RETIREMENTS.

No. 10.—His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following despatch from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India :—

MILITARY, INDIA OFFICE,
No. 407. London, 8th December, 1881.

To His Excellency the Most Honourable the Governor General of India in Council.

MY LORD MARQUIS,—Para. 1. In my despatches, Nos. 112, 258, 260 and 299 of the present year, I have sanctioned revised pension regulations for the Officers of the various branches of the Indian Military Service, including the Medical and Veterinary Departments. Under the revised rules substantial benefits have been conferred upon Officers already serving, while a very sufficient pension has been allowed to those Officers who may hereafter enter the Service.

2. It seems to me expedient now to review the general result of these measures, in order that misapprehensions may be removed, and at the same time to issue some further regulations which appear to me desirable, in view to placing the pension system of Her Majesty's Indian Forces on a perfectly satisfactory footing.

3. I will proceed first to show what alterations have been made in the pension regulations as they existed in the year 1860, and those sanctioned in the year 1881. I select the year 1860 as the best period with which to draw the comparison, as this was the year preceding those great changes in the Indian Service which resulted in the amalgamation of the Artillery and Engineers of the three Presidencies with the Royal Artillery and Royal Engineers, the transfer of European regiments to the British Line, and the formation of the Staff Corps. In making this comparison, I shall pass over any regulations made between 1860 and 1881 which have been superseded by the regulations of the present year, but I shall briefly specify the advantages in the matter of retirement which have been avowedly of a temporary nature, and of the benefits of which many Officers have availed themselves.

4. Under this head of temporary measures I include the following :—

I. The extra annuity of 50*l.* given to Officers who retired from the Service on full pay pension under the terms of Sir C. Wood's Despatch, No. 60, of the 4th February 1861, published in Government of India Order, No. 262 of 1861.

II. The extra pensions to Officers of Cavalry and Infantry, varying from 150*l.* to 550*l.* per annum, given under Sir C. Wood's Despatch of the 10th August 1861, No. 320, published in your General Order, No. 807 of 1861.

III. The special additional pensions of 200*l.* a year each allowed to 14 Colonels of Artillery and to 7 Colonels of Engineers, by Sir C. Wood's Despatch of the 16th May 1863, No. 175, published in your Order, No. 80A of 1863. These annuities were granted in consideration of a reduction of the number of Colonels' allowances in those branches of the Service, but the number reduced was subsequently restored.

IV. The special annuities, varying according to length of service from 150*l.* to 350*l.* per annum, granted in 1862 to 36 Field Officers and 28 Captains of Artillery, in addition to seconded Officers who might accept the retirement on similar terms.

V. The grant of an annuity or lump sum in commutation of the prospective value of Colonels' allowances, in addition to pension, to 90 substantive Lieutenant-Colonels of the Staff Corps or Local Cavalry or Infantry of 28 years' service and upwards, in each year from 1874 to the end of 1881 as annually sanctioned in those years.

5. Confining myself for the present to the combatant branches of the Service, I find that in the year 1860 the retiring pensions for Officers of Artillery, Engineers, Cavalry, and Infantry were as follows, with the proviso that the pensions of Officers appointed to the Cavalry or Infantry after the beginning of the year 1859 were subject to any modification that might be ordered :—

	Pension per Annum. £	s.	d.
After 20 years' service .	191	12	6
After 24 „ „ .	292	0	0
After 32 „ „ .	456	5	0

Twenty-two years' service entitled an Officer to the pension of his rank, that is, if a substantive Major, he could claim 292*l.* a year, and if a substantive Lieutenant-Colonel, 365*l.* There was no regimental rank of Colonel, except in the case of Officers eligible to the superior advantages stated in the next paragraph.

In the year 1866, two additional rates of pensions were created, namely, that of 600*l.* after 35 years, and 750*l.* after 38 years' service.

In 1860, as at present, 2 years' leave of absence in 20 years, 3 in 25 years, and 4 years in 30 years, were allowed to count as service for pension; and in 1872 sanction was given to 5 years' leave of absence counting in 35 years', and 6 years in 38 years' service.

6. In addition to this there were the regimental Colonels who received Colonel's allowances, which may be considered very much the same as retiring pensions. These Colonel's allowances were obtainable in regular succession by seniority, the number of these allowances in each branch and their proportion to the total authorized establishment of Officers was as follows :—

Artillery . .	24 to	696
Engineers . .	11 to	297
Cavalry . .	21 to	483
Infantry . .	167 to	4,492

7. The present rates of pension allowed to the Artillery and Engineers, the rules for which branches are of a special nature, are as follows, and to facilitate comparison the rates in force in 1860 are entered in juxtaposition.

Pensions allowed to Officers of Indian Artillery and Engineers in 1860 and in 1881 respectively.

8. Nearly every Officer of these branches retiring henceforward will, no doubt, if health permits, arrange his retirement so as to obtain the benefit of the pensions given in Column III, and these it will be perceived are higher by from nearly 60 to 120 per cent. than the old rates, with the additional advantage that time passed out of India on duty, and all leave of absence, now counts as service for pension.

9. The number of Colonel's allowances is the same as in 1860, and privilege of retirement on the pay of rank after 22 years' service has not been interfered with, but has practically become inoperative since the introduction of more advantageous rates of pension.

10. It has to be observed that the scale of pensions contained in Column III, as laid down in 1878, was sanctioned in order to encourage retirement, and in some measure to hasten promotion, an object secured in the old Royal Artillery and Engineers by compulsory retirement. It was, therefore, not extended to those Officers who remained in the Service after promotion to the rank of General Officer, except as a temporary measure open to all General Officers in 1878.

11. The next class to which I shall refer is that of Officers who voluntarily joined the 19th, 20th, or 21st Hussars, or the regiments lately known as the 101st to 109th Foot. These Officers have been able to retire under the old pension rules, as detailed in paragraph 5, including the two higher rates given in 1866. They would also be entitled to the benefits of the pensions specified in Column 2 of paragraph 7, or they can retire under the following conditions after 20 years in the Service :—

	Per Annum.
	Cavalry.	Infantry.
If Senior Lieutenant-Colonel in a regiment of Cavalry or battalion of Infantry . . .	600	575
If 2nd Lieutenant-Colonel in Cavalry, or 2nd Lieutenant-Colonel or senior Major in a battalion of Infantry	500	475
If of lower rank . . .	350	350

12. All leave of absence taken by these Officers counts as service for pension, and if they succeed to the establishment of General Officers they are eligible for the higher rates of half pay and retired pay given under the Royal Warrant of 25th June 1881, that is :—

Half pay,—
Retired pay,—From 600*l.* to 1,000*l.* per annum according to grade and age.

13. The next class of Officers are those who entered the Staff Corps on its formation, or at any period up to the 12th September 1866. These Officers entered subject to the pension rules specified in paragraph 5 of this despatch, but Sir Charles Wood ruled that they could not claim retirement on the pension of their rank, after 22 years' service, under the Regulation of 1796. As some Officers represented that they entered the Staff Corps under the belief that they should have the benefit of this rule of 1796, permission was given to all Officers who alleged that they had entered the Staff Corps under a misapprehension on this point to withdraw from it, and to revert to the local service, the Officers of which still retained the privilege.

14. In addition to pensions, it was notified that eventually Colonel's allowances would be allotted to the Staff Corps in the proportion of one Colonel's allowance to every 30 Officers, but in 1866 the Marquis of Salisbury, in Despatch No. 159, published in your General Order, No. 808 of that year, sanctioned the grant of Colonel's allowances to substantive Lieutenant-Colonels of the Staff Corps who entered it on or before the 12th September 1866, after 12 years' service in that grade, irrespective of numbers. Taking this latter valuable privilege into account, it seemed essential, if retirement prior to succession to Colonel's allowances was to be facilitated, to give to Officers of this class the estimated value of their absolute title to those allowances, in addition to the pensions previously granted, and this was sanctioned in my Despatch, No. 258, of 4th August last.

15. The result of these regulations is, that the retiring allowances of Officers of this class now, as compared with what was claimable in 1860, are as follows, exactly the same periods of leave of absence being allowed to count as service for pension in 1881 as in 1860, with the additions made in 1872, as mentioned in paragraph 5 of this Despatch :—

	Rates in 1860.	Rates from 1st July 1881.
20 years' service . .	191 12 6	288 0 0
24 „ „ . . .	292 0 0	430 0 0
28 „ „ . . .	365 0 0	571 0 0
38 „ „ . . .	456 5 0	1,124 17 5

16. It is true that in 1860 an Officer who happened to be a Major or a Lieutenant-Colonel could at any time, after 22 years' service, retire on what is called the pension of his rank, or 292*l.*, if he was a Major, and 365*l.* if he was a Lieutenant-Colonel, but as promotion was usually slow, this rarely gave an Officer any advantage, and the retirements under the rule were few, while every Officer in the class referred to voluntarily relinquished the prospect of benefiting by it.

The general result is that up to 32 years' service inclusive there has been an increase of from 47 to 71 per cent., according to periods of service, while 1,124*l.* is insured after a service of 38 years, instead of 456*l.* with a prospect of succeeding to 1,124*l.* at an uncertain period, as was the case in 1860.

17. The next class to refer to is that of Officers on the cadres of Cavalry and Infantry of the three Presidencies. They have been granted the same retiring pensions as Officers whose pensions were detailed in the foregoing paragraph, although their date of succession to Colonel's allowances is not fixed in exactly the manner prescribed for Officers who entered the Staff Corps up to 1866. Hence any Officer of these cadres who takes pension has exactly the same advantages as Staff Corps Officers, with the addition that he can retire on the pension of his rank after 22 years. With respect to Colonel's allowances, succession is secured after 12 years as Lieutenant-Colonel, but as succession to the grade of Lieutenant-Colonel depends upon vacancies, the period of succession must vary. Indeed it was not intended to do more than arrange as far as possible that these Officers, who all had the option of joining the Staff Corps under the conditions of September 1866, should not be in a worse position than previously in this respect. In point of fact, while some of these Officers have suffered by slow promotion in years gone by in their cadres, their actual succession to Colonel's allowances has been greatly hastened by the measures adopted, and a large proportion of Officers since 1866 have succeeded to these allowances in less than 38 years, and some even in less than 30 years.

18. The next class is composed of Officers on what are called the General lists of Cavalry and Infantry of the three Presidencies, all of whom were appointed to the Service between the month of February 1859 and February 1862, and whose nominations were made subject to any alterations that might be subsequently ordered in the conditions of service. There was no pledge given to these Officers as to Colonel's allowances, but it was no doubt understood that they came under the general pension regulations of the day.

As explained in my Despatch of the 4th August 1881, No. 258, I have conceded to them the right of succession to Colonel's allowances in the proportion of one to every thirty Officers in the manner described in paragraph 17 of that despatch, and I have fixed the rates of pension as follows :—

	Old Rate.	New Rate.
20 years	191 12 6	250 0 0
24 „	292 0 0	365 0 0

38 „	456 5 0	750 0 0

19. The last class of Officers already serving are those who have entered the Staff Corps at their own request since the 12th September 1866. These Officers presumably knew all the conditions as to pension and retirement when they entered, and the only change in the rates made since that period has been to admit them to the increased rates shown in the table given in the preceding paragraph.

20. As respects the Medical Department, the following statement shows the pension rates in force in 1860, the revised rates introduced in 1864, and the present rate of pensions.

* With the option of 700*l.* to Officers who entered before 1864, and did not receive the higher additional pensions of Deputy Surgeon-General or Surgeon-General. Medical Officers compulsorily retired at the age of 55 were granted the pension next above that to which their service entitled them.

Besides this, since 1864 an additional 250*l.* or 350*l.* a year is given to every Officer who, on retirement, has rendered five years' service in the office of Deputy Surgeon-General or Surgeon-General respectively.

21. From this table it will be seen that the pensions of Medical Officers who have not served in the higher appointments have been raised since 1860 by amounts varying from 37 to 91 per cent. in the case of Officers who have served under or up to 30 years; while the highest pension formerly allowed, namely, 700*l.*, which was only obtainable after 35 years, can now be obtained after 30 years' service. Further, those Medical Officers who serve as Deputy Surgeons-General and Surgeons-General can now on completion of 30 years' service and five years in the grade obtain pensions of 950*l.* and 1,050*l.* a year respectively, as against the 365*l.* and 700*l.* obtainable after 30 and 35 years under the old rules, and as against 800*l.* and 900*l.* obtainable by them under the rules of 1864.

22. Medical Officers, it must be recollected, have of late years been granted higher relative rank, a privilege which carries with it a higher rate of pension for widows, a higher rate of wound pension, and a higher rate of retirement if an Officer is compelled to leave the Service from ill health before completion of 17 years' service in India. By these rules Medical Officers on joining from probation at once rank as Captains, a rank only gained by a Staff Corps Officer after 12 years' service, while the relative rank of Major is obtained eight years earlier than in the Staff Corps, and that of Lieutenant-Colonel in six years' less service than in the Staff Corps.

23. The Veterinary Department of the Indian Army has long since ceased to be recruited, and the junior Officer in that branch in the three Presidencies was appointed in 1859. It has been therefore unnecessary to discuss the propriety of a general revision of the pension rules of the Department, but in my Despatch, No. 260, of 4th August 1881, I authorized the pension of 250*l.* a year, hitherto granted to Veterinary Surgeons of 25 years' service, to be increased to 350*l.*, and that of 350*l.* after 30 years' service to be increased to 450*l.* a year.

24. An examination of the foregoing details shows how greatly all classes of Officers in the Indian Army have benefited by the alterations in the pension regulations, while very sufficient rates of pension have been fixed for those Officers who henceforward enter the Service. There are, however, some particular conditions which I think may advantageously be modified; but, before I refer to these points, I desire to advert to a complaint which has been made, that all leave of absence does not count as service for pension. The rules on this subject are not new rules, but rules that have been in existence for 27 years, which rules were again more liberal than those in force prior to 1854. These rules were not interfered with by the recent regulations, which simply augmented rates of pension all round, and they apply to no Officer who has entered the service since the year 1875. I cannot admit that the continuance of the long existing rule, which only admits leave to a certain extent to count as service for pension, constitutes any grievance whatever.

25. The position of Officers under the regulations referred to is as follows :—

The whole of the following descriptions of leave of absence count as service for pension without any deduction whatever :—

I. Recreation or regimental leave, to the extent of three days at a time within musters, and in the district, and to an aggregate of ten days in each six months.

II. Temporary or station leave, extending to ten days' absence within the Presidency in which the Officer is serving, and limited to 20 days in six months.

III. Privilege leave, irrespective of musters, to the extent of 60 days in each year, with liberty to proceed anywhere, provided the Officer taking it shall ensure return within the term of his leave. To Officers of certain local corps privilege leave is allowed for 90 days in each year, while to military Officers in civil employ it is limited to 30 days annually, but with the privilege of accumulating the leave for two or three years and then taking 60 or 90 days.

(Officers availing themselves of any of the foregoing descriptions of leave retain their full salary and emoluments).

IV. Leave rendered necessary in consequence of wounds or from ill health due to exposure on field service, to an extent not exceeding 18 months in each case.

V. Leave not exceeding 30 days preparatory to embarking on furlough, and again on return from furlough to enable an Officer to rejoin his corps or appointment.

VI. Leave granted to enable an Officer to study the Native languages at one of the Presidency towns, provided he passes the prescribed tests within the following periods :—

Higher standard in Hindustani, six months.

Examination in other languages than Hindustani, a further period of six months.

On obtaining a certificate of high proficiency, a period of 18 months in the aggregate.

On obtaining a degree of honour in Arabic, Sanscrit, or Persian, a period of two years.

26. In addition to leave taken under any of the circumstances just stated, two years leave in 20, three years in 25, four years in 30, five years in 35, and six years in 38 years' service, are allowed to count as service for pension.

27. Not only are these regulations liberal, but Officers of the Indian Service have had the further advantage of drawing furlough pay when on leave, varying from 250*l.* to 1,000*l.* a year, and of retaining staff and other situations when on leave, while in nearly all cases where leave on medical certificate has been granted, it has been allowed for a fixed term of two years, instead of being limited to the actual necessities of the case. It is impossible to consider these rules as anything but liberal in the extreme, and I believe that, in several of those cases where leave has been taken in excess of the time allowed to count as service for pension, a more strict attention on the part of superior authorities would have led to the removal from the active list of the Army of Officers who have passed a considerable portion of their service on leave on sick certificate. I must also observe that there is no analogy between the case of these Officers and that of Officers under the British service rules, who ordinarily only obtain leave for limited periods and on lower rates of pay, with the disadvantage of compulsory retirements and smaller pensions. Certain considerations have rendered it desirable to cease to deduct leave from the service for pension in the case of Officers of the late Indian Artillery and Engineers and new Line Regiments who are under Indian pension rules, but these considerations do not apply to Officers of the Staff Corps or Indian Army.

28. I have, therefore, no intention of abrogating rules which I consider to be just, and the operation of which has always been well known to the Officers concerned; but as respects the actual periods to count as service, when the leave has been taken under regulations prior to those of 1875, I have determined to sanction some small modifications, as in some cases the periods in which a certain amount of leave is allowed to count as service for pension do not correspond with the periods at which higher rates of pension are claimable. Thus, after 24 years' service the second rate of pension for combatant Officers is claimable, but the second period of leave allowed to count requires 25 years' service before it can be reckoned. I am induced therefore, to sanction an alteration in the periods of leave to be allowed to count, so as to make each period correspond with a period of service at which a pension can now be earned. Under this view, I will allow three years' leave to count in 24 years, four years in 28, five years in 32 and six in 38 years, instead of, as at present, three years in 25, four years in 30, five years in 35, and six in 36. As respects the Medical Department, the Officers of which can claim pensions at periods different from the foregoing, and who enter the Service at a later period of life than the combatant Officers, the periods allowed will be two years in 17 years' service, three years in 20 years' service, four years in 25 years, and five years in 30 years, at which last period the highest rate of pension is claimable. This latter scale can be applied also to the Veterinary Department.

29. In making this concession, however, I must desire that no furlough on medical certificate for Officers under any furlough regulations shall be given in future for more than one year in the first instance, and it will only be renewable on satisfactory evidence that more leave is necessary. Officers at home will have to appear before a Medical Board to obtain an extension.

30. I have further determined on the two following modifications of existing rules as to length of service for pension:—

I. In my despatch, No. 258, of the 4th August last, I informed your Excellency that I had sanctioned certain higher rates of pension for all Officers of the Staff Corps and Indian Service who were entitled to Colonel's allowances after 12 years as Lieutenant-Colonel. The estimated value of the right of succession to Colonel's allowances was added to the ordinary rates of pension then in force, up to and including the pension of 456*l.* 5*s.* claimable after 32 years' service, including four years' leave of absence. These increments, however, only accrued on the attainment of the several rates of pension dependent on specifi periods of actual service. But, as the right of succession of these Officers to Colonel's allowances is not affected by leave of absence, I now sanction, in substitution of my previous order, the following addition to the old ordinary rate of pension to these Officers after each year of service from 20 to 32 inclusive; and, in fixing the pension of such Officers on retirement you will, therefore, add the following sums to the ordinary pensions to which they are entitled under regulations issued previously to August 1881, but with any benefit to which they may be entitled under the terms of paragraph 28 of this letter. For the extra pension no deduction will be made for leave of absence.

II. Officers who have entered the Staff Corps from the British Service are allowed to count all service in India for pension under Indian retiring regulations, provided half their service has been in the Staff Corps; but service out of India previous to joining the Staff Corps is not allowed to count for pension. As I recognize the value to India of the training of Officers in the British Army before joining the Staff Corps, I have determined to allow service out of India before joining the Staff Corps to count for Indian pension to an extent not exceeding two years in any case.

31. I have also had under consideration the circumstance that General Officers of the British Army may, by recent regulations, on relinquishing their claim to paid Colonelcies of regiments, receive higher half pay and special rates of pension. In the Staff Corps and Local Service nearly every General Officer has already succeeded to Colonel's allowances, and for these no alteration is requisite; but in any case where an Officer obtains early promotion to the rank of General in any branch of the Service, including Artillery and Engineers, I am prepared to allow him, on relinquishment of any title to succeed to Colonel's allowances, to claim the benefit of the rates of half pay and retiring pay, as allowed in my Despatches, Nos. 372 and 392, of 10th and 24th November 1881,* for Officers who enter after the 1st July 1881, but subject to exactly similar conditions as to removal from the effective list. The name of any Officer of the general list, or who entered the Staff Corps after the 12th September 1866, and who may elect this privilege when he becomes a General Officer, will continue to be reckoned in calculating the number of Colonel's allowances due to Officers who have not taken this privilege.

32. Finally, I have decided to allow General Officers of Artillery and Engineers to retire at any time under the conditions temporarily allowed to those Officers by the Royal Warrant of 6th September 1878.

There seems to me to be now no good reason to limit this retirement to the rank of Colonel, while the limitation of the rule may operate hardly upon Colonels who, under exceptional circumstances, may obtain promotion to the rank of Major-General before they have served five years as Colonel. Under the rule I now sanction, a General Officer, who has completed five years' service in the rank of Colonel and Major-General combined, will be entitled to retire with the extra gratuity.

33. Having now completed my review of the pension regulations of the various classes of Military and Medical Officers under Indian regulations, I must express my conviction that the rules as they now stand are not, with due regard to the public interest, susceptible of further extension. I have no doubt whatever that the benefits of these regulations, combined with the other advantages of service in India, will continue to attract candidates to the Indian Service, well qualified to maintain the deservedly high reputation already acquired by the Officers of that Service.

34. I request you will cause this Despatch to be published in your General Orders, and to intimate that any benefits conferred by it will take effect from the 1st July 1881.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) HARTINGTON.

* (Despatch 372.) "9. Those Officers will come under the compulsory retirement clauses of the Royal Warrant, on attaining the age of 55 years in the rank of Colonel, of 62 years in the rank of Major-General, and 67 years in the rank of Lieutenant-General or General. Up to the age of 55, there will be no compulsory retirement on account of age from the Staff Corps. Non-employment for five years in the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel or Colonel, and non-employment as a General Officer for five years continuously since his promotion to Major-General, or non-employment for seven years continuously from the time of his last employment as Colonel, will involve compulsory retirement on the pensions elsewhere laid down, or in the grade of—

"Major-General, at 62, on 800*l.* a year.
"Lieutenant-General, at 67, on 900*l.* a year.
"General, at 67, on 1,000*l.* a year.

With voluntary retirement in those grades of—

"Major-General, at 60, on 750*l.*
"General, at 65, on 950*l.*

"10. I have already informed you that Officers in receipt of good service pensions will not retain them after retirement on pension."

(Despacth No. 392):—

"Unemployed General Officers of the class referred to in paragraph 8 of the former Despatch, that is, Officers who join the Staff Corps, after the 1st July 1881, will receive the rates of half pay laid down for General Officers of Her Majesty's British Forces in Article 951 of the Royal Warrant of the 25th June 1881, viz.:—

"General ...	... 800 ditto.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Fort William, the 11th January 1882.

No. 59.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

Read the undermentioned papers relating to the issue of duplicates of Government Promissory Notes alleged to have been lost or destroyed:—

For the second time—

Proceedings in the Financial Department for the month of September 1873, Accounts, Nos. 6—12, deciding that, as a general rule, duplicate notes should not be issued till after ten years from the last correct advertisement of loss, and then only under direct orders received from the Government of India.

Proceedings in the Financial Department for October 1878, Nos. 772—773, authorising the Comptroller General to issue duplicates under the rules, taking orders of Government only in exceptional cases.

For the first time—

Letter from	Comptroller General,	No. 733,	dated the	23rd April	1880.
„ to	„ „	No. 664,	„	19th May	„
„ from	„ „	No. 2614,	„	28th June	„
„ „	„ „	No. 2241D.,	„	15th „	„

„ „	„ „	No. 2468,	„	27th August	„
„ from	„ „	No. 4478D.,	„	9th September	„

OBSERVATIONS.—By existing practice, when the applicant for a duplicate note has given evidence of the loss of the original, and has established, by strong primâ facie evidence, his title to the note, and has taken the prescribed measures preliminary to the application, a duplicate is issued after the lapse of ten years from the date of the last correct advertisement of the loss on a bond being executed by the claimant and two sureties, indemnifying Government against loss. Meanwhile, interest is allowed to be drawn also under a bond of indemnity.

2. It is found that, as the law at present stands, these measures do not give the Government sufficient protection from loss, as the period of limitation against the possible holder of the original note runs only from the date on which the note becomes payable; and the date may be many years after the bond of indemnity under which the duplicates have been issued has ceased to be of any practical value.

RESOLUTION.—To protect the State from such double liability, the Governor General in Council has resolved to modify the procedure as follows:—

(1) Every claim to the issue of a duplicate note, in lieu of one alleged to be lost, will be submitted by the Public Debt Office to be provisionally decided by the Comptroller General after at least two years have elapsed from the date of the last correct advertisement.

(2) If there appears to be no objection to the issue of a duplicate note to the claimant, the Comptroller General will record his opinion to that effect, and will direct that interest upon the note be paid to the claimant after execution of a bond of indemnity with two sufficient sureties.

(3) If the note is payable after notice given in the Gazette, the Comptroller General will give that notice, and will (unless any reason to the contrary appears) issue a duplicate note, on indemnity bond as above, six years after the date of payment fixed in such notice.

(4) But if the note is of a loan of which such notice of payment cannot immediately be given, then no further steps can be taken, until notice of payment can be given in accordance with the terms of the loan.

(5) The Comptroller General will publish these notices twice a year, about January and again about July, and will to each such notice append a list showing the numbers of notes already, within the last six years, advertised for payment under this Resolution.

(6) These orders will apply to all notes on which, under existing rules, interest has been ordered to be paid, but of which duplicates have not yet been issued.

(7) No lost note of a loan, which has been ordered for discharge, may be paid until a duplicate note has been issued under the above procedure.

These orders do not apply to stock certificates payable to bearer, of which duplicates may not be issued without special orders of Government in each case.

ORDERED, that this Resolution be communicated to the Comptroller General for information and guidance, and published in the Gazette of India.

RESOLUTION.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council observes with satisfaction that the Local Governments and Administrations, without exception, cordially accept the scheme for the extension of the system of Provincial finance and local self-Government put forth in the Resolution of the 30th September last.

2. With reference to paragraph 9 of that Resolution, His Excellency in Council is glad now to be able to announce definitively that the contributions made to the Imperial by the Provincial Governments in the years 1879-80 and 1880-81 will be restored to them. The Comptroller General will place the amounts specified in the margin to the credit of the several Provincial Governments before the 31st March next. These amounts will, it is understood, be applied to Productive Public Works in all cases where the whole, or a portion, may not be indispensable in order to raise the Provincial working balance to a proper level.

3. In the course of the correspondence which has taken place, various questions have been asked by one Government or another, to which it may be convenient to give replies for the information of all.

4. With reference to paragraph 12 of the Resolution of 30th September, it may be explained that the figures contained in the statement were merely illustrative of the scheme as contained in the schedule, and intended to facilitate a comprehension of it by showing, as stated in the paragraph, what would be its actual operation if applied to the estimates of 1881-82. Final calculations of this nature, however, should always be based on the latest and most accurate estimate obtainable at the time of settlement; otherwise the Imperial or the Local Government, as the case might be, would be deprived of any advantage which the recent information might afford. It is intended to take the Regular Estimate of the current year as the basis for final settlement, which will be effected after careful consideration of the circumstances of each Province.

5. The allusion in the latter portion of the same paragraph to the possibility of modification being required in the schedule and statement had reference merely to the indication of transfers and exchanges made between Provincial and Local heads and of the amounts or items retained in the former, which alone constitute the resources of the Provincial Government available for general purposes. The administrative and financial arrangements thus made in pursuance of the policy of "de-provincialisation" will not, however, affect the assignment to be made from Imperial revenue.

6. The settlements now about to be effected will in all cases be for a term of five years commencing from the 1st April next. It is to be distinctly understood that the Imperial Government reserves to itself on the expiration of the term the power to revise the settlements, and to withdraw from any Local Government such portion of its grant as cannot then be continued without injustice to other Provinces whose means are straitened, or limitation of Imperial undertakings which need early development. To the Local Governments such revision will afford no cause of complaint, because the inducements now offered for entering into an agreement are the freedom to administer their own resources, and to apply at will (subject to the general standing orders) any increase reaped during the term of settlement alone. On the other hand, while the Local Governments will undertake, for the term of the settlement, all ordinary fluctuations in their revenues and expenditure, and to make such increases in the latter as may be necessary on the existing basis of administration, due allowance will be made, by modification of the fixed percentage of land revenue or otherwise, for any material alterations in the nature of their income, resulting from legislation or organic change of financial system effected for Imperial reasons.

7. In explanation of paragraph 20 of the Resolution, it may be added that the intention is to allow the Local Governments the same rights over divided revenues, and the same power to sanction new expenditure under divided heads, as they now possess in the case of the heads exclusively Provincial. It is not, however, in contemplation to disturb the existing powers of the Provincial Governments in respect of the Land Revenue, or their relations with special Departments having a distinct organisation such, for instance, as the Forest Department in Provinces other than Madras and Bombay.

8. The new terms on the subject of famine relief, contained in the Resolution, supersede any obligations which may have been imposed upon the Governments of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the Punjab, and the Central Provinces of setting aside such amount as the Governor General in Council may direct for the purpose of increasing the revenues available for defraying expenditure incurred or to be incurred for the relief and prevention of famine in their respective territories. Any amounts hitherto so set aside will hereafter be at the disposal of the Local Governments for ordinary Provincial expenditure. Moreover, as a consequence of the new principles laid down in the Resolution of 30th September last, and of the separate provision in the Imperial Budget of a permanent annual allotment of one crore and a half of rupees for "Famine Relief and Insurance," the Local Governments, while always needing a moderate reserve, over and above the mere "working balance," of sufficient amount to meet scarcity and distress not indisputably amounting to severe famine, or other temporary exigencies, will no longer find it necessary to accumulate a great Provincial reserve fund, out of which the demands of severe famine could in future be largely met. His Excellency in Council is of opinion that, subject to the moderate reserve just referred to, the Provincial Resources can be best utilised by being invested to the full, from year to year, in works of a Productive or Protective character.

9. The arrangements with the several Local Governments have now so far advanced that there will be no difficulty in applying the new scheme in all cases from the commencement of 1882-83. The separate communications now in course of issue to each Local Government, will, it is believed, enable it promptly to communicate to the Local Accountant General or Controller any modifications which, in consequence of the settlement arrived at, it may desire to make in its Budget proposals for Provincial expenditure. On receipt of these by the Comptroller General, the Budget, which will have been already sent in on the 20th instant, will be recast to meet the altered circumstances, the exact percentage of Land Revenue assignment will be calculated, and a copy will be sent to the Local Government in time, when possible, to allow of special corrections being made by telegraph.

10. Regarding the measures to be adopted for extending local self-Government, detailed proposals have as yet been received from one Government only. His Excellency in Council trusts that the matter may receive as early disposal as its comprehensive nature will allow, and that, in any case, transfers and exchanges of revenues or charges will be arranged in time to come into effect with the new financial year.

ORDERED, that this Resolution be communicated to the Home, Foreign, Military, and Public Works Departments, as also to the Comptroller General and Accountants General, and the several Local Governments, and that it be published in the Gazette of India.

Representation, dated 6th January 1881, addressed to the Finance Minister of the Government of India, by ditto, regarding the price of salt sold by Government in Rajputana.

Despatch from Her Majesty's Secretary of State, No. 54, dated 15th July 1880.

Letter addressed by the Secretary, Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce, to the Governments of Madras and Bombay, on the subject of a proposal to fix a uniform price for salt sold at all Government Works throughout India.

RESOLUTION.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council has had under careful consideration the reports upon the subject of the price of salt sold at Government Works, and the practical operation of the various systems in force, which have been submitted by the Local Governments and the Commissioner of Inland Customs.

2. His Excellency in Council is satisfied that, owing to the differences of system which of necessity prevail in different parts of India, the proposal to fix a uniform price, at which salt should be sold at all Government Works throughout India, is impracticable. In order, however, to ensure that the price, in such instances as it lies in the power of Government to fix it, is calculated upon sound principles and not in such a manner as to compete at an unfair advantage with salt supplied to the market by private enterprise, the issue of definite instructions appears to be required.

3. The systems under which the Government connection with the salt trade is carried into effect are three—

(1) Charging a customs duty on all salt imported into British India.

(2) Charging an excise duty on all salt manufactured in British India by private persons on their own account.

(3) Manufacturing salt by Government on its own account, either by hired or contract labour, and selling it at a price sufficient to cover the cost of so doing, together with a fixed duty equal to the customs or excise duty.

Under the first two systems Government confines itself to taxation; under the third it undertakes the functions of a private manufacturer in addition. In former days the Government was not only a manufacturer but an absolute monopolist; but in 1836 it so far abandoned this position, on the recommendation of a Committee of the House of Commons, as to throw open the salt import trade to private enterprise, retaining a monopoly of local manufacture only. From that date onwards, it has been gradually relinquishing direct manufacture in all cases where the necessary supply of salt to the public could be ensured under either the customs duty or the excise duty systems.

4. The three systems at present prevail in the localities described below:—

(1) Customs duty.—Bengal (including Behar), Assam, and British Burma.

(2) Excise duty.—Western India, from the Tapti river south to Cape Comorin, Berar, and the south-west portion of the Central Provinces; also a few spots in Bengal and Orissa, and to a limited extent in Burma.

(3) Manufacture and monopoly.—The east coast of the Madras Presidency, the rest of the Central Provinces, Bombay north of the Tapti, Sind, the Punjab, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, Rajputana and Central India.

This classification is, of course, in very general terms; the different salts compete with each other on the boundaries, and interlace in their areas, according to local taste and preference and not price alone; but it may be considered substantially correct.

5. The charges of all kinds which fall on Government from its connection with salt may be described and classified as follows:—

1. Cost of administration ...	Charges common to all systems, and arising out of the Government taxation of salt.
2. " collection ...
3. " preventive establishments
4. " production[1] ...	These charges appertain to all systems under which Government either produces salt by hired labour, or buys the salt from the actual producer for resale to the public.
5. " conveyance to store-house
6. " storage ...
7. " wastage ...
8. " interest on capital, fixed or floating.
9. Treaty payments	These appertain to the same systems as the preceding. Treaty payments are not always of the same nature; in some instances they correspond with rent which might be paid by a private manufacturer for mines or salt works; in others they are payments to secure the suppression of manufacture in Foreign States, or the right to charge duty on salt consumed in such States.
10. Rent of salt sources... ...
11. Cost of supervision of production	Found only when Government produces the salt by hired labour.
12. Commission to agents and contractors on sales.	An exceptional charge, sometimes indispensable.

It will be observed that cost of conveyance from store-house to market is not mentioned, because it is outside the purposes of our calculations, and necessarily falls on the consumer in proportion to his distance from the salt source from which he draws his supplies. In some cases, moreover, where the depôts are at a distance from the market, the cost of conveyance to them may be advanced by Government, and recovered in ordinary course.

6. On a scrutiny of the charges enumerated in the preceding paragraph, it will be seen that the first three only, viz., administration, collection, and prevention, are incidental to the interference of Government, for taxation purposes, in the matter of salt. The remainder are all borne alike by Government and private individuals whenever either of them undertakes the trade of producing and selling salt. From this, and economic principles which are so evident that it seems superfluous to set them forth, it follows that whenever Government and the private trader meet, they do not do so on fair terms, and the latter is unjustly weighted, unless the former scrupulously includes in its selling price (exclusive of duty) whatever items the latter has ordinarily to bear. To be more specific, the first three items of charge just mentioned should be paid out of the receipts for duty, the rate being fixed accordingly, if necessary; the remainder should all come into the calculation of the selling price with the exception of such Treaty payments as are made for the prevention of smuggling, or in order to secure for the British Government the right of charging duty on salt consumed in Foreign States. If the selling price is less than it should be, in order to cover all the proper items, a particular locality benefits at the expense of the general tax-payer; if the reverse, the Government is really levying more than the tax allowed by law, excepting of course in the case of salts which, from superior quality and limitation of supply, have an adventitious market value not dependent upon the cost of production. The price may also, in special cases, be affected by the place in which the salt is sold, the quantity included in any transaction, the sum paid by the Government for its purchase, or other peculiar circumstances affecting the sale.

7. To apply the test of these principles to every salt work or group of works with which Government is more or less connected, would in this place be a tedious and unnecessary task. It is sufficient to state that a very careful review of the Indian salt system which has been made shows that in Bengal, Bombay, Sind, and the Punjab mines, Government makes no attempt to impose any charge on salt other than the fixed duty, and, in any case where Government holds a monopoly of salt, a selling price which is calculated to cover the cost of manufacture. The price of salt in Madras is found to be fixed in conformity with the provisions of sections 8, 9, and 10 of Act XVIII of 1877.

8. At the Rajputana salt sources likewise, the price just amounts to what it ought to be under the principles already enumerated, but, as the question is in this instance complicated by large payments made under treaty with various Native States, some further explanation appears desirable. The payments by Government to Native States in Upper India fall under one or other of three heads, being in consideration of their—

(1) leasing certain salt sources to Government;
(2) taking certain measures which rendered it possible to abolish the Inland Customs line; or
(3) transferring to the British Government the right to levy duty on salt consumed by the subjects of their States.

As to the first-named payments, there can be no doubt that they should be covered by the selling price of salt. Rent of a salt source, and any payment, whether by way of royalty or otherwise, for permission to work it are as much a portion of the legitimate trade costs of manufacture as storage, wastage, or any other of the unquestioned items. If there were no Government monopoly, or even no duty, a private individual embarking in the salt business of these localities would have to pay them, just as a trader may have to purchase a predecessor's good-will, or the right to a patent, or to rent a petroleum spring or a gold-washing before he can work them. On the other hand, payments under the second and third heads are obviously incidental to the levy of a duty upon salt under any system; if the monopoly system were abolished they must be paid by Government, and they should, therefore, be met out of the proceeds of the duty and not included in the selling prices. As to the second, it may be explained that when the abolition of the Inland Customs line was contemplated, it became necessary to arrange with the bordering Native States that they should adopt such measures as would render its continuance unnecessary. The Customs line levied duty on sugar exported from British territory, and on salt imported into British territory, and it prevented the smuggling into British territory of articles, such as spirits, on which the British Government levied an excise duty. The Native States were induced, in consideration of certain payments,—(a) to close their salt works; (b) to prevent the export to British territory of salt, spirits, bhang, &c., &c.; (c) to undertake not to render the abolition of the duty on sugar nugatory by levying a transit duty on it.

As the expenditure on the Customs line, so far as regards salt, was an expenditure coming under the head of "Prevention and collection," the payments to Native States for exactly the same purposes which replaced it should also be classed under "Prevention and collection." A careful scrutiny of the treaties with the Rajputana States, under which about 28½ lakhs of rupees are paid to the latter, shows that the amount to be included on all accounts in the selling price of salt under the foregoing principles is Rs. 12,78,740. The balance is chargeable to the duty. Treating the Rajputana sources as one commercial group or concern, which is indispensable in order to prevent unreasonable differences of price within adjacent areas, it has also been ascertained that the average selling price should be 5·2 annas per maund. It actually amounted to 4·95 annas during the past year, and as the difference is inconsiderable and will almost immediately disappear owing to the increasing consumption of Sambhar salt, no change is at present called for.

9. His Excellency the Governor General in Council has considered it to be necessary, in view of the discussions which have arisen, and the uncertainty which has prevailed, to lay down the principles upon which the selling price of salt should be regulated in all parts of British India in which it is fixed by the Government. Though no change is, as far as His Excellency in Council is aware, called for immediately, it will rest with the Local Governments, and the Commissioner of Inland Customs, within their respective jurisdictions to scrutinise periodically the price from time to time in force, and to take into consideration such adjustments as an increase of sales, or of expenditure, or otherwise, may be found to demand.

ORDERED, that this Resolution be communicated to the several Local Governments, and to the Commissioner of Inland Customs, and that it be published in the Gazette of India.

Despatch to Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 249, dated 1st October 1881, paragraph 19.

RESOLUTION.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council has had under consideration the question of the administration of district treasuries throughout India, and the system for their management and periodical inspection which is at present in force under the orders quoted above.

2. The information which has already been received shows that frequent transactions, considerable in number and in some cases of no mean importance, have taken place within the last few years in almost every province in India. It is also difficult to resist the inference that, if so many frauds are discovered, there must be others which escape detection. It may be that the number and amount of these frauds are not greater than might be expected, considering the large number of district and subordinate treasuries (some 1,300), and the other peculiar conditions of financial administration in India. But whether frauds are more or less prevalent than might be expected, it is abundantly proved that a system of rigorous financial control over the treasuries is necessary.

3. The principal causes which lead to inefficient treasury administration appear to be the following:—

(a) Frequent changes of the officers in charge of treasuries.
(b) The placing of young and inexperienced officers in charge of treasuries.
(c) Insufficient acquaintance with the system of treasury accounts on the part of Revenue Officers.
(d) Absence of professional inspection of treasuries.
(e) Inadequate treasury establishments.

Some of these causes are specially observable in one province, others in another; but, with the view of their removal wherever they may prevail, some special regulations appear now to be indispensable.

4. It is impossible for treasury administration to be satisfactory unless it is permanently conducted by officers who have some considerable experience of and familiarity with the subject. At the same time it is not a function which requires officers of a very high grade for its efficient performance. The frequent changes of officers in charge, which occur in some provinces, appear to be attributable to (1) undue prevalence of the system by which work is distributed, as it turns up, by the Collector or Deputy Commissioner amongst his Assistant or Deputy Collectors, instead of a definite, territorial, or other specific charge being assigned to each; (2) tendency of superior officers to remain at head-quarters in preference to going into camp, and consequent delegation to them of duties comparatively trivial, or which could be equally well performed by officers of a lower grade; (3) special allowances for registration or other duties, which, being, in some provinces, coupled with the charge of a treasury, render the latter an object of desire and an incident of promotion; (4) the disposition to pass on to every new-comer the irksome, yet responsible, duty of charge of a treasury in districts where it carries no pecuniary advantage. With reference to these causes of change, it is sufficient to remark that the employment of superior officers on treasury or other comparatively routine duty is contrary to the policy which has been laid down by the highest authorities; that the system of definite, territorial, or other charges, and frequent residence in camp, as recommended by the Famine Commission (Report, pages 104-5), has received the entire approval of the Government of India; and that the inducement of special emoluments in order to secure the performance of ordinary duties is objectionable in the case of members of the covenanted and superior uncovenanted services, and has been for the most part abandoned throughout India.

5. His Excellency the Governor General in Council upon the foregoing considerations is pleased to direct—

1st.—That no covenanted civil servant (including military and uncovenanted officers in the Commissions of Non-Regulation Provinces) shall be placed in charge of a district treasury, except for the purpose of training as provided in paragraph 7 of this Resolution, or as a strictly temporary measure, pending the arrival of a Deputy Collector (or Extra Assistant Commissioner) appointed to the post.

2nd.—That all special emoluments accompanying in any locality the charge of a treasury shall cease from April 1st 1882. If the amount of these should, in any province, be considerable, it may be specially reported by the local Government when replying on the subject of revision of salaries to the letters from the Department of Finance and Commerce, dated 28th December 1881.

3rd.—That the charge of district treasuries shall be entrusted to Deputy Collectors, but may be combined with such definite charge of magisterial, revenue, municipal, or other work as may not be incompatible with the efficient performance of the primary duty of treasury administration.

4th.—That the Deputy Collectors entrusted with the charge of treasuries shall be, as far as possible, officers selected from among the whole body of Deputy Collectors for acquaintance with, or aptitude for, accounts which they may have evinced, and that, though rising in the general graded list of Deputy Collectors, they shall ordinarily be employed on treasury duty at one station or another, and thus gradually become the trained and experienced agency which is desired. Sub-divisional treasuries,[1] which are peculiar to the Lower Provinces, may, under the same general principles, be placed in charge of Deputy Collectors or of officers of the Sub-Deputy class, as to the local authorities may in each case seem expedient. It will be distinctly understood that officers in charge of treasuries should not be in any inferior position, as regards prospects of promotion, to others in the graded list who may be differently employed, and that efficiency in treasury management shall not be overlooked.

6. The appointment of young civilians, and of supernumerary and probationary Deputy Collectors, who have not passed all or any of their examinations, appears to have been a fruitful source of laxity and irregularities on the part of subordinate officials. His Excellency the Governor General in Council directs that this practice may be discontinued, and that (except as provided in paragraph 7) no Deputy or Sub-Deputy Collector remain hereafter in charge of a district or sub-divisional treasury unless he has passed the departmental examination according to the higher standard, and has also been not less than three years in the service of Government.

7. In order to ensure a better acquaintance with the system of treasury accounts, and of the revenue accounts which in some provinces are an important contributory to the accuracy of the latter, His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct—

1st.—That examination in treasury and local fund accounts, and in departmental revenue accounts, shall form a part of the test obligatory on all Assistant and Deputy Collectors or other officers at the departmental examinations according to both the lower and higher standards. The scope of the questions at the former will necessarily be somewhat elementary, but at the latter the candidate should be required to exhibit a satisfactory general acquaintance with the whole system of accounts as prevailing in the province in which he is employed. A paper of questions on treasury and local fund accounts, set by the local Accountant General or Comptroller, should form a part of the examination under each standard.

2nd.—That every "covenanted" officer, or Deputy Collector, shall, until he has passed the higher departmental examination, be placed, for purposes of training, in charge of a district treasury, under the general supervision of the Deputy Collector ordinarily in charge, or some other competent officer on the spot, for a period not less than six weeks or more than two months in each year. A certificate from the Collector of the District, that the officer in training has, under these provisions, duly attended to, and satisfactorily discharged, the duties of treasury officer shall be indispensable to the examinee being declared to have passed any departmental examination.

8. With reference to the inspection of treasuries, His Excellency the Governor General in Council trusts that, under the provisions of the last preceding paragraph, executive officers of all grades will gradually become more competent to perform the duty of inspecting treasuries. This duty is of the utmost importance, and is clearly defined in the Resolution No. 1796, dated 24th July 1880, which is to be considered as still in full force. Collectors of Districts are not to consider that by the improvement of the arrangements for the immediate charge of treasuries their own responsibility is in any sense diminished. If any Local Government, in pursuance of paragraph 5 of that Resolution, should desire to make special provision for inspection of a more professional nature, in addition to that which the local executive officers perform, His Excellency in Council will be ready to view favourably any proposals, involving increased provincial expenditure, which may be submitted, with this object. The question of whether any higher supervision and audit, by the Comptroller General or other officer of the Financial Department of the Government of India, should be superadded to the local precautions above referred to, is under separate consideration.

9. Another point worthy of attention is the large expansion of treasury transactions, which has in some provinces followed the establishment of local funds and municipalities, and the necessity of providing treasury establishments adequate, in both strength and emoluments, to the increased labour and responsibility which have thus arisen. It rests with the Local Governments and Administrations to keep a careful watch in this respect, so that a colourable excuse for laxity and irregularities may not be afforded, or a door opened to actual fraud.

10. In conclusion, His Excellency in Council would invite the special consideration of the Local Governments and Administrations to the necessity, which has been made plain by the nature of some of the frauds which have occurred, that the Revenue Department, in its various branches, should systematically ascertain that the whole of its demands are satisfactorily accounted for by collection or otherwise, and that amounts realised invariably reach the regular treasuries, where alone the responsibility of the account department begins. The Revenue and other Departmental authorities should distinctly understand that it is their duty to see that the statements which they receive, or the accounts which they keep, are in absolute accordance with the figures which appear in the financial accounts.

ORDERED, that this Resolution be communicated to the several Local Governments and Administrations for guidance, and to the Home and Revenue Departments, as also to the Comptroller General and the Accountants General and Comptrollers, for information, and that it be published in the Gazette of India.

RETIREMENTS.

No. 34.—With reference to G. G. Orders Nos. 279 and 489 of 1881, the following despatch from the Secretary of State for India, No. 432, dated the 22nd December, 1881, is published for general information :—

Para. 1. In your Military Letter No. 210, of the 23rd June 1879, on the subject of the amelioration of the scale of pensions of the Indian Army, you make certain proposals with regard to the rates of half pay.

2. In my Military Despatch, No. 258, of the 4th August last, in which I sanctioned a revision of the then existing scale, I did not deal with the question of half pay.

3. As regards the rates, it appears to me to be sufficient to declare that combatant Officers placed on half pay shall receive the same rates as Officers of the same rank in the British Service. Medical Officers, you were informed in my Despatch, No. 112, of the 14th April last, are to receive the British rate of half pay of their relative ranks.

4. I have decided that Officers placed on temporary half pay at the recommendation of the Medical Board of the India Office shall be examined by the same Board as to their fitness to return to duty every two years, and if still reported unfit at the third examination, that is, after being six years on the temporary half pay list, that they shall be transferred to the retired list on permanent half pay. An Officer reported to be unfit at the commencement of the second period, i.e., after two years on half pay, may, however, be permitted voluntarily to retire on permanent half pay.

5. Officers unable to appear before the Medical Board at the stated times will be required to furnish a certificate, signed by two medical men, as to their inability. An Officer who is continuously unable to appear will be retired permanently after six years without further report.

6. Officers who, in view to being restored to the active list, may wish to appear before the Board at other times than those specified, may be permitted to do so. Officers ordered periodically to appear before the Board will receive their travelling expenses and lodging allowance on the Home scale, but those appearing at other times, at their own wish, must do so at their own expense.

7. Officers who have now been more than six years on the half pay list of the Staff Corps will, unless prior to the 1st July 1882 they voluntarily appear before the Board, and are then reported fit for duty, and permitted by the Secretary of State to return to India, be permanently placed on the retired list on half pay.

8. It will be understood that these provisions do not in any way abrogate the existing power vested in the Secretary of State for India to recommend to Her Majesty the removal of an Officer from the effective list of the Staff Corps to permanent retired half pay for inefficiency or misconduct, or on the report of the Medical Board at this Office that he is permanently unfit for further service.

No. 35.—With reference to para. 11 of G. G. O. No. 489 of 1881, the following despatch from the Secretary of State for India, No. 431, dated the 22nd December, 1881, and enclosure, is published for general information :—

Para. 1. In paragraph 22 of my Military Despatch, No. 258, of 4th August 1881, your Government were informed that I had directed the preparation of rules under which Officers retiring on and after 1st July 1881 will be allowed to commute a portion, not exceeding one-third, of their pensions at any time, either on retirement or subsequently.

2. I now forward the rules, and request that the necessary instructions may be given for carrying the system into effect throughout India.

3. Under no circumstances will an Officer serving in India be permitted to commute his pension without the report of a Medical Board at the Presidency towns, which, in conformity with the principle followed at home, should be either presided over or have as a member a Civil Medical Administrative Officer.

Regulations for the commutation of Pensions of Officers of the Indian Service.

1. These Regulations shall be applicable only to Officers retired on or after the 1st July 1881.

2. An Officer may be allowed to commute a portion, not exceeding one-third, of his pension, which commutation may take place on retirement, or at any time subsequent thereto.

3. An Officer in Europe desirous of commuting, shall make application, in writing, to the Secretary of State for India, stating his desire so to commute, and furnishing information as to his age, rank and the amount of his pension.

4. If the Secretary of State for India in Council shall approve the commutation, the Officer will be so informed, and his application will be forwarded to the Standing Medical Board at the India Office.

5. The Board will require the Officer to give such information as to his health and habits as is usual in the case of persons proposing to assure their lives in assurance companies, and he will be required to submit himself for personal examination by the Board at the India Office.

6. An Officer in India desirous of commuting, must address the authorities of his Presidency. He will be required to go through similar forms, before a Board which, when practicable, be presided over by the chief Civil Medical Administrative Officer of the Government, being stationed in the Presidency towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, under orders of the respective Governments.

7. The basis of commutation, subject to an addition of years of age in the case of impaired lives, shall be the following table, the age of the Officer being reckoned at the age he will attain on the birthday next succeeding the date of the receipt of his application for commutation :—

8. In every case the capitalized sum will be payable in India, the sterling amount being converted at the official rate of exchange for the year in which the payment is made.

9. The amount having been fixed, the applicant will be informed thereof, and will have the option of withdrawing his application within 30 days after receiving that notice.

10. If the applicant shall not withdraw his application within that period, the decision will be considered final, and the commutation of pension will take place absolutely.

RESOLUTION.—In the Financial Statement of the current year, it was announced that the sum of £1,500,000, to be provided annually as an insurance against famine, instead of being considered, as heretofore, to be a surplus receipt for subsequent appropriation, would be treated as a fixed portion of the normal expenditure of each year. At the same time, the Government of India reaffirmed its applicability to the extinction of debt, the relief of famine, or the construction of protective works, not necessarily remunerative, but obviously protective in the sense of guarding against a probable future outlay in the relief of the population, and declared their intention to nominate a "Commission for the reduction of debt," with a view to the more effectual execution of the famine insurance policy. It was also pointed out that the amount to be provided as an insurance against famine was only so far dependent upon the receipts from the License Tax and the Public Works cesses that those receipts go to swell the general revenue and by so much facilitate the execution of the policy under discussion, that the policy of the Government was to apply annually a specified sum from the general revenue in order to provide an insurance against famine, that there was no special connection between the amount so provided and the amount received from the License Tax or the Public Works cesses, and that those taxes had never yielded so large a sum as £1,500,000 in any one year.

2. In pursuance of the policy thus briefly explained, it has been decided, that the heading in the Budget and the Public Accounts shall be amended and divided into three sub-heads, as shown in the margin. The first sub-head will comprise all actual relief; the other two will represent Famine Insurance under the two forms in which it is provided. The relief of actual famine will be a first charge upon the whole million and a half annually provided as expenditure; protective works will be the next charge, but only to the extent of three-quarters of a million, or such portion of that sum (if any) as may remain after all necessary relief of actual famine has been afforded; to reduction of debt the remaining three-quarters of a million will be assigned, except so far as all or any portion of it may be needed for relief of actual famine. In the event of any portion of the allotment for Protective Public Works not being actually expended in the course of the year, it will be carried forward for expenditure in the year following, in addition to any fresh allotment appertaining to the latter.

31. Famine Relief and Insurance.
1. Relief.
2. Protective Works.
3. Reduction of Debt.

3. With reference to the disposal of the amount thus appropriated to the reduction of debt, His Excellency the Governor General in Council has little to add to the information which has already been afforded to the public in paragraphs 59 to 66 of the Financial Statement for the current year, and on previous occasions. Whether the sum available shall be appropriated to the actual discharge of existing rupee debt or sterling debt, or whether it shall be temporarily invested in Government securities, or whether it shall be re-transferred from the Commissioners to the Government treasury with a view to the avoidance pro tanto of new debt which might otherwise be incurred for the construction of Productive Public Works, is a question which must be considered and determined from year to year, in view of the condition of the money market in India and England, and other circumstances. It may, however, be explained that Her Majesty's Government is precluded by the provision of the 41st clause of the Act 21 and 22 Vic., cap. 106, that "the expenditure of the revenues of India, both in India and elsewhere, shall be subject to the control of the Secretary of State in Council," from entrusting the final decision of this important question to any independent authority.

4. The "Commission for the reduction of debt" will consist of three members, namely, one high Government official, holding the post ex-officio, together with one European and one Native member of the non-official community. They will be appointed from time to time by His Excellency the Governor General in Council, and the non-official members will ordinarily hold office for a term of two years. Although His Excellency in Council is unable, for the reason above stated, to invest the Commission with independent authority, he trusts that it will be able to perform consultative and auditing functions of high value to both the State and the public.

5. His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to prescribe the following rules with reference to the Famine Insurance appropriation for the reduction of debt:—

1st.—On a certain date in every official year, not earlier than the 15th February, or later than the 31st of March or any subsequent date previous to which it may not have been possible, owing to expenditure on actual famine, to ascertain the actual state of the account, the Government of India shall pass a Resolution to be published in the Gazette of India, make known to the public the manner in which the famine allotment of one million and a half has been, or is being, appropriated during the year, under the general policy above explained.

2nd.—On the receipt of such Resolution, the Comptroller General shall forthwith transfer to a separate deposit head in the public accounts, called the "Account of the Commission for the reduction of debt," the amount, if any, set forth in the Resolution as available for the reduction of debt.

3rd.—The Commissioners for the reduction of debt shall, on the receipt of the said Resolution, or as soon after as may be, submit to the Government of India their recommendations for the disposal of any amount so available.

4th.—The Government of India shall, after full consultation with the Commission, issue to the Comptroller General such instructions for the disposal of the amount in the reduction of debt as it may deem fit.

5th.—The Comptroller General shall thereupon, without any avoidable delay, carry such instructions into effect, and lay before the Commission whatever evidence, in the form of cancelled obligations of the Government of India or otherwise, they may require for the purpose of satisfying themselves that the amount has been disposed of in the manner prescribed. On being so satisfied, the Commission shall give to the Comptroller General an authority in writing for charging the amount disposed of to their account, constituted under Rule 2nd.

6th.—The Commission shall, as soon after the close of each official year as it may be in a position to do so, certify to the public, by a notification to be published in the Gazette of India, the manner in which the whole Famine allotment of one million and a half for that year has been disposed of.

7th.—The Commission shall be entitled to free access to the recorded correspondence, and the accounts of the Government of India, so far as the same may be necessary, for the purpose of enabling it duly to perform the functions hereby assigned to it.

8th.—The Commission may submit for the consideration of the Government of India any remarks or suggestions on matters within the scope of its duties, which it may deem expedient, and the Government of India may similarly consult the Commission on such matters, at any time other than that specified in Rule 3rd. All recommendations of the Commission shall be fully considered by the Government of India, and the reasons for not in any instance carrying any such recommendations into effect shall be communicated to the Commission.

9th.—All business in connection with the Commission will be conducted by the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce.

6. His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to nominate the following gentlemen to be members of the Commission for the reduction of debt:—

The Head Commissioner of Paper Currency (ex-officio).
Mr. J. J. J. Keswick.
The Hon'ble Durga Churn Law.

The action of the Commission under the 3rd and 4th Rules has for the current year been unavoidably anticipated by the Notifications in the Department of Finance quoted in the margin, under which about Rs. 84,00,000 of the Indian 5 and 4 per cent. rupee debt will be discharged by an appropriation of the Famine allotment; but in other respects the Rules will be fully brought into effect from this date.

RESOLUTION.—The Governor General observes that black writing ink of Indian manufacture, and of good quality as regards colour and durability, is procurable at a price much cheaper than that paid for the imported article.

2. In pursuance of the policy of the Government of India to substitute articles of Indian manufacture for European stores, His Excellency in Council directs that the use of Morrell's black registration ink shall be discontinued, and that Stephen's blue-black and black ink shall be issued in small quantities, sufficient only for the use of the few high functionaries who may prefer it to Indian-made ink.

3. Red registration ink apparently must still be imported, as a permanent and useful red ink has not yet been prepared in the country.

ORDERED, that the foregoing Resolution be communicated to all Local Governments and Administrations, as well as to the Superintendent of Stationery, Calcutta, and the several Departments of the Government of India for information and guidance.

And also, that the Resolution and the letter from the Superintendent of Stationery, No. 4806 of 16th January 1882, be published in the Gazette of India.

No. 4806, dated 16th January 1882.

From—W. H. RYLAND, Esq., Offg. Superintendent of Stationery, Calcutta,
To—The Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of India, DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

With reference to your letters Nos. 3134 and 3201, dated the 20th and 26th September last, I have the honour to report as follows.

2. On receipt of your letters I collected all the samples of ink in issue from this store, and also obtained others from Dr. Waldie and Mr. John Thomson, another well-known local manufacturer of writing ink, and placed myself in communication with the Government Chemical Examiner, Dr. Warden, whose report on the subject I beg to forward in original, with the accompanying abstract compiled from it.

3. Ten samples of inks, distinguished on the margin, were sent to the Chemical Examiner for report as to their durability and relative merits. Of these descriptions of ink, Nos. 1, 3, and 4 (black ink) and Nos. 2 and 9 (red ink) are of European make, and the rest are locally manufactured.

Black Ink (Fluid).
No. 1, Morrell's black registration.
3, Stephen's black ink.
4, " blue-black ink.
5, Dr. Waldie's black.
(Powder.)
8, Amritolal Roy's black.
Red Ink.
2, Morrell's red registration.
6, Dr. Waldie's brilliant red.
7, " crimson.
9, Fuchsine aniline crystals.
10, Thomson's roseate.

4. From the result of the experiments made by the Chemical Examiner, there does not appear to exist any appreciable difference between Morrell's black registration ink (No. 1), Stephen's ink Nos. 3 and 4, and Dr. Waldie's No. 5, so as to make it advisable to use ink No. 1 for registration purposes. In comparing the relative cost of these inks it will be found that Dr. Waldie's ink No. 5 is the cheapest, and is lower in price than Morrell's No. 1 by Rs. 8-4-0 per dozen quarts, while at the same time it is reported to have most resisted the action of the reagents used. An objection to it is that the quality is not always uniform, but this may be overcome.

The relative cost of the three inks is as follows, being largely in favour of Dr. Waldie's :—

	Per qt. Rs.	A.	P.
No. 1, Morrell's black, at	0	14	0
No. 3, } Stephen's black, at	0	13	4
No. 4, }	1	6	8
No. 5, Waldie's black, at	0	3	0

5. I am therefore of opinion that Morrell's black registration ink No. 1 and Stephen's black No. 3 may be replaced by Dr. Waldie's black ink No. 5. It must, however, be left to Government to decide whether the use of Stephen's inks Nos. 3 and 4 should altogether be discontinued, as certain officers demur to the use of Dr. Waldie's ink, and the consumption of Stephen's ink is about 500 bottles a year, which is issued only to the special officers noted on the margin.

His Excellency the Viceroy.
" " the Commander-in-Chief.
Lieutenant-Governors.
Secretariat offices under the Government of India and Bengal.
Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces.

6. The bulk of the ink supply to offices in the interior is in the shape of powder, and this is a necessity not only to avoid the risks of breakage, but on account of the compactness and comparative cheapness of transit, and these considerations must largely affect the question both as to black and red inks. The quantity of each issued in a fluid and in a dry state in one year is as follows :—

	Black Ink.	Red Ink.
Quarts (fluid)	10,887	1,157
Packets equal to quarts (dry)	40,009	10,767

7. English ink powder was formerly used, but during the last eight years the article manufactured in this country has been substituted. The sample No. 8 by Amritolal Roy is being tried for the first time during the current official year. It is cheap, and appears to me to be good enough for general purposes. During the last nine months that it has been issued, I have received only three complaints as to its quality; but most objections made to the ink arise from want of care and cleanliness in the preparation of the ink.

8. The Chemical Examiner reports that the ink produced from No. 8 was "the only one that showed marked signs of fading on exposure to the action of light," but the signs were on the whole very faint, and the test was a severe one, such as in ordinary use writing ink is never subjected to. In other respects it is said not to differ materially from the other samples. "All flow well and produce a good colour on paper." Sample No. 8 is also decidedly the cheapest, the price per bottle of 18 ounces, the product of two packets of powder according to the results given by the Chemical Examiner, being 1 anna 3 pie against 1 anna 11 pie for the same volume of Dr. Waldie's No. 5, which is the next cheapest. Dr. Warden has made a mistake in reckoning the cost at Re. 1 per dozen instead of 8 annas per dozen packets of the powder. I consider, therefore, that it is not necessary to disturb the present mode of supplying Mofussil offices with ink in powder. Any existing defect in quality will probably be removed in time by competition, the contract being made yearly.

9. With respect to red ink, the use of No. 9 (Fuchsine aniline crystals), which has the advantage of all the others in point of cheapness, was approved in your letter No. 3649, dated 12th November 1880. All the samples are said to be aniline inks, with the exception of No. 2 Morrell's, which is composed of vegetable colouring materials. The Chemical Examiner reports: "The only red ink which resisted the action of sun-light was Morrell's No. 2, but, on the other hand, its colour was discharged more or less completely by three of the reagents used," and that "the certainty of aniline inks fading after a comparatively short period renders them unfit for work in which anything like permanency is requisite."

10. It would therefore appear that Morrell's ink is best suited for the registration work, for which it is required, being the most durable as respects sun-light and washing out in boiling water, but for all other general purposes the ink from Fuchsine crystals seems to me sufficiently well-adapted, if carefully prepared. As regards liability to fade in common with the other aniline samples, I beg to submit a specimen sheet written upon in 1877 with Fuchsine ink, which exhibits no apparent sign of decay, and greater permanency is scarcely requisite for ordinary records. Its extreme cheapness and portability are greatly in its favour, and I would therefore recommend its continued adoption for the general stock.

11. I beg to submit herewith as further directed a memorandum of the cost of despatching a dozen quart bottles of ink to the stations named, but I would mention that ink in powder being generally supplied to those stations, the heavy cost of transit in bottles here given is not incurred.

12. The ten samples of ink examined by the Chemical Examiner are herewith forwarded.

P. S.—If the Chemical Examiner's report be not required, its return is requested.

In other respects the inks do not differ materially. All flow well and produce a good colour on paper. Regarding the chemical composition of the inks, all the black are essentially gall inks. The only experiment which bears on the question of permanency was the exposure to sun-light, and it is very probable that under ordinary circumstances inks Nos. 1, 3, 4, and 5 will keep their colour equally well. RESOLUTION.—The Governor General observes that leather belting, suitable for all ordinary driving purposes, and quite equal to the average of imported belting, is being made of Indian leather by Messrs. Foy, Brothers & Co., of Cawnpore, amongst others. His Excellency in Council requests that when belting is required for the public service in India, the Local Governments and Departments concerned will make careful enquiry of local manufacturers of leather before indenting upon the India Office. Whenever such Indian-made belting is obtainable of quality suited to the work required and at a price not higher than that of imported belting, it should be purchased, and no indents for this article on the India Office should be allowed.

ORDERED, that the foregoing Resolution be communicated to all Local Governments and Administrations, to the Military and Public Works Departments, and to Messrs. Foy, Brothers & Co.

Ordered also, that it be published in the Gazette of India.

The Hon'ble Maharaja Jotendro Mohan Tagore, C.S.I.
Lepel Henry Griffin, Esq., C.S.I.
Sirdar Bikrama Singh, Ahluwalia, C.S.I.

The seats of Members of the Order were placed on either side of the Dais, right and left, in alternate order, according to seniority.

There being no Knights Grand Commanders present, the Knights Commanders and the Companions of the Order assembled in the Council Chamber. A procession was formed of the Members of the Order according to ancient custom, and proceeded to the Throne Room, the Junior preceding the Senior Members of the Order.* All present rose and remained standing till the GRAND MASTER took his seat.

* NOTE.—As the Chapter was held at night, the GRAND MASTER determined that no Salutes were to be fired on the occasion.

The following was the order of the procession:—

Spears.
Maces.
The Marshal of the Procession.
The Under-Secretary in the Foreign Department.
The Secretary of the Order.
Companions of the Star of India.
Knights Commanders of the Star of India.

Aide-de-Camp to the Viceroy.	Aide-de-Camp to the Viceroy.
The Military Secretary to the Viceroy.	The Private Secretary to the Viceroy.

Officer bearing the Banner of the GRAND MASTER.

His Excellency the Grand Master, G.M.S.I.

Pages and Personal Staff of His Excellency the GRAND MASTER.

On entering the Throne Room, each Member of the Order filed off, right and left, to the seat allotted to him, and made his reverence to the GRAND MASTER as His Excellency passed.

The Band played the National Anthem. At its conclusion, His Excellency the GRAND MASTER ordered the Secretary to call the roll of those summoned to attend the Chapter. Each Member of the Order who was present bowed to the Grand Master as his name was called, and took his seat.

When the roll-call was over, the Secretary, by command of the GRAND MASTER, declared the Chapter open.

The Secretary then reported that the business before the Chapter was the investiture of His Highness the Nawab of Bahawulpur as a Knight Grand Commander, and of Sirdar Dewa Singh of Patiala, James Davidson Gordon, Esq., C.S.I., and Lepel Henry Griffin, Esq., C.S.I., as Knights Commanders; and the decoration of Sirdar Bakshi Ganda Singh of Patiala, Dewan Ram Jas of Kapurthalla, Lieutenant-Colonel William Tweedie, Henry Mortimer Durand, Esq., Wazirzada Muhammad Afzal Khan, Horace, Abel Cockerell, Esq., and Charles Grant, Esq., with the Badge of the Third Class of the Order under the Sovereign's Grants.

