BENGAL CIVIL FUND.

At a Meeting of the Subscribers to the Bengal Civil Fund held at the Town Hall, Calcutta, on Monday, the 28th January, at 10 A.M.

PRESENT:—H. A. Cockerell, Esq., C.S.I.; the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Tottenham; the Hon'ble J. W. Quinton; the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Field; the Hon'ble H. Beverley; D. R. Lyall, Esq.; the Hon'ble Mr. Justice O'Kinealy; J. Westland, Esq.; E. V. Westmacott, Esq.; W. H. Grimley, Esq.; J. G. Charles, Esq.; J. Scobell Armstrong, Esq.; H. J. S. Cotton, Esq.; A. Forbes, Esq.; C. A. Wilkins, Esq.; the Hon'ble C. P. L. Macaulay; C. E. Buckland, Esq.; T. W. Holderness, Esq.; H. M. Kisch, Esq.; W. D. Blyth, Esq.; C. S. Bayley, Esq.; O. T. Barrow, Esq.; H. F. T. Maguire, Esq.

The Hon'ble J. W. Quinton in the Chair.

THE Managers presented the following report for the half-year ending on the 31st December 1883:—

REPORT.

1. The Managers submit the proceedings for the past half-year for the consideration and sanction of the Meeting.

2. Subject to the approval of the Subscribers, they have admitted to the benefits of the Fund the following families:—

Mrs. Oldham	... ...	£225
Mrs. Martin	... ...	£300
Mrs. Colvin	... ...	£300

The widow of the late Mr. W. Oldham, Annuitant of 1877, who died on the 2nd October 1883. Mr. Oldham on retirement secured three-fourths benefits only.

The widow of the late Mr. G. L. Martin, Annuitant of 1861, who died on the 5th October 1883.

The widow of the late Mr. Elliot Colvin, who died at Saharanpur on the 3rd November 1883.

Under Article V of the Rules Mr. J. J. Livesay has incurred the penalty of the exclusion of his son from the benefits of the Fund by failure to report his birth within the prescribed six months. Mr. Livesay states that the omission was the result of oversight. The admission of the child to Fund benefits is dependent upon the decision of a General Meeting of Subscribers, and the Managers submit the case accordingly. They recommend that the child be admitted on payment of the minimum fine of Rs. 100, as required by the Rules. Subscriptions have been deducted from Mr. Livesay's pay bills since the birth of the child.

Mr. A. H. Benton has applied for the remission of the fine of Rs. 50 incurred under Article V of the Rules for failure to report the birth of his son within the prescribed time. The child was born on the 17th September 1883. Mr. Benton states that he was informed by telegram in London on the 18th September of the birth of a son, but the telegram did not state the date of birth. He also received a letter on the following day, shortly before he embarked for India, but the letter did not mention the date of birth. He sailed for Bombay on the 19th September, arrived at midnight on the 17th October, and travelled to Delhi, whence he reported the birth on the 21st October. Mr. Benton states that he ascertained the date of the birth of his son from a "blurred stamp mark on the cover of the telegram."

Mr. Benton urges that he is not liable to the penalty on the following grounds:—

That he was travelling when he received the intimation and continued travelling until the day he reported.

That he was travelling by the mail steamer which would have carried the report if it had been made in London.

That, as a matter of fact, the report reached the Fund Office three weeks earlier than it would have done had he remained in England and reported thence by letter within the month.

The practice of the Fund Office is to accept the date of the letter reporting the birth of a child and not that of its receipt in the office. If Mr. Benton had reported the birth of his child by letter as soon as he ascertained the date of birth, he would have been within the prescribed time. It was also within Mr. Benton's power while in England to report the fact of birth, leaving the exact date to be reported subsequently. The case is submitted to the Meeting for decision at the request of Mr. Benton.

