officer is entitled to count towards the increments any period in excess of one year, immediately preceding his officiating appointment, during which his pay has been not less than the minimum pay thereof: Provided that not more than one year shall be so counted.

NOTE.—This section does not, without a special order of the Director General, apply to cases arising in the Post Office Department.

Section VIII. (a.)—An officer on the maximum pay of his own appointment, officiating in another appointment of which the pay is progressive, and drawing salary not less than the minimum pay thereof, will, if he afterwards obtains it substantively, count the officiating service towards the increments of pay.

Progressive pay.

(b.)—In departments in which the pay is regulated according to classes, an officer on the maximum pay of his own class officiating in a higher class, and drawing salary not less than the minimum pay of the class immediately superior to his own, will, if he is afterwards promoted to the class last mentioned, count his officiating service towards the increments of pay.

Section IX.—Fractions and percentages of a pay which is progressive are calculated on the mean between the minimum and the maximum.

Section X.—If the pay of an appointment is increased upon an examination being passed, an officiating officer's allowances shall be calculated on the pay which he would, from time to time, receive if he held the appointment substantively.

Section XI.—If an absentee draws no part of the pay of his appointment, another officer may be appointed thereto substantively, for a time only, on full pay, without disturbing the lien of the absentee.

Seconding.

NOTE.—An absentee who receives leave allowances draws, within the meaning of this section, "part of the pay of his appointment."

CHAPTER III.—THE COVENANTED CIVIL SERVICE.

Section XII. (a.)—An officer with a substantive appointment, officiating in another appointment or in a higher grade, is entitled to an acting allowance of one-fifth of the pay of the appointment or grade.

Officers with substantive appointments.

NOTE.—In the case of an acting appointment made with effect from before 1st November 1869, or of a reversion to an acting appointment held before that date, the officer is entitled to a further 10 per cent. on Rs. 2,000 of the pay of the appointment or grade.

(b.)—But the acting allowance shall not be less than two-thirds of the difference between the pay, (or, in the case of a progressive pay, the minimum pay) of the appointment or grade and the pay of the officiating officer.

(c.)—Nor shall it be less than Rs. 200.

(d.)—An officer officiating in a class divided into grades will officiate in the lowest grade unless it be otherwise specially ordered.

[Illustration.—A is Magistrate in the first grade of Nuddea. B is Magistrate of Midnapore, the senior in the second grade. C is a Joint Magistrate. If A takes leave, then, in ordinary course of promotion, B would obtain officiating promotion to the first grade without leaving Midnapore, and C appointed to officiate as Magistrate of Nuddea would officiate in the second grade.]

Section XIII. (a.)—An officer without a substantive appointment is entitled to an acting allowance of half the pay of any appointment in which he officiates and to subsistence allowance.

Case 6.—An officer having a substantive appointment the pay of which is a staff salary.

NOTE.—An appointment of which the pay is fixed with reference to its being held by a civil officer, Covenanted or Uncovenanted, is treated, for the purposes of this section, as if the pay of it were "consolidated."

Section XV.—In case 1 the officer is entitled to his pay and to such acting allowance as will make the total equal to the sum of the assumed subsistence allowance stated below, plus half the pay of the appointment:

Appointments on consolidated pay

	Rs.
For the rank of Captain or Subaltern	250
For the rank of Major	320
For higher rank	400

Section XVI.—In cases 2 and 3 the acting allowance is regulated by Section XII.

Section XVII. (a.)—In cases 4, 5, and 6 the salaries are calculated by military rules: any excess of the consolidated pay of the substantive appointment in case 5 over the military pay and allowances or the staff corps pay of the officer being treated as a staff salary.

Appointments on staff salary.

(b.)—The military rules referred to are as follows:

(1.) For officers who have elected the rules of 1865—

An officiating officer will draw half the staff salary of the appointment, and half the staff salary of his substantive appointment, if he possess one: provided the whole staff salary thus drawn be not less than Rs. 100 per mensem.

(2.) For officers who have elected the rules of 1851—

An officiating officer will draw half the staff salary of the appointment. After acting for six months, whether continuously or not, in the same post or grade, he is entitled to the full staff salary, as soon as the absentee ceases to draw any part of it.

Section XVIII. (a.)—A medical appointment, the pay of which was fixed by General Order of the Government of India, Military Department, No. 370, dated 4th April 1867, is to be treated for the purposes of this Chapter as if the pay thereof were a staff salary equal to the excess, if any, of the consolidated pay over the "unemployed pay" of the permanent incumbent:

Medical appointments.

CHAPTER V.—PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

The following rules regulate the acting allowances of officers of the Engineer Establishment of the Public Works Department, and of the superior officers of the Accounts Branch of that Department:—

No officiating in grades.

Section XIX. (a.)—No officer of a class divided into grades is allowed to officiate in that class in a grade higher than that which he holds permanently.

(b.)—An officer officiating in a rank which is divided into classes, or in a class divided into grades, will officiate in the lowest class or grade. This rule does not apply to officers officiating in appointments the substantive holders of which must belong to a particular class.

Officers with substantive appointment.

Section XX. (a.)—An officer with a substantive appointment, officiating in a higher class or in another appointment, is entitled to an acting allowance, in addition to his pay, of one-fifth of the civil pay of the class or appointment in which he officiates.

(b.)—A Civil officer without a substantive appointment is entitled to an acting allowance of half the civil pay of the class or appointment in which he officiates. A military officer, without an appointment, is entitled to his pay and to such acting allowance as will make the total equal to the sum of the assumed subsistence allowance stated in Section XV, plus half the civil pay of the class or appointment in which he officiates.

(c.)—In the case of a graded class, the average civil pay of the grades (calculated without reference to the number of appointments in each grade) is deemed to be the civil pay of the class, provided that the officiating officer's salary shall not exceed the pay of the lowest grade.

(d.)—The net military pay of an officer of the Royal Engineers is not taken into account in calculating acting allowances. He is entitled to this pay independently of any other allowance.

Subordinates.

Section XXI.—In the following cases, special allowances are given, on sanction by the Local Government, or, if the appointments are under a Chief Commissioner or an Agent to the Governor General, or under the Resident of Hyderabad, or the Superintendent of Port Blair, by the Government of India:

(a.)—A Subordinate officiating as an Executive Engineer is allowed Rs. 100 a month in addition to his pay, provided that the aggregate does not exceed the pay of an Executive Engineer of the 4th Grade.

(b.)—A Subordinate officiating as an Assistant is allowed an addition of Rs. 50 a month to his pay. This allowance is not admissible on the mere circumstance of the Subordinate holding a charge formerly held by an Assistant, but only when the charge involves duties and responsibilities which, in character or extent, are such as are not usually imposed on Subordinate officers.

(c.)—An Accountant officiating for a Controller or Deputy Controller is entitled to draw an allowance of Rs. 100 per month in addition to his pay, provided that the aggregate does not exceed the pay of a Deputy Controller.

Section XXII.—No increased allowances are admissible to an officer of the Upper Subordinate Establishment, or to a Sub-Overseer, for performing duties previously entrusted to one of a higher grade in either of the Subordinate Establishments.

CHAPTER VI.—THE SURVEY DEPARTMENT.

not members of the Covenanted Civil Service, nor Commissioned Officers in the Army, nor in the Public Works and Survey (India) Departments, unless they are officiating in appointments below the rank of Assistant Engineer, or Assistant Controller, or Assistant Surveyor, nor officers of the superior establishment of the Telegraph and Forest Departments, whose acting allowances are regulated by the special rules contained in the Appendix.

Officers with substantive appointments.

Section XXVII. (a.)—An officer with a substantive appointment officiating in an appointment which is open to, and may in practice be held by, a Covenanted Civil Servant or an Officer of the Army, is entitled to the acting allowance prescribed in Section XII.

Examples of the appointments referred to.

Postmaster Generals; Judge of a Small Cause Court; Gazetted appointments in the Police Department.

(b.)—An officer with a substantive appointment officiating in an appointment of which the pay is not less than Rs. 100 per mensem, is entitled to an acting allowance of one-fifth of the pay of the appointment: Provided that no officer may, under this clause, be appointed to officiate in a higher grade of his own class.

Officers without substantive appointments.

Section XXVIII.—An officer without a substantive appointment, officiating in an appointment the pay of which is not less than Rs. 100 per mensem, is entitled to an acting allowance of half the pay of the appointment.

Graded appointments.

Section XXIX.—If the appointment belongs to a graded class, the average pay of the grades (calculated without reference to the number of appointments in each grade) is deemed to be the pay of the appointment: Provided that the officiating officer's salary shall not exceed the pay of the lowest grade. This section does not apply to an officer who belongs to another Department, and is specially appointed to officiate in a grade other than the lowest.

Appointments of less than Rs. 200.

Section XXX.—If the pay of the appointment is less than Rs. 200, and the Local Government considers that the acting allowances admissible by rule are insufficient, it may grant to the officiating officer higher allowances not exceeding the difference between the pay of the appointment and the portion of it drawn by the absentee for whom he officiates.

Section XXXI.—The salary of an officer officiating in an appointment of which the pay is less than Rs. 100 per mensem, should, as far as practicable, be regulated by Sections XXVII. (b.) and XXVIII.; but the officer who appoints the substitute may allow him higher allowances not exceeding the difference between the pay of the appointment and the portion of it drawn by the absentee for whom he officiates.

Appointments of less than Rs. 100.

CHAPTER VIII.—PLURAL APPOINTMENTS.

Section XXXII.—The salary of an officer holding substantively, or officiating in, two or more independent appointments at one time, shall be regulated as follows:

Two or more appointments.

(a.)—He shall draw the highest salary to which he would be entitled if he held, or officiated in, any one of the appointments alone.

(b.)—For the other appointment or appointments, he shall draw such allowances as the Local Government may fix, not exceeding, for each appointment, half the salary which he would draw if he held or officiated in it alone.

(c.)—Provided that his aggregate salary shall not exceed the pay which he would draw in the most highly paid of the appointments, if he held it substantively and alone.

(d.)—This proviso may be dispensed with, if the Local Government declares that, for special reasons (to be communicated to the Supreme Government), it is necessary, on public grounds, to entrust to the one officer the duties of the several offices at once, and that the salary to which he would be limited by the proviso is insufficient.

[Illustration.—A Covenanted Civil Servant holding a substantive appointment, A, of which the pay is Rupees 1,000, is appointed, without being relieved of his own duties, to officiate in two appointments, B, of which the pay is Rupees 1,600, and C, of which the pay is Rupees 2,200.

	Rs.
If he held A only, he would draw	1,000
If he officiated in B only, he would draw pay Rupees 1,000, and acting allowance Rupees 400	1,400
If he officiated in C only, he would draw pay Rupees 1,000, and acting allowance Rupees 800	1,800
He will therefore draw for C (which carries the highest salary)	1,800

And but for proviso (c) he would be entitled for B and A, to such allowances as the Local Government might fix, not exceeding Rupees $\frac{1,400}{2} = 700$ for B, and $\frac{1,000}{2} = 500$ for A.

But in consequence of that proviso, his aggregate salary must be limited to Rupees 2,200 (the pay of appointment C), unless the declaration prescribed in clause (d) be made.]

Section XXXIII. (a.)—Section XXXII. does not apply to the case of an officer officiating at the same time in two or more appointments which are ordinarily held substantively by one individual. In such case the two appointments shall, for the purpose of calculating acting allowances, be treated as one appointment upon the aggregate pay.

Exceptions.

(b.)—Nor to the case of an officer discharging the duties of more than one appointment in the same office, or on the same establishment.

EXAMPLES.—One Under Secretary discharging the duties of a fellow Under Secretary in the same office or department as well as his own.

A Joint Magistrate appointed, in addition to his own duties, to officiate as Magistrate of the District. In this case, he gets allowances only as Officiating Magistrate of the District.

A District Judge deprived of the help of an Additional or Assistant Judge and therefore doing the Additional or Assistant Judge's work.

A Joint Magistrate doing the work of a second Joint Magistrate in the District, as well as his own.

A clerk doing the duties of a fellow clerk in his own office.

(c.)—Nor does that Section affect "local allowances" given for the performance of separate duties.

Section XXXIV. (a.)—An officer appointed, without being relieved of his own duties, to be in charge of the current duties of an office, is not ordinarily entitled to acting allowance.

Charge of current duties.

(b.)—But when an officer is appointed to be in charge of the current duties of a judicial office, or of a gazetted office in the Police Department, and the charge, in the opinion of the Local Government, entails a substantial increase of responsibility, besides some additional work, he is entitled to a charge allowance of one-tenth of the pay of the office. If the office is open to, and may in practice be held by, a Covenanted Civil Servant or an Officer of the Army, the minimum charge allowance is Rs. 100 per mensem.

(c.)—An officer of the Engineer Establishment of the Public Works Department, appointed without being relieved of his own duties, to be in charge of the current duties of an office of higher class than his own, is entitled to a charge allowance of one-tenth of the civil pay of the class. But the cases must be reported to the Government of India for confirmation.

No. 2567.

To all Departments of the Government of India, all Local Governments and Offices of Account, and Heads of Department under Financial Department.

I am directed to invite attention to the distinctive use of the words "pay" and "salary" adopted in the Covenanted Civil Service Leave Code, and in the Acting Allowance Code, and to request that, as far as may be convenient, the distinction may be observed in all official documents in future: "pay" being used in the sense of "substantive pay," and "salary" as including "acting allowance."

2. I am also to suggest that the term "deputation allowance" be restricted to the case of an allowance given to an officer deputed on special duty, and that allowances given under the Acting Allowance Code be called "acting allowances."

ESTABLISHMENT.

Simla, the 31st July 1871.

No. 296.—The following Notification of the Government of India in the Financial Department is re-published for information and guidance in this Department:

No. 1867, dated Simla, the 7th July 1871.

A charge for interest and commission was lately incurred by a public officer for funds obtained for a public purpose from a private firm. The officer was severely censured, but his motives having been unexceptionable, the Government agreed to pay the money.

2. Public officers of all ranks and departments are, however, hereby warned that to employ private agents, or to obtain funds from private agents for the public service, is wholly unauthorized and wrong, and that, in future, the Government will absolutely decline to pay any expenses thus incurred.

No. 297.—The following Notification of the Government of India in the Military Department is re-published for information and guidance in this Department:

No. 588, dated Simla, the 1st July 1871.

The following despatch from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India is published for general information and guidance:

MILITARY. INDIA OFFICE;
No. 114. London, the 27th April 1871.

To His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council.

MY LORD,—In the letter from the Government of India, dated the 23rd of June 1868, No. 239, it was recommended in the 22nd paragraph that all payments of the equivalent of Indian pay to officers on furlough at Home should be made at the exchange of two shillings for the rupee.

2. In the reply dated the 26th of August 1868, No. 297, Sir Stafford Northcote observed in the 16th paragraph that, "in accordance with the present practice," payments of that character would be made at the proposed rate of exchange.

3. Accordingly, in the General Order issued by the Government of India on the 10th November 1868, No. 1064, publishing the revised Furlough Rules of 1868, it was stated that furlough pay in all future orders and references would be understood as the half Indian salary, within the prescribed limits, converted at the exchange of two shillings for the rupee.

4. It is not clear whether it was intended by this order that furlough pay, issued to officers under the rules of 1854, should also be issued at this fixed rate.

5. As the rate of exchange has not varied since 1860-61 until the present financial year, for which it has been fixed at 1*s.* 11*d.*, it is only on the question at what rate furlough pay for the current quarter should be issued that my attention has been specially drawn to the point, although the order was sanctioned in my despatch dated the 31st of March 1869, No. 93.

6. On a careful consideration of the matter, it appears to me that there is no reason why the pay of officers in this country should be issued at a different rate from that at which those in India are allowed to remit a portion of their salary to England.

7. I have accordingly to request that your Lordship will at once issue an order cancelling so much of that of the 10th of November 1868, No. 1064, as fixed the uniform rate of two shillings, and announcing that all payments of furlough pay will be made at the current rate of exchange fixed for the official year.

8. Until the date of the General Order which you will issue under these instructions, payments of furlough pay will be made to officers, under whatever rules they may be, at the rate of two shillings for the rupee.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) ARGYLL.

With reference to the above, the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council is pleased to notify, with the sanction of the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, that officers who have embarked for England on furlough before this date will be exempted from the operation of this order for the period of their present furloughs.

The 1st August 1871.

No. 298.—Mr. H. Vacher, temporary Assistant Engineer, 1st Grade, Railway Branch, North-Western Provinces, is permanently appointed to the Public Works Department in that grade.

No. 300.—The following Notification in the Financial Department is re-published for information and guidance in the Public Works Department:

No. 2116, dated Simla, the 21st July 1871.

Under instructions from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, the Governor General in Council is pleased to notify that the rate of exchange fixed in the Financial Notification No. 836, dated 10th February 1871, for officers' remittances and effects, viz., 1*s.* 11*d.* per rupee for the year 1871-72, shall be adopted in the recovery in India, from civil engineers, mechanics, and others, of the portions of their salaries which have been made payable to their families in England.

2. The privilege of making family allotments in England will, for the future, as a general rule, be strictly confined to the class of mechanics, boiler-makers, &c., who would probably find it very difficult to make remittances through ordinary channels. Special cases, however, will be considered by the Secretary of State and decided on their merits.

3. The remittances to England of any civil officers who enjoy the privilege, and of the Administrator General and Official Trustee in each of the three Presidencies, will be adjusted from the current year, 1871-72, at the rate fixed for officers' remittances.

The 3rd August 1871.

No. 302.—Conductor A. Gibson, having forfeited his appointment in the Public Works Department by over-staying his leave to Europe, is re-appointed to the Public Works Department as Sub-Engineer, 3rd Grade, and posted to the Punjab.

FIBRES AND SILK.

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870:

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labour being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

3.—The requirements of the case appear to be some machinery or process capable of producing, with the aid of animal, water, or steam-power, a ton of fibre of a quality which shall average in value not less than £50 per ton in the English market, at a total cost—all processes of manufacture and allowance for wear and tear included—of not more than £15 per ton. The said processes are to be understood to include all the operations performed, after the cutting and transport of the plant to the place of manufacture to the completion of the manufacture of fibre of the quality above described. The machinery must be simple, strong, durable, and cheap, and should be suited for erection at or near the plantations, as the refuse is very useful as manure for continued cultivation.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are, therefore, requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

Rules for the better management and preservation of the Government Forests in Coorg.

I.—The following Rules are published for the administration of such Government forests in the Province of Coorg as have been defined in Notification No. of the instant:

Forest Rules: their object.

Officers appointed for their administration.

II.—The administration of these forests will be vested in the following officers:

(a.)—The Conservator of Forests, his Assistants, and the subordinate Forest Officers.

(b.)—The Superintendent of Coorg, and the subordinate Revenue Officers. It will also be the duty of all Police Officers to watch over the observance of these rules, and to afford every assistance to the Forest Officers in the exercise of their duties.

III.—The boundaries of Government forests will, wherever they do not run along a road or stream, or other well defined line, be demarcated by cleared boundary paths and permanent boundary marks. Wherever practicable, the boundary lines of Government forests and the boundary marks should be entered on maps which should be prepared in triplicate; one copy to be sent to the Conservator of Forests, one copy to remain with the Forest Officer in charge of the Division, the other to be deposited in the Office of the Superintendent of Coorg. In special cases, the Chief Commissioner of Coorg may authorize the demarcation of State forests by natural boundaries without cleared paths, and without artificial boundary marks. In like manner, the Chief Commissioner may dispense with the preparation of the map showing the boundary lines as here prescribed.

Government forests how demarcated.

Proclamation of the demarcation of Government forests and their boundaries will be publicly made in the talook where they are situated, and notified in the Mysore Gazette.

IV.—In Government forests no land should be alienated without the orders of the Government of India.

In Government forests no land to be alienated.

V.—The Government forests will be under the exclusive control of the Officers of the Forest Department. Unauthorized felling, cutting, lopping, marking, or injuring of trees, shrubs or bamboos, or the collection of leaves, grass, gums, resins, and other forest produce, the clearing of land for kumri cultivation, the setting fire to grass or jungle, the grazing of cattle, or any act that is likely to damage the forests, is prohibited, and will be punished by fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, and in default of payment of such fine by imprisonment for such term as is provided in the 67th Section of the Indian Penal Code.

Government forests to be strictly preserved.

VI.—Existing roads or pathways through the Government forests may be used as far as is compatible with the conservancy of the forests; but the Conservator of Forests, with the concurrence of the Superintendent of the Province, may close any existing roads or pathways through any Government forests, whenever he may deem it requisite to do so. Public notice of the closing of such a road shall be given in the talook or talooks where the forest is situated.

Trespass in Government forests.

Ingress to the Government forests without permission, except by authorised roads and footpaths, is prohibited. FIBRES AND SILK.

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870:

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labour being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are, therefore, requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

FIBRES AND SILK.

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870:

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labour being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are, therefore, requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

NOTIFICATIONS.

FIBRES AND SILK.

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870:

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labour being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are, therefore, requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

POLITICAL.

The 29th August 1871.

No. 1829.—His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General in Council is pleased to recognize the appointment of Mr. Henri Martine as Vice-Consul for France at Madras.

The 1st September 1871.

No. 1853.—On Thursday, the 31st August, at noon, His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor Ceneral held a durbar at Peterhoff for the reception of the Chiefs of the Hill States between the Jumna and Sutlej.

A guard of honor was drawn up in front of Government House. The Rajas of Nalagurh, Bussahir, Belaspoor, and Sirmoor were received with the salutes due to their rank.

When all the Chiefs were assembled, the Viceroy and Governor General entered the durbar tent, accompanied by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the Hon'ble Members of Council, the Commissioner and Agent to the Lieutenant-Governor of the Cis-Sutlej States, the Secretaries to the Government of India, and officers of the Personal Staff. A royal salute was fired and the band played "God save the Queen."

The Rajas, Ranas, Thakoors and their attendants were introduced one by one to His Excellency the Viceroy,—the Rajas by the Foreign Secretary, and the remainder by the Under Secretary.

As each Raja, Rana or Thakoor was introduced, he presented his proper nuzzur. When the introductions were completed, khilluts were conferred. The Viceroy and Governor General then addressed the assembled Chiefs as follows:

RAJAS, CHIEFS, AND THAKOORS,—I rejoice to see you here to-day, coming, as you do, to pay homage to the Queen in the person of her Representative, and to shew your friendly feelings towards the British Government.

For a long time, under its protecting rule, the Chiefs and People of these Sub-Himalayan Hills have not heard the voice of war—safety everywhere prevails—crime is happily scarce—serious disputes are rare—the industrious cultivator takes undisturbed from the steep hill-side such produce as it can yield; and for 56 years profound peace has prevailed in all your villages,—from the snowy peaks to the plain—from the Sutlej to the Jumna.

Since the days of the Ghoorka war, you have ever evinced towards our Sovereign the most unwavering loyalty; on some occasions, when opportunity offered, you have given practical proof of the sentiments you entertain.

I am happy to think that in no part of Hindostan are Chiefs and People better affected towards British rule than in the Cis-Sutlej Hills.

I know that you will always continue in this course, and in return let me assure you that you will ever receive the constant protection of this Government; that your rights, your property, and your dignity will ever be maintained. All we ask is, that you will discountenance and absolutely forbid oppression in every form within your States, and do what lies in your power to assist, improve, educate, and enrich your dependants and your ryots—that you will discourage the evil-disposed and promote and reward the good. Thus will your State flourish, your revenue increase, you and your families maintain your ancient rank and position, and command the respect of all.

In the present Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab and his officers, to whose peculiar care your interests are committed, you will find disinterested counsellors and true friends. Apply then freely to them when you are in want of assistance and advice.

I now bid you farewell, assuring you that it will always give me the greatest gratification to hear of your health, your prosperity, and happiness.

A translation of the address in Hindoostanee was then read by the Foreign Secretary, after which uttur and pân were distributed by the Foreign Secretary to the Rajas, by the Under Secretary to the Ranas and Thakoors, and by the Assistant Commissioner of Simla to the Zaildars and Attendants.

The Viceroy and Governor General then left the durbar under a royal salute, followed by the cortége which accompanied His Excellency on his entrance, and the assembly was dismissed.

FIBRES AND SILK.

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870:

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labour being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are, therefore, requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

POLITICAL.

Simla, the 1st September 1871.

No. 1853.—On Thursday, the 31st August, at noon, His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General held a durbar at Peterhoff for the reception of the Chiefs of the Hill States between the Jumna and Sutlej.

A guard of honor was drawn up in front of Government House. The Rajas of Sirmoor and Belaspoor were received with the salutes due to their rank.

When all the Chiefs were assembled, the Viceroy and Governor General entered the durbar tent, accompanied by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the Hon'ble Members of Council, the Commissioner and Agent to the Lieutenant-Governor of the Cis-Sutlej States, the Secretaries to the Government of India, and officers of the Personal Staff. A royal salute was fired and the band played "God save the Queen."

The Rajas, Ranas, Thakoors and their attendants were introduced one by one to His Excellency the Viceroy,—the Rajas by the Foreign Secretary, and the remainder by the Under Secretary.