The Secretary then delivered to His Excellency the GRAND MASTER the Sovereign's Grant of the dignity of Knight Grand Commander.

The Secretary of the Order with the Under-Secretary in the Foreign Department and the two Junior Knights Commanders then withdrew from the Chapter in order to conduct His Highness the Nawab of Bahawulpur into the presence of the GRAND MASTER.

A procession was then formed of—Spears.

Maces.
The Under-Secretary in the Foreign Department, bearing the Insignia of the Order.
The Secretary of the Order.
The two Junior Knights Commanders present.
Officer bearing the furled Banner of His Highness.
His Highness the NAWAB OF BAHAWULPUR.
Pages and Attendants of His Highness.

The Guard of Honor presented arms as His Highness passed. All Members of the Second and Third Classes of the Order rose and remained standing until the proclamation, hereinafter mentioned, was made.

His Highness, with the two Knights Commanders, advanced to within a few paces from the Dais, and the Under-Secretary in the Foreign Department placed the Insignia on the table.

The Secretary, having received from the GRAND MASTER and read the Sovereign's Grant in favor of the NAWAB OF BAHAWULPUR, conducted His Highness to the table, and the Junior Knight Commander, receiving the Riband and Badge from the Secretary, decorated the Nawab therewith, and the next Junior Knight, receiving the Star of the Order from the Secretary, attached it in its proper place.

The two Knights Commanders next robed His Highness with the Mantle of the Order.

This done, His Highness was conducted by the Secretary to the front of the Dais, and made his reverence to the GRAND MASTER.

Meanwhile the two Junior Knights withdrew to their places and remained standing.

The Under-Secretary in the Foreign Department took from the table the Collar of the Knight Grand Commander, and, with due reverence, delivered it to the GRAND MASTER.

The GRAND MASTER, remaining seated, then invested His Highness with the Collar, and addressed the following admonition :

"In the name of the Queen and Empress of India and by Her Majesty's Command, I hereby invest you with the Honorable Insignia of the Star of India, of which Most Exalted Order Her Majesty has been graciously pleased to appoint you to be a Knight Grand Commander."

When the admonition had been given, the newly-invested Knight made his reverence to the GRAND MASTER, and was then conducted by the Secretary to his seat, in front of which he remained standing. The Officer bearing His Highness' Banner then unfurled it, the Guard of Honor presented arms, and the Secretary of the Order proclaimed the full titles of His Highness, that is to say —

His Highness Rukn-ud-Daula, Nasrat Jang, Hafiz-ul-Mulk, Mukhlis-ud-Daula, Nawab Sadik Muhammad Khan Bahadur, Knight Grand Commander of the Most Exalted Order of the Star of India.

The proclamation being ended, all resumed their seats.

The investiture of the Knight Grand Commander having been accomplished, the Under-Secretary in the Foreign Department and the two Junior Knights Commanders conducted SIRDAR DEWA SINGH from his seat to the Dais. Members of the Third Class of the Order present rose from their seats.

After SIRDAR DEWA SINGH had made his reverence to the GRAND MASTER, he was conducted by the Secretary to the table. The two Junior Knights Commanders, by desire of the GRAND MASTER, on receiving the Star of the Order from the Secretary, attached it in the proper place. This done, SIRDAR DEWA SINGH was conducted by the Secretary to the front of the Dais, and made his reverence to the GRAND MASTER.

Meanwhile the two Junior Knights Commanders withdrew to their places and resumed their seats.

The Under-Secretary then, with due reverence, delivered the Riband and Badge of the Order to the GRAND MASTER.

The GRAND MASTER next invested SIRDAR DEWA SINGH with the Riband and Badge, addressing him as follows :—

"In the name of the Queen and Empress of India and by Her Majesty's Command, I hereby invest you with the Honorable Insignia of the Star of India, of which Most Exalted Order Her Majesty has been graciously pleased to appoint you to be a Knight Commander."

The newly-invested Knight then made his reverence to the GRAND MASTER, and was led by the Secretary to the seat appointed for him: those standing resumed their seats.

Similar ceremonies were observed on the investiture of James Davidson Gordon, Esq., C.S.I., and Lepel Henry Griffin, Esq., C.S.I., as Knights Commanders, with this exception that, after each had been led to the Dais and had made his reverence to the GRAND MASTER, the GRAND MASTER conferred upon him the Title, Degree, and Honor of a Knight Bachelor of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, after which each in turn was conducted by the Secretary to the table.

The investiture of the Knights Commanders having been finished, the Secretary presented to the GRAND MASTER the Badges of the Third Class of the Order for the Companions to be decorated.

The Under-Secretary in the Foreign Department then conducted SIRDAR BAKSHI GANDA SINGH of Patiala to the front of the Dais, where he made his reverence to the GRAND MASTER.

The GRAND MASTER then handed the Badge of the Third Class of the Order for SIRDAR BAKSHI GANDA SINGH to the Secretary, who attached it in its proper place. Thereafter SIRDAR BAKSHI GANDA SINGH made his reverence to the GRAND MASTER, and was conducted by the Under-Secretary in the Foreign Department to the seat appointed for him.

Similar ceremonies were observed in conferring the Badges of the Third Class on Dewan Ram Jas of Kapurthalla, Lieutenant-Colonel William Tweedie, Henry Mortimer Durand, Esq., Wazirzada Muhammad Afzal Khan, Horace Abel Cockerell, Esq., and Charles Grant, Esq., with this exception as regards the last named Companion, that His Excellency the GRAND MASTER himself attached the Badge.

The Secretary then represented that there was no further business before the Chapter, and the GRAND MASTER, rising, commanded him to declare the Chapter dissolved.

A procession of Knights Grand Commanders of the Star of India, Knights Commanders of the Star of India, and Companions of the Star of India was thereupon formed and left the Marble Hall and returned to the Council Room in the reverse order to that in which it entered, a Grand March being performed and the Guard of Honor presenting arms.

The Secretary of the Order and the Under-Secretary in the Foreign Department conducted the Knight Grand Commander to his carriage.

Full dress was worn by all Officers on this occasion, and evening dress by all Gentlemen who were not entitled to wear uniform.

By Command of His Excellency the GRAND MASTER,

C. GRANT,

Secretary to the Most Exalted Order of the Star of India.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

Financial Resolution No. 3780, dated 21st October 1881.

Read also the undermentioned papers:—

Despatch from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, to the Government of Bombay, No. 13, dated the 22nd September 1881.

Letter to the Government of Bombay, No. 3809, dated the 25th October 1881.

„ from „ „ „ 7521, „ 14th November 1881, and enclosures.

„ to the Governments of the North-Western Provinces and Punjab, No. 1806, dated the 6th December 1881.

„ from the Government of the Punjab, No. 15, dated the 21st January 1882.

RESOLUTION.—In the Resolution No. 3780 of 21st October the Chief Commissioner of Assam was told that swords required for the Police should be obtained of Indian manufacture instead of being procured from England. He was at the same time informed that swords of better quality than those ordinarily made for trade purposes in England were manufactured by native armourers in the Punjab and the North-Western Provinces.

2. The Government of Bombay having about the same time sent to the Secretary of State for India an indent for swords required for the Bombay Police, the Secretary of State enquired whether suitable swords for such services could not be purchased in India at a cost equivalent to the estimate given in the indents. The Government of Bombay reported that good country-made swords could not be procured at the price mentioned. The Secretary of State accordingly sanctioned the supply of swords from England.

3. A copy of this correspondence having been obtained from the Government of Bombay, enquiry was made of the Governments of the North-Western Provinces and the Punjab as to the sources whence swords for the Police in those Provinces were obtained. From the answer received from the Government of the Punjab it appears that all sergeants and men of the local Police are armed exclusively with Indian-made swords, that good weapons can be made in almost any district of the Province, and that skilled workmen are to be found in the Districts of Gujrat and Gujranwala.

4. The Governor General in Council accordingly requests that, in future, swords required for the Police and other Departments may be procured of Indian manufacture in communication with the Inspector General of Police in the Punjab, if they cannot be made within the local limits of the Presidency or Province concerned.

ORDERED, that the foregoing Resolution be communicated to all Local Governments and Administrations, and that it be published in the Gazette of India.

Also, to the Military Department for consideration, with reference to the supply of swords to native troops.

The 24th February 1882.

No. 1153.—Mr. A. D. Carey, Bombay Civil Service, received charge of the Office of Commissioner of Inland Customs, before noon, on the 20th February 1882.

ORDER—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

Read the following:—

No. 29, dated 26th January 1882.

From—The Secretary of State for India,
To—The Government of India.

With reference to my despatch of the 31st of August last, No. 256, and to your letter of the 5th of August 1881, No. 56 (Separate Revenue, Post Office), relative to the date of departure of the mails from India, I forward herewith, for your information, a copy of the correspondence noted in the margin, from which it will be seen that the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury have desired the Post Master General to carry into effect the proposals of the Committee which reported on the question on the 24th of December last.

To Post Office, dated 22nd September 1881.
From ditto, dated 25th October 1881.
To ditto, dated 10th November 1881.
From ditto, dated 28th November 1881.
To ditto, dated 28th November 1881.
From Treasury, dated 27th December 1881, with Report of Committee.
To ditto, dated 31st December 1881.
From ditto, dated 5th January 1882.

2. The result will be that the mails will leave Calcutta on Saturday during the monsoon, and on Tuesday during the fair weather, the steamers quitting Bombay on the afternoon of Tuesday and Friday respectively.

3. I trust that this arrangement will prove acceptable to your Government and to the community in India.

Dated 22nd September 1881.

From—SIR LOUIS MALLET, Under-Secretary of State for India,
To—The Secretary, General Post Office, London.

I am directed by the Secretary of State for India in Council to forward herewith, for any observations which Her Majesty's Postmaster General may wish to make thereon, a copy of a letter* from the Government of India, with its enclosures, relative to the inconvenience stated to be occasioned in that country by the present date of departure of the mails from Bombay.

* Dated 5th August 1881, No. 56.

A copy of a despatch† addressed to the Government of India, on the 31st of August, is also forwarded herewith.

† No. 256.

No. 369G., dated 25th October 1881.

From—S. A. BLACKWOOD, Esq., Secretary, General Post Office, London,
To—The Under-Secretary of State for India.

I am directed by the Postmaster General to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 22nd of last month, No. F. 2920, in which you forwarded, for his observations, a copy of a letter from the Government of India, with its enclosures, relative to the day of departure of the mails from Bombay.

Mr. Fawcett has also received a letter from the Postmaster General of Victoria, dealing with the cognate question of the day of departure from Melbourne during the monsoon period.

The Government of India proposes that, from the beginning of next year, the departure from Bombay should take place at 10-30 on Friday morning all the year round, or, if that cannot be arranged, that that day and hour shall be fixed for the departure during the fair weather season, and that 10-30 on Tuesday morning shall be substituted during the monsoon.

The Victorian Post Office, on the other hand, proposes that, during the period of the south-west monsoon, the departure from Melbourne may be fixed for 1 P.M. on Tuesday.

Without at present going into details, I am to point out, for the information of the Marquis of Hartington, that, while either proposal is at variance with the requirements of this country as hitherto conceived, the two proposals are in themselves incompatible.

In these circumstances, Mr. Fawcett would suggest that the whole question should be discussed by a Committee of representatives from the India Office, the Colonial Office, the Treasury, and the Post Office, who would have the opportunity of receiving any representations which the Contractors and the Agents General of the Australian Colonies might desire to make.

Dated 10th November 1881.

From—SIR LOUIS MALLET, Under-Secretary of State for India,
To—The Secretary, General Post Office, London.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 25th ultimo, No. 369G., relative to the date of departure of the mails from Bombay.

In reply, I am to acquaint you that the Marquis of Hartington concurs in Mr. Fawcett's suggestion that the whole question should be considered by a Committee of representatives from this Office, the Colonial Office, the Treasury, and the Post Office, and will be prepared to nominate a representative of this Office on learning that Mr. Fawcett's proposal has been generally accepted.

No. 403G., dated 28th November 1881.

From—S. A. BLACKWOOD, Esq., Secretary, General Post Office, London,
To—The Under-Secretary of State for India.

With reference to your letter of the 10th instant, No. F 3269, I am directed by the Postmaster General to state to you, for the information of the Marquis of Hartington, that the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury have approved of the proposed Departmental Committee to consider the question of the dates to be fixed for the Indian and Australian Mail Services, and have appointed Mr. John Holms, M.P., to represent the Treasury.

Subject to the convenience of the other members of the Committee, Mr. Holms has named Wednesday next, at 11-30 A.M., at the General Post Office, for the first meeting of the Committee, and Mr. Fawcett hopes that it will be convenient to the representative of the India Office to attend on that day.

Dated 28th November 1881.

From—SIR LOUIS MALLET, Under-Secretary of State for India,
To—The Secretary, General Post Office, London.

In reply to your letter of this day's date, stating that the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury have approved of the proposed Departmental Committee to consider the question of the dates to be fixed for the Indian and Australian Mail Services, and have appointed Mr. John Holms, M.P., to represent the Treasury, I am directed to inform you that the Marquis of Hartington has nominated Mr. Henry Waterfield, the Financial Secretary of the India Office, to represent this Department on the Committee, and he will accordingly attend at the General Post Office, at 11-30 A.M., on Wednesday next.

I am to add that Lord Hartington understands from your letter of the 25th of October that the object of the Committee is to discuss the question of the dates which it is most desirable to fix, after receiving any representations which the Contractors and the Agents General of the Australian Colonies may desire to make; and that the action of the Secretary of State in Council will not be fettered by any recommendations which the Committee may make.

No. 21731, dated 27th December 1881.

From—R. R. W. LINGEN, Esq., Secretary to the Lords Commissioners, H. M.'s Treasury,
To—The Under Secretary of State for India.

In transmitting to you the enclosed copy of a Report, dated the 24th instant, from the Committee which has recently been sitting on the question of the days of departure and arrival of the India, China, and Australian mails, I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to request that you will move the Marquis of Hartington to cause my Lords to be informed, at his earliest convenience, whether he approves of the arrangements proposed by the Committee, in order that the necessary steps may be taken for carrying the new time-table into effect.

Report by the Committee appointed to consider the dates to be fixed for the Indian, China, and Australian Mail Services,—dated 24th December 1881.

Your Committee have considered the question referred to them, of the dates which it is desirable to fix in the time-tables for 1882, as those on which the mails should leave Australia and India. They have had before them the representations made by the Victorian Government regarding the inconvenience of a departure from Melbourne at midday on Monday in the monsoons, as well as those of the Government of India, respecting the disadvantage under which Calcutta labours in consequence of the mail leaving that place on Saturday in the monsoon, and on Monday in the fair season. They have also discussed the question of the Melbourne mails with Major-General Pasley, the Acting Agent General for Victoria.

Under the time-tables for the present year the mails should during the monsoon leave Melbourne on Monday, Adelaide on Wednesday, King George's Sound on Sunday, and Galle on Sunday, and should arrive at Suez on Tuesday. The corresponding mails would leave Calcutta on Saturday, and Bombay on Tuesday, arriving at Suez also on Tuesday. The combined mails are due in London on Monday afternoon. In practice, the Government of Victoria has, during the present year, on all occasions except one, detained the vessel at Melbourne till 1 P.M. on Tuesday; but, notwithstanding the departure being later by 24 hours, the mails have not, on the whole, arrived in London after the contract time.

To sanction the delay of the departure of the mail from Melbourne for a whole day would involve the corresponding mail being fixed to leave Calcutta on Sunday, which would not be accepted by the Government of India. Your Committee, however, learn that the Peninsular and Oriental Company would be willing so far to meet the views of the Victorian Government as to delay the departure of the packet till daylight on Tuesday, with the understanding that six hours can be made up in the run to Galle, and that, under the concession offered in May last by the Postmaster General, a further delay of 12 hours may take place at Galle if requisite.

Your Committee therefore recommend that as regards the monsoon season no alteration should be made in the time-table of the India and China mails, the Victorian Government carrying the suggested alteration at Melbourne into effect, if they desire it. A note should, however, be made in the China time-table, that in the event of the packet from Australia being late in arriving at Point de Galle, the China packet may be detained for 12 hours at that port.

During the fair season the mails, under the existing time-tables, leave Melbourne on Wednesday, Adelaide on Friday, King George's Sound on Tuesday, and Galle on Tuesday, and are timed to arrive at Suez on Tuesday. The corresponding mails leave Calcutta on Monday, and Bombay on Thursday, arriving in London nominally on Monday afternoon. In practice, however, they are generally received about 24 hours sooner.

Your Committee think that the difficulty felt in this case by Calcutta may be removed by allowing the whole service to take place one day later, so that the mails would be timed to leave Calcutta on Tuesday, Bombay on Friday, Melbourne on Thursday, and Galle on Wednesday, arriving at Suez on Wednesday, and being delivered in London nominally on Tuesday afternoon, but probably, judging from past experience, in most cases in time for despatch from London on Monday evening.

Your Committee admit that, as the contracts with Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company allow them a certain number of hours within which to deliver the mails, the time-tables must be arranged on that basis, but they see no reason why advantage should not be taken of the greater rapidity with which the mails are usually conveyed to meet the wishes of the communities of Calcutta and Melbourne, with small risk of inconvenience to the Scotch centres of industry. If your Committee's proposals are accepted, the nominal time for the arrival of the mails in London will be Monday afternoon during the monsoon, and Tuesday afternoon in the fair season; but if the experience of the past year is repeated, the actual time of arrival will be 24 hours earlier, and it will be seen that whenever they arrive in time for despatch to the North on Tuesday evening by the mail train at 10 minutes to 9 P.M., the letters will be delivered in Scotland in the course of Wednesday morning. The mail train out would leave Aberdeen at 12 30, Dundee at 3-30, and Glasgow at 6 on Thursday afternoon, thus giving to the most distant place 24 hours for reply.

It may no doubt occasionally happen that a delay in the arrival of the vessel may shorten this interval, but, weighing this possible risk against the certainty of great inconvenience at Melbourne and Calcutta if no change be effected, your Committee recommend that an endeavour be made to meet the wishes of those cities in the manner suggested.

Dated 31st December 1881.

From—HENRY WATERFIELD, Esq., Financial Secretary, India Office,
To—The Secretary to the Lords Commissioners, H. M.'s Treasury.

In reply to your letter of the 27th instant, I am directed by the Secretary of State for India in Council to acquaint you, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, that he is prepared to accept, as regards India, the proposals made by the Committee, which has recently reported on the question of the days of departure of the India, China, and Australia mails; and that, on learning that they have been approved by Her Majesty's Government, he will communicate the decision to the Government of India.

Dated 5th January 1882.

From—J. H. COLE, Esq., Secy. to the Lords Commissioners, H. M.'s Treasury,
To—The Under-Secretary of State for India.

I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in reply to Mr. Waterfield's letter of the 31st ultimo, stating that, as regards India, the Secretary of State in Council approves of the recommendations made in their Report of the 24th ultimo by the Committee on the India, China, and Australia Mails, to request that you will inform the Secretary of State that my Lords have desired the Postmaster General to carry the proposals of the Committee into effect.

Dated 27th January 1882.

From—HENRY WATERFIELD, Esq., Financial Secretary, India Office,
To—The Secretary to the Government of India, DEPT. OF FINANCE.

With reference to the Financial despatch to the Government of India dated the 26th instant, No. 29, relative to the date of departure of the mails from India, I forward herewith a copy of a further letter from the Post Office dated the 25th instant, from which it will be seen that the change of day, as regards the mails from India during the fair season, will commence with the mail leaving Bombay on the 10th of March next.

A copy of the Financial despatch No. 29 is also enclosed.

P.S.—A copy of the pro formâ time-table, which has been received since the above was written, is enclosed.

No. 21H., dated 25th January 1882.

From—S. A. BLACKWOOD, Esq., Secretary, General Post Office, London,
To—The Under-Secretary of State for India.

I have to acquaint you, for the information of the Secretary of State for India in Council, that a time-table for the India and China Mail Packet Services has been approved by the Postmaster General based upon the arrangements recently authorised by the Treasury, and that the change of day, as regards the mails from India during the fair season, will commence with the mail leaving Bombay on the 10th of March next.

As soon as the new time-table, which is now in the press, is printed, a supply shall be forwarded to the India office.

In the meantime the Marquis of Hartington will no doubt wish to communicate to the Government of India the date fixed for the commencement of the new arrangement.

ORDERED, that the foregoing papers be published in the Gazette of India for general information, and copies be communicated to the Chambers of Commerce, Bengal, Madras, and Bombay; to the Trades Association, Calcutta, Bombay, Madras, and Rangoon; and to the Director General of the Post Office.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

Read again the under-mentioned papers regarding the substitution of goods of bonâ fide Indian manufacture for European stores :—

Financial Resolution No. 2777, dated 1st September 1881.
" " 806, dated 10th February 1882.

Read also—

Letter No. 2551P., dated 18th February 1882, from Messrs. Burn & Co., Managing Agents of the Indian Portland Cement Company, Limited.

RESOLUTION.—In the Resolution read above, the Governor General in Council directed that whenever Portland cement was required for the public service in India, it should be obtained of Indian manufacture. The Managing Agents of the Indian Portland Cement Company, Limited, now say that the Company has determined to erect, at a cost of Rs. 4,50,000, new works to enable them to meet the increasing Government demand. They represent that they "would like to have their hands strengthened by contracts from Local Governments as authorised by the Supreme Government," and they request that the attention of the various Departments and local authorities interested may be called to the establishment of the additional works at Raniganj, "with the view of entering into contracts for a supply of the cement for a period of five years." His Excellency the Governor General in Council has no objection to making known the information communicated by Messrs. Burn & Co., in order that Local Governments and Administrations or Public Departments may contract for a term of years not exceeding five if they find that they can rely on obtaining cement of good quality and at prices not higher than the market prices ruling at the time of delivery for imported cement of equal quality.

ORDERED, that the foregoing Resolution be communicated to all Local Governments and Administrations and to the Public Works Department for consideration, and to Messrs. Burn & Co. for information.

Also, that it be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

The 3rd March 1882.

No. 1288.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Sections nine, fifteen, seventeen, thirty-two, fifty-one, and fifty-six of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, the Governor General in Council is pleased to make the following Rules :—

CHAPTER I.—Preliminary.

1. These Rules shall come into force throughout British India on the 1st April 1882 in supersession of the Rules promulgated by Notifications No. 875, dated 26th February, and No. 966, dated 4th June 1881.

2. All words and expressions used in these Rules and defined in the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, shall be deemed to have the meaning attached to them respectively by the said Act.

3. There shall be two kinds of stamps for indicating the payment of duty on instruments under the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, namely—

(a) Impressed Stamps—including—

Impressed Sheets,—that is to say, sheets of paper bearing the impression of Stamps of different values engraved thereon, and sold to the public for use by them in accordance with these Rules.

Impressed Labels,—to be affixed and impressed by Government Officers as directed in Chapter III of these Rules.

(b) Adhesive Stamps sold to the public for use by them in accordance with these Rules.

CHAPTER II.—Of Impressed Sheets.

4. All instruments chargeable with duty, except Hundís, may be written on Impressed Sheets, and, except as provided by Section ten of the said Act and by these Rules, shall be so written.

5 (a). When any instrument is to be written on an Impressed Sheet, if the amount of duty with which such instrument is chargeable does not exceed one hundred rupees, a single sheet shall be used, unless—where the application for the required stamp is made at a treasury, the officer in charge of such treasury, or, where such application is made to a stamp-vendor, the vendor certifies that he is unable to furnish a single stamp of the required value.

(b). When the amount of duty chargeable in respect of any instrument exceeds one hundred rupees, or a treasury officer or stamp-vendor has certified under clause (a) that he is unable to furnish a single stamp of the required value, the number of sheets used for indicating the payment of duty shall not exceed the number which the treasury officer or the stamp-vendor certifies in either case to be the smallest number which he can furnish so as to make up the required amount.

(c). No certificate shall be made under clause (a) or clause (b) by a stamp-vendor in any case in which the stamp duty required exceeds the highest value of the stamps which such vendor is authorised to sell.

(d). When, under this Rule, two or more Impressed Sheets are used to make up the amount of duty chargeable in respect of any instrument, a portion of such instrument shall be written on each sheet so used.

(e). When a single sheet used under this Rule is found insufficient to admit of the entire instrument being written on the side of the paper which bears the stamp, so much plain paper may be subjoined thereto as may be necessary for the complete writing of such instrument: provided that in every such case the side of the sheet which bears the stamp must be covered by a substantial part of the instrument before any part of the latter can be written on the plain paper joined to such sheet. Provided further, that the part of the instrument written on the plain paper must be attested by the signatures or marks of all the persons executing the document and the witnesses to the same.

6 (a). Hundís other than hundís which can be stamped with an adhesive stamp under Section ten of the said Act shall be written as follows:—

(1) Hundís payable otherwise than on demand, but not more than one year after date or sight, and for amounts not exceeding Rs. 30,000 in individual value, on impressed sheets bearing the word Hundí;

(2) Hundís exceeding Rs. 30,000 in individual value, and Hundís payable at more than one year after date or sight, on paper supplied for sale by the Government, and to which labels have been affixed by one of the officers mentioned in Rule nine, clause (b), or by the Superintendent of Stamps, Calcutta, and impressed by him in manner provided by Rule ten.

(b). Every sheet of such stamped paper shall be of a size not less than $8\frac{5}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{8}$ inches, and no plain paper shall be joined to it.

(c). The provisions in Rule five as to use of two or more sheets of stamped paper when a single stamp of the required value is not procurable apply also to Hundí stamps used under this Rule.

7. The duty payable on any instrument chargeable with a duty of one anna may be denoted by a coloured impression marked on a skeleton form of such instrument by the Superintendent of Stamps at Calcutta, Bombay, Madras, or Rangoon.

CHAPTER III.—Of Impressed Labels.

8. Impressed labels may be used for the following instruments and counterparts thereof, namely,—

(1) Administration-bonds:
(2) Affidavits:
(3) Appointments made in execution of a power:
(4) Articles of Association of a Company:
(5) Articles of clerkship;
(6) Bills of lading:
(7) Charter-parties:
(8) Declarations of trust:
(9) Instruments evidencing an agreement to secure the repayment of a loan made upon the deposit of title-deeds or other valuable security, or upon the hypothecation of moveable property:
(10) Leases printed or lithographed in an Oriental language, when the written matter filled in does not exceed one-fourth of the printed matter:
(11) Memoranda of Association of Companies:
(12) Notes of Protest:
(13) Petitions for leave to file a specification of an invention, &c.:
(14) Policies of insurance:
(15) Revocations of trust:
(16) Warrants for Goods:

and for the following—when written in any European language, provided that any instrument written in any European language other than English shall have attached to it a translation in the English language—

(17) Agreements or memoranda of Agreements, which in the opinion of the officer empowered to affix the label cannot conveniently be written on Impressed Sheets:
(18) Instruments engrossed on parchment and written in the English style, which in the opinion of such officer cannot conveniently be written on Impressed Sheets:
(19) Awards:
(20) Bills of Exchange payable otherwise than on demand and drawn in British India:
(21) Bonds:

9. The following officers are empowered to affix these labels to the instruments mentioned in Rule eight, namely,—

(a) the Collectors of Calcutta and Karáchí;

(b) the Superintendents of Stamps at Madras, Bombay, Lahore, Rangoon, Maulmain, and Akyab;

(c) the Commissioner of Stamps, North-Western Provinces and Oudh;

(d) the Superintendent of Stamps (Political Resident), Aden.

10 (a). Every such officer shall, upon any instrument mentioned in Rule eight being brought to him before it is executed, and application being made to him for that purpose, affix thereto a label or labels of such value as the applicant may desire and pay for, and impress such label or labels by means of a stamping-machine, and also stamp or write on the face of the label or labels the date of impressing the label or labels before returning the instrument to the applicant. In the case of instruments written on parchment, the labels must be further secured by metallic eyelets.

(b). When the stamp duty amounts to five rupees or upwards, such officer shall further write on the face of the label or labels his initials, and, when the stamp duty amounts to rupees twenty or upwards, shall also attach his usual signature to the instrument immediately under the labels.

11 (a). The payment of duty on instruments (other than Bills of Exchange, Cheques, and Promissory Notes) executed out of British India and requiring to be stamped after their receipt in British India, shall be indicated only by impressed labels.

(b). When any such instrument is taken to the Collector under Section seventeen of the said Act, the Collector, unless he be Collector of Calcutta or Karáchí, shall send the instrument to one of the officers mentioned in Rule nine, remitting the amount of duty paid in respect of such instrument; and such officer shall stamp the instrument in the manner prescribed by Rules 10 (a) and 10 (b) and return the same to the Collector for delivery to the person by whom it was produced.

CHAPTER IV.—Adhesive Stamps.

12. Bills of Exchange, payable otherwise than on demand and drawn in sets, when the amount of stamp duty does not exceed one anna for each part of the set, may be stamped with adhesive stamps.

13. Except as otherwise provided in these Rules, the adhesive stamp used to denote the duty of one anna shall bear the words "one anna."

14. The following instruments when stamped with adhesive stamps shall be stamped as follows:—

(a) Bills of Exchange, Cheques, and Promissory Notes drawn or made out of British India, with adhesive stamps bearing the words "Foreign Bill."

(b) Transfers of shares of Public Companies and Associations, with adhesive stamps bearing the words "Share Transfer."

(c) An entry as an Advocate, Vakil, or Attorney on the roll of any High Court, with an adhesive stamp bearing the word "Advocate," "Vakil," or "Attorney."

(Such stamp shall be affixed under the superintendence and responsibility of a gazetted officer of the High Court, who shall obtain the stamp from the Superintendent of Stamps and account to him for it. The gazetted officer who affixes the stamp shall write on the face of it his usual signature and the date of signature before parting with the instrument.)

(d) Notarial Acts, with adhesive Foreign Bill stamps bearing the word "Notarial" printed over them.

CHAPTER V.—Miscellaneous.

15. When it is necessary under Section fifteen of the said Act to denote upon one instrument the payment of duty in respect of another, such payment shall be denoted by an endorsement under the hand of the Collector on the former instrument.

16. Every payment made under Section thirty of the said Act shall be made in cash.

17. The Collector may require every person claiming a refund or renewal under Chapter VI of the said Act, or his duly authorised agent, to make an oral deposition on oath or affirmation, or to put in an affidavit, setting forth the circumstances under which the claim has arisen. The Collector may also, if he thinks fit, call for the evidence of witnesses in support of the statement set forth in the deposition or affidavit of the claimant or his Agent.

18. Any Magistrate convicting or trying an offender under Chapter VIII of the Stamp Act may grant to any person, who may have contributed to the conviction, a reward within a limit to be fixed by the local Government.

No. 1302.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

Read—

Financial Statement for 1881-82, paragraph 29.

Memorandum from this Department, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department, No. $\frac{24}{7}$, dated 18th January 1881, forwarding the Appropriation Audit Statement for the year 1880-81, submitted by the Accountant General, Military Department.

Report by the Comptroller General on the Accounts of the Government of India for 1880-81, dated 22nd February 1882.

RESOLUTION.—In the Financial Statement for 1881-82 it was announced that the Comptroller General would, in future, submit annually to the Government of India a report in which the final accounts of the year preceding would be compared with the Budget Estimate of that year, as also with the accounts of previous years, and explanations of increases and decreases apparent therefrom would be afforded.

2. The first report due under this arrangement, which relates to the final accounts or "Actuals" of 1880-81, has now been received, and the Governor General in Council has much pleasure in recognising the thoroughness and ability with which Mr. Westland has dealt with the subject, and carried out the intentions of the Government of India.

3. These accounts, very briefly summarised, show the following results :—

Revenue	72,560,000
Expenditure	76,604,000
Deficit ...	4,044,000

Excluding revenue and expenditure on account of the war, the deficit would be turned into a surplus of £6,320,000. The estimated deficit was £6,219,000. The accounts, therefore, show a result better than the Regular Estimate by £2,175,000.

4. The greater part of this difference, however, does not in reality represent any improvement of the revenue or diminution of the expenditure during 1880-81, the main reasons of this are as follows :—

(1) According to the arrangement made last year, the English war contribution was redistributed in the autumn. The result was that £695,000 was transferred from 1881-82 to 1880-81, thus increasing the English war credit in the latter year to £2,695,000.

(2) Under instructions from the Secretary of State the capital outlay on the Punjab Northern State Railway is to appear under the head "38, Productive Public Works." The result, so far as the accounts of 1880-81 are concerned, is to increase the surplus, nominally, by £601,000.

(3) Consequent on the Nizamut Stipend Fund having been wound up, there has been an exceptional credit of £294,000 during the year. The details of the transaction are to be found at page 9 of the Comptroller General's report, under the head of "Miscellaneous."

(4) The collection of the land revenue was not retarded by the census operations to so great an extent as had been anticipated, and £157,000 were recovered in the year which, it had been thought, would stand over till 1881-82.

5. The above items account for £1,747,000 out of the difference of £2,175,000, shown in paragraph 3. The other principal items are as shown in the margin. This improvement, in contradistinction to the above, is almost entirely real, and not nominal.

Excise	60,000
Salt	63,000
State Railways (net) ...	60,000
Guaranteed Railways (net)	218,000
	401.000

6. The report will be transmitted to the Secretary of State for India with the usual detailed review, and an expression of the high opinion which the Government of India entertain of the efficiency and services of Mr. Westland in the post of Comptroller General.

ORDERED, that the Comptroller General's Report on the Accounts of 1880-81, together with this Resolution, be forwarded to the Military Department and to the Comptroller General and Accountants General, and that it be published in the Gazette of India.

I have separated in the above statement the abnormal receipts and expenditure arising out of the war in Afghanistan, so as to be able to review the features of the year, in the first place, without reference to it. The following remarks therefore have regard only to the revenue and expenditure under the normal heads.

REVENUE.

The revenue has turned out better than the Original Estimate by 2,763,3, of which increase the greater part was anticipated at the time of passing the Regular Estimate. The following abstract shows further details, and explains that Revenue proper was improved by 1,380,0, Miscellaneous receipts by 619,0, and Public Works by 450,0.

I.—Land Revenue.—The normal Land Revenue of a year is put down at 22,050,0, but the last two completed years brought in 22,450,8 and 22,463,5 respectively, as they included collection of arrears due from the time of the Madras famine. The Budget Estimate for 1880-81 was for almost exactly a year's revenue, 22,062,0; but towards the end of the year, it was known that there would have to be remissions in the North-West on account of local scarcity, and that the employment of the Subordinate Revenue officials upon census work in February and March would delay much of the collections till April, that is, till the next financial year. Allowing for these, the Regular Estimate was 21,753,0; but the event showed that the postponement was not so much as anticipated, and the realizations came to 21,910,3.

II.—Tributes.—The tributes are necessarily fixed yearly amounts, and the annual collection varies according as the various States are punctual or not in their payments. The principal part of the excess of the Regular Estimate 751,0 and the Actuals 742,2 over the Budget was a payment of 30,0 by the Dhar State in redemption of an annual contribution of 1,2.

Madras contributes the largest share of these tributes, as the Mysore Subsidy is 245,0; but by far the greatest number of them is from the Rajputana and Central India States, and we have lately been making arrangements for their more systematic record and recovery.

III.—Forests.—The Estimates were very accurately realized. The largest items of the revenue are:—

	Operations by Government.	Operations by Contractors and Consumers.
Timber	231,9	89,9
Firewood and Charcoal	53,1	56,4
Bamboos and other Produce ...	10,4	78,8
Grass	8,4	81,6

The small English item under this head is due to fees from Forestry students.

IV.—Excise.—The revenue under this head has been rapidly increasing; the figures of the past five years being 2,523,0, 2,457,1 (famine), 2,619,3, 2,838,0, 3,135,2; and Madras is the only province which does not share this rapid increase. The Budget was taken at a safe figure 2,782,0; but by the time the Regular Estimate was made up, it was already apparent that there would be an increase of 400,0 on the Estimate.

V.—Assessed Taxes.—The revenue under this head is chiefly the License Tax on trades. It first appears in the Accounts of 1877-78, but in that year it was levied only in the North-Western Provinces, and produced 86,0. Next year it was levied in the five larger provinces and brought in 869,8, less refunds 25,8, net 844,0; besides 30,8 of the old Pandhari Tax of the Central Provinces. Next year, 1879-80, all incomes below Rs. 500 were exempted from the tax,—a change which was estimated to reduce its produce by 340,0. The income of this year, including Pandhari, was 785,3, less refunds 58,8, or net 726,5, as the reduction did not take effect till near the end of the year. The Estimate for 1880-81, allowing for the full reduction, was 535,0, and in the result it was a little more than covered.

VI.—Provincial Rates.—This head made its appearance in the accounts only in 1877-78, when the general accounts incorporated what were formerly the separate Provincial and Local ones. The revenue under it is about 2,800,0, of which about 477,0 represents additional cesses imposed by the Famine legislation of 1877-78. The mass of it represents cesses upon lands for Roads and other local Public Works, and for Education. There are also smaller cesses for expenditure on District Postal Service, Patwaris, and Village Servants.

The revenue of the last three years has been 2,638,8, 2,882,1 and 2,776,4. The diminution in 1880-81, as compared with 1879-80, is due to the same reasons as apply to the Land Revenues, along with which, for the most part, the Provincial Rates are collected. The revenue a little more than covered the Budget, but the Regular anticipated somewhat too great an improvement.

VII.—Customs.—The following are the details of the Customs Revenues, deducting refunds, for the last four years:—

	1877-78.	1878-79.	1879-80.	1880-81.
IMPORTS.
Cotton Goods	920,3	748,2	662,4	717,2

Apparel	27,5	25,3	26,1	32,1
Sugar	30,4	57,9	45,3	75,3
Other Goods ...	224,9	163,5	179.3	209,7
	1,838,8	1,669,1	1,559,8	1,734,8
EXPORTS.
Rice	483,9	563,7	592,6	715,5
Indigo	49,9	43,5	41,4	—2
Other Goods ...	18,6	12,3	7,2	2
	552,4	619,5	641,2	715,5
Land Customs on Sugar...	134,9	3,2	1	0
Miscellaneous ...	29,9	33,6	27,4	28,3
TOTAL ...	2,556,0	2,265,4	2,228,5	2,478,6

It will be seen that by the partial abolition of the cotton duties the loss in the first year was about 172,1 and next year about 257,9. Since then the revenue has partly recovered itself, as the returning prosperity of the country is indicated by increased importations of cotton and woollen goods. Silk imports have greatly increased this last year to the detriment of local manufacture.

The sugar import is chiefly for the Bombay side, and is a somewhat fluctuating item.

The Export Duty on rice is bringing in an increased revenue.

The above table also sets forth the effect of the abolition of the Export Duty on Indigo and of the Land Customs Duty on Sugar.

The year 1880-81 turned out much better than the Budget Estimate. In Bombay especially trade had been very active, and the Regular Estimate anticipated an improvement of 210,3 at that port.

VIII.—Salt.—The Salt Revenue is divided into two principal portions,—the Inland Customs Department of Northern India, which produces and sells salt from the indigenous sources; and the Sea Customs, and Sea-board manufacture, in the maritime Provinces. The revenue of past years has been as follows:—

	1876-77.	1877-78.	1878-79.	1879-80.	1880-81.
Inland Customs	1,473,2	1,487,4	1,533,2	1,718,0	1,625,1
Maritime Provinces ...	4,833,2	4,974,8	5,308,0	5,549,7	5,486,2
TOTAL ...	6,306,4	6,462,2	6,841,2	7,267,7	7,111,3
Duty in Upper India ...	Rs. 3	Rs. 3	Rs. 2-8	Rs. 2-8	Rs. 2.8
„ Bengal ...	„ 3-4	„ 3-4	„ 2-14	„ 2-14	„ 2-14
„ Southern India ...	„ 1-13	„ 1-13	„ 2-8	„ 2-8	„ 2-8

From December 1877 to July 1878, the rates of duty, in Upper India, and in Bengal were 2-12 and 3-2 respectively.

These figures will not be found to agree with the accounts of the several years, as for the greater part of the time which they cover the accounts were unfortunately kept on what may be called the departmental system, that is, the department gave its own account of its receipts, and these receipts were afterwards tallied with the treasury figures. The accounts thus framed were found incorrect and we accordingly altered the system in December 1880, bringing to account what was actually received in the treasuries and letting the department work back from them. When we did this we found we had to adjust the accounts by a write-back of 99,5, under Refunds, as follows:—

	Accounts.	Actual Receipts.
1876-77	6,304,7	6,306,4
1877-78	6,460,1	6,462,2
1878-79	6,941,1	6,841,2
1879-80	7,266,4	7,267,7
1880-81	7,116,0	7,111,3
	34,088,3	33,988,8
Written back in 1880-81	99,5
	33,988,8

It will be seen that, as compared with Budget, there was a very considerable failing of revenue under this head. Two causes contributed to the overestimate; first, the progress of the revenue, in the last completed year of account, was shown as 6,460,0 to 6,940,0, whereas as the above comparison shows it was really only 6,460,0 to 6,840,0. The rise in the revenue maintained itself till December 1879, on the account of which the estimate of 1880-81 was framed. But thereafter appeared a sudden collapse. It was due partly to the fact that the stock of inferior salt having been exhausted, superior salt was sold in the end of 1879, at the Sambhar Lake, at the inferior prices, causing an unusually rapid sale; which naturally showed itself in lower figures in succeeding months. The Department also had been largely introducing a system of depôts; that is, to make salt more accessible to the people, it ceased to sell at the sources only, and conveyed its salt to central depôts, whence the local merchants could purchase. The first effect of this measure was that for a short time the consumption was maintained out of the stocks which the merchants had laid in under the system of sale at the salt sources.

These facts were patent at the time of the Regular Estimate, in which the revenue was shown at the reduced figure of 7,053,0. It really produced 7,116,0.

IX.—Opium.—Of recent years it has been the policy of Government to make a very safe estimate of the Opium Revenues, that is to say, not to count upon its continuance at a high figure. The actual figures of five years have been—

	Bengal Opium sold by Government at Calcutta.		Malwa Opium paid duty at Bombay.		Other Revenue.	Total.
	Chests.	Amount.	Chests.	Amount.
1876-77	47,240	6,000,0	49,136	2,948,2	174,3	9,122,5
1877-78	49,500	6,269,3	45,830	2,749,8	163,6	9,182,7
1878-79	55,500	6,798,6	36,807	2,393,0	207,8	9,399,4
1879-80	59,100	6,914,2	46,211½	3,141,1	263,9	10,319,2
1880-81	56,400	7,683,6	36,069½	2,526,2	270,3	10,480,1

The other revenue is chiefly the calculated cost price, Rs. 7-4, of opium issued for consumption in India, the rest of the realized sale price passing under excise.

The following figures also bear upon the Opium Revenue:—

	Average price, Bengal Opium.	Duty on Malwa Opium.*	Added to Stock.†	Stock of Bengal Opium, March 31.†
			Chests.	Chests.
1876-77 ...	1,270	600	68,051	71,315
1877-78 ...	1,266	600 & 650	67,167	88,982
1878-79 ...	1,225	650	43,140	76,622
1879-80 ...	1,170	650 & 700	49,961	67,483
1880-81 ...	1,362	700	52,969	64,052

* Ajmere opium is 25 rupees additional.

† These figures refer to stock for export only, and exclude about 3,000 and 4,000 chests produced annually for consumption in India.

It will be seen from these figures that the last two years have produced an unprecedented revenue, but that the production has hardly kept pace with the sales. Recent years have not been favourable to opium cultivation, and the sales have been maintained at their high figure out of the bumper crops added to stock in 1876-77 and 1877-78.

X.—Stamps.—This is a steadily progressive revenue as may be seen from the figures of the last five years, 2,838,6, 2,993,5, 3,110,5, 3,193,7, 3,250,6. The Budget Estimate was practically a repetition of the figure for 1879-80, and the actuals exceed it by what has, of late years, been the annual increase of revenue.

The revenue is composed of about 2,200,0 court-fee stamps (i. e., fees on judicial proceedings) and 1,000,0 general stamps, (i. e., stamp duty on documents).

XI.—Registration.—This small head of revenue calls for no remark; it exhibits a slight tendency to improvement. About two-thirds of the revenue is expended upon the establishments employed in registration of documents, or more correctly speaking, the revenue represents a payment for a service that costs the State only about two-thirds of the fees charged.

CIVIL DEPARTMENTS.

For want of a better name, I group under this head three Departments which the State maintains for performing public services, at a charge which is supposed to represent the outlay involved; that is to say, the Departments in question are not maintained in the first place for the realization of revenue.

The detail of them is as follows:—

Abstract of Revenue, 1880-81.

	India.			England.			Total.			Total, 1879-80.
	Budget.	Regular.	Actual.	Budget.	Regular	Actual.	Budget.	Regular.	Actual.	Actual.

XII.—Mint.—The revenue under Mint is extremely irregular, being mainly seignorage on silver; it depends upon the amount of silver imported for coinage. The statistics of the past five years are—

	Net Import of Silver.	Mint Revenues.	Coinage of Silver.
1876-77	7,198,9	258,8	6,271,1
1877-78	14,676,3	443,9	16,180,3
1878-79	3,970,7	172,3	7,210,8
1879-80	7,8 9,7	230,6	10,257,0
1880-81	3,892,6	89,6	4,249,6

The Budget Estimate anticipated revenue 196,0, but even less silver than expected was imported, and the Regular Estimate was 89,0, which was very accurately realized.

XIII.—Post Office.—The actual revenue, 1,018,7, does not greatly differ from either the Budget Estimate or the Regular.

The last four years show a fair increase of revenue, 847,7, 911,8, 1,004,4, 1,018,7. The collections for postage in the four years were 780,4, 799,8, 839,2, and 837,6.

XIV.—Telegraph.—Here also the revenue is progressive, the figures of the last four years being 358,4, 426,7, 505,6, and 539,1. The Budget Estimate was 486,0, as it included the expectation of a falling-off in message-revenue owing to the cessation of the Afghan War, but the event showed no diminution in the operations of the Department.

ADMINISTRATIVE RECEIPTS.

The next group of heads exhibits the receipts of Government in the various Departments of Civil Administration. Their detail is as follows:—

XV.—Minor Departments.—The revenue under this head is chiefly composed of sale proceeds of cinchona grown in Government plantations, 32,5; fees levied in connection with the administration of the Emigration Acts in Bengal, 9,5; examination fees in Madras and Bombay (chiefly for qualification for the Public Service) 6,8; realizations of the Mathematical Instrument Department of the Survey, 6,3.

The English item belongs to the first of these.

XVI.—Law and Justice.—Escheats, fees, and fines account for nearly half of the revenue under this head, 321,7; and Jail receipts, that is, the produce of manufactures in jails, nearly account for the other half. The revenue, though in some respects casual, is fairly steady; the last four years showing 609,0, 647,1, 658,9 and 687,8. The Estimates were fairly realized, although a slight falling-off was anticipated at the time of the Regular Estimate.

XVII.—Police.—About half of the revenue under this head is from Cattle Pounds; and of the rest a considerable share comes from Contributions of Municipalities, Cantonment Funds and Railways, to the maintenance of the Police Forces employed in connection with them. The revenue more than covered the Estimate.

XVIII.—Marine.—There are two entirely different parts of this head; namely, the Provincial and Imperial Marine. The figures of these are as follow:—

	Budget.	Regular.	Actual.
Provincial	135,9	145,0	152,0
Imperial	90,1	65,0	94,5
	226,0	210,0	246,5

The Coast dues in Burma, 16,7, and the Pilotage and other receipts in connection with the Calcutta Port, 119,7, account for nearly the whole of the Provincial items.

Sea-going Vessels and the Dockyards in Calcutta and Bombay are the chief parts of the Imperial Marine Department. The receipts are chiefly for Dockyard services, and it was in respect of such services, charged to other Departments that the Actuals exceeded the Regular Estimate.

XIX.—Education.—The receipts of the last four years have been—

	1877-78.	1878-79.	1879-80.	1880-81.
From fees	68,4	97,8	100,1	107,6
From other sources ...	40,6	49,6	39,3	62,6
	109,0	147,4	139,4	170,2

The increase between 1877-78 and 1878-79 was due to the fact that in the latter year a part of the Madras accounts was corrected by bringing the receipts and charges to account in gross.

The increase in the figures of 1880-81 is due to exceptional receipts in Bombay and in the North-Western Provinces.

In the latter Rs. 40,000 of investment was realized to meet expenditure of the Muir College.

XX.—Medical.—The ordinary receipts (chiefly from Hospitals and Lunatic Asylums) may be put down at 4 to 4½ lakhs. In 1879-80 they were abnormally high, mainly because the figures included a large arrear contribution due by the Calcutta Municipality.

XXI.—Stationery.—The increase in Regular and Actuals, as compared with Budget, is largely due to earnings of Jail Presses.

MISCELLANEOUS RECEIPTS.

The Miscellaneous class of receipts is in three parts as follows :—

XXII.—Interest.—There are three principal items under this head :—

The first is the interest upon the investment of the reserve held against the Currency circulation. During the year 1880-81 the investment amounted to 6,246,3, (par value) on which a year's interest was 249,9, but as a matter of fact a little more, or 250,6, was paid into the treasury on this account during the year.

The next part of the head is the premium realized upon loans. During the year there was a considerable premium both in India and England. In India, the premium on the 4½ per cent. loan of 3,130,0 was 99,8; but as the practice in former years had been to take these items to a Debt head and the Debt head showed an outstanding balance of discount on earlier loans, this premium of 99,8 was required to clear the account and was not brought to account as revenue. In England, the premium realized was 171,9, chiefly on the 3½ per cent. loan of 3½ millions, and this item accounts for the excess of the actual realizations in the English Account over the Budget Estimate.

The third part of the head represents chiefly the interest upon loans of Imperial Funds to Municipal and other corporations or to zemindars or to Native States. There are also some miscellaneous items, as for example, interest upon arrears of revenue and advances to ryots. The Provincial and Local Funds also possess endowments and investments, of which the interest comes under this head.

The improvement over the Estimates in the Indian portion of the account was in respect of these items, and it occurred chiefly in the North-Western Provinces (due to recovery of arrears), in the Punjab (owing to a loan being taken up more rapidly than was anticipated), and in Bombay (owing to an arrear recovery).

The following figures compare the principals of the loans with the interest realized during the year on them :—

	April 1.	March 31.	Average.	Interest.	Per cent.
Presidency Corporations	5,381,8	5,640,8	5,511,3	215,8	3·9
Mofussil Municipalities	309,2	349,9	329,5	15,1	4·6
Local Fund Committees	146,1	140,3	143,2	3,7	2·6

Native States ...	1,572,1	1,472,9	1,522,5	77,1	5·1
TOTAL ...	8,085,2	8,259,7	8,172,4	354,4	4·3

* High, owing to the arrears in the North-West and Bombay.

XXIII.—Superannuations.—The receipts under this head are mainly connected with the old Military Funds. The Government many years ago took over the liabilities and assets of these funds, becoming responsible for the pensions with which they were chargeable, and appropriating the capital. The subscriptions continued to be paid to credit of Government, and are now taken to this head of account. The deficit in the yearly transactions, that is, the excess of pensions paid over subscriptions received, was appropriated year by year from the capital of the funds by a credit under this head.

As the funds did not get any credit on account of interest upon their capital, the capital was gradually exhausted in this process. The Bengal Military and Medical Funds were exhausted in 1874-75 and 1875-76, respectively. The Bombay Medical Retiring Fund was exhausted in 1878-79, and that of Madras in 1879-80. The Military Fund of Madras was also exhausted by the debit of 1879-80, and there now remains only the Military Orphan Fund of Bengal, which will probably bear its debits for ten years more.

The now exhausted funds contributed 328,9 of revenue in 1878-79, and 200,4 in 1879-80, so that there has been a considerable diminution in the receipts of recent years, the four years' figures being, in fact, 597,2, 667,5, 525,1, and 316,0.

The subscriptions to the old Military Funds continue, and bring in a diminishing income, which in 1880-81 was 117,0. The new Military Fund (Indian Service Family Pension Fund), which has taken the place of the older funds, appears in the Military Accounts.

Other considerable realizations under this head come in from the contributions towards pension, &c., made by officers of Indian services lent by Government for employment in Native States. The last four years show 27,2, 37,7, 36,6, 37,8 receipts of this kind, nearly half of which is in Bombay, the practice being much in vogue in the petty States subordinate to that Government.

The Budget Estimate under this head was greatly in excess, as it included a contribution from the Bombay Military Fund, which, as above stated, had been exhausted. This was corrected in the Regular Estimate, which was nearly realized.

XXIV.—Miscellaneous.—The numerous items brought to credit under this head hardly require separate specification. Two very large items came in,—one in England and one in India,—to produce a considerable excess over Budget. The English one was the sale of land adjoining the India Office, for 68,6; the Indian one arose in this way.

For many years past a charge has appeared in the Bengal Accounts of 16 lakhs Sicca rupees, that is, 170,7, on account of an assignment to the Nizamat Stipend Fund; in other words, a contribution to a fund, from which the stipend and other charges connected with the family of the Nawab Nazim of Moorshedabad were met. This fund was kept, partly in deposit-account on the books of Government, and partly in investment in Government paper, but the point has for many years been undecided how far the Nawab Nazim and his family had any rights in it. In November 1880 an arrangement was come to between the Secretary of State and the Nawab Nazim, by which the Nawab Nazim obtained ten lakhs at present and some future yearly allowances, and gave up all claims as regards the Stipend Fund. It was now definitely settled that the liability of Government was only the payments which were made out of the fund, say about 120,0, and not the annual contribution of 170,7 to the fund. The fund was, therefore, wound up, and its assets disposed of as follows :—

Payment to the Nawab Nazim, above mentioned ...	100,0
Other personal claims	6,0
Credited to "Miscellaneous," being recovery of the excess charge made to Government since 1st May 1865 by paying yearly 170,7 instead of the actual liabilities only	294,2
Credited to Government outside the Budget Account ...	302,1
TOTAL ...	702,3

The explanation of the last two entries is that we take 1st May 1865 as the starting point of our present accounts; a recovery of a charge made since that date is, therefore, taken as revenue, but a recovery of a charge made before that date is adjusted through the books only.

The exceptional credit of 294,2 was not known at the time of the Regular Estimate.

PUBLIC WORKS.

The Public Works heads, as they appear in the Budget Account, are as follow :—

a No separation of the receipts in England can be made between Military and other Services.
b The East Indian Railway figures, 2,146,2, are for facility of comparison transferred from Guaranteed Railways under which they appeared in the actual accounts of 1879-80.

Under the unproductive heads the receipts follow very closely both last year's Actuals and the Estimates of the current year. "Other Public Works," both Departmental and Civil, show an improvement. In the first case it is composed of numerous petty improvements; in the latter case it occurred chiefly in Madras, where the receipts from tolls, ferries, &c., exceeded the Estimates.

The productive heads are of more interest than the above.

6.—State Railways.—These figures show the gross receipts, the working expenses being taken as expenditure on the other side. They exhibit a great improvement over the figures of last year and the Budget Estimate. The figures necessarily increase with the extension of the lines, but greater increase than was expected was realized on the Sindia Railway (which was opened through to Gwalior), the Rajputana Railway (in which through communication to Bombay was established), the Irrawaddy Valley Railway, the Indus Valley Railway (due to the war), and more than all the Punjab Northern Railway, where more traffic offered than any one had anticipated.

7.—Guaranteed Railways.—The figures under this head and under East Indian Railway are net earnings, that is gross earnings less working expenses. The figures show an improvement both on the Estimate and on the figures of last year. The Regular Estimate anticipated a falling-off in the traffic on the Madras Railway, and on the Great Indian Peninsula, partly made up for by the war traffic on the Sind, Punjab and Delhi. The Actuals, however, showed a recovery of the whole amount and more, but it was less a recovery of traffic than a diminution of working expenses.

The Revenue Account of the Guaranteed Railways and of the East Indian Railway was as follows :—

	1879-80.			1880-81.
	Earnings	Working Expenses.	Per Cent.	Earnings.	Working Expenses	Per Cent.
Bombay Baroda	777,2	448,2	57·7	888,8	511,8	57·6
Eastern Bengal	534,5	283,0	52·9	564,2	295,7	52·4

East Indian	4,611,9	1,516,5	32·9	4,252,9	1,482,3	34·8

8.—East Indian Railway.—The present is the first complete year of the new contract, but the effect of the new contract is to be seen in the expenditure side and not in the net revenue figures. The traffic somewhat fell off, being partly affected by the opening of the Rajputana State Railway through to Bombay. The Budget and Regular Estimates were not quite realized.

9.—Irrigation.—The falling-off under this head is principally a matter of account; being caused by the transfer to Land Revenue of water-advantage rates in the Punjab.

11.—Madras Irrigation Company.—The working expenses run away with the whole of the earnings and usually a little more.

ARMY.

XXIX.—Army.—The Regular Estimate added a little to the Budget, chiefly on account of the higher price of the issue of malt liquor, of certain sales of clothing, and of one or two considerable recoveries from the Imperial Government,—one for horses which the 14th Hussars took with them to the Cape, and one in England for stores taken home by the troops. The excess was, however, not fully realized.

The figures of 1879-80 were higher than usual, and included considerable sales of Commissariat stores; it has also to be noted that, in 1880-81, a new rule of account was applied, by which issues of stores to the Civil Departments were taken in the Military Accounts, not as revenue, but as deductions from expenditure. The receipts of 1880-81, on these accounts, fall short of those of 1879-80 by 105,4.

EXCHANGE.

XXX.—Exchange.—My remarks on this head had better be postponed till the expenditure under the same head is taken up.

INTEREST.

Under the first head, Interest, we have two accounts.

INTEREST.	INDIA.			ENGLAND.			TOTAL.			TOTAL, 1879-80.
	Budget.	Regular.	Actual.	Budget.	Regular	Actual.	Budget.	Regular.	Actual.	Actual.
1.—INTEREST ON DEBT .	3,369,1	3,411,0	3,365,9	2,525,9	2,685,2	2,685,2	5,895,0	6,096,2	6,051,1	6,207,0
2.—INTEREST, OTHER ACCOUNTS . . .	398,4	400,3	413,4	1,6	6	6	400,0	400,9	414,0	382,5
TOTAL .	3,767,5	3,811,3	3,779,3	2,527,5	2,685,8	2,685,8	6,295,0	6,497,1	6,465,1	6,589,5

1.—Interest on Debt.—The annual amount of interest payable in India was, on April 1st, 3,372,9 and on March 31st, 3,513,8. Of this latter sum we may state—

864,9, payable on bills issued by the Bank of England.
140,8, payable on coupons.

The only difficulty in estimating the interest lies in the consideration that half of the interest on the 4½ per cent. Loans, namely, 463,3, falls due on March 15th of each year, and no inconsiderable part of it may remain over for payment till April; all that portion which is drawn by bills from England must so remain over, but the coupon part need not. Now the payment of interest on the 4½ per cent. Loan was, in April and May 1880, 179,1, and in the same months of 1881, 258,8, giving a difference of eight lakhs, much more than is accounted for by the additional amount of the loan enfaced for London. In fact, 53,6 out of the total of 70,4 of coupons payable on March 15th, were presented and paid in April and May.

It was for these reasons that the payments in India fell short of the Regular Estimate.

In the English Account the excess of the Actuals over the Budget Estimate is mainly a question of classification. The East Indian Railway purchase gives rise to three heads of payments:—

A. The annuity to the proprietors.
B. The interest on the debentures of the Company.
C. The interest on stock issued in redemption of the annuities.

A is charged as outlay on the East Indian Railway.
B is charged as interest on debt incurred for Productive Public Works.
C is charged in the same way.

But in the Budget Estimates, B was charged as outlay on the East Indian Railway.

2.—Interest other Accounts.—There is no difficulty in calculating these payments and they agree fairly with the Estimates. The Civil and Uncovenanted Service Funds absorb the greater part of the payment, 199,1; deposits in Savings Banks involve a demand for interest of about 95,3. After them comes a group of special loans received from the late King of Oudh, under certain stipulations involving payments to his family and dependents of 78,5, and a number of smaller accounts add 41,1.

3.—Refunds is an item which by its nature is very difficult of estimate. The estimate in fact is taken at a round sum, which used to be 300,0 and is now 350,0, as experience has shown that demands, year after year, came up to this last amount. The figures of 1880-81 were unusually large, being swelled by the special item of 99,5 mentioned under VIII Salt and by another of 20,0 which will be referred to under 14 Mint. No other special item of importance appears to have entered the account. Land Revenue 4,68, Assessed Taxes 30,6, Stamps 34,2, Customs 62,4, Law and Justice 46,1, contribute the largest shares, as the necessity for making refunds, or rather of collecting revenue which may afterwards have to be refunded, is part of the system of administration in each of these cases except the first.

The next series of heads, 4 to 13, may shortly be described as the charges for the collection and realization of ten out of eleven heads of revenue. (Tributes, the eleventh head, involves no special charge). The first six (Land Revenue, Forest, Excise, Assessed Taxes, Provincial Rates and Customs) and the last (Registration) mean for the most part the cost of permanent establishments employed by the Government. On these heads no remark appears necessary, as the expenditure which in its nature is stationary followed the figures of last year, except for a slight increase under Land Revenue due to increased establishment in Burma, and Cadastral Survey operations, also in that province.

10.—Salt.—The figures of this head include considerable outlay in purchase and manufacture of salt, besides the regular establishments, Madras alone contributing, on account of purchases, about 100,0. The expenditure on the whole has been shrinking of recent years, owing to the abolition of the Inland Customs Line. The Financial Statement of February 1880 anticipated a saving on this account of 100,0, and the figures of the last five years appear to justify this estimate. They are 488,5, 539,8 (of which about 46,0 was special expenditure connected with the change of policy), 404,7, 340,7, very low owing to failure of manufacture in Madras, and 363,5.

The figures will now again, no doubt, begin to increase, as the Salt Department of Northern India is incurring new expenditure, chiefly in connection with the depôt system alluded to under VIII Salt above. The charges of conveyance to depôt are now departmental charges, though they will be recovered in connection with the sale of the salt.

11.—Opium.—The principal part of the charges under this head are the payment to cultivators and the manufacturing charges. These vary with the size of the crop, the last five years' figures being—

	Manufacture charges.	Chests of Export opium added to stock.	Other charges.
1876-77	2,714,5	68,051	127,1
1877-78	2,526,8	67,167	134,5
1878-79	1,585,1	43,140	113,6
1879-80	1,950,8	49,961	116,7
1880-81	1,909,2	52,969	119,6

Taking the "other charges" against the manufacture of about 4,000 chests of excise opium, which is not included in the above figures, we may compare the first two columns, and obtain from the proportion of "manufacture charges" to "chests added to stock" in the five years, Rupees 398, 376, 367, 390, 360 per chest.

This is sufficiently accurate as a general comparison of expenditure, though necessarily liable to many corrections as a statement of the cost price of a chest of opium, as the outlay of one year is largely represented by additions to stock made in the next.

The Budget Estimate in the case of opium is taken at an average figure, as the prospects of the crop cannot be known at the time when it is framed. The Regular Estimate was very accurate.

12.—Stamps.—The English charges represent payments for manufacture of stamps; the rest is discount upon their sale and a few establishment and contingent charges.

The Budget figures were very accurately followed. A lakh of diminution was made in the Regular in connection with the adjustment for the value of stamps supplied to Madras, but it appears to have been a mistake.

14.—Mint.—The charges under this head for the past five years may conveniently be grouped under three heads :—

	1876-77.	1877-78.	1878-79.	1879-80.	1880-81.
Charges connected with copper coinage . .	16,9	13,5	8,6	9,4	20,1
Loss of weight on coinage	7,9	10,8	14,2	5,5	5,3
Other charges ...	66,1	81,5	71,8	71,4	63,8
English charges, mostly stores and machinery ...	39,7	26,2	9,4	8,3	3,4

The method of dealing with copper coinage has of late years been somewhat irregular, and when small coin depôts for the reception of small coin not required for circulation were established, it soon became evident from the large surplus of copper coin that was being transferred into them, that more copper had recently been coined than was required for circulation. As the practice had been to take credit for the increase of nominal over actual value as the coin was issued from the Mint into the treasuries, it was clear that an excess of gain upon copper coinage had been brought to account in former years. We have now arranged that this gain shall come into the accounts only when the coin, being required for circulation, passes out of the depôts; and we also arrange to take against this gain, first the loss by sale of old copper coin, and second the remittance charges on the copper to the place where it is required.

In the past year, the amount of circulation continued to decrease, as the copper coin continued to flow from the treasuries into the depôts, and it was considered advisable, upon a report to Government, to write back 20,0 of what had in former years been taken as gain on copper coinage. This amount is taken under Refunds, and Mint is charged with the loss on demonetized coin and the charges of remittance. Our copper coinage account is now, as we believe, so adjusted that we have not as yet brought to Revenue any of the gain on coin not yet issued; and the excess charges of the past year really arise out of our revision of the system.

The figures under the head "Loss of weight on coinage" are necessarily higher when large amounts are being coined (see under XII Mint), and it is part of the charge which is covered by the seignorage we levy. The same explanation applies to the yearly differences under the other charges, i. e., establishment and current working charges, as, when silver is being coined, both there is a larger outlay on stores, and extra establishments are required.

The Budget provided for these establishment and other charges 63,3, and was very accurately followed by the Actuals. The Budget under other heads is necessarily liable to much alteration, as the progress of the year alone can determine the amount of coinage likely to be required.

15.—Post Office.—The Post Office charges of the last three years have been 1,033,3, 1,145,5, 1,175,5; but to make a fair comparison with the revenue we should deduct the cost of district post establishments 88,4, 87,7 and 91,0. These establishments are maintained for the most part out of a cess upon land, and represent a duty attaching to landholders of carrying the official correspondence within the districts. The figures thus altered give the following comparison of revenue and expenditure, the casual collections of district post being also excluded from the revenue :—

Revenue	908,8	1,001,4	1,014,8
Expenditure	944,9	1,057,8	1,084,5

16.—Telegraphs.—The Telegraph charges are divided between two accounts,—the Capital and the Revenue Accounts. The last four years have shown the following figures :—

	1877-78.	1878-79.	1879-80.	1880-81.
Capital Account	70,0	59,7	42,0	99,8
Revenue Account	391,1	411,1	409,1	398,0
TOTAL ...	461,1	470,8	451,1	497,8

This arrangement of the figures shows that the variation in the outlay is chiefly in respect of the Capital Account, that is, the construction of lines. The Regular and the Actual showed a slight increase over the Budget, due chiefly to a charge for the value of military stores received from England.

The revenue of the Department has latterly much more than covered the outlay upon Revenue Account.

ADMINISTRATION.

The next group of heads is an important one and means the Civil administration of the country. The total is divided as follows :—

17.—Administration includes the India Office, the Governments and the Secretariats, Boards of Revenue and Commissioners, and the Account and Currency Departments. Being composed for the most part of monthly salaries, it is not liable to much alteration; the five past years giving 1,492,6, 1,492,7, 1,487,8, 1,492,3 and 1,532,1. The greater part of the last year's increase is a matter of account. Nearly two lakhs of rupees are advanced in March to the various Secretariat Offices as pay, travelling allowances and cost of transit from Calcutta to Simla; and a few years ago, the transfer being made in the beginning of April, it was customary to charge these as advances, and adjust as expenditure of April. Of late years the move has become expenditure of March, and it was therefore determined to take the advances of March as expenditure of that month, and not leave its adjustment till April.

Another change, which added 4,8 to the expenditure under this head, was a direction issued to Assam to follow the practice of other Governments in charging to this head, and not to Law and Justice, the cost of the Revenue and Judicial Commissioner.

If these two alterations be excepted, the other items may be said to differ from the former years only according as officers proceed on leave or remain on duty. The Budget was exceeded only in respect of the two items specially explained.

18.—Minor Departments.—The charges under this head may be divided into the following groups :—

(a) Scientific.—Including the Survey of India, 114,7, the Geological Survey, 19,3, the Meteorological Department, 14,1, and some smaller charges.

