"MAY IT PLEASE YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS,

"On behalf of the Citizens of Lahore, with deep respect we bid YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS welcome to the Capital of the Punjab.

"We beg humbly to express our thanks that it has pleased the Heir-Apparent of the Throne to honor with his presence this distant portion of Her Majesty's dominions; for we see in this auspicious visit, following that of His Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh, another proof of the warm interest taken in our welfare by our Gracious Sovereign and the Members of the Royal Family.

"Though distant from the Capital of England, and among the youngest sons of her Great Empire, we claim, in common with our countrymen, a foremost rank among the loyal subjects of the Crown, for placed at the north-western door of India on the borders of regions untraversed by Europeans, and mindful of our own past history, we are in a position to appreciate, even more than others, the benefits of British rule.

"For those great benefits we hope ever to evince in act, as we now express in words, the gratitude of a faithful people.

"We earnestly trust that YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS may enjoy a long life of health and happiness, and ever retain a pleasant recollection of your visit to the Punjab."

To the address HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS was pleased to give the following reply:—

"GENTLEMEN,

"I AM glad to find myself at Lahore, the Capital of this important frontier division of the Indian Empire, and to be so cordially welcomed by its inhabitants.

"I will, with pleasure, communicate to the QUEEN your assurance of loyal attachment and gratitude, and I very sincerely thank you for the warmth of your good wishes for my health and prosperous journey, which, hitherto, I have so much enjoyed."

OBSERVATIONS.—The Governor General in Council takes the occasion of the appointment of Colonel Sir Richard Meade, K. C. S. I., as Officiating Resident at Hyderabad, to place on record the high sense which the Government of India entertains of the services rendered by that Officer during his recent employment as Agent to the Viceroy and Governor General at Baroda.

When Sir Richard Meade took charge of the Agency at Baroda from Sir Lewis Pelly, on the 10th April 1875, there were many and most important matters in hand; the choice of a successor to Mulhar Rao, and the adoption of suitable measures for giving the youthful Prince selected a sound and wholesome training; the re-establishment of the Native Government; revenue and fiscal reforms, particularly those relating to the incidence of the land revenue; the re-organization of the regular and irregular troops of the State; the investigation into, and adjustment of, the long-standing claims of the sirdars and hereditary retainers of the Gaekwar: these are some of the most important subjects with which the Agent to the Governor General and Special Commissioner was called upon to deal, and with which, with the cordial co-operation of the able Minister, Sir T. Madava Rao, he has dealt to the complete satisfaction of His Excellency in Council.

To the arrangements made by Sir Richard Meade for the preservation of order, whether in the city of Baroda itself or in outlying districts, the Gaekwar State is indebted for the peace and prosperity now reigning in those territories: the benefits to be expected from the measures of sound administration, which have been introduced into the State in accordance with Sir Richard Meade's advice, are not less important, and as the Government of India is deeply concerned in the welfare of the Baroda people, and of His Highness the Gaekwar, the cordial thanks and acknowledgments of His Excellency in Council are due to the Officer through whose successful exertions that welfare has been promoted.

ORDER.—Ordered, that the above Resolution be published in the Government of India Gazette, and that a copy be sent to Colonel Sir Richard Meade, K. C. S. I., and to the Agent to the Governor General at Baroda, for information.

No. 237.

EXTRACT from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Home Department (Public), under date Fort William, the 18*th February* 1876.

RESOLUTION.—A pamphlet purporting to give a "Verbatim Report of "the Debate on the Indian Civil Service in the House of Commons, June "29th, 1875," printed in London in August last, has been circulated in India, and contains a speech attributed to Mr. Robert Lowe.

2. The subject of the discussion was the position of certain members of the Bengal Civil Service employed in the North-Western Provinces as regards their salaries and prospects of promotion.

3. The Governor General in Council is fully aware that a serious block has arisen in the promotion of the junior Civil Servants in the North-Western Provinces. The remedy which should be applied to meet the case has been considered by a Committee composed of the highest officers of the Government, before whom those who are interested have had an opportunity of stating their case; and the Government of India have made certain recommendations on the subject to the Secretary of State.

Those who have paid attention to the matter are agreed that this block has arisen from the excessive number of Civil Servants allotted to the North-Western Provinces in certain years prior to 1863. Mr. Lowe has not been content with this explanation, and has endeavoured to show that the block has been caused by the improper distribution of patronage in India since the year 1861. The Government of India feel called upon to take notice of these grave charges against themselves and their predecessors which the publication of Mr. Lowe's speech has introduced into the discussion.

4. The following extracts from the pamphlet show the nature of these charges. Quoting from a speech made by Lord Macaulay in 1853 when discussing a different subject, Mr. Lowe is reported to have read these words—

"Before long when a son or a brother of some active member of the House went out to "Calcutta carrying with him a strong letter of recommendation from the Prime Minister to "the Governor General, that letter would be really a bill of exchange drawn on the revenues "of India for value received in Parliamentary support in this House." * * and added—

"I beg the House to remember these words, because making some allowance for times "and circumstances they really are prophetic of what has actually taken place in India."*

Further on, Mr. Lowe observed—

* * * "You have selected men by competition, tested them in every way "you could, and then you have set them aside in favor of some untried man. It entirely bears "out all that Lord Macaulay said on the subject."

"The Government of India," Mr. Lowe said, "has taken Military men and others "possessed of good influence, possessed of friends among those who had the distribution of the "patronage or of influence among those who had it—men of good family and connections in "India; and these men have been placed in the Civil Service to the exclusion of those "for whom Lord Dalhousie by resolution declared that the service should be reserved."

and again—

"And that is not all. These gentlemen when once put into the service, where they had no "right to be, having good interest and being well befriended rose rapidly in the service. "Civilians, as a general rule, who went out to India by merit, and were men not so well be-"friended, and who had not the same command of patronage, found that over and over again "others were put over their heads until almost all the best posts in the Civil Service in these "Provinces were filled, and the Civilians were kept in the lowest grade."

Again—

"For the Government of India to select their own friends and relations and put them into the "best places while they say to the men to whom they are pledged,* 'your salaries must be reduced "'one-half, and you must be kept in positions in which you will be mere subordinates instead "'of rulers and governors;' and to be allowed to do this with impunity seems to me to be "contrary to every principle of justice." * * * "In these Non-Regulation Provinces it "has been one great job from beginning to end."

There is more language of the same description scattered throughout Mr. Lowe's speech; but these extracts are sufficient to show that he does not accuse the Government of India of mere errors of judgment, but of wilful misconduct. In support of his accusations Mr. Lowe has brought forward certain particular appointments which he considers to have been improper. A list of these appointments is placed in the margin.

5. The Governor General in Council will endeavour to examine upon what foundation these charges rest. With respect to those passages quoted from Mr. Lowe's speech which must, if any meaning is to be attached to the words used, be held to imply that the Governor General of the day is habitually impelled by pressure from the Home Government to make improper appointments and that patronage in India is made subservient to English party considerations, the Governor General in Council is satisfied that no foundation in fact exists for any such imputations. His Excellency the Viceroy is certain from his personal knowledge of the conduct of three Secretaries of State for India—Lord Halifax, the Duke of Argyll, and Lord Salisbury—whose term of office together extends over a period of 14 years out of the 17 years that have expired since the Government of India was transferred from the East India Company to the Crown, that no such pressure has been exercised by them upon the distribution of patronage in India. In his own case His Excellency desires to say that no appointments whatever have been pressed upon him by the Duke of Argyll or Lord Salisbury, who have filled the office of Secretary of State during the four years that he has been in India; and he has every reason to believe that other Secretaries of State have similarly abstained from exerting any such pressure. The blame then, if any be justly due for the manner in which patronage has been exercised in India, must rest upon the Indian authorities alone, and this is the sense in which the charges advanced by Mr. Lowe will be examined.

6. The appointments to which the charges refer may be divided into three classes—

1*st.*—Appointments made to certain offices under the Imperial Act of 1861 (24 and 25 Vic., C. 54).

2*nd.*—Appointments made to the Punjab and Oudh Commissions, and to the other Provinces commonly called "Non-Regulation."

3*rd.*—Certain appointments not included under the two preceding classes.

The distinction between these classes of appointments is well known to those who are conversant with the law of India. The offices placed in the first class were, previous to the Act of 1861, reserved by law to members of the Civil Service, and were only opened to others under the provisions of that Act. The offices comprised under the second and third classes have never been, and are not now, reserved by law to members of the Civil Service. In the words of Sir Charles Wood's despatch to the Government of India of the 9th of August 1861—

"For all other situations without any restriction, Europeans and Natives, subjects of Her "Majesty, are equally eligible under the general rules laid down by the several Governments in "India for the supply of those offices which the law does not require to be filled by members "of the Civil Service."

7. It would be difficult, if not impossible, to ascertain after a considerable lapse of time the precise reasons for every appointment which has been made in India during a series of years; but the charges made by Mr. Lowe are capable of some examination in detail, and for this purpose the three classes of appointments will be considered successively, and the particular appointments of which Mr. Lowe has complained will be noticed in their proper places.

8. It is first alleged that the Act of 1861 has been abused. Mr. Lowe is reported to have said that there was—

"a point up to which everything went fair with the Civil Service. * * The period in which "the decline of the system took place was 1861. In that year an Act was passed enabling "the Indian Government, under certain very stringent safeguards, as they were considered, to "appoint persons other than Civil Servants to offices which had hitherto been appropriated to "members of the Civil Service of India." * * * "Those evil consequences which I am "about to describe as having taken place in India did occur in consequence of this Act."

Mr. Lowe then quoted extracts from opinions given before the Act was passed by Mr. Ross Donelly Mangles and Lord Lawrence stating their apprehensions that the Act would be abused. These opinions, Mr. Lowe added,—

"seem to me to be absolutely prophetic when one comes to consider what has happened."

9. The object of the Act was correctly stated by Mr. Lowe, and was briefly described by Sir Charles Wood in his despatch to the Government of India of the 9th of August 1861 to be—

"to make such provision for the future that, whilst due regard was paid to the claims of the "Covenanted Servants of the Government, no absolute bar should remain against the employ-"ment of any person who might be the best fitted to fill any particular situation."

The question for present consideration is, whether the experience of 15 years shows that the securities provided in the Act against improper appointments have been sufficient, or Mr. Lowe's assertion that the powers given to the Government of India and the Home Government conjointly have been abused is correct.

10. The appointments that have been made under the provisions of the Act of 1861 up to the present time are—

(1.)—Colonel (afterwards Sir Henry) Durand was appointed in 1861 Secretary to the Government of India in the Foreign Department. Colonel Durand's qualifications for this post are well known.

(2.)—Mr. Wylie was appointed in 1862 Deputy Secretary to the Government of India in the Legislative Branch of the Home Department. Mr. Wylie was the Clerk of the Legislative Council constituted under the 16th and 17th Vic., Cap. 95, and was selected for that office by reason of his legal training and experience. When the constitution of the Legislative Council was changed by the Act of 1861, his services were retained in the discharge of similar duties under a different title.

(3.)—Captain St. George was appointed in 1862 Assistant Secretary to the Government of India in the Legislative Branch of the Home Department. Captain St. George was selected for this office in consequence of his qualifications as an Orientalist, it being the special duty of the Assistant Secretary to explain papers to the Native Members of the Council who are unacquainted with the English language, and otherwise to assist them in such manner as they may require.

(4.)—Mr. A. G. Macpherson (Barrister-at-Law) was appointed in 1862 to be Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Legislative Department. In this office, as in the corresponding office under the Government of India, special qualifications as a draughtsman are required.

The three last mentioned appointments only technically came under the provisions of the Act.

(5.)—Baboo Tarucknath Sen was appointed in 1862 to officiate for six months as Additional Judge of the 24-Pergunnahs, because there was no Covenanted Civil Servant whose services could be spared.

(6.)—Mr. H. L. Thompson, Judge of the Small Cause Court in Nuddea, was appointed in 1862 to officiate for eight months as Additional Judge at Backergunge, because there was no Covenanted Civil Servant available.

(7.)—Mr. Whitley Stokes was appointed in 1870 Secretary to the Government of India in the Legislative Department. The post is one demanding the qualifications and experience of a draughtsman of Acts of Parliament, which no members of the Civil Service had then acquired.

(8.)—Captain Henderson was appointed in 1872 Under-Secretary to the Government of India in the Foreign Department. Captain Henderson's advancement was entirely due to his ability, especially in Oriental languages. He is an officer of the Madras Army, and possessed no other interest than the strong recommendations of the officers under whom he had served, and the personal experience of the Viceroy in regard to his qualifications.

(9.)—Mr. Gay was appointed in 1869 to officiate as Accountant-General in Bengal. Mr. Gay was a Clerk in the Treasury in England, and was selected for service in the Indian Financial Department in consequence of his knowledge of accounts.

11. Besides the above, 11 Uncovenanted Officers of the Financial Department have since the year 1861 been appointed from time to time to perform the duties of Accountants-General for short periods varying from 1 to 8 months, whilst the permanent incumbents were on leave. It was not considered that these latter appointments came under the Act of 1861. Whether this was a correct construction of the Act may be open to question; but the Government of India of the time acted under the most competent advice, and the appointments themselves were both justifiable and necessary. It would have been improper to have placed an untrained Civilian to perform the duty of Accountant-General, which requires special training. Moreover, the short periods for which the appointments were made render them of slight importance in so far as the interests of the Civil Service are concerned. One of these temporary appointments, that of Mr. Kiernander, was alluded to by Mr. Lowe, who stated that Mr. Kiernander was gazetted—

"to be in charge of the Office of Accountant-General instead of being Accountant-"General, although he draws the full pay and performs all the duties."

The facts are that the appointment was only an officiating one for 35 days, and that the pay Mr. Kiernander drew was not much more than half that of the Civil Servant who held the permanent appointment.

12. The appointments made under the Act of 1861 show that the safeguards against its abuse have been amply sufficient. When only six permanent appointments have been made under that Act in 15 years, the interests of the Civil Service can hardly have been seriously prejudiced. The imputation that advantage has been taken of the Act to make improper appointments falls to the ground by the mere statement of the names and qualifications of the officers who have been appointed under its provisions.

13. The Government of India will next examine the charges which are contained in Mr. Lowe's speech against the appointments which have been made to the Punjab and Oudh Commissions. These charges are based upon a Resolution issued by the Government of India in 1856, which will be found among the papers presented to Parliament previous to Mr. Lowe's motion. When that Resolution was issued, the pay of the higher appointments in the Punjab and Oudh was much lower than the pay of similar appointments in the North-Western Provinces; and the Civil Servants employed in the Punjab and Oudh, who had originally been taken from the North-Western Provinces, complained that they had been treated hardly, and that all the more lucrative appointments fell to the share of their fellows who had remained in the North-West. The main object of the Resolution, as explained in the correspondence laid before Parliament and as appears upon the face of the Resolution itself, was to secure for the officers serving in the Punjab and Oudh a proper share of the more lucrative appointments of the North-Western Provinces, and it was laid down that the claims of those officers should always be taken into consideration when vacancies occurred in such appointments. The Resolution therefore was primarily intended to withdraw Civilians from the Punjab and Oudh as their length of service increased, and to bring them back to the North-Western Provinces; and it actually had that effect.

14. Lord Dalhousie, as a supplement to these orders, desiring that the military element should not predominate in the Non-Regulation Provinces, directed—(1) that first appointments to the Punjab and Oudh should be so filled as gradually to secure an equal number of Civilians to that of Military and Uncovenanted Officers; and (2)—

"that when a Civilian was promoted out of the Punjab and Oudh to the North-Western "Provinces, a Civilian should be selected by the Government of India from the North-Western "Provinces and posted to either Commission as an Assistant Commissioner or as a Deputy "Commissioner of any grade, as the Government might think fit, such vacancies being "considered as exceptional and the consequent arrangements discretionary with the Gov-"ernment."

It was not intended that these orders should be injurious to the Military Officers serving on the Commissions; it is expressly stated in the letter written under Lord Dalhousie's instructions to the Punjab Government in explanation of the Resolution that—

"it is obvious that the promotions of the Civilians to Collectorships in the North-"Western Provinces will open the way for the promotion in the Commission of the Military "men no less than of the Civilians remaining in it, so that the former will have no cause "of complaint; they will have the same chances of advancement to the higher posts of the "Commission as the Civil Servants belonging to it;"

and this was repeated by Lord Lawrence in 1864, when he carried Lord Dalhousie's orders further, and decided that two-thirds of the appointments in those provinces should be filled by Civil Servants. Lord Lawrence said that it was—

"not desired that any Military Officer now in civil employ in the Punjab, who is entitled "to promotion, should in any case be superseded by a Covenanted Civil Servant, who is junior "in the Commission, and who has not otherwise stronger claim for promotion, merely for the "object of restoring the prescribed proportion of Civil and Military Officers in the upper "grades."

15. Mr. Lowe says that up to the year 1861 no complaint can be brought against the manner in which appointments were made in India, but he complains in the strongest language of the appointments and promotions that have been made since that time, describing them as "one great job from beginning to end."

16. It is, however, to the appointments made before 1861 that the present condition of the higher ranks of those Commissions is almost entirely due. Owing to the loss of life in the Mutiny and other causes, there was not up to the year 1862 a sufficient number of Civil Servants available to fill the vacancies caused by the promotion of Civil Servants from the Punjab and Oudh into the North-Western Provinces, or to supply enough Civil Servants to secure the proper proportion in filling first appointments to the Punjab and Oudh Commissions. This is proved by the correspondence of the time, and it appears from the papers which were presented to Parliament previous to Mr. Lowe's motion, in which it will be found that the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces in May 1862 declined to spare Civilians from those Provinces. The Government of India requested the Home Government then and before to reinforce the ranks of the Civil Service; but in the meantime it was impossible to arrive at the proportion contemplated in the Resolution of 1856 between Civil Servants and Military and Uncovenanted Officers. The failure did not arise from favoritism, or from neglect of the interests of the Civil Servants, but simply because their numbers were not sufficient to fill the vacancies. It was not until an increased supply of Civilians had arrived in India in 1861 and afterwards, and they had qualified themselves for service, that there were enough Civilians to admit of their extensive employment in the Non-Regulation Provinces.

17. So much misconception has existed upon this subject that the history and condition of the Punjab and Oudh Commissions will be more fully explained.

