WITHDRAWAL OF GILCHRIST INDIAN SCHOLARSHIP IN 1888.

INDIA OFFICE;
London, 15th July, 1886.

Public (Educational).
No. 66.

To His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor General of India in Council.

MY LORD,—I forward herewith copy of a letter* from the Secretary to the Trustees of the Gilchrist Educational Trust, intimating a decision of the Trustees to withdraw, after the award which may be made as the result of the examination to be held in January 1888, the scholarship now offered annually to youths in India and Ceylon jointly. The Trustees, you will observe, request that their decision may be published in India.

Gilchrist Indian Scholarship: withdrawal of in 1888.

* 19th June 1886.

2. The reasons which have led the Trustees to arrive at this decision are indicated in Mr. Papps' letter; and upon this point I would refer Your Lordship in Council to the remarks contained in my letter to Lord Hobhouse, which I communicated to you in my Despatch of the 15th of May last, No. 35, with regard to the application of the surplus funds of "The Lord Lawrence Memorial" to the establishment of scholarships to be held by natives of India.

3. The Trustees, it will be seen, suggest, as alternatives for the existing yearly scholarship, certain steps which might be taken for promoting, at their expense, the higher education of Native youths in India; and I request that Your Excellency in Council will obtain the views of the heads of the higher educational institutions of India and of others interested regarding the points raised by the Trustees, and communicate to me the result.

I have the honour to be,

MY LORD,

Your Lordship's most obedient, humble Servant,

KIMBERLEY.

4, The Sanctuary, Westminster Abbey, S. W., 19th June, 1886.

From—H. A. PAPPS, Esq., Secretary to the Trustees of the Gilchrist Educational Trust,

To—Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

I HAVE the honour to inform Your Lordship that at a recent meeting of the Gilchrist Trustees it was decided, in consequence of the continued small competition in India for the scholarship offered annually by the Trust to youths in India, and latterly to those also in Ceylon, to withdraw the same after the award which may be made on the result of the examination which will be held in January 1888; and I have to request that Your Lordship will cause this information to be conveyed, so far as concerns India, to the authorities there, in order to its publication.

I may inform Your Lordship that in the year 1868 two scholarships of £100 per annum each were instituted for India by the Gilchrist Trustees. In 1882 one scholarship of £150 per annum, to take effect after 1883, was substituted in the hope of its proving more attractive; and in 1883, in consequence of only one candidate appearing for the two still existing scholarships, the second was given to a native of Ceylon, and that Island was thenceforth included in the Indian scholarship.

I have further to inform Your Lordship that it is not the desire of the Gilchrist Trustees to sever their connection with the educational advancement of India; but they wish, if possible, to find some mode of expending such portion of the Trust income as they may consider expedient for advancing on a more comprehensive scale the higher education of the Native youths of India.

I have therefore to beg the favour of Your Lordship's causing it to be communicated to the authorities in India that the Trustees desire to invite the advice and co-operation of the heads of all higher educational institutions and of others who may be interested in the subject in India. They wish to obtain opinions as to whether a scholarship, tenable in England, can be made (if, say, of larger value and offered perhaps every third year) an object of real emulation to the youths of India; or whether, having regard to the alleged difficulty arising from the Latin tongue (which forms an essential part of the Matriculation Examination of the University of London) not being generally taught in India, and to the objection arising from loss of caste to most natives of India from crossing the sea, and other considerations, it might not be better to substitute a scholarship or scholarships to be held at some place or places of higher education in India, and thenceforth to abandon the idea of bringing youths to England.

And the Trustees would further invite, from those who may favour the institution of scholarships to be held in India, suggestions as to the number, amount, and length of tenure of such scholarships, and at what institutions in India to be held, so as to attract the largest possible competition and to produce the most comprehensive and beneficial results in an educational point of view; also to point out the most suitable limits of age, the character of the competitive examination upon which the award of such scholarships should be made, on what conditions such scholarships should be held, and in what manner they could be kept under the supervision and control of the Gilchrist Trustees.

A. P. MACDONNELL,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of India.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

REPORTS ON THE STATE OF THE SEASON AND PROSPECTS OF THE CROPS FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8th SEPTEMBER, 1886.

GENERAL REMARKS.—More or less rain has fallen throughout the country during the week under notice, with the exception of Sind and parts of the Punjab. In parts of Bengal, Assam, and the Bombay Presidency the falls have been heavy.