Mr. A. M. Markham has incurred the penalty prescribed in Article XXXVII of the Rules by neglect, for more than one year, to pay the necessary subscriptions to the Fund on his furlough allowance. Mr. Markham states that he was under the impression that these subscriptions were always allowed to remain in abeyance during absence on furlough and were adjusted upon return. As Mr. Markham has now paid all arrears of subscription together with 8 per cent. interest as required by the Rules, the Managers recommend his case to the favourable consideration of the Meeting.

Mr. D. B. Allen has incurred the penalty prescribed in Article XXXVII of the Rules by neglect, for more than one year, to pay the necessary subscriptions to the Fund on his furlough allowance. Mr. Allen states that he had left funds in India for the payment of these subscriptions. As all arrears of subscription have now been paid together with interest at 8 per cent. as required by the Rules, the Managers recommend Mr. Allen's case to the favourable consideration of the Meeting.

Mr. G. Hughes has incurred the penalty prescribed in Article XXXVII of the Rules by neglect, for more than one year, to pay the necessary subscriptions to the Fund on his furlough allowance. Mr. Hughes states that his neglect to pay was due to imperfect knowledge of the Rules and ill-health. As all arrears of subscription have now been paid together with interest at 8 per cent., the Managers recommend Mr. Hughes' case to the favourable consideration of the Meeting.

Mr. J. D. Gael has incurred the penalty prescribed in Article XXXVII of the Rules by neglect for more than one year to pay his subscriptions to the Fund on his annuity. Mr. Gael states that he was under the impression that he would receive an intimation from the Fund Office stating the amount of subscriptions due. Not having received this intimation, he made enquiries from the Agents in London, who were unable to state the amount. Immediately on receipt of a letter from the Fund Office informing him that he had incurred a penalty he made the payment to the Agents, hoping thus to repair the delay. As all arrears of subscription, together with 8 per cent. interest, have now been paid, the Managers recommend Mr. Gael's case to the favourable consideration of the Meeting.

Mr. J. Wetherill, Head Assistant, who has been employed for more than thirty years in the Civil Fund Office, has applied for a good service pension of Rs. 150 per mensem, payable through the Agents of the Fund in London at the exchange of 2 shillings to the rupee.

The establishment of the Fund Office have never been promised or led to expect the privilege of pension, but pensions have been granted to Mr. Edmonds and Babu Tinkauri Ray, employés in the office. If Mr. Wetherill were in the service of Government he would be entitled to receive a pension equivalent to half his salary of Rs. 300, on account of his service of over 25 years in the Civil Fund Office. The Managers recommend the grant to him of a pension of Rs. 150 per mensem at the current rate of exchange.

The votes of the Subscribers on the resolutions passed at the last General Meeting for the amendment of Article XXIX of the Rules have been scrutinised with the following result:—

For.	Against.

The Managers will propose:—

That the Subscribers consider that the Secretary of State should be asked on the grounds set forth in the Managers' minute dated the 12th September 1883 and already circulated to all Subscribers to grant, in addition to the remission of annuitants' subscriptions, a further pension of £30 a year to each widow, present and future, and that in accordance with clause 6 of the Act of Parliament, 45 and 46 Vic. Cap. 45, they authorize the Managers to transfer the Fund at once if the Secretary of State consents to their proposal.

The following letter has been received from Subscribers in England with reference to the Circular No. 583 of the 12th September 1883 on the subject of the transfer of the Fund to the Secretary of State:—

TREASURER'S HOUSE, GUY'S HOSPITAL,
London, the 28th December 1883.

To C. S. BAYLEY, ESQ.,
Secretary to the Bengal Civil Fund.

SIR,

WITH reference to the circular from the the Managers of the Civil Fund, dated 12th September 1883, we have the honour to inform you that a meeting of Subscribers to the Fund was held on the 18th instant at Willis' Rooms, King Street, St. James', London, at which the Subscribers named in the margin were present.

2. Sir E. C. Bayley having been voted to the chair, after some discussion, the following resolution was proposed by J. Scarlett Campbell, Esq., seconded by R. B. Chapman, Esq., and carried by a large majority, viz. :—

"That this meeting places confidence in the Managers of the Bengal Civil Fund, and accepts their views as set forth in their circular of the 12th September 1883, and would decline to surrender the management of the Bengal Civil Fund to the Secretary of State, unless the Secretary of State unreservedly accepts the terms suggested by the Managers in their circular under acknowledgment."