(b) Agricultural.—Including experimental farms, 10,7, Cinchona Plantations, 20,3, Public Fairs, 12,7, Bull and Stallion charges 26,7, Botanical &c. Gardens, 34,1, and some others.

(c) Emigration.—10,4 chiefly in Bengal.

(d) Statistics.—This head included, this year, the charges for the Census, 30,2. As the Census was taken in February, this charge represents only the preparation, and the actual enumeration. The compilation has to follow, and the Estimates of 1881-82 put it down at 73,0. There is also a yearly charge of about 20,0 for collection of statistics.

(e) Miscellaneous.—Made up almost entirely of examination charges, chiefly a Madras item, 12,4, and of the general management of Local Funds, 9,7.

The English charges are chiefly the Indian Museum, 7,6, and the Compilation of the Gazetteer of India, 3,2.

The Budget Estimate was under-spent, chiefly because the cost of the Census was estimated at 60,0, whereas we see it amounted only to 30,3. There were also considerable savings under Survey, partly due to the transfer to war-charges of expenditure incurred beyond the frontier.

19.—Law and Justice includes the cost of Law Officers, Courts and Jails. The figures, like those of Administration, exhibit little difference from year to year, those of 1878-79 being 3,297,1 and of 1879-80 3,280,8.

The Estimate for 1880-81 provided 3,353,0, the Regular was 3,222,0, and the total 3,203,6. The saving was chiefly in the North-West, but also in Bengal, Madras and Bombay. Much of it was due to the cheapness of provisions, reducing the cost of jails; but in the North-West the Budget provided for certain proposed judicial reforms which were not carried out during the year.

20.—Police.—No remark is necessary. The expenditure is very steady at about 2,500,0.

21.—Marine.—This is hardly an Administration head, though its place in our catalogue is among them. Like the "Marine" receipts, the expenditure is divided between the Provincial (the charge for port offices, lighthouses and light vessels) and the Imperial Marine Department, including the two dockyards and sea-going vessels.

Of the former the Budget Estimate was 168,0, the Regular 148,3, and the Actuals 149,5. Burma and Bengal divide nearly all these charges between them, and there was a saving in the first, in a large item 10,0 estimated under Purchase of vessels, and in the second in connection with the approaches to the port of Calcutta, estimated at 36,9, but costing only 31,7.

The Imperial Marine expenditure in India was estimated at 251,0; and it was almost exactly spent. It consists mainly of the expenditure at the two Dockyards, Calcutta and Bombay, and expenditure in various sea-going vessels. A small part is for Marine Survey.

The Home charges consist of 40,1 Pensions; 62,5, the contribution towards the expenses of Her Majesty's ships employed in Indian seas; 46,7 for stores and 3,4 Miscellaneous.

22.—Education.—
23.—Ecclesiastical.—
24.—Medical.—
These three heads call for no remark. In each of them the Estimates were fairly followed.

The following figures afford a comparison between the fees and contributions received and the expenditure upon Government Colleges and higher and middle class schools:—

	Fees, &c.	Colleges and Higher Schools.
India	1,6	2,2
Central Provinces	4,6	14,7
Burma	1,8	10,5
Assam	2,2	? (a)
Bengal	46,2	96,4
North-Western Provinces	8,2	45,1
Punjab	3,0	5,5
Madras	19,3	26,2
Bombay	40,0	50,7

(a) The item is not distinguished from lower class schools.

The following figures are the results of two different policies in the matter of primary education. Bengal largely upholds the system of grants-in-aid, while other Governments maintain the lower class schools as Government institutions:—

	Lower Class Schools.	Grant-in-aid.
Bengal	3	83,2
North-Western Provinces	58,4	19,2
Punjab	41,1	23,3
Madras	20,0 (a)	40,7
Bombay	100,0	12,7

(a) So taken by estimate out of the gross charge of 35,5 for higher, middle, and lower class.

Under "Medical" it is to be noted that the Medical Establishment (Civil Surgeons and other Principal Medical Officers) includes about one-third of the whole grant, and Lunatic Asylums nearly another third. The outlay on Hospitals and Dispensaries is largely made from local and municipal sources, and thus in the Government Accounts it shows only the comparatively small figure 42,2.

25.—Stationery and Printing.—The variation in the last two or three years under this head has been due to changes in the policy of Government as regards the purchase of stationery in England or in India.

The following figures show that the temporary diminution of charge in 1879-80 was that, having adopted the policy of local purchases, we were eating up our English stock before having to go into the market for more:—

	Total charge.	Purchase in England.	Purchase in Bengal.	Total.
1878-79	471,5	180,7	22,7	203,4
1879-80	418,4	94,9	45,0	139,9
1880-81	485,0	69,5	134,0	203,5

The Government has now again reverted to the English market for English stationery; but considerable local purchases must continue to figure in the accounts.

The mass of the Indian expenditure under this head is, however, for printing, the figures of the last two years being—

	1879-80.	1880-81.
India	76,3	84,1
Central Provinces	5,3	5,7
Burma	12,0	8,4
Assam	1,9	2,1
Bengal	28,1	29,2
North-Western Provinces...	27,5	27,8
Punjab	20,9	21,4
Madras	27,5	24,4
Bombay	24,1	24,5
TOTAL	223,6	227,6

26.—Political.—This year has shown a considerable increase in the charges under this head. The Budget Estimate was for 436,0, nearly the same as the Actuals of 1879-80, but the expenditure has come up to 531,2. Of this increase 43,3 was in the Home Accounts and was mainly due to the discharge of the claims of the English Government in respect of the Persian and Chinese Embassies, which had been under settlement for two or three years past.

In India the increase over the Estimate was 51,9. The principal items involved are, under India, Durbar Presents, Allowances to Vakeels, and Miscellaneous; and in the Punjab, Political Agents and Allowance to the Khyber tribes. In short, the increase may be said to be a consequence of the Afghan war. The large political expenditure beyond the frontier (both salaries of Agents, and subsidies to the Ameer, and other miscellaneous charges of all sorts) is reckoned as part of the war expenditure, and does not come into this part of the accounts.

NON-EFFECTIVE CHARGES.

The next group of charges is divided under three heads.

27.—Allowances and Assignments contains the following heads of charges:—

(1) Allowances to Native Chiefs and their dependents, consequent for the most part upon treaty engagements, or at least upon obligations incurred at the time of conquests of their territories.

(2) Allowances on account of resumed land and other revenues, including mosque and pagoda allowances.

(3) Compensations for abolished rights to transit duties, or other revenues.

The following show the details:—

	Territorial.	Jagirdars, Mosques, and Temples.	Compensations.
India	156,5	4,1	278,6
Central Provinces	55,0	...	...
Assam	6,1	...	1,1

Madras	111,4	76,3	6 ,9
Bombay	132,6	639,6	51,4
	745,8	720,0	408,1
TOTAL IN INDIA			1,873,9

As regards the first column, the principal part of the India payment is the 120,0 of the ex-King of Oudh. In Bengal, about 90.0 are paid on account of Nizamat (Moorshedabad) stipends. In Madras, the Tanjore stipends absorbed 28,2 and the Carnatic stipends 56,2. In Bombay, the payment to the Goa Government, under the recent treaty, was 49,1, being for the most part compensations for suppressed salt-pans.

The second column applies chiefly to Madras and Bombay, and the India item, being on account of the district of Coorg, also belongs to Southern India. The items are deductions from the Land Revenue, and, in fact, the greater amount is brought in by book adjustment, crediting Land Revenue, and debiting Assignments, the Land Revenue being really received net.

In the third column, the India figure is composed of the payments under the salt treaties,—partly for the lease of the salt sources from the Native States, partly on account of duty levied by India, on account of consumption in Native States; in short, the share of the Native States in the general farm, by the Government of India, of the salt revenue. The payment against Madras is a payment of the same kind, being a treaty payment of four lakhs sicca (42,6) a year to the French Government.

The payments of this year were considerably in excess, both of last year's payments and of the Budget Estimate. This was due (1) to the new payment under the Goa Convention, (2) to the arrear payment of 21,3 for the French salt compensation, as the French Government is not very regular in applying for the payment. There were also over three lakhs (30,0) of excise compensations in Bombay which at the time of the Estimate were charged under Excise, but in the accounts were more correctly taken under the head of Allowances and Assignments.

28.—Civil Furlough Allowances is chiefly an English head, as these allowances, when paid in India, are charged to the same head to which the officer's salary would be charged were he on duty.

29.—Superannuations.—This is necessarily an increasing head, the figures of the last five years being 1,798,6, 1,858,7, 1,997,3, 2,196,5, 2,150,6. The large increase in the latter years includes the cost of the reduction of Public Works Establishments. The amount of payments to be made under these arrangements was under-estimated, and for this reason the Actuals very considerably exceeded the Budget Estimate.

MISCELLANEOUS.

30.—Miscellaneous.—The principal parts of these charges are—Remittance of Treasure, 35,8; Petty Establishments, 73,0; Rents and Rates, 19,6; and Charitable Donations, 24,9.

FAMINE.

31.—Famine Relief.—The expenditure under this head is necessarily incapable of estimate at the time of the Budget. A small payment of 5,0 was estimated for. The actual expenditure of the year was only 8 or 9 in Northern India, but some outstandings in Madras, amounting to 32,2 (debits not brought to account), had also to be adjusted.

1.—State Railways, Capital.—As the accounts were first made up, the chief part of the figures, both Actuals and Estimates (Budget 247,6, Regular 654,4, Actuals 601,0) was on account of the Punjab Northern State Railway. The continuance of the Afghan war rendered it necessary to push on the construction at all possible speed, and notwithstanding the heavy rates that were ruling in the Punjab, but the Regular somewhat overestimated the excess outlay. At the last moment the Secretary of State directed this work to be ranked as a productive work, and its removal to the Productive head 38, left only the small figure 77,0 under the Actuals.

The Regular also included 22,4 on account of the Sonapur-Mugra project of the Bengal Government.

2.—Irrigation, Departmental.—The increase of 75,0 over Budget occurs in nearly equal parts in Burma, Bengal and Bombay. In the first case, it is merely the transfer to this head of a grant sanctioned under "Other Public Works"; in Bengal it was owing to the necessity of some additional outlay on repairs; and in Bombay it was owing to additional grants for two or three small works.

4.—Military Works.—The expenditure was nearly the same as last year, but contained a little less for new works, and a little more for repairs. There was a small saving on the Estimates.

5 and 6.—Other Public Works, Departmental and Civil.—Some thirty lakhs of works chargeable to Local Funds in Madras were, at the time of the Budget Estimate, shown as departmental, but were afterwards made over to Civil Officers. This accounts for part of the large variations between Budget and Regular. The totals, Departmental and Civil taken together, give—Budget 3,272,7, Regular 3,537,4, Actuals 3,343,8.

Bengal estimated in the Regular for an increase of nearly 100,0 under Departmental and another 100,0 under Local, which was for the most part for expenditure over and above what had been at first undertaken; and these amounts were duly spent. The North-West and still more Bombay failed to work up to their Estimates, and in Madras there was also a saving, as the Civil Officers, in taking over charge of the local fund works, were unable to make complete arrangements for all the intended outlay.

7.—State Railways.—The figures against this head are the working expenses. The Regular Estimate showed a large increase over the Budget, which was for the most part due to increased traffic on the Punjab Northern and on the Indus Valley Railways, and to some extensions completed at an earlier date than expected. It was therefore exactly parallel with the increase of receipts. The excess on the two Railways just mentioned exceeded what had been taken in the Regular Estimates. In other Railways the figures fairly followed the Budget. The Regular Estimate noted a decrease in the working expenses of the Northern Bengal.

The following figures show for two years the revenue and expenditure of the State Railways:—

8.—Guaranteed Railways.—The Indian figures against this head represent the payment of surplus profits, and the English ones the guaranteed interest: a small amount of guaranteed interest is, however, included in the Indian payments.

The following figures compare the Estimates on account of payment of surplus profits:—

	Budget.	Regular.	Actual.

The Bombay-Baroda Line usually has a charge on this account also, but by agreement with the Secretary of State the amount has for some years been appropriated for construction of the new Nerbudda Bridge.

The following figures show the net result to Government by the working of the Guaranteed Railways: our adjustment for exchange being taken into account by taking the interest paid in England at Rs. 12 per £:—

10.—East Indian Railway.—The East Indian Railway worked under the new contract from 1st January 1880; but as the payments are made in respect of each completed half-year, the accounts of 1880-81 contain part of the old arrangement and part of the new.

The last payment of guaranteed interest under the old contract, viz., for the half-year ending December 31, 1879, fell within the year 1879-80, but the moiety of surplus profits for the same half-year was not paid till a month or two of 1880-81 had passed and is the 266,6 which appears in the statement under "Guaranteed Railways."

Now the payments to be made under the new Contract are—

1. Paid in sterling in England—

(a) The annuity—
The total East Indian Railway annuity is, at £5-12-6 upon the original £26,200,000 or at £4-10-0 upon the revised Capital of £32,750,000	1,473,750
This is divided into two parts, namely, the one-fifth share ...	294,750
And the four-fifths share	1,179,000
The first part of the annuity is for the present deferred, and represents the Capital of the new Company, £6,550,000.
The S. of S. pays four per cent. interest on this capital, or ...	262,000
The remaining half per cent. being for the present unpaid ...	32,750
TOTAL ...	294,750
The second part of the annuity is payable to the annuitants, except in as far as it has been commuted for India Stock. So far as it has been thus commuted, the amount is retained by the Secretary of State and distributed between interest on the Stock (at first 4 per cent., but now conversions are being made at 3½ p. c.) and sinking fund for the redemption of the same—	1,179,000
(b) Interest on debentures—
The debenture stock of the old Company, £4,450,000 on which the yearly interest is	188,000

II. Paid in India in Rupees—

(c) Contribution to Provident Fund of one per cent. on the net traffic earnings.

(d) After mutual adjustments of interest on stores and on overdrawings on Capital Account, one-fifth share of the profits.

The payments made during the present year 1880-81 have been as follows:—

of the 262,000, the whole	...	...	...	262,0 of the 1,179,000, about three-fourths, namely—
Unconverted	...	£ 918,302	...	711,2
Converted	...	£ 230,697	Interest	156,0	(e)
			Sinking Fund	19,2
of the 188,000, the whole		...	...	188,0	(e)
of the ½ share of profits	...	...	...	123,0
These with a small payment of one penny per £ on the £ 230,697, for three quarters	...	...	...	8
		Make up the whole	...	1,460,2
of which is charged under East Indian Railway	...		...	1,116,2 and charged under Interest the two items marked (e)			...	344,0
				1,460,2

It will be seen that the two items which reckon as interest, are paid for the whole year, that is, for the two half-years ending June 30th and December 31st. Those which go by the annuity-year are paid only for nine months, namely, for the three months ending March 31st (the year of account being altered to correspond with the official one) and for the six months ending September. The payment of profits was for the half-year ending June 30th, 1880.

The difference between the Estimate and the Actuals, in the case of the East Indian Railway, was due to the decision of the India Office, made after the Estimates, to include the abovementioned £188,000 under Interest, and not under East Indian Railway.

11.—Irrigation.—The addition in the Regular Estimates was due to the necessity of increased outlay in maintaining and clearing works in Bengal, to repairs to flood damages in the North-West, and to additional outlay on the Kistna and Cauvery systems in Madras. The actual outlay in Madras was greater than the Estimate, but the excess was balanced by savings in the Punjab.

12.—Madras Irrigation Company.—The outlay is the payment of guaranteed interest on capital.

PRODUCTIVE PUBLIC WORKS REVENUE ACCOUNT.

The Productive Works Account for the year is in the following figures compared with that of the last year:—

	1879-80.	1880-81.		1879-80.	1880-81.
Revenue from Productive Public Works, see page 10 ...	7,844,3	8,581,4	Expenditure on Productive Public Works, maintenance, &c., see page 19 ...	7,107,9	6,877,5
Land Revenue due to Productive Works ..	602,4	797,3	Interest on debt incurred for Productive Public Works ...	1,616,5	2,381,9
TOTAL ...	8,446,7	9,381,7		8,724,4	9,259,4
Gain ...	...	122,4	Loss ...	277,7	...

The features of this comparison then are an increased revenue on the one side and an increased charge for interest, indicating additional capital outlay, on the other.

The direct Revenue and Expenditure of the two years have been compared, in detail, under the head of "Public Works," the chief part being as follows:—

	Revenue.	Expenditure.
State Railways	+720,4	+392,3
Guaranteed Railways	+136,9	— 94,4
East Indian Railway	—324,9	—531,5

In the increased Revenue of Guaranteed Railways nearly every Railway participated; the diminished expenditure on the East Indian Railway is explained partly by the transfer of some of the charges to "Interest," (34,4 in the first year and 344,0 in the second) and partly by the fact that only nine months' annuity charges came within the year 1880-81.

The Land Revenue, which is chiefly a Madras item but partly also a Punjab and North-West one, is the part of the total of 21,910,3 under I, Land Revenue which is calculated to be due to Irrigation. The figure of the current year was swelled by an arrear of 100,9 in the Punjab Account.

The charges for interest have during the year received a great accession.

The interest charges here shown are not, except in the case of East Indian Railways debt, any specific interest upon any specific loans, but 4½ per cent. upon the total capital outlay upon the projects classed as Productive. The amount thus calculated is, for the purpose of this account, separated off from the mass of the charges under 1, Interest on Debt, and shown as interest on debt incurred for Productive Works. Now some very large sums have, from time to time, been spent out of the "ordinary heads" upon the works that are classed as Productive, and the practice hitherto has been to exclude these from the reckoning of capital expenditure, and include only what had been charged under 38, Productive Public Works Capital expenditure, outside the Budget Account. In February last the Secretary of State directed that both classes of capital expenditure should be reckoned and the amount added by this order to the capital was as follows:—

STATE RAILWAYS—
Calcutta and South-Eastern ...	...	108,3
Punjab Northern ...	...	489,0
Others ...	...	318,4
			915,7
IRRIGATION—

Others ...	...	744,0
TOTAL ...	...		6,050,0

The Secretary of State at the same time allowed a set-off by excluding whatever sums, included in the capital expenditure, represented outlay upon works no longer classed as "Productive," but the permission operated to reduce the total by the following items only:—

IRRIGATION—
Various items of which the largest are the Swat River Canal 111,4, and the Sukkur and Shadadpur Canal 52,6		342,3

Punjab Northern Frontier Section	...	11,8
TOTAL	...	409,3

On this account therefore we get a net increase of 5,640,7 to the capital; and a further increase of 3,238,1 comes in by the addition of another year's expenditure. The total debt is accordingly thus altered:—

On account of Productive Public Works—	31st Mar. 1880.	31st Mar. 1881.
Irrigation	11,851,2	17,257,6
State Railways	24,644,7	28,047,0
East Indian Railway	9,730,9	10,149,3
Miscellaneous Public Improvements ...	344,4	414,4
TOTAL ...	46,571,2	55,868,3
ADD—Ordinary	105,156,9	101,539,3
TOTAL ...	151,728,1	157,407,6

And there is necessarily a corresponding increase in the charge against Productive Public Works on account of Interest.

The "Debt incurred for Productive Public Works" is not, except in the East India Railway case, any specific part of the general debt, but in the Finance and Revenue Accounts, an entry is made which maintains the distinction in the total debt account, of how much represents capital outlay on Productive Public Works and how much may be reckoned as ordinary debt.

ARMY.

36.—Army.—The Military Accounts were intended to show, under a separate head, the expenditure due to the war, but a perfect separation of this sort is not possible at the time of compiling the accounts. Accordingly a review of the figures now made shows that the charges taken under the ordinary heads of Army Service, either have been increased as a secondary consequence of the war, or actually include charges which fuller information would have shown as direct war-charges.

The main increases under the ordinary heads in India are—

1. Commissariat Services	367,1
2. Clothing Services	14,8
3. Barrack Services	31,9
4. Medical Services*	60,7
5. Ordnance*	64,2
6. Sea Transport	45,1
7. Miscellaneous Services	36,9
8. Retired Officers	12,2
9. Military Pensions	14,3

* The excess against these has, in the actual accounts, been reduced by 53,6 and 31,8, by the operation of the rule for taking credits for stores supplied to other departments by deduction from charges.

Of these, No. 1 is explained as being due to high prices in Northern India, which was a direct consequence of the draining of the country by supplies for the war; but in addition to this, large charges are included, which should have been taken as war expenditure. This especially applies to the excess under Provisions for Europeans 112,1, and to that under Conveyance by railway 78,9, and by water 10,6.

The excesses under Clothing, Medical and Ordnance, are all explained as purchases necessary to replace consumption in the war; that under Barrack Services, to the movements of troops to and from the war; that under Sea Transport, to the activity of transport, also a consequence of the war; that under Military Pensions, to admissions to the Pension list in consequence of the war.

Thus, the only excesses not due to the Afghan war are that under "Retired Officers," which is only a transfer of certain capitalization payments from England to India; and that under Miscellaneous Services 36,9. This last figure is a net one; as the details show (1) a charge of 93,0, on account of the Naga Expedition, and one of 7,8 on account of the Waziri Expedition, neither of which were provided for in the Budget; (2) a saving of 81,3 in the Madras and Bombay allowances for compensation for dearness of provisions, due to the fact of the regiments being ordered on service and receiving free rations.

The English figure compared with Budget showed about an equal amount of increases (chiefly in Stores) and decreases.

The Receipts and Expenditure under the head of "Army" were, in the accounts of 1880-81, for the first time, adjusted in accordance with the orders of the India Office Committee so as to bring to account, under the Budget heads, all the money issued from Civil Treasuries and not definitely accounted for by the Military Account Department. This net debit is in three parts, namely—

(1) Issues of which the receipt is not yet acknowledged in the Military Accounts.
(2) Net charges in the Military Accounts, to "Advances Recoverable" which are mostly expenditure not yet completely audited.
(3) Net outstandings under transfers between Military Departments,—that is, debited by one to the other, but not yet adjusted by that other.

Of these adjustments, (1) and (3) are taken as belonging to the ordinary part of the Military Account, and gave net expenditure minus 33,8. No. 2 was taken as outstanding war expenditure, and will be noted in the account of it.

EXCHANGE.

37.—Loss by Exchange.—The per contra item of "gain by exchange" must be explained with reference to this head, as it has really no meaning apart from it.

The figures of the past five years bearing on this head are as follow:—

	English charges.	Council Bills.			Exchange as shown in Accounts.
		Sterling.	Rupees.	Difference.	Loss.	Gain.
1876-77 ...	{ 13,467,8 / 619,2 }	12,695,8	14,857,5	2,161,7	2,181,6	505,1
1877-78 ...	{ 14,048,3 / 1,146,8 }	10,134,5	11,698,5	1,564,0	1,653,4	561,2
1878-79 ...	{ 13,849,8 / 692,9 }	13,948,5	16,912,4	2,963,9	3,359,1	474,5
1879-80 ...	{ 14,547,7 / 541,0 }	15,748,8	18,957,2	3,208,4	3,247,0	320,6
1880-81 ...	{ 14,420,2 / 570,7 }	15,239,7	18,327,7	3,088,0	3,124,3	407,5

The second figures under English charges are the Productive Public Works Capital Expenditure.

The present state of things therefore is that the India Office has to meet, on account of India about 14 millions of ordinary charges, and half a million of Productive Works Capital charges. But in addition to this the India Office has to make payments on other accounts of varying amounts, which are usually somewhat over a million.

For all these payments it supplies itself by drawing on the Indian Treasuries, which have to pay about Rs. 12 for every £1, the extra Rs. 2 being charged off as Loss by Exchange. To the extent of sterling 14½ millions of bills, the loss is properly a charge of Government, that is, the English expenditure can be added to the Indian at the rate of £1 for every Rs. 10, only by making to the whole of it the addition of Rs. 2 for every £1 on account of Exchange. But, to pay our way at the India Office we have to remit one million extra, on other accounts than expenditure, and the exchange on this amount also necessarily comes to the accounts in the first place as a charge for "Loss by Exchange". It is however to a large extent recoverable, and the recoveries of it come into the account as Gain by Exchange.

The simplest transactions under Gain by Exchange are private remittances (chiefly by Military Officers) made through the Government, as these are paid for at the current rate, say Rs. 12. They are brought to account as Rs. 10 received on account of the Secretary of State, and Rs. 2, received as "Gain by Exchange," a mere set-off against the "Loss" which must be charged per contra, on the bills drawn by the India Office to cover them.

A small item of Gain by Exchange on the excess of Money Orders drawn on the United Kingdom belongs to this category; but Money Orders drawn on continental countries have no such accompaniment, as the accounts in these cases are adjusted, not by Council Bills, but by bills purchased in India by the Post Office Department.

More than half of the Gain-by-Exchange transactions are connected with the purchase, by funds advanced by the India Office, of stores required for Guaranteed Railway Companies in India, which stores are in the first place purchased and shipped on Capital Account. Our accounts, in India, of Capital transactions of the Railway Companies are based on the accounts rendered us by those companies. Now their accounts when they go to England are made up at the contract rate of exchange (usually 1*s.* 10*d.*), but our accounts, when they are brought on the India Office books, are taken at £1 for Rs. 10. We have therefore so to contrive that our figures converted at 2*s.* the Rupee, shall produce the same result as the Railway Accounts converted at 1*s.* 10*d.*

Accordingly, every item brought upon our accounts from those of the Railway must be accompanied by an exchange adjustment. When the Railway Accounts show an expenditure—Rs. 10,000, we know that the account of the Railway Company upon the India Office Books will be debited—£916-13-4, and we must give the India Office that debit by adjusting the Rs. 10,000, as—

Debit Railway Accounts	9,166

and so with the credits.

Now Capital expenditure by the Guaranteed Companies in India has practically ceased, and the transactions on the Capital Accounts are mostly credits on account of Stores purchased and held on Capital Account, but required for use on other accounts; that is, there are more credits than debits and there is on the whole a net credit of nearly the value of the Stores, and of the two-pence exchange upon them.

But further, the Railway Companies, though they are entitled to spend the Stores, on Capital Account, by crediting the Store Account at 1 Re. for every 1*s.* 10*d.* have no such claim when they spend them on Revenue Account. They are accordingly required, in using stores for the Revenue Account, to pay to credit of Government the difference between 1 Re. for every 1*s.* 10*d.* (at which they hold them), and 1 Re. for every 1*s.* 8*d.* (or other exchange rate) which is the actual cost of them, that is, the equivalent in Rupees of the amount advanced by the Secretary of State for their purchase.

Through the medium, therefore, of these two heads "Gain by Exchange on Capital transactions of Guaranteed Companies" and "Gain by Exchange on Revenue Stores," the Companies repay the Secretary of State the "Loss by Exchange" upon his sterling outlay in London, and find themselves in the same position as if they had themselves remitted money from India to England, at the Council-Bills rate of Exchange, for the purchases of Stores required on Revenue Account.

The result therefore by the Exchange Account is for the most part this, that we bear, under Loss by Exchange, a charge for Exchange upon the whole of our remittances, but recover under Gain by Exchange so much of the Loss as is due to remittances made on other accounts than our own expenditure.

PROVINCIAL ADJUSTMENT.

This entry (1) adds to expenditure the excess of the amounts which under the provincial contracts are placed at the disposal of the Provincial Governments, over the amounts which actually come in course of expenditure by them; (2) deducts from expenditure the excess in the amounts which the Provincial Governments have expended over the amount at their disposal, which excess has been met out of their accrued surplus of previous years.

As the accounts have hitherto been made up, adjustment No. 2, the deduction from expenditure, has been shown as an addition upon the revenue side of the account. The Secretary of State, considering this a somewhat too technical form of exhibiting the figure, has directed that in future it be shown in the published accounts in the manner now described, that is by a "deduct" operation upon the Expenditure; both the "add" and the "deduct" adjustment being stated below the total of the ordinary heads. This altered arrangement does not affect the manner of bringing out the surplus or deficit of the whole account.

Up to 1st April 1880, the amount charged off the accounts by adjustment No. 1, and thus entering the account as expenditure, though still at the disposal of the Provincial Governments, was 1,740,4 Provincial and 1,259,7 Local, Total 3,000,1. Eight of the Governments during the year still farther under-spent their money by 336,7, and this amount, though charged as expenditure of 1880-81, really remains at the disposal of the said Governments for future expenditure. One Government, Bengal, over-spent its yearly assignment by 38,7, and this amount, being taken out of the past underspendings, is deducted from the charge of the year. The net adjustment is therefore 298,0, by addition to expenditure, and thus our accounts, up to date, have charged off as expenditure 3,000,1+298,0 more than has actually been spent, this amount being now at the disposal of Local Governments, to spend in future years, without charging the Revenues of the year.

WAR IN AFGHANISTAN.

The following two items have been shown under this head:—

	India.			England.			Total.			Total, 1879-80.
	Budget.	Regular.	Actual.	Budget.	Regular.	Actual.	Budget.	Regular.	Actual.
War charges ...	2,070,0	11,316,4	11,298,0	20,(	70,5	70,5	2,090,0	11,386,9	11,368,5	4,816,6
Deduct war receipts	...	291,0	602,6	...	2,000,0	2,695,0	...	2,291,0	3,297,6	50,5
Net ...	2,070,0	11,025,4	10,695,4	20,0	1,929,5	2,624,5	2,090,0	9,095,9	8,070,9	4,766,1
Frontier Railways ...	970,0	1,505,0	1,598,9	1,070,0	694,7	694,7	2,040,0	2,199,7	2,293,6	1,334,4

The war charges were made to include all expenditure beyond the frontier, that is, expenditure in the hands of Political officers as well as directly Military expenditure; also all expenditure on this side the frontier which was directly referable to the war.

The Regular Estimate and the Actuals were both based upon the principle of bringing to account all the expenditure for which money had been issued from the Civil Treasuries up to date. The figures therefore include some three millions of expenditure, actually incurred before 1880-81, but not brought to account, owing to the Military Accounts having fallen into arrear. The Regular Estimate drawn up on this basis proved remarkably accurate, the comparison being as follows:—

Net expenditure on "Army" in India—

Regular Estimate	22,473,8
Actual figures	22,471,7

The war receipts in England were the contribution from the English Government towards the Afghan war. Properly speaking, the English Government makes actual payment as follows:—

1880-81	By remission of repayable advance of	2,000,0 ...	2,000,0
,,	By an actual payment		500,0
1881-82	,, ,, ...		500,0
1882-83	,, ,, ...		500,0
1883-84	,, ,, ...		500,0
1884-85	,, ,, ...		500,0
1885-86	,, ,, ...		500,0
	TOTAL ...		5,000,0

It was considered inconvenient to mix up with the Indian accounts of Revenue and Expenditure of future years a receipt unconnected with the transactions of the years in which it would occur; and as the due receipt of the amount was practically certain, it was decided that it should be brought under the Revenue heads of receipt in the two years 1880-81 and 1881-82, by debiting a suspense head for the amounts which would be paid over in 1882-83, and future years. The division of the amount between 1880-81 and 1881-82 was determined by the same considerations,—namely, it was so arranged that the accounts of 1881-82 should present a normal comparison, unaffected by a large "casual" receipt, between Revenue and Expenditure; and we were to take:—

In the accounts of 1881-82, an amount equal to the estimated war expenditure which would have to be met in 1881-82 ...	3,000,0
In 1880-81 as much as was not required for 1881-82 ...	2,000,0
TOTAL ...	5,000,0

The 3,000,0 was intentionally taken as a high estimate of the amount required in 1881-82 for winding up the war expenditure, and by September it was evident that only about 2,305,0 would be required. Accordingly, upon the principle above explained, it was decided that 2,695,0 should be taken into the accounts of 1880-81, leaving the 2,305,0 to meet the war charges of 1881-82.

The following therefore compares the actual transactions, according to the time at which they occurred, with the manner in which they have been brought to account:—

	Actual Transaction.			As brought to account.
		Debit to		Credit to		Debit to
	Credit to Revenue.	Cash.	Advance.	Revenue.	Suspense.	Cash.	Advance.	Suspense.
1880-81	2,500,0	500,0	2,000,0	2,695,0	...	500,0	2,000,0	195,0
1881-82	500,0	500,0	...	2,305,0	...	500,0	...	1,805,0
1882-83	500,0	500,0	...	...	500,0	500,0	...	...
1883-84	500,0	500,0	...	...	500,0	500,0	...	..
1884-85	500,0	500,0	...	...	500,0	500,0	...	...
1885-86	500,0	500,0	...	...	500,0	500,0	...	...
	5,000,0	5,000,0		5,000,0	2,000,0	5,000,0		2,000,0

So that no alteration is involved either to our cash account, or to the account of the advance of £2,000,0 received from the British Government in 1879. But we bring to credit of Revenue 195,0 in 1880-81 and 1,805,0 in 1881-82; by debiting a suspense account and clearing that account by the credit of the amounts when they actually come in course of receipt.

The Frontier Railway charges are those (1) of the Kandahar Railway, (2) of the Punjab Northern beyond Pindi.

The direct cost of the war, in 1879-80 and 1880-81, was—

	In India.			In England.
	1878-79.	1879-80.	1880-81.	1878-79.	1879-80.	1880-81.
Military Operations—
Charges ...	600,3	4,642,1	11,298,0	76,1	174,5	70,5
Receipts ...	—2	—50,5	—602,6	...	...	—2,695,0
Frontier Railways ...	...	1,089,9	1,598,9	...	244,4	694,7
	600,1	5,681,5	12,294,3	76,1	418,9	—1,929,8
	18,575,9			—1,434,8 (sterling)

It must be remembered that the "Frontier Railway" charges in England include 526,0 for stores which at the end of the year were still unused, and a great part of which will ultimately be disposed of either by use upon other works or in some other way. This disposal will bring in a credit to "Frontier Railways," or, in other words, will reduce the statement of "War Expenditure." Moreover, as the expenditure after the close of 1880-81 will not work up to the reserved credit of 2,305,0 on account of the English Contribution in the accounts of 1881-82, the direct cost, to India (over and above the five millions borne by England) of the Afghan War may be taken at something less than the total recorded to the end of 1880-81, that is, at something less than Rs 18,57,60,000, paid in India (Sterling £15,480,000) less £1,434,800 net recovery in England.

PRODUCTIVE PUBLIC WORKS CAPITAL EXPENDITURE.

The following are the details of the heads:—

	Budget.	Regular.	Actual.
Irrigation	630,0	700,6	614,5
Madras Harbour	70,0	70,0	70,0
State Railways	1,982,0	2,045,8	2,553,6
East Indian Railway	630,0	632,2	418,4
	3,312,0	3,448,1	3,656,5
Deduct—Elsewhere shown in the Regular Estimate as prepared in England	...	128,4	...
	3,312,0	3,319,7	3,656,5

In the Budget Estimates, the Capital outlay on the East Indian Railway was taken in the English Account, whereas in the Regular and Actuals it was taken in the Indian Account.

Under the first head, the Regular Estimate anticipated increased expenditure in the North-West and in the Punjab, but the Actuals were hardly in excess of the Budget in these provinces, and there were savings elsewhere.

The principal charges are—

	In 1880-81.	To end of 1880-81.
Lower Ganges Canal	172,9	2,201,6
Sirhind Canal (net)	200,3	1,455,7

The Madras Harbour figure is that part of the expenditure which was sanctioned to be taken to the Productive head. The whole expenditure on the work to date is—

	Before 1880-81.	In 1880-81.	Total.
Charged to Revenue ...	52,8	68,1	120,9
Charged to P. P. W. Capital ...	344,4	70,0	414,4
	397,2	138,1	535,3

During the year, orders were received to take the Productive Public Works part of this expenditure out of the accounts by the creation of a Port Trust, to which the amount would be charged as a loan. The cyclone of November, however, so much injured the works as to render this project, for the time, impossible, and the amount still remains in our accounts as above.

Under State Railways, the alteration in the figures is due to a change in the mode of charging the Jhelum-Pindi and Lala-Musa-Miani Sections of the Punjab Northern Railway. It was at first proposed to charge it to Revenue, but the point being specially referred to the Secretary of State, orders were received that the whole was to be treated as Productive. The outlay on these was 60,10 (see under 32, Railways), and accounts for the excess that comes under this head.

The principal works charged to the account during the year are—

	During 1880-81.	Till end of 1880-81.
Rajputana	277,3	3,659,4
Western Rajputana	458,7	1,648,2
Neemuch-Sindia	441,3	1,832,4
Nagpore-Chattisgarh	204,4	586,5
Punjab Northern	617,8	4,414,1
Indus Valley	280,3	6,408,6

The short expenditure on the East Indian Railway is chiefly on account of stores purchased in England. The Company very much over-estimated their requirements in this respect.

LONDON GAZETTE.

No. 102.—The following extracts are published for general information:—

"London Gazette," dated the 24th January, 1882, page 277.

MILITARY (MARINE) DEPARTMENT.

Fort William, the 3rd March, 1882.

ORGANIZATION.

No. 8.—The following Resolution is published for general information:—

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Military (Marine) Department, No. 329, dated Fort William, the 27th February, 1882.

Read resolution of the Government of India in the Military (Marine) Department, No. 5-S, dated the 6th July, 1877, on the subject of the Organization of Her Majesty's Indian Marine.

Read also despatch from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 291, dated the 31st August, 1881, sanctioning the appointment of a Director of the Indian Marine, as well as of a Deputy Director, and the abolition of the appointments of Superintendent of Marine at Calcutta and Bombay.

RESOLUTION.—The Secretary of State for India having approved of the appointment of a Director of the Indian Marine, as well as of a Deputy Director, and having intimated that Captain H. W. Brent, R.N., has been appointed as Director, the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct, in pursuance of the instructions of Her Majesty's Government, that the whole of the establishments, afloat and ashore, appertaining to the Indian Marine on the Eastern and Western Divisions, as well as the Department of Marine Surveys, shall be placed under the Director of Marine, who will exercise administrative authority over such establishments under the orders of the Government of India in the Military (Marine) Department.

2. The head-quarters of the Director of Marine shall be established at Bombay, but he will visit and inspect the establishments at Calcutta and elsewhere whenever it may be necessary to do so.

3. The Deputy Director will have his permanent residence in the dockyard at Calcutta.

4. The appointments of Superintendent of Marine at Calcutta and Bombay will be abolished, as well as the appointment of Secretary to the Superintendent of Marine, Calcutta.

5. The office of Deputy Director of the Indian Marine will be conferred in the first instance upon one of the officers who at present hold the appointments of Superintendent of Marine. The Governor General in Council having taken into consideration the long and zealous services rendered by Captain W. L. Searle, late Indian Navy, and Captain G. O'B. Carew, late Indian Navy, the Superintendents of Marine at Calcutta and Bombay respectively, has been pleased to select Captain Carew for the appointment of Deputy Director.

6. The salary of the Director of the Indian Marine will be Rs. 2,500 per mensem, and that of the Deputy Director Rs. 1,800 per mensem. These officers will occupy the official residences provided in the dockyards at Bombay and Calcutta, respectively.

7. The office of Director of the Indian Marine will be tenable for five years.

8. The foregoing changes shall be carried into effect on the 1st April, 1882, except so far as that Captain Brent will assume charge of his office from the date of his arrival at Bombay.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to all Local Governments and Administrations, and to all the Departments of the Government of India, for information.

Ordered also, that it be published in the Gazette of India.

G. CHESNEY, Colonel,
Secretary to the Government of India.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Public Works Department.

Acknowledgment of the services rendered to Government by Major-General A. Fraser, C.B., R.E.

RESOLUTION.—Major-General Fraser, C.B., R.E., having succeeded to Colonel's allowances, vacates the office of Secretary to the Government of India, Public Works Department.

2. His Excellency the Governor General in Council cannot allow this distinguished officer to leave the country without placing on record the very high opinion the Government of India entertains of his long, able, and varied services.

3. Major-General Fraser served through the Sutlej, Punjab and Burmah Campaigns with credit to himself, but it is of his services in connection with the Public Works Department that Government more particularly wish to place on record its acknowledgments.

4. It has fallen to the lot of few officers to plan, superintend and carry out so many and such varied works,—from laying out new towns and cantonments in a conquered country, housing troops in several stations, but specially in Fort William, under considerable difficulties, but with marked success as regards their health and comfort, to planning and carrying out a system of lighthouses, thereby rendering the navigation of the coast of Burmah safe and improving that of the Red Sea, and specially erecting under great difficulties the lighthouse on the Alguada Reef, for the successful issue of which he was honored by the 3rd Class of the Civil Order of the Bath.

5. While Secretary to the Government of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, Major-General Fraser prepared a scheme for carrying out Sir John Strachey's wishes for the preservation of those beautiful works of art,—the royal buildings at Delhi, Agra and Fattehpore-Sikri,—the preservation of which required archæological knowledge and architectural taste.

6. In January 1879 Major-General Fraser was appointed Secretary to the Government of India, Public Works Department, and since that date, save for a few months when he acted as Member of the Supreme Council during Sir A. Clarke's absence, he has had charge of a very heavily-worked office, the organization of which he has greatly improved, reducing its arrears and leaving it in a most satisfactory working condition.

7. Major-General Fraser has repeatedly received the thanks of the Government of India and also of Her Majesty's Secretary of State for his varied services, and in now bidding him farewell on his return to England, His Excellency the Governor General in Council once more tenders to him the best thanks of the Government of India, and trusts he may long be spared to enjoy that rest which he has so justly earned.

8. It will be a matter of great satisfaction to His Excellency the Viceroy to bring Major-General Fraser's services to the notice of the Home Government.

ORDER.—Ordered, that this Resolution be communicated to Major-General A. Fraser, C.B., R.E.; also that a copy be forwarded to the Secretary of State for the information of Her Majesty's Government, and that it be published in the Gazette of India.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Fort William, the 3rd March 1882.

No. 1288.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Sections nine, fifteen, seventeen, thirty-two, fifty-one, and fifty-six of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, the Governor General in Council is pleased to make the following Rules:—

CHAPTER I.—Preliminary.

1. These Rules shall come into force throughout British India on the 1st April 1882 in supersession of the Rules promulgated by Notifications No. 875, dated 26th February, and No. 966, dated 4th June 1881.

2. All words and expressions used in these Rules and defined in the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, shall be deemed to have the meaning attached to them respectively by the said Act.

3. There shall be two kinds of stamps for indicating the payment of duty on instruments under the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, namely—

(a) Impressed Stamps—including—

Impressed Sheets,—that is to say, sheets of paper bearing the impression of Stamps of different values engraved thereon, and sold to the public for use by them in accordance with these Rules.

Impressed Labels,—to be affixed and impressed by Government Officers as directed in Chapter III of these Rules.

(b) Adhesive Stamps sold to the public for use by them in accordance with these Rules.

CHAPTER II.—Of Impressed Sheets.

4. All instruments chargeable with duty, except Hundís, may be written on Impressed Sheets, and, except as provided by Section ten of the said Act and by these Rules, shall be so written.

5 (a). When any instrument is to be written on an Impressed Sheet, if the amount of duty with which such instrument is chargeable does not exceed one hundred rupees, a single sheet shall be used, unless—where the application for the required stamp is made at a treasury, the officer in charge of such treasury, or, where such application is made to a stamp-vendor, the vendor certifies that he is unable to furnish a single stamp of the required value.

(b). When the amount of duty chargeable in respect of any instrument exceeds one hundred rupees, or a treasury officer or stamp-vendor has certified under clause (a) that he is unable to furnish a single stamp of the required value, the number of sheets used for indicating the payment of duty shall not exceed the number which the treasury officer or the stamp-vendor certifies in either case to be the smallest number which he can furnish so as to make up the required amount.

(c). No certificate shall be made under clause (a) or clause (b) by a stamp-vendor in any case in which the stamp duty required exceeds the highest value of the stamps which such vendor is authorised to sell.

(d). When, under this Rule, two or more Impressed Sheets are used to make up the amount of duty chargeable in respect of any instrument, a portion of such instrument shall be written on each sheet so used.

(e). When a single sheet used under this Rule is found insufficient to admit of the entire instrument being written on the side of the paper which bears the stamp, so much plain paper may be subjoined thereto as may be necessary for the complete writing of such instrument: provided that in every such case the side of the sheet which bears the stamp must be covered by a substantial part of the instrument before any part of the latter can be written on the plain paper joined to such sheet. Provided further, that the part of the instrument written on the plain paper must be attested by the signatures or marks of all the persons executing the document and the witnesses to the same.

6 (a). Hundís other than hundís which can be stamped with an adhesive stamp under Section ten of the said Act shall be written as follows:—

(1) Hundís payable otherwise than on demand, but not more than one year after date or sight, and for amounts not exceeding Rs. 30,000 in individual value, on impressed sheets bearing the word Hundí;

(2) Hundís exceeding Rs. 30,000 in individual value, and Hundís payable at more than one year after date or sight, on paper supplied for sale by the Government, and to which labels have been affixed by one of the officers mentioned in Rule nine, clause (b), or by the Superintendent of Stamps, Calcutta, and impressed by him in manner provided by Rule ten.

(b). Every sheet of such stamped paper shall be of a size not less than $8\frac{5}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{8}$ inches, and no plain paper shall be joined to it.

(c). The provisions in Rule five as to use of two or more sheets of stamped paper when a single stamp of the required value is not procurable apply also to Hundí stamps used under this Rule.

7. The duty payable on any instrument chargeable with a duty of one anna may be denoted by a coloured impression marked on a skeleton form of such instrument by the Superintendent of Stamps at Calcutta, Bombay, Madras, or Rangoon.

CHAPTER III.—Of Impressed Labels.

8. Impressed labels may be used for the following instruments and counterparts thereof, namely,—

(1) Administration-bonds:
(2) Affidavits:
(3) Appointments made in execution of a power:
(4) Articles of Association of a Company:
(5) Articles of clerkship;
(6) Bills of lading:
(7) Charter-parties:

(8) Declarations of trust:
(9) Instruments evidencing an agreement to secure the repayment of a loan made upon the deposit of title-deeds or other valuable security, or upon the hypothecation of moveable property:

(37) Releases:
(38) Settlements:
(39) Transfers of the description mentioned in Article No. 60, clauses (b), (c), and (d) of the First Schedule of the said Act.

9. The following officers are empowered to affix these labels to the instruments mentioned in Rule eight, namely,—

(a) the Collectors of Calcutta and Karáchí;
(b) the Superintendents of Stamps at Madras, Bombay, Lahore, Rangoon, Maulmain, and Akyab;
(c) the Commissioner of Stamps, North-Western Provinces and Oudh;
(d) the Superintendent of Stamps (Political Resident), Aden.

10 (a). Every such officer shall, upon any instrument mentioned in Rule eight being brought to him before it is executed, and application being made to him for that purpose, affix thereto a label or labels of such value as the applicant may desire and pay for, and impress such label or labels by means of a stamping-machine, and also stamp or write on the face of the label or labels the date of impressing the label or labels before returning the instrument to the applicant. In the case of instruments written on parchment, the labels must be further secured by metallic eyelets.

(b). When the stamp duty amounts to five rupees or upwards, such officer shall further write on the face of the label or labels his initials, and, when the stamp duty amounts to rupees twenty or upwards, shall also attach his usual signature to the instrument immediately under the labels.

11 (a). The payment of duty on instruments (other than Bills of Exchange, Cheques, and Promissory Notes) executed out of British India and requiring to be stamped after their receipt in British India, shall be indicated only by impressed labels.

(b). When any such instrument is taken to the Collector under Section seventeen of the said Act, the Collector, unless he be Collector of Calcutta or Karáchí, shall send the instrument to one of the officers mentioned in Rule nine, remitting the amount of duty paid in respect of such instrument; and such officer shall stamp the instrument in the manner prescribed by Rules 10 (a) and 10 (b) and return the same to the Collector for delivery to the person by whom it was produced.

CHAPTER IV.—Adhesive Stamps.

12. Bills of Exchange, payable otherwise than on demand and drawn in sets, when the amount of stamp duty does not exceed one anna for each part of the set, may be stamped with adhesive stamps.

13. Except as otherwise provided in these Rules, the adhesive stamp used to denote the duty of one anna shall bear the words "one anna."

14. The following instruments when stamped with adhesive stamps shall be stamped as follows:—

(a) Bills of Exchange, Cheques, and Promissory Notes drawn or made out of British India, with adhesive stamps bearing the words "Foreign Bill."

(b) Transfers of shares of Public Companies and Associations, with adhesive stamps bearing the words "Share Transfer."

(c) An entry as an Advocate, Vakil, or Attorney on the roll of any High Court, with an adhesive stamp bearing the word "Advocate," "Vakil," or "Attorney."

(Such stamp shall be affixed under the superintendence and responsibility of a gazetted officer of the High Court, who shall obtain the stamp from the Superintendent of Stamps and account to him for it. The gazetted officer who affixes the stamp shall write on the face of it his usual signature and the date of signature before parting with the instrument.)

(d) Notarial Acts, with adhesive Foreign Bill stamps bearing the word "Notarial" printed over them.

CHAPTER V.—Miscellaneous.

15. When it is necessary under Section fifteen of the said Act to denote upon one instrument the payment of duty in respect of another, such payment shall be denoted by an endorsement under the hand of the Collector on the former instrument.

16. Every payment made under Section thirty of the said Act shall be made in cash.

17. The Collector may require every person claiming a refund or renewal under Chapter VI of the said Act, or his duly authorised agent, to make an oral deposition on oath or affirmation, or to put in an affidavit, setting forth the circumstances under which the claim has arisen. The Collector may also, if he thinks fit, call for the evidence of witnesses in support of the statement set forth in the deposition or affidavit of the claimant or his Agent.

18. Any Magistrate convicting or trying an offender under Chapter VIII of the Stamp Act may grant to any person, who may have contributed to the conviction, a reward within a limit to be fixed by the local Government.

The 10th March 1882.

No. 1449.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 7 of the Indian Salt Act, 1882, the Governor General in Council directs that on and after the date of this Notification the duty to be paid on salt manufactured in or imported by land into any part of British India, except Burma and that portion of the territories administered by the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab which lies west of the river Indus, shall be rupees two for each maund of 82⅔ lbs. avoirdupois weight.

2. The Governor General in Council further directs that not less than two copies of a notice, in the vernacular language of the district, stating that the salt duty has been reduced from Rs. 2-14 (or Rs. 2-8 as the case may be) to Rs. 2 per maund, shall be issued by each Local Government to every town and village within its jurisdiction to which the reduction applies, and shall also be made public in such other manner as the Local Government may deem fit.

No. 82.—The Government of India has no further need of the services of Babu Sarat Chunder Rai, Apprentice Engineer, Bengal.

TELEGRAPH.

The 10th March 1882.

No. 83.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to sanction, with effect from the 1st of April 1882, the following revision of Rule 37 of the "Rules and Rates for Inland Telegrams," and to cancel the foot-notes to that Rule:—

Prepayment of Reply.

Rule 37.—The sender of a message can prepay a reply, depositing for this purpose a sum not exceeding ten times the cost of his original telegram, but the message to which a reply is prepaid must not be addressed to more than one person. He must add to his message the words "Reply prepaid" or "Answer paid." These must form the concluding words of the message, but will not be charged for. On depositing the corresponding sum, the sender can add (free) to the words "Reply paid" or "Answer paid," the amount to which he wishes the reply to be limited. When the words "Reply paid" alone are given, without any specified amount, it will be understood that the minimum charge only for an "Ordinary" message has been prepaid. The Terminal Station pays to the Receiver in Telegraph stamps, or in money, the amount prepaid, leaving it to him to send his answer how and when and to what address he pleases, or not to send one at all. The reply, if sent, is considered in every respect as a fresh message.

In the case of a message to which a reply is prepaid addressed to a station where there is no Telegraph Office, the amount is forwarded to destination from the nearest Government Telegraph Office, not in Telegraph stamps, but by currency notes and postage stamps in an insured cover, the sender must accordingly prepay the postal insurance fees.

Reply deposits exceeding Rs. 2 in value cannot be received at or delivered from any Railway Telegraph Office. Messages addressed to stations on Railways to which replies exceeding Rs. 2 in value are prepaid are not transferred to the Railway Telegraph, but posted with currency notes and postage stamps enclosed from the nearest Government Telegraph Office, direct to the addressee. In the case of such messages also, the postal insurance fees are payable by the sender.

Should it be impossible to effect delivery of a "Reply paid" message, the Terminal Station sends a service telegram to that effect to the sender, and the amount deposited will be refunded, on application being made to the Telegraph Check Office, Calcutta. The words "Reply paid" or "Answer paid" entitle the Addressee to receive the equivalent of the minimum charge only.

It should be distinctly understood that it is not compulsory on the Addressee to send a reply. The duty of the Terminal Station consists simply in paying to him in Telegraph stamps or in money, the amount prepaid, leaving him at liberty to do what he pleases with it.

SANITARY.

The 17th March 1882.

No. 85.—The following Rules have been sanctioned by the Governor General in Council under the provisions of Act I of 1870, as a temporary measure, to provide for quarantine against cholera in the port of Aden:—

I. The Commander of every vessel, including buggalows or other native craft arriving from the port of Bombay or from the Turkish Red Sea ports, shall, before entering the harbour, indicate by signal the port from which such vessel has come.

II. Such Commander shall not, except as hereinafter provided, allow any communication, either with the pilot boat, except orally, or with the shore, or with any other vessel or boat in the harbour.

III. Immediately on any such arrival being signalled, the Health Officer of the port shall go alongside the vessel and, if communication with the shore is desired, shall direct the Commander to take the vessel to the quarantine anchorage, duly appointed and notified in that behalf by the Resident, there to remain for a period of seven days from the date of arrival in the harbour, and undergo disinfection, which should apply as well to crew, passengers, effects and susceptible goods. The Health Officer shall also direct the Commander to prohibit, during the period for which the vessel remains at the quarantine anchorage as aforesaid, all communication, except such as is hereinafter provided for, between such vessel and the shore, or other vessels and boats in the harbour. If communication with the shore is not required the vessel shall not enter the inner harbour, and no communication in any way shall be allowed with the pilot boat, except orally, or with the shore or with any vessel or boat in the harbour.

IV. If during the period a vessel is at the quarantine anchorage aforesaid, any case or cases of cholera should occur on board, the said vessel shall remain in quarantine for a period of seven days from the date of the last case occurring, and be subject to all the prohibitions provided for in Rule III.

V. When any vessel has been placed in quarantine as aforesaid, the Health Officer may direct the removal of so man of the passengers and crew as may not be suffering from illness, and whose services may not be required on board the vessel, to such particular spots, as may from time to time be selected by the Resident as places of quarantine, there to remain for a period of seven days. If a case of cholera occurs among such passengers and crew during any such period, they shall remain in a place of quarantine for a period of fifteen days from the date of the occurrence of the last case of such illness.

VI. Any mails or cargo which may be brought by any vessel so arriving, shall be landed under such precautions as the Health Officer may deem necessary to prevent the spread of the disease.

VII. It will be the duty of the Port Officer to facilitate the conveyance to all vessels in quarantine of such supplies of provisions, stores and other articles, as may be required by those on board. Such supplies will be placed on the boats of the vessels in quarantine to be subsequently removed by members of their crews.

VIII. All vessels arriving at Aden which may have communicated with vessels coming from the port of Bombay or from the Turkish Red Sea ports shall be subjected to the same quarantine as vessels arriving at Aden from the port of Bombay or from the Turkish Red Sea ports.

IX. All vessels which have undergone quarantine in the manner above prescribed, should have the fact clearly stated on their Bills of Health.

RESOLUTION.—By Resolution of the Government of India in the Foreign Department (Political), No. 1195 of 9th June 1881, it was ordered that an inquiry should be held under Act XXXVII of 1850 into the conduct of Muhammad Hyat Khan, C.S.I., while in political employ at Kabul. The Resolution briefly noticed the circumstances which led to this order, and the preliminary action which had already been taken by the Government in connection with them; but in view of the present position of the case, it will be convenient to recapitulate the facts concerning the charges under consideration.

Muhammad Hyat Khan was employed as a political officer under General Roberts during the occupation of Kabul in the winter of 1879-80. He left Kabul early in the year 1880, and soon after his departure rumours became prevalent imputing to him corruption and extortion in the discharge of his duties in Afghanistan. In some cases written documents were submitted to the higher authorities there, containing explicit charges of that nature against him; but as there was no means of holding a judicial inquiry into the matter, and as, besides, Hyat Khan had already left Kabul, no investigation was held at the time, and the charges remained unrefuted. The Government felt that it was impossible to allow the matter to remain in this position. The rumours affecting Hyat Khan's reputation had been, and continued to be, persistent and reiterated, and charges of a distinct and definite nature had been made against him in writing. Those charges involved a gross abuse of his position by an officer in the employment of the Government of India for purposes of extortion, and to have ignored them would have been alike prejudicial to the character of the public service, and unfair to the officer himself. The alleged offences were committed, it is true, in a foreign country occupied by British troops as the result of warlike operations; but this circumstance did not appear to the Government in any way to mitigate the gravity of such offences as those of which Muhammad Hyat Khan was accused, and they felt that the practice of intimidation and extortion in an enemy's country by a British officer was calculated to reflect grave discredit upon the Government which he served. The Government of India had therefore to determine in what way the charges against Muhammad Hyat Khan should be brought to a definite issue. It was clear that they could not be left to be dealt with by the ordinary processes of law, for the acts complained of, if committed, had been committed in a foreign country, in which we were carrying on warlike operations, and could not therefore be dealt with by the Criminal Courts of British India. It was, accordingly, necessary that any action that might be taken should be of a special character, and must originate with the Government as a measure of discipline. Looking at it from this point of view, the Government was confronted at the outset by the difficulty arising from the absence of formal and declared prosecutors, and the uncertainty in regard to the evidence which could be brought to bear upon the charges. It was therefore decided to hold a preliminary inquiry in the first instance for the purpose of ascertaining with some greater degree of precision what grounds there might be for proceeding against the accused; and secondly, in the event of its appearing that good grounds existed for further proceedings in order to enable the Government to determine what form those proceedings should take. This inquiry was entrusted to Mr. D. G. Barkley (at the time officiating as a Judge of the Chief Court of the Punjab), assisted by Messrs. Silcock and Anderson, Assistant Commissioners of the Punjab, and was held at Peshawar between 21st February and 7th April 1881. The report made to Government by these gentlemen is published herewith. From it it will be seen that they inquired into seven specific charges against Muhammad Hyat Khan, and that, although there was some difference of opinion, they were practically unanimous in considering that the innocence of the accused was not established on any of the seven charges, and that on some the evidence inclined them to pronounce an unfavourable verdict. Having regard to the importance of the issues, the Government did not feel justified in treating this report as conclusive. The evidence had not all been taken on oath, and in other respects it was admitted by the Commissioners themselves to be imperfect. The Commissioners differed among themselves upon important points, and it could not be said that upon any of the graver charges the finding of the Commission as a whole was conclusive against Muhammad Hyat Khan. Moreover, the accused officer represented that under the conditions of the inquiry—conditions that arose of necessity from its informal and departmental character—he had been prejudiced in his defence. With the view therefore, not only of making the investigation as thorough and complete as possible, but also for the purpose of affording the accused the fullest opportunity of defending himself in an open and public trial, the Government determined on the inquiry which was ordered to be undertaken by the Resolution of 9th June 1881.

That Resolution directed that the procedure prescribed in Act XXXVII of 1850 should be followed, and that 'the imputations made against Muhammad Hyat Khan should be drawn into distinct articles of charge, and a Commission should be appointed to make a regular inquiry into the truth of them.' In conformity with these directions, Mr. J. W. Smyth, a Judge of the Chief Court, Punjab, was selected as sole Commissioner for the purposes of the inquiry, and the Government Advocate, Punjab, was appointed to conduct the prosecution. All the papers in the case were accordingly sent to this latter officer in order that he might frame specific articles of charge. After a careful perusal of the papers he represented that in order to establish the charges it would be necessary to obtain the evidence of witnesses resident in Afghanistan. A list of persons, whose evidence he considered to be required was accordingly sent to the Amir of Afghanistan, and His Highness was invited to cause their attendance at Peshawur. In reply, His Highness expressed his inability to compel the attendance of the witnesses, but after some time forwarded certain depositions, which are annexed to this Resolution. Under these circumstances the Government submitted the whole of the papers connected with the case to the law officers of the Government of India, who were of opinion that, in the absence of witnesses from Afghanistan, no evidence is forthcoming which would establish any of the charges against the accused, except, perhaps, under one comparatively insignificant head. The Government of India has therefore determined to abandon the prosecution, and the Resolution of 9th June 1881 is accordingly rescinded, in so far as it directs a trial under Act XXXVII of 1850.

The Governor General in Council cannot conceal from himself that the position in which this case is left is not satisfactory. Charges of the gravest import have been brought against an officer who has passed a long and honorable career in the public service, and whose title to be regarded as worthy of confidence and respect has up to recent date not been questioned. By some these charges have been believed to be true, by others they have been regarded as the vilest calumnies. The Government has exhausted all the means at its command for the purpose of sifting those charges, and in the opinion of the law officers it would now be impossible to bring them to the test of a judicial examination. The result is that the charges against the accused have not been established. The suspension of Muhammad Hyat Khan is consequently removed.

* A selection of the papers quoted in the preamble will be found published in the Supplement to the Gazette.

ORDERED, that this Resolution* be published in the Gazette of India.

INTELLIGENCE.

No. 132.—The Most Hon'ble the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following correspondence:—

No. 58, Field Operations—C, dated Army Hd.-Qrs., Fort Wm., 9th March, 1882.

From—Major-General Sir C. M. MACGREGOR, K.C.B., &c., Quartermaster-General in India,
To—Colonel G. CHESNEY, Secretary to the Government of India, Mily. Dept.

I am directed to forward, for the information of the Government of India, the accompanying most valuable and exhaustive report by Brigadier-General Wilkinson on the route marched by the force under his command from Quetta to Dera Ghazi Khan in November, 1881.

Dated 30th January, 1882, with annexures.

2. This march has been a very interesting and a very valuable one; it sets at rest, as His Excellency thought it would, the question as to the best road from the Indus to Kandahar; it proves that detachments of British troops can march through the country of wild, untamed tribes without any collision arising; it establishes the fact that with due care long marches can be made through the roughest country without any material loss of transport, and it is an honorable evidence of the hardships which British and Native soldiers can endure, and of what the skill and intelligence of British officers rightly directed can accomplish.

3. These results, His Excellency considers, could not have been attained had the Commander not possessed, in a high degree, intelligence, energy, tact and power of organization; and Sir Donald Stewart therefore submits that Brigadier-General Wilkinson and the officers brought to notice by him have fairly earned the high approval of Government.

4. I am to request the early return of all the enclosures of this report in order that the valuable information recorded therein may without delay be transferred to the Intelligence Branch of this Department.

No. $\frac{201}{B}$, dated 17th March, 1882.

From—Colonel G. CHESNEY, Secy. to the Govt. of India, Mily. Dept.,
To—The Quartermaster-General in India.

Your letter No. 58, dated the 9th March, 1882, enclosing the report by Brigadier-General Wilkinson on the march by the force under his command from Quetta to Dera

Ghazi Khan in November and December, 1881, having been laid before the Governor General in Council, I am directed to say that His Excellency in Council fully concurs with the Commander-in-Chief in his high estimation of the qualities displayed by Brigadier-General Wilkinson, the Commander of the expedition, who, with the officers brought to notice by him, have well earned the approval of the Government of India.

2. This excellent report will be printed, and the plans, &c., executed by Major James of the Bombay Staff Corps and other officers of the force, will be reproduced, and copies will be forwarded to Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

FURLOUGH AND LEAVE.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

Resolution No. 724, dated 6th February 1882, regarding the supply of black writing inks of local manufacture.

Read also—

The undermentioned correspondence regarding the black writing ink manufactured by Babu Amrita Lal Roy, of No. 54, Machooabazar Street, Calcutta :—

Letter to the Superintendent of Stationery, Calcutta, No. 2143, dated 23rd December 1881.
" from " " " No. 5895, dated 10th March 1882, in reply to the above.

ORDERED, that the letter from the Superintendent of Stationery read above be communicated to all Local Governments and Administrations for information in continuation of Resolution No. 724, dated 6th February 1882.

Ordered also, that it be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

No. 5895, dated 10th March 1882.

From—W. H. RYLAND, Esq., Officiating Superintendent of Stationery, Calcutta,

To—The Assistant Secretary to Govt. of India, Dept. of Finance and Commerce.

I beg to forward herewith copy of the Chemical Examiner's report on the sample of black writing ink submitted by Amrita Lal Roy, and to state, as requested in your letter No. 2143, dated 23rd December last, that the ink is, no doubt, manufactured in India, and is of good quality, having fairly withstood the tests of the Chemical Examiner. The price is Rs. 2 per dozen on) by 4 annas per dozen. In deciding upon the contract to be entered into for the ensuing year, full consideration will be given to the merits of Amrita Lal Roy's ink as compared with other samples tendered, from every point of view, mere cheapness not being the only desideratum.

2. This report has been kept back by me in the hope of being able also to report on Mr. George Law's sample of ink, which was not received till last month, after I had applied to him. The Chemical Examiner has not yet furnished his report, but I may mention that Mr. Law proposes to charge Rs. 12 per dozen quarts delivered at any station in the upper Provinces. Supposing the ink to be not superior to either Dr. Waldie's or Amrita Lal Roy's samples, the relative prices of the several inks delivered at the principal stations in the North-Western Provinces and the Punjab would be as shown in the annexed statement. I am not yet in a position to state whether the ink is equal to Stephen's ink, and could be issued in the place of it to the officers who use the latter. The comparison, so far as it goes, including Stephen's ink, shows that Mr. Law's ink is much dearer as respects the other country-made inks, but cheaper as respects Stephen's ink.

No. 228A., dated 14th February 1882.

From—C. J. H. WARDEN, Esq., Chemical Examiner to Government,

To—The Officiating Superintendent of Stationery, Calcutta.

I have the honour to acknowledge receipt of your letter No. 5018, dated 30th January 1882, forwarding one bottle of ink with the following printed label :—

"Youngman's steel jet black, writing ink, &c."

The bottle contained 15 ounces of black ink of acid re-action, and with a tar-like odour. The ink was of a good colour and flowed well.

On analysis it yielded 12·76 per cent. of solid residue by weight dried at 100° C.

The ash was equal to 1·7 per cent. by weight calculated on the ink and consisted of oxide of iron.

[illegible] of re-agents on the ink is shown in the accompanying table.

The ink appears to be essentially a gall-ink of good quality.

Statement showing the comparative price of liquid ink delivered at the following stations.

Names of stations.	Price of Dr. Waldie's ink per dozen quarts.	Price of Amrita Lal Roy's ink per dozen quarts.	Price of G. Law's ink per dozen quarts.	Stephen's English ink per dozen quarts.	Remarks.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Simla, the 21st April 1882.

No. 472.

The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct that a military commissioned, warrant, or native commissioned officer in civil or military employ travelling on duty by rail without a Government passage warrant, shall, unless he is entitled to travel free of charge, invariably make use of the Form E "on duty" certificate (copy annexed) as provided in paragraph 164* of the Transport Regulations, Part II; the authorised scale of travelling allowance being reduced by the amount by which the first class fare exceeds the second class, or the second class fare the third class, as the case may be.

2. Commissioned officers will themselves sign the Form E certificate, that for warrant officers and native commissioned officers being signed by a staff officer, or the officer under whom they are serving.

* "164. Commissioned, warrant, and native commissioned officers travelling 'on duty,' but without a Government passage warrant, or proceeding on or returning from leave on medical certificate and paying their own fares (whether entitled to mileage allowance or not), are to be allowed to travel in the next higher class of carriage than that for which they purchased tickets, on their producing a certificate, Form E (Appendix No. 1), signed by a staff officer directing them to travel on duty.

"I.—This, however, is subject to the limitation that commissioned and first class warrant officers only are to travel first class with second class tickets, and second class warrant and native commissioned officers second class with third class tickets."

* * * * *

"III.—This order does not apply to any class of Government servants other than those specified above, nor is it applicable to the wives and families of commissioned or warrant officers; and the certificate is not to be granted to commissioned and warrant officers travelling by the Oudh and Rohilkhund Railway, so long as the fares are not in excess of nine pies and two pies per mile, respectively, for upper and lower classes."

ORGANIZATION.

