No. 378.

With reference to Notification issued from the Financial Department, dated 22nd May 1832 (published in the Calcutta Gazette of 26th idem), of which the following is the text—

"Notice is hereby given that the Accountant General has been empowered to comply at his discretion with applications from the holders of Promissory Notes of the Supreme Government residing in the interior who may desire to receive the interest accruing upon their Notes from any Mofussil Treasury. When the interest of any Note may be so made payable at a Mofussil Treasury, an order to the effect will be written across the face of the Note, and parties desiring to alter the place of payment will be required to renew the Notes in the usual manner at the Office of the Accountant General at the Presidency."

it is hereby notified that the payment at Mofussil Treasuries of interest upon Promissory Notes of the Government of India is made subject to the following conditions; that is to say—

First.—That the person to whose, or to whose agent's, receipt payment is made, is either the person in whose name the Note was originally issued, or one who derives his title from the said person by a regular chain of endorsements of the form described in para. 2 below.

Second.—That all the endorsements upon the Note, whether of transfer or of payment of interest, are clear and distinct, that there are no cross-endorsements, and that there remains room for a clear and distinct endorsement for renewal.

Third.—That the Note itself is not mutilated or torn. (Division into an upper and a lower half does not reckon as mutilation if the two halves are firmly rejoined.)

2. The form of endorsement referred to in the first condition must be one of the three following:—

in which A. B. the endorser is either a personal name, without addition of official capacity or of legal status (such as administrator, &c.), or is the name or usual signature of a well-known Bank; A. B. being the holder according to the tenor of the Note and endorsements, preceding that signed by himself.

3. If the person who presents the Note for payment of interest claims in any other way or under an endorsement of any other form than that above specified, or if the endorsements are not clear and distinct, or the Note mutilated or torn, the Treasury Officer is to refuse payment of interest and to require the claimant, if he desires such payment to be continued, to take the measures prescribed in the rules for obtaining a renewed Note in his own favour.

4. It should be noted that if A. B. is, according to the tenor of Note or endorsements, holder in any other than his personal capacity, an endorsement is not legally valid if it is made in his personal capacity only, whereas, if it is made in any other capacity, the Treasury Officer must, in conformity with the present orders, require renewal to be applied for. One effect of this order therefore is to cause reference to be made to the Public Debt Office in every case of endorsement by such a holder.

No. 389.—Surgeon J. Scully, having been appointed to officiate as Deputy Assay Master, Bombay Mint, received charge of the office from Surgeon C. M. Thompson, before noon, on the 10th January 1884.

The services of Surgeon C. M. Thompson are replaced at the disposal of the Government of Madras, with effect from the 10th January 1884.

1. Scale of Provisions, Fuel and Water.—Each ship shall be supplied with provisions, stores, &c., of fair quality, in accordance with the following scale, and in quantity sufficient for the full number of days the voyage is reckoned to occupy :—

Daily allowance to each passenger above the age of 12 years.

(Children above one year and under 12 years shall receive half rations.)—

Rice	1 lb.
Flour or ship's biscuit	4 oz.

* NOTE.—A reduction is permitted of 2-7ths of the total quantity of water to be carried when the condenser is fully capable of making up the deficiency.

2. Excepting fuel and water, which shall always be found by the ship, the rest of the articles in the above scale need not be shipped for those passengers who can show that they have made their own arrangements for a full supply of such provisions for the voyage.

3. Fresh Water Condensers.—Each ship shall be fitted with a condenser or distilling apparatus of sufficient capacity to meet the requirements of both crew and passengers.

4. All condensers shall have a separate engine for working the circulating cold water pump, and under no circumstances is this engine to be used for any other work than feeding the steam boiler.

5. All condensers shall be fitted with filters.

6. The arrangement for discharging the circulating water from the condenser shall be such that it can be delivered into buckets or connected with a hose for the purpose of washing decks, or extinguishing fire, as well as discharging over the ship's side. A suitable hose and connection shall also be provided.

7. Boilers for condensers should be of an upright construction, but horizontal boilers may for special reasons be passed by the officer authorised to inspect the ship under Section 8 of the Act, if otherwise satisfactory.

8. Each boiler shall be furnished with a steam-gauge indexed to double the working pressure, a glass water gauge and two separate gauge cocks, one safety valve, and two mud-hole doors for the purpose of cleaning.

9. The boilers and all machinery of the condensers must be properly covered in, and any wooden bulkhead in the vicinity of the boilers must be covered with sheet lead 4½ lbs. to the square foot and securely fastened thereto.

10. All the piping in connection with the condenser, especially the main suction and the condensed water discharge pipe, shall be laid in positions secure from accident or otherwise securely encased.

11. The inspecting officer shall satisfy himself by actual experiment that the condenser is capable of performing the work required of it.

12. A competent person, to be approved by the inspecting officer, shall be appointed to have charge of the apparatus, &c., during the voyage.

13. No certificate under Section 11 of the Act will be granted unless the condenser can yield 500 gallons of distilled water in 24 hours, and unless the whole arrangements, as detailed in Rules 5 to 12 above, are to the entire satisfaction of the inspecting officer.

17. (b) Hospital Accommodation.—Every ship carrying more than 100 passengers shall provide hospital accommodation for the passengers as follows:—

(a) To provide for the treatment of cases other than those referred to in clause (b) there shall be a permanent hospital set apart on the upper deck. This hospital may be fitted up either in the poop or deck house. It shall contain not more than six bunks and shall have a superficial deck area of at least 144 feet, and not less than 864 cubic feet of air space. It shall be lighted and ventilated to the satisfaction of the surveying officers, and shall be provided with a raised floor or platform at least four inches off the decks. Every permanent hospital must be made as secure as any other deck house, and the roof must be well caulked and covered with painted canvas. In all such permanent hospitals iron fittings are preferable to wood. No case of small-pox, cholera, yellow-fever or plague shall on any account be treated in the permanent hospital.

(b) To provide for the treatment of such cases of sickness as it may be considered desirable specially to separate (such as small-pox, cholera, yellow-fever or plague) and for any general outbreak of sickness when the permanent hospital accommodations become insufficient, each ship shall carry materials for the construction of a temporary hospital upon its upper deck. The part of the upper deck upon which such hospital shall be erected shall be pointed out and measured off by the surveying officers. The frame-work of the hospital may be either of iron (in pieces that can be easily fitted together) or of wooden spars or bamboos. The roof must be tented, and both that and the side walls must be made of stout canvas and be perfectly water-tight, due provision being at the same time made for ventilation. The superficial area of the floor shall be not less than 144 feet, and such floor shall be raised at least 4 inches from the deck. Sheet iron is preferable as the material of the floor.

19. (d) Ventilation.—The inspecting officer shall see that the ventilation of the lower hold and of the between-decks is separately provided for; that all air holes affording a means of communication between the hold and the between-decks are closed so as to shut off, as completely as possible, the escape of foul air from the bilge, or steam from the cargo, into the between-decks, that all ventilating shafts and tubes for the hold are so arranged as to act quite independently of those for the between-decks; and that a sufficient number of efficient ventilators are provided for the between-decks to afford an equable diffusion of fresh air through all parts, and so situated as to act in all weathers.

20. In the absence of hollow iron masts and other means of ventilating the hold, there shall be fitted at least four cowl-headed tubes leading from the lower hold to the open air on the upper deck.

21. Besides hatches, stern ports, and side scuttles, and exclusive of openings into the engine room, stoke holes, coal-bunkers, collision compartments, and screw tunnel, there shall be ventilating openings in the upper deck which must be capable of being kept open in all weathers, and of which the total area shall not be less than about 14 square feet to every 100 persons, and such openings shall be as equally distributed as possible, both sky-lighted air shafts and cowl-headed tubes being fitted according to the circumstances and requirements of the case.

22. Every cowl-headed tube shall be provided with a strong plug for use, if necessary, in bad weather.

23. Every ship having an iron upper deck shall have a wooden deck laid over it.

24. Each hatchway shall be provided with a large tarpaulin tent that can be spread well over it, securely fastened, so as to keep out rain and let in fresh air, and be rolled up out of the way in fine weather; and shall also be fitted with a strong iron or wooden A-shaped frame for the support of the tent.

25. Every ship shall have poop, quarter and main deck awnings complete and in good order, at least six life buoys, and four windsails.

26. (e) Sanitary and miscellaneous regulations.—Every ship shall be fitted with not less than two latrines sufficiently screened from public view and readily accessible, and with one additional such latrine for every hundred passengers, or part of that number, carried in excess of 100. The latrines shall be provided with not less than two seats for each 100 passengers. Each latrine shall be firmly secured in a convenient and accessible place on the upper deck, and close against the bulwarks, so that the soil-shoot of the latrine floor may lead directly out of a port or other opening and well clear of the ship's side. No latrines shall be allowed in the between-decks. Each latrine shall be divided into separate and private compartments. Each compartment not more than 2 feet square shall have a separate entrance with door, and shall be fitted with a seat, or a pair of foot-boards having a free opening or hole in the centre. Each such opening shall communicate directly with the floor beneath, common to all the openings.

The floor continued into the shoot, and having a good fall towards it, shall be made either of a continuous sheet of metal, or of wood continuously lined with sheet lead or zinc. The floors and shoots of the latrines shall be painted with coal tar, liberally laid on. There should be a troughed opening at each of the ends or sides of the latrines a little above the level of the floor, but below that of the seats or foot-boards, to enable the floors to be freely flushed with water from the outside. Every compartment shall be well ventilated by means of openings that do not interfere with privacy; and shall be sufficiently lighted at night by means of a lantern to each latrine that should be so fitted as to throw light into all the compartments of the latrine.

A proportion of such compartments, in any case not less than one, if there be any females among the passengers, shall be set apart for the exclusive use of females, such proportion corresponding, as nearly as may be, to the proportion of female to male passengers.

27. Every ship shall be provided with not less than two places for washing sufficiently screened from public view, whereof a full proportion, as prescribed in the case of latrine compartment, shall be set apart, exclusively for females. A sufficient number of hand-pumps shall also be provided for supplying sea water for purposes of ablution.