18. In the Punjab, when junior Civilians were available, the higher ranks of the Commission had gradually by the force of circumstances become filled by a large proportion of Military Officers. This was mainly owing to the fact that many Civilians left the Punjab in order to secure the comparatively high rates of pay which obtained in the Regulation Provinces. The Government of India would have been guilty of injustice if they had superseded the Military Officers who remained by young Civil Servants. Mr. Lowe does not suggest that this should have been done, and the Civil Servants of the North-Western Provinces in their memorial expressly state that they do not advocate any such measure. Yet this was the only way in which the proportion of Civilians in the higher ranks contemplated in the resolution of 1856 could have been secured.

19. The present condition of the Punjab Commission is as follows:—

There are 10 Commissioners, of whom 6 are Military Officers and 4 are Civil Servants. All these Officers, both Civil and Military, were posted to the Province between the years 1846 and 1856, that is to say, before the issue of Lord Dalhousie's Resolution in 1856.

There are 11 Deputy Commissioners of the 1st class, of whom 8 are Military Officers, 2 are Civil Servants, and 1 is an Uncovenanted Officer. All these Officers were appointed before 1856.

There are 11 Deputy Commissioners of the 2nd class. Of these, 7 are Military Officers, and 4 are Civil Servants. Of the 7 Military Officers, 5 were appointed to the Punjab Commission before the issue of Lord Dalhousie's Resolution of 1856; the other 2 Military Officers and the 4 Civil Servants were appointed in the years 1857-58-59.

There are 10 Deputy Commissioners of the 3rd class. Of these, 2 are Civil Servants appointed after 1856, one is an Uncovenanted Officer, and 7 are Military Officers. Of these, the Uncovenanted Officer and one of the Military Officers were appointed before the issue of the Resolution of 1856; the remaining 6 Military Officers were appointed in the years 1858-59-60—all were appointed before 1861, up to which date Mr. Lowe has no complaint to make.

20. In these ranks, therefore, which constitute all the higher grades of the Punjab Commission, no ground exists to support Mr. Lowe's assertion that—

"men of good family and connections have been placed in the Civil Service to the exclu- "sion of those for whom Lord Dalhousie's Resolution declared that the service should be "reserved;"

and Mr. Lowe has made no attempt to support by proofs his further assertion that "over and over again" Civilians found—

"others put over their heads until almost all the best posts in these Provinces were filled, "and the Civilians were kept in the lowest grades."

It is almost unnecessary to say that there is no foundation whatever for this assertion.

21. From returns received from the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, it appears that the following appointments have been made to the Punjab Commission in and after the year 1862:—

69 Civilians.
30 Military Officers.
5 Uncovenanted Officers.

TOTAL 104

The proportion of Civilians appointed has been considerably more than that laid down by Lord Dalhousie, and equal to that laid down by Lord Lawrence.

22. In order to understand the causes of the present condition of the Oudh Commission, it is necessary to remember its history. It was first constituted early in the year 1856. The Mutiny broke out in 1857, and the Commission was re-constituted in April 1858, after the Province had been re-occupied.

23. Up to the outbreak of the mutiny in 1857, 50 appointments had been made to the Commission, comprising 25 Civil Servants, 20 Officers of the Army, and 5 Uncovenanted Officers.

Of the 25 Civil Servants, 11 were killed or died during the Mutiny, and 12 had left Oudh before the Commission was re-constituted. So that only two Officers, Sir George Couper and Mr. Capper, out of the 25 Civil Servants who had been appointed since 1856, actually took their place upon the Commission of 1858.

Of the 20 Officers of the Army, 6 were killed or died during the Mutiny, and 7 had left Oudh, so that 7 Officers of the Army who belonged to the old Commission took their places upon the Commission of 1858.

Of the 5 Uncovenanted Officers, 2 died or were killed during the mutiny, one had left Oudh, and 2 took their places upon the Commission of 1858.

24. Thus it arose that in the early days of the re-constituted Commission, the number of the Military and Uncovenanted Officers who had belonged to the old Commission exceeded that of the Civilians. At that time, owing to the loss of life in the Mutiny, there was a great want of Civil Servants in Upper India; it was necessary to fill the ranks of the Oudh Commission, and the deficiency of Civil Servants was supplied from Officers of the Army, many of whom owing to the mutiny of the regiments to which they belonged were available, and from Uncovenanted Officers some of whom had distinguished themselves in the Mutiny while others had filled subordinate situations in the Administration.

25. It has thus occurred that in the higher grades of the Commission the number of Military and Uncovenanted Officers is now unduly large as compared with that of Civil Servants. This has arisen not only from the dearth of Civil Servants before the year 1861, but also because, as in the case of the Punjab, many of the Civil Servants who were appointed to Oudh have chosen to leave the Province in order to take advantage of the better prospects which were then open to them in the North-Western Provinces and elsewhere. Of the 16 Civil Servants appointed to Oudh on the re-constitution of the Commission, only 4 now remain in Oudh; the remaining 12 left for their own advantage at a time when it was difficult, if not impossible, to replace them by other Civil Servants of experience.

26. From returns received from the Chief Commissioner of Oudh, it appears that the following appointments have been made to the Oudh Commission in and after 1862:—

42	Civilians.
33	Military Officers.
10	Uncovenanted Officers.
TOTAL 85

The proportion of Civilians appointed has been equal to that laid down by Lord Dalhousie, but is less than that laid down by Lord Lawrence. It is impossible to say precisely what led to a larger proportion of Military and Uncovenanted Officers having been appointed in Oudh than in the Punjab. But it is obvious, from 13 Civilians having been appointed in 1865, that as soon as young Civil Servants were available they were freely appointed to the junior ranks. As in the case of the Punjab, it would have been both unjust and contrary to the public interests to have placed young Civil Servants in the higher ranks over the heads of Officers who had done good service on the Commission. The present condition of the Oudh Commission is, that while in the lower ranks the proportion of Civil Servants is ample, the higher ranks have, by the force of circumstances, become filled in more than due proportion with Officers of the Army and Uncovenanted Officers who, especially the latter, found it to be to their interest to remain in Oudh.

27. Mr. Lowe has alluded to two appointments of Uncovenanted Officers to the Oudh Commission which he considered to have been improper—those of Mr. Gibson and Mr. Butts. He complains that Mr. Gibson

"was appointed to the post of Assistant Commissioner in 1864, when 240 Civilians had just "been sent to India in the three preceding years, and there was a surplus of them in "every province."

The facts are that Mr. Gibson having served in 1857 as a volunteer in the Meerut Light Horse was appointed Adjutant of the Moradabad Battalion. That appointment was abolished in 1861, when he was appointed an Assistant Superintendent of the Oudh Police. In 1864 he was permitted to exchange his appointment with Major (now Colonel) MacGregor, who was then an Assistant Commissioner in Oudh, and whose place Mr. Gibson occupies on the Commission. The arrangement was obviously one which did not affect the prospects of employment of young Civilians. Mr. Butts was one of the Officers engaged upon the Oudh settlement operations who were absorbed in the Oudh Commission in 1873, when he was appointed an Assistant Commissioner of the 3rd grade, his position on the list being determined by the same rules that were applied to other Settlement Officers. The following notice of his service and appointment is taken from the letter of the Chief Commissioner of Oudh of the 9th of January 1873:—

"Mr. Butts was appointed to be an Extra Assistant Commissioner, 3rd grade, on "Rs. 250 on the 3rd July 1863, and stood 5th in this grade, when, in November 1865, "he was transferred to the Settlement Department as an Assistant Settlement Officer on "Rs. 600; his name has therefore been entered in the list of 3rd grade Assistant Com-"missioners from the date of his transfer."

28. Mr. Lowe has also referred to the appointment in 1872 of Major James, who was then serving in the Central India Horse, to a Deputy Commissionership of the 4th class in the Central Provinces. This appointment was made by Lord Mayo on the recommendation of Sir Henry Daly, the Agent to the Governor General for Central India, entirely upon public grounds, which are described by him in a letter annexed to this Resolution.

29. One other particular appointment to a Non-Regulation Province has been complained of by Mr. Lowe—that of Mr. P. J. White, who is Assistant Commissioner of Jhansie. This gentleman, who had been for some time in the Government service, was appointed to the Jhansie Commission by Mr. Edmonstone, then Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces, to do some settlement work of importance, for which

"no Civil Servant of sufficient experience was available, who, looking to the scale of the "allowances and the unpopularity of the district, could be expected to go there."

This was placed on record at the time in a Minute of the Board of Revenue of the North-Western Provinces.

30. Sufficient has been said to show that there is no foundation for Mr. Lowe's charges against the Government of India in regard to the second class of appointments upon which he has commented, viz., those made to the Punjab and Oudh Commissions; and that the assertion attributed to him that promotion in the Non-Regulation Provinces has been "one great job from beginning to end" is grossly incorrect. These appointments are not reserved by law to the Civil Service; the policy of the Government of India has been to preserve, so far as is practicable and just, a due proportion of Civil Servants in all ranks of the Non-Regulation Commissions, and when the facts are fully set forth it will be obvious that neither in their general treatment of the Punjab and Oudh Commissions, nor in the particular instances cited by Mr. Lowe, are the authorities in India open to the grave charges that have been brought against them.

31. It only remains to notice the third class of appointments to which Mr. Lowe has referred, namely, those which, equally with the last class, are not reserved by law to members of the Civil Service, but which do not belong to the Non-Regulation Provinces. They are of a miscellaneous character, and most of them appertain to branches of the Administration in which special departments have been created, manned by Military or Uncovenanted Officers upon a lower scale of pay than that enjoyed by Civil Servants. In the majority of these appointments it would be unjust to pass over the claims of men who have served long in the departments in favour of a Civil Servant.

32. Mr. Lowe has mentioned three cases, in which he conceives that improper appointments of this kind have been made:—

1st, that of Mr. Kempson, who was appointed Director of Public Instruction; 2nd, that of Mr. R. A. Lloyd, who was appointed a Professor of Literature and an Inspector of Schools; and 3rd, that of Mr. Macdonald, who was appointed to be Assistant Superintendent of the Terai Pergunnahs. All these appointments were made in the North-Western Provinces.

33. As regards the two appointments in the Educational Department, Mr. Lowe is reported to have stated that his attention had been directed to the claims of the Civil Servants of the North-Western Provinces in consequence of his having filled the office of Secretary to the Board of Control in the years from 1853 to 1855. He might before attacking these appointments at least have recalled to his recollection the educational policy which was adopted at that time. The well known Educational despatch of 1854 from the Court of Directors contains the following passage:—

"It may, perhaps, be advisable that the first Heads of the Educational Department, "as well as some of the Inspectors, should be members of our Civil Service, as such appoint-"ments, in the first instance, would tend to raise the estimation in which these offices "will be held, and to show the importance we attach to the subject of education, and also "as amongst them you will probably find the persons best qualified for the performance of the "duty. But we desire that neither these offices, nor any others connected with education, "shall be considered as necessarily to be filled by members of that service to the exclusion "of others, Europeans or Natives, who may be better fitted for them."

Again, in a despatch from the Secretary of State of April 7th, 1859, the following passage occurs:—

"After a full consideration of the grounds on which the Court of Directors formerly "gave their sanction, as a temporary arrangement, to the employment of Covenanted Civil "Servants in the Department of Education, Her Majesty's Government are, on the whole, "of opinion that, as a general rule, all appointments in the Department of Education should "be filled by individuals unconnected with the service of Government, either Civil or "Military."

34. It will be seen from these despatches that the appointment of Uncovenanted Officers to the two educational posts in question was in complete accord with the policy laid down by the Secretary of State. This policy is well known in India: only two years ago a Civil Servant in Bengal was appointed to an educational post. The Officers of the Educational Department memorialised the Viceroy, protesting against the appointment as unfair to them. Sir George Campbell, then Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, justified the appointment on the ground that there did not happen to be an Officer of the Educational Department qualified for the particular post in question. The Government of India supported the Lieutenant-Governor, but at the same time fully recognised

"the preferential claim of the Officers of the Educational Department to all posts in their "Department."

35. The third appointment, that of Mr. Macdonald, only remains. Mr. Macdonald was engaged from 1855 to 1858 in the Railway Survey Department at Melbourne; from 1858 to 1860 he was employed in Kumaon, when the appointment he held was reduced; in 1861 he was appointed to be Assistant Magistrate in the Terai; and in 1871 he was promoted to be Superintendent of the Terai. The principal duty he has had to perform has been to carry out the admirable system of irrigation which Major-General Ramsay has introduced into the pestilential tract below the Kumaon Mountains. For this purpose the qualifications of an Engineer which Mr. Macdonald possessed were necessary, and no young Civil Servant could have suitably filled the appointment.

36. These observations will suffice to show with how little consideration grave charges have been brought by Mr. Lowe against appointments of this class made by the Local Governments. The Government of India entirely concur with the following observations which have been made by Sir John Strachey, Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces, on this subject:—

"Mr. Lowe, in bringing the case of the Civilians before Parliament on the 29th June 1875 "spoke as if these grievances had arisen from deliberate misconduct and breach of faith on "the part of the Government of India and the Local Governments. With the first part of "this charge, the Government of India will deal as it thinks right. The Lieutenant-"Governor will say nothing regarding it except this, that he knows that it is unfounded. "But he cannot remain silent on the latter part of the charge, which concerns Local "Governments, and this Government in particular.

"'The whole cause of the matter,' Mr. Lowe said, 'is simply this, that the Local "'Governments have taken the patronage and appropriated it to themselves, instead of "'giving it to those to whom by law it belonged. Here you have the most complete ad-"'mission that the rules of the Government have been broken, and that it has been done "'through the misconduct of the Local Governments.'

"Sir John Strachey has no personal interest in this question. He has never, he be-"lieves, been charged with taking away from the Civil Service a single appointment which "properly belonged to it, and it is in justice to his predecessors in this Government, and not to "himself, that he notices these statements.

"The Lieutenant-Governor does not assert that the best possible course was followed "in every case during the last ten or fifteen years in which an appointment which might "have been given by the Local Government to a Civilian was given to a Military or "an Uncovenanted Officer. But this, he asserts, as a fact which cannot be contradicted, "that if every appointment of the kind made during the last fifteen years by this Gov-"ernment had been given to a Civilian, the present difficulty would, for all practical "purposes, have been exactly what it is now. The grievances of the Civilians in these "Provinces are too real and serious to require to be bolstered up by charges of favouritism "and jobbery. Jobs are of course perpetrated occasionally in India as elsewhere, but "jobbery is not one of the ordinary sins of Indian Governments.

"The real cause of the existing difficulties in regard to promotion is obvious. In "1856, 1857, 1861, 1862, 1863, and 1864, a far larger number of men were appointed to the "service than was actually required. Other causes have undoubtedly tended to aggravate "the evil, but in comparison with this main cause they have been of quite secondary "importance."

37. To conclude. The appointments made under the Act of 1861 have been so few in number that they cannot have had any prejudicial effect on the prospects of Civil Servants, and none of them are open to the imputation of improper motives on the part of the Government of India. It has not been found possible to give full effect to the intentions of Lord Dalhousie and of Lord Lawrence with regard to appointments in the Non-Regulation Provinces, because the dearth of Civilians rendered it impossible for a considerable time to establish the prescribed proportions in the higher ranks. The instances brought forward by Mr. Lowe to support his allegation that improper appointments have been made to the Non-Regulation Provinces or elsewhere entirely fail when the facts are examined.

38. The Government of India desire to repeat that, in dealing with the statements attributed to Mr. Lowe in the publication which has been circulated in India, they have abstained altogether from discussing the present position of the Civil Servants of the North-Western Provinces or elsewhere. They have confined themselves to examining whether there is any foundation for the charges of breach of faith, corruption and favouritism, brought by Mr. Lowe against the authorities in India; and they believe that the facts described in this Resolution will suffice to show that these grave charges are entirely destitute of foundation. It is a matter of great regret to the Governor General in Council that a statesman of Mr. Lowe's distinction and abilities should have been misled into making statements calculated to bring into undeserved discredit the character of Her Majesty's servants who have formerly been and now are employed in the administration of Her Majesty's Indian Territories.

ORDER.—Ordered, that this Resolution be published in the Gazette of India.

(True Extract.)

ARTHUR HOWELL,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of India.

APPENDIX.

No. $\frac{8G.}{14}$, dated 7th February 1876.

From—MAJOR-GENL. SIR H. D. DALY, K. C. S. I., Agent to the Governor General for Central India,

To—C. U. AITCHISON, ESQ., C. S. I., Secy. to the Govt. of India, Foreign Department.

I HAVE the honor to submit, in reply to your No. 2566 of 21st ultimo, respecting the appointment by the late Viceroy of Major James, Central India Horse, to a Deputy Commissionership, Central Provinces, the following.

2. The Central India Horse was embodied in 1858-59 under the orders of the Government of India to supply the place of the Cavalry of the Gwalior, Malwa, and Bhopal Contingents swept away during the Mutiny. As the force was for service within Native States without defined boundaries and with daily conflicting interests, it was essential that its officers should be linguists and men of tact. Application in this spirit was made by Government to each Presidency for two or three selected officers. Major (then Lieutenant) James was one thus sent by the Commander-in-Chief of Madras (Sir P. Grant).

3. My own connection with the Central India Horse began in 1861, when I was appointed Commandant by Lord Canning. On joining I found Lieutenant James, Staff Officer of the force and Assistant in charge of the civil duties at Goona, the head-quarters.

4. In 1863-64 application was made to me for the services of an officer for boundary settlement work in Bundlekund,—questions of intricacy between Native States themselves and between the British Government and Native States. I selected Captain James, knowing that he was a rare linguist and possessed of the patient temper and knowledge requisite in dealing with points of custom and tradition.

5. Captain James so successfully fulfilled the task that during two years' labor there was not, I believe, a single appeal from his decisions. After completion of the duty Captain James resumed his place in the Central India Horse.

6. In 1865-66 Major James (he had now become Major) was offered by the Agent, Governor General, Central India, the appointment of Officiating First Assistant, a position of much responsibility, in consequence of his success in settlement work. Between 1866 and 1870 Major James on several occasions officiated as Political Agent in Western Malwa, and was employed from time to time on boundary work. His substantive appointment in the Central India Horse was Squadron Officer and 2nd in Command, though he had repeatedly held temporary command of a Corps. It was on the ground of Major James's special fitness for civil employment thus established that I submitted a recommendation to Lord Mayo for his transfer from the Military Branch.

7. Lord Mayo had no acquaintance of any sort with Major James, nor with Captain Buller, 2nd Squadron Officer in 11th Bengal Cavalry, appointed to succeed him in the Central India Horse. The late Viceroy had seen neither officer. Bearing in mind the peculiarity of services required of officers in the Central India Horse to maintain the force in the efficiency which has won special acknowledgments from the Commander-in-Chief, Lord Napier, on occasions when regiments have been associated with the army, a roll of eligible officers was submitted to Lord Mayo through his Military Secretary.