No. 209.—Under the orders of the Secretary of State for India, the following conditions regulating the tenure of regimental commands in the Native armies of India are published for general information and guidance :—

(1) All officers who now hold substantive regimental commands will be granted an extension of command without any conditions (except promotion to the rank of General Officer, or the attainment of the Colonel's allowance) to the 1st April, 1883.

(2) Subject to the above conditions, present incumbents will be eligible to retain their commands until they attain the age of 55 years, or complete a tenure of 7 years' command, whichever may happen first.

(3) Any present incumbent, who on or after the 1st of April, 1883, may not have completed 5 years' tenure of command before reaching the age of 55 years, will be eligible to complete his 5 years' tenure of command.

(4) The immediate successors of present incumbents will be eligible to hold the command of a regiment until the attainment of 55 years of age, or the completion of 7 years' tenure of command, whichever may happen first.

(5) Thereafter, the limits for regimental command will be the attainment of 52 years of age, or a tenure of 7 years, whichever may happen first.

(6) In any case of the Commandant of a regiment, other than present incumbents (paragraph 4), who is required to vacate his command under these rules before he has served for the pension granted for 32 years' service, such officer, on the recommendation of the Commander-in-Chief in India, Madras or Bombay, and with the approval of the Government of India, Madras, or Bombay, as the case may be, may be permitted an extension of command, not exceeding 2 years, towards his 32 years' pension service, or such less period as may be required for its completion. But no portion of such special extension of regimental service, or tenure of command, will be permitted to be passed on any leave or furlough except privilege leave.

(7) Officers of the Staff Corps or Indian Army who entered the service before 1st July 1881, who may elect, on vacating regimental commands, to remain in the service for the attainment of the highest retirement pension, or the Colonel's allowance, will be permitted the option of completing their service at home on the furlough pay of their rank, or of remaining in India on the unemployed Indian pay and allowances of their rank if unemployed.

(8) All regimental commands will continue to be vacated as at present, on promotion to Major-General or succession to the Colonel's allowance.

(9) These rules will take effect from this date, so far that any commandants of regiments hereafter appointed will be the next in succession to present incumbents referred to in paragraph 4.

(10) These rules are applicable also to the Punjab Frontier Force and the Hyderabad Contingent, and so far as regards the limit of age prescribed by them, to other regiments under the direct orders of the Government of India.

G. CHESNEY, Colonel,
Secretary to the Government of India.

SIMLA, SATURDAY, APRIL 22, 1882.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

ORGANIZATION.

INDIAN ARMY.

Simla, the 22nd April, 1882.

No. 210.—The Most Hon'ble the Governor General in Council hereby announces certain of the measures which have been determined upon, with the approval of Her Majesty's Government, in regard to the regimental organisation of the Indian Army.

2. Under the organisation now to be adopted, every Native cavalry regiment (except the four regiments of Madras Native cavalry, whose establishment will remain unaltered) will consist, as at present, of six troops organised in three squadrons, each regiment having the following establishment:—

3 Ressaldars,
3 Ressaidars,
1 Woordie-Major,
6 Jemadars,
6 Kote-Duffadars,
48 Duffadars (including 1 Farrier-Major and 1 Salootrie),
6 Trumpeters,
477 Privates (including 1 Assistant Salootrie and 6 Farriers).

In the Bombay cavalry the present establishment of commissioned and non-commissioned ranks will remain unaltered at 80, the privates being raised to 470 in number instead of to 477, the total strength in Bengal and Bombay being thus 550 of all ranks.

The establishment of the Cavalry of the Corps of Guides (Queen's Own) will remain unaltered.

3. Every Native infantry regiment will consist, as at present, of eight companies, each company having the following establishment:—

1 Subadar,
1 Jemadar,
5 Havildars,
5 Naiks,
2 Drummers,
90 Privates,

making a total per regiment of 832 Natives of all ranks.

The Madras regiments will retain their extra Havildar-Major as at present.

4. The three regiments of Assam Light Infantry will retain their present strength of 912 of all ranks. The five Goorkha regiments will also retain that strength for the present.

5. The establishment of regiments being fixed as above stated, and as the total strength of the army is to remain substantially unchanged, this measure of reorganisation involves the reduction of four regiments of cavalry and eighteen of infantry.

6. The Governor General in Council has determined that of the four cavalry regiments to be reduced, three shall be reduced in the Bengal Army, including the Punjab Frontier Force, and one in the Bombay Army. Of the eighteen regiments of infantry to be reduced, six shall be reduced in the Bengal Army, including the Punjab Frontier Force, four in the Bombay Army, and eight in the Madras Army.

The present and future establishments of the Indian Army will therefore be as follows:—

	Present Estabt.	New Estabt.
Cavalry—
Bengal (excluding Cavalry of the Corps of Guides)	24	21
Madras	4	4
Bombay	7	6
	35	31
Infantry—
Bengal (including Infantry of the Corps of Guides)	61	55
Madras	40	32
Bombay	30	26
	131	113
Total ...	166	144

7. In the Bengal Presidency the following are the regiments selected for reduction:—

Cavalry.

16th Cavalry.
17th „
4th Punjab Cavalry.

Infantry.

34th Native Infantry.
35th „ „
36th „ „
37th „ „
41st „ „
3rd Punjab Infantry.

8. This reduction will be carried out under the orders of the Commander-in-Chief and the Punjab Government, in the following way:—

9. All Native officers, non-commissioned officers, and men who wish to remain in the service and are physically fit and otherwise well suited for it will be transferred to other regiments by troops and companies, as far as practicable, under subsidiary orders which will be issued by the Commander-in-Chief and the Punjab Government.

10. All Native officers, non-commissioned officers, and men who wish to take their discharge, or who from physical or other causes are not well suited for the service, will be discharged on the following rates of pensions and gratuities:—

I.—The superior rates of pensions specified in paragraph 611 of the Pay Code, volume II, to officers, non-commissioned officers, and men who have completed 25 years of service and upwards.

II.—The ordinary rates of pensions to all officers, non-commissioned officers, and men who have completed 14 years' service, and have less than 25 years' service, with a bonus of one month's pay (including good-conduct pay) for every two years' service.

III.—To officers, non-commissioned officers, and men of more than 10 and less than 14 years' service, two-thirds of the ordinary rate of pension and a bonus of three months' pay (including good-conduct pay).

IV.—To non-commissioned officers and men of 5 and less than 10 years' service, a gratuity of one month's pay for each year of service, together with an additional bonus of three months' pay as above.

V.—To non-commissioned officers and men of less than 5 years' service, a gratuity of six months' pay.

11. In the case of the cavalry, the gratuities will be calculated on the rates of ordinary and not net pay.

12. In those regiments in which, in consequence of the transfers made from the regiments reduced, the strength of Native officers or non-commissioned officers may become in excess of the regular authorised establishment, pensions and gratuities under the above scale may be offered to deserving Native officers and non-commissioned officers of such regiments to the extent of the numbers in excess in these ranks, so that the strength of Native officers and non-commissioned officers may thus be at once brought down to the fixed authorised establishment. Should this reduction however not be completely effected, and any supernumeraries be still left, they will be absorbed by making only two promotions for every three vacancies, every third vacancy being absorbed.

13. Native commissioned officers of cavalry regiments of 25 years' service and upwards, pensioned under the terms of paragraph 13, will receive a gratuity of 12 months' pay, in addition to the higher rate of pension.

14. Free passes by rail to their homes will be given to all officers, non-commissioned officers, and men who take their discharge on pension or gratuity under these orders.

15. In the cavalry regiments about to be reduced, where the chunda (remount) fund of a regiment after the disposal of all its horses (under subsidiary orders to be now issued) is unable to meet the entire cost of defraying the horse price of men discharged and transferred, the sums necessary for this purpose will be granted by the Government of India, under orders which will be issued hereafter.

16. In order to complete the horse price of men who are transferred to other corps, and who have not as yet paid up their full horse price in their present corps, loans will be granted, to Commanding Officers of regiments receiving men transferred, of the amount of such horse price still due, to be repaid without interest at Rs. 2 per man per mensem.

17. Such assistance will be granted to the equipment funds of cavalry regiments reduced as will permit of their paying up in the ordinary way, to men discharged, the proper value of their equipments, the sale proceeds of which will be carried to the credit of the State.

18. The certified actual cost involved in change of uniform and equipment will be allowed to soldiers transferred to other regiments. The necessary changes in the uniforms of the infantry troops transferred will be made at the public expense.

19. The following regiments of the Madras and Bombay armies have been selected by the Governments of those Presidencies respectively for reduction:—

Madras Army.

The 34th Native Infantry.
„ 35th „
„ 36th „
„ 37th „
„ 38th „
„ 39th „
„ 40th „
„ 41st „

Bombay Army.

The 3rd Sind Horse.
„ 6th Native Infantry.
„ 11th „
„ 15th „
„ 18th „

21. Consequent upon the increase in the strength of Native regiments, the establishment of European officers will now be fixed at eight officers per regiment, or one more than the present establishment; the additional officer to be appointed in the rank of wing or squadron officer. This augmentation will at once absorb a part of the junior officers of the reduced regiments, while the total establishment of European officers serving on regimental duty with the Indian Army will remain almost unaltered. With respect to the senior officers of these regiments, the following terms are offered, under the orders of the Secretary of State for India, to such of them as may retire from the service within three months from the date of their regiments being broken up:—

I.—To officers of over 32 years' service, the pension to which they may be entitled, not in excess of 456*l.* 5*s.* a year, with the value of their Colonel's allowances on the scale allowed by G. G. O. No. 1 of 1881, together with a bonus of 18 months' staff salary of their regimental appointments and free passages to England for themselves and their families.

II.—To officers of from 20 to 32 years' service, a bonus equal to 18 months' staff salary of their regimental appointments, in addition to any pension to which they may be entitled, with free passages as above.

22. The new organisation of Cavalry and Infantry will have effect from 1st July 1882.

23. The reduction of the regiments hereby ordered will be completed during the month of June 1882, and the transfers of men who elect to serve in other corps will be made on the 30th June 1882, under orders which will be issued by the Commander-in-Chief in India and the Governments respectively concerned.

24. Officers of the regiments to be reduced who desire to avail themselves of the offer contained in paragraph 21 should notify their intention to the Adjutant General on or before the 30th September 1882.

25. The Governor General in Council takes this opportunity to announce, with the sanction of the Secretary of State for India, the grant of good-conduct pay to non-commissioned officers as follows:—

To Duffadars and Havildars—

	Rs.
After 2 years' good service in that grade ...	1 per month.
„ 4 „ „ ...	2 „
„ 6 „ „ ...	3 „
„ 8 „ „ ...	4 „
To Naiks—
After 2 years' good service in that grade ...	1 „
„ 4 „ „ ...	2 „

26. Subsidiary orders regulating the above grant will be issued by the Commander-in-Chief in India and the Governments concerned respectively. It will take effect from the 1st of July 1882, when those non-commissioned officers who have already completed any of the above periods of service will at once receive the corresponding rate of good-conduct pay.

No. 112.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 46 of the Native Passenger Ships Act, No. VIII of 1876, the Governor General in Council is pleased to make the following rules, to be substituted for those bearing the same numbers which were published in the Notification of the Department of Revenue, Agriculture and Commerce, No. 298 (Commerce and Trade), dated 8th August 1877 :—

IV.—Every such ship shall be fitted with not less than two privies, sufficiently screened from public view and readily accessible, and with one additional such privy for every 100 passengers, or part of that number, carried in excess of 100, but no privies shall be allowed in the between-decks.

A proportion of such privies, in any case not less than one if there be any females among the passengers, shall be set apart for the exclusive use of females, such proportion corresponding, as nearly as may be, to the proportion of female to male passengers.

V.—Every such ship shall be provided with not less than two places for washing, sufficiently screened from public view, whereof a full proportion, as prescribed in the case of privies in Rule IV, shall be set apart exclusively for females. A sufficient number of hand-pumps shall also be provided for supplying sea water for purposes of ablution.

VII.—Every such ship shall be provided with not less than two cabooses, or cooking ranges, on deck, properly housed and covered, to which passengers can have ready access. The ranges shall be made of substantial plate iron lined inside with bricks, and raised at least 4 inches from the deck, with an outlet or chimney at top for the escape of smoke. Each range shall contain five or six cooking places, and an additional range shall be provided for every two hundred passengers carried in excess of one hundred. Cooking on board in the passengers' own stoves is prohibited.

The crew of the vessel shall not be allowed to use the cooking ranges set apart for passengers during the period passengers are on board, but shall be provided with a separate cooking range.

ORGANISATION.

No. 210.—INDIAN ARMY—

The Most Hon'ble the Governor General in Council hereby announces certain of the measures which have been determined upon, with the approval of Her Majesty's Government, in regard to the regimental organisation of the Indian Army.

2. Under the organisation now to be adopted, every Native cavalry regiment (except the four regiments of Madras Native cavalry, whose establishment will remain unaltered) will consist, as at present, of six troops organised in three squadrons, each regiment having the following establishment:—

3 Ressaldars,
3 Ressaidars,
1 Woordie-Major,
6 Jemadars,
6 Kote-Duffadars,
48 Duffadars (including 1 Farrier-Major and 1 Salootrie),
6 Trumpeters,
477 Privates (including 1 Assistant Salootrie and 6 Farriers).

In the Bombay cavalry the present establishment of commissioned and non-commissioned ranks will remain unaltered at 87, the privates being raised to 463 in number instead of to 477, the total strength in Bengal and Bombay being thus 550 of all ranks.

The establishment of the Cavalry of the Corps of Guides (Queen's Own) will remain unaltered.

3. Every Native infantry regiment will consist, as at present, of eight companies, each company having the following establishment:—

1 Subadar,
1 Jemadar,
5 Havildars,
5 Naiks,
2 Drummers,
90 Privates,

making a total per regiment of 832 Natives of all ranks.

The Madras regiments will retain their extra Havildar-Major as at present.

4. The three regiments of Assam Light Infantry will retain their present strength of 912 of all ranks. The five Goorkha regiments will also retain that strength for the present.

5. The establishment of regiments being fixed as above stated, and as the total strength of the army is to remain substantially unchanged, this measure of reorganisation involves the reduction of four regiments of cavalry and eighteen of infantry.

6. The Governor General in Council has determined that of the four cavalry regiments to be reduced, three shall be reduced in the Bengal Army, including the Punjab Frontier Force, and one in the Bombay Army. Of the eighteen regiments of infantry to be reduced, six shall be reduced in the Bengal Army, including the Punjab Frontier Force, four in the Bombay Army, and eight in the Madras Army. The present and future establishments of the Indian Army will therefore be as follows:—

	Present Estabt.	New Estabt.
Cavalry—
Bengal (excluding Cavalry of the Corps of Guides)	24	21
Madras	4	4
Bombay	7	6
	35	31
Infantry—
Bengal (including Infantry of the Corps of Guides)	61	55
Madras	40	32
Bombay	30	26
	131	113
Total ...	166	144

7. In the Bengal Presidency the following are the regiments selected for reduction:—

Cavalry.

16th Cavalry.
17th ,,
4th Punjab Cavalry.

Infantry.

34th Native Infantry.
35th ,, ,,
36th ,, ,,
37th ,, ,,
41st ,, ,,
3rd Punjab Infantry.

8. This reduction will be carried out under the orders of the Commander-in-Chief and the Punjab Government, in the following way:—

9. All Native officers, non-commissioned officers, and men who wish to remain in the service and are physically fit and otherwise well suited for it will be transferred to other regiments by troops and companies, as far as practicable, under subsidiary orders which will be issued by the Commander-in-Chief and the Punjab Government.

10. All Native officers, non-commissioned officers, and men who wish to take their discharge, or who from physical or other causes are not well suited for the service, will be discharged on the following rates of pensions and gratuities:—

I.—The superior rates of pensions specified in paragraph 611 of the Pay Code, volume II, to officers, non-commissioned officers, and men who have completed 25 years of service and upwards.

II.—The ordinary rates of pensions to all officers, non-commissioned officers, and men who have completed 14 years' service, and have less than 25 years' service, with a bonus of one month's pay (including good-conduct pay) for every two years' service.

III.—To officers, non-commissioned officers, and men of more than 10 and less than 14 years' service, two-thirds of the ordinary rate of pension and a bonus of three months' pay (including good-conduct pay).

IV.—To non-commissioned officers and men of 5 and less than 10 years' service, a gratuity of one month's pay for each year of service, together with an additional bonus of three months' pay as above.

V.—To non-commissioned officers and men of less than 5 years' service, a gratuity of six months' pay.

11. In the case of the cavalry, the gratuities will be calculated on the rates of ordinary and not net pay.

12. In those regiments in which, in consequence of the transfers made from the regiments reduced, the strength of Native officers or non-commissioned officers may become in excess of the regular authorised establishment, pensions and gratuities under the above scale may be offered to deserving Native officers and non-commissioned officers of such regiments to the extent of the numbers in excess in these ranks, so that the strength of Native officers and non-commissioned officers may thus be at once brought down to the fixed authorised establishment. Should this reduction however not be completely effected, and any supernumeraries be still left, they will be absorbed by making only two promotions for every three vacancies, every third vacancy being absorbed.

13. Native commissioned officers of cavalry regiments of 25 years' service and upwards, pensioned under the terms of paragraph 10, will receive a gratuity of 12 months' pay, in addition to the higher rate of pension.

14. Free passes by rail to their homes will be given to all officers, non-commissioned officers, and men who take their discharge on pension or gratuity under these orders.

15. In the cavalry regiments about to be reduced, where the chunda (remount) fund of a regiment after the disposal of all its horses (under subsidiary orders to be now issued) is unable to meet the entire cost of defraying the horse price of men discharged and transferred, the sums necessary for this purpose will be granted by the Government of India, under orders which will be issued hereafter.

16. In order to complete the horse price of men who are transferred to other corps, and who have not as yet paid up their full horse price in their present corps, loans will be granted, to Commanding Officers of regiments receiving men transferred, of the amount of such horse price still due, to be repaid without interest at Rs. 2 per man per mensem.

17. Such assistance will be granted to the equipment funds of cavalry regiments reduced as will permit of their paying up in the ordinary way, to men discharged, the proper value of their equipments, the sale proceeds of which will be carried to the credit of the State.

18. The certified actual cost involved in change of uniform and equipment will be allowed to soldiers transferred to other regiments. The necessary changes in the uniforms of the infantry troops transferred will be made at the public expense.

19. The following regiments of the Madras and Bombay armies have been selected by the Governments of those Presidencies respectively for reduction :—

Madras Army.

The 34th Native Infantry.
„ 35th „
„ 36th „
„ 37th „
„ 38th „
„ 39th „
„ 40th „
„ 41st „

Bombay Army.

The 3rd Sind Horse.
„ 6th Native Infantry.
„ 11th „
„ 15th „
„ 18th „

21. Consequent upon the increase in the strength of Native regiments, the establishment of European officers will now be fixed at eight officers per regiment, or one more than the present establishment; the additional officer to be appointed in the rank of wing or squadron officer. This augmentation will at once absorb a part of the junior officers of the reduced regiments, while the total establishment of European officers serving on regimental duty with the Indian Army will remain almost unaltered. With respect to the senior officers of these regiments, the following terms are offered, under the orders of the Secretary of State for India, to such of them as may retire from the service within three months from the date of their regiments being broken up :—

I.—To officers of over 32 years' service, the pension to which they may be entitled, not in excess of 456*l.* 5*s.* a year, with the value of their Colonel's allowances on the scale allowed by G. G. O. No. 1 of 1881, together with a bonus of 18 months' staff salary of their regimental appointments and free passages to England for themselves and their families.

II.—To officers of from 20 to 32 years' service, a bonus equal to 18 months' staff salary of their regimental appointments, in addition to any pension to which they may be entitled, with free passages as above.

22. The new organisation of Cavalry and Infantry will have effect from 1st July 1882.

23. The reduction of the regiments hereby ordered will be completed during the month of June 1882, and the transfers of men who elect to serve in other corps will be made on the 30th June 1882, under orders which will be issued by the Commander-in-Chief in India and the Governments respectively concerned.

24. Officers of the regiments to be reduced who desire to avail themselves of the offer contained in paragraph 21 should notify their intention to the Adjutant General on or before the 30th September 1882.

25. The Governor General in Council takes this opportunity to announce, with the sanction of the Secretary of State for India, the grant of good-conduct pay to non-commissioned officers as follows :—

To Duffadars and Havildars—

	Rs.
After 2 years' good service in that grade	1 per month.
„ 4 „ „	2 „
„ 6 „ „	3 „
„ 8 „ „	4 „

To Naiks—

After 2 years' good service in that grade	1 „
„ 4 „ „	2 „

26. Subsidiary orders regulating the above grant will be issued by the Commander-in-Chief in India and the Governments concerned respectively. It will take effect from the 1st of July 1882, when those non-commissioned officers who have already completed any of the above periods of service will at once receive the corresponding rate of good-conduct pay.

The 28th April, 1882.

4. Having caused an inquiry to be addressed to the Horse Guards on the subject, I have been informed that the practice in the British Army is to reckon service as qualifying for the rank of Colonel from the day after the date of the London Gazette notifying the appointment, or from the date specified in the Gazette.

5. I request that a similar practice may be adopted in calculating the service of officers of the Indian Army, the actual date borne by an appointment being taken as the commencement of the service qualifying an officer of the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel for the Brevet rank of Colonel.

6. I have also been informed that no change has been made in respect of the mode of reckoning leave as part of the period qualifying for the rank of Colonel.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Simla, the 18th May 1882.

No. 1101.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

Read again—

Financial Resolution No. 1065, dated 21st February 1882, regarding the supply of swords of Indian manufacture.

Read also—

Letter from the Government of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, No. 255, dated 3rd May 1882.

RESOLUTION.—In paragraph 4 of the Resolution of the 21st February 1882, read above, the Governor General in Council requested that in future swords required for the Police and other Departments might be procured of Indian manufacture in communication with the Inspector General of Police, Punjab, if they could not be made within the local limits of the presidency or province concerned. As, however, it has since been ascertained that swords can be extensively manufactured in the North-Western Provinces as well as in the Punjab, and that skilled workmen can now be found in almost every district in the North-Western Provinces, the Governor General in Council requests that when it is found more convenient to obtain swords from the North-Western Provinces than from the Punjab, the necessary steps to procure them may be taken in communication with the Inspector General of Police, North-Western Provinces.

ORDERED, that the foregoing be communicated to the Military Department and to all Local Governments and Administrations for information, in continuation of Financial Resolution No. 1065, dated 21st February 1882, and that it be published in the Gazette of India.

No. 282.—With reference to G. G. O. No. 210 of 1882, and under the authority of the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to notify that Commandants and Wing and Squadron Commanders of Native Regiments will be eligible for the special terms of retirement offered in paragraph 21 of the G. G. O. above quoted, to the extent to which such retirements may not be availed of in each army respectively by the Commandants and Wing and Squadron Commanders of the regiments to be reduced.

2. Each vacancy created in a corps to be retained, consequent on Commandants or Wing or Squadron Commanders accepting retirement on these terms, will be filled up by the appointment of an officer in a corresponding regimental rank from one of the reduced regiments, who has elected to continue in the service.

3. Commandants thus appointed from reduced regiments to corps to be retained will count their previous command service in the former towards the limited tenure of command laid down in G. G. O. No. 209 of 1882.

4. The total number of the special retirements offered are as follows:—

		Commandants.	Squadron or Wing Commanders.
For Bengal Army and Punjab Frontier Force	Cavalry	3	9

Section 72.

Substitute the following for Rules 1 to 4 under this Section :—

1. Privilege Leave is not admissible to—

(a).—Officers serving in Departments in which regular vacations are allowed, during which the officers are permitted to be absent from duty (e.g., Uncovenanted Judicial Officers, Educational Officers, Officers in a High Court).

(b).—District and Sessions Judges who are permitted to avail themselves of the periodical court vacations.

But in case of urgent necessity, privilege leave may be granted to any such Officer, under the ordinary rules; subject to the conditions, (1) that the Officer shall during his absence receive only half the salary and allowances ordinarily admissible during privilege leave, and (2) that the leave cannot in any case be combined with vacation.

2. Rule 1 does not apply to the case of an Officer who is, by general or special orders issued by competent authority, prevented in any year from availing himself of the vacation or vacations by reason of his having to remain at his post on duty. In such a case, privilege leave may be granted under the ordinary rules; provided always that the leave shall not in any case be combined with vacation.

3. An Officer who is, by general or special orders issued by competent authority, prevented from availing himself of a part only of a periodical vacation may, during privilege leave subsequently taken, draw his full salary for a period bearing the same proportion, if the vacation be annual, to a month, or if it be half-yearly, to half a month, as the time spent on duty during the vacation bears to the whole vacation.

CLOTHING.

No. 289.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following correspondence for general information :—

No. 260. Simla, 22nd July, 1881.

To Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

MY LORD MARQUIS,—Having noticed the heavy expenditure annually incurred by the Indian revenues on account of stores imported from England, we have now under consideration the question how best to develop such branches of local manufactures as may admit of reducing as far as practicable the expenditure incurred on the importation of stores from England.

2. There appear good grounds for the expectation that, if the Government of India publicly express their willingness to accept articles of local manufacture in preference to obtaining them from England, private enterprise in many branches of manufacture will sooner or later be forthcoming to compete for such supply. We do not anticipate that articles of local manufacture can in the beginning be equal in all respects to those imported; still we see no reason why they should not in many cases be as durable; and by offering every encouragement to local industry, we hope to obtain articles at rates equivalent to, if not less than, those paid by the Store Department, India Office.

3. We have been led to these remarks by a question recently submitted to us regarding the supply of cloth for the uniform of the Army. At present no cloth suitable for British troops is manufactured in India, but we believe that the fabrication of such cloths in India is by no means impossible; and we would therefore beg to enquire whether there is any objection on the part of Her Majesty's Government to accept for British troops returning home clothing made of any other material save that bearing the Pimlico mark, at the full value of English clothing, if it be of equally good quality. We would at the same time strongly recommend, for the reasons above set forth, that, if suitable cloth of local manufacture should be offered for sale at a favorable price, we be empowered to accept it.

MILITARY, No. 423. INDIA OFFICE; London, 15th December, 1881.

To His Excellency the Most Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council.

MY LORD MARQUIS,—

Para. 1. I have considered in Council your Military letter No. 260 of the 22nd July, 1881, in which you represent that your attention has been drawn to the heavy expenditure annually incurred by your Government on account of stores imported from England, and to the question of the best means of developing such branches of local manufactures as may tend to reduce this expenditure.

2. Your Government entertain the expectation that, if you publicly express your willingness to accept articles of local manufacture in preference to those obtainable from home, private enterprise in many branches of manufacture will be prepared to undertake the supplies needed by the several Departments of the State. You do not anticipate that locally manufactured articles can at the outset be equal to importations, but you see no reason to doubt their durability in many cases, and you hope, by offering every encouragement to local industry, to obtain articles at rates equivalent to, if not less than, those paid by the Store Department of this Office.

3. You proceed to remark that these observations have arisen in consequence of a question recently submitted to you regarding the supply of cloth for the uniform of the Army. At present no cloth suitable for British troops is manufactured in India, but you believe that the fabrication of such cloths in India is by no means impossible; and you therefore desire to be informed whether there is any objection on the part of Her Majesty's Government to accept for British troops returning home clothing made of any other material save that bearing the Pimlico mark, at the full value of English clothing, if it be of equally good quality.

4. Fully sharing the views of your Government as to the importance of developing to the utmost local industries and manufactures, and of rendering India as independent as possible of home supplies, I caused an inquiry to be addressed to the War Office on the subject of your present letter.

5. You will observe from the reply received from the War Office,* copy of which is enclosed for your information, that the Secretary of State for War states that, although he is not at present in a position to give an unqualified assent to this proposition, inasmuch as no experience has yet been gained as to whether cloth made in India would be equal in quality, color, and general durability to that manufactured in this country, he will be prepared to give the subject fair consideration when the occasion arises.

* No. 2494 of 19th November, 1881.

6. It will now rest with your Government to adopt such measures as you may deem most conducive to stimulate the growth and development of local manufactures essential to the needs of the State in its several departments, and you may rely on my hearty co-operation in any steps which your Government may take with the object of dispensing with supplies from home.

7. In conclusion, I have to add that, in accordance with your recommendation, I entirely approve of your Government accepting any suitable cloth of local manufacture that may be offered for sale at a favorable price.

8. I observe that your Government still indent for clothing for the Native troops and even for the police, and it seems to me desirable that your efforts should first be directed to the object of providing fitting materials for this purpose. The difficulties connected with any change in the material for clothing British troops will not have escaped the notice of your Lordship's Government.

I have, &c.,

P. C., INDIA Regts. No. 2494. WAR OFFICE, 19th November 1881.

SIR,—I am directed by the Secretary of State for War to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 5th instant, M.-893-W., forwarding a copy of a letter received from the Government of India, in which enquiry is made whether there would be any objection on the part of Her Majesty's Government to accept for British troops returning to this country clothing made up of cloth manufactured in India of any other material save that bearing the Pimlico mark, at the full value of English clothing, and in reply to acquaint you, for the information of the Secretary of State for India in Council, that, although Mr. Childers is not at present in a position to give an unqualified assent to this proposal, inasmuch as no experience has yet been gained as to whether cloth made in India would be equal in quality, color, and general durability to that manufactured in this country, he will be prepared to give the subject fair consideration when the occasion arises.

HOME DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATIONS.—PUBLIC.

Simla, the 8th June 1882.

No. 865.—Under the provisions of Section 17 of the Indian Arms Act, 1878, the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct that the following Rule for the grant of licenses for the importation into British India, by land or river, of arms, ammunition, or military stores, shall be inserted after Rule 6B of the Rules framed under Section 17 of the said Act, and published in the Notification mentioned in the margin:—

No. 1601, dated the 30th August 1879.

6 C. Licenses to import into British India, by land or river, arms (other than arms for which the Governor General in Council is to issue licenses under Rule 5), ammunition, or military stores may be granted by the Magistrate of the district to which such arms, ammunition, or military stores are consigned; or, if such arms, ammunition, or military stores are consigned to a Presidency Town, by the Commissioner of Police. The fee payable in respect of each such license shall be Rs. 5; but officers granting such licenses are empowered to remit the fee when the arms, ammunition, or military stores are of a reasonable quantity, and such officers are satisfied that they are required bonâ fide for purposes of protection of person or property. In the case of arms, ammunition, or military stores imported from a Native State, a copy of the license shall be sent by the officer granting it to the Political Officer of the State from which they are to be imported. If the district to which the arms, ammunition, or military stores are consigned is other than a frontier district, and they are to cross the frontier by road or river, a copy of the license shall also be sent to the Magistrate of the frontier district, who shall, if he thinks necessary, before permitting the arms, ammunition, or military stores to leave his district, require the holder of the license to produce them for his inspection. In cases in which the arms, ammunition, or military stores are to cross the frontier by rail, a copy of the license shall be sent to the Railway authorities at the place to which the arms, ammunition, or military stores are to be conveyed by Railway. The Railway authorities shall in every such instance satisfy themselves before delivery that the arms, ammunition, or military stores claimed by any consignee correspond with the description given in the original license, which must be produced by him, and also that the license is identical in substance with the copy sent to them by the officer granting

it. If the license is not produced, or the arms, ammunition, or military stores claimed do not correspond with the description in the license, the Railway authorities shall give immediate notice of the fact to the nearest Magistrate. Nothing in this rule applies to import into the district of Ajmere.

The licenses shall be prepared in the following form :—

FEE FIVE RUPEES IN STAMPS.

License to import arms, ammunition, or military stores by river or land.

Name and residence of license-holder and agent, if any.	Number of packages.	ARMS.		AMMUNITION OR MILITARY STORES.		Place of despatch and route.	Purpose for which consignment is required.	Destination.	Name and residence of consignee.	Period for which license is valid.
		Description.	Number.	Description.	Weight or Number.					From the of 188 . to the of 188 .

(Signature.)

The 188 . (Seal.) Magistrate of the District or

Commissioner of Police .

Endorsements to be printed on the reverse of the above form :—

This license is valid only for the period and the route named herein.

It becomes invalid if bulk is broken, or the consignment stopped, at any place on the journey.

It is given subject to the provisions of the Indian Arms Act, 1878, and of the rules framed thereunder.

The contents of each package covered by this license shall be described in legible characters on the outside of such package.

This license must be delivered to the District Magistrate or the Commissioner of Police when the articles covered by it reach their destination. In the cases of consignments crossing the frontier by road or river, the articles must, within six days of their reaching British territory, be available for exhibition to the frontier Magistrate, or other officer whom he may empower in this behalf. In case of consignments crossing the frontier by rail this license must be shown to the Railway authorities of the station of delivery.

The Governor General in Council is also pleased to direct that the following Rules shall be substituted for Rules 7A, 8, 9 and 10 of the Rules framed under Section 17 of the Indian Arms Act, 1878, and published in Home Department Notification No. 1892, dated the 25th November 1881 :—

(7A.) Nothing in Rule 5, 6, 6C or 7 shall be deemed to authorise the grant of licenses—

(a) to import any arms, ammunition, or military stores from Portuguese India;

(b) to export to Portuguese India by sea, river or land, any arms, ammunition, or military stores, except the same be exported for the exclusive use of the Government of Portuguese India, or are covered by a special license for import into Portuguese India signed by the Secretary General to the Government of Portuguese India.

(8.) Persons desirous of transporting, importing by land or river, or exporting arms, ammunition, or military stores, must apply in writing to the nearest officer authorised to grant such licenses. The application must specify—

(a) the place to which the articles are to be transported, imported or exported; the route of transport, import, or export; and the probable time that will be occupied in the journey:

(b) the quantity, description, average price, and the purpose of each kind of arms or ammunition: or

(c) in the case of transport or export, whether the applicant has obtained the consent of the Magistrate or Political Officer of the place of consignment. [If so, the evidence of such consent must be produced.]

(9.) Persons transporting, importing by land or river, or exporting arms, ammunition or military stores under a license, must write legibly on the cases or packages containing such articles an account of their contents.

(10.) In the case of transport, or import by land or river, the consignee must, within six days of the articles reaching their destination, deliver the transport or import license to the Magistrate of the district, or, in the case of a Presidency Town, to the Commissioner of Police. In the case of articles crossing the frontier of British India by road or river—(1) the export license must, within six days of the consignment reaching the frontier district, and before it leaves British territory, be delivered to the Magistrate of the frontier district, or other officer empowered by him on this behalf; (2) the import license must, within six days of the consignment entering British territory, be shown to the Magistrate of the frontier district, or other officer empowered by him on this behalf.

The officer to whom the transport, import, or export license, as the case may be, may be delivered, must satisfy himself that the articles correspond with the entries in the license, and that any deficiency is properly accounted for.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Simla, the 16th June 1882.

No. 1765.—Ordered, that the following correspondence regarding the supply of black writing ink of Indian manufacture for use in Government offices in Madras be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

R. E. HAMILTON,
for Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of Madras, Financial Department, No. 874, dated 19th May 1882.

Read the following:—

No. 182, dated 10th May 1882.

From—J. G. FERRAND, Esq., Superintendent of Stationery, Madras,

To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras.

In forwarding the enclosed report from the Committee for Examining Inks, I beg to add, first, that G. D. Iyah Pillai, whose tender for black ink is recommended for acceptance, is the well-known Madras Ink-maker referred to in the correspondence noted in the margin.

G. Os. 22nd February and 27th August 1881, Nos. 308 and 1578.

2. As regards price, his rate is 6 annas per dozen papers. The last invoice price of the ink-powders received from England is 1*s.* 1*d.* per dozen. Amrita Lall Roy of Calcutta, whose ink forms the subject of the Proceedings of the Government of India, communicated in Madras Government Proceedings, 28th ultimo, No. 344, just received, is one of the tenderers to supply Madras with black ink, and he offers to do so at 8 annas 3 pies per dozen papers. Iyah Pillai's ink is preferred by the Committee to his. The Calcutta price of his ink in bottle, as stated in the Proceedings of Government of India above referred to, is Rs. 2 per dozen quarts. A dozen powders produce six quarts, and the cost of a dozen quarts of Iyah Pillai's ink, exclusive of bottles, will be 12 annas.

Report from (Major E. A. BRUCE, Deputy Assistant Commissary General; C. D. MACLEANE, Esq., Acting Sub-Secretary to the Board of Revenue; Surgeon T. K. ROGERS, M.B., F.R.C.S., Chemical Examiner; E. M. PALMER, Esq., Assistant Accountant General; and J. G. FERRAND, Esq., Superintendent of Stationery) the Committee for Examining Inks, to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras,—dated 10th May 1882.

With reference to G. O., 31st October 1881, No. 2100, we beg to report that the following tenders were opened, at the Stationery Office on 15th February last, for the supply of black and red inks of Indian manufacture:—

Names of Tenderers.	For black ink-powder, 3,640 dozen of 1¾ ounces each paper.		For red ink-powder, 30 ounces in papers, 1 doz. = 1 oz.		Value of Tender.	Bank's receipt for deposit as security.
	Per doz. rate.	Rs. A. P. 0 10 5	Per oz. rate.	Rs. A. P. 0 13 7
					Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
1. G. D. Iyah Pillai ...	Doz.	0 6 0	...	...	1,365 0 0	70 0 0
2. M. Narasimooloo Chetty ...	,,	0 5 0	Oz.	0 2 6	1,142 3 0	64 0 0
3. Goocrdoondoss Birjubookoondoss & Co.	,,	0 6 6	,,	...	1,478 12 0	75 0 0
4. Theagaroya Moodelly ...	,,	0 6 0	Doz.	0 7 6	.....	100 0 0
5. Mr. Kelkar, Poona ...	,,	0 7 0	,,	...	.....	Money order 80 0 0
6. Amrita Lall Roy, Calcutta ...	,,	0 8 3	,,	...	.....	Calcutta Currency Notes 95 0 0

2. Narasimooloo Chetty and Theagaroya Moodelly, who alone tendered for red ink, made each a pint of his ink in our presence. The former acknowledged his powder to be fuchsine, and the latter his to be ponceau. There was thus really no tender for red ink of Indian manufacture.

3. The samples of black ink furnished with the above tenders were tried by us and tested by Dr. Rogers, Chemical Examiner, whose report on these and on the inks specified in the margin is herewith forwarded. Dr. Rogers also laid before the Committee specimens of writing executed with the various inks, which had been submitted to a considerable number of tests, showing how they had borne them. We beg to recommend the acceptance of the tender of G. D. Iyah Pillai, whose we consider to be on the whole the best of the inks tendered; and we do not think that an ink inferior to this should be supplied to public offices.

Morrell's registration black ink.
Dr. Waldie's black ink, tested under instructions demi-officially received from Government.

No. 77, dated 6th May 1882.

From—SURGEON T. K. ROGERS, M.B., F.R.C.S., F.C.S. (London), Chemical Examiner, Madras,

To—The Superintendent of Stationery, Madras.

As requested at the last meeting of the Committee, I have the honour to submit a brief abstract of the conclusions arrived at from the results of the various tests and trials which were for the most part shown to the Committee.

2. The two inks tendered in solution were both of excellent quality, but "Waldie's Black Writing Ink" was superior to "Morrell's Registration Ink."

3. The seven samples of inks tendered in powder are decidedly inferior in quality to "Morrell's" ink.

The results obtained with Iyah Pillai's ink were in every respect slightly superior to those obtained from the other six samples.

And Iyah Pillai's ink keeps much better than the other six samples, which grow mouldy after a very brief exposure.

Order thereon by the Government of Madras.

The Government sanction the acceptance of Iyah Pillai's tender for the supply of black ink. It is noted that there was no tender for red ink of Indian manufacture, the samples produced being merely fuchsine and ponceau powders.

No. 375.

Copy to the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce, for information.

No. 1733.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 8 of the Indian Stamp Act (I of 1879), the Governor General in Council is pleased to remit in the whole of British India the duty chargeable under the said Act on Bills of Lading executed out of British India and relating to property to be delivered in British India.

NOTIFICATION.

Simla, the 22nd June, 1882.

No. 7.—The following Statute is published for general information :—

45 VIC., CAP 7.

An Act to provide, during twelve months, for the Discipline and Regulation of the Army. [28th April, 1882.]

WHEREAS the raising or keeping a standing army within the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland in time of peace, unless it be with the consent of Parliament, is against law :

And whereas it is adjudged necessary by Her Majesty, and this present Parliament, that a body of forces should be continued for the safety of the United Kingdom, and the defence of the possessions of Her Majesty's Crown, and that the whole number of such forces should consist of one hundred and thirty-two thousand nine hundred and five men, including those to be employed at the depôts in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland for the training of recruits for service at home and abroad, but exclusive of the numbers actually serving within Her Majesty's Indian possessions :

And whereas it is also judged necessary for the safety of the United Kingdom, and the defence of the possessions of this realm, that a body of Royal Marine forces should be employed in Her Majesty's fleet and naval service, under the direction of the Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom, or the Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral aforesaid :

And whereas the said marine forces may frequently be quartered or be on shore, or sent to do duty or be on board transport ships or vessels, merchant ships or vessels, or other ships or vessels, or they may be under other circumstances in which they will not be subject to the laws relating to the government of Her Majesty's forces by sea :

And whereas no man can be forejudged of life or limb, or subjected in time of peace to any kind of punishment within this realm by martial law, or in any other manner than by the judgment of his peers, and according to the known and established laws of this realm, yet nevertheless it being requisite, for the retaining all the before-mentioned forces, and other persons subject to military law, in their duty, that an exact discipline be observed, and that persons belonging to the said forces who mutiny or stir up sedition, or desert Her Majesty's service, or are guilty of crimes and offences to the prejudice of good order and military discipline, be brought to a more exemplary and speedy punishment than the usual forms of the law will allow ;

44 & 45 Vic., c. 58. And whereas the Army Act, 1881, will expire—

(a) in the United Kingdom, the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man, on the thirtieth day of April one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two; and

(b) elsewhere in Europe, inclusive of Malta, also in the West Indies and America, on the thirty-first day of July one thousand eight-hundred and eighty-two; and

(c) elsewhere, whether within or without Her Majesty's dominions, on the thirty-first day of December one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two;

Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :—

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited as the Army (Annual) Act, 1882.

Army Act (44 & 45 Vic., c. 58) to be in force for specified times.

2. The Army Act, 1881, shall be and remain in force during the periods hereinafter mentioned, and no longer, unless otherwise provided by Parliament; that is to say :—

(1) within the United Kingdom, the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man, from the thirtieth day of April one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two to the thirtieth day of April one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three, both inclusive; and

(2) elsewhere in Europe, inclusive of Malta, also in the West Indies and America, from the thirty-first day of July one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two to the thirty-first day of July one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three, both inclusive; and

(3) elsewhere, whether within or without Her Majesty's dominions, from the thirty-first day of December one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two to the thirty-first day of December one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three, both inclusive; and the day from which the Army Act, 1881, is continued in any place by this Act is in relation to that place referred to in this Act as the commencement of this Act.

44 & 45 Vic., c. 58.

The Army Act, 1881, while in force shall apply to persons subject to military law, whether within or without Her Majesty's dominions.

44 & 45 Vic., c. 58.

A person subject to military law shall not be exempted from the provisions of the Army Act, 1881, by reason only that the number of the forces for the time being in the service of Her Majesty, exclusive of the marine forces, is either greater or less than the number hereinbefore mentioned.

Prices in respect of billeting. 44 & 45 Vic., c. 58.

3. There shall be paid to the keeper of a victualling house for the accommodation provided by him in pursuance of the Army Act, 1881, the prices specified in the schedule to this Act.

Amendments of Army Act, 1881.

Correction of misprints in 44 & 45 Vic., c. 58.

4. Whereas the misprints hereinafter mentioned occur in the Army Act, 1881, and it is expedient to correct the same:

Be it therefore enacted as follows :—

(1) In section forty-six of the Army Act, 1881, the words "imprisonment exceeding seven days" shall be substituted for the words "punishment exceeding seven days," in the ninth sub-section.

(2) In section eighty-seven of the Army Act, 1881, the words "a proclamation in pursuance of the enactments relating to the calling out of the reserve on permanent service" shall be substituted for "a proclamation in pursuance of this Act" in the first sub-section.

(3) In section one hundred and thirty-eight of the Army Act, 1881, "section seventy-three" shall be substituted for the words "section seventy-one" in the third sub-section.

(4) In section one hundred and forty-four of the Army Act, 1881, the words "respecting his contract" shall be substituted for the words "respecting his conduct" in the second sub-section.

(5) In section one hundred and forty-five of the Army Act, 1881, the words "when any order or decree" shall be substituted for the words "when any order, decree" in the second sub-section.

(6) In section one hundred and seventy-five of the Army Act, 1881, the words "Indian military law" shall be substituted for the words "that law" in the seventh sub-section.

Removal of doubts as to section 90 (5) of 44 & 45 Vic., c. 58, as to discharged soldiers.

5. Whereas doubts may arise as to whether sub-section five of section ninety of the Army Act, 1881, applies to all soldiers of the regular forces when discharged, or only to such of those soldiers as are specified in the foregoing provisions of that section, and it is expedient to remove such doubts: Be it therefore enacted as follows :—

In section ninety of the Army Act, 1881, the words "as mentioned in the second sub-section of this section" shall be added after the words "or his re-engagement" in the fifth sub-section.

Printing of amendments. See 33 & 34 Vic., c. 101.

6. In all copies of the Army Act, 1881, which may be printed after the commencement of this Act the words by this Act directed to be substituted for other words shall be printed therein in lieu of the latter words, and the words directed by this Act to be added shall be added thereto.

ORDER—By the Government of India, Public Works Department.

Read the following letter and enclosure :—

No. 132 R.S., dated 7th June 1882.

From—The Government of India, Public Works Department,

To—The Government of Madras, Public Works Department.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of the following Proceedings of the Government of Madras :—

Public Works Department Proceedings, March 1882, Nos. 31-33,
" " " April " " 9-11,
" " " " " " 12-14,

containing indents for stores required for the Madras and South Indian Railways.

2. It would appear, from a perusal of the items, that several articles are still being indented for from England that can be obtained, as cheaply and of as good quality, of indigenous manufacture. I am therefore directed to request that the Consulting Engineer for Railways may be instructed to arrange with the Agents of the Railway Companies to utilise, as far as possible, the products of this country rather than drawing their whole supplies of stores from England.

3. The accompanying list of articles, extracted from the items in the abovenoted indents, show such stores as are known to be manufactured, either wholly or in part, in India ; and doubtless were the present manufactures of the Madras Presidency accurately known, other items might have been added to the list. It is quite probable that the distance of some of these centres of supply from Madras renders the prices of such stores prohibitive ; but the list will indicate to the Consulting Engineer, when future indents are preferred for sanction, where articles of Indian manufacture can be obtained.

List of articles entered in the indent for Public Works Stores, Madras Railway, which, on the information before the Government of India, can be had of local manufacture.

No. 387 I.P.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following agreement, by which the villages of Gabat, Waniad, Bayar, and Choila have been ceded to the Maharaja of Edur, with effect from the 2nd of November 1881 :—

Agreement between the British Government and His Highness the Maharaja of Edur.

WHEREAS the villages specified in the Schedule hereto annexed and situated in the Ahmedabad Collectorate in the Presidency of Bombay have been since the year 1818 A.D. and now are part of British India, but the Edur State has received a share of the revenue of the said villages; and whereas a certain annual sum of Rs. 1,600 is payable by the British Government to the said State as compensation for the loss of certain salt dues on the Marwar frontier of the said State which were relinquished by the said State at the request of the said Government; and whereas the said Government and the said State, being desirous of separating their interests in the revenues of the said villages and providing for payment of the compensation payable as aforesaid, have agreed that the said State shall grant and transfer to the said Government its share in the revenues of the villages specified in Part A of the said Schedule, and that the said Government shall cede and grant to the said State the villages specified in Part B of the said Schedule; and whereas the Secretary of State for India in Council has, by order of Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland and Empress of India, sanctioned the cession of the villages specified in Part B of the said Schedule: Now it is hereby witnessed that—

(1) His Highness the Maharaja of Edur doth hereby grant and transfer to the Governor General of India in Council all his rights, interests, and share to and in the revenues of the villages specified in Part A of the Schedule hereto annexed.

(2) The Governor General of India in Council, with the sanction hereinbefore recited, doth hereby cede and grant to His Highness the Maharaja of Edur, his heirs and successors, the villages specified in Part B of the Schedule hereto annexed, to hold the same on the terms and subject to the rules and conditions on which he holds the rest of his territory; and the said villages shall cease to be part of British India and shall become part of the Edur State on and from the second day of November 1881.

(3) His Highness the Maharaja of Edur doth hereby for himself, his heirs and successors, promise and agree that he and they will respect and protect all existing rights in the villages hereby ceded (and in particular the rights of the Thakoor of Jabut in the village of Jabut).

And whereas the Thakoor of Man is at present in possession of the share in the revenues of the village of Punsri (being one of the villages specified in Part A of the Schedule hereto annexed), which share has been hereby transferred by the said State to the said Government. And whereas such share is valued at Rs. 742 per annum, and it is desirable that the said State should compensate the said Thakoor for the loss of the said share.

(4) It is hereby agreed that the said State shall grant to the Thakoor of Man, in lieu of the share in the revenues of the village of Punsri, of which he is at present in possession, land yielding an annual revenue of not less than Rs. 742 in some village in the said State convenient to both parties. And whereas the amount of revenue to be received annually by the said State under the cession of territory hereby made to it will exceed by the sum of Rs. 672 per annum the amount now annually payable to the said State on account of its share in the villages mentioned in the said Schedule and of the compensation hereinbefore referred to, and it is desirable that some arrangement should be made for the annual payment by the said State to the said Government of the said excess sum of Rs. 672.

(5) It is hereby agreed that the said Government shall, without regard to the amounts actually collected from any of the said villages, deduct annually the sum of Rs. 672 from the compensation payable by the said Government to the said State for the suppression of its transit duties, and the sum so deducted shall be taken by the said Government in payment of the said excess sum of Rs. 672.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Simla, the 10th June 1882.

No. 1622.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

Read—

Despatch from the Secretary of State for India, No. 288, dated 15th September 1881, in which, with reference to the case of Mr. C. E. S. Steele, a Revenue Deputy Collector in the Sind Commission, who was for some time employed under the Government of the Transvaal, the Secretary of State has decided that Mr. Steele cannot be relieved from the usual deduction of one-fifth of his salary under the Transvaal State as contribution to the Government of India towards pension. In this Despatch the Secretary of State desires the Government of India to consider whether the rate of contribution required to be made by officers lent for service under Foreign Governments is not unnecessarily high, and whether it might not be diminished.

RESOLUTION.—Under the Rules in Chapter III of the Civil Pension Code, an Officer of the British Government transferred to Foreign Service is required to pay to the Government of India a contribution out of the salary which he receives while in Foreign Service to meet the cost of his pension and leave allowances exclusive of allowances while on privilege leave. "Foreign Service" includes service under a Native State, Municipality, Port Trust, Court of Wards, or other Body financially independent of the Government of India. It also includes service which is paid for from a Local Fund under such circumstances that it does not qualify for pension and leave under the Rules in the Civil Pension and Leave Codes. The rate of contribution is fixed at 20 per cent. of the gross salary which the Officer receives in Foreign Service, the calculation of his pension and leave allowances being made upon 4-5ths of such salary. The contribution is thus equal to 25 per cent. of the net pay upon which the Officer's pension and leave allowances are calculated. This rate applies to all Officers, whether Military Officers, Covenanted Civil Servants, or Uncovenanted Officers; but it is specially provided in the case of a Native of India, who is not a Covenanted Civil Servant, that, by resigning all claims to leave allowances from the Government of India in respect of his Foreign Service, he may contribute for pension only.

2. The present rules also provide for the payment of contribution by an Officer whose services are lent for other than Imperial purposes, either in England, or in a British Colony or to a Foreign State; but, except as regards service under the Egyptian Government, the precise amount of contribution in this case is not fixed. The contribution in each case is determined by the Government of India, as occasion arises, the maximum contribution, however, being 20 per cent. of the salary received in such Foreign Service.

3. The contribution of 25 per cent. on net pay referred to above includes about $12\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. on account of pension. The Governor General in Council has no reason to suppose that the rate of contribution for pension has been fixed at an unduly high figure in the case of Covenanted Civil Servants. The contribution on account of allowances while on leave is, however, unduly high, and consequently the general rate of 25 per cent. on net pay is capable of reduction to some extent in the case of all officers. Statistics recently compiled show that the average percentage of Officers of the Covenanted Civil Service on leave other than privilege leave is 14·38. In the case of Uncovenanted Officers, the percentage is still less. On this consideration, and also in view of the present arrangements for the extension of local self-government, in connection with which the Government of India is desirous of facilitating in every reasonable way the lending of Officers to Local Bodies without forfeiture of pensionary rights by the Officers, the Governor General in Council is of opinion that the contribution for pension and leave required to be paid to the Government of India by an Officer of the British Government, who is transferred either to "Foreign Service" as defined in page vii of the "Definitions" preceding the Codes of the Financial Department, or whose services are lent for other than Imperial purposes, either in England, or in a British colony or to a Foreign State, shall in future be made—

(a) if the Officer be a Covenanted Civil Servant,—at the rate of $16\frac{2}{3}$ per cent. (one-sixth) on the gross salary which he receives from his foreign employers;

(b) in the case of all other Officers,—at the rate of $14\frac{2}{7}$ per cent. (one-seventh) on the gross salary which the officer receives from his foreign employers: provided always that the contribution from an Uncovenanted Officer shall in no case exceed Rs. $166\frac{2}{3}$ a month.

Where a higher rate of contribution is now paid, the rate shall, for the future, be reduced as above; but it must be understood that in all such cases the gross salary will now be readjusted in such manner as to leave the officer the same net salary which he at present receives.

4. The payment of contributions at the rates now fixed will entitle the Officer to receive from the Government of India, at the proper time, pension and leave allowances (except allowances during privilege leave) in respect of the period of his employment in Foreign Service, &c.; the calculation of pension and leave allowances will be made upon the balance of the salary which remains to the Officer after payment of the prescribed contribution.

5. A Native of India, not being a Covenanted Civil Servant, may, by resigning all claims to allowances from the British Government during leave in respect to the period of his employment in Foreign Service, &c., contribute for pension only. In such case the contribution shall be one-eleventh of the salary which he receives from his foreign employers, and shall not exceed Rs. 100 a month.

6. These Rules are not intended to interfere with the cases of Officers which are specially provided for in Section 10 of the Civil Pension Code (a) to (f). Nor does His Excellency in Council think, by reason of the foregoing change in the rate of contribution in the case of Superior Officers, that any change is necessary in respect of inferior servants, whose case is provided for by Rule 4 under Section 8 of the Civil Pension Code.

ORDERED, that this Resolution be communicated to the several Departments of the Government of India; the several Local Governments; the Comptroller General, and all Accountants General.

Letter from Government, Bombay, No. 3600, dated 29th October 1881.

RESOLUTION.—The question which requires to be dealt with in connection with the papers read above refers to service rendered by an Officer partly under a Municipality and partly under Government at the same time. The case of a Government Officer lent to a Municipality who desires to retain his lien on Government service and his right to pension, is already provided for in the Rules in Chapter III of the Civil Pension Code.

2. The Governor General in Council observes that there are at present no rules under which the service of an Officer who is paid at the same time partly from Municipal funds and partly from Government funds, qualifies for pension and leave. And there is a difficulty in making such rules without change in the law, so as to empower Municipal Boards to pay pensions and leave allowances out of the funds at their disposal.

3. The measures about to be taken in furtherance of the recent policy of Government regarding local self-government, will lead to the necessity of Municipalities availing themselves of the services of Government Officers to a greater extent than is now the case; but while the existing rules, modified as in Resolution No. 1622 of 10th June 1882, will cover the cases of all Officers whose services are wholly lent to Municipalities, Officers of Government who devote only a part of their time to the performance of municipal duties will be at a disadvantage by reason of their pay in the service of Municipalities not being, under the present rules, taken into account in determining their pension and leave allowances.

4. The Governor General in Council requests accordingly that where the existing law makes no provision for payment by Municipalities of pensions, gratuities and leave allowances of Officers paid partly from Municipal funds and partly from Government funds at the same time, Local Governments will take early measures with a view to legislation being resorted to for removing any difficulties which may be found to exist. If an officer is paid partly from Municipal Funds and partly from the General Revenues, it would seem reasonable that the officer should pay to Government a contribution on the portion of his salary which is drawn from Municipal Funds calculated according to the rules in Chapter III of the Civil Pension Code, and in that case Government would be responsible for the whole of his pension and for his allowances while on leave other than privilege leave.

ORDERED, that this Resolution be communicated to the Home Department for the issue of necessary instructions to all Local Governments.

The 28th June 1882.

No. 2016.—Mr. E. F. T. Atkinson, B.C.S., is appointed to officiate, until further orders, as Accountant General, Bengal.

Mr. R. Logan, B.C.S., Officiating Under Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce, is placed on special duty under the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce.

Mr. Stephen Jacob, B.C.S., is appointed to officiate, until further orders, as Under Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce.

No. 2027.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 6 of Act I of 1878 (The Opium Act, 1878), the Governor General in Council is pleased to reduce by Rs. 50 per chest the duty on opium imported by land into the Presidency of Bombay for exportation by sea from the Port of Bombay.

Accordingly it is hereby notified that, till further orders, all opium imported by land into the Presidency of Bombay, and covered by a pass for exportation by sea from the Port of Bombay, granted in accordance with Rule 14 of the Rules made under the Opium Act, 1878, dated the 30th March 1878 and published by the Government of Bombay, will be subject to the following duty upon each chest weighing net 140¼ lbs. avoirdupois weight, namely :—

	Rs.
When the pass for such opium is granted at Ajmere	675
When the pass for such opium is granted elsewhere	650

The 30th June 1882.

No. 2036.—Whereas copies or extracts certified to be true copies or extracts of baptismal, marriage, and burial certificates granted by Ministers and Marriage Registrars are generally furnished on printed forms for which impressed sheets of stamped paper cannot be used without inconvenience; Therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by Section 9 of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, the Governor General in Council is pleased to make the following rule :—

The stamp duty payable under Article 22 of Schedule I to the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, on copies or extracts certified to be true copies or extracts of baptismal, marriage, and burial certificates shall be denoted by means of adhesive court fee labels.

Despatch from the Secretary of State, No. 48, dated the 9th February 1882, and the following extract from Resolution in the Home Department, No. $\frac{17}{747-759}$ (Public), dated the 18th May 1882 :—

Para. 22.—Another point deserving of notice is the control that should be exercised over the execution of local works. It will not always be possible for a Local Board to entertain a competent Engineer of its own; and in any case when Government buildings and important works of other kinds are made over for maintenance, there must be some effective guarantee for thoroughness of execution. It will probably be most convenient that, while all subordinate establishments are entirely under the control of the Boards, Government should supply the District Engineer and furnish professional supervision, the Boards defraying in such manner as may be determined by the Local Governments with reference to the amount of work done for each Board the payments to be made to Government on this account. Care must, however, be taken that the Boards are left unfettered in the initiation and direction of operations, and that the Engineer is placed in the position of their servant and not of their master. The power of check vested in the District Officer will suffice to remedy any carelessness or improper working on the part of the Boards. If this arrangement is carried out, it will probably be found possible to make over to the charge of the Boards most of the public buildings in the districts, and other works of various kinds which would otherwise have to be kept in the hands of the Government Officers. Double establishments will thus be avoided, and public money saved.

RESOLUTION.—On a reference from the Chief Commissioner, British Burma, the Governor General in Council has recently had under consideration the question whether the creation and abolition of appointments under Municipal and Local Fund Boards and similar Local Bodies, or the modification in any way of the pay of such appointments, are, or should be, subject to the same restrictions of various kinds, including reference to Her Majesty's Government when the pay of the appointment exceeds a certain amount, as appointments the cost of which is charged against the General Revenues.

2. The rules which govern the procedure to be observed in reporting for the sanction of the Home Government, the creation of new offices carrying pay exceeding Rs. 250 a month, and additions to salaries which raise them above Rs. 5,000 a year, are contained in the Despatch of the Secretary of State for India, No. 63, dated the 17th March 1864. But these rules, as they are understood, apply only to charges which fall on what are called "General Revenues" in contradistinction to Local Funds.

3. Provincial Funds form a portion of the General Revenues and are administered by Local Governments just as Imperial Funds are administered by the Government of India; the distinction between them is merely one of account and internal administration; but between Local Funds and General Revenues the distinction is clear, and involves a principle of importance.

4. It is true that the principal Local Funds, both incorporated and excluded (e.g., District Road Cess, Municipal, Port, and Port Trust), are composed in the main of taxes, dues, and fees which do not differ materially in their nature from those taxes, dues, and fees which form a part of the General Revenues; but the essential distinction consists in the special agency and special principles, by, and in accordance with, which Local Funds are administered and in some cases raised.

5. The practice of the Government has been to leave these funds to be administered by Local Bodies, in pursuance of the policy of developing local self-government; only such powers of general control are generally retained as may suffice to authorise interference in cases in which the public interest would otherwise suffer. This policy has been consistently kept in view since Local Bodies were first created. The course of legislation all over the country has accordingly been in the direction of enforcing the responsibility and maintaining the authority of such Bodies. For instance, in some of the Acts relating to the constitution and mode of working of Municipalities, and District Committees, no restriction whatever has been placed by the Legislature on the powers of those Bodies for the creation of new appointments; and in others the powers of general control which have been reserved are not such as would allow of the enforcement of those restrictions which apply to such appointments when the cost of these is payable from the General Revenues.

6. The Local Bodies to whom these powers have been entrusted exercise them, as a rule, with discretion; and there is nothing in the method of their administration in the past which would justify the imposition of any special restrictions. Seeing, therefore, that it is desirable to develop local self-government, and that Local Bodies may reasonably be expected to give due weight to the need for economy in the administration of Local Funds, the Governor General in Council is pleased to rule—

(1st) that Local Bodies to whom the administration of Local or Municipal Funds has been committed shall be competent, subject to the general restrictions imposed by the Legislature or to such special reservations as the Government of India may lay down in any case (e.g., that referred to in paragraph 22 of the Resolution in the Home Department, dated the 18th May 1882), or with reference to any particular class of appointments, to create, as well as to abolish, without reference to higher authority all appointments the pay of which is chargeable to such Local or Municipal Funds;

(2nd) that as regards Local Funds administered by Local Governments and not by Local Bodies, the existing restrictions regarding appointments payable from Imperial or Provincial Revenues shall continue in force in respect of appointments payable from such funds.

ORDERED, that the foregoing Resolution be communicated to the several Departments of the Government of India, the several Local Governments and Administrations, and the several Officers of the Account Department.

Ordered also, that it be published in the Gazette of India, together with the Resolutions in this Department, Nos. 1622 and 1623, dated the 10th instant.

Add the following as Section 177A :—

177A. Section 177 applies to Officers of the Public Works Department who retired under the terms of the Resolution in the Department of Finance, No. 2079, dated 31st July 1879, except as regards re-employment in an establishment paid from a Local Fund. Any such Officer, whether re-employed permanently or temporarily, is required on re-employment to refund the special gratuity received by him under paragraph 5, section II, clause (5) of the Resolution of the 31st July 1879 ; but if he does not make the refund, his pension will, for the purposes of this Section, be held to be increased by an amount equal to 5 per cent. per annum on his special gratuity. If an Officer has capitalised his pension, the same deduction will, if necessary, be made from his allowances as if he had not done so. (For the purposes of this Section, service paid by a Guaranteed Railway Company shall be treated as if it were service rendered in a temporary capacity.)

An Officer re-employed in service paid from a Local Fund may, in addition to his salary, draw his pension and retain the special gratuity received by him under paragraph 5, section II, clause (5) of the Resolution of the 31st July 1879.

ORDER—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

Read the following :—

No. 470, dated 20th April 1882.

Resolution—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

The Governor General in Council has resolved to publish with the annual Finance and Revenue Accounts of the Government of India a statement showing the receipts and expenditure of all Municipalities, as well as of all Excluded Local Funds which are on the books of the Accountants General, in order that a complete account of the whole income and expenditure connected with the administration of the country may be readily available from one source.

2. This statement will not form an integral part of the combined accounts of the Empire under the three heads of "Imperial," "Provincial," and "Local," as they have been hitherto prepared, but will only be in the nature of an appendix intended to supplement the information contained in the Accounts; and the responsibility for the correctness of the Statement will lie with the local authorities entrusted with the management of the Municipal and other Funds in question.

3. The accounts of Municipalities will be in the form given in the appendix to this Resolution, and there will be no difficulty in preparing them, as, under instructions from Her Majesty's Secretary of State, the Municipalities have already to furnish to the Local Governments almost the same information for submission to the Government of India in the Home Department. All these Accounts are now made up for the official year, except only those for the Municipalities of Calcutta and Bombay, and the Corporations of these cities have been requested to conform to the general practice.

4. The Local Governments will consolidate these accounts into one statement for each Province, and transmit it direct to the Comptroller General, so as to reach him not later than the 30th November of the year succeeding that to which they relate, for inclusion in the Finance and Revenue Accounts of the year.

5. The Comptroller General will issue further appropriate instructions to the several Accountants General for the submission of statements of the Excluded Local Funds, which should contain sufficient details of the sources of income of each Fund and of the character of the expenditure incurred therefrom.

6. The accounts of Municipalities and of the Excluded Local Funds will be collected together in one statement, to be called 2 (b), which will be inserted in its proper place in the Finance and Revenue Accounts.

7. The Comptroller General will also prepare a statement, to be called 2 (a), showing in detail for each Province the distribution of the revenue and expenditure at present included in the General Accounts under the three heads "Imperial," "Provincial," and "Local" on the lines of No. III of the statements published with the Financial Statement of the Government of India.

8. The Governor General in Council desires that Local Governments will take immediate measures for the submission of the statements for the year 1881-82, in order that they may appear in the Finance and Revenue Accounts of that year.

9. The Municipal Budget Estimates, which are at present submitted to the Government of India in the Department of Finance, will be no longer required.

Ordered, that this Resolution be communicated to the Home Department for information, and to the several Local Governments and Administrations, and to the Comptroller General for information and for the issue of further necessary orders.

ORDERED, that the foregoing be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

No. 2301.—The following Addenda and Corrigenda to the Codes of the Financial Department are published for general information :—

CIVIL PENSION CODE.

Page 3.

Section 7.

Substitute the following for the first sentence of the Section :—

"The Rules in Sections 8 and 9 apply to Officers transferred on or after the 14th October 1871 from qualifying service to Foreign service, and, as regards the rates of contribution, have effect from the 10th June 1882."†

Section 8 (a).

Substitute the following for the Section :—

8. (a) From every Officer transferred in the manner specified in Section 7, who does not wholly resign the service of the British Government, or who is not, for recorded special and public reasons, exempted from the operation of the Rules in this Chapter, a contribution is levied as follows :—

(A) In the case of a Covenanted Civil Servant ;—at the rate of 16⅔ per cent. (one-sixth) on the gross salary which he receives from his Foreign employers :

(B) In the case of any other Officer ;—at the rate of 14⅔ per cent. (one-seventh) on the gross salary which he receives from his Foreign employers : provided always that the contribution from an Uncovenanted Officer shall in no case exceed Rs. 166⅔ a month, that is to say, the Officer receives from his Foreign employers salary fixed in accordance with the Rules of the Public Service for the appointment which he holds or in which he officiates, and, retaining five-sixths or six-sevenths accordingly as he is an Officer of Class (A) or (B), pays one-sixth or one-seventh, as the case may be, to the Government of India.

Page 4.

Section 8 (b).

Substitute "five-sixths or six-sevenths, as the case may be," for "four-fifths."

Rule 2.

Substitute "five-sixths or six-sevenths, as the case may be," for "four-fifths."

Rule 3.

Substitute the following for the Rule :—

3. A Native of India not being a Covenanted Civil Servant may, by resigning all claims to allowances from the British Government during leave in respect to the period of his employment in Foreign service, contribute for pension only. In such case the contribution shall be one-eleventh of the gross salary which he receives from his Foreign employers, and shall not exceed Rs. 100 a month ; and the pension will be calculated upon the balance of salary which remains to him after the deduction.