3. We are directed to add that while the majority were actuated by a wish to determine a serious and painful controversy by any reasonable compromise, a strong feeling prevailed that the terms proposed by the Managers are the least favourable on which the service ought to surrender the management of the Fund, and that they do not fully represent the conditions which the service might justly require in exchange for the surrender of the Fund, while they omit any reference to their claims on the generosity of the Secretary of State to place them on a more equal footing with the Subscribers to the Civil Funds of Madras and Bombay.

4. We are also to suggest, for the consideration of the Managers, whether supposing the Secretary of State were to accede to the terms proposed by the Managers, it might be expedient to provide a special tribunal for the settlement of such cases as require settlement from time to time under the rules of the Fund, and which are now decided by the Managers or by the votes of the service. Such a tribunal was provided in the surrender of the Bengal Military Fund, and is composed partly of officials attached to the East India Office and partly of Subscribers to the Fund itself.

We are, SIR,
Your most obedient servants,
R. P. HARRISON,
ED. H. LUSHINGTON,
The two Members by whom the meeting was convened.

The accounts for 1882-83 are submitted.

BENGAL CIVIL FUND OFFICE; The 28th January 1883.

CHAS. S. BAYLEY, Secretary and Accountant.

For convenience of discussion it was agreed that the first business taken by the Meeting should be the consideration of the Resolution proposed by the Managers regarding the transfer of the Civil Fund to the Government.

Mr. Cockerell moved—

"That the subscribers consider that the Secretary of State should be asked on the grounds set forth in the Managers' minute, dated the 12th September 1883, and already circulated to all subscribers, to grant, in addition to the remission of annuitants' subscriptions, a further pension of £30 a year to each widow, present and future, and that in accordance with clause 6 of the Act of Parliament, 45 and 46 Vic., Cap. 45, they authorize the Managers to transfer the Fund at once if the Secretary of State consents to their proposal."

Mr. Westland in seconding the motion observed that the subject of the transfer of the Fund to Government was one which had been for a long time before subscribers, and on which much discussion had taken place both verbally and in writing. It was therefore unnecessary to treat it now in detail, but Mr. Westland would be happy to give any information in his power which any subscriber might wish to have. The present position of affairs was briefly this. The Secretary of State had offered a settlement of the questions between himself and the three Civil Funds on the following basis. In the first place, he accepted the status quo of the 1st April 1875, that is, both he and the Funds would start from the balances shown on the books of the Funds as existing on the 1st April 1875; in the second place he laid down certain principles as those on which the Funds should from and after that date be managed. These terms, if accepted, settled all matters in dispute, but the Secretary of State further offered to the subscribers to the several Funds the alternative of continuing to manage the Funds themselves, or of making them over to the Government. The subscribers to the Bombay Civil Fund had transferred their Fund to the Government on certain terms which he would explain subsequently, and the subscribers to the Madras Fund were considering the terms on which a transfer should be made. In the case of the Bengal Fund, the Managers had had much discussion with the Secretary of State, in the course of which they had, without going into details of the matters affecting the settlement of the Bengal Fund in particular, urged generally on the Government the special claims of their Fund for favourable consideration. The Secretary of State had admitted that the subscribers to the Bengal Civil Fund had paid more to the State and had received smaller benefits from it than the subscribers to the Madras and Bombay Funds, and the Managers had therefore claimed that they should be treated with at least as much consideration as the subscribers to the Bombay Fund and receive equally favourable terms. To this claim the Secretary of State had constantly demurred. He had taken as his basis an arbitrary, standpoint—the position of the three Funds on the 1st April 1875, and the practical effect of his so doing was to concede to the Madras and Bombay Funds all they wanted and to give the Bengal Fund nothing at all. Had the starting-point been taken ten years earlier the position of things would, as regards the Bengal Civil Fund, have been practically what it now is, while that of the other Funds would have been very different. Owing to the method of distributing expenditure adopted by the Trustees of those Funds, very large balances had been accumulated to their credit in the intervening ten years, at the expense of the Government, while in the Bengal Fund the Managers had scrupulously observed almost the same restrictions for which the Secretary of State now contended, and had thus for these ten years a practically clear account with the Government. The Bengal subscribers could not, absolutely speaking, make claim against the Secretary of State that he should give them better terms as the starting-point of the settlement than were shewn in their own statements of account, but they certainly could claim that, the starting-point having been so taken as to give them absolutely no advantage in respect of the transactions that occurred before it, while it abandoned to the Madras and the Bombay subscribers almost all that the Secretary of State on his own principles could claim from them, they should in respect of the settlement of matters subsequent to that starting-point receive very favourable consideration. These were the general considerations which the Managers had been pressing upon the Secretary of State, and though he had made some concessions in the correspondence, yet he practically declined discussion, and merely refused to admit the Bengal Fund to the same favourable terms as the others, being apparently full of the notion that the Bengal Fund, like the others, had already received great condonation in the acceptance of its accounts up till 1875. The Secretary of State therefore had refused to discuss the matter further, except as it referred to the Bengal Fund taken by itself, and it was from this point of view that the Managers had now taken up the question and had laid heir views at length before the Service.