As each Raja, Rana or Thakoor was introduced, he presented his proper nuzzur. When the introductions were completed, khilluts were conferred. The Viceroy and Governor General then addressed the assembled Chiefs as follows:

> RAJAS, CHIEFS, AND THAKOORS,—I rejoice to see you here to-day, coming, as you do, to pay homage to the Queen in the person of her Representative, and to shew your friendly feelings towards the British Government.
> For a long time, under its protecting rule, the Chiefs and People of these Sub-Himalayan Hills have not heard the voice of war—safety everywhere prevails—crime is happily scarce—serious disputes are rare—the industrious cultivator takes undisturbed from the steep hill-side such produce as it can yield; and for 56 years profound peace has prevailed in all your villages,—from the snowy peaks to the plain—from the Sutlej to the Jumna.
> Since the days of the Ghoorka war, you have ever evinced towards our Sovereign the most unwavering loyalty; on some occasions, when opportunity offered, you have given practical proof of the sentiments you entertain.
> I am happy to think that in no part of Hindostan are Chiefs and People better affected towards British rule than in the Cis-Sutlej Hills.
> I know that you will always continue in this course, and in return let me assure you that you will ever receive the constant protection of this Government; that your rights, your property, and your dignity will ever be maintained. All we ask is, that you will discountenance and absolutely forbid oppression in every form within your States, and do what lies in your power to assist, improve, educate, and enrich your dependants and your ryots—that you will discourage the evil-disposed and promote and reward the good. Thus will your State flourish, your revenue increase, you and your families maintain your ancient rank and position, and command the respect of all.
> In the present Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab and his officers, to whose peculiar care your interests are committed, you will find disinterested counsellors and true friends. Apply then freely to them when you are in want of assistance and advice.
> I now bid you farewell, assuring you that it will always give me the greatest gratification to hear of your health, your prosperity, and happiness.

A translation of the address in Hindoostanee was then read by the Foreign Secretary, after which uttur and pân were distributed by the Foreign Secretary to the Rajas, by the Under Secretary to the Ranas and Thakoors, and by the Assistant Commissioner of Simla to the Zaildars and Attendants.

The Viceroy and Governor General then left the durbar under a royal salute, followed by the cortégé which accompanied His Excellency on his entrance, and the assembly was dismissed.

FIBRES AND SILK.

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870:

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labour being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

3.—The requirements of the case appear to be some machinery or process capable of producing, with the aid of animal, water, or steam-power, a ton of fibre of a quality which shall average in value not less than £50 per ton in the English market, at a total cost—all processes of manufacture and allowance for wear and tear included—of not more than £15 per ton. The said processes are to be understood to include all the operations performed, after the cutting and transport of the plant to the place of manufacture to the completion of the manufacture of fibre of the quality above described. The machinery must be simple, strong, durable, and cheap, and should be suited for erection at or near the plantations, as the refuse is very useful as manure for continued cultivation.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are, therefore, requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

NOTIFICATIONS.

FIBRES AND SILK.

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870:

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labour being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are, therefore, requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

Simla, the 16th September 1871.

No. 3206.—His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Viceroy and Governor General in Council has resolved to pay off the Five per cent. loan of the 28th February 1857, raised by the Government of India in pursuance of advertisement in the Calcutta Gazette of the 16th January 1857, to which additions or transfers have been made under subsequent notifications; the loan being commonly known as the New Five Per Cent. Loan of 1856-57.

2. It is intended to discharge the loan at the expiration of the term guaranteed in the original notification, viz., on the 16th January 1872, and formal notice of this intention will be published on the 16th October next.

3. In anticipation of such notice, His Excellency has determined to offer to the holders of this loan the option of transferring the amount of their holdings, to the extent of one hundred and thirty-five millions of rupees, into a new loan (which may be called the Transfer Loan, 1872) to be opened upon the following terms:

(a.)—Promissory Notes will be issued for sums of Rs. 500, and for sums above that amount, in even hundreds of rupees; the notes will be payable to order, and interest thereon will be paid half-yearly, on the 16th January and 16th July in each year.

(b.)—Interest will be paid on this Loan at the rate of four-and-a-half per centum per annum during the first seven years of currency; and, thenceforward, viz., from the 16th January 1879 inclusive, at the rate of four per centum per annum.

(c.)—The notes will be issued in a form similar to that employed for the notes of the Four Per Cent. Loan of 1st May 1865.

(d.)—No part of the loan now announced will be paid off before the 16th January 1882, nor without a previous notice of three months, to be issued at any time after the 15th October 1881.

(e.)—Applications in writing from persons who may desire to make such transfer should be made to the Secretary and Treasurer of any of the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, or to the officer in charge of any Government Treasury at which the interest on the present loan is payable. Such application must be accompanied by the notes which it is desired to transfer, receipted as follows: "Received the contents by transfer into the Transfer Loan 1872, advertised in the Gazette of India Extraordinary, dated Simla, the 16th September 1871."

(f.)—His Grace the Secretary of State for India has been requested to receive tenders for the transfer, under this Notification, of any notes of the Five Per Cent. Loan of 1856-57 held in England.

(g.)—Interest at five per cent. to the date of advertised discharge will be paid to proprietors, in anticipation, on the surrender of their notes for transfer into the new loan.

(h.)—No application for transfer will be received after the 15th November next.

(i.)—The new Transfer Loan will be allotted to applicants in the order in which the notes tendered for transfer are received, whether in India or in England; the difference of time between England and India being reckoned to be six hours. In case several applications are received simultaneously, which cannot all be complied with, the available amount will be issued rateably in proportion to the amounts of the applications.

4. It being deemed expedient to increase the investment of the Paper Currency reserve, Promissory Notes will be issued to the Currency Department in exchange for coin amounting to not more than twenty-seven millions of rupees, and not more than the excess of the amount of the loan of the 28th February 1857 now outstanding, over 135 millions of rupees.

5. The notes issued to the Currency Department will be in all respects the same, and subject to the same conditions, as the existing notes of the Four Per Cent. Loan dated 1st February 1843, commonly known as the Fifth Four Per Cent. Loan of 1842-43, of which loan they will form a part. The price to be paid by the Currency Department will be the market price of notes of the said loan on the 16th January 1872.

By Order of His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Viceroy and Governor General in Council.

The preceding Notification will be published simultaneously in the principal local Government Gazettes in India, and a similar Notification will be published simultaneously by His Grace the Secretary of State in London.

ESTABLISHMENT.

Simla, the 9th September 1871.

No. 349.—The following is published for general information:

INDIAN CIVIL ENGINEERING COLLEGE, COOPER'S HILL, SURREY.

REVISED PROSPECTUS FOR 1871.

This college has been established at Cooper's Hill, Surrey, under the orders of the Secretary of State for India in Council, in view to the education of civil engineers for the service of Government in the Indian Public Works Department. The college course will ordinarily extend over three years (subject to the exceptions stated in paragraphs 6 and 7), and all the students who pass through it successfully will be appointed to the Indian Public Works Department as assistant engineers, second grade, the salary of which grade is 4,200 Rupees (about 420*l.*) per annum, and will be provided with a free passage to India. The system which it is in contemplation to pursue is described in the following regulations:

2. Admission to the college will be obtained by competitive examination, to which all British-born subjects between the ages of 17 and 21 years on the first day of the autumn term,* and of sound constitution, who can produce satisfactory testimonials of good moral character, will be eligible. If this evidence should be primâ facie satisfactory, applicants will be allowed to compete; but further evidence will, if necessary, be required from the successful candidates. Intending competitors will be required to furnish satisfactory evidence on these points to the Civil Service Commissioners, not later than the 20th May.†

3. The competitive examination, which will also form the preliminary test for those candidates who, under the conditions stated in paragraph 6, qualify for direct admission to the public service, without going through the college course, will commence on Tuesday, June 13th, will be conducted under the orders of the Civil Service Commissioners, and will embrace the following subjects:

		Marks assigned.
(1.)	English Composition ... ... 500 History and literature 500	1,000
(2.)	Mathematics, pure and mixed	2,000
(3.)	Latin	1,000
(4.)	Greek	1,000
(5.)	French	750
(6.)	German	750
(7.)	Natural and experimental sciences, limited to not more that three of the four following branches, viz., (1) chemistry; (2) heat and light; (3) electricity and magnetism; and (4) geology and physical geography	2,000
(8.)	Mechanical (geometrical) drawing, including perspective ...	500
(9.)	Freehand (figure and landscape) drawing	500

4. Of these subjects two will be compulsory, viz.,—

(1.) English Composition to the extent of a candidate's being able to write grammatically and with correct spelling.

(2.) The following branches of mathematics, viz., arithmetic, algebra, geometry (first four and sixth books of Euclid), mensuration, and plane trigonometry, in which the candidate will be required to obtain not less than one-fourth of the aggregate marks assigned to them.

5. A minimum of one-fifth of the total number of marks allowed for each subject (except mathematics) will be deducted from all marks gained by a candidate in it at the competitive examination.

* The autumn term will commence this year on the 8th August.

† The needful forms of application, with instructions for filling them up, and as to the nature of the evidence required, may be obtained from the Secretary, Civil Service Commissioners, Cannonrow, Westminster, S. W.

6. The fifty candidates who, qualifying in the obligatory subjects, obtain the highest aggregate number of marks, will either be admitted to the college, or such of them as shall have already completed their professional studies, and shall have passed not less than one year as pupil to a civil or mechanical engineer in actual practice, may apply to be at once examined in the subjects* comprising the final qualifying standard for the engineer service. This examination will embrace in addition to papers on theoretical subjects, the execution of a certain quantity of drawing, estimating, surveying, &c., which will occupy some weeks in performance, and it will be conducted at the college, but by independent examiners. A candidate who undergoes this examination successfully will thereon be at once appointed to the public service as an assistant engineer, second grade, and the college fee for one term which had to be paid in advance will be remitted. Should the candidate, however, not have already served a pupilage as above, he will be placed with a civil or mechanical engineer, selected with the approval of the Secretary of State, to go through a practical course, at his own expense, on the satisfactory completion of which he will receive his appointment.

7. Similarly, students, who although not coming up to the full standard of qualification, may be reported by the examiners to be sufficiently advanced in their professional studies to enter at once on the second year's course, will be placed in the second year's class of the college accordingly.

8. The college course will extend, as above stated, over three years, each divided into three terms, with vacations of four weeks at Christmas, two weeks at Easter, and seven weeks in the summer. The Easter term begins on the 15th of January, and ends on the Wednesday next before Easter Sunday. The summer term begins 14 days afterwards, and ends on the 29th July. The autumn term begins on the 16th of September, and ends on the 18th December. [But on the first opening of the college the autumn term will begin in August.]

9. An annual charge of 150*l.* will be made for each student, in three payments of 50*l.* per term, which must be paid in advance to the Accountant General, India Office.

10. But in the case of a student whose parents or guardians may represents their inability to defray the whole of this charge, payment of a part not exceeding 20*l.* per term or 60*l.* per annum can be deferred, and effected by deductions from the student's salary during the three first years after his admission to the Government service. In such case he will be required to signify beforehand his own consent to the arrangement, and security must be given for payment of the deferred portions of the college fees, in the event of the student failing to enter the Government service. The needful form of application for admission to the benefit of this rule will be obtainable, after July next, at the Public Works Department of the India Office.

11. Of the nine terms into which the college course is divided, it is intended that two terms at least in the third year, with the intervening vacation, shall be passed by the student under a civil or mechanical engineer, or partly under each. The fees to the engineers under whom the students are thus detached will be paid by the Indian Government, and an allowance of 5*s.* a day will also be made to the student, for lodging money and in lieu of commons while absent from the college during term time. This third year's course of practical instruction will, however, be dispensed with in the case of those students who have already gone through an equivalent course before entering the college.

12. The obligatory subjects of study at the college will be,—

Mathematics, pure and applied, with the mechanics of engineering.
Civil and mechanical engineering.
Elementary principles of architecture.
Surveying.
Mechanical drawing.
Physical science.
Hindustani and history and geography of India.
Accounts.

The optional subjects taught will be,—

Higher mathematics in extension of the obligatory course.
Physical science, ditto.
Architecture, ditto.
Freehand drawing.

* Hindustani will not be included in the examination of 1871.

13. The proficiency of the students in the studies pursued will be tested by periodical examinations, and by assigning values to the drawings, surveys, reports, &c., executed by them while at the college, as well as to the work done while detached under civil or mechanical engineers.

14. A certain minimum of qualification will be required in each of the obligatory subjects, as well as a certain minimum of average proficiency in all those subjects taken together, as tested by the aggregate marks gained; but students will be encouraged to pursue more particularly those branches of either the obligatory or voluntary course for which they may show special aptitude.

15. This qualifying standard of proficiency as above defined, and as fixed for each year, is to be attained by the student at the end of the first and second year, failing which he will not be allowed to remain at the college.

16. A final examination will be held at the end of the third year in July. This final examination will also include Latin, Greek, French, and German as optional subjects, although no instruction will be given in them at the college. The whole subjects of examination will be divided into four branches, viz.,—

I.—Engineering, including drawing and surveying.
II.—Mathematics, including the mechanics of engineering.
III.—Physical science.
IV.—Languages, ancient and modern, including Hindustani and history and geography of India.

The proficiency of the students will be recorded separately in each of these branches in order of merit.

17. All the students who attain the prescribed qualifying standard at the final examination will be appointed to the public service on the terms already stated. They will be required to embark for India in the beginning of October following.

18. In the case of those subjects of which the required course may be completed by the end of the second year, the marks gained at the examination in that year will be carried forward to the student's credit in the final examination.

19. The system of instruction will be partly what is usually termed professional, by delivery of lectures; and partly tutorial, that is, in supervision of and assistance given to the students in their work. There will be specified courses of lectures and times of instruction, at which attendance will be obligatory, but the professors and instructors in each branch will also give additional instruction to those who desire it.

20. It is intended that the college staff shall consist of the following officers:

The President.
Professor and Assistant Professor of Engineering.
Professor and Assistant Professor of Mathematics.
Professor and Assistant Professor of Surveying.
Professor of Physical Science.
Instructor and Assistant Instructor in Mechanical Drawing.
Instructor in Landscape Drawing.
Lecturer in Hindustani and History of India.

21. Additional lecturers will be engaged from time to time for special subjects, as architecture, geology, &c., as well as special examiners for the examinations.

22. A laboratory and model-room will be attached to the college.

23. The sole responsibility for the discipline and management of the college, and for the general superintendence of the studies, is vested in the president.

24. The students will be distributed in sections, each containing from 10 to 20, under personal charge of one of the professors or assistant professors selected as tutor by the president, to whom the tutor will be responsible for exercising a certain degree of personal supervision over each student in his division, and for conducting ordinary correspondence with the student's friends.

25. Each student will be provided with a separate room furnished, and with fuel and light, also with the necessary attendance. He will be required to supply his own linen, &c., for use in his rooms. Students will dine in hall. They may take other meals in their own rooms, certain fixed allowances being supplied as commons. Additional articles required will be supplied from the college kitchen at a fixed tariff, under such rules as may from time to time be made. Wine can also be supplied at cost price from the college cellar.

26. The necessary provision will be made for the performance of Divine Service at or near the college.

27. Students will be required to wear academical dress under such regulations as may be prescribed by the president.

28. Students will be required to make their own arrangements for medical attendance when necessary, from persons approved by the president.

FIBRES AND SILK.

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870;

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labour being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are, therefore, requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

FIBRES AND SILK.

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870:

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labour being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are, therefore, requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

SEPARATE REVENUE.

The 30th September 1871.

No. 4032.—In supersession of the rules published in Financial Notification No. 1865, dated 10th March 1870, the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following revised code of rules for the treatment of official correspondence, the provisions of which will apply to all official correspondence posted in India on and after 1st January 1872.

2. With reference to these rules the Governor General in Council is pleased to prescribe that all charges incurred by public officers for service postage stamps must be supported by the receipt of a treasury officer or of some other public officer authorised to retail service stamps, and similarly all charges for postage paid on covers, whether "Service Bearing," or "On Her Majesty's Service," must be supported by the covers with the amount of the charge marked on them under the initial of the Post Master or Deputy Post Master who received the payment:

REVISED CODE OF RULES FOR REGULATING THE TREATMENT OF OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

A.—PRIVILEGED OFFICES.

(1.) The officials and public offices enumerated in the annexed list will be privileged to send and receive by inland post (without payment of postage) covers bonâ fide and exclusively on Her Majesty's Service.

B.—OFFICES NOT PRIVILEGED.

(4.) Offices not privileged consist of those Government offices which are not included in the list, and do not therefore enjoy the privilege referred to in Rule (1).

(Official designation.)

(5.) Official covers from offices not privileged and addressed to other than privileged offices, should be prepaid* by service postage stamps purchased at the Government treasury or other local stamp depôt. These stamps, when used in payment of postage, must be supported by the superscription on the cover "On Her Majesty's Service" under the full signature and official designation of the Government (a) officer who sends the cover. The superscription and signature should be entered in the form marginally given.† Service stamps affixed to a cover without the above superscription will not be recognised by the Post Office in payment of postage. Treasury officers are enjoined not to sell service stamps to any but Government officials.

C.—CORRESPONDENCE SUPERSCRIBED "SERVICE BEARING."

(6.) Communications sent by Government officers in their official capacity, which relate nevertheless to the private interests and concerns of the individuals addressed, may be endorsed according to the specimen form given on the margin,* under the full signature and official designation of the person by whom they are sent. Covers so addressed will be regarded by the Post Office as private letters, but will be charged on delivery with bearing postage at "forward" (i. e., prepaid) rates, and not at double rates. Under this head come replies sent to communications of the kind noted in the margin † as well as any other communications of a like kind which Government officers may make to individuals (whether private persons or Government officers) relating to the private interests of the addressees.

* Service Bearing.

To

A. B.,
CALCUTTA.

C. D.,
Accountant General.

† Petitions, applications for appointment, requests for transfer, enquiries about title to leave, &c.

(7.) Communications sent by private persons to Government officials, relating to the affairs of Government and endorsed according to the specimen form given on the margin, under the full signature of the sender (the address including the full official designation of the public office to which the cover is sent), will be charged on delivery at the rate to which they would have been liable if prepaid by stamps. This rule is intended to provide for cases of zemindars reporting the occurrence of crime to a police officer, of employers of laborers sending returns required by the Protector, and of any similar reports or returns authorized to be so sent.

To

THE DISTRICT SUPERINTENDENT OF POLICE, LUCKNOW.

Signature of sender.

(8.) In cases where it is not thought advisable to entrust postage stamps to a subordinate official who has to correspond with, or send returns to, a superior (not being a privileged officer), he may be allowed by his superior to address official covers to him under the above rule, and the same course may be adopted in other cases where it is found convenient or proper to make the postage charge fall on the receiving office.

D.—MISCELLANEOUS.

(9.) Covers sent by an unprivileged office properly superscribed, but without stamps, will be charged with postage on delivery at prepaid rates; and if the stamps affixed be insufficient, the deficiency will be charged. Any irregularity or incompleteness of the address or superscription of a cover (whether posted by a privileged or unprivileged office), will render it liable to be treated as an ordinary unpaid cover, any service stamps which it may bear not being recognised.

(a) This may be either the Head of the Office himself, or the Superintendent, Head Clerk or other responsible officer to whom the duty of despatching is entrusted. The particular officer who signs the cover must enter in full his own official designation in order that his individual responsibility may be enforced in cases of doubt or fraud.

(10.) Official covers marked for transmission by letter post, book post, or banghy post, will be forwarded and charged accordingly, provided that the maximum weight as per margin is in no case exceeded. The limit of size prescribed for ordinary book packets (a) does not apply to service packets, nor do the rules (a) relative to the mode of packing book packets in covers open at the end, or of packing banghy parcels in wax-cloth or tin with seals, &c., apply. But all service covers must be securely packed.

Eight seers (640 tolas) when transmitted along any line of road served by runners, and in other cases 25 seers (2,000 tolas).

(11.) Official covers (b) not marked for transmission by any particular means, will (except as respects gazettes specially provided for below) be forwarded by letter post if they do not exceed 10 tolas, and by book post if they exceed that limit. Gazettes superscribed as such will be forwarded by letter post.

(12.) Official communications addressed to Government offices "On Her Majesty's Service" or "Service Bearing" under the prescribed superscription and signature, are not liable to additional postage on account of re-direction.

(13.) Government officers are bound to receive and pay any postage (c) which may be due on covers addressed to them under the superscription "On Her Majesty's Service." If the charge of postage results from any irregularity or omission on the part of the sender, his fault should be represented to the proper authority.

(14.) Officers in charge of telegraph offices, when posting telegraph messages for onward transmission by post, are entitled to get receipts for them. Such receipts must be presented ready written in the form ordinarily used by the telegraph offices when delivering telegraph messages to the addressees. The Post Master will compare the receipt so presented with the address of the cover accompanying it, and, if correct, will affix the post office stamp in acknowledgment of receipt. All covers for which receipts are claimed under this rule must be superscribed with the word "telegram," and must be fully prepaid.

(15.) Government officers when on leave, and those who have retired from the service of Government, can correspond only as private individuals.

E.—OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE WITH PLACES ABROAD, OR BETWEEN INDIAN POST OFFICES WHEN CONVEYED BY BRITISH OR FRENCH MAIL PACKETS.

(16.) The rules contained in the preceding sections relate exclusively to official inland correspondence, i. e., correspondence conveyed between one Indian Post Office and another by Her Majesty's Indian Post.

(17.) Official correspondence with places abroad or between Indian Post Offices when conveyed by British or French mail packets (e. g., between Calcutta and Madras, or between Bombay and Aden), is governed by the same rules as ordinary private correspondence, and must either be prepaid by service stamps (under the superscription and signature prescribed by Rule 5), or, where prepayment is optional, be forwarded as unpaid, subject to the levy of postage on delivery.

(18.) The only exception to the preceding rule has reference to official letters (not newspapers or book or pattern packets) sent by British packet to or from the public functionaries or departments in London, which have special accounts for overland letter postage with the London Post Office. Official letters intended for such offices need not be prepaid if superscribed as "On Her Majesty's Service" under the full signature and official designation of the sender. The public functionaries or departments in London, which have accounts with the London Post Office, are Adjutant General's Office, Admiralty, Audit Office, Board of Trade, Chancellor (Lord), Charity Commissioners, Chelsea Hospital, Civil Service Commissioners, Coast Guard Office, Colonial Office, Colonial Land and Emigration Commissioners, Commander-in-Chief's Office, Council Office, Court of Probate, Custom House, East India House, Foreign Office, Home Office, Inland Revenue Office, Irish Office, Merchant Seamen's Office, Military Secretary, Horse Guards, Ordnance Office, Pay Master General's Office, Poor Law Commissioners, Post Office, Quarter Master General's Office, Science and Art Office, Stationery Office, Tithe Commissioners, The Queen, Treasury, Registrar General's Office, War Office, Woods and Forests Office, Works, Buildings, &c., Office.

(a) The concession of these privileges in respect to service book post packets will render the use of the banghy post for service packets but rarely necessary. No service packet will ever be sent by banghy post unless specially superscribed for transmission by that method (vide Rule 11). As the rate of charge by book post is one anna per 10 tolas, and the rate of charge by banghy post is three annas per 10 tolas, it is obviously far more economical to employ the former than the latter.

(b) Officials are warned against unnecessarily superscribing for transmission by letter post covers exceeding 10 tolas in weight. A comparison of the rates given in the margin of paragraph 4 will show how much the expense of the letter post exceeds that of the book post in respect to heavy packets.

(c) The postage due on covers delivered either "Service Bearing," or "On Her Majesty's Service," is to be marked on the cover under the initials of the Post Master or Deputy Post Master.

No. 423, dated Fort William, the 20th January 1871.

RESOLUTION.—The Governor General in Council observes that the admission into the service of other than young men tends to throw upon the state an undue liability in respect of pensionary allowances.

His Excellency in Council is accordingly pleased to declare that, as a general rule, no person should be admitted into the Uncovenanted Service of Government after he has attained the age of 25 years. But if, for special reasons, any one is, after this date, admitted at a later age, then, in the event of his being required to retire under the operation of any rule for the removal of officers from the service as superannuated on their attaining a particular age, the pension to which he would, but for this rule, be entitled, shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of years of pensionable service he has completed bears to 30 years—the full period required for a good service pension.

For instance, if an officer so retiring has completed 20 years' service, then his pension will be one-third of his average pay* multiplied by $\frac{20}{30}$, if he has completed 26 years, then it will be half his average pay* multiplied by $\frac{26}{30}$.

* For the last five years of his service, the limit of Rs. 2,000, Rs. 3,000, Rs. 4,000, or Rs. 5,000 is to be applied before and not after this multiplication.

FIBRES AND SILK.

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870:

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labour being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are, therefore, requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Simla, the 18th October 1871.

No. 11.—His Excellency the Governor General, under the authority vested in him by 24 & 25 Vic., cap. 67, sec. 10, is pleased to nominate Francis Steuart Chapman, Esq., of the Bombay Civil Service, to be an Additional Member of the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations.

No. 12.—The following Act relates to India and is hereby published for general information:

34 & 35 VICTORIA, CAP. 34.

An Act to extend in certain respects the power of Local Legislatures in India as regards European British subjects.

[29th June 1871.]

Whereas it is expedient that the power of making laws and regulations conferred on Governors of Presidencies in India in Council by the Indian Councils Act, 24 & 25 Vic., c. 67, sec. 42., should in certain respects be extended:

Be it enacted by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

Power to Local Legislatures to confer jurisdiction over European British subjects to magistrates in certain cases.

1. No law or regulation heretofore made or hereafter to be made by any Governor or Lieutenant-Governor in Council in India in manner prescribed by the aforesaid Act shall be invalid only by reason that it confers on magistrates, being justices of the peace, the same jurisdiction over European British subjects as such Governor or Lieutenant-Governor in Council, by regulations made as aforesaid, could have lawfully conferred or could lawfully confer on magistrates in the exercise of authority over natives in the like cases.

2. When evidence has been given in any proceeding under this Act before a magistrate, being a justice of the peace, which appears to be sufficient for the conviction of the accused person, being an European British subject, of an offence for which, if a native, he would under existing law be triable exclusively before the Court of Session, or which, in the opinion of the magistrate, is one which ought to be tried by the High Court, the accused person, if such European British subject, shall be sent for trial by the magistrate before the High Court.