28. Every ship shall be provided with not less than two cabooses or cooking ranges on deck, properly housed and covered, to which passengers can have ready access. The ranges shall be made of substantial plate iron, lined inside with bricks and raised at least 4 inches from the deck, with an outlet or chimney at top for the escape of smoke. Each range shall contain five or six cooking places, and an additional range shall be provided for every two hundred passengers carried in excess of one hundred. Cooking on board in the passengers' own stoves is prohibited.

Every ship shall provide caboose and boiler accommodation sufficient to cook for the total number of passengers to be fed by the ship; a corresponding reduction will then be admissible in the number of cabooses required under the rules for those who cook for themselves.

29. The crew of the ship shall not be allowed to use the cooking ranges or latrines set apart for passengers during the period passengers are on board, but shall be provided with a separate cooking range and latrine.

30. Strong ladders shall be provided for every hatchway used as such and not only as a ventilator, and as additional means for women and children to hold on by, besides hand-rails, knotted hand ropes should be fastened conveniently near the ladders.

31. Hooks for hanging the required number of lanterns shall be fixed at convenient distances apart.

32. The space to be occupied by the passengers must be clear, thoroughly clean, and dry; and nothing must be slung up or stowed away between the beams.

33. Bamboos, ropes, or strong rails shall be securely fastened fore and aft to the midship stanchions, so that the passengers may have something on which to hang their clothes or bundles, and to depend on for support when the ship rolls.

34. No timber of any kind shall be allowed on the upper deck but only necessary fittings properly secured.

35. The passengers should be required to air their clothing, blankets, &c., as often as possible.

36. Drinking water shall be served out by means of pumps or from taps with lock and key fitted to the water tanks.

37. The water of any tank pronounced bad by the medical officer shall be immediately rejected and pumped out.

38. A set of water vessels, such as buckets and tin mugs, required by topasses or others for use in the latrines shall be exclusively set apart for such purposes; and they shall be marked or painted so as to be clearly distinguishable from those used for cooking or drinking purposes.

C.—Rule regarding the access of intermediate or between-deck passengers to the upper-deck.

39. The entire upper deck space on board shall be free to all passengers, no part of it being assigned to extra passengers.

D.—Rules regarding the licensing and appointment of Medical Officers.

40. The medical officer of every ship required by the Native Passenger Ships Acts, 1876 and 1883, to carry a medical officer must be licensed by the Local Government and appointed by or on behalf of the owner of the ship, or, on his application, by the Local Government. Every person desiring to obtain a license to act as such medical officer shall apply for a license to the local Surgeon General of the Province in which the port of first departure lies. Such license shall be renewable yearly, and shall be in the Form No. III appended to these Rules.

E.—Rules regarding Boats, Anchors, and Cables.

41. Every steam-ship intended for the conveyance of passengers under these rules shall be provided with boats according to the following scale, and all such boats shall be fully fitted with all usual appliances:

Two of the boats shall be life-boats.

The number of boats shall be sufficient to carry all the crew and passengers on board.

The cubic contents of the boats in the following table are ascertained by multiplying their outside length, their outside width, and their inside depth together, and then their product by 0·6:—

Registered tonnage of steam-ship.	Number of boats not less than	Minimum cubic contents of life-boats.	Minimum cubic contents of all the boats of the ship.

42. Every ship shall be provided with not less than three anchors, cables, and hawsers according to Lloyd's requirements.

F.—Rules regarding Instruments for Purposes of Navigation.

43. Every ship shall also be provided with—

(a) not less than two good ship's compasses and two boat's compasses. If she is an iron ship, the deviation of her compasses shall be ascertained on every point, and shall be recorded in the log-book;

(b) Admiralty or Indian Government charts, and sailing directions suitable for the voyage she is about to undertake;

(c) not less than two chronometers and not less than two sextants or quadrants and barometers.

G.—Rules regarding Apparatus for extinguishing Fires on Board and regarding the Precautions to be taken to prevent Fires.

44. Every ship shall be provided with—

(a) hose sufficient to reach from her engines to her stem and taffrail; and

(b) fire-buckets in the proportion of three for every 100 tons up to 600, and two for every 100 tons above 600, provided that 50 in all shall suffice.

45. If fire annihilators or fire-engines are carried, they shall be placed under the special charge of one of the principal officers and the ship's carpenter, who should be held responsible that, with the buckets and other fire apparatus, they are kept in a state fit for immediate use. The engine should be worked once or twice a week to keep it in proper order.

46. No ship shall put to sea until all her cargo is properly stowed away, and the decks are cleared of any loose straw, hay, or other inflammable material.

47. Immediately before leaving port, the passengers shall be called on to deliver up whatever lucifer matches, gunpowder, or other inflammable articles they may have with them.

ORDER.—Ordered, that the Report (omitting paragraph 9) and its Appendices be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

No. 115, dated 28th December 1883.

From—E. T. ATKINSON, Esq., Officiating Comptroller General,

To—The Secretary to the Govt. of India, Dept. of Finance and Commerce.

I have the honour to submit my report on Savings Banks in India for the year 1882-83.

2. I have nothing special to report, except that Post Office Savings Banks were established during this year, and transfers to them of depositors from District Savings Banks were freely permitted under Financial Department Resolution No. 1460, dated 2nd June 1882. These, however, have not occurred to any great extent, as will be seen from the subjoined statement:—

Provinces.	Balance on 31st March 1882.	Balance on 31st March 1883.	Transfers from District Savings Banks to Post Office Savings Banks.	Transfers from Post Office Savings Banks to District Savings Banks.	Balance which would have existed on 31st March 1883 but for transfers to Post Office Savings Banks.

3. The number of banks open at the close of 1881-82 was 362, and at the end of 1882-83, 350, the decrease of 12 being on account of the amalgamation of two Railway Banks with others and the closure of another, and to the reduction of nine Regimental Banks owing probably to the presence of a smaller European force. The particulars given in the margin indicate the number of District Savings Banks open in each Province, and the total number of Presidency, Railway, and Regimental Savings Banks in India.

In notifying Lieutenant-General Walker's retirement from the Department which he has for some time past administered as Surveyor General and in which he has served for upwards of thirty years, the Governor General in Council deems it right to place on record the sense which the Government of India entertains of Lieutenant-General Walker's long and distinguished services, especially in connection with the Great Trigonometrical Survey of India. That great work, planned in the first years of the century by Major Lambton, and prosecuted for many years with signal ability and enthusiasm by Sir George Everest and Sir Andrew Waugh, was in 1861 confided to General Walker's charge, and was in 1881 brought by him to a successful conclusion. This satisfactory result has been due in no small degree to the personal exertions and unflagging interest of General Walker. General Walker's geographical knowledge and scientific attainments have on many other occasions merited and obtained special recognition, and his administration of the Survey of India has been such as to maintain it in the high state of efficiency to which it had been brought by his distinguished predecessors. The Governor General in Council regrets the loss to the State of the services of so valuable a public servant.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

Read—

Financial Despatch from the Secretary of State, No. 46, dated 27th January 1881, directing that the Comptroller General be requested to prepare annually a report comparing the accounts of the last year with the Budget of that year and with the accounts of the preceding year, with explanations of any important variations, and requesting an expression of the views of the Government of India regarding the expediency of delegating the duty of making an appropriation audit to the Comptroller General or to another officer free from all administrative functions.

Resolution by the Government of India in the Financial Department, No. 1900, dated 22nd July 1881, declaring that the offices and accounts of the Controllers of Military Accounts, of the Examiners of Public Works Accounts, and of the Comptroller to the Post Office will be open to the inspection of the Comptroller General and his inspecting officers.

Despatch from the Government of India to the Secretary of State, No. 249 (Financial), dated 1st October 1881, replying to that portion of the Secretary of State's Despatch of 27th January 1881 which dealt with the question of establishing in India an independent appropriation audit to supplement the departmental audit.

Despatch from the Secretary of State, No. 103, dated 23rd March 1882, replying to the Despatch from the Government of India, dated 1st October 1881.

Despatch from the Government of India, No. 278, dated 8th September 1882, containing the final proposals of the Government of India on the subject of an annual appropriation audit.

Despatch from the Secretary of State, No. 401, dated 21st December 1882, conveying his approval of the recommendations made by the Government of India in the Despatch No. 278, dated 8th September 1882, above quoted.

RESOLUTION.—The question of the expediency of establishing in India an independent appropriation audit to supplement the existing departmental audit, was raised by the Committee appointed in 1880, by the Secretary of State for India, to inquire into the system of military account and estimate in India. This question was connected rather with the general system of accounts in India than with that of the military accounts; but as the matter had come to the notice of the Committee, they submitted recommendations on the subject to the Secretary of State. The Committee were not unanimous in opinion, but the recommendation made in the body of their report was to the effect that the appropriation audit should be made by the Comptroller General.

As a complete audit in detail of every charge against the vouchers was effected by the local and departmental account officers, and as abstract statements of the results of this departmental audit were submitted month by month to the Comptroller General, the Committee were of opinion that the Comptroller General should carry out the appropriation audit from the materials thus supplied to him, and that he should be required to submit an annual comparison and report to the Governor General in Council.

In reply to the objection that by reason of his being entrusted with certain executive and administrative functions the Comptroller General could not be regarded as an altogether independent auditor, it was observed that, owing to the circumstances of the country, the Comptroller General did not, like the Auditor General in England, audit the accounts with vouchers, but could only exercise the functions of appropriation auditor by reviewing the results after examination of the materials received from his Sub-Accountants, and for this purpose it was considered that the office of Comptroller General, as at that time established, was sufficiently independent.

2. In forwarding the report of the Committee to the Government of India, the Secretary of State requested that the Comptroller General should be instructed to prepare annually a report comparing the accounts of each year with the estimates for that year and with the accounts of the preceding year, with explanations of any important variations; the report to be considered by the Government of India and forwarded with such remarks as might seem necessary to the Secretary of State for India. At the same time the Secretary of State requested an expression of the opinion of the Government of India regarding the expediency of delegating the duty of conducting the appropriation Audit to the Comptroller General, or to another officer free from all administrative functions.