The Secretary of State and the Managers of the Bengal Fund were almost at one as to the principles on which the Fund should be managed, so that accepting the year 1875 as a starting-point and adjusting the transactions of the Fund forward from that date, there was not very much difference between the present balances as the Secretary of State would claim them and the present balances as the Managers would claim them. A settlement upon these points would determine all matters actually in controversy, and if no new questions had been raised no difficulty would probably be found in coming to terms.

But besides these matters which had to be settled, the Secretary of State had opened a new one, which admittedly entirely depended upon the consent of subscribers, in his offer to take over the Fund with all its assets and liabilities. Now for the discussion of this new question the Managers were willing to take as a starting-point the full acceptance by the Service of the Secretary of State's claims in respect of the preliminary and necessary matters. They reserved their right to fall back on their own opinion if necessary, and protest against the notion that the settlement and consequent adjustment can be forced upon them otherwise than by their own consent or by the action of a Court of law; but for present purposes they accepted the views of the Secretary of State and the adjustment of balances consequent upon them.

This left the subscribers the option of continuing to manage the Fund as their own on the accepted principles, or of handing it over to the Secretary of State; only it was obvious that to persuade them to the latter course, the Secretary of State must consent to the admission of benefits at least equal to those they could expect from the former course. The Managers had therefore carefully examined what standard of benefits they could calculate on if the Fund, adjusted in accordance with the Secretary of State's claims, remained under direct management; and the conclusion they had come to was that they were in a position to continue to the families of subscribers and to annuitants all benefits which had been given up to the present time. There were some slight differences between the figures at which Mr. Westland, after an investigation of the subject, had arrived regarding the assets and liabilities of the Fund, and those which had been adopted on General Hannyngton's calculations by the Secretary of State. The calculation of the position of the Fund depended mostly on facts but partly also on matters which involved opinion, and this accounted for such differences as did exist. General Hannyngton had made a great number of very prudent calculations, which as a matter of the safe management of the Fund would be quite admissible, but which, when applied to the question of its transfer to the Government, were quite irrelevant. Besides this, it was found by actual calculation that for certain reasons, the adjusted Fund was in a much better position in 1880 than General Hannyngton found it to be in 1875. In considering the question whether it was expedient to make the transfer it must be borne in mind that, other things being equal, it was to the interest of the subscribers to keep the management of the Fund in their own hands. It was more satisfactory that all cases that might arise should be decided by the subscribers, and the families of subscribers were likely to prefer consideration at the hands of subscribers to consideration at those of the Government. On the other hand, it was to the interest of the Secretary of State to get the Funds under his control. In the case of the Madras and Bombay Funds the Government had lost more lakhs of rupees than could now be calculated, and to a small extent loss had been incurred in dealing with the Bengal Fund, to which many years ago concessions had been made, which although made deliberately at the time, certainly shewed that the Secretary of State had not in those days fully understood the obligations he was accepting. As it was, the Secretary of State was under an obligation which was legally binding to pay 8 per cent. on a large portion of the Fund's accumulations, and this was an obligation of which it would well pay the State to be rid as experience had shewn the very great difficulty of properly limiting it. For this reason, and from the favourable terms which the subscribers to the Bombay Fund had received, the subscribers to the Bengal Fund had reason to anticipate that they would receive something as the price of the transfer of the Fund. In