Committal of defendant (being an European British subject) to the High Court.
Indian Act No. XXV of 1861, s. 226.

3. And whereas by an Act passed by the Governor General of India in Council, Indian Act No. XXII of 1870, it is provided that certain Acts heretofore passed by the Governors of Madras and Bombay respectively in Council, and by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, shall, so far as regards the liability of European British subjects to be convicted and punished thereunder, be and be deemed to be as valid as if they had been passed by the Governor General of India in Council at a meeting for the purpose of making laws and regulations: Be it further enacted, that the said Governors and Lieutenant-Governor in Council respectively shall have power to repeal and amend any of the said Acts so declared valid, by Acts to be passed under the provisions of the Indian Councils Act.

Power to Local Legislatures to amend and repeal certain laws.

FIBRES AND SILK.

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870:

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labour being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are, therefore, requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

RESOLUTION.—The position of the Government of India, and the difficulty experienced by Native States and public bodies in obtaining competent officers without its assistance, frequently render it necessary for the Government, for political and for public reasons, to transfer its officers to service paid for from sources other than its own revenues. Such transfers would, as a general rule, be impossible if the condition were insisted on that the officer transferred should give up his privileges as an officer in the service of the Government of India; and in the papers above read, the question is discussed what financial arrangements are proper to be made in the case of officers of Government lent to, or transferred to service paid by, Native States, Municipalities, and other bodies financially independent of the Government of India, such as Courts of Wards, Port Trusts, &c., and permitted at the same time to retain their privileges as servants of the Government of India.

2. The remuneration of officers of Government may be thus classified—

Immediate—their pay and allowances while on duty,

Contingent—their absentee allowances,

Deferred—their pensionary allowances;

and such officers, when lent to Native States, &c., though they obtain their "immediate" remuneration from the State or Fund at the charge of which they are employed, look, for the most part, to the Government of India for their "contingent" and "deferred" remuneration.

3. It may sometimes be expedient, for special reasons, that the Government of India should bear such charges; but, as a rule, it is not so; and it is necessary to prescribe the conditions which should be imposed, so that such charges may be avoided, unless the Government, for special reasons, accepts them.

4. The Government of India have accordingly resolved to require, on account of every officer lent or transferred to a Native State, or a Municipality or other financially independent body, who is permitted to retain his position in relation to the service of Government, and his claims to absentee and pensionary allowances under the rules of the service to which he belongs, and with regard to whom the exemption contemplated in paragraph 3 is not declared, a contribution proportional to the salary which he receives, and regulated on the following principles.

5. In the first place it is to the officers themselves, and not to their employers, that the Government will look for the contribution required; any other course would be productive of difficulty and inconvenience.

6. In the second place, a calculation founded upon such data as are available shews that the cost to Government of the charges above classed as contingent and deferred (excluding, however, privilege leave allowances), is about one-quarter of the amount actually disbursed in the form of "immediate" remuneration.

7. The Government of India will therefore require from officers whose services are lent or transferred as contemplated in paragraph 4, a contribution of one-fifth of their pay and acting allowance, that is, they will receive from their employers pay and acting allowance fixed, in accordance with the rules of the Government service, with relation to the appointments which they hold, or in which they officiate, and retaining four-fifths, will transfer one-fifth to Government. In return for this contribution, the Government will undertake to pay their absentee allowances (except in the case of privilege leave), and their pensionary allowances, in the same manner, and to the same extent, as if they were in the service of Government, save only that the calculation of such allowances will be based only upon the four-fifths which they retain, instead of upon the full amount which they receive of pay and acting allowance.

8. A Native officer will be permitted, if he prefers it, to resign all claim to allowances during leave (except privilege leave), and in such case the contribution required of him will be only twelve per cent. The contribution required in respect of inferior servants is one anna in the rupee.

9. And with the special permission of the Government of India in the Financial Department, officers may make the contribution provided for in paragraph 7 in respect of a less sum (not being less than two-thirds) of their actual allowances, in which case their absentee and pensionary allowances will be calculated as if their actual salary were four-fifths of the amount in respect of which they make their contribution.

10. As to privilege leave to all officers in the position referred to in this resolution, the Government of India cannot make arrangements. Privilege leave is at all times especially subject to the discretion of the Government or body which employs the officer; and though an officer lent to Native States, &c., will retain his general claim to privilege leave in the manner provided by the rules of the Government service, he must be left to arrange the times of taking it, and the amount to be taken, with his employer, in the same way as in the Government service he has to arrange them with the Government. An officer must continue during privilege leave to pay the contribution required by paragraphs 7 and 8.

11. As regards officers transferred to local funds, the resolution of this Department No. 2197, dated 24th April 1868, empowered the Local Governments, in certain cases, to admit pensions chargeable to such funds, and they have power also to grant absentee allowances from them. In the case of an officer permanently transferred to service paid from a fund to which these conditions are declared by the Local Government to be applicable, no contribution will be required, as his claims to pension and absentee allowance for that part of his service which is under the local fund will be provided for by it; but, in all cases of mere temporary transfer to such funds, the required contribution must be paid. So in all cases of transfer, whether temporary or permanent, to a local fund under which service does not reckon for pension, the required contribution must be paid.

12. An officer whose services are lent or transferred, is not permitted to withhold the contribution by entering into an understanding that the time of his service so lent or transferred will not count for pension or for leave. He must either entirely resign the service of Government, or, unless he is specially exempted, make the contribution required by these rules.

13. In the case of Covenanted Civil Servants the contribution of one-fifth required by this resolution, includes the four per cent. deduction to the annuity funds which will not be separately levied. The amount of the contribution to be credited to the annuity fund is 3⅓ per cent. of the full nominal pay and acting allowance, being one-twenty-fourth part of the amount retained by the officer after deduction.* This proportion, being one-sixth of the entire contribution, will be credited to the annuity funds so long as they are maintained.

* i. e., the same as 4 per cent. retained out of 100.

14. If the salary of the officers is disbursed at a Government Treasury, the required contribution will be deducted at time of payment, otherwise the officers themselves must pay the amount directly to the Government of India in such manner as may be arranged.

15. Nothing in this resolution is to be held to apply to officers accepting service under Native States, &c., for their own purposes; it applies solely to officers transferred from the service of Government under the general or special sanction of the Government of India, and for political or public reasons; nor shall anything in this resolution be held to authorise the formation of funds by the accumulation of the contributions or deductions required.

16. The above rules will apply to all officers in the service of Government transferred after the date of this resolution, under the sanction, general or special, of the Government of India, to service under Native States, Local Funds, Municipalities, or other bodies financially independent of the Government of India, unless they resign all claim to absentee or pensionary allowance from the Government of India. They will not apply, however, to service in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts or Mysore, the revenues of which States are under the financial control of Government, and can be used to meet charges for absentee and pensionary allowances when they arise. Also, they will not apply to the following cases where other arrangements have been made: (1) teachers transferred to service in the Chumba State, or in the Kolapur School; (2) Government servants transferred to the Municipality of Malcolm Peith.

17. The rules will not apply to officers lent or transferred to the British or to any Colonial Government. Such cases are rare, and will be left for special arrangement as they arise, due regard being had to the principles laid down in this resolution. The Government of India will not, unless there are special reasons to the contrary, accept, without reimbursement, any charge for absentee allowances or for pension for service rendered by its officers to other Governments.

18. Nothing in this resolution shall be held to affect the position of officers who have, before the date of its promulgation, accepted service under Native States, Municipalities, or other bodies financially independent of Government. Unless they belong to the Army, or to the Covenanted Civil Service, or unless their case is met by some special rule, such officers have ordinarily no claim for pension from the Government of India, their pay not being a charge against the general revenues. This resolution is intended to provide for future transfers, and not to create any claims on the part of officers already transferred under other conditions.

ORDER.—Ordered, that the foregoing resolution be communicated to the several Departments of the Government of India, the several Local Governments and Administrations, the Director General of the Post Office of India, the Mint Master of Calcutta, the Comptroller General, the several Accountants General, and the several Deputy Accountants General in independent charge.

LEAVE AND ALLOWANCES.

The 18th October 1871.

No. 4438.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to sanction the substitution of the following rule for Rule 3 in Chapter XI. of the Covenanted Civil Service Leave Code —(see Notification No. 1317, dated 23rd June 1871) :

> When an officer, after giving over charge of his office at one station on transfer or reversion to another, takes privilege or examination leave before joining the office to which he has been transferred, or to which he has reverted ; or when an officer, while on privilege or examination leave, is transferred to an office at a station other than that from which he took leave, he is entitled to joining time in addition to his privilege or examination leave. No. 4549.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to sanction the insertion of the following rule as No. 5 in Chapter XIII. of the Covenanted Civil Service Leave Code :

> An officer, the head quarters of whose office are not fixed at one station, must, on the expiry of leave, rejoin his office wherever either the head quarters of the office or his locum tenens may actually be : provided that the Government or other authority by whom the leave was granted may, for any public reason, permit or require the officer to rejoin elsewhere.

This rule is of general application.

No. 4585.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the addition of the following rule as Rule 3*a* under Section I., Covenanted Civil Service Leave Code :

> 3*a*.—There is no rule under which a Covenanted Civil Servant resigning his office or, by his own choice, remaining out of employ, can obtain subsistence allowance. Time thus spent without allowances does not count as actual service.

Circular letter to all Local Governments and Administrations, No. 4121, dated 12th October 1870, regarding the enforcement of Section 16 of the Indian Coinage Act of 1870.

Notification of this Department, No. 451, dated 24th January 1871, containing rules for carrying out the provisions of Sections 16 and 28 of the Indian Coinage Act of 1870.

Read also the following correspondence, on any necessity of relaxing the strict responsibility of a treasurer, for loss from his receipt of coin, which is defaced without having lost more than two per cent. in weight, or which was of doubtful legality from its appearing to have been reduced in weight otherwise than by reasonable wearing, viz. :

From Mint Master, No. 477 of 8th September 1871.

RESOLUTION.—The Governor General in Council observes that, under Section XIII. of the Coinage Act, defaced coin is not legal tender, and, accordingly, all coin which has been defaced, including that to which a piece of solder may have been attached, should be declined at a Government Treasury or a Paper Currency Office. The solder imparts to the coin a suspicious character, for it may conceal a drilling of the coin, though, in other cases, it is attached for the purpose of using the coin as an ornament.

2. Similarly coin which has been artificially diminished (as by partial solution in acids), should be treated under Section XIII. of the Coinage Act as not legal tender, and be dealt with as Section XVI. and the rules in the notification dated 24th January 1871, may permit.

3. Coins which have lost more than two per cent. by fair wear and tear, should, in supersession of the rule in Financial Notification dated 24th January 1871, be received only as bullion.

4. Weights for testing whether coins have lost more than the prescribed allowance in weight by wear and tear, should be supplied by the Mint Masters to all Treasuries and Paper Currency Offices, and the Mint Master, Calcutta, should be requested to submit a draft of the rules which he would propose for testing the scales and weights in use at Treasuries, since such test must become necessary in time, even when proper weights and adjusted scales may have been supplied in the first instance by the Mint.

ORDER.—Ordered, that the above resolution be communicated to all Local Governments and Administrations, to the Comptroller General and Head Commissioner of Paper Currency, the Mint Master, Calcutta, and the several Accountants General and Deputy Accountants General in independent charge, and that it be published in the Gazette of India.

SEPARATE REVENUE.
(POST OFFICE.)

No. 4450.

The 20th October 1871.

[No. 16.]

From A. M. MONTEATH, ESQ., Director General of the Post Office of India, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Financial Department,—No. 3691, dated Calcutta, the 9th January 1869.

I have the honor to bring to the notice of the Governor General in Council the unreasonably low charge made for the Indian inland transit of overland letters.

2. Since the commencement of the present contract for the conveyance of the entire European mails to and from Bombay, the cost of Indian inland transit has been greatly increased, for the mails received from Europe have now to be distributed all over India from Bombay, instead of from the three ports of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay.

3. The Indian inland share on the consolidated rates of postage on overland letters is only 8 pie* or 1 penny per ½ oz. letter. This rate is of course much less than the postage on ordinary inland letters, as will be seen from the following table, viz.:

* Even the sum of 8 pie is not really obtained by the Indian Post Office on pre-paid letters posted in India, for the Indian Post Office has to bear the cost not only of the manufacture of the postage stamps, but of their distribution and sale at a discount. The discount averages about 5 per cent., so that, on a Marseilles letter, the postage on which is 8 annas and 8 pie, the Indian Post Office realizes only about 8 annas and 3 pie, of which it credits to the London Post Office 8 annas, leaving only 3 pie as remuneration of the Indian Post Office for inland transit.

WEIGHT IN			CHARGE.
Tolahs.		Ounces (approximate).	Indian Money.		English Money.
¼	...	$\frac{1}{10}$th	½ anna	...	3	farthings.
½	...	$\frac{1}{5}$th	1 „	...	1½	pence.
1	...	$\frac{2}{5}$ths	2 annas	...	3	„
1½	...	$\frac{3}{5}$ths	3 „	...	4½	„

A half-ounce letter of full weight, if posted as an ordinary inland cover, would be charged 3 annas or 4½*d.*, whereas a similar letter sent to, or received from, England, pays for Indian inland transit only 1*d.*, and yet the overland letter is conveyed under special and very costly arrangements. What with sea-sorting, special trains, and special road establishments, maintained solely for overland correspondence, the Indian Post Office is put to much greater expense in the conveyance of overland letters than in that of any other class of letters. And the whole inland revenue obtained from overland letters does not, in point of fact, even approximately, cover the actual cost of their conveyance; the actual cost being in fact about three lakhs per annum in excess of the revenue.

4. I believe that there is a universal wish on the part of the European population in India who maintain correspondence with Europe, that special means should be used for the quick transit of overland mails; but I cannot see the fairness, while complying with this requirement, of taxing the correspondence so conveyed at a rate (not greater than the ordinary inland rate, although this would be quite reasonable under the circumstances, but) very much less than the ordinary inland rate, and wholly insufficient to defray even the cost of transit.

5. The extension of railways will not materially affect the cost of the special transit of overland mails, for, with long lines of communication from Bombay to the other presidency towns, special trains will always be of great advantage, and will, in fact, be demanded by the public.

6. Even if the Government should increase, as is now in contemplation, the limit of weight allowed for the several rates of inland postage, the disproportion between the ordinary inland rate and the inland share of the overland rate, will still remain; and I am perfectly clear that, if the Government intends to continue the practice of using special trains on the main routes for overland mails, and to extend that practice with the extension of railway communication, it is only fair that the inland postage rate should be increased.

7. I would propose an increase from 1*d.* to 2*d.* per ½ oz. letter, but, as the total tax on overland letters is now very high (owing to the large recent increase of the sea rate), so high in fact that it cannot safely be increased without seriously affecting the amount of correspondence, I think that the increase of the Indian inland rate should be affected by a re-distribution of the present charges as follows:

CHARGE ON A SOUTHAMPTON LETTER WEIGHING ½ OZ.

Present Distribution.		Proposed.
1*d.*	Indian inland postage ...	2*d.*
9*d.*		9*d.*

I have already, on independent grounds, advocated a reduction of the sea* rate, and I have no doubt that a reduction even to a larger extent than that suggested above will be found possible. It will be well however, if the Government approves of my suggestion, that it should be forwarded to the Secretary of State without delay, so that the opportunity of any reduction in the sea rate may be taken to increase the Indian inland rate to the small extent proposed above.

* Vide correspondence noted below, viz.,—
From the Director General of the Post Office of India, to the Financial Secretary, No. 889 B, dated 31st March 18 8.

From the Government of India, to the Secretary of State for India,—No. 1, dated Fort William, the 22nd January 1869.

Referring to our despatch No. 15, dated the 21st April 1868, forwarding certain memorials on the subject of the increased rates of postage lately imposed on correspondence between this country and the United Kingdom, we have the honor to forward a letter from the Director General of the Post Office of India, in which he advocates a re-distribution of the postage charge, so as to credit the Government of India with a larger share on account of Indian inland postage.

2. We are of opinion that Mr. Monteath has shown that the Indian Government do not receive their fair share of the postage; but we would not advocate any increase on the total charge. It would only be in the event of a reduction of the sea postage that the Government of India would claim that the Indian inland postage should be credited with a larger amount per letter, this increase being set against the reduction for sea postage.

From A. M. MONTEATH, ESQ., Director General of the Post Office of India, to the Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, Financial Department,—No. 438, dated the 20th May 1869.

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication No. 1613, dated the 25th March, forwarding copy of a despatch from the Secretary of State (No. 11, dated the 4th February 1869), with enclosures, containing the decision of Her Majesty's Government on the subject of the increased rate of postage imposed on the correspondence between India and the United Kingdom, and also on the subject of the proportion of the expense of the increased subsidy which is to be charged to the Indian revenues.

2. I feel that it would not be right to let this matter drop without one more representation from me. I shall not again attempt to go over the whole ground previously discussed, for this, I know, would but weary the Government. I shall confine my present remarks to one point, viz., the imposition on India of a charge of £12,269 per annum for the Galle and Calcutta line.

3. My predecessor, in his letter of the 19th February 1866 (before the present contract was concluded), pointed out (paragraph 6) that the line between Calcutta and Galle was "useless" for Indian postal purposes. This opinion had been more than once reiterated, and the Government itself, when addressing the Secretary of State (Home Department despatch No. 3, dated 22nd February 1866), "felt it difficult to understand * * * * why any subsidy should be given to steamers running between Galle and Calcutta." Yet notwithstanding this, the line was contracted for, and India has to pay for it no less than £ 12,269 per annum. The real reason of the line being contracted for was, as pointed out in my letter of the 10th February 1868, that it was necessary as a commercial adjunct of the other lines. The Peninsular and Oriental Company in fact, when told that this line was not required for postal purposes, stated that it was necessary for their own purposes, and that, if not paid for as a postal line, the postal payments of the other lines would be increased in proportion.

4. It was of course perfectly right, under these circumstances, to include the line in the contract; but, when the adjustment of charges came to be made, its cost ought clearly to have been distributed among the other lines (to which it was required as a commercial adjunct) and paid for, in proportion, by the several countries interested in those lines. Instead of this it has been treated as an independent line, the cost being charged rateably according to the postal use made of it.

5. Mr. Chetwynd justifies this course by showing that although India did not want the line, and has a particular objection to pay for it, it is, nevertheless, used to a considerable extent for postal purposes. This argument, however, is entirely fallacious; for Mr. Chetwynd overlooks the fact that it has all along been stated, on behalf of this country, that the correspondence conveyed by this line can, without any inconvenience, be otherwise provided for. So long as the line exists and has to be paid for, it will of course be used, however infinitesimal may be the advantage of using it: and this shows the fallacy of considering merely the correspondence conveyed without reference to the facility for conveying it otherwise. I proceed to show, in this view, of how little real use the line is.

6. Mr. Chetwynd shews that Calcutta corresponds by this line with the following places to the following extent:

	No. of letters sent and received per annum.
Madras	20,350
Ceylon, Straits, China, Australia, Mauritius, and the Cape	43,182
	63,532

Now I may at once strike out entirely the correspondence with Ceylon, the Straits, China, Australia, Mauritius, and the Cape, which represents more than two-thirds of the above amount, for it is either not now sent by this line (as in the case of correspondence with Mauritius and the Cape), or can, just as easily and as quickly, be sent viâ Bombay. For instance, a letter for the Straits or China or Australia posted in Calcutta on Saturday the 22nd May (i. e., just in time for the steamer which leaves the Sandheads on the 24th May), will reach any of the above-mentioned places at the same time as a letter posted in the same place (Calcutta) two days later, i. e., on Monday the 24th May "viâ Bombay." This last mentioned letter will reach Bombay on the 28th May in time for the steamer leaving Bombay for Galle on that date, and will be delivered in the Straits, China, or Australia by the same mail steamer as the letter posted, two days earlier, for transmission by the direct Calcutta packet. The above example applies to correspondence posted during one-half of the year. During the other half of the year, when the direct Calcutta packets start two days later, there is no gain in time by the Bombay route; but there is no loss, the letter posted viâ Bombay reaching just as soon as, though no sooner than, the letter sent by direct packet. Of course, so long as a direct packet runs, it will, naturally enough, be made use of; but its discontinuance would be of no inconvenience whatever, as the correspondence would still be conveyed just as conveniently and just as quickly viâ Bombay. In this view, I cannot see that the fact of a certain amount of correspondence being conveyed from Calcutta by the direct packet has any bearing whatever on the question whether the direct packet is of real use to India. But, perhaps, Mr. Chetwynd would reply that, although more than two-thirds of the Calcutta correspondence instanced by him has been shown to be equally well provided for otherwise, still there remains one-third, viz., the local correspondence between Calcutta and Madras, which is, obviously, benefited by this local line. I admit that for this small share of local correspondence the line is of use; but India has local contract lines which could easily be rearranged so as to supply this want at a comparatively small cost; and, apart altogether from this, it will not be more than two years before Calcutta and Madras will be connected by rail, (a) thus giving a daily mail service which will entirely supersede* the necessity for the direct steamer service. The contract, be it remembered, is for twelve years, during which long period the Indian Government will have to pay the enormous sum of £12,269 per annum for a service which even now is almost useless, and which, in two years or so, will be absolutely useless. In the above remarks, I have not alluded to the benefit which Mr. Chetwynd supposes the port of Madras to derive from the line in question; but this supposed benefit is equally easily disposed of. Madras is already connected with Galle by a fortnightly local steam service, the time taken between Madras and Galle being the same as that taken by the Peninsular and Oriental steamers. It would only require a re-arrangement of the dates of the local service to make it supersede the imperial service. In fact, the local service might be made the better of the two, for as the local contract steamer touches at Negapatam (connected by rail with Madras), the correspondence might, in reality, by a little arrangement, be conveyed, if anything quicker by this route than by the imperial route.

* The daily transit from Calcutta to Madras by rail (although the route will be very circuitous), will not take more than five days, which is just the time taken by the steamer mail. For instance, the steamer which leaves the Sandheads on Wednesday has to leave Calcutta early on Tuesday morning. The mails are made up on Monday, and are not landed at Madras till the evening of the fifth day.

(a) Note 1871.—This has now been effected.

7. Briefly stated, the case is as follows: India did not require the line between Calcutta and Galle and objected to pay for it, intimating this objection before the contract was negotiated, and stating that it had other means of conveying the correspondence. The London Post Office found that if the line were not paid for, the subsidy for the other lines would have to be proportionately increased. A proportionable increase of subsidy for the other lines would involve an extra charge on the countries interested in the maintenance of those lines; but, instead of adopting this obviously fair settlement, the London Post Office determined to treat it as an independent line, and to pay for it as such—an arrangement which throws the great bulk of the charge upon India, which, as already stated, derives no real benefit from it. This course is now justified by the London Post Office on the ground that India actually makes use of the line to a considerable extent. I have endeavoured to show the fallacy of this reasoning.

From the Government of India, to the Secretary of State for India,—No. 5 A., dated the 11th June 1869.

We have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your Grace's despatch No. 11, dated 4th February 1869, with which you communicate to us the decision of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury upon our remonstrances regarding the increased rate of postage imposed, in consequence of the recent contract with the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company, upon the correspondence between India and the United Kingdom; and regarding the mode in which the proportion of the subsidy to be contributed by our Government has been calculated.

2. Upon the first point, while we still think that the rates advocated by us would prove sufficient, and may, perhaps, presently renew our recommendation in their favor, we do not propose at this moment to say more.

3. But in justice to the interests of British India, we feel bound respectfully to protest against the continued imposition upon it of so large a share of the cost of the line between Galle and Calcutta.

4. The Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury justify the claim enforced against India in this matter by the argument based by Mr. Chetwynd, Receiver and Accountant General of the Post Office, upon the correspondence carried for India by the line.

5. We desire, however, to remind your Grace that, in our despatch from the Home Department, No. 3, dated 22nd February 1866, written when the contract was under discussion, we distinctly declared our opinion that no subsidy should be given in respect of this line which the enclosures of our despatch showed, not then for the first time, to be useless to the Indian Post Office.

6. We quite admit the validity of the grounds on which, notwithstanding that opinion of ours, a subsidy was awarded on account of the Galle and Calcutta line; it being, from the stand point of the Peninsular and Oriental Company, an essential part of any contract to which they would agree. But we respectfully maintain that the obvious conclusion must be, not that almost the whole cost of the line should be paid by the Indian Post Office, to which it is useless, but that, the subsidy for it being granted only because the Peninsular and Oriental Company would not conclude the contract without it, the cost should be paid, in proportion to their entire interest in the contract, by all the countries concerned in it.

7. We must entirely deny the soundness of Mr. Chetwynd's arguments based upon the number of letters conveyed by the Galle and Calcutta line for our Post Office, and we affirm that its abolition would cause to our Post Office scarcely any perceptible inconvenience. Alternative channels of communication, viâ Bombay by the Railway and the Bombay and Galle line, and by local contract mail steamers down the coast, are even now in full operation, and, as soon as Madras is connected with the North India Railway system, the Calcutta and Galle steamers will probably be almost absolutely disused by the Post Office. They are used now only because they run, not because they are wanted.

8. We earnestly hope, therefore, that your Grace will press for a re-distribution of the cost of the line from Galle to Calcutta among all the parties interested in the contract, as justice requires, and that you will not assent to the continued charge to our revenues of the cost of a service which we have consistently declared to be useless to our Government.

From the Secretary of State for India, to the Government of India,—No. 59, dated 8th July 1869.

The despatch of your Excellency in Council in the Financial Department (Separate Revenue, Post Office), dated the 22nd of January last, No. 1, regarding a re-distribution of the postage charge on letters between India and the United Kingdom, so as to credit the Government of India with a larger share on account of Indian inland postage, was, with its enclosure, communicated to the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury for the consideration of their Lordships.