8. He selected Captain Buller. Captain Buller was not even aware of his nomination, which was solely on the grounds of his merits as an officer.

9. So far from the appointment being wanted for any one officer, there were doubts of Captain Buller's acceptance, and as events have turned out, it would have been better for him had he remained with the 11th Bengal Cavalry: he would now have been Commandant.

Major James received a Deputy Commissionership, 4th class, Rs. 1,000 per mensem, in 1871, after 25 years' service. In emolument there was little difference between his appointment in the Central India Horse and the Deputy Commissionership. In 1872 he became Lieutenant-Colonel, when, without advancement in the grade of Deputy Commissioner, in income he became a loser.

It is with great satisfaction that the Governor General in Council has received this report testifying, as it does, to the good conduct and high efficiency of the troops assembled at Delhi; and it has been peculiarly gratifying to the Government of India, as well as to the Commander-in-Chief, that Field Marshal His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales should have had the opportunity of inspecting and witnessing the movements of so fine a body of Her Majesty's Army in India.

The Governor General in Council desires to convey to Lord Napier of Magdala, the cordial thanks of the Government of India, for his unceasing efforts to advance the welfare and efficiency of the Army and for the measures which he has taken to make this and former Camps of Exercise useful for the instruction of Officers and men. The Government of India congratulate the Commander-in-Chief on the fine appearance and efficient condition of the troops assembled at the Camp, and upon the approbation which His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has been pleased to convey through His Excellency to the Army.

During the operations Lord Napier of Magdala met with a severe accident; but with that devotion to duty which is so characteristic of His Lordship, this did not interfere with his continued personal command of the troops.

The Governor General in Council further desires to convey the thanks of the Government of India to all those Officers and Departments mentioned by His Excellency Lord Napier of Magdala, for the exertions which have contributed to the gratifying results which have been brought to the notice of the Government.

Camps of Exercise.

I AM directed by His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India to report, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Viceroy and Governor-General in Council, that the troops assembled to take part in the Camp of Exercise left Delhi for their respective stations by the 2nd February 1876.

2. Out of the 22 Regiments of British and Native Infantry under the orders of the Commander-in-Chief collected at Delhi, 13 were arrested in their route of relief, and it was desirable to release them in time to admit of their reaching their destinations before the setting in of the hot weather.

3. The distribution of the force and its strength in detail are given in G. O. C. C., dated 14th October 1875, and Camp G. O. No. 173, dated 31st January 1876, copies of which are attached.

4. With the exceptions marginally noted, the assembly of the Infantry in divisions and of the Artillery and Cavalry under their respective Commanders was completed by the 15th December.

2nd Battalion 12th foot, detained at Ferozepore on account of cholera, arrived in Camp 20th December 1875.

A. Battery, 19th Brigade Royal Artillery, detained at Agra on account of glanders, arrived in Camp 23rd December 1875.

F. Battery, 19th Brigade Royal Artillery, delayed on account of dengue fever, arrived in Camp 18th December 1875.

5. The Camps were formed at the following places in the vicinity of Delhi, vide map annexed.—

1st Infantry Division	...	Old Cantonment.
2nd " "	...	Naryna.
3rd " "	...	Bussai.
4th " "	...	Sufdar Jung.
Artillery ...	...	Bussunt.
Cavalry ...	...	Near the old cantonment.

The Camp of Army Head Quarters was established in the old cantonment.

6. From the dates of arrival of the several corps until 22nd December, the Infantry regiments were distributed in four camps under Generals Sir C. Reid, Hardinge, Macdonnell and Stewart, each of whom had two full brigades with a company of Sappers and Miners, an Electric Telegraph and Signalling party.

In the first period the Brigadiers instructed their brigades in Infantry tactics; during the 2nd period the brigades of the several divisions were united under the Generals in Command for more extended infantry manœuvres.

7. During the whole of this time the Cavalry and Artillery were exercised under Colonel Watson, Central India Horse, and Colonel Light, Royal Horse Artillery, first in Brigades under their respective Brigadiers, and subsequently en masse under the superior Commanders in the special tactics of their respective arms. 73 guns were manœuvred and practised under Colonel Light, and 39 Squadrons of Cavalry under Colonel Watson.

8. This preliminary period is very valuable for bringing the several regiments to work harmoniously in Brigade together, and for accustoming the troops, as well as the superior officers, to the movements of much larger bodies than can ever be found in the ordinary cantonments.

9. On the 22nd and 23rd December the Cavalry and Artillery were distributed among the Divisions, so as to give the Divisional Commanders opportunities of exercising the three arms together. This could be practised only on a limited scale at the largest military stations, and the advantages afforded by the Camp of giving complete Divisional Commands was specially valuable.

10. His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief was summoned to Calcutta on 19th December, and did not return to Camp till the 3rd January 1876.

11. On the 3rd January the troops marginally detailed were moved with light equipment to the neighbourhood of the Kootub, Major-General D. M. Stewart, C. B., being in Command, in view to the attack of a carefully selected position with live shell and ball cartridge. As far as practicable, the troops and guns which would have held the ground marked out for defence were represented by screens and dummies made up under the superintendence of Colonel Gordon, Chief Inspector of Musketry: the shelter trenches and batteries being constructed by the Sappers and Miners and 32nd Pioneers, under the orders of Colonel Maunsell, C.B., Royal Engineers.

Infantry. 2-12th Regt. 15th N. I. 45th N. I.	Brigdr. Appleyard, C. B.
8th Regt. 85th "	Brigdr. Basden.
62nd Regiment 28th N. I. 31st N. I.	Brigdr. Genl. Payne, C.B.
6th Regiment 5th Punjab I. 26th N. I.	Brigdr. Genl. Ross.

12. As Government will hereafter learn from the full reports now being compiled, the result of this experiment has been most instructive in elucidating to such portions of the force as have never actually been under fire, the practical application of the modern system of attack, and the cover which even the slightest shelter affords from the heaviest fire which can be brought by direct attack to bear upon any given point.

13. On the 6th January the 1st and 2nd divisions, as detailed in Camp General Order No. 67, copy annexed, representing the advanced guard of an army destined to effect a passage from the west to the east bank of the Jumna, were placed under the orders of Major-General Macdonnell, C. B.; the operation was carried out, under the idea that the passage of the river would be opposed by a force advancing from the north-east.

14. On the 7th a concentration of the entire force north of the ridge was effected, the camps extending from Daheerpore near the Jumna across the Kurnaul road towards the Western Jumna Canal.

15. On the 8th His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief reviewed the troops.

16. Field Marshal His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales reached Delhi at 9 A. M. on the 11th January, and rode in procession from the railway station through the principal streets of the city, and along the ridge to His Royal Highness' camp on the parade ground in front of the old cantonment, the entire route being lined by troops.

17. The 2nd Battalion, 60th Rifles, the 2nd Goorkhas and the 1st Punjab Infantry were drawn up on the ridge, the position so gallantly held during the siege by the force, of which these Regiments formed a part. On reaching Hindoo Rao's house His Royal Highness was pleased to compliment the 2nd Goorkhas for its good service at Delhi in 1857.

18. His Royal Highness afterwards held a levee when the European and native officers of the army assembled at Delhi were presented.

19. On the 12th January the Field Marshal reviewed the force under the Command of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, and afterwards presented new colors to the 11th Regiment of Native Infantry.

20. The general idea of the field manœuvre in which the troops were engaged on the 14th and 15th January is given in the annexed Camp General Order No. 78A. of the 3rd ultimo. The manner in which the manœuvre was executed could leave no doubt as to the excellent marching powers of the Infantry of the Army, while the freedom and intelligence exhibited by the troops, both in the attack and defence, in taking up ground, elicited special commendation from His Royal Highness.

21. On the 17th January the Prince of Wales inspected the 10th Hussars and then attended a parade of the Cavalry force under the command of Colonel Watson, C. B., V. C. His Royal Highness afterwards minutely inspected 6-13 Royal Artillery, Mountain Battery.

22. On the afternoon of the 17th there was an assault at arms at which His Royal Highness was pleased to be present.

23. The Prince of Wales left Delhi for Lahore by special train at 9-30 P. M. on the same day.

24. Previous to His Royal Highness' departure, the Prince of Wales was pleased to convey his complete satisfaction with the appearance, discipline and efficiency of the troops reviewed by His Royal Highness in the accompanying order* which the Commander-in-Chief has had the honor of publishing to the force.

* No. 136.

25. The Government of India will be gratified by the expression of His Royal Highness' approbation, which will be ever regarded with pride and pleasure by the Commander-in-Chief and the troops under his command.

26. Subsequent field manœuvres are detailed in Camp General Orders Nos. 130 of the 18th and 156 of 22nd January; on both of the occasions referred to, the command of the attack was entrusted to Major General D. M. Stewart, C. B., and of the defence to Brigadier General Sir Charles Brownlow, K. C. B., the general idea was carried out by these two officers to the satisfaction of His Excellency, while the handling of Brigades in the attack and the careful defences prepared, indicated that close attention had been paid by the Commanders of Brigades and Regiments engaged to the instructions issued since the formation of the Camp of Exercise.

27. Previous to the manœuvres last noticed, some of the troops and officers in command and on the staff had been ordered to their respective cantonments. The 10th Hussars, A and F Batteries, 19th Brigade, Royal Artillery, with the Band and 100 men of the Rifle Brigade, had been forwarded by rail to Agra, in anticipation of His Royal Highness' visit to that station. A-C Royal Horse Artillery had proceeded to the same place by route march with the 7th Bengal Cavalry, the latter being destined to escort His Royal Highness from Agra to Morar.

28. During the time that the troops have been assembled in camp, opportunity has been found for the consideration of the following various questions in connection with equipment:—

1st.—The carriage of reserve ammunition upon mules with Infantry in the field has been tested, and the reports on this subject will be duly submitted.

2nd.—The question of supplying a proportion of light entrenching tools with Cavalry for pioneering purposes has been considered and tried by experiment. The result, while showing slight alteration to be necessary, was very satisfactory as regards the value of the measure.

3rd.—The important question of the best description of boots and shoes for the Native Army; and 4th.—The carriage of the valises of British Cavalry and the value of the best kind of lassoes have been considered and reported on by competent officers.

5th.—A field telegraph, carried on mules, has for the first time, it is believed, accompanied troops in the field. This invaluable equipment worked extremely well and was able to keep pace with the troops in their advance; it has been brought to its state of efficiency through the intelligence and zeal of Lieutenant Savage, Royal Engineers.

6th.—Ambulances of the new standard pattern have been made use of, and doolies submitted for trial have been thoroughly tried.

7th.—Valuable suggestions have been made regarding the improvement of pontoon and light bridging equipment. This latter subject, as well as the general question of transport for the Sappers and Miners, are now being reported on by a Committee whose proceedings will, on receipt, be forwarded for the consideration and orders of Government.

29. The Special Committee, of which Sir Charles Reid is President, is till engaged in considering the best means of rendering railway stock in India available both for civil and military transport, but His Excellency is sanguine that the result of the Committee will enable the Government of India to determine what steps it may be desirable to adopt in this important matter.

30. The civil authorities at Delhi have throughout cordially co-operated in all matters connected with the camp; the Commander-in-Chief feels much indebted to them, especially to Colonel Cracroft, the Commissioner and Superintendent, whose intimate acquaintance with the country and active assistance have tended materially to the general success of the Camp of Exercise.

31. His Excellency desires to acknowledge the valuable aid afforded to him by Colonel Thuillier, C. S. I., the Surveyor General of India, and also by Captain Waterhouse, in charge of the Photo-zincographic Branch of that Office, both these officers responded most willingly to the heavy demand for maps.

32. General hospitals were established in the fort for British, and at Hindoo Rao's house for Native troops, and the Commander-in-Chief gladly avails himself of this opportunity of recording his appreciation of the arrangements made for the comfort of the sick by the Administrative Medical Department in the several hospitals and camps.

33. The health of the troops has from the first been excellent, but as the previous season had been somewhat sickly, it was necessary to adopt very stringent sanitary precautions.

34. The Commander-in-Chief has the greatest pleasure in stating that the conduct of the troops has been admirable, there has been virtually a total absence of crime, and the relations between the camp and the civil population have been especially satisfactory. Much credit is due to the Provost Marshal Major P. FitzRoy, Her Majesty's 5th Fusiliers, for the judicious and effective manner in which his duties have been carried out.

35. It is due to the Police Department under Colonel Baillie to acknowledge the good arrangements by which theft has been almost unknown.

36. The Postal Service under Mr. LeBreton has been carried out most satisfactorily.

37. The Telegraph Department established a line connecting Army Head Quarters with the Telegraph Station at Delhi, while the several divisions were connected with each other and with the Head Quarters Camp by lines laid down by Lieutenant Bagot, R. E., under the direction of Colonel Maunsell, C. B. The employment of soldier-signallers has thoroughly answered.

In addition to the electric signalling, communication was from the first established between the several camps by means of flags and heliographs.

38. The Commissariat arrangements under Colonel A. D. Dickens, C. B., Deputy Commissary General, and Colonel G. R. Roberts, Principal Executive Commissariat Officer, have left nothing to be desired.

39. Conductor Burns, in charge of the Ordnance Department at Delhi, deserves credit for the manner in which his duties have been performed under difficulties regarding establishment.

40. The officers of the Madras and Bombay armies deputed to attend the camp were good enough to join the umpire staff, and to all of these officers the Commander-in-Chief is much indebted for the manner in which they performed their rather difficult duties.

41. In conclusion, Lord Napier of Magdāla would desire to record his opinion of the great advantages derived by officers and men from Camps of Exercise, similar to this which has now been brought to conclusion. His Excellency observes with satisfaction that a very remarkable advance has been made in the efficiency of the troops and manœuvres generally since the camp at Delhi in 1871-72.

42. It is not only that the superior officers and the rank and file learn lessons that they cannot often learn in cantonments, but every department has in some degree to exercise the functions that would devolve on it in real warfare.

The 25th February 1876.

No. 204 of 1876.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council has been pleased to approve the application to India of War Office Auxiliary and Reserve Forces Circular dated February 3rd, 1875, with the modification that, on the recommendation of Commanding Officers, His Excellency in Council will be prepared to consider the claims of Officers of the Volunteer Forces in India, retiring after 15 years' volunteer service, 10 of which have been as Commissioned Officers, and 3 in the rank they hold on retirement, to retain their rank and wear the uniform of the Corps on such retirement.

SEPARATE REVENUE—POST OFFICE.

The 10th March 1876.

No. 1405.—Notice is hereby given that an arrangement has been concluded for the exchange of parcels between India and the Austro-Hungarian monarchy.

On and after the 1st April 1876 parcels can be sent to places in Austria-Hungary under the same rates and conditions as apply to Germany.

The following detailed rules for the despatch of parcels from India to the United Kingdom and Foreign Europe will supersede those issued under the Notification by this Department, No. 2377, dated 12th November 1875:—

Overland Parcel Post.

(1).—Parcels are received at any Post Office in India under the conditions and rates of charge mentioned below for transmission to the following countries, viz.:—

COUNTRY.	Rate of charge per lb. or fraction thereof. Prepayment compulsory.	Remarks respecting special conditions, &c., applicable to particular Countries.
	Annas.
United Kingdom ...	8	The prepayment carries the parcel as far as London, any additional charge which may become due on account of British custom duty or carriage beyond London being realised from the addressee. The attention of the public is invited to the fact that the British Post Office has no connection with the Overland Parcel Post; all arrangements out of India are made by the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company, and enquiries proceeding from the United Kingdom should be addressed to that Company's Office, 122, Leadenhall Street, London, E. C. The British Post Office, however, has consented to exhibit in every Post Office of the United Kingdom a notice containing information on the subject of the Indian Parcel Post. Parcels must not exceed £50 in value. Any parcel which on examination of the declaration at Bombay may be found to exceed this value will, instead of being forwarded by the Overland Parcel Post, be transferred to the Bombay Agency of the P. & O. S. N. Company for transmission independently of the Post Office, and subject to such regulations and charges on delivery as may be applicable thereto under the Company's regulations. (NOTE.—The Company's present charge is an ad valorem rate of 2 per cent., which does not include Marine or other Insurance.)
Germany ...	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to destination. Should any custom duty become due, the amount will be charged on delivery. See also Rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.
Austria-Hungary ...
Denmark ...	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to the limit of German conveyance, a separate charge being made on delivery for conveyance beyond the German frontier, as well as for custom duty, should any become due. See also Rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.
Sweden ...	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to the limit of German conveyance, a separate charge being made on delivery for conveyance beyond the German frontier, as well as for custom duty, should any become due. From Rule 3 it will be seen that there must be also a second or duplicate declaration of contents and value. See also Rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.
Norway ...
Switzerland ...
France ...	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to the limit of German conveyance, a separate charge being made on delivery for conveyance beyond the German frontier, as well as for custom duty, should any become due. From Rule 3 it will be seen that there must be also a second or duplicate declaration of contents and value, and that the second or duplicate declaration should contain a statement of the weight (lbs. and ozs. or tolas) of the contents, and should, if possible, be written in the French language. See also Rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.
The Netherlands (Holland).
Belgium ...

(2).—Every parcel should be securely packed in a closed cover or case, and should bear the name and address of the person in the United Kingdom or foreign country for whom it is intended.

N. B.—The public are specially warned against the use of flimsy covers for articles transmitted by the Parcel Post. Heavy articles are sometimes sent with only paper covering insecurely tied with string: friction in transit detaches this cover, and damage and loss ensue. A covering of stout cloth or wax cloth, sewn at the edges, is recommended; but if the contents are liable to suffer from pressure, boxes of wood or tin should be used.

(3).—Every parcel should be accompanied by a separate paper headed with the address of the parcel and containing a declaration of its contents and value under the signature of the sender. Below the signature the address of the sender should be given.

For the parcels addressed to—

The United Kingdom ...	Only one declaration as above described is required.
Germany
Austria-Hungary ...
Denmark
Sweden	A second or duplicate declaration is also required.
Norway
Switzerland
France	A second or duplicate declaration is also required, and the sender is requested to enter in the declaration a statement of the weight (lbs. and ozs. or tolas) of the contents, and to write the second or duplicate declaration, if possible, in the French language. Should he be unable to do so, the Bombay Post Office will attach to the second or duplicate English declaration a French rendering thereof, but the sender is warned of the delay which may result from this.
The Netherlands (Holland)
Belgium

It is not deemed necessary to require exact adherence to any particular form of declaration, but the following specimen form may be useful to the senders of parcels:—

Specimen form of declaration.