The recommendations which were made in the first instance by the Government of India involved the appointment of a separate and independent Auditor General with a staff of subordinate auditors at a total cost of rather more than one and a half lakhs of rupees per annum. On further consideration, however, doubts were felt regarding the applicability to India of the principle which regulates the appointment of an Auditor General in England. In the United Kingdom the supplies are annually voted by Parliament, which exercises a very jealous control over the Executive Government in the disposal of those supplies, and requires that an officer, independent of the Executive Government, shall report to it whether the law has been in all cases observed, and the moneys distributed according to the intention of the House of Commons. In India the case is different, as the allotment of supplies is made by the Governor General in Council, and it is, primarily, for his satisfaction that an appropriation audit is needed, in order that he may have brought before him in a clear and precise manner any deviations which have occurred in the expenditure of the year from the original intentions of the budget. It was evident that this object could be attained without the appointment of an officer independent of the Government of India, and without incurring the considerable expenditure involved in the appointment of a separate officer; as the report was to be made to, and for the information of, the Governor General in Council, there was no object to be gained by the appointment of an officer who would be wholly independent of the Government of India.

3. On reconsideration of the whole subject, and with reference to the wishes of Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, the Government of India finally recommended, and the Secretary of State sanctioned, the following arrangements:—

I.—The appropriation audit should be made by the Comptroller General, who, in order to give due prominence to his special duties of audit, should be designated Comptroller and Auditor General.

II.—The Comptroller General should be relieved of the executive work which he performed in his capacity of Accountant General in respect of the treasuries classed under "India."

III.—The Comptroller General should be authorised to undertake a test audit in any of the offices of Account and Audit under the Government of India whenever he deemed it desirable to do so.

IV.—An addition should be made to the staff of the Comptroller General to enable him to carry out the above duties.

V.—The various Accountants General (including those of the [illegible] and Public Works Departments) or heads of Departments of [illegible] and account should be required to submit annually an appropri[illegible] audit report to the Auditor General, who would compile his report from the materials supplied to him and forward it to the Government of India.

4. In pursuance of these arrangements, the Governor General in Council is now pleased to formally appoint the Comptroller General to be Comptroller and Auditor General, and to direct that each Accountant General, including in the term the Military and Public Works Accountants General, and each head of a separate Audit Department, shall prepare and forward to the Comptroller and Auditor General each year an appropriation audit report of the Province or Department of which he compiles the accounts.

Two officers have already been appointed to class I of the enrolled list of the Financial Department, of whom one, under the title of Comptroller of Indian Treasuries, will have charge of the duties connected with the treasuries immediately under the Government of India, the examination and audit of the daily cash transactions of the Government with the Bank of Bengal at Calcutta, the accounts and expenditure by offices and establishments serving directly under the Government of India, and the accounts of interest of the public debt.

The second of these officers, under the title of Deputy Auditor General, and the former Inspector of Local Accounts who will now receive the same title of Deputy Auditor General, will be employed on the duties of test audit and inspection.

5. The offices and accounts of the Controllers of Military Accounts (including their Examiners), of the Examiners of Public Works Accounts (including Telegraph), and of the Comptroller to the Post Office, have already been declared to be open to the inspection of the Comptroller General and his inspecting officers, and similar authority is now delegated to the Auditor General and his staff. The Comptroller and Auditor General, in person or by his Deputies, is not merely entitled to inspect the offices and accounts in question, but also to make a test audit of so much of the accounts of any office as he may consider necessary; and the auditing or inspecting officer is entitled to enter any branch of the office, to call for any documents, and to ask for any information he may require for the purposes of his audit or inspection, and it will be the duty of the heads of all departments to supply such information, and to afford every reasonable facility for making a test audit.

The arrangements indicated in these last paragraphs have in fact already been brought into operation, and the offices of the Controller of Military Accounts, Bengal, and of the Accountant General, Madras, have already been audited.

6. The following duties will remain with the Comptroller and Auditor General, in addition to his general duty of supervising and directing the work of the Civil Accountants General and Comptrollers:—

(1) Compilation of the Central Accounts, both monthly and yearly.
(2) Compilation of estimates and comparison of current facts therewith.
(3) Appropriation audit.
(4) Audit and inspection of all offices of Account.
(5) Management of the Paper Currency Department.
(6) Control of personnel of Civil Department of Account.
(7) Resource—that is, the providing of money both by increasing the balances as a whole, and by transferring them to the points whence they are required.
(8) Management of the Public Debt, now including Stock Notes.
(9) Accounts of the District Savings Banks.
(10) Adjustment of accounts of Guaranteed Railways.
(11) Account with London and with the Colonies.
(12) Management of Reserve Treasuries and of the Bank balances.
(13) Central accounts and custody of securities held in trust by Government officers.

(14) General direction of coinage and mint operations.
(15) Verification of deposit, advance, and other debt balances.
(16) Collection of mutual accounts of accounting officers.
(17) Audit of such accounts as Administrator General's and other Law Officers', and Emigration Agencies of Colonies.
(18) The Accounts of the Forest Department.
(19) Examination of accounts of Service Funds.

ORDERED, that this Resolution be communicated to the several Local Governments and Administrations, the Comptroller General, the several Accountants General and Comptrollers, the Military Department and the Public Works Department.

Ordered also, that the Resolution be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

MY LORD MARQUIS,

Para. 1. I forward herewith a valuation of the assets and liabilities of the Indian Military Service Family Pensions as at 31st March 1883, by Mr. Willis Browne, with a report thereon by Mr. W. Sutton, B.A., the Actuary to the Registry of Friendly Societies.

2. The regulations for the provision of these pensions had, at the date of this valuation, been in force for a period of ten years, and the results shown in the valuation are very satisfactory.

3. Although a new item has been introduced into the valuation by Mr. Browne on account of loss by half subscriptions payable by married officers when on furlough, which causes a reduction of 15,087*l.* in the value of the subscriptions for wives, the surplus represents about 3½ per cent. of the liabilities.

4. But for the new item above referred to, the surplus would bear the same proportion to the liabilities as the surplus in General Hannyngton's valuation for 1878, viz., 7 per cent.

5. The average of the rates obtained for the Secretary of State's bills upon India for the five years, from 1st April 1878 to 31st March 1883, is 1*s.* 7·833*d.*, and if no surplus had existed the sterling contributions must have been converted into Indian currency at that rate of exchange for the next quinquennial period.

6. Mr. Sutton, however, is of opinion that the surplus of 17,333*l.*, brought out by Mr. Willis Browne, may be accepted, and may be applied to lessening the effect of the low rate of exchange on the subscribers' contributions in India.

7. I have therefore decided not to make any alteration in the existing Indian rates of contribution which represent the sterling rates of contribution at an exchange of a little over 1*s.* 9½*d.*

8. This decision, together with Mr. Willis Browne's valuation and Mr. Sutton's report, should be published in the Gazette of India for the information of the subscribers.

I have, &c.,

(Sd.) KIMBERLEY.

Indian Military Service Family Pensions.

Attached is a valuation of the assets and liabilities as at 31st March 1883.

The balance sheet shows an estimated surplus of 17,333*l.* and Rs. 955, the assets being rather over 3½ per cent. in excess of the liabilities.

The annuities have been calculated as payable quarterly, and, in the case of widows and daughters, to the date of decease or marriage.

For daughters, the tables as put forth in General Hannyngton's scheme have not been used, but a new table has been prepared with a reduced marriage rate. This alteration has met with General Hannyngton's approval, and is agreeable to an opinion expressed by the late Mr. Samuel Brown.

The Indian subscriptions have been calculated as payable monthly.

It will be observed that in the abstract of the valuation a new item has been introduced, that is to say, the estimated loss of half subscriptions of officers on furlough. It appears from replies to references to the Military and Public Departments that the number of officers on furlough, which varies from year to year, sometimes more, sometimes less, may be represented generally by about 18 per cent. of the total number of officers on the active list, and, since all officers on furlough pay half rates, the value of future active service subscriptions for wives should be reduced by 9 per cent. In the annuity tables the value of the subscriptions is inclusive of half rates after retirement. Taking an average difference of age between husband and wife, it appears that the value of subscriptions during active service only is about ·8 of the value, inclusive of retired half rates, so that ·09 × ·8 = ·072, or 7½ per cent., by which the value should be reduced. The amount thus found (15,087*l.*) has, therefore, been debited in the abstract.

Lieutenant-Colonels who have served as such for five years may, if they so select, subscribe in Class I. For the purpose of the valuation, it has been assumed that this privilege will in all cases be accepted. This assumption does not materially affect the balance of the account, as the donations and additional subscriptions on promotion are so adjusted as to meet as nearly as possible the value of the additional benefits.

With respect to the rate in aid of the family contributions, the actual sum received from bachelors during the year ended 31st March 1883, exchanged at the average rate obtained for bills on India, is 4,210*l.*, which distributed among 1,416 children (the number at present existing with fathers living) gives 2*l.* 19*s.* 6*d.* per annum for each child. It would not be wise, however, to look for this in the future, as the rate in aid will decrease in the same ratio as will the proportion of bachelors to married members. An estimate has therefore been made of the probable rate in aid at a period when the list of members shall be in a normal condition, the result showing a sum of 2*l.* 9*s.* 10*d.* for each child as the contribution from unmarried members. Hence, for two children, the contribution is 4*l.* 19*s.* 8*d.*, which is distributed in the following manner :—

For a girl	2	18	2
For a boy	2	1	6
	4	19	8

and these rates have been used in the valuation.

In General Hannyngton's valuation for 1878, the surplus represented about 7 per cent. of the liabilities, whereas in this it represents about 3½ per cent. only. If, however, the sum of 15,087*l.*, above referred to, were not included, it would represent just 7 per cent. Hence it appears that the prosperity of the Fund has not declined. The favourable rate of exchange now allowed in the adjustment of the contributions might therefore be continued until the next valuation.