2. I now forward a copy of the reply* which has been addressed to this department by their Lordships' desire, conveying their opinion that, for the reasons stated, they would not be warranted in acceding to the proposal in question.

* Dated 1st June 1869.

From W. LAW, ESQ., Secretary to the Lords Commrs. of Her Majesty's Treasury, to the Under Secretary of State for India,—No. 8764, dated the 1st June 1869.

I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to acquaint you for the information of the Secretary of State for India in Council, that my Lords have had under consideration your letter of the 19th of March last, transmitting a despatch from the Government of India in which is submitted a proposal made by the Director General of the Post Office of India for a re-distribution of the postage on letters between the United Kingdom and India, so as to credit the Government of India with a larger share on account of Indian inland postage, it being proposed that such re-distribution should take effect in the event of a reduction of the sea postage which had already been proposed by the Director General.

2. I am desired to state that my Lords are advised that the effect of the measure proposed by the Director General of the Post Office of India, viz., that an additional penny per single letter should be given to India and taken out of the sea postage, would be to give India about £24,000 a year for inland postage instead of £12,000, and to reduce by the latter sum the amount now earned as sea postage.

3. Notwithstanding the increased postage imposed since March 1868, the loss on the Indian packet service is very heavy, amounting to about £110,000 a year, which is shared equally by the Imperial and Indian Governments, and my Lords do not consider that they would be warranted in acceding to the request now preferred on behalf of the Indian Post Office.

Endorsed by the Financial Department,—No. 2538, dated the 7th August 1869.

Forwarded to the Director General of the Post Office of India for remark, with reference to his No. 3691, dated 9th January 1869.

From A. M. MONTEATH, ESQ., Director General of the Post Office of India, to the Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, Financial Department,—No. 2131, dated the 26th August 1869.

In returning the original papers received with your endorsement No. 2538, dated the 7th instant, I have the honor to observe that I am still of opinion (as stated in paragraph 7 of my letter No. 3691, dated 9th January last) that the present high rates of charge on letters between India and England "cannot safely be increased without seriously affecting the amount of correspondence," and, as Her Majesty's Government are not disposed at present to reduce the sea rate, I see nothing for it but to allow matters to stand.

2. If, however, my recent proposal* for the reduction of the sea rate by 1*d.* per ½oz., consequent on giving up the privileged rates allowed to officers' letters, be carried out, it might then be possible, without disturbing the aggregate rate charged to the public, to obtain 2*d.* instead of 1*d.* per ½oz. for the Indian Post Office.

* No. 2067, dated 24th August 1869.

3. I believe that, in stating the loss on the Indian packet service at about £110,000 per annum, the Lords of the Treasury include items (such as that for the Calcutta and Galle service) to which I have on former occasions* raised strong objections.

[No. 18.]

From A. M. MONTEATH, ESQ., Director General of the Post Office of India to the Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, Financial Department,—No. 3358, dated the 16th November 1869.

In the correspondence noted on the margin I proposed the abolition of the privileged rate of postage enjoyed by military officers in respect of their correspondence with the United Kingdom, and the simultaneous reduction by 1*d.* per ½oz. of the sea postage rate on the correspondence of the public generally with the United Kingdom.

To Government, No. 523, dated 26th May 1869.
From " " 2029 " 19th July "
To " " 2067 " 24th Augt. "

2. In the correspondence marginally noted I pointed out the inadequacy of the Indian inland rate on correspondence with the United Kingdom, and suggested that, if a reduction of 1*d.* per ½oz. in the sea rate could be obtained, a corresponding increase should be made in the Indian inland rate, the aggregate combined rates charged to the public remaining as before.

To Government, No. 3691, dated 9th Jany. 1869.
" " " 2131 " 26th Augt. "

3. I have now been informed by the Secretary, General Post Office, London, that, under a Treasury Warrant dated the 17th August last (of which no copy has been sent to me), the privileged rate above referred to has been withdrawn, but no mention is made of any reduction in the sea postage rate heretofore charged on ordinary correspondence between India and the United Kingdom. Indeed, it seems probable that the decision of the Home Government must have been come to independently of any representation which may have been made on the subject by the Government of India.

4. I would suggest, therefore, that enquiry be made whether the proposed reduction of the sea postage rate will be consented to by Her Majesty's Government, in view to enabling this Department to get an extra 1*d.* per ½oz. as inland postage without disturbing the total combined rates now chargeable.

5. I would further suggest, if the Government of India agrees in my view of the inadequacy of the existing Indian inland rate on such correspondence, that intimation be given of the intention to increase that rate by 1*d.* per ½oz. letter, even if the reduction of sea postage rate be not assented to.

6. I need not here recapitulate what I have already stated* respecting the inadequacy of the existing Indian inland rate on overland letters. The subsequent increase of the scale of weight allowed for inland letters does not materially affect the arguments then advanced, for even, under the present inland scale, a letter weighing ½oz. would be chargeable with two annas or 3*d.*, whereas the present Indian share of the combined rate is only 1*d.*, and the proposed share only 2*d.*

* Letter of 9th January last, No. 3691.

7. I would, however, draw particular attention to the marginal note to paragraph 3 of the letter above-quoted, where it was shown that the greater part of the existing rate (1d. per ½oz.) is absorbed by the discount on the sale of stamps. I may observe that this argument gains additional force from every addition made to the sea postage or foreign rates. For instance, the net balance remaining to India on the several rates of postage noted below, is as follows:

Rates per ½oz. letter to the United Kingdom.	A. P.	Discount on sale of stamps at average* actual rate of 5 per cent.	Credited by India to England as sea and foreign postage.	Balance remaining to India as inland postage.
		Pie.	Annas.	Pie.
Former rate viâ Marseilles	6 8	4	6	4
New rate viâ Marseilles introduced in March 1868	8 8	5	8	2⅘
New rate viâ Brindisi recently introduced ...	10 8	6⅔	10	1⅗

* There are two rates, viz., 6¼ per cent. and 3⅕ per cent., but, on the average, the discount amounts to almost exactly 5 per cent.

8. It will thus be seen that the balance remaining to India decreases with every addition made to the total rate; and when it is remembered that the overland letters are conveyed through India at great extra expense, and that, as stated in my previous letter, this expense is not nearly covered by the Indian share of postage, I feel that it will be only reasonable to increase the Indian inland rate as proposed by me.

9. I would further propose that the measure should extend not merely to letters passing between India and the United Kingdom, but to all letters exchanged with foreign countries where the Indian share is only 1*d.* per ½oz. For instance, no alteration would be made in the Indian share of the combined rate chargeable on letters passing between India and Ceylon by the land route (across the Straits of Manaar). In that case the Indian share has all along been 2*d.* per ½oz. Again, on all letters exchanged with France, or with foreign Europe through France, India gets on the whole fully 2*d.* per ½oz., and there are other similar exceptions.

10. But on letters exchanged direct by British packet with places in Asia, &c., as well as on letters exchanged with places the route to which lies through the United Kingdom, the Indian Post Office gets only 1*d.* per ½oz., and it can be shewn that in many of these cases the Indian Post Office is an actual loser by every prepaid letter which it forwards. For instance, on a ½oz. letter for the West Indies prepaid vid Marseilles and the United Kingdom at the established rate of one rupee, the Indian Post Office nominally gets 8 pie: but the loss by discount in the sale of the rupee's worth of stamps amounts (taking the same average rate as above given) to 9⅜ pie, so that for every such letter posted in India the Indian Post Office actually suffers a loss of 1⅜ pie. And if the letter in question were addressed, as it may now be, "vid Brindisi" (at the increased rate of 1 rupee 2 annas), the loss would be 2½ pie.

11. This system is, to my mind, one that must be altered; and although I was desirous, if possible, of postponing a modification, in the hope that a reduction of the sea postage rate between India and the United Kingdom might be made so as to avoid the necessity of an increased charge to the public, I feel that the small present prospect of any such reduction makes it proper for me to urge the Government to make the representation, independent of an alteration of the sea postage rate.

12. Her Majesty's Post Master General can, of course, raise no objection to the proposal, for it rests with each country to fix its own inland rates, and this power is specially given to the Governor General in Council by section 21 of the Post Office Act of 1866; but it will, of course, be necessary to give considerable notice of the proposed alteration, in order that the Post Office of the United Kingdom, and other countries corresponding with India through the United Kingdom, may be able to levy the increased charge on letters for India.

13. I may mention that while India has hitherto accepted as its inland share on the great bulk of foreign correspondence a sum so very much less than its ordinary inland rate, the British Post Office has never done so, the full British inland rate being added in all cases, whether the letters be for or from England, or places through England.

From the Government of India, to the Secretary of State for India,—No. 2, dated the 11th January 1870.

Referring to our despatches No. 5 A of the 11th June 1869, and No. 21, dated the 16th November last, we have the honor to forward copy of letters Nos. 2131, dated the 26th August, and 3358, dated the 16th November 1869, in which that officer again urges the injustice to India of the present distribution of the postage charges for letters between India and England.

2. As shown by Mr. Monteath, India is not repaid the cost of inland carriage, and we request therefore your Grace's favorable consideration of his proposition to reduce the sea postage by 1*d.* per half ounce, without altering the aggregate charge for postage. The privileged rates of postage in favor of military officers having now been withdrawn, an additional argument is furnished for diminishing the charge for sea postage.

3. Unless the suggested reduction be made, we shall be compelled at once to raise the aggregate postage in order to prevent actual loss in the Postal Department. We trust that your Grace will assist us in endeavouring to avoid the necessity for such a step, which would be extremely distasteful to the public.

From the Secretary of State for India, to the Government of India,—No. 51, dated the 19th May 1870.

The despatches of your Excellency in Council in the Financial Department (Separate Revenue, Post Office), dated the 11th of January and 8th February, Nos. 2 and 6 of 1870, relative to the distribution of postal charges for letters between India and England, have been considered by me in Council.

2. In reply, I forward herewith copy of two letters* which I caused to be addressed on the subject to the Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury, with a copy of the replies† received from their Lordships.

* Dated 3rd January and 24th March 1870.
† Dated 8th February and 2nd May 1870.

3. Although the Lords of the Treasury have declined to sanction the payment to India of an additional penny from the sea postage, I cannot approve of the proposition of increasing the inland postage, which your Lordship in Council would seem to contemplate. I do not consider that adequate grounds for such an increase have been adduced, and I would prefer to trust to the expansion of postal revenue which increased commerce, and greater facilities of intercourse must eventually produce.

From H. MERIVALE, ESQ., C. B., Under Secretary of State for India, to the Secretary, Treasury Chambers,—dated the 3rd January 1870.

With reference to the recent decision of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to discontinue from the 1st instant the privilege and rates of letter postage which have been granted to officers of the army serving abroad and in the colonies, and adverting to a similar proposal made by the authorities in India before they were aware of the above-mentioned decision of Her Majesty's Government, I am directed by the Secretary of State for India in Council to forward, for the consideration of their Lordships, extracts from two letters* addressed by the Director General of the Post Office of India to the Indian Government, urging that the opportunity may be taken of reducing the present rate of postage between India and the United Kingdom by one penny per half ounce, both vid Marseilles and vid Southampton. Mr. Monteath's proposition is recommended by the Government of India for favorable consideration; and, looking to the advantages which will accrue to the imperial revenue from the abolition of the privileged rates of postage above referred to, I am desired to express the hope of the Duke of Argyll that the Lords of the Treasury will accede to the reduction now proposed by the Indian Government.

* 26th May 1869, No. 523.
4th August 1869, No. 2067.

From J. STANSFELD, ESQ., to the Under Secretary of State for India,—No. 1678½, dated the 8th February 1870.

I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to acquaint you, for the information of the Secretary of State for India in Council, that my Lords have had before them your letter of the 2nd ultimo, forwarding a proposal from the Director General of the Post Office of India, that in discontinuing the privileged rates of postage on officers' letters, the opportunity should be taken to reduce the rate of postage on ordinary letters between the United Kingdom and India by one penny both vid Marseilles and vid Southampton.

I am to request that you will state to the Secretary of State for India in Council that my Lords, having communicated with the Post Master General on the subject of the above proposal, have been informed by His Lordship that if it were acceded to, the loss on the Indian packet service which, as His Grace is aware, is very considerable, would probably be increased by £12,000 a year, whilst a further loss of £900 a year would arise from the necessity of making a similar reduction on the postage of letters to and from Ceylon. I am to add that, under these circumstances, my Lords are not prepared to assent to the reduction of postage proposed by the Director General of the Post Office in India.

From H. MERIVALE, ESQ., C. B., Under Secretary of State for India, to the Secretary, Treasury Chambers,—dated the 24th March 1870.

I am directed by the Secretary of State in Council to forward, for the consideration of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, copies of two despatches with accompaniments from the Government of India of the dates stated in the margin, relative to the present distribution of the postal charges on letters between England and India.

11th of January, No. 2 of 1870.
8th of February, No. 6 of 1870.

2. The Secretary of State in Council does not regard with any favor the possible increase in the aggregate postal charge to which allusion is made by the Government of India, nor does he attach much importance to the facts connected with the discount on stamps allowed in India, and the claim of India to a portion of the additional 3*d.* derived from letters conveyed by French packets; but he would invite the consideration of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to the following statement.

3. By the present arrangement, the postal receipts on a letter are thus distributed:

France	4
India	1

4. The English Post Office thus receives what it usually receives, and has for thirty years received for a letter. India, on the contrary, for a half ounce letter in India receives two annas or 3*d.*, and even for a half tolah letter, one anna or three-half pence, and is now called on to be content with one penny.

5. But it will be borne in mind that England is comparatively a small country, covered with a net work of railways; India, on the contrary, is a very large country with only a very few railways. It will thus be seen that looking to inland postage alone in the two countries, England suffers no loss and receives what it received before, but that India is in all respects at very considerable disadvantage.

6. But the operation of the present arrangement directly involves an increase of expenditure to India, from which England in relation to inland postage is entirely free. In consideration of the increased subsidy, the Peninsular and Oriental Company takes 52 mails in the year to Bombay, the port nearest to England. Formerly it took only 24 mails to Bombay and 24 to Calcutta and Madras. It is obvious that the delivery of the mails by the Peninsular and Oriental Company at Bombay, and similarly the despatch of the mails from the same port alone comprise a very considerable land carriage in India in excess of that which it had previously to bear. For this increase of land carriage, which must involve an enhanced expenditure from which England is entirely free, India receives no corresponding allowance whatever.

7. The Duke of Argyll in Council cannot but think that these circumstances were not taken into consideration when the postal charges were distributed after consultation between the Treasury and the Post Office, but without any reference to this office. He, therefore, trusts that the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury will allow an additional penny to India out of the sea postage without increasing the aggregate charges.

From J. STANSFELD, ESQ., to the Under Secretary of State for India,—No. 7781$\frac{2}{4}$^{9}, dated the 2nd May 1870.

I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to acquaint you, for the information of the Secretary of State for India in Council, that my Lords have attentively considered your letter of the 24th of March, enclosing two despatches from the Government of India, on the subject of the present distribution of the postal charges on letters between England and India, and I am to state that adverting to the very great deficiency which already exists between the amount of sea postage collected on the Indian correspondence and the amount paid for the sea conveyance of that correspondence, my Lords do not consider that they would be warranted in sanctioning any portion of the sea rate being credited to India to make good the loss sustained in its inland service.

Endorsed by the Financial Department,—No. 1731, dated the 8th July 1870.

Ordered, that a copy of the foregoing despatch, with its enclosures in original, be sent to the Director General of the Post Office of India for the favor of his remarks thereon, with an intimation that the Secretary of State for India has been referred to again in respect to the subjects of your letters as per margin.

No. 4055, dated 18th January 1870.

From the Government of India, to the Secretary of State for India,—No. 19, dated the 8th July 1870.

In acknowledging the receipt of your Grace's Public Despatch No. 51, dated the 19th May 1870, we beg to ask your Grace whether we may expect any reply to our Separate Revenue Despatch No. 5A, dated the 11th June 1869, in which we brought forward arguments showing the injustice to India of charging to it so large a share of the cost of the Galle and Calcutta line—a line not required by the Indian Post Office.

2. We would also enquire whether we may expect a more particular reply to our Separate Revenue Despatch No. 6, dated the 8th February 1870, regarding the claim of Her Majesty's Post Office to the entire excess, 3*d.* per $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. collected, whether in India or in England, on covers sent by French packet.

From A. M. MONTEATH, ESQ., Director General of the Post Office of India, to the Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, Financial Department,—No. 3290, dated the 10th October 1870.

In returning the papers received with your endorsement No. 1731, dated 8th July, I have the honor to express my regret at finding that the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury have declined to assent to a re-distribution of the postage collected on letters passing between India and England.

2. The reason given for this refusal is "the very great deficiency which already exists between the amount of sea postage collected on the Indian correspondence and the amount paid for the sea conveyance of that correspondence." I think it probable that the deficiency referred to includes the sum with which India has been debited on acccount of the sea services between Galle and Bombay and between Galle and Calcutta. As the Government is aware I have always maintained that this debit is very erroneous, but apart from this I would here quote the opinion expressed by my predecessor Mr. Riddell to the following effect, viz., "If on any ground of imperial policy it is considered right to charge upon the revenues of India a portion of the subsidies paid to British mail steamers employed between Australia, China, Ceylon, and Suez, I submit that the charge should be a distinct one, and not be allowed to interfere with the improvement of the postal communication between Great Britain and India."

3. I feel, therefore, that it is all the more necessary to press for a decision on the question which has now been so long under consideration, viz., whether India is justly charged with the cost of the line between Galle and Calcutta. I understand that the Government of India made the last representation to the Secretary of State on this subject so long ago as June 1869, and that no reply has as yet been received to it. I believe that the ground taken by the English Post Office in this question is quite untenable, and I think that an early decision on the point at issue is most desirable.

4. I find that the papers now returned allude most briefly to the subject of my letter No. 4055, dated 18th January 1870, viz., the appropriation by the English Post Office of the whole excess postage collected on letters transmitted between England and India by French packet. I gather from Mr. Merivale's letter to the Treasury of the 24th March 1870, that the Secretary of State in Council does not attach much importance to "the claim of India to a portion of the additional 3*d.* derived from letters conveyed by French packets." I do not however suppose that this brief reference to the subject in an enclosure of the Secretary of State's despatch of the 19th May is intended to be an answer to the representation made from India. The claim made by the British Post Office in this matter appears to me so thoroughly unreasonable, and to involve a principle of adjustment of accounts so highly objectionable, that I would again urge the matter upon the attention of Government, feeling certain that a consideration of the case can lead to no other result than a recognition of the India claim.

From the Government of India, to the Secretary of State for India,—No. 30, dated the 25th October 1870.

In continuation of our despatch in this Department, No. 19, dated 8th July 1870, we have the honor to forward a copy of a letter from the Director General of Post Office of India, No. 3290, dated 10th October 1870, and to urge on the consideration of your Grace the questions mooted in our previous despatches, viz., the injustice to India of charging to it a large share of the cost of the postal line between Galle and Calcutta, and the claim of Her Majesty's Post Office to the entire excess 3*d.* per $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. collected, whether in India or in England, on covers sent by French packet.

From A. M. MONTEATH, ESQ., Director General of the Post Office of India, to the Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, Financial Department,—No. 4055, dated the 18th January 1870.

I have the honor to submit, for the consideration of Government, and, if necessary, for reference to the Secretary of State, a representation against what appears to me to be a most unreasonable claim on the part of the British Post Office.

2. I shall first explain briefly the circumstances out of which the claim arises.

3. Prior to the enhancement in 1868 of postage rates on letters passing between India and England, the postage on covers transmitted by French packet was divided as follows:

When collected in India, i. e., in the case of paid letters despatched from India, and unpaid letters received in India.

Retained by India as Indian inland share.	Credited by India to England on behalf of France, i. e., to cover the payment due to France for sea and land transit.	Credited by India to England as British inland share.	Total, being the amount realized from the public.
Per ½-oz. letter, 1*d.*	8*d.*	1*d.*	10*d.*

When collected in England, i. e., in the case of paid letters despatched from England, and unpaid letters received in England.

Retained by England as British inland share.	Returned by England on behalf of France, i. e., to cover the payment due to France for sea and land transit.	Credited to India as Indian inland share.	Total, being the amount realized from the public.
Per ½-oz. letter, 1*d.*	8*d.*	1*d.*	10*d.*

4. When, in 1868, the sea postage rates on letters conveyed between India and England by British packet were increased by 3*d.* per ½ oz., no corresponding increase was made by the French Government in the sea postage claimed by it for conveyance by French packet; but it was deemed proper to charge the public the same enhanced rate for letters sent by French packet, so as not to divert correspondence from the British to the French packets. The result of course was that an excess rate was collected, i. e., 3*d.* per ½ oz., beyond what was really required to cover the ordinary inland rates of the despatching and receiving countries, and the payment due to France.

5. My present representation has reference to the disposal of this excess collection. Strange though it may seem, it is a fact that the British Post Office considers itself entitled to the whole excess, whether collected in England or in India. In other words, it retains the excess collected in England, and expects this department to credit to England the excess collected in India.

6. I at first assumed that the excess in question, whether collected in England or India, would be brought by England to the credit of the British packet account, which, as the Government is aware, forms a set-off to the expense of the steam communication between India and England, for which the two Governments are jointly responsible. But, on enquiry, I found that this was not the case, the Secretary to the General Post Office, London, informing me that the excess in question was "carried to the general revenue of this (British Post Office) department." This struck me as most unreasonable, for, while it might be quite fair that the British Post Office should retain its own excess collections, I could not see what claim it had to the excess collections made in India. I accordingly stated my opinion "that the country which collects the additional postage should keep it," and to this I received a reply to the effect that Her Majesty's Post Master General "sees no grounds upon which the Indian Post Office can claim upon such letters anything beyond its ordinary share of postage for the Indian inland service." It is not stated upon what grounds the British Post Office claims for itself after paying France, more than its ordinary share of postage for the British inland service. I should never dispute its title to retain any excess which it collects, but I venture to dispute its title to the excess collected by India, and this is the point which I now submit for the consideration of Government.

7. The excess rates in question are collected in India, not on the authority of any Treasury Warrant (for the Treasury Warrants have no force in India), but on the authority of the Governor General in Council under Section 21 of the Indian Post Office Act of 1866, and I am quite unable to see that the British Post Office has any claim whatsoever, either in equity or in law, to the excess collections made in India.

8. The amount of excess collections is, I admit, but small, for very few letters are now sent to England by French packet; but I object to what I consider the concession of an unreasonable claim, the principle of which, if admitted, may be held to govern other similar adjustments of accounts.

[No. 18.]

From the Government of India, to the Secretary of State for India,—No. 6, dated the 8th February 1870.

We have the honor to submit the following circumstances for your Grace's favorable consideration.

2. Prior to the enhancement in 1868 of postage rates on letters passing between India and England, the postage on covers transmitted by French packet was divided as follows:

When collected in India, i. e., in the case of paid letters despatched from India, and unpaid letters received in India.

Retained by India as Indian inland share.	Credited by India to England on behalf of France, i. e., to cover the payment due to France for sea and land transit.	Credited by India to England as British inland share.	Total, being the amount realized from the public.
Per ½-oz. letter, 1*d.*	8*d.*	1*d.*	10*d.*

When collected in England, i. e., in the case of paid letters despatched from England, and unpaid letters received in England.

Retained by England as British inland share.	Retained by England on behalf of France, i. e., to cover the payment due to France for sea and land transit.	Credited to India as Indian inland share.	Total, being the amount realized from the public.
Per ½-oz. letter, 1*d.*	8*d.*	1*d.*	10*d.*

3. When, in 1868, the sea postage rates on letters conveyed between India and England by British packet were increased by 3*d.* per ½ oz., no corresponding increase was made by the French Government in the sea postage claimed by it for conveyance by French packet; but it was deemed proper to charge the public the same enhanced rate for letters sent by French packet, so as not to divert correspondence from the British to the French packets. The result of course was that an excess rate was collected, i. e., 3*d.* per ½ oz., beyond what was really required to cover the ordinary inland rates of the despatching and receiving countries, and the payment due to France.

4. The British Post Office claims the whole of this excess collection, whether made in England or India. In other words, it retains the excess collected in England, and expects the Indian Postal Department to credit to England the excess collected in India.

5. To us it appears that this claim is based upon no tangible grounds. The British Post Office may fairly retain the excess collected in England, and, on the same principle, the Indian Post Office should retain the excess collected in India, more especially as this latter excess is collected, not on the authority of any Treasury Warrant, but on the authority of the Governor General in Council, under Section 21 of the Indian Post Office Act of 1866.

6. Her Majesty's Post Master General has stated to our Director General of Post Offices that he "sees no grounds upon which the Indian Post Office can claim upon such letters anything beyond its ordinary share of postage for their Indian inland service."

7. It appears to us that each country has precisely the same ground for claiming the excess beyond its ordinary inland service postage, and the fairest and simplest plan is that each should retain its own collections.

8. The amount of excess collections may be small, but we object to a principle which, if admitted, may be held to govern other similar adjustments of account.

9. We may be permitted to add that the Indian Post Office with difficulty pays its way, while the English Post Office is the source of a large revenue to Her Majesty's Government. We can, therefore, ill afford to give up any revenue to which we think we have an equitable claim.

From the Secretary of State for India, to the Government of India,—No. 17, dated the 9th March 1871.

I have had before me in Council, in relation to the share of the cost of the postal line between Galle and Calcutta, and the claim of India to a portion of the excess of postage, 3*d.*, per ½*oz.* collected, whether in India or in England, on covers sent by French packet, the four despatches of your Excellency in Council in the Financial Separate Revenue Post Office Department, respectively numbered 5A of 1869 and 6, 19, and 30 of 1870.