that case the subscribers had asked for an addition of £40 to the pension which the Fund was calculated to be able to afford to each widow, and this concession the Secretary of State had made without demur, a special clause being introduced into the Act of Parliament authorizing the transfer to enable him to do so. The clause ran as follows:—"Provided that nothing in this Act contained shall be held to preclude the Secretary of State for India in Council from assigning to the incumbents on, and subscribers to, the said Fund, or to any such widow or child as aforesaid, any benefits in addition to those secured to them by this Act, if on considering the assets and liabilities of the said Fund the Secretary of State for India in Council shall deem it reasonable so to do." The proposal of the Managers was that the subscribers should ask only for the same concession as the Bombay Fund had in this respect received. But as the Service consider themselves pledged to remit the remaining part of annuitants' subscriptions, the Managers proposed to make a slight change in the form of the concession. It had been calculated that the remission of the subscriptions still levied from annuitants was equivalent to a pension of £10 to each widow, present and future, and this remission plus an additional pension of £30 to each widow would therefore be equivalent to the terms granted to the Bombay Fund. From the Managers' point of view this addition to their benefits was practically a discounting of the extensions they might reasonably hope to obtain if the Fund remained under its present management, and they had reason to believe that from the Secretary of State's point of view it would be a price he would be willing to pay for a final settlement of the whole matter. It was true that in the last despatch received—that dated the 12th July 1883—the Secretary of State had written in a very peremptory manner requesting that the Managers might be informed that His Lordship must decline to entertain any further applications for better terms. This broke off negociations with the Managers upon the basis upon which the discussions then were proceeding, namely, general claims founded on the comparative treatment of all the Funds; but it was in the Managers' opinion quite open to the subscribers to state in the form of definite proposals, based upon definite considerations arising out of the condition of the Bengal Fund itself, the terms on which they would be prepared to transfer the Fund. In fact they had been specially invited to do so, for in paragraph 11 of his penultimate despatch No. 12, dated the 9th November 1882, the Secretary of State, while expressing his opinion that the offer previously made by him to take over the Fund should have been submitted to the subscribers for their consideration, added—"If the subscribers are dissatisfied with the terms, it is open to them to state the grounds on which they claim a larger surplus than that which is brought out in General Hannyngton's valuation." It could not therefore be expected that the Secretary of State should now say that he would not listen to further discussion of the question thus arising.

The Managers were now at last in a position to submit the matter definitely for the decision of the subscribers, and they hoped to get definite instructions to place the matter distinctly before the Secretary of State. The general sense of the subscribers had been taken on the subject, and so far as replies had been received, it appeared that subscribers both active and retired were prepared to support the view taken by the Managers, and the question of the surrender of the Fund would now, if the meeting accepted the Managers' proposal, be submitted, as required by the Act of Parliament, to the votes of the Service and annuitants. It should be observed that the subscribers had one object to gain in transferring the Fund to the Government, namely, that the Fund having ceased to take in new subscribers was in one sense in a moribund condition, and would, some 25 years hence, be left with no one to manage it.

Mr. Macaulay enquired whether there would be any objection to the addition to the motion of a clause in the sense of paragraph 4 of the letter received from the annuitants in England, providing for a special tribunal for the settlement of such cases as require settlement from time to time under the rules of the Fund. Mr. Macaulay did not wish to bring this forward as an amendment to the Managers' proposal, but he would be glad if the Managers thought fit to adopt the suggestion.