To the Secretary of State for India in Council.

MY LORD,—In accordance with the instructions conveyed in the letter dated 21st November 1883, from Mr. J. A. Godley, Permanent Under-Secretary of State for India, I beg leave to submit the following remarks upon the report and valuation of the India Service Family Pensions Fund as at 31st March 1883, by Mr. Willis Browne.

I.—As to the Life Tables and methods of calculation employed.

I have very carefully gone over Mr. Willis Browne's calculations, which have been made nearly entirely by the aid of the set of tables constructed by Major-General Hannyngton and printed in the Appendix to his report, dated 7th June 1870, on the scheme for establishment of the Fund.

Assuming the statistical data used by Major-General Hannyngton as to rates of mortality and marriage to be applicable in the case of this Fund, and assuming the accuracy of the assumptions made as to promotion from one class to another, I find that the results of Mr. Willis Browne's calculations correctly represent the present values of the benefits assured to the members and of the subscriptions payable by them.

The important question as to the applicability of the said statistical data is one, however, which I have at present no means of determining. As I presume the form of register which Major-General Hannyngton very properly recommended to be kept when the Fund was established has been strictly adhered to, a considerable body of facts connected with the experience of the Fund must by this time be available, and I would therefore earnestly recommend that when the next quinquennial investigation takes place, that is in 1888, by which time the Fund will have been some 15 years in existence, a strict comparison should be instituted between the statistical data used by Major-General Hannyngton and the actual experience of the Fund as deduced from the Register, with the view of readjusting the financial arrangements of the Fund, if found necessary, by the light of its past experience.

In connection with this point, I may observe that Mr. Willis Browne has in this valuation used a somewhat lower marriage rate in the case of daughters than that upon which the original tables were based. The principle of this alteration is certainly one which I approve, and the investigation I have recommended to be made in 1888 will, in all probability, serve to show the necessity of this and other similar alterations.

II.—As to the deduction from value of subscription for wives on account of furlough.

A deduction on this account should most certainly be made. Assuming the proportion of 18 per cent. to correctly represent the proportion of married members in active service always on furlough, the value of 15,087*l.* put upon this item does not appear unreasonable. I would recommend, however, that the furlough experience be accurately recorded, as far as possible, in order to be made use of hereafter for a more exact determination of the value of this item.

III.—As to the reserve for future expenses of management.

From the consolidated accounts of Receipts and Expenditure for the five years ending 31st March 1883, which I have drawn up and which are given below, the one for the Indian Accounts and the other for the entire Fund (Indian and European Accounts), it will be seen that whereas in the former the item "Office Establishment Charges" appears to be about 4·1 per cent. of the members' subscriptions and donations, in the latter it appears to be about 4·6 per cent., the difference arising from the fact that the costs of the former account only include the costs actually incurred in India, whereas the latter includes all the costs incurred to the Fund. The amount reserved by Mr. Willis Browne is Rs. 1,00,000 or 8,333*l.* when converted at 1*s.* 8*d.* per rupee, and is not quite 3 per cent. of the present value of subscriptions and donations on promotion. Whether this amount is sufficient for the purpose, is one as to which I am hardly in a position to judge; but it may be safely stated that, looking at the last five years' accounts, it is not an excessive amount.

IV.—As to the subscriptions for children.

The principles on which the financial arrangements of the Fund are based are,—

(1) That members who marry pay by subscription and donation for their wives' benefit.

(2) That married members pay donations on birth of children, which, together with corresponding subscriptions, are sufficient to provide the children's benefits, but unlike (1) the subscriptions are not entirely paid by the married members. The unmarried members are required to pay certain subscriptions to the Fund, and these are appropriated as a so-called "rate in aid" to make up the subscriptions necessary for children.

To effect this appropriation, Mr. Willis Browne has assumed that there will always be as many unmarried as married members; that the number of children per married member will be 2½, and that the subscriptions from unmarried members will bear the same proportion to their number as they did for the year ending 31st March 1883.

The difficulties in dealing with this part of the Fund's financial arrangements are considerable, and it may be found necessary at the next valuation in 1888 to give special attention to this matter. In the meantime it will be sufficient to state that Mr. Willis Browne's calculations appear to have been very carefully made, and in strict accordance with the original scheme of Major-General Hannyngton.

V.—As to the surplus brought out in the valuation.

If the reserve for cost of office establishment mentioned in (III) as contained in Mr. Willis Browne's valuation be considered sufficient, I am of opinion that, subject to the Fund's experience hereafter proving to be fairly represented by the data used by Major-General Hannyngton as previously pointed out by me, the surplus brought out by Mr. Willis Browne may be accepted.

If this surplus, amounting to 17,333*l.* be appropriated in a similar manner to that brought out as at the previous valuation, it would appear to permit of the subscriptions and donations payable in India being kept at the same amounts in rupees as those they now stand at.

The result is thus arrived at:—

According to Mr. Willis Browne's valuation the total present value of future subscriptions and donations of present members is 287,460*l.*, and the average rate of exchange at which the receipts in India have been converted into sterling during the five years ending 31st March 1883 was 19·8339*d.* per rupee. Now if the equivalent rupee contributions be taken to be calculated at 21·308*d.* per rupee, a little over 1*s.* 9½*d.* as mentioned in my report dated 18th January 1881, this will be equivalent to a reduction of the sterling contributions by 6·918 per cent., and on the assumption that 85 per cent. only of the contributions are payable in India, this reduction would amount to which is nearly enough the amount of the surplus (17,333*l.*) brought out by Mr. Willis Browne.

$$287{,}460l. \times \cdot 85 \times \cdot 06918 = 16{,}902l.,$$

Insert the following as a foot-note to this Section :—

In paragraph 4 of the Home Department Resolution No. [illegible]—886-96, dated the 8th July 1885, the Government of India intimated to Local Governments and Administrations that the Secretary of State had approved of the principle to which attention was drawn in paragraph 7 of the Resolution* of the 7th September 1882, of imposing a check on the abuse of the Civil Furlough Rules by recurring grants of furlough on medical certificate, and that the best mode of effecting that object was still under consideration.

* No. 33 1343-1354

2. The Secretary of State has now decided that the Civil Furlough Rules, as they stand, appear to make sufficient provision against their frequent or general abuse, and that any present [illegible] modification of those rules is therefore unnecessary. [illegible] at home on medical leave will not be permitted to [illegible] without a medical certificate of fitness for duty in India. [illegible] same time His Lordship expresses his readiness to [illegible] subject should further experience show that [illegible] precautions against abuse of the rules are necessary, [illegible] opinion that the matter might be brought by circular to [illegible]

notice of Local Governments and Heads of Departments. It is pointed out that to grant leave on urgent private affairs in consideration of the state of an officer's health is not in accordance with the spirit of the Rules. When an officer applies for repeated grants of medical leave within short intervals, the attention of the Medical Board should be drawn to his case with a view to their carefully considering the term of absence necessary for his complete recovery.

3. I am to request that in future these directions may be borne in mind. Section 4 of the Civil Leave Code gives the Local Government ample powers for regulating the grant of leave of every description.—[Circular in the Home Department, No. 22 (Public), dated 16th May 1884.]

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Simla, the 30th May 1884.

No. 433 R.C.

OBSERVATIONS—By the Government of India, Public Works Department.

Assam Railway Surveys.

Read again—

Public Works Department Resolution No. 59 R.C. of the 24th January 1884.

Read now the following Memorandum, dated the 27th March 1884, by the Consulting Engineer to the Government of India for State Railways.

Accompanied by Mr. J. W. Buyers, Engineer-in-Chief of the Assam State Railway Surveys, I left Gauhati on the 10th of February last, passing along the proposed route of the railway to the junction with the Gola Ghat line, in the valley of the Lumding river, and thence over the South Cachar hills to Silchar; and after examining the alternative crossings of the Barak river, I proceeded viâ Sylhet to Shillong, which I reached on the 9th of March.

The portion of the proposed railway line thus examined by me may be divided into two distinct sections:—

1st.—The Gauhati branch line from Lumding river to Gauhati.

2nd.—The main line from the Lumding river to the Barak river near Silchar.

The Gauhati branch passes through an essentially level country, and presents nothing very remarkable; there are a certain number of rivers to be crossed and Mr. Buyers' selection of the general route is judicious in adopting a line in which very much of the cross drainage has been intercepted and the water-ways thus reduced to the minimum.

The line which appears to be the most desirable, is marked in red on the accompanying map.

The only doubtful part on the branch line appears to be that which lies between Gauhati and the Digru river, where it is evident from my reconnaissance that the line taken by the road, and marked in blue on the map, is quite impracticable for a railway; but I think it probable that a good line may be obtained without very heavy work on the line which I have marked in red on the map. I had not, however, time to investigate the point in sufficient detail to pronounce a decided opinion; and should it prove to be more difficult than I anticipate, it may be necessary to take the rather more circuitous line which I have shown in dotted red lines and marked A. A. on the map.

Between the Digru river and the Lumding junction, there appear to be no engineering difficulties; and although there are a few large rivers to be crossed, the line will not be a costly one to construct.

2. Looking to the fact that the soil consists generally of stiff clay, that the rivers are sluggish, and that there is a great scarcity of labor and lime in the district, I am inclined to think that screw pile piers, supporting girders of 100 feet span, will be the most suitable for the bridges spanning the larger rivers on this branch line.

3. From a general examination of the country through which this branch is proposed, I am inclined to estimate the probable cost at a lower rate than that which has been adopted by Mr. Buyers, viz., Rs. 80,000 per mile.

Mr. Buyers has explained to me that this rate was adopted before he had examined the country, and was based on Colonel Lindsay's rate for a similar line from Gauhati to Dubri.

A line from Gauhati to Dubri would, however, undoubtedly cost much more per mile than a line from Gauhati to the Lumding valley.

I am of opinion, therefore, that the branch line from Gauhati to the Lumding valley should not cost more than Rs. 63,000 or Rs. 68,000 per mile on the average.