2. I caused the necessary communications to be made to the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury on the receipt of these several despatches; and I now forward, for the information of your Lordship in Council, a copy of the replies on the two subjects above cited, addressed to this Department by desire of the Lords Commissioners; namely, extracts from a letter dated the 27th of September 1870 from the Assistant to the Secretaries of the Treasury, and copy of a letter dated the 28th of January last from the Right Hon'ble Mr. Stansfeld.

Extracts from letter from the Assistant to the Secretaries of the Treasury, to the Under Secretary of State for India,— dated 27th September 1870.

"With reference to your letter of the——ultimo, relating to the share of the cost of the Galle and Calcutta postal line imposed on India, I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to request that you will state to the Secretary of State for India in Council, that the payment of £12,269 by the Indian Government in respect of the postal service between Galle and Calcutta, which is the subject of your former letter of the 20th of August 1869, was brought under the notice of the Secretary of State for India, and was approved by Sir Stafford Northcote as part of a general arrangement for the postal service between England and the East in a letter from the India Office to this Board, dated the 19th of November 1867.

"The correspondence appears to my Lords to show that the voyage between Galle and Calcutta being necessary to enable the contractors to dock and re-fit their vessels, and being of great mercantile advantage to them, has been rightly treated as an incident of the whole service, and that were my Lords to relieve the Indian Government from part of the charge which the Secretary of State agreed to impose upon it in 1867, they must run the risk of unsettling the whole arrangement then effected, in order to determine how such relief was to be made good by the various other contributions.

"It does not appear to my Lords that a case is made out of sufficient importance to justify a re-opening of the question."

From the Right Hon'ble J. STANSFELD, Under Secretary of State for India, to M. E. GRANT-DUFF, ESQ., M. P., &c., &c.,—dated the 28th January 1871.

With reference to your letter of 21st October last, I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to request you will observe to the Secretary of State for India in Council, that as it was stated in Mr. Merivale's letter of the 24th March last, that the Duke of Argyll did "not attach much importance to the claim of India to a portion of the additional three pence derived from letters conveyed by French packets," and not only so, for His Grace then proceeds specifically to limit the subject-matter to which he would invite the attention of the Treasury to the question of sea postage (to which a reply was made on the 2nd May 1870), it did not appear to their Lordships requisite to advert to this point either in that letter or in their subsequent letter of the 27th September last.

As this question is now, however, brought again under the notice of this Board, my Lords have only to state that having given it their consideration, they are not prepared to alter or disturb the present arrangement.

Endorsed by the Home Department,—No. 1988, dated the 22nd April 1871.

Transferred, with its enclosures, to the Financial Department for disposal.

[No. 41.]

From the Government of India, to the Secretary of State for India,—No. 12, dated the 16th May 1871.

We have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your Grace's Public Despatch No. 17, dated 9th March 1871, from which we regret to learn that the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury finally decline to concede certain claims which we have made for the relief of the tax-payers of British India.

2. We have urged in previous despatches that it is unjust to saddle this country with a charge of £12,269 in respect of the postal services between Galle and Calcutta, explaining that our postal interest in this branch of the lines served by the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company is so insignificant that we could readily even dispense with it altogether.

3. The Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury point out finally that, for reasons given, this branch line has been rightly treated as an incident of the whole service undertaken by the contractors. To this we desire to reply that we have never, for a moment, disputed the correctness of this statement. Our claim has been throughout simply this, that, inasmuch as the branch line between Galle and Calcutta is necessary only "as an incident of the whole service," and would never have been sanctioned for the direct postal benefits obtained from it, its cost should have been, and should now be, distributed equitably among the several countries in whose interest the contract with the Peninsular and Oriental Company was made.

4. We continue to consider this claim indisputably fair and equitable, and we cannot accept as in any respect a satisfactory and sufficient answer to it, the allegation that it would be inconvenient to "unsettle the whole arrangements in order to determine how the relief," to which this country is justly entitled, is "to be made good by the various other contributors."

5. Again, we have remonstrated against the injustice of the absorption by the British Post Office of the whole of the excess postage collected as well in British India as in Great Britain upon the mails despatched by the French packets, and have emphatically claimed for the revenues of British India the portion of that excess collected in India.

6. The only answer afforded to this claim is, that the Lords of the Treasury, "having given it their consideration, are not prepared to alter or disturb the present arrangement."

7. In this case, again, nothing is left for us but to express our regret that this country is thus deprived of revenue which may be of no considerable amount, but which nevertheless it ought not to lose.

RESOLUTION.—It appears from this correspondence that the average actual payment received by the Indian Post Office for carrying letters addressed to Great Britain does not, after deducting the discount paid on the sale of the postage labels, exceed three pies for a letter weighing half an ounce, and that in respect to letters addressed to other foreign countries viâ Great Britain, there is a positive loss.

2. The charge for a letter weighing the equivalent of half an ounce carried from one place to another in India (deducting the average discount), is 22½ pie. Moreover, the Indian Post Office makes specially costly arrangements for expediting the mails received from and addressed to the United Kingdom.

So that it has, on the whole, at present, to bear an annual loss on this account of about three lakhs of rupees (£30,000).

3. The Government of India has made earnest and repeated endeavours to induce the Imperial Government to consent to a distribution of the postal revenue derived from these letters more equitable to British India.

4. These endeavours have been unsuccessful; and it is evident that no relief can be expected in this way. On the contrary, the reduction of the fixed rate of exchange for adjusting transaction between the Imperial and Indian Governments from 2*s.* to 1*s.* 11*d.* the rupee, has deprived the Indian revenues of an important compensation.

5. Eleven pence (the amount payable to the British Post Office on each half ounce letter) cost, at 2*s.* the rupee, 7 annas 4 pie; at 1*s.* 11*d.* the rupee, it costs more than 7 annas 7 pie: so that the alteration of the fixed rate of exchange, however just in itself, has deprived the revenues of India of rather more than 3 pie on each half ounce letter for the postage on which it has to account to the British Post Office.

6. It would be quite unjustifiable for the Government of India to continue to carry the correspondence of this country with the rest of the world at a heavy charge to the general revenues.

7. The Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, therefore, reluctantly resolves that the Director General of the Post Office shall be instructed to arrange for the levy, from the earliest convenient date, on behalf of the Indian revenues, of additional postage at the rate of 1*d.* or 8 pie on each half ounce letter which passes to or from India through Great Britain and in respect to which accounts have to be rendered to the British Post Office.

8. The Director General must further report whether the use of labels of specified denominations may not be rendered compulsory for the payment of the postage on letters despatched by the contract mail steamers to places out of British India, and, if so, whether the charge for discount on the sale of these labels may not be either stopped altogether or greatly reduced.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of this resolution be sent, for information and guidance, to the Director General of the Post Offices in India.

And that the whole correspondence, with this resolution, be published in the Gazette of India.

FIBRES AND SILK.

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870:

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labour being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are, therefore, requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

The 25th October 1871.

No. 4693.—The following ruling under the Indian Income Tax Act, 1871, is published for general information:

From C. BERNARD, ESQ., Officiating Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Revenue Department, to the Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, in the Department of Assessed Taxes,—No. 3340, dated Fort William, the 2nd September 1871.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 455 B, dated the 24th ultimo, and in reply to state that the Lieutenant-Governor concurs with the member in charge in holding that Section 7 of Act XII. of 1871 on the one hand, and Section 17 on the other, prohibit the assessment of income tax under Parts II. and V., respectively, on incomes of less than Rs. 62-8 per mensem or Rs. 750 per annum. There is no other section in the Act which warrants an income less than Rs. 750 a year being assessed under one part, because the assessee's income under another part brings his total receipts for the year up to Rs. 750.

No. 3341.

Copy of the correspondence submitted to the Government of India in the Financial Department in the hope that the ruling of this Government may be approved.

From F. B. PEACOCK, ESQ., Officiating Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, to the Officiating Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department,—No. 455 B, dated Calcutta, the 24th August 1871.

At the instance of the Deputy Commissioner of Darjeeling, I am directed by the member in charge to solicit the orders of Government on the following point: A Government official derives an annual income of Rs. 729 under Part V. of Act XII. of 1871, besides his annual income under Part II. amounting to Rs. 3,000, that is, a monthly salary of Rs. 250, the tax on which is recovered by the treasury officer by monthly deductions from his salary. Is the sum of Rs. 729 to be assessed under Part V., or is this income to be exempted as not amounting to Rs. 750, the minimum amount taxable? If the tax is levied, under what class of income is the assessment to be included? Other cases involving the same point have been referred to the member in charge, such as where a man derives under Part V. an income of Rs. 600, and from Government securities separately assessed an income of Rs. 1,000, of course in equity the Rs. 600 here, and the Rs. 729 in the other case, should be assessable, but the law has not provided for such cases in Mr. Money's opinion. The wording of Section 17 is against the assessment.

From J. WESTLAND, ESQ., Under Secretary to the Government of India, Financial Department, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department,—No. 3848, dated Simla, the 23rd September 1871.

With reference to your endorsement No. 3341, dated 2nd September 1871, I am directed to say that the Governor General in Council approves of the ruling exempting from income tax under Parts II. and V., respectively, incomes of less than Rs. 62-8 per month, or Rs. 750 per annum. I am to state that the point was intentionally left unprovided for, it not being thought worthwhile to construct the needful legislation.

No. 4708.

From R. B. CHAPMAN, ESQ., Secretary to the Government of India, Financial Department, to the Secretary to the Government of the North-Western Provinces,—No. 1940, dated the 30th March 1871.

In the debate upon the motion of the Hon'ble Sir R. Temple for leave to introduce the Bill for the imposition of duties upon income, the Hon'ble Mr. Inglis is reported to have said—"It may be true that only 1 in 300 of the people pay income tax to Government, but it is equally true that of the 299 remaining, at least one-half are subjected to the most vexatious oppression, inquisition, and extortion when the preliminary lists are being drawn up, and that a very large number of these men have to pay in order to keep their names out of the lists;"

and again—

"It is, I believe, no exaggeration to say that for every man who pays income tax to Government twenty pay to get off, and that for every rupee that is paid into the treasury another is paid to the subordinate native officials, that is, that the natives of India paid last year upwards of two million pounds sterling as income tax to Government and upwards of two millions more as bribes. Everywhere throughout the country the people are being demoralised by the tax; everywhere (false?) returns are sent in; everywhere the trading classes are beginning to keep two sets of books,—one set showing accurately the real transactions, the other containing a carefully prepared garbled account to be shown to the income tax assessors." On a later occasion Mr. Inglis is represented to have very emphatically reiterated these opinions.

2. These statements acquire great weight and have attracted considerable attention owing to the official position of the Hon'ble Mr. Inglis as senior member of the Board of Revenue, North-Western Provinces. The Government of India considers that they contain a most serious charge against the public administration, especially in the North-Western Provinces, to which Government Mr. Inglis's personal experience is confined, and to which Government, therefore, his remarks must particularly refer.

3. I am directed, therefore, to request that the Government of India may be favored with a catalogue of all the cases which have come within the last two years, directly or indirectly, to the knowledge of the Board of Revenue or of the Government of the North-Western Provinces, showing any oppression or mal-administration connected with the income tax, giving the names of the individuals concerned; and I am further to ask that the Government of the North-Western Provinces, after making as complete enquiry as the importance of the case deserves, will report its own conclusions as to the correctness of the Hon'ble Mr. Inglis's statements to the Legislative Council, explaining who the subordinate officials are to whom Mr. Inglis refers, and what are the reasons why, as he alleges, the administration is wholly unable to control them or to prevent such wholesale tyranny and demoralisation as he describes. If the Hon'ble Mr. Inglis's statements are correct, they are obviously for the most part susceptible of easy substantiation.

4. If the Government of the North-Western Provinces comes to the conclusion that the Hon'ble Mr. Inglis's statements are in any material degree founded upon facts, you should report whether the demoralisation asserted is confined to the assessment and collection of the income tax, or whether it extends to other departments of the administration, especially to the collection of other branches of the revenue. In any case the remedies to be adopted will doubtless receive the most careful consideration of the local Government.

From C. A. ELLIOTT, ESQ., Officiating Secretary to the Government, North-Western Provinces, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Financial Department,—No. 52 A, dated Nynee Tal, the 3rd July 1871.

In your letter dated 30th March, the attention of the Lieutenant-Governor is called to certain statements made by the Hon'ble J. D. Inglis in the Legislative Council, on the evils attending the income tax; a serious charge is alleged to have been made by that gentleman against the public administration in general, and of the North-Western Provinces in particular; and a catalogue of cases is called for, together with the opinion of His Honor on the subject.

2. In reply, I am to submit copies of minutes by Messrs. H. S. Reid and F. O. Mayne, C. B. The Board of Revenue, it will be observed, sustain generally the imputations made by Mr. Inglis, but state that from the nature of the case complaints are not preferred, and that the bribery and oppression are consequently not directly susceptible of proof.

3. Although the Lieutenant-Governor has not deemed it necessary to call for any further official reports, he has spared no pains in the endeavour to arrive at a sound conclusion on the subject.

4. The sentiments of Mr. Inglis are shared more or less by probably three-fourths of the officers in these Provinces who have had opportunities for forming an opinion; and His Honor has found with hardly an exception that those officers possessed of the most experience and judgment, coincide to a large extent in the views and impressions of Mr. Inglis. They do not indeed pretend to certify the degree or the amount of bribery and corruption which they think was put incautiously by him into too definite a shape, and asserted with too universal and sweeping a condemnation. But taking these statements as figures of speech, and as expressive of a very general prevalence of oppression and corruption, they are, speaking broadly, at one with him.

5. The cases which have actually come to notice are few, and have transpired by accident; and they are mentioned as shewing what may occur where the superior officers are corrupt or negligent,—though they hardly touch the class of corruption on the part of underlings to which His Honor conceives Mr. Inglis chiefly alluded, and which, being characterized by collusion on both sides, would rarely come to light.

6. The following is the account of a case in the District of Mynpoory:

"The Tehseeldar of Bhowgaon, in the Mynpoory District, had in a previous year assessed a number of persons under the Act. Then came the Act of 1869; he called a lot of these men up, and asked whether they would prefer to pay him Rs. 2 each, or to pay Government Rs. 6. Of course every man relied on the chance of getting off in appeal, and all refused to pay the tehseeldar. The Tehseeldar then went to work very craftily; he picked out a few who he knew or thought would appeal, and he assessed them at Rs. 6; these appealed, but to no purpose; how could it be otherwise? A Collector cannot possibly enquire personally into each case, and he must rely on such well-paid officials as Tehseeldars. Well, when the result of the appeals was made known, the Tehseeldar sent for the rest of the men whom he had originally spoken to, and pointed out what had happened, and then asked whether they would not change their minds and pay him the smaller sum instead of paying the larger one to Government; they all agreed and escaped taxation. Shortly afterwards, the Tehseeldar got involved in other malpractices and was dismissed, and then, but not till then, did the whole matter come to light."

7. The Officiating Judge of Agra writes—

"The only case of extortion that I remember was on the part of an acting Tehseeldar at Kurhul. It was in 1868 when the certificate tax was introduced in succession to the license tax of the previous year. If you remember, the certificate tax did not touch incomes below Rs. 500, and the lowest class assessed under it paid Rs. 8, whilst the license tax fell upon all incomes above Rs. 200, and the lowest rate of payment was Rs. 4.

"The Kurhul Tehseeldar, in preparing his list of persons under the former Act, sent for the men who had paid Rs. 4 under the license tax the previous year, and asked them which they preferred—paying him Re. 1 all round for the current year, or paying Rs. 8 to Government, as that was now the minimum rate. Naturally they thought it better to pay him Re. 1, and did so.

"The Acting Tehseeldar, of course, could not really have ventured to send in all the names of the Rs. 4 class of the license tax as liable to assessment in the Rs. 8 class of the certificate tax. But many of the payers were too ignorant to know this. Others, who were not, probably knew that he would send in some, as having raised their incomes above Rs. 500, which, no doubt, he would have done; and they all preferred paying a rupee to making an enemy of him, and (for all they knew) having to pay the tax into the bargain.

"None of them complained, and I only heard of it by an accident. I went to Kurhul, and my enquiry there quite satisfied me that the thing had really occurred, but I could not get evidence enough to put the tehseeldar on his trial. The men had paid their rupee, and had not been troubled about the tax, and did not wish to give evidence against a man in his position. But he was subsequently dismissed from Government employ on account of other misconduct which was proved against him."

8. There is the case of bribery in Bareilly referred to by Mr. Mayne. The Collector writes—

"On the 3rd May last the Tehseeldar of the Huzoor Tehseel was called upon to frame lists of persons believed to be liable to pay income tax. He divided the city into circles and entrusted the preparation of the lists of those circles to different members of the tehseel establishment. To the peshkar he assigned Mohullah Behareepoor, and what is called the Sudder Gusht.

"Directly I set foot in Behareepoor complaints were loudly made, and after a time it was openly asserted before the peshkar's face that he had taken no part whatever in the preparation of the lists, but had sent round his familiar, a chuprassy of the name of Prag Singh, who had framed the lists by the simple process of causing the Mohurrir who accompanied him to write down the name of every person who declined to pay him Rs. 2. A number of men then and there came forward, and said that they had paid money to Prag Singh, and I regret to say there is no doubt as to the truth of their statement.

"Prag Singh, chuprassy, was tried by me under Section 161, Indian Penal Code, and sentenced to two years' imprisonment. No evidence against Gobindpershad, Seha Nuvees, who accompanied Prag Singh, was forthcoming. He appeared to have taken quite a subordinate part in the business, Prag Singh, a Khutree of note in a Mohullah largely composed of Khutrees, telling him what names he was to enter."

9. Again in the same District the Collector writes—

"In Tandah, Pergunnah Nawabgunj, Mr. Kaye found a number of new names of wretchedly poor men entered in the list. On his enquiring the reason, he was told they were people who had refused to pay the putwaree 5 Rupees.

"The oppression was evident, but legal proof sufficient to secure conviction was not forthcoming.

"Similar cases cropped out in most pergunnahs; but it was impossible to bring home any specific charge. The only thing to do was to strike out such persons from the list of assessable persons."

10. In Mozuffurnuggur the following case came to light—

"Here in this District it has happened recently that a Tehseeldar, who had been grossly and stupidly corrupt for many years, was suddenly brought to book. The enquiry (which was reported in February last) was formal and judicial in its character, and it seemed to me that some of the depositions on the record lay bare the whole system of corruption connected with income tax assessments. In many instances, bribes for income tax were proved by oral testimony supported by entries in mahajuns' books: side by side were entered the sum paid as bribe and the sum paid as tax to Government, and it was noticeable that they were always paid through persons who were obviously mediums of assessment, such as a town punch, or a bukshee of chowkeedars.

"It was also remarkable that whereas income tax bribes were thus always paid through agency of this kind, bribes in other cases were taken directly by the Tehseeldar himself; and that, although the man was thoroughly corrupt and took money wherever he had the chance, he did not take it in his capacity as a Sub-Collector of any other branch of revenue except income tax.

"The record of the enquiry and the accompanying report together furnish above twenty well-authenticated cases of bribes paid and taken to exempt the payers from income tax assessment. All these came to me without search for them on my part, and I have no doubt but that it would have been easy for me then to multiply them tenfold if I had wished to do so.

"It was in this instance the accident that the Tehseeldar himself shared in the systematic plunder, and that his corruption in other matters had become unbearably oppressive that brought these facts to light. As it was, when the mahajuns came before me, it required some pressure to make them shew the entries in their books.

"I gather from this case that even where the Tehseeldar had the strongest motive for dispensing with it, he could not assess except by assistance of an agency which was corrupt in his behalf, and which therefore would presumably have been corrupt for themselves without him; that if so, similar agency must be resorted to in other Districts also, where the Tehseeldars are honest, and must be equally corrupt wherever used; but that ordinarily the public is not likely to complain in one case more than in the other, since the tax-payer is mulcted similarly in both, and it matters little to those who have to pay whether the bribe goes into one man's pocket or another."

11. These cases are hardly quoted as illustrative. It was not the superior agency of the Tehseeldars from which the oppression chiefly proceeded. Where, indeed, they were inclined to be corrupt, they no doubt had large opportunities; and it would be surprising if, considering the venial character of bribery in the eyes of Native society, they were everywhere and without exception proof against the temptation. But we may hope that as a rule they were proof.

12. The real delinquents and oppressors of the country were, as the Lieutenant-Governor understands the complaint, the underlings (putwarees, canoongoes, &c.), through whom the Tehseeldars or superior officers were, as a matter of necessity, obliged to work. How else could the Tehseeldar proceed where there were hundreds of villages and thousands of persons whose means were to be tested,—a process necessarily involving local investigation and local knowledge? There was no other machinery to his hand; he was obliged to use it. And yet no one who knows anything of Native character should doubt that putwarees and small officials, having such a commission, would, in the execution of it, attend to their own interests.

13. The specialty of the income tax is that there is nothing definite and tangible to go upon. In the Land Revenue and the Excise, Stamps, Customs, Salt Departments, there are distinct grounds and evidence for assessment, and any unlawful inquisition, or oppression or over-assessment, or extortion can be brought to a recognizable and practical test.* But with the income tax it is just the reverse. It can be but a matter of opinion whether a large cultivator reaped Rs. 500 during the year for the support of himself and a large family; or, if to his cultivating gains were added some speculation in the grain market or a little money-lending at interest, whether his gains might not have been still greater. The assertion is easy; and who is to gainsay or disprove it? The law is summary and sharp; once assessed and appeal neglected, there is no remedy. And if appeal be made, how is the over-estimate to be established? The Collector regarding the mean guise of the complainant, might perchance make a random order of remission; but it is far more likely that he should imagine the meanness of the guise to be assumed, or believe it compatible with the supposed income. The Kurhul case is indicative of the little hope which appeal affords, even in the most iniquitous assessments of such small incomes.

* The same may be said of the "license tax" at one time proposed for these Provinces; the profession of the assessee would have been a tangible test.

14. What clenched the power of these petty assessors, and has induced a feeling of helplessness on the part of the people, is the frequent and sudden change both as to liability and amount. The certificate tax made them feel that even the pettiest income might be entered on the tax-gatherer's list. The amount itself was constantly changing, and to the ignorant villagers, these changes indicated an arbitrary and irresponsible power on the part of the assessors. It is easy to legislate, but the vast difficulty of communicating even the most simple mandate to a rude and ignorant population of many millions, scattered over so great a surface, so that its meaning shall be promptly and exactly apprehended, is too often lost sight of.

15. Looking to these considerations, it will now perhaps be admitted that the putwarees or canoongoes, when they went to a village to make up their lists and estimates of income, were in a position of authority which few Natives of the lower classes could be proof against abusing. They had the power to exclude, and the power to assess,—a power practically beyond the reach of appeal; and even this, their real power, was increased by the uncertainties and changes in the tax. To be out of the list and safe for the future was an object to every one, and every one would gladly pay for the envied privilege.

16. Such (though susceptible of proof only in rare and very exceptional cases) is the oppressive manner in which the tax is believed by our most experienced officers to have worked. It will perhaps be asked why this bribery and extortion has not more frequently come to light? The answer is—Why should it? The people were only too glad to pay and be free; why should they complain of a benefit believed to have been cheaply purchased? In point of fact, in the cases which have come to light, it has been entirely by accident; and (it should be specially remarked) the people who had purchased their supposed privilege, had naturally no inclination to let the truth be known.

17. The same may be said, though perhaps in a less degree, of those who paid a douceur to be assessed in a lower class than that which they were threatened with or feared.

18. How far the unpopularity of the tax is due to payments of this kind made to escape taxation, and how far to a sense of the liability to over-assessment owing to the arbitrary nature of the tax and hopelessness of redress on appeal, the Lieutenant-Governor is unable to say. But so much His Honor may say without any hesitation that, in the course of a long service in India, he has never witnessed anything approaching the popular discontent created by the income tax during the last two years. In many places, the Lieutenant-Governor's camp was besieged with complainants, and yet in taking up individual cases, it was almost impossible, from the nature of the tax and the absence of data, to determine in any single instance that injustice had been done. The same may be said of the Commissioner, and the same of the Collector: when they amended the assessment, it was more by a sort of intuition that something was wrong, than from any distinct evidence of a specific over-charge.

19 The late Judge of Jounpore, who had himself no share in the assessment or collection of the tax, writes—

"During the two years I was Judge of Jounpore, I heard a good deal on this subject from the Rajah and other resident landholders who came to visit me. Unlike most Natives of his rank, the young Rajah goes about his villages, and he declared the oppression to be very great, saying that the tax was really paid by those who were least able to do so. He described the population as at first dissatisfied, then oodas (desponding); and, as the heavy percentage of 1869-70 was promulgated, as becoming mugra (sullen). I give the vernacular words he made use of as more clearly expressing the Native feeling."

20. I am desired to add that it will be in His Excellency's recollection that Sir William Muir brought repeatedly to His Excellency's notice the extraordinary discontent which came to light on his circuits through these Provinces, and urged that the limit should be so raised as to bring the number of persons with incomes liable to question within the power of the Collector and his superior officers personally to investigate. His Honor has no doubt that the change of the law in this direction will produce a sensible relief to the country, though he could have wished that it had gone further.

21. From what has been said it will be gathered that, in the judgment of the Lieutenant-Governor, the convictions to which the Hon'ble Mr. Inglis gave expression in the Legislative Council, are to a very considerable extent well-founded.

22. The Lieutenant-Governor has been asked whether the alleged demoralisation has extended to other branches of the service. His Honor is happy to say that, so far as his experience goes, it has not; on the contrary, he is fain to hope that the general administration, from the Board downward, was never better officered, more zealous, or more effective than it is at the present moment.

Note by* H. S. REID, ESQ., Officiating Senior Member of the Board of Revenue, North-Western Provinces, on Income Tax,—dated 10th April 1871.