Mr. Westland said that a demand for a concession of this kind had been made in the case of the Bombay Fund, but the Government had been unwilling to sanction the constitution of a formally elected body to represent the Service in the matter of Civil Funds. But a committee had with the permission of Government been formed to decide certain cases of advances to subscribers going on leave, &c., which did not occur under the rules of the Bengal Civil Fund. The Bombay Civil Fund Transfer Act, clause 4, specially bound the Secretary of State to decide all cases now decided by Managers or subscribers in accordance with precedent. As a matter of fact, the Secretary of State would not be likely to take too strict a view. A case had actually occurred in Bombay in which an annuitant who had ceased to subscribe being attracted by the favourable terms offered after the transfer, had desired to subscribe again, and had been permitted to do so. There could be little doubt that the Managers of the Fund would not have permitted this. Mr. Westland had no objection to the addition of such a clause as that proposed by Mr. Macaulay, but he suggested that it should be put as a separate substantive resolution.

The Chairman then put the Managers' proposal to the meeting, and it was carried unanimously.

Mr. Macaulay proposed—

"That the subscribers are disposed to view favourably the proposal of the subscribers in England regarding the provision of a special tribunal for the disposal of cases requiring settlement under the rules of the Fund, and request that the Managers will give due consideration to it in making their representation to the Secretary of State."

He said that he understood that this matter had not yet been officially considered by the Managers. It would be observed, however, that his proposal would not in any way bind them. At the same time he considered it desirable to elicit an expression of the views of the Service at large upon the point. For himself he entertained an indifferent opinion of official generosity in dealing with questions of this nature, and he would be glad to see some such arrangement made as was proposed by the home subscribers.

The motion was seconded by Mr. Justice O'Kinealy and carried, Mr. Cotton dissenting.

Some discussion then arose as to the effect of the proviso in Rule XVI, requiring all votes on new general questions or questions involving any essential addition to, or alterations in, the Rules and principles of the Fund to be given within two months after the date of issuing the notice of the decision of a General Meeting, which would be to exclude the votes of annuitants in England whose answers could not be received within two months. On the suggestion of Mr. Justice Field it was ultimately decided that Messrs. Coutts & Co. should be requested to issue the notices in London on a date to be fixed by the Managers, and that answers should be sent in to Calcutta within two months, notices being issued in India on the same date as in London.

Proposed by Mr. Lyall and seconded by Mr. Macaulay—

That the Managers' proceedings in admitting the families of the late Messrs. W. Oldham, G. L. Martin, and Elliot Colvin to the benefits of the Fund be confirmed.

Carried unanimously.

Proposed by Mr. Westmacott and seconded by Mr. Wilkins—

That the name of Mr. J. J. Livesay's son be brought on the books of the Fund on payment by Mr. Livesay of the minimum fine of Rs. 100.

Carried unanimously.

Proposed by Mr. Justice Field and seconded by Mr. Lyall—

That Mr. Benton be informed that the rule as to fine for failure to report birth being absolute, the Meeting regret that the fine imposed upon him cannot be remitted.

Proposed by Mr. Blyth and seconded by Mr. Kisch—

That Messrs. A. M. Markham, D. B. Allen, G. Hughes, and J. D. Gael be restored to the rights of subscribers.

That in consideration of the excellent service rendered for many years by Mr. Wetherill while Head Assistant in the office of the Bengal Civil F[illegible] he be admitted, subject to the confirmation of the subscribers, to a good-service pension of Rs. 150 per mensem, payable at the current rate of exchange.

BENGAL CIVIL FUND.

At the half-yearly General Meeting of Subscribers to the Bengal Civil Fund held at the Town Hall on Monday, the 28th July 1884, at 10 a. m.

PRESENT:—The Hon'ble Mr. Justice Prinsep; the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Tottenham; A. Smith, Esq., M.A.; H. L. Harrison, Esq., B.A.; D. R. Lyall, Esq.; E. F. T. Atkinson, Esq., B.A.; W. H. Grimley, Esq., B.A.; H. J. S. Cotton, Esq.; R. Logan, Esq.; F. R. S. Collier, Esq.; C. S. Bayley, Esq.