4. With regard to the main line through the hills, the character of the country is entirely different from that through which the route of the branch is proposed to be carried.

The country is not only very rugged and hilly, but it is also densely shrouded in jungle, rendering the selection of the line a most difficult problem.

I have gone over the line which Mr. Buyers has selected, and have checked many of his approximate levels by independent observations of my own barometer, and I find that my observations agree very closely with the results he has previously obtained.

These results establish the fact that a good locomotive line, with gradient of about 1 in 70, can be obtained through the hills from Cachar to Assam.

5. The general direction of the line which Mr. Buyers has selected, may be adopted, but the details will require very careful elaboration to determine absolutely the best line; and this will require both time and labor, as it will be impossible to carry on the survey operations during the rains; and even in the cold season the weather is so unsettled and the amount of jungle cutting so large, that but very slow progress can be anticipated.

I have marked in red lines on the map that line which I think will be ultimately adopted, but this of course must depend on the result of the trial surveys which must be made before the final location is adopted.

6. There are three points at which Mr. Buyers has suggested an examination of alternative lines.

(a) The first of these roughly sketched in dotted red lines and marked B. B. on the map may possibly be feasible; but I think it probable that (as a first trial line) that which lies to the east of the range of hill bounding the Dijako valley is preferable.

(b) The second alternative shown in dotted red lines and marked C. C. on the map would at first sight appear to give a more direct line and to entail less loss of level than that which runs round the Huflong spur; but after a careful examination of the country, I have arrived at the conclusion that unless the Huflong spur route should on examination turn out worse than I anticipate, it will be a waste of time to examine in detail the alternative line on the flanks of the Barail range.

These flanks are so rugged and broken that it is doubtful whether there would be any saving in length effected by its adoption; and such a line would be very expensive and difficult of maintenance, as it would intercept the drainage of the Barail range, which is not only much higher than the spur at the opposite side of the valley, but also takes the first burst of the moisture-laden clouds from the Bay of Bengal.

(c) The third alternative marked D. D. on the map is dependent to some extent on the selection of a site for a bridge over the river Barak; but as this alternative would involve an increase of 12 miles in the through mileage to Assam, and a heavy bridge across the Jatinga river, I do not recommend its adoption; at all events I would suggest the right bank of the Jatinga and the Budapur crossing as the first line for trial.

I am disposed to prefer an adherence to the right bank of the Jatinga valley throughout, and from my casual inspection of the two crossings suggested, I am also disposed to accord the preference to the Budapur crossing.

7. It is true that the rock at the Telyntela crossing extends further across the river than in the case of the Budapur crossing, and this would enable one of the piers and one abutment to be founded on rock, but the rock is sloping and unsound, and the existence of such rock below low-water level might give rise to considerable difficulty.

In the case of the Budapur crossing the rock is very sound, forming an excellent base for the abutment, and then descends abruptly, apparently leaving the bed of the river free for sinking ordinary well foundations, which may be done without difficulty. A detailed examination of the site is, however, necessary, to determine, by means of boring, the actual character of foundations.

8. I consider that Mr. Buyers' estimate of the cost of a railway through the hills should suffice for the construction of the railway; but it will be necessary to keep down the cost by providing for the efficient transport of labor and materials to either end of the hill section.

With this view I recommend that the sections in the plains from Chandpur to the Jatinga valley on the south, and from Gola Ghât on the north to the Lumding junction, should be pushed forward with despatch before the hill section is commenced.

9. The elaboration of the details of the hill section must necessarily occupy a very long time before it can be sufficiently advanced to commence construction, and meanwhile the low-country sections both to the north and south should be pushed on rapidly, so as to bring up labor, supplies, and materials to the foot of the hills, on either side, during construction; a temporary line should also be laid in from Gola Ghât to the Brahmaputra for the same purpose.

10. The whole line from Chandpur to Gola Ghât appears to me to be of great importance in developing Upper Assam, in which much rich forest land is at present lying dormant. It is difficult to overrate the importance of this line to Assam in a strategical, political, administrative point of view. The whole line between Silchar and Gola Ghât is, however, in virgin forest, and the population practically nil. But there are rich tracts of land suitable for tea along the line of railway, which would be eagerly taken up if a railway were constructed, especially in the Demapore valley, and such a line would doubtless revolutionize Upper Assam.

11. As a direct route to Calcutta, such a line would possess many advantages compared with the route viâ Dubri, and it would place Upper Assam in direct communication with the rich tea districts of Tipperah and Silchar, whilst the extension of the line to Chittagong would enable goods to reach the port without a break of bulk.

The branch from Lumding junction to Gauhati does not appear to me to be of equal importance with the main line from Chandpur to Gola Ghât; for although it would doubtless develop a considerable cultivation of lands suitable for tea, yet these lands are already partially served by the Kapili river, which would to some extent compete with the branch railway. I would therefore urge the prior importance of the through line from Chandpur to Assam.

12. In conclusion, I may say that the selection of the line through the hills has been most creditable, both to the energy, and to the engineering abilities of Mr. Buyers. The task of picking out a line through the Cachar Hills has been one of very great difficulty, and Mr. Buyers has shown very marked ability in the manner in which he has met this difficulty.

13. I recommend that the portion of the line from the crossing of the river Barak towards Silchar should remain in abeyance until it has been seen how far the construction of the main line will affect the district of Silchar and the centres of trade. I annex an approximate section of the line through the hills from Lumding junction to the mouth of the Jatinga valley.

GUILFORD L. MOLESWORTH.

OBSERVATIONS.—Public Works Department Resolution No. 59 R.C. of the 24th January 1884 summarised the results of the surveys and reconnaissances made for a line of railway from Chittagong to Cachar and Dibrugarh with a branch to Gauhati. The Consulting Engineer to the Government of India for State Railways has since been over the ground, from Gauhati to the Lumding river and thence to the Barak river near Silchar, and the foregoing memorandum which records the conclusions he has arrived at in regard to the accuracy of the examination of the country previously made by Mr. Buyers fully confirms the favourable view of the project taken in Public Works Department Resolution before quoted.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Simla, the 18th June 1884.

No. 1661.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

Read again the following Resolution in the Department of Finance and Commerce:—

No. 1959, dated 31st July 1873.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Financial Department.

The Governor General in Council observes that, of late, sanction has been frequently asked for immediate expenditure for which no provision has been made in the estimates of the current year.

His Excellency in Council desires to remind Local Governments and Heads of Departments that, save for exceptional reasons, such expenditure should not be proposed, and cannot be sanctioned.

Whenever, therefore, a proposition of this kind is made, the fact that provision has not been made for the desired expenditure in the estimates should be prominently set forth, as well as the particular reasons why it is, nevertheless, considered indispensably necessary that the outlay should be immediately incurred, and should not be postponed to the next financial year. Explanations should also be invariably given why the need for the expenditure was not foreseen in time to obtain sanction for its inclusion in the estimates.

In the absence of such special arguments, the Governor General in Council will, in future, assume that it is intended that any expenditure proposed should have effect from the beginning of the following financial year and not earlier.

Ordered, that a copy of this Resolution be communicated to the several Departments of the Government of India, to the several Local Governments, to the Heads of Departments under the Financial Department, to the Comptroller General, and to the several Accountants General and Deputy Accountants General in independent charge.

RESOLUTION—The Governor General in Council observes that at present applications for sanction to fresh expenditure are not unfrequently submitted during the course of the year in which the provisions of the foregoing Resolution are neglected. His Excellency in Council accordingly directs that the attention of the several Local Governments and Heads of Departments be called to the provisions of the Resolution of 31st July 1873, and they be requested to state distinctly in all future applications for sanction to expenditure whether provision for the proposed charge has or has not been made in the Budget Estimate of the year, and if not, whether it can be met from savings in the existing grants.

ORDERED, that the foregoing Resolution be communicated to the several Departments of the Government of India, to the several Local Governments and Administrations, to the Heads of Departments under the Department of Finance and Commerce, to the Comptroller and Auditor General, and to the Accountants General and Comptrollers for information and guidance.

Ordered also, that a copy of the Resolution be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

No. 1892.—The following Rules made by the Governor General in Council in exercise of the powers conferred by the Indian Salt Act, 1882, are published under section 29 of the said Act in supersession of those published with Notifications No. 156, dated 30th June 1876, No. 1897, dated 25th July 1879, No. 111, dated 17th April 1880, No. 3755, dated 20th November 1880, and No. 1245, dated 19th March 1881.

Preliminary.

1. These rules are applicable to the territories mentioned in the 3rd clause of section 1 of the Act, with the following exceptions :—

(a) Such portion of the said territories as lies on the right bank of the Indus with the exception of the Kalabagh mines and an area of 10 miles round them.

(b) The Province of Sindh.

Manufacture of salt under license.

2. No person who is not duly licensed in the manner hereinafter provided shall manufacture salt.

3. Any person wishing to manufacture salt shall apply for a license to the Salt Revenue Officer in charge of the division or circle in which it is desired to carry on the manufacture, who, subject to the general control of the Commissioner of Northern India Salt Revenue, shall grant or withhold it as he shall see fit.

4. Each such license shall contain the name of the person to whom it is given, and shall specify the limits within which such manufacture shall be carried on and the places where the salt so manufactured shall be stored, and shall be subject to the following conditions :—

1st.—That the provisions of the Act and of all rules and subsidiary rules duly made under it shall be strictly observed by the licensee, his agents and servants.

2nd.—That none but good salt capable in the judgment of the Salt Revenue Officer in charge of the division or circle of bearing the duty fixed from time to time by the Governor General in Council under section 7 of the Act shall be manufactured. All inferior salt shall be destroyed by being thrown back into the salt wells or pans in the presence of such officer.

3rd.—That no alteration shall be made in the pans, wells or other plant of the salt-work as existing at the date of granting the license without written sanction from the Salt Revenue Officer in charge of the division or circle.

And shall be subject to such further conditions as the Commissioner may from time to time prescribe for the protection of the Government revenue.

