RESOLUTION.—Questions having recently arisen as to the extent to which officers in the service of Government are permitted to connect themselves with the Press, the Governor General in Council thinks it desirable that the existing orders on the subject should be clearly understood :—

I.—No officer in the service of Government is permitted, without the previous sanction in writing of the Government under which he immediately serves, to become the proprietor, either in whole or in part, of any newspaper or periodical publication, or to edit or manage any such newspaper or publication. Such sanction will only be given in the case of newspapers or publications mainly devoted to the discussion of topics not of a political character, such for instance as art, science or literature. The sanction will be liable to be withdrawn at the discretion of the Government.

II.—Officers in the service of Government are not prohibited from contributing to the public Press; but their position makes it incumbent upon them to confine themselves within the limits of temperate and reasonable discussion, and they are prohibited from making public without the previous sanction of Government any documents, papers, or information of which they may become possessed in their official capacity. These rules have been hitherto in most cases honorably observed. In case of a departure from them, or if the Government should consider the connexion of any officer with the Press to be contrary to the public interests, his liberty to contribute will be withdrawn.

III.—The Government of India will decide, in case of doubt, whether any engagements of officers with the Press are consistent with the discharge of their duties to the Government.

IV.—Nothing in this Resolution is intended to relax the provisions of any regulations on this subject which now apply to the Army.

ORDER.—Ordered, that this Resolution be published in the Gazette of India, and circulated to Local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance.

Mr. James White, Officiating Superintendent of the Rajpootana State Railway, has been invested with the powers aforesaid since 18th February 1874.

GENERAL.

The 6th July 1875.

No. 1330*G.*—The following revised rules for giving effect to Article IX of the Treaty between the British Government and His Highness the Maharaja of Jummoo and Kashmir of 2nd May 1870, in respect to the refund of duty on goods exported from British Territory to Kashmir or Central Asia viâ Kashmir, having received the sanction of His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, are published for general information:—

I.—The places agreed upon between the Punjab Government and the Maharaja of Kashmir as the places where goods may be declared and sealed for transmission in bond under these rules are Calcutta, Bombay and Amritsar. Goods intended for Central Asia may be declared and sealed at these three places, and also at Sultanpur in the Kullu tahsil of the Kangra district.

II.—Any merchant trading on his own account, and any merchant or agent trading on account of the Maharaja of Kashmir, is entitled to claim refund of duty under these rules in the manner hereinafter described.

III.—The goods intended for export to Kashmir or Central Asia shall be declared on invoices, and opportunity shall be given to the Collector or Deputy Commissioner, or the official at Sultanpur appointed on that behalf, to inspect them as required. The packages shall be sealed in presence of the Collector or Deputy Commissioner, or an officer authorized by him, or in the case of packages declared at Sultanpur in the presence of the official appointed on that behalf.

IV.—Goods sealed at any of the places mentioned in Rule I must not break bulk until the seals shall have been examined and certificates attested by one of the officials described in Rule IX; otherwise all claim to refund of duty will be forfeited.

V.—Goods intended for Kashmir or Central Asia, but contained in packages which it is necessary or desired to open on the route up-country from the sea-ports, may more conveniently be declared, sealed, &c., at Amritsar or Sultanpur.

VI.—The duty of which a refund is claimable under these rules is the customs duty specified in the schedules of the Indian Tariff Act in force for the time being. The amount of such duty shall be calculated at the values assigned to goods in those schedules.

VII.—In the case of goods sealed and declared at Calcutta or Bombay, the officers empowered to grant certificates, and in the case of goods sealed and declared at Amritsar the Deputy Commissioner, and in the case of goods sealed and declared at Sultanpur the official appointed on that behalf at Sultanpur, will furnish the applicant with a certificate in the annexed form (A) specifying the numbers on the packages sealed by him or under his orders, the kind of goods, the gross weight, the destination, and the amount of duty to be refunded in the event of the goods reaching Srinagar, Jummoo or Leh, as the case may be intact. The officers appointed to grant certificates should be furnished with the customs import tariff of fixed values, and with regard to ad valorem goods should be cautioned to investigate the claim as to drawback so as not to give drawback on the actual value of goods as laid down say at Amritsar or Sultanpur, which would include the cost of carriage from the seaport at those places. Drawback should not be given on more than the customs tariff value at the port of importation.

The officers empowered to grant certificates will keep a register of such certificates in serial order (B).

VIII.—When the certificate described in the preceding section shall have been granted, and the goods duly sealed, they may be conveyed by any route the applicant chooses.

IX.—The holder of a certificate granted under Rule VII will only be entitled to claim a refund on such certificate after it has been attested either.—

1.—By the customs official* of His Highness the Maharaja on arrival of the goods at Jummoo or Srinagar of His Highness' dominions, or

2.—By the British Joint Commissioner at Leh on arrival of the goods at Leh.

When any of the abovenamed officials are called upon to attest the certificate, they will examine the packages to see that the seals are untampered with, and that the number and weight of packages correspond with the certificate accorded.

X.—The owner or his agent may then present this certificate either to the British Joint-Commissioner at Leh, or in the case of goods sealed and declared at Calcutta or Bombay to the Collector at Calcutta or Bombay respectively, or in the case of goods sealed and declared at Amritsar, to the Deputy Commissioner at Amritsar, and obtain payment of the amount of duty stated therein. Letters from Sir T. D. Forsyth, No. 6—75, dated 23rd June 1875, and No. 9—75, dated 1st July 1875.

RESOLUTION.—His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General in Council having received from Sir Douglas Forsyth despatches reporting the conclusion of the negotiations which he was instructed to conduct with His Majesty the King of Ava, the following summary, with the accompanying documents, is published for general information.

2. In the year 1853 the northern limits of the British province of Pegu were fixed, and in 1856 the boundary was demarcated as far as the country of the Karens, which was then independent. The tract of country called Western Karennee, which adjoins British Burma, from that time to the year 1873 was always considered by the British Government to be independent; and, while the Government of India had no desire to extend the British possessions in that direction, they had received verbal assurances of the most formal kind from the Burmese Minister that the Burmese Government also recognized the independence of Western Karennee.

3. In the course of the year 1873, however, the Burmese Government advanced certain claims to sovereignty over Western Karennee, which claims the Government of India could not admit. His Excellency the Governor General in Council desired to settle this difference in an amicable manner. The same desire was expressed by His Majesty the King of Ava, and His Excellency the Viceroy entertained a confident hope that the Embassy which was despatched by the King to Calcutta early this year would have been able to put an end to the difference between the two Governments.

4. This expectation having been disappointed, the Governor General in Council, being anxious to afford to the Burmese Government another opportunity of an amicable settlement, determined to despatch a special mission to Mandalay with this object, and Sir Douglas Forsyth was entrusted with the office of Envoy.

5. While the discussions regarding Western Karennee were proceeding, the mission which with the assistance of the Burmese Government had been despatched from British Burma to China under Colonel Browne was treacherously attacked and compelled to return; and Mr. Margary, a member of the mission who had gone on in advance, was murdered in the Chinese town of Manwyne. Colonel Browne's official report of the attack was received some time after the Burmese Ambassadors had left Calcutta. As rumours existed that the Burmese Government were implicated in the attack upon Colonel Browne's party, His Excellency in Council carefully investigated every statement bearing on the subject, and in the meanwhile the mission of Sir Douglas Forsyth was postponed. The Governor General in Council thinks it but just to His Majesty the King of Ava to announce that no evidence whatever has either then or subsequently been brought forward to show that the Burmese Government or officials were concerned in the attack, excepting a Burmese anonymous letter which had been sent to some Kachyen Chiefs on the lower route between Burma and China (which was not the route taken by the mission) desiring them to have no friendly intercourse with the foreigners. An official enquiry and explanation regarding this letter were requested from the Burmese Government. The letter has subsequently been reported to have been written by a Burmese priest, who has been punished for his act. The King of Ava had expressed to Captain Strover, the British Political Agent at Mandalay, His Majesty's readiness to aid in the despatch of a fresh mission to China, if the British Government should determine to send one. There was therefore no reason for a further postponement of Sir Douglas Forsyth's mission, or for giving him instructions other than of an entirely friendly character on the subject of the attack upon Colonel Browne's mission, and the arrangements which should be made in the event of a fresh mission being sent to China.

6. It is unnecessary now to allude to the instructions given to Sir Douglas Forsyth on the subject of Western Karennee, as the difference has been otherwise satisfactorily settled.

7. After Sir Douglas Forsyth had left Rangoon on his way to Mandalay, information was received that the Chinese Frontier Officer, Li, who was strongly suspected of having been concerned in the attack on Colonel Browne's mission, had been received with distinction at Mandalay. This information made it necessary to instruct Sir Douglas Forsyth to ask for an explanation of the reception of Li before entering into any friendly communications with the Burmese Government.

8. Sir Douglas Forsyth reached Mandalay on the 10th June, and delivered his credentials to the King on the 16th. On the 18th, he communicated to the Government of India the explanation of the Burmese Government with respect to the reception of Li. The explanation was that Li had not visited Mandalay, or been received with distinction, in his individual capacity, but that he was the bearer of a communication from the Chinese Government regarding the death of the Emperor of China and the succession to the throne, and was accordingly received with the usual honors paid to ambassadors. The letter of Sir Douglas Forsyth to the Burmese Minister, together with his reply, is appended to this Resolution.

9. The Government of India considered that this explanation admitted of the further progress of the negotiations with which Sir Douglas Forsyth was originally entrusted. Sir Douglas Forsyth was accordingly instructed to acquaint the Burmese Government that the explanation had been received, and, after expressing the surprise of the Government of India that no communication had been made to the British Government on the subject of the reception of Li, either before or after it had taken place, to say that His Excellency in Council did not doubt that, after His Majesty the King of Ava had been informed of the reasons for suspecting Li to have been concerned in the attack on the mission, no communications other than those that were absolutely necessary would take place between the Burmese Government and Li pending the result of the enquiry. Sir Douglas Forsyth was instructed to add that, in the event of a fresh mission being sent to China, it would be necessary that a sufficient escort of British troops should accompany it, in order to protect it from insult or attack. Having made this communication in writing, to which he was not directed to request a reply from the Burmese Government, as there was no reason to anticipate any objection on their part, Sir Douglas Forsyth was directed to proceed with his original instructions upon the Western Karennee affair. The letter which Sir Douglas Forsyth addressed to the Burmese Minister in accordance with these instructions is appended to this Resolution.

10. His Majesty the King of Ava, before the reply from the Government of India to the explanation of the reception of Li was received, anticipated Sir Douglas Forsyth's communications on the subject of Western Karennee, and His Majesty's intention to comply with the wishes of the British Government by recognizing the independence of Western Karennee was conveyed to Sir Douglas Forsyth. On the 21st June a formal agreement declaring the independence of Western Karennee was executed on the part of His Majesty and by Sir Douglas Forsyth on the part of the Government of India. This agreement is in the following terms:—

"In accordance with the request of His Excellency the Viceroy of "India that Western Karennee should be allowed to remain separate and "independent, His Majesty the King of Burma, taking into considera- "tion the great friendship existing between the two great Countries and "the desire that that friendship may be lasting and permanent, agrees that "no sovereignty or governing authority of any description shall be exercised "or claimed in Western Karennee, and His Excellency the Kin-woon Mengyee, "Minister for Foreign Affairs on the part of His Majesty the King of "Burma, and the Hon'ble Sir Douglas Forsyth, C. B., K. C. S. I., Envoy on the "part of His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General of India, execute "the following agreement:—

"Agreement.—It is hereby agreed between the British and Burmese Governments that the state of Western Karennee shall remain separate and independent, and that no sovereignty or governing authority of any description shall be claimed or exercised over that State.

"Whereunto we have on this day, the 21st day of June 1875, corresponding with the 3rd day of the waning moon of Nayoung 1237 B. E., affixed our seals and signatures."

Sir Douglas Forsyth intimated formally to the Minister at the time of executing the agreement that, in order to prevent future misunderstanding, the Government of India would proceed to lay down the boundary of Western Karennee, that a communication would be made to His Majesty in due course as to the arrangements for a definition of the boundary, and that His Majesty would be invited to depute an officer, if he should desire to do so, to accompany the officer whom the British Government might hereafter appoint to settle the boundary. A copy of the letter from Sir Douglas Forsyth to the Burmese Minister, placing this communication on record, is appended to this Resolution.

11. By this agreement the independence of Western Karennee has been formally admitted by the Burmese Government; and His Excellency the Governor General in Council cordially recognizes the desire shown by His Majesty the King of Ava to put an end to the difference between the two Governments by meeting the wishes of the British Government in regard to Western Karennee, and that the friendship between Great Britain and Burma should be lasting and permanent. Instructions will be given, as soon as the season of the year admits of travelling in that country, for the definition of a boundary between Western Karennee and the dominions of the King of Ava by a British officer; and the Governor General in Council trusts that the difference with respect to Western Karennee will thus be happily terminated.

12. After Sir Douglas Forsyth had concluded the agreement on the subject of Western Karennee, and had taken leave of the King, an informal, but friendly, communication was made to him from the Minister, indicating disinclination on the part of the Court of Ava to assent to an escort of British troops accompanying a fresh mission to China, but offering a Burmese escort.

13. In consequence of this circumstance it has become necessary to make a fresh communication to the King, and the subject is still under discussion. While no demands will be made upon the Burmese Government other than those which are necessary and just, His Excellency in Council entertains a confident expectation that the Burmese Government will so receive such further communications as may be addressed to them that the friendship between the two Governments, which it is the earnest desire of His Excellency in Council to preserve, may be maintained intact, and that nothing shall occur calculated to give rise to further differences between the two Countries.

ORDER.—Ordered, that the foregoing Resolution with the accompanying documents be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

By order of His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General of India in Council,

C. U. AITCHISON,
Secretary to the Government of India.

APPENDICES.

No. 1.

No. 1—75, dated Mandalay, 14th June 1875.

From—SIR T. DOUGLAS FORSYTH, C. B., K. C. S. I., British Envoy, Mandalay,

To—HIS EXCELLENCY THE KIN-WOON MENGYEE, MINISTER FOR FOREIGN AFFAIRS, Burma.

I AM commanded by His Excellency the Viceroy of India to make the following communication to His Majesty the King of Burma relative to the attack made near Manwyne on the late expedition to Yunan, commanded by Colonel H. Browne, the particulars of which are known to His Majesty and need not therefore be now repeated.

2. His Excellency the Viceroy is entirely at a loss to account for the treacherous attack; but on the demand of Her Majesty's Government, the Chinese Government have consented to the institution of a local investigation, at which a British officer is to be present. The Chinese Government have also issued passports for a new Indian mission through Burma to China, or vice versâ, if the Government of India see fit to send one.

3. It has been reported by Colonel Browne, and it is a matter of general belief, that Leeseetahi was one of the instigators of the attack on the expedition, and his nephew Shogoon was reported by the Burmese guard who accompanied Colonel Browne to have headed the attack. A final decision must be suspended until the result of the local investigation is known; but as Leeseetahi is well known to be one of the principal Chinese officers in the country where the attack was made, His Excellency expresses his surprise that His Majesty should have received him with honor and distinction, as there must rest upon him a grave suspicion of complicity in the treacherous outrage.

4. This proceeding on the part of His Majesty, unless satisfactorily explained, is inconsistent with the friendship existing between the British and Burmese Governments.

I am therefore commanded by His Excellency the Viceroy, before any other business can be transacted, to ask for any explanation on this subject which His Majesty may desire to offer.

No. 2.

Dated 14th Lazan of Nayoung 1237 (17th June 1875).

From—HIS EXCELLENCY THE KIN-WOON MENGYEE, MINISTER FOR FOREIGN AFFAIRS, Burma,

To—THE HON'BLE SIR T. DOUGLAS FORSYTH, C. B., K. C. S. I., British Envoy, Mandalay.

WITH reference to your letter dated 12th Lazan of Nayoung 1237 (14th June 1875), on the subject of Táqui Li-Sí (Leeseetahi), I have the honor to inform you that the Burmese Government are exceedingly pleased with your communication, in which, in accordance with the existing true friendship between the two countries, you so frankly express your views.

When the Táqui Li-Sí came down to Mandalay, he personally was not the object of the grand and ceremonious reception given, but in the same manner as there exists a true and lasting friendship with the Kingdom of Great Britain, so also has existed for generations past a true and lasting friendship with the Empire of China. Accordingly, when once in every ten years an Ambassador with a Royal letter and presents is despatched from one kingdom to another, it is customary to do honor to the occasion by meeting and receiving the Embassy in a proper manner. Also, if within the ten years, in consequence of a change of Government, or other circumstances, an Ambassador is despatched from one country to another, it is the custom to receive the Embassy with all due ceremony. The British Resident is aware that in the month of Tabaung 1235 (February 1874) an Embassy consisting of Yan-Lui-Shivé arrived at Mandalay from the Chinese Empire, and, in conformity with established custom, was received with all State ceremony. In a similar manner, in the month of Kasong 1237 B. E. (May 1875), subsequent to the death of the Chinese Emperor Hton-kyee, a Royal letter, notifying the accession of the younger brother Tsike-tui to the throne, was brought to Mandalay by Táqui Li-Sí (Leeseetahi), and, in accordance with the custom in connection with the reception of Royal letters, &c., from the time of the Royal ancestors, as regards both the Burmese and Chinese dominions, and as in the case of Royal letters, &c., from the English, Italian, and French Rulers, a grand and ceremonious reception was accorded.

No. 4—75, dated Mandalay, 21st June 1875.

From—THE HON'BLE SIR T. DOUGLAS FORSYTH, C. B., K. C. S. I., British Envoy, Mandalay,

To—HIS EXCELLENCY THE KIN-WOON MENGYEE, MINISTER FOR FOREIGN AFFAIRS, Burma.

HAVING communicated to His Excellency the Viceroy of India the contents of your letter of 17th instant, I am directed to inform you that His Excellency the Viceroy regrets that the circumstance of Leeseetahi being accredited as an Ambassador from the Chinese Government for the purpose of communicating the accession of the Chinese Emperor to the throne should have led to the reception by the King of an officer gravely suspected of being concerned in the attack upon the mission, and His Excellency is surprised that no communication was made to the British Government either before or after the reception of the Embassy.

2. From the reports furnished by the Burmese escort to Colonel Browne at the time of the attack it was well known that Shogoon, nephew of Leeseetahi, headed the attack, and it is notorious that Leeseetahi was one of the chief instigators of the outrage.

3. This outrage having been directed as much against the Burmese as against the British Government, the Viceroy does not doubt that, after this explanation, no communications other than those that are absolutely necessary will take place between the Burmese Government and Leeseetahi pending the result of the enquiry.

4. Until the result of the enquiry be known, His Excellency the Viceroy is unable to say whether he will send a fresh expedition or not. It appears, however, that the King offered to Captain Strover to send the expedition back again to China if arrangements could be made. The Viceroy desires that his thanks may be communicated to His Majesty for this offer, and, should a mission be sent, it will be necessary that a sufficient escort of British troops accompany it, in order to protect it from insult or attack.

5. His Excellency the Viceroy confidently expects that His Majesty's Government will do everything in their power to ascertain from the Burmese side the causes of the attack, and I shall be glad to be favoured with any information on this subject which they may possess for communication to His Excellency the Viceroy of India.

No. 4.

No. 7—75, dated Mandalay, 23rd June 1875.

From—THE HON'BLE SIR T. DOUGLAS FORSYTH, C. B., K. C. S. I., British Envoy, Mandalay,

To—HIS EXCELLENCY THE KIN-WOON MENGYEE, MINISTER FOR FOREIGN AFFAIRS, Burma.

WITH reference to the agreement drawn up between the British and Burmese Governments on the 21st instant, I mentioned at the time, and now place on record, that, in order to prevent future misunderstanding, the Government of India will proceed to lay down the boundary of Western Karennee, which is to be independent.

A communication will be made to His Majesty in due course as to the arrangements for the definition of the boundary, and His Majesty will be invited to depute an officer, if he should desire to do so, to accompany the officer whom the British Government may hereafter appoint to settle the boundary.

and all provisions now in force as to the levy of duty now chargeable on spirit shall apply to spirit upon which the duty declared under this section has not been paid.

In exercise of the power conferred by the 33rd Vict. c. 3, sect. 6, the following Rules have been prescribed by the Governor General in Council, and such Rules have been sanctioned by the Secretary of State for India in Council with the concurrence of a majority of members present:—

I. Any Native of India, as defined in the said Statute, may, if of proved merit and ability, be appointed to any office, place, or employment in the Civil Service of Her Majesty in India, to which appointments may be made by the authorities in India.

II. Such appointment, if to an office, place, or employment to which appointments may be made by a local government, shall be made only with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council.

III. Every such appointment, whether made by a local government, or by the Governor General of India in Council, shall be forthwith reported to the Secretary of State for India in Council, and shall be made subject to disallowance by the said Secretary of State in Council (provided that such disallowance shall be signified to the Governor General in Council within twelve months from the date of the receipt of such report).

No. 2299*P.*—Under the provisions of Section 2 of Bengal Eastern Frontier Regulation I of 1873 (a Regulation for the peace and government of certain districts on the Eastern Frontier of Bengal), the Governor-General in Council is pleased to notify that the line described below shall be the "inner line" on the southern frontier of the district of Cachar:—

A line commencing from the site of the outpost established during the Lushai Expedition of 1871-72, a few miles north of the Chatter Choora Peak, and running thence to the outpost of Jhalnacherra along the track cut by the police to connect the outposts of Chatter Choora and Jhalnacherra; thence along the Dullessur river, in a southern direction, to the south-west corner of the Jhalnacherra grant, as revised after survey in 1871; thence along the southern boundary of the Jhalnacherra grant, across the Jhalnacherra Khal to the top of the range of hills immediately to the east of that Khal; thence along the said range in a northern direction to the Barooncherra grant; thence along the southern and eastern boundaries of the Barooncherra grant, to the north-eastern corner of the grant. From the north-eastern corner of the Barooncherra grant, along the ridge which leads from that grant to the top of the Rengti Pahar range; thence along the ridge of the Rengti Pahar range in a northern direction, as far as the point where that range bifurcates into two smaller ones, the one leading to the Claverhouse, the other to the Bara Jalinga grant. From the point of bifurcation the line follows the ridge of the western branch of the Rengti Pahar, as far as the source of the Jalinga; from this point it runs straight in a northern direction to the Nowarbund military outpost. From the Nowarbund outpost it runs northwards about two miles, and then due east to a point on the Rukni river, at the south-eastern corner of the Bara Jalinga grant. Up to this point the line follows the boundary up to which the revenue survey of the district extended. From the point on the Rukni river, it runs to the south-east, till it meets the western boundary of Monierkhall grant; thence along the southern boundary of the grant to the Sonai river, opposite the Monierkhall outpost. From the Monierkhall outpost it runs across the Bhoobun Hills to the outpost of Mynadhur, on the Barak river, along the road connecting the two outposts.

No. 212 of 1867.*
„ 607 of „ †

2. These claims were restricted to officers of the late Indian Artillery and Engineers below the grade of Colonel-Commandant or Colonel with Colonel's allowance, and to officers of the Cavalry and Infantry, including the new Line Corps and the several Staff Corps, below the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel, and they were made subject to the following deductions:—

I.—Of all sums paid to officers transferred to the invalid establishment.

II.—Of the advantages of pay gained by accelerated promotion.

III.—Of the value of any special annuity received on retirement.

IV.—Of the amount a retired or retiring officer might have received, or might expect to receive, from the juniors of his regiment or cadre, or from his regimental retiring fund.

3. The Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council is now pleased to promulgate for general information the following extract of a despatch from the Secretary of State, No. 165 of 24th June 1875, withdrawing wholly, or in part, the first three of the above deductions, and removing in certain cases the restrictions as to rank:

"The principles upon which the revision is to be made are as follows:

"The claims made by each officer must be carefully investigated, and shown upon sufficient evidence to represent, and be limited to, sums actually paid by him in the course of his service towards purchasing the retirement of his seniors or their transfer to the invalid establishment.

"The deduction heretofore made on account of the value of accelerated promotion is to be withdrawn.

"The objection on account of any special annuity granted by the Government on the officer's retirement, except in cases such as those of the General Order of the 1st January 1875 where the stipulation is distinctly made, is also to be withdrawn.

"A claim to bonus compensation advanced by an officer above the regimental rank of Major is only to be admitted in cases where the claimant can produce satisfactory evidence that had he retired from the service on or before the 18th February 1861 in the regimental rank in which he ultimately retired, he would, under the established practice of the regiment or branch of the service to which he belonged, have received a bonus on retirement from his brother officers not less than the amount of subscription the refund of which he now claims. Officers will still be debited with any sums they may receive from their brother officers on retirement, and no officer whose retirement from the service may be compulsory will be considered entitled to compensation for loss of bonus."

* Madras G.O. 12th March 1867, No. 105

4. In accordance with this decision, all claims hitherto received and disposed of in India from the year 1867 up to the present time will be carefully revised by Committees in the three Presidencies.

5. The proceedings of the Committees will be regulated by instructions which will be furnished to them hereafter.

6. Any sums due to officers under this revision will be paid in India if the officers are residing in this country, and at the India Office, if they are residing in Europe.

7. All applications under this order from officers who have hitherto made no claims, and all claims by officers who may retire in future, must be made (in the case of the latter after their retirement) direct to the Secretary of State for India.

No. 890 of 1875.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council, having approved of the following regulations for conducting the recruiting of the Native Army, is pleased to direct their publication for the guidance of officers concerned.

2. All medical officers of the Indian Medical Service, whether in civil or military employ, are required to examine, in accordance with instructions which will be issued by the Surgeon General, Indian Medical Service, all recruits presented to them by properly appointed recruiting parties for that purpose, and they are required to carry out this duty with care and discretion, so that, while the recruiting service may not be impeded by undue rejections, the admission into the service of recruits not in all respects fit, may as far as possible be avoided.

3. Recruits are to be taken as soon as possible after enlistment to the Commanding Officer of the nearest Native Regiment of that branch of the service for which they have enlisted, who will cause their names to be entered in a roll (Bengal Form No. 404) and send them to the Medical Officer in charge of the Regiment for examination in strict accordance with the instructions issued by the Surgeon General. Those who are pronounced "Fit for the service" will then be carefully inspected by the Officer Commanding the Regiment, who, should he approve of them, will sign the roll and pass them into the service.

4. When a recruit thus passed into the service is considered unfit by the Commanding Officer and Medical Officer of the Regiment for which he has enlisted, he is to be examined by a Board of Medical Officers, when the assembly of such a Board is possible, and the proceedings submitted for the orders of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, with a view to its being decided whether blame attaches to the Commanding and Medical Officers who originally passed him. In cases when a Board cannot be assembled, a full report is to be made for the information and orders of the Commander-in-Chief.

5. Recruits thus rejected under authority of His Excellency will be granted subsistence allowance to their homes at the rate of two annas a day, or when any portion of the journey can be performed by rail or river steamer, free passages for such portions and subsistence allowance for the remainder of the journey.

The subsistence allowance is thus only to be granted to rejected recruits for that portion of the return journey for which free passage is not given.

6. All recruits, on being passed by the Examining Medical Officer, shall, if possible, be vaccinated under his superintendence, unless they have already had small-pox or been vaccinated.

When vaccination is impracticable, a report is to be made by the Examining Officer to the Medical Officer of the Regiment.

7. The following chest measurements are suggested for the guidance of Examining Medical Officers, who however are permitted to exercise discretion in accepting or rejecting men :—

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE, AGRICULTURE, AND COMMERCE.

NOTIFICATIONS.—FORESTS.

Simla, the 21st September 1875.

No. 1059.—The following rules made under Act VII of 1865 have been confirmed by the Governor General in Council, and are, in accordance with Section 6 of that Act, published in the Gazette of India:—

Rules for the management and preservation of the Government Forests in the North-Western Provinces.

I.—Nothing in the following rules shall be held to abridge or affect any existing rights of individuals or communities in Government forests.

II.—Every Government forest, when not sufficiently demarcated by roads, streams, or other existing natural or artificial boundary marks, shall be demarcated with such marks as the Conservator of Forests may direct.

III.—The Conservator of Forests may, with the previous sanction of the Collector, or other chief Revenue Officer of the district, close any road or pathway traversing any Government forest. Provided always that no legal public right of way is infringed by such closing, and that no legal private right of way is abridged or affected, except after due compensation and settlement according to the law for the time being in force regarding the expropriation of such rights.

IV.—The following acts are prohibited in Government forests:—

(1) Voluntarily or negligently setting fire to the forests.

(2) Felling, girdling, lopping, burning, barking, stripping off leaves, tapping for resin, or otherwise injuring any trees, shrubs or bamboos, otherwise than with lawful permission under these rules.

(3) Cultivation, without the permission, in writing, of the Conservator of Forests.

(4) Grazing or pasturing of cattle, elephants, or pigs, except with lawful permission under these rules.

(5) Cutting grass, collecting fruits, honey, wax, bark, or any kind of forest produce without lawful permission under these rules.

V.—Whenever any legal rights to timber, grazing, or other forest produce exist in any Government forest, such rights shall in all cases be ascertained and fully recorded by the Revenue authorities of districts, and a copy of such record shall be deposited for reference in the forest office of the division in which the forest is situated.

VI.—It shall be lawful for the Local Government to close any portions of the Government forests, and to notify such portions as closed forests. The boundaries of such closed forests shall be demarcated by such marks as the Government may direct.

VII.—In closed forests all trespass by men, cattle, or elephants off the authorised roads and pathways is prohibited.

VIII.—It shall be lawful for the Local Government to grant in any Government forest such privileges as may be consistent with the due maintenance of the forest. Provided always that the exercise of any privilege under this rule shall be for the use of the person entitled thereto, and not for the purposes of export or merchandise.