Address of Parcel.
THOMAS B. SMITH,
114, Piccadilly,
LONDON.

CONTENTS—

	Value. £	s.	d.
1 Piece Puttoo Cloth	2	0	0
1 Rampore Chudder	2	10	0
TOTAL ...	4	10	0

I declare the above to be a true statement of the contents and value.

(Sd.) A. R. ROBINSON,
Amritsar.

N. B.—Declarations for parcels intended for France, the Netherlands or Belgium should, in addition to the above, contain a statement of the weight (lbs. and ozs. or tolas) of the contents.

(4).—The parcel so addressed and the separate paper or papers above referred to should then be enclosed in a substantial outer cover. This outer cover should be superscribed and addressed as follows:—

Overland Parcel Post.
To The Post Master, Bombay.

(5).—The parcel so made up must be fully prepaid by means of postage stamps at the rate of 8 annas per lb. (40 tolas) or fraction of a lb., care being taken that the stamps adhere firmly to the cover.

(6).—The parcel so made up must not exceed 50lbs. (25 seers) in weight, or 2 feet in length by 1 foot in breadth or depth. It will be received at any Post Office at the hours fixed for the receipt of ordinary banghy parcels, the usual receipt being given to the sender without reference to the mode of packing prescribed in the case of inland parcels for which receipts are claimed.

(7).—On arrival at Bombay, the Post Master will take off the outer covering, and forward the inside parcel and the accompanying declaration or declarations to the country of inside address.

(8).—It is forbidden to send in these parcels opium or any liquid or any substance or material of a dangerous, damaging, or offensive kind.

(9).—In the case of parcels for or from Germany or Austria-Hungary and the foreign countries served through Germany, compensation will be given by the responsible Post Office to the sender for loss or damage sustained in transit (cases of sea risk or of vis major or of the own negligence of the sender in respect of packing or otherwise excepted). Such compensation will in no case exceed 1½ rupee for each lb. weight or fraction thereof in respect of parcels forwarded from India, and 3 marks or 1½ florins for each 500 grammes or fraction thereof in respect of parcels from Germany or Austria-Hungary. Should the sender desire it, the compensation will be paid to the addressee instead of to himself.

Fort William, the 16th March 1876.

The Governor General in Council has received with the deepest regret the intelligence of the death at Ráwalpindi in the Punjab, on the morning of the 15th instant, of the Right Reverend Robert Milman, D.D., Lord Bishop of Calcutta.

The Governor General in Council desires to place on record the sense which he entertains of the late Bishop Milman's indefatigable energy in the discharge of the high functions of his office;—of his charity and munificence;—of his zeal in promoting all good works—especially the education of the poorer classes of Europeans in India—and of his broad and benevolent sympathy with all classes of the community. The Bishop has devoted his health and strength to the conscientious fulfilment of his arduous duties in ministering to the spiritual and temporal welfare of his diocese; and he has now died in the midst of his labours, doubtless in consequence of them.

The Governor General in Council is sure that Bishop Milman's untimely death will be felt as a personal loss, and that his memory will be affectionately cherished by Her Majesty's subjects in India.

The Flag of Fort William will be hoisted half-mast high to-day, which is the day of the funeral.

HIS EXCELLENCY THE VICEROY AND GOVERNOR GENERAL has the satisfaction of publishing for general information the following letter which he has had the honour of receiving from HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS THE PRINCE OF WALES :—

H.M.S. "Serapis,"
Bombay, the 13th March 1876.

MY DEAR LORD NORTHBROOK,

I cannot leave India without expressing to you, as the QUEEN'S Representative of this vast Empire, the sincere pleasure and the deep interest with which I have visited this great and wonderful country.

As you are aware, it has been my hope and intention for some years past to see India, with a view to become more intimately acquainted with the QUEEN'S subjects in this distant part of Her Empire, and to examine for myself those objects of interest which have always had so great an attraction for travellers.

I may candidly say that my expectations have been more than realized by what I have witnessed, so that I return to my native country most deeply impressed with all I have seen and heard. The information I have gained will, I am confident, be of the greatest value to me, and will form a useful foundation for much that I hope hereafter to acquire.

The reception I have met with from the Princes and Chiefs and from the native population at large is most gratifying to me; as the evidence of loyalty thus manifested shows an attachment to the QUEEN and to the Throne which I trust will be made every year more and more lasting. It is my earnest hope that the many millions of the QUEEN'S Indian subjects may daily become more convinced of the advantages of British rule, and that they may realize more fully that the Sovereign and the Government of England have the interests and well-being of India very sincerely at heart.

I have had frequent opportunities of seeing Native Troops of all branches of the Service, and I cannot withhold my opinion that they constitute an Army of which we may feel justly proud. The "march past" at Delhi of so many distinguished officers and of such highly disciplined troops was a most impressive sight, and one which I shall not easily forget.

I wish also to state my high appreciation of the Civil Service; and I feel assured that the manner in which their arduous duties are performed tends greatly to the prosperity and the contentment of all classes of the community.

I cannot conclude without thanking you, and all those in authority, for the facilities which have enabled me to traverse so rapidly so large an extent of country; and rest assured I shall ever retain a grateful memory of the hospitality tendered by yourself and by others who have so kindly received me.

Believe me, my dear Lord Northbrook,

Yours very sincerely,

ALBERT EDWARD.

FINANCIAL. (Military Funds.) No. 10.

INDIA OFFICE, LONDON, 6th January 1876.

To His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council.

MY LORD,—I have considered in Council your Military Letter, dated 12th November 1875, No. 278, in which you submit for my consideration the question whether it would be competent to an officer who has exchanged from a purchase Corps into the Staff Corps, and who may retire from the service by the sale of his commission before being entitled to Indian pension, to continue his subscription to the Indian Service Family Pension Fund for the benefit of his wife and family after such retirement.

2. In reply I have to inform you that an officer so situated would not be entitled to continue his subscription to the Fund.

3. Such cases are not, however, likely to be of frequent occurrence, and I see no objection to the return on retirement of contributions in excess of the risk borne by the Fund during membership.

I have, &c.,

SA MAJESTÉ la Reine du Royaume Uni de la Grande Bretagne et d'Irlande, et Son Excellence le Président de la République d'Haïti, ayant jugé convenable, en vue d'une meilleure administration de la justice, et pour prévenir les crimes dans les deux pays et leurs juridictions, que les individus accusés ou convaincus des crimes ci-après énumérés, et qui se seraient soustraits par la fuite aux poursuites de la justice, fussent, dans certaines circonstances, réciproquement extradés;

Sa Majesté Britannique et le Président d'Haïti ont nommé pour leur Plénipotentiaires à l'effet de conclure dans ce but un Traité, savoir:

Sa Majeste la Reine du Royaume Undi de la Grande Bretagne et d'Irlande, Spenser St. John, Ecuyer, Ministre-Résident et Consul-Général de Sa Majesté Britannique en la République d'Haïti et son Chargé d'Affaires près la République Dominicaine;

Et Son Excellence le Président de la République d'Haïti, M. Surville Toussaint, ex-Sénateur;

Lesquels, après s'être communiqué leurs pleins pouvoirs respectifs, trouvés en bonne et due forme ont arrêté et conclu les Articles suivants:—

ARTICLE I.

Les Hautes Parties Contractantes s'engagent à livrer, l'une à l'autre, toute personne qui, étant prévenue, accusée, ou convaincue d'un crime commis sur le territoire de l'une des Parties, sera trouvée sur le territoire de l'autre Partie, et ce dans les circonstances et aux conditions spécifiées au présent Traité.

ARTICLE II.

Les crimes pour lesquels l'extradition doit être accordée sont les suivants:—

ARTICLE III.

Aucun Haïtien ne sera livré par le Gouvernement d'Haïti au Gouvernement du Royaume Uni, et aucun sujet du Royaume Uni ne sera livré par ce dernier au Gouvernement d'Haïti.

ARTICLE IV.

L'extradition n'aura pas lieu si la personne réclamée de la part du Gouvernement du Royaume Uni, ou la personne réclamée de la part du Gouvernement de la République d'Haïti, a déjà été jugée et acquittée ou condamnée, ou si elle est encore en jugement, soit en Haïti soit dans le Royaume Uni respectivement, et ce pour le crime en raison duquel son extradition est demandée.

Si la personne réclamée de la part du Gouvernement du Royaume Uni, ou si la personne réclamée de la part du Gouvernement de la République d'Haïti est sous le coup d'un interrogatoire judiciaire, soit en Haïti soit dans le Royaume Uni respectivement, pour tout autre crime que celui en raison duquel elle est réclamée, il sera différé à l'extradition jusqu'à ce que ce jugement soit prononcé, et, s'il y a condamnation, jusqu'à ce que la peine infligée soit entièrement subie.

ARTICLE V.

L'extradition n'aura pas lieu si, postérieurement à la perpétration du crime, à l'ouverture de la poursuite judiciaire, ou au jugement prononcé, les lois de l'Etat auquel la demande d'extradition est adressée couvrent la personne réclamée des effets de la prescription.

ARTICLE VI.

Un criminal fugitif ne sera pas livré si l'offense en raison de laquelle son extradition est demandée est d'un caractère politique, ou s'il prouve que cette extradition n'a récellement été reclamé que dans le but de le juger ou de le punir pour une cause d'un caractère politique.

ARTICLE VII.

Une personne rendue ne peut, en acun cas, être détenue ou jugée dans l'Etat auquel son extradition the surrender has been made, for any other crime or on account of any other matters than those for which the extradition shall have taken place.

This stipulation does not apply to crimes committed after the extradition.

ARTICLE VIII.

The requisition for extradition shall be made through the Diplomatic Agents of the High Contracting Parties respectively.

The requisition for the extradition of an accused person must be accompanied by a warrant of arrest issued by the competent authority of the State requiring the extradition, and by such evidence as, according to the laws of the place where the accused is found, would justify his arrest if the crime had been committed there.

If the requisition relates to a person already convicted, it must be accompanied by the sentence of condemnation passed against the convicted person by the competent Court of the State that makes the requisition for extradition.

A requisition for extradition cannot be founded on sentences passed in contumaciam.

ARTICLE IX.

If the requisition for extradition be in accordance with the foregoing stipulations, the competent authorities of the State applied to shall proceed to the arrest of the fugitive.

The prisoner is then to be brought before a competent magistrate, who is to examine him, and to conduct the preliminary investigation of the case, just as if the apprehension had taken place for a crime committed in the same country.

ARTICLE X.

The extradition shall not take place before the expiration of fifteen days from the apprehension, and then only if the evidence be found sufficient, according to the laws of the State applied to, either to justify the committal of the prisoner for trial, in case the crime had been committed in the territory of the said State, or to prove that the prisoner is the identical person convicted by the Courts of the State which makes the requisition.

ARTICLE XI.

In the examinations which they have to make in accordance with the foregoing stipulations, the authorities of the State applied to shall admit as entirely valid evidence the sworn depositions or statements of witnesses taken in the other State, or copies thereof, and likewise the warrants and sentences issued therein, provided such documents are signed or certified by a Judge, magistrate, or officer of such State, and are authenticated by the oath of some witnesses, or by being sealed with the official seal of the Minister of Justice or some other Minister of State.

ARTICLE XII.

If sufficient evidence for the extradition be not produced within two months from the date of the apprehension of the fugitive, he shall be set at liberty.

ARTICLE XIII.

All articles seized, which were in the possession of the person to be surrendered at the time of his apprehension, shall, if the competent authority a été accordée pour un autre crime, ou pour d'autres causes, que ceux qui ont motivé cette extradition.

Cette stipulation ne s'applique pas aux crimes commis postérieurement à l'extradition.

ARTICLE VIII.

Toute demande d'extradition sera faite par l'entremise des Agents Diplomatiques des deux Hautes Parties Contractantes respectivement.

La requisition de l'extradition d'une personne accusée doit être accompagnée d'un ordre d'arrestation émané de l'autorité compétente de l'Etat que fait la demande d'extradition, et par les preuves qui établissent que, si la personne réclamée avait commis le même crime dont elle est prévenue dans l'Etat où elle est réfugiée, son arrestation serait ordonnée en vertu des lois du dit Etat.

Si la réquisition porte sur une personne déjà condamnée, elle doit être accompagnée du jugement rendu contre la dite personne par un Tribunal compétent de l'Etat qui réclame l'extradition.

Aucune demande d'extradition ne peut être basée sur les jugement rendus contre les personnes en état de contumace.

ARTICLE IX.

Si la réquisition d'extradition est conforme aux stipulations énoncées ci-dessus, les autorités compétentes de l'Etat auquel elle est adressée procéderont à l'arrestation du fugitif.

Alors le prisonnier est amené par devant un magistrat compétent, qui l'interroge et fait toutes les investigations qui auraient lieu si l'arrestation était faite en raison d'un crime commis dans le pays même où s'opère l'arrestation.

ARTICLE X.

L'extradition ne s'effectuera qu'après un délai de quinze jours à partir du jour de l'arrestation, et alors seulement si les preuves relevées par l'instruction préliminaire sont suffisantes pour justifier la détention des prisonnier, et le placer sous le coup des lois du pays où il est arrêté dans le cas où le crime dont il est prévenu y aurait été commis. Il faudra aussi que son identité soit prouvée, et qu'elle soit bien reconnu être celle qui est condamnée par les Tribunaux de l'Etat qui demande son extradition.

ARTICLE XI.

Dans les interrogatoires qu'elles ont à faire conformément aux stipulations ci-dessus les autorités de l'Etat auquel une demande d'extradition est faite admettront comme preuves entièrement valides toutes les dépositions ou déclarations de témoins assermentés provenant de l'autre Etat, ou copies de ces dernières, ainsi que tous les ordres et jugements qui auraient été publiés sur l'affaire relative à la personne réclamée, pourvu que tous les documents dont il est fait mention ci-dessus seront certifiés et signés par un Juge, un magistrat, ou un officier compétent de l'Etat qui fait la demande d'extradition. Ils seront déclarés authentiqués sous la foi du serment prêté par des témoins, ou scellés du sceau officiel du Ministre de la Justice ou de tout autre Ministre d'Etat.

ARTICLE XII.

Si les preuves requises pour l'admission d'une demande d'extradition ne sont pas établies deux mois après la date du jour de l'arrestation du fugitif réclamé, ce dernier sera mis en liberté.

ARTICLE XIII.

Lorsqu'une personne devra être rendue, tous les objets qui auraient été trouvés on sa possession, et qui auraient été saisis au moment de son arresta-of the State applied to for the extradition has ordered the delivery thereof, be given up when the extradition takes place, and the said delivery shall extend not merely to the stolen articles, but to everything which may serve as a proof of the crime.

ARTICLE XIV.

The High Contracting Parties renounce any claim for the reimbursement of the expenses incurred by them in the arrest and maintenance of the person to be surrendered, and his conveyance till placed on boardship: they reciprocally agree to bear such expenses themselves.

ARTICLE XV.

The stipulations of the present Treaty shall be applicable to the Colonies and foreign possessions of Her Britannic Majesty.

The requisition for the surrender of a fugitive criminal who has taken refuge in any of such Colonies or foreign possessions shall be made to the Governor or chief authority of such Colony or possession by the chief Consular Officer of Hayti in such Colony or possession.

Such requisitions may be disposed of, subject always, as nearly as may be, to the provisions of this Treaty, by the said Governor or chief authority, who, however, shall be at liberty either to grant the surrender, or to refer the matter to his Government.

Her Britannic Majesty shall, however, be at liberty to make special arrangements in the British Colonies and foreign possessions for the surrender of Haytian criminals, who may take refuge within such Colonies and foreign possessions, on the basis, as nearly as may be, of the provisions of the present Treaty.

The requisition for the surrender of a fugitive criminal from any Colony or foreign possession of Her Britannic Majesty shall be governed by the rules laid down in the preceding Articles of the present Treaty.

ARTICLE XVI.

The present Treaty shall come into force ten days after its publication, in conformity with the forms prescribed by the laws of the High Contracting Parties. It may be terminated by either of the High Contracting Parties, but shall remain in force for six months after notice has been given for its termination.

The President of the Republic of Hayti engages to apply to the Senate for the necessary authorization to give effect to the present Treaty, immediately after its meeting.

The present Treaty shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged as soon as possible.

In witness whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed thereto the seals of their arms.

Done at Port au Prince, the seventh day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

tian, seront remis à la partie qui fait la demande d'extradition si l'autorité qui l'accorde en a décidé ainsi, et dans ce cas la remise comprendra non-seulement les objets volés, mais encore tout objet qui pourra servir à établir la conviction du criminel.

ARTICLE XIV.

Les Hautes Parties Contractantes renoncent réciproquement à toute réclamation ayant pour but le remboursement des frais qu'elles feront pour l'arrestation et la détention de toute personne rendue jusqu' à la mise à bord d'un navire: elles subiront réciproquement toutes les dépenses de cette nature.

ARTICLE XV.

Les stipulations du présent Traité sont applicables aux Colonies et possessions étrangères de Sa Majesté Britannique.

Toute demande d'extradition relative à un criminel réfugié dans une des Colonies ou possessions étrangères dont il s'agit sera adressée au Gouverneur ou à la principale autorité de la dite Colonie ou possession par l'entremise du principal Officier Consulaire d'Haïti en la dite Colonie ou possession.

Les réquisitions de la catégorie ci-dessus indiquée se feront toujours, autant que possible, conformément aux règles établies dans le présent Traité, par le Gouverneur ou par la principale autorité, qui sera libre toutefois d'accorder l'extradition ou d'en référer à son Gouvernement.

Toutefois Sa Majesté Britannique sera libre de faire des arrangements spéciaux dans ses Colonies et possessions étrangères pour l'extradition des criminels Haïtiens, qui s'y refugieront, et ces arrangements, autant que possible, auraient pour base les règles établies par ce présent Traité.

La réquisition de l'extradition d'un criminel fugitif d'une des Colonies ou possessions étrangères de Sa Majesté Britannique sera assujetitie aux règles consignées dans les Articles précédents du présent Traité.

ARTICLE XVI.

Le présent Traité sera en vigueur dix jours après qu'il aura été publié conformément aux prescriptions des lois des Hautes Parties Contractantes. Il pourra prendre fin par la volonté de l'une oude l'autre des Hautes Parties Contractantes, mais dans ce dernier cas il continuera à rester en vigeur pendant six mois à partir du jour où l'une ou l'autre aura déclaré vouloir en faire cesser les effets.