5. The manufacture of salt and the storage and sale of the salt manufactured shall be carried on in conformity with the conditions of the license and of the subsidiary rules issued from time to time by the Commissioner and under the supervision of the officers of the Salt Revenue Department.

6. Licenses may be cancelled by the Salt Revenue Officer in charge of the division or circle giving one month's notice, or on the application of the licensee.

In the case of cancelment of license for infringement of its conditions no notice shall be necessary.

7. Salt in store at any salt-work, a license to manufacture salt at which has been cancelled or withholden, shall be removed within six months of the date of such cancelment or withholding. The Assistant Commissioner may cause any salt which may remain in store at such salt-work after the expiry of such period of six months to be put up to auction and sold if the price offered be equal to the excise duty leviable thereon. If the price bid be less than the excise duty leviable thereon, the Assistant Commissioner may cause the salt to be effectually destroyed.

8. Nothing in the foregoing rules shall apply to the manufacture of salt by or on behalf of Government.

Protected areas, and possession, storage and sale of salt within them.

9. The area defined for the purposes of section 6, clause (e), of the Act, round each salt mine or salt-bed in the Punjab Mines Division shall extend to a distance of 10 miles from the boundary of each mine or bed on all sides, except that it shall not include any territory lying on the left bank of the river Jhelum.

The area defined for the purposes of section 6, clause (e), round any other salt-work shall extend to a distance of two miles from the boundary of the salt-work on all sides.

The areas above defined are termed "protected areas."

10. No person shall possess any salt within a protected area unless accompanied by a pass, rawannah or certificate covering the same as provided in the following rules. This rule does not apply to the possession, on the right bank of the Indus, of gray salt, the produce of the Kohat and Bannu Districts.

11. No salt shall be removed from the place of manufacture, or, after storage, from the place of storage, to any place in the salt-works in which it has been manufactured except under a written pass from the Salt Revenue Officer in charge of the works and all salt removed under such pass shall be weighed or estimated by measurement previous to such removal by the Salt Revenue establishments.

12. No salt shall be removed from the salt works unless covered by a rawannah certifying that duty at the rate fixed from time to time by the Governor General in Council under section 7 of the Act has been paid on it or under the authority in writing of the Salt Revenue Officer in charge.

13. Except as in these rules otherwise provided, any person wishing to remove salt from the salt works shall first pay the charges due thereon into such Government treasury or sub-treasury as may from time to time be appointed, and shall receive in return a receipt.

Fractions of quarter maunds shall be paid for as quarter maunds.

14. He shall present the receipt with a written requisition to the officer appointed by the Commissioner to receive it, and shall receive in lieu a rawannah for the salt, signed by the said officer and sealed in his presence.

15. The rawannah shall be current and valid for such period as the Commissioner may from time to time prescribe.

The period of currency shall count from the day on which the rawannah is delivered to the applicant, that day being included and being noted on the face of the rawannah.

16. Provided that when a rawannah is presented and the salt it covers is weighed and clearance given to the holder of the rawannah by the Inspector or Assistant Inspector more than seven days previous to the expiry of the period of the currency of the rawannah, such rawannah shall cease to be valid on the expiry of seven days from the date on which the salt has been weighed, unless the officer of the store by an order endorsed on it allows it to run for its full period or any portion thereof.

17. After the period of currency of a rawannah has elapsed, the rawannah shall cease to be valid, or of any effect whatever, unless the period be extended in the manner hereinafter provided.

18. The Commissioner may from time to time fix the minimum quantity of salt to be covered by a single rawannah.

19. The Commissioner may sanction an abatement for dryage of the salt not exceeding one per cent.

20. On a rawannah being presented and salt being issued thereunder, the Salt Revenue Officer concerned, before allowing such salt to leave his charge, shall ascertain that such rawannah is still in force and valid, and shall satisfy himself that the rawannah covers the amount of salt being issued, and shall then endorse the rawannah and return it to the trader or his agent, or to the carrier of the salt. The salt shall then be allowed to proceed to its destination.

21. When salt has been weighed and delivered to the holder of a rawannah, he shall remove it within 24 hours to a distance of at least one mile from the store, unless the officer in charge of the store, by an order endorsed on the rawannah, permits him to keep it within a shorter distance.

22. If previous to utilisation of a rawannah any minor particulars in it require rectification, such as the description of carriage, owner's name, &c., application must be made for such rectification to the officer in charge of the depôt or store before delivery of the salt is applied for.

23. If the despatch differs in minor particulars which have not been rectified in the manner prescribed in the preceding rule, the whole despatch shall be again liable to the payment of a fee not exceeding one-twentieth of the original duty, and shall on such payment be cleared, an entry being made on the rawannah that the payment has been levied as a penalty for infraction of rule, which infraction should be specified by the officer in his own handwriting.

24. If the officer suspect fraud, he may refuse to deliver the salt except under security equivalent to its full value, together with the duty leviable thereon, and shall refer the case for the orders of his superior officer.

25. If the owner of a rawannah desires to divide a despatch of salt covered by the rawannah, he shall apply to the officer who issued the rawannah, and the officer shall issue as many partition rawannahs as may be required, and cancel and resume the original rawannah.

26. If anything occurs to prevent the owner of a rawannah clearing the salt before the expiry of the period of currency of the rawannah, the officer who granted the rawannah may at his discretion, but subject to such restrictions as the Commissioner may from time to time impose, renew such rawannah at any time not more than six months from the date of originial issue. If application for renewal is made later than a week before the expiry of the original rawannah, it shall be complied with only on the applicant's paying a fee of one-twentieth of the duty originally paid.

The currency of the fresh rawannah shall not exceed that of the originial rawannah.

27. Applications for renewal, except as provided in the preceding rule, shall be forwarded for the orders of the Commissioner, who may authorise such further renewals as he may deem fit.

28. When a rawannah is lost or destroyed previous to utilisation, the person to whom it was granted may make application to the officer who issued it for a duplicate, and with the application shall deposit with the officer an amount equivalent to the duty paid for the original rawannah plus one-twentieth as a fee. The officer may thereupon grant a duplicate rawannah.

On the expiry of the currency of the original rawannah, if it has not been utilised, the duty so deposited shall be refunded.

29. The Commissioner may, if he sees fit, authorise the refund of the whole or any portion of a fee paid under Rules 23, 26 and 28.

30. The deposit of salt for retail sale to the people inhabiting a protected area may, subject to any conditions prescribed by the Commissioner, be permitted at any place within the limits of the area approved by the Assistant Commissioner. The rawannah designed to cover such deposit shall be endorsed by the Assistant Commissioner for that purpose, and shall remain in force for a period not exceeding four months.

31. Every person retailing such salt under such a rawannah shall keep a register of sales daily written up, and shall give to each purchaser a certificate stating the date of sale, the name of such purchaser, and the quantity of salt purchased.

32. A certificate given under the foregoing rule shall cover the salt sold under it while in the possession of the purchaser as if it were a rawannah.

33. When any salt is stopped for examination within a protected area by a salt Revenue Officer, the rawannah covering the despatch shall be presented by the trader or his agent, or by the carrier of the salt, to such officer, who shall satisfy himself that it is a genuine document, and that its currency has not expired, and may, if necessary, proceed to weigh the despatch.

3rd.—That the plant specified in the license shall not be altered, or the locality of the works changed, without written sanction from the Salt Revenue Officer in charge of the circle.

44. The license for the manufacture and refinement of saltpetre and for the eduction of salt therefrom shall contain the name of the person to whom it is given, and shall specify the place where such refinement of saltpetre and eduction of salt may be carried on, and the approximate quantity of saltpetre to be refined, and shall also contain the following conditions :—

4th.—That the licensee shall maintain a daily register showing the quantity of crude saltpetre purchased or manufactured, of the saltpetre refined therefrom, and of the salt educed from such saltpetre, and of the quantities of any of these substances which may be sold and removed from the refinery.

5th.—That no saline substance shall be removed from the refinery except refined saltpetre or salt educed therefrom except under the written sanction of the Salt Revenue Officer of the circle, and on payment of Rs. 2 per maund of such substance.

And shall be subject to such further conditions as the Commissioner may from time to time prescribe for the protection of the Government revenue.

45. All licenses granted under this chapter shall be for a period ending on or before the 31st July following the date of their issue, and shall on expiry be returned to the Salt Revenue Officer.

46. Duplicates of licenses lost or destroyed during the period of their currency may be obtained on payment of one-quarter of the original license fee.

47. Every licensee shall produce his license for inspection when called upon to do so by any officer of the Salt Revenue Department not below the rank of Sub-Inspector or by any subordinate deputed by him for the purpose.

48. All licensed works and all premises connected therewith shall be open at all times by day or night to the inspection of any such officer or subordinate deputed by him for the purpose.

49. All diaries, registers, books of account and the like connected with the business of licensed works shall at all times be open to the inspection of any such officer or of any subordinate deputed by him for the purpose.

50. All salt shall be daily weighed and placed in a bonded store-house under lock and key, which key shall remain in possession of the Salt Revenue Officer attached to the refinery.

Subject to such directions as the Commissioner may give from time to time, it shall be at the discretion of the Inspector or Sub-Inspector from time to time to cause such salt to be weighed in his presence and removed from the bonded store-house. The licensee shall within twenty-four hours subsequent to such weighment and before the removal of the salt pay the duty leviable thereon.

51. When salt has thus been weighed and the duty paid, it shall with all possible despatch be removed to a distance of more than one hundred yards from any part of the refinery premises under a pass signed by the said Inspector or Sub-Inspector.

The pass shall be current for such period, not exceeding twenty-four hours, as may be deemed necessary for the removal of the salt.

A pass shall not be granted for a less quantity than twenty maunds, except for the purpose of emptying the store-house.

52. Except as hereinbefore provided, or with the permission of the Assistant Commissioner of Salt Revenue, no person shall possess any salt at any place within the limits of, or within one hundred yards from the nearest point of, any saltpetre manufactory or refinery and its appurtenances.