IX.—No privileges granted under the last preceding rule shall be exercised in any closed forest.

X.—All timber found adrift within such limits and on such rivers, as may from time to time be notified by the Local Government, may be collected and taken charge of by any forest officer. The collection of such timber within these limits by any person other than a forest officer is prohibited. All timber collected by the forest officer as aforesaid shall be brought to or stored at such stations as the Conservator of Forests shall from time to time publicly notify and shall be dealt with as provided in the following rules:

XI.—Notices shall be published every second month at the three tahsil or police offices nearest the place of storing, stating the number and description of pieces of drift and unclaimed timber brought in under Rule X during the two months preceding.

XII.—All claims to drift timber shall be decided by the Conservator of Forests, or such other forest officer as he may authorise in that behalf. Provided that if two or more persons are claimants to the same timber, the Conservator or other officer as aforesaid may decline to decide the case, and refer the parties to the Civil Court.

Timber, wood, or bamboos awarded to claimants must be redeemed by the payment of all expenses incurred on the collection, landing, and protection thereof. If the expenses are not paid and the timber redeemed within one month from the date of issue of a written notice by the forest officer calling on the owner to redeem the same, the forest officer shall be entitled to sell the wood; and after deducting the sum due for such expenses, shall pay any balance that may remain to the owner of the timber sold.

The 6th October 1875.

No. 2707*P.*

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Foreign Department.

Read again Resolution of this Department, No. 2005, dated 12th July 1875.

OBSERVATIONS.—The Governor General in Council observes that in paragraphs 12 and 13 of the above quoted Resolution it was stated that after Sir Douglas Forsyth had concluded with the Burmese Government the Agreement on the subject of Western Karennee, an informal but friendly communication was made to him from the Burmese Foreign Minister indicating disinclination on the part of the Court of Ava to assent to an escort of British troops accompanying a fresh Mission to China. His Excellency in Council entertained a confident expectation that the Burmese Government would so receive such further communications on the subject as might be addressed to them that the friendship between the two Governments would be maintained.

His Excellency in Council has now received intimation from the Resident at Mandalay that the Government of the King of Burmah has consented that should another Mission be sent to China, it shall be accompanied by an escort of British troops sufficient for the purpose of protecting it from attack or insult.

ORDER.—Ordered, that the following extract from a letter addressed by His Excellency the Kin Woon Mengye, Minister of Foreign Affairs at the Court of Ava, to the British Resident at Mandalay, be published in the Gazette of India for general information:—

"In regard to that portion of the letter which states that until the result of the investigation is known His Excellency the Viceroy is unable to say whether or not he will send a fresh expedition, but that he desires his thanks may be communicated to His Majesty for having offered to Captain Strover to send the Mission back to China if arrangements can be made, and directs that the Burmese Government may be informed that should a Mission be sent again to China, it will be necessary that a sufficient escort of British troops be sent with it to protect it from attack and insult,—and also with reference to the letter dated 14th June 1875 from the Envoy, in which it is stated that the Chinese Government have issued fresh passports for a new Mission from Burmah to China, or vice versâ, if the Viceroy sees fit to send one,—I have the honor to say that should such another Mission be sent to the Chinese territory, it may be accompanied by an escort of British troops sufficient for the purposes stated [in the letter]; and I request that, in accordance with the existing friendship [between the two Governments], you will inform me of the strength of the escort previous to the despatch of the Mission.

No. 1001 of 1875.—With reference to G. G. O. No. 1315, dated the 28th December 1872, the following Resolution in the Financial Department is published for general information:—

Republished in G. G. O. No. 560 of 1873.

Read—Endorsement of the Military Department, No. 1394 ($\frac{\text{Funds}}{\text{Indian Service}}$), dated 24th March 1875, on the subject of the ad interim rates of subscription to the Indian Service Family Pension Fund which should be paid by Native members of the Covenanted Medical Service until the adoption of new tables.

RESOLUTION.—In the absence of sufficient statistics of native life no precise rates of subscription can be fixed; but it is believed that Insurance Offices have added five or ten per cent. to their ordinary rates when accepting risks on the lives of natives of India, thus indicating a belief that a lower scale of vitality as well as a greater proportion of unforeseen risk may be applicable to Native than to European life. Accordingly, the Governor General in Council is pleased to sanction the proposal to fix the present rates of subscription to the Indian Service Family Pension Fund to be paid by Native members of the Covenanted Medical Service at an increase of five per cent. on the rates paid by Europeans, subject to revision if requisite.

LAW REPORTS BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. HOBHOUSE moved that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill for the improvement of Law Reports be taken into consideration. He said that this was a matter on which he need not make any observations to the Council, because he had already explained that the Bill was one which consisted solely of what we had already discussed in the early part of the year so far as it had not been disapproved of by the Secretary of State. The Select Committee had made no alterations in the Bill as introduced.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. HOBHOUSE also moved that the Bill be passed.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

PANJÁB CHIEF COURT APPEALS BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. HOBHOUSE also presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to provide an appeal from certain decrees of the Chief Court of the Panjáb, and moved that the Bill be taken into consideration. He said that this was also a matter on which he need not trouble the Council with any remarks, as he had explained already the extremely simple character of the Bill and how it had been prepared under the auspices of two of the Judges of the Panjáb Chief Court themselves. The Select Committee had proposed no alterations in the Bill.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. HOBHOUSE also moved that the Bill be passed.

NATIVE PASSENGER SHIPS BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. HOBHOUSE also presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to Native Passenger Ships and Coasting Steamers. He said that this was a matter in which there was no motion before the Council, but he should like to make a few remarks upon the alterations that the Select Committee had made in the Bill, because they were of an important character, affecting the principle of the law, and they were not in contemplation when he introduced the Bill. The fact was that this was one of those numerous cases which were begun by aiming at some small changes in the law and at consolidation, and then in the progress of the work before the Committee they found that it was necessary, or at all events expedient, to make a much larger alteration than was at first contemplated. He would briefly state to the Council what the points were in which the Committee had been induced to alter the measure as introduced.

In the first place the law on this subject was governed by three Acts of Council: Act XXV of 1859, Act XII of 1870, and Act XII of 1872. Act XXV of 1859 applied solely to the Bay of Bengal and only to certain specified voyages within that Bay. The voyages to which it applied were those which took place from any port in Madras or Chittagong, or from any port in Orissa to any port on the Eastern Coast of the Bay of Bengal, or the Straits of Malacca, or in Ceylon, and also the reverse voyages, excepting that, for some reason which MR. HOBHOUSE could not explain, the voyages from Ceylon were not included. That Act applied to all sorts of vessels whatever number of passengers they might carry.

Then came Act XII of 1870, and that applied to voyages to or from the westward, namely, those which took place from any port in India to either the Red Sea or the Persian Gulf, or the reverse way. The scope of the Act was affected by a definition of the term "Native passenger ship." That term was said only to mean a ship which carried more than thirty passengers and which was plying from any port in India to any port in the Red Sea or the Persian Gulf, and vice versâ. The principal part of the Act of 1870 applied to those Native passenger ships. Then there was a separate chapter altogether which applied to what were called "coasting steamers." Those were steam-vessels carrying passengers without any limit of number whatever on coasting voyages from or to any port in British India. Those were the only provisions which affected the purely British Indian traffic. All the other provisions, whether under Act XXV of 1859 or Act XII of 1870, were for certain voyages, most of which were beyond British India and which were all long voyages. Nor did Act XII of 1870 contain anything about sailing vessels which might make coasting voyages; as regarded such voyages, it applied entirely to steamers. If a steamer carried only one passenger, it fell under Act XII of 1870; and it said that those steamers should have certificates which should state the number of passengers which the steamers should carry, but no measurements were given by which licenses should be adjusted. That was a state of the law which was very unsatisfactory, and it was found to bear very hardly on the good class of steamers, because, not applying at all to sailing vessels, it tended to drive passengers into making their voyages in very rickety craft.

So an Act was introduced in the year 1872, and that effected an alteration of the law by striking out the definition of "Native passenger ship" that was contained in the Act of 1870, and it substituted a very much more sweeping definition, defining the expression to mean a vessel, whether sailing or steam, which carried more than thirty Native passengers. So that by the new definition of the Act of 1872, vessels of every class, sailers and steamers, whether they carried one passenger or a thousand, were swept into the rules which were framed for voyages from India to the Red Sea and the Persian Gulf. That created a hardship greater than before, because the rules which might be applicable to a voyage from Madras to Jeddah were by no means applicable to a voyage from Madras to Negapatam; and yet they were applied to all voyages. The result was that the law had not worked at all; in fact it was very generally disobeyed, and in most cases from the impossibility of obeying it, no notice had been taken of the disobedience.

When this Bill was introduced, it was on account of the representations made by the British India Steam Navigation Company to the effect that they could not observe the rules laid down by the law; and, in the first instance, the Bill observed the classification of vessels and voyages established by the existing law; but it was proposed to relieve the hardships that were felt by giving a greater power to the Executive to exempt vessels from the existing statutory rules, and to make the law more efficient by empowering the Executive to make special rules for different voyages. When the Committee came to work out this proposal, it was attended by a very intelligent gentleman named Kittredge, who carried on a passenger traffic business in Bombay; and he pointed out, in the first place, that there was a great deal of uncertainty introduced by leaving those matters to Executive rules, and in the second place, that the Local Governments, though they must always have a great deal to say to those rules, could not possibly deal with the matter efficiently; because, from the very nature of the subject, the voyages to which the rules would apply would be under the authority of no one Local Government, so that it was a matter with which only the Supreme Government could deal with quite adequately. At the same time, Mr. Kittredge suggested that voyages and ships might be classified in a different way so as to have an efficient law which yet would not work hardship.

The proposals now made were founded on Mr. Kittredge's suggestions. In the first place the Committee adhered to the rule that a ship, in order to come within the provisions of the Act at all, should carry more than thirty passengers. It was not worth while to carry supervision lower than that. That would alter the law as regarded the Bay of Bengal, where at present the provisions of the Act of 1859 applied to all vessels. Then, instead of making a distinction between coasting voyages as performed by steamers, and other voyages, it was proposed to divide all voyages into long and short voyages. The dividing line proposed by Mr. Kittredge was that the voyage should be a long voyage if the ship, under ordinary circumstances, would be more than four days out of port. Subsequent representations, however, had induced the Committee to extend that period to five days, and they now proposed that, if a ship, under ordinary circumstances, was likely to be more than five days out of port, that should be considered a long voyage, and all other voyages short ones. Then they had made two sets of provisions: one of a very simple character, which was to apply to short voyages, and the other more elaborate and more restrictive, which was to apply to long voyages. In point of fact, they were assured that the two classes of business were of a totally different kind; that the voyages in which ships were more than five days out of port included all the pilgrimages, and all the emigration to Singapore, the Straits Settlements, and Burma; and that the coasting traffic proper would all fall within the definition of short voyages.

Having defined in the abstract what was a long and what a short voyage, the task remained to apply the definition to particular voyages. That must be the work of the Executive Government from time to time, and it was proposed to give the Executive Government power to declare with respect either to a steamer or a sailing vessel, whether a voyage should be a short or a long voyage.

The Committee did not think it desirable to introduce so great an alteration of the principles which underlay the whole of the law without consulting the local authorities; and although they did not at the time make a report to the Council, as they thought the matter too uncertain for that, they had consulted the maritime Local Governments, and the answers received from them and the naval authorities under them led the Committee to believe that the classification proposed by Mr. Kittredge was a sound one and would lead both to the simplification and the efficiency of the law.

There was one other point which it was proposed to alter. At present, so far as regarded the rules for the measurement of space, and for proportioning the number of passengers to the size of the vessel, they rested upon the tonnage of the vessel. The Committee were informed that this was not a measurement applicable to the vessels engaged in this business, and that it was not by the tonnage that we should calculate such measurements. They had therefore provided that those measurements should be calculated entirely in superficial and cubic feet.

Those were the more prominent alterations that the Select Committee had made in the principles of the existing law and of the Bill as it was introduced. Of course, such alterations of principle had led to numerous alterations of detail; but he need not trouble the Council now with any further explanation, because there was no motion before them to take the Report into consideration. It was proposed that the Bill should be republished, and that criticisms from the Local Governments and all persons concerned should be invited, before it was again brought before the Council.

The Hon'ble Mr. Hobhouse also moved that the Bill as amended be published in the Gazette of India in English, and in the Calcutta Gazette, the Fort St. George Gazette, the Bombay Government Gazette, and the British Burma Gazette in English and in such other languages as the respective Local Governments thought fit.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

CENTRAL PROVINCES LAWS BILL.

The Hon'ble Mr. Hobhouse also presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to declare and amend the law in force in the Central Provinces.

OBSOLETE ENACTMENTS REPEAL BILL.

The Hon'ble Mr. Hobhouse also introduced the Bill for the repeal of certain obsolete enactments, and moved that it be referred to a Select Committee with instructions to report in two months. He had explained at the last meeting of the Council what the object of the Bill was. It was one of the measures that we had taken up with a view to get a convenient edition of the Statutes and Regulations which applied to India.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. Hobhouse also moved that the Bill be published in English in the Gazette of India, and in the local Gazettes of the several Provinces.

The Motion was put and agreed to

BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION BILL.

The Hon'ble Mr. Hope presented the further Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to limit the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts throughout the Bombay Presidency in matters relating to the Land-revenue, the charge of which, he observed, had devolved on him in consequence of the departure for England of Sir B. H. Ellis. As the subject was an important one, and the personnel of the Council had changed considerably since the Bill had been introduced, he would briefly recapitulate its origin, and then explain in detail the grounds of the present recommendations of the Committee.

The Bill was first introduced by Sir B. H. Ellis in August 1873, and its scope was to place the so-called "Old Provinces" of the Bombay Presidency, where the Civil Courts are not excluded from taking cognizance of matters connected with land-revenue assessment, exemptions, &c., upon a level with the "New Provinces," where they are. By the "New Provinces" was meant Khandesh, the Deccan, and the Southern Mahratta Country, which were conquered from the Peishwa, together with certain other districts acquired by treaty, exchange, lapse, &c. The "Old Provinces" comprised Gujarat, the Konkan, and Canara, and were only two-sevenths in area, and considerably less than half in population, of the whole Regulation Provinces of the Presidency. The reasons given for the proposed change were, that the Civil Courts had not the technical knowledge to deal with assessment; that they might in a particular, and perhaps ill-argued, case go counter to the entire policy of Government; that suits might so multiply as to be executively embarrassing and politically injurious; and that cases had actually arisen showing good grounds for this view. The exact extent to which jurisdiction should be barred was left for discussion.

In April 1874, the Committee's first Report was presented to the Council. It left the principle of the Bill unchanged, but recommended considerable alterations in its phraseology, chiefly in accordance with the North-Western Provinces Land-Revenue Act (XIX of 1873), and added provisions to secure sufficient rights of appeal to the Executive in lieu of the resort to the Courts, which was to be withdrawn.

After this Report, further discussion ensued with the Bombay Government as to the wording of the Bill, and the whole question had also to be reconsidered in connection with a proposal from them to consolidate the entire Land-revenue law of Bombay, which shortly took form by the introduction of a Bill into the local Legislature in January last. Then occurred the departure of Sir B. H. Ellis, followed soon afterwards by that of Messrs. Bayley and Dalyell, who were members of the Select Committee. Consequently, it was only recently that the subject could again be taken up.

The present members of the Committee, who were all new, with the exception of the Hon'ble Mr. Hobhouse, had examined the subject ab initio. They fully concurred as to both the necessity for legislation and the principle on which it was proposed to provide it, and had in their report merely recommended certain modifications in the scope of the Bill. In order to assist the Council in appreciating the position which they had taken, Mr. Hope would offer a short sketch of the history and present condition of legislation on the subject of land-revenue, as far as the Civil Courts were concerned.

The early Regulations of Bengal, Madras and Bombay left the acts of officers of the Government open to question in the Civil Courts to a considerable extent; but at the same time the language used was so vague, and in some cases even so contradictory, that it was difficult to determine what were the exact limits intended by the legislators; and the fact that the Courts for a long series of years never practically interfered in technical questions connected with the revenue would seem to show that their powers were not in those days understood as having the extensive application which has of late been claimed for them.

In Bombay, the subjection of the Executive to the Civil Courts in revenue matters, whatever may have been its exact limits, which Mountstuart Elphinstone's revised Code of 1827 contained, was even at that date felt to be unsuitable to, if not dangerous for, the New Provinces; and the action of the Courts was therefore by that Code barred in those Provinces as regards the assessment and collection of the land-revenue, the administration of alienations from it of all kinds, and of grants and allowances not hereditary, village boundary disputes, and certain minor matters. This exclusion of the Courts continued in all essentials up to the present day, having been maintained by Acts XI of 1852 and II of 1863. The principle had also found further development through the whole Presidency in the Acts of the local Legislature: in Act II of 1866 (section 6), with reference to superior holders' rents, and in Act II of 1871, when it was applied to an assessed tax. As regards holdings for service, the law had since 1833, if not before, been that they were "resumable or continuable" at the pleasure of Government. In Madras, a definite and material restriction regarding ináms was placed on the Courts by Regulations in 1831 and subsequent years; while in matters of assessment they did not appear to have ever practically interfered up to 1864, when they were effectually excluded by the proviso in Madras Act II, that "no Court of Civil Judicature shall have authority to take into consideration or decide any question as to rate of land-revenue payable to Government," &c. In Lower Bengal, the fact of a permanent settlement, the paucity of ináms, and the absence of village-officers, had rendered the question of less moment; but a special procedure for ináms existed, and in practice the Civil Courts had not often interfered in the subjects now under discussion. In the North-Western Provinces, including the permanently settled districts, the Courts had now been effectively barred by Act XIX of 1873, which however was but little of an innovation except in those districts. In the Panjáb, Act XXXIII of 1871 only gave legal form to the exclusion which already existed; and in Burma and Oudh analogous exclusion was understood to prevail. As regards the land-revenue, it might thus be safely said in general terms that in no part of India, except perhaps in Bengal and the "Old Provinces" of Bombay, did the Courts possess a power of going into the question of the principle and amount of assessment; and even in those "Old Provinces" the exercise was only of recent date. As regards the entire class of State grants and alienations which were now technically termed pensions, Act XXIII of 1871 had consolidated throughout the Empire the exclusion of the Courts which the local laws had already more or less completely provided. Finally, the principle was applied to an assessed tax by the series of Income Tax Acts from 1860 downwards.

Thus, the whole course of legislation during the last half century had been gradually to withdraw from the Civil Courts to a greater or less extent, matters affecting the public revenue, whether in its assessment, its collection, the adjudication of alienations from it, or the remuneration of public servants connected with its administration. It was remarkable, MR. HOPE continued, that the position at which we had thus arrived in practice corresponded pretty closely with what was well known, and clearly acknowledged by historical and political writers, to be in theory the position of the State, at least in India, namely, that of being the highest authority in matters of taxation, vested with the prerogative and the duty of imposing and equitably distributing the public burdens, of conferring exemption from them to such extent and for so long as to it appeared expedient, and of adopting such measures as might be required effectually to ensure its orders and grants being understood and acted upon. He used the term "the State" in its widest sense, including the Legislature partly composed of non-official members. This prerogative of taxation was conspicuously asserted in section 2, clause 2, of Bombay Regulation XVII of 1827, which provided that nothing "shall affect the right of Government to assess to the public revenue all lands, under whatever title they may be held, whenever and so long as the exigencies of the State may render such assessment necessary." Were there any doubt as to this being, in fact, the common law of India, it would be removed by a glance at the Native States around us, where all the powers which MR. HOPE had mentioned were exercised without question. In the course of his own political experience, MR. HOPE had come across numerous instances in which the British Government had acknowledged this prerogative in such States. The latest was that of the Gaikwár. In the proceedings connected with the first Commission it was never, he believed, questioned that the Chief had full power to regulate his assessments, or to resume any or all grants of money or land, whether made by himself or his predecessors; but it was merely held to be inconsistent with good government and the preservation of peace and order to exercise this power in a harsh, capricious, or vindictive manner.

Such being the fundamental principle, it would be inconsistent and improper for Government to abandon its functions in favour of the Civil Courts, or any other authority. The establishment of Courts of Justice independent of the Executive was a most important element in the good government of a country. But it was essential to their healthy action that they should not have assigned to them a province alien to their peculiar capabilities. The maxim ne sutor ultra crepidam was, no less applicable to them than to others. In a country where the jurisdiction of such Courts did not rest on immemorial custom, but was of modern introduction, it was necessary to define by written law what subjects should or should not be referred to them: and of that matter the State must, by the nature of the case, be the final judge.

What matters should or should not be so referred was the essential point in the present Bill. Here it was obvious that much depended upon the grade of cultivation and the political circumstances of the province to be dealt with. Where wealth and education were widely diffused, and private rights were defined with nicety and generally understood, the people might be left to protect themselves in the Civil Courts to a greater extent than where their ignorance would make the privilege a farce, or their turbulence might convert it into a source of danger. Consequently, we found the line drawn at different points in the various provinces of India, from Bengal at one extreme to Burma at the other. Considering the high advancement of the Western Presidency, there could be no doubt that the line should be drawn as high as possible, that is, that to the Courts should be referred all matters which were not in themselves unsuited for their cognizance. What matters the Committee deemed suitable could not be better stated than in the words of their Report:

"We consider that the true distinction between the province which is more proper to a Civil Court and that which is more proper to Revenue officers, is to be found, not in the nature of the privilege claimed, but in the nature of the evidence by which it is supported. If the evidence consist of formal State documents, such as a law expressly creating or confirming an exemption, or a sanad, grant, judgment, or other formal adjudication affecting a particular property, then there can hardly be any dispute except one of construction, which is best remitted to a Civil Court. But where the question turns upon the validity of an alleged informal guarantee, or on the genuineness or authenticity of documents, though they may be said to emanate from a Native Government, or on oral evidence, and still more, when technical and special knowledge, historical research, or an accurate understanding of the political effect of political events, more or less distant and obscure, are indispensable, then we consider that the decision should rest with Revenue officers, and ultimately with the Government. For the Government is likely to have better information supplied to it; may select peculiarly skilled persons as its advisers; is not dependent on the facts and arguments which the parties may happen either to supply or to omit; is more accustomed to deal with affairs on a large scale and on a moral basis; and alone has a direct political responsibility for its actions, and is at liberty to guide itself thereby."

He would next proceed to show the application of this principle in the amended draft of the Bill, as also to touch briefly on certain other matters now provided for in the latter. He did not propose to go through every section of the measure, but only to notice a few leading features. One point to which he wished especially to refer was to be found in the first section. The previous Bill provided, in clause (b) of that section, that the Act should not be applied in any degree whatever to towns and cities, for which there was a special law, namely, Bombay Act IV of 1868. The Committee considered, however, that there was no valid reason for treating matters which were really of a technical nature, such as assessment, boundaries, &c., differently in towns from elsewhere. It was, perhaps, true that the State had, to a considerable extent, forgone its rights in towns and cities, but at the same time it had very large rights remaining, and these rights were infinitely more valuable and as intricate to determine as, if not more so, than any similar rights which it possessed in the country. On the other hand, it so happened that a great portion of the questions which, as a matter of fact, did arise in towns were connected with exemption from land-revenue, and therefore these questions would, under the proviso in section 4 of the amended Bill, actually remain under the cognizance of the Civil Courts. In consequence of this it might be said that even any allusion to Act IV of 1868 was now superfluous. Probably it was so; but the Committee thought it better to let the Bill stand as now drafted, for the purpose of giving the public a more complete assurance that there was no intention of withdrawing from the Courts matters relating to exemptions of this particular class. He might also add that cases which were actually cases as regards the right of property, as distinct from occupation, would not be affected by the Bill. In view of these explanations, he trusted that there would be no reasonable ground for discontent at the extent of the change which had been made.

Passing on to section 4, that section was the key to the whole Bill. Clause (a) was simply a re-enactment of the existing Bombay law, which, as he had already mentioned, was likewise distinctly affirmed, as regards offices, by the Pensions Act. Clause (b) no longer contained, as it did in the first draft of the Bill, words referring to the question of the validity of an engagement made with Government for the payment of revenue; because, under the principle which the Committee had adopted, an engagement being a definite and specified affair, might very well be left to be interpreted by the Courts. As illustrations of the sort of engagements which he referred to, he might mention Abkárí, Ferry, or other contracts which were given on a large scale in the Bombay Presidency.

The next clause (c) was one which provided for the collection of the land-revenue, and was a necessary corollary of the principle that the State must have the power of imposing what revenue it thought proper. Of course, to allow the State to impose what revenue it thought proper, and then to permit the collection of that revenue to be disputed by the Courts, would be altogether inconsistent. At the same time the Committee had reserved, by the important provisos under section 5, namely (a) and (c), which should be read together with this clause, a power to the individual to dispute in a Civil Court whether the amount which had been demanded of him was really correct, and also to allege that he was not the person from whom the demand ought to be recovered. This provision was more favourable than the law of Northern India, where the money must be actually paid under protest to admit of a suit being filed. As regards the second sentence in clause (c), section 4, about setting aside sales in consideration of irregularities or mistakes, the Committee had allowed the previous phraseology to stand, because the Bombay law on the subject of sales, which, though perhaps, quite sufficient, in reality, for the protection of the interests of the subject, was not at present very clearly enunciated, would be amended in the new Code now before the local Legislature.

Next as to clause (d). This should be read in connection with clause (b), section 5. The reason of this exclusion obviously was that the Government could not be dragged into Civil Courts in matters in which they had no concern merely at the beck and call of private parties, or compelled to keep their records in any particular way which the Courts thought best. At the same time, there could be no doubt that it was fully contemplated by the Bill that any decrees of Court in private matters which were passed, would, in practice, be fully recognized by the officers of Government. Clause (e), which reserved the question of the distribution of land on the partition of estates, similarly proceeded on the principle that the Executive Revenue Officers were the only competent judges of what were the relative values of different parts of a field or an estate, and alone fit to decide on similar technical matters.

Clause (f), again, must be read in connection with the proviso which followed almost immediately after it, and which he need not dilate upon, as it spoke for itself; but he might notice that the sentence under (f), with regard to setting aside any cess or rate authorized by Government, was consistent with the principle which he had already pointed out as being established in the case of the Income tax, and in Act II of 1871. With regard to the other sentence under the same head, respecting the occupation of waste or vacant land belonging to Government, he might point out that the words "belonging to Government" were put in to show that it was not intended by this to bar suits against Government where a man claimed a piece of land as his own private property, but merely to bar vexatious suits regarding land admittedly belonging to Government.

He had already, in the course of his remarks, said all that was necessary regarding section 5. Sections 6, 7, 8 and 9 were merely a re-enactment of the existing law now scattered in a variety of different places in the Bombay Regulations and Acts. This re-enactment had been thought desirable in order to put the whole of the provisions about the jurisdiction of the Courts in one place, and so to let people know fully and clearly the remedies which they possessed against any illegal action on the part of Government officers. As to sections 10, 11 and 12 which related to appeals, they owed their origin to a desire to secure a thorough appeal up to the Executive Government in all cases in which, owing to mistake or accident, the right might not be found in the present law, which right of appeal was the more necessary at present, because we were taking away the resort to the Courts which had hitherto existed. But at the same time the Committee had considered it only reasonable to preclude the individual from resorting to the Courts until he had exhausted all the rights of appeal which the law allowed. Then followed three more sections, 13, 14 and 15, which it had been thought advisable to provide with a view to obviating suits against Government being prolonged or inefficiently tried, and to ensure any case being promptly taken up, and if necessary referred to the High Court on the question of jurisdiction. He need scarcely enlarge on the political and executive inconveniences which ensued when a point was raised with Government, and after three years or more consumed in litigation, it was perhaps eventually ruled that the Government were right, or even that the Court should never have taken up the question at all.

The concluding section of the Act had perhaps already been sufficiently explained by Sir B. H. Ellis. A certain section of a Bombay Regulation was inadvertently repealed in September 1871, by the Land Improvement Act, and it was now proposed to reinstate this section, giving powers for the recovery of advances made by Government for rebuilding villages which had been swept away by inundation, or houses destroyed by fire, purchasing bullocks or seed, and similar objects which could not come within the terms of the Land Improvement Act.

In conclusion, he had only to point out that, while the effect of the proposed changes would be to take away some of the powers hitherto enjoyed by the Courts in the Old Provinces of the Bombay Presidency, it would also, on the other hand, admit them to a very large jurisdiction in the New Provinces never hitherto exercised. Now, with regard to that, it was a remarkable fact, and worthy of notice, that in the whole of the petitions presented to Government in connection with this Bill, it was nowhere seriously attempted to urge or prove that the exclusion which actually existed in the New Provinces had been productive of any harm. Therefore, he thought, we might fairly argue that if the great exclusion which at present existed in the New Provinces had produced no harm, the very much more limited exclusion which it was now proposed to introduce in the other districts would not be productive of any harm either. It was said in one of the petitions that the Old Provinces had hitherto thriven under the shadow of the Courts. Well, with regard to that it might be remarked that the New Provinces had also thriven without the shadow of the Courts. However, as a matter of fact, the truth lay in this, that the Courts had scarcely ever interfered in revenue matters in the Old Provinces till of late years, and that probably whatever thriving was to be found in these Provinces which was not attributable to the ordinary progress of society was attributable to the conscientious liberality of the Revenue Officers themselves, who he knew, from his own experience, and otherwise, habitually decided, and had decided thousands of cases, in favour of the subject, which, if they had been referred to the Civil Courts, must, under the rigid rules by which the Courts were conducted, have been decided in favour of the Crown.