Le Président de la République d'Haïti s'engage à demander au Sénat, immédiatement après son ouverture, l'autorisation nécessaire pour faire exécuter le dit Traité.

Le présent Traité sera ratifié, et les ratifications en seront échangées le plus tôt que faire se pourra.

En foi de quoi les Plénipotentiaires respectifs l'ont signé, et y ont apposé le cachet de leurs armes.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

INDIAN OCEAN.

VESSELS TRADING TO RÉUNION.

The following Notice has been published by the British Board of Trade:—

"The Board of Trade, in consequence of information which they have received, deem it their duty to caution Owners and Masters of British vessels employed in trading with Réunion, that vessels arriving in the roadstead off that place, between the months of November and March, incur great risk from hurricanes."

In reproducing the above Notice, Mariners are reminded that the island of Réunion possesses no safe ports where ships can be sheltered from bad weather. The attention of Owners and Masters of British vessels is drawn to the great risk incurred by accepting freights for that island to arrive during the hurricane months (November to March), and it is suggested that they should have it distinctly stated in the Charter-party, that the cargo shall be discharged only at the roadstead of St. Denis; as from this position a vessel can, in the event of a hurricane setting in, easily proceed to sea.

of the Native officers and soldiers who fell in the defence of Lucknow. Near this spot were assembled some of the surviving defenders of the Residency, headed by Sir George Couper, Bart., C.B.

On the arrival of His Royal Highness a Royal Salute was fired and arms were presented by the troops forming the Lucknow Division, who were drawn up in front of the Baillie Guard.

The Chief Commissioner then addressed His Royal Highness in the following words:—

"May it please YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS:

"We are assembled here to-day in honour of the memory of the Native officers and soldiers who fell in defence of the place the ruins of which we see around us.

"It is said by some that the natives of this country are deficient in personal courage and in the qualities of truth and fidelity. I cite the conduct of these men in refutation of these opinions, and I care not if it be replied that the many are not to be judged by the standard of the few. For the nation that could produce such men, only wants the training to produce others like them, and by their example the whole mass can, and will hereafter, assuredly, be leavened.

"I believe the behaviour of the sepoys of Lucknow was simply without a parallel in the annals of the world. The men under Clive at Arcot did, indeed, fight heroically, and voluntarily underwent great privations in order that their European comrades might benefit thereby. But, Sir, their fidelity was not tested like that of these men, who had only the watchword 'fidelity to salt' to sustain them during that period of trial; for not fifty yards off, by day and by night, for days and weeks, their own relations, fellow caste men, and former comrades, abjured them, by name, to save their religion, their race, and all that was dear to them by deserting the infidel alien whose aim was to subject them all to caste degradation, and thereby destroy their well-being in this life, and their hopes of a future. And over and over again have some of those now present heard these splendid fellows refute their assertions, deride their arguments, and defy them to come, in their thousands, and take the post committed to their charge.

"Nor is it only as an example of noble fidelity and self-devotion that the conduct of these men is worthy of commemoration. It had its effect upon the fortunes of the time. For it is certain that had they deserted us, Lucknow must have fallen, and the fall of Lucknow would have set free thousands of trained soldiers to march on Delhi; and I need not say that so large a reinforcement to the ranks of the rebel army would have added enormously to the dangers and difficulties of the matchless handful who held the Ridge.

"Less distinguished services, I think, have been commemorated at the cost of the nation; but it is at his own expense that the illustrious Nobleman who represents Your Royal Highness' Imperial Mother in the government of her Eastern Dominions has directed the erection of the monument of which I am now commissioned respectfully to request Your Royal Highness to be pleased to lay the foundation stone. Your Royal Highness has already taken part, and will hereafter take part, in more conspicuous proceedings than these during your stay in the East, but when Your Royal Highness' visit is over, I would fain hope that the part which you have condescended to take on this spot, consecrated as it is by the blood of the truest and bravest of England and of India, will not occupy the lowest place in your recollections. It will, at least, be historical. For this monument to Indian fidelity and bravery and worth will stand as a memento of Your Royal Highness' presence here when splendid pageants and their attendant ceremonies will have been forgotten. And when it is completed, the Asiatic and the Englishman will alike regard it with national pride. The Englishman, because the deeds of the devoted, though humble, few to whom his country owes so much, have been redeemed from undeserved oblivion by the thoughtful generosity of His Excellency the Viceroy, and by the gracious and kindly aid of Your Royal Highness; and the Asiatic, at the thought that Your Royal Highness, the Heir of Britain and of Hindostan, has done a lasting honour to the memory of the bravest and best of his race."

His Royal Highness replied:—

"That he had received from the Viceroy a request that he would lay the foundation stone of the monument Lord Northbrook proposed to erect to those soldiers of the Native Army who fell in the ever memorable defence of the Residency. His Royal Highness had great pleasure in assenting to the Viceroy's request. He was glad to have a share in doing honour to the memory of these brave men who had set such a noble example of devotion to their duty. After what Sir George Couper had said it was not necessary for him (His Royal Highness) to dwell on the details of deeds of courage and fidelity which had become historically so celebrated.

"But he would express his conviction, that the act of Lord Northbrook in erecting this monument would be most acceptable to all classes of Her Majesty's Army. As they passed it on the way to their Camp, it would be one more memorial of a great military achievement. The Europeans would feel that they had in such men as were here commemorated fellow-soldiers every way worthy to take part in the defence of the empire, and the Native sepoy would feel proud of the men whose deeds of valour and fidelity had reflected such honour on their race and country."

The Prince of Wales then laid the stone in due form, and the troops presented arms.

His Royal Highness was then pleased to receive all the surviving Native officers and soldiers who served during the siege, who were in attendance. These veterans were presented by Major Cubitt, V.C. The Europeans and East Indians who had belonged to the Garrison were also presented to His Royal Highness. On the Prince's departure the troops presented arms, and a Royal Salute was fired. His Royal Highness after visiting the Machi Bhawan Fort returned to Government House.

In the evening His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales attended a fête given in his honour by the Talookdars of Oudh.

As the Prince of Wales entered the north gate of the Kaisar Bagh, a Royal Salute was fired by a Battery stationed on the place. A Guard of Honour was drawn up opposite the staircase of the Baradari.

A deputation of the Talookdars, composed of the President, Vice-President, and Honorary Secretary of the Talookdars' Association, received the Prince of Wales at the foot of the stairs, and conducted His Royal Highness to the dais in the central hall.

The deputation then submitted the following address, and offered for His Royal Highness' acceptance a jewelled head-dress of Lucknow manufacture:—

ADDRESS.

"May it please YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS: We, the Talookdars of Oudh, as faithful subjects of the Empress of India, most humbly and dutifully offer to Your Royal Highness, the illustrious representative of the Royal Family, a cordial welcome to this remote corner of Her Majesty's realm. That Your Royal Highness, after long travels by land and sea, should have deigned to honour us this evening with Your Royal Highness' presence, makes our hearts proud, as well as thankful, and the present occasion, when our eyes have been gladdened by the sight of our future Emperor, will ever remain with us a fond and honoured tradition.

"Although we have owed allegiance to the British Crown for the comparatively brief period of a score of years, we can assure Your Royal Highness that our fealty is as firmly established as if it had been handed down to us through a long succession of dynasties, and we humbly trust Your Royal Highness will convey to our august Empress the assurance that the Talookdars of Oudh, though the last to become Her Majesty's subjects in India, are second to none in the sincerity of their loyalty.

"Nay more, Your Royal Highness, we know that our loyalty to the British Government is both reasonable and right; for it is to the benign rule of Your Royal Mother that we owe the security of our rights and vested interests, as well as the permanence of our position, dignity, and rank as the landed aristocracy of Oudh.

"At the same time, we assure Your Royal Highness that we are grateful to the British Government for its efforts to improve the general condition of the people of the province. We are thankful that reforms are from time to time introduced into every branch of the administration, not abruptly, but gradually; and with that due regard to ancient rights and time-honoured customs, which alone can produce a useful and lasting reform.

"We would further entreat Your Royal Highness to convey to Your Royal Consort our humble assurance that though the boundless ocean prevents us from laying the tribute of our devotion at Her Highness' feet, it is none the less certain that the majesty of her presence reigns supreme in our hearts.

"In conclusion, we humbly approach Your Royal Highness with this modest tribute of our allegiance and gratitude, which we fondly hope Your Royal Highness will deign to accept as a fit emblem of the fealty of the Talookdars of Oudh to the British Crown."

His Royal Highness graciously replied as follows:—

"Talookdars of Oudh: It affords me much pleasure to have an opportunity of meeting you at this entertainment, and I heartily thank you for the warm welcome you have given me in the address now presented. The handsome head-dress which you have been good enough to offer me will ever be preserved as the memento of a visit to which I shall always look back with much pleasure. On my return to England I propose to send you a portrait of myself to be hung in the hall of this institution, and trust that you will accept it in remembrance of this interesting occasion."

The following address was delivered by Babu Futteh Narayan Sing on behalf of the Municipality after the Levée :—

"TO THE MOST ILLUSTRIOUS AND MOST PUISSANT PRINCE, ALBERT EDWARD, PRINCE OF WALES, &c., &c., &c.

"MAY IT PLEASE YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS,—We, the Municipal representatives of Benares, desire with profound respect and sincere joy to welcome Your Royal Highness to this ancient town, long justly regarded as the most sacred city of the Hindus, and famous as the seat of their religion, philosophy, and learning.

"This famous city from time immemorial has been associated in the minds of the Hindus with all that is pure and holy in their religion. Here many thousand devout persons of the Hindu faith annually assemble to worship at the sacred shrines and beautiful ghâts, while under British administration all its inhabitants maintain in fullest freedom the rites and ceremonies of their respective faiths.

"For this toleration the citizens of Benares feel deeply grateful to that empire-rule which is centred in the illustrious House whose heir and representative they welcome this day to their city.

"In the Mahabharata Benares is frequently mentioned; and many of its kings are celebrated for their high virtues.

"The traditions of the past are thus renewed in the present; and we recognize in Her Majesty Our Gracious Queen qualities great as those of former monarchs commemorated in the Hindu Epic.

"We humbly request you will convey to your august Mother, our Sovereign the Queen, our thanks for her goodness in permitting us the personal assurance of her interest in her Indian subjects conveyed by Your Royal Highness' presence. We, in common with all classes of the empire, watch with unflagging interest your progress throughout India.

"We pray Your Royal Highness may derive benefit and pleasure from your sojourn in this land, and may return to your family and to your illustrious Consort with health unimpaired.

"We respectfully solicit Your Royal Highness will accept for yourself and your Gracious Princess, and will convey to Her Majesty, our Empress and Queen, the assurance of our unabated loyalty and devotion."

After hearing the above address, His Royal Highness was pleased to reply in the following terms:—

"GENTLEMEN,—I thank you for your address and your welcome to Benares. It is a very sincere pleasure to me to be thus received in this the great centre of all the nations and people of Hindu origin under the British Crown.

"It is a great satisfaction to me to hear from you, who so well know the feelings of your countrymen in all parts of India, that under British administration you enjoy 'in fullest freedom' the right of worship according to the usages of your respective faiths, and that you so highly appreciate that perfect toleration which it has been the unvarying object of Her Majesty to maintain.

"I shall be careful to communicate to the Queen your expressions of loyalty and gratitude. I feel convinced that I may safely assure you it will give Her Majesty sincere pleasure to learn that you so highly estimate the peace, the contentment and general prosperity in which you live, and that you reckon them among the happy characteristics of Her reign.

"Let me also thank you on behalf of the Princess of Wales for your kind expressions regarding her, and for your good wishes for my health and safe return to my family."

At the laying of the foundation-stone of the Benares Subscription Hospital, the Maharaja of Benares presented to His Royal Highness, on behalf of the subscribers, an address in Sanskrit verse of which the following is a translation:—

I.

"Glorious is our Great and Gracious Queen, exalted by high virtues, whose commands Princes love to bear like crowns on their heads.

II.

"Whilst that mighty Empress rules over the earth with justice, the people, in the enjoyment of perpetual happiness, scarcely know what pain is.

III.

"Fostering all her subjects with wisdom, justice, and charity, under her benign rule the arts and sciences flourish with unprecedented vigour, and cast into the shade the fame of bygone monarchs.

IV. & V.

"That ancient Sanskrit language, free from faults and ennobled with many excellences, which loved of yore to dwell in our sacred city, and which, paralysed by the evil times, had almost died away—that language, as if sprinkled every moment with the water of life (amrit), under the benign influence of Her Majesty's rule, has now revived, and charming the ear of the learned like the sweet-voiced Vina, has crossed even the ocean and extended over all the earth.

VI.

"There has, indeed, risen this day a new sun in Kasi; for the flowers of our desires is blooming; all the land around, along with our hopes, is brightening; and like lotuses our hearts are expanded.

VII.

"Happy, indeed, do we deem our fortune as we in Benares see Your Royal Highness to-day—we whose hearts have long yearned in anxiety, never having seen Her Gracious Majesty, or her beloved son, your Royal self.

VIII.

"And now, O Royal Prince, that the reign of our Most Gracious Queen may long extend, and that Your Royal Highness may continue to enjoy the affections of Her devoted subjects, is our most fervent prayer."

On the conclusion of this address, Maulvi Saiad Ahmad Khan, C.S.I., presented to His Royal Highness the following memorandum, showing how the scheme for the hospital first originated:—

"YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS,—This hospital owes its origin to the desire of the native inhabitants of Benares to provide suitable relief for the large number of persons afflicted with many forms of disease in this city and neighbourhood; and they conceive that no more auspicious time for the establishment of such an important and beneficent institution could possibly be selected than that of Your Royal Highness' visit to Benares. As we feel confident that Your Royal Highness has graciously condescended to honor us with Your Royal presence prompted by the highest motives of regard and sympathy for us, so we are assured that Your Royal Highness' good-will could not be more significantly represented than by your Royal name being connected in perpetuity with an institution which has for its object the healing of the diseases and the removing of much of the misery to which the suffering poor of this city are exposed. The hospital will have eight grand divisions. The first, to be called the main building, will be in front, and will consist of two waiting-rooms, two consulting-rooms, two dispensaries for out-patients, and a lecture theatre. There will be five wards for in-patients under medical or surgical treatment—three for males and two for females. There will also be a lying-in ward, and a ward for patients attacked by contagious diseases. The seven wards will really be separate structures, connected, however, by a covered way. Each of the eight buildings will be erected through the generosity either of individuals or of families, and will bear their names, with the exception of one ward to be erected at the expense of the Muhammadan community. In addition, many sums of money, large and small, have been given by native noblemen and gentlemen towards the general expenses of the hospital.

"In conclusion, I would, on the part of the committee of management, and of all the subscribers to the hospital, beg to return Your Royal Highness my most grateful thanks for the distinguished honor Your Royal Highness is conferring on us in presiding over this meeting and laying the foundation-stone of the Prince of Wales' Hospital."

"MAY IT PLEASE YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS,—We, the Municipal Commissioners of Agra, on behalf of our fellow-citizens, beg permission respectfully to approach Your Royal Highness with a cordial address of welcome.

"We desire to express our fervent loyalty and devotion to Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria our Sovereign, and our great joy on the occasion of this visit with which Your Royal Highness has been pleased to honor our city.

"Within sight of the walls of that ancient fortress which bears witness to the magnificence of former Emperors, we welcome in Your Royal Highness the representative of a Sovereign whose empire extends far beyond the limits of the sway of the mightiest monarch ever enthroned at Agra.

"We gratefully recognize in the justice and tolerant impartiality of Our Empress Her Most Gracious Majesty's rule the imperial qualities which especially distinguished the wisest of the House of Timur, the founder of this city which welcomes you to-day, the Emperor Akbar.

"The joy and pride which we now feel would have been complete had it been possible for Her Royal Highness the Princess of Wales to honor us with her gracious presence on this auspicious occasion.

"We believe and trust that the tour of Your Royal Highness through India will tend to draw closer the ties which bind her to England, and will be a source of benefit to this country as well as of pleasure and interest to yourself, and especially we hope that all the remembrances which Your Royal Highness may carry away of your visit to Agra may be pleasing."

After hearing the Address, His Royal Highness was pleased to reply in the following terms:—

"GENTLEMEN,—I thank you for your Address of welcome to Agra.

"I am happy to find myself in a capital whose history recalls the memory of such illustrious sovereigns, and I am glad to receive from you the assurance that you recognize in the rule of the British Government those qualities of liberality and power of justice and toleration which distinguished the great monarchs of former ages.

"I shall not fail to communicate to the Queen your assurances of your loyalty, and I thank you for your kind expressions of regret that the Princess of Wales was unable to gratify her desire to be with me in visiting all that is so beautiful and so interesting in your famous city."

M., when the following address was read by Mr. Dosabhoy Framjee, the Chairman of the Municipal Corporation :—

"TO HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS ALBERT EDWARD, PRINCE OF WALES, K.G., &c., &c.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS.—We the Chairman and Members of the Corporation of Bombay, who, in the name of this City, were the first public body to bid your Royal Highness welcome to India, feel ourselves now greatly honoured in being the last to bid you farewell.

We have followed with the deepest interest every step of Your Royal Highness' progress throughout India, from Ceylon northwards to Cashmere and Napaul, and we have seen with delight that it has been one continued triumph. Each Indian city, not only in the Provinces under the direct administration of the British Government, but in the Native States, has in its reception of Your Royal Highness striven to outdo Bombay in magnificence and popular enthusiasm; and princes and people have everywhere alike paid their willing homage to the Heir-Apparent to the Throne of the British Empire.

Her Majesty the Queen has already, in Her Speech from the Throne at the opening of Parliament, graciously declared that the hearty affection with which Your Royal Highness has been received by Her Majesty's Indian subjects of all classes and races, assures Her that they are happy under Her Rule and loyal to Her Throne; and we trust that Your Royal Highness' personal expectations of the pleasure and advantage to be derived from a visit to India have not been disappointed by experience, but that you will carry away the most agreeable recollections of the country, and will often, in future years, think kindly of its patient, industrious, and loyal people, who on their part will ever retain a lively remembrance of Your Royal Highness' gracious presence and winning courtesy.