In Madras, Mysore, and Coorg the season continues favourable, and agricultural prospects are good.

In Bombay, Berar, Hyderabad, Rajputana, and Central India the kharif crops are doing well.

In the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, where a break in the rains is wanted, prospects continue good. The kharif harvest has begun in places, and rabi operations are commencing. The prospects of the coming harvest in the Punjab are on the whole good, though more rain is still wanted in some places. In the Central Provinces the recent rain has improved the crops on the low lands, but those on the high lands in Chhattisgarh and Seoni have suffered much from insufficient rain and in places have been altogether destroyed.

In Bengal the general prospects of the crops continue favourable, though in Behar and in East Bengal much damage has been caused by floods. Aus rice, jute, and other early crops are still being harvested. The cultivation of the sali crops continues in Assam, but prospects are bad n Sylhet and prices high in Cachar.

The public health is generally good in all Provinces.

Prices are rising in the Hissar, Shahpur, and Dera Ismail Khan districts of the Punjab and n the Sambalpur district of the Central Provinces, and falling in the Mysore district. Elsewhere they remain generally steady.

Presidency or Province and District.	Rainfall for week under report.	State of agricultural prospects.
Madras—(Sept. 8th)
Bellary	Average ·61	Standing crops generally fair; harvest second crop paddy, yield average. Fever in parts of one and cattle-disease in parts of three taluks.
Kurnool	Average ·72	Standing crops fair. Small-pox and cattle-disease in two taluks.
Ganjam	Average last week since revised, 1·44; this week, 1·91.	Slight small-pox and fever in two taluks; slight cattle-disease in three divisions; some cholera.
Kistna	Average 1·61	Standing crops generally fair, but in Deltaic taluks have suffered from late rain. River 6 35 feet water over anicut. Slight fever; cattle-disease in one taluk.
Chingleput (Madras)	Average ·34	Standing crops fair; harvest dry crops, outturn below average. Fever and small-pox in two and cattle-disease in five taluks.

ADELAIDE JUBILEE INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION OF 1887.

Circular No. $\frac{50Ex.}{103—4}$

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India, Revenue and Agricultural Department (Museums and Exhibitions), under date Simla, the 6th September, 1886.

Read—

The following Despatch with enclosures received from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, regarding the proposed Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition of 1887:—

INDIA OFFICE;
London, 22nd July, 1886.

Statistics and Commerce.
No. 81.

To His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor General of India in Council.

MY LORD,—I forward herewith a copy of a letter, dated 19th May last, from the Under-Secretary of State for the Colonies, with its enclosures, respecting the proposed Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition of 1887, for such action in the matter as you may think advisable.

I have the honour to be,
MY LORD,
Your Lordship's most obedient, humble Servant,
KIMBERLEY.

Dated Colonial Office, Downing Street, 19th May 1886.

From—JOHN BRAMSTON, Esq.,

To—The Under-Secretary of State for India.

I am directed by Earl Granville to transmit to you, to be laid before the Earl of Kimberley, a copy of a despatch from the Governor of South Australia, with its enclosures, respecting the Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition, 1887.

No. 33, 5th April.

I am to request that you will move Lord Kimberley to take the necessary steps to invite the representation of the Indian Government at this Exhibition.

I am also to enclose a copy of a previous despatch from Sir W. Robinson, with its enclosures, which explain the nature and objects of the Exhibition, and to state that the Prince of Wales was pleased to consent to the request there made, that His Royal Highness would accord his patronage to the Exhibition, and permit his sons, their Royal Highnesses Princes Edward and George of Wales, to be associated with himself as patrons of the Exhibition.

No. 92, 28th December.

No. 33, dated Government House, Adelaide, South Australia, 5th April 1886.

From—HIS EXCELLENCY SIR WM. C. F. ROBINSON, K.C.M.G., Governor of South Australia,

To—The Right Honourable the EARL GRANVILLE, K.G., &c. &c. &c.

I have the honour to forward printed copies of a letter addressed to the Chief Secretary by the Secretary to the Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition, requesting that communications may be opened up with the Governments of foreign countries including India, China and Japan, and requesting that an invitation may be given to such Governments to participate in the Exhibition.

2. At the instance of my ministers, I beg leave to request that Your Lordship will be so good as to cause the necessary steps to be taken in this matter.

3. One hundred copies of the enclosures to this despatch are herewith forwarded for circulation.

No. 92, dated Government House, Adelaide, South Australia, 28th December 1885.