The proposed Bill thus appeared to be based upon principles which were just and liberal, and which had been approved, as Sir B. H. Ellis mentioned, by no less an authority than the late Chief Justice of Bengal, Sir Richard Couch, who was peculiarly well qualified to pass a judgment upon a Bombay question. It also had the approbation of other high legal authorities. He had, therefore, every confidence that the Bill would be approved by this Council, and that it would bring about a satisfactory termination of the difficulties which had led to its introduction.

The Hon'ble MR. HOPE then moved that the Bill and the further Report of the Select Committee be published in the Gazette of India in English and in the Bombay Government Gazette in English and such other languages as the Local Government might think fit.

The Hon'ble MR. HOBHOUSE said—"As this Bill bears upon the administration of justice, and as it has been my duty to pay attention to some of the questions it deals with, I should like to make a few remarks on the shape it has now assumed; the more so because, as Mr. Hope has observed, the casualtites affecting our Committee have been so severe that I am the only survivor of the party. I do not propose to speak of anything but the most general principles involved in the measure. There are many details of it, especially among those additions which have been made by way of consolidating the law, which require an intimate practical acquaintance with revenue work to understand properly. I can only dimly form an opinion on such matters, and certainly should not presume to speak of them in this Council.

"Now the Council are aware that there was a good deal of objection made in the Presidency of Bombay to this Bill in the shape in which it was introduced: and I have been re-perusing divers petitions and pamphlets which have reached our hands, and which though numerous are mostly of one type and have evidently proceeded from only two or three sources. Petitions, however, must be estimated not so much by their numbers as by their contents, especially when the subject they deal with is one that cannot be judged of upon a superficial view, but requires a good deal of study, training and special knowledge to understand.

"Of the contents of the petitions I wish to speak with all respect. I do not think that the petitioners are by any means wholly wrong. They have indeed weakened their position by exaggerations, and the greater part of their arguments is rested on the erroneous idea that the Bill as introduced was intended to withdraw Revenue officers and their proceedings wholly from the control of the Civil Courts. The case of the petitioners would have stood better if they had set themselves to study the Bill and had worked out the problem how far it would actually interfere with the jurisdiction they wish to preserve. In presenting the former Report of the Committee our late colleague Sir Barrow Ellis mentioned that one of the pamphlets published on this subject contained a list of twenty-five cases which Civil Courts had decided against Revenue officers. The implication of course was that all such cases would be withdrawn from the Civil Courts by the Bill, and that much injustice would be left unredressed. On examination, however, he could only find that two cases out of the twenty-five would be withdrawn from the Civil Courts by the operation of the Bill. I also have examined the cases and bring out the same result. And I add that the two cases in question are such as should be kept in the hands of the Revenue authorities.

"At the same time, and all misapprehensions and exaggerations notwithstanding, I think that some fault was justly found with our Bill as we framed it at first. If it had been carried in that shape it would have excluded from the cognizance of Civil Courts some classes of cases which I myself think ought to fall within it. And I believe that as it has now been modified under prolonged discussions and under two operations of the Select Committee, it represents more accurately than at first the most advantageous dividing-line between those matters which should, and those which should not, be treated as ordinary matters of litigation.

"It is true that the measure is still very far from according with the views of the petitioners. They propose to keep the law of the old provinces of Bombay just as it is, and to assimilate the law of the new provinces to it. Now I will just show to the Council what sort of a law it is which we propose to change and others desire to keep unchanged.

"The law is contained in Regulation XVII. of 1827, and, as was customary with the laws of those days, it mixes up with matter proper for legislation a quantity of directions to Revenue officers which would now be kept off the enactments and left to executive orders. I will read the passages which are germane to the present purpose:—

"'II. First.—All land, whether applied to agricultural or other purposes, shall be liable to the payment of land revenue to Government, according to the established principles which govern the assessment of that description of land to which it belongs, except such as may be proved to be either wholly or partially exempt from the payment of land revenue, under any of the provisions contained in Chapters IX. and X. of this Regulation.

"'Second.—Provided, however, that nothing contained in the preceding clause, or in the enactments therein cited, shall be understood to affect the right of Government, to assess to the public revenue all lands, under whatever title they may be held, whenever and so long as the exigencies of the State may render such assessment necessary.

"'IV. First.—When there is no right on the part of the occupant in limitation of the right of Government to assess, the assessment shall be fixed at the discretion of the Collector, subject to the control of Government.

"'Second.—When there is a right on the part of the occupant in limitation of the right of Government, in consequence of a specific limit to assessment having been established and preserved, the assessment shall not exceed such specific limit.

"'IX. First.—The Collector's decision upon any question arising out of the provisions of the preceding sections shall, in the first instance, be obeyed and acted upon as the rule.

"'Second. But if any person should deem himself aggrieved by any such decision, he may either present to the Collector a petition, addressed to Government, praying for redress, or may file an action against the Collector in the Civil Court, under the ordinary rules, or he may pursue both methods at the same time.'

"The effect of all this is that although the assessment is to be fixed at the discretion of the Collector, that discretion may be challenged before a Court of Law: and if the discretion of the presiding Judge happens to be something different, the decision of the Collector must be overset. There is not a single question which can arise in the course of a settlement, whether it relates to the fertility of soils, or the prices of produce, or any other matter if any there be even more impossible for a Court of law to investigate, which may not be taken out of the skilled hands that can deal with it and carried before a tribunal that knows nothing about it. The Civil Judge may even control the broadest principles that lie at the bottom of an assessment. He may disapprove of the portion of the assets which the Government think it right to take. He may think that the assessment ought to be governed by prevailing rates of rent instead of the productiveness of the soil and the rates of prices, or he may think the contrary. He may even decide that the exigencies of the State are not such as to warrant the imposition of such an assessment as the Collector has decided to impose. In all these cases the decision of the Revenue officer is expressly made disputable in a civil action. In short, the whole land-revenue system of the country is by this Regulation made subject to the control of the Civil Courts.

"Now we are told that this was the deliberate policy of a great statesman, Mountstuart Elphinstone; that it is the fundamental land-law of the country; and that to alter it will be to take away the feeling of security which the people have against the encroachments of an irresponsible executive. I say on the contrary that no system of revenue could possibly stand such a strain, and least of all such a system as that of the Indian land-revenue, where the amount taken from the cultivators from time to time is, and always has been, and necessarily must be, at the discretion of the Ruler, until a permanent settlement is made. That Mountstuart Elphinstone did not intend to abandon this discretion is manifest from the passages that I have read. What precisely he did intend, how far he contemplated that matters connected with land-revenue should be contested by ordinary litigation, it is impossible to say, for the Regulation contradicts itself in more places than one. But one thing we may be pretty sure of, and that is that nobody would be more surprised than Mountstuart Elphinstone himself to find that, owing to unskilful processes in framing his law, the discretion of the Ruler might be exercised by the Civil Court, and further that, owing to administrative changes which he could not foresee, that Civil Court might consist of professional lawyers.

"When we set up an income tax we do not allow every individual to dispute his liability in a Court of law; we take care to keep the decision in the hands of special officers, namely, the Revenue officers of the Government. And yet the amount of income tax is not discretionary with the Ruler, but is fixed by law; the controversies about it turn on the amount or nature of a man's income, facts which may be proved by ordinary evidence and handled by ordinary legal methods just as well as any other disputes about matters of fact. But even in such a case as this it is felt that the Treasury would be imperilled and the public service seriously embarrassed if every difference between the collector and payer of taxes could be the subject of a regular lawsuit.

"On every ground then, both because it is a public necessity that the greatest source of Indian revenue, the land-revenue, should be collected without vexatious litigation, and because its amount turns on considerations which are familiar to Revenue officers and are almost incapable of treatment by the methods of Courts of law, it is desirable that such Courts should not interfere in the kinds of question to which I have been referring. In parts of the Presidency of Bombay they can so interfere. In the greater part of the Presidency they certainly cannot; throughout the greater part of India they certainly cannot; and I believe they cannot in any other part of India. In truth, in the district governed by the Regulation of 1827, the extent of jurisdiction given to the Civil Courts for a long time escaped observation: but we are told that there has of late years been an increasing tendency to dispute the decisions of Collectors in Courts of law. Recent discussions have now made people aware that they may litigate any question they please, and it is certain that unless we alter the law, both we and the Civil Courts have serious trouble before us.

"I will just give the Council an illustration of the mode in which circumstances draw one question after another into Courts of law when the jurisdiction exists; and it is an illustration of the greater value because it also shows how the Judges themselves naturally feel—as I should feel if I were one of them—the uncongenial nature of the functions which our law forces on them.

"I hold in my hand the report of a case decided in the Bombay High Court, entitled Govind Vinayák Gadre v. The Collector of Ratnágirí. The point was this. A man had his assessment raised. He contended that for the current year he was not bound to pay the increased amount because he had not received a certain notice, and he filed a plaint to enforce his contention. The jurisdiction was disputed by the Collector. The Court's judgment on the objection was as follows:—

"'It has been strenuously argued before us that the plaintiff, if injured by the act of the Collector in ordering the levy of the new rates from him, should have appealed to the superior Revenue authorities and to Government before he had recourse to the Civil Courts, and that as he had not done this, his suit should not have been entertained. We are of opinion that it was competent to the plaintiff under section 9 of Regulation XVII of 1827, if aggrieved by the Collector's decision directing him to pay increased assessment, to file an action in the Civil Courts, whether he applied for redress to Government or not. It was not the act of the Survey Officer fixing the new rates of assessment, subject to the sanction of Government, of which the plaintiff complained, as the Joint Judge appears to have considered. It was the act of the Collector, in directing the levy of the new rates from the plaintiff during the fiscal year 1867-68, to which the plaintiff objected; and the law we have cited has expressly given him the remedy to which he has had recourse.'

"Now, what does that mean? It surely means that in the opinion of the Court the discretion of the Survey Officer in fixing the assessment was a sort of question which could not properly be argued before them, though the smaller and more definite question about the act of the Collector in giving or withholding notice was expressly submitted to them by the Regulation. The former point was not the one to be decided, but that was obviously the way in which it struck their minds, though what they said was extrajudicial.

"Well, but then comes the case that was described by Sir Barrow Ellis at this table; and there the very principles of assessment were brought into question.

The plaintiff's contention there was that the Ruler was taking too large a portion of the assets. Did the Court then treat the question as one not arguable before them? Did they say that the case supposed in the former judgment as one which ought not to come before a Civil Court had now arisen and therefore they would not entertain it? They did not say so, and they could not say so. They entertained the case, as they were bound to do, and decided it on the evidence before them. And inasmuch as the Collector had relied entirely on the lack of jurisdiction, as it had not occurred to him that he was bound to defend the principles of his assessment to the satisfaction of the Judges, he had given no evidence to show that those principles were right, and so the decision necessarily went against him.

"I learn from the papers laid before the Committee either that fault has been found with this decision, or at least that it is supposed that the present measure was dictated by the feeling that the Court had done wrong. All I can say is, that I find no fault with the decision. If I did, I should say that the remedy was by appeal, not by this measure. The learned Judges seem to have acted in strict accordance with the duty cast upon them by the law. What I say is, that the law is in fault; that it bears hardly on all concerned; that it is not right towards the public or towards our Revenue authorities that they should have to vindicate the principles of their assessments before Courts of law, nor right towards our Civil Judges to saddle them with such a jurisdiction.

"Now if I have carried the Council along with me, they will, I am sure, concur with the Committee in thinking that the most sweeping and by far the most important clause in this Bill should be maintained: I mean that which is headed 4 (b) and which excludes from the cognizance of Civil Courts objections—

"'to the amount or incidence of any assessment of land-revenue or cess or rate authorized by Government, or "'to the mode of assessment, or to the principle on which such assessment is fixed.'

"The provision which comes next in importance is that which is headed 4 (f). It excludes from the cognizance of Civil Courts the following matters:—

"'(f) claims against Government—

"to hold land wholly or partially free from payment of land-revenue, or

"to receive payments charged on or payable out of the land-revenue, or

"to set aside any cess or rate authorized by Government.'

"It must be obvious enough that nothing requires to be more carefully watched than a claim of exemption out of a general system of contribution to the public necessities. It is a thing constantly lost sight of, though it is but a truism, that an exemption to one only means an additional burden to his neighbours. We have an analogous case in our own history. Tithes were imposed by common law for important national objects, the maintenance of churches, clergy, and the poor. They were charged upon all land except land dedicated to the clergy themselves. And with regard to other lands our common law would not hear of such a thing as an exemption. Every acre of land in lay hands was forced to pay tithes, and claims of exemption were absolutely disallowed by common law. In India, our law has not been so strict, I suppose on the ground that the Rulers of the country have been in the habit of rewarding services by granting exemptions of this kind. But the public importance of tithes cannot compare with the importance of that which is the back-bone of the fiscal sytem of India. And inasmuch as it was in accordance with native principles to consider grants by the Ruler couched in indefinite terms or in terms importing a perpetuity, to be revocable at his will, the Ruler always held in his own hands the means of correcting the weakness or carelessness or improvidence of his predecessors or himself. We are much more tender about disturbing any existing state of things; but we have to be especially careful to see that the public at large are not made to suffer by the mere circumstance that particular lands have in fact been held as exempt, or have been assessed at the same rate, for long periods of time.

"Now enquiries into such cases as these require an accurate acquaintance with the history and customs of the country, and their decision is often justly affected by political and social considerations. A Court of law is simply dependent upon the facts which the parties happen to put in evidence before it, and it must draw the logical inference from those facts, whether for or against the individual claimant, without any reference to or responsibility for the political consequences of its decision. It would be a very difficult thing to get a complicated case of this kind properly presented to a Court of law, nor do I think that such a tribunal is so likely to come to a just and fair decision as an officer or commission skilled in the very subject-matter.

"A case has recently occurred which illustrates these remarks very strongly. The inhabitants of a considerable tract of country in Canara have claimed what is in effect a permanent settlement of the land-revenue. They cannot point to any Regulation or formal act of Government; but they rely on promises alleged to have been made by Sir Thomas Munro, on certain kowls or leases alleged to have been granted by British officers in charge of the district, and on the allegation that their assessments have in fact been unchanged for a great number of years. I am speaking of the case at great disadvantage, because I have not read the judgment of the Court. But I have read a memorandum upon the case by the officer charged with its conduct, and I find that its decision involves an accurate enquiry into the history of the country and its administration from times anterior to Hyder Ali down to the present moment. Indeed on some points the investigation goes back upwards of five centuries; though here it rests upon materials which appear to have been in the hands of Sir Thomas Munro, but which now have disappeared. The Government have been exposed to nearly one thousand lawsuits instituted by different landholders, each claiming a reduction of his assessment on the grounds I have mentioned. Now we have no reason to complain of the treatment of the case, for the decision has gone in favour of the new and increased assessment. But I say that such a matter as this, even independently of its great magnitude and consequent political importance, is not a proper kind of case to bring before a Court of law. And it is only a foretaste of what will infallibly happen on a still larger scale if we leave our Courts of law to be the ultimate arbiters of all revenue questions.

"There are, indeed, grounds of exemption as to which, if a dispute arises, I would sooner see it settled by a Court of law than by the Revenue authorities. If there is a formal specific bargain between Ruler and subject, or in other words between the public and an individual; if that bargain has taken the form of an enactment or a written agreement or grant; if there has been a judgment recorded in favour of an individual against the public; such cases as those resemble claims regarding private property and turn on the same kind of evidence and reasons as ordinary lawsuits. Such cases we propose to leave to the decision of Courts of law, and we have made an important modification of the Bill for that purpose. But with regard to claims of exemption such as that which is made in Canara, I feel certain that the common weal will be best consulted by leaving them in the hands of the Revenue authorities.

"Now I have dwelt upon the most general and important features of the Bill, and in doing so have noticed some general arguments used against it. Before I conclude I wish to notice one more of these arguments, a very favourite one it seems, because I find it repeated frequently in the petitions. It is said that a man ought not to be judge in his own cause, and we are told in one of the petitions, a very well expressed one by the inhabitants of the Kallian Taluqa, that the Legislature has from time to time affirmed this fundamental principle of all law as regards the older districts of the Presidency. I have no doubt that both Legislative and Executive have affirmed the principle as regards the whole Presidency, and I hope the time will never arrive when either will affirm the contrary principle; but it is a different question whether such a principle is applicable to the case before us.

"In one sense a Collector who has passed an original decision is interested in maintaining one side of the case. He has committed himself to the view that he thought right, and then, though his private interests are not concerned in the matter, he is no longer an impartial judge on the question whether his view is right or wrong. But how does that consideration apply to the Commissioner who sits in appeal from him, or to the Governor in Council, who sits in ultimate appeal over all? Indeed, how does it apply to the Collector himself in framing his original judgment? We have been told to-day, and I have often been told before, that the comfort of the local officers is so directly affected by the contentment or discontentment of those among whom their lives are spent, that they have a strong motive for indulgent dealings with them. In fact the Government and its officers are only the representatives of the public, and whatever interests the public at large have, they have. They are interested in seeing that nobody escapes his fair share of the public burdens, and they are also interested in so dealing that people shall be contented, and not think themselves unjustly treated. The latter of these interests is quite as strong as the former. I can remember two important cases in which controversies of this kind have come up to the Government of India; and in each of these cases the latter class of considerations was quite as strongly advocated as the former, and in each case it was the prevailing element in the decision. In the case of private litigants all their passions and all their pecuniary and private interests are bound up in one issue of the suit; they have no balance to incline them to the other side. That is the reason which underlies the maxim that a man shall not be judge in his own cause. But to put the case between the officers of Government and the payers of land-revenue as one in which the former have either their passions or their pecuniary interests concerned all on one side, is to apply an excellent maxim to a very bad use.

"If indeed the maxim were applicable to matters of public revenue, if to allow the Executive Government of a country to assess its revenue uncontrolled by Courts of law really be to make a man judge in his own cause, then the maxim certainly is not a fundamental principle of all law. I have instanced the case of income tax. I might instance others, and I have shown that in India the assessment of land-revenue has always been and must be discretionary with the Ruler so long as it remains variable. And so far from its being true that as regards matters of public revenue the Legislature has been constantly affirming the maxim in question, I hold in my hand another petition in which it is made a subject of remark and complaint that exactly the opposite course has been taken by Government. I read from the petition of the Ahmedábád Association the following sentence:—

"'Your Excellency's petitioners would conclude their prayer with the remark that this Bill is a continuation of a series of legislative enactments which, beginning with the Huck Act of 1839, and including in its range the Inám Summary Settlement and other Acts, ended with the Pension Act of 1871, and which has had for its object the gradual abridgment of the power of the Civil Court in matters of revenue and the extension pro tanto of the powers of the executive officers.'

"The list given is not quite correct, for some of the enactments referred have nothing to do with the point; but doubtless the extreme and manifold public inconveniences flowing from the unskilful frame of the Regulation I have been explaining to the Council have cropped up from time to time, and have been met by various enactments of which I hope this will be the last.

"I will only advert to one other topic. The objectors to the Bill say that the time has come for extending to the new provinces of Bombay the benefits of the law that applies to the old ones. At present there is a sharp territorial division, the old provinces being subject to the unbounded jurisdiction of the Civil Courts the effect of which I have been describing, while in the remaining parts the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts in revenue matters is totally excluded in the terms used by the Bill as it was introduced. We have now modified the Bill so as to preserve the jurisdiction of Civil Courts over a larger legal area; we propose to give the same law to the whole Presidency, and that will extend the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts into the new provinces where now they have none. So far the views of the petitioners are met by the alterations made in the Bill: but then the new jurisdiction given will be of reasonable instead of unreasonable extent,

"I think that the foregoing remarks will have made it clear that the present wide and vague jurisdiction of the Civil Courts must be in some way curtailed, and that the only question is where to draw the line. The Committee have set themselves to consider solely what matters it is most for the public interest to keep in the hands of Revenue authorities, and what to leave to ordinary litigation. When that dividing-line is drawn to the satisfaction of the Legislature, there appears to be no reason now existing why it should not apply to the whole Presidency."

His Excellency THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF said that a few remarks suggested themselves with regard to the Bill. Of course from his long residence in India he must be fully sensible of the absolute necessity for the unfettered power of the Executive in all matters relating to revenue. He should like information as to the particular points which were to be transferred to the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts in the new provinces. It seemed to him that the extension of the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts in revenue matters might entail upon all those concerned in litigation the transfer of their business to great distances. Perhaps Mr. Hope would describe some of the cases that would be transferred to the Civil Courts in the new provinces.

The Hon'ble MR. HOBHOUSE remarked that in page 3 of the draft Bill a proviso would be seen under heads (h), (i), (j) and (k), followed by some illustrations of cases, which would not fall within the Civil Courts.

The Hon'ble SIR WILLIAM MUIR said that, as he understood him, His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief wished to know how far the proposed Bill effected a change in the present law, and to what extent suits, which were now triable in the Revenue Courts, would be transferred to the Civil Courts.

His Excellency THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF observed that the question naturally arose from the remarks of Mr. Hope to the effect that the new provinces had gone on and prospered extremely well without the shadow of the Courts.

His Excellency THE PRESIDENT said:—"I think that the question asked by His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief is answered by a reference to the proviso attached to section 4 of the Bill. It may be found advisable after the Bill has been published, and when we come to discuss it again, to take into consideration the objections which His Excellency has raised.

"With regard to the general scope and object of the measure, I wish to say that it has been for a considerable time under the anxious consideration of the Executive Government. It is a subject not without difficulties, and upon which the Government of India have had a lengthened correspondence with the Government of Bombay.

"The Government of India believe that the main provisions now contained in the Bill are just, and, moreover, that they are necessary for the purpose of avoiding the doubts and difficulties which the present state of the law involves in regard to the assessment and collection of the land-revenue in the Presidency of Bombay.

"Mr. Hope's review of the history of the relation of the Civil Courts to questions connected with the land-revenue in different parts of India was very interesting, and he has also expressed his opinions upon the relative functions of judicial tribunals and of the Executive Government in these and similar cases.

"I do not desire to enter now upon the discussion of so large a question as that, but I wish to express my entire concurrence in the statement which has been made by Mr. Hobhouse of the present condition of the law, as we understand it, in the Bombay Presidency, and of the reasons which have influenced the Government of India in deciding to recommend the limitation of the powers of the Civil Courts contained in this Bill to the consideration of the Legislative Council.

"The Motion which I have to put to the Council is that the Bill, together with the Report of the Select Committee, shall be published in the Gazette of India in English, and in the Bombay Presidency in English and in such other languages as the Local Government thinks fit.

"It is possible that when the Bill has been thus published points may arise which we have not yet taken into consideration. I am satisfied that, as has hitherto been the case, the Council will give every consideration to any suggestions that may be made by persons conversant with the somewhat complicated matters of detail treated in the Bill, and that, if necessary, such modifications will be made in its provisions as, upon consideration, may be found to be expedient.

"Mr. Hobhouse has shown in his speech to-day that the Government have not neglected to consider the objections which were raised to the Bill in its first shape, and that considerable modifications have been made in consequence; but, at the same time, it appears to me that the main principle of the Bill cannot be abandoned, and that it is necessary that it should be passed into law without any essential alteration."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The following Select Committee was named:—

On the Bill for the repeal of certain obsolete enactments—The Hon'ble Sir A. J. Arbuthnot, the Hon'ble Messrs. Dalyell and Hope and the Mover.

The Council then adjourned sine die.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Department of Revenue, Agriculture, and Commerce.

READ the following correspondence relative to the resumption of the Surveys of Indian seas and coasts:—

Despatch from the Secretary of State No. 7 (Geographical), dated the 30th March 1871, forwarding, for the early consideration of the Government of India, a collection of papers describing the establishments formerly maintained for the survey of Indian seas and the excellent work done by them,—pointing out the disadvantages which had resulted from the total suppression in 1861 of those establishments, and urging the expediency of providing some sufficient substitute for them.

Despatch from the Secretary of State No. 17, dated the 11th July 1873, drawing attention to the despatch of 30th March 1871, No. 7, and forwarding a copy of the observations made by Admiral Richards, Hydrographer to the Admiralty, pointing out the great importance of placing the Marine Surveys in India under the superintendence of one responsible head.

Despatch to the Secretary of State No. 26, dated the 30th June 1873, enquiring in reply to the despatch of 30th March 1871, No. 7, whether there was any prospect of practical effect being given to the arrangement understood to have been made in 1861 with the Admiralty, whereby all future maritime surveys in India were to be undertaken by the Royal Navy and at Imperial expense, and stating that if, notwithstanding that arrangement, the execution of such maritime surveys was in future to devolve on the Indian Government, that Government would take such action in the matter as financial considerations would admit, and suggesting that Commander A. D. Taylor, late Indian Navy, should be temporarily deputed to India to assist in determining what marine surveys were most pressingly required and how any such surveys could be most readily and economically executed.

Despatch from the Secretary of State No. 27 (Geographical), dated the 30th October 1873, sanctioning the proposals of the Government of India and the deputation of Commander Taylor.

Despatch to the Secretary of State No. 17, dated the 1st May 1874, recommending the establishment of a Department for the systematic execution of Marine Surveys under the superintendentship of Commander A. D. Taylor, and submitting a detailed review by that officer of all Admiralty charts of British India and of all existing materials for charts both in India and in England, with a scheme for the correction and completion of these charts, the utilisation of all old materials, and the further prosecution of marine surveys.

Despatch from the Secretary of State No. 12 (Geographical), dated the 16th July 1874, sanctioning the proposals of the Government of India.

Read also—

Despatch from the Secretary of State No. 18 (Geographical), dated the 15th April 1875, forwarding extract from a letter from the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, respecting the Royal Navy Officers lent to the Government of India, and notifying the appointment of Mr. R. C. Carrington as Chief Civil Assistant to the Superintendent.

A supplementary memorandum from the Superintendent of Marine Surveys dated the 7th April 1875 on the vessels and establishments required for the Marine Survey Department.

A memorandum dated the 11th May 1875 from the Superintendent of Marine Surveys stating the duties proposed to be undertaken by the Department.

OBSERVATIONS.—Commander Taylor arrived in India on the 22nd December 1873, and prepared—

1st.—A careful and complete review of all existing charts or materials for charts (in India or in England) of the coast line from the Pakchan river at the southern extremity of Tenasserim to Sonmiani Bay on the western limit of the Sindh coast, as also of the islands in the Bay of Bengal, the Laccadives, and the Maldives.

2nd.—A scheme to supplement and perfect existing charts both by working up materials not yet utilised and by fresh surveys, arranging each project in the order of its importance, and fully detailing for each the method in and agency by which it was to be carried out, the time it would probably occupy, and its probable cost.

2. The whole subject having been fully considered, it was found that in many places the charts of the coasts were more or less defective, and that even where really good charts existed, they had become partially obsolete, owing to the absence of any authority whose duty it was to ascertain and record from time to time the changes effected by nature or by man.

3. The Government of India reported to Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India the results of the consideration which had been given to the subject, and accepted the responsibility of completing and maintaining the charts of the whole coast line of British India from the Pakchan Estuary to Sonmiani Bay, of the Andamans and Nicobars, the Mergui Archipelago, and the Laccadives,—leaving all surveys beyond those limits that might be required to be undertaken by the vessels and surveyors of Her Majesty's Navy at the expense of the Imperial Government. It was pointed out that to perform the work satisfactorily a special agency was required—

1st.—To undertake accurate surveys of localities not yet sufficiently surveyed.

2nd.—To turn to good account the results of those surveys and of other existing surveys the materials of which had not yet been fully utilised.

3rd.—To maintain the accuracy of Indian charts by recording and bringing to notice all changes, in the first instance, of buoys, lights, and the like, and secondly, of the natural configuration of the sea-bord consequent on natural causes.

4. As to the special agency, the following proposals were made:—

That with the view of executing gradually all the more pressing marine surveys and re-surveys, a small survey flotilla should be organised, efficiently manned, and provided with competent surveyors at a total annual cost, inclusive of the salary of a Superintendent of Marine Surveys and of all other charges, not exceeding two lakhs of rupees.

That to supervise the work of this flotilla both in surveying at sea and during part of the year plotting ashore, to superintend the reproduction by photozincography of the surveyors' charts, to maintain a correct record of buoys, lights, and the like, and to transmit to the Hydrographic Office of the Admiralty the earliest information of changes in the position of these, and for the general control of all the work of the Survey, the appointment of a Superintendent of Marine Surveys should be created,—Commander Taylor being nominated for the office.

RESOLUTION.

5. The Secretary of State for India in Council having, in his despatch of the 16th July 1874, No. 12 (Geographical), sanctioned the formation of a Marine Survey Department in accordance with the proposals of the Government of India (subsequently modified by a continuation of that despatch bearing date the 15th April 1875, No. 18), the Governor General in Council has been pleased to direct the issue of the following instructions for the conduct of the duties to be undertaken by the Department.

(a).—Systematic surveys of the coast of India will be carried on with suitable vessels, efficiently equipped and manned.

(b).—The Superintendent will act in concert with the Surveyor General of India, and arrange that the marine surveys shall be connected with the shore surveys,—being closed in on points already fixed by the Great Trigonometrical Survey.

(c).—A programme and estimate of the proposed yearly operations of the Department will be submitted to the Government of India for approval not later than the 1st July of each year. The approved programme will not be modified in any way without the previous sanction of the Government of India.

(d).—The original surveys of ports, harbours, and river entrances, when received in the office of the Superintendent, will, after approval by him, be photozincographed and issued as required for local navigation and engineering purposes.

(f).—Copies of all original surveys will be forwarded by the Superintendent to the Hydrographer to the Admiralty for publication on such scales and in such manner as the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty may determine. All corrections of surveys and other information connected with them, such as notices of all changes in the places of buoys, lights, and other marks or beacons, will be transmitted at once to the Hydrographer by the Superintendent.