We rejoice to know that Your Royal Highness' health, far from being impaired, has been invigorated by your Indian tour; and we hope that this expedition, hitherto marred by not one untoward incident, will be crowned with a safe, speedy, and prosperous voyage to your native land and a happy meeting with the Princess of Wales and Your Royal Highness' children. We beg that Your Royal Highness will convey to Her Majesty the Queen the assurance of our unalterable fidelity to Her Rule and of the personal attachment to Her family which Your Royal Highness' visit has done so much to strengthen among all Her Majesty's Indian subjects. And now, with all loyalty and affection, we wish Your Royal Highness farewell."

His Royal Highness replied as follows :—

"GENTLEMEN,—I thank you for your address and for your renewed expressions of loyalty to the Crown which marked your welcome when I first landed at Bombay.

I feel sincerely grateful for having been permitted to carry out my purpose in visiting so much of the widely extended Indian Empire. Amid all I have witnessed there is nothing which has impressed me more than the vast population of those whom you justly describe as the 'patient, industrious, and loyal people' of India; and if, as I trust, my visit has tended to brighten, even for a day, the lives of so many of the Queen's subjects, to strengthen their good will, and to confirm their loyalty to the Throne, I shall feel that my work has not been without a useful result.

I am not likely to forget the great and varied personal pleasure my visit has afforded me. The uniform kindliness with which I have been everywhere received by all classes has more than gratified me; and it has left permanent recollections which can never be effaced. I am confident the Queen will be sincerely pleased with your expressions of personal loyalty and attachment to the Crown, and that the Princess of Wales and the members of my family will be much touched by the cordial reception I have met with on my return to your Town.

Be assured of the interest I shall always feel in the welfare of Bombay, and with my best wishes for the permanent peace and prosperity of every part of this great Empire, I bid you, gentlemen, a very hearty farewell."

The 31st March 1876.

No. 1952.—The Governor General in Council directs that the following be published in the Gazette of India for general information:—

FINANCIAL. INDIA OFFICE, LONDON,
No. 48. 10*th February* 1876.

To His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council.

MY LORD,

Para. 1. I have considered in Council your Financial letter dated the 29th January 1875, No. 39, on the subject of the Leave Rules of the Uncovenanted Service.

2. You therein state that you have some doubts as to the intentions of the Duke of Argyll, and as to the manner in which effect should be given to His Grace's instructions; that nearly all the offices in the Uncovenanted Service are such as may, under certain circumstances, be "fitly held by Natives," and that, consequently, if you were to adopt a principle of selection, which would be most in accordance with the instructions received by you, the logical conclusion would be that no members of the Service should be admitted to the favourable rules.

3. You consider that the rigid adoption of the principle that the present holders of offices to which Natives could fitly be appointed, should not be admitted to the benefits of the favourable rules, would cause not unreasonable dissatisfaction, and you are of opinion that some limit of a more or less arbitrary nature as to the position of those to whom those rules should be extended will have to be laid down.

4. You therefore forward nominal lists, which you state to be complete, of all those officers of the Uncovenanted Service who come within the category set forth in Schedule A of the Civil Leave Code, and request me to determine the principle on which admission to the favourable Leave Rules shall be regulated.

5. With your Financial letter dated the 30th September 1875, No. 346, you forwarded, in continuation of the list already referred to, a list of officers of the Accounts Branch of the Public Works Department whom you proposed to admit to the more favourable rules.

6. The instruction conveyed to your Government in the Financial despatches dated the 10th March 1870 and the 6th December 1871, appear to me to leave no doubt as to the intentions of the Duke of Argyll on this subject.

7. In the former despatch the Duke of Argyll assented to the favourable rules "proposed for holders of offices now held by English gentlemen," with certain modifications, and desired "that they be declared applicable from this date only to officers of the Education Department appointed from England, and to such others of those now actually in the Service as you may think fit to include in a nominal list for that purpose, to be submitted for my approval." His Grace also stated that the second set of Rules proposed "for all other classes of the Uncovenanted Service would, for the present, apply to all Uncovenanted Servants not entitled to the benefits of the first set of Rules, and hereafter to all Uncovenanted Servants who may not have been appointed from England."

8. In para. 7 of the latter Despatch, the Duke of Argyll extended the benefits of the first set of Rules to "those Uncovenanted Servants appointed in England to offices for which they had special qualifications," and "to those Europeans who for special reasons may have been, or, with my sanction, may be hereafter appointed in India to certain exceptional posts," and His Grace added "but, in order to confine these privileges within reasonable limits, I must again request that you will furnish me with a nominal list of the officers who appear to you to come within the description referred to in my Financial Despatch dated the 10th March 1870, No. 84."

9. The Duke of Argyll concluded*—"The principle which Her Majesty's Government have steadily kept in view throughout the discussion on these Furlough Rules is, that the Uncovenanted Service should be principally reserved for the Natives of the country, and that superior appointments, which require English training and experience should be made, as heretofore from England, and they look with great disfavour on the system, which appears to be growing up in India, of appointing Englishmen in India to situations that ought only, as a rule, to be filled by civilians who have gained their position by open competition. I trust that the views I have now expressed will put a stop to the above practice."

* Financial Despatch, 10th March 1870.

10. In the views expressed by the Duke of Argyll in those Despatches I concur.

11. In respect, therefore, to the future, I request that it may clearly be understood, that the less favourable Leave Rules will be applicable to all Uncovenanted Servants appointed after the year 1871, unless—

1. They have been appointed in England.
2. They have been appointed in India with the sanction of the Secretary of State.

It remains to specify in detail the reasonable concessions which, in accordance with the intimation made by the Duke of Argyll, I am willing to grant to certain of your Uncovenanted Servants who now hold, and, at the date of His Grace's Despatch, held appointments in the Uncovenanted Service. It is to be understood that the instructions contained in the remainder of this Despatch apply only to them.

12. I have not within my reach the information necessary to enable me to select individual officers according to their merit or according to the peculiar circumstances of their appointment. In the absence of any such principle of choice, it will be expedient to shape the proposed concessions in such a manner as to harmonise with the policy which has been laid down for the future. Without going so far as to assent to your Excellency's opinion that "if the whole of the classes enumerated in Schedule A are admitted to the new rules, the concession must be extended to the future." I am quite sensible of the difficulty which would attend any attempt to enforce, in respect to the future, a system contrasting violently with that which shall be adopted in respect to present incumbents. It will be, on this ground, expedient to apply a different mode of treatment to the present incumbents of those offices which will in future, so far as they are continued, certainly be filled up as a rule from England, and those which may possibly continue to be filled in India. The Uncovenanted Service of the Public Works Department,—except so far as it is recruited from students educated at the Indian Civil Engineering Colleges which were specially designed for the natives of the country,—will ordinarily in the future be supplied from Cooper's Hill. The forest service will, in like manner, and with possibly an analogous exception, consist of candidates prepared in Europe under the system established by Dr. Brandis. The limited opportunity which exists in India for obtaining men of scientific training furnishes an obvious reason for confining, as a general rule, to persons selected in England the higher grades of the Telegraph and Geological Survey Departments. It has already been determined that the higher Educational Officers shall be selected here. On the other hand, the officers on the present establishment at Mysore only exist for a temporary purpose. A similar consideration applies to the arrangement under which the small number of Uncovenanted Marine and Medical Officers are at present appointed. To all these officers, as occupying posts which, so far as they are filled up by Englishmen at all, will in the future be ordinarily filled up in England, I see no difficulty in extending without restriction the concessions contemplated by the Duke of Argyll.

13. The following Officers, therefore, named in the enclosure to your Despatch of 29th January 1875, may be immediately admitted to the more favourable Leave Rules:—

The 274 Officers, under the Government of India, included in Section D.

The 30 Officers, under the Government of India, included in Sub-sections 4 and 6 of Section E.

The 20 Officers, under the Government of Madras, included in Sub-section 2 of Section B.

The 19 Officers, under the Government of Bombay, included in Sub-section 2 of Section C and four Forest officers in Sub-section 1 of the same Section.

The 10 Officers, employed in Mysore, included in Section I.

The Educational Officers, the Officers of the Marine Department who have served in the Indian Navy or Bengal Marine, and the Medical Officers named in the lists transmitted by you.

The three Medical Officers of the Persian Telegraph Service, as recommended in your Financial letter dated the 26th February 1875, No. 79.

A nominal list of all the above Officers is annexed to this despatch.

14. Of the remaining Officers named in your lists, the greater part are filling posts which do not require preliminary technical education, and which, in future, if not held by Natives, will be occupied partly by Covenanted Civil Servants, or by Uncovenanted Servants specially selected, with the sanction of the Secretary of State, according to the principles adverted to in para. 11 of this despatch. Adopting therefore, with regard to this class of Officers, your suggestion that, as respects existing incumbents, an arbitrary limit must be, to some extent, applied to them, I sanction the extension of the more favorable rules to such of the above-mentioned Officers named in your lists as are now in the receipt of salaries of not less than Rs. 6,000 per annum, and I request that a list of the persons to whom this will apply may be forwarded for record in this office.

15. I observe that your lists do not include any of the Officers employed in the higher appointments of the Andamans. You may, perhaps, desire to correct the omission, and possibly other similar omissions; if so, I will gladly consider any recommendations you may make.

I have the honor to be,

My Lord,

Your Lordship's most obdt., humble Servant,

(Sd.) SALISBURY.

[Supplement to London Gazette, 18th February 1876.]

War Office, February 18, 1876.

The following despatch and enclosures have been received by the Secretary of State for War from the Major-General Commanding Her Majesty's Forces in China and the Straits Settlements:—

Camp, Qualla Kangsa,
SIR, January 5, 1876.

I have the honour to report that yesterday morning the force as per margin* was taken by me for the purpose of disarming the village of Kota Lama, 1½ miles distant, on the opposite side of the Perak River.

This village, in July last, was visited by Mr. Birch, when the inhabitants came down in considerable numbers, loading their arms, and warning him not to come near. Having no force with him, he was obliged to withdraw.

For long this village has been the haunt of all the worst disposed and turbulent Malays. The Queen's Commissioner, deeming it necessary to disarm the inhabitants and to destroy the houses of certain known leaders, I made the following arrangements—

The village of Kota Lama is on the left bank of the river. Lieutenant-Colonel Cox crossed with his party in boats, and moved up the bank a little more than a mile, when he extended the men, the left of the line keeping close to the river, and skirmished through the village.

Mr. Maxwell, Deputy Commissioner, accompanied Lieutenant-Colonel Cox.

Captain Young moved his party in a similar manner up the right bank to a village of the same name; his orders were to collect any arms, but not to destroy or injure houses or property, as the inhabitants have been well disposed.

Captain Speedy, Assistant Commissioner, accompanied Captain Young.

Major McNair, I, and my staff went with Captain Garforth's party of the Naval Brigade.

We landed on the left bank just above the village, and, leaving a few blue jackets in charge of the boats, we moved in the direction of the village, expecting there to find Lieutenant-Colonel Cox's party.

Twenty blue jackets landed with us, and we were joined by Lieutenant Hare, R.E., with 4 Goorkhas, who had been assisting him to measure the distance along the bank.

We proceeded some distance before we came to some houses which I desired should be searched for arms; they were, with few exceptions, deserted; after about an hour and a half we came upon several houses close to each other, the largest being occupied by women and children.

It being necessary to ascertain whether any men also were in it, Major McNair sent in two of his Malay followers, and himself looked in.

After satisfying himself that there were only women and children, he had just got down from the steps, telling those inside not to be alarmed as they would not be harmed, when we heard several shots, and from a jungle close by some 50 Malays rushed out upon us, a few with fire-arms and the rest with spears.

The attack was so sudden that we were almost surrounded and had to retire.

The conduct of the marines and sailors was deserving of all praise. If it had not been for their steadiness few, if any, of us would have escaped.

As it was I regret to say that our loss was heavy in proportion to the numbers engaged. A report with return of casualties is attached.

Just before this attack was made several officers moved away in the direction of the river, two hundred yards distant. Major Hawkins was, it is supposed, following them when he was fatally wounded with a spear. No one seems to have seen him fall, but Captain Garforth reports that William Sloper, A.B., came up to him on the ground, shot two Malays who were coming towards him, and stopped with him until Major Hawkins said "Save yourself; you can do me no good now."

Major Heathcoate, who with Captain Badcock, Lieutenant Preston, and Major Twigge, had gone on in front of Major Hawkins towards the river, turned back with these officers and tried to move them, but they had to fall back to the river, before the superior numbers who were getting round them.

Surgeon Townsend was the first to be assailed, he being a little advanced; three Malays assailed him with spears, the centre one he shot with his pistol, and the man falling forward upon him knocked him down. The other two Malays were driving at him when Harry Bennett, A.B., and William Thompson, A.B., rushed forward and killed them both.

The conduct of the three blue jackets above-named has been specially brought to my notice, but all behaved admirably in a very difficult position, and very great credit is due to the three officers, Captain Garforth, Lieutenant Wood, and Sub-Lieutenant Poar, who directed and led them.

Lieutenant-Colonel Cox's party had gone all over the ground on which this occurred, and it is supposed that our opponents must have made for the jungle on the approach of the skirmishers, and returned after they had passed. Lieutenant-Colonel Cox returned through the village in the same order, and having destroyed every house that he passed, arrived here about half-past two o'clock, without firing a shot.

Captain Young's party returned about the same time without having met with any opposition.

The bodies of five Malays were found, and I have reason to believe that their loss must have been greater.

The close and hand-to-hand nature of the engagement is shown by all the casualties having been caused by spear wounds.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) J. ROSS,
Brigadier-General, &c.

P. S.—A large quantity of arms, spears, muskets, and small wall-pieces were taken, and a large iron 1½-pounder gun was spiked and thrown into the river. A list of arms taken shall be forwarded.

(Signed) J. ROSS,
Brigadier-General.

Major-General the Honourable
F. Colborne, C.B., &c., &c.

Head Quarters, Camp, Qualla Kangsa,
SIR, January 4, 1876.

I have the honour to forward for your information a list of the killed and wounded at the assault on the village of Kota Lama:—

Killed.

Major Hawkins, Brigade-Major, spear wound two inches below the apex of heart; spear transfixing the chest and lungs, passing downwards and wounding diaphragm and liver, passing out below 10th and 11th rib at right side.

Seaman Gunner William G. Loan, H.M.S. Philomel, spear wound of right side of spine transfixing chest, and having its exit five inches below the right nipple.

Wounded.

Surgeon Townsend, A.M.D., severe spear wound middle thira of right arm; slight spear wound of right leg.

Private Jasper Ball, R.M., double spear wound at epigastrum, protrusion of intestines and omentum, spear wound at middle of left arm, and another of left hand.

Sujoo Mappa, Sepoy, 1st Goorkhas, severe spear wound of right forearm.

Serwick Sing Tappah, Sepoy, 1st Goorkhas, severe spear wound of right forearm.

The severity of the spear wounds, in all the fatal cases completely transfixing the body, and the fact of the men having been wounded in several places, show the close quarters that the force fought at, and the determined resistance of the Malay.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) WILLIAM COLLIS,
Surgeon-Major, the Buffs,
P. M. O. Larút Field Force.

To Brigadier-General Ross, C.B.,
Commanding Larút Field Force.

War Office, February 29, 1876.

The following Despatches and Enclosures have been received at the War Office from the Major-General Commanding Her Majesty's Forces in China and the Straits Settlements:—

Camp Srimananti,
December 25, 1875.

SIR,—I have the honour to report, for the information of Major-General Colborne, C.B., that I left Terrachee at 10 A.M. yesterday, having previously detailed a party of the same strength as detailed in my report of 24th instant, under Lieutenant-Colonel Hill, of my regiment. I passed Parit about 10-30, and halted there for some little time, the guides' information being so conflicting; at last I determined on marching through the hills as instructed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Penang, and arrived within sight of Srimananti at 4 P.M.

I discovered several of the Malays running away, and one shot was fired on our advance guard, who immediately replied and they knocked over one man.

My attention was then called to what appeared to be a strong redoubt on a small hill, I detached a party under Captain Channer and another under Captain Rankin to take the enemy in flank, while with the guns and part of the 10th Foot, I tried to find a range for the guns; this was difficult as it was all rice swamp in front.

I then proceeded along the side, covered by the jungle, and soon found myself in rear of the earth-work. I sent to warn Captains Rankin and Channer of my position and to keep out of the line of fire. I expended five rounds and sounded the advance. Two men had been observed on the position, but when the Goorkhas charged it there were none; I bivouacked for the night.

* Left bank, under Lieutenant-Colonel Cox—Royal Artillery, 12 men and 1 gun; the Buffs, 10 men; 1st Goorkhas, 25 men.
Right bank, under Captain Young—The Buffs, 50 men; 1st Goorkhas, 20 men.
In three boats, under Captain Garforth—3 officers and 29 men.

2. To-day I took possession of the enemy's guns, &c., numbering six, two that were burst already, and a lot of small arms, powder, &c.
3. Lieutenant-Colonel Hill reports that he "started from Terrachee on the 24th, at 9-30 A. M., and perceived the Malays on the hills, detached a flanking party to them, and about sixty of the enemy retired over the hills. Fired two 24-pounder rockets at them. Proceeded at 11-15 A. M., burning Gumatie on the way; arrived at Dato Moar's house at 1-15 noon, which he skirmished up to with the Goorkhas; a few shots were fired at the Malays, and they ran away; halted at Dato Moars for the night, distance from Terrachee about six miles, and on 25th December (to-day) I started at 7-30 A. M., arriving and forming a junction with Lieutenant-Colonel Clay; no opposition, and several Malays came in with white flags to sue for peace."

I have, &c,
E. BERTIE CLAY, Lieut.-Col.,
Commanding Malacca Column.

The Assistant Quartermaster-General,
Perak Field Force, Penang.

Camp Terrachee,
December 24, 1875

SIR,—I have the honour to report, for the information of Major-General Colborne, C. B., that I marched the whole force under my command from Rassa on the 18th instant, having previously detached the columns, as per margin,* under command of Lieutenant-Colonel Clay, and Lieutenant-Colonel Hill.

2. Lieutenant-Colonel Hill with his party marched as far as Datu Klana's house, distant from Rassa three miles; there the road branched off to Pantay; he halted that night and proceeded the next morning. A copy of his report is annexed.
3. I was detained the whole of that day at Datu Sultan's house (distant from Rassa 3½ miles) for want of coolies, and here I may mention that is the only difficulty I have experienced throughout during the whole of these arrangements, although I have been most ably assisted by Captain Murray, "Rassa," and by Mr. Kinnersly; but I am of opinion that had a properly organized transport corps been formed, all would have worked smoothly.
4. On the 20th I marched from Datu Sultan's to the foot of the Bukit Putas Pass, and the same afternoon I detailed a party of 50 men under Captain Channer as a reconnoitring party, Lieutenant North, Royal Engineers, accompanying.