From—HIS EXCELLENCY SIR WM. C. F. ROBINSON, K.C.M.G., Governor of South Australia,

To—The Right Honourable COLONEL STANLEY, M.P., &c. &c. &c., Colonial Office.

I have the honour to forward a copy of an Act passed during the last Session of Parliament, entitled "An Act to set apart certain lands for a Jubilee Exhibition and for other purposes."

2. I also forward a memorandum relating to the proposed Exhibition, an extract from the "South Australian Register" of the 2nd of December, a copy of the speech delivered by Mr. E. T. Smith, M.P., on bringing the question before Parliament, a plan of the site of the proposed Exhibition, and a letter addressed to me by the Secretary covering the documents which I now enclose.

3. Although the scheme for the proposed Exhibition has been set on foot by private individuals, I may observe that Parliament has provided the land, and contributed £32,000 towards the cost of the necessary buildings, which are to remain the property of the Colony. The undertaking has, therefore, become to this extent a public one, and there is certainly every disposition on the part of the Colony to make it a thorough success. My object in now addressing you is to request, at the instance of the Promoters, that His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales will be graciously pleased to accord his patronage to the Exhibition, and, if His Royal Highness sees no objection, to permit his sons, their Royal Highnesses Princes Edward and George of Wales, to be associated with His Royal Highness as Patrons of the Exhibition. It is further requested in the letter from the Secretary, which I enclose, that a reply may be sent by telegram as the Promoters desire to issue the prospectus as soon as possible.

4. I have conferred with Ministers on this subject, and I may say that it will afford the Government, and the Colony generally, much gratification should His Royal Highness be graciously pleased to extend his patronage to the Exhibition.

Dated Adelaide, 4th December 1885.

From—JNO. FAIRFAX CONIGRAVE, Esq., Secretary pro tem., South Australia Jubilee Exhibition,

To—HIS EXCELLENCY SIR WM. C. F. ROBINSON, K.C.M.G., Governor of South Australia.

I have the honour, by direction, to inform you that at the first meeting of the Promoters of the Exhibition to be held in Adelaide in 1887 to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the foundation of South Australia, the following Resolution was unanimously passed, viz.:

That the Chairman, E. T. Smith, Esq., M.P., be requested to wait upon His Excellency the Governor to ask His Excellency to be good enough to communicate with the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Colonies, asking that His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales will be graciously pleased to accord to the Exhibition His Royal patronage, and at the same time, if His Royal Highness sees no objection, to permit his sons, Their Royal Highnesses Princes Edward and George of Wales, to be associated with His Royal Highness as Patrons of the Exhibition.

In forwarding copy of this resolution, by direction of Mr. Smith, who has seen Your Excellency upon the subject, I have to say that it will be esteemed a great favour by the Promoters if the communication to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales can be sent by the outgoing mail, and if also a request can be made that the tenor of the Prince's reply may be sent by telegram, as the Promoters desire to issue the prospectus of the Exhibition early in the year, and would very much like to have His Royal Highness's answer before going so.

With a view to place His Royal Highness in full possession of the facts connected with the Exhibition, I have pleasure in handing to Your Excellency, for transmission to England, the following documents :

Two copies of "memorandum."

Two copies of plan of site.

Two copies of speech of E. T. Smith, Esq., M.P., in House of Assembly, upon the proposed Exhibition.

Two copies of extract from South Australian Register of 2nd December 1885, being report of the first meeting of Promoters of the Exhibition.

Two copies of Bill which has passed both Houses of Parliament.

PROCLAMATION.

Adelaide, March 1st, 1886.

As South Australia will attain its fiftieth year as a colony December 28th 1886, a desire has naturally arisen among the colonists to mark that event by some suitable public demonstration; and no way of gratifying this desire seems so appropriate or will be so beneficial as that of holding an International Exhibition.

Parliament has dedicated land for the purposes of the Exhibition, and sanctioned the expenditure of money in erecting the main building and laying out the grounds. The Exhibition will be conducted by the Promoters, whose names are appended, and such other gentlemen as they may appoint to assist in the management.

The age of the colony being co-eval with the reign of Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria, the day for the opening of the Jubilee Exhibition has been fixed for the 20th June 1887 (the completion of the fiftieth year of Her Majesty's reign).