Page 6.

Rule 13.

Substitute the following for the Rule and the Example under it :—

13. The deduction made under this Section from the salary of a Covenanted Civil Servant includes the deduction made on account of his annuity. His gross salary when transferred to Foreign service should therefore be one-fifth greater than the net salary which it is intended that he should retain for himself after paying the ordinary contribution of 4 per cent. towards the cost of his annuity.

Example.—The salary of A.B., a Covenanted Civil Servant, is Rs. 1,000 ; from this he pays Rs. 40 towards cost of his annuity and retains Rs. 960 for himself. If transferred to Foreign service his gross salary will be Rs. 1,152. The contribution payable to the British Government is Rs. 192.

Rule 16.

Substitute the following for the 1st sentence of the Rule :—

"The salary of an Officer appointed to act for an Officer on Foreign service shall be calculated as if the pay of an Officer on such service were the net amount which remains to him after making his contribution ; one-fifth in the case of a Covenanted Civil Servant, one-sixth in the case of any other Officer (if he contributes for both leave and pension), or 6⅔ per cent. in the case of an Inferior Servant, being added to the total sum thus calculated."

Substitute the following for the Examples :—

(1) A. B., a Covenanted Civil Servant, receiving a pay of Rs. 500 from the British Government, officiates in an appointment in Foreign service, the gross pay of which is Rs. 1,200. Deducting the sum contributed for leave and pension, the net pay of the appointment is, therefore, Rs. 1,000. A. B.'s salary is—

	Rs.
Pay	500
Acting allowance ⅔ (1,000—500)	333⅓
Salary	833⅓
Add ⅙ (to be contributed to the British Government)	166⅔
Gross Salary ...	1,000

(2) A. C., an Uncovenanted Officer, receiving a pay of Rs. 350 from the British Government, officiates in an appointment in Foreign service, the gross pay of which is Rs. 1,166⅔. Deducting the sum contributed for leave and pension, the net pay of the appointment is, therefore, Rs. 1,000. A. C.'s salary is—

	Rs.
Pay	350
Acting Allowance, ⅕ of 1,000	200
Salary ...	550
Add ⅙ (to be contributed to the British Government)	91⅔
Gross salary ...	641⅔

(3) A. D., an inferior Servant, receiving a pay of Rs. 6 from the British Government, officiates in an office in Foreign service, the gross pay of which is Rs. 10-10-8. Deducting the sum contributed for pension, the net pay of the appointment is, therefore, Rs. 10. A. D.'s salary is —

	Rs.	A.	P.
Pay	6	0	0
Acting Allowance, ⅕ of Rs. 10	2	0	0
Salary ...	8	0	0
Add 6¼ per cent. (to be contributed to the British Government) ...	0	8	6
Gross Salary ...	8	8	6

(4) A. E., an Uncovenanted Officer, receiving a gross pay of Rs. 700 in Foreign service, and contributing for both leave and pension, is appointed to officiate in another office in Foreign service, the gross pay of which is Rs. 1,166⅔. A. E.'s salary is —

	Rs.
Net pay	600
Acting allowance ⅕ of Rs. 1,000	200
Salary ...	800
Add ⅙ (to be contributed to the British Government) ...	133⅓
Gross Salary ...	933⅓

Page 10.

Section 10.

Substitute the following for Case (g), clause (2) :—

(2) When an Officer's services are lent for other than Imperial purposes, either in England or in a British Colony, or to a Foreign State, the Officer shall, unless he is transferred to the service of the Egyptian Government, make a contribution to the Indian Exchequer in accordance with the Rules in this Chapter.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

Simla, the 21st July, 1882.

No. 8.—Whereas by Resolutions passed by the Secretary of State for India in Council on the 19th day of September, 1872, and 4th day of June, 1874, respectively, the provisions of the thirty-third of Victoria, Chapter 3, Section 1, were declared applicable to the territories now under the administration of the Chief Commissioner of Assam;

And whereas the Chief Commissioner of Assam has proposed to the Governor General in Council a draft of the following Regulation, together with the reasons for proposing the same, and whereas the Governor General in Council has taken such draft and reasons into consideration and has approved of such draft, and the same has received the Governor General's assent;

In pursuance of the direction contained in the said section, the said Regulation is now published in the Gazette of India:—

REGULATION No. 1 of 1882.

The Gáro Hills Regulation, 1882.

Preamble.

WHEREAS Regulation I of 1876 (the Gáro Hills Regulation, 1876), the operation of which was extended for one year by the Chief Commissioner's Notification issued with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council on the 18th March, 1881, ceased to be in force on the 31st day of March, 1882;

and whereas it is desirable to re-enact certain provisions of the said Regulation; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Regulation may be called "The Gáro Hills Regulation, 1882."

Local extent.

Commencement.

It extends only to the Gáro Hills District, and shall come into operation on being published in the Assam Gazette.

Power to the Chief Commissioner—

2. The Chief Commissioner may, from time to time, subject to the control of the Governor General in Council, by notification in the Assam Gazette,— to prohibit certain acts;

(a) prohibit all or any persons, not being Natives of the Gáro Hills District, from doing any of the following acts within the limits of the said district without a license, that is to say,— cutting wood,

hunting animals,

collecting wax, ivory, india-rubber or other jungle products, and to regulate the granting of licenses to do such acts.

(b) prescribe the conditions and restrictions subject to which, and the amount of the fees on payment of which, and the persons by whom, licenses to do any of the said acts may be granted.

3. Any person who does any act in contravention of a notification issued under section two of this Regulation,

Penalties for offences against section 2.

and any holder of a license under the said section who does any act in contravention of a restriction or condition imposed by such license, shall be punished for a first offence with a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, and for each subsequent offence with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to three months, or with a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, or with both;

and the Magistrate by whom he is convicted may further order that all animals or carcasses of animals, and all wood, wax, ivory, india-rubber or other jungle product found in his possession, and all animals, ropes, nets, guns, ammunition and other things used by him in the commission of such offence, shall be confiscated.

4. It shall not be lawful for any British subject, or other person not being a Native of the Gáro Hills district, to acquire any interest in land or the product of land within the limits of the said district without the sanction of the Chief Commissioner, or of such officer as the Chief Commissioner may appoint in this behalf.

Acquisition of interests in land prohibited.

Any interest so acquired may be dealt with as the Chief Commissioner or the said officer may direct.

The Chief Commissioner may, from time to time, by notification in the Assam Gazette, extend the prohibition contained in this section to any class of persons, Natives of the said district, and may, from time to time, in like manner cancel or vary such extension.

5. The provisions of sections 64 to 70, both inclusive, of the Indian Penal Code shall apply to all fines imposed under the authority of this Regulation.

Realization of fines and imprisonment in default of payment.

6. The jurisdiction in respect of offences against this Regulation shall be exercised by such officers, and subject to such conditions, as the Chief Commissioner may, from time to time, by notification in the Assam Gazette, direct.

Jurisdiction.

No. 173 G.—With reference to Notifications Nos. 120, 123 and 126 G.P., dated the 21st April 1882, the recognition by the Government of India of the appointment of Mr. R. Mühry as Acting Consul for the Austro-Hungarian Empire, the German Empire, and the Kingdom of Denmark at Akyab, during the absence of Mr. Paul Koop, has been confirmed by Her Majesty's Government.

No. 170 E.—In supersession of the Notification by the Government of India in the Foreign Department, No. 3386 P., dated the 24th December 1875, the Governor General in Council is pleased to declare the boundaries of the "Naga Hills District" to be as follows:—

North.—From the sources of the Dikhru river in the Rengma Nága Hills, a line along the summit of the hills from which the Lungkungting, Borpung, and Tarapung streams take their rise, to the sources of the Dáhori Ján; thence down the Dáhori Ján until it meets the Kaliáni river; up the latter river to its junction with a small stream that flows into it from the west about half a mile above the Aitonia village of Kaliáni; thence in a straight line due east for about two miles until it cuts the Doigurung river; thence up to the latter river until it meets the path leading from Marphuláni to the Námbor; thence along that path for about a quarter of a mile until it meets the Tára Ján; thence along the latter stream to its junction with the Dhansiri river; thence up the Dhansiri river to its junction with the Doyong; thence up the course of the Doyong to the place where the Sibságar Inner Line cuts that river; thence along the Sibságar Inner Line.

East.—Starting from a point on the Sibságar Inner Line due north of the sources of the Rongdu river in the first range of hills, the line is drawn to those sources; thence along that stream to its junction with the Disoi river; thence over a range of hills in a south-easterly direction to the valley of the Seopáni or Chung river; thence in the same direction over another range of hills to the sources of a stream falling into the Chebi river due east of the village of Mekula; down that stream to its junction with the Chebi river; thence down that river to its junction with the Doyong; thence up the Doyong to the junction of the rivers Zullo and Sijjo; thence up a spur running southwards through the Chesama khel of Rangazuma to the ridge on which the village of Chajubáma stands; thence across the latter ridge (leaving Chajubáma on the east) and down into the valley of the Thezir river; thence up the spur below the hill Nammuh; thence along the ridge southwards to the Kopamedza peak.

South.—From the Kopamedza peak along the watershed to the Tellizo peak; thence down a small stream called the Sokharri to the junction of that stream with the Sijjo river; thence down that river to its junction with a small stream called the Merori; thence up a ridge between the two feeders of this stream to the crest of the ridge dividing the Zullo from the Sijjo between the villages of Kidima and Phusami; thence along this ridge from boundary pillar to pillar to the Nápu Hill; thence down a small streamlet to a spot about a quarter of a mile below where the main feeder of the Zullo river is joined by this stream; thence up this feeder to its source in the Khurrho peak; thence along the summit of the Barail range to Tenepu peak; thence along the Zupvo river from its source to its junction with the Quetzo or Barak river; thence down the latter river to its junction with the Chulini river; thence up the latter river till it meets a spur from the hill on which the Nága village of Ungulna or Gulna stands; thence up that spur to the summit of the range from which the Jhinam, Jhiri, and Makho rivers take their rise; then along that range to the sources of the Langting river in the peak about three miles east of Semkhor.

West.—From the peak three miles east of Semkhor down the Langting river to where it is joined by the Longreng river; thence up that river to its source; thence over the crest of the range to the sources of the Lumding river; thence down this river to its junction with the Longphir river; thence by the combined streams till they fall into the Diyung; thence down the latter river till it is joined by the Dimasakhong stream; thence up the latter stream to its point of exit from the hills; thence along the foot of the hills in a succession of straight lines from headland to headland, that is to say, from the foot of one spur to that of the next in a straight line, not following all the sinuosities into the hills, crossing the Lonka Ján and the Dikhreng Khrong streams at their respective points of exit from the hills, as far as the exit from the hills of the Dimuru Ján; thence down the latter stream as far as the village of Kaki Ramsa, whence the line turns off to the north, following the path between Kaki Ramsa and the village of Sarkher to the latter village on the left bank of the Jamuna river; thence up the Jamuna river to its junction with the Samaguri Ján; thence up the latter stream for about two miles to its point of exit from the Rengma Hills; thence along the foot of the hills from headland to headland, crossing the Zikok, Dighulpani, Salador, Longsompi, and Horghati streams at their respective points of exit from the hills, until the line meets the Dikhru river, which latter thence forms the boundary up to its source in the Rengma Hills.

No. 2469.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

Read—

Resolution in this Department, No. 1438, dated 8th March 1882.

RESOLUTION.—A considerable supply of stock notes having now been received from England at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and the necessary printing into them of the names of the several circles as well as of the year-figures being considerably advanced, His Excellency the Governor General in Council considers that the sale should commence in all Provinces (except British Burma and Berar) with as little further delay as possible.

2. In the Punjab two syndicates have been formed,—one for Lahore and the other for the rest of the Province,—and a sufficient supply of notes has partly been already delivered to the Accountant General, and will be completed in the course of a few days. The transfer to the syndicates of such quantities as they require may therefore commence at once.

3. In the North-Western Provinces syndicates have been constituted for the Benares and Allahabad Divisions on the one hand and the Agra and Meerut Divisions on the other, and supplies of the notes are nearly complete, so that sales will commence in a few days, as in the Punjab. With the view to one or more syndicates for the rest of the Province, certain parties have placed themselves in communication with the Accountant General, who should report the final result to this Department as soon as possible. But he should at once proceed, irrespective of any such negotiations, to complete his supplies from the Comptroller General and to issue to the several Treasuries and Sub-Treasuries in the remaining portion of the Province, with a view to the early commencement of sales by Government officers as contemplated in clause (8) of paragraph 4 of the Resolution quoted above.

4. The Comptroller General should similarly supply, in communication with the Accountant General and Comptroller respectively, all Treasuries and Sub-Treasuries in Bengal and Assam, and the Accountant Generals at Bombay and Madras and the Comptroller at Nagpore those within their respective limits, the last-named officer indenting on Bombay for whatever notes he may require.

5. It is considered indispensable that sales should commence on the same date at all the Treasuries and Sub-Treasuries in the same Province, in order to prevent inconvenience to the public and derangement of the supply of the several localities according to their probable normal demand. The several officers who have in the preceding paragraphs been directed to supply their Treasuries and Sub-Treasuries should therefore commence their issues with the most distant localities, estimate as nearly as possible the date by which all will have been supplied, and then publish as widely as possible, with the aid of the local executive authorities, a notice in the vernacular in the following terms:—

"Notice is hereby given that the sale of Stock Notes to the public will commence on the instant at the Government Treasuries and Sub-Treasuries specified below. The Notes are issued under the conditions specified in the Resolution of the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce, No. 1438 of 8th March 1882. Interest will be payable annually, on production of the Note with coupons attached, at any of the said Treasuries or Sub-Treasuries, and Notes of lower will be exchanged for Notes of higher denomination, or new Notes will be issued, under due precautions, in the place of Notes lost or destroyed, on application at the same."

[Here should follow the list of Treasuries and Sub-Treasuries.]

6. By the preceding paragraph the officers concerned have been severally authorised, in supersession of all previous instructions, to fix and notify, without further reference to this Department, the date of simultaneous commencement of sales within their respective limits; but His Excellency the Governor General in Council relies on them for making every effort to ensure that date being the earliest possible. The date so fixed should be telegraphed to this Department for information.

ORDERED, that this Resolution be communicated to the Comptroller General and the several Accountants General for information and guidance, and to the Local Governments and Administrations and the Press Commissioner for information; and also that it be published in the Gazette of India.

The following regulations are laid down for the guidance of all concerned:—

1. Native Regiments will go on the present established strength of 550 of all ranks for Cavalry, and 832 for Infantry, so far as they may be complete, and minus the men who are unfit.

2. Commanding Officers will be held responsible that none but officers, men and followers in every way fit for field service accompany the regiment: all sickly men are to be left at the depot, and no others.

3. Each Native regiment will be completed to its full establishment of eight British officers, including those who may be recalled from furlough, and who may be expected to join in Egypt.

4. Followers, servants, and baggage will be according to the Kabul scale, but without grass-cutters, except as hereinafter laid down for the cavalry. All regiments will be completed with all establishments (including commissariat), according to the orders laid down, in their respective presidencies.

5. Depots for regiments will be formed under the orders of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India, and of the Governments of Madras and Bombay respectively.

6. A British officer will be detailed for the charge of each of these depots, and will draw the allowance specified in Articles 307 and 378, Pay Code for India, Vol. I. A pay havildar, on a staff salary of Rs. 5 per mensem, will be allowed to each depot of native troops.

7. Commanding Officers will be held responsible that all orders and circulars connected with family remittances and arrangements for the comfort of the men and families are made known to, and are in possession of, officers appointed to the charge of depots; and that provision is made for the care of spare arms, accoutrements, books, heavy baggage, &c., which may be left behind.

8. Quartermaster's establishments for the depots will be supplied under clause 15, India Army Circulars of 1880.

9. The families of British troops left behind in India will remain at their present stations, and will receive, in addition to subsistence allowance, three-quarter rations for the wives and half-rations for the children.

10. Followers, servants, baggage, camp equipage, and kit, for staff and departmental officers, will be on the Kabul scale, but grass-cutters will not be taken.

11. The British troops, including officers of the Army Medical Department, will remain on Indian pay and allowances until they land in Egypt, when they will come under the orders of the General Commanding in Egypt, and will then be on the same scale of pay and allowances as the rest of the British troops with the expeditionary force.

12. Native infantry and sappers and miners will draw extra batta; and free rations will be allowed to all ranks of cavalry, infantry, and sappers, while on foreign service.

13. Each native commissioned officer of the cavalry will be required to keep up one pony and one attendant as syce and grass-cutter, whether he takes one or two horses; and the non-commissioned officers and privates to maintain one pony and one grass-cutter for every two horses.

14. Compensation at the rate of Rs. 5 per mensem will be allowed to the native officers for each bargheer sanctioned by existing regulations, if maintained by them, out of which sum they will pay the share of the grass-cutter's wages and provide the stable gear. A similar amount will be deducted from the pay of the bargheer sowars.

15. As during a sea voyage the officers, non-commissioned officers and sowars of the cavalry would be unable to make the requisite provision for the forage of their horses, whilst difficulty might be experienced in this respect during a portion of their service on land, the forage of the horses, and of the mules or ponies accompanying, will be undertaken by the Commissariat, with such assistance as the regiments and followers may be enabled to render after landing.

16. All ranks will be required, as at present, to maintain one efficient horse; but the native commissioned officers will be allowed forage for two horses each, if they desire to take a second charger.

17. The grass-cutters will be paid by the troops, as usual; but the ponies will receive grain, and, when necessary, hay, free of cost. Both grass-cutters and animals will be employed to procure forage when obtainable, and must be held disposable for all purposes.

18. The native commissioned and non-commissioned officers of cavalry will continue to subscribe to the regimental funds to such extent as commanding officers may deem necessary within the limits prescribed by regulations.

19. They will continue to supply themselves with the ordinary clothing, equipment, saddlery, and stable gear for their horses; but articles of extra clothing necessitated by any speciality of climate or service will be issued free of cost.

20. All casualties of horses or ponies arising from neglect or from causes evidently unconnected with the particular nature of the service must, as usual, be replaced by the regiments concerned. Each troop will be allowed to embark and maintain two chunda horses, to meet casualties, which will be rationed free of cost.

21. All casualties among horses or ponies fairly attributable to, or connected with, the service, including those from accident on boardship or during embarkation or disembarkation, will, if there has been no proved neglect, be replaced by Government, or compensation will be allowed, under the rules in the Pay Code for India, Vol. II.

22. During the continuance of the arrangement under which the supply of grain and forage to the cavalry is undertaken by the State, the pay of the several grades will be as follows:—

Bengal Cavalry.

	Rates of pay. Rs.	A.	P.
1 Ressaldar, 1st class	300	0	0
1 „ 2nd „	250	0	0
1 „ 3rd „	200	0	0
1 Ressaidar, 1st „	150	0	0
1 „ 2nd „	135	0	0
1 „ 3rd „	120	0	0
2 Jemadars, 1st class	80	0	0
2 „ 2nd „	70	0	0

23. Public followers, except those engaged on salaries specifically laid down for the occasion, will receive an addition of 50 per cent. on pay and batta, in addition to free rations, while on foreign service.

24. The sanctioned followers paid by the troops will receive from Government free rations, and such extra pay as may be necessary to put them on a par with the public followers of a similar class.

25. The scale of rations for native troops on shore will be that laid down in Article 641, Indian Commissariat Code, extracted in the margin. An allowance of 1 lb. of meat per man weekly is also authorised.

Atta 2 lbs., or rice	1½ lbs.
Dhal	4 oz.
Ghee	2 „
Salt	⅔ „
Onions	1 „
Pepper	1/6 „
Chillies	1/6 „
Turmeric	1/6 „

When meat, even on special occasions, is issued, the ration of atta or rice is to be reduced one-half.

No claim for pecuniary compensation can be admitted, if through accident any part of the above authorised scale of rations is not forthcoming.

The issue of tea and sugar should be confined to the cases of sick and wounded, for whom medical officers may authorise it, and for the rest of the troops on special occasions of fatigue, exposure or bad climate when recommended by the principal medical officer. On such occasions 2 oz. of sugar and ½ oz. of tea per man may be issued.

Tobacco can only be issued on payment at the rate of one ounce per man per diem, the price charged being the first cost to Government, without any addition on account of carriage or losses.

The scale of rations on boardship will be for Europeans that laid down in Appendix XI, page 565, Commissariat Code, and for natives that laid down in Appendix XIV, page 575, of the same Code.

The scale of rations for followers will be as follows:—

Wheat flour or rice ...	1½ lbs.
Dhal	4 oz.
Ghee	1 „
Salt	⅔ „

26. On land the forage allowance for each horse will be 8 lbs. of such grain as may be procurable, with 14 lbs. of hay when green forage is not procurable, or otherwise as may be ordered. The allowance for ponies will be one-half of the forage ration of a horse.

"433. Officers on field service are required to credit in their pay bills the value of all rations, &c., and the hire of all carriage supplied to them under the following certificate:—

"I do hereby certify on honor that during the period for which the pay (or advance) is drawn, I have received rations from the Commissariat for myself, servants, and horses. I have also had the use of the following Government carriage:—

."

27. British officers and departmental warrant officers will be allowed to draw rations for themselves, servants, and horses from the Commissariat Department, payment being made as laid down in the Commissariat Code, paragraph 133:—

Officers—

Rations for themselves, daily, exclusive of rum or extra supplies	Rs.	0	8	0
Rations for their servants, monthly	„	2	8	0
Rations for each horse, daily	„	0	8	0

Warrant Officers—

Rations for themselves, daily, exclusive of rum or extra supplies ...	„	0	6	0

28. Transport will be charged for at the rates laid down for the Afghan war, viz., 8 annas and 7 annas per diem for camels and mules respectively.

29. The officers of the Military Account Department will act as Field Paymasters, and also have charge of the treasure chest.

30. Pay lists of British troops for the period of the voyage will be rendered to the Pay Examiner of the Presidency to which they belong; from date of landing in Egypt, they will be rendered to the Staff Paymaster with the force proceeding from England.

31. Pay lists of native troops will be forwarded, as soon after the first of each month as may be possible, through the Field Paymaster, to the Pay Examiner of the Presidency to which the troops belong. Officers commanding regiments will draw monthly from the field pay office such sums as may be required for the pay of themselves and their men, after making provision to meet family allotments and remittances, fund subscriptions, &c., the amount of which allotments, &c., they will debit themselves with in their general states.

32. The pay bills of all staff and departmental officers will be adjusted by the Field Paymaster.

33. All payments to native troops will if practicable be made in rupees; but should it be necessary to issue the coinage of the country or British money, their pay and allowances will be converted into that coinage, under the orders of the General Commanding, at the rates of exchange current in Egypt.

34. Officers commanding native regiments and detachments detailed for service are directed to at once draw and distribute three months' pay in advance to their respective corps.

35. Staff and departmental establishments may receive similar advances, not including command, contract, office, and staff allowances.

36. The family remittances to India of the British troops will be made at the official rate of exchange through the Field Paymaster. Remittances to England will be made under the War Office regulations. The family remittances of native troops will be arranged for, as usual, by officers commanding regiments and detachments.

37. Officers, warrant officers and non-commissioned officers, with the exception of those belonging to the British portion of the division, requiring remittances to India, may remit the whole or any part of their pay to India at par on paying the amount to the Field Paymaster, who is authorised to grant transfer remittance receipts on any treasury in India. As an alternative arrangement, officers may leave with the Presidency Paymaster, Bombay, an allotment roll stating the amount they wish to be paid monthly, and the person to whom it should be remitted. That officer will then make the necessary remittance monthly, and he will furnish the Field Paymaster with a list of the sums thus allotted, to enable the latter to make the necessary deduction from officers' pay bills. Remittances to England for the benefit of their families may be made through the Field Paymaster at the official rate of exchange, to the extent of one-half of an officer's clear receipts, exclusive of office and contingent allowances.

38. Officers of the expeditionary force should recover from the pay of followers serving under them the amount that each man may desire to be paid to his family in India, and send to the Controller of Military Accounts, Accounts Branch, Bombay, in time to reach him not later than the 20th of each month, a statement* of such recoveries, according to which the families will be paid under instructions to be issued by that officer. The amount thus recovered should be paid to the Field Paymaster, whose receipt should be entered on, or attached to, the statement.

* Form attached.

39. Every care should be taken to fill in the statements correctly from the tickets given to the men on engagement and the records in the field. Where the information is not available, owing to the loss of the tickets or any other cause, immediate application should be made to the depot commanding or departmental officers concerned.

40. Clothing and equipment on the following scales will be issued to troops and followers :—

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

Read—

Note by Mr. T. C. Hope, Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce, on the Iron Industry in India.

Despatch to Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 175, dated 1st July 1881, recommending the purchase of the Bengal Iron Works.

Despatch from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 40, dated 25th August 1881, sanctioning the purchase.

Report on the Bengal Iron Works, by Ritter C. von Schwarz, dated 26th October 1881.

Telegram from the Government of Bengal in the Public Works Department, dated 5th April 1882, reporting conclusion of negotiations for purchase.

Letter to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department, No. 494, dated 19th April, regarding temporary charge of the works, and calling for report on condition and utilisation of works.

Letter from the Government of Bengal, No. 2313E., dated 11th July 1882, furnishing reports by Ritter C. von Schwarz, with Memorandum by the Chief Engineer.

RESOLUTION.—The Government of India have, for some time past, had under special consideration the importance of developing the iron industry in India. The advantages which such development would afford to both the State and the public,—by cheapening the cost of railway construction and maintenance, and of works for improving the water-supply; by substituting metal for more perishable materials in buildings; by reducing the home charges and their concomitant loss by exchange; by creating for the population non-agricultural employment; and by increasing the means for profitable investment of capital,—are too well known to require lengthened exposition.

3. Under the circumstances above described, it may be accepted as proved that India possesses the means of supplying all her wants in respect of cast iron, wrought iron and steel, and that such supply could be produced remuneratively on a strictly commercial basis. The establishment of iron works to be owned and worked by the State is open to grave objections, both economic and practical, and being likewise unnecessary, need not be discussed at length. Nothing appears to be necessary in order to attract private enterprise to so eligible an opening except the collection and diffusion of sufficient information, and the grant of such facilities as the State may legitimately and reasonably afford to a young and growing industry.

4. Private enterprise in this matter, however, must evidently be on a large scale, and not confined to one locality alone. The distances in India are so great, and the railway system now so extended, that the cost of conveying material to the spot where it is needed is an important factor in every calculation. It has been proved that, unless mills were established in four different localities, the cost of sending old rails and tyres to be worked up afresh would exceed that of obtaining new ones from England. A similar conclusion has been formed as to the gain by substituting iron sleepers for wooden ones. Raniganj, the Punjab, and the Central Provinces appear to be the localities in all of which extensive operations would be necessary in order to meet early necessities of the case. Whether these localities should be occupied by different Companies or by one is a matter of detail, but the aggregate capital required would obviously be large. The amount required might perhaps be beyond the local resources of the Calcutta or Bombay money market, and the investment uncongenial to those in Europe with whom those markets are connected in their ordinary mercantile transactions. England must likewise be looked to, and those capitalists in England whose knowledge and resources are specially directed to the iron industry.

5. Towards the development of the industry in the Raniganj district, the attention of the Government has in the first instance been directed, in consequence of the fact that a private Company was established a few years ago near Barrakur, but after a short time fell into difficulties from causes which need not be related, and was obliged to suspend operations. After carefully investigating the causes of failure, the Government of India came to the conclusion that the only way in which the works could be, at any early date, placed in the hands of experienced persons having an adequate command of capital, was by an intermediate purchase on the part of the State.

6. The "Bengal Iron Works" have consequently been purchased for the sum of Rs. 4,30,761. His Excellency the Governor General in Council is now pleased to announce that they will be retransferred for that sum, together with any further indispensable outlay, to any parties who may establish satisfactorily that they are in the possession of sufficient skill and resources, and bonâ fide prepared to carry on the manufacture of iron and steel upon a scale commensurate to the probable needs of that portion of British India which is within reasonable distance of the works. His Excellency in Council will further be prepared to enter into an engagement, if so desired, to take annually for ten years, at fixed prices to be previously agreed upon, not less than a certain weight of the Company's manufactures. This weight will be determined with reference to the average requirements of the Government for railways and other public works in the territory to the north and east of the East Indian Railway from Calcutta to Mogul Serai. With a view to facilitate the formation of a judgment on the prospects of the enterprise, the reports by Ritter C. von Schwarz, which are specified in the heading to this Resolution, will be made public, and further explanations or information will, as far as practicable, be afforded; but it must be distinctly understood that the Government decline to be responsible for the accuracy of any calculations or estimates so put forward.

7. In order to ascertain more fully the capabilities of the Chanda district of the Central Provinces, Ritter C. von Schwarz was some months ago deputed to the locality, and has submitted a very full and able report, which is also now made public, under a similar reservation. The Government of India are now engaged in ascertaining the probable demand for iron and steel within a suitable radius of Chanda, and in comparing the merits of that locality with those of others in the Central Provinces. Any information which may become available will be published in due course. Similar investigations will be pursued in the Punjab and other parts of India, as circumstances may permit.

8. In view of the importance of fully developing at the earliest possible date the resources of India in coal and iron, and of the necessity of unity and vigour of action to this end, His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct that the Department of Public Works of the Government of India shall be the initiating Department in relation to the utilisation of these minerals, subject to the customary general control of the Department of Finance and Commerce in matters of contract and expenditure, and to the usual consultation of the Revenue or Political Department on any matters in which they may be respectively concerned. Those Departments, on the other hand, as also all Local Governments and Administrations, should, by the collection of information or otherwise, co-operate with the Department of Public Works towards the attainment of the end in view.

ORDERED, that this Resolution be communicated to all Local Governments and Administrations, and to the Public Works, Revenue and Agricultural, and the Political Departments of the Government of India; and that it be published, together with the reports of Ritter C. von Schwarz, in the Gazette of India.

Report on the reopening of the Bengal Iron Works for the production of 80 tons castings per 24 hours.

When, in 1875, the Bengal Iron Works Company first opened, English pig iron was selling in Calcutta at Rs. 60 per ton, whilst the cost of production of the pig iron made at the Company's Works was Rs. 65. Within two years this was reduced to Rs. 40, but meanwhile, or at least by 1878, English pig iron was quoted in Calcutta at Rs. 29 per ton. The Company being unable to further force down the cost price of their pig iron, the failure of the undertaking became manifest, and resulted in the closing of the Works in 1879. At this present time English pig iron of the quality which used to be produced at the Bengal Iron Works is selling in Calcutta at Rs. 35 per ton; therefore still Rs. 5 below the cost price arrived at by the Company.

As since the closing of the Works the prices of the raw materials (iron ores, coal and limestone) have not fallen, and as, on the other hand, the cost of labour has risen, the success of the reopening of the Bengal Iron Works depends on decreasing the cost of production through improved arrangements in some directions and a simplification of working procedure in others. To arrive at the desired result the following measures are proposed :—

1.—The substitution of certain machinery for certain manual labour formerly employed, and the introduction of certain simplified yet improved methods of working, both having for their object a saving of material and cost of labour.

2.—Arrangements for increasing the capabilities of the Works for the quantity of production by means of which, in an indirect way, the cost of labour, of management, wear and tear, &c., is diminished as the expenses on these are distributed over a larger amount of produce.

3.—Arrangements for utilizing the collateral produce of the Works.

In the following pages the proposed improvements will be treated of, namely, what they consist, and how in the present case they can be introduced expeditiously, cheaply and effectively.

It is evident that, in the main, the present arrangements will be maintained as much as possible, and that our task will consist more in completing these than in carrying out essential alterations.

I.—Alterations in the blast furnaces.

1. The height of each blast furnace and their hoist is to be increased by 6 feet, viz., making their total height from bottom to top 61 instead of 55 feet, and the inner diameter of the furnace hearth to be increased from 5 feet to 6 feet.

2. The total square section of the nozzles should be raised from 20 to 35 square inches, the wind pressure from 5 to 8 inches mercury, and the number of the twyers should be doubled, viz., the 3, as at present, should be increased to 6.

These alterations will increase the productive capacity of the furnaces which in general depends on the dimensions of the furnaces.

Next to the dimensions of the furnace it is the square section of the nozzles, the wind pressure, and the temperature of the same which, when raised, increase the productive capacity of the blast furnace; nevertheless these must remain in a certain ratio to one another, and must be kept within certain limits dependent on the inner dimensions of the furnace.

The doubling of the twyers has for its object a more effective distribution of the wind, which becomes more necessary as the square section of the furnace, before the twyers, is to be enlarged.

3. The water twyers should be made of bronze instead of cast iron (as at present), water boxes for cooling the hearth should be introduced, the angle of inclination of the boshes should be enlarged to 80°, and the inner form of the furnaces rounded off, so as to avoid all sharp angles and sudden transitions in order to secure a uniform descent of the melting column, and to avoid a derangement of function through a blocking up of the melting column.

It may be mentioned here that the blast furnace No. 1 of the Bengal Iron Works, although its inner dimensions had been theoretically correctly chosen, was within scarcely two years so much burned away inside, and got so much out of shape, that it had to be laid cold, which drawback was caused by nothing else than the sharp transitions between shaft and boshes, the steep angle of inclination of the boshes, and the total absence of water cooling of the hearth.

Blast furnaces of a correct inner form should work at least from 8 to 10 years without any appreciable interruption.

The object of using bronze instead of cast iron for the water twyers is to achieve greater durability of the same, which, as experience has shown, is in this case of special importance, as through faulty twyers water enters the blast furnace, which, it is well known, deranges its function, and may even cause dangerous explosions.

Besides, the bronze twyers, when used up, have still the value of their metal, whilst old cast iron twyers are of little value as material.

4. It is further recommended to introduce, in connection with the blast furnaces, Leirmann's arrangement for drawing off the slags, instead of the obsolete system employed in the Bengal Iron Works to allow the slags to flow over the dam plate by means of the cinder notch. It would lead me too far to set forth all the advantages of this system; a full description of it may be seen in the technical works of Dr. John Percy, Dr. Wedding and others. Suffice it to say that this system may be seen already in use in most blast furnaces of England, Germany and America.

5. The adoption is recommended of "Parry's cup and cone" for the furnace top and of all other arrangements for collecting, cleaning and conducting the blast furnace gases to the hot blast ovens and steam-boilers. "Parry's cup and cone" serves for closing the furnace top for the purpose of drawing off the gases, and at the same time also to facilitate an uniform and correct serving of the blast furnace with the raw materials, namely, iron ore, coke and limestone.

The apparatus combines simplicity with usefulness, and has also the advantage over all other apparatus of the same kind, that it renders possible so to serve the blast furnace that the workmen are in no way oppressed either by heat, dust, or by the poisonous gases always given off by the blast furnace when under serving.

Parry's cup and cone was first applied to a blast furnace at Ebbev Vale in South Wales, and has thence successfully spread to England, Germany and America.

In connection with Parry's cup and cone an arrangement is proposed for leading off and cleansing the blast furnace gases from dust, consisting of sheet iron pipes, in which at the bends dusting chambers are inserted.

The action of the dusting chambers is to suddenly increase the section of the gas conduit, whereby the velocity of the gases is reduced and the opportunity is given to the impurities to settle or precipitate themselves.

The most suitable form of this arrangement is the so-called "S apparatus." It is made of sheet-iron rivetted so as to be air-tight.

The bottom in one part does not join the sides (vide sketch in the margin), but is bent in a slanting form, so that a connection exists between the inner space and the outside air in the manner of the communicating tube.

The lower part of the apparatus is filled with water, which serves as a separation between the gas and the atmosphere. The here precipitated dust of the gases may from time to time be removed with a shovel through the opening C.

The water serves at the same time as a safety valve, as, in case of too high a pressure in the gas pipe, it is forced out.

This cleansing apparatus has been successfully applied to all the new blast furnaces in the east of France, and has already been copied in Germany, England and Austria.

The apparatus for burning the gases have to be applied separately to each furnace and each boiler.

Their arrangement aims chiefly at mixing thoroughly the furnace gases with the air necessary for burning them, and to conduct this mixture over a lighting fire, in order that the gases may be kept constantly burning, and the danger of their being extinguished be prevented, as in this case an explosive mixture of air and gases would be evolved.

Blast furnace gases consist chiefly of carbonic oxygen gas (C.O.) (vide "Report on the Bengal Iron Works," page 2), which, to reach the desired effect, has to be completely burnt to carbonic acid (C.O. 2).

An arrangement answering the foregoing requirements may be seen in several new iron-works in England and Germany. It was first introduced in Neustads in Hanover, and is constructed on a principle of Faber du Faur.

6. It is also recommended to connect with each blast furnace a reserve apparatus for heating the wind (vide "Report on the Bengal Iron Works, page 3").

7. It is further advised to introduce apparatus for utilizing the blast furnace slags in the fabrication of cement, artificial stones and "slag wool." (For particulars on this subject please see "Report on the Bengal Iron Works," page 2.)

II.—Apparatus required for preparing the raw materials.

1. Three ore crushers for the mechanical breaking up of the iron ore and limestone. (For particulars please see "Report on the Bengal Iron Works," pages 2 and 3.)

(2) Belgian cake ovens with a coal-washing apparatus.

The Burrakur coal has the following chemical composition :—

Fixed carbon	65	per cent.
Carbon combined on hydrogen	6·60	,,
Hydrogen	4·94	,,
Oxygen and nitrogen	9·32	,,
Sulphur	0·44	,,
Moisture	3·65	,,
Ashes	10·05	,,

This coal with so high component parts of carbon and hydrogen, although its percentage of ashes is rather high, must be considered as well suitable for metallurgical purposes.

The coke made of this coal at the local coal mines has 16 to 18 per cent. of ashes, and sells at more than double the price of the coal from which it is made.

Although the contents of fixed carbon in this coal is 65 per cent., and that of ashes 10·05 per cent. (therefore the percentage of unvolatile matter is about 75), the coke produced from it is only 50 per cent.; this shortcoming being due not to the quality of the coal, but to the primitive arrangement for making the coke. The arrangement consists in open kilns where the access of atmospheric air is not to be despised; but, on the other hand, under such conditions a considerable portion of the fixed carbon, the most valuable component of the coal in regard to the production of coke, is driven off along with other volatile substances as carbonic oxygen gas (C.O.); the outturn of coke is therefore poor, and the quantity of ashes considerably increased. It may here be observed that a large proportion of ashes in coke reduces its value very much, for purposes of its use in the blast furnace: ashes consist chiefly of silicic acid (Si. O.2) which, being almost infusible, requires a larger addition of limestone to melt it, and as a matter of course occasions a greater consumption of fuel. Besides, with coke rich in ashes a smaller quantity of carbon is distributed through a larger volume of matter, whereby the pyrometric effect of every description of fuel is diminished. In the Bengal Iron Works the production of one ton pig iron used to require the consumption of 36 cwt. of coke and 32 cwt. of limestone—a very unfavourable condition of working; it will therefore be necessary to introduce a more favourable system of coke-making, namely, first to wash the coal, that is, to free it as much as possible from the substances producing the ashes, and then to "distil" it in closed furnaces.

For the treatment of coal in making coke the Belgian coke furnaces (system François and Rexroth) would give in one case the best results.

These furnaces yield 95 per cent. of the non-volatile components of the coal, and they are particularly suitable for India on climatic grounds, as the coke is removed from the furnace by a machine, by which the workmen are spared the enormous radiating heat. There is also a saving of coke through the quickness of the operation of removing it, as under a slow process some of it is lost by combustion.

These coke furnaces require no special firing; they heat themselves with their own gases, which are led in channels around them, and having done their duty to the furnaces, they are collected into a common channel, say for 25 furnaces one, and are then utilized for heating steam boilers.

With this system of furnaces the Burrakur coal may be made to yield coke containing from 6 to 8 per cent. ashes only instead of 16 to 18 per cent. as now, which would raise its value as a fuel for the blast furnace by 20 per cent., and the consumption of coke per ton of pig iron would be reduced from 36 to 28 cwt.

It should also be mentioned that the refuse of coal in the washing basins, a sort of coal mud, may be utilized for heating the drying furnaces in the foundry and for other subordinate heating purposes. (Please see "Report on the Bengal Iron Works," page 3, drying furnaces.)

III.—Blowing engine.

1. It is recommended that a second blowing engine of the capacity of the present be acquired. The amount of wind which must be forced into a blast furnace depends on the quantity of coke which is burnt in it in a given time, and upon the percentage of carbon in this coke.

It must here be remembered that the whole of the carbon in the coke must be reduced to carbonic acid (C.O. 2) to produce the desired effect in the blast furnace.

The present blowing engine may be estimated at a maximum effect of 5,980 cubic feet air per minute, but this is only half the requirement, which can be shown to be 11,344 cubic feet per minute; therefore, if the two blast furnaces are to turn out 80 tons of pig iron per 24 hours, a second blowing engine of the same effect as the present one is required. The calculations to the above will be found in Appendix No. 1 (page 31).

2. The steam boiler establishment belonging to the blowing engines also will have to be proportionally increased to 440 horse-power, as the present one is only sufficient to yield 100 horse-power. For calculations please see Appendix No. 2 (page 33).

It must be mentioned here that the Bengal Iron Works Company never worked the two blast furnaces at the same time, which is chiefly due to the insufficiency of their boiler establishment being only able to furnish the motive power for the production of 20 tons of pig iron per 24 hours, although the blowing engine, blast furnaces, and hoist, chimney, &c., are corresponding to 40 tons production per 24 hours.

3. With the employment of a second blowing engine the dimensions of the blast conduit and regulator of blast will have also to be proportionally enlarged.

IV.—Storeyard for iron ore, limestone and fuel.

To keep up a sufficient stock of the raw materials in a proper way a better arrangement for their deposit is required. How this is to be managed may be seen from the annexed plan No. 1 (vide mixing plans and filling bank).

Under the circumstances before us a large stock of the raw materials is not required, as they are to be had in the immediate neighbourhood of the iron works, and there is no fear of interruption in their regular delivery. Without regard to the dead capital lying on large stores, there is a difficulty in controlling them; they take up a large space, and cause other inconveniences.

As regards iron ores and limestone, a store for three months is ample. Of coal not more than a monthly store should be kept, as coal loses through long exposure to the air greatly in its value in consequence of the evaporation of the valuable carburetted hydrogen gases, especially during the dry season.

V.—Alterations on the foundries.

1. It has already been pointed out in my "Report on the Bengal Iron Works" (page 3) that the casting direct from the blast furnace, namely, without remelting the pig-iron in the cupola furnace, is recommended.

To attain this it is advisable to remove the standing Foundry No. 1 close to the blast furnaces (vide plan No. 1). This can be easily done, as the foundry shop mentioned only consists of a roof of corrugated sheet iron, supported by pillars and rolled beams. Most of the pillars are of wood, and should be replaced by cast iron pillars. As, however, the foundry shop No. 1 alone would not be sufficiently large for the production of 80 tons sleepers per day, and the foundry No. II being built of stone cannot be removed, the enlargement of foundry No. I and the erection of a new one (vide plan No. I) will become necessary.

2. The foundry shop No. II can be especially arranged for making pipes; the necessary alterations in the drying furnaces and the other arrangement for casting and tiering pipes have already been treated off in my "Report on the Bengal Iron Works" (pages 3 and 4).

3. The cupola furnaces attached to the foundry remain as a reserve in order to remelt the pig iron produced from the blast furnaces on Sundays and holidays (as the working of the blast furnaces cannot be stopped on such days), and to utilise the scraps of the foundries.

A slight alteration in their construction is recommended according to a principle invented by Fauler in Freyburg (Bavaria); to explain this invention in detail would lead too far, suffice it to say (a) that it has proved practicable since the last 5 years; (b) that its virtues lie in the saving of 15 per cent. of fuel; and (c) that it can be cheaply introduced in the present arrangement of the cupola furnaces.

4. It is further recommended to use moulding machines for making sleepers.

These machines serve to lift the pattern out of the sand strictly vertical, which can never be correctly accomplished by hand, in consequence of which much labour and time is lost in repairing the mould.

These machines are especially adapted where many castings of one pattern are required, which is therefore suitable in our case.

5. The introduction of an apparatus to gain the "wash iron" out of the used sand of the foundry and the pig bed shed of the blast furnaces is advised.

This apparatus is an inexpensive arrangement, by which the greater part of the spilled cast iron can be regained; it renders 2 per cent. of the production of castings, namely, about 1½ tons "wash iron" per diem.

VI.—Alteration in the chief water-supply.

In consequence of the proposed enlargement of the foundry and the blast furnaces, the cooling apparatus for the latter, and the erection of coke furnaces, &c., the present arrangement for water-supply will not be sufficient. Besides this, the present way of supplying water is so complicated a one that it can bear being simplified by this opportunity. It consists now in pumping out the water from the Barakar river by means of a large pumping engine erected on its banks, and leading it through cast-iron pipes of 10-inch diameter for a distance of about 1¾ miles to a tank near the iron works; from there the water is pumped up to a height of about 10 feet into a second smaller tank, from whence it is led by means of pipes to wells situated near the blast furnaces and the foundries; here it is pumped for the third and last time into the highwater reservoirs, from whence at length it is led to its destination. To avoid this roundabout way it is recommended to erect a highwater reservoir, for about 15,000 cubic feet contents, on the border of the large tank, and to lead it from thence directly to its destination.

As the required quantity of water is rather large, and the difference between the water levels of the tank (from where the water is to be pumped out) and the highwater reservoir (where it is to be pumped in) will be not more than about 30 feet, centrifugal pumps are recommended.

VII.—Buildings and out-houses.

1. The greater part of the out-houses belonging to the works were built of mud walls with thatched roofs, and are now in a tumble-down condition, leaving only the stones lying about, which will do for rebuilding them.

2. For native workmen it is recommended to make a bathing tank, which can be easily done by enlarging the present one.

3. The erection of huts for about 600 coolies is also advised.

4. A boundary wall round the works should also be erected in a substantial way so that it answers the purpose. Although it is rather expensive, most of the iron works are provided with one, as the damage caused by running away of workmen, unbidden visitors, and stealing, justifies the greater expense of a wall.

This wall must be about 7½ feet high, and must be provided with sharp objects (the simplest ones being blast furnace slags) built in on the top in order to prevent the scaling of the wall.

VIII.—European workmen.

With regard to European workmen for iron working in general, I refer to the "labour question" treated of in my Report on Chanda (page 10).

To start the works, in order to produce 80 tons castings per 24 hours, the following European working have to be brought out from Europe:—

(1) One blast furnace foreman.
(2) Four first men for the blast furnaces.
(3) Four second men for ditto.
(4) Four third men for ditto.
(5) Two workmen for the coke furnaces.

IX.—Amount of production.

The cast-iron parts for one sleeper (broad-gauge railway) weigh, including jaws, about 188lbs.; the sleepers lie at a distance of one yard, centre to centre from each other; this gives a consumption of 148 tons of cast iron per running mile railway.

Therefore, with the proposed arrangements (which allow the production of about 80 tons of sleepers per 24 hours) it would be possible to yield the requirement of sleepers for about half a mile of railway per day.

Approximate estimate for the improvements and repairs of the Bengal Iron Works for the production of 80 tons of cast-iron sleepers and other castings per 24 hours (vide plan No. 1).

Appendices.

Appendix No. 1. The quantity of air required per minute is calculated by the equation.

$$Q = 1{\cdot}1\ A.\ P. \quad \text{... ... ... No. 1.}$$ where Q is the quantity of air in cubic feet to be introduced in the blast furnaces per minute;

A is the consumption of coke per 24 hours expressed in tons;
P is the proportion of carbon in the coke.

If, as proposed, Belgian furnaces with washing apparatus will be used for the manufacture of coke from the Barakar coal, the proportion of carbon in the coke will be $P = 92$, and the consumption of coke per 24 hours will be $A = 112$ tons, the outturn of pig iron with this fuel by the two blast furnaces being assumed at 80 tons per 24 hours.

By substituting these values in equation No. 1 we get $Q = 1{\cdot}1 \times 112 \times 92 = 11{\cdot}344$ cubic feet of air required per minute for both blast furnaces together.

The effect of the present blowing engine in the Bengal Iron Works is calculated by the equation:

$$9' = \alpha\ .f.\ v.\ n. \quad \text{... ... ... No. 2.}$$ where $9'$ is the quantity of air in cubic feet which can be delivered by the blowing engine per minute;

f the inner section of each cylinder in square feet: in the present instance $f = 23$;

v the speed of the piston in feet per minute, the maximum in the present instance being assumed at 200.

n, the number of cylinders: in the present instance $n \parallel 2$; and α, the working effect of the blowing engine inclusive wind conduit, which may be assumed to be in this case 0·65, namely 35 per cent. of the theoretical effect being lost through leakage in the wind conductors, especially in the hot blast ovens.

Substituting these values in equation No. 2, we get the maximum effect of the present blowing engine $9' = 0{\cdot}65 \times 23 \times 200 \times 2 = 5{,}980$ cubic feet per minute, that is to say, about half of what is required, which, as found before, is 11,344 cubic feet per minute.

Appendix No II—The necessary motive power for the two blowing engines is calculated by the equation:

$$N. = \frac{1}{G\,\alpha} \times 0{\cdot}0045\ P.\ Q. \quad \text{.....No. 3.}$$ where N is the requisite number of horse powers to drive the two blowing engines;

G. the working effect of the steam engine, in our case 0·75 per cent;

α. the working effect of the blowing engines and wind conduit; as before 0·65 per cent.;

P. the pressure of the wind on the nozzles; in our case $P = 4lbs.$ per square inch; and

Q. the quantity of air and cubic feet per minute, as previously calculated $= 11{,}344$

These values substituted in equation No. 3 we get.

$N. = \frac{1}{0{\cdot}75 \times 0{\cdot}65} \times 0{\cdot}0045 \times 4 \times 11{,}344 = 420{\cdot}5$ horse power, being the requisite motive power for the two blowing engines.

Besides the blowing engines there is required the necessary motive power for driving the hoist, and the feeding pumps for the boilers, which consume about 20 horse power; therefore altogether a steam boiler establishment of 440 horse power will be required to serve the whole machinery belonging to the blast furnaces.

The standing steam boiler establishment consists of 7" "egg-ended boilers," each of which having a total length of 28 feet and 5 feet diameter, representing a "fire surface" (the part of the boilers in contact with the fire) of 230 square feet per boiler.

Considering the construction of these boilers a "fire surface" of 16 square feet can be calculated for each horse power; therefore a real effect of about 100 horse power can be furnished by the seven standing boilers together ($\frac{230 \times 7}{16} = 100$).

But as this motive power answers only for the production of 20 tons pig iron per 24 hours, the erection of a second steam boiler establishment is required to furnish the necessary effect of 440 horse power.

It must be observed that two steam boilers must be kept as a reserve in case those in use require cleaning or repairing.

BARAKAR;
The 16th June 1882.

The manufacture of wrought iron and steel at the Bengal Iron Works.

For the manufacture of wrought iron and steel, and especially for the production of rails, beams, girder, and ship plates, &c., on a large scale, the introduction of the basic Bessemer process is recommended. With this process the contents of phosphorus in the pig iron (produced from the Barakar iron ores) can be reduced from 1·36 to 0·04 per cent., and therefore a quality of wrought iron and steel produced, which is suitable for the production of steel rails, rolled beams, &c. (An analysis of the pig iron produced by the Bengal Iron Work Company is shown in my report on the Bengal Iron Works, page 3.)

The Spiegeleisen (specular cast iron) for the production of steel in the Bengal converter cannot be obtained from the Barakar iron ores on account of their impurities and their too small contents of manganese. "Spiegeleisen" has therefore to be imported.

It is of great importance in the basic Bessemer process to procure a suitable basic fireproof material for the inner lining of the converter, as imperfect material for this purpose would cause costly interruption of the work by the wearing out of the lining too quickly. Besides, the making of basic fire bricks is very expensive, and the renewing or repairing of the inner lining of a Bessemer converter is a disagreeable and tedious labour, as the workmen have to suffer great heat and the work has to be done carefully and exactly.

Dolomite (magnesium limestone) has proved the best material in practice for the purpose, and such is to be found near Ramlallpur, about 7 miles south of Raneegunge, and near Purda (Lat. 22° 59′ 15″; Long. 86° 37′ 45″). Dolomite of an excellent quality also occurs in the stream beds near Darjeeling, where it is rolled down from a range of hills composed of dolomite, which occurs just beyond the British boundary in Bhootan; the same rock also occurs east of Baxa in British territory (Mem. G. S. T., Vol. XI, page 83).

The following is an analysis of this dolomite:—

Carbonate of lime (Co. O. Co2)	60·5
Ditto „ magnesia (Mg. O. Co2)	38·7

Although this dolomite will be rather expensive to procure, it may pay to use it for the converter lining for the reasons explained. The pig iron has to be re-melted in cupola furnaces, as it is not sufficiently pure and regular for this process to be led directly in a liquid state from the blast furnaces into the converter.

Amount of Production.

It is a general rule to produce as large a quantity as possible in a rails rolling mill in order to distribute the high expenses for workmen and establishment, combined with such an undertaking over a great amount of production.

As we are not depending here on vegetable fuel but all raw materials are to be had in unlimited quantities, it is the manual aptitude and practice of the workmen serving the rolling mill and the converting department which furnishes the basis for the quantity of production. In England and America the most astonishing results in this direction have been attained; the average outturn of a single rails rolling mill is there 140 tons of finished rails per 24 hours, but exceptionally also 600 tons have been turned out in the same time when making "double headers" of 80 lbs. per yard.

It is very doubtful whether such results can be attained here, therefore the annexed calculations of the cost of production are, for security, based on a production of 200 tons of finished rails per 24 hours.

It must be mentioned that in a rails rolling mill also rolled beams, rolled sleepers, girder and ship plates and other rolled iron or steel goods of the stronger kind can be produced if the necessary cylinders (rollers) are provided.

To provide the necessary pig iron for the production of 200 tons of finished rails per diem, it is not advisable to use the existing blast furnace establishment, this being only constructed for a production of 40 tons per diem, for both blast furnaces, whilst about 200 tons of pig iron are wanted.

These blast furnaces should be put in thorough order for making pig iron for castings only, for which purpose they were originally built. For the production of the pig iron for the rolling mill it is recommended to erect a new blast furnace establishment consisting of two blast furnaces on the declivity of a small hill, which is at a distance of about 1,000 yards from the existing establishment. The railway siding can be prolonged up hill to a length of about 1,000 yards, rising to a maximum height of 50 feet in order to form a viaduct from which the raw materials can be thrown over for the purpose of concentrating the stock in a comparatively small space (vide Report on the Bengal Iron Works, page 1).

Each of these new blast furnaces can be constructed for an outturn of 100 tons of pig iron per 24 hours, giving at the same time better results than the existing blast furnaces would yield with regard to the consumption of fuel and cost of labour, management, wear and tear, &c., for well known reasons.

This establishment should be constructed in such a manner that an increase of it by a third or fourth blast furnace could be accomplished (if the requirements of the rails rolling mill should be augmented) without interfering with the original system and without disturbance to the work of the existing establishment.

The scraps of the rails yield a suitable material for the manufacture of wire as is done in Cleveland: a Bessemer establishment producing daily 200 tons of rails can in this wise turn out 20 to 25 tons of wire in the same time.

The slag of the basic Bessemer process, owing to its contents of phosphate of lime, can be used as manure, as is the practice in Germany.

The puddling and welding process.

For the production of bar-hoop and façon iron of the smaller kind the introduction of the puddling and welding process is recommended. The contents of phosphorus in the pig iron can be reduced in the puddling furnace from 1·36 to 0·25 per cent., and thus renders a material suitable for the manufacture of bar iron of the so-called "refined" quality.

The existing blast furnaces can be arranged for the outturn of about 80 tons of white pig iron per 24 hours, which would yield the necessary material for the production of about 62 tons of small bar iron, façon iron, &c. It may be mentioned that for the production of small façon iron (double T. V. iron, bridge rails, &c.) a small contents of phosphorus is necessary, in order to enable the iron to fill out the complicated shapes of the calibres of the rollers. The circumstances in our case are therefore especially adapted for this purpose.

Railways and Tramways.

As the iron ores of Burrakur are to be had in unlimited quantities in the immediate neighbourhood of the works, and as they can be obtained by simple surface digging, the erection of a tramway for their transport is not necessary; they can be cheaper transported by carts.

Limestone occurs in Pacheet and Hansapathar, at a distance of about 8 and 10 miles from the works. For the making of 200 tons rails and 80 tons castings per diem (as proposed) about 320 tons of this limestone would be required daily. It is therefore advisable to construct a tramway for its transport.

This tramway, however, would have to cross the Damuda river, and this can be done by means of a "causeway," as a bridge over that river (at least for the present) would be too expensive.

The river can in this wise be crossed for 7½ months in the year, and a store of limestone for the remaining four and half months (during the rainy season) has to be kept at the works. The transport of coal to the works and that of finished goods from the works is managed by the East Indian Railway (Seetarampore-Burrakur Line), with which the works are connected by means of a siding.

An iron work producing daily 200 tons Bessemer steel rails costs Rs. 24,49,500.

Conclusion.

The local circumstances with regard to the quantity and quality of the raw materials at the Burrakur Iron Works are specially adapted for the production of rails, rolled beams, girder and ship-plates and other rolled goods of the stronger kind on a large scale, and for the production of ordinary castings, as railway sleepers, pipes, pillars, &c.; as well as for the manufacture of bar and façon iron of "refined" quality.

The raw materials are to be had in unlimited quantities, and cheap enough to produce iron and steel goods of the above kind at competition and profitable prices, if the manufacture of them is conducted on modern principles.

With the proposed improvements and arrangements, namely,—

(1) putting the existing blast furnace establishment and foundries into thorough order for the production of castings,

(2) the erection of a new establishment for making rails, &c.,

the daily outturn of the whole work would be—

(1) 80 tons ordinary castings (principally railway sleepers); and

(2) 200 tons rails, beams, and other rolled goods of the stronger kind.

The production of puddled bar and façon iron, if desired, could be begun on a much smaller scale than the production of rails, and would still pay: the two existing blast furnaces could be arranged—one for the production of grey pig iron for castings, and the other for the manufacture of white pig iron for the puddling process; in this wise there could be turned out daily—

(a) 20 tons of ordinary castings, and

(b) 18 tons of bar and façon iron.

The cost of this arrangement would be about 5 lakhs of rupees in all. Owing to the geographical situation of the works, and considering the railway freight for iron goods prevailing in India, the most profitable sale districts for iron and steel goods, made at Burrakur, would be Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and they could also be sold in Central India and Punjab at competition prices.

REPORT ON THE BENGAL IRON WORKS.

Parts of works.—The works consist essentially of two blast furnaces, each capable of producing 20 tons of grey pig iron for castings per 24 hours, and of a casting establishment of two separate buildings, with all necessary machinery, finishing and repairing workshops; also of offices, store-rooms, scale-houses, water reservoirs, dwellings, &c.

Situation.—The situation of the works may be described in general to have been well chosen, as the principal raw materials, namely, the iron ores, coke and limestone, are found in the immediate neighbourhood and in sufficient quantities. It would, however, have been better if the works had been built on the Barrakur river, which is at a distance of about 1¾ miles, as the water required for them is not to be found in the present situation, but must be led to them from that river.

This shortcoming has rendered necessary the establishment of a special and expensive pumping engine with boilers, and a water conduit of about 8,500 feet in length, consisting of 10-inch cast iron pipes. This water conduit alone may have cost Rs. 50,000, which might have been saved if the works had been built immediately on the river.

Raw materials.—The iron ores are brown hematite, and consist of 47 per cent. of metallic iron on an average, or 78 per cent. of hydrate sesquioxide of iron ($2Se_2O_3, 3HO$); the impurities are 12 per cent. silicic acid (S_1O_2) and 6 per cent. alumina (Al_2, O_3), the rest being protoxide of manganese (Mn O), phosphoric acid ($P O_5$), and traces of sulphur. The iron ores are found close to the iron works and on the surface of the ground; there is, therefore, no expensive mining arrangements necessary; they can be delivered at the iron works for 12 annas per ton, inclusive of all costs.

The coke is made likewise near the works, as the coal mines are near. The coke is well burnt, but contains a good deal of ashes. It costs when delivered at the iron works from Rs. 8 to Rs. 10 per ton, according to quality.

The limestone is obtained from a distance of above 5 miles. It consists of 71½ per cent. of cacium carbonate ($Ca O Co_2$), 17 per cent. other alkalies, and 11½ per cent. silicic acid ($Si O_2$). This limestone, on account of the heavy contents of silicic acid, cannot be considered very satisfactory for the blast-furnace process; in fact, through the 12 per cent. silicic acid in the ores the heavy percentage of ashes in the coke (consisting also chiefly of silicic acid) and the 11½ per cent. of the same in the limestone itself, the consumption of limestone is so heavy that it reduces the value of the great contents of the iron in the ore.

In general, however, the above raw materials are good enough, and their prices so exceedingly low as to have justified the establishment of an iron work in that place for their utilisation.

Blast furnaces.—The blast furnaces are on a well approved Scotch system, and the engines belonging to them, such as the blowing engine, hoist, water-pumps, &c., are well built and well preserved. There is, however, this shortcoming, that there is no suitable arrangement for concentrating the stock of the principal iron materials (ores, coke and limestone), in a comparatively small space. With the great quantities required of these materials, there should have been built behind the furnaces a viaduct, at least 45 feet high, on which to convey these materials and throw them over. With the present arrangement they are spread over a large space, which occasions a considerable expense for bringing them to the blast furnace, and other inconveniences.

Blowing engine.—The blowing engine is double cylindrical, vertical, of approved construction, and in good preservation. For the adjustment of the blast there is a small receiver.

Hoist.—The hoist for the ores, coke and limestone is a costly, well constructed machine, in good preservation, and is worked by a horizontal double-cylinder steam-engine. It may be observed that for this purpose a so-called "water cask elevator," of a very cheap construction, would have done as well. This arrangement has been introduced in many European iron works with success, where in winter time its working is not hindered by the formation of ice; it is therefore suitable for India.

Steam-boilers and chimney.—For the working of the machinery of the blast furnace, there are seven cylindrical boilers, each about 26 feet long and 5½ feet in diameter; these are all built in with masonry connectively, instead of each one or two having their own bed.

The chimney is 120 feet high, and is reported to be of an average width of 10 feet; in shape it is square (instead of round or octangular), which is for well known reasons objectionable; it is also not provided with any anchorage, and is therefore cracked in several places.

Before the works can be started again this chimney would have to be repaired and provided outside with proper iron anchorage.

Hot blast ovens.—For the heating of the blast, there are provided two Whitwell apparatus, one for each blast furnace. The addition of a third apparatus as a reserve would be very desirable, as without it, when one of the apparatus would require repairs or to be cleaned, which frequently occurs, the blast furnace connected with it would have to be worked with cold blast, which requires more fuel and occasions irregularity in the work.

Blast furnace gases.—With reference to the blast furnaces of the establishment, it is inconceivable why the utilisation of the valuable gases evolved as fuel has been entirely neglected, and were allowed to escape. The gases from a blast furnace consist chiefly of about 30 per cent. carbonic oxygen gas (Co), about 4 per cent. heavy carburetted hydrogen gas(C_2, H_4), and about 60 per cent. nitrogen, the rest being carbonic acid, water, steam, &c. This gas mixture, when purified, is powerful enough and in sufficient quantities to heat all the boilers and the hot blast ovens belonging to the blast furnaces from which the gases have been taken. In the present instance 30 tons of coal would have been daily saved. The necessary arrangement for catching, purifying, and distributing the blast furnace gases could be easily and cheaply applied, and is urgently recommended to be introduced, before the works are started again.

Blast furnace slag.—Neither is there any arrangement for the utilisation of another subsidiary product, namely, the blast furnace slag. Blast furnace slags can be converted into cement, artificial stones, and into so-called "slag wool." It consists of about 38 per cent. silicic acid ($Si O_2$), 22 per cent. aluminia ($Al_2 O_3$), 31 per cent. lime (Ca O), the rest being magnesia, gypsum, and other unimportant constituents.

To make the cement, the hot liquid slag is run into water, when it is granulated; the granulated mass is then ground into powder, and this again mixed with one to two per cent. of pure limestone or chalk and burnt; the result is a cement of a superior quality.

For the production of artificial stones, the granulated blast furnace slag is mixed with a little lime cream; it is then pressed in the desired moulds and dried.

"Slag wool" is produced by leading water steam, of a pressure of about two atmospheres, under a right angle, into a thin ray of slag: the produced slag wool looks like cleaned cotton and is used for the packing of steam pipes, the wadding of ice cellars, and in general as an insultator against heat.

Ore crusher.—There is no machine provided in the iron works for crushing the iron ores and the limestone; this used to be done by coolies. An ore crusher, a simple and inexpensive machine, would have done this work cheaper and certainly more effectively.

Pig iron.—The product of the blast furnace was 40 tons of grey pig iron for castings per 24 hours for both blast furnaces. The pig iron was run into sand and allowed to get cold; it was partly sold in this shape and partly remelted in the foundry.

The following is an analysis of it:—

Iron, metallic	90·58	per cent.
Carbon combined	0·14	„
„ graphite	2·70	„
Manganese	0·97	„
Silicon	4·13	„
Phosphorus	1·36	„
Sulphur	0·12	„

Foundry.—The buildings holding the foundry are too far situated from the blast furnaces to allow of the pig iron to be transferred to the buildings direct in a liquid state, for being cast in the moulds without being remelted in the cupolo furnace.

It is an old erroneous notion that the pig iron taken direct from the blast furnace furnishes castings of an inferior quality than when remelted in a cupolo furnace. The only disadvantage which can be alleged against the direct casting, namely, want of uniformity in the casting, can be cancelled by suitable arrangements and manipulations during the process of casting. To explain and to prove this would lead us too far. Suffice it to mention that the process of direct casting from the blast furnace without the intervention of the cupolo furnace has lately been practised with success in several English and German iron works, and for a long time in Austria and Sweden.

The remelting of the pig iron should be resorted to only for the purpose of utilising the Sunday production of the blast furnaces and the scraps of the foundry, or for the production of special qualities of cast iron for certain purposes, such as pottery castings or ornamental objects. In general, the remelting of the pig iron serves only for the convenience of the management of the works, or to remedy irregularaties; for when the blast furnace is irregularly worked, unequal qualities of pig iron are produced, which of course render the direct casting process impossible. Through careless or incorrect management in working the blast furnace, sometimes too much carbonised and sometimes too little carbonised pig iron is turned out, both unsuitable for castings; but through alloying both together they can be profitably used for castings by means of the cupolo furnace.

Cupolo furnaces.—For remelting of the pig iron the Bengal Iron Works have four cupolo furnaces of the approved system, "Ireland." The blast is effected by a ventilator and a Roots blower, the latter decidedly preferable to the former. The defect about the cupolo furnaces is the absence of a lift for pig iron and coke. These materials were carried to the furnace top by coolies upon a staircase. Two simple water cask elevators (one for each couple of furnaces) would remedy this shortcoming at a small expense.

Foundry shops.—The foundry workshops are in two separate buildings—one for light, the other for heavy castings; the latter is therefore provided with five cranes. Connected with the foundry is a workshop for finishing the castings. This workshop contains lathes of varying dimensions, two drilling machines, one planing machine, one pipe-testing machine with all appurtenances, and also a movable crane for serving all this machinery. To work the whole of the workshop machinery there is a horizontal steam-engine with boilers, which also works the Roots blower of the foundry. For working the ventilator of the other foundry there is a portable steam-engine.

The clay and sand required for the foundry are prepared in a separate building. This preparation is done by two mortar mills driven by a portable steam-engine.

Drying furnaces.—For drying off the casting cores and clay moulds, there are well built drying furnaces. All that may be objected to in these is, that they are not arranged for being fired with inferior cheap fuel.

Fuel of an inferior quality offers a double advantage in this instance—the first, that a cheaper kind of fuel may be used; the second, that it gives a more uniform heat, which is essential for drying furnaces. When drying furnaces are heated with good coal, there is a danger of the objects to be dried lying nearest the fuel to become over-heated ("burnt") before the more distant objects have been sufficiently dried; indeed, experience has shown that that fuel is most suitable for drying furnaces which can just barely maintain itself in a burning state, even with a good draught. Many iron works in Germany and in France have therefore found it profitable to prepare the coke from the coals themselves, as the subsidiary products of coke-making, namely, the escaping gases and the residue in the washing apparatus, can be utilised, the former for heating steam-boilers, and the latter for heating the drying furnaces.