(g).—The Superintendent is authorised to communicate with the Hydrographer direct upon all technical questions relating to the survey, and in such matters should work in concert with him, in order to obtain the advantage of his advice and experience. 11. It will be his duty to communicate with the Government of India in regard to the lighting and marking of the sea approaches to all great Indian ports and rivers. He will also suggest improvements which he may think desirable in harbour conservancy by means of buoys, beacons, and lights.

12. He will also report, as occasion may arise, on improvements required in the navigation of rivers throughout India which may come to his notice, either in the prosecution of the surveys or through local authorities.

13. The Superintendent will be responsible for the prompt and punctual supply to Local Governments and Administrations of the latest corrected charts containing all hydrographical information.

14. The Superintendent of Marine under the Government of Bombay and the Master Attendant, Bengal, will furnish to the Marine Survey Department extracts from log-books of the vessels of the Bengal and Bombay Marine bearing upon any discoveries, dangers, or errors in the charts of the Indian seas.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

Fort William, the 10th November 1875.

No. 20.—The following Statutes are published for general information:—

38 & 39 VICTORIA, CHAPTER 73.

An Act to amend the law relating to the appointment of certain persons who entered the employment of the Home Government of India before the 31st day of December 1874.

[11TH AUGUST 1875.]

Whereas by the sixteenth section of the Act of the twenty-first and twenty-second years of the reign of Her Majesty, chapter one hundred and six, it is provided that after the first formation of the permanent establishment of the Secretary of State for India in Council, the Order of Her Majesty in Council of the twenty-first day of May one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, or such other regulations as might be from time to time established by Her Majesty for examinations, certificates, probation, or other tests of fitness in relation to appointments to junior situations in the Civil Service, should apply to such appointments on the said establishment:

And whereas it appears that persons have been appointed to junior situations on the said establishment who ought in pursuance of the sixteenth section of the said Act, and the Order in Council and regulations therein referred to, to have obtained previous to their appointment certificates from the Civil Service Commissioners, but through inadvertence on the part of the Secretary of State in Council, and without any default of the persons so appointed, no steps were taken before their appointment to procure for them such certificates.

And whereas it is unjust that the persons so appointed should be deprived of any rewards or advantages which they were led to expect at the time when they entered the said establishment:

Be it therefore enacted &c.:—

Secretary of State for India may make orders as to persons appointed without certificate from Civil Service Commissioners.

1. The Secretary of State for India in Council may, if he thinks fit, at any time before the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, declare by order or warrant that any person who has been appointed to a junior situation on the said establishment without a certificate from the Civil Service Commissioners, after the first formation of the said establishment and before the thirty-first day of December one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, was so appointed through inadvertence on the part of the Secretary of State for India in Council, and without any default on the part of the person so appointed, and that such person has been found thoroughly capable and efficient in the discharge of his duties; and every person with respect to whom such order or warrant may be issued shall be in the same position as regards his claim to all salaries, superannuation allowances, or gratuities, emoluments, or advantages whatsoever, as he would have been in if he had obtained previous to his appointment a certificate from the Civil Service Commissioners.

Order to be laid before Parliament.

Any order or warrant made in pursuance of this Act shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament within fourteen days after the meeting thereof if Parliament be sitting, and if Parliament be not sitting, then within fourteen days after the next meeting thereof.

The Secretary of State for India in Council shall cause to be laid before Parliament, not later than the expiration of one month after the commencement of the session in Parliament in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, a return showing the names of all persons with respect to whom any order or warrant has been issued in pursuance of this section, together with the situations to which they have been appointed.

38 & 39 VICTORIA, CHAPTER 88.

An Act to make provision for giving further powers to the Board of Trade for stopping unseaworthy Ships.

[13TH AUGUST 1875.]

Be it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

Appointment and powers of officers having authority to detain unseaworthy ships.

1. The Board of Trade may forthwith and from time to time by special order appoint a sufficient number of fit and proper persons, from their own staff or otherwise, to be officers having authority to detain unseaworthy ships, and may from time to time revoke any such appointment.

If any officer so appointed has reason to believe upon inspection or otherwise that any British ship is by reason of the defective condition of her hull, equipments, or machinery, or by reason of overloading or improper loading, unfit to proceed to sea without serious danger to human life, he may order that the ship be detained for the purpose of being surveyed.

Any such order shall have the same effect as if it were an order of the Board of Trade under section twelve of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1873.

For the purpose of ascertaining whether a British ship is fit to proceed to sea, any officer so appointed may go on board the ship and inspect the same, or any part thereof, or any of the machinery, boats, equipments, or other articles on board thereof, not unnecessarily detaining or delaying her from proceeding on her voyage; and any person who wilfully impedes him in the execution of his duty shall be liable to the same penalties, and may be dealt with in the same manner, as if the officer were an inspector appointed by the Board of Trade under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854.

When any officer so appointed orders a ship to be detained, he shall forthwith report his proceedings to the Board of Trade.

An officer so appointed shall receive such remuneration for his services under this Act as the Treasury from time to time direct, and such remuneration shall be paid out of moneys to be provided by Parliament.

Ship to be detained on complaint of crew.

2. Whenever a complaint is made to the Board of Trade or to any officer so appointed by one-fourth of the seamen belonging to any British ship, that the ship is by reason of the defective condition of her hull, equipments, or machine or by reason of overloading or improper loading, unfit to proceed to sea without serious danger to human life, it shall be the duty of the Board or officer, as the case may be, if the complaint is made within time sufficient for that purpose before the sailing of the ship, without requiring any security for the payment of costs and expenses, to take proper steps for ascertaining whether the ship ought to be detained for the purpose of being surveyed under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1873.

Cargo of grain, &c.

3. From and after the first day of October one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, no cargo of which more than one-third consists of any kind of grain, corn, rice, paddy, pulse, seeds, nuts, or nut kernels, shall be carried on board any British ship, unless such grain, corn, rice, paddy, pulse, seeds, nuts, or nut kernels be contained in bags, sacks, or barrels, or secured from shifting by boards, bulkheads, or otherwise. This section shall not apply to any grain shipped previous to the first October one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five.

The master of any British ship who shall knowingly allow any cargo or part of a cargo to be shipped therein for carriage contrary to the provisions of this section shall for every such offence incur a penalty not exceeding two hundred pounds.

Penalties on sending unseaworthy ships to sea.

4. Section eleven of "The Merchant Shipping Act, 1871," shall be repealed, and in lieu thereof it shall be enacted:—

(2.) Every person who attempts or is party to any attempt to send to sea any ship in such unseaworthy state that the life of any person would be likely to be thereby endangered, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, unless he give such proof as aforesaid, and for the purpose of giving such proof such person may give evidence as aforesaid:

(4.) The owner of every British ship shall from time to time register at the custom-house of the port in the United Kingdom at which such ship is registered the name of the managing owner of such ship, and if there be no managing owner, then of the person to whom the management of the ship is entrusted by and on behalf of the owner; and in case the owner fail or neglect to register the name of such managing owner or manager as aforesaid, he shall be liable, or if there be more owners than one, each owner shall be liable, in proportion to his interest in the ship, to a penalty not exceeding in the whole five hundred pounds each time that the said ship leaves any port in the United Kingdom, after the first day of November one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, without the name being duly registered as aforesaid:

5. Every British ship registered on or after the first day of November one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five shall before registry, and every British ship registered before that day, shall, on or before that day, be permanently and conspicuously marked with lines of not less than twelve inches in length and one inch in breadth, painted longitudinally on each side amidships, or as near thereto as is practicable, and indicating the position of each deck which is above water.

The upper edge of each of these lines shall be level with the upper side of the deck plank next the waterway at the place of marking.

(2.) The centre of this disc shall indicate the maximum load-line in salt water to which the owner intends to load the ship for that voyage.

SEPARATE REVENUE.—POST OFFICE.

The 12th November 1875.

No. 2377.—Notice is hereby given that parcels posted in India for transmission to the United Kingdom by the Overland Parcel Post, must not exceed £50 in value. Any parcel which on examination of the declaration at Bombay may be found to exceed this value will, instead of being forwarded by the Overland Parcel Post, be transferred to the Bombay Agency of the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company for transmission independently of the Post Office, and subject to such regulations and charges on delivery as may be applicable thereto under the Company's regulations.

(NOTE.—The Company's present charge is an ad valorem rate of 2 per cent., which does not include Marine or other Insurance.)

The following detailed rules respecting the exchange of parcels with the United Kingdom and the foreign countries mentioned are to be substituted for the regulations given at pages 53 to 55 of the Indian Postal Guide for 1875:—

Overland Parcel Post.

(1).—Parcels are received at any Post Office in India under the conditions and rates of charge mentioned below for transmission to the following countries, viz.:—

COUNTRY.	Rate of charge per lb. or fraction thereof. Pre-payment compulsory.	Remarks respecting special conditions, &c., applicable to particular Countries.
	Annas.
United Kingdom ...	8	The prepayment carries the parcel as far as London, any additional charge which may become due on account of British custom duty or carriage beyond London being realised from the addressee. The attention of the public is invited to the fact that the British Post Office has no connection with the Overland Parcel Post; all arrangements out of India are made by the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company, and enquiries proceeding from the United Kingdom should be addressed to that Company's Office, 122, Leadenhall Street, London, E. C. The British Post Office, however, has consented to exhibit in every Post Office of the United Kingdom a notice containing information on the subject of the Indian Parcel Post. Parcels must not exceed £50 in value. Any parcel which on examination of the declaration at Bombay may be found to exceed this value will, instead of being forwarded by the Overland Parcel Post, be transferred to the Bombay Agency of the P. & O. S. N. Company for transmission independently of the Post Office, and subject to such regulations and charges on delivery as may be applicable thereto under the Company's regulations. (NOTE.—The Company's present charge is an ad valorem rate of 2 per cent., which does not include Marine or other Insurance.)
Germany ...	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to destination. Should any custom duty become due, the amount will be charged on delivery. See also Rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.
Denmark ...	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to the limit of German conveyance, a separate charge being made on delivery for conveyance beyond the German frontier, as well as for custom duty, should any become due. See also Rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.
Sweden ... Norway ... Switzerland ...	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to the limit of German conveyance, a separate charge being made on delivery for conveyance beyond the German frontier, as well as for custom duty, should any become due. From Rule 3 it will be seen that there must be also a second or duplicate declaration of contents and value. See also Rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.
France ... The Netherlands (Holland). Belgium ...	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to the limit of German conveyance, a separate charge being made on delivery for conveyance beyond the German frontier, as well as for custom duty, should any become due. From Rule 3 it will be seen that there must be also a second or duplicate declaration of contents and value, and that the second or duplicate declaration should contain a statement of the weight (lbs. and ozs. or bolas) of the contents, and should, if possible, be written in the French language. See also Rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.

(2).—Every parcel should be securely packed in a closed cover or case, and should bear the name and address of the person in the United Kingdom or foreign country for whom it is intended.

N. B.—The public are specially warned against the use of flimsy covers for articles transmitted by the Parcel Post. Heavy articles are sometimes sent with only paper covering insecurely tied with string: friction in transit detaches this cover, and damage and loss ensue. A covering of stout cloth or wax cloth, sewn at the edges, is recommended; but if the contents are liable to suffer from pressure, boxes of wood or tin should be used.

(3).—Every parcel should be accompanied by a separate paper headed with the address of the parcel and containing a declaration of its contents and value under the signature of the sender. Below the signature the address of the sender should be given.

For the parcels addressed to—

The United Kingdom ...	Only one declaration as above described is required.
Germany
Denmark
Sweden	A second or duplicate declaration is also required.
Norway
Switzerland
France	A second or duplicate declaration is also required, and the sender is requested to enter in the declaration a statement of the weight (lbs. and ozs. or tolas) of the contents, and to write the second or duplicate declaration, if possible, in the French language. Should he be unable to do so, the Bombay Post Office will attach to the second or duplicate English declaration a French rendering thereof, but the sender is warned of the delay which may result from this.
The Netherlands (Holland)
Belgium

It is not deemed necessary to require exact adherence to any particular form of declaration, but the following specimen form may be useful to the senders of parcels:—

Specimen form of declaration.

Address of Parcel.
THOMAS B. SMITH,

LONDON.

CONTENTS—

	Value. £	s.	d.

I declare the above to be a true statement of the contents and value.

(Sd.) A. R. ROBINSON,
Amritsar.

N. B.—Declarations for parcels intended for France, the Netherlands or Belgium should, in addition to the above, contain a statement of the weight (lbs. and ozs. or tolas) of the contents.

(4).—The parcel so addressed and the separate paper or papers above referred to should then be enclosed in a substantial outer cover. This outer cover should be superscribed and addressed as follows:—

Overland Parcel Post.

To The Post Master, Bombay.

(5).—The parcel so made up must be fully prepaid by means of postage stamps at the rate of 8 annas per lb. (40 tolas) or fraction of a lb., care being taken that the stamps adhere firmly to the cover.

(6).—The parcel so made up must not exceed 50lbs. (25 seers) in weight, or 2 feet in length by 1 foot in breadth or depth. It will be received at any Post Office at the hours fixed for the receipt of ordinary banghy parcels, the usual receipt being given to the sender without reference to the mode of packing prescribed in the case of inland parcels for which receipts are claimed.

(7).—On arrival at Bombay the Post Master will take off the outer covering, and forward the inside parcel and the accompanying declaration or declarations to the country of inside address.

(8).—It is forbidden to send in these parcels opium or any liquid or any substance or material of a dangerous, damaging, or offensive kind.

(9).—In the case of parcels for or from Germany and the foreign countries served through Germany, compensation will be given by the responsible Post Office to the sender for loss or damage sustained in transit (cases of sea risk or of vis major or of the own negligence of the sender in respect of packing or otherwise excepted). Such compensation will in no case exceed 1½ rupee for each lb. weight or fraction thereof in respect of parcels forwarded from India, and 3 marks for each 500 grammes or fraction thereof in respect of parcels from Germany. Should the sender desire it, the compensation will be paid to the addressee instead of to himself.

R. B. CHAPMAN,
Secretary to the Govt. of India.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE, AGRICULTURE AND COMMERCE.

NOTIFICATIONS.—CUSTOMS AND SALT.

Nos. 379-381.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Department of Revenue, Agriculture, and Commerce, dated Calcutta, the 18th November 1875.

READ—

Despatch from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 8 (Separate Revenue), dated the 29th July 1875, desiring an enquiry into the merits of the existing system by which the salt revenue is raised in the Madras Presidency under a Government monopoly and the expediency or otherwise of replacing it by altered arrangements, together with other correspondence on the subject.

OBSERVATIONS.

HIS EXCELLENCY the Governor General in Council observes that the question of substituting an excise for the existing monopoly system has already been disposed of as regards the two western districts of Madras. As regards the expediency of effecting a similar change of system in the rest of that presidency, the information available is too imperfect to permit as yet of any definite conclusion being arrived at.

2. Looking to the serious importance of the whole subject, economically, fiscally and socially, His Excellency has decided, after communication with the Government of Madras and with their cordial concurrence, to appoint a Commission to investigate and report thereon. Accordingly, His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to nominate the gentlemen noted on the margin to be a Commission for this purpose.

President.
C. Pritchard, Esq., Commissioner of Customs, Bombay.
Members.
J. Geoghegan, Esq., Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Bengal.
H. E. Stokes, Esq., Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Madras.
R. M. Adams, Esq., Deputy Commissioner, Inland Customs Service.
Venkasawmy Row, Deputy Collector, Madras.
Secretary.
H. A. Willock, Esq., Acting Senior Assistant, Vizagapatam.

3. The following questions, among others, will more specially engage the attention of the Commission:—

I.—What is the quality and composition of the salt produced at the various works and sold by Government wholesale and by the dealers retail in different parts of the presidency?

II.—Are there any grounds for supposing that the people would prefer, or appreciate, a better quality of salt than that now supplied to them? Is it anywhere the practice to re-dissolve and evaporate the Government salt in view to obtaining a purer article for consumption? Is it anywhere the practice for the wholesale purchasers of and dealers in Government salt to adulterate it before allowing it to pass into the consumer's hands? Upon this subject it will be interesting to ascertain if any Bombay salt has been introduced into the Presidency of Madras by land since the opening of the railway.

III.—What is the actual cost to Government of the monopoly salt, including under cost all expenditure or loss, actual or constructive, on account of or connected with the salt, that would be avoidable were the entire salt supply furnished under a self-supporting* system of excise, or imported by sea, made to pay duty before leaving bond and left thereafter free from interference?

* i. e., a system under which the licensed manufacturer defrays all expenditure which Government incurs to secure itself against any violation or evasion by the manufacturer or his servants of the excise law and rules.

IV.—What is the actual retail selling price of monopoly salt (adulterated or not, as the case may be) in town and village bazaars in different portions of the presidency; and if in any locality this very materially exceeds the Government monopoly price, what are the items that compose the excess? The Commission should collect information regarding the distribution of the salt, the cost of carriage to different parts of the Presidency, and the amount of such salt which is exported to other parts of British India and to Native States; and give their opinion as to the average annual consumption of salt per head in the Madras Presidency.

V.—Is the system under which Government now obtains its salt in any respect needlessly costly? What is the average percentage of wastage—first, between the time of manufacture and the taking over the salt by Government, and second, between this latter and the final sale by Government?

VI.—What is the extent and value for purposes other than salt manufacture of the whole of the land in the presidency now occupied by open salt works?

VII.—Are there any, and if so what, practical difficulties attendant on substituting a system of excise for the present monopoly?

VIII.—What would be the probable result—first, as regards the cost to the consumer, second, as regards the net revenue to Government—of substituting an excise for the present monopoly?

IX.—The Commission will also examine and report on the cost o manufacturing salt in Pooree and other salt works in Orissa which border upon the Madras Presidency.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Governments of Madras, Bombay and Bengal, for information and guidance, and that this Resolution be published for general information.

9. HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS was received on landing by His Excellency the Governor of Bombay, the Chief Justice, His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the Roman Catholic Bishop, the Members of Council, the Judges of the High Court of Judicature at Bombay, the Additional Members of Council, the Commissioner in Sind, the Commissioner of Customs and Opium, the Revenue Commissioners, the Secretaries and Under-Secretaries to Government, the Chairman of the Corporation of Bombay, the Chairman of the Bench of Justices, the Municipal Commissioner, and the Sheriff of Bombay.

10. The Native Princes, Chiefs and Sirdars, assembled in Bombay in honor of HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS, attended on the occasion.

11. Immediately after landing at the Dockyard, HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS THE PRINCE OF WALES received from the Municipal Corporation of the City of Bombay the following address :—

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS,—We, the Chairman and Members of the Municipal Corporation of Bombay, esteem it a high privilege to be allowed, in the name of the Corporation and of all the inhabitants of this city, to greet your ROYAL HIGHNESS, at your landing on the shore of India, with an address of loyal welcome. We rejoice that your ROYAL HIGHNESS should have selected Bombay as the starting point of your Indian travels; for this city is in itself perhaps the most striking example India can present of the beneficial results that may be produced by the impact of western civilization on oriental character and institutions, and of the success that may attend earnest and judicious efforts to reconcile all the various races of this country to British rule.

Bombay may lay claim to the distinction of being a Royal City, for this Island first became an appanage of the Crown of England through forming part of the dowry of Charles the Second's Portuguese bride; and during the two centuries that have since elapsed, Bombay has had every reason to be grateful for this fortunate change in her destiny. From a barren rock, whose only wealth consisted in cocoanuts and dried fish, whose scanty population of 10,000 souls paid a total revenue to the State of not more than £6,000 a year, whose trade was of less value than that of Tanna and Bassein, and whose climate was so deadly to Europeans that two monsoons were said to be the life of a man, she has blossomed into a fair and wholesome city, with a population which makes her rank next to London among the cities of the British Empire, with a municipal revenue amounting to £300,000 a year, and with a foreign commerce worth forty-five millions and yielding in customs duties to the Imperial Treasury three millions a year. All this material prosperity she owes to the strong and wise Government which has secured her in the enjoyment of peace and order, of equality before the law, of religious liberty, and of freedom of trade, and has thus given confidence to men of all races and creeds—Europeans, Indo-Portuguese, Hindoos, Mahomedans, Parsees, and Jews—to pursue their various callings under the shadow of the British flag.

We gladly, therefore, seize the occasion of your ROYAL HIGHNESS' presence amongst us to record our sense of the blessings of British rule, and to assure your ROYAL HIGHNESS of our devotion to that Throne which has become the enduring symbol of concord, liberty, prosperity, and progress to all the multitude of nations that own the benign sway of QUEEN VICTORIA. We beg that your ROYAL HIGHNESS will convey to Her most Gracious Majesty the expression of our loyal sentiments, and of our gratification that Her Majesty has sent the Heir to the Crown amongst us to become personally acquainted with the people of India.

We regret that YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS' consort, the PRINCESS OF WALES, so much and so deservedly beloved by the English people, has not been able to accompany YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS on this journey, to learn for herself in what honor her name is held in India. We pray that the God of all nations may watch over YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS, and bring your happy design of visiting India, of which we to-day witness the auspicious commencement, to as happy a conclusion, so that it may be blest with good fruit hereafter in the strengthening of the ties of mutual interest, esteem, and good-will, which already bind the Imperial States of Great Britain to its greatest dependency.

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS replied as follows :—"I thank you most sincerely for your kind address, and I shall not fail to communicate to Her Majesty the Queen my sense of the loyalty to her Crown and person which is expressed, not only in your dutiful expressions of welcome, but in all I see around me on first landing in your beautiful Island. It is a great pleasure to me to begin my travels in India at a place so long associated with the Royal Family of England, and to find that during so many generations of British rule this great port has steadily prospered. Your natural advantages would have ensured a large amount of commerce under any strong Government, but in your various and industrious population I gladly recognise the traces of a rule which gives shelter to all who obey the laws, which recognises no invidious distinctions of race, which affords to all perfect liberty in matters of religious opinion and belief, and freedom in the permit of trade and of all lawful callings. I note with satisfaction the assurance I derive from your address that under British rule men of varied creeds and nations live in harmony among themselves, and develope to the utmost those energies which they inherit from widely separate families of mankind, whilst all join in loyal attachment to the British Crown and take their share, as in my native country, in the management of their own local affairs. I shall gladly communicate to Her Majesty what you so loyally and kindly say regarding the pleasure which the people of India derive from Her Majesty's gracious permission to me to visit this part of Her Majesty's Empire. I assure you that the PRINCESS OF WALES has never ceased to share my regret that she was unable to accompany me. She has from her very earliest years taken the most lively interest in this great country, and the cordiality of your greeting this day will make her yet more regret the impossibility of her sharing in person the pleasure your welcome afforded me. Gentlemen, I heartily thank you for your good wishes for my health and for a prosperous return from my journey. I fervently trust that the same good Providence which has prospered the rule of the British nation in India heretofore may yet further bless our efforts for the peace and good government of all parts of Her Majesty's dominion."

12. After HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS had replied to the address of the Municipal Corporation of the City of Bombay, the Principal Native Chiefs assembled in the Dockyard were presented to him by HIS EXCELLENCY THE VICEROY AND GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

13. The Procession described below was then formed in the Dockyard, and proceeded thence to Government House, Parel.

ARTHUR HOWELL,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of India.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE, AGRICULTURE AND COMMERCE.

NOTIFICATIONS.—CUSTOMS AND SALT.

Nos. 379-381.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Department of Revenue, Agriculture and Commerce, dated Calcutta, the 18th November 1875.

READ—

Despatch from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 8 (Separate Revenue), dated the 29th July 1875, desiring an enquiry into the merits of the existing system by which the salt revenue is raised in the Madras Presidency under a Government monopoly and the expediency or otherwise of replacing it by altered arrangements, together with other correspondence on the subject.

OBSERVATIONS.

HIS HONOUR the President in Council observes that the question of substituting an excise for the existing monopoly system has already been disposed of as regards the two western districts of Madras. As regards the expediency of effecting a similar change of system in the rest of that presidency, the information available is too imperfect to permit as yet of any definite conclusion being arrived at.

2. Looking to the serious importance of the whole subject, economically, fiscally and socially, His Honour has decided, after communication with the Government of Madras and with their cordial concurrence, to appoint a Commission to investigate and report thereon. Accordingly, His Honour the President in Council is pleased to nominate the gentlemen noted on the margin to be a Commission for this purpose.

President.
C. Pritchard, Esq., Commissioner of Customs, Bombay.
Members.
J. Geoghegan, Esq., Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Bengal.
H. E. Stokes, Esq., Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Madras.
R. M. Adam, Esq., Deputy Commissioner, Inland Customs Service.
Venkasawmy Row, 1st Assistant, Revenue Secretariat, Madras.
Secretary.
H. A. Willock, Esq., Acting Senior Assistant, Vizagapatam.

3. The following questions, among others, will more specially engage the attention of the Commission :—

I.—What is the quality and composition of the salt produced at the various works and sold by Government wholesale and by the dealers retail in different parts of the presidency?

II.—Are there any grounds for supposing that the people would prefer, or appreciate, a better quality of salt than that now supplied to them? Is it anywhere the practice to re-dissolve and evaporate the Government salt in view to obtaining a purer article for consumption? Is it anywhere the practice for the wholesale purchasers of and dealers in Government salt to adulterate it before allowing it to pass into the consumer's hands? Upon this subject it will be interesting to ascertain if any Bombay salt has been introduced into the Presidency of Madras by land since the opening of the railway.

III.—What is the actual cost to Government of the monopoly salt, including under cost all expenditure or loss, actual or constructive, on account of or connected with the salt, that would be avoidable were the entire salt supply furnished under a self-supporting* system of excise, or imported by sea, made to pay duty before leaving bond and left thereafter free from interference?

* i. e., a system under which the licensed manufacturer defrays all expenditure which Government incurs to secure itself against any violation or evasion by the manufacturer or his servants of the excise law and rules.

IV.—What is the actual retail selling price of monopoly salt (adulterated or not, as the case may be) in town and village bazaars in different portions of the presidency; and if in any locality this very materially exceeds the Government monopoly price, what are the items that compose the excess? The Commission should collect information regarding the distribution of the salt, the cost of carriage to different parts of the Presidency, and the amount of such salt which is exported to other parts of British India and to Native States; and give their opinion as to the average annual consumption of salt per head in the Madras Presidency.

V.—Is the system under which Government now obtains its salt in any respect needlessly costly? What is the average percentage of wastage—first, between the time of manufacture and the taking over the salt by Government, and second, between this latter and the final sale by Government?

VI.—What is the extent and value for purposes other than salt manufacture of the whole of the land in the presidency now occupied by open salt works?

VII.—Are there any, and if so what, practical difficulties attendant on substituting a system of excise for the present monopoly?

VIII.—What would be the probable result—first, as regards the cost to the consumer, second, as regards the net revenue to Government—of substituting an excise for the present monopoly?

IX.—The Commission will also examine and report on the cost of manufacturing salt in Pooree and other salt works in Orissa which border upon the Madras Presidency.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Governments of Madras, Bombay and Bengal, for information and guidance, and that this Resolution be published for general information.

SURVEYS.

No. 831.—Mr. H. E. Gastrell, Assistant Superintendent of Revenue Survey, 2nd Grade, is granted leave to Europe on medical certificate for one year, under Sections 3 and 10, Supplement F, of the Civil Leave Code.

9. HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS was received on landing by His Excellency the Governor of Bombay, the Chief Justice, His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the Roman Catholic Bishop, the Members of Council, the Judges of the High Court of Judicature at Bombay, the Additional Members of Council, the Commissioner in Sind, the Commissioner of Customs and Opium, the Revenue Commissioners, the Secretaries and Under-Secretaries to Government, the Chairman of the Corporation of Bombay, the Chairman of the Bench of Justices, the Municipal Commissioner, and the Sheriff of Bombay.

10. The Native Princes, Chiefs and Sirdars, assembled in Bombay in honor of HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS, attended on the occasion.

11. Immediately after landing at the Dockyard, HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS THE PRINCE OF WALES received from the Municipal Corporation of the City of Bombay the following address :—

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS,—We, the Chairman and Members of the Municipal Corporation of Bombay, esteem it a high privilege to be allowed, in the name of the Corporation and of all the inhabitants of this city, to greet your ROYAL HIGHNESS, at your landing on the shore of India, with an address of loyal welcome. We rejoice that your ROYAL HIGHNESS should have selected Bombay as the starting point of your Indian travels; for this city is in itself perhaps the most striking example India can present of the beneficial results that may be produced by the impact of western civilization on oriental character and institutions, and of the success that may attend earnest and judicious efforts to reconcile all the various races of this country to British rule.

Bombay may lay claim to the distinction of being a Royal City, for this Island first became an appanage of the Crown of England through forming part of the dowry of Charles the Second's Portuguese bride; and during the two centuries that have since elapsed, Bombay has had every reason to be grateful for this fortunate change in her destiny. From a barren rock, whose only wealth consisted in cocoanuts and dried fish, whose scanty population of 10,000 souls paid a total revenue to the State of not more than £6,000 a year, whose trade was of less value than that of Tanna and Bassein, and whose climate was so deadly to Europeans that two monsoons were said to be the life of a man, she has blossomed into a fair and wholesome city, with a population which makes her rank next to London among the cities of the British Empire, with a municipal revenue amounting to £300,000 a year, and with a foreign commerce worth forty-five millions and yielding in customs duties to the Imperial Treasury three millions a year. All this material prosperity she owes to the strong and wise Government which has secured her in the enjoyment of peace and order, of equality before the law, of religious liberty, and of freedom of trade, and has thus given confidence to men of all races and creeds—Europeans, Indo-Portuguese, Hindoos, Mahomedans, Parsees, and Jews—to pursue their various callings under the shadow of the British flag.