I would beg to re-call to the recollection of the Government of India that, in August or September last, Mr. Inglis and I submitted a joint demi-official memorandum in reply to a confidential requisition from the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor (originating on a reference from the Government of India), in which we stated our belief that while little or no embezzlement of the moneys paid in on account of income tax took place, great extortion was practised by the Native officials to whom the assessment of the tax was in places necessarily entrusted, in the form of enforced payment of sums levied as black mail by the assessing officer, and paid by the people with the view of securing the exclusion of their names from the income tax list, or for their inclusion in a lower grade.

2. (I quote from memory, as I have been unable to procure a copy of our memorandum from the Secretariat Office; but I cannot defer the submission of a note on this subject, on which the Board has been directed by Government order No. 25 A. of 1871, of the 4th instant, to submit such remarks as they may deem called for.)

3. Mr. Inglis repeated in his place in the Legislative Council the sentiments which he had placed on record in the memorandum, above referred to, which was, I imagine, laid before the Government of India six or seven months ago.

4. I understand the gravamen of Mr. Inglis's indictment, as quoted in Mr. Secretary Chapman's letter to the Government, North-Western Provinces, to be as follows:

A large proportion of the people who do not pay income tax to Government are harassed by inquisition into their means, and escape payment of the tax by bribing the Native assessing officers. The payments into the Government treasury represent only moiety of the amount which has come out of the pockets of the people. The income tax must, therefore, be both unpopular with, and hateful to, the people, and comparatively unremunerative to Government.

5. It is known to the Government of India that the European District staff in these Provinces consist of less than 150 men, to whom is entrusted the executive administration of a tract nearly as large as England, Scotland, and Wales, with a dense population amounting to some 30 millions residing in 90,000 towns and villages. The working of the tax over this large area, and among these many millions of people, was entrusted to these officers. No special machinery for the supervision of the assessment and collection of the tax was provided.

6. It was not possible that this comparatively small force of European officers could attempt the primary and detailed assessment personally in every case. The duty was necessarily entrusted in many or, indeed, most instances outside the cities and larger towns to the Tehseeldars. The Tehseeldars again have many and important duties to discharge over considerable tracts of country. (The jurisdiction of Tehseeldars ranges up to 2,610 villages with a population of 548,219, and area of 1,190 square miles.) The Tehseeldar is compelled to depute the canoongo or tehseelee mohurrir, officials on Rs. 15 or 20 per mensem to make the necessary local enquiry, which was conducted in much the following fashion: The putwaree (village accountant) and lumberdars (headmen) are called up. The village bunya and zemindars, who trade in as well as grow corn, seldom keep regular account books. Their incomes were ascertained from the putwaree and lumberdars, who themselves possessed very little or no information on the subject. The assessor has no reliable data to go on. Can he resist the temptation to work the information obtained from the men who he had called in as experts, against the person in regard to whom the enquiry was being made. He professes himself satisfied that the man's income is such as to bring him under (say) the lowest grade, which would involve, under the original income tax of 1869, a payment of Rs. 6. The assessee imagining that the tax would be permanently levied after counting the cost, gladly, or more correctly, perhaps sadly, pays Rs. 20 to have his name excluded from the list. The future action of Government (in raising the tax from 1 to 2½ within the year, and raising it to 3½ per cent. for 1870), justifies his anticipations, and leaves him a gainer of Rs. 8-8 in the second year.

7. I believe that Mr. Inglis was quite within the mark when he stated that natives of India have paid as much in the form of bribes to escape payment of the tax, as they paid into the Government treasury as income tax.

8. The absence of data protects the dishonest assessor, while it baffles the most intelligent and painstaking European officer. The bulk of the smaller assessments must be left to Native officials, who combine with the people to defraud Government, both parties finding it worth their while financially to do so. It is not likely that either the party who takes, or the party who gives the bribe, will report his misfeasance to the Collector, and render himself, as well as his accomplice, liable to punishment under the Penal Code. The only persons who are likely, or rather who would dare to complain, are men who have been assessed, because they would not bribe the Native official or would not bid high enough to get off assessment. Their allegations would not carry conviction to the mind of the officer to whom their complaints are made.

9. The Government of India may ask why the Board did not report on this matter. To this I would reply that the Board had before them no means of arriving at trustworthy information which were not at the command of the Government of India, that no complaints of "bribery and corruption" were made to the Board, which indeed is not charged with the executive administration of the tax. (The working of the income tax is in the hands of Collectors and Commissioners. There is no appeal to the Board from the Commissioner's orders, which are final.) When the Board were called upon to submit their opinion in regard to the extortion alleged to be practised by income tax assessors, they stated their opinion freely and unreservedly, and that some six or seven months ago.

10. The day-books and ledgers of Native traders and bankers have ever been viewed with distrust by Civil Courts. Those accounts were falsified formerly for the purpose of defrauding either their constituents or their correspondents. But now that the Government inquire into the means of all traders with the view of imposing a tax in a form so hateful to the native of India, the Native trading world regards Government as the common enemy, and do their best to baffle all enquiry by the production of cooked accounts. I go entirely with Mr. Inglis, when he charges the income tax with demoralizing the people by the inducement which it holds out to the preparation of two sets of accounts,—one for the trader, and the other for the Government officer.

11. The Government of India call for a catalogue of all the cases which have come within the knowledge of the Board within the last two years, showing any oppression or maladministration connected with the income tax. I have attempted above to show that it is very unlikely that complaints of extortion of the kind specially referred to by Mr. Inglis should be preferred. Even Collectors, who have to work the tax personally, and who are certain that men pay the Native assessors very high to escape assessment, have been unable to bring the charge home to any single Native assessor. I need only refer to the extracts from the reports of the intelligent and able District Officers (named in margin) which the Board has submitted to Government with their report on the administration of the income tax for 1869-70.

Mr. Oldham, Offg. Collector of Ghazeepore.
„ Jenkinson, ditto Saharunpore.
„ Halsey, Collector, Cawnpore.
„ Cairnes Daniell, Collector, Moradabad.
„ Hardinge, Collector, Muttra.
„ Lane, Offg. Collector, Mynpoory.

12. The Government of India enquire whether the demoralization asserted with regard to the income tax extends to other departments of the administration, especially to the collection of other branches of revenue. I would reply that the other branches of the administration, especially the revenue, are not like the income tax, rotten at the core. They stand at least on a sound and safe foundation, i. e., careful and detailed and honest assessment. It is not possible, therefore, that such abuses as Mr. Inglis has exposed in the administration of the income tax should exist in other branches of the administration, especially those connected with the collection of revenue.

Note by F. O. MAYNE, ESQ., C. B., Offg. Junior Member of the Board of Revenue of the North-Western Provinces,—dated the 7th April 1871.

I have not the slightest hesitation in endorsing the general spirit of Mr. Inglis's remarks on the income tax. His figures and percentages may be somewhat wild, but he spoke the truth, and what I believe every one, who has ever had anything to do with working the income tax, knows to be the truth.

A European gentleman (not an official) residing in Rohilcund, who is much among the people and knows them well, on being asked whether Mr. Inglis was right, replied—"No, he is wrong." "What? wrong in his facts?" "No, he was perfectly right and correct in all he said; he spoke the truth, and may be not the whole truth,—but he was wrong all the same to say it, because he cannot prove it." And this is the fact. It is in the nature of things in this country that the more power and authority you give to Natives to oppress and prey on their countrymen, the more they will do it, and the less we, the Government officials, will hear about it. The income tax and its mode of assessment give them in an inordinate degree this power and places their proceedings utterly beyond control. A few Europeans have to assess the tax on millions of Natives. They have no means whatever of ascertaining what the incomes of the lower classes are; it is a mere matter of guess work, and they have to make the work over to Native subordinate officials, the Tehseeldars; they again have to employ the subordinate agency of the Tehseelee. They again work through the zemindars, the putwarees, the chowdrees, and the neighbours generally. Any one is ready to pay to get off a charge for income tax, either to get their names put in a lower class, or to get their names erased altogether. There is no doubt they have paid, but they naturally will not come forward and say so. Any one who has any acquaintance with the Native character, must know that you have only to give them the power and they will exercise extortion, oppression, and bribery on their fellow-subjects to any amount. It is just the same with the Police, the Opium Department, the Customs, the Revenue and Settlement Departments, but fortunately in these Departments checks of various degrees and kinds have been introduced, and supervision is more feasible and practicable than with the income tax. And the people themselves having been longer acquainted with these Departments, are more wideawake and less ready to be imposed upon. But who for a moment will say that oppression, extortion, and bribery do not more or less exist even in any one or all of these Departments? It is well known that in every village a certain sum is laid aside yearly in the Gaon-ke-khurch for expenses incurred in attending Courts. Is it for a moment to be supposed that all these expenses are of a legitimate nature? In the Police Department, for instance, in spite of our best efforts to prevent it, in spite of special clauses in our Penal Code imposing heavy penalties for such offences, in spite of a well-organized constabulary for whose conduct and supervison a special Act has been provided, some 15 or 20 gross cases of torture and extortion are yearly discovered: and the offenders, I am glad to say, are in most cases severely punished. How often are our Tehseeldars suspected of corrupt practices which we are seldom or ever able to prove? It would be folly to blind our eyes to these irregularities. We know that they occur. We keep our eyes open, and all that we can do is to do our best to stop them, but that they do occur is well known. Is it wise to add one more machinery in the shape of an income tax, the working of which is from its very nature peculiarly beyond our control—to the many others which unfortunately, but necessarily, already exist. The public administration is not to blame. The European officers, upon whom rests the misfortune of having to work the tax, are not to blame. It is the tax itself which is to blame, and the people, whose moral conciousness is so blind, whose perception of right and wrong is so blunted, that any one of them is ready to benefit himself by preying on his neighbours as often and as largely as he can. No doubt, in course of time, with an income tax on only higher incomes assessed in a uniform manner for a number of years, the European officers would be able to check much of this tyranny and oppression, and for this reason, if it is contemplated ever again to impose the tax, I would deprecate its abandonment even for a single year. But at the same time, I am strongly of opinion that the tax is utterly unsuited to the country, that in any case this additional method of raising revenue must give additional means to the people to prey on each other, and it would be far better, considering the very small amount of revenue it brings in, to abandon it altogether. Multiplication of modes of assessment means multiplication of departments. Multiplication of departments in this country means multiplication of opportunities for bribery, corruption, extortion, and oppression; and the greater the inquisition entailed, the greater will be the evil.

It is idle to call for a catalogue of cases showing oppression and maladministration. It is useless to ask the names of individuals concerned. A few cases of the kind may be collected, a few offenders handed over to justice, but in the nature of things very few of these cases are ever brought to notice. A man pays and holds his tongue. It is not like a serious case of torture by the police against whom there are many persons only too glad to give information. These cases are legion, and, individually, cover but a very small amount of money or oppression. The perpetrators are also legion, and may be found in every class and rank of life. It is not worth the while of an individual to come forward. We all know with what difficulty he would prove his case—what strong influences would be at work to prevent it. And so we never hear of them. But it is nevertheless true in my belief that cases of the kind are innumerable, and that they do cause, and have caused, an amount of irritation and dissatisfaction throughout the country, which is most deplorable, and may be not unattended with danger.

It is easy to suggest to the Local Government to adopt remedies to prevent such things happening. There is no remedy save in the total abolition of the tax. I deny that there has been any maladministration connected with the income tax. On the contrary, I consider that the local officers generally are entitled to the highest praise for even the small amount of oppression and extortion which they have succeeded in preventing. But, as I have said before, they are powerless; and the evil lies in the nature and principle of the tax itself, and in that only.

An instance in point has just come to my notice. In the city of Bareilly the preparation of the lists was entrusted to certain Native subordinates, the city being divided off between them. Not a single complaint was lodged regarding the preparation of this list. But on the revising officer, Mr. Kaye, locally revising the list, going from house to house, it was discovered, and admitted by the peshkar, that the preparation of the list in his case had been entrusted by him to a chuprassee on Rs. 4 per mensem, and this man had entered whom he pleased, and left out whom he liked. Further enquiry proved the assessment to be utterly false, and yet no one complained.

If this can happen under the very nose of the Collector, how much more will it not be the case in the interior of Districts where personal attestation and scrutiny by European officers is out of the question.

From R. B. CHAPMAN, ESQ., Secretary to the Government of India, Financial Department, to the Acting Chief Secretary to the Government of the Punjab,—No. 514, dated Simla, the 20th May 1871.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of the report on the working of the Income Tax Act for 1870-71 in the Panjab, and in reply to say that the financial results of the tax are satisfactory and creditable to the revenue authorities in the Panjab.

The Government of India will be glad in due course to learn how the tax has worked in other respects in the Panjab, and especially whether there are any general complaints regarding the pressure of the Act, or of any oppression, illegality, or irregularity connected with its operation.

From L. H. GRIFFIN, ESQ., Officiating Secretary to the Government of the Punjab, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Financial Department,—No. 869, dated Lahore, the 3rd October 1871.

With reference to your confidential letter, No. 514 of the 20th May last, I am desired to forward, for the information of the Supreme Government, copy of a communication from the Secretary to the Financial Commissioner, No. 753, dated 21st September, reporting confidentially on the working of the Income Tax Act. The detailed report referred to in the accompanying letter will be submitted separately. The Lieutenant-Governor concurs in the conclusions at which the Financial Commissioner has arrived.

From E. O'BRIEN, ESQ., Officiating Secretary to the Financial Commissioner, Punjab, to the Officiating Secretary to the Government of the Punjab,—No. 753, dated the 21st September 1871.

In reply to your endorsement No. 15 S, dated 30th May, calling for a confidential report as to whether there were any general complaints regarding the pressure of the Income Tax Act, or of any oppression, illegality, or irregularity connected with its operation, I am desired to say that the complete annual report on the working of the income tax has been submitted.

2. The tax has produced more than the estimated amount. There have been no general complaints regarding the pressure of the tax, nor have there been any special complaints of oppression, illegality or irregularity in carrying out the provisions of the Act.

3. There have been complaints regarding the assessment, but these have been decided by the District and Divisional Officers in the manner prescribed by the Act. The number of complaints regarding assessment is not a sure test of the severity or lightness of it. If the assessment has been unequal, if men who ought to pay highly have been assessed too low, either from want of care or knowledge on the part of the District Officers, or from any other cause, the neighbours of that man will probably petition, not because they have been over-assessed, but because they think there is a chance of their assessments being reduced if they petition, as the same cause which led to our assessment being fixed too low may operate in their favor.

4. The report contains full particulars regarding other matters, and should be referred to for details.

READ the following papers:

Letter from the Secretary to the Government of the North-Western Provinces, to the Government of India in the Home Department, No. 207, dated 24th June 1861, with enclosure, being the report on the administration of the income tax in the North-Western Provinces for the year 1860-61.

Report of the Board of Revenue, North-Western Provinces, on the administration of the income tax in the North-Western Provinces in 1869-70, with the orders passed upon it by the Government of the North-Western Provinces.

Confidential letter to the Government of the North-Western Provinces, No. 1940, dated 31st March, calling for the opinion of the Government of the North-Western Provinces on certain statements made by the Hon'ble J. D. Inglis in the Legislative Council of the Governor General, regarding the evils attending the assessment and collection of the income tax.

Reply by the Government of the North-Western Provinces to the communication No. 52 A, dated 3rd July 1871.

Letter to the Government of the Punjab, No. 514, dated 20th May 1871, asking whether any abuses have come to light there in connection with the working of the income tax.

Reply of the Government of the Punjab, No. 869, dated 3rd October 1871.

RESOLUTION.—The aggregate income assessed to the income tax in the North-Western Provinces (population 30,039,584) in 1869-70, was £9,943,880, of which £3,620,980 was the aggregate of 54,143 incomes less than £100 a year each, and £6,322,900 the aggregate of 20,325 incomes of £100 a year and upwards each.

2. The aggregate incomes of £100 a year and upwards each assessed to income tax in the United Kingdom in 1868-69 (population 30,380,787) was £430,398,971, being 68 times as much as in the North-Western Provinces. The assessment in the North-Western Provinces in 1869-70 fell upon 74,468 persons, being almost exactly 1 in 400 of the population, or, assuming that on an average there are five persons in a family, on one head of family in 80.

The statement made by the Local Government (paragraph 3 of its orders No. 155 A, dated 16th May) that—

"the total number of persons assessed to the tax was 1·25 of the total population, or nearly 4 in 300, not 1 in 300, as has been erroneously stated,"

The net amount actually realised was £136,468.

Compared with the preceding year (when the Supreme Government had to complain of laxity of administration), the number of persons assessed has risen from 34,294 to 74,468, or, omitting (in order to make the figures comparable) persons deriving income from land, to 61,046; the net realisation having increased from 47,592 (at 1 per cent.) to £136,466, at 1½ per cent.

3. These results are comparatively satisfactory; though, considering that the North-Western Provinces includes many large cities and important commercial centres,—as for instance, Mirzapore, Benares, Allahabad, Cawnpore, Agra, Muttra, Meerut, Bareilly,—it is impossible to believe that the revenue even now obtained is nearly what it would be if all the incomes liable were completely taxed.

4. The Governor General in Council greatly regrets to find that the Government of the North-Western Provinces, while apparently considering that the statements made by the Hon'ble Mr. Inglis in the Legislative Council were too definite and involved too universal and sweeping a condemnation of the administration of the tax in the North-Western Provinces, yet thinks that the convictions to which the hon'ble gentleman gave expression are, "to a very considerable extent, well founded."

5. The contrast between the reports now read regarding the working of the income tax at the present day and those regarding the same tax when it was first introduced, is remarkable. In 1860-61 the tax reached to incomes as low as Rs. 200 a year; the rate was 4 per cent. upon all incomes of Rs. 1,000 a year and more, and 2 per cent. upon incomes below Rs. 1,000. Excluding the Jubbulpore Division (since transferred to the Central Provinces), the number of persons assessed was 174,166, the amount assessed being £328,108. Yet the Board of Revenue (present Messrs. Muir and Money) in their No. 102, dated 26th March 1861, reported—

"85. It is, indeed, very remarkable with what little display of ill feeling an imposition so novel, and necessarily so distasteful, has been received throughout the country, and how soon the people at large have been accustomed to the measure.

"86. The Board would here desire to record their opinion that, with hardly an exception, the District Officers throughout these Provinces, notwithstanding that they were already burdened with an amount of business which it was difficult to overtake, have discharged the duties imposed on them by the Act, with great zeal, alacrity, and intelligence. The generally favorable results attained are due to their exertions and good arrangements. The subordinate staff, whether covenanted or uncovenanted, has also, in every instance, cheerfully come forward and devoted themselves laboriously to the discharge of these new duties.

Conduct of Officers.

"87. The general ability and conduct of the assessors has been, with hardly an exception, deserving of great praise. So far as can be ascertained, the Native, as well as the European, assessors have shown not only intelligence but a remarkable degree of integrity.

"88. The notices of oppression or ill treatment have been exceedingly rare and slight. A few attempts at extortion were discovered on the part of official underlings, as in Goruckpore and Furruckabad, but were promptly punished with good effect. No complaints have reached the Board of hardship or injustice, excepting some from Goruckpore, to which the Commissioner's careful attention has been requested."

6. And the Lieutenant-Governor (Sir George Edmonstone) added (Government of North-Western Provinces, to Home Department, No. 207A, dated 24th June 1861)—

"27. As to complaints of oppression upon which information is required in your letter, I am to refer to the 88th paragraph of the enclosed report from the Sudder Board of Revenue, and to add the Lieutenant-Governor's own observation upon this point. During his tour, the Lieutenant-Governor passed through the Districts named in the margin, at the very time when the Income Tax Act was being introduced. He remained for twenty-five days at Allahabad, and was encamped for three weeks at Benares, where lump assessments had been imposed and there might have been some reason to expect that the poorer classes might have suffered some unfairness in the distribution. Throughout this tour, there was every facility, as there always is, for the presentation of petitions, without any charge whatever for stamps or otherwise, and accordingly numerous petitions were presented by individuals, complaining that their incomes had been over-assessed. But it is a fact that not one single petition was received, not even an anonymous petition, complaining of the tax itself, or of any oppression or extortion or misconduct of any kind whatever having been practised either by assessors or by Native functionaries of any class whatever. The Lieutenant-Governor is satisfied that no measure so novel and so distasteful could have been carried out among a people so prone to represent or even to exaggerate their grievances, without calling for the complaint, unless it had been carried out with a remarkable forbearance, discretion, and integrity for which he claims credit for all the officers, both European and Native, who have been engaged in the execution of Act XXXII. of 1860."

Mooradabad, Boolundshuhur, Allyghur, Muttra, Agra, Etawah, Mynpoory, Furruckabad, Cawnpore, Allahabad, Benares, Mirzapore, and Joumpore.

7. The present Lieutenant-Governor (the Hon'ble Sir William Muir) now states that "in the course of a long service in India, he has never witnessed anything approaching the popular discontent created by the income tax during the last two years." The Governor General in Council regrets that the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor did not refer to his report as Member of the Board of Revenue in 1861, and explain the causes of the very marked difference between his experience of the two periods.

8. The efficiency of the government of Sir George Edmonstone is beyond dispute. It is known that he devoted the closest personal attention to the introduction of the income tax, and that he issued very elaborate orders regarding its assessment and collection. The report just quoted gives the result of Sir George Edmonstone's personal observations in 1860-61, during an extended tour.

9. It is to be gathered from the report of the present Government of the North-Western Provinces that the evils believed by the Hon'ble Mr. Inglis, by a large number of revenue officers in the North-Western Provinces, and "to a very considerable extent" by the Local Government itself, to arise from the income tax, are due almost entirely to the employment of the underlings of the tahsildars on the very important and delicate duty of assessing and collecting the tax.

10. The Governor General in Council greatly regrets the employment of such agency on such a duty. The favorable reports of 1861 prove positively that no such obvious mal-administration was then allowed; and it is known that the tax was, at that time, assessed by the collectors themselves, by their assistants and deputies, and by the tahsildars. His Excellency in Council is constrained to express his surprise that precautions have not since been taken against the demoralisation described as now existing.

11. If such maladministration has really prevailed at all to the extent alleged in these papers, it is, indeed, enough to account for a mass of corruptions and oppression. But, in the opinion of the Governor General in Council, these evils must, in this case, be ascribed almost entirely to administrative proceedings, which ought not to have been permitted. It is to be regretted that the Government of the North-Western Provinces, the Board of Revenue, and the other distinguished revenue officers whose opinions are quoted in these papers, while confessing the existence of evils of this magnitude, the cause of which is so obvious, should apparently have acquiesced in their continuance as a matter of necessity, and failed to order or to suggest such remedial measures as were formerly found so effective.

12. The Governor General in Council cannot admit that the intervention of the lowest class of revenue officers is essential to the proper collection of the tax, or that the employment of such officers in such work is necessary. In Bengal Proper no one is allowed to assess the income tax but officers of the Covenanted Civil Service, or of the subordinate Executive Service, or assessors of about the rank and social position of the members of the subordinate Executive Service, specially appointed to the duty. In the Bombay Presidency the Local Government has always, it is believed, forbidden assessments by any officers below the rank of mamlutdar, an officer who corresponds with the tahsildar of the North-Western Provinces. In the Punjab there appears to have been no evils such as must have occurred if the system, admitted in the North-Western Provinces, had been in force there.

13. Under the law of the present year the number of persons affected by the tax will be so largely reduced owing to the limit of assessment having been raised, that the employment of the agency of the underlings of the tahsildars would be more than ever inexcusable. The Governor General in Council is accordingly pleased to prohibit throughout India the assessment to income tax by any officers below the rank of tahsildars and mamlutdars. Even these officers should be only employed in strict subordination to the collector and his covenanted and uncovenanted assistants, who should take personally a large share of the work, and should most carefully supervise the assessments which they cannot make themselves.

14. The number of persons assessed to income tax in the North-Western Provinces is not likely at present to exceed, on an average, 1,000 in a District, and 200 in a Tahsil. Agricultural incomes are everywhere, save in the permanently-settled Districts, assessed primâ facie by a fixed rule, with reference to the revenue paid by each person; no enquiries, therefore, are ordinarily required in respect to such incomes. A large proportion of the other persons liable to the tax must be massed in the larger towns, their systematic assessment being thereby much facilitated. Upon the whole the Government of India cannot doubt that the tax can usually be assessed by the agency of the District Officers and their covenanted and uncovenanted subordinates, including the tahsildars or mamlutdars; and that, if this agency only be used, the greater part of the evils described will at once be obviated.

15. But whenever necessity is shewn, the Government of India is quite ready, and has always been quite ready, to sanction the employment of competent special assessors, or preferably of competent agency, for the relief of the regular officers of the administration, in order to enable them to devote sufficient time and attention to the income tax.

16. The Governor General in Council is constrained, in conclusion, to remark upon the general tendency apparent in these papers, on the part of even the highest officers, to exaggerate the evils alleged to be connected with the levy of the income tax. An instance has been already quoted of serious miscalculation on the part of the Local Government itself. A further example occurs in the 12th paragraph of its letter No. 52 A, dated 3rd July, where the oppression described is palliated by the remark that tahsildars have to visit "hundreds of villages and test the means of thousands of persons." Again, Mr. H. S. Reid speaks of the jurisdiction of tahsildars as ranging up to 2,610 villages, with a population of 548,219, and an area of 1,190 square miles. The actual average jurisdiction of a tahsildar is, in fact, 460 square miles, and the average number of persons assessed per tahsil was, in 1869-70, 465. Mr. Mayne, again, speaks of "a few Europeans having to assess the tax on millions of Natives." Both the Board of Revenue and the Government pass without animadversion the confessions of wide-spread maladministration made by the subordinate revenue officers, their comments being all rather by way of palliation than of censure.