53. If any licensee under the foregoing rules fails during the period of the license to carry on effective working at the place at which he is licensed to carry on the same, the licensing officer may suspend the license until the licensee is prepared to resume effective working there.

54. In all cases in which illicitly manufactured salt or saltpetre is seized by any Salt Revenue Officer below the grade of Inspector, such officer shall at once proceed with the salt or saltpetre so seized, and any person concerned in the manufacture that he may have been able to arrest, and any independent witnesses to the seizure whose attendance he may be able to secure, to the nearest police post. The senior officer present at such police post shall receive from the seizing officer the salt or saltpetre so seized, and in the presence of witnesses and accused shall, after weighing and recording the weight of each, take from each distinct kind or quality of salt or saltpetre seized (if there be more than one such kind or quality) two samples of not less than one tola each which he shall seal with the official seal of the police station, and after numbering them deliver them to the officer who made the seizure, recording at the same time a note on the printed form of seizure which will be presented to him, specifying the total weight of each kind seized, according to the weighments made before him, and the corresponding numbers of the samples. The remainder of the salt or saltpetre shall be sealed up with the seal of the officer who made the seizure and of the police station, and shall remain in the malkhana or other secure place in such station till such time as a written order shall be sent by the Inspector of the circle either for the destruction of the articles seized, which shall be carried into effect by the officer presenting such request in the presence of some officer of the police station, and the same certified on the reverse of the order, or for the delivery of the same, or part thereof as the case may be, to the bearer of the order for production in court.

55. When a seizure is made by an Inspector in person, he may either follow the foregoing procedure, deputing one of his subordinates present at the seizure to take the salt or saltpetre to the station and receive the samples, or he may himself on the spot take out and seal up the samples and the rest of the seized salt or saltpetre with his own official seal. He may then either take the salt or saltpetre seized with him to deposit where he considers it will be safest, or send it for deposit to the nearest or most accessible police station to be kept as in the previous case till further orders. If, however, the Inspector himself seals the salt or saltpetre, he must, in the event of the identity of the salt or saltpetre produced in court being denied by the accused, be prepared to attend and prove the same in person.

56. When anything is seized and detained under the Act or the rules made under the Act, it shall not be released until all duty, penalties, and charges due on account thereof have been paid by the owner to the Salt Revenue Officer who is in possession of such thing.

If the thing is reported for confiscation, it shall not be released unless orders for the release are received from competent authority.

57. If an animal is so seized and detained, the owner shall provide for its due care and keep, in default of which the animal may be sold to defray charges.

58. If orders are received from competent authority for the release of anything seized and detained, and no duty or penalty is payable in respect of such thing, it shall at once be given up to the owner or his agent on his paying all charges incurred.

59. Should no one be present to receive the thing released, the officer of Salt Revenue in charge shall do his best to give notice to the owner of the order of release, and shall cause a similar notice to be affixed on the office premises and at the Assistant Commissioner's office.

If within two calendar months from the date of the notice no person entitled to receive the thing claim it, and pay all charges incurred, it shall be sold, and the proceeds placed in deposit.

After a further period of three calender months, the money shall be forfeited to Her Majesty.

60. If any duty is leviable or penalty is imposed by competent authority in respect of the thing seized, unless such duty or penalty, together with all charges incurred, be paid within three days of the receipt of the orders of competent authority for release subject to such payment, the thing shall be sold, and from the proceeds the duty, penalty, and charges shall be deducted, and the balance made over to the owner or his agent.

Should no one be present to receive the money, notice, as under Rule 59, shall be given, the money being kept in deposit for three calendar months.

If not claimed within the period, it shall be forfeited to Her Majesty.

61. When orders are received from competent authority for the confiscation of anything seized and detained, it shall, with all convenient despatch, be sold or destroyed as the Assistant Commissioner of Salt Revenue may direct.

62. When a Magistrate orders the confiscation of works, materials, or implements under section 9 of the Act, they shall be sold or destroyed by dismantling or otherwise under the orders of the Assistant Commissioner of Salt Revenue.

63. Any person who may be dissatisfied with an order passed by the Inspector of a circle may appeal to the Assistant Commissioner of the Division, and any person dissatisfied with an order passed by an Assistant Commissioner may appeal to the Commissioner, whose decision shall be final.

64. The Commissioner of Salt Revenue may make subsidiary rules and prescribe all forms necessary for the administration of the Act and these Rules.

POST OFFICE.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Calcutta, the 7th January 1884.

Reply post-cards, both inland and foreign, will be available for sale to the public from the 1st February 1884.

2. A reply post-card consists of a double card folded in the centre, one portion to be used by the original sender, and the other marked "Reply," to be detached by the original addressee and used for reply. Each portion will bear impressed upon it an Indian postage stamp of the same value as the present single post-card. Thus the reply post-card for inland use will bear twe stamps of the value of ¼ anna each, and the reply post-card for foreign use will bear two stamps of the value of 1½ anna each. Such cards will be delivered free of charge at their first address, and the portion for reply, when detached and posted, will be entitled equally to free transmission to India.

3. Purchasers of reply post-cards are recommended to write the required address on both portions of the double card, as this will tend to prevent misuse of the reply portion.

4. The inland reply-card is intended of course for inland use alone; and the foreign reply card can be employed only for correspondence with the Union Countries named in the attached list.

5. The cost of each inland reply post-card will be ½ anna: the cost of each foreign reply post-card will be 3 annas.

POST OFFICE.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Calcutta, the 7th January 1884.

Reply post-cards, both inland and foreign, will be available for sale to the public from the 1st February 1884.

2. A reply post-card consists of a double card folded in the centre, one portion to be used by the original sender, and the other marked "Reply," to be detached by the original addressee and used for reply. Each portion will bear impressed upon it an Indian postage stamp of the same value as the present single post-card. Thus the reply post-card for inland use will bear two stamps of the value of ½ anna each, and the reply post-card for foreign use will bear two stamps of the value of 1½ anna each. Such cards will be delivered free of charge at their first address, and the portion for reply, when detached and posted, will be entitled equally to free transmission to India.

3. Purchasers of reply post-cards are recommended to write the required address on both portions of the double card, as this will tend to prevent misuse of the reply portion.

4. The inland reply-card is intended of course for inland use alone; and the foreign reply card can be employed only for correspondence with the Union Countries named in the attached list.

5. The cost of each inland reply post-card will be ½ anna: the cost of each foreign reply post-card will be 3 annas.

POST OFFICE.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Calcutta, the 7th January 1884.

Reply post-cards, both inland and foreign, will be available for sale to the public from the 1st February 1884.

2. A reply post-card consists of a double card folded in the centre, one portion to be used by the original sender, and the other marked "Reply," to be detached by the original addressee and used for reply. Each portion will bear impressed upon it an Indian postage stamp of the same value as the present single post-card. Thus the reply post-card for inland use will bear two stamps of the value of ¼ anna each, and the reply post-card for foreign use will bear two stamps of the value of 1½ anna each. Such cards will be delivered free of charge at their first address, and the portion for reply, when detached and posted, will be entitled equally to free transmission to India.

3. Purchasers of reply post-cards are recommended to write the required address on both portions of the double card, as this will tend to prevent misuse of the reply portion.

4. The inland reply-card is intended of course for inland use alone; and the foreign reply card can be employed only for correspondence with the Union Countries named in the attached list.

5. The cost of each inland reply post-card will be ½ anna: the cost of each foreign reply post-card will be 3 annas.

THE CHIEF COMMISSIONER OF COORG.

NOTIFICATION.

Bangalore, the 3rd June 1884.

No. 6.—The following rules for the sale of waste land in the District of Coorg having been approved* by the Governor General in Council, are hereby published for general information:—

* Vide letter No. 316R., dated the 10th May 1884, from the Secretary to the Government of India, Revenue and Agricultural Department.

Rules for the Sale of Waste Land in the District of Coorg.

Waste lands in which no rights of private proprietorship or exclusive occupancy exist, and which may not be reserved as hereinafter† provided, will, until further notice, be sold under the following rules:—

† Rule XXIV.

I.—Applications for land under these rules shall be addressed to the Commissioner of Coorg, and shall comprise the following particulars:—

(a) The estimated area of the lot applied for.

(b) The situation of the lot and its boundaries, as accurately as can be stated.

II.—No lot shall exceed 500 acres. Within the limits of the towns the maximum extent of a lot shall be ten acres. But any person may apply for several contiguous lots, each not exceeding the above limit.

III.—Every lot shall be compact, and shall include no more than one tract of land capable of being surrounded by a ring fence, and when the lot touches a public road, the length of the road frontage shall not exceed one-half of the depth of the lot.

IV.—Every application for land shall be accompanied by an eye-sketch of the land, which should clearly define the boundaries and give the names of the adjoining proprietors, if any. It should likewise show the position and estimated extent of any unculturable ground included in the land applied for. The position of streams and Government roads, with any belts of forest to be reserved on either side, should also be shown in the sketch.

V.—On receipt of application, the Commissioner will take such measures as are necessary to have the eye-sketch furnished by the applicant verified, and the general limits of the tract as pointed out by him roughly but clearly marked, and will also have a rough measurement made of the tract so marked out. This should be ordinarily done by the subedar of the taluk, or by the parpattigar of the Nad or Hobli, accompanied by the patel in the presence of the applicant or his agent, who shall put up any marks that are required for the rough demarcation.

The eye-sketch, when verified and, if necessary, amended, shall be signed by the applicant and the patel, and transmitted to the Commissioner with a statement of the rough measurement, and with a report as to the mode in which it was effected. With these papers the subedar or parpattigar will also submit a full report of all objections made to the grant by the ryots of surrounding holdings or others, and his opinion as to whether these objections are valid in respect to the whole tract or any part thereof, and as to whether any other reasons exist for not allowing the grant in whole or part.

VI.—On receipt of this report the Commissioner may, if he thinks right, reject the application, in whole or part, recording his reasons in writing. An appeal shall lie from such order of rejection to the Chief Commissioner, whose decision shall be final.