We gladly, therefore, seize the occasion of your ROYAL HIGHNESS' presence amongst us to record our sense of the blessings of British rule, and to assure your ROYAL HIGHNESS of our devotion to that Throne which has become the enduring symbol of concord, liberty, prosperity, and progress to all the multitude of nations that own the benign sway of QUEEN VICTORIA. We beg that your ROYAL HIGHNESS will convey to Her most Gracious Majesty the expression of our loyal sentiments, and of our gratification that Her Majesty has sent the Heir to the Crown amongst us to become personally acquainted with the people of India.

We regret that YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS' consort, the PRINCESS OF WALES, so much and so deservedly beloved by the English people, has not been able to accompany YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS on this journey, to learn for herself in what honor her name is held in India. We pray that the God of all nations may watch over YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS, and bring your happy design of visiting India, of which we to-day witness the auspicious commencement, to as happy a conclusion, so that it may be blest with good fruit hereafter in the strengthening of the ties of mutual interest, esteem, and good-will, which already bind the Imperial States of Great Britain to its greatest dependency.

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS replied as follows :—"I thank you most sincerely for your kind address, and I shall not fail to communicate to Her Majesty the Queen my sense of the loyalty to her Crown and person which is expressed, not only in your dutiful expressions of welcome, but in all I see around me on first landing in your beautiful Island. It is a great pleasure to me to begin my travels in India at a place so long associated with the Royal Family of England, and to find that during so many generations of British rule this great port has steadily prospered. Your natural advantages would have ensured a large amount of commerce under any strong Government, but in your various and industrious population I gladly recognise the traces of a rule which gives shelter to all who obey the laws, which recognises no invidious distinctions of race, which affords to all perfect liberty in matters of religious opinion and belief, and freedom in the permit of trade and of all lawful callings. I note with satisfaction the assurance I derive from your address that under British rule men of varied creeds and nations live in harmony among themselves, and develope to the utmost those energies which they inherit from widely separate families of mankind, whilst all join in loyal attachment to the British Crown and take their share, as in my native country, in the management of their own local affairs. I shall gladly communicate to Her Majesty what you so loyally and kindly say regarding the pleasure which the people of India derive from Her Majesty's gracious permission to me to visit this part of Her Majesty's Empire. I assure you that the PRINCESS OF WALES has never ceased to share my regret that she was unable to accompany me. She has from her very earliest years taken the most lively interest in this great country, and the cordiality of your greeting this day will make her yet more regret the impossibility of her sharing in person the pleasure your welcome afforded me. Gentlemen, I heartily thank you for your good wishes for my health and for a prosperous return from my journey. I fervently trust that the same good Providence which has prospered the rule of the British nation in India heretofore may yet further bless our efforts for the peace and good government of all parts of Her Majesty's dominion."

12. After HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS had replied to the address of the Municipal Corporation of the City of Bombay, the Principal Native Chiefs assembled in the Dockyard were presented to him by HIS EXCELLENCY THE VICEROY AND GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

13. The Procession described below was then formed in the Dockyard, and proceeded thence to Government House, Parell.

For other ranks one pony and one grass-cutter will be reckoned for every two horses, the pay of the grass-cutter being fixed, for the purposes of this calculation only, at Rs. 6-8 per mensem.

3. When grass is not procurable and its purchase consequently becomes unavoidably necessary, the price of the grass so purchased (15 seers per horse and 8 seers per pony) will be added to the cost of the grain for horse and pony and of the grass-cutter's wages, the whole being charged as the cost of the keep of the horse in calculating the amount to be drawn as compensation.

4. At stations where grass lands are rented or irrigated, the sum total expended annually on this account should be divided into twelve parts, one-twelfth part being included monthly in calculating compensation for dearness of forage for the Regiment or Detachment. But no grass lands are to be rented without the previous sanction of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, and of the Government of India.

5. Charges for the purchase of grass will not be admitted without the clearest proof that its purchase was absolutely necessary, and such charges must be supported by a certificate from the Officer Commanding the Station and the Civil authorities explaining why the regimental grass-cutters are unable to procure grass. On the line of march this certificate will be signed by the Officer Commanding the Regiment and the Civil Officer of the district through which the Regiment may be marching.

No. 3181*P.*—At Dhar, on Monday the 15th November, the following address was presented in Durbar to His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General by His Highness the Raja of Dhar :—

To His Excellency Lord Northbrook, G. M. S. I., the Viceroy and Governor General of India.

MY LORD,—When I say I welcome Your Lordship most cordially and respectfully in my territory, I can scarcely be said to have done justice to my feelings; for it is very hard to express adequately the profound joy and the deep feelings of gratitude with which I am filled by Your Lordship's advent in this part of Central India. No Viceroy did ever come to this territory,—territory which, I am proud to say, possesses considerable interest and attraction for an antiquarian. I, therefore, beg to say that Your Lordship has conferred a very high honor on me and my family by thus kindly paying a visit to this quarter of Malwa.

Dhar, which, in times of yore when Vikramaditya ruled, was at the helm of the whole Indian Empire, or which in the time of Raja Bhoja was the very centre of Indian literature, dwindled almost into nonentity in the succeeding ages of rapine and plunder. Dear is the name of Sir John Malcolm to every Raja, nay, to every heart in Malwa. He it was who restored order and tranquillity in the heart of India; and it is to him that Dhar is specially indebted for its very being and stability.

I and my family owe a great debt of gratitude to that blessed Crown which you, my Lord, represent in this country. I am fully aware of the immense good which India has received from that nation in whose hands her destinies have been kindly placed by Providence. I really admire the justice, the benevolence, and the nobleness of mind that mark the British administration in India.

England and India! Though they are physically situated far off from each other, steam and iron, which in modern times almost annihilate distance, draw them side by side. They are brought still closer by mutual sympathy and unity of interest. Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen, who holds her sceptre in the far West, is, nevertheless, near to the hearts of all the Indian Princes and Indian population. The noble principles of administration carried into effect with equal ability by statesmen like Your Lordship, are the adamantine foundation on which this love for the sovereign stands secure, and will know no abatement. My friend, Sir Henry Daly, has been doing his best to accomplish this end with respect to the Princes in Central India, and has succeeded marvellously well. Colonel Kincaid, with whom I am immediately concerned, has spared no exertions in this direction. And therefore, after paying a tribute of gratitude to Your Lordship, my thanks are due to both of these gentlemen.

My Lord, Your Excellency's visits to the Rajas and Princes of India have their own moral and political advantages. We see in free communication with us the Representative of that Paramount Power, to which the whole of India owes its peace, the sure pioneer of her now progressing prosperity. By these visits Your Lordship brings the Crown and protected Principalities into closer contact, impresses identity of interests and sympathies on the minds of the Princes and Chiefs, receives personally expressions of fidelity and allegiance to the sovereign power from them, and conveys to them, in return, assurances of protection and honorable independence.

I assure Your Excellency on the part of Dhar State that, in point of devotion and loyalty to Her Most Gracious Majesty, it will never be exceeded by any other State; and to the utmost extent of its limited capacity, it will never spare its efforts in promoting the diffusion of order, peace, and civilization.

Now, my Lord, I humbly beg Your Lordship to accept my most respectful and sincere thanks for the honor which Your Lordship has done to me and my house by this visit to Dhar and Mandoo, that has given me an opportunity of expressing my sentiments and feelings personally to Your Excellency; while I beg leave to express my hope that Your Lordship's Government, in the interest of all the Indians, may be long, prosperous and happy.

I remain, &c.,
ANNUND RAO POWAR,
Raja of Dhar.

DURBAR, DHAR,
The 15th November 1875.

In reply, His Excellency thanked the Raja for the address and the cordial reception which he had received at Dhar.

No. 3182 P.—On the arrival of His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General at Neemuch, on Saturday the 20th November, the following address was presented to His Excellency by the Municipal Commissioners, to whom His Excellency returned a suitable reply:—

To His Excellency the Right Hon'ble Lord Thomas George Baring, Baron Northbrook of Stratton, G. M. S. I., the Viceroy and Governor General of India.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR LORDSHIP,—We, the undersigned Native Sowcars and merchants of the Neemuch Cantonment, do hereby offer most humbly and submissively our hearty and most respectful welcome to your Excellency on arrival at this our Cantonment.

We esteem it a great happiness to welcome your Lordship here. The Representative of Her Most Gracious Majesty, Queen Victoria, Queen of Great Britain and Empress of India, under whose excellent rule we now lead prosperous and peaceful lives, and that too in the very place which was at one time the abode of violence and oppression.

Trade was then attended with much danger, but since the establishment of British rule, business has flourished and there has been easy and safe communication throughout the length and breadth of the district.

Able and energetic Officers rule over us with kindness and discretion. This also we owe to your Excellency's wise and judicious selections.

We therefore offer this our humble tribute of loyalty to our Empress Victoria, and to you, Her most worthy Representative. We will always pray for your Lordship's welfare and long life, and trust that your journey may be a prosperous one.

We beg respectfully to subscribe ourselves,
Your Lordship's
Most humble, obedient and faithful Subjects,

Banker and Govt. Treasurer, Neemuch.

4. A Government Pleader or Government Prosecutor is entitled to such leave of absence and allowances when on leave, and to such acting allowances, as the authority who appoints him may think fit to grant; provided that no expense be caused to the Government.

TELEGRAPH.

No. 508.

Fort William, the 7th December 1875.

Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India having decided that the provisions of the St. Petersburgh Convention shall be brought into effect for Foreign Telegrams to and from India on the 1st January 1876, the Hon'ble the President in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following Rules, which will come into effect on the date mentioned :—

Rules for Foreign Messages (from 1*st January* 1876).

GENERAL.

RULE 1.—Messages to Europe, Asia or Africa are accepted subject to the regulations of the International Telegraph Convention for the time being in force. Messages to America are accepted subject to the same conditions as far as regards their transit to the European termini of the cables.

International Telegraph Convention.

Foreign messages are accepted for transmission under these rules at all such Telegraph stations of the following Railway Companies at which no Government Telegraph Office exists :—

Great Indian Peninsula, East Indian, South Indian, Eastern Bengal, and the following stations of the Madras Railway—

Arconum, Cuddapa, Gooty, Raichoor, Jolarapet, Palghat, Beypore, Coimbatore, Salem.

RULE 2.—The Government of India accepts no responsibility whatsoever in respect of foreign telegrams.

ART. 3.

ACCEPTANCE OF MESSAGES.

RULE 3.—Foreign telegrams are classified as follows :—

(1*st*).—State messages; those which emanate from the Chief of the State, Ministers, Commanders-in-Chief of land or sea forces, and Diplomatic or Consular Agents of the contracting Governments; also the replies to these messages.

ART. 5. Classification of messages.

Messages from Consular Agents who are engaged in commerce are not considered as State messages, except when they are addressed to a Government official and relate to the Government service.

ART. XI.

(2*nd*).—Service messages; those which emanate from the Telegraph Departments of the contracting States, and which relate either to the service of the International Telegraphs or to objects of public interest determined upon by common accord by the said Departments.

(3*rd*).—Private messages.

RULE 4.—Messages may be sent in any one of the languages used in the territories of the States which are parties to the International Telegraph Convention, or in Latin.

ART. VI. In what languages messages may be sent.

RULE 5.—Messages in ordinary language must offer an intelligible sense in one of the above languages.

ART. VI. Ordinary messages.

RULE 6.—The following are considered as secret messages :—

ART. VII. Secret messages.

(1*st*).—Messages which contain passages of figures.

(2*nd*).—Messages which contain any series or groups of figures* of which the signification is not understood by the original sending station.

(3*rd*).—Messages containing passages written in words of preconcerted meaning (Code), incomprehensible to the offices in correspondence, or containing words not forming part of any of the languages mentioned in Rule 4.

* Groups of letters not forming words cannot be sent.

Messages in secret language (cipher) are liable to an extra charge for collation (see Rule 22). State messages and those in Code language are exceptions to this rule.

RULE 7.—State and Service messages may be sent in secret language without any reservation.

ART. 6. When secret messages may be accepted.

Private messages in secret language may be exchanged with countries which admit that mode of correspondence.

RULE 8.—The text of private cipher messages may be either entirely in cipher, or partly in cipher and partly in ordinary language; in the latter case the cipher portions must be placed between parenthesis; the cipher text must be composed exclusively of Arabic figures.

ART. VII. Cipher messages.

RULE 9.—Messages must be legibly written in characters which have their equivalent in the official Code of telegraph signals, and which are in use in the country where the message is presented.

ART. VIII. How messages must be written.

The body of the message must be preceded by the Address; which can be written in Code or abbreviated form; but in such case the delivery of the telegram is contingent on a previous arrangement between the Addressee and the Local Telegraph Office.

The signature can similarly be in Code or abbreviated form, or may be omitted. If inserted, it should be placed after the body of the message. If not inserted, the last word of the message replaces it.

The Sender of a private message can always be called upon to prove that the signature attached to it is genuine. He has, on his side, the power of including in his message the legalization of his signature.

ART. XIII. Legalization of signature.

Every interlineation, reference, erasure or addition of words must be authenticated by the Sender of the message or his representative.

ART. VIII.

RULE 10.—The Address must contain all the information necessary to insure the delivery of the message at its destination. Such information should be written either in French or in the language of the country to which the message is addressed.

ART. X. Address.

The Address of private messages should always be such that delivery can be effected without difficulty or the necessity of making enquiries.

For large towns it should comprise the name of the street and the number of the house, or, in default of these particulars, the profession of the Addressee, or some such information.

For small towns the name of the Addressee ought, if possible, to be accompanied by information sufficient to guide the Office of delivery in case of any alteration in the Addressee's name.

The name of the country in which the residence of the Addressee is situated is indispensable, unless it is a capital or important town, and even then if there are two places of importance of the same name in different countries. It is included in the number of words charged for.

Messages the addresses of which do not contain these particulars are nevertheless transmitted, but in all cases the Sender must bear the consequences of insufficiency of address.

The Address of a message to be conveyed beyond the telegraph lines is written as in the following example :—

M. Müller, Stiglitz, express (or post) Berlin, the name of the terminal telegraph station being always written last.

The Address of a message for a ship at sea should contain, in addition to the ordinary directions, the name or official number of the vessel and its nationality.

ART. LVIII.

RULE 11.—The Sender must write immediately before the address of his message any instructions he wishes to give relative to its delivery, acknowledgment, collation, prepaid reply, being caused "to follow," &c. Such instructions if written in abbreviated form, as under, will be counted each as one word :—

ART. VIII. Instructions as to delivery, &c.

Postage prepaid (poste payée) ...	PP.
Express charges prepaid (exprés payée) ...	XP.
Acknowledgment prepaid (accuser de reception)	OR.
Collation prepaid (telegramme collationné)	TC.
Reply prepaid (reponse payée) ...	RP.
To follow (Faire suivre)	FS.

ART. IX.

When such instructions are given in unabbreviated form, they should be written either in French or in the language of the country of destination. If that language be not understood in the office of origin, the Sender is bound to annex a translation for its guidance.

RULE 12.—The Sender can prescribe the route he wishes his message to follow by writing the same on the message form in the place provided for the purpose. The administrations are not bound to conform to printed instructions regarding the route.

ART. XXXVI. Route.

When the Sender prescribes the route to be followed, his wishes are complied with, unless the route indicated be interrupted, in which case no objection can be raised to the selection of an alternative route.

When no route is specified the message is sent by the least expensive one.

ART. XVIII.

RULE 13.—Any Sender can, on proving his identity, stop, if in time, the transmission of his message.

ART. XXXIX. Cancellation of message.

When the Sender withdraws or stops his message before transmission has been commenced, the charges are returned to him after deducting a fixed sum of 4 annas, the fee of the original sending Station; but if transmission has commenced, the Sender has a right to a refund only of the portion of the charge belonging to the distance not traversed.

If the message has been already transmitted, the Sender's only means of cancelling it is by a paid (Service) telegram addressed to the terminal Station.

The Sender must pay also for a reply if he desires to be informed by telegraph in what manner his request has been acted upon.

A Station which receives a message, requesting the suppression of another message, previously received, informs the Original sending Station by post in what manner the request has been acted upon, unless the Sender has prepaid a reply by telegraph.

DELIVERY OF MESSAGES.

RULE 14.—Messages may be addressed either to the place of residence of the Addressee, or poste restante or bureau restant (to wait arrival).

ART. XLI. How messages may be addressed.

Messages which have to be sent to their destination by post, or which are addressed poste restante, are immediately sent by the office of destination to the Post Office and treated as registered letters, without charge either to Sender or Addressee —(see Rule 36).

ART. XLI and LVII. Messages addressed to non-telegraph stations, or poste restante.

RULE 15.—A message taken to the place of residence of the Addressee may be delivered either to the Addressee, to the adult members of his family, to his employés, lodgers, or guests, or to the porter of the hotel or house in which he resides, unless the Addressee has designated in writing a special person to receive it, or the Sender has instructed that the message be delivered to the Addressee only. This last demand, if made, should be mentioned in the Address of the message, and is written on the envelope by the Station of delivery.

ART. XLII. To whom message may be delivered.

When a message is addressed bureau restant (to wait arrival), it is delivered only to the Addressee himself or to a person duly appointed by him.

Message addressed bureau restant.

RULE 16.—When the message cannot be delivered, the terminal Station, if it supposes that the address is insufficient or that it has been altered in transmission, intimates the fact by a Service telegram to the Station of origin, which verifies the correctness of the Address, and immediately rectifies any error. If, however, the Address be in Code, or abbreviated form, no advice of non-delivery is sent.

ART. XLII. Procedure when the message cannot be delivered.

RULE 17.—If, in consequence of inaccuracy or insufficiency of Address, or the absence or refusal of the Addressee, the expenses of a special messenger are not paid on arrival, the costs incurred are specified in the advice of non-delivery or refusal and ARE RECOVERABLE FROM THE SENDER.

ART. XLII. Cost of express not paid by Receiver recoverable from Sender.

CONTROL.

RULE 18.—The Government of India reserves to itself the right of stopping any private message which may appear dangerous to the security of the State, or which may be contrary to the laws of the country, to public order or decency; and any intermediate Administration may stop the transmission of such a message on condition of immediately advising the Administration to which the original sending Station belongs.

ART. 7. Objectionable messages.

ART. XL.

This control is exercised by the terminal or intermediate offices subject to recourse to the central Administration, which decides without appeal.

RECORDS.

RULE 19.—The originals and copies of messages, and the slips containing the signals or similar papers, are preserved for a period of eighteen months after date with all necessary precautions to ensure their secrecy.

ART. LXV. Message drafts how long kept.

RULE 20.—The originals or copies of messages can only be communicated to the Sender or to the Addressee after proving his identity, or to the authorized attorney of either.

ART. LXVI. Copies of messages.

The Sender and Addressee, or the authorized attorney of either, have a right to be furnished with certified true copies of the messages sent or received by them. This right ceases after the expiration of 18 months from the date of the message, and is contingent on the exact date of the message to which the request refers being mentioned.

For every such copy, a fee of 4 annas per 100 words, or fraction of 100 words, is payable.

SPECIAL MESSAGES.

RULE 21.—The Sender of a message can prepay the reply which he requests his correspondent to send. The amount deposited for the reply must not exceed three times the cost of the original message.

ART. XLV. Prepayment of reply.

In this case he must write between the Address and the body of the message and pay for the notice "reply paid (or Reponse payée, or RP.)———words."

ART. XLVII.

When a prepaid reply is requested, the station of delivery pays to the Addressee the amount deposited for the reply, either in money, in Telegraph Stamps, or by an order for payment on the Office, leaving it to the Addressee to send his reply at any time, by any route, and to any address he chooses.

ART. XLVI.

The reply, when tendered, is considered and treated as any other message.

If the original message cannot be delivered within six weeks, or if the Receiver formally refuses the amount deposited for the reply, the Station of delivery informs the Sender of it by a telegram, which indicates the cause of non-delivery and takes the place of the reply.

RULE 22.—The Sender of any message can, by writing the word "Collationné" (or "TC.") immediately before the Address, ensure its being repeated. In this case the different Offices concerned in its transmission collate it integrally (i. e., it is repeated back from Office to Office to ensure its correctness). Collation is obligatory in the case of private cipher messages composed of figures.

ART. XLVIII. Collation or repetition of messages.

The charge for collation is equal to half the charge for the message, any fraction of 2 annas being counted as 2 annas.

RULE 23.—The Sender of a message can, by adding the words "acknowledgment paid" (or "accuser reception" or "CR.") immediately before the Address, ensure that a notice shall be telegraphed to him of the hour of its delivery.

ART. XLIX. Advice of delivery.

If the message cannot be delivered the terminal station intimates the fact, and the reason, by a service telegram. (See Rule 16.) The return message paid for by the Sender is afterwards transmitted, either on delivery of the telegram, should that be found possible, or at the expiration of 24 hours in the contrary event.

The charge for an "acknowledgment" is that for a simple message of 10 words by the same route as that followed by the original message.

RULE 24.—The Sender of a message can by writing the words "To follow" (or "Faire suivre" or "FS") immediately before the Address ensure its following the Addressee to different Addresses, if necessary, within the limits of Europe.

ART. LII. Messages "To follow" or "Faire suivre."

When a message bears the notice "Faire suivre" or "To follow," the terminal Station, after presenting it at the Address given, transmits it immediately, if requisite, to any new Address supplied at the residence of the Addressee. If no new Address is supplied, the message is kept in the Office and its non-delivery reported (see rule 16). If the message is retransmitted, and the second Station cannot find the Addressee, the message is retained by that Station.

If the notice "Faire suivre" or "To follow" is accompanied by successive Addresses, the message is successively transmitted to each, if necessary, and the last Office treats it in accordance with the regulations of the preceding paragraph.

The charge for a message "To follow" to be levied from the Sender is simply the charge to the first terminal Station, all the Addresses entering into the number of words charged for. The supplementary charge is recovered from the Addressee.

RULE 25.—Any person, by explaining the necessity, can request that messages which may arrive at a Telegraph Office to be delivered to him, within the radius of delivery of that Office, be re-transmitted in conformity with the conditions of the preceding paragraphs, to the Address which he furnishes; this request must be made in writing.

ART. LIII.

RULE 26.—Telegraphic messages may be addressed:—

ART. LIV. Multiple messages.

i.—to several persons in different places;
ii.—to several persons in the same place;
iii.—to the same person in different places, or at several residences in the same place.

In the two first cases, each copy of the message bears only its own Address, unless the Sender requests the contrary, in which case the request must be entered after the Address, and will be charged for.

A message addressed to several persons, or to one person, in localities served by different offices, is charged for as so many separate messages.

A message addressed to several persons in the same locality, or to one person at several places of residence in the same locality (whether with or without transmission by post), is charged for as a single message; but a copying fee of 4 annas per 10 words, plus 4 annas for the excess, is charged for each destination after the first.

RULE 27.—In applying the preceding Rules, the facilities given to the public for prepayment of Replies or Acknowledgments, collation of messages, messages to follow, multiple messages or messages for transmission beyond the limits of the Telegraph Lines, can be combined; subject to the conditions of Rule 11.

ART. LX. Combination of rules.

RULE 28.—The minimum charge is:—

ART. XV. Messages charged by the words or group.

(The Sender of a message for which an Acknowledgment has been prepaid can, however, prepay this transport by depositing a sum for the purpose, to be fixed by the Station of origin subject to after-adjustment. The Acknowledgment mentions the amount expended.)

In every case where charges are to be made on arrival, the message is not delivered till payment of the amount due is received.

RULE 38.—Insufficient charges received in error, or charges not recovered through refusal of the Addressee to defray them in full or through his not being found at the address given, MUST BE MADE GOOD BY THE SENDER.

In the case of interruption on a sub-marine line, the Sender of any message has a right to a refund of the portion of the charge belonging to the distance not traversed, deduction being made, if necessary, of the expense incurred in sending the message by any other mode of transport.

Interruption on sub-marine line.

These rules do not apply to messages which pass over the lines of a non-adhering Administration which would not on its side make similar refunds.

RULE 41.—Every claim for reimbursement of charges ought to be made to the CHECK OFFICE, GOVERNMENT TELEGRAPH DEPARTMENT, CALCUTTA, and be supported as follows:—In case of non-delivery, by a written statement from the terminal Station or Addressee; in case of mutilation or delay, by the copy actually delivered to the Addressee, and by a certificate stating that, in consequence of the errors complained of, the message failed to fulfil its object. The particular errors which led to this result should also be specifically mentioned. A complaint regarding a received message may, if the Addressee chooses, be addressed to the CHECK OFFICE which, if possible, disposes of it, otherwise it is returned to be presented at the Office of Origin.

REG. LXVIII. Claim to refund how to be made.

If the Sender does not reside in the country where he deposited his message for transmission, he can have his claim forwarded to the original Administration through the medium of another Administration. In this case, if it becomes evident on investigation that the claim is well founded, the latter is deputed to make the refund.

When a claim to refund is admitted to be well founded by the Administration in fault, the refund is made to the Sender by the CHECK OFFICE.

Claims not paid till admitted by Administration in fault.

Complaints are not forwarded when the fault complained of does not give the Sender a claim to refund, or has resulted from an omission or irregularity on his part.

Claims which are not admissible are not forwarded.

REG. LXX. Messages stopped in transit.

RULE 42.—The charges on messages stopped in transit under operation of Rule 18 are returned to the Sender.

RULE 43.—The refund rules apply only to the cost of the actual messages lost, delayed, or mutilated, and not to the cost of any further correspondence caused or rendered useless by such loss, delay, or mutilation, except in the case of the exception mentioned in Rule 33.

ART. LXVII.

ART. LXVIII. Claim must be made within six months.

RULE 44.—Every claim should be made, under penalty of rejection, within six months of the date of the message.

AT THE COURT AT WINDSOR, THE 26TH DAY OF JUNE 1873.

PRESENT.

THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY IN COUNCIL.—Whereas by "the Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1862," it is enacted that, whenever it is made to appear to Her Majesty that the rules concerning the measurement of tonnage of merchant ships for the time being in force under the principal Act have been adopted by the Government of any foreign country, and are in force in that country, it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, by order in Council, to direct that the ships of such foreign country shall be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted in their certificate of registry or other national papers, and thereupon it shall no longer be necessary for such ships to be remeasured in any port or place in Her Majesty's dominions, but such ships shall be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted in their certificates of registry or other papers, in the same manner, and to the same extent, and for the same purposes in, to, and for which the tonnage denoted in the certificate of registry of British ships is to be deemed the tonnage of such ships.

And whereas it has been made to appear to Her Majesty that the rules concerning the measurement of tonnage of merchant ships now in force under "the Shipping Act, 1854," have been adopted by the Government of His Majesty the German Emperor, with the exception of a slight difference in the mode of estimating the allowance for engine-room, and such rules are now in force in that country, having come into operation on the 1st day of January 1873.

AT THE COURT AT WINDSOR, THE 17TH DAY OF MARCH 1875.

PRESENT.

THE QUEEN'S EXCELLENT MAJESTY IN COUNCIL.—Whereas by "the Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1862," it is enacted that, whenever it is made to appear to Her Majesty that the rules concerning the measurement of tonnage of merchant ships for the time being in force under the principal Act have been adopted by the Government of any foreign country, and are in force in that country, it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, by order in Council, to direct that the ships of such foreign country shall be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted in their certificates of registry or other national papers, and thereupon it shall no longer be necessary for such ships to be remeasured in any port or place in Her Majesty's dominions, but such ships shall be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted in their certificates of registry or other papers, in the same manner, to the same extent, and for the same purposes in, to, and for which the tonnage denoted in the certificates of registry of British ships is to be deemed the tonnage of such ships.

AT THE COURT AT WINDSOR, THE 17TH DAY OF MARCH 1875.

PRESENT.

THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY IN COUNCIL.—Whereas by "the Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1862," it is enacted that, whenever it is made to appear to Her Majesty that the rules concerning the measurement of tonnage of merchant ships for the time being in force under the principal Act have been adopted by the Government of any foreign country, and are in force in that country, it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, by order in Council, to direct that the ships of such foreign country shall be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted in their certificate of registry or other national papers, and thereupon it shall no longer be necessary for such ships to be remeasured in any port or place in Her Majesty's dominions, but such ships shall be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted in their certificates of registry or other papers, in the same manner, and to the same extent, and for the same purposes in, to, and for which the tonnage denoted in the certificate of registry of British ships is to be deemed the tonnage of such ships.

And whereas it has been made to appear to Mer Majesty that the rules concerning the measurement of tonnage of merchant ships now in force under "the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854," have been adopted by the Government of His Majesty the King of Spain, with the exception of a difference in the mode in certain steamers of estimating the allowance for engine-room, and such rules are now in force in that country, having come into operation on the second day of December one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four. 2nd.—As regards steam ships: that merchant ships belonging to the said Kingdom of Spain, which are propelled by steam or any other power requiring engine-room, the measurement whereof shall, after the said second day of December one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, have been ascertained and denoted in the registers and other national papers in the same manner, and to the same extent, and for the same purpose in, to, and for which the tonnage denoted in the certificate of registry of British ships is deemed to be the tonnage of such ships: Provided, nevertheless, that if the owner or master of any such Spanish steam ship desires the deduction for engine-room in his ships to be estimated under the rules for engine-room measurement and deduction applicable to British ships instead of under the Spanish rule, the engine-room shall be measured and the deduction calculated according to the British rules.

The 10th December 1875.

No. 8 of 1875.—The following revision of a Notice to Mariners is published for general information:—

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

DIRECTIONS FOR KURRACHEE HARBOUR.

LIGHT HOUSE.

Latitude of light-house on Manora point	24° 47′ 21″ N.
Longitude	66° 58′ 15″ E.
The light is fixed, 120 feet above the sea-level, visible in clear weather	16 miles.
In hazy weather, prevalent during the south-west monsoon, about	7 miles.