Steps have already been taken for the construction of buildings of an appropriate character, with a minimum risk of fire; and these will be erected on the Adelaide Park Lands, a site which for beauty and convenience can scarcely be surpassed.

A direct line of railway, seven miles in length, delivering goods on the ground, will connect the Exhibition Buildings with the wharves at Port Adelaide, alongside which vessels drawing 22 feet of water may quietly lie and discharge cargo into the railway trucks.

To ensure success requires the free and full support of other countries; and it is hoped that Foreign Nations and British Colonies will co-operate with our Mother Country, and accept our invitations and be represented at this Jubilee Exhibition, where their productions, manufactures, and machinery may appear in juxtaposition with Australasian products and manufactures, and prove of mutual benefit.

Arrangements are in progress for the appointment of a Representative Commission in London.

The year 1887 will be memorable throughout the British Empire, and will be of special local interest to these Australasian Colonies, from the fact that that year will witness the union of the Capitals of South Australia, Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland by a continuous line of railway, 1,760 miles in length, viz.:

	Miles.
From Adelaide to Melbourne	508
„ Melbourne to Sydney	574
„ Sydney to Brisbane	678
Total ...	1,760

The Import and Export trade of the Australasian Colonies in 1884 amounted to a total of £116,249,116, the population being 3,074,503.

The Government will secure free Customs regulations for exhibits, and the due protection of the interests of all exhibitors.

Diagrams of buildings and grounds, and all other necessary information, will be published and distributed to the various countries and colonies.

The following documents are appended;

1. A list of the Promoters of the Exhibition.
2. A list of officers and members of the Executive and Divisional Committees.
3. The Synopsis and general Classification of Exhibits.

Specimens illustrating the processes of mixing, burning, and preparing. Samples of the results of the preparation.

„ 109. Clays, Kaolin, Silex, Fire Clay, and other materials for the manufacture of porcelain, faience, glass, bricks, terra-cotta, tiles and fire-brick. Refractory Stones for lining furnaces; sandstone, steatite, &c., and refractory furnace materials; also samples showing the relative effects of heat on different kinds of fire-resisting materials and fire-bricks.

„ 110. Graphite, crude and refined, for polishing purposes, for fubricating, electrotyping photography, pencils, crucibles, &c.

„ 111. Lithographic Stones, Hones, Whetstones, Grindstones, Grinding and Polishing materials, Sand, Quartz, Garnet, Topaz, Diamond, Corundum, Emery in the rock and pulverised, and in assorted sizes and grades.

„ 112. Mineral Waters, Artesian Well Water, Natural Brines, Saline and Alkaline Efflorescences and Solutions.

Mineral Fertilising Substances—Gypsum, Phosphate of Lime, Marls, Shells, Coprolites, &c., not manufactured.

SECTION B.—Metallurgical Products.

Class 113. Precious Metals.

„ 114. Iron and Steel in the pig, ingot, bar, plates, and sheets, with specimens of slags, fluxes, residues, and products of working.

„ 115. Copper—In cakes, tiles, ingots, bars, hammered and rolled, with specimens illustrating their various stages of manufacture.

„ 116. Tin, Nickel, Lead, Zinc, Antimony, Bismuth, and other Metals, the result of extractive purposes.

„ 117. Alloys and combined metals used as materials—Nickel-silver, Brass, Bronze, Gun-metal, Bell-metal, Solder, &c.

SECTION C.—Mine-Engineering, Models, Maps, and Sections.

Class 118. Surface and underground surveying and plotting, projection of underground work, location of shafts, tunnels, &c., surveys for aqueducts and for drainage. Boring and drilling rocks, shaft, and tunnels, &c.

Construction, sinking, and lining shafts by various methods, driving and timbering tunnels, and the general operations of opening, stopping, and breaking down ore, timbering, lagging, and masonry.

Hoisting and delivering at the surface rock, ore, or miners.

Pumping and draining by engines, buckets, or by adits.

Ventilating and lighting.

Subaqueous-mining, blasting, &c.

Hydraulic-mining, and the various processes and methods of sluicing and washing auriferous gravel, and other superficial deposits.

Quarrying.

„ 119. Model of mines of veins, &c.

„ 120. Geological Maps, sections, and plans of goldfields, and other mineral localities.

DEPARTMENT II.—MANUFACTURES.

SECTION A.—Chemical Manufactures.

Class 200. Chemicals—pharmaceutical preparations. Mineral Acids, and the methods of manufacture. Sulphuric, Nitric and Hydrochloric Acids.