17. The Government of India relies upon the Government of the North-Western Provinces carrying out the instructions now given with the efficiency which usually characterises the administration of those Provinces, and especially upon its taking such measures as will, whatever be the fiscal consequences, effectually prevent any oppression of the people.

ORDER.—Ordered, that this Resolution, together with the four papers last read, be published in the Gazette of India.

Also, that a copy of the Resolution be communicated to the Government of the North-Western Provinces.

Any such voluntary subscriber, on any of his payments to the fund, whether subscription or donation or interest on arrears, remaining unpaid for one year, after, under the rules of his fund, it has become due, will be at once struck off and absolutely forfeit all advantages accruing to him, as well as all sums paid by him to the funds.

No. 942 of 1871.—With the concurrence of the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to promulgate the subjoined instructions for the guidance of British paymasters, with the view of providing against an improper accumulation of funds in their hands, and to notify that the responsibility imposed on regimental commanding officers, will be duly enforced in the event of any loss of public money being occasioned hereafter by the neglect of those regulations.

2. This Order is applicable to the three Presidencies.

Paras. 1 to 27 of Circular No. 227, Office of Controller of Military Accounts, dated Calcutta, the 1st June 1870.

II.—Advances on Imprest to Officers Commanding Brigades and Batteries of Royal Artillery.

In modification of Articles 20 to 27, 31, 33 and 34 of "Instructions for Paymasters," Circular 138, the subjoined rules are to be strictly followed in future :

I.—Annual Assignments of Cash to Regimental Paymasters.

In substitution of Articles 20 to 27.

1. The Military Accountant, in the month of March, will furnish each regimental paymaster with a statement showing the annual assignment of cash to the regiment for each month of the official year, and the treasury from which the money is to be issued.

2. The paymaster is at liberty to draw against this assignment under the regulations hereafter described, provided that the drawings of any month, added to the sum drawn in previous months of the official year, do not exceed the amount for which provision has been made up to that period in the assignment. As, for example, if the total provision of funds from April to September inclusive be Rs. 1,80,000 in the aggregate, and the amount drawn up to September be only Rs. 1,40,000, the difference or Rs. 40,000 may be drawn in October.

3. The regimental paymaster will draw against his assignment on the 1st and 10th of each month, respectively, one-fourth part of the authorized issue, as shown in the assignment; and on the 20th of the month he will submit to his commanding officer, for his approval, an estimate, in duplicate (Bengal Form 77), showing the balance on his previous month's general state of accounts, the probable receipts and disbursements, the amount of cash received, and the further probable sum required from the civil treasury to complete the payments on account of the regiment for the current month.

4. The paymaster must satisfy his commanding officer that the calculations of the several items of the estimate are fairly made, and, if called upon, must furnish him with full details of any of the items.

5. The commanding officer is required to satisfy himself, before attaching his signature to the estimate, that the receipts and disbursements are correct, and that the sum to be advanced from the treasury is not in excess of actual requirements.

6. One copy of the estimate is to be retained by the officer commanding for record in the orderly-room, the duplicate copy being returned to the paymaster for record in his office.

7. The cheque for the last instalment is to be drawn on the 25th of the month, unless the proximity to the bank or civil treasury drawn on, will admit of the presentation of the cheque for payment on a later date within the month. Should any of the above dates fall on a Sunday or holiday, the issue of the cash from the treasury will be made on the previous day. Before drawing the cheque for the last instalment, the paymaster will ascertain from the Savings Bank and Canteen Fund Committees, the Captains of Troops and Companies, and others, what sums are likely to be paid into their hands on account of the public service within the period of the account; these particulars will enable him to regulate the draft on the civil treasury, so as neither to exceed his actual requirements nor to draw an insufficient sum, for the disbursements of the regiment, properly belonging to the month.

8. The paymaster's cheque for the last instalment need not necessarily be drawn for the exact amount shown in the monthly estimate. The commanding officer is responsible that the cheques are only for such sums as are absolutely and immediately necessary for the requirements of the regiment, and he may permit the paymaster to draw on the treasury for a larger sum than is shown in his estimate, provided always the amount is available on his assignment, if the exigencies of the service require it.

9. In case the draft on the treasury is found to have exceeded the regimental demands of the month current, the paymaster will be careful to regulate his drawings for the first and second instalments of the following month so as to keep his balance within the limits allowed to him (vide Article 87 of Instructions for Paymasters).

10. Under no circumstance, however, is the paymaster to draw from the treasury less than the amount that will be actually required for the disbursements appertaining to the period of account. A balance in his favor indicates that he has over-credited himself with expenditure, and with due attention to the precautions specified above, this irregularity may be avoided.

11. A regimental paymaster requiring a supplementary assignment, will prepare and submit to his commanding officer, for his approval, an estimate (Bengal Form 77), in duplicate, in which will be shown, as accurately as possible, the amount that will be actually required for the extra services to be disbursed, and this estimate is to be sent to the Military Accountant for sanction before any sum is drawn on it. When sanctioned, one copy will be returned to the paymaster and the other to the local accountant General for the issue of the necessary assignment.

12. In cases of unforeseen emergency, where delay in applying for a supplementary assignment must obviously be productive of inconvenience to the public service, a regimental paymaster may obtain a credit on a civil treasury over and above the amount he is entitled to under assignments, on the authority of a station or division order. Such credits must not be applied for except in cases of actual necessity, and the circumstances must be specially reported in each case to the Military Accountant.

13. The supplementary assignment, or the credit granted by the civil treasury, will be added to the annual assignment of the paymaster, and must be drawn against by cheques in the usual manner.

14. The unpaid balance of the annual and supplementary assignment and credit on the last day of the official year will lapse, and the cheques drawn against them, and then remaining unpaid, will be met from the asssignment of the following year.

15. The officer commanding must countersign each cheque, and must also place his initials to the entries in the margin of the cheque book, which is to be filled in before the cheque is signed and separated from the book.

16. Attention is directed to the rule prohibiting officers and others attached to British regiments receiving "emergent advances" from civil treasuries on account of pay and allowances; this ruling is equally applicable to advances for dâk expenses, carriage, &c.; and to obviate the necessity of applications of this nature in future, paymasters are authorized to furnish officers and soldiers, when detached on particular duty, with sufficient money, and to instruct them to discharge all public demands, adjusting the advance with the paymaster. The outstanding advances will be included in the paymaster's particulars of balance (Bengal Form 167) to accompany his Monthly Pay List.

17. On the last day of the month the paymaster is to forward the list (Bengal Form 78) of cheques drawn from the treasury to that date, to the civil officer, who, after certifying to its correctness, will return it at once to the regimental paymaster for transmission to the Military Accountant, Calcutta. This list is to correspond with the entries under receipts (Item A) in the General State of Accounts of the Regiment.

In substitution of Article 31.

18. When a regiment is moved from its station during the currency of the annual assignment to another station within the limits of the Local Government, the officer commanding and paymaster may draw on any day for the sum required to complete the regimental payments of the month and any necessary payments on the public service en route, and the treasury officer on receipt of the cheque will issue the cash applied for, and grant one or more public service transfer receipts in favor of the drawing officers for such sum as may be required to be issued at any station en route, or at the destination of the regiment.

19. When a regiment is likely to continue en route on the 1st of any subsequent month, the officer commanding must also apply to the provincial Accountant General for a credit on the civil treasuries nearest to which the regiment is likely to be on the 1st of each month, and this credit will be granted, subject to the provisions of Articles 2 and 3. The cash and service transfer receipts will be issued by the treasury officer for the full monthly requirements of the regiment.

20. In case the station to which the regiment is proceeding is within the Bengal Presidency, but beyond the jurisdiction of the Local Government on which the annual assignment was granted, the paymaster will apply to the treasury officer for a certificate specifying the full amount paid from the treasury, within the official year, for the service of the regiment. This certificate the officer commanding will at once forward to the local Accountant General, in a letter showing the stations at which the regiment is likely to be, while en route, on the 1st of the months following, and the sums required to be issued on those dates for the service of the regiment.

21. The Accountant General, after adding the balance of the assignment then available for the regiment, will transfer the particulars, in the same form, to the Accountant General of the Government to which the regiment is proceeding, communicating particulars to the Military Accountant.

22. A similar course will be followed when a regiment is transferred from the Bengal Establishment to another Presidency, or vice versâ. The accounts of such regiment are to be rendered to the Pay Department of the Presidency to which the regiment is proceeding, from the 1st of the month in which it moves from its station, all payments from civil treasuries in that month, and in any subsequent month, while en route, being adjusted with the Military Department of the Presidency to which the regiment has proceeded.

23. This rule does not apply to regiments proceeding to another Presidency for the purpose of embarking for England, such regiments being retained on the establishment of the Bengal Presidency until date of embarkation, and the accounts continuing to be rendered to Calcutta.

24. Regiments proceeding to Bombay for embarkation will obtain a special credit from the Accountant General of the Government on which the annual assignment was given, for such funds as it is likely to require until arrival at the port of embarkation. The credit will specify the civil treasuries nearest to which the regiment is likely to be on the 1st of the month, and on presentation thereof, the treasury officer will honor the cheque of the officer commanding and paymaster for the sum required to complete the regimental payments of the month, as provided for in Article 18, the amount of the cheque discharged being inscribed, in each case, on the back of the credit. The cash issued by Bombay treasuries on account of such regiments will be adjusted with Bengal in the usual manner.

25. Regiments for the Bengal Presidency landing at Bombay will be granted by the Accountant General, Bombay, on the application of the Controller of Military Accounts, a similar credit as in the case above described. These regiments are brought on the Bengal Establishment from date of disembarkation, and render their accounts to the Pay Department, Calcutta. The special credits will be forwarded in each case to the Pay Examiner, with the regimental accounts first rendered, on arrival of the regiment at its destination.

26. In exhibiting the cheques drawn in the general state, the greatest accuracy is enjoined in inserting the full particulars as to the amount and date of each cheque, and the treasury from which this money was issued.

27. On the arrival of a regiment in India, or in a new Presidency, the paymaster must immediately apply to the Controller of Military Accounts for the issue of the necessary orders regarding his assignment of cash on the civil treasury.

Para. 87 of Circular No. 138, Office of Controller of Military Accounts, dated Calcutta, the 20th May 1866.

Establishment.

87. The balance in each general state of accounts due from a paymaster is to be the smallest possible amount, and if at any time it exceeds Rs. 500, or Rs. 200 in the case of a battery, the particulars, and an explanation of the cause thereof, is to be transmitted with the pay list on Bengal Form 167. The balance may be carried on from one month's account to another; but when a paymaster ceases to act, he is required to annex to his final account the receipt of his successor for any balance paid over to him.

No. 944 of 1871.—The following military letter from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India is published for general information:

MILITARY.
No. 207.

INDIA OFFICE;
London, the 10*th August* 1871.

To His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council.

MY LORD,—In framing the Military Furlough Rules of 1868, it was understood to be the desire and intention of the Government of India that all distinction between furlough on private affairs and that on medical certificate should, as far as possible, cease, and amongst the introductory clauses to those rules is the following: "1.—The distinction with respect to allowances hitherto drawn between furlough on private affairs and sick leave is abolished, both kinds of leave being included under the general term furlough, provision, however, being made for the obtainment of furlough under medical certificate, without all the restrictions applicable to furlough when taken without medical certificate."

2. It appears to me, therefore, that the only occasions upon which any officer should be granted furlough on medical certificate are—

1*st*, when (as in the case of Subalterns) an officer entitled to furlough may, if compelled to take leave on account of ill health, be entitled, under the regulations, to certain privileges,—as free passage to England;

2*ndly*, when an officer is not entitled to furlough, but is obliged to take leave on medical certificate,—a case for which provision is made in the rules;

3*rdly*, when, in the interests of the service, an officer, although entitled to furlough, would only be granted leave on the production of a medical certificate.

3. Very recently applications for extension of furlough on private affairs on the part of officers who have come home on medical certificate, have been submitted to me and have been granted, the applicants appearing to be entitled to furlough under the regulations; but it is obviously desirable that I should be informed of the actual circumstances under which every officer claiming furlough upon medical certificate has had furlough granted to him, and I consider all officers entitled to furlough, whose services can be spared, should have the leave gazetted as "furlough," whether they produce a medical certificate or not.

4. With respect to the above three classes, it might be well to gazette the first to furlough, with a note to the effect that, being recommended by a medical board, they are entitled to a free passage, &c. With regard to the second, it would be sufficient to note the clause under which they take leave, and, with regard to the third, it will be assumed in future, when an officer entitled to furlough is thus granted leave on medical certificate, that his services could not otherwise have been dispensed with, and no extension of his leave will be granted in this country except on medical certificate.

(Signed) ARGYLL.

RESOLUTION.—The position of the Government of India, and the difficulty experienced by Native States and public bodies in obtaining competent officers without its assistance, frequently render it necessary for the Government, for political and for public reasons, to transfer its officers to service paid for from sources other than its own revenues. Such transfers would, as a general rule, be impossible if the condition were insisted on that, the officer transferred should give up his privileges as an officer in the service of the Government of India; and in the papers above read, the question is discussed—what financial arrangements are proper to be made in the case of officers of Government lent to, or transferred to service paid by, Native States, Municipalities, and other bodies financially independent of the Government of India, such as Courts of Wards, Port Trusts, &c., and permitted at the same time to retain their privileges as servants of the Government of India?

2. The remuneration of officers of Government may be thus classified—

Immediate, their pay and allowances while on duty;
Contingent, their absentee allowances;
Deferred, their pensionary allowances;

and such officers, when lent to Native States, &c., though they obtain their "immediate" remuneration from the State or fund at the charge of which they are employed, look, for the most part, to the Government of India for their "contingent" and "deferred" remuneration.

3. It may sometimes be expedient, for special reasons, that the Government of India should bear such charges; but, as a rule, it is not so; and it is necessary to prescribe the conditions which should be imposed, so that such charges may be avoided, unless the Government, for special reasons, accepts them.

4. The Government of India have accordingly resolved to require, on account of every officer lent or transferred to a Native State, or a Municipality or other financially independent body, who is permitted to retain his position in relation to the service of Government, and his claims to absentee and pensionary allowances under the rules of the service to which he belongs, and with regard to whom the exemption contemplated in paragraph 3 is not declared, a contribution proportional to the salary which he receives, and regulated on the following principles.

5. In the first place it is to the officers themselves, and not to their employers, that the Government will look for the contribution required; any other course would be productive of difficulty and inconvenience.

6. In the second place, a calculation founded upon such data as are available, shews that the cost to Government of the charges above classed as contingent and deferred (excluding, however, privilege leave allowances) is about one-quarter of the amount actually disbursed in the form of "immediate" remuneration.

7. The Government of India will, therefore, require from officers, whose services are lent or transferred as contemplated in paragraph 4, a contribution of one-fifth of their pay and acting allowance; that is, they will receive from their employers pay and acting allowance fixed, in accordance with the rules of the Government service, with relation to the appointments which they hold, or in which they officiate; and, retaining four-fifths, will transfer one-fifth to Government. In return for this contribution, the Government will undertake to pay their absentee allowances (except in the case of privilege leave), and their pensionary allowances, in the same manner, and to the same extent, as if they were in the service of Government, save only that the calculation of such allowances will be based only upon the four-fifths which they retain, instead of upon the full amount which they receive of pay and acting allowance.

8. A Native officer will be permitted, if he prefers it, to resign all claim to allowances during leave (except privilege leave), and in such case the contribution required of him will be only 12 per cent. The contribution required in respect of inferior servants is one anna in the rupee.

9. And with the special permission of the Government of India in the Financial Department, officers may make the contribution provided for in paragraph 7 in respect of a less sum (not being less than two-thirds) of their actual allowances, in which case their absentee and pensionary allowances will be calculated as if their actual salary were four-fifths of the amount in respect of which they make their contribution.

10. As to privilege leave to all officers in the position referred to in this resolution, the Government of India cannot make arrangements. Privilege leave is at all times, especially, subject to the discretion of the Government or body which employs the officer; and though an officer lent to Native States, &c., will retain his general claim to privilege leave, in the manner provided by the rules of the Government service, he must be left to arrange the times of taking it, and the amount to be taken, with his employer, in the same way as in the Government service he has to arrange them with the Government. An officer must continue during privilege leave to pay the contribution required by paragraphs 7 and 8.

11. As regards officers transferred to Local Funds, the resolution of this Department No. 2197, dated 24th April 1868, empowered the Local Governments, in certain cases, to admit pensions chargeable to such funds; and they have power also to grant absentee allowances from them. In the case of an officer permanently transferred to service paid from a fund to which these conditions are declared by the Local Government to be applicable, no contribution will be required, as his claims to pension and absentee allowance for that part of his service which is under the local fund will be provided for by it; but, in all cases of mere temporary transfer to such funds, the required contribution must be paid. So in all cases of transfer, whether temporary or permanent, to a local fund under which service does not reckon for pension, the required contribution must be paid.

12. An officer whose services are lent or transferred, is not permitted to withhold the contribution by entering into an understanding that the time of his service so lent or transferred will not count for pension or for leave. He must either entirely resign the service of Government, or, unless he is specially exempted, make the contribution required by these rules.

13. In the case of Covenanted Civil Servants the contribution of one-fifth required by this resolution, includes the four per cent. deduction to the Annuity Funds which will not be separately levied. The amount of the contribution to be credited to the Annuity Fund is $3\frac{1}{3}$ per cent. of the full nominal pay and acting allowance, being one-twenty-fourth part of the amount retained by the officer after deduction.* This proportion, being one-sixth of the entire contribution, will be credited to the Annuity Funds so long as they are maintained.

* i. e., the same as 4 per cent. retained out of 100.

14. If the salary of the officers is disbursed at a Government Treasury, the required contribution will be deducted at time of payment, otherwise the officers themselves must pay the amount directly to the Government of India, in such manner as may be arranged.

15. Nothing in this resolution is to be held to apply to officers accepting service under Native States, &c., for their own purposes; it applies solely to officers transferred from the service of Government under the general or special sanction of the Government of India, and for political or public reasons; nor shall anything in this resolution be held to authorize the formation of funds by the accumulation of the contributions or deductions required.

16. The above rules will apply to all officers in the service of Government transferred after the date of this resolution, under the sanction, general or special, of the Government of India, to service under Native States, Local Funds, Municipalities, or other bodies financially independent of the Government of India, unless they resign all claim to absentee or pensionary allowance from the Government of India. They will not apply, however, to service in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts or Mysore, the revenues of which States are under the financial control of Government, and can be used to meet charges for absentee and pensionary allowances when they arise. Also, they will not apply to the following cases where other arrangements have been made,—(1) teachers transferred to service in the Chumba State, or in the Kolapur School; (2) Government servants transferred to the municipality of Malcolm Peith.

17. The rules will not apply to officers lent or transferred to the British or to any Colonial Government. Such cases are rare, and will be left for special arrangement as they arise, due regard being had to the principles laid down in this resolution. The Government of India will not, unless there are special reasons to the contrary, accept, without reimbursement any charge for absentee allowances or for pension for service rendered by its officers to other Governments.

18. Nothing in this resolution shall be held to affect the position of officers who have, before the date of its promulgation, accepted service under Native States, Municipalities, or other bodies financially independent of Government. Unless they belong to the Army, or to the Covenanted Civil service, or unless their case is met by some special rule, such officers have ordinarily no claim for pension from the Government of India, their pay not being a charge against the general revenues. This resolution is intended to provide for future transfers and not to create any claims on the part of officers already transferred under other conditions.

No. 961 of 1871.—Her Majesty's 104th Regiment (Bengal) Fusiliers being about to quit India for the first time, and being the last of the regiments left in the country which served at the siege of Delhi, the Governor General in Council desires, in bidding it farewell, to place on record an expression of the appreciation in which the services of the corps have been held by the Government of India.

Raised in 1839 as the 2nd Regiment of European Infantry of the Bengal Army, it proceeded in 1842 to form a portion of the army of reserve which was assembled at Ferozepore.

At the close of 1843 the regiment marched to Scinde, where it was employed with a force under the personal command of General Sir Charles J. Napier, G. C. B., in the coercion of some border tribes.

In the cold season of 1845-46 it formed part of the "Scinde Field Force," under the command of the same officer, which kept the field while the army of the Sutlej was engaged with the Sikh forces.

In 1848-49 the regiment was attached at first to the 4th, and subsequently to the 3rd, brigade of infantry of the army of the Punjab, and was engaged with the Sikh forces at the battle of Chillianwallah.

It was also very prominently engaged and suffered severely in the action of Goojerat, and formed a portion of the flying column, which, under command of Sir Walter Gilbert, followed the retiring Sikh Army.

For its gallant, exemplary, and praiseworthy conduct in the operations of the army of the Punjab, it received the distinction of being made a "Fusilier" regiment.

The corps was subsequently engaged in the second Burmese War of 1852-53, during which it maintained its high character for discipline and good conduct.

The Bengal Fusiliers was one of the four regiments of British Infantry present throughout the operations against Delhi in 1857, where it sustained 245 casualties in action. After the capture, it formed part of a column sent through the Meywattee country, under the command of Brigadier Showers.

Since its formation in 1839, the regiment has upheld, under all circumstances, a very high character, which the Governor General in Council, in bidding it farewell, feels assured it will always maintain.

No. 962 of 1871.—Under the authority of the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, the name of Lieutenant Reginald Hewes Allott Quinet, of the Bengal Staff Corps, is removed from the list of the Bengal Army with effect from the 17th October 1871.

FIBRES AND SILK.

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870:

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labour being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

3.—The requirements of the case appear to be some machinery or process capable of producing, with the aid of animal, water, or steam-power, a ton of fibre of a quality which shall average in value not less than £50 per ton in the English market, at a total cost—all processes of manufacture and allowance for wear and tear included—of not more than £15 per ton. The said processes are to be understood to include all the operations performed, after the cutting and transport of the plant to the place of manufacture to the completion of the manufacture of fibre of the quality above described. The machinery must be simple, strong, durable, and cheap, and should be suited for erection at or near the plantations, as the refuse is very useful as manure for continued cultivation.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

Read again—

Circular letter to all Local Governments and Administrations, No. 4121, dated 12th October 1870, regarding the enforcement of Section 16 of the Indian Coinage Act of 1870.

Notification of this Department, No. 451, dated 24th January 1871, containing rules for carrying out the provisions of Sections 16 and 28 of the Indian Coinage Act of 1870.

Read also the following correspondence on any necessity of relaxing the strict responsibility of a treasurer, for loss from his receipt of coin which is defaced without having lost more than two per cent. in weight, or which was of doubtful legality from its appearing to have been reduced in weight otherwise than by reasonable wearing, viz.:

From Mint Master, No. 477 of 8th September 1871.

RESOLUTION.—The Governor General in Council observes that, under Section XIII. of the Coinage Act, defaced coin is not legal tender, and, accordingly, all coin which has been defaced including that to which a piece of solder may have been attached, should be declined at a Government Treasury or a Paper Currency Office. The solder imparts to the coin a suspicious character, for it may conceal a drilling of the coin, though in other cases it is attached for the purpose of using the coin as an ornament.

2. Similarly coin which has been artificially diminished (as by partial solution in acids) should be treated under Section XIII. of the Coinage Act as not legal tender, and be dealt with as Section XVI. and the rules in the notification dated 24th January 1871 may permit.

3. Coins which have lost more than two per cent. by fair wear and tear, should be cut or broken and paid for at the rate of one rupee per tolah, as directed in paragraph 2 of Financial Notification No. 451, dated 24th January 1871.

4. Weights for testing whether coins have lost more than the prescribed allowance in weight by wear and tear, should be supplied by the Mint Masters to all Treasuries and Paper Currency Offices, and the Mint Master, Calcutta, should be requested to submit a draft of the rules which he would propose for testing the scales and weights in use at treasuries, since such test must become necessary in time, even when proper weights and adjusted scales may have been supplied in the first instance by the Mint.

ORDER.—Ordered, that the above resolution be communicated to all Local Governments and Administrations; to the Comptroller General and Head Commissioner of Paper Currency, the Mint Master, Calcutta; and the several Accountants General and Deputy Accountants General in independent charge, and that it be published in the Gazette of India.

FIBRES AND SILK.

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870 :

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labour being great.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are, therefore, requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

FIBRES AND SILK.

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870:—

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labor being great.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India, in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce, in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are therefore requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

FIBRES AND SILK.

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870 :—

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labor being great.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

MILITARY SECRETARY'S OFFICE.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India, in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce, in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are therefore requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

No. 1036 of 1871.—In order to remove a misapprehension that appears to exist in regard to the admission to Warrant Officers of the "Warrant Staff Pay" entered in the Scale of pay, &c., in paragraph 7 of G. G. O. No. 69, dated 22nd January 1868, it is notified for general information that no Warrant Officer in receipt of staff or consolidated salary is entitled to any portion of the "Warrant Staff Pay," even though the departmental staff pay which he may be receiving is of less amount, or though his consolidated salary is less in amount than the "total receipts when in effective employ" of his grade as entered in the last column of the Scale, excepting when it is specially sanctioned by Government.

2. The Warrant Staff pay entered in the G. O. in question is intended only for those departmental Warrant Officers who are serving in positions to which no staff allowance has been assigned. 3. No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870:—

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labor being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

3.—The requirements of the case appear to be some machinery or process capable of producing, with the aid of animal, water, or steam-power, a ton of fibre of a quality which shall average in value not less than £50 per ton in the English market, at a total cost—all processes of manufacture and allowance for wear and tear included—of not more than £15 per ton. The said processes are to be understood to include all the operations performed, after the cutting and transport of the plant to the place of manufacture to the completion of the manufacture of fibre of the quality above described. The machinery must be simple, strong, durable, and cheap, and should be suited for erection at or near the plantations, as the refuse is very useful as manure for continued cultivation.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India, in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce, in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are therefore requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

INSTRUCTIONS TO OFFICERS IN BRITISH POSSESSIONS ABROAD.