Present light very inferior. A dioptric light of the 2nd order recommended.

TIDES.

	H.	M.
High water, full and change at	10	30
	Ft.	In.
Average rise and fall, Spring tides	9	6
Ditto ditto Neap tides	3 to 4 feet.

Depth of water in Entrance Channel at High Water—

Spring tides	29 feet.
Neap tides	24 to 26 feet.

DRAUGHT OF VESSELS ENTERING OR LEAVING PORT.

Vessels with a draught not exceeding 21½ feet can now enter and leave the Port without difficulty or delay during all seasons of the year.

During the fair season, from October to 15th May, vessels with a draught not exceeding 24 feet can now enter and leave the harbour.

Fixed moorings are placed for such vessels.

TIME OF TIDE FOR ENTERING PORT.

Sailing vessels should enter Port on the ebb-tide.

Steamers can enter either flood or ebb, and stand at once into Port.

N. B.—Masters of Ships should not, under any circumstances, attempt to enter the harbour without a Pilot.

HARBOUR IMPROVEMENTS.

Among the extensive works executed, a breakwater* has been built, running out from Manora point S. by E. to a distance of 1,500 feet into 6 fathoms water; this affords complete shelter to the Entrance Channel during the south-west monsoon. Also a channel has been opened through the bar with a depth of 20 feet at low water spring-tides, 500 feet in breadth; the channel is marked by buoys, and these on entering should be kept on the port side distant about 150 feet.

* A red-light is exhibited at the outer extremity of the breakwater during the fine season only.

Note.—A Mail Steamer arriving off the port at night and requiring a Pilot should fire two guns.

APPROACHING THE PORT.

COAST OF SIND.

Indus Banks.

The Coast of Sind below the parallel of 24° North latitude should be approached with great caution; too much attention cannot be paid to the lead, more especially in passing the Banks of the Indus.*

* Banks of the Indus have extended about 10 miles to the southward since 1856.

No sailing vessel should come nearer this coast than 20 fathoms by night, or in rough weather; or under 12 fathoms by day in fine weather.

The tides during the springs are strong, the flood sets S. E, and the ebb to N. W.

From March to the end of the monsoon, a strong south-easterly current is experienced, running at a rate of from 15 to 40 miles a day.

During the south-west monsoon, sailing vessels should make Ras Muari (Cape Monze),—which is 18 miles W. ½ N. from Manora Light-house,—and keep to windward of the port, if the weather is thick, or if the tide does not suit for entering the harbour. Allowance must also be made for a strong set to the south-east, which prevails more or less during the south-west monsoon.

Do not bring Manora point to the southward of East, or go under 15 fathoms near Cape Monze.

The 7th December 1875.

No. 508.—Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India having decided that the provisions of the St. Petersburgh Convention shall be brought into effect for Foreign Telegrams to and from India on the 1st January 1876, the Hon'ble the President in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following Rules, which will come into effect on the date mentioned:—

Rules for Foreign Messages (from 1st January 1876).

GENERAL.

RULE 1.—Messages to Europe, Asia or Africa are accepted subject to the regulations of the International Telegraph Convention for the time being in force. Messages to America are accepted subject to the same conditions as far as regards their transit to the European termini of the cables.

International Telegraph Convention.

Foreign messages are accepted for transmission under these rules at all such Telegraph stations of the following Railway Companies at which no Government Telegraph Office exists:—

Great Indian Peninsula. East Indian, South Indian, Eastern Bengal, and the following stations of the Madras Railway—

Arconum, Cuddapa, Gooty, Raichoor, Jolarapet, Palghat, Beypore, Coimbatore, Salem.

RULE 2.—The Government of India accepts no responsibility whatsoever in respect of foreign telegrams.

ART. 3.

ACCEPTANCE OF MESSAGES.

RULE 3.—Foreign telegrams are classified as follows:—

(1st).—State messages; those which emanate from the Chief of the State, Ministers, Commanders-in-Chief of land or sea forces, and Diplomatic or Consular Agents of the contracting Governments; also the replies to these messages.

ART. 5. Classification of messages.

Messages from Consular Agents who are engaged in commerce are not considered as State messages, except when they are addressed to a Government official and relate to the Government service.

ART. XI.

(2nd).—Service messages; those which emanate from the Telegraph Departments of the contracting States, and which relate either to the service of the International Telegraphs or to objects of public interest determined upon by common accord by the said Departments.

(3rd).—Private messages.

RULE 4.—Messages may be sent in any one of the languages used in the territories of the States which are parties to the International Telegraph Convention, or in Latin.

ART. VI. In what languages messages may be sent.

RULE 5.—Messages in ordinary language must offer an intelligible sense in one of the above languages.

ART. VI. Ordinary messages.

RULE 6.—The following are considered as secret messages:—

ART. VII. Secret messages.

(1st).—Messages which contain passages of figures.

(2nd).—Messages which contain any series or groups of figures* of which the signification is not understood by the original sending station.

(3rd).—Messages containing passages written in words of preconcerted meaning (Code), incomprehensible to the offices in correspondence, or containing words not forming part of any of the languages mentioned in Rule 4.

Messages in secret language (cipher) are liable to an extra charge for collation (see Rule 22). State messages and those in Code language are exceptions to this rule.

* Groups of letters not forming words cannot be sent.

RULE 7.—State and Service messages may be sent in secret language without any reservation.

ART. 6. When secret messages may be accepted.

Private messages in secret language may be exchanged with countries which admit that mode of correspondence.

RULE 8.—The text of private cipher messages may be either entirely in cipher, or partly in cipher and partly in ordinary language; in the latter case the cipher portions must be placed between parenthesis; the cipher text must be composed exclusively of Arabic figures.

ART. VII. Cipher messages.

RULE 9.—Messages must be legibly written in characters which have their equivalent in the official Code of telegraph signals, and which are in use in the country where the message is presented.

ART. VIII. How messages must be written.

The body of the message must be preceded by the Address; which can be written in Code or abbreviated form; but in such case the delivery of the telegram is contingent on a previous arrangement between the Addressee and the Local Telegraph Office.

The signature can similarly be in Code or abbreviated form, or may be omitted. If inserted, it should be placed after the body of the message. If not inserted, the last word of the message replaces it.

The Sender of a private message can always be called upon to prove that the signature attached to it is genuine. He has, on his side, the power of including in his message the legalization of his signature.

ART. XIII. Legalization of signature.

Every interlineation, reference, erasure or addition of words must be authenticated by the Sender of the message or his representative.

ART. VIII.

RULE 10.—The Address must contain all the information necessary to insure the delivery of the message at its destination. Such information should be written either in French or in the language of the country to which the message is addressed.

ART. X. Address.

The Address of private messages should always be such that delivery can be effected without difficulty or the necessity of making enquiries.

For large towns it should comprise the name of the street and the number of the house, or, in default of these particulars, the profession of the Addressee, or some such information.

For small towns the name of the Addressee ought, if possible, to be accompanied by information sufficient to guide the Office of delivery in case of any alteration in the Addressee's name.

The name of the country in which the residence of the Addressee is situated is indispensable, unless it is a capital or important town, and even then if there are two places of importance of the same name in different countries. It is included in the number of words charged for.

Messages the addresses of which do not contain these particulars are nevertheless transmitted, but in all cases the Sender must bear the consequences of insufficiency of address.

The Address of a message to be conveyed beyond the telegraph lines is written as in the following example :—

M. Müller, Stiglitz, express (or post) Berlin, the name of the terminal telegraph station being always written last.

ART. LVIII. The Address of a message for a ship at sea should contain, in addition to the ordinary directions, the name or official number of the vessel and its nationality.

RULE 11.—The Sender must write immediately before the address of his message any instructions he wishes to give relative to its delivery, acknowledgment, collation, prepaid reply, being caused "to follow," &c. Such instructions if written in abbreviated form, as under, will be counted each as one word :—

ART. VIII. Instructions as to delivery, &c.

ART. IX.

Postage prepaid (poste payée) ...	PP.
Express charges prepaid (exprés payée) ...	XP.
Acknowledgment prepaid (accuser de reception)	CR.
Collation prepaid (telegramme collationné)	TC.
Reply prepaid (reponse payée) ...	RP.
To follow (Faire suivre)	FS.

When such instructions are given in unabbreviated form, they should be written either in French or in the language of the country of destination. If that language be not understood in the office of origin, the Sender is bound to annex a translation for its guidance.

RULE 12.—The Sender can prescribe the route he wishes his message to follow by writing the same on the message form in the place provided for the purpose. The administrations are not bound to conform to printed instructions regarding the route.

ART. XXXVI. Route.

When the Sender prescribes the route to be followed, his wishes are complied with, unless the route indicated be interrupted, in which case no objection can be raised to the selection of an alternative route.

ART. XVIII. When no route is specified the message is sent by the least expensive one.

RULE 13.—Any Sender can, on proving his identity, stop, if in time, the transmission of his message.

ART. XXXIX. Cancellation of message.

When the Sender withdraws or stops his message before transmission has been commenced, the charges are returned to him after deducting a fixed sum of 4 annas, the fee of the original sending Station; but if transmission has commenced, the Sender has a right to a refund only of the portion of the charge belonging to the distance not traversed.

If the message has been already transmitted, the Sender's only means of cancelling it is by a paid (Service) telegram addressed to the terminal Station.

The Sender must pay also for a reply if he desires to be informed by telegraph in what manner his request has been acted upon.

A Station which receives a message, requesting the suppression of another message, previously received, informs the Original sending Station by post in what manner the request has been acted upon, unless the Sender has prepaid a reply by telegraph.

DELIVERY OF MESSAGES.

RULE 14.—Messages may be addressed either to the place of residence of the Addressee, or poste restante or bureau restant (to wait arrival).

ART. XLI. How messages may be addressed.

Messages which have to be sent to their destination by post, or which are addressed poste restante, are immediately sent by the office of destination to the Post Office and treated as registered letters, without charge either to Sender or Addressee —(see Rule 36).

ART. XLI and LVII. Messages addressed to non-telegraph stations, or poste restante.

RULE 15.—A message taken to the place of residence of the Addressee may be delivered either to the Addressee, to the adult members of his family, to his employés, lodgers, or guests, or to the porter of the hotel or house in which he resides, unless the Addressee has designated in writing a special person to receive it, or the Sender has instructed that the message be delivered to the Addressee only. This last demand, if made, should be mentioned in the Address of the message, and is written on the envelope by the Station of delivery.

ART. XLII. To whom message may be delivered.

When a message is addressed bureau restant (to wait arrival), it is delivered only to the Addressee himself or to a person duly appointed by him.

Message addressed bureau restant.

RULE 16.—When the message cannot be delivered, the terminal Station, if it supposes that the address is insufficient or that it has been altered in transmission, intimates the fact by a Service telegram to the Station of origin, which verifies the correctness of the Address, and immediately rectifies any error. If, however, the Address be in Code, or abbreviated form, no advice of non-delivery is sent.

ART. XLII. Procedure when the message cannot be delivered.

RULE 17.—If, in consequence of inaccuracy or insufficiency of Address, or the absence or refusal of the Addressee, the expenses of a special messenger are not paid on arrival, the costs incurred are specified in the advice of non-delivery or refusal and ARE RECOVERABLE FROM THE SENDER.

ART. XLII. Cost of express not paid by Receiver recoverable from Sender.

CONTROL.

RULE 18.—The Government of India reserves to itself the right of stopping any private message which may appear dangerous to the security of the State, or which may be contrary to the laws of the country, to public order or decency; and any intermediate Administration may stop the transmission of such a message on condition of immediately advising the Administration to which the original sending Station belongs.

ART. 7. Objectionable messages.

ART. XL.

This control is exercised by the terminal or intermediate offices subject to recourse to the central Administration, which decides without appeal.

RECORDS.

RULE 19.—The originals and copies of messages, and the slips containing the signals or similar papers, are preserved for a period of eighteen months after date with all necessary precautions to ensure their secrecy.

ART. LXV. Message drafts how long kept.

RULE 20.—The originals or copies of messages can only be communicated to the Sender or to the Addressee after proving his identity, or to the authorized attorney of either.

ART. LXVI. Copies of messages.

The Sender and Addressee, or the authorized attorney of either, have a right to be furnished with certified true copies of the messages sent or received by them. This right ceases after the expiration of 18 months from the date of the message, and is contingent on the exact date of the message to which the request refers being mentioned.

For every such copy, a fee of 4 annas per 100 words, or fraction of 100 words, is payable.

SPECIAL MESSAGES.

RULE 21.—The Sender of a message can prepay the reply which he requests his correspondent to send. The amount deposited for the reply must not exceed three times the cost of the original message.

ART. XLV. Prepayment of reply.

In this case he must write between the Address and the body of the message and pay for the notice "reply paid (or Reponse payée, or RP.)———words."

ART. XLVII.

When a prepaid reply is requested, the station of delivery pays to the Addressee the amount deposited for the reply, either in money, in Telegraph Stamps, or by an order for payment on the Office, leaving it to the Addressee to send his reply at any time, by any route, and to any address he chooses.

ART. XLVI.

The reply, when tendered, is considered and treated as any other message.

If the original message cannot be delivered within six weeks, or if the Receiver formally refuses the amount deposited for the reply, the Station of delivery informs the Sender of it by a telegram, which indicates the cause of non-delivery and takes the place of the reply.

RULE 22.—The Sender of any message can, by writing the word "Collationnée" (or "TC.") immediately before the Address, ensure its being repeated. In this case the different Offices concerned in its transmission collate it integrally (i. e., it is repeated back from Office to Office to ensure its correctness). Collation is obligatory in the case of private cipher messages composed of figures.

ART. XLVIII. Collation or repetition of messages.

The charge for collation is equal to half the charge for the message, any fraction of 2 annas being counted as 2 annas.

RULE 23.—The Sender of a message can, by adding the words "acknowledgment paid" (or "accuser reception" or "CR.") immediately before the Address, ensure that a notice shall be telegraphed to him of the hour of its delivery.

ART. XLIX. Advice of delivery.

If the message cannot be delivered the terminal station intimates the fact, and the reason, by a service telegram. (See Rule 16.) The return message paid for by the Sender is afterwards transmitted, either on delivery of the telegram, should that be found possible, or at the expiration of 24 hours in the contrary event.

The charge for an "acknowledgment" is that for a simple message of 10 words by the same route as that followed by the original message.

RULE 24.—The Sender of a message can by writing the words "To follow" (or "Faire suivre" or "FS") immediately before the Address ensure its following the Addressee to different Addresses, if necessary, within the limits of Europe.

ART. LII. Messages "To follow" or "Faire suivre."

When a message bears the notice "Faire suivre" or "To follow," the terminal Station, after presenting it at the Address given, transmits it immediately, if requisite, to any new Address supplied at the residence of the Addressee. If no new Address is supplied, the message is kept in the Office and its non-delivery reported (see rule 16). If the message is retransmitted, and the second Station cannot find the Addressee, the message is retained by that Station.

If the notice "Faire suivre" or "To follow" is accompanied by successive Addresses, the message is successively transmitted to each, if necessary, and the last Office treats it in accordance with the regulations of the preceding paragraph.

The charge for a message "To follow" to be levied from the Sender is simply the charge to the first terminal Station, all the Addresses entering into the number of words charged for. The supplementary charge is recovered from the Addressee.

RULE 25.—Any person, by explaining the necessity, can request that messages which may arrive at a Telegraph Office to be delivered to him, within the radius of delivery of that Office, be re-transmitted in conformity with the conditions of the preceding paragraphs, to the Address which he furnishes; this request must be made in writing.

ART. LIII.

RULE 26.—Telegraphic messages may be addressed :—

ART. LIV. Multiple messages.

i.—to several persons in different places;
ii.—to several persons in the same place;
iii.—to the same person in different places, or at several residences in the same place.

In the two first cases, each copy of the message bears only its own Address, unless the Sender requests the contrary, in which case the request must be entered after the Address, and will be charged for.

A message addressed to several persons, or to one person, in localities served by different offices, is charged for as so many separate messages.

A message addressed to several persons in the same locality, or to one person at several places of residence in the same locality (whether with or without transmission by post), is charged for as a single message; but a copying fee of 4 annas per 10 words, plus 4 annas for the excess, is charged for each destination after the first.

RULE 27.—In applying the preceding Rules, the facilities given to the public for prepayment of Replies or Acknowledgments, collation of messages, messages to follow, multiple messages or messages for transmission beyond the limits of the Telegraph Lines, can be combined; subject to the conditions of Rule 11.

ART. LX. Combination of rules.

Combinations of words contrary to the usage of the language to which they belong are not admitted. If there be any real doubt, it should be decided in favor of the Sender.

Numbers expressed in figures are counted at the rate of five figures to a word, plus one word for any excess.

Every isolated character, whether letter or figure, is counted as a word. The same applies to an underline.

RULE 35.—The Addressee of any message can, within 24 hours after the delivery of the telegram, request the correction of passages which may appear to him to be doubtful. 2*nd*.—The supplementary charge for onward transmission of messages "To follow" (Faire suivre).

3*rd*.—The expense of transport beyond the Telegraph lines by quicker means than the post, in States where such service is organized. The Acknowledgment mentions the amount expended.)

In every case where charges are to be made on arrival, the message is not delivered till payment of the amount due is received.

REG. LXIX.

No refund is given for errors in uncollated messages, but the whole cost of a collated message is returned to the Sender, if, in consequence of errors in transmission, it has manifestly failed to fulfil its object.

ART. LXVII. Mutilation.

In the case of interruption on a sub-marine line, the Sender of any message has a right to a refund of the portion of the charge belonging to the distance not traversed, deduction being made, if necessary, of the expense incurred in sending the message by any other mode of transport.

The particular errors which led to this result should also be specifically mentioned. A complaint regarding a received message may, if the Addressee chooses, be addressed to the CHECK OFFICE which, if possible, disposes of it, otherwise it is returned to be presented at the Office of Origin.

REG. LXVIII. Claim to refund how to be made.

If the Sender does not reside in the country where he deposited his message for transmission, he can have his claim forwarded to the original Administration through the medium of another Administration. In this case, if it becomes evident on investigation that the claim is well founded, the latter is deputed to make the refund.

When a claim to refund is admitted to be well founded by the Administration in fault, the refund is made to the Sender by the CHECK OFFICE.

Claims not paid till admitted by Administration in fault.

Complaints are not forwarded when the fault complained of does not give the Sender a claim to refund, or has resulted from an omission or irregularity on his part.

No. 3359 P.—The following General Convention between the Governments of Great Britain and of Tunis which appeared in the London Gazette of the 29th October 1875, is re-published for general information :—

GENERAL CONVENTION BETWEEN THE GOVERNMENTS OF GREAT BRITAIN AND OF TUNIS.

Signed in the English and Arabic languages, July 19, 1875.

The Government of Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and His Most Serene Highness Mohammed Essadock Bey, Lord of the Regency of Tunis, being desirous to maintain and improve the relations of friendship and commerce which have long subsisted between them and between British and Tunisian subjects, have resolved to proceed to a revision and improvement of the Treaties subsisting between the respective countries, in consequence of which the following stipulations have been entered into and concluded between His Most Serene Highness the Bey, and Richard Wood, Esquire, Companion of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath, Her Majesty's Agent and Consul-General, duly authorized to that effect.

ARTICLE I.

Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland may appoint, besides her Political Agent, such Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and Consular Agents in the Regency of Tunis as she may deem necessary; and such Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and Consular Agents shall be at liberty to reside in any of the seaports or cities of His Highness the Bey, which they or the British Government may choose and find most convenient for the affairs and service of Her Majesty, and for the assistance of her subjects.

ARTICLE II.

Every mark of honour and respect shall at all times be paid, and every privilege and immunity allowed, to Her Majesty's Agent and Consul-General accredited to His Highness the Bey which is paid or allowed to the Representative of any other nation whatsoever; and respect and honour shall be shown to the British Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and Consular Agents, who shall reside in the Regency of Tunis. Their houses and families shall be safe and protected. No one shall interfere with them, or commit any act of oppression or disrespect towards them, either by word or deed; and if any one should do so, the Tunisian authorities shall take immediate measures for the punishment of the offender. The British Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and Consular Agents shall, moreover, continue to enjoy, in the most ample sense, all the priyileges and immunities which are now or may be hereafter accorded to the Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and Consular Agents of the most favoured nation.

ARTICLE III.

The British Agent and Consul-General shall be at liberty to choose his own interpreters, brokers, guards and servants, either from among the natives or others. His interpreters, brokers, guards, and servants shall be exempt from the conscription, and from payment of any poll-tax, forced contribution, or other similar or corresponding charge. In like manner, the Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and Consular Agents residing at the Tunisian ports under the orders of the said Agent and Consul-General, shall be at liberty to choose, that is to say, the Consuls, each one interpreter, one broker, two guards, and three servants; the Vice-Consuls and Consular Agents, each one interpreter, one broker and one guard, and two servants, not being in the military service, who shall likewise be exempt from the conscription, from the payment of any poll-tax, forced contribution, or other similar or corresponding charge. No prohibition nor tax shall be put upon the provisions, furniture, or any other articles which may come to the said Agent and Consul-General, Consuls, or Vice-Consuls, for their own use and for the use of their families, upon their delivering to the Officer of the Customs a note under their hand specifying the number of articles which they shall require to be passed on that ground, but this privilege shall only be accorded to Consular Officers who are not engaged in trade. If the service of their Sovereign should require their attendance in their own country, no impediment shall be offered to their departure, and no hindrance shall be offered either to themselves or their servants, or in regard to their property, but they shall be at liberty to go and come, respected and honoured. If they should depute another person to act for them in their absence, they shall not be prevented in any way from so doing, nor shall the deputy be prevented from acting in that capacity.

ARTICLE IV.

There shall be reciprocal freedom of commerce between the dominions of Her Majesty the Queen and the Regency of Tunis. British merchants or their agents and brokers shall be permitted to purchase at all places within the Regency, whether for the purposes of internal trade or of exportation, all articles, without any exception whatsoever, being the produce or manufacture of the said Regency; and the purchaser shall be free to remove his goods, when purchased, from one place to another, without any attempt being made on the part of the Local Governors to interfere with them.

ARTICLE V.

In accordance with the friendship which has at all times existed between the two Governments, His Highness the Bey engages to protect British subjects who may come to his country either for the purposes of trade or for travelling. They shall be free to travel or to reside in any part of the Regency without hindrance or molestation; and they shall be treated with respect, love, and honour. They shall be exempt from forced military service, whether by land or by sea; from forced loans, and from every extraordinary contribution. Their dwellings and warehouses destined for the purposes of residence and commerce, as well as their property, both real and personal, of every kind, shall be respected, and, in particular, all the stipulations of the Convention concluded between Her Majesty's Government and His Highness the Bey on the 10th of October, 1868, relative to the permission granted to British subjects to hold real property in the Regency of Tunis, are hereby confirmed. And British subjects, vessels, commerce, and navigation shall enjoy, without any restriction or diminution, all the privileges, favours, and immunities which are now or may hereafter be granted to the subjects, vessels, commerce, and navigation of any other nation whatever.

Her Britannic Majesty, on her part, engages to insure to Tunisian subjects, vessels, commerce, and navigation within her Dominions, the enjoyment of the same protection and privileges which are or may be enjoyed by the subjects, vessels, commerce, and navigation of the most favoured nation.

ARTICLE VI.

The perfect security which His Highness the Bey accords to the British merchants and subjects who may reside in the Regency extends likewise to the free exercise of the rites of their religion. They shall be free to erect churches, upon the application of the British Agent and Consul-General to His Highness the Bey, who will grant the necessary permission. The British Cemetery of Saint George, and other burial places, now or hereafter to be established, shall be protected and respected as heretofore.

ARTICLE VII.

His Highness the Bey engages that he will not prohibit the importation into the Regency of any article, the produce and manufacture of the dominions and possessions of Her Britannic Majesty, from whatever place arriving, and that the duties, to be levied upon such articles of produce or manufacture so imported shall in no case exceed one fixed rate of eight per cent. ad valorem, to be calculated upon the value of such merchandise at the place of landing, or a specific duty, fixed by common consent, equivalent thereto.

Such articles, after paying eight per cent. import duty, shall not be subject to any other internal charge or impost whatsoever, whether the buyer be a Tunisian or a foreigner. And if such articles should not be sold for consumption in the Regency, but should be re-exported within the space of one year, the Administration of the Customs shall be bound, provided the bales or packages have not been opened, to restore, at the time of their re-exportation, the duty levied to the merchant, who shall be required first to furnish proofs that the goods so exported have paid the said import duty.

After the expiration of one year the merchant shall be free to re-export his foreign goods without claiming the drawback, and the Custom-house shall not levy upon them any duty whatsoever on re-exportation.

Should a British merchant or his agent desire to convey, by sea or by land, from one port or place to another port or place in the Regency of Tunis, goods upon which the ad valorem duty above mentioned has been already paid, such goods shall be subject to no further duty, either on their embarkation or disembarkation, provided they be accompanied by a certificate from the Tunisian Administrator of Customs that the duty has been paid.

And it is moreover agreed that no other or higher duties shall be imposed on the importation of any article, the produce or manufacture of one of the Contracting Parties, into the country of the other, which shall not equally extend to the like articles, being the produce or manufacture of any other country.

ARTICLE VIII.

Vessels navigating under the British flag and vessels navigating under the Tunisian flag shall be free to carry on the coasting trade in the States and Dominions of the Contracting Parties. They shall enjoy the same rights and immunities as are enjoyed by national vessels, and they shall be free either to land a portion of their cargoes, or to embark goods, foreign or native, to complete their cargoes, in each other's ports, without being obliged in each case to procure any special license from the Local Authorities, or to pay any charges and dues that are not paid by national vessels.

The stipulations of this Article shall however, as regards the Colonial coasting trade, be deemed to extend only to the coasting trade of such of the Colonial possessions of Her Britannic Majesty as, under the provisions of the Act relating thereto, may have opened their coasting trade to foreign vessels.

ARTICLE IX.

His Highness the Bey formally engages to abolish all monopolies of agricultural produce or of any other article whatsoever, save and except tobacco and salt, and save and except the fisheries, and the tannery of hides of oxen, camels, and horses.

British subjects, however, or their agents, buying or selling salt and tobacco in virtue of licenses or permits for consumption in the Regency of Tunis, shall be subject to the same regulations as the most favoured Tunisian subjects trading in the two articles aforesaid; and furthermore, they shall be free to compete for, obtain, and exercise the right of fishery, subject to the local laws and regulations.

ARTICLE X.

If British merchants or their agents in the Regency of Tunis should purchase any article of Tunisian produce or manufacture for internal consumption, the said merchants or their agents shall not pay, on the purchase and sale of such articles, any higher duties or charges than are paid, under similar circumstances, by the most favoured class of Tunisians or foreigners engaged in the internal trade of the Regency of Tunis. In like manner Tunisian merchants or their agents in the British dominions shall not pay on the purchase and sale of British produce or manufactures, for internal consumption in the said dominions, higher duties or charges than are paid by British subjects or the most favoured foreigners engaged in the internal trade of the said dominions, upon similar articles of produce or manufacture.

ARTICLE XI.

If a British merchant or his agent shall purchase for exportation any article of Tunisian produce or manufacture, either at the place where such article is produced or in its transit from that place to another, upon which article of produce or manufacture the internal taxes known by the names of "Ushr," "Kanoon," and "Mahsoulat," and others, have been already levied, such article of produce or manufacture shall be subject at the port of shipment to the payment of the export duty only, and the notarial fees and charges for measurement established by law.

ARTICLE XII.

In case of any dispute arising between the Custom-house and the merchant regarding the value to be put upon any merchandize or goods imported by him into the Regency of Tunis, the merchant shall be free to pay the duty in kind, in the most equitable manner.

Should, however, the merchant be unable or unwilling to make use of the above faculty, the Custom-house shall have the right to purchase such merchandize or goods at the price at which the merchant has valued them, with an augmentation of 5 per cent.

But should the foregoing two modes fail to solve the difficulty, His Highness the Bey and Her Majesty's Agent and Consul-General shall each name an arbitrator, being a merchant, and, in case of a divergence of opinion, the two arbitrators shall name an umpire, also a merchant, whose decision shall be final.

ARTICLE XIII.

With a view to the encouragement of agriculture, His Highness the Bey furthermore engages to permit the importation, free of import duty and of every other internal charge, of agricultural implements and machinery, as well as of cattle and animals for the improvement of the native breeds, whenever such agricultural implements, machinery, cattle, and animals are proved to be for private use and not for purposes of trade, in which latter case they shall be subject to the payment of an import duty not exceeding 8 per cent.

ARTICLE XIV.

In case the importation of foreign wheat, barley, and Indian corn should be rendered necessary in consequence of the failure of the crops, in consequence of famine or other causes, which God forbid, such foreign wheat, barley, and Indian corn shall be as heretofore exempt from the payment of any import duty, and shall be subject only to the payment of 20 karoobs ($7\frac{1}{2}d.$) per kaffis.

With the exception of the above three articles, all other foreign provisions, such as rice, lentils, beans and other pulse known by the appellation of "Hashahesh" (dried vegetables) shall pay an import duty not exceeding eight per cent., but the importer or his agent shall be free to sell such provisions in retail or in any other manner without the payment of any other charge whatsoever.

ARTICLE XV.

It is understood between the Contracting Parties that the Tunisian Government reserves to itself the faculty and right of issuing a general prohibition against the importation into the Regency of gunpowder, unless Her Majesty's Agent and Consul-General shall think fit to apply for a special license, which license shall, in that case, be granted provided no valid objection thereto can be alleged.

Gunpowder, when allowed to be imported, shall be subject to a duty not exceeding eight per cent., and shall be liable to the following regulations:—

1. It shall not be sold by subjects of Her Britannic Majesty in quantities exceeding the quantities prescribed by the local regulations.