The common commercial Alkalies—Potash, Soda, and Ammonia, with their carbonates.

Salt and its production. Salt from deposits—native salt, salt by solar evaporation from sea water. Salt by evaporation from water of saline springs or wells. Rock Salt; Ground and Table Salt.

Bleaching Powders and Chloride of Lime. Disinfectants.

Yeast Powders, Baking Powders, and Self-raising Flour.

„ 201. Oils from mineral, animal, and vegetable sources. Refined Petroleum, Benzine, Naphtha, and other products of the manufacture.

Oils from various seeds, refined, and of various degrees of purity—Olive Oil, Cotton-seed Oil, Palm Oil, &c. Animal Oils, of various kinds, in their refined state.

Oils prepared for special purposes besides lighting and for food. Lubricating Oils.

Soap and detergent preparations—Candles, Stearine, Glycerine, Paraffine, &c., Spermaceti.

Illuminating and other Gases and their manufacture, Oxygen Gas and its application for heating, lighting, metallurgy, and as a remedial agent.

„ 202. Chlorine and Carbonic Acid.

„ 203. Paints, Pigments, Dyes, Colors, Turpentine, Varnishes, Blacking.

„ 204. Flavoring Extracts, Essences, Perfumery, Pomades, Cosmetics.

„ 205. Pyrotechnics, for display, signalling, missiles.

SECTION B.—Ceramics, Pottery, Porcelain, &c.

Class 206. Bricks, Drain Tiles, Terra-cotta, Architectural Pottery, and Modelling.

„ 207. Fireclay Goods—Crucibles, Pots, Furnaces, Chemical Stoneware.

„ 208. Tiles—Plain, Enamelled, Encaustic; Geometric Tiles and Mosaics; Tiles for pavements and for roofing, &c.

„ 209. Porcelain for purposes of construction, Hardware, Trimmings, &c.

„ 211. Majolica, Wedgewood, and Palissy Ware.

„ 212. Biscuit-ware, Parian, &c.

„ 213. Porcelain, China, and Earthenware for table and toilet use and for decoration.

SECTION C.—Glass and Glassware.

Class 214. Glass used in construction and for mirrors. Window Glass, of various grades of quality and size. Plate Glass, rough and ground or polished. Toughened Glass.

„ 215. Chemical and Pharmaceutical Glassware, vials, bottles, &c.

„ 216. Decorative Glassware.

SECTION B.—Furniture and Objects of General Use in Constructions and in Dwellings.

Class 217. Heavy Furniture—Chairs, Tables, &c. Suites for Drawing, Dining, and other Rooms, Chamber Suites, Bedsteads, Offices and Library Furniture, Vestibule Furniture, Church Furniture and Decoration.

" 228. Manufactured Parts of Buildings—Sash, Blinds, Mantels, Metalwork, &c.

SECTION E.—Yarns and Woven Goods of Vegetable or Mineral Materials.

Class 229. Woven Fabrics of Mineral Origin—Warecloth, Sievecloth, Wire Screens, Bolting Cloth.

Asbestos Fibre, spun and woven, with the clothing manufactured from it.

Glass-thread, Floss and Fabrics.

" 230. Coarse Fibres of grass, Rattan, Cocoanut, and Bark.

Mats and Matting—Cocoanut Fibre, Twine, Chinese, Japanese, Palm leaf, Grass Rushes, Rattan, Aloe, Fibre, &c.

" 231. Cotton Yarns, Threads, Knittings, bleached and unbleached.

Sheetings, Shirtings, Canvas, Duck, Tents, &c.

Cotton Fabrics, Quilts, Counterpanes, Towels, &c.

Cottonettes, Curtains; Laces, except silk.

" 232. Dyed Cotton Fabrics, exclusive of Prints.

" 233. Printed Cottons, Muslins, Handkerchiefs, Scarfs, &c.

" 234. Linen, and other Vegetable Fibres.

" 235. Linen Yarns and Threads.

" 236. Linen Fabrics, bleached, unbleached, and dyed.

" 237. Manufactures from Jute—Yarns, Bagging, Carpeting, Rugs, &c.

" 238. Floorcloths, Oilcloths, Linoleum and other Painted or Enamelled Fabrics, also, Imitations of Leather, with a woven base.

SECTION F.—Yarns and Woven and Felted Goods of Wool and Mixture of Wool.