Regulations for preventing Collisions.

Ship's Side Lights. S. 30/62.

(1).—That side lights and lanthorns, otherwise unexceptionable, fixed in such a position that they may be obscured by the lower corners of the ship's square foresail cannot be considered to be fixed as required by Article 3 of the Regulations.

(2).—In the event of such side lights and lanthorns being so fixed that the lower corners of the square foresail can obscure either or both such lights, the Surveyors or Inspectors may require the master or owner of the ship either to move the lanthorns further forward, and to fix them where the lights cannot be obscured, or to cut off so much of the lower corners of her square foresail as causes or is likely to cause such obscuration.

(3).—In the event of such master or owner neglecting or refusing to alter the position of the lanthorns, or cut away such portion of her lower courses as the Surveyor or Inspector may direct, such Surveyor or Inspector may report the fact to the Collector of Customs for the purpose of stopping the ship, and such Collector may refuse to grant the vessel a clearance under Section 30 of the Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1862, until he receives a report from the Surveyor or Inspector to the effect that his requirements have been complied with.

(4).—If after a vessel has been passed by such Surveyor or Inspector as carrying properly constructed and fixed lanthorns and lights, the master fixes them in such a position that they may be or are obscured by the vessel's square foresail, and are not under such circumstances visible for a distance of two miles from right ahead to two points abaft the beam, on the respective sides, as required by Article 3, read in connection with Article 20 of the Regulations, such master will be guilty of a misdemeanor under Section 27 of the Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1862.

FIBRES AND SILK.

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870:—

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labor being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

3.—The requirements of the case appear to be some machinery or process capable of producing, with the aid of animal, water, or steam-power, a ton of fibre of a quality which shall average in value not less than £50 per ton in the English market, at a total cost—all processes of manufacture and allowance for wear and tear included—of not more than £15 per ton. The said processes are to be understood to include all the operations performed, after the cutting and transport of the plant to the place of manufacture to the completion of the manufacture of fibre of the quality above described. The machinery must be simple, strong, durable, and cheap, and should be suited for erection at or near the plantations, as the refuse is very useful as manure for continued cultivation.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India, in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce, in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are therefore requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

FIBRES AND SILK.

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870:—

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labor being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

3.—The requirements of the case appear to be some machinery or process capable of producing, with the aid of animal, water, or steam-power, a ton of fibre of a quality which shall average in value not less than £50 per ton in the English market, at a total cost—all processes of manufacture and allowance for wear and tear included—of not more than £15 per ton. The said processes are to be understood to include all the operations performed, after the cutting and transport of the plant to the place of manufacture to the completion of the manufacture of fibre of the quality above described. The machinery must be simple, strong, durable, and cheap, and should be suited for erection at or near the plantations, as the refuse is very useful as manure for continued cultivation.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at

Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India, in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce, in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are therefore requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

FIBRES AND SILK.

Fort William, the 26th January 1871.

No. 478.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following advertisement in substitution of the one published under Notification No. 145, dated the 11th January 1870 :—

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labor being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

3.—The requirements of the case appear to be some machinery or process capable of producing, with the aid of animal, water, or steam-power, a ton of fibre of a quality which shall average in value not less than £50 per ton in the English market, at a total cost—all processes of manufacture and allowance for wear and tear included—of not more than £15 per ton. The said processes are to be understood to include all the operations performed, after the cutting and transport of the plant to the place of manufacture to the completion of the manufacture of fibre of the quality above described. The machinery must be simple, strong, durable, and cheap, and should be suited for erection at or near the plantations, as the refuse is very useful as manure for continued cultivation.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India, in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce, in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

„ 6 G, „ 29th August 1862.

RESOLUTION.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to resolve that, in future, appointments to the Sixth Class of the Financial Department shall be made as follows :—

2. Candidates for admission to the Department will be selected, from time to time, according to the requirements of the service, three being named for each expected vacancy.

3. The age of a candidate, when examined, must not exceed 25 years, and he must produce a certificate by a Government medical officer of physical fitness for service in the plains of India.

4. The nominated candidates will be examined in the subjects described in the first schedule attached to this Resolution, and (subject to the conditions detailed below) the candidate who obtains the highest marks will be appointed to the first vacancy in the Sixth Class of the Department, the candidate who obtains the second place to the second vacancy, if there be more than one vacancy to be filled; and so on. No candidate will be admitted to the Department who does not obtain half marks in each subject, or who obtains less than 700 marks in all.

5. A candidate will not be allowed to compete at the entrance examination more than twice.

6. The examination will be by written questions and answers. The questions will be prepared in such manner as the Governor General in Council may, from time to time, direct.

7. The candidates may be examined at any place where arrangements can be made to secure the integrity of the examination.

8. The Governor General in Council is further pleased to decide that the officers in the Fifth and Sixth Classes of the Department shall, in future, be examined half-yearly (on the Mondays next after the 10th May and 10th November, and following days) in the subjects detailed in schedules II and III annexed to this Resolution. These examinations will be styled the Lower and Higher Departmental Examinations respectively.

9. An officer who obtains, at any departmental examination, half marks in each subject, and not less than 800 marks in the aggregate, shall be held to have passed the examination. Officers are, however, permitted to pass each of the departmental examinations in two instalments, if they notify their intention beforehand, and specify the subjects in which they are prepared for examination. In such case an officer to pass must obtain at least half marks in each subject in which he is examined and two-thirds of the aggregate marks obtainable in those subjects.

10. Officers who do not pass the Lower Departmental Examination at the fourth or some earlier examination, and the Higher Departmental Examination at the eighth or some earlier examination, after they join the Department, will, without further orders, cease to belong to the Department from the date on which the result of the examination is declared. Provided that if, before the said fourth or eighth examination (as the case may be), an officer have obtained leave of absence on medical certificate for more than three months, he shall be allowed to remain in the service for six months longer, in order to present himself at one more examination.

11. Upon passing each departmental examination, the pay of officers of the Sixth Class will be increased, from the date on which the examination ends, by Rs. 50 a month; so that the pay of an officer of the Sixth Class who has passed the Lower Examination will be Rs. 250, and that of an officer of the Sixth Class who has passed the Higher Departmental Examination Rs. 300 a month.

12. An officer will not be promoted substantively to the Fifth Class until he has passed the Lower Departmental Examination, nor will an officer be promoted substantively to the Fourth Class until he has passed the Higher Departmental Examination.

13. Officiating appointments to the Fourth and Fifth Classes will be made after consideration of the order in which officers have passed the Departmental Examinations.

14. The departmental examinations will be conducted at the local account offices, in the presence of the Accountant General, and under the direction of the Comptroller General and Deputy Comptroller General who will decide upon the marks to be awarded to each examinee. If these officers differ as to the marks to be assigned to any answer, the Secretary to the Government of India in the Financial Department will decide finally between them.

The first examination will be on Monday, the 15th May 1872.

15. The rules for conducting all the examinations will be as follows :—

(1). The examination papers will be sent in a sealed packet, not to be opened till the examination begins, each cover containing a sealed envelope with the candidate's name outside, and an index number inside, which is to be made over to him by the officer presiding at the examination and opened by himself. This index number is to be entered by the candidate on each of his papers, instead of his name, which is nowhere to appear on the proceedings.

(2). The several papers should be given out singly, and the time and date of giving out each is to be mentioned in the presiding officer's report. The exercises are to be worked out by the candidate in presence of the presiding officer.

(3). The questions need not be written out by the candidate, but only the answers and solutions in full, with the number of the question prefixed. The answers may be first worked out on waste paper. The neatness of the candidate's papers will be taken into consideration in assigning values to his work. The paper should be of foolscap size, with the candidate's index number and the date, and the title of each subject at the head of the paper. No second copying should be allowed. The solutions as first written fair are to be transmitted to the Comptroller General without alteration or correction immediately after the close of the examination. The questions must be returned.

(4). The time occupied by the candidate in answering each set of questions is to be stated on the back of his paper of solutions. When the time allowed for a paper is exceeded, a rateable deduction will be made on this account from the marks gained by the candidate.

(5). The presiding officer must certify that the above rules have been strictly followed, by signing the certificate below, and specify any accidental or unavoidable deviations:—

Certified that the examination of the candidates whose index numbers are , has been conducted strictly according to the rules contained in the Resolution of the Financial Department, No. 3116, dated the 18th December 1871, as below:—

Conducting the Examination.

16. Of the officers who now belong substantively to the Fifth Class, Messrs. G. Bagley, Koilas Chunder Bose, D. Teagiah, H. Ronaldson, and D. Kishen Singh are all upwards of 40 years old, and have also been for many years in the service of the Government. They will not be required to pass the examinations prescribed by this Resolution.

Messrs. W. Donald, W. Wells, J. Taylor, T. G. Trevor, G. W. Cline, and F. M. Bland are already acting in the Fourth Class, and are accordingly also exempted from the operation of this Resolution.

17. All the officers now in the Sixth Class are already acting in the Fifth Class, and, with the exception of Mr. Palmer, who has been very recently appointed, are exempted from passing the Lower Departmental Examination. But any of these officers may pass the Lower Examination at his option, and will be entitled to an addition of Rs. 50 to his monthly pay if he succeed in doing so. But with the exception of Mr. Palmer, who will be subject to these rules in their entirety, all the officers already in the Fifth Class not already exempted by name, and all officers in the Sixth Class must pass the Higher Departmental Examination at the seventh or some earlier examination held after the promulgation of this Resolution. Any one of these officers failing to do this will, without further orders, cease to belong to the service from the date on which the result of the said seventh examination is declared. Provided that, in case any of these officers be intermediately absent from duty on medical certificate for more than three months, he may be permitted to remain in the service so as to present himself for examination at one other examination.

18. In order to avoid misapprehension, the Governor General in Council declares that nothing in this Resolution is to be understood as limiting the powers which the Government has, throughout, expressly retained, of appointing gentlemen not in the Department, to any office in any class of the Department whenever the interests of the public service require it.

19. The Government will always appoint an officer belonging to the Department to a vacancy, if there is such an officer of sufficient standing and experience and qualified for the office in every respect. But it must be emphatically understood that the officers in the Classified List have no monopoly of the departmental service other than that which the opportunities of their position, diligently improved, may secure to them.

20. The first consideration, when a vacancy occurs in the Department, will always be the efficiency of the public service: and no claim on the part of the officers of the Department will ever be allowed to stand in the way of the enlistment, in the higher offices of the Department, of officers of the Covenanted Civil Service, or even of gentlemen not in the service of the Government at all, whenever it is thought that the public interests require, or will be promoted by, such enlistment.

ORDERED, that the foregoing Resolution be published in the Gazette of India and communicated to the Comptroller General, the Accountants General, and the Deputy Accountants General in independent charge.

Modifications.—(1). The rule in Clause (b) of Section VII ceases to have effect; until the publication of the Acting Allowance Code, it applied only to ministerial officers and to the classified list of the Financial Department; and, in all but extreme instances, the rules now published give the same allowances.

(2). The privilege conceded in Clause (c) of Section VII is restricted to appointments the minimum pay of which is not less than Rs. 100: and it is extended to substantive appointments as well as officiating.

No refunds need be demanded in consequence of these modifications.

* Other text-books will be named from time to time.

† Access to the books will be allowed to the examinees.

Rules for counting increments in Progressive Salaries.

I (a). When an officer is first appointed (whether the appointment be substantive or officiating) to an office of which the pay is progressive and the minimum pay is not less than Rs. 100, the pay of the appointment shall, for the purpose of calculating his salary, be ascertained by counting towards the increments any continuous period in excess of a year immediately preceding the date on which the appointment takes effect, during which the officer's pay—

(1). if progressive, has been at its maximum, and

(2). has been not less than the minimum pay of the appointment.

Provided that not more than a year can be counted under this section.

(b). If the minimum pay of the appointment is less than Rs. 100, no time can be counted towards the increments before the date on which the appointment takes effect.

II. After an officer's first appointment, the pay of the appointment shall, for the purpose of calculating his salary, be ascertained by counting towards the increments (in addition to any time admissible under Section I)—

i. Any time, whether continuous or not, during which he has officiated in the appointment, and during which—

(1). his pay, if progressive, has been at its maximum, and

ii. Any time during which he has substantively held the appointment.

III (a). If the officer is officiating in the appointment, his acting allowance shall be calculated on the mean pay of the appointment; his maximum salary shall be the pay of the appointment as fixed in accordance with Sections I and II; and his minimum salary shall be half the mean pay of the appointment.

(b). If the officer holds the appointment substantively, his pay shall be the pay of the appointment as fixed in accordance with Sections I and II.

IV. An officer may, by excluding a previous appointment, count a subsequent appointment as the "first" appointment under these rules.

Example—

A officiated from 1st January 1872 till 31st March 1872 in an appointment the pay of which was progressive, but his own pay not being at the maximum, he was not entitled to count any time under Section I.

He is again appointed to officiate on 1st January 1874, but his pay having for some time been at the maximum, and the other conditions being fulfilled, the circumstances are such that, if this were his first appointment, he would be entitled, under Section I, to count 9 months towards the increments.

As this is more advantageous than it would be to count under Section II only the three months of his first officiating tenure, he would, by this section, exclude the first officiating tenure, and count the second tenure (beginning on 1st January 1874) as the first.

The three months of course could not be afterwards counted under Section II.

V. In Departments in which the pay is regulated according to classes, an officer may count, under Section II, any time during which he has officiated in a higher class, as if he had during that time officiated in any lower class. Time thus counted cannot be afterwards counted towards an increment in the higher class.

VI. Time spent on leave with allowances counts towards increments in the same manner as if during it the officer had actually held or officiated in (as the case may be) the appointment on which he has a lien. But an increment accruing while an officer is on leave does not affect his allowances until he returns to duty.

VII. Time passed under suspension does not count towards increments, if the suspension is adjudged as a penalty; but an officer, in directing reinstatement of a person who has been suspended, may declare that the time shall count.

VIII. The following special rules apply to the Post Office Department:—

(1). Unless otherwise specially ordered by the Director General, an officer can count time only under Section II, and can count under part i of that Section only so much as is continuous.

(2). An increment accruing in any other month than March must be postponed until the 1st of March next following.

Note.—1. Rules I and V were first promulgated in the Acting Allowance Code dated 1st August 1871.

Rule V may be applied in fixing the salaries of officers in the appointments which they were holding on 1st August, but no back pay can be drawn in consequence of the permission given by it.

Rule I can be applied only in fixing the salaries of officers in appointments made on or after 1st August, but any officer holding an appointment on 1st August 1871 may count that appointment as if it had been "first" made on that date.

FIBRES AND SILK.

The 26th January 1871.

ADVERTISEMENT.

1.—The Government of India, after communication with various Agricultural and Horticultural Societies in India, and with persons interested in the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that the only real obstacle to the development of an extensive trade in the fibre of Rhea or China-grass is the want of suitable machinery for separating the fibre and bark from the stem, and the fibre from the bark, the cost of effecting such separation by manual labor being great.

2.—The demand for the fibre is now large, and, no doubt, might be extended with reduced prices, and there is a practically unlimited extent of country in India where the plant could be grown.

3.—The requirements of the case appear to be some machinery or process capable of producing, with the aid of animal, water, or steam-power, a ton of fibre of a quality which shall average in value not less than £50 per ton in the English market, at a total cost—all processes of manufacture and allowance for wear and tear included—of not more than £15 per ton. The said processes are to be understood to include all the operations performed, after the cutting and transport of the plant to the place of manufacture to the completion of the manufacture of fibre of the quality above described. The machinery must be simple, strong, durable, and cheap, and should be suited for erection at or near the plantations, as the refuse is very useful as manure for continued cultivation.

4.—To stimulate the invention or adaptation of such machinery or process, the Government of India hereby offers a prize of £5,000 for the machine and process that best fulfils all the requirements named above.

5.—Rewards of moderate amount will be given for really meritorious inventions, even though failing to meet entirely all the conditions named.

6.—Owing to the delay that has taken place in maturing the preliminary arrangements, the Government of India has decided that the competition will not be held until the 1st April 1872, thus affording a much longer time than was originally intended for the preparation of machines and their transport to the locality appointed for the competition. The Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore, in the North-Western Provinces, has been fixed as the place where the public competition will be held, and the Government of India will provide one or more small steam-engines to work the machines during the public competition.

8.—Arrangements have now been completed for the supply of dried Rhea stems to intending competitors, both in this country and in Europe, to enable them to form a correct idea of the nature of the plant which their machinery will be required to deal with. Persons in Europe desirous to obtain small supplies of dried Rhea stems for the above purpose, should apply to the Secretary of State for India. Intending competitors in this country, desirous of obtaining supplies of the article, must submit applications to the Secretary to the Government of India, in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue, and Commerce, in the Form A hereto annexed, prior to the 1st of March 1871; and those who are desirous of testing their machinery on the fresh Rhea at the Government Rhea Plantation at Saharunpore during the year 1871, must submit their applications to the same authority, in the Form B hereto annexed, prior to the 1st April 1871. The former will have to pay the expenses that may be incurred in packing and despatching the stems. The latter will have to provide all labor and motive power necessary for, and to pay all expenses connected with, their experiments: the fibre turned out by their machines during such experiments to become the property of Government.

9.—In order to enable the Government to arrange for the provision of a sufficient stock of fresh Rhea stems for the purposes of the formal competition in April 1872, it is necessary to ascertain beforehand the number of machines that are likely to take part in it; and intending competitors are therefore requested to submit, prior to the 1st May 1871, and in the Form C also hereto annexed, notices of intention to compete.

FURLOUGHS AND LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Definitions.

I.—In the following rules, "actual service" includes the period during which a Judge is carrying on his duties in a High Court, also periods spent on privilege and subsidiary leave, and periods of vacation during which the Judge is not on "furlough or extraordinary leave."

"Extraordinary leave" means any leave granted otherwise than under these rules.

Furlough.

II.—One year's furlough shall be placed to the credit of each Judge after the completion of every four years of actual service.

III.—Except under Rules VI and VII, no furlough shall be granted until at credit under Rule II:

Provided that any Judge who may have been already in the service of the Government at the time of taking office in the High Court, and who was at that time entitled, under the rules applicable to the branch of the service to which he belonged, to furlough, without medical certificate, may be granted furlough for a term not exceeding that to which he was so entitled upon the condition that such furlough shall not be taken until the completion of two years' actual service in the High Court, and shall not exceed one year.

IV.—Except under Rule VII, furlough shall not be repeated until after the completion of three years' actual service from the date of the last return from furlough or extraordinary leave.

N. B.—The words "furlough or extraordinary leave" in the above rule mean furlough under these rules or extraordinary leave granted to an officer since he has been a Chief Justice or Judge of a High Court.

V.—The maximum term of furlough to be taken at any one time shall be fifteen months.

VI.—Under medical certificate, furlough may be granted before it is at credit under Rule II.

VII.—On urgent private affairs, furlough may be granted before it is at credit under Rule II, and although three years of actual service have not been completed since the last return from furlough or extraordinary leave:

Provided that furlough under this section shall not exceed six months, and shall be granted only once during the whole period of a Judge's service in the High Court.

VIII.—The aggregate amount of all furlough which can be granted to a Judge during the whole period of his service in the High Court shall not exceed two years and-a-half.

IX.—Furlough taken in India shall be reckoned from the date of the Judge quitting his office to the date of his return thereto. Furlough taken out of India shall be reckoned from the date of embarkation to the date of return.

In the event of the furlough being taken partly in India, and partly out of India, the commencement and termination of the furlough shall be respectively determined by the above rules, according as the furlough begins or ends in or out of India.

X.—For the interval elapsing between the date of quitting his office and the commencement of furlough out of India, and between the termination of furlough out of India and resuming his office, a Judge may be allowed subsidiary leave not ordinarily exceeding thirty days, which in special cases may be extended.

XI.—A Judge, when on furlough or subsidiary leave, shall receive allowances at the rate of Rupees 833-5-4 per mensem in the case of leave taken in India, or £1,000 per annum in the case of leave taken out of India.

XII.—Except under medical certificate, the number of furloughs to be granted at any one time, and the grant of furloughs to individual Judges shall be subject to, and limited by, the exigencies of the service, which exigencies shall be determined exclusively by the authority granting the furlough.

XIII.—If, owing to the exigencies of the service, it may be necessary to place any limit on the number of Judges who may be absent on furlough at the same time, applications not supported by medical certificate will be granted in the following order:

The Judge to whose credit the greatest amount of furlough remains under Rule II, shall have the preference.

If two or more applicants are on an equality in this respect, the preference shall be given to the applicant whose actual service in a High Court is longest, reckoning in the case of a Judge who has not taken furlough or extraordinary leave from the date of his commencement of service in the High Court, and in the case of a Judge who has taken furlough or extraordinary leave from the date of his last return from such furlough or leave.

If two or more applicants are equal in both respects, the preference shall be given to the senior in the Court.

Privilege Leave.

XIV.—Subject to the exigencies of the service, a Judge who has completed eleven months' continuous duty, inclusive of vacations, may, if the Government be satisfied that there is an urgent necessity, but not otherwise, be granted privilege leave for one month without deduction from his salary or acting allowances.

XV.—In the same manner and under the same conditions an additional month of privilege leave shall be held to accrue to a Judge after each further period of eleven months' continuous duty.

XVI.—Privilege leave shall not be taken in instalments, but any balance of privilege leave that may not have been taken shall be added to the next privilege leave which may accrue:

Provided that the whole privilege leave taken at any one time shall not exceed three months, and that any accumulation of privilege leave beyond that period shall be forfeited.

N. B.—Financial Resolution of the Government of India, No. 401, dated 24th April 1869, shall not be held to apply to a Chief Justice or Judge of a High Court even though, under Rule XXIII, he may elect to abide by former rules. Whatever rules such an officer may elect, privilege leave shall not be granted to him except on urgent necessity being shown.

General.

SURVEYOR GENERAL'S FIELD OFFICE,
Simla, 19th July 1871.

With the view of facilitating the speedy publication of miscellaneous Maps, Plans and Drawings, which are constantly forwarded by local authorities to this Department for immediate reproduction, and in order to prevent the disappointment and expense, which ensues when highly colored and brush shaded subjects are furnished, the following memorandum of instructions for the proper preparation of all Drawings, intended to be dealt with by the Photozincographic process, is published for general information.

H. L. THUILLIER, Colonel,
Surveyor General of India.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE PREPARATION OF DRAWINGS FOR REPRODUCTION BY PHOTOZINCOGRAPHY.

As the great value of the Photozincographic process for reproducing accurate fac-similes of Manuscript plans and drawings of all kinds, either on the same or on a reduced scale, is rapidly becoming appreciated by officials in all departments of the State, the Photographic Branch of the Surveyor General's Office is constantly being called upon to reproduce drawings which on inspection prove to be totally unfit for Photographic reproduction. As the requirements of the process may not be generally known, I have at the suggestion of the Surveyor General drawn up the following brief instructions, embodying all the conditions essential to success, and I would strongly impress upon those interested in the subject, that success entirely depends upon the perfection of the original, and that a satisfactory result can only be obtained by strict observance of the following rules, which may be summed up in a few words—WHITE PAPER, BLACK INK, FIRM OPEN DRAWING. Neglect of these essentials will entail failure and disappointment.

I. The paper on which the drawing is made, should be white and smooth, and kept as clean as possible, as well as free from creases and wrinkles.

II. The drawing should be executed in Indian ink, freshly rubbed down, quite black, and free from grit or glaze.

III. The lines should be firm and clean, not too fine or too close together. They must all be perfectly black, and pale ink must on no account be used. Thick lines in the printing and margins should be well filled in.

IV. Washes of any colour except very pale blue, are inadmissible, but if necessary, outlines may be drawn in with strong burnt sienna, carmine, crimson lake, gamboge and similar colors which will reproduce black. Any detail required to be shewn in the original, but not in the copy, may be drawn in with pale cobalt blue.

V. If cross hatching or shading is required, the lines composing it must be kept as open and distinct as possible, and they should not be too fine but firm enough to reproduce well. Intensity of shade should be shown by an increase in the thickness of the lines rather than by their being placed close together, as it must be borne in mind, that throughout the process there is a tendency for the lines to thicken, so that, if they are too close, they are liable to block up in the printing, and the work will appear heavy and unsightly. This rule also applies to hill shading, the darker portions of which should be drawn in thick distinct lines, but not crossed and recrossed with fine lines.

VI. River courses, lakes and tanks should be left blank, and not filled in with fine lines. They may be indicated by a pale wash of blue without detriment to their reproduction.

VII. As the process produces a perfect fac-simile of the original, it is essential that the latter should be complete in every respect, and the drawing, printing and writing should all be done in as neat a style as possible, so that the result may be fit for immediate publication, and not require to be altered or touched up. The hair strokes of the printing should not be too fine.

VIII. When plans or drawings are intended for reduction, care must be taken to draw the lines of the proper thickness relatively to the scale of reduction, thus, supposing it is required to reduce a drawing to one-fourth the scale of the original, it will be necessary to draw every line of the original four times as thick as it should appear in the copy. The printing and detail must also be relatively large in proportion. This rule is often neglected, and the result is the loss of all the finer lines. When drawing for reduction, care must be taken to leave sufficient space between the lines in hill shading or cross hatching, so that they may be well separated when reduced, otherwise, they will block up in the printing and become a black smudge. When possible, it is better to draw the original on a larger scale than is required for the copy, as a photographic reduction comes out much sharper and clearer than a reproduction. The scale of lines given below will serve as a guide to shew the necessary average thickness of the lines in drawings for reduction or reproduction.

IX. It is immaterial how the scales on maps for reproduction are shewn, but in all cases when the copy is to be on a different scale from the original, the scale should not be stated as so many feet, yards &c. to an inch, but merely as a scale of feet, yards or miles.