After a delay of three hours Captain Channer wrote to me, that from the density of the jungle it was impossible to discover the correct position of the stockade; I then directed him to proceed as close as possible to the stockade as he could, and ascertain as to its whereabouts, and report if a range could be found for my guns and rockets. About five o'clock I heard some smart firing opened from where Captain Channer's party should be. I at once ordered the detachment, 10th Regiment, accompanied by Lieutenants Hinxman and Peyton, to fall in, and proceeded myself at their head up the pass, to within 40 yards of the stockade; but I found the road so blocked up by felled trees and bamboo brushwood that it was impenetrable. Here I must say that the party for a few moments were thrown into confusion by the Arah contingent firing a volley in our rear. I went back and enquired the cause, and learnt that they had not fired into the 10th, but into a party of Goorkhas who were above them, on the left. I then turned up to the left, up a very steep side of the hill, where I found the party of Goorkhas in support of Captain Channer's detachment, and found Captain Channer and his party had taken one stockade, and opened fire on others a little below them: copy of Captain Channer's report is annexed. Here I must mention the gallant conduct of Captain Channer: he proceeded cautiously with a party of 25 Goorkhas as if he were on a sporting expedition; he advanced himself to within a few yards of the stockade; the enemy had kept no look-out and they were cooking at the time; Captain Channer seized the opportunity, and followed immediately by two men named in the margin,* was the first to jump into the stockade. He found it occupied by 25 or 30 men: the first man Captain Channer shot dead with his revolver, and the two Goorkhas each shot his man; they were soon followed by the rest of Captain Channer's party. Having expelled the Malays, Captain Channer opened a smart fire on the other two (2) stockades, and soon emptied them. In this affair 6 were killed in the stockade, and doubtless some were wounded from that and the other stockades, but the Malays always carry off their dead and wounded (if they have time), but they must have suffered, as proved by the track of blood left behind.

All this was not accomplished without some small loss on our side, and I have to report the death of Naick Bukit Sing Raie, and Sepoy Duljeet Thappa dangerously wounded in the neck, and two sepoys wounded in the foot by native ranjons.

Of Captain Channer's gallantry, coolness, and intrepidity I cannot sufficiently express my approval, and a separate report will be submitted for the favourable consideration of Major General Colborne, C.B. The conduct of his men was equally good, and I trust the Major General may be urged to express his approval of their behaviour.

By the taking of these stockades most serious obstacles have been overcome, and great saving of life.

* Sepoy Buleer Ghurtie, and Sepoy Jeetman Thappa, B Company, 1st Goorkhas.

5. 21st December, 1875.—Marched to Bandole, distance 4½ miles, which was reported to be strongly stockaded. Coming out of the pass I burnt two stockades, evidently just erected, but spared houses that were not fortified, or where no offensive weapons were found.
6. 23rd December, 1875.—Terrachee, distant 7 miles, crossing a stream several times, through rice cultivation and swamp, effected a junction with Lieutenant-Colonel Hill's party all well.
7. In conclusion I must record my thanks to all officers and men for the cheerful and willing manner all have worked, being half rationed part of the time and wet through every day. To the 1st Goorkhas specially my thanks are due, for having borne the brunt of the hard work.

To Lieutenant-Colonel Hill and his party my earnest thanks are due, for although they met with no active opposition, still they were not to be deterred, and made a flank march viâ Pantay under most unfavourable circumstances, meeting with the Moar River (which they crossed seventeen times), swamps, and the most dense jungle. There is but little doubt that their march has had a good moral effect.

8. I forgot to mention that Captain Channer took an iron gun—about a 4-pounder—in the stockade which he attacked.

I have, &c.,
E. BERTIE CLAY,
Lieutenant-Colonel, Commanding
Malacca Column.

To the Assistant Quartermaster-General,
Perak Field Force, Penang.

Terrachee,
22nd December, 1875.

SIR,—I have the honour to report that in accordance with orders received I started from the Datu Klana's house near Rassa, on 19th December, at 10-30 A. M., with instructions to make a flank march on Tertutchie, viâ Pantay, with a force as per margin.*

1. The force reached a small mountain stream called Sunjie Ramie (leaving Pantay on the left), the last water on this side of the range at 2-30 P. M., about seven miles; a fair jungle track with several streams to cross; made a clearing in the wood to encamp, rear guard arriving at 5 P. M.

On 20th started at 9 A. M., crossed the dividing range about 14 0 feet above level of sea, arriving at Moar River flowing east at 3 P. M. —distance about 7 miles; very bad jungle track, rear guard arriving at 6 o'clock.

On 21st started at 7-30 A. M., made 5 miles, arriving at valley Teratchie, crossing and recrossing Moar River; an almost imperceptible jungle track. At 10 A. M. found a steep hill obstructed with felled trees, the bed of the Moar River being staken with ranjons. With great difficulty and labour circumvented these difficulties; at 12 noon came across a stockade or kubo; skirmished up to it, taking it in rear with the Goorkhas, and bringing the 7-pounder gun to bear upon it. A few Malays occupied the place but evacuated without firing a shot. Entered the Teratchie valley at 3 P. M., several of the enemy retreating eastward toward Sriminanti, where I am informed there are two stockades; cleared the valley, and force took up position for night. Before doing so I sent out a force under Captain Stirling, R. N., to reconnoitre towards Bukit Putas, and cut off the enemy who were said to be retreating, but he was unable to interrupt them as they took to the jungle on the hills bounding valley.

On the 22nd formed junction with column under Colonel Clay, marching out at 7 A. M., returning to position at 10 A. M.

2. I have the honour to state that the conduct of the troops under my command was most excellent under circumstances the most trying any force could have encountered; progressing through an almost imperceptible jungle track over high hills, crossing and recrossing mountain streams and swampy dense forest under torrents of rain, and having every night to clear dense jungle to enable the troops to bivouac.
3. I am indebted to Mr. Daly, Survey Department, for information regarding distances noted by him at the time.

The march would have been impossible without the intelligence obtained from Malay scouts by Captain Murray, Resident at Rassa, who accompanied the force, and to this officer's indefatigable exertions with regard to the Chinese coolies who formed our transport, and one of our greatest difficulties, we are entirely indebted for the success of this harassing march. To Captain Stirling and officers R.N., Captain Mercer, Goorkhas, and Lieutenant Henriques, R.A., I owe hearty thanks for their assistance and aid rendered to me at all times.

I have, &c.,
R. SALE HILL, Lieut.-Col.,
Officer Commanding 1st Goorkhas, L. I.

To the Staff Officer,
Malacca Column.

Camp Tarrachee,
December 22, 1875.

SIR,—I have the honour to report that agreeably to orders received on 20th December 1875, from Officer Commanding Malacca Column, I reconnoitred the ground towards Bukit Pass, with the view of ascertaining the practicability of a good position for guns and the situation of enemy's stockades. I was accompanied by Lieutenant North, R. E., and A Company 1st Goorkhas, numbering fifty rank and file. I started from Camp, Dato Pando, at 10 A. M., and after proceeding a mile towards pass turned up to left and proceeded up a mountain side and along ridge through dense tree jungle for three miles. As the guides with me evidently knew nothing of the position of the enemy I returned, and then proceeded straight up towards the pass. At 4 P. M.,

* 123 Goorkhas—120 rounds ammunition, 17-pounder steel gun, 10 Artillerymen, 100 rounds; 30 seamen and marines, H. M. S. "Thistle," 36 24-pounder rockets. Goorkhas.—Commander, Captain Mercer.—Party from H. M. S. "Thistle," Captain Stirling, Mr. Harrison, Mr. Beattie.—Artillery, Lieutenant Henrique, R. A.

after marching a mile along the bed of a torrent, I found the road completely blocked up by felled trees. I threw out flanking parties, and leaving a rear guard with Lieutenant North to cut through the tree jungle, I saw one of the enemy's log stockades; a palisade enclosed it, and the ground was covered with ranjons (crows' feet of sharp bamboos). I jumped over and heard the Malays talking inside, and taking the opportunity of their careless look-out, I rushed in with two or three men, and took the stockade, which was held by 25 or 30 Malays. A fire was at once opened on me from a lower stockade 80 yards off, and from one on my right 160 yards across the pass; getting the men under cover, I kept up a steady fire on both stockades. The enemy, after half an hour's firing, evacuated the lower stockade, and shortly afterwards the one on the right. Reinforcements from camp and my rear guard came up at sunset, when the lower stockade was occupied. The enemy lost five killed, four in the first stockade taken. Of the first Goorkhas, one Naick was killed, and one Sepoy severely wounded, two others slightly with ranjons: it was impossible to ascertain the number of the enemy killed or wounded in the other stockades.

The stockades were strongly built of logs, loopholed, and the jungle between each was almost impassable. All these commanded the entrance to the pass. I have to thank Lieutenant North, R.E., for the assistance he afforded throughout. The Goorkhas behaved steadily and well.

I have, &c.,
G. N. CHANNER, Captain,
1st Goorkhas.

To the Staff Officer,
Malacca Column.

XII.—An officer is not promoted substantively to the fifth class until he has passed the Lower Departmental Examination, and to the fourth class until he has passed the Higher Departmental Examination.

XIII.—Officiating appointments to the fourth and fifth classes are made after consideration of the order in which officers have passed the departmental examinations.

XIV.—The departmental examinations are conducted at the local account offices, in the presence of the Accountant General, and under the direction of the Comptroller General and Deputy Comptroller General, who decide upon the marks to be awarded to each examinee. If these officers differ as to the marks to be assigned to any answer, the Secretary to the Government of India in the Financial Department decides finally between them.

GENERAL RULES.

XV.—The rules for conducting all the examinations are as follows :—

(1.) The examination papers are sent in a sealed packet, not to be opened till the examination begins, each cover containing a separate sealed envelope for each paper set; these envelopes must not be opened until the papers are required for distribution. An index number is assigned to each candidate. This index number is to be entered by the candidate on each of his papers, instead of his name, which is nowhere to appear on the proceedings.

(2.) The several papers should be given out singly, and the hour at which each paper is given out and received back is to be mentioned in the presiding officer's report. The exercises are to be worked out by the candidate in presence of the presiding officer.

(3). The questions need not be written out by the candidate, but only the answers and solutions in full, with the number of the question prefixed. The answers may be first worked out on waste paper. The neatness of the candidate's papers is taken into consideration by the examiners in assigning values to his work. The paper should be of foolscap size, with the candidate's index number and the date, and the title of each subject at the head of the paper. The solutions as first written out fair are to be transmitted to the Comptroller General, without alteration or correction, immediately after the close of the examination.

(4). The time occupied by the candidate in answering each set of questions i. e., the interval between receiving the examination paper and returning his papers to the presiding officer, is to be stated on the back of his paper of solutions. The time allowed for a paper is in no case to be exceeded.

(5). The presiding officer must certify that the above rules have been strictly followed by signing the certificate below, and explain any accidental or unavoidable deviations :—

Certified that the examination of the candidates whose index numbers are , has been conducted strictly according to the Rules contained in the Resolution of the Financial Department No. 2273, dated the 18th April 1876, as below ;—

Conducting the Examination.

13.—Candidates for the Lower Examination who are now in the Department and who have not passed in Algebra, will be examined in that subject; and those who have already passed the Lower but not the Higher Departmental examination, will be examined in annuities, compound interest, and the use of logarithms of numbers.

14.—In order to avoid misapprehension, the Governor-General in Council declares that nothing in this Resolution is to be understood as limiting the powers which the Government has, throughout, expressly retained, of appointing gentlemen not in the Department, to any office in any class of the Department whenever the interests of the public service require it. The Government will always appoint an officer belonging to the Department to a vacancy, if there is such an officer of sufficient standing and experience and qualified for the office in every respect. But it must be emphatically understood that the officers in the Classified List have no monopoly of the departmental service other than that which the opportunities of their position, diligently improved, may secure to them.

15.—The first consideration, when a vacancy occurs in the Department, will always be the efficiency of the public service; and no claim on the part of the officers of the Department will ever be allowed to stand in the way of the enlistment, in the higher offices of the Department, of officers of the Covenanted Civil Service, or even of gentlemen not in the service of the Government at all, whenever it is thought that the public interests require, or will be promoted by, such enlistment.

16.—Moreover, His Excellency in Council deems it proper to declare that the Government of India holds itself free, not only to appoint to any office in the Finance Department any one not an enrolled officer of the Department whose appointment is considered necessary in the public interest, but also to pay to the person selected for such appointment such remuneration as may be required in order to secure his services.

17.—As regards Departmental Examination this resolution will take effect from the examination to be held in November 1876.

ORDERED, that the foregoing Resolution be published in the Gazette of India and communicated to the Comptroller General, the Accountants General, and the Deputy Accountants General in independent charge, and to each candidate nominated to compete for admission to the Department, and to each officer on his appointment to the Department.

MINT AND CURRENCY.

The 18th May 1876.

No. 247.—The following Resolution is published for general information:—

READ—

A despatch from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 81 (Financial), dated 2nd March 1876.

RESOLUTION.—Since the abolition of the Madras Mint, the duty of providing the entire coinage of British India has been left to the Mints at Bombay and Calcutta, and the importance of the Bombay Mint relatively to that at Calcutta has been much increased by the opening of the Suez Canal.

2. The Mint at Bombay has hitherto been under the immediate supervision of the Government of Bombay, while the Calcutta Mint is under the Government of India. The management of the Mints is intimately connected with the administration of the finances, the distribution of the cash balances and the currency reserve, and the movement of the public funds generally. Occasions arise when it is important for the Government of India to be in a position to issue prompt orders to either Mint. It is also expedient that the two Mints should be brought into closer relations with each other, so as to benefit to the utmost by each others experience: but this cannot be fully accomplished while they are under different administrations.

3. Moreover, whatever of local character the Bombay Mint may formerly have had, has long ago ceased; its functions are now imperial and affect the interests of all India. There does not, therefore, seem any advantage in the interposition of the local Government between the Master of the Bombay Mint and the Government of India, to compensate for the disadvantages involved in the delays and other inconveniences inseparable from such interposition.

4. Upon these considerations, and on the motion of the Government of India with the concurrence of the Government of Bombay, Her Majesty's Secretary of State has now sanctioned the administration of the Bombay Mint being brought under the direct management of the Government of India like the Mint at Calcutta, the Masters of the two Mints being placed on an equal footing.

5. The pay of the Master of the Mint at Calcutta has recently been Rs. 3,000, and that of the Master of the Mint at Bombay Rs. 2,000, a month. The Secretary of State has sanctioned the recommendation of the Government of India, that hereafter the senior of the two Masters shall receive the higher, and the junior the lower, pay, of whichever Mint he may have charge, it being understood that a Junior Master promoted to the pay of Senior Master may, at the option of the Governor General in Council, be transferred to Bombay or Calcutta, as the case may be.

6. The Governor General in Council is accordingly pleased to declare that the Bombay Mint shall be henceforth under the direct administration of the Government of India. In making this declaration the Governor General in Council desires cordially to acknowledge the success with which the administration of the Mint at Bombay has been uniformly conducted by His Excellency the Governor in Council at Bombay.

R. B. CHAPMAN,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

WAR OFFICE,
April* 12, 1876.

The Queen has been graciously pleased to signify her intention to confer the decoration of the Victoria Cross on the undermentioned officer, whose claim to the same has been submitted for Her Majesty's approval, for his gallant conduct during the recent operations against the Malays in Perak as recorded against his name, viz. :—

Corps.	Rank and Name.	Act of bravery for which recommended.
Bengal Staff Corps.	Captain (now Brevet Major) George Nicholas Channer.	For having with the greatest gallantry been the first to jump into the enemy's stockade, to which he had been despatched with a small party of the 1st Goorkha Light Infantry on the afternoon of the 20th December 1875 by the Officer Commanding the Malacca Column, to procure intelligence as to its strength, position, &c. Major Channer got completely in rear of the enemy's position, and finding himself so close that he could hear the voices of the men inside who were cooking at the time and keeping no look-out, he beckoned to his men, and the whole party stole quietly forward to within a few paces of the stockade. On jumping in he shot the first man dead with his revolver and his party then came up and entered the stockade which was of a most formidable nature, surrounded by a bamboo palisade; about seven yards within was a log-house loop-holed with two narrow entrances and trees laid latitudinally to the thickness of two feet. The Officer Commanding reports that if Major Channer by his foresight, coolness and intrepidity had not taken this stockade, a great loss of life must have occurred, as from the fact of his being unable to bring guns to bear on it from the steepness of the hill and the density of the jungle, it must have been taken at the point of the bayonet.

POLICE.

The 15th June 1876.

No. 162.—The provisions of Act VIII of 1870 (for the prevention of the murder of female infants) having been made applicable to the clans and localities in the Jalan District detailed in the subjoined list by the Notification of the Government of the North-Western Provinces No. 39A., dated the 18th ultimo, the following Rules made by that Government in exercise of the power conferred on it by Section 2 of the said Act, and confirmed by the Governor General in Council, are hereby published for general information :—

Rules for the suppression of female infanticide.

I.—A nominal Register (A) of all proclaimed families shall be drawn up by the Police under the orders of the Magistrate of the district. In this register recognised heads of families or masters of separate households shall be entered as the heads of families, and every member of the family habitually resident in the village shall be entered by name. All persons under twelve shall be entered as children, except married female children living with their husbands, who shall, for the purposes of these Rules, be deemed to be adult females.

II.—All villages in which the proportion of female children to children on a proclaimed population of not less than 25 children is less than 25 per cent. shall be called "specially guilty" villages, and shall also be entered in a separate Register (B), which shall be called the "Private register of proclaimed families in specially guilty villages." This register shall not be open to inspection except by the officers of the district.

III.—The person who is registered as the head of a proclaimed family shall report immediately the occurrence of every birth and death and the illness of any female child in his family to the chaukidar of the village. He shall also produce all children in his family for the inspection of a Police officer visiting the village when required to produce them.

IV.—Every midwife knowing of, or having reason to believe in, the occurrence in a proclaimed family in the village in which she resides of a birth or of the illness of a new-born child shall at once report the fact to the chaukidar of the village. And if the village is one entered in Register B, she shall also report the occurrence of a pregnancy.

V.—If in a given time after proclamation [to be determined for each village or locality by the Local Government] the proportion of female children in a village entered in Register B does not rise to more than 25 per cent., the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that every person registered as the head of a proclaimed family in that village shall be personally bound to report to the officer in charge of the Police station every pregnancy in his family at some period before the seventh month.