A. Smith, Esq., in the Chair.

The following report was presented by the Managers of the proceedings for the past half-year.

Report.

1. The Managers submit the proceedings of the past half-year for the consideration and sanction of the meeting:—

2. Subject to the approval of the subscribers, they have admitted to the benefits of the Fund the following families:—

Mrs. Armstrong	...	...	£ 300
Two daughters	...	...	,, 200
	Total	...	£ 500

The widow and two daughters of the late Mr. H. Armstrong, an annuitant of 1851, who died in London on the 18th November 1883;

Mrs. Skinner	...	...	£ 300
Daughter	...	...	,, 100
	Total	...	£ 400

The widow and one daughter of the late Mr. Russell M. Skinner, an annuitant of 1858, who died in London on the 5th February 1884;

Mrs. Armstrong	...	...	£ 300
Two sons	...	...	,, 140
Two daughters	...	...	,, 180

The widow and six children (one son and five daughters) of the late Sir Edward Clive Bayley, K.C.S.I., C.I.E., an annuitant of 1878, who died at Wilmington on the 30th April 1884; and

Mrs. Carter	...	...	£ 300
Two daughters	...	...	,, 200
	Total	...	£ 500

The widow and two daughters of the late Mr. J. H. Carter, who died at Plymouth on the 4th May 1884;

3. The votes of the subscribers have affirmed the resolution passed at the General Meeting of the 28th January last, respecting the proposal to transfer the Fund to the Government. The following votes were recorded:—

	For.	Against.
Active subscribers in India	259	9
Ditto in England	43	2
Annuitants	182	1
Total ...	484	12

The matter being one of great importance to the Service, the Managers are anxious to have the benefit, in dealing with it, of the advice and assistance of their late colleague Mr. Westland. They propose therefore to defer making any communication regarding it to the Government until Mr. Westland's return to India, which will probably take place in the middle of September next.

4. The proposed grant of a good service pension to Mr. J. Wetherill was also confirmed, 213 subscribers having voted for, and 3 against the proposal.

5. The Managers have under Article XVI announced their intention to propose—

"That they be authorised, in accordance with the opinion of Counsel, to refund to Mrs. Bruce Lane, with interest at 5 per cent., the subscriptions paid by her to keep up her late husband's interest in the Fund."

The facts of the case, which was one of considerable difficulty, are fully set forth in the appendix to this report, from which it will be seen that the Managers felt themselves obliged to consult Counsel as to the powers of the subscribers to deal with the matter. In the opinion of Mr. Evans Mrs. Bruce Lane can never participate in the benefits of the Fund. The Managers have made a communication in accordance with this opinion to Mrs. Lane, and desire now to obtain the sanction of the subscribers to the refund, with interest, of the subscription paid by Mrs. Lane to keep alive her late husband's interest in the Fund.

6. Mr. W. C. Plowden has incurred the penalty prescribed by Article XXXVII of the Rules by failure, for more than one year, to pay the necessary subscriptions to the Fund. Mr. Plowden states that the omission was entirely due to misapprehension, as he believed that deductions on account of Fund subscriptions were being made from his allowance by the India Office. Arrears of subscription, together with interest at 8 per cent., as required by the Rules, have now been paid, and the Managers recommend Mr. Plowden's case to the favourable consideration of the Meeting.

Mr. H. Lushington has incurred the penalty prescribed by Article XXXVII of the Rules, by his omission, for more than one year, to pay the necessary subscriptions to the Fund on his annuity. Mr. Lushington states that he was not aware of the existence of Article XXXVII, and that he supposed that "in the absence of any machinery for collecting the subscriptions of annuitants in this country, all arrears, if any, due by subscribers at home, after decease would be deducted from the pensions of widows and children." Mr. Lushington has now paid all arrears of subscription, together with interest at 8 per cent., as required by the Rules, and the Managers recommend his case to the favourable consideration of the Meeting.