Socket pipes.—The way and manner in which socket pipes were prepared in the foundry was obsolete and defective; these used to be cast horizontally—a process which rendered the labour difficult and the outturn small and faulty. Socket pipes must be cast vertically, if their production is to be profitable. To explain the two systems and the reasons of the superiority of one over the other would be too long and out of place here. I will only add that the arrangement for casting vertically can be easily added to the present one.

Arrangement for tiering pipes.—The arrangement for tiering the pipes is equally unpractical and unsuitable for large operations. This arrangement also may be altered without great expense.

Outhouses.—All those outhouses, such as offices, scale-houses, store and dwelling houses and others, which were solidly built, are now in good preservation; but those which were built of inferior material are already dilapidated, and impart to this part of the group of buildings a somewhat ruinous appearance.

SUGGESTIONS.

From what has been reported it may be seen that the Bengal Iron Works are worth reopening; and if their management be entrusted to experienced and conscientious professional men, they should turn out a prosperous investment. The situation is well chosen; the raw materials are near and cheap; and the railway is also near for the conveyance of manufactured goods.

The superiority and good condition of all the machinery and the solidity of the chief buildings prove that the undertakers were imbued with the best intentions to render the establishment good, solid and durable; only it appears that the technical management was entrusted to men of deficient professional experience.

The greatest part of the shortcomings, however, mentioned in the report may be remedied without great costs. Strictly speaking, the existing arrangements have to be completed rather than altered, and this should be done before the works are started again.

The chief condition of success in an iron work is its continuous and full function. The production must be driven to a maximum, so that the expenditure on management, interest of capital, &c., which are exceptionally high in India, should be as much as possible distributed over a high production.

MORAR;
26th October 1881.

C. RITTER VON SCHWARZ.

REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL PROSPECTS OF IRON WORKING IN THE CHANDA DISTRICT.

RAW MATERIALS.

Iron ores.

The most important and, at the same time, best situated deposits of iron ores in the Chanda District are the specular iron ores at Lohara, longitude 79° 47½′ E., latitude 19° 22′ N., and the magnetites at Peepulgaon, longitude 79° 34′ E., latitude 20° 23′ N.

The following is the chemical composition of these iron ores:—

	Lohara ores.	Peepulgaon ores.
Metallic iron	69·00 per cent.	69·00 per cent.
Oxygen in combination	29·57 „	26·29 „
Manganesequioxide	0·10 „	.....
Silica	0·84 „	4·21 per cent.
Alumina	0·43 „	.....
Lime	0·05 „	0·50 per cent.
Sulphur	0·01 „	.....

Each of these deposits forms a continuous accumulation of compact iron ore, constituting a hillock, and is prolonged deep under the general level of the country. The ores are found in such quantities in these places that an Iron Work producing 80 tons of rails daily might be fed from each deposit for about 100 years without resorting to the deeper-lying ores at greater expense. Besides these two deposits there are other places in the Chanda District where iron ore is found, namely, Lankachen, Ratnapur, Dewalgaon, Ogulpet, Metapur, Gunjwahi, Joonona, Kandeshwa, and others; the ores in these places, however, being either of a poorer quality and containing more impurities, or not being so advantageously situated as those of Lohara and Peepulgaon, deserve, at least, for the present, no consideration.

The iron ares of Lohara have in their few impurities all the component parts necessary for the formation of such blast furnace slag which has the proper chemical composition in regard to the ash contents of the fuel, so that 3 per cent. only of flux will be required for smelting these ores in the blast furnace by means of charcoal.

As specular iron ores are easier treated in the blast furnace than magnetites (as is well known to every professional iron-worker), I hold it to be correct on this ground, and on others (explained on page 5), to take up for working, first of all, the iron ores of Lohara (see Appendix No. 1, page 27).

Vegetable fuel.

For the reduction of these iron ores in the blast furnaces the forests of the Chanda District offer sufficient vegetable fuel, and at prices sufficiently cheap for the production of iron and steel of the best quality, in large quantities, and at competition prices.

The forests of the Chanda District cover an area of 3,325 square miles, of which, however, at present, owing to considerations of carriage, only that part should be exploited as fuel for the reduction of the ores which lies within a circumference of about 20 miles radius round the place which has been chosen as the most suitable for the erection of an Iron Work.

This part of the forest covers about 520 square miles, capable of yielding 16,000 tons of dry wood per square mile in its present condition.

According to information from the Conservator of Forests, Central Provinces, from this quantity must be deducted about 30 per cent. for reserved trees, which, owing to the valuable quality of their wood, or owing to other reasons, may not be made into charcoal, so that about 11,000 tons of wood per square mile may safely be counted upon as available for reducing to charcoal.

The weight of the various woods of the Chanda forests is, on an average, 50 lbs. per cubic foot (see Appendix No. 9, page 29); therefore 30 per cent. greater than of the woods (chiefly fir and pine) used in Sweden and Styria for charcoal; the Chanda charcoal being thus specifically heavier is, weight for weight, far more valuable for the smelting of iron ores (see Appendix No. 2, page 27).

According to an estimation of the Conservator of Forests, Central Provinces, the area of 520 square miles of forest, lying round the site of the projected Iron Works, may yield 32,000 tons of charcoal yearly and be regenerated in forty years.

The same authority maintains that the production of charcoal on a large scale, and carried on systematically, improves forests; this, although apparently paradoxical, has been proved by experience in those parts of Sweden and Styria where vegetable fuel is used on a large scale in the production of iron. The reason for this is not far to seek. The products of the forest being in greater demand and more valuable, the science of forestry has been called in to show the way to a more correct system of conserving and increasing the contents of forests. The improved and cheaper means of transport, rendered necessary for an Iron Work near a forest, render also cheaper the carriage of building timber and other forest produce, whereby they become cheaper; saw-mills and other wood-working machines may be advantageously connected with an Iron Work establishment, as this can furnish cheaply the necessary steam-power and supervision.

Coal.

Whilst there is sufficient charcoal in the Chanda forests for the production of pig iron, the coal of the Warda-Godavery Valley is good enough for the refining process, namely, the conversion of the pig iron into finished iron or steel if the necessary arrangements are made, suitable for this quality of fuel.

Judging from borings and outcrops, the sources may be estimated to contain 2,525 millions of tons, of which 1,714 millions are available. The most important seams are those of Wun, Pisgaon, Ghugus, Bunder and Warora.

Of all these coal-fields, however, the Warora seam only is now worked, and produces monthly about 7,000 tons of coal, of which 5,000 tons are bought by the Great Indian Peninsula Railway.

Owing to the small demand of coal the working of this mine is limited; if more use were made of it, the working expenses would be proportionally reduced. It is to be regretted that the quality of this coal is not so satisfactory as the quantity.

An analysis of the Warora coal shows—

	Large coal.	Slack coal.
Fixed carbon	45·6 per cent.	35·5 per cent.
Volatile matters (combustible) ...	26·0 „	26·4 „
„ „ (not combustible) ...	14·0 „	13·0 „
Ashes	14·4 „	24·0 „

The reasons why this coal must be described as of inferior quantity, as regards its fitness for pyrotechnic uses, are—

(1) its insufficient contents of fixed carbon;
(2) its insufficient contents of hydrogen, not combined with oxygen;
(3) its large contents of ashes.

All attempts to reduce this coal to coke, suitable for the blast furnace process, have failed, owing chiefly to its deficient proportion of fixed carbon and (not with oxygen combined) hydrogen. It is well known (although not theoretically proved) that it is generally the hydrogen which imparts to the coal the caking quality necessary for its reduction to coke, but numerous trials have shown that the Warora coal when heated does not cake, but crumbles to pieces, which pieces give indeed coke, but of a quality suitable only for forge fires, or for lime-burning, and not for blast furnaces (see Appendix No. 3, page 27).

The coal of Warora is good enough, however, for producing all the pyrometric effects necessary for puddling and heating furnaces, and to provide the glow furnaces for Bessemer ingots and sheet iron with the necessary heat. This coal is also good enough for the cementation process (production of blister steel) and the temper process (the production of malleable iron); but it is not suitable for the open-hearth process and for the production of crucible steel in the (reverbatory) flaming furnace, as these processes require a very high temperature. Of the other coal fields of the Wanda-Godavery basin, the coal of Pisgaon (Berar) appears to me the most hopeful, owing to its larger contents of fixed carbon. Its analysis is as follows:—

	Large coal.	Slack coal.
Fixed carbon	65·1 per cent.	36·3 per cent.
Volatile matters	19·2 „	32·2 „
Ashes	15·7 „	31·5 „

The large coal of Pisgaon contains, therefore, 20 per cent. more fixed carbon than the large coal of Warora; notwithstanding the superiority of this coal, no arrangements have yet been made to work the seam.

Limestone.

For the reason explained on page 1, the reduction of the iron ores of Lohara in the blast furnace will require 3 per cent. only of limestone as a flux. Excellent limestone for this purpose is to be had in the neighbourhood of Warora; its analysis is as follows:—

Carbonate of lime and magnesium	95·0 per cent.
Silica	2·5 „
Alumina and oxide of iron	2·5 „

Fireproof material.

More important than the supply of limestone is the supply of suitable and cheap fireproof material. English fireproof bricks would cost, delivered in Chanda, Rs. 16 per 100. Now, the requirements of an Iron Work, producing about 80 tons finished iron or steel per day, would be 300,000 tons per year, giving thus an expenditure of Rs. 48,000 yearly for firebricks alone; but—

(a) fire-clay of a good quality is found along with the coal in the Warora Colliery; the following is an analysis of this fire-clay:—

Moisture	4·10 per cent.
Organic matter	4·30 „
Silica (sand)	2·40 „
Silica (in silicates)	63·20 „
Alumina (Al_2O_3)	18·80 „
Oxide of iron	0·50 „
Iron in pyrite	1·87 „
Carbonate of lime	1·80 „
Alkalis and sulphur	2·03 „
Loss	1·00 „

This clay is not so good as first-class English fire-clay, but is good enough for most parts of the iron-melting furnaces.

(b) Near Chanda is also found steatite (Mg. O Si O_2), which, mixed with one-fifth part fire-clay, is well known to give very refractory firebricks.

Fire-proof bricks could be made at the Iron Works for Rs. 2-8 per 100, and about four-fifths of the whole requirement could be covered by these bricks; only for certain parts of the blast furnace and the gas furnaces, it would be necessary to import English firebricks, namely, one-fifth of the whole amount.

AMOUNT OF PRODUCTION.

The amount of iron or steel which can be produced yearly with these raw materials will depend on the quantity of charcoal which the forests near the Iron Work can furnish without irretrievable injury to them; this has been estimated at 32,000 tons per year (vide page 2), and with this charcoal may be turned out 25,000 tons of finished iron per year. In case it may be found desirable in the future to considerably enlarge the Iron Work, recourse may be had to the more distant forests situated south and south-east of Chanda (see plan No. 1) for charcoal for the production of pig iron. In this case it will be advisable to erect other blast furnaces near these forests, with the view of reducing the iron ores of the contiguous deposits and of conveying the pig iron thus obtained to the other Iron Works, situated nearer the sources of mineral fuel, for the purpose of converting it into finished iron. By these means the whole 3,325 square miles of forests in the Chanda District might make it possible for 260,000 tons of iron or steel being produced yearly.

BEST SITUATION FOR AN IRON WORK.

For the production of one ton of finished iron or steel the following quantities of the available materials are necessary:—

	Tons.
Iron ores	1·80
Charcoal	1·30
Mineral coal from Warora	3·00
Limestone	0·03

From these proportions it may be seen that the quantity of fuel is more than double that of ore. On this account, and as besides, for well-known reasons, the carriage of ores, even weight for weight, is cheaper than the carriage of fuel, and store of them easier kept, an Iron Work should always be built as near as possible to the sources of the fuel.

It may also be remarked that the carriage of charcoal is dearer than the carriage of mineral coal.

A suitable place for the Iron Work would be Durgapur on the Fraee stream. This place is surrounded by forests, has enough water even in the driest season, has a firm ground for building and heavy machinery, cheap stone and lime; has also the advantage of being situated somewhat high, and is therefore more within the influences of the breezes, which would keep the Iron Work cool.

This place could also be cheaply put into communication with Lohara and Warora by means of a Tramway, as there are neither hills to cross nor expensive bridges to make. The suitability of this place, however, is best proved, I think, by the annexed plan, No. I, and attention should also be drawn to the important fact that this place, on the Fraee stream, is the only one between Lohara and Warora on which a sufficient supply of water all the year round may be relied upon.

In further support of the preference of this place on account of its water-supply, it may be mentioned that the want of this convenience has caused to the Bengal Iron Works Company an extra expenditure of nearly Rs. 50,000 (see Report on the Bengal Iron Works, page 1).

RAILWAYS.

Under the present circumstances, the best means of connecting the iron mine of Lohara and the Warora Colliery with the Iron Work would be a portable Tramway. This would cost, everything included, about Rs. 12,000 per mile. The whole length of the Tramway would be 55 miles (see Plan No. 1); the total expenditure would therefore be Rs. 6,60,000.

The building of an ordinary railway would, for the present, not answer; it would cost about nine times as much as the tramway (the Warda-Warora Coal State Railway was built at an expenditure of Rs. 1,06,000 per mile), and would hardly pay any interest on the capital expended, especially as the extension of such a Railway eastwards can hardly be expected to be undertaken for a long time.

Nevertheless, should an ordinary ("pucca") railway become necessary in the future in consequence of an enlargement of the Iron Work, or through other reasons, the Tramway being portable, could be transferred elsewhere and advantageously utilised as a way for transport of charcoal and other forest produce.

Besides, the proposed tramway, traversing the best and thickest parts of the Chanda Forest, could at once be utilised for transport of forest produce; combining also the best cultivated and best populated stretch of the Chanda District, it would advantageously connect this with the main railway at Warora.

This tramway line has been proposed after consulting and with the approval of the Conservator of Forests for the Central Provinces and the Deputy Commissioner of the Chanda District. This, and the reasons developed on page 1, are further grounds for first taking in hand the iron ore deposits of Lohara. A modification of the tramway project could take place only if the often spoken of railway extension between Chanda and Warora were definitely resolved upon.

CAST-IRON GOODS.

There is no doubt that, with such excellent raw material as the Chanda District possesses, an excellent quality of cast-iron may be produced; and it follows also that only such cast-iron goods should here be turned out in which a good quality of iron is of importance, and which are, therefore, sold at higher prices.

For the production of such heavy castings as plumber blocks, steam engine flywheels, and other heavy parts of machinery, also of weights, railings, columns, lamp-posts, &c., the raw material of the Chanda District is too valuable.

Heavy castings.

It is further unsuitable for the fabrication of cast pottery and objects of art, as all such things have to be run fine, delicate forms have to be filled, and smooth surfaces given to the castings; for all such goods phosphorus in the cast-iron is necessary, which is not found in the ores of the Chanda District.

Pottery castings.

An article very much in use, and the manufacture of which would be particularly suitable to our circumstances, would be cast-iron railway wheels.

Cast-iron railway wheels.

It is a strange fact that for a long time, and almost exclusively, cast-iron wheels have been used on the railways on the American Continent, not only with goods and passenger wagons, but also with locomotives, whilst in Europe they are generally used with goods wagons, never with passenger wagons, and by no means with locomotives.

Considering the enormous extension of railways in America,—the mileage being greater than that of England, Germany, Austria, France, and Russia taken together—it might be correctly presumed that the Americans have good experience in this matter.

When the great difference in the price of a cast-iron wheel and a wheel of wrought-iron and steel is considered in conjunction with the enormous quantity used, the subject becomes of some importance.

On the other hand, it may be assumed that the Engineers in Europe, to whom the use of cast-iron wheels is no secret, have also good reasons for abiding by wrought-iron and steel wheels. The fact of cast-iron wheels being, on European railways, limited to goods wagons, would point to a want of confidence in the safety of such wheels against brittleness, whilst the confidence in America in the freedom from brittleness can only be due to the wheels being made of a more reliable quality of cast-iron and under a corresponding manipulation.

To enter into the details of manufacturing this article would be out of place here; let it suffice to say that in this matter the greatest care has to be used in the choice of the materials, as well as in the fabrication, if the article is to be free from flaws and reliable in every respect.

Before putting in use, each wheel should be subjected to the most rigid tests for solidity, strength, sufficient hardness in the flanges, and general manufacture.

The material used in America for cast-iron wagon wheels is grey pig-iron, obtained from rich and pure red iron ore melted with charcoal, corresponding, therefore, exactly with our circumstances.

The usual duration of such wheels is of that degree that they are allowed to run 60,000 miles in full confidence before they are subjected to new tests as to their further utility.

At the Philadelphia Exhibition four such wheels were shown which had run 450,000 miles without having suffered in substance or appearance.

Another speciality, suitable for the present circumstances, is the production of malleable castings. For this article also pig-iron of the best quality (reduced with charcoal) is adapted. To explain it in a few words, the cast articles are embedded in material giving off oxygen, and are slowly heated, whereby the carbon is driven out of the cast-iron to a certain degree, the final product being one of steel-like nature. As a decarbonising means in our case the manganese ores of Malaghar and Ramtek (see Plan No. 1) can be made use of. The fabrication of malleable iron has lately been brought to great perfection in certain parts of Europe and America. The following articles might be here produced: ploughshares, scythes, hay-forks, rakes and other agricultural implements; also stirrups, horse-bits, keys, small wheels, certain parts for guns, rifles, and other weapons, double eyes and other parts of machinery, and in general such articles of complicated shapes in which great strength is not required, articles which it would be difficult to make of forage-iron. It is scarcely necessary to mention here that most cast-iron articles may be turned out direct from the blast furnace, without re-melting in the cupola furnace.

Malleable castings.

SUBSIDIARY PRODUCTS.

The subsidiary products of the blast furnace, as the gases and slag, can and should be utilised,—the former for the heating of the boilers and hot-blast ovens; the latter for the fabrication of cement, artificial stones, and slag wool (vide Report on the Bengal Iron Works, page 2).

THE BESSEMER PROCESS.

From the purity and uniformity of the ores and fuel treated of, it may at once be concluded that the product of the blast furnace will also be pure and uniform, and that it will, therefore, be possible to allow the pig-iron to run in a fluid state direct from the blast furnace into the Bessemer converter, whereby the cost of re-melting would be saved, as is successfully done in Carinthia, Styria, and Sweden, where the working is carried on under conditions similar to those in our case.

The finishing process of rolling the Bessemer ingots into rails, tyres, plates, &c., requires no particularly high temperature, and can, therefore, be effected with Warora coal of second quality, viz., slack coal at Rs. 2 per ton.

SPIEGELEISEN.

The "Spiegeleisen" necessary for the production of steel in the Bessemer converter cannot be obtained from the iron ores of Chanda, as, notwithstanding their purity, their contents of manganese is very slight; "Spiegeleisen" would, therefore, have to be imported.

"Spiegeleisen" contains from 5 to 15 per cent. manganese; it would lead us too far to explain why this ratio of manganese is necessary for the production of "Spiegeleisen"; suffice it to say that hitherto the existence of "Spiegeleisen" free of manganese has not been proved (see Appendix No. 4, page 28). For the production of (ingot iron) "Flusseisen" (a product containing only 0·05 to 0·10 per cent. of carbon) in the Bessemer converter, it is not required to add "Spiegeleisen." Girder plates, boiler plates, rod, angle, and square iron, and rolled beams of the stronger kind, wagon axles, and iron rails could be turned out cheaply in the Bessemer process, as these descriptions of goods can be made of (ingot iron) "Flusseisen," and the cost of "Spiegeleisen" is avoided.

The scraps remaining when making rails are generally used up in the open-hearth process, in the cupola furnace, or in the Bessemer converter, where they are melted down with the pig-iron. It has already been shown (page 3) that under the present circumstances the open-hearth process cannot be used; the other usual resources for utilising the scraps of rails is rationally resorted to only where no better alternative remains. These scraps, however, yield particularly suitable material for the manufacture of wire and thin hoop-iron, a process which has been in vogue for some years with success in Cleveland, and has lately been initiated in other Bessemer Works. A Bessemer establishment, producing daily 72 tons of rails, can in this wise turn out daily 8 tons of wire or of hoop-iron.

THE PUDDLING AND WELDING PROCESS.

It has already been mentioned (page 3) that the Warora coal can be advantageously used in the puddling and heating (welding) process; but it should be mentioned also, with regard to the purity and richness of the iron ores, that a modification of this process has come into use in America, consisting in the adding of iron ores for furthering decarbonisation, whereby the time of finishing the puddling process is shortened, the loss of iron, which used to be about 10 per cent. is reduced to 2 per cent., and there is a corresponding saving in coal and labour. The puddling process has lately been much diminished in Europe, owing to the undoubted success of the Thomas Gilchrist dephosphorising method applied to the Bessemer process, as, by this method, the cheaper pig-iron containing phosphorus can be worked, which was before possible only in the puddling furnace; but the latter will still maintain itself—

1st, where there is an object to manufacture fine kinds of iron, or rolled iron goods of complicated form, as wire, fine hoop-iron, thin sheet-iron, thin angle and U-iron, &c., because the reduction of the 11-inch thick Bessemer blocks of compact material to small dimensions or complicated forms is combined with much and costly manipulation;

2nd, for turning out certain qualities of iron and steel, which cannot be produced in the Bessemer converter, for instance blister and Brescian steel.

THE DIRECT PROCESS.

It will not be out of place here to bring to notice a new process of iron and steel-making directly of ores, namely, the "Landore Process," which, if not at present, may, under the condition of the projected Iron Work, deserve consideration in future.

This process consists in melting a certain amount of grey pig-iron of the best quality in an open-hearth furnace, and adding to the thin fluid metal bath so obtained iron ores till the matter has been decarbonised. It is the oxygen in the iron ore which is here the decarbonising factor, the metallic iron being reduced and dissolved in the metal bath.

This adding of iron ore is continued till the whole of the pig-iron has been decarbonised (which is experimentally ascertained), when "Spiegeleisen" or "Ferromanganese" is added, as in the Bessemer converter, for the production of a given quality of steel.

It is scarcely necessary to prove that for this process iron ores of the best quality are required; in Landore these are imported from Mokta in Algeria; they contain 62 per cent. metallic iron and have no injurious impurities. Now, these ores cost, delivered in Landore, about Rs. 13 per ton, whilst the iron ores of Lohara contain 69 per cent. of metallic iron (7 per cent. more), and would cost, delivered at the Iron Work in Chanda, Rs. 3½ per ton

It should be, however, pointed out that the process under explanation requires a very high degree of heat, as the metal bath has to remain perfectly liquid even in a decarbonised state; the metal bath must also be covered with a layer of slags, 3 inches thick, as a protection against the flame hovering over it, which would act injuriously upon the ores floating on the surface of the bath, till they are dissolved.

This cover of slags acting as a bad conductor of heat, a temperature of 1900° centigrade is required to work the Landore process successfully. It may be doubted whether so high a temperature can be obtained with Warora coal (being poor in carbon), even with the assistance of Siemen's regenerators, but it might be obtained with the Pisgaon coal, which has 20 per cent. more carbon than the Warora coal.

Should, therefore, in due time the Pisgaon seam be opened out, this process would have a chance of giving excellent results with the Lohara ores. This process has been in use in the Landore Works already 12 years with ever-increasing results: by this time there are 24 furnaces at work, producing together about 2,000 tons of steel per week. The steel turned out with this process is well-known for its uniformity and durability, and is therefore preferred in the English arsenals to all other brands. It is due chiefly to the difficulty of finding so pure and rich ores, and to their high cost, that this process has not been more generally adopted (see Appendix 5, page 2*).

ARTICLES FOR EXPORT.

The natural resources of the Chanda District offer not only the prospects of supplying India with a considerable portion of her iron and steel requirements, but also of producing articles for exportation to England—articles which are not made in England, but are imported in considerable quantities from the Continent of Europe.

Such are Ferromanganese, a mixture of metallic iron with 30 to 75 per cent. of metallic manganese, and a few per cents. of carbon; it is used as an addition in the Bessemer and open-hearth processes, and also in the cast-steel crucible for the production of certain kinds of steel of special hardness for bandages, cutting tools, manganese steel, &c.

Ferromanganese.

The price of this article is very high, and fluctuates according to the quantity of manganese it contains,—from £15 to £25 per ton delivered at Sheffield. The best part of this article England imports from Hörde in Germany, and Terrenoire in France. The raw materials required for the production of ferromanganese are pure charcoal pig-iron (granulated), and manganese ore containing iron.

There are three systems for the manufacture of ferromanganese, namely, in the crucible, the open-hearth, and the shaft furnace. To explain all these methods would lead too far; suffice it to say that for our conditions the production of ferromanganese with the shaft furnace (Système "Terrenoire") would be most suitable.

There is in Ramtek (see Plan No. 1) manganese ore of the following chemical composition:—

	Per cent.
Metallic manganese	54·60
„ iron	6·50
Oxygen in combination	26·50
Silica	6·00
Lime	1·20
Combined water a. div. impurities	5·20

This manganese ore, with the pig-iron obtained from the Lohara ores by means of charcoal, would yield a material for the production of Ferromanganese of an excellent quality.

Another manganese ore is found in Malaghar (see Plan No. 1), Wún District, containing 26 per cent. metallic manganese; it is of an inferior quality, and, although nearer, it cannot compete with that of Ramtek.

A second export article to England would be the so-called "Brescian or Milan Steel." This is a kind of puddling steel, made of a pig-iron free from phosphorous and sulphur, and is an article of commerce in great demand and much esteemed.

Brescian Steel.

In former times, Brescian or Milan steel was only made, as its name indicates, in the districts of Milan and Brescia, and was made with charcoal in the old charcoal hearth. The demand for this article, however, in England and on the Continent of Europe was greater than those districts could satisfy, and Corinthia and Styria are now supplying the greatest part of it.

As material for this product serves pure, white and grey charcoal pig-iron, which are converted in the puddling furnace by means of brown coal or turf into raw steel. It is then rolled by means of the welding process into square bars from ½ to ¾ inch thick. The bars are quickly cooled in water, broken, sorted according to the appearance of the breach, and packed in cases for export to England, France, and Germany.

The price of Brescian steel delivered in Sheffield is £18 per ton.

THE LABOUR QUESTION.

The disproportionally heavy cost and disadvantages arising from climate and social circumstances connected with the maintenance of a European staff of workmen point to the advisability of having recourse, as much as possible, to native labour; on the other hand, there is in the native a deficiency of practical professional training and a lower degree of physical and moral strength. Professional training can, however, be imparted to the native, and I believe he can be made to learn the work required at a blast furnace and rolling mill, if he be treated at it with gentleness and patience, if he be strictly controlled, if he be not worked too hard, and if his religious and other prejudices be respected; his physical strength will rise with better diet obtained by means of better wages.

The usual 12 hours of daily attendance ruling in Europe would have to be reduced to 8 hours. It would also be advisable to promise rewards to the European workmen for every native trained sufficiently to replace a European.

There are some branches of iron-work which natives will learn very quickly, such as the manufacture of wire, hoop-iron, malleable iron, ferromanganese, blister steel, and other operations requiring less physical strength, but more quickness of movement or manual cleverness.

WATER-POWER.

No suitable place can be found in the Chanda District where there is natural water-power available for the driving of the machinery of an iron work.

The only stream in this district which might be made to furnish water-power is the Winganga, called Prenhita after its union with the Wurda stream, north of Bemballa (see Plan No. V). This stream has numerous cataracts, which, if concentrated by a canal six miles long, would give a fall of 40 feet.

The quantity of water amounts during the dry season to about 100 cubic feet per second, which with the 40-feet fall, would give theoretically an effect of about 520 horse-power.

Through the application of a Jonval turbine (the most suitable motor for our conditions), this water-power might be made to furnish a real effect of 350 horse-power; the use of this water-power for the iron work is, however, not suitable, and this for the following reasons:—

(1) In the rainy season this stream rises often 50 feet, when the machinery worked by it would have to be stopped, a contingency which an iron work could not endure, as the laying cold and reheating of the furnaces are connected with very great expense of money and time, and with other inconveniences which it would be too long to explain here.

(2) The locality of the available water-power is too much out of the way, so that the saving of fuel would be more than counterbalanced by the greater cost of carriage of the raw materials and the manufactured goods.

(3) Water-power is in general of less value for an iron work because the necessary steam-power for the driving of the machinery may be produced, in most cases, with the gases drawn from the furnaces, that is to say, no extra fuel is required for heating the boilers. The gases of a blast furnace (of a production of 30 tons of pig-iron per day) supply about 150 horse-power; the gases of a furnace for Bessemer ingots furnish 130 horse-power, a puddling furnace gives 20 horse-power; and a heating furnace for bar-iron 25 horse-power.

The water-power of the Winganga may become of good use for other industries in the future, when the communications of the district will have been developed.

A short stoppage of a paper, cotton, rice, or saw mill is no great loss, as the time of the inundation can be usefully employed for repairing the machinery, taking stock, &c., which operations, by making a virtue of necessity, could be always reserved for the season of the freshes.

For such establishments water-power has also more value, as it can be assumed that each of its horse-power is equal to one cwt. of coal per 12 hours.

COST OF RAW MATERIALS.

Iron ore.

The cost of quarrying the iron ore at Lohara and carrying it to the tramway may be estimated at annas 14 per ton, the carriage by tramway from Lohara to the iron work, 38 miles, at anna 1 per ton per mile; we have therefore—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Cost of the ore at the quarry, per ton	0	14	0
Carriage from Lohara to the iron work, 38 miles, at 1 anna per ton	2	6	0
Total cost of one ton of ore delivered at works ...	3	4	0

Charcoal.

According to information received from the Conservator of Forests of the Central Provinces, charcoal may be had at the place of production for Rs. 3-13-10 per ton; but it may be presumed that with a larger demand the rates of labour and contingencies will rise and increase the present price of charcoal by 30 per cent.; it will therefore be safer to estimate the cost per ton at Rs. 5-0-6 (see Appendix No. 8, page 28). The transport of charcoal will also best be effected by a portable tramway.

Owing to the larger bulk of this article, and the somewhat greater precautions required to be taken in its carriage, it will cost about 50 per cent. more than that of the ore, namely, annas 1½ per ton per mile.

It should be observed that, according to the information furnished by the Conservator of Forests, Central Provinces, the 32,000 tons of charcoal (which will be required annually) will cause a deboisement of 11 square miles of forest yearly; with regard to the situation of the forest to the iron works it will therefore be necessary to shift the charcoal tramway once every 3½ years. Assuming the charcoal tramway to be 20 miles, the cost of its shifting every 3½ years will be $20 \times 3{,}000$=Rs. 60,000 (Rs. 3,000 per mile), which must be distributed over the cost of carriage of the charcoal. Now, tons $32{,}000 \times 3\frac{1}{2}$ (years)=112,000 tons; therefore the cost of shifting of tramway per ton of charcoal will be $\frac{\text{Rs. } 60{,}000}{\text{tons } 112{,}000}$ = annas 9.

The average distance over which the charcoal will have to be carried is 15 miles. The cost of carriage of the charcoal will therefore stand per ton—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Net carriage	1	6	6
Proportion of shifting of Tramway every 3½ years	0	9	0
Total ...	1	15	6

The total cost of one ton of charcoal delivered at the Iron Works will therefore be—

	Rs.	A.	P.
At the place of production	5	0	6
Total cost of carriage (annas 2½ per ton per mile)	1	15	6
Total ...	7	0	0

It will be observed that in this calculation only the actual expenses have been taken into account, and not the value of the trees to the Forest Department; but it should be remembered that, in an indirect way (explained on page 2), the Forest Department will be sufficiently compensated by an iron work situated near its forests.

Coal.

The prices of coal in Warora are Rs. 5 per ton large coal and Rs. 2 per ton slack coal; its carriage to the Iron Work per Tramway would be ¾ annas per ton per mile.

The carriage of the coal is taken 30 per cent. lower than that of the ore, as it will chiefly be done by return train; all other goods will be carried to Warora from the iron works, and the coal to the iron works from Warora. These other goods will be those made in the iron work, but also forest produce and the agricultural produce of the well-cultivated part of the country situated on the Winganga stream, which agricultural produce is sure to be increased through the tramway connecting this district with the main railway at Warora. The total cost per ton of coal delivered at the iron work will therefore be :—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Large coal, cost at Warora	5	0	0
Carriage from Warora, 17 miles, at 9 pies per ton	0	13	0
Total	5	13	0

	Rs.	A.	P.
Slack coal, per ton at Warora	2	0	0
Carriage from Warora to the iron works, 17 miles at 9 pies ...	0	13	0
Total	2	13	0

Limestone.

The cost of limestone delivered at the iron works will be the same as that of slack coal, namely, Rs. 2-13-0 per ton.

WAGES.

Skilled labour.

In the beginning at least skilled labour will have to be done by Europeans (see page 10); for certain subordinate operations only suitable natives may be found, as for instance foundrymen, engine-drivers, masons, carpenters, and other auxiliary workmen.

The cost of professional work done by Europeans must be assumed as double that in Europe.

Native labour.

A strong native coolie costs at present in the Chanda District annas 2½ per day, but wages must be expected to rise to annas 4. If the native labourer be assumed to do, in a given time, only half the work a European would do, he would still cost less than half. Unskilled work, such as loading and unloading the work at the cranes, carriage, masonry, carpentry, locksmith's work, and all auxiliary work can be done by natives, and may be estimated at half the cost for which it is done in Europe.

MANAGEMENT, WEAR AND TEAR, &c.

The cost of these is estimated at 35 per cent. higher than in Europe. This agrees with the experience gained in other large establishments of the kind in India. There will, however, be an economy in respect of fireproof material, which forms the greatest item in the question of wear and tear, as the raw material is found near the iron work and can be worked up exclusively by coolies.

APPENDICES.

No. 1.—The proportion of the pig-iron to the slags in the blast furnace should not exceed that of 5 : 1. The reason of this is that the pig-iron, which accumulates in the lowest part of the blast furnace, requires to be protected from the decarbonising effect of the blast streaming out of the tuyeres. This protection is offered by a sufficiently thick layer of slags, which, being specifically lighter, floats on the surface of the pig-iron bath like oil on water, keeping off every injurious action of the air hovering over it. As a rule, the quantity of slags is twice and three times as large as that of the pig-iron. In the smelting of the Lohara ores, the decidedly rare case presents itself of the ores being too pure and the blast furnace slags consisting of the impurities of the ores, the ashes of the fuel and of the flux, representing 16 per cent. only of the quantity of pig-iron. To complete, therefore, the deficiency of 4 per cent., the ores of Lohara require an addition of 12 per cent. of an inferior ore, which is to be found in the neighbourhood of the projected Iron Work.

The reason of the difficulty in treating magnet iron ores lies in general in their low melting point, combined (notwithstanding their proportionally smaller contents of oxygen) with a difficulty in reduction. On this account it easily occurs that magnetites begin to melt in the blast furnace before the oxygen has been driven out, bringing about the unpleasant consequences well known to iron-masters. Magnetites can therefore not be worked with a blast of high temperature in order to reduce them, as much as possible, with carbonic oxygen gas (CO), that is to say, at a lower temperature.

Therefore, also, for the smelting of magnetite ($Fe_3 O_4$) proportionately larger consumption of fuel in the blast furnace is required than in the smelting of specular iron ores ($Fe_2 O_3$), a kind of red iron ore, although the latter requires more carbon for its reduction than the former.

No. 2.—The reasons why specifically heavier charcoal, weight for weight, is more valuable than specifically lighter charcoal are the following :—

(1) A larger quantity of fixed carbon is comprised in a smaller space, whereby, as is well known, the pyrometric effect of every description of fuel is raised.

(2) The larger the specific weight is of charcoal, the greater is its resistance to being crushed, and this consideration is very important in regard to the use of charcoal in the blast furnace. In general, the dimensions of a blast furnace should be as large as possible, as thereby fuel, labour, and wear and tear are spared, but their limit is determined by the height of the furnace from which all the other dimensions depend. The height of a blast furnace again depends on the mechanical resistance "capacity" of the fuel to be used, which "capacity" should be great enough to enable it to bear, in the lower parts of the furnace, the whole weight of the smelting column which fills the furnace (namely, the ore, fuel and flux) without being crushed. Coke furnaces are worked most economically, because their height reaches 70 feet, and their outturn of pig-iron can be raised to 75 tons per day. The charcoal blast furnaces of Styria and Sweden have a maximum height of 45 feet, and produce 20 tons of pig-iron, but the charcoal of Chanda will allow of a blast furnace 52 feet high capable of turning out daily from 30 to 35 tons of pig-iron.

No. 3.—Coke for the blast furnace process should not be smaller than half a fist ; it is better when the pieces are more than the size of a fist, and this on the following grounds :—

(1) To facilitate their onward motion, together with the ore and flux, which is necessary for the promotion of the chemical reactions between the fuel, ore and flux as they sink in the blast furnace, which chemical reactions are possible only when the materials remain in constant touch with one another.

(2) To render possible the withdrawing of the gases rising from the lower parts of the blast furnace, which evidently would not take place if all the interstices between the materials which fill the blast furnace were choked up with small particles of coke.

No. 4.—It may not be out of place here to meet an objection arising from an opinion still often entertained, that for the purpose of producing "Spiegeleisen," manganese ores may be added to iron ores devoid of it by introducing it into the blast furnace in proper quantities along with the iron ore.

This question may be raised in our case, as manganese ore is found not far from the iron work (see Plan No. I, page 10). All such attempts have failed in practice, owing to the difficulty of reducing manganese ore. It is found that the iron ore is reduced (the oxygen driven out) and carbonised; therefore ready for the melting process, when the manganese ore, which had been put in simultaneously with the other, has scarcely commenced giving off its oxygen; in other words, has scarcely commenced to be reduced.

The natural consequence then results that the manganese ore (reaching the melting zone almost unchanged) is fused in this condition, and forms a good part of the blast furnace slags without amalgamating itself with the pig-iron.

The simultaneous reduction of oxide of manganese and oxide of iron can only take place when the particles of both are most intimately mixed, which is the case in iron ores containing a large percentage of oxide of manganese.

An alloy of metallic iron and manganese, the so-called ferromanganese, can be obtained by certain manipulations (see page 9) ; but as ferromanganese cannot replace "Spiegeleisen," this process is not worth further consideration in this place.

No. 5.—The direct process of Siemen's is, under the conditions before us, not suitable, because this process depends also upon the open-hearth furnace, as the iron blooms (the end product of the Siemen's rotator furnace) have to be dissolved in the pig-iron bath of the open-hearth for the conversion into steel. These blooms are therefore used in the same manner as the iron ores in the Landore process.

Should, however, in future the open-hearth process become practicable (through opening of the Pisgaon coal mine—see page 3), it is then the Landore direct process would be preferable, as, in our case, the iron ores of Lohara would cheaply replace the iron blooms of Siemen's rotator.

No. 6.—For the reasons explained in page 27, an addition of 12 per cent. of poorer ores will be necessary for the Lohara ores. Such poorer ores are to be found in Joonona, about 19 miles from the iron work, therefore about 20 miles nearer than those of Lohara ; but as the former have to be carried by cart to the iron work, the price of Rs. 3¼ (delivered at the works) remains unaltered.

No. 7.—The estimate includes the cost of the tramway for the transport of the charcoal to the iron work. The length of this tramway would be 20 miles, and its price Rs. 2,40,000. In the first seven years, however, the charcoal might be carried on the other tramway, viz., that connecting the iron work with Lohara and Warora, and the building of the charcoal tramway might be deferred till the necessary rails, sleepers, &c., can be made in our own iron work.

SUGGESTIONS.

The quantities, qualities, and the prices of the raw materials available in the Chanda district would furnish daily 80 tons of finished iron or steel, saleable at competition and profitable prices in India, and certain other articles for exportation to England.

Rails would give the smallest profit, as, by the "Thomas Gilchrist" dephosphorising method combined with the Bessemer process, the cheaper pig-iron, containing phosphorus, is worked into rails, the price of which has therefore fallen in Europe by 40 per cent. within the last two years.

Greater will be the profit from kinds of iron which, for the reasons explained on page 8, cannot be made so profitably by means of the Bessemer process, such as small bar-iron, hoop-iron, thin sheet-iron, wire, &c.; in short, all such kinds of goods which have either a small or a complex section.

Most profitable in our case will be articles which can be made only of ores of the best quality, and with vegetable fuel. Some of these have been severally and briefly treated of on pages 6 and 7. The chief factor which may, in the beginning, mar the full financial success of the Chanda Iron Works lies in the high railway freight prevailing in India.

This incubus on iron-work industry will, in the present case, press all the harder, as the railways of the Central Provinces are still insufficiently developed, as a glance at the railway chart may easily prove; but it may be expected that commercial, strategical, and other interests will soon cause the completion of the system to be taken in hand.

In the interest of the prospective iron industries of Chanda, the following extensions or new constructions of railways would be beneficial :—

(1) An extension of the Wardah-Warora line to Hyderabad viâ Chanda.
(2) A junction of the Great Indian Peninsula line at Kamptee with Gadawara or Jubbulpore (Bhosawul-Jubbulpore line) viâ Seoni.*
(3) A further extension of the latter line through Saugor and Jhansi and a junction with Gwalior.

Should these extensions be decided upon, it would be advisable to utilise the natural resources of the Chanda district in iron works capable of manufacturing all the iron railway material.

29th Bombay Native Infantry (2nd Biluch Regiment).

In Reserve at Aden.

4th Madras Native Infantry.
31st Madras Native (Light) Infantry.

The following regulations are laid down for the guidance of all concerned:—

1. Native Regiments will go on the present established strength of 550 of all ranks for Cavalry, and 832 for Infantry, so far as they may be complete, and minus the men who are unfit.

2. Commanding Officers will be held responsible that none but officers, men and followers in every way fit for field service accompany the regiment: all sickly men are to be left at the depot, and no others.

3. Each Native regiment will be completed to its full establishment of eight British officers, including those who may be recalled from furlough, and who may be expected to join in Egypt.

4. Followers, servants, and baggage will be according to the Kabul scale, but without grass-cutters, except as hereinafter laid down for the cavalry. All regiments will be completed with all establishments (including commissariat), according to the orders laid down, in their respective presidencies.

5. Depots for regiments will be formed under the orders of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India, and of the Governments of Madras and Bombay respectively.

6. A British officer will be detailed for the charge of each of these depots, and will draw the allowance specified in Articles 307 and 378, Pay Code for India, Vol. I. A pay havildar, on a staff salary of Rs. 5 per mensem, will be allowed to each depot of native troops.

7. Commanding Officers will be held responsible that all orders and circulars connected with family remittances and arrangements for the comfort of the men and families are made known to, and are in possession of, officers appointed to the charge of depots; and that provision is made for the care of spare arms, accoutrements, books, heavy baggage, &c., which may be left behind.

8. Quartermaster's establishments for the depots will be supplied under clause 15, India Army Circulars of 1880.

9. The families of British troops left behind in India will remain at their present stations, and will receive, in addition to subsistence allowance, three-quarter rations for the wives and half-rations for the children.

10. Followers, servants, baggage, camp equipage, and kit, for staff and departmental officers, will be on the Kabul scale, but grass-cutters will not be taken.

11. The British troops, including officers of the Army Medical Department, will remain on Indian pay and allowances until they land in Egypt, when they will come under the orders of the General Commanding in Egypt, and will then be on the same scale of pay and allowances as the rest of the British troops with the expeditionary force.

12. Native infantry and sappers and miners will draw extra batta; and free rations will be allowed to all ranks of cavalry, infantry, and sappers, while on foreign service.

13. Each native commissioned officer of the cavalry will be required to keep up one pony and one attendant as syce and grass-cutter, whether he takes one or two horses; and the non-commissioned officers and privates to maintain one pony and one grass-cutter for every two horses.

14. Compensation at the rate of Rs. 5 per mensem will be allowed to the native officers for each bargheer sanctioned by existing regulations, if maintained by them, out of which sum they will pay the share of the grass-cutter's wages and provide the stable gear. A similar amount will be deducted from the pay of the bargheer sowars.

15. As during a sea voyage the officers, non-commissioned officers and sowars of the cavalry would be unable to make the requisite provision for the forage of their horses, whilst difficulty might be experienced in this respect during a portion of their service on land, the forage of the horses, and of the mules or ponies accompanying, will be undertaken by the Commissariat, with such assistance as the regiments and followers may be enabled to render after landing.

16. All ranks will be required, as at present, to maintain one efficient horse; but the native commissioned officers will be allowed forage for two horses each, if they desire to take a second charger.

17. The grass-cutters will be paid by the troops, as usual; but the ponies will receive grain, and, when necessary, hay, free of cost. Both grass-cutters and animals will be employed to procure forage when obtainable, and must be held disposable for all purposes.

18. The native commissioned and non-commissioned officers of cavalry will continue to subscribe to the regimental funds to such extent as commanding officers may deem necessary within the limits prescribed by regulations.

19. They will continue to supply themselves with the ordinary clothing, equipment, saddlery, and stable gear for their horses; but articles of extra clothing necessitated by any speciality of climate or service will be issued free of cost.

20. All casualties of horses or ponies arising from neglect or from causes evidently unconnected with the particular nature of the service must, as usual, be replaced by the regiments concerned. Each troop will be allowed to embark and maintain two chunda horses, to meet casualties, which will be rationed free of cost.

21. All casualties among horses or ponies fairly attributable to, or connected with, the service, including those from accident on boardship or during embarkation or disembarkation, will, if there has been no proved neglect, be replaced by Government, or compensation will be allowed, under the rules in the Pay Code for India, Vol. II.

22. During the continuance of the arrangement under which the supply of grain and forage to the cavalry is undertaken by the State, the pay of the several grades will be as follows:—

Bengal Cavalry.

	Rates of pay. Rs.	A.	P.
1 „ 3rd „	200	0	0
1 Ressaidar, 1st „	150	0	0
1 „ 2nd „	135	0	0
1 „ 3rd „	120	0	0
2 „ 2nd „	70	0	0

23. Public followers, except those engaged on salaries specifically laid down for the occasion, will receive an addition of 50 per cent. on pay and batta, in addition to free rations, while on foreign service.

24. The sanctioned followers paid by the troops will receive from Government free rations, and such extra pay as may be necessary to put them on a par with the public followers of a similar class.

25. The scale of rations for native troops on shore will be that laid down in Article 641, Indian Commissariat Code, extracted in the margin. An allowance of 1 lb. of meat per man weekly is also authorised.

Atta 2 lbs., or rice	1½ lbs.
Dhal	4 oz.
Ghee	2 „
Salt	¾ „
Onions	1 „
Pepper	1/6 „
Chillies	1/6 „
Turmeric	1/6 „

When meat, even on special occasions, is issued, the ration of atta or rice is to be reduced one-half.

No claim for pecuniary compensation can be admitted, if through accident any part of the above authorised scale of rations is not forthcoming.

The issue of tea and sugar should be confined to the cases of sick and wounded, for whom medical officers may authorise it, and for the rest of the troops on special occasions of fatigue, exposure, or bad climate when recommended by the principal medical officer. On such occasions 2 oz. of sugar and ½ oz. of tea per man may be issued.

Tobacco can only be issued on payment at the rate of one ounce per man per diem, the price charged being the first cost to Government, without any addition on account of carriage or losses.

The scale of rations on boardship will be for Europeans that laid down in Appendix XI, page 565, Commissariat Code, and for natives that laid down in Appendix XIV, page 575, of the same Code.

The scale of rations for followers will be as follows:—

Wheat flour or rice ...	1½ lbs.
Dhal	¼ oz.
Ghee	1 „
Salt	¾ „

26. On land the forage allowance for each horse will be 8 lbs. of such grain as may be procurable, with 14 lbs. of hay when green forage is not procurable, or otherwise as may be ordered. The allowance for ponies will be one-half of the forage ration of a horse.

27. British officers and departmental warrant officers will be allowed to draw rations for themselves, servants, and horses from the Commissariat Department, payment being made as laid down in the Commissariat Code, paragraph 133:—

"133. Officers on field service are required to credit in their pay bills the value of all rations, &c., and the hire of all carriage supplied to them under the following certificate:—

"I do hereby certify on honor that during the period for which the pay (or advance) is drawn, I have received rations from the Commissariat for myself, servants, and horses. I have also had the use of the following Government carriage:—

."

Officers—

Rations for themselves, daily, exclusive of rum or extra supplies	Rs.	0	8	0
Rations for their servants, monthly	„	2	8	0
Rations for each horse, daily	„	0	8	0

Warrant Officers—

Rations for themselves, daily, exclusive of rum or extra supplies ...	„	0	6	0

28. Transport will be charged for at the rates laid down for the Afghan war, viz., 8 annas and 7 annas per diem for camels and mules respectively.

29. The officers of the Military Account Department will act as Field Paymasters, and also have charge of the treasure chest.

30. Pay lists of British troops for the period of the voyage will be rendered to the Pay Examiner of the Presidency to which they belong; from date of landing in Egypt, they will be rendered to the Staff Paymaster with the force proceeding from England.

31. Pay lists of native troops will be forwarded, as soon after the first of each month as may be possible, through the Field Paymaster, to the Pay Examiner of the Presidency to which the troops belong. Officers commanding regiments will draw monthly from the field pay office such sums as may be required for the pay of themselves and their men, after making provision to meet family allotments and remittances, fund subscriptions, &c., the amount of which allotments, &c., they will debit themselves with in their general states.

32. The pay bills of all staff and departmental officers will be adjusted by the Field Paymaster.

33. All payments to native troops will if practicable be made in rupees; but should it be necessary to issue the coinage of the country or British money, their pay and allowances will be converted into that coinage, under the orders of the General Commanding, at the rates of exchange current in Egypt.

34. Officers commanding native regiments and detachments detailed for service are directed to at once draw and distribute three months' pay in advance to their respective corps.

35. Staff and departmental establishments may receive similar advances, not including command, contract, office, and staff allowances.

36. The family remittances to India of the British troops will be made at the official rate of exchange through the Field Paymaster. Remittances to England will be made under the War Office regulations. The family remittances of native troops will be arranged for, as usual, by officers commanding regiments and detachments.

37. Officers, warrant officers and non-commissioned officers, with the exception of those belonging to the British portion of the division, requiring remittances to India, may remit the whole or any part of their pay to India at par on paying the amount to the Field Paymaster, who is authorised to grant transfer remittance receipts on any treasury in India. As an alternative arrangement, officers may leave with the Presidency Paymaster, Bombay, an allotment roll stating the amount they wish to be paid monthly, and the person to whom it should be remitted. That officer will then make the necessary remittance monthly, and he will furnish the Field Paymaster with a list of the sums thus allotted, to enable the latter to make the necessary deduction from officers' pay bills. Remittances to England for the benefit of their families may be made through the Field Paymaster at the official rate of exchange, to the extent of one-half of an officer's clear receipts, exclusive of office and contingent allowances.

38. Officers of the expeditionary force should recover from the pay of followers serving under them the amount that each man may desire to be paid to his family in India, and send to the Controller of Military Accounts, Accounts Branch, Bombay, in time to reach him not later than the 20th of each month, a statement* of such recoveries, according to which the families will be paid under instructions to be issued by that officer. The amount thus recovered should be paid to the Field Paymaster, whose receipt should be entered on, or attached to, the statement.

* Form attached.

39. Every care should be taken to fill in the statements correctly from the tickets given to the men on engagement and the records in the field. Where the information is not available, owing to the loss of the tickets or any other cause, immediate application should be made to the depot commanding or departmental officers concerned.

40. Clothing and equipment on the following scales will be issued to troops and followers:—

Cooke having been appointed to officiate temporarily as Accountant General, Bengal, Mr. Atkinson made over, and Mr. Cooke received, charge of the appointment after noon on the 5th August 1882.

The 11th August 1882.

No. 3025.—Mr. H. J. Brereton, Assistant Accountant General, Punjab, having returned from privilege leave, resumed charge of his duties after noon on the 3rd August 1882.

No. 3093.—The following appointments in the Financial Department have been sanctioned, with effect from the 23rd July 1882, inclusive :—

Mr. E. F. T. Atkinson, B.C.S., to be Accountant General, Bengal.

Mr. A. C. Tupp, B.C.S., to be Accountant General, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and Deputy Commissioner of the Department of Issue of State Paper Currency at Allahabad. Mr. Tupp will however continue, until further orders, to officiate as Accountant General, Bombay, and Commissioner of the Department of Issue of State Paper Currency at Bombay.

Mr. H. F. Clogstoun, M.C.S., to be Accountant General, Madras, and Commissioner of the Department of Issue of State Paper Currency at Madras.

Mr. E. J. Sinkinson, B.C.S., to be an officer in the Enrolled List of the Financial Department (Class II) and to be Deputy Accountant General, Madras. Mr. Sinkinson will however continue, until further orders, to officiate as Accountant General, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and Deputy Commissioner of the Department of Issue of State Paper Currency at Allahabad.

Mr. Stephen Jacob, B.C.S., is confirmed in the appointment of Under Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce.

Mr. J. F. Finlay, M.A., B.C.S., to be an officer in the Enrolled List of the Financial Department (Class IV) and to be Assistant Comptroller General. Mr. Finlay will however continue, until further orders, to officiate as Assistant Accountant General, North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

No. 3111.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

Read the following papers :—

Letter to the Government of Bombay, No. 1943, dated 13th December 1881.
Letter from the Government of Bombay, No. 4605, dated 14th July 1882, and enclosure.

RESOLUTION.—The Governor General in Council observes that by letter No. 1943, dated 13th December 1881, which was published in Part I of the Gazette of India, dated 17th idem, the Government of Bombay was requested to collect and furnish to the Government of India all available information connected with sites in the Bombay Presidency where water-power exists sufficient for putting in motion the machinery of an extensive factory, and that from the report now received from that Government it is evident that suitable sites with sufficient water-power to drive such machinery exist in several districts in the Bombay Presidency.

2. The main object which induced the Government of India to institute these enquiries was to encourage a project for the establishment of a Paper Mill in the Bombay Presidency, such a mill being much wanted there, and, in furtherance of the policy of the Government to encourage local industries, His Excellency in Council would be prepared to enter into a contract with any private individual or firm who may be willing to establish such mills, for a term of five years or more, for the supply of paper required for the public service in India of a quality not inferior to, and at a cost not higher than, that now paid for imported paper. In this view His Excellency in Council hopes that the Government of Bombay will be prepared to consider in a liberal spirit any proposals they may receive for taking up sites possessing water-power for the establishment of Paper Mills.

ORDERED, that the foregoing Resolution be forwarded to the Government of Bombay for information and guidance.

Ordered also, that the Resolution and the report from the Government of Bombay be published in the Gazette of India.

No. 4605, dated 14th July 1882.

From—J. MONTEATH, Esq., Acting Under-Secretary to the Government of Bombay, Revenue Department,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Dept. of Finance and Commerce.

I am now directed to submit the report called for in your letter No. 1943, dated 13th December 1881, regarding sites in the Bombay Presidency where water-power could be utilised to advantage.

2. From the results of the enquiries made by the local officers in the matter, it would seem that in several districts in this Presidency there are sites where water-power sufficient for putting machinery in motion is available. The following is a brief summary of the reports received on the subject :—

NORTHERN DIVISION.

Ahmedabad.—The Executive Engineer, Irrigation, for Gujárat states that there are several vertical falls on the Háthmati Canal in this district. They are about 11 in number, but are all far from any centre of public industry, except one which is situated near a public road crossing the canal. This fall is in the 9th mile from the head of the canal, and it is calculated that during the monsoon and for a month or more thereafter (depending on the supply of water available from the river and, therefore, on the amount of rainfall) there is about 35 horse-power available at it; but at the end of the hot weather this power is reduced to 2 horse-power. It is also believed that if 2 turbines of 20 horse-power were located at this fall, both of them could be worked at nearly full power for five or six months, one at full power for about three months afterwards and at half power for about another month. No information is supplied regarding the other falls.

Kolába.—The Executive Engineer, Northern Konkan, considers that there are a great number of sites in this district where water-power could be made available. But the Collector, while admitting that many streams run as torrents for half the year, thinks that perennial water-power could not be discovered anywhere in the district, or that, if discovered, there is not likely to be for many years to come any local industry on which it could be profitably employed.

Thána.—It appears from the Collector's report that there are several sites in this district where water-power for working machinery might be obtained, such as Sasunowghar in the Bassein Táluka, the Surya River in the Máhim Táluka, Golsunda in Panvel, the river near Panvel, and the rivers near Nágli and Bhiwandi. But some of these places are situated in wild and thinly populated tracts, and have many other drawbacks, such as unhealthiness of climate, scarcity of labour, &c., while the expense of damming up the rivers would be great. An attempt was made a few years ago to work a paper-mill at Sasunowghar in Bassein, but owing to lack of capital and the scarcity of labour the undertaking failed. It is stated that a good supply of water could probably be secured at Bhiwandi, that the place is healthy, that labour is there plentiful and cheap, that the Agra road runs close by, and water communication with Bombay can be kept up even during the monsoon, while the railway is only six miles distant. The Executive Engineer remarks: "In a country like the Konkan there would be no difficulty in obtaining an almost unlimited supply of water, provided funds were forthcoming for the construction of a storage reservoir. By simply building up any of the Konkan rivers up to the level of the river-banks I do not think a sufficient supply would be obtained, as the fall is generally too rapid and the banks not sufficiently high."

CENTRAL DIVISION.

Poona.—The Collector believes that there are several places along the different rivers in this district where water flows with a fall through rocky barriers at which water-power might be made available, such as the Ghodnadi, the Mula, the Khadakvásla works, the Bandh and Panowli in the Háveli Táluka. A copy of a statement submitted by the Collector furnishing details regarding the sites mentioned is appended.

Násik.—The Executive Engineer for Irrigation states that there are scores of sites where water-power could be utilised for driving machinery in the four tálukas named in the margin with which he is immediately connected. Every bandhára (a dam across a river) is a site, and there is immense power available from June to December on the rivers Girna and Mosam. The Executive Engineer further states that after the construction of the Chankápur Tank the water-power on all the Girna River bandháras will be continuous throughout the year, varying from a practically unlimited quantity from June to October down to about 18 horse-power effective in the hot weather at each bandhára. As regards the rest of the district, the Collector writes that he knows of only two sites that could well be made use of—one is the fall of the Godávari at Gangápur, six miles from Násik, with which it is connected by a made and bridged road. The fall here is said to be ample, but in the hot season the water is very low, and would have to be supplemented by damming the river higher up. The other is the fall at Nándur Madmeshwar, also on the Godávari, but lower down. It is eight miles from the Niphád Railway Station, with a gravelled road all the way. This is also the site of a proposed weir for an irrigation project, and, if it is carried out, the head of the canal might be utilised for turning a wheel. Labour and carriage would be available at both these places. There is also a site at Walviher in the Igatpuri Táluka, affording good facilities for the working of machinery by water-power, but it is somewhat difficult of access, being eight miles from Igatpuri, the road to which is very bad. The Collector, however, remarks that he cannot imagine a more perfect site for a lake: there is a large basin surrounded by hills, and the only outlet for water is by a narrow gorge, the average rainfall being about 120 inches.

Bágalan, Kalvan, Málegaon, Nándgaon.

Sátára.—The Collector believes that there are sites in this district where water-power exists, but states that without a scientific examination it is not possible for him to say whether there are any spots at which water-power sufficient to move heavy machinery can be found.

Khándesh.—The most eligible site in this district for the utilisation of water-power, which is on the Tápti River near Bhusával, was conceded, on terms which will be stated below, to Messrs. Blaney and Bapty of Bombay. The Executive Engineer for Irrigation is under the impression that there are several other sites both above and below the one above mentioned. But the distance of this part of the country from any railway station is very considerable, and the floods which rise very high in the Tápti would deter capitalists from investing their money in the erection of mills, &c. The Executive Engineer for Irrigation thinks that on the river Pánjra which passes Dhulia, the head-quarters of the Collectorate, water-power varying from 2 to 40 horse-power might be available at times, but the supply would be very irregular and uncertain.

Ahmedhagar.—The Collector states that it does not appear that water-power sufficient for putting heavy machinery in motion exists in that district, but he sends copies of letters from Dr. W. O. Ballantine and the Reverend S. B. Fairbank, of the American Mission, who state that at Wagir in the Sangamner Táluka and Lákh in the Ráhuri Táluka waste water flows over the dams in the rains with sufficient power to drive machinery, that water-power could be produced on the Mula River anywhere from 5 to 20 miles above Ráhuri, and that at other places on the Godávari, Mula, and Pera rivers, much might be done by the construction of dams.

SOUTHERN DIVISION.

The only suitable place in this division for utilising water-power for the working of factories is at the Gokák Falls in Belgaum. Messrs. Ritchie, Steuart & Co. have obtained a concession for utilising the water-power at this place. The terms of the concession will be given below.

SIND.

The Commissioner reports that there are no sites in Sind where water-power exists in a form suitable for putting in motion the machinery of an extensive factory.

He remarks: "The immense water-power of the Indus with its unlimited and perennial supply would doubtless prove a most valuable engine in manufacturing industry, were it not for the capricious character of the stream. The river not only rises and inundates the country on each bank, but cuts for itself almost every year new channels, which would render it almost impossible to utilise the stream as a motive power for fixed machinery."

Káthiáwár.

On the Bhádar river in the vicinity of Jetpur there is a direct fall of about 12 feet, the force obtainable being estimated at 30 horse-power. Other favourable sites might be found on the river and on its affluents, the Minsar and the Bileshwari; but they would be too far from roads and railways to be of practical use at present. The firstmentioned would, it is stated, be the most favourable on account of its proximity to the railway, and because the Bhádar is a perennial stream, and would hardly require an artificial dam at the place indicated. The Jetpur station is only two miles off, and labour and carriage are stated to be generally available.

Pálanpur.

At a place called Bálárám, a mile from the Chitrásani station on the Western Rájputána State Railway, a small river which bears the same name flows over a rocky bed, and at one place where it is shut in by hills or high ground on either side it rushes with great force. The stream has never been known to fail even in seasons of the greatest drought, and abundance of labour and carriage could be procured in the vicinity. Two other places also belonging to Pálanpur are situated in the Dántiwáda District, about 14 or 15 miles to the north-west of the capital town and near each other. One is called Dumdura, and is within the limits of the village of Nadotra; while the other, which is called Vania Dura, is within the limits of the town or village of Dántiwáda. The places in question are on the Banás river, which here flows over rocks with considerable force. They are within 12 or 14 miles of the Chitrásani station, and labour and carriage are procurable.

3. I am to forward herewith a copy of a report by the Chief Engineer for Irrigation on the subject, in which a professional opinion of the value of certain sites for the purpose in question is contained.

4. Referring to the last paragraph of your letter under reply, I am to state that applications have been received from the following gentlemen for the grant of sites for the utilisation of water-power, viz.—(1) Mr. J. Gordon on behalf of a projected company for the establishment of a paper mill at Walviher in the Igatpuri Táluka in Násik; (2) Messrs. Thomas Blaney and Bapty for a site on the river Tápti, near Bhusával in Khándesh, for the utilisation of the available water-power for purposes of mechanical industry; (3) Messrs. Ritchie, Steuart & Co. for a site for the establishment of cotton mills near the falls of Gokák in Belgaum.

5. As the land applied for by Mr. Gordon was mostly occupied assessed land, and as it was impossible to obtain it without resort to the Land Acquisition Act, the owners having declined to part with it on reasonable terms, Government refused to grant the concession asked for.

6. The following are the terms of the concession granted to Messrs. Thomas Blaney and Bapty:—

(1) The land to be held on a 99-years' lease on payment of an annual rental of 4 annas per acre on the unarable land and the present rate of assessment on arable land, plus Rs. 10 per annum for the water-power, the lessees to satisfy all private rights in the lands so leased.

(2) The lease to be renewable on such new conditions as Government may then think necessary and proper. If the terms of the renewal are not accepted on the expiration of the lease, the lessees to be required to remove any plant or machinery that may be on the ground within six months.

(3) The works at the fall to be completed before 31st December 1882.

(4) Government to have power to enter and inspect the works at all reasonable times, and to re-enter upon the land if the works should be discontinued. All rights of way to the river to be reserved.

Messrs. Bapty and Blaney have not taken advantage of this concession; but, on 8th December last, Messrs. Forbes & Co. informed this Government that the lease and concession had been assigned to a partner of their London corresponding firm, for the purpose of forming a public company in London with sufficient capital to erect a cotton mill, and requested that the time within which the works must be completed should be extended from 31st December 1882 to 31st December 1883. They were informed in reply (Government Resolution No. 7854, dated 23rd December 1881) that if Government is satisfied before the end of June 1882 that a company has been formed with sufficient capital to carry out the scheme, and that the lease now held by Messrs. Bapty and Blaney has been duly assigned to them personally or as representatives of the company, and if they agreed to the preparation of a deed at their expense, keeping alive the right of Government to re-enter, His Excellency in Council would be prepared to grant the extension of time asked for. No further communication has been received from them.

7. The concessions made to Messrs. Ritchie, Steuart & Co. are the same as those granted to Messrs. Blaney and Bapty as regards the land required for the construction of their mills and other buildings connected therewith, and they have also been offered the use of water from the Gokák Canal at the rate of 17 cubic feet per second on payment of Rs. 203 per cubic foot, or even a larger quantity if required at the rate specified. No charge to be made during the four months of monsoon. It does not appear that they have as yet made any use of the concessions.

8. Arrangements are also in progress for a grant of the concession of water-power at Lake Fife to Mr. Macfarlane.

No. 1567, dated 26th April 1882.

From—J. HART, Esq., Chief Engineer for Irrigation, Bombay,

To—The Secretary to the Govt. of Bombay, Public Works Department (Irrigation).

It appears that the Executive Engineers of this Department have furnished the several Collectors of their divisions with reports on the possible sites for the utilisation of water-power.

2. I need scarcely point out that there are very few rivers rising in the Ghâts which do not at some point or other in their courses afford sites where power could be obtained; but I consider that no practical object would be served by reporting on such, for scarcely any of them would furnish permanently the power required by manufacturers, unless large head and storage works could in the first instance be constructed.

3. Some of the most notable natural sites are—

The falls of the Godávari at Gangávali and the rapids of Nandur Madhmeshwar on the Godávari in Násik.

The rapids in the Krishna at Bahey in Sátára.

The falls on the Ghataprabha at Gokák in Belgaum and the rapids at Bodhán, Kamlápur and Kakrapara on the Tápti river in Surat.

4. But none of these places offer anything further worth the notice of the manufacturer than that they afford favourable sites for the construction of large head-works from which water-power might be obtained by a more or less considerable expenditure of capital in the first instance.

5. It can, I think, easily be shown,—in fact it may be admitted as a maxim,—that in few cases could works be constructed which would pay merely as affording water-power, so that, therefore, we can look only to those sites where water can be utilised to produce power without interfering in any way with its irrigational value.

6. The value of water on irrigation works is 1 rupee per 10,000 cubic feet, at which rate a discharge of 1 cubic foot per second, representing a horse-power of not more than ·085 per foot of fall, would cost Rs. 8·64 per day of 24 hours, or say Rs. 100 per horse-power per day per foot of fall, the rate varying inversely with the fall. Thus with a fall of 10 feet the rate would be Rs. 10 per horse-power per day; and within practical limits of fall the rate is, I should say, prohibitive for commercial speculations.

7. I shall, therefore, confine myself to reporting the sites on which, in connection with irrigation, water-power already exists available for manufactories, or where works, now either under construction or proposed, will soon place water-power in a practical shape within the reach of private speculations.

8. The Háthmati Canal in Gujarát at present affords at the several vertical falls sites for small works to which at present an intermittent supply only could be guaranteed, but with storage works, which are now under investigation, would produce a permanent discharge affording at least 10 to 15 horse-power at ten or eleven points along the canal. These sites are, however, far from commercial centres, and, except possibly that at the crossing of the Ahmednagar and Paránțij road, are not at all likely to attract private speculators.