VI.—The chaukidar of the village shall immediately report to the officer in charge of the Police station the occurrence of a birth, whether male or female, in a proclaimed family; the death of a female infant under six months old; the illness of a female child; and the removal of a pregnant woman to another village. He shall also report, on the occasion of his periodical visit to the Police station, other deaths, removals and arrivals, and pregnancies reported to him if the village is entered in Register B.

VII.—The zemindars of the villages shall give assistance to the Police in drawing up Register A, and in obtaining information regarding all births, marriages, and deaths occurring, or about to occur, among proclaimed families.

VIII.—All expenses incurred in working the system sanctioned by Act VIII of 1870 shall be borne by the proclaimed clans and families, and shall be recoverable as arrears of land revenue; provided that, when the percentage of female children to children of any proclaimed class in any village exceeds forty, such class shall be exempted from any share in such expenses, unless in the opinion of the Magistrate there be other grounds of suspicion.

IX.—Where the crime is so prevalent, and the number of the proclaimed villages so great, that the ordinary establishment of the district cannot cope successfully with it, the Local Government may, at its discretion, appoint a force of special Police for the purpose of carrying out measures of prevention and detection. All expenses incurred for the payment of such Police, or under Rule VIII, may be met by a rate leviable under the orders of the Local Government from the heads of families entered in the nominal register of proclaimed persons. Such rate will ordinarily be imposed so as to fall more heavily on specially guilty than on guilty families; but the amount of the rate to be levied will be fixed in every case by the special orders of the Local Government.

X.—No proclaimed village or family shall be exempted from the operation of these Rules except by the order of the Local Government, or in virtue of authority to that effect vested by Government in any officer. A village or family so exempted will then be struck out of Register A, and the erasure initialled by the Magistrate of the District or by the District Superintendent of Police.

the transmission through the post of the said other articles shall be subject to the following rules and conditions ; and to make the following orders and directions :—

Postage-duties chargeable upon letters and other articles sent through the post from any part of British India to any country belonging to the General Postal Union.

	Each letter per ½ oz.	Printed Papers, Legal and Commercial Documents, and Patterns.
		Each newspaper, per 4 ozs.	Each packet of printed papers, &c., per 2 ozs.

to Aden, Malta and Gibraltar	4	1	1½
to any country belonging to the Union not coming under the foregoing heads.	5	1	1½

2. The higher rates thus prescribed for correspondence sent viâ Brindisi to the United Kingdom and countries served through it result from the conveyance of such mails by special train through Italy and France: and the lower rates of letter postage for Aden, Malta and Gibraltar are those hitherto in force, which it is not the object of the present arrangement to increase.

3. The annexed Schedule shows in detail the countries coming under the foregoing heads, as well as the routes and other particulars connected with the transmission of correspondence to them.

Printed Papers and Legal and Commercial Documents.

(N.B.—Attention is drawn to the limit of weight, viz., 2 lbs., fixed for a packet of printed papers or legal and commercial documents. See Schedule.)

4. Under the head of "Printed Papers" are included newspapers, stitched or bound books, pamphlets, music, visiting cards, catalogues, prospectuses, announcements and notices of various kinds, whether printed, engraved or lithographed and photographs. Under the head of "Legal and Commercial Documents" are included acts or deeds of all kinds drawn up by public functionaries, invoices, policies of insurance, copies or extracts of deeds under private seal, written upon stamped or unstamped paper, scores or sheets of manuscript music, and in general all manuscript papers and documents which have not the character of an actual and personal correspondence.

5. Articles posted as "Printed Papers" or as "Legal and Commercial Documents" must be placed under bands or simply folded, so as to admit of the contents being easily examined, and, excepting as follows, "Printed Papers" must contain no manuscript writing, figure or mark whatever :—

(a.) Proofs of printing or of music may bear corrections made with a pen, relating exclusively to the text or to the execution of the work. Manuscript may be annexed to such proofs.

(b.) Circulars, Notices, &c., may bear the signature of the sender, with his trade or profession, and may also show the place of origin and the date.

(c.) A book may contain a manuscript dedication or a complimentary inscription from the author.

(d.) Passages in the text to which it is desired to call attention may be marked with a simple stroke.

(e.) Prices may be added in manuscript or otherwise on printed or lithographed stock and share lists, prices current, and market reports.

(f.) No other manuscript additions may be made ; nor are typographical additions allowed, if they tend to take from the packet its general character.

6. Articles posted as "Printed Papers" or "Legal and Commercial Documents" which do not fulfil the foregoing conditions, or are not fully pre-paid, will be treated as unpaid letters, with the sole exception of newspapers and printed papers such as circulars, notices, &c., which will, in such cases, not be forwarded.

Patterns of Merchandise.

(N.B.—Attention is drawn to the limit of weight, viz., 8 ounces, fixed for a packet of patterns. See Schedule.)

7. Patterns of merchandise are chargeable with the reduced postage under the following conditions :—

(a.) They must be placed in bags, or in boxes, or envelopes removeable so as to admit of an easy examination of their contents.

(b.) They must not have any saleable value, or bear any manuscript writing other than the name or the trade or profession of the sender, the address of the person for whom the packet is intended, a manufacturer's or trade mark, numbers and prices.

8. Patterns of merchandise may not be introduced into a letter, or into a packet of any other kind, unless they form an integral part of a particular work.

9. Patterns not packed in accordance with these conditions, or not fully prepaid, will be treated as unpaid letters, except those which are valuable. The latter will not be forwarded, nor any of which the conveyance would be attended with risk or danger.

Money, Jewels, &c., and articles liable to customs duty.

10. No letter or packet containing gold or silver money, jewels or precious articles, or any article liable to customs duty may be sent through the post under this Notification.

Correspondence received from countries belonging to the Union.

11. Although post cards are not among the classes of correspondence, for the transmission of which by post from India provision has been made, those received from other countries of the Union will be delivered in India as paid letters.

12. Letters received from any country of the Union as unpaid or insufficiently paid will be charged, on delivery, at the rate which would be chargeable on a letter posted in India for that country by the same route, together with an additional rate of two and a half annas per half ounce. The value of any stamps (as marked by the country of origin) which may be affixed to an insufficiently paid letter will be deducted from the amount thus chargeable, fractions of an anna in the remainder being raised to one anna.

13. No additional postage will henceforth be charged for the re-direction of letters or other articles sent through the post from any foreign country, whether belonging to the General Postal Union or not, to any place in British India.

Lists of Special and Common Jurors to be summoned for each Session, when and by whom to be prepared, and number of names to be contained therein.

VI. On some day not less than six weeks before the commencement of each Session, one of the Judges of the High Court shall cause to be made out lists of the persons to be summoned as Special and Common Jurors, respectively, for such Session. The list of Special Jurors shall contain the names of 30, and the list of Common Jurors the names of 70, persons of those respectively included in the lists of Special and Common Jurors. The lists shall be respectively called 'The Special Jurors' List' and 'The Common Jurors' List' for the particular Session, designating it by the date on which it is to commence, and shall be prepared as follows :—

List of Special Jurors how prepared.

(1). The names of all persons, if any, ordered to be entered in the list of Special Jurors for such Session under Rule VII, X or XV, shall be first entered in the said list, unless the Judge shall be satisfied as regards any one or more of such persons that he or they will be unable, from illness or other sufficient cause, to attend at such Session, in which case the name of such person may be set aside in the same manner as it might have been set aside under Rule VII, if the name had been drawn by lot for such Session. The Judge shall then cause to be drawn by lot the names of such a number of persons qualified and liable to serve on Special Juries as, with those already on the list, will, subject to the provisions of these rules, make up the number of 30 persons qualified and liable to serve on Special Juries, and the names of such 30 persons shall be entered upon and form the list of Special Jurors liable to serve and to be summoned as Special Jurors for such Session.

List of Common Jurors how prepared.

(2). In like manner the names of all persons, if any, ordered to be entered in the Common Jurors' List for such Session under Rules VII, X or XV, shall be first entered in the said list, unless the Judge shall be satisfied as regards any of them that such person will be unable, from illness or other sufficient cause, to attend at such Session, in which case the name of such person may be set aside in the same manner as it might have been set aside under Rule VII, if his name had been drawn by lot for that Session. The Judge shall then cause to be drawn by lot the names of such a number of persons qualified and liable to serve on Common Juries as, with the names already on the list, will, subject to the provisions of these rules, make up the number of 70 persons qualified and liable to serve on Common Juries, and the names of such 70 persons shall be entered upon and form the list of Common Jurors liable to serve and to be summoned as Common Jurors for such Session.

Mode of proceeding to draw the names of the Special and Common Jurors to be summoned.

VII. The mode of proceeding to draw the names of such Special and Common Jurors, respectively, shall be as follows :—

The names of all the Jurors in the lists of Special and Common Jurors, respectively, prepared by the Clerk of the Crown, shall be numbered consecutively. The number attached in the list of Special Jurors to the name of each Juror liable to be summoned as a Special Juror for the Session for which the list of Special Jurors is to be prepared, shall be written on a distinct piece of card or parchment, the several pieces of card or parchment being all, as nearly as may be, of equal size and shape, and such cards or parchments shall be put together by the Clerk of the Crown into a box, and, on the day to be fixed for drawing the names of the Jurors, the Clerk of the Crown shall, in open Court, draw, or cause to be drawn, the said cards or parchments, one after the other, until the requisite number of Special Jurors shall be obtained. The Juror on the Special Jurors' List, whose number on such list shall correspond with the number drawn, shall, subject to the provisions in these rules, be entered in the Special Jurors' List for the Session, and a number denoting the order in which the name of each Juror is so drawn shall be set against the name of such Juror in the Special Jury List for the Session.

A similar course, mutatis mutandis, shall be adopted in drawing the names of the Common Jurors.

Names of deceased persons, or persons not liable to serve, or excused from service, to be set aside.

The Judge may order the name of any person who has actually served as a Juror in the preceding year and of any person known or believed to be dead, absent from Calcutta, or likely to be unable from illness or otherwise to attend, or known or believed not to be qualified or liable to serve as a Juror under these rules, to be set aside; and in every such case, an additional name shall be drawn in lieu of that so set aside, and the Judge, if he think fit, may order the name of any person so set aside, except on account of death or disqualification, to be entered on the list of Special or Common Jurors, as the case may be, for any subsequent Session to be then fixed.

Names of persons excused from service to be entered in list for future service.

Names to be arranged in the lists in the order in which they are drawn, with additions and places of abode.

VIII. The names, additions and places of abode of the several persons included in such Special and Common Jurors' Lists for the Session, shall be written therein and numbered in the order in which they shall have been drawn, and such lists shall be signed by the Judge.

Copy of lists to be annexed to Precept to the Sheriff to summon 27 Special Jurors and 55 Common Jurors in numerical order.

IX. A copy of such lists shall be annexed to a Precept to the Sheriff, commanding him to summon the first 27 on the list of Special Jurors, and the first 55 on the list of Common Jurors, and, in case he shall not be able to summon the whole of the first 27 or 55, as the case may be, then to summon as many as shall be necessary to make up the full number of 27 or 55, of those in numerical order in such lists respectively next after the first 27 or 55.

The name of any Juror excused attending at one Session, on condition of his serving at a subsequent Session, to be inserted by the Clerk of the Crown in the list for such subsequent Session.

X. Any person whose name is included in the Special or Common Jurors' list for any Session may apply to the Clerk of the Crown to cause him to be excused from attendance as a Juror, either generally or at the particular Session. Such application shall be made at least one week before the day fixed for the commencement of the Session, and shall specify the grounds upon which the application is made. The Clerk of the Crown shall, as soon as possible after the last day allowed for making such applications, bring them before one of Judges of the Court, and such Judge shall pass orders thereupon, which shall be communicated by the Clerk of the Crown to the respective applicants. If the Judge shall think fit to excuse any of the applicants from attendance at the particular Session, he may do so unconditionally, or on condition of his serving at the next or some subsequent Session to be fixed, and any such conditional order shall operate as an authority to the Clerk of the Crown to include the name of such person in the list for such subsequent Session under the provisions of Rule VI.

Jurors to be summoned 10 days before the first day of the Session.

XI. Every person named in the lists mentioned in Rule VIII shall forthwith, or as soon as possible after the receipt of the Precept by the Sheriff, be summoned by him to attend at the Session for which he shall have been appointed to serve as a Juror, and such summons shall be served at least 10 days before the first day of the Session.

Service of a summons, or other process, on a Juror.

XII. A summons to a Juror who resides out of the limits of the Town of Calcutta, and to whom access at his office or place of business within such limits is denied to the Sheriff's Officer, as also all notices, orders or other proceedings required to be served on him, shall, unless otherwise ordered, be addressed to him at his office or place of business aforesaid, or at his place of residence, and forwarded to him by post duly registered. The transmission by post as aforesaid of every such summons, or notice, or of a copy authenticated by the seal of the Court, of every such order or other proceeding, shall, unless good cause be shewn to the contrary, be deemed sufficient service thereof.

By post.

Personally.

XIII. In all other cases every such summons, notice, order, or other proceeding, shall, unless otherwise ordered, be served on a Juror personally.

Sheriff to return Precept with two panels, one of Special Jurors and one of Common Jurors, showing in tabular form names and particulars of service, and accounting for non-service.

XIV. The Sheriff shall, as soon as possible after service of the summons, and not later than one week before the commencement of the Session, return the Precept to the Clerk of the Crown, with two panels annexed thereto, one of the Special Jurors, and one of the Common Jurors, which panels shall show in a tabular form the names of the persons summoned and the particulars of service upon each; and if any person or persons named in the lists annexed to the Precept shall not have been served, the panel shall state that fact, and the reason why such person or persons has or have not been summoned: and in every case the reason why such service has not been effected shall be verified by the affidavit of the Officer whose duty it was to effect such service, and such affidavit shall be filed with the Clerk of the Crown, with the return to the Precept.

Sheriff's return to be immediately laid before a Judge for orders.

XV. On the receipt of such return, the Clerk of the Crown shall, without delay, bring the same before one of the Judges of the Court. The said Judge may, if necessary, examine the Sheriff's Officer or Officers as to the truth of such return, and as to the circumstances of the service or of the absence of service on any person, and may direct service to be made upon the person or persons not already served in such manner as to him shall seem fit. The Judge, if he think fit, may cause the name of any person returned by the Sheriff as not summoned to be entered on the list of Jurors, either Special or Common, as the case may be, for any subsequent Session to be fixed by the Judge.

XVI. If the Judge shall be of opinion that the number of Jurors named in either of the said lists who shall have been served is not likely to be sufficient, he may cause to be drawn by lot, in the mode provided by Rule VII, such further number of names as may be required to make up the full number of Special and Common Jurors summoned to attend at the Session to 30 and 70, respectively.

If sufficient number of Jurors not served, further names of Jurors to be drawn by lot, as provided by Rule VII.

XVII. Such lists shall be called the Supplemental Lists of Special or Common Jurors, as the case may be, and shall be prepared and signed in the manner hereinbefore provided with respect to the original lists, and copies thereof shall be sent to the Sheriff with an additional Precept, and the Sheriff shall, as soon as possible after the receipt of such additional Precept, cause the persons named therein to be summoned to attend at the Session, and shall return the Precept to the Court not later than one clear day before the first day of the Session, with a panel similar to that provided by Rule XIV in respect of the original lists and Precept.

Copy of Supplementary Lists of Jurors to be annexed to additional Precept to the Sheriff to summon the persons named therein.

Sheriff to return the Precept with a panel, as provided by Rule XIV, one clear day before the first day of Session.

XVIII. In order to nominate a Jury for the trial of any prisoner or other person to be tried by Jury, the Clerk of the Crown shall cause to be put together into one box cards or pieces of parchment containing the names of all the persons summoned to serve on the Common Jury for the Session, if the trial is to take place before a Common Jury, or on the Special Jury, if the trial is to take place before a Special Jury, except such of the said persons as shall have been excused by the Judge from serving on that day in consequence of his having served as a Juror on the previous day, or for any other cause. Such cards or pieces of parchment shall be, as nearly as may be, of equal size, and each shall bear the name of one person summoned to serve on the Jury for that Session. The Clerk of the Crown shall then in open Court draw or cause to be drawn out of the said box nine of the said cards or pieces of parchment, one after another; and if any of the Jurors whose names shall be so drawn shall not appear, then such further number shall be drawn until nine Jurors shall appear. The prisoner or person to be tried shall be informed that, if he desires to object to any Juror, he must make his objection before the Juror is sworn. The names of the Jurors shall then be called aloud; and if, upon any challenge or objection either by the Government or the party to be tried, or for any other lawful cause, any Juror is not allowed to serve, or is exempted from serving, the Clerk of the Crown shall draw out another card or piece of parchment from the said box, and so on, until nine Jurors shall have been drawn who shall be allowed to serve.

Jury how to be drawn and empanelled.

XIX. If, by reason of absence, or disallowance on challenge, or any other cause, there be a deficiency of Jurors, the Court may command the Sheriff, or other Officer, to name or summon a sufficient number of persons to make up a full Jury; and the Sheriff, or other Officer shall, at such command of the Court, return such men duly qualified to serve as shall be then present, or can be found to serve on such Jury, and the course of proceeding shall be the same as if their names had been returned in the panel and drawn by ballot under Rule XVIII; provided that, in case of a Special Jury, the additional Jurors may be taken from the list of Common Jurors summoned to serve at the same Session, if a sufficient number of Jurors qualified to serve as Special Jurors shall not be present in Court.

Proceedings in case of deficient Jurors.

XX. After each Session the Clerk of the Crown shall make an entry in the list of Jurors opposite the names of those who shall have served or shall have been summoned to serve at such Session and shall not have made default, together with the date of service, or of the Session for which he shall have been summoned to serve.

After each Session entry to be made by the Clerk of the Crown against the name of each Juror who has not made default.

XXI. No person shall be summoned to serve upon any inquest before a Coroner unless he is on the Common Jury List, nor, except in the case of necessity, within the period of twelve months after he shall have served on a Coroner's inquest or shall have been summoned to serve on a Coroner's inquest, and shall not have made default. The Coroner shall keep a copy of the Common Jury List, and shall enter therein the names of the persons who shall have served or been summoned to serve and not made default, and the date of the inquest at which such Juror shall have served or for which he shall have been summoned to serve.

No person not on the Common Jury List to be summoned to serve on a Coroner's inquest, and no Juror, except in case of necessity, to be summoned again within twelve months.

Coroner to keep a copy of the Jury Rules, and make an entry against the name of each Juror who has not made default.