Mr. J. H. Prinsep has incurred the penalty prescribed by Article XXXVII of the Rules by failure, for more than one year, to pay subscriptions to the Fund on his annuity. Mr. Prinsep states that he has been under the impression that the amount deducted by the India Office from his quarterly annuity represented both deductions on account of income tax and subscriptions to the Civil Fund. Mr. Prinsep has now paid all arrears of subscription, together with interest at 8 per cent. as required by the Rules, and the Managers recommend his case to the favourable consideration of the Meeting.

Mr. C. Steer has incurred the penalty prescribed by Article XXXVII of the Rules by his omission, for more than one year, to pay subscriptions to the Fund on his annuity. Mr. Steer states that the omission was due to an oversight. All arrears of subscription, together with interest at 8 per cent., as required by the Rules, have now been paid by Mr. Steer, and the Managers recommend his case to the favourable consideration of the Meeting.

Mr. R. D. Hime, who retired on an invalid annuity, with effect from the 8th September 1881, has incurred the penalty prescribed by Article XXXVII of the Rules by his omission, for more than one year, to pay subscriptions to the Fund. Mr. Hime states that owing to his ignorance of the Rules, he was not aware that he could obtain any benefits from the Fund either immediately or prospectively, owing to the fact that at the time of his retirement he had neither wife nor child. Having married again, he is anxious to secure, if possible, the benefits of the Fund to his wife and to any children whom he may leave at his death. As all arrears of subscription, together with interest at 8 per cent., have now been paid by Mr. Hime, the Managers recommend his case to the favourable consideration of the Meeting.

7. An application has been received from Mrs. C. Chapman, widow of Mr. C. Chapman, for an increase to the pension of her son, Mr. Edmund Frere Chapman, who is incapacitated from earning his own livelihood. Mrs. Chapman on a former occasion requested that her son's name might be allowed to continue on the list of incumbents after he had attained the age of 21 years, and the Managers granted the request. This circumstance was reported in the proceedings of the General Meeting of the 29th January 1883, and was confirmed by the subscribers present. Mrs. Chapman now states that her son's mental condition is such as to necessitate his being placed under the charge of a medical man at great expense. The Managers, taking into consideration the fact that Mrs. Chapman is dependent entirely on her pension, and that the cost of the maintenance of her son exceeds £100 a year have, under the powers vested in them by Article XXIX of the Rules, granted, until further orders, the full pension of £150 a year to Mr. E. F. Chapman.

8. In accordance with Article XXII of the Rules, the Managers have to report that the Hon'ble Mr. Justice O'Kinealy having on his departure from India on leave resigned his office as an elected Manager, they have elected the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Beverley to fill the vacancy thus caused.

Proposed by Mr. Lyall, seconded by Mr. Logan, and carried unanimously—

That the Managers' proceedings in admitting the families of the late Messrs. H. Armstrong, Russell M. Skinner, J. Samuel Armstrong, Sir Edward Clive Bayley, K.C.S.I., C.I.E., and Mr. J. H. Carter to the benefits of the Fund be confirmed.

Proposed by Mr. Collier, seconded by Mr. Atkinson, and carried unanimously—

That the Managers be authorized, in accordance with the opinion of Counsel and, subject to the approval of the Service, to sanction the refund, with interest, of the subscriptions paid by Mrs. Lane to keep alive her late husband's interest in the Fund.

Proposed by Mr. Cotton, seconded by Mr. Logan, and carried unanimously—

That Messrs. W. C. Plowden, H. Lushington, J. H. Prinsep, C. Steer, and R. D. Hime be restored to the rights of subscribers.

Proposed by Mr. Logan, seconded by Mr. Lyall, and carried unanimously—

That the action of the Managers in allowing Mr. E. F. Chapman to draw the full pension of £150 a year, until futher orders, be approved and confirmed.

A vote of thanks to the Chairman was proposed by Mr. Harrison, seconded by Mr. Justice Tottenham, and carried unanimously.