9. In Khándesh there are few works where a permanent power can at present be obtained, although almost every bandhára presents a site with a temporary supply of water-power, say for six or eight months of the year.

10. The Mukti Reservoir is the only work furnishing a permanent supply of power, and below this tank, on the Pánjra River near the station of Dhulia, from 2 to 4 horse-power can be permanently obtained, while during the monsoon the supply would be equal to, say, 40 horse-power.

11. In this district the completion of the Chankápur Reservoir, the early construction of which is now contemplated, would develop a power at every bandhára on the Girna River, varying from one which would be practically unlimited during the monsoon down to 18 horse-power in the dry season.

12. The Násik District has as yet no permanent supply on any of its irrigation works; but after the completion of the Wághad Tank, now under construction, a considerable, though variable, amount of power can be obtained at the tank (about 18 miles from Násik) as well as at the Pálkhed Weir, where a smaller amount would be available.

13. The Poona District affords two permanent sources of power—Lake Fife and the Mátoba Tank. The former has been reported on to Government; vide this office No. 3423, dated 13th August 1881.

Special provision has been made in the work for the adaptation of turbines, and the power varies from 100 horse-power to an amount which is at present merely nominal. A statement of the actual discharges and power available month by month during the year is attached.

14. At the Mátoba Tank a small perennial power is available at present; but when irrigation is fully developed it must become merely nominal.

15. As regards the Ahmednagar and Sholápur Division, the perennial outlet of the Ekrúk Tank near Sholápur furnishes for the present a permanent source of power, 24 horses at the minimum.

16. Both the Ashti and the Bhátodi tanks will supply power during the kharíf and part of the rabi seasons; but I do not consider such other than intermittent, which will not pay large speculations.

17. The sites in the Sátára District at which power of a permanent character is at present available on constructed works are below the Máini and Nher tank sluices; but in these cases the amount is so insignificant, the largest being only about 3 horse-power, that it would be scarcely worth the notice of private speculators.

18. Two other works now under construction in this district (the Mhasvad Tank and the Kás Reservoir) will, however, in the course of the next two years furnish more favourable opportunities for the establishment of manufactories in so far at least as water-power is concerned.

19. At the former work about 10 horse-power might be obtained at the head-works of the tank, and at the falls near Katpal it is calculated that over 100 horse-power is obtainable. Both these sites are far from large commercial centres, being relatively about 30 and 20 miles west of Pandharpur.

The latter work might be made to furnish a supply of 10 cubic feet of water per second permanently, with an available head of near 1,000 feet; but the position is by no means a convenient one for the establishment of a large factory, although within about 20 miles of Sátára.

20. It does not appear that any of the existing irrigation works in either Kaládgi, Belgaum, or Dhárwár at present supply any available permanent power.

21. The Gokák Canal under construction will doubtless afford such; but the site near the head-works has been already disposed of by Government to Messrs. Ritchie, Steuart & Co., and that at the canal falls will probably afford a considerable amount of power, although the extent of such cannot be stated till the exact scope of the project which may be ultimately adopted has been determined.

WILLIAM CLERKE, M. INST. C. E.,
Executive Engineer for Irrigation, Poona Division.

Statement to accompany Poona Collector's letter No. 919, dated 9th February 1882.

(Referred to in Bombay Government letter No. 4605, dated 14th July 1882, to the Government of India.)

Sites where Water-power exists sufficient for putting in motion the machinery of an extensive Factory.	Estimated Force obtainable from the water.	General circumstances of the locality.	Distance from the nearest Railway Station.	Quantity of Labour and Carriage generally available.
1	2	3	4	5
1. At Lake Fife, Khadakvásla, Táluka Hávelí.	Unknown to me, but the Irrigation Department can tell.	Khadakvásla is a small village, but it is only 10 miles from Poona, and supplies, &c., would have to be brought thence. Lake Fife supplies Poona with water by the Mutha Mula Canal which irrigates a large quantity of land.	10 miles ...	Plenty of labour and carriage procurable in Poona.
2. Bandh at Poona, Táluka Hávelí.	.....	This bandh is across the Mutha Mula just below their junction and close to the village of Yerowda; it was built by Sir Jamsetji Jeejeebhoy.	1½ miles ...	.....
3. Panowli, Táluka Hávelí.	.....	A dam is thrown across the river Pauna between these two villages, and a channel from a quarter to half a mile in length, in parts cut through rock and in other places supported by very solid masonry, leads to a building like a small domed temple where formerly a large hand-mill was worked by water.	2½ miles ...	Labour and carriage procurable in surrounding villages; also at Poona, which is only 12 miles distant.

J. MOORE,
Collector, Poona.

ORDER—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

ORDERED, that the following Despatch, together with the one to which it is a reply, be published in the Gazette of India for general information:—

FINANCIAL, No. 210. INDIA OFFICE, London, 6th July 1882.

To His Excellency the Most Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council.

MY LORD MARQUIS,—

PARA. 1. I have considered in Council your letter, dated the 8th of May, No. 123, referring, for my consideration, an application from A. B., praying that he may be allowed to commute a portion of the pension to which he will be entitled on retirement from the Covenanted Civil Service.

2. With reference to the observation of the Government of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, that the concession asked for by A. B. would, if conceded generally, be a decided boon to the Service at large, without being in any way prejudicial to the interests of the State, you express considerable doubt whether the main object of the Indian pension system might not be defeated by the grant of such a concession generally. At the same time you believe that such a measure, if restricted to individual officers, would tend to remove a special block in promotion in certain places.

3. You therefore request that, in cases in which you may consider that the retirement of officers of the Covenanted Civil Service would have the effect of removing a block in promotion, you may be permitted to allow such officers to commute the whole, or any part, of the £400 of their annuities in excess of the £600 which was supposed to represent the pension formerly given from the Annuity Funds. You propose to require the usual medical certificate in every case, and to calculate the capital value of the sum commuted by Table C on page 130 of the Codes of the Financial Department.

4. It has not hitherto been the practice to give to civil annuitants the option of commuting any portion of their annuities, partly on the ground that they were able by assigning them to practically effect commutation without the intervention of Government. The terms so obtained are necessarily less favourable than those allowed by this office, and, for this reason, the commutation of a portion of an annuity was recently allowed in one case. I do not, however, desire that this practice should become general.

5. But I see no objection to your proposal, which is accordingly approved, subject to the condition that, in every case, the capitalised sum will be paid in India, the annuity being taken at the rate fixed for its payment in that country.

6. It will rest with your Government to decide whether A. B.'s case is one of those in which the privilege of commutation should be conceded.

I have, &c.,
(Sd.) HARTINGTON.

No. 123. Simla, 8th May 1882.

To Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

MY LORD MARQUIS,—

We have the honour to refer, for Your Lordship's consideration, an application from A. B., praying that he may be allowed to commute a portion of the pension to which he will be entitled on retirement from the Covenanted Civil Service.

2. In submitting A. B.'s application, the Government of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh remarks that the concession asked for would, if granted generally, be a decided boon to the service at large without being in any way prejudicial to the interests of the State. We beg to observe, however, that we have considerable doubts as to the wisdom of allowing commutatron of pensions generally. The main object of the Indian pension system might thereby be defeated. But at the same time we believe that such a measure, if restricted to individual officers, would tend to remove a special block in promotion in certain places. Commutation of pension within certain limits was a part of the remedy applied under the recent arrangements in removing the block in promotion in the North-Western Provinces and elsewhere.

3. Accordingly, we ask Your Lordship's permission to allow officers of the Covenanted Civil Service to commute a portion of their pension in cases in which we may consider that the retirement of the officers will have the effect of removing a block in promotion. The portion of the pension which we would allow to be commuted would be the whole or any part of the £400 in excess of the £600 which was supposed to represent the pension formerly given from the Annuity Funds. A certificate as to the normal prospects of life will be required in every case, and the value of the annuity would be calculated by Table C on page 130 of the Codes of the Financial Department.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

A question having been raised as to whether Stock Notes are to be received as collateral security from contractors in the same way as ordinary Government Promissory Notes are received, the Governor General in Council is pleased to decide that there shall be no distinction between the two classes of Notes so far as security deposits are concerned. As, however, the interest on Stock Notes is payable to bearer and the notes are transferable without endorsement, His Excellency in Council considers that they should always, if possible, be lodged in Government Treasuries for safe custody when tendered as security to any officer of Government. The necessary instructions for their safe custody in Treasuries will be issued in due course by the Comptroller General.

ORDERED, that this Resolution be communicated for information and guidance as follows:—

To the several Departments of the Government of India.

To the several Local Governments and Administrations.

To the Comptroller General and several Accountants General.

To the several Heads of Departments administered by the Government of India in this Department.

Ordered also, that the Resolution be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

The 25th August 1882.

No. 3405.—Whereas the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore has raised a debenture loan of Rs. 20,00,000 for the construction of a line of Railway from Bangalore to Tiptoor, and has paid to the Government of India Rs. 5,000 as composition for the stamp duty payable under the Indian Stamp Act (I of 1879) on the debenture bonds of the said loan when negotiated in British India :

In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 8 of the Indian Stamp Act I of 1879, the Governor General in Council is pleased to remit in the whole of British India the stamp duty payable on the debenture bonds of the said loan when negotiated in British India.

Letter from the Government of Madras, No. 352A., dated 29th March 1882.

Letter from the Government of Bengal, No. 59 (Stamp), dated 14th April 1882.

RESOLUTION.—It is provided by Act 44 Vic., Cap. 12, Section 47, that "any stamp duties of one penny, which may be legally denoted by adhesive stamps not appropriated by any word or words on the face of them to any particular description of instrument, may be denoted by adhesive penny postage stamps."

2. Under this provision penny postage stamps are in the United Kingdom allowed to be used to denote stamp duties of one penny on any of the instruments named in the margin; but several penny postage stamps cannot be used to denote the duty on an instrument liable to a higher rate of duty than one penny. Nor can two half-penny postage stamps be used to denote the duty of one penny. The Governor General in Council has ascertained that the system has caused no inconvenience, but that on the contrary it has worked well, while the additional facilities afforded to the public have been much appreciated. It is also expected that the system will result in an increase of revenue.

3. In this country a stamp duty of one anna is levied on most of the instruments enumerated above and on a few others, and there can be little doubt that the adoption of a similar system in India would be a very great convenience to the public in the transaction of business, particularly in the matter of receipts. Postage stamps can be obtained everywhere, and many people always keep a supply of them; while receipt stamps can only be procured from stamp vendors, and comparatively few people keep a stock of them. The adoption of the system referred to would, therefore, afford facilities to the public in denoting the stamp duty, and by rendering easier the observance of the law would doubtless increase the revenue.

4. The several Local Governments have been consulted as to the expediency of adopting the system in India, and it appears that all of them approve generally of the proposal. The only objections raised are—

1stly, that it would be difficult to distinguish between postal earnings and the revenue from receipt and other stamps,—a distinction which it is of importance to preserve, both because of the essential difference in the nature of these receipts and because at present stamp revenue is provincial, while postal receipts are imperial;

2ndly, that the unified stamp, after being employed for stamping receipts, would be liable to be fraudulently re-used in payment of postage.

The first objection can easily be removed. The amount of the revenue at present derived from one-anna revenue stamps can be readily ascertained, and, with such slight additions as may be requisite in view of the probable normal growth of the revenue from this source, might form the basis for adjustments between Imperial (Postal) and Provincial (Stamp) Revenues.

But the second objection seems to be of a more formidable nature. Against the possible re-use of the stamps after removal of the defacement it would be necessary to provide by printing the unified stamps in doubly fugitive ink, so that any attempt to remove the defacement would involve the destruction of the imprint. This precaution is considered absolutely necessary for the safety of the revenue in the United Kingdom, and would be at least equally necessary in India, while the extra cost will be but small. If this precaution were adopted, there would be little danger of a stamp which had been once used for payment of postage on a letter being employed a second time as a stamp under the Stamp Act, for the Postal Department defaces the stamp in such a manner as to render its fraudulent re-use practically impossible. The danger consists in the possibility of stamps which have once been used in payment of stamp duties being used a second time as postage stamps,—a danger which arises out of the existing practice which has been encouraged by the Postal Department, under which senders of letters deface the stamps which they put upon their letters, in order to prevent the stamps being removed either before the letters are posted or while in transit through the Post Office.

5. Under Section 11 of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, a person affixing any adhesive stamp to any instrument is obliged to cancel it, "so that it cannot be used again." He is not obliged to write his name on the stamp, as is the case under the English law. It would be inexpedient to alter the Indian law in such a manner as to bring it into conformity with the English law, as there must be a very large number of persons in India who use the one-anna revenue stamps and who are unable to write. Under these circumstances it is obvious that if a letter were posted the stamp on which had been defaced, it would be impossible for the departmental officers to know whether the stamp in question was one which had been used as a stamp under the Stamp Act, or whether the defacement was merely due to the very general practice already alluded to. It is clear, therefore, that if the reform is to be introduced, the only course open is to prohibit the practice of defacing the postage stamps affixed to letters. By this arrangement any letter received by the Post Office to which a defaced stamp was affixed would be regarded as an unpaid letter.

6. The proposal to adopt the unified stamp, therefore, resolves itself into the question on which side the balance of convenience to the public will lie. On this point the public alone can decide.

7. Before, therefore, taking any final steps to introduce the reform, His Excellency in Council considers it desirable to ascertain the opinion of the European and Native community as to whether it would be more generally acceptable that the public should have the facility afforded by the use of postage stamps instead of the one-anna revenue stamps, and at the same time incur whatever risks the individual runs in the way of fraud by leaving the stamps attached to letters without any defacement, or whether the public regard the present practice of defacing postage stamps as so essential to their own interests as to make them willing to forego the advantages afforded by using postage stamps in the place of a revenue stamp in order that they may retain it.

8. Should public opinion be in favour of the proposed change, it would probably be necessary to modify the scheme in one particular. It has been already stated that in the United Kingdom the penny postage stamp only is admissible to denote the duty. Two half-penny stamps cannot be used for the purpose. To the course adopted in the United Kingdom there could be no reasonable objection. The penny postage stamp denotes the lowest postage payable for a single letter, and is consequently much more used than any other denomination of postage labels. The half-penny stamp is comparatively little used, and it was probably considered that it was not worth while to print it in the doubly fugitive ink.

9. In this country the case is different. The half-anna postage stamp represents the minimum postage rate for all purposes, and in this respect answers to the penny stamp in England. As regards the convenience of the public, therefore, it is of more importance that the use of the half-anna stamp should be permitted for denoting stamp duty than that the one-anna stamp should be capable of being so used. It will, therefore, probably be necessary if the reform is introduced to allow of the use of either a single one-anna or two half-anna stamps to denote the one-anna stamp duty. This can be effected by the issue of a Notification under Section 9 of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879.

ORDERED, that the foregoing Resolution be published in the Gazette of India, and that copies be communicated to the Chambers of Commerce, Bengal, Bombay, Madras and Rangoon.

Ordered also, that copies of the Resolution be forwarded to the several Local Governments and Administrations for communication to other public bodies or associations, and that a copy be sent to the Director General of the Post Office of India.

The 31st August 1882.

" from Government of Madras, No. 334, dated 22nd April 1882.
" from Superintendent, Government Printing (India), No. 529P., dated 15th August 1882.

RESOLUTION.—In December 1881 Babu Amrita Lal Roy offered to supply printing ink made by him for use in Government Printing Offices, and was requested to send samples of the ink to the Governments of Bengal, Bombay, and Madras, and to the Superintendent of Government Printing, for examination.

2. From the reports which have been received from the Local Governments, and from the Superintendent of Government Printing on the quality of the ink, it appears that, although it is not suited for what is known as "superior book-work," it is sufficiently good for all ordinary purposes and for form printing, and at the same time the price is lower than that of the ink procured from England for these purposes.

3. Accordingly, in furtherance of the policy of encouraging Indian industries, the Governor General in Council directs that the ink required in all Government Presses for the purpose of form printing or for other ordinary printing work shall be procured from Babu Amrita Lal Roy, or from any other local manufacturer, provided that ink of suitable quality is furnished and that the cost is not higher than that of imported ink of similar quality; and the Governor General in Council also directs that in future no indent for printing ink of a superior quality shall be forwarded to the Secretary of State without first ascertaining that ink of a quality suitable for the work cannot be procured from local manufacturers.

ORDERED, that the foregoing Resolution be communicated to all Local Governments and Administrations, and to the Superintendent of Government Printing (India), Calcutta, for information and guidance.

Ordered also, that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to Babu Amrita Lal Roy, and that it be published in the Gazette of India.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

The Governor General in Council is pleased to prescribe the following rules for regulating the payment of stock notes alleged to have been lost or destroyed:—

1. When any person desires to make a claim for the value of a stock note alleged to have been lost or destroyed, he should at once produce before the District Officer all the evidence he can produce regarding the circumstances of the destruction or loss of the note, which must be absolutely identified. The District Officer may either reject the claim, or, if he is of opinion that the evidence establishes beyond doubt the impossibility or extreme improbability of the note ever being presented, he should record his opinion to this effect, and forward it to the Comptroller General. The latter, if he agrees as to the effect of the evidence, may direct as follows:—

(1) That the loss of the note be advertised in the Gazette of India and the Local Government Gazettes, and that after two years from the first advertisement of the loss the value of the note may be paid by the District Officer and invested, if possible, in Government securities, or, if the amount is too small, [illegible] paid into the Government Savings Bank.

(2) That after twenty years from the date of advertisement, if meantime the note has not been presented for payment, the said investment, with accumulated interest (or the said deposit, if no investment has been made), be delivered to the claimant or his assignee, or other legal representatives, upon a bond of indemnity with two personal sureties attached.

2. If the Comptroller General think that the circumstances warrant more favourable terms to the claimant, he may, if he think fit, submit the case to the Government for orders; but this is not to be done unless the evidence establishes a claim of Rs. 100 at least; nor is the period after which delivery to the claimant may be made to be reduced, under any circumstances, below five years.

ORDERED, that these rules be published in the Gazette of India for general information, and communicated to the Comptroller General for information and guidance.

EGYPT.

No. 518.

Simla, the 23rd September, 1882.

The military operations in Egypt having been brought to a successful close by the British Forces under the command of General Sir Garnet Wolseley, G.C.B., G.C.M.G., the Most Hon'ble the Viceroy and Governor General in Council desires to express the gratification of the Government of India that the Indian Division of the Expeditionary Force has taken an honourable and important part in those operations and has fully maintained the reputation of the Indian Army.

His Excellency in Council also notices with approbation the desire evinced by all branches and classes of Her Majesty's Indian Army to be allowed the opportunity of sharing in this Expedition, as testified to by the reports received from various quarters and the numerous offers of local corps to volunteer for service in Egypt.

The Governor General in Council has also had much satisfaction in receiving numerous offers of contribution in men and money for employment on the Expedition from the Princes of India; His Excellency in Council cordially recognises this proof of their loyalty to the Government of the Queen-Empress.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

NOTIFICATION.

ACCOUNTS AND FINANCE.

Simla, the 26th September 1882.

The Governor General in Council has determined to borrow Two Hundred and Fifty Lakhs of Rupees, being the amount required for the public service.

The following Notification is therefore published:—

FOUR PER CENT. LOAN.

His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council has resolved to borrow Two Hundred and Fifty Lakhs of Rupees for the public service in the following manner.

2. Promissory Notes will be issued for the said amount in Form A annexed to this Notification, being the form of the notes of The Four Per Cent. Loan of 1842-43, of which Loan the notes to be now issued will form a part. All the conditions which apply to notes of The Four Per Cent. Loan of 1842-43, will apply to the notes to be now issued.

3. Tenders for the whole or any part of the said amount of Two Hundred and Fifty Lakhs of Rupees will be received by the Comptroller General from this date to noon of Wednesday, the 1st November 1882. Tenders must be in even hundreds of rupees not less than 500 Rs.

4. Each tender must be addressed, in the form annexed to this Notification, to the Comptroller General, Calcutta, and enclosed in a sealed cover, superscribed, "Tender for the Four Per Cent. Loan, 1882." If the tenderer is not resident in India, he must name an agent resident in India to whom a letter of allotment may be issued if any part of the loan is allotted to such tenderer.

5. Each tender must be accompanied by a receipt from one of the Banks of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay, or one of their Branches, or from an Officer in charge of some public Treasury, or by a cheque drawn in favour of the Comptroller General on a Bank in Calcutta, Madras, or Bombay, or by* Government Promissory Notes, standing in the name of or endorsed to the tenderer or the person making the deposit, for not less than one-hundredth, or, if the tender be for less than Five Lakhs of Rupees, then for not less than one-fiftieth part of the tender. If the allotment is not fully taken up, this deposit of one or two per centum will be forfeited; and if one or more Government Promissory Notes have been deposited, such note or notes will be appropriated by the Government and cancelled; otherwise, if the deposit is in cash, it will be treated as in part payment of the last instalment. A cash deposit may, after acceptance of the tender in support of which it is made, be replaced by a Government Promissory Note, as aforesaid.

* It is particularly requested that such Promissory Notes may NOT be endorsed to the Comptroller General.

6. The rate at which a tender is made must not contain a fraction of an anna: if a rate containing a fraction of an anna is inserted in any tender, such fraction will be struck out and the tender treated as if the rate did not contain such fraction of an anna.

7. The rate at which each tender is made must be specified in rupees or rupees and annas: a tender in which no rate is thus specified, but a subscription is offered in some other terms, as, for example, at the recorded minimum, or at some specified percentage in addition to the recorded minimum, or at the average of the accepted tenders, will be rejected as null and void.

8. The minimum rate at which tenders will be accepted will be recorded under the signature of the Comptroller General, and, before the tenders are opened, placed upon the table in a sealed envelope, but will not be declared unless some tender is rejected only because it is below the recorded minimum.

9. Tenders will be opened, publicly, by the Comptroller General at the Currency Office, No. 1, Dalhousie Square, Calcutta, at noon on Wednesday, the 1st November 1882; but the contents of the tenders will not be disclosed otherwise than as provided in clause 11.

10. Tenders at the recorded minimum rate, and at rates above the recorded minimum rate, will be accepted in the order of the rates tendered, beginning with the highest rate; the amount allotted at the lowest rate at which tenders are accepted, will be divided amongst those who have tendered at this rate, in proportion, as nearly as may be found convenient, to the amounts of their tenders.

11. As soon as possible after the 1st November 1882, letters of allotment will be issued to those persons whose tenders are accepted in whole or in part, or to their agents; and an alphabetical list of the names of those to whom such letters of allotment are issued will be posted, for general information, at the Head Offices of the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay.

12. Payment of any accepted tender may be made to the account of the Government in the Head Office of one of the Banks of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay, or in any Branch of these Banks, or into any public Treasury or Treasuries in India which may be named in the tender.

13. Accepted tenders must be paid, in equal instalments, as follows—

One-third on or before Wednesday, the 15th November 1882.
One-third on or before Monday, the 11th December 1882.
One-third on or before Thursday, the 28th December 1882.

but the whole or any part of any accepted tender may be paid at any time after receipt of the letter of allotment.

14. Interest upon each payment will be promptly paid in advance, at the rate of four per centum per annum, from the date of such payment to the last day of January 1883. But, at the option of the allottee and on his paying interest from the first day of August 1882, to date of payment, interest will run from the said first day of August.

15. Scrip receipts for instalments paid will be given by the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, or their Branches, or by the Officers in charge of the Government Treasuries at which payment is made. These receipts will, as soon as possible, be exchanged for Promissory Notes issued under this Notification.

16. Any holder of an allotment may at his option, by paying interest for the difference of time upon any amounts paid up after November 1st, 1882, receive in lieu of Promissory Notes in Form A, either Promissory Notes with coupons attached, or Stock Certificates (Form B) with coupons attached, and payable to bearer, in accordance with the Loan Notification of this Department, dated 27th June 1881 (i.e., The Four Per Cent. Loan of 1881, forming part of The Four Per Cent. Loan of 1st May 1865). In such cases the first coupon issued will be that which falls due on 1st May 1883.

FORM A OF PROMISSORY NOTE—(See Clause 2.)

FORT WILLIAM, THE 1ST OF FEBRUARY 1843.

Promissory Note Government Rupees at four per cent.

No. of 1842-43.

The Governor General of India in Council does hereby acknowledge to have received from the sum of Government Rupees Five Hundred as a Loan to the Secretary of State in Council for India, and does hereby promise, for and on behalf of the said Secretary of State in Council, to repay the said Loan, by paying the said sum of Government Rupees Five Hundred to the said his Executors, or Administrators, or his or their Order, on demand, at the General Treasury at Fort William, after the expiration of Three Months' Notice of Payment, to be given by the Governor General of India in Council, in the Government Gazette, and to pay the interest accruing on the said sum of Government Rupees Five Hundred from the 1st February 1883 (Eighty-three), at the rate of four per cent. per annum by half-yearly payments, at the General Treasury of Fort William, to the said his Executors, or Administrators, or his or their Order, until the expiration of three months after such notice of payment as aforesaid, when the amount of interest due will be payable with the principal, and (such notice being considered as equivalent to a tender of payment at the period appointed for the discharge of this note) all further interest shall cease.

Secretary to the Government of India.

NOTIFICATION BY COMPTROLLER GENERAL.

TENDERS FOR LOAN.

In order to secure the early return of deposits made with unaccepted tenders for the new Loan, the Comptroller General notifies the following arrangements:—

1. For all tenders presented to him in his Office upon the last fixed day, or the two days preceding it, he will give the bearer a receipt bearing a number, and initialled by himself or an assistant specially deputed for the purpose.
2. The reverse of this receipt is a form in which the tenderer may give to the Comptroller General a receipt for the deposit accompanying it. This form should, on the third day after the opening of the tenders, be filled up, signed with the same signature as the tender, and be presented at the Office of the Comptroller General. The deposit will then be returned to the bearer, in exchange for the receipt.
3. Deposit upon tenders presented personally, as described in No. 1, above, will be returned only in this way, and will not be sent by post, or otherwise. Deposits upon other unsuccessful tenders will be returned by post, or by the hands of a clerk.
4. The Comptroller General requests that, in order to facilitate the business of his Office, tenderers will—
   (1) use the printed forms which will be available at his Office and at the Currency Office, on application to the Durwan on duty,—at all the Provincial Account Offices, and at the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay:
   (2) if they make more than one tender, put each in a separate closed cover:
   (3) if the deposit is in the form of Promissory Notes or of Currency Notes, quote their number in detail in the tender.

NOTIFICATION BY COMPTROLLER GENERAL.

TENDERS FOR LOAN.

In order to secure the early return of deposits made with unaccepted tenders for the new Loan, the Comptroller General notifies the following arrangements:—

1. For all tenders presented to him in his Office upon the last fixed day, or the two days preceding it, he will give the bearer a receipt bearing a number, and initialled by himself or an assistant specially deputed for the purpose.
2. The reverse of this receipt is a form in which the tenderer may give to the Comptroller General a receipt for the deposit accompanying it. This form should, on the third day after the opening of the tenders, be filled up, signed with the same signature as the tender, and be presented at the Office of the Comptroller General. The deposit will then be returned to the bearer, in exchange for the receipt.
3. Deposit upon tenders presented personally, as described in No. 1, above, will be returned only in this way, and will not be sent by post, or otherwise. Deposits upon other unsuccessful tenders will be returned by post, or by the hands of a clerk.
4. The Comptroller General requests that, in order to facilitate the business of his Office, tenderers will—
   (1) use the printed forms which will be available at his Office and at the Currency Office, on application to the Durwan on duty,—at all the Provincial Account Offices, and at the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay:
   (2) if they make more than one tender, put each in a separate closed cover:
   (3) if the deposit is in the form of Promissory Notes or of Currency Notes, quote their number in detail in the tender.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Simla, the 26th September 1882.

No. 3973.—The Governor General in Council has determined to borrow Two Hundred and Fifty Lakhs of Rupees, being the amount required for the public service.

The following Notification is therefore published :—

FOUR PER CENT. LOAN.

His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council has resolved to borrow Two Hundred and Fifty Lakhs of Rupees for the public service in the following manner.

2. Promissory Notes will be issued for the said amount in Form A annexed to this Notification, being the form of the notes of The Four Per Cent. Loan of 1842-43, of which Loan the notes to be now issued will form a part. All the conditions which apply to notes of The Four Per Cent. Loan of 1842-43, will apply to the notes to be now issued.

3. Tenders for the whole or any part of the said amount of Two Hundred and Fifty Lakhs of Rupees will be received by the Comptroller General from this date to noon of Wednesday, the 1st November 1882. Tenders must be in even hundreds of rupees not less than 500 Rs.

4. Each tender must be addressed, in the form annexed to this Notification, to the Comptroller General, Calcutta, and enclosed in a sealed cover, superscribed, "Tender for the Four Per Cent. Loan, 1882." If the tenderer is not resident in India, he must name an agent resident in India to whom a letter of allotment may be issued if any part of the loan is allotted to such tenderer.

5. Each tender must be accompanied by a receipt from one of the Banks of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay, or one of their Branches, or from an Officer in charge of some public Treasury, or by a cheque drawn in favour of the Comptroller General on a Bank in Calcutta, Madras, or Bombay, or by* Government Promissory Notes, standing in the name of or endorsed to the tenderer or the person making the deposit, for not less than one-hundredth, or, if the tender be for less than Five Lakhs of Rupees, then for not less than one-fiftieth part of the tender. If the allotment is not fully taken up, this deposit of one or two per centum will be forfeited; and if one or more Government Promissory Notes have been deposited, such note or notes will be appropriated by the Government and cancelled; otherwise, if the deposit is in cash, it will be treated as in part payment of the last instalment. A cash deposit may, after acceptance of the tender in support of which it is made, be replaced by a Government Promissory Note, as aforesaid.

6. The rate at which a tender is made must not contain a fraction of an anna: if a rate containing a fraction of an anna is inserted in any tender, such fraction will be struck out and the tender treated as if the rate did not contain such fraction of an anna.

7. The rate at which each tender is made must be specified in rupees or rupees and annas: a tender in which no rate is thus specified, but a subscription is offered in some other terms, as, for example, at the recorded minimum, or at some specified percentage in addition to the recorded minimum, or at the average of the accepted tenders, will be rejected as null and void.

8. The minimum rate at which tenders will be accepted will be recorded under the signature of the Comptroller General, and, before the tenders are opened, placed upon the table in a sealed envelope, but will not be declared unless some tender is rejected only because it is below the recorded minimum.

9. Tenders will be opened, publicly, by the Comptroller General at the Currency Office, No. 1, Dalhousie Square, Calcutta, at noon on Wednesday, the 1st November 1882; but the contents of the tenders will not be disclosed otherwise than as provided in clause 11.

10. Tenders at the recorded minimum rate, and at rates above the recorded minimum rate, will be accepted in the order of the rates tendered, beginning with the highest rate; the amount allotted at the lowest rate at which tenders are accepted, will be divided amongst those who have tendered at this rate, in proportion, as nearly as may be found convenient, to the amounts of their tenders.

11. As soon as possible after the 1st November 1882, letters of allotment will be issued to those persons whose tenders are accepted in whole or in part, or to their agents; and an alphabetical list of the names of those to whom such letters of allotment are issued will be posted, for general information, at the Head Offices of the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay.

12. Payment of any accepted tender may be made to the account of the Government in the Head Office of one of the Banks of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay, or in any Branch of these Banks, or into any public Treasury or Treasuries in India which may be named in the tender.

13. Accepted tenders must be paid, in equal instalments, as follows :—

One-third on or before Wednesday, the 15th November 1882;
One-third on or before Monday, the 11th December 1882;
One-third on or before Thursday, the 28th December 1882;

but the whole or any part of any accepted tender may be paid at any time after receipt of the letter of allotment.

* It is particularly requested that such Promissory Notes may NOT be endorsed to the Comptroller General.

14. Interest upon each payment will be promptly paid in advance, at the rate of four per centum per annum, from the date of such payment to the last day of January 1883. But, at the option of the allottee and on his paying interest from the first day of August 1882, to date of payment, interest will run from the said first day of August.

15. Scrip receipts for instalments paid will be given by the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, or their Branches, or by the Officers in charge of the Government Treasuries at which payment is made. These receipts will, as soon as possible, be exchanged for Promissory Notes issued under this Notification.

16. Any holder of an allotment may at his option, by paying interest for the difference of time upon any amounts paid up after 1st November 1882, receive in lieu of Promissory Notes in Form A, either Promissory Notes with coupons attached, or Stock Certificates (Form B) with coupons attached, and payable to bearer, in accordance with the Loan Notification of this Department, dated 27th June 1881 (i.e., The Four Per Cent. Loan of 1881, forming part of The Four Per Cent. Loan of 1st May 1865). In such cases the first coupon issued will be that which falls due on 1st May 1883.

No. 509.—The following despatch from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India and its enclosure are published for general information:—

PUBLIC, Educational. No. 96. INDIA OFFICE; London, 31st August 1882.

To His Excellency the Most Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council.

MY LORD MARQUIS,—I forward herewith, for the information of Your Excellency in Council, and for the necessary publication, copy of a letter* received from the Gilchrist Trustees, announcing their intention to substitute, from January 1884, one scholarship annually for India, at £150 a year, tenable for four years, and conditionally for five years, in place of the two scholarships at £100 a year, and tenable for four years now offered by them.

* 8th August 1882.

I have, &c.

(Sd.) HARTINGTON.

4, BROAD SANCTUARY, Westminster, S.W., 8th August 1882.

To Sir Louis Mallet, C.B.

SIR,—I have the honour of informing you by direction of the Gilchrist Trustees that in consequence of the very limited competition for the two scholarships, each of £100 per annum for four years, at present annually offered by them to Natives of India, they have decided to withdraw these; and to institute in place of them a single scholarship of £150 per annum for four years to be extended to five, if the scholar should prove himself worthy; this scholarship to be awarded by competitive examination in the same manner as at present.

The two scholarships will be awarded as hitherto, in January 1883, and the single scholarship will be substituted for them in January 1884.

I have to request that you will cause this change in the terms of the Gilchrist scholarships to be made known in India, and remain, &c.

(Sd.) WM. B. CARPENTER.

ORDER—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

Read the following :—

No. 1199, dated 7th September 1882.

From—A. P. MACDONNELL, Esq., Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, General Dept.,
To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Finance.

I am directed to report, for the information of His Excellency the Governor General in Council, that, on receipt of the Resolutions of the Government of India noted on the margin, copies were forwarded to the Board of Revenue and all indenting Heads of Departments subordinate to this Government, with a request that enquiries might be made and reports submitted regarding the extent to which it was possible to substitute articles of local manufacture for similar articles at present procured through the Store Department of the India Office.

No. 3170, dated the 21st September 1881.
No. 2116, dated the 21st December 1881.

2. Replies (copies enclosed) have now been received from the Board and from the officers consulted ;* and I am now to forward a copy of the orders which the Lieutenant-Governor has issued on the subject.

* Chemical Examiner to Government.
Superintendent of Government Printing.
Superintendent of Stationery.
Director of Public Instruction.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets that the employment of articles of Indian manufacture is not yet possible on a larger scale than that indicated in the orders issued; but all Heads of Departments have been directed to use their best endeavours to satisfy their requirements locally if possible, and it is hoped that in future years tenders, especially for articles of stationery, may be forthcoming more freely than at present. Mr. Rivers Thompson has observed with satisfaction that, in the offices of the Collector of Customs and of the Superintendent of Government Printing, articles of local manufacture are employed to a very considerable extent.

No. 217C., dated 7th March 1882.

From—C. J. H. WARDEN, Esq., Chemical Examiner to Government,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

I have the honour to acknowledge receipt of your Circular No. 39 of the 1st December 1881, regarding cheapest mode of obtaining goods of Indian manufacture for articles now obtained from England, and in reply beg to state that some of the chemicals used in my Department can be purchased locally; but, as far as I am aware, chemical apparatus are not manufactured in India, and must, as hitherto, be obtained from Europe.

No. 1165, dated 29th August 1882.

From—C. S. BAYLEY, Esq., Offg. Under-Secy. to the Government of Bengal, General Department,
To—The Chemical Examiner to Government.

With reference to your letter No. 217C., dated the 7th March 1882, I am directed to request that you will be good enough to purchase locally, as far as possible, all chemicals required by you.

No. 385M., dated 3rd March 1882.

From—E. M. LEWIS, Esq., Superintendent, Government Printing, Bengal,
To—The Under-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Revenue and General Departments.

With reference to Circular No. 39 of the 1st December 1881, and reminder No. [illegible] dated 20th February, I have the honour to report that, of the items in the list circulated with the Government of India Resolution No. 3170 of the 21st September 1881, the following only are purchased by the Press, such of the remainder as are used in the Press being supplied by the Stationery Office :—

1. Twine.
2. Locks.
3. Scissors.
4. Padlocks.
5. Pasteboard.
6. Longcloth.
7. Tape wicks.
8. Sulphuric acid.
9. Longcloth for covering books.
10. Mercury.
11. Oil, cocoanut.
12. Blank books.
13. Hides.
14. Chalk.
15. Glue-pots, large.
16. Scissors, large.
17. Calico, black.
18. „ white.
19. Glue, best English, for bookbinding.
20. Brass dotted rule.
21. Brass waved rule.
22. Teakwood cases.
23. Case racks for 28 cases.
24. Silk headbands.
25. Form racks for four forms.
26. Lye trough.
27. Galley washing trough.
28. Lye preparation, including cask.
29. Galleys, large, brass-bottomed, 18″×15″.
30. Chases, 1 page cap.
31. Ditto, 2 ditto.
32. Galleys, brass, with [illegible] rims, internal measurement 24″×10″.
33. Blankets, Napier's fine.
34. Scissors, pressman's.
35. Thread, Europe.
36. Disinfecting powder.
37. Hammers.
38. Candle stands.
39. Paste.
40. Mallets and planers.

For convenience of arrangement the above may be divided under three heads, viz., (1) articles which are already obtainable of local (native) manufacture; (2) articles which can be made to order locally; (3) articles the majority of which may for some time to come have to be obtained of European manufacture.

Under the first head come twine, sulphuric acid, mercury, cocoanut oil, hides, chalk (common), glue, lye—for lye, fuller's earth (saji mutty) is universally used in Calcutta,—candle stands, and paste, all of which can be procured in Calcutta of native production or manufacture, the glue only being imported from the Straits or China.

Under the second head come pasteboard, blank books, large glue pots, teakwood cases and case and form racks, lye troughs, galley washing troughs, large brass-bottomed galleys and brass galleys with wooden rims, chases of all sizes, mallets and planers. Pasteboard and blank books of native manufacture are readily obtainable; they are also made at the Jail Press for the Stationery Office in large numbers; and now chases of all sizes and case and form racks are also made by convict labour. Chases and racks, together with the remaining articles under this head, are also made by native mistrees at a cost generally much below that of the imported article, the requirements of this Press and of the Jail Press having been supplied by native mistrees for some time past.

Under the third head are included all the remaining items, viz., locks, scissors, padlocks, longcloth, tape wicks, longcloth for covering books, large scissors, calico (white and black), brass rule of all kinds, silk headbands, printers' blankets, pressmen's scissors, English thread, disinfecting powder and hammers. The majority of these items may for some time to come have to be obtained of European make; and it occurs to me that perhaps the most economical way of procuring them would be by the formation of a central store in conjunction with an already existing department having frequent dealings with the bazar.

If this department made all purchases when articles had to be purchased locally (or indented for them through the Secretary of State, after ascertaining the particular requirements of each department, when that course could be conveniently followed), the Government should be able to obtain better terms than if each head of an office or department made his purchases direct from the dealer. The Stationery Office being now the principal office of supply, I should say that that office would be the best suited to undertake the charge of these additional stores. The head of that office might also be instructed to watch and encourage the development of native manufacture, and to introduce the locally-made article in place of the imported whenever opportunity offered. Articles such as scissors, locks, &c., are required in such small numbers by individual officers that it would scarcely be possible to bring about through the agency of the latter the results aimed at by the Government of India; but well directed efforts on the part of the head of a central office might soon effect most important changes.

No. 1175, dated 31st August 1882.

From—C. S. BAYLEY, Esq., Offg. Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

To—The Superintendent of Government Printing, Bengal.

With reference to your letter No. 385M., dated the 3rd March 1882, I am directed to request that you will be good enough to continue to purchase locally the articles noted on the margin, and that you will for the future procure the following articles locally if possible:—Pasteboards, blank books, large glue pots, teakwood cases, and case and form racks, lye troughs, galley washing troughs, large brass-bottomed galleys and brass galleys with wooden rims, chases of all sizes, mallets and planers.

Twine, sulphuric acid, mercury, cocoanut oil, hides, chalk, glue, lye, fuller's earth, candlestands, and paste.

2. With regard to your opinion that the Government would be able to obtain articles required on better terms if the Stationery Office were to make all local purchases of articles than if each Head of an office or department makes separately his own purchases direct from the dealer, the Lieutenant-Governor desires that you will put yourself in communication with the Superintendent of Stationery. In any case in which it may seem expedient to do so, the Lieutenant-Governor is willing that you should procure articles of local manufacture through the Superintendent.

No. 1176.

Extract paragraph 2 forwarded to the Superintendent of Stationery for information and guidance.

No. 5897, dated 10th March 1882.

From—W. H. RYLAND, Esq., Officiating Superintendent of Stationery, Calcutta,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

In reply to your Circular No. 39, dated 1st December 1881, forwarding copy of the Resolution of the Government of India No. 3170, dated 21st September 1881, with a list of articles procurable of Indian manufacture, and requesting that enquiries may be instituted as to the cheapest and most convenient way of obtaining in future regular supplies of such goods in place of similar articles hitherto procured of European manufacture, I have the honour to report that, having compiled from the list a statement of such articles as relate to this department, together with the sources of supply referred to in this and in previous Government Resolutions, I advertised in two of the commercial advertising papers in Calcutta a list of the articles required for the ensuing year for which I was prepared to receive tenders, copy* of which is annexed, and likewise specially addressed the undermentioned manufacturing companies and individuals, calling attention to the advertisement and offering to supply samples and particulars of any articles for which they might be enabled to tender:—

* Enclosure A.

Messrs. Apcar & Co., Calcutta.
" Jessop & Co., "
" Fraser and Miller, Bombay.
" Richardson and Cruddas, Bombay.
Superintendent, Government Workshop and Foundry, Roorkee.
Superintendent of the Workshops, Government Dockyard.
Manager, Cotton Mills, Bombay.
" " Cawnpore.
" " Calcutta.
Agents, Bally Paper Mills.
Manager, Girgaum Mills, Bombay.
Superintendent, Postal Workshop, Aligarh.
Messrs. Burn & Co., Calcutta.

2. Of the above, I received applications for samples only from those noted on the margin, whom I supplied with all the information required. An abstract of all the replies received from the parties who did not tender is given in the accompanying statement.† It will be observed that the responses to the invitations given are not satisfactory or encouraging, and do not evince any disposition, at present at any rate, to take advantage of the Government offer. This may probably arise from the little inducement to enter on new manufactures of a special kind, the quantities of which required by Government alone, in the absence of any general demand in the country, are not likely to be sufficiently remunerative.

Messrs. Richardson and Cruddas, Bombay.
Superintendent, Canal Foundry and Workshops, Roorkee.
Messrs. Fraser and Miller, Bombay.
" Jessop & Co., Calcutta.
Manager, Girgaum Paper Mills, Bombay.
Messrs. Burn & Co., Calcutta.
James Murray, Esq., Calcutta.

† Enclosure B.

3. So far as tenders have been received, a statement‡ is appended of the several articles with the names of parties tendering and the prices tendered, as compared with the prices actually paid in India to contractors for similar English goods within the last two years, to which I shall briefly allude in each instance:—

‡ Enclosure C.

D. M. Traill, Calcutta, English-made, per dozen ...	21 0 0	13 12 0	9 4 0	5 8 0	2 8 0

If other wood than ebony be accepted, the sissoo wood rulers offered by P. P. Mitter and A. C. Bose of Kidderpore are the cheapest, and next to them the ebony ones they offer. From the samples, however, I am apprehensive that the workmanship is not first-rate nor equal to the English ones, and rulers that are not perfect would be universally rejected by officers to whom they might be supplied. The boxwood rulers offered by the Roorkee Workshops are of a light coloured wood, which is not suitable and has a tendency to warp. The ebony ones offered by Fraser and Miller and Jessop & Co. are too dear, and in contrast to them is the tender made by D. M. Traill of Calcutta for English-made rulers which in point of excellence and cheapness outbeat the rest. Under these circumstances, as the conditions which the Government of India have laid down for giving preference to articles of Indian manufacture are not fulfilled, and I am interdicted from procuring the excepted articles by indent on the Secretary of State, I must await instructions from Government whether in this instance the rulers of Indian or English make should be accepted.

The tenders for this article show that the native manufacture cannot yet compete with the English machine-made tape. The Indian samples are inferior both in quality and colour, and Mr. Traill's offer is decidedly the cheapest. Instructions are required for my guidance.

The samples submitted by the native tenderers are very inferior, and the result is that the ink glasses supplied by the contractors, Messrs. Wiggins, Teape and Company for the present year, are far better and comparatively cheaper than any of the present tenders, not excepting Mr. Traill's, which are also of English make. Further enquiries are being made in accordance with the instructions of the Government of India in letter No. 869, dated 13th ultimo.

The only tender for country-made pasteboards is from a Frenchman, DeNegri, who has recently introduced the manufacture in this town on a small scale and is desirous of extending his operations. His rates are the same for white pasteboard, and 11 annas per gross more for blue pasteboard than the English contract rates in 1880-81. I would, if the Government approve, accept his tender in the hope that, if he succeeds in his attempt, he may be able to supply a cheaper article in future.

In this article the tender of DeNegri is the lowest, and I would accept it.

13. Paper-slices, ivory ... ... 200 dozens.

I have received no tenders for country-made paper-slices, though I have no doubt they ought to be procurable here. Mr. Traill's tender for English-made ones is somewhat lower than the present rate, but I await the orders of Government before acceptance.

14. Blotting paper, pink, superior quality — 37 reams: 2 reams, 22½″×17½″, 40 lbs.; 25 reams, 32 lbs.; 10 reams, 16 lbs.

D. M. Traill, English-made	20 0 0	20 0 0

Only a single tender for English blotting paper has been received. The quantity required being very small and of the very best quality, it is hardly to be expected that the Indian paper mills will care to compete. The Bally Mills Company, which supplies all the ordinary blotting paper, has declined to undertake the present order. The rate Mr. Traill asks is slightly above the English contract rate for the current year.

15. Brass note-book clasps ... ... 2,000 No.

Here it seems hopeless for the country hand-made clasps to stand against the English machine-cut articles which are turned out by the million with perfect regularity of pattern and cheapness of execution. Even the Roorkee samples, which are better and cheaper than the native-made, are about three times dearer than those at present obtained from England.

The only tender for scissors and erasers, received from the Roorkee Workshops, has since been recalled by the Superintendent, who states "they cannot be manufactured here, as I have heavy departmental work on hand for the present."

The rates of Messrs. Burn and Company are a trifle higher than the English rates, but the tender may with the approval of Government be accepted.

19. The above constitute all the tenders that have been received. It will be observed that with respect only to the items noted on the margin have satisfactory offers of country articles been received. As regards the rest, for which either no country articles have been offered, or no tenders at all have been received, I would solicit orders whether I am to submit a supplementary indent to be forwarded to the Secretary of State, or whether I am to endeavour to obtain the articles here, as the total value of them is not large, at prices not above those hitherto paid, which I may remark generally have not been excessive. The time will scarcely admit of an indent being sent to England for compliance, unless more than ordinary expedition be used in sending out the goods, but I shall readily carry out any instructions the Government may think proper to issue.

Pasteboards, blue
Ditto. white.
Strawboards.
Colour-slabs.
Do., saucers.

20. As regards the supplies of similar articles for 1883-84, and for the future, it is possible that as the intentions of Government become more widely known, and as fresh industries arise, some of the articles may be competed for, and I shall endeavour to publish the advertisements for tenders at an earlier period; but as the demands of Government in this department are in most cases limited, it is not easy to offer sufficient encouragement for new enterprises which require machinery and capital, and must therefore depend upon the general development and requirements of the country.

GOVERNMENT STATIONERY OFFICE.

4, CHURCH LANE.

The 20th September 1881.

NOTICE.

SEALED tenders for the supply of the undermentioned articles of country manufacture, according to samples which may be seen on application at this office, will be received by the undersigned up to 1st December next.

The articles are to be delivered within the month of April next. The parties whose tenders may be accepted will be required to deposit as security 10 per cent. of the value of the articles, and to sign a contract agreement.

The Superintendent in his letter No. 667, dated 26th February 1882, says that "they cannot be manufactured here, as I have heavy departmental work on hand for the present."

The 10th March 1882.

W. H. RYLAND,
Officiating Superintendent.

No. 1166, dated 29th August 1882.

From—C. S. BAYLEY, Esq., Offg. Under-Secy. to Govt. of Bengal, General Dept.,

To—The Officiating Superintendent of Stationery, Calcutta.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 5897, dated the 10th March 1882, with enclosures, in which you report the result of the enquiries made by you as to the possibility of substituting articles of stationery of local manufacture for similar articles obtained from England.

2. It appears that, in reply to your call, tenders have been made by different firms and private individuals for the supply of the articles noted on the margin, regarding the purchase of which I am now to communicate to you the following orders.

Parallel rulers.
Round rulers.
Flat rulers.
Japanned tin-boxes for colours.
Red tape.
White tape.
Plain ink glasses with plated tops.
Pasteboards, blue.
Ditto, white.
Strawboards.
Paper slices.
Blotting paper, pink.
Ditto, white.
Brass note-book clasps.
Scissors
Erasers.
Colour-slabs and saucers.

Parallel rulers.—The lowest tender for these articles is that made by Messrs. Fraser and Co. of Bombay, who are willing to supply them at Rs. 2-10. As this is far above the English contract rate of Rs. 1-4-5, these rulers must for the present continue to be procured from England.

Round rulers.—The English contract rate varies according to the size of the rulers from Rs. 25 to Rs. 3-8 a dozen. Tenders have been received from the Roorkee Workshop and from three private firms for the manufacture of these rulers at prices generally below the English rates; but you report that the workmanship is not first rate, or, except in the case of the rulers made at the Roorkee Workshop, such as would be accepted by the officers to whom rulers are supplied. The Roorkee rulers, however, are of box-wood, which has a tendency to warp. Under these circumstances you should for the present obtain round rulers from England, but you should ascertain whether the manufacturers are not in a position to improve upon the specimens shown to you. Messrs. Traill and Co.'s tender for English-made rulers cannot, under the orders of the Government of India, be accepted.

Flat rulers.—None of the specimens for which tenders have been made are as good or as cheap as the rulers procured from England. The tenders must therefore be rejected.

Japanned tin-boxes for colours.—One tender only has been received for native-made colour boxes. The price at which they are offered is Rs. 5-4, which is nearly Rs. 2 higher than the English contract rate—Rs. 3-6-10. These boxes must still be procured from England.

Red and white tape.—The tape of native manufacture, for which tenders have been received, is, you report, far inferior to that procured from England; and no change can therefore be made in the mode of purchase for the present.

Ink glasses.—The Lieutenant-Governor will await a report as to the result of the further enquiries which you are making as to these articles. In the meantime, as those produced by the tenderers are of inferior manufacture, ink glasses must be procured from England.

Pasteboards and strawboards.—You have already been authorised to enter into a contract with Mr. DeNegri of Calcutta for the purchase of these articles.

Paper slices and blotting paper.—The only tender made being for paper slices and blotting paper of English manufacture cannot be accepted. It is a matter for regret that the Bally Mills, which supply the cheaper kinds of blotting paper, should have been unable to undertake the manufacture of the quantities of superior blotting paper required.

Brass note-book clasps.—The best tender for these articles of native manufacture was that received from the Roorkee Workshop, but the clasps are of inferior manufacture and very much dearer than those procured from England. No change can be made in the method of procuring these clasps.

Scissors and erasers.—These must still be procured from England, as the Superintendent of the Roorkee Workshop, who submitted the only tenders, has since withdrawn them owing to press of departmental work. You should, however, ascertain whether it is possible to procure these articles from Roorkee in future.

Colour-slabs and saucers.—The tender submitted by Messrs. Burn and Co. for the supply of these articles is little higher than the contract rate, and should therefore be accepted.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets that more offers from Indian manufacturers have not been forthcoming, but he trusts that in future years it may be possible to extend the number of articles of stationery which it is possible to procure in this country, and you should take every opportunity of doing this. In the meantime, however, you should submit at once a supplementary indent for such of the above articles as are now required. Should it be impossible in any case to wait for the receipt of supplies from England, you are authorised to make purchases locally, but this discretion should be used as sparingly as possible.

4. Orders have been issued to all indenting officers, subordinate to this Government, to communicate to you any instance in which they consider that they can procure articles in the local market cheaper or of better quality than those procured through your office, with a view to your making the necessary enquiries on the subject. It will probably be expedient that all purchases should ultimately be made by you.

No. 1167.

Copy, with copy of the letter to which this is a reply, forwarded to the Financial Department of this office for information, with reference to Mr. Baker's endorsement No. 957T.F., dated the 14th July 1882.

No. 3872, dated 19th June 1882.

From—A. W. CROFT, Esq., M.A., Director of Public Instruction, Bengal,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

I have the honour to submit the report called for in your Circular No. 39, dated 1st December 1881, as to the cheapest way of substituting goods of Indian manufacture for articles now obtained from England.

2. The articles in general use by this Department are—

(1) Stationery. | (3) Furniture.
(2) Books. | (4) Chemicals.
(5) Scientific apparatus.

(1) Stationery.—This is obtained either by indent on the Superintendent of Stationery, or in the local market. The first head need not be here considered, as the necessary enquiries have doubtless been made by the Superintendent, who will continue to supply the requirements of this department. With regard to the second head, purchases of which are made from a budget allowance for "Country stationery," the separate colleges and schools already procure in the local market what they need. The articles purchased under this head vary in different localities. For instance, though blotting paper, brown paper, rough paper, twine, gum, inkstands, and scales are articles of local manufacture at Cuttack, and therefore rightly purchased from the allowance for country stationery, yet at Rajshahye or Patna, where there is no such local manufacture, the same articles are procured from the Superintendent of Stationery.

(2) Books (Other than those published in this country) are purchased either from Messrs. Brown & Co. under the existing contract with the Government, or from the Calcutta School Book Society by a special arrangement for the Education Department.

(3) Furniture is always procured of local manufacture.

(4) Chemicals are procured, whenever possible, from Messrs. Waldie & Co. of Cossipore under recent orders of Government. Those not procurable from Messrs. Waldie & Co. are obtained by indent on the Secretary of State through the Store Department. In this connection, however, I beg to submit copy of a letter from Mr. A. Pedler, Professor of Chemistry in the Presidency College, on the comparative advantages of procuring chemicals locally and from England.

(5) Scientific apparatus is in all cases procured from England through the Store Department of the India Office. The process is a tedious one and involves very great delay; but proposals to adopt a more expeditious and equally cheap method of procuring such articles have not received the sanction of Government.

3. With regard to articles of miscellaneous use, there is necessarily no fixed rule. Padlocks are manufactured at one place; purdahs, towels, and table-cloths at another; scissors at a third. Where such articles are manufactured locally, they are already in local use; where they are not manufactured locally, they are procured, whether of English or of Indian manufacture, from the local shopkeepers; and quality and price together determine in each case which shall be purchased. But no miscellaneous articles of this class are procured directly from England by the Education Department.

Dated 7th February 1882.

From—A. PEDLER, Esq., Professor of Chemistry, Presidency College,

To—The Principal, Presidency College.

With reference to Circular No. 70 from the Director of Public Instruction, I have the honour to state that it has been the practice for some years at the Presidency College to obtain certain chemicals, stores, &c., for the use of the chemical laboratory. The list of such articles will be found in the various petty expenditure bills which have been sent in from time to time.

Most of the chemicals and chemical apparatus required for the use of the laboratory have, however, always been indented for from England for two or three reasons. First, much of the apparatus and a considerable proportion of the chemicals required cannot be obtained in the local market at all; secondly, the articles procured from England direct are usually in better condition or of better quality than those locally obtainable; and thirdly, the cost of articles procured by indent is rarely more than one-half that of articles purchased from the majority of local suppliers. With regard to this last point, I have carefully compared the cost of certain articles obtained from England with the price as quoted by a wholesale chemist in Calcutta, and have found that the English price was little more than one-half the Indian price.

In the list given in the Circular, I find in some instances that the prices paid for chemicals are three and four times as much as they could be obtained for from England; and if thought necessary, I could submit a list of the comparative prices. It would therefore, in my opinion, be far more expensive to buy all the chemicals, &c., required for the Presidency College in the local market than, as at present, by indent; and I am also of opinion that there would be no falling off in the quality of articles obtained.

No. 1168, dated 29th August 1882.

From—C. S. BAYLEY, Esq., Offg. Under-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, General Dept.,

To—The Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

I am directed to acknowlege the receipt of your letter No. 3872, dated the 19th June 1882, with enclosure, and in reply to say that you should continue to purchase locally the furniture required by you. Such scientific apparatus as cannot be procured of Indian manufacture must for the present be procured from England through the Store Department of the India Office; but the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that you will use every effort to employ articles of local manufacture as far as possible.

No. 467B., dated 6th June 1882.

From—A. FORBES, Esq., Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

I am directed to submit the following reply to Government Circular No. 39, dated 1st December last, calling for a report, after the necessary enquiries, regarding the cheapest and most convenient way of obtaining in future regular supplies of goods of Indian manufacture required by officers subordinate to the Board.

2. The Opium Agent of Behar state that very few of the articles enumerated in the list annexed to the Government circular under reply as of Indian manufacture have any reference to his requirements, and that the quantities required in his department of the articles marginally noted are so small that it would be scarcely worth while to make a contract for the supply of them for a term of years. He further explains that the canvas required is used for covering the fire-engine hose, and must be of the best English quality; and with reference to kerosine oil, he strongly recommends that, in order to avoid risk from fire, the best American oil be still purchased in Calcutta. The Board would give their support to these two proposals. As regards hammers, the Agent states that steel-faced ones are required both for smiths, rivetters, and carpenters, and that those locally manufactured are not steel-faced, but only case-hardened, and therefore neither durable nor effective. The Agent has, however, been informed that the orders of Government on this point should be carried out, and he has been instructed to make further endeavours to obtain locally made hammers of a suitable quality, reporting the result to the Board. As regards linseed oil, instructions have already been issued to the Agent that the article should be obtained from the Ghazipur Jail, where the Board have ascertained that it can be procured of excellent quality. The Agent reports that padlocks of Indian manufacture are inferior in point of strength and workmanship, and unsuited to the requirements of the Opium Department. On this subject the Principal Assistant, Dr. Sheppard, remarks—

Canvas, twine for sewing canvas, kerosine and linseed oil, iron padlocks, rope, iron and brass hinges, iron chains, &c.

PARA. 7 * * * * * * * as we use padlocks to secure our storing houses at night, one of which contains over 1½ millions sterling of moveable property in the form of opium cakes, a bad padlock is useless. Further, we require padlocks made different for each building, and in sets, so that one key will open all. I doubt if such could be obtained in India.

Any one who has witnessed the delay on opening the locks of a godown at night, when each padlock has to be opened by a different key, even by a native turnkey of experience, will be aware of the danger run when such a cause of excitement as the outbreak of fire deprives the natives of such little presence of mind as they possess, and renders them useless.

My opinion is it would be next to impossible to get the godown doors open, and get at a fire, were each lock different and a separate key needed. * * * * * * *

The Board, however, have informed the Agent that they consider that the wishes of Government should be carried out in this particular also, and he has been informed of the result of the enquiries which have been made by the Opium Agent of Benares regarding padlocks, as mentioned in paragraph 3 of this report, with the request that he will make any further enquiries from Messrs. Marillier and Edwards on the subject that he may consider necessary,

The Agent also expressed an opinion that the pitch supplied should be of European make. The Board accordingly made enquiries in this matter from the Oriental Gas Company, Messrs. Ahmuty and Co., and elsewhere. The result was to show that, although coal-pitch used to be prepared by the Oriental Gas Company, its manufacture has been discontinued, and that it cannot now be obtained in this country. The native contractor who supplies the Patna Opium Factory has also informed the Board that he obtains his supplies from England. The Benares Agent has since reported to the same effect.

3. The Opium Agent of Benares observes that the articles referred to in the list forwarded with the Government circular, and which are required in the Opium Factory at Ghazipur, may be divided into the following heads :—

(1) Chemicals—

Nitric acid, hydrochloric acid, sulphuric acid (in bottles), iodine, spirits of wine, sal-ammoniac, and potash caustic. All these are obtained by direct indent on the Medical Store-keeper at Calcutta, and the acids, &c., are presumed to be of Indian manufacture.

(2) Country stationery, including—

Country paper, ink and pens, and common pencils and pins.

These, when required, are purchased in the bazar.

(3) Ironware, including—

Padlocks, &c.

The Agent has reported that he addressed five firms and establishments, and asked them to state the rates at which they would be willing to supply the factory, for a term of five years, with the articles required; and that, of the offers received, Messrs. Marillier and Edwards' rates are, as will be seen from the table in the margin, the most reasonable and cheapest. The Superintendent of the Roorkee Workshops reported that he was unable to tender for the supply of any of the articles required. The Superintendent of the Postal Workshops at Aligarh tendered for only brass locks as shown in the marginal statement, and added that an addition of 15 per cent. on the price noted is chargeable on articles supplied to departments other than the Postal Department. The Agent has been asked to state where he has hitherto obtained the articles shown in the statement, and at what prices. On receipt of his reply, orders will be passed by the Board regarding accepting Messrs. Marillier and Edwards' tender.

(4) Cotton articles—

Kharua cloth, dammer cloth, cotton rope, and cotton wick.

With the exception of the dammer cloth, which is obtained from the Cawnpore mills, these articles are purchased in the local bazar. For twine of country manufacture, which is required in large quantities, tenders are usually invited.

(5) Oils—

Castor oil, mustard oil, linseed oil, poppy oil, and common oil.

Castor oil is obtained by purchase from the bazar at the ruling rates; the other oils have usually been supplied by the Ghazipur Jail.

4. The Collector of Customs at Calcutta has submitted a statement, a copy of which is enclosed, showing in detail the articles in use in the Calcutta Custom House, together with information whether the articles procured are of Indian manufacture or not, and where it is proposed to procure them in future. The Collector of Customs has been instructed by the Board to obtain the articles (A) marginally noted in the bazar, as proposed by him; and that for any of these articles for which his requirements are considerable or constant, he can call for tenders from bazar dealers. The articles (B) next noted in the margin the Collector must continue, the Board think, to obtain from the Marine Department, as he now does.

(A) 1. Almirah.
5. Brooms.
6. Baskets for waste paper.
10. Chalk.
11. Cloth, coarse, for dusters.
12. Cocoanut oil.

15. Coal.
17. Clock.
29. Flags (ensign).
50. Life-buoy.
68. Pansway.
81. Steam-launches.

5. The articles (C) are at present obtained by the Collector of Customs from the Superintendent of Stationery. It is observed that the Collector of Customs now proposes to supply himself with several of them (marked with an asterisk) from the bazar. As, however, the Superintendent is the authorised medium through whom Government officers are supplied with the articles referred to, it will probably be advisable for the Collector to continue to draw his supplies from the Superintendent, and it will be the duty of the Superintendent to obtain the articles of Indian manufacture on the most favourable terms possible in this country. The Board are of opinion that the best plan will be for the Collector to arrange this matter in correspondence with the Superintendent, mentioning, for the Superintendent's information, the prices at which he can now supply himself from the bazar. If the Superintendent agrees that it will be for the convenience of his own and the Collector's office that the latter should obtain any of the articles in question otherwise than through his agency, the Board have no objection to this being done, provided that the Collector can obtain as good and cheap supplies in this way as through the Superintendent.

*83. Thread, silk.
92. Wafers.
*93. Waxcloth.

6. The Collector of Customs also proposes to obtain the articles (D) from Messrs. Ahmuty and Co. or Messrs. Harton and Co. He has hitherto been supplied with them by the Marine Department. The Board have instructed the Collector to consider the remarks in the preceding paragraph of this letter, mutatis mutandis, applicable to such of these articles as are of Indian manufacture, and he has been informed that he should continue to obtain such of them as are of English manufacture (and for which Indian articles cannot be substituted) through the Marine Department. Similar orders have been issued to the Collector regarding the few articles (E) which he proposes in future to obtain from the bazar.

(D) 2. Awnings.
3. Anchors.
7. Buckets.
8. Boat hooks.
16. Chains.

87. Twine, sewing.
88. Twine, sewing palm.
89. Thallies.
90. Thread, cotton.
91. Varnish.
95. Weighing machines.

7. As regards the articles numbered 48 and 65, the Collector has been recommended to communicate with Messrs. Marillier and Edwards, who, the Board are informed, are prepared to supply locks and padlocks of superior make on the most reasonable terms obtainable in this country. He has been desired to ascertain whether this is the case, and to submit a further report for the Board's orders. The Board have also requested the Collector to state why the article numbered 37 cannot be had of Indian manufacture.

48. Locks and keys.
65. Padlocks.
37. Gallon measure (copper).

8. The chief or only supplies required by the Shipping Master of Calcutta, the Toll Collectors of the Calcutta Canals and of the Nuddea rivers, and the Customs Collectors at Chittagong, the Orissa ports and Naraingunge, are stationery supplies, which are obtained direct from the Superintendent of Stationery.

9. The Commissioner of Orissa reports that marine stores for the ports have hitherto been supplied by the Superintendent of Marine. It appears that the articles supplied, viz., buoys, chain, spelter sheet, shackles, hawsers, flags, canvas, fire-buckets, and water-closets, cannot be procured locally.

10. The Superintendent of Stationery has informed the Board that he has submitted the report called for from him direct to Government in his No. 352B., dated 5th ultimo.

W. H. GRIMLEY,
Officiating Collector of Customs.

No. 1177, dated 31st August 1882.

From—C. S. BAYLEY, Esq., Offg. Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department,

To—The Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Miscellaneous Revenue Department.

In acknowledging the receipt of your letter No. 467B., dated the 6th June 1882, with enclosure, I am directed to say that the Lieutenant-Governor approves the proposals of the Board that canvas for covering the fire-engine at the Behar Opium Factory should be procured of the best English quality, and that the best American kerosine oil should continue to be purchased for the Factory in Calcutta. All oils, such as mustard oil, castor oil, linseed oil, poppy oil, &c., required for use in the Behar and Benares Opium Agencies, should be purchased locally.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that the chemicals and country stationery required for the Benares Opium Agency are purchased locally at present, and desires that this practice may be continued. Any orders that may be passed by the Board regarding the acceptance of the tender of Messrs. Marillier and Edwards for the supply of locks and keys and padlocks required for use in the Benares Opium Agency and the Calcutta Custom House should be reported for the information of Government.

3. The Board's instructions to the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, for the purchase of miscellaneous stores required by him are also approved.

4. With regard to your suggestion that the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, should obtain by local purchase certain articles hitherto supplied by the Superintendent of Stationery, I am to request that Mr. Grimley may be instructed to communicate with the Superintendent of Stationery regarding the prices of articles which he believes that he can obtain more cheaply or of better quality than those at present procured through the Stationery Office. The Superintendent of Stationery is obviously in the best position to make such purchases as may be necessary, but it is important that he should be in possession of the fullest information with regard to each article. All indenting officers will be instructed to communicate to the Superintendent any information regarding the sale of articles of local manufacture which may come to their knowledge.

Circular No. 23.

Extract paragraph 4 forwarded to all indenting Officers subordinate to this Government for information and guidance.

No. 776 B., dated 9th September 1882.

From—A. FORBES, Esq., Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

I am directed to state, for the information of Government, that it now appears from Messrs. Marillier and Edwards' own statement in a recent letter addressed by them to the Board, that all of the articles mentioned in the tabular statement in paragraph 3 of the Board's report to Government No. 467B., dated 6th June 1882, for the supply of which they submitted a tender, are of European and not of Indian manufacture, and that none of them can be manufactured in this country at rates to compete with English rates. The articles referred to must, therefore, under the rules laid down by the Government of India, be obtained on indent from the Secretary of State. Instructions to this effect have been communicated to the Opium Agent of Benares.