2. When a cargo, or a large quantity of gunpowder arrives in a Tunisian port on board a British vessel, such vessel shall be anchored at a particular spot, to be designated by the local authorities, and the gunpowder shall then be conveyed, under the inspection of such authorities, to depôts or fitting places, designated by the Government, to which the parties interested shall have access under due regulations.

Gunpowder imported in contravention of the prohibition, or in the absence of the license aforementioned, shall be liable to confiscation, save and except small quantities of gunpowder for sporting reserved for private use, which shall not be subject to the regulations of the present Article.

Cannon, arms of war, or military stores, as well as anchors, masts, and chain cables, shall be imported free of duty, provided they are landed at the opened and recognized ports; provided, also, that previous to the landing of cannon the permission of the Government is obtained.

ARTICLE XVI.

The people of the Contracting Parties shall have the right to establish in each other's country commercial, industrial, and banking companies, co-operative, or mutual or shareholding associations, or any other association, whether between and amongst themselves, or between them and Tunisian subjects or subjects of any other Power: provided the object of such companies and associations be lawful, and subject always to the laws of the country in which they shall be established.

It is, however, understood, that no joint stock companies limited, whose capital is made up of nominal shares to bearer, and no anonymous association shall be established in their respective territories without the authorization of the local Government.

ARTICLE XVII.

British subjects and Tunisian subjects shall be free to exercise in each other's country any art, profession, or industry; to establish manufactories, and factories, and to introduce steam machinery or machinery moved by any other power without being subjected to any other formality or to the payment of higher or other taxes and imposts than those prescribed by the laws or municipal regulations, or which are paid by natives.

It is understood that the manufactories and their appurtenances, being immovable property, shall be subject to the provisions of the Convention of the 10th October, 1863, relative to the permission granted to British subjects to hold real property in the Regency of Tunis.

ARTICLE XVIII.

No harbour, pilotage, light-house, or quarantine dues, or other local dues, shall be levied upon British vessels, which are not imposed upon Tunisian vessels or upon the vessels of the most favoured nation.

If a British vessel shall enter a Tunisian port from stress of weather and depart, it shall not be subject to the payment of the aforesaid dues, but shall pay only the fee to the pilot, should a pilot be required. Should such vessel, however, visit a Tunisian port for the purpose of procuring water and of purchasing provisions, it shall pay only a portion, not exceeding half, of the harbour, pilotage, light-house, and quarantine or other local dues payable at the said port.

In like manner Tunisian vessels which shall visit any of the ports of Her Majesty's dominions shall pay only the harbour, quarantine, and other dues which are levied upon British vessels.

ARTICLE XIX.

The captains of merchant-vessels having goods on board destined for the Regency of Tunis shall, on their arrival at the port where such goods are to be landed, deposit in the Custom-house of such port a true copy of their manifest.

ARTICLE XX.

If a British subject be detected in smuggling into the Regency any description of goods or should be detected in embarking any goods, the produce of Tunis, for which he can exhibit no Custom-house permit, such goods shall be confiscated by the Tunisian Treasury, but a report or procès-verbal of the alleged contraband must, as soon as the said goods are seized by the authorities, be drawn up and communicated to the British Consular Authorities, and no goods can be confiscated as contraband unless the fraud with regard to them shall be duly and legally proved.

It is stipulated that vessels navigating under the British flag shall submit to the regulations of the port; that such vessels, speronaras, boats, and the like craft shall not serve as depôts for merchandise; and that whenever their detention in the Tunisian ports shall exceed eight calendar months, they shall, when required to do so, give satisfactory explanations to the British Consular Authority and to the Local Authorities in regard to the motive of their detention in such ports. Should such explanations be deemed unsatisfactory, the Custom-house may, with the consent of Her Majesty's Agent and Consul-General, place a guard on board for the prevention of fraud, the expenses for such guard being at the charge of the vessel.

ARTICLE XXI.

Should British subjects desire to embark in, or discharge goods from, any vessel, they can employ the Tunisian Custom-house boats, paying the usual charges for the use of such boats. They are free, however, to discharge their merchandise without using the Custom-house boats, in which case they will apprize the Administration of the Customs of it in writing, taking care to mention, on the arrival of each steamer or vessel having goods on board to their consignment, that they will be present themselves, or be represented by their agents, to assist at the discharge of said goods. In case of their absence, however, the Custom-house will proceed to discharge their goods, rendering itself responsible as heretofore, unless in a case of "force majeure." No sort of claim can be preferred by the consignee against the Custom-house on the plea that it had not the right to discharge his goods, seeing that the discharge is made with the sanction of the master of the vessel, and not with that of the Custom-house.

Every consignee who discharges his goods after making the demand in writing, will provide himself with a Custom-house officer, who will accompany him to the vessel and return with him to the Custom-house. The fee to the Custom-house officer shall be paid by the merchant.

ARTICLE XXII.

Whenever the Tunisian Government shall temporarily prohibit the exportation of wheat, barley, cattle, or any other article of native produce, such prohibition shall not come into operation until three months after official notification shall have been given, and shall apply only to the specific article or articles mentioned in the Decree enacting the prohibition.

ARTICLE XXIII.

No British subject, nor any person under British protection, shall, in the Regency of Tunis, be made liable to pay a debt due from another person of his nation unless he shall have made himself responsible or guarantee for the debtor by a valid document. Neither shall any British subject be compelled to sell any thing to, or to buy anything from, a Tunisian without his own free will. The seller shall be obliged to deliver up to the purchaser only that portion of the goods which he voluntarily sold to him, and the purchaser shall have no claim or right upon the remaining portion of such goods or merchandize.

In like manner, no Tunisian subject in the Dominions of the Queen of Great Britain shall be made liable to pay a debt due from another person of his nation to a British subject, unless he shall have made himself responsible or guarantee for the debtor by a valid document.

ARTICLE XXIV.

In all criminal cases and complaints where the prosecutor and prisoner are British subjects, and in all civil differences, disputes, or litigation which may occur between British subjects exclusively, the Agent and Consul-General, Consul, or other British authority, shall be sole judge or arbiter. No one shall interfere, but they shall be amenable to the British Consular Courts only.

All civil differences, disputes, or litigations between British subjects and the subjects of any foreign country other than Great Britain, shall be decided solely in the Tribunals of the foreign Consuls, according to the usages heretofore established, or which may hereafter be arranged between such Consuls, without the interference of the Tunisian Courts or Government.

ARTICLE XXV.

Disputes and differences arising between a British and a Tunisian subject, whether the British subject is plaintiff or defendant, of a commercial and civil nature (criminal and correctional excepted), shall be settled by His Highness the Bey, or his delegate, in the presence and with the concurrence of the British Consul-General or Consul.

It is likewise agreed that, should any new procedure differing from the above be adopted and applied at present, or in future, in the treatment of any other nation, the British subjects, without exception, shall be entitled to the enjoyment thereof, whenever Her Majesty's Government shall request it.

It is, however, understood that if Mixed Courts should be at any time established in Tunis with the assent and approval of Her Majesty's Government, in that case all civil and commercial suits and disputes arising between British and Tunisian subjects shall be heard and determined by such Mixed Courts and Tribunals, according to the rules and procedure that may be agreed upon between the Contracting Parties.

ARTICLE XXVI.

The cognizance of crimes committed by British subjects in the Tunisian territory, as well as all contraventions of the police, and other regulations, shall devolve upon the Consul-General or Consul; and the punishment thereof shall be applied by the said Consul-General or Consul, in concurrence with His Highness the Bey. In case the criminal or offender should escape from the Consular, or other prison, the Consul-General or Consul shall not be held responsible in any manner whatsoever.

ARTICLE XXVII.

No quittance or receipt presented by a British subject to a Court, purporting to be a discharge of a debt which he has contracted towards a Tunisian subject, shall be held as a legal and a valid discharge, unless he can show that such quittance or receipt is under the handwriting, seal, or signature of the Tunisian subject or duly executed by native notaries, and attested by the Cadi or the Governor of the place. And in like manner no quittance or receipt presented by a Tunisian subject purporting to be a discharge of a debt which he has contracted towards a British subject, shall be held as a legal and valid discharge of his debt, unless he can show that such quittance or discharge is under the handwriting, signature, or mark of the British subject, duly attested by the Consul, or unless the discharge is drawn up by two notaries and attested by the British Consul.

ARTICLE XXVIII.

Should any Tunisian subject be found guilty before the Tunisian Courts of procuring false evidence to the injury or prejudice of a British subject, he shall be severely punished by the Tunisian Government. In like manner, the competent British Consular authorities shall severely punish, according to English law, any British subject who may be convicted of the same offence against a Tunisian subject.

ARTICLE XXIX.

If, at any time, Her Majesty's Agent and Consul-General, Consul, Vice-Consul, or Consular Agent, should require the assistance of soldiers, guards, armed boats, or other aid for the purpose of arresting or transporting any British subject, the Tunisian authorities shall immediately comply with the demand, on payment of the usual fees given on such occasions by Tunisian subjects.

ARTICLE XXX.

If a ship belonging to the Queen of Great Britain, or to any of her subjects, should be wrecked or stranded on any part of the coast of the Regency of Tunis, the Tunisian authorities within whose jurisdiction the accident may occur shall, in accordance with the rules of friendship, respect her and assist her in all her wants. They shall allow and enable the master to take such steps as he may think necessary or desirable, and shall take immediate steps for the protection of her crew and of her cargo, and of any goods, papers, or other articles which may be saved from her at the time of the wreck or afterwards; and, moreover, they shall lose no time in informing the nearest British authority of the accident. They shall deliver over to him, without exception or loss, all the cargo, goods, papers, and articles which have been saved and preserved from the wreck, and they shall likewise furnish the master and the crew of the wrecked ship with such victuals and provisions as they may require, for which they shall receive payment. For their friendly aid and services in protecting, saving, preserving, and restoring to the British Consular authorities the goods and contents saved through their exertions from the wrecked vessel, or any portion thereof, they shall be entitled to such an amount of salvage as Her Majesty's Agent and Consul-General and the Chief Tunisian authority on the spot shall judge a fair compensation for their services. The master and crew shall be at liberty to proceed to any place they please, and at any time they may think proper, without any hindrance.

In like manner, the ships of His Highness the Bey, or of Tunisian subjects, shall be assisted and protected in the dominions of the Queen of Great Britain as though they were British ships, and shall be subject only to the same lawful charges of salvage to which British ships, under similar circumstances, are liable.

ARTICLE XXXI.

Should, however (which God forbid), the crew or any portion of the crew of a wrecked or stranded British vessel be murdered by the natives, or its cargo, or any part of its cargo or contents, be stolen by them, the Tunisian Government binds itself to take the most prompt and energetic measures for seizing the marauders or robbers, in order to proceed to their severe punishment. It, moreover, engages to make the most diligent search for the recovery and restitution of the stolen property; and whatever compensation for the damage done to individuals or t their effects, under similar circumstances, is granted, or may hereafter be granted to the subjects of the most favoured nation, or the equivalent of it, shall be also accorded to the subjects of the Queen of Great Britain.

ARTICLE XXXII.

It is agreed and covenanted that if any of the crew of Her Majesty's ships of war or of British merchant-vessels, of whatever nationality they may be, borne on the papers of said ships, shall desert within any port in the Regency of Tunis, the authorities of such port or territory shall be bound to give every assistance in their power for the apprehension of such deserters, on the application of the British authority. In like manner, if any of the crew of the ships of His Highness the Bey, or of Tunisian merchant-vessels, not being slaves, shall desert in any of the ports or harbours, within the dominions of Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain, the authorities of such ports or harbour shall give every assistance in their power for the apprehension of such deserters on the application of the Commanding Officer, Captain or any other Tunisian authority, and no person whatsoever shall protect or harbour such deserters.

ARTICLE XXXIII.

The ships of war belonging to Her Majesty the Queen, and the ships belonging to His Highness the Bey, shall have free liberty to use the ports of each country for washing, cleansing, and repairing any of their defects, and to buy for their use any sort of provisions, alive or dead, or any other necessaries, at the market price, without paying custom to any officer.

And it is moreover agreed that, whenever any of Her Majesty's ships of war shall arrive in the Bay of Tunis, and shall fire a salute of twenty-one guns, the Castle of the Goletta, or the Tunisian ships of war, shall return the same number of guns as the Royal salute to Her Majesty's colours, according to ancient usage.

ARTICLE XXXIV.

The Government of the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in consideration of the sincere friendship that has at all times existed between Her Majesty and His Highness the Bey, agrees that Tunisian ships and cargoes shall be received at the ports and harbours of the British dominions upon the same footing as British vessels and cargoes.

ARTICLE XXXV.

British vessels arriving in any of the Tunisian ports for the purpose of trade or by reason of stress of weather, or to repair damages, shall not be compelled to discharge their cargoes or any portion of their cargoes, and they shall not be made to change their destination or to receive any passengers on board unless it be with their own free will, but they shall be respected, and they shall be allowed to depart without any hindrance. Should they be compelled to land their cargoes, or a portion thereof, in order to effect repairs, they shall also be permitted to re-embark such goods free of any duty or charge whatsoever.

Tunisian vessels shall receive the like friendly treatment in ports and harbours of the British dominions.

ARTICLE XXXVI.

If any British subject should die in any place or territory appertaining to His Highness the Bey, no Governor or other Tunisian officer shall, on any pretence whatsoever, take possession or dispose of, or interfere with, the goods and property of the deceased, but such goods and property, of whatever description, may be taken possession of by his heirs, or by the British Consular authority, without any hindrance or impediment whatsoever on the part of such Governor or Tunisian officer.

If, however, a British subject should die at a place where there is no British Consul, or whilst travelling, in such a case the Tunisian authorities of the place where he died shall be bound to preserve and protect his goods and effects: they shall make, with the assistance of notaries, a faithful inventory of them, which inventory they shall lose no time in sending to the nearest Governor of a place where an English Consul resides.

Should the deceased British subject leave behind him debts due from him to a native, the Consul-General or his deputy shall assist the creditor in the recovery of his claim upon the estate of the deceased; and, likewise, if the deceased should leave behind debts due to him from Tunisians, the Governor, or those who have such power, shall compel the debtors to pay what is due by them to the Consul-General or his deputy for the benefit of the estate of the deceased.

ARTICLE XXXVII.

The British Government and His Highness the Bey, moved by sentiments of humanity and having regard to the free institutions which, under Providence, their respective countries happily enjoy, mutually engage to do all in their power for the suppression of slavery. Whilst, on the one part, the British Government engage not to relax their efforts with friendly powers for the prevention of the barbarous traffic in human beings, and for the emancipation of slaves, His Highness the Bey especially engages, on the other, to cause the Declaration of Moharem, 1262 (23rd January 1846), abolishing for ever slavery in the Regency, to be obeyed and respected, and to use his utmost efforts to discover and punish all persons within his Regency who contravene or act contrary thereto.

ARTICLE XXXVIII.

The British Government and His Highness the Bey engage to do all in their power for the suppression of piracy; and His Highness especially engages to use his utmost efforts to discover and bunish all persons on his coasts or within his territory who may be guilty of that crime, and to aid the British Government in so doing.

ARTICLE XXXIX.

Privateering is now and for ever abolished: His Highness the Bey being desirous to maintain invoilable the neutrality of the Regency of Tunis, it has been established and agreed that in case of war or hostilities, he shall not permit the enemies of Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain to fit out privateers in the ports of the Regency, or to sail from them to prey upon the ships and commerce of her subjects; and it is moreover established that His Highness shall not permit or tolerate in the Regency of Tunis the sale of any prize whatsover which shall have belonged or may belong to the belligerents.

The Queen of Great Britain will cause to be observed the same rules of neutrality towards Tunisian ships and subjects in all the seaports of Her Majesty's dominions.

ARTICLE XL.

In order that the two Contracting Parties may have the opportunity of hereafter treating and agreeing upon such other arrangements as may tend still further to the improvement of their mutual intercourse, and to the advancement of the interest of their respective people, it is agreed that at any time after the expiration of seven years from the date of the present Convention of Commerce and Navigation, either of the High Contracting Parties shall have the right to call upon the other to enter upon a revision of the same; but until such revision shall have been accomplished by common consent, and a new Convention shall have been concluded and put into operation, the present Convention shall continue and remain in full force and effect.

ARTICLE XLI.

If any doubt should arise with regard to the interpretation or the application of any of the stipulations of the present Convention, it is agreed that in Tunis the interpretation the most favourable to British subjects shall be given, and in Her Majesty's dominions that most favourable to Tunisians. It is not pretended by any of the foregoing Articles to stipulate for more than the plain and fair construction of the terms employed, nor to preclude in any manner the Tunisian Government from the exercise of its rights of internal Administration where the exercise of those rights does not evidently infringe upon the privileges accorded by the present Convention to British subjects or British commerce.

ARTICLE XLII.

The stipulations of the present Convention shall come into immediate operation and shall be substituted for the stipulations of all preceding Treaties between Great Britain and Tunis, with the exception of the Convention of the 10th of October 1863, already referred to in Article XVII preceding, which is renewed and confirmed.

This Convention has been written in triplicate, consisting in forty-two Articles, besides the introduction, and contained in the preceding forty-three pages, to be signed by both parties, and to be executed in the manner explained and clearly set forth in its several provisions, having for object the duration, confirmation, and maintenance of amity between them.

Dated Monday, the sixteenth day of Gumad-el-Thany, 1292 of the Hegira, corresponding to the nineteenth of July 1875.

No. 3386 P.—In supersession of the Notification by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, dated the 16th December 1867, the Governor General in Council is pleased to declare the boundaries of the "Naga Hills District" to be as follows:—

Boundaries of the Naga Hills Agency.

North.—From the sources of the Dikhorri River in the Rengmah Naga Hills a line along the summit of the hills from which the Longungtun, Barpung and Tarapung streams take their rise, to the sources of the Dahorijan, thence down the Dahorijan until it meets the Kolliani River, up the latter river to its junction with a small stream that flows into it from the west, about ¼ a mile, below the Aitonia village of Kolliani, from whence in a straight line, due east for about 2 miles, until it cuts the Doigurang River, then up the latter river until it meets the path leading from Murphúlani to the Nambor, from whence along that path for about ¼ of a mile until it meets the Tarajan, thence along the latter stream to its junction with the Dhansiri River, and from thence up this latter river to its junction with the Doyang River, and finally up along the course of the Doyang River to its junction with the Haripani.

South.—From the sources of the Langting River below the peak about 3 miles almost due east of Semkhor a line along the summit of the hills from which the Jinam, Jhiri, and Makho Rivers take their rise, until it reaches the hill above the Naga village of Ungalnah or Galnah, from whence almost due east down a spur from that mountain until it cuts the Chuline River, from thence down the latter river until its junction with the Barak River and up the course of the latter river until its junction with the Zupoo River, from whence up the latter stream to its source in the Burail range of mountains below the Tenepoo Peak, from whence a line of about 2½ miles along the summit of that range to the Khunho Peak, and from thence down the main feeder of the Zullo River to a spot about a ¼ of a mile below where it is joined by this stream which has its source below the Tenepu Peak [and flows between villages of Veswemah and Khezamah] and from this spot up the small streamlet below the Nápu Hill, on to the crest of the ridge dividing the Zullo from the Sijjo and between the villages of Kidimah and Phusami, then a line along the summit of this ridge from boundary pillar to boundary pillar for a distance of about ¼ of a mile where it turns off to the east, down the centre of a spur running between the two small feeders of a small stream named the Merori, thence down the latter stream to its junction with the Sijjo River, then up the latter river for about a mile until it meets a small stream named the Sokharri [flowing into it from the east] which stream then forms the boundary up to its source at Tellizo Peak.

West.—A line from the source of the Langting River in the Barrial mountains below the Peak about 3 miles east of Semkhor down the course of that river to its junction with the Diyúng River, and from thence down the latter river until it meets the Lamsakhong Nuddi, thence up the latter stream to its point of exit out of the hills, from whence along the foot of the hills, [in a succession of straight lines from head-land to head-land, that is to say from the foot of one spur to the foot of the next in a straight line, and not following all the sinuosities every little bay or valley] crossing the Lonkajan and the Dikhreng Khrong Nuddi at their respective points of exit from the hills and until it meets the Dimorijan, from whence down the latter stream as far as the village of Kaki Ramsa, from which point it turns off to the north, following the path between the latter village and the village of Sakher on the left bank of the Jamoona River, from whence up that river until it meets Samagurijan, thence up the latter stream for about 2 miles to its point of exit out of the Rengmah Naga Hills, from whence a line along the foot of the hills [again going from head-land to head-land] crossing the Zikok Digolpani, Salabor Longsompi and Horghati streams at their respective points of exit out of the hills and until it meets the Dikhorri River, which latter river then forms the boundary up to its source in the Rengmah Naga Hills.

The Eastern boundary is for the present left undefined.

No. 3414 P.

Fort William, the 31st December 1875.

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS THE PRINCE OF WALES arrived at Calcutta on Thursday, the 23rd December 1875, at 2 P. M., under a Royal Salute fired from the Ramparts of Fort William.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, with his Personal Staff and two Officers of the Government of Bengal, proceeded to Diamond Harbour to meet HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS and accompanied the PRINCE to Calcutta.

At 2-30 P. M., His Excellency the Viceroy visited HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS the PRINCE OF WALES on board Her Majesty's Steamer Serapis.

At 4 P. M., a deputation from the Government of India, consisting of the Secretaries to the Government of India in the Home, Public Works, and Military Departments, and the Military Secretary and two Aides-de-Camp to the Viceroy, waited upon the PRINCE OF WALES.

At 4-30 P. M., HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS accompanied by the Lieutenant-Governor [illegible] by HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS' Suite embarked in the [illegible] with Naval honors. The Members of the deputation from the Government of India and the Officers of the Lieutenant-Governor's Suite preceded HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS to the shore.

The PRINCE OF WALES landed at Prinsep's Ghât under a Salute of 21 guns from the Ramparts of Fort William, which commenced as HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS stepped ashore.

A Guard of Honor, furnished by the Calcutta Volunteers, was drawn up at Prinsep's Ghât.

The Viceroy, attended by his Personal Staff, received HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS on the Pontoon, where the PRINCE received the following address from the City of Calcutta:—

"MAY IT PLEASE YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS,

"WE, the Corporation of Justices of the Peace, and the undersigned Citizens of Calcutta, approach YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS with a most respectful and heartfelt welcome on this joyous occasion of the visit of YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS to this great Dependency of the British Crown, to express to YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS, and through YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS to our beloved QUEEN, the earnest assurance of our allegiance, loyalty and devotion to Her Most Gracious Majesty's Person and Throne.

"2. The advent of the Heir of our Gracious Sovereign to this country is a source of universal rejoicing and gratification to the people. The occasion awakens associations connected with the many mighty and ancient dynasties of this vast Empire, now so happily centred in the Royal Throne of England; and we hail with no ordinary enthusiasm the presence of the Heir to that Throne in the Capital City of Her Majesty's Indian Empire.

"3. We doubt not that this visit of YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS will be for ever remembered as a great and prominent event in Indian history—an event which, while strengthening and cementing with fresh bonds the loyalty and attachment of the people to their Sovereign, affords them an additional pledge of Her Majesty's unceasing interest in their welfare and advancement.

"4. In this City YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS will meet with abundant indications of the moral and material progress, and of the prosperity, which everywhere follow on British rule. In its numerous structures and works of public utility, in its extensive trade, and in the spread of education and intelligence amongst its citizens will be found all the signs of a prosperous and contented people.

"5. The only regret, mingling with the universal enthusiasm evoked by the intelligence of the projected visit of YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS, was caused by the intimation that the PRINCESS OF WALES would not accompany the Royal Progress through India. We respectfully beg YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS to convey to Your Royal Consort the sincere expression of our regret that we have thus been unable to prove to HER ROYAL HIGHNESS our loyal devotion and attachment by welcoming with acclamation Her bright and gracious presence among us.

"6. Respectfully wishing YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS the fullest enjoyment in Your interesting Tour, and earnestly hoping that YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS will bear away pleasing impressions of the country and its people,

We remain, with the highest respect,

YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS'

Most dutiful and most obedient Servants."

To this address HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS returned the following reply:—

"Gentlemen,—I thank you for your welcome to the Capital of British India.

"It is a great personal pleasure to me to find myself in a city so full of historical associations connected with our Empire in the East.

"It is a still greater gratification to be received with such demonstrations of loyalty to the British Crown, and to see on every side the marks of prosperity and contentment, of intelligence and progress.

"I will convey to the QUEEN your expressions of loyalty and gratitude to Her Majesty, and to the PRINCESS OF WALES what you so kindly say of your regret that she was unable to visit India.

"The PRINCESS, I can assure you, very sincerely shares this feeling. She would most gladly have accompanied me, had not the fatigues of such a long journey, and the necessity for watching over our children at home, proved insuperable obstacles.

"I feel certain that every day I remain in India will deepen and strengthen the impressions of interest in the country and its people which I have always felt, and will thus realise your anticipations of increased pleasure from my longer stay among you."

The Commander-in-Chief, the Chief Justice of Bengal, the Bishop of Calcutta, the Members of Council, and the Officers of Government noted in the margin, were in attendance at the Ghât. POST OFFICE.

NOTIFICATIONS.

DARJEELING LINE.

Calcutta, the 16th June 1875.

No. $\frac{7586.}{L.\ M.\ 6\ No.\ 8.}$—During the present season the experiment will be tried of offering the public a less expensive mode of conveyance to Darjeeling.

2. A limited number of wagonettes have been built, which are so constructed as to enable two passengers to lie down at full length. They are provided with cushions and hoods, and drawn by two horses, but they are not sufficiently protected from the weather to make them good for ladies or invalids. These are available at cheaper rates than the ordinary carriages, viz., 4 annas a mile for each passenger, or Rs. 25 for the through journey.

3. A wagonette will start from Karagola every day except Sunday and Monday, leaving on the arrival of the steamer, and will return from Silligoree every day except Monday and Tuesday, starting at 11 A. M.

4. No luggage can be carried except a hand-bag, which should not weigh more than five seers. This rule is necessary and must not under any circumstances be infringed, as these vehicles convey the parcel mail. One traveller who, by the payment of Rs. 50 engages a whole wagonette, can take two maunds of luggage with him free.

5. Application for wagonettes should be made in the usual way to Post Master, Purneah, and should state which of the other forms of accommodation the traveller wishes in case a wagonette is not available.

 The Rig-Veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has very properly been made one of the principal class-books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholar-like knowledge of the Vedic hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only, yet, as soon as editions, translations, grammars, and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible, I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar, who cannot construe the hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country.—Extract from Preface.

 The Rig-Veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has very properly been made one of the principal class-books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholar-like knowledge of the Vedic hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only, yet, as soon as editions, translations, grammars, and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible, I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar, who cannot construe the hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country.—Extract from Preface.

POST OFFICE.

NOTICE.—Consequent upon the Postal Union Treaty recently concluded at Berne, alterations have been made in the rates and conditions of postage to certain foreign countries, the route to which lies through the United Kingdom.

2. As respects those countries, therefore, the following revised table is given in supersession of the rates which appear in the Schedule at pages 23 to 25 of the Indian Postal Guide, dated 1st June 1875, under the head of "countries served through England."

COUNTRIES, &c.

I, II, III. These figures refer to the remarks following the Schedule respecting the treatment of unpaid covers, charges on delivery, &c.
Where the means of conveyance from India is not specified, it is always by British Packet, i. e., P. & O. Co.
Where the description of the route contains no mention of a particular Indian Office, the mails are sent viâ Bombay, or from Aden in the case of correspondence posted at Aden.
The name immediately following the word "through" is that of the country or Office to which the mails are consigned by the Indian Post Office.
"Viâ C. M." means that the route is viâ Calcutta or Madras, according to the locality where posted.

EACH LETTER

a denotes that the cover is liable to additional postage on delivery.
c denotes that the pre-payment of postage is compulsory.
d denotes that registered covers are charged at double the ordinary rates (to be prepaid), no separate fee being levied.
The registration fee as well as the postage must, in all cases of registration, be prepaid in full by stamps.
For the postage on heavy letters, see remarks preceding this Schedule, clause (6).

MISCELLANEOUS.

The 21st August 1875.

No. 1707*A.*—The following tea plantations in Kumaun, the property of Government, will be offered for sale by public auction at the Senior Assistant Commissioner's Office, Almora, on Wednesday, the 1st of December, 1875, at noon:—

Hawalbagh.—Forty-six miles from the plains by bridle-road, and six from Almora. Area, about one hundred acres, after excluding the house known as Mr. Traill's, with its compound, which will not be sold: said house and ground are in an outlying corner of the estate, and are to be set apart for travellers. Separated from the plantation by the Kosi river (suspension bridge) is a pine forest of one hundred and two acres belonging to the estate, but in which neighbouring villages have the right to graze their cattle. The garden, having latterly been used as a nursery for fruit trees, the whole of the area is not under tea. There are on the estate two large slated houses (exclusive of Traill's house), a slated factory, two slated godowns, a slated barrack for tea-makers, and numerous slated out-offices. The height of the houses above sea-level is 4,000 feet, and the lands are not much higher or lower. Upset price Rs. 25,000.

Communications.—A good bridle-road, 8 to 10 feet wide and bridged, runs to (1) Haldwani, (2) Kaladungi (vid Naini Tal), and (3) Ramnagar (vid Khyrna). From Haldwani to Bareilly Railway Station, 60 miles, over a pucka cart-road; from Kaladungi to Moradabad Railway Station, 48 miles, on partly pucka road; and from Ramnagar to Moradabad, 45 miles, vid Kashipur, of which 25 miles, more or less, are a kutcha fair-weather road, bridged. Bridge-of-boats on Ramganga north of Moradabad. From Ramnagar up there is a cart-road (Kosi river not bridged) to Ranikhet, 56 miles; and to the Hawalbagh plantation, where the Kosi river is being bridged, 19 miles.