Class 239. Yarns, Worsteds, &c.

" 240. Wool Fabrics—Broadcloths, Coatings, Doeskins, Woollen, Worsted, and Union, Tweeds and other trouserings, &c.

" 241. Flannels, plain and fancy; Serges, &c.

" 242. Blankets, Rugs, Shawls, &c.

" 243. Wool Fabrics for Women's wear—Merinos, Cashmeres, Serges, Plaids, &c.

" 244. Dress Goods of Wool and Cotton Mixtures.

" 245. Carpets—Wilton, Brussels, Velvet, Tapestry, Kidderminster, Venetian, Indian, Turkish; Druggets, Hearthrugs, Mats, &c.

" 246. Felted Goods, Carpetings, &c.

" 247. Alpacca, Goat, Camel, and other Hair Fabrics, mixed or unmixed with wool.

" 248. Printed and Embossed Woollen Cloths, Table-covers, Furniture Coverings, &c.

SECTION G.—Silk and Silk Fabrics, and Mixtures in which Silk is the predominating Material.

Class 249. Cocoons and Raw Silk as reeled from the cocoon.

" 250. Thrown or Twisted Silks in the gum, boiled off or dyed, in hanks, skeins, or on reels.

" 251. Spun Silk Yarns and Fabrics.

" 252. Plain Woven Silks, Gros-Grains, Sarsnets, Satins, Foulards, Fabrics for Hat and Millinery purposes, &c.

" 253. Figured and Fancy Silk Piece Goods, Woven or Printed Upholstery, Silks, &c.

" 254. Crapes, Velvets, Plushes, Gauzes, Handkerchiefs, Knitted Goods, Laces, Scarfs, Ties, Veils, all description of cut and made-up Silks, including China and India Silk Goods.

" 255. Ribbons, plain, fancy, velvet, &c.

" 256. Bindings, Buttons, Braids, Cords, Galloons, Ladies' Dress Trimmings; Upholsterers', Tailors', Military and Miscellaneous Trimmings.

" 257. Silk and Mixed Silk Furniture Coverings.

" 258. Mixed Silk Dress materials.

SECTION H.—Clothing, Jewellery, Ornaments, and Travelling Equipments.

Class 259. Ready-made Clothing, Knitted Goods and Hosiery, Military Clothing, Church Vestments, Waterproof Clothing, and clothing for special objects.

" 260. Ladies' Mantles, Costumes, Corsets, Underclothing, &c.

" 261. Hats, Caps, Gloves, Millinery, Straw Goods, &c.

" 262. Boots, Shoes, &c.

" 263. Jewellery and ornaments worn upon articles of dress.

" 264. Artificial Flowers, Coiffures, Buttons, small wares, Fans, Umbrellas, Sunshades, Walking-canes, Pipes, Toys, and Fancy Articles.

" 265. Fancy Leatherwork, Pocket Books, Toilet Cases, Travelling Equipments, Cork Mattresses, Waterproof Rugs and Sheeting, Valises, Trunks, &c.

" 266. Furs and Skins (natural or dyed).

" 267. Historical Collection of Costumes, National Costumes.

SECTION I.—Paper, Blank Books, and Stationery.

Class 268. Stationery for the desk, Stationers' Articles, Pens, Pencils, Inkstands, and other Apparatus for Writing and Drawing.

" 269. Writing Paper and Envelopes, Blank Book Paper, Bond Paper, Tracing Paper, Tracing Linen, Tissue Paper, &c., &c.

" 270. Printing Paper for Books, Newspapers, &c., Wrapping Paper of all grades, Cartridge and Manila Paper, Paper Bags, &c.

" 271. Blank Books—Sets of Account Books, Specimens of Ruling and Binding, including Blanks, Billheads, &c., Book Binding.

" 272. Printing and Writing Inks (various).

" 273. Cards—Playing Cards, Cardboard Binders, Board, Pasteboard, Paper or Cardboard Boxes.

" 274. Building Paper, Pasteboard for Walls (fireproof or otherwise), Domestic Articles, Mouldings, Pipes, &c., made of Paper Pulp, Cane Fibre, Felt for Car Wheels, Ornaments, &c.

" 275. Wall Papers, Enamelled and Coloured Papers, Imitations of Leather, Wood, &c.

SECTION J.—Military and Naval Armaments, Ordnance, Firearms, and Hunting Apparatus.

Class 276. Military Small