If, however, the Commissioner is of opinion that the application should be granted, in whole or part, or if his objection has been overruled by the Chief Commissioner, he shall forward the application, together with the verified eye-sketch and statement of rough measurement, to the Forest Officer, who shall arrange for an examination of the land in company with the subedar or any subordinate official deputed to point out the ground; the attendance of the applicant or his agent during such examination, though desirable, is not absolutely necessary, if the verification of the proposed limits has been duly carried out in the first instance.

VII.—The Forest Officer, after inspecting the land, shall return the eye-sketch and rough measurement papers, with a report containing his opinion. The report shall state whether the sketch and measurements are, in his opinion, sufficiently accurate and shall describe any corrections which he has found it necessary to make. It shall also give an account of the position of the land, of its surroundings, soil, water-supply, drainage, and the forest growing upon it. Should the Forest Officer recommend that the grant be refused, he will give his reasons in full. Should he recommend that it be granted, his report shall also contain—

(1) a determination and description of the width of the belts of jungle, if any, to be reserved and excluded from the grant on either side of any stream or public road, and of any other plots in the tract marked out, which the Forest Officer, for special reasons, proposes to exclude;

(2) a valuation of all the timber and sandalwood in the tract which the Forest Officer recommends to be granted. This valuation shall be made in accordance with such rules as may from time to time be made by the Chief Commissioner.

VIII.—If the Forest Officer recommends the grant should be refused and the Commissioner agrees, the Commissioner may refuse the grant. An appeal shall lie from such order to the Chief Commissioner. If the Commissioner disagrees and thinks the grant should be made, he may report the case for the orders of the Chief Commissioner. If the Forest Officer recommends the grant being made, or if the Chief Commissioner, on a reference by the Commissioner, orders it to be made, the Commissioner will first call upon the applicant to deposit R2 per acre on the estimated area for expenses of survey, &c., and a sum not exceeding one-tenth of the Forest Officer's valuation of timber as earnest-money.

IX.—If the applicant fails to deposit the sum required under rule VIII within six weeks from the date of demand, his application shall be rejected.

X.—On receipt of the deposit money, the Commissioner will arrange for the survey of the land.

XI.—On the completion of the survey, the applicant and pátel will be called on to sign certificates regarding the survey and demarcation in the forms D and E appended.

XII.—Within six months from the date on which the purchaser is placed in possession of the land, all marketable sandalwood trees shall, so far as conveniently may be, be cut and removed by the Forest Officer, and their value shall be deducted from the amount of purchase-money to be paid by the purchaser.

XIII.—On receipt of the bill for timber and sandalwood, the Commissioner will advertise the lot for sale on a given day to be fixed, so as to admit of the notice required in the following rule being given.

XIV.—The advertisement shall be in English and in Kanarese, and shall specify the locality, extent, and boundaries of the lot, the upset price, the value of timber and sandalwood, the annual assessment, and the place, time, and conditions of sale. It shall be posted for three months at least on the land itself, as well as in the neighbouring villages, in the offices of the Commissioner and the subedar of the taluk, and the nearest police office. The Commissioner shall, at his discretion, fix the time and place of sale, and may alter both if necessary, provided that not less than 14 days' notice be publicly given of every such alteration, and that no land be sold until it has been advertised as aforesaid for three full months at least.

XV.—The Commissioner shall send written notice of the place and time of sale, as also of any alteration under the provisions of rule XIV, to the applicant; but no sale shall be disturbed in consequence of the non-receipt of such notice, or delayed in consequence of the non-appearance of the applicant.

XVI.—An applicant withdrawing his application prior to the sale of the lot will not be entitled to a refund of the money deposited by him; but if any claim preferred under the provisions of rule XIX be established, and the sale of the land or any portion of the land applied for be in consequence stopped, the Commissioner may refund the amount deposited by the applicant, or such portion thereof as, under the special circumstances of the case, he may consider right.

XVII.—On the withdrawal of an application, it shall be discretional with the Commissioner to proceed with the sale of the lot or not, as he considers best for the public interests.

XVIII.—The upset price shall be in all cases two rupees three annas an acre, with, in addition thereto, the price of timber and sandalwood standing on the lot at the time of sale, as estimated under rule VII, and such fee for engrossing the title-deeds as the Local Government may from time to time prescribe. If the original applicant be the purchaser, he shall receive credit for his deposit in payment; otherwise the amount of deposit shall be repaid to him from the sale-proceeds.

XIX.—If, before the time of sale, a claim of private proprietorship or of exclusive occupancy, or of any other right incompatible with the sale of the land under these rules, shall be preferred by suit in the Civil Court to the lot, or any part of it, the Commissioner shall postpone the sale of the lot until such claim shall be disposed of in due course of law.

XX.—When the lot as advertised shall be put up to auction, it shall be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price, subject to an annual assessment, after four years from the date of sale, of one rupee an acre, and after twelve years of two rupees an acre, on the whole area: provided that such annual assessment shall not be levied on barren and uncultivable land, which shall, after the said period of four years, be assessed under the provisions of rule VI for the assessment of coffee lands in Coorg, which is as follows:—

"Barren and uncultivable land included in a coffee holding may be retained by the tenant exempt from assessment if the extent is not more than one-fourth of the whole area of the estate. If in excess of this proportion, the excess will, if retained by the tenant, be subject to a fixed assessment of one rupee an acre. Exemption or reduced assessment, as above described, will be claimable only on the proprietor producing a certificate of the extent of the barren land on his estate furnished by a surveyor approved by the Superintendent."

XXI.—The successful bidder shall, immediately on the sale being declared, pay down 10 per cent. of the price of the land and of the value of the timber and sandalwood, and sign an acknowledgment in the form A hereto annexed. The residue of the purchase-money shall be paid in full within thirty days. Provided that, whenever the value of the timber and sandalwood exceeds ₹10 per acre, the Commissioner may, at his discretion, allow payment for such timber and sandalwood to be made within two years by two annual instalments.

XXII.—The sale shall be conducted under, and subject to, the following conditions of sale:—

(1) The highest bidder above the upset price shall be the purchaser of the lot; and if any dispute arise between two or more bidders at the same price, the lot shall be immediately put up again at the last preceding undisputed bidding and be resold.

(2) If the purchaser shall pay to the Commissioner the residue of his purchase-money, he shall thereupon be placed in possession of the lot.

(3) All persons desirous of becoming purchasers are to satisfy themselves as to the identity, as well as to the correct description, surveyed or estimated area, and boundaries of the lot previous to the sale; and after the sale is closed, no objections by the purchaser, ensuing out of any informality or error in the description or other particulars of the lot, shall be admissible.

(4) If the purchase-money or the residue thereof remains unpaid on the date fixed by or under rule XXI for the payment of the same, interest shall be payable at the rate of ₹12 per cent. per annum, to be computed on such purchase-money or residue from that date until final payment, unless the sale is rescinded in manner provided in the following condition.

(5) If the purchaser does not pay the purchase-money or the residue thereto before the expiration of three months from the date fixed by or under rule XXI for the payment of the same, or fails to comply with the above conditions, or any of them, his deposit money shall be forfeited and retained by Government, and the Commissioner of Coorg shall be at liberty to resume the lot, or to re-sell it either by public auction or private contract, without the necessity of previously tendering a conveyance to the purchaser; and the deficiency, if any, arising from such re-sale, together with all expenses attending it, shall be chargeable to the defaulting purchaser as liquidated damages.

Provided that in any case the Chief Commissioner shall have the power to remit, for good cause shown, all or any of the penalties imposed by this rule.

XXIII.—If in any case the applicant, after paying the deposit as required by rule VIII, desires to have the land put up for sale in anticipation of the survey, in accordance with the conditions hereinafter described, the Commissioner may, if no special objection is apparent, accede to the request and proceed to advertise the land for sale on a given day to be fixed so as to admit of the notice required in rule XV being given. In such case the advertisement required by rule XV will give the estimated extent and assessment, and shall declare that the assessment will be finally fixed after the survey is completed. When a sale is ordered to be made in anticipation of survey under this rule, the procedure will in all other respects be the same as if the survey had already been completed.

The Commissioner will arrange for the survey being made after the sale is effected, or before that time if this can be conveniently arranged. On the completion of the survey, the estimate of assessment will be revised and fixed in accordance with the system of assessment described in rule XX. No increase or abatement of the auction price of land and of the valuation of trees will be made because the area by survey is found to differ from the estimated area. No deed of grant will be given to the purchaser till after the survey has been completed; nor will the purchaser be allowed to redeem the annual assessment till it has been fixed after survey.

XXIV.—Land demarcated as Government forest or reserved forest under the Coorg Government Forest Rules or such other rules as may from time to time be in force, reserves of grazing land, of land for the growth of firewood, for building sites, and of land required for other special purposes, are not to be sold under these rules, without the express sanction of the Government.

XXV.—A grant as provided in rule XXVII shall be made to the purchaser, provided he shall have paid his purchase-money in full within the prescribed time.

XXVI.—The annual assessment on lands sold under these rules may at any time be redeemed by the owner, by payment of a sum equal to 25 times the annual assessment of two rupees an acre on the whole area, and the land so redeemed shall thereafter be for ever free from all demand on the part of the State on account of land revenue. On payment of the redemption money, the owner of the land shall be furnished with a deed as provided in rule XXVII.

XXVII.—Subject to the condition expressed in rule XXV, the grant shall be made to the purchaser—

(a) if he does not redeem the annual assessment at the time of purchase in form B (1) annexed to these rules;

(b) if he redeems the annual assessment under rule XXVI at the time of purchase in form B (2) so annexed;

(c) if the owner of the land redeems the annual assessment under rule XXVI at any time subsequent to receiving a grant in form B (1), he shall be entitled to a deed in form C annexed to these rules.

XXVIII.—Arrears of annual assessment shall be recoverable under the provisions of Regulation III of 1880.

XXIX.—Lands sold or redeemed under these rules shall continue subject to all general taxes and local rates payable by law or custom.