1, 2, 3—markets at the foot of the hills.

Ayar Toli.—In Kattyur, consisting of about 2,546 acres. The area under tea was some years ago considerable. About 700 acres are cleared, and nearly 1,500 acres consist of jungle, of which part may be unculturable: a portion of the estate named Bineuli, 919 acres, is held under a perpetual lease from the Nagnath Temple, at an annual rent of Rs. 24. There were on the estate a house, factory, godown, and numerous out-offices, all slated; but all these are in bad repair. Height of house above sea-level, 5,200 feet, and the plantation ranges from that height to 4,400 feet. Upset price, Rs. 17,000.

Communications.—To Hawalbagh, 24 miles by bridle-road, thence as detailed under Hawalbagh.

These two estates will be put up to auction separately, at the upset prices named, and sold in fee simple to the highest bidder, free of all demands for land revenue, but subject to the rights already named in each case, and also to payment of customary cesses now in force, or that may be imposed hereafter.

Both estates have been surveyed, and maps may be seen at the District Office, Almora. Intending purchasers must satisfy themselves as to the present condition of the estates, and on all other matters involved in their sale. The purchasers must deposit 5 per cent. of the purchase-money at the time of sale, and the balance on or before the 1st of January, 1876, when possession will be given: failing payment in full, the deposit will be forfeited, and the estate re-sold

By order of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces.

NOTIFICATION.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The 21st August 1875.

No. 1707 A.—The following tea plantations in Kumaun, the property of Government, will be offered for sale by public auction at the Senior Assistant Commissioner's Office, Almora, on Wednesday, the 1st of December, 1875, at noon:—

Hawalbagh.—Forty-six miles from the plains by bridle-road, and six from Almora. Area, about one hundred acres, after excluding the house known as Mr. Traill's, with its compound, which will not be sold: said house and ground are in an outlying corner of the estate, and are to be set apart for travellers. Separated from the plantation by the Kosi river (suspension bridge) is a pine forest of one hundred and two acres belonging to the estate, but in which neighbouring villages have the right to graze their cattle. The garden, having latterly been used as a nursery for fruit trees, the whole of the area is not under tea. There are on the estate two large slated houses (exclusive of Traill's house), a slated factory, two slated godowns, a slated barrack for tea-makers, and numerous slated out-offices. The height of the houses above sea-level is 4,000 feet, and the lands are not much higher or lower. Upset price Rs. 25,000.

Communications.—A good bridle-road, 8 to 10 feet wide and bridged, runs to (1) Haldwani, (2) Kaladungi (viâ Naini Tal), and (3) Ramnagar (viâ Khyrna). From Haldwani to Bareilly Railway Station, 60 miles, over a pucka cart-road; from Kaladungi to Moradabad Railway Station, 48 miles, on partly pucka road; and from Ramnagar to Moradabad, 45 miles, viâ Kashipur, of which 25 miles, more or less, are a kutcha fair-weather road, bridged. Bridge-of-boats on Ramganga north of Moradabad. From Ramnagar up there is a cart-road (Kosi river not bridged) to Ranikhet, 56 miles; and to the Hawalbagh plantation, where the Kosi river is being bridged, 19 miles.

1, 2, 3—markets at the foot of the hills.

Ayar Tobi.—In Kattyur, consisting of about 2,546 acres. The area under tea was some years ago considerable. About 700 acres are cleared, and nearly 1,500 acres consist of jungle, of which part may be unculturable: a portion of the estate named Binculi, 919 acres, is held under a perpetual lease from the Nagnath Temple, at an annual rent of Rs. 24. There were on the estate a house, factory, godown, and numerous out-offices, all slated; but all these are in bad repair. Height of house above sea-level, 5,200 feet, and the plantation ranges from that height to 4,400 feet. Upset price, Rs. 17,000.

Communications.—To Hawalbagh, 24 miles by bridle-road, thence as detailed under Hawalbagh.

These two estates will be put up to auction separately, at the upset prices named, and sold in fee simple to the highest bidder, free of all demands for land revenue, but subject to the rights already named in each case, and also to payment of customary cesses now in force, or that may be imposed hereafter.

Both estates have been surveyed, and maps may be seen at the District Office, Almora. Intending purchasers must satisfy themselves as to the present condition of the estates, and on all other matters involved in their sale. The purchasers must deposit 5 per cent. of the purchase-money at the time of sale, and the balance on or before the 1st of January, 1876, when possession will be given: failing payment in full, the deposit will be forfeited, and the estate re-sold

By order of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces.

A. COLVIN,
Offg. Secy. to Govt., N. W. Provinces.

NOTIFICATION.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The 21st August 1875.

No. 1707 A.—The following tea plantations in Kumaun, the property of Government, will be offered for sale by public auction at the Senior Assistant Commissioner's Office, Almora, on Wednesday, the 1st of December, 1875, at noon:—

Hawalbagh.—Forty-six miles from the plains by bridle-road, and six from Almora. Area, about one hundred acres, after excluding the house known as Mr. Traill's, with its compound, which will not be sold: said house and ground are in an outlying corner of the estate, and are to be set apart for travellers. Separated from the plantation by the Kosi river (suspension bridge) is a pine forest of one hundred and two acres belonging to the estate, but in which neighbouring villages have the right to graze their cattle. The garden, having latterly been used as a nursery for fruit trees, the whole of the area is not under tea. There are on the estate two large slated houses (exclusive of Traill's house), a slated factory, two slated godowns, a slated barrack for tea-makers, and numerous slated out-offices. The height of the houses above sea-level is 4,000 feet, and the lands are not much higher or lower. Upset price Rs. 25,000.

1, 2, 3—markets at the foot of the hills.

Communications.—A good bridle-road, 8 to 10 feet wide and bridged, runs to (1) Haldwani, (2) Kaladungi (viâ Naini Tal), and (3) Ramnagar (viâ Khyrna). From Haldwani to Bareilly Railway Station, 60 miles, over a pucka cart-road; from Kaladungi to Moradabad Railway Station, 48 miles, on partly pucka road; and from Ramnagar to Moradabad, 45 miles, viâ Kashipur, of which 25 miles, more or less, are a kutcha fair-weather road, bridged. Bridge-of-boats on Ramganga north of Moradabad. From Ramnagar up there is a cart-road (Kosi river not bridged) to Ranikhet, 56 miles; and to the Hawalbagh plantation, where the Kosi river is being bridged, 19 miles.

Ayar Toli.—In Kattyur, consisting of about 2,546 acres. The area under tea was some years ago considerable. About 700 acres are cleared, and nearly 1,500 acres consist of jungle, of which part may be unculturable: a portion of the estate named Binculi, 919 acres, is held under a perpetual lease from the Nagnath Temple, at an annual rent of Rs. 24. There were on the estate a house, factory, godown, and numerous out-offices, all slated; but all these are in bad repair. Height of house above sea-level, 5,200 feet, and the plantation ranges from that height to 4,400 feet. Upset price, Rs. 17,000.

Communications.—To Hawalbagh, 24 miles by bridle-road, thence as detailed under Hawalbagh.

These two estates will be put up to auction separately, at the upset prices named, and sold in fee simple to the highest bidder, free of all demands for land revenue, but subject to the rights already named in each case, and also to payment of customary cesses now in force, or that may be imposed hereafter.

Both estates have been surveyed, and maps may be seen at the District Office, Almora. Intending purchasers must satisfy themselves as to the present condition of the estates, and on all other matters involved in their sale. MISCELLANEOUS.

The 21st August 1875.

No. 1707 A.—The following tea plantations in Kumaun, the property of Government, will be offered for sale by public auction at the Senior Assistant Commissioner's Office, Almora, on Wednesday, the 1st of December, 1875, at noon :—

Hawalbagh.—Forty-six miles from the plains by bridle-road, and six from Almora. Area, about one hundred acres, after excluding the house known as Mr. Traill's, with its compound, which will not be sold : said house and ground are in an outlying corner of the estate, and are to be set apart for travellers. Separated from the plantation by the Kosi river (suspension bridge) is a pine forest of one hundred and two acres belonging to the estate, but in which neighbouring villages have the right to graze their cattle. The garden, having latterly been used as a nursery for fruit trees, the whole of the area is not under tea. There are on the estate two large slated houses (exclusive of Traill's house), a slated factory, two slated godowns, a slated barrack for tea-makers, and numerous slated out-offices. The height of the houses above sea-level is 4,000 feet, and the lands are not much higher or lower. Upset price Rs. 25,000.

Communications.—A good bridle-road, 8 to 10 feet wide and bridged, runs to (1) Haldwani, (2) Kaladungi (vid Naini Tal), and (3) Ramnagar (vid Khyrna). From Haldwani to Bareilly Railway Station, 60 miles, over a pucka cart-road; from Kaladungi to Moradabad Railway Station, 48 miles, on partly pucka road; and from Ramnagar to Moradabad, 45 miles, vid

1, 2, 3—markets at the foot of the hills.

Kashipur, of which 25 miles, more or less, are a kutcha fair-weather road, bridged. Bridge-of-boats on Ramganga north of Moradabad. From Ramnagar up there is a cart-road (Kosi river not bridged) to Ranikhet, 56 miles; and to the Hawalbagh plantation, where the Kosi river is being bridged, 19 miles.

Ayar Toli.—In Kattyur, consisting of about 2,546 acres. The area under tea was some years ago considerable. About 700 acres are cleared, and nearly 1,500 acres consist of jungle, of which part may be unculturable : a portion of the estate named Binauli, 919 acres, is held under a perpetual lease from the Nagnath Temple, at an annual rent of Rs. 24. There were on the estate a house, factory, godown, and numerous out-offices, all slated; but all these are in bad repair. Height of house above sea-level, 5,200 feet, and the plantation ranges from that height to 4,400 feet. Upset price, Rs. 17,000.

Communications.—To Hawalbagh, 24 miles by bridle-road, thence as detailed under Hawalbagh.

These two estates will be put up to auction separately, at the upset prices named, and sold in fee simple to the highest bidder, free of all demands for land revenue, but subject to the rights already named in each case, and also to payment of customary cesses now in force, or that may be imposed hereafter.

Both estates have been surveyed, and maps may be seen at the District Office, Almora. Intending purchasers must satisfy themselves as to the present condition of the estates, and on all other matters involved in their sale. The purchasers must deposit 5 per cent. of the purchase-money at the time of sale, and the balance on or before the 1st of January, 1876, when possession will be given : failing payment in full, the deposit will be forfeited, and the estate re-sold.

HIGH COURT.

HIGH COURT OF JUDICATURE AT FORT WILLIAM IN BENGAL:

(CIVIL APPELLATE JURISDICTION).

Rules for the preparation of Paper-books in Regular Appeals.

1. In all Regular Appeals, the Deputy Registrar shall, forthwith upon the receipt of the record, make and print a complete and accurate list of all the papers contained therein in the form given below :—

1	2	3	4	5
Number on the record.	Mark, if any, in the Court below.	Description and date of paper on the record.	Whether the whole or a portion thereof is to be inserted in the Paper-book.	Page in the Paper-book.

In these lists, Columns 4 and 5 will be left blank. Column 4 will be filled in by the parties as hereinafter directed, and Column 5 by the Officer of the Court. The papers are to be arranged in the order directed by Rule X of the Rules of 30th July 1870, as to Privy Council Appeals.

2. As soon as this list shall have been prepared, the Deputy Registrar shall deliver one copy thereof to each Appellant or set of Appellants, appearing separately, or to his or their Vakeels respectively, free of charge. Further copies shall be supplied to any of the parties to the appeal at the rate of 4 annas a copy.

3. Within fourteen days after receipt of the list above-mentioned the Appellant or Appellants shall deliver to the Deputy Registrar a copy of such list signed by such Appellant or Appellants or his or their Advocate or Vakeel, shewing by filling up Column 4 of the list what papers or portions of papers in the record it will be necessary to read at the hearing of the appeal.

4. In such list shall be specified not only the papers forming that portion of the record which is relied upon by the Appellant or Appellants, but all the papers in the record so far as may be necessary to enable the Court to dispose of the appeal.

5. Notice of such list having been filed shall be forthwith given by the Deputy Registrar to the Respondents who have appeared or their Vakeels respectively.

6. Any party Respondent or his Vakeel may without fee inspect and at his own expense take a copy of the list filed under Rule 3.

7. Each party Respondent shall, within fourteen days after service on him of the notice under Rule 5, deliver to the Deputy Registrar a copy of the list mentioned in Rule 2, shewing by filling up Column 4 of the list what papers or portions of papers, if any, not marked as necessary in the list furnished by the Appellants, he considers it will be necessary to have read at the hearing of the appeal.

8. If any Respondent considers that any portion of the record marked in the Appellants' list is unnecessary, he shall so state, by writing in Column 4 the word "unnecessary."

9. If any Respondent considers that any portion of the record has not been marked as necessary by the Appellants, which under Rules 3 and 4 ought to have been so marked, he may, within three days after filing his own list under Rule 7, and on notice to the Appellants, apply to the Court to compel the Appellants to add that portion to their own list; and if such application be granted, the portion so added shall be struck out of the Respondent's list.

10. If no list be filed by any Respondent within the time specified, the Paper-book will be made up according to the Appellants' list.

11. Where several Appellants or Respondents appear by one Advocate or Vakeel, one list only shall be filed by each set of parties so appearing.

12. If all or a considerable portion of the necessary papers have already been printed in any former Paper-book the Appellant or Appellants shall so state in his or their petition of appeal and in the list furnished under Rule 3. Nothing printed in such former Paper-book shall except by special order of Court be again printed, if sufficient copies of that Paper-book be procurable. But copies of the former book shall be annexed to the new book and a refereuce shall be made to the page in the former book in which each particular document or deposition is to be found.

13. Immediately upon the receipt of any list filed under Rule 3 or 7, the Deputy Registrar shall make and deliver to the party furnishing it an estimate of the costs of transcribing, translating, printing, and preparing the portions of the record marked in such list as necessary to be read, or added thereto by order of the Court. Each party furnishing a list must, within two weeks after the delivery to him or them of such estimate, deposit with the Accountant of the Court the whole amount thereof.

14. If it shall be ascertained at any time, that the sum deposited by any party will not cover the usual costs payable in respect of the papers marked as necessary in the list furnished by him, or added thereto by the order of the Court, the difference shall be estimated by the proper Officer, and shall be paid within two weeks after demand, by such party.

15. In case of any party failing to file the necessary list under Rule 3, or to make the necessary deposit under Rules 13 and 14 in due time, the Deputy Registrar shall at once cause the appeal to be set down before the Division Court, to which it belongs; and if the party in default does not satisfy the Court as to his delay, the appeal may be dismissed for want of prosecution, or the Court may pass such other order as it may deem proper.

16. If the sum deposited by any party shall exceed the costs for which he is liable under the above rules, the difference shall be refunded as soon as the actual costs incurred are ascertained.

17. The Court may, at any time, upon sufficient cause shewn, enlarge the time for furnishing any list or making any deposit required by these rules. Such application for enlargement must be made before the time expires, except in special cases; and it must be supported by an affidavit, stating the circumstances under which the delay took place. It must also be accompanied by a certificate of the Deputy Registrar shewing the dates on which the several directions herein contained, have been complied with; which certificate the Deputy Registrar shall grant upon payment of a fee of Rs. 2.

18. A separate account shall be kept of the costs of transcribing, translating, and printing the papers contained in each list.

19. The Deputy Registrar shall cause the portions of the record, in respect of which the proper deposit has been made, to be (where necessary) translated into English, and shall cause the same to be printed; and this, together with such lists as aforesaid, shall form the Paper-book to be used by the Court at the hearing of the appeal.

20. If there be separate appeals against the same judgment, complete lists shall be filed by the parties in each appeal; and the Deputy Registrar shall, subject to the order of the Court, determine in what proportions the deposits are to be made. Nothing shall be printed twice over; but references shall be inserted in the proper places, showing where the several portions elsewhere printed are to be found.

21. No portion of the record, which is not contained in the Paper-book, shall be read at the hearing of the appeal without the special leave of the Court. If such special leave be granted, it shall be competent to the Court to order such portion to be translated and transcribed or printed at the cost of the party requiring the same to be read.

22. The costs of transcribing, translating, printing and preparing the Paper-book shall be costs in the appeal, unless the Court hearing the appeal shall otherwise direct.

23. The Court may, upon the application of any party, and upon good and sufficient cause shewn, give such special directions as to any of the matters to which these rules relate as may seem fit, and may by special order exempt any party from the operation of any portion of these rules: Provided always that the list as directed by Rules 3 and 7 must be filed in all cases, unless the party can satisfy the Court that he is unable to prepare the list himself, and that he is without any professional assistance in the litigation.

24. It shall be open to any party, at any time before the translations are completed, to deposit the amount necessary for defraying the expenses of examination of the translations before the same are printed, such amount being fixed by the Deputy Registrar; and upon such deposit being made, the translations will be examined in the same way that the translations in cases appealed to the Privy Council are examined, by one of the Sworn Examiners of the Court, and certified accordingly. The amount so deposited will be allowed as costs to the party making the deposit, if the Court shall so order.

25. Upon special application and deposit of the extra costs, the record will be printed in the form directed by the Privy Council.

26. In ordinary cases, 25 copies of the Paper-book will be printed, but the Deputy Registrar may at his discretion increase the number. Two copies of the Paper-book may be obtained by each party appearing separately free of charge.

27. As soon as the Paper-book is ready for delivery to the parties, the case shall be inserted by the Deputy Registrar in a list to be hung up in the usual places; and the case shall not be inserted in the list of cases ready for hearing until four days after its insertion in the first of the above-mentioned lists.

28. Appeals against admissions of or refusals to admit a Will to Probate, shall be considered as Regular Appeals within the meaning of these rules.

29. Every Paper-book shall have printed on the cover a statement of the amount of costs incurred by each party in respect thereof.

30. These rules shall apply to all Regular Appeals filed after the 1st day of November 1875.

15*th September*, 1875.

NOTIFICATION.—MISCELLANEOUS.

The 11th October 1875.

No. 2083 A.—The following Notification regarding the sale of the Government tea plantations at Ayar Toli and Hawalbagh in Kumaun, is published for general information in supersession of Notification No. 1707A., dated 21st August 1875. The portions of this Notification which are additions to or alterations of the former Notification are printed in italics:—

The following tea plantations in Kumaun, the property of Government, will be offered for sale by public auction at the Senior Assistant Commissioner's Office, Almora, on Wednesday, the 1st of December 1875, at noon:—

HAWALBAGH.

Forty-six miles from the plains by bridle-road, and six from Almora. Area about one hundred acres, after excluding the house known as Mr. Traill's, with its compound, which will not be sold: said house and ground are in an outlying corner of the estate, and are to be set apart for travellers. Separated from the plantation by the Kosi river (suspension bridge) is a pine forest of one hundred and two acres, belonging to the estate, but in which neighbouring villages have the right to graze their cattle. The garden having latterly been used as a nursery for fruit trees, the whole of the area is not under tea. There are on the estate two large slated houses (exclusive of Traill's house, which will not be sold), a slated factory, two slated godowns, a slated barrack for tea-makers, and numerous slated out-offices. The height of the houses above sea-level is 4,000 feet, and the lands are not much higher or lower. Upset price, Rs. 25,000.

Communications.—A good bridle-road, 8 to 10 feet wide and bridged, runs to (1) Haldwani, (2) Kaladungi (vid Naini Tal), and (3) Ramnagar (vid Khyrna). From Haldwani to Bareilly Railway Station 60 miles, over a pucka cart-road; from Kaladungi to Moradabad Railway Station, 48 miles, on partly pucka road; and from Ramnagar to Moradabad, 45 miles, vid Kashipur, of which 25 miles more or less are a kutcha fair-weather road, bridged. Bridge-of-boats on Ramganga north of Moradabad. From Ramnagar up there is a cart-road (Kosi river not bridged) to Ranikhet, 56 miles; and to the Hawalbagh plantation, where the Kosi river is being bridged, 19 miles.

1, 2, 3,—markets at the foot of the hills.

AYAR TOLI.

In Kattyur, consisting of about 1,627 acres. The area under tea was some years ago considerable. About 700 acres are cleared, and most of the remaining 927 acres consist of jungle, of which part may be unculturable. There were on the estate a house, factory, godown, and numerous out-offices, all slated; but all these are in bad repair. Height of house above sea-level 5,200 feet, and the plantation ranges from that height to 4,400 feet. Upset price, Rs. 17,000.

Communications.—To Hawalbagh, 24 miles by bridle-road, thence as detailed under Hawalbagh.

These two estates will be put up to auction separately at the upset prices named, and sold in fee-simple to the highest bidder, free of all demands for land revenue, but subject to the rights already named in each case, and also to payment of customary cesses now in force, or that may be imposed hereafter.

Both estates have been surveyed, and maps may be seen at the District Office, Almora. Intending purchasers must satisfy themselves as to the present condition of the estates, and on all other matters involved in their sale. The purchasers must deposit 5 per cent. of the purchase-money at the time of sale, and the balance on or before the 1st of January 1876, when possession will be given; failing payment in full the deposit will be forfeited, and the estates re-sold.

N. B.—No part of the Ayar Toli estate is held under a lease from the Nagnath Temple as stated in the former Notification No. 1707A., dated 21st August 1875.

By order of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor, North-Western Provinces.

NOTIFICATION.—MISCELLANEOUS.

The 11th October 1875.

No. 2083 A.—The following Notification regarding the sale of the Government tea plantations at Ayar Toli and Hawalbagh in Kumaun, is published for general information in supersession of Notification No. 1707A., dated 21st August 1875. The portions of this Notification which are additions to or alterations of the former Notification are printed in italics:—

The following tea plantations in Kumaun, the property of Government, will be offered for sale by public auction at the Senior Assistant Commissioner's Office, Almora, on Wednesday, the 1st of December 1875, at noon:—

HAWALBAGH.

Forty-six miles from the plains by bridle-road, and six from Almora. Area about one hundred acres, after excluding the house known as Mr. Traill's, with its compound, which will not be sold: said house and ground are in an outlying corner of the estate, and are to be set apart for travellers. Separated from the plantation by the Kosi river (suspension bridge) is a pine forest of one hundred and two acres, belonging to the estate, but in which neighbouring villages have the right to graze their cattle. The garden having latterly been used as a nursery for fruit trees, the whole of the area is not under tea. There are on the estate two large slated houses (exclusive of Traill's house, which will not be sold), a slated factory, two slated godowns, a slated barrack for tea-makers, and numerous slated out-offices. The height of the houses above sea-level is 4,000 feet, and the lands are not much higher or lower. Upset price, Rs. 25,000.

Communications.—A good bridle-road, 8 to 10 feet wide and bridged, runs to (1) Haldwani, (2) Kaladungi (vid Naini Tal), and (3) Ramnagar (vid Khyrna). From Haldwani to Bareilly Railway Station 60 miles, over a pucka cart-road; from Kaladungi to Moradabad Railway Station, 48 miles, on partly pucka road; and from Ramnagar to Moradabad, 45 miles, vid Kashipur, of which 25 miles more or less are a kutcha fair-weather road, bridged. Bridge-of-boats on Ramganga north of Moradabad. From Ramnagar up there is a cart-road (Kosi river not bridged) to Ranikhet, 56 miles; and to the Hawalbagh plantation, where the Kosi river is being bridged, 19 miles.

1, 2, 3, markets at the foot of the hills.

AYAR TOLI.

In Kattyur, consisting of about 1,627 acres. The area under tea was some years ago considerable. About 700 acres are cleared, and most of the remaining 927 acres consist of jungle, of which part may be unculturable. There were on the estate a house, factory, godown, and numerous out-offices, all slated; but all these are in bad repair. Height of house above sea-level 5,200 feet, and the plantation ranges from that height to 4,400 feet. Upset price, Rs. 17,000.

Communications.—To Hawalbagh, 24 miles by bridle-road, thence as detailed under Hawalbagh.

These two estates will be put up to auction separately at the upset prices named, and sold in fee-simple to the highest bidder, free of all demands for land revenue, but subject to the rights already named in each case, and also to payment of customary cesses now in force, or that may be imposed hereafter.

Both estates have been surveyed, and maps may be seen at the District Office, Almora. Intending purchasers must satisfy themselves as to the present condition of the estates, and on all other matters involved in their sale. The purchasers must deposit 5 per cent. of the purchase-money at the time of sale, and the balance on or before the 1st of January 1876, when possession will be given; failing payment in full the deposit will be forfeited, and the estates re-sold.

N. B.—No part of the Ayar Toli estate is held under a lease from the Nagnath Temple as stated in the former Notification No. 1707A., dated 21st August 1875.

By order of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor, North-Western Provinces.

BENGAL CIVIL FUND.

At a Half-yearly General Meeting of Subscribers to the Bengal Civil Fund, held at the Town Hall, Calcutta, on Wednesday, the 28th July 1875.

PRESENT.—The Hon'ble V. H. Schalch, C. S. I.; The Hon'ble W. F. McDonell, V. C.; The Hon'ble H. J. Reynolds; W. S. Wells, Esq.; J. D. Maclean, Esq.; G. K. Webster, Esq.; W. H. Grimley, Esq.; W. M. Souttar, Esq.; W. H. Verner, Esq.; H. J. S. Cotton, Esq.; and C. P. L. Macaulay, Esq.

W. S. Wells, Esq., in the chair.

Read the following report submitted by the Managers:—

REPORT.

The Managers submit their proceedings for the past half-year for the consideration and sanction of the meeting.

Subject to the approval of Subscribers, they have admitted to the benefits of the Fund the following families:—

Mrs. Macnaghten	... £	300
Children ...	... „	410
	„	710
Less ⅓ under Rule 7	... „	118-6-8
	£	591-13-4

The widow and five children (two daughters and three sons) of the late Mr. E. Macnaghten, who died at Allahabad on the 18th March last.

Mrs. Travers	... £	300

The widow of the late Mr. William Travers (an annuitant of 1855), who died in England on the 4th April last.

Mrs. Boldero	... £	300

The widow of the late Mr. E. J. Boldero (an annuitant of 1867), who died in England on the 23rd May last.

Mrs. Harrison	... £	300
Children	... „	150
	... „	450
Less ⅓ under Rule 7	... „	75
	£	375

The widow and three children (one daughter and two sons) of the late Mr. E. H. Harrison, who died at Simla on the 5th June last.

Mr. Arthur Harington has reported that he has obtained a divorce from his wife, and has applied to subscribe, at reduced rates, as a widower subscriber. The Managers have informed him that the date on which widower rates of subscription become payable is the date on which the Decree Nisi is made absolute, or six months after the date of the decree.

The Managers submit for the decision of the meeting, under Article 5, the case of Mr. W. Lambe, who failed to report his marriage until more than six months had elapsed. They propose the infliction of the minimum fine Rs. 500, with arrears of subscription carrying interest at 8 per cent., as provided by the rule.

Mrs. Morris, formerly Mrs. Drew, having applied to the Managers to be allowed to bequeath £50 per annum to her sole surviving daughter by her husband, the late Mr. Drew, without entailing a reduction in the pension of £100 allowed to her daughter from the Fund, was informed that under the old rules, Article 24 was a bar to her request being granted; but that if a satisfactory medical certificate of her daughter's mental infirmity were supplied, the Managers, under the special circumstances of the case, would be prepared to recommend her petition to a General Meeting. Mrs. Morris has submitted the certificate of the family medical attendant, testifying that her daughter was placed 30 years ago in an asylum, and has been since that time and until recently under restraint; that she is still suffering from mental infirmity, which renders her unable to maintain herself; and that the expense of her care and maintenance are necessarily great. The above case is submitted to the meeting for its favourable consideration.

The Managers regret to report the death of the actuary, Mr. Brown. His report on the Fund, which was unfinished at his death, cannot, the Managers are informed, be completed owing to the difficulty experienced in tracing the process adopted by him. The new actuary, Mr. R. Hardy of the London and Provincial Law Assurance Society, has therefore begun a fresh report, and he states that the work is already well in hand and will not be delayed.

With reference to the resolution passed at the meeting of the 27th January last, the Managers have again addressed the Secretary to the Government, Home Department, regarding the admission of natives of India under 33 Vic., Chapter III, to appointments hitherto filled by subscribers to the Fund in order to elicit further information on the subject, but have not yet received an answer.

Proposed by Mr. Webster, seconded by Mr. Macaulay, "that the proceedings of the Managers in admitting to the benefits of the Fund the families of the late Mr. E. Macnaghten, Mr. William Travers, Mr. E. J. Boldero, and Mr. E. H. Harrison, be confirmed."

Carried unanimously.

Proposed by Mr. Webster, seconded by Mr. Verner, "that the Managers proposal in in the case of Mr. W. Lambe be approved and adopted."

An amendment proposed by Mr. J. D. Maclean, "that the facts as set forth in his written statement be made public to the service in the report of this Meeting which will be circulated" was not seconded.

The original resolution was carried.

Proposed by Mr. Macaulay, seconded by Mr. Verner, "that the Managers proposal in the case of Mrs. Morris be adopted in case the amount which she proposes to leave to her daughter is savings from her pension; and that if it be not savings the question be brought before the next General Meeting after due advertisement."

Mr. Souttar objected that this course was irregular, and proposed, as an amendment, "that the consideration of the question be postponed till the next General Meeting."

The Amendment was lost, 3 votes being for it; and 7 against. The original proposal was carried by 7 votes, but lost under Article 16, by which 9 votes are necessary to carry any resolution.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Chairman.