No. 414 T.G., dated 22nd September 1882.

Endorsed by the Government of Bengal.

Copy submitted to the Secretary to the Government of India, in the Department of Finance and Commerce for information, in continuation of Mr. Bayley's letter No. 1199, dated the 7th September 1882.

ORDER.—Ordered, that the foregoing correspondence be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

The 14th October 1882.

No. 4324.—Abstract of the Accounts of the Department of Issue of Paper Currency on the 30th September 1882, published as required by Section 23 of the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1871.

By Command,

WILLIAM BERESFORD, Captain,
Military Secretary to the Viceroy.

HOME DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATIONS.—PUBLIC.

Simla, the 20th October 1882.

No. 1713.—The following correspondence relative to the questions (1) whether an officer who is on furlough is at liberty to undertake the management of a Company, and (2) whether there is any distinction, as regards taking part in the management of Companies, between officers belonging to the Covenanted and Uncovenanted Services, is published for general information:—

No. 41, dated Simla, 8th July 1882.

From—The Government of India,

To—Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

In his Despatch No. 16 (Public), dated 31st May 1882, Sir Charles Wood, in replying to a reference made to him by the Government of India on the subject of Government servants holding lands and engaging in speculations in India, observed that he saw no objection to servants of Government holding shares in mining or other Companies having for their object the development of the resources of the country, and the only restriction which he thought it necessary to impose was that public servants should take no part in the management of such institutions, and should not be employed in the districts where the operations of the Company might be carried on. The orders contained in that Despatch were promulgated for general information in January 1863, and were subsequently (August 1872) republished, with the remark that the Governor General in Council would be prepared to enforce the principle therein laid down in regard to all public servants, of whatever class or position.

2. A question has now been raised whether an officer who is on furlough is at liberty to undertake the management of a Company, and whether there is any distinction in this respect between officers belonging to the Covenanted and the Uncovenanted Services. We think that no such distinction can be drawn so far as the rules in question are concerned. The notification issued by the Government of India on the 28th August 1872 distinctly states that the principle of the Despatch cited above of 31st May 1862 applies to "all public servants, of whatever class or position," and the principle is that public servants are to take no part in the management of Companies. We are therefore of opinion that this should be made clear by declaring that the rules apply to the Uncovenanted as well as to the Covenanted Service.

3. Regarding the question whether an officer may be allowed while on furlough to assume the management of a Company, we would observe that no specific or authoritative ruling on this point appears to have been given. In Despatch to the Secretary of State, No. 3, dated 8th August 1864, the Government of Bombay referred for orders the case of the * * * * * * * * * * * * * * who, while on furlough in India, became one of the editors of the * * * newspaper; and in paragraph 8 of that Despatch they expressed the opinion that there was no sufficient reason for excluding any occupations in which Government servants might engage while on furlough within the limits of lawful and respectable employments, excepting those likely to cause engagements extending beyond the duration of the furlough, and those which lead to new relations with Government independent of and liable to be inconsistent with the relations between Government and its paid officers. Applying these principles, which appear to us to be sound, to the case under consideration, the management of a company may be held to be a "lawful and respectable employment." On the other hand, it is an employment which might not improbably "cause engagements extending beyond the duration of the furlough," and might lead to "new relations with Government independent of and liable to be inconsistent with the relations between Government and its paid officers." Moreover, we consider that an officer taking furlough is not entitled to divest himself entirely of the restrictions and responsibilities under which he rests while on duty. For these reasons, therefore, we are inclined to the opinion that it is undesirable that an officer who is on furlough should undertake the management of a Company. We desire, however, to receive Your Lordship's instructions on the subject, as similar cases have doubtless already been brought to Your Lordship's notice, owing to the fact that most officers while on furlough reside in England, and it is desirable that in this matter there should be no divergence between the practice of the Secretary of State and that of the Government of India.

No. 99, dated India Office, London, 7th September 1882.

From—Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India,

To—The Government of India.

I have considered in Council the Despatch of Your Excellency in Council, No. 41, dated the 8th of July last, relating to the questions whether an officer who is on furlough is at liberty to undertake the management of a Company, and whether there is any distinction as regards taking part in the management of Companies between officers belonging to the Covenanted and to the Uncovenanted Services.

2. I agree with Your Excellency in the opinion that the principle of Sir Charles Wood's Despatch (No. 46 Public) dated 31st May 1862 applies to all public servants of whatever class and position, and that all public servants, whether they be Covenanted or Uncovenanted, are alike prohibited from taking part in the management of Companies.

3. I am also of opinion that this prohibition is none the less applicable to a public servant because he happens to be on furlough, for the fact of an officer's being on furlough does not appear to me substantially to diminish the serious objections which exist to his engaging in the management of a Company.

Nos. 15—1687-96, dated Simla, 20th October 1882.

From—A. MACKENZIE, Esq., C.S., Secretary to the Govt. of India, Home Department,

To—All Local Governments and Administrations.

With reference to Home Department Notification No. 3421, dated 28th August 1872, I am directed to forward a copy of the correspondence marginally noted, relative to the questions (1) whether an officer who is on furlough is at liberty to undertake the management of a Company, and (2) whether there is any distinction, as regards taking part in the management of Companies, between officers belonging to the Covenanted and the Uncovenanted Services.

Despatch to Secretary of State, No. 41, dated 8th July 1882.
Despatch from Secretary of State, No. 39, dated 7th September 1882.

2. I am to request that the rules laid down by Her Majesty's Secretary of State on these questions may be carefully observed by all public officers under your Government Administration.

Nos. 1697-1712.

Copy, with copy of the correspondence referred to, forwarded to the several Departments of the Government of India, to the Superintendent of Port Blair and the Nicobars, Sanitary Commissioner with the Government of India, Surgeon-General with the Government of India, Director General of the Archæological Survey of India, the Director General of Statistics to the Government of India, Secretary to the Board of Examiners, Registrar of the Calcutta University, Bishop's Chaplain, Registrar of the High Court, Calcutta, and Curator of Ancient Monuments, for information and guidance.

JUDICIAL.

The 27th October 1882.

No. 1088 I.—Whereas His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore by an Instrument, dated the 25th day of March 1881, assigned, free of charges, to the exclusive management of the British Government, for the purpose of a cantonment, certain lands situated within the limits specified and described in a Schedule and Map annexed to the said Instrument, and forming the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore; and whereas by the said Instrument His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore renounced all jurisdiction in the lands so assigned :

In exercise of the powers conferred by Sections 4 and 5 of Act XXI of 1879 (The Foreign Jurisdiction and Extradition Act, 1879), and of all other powers enabling him in this behalf, the Governor General in Council is pleased to issue the following Regulation for the management and control of Hackney Carriages in the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore :—

1. This Regulation may be called the "Bangalore Hackney Carriage Regulation, 1882."

It extends to the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, and

It shall come into force at once.

2. In this Regulation "Hackney Carriage" means any wheeled vehicle drawn by animals, and used for the conveyance of passengers, which is kept, or offered, or plies, for hire.

3. The Municipal Commissioners of the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore may, from time to time, make rules for the regulation and control of hackney carriages within the limits of that Municipality in the manner in which, under the law for the time being in force, it makes bye-laws for the regulation and control of other matters within those limits.

Every rule made under this section shall, when confirmed by the Resident in Mysore, and published for such time and in such manner as the Resident may from time to time prescribe, have the force of law :

Provided that the Resident may, at any time, rescind any such rule.

4. The rules to be made under Section 3 may, among other matters,—

(a) direct that no hackney carriage, or no hackney carriage of a particular description, shall be let to hire, or taken to ply, or offered for hire, except under a license granted in that behalf;

(b) direct that no person shall act as driver of a hackney carriage except under a license granted in that behalf;

(c) provide for the issue of the licenses referred to in clauses (a) and (b), prescribe the conditions (if any) on which such licenses shall be granted, and fix the fees (if any) to be paid therefor;

(d) regulate the description of animals, harness, and other things to be used with licensed carriages, and the condition in which such carriages, and the animals, harness and other things used therewith, shall be kept, and the lights (if any) to be carried after sunset and before sunrise;

(e) provide for the inspection of premises on which any such carriages, animals, harness and other things are kept;

(f) fix the time for which such licenses shall continue in force, and the events (if any) upon which within that time they shall be subject to revocation or suspension;

(g) provide for the numbering of such carriage;

(h) determine the times at which, and the circumstances under which, any person keeping a hackney carriage shall be bound to let or refuse to let the carriage to any person requiring the same ;

(i) appoint places as stands for hackney carriages, and prohibit such carriages waiting for hire except at such places ;

(j) limit the rates or fares, as well for time as distance, which may be demanded for the hire of any hackney carriage ; and prescribe the minimum speed at which such carriages when hired by time shall be driven ;

(k) limit the number of persons, and the weight of property, which may be conveyed by any such carriage ;

(l) require the owner or person in charge of any such carriage to keep a printed list of fares in English and such other language as may be prescribed affixed inside such carriage in such place as may be determined by the rules, and prohibit the destruction or defacement of such list ;

(m) require drivers to wear a numbered badge or ticket, and to produce their licenses when required by a Magistrate or other person authorised by the rules in this behalf, and prohibit the transfer or lending of such licenses and badges; and

(n) provide for the deposit of property found in such carriages, and the payment of a fee by the owner of such property on the delivery thereof to him.

5. Any person breaking any rule made under this Regulation shall be punished with fine which may extend to fifty rupees.

6. The amount of any fees received and the amount of any expenses incurred in giving effect to this Regulation shall be credited and debited respectively to the Municipal Fund of the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore.

7. If any dispute arises between the hirer of any hackney carriage and the owner or driver of such carriage as to the amount of the fare payable by such hirer under any rule made under this Regulation, such dispute shall, upon application made in that behalf by either of the disputing parties, be heard and determined by any Magistrate or Bench of Magistrates within the local limits of whose jurisdiction such dispute has arisen ; and such Magistrate or Bench may, besides determining the amount so in dispute, direct that either party shall pay to the other such sum as compensation for loss of time as such Magistrate or Bench thinks fit.

Any sum determined to be due or directed to be paid under this section shall be recoverable as if it were a fine.

The decision of any Magistrate or Bench in any case under this section shall be final.

When any such case is heard by a Bench any difference of opinion arising between the members of such Bench shall be settled in the same manner as differences of opinion arising between such members in the trial of criminal cases.

8. If at the time any dispute mentioned in Section 7 arises any Magistrate or Bench of Magistrates having jurisdiction in respect of such dispute is sitting, the hirer of the carriage may require the driver thereof to take him in the same to the Court of such Magistrate or Bench for the purpose of making an application under that section.

Any driver neglecting or refusing to comply with such requisition shall be punished with imprisonment of a term which may extend to one month, or with fine not exceeding fifty rupees, or with both.

G. O. No. 3265 (Judicial), dated 23rd December 1879.

Read the following papers :—

No. 282, dated 25th November 1879.

From—Hon'ble V. RAMIENGAR, C.S.I., Inspector General of Registration, Madras,

To—The Acting Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras.

The annual supply of Chubb's patent cupboard locks required for the use of this department has hitherto been obtained on indent from England through the India Office. But as under G. O. 9th December 1878, No. 2179, it is now necessary to procure it by local purchase or direct from the manufacturers without the intervention of the Store Department of the India Office, I addressed Messrs. Chubb and Son enquiring whether they would supply the required locks and at what price, and enclose their reply. During my tour through the Madura district in August 1878, I heard of a native smith at Dindigul who made locks of a superior kind. I have since ascertained, as you will see from the accompanying papers, that this smith, named A. Sankaralingam Achari, is willing to make and supply the number of locks annually required by this department at the rate of Rs. 6 a-piece. The price demanded by Chubb and Son is 12*s.* each ; but this is "for delivery in London only, exclusive of the cost of packing, freight or any transit expenses," and exclusive, of course, of the loss by exchange.

To Messrs. Chubb and Son, 2nd May 1879, No. 86.
From Messrs. Chubb and Son, 20th June 1879.

To Registrar, 19th June 1879, No. 517.
From Registrar, 11th July 1879, No. 49.
" " 12th October 1879.
" Sankaralingam Achari, 25th October 1879.

2. I send a specimen lock with duplicate keys made by Sankaralingam, at my request, for the inspection of Government. It seems to me that it will answer our purpose quite as well as the locks obtained from England ; and as it is cheaper, I am willing to let him have a trial. The terms on which he is prepared to undertake the supply are—

(1) that one-fourth of the total price of the locks required each year should be paid to him in advance ;
(2) that the balance should be paid on delivery of the locks ;
(3) that he should be allowed a period of six months in the first year and four months in every subsequent year for delivering the locks.

No. 2313, dated 2nd December 1879.

Endorsed by the Government of Madras, Financial Department.

Referred, through the Chief Engineer, to the Superintendent, Public Works Workshop, for his opinion whether the lock, as per pattern, is substantial and worth the price asked for.

No. 3610W., dated 6th December 1879.

From—LIEUTENANT W. L. C. BADDELEY, R.E., Acting General Supdt., Presidency Public Works Workshops,

To—The Deputy Chief Engineer, Public Works Department, Madras.

With reference to your memorandum No. 3669, dated 4th instant, I have the honour to state that the lock is of first class make and finish.

2. I do not think the man will be able to supply locks of this quality at Rs. 6 each.

3. The order should specify that each lock should have not less than six tumblers, which is the number in the pattern one.

4. The papers are herewith returned.

No. 3732, dated 8th December 1879.

Endorsed by the Government of Madras, Public Works Department.

Forwarded, with the original file, to the Chief Secretary.

No. 3265, dated 23rd December 1879.

Order by the Government of Madras, Financial Department.

The Inspector General of Registration is authorised to arrange for the supply of the locks required annually for the department, as per pattern sent, at Rs. 6 per lock.

2. The contract must distinctly specify that each lock shall have not less than six tumblers, the number in the pattern.

Read also the following paper :—

No. 2816T., dated 11th September 1882.

From—G. HAMNETT, Esq., Inspector General of Registration, Madras,

To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras.

With reference to paragraph 2 of the Proceedings of Government, Financial Department, No. 988, of the 18th August 1882, received on the 9th instant, I have the honour to state that the high opinion entertained of the quality of the locks manufactured by the native blacksmith at Dindigul has been confirmed by experience, and that the locks required for the use of this department annually are obtained from him. The indents on the Home Government for Chubb's locks have been discontinued.

2. There were some complaints about the locks supplied not fitting the almirahs. The contractor was called upon for explanation. On its receipt I printed and circulated it, and have not since received any further complaints.

Office Memorandum from the Public Works Department, No. 199A.G., dated 5th May 1882, forwarding returns shewing the stores of European manufacture purchased locally for the Buildings and Roads Branch of the Department in the North-Western Provinces during the years 1879-80 and 1880-81.

RESOLUTION.—From the returns forwarded by the Public Works Department, a list has been prepared and is appended to this Resolution, shewing articles which, on the information before the Government of India, it is possible to obtain of Indian manufacture; and His Excellency the Governor General in Council directs that in future these articles shall be procured of Indian manufacture, whenever it is possible to obtain them of quality good enough for the purposes for which they are required, and at prices not higher than the cost of articles of similar quality imported from England. In no case should articles of these classes or of others which the country is capable of supplying be indented for until experience has shewn that the locally manufactured articles are substantially inferior in quality to, or dearer than, similar articles supplied under indent from the Secretary of State.

2. Officers should take particular care to avoid purchasing, as articles nominally of Indian manufacture, tools and other similar articles evidently imported from Europe or America.

3. When the price at which particular articles can be obtained through the agency of the India Office is not known, reference may be made to the Director General of Railways.

ORDERED, that this Resolution be communicated to the Public Works Department and to all Local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance, and that it be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

Office Memorandum from the Public Works Department, No. 202A.G., dated 11th May 1882, forwarding returns shewing articles of European manufacture purchased locally for the Irrigation Branch of the Public Works Department in the North-Western Provinces during 1879-80 and 1880-81.

RESOLUTION.—From the returns forwarded by the Public Works Department, a list has been prepared, and is appended to this Resolution, shewing articles which, on the information before the Government of India, it is possible to obtain of Indian manufacture; and His Excellency the Governor General in Council directs that in future these articles shall be procured of Indian manufacture, whenever it is possible to obtain them of quality, good enough for the purposes for which they are required, and at prices not higher than the cost of articles of similar quality imported from England. In no case should articles of these classes or of others which the country is capable of supplying be indented for until experience has shewn that the locally manufactured articles are substantially inferior in quality to, or dearer than, similar articles supplied under indent from the Secretary of State.

2. Officers should take particular care to avoid purchasing, as articles nominally of Indian manufacture, tools and other similar articles evidently imported from Europe or America.

3. When the price at which particular articles can be obtained through the agency of the India Office is not known, reference may be made to the Director General of Railways.

ORDERED, that this Resolution be communicated to the Public Works Department and to all Local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance, and that it be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

MEDALS.

No. 578.—His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General in Council has much satisfaction in announcing that Her Majesty the Queen, Empress of India, has been graciously pleased to grant a medal to the troops of the Egypt Expeditionary Force, with a clasp for those who took part in the capture of Tel-el-Kebir.

2. Further particulars as to the classes to be admitted to participate in this grant will be notified hereafter.

PROMOTIONS.

No. 579.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to notify that the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India in Council has decided to offer to the officers of the Cavalry Branch of the Local Service the option of election for promotion henceforward under Staff Corps rules, as follows :—

(1) Those availing themselves of this offer will receive substantive promotion to major after 20 years' service, and to lieutenant-colonel after 26 years' service, with Staff Corps rates of pay.

(2) They will be eligible for admission to the Colonel's allowance at the Staff Corps rate after 38 years' service from date of first commission.

(3) They will waive absolutely any claim to cavalry pay if unemployed, and any other special advantages which may attach to the position of cavalry officers of the Local Service.

(4) This order will take effect as regards substantive rank and pay from the 1st January 1883.

2. Officers desirous of accepting these conditions are required to communicate their wish to that effect to the Adjutant General of their respective presidencies on or before the 31st December, 1882, when the lists will be finally closed, and after which no application can be received.

3. Cavalry officers who do not accept this offer will remain under their present conditions; the regimental lists and cadres being maintained as at present for the purpose of regulating their promotions.

4. Existing regimental lieutenant-colonels of Cavalry will also be allowed the option of electing to be admitted to the Colonel's allowance at Staff Corps rates after 38 years' service from date of first commission in lieu of succeeding to the allowance after 12 years' service in that rank; such option to be declared on or before the 31st December, 1882.

5. Choice once made by the officers concerned, no alteration will be permitted after the 31st December, 1882.

FINANCIAL. INDIA OFFICE,

No. 314. London, 28th September 1882.

To His Excellency the Most Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council.

MY LORD MARQUIS,—I forward herewith a copy of the report of the Deputy Master of the Royal Mint, dated August 1882, on the pyx coins of the Calcutta and Bombay Mints issued in 1881, from which you will observe that the "standard weight and fineness of the coins have been maintained with accuracy."

I have, &c.,

The coins were first weighed singly by the Mint balance and were then handed to the Assayer of the Mint, by whom each coin has been separably assayed and reported upon.

The standard weight and fineness of the coins have been maintained with accuracy.

In accordance with the directions of Their Lordships, I have caused "parting" assays to be made of the silver coins of each Presidency, in order to ascertain the average proportion of gold contained in them, and the result is shown in my report. These assays have been made in the manner detailed in my report of the 25th of October 1869.

I have, &c.,

NOTIFICATION.

Simla, the 10th November, 1882.

No. 12.—Whereas by Resolution passed by the Secretary of State for India in Council on the nineteenth day of September, 1872, and fourth day of June, 1874, respectively, the provisions of the thirty-third of Victoria, chapter three, section one, were declared applicable to the territories under the administration of the Chief Commissioner of Assam;

And whereas the Chief Commissioner of Assam has proposed to the Governor General in Council a draft of the following Regulation together with the reasons for proposing the same;

And whereas the Governor General in Council has taken such draft and reasons into consideration and has approved of such draft, and the same has received the Governor General's assent;

In pursuance of the direction contained in the said section, the said Regulation is now published in the Gazette of India.

REGULATION No. II of 1882.

A Regulation to provide for the maintenance of proper discipline and fix the term of service in the Assam Frontier Police.

WHEREAS the Frontier Police-officers of Assam enrolled under Act V of 1861 (for the regulation of Police) perform services of a quasi-military character, and whereas the provisions of that Act and the orders and rules framed thereunder have, so far as they relate to the maintenance of discipline among those officers, been found insufficient, and it is therefore expedient to make further provision for the maintenance of discipline among them;

And whereas it is also expedient that those officers should be bound to serve for a period of three years; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. (1) This Regulation may be called the Assam Frontier Police Regulation, 1882;

Commencement.

(2) and it shall come into force at once.

2. In this Regulation, unless there is something repugnant in the subject or context,— Interpretation-clause.

"Frontier Police-officer." "Frontier Police-officer" means—

(1) any person appointed to the Assam Police Force under Act V of 1861, section seven, who, at the date on which this Regulation comes into force, is posted to the frontier division of that force; and

(2) any person so appointed who, after that date, is posted to that division in accordance with section ten of this Regulation;

"active service": "active service" means service at the frontier outposts, or against hostile tribes or other persons in the field;

"Deputy Commissioner": "Deputy Commissioner" means the Deputy Commissioner in any district of the Province of Assam;

"Commandant". "Commandant" means a person appointed by the Chief Commissioner to be a Commandant of Frontier Police, and

"reason to believe," "criminal force," "assault" and "fraudulently": the expressions "reason to believe," "criminal force," "assault" and "fraudulently" have the meanings assigned to them respectively in the Indian Penal Code.

More heinous offences. 3. Any Frontier Police-officer who—

(a) begins, excites, causes or joins in any mutiny or sedition, or, being present at any mutiny or sedition, does not use his utmost endeavours to suppress the same, or, knowing or having reason to believe in the existence of any mutiny, or of any intention to mutiny, does not without delay give information thereof to his commanding or other superior officer; or

(b) uses, or attempts to use, criminal force to, or commits an assault on, his superior officer, whether on or off duty, under any circumstances in which the superior officer is distinguishable as such in any manner; or

(c) shamefully abandons or delivers up any garrison, fortress, post or guard committed to his charge, or which it is his duty to defend; or

(d) directly or indirectly holds correspondence with, or assists or relieves, any persons in arms against the State, or omits to discover immediately to his commanding or other superior officer any such correspondence coming to his knowledge; or who, while on active service,—

(e) disobeys the lawful command of his superior officer; or

(f) deserts the service; or

(g) being a sentry, sleeps upon his post, or quits it without being regularly relieved or without leave; or

(h) without authority, leaves his commanding officer, or his post or party, to go in search of plunder; or

(i) quits his guard, picquet, party or patrol without being regularly relieved, or without leave; or

(j) uses criminal force to, or commits an assault on, any person bringing provisions or other necessaries to camp or quarters, or forces a safeguard, or without authority breaks into any house or any other place for plunder, or plunders, destroys or damages any field, garden or other property of any kind; or

(k) intentionally causes or spreads a false alarm in action, camp, garrison or quarters, shall be punished with transportation for life or for a term of not less than seven years, or with imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for a term which may extend to fourteen years, or with fine which may extend to three months' pay, or with such fine in addition to such transportation or imprisonment, as the case may be.

Less heinous offences. 4. Any Frontier Police-officer who—

(a) is in a state of intoxication when on or for any duty, or on parade or on the line of march; or

(b) strikes or attempts to force any sentry; or

(c) being in command of a guard, picquet or patrol, refuses to receive any prisoner duly committed to his charge, or without proper authority releases any prisoner, or negligently suffers any prisoner to escape; or

(d) being under arrest or in confinement, leaves his arrest or confinement before he is set at liberty by proper authority; or

(e) is grossly insubordinate or insolent to his superior officer in the execution of his office; or

(f) refuses to superintend or assist in the making of any field-work or other military work of any description ordered to be made either in quarters or in the field; or

(g) strikes or otherwise ill-uses any person subject to this Regulation being his subordinate in rank or position; or

(h) being in command at any post or on the march, and receiving a complaint that any one under his command has beaten or otherwise maltreated or oppressed any person, or has committed any riot or trespass, fails to have due reparation made to the injured person, or to report the case to the proper authority; or

(i) designedly or through neglect injures or loses, or fraudulently disposes of, his arms, clothes, tools, equipments, ammunition, accoutrements or regimental necessaries, or any such articles entrusted to him, or belonging to any other person; or

(j) malingers, feigns or produces disease or infirmity in himself, or intentionally delays his cure, or aggravates his disease or infirmity; or

(k) with intent to render himself or any other person unfit for service, voluntarily causes hurt to himself or any other person; or who, while not on active service—

(l) disobeys the lawful command of his superior officer; or

(m) plunders, destroys or damages any field, garden or other property of any kind; or

(n) being a sentry, sleeps upon his post, or quits it without being regularly relieved, or without leave,— shall be punished with imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for a term which may extend to one year, or with fine which may extend to three months' pay, or with both.

Corporal punishment. 5. (1) Any Frontier Police-officer of the rank of police-sipáhí who is not in receipt of good-conduct pay, and who, while on service at a frontier outpost at the time of a projected attack on that post, or in the field against hostile tribes or other persons, commits any offence specified in section three or section four, may, in lieu of any punishment to which he is liable under that section, be punished with whipping:

(2) Provided that—

(a) the punishment of whipping shall in no case exceed thirty stripes; and

(b) sentence of whipping shall be passed only by the Deputy Commissioner, or, in his absence, by an Assistant Commissioner being a Magistrate of the first or second class, or, in the absence of the Deputy Commissioner or any such Assistant Commissioner, by a Commandant invested with the powers of a Magistrate of the first or second class.

Minor punishments. 6. (1) In addition to the powers conferred upon them by or under any other enactment for the time being in force the Deputy Commissioner or a Commandant may, without a formal trial, award to any Frontier Police-officer, who is subject to his authority, the following punishments for the commission of petty offences against discipline which are not otherwise provided for, or which are not of a sufficiently serious nature to call for a prosecution before a Criminal Court (that is to say):—

(a) imprisonment to the extent of seven days in the quarter-guard, or such other place in or near the lines as may be considered suitable, with forfeiture of all pay and allowances during its continuance;

(b) punishment-drill, extra guard, fatigue or other duty, not exceeding thirty days in duration, with or without confinement to lines.

(2) Any one of these punishments may be awarded separately or in combination with any one or more of the others.

Where person sentenced to imprisonment to be confined. 7. Any person sentenced under this Regulation to imprisonment for a period not exceeding three months shall, when also dismissed from the Assam Police Force, be imprisoned in the nearest or such other jail as the Chief Commissioner may, from time to time, by general or special order, direct; but, when not also dismissed from that Force, he may, at the discretion of the convicting officer, subject to revision by the Deputy Commissioner, be confined in the quarter-guard or such other place as the convicting officer may consider suitable.

Saving of prosecution under other laws. 8 (1) Nothing in this Regulation shall prevent any person from being prosecuted under Act V of 1861, or under any order or rule made under that Act, or under any other enactment for the time being in force, for any act or omission punishable hereunder, or from being liable if so prosecuted to any other or higher penalty than is provided for that act or omission by this Regulation:

(2) Provided that no person shall be punished twice for the same offence.

Magisterial powers of Police-officers. 9. Nothing in Act V of 1861, or in any other enactment for the time being in force, shall prevent the Chief Commissioner from investing any Police-officer not below the grade of Commandant with the powers of a Magistrate of any class for the purpose of inquiring into or trying any offence committed by a Frontier Police Officer and punishable under Act V of 1861 or this Regulation.

Frontier Police-officers to be bound to serve for three years. 10. (1) No officer of the Assam Police Force shall, after the date on which this Regulation comes into force, be posted to the Frontier division of that force until the declaration contained in the schedule hereto annexed has been read over to him in the presence of a Magistrate or of a Commandant, and has been signed or (when the officer is unable to write his name) marked by the officer in acknowledgment of its having been so read.

(2) Any officer who, on the declaration being so read over to him, signs or marks the same and is thereupon posted to the Frontier Division, shall not be entitled to be discharged from the Assam Police Force except in accordance with the terms of the declaration, any notice given by him under Act V of 1861, section 9, notwithstanding.

THE SCHEDULE.

(See Section 10.)

AFTER you have served three years in the Frontier division of the Assam Police Force, you may, at any time when not on active service, apply for your discharge, through the Súbahdár to whom you may be subordinate, to a Commandant of Frontier Police or to the Deputy Commissioner of the District in which you may be serving, and you will be granted your discharge in two months from the date on which you make your application, provided that the granting of it does not cause the vacancies in the Frontier division to exceed ten per cent. of the sanctioned strength: in that case you must remain till this objection is waived by competent authority or removed. But when on active service you have no claim to a discharge, and you must remain and do your duty until the necessity for retaining you in the service ceases, when you may make your application in the manner above prescribed. In the event of your re-enlistment after having been discharged, you will have no claim to reckon your service previous to discharge.

Signature of Police-officer in acknowledgment of the above having been read to him. } A. B.

RESOLUTION.—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

Read—

A letter from the Government of Bengal to the Government of India in the Home Department, No. 872, dated the 31st May 1882, submitting for orders a proposal by the Inspector General of Police to prohibit the manufacture and importation of handkerchiefs impressed with designs in imitation of Government Currency Notes.

Read—

A letter to the Government of Bengal, No. 2071, dated the 30th June 1882, requesting that Government to point out to the Chamber of Commerce at Calcutta the fraudulent use that can be made of these handkerchiefs and the necessity which appears to exist for prohibiting the import of such articles, and to ask for the opinion of the Chamber on the subject.

Read—

An endorsement from the Government of Bengal, No. 2293, dated the 17th August 1882, submitting the opinion of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce "that the importation of handkerchiefs impressed with designs of Government Currency Notes should be peremptorily prohibited," with an intimation that the Honourable the Lieutenant-Governor concurs in this opinion.

RESOLUTION.—In May last the Inspector General of Police, Bengal, brought to the notice of the Local Government that there had recently been an importation of gaudy coloured cotton goods on which, among other things, designs in imitation of Government Currency Notes had been impressed, and that two of these designs had been cut out and palmed off on ignorant people in Calcutta as genuine notes. It also appears that similar goods have been imported into the Bombay Presidency and other parts of India, and it is believed that designs cut from them have been used for dishonest purposes outside the presidency towns. The Governor General in Council observes that while there is doubtless no fraudulent intention on the part of the manufacturers and importers of these goods, there is evidence that the Currency Note forms impressed on them have been used in this country for fraudulent purposes. The designs could not impose upon any person who had experience in dealing with Currency Notes; but, as the poorer and more ignorant classes of the community are very easily deceived in matters of this nature, it appears to His Excellency in Council that there is substantial risk of these imitations of Currency Notes being used to a considerable extent for purposes of deception; any such frauds might also seriously affect the confidence of the poorer classes in Currency Notes, and His Excellency in Council is, therefore, of opinion that it is necessary in the interests of the public to prohibit the importation of the goods in question. This prohibition, if carried into effect at once, would, however, render valueless goods which have been manufactured in good faith, and accordingly His Excellency in Council is pleased to decide that the prohibition shall not be brought into operation until 1st March 1883. It has also been discovered that goods of a similar nature have been imported with designs impressed upon them in imitation of Government Promissory Notes, and the prohibition will, therefore, be made to include all such goods as well as any goods on which designs in imitation of Government of India Stock Notes may be impressed.

2. The Governor General in Council would under ordinary circumstances have preferred that effect should be given to the prohibition by means of legislation; but legislation on the subject, if framed in general terms and not made applicable solely to the particular case now under consideration, would necessarily have a wider effect than the necessities of the case require, and His Excellency in Council has, therefore, decided to use the powers conferred on him by section 19 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, for the purpose of prohibiting the import of the goods in question, and accordingly directs the publication of the annexed notification.

ORDERED, that this Resolution be published in the Gazette of India for general information, and that it be communicated, with a copy of the Notification, to the several Local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance.

No. 4878.

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 19 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, the Governor General in Council is pleased to prohibit the importation into ports in British India of cotton goods impressed with designs in imitation of Currency Notes, Promissory Notes, or Stock Notes of the Government of India. This order shall come into force from the 1st of March 1883.

HOME DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATIONS.—PUBLIC.

Simla, the 15th November 1882.

No. 1829.—Under the provisions of Section 9 of the Statute 24 & 25 Vic., Cap. 67, the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct that His Excellency's Council shall assemble at Calcutta in the jurisdiction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

A. MACKENZIE,

Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort William, the 24th November 1882.

No. 1830.—With reference to paragraph 5 of Home Department Resolution No. 31—1298 to 1309, dated the 31st August 1882, it is hereby notified that the examination prescribed for the filling up of vacancies in the clerical establishments of the Secretariat Offices of the Government of India and the Departments directly attached thereto, will be held at Calcutta, in the Senate House of the Calcutta University, on Monday, the 15th January 1883, and following days. The daily hours of examination will be from 10 A.M. to 1 P.M. and from 1-30 P.M. to 4-30 P.M.

The probable number of vacancies to be competed for is 9 in the Upper Division of clerkships and 23 in the Lower Division. These figures represent the number of vacancies which may be expected to occur in the Upper and Lower Divisions, respectively, as calculated on the average of a series of years; but it should be understood that it is impossible to estimate with absolute accuracy the number of vacancies which will actually occur during the year 1883.

No paper on any special subject will be set for candidates for appointments in the Upper Division at the ensuing examination, but it is understood that the Military Department will probably set a special paper for candidates now in the Lower Division of that Office upon the results of examination in which the relative position of such candidates (when successful) will hereafter be arranged.

Candidates should pay the prescribed fees into the nearest Treasury, and forward to the Secretary to the Board of Examiners only the Treasury receipt. Candidates paying their fees in Calcutta should pay them into the Bank of Bengal. In the case of unsuccessful candidates, a memorandum will, after the results of the examination are known, be endorsed on the receipt by the Secretary to the Board of Examiners, entitling the candidates concerned to recover half the fees paid.

Application for permission to appear at the examination should, as directed in Home Department Resolution of 31st August last, be made to the Secretary to the Board of Examiners, Calcutta, between the 15th and 31st days of December next (inclusive).

The attention of intending candidates is called to paragraph 7 of the Resolution of 31st August last, as to the particulars and documents which should accompany the application for permission to appear at the examination. These particulars, &c., are noted in the margin.

(1) Evidence that the candidate is not less than 19 and not more than 24 years of age.
(2) A certificate from a Government Medical Officer of or above the rank of Assistant Surgeon that the candidate is in good health and of sound constitution.
(3) A certificate that the candidate is of good moral character from the head of the institution in which he has last been educated, or (when a year or more has elapsed since his education terminated) from some respectable householder to whom he is well known in private life, and who is himself personally known to the head of some Government Office, this last fact being certified by the counter-signature of the officer in question.

HOME DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATIONS.—PUBLIC.

Fort William, the 29th November 1882.

No. 1892.—Under the provisions of section 17 of the Indian Arms Act, 1878, and with reference to paragraph IV (b) of Home Department Notification No. 518, dated the 6th March 1879, the Governor General in Council is pleased to make the following rule regarding the grant of licenses for the importation or transport of lead in all districts on the external land frontier of British India and in the sea-board districts of British Burma, when such lead is required for manufacturing or industrial purposes :—

Rule.

Licenses may be granted to persons without payment of any fee in all districts on the external land frontier of British India and in the sea-board districts of British Burma, entitling the holder to import or transport lead in reasonable quantities, when the same is proved to the satisfaction of the officer granting the license to be required bonâ fide for manufacturing or industrial purposes.

ESTABLISHMENTS.

The 29th November 1882.

No. 372.—Mr. H. G. Keene is permitted to resign Her Majesty's Bengal Civil Service, with effect from the 4th October 1882.

EXAMINATIONS.

The 30th November 1882.

No. 111.—The following Regulations respecting the examination of candidates for the Civil Service of India, to be held in June 1883, are published for general information :—

EXAMINATIONS FOR THE CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA.

REGULATIONS FOR THE OPEN COMPETITION OF JUNE, 1883.

N.B.—The Regulations are liable to be altered in future years.

1. On the 1st June, 1883, and following days, an Examination open to all qualified persons, will be held in London (a). Not fewer than persons will be selected, if so many shall be found duly qualified ; viz., for the Lower Provinces of Bengal (including Assam) ; for the Upper Provinces of Bengal (including the Punjab and Oudh ; for Burma ; for Madras, and for Bombay (b).

2. No person will be deemed qualified who shall not satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners :—

(i.) That he is a natural-born subject of Her Majesty.

(ii.) That his age will be above seventeen years and under nineteen years on the 1st January, 1883. [N.B.—In the case of Natives of India this must be certified by the Government of India, or of the Presidency or Province in which the Candidate may have resided.]

(iii.) That he has no disease, constitutional affection, or bodily infirmity unfitting him, or likely to unfit him, for the Civil Service of India.

(iv.) That he is of good moral character.

(v.) That he has paid the fee of £5, prescribed under the provisions of the Order in Council of the 22nd March, 1879 (c).

3. Should the evidence upon the above points be primâ facie satisfactory to the Civil Service Commissioners, the Candidate will be admitted to the Examination. The Commissioners may, however, in their discretion, at any time prior to the grant of the Certificate of Qualification hereinafter referred to, institute such further inquiries as they may deem necessary ; and if the result of such inquiries, in the case of any Candidate, should be unsatisfactory to them in any of the above respects, he will be ineligible for admission to the Civil Service of India ; and if already selected will be removed from the position of a Probationer.

4. The Examination will take place only in the following branches of knowledge :—

	Marks.
English Composition	300
(d) History of England—including a period selected by the Candidate	300
(d) English Literature—including books selected by the Candidate	300
Greek	600
Latin	800
French	500
German	500
Italian	400
(e) Mathematics (pure and mixed)	1,000
Natural Science : that is, the Elements of any two of the following Sciences, viz. :—Chemistry, 500 ; Electricity and Magnetism, 300 ; Experimental Laws of Heat and Light, 300 ; Mechanical Philosophy, with outlines of Astronomy, 300.
Logic	300
Elements of Political Economy	300
(f) Sanskrit	500
(f) Arabic	500

Candidates are at liberty to name any or all of these branches of knowledge. No subjects are obligatory.

(a) An order for admission to the Examination will be sent to each Candidate on the 18th of May.

(b) The numbers will be announced hereafter.

(c) The fee will be £5, payable by means of a special stamp according to instructions which will be communicated to Candidates.

(d) A considerable portion of the marks for English History and Literature will be allotted to the work selected by the Candidate. (See notice on p 4.) In awarding mark for this, regard will be had partly to the extent and importance of the periods or books selected, but chiefly to the thoroughness with which they have been studied.

(e) The Examination will range from Arithmetic, Algebra, and Elementary Geometry, up to the elements of the differential and integral calculus, including the lower portions of applied Mathematics.

(f) The standard of marking in Sanskrit and Arabic will be determined with reference to a high degree of proficiency, such as may be expected to be reached by a Native of good education.

5. The merit of the persons examined will be estimated by marks ; and the number set opposite to each branch in the preceding regulation denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it.

6. The marks assigned to Candidates in each branch will be subject to such deduction as the Civil Service Commissioners may deem necessary (g), in order to secure that "a Candidate be allowed no credit at all for taking up a subject in which he is a mere smatterer."

7. The Examination will be conducted on paper and viva voce, as may be deemed necessary.

8. The marks obtained by each Candidate, in respect of each of the subjects in which he shall have been examined, will be added up, and the names of the several Candidates who shall have obtained, after the deduction above mentioned, a greater aggregate number of marks than any of the remaining Candidates, will be set forth in order of merit, and such Candidates shall be deemed to be Selected Candidates for the Civil Service of India, provided they appear to be in other respects duly qualified. Should any of the Selected Candidates become disqualified, the Secretary of State for India will determine whether the vacancy thus created shall be filled up or not. In the former case, the Candidate next in order of merit, and in other respects duly qualified, shall be deemed to be a Selected Candidate. A Selected Candidate declining to accept the appointment which may be offered to him will be disqualified for any subsequent competition.

9. Selected Candidates, before proceeding to India, will be on probation for two years, during which time they will be examined periodically, with a view of testing their progress in the following subjects :—(h)

	Marks.
1. Law	1,250
2. Classical Languages of India—
Sanskrit	500
Arabic	400
Persian	400
3. Vernacular Languages of India (each)	400
4. The History and Geography of India	350
5. Political Economy	350

In these Examinations, as in the Open Competition, the merit of the Candidates examined will be estimated by marks, and the number set opposite to each subject denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it at any one Examination. The Examination will be conducted on paper and viva voce, as may be deemed necessary. The last of these Examinations will be held at the close of the second year of probation, and will be called the "Final Examination," at which it will be decided whether a Selected Candidate is qualified for the Civil Service of India. At this Examination Candidates will be permitted to take up any one of the following branches of Natural Science, viz.—Botany, Geology, or Zoology, for which 350 marks will be allowed.

10. Any Candidate who, at any of the periodical Examinations, shall appear to have wilfully neglected his studies, or to be physically incapacitated for pursuing the prescribed course of training, will be liable to have his name removed from the list of Selected Candidates.

11. The Selected Candidates who, at the Final Examination, shall be found to have a competent knowledge of the subjects specified in Regulation 9, and who shall have satisfied the Civil Service Commissioners of their eligibility in respect of nationality, age, health, and character, shall be certified by the said Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India, provided they shall comply with the regulations in force, at the time, for that Service.

12. Persons desirous to be admitted as Candidates must apply on Forms, which may be obtained from "The Secretary, Civil Service Commission, London, S. W." at any time after the 1st December, 1882. The Forms must be returned so as to be received at the office of the Civil Service Commissioners on or before 31st March, 1883 (i).

The Civil Service Commissioners are authorized by the Secretary of State for India in Council to make the following announcements :—

(1.) Selected Candidates will be permitted to choose, according to the order in which they stand in the list resulting from the Open Competition, so long as a choice remains, the Presidency (and in Bengal the Division of the Presidency) to which they shall be appointed ; but this choice will be subject to a different arrangement, should the Secretary of State, or the Government of India, deem it necessary. (k)

(2.) The Probationers, having passed the necessary Examinations, will be required to report their arrival in India within such period after the grant of their Certificate of Qualification as the Secretary of State may in each case direct.

(3.) The seniority in the Civil Service of India of the Selected Candidates shall be determined according to the order in which they stand on the list resulting from the Final Examination.

(4.) An allowance amounting to £300 will be given to all Candidates who pass their probation at one of the Universities or Colleges which have been approved by the Secretary of State, viz., the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge, Glasgow, Edinburgh, St. Andrew's and Aberdeen ; Trinity College, Dublin ; University College, London ; and King's College, London ; provided such Candidates shall have passed the required Examinations to the satisfaction of the Civil Service Commissioners, and shall have complied with such rules as may be laid down for the guidance of Selected Candidates.

(5.) All Selected Candidates will be required, after having passed the first periodical Examination, and before receiving the first instalment of their allowance, to attend at the India Office for the purpose

(g) Marks assigned in English Composition and Mathematics will be subject to no deduction.

(h) Full instructions as to the course of study to be pursued will be issued to the successful Candidates as soon as possible after the result of the Open Competition is declared.

(i) These forms should be accompanied by evidence on the first four of the points mentioned in Regulation 2, and by a list of the subjects in which the Candidate desires to be examined. Evidence of health and character must bear date not earlier than 1st March, 1883. Applications for leave to alter or add to the list of subjects named will not be entertained unless received on or before the 15th of May.

(k) This choice must be exercised immediately after the result of the Open Competition is announced, on such day as may be fixed by the Civil Service Commissioners.

of entering into an agreement binding themselves, amongst other things, to refund in certain cases the amount of their allowance in the event of their failing to proceed to India. A surety will be required.

(6.) After passing the Final Examination, each Candidate will be required to attend again at the India Office, with the view of entering into covenants, by which, amongst other things, they will bind themselves to agree to such Regulations for the provision of pensions for their families as may be approved by the Secretary of State for India in Council. The stamps payable on these covenants amount to £1.

(7.) Candidates rejected at the Final Examination of 1883 will in no case be allowed to present themselves for re-examination.

NOTICE RESPECTING THE EXAMINATION IN THE HISTORY OF ENGLAND, AND ENGLISH LITERATURE.

HISTORY OF ENGLAND.

For the guidance of Candidates who may have a difficulty in making their selections for special study under this head, the following list is given as indicating the character and amount of reading that would be regarded as satisfactory.

Any one of the following periods, to be studied generally in "Bright's History" and particularly in portions, selected by the Candidate, of the Text-books named:—

1. Henry II. to Edward III., A.D. 1154-1377.—Stubbs' Select Charters; Stubbs' Constitutional History of England.
2. The Tudors, A.D. 1485-1603.—Hallam's Constitutional History of England; Froude's History of England.
3. The Stuarts, A.D. 1603-1714.—Hallam's Constitutional History of England; Macaulay's History of England.
4. A.D. 1714-1805.—Lord Stanhope's History; Sir T. E. May's Constitutional History; either Massey's Reign of George III. or Lord Stanhope's Life of Pitt.

ENGLISH LITERATURE.

Under this head there will be (besides the general paper) a special paper on the following books:—

1. Chaucer.—Prologue to the Canterbury Tales, with the Knight's Tale.
2. Shakespeare.—The Tempest, Richard II.
3. Byron.—Childe Harold, Cantos iii. and iv.
4. Bacon.—Essays, xxvii. to lviii. inclusive.
5. Johnson.—"Six Chief Lives of the Poets," viz.:—of Milton, Dryden, Swift, Addison, Pope and Gray; with Macaulay's Biography of Johnson.

The oral examination in English Literature will have reference chiefly to such works, not included in the foregoing list, as the Candidate may offer for the purpose.

EVIDENCE OF AGE TO BE REQUIRED FROM CANDIDATES FOR THE CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA.

I.—Every Candidate born in England or Wales should produce a Certificate from the Registrar-General of Births, Marriages, and Deaths, or from one of his provincial Officers. This Certificate may be obtained at Somerset House, or from the Superintendent Registrar of the District in which the birth took place.

II.—A Candidate who is a Native of India must have his age certified by the Government of India, or of the Presidency or Province in which he may have resided.

III.—Every other Candidate not producing the Certificate mentioned in Clause 1, must prove his age by Statutory Declaration, and should also, if possible, produce a record of Birth or Baptism from some official Register; under which term may be included the Parochial Registers of Baptisms, the non-Parochial Registers of Baptisms and Births deposited at Somerset House under Acts of Parliament, the Register kept at the India Office of persons born in India, &c., &c. This Regulation applies—

1. To all Candidates not born in England or Wales.
2. To Candidates, who, though born in England or Wales, cannot produce the Registrar-General's Certificate.

The Civil Service Commissioners reserve to themselves the right of deciding in each case upon the sufficiency of the evidence produced, but they subjoin the following general rules for the guidance of Candidates:—

(a.) The Declaration should specify precisely the date and place of birth, and should, if possible, be made by the father or mother of the Candidate. If made by any other person, it should state the circumstances which enabled the Declarant to speak to the fact. If an entry in a Bible or other family record be referred to, the Bible or other record must be produced at the time of making the Declaration, and must be mentioned in the Declaration as having been so produced.

(b.) If the Candidate was born in England or Wales, the Declaration must contain a statement, that after due inquiry no entry has been found in the books of the Registrar-General; or a separate Declaration must be made to that effect.

(c.) If no extract from any Register is produced, the Declaration must contain a statement, that after due inquiry no such Record is believed to exist; or a separate Declaration must be made to that effect.

(d.) Statutory Declarations must be exactly in the form prescribed by the Act of 5 and 6 William IV., c. 62. A printed Form, if required, will be supplied on application to the Civil Service Commissioners.

N. B.—Clergymen, who are not Magistrates, are not qualified to take Declarations.

Communication from the Public Works Department, No. 8A[illegible] 9th January 1882, forwarding returns showing the European stores p[illegible]cally during the last two years by the Military Works Branch of the I[illegible].

RESOLUTION.—From the returns forwarded by the Pu[illegible]s Department, a list has been prepared and is appended to this R[illegible] showing articles which, on the information before the Governor Gene[illegible]cil, it is possible to obtain of Indian manufacture. His Excellency [illegible] accordingly directs that in future these articles shall be procured o[illegible]anufacture whenever it is possible to obtain them of quality g[illegible] for the purposes for which they are required and at prices not higher [illegible]cost of articles of similar quality imported from England. In no case [illegible]rticles of these classes or of others which the country is capable of [illegible]ng be indented for until careful and extended enquiry has shown [illegible]locally manufactured articles are substantially inferior in quality to, [illegible] than, similar articles supplied under indent from the Secretary of State[illegible]

2. When the price, at which particular articles can be obtained through the agency of the India Office, is not known, reference may be made to the Director General of Railways.

3. Officers should take particular care to avoid purchasing, as articles nominally of Indian manufacture, tools and other similar articles evidently imported from Europe or America.

ORDERED, that the foregoing Resolution be communicated to the Public Works Department and to all Local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance, and that it be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

Communications from the Public Works Department, No. 80A.G., dated 2nd February 1882, and No. 109A. G., dated 21st February 1882, forwarding returns showing European stores purchased locally and procured from England through agents in India, during the years 1879-80 and 1880-81, by the Department in the Bombay Presidency, the Punjab, and Biluchistan.

RESOLUTION.—From the returns forwarded by the Public Works Department, a list has been prepared and is appended to this Resolution, showing articles which, on the information before the Government of India, it is possible to obtain of Indian manufacture, and His Excellency the Governor General in Council directs that in future these articles shall be procured of Indian manufacture, whenever it is possible to obtain them of quality good enough for the purposes for which they are required and at prices not higher than the cost of articles of similar quality imported from England. In no case should articles of these classes or of others which the country is capable of supplying, be indented for until careful and extended enquiry has shown that the locally manufactured articles are substantially inferior in quality to or dearer than similar articles supplied under indent from the Secretary of State.

2. Officers should take particular care to avoid purchasing, as articles nominally of Indian manufacture, tools and other similar articles evidently imported from Europe or America.

3. When the price at which particular articles can be obtained through the agency of the India Office is not known, reference may be made to the Director General of Railways.

ORDERED, that the foregoing Resolution be communicated to the Public Works Department and to all Local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance, and that it be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

MEDALS.

No. 665.—In continuation of G. G. O. No. 578 of 1882, His Excellency the Governor General in Council has much pleasure in publishing for general information the following despatch received from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India:—

MILITARY, No. 348. INDIA OFFICE, London, 26th October 1882.

To His Excellency the Most Honourable the Governor General of India in Council.

MY LORD MARQUIS,—Para. 1. Your Lordship will have learned, by my telegram of 10th

October 1882, that the Queen-Empress has been graciously pleased to grant a medal to all Her Majesty's Forces employed in the recent operations in Egypt.

2. A clasp inscribed "Tel-el-Kebir" will likewise be granted to those troops which took part in the night march from Kassassin, and assault on the enemy's entrenchments at Tel-el-Kebir on 13th September 1882.

3. The medal will be granted to all troops who landed in Egypt, and served in that country between 16th July and 14th September 1882, both dates inclusive.

4. A copy of the General Order of His Royal Highness the Field Marshal Commanding in Chief, notifying to the Army Her Majesty's gracious intention, is forwarded for your information and guidance; and I request that rolls drawn up in accordance therewith may be furnished as early as possible.

5. The rolls should include those followers who, under Indian regulations, are entitled to medals.

I have, &c.,

(Sd.) HARTINGTON.

General Order by His Royal Highness the Field Marshal Commanding in Chief.

G. O. 280.—Medals.

I. The Queen has been graciously pleased to signify Her pleasure that a medal be granted to all Her Majesty's Forces employed in the recent operations in Egypt, which resulted in the defeat of the rebel army at Tel-el-Kebir, the surrender of the rebel chief, Arabi Pasha, and of the fortresses and troops under his orders.

II. The medal will be granted to all troops who landed in Egypt and served in that country between the 16th July and the 14th September 1882, both dates inclusive.

III. Her Majesty has also been pleased to approve of the grant of a clasp, inscribed "Tel-el-Kebir," to those troops which took part in the night march from Kassassin, which ended by the assault on the enemy's entrenchments at Tel-el-Kebir about daybreak on the morning of the 13th September 1882.

IV. Rolls are to be forwarded to the Adjutant-General to the Forces without delay.

V. Staff Officers and Special Service Officers will forward their applications through the General Officers under whom they served. General Officers who served as such will forward rolls in favour of themselves and their respective Staffs.

VI. Officers who served as Heads of Departments will furnish returns of Officers and others who served under their command.

VII. Officers commanding Batteries of Royal Artillery, Companies of Royal Engineers, Regiments of Cavalry, and Battalions of Infantry and Companies of Commissariat and Transport Corps, will forward nominal rolls of Officers, Warrant Officers, Non-commissioned Officers and men who served under their command.

VIII. The rolls are to be prepared in duplicate, in conformity with the form given in the Appendix. They should be made out on foolscap, the writing to be lengthwise, from bottom to top of each page, with a margin of an inch on each side of the fold of the sheet to admit of binding. The names of the Officers and Warrant Officers will be entered in order of rank, those of the Non-commissioned Officers and men will be inserted strictly in alphabetical order, without reference to troops or companies in the case of Cavalry and Infantry.

IX. The names of men who, under Articles 910 to 912, Army Regulations, Vol. I. (Royal Warrant of 11th March 1882), have incurred forfeiture of the medal are also to be included in the rolls, and in the fourth column the reasons which have rendered them ineligible are to be stated.

By Command,

R. C. H. TAYLOR, Adjutant-General.

APPENDIX TO G. O. 280.

5A. Clause (a). An Officer transferred to Foreign Service, whose salary is not disbursed at a Treasury of the British Government in India, and who is not exempted from making the contribution prescribed in this Chapter, must, directly on his receiving the order for his transfer, furnish a copy thereof to the Comptroller General at Calcutta, who will obtain confirmation of the order from the authority who issued it. The Officer transferred must also, immediately on his being relieved of his duty under the British Government, report to the Comptroller General the date and time on which he made over charge, furnish particulars regarding his salary in Foreign Service, and his Postal address; he should also report the date on which he takes charge of his appointment in Foreign Service. Any change in these particulars, and any leave taken by him, should also be reported to the Comptroller General; and he must furnish all information which may at any time be required from him by the Comptroller General.

5A. Clause (b). The Officer must, not later than fifteen days after the end of the quarter for which salary in Foreign Service is earned, remit direct to the Comptroller General the amount payable by him, on account of contribution under the Rules in this Chapter, in respect of his salary for the said quarter: the remittance to be advised in such form as the Comptroller General may require. If the Officer fails to make the remittance within the said period of fifteen days, or if the amount remitted is less than that properly payable, interest at the rate of 4 pies a day per 100 rupees (about 8 per cent.) will be levied upon the amount due from the date of the expiry of the said fifteen days until the date of receipt of the remittance by the Comptroller General. If any amount due, including interest, is not paid up within twelve months of its accrual, the Comptroller General should submit a report to the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce, in order that it may be decided whether the Officer's claims upon the British Government shall not be deemed to have lapsed.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Public Works Department.

PRACTICAL TRAINING OF NATIVE ENGINEERS IN ENGLAND.

Read the following Despatches :—

No. 43P.W., dated 29th July 1882.

From—The Government of India,
To—The Secretary of State for India.

In personal communication with the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, we have been considering an application from a young Punjabi Assistant Engineer, Lalla Gunga Ram, for permission to go to England on duty to study practical engineering. He is said to be a good English scholar, and better read than is usual with natives, of applying practically what he has learnt by study.

2. We are gratified by this spontaneous expression of a desire for self-improvement. One of the great drawbacks to our native Engineers is a poverty of invention in design. This is more especially the case in designing buildings, in which they do not rise above the type of the Indian bungalow or the Indian barracks, which are their model for all European dwellings. They have seen nothing higher and aim at nothing higher. There can be no doubt that their professional knowledge would be enlarged, and their usefulness to the State would be increased, by a visit to England and observation of large works.

3. Officers of this class are not entitled to furlough until they have served 10 years, when they would be too old to obtain the full benefit of such training, and, moreover, their furlough pay, if specially permitted to take furlough at an earlier period of their service, would be insufficient for the purpose in the case of a stranger in a foreign land.

4. The salary of Lalla Gunga Ram is Rs. 450 per mensem, and we have no objection to his receiving the equivalent of this in sterling for two years, together with a free passage by sea both ways, the whole forming a charge against the Provincial assignment, and with Your Lordship's permission we are prepared to carry this into effect.

5. We do not expect that, at present at all events, many native Engineers will desire to follow his example. Most will consider themselves debarred by considerations of caste or religion. But we should be glad to extend the concession to a limited number of selected native Engineers who may voluntarily come forward. We propose, as a rule, to select them from the 1st and 2nd grades of Assistant Engineers, which would fix the age from 25 to 28 or thereabouts. They should be conspicuous for a good knowledge of English, for industry, energy and engineering ability of a practical rather than a theoretical nature. The selections would be made by Local Governments, and their names submitted to the Government of India for approval and for transmission to the Secretary of State.

6. Their absence from India might extend to two years. They would on arrival report themselves to the Secretary, in the Public Works Department, at the India Office, and should be attached for 18 months or thereabouts to some Engineer or Engineers of repute, in the same way and under the same supervision as the passed students of the Royal Indian Engineering College, the State paying the usual fees. It would perhaps be better that their training should be general rather than special. The remaining few months of their deputation might be spent in visiting, under the auspices of the Secretary of State, important works in progress.

7. With a view to their social well-being, the East India Association might be invited to interest themselves in the experiment.

8. We consider that 1st and 2nd grade Assistants might receive their full pay converted to sterling at the usual rate. This is more than is given to the passed students of the Royal Indian Engineering College who undergo their term of practical training in England, but not more than is given to those who elect for a training in India. Natives of the age indicated have, in accordance with caste or religious necessities, married very early, and are of course generally burdened with families, and part of their pay must be left for their support. Moreover, the country and its customs will be to them foreign, and they will be treated as foreigners in all matters of payment. If on special grounds an Officer of higher rank were sent, his case would be specially considered, but we think the equivalent of Rs. 500 per mensem should suffice.

9. The continuance to individuals of the privilege we propose would be dependent on good behaviour and satisfactory progress. Any failure to maintain a satisfactory standard in these respects would be followed by the withdrawal of the privilege, and possible reduction in rank, or dismissal from the service, in case of any flagrant acts of misconduct.

No. 53P.W., dated 28th September 1882.

From—The Secretary of State for India,

To—The Government of India.

Your Excellency's Public Works Letter No. 43 of the 29th July last makes certain proposals in respect to the possible study of practical engineering in this country by a limited number of native Engineers of the Indian Public Works Department, to be selected carefully by your Government from time to time, and submits at the same time the name of one Lalla Gunga Ram, an Assistant Engineer, in the Punjab Public Works Department, as desirous of at once visiting England for such opportunities of study and improvement.

2. The general principle on which your suggestions are based, namely, the desire of your Government to afford competent and willing native Engineers all reasonable opportunities of professional improvement, has my cordial approval, and there only remains for me to consider whether the proposals made in your letter are such as could be satisfactorily put in practice.

3. After due consideration of the subject, I see no reason why the experiment should not be made. It is admittedly an experiment, and I should be disposed to limit the number of Engineers so sent home to two annually for the first 3 years, supposing that two annually shall be found thoroughly qualified to benefit by the offer of your Government, as well as desirous of availing themselves of it. It will then be tested by experience how far the practical instruction afforded them in this country is likely to be of real benefit to them, and whether any difficulties arise in connection with their mode and manner of life in this country.

4. While in England, they will be placed under the immediate orders of Sir A. Taylor, the President of Cooper's Hill College, who will arrange for their distribution and supervision under Engineers of repute, in consultation with the Officer of your Public Works Department who may be employed at that time in the supervision of passed students of Cooper's Hill College under practical instruction. In fact, during the first 18 months of their stay, they will be afforded the same opportunities of improvement as such passed students are afforded, and the last six months of their stay will be spent, as suggested by you, in visiting important engineering works in progress, under Sir A. Taylor's advice.

5. The passages to and from India of the selected Engineers will be provided, and their salary while in this country will be issued at the rate suggested in your letter, namely, to 1st and 2nd grade Assistants, full pay, converted into sterling at the official rate for the year, leaving the case of the pay of an Officer of higher grade to be decided hereafter, should the occasion arise.

6. As regards their social well-being while in England, I will take such steps as appear most likely to assist them through my Political Aide-de-Camp who is specially charged with such duties.

7. It is obvious that the success or failure of the privilege to be thus afforded to native Engineers will depend largely on the selection made of the individual in India. Great care must, of course, be taken by the Local Governments in recommending candidates, for with them alone rests the real knowledge whether the native Engineer to be selected is possessed of the qualifications, mental and physical, which are likely to enable him to derive benefit from his studies here, and render him of enhanced usefulness to the State on his return to India. An injudicious selection would probably cause some injury to the young man himself, as well as useless expense to the State. The importance of these points will, no doubt, be impressed by you on the Local Governments.

8. I will only add a caution that a condition of selection should be that the young Engineer shall already have had some years' experience of serious work in India, otherwise he will hardly be in a position to benefit by what he sees in Europe.

9. The selected candidates shall receive all possible facilities in this country, and reports of the progress of the Engineers will be, from time to time, submitted to this Office, and transmitted to your Government. In the event of failure to derive benefit from instruction, or of unsatisfactory conduct, the Engineer will at once be required to return to India.

10. I accordingly sanction a compliance with the application of Lalla Gunga Ram to be allowed to come home for two years' study of practical engineering, and I request that I may be at once informed of the probable time of his arrival in England, in order that the necessary arrangements may be made with the President of Cooper's Hill College for his being posted to work immediately on arrival.

RESOLUTION.—The attention of Local Governments and Administrations should be specially directed to paragraphs 7 and 8 of the Despatch last read.

The Government of India is prepared to receive the names of native Engineers who may be considered well fitted to be benefitted by the training proposed, and who are willing to avail themselves of it. The recommendations should be accompanied by an account of their previous experience, their character, and their acquirements, which will enable the Government of India to select the most promising.

If the Engineers who are sent to England desire to draw part of their salary in India for the support of their families, they should indicate the person to whom the payment is to be made, and should give him formal authority to receive it and grant a receipt for it. A last-pay certificate should be given to the Engineer showing the balance to be drawn at the India Office. Full pay should be drawn in India up to the date of embarkation.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of this Resolution, and of the papers read, be forwarded to the Government of the Punjab, with special reference to paragraph 10, and to the Local Governments and Administrations and Officers noted in the margin; also that it be published in Part I of the Gazette of India.

JUDICIAL.

The 19th December 1882.

No. 1808.—The provisions of Act VIII of 1870 (An Act for the prevention of the murder of female infants) having been made applicable to the clans and localities in the Jaunpur District, detailed in the subjoined list, by the Notification of the Government of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, No. 70, dated the 29th November 1882, the following Rules made by that Government in exercise of the power conferred on it by Section 2 of the said Act, and confirmed by the Governor General in Council, are hereby published for general information:—

Rules for the suppression of female infanticide.

I.—A nominal Register (A) of all proclaimed families shall be drawn up by the Police under the orders of the Magistrate of the District. In this Register recognised heads of families or masters of separate households shall be entered as the heads of families and every member of the family habitually resident in the village shall be entered by name. All persons under twelve shall be entered as children, except married female children living with their husbands, who shall, for the purposes of these Rules, be deemed to be adult females.

II.—All villages in which the proportion of female children to children on a proclaimed population of not less than 25 children is less than 25 per cent. shall be called "specially guilty" villages, and shall also be entered in a separate Register (B), which shall be called the "Private Register of proclaimed families in specially guilty villages." This Register shall not be open to inspection, except by the officers of the district.

III.—The person who is registered as the head of a proclaimed family shall report immediately the occurrence of every birth and death and the illness of any female child in his family to the chaukidar of the village. He shall also produce all children in his family for the inspection of a Police Officer visiting the village when required to produce them.

IV.—Every midwife knowing of, or having reason to believe in, the occurrence in a proclaimed family in the village in which she resides of a birth or of the illness of a newborn child, shall at once report the fact to the chaukidar of the village. And if the village is one entered in Register B, she shall also report the occurrence of a pregnancy.

V.—If in a given time after proclamation [to be determined for each village or locality by the Local Government] the proportion of female children in a village entered in Register B does not rise to more than 25 per cent., the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that every person registered as the head of a proclaimed family in that village shall be personally bound to report to the Officer in charge of the Police Station every pregnancy in his family at some period before the seventh month.

VI.—The chaukidar of the village shall immediately report to the Officer in charge of the Police Station the occurrence of a birth, whether male or female, in a proclaimed family; the death of a female infant under one year of age, and of a male infant under six months old; the illness of a female child; and the removal of a pregnant woman to another village. He shall also report, on the occasion of his periodical visit to the Police Station, other deaths, removals and arrivals, and pregnancies reported to him, if the village is entered in Register B.

VII.—The zemindars of the villages shall give assistance to the Police in drawing up Register A, and in obtaining information regarding all births, marriages and deaths occurring, or about to occur, among proclaimed families.

VIII.—All expenses incurred in working the system sanctioned by Act VIII of 1870 shall be borne by the proclaimed clans and families, and shall be recoverable as arrears of land revenue; provided that, when the percentage of female children to children of any proclaimed class in any village exceeds forty, such class shall be exempted from any share in such expenses, unless, in the opinion of the Magistrate, there be other grounds of suspicion.

IX.—Where the crime is so prevalent, and the number of the proclaimed villages so great, that the ordinary establishment of the district cannot cope successfully with it, the Local Government may, at its discretion, appoint a force of special Police for the purpose of carrying out measures of prevention and detection. All expenses incurred for the payment of such Police, or under Rule VIII, may be met by a rate leviable under the orders of the Local Government from the heads of families entered in the nominal Register of proclaimed persons. Such rate will ordinarily be imposed so as to fall more heavily on specially guilty than on guilty families; but the amount of the rate to be levied will be fixed in every case by the special orders of the Local Government.

X.—No proclaimed village or family shall be exempted from the operation of these Rules, except by the order of the Local Government, or in virtue of authority to that effect vested by Government in any officer. A village or family so exempted will then be struck out of Register A, and the erasure initialled by the Magistrate of the District or by the District Superintendent of Police.

No. 303.—The Sirhind Canal having been formally opened by the Viceroy and Governor-General of India, His Excellency in Council now desires publicly to place on record his appreciation of the services rendered to the State by the officers who have designed and carried out the works. While mentioning specially the names of those who have been more prominently connected with this great work of engineering, His Excellency is fully mindful of the exertions of the many Engineers and Subordinates to whose unsparing labours the successful execution of the works has been so largely due, and tenders to all his hearty thanks for the good service done by them.

The name of Major-General J. Crofton, R.E., must ever be associated with the work. In his capacity as Chief Engineer of the Punjab during the earlier stages, and latterly as Inspector General of Irrigation Works with the Government of India, his great experience and abilities have been devoted to the carrying out of the project; and the thanks of the Government of India are tendered to him on its successful completion.

The thanks of the Government of India are also due to Colonel H. A. Brownlow, R.E., who for a short period officiated as Chief Engineer of the Punjab; and for a considerable period as Inspector General of Irrigation Works with the Government of India during the construction of the canal; and to Major-General Gulliver, R.E., who held immediate charge of the works for a time in the earlier stages, and subsequently for several years directed the operations in his capacity of Chief Engineer.

And especially the Government of India desires to recognise the services of Lieutenant-Colonel R. Home, R.E., on whom the greater portion of the labour and anxiety of the work has devolved. Associated with the work from its commencement, Lieutenant-Colonel Home directed the surveys and prepared the original project, and has continued, with few intervals, in charge of the execution of the works till now as Chief Engineer of the Punjab he witnesses their completion.

Of the Executive Engineers in charge of divisions of the canal, the services of Messrs. T. P. Crosthwait, J. D. Derry and C. S. Rundle (who have retired from the service of Government), and of Messrs. H. A. Fenner and T. Higham are noticed with special approbation by the Government of India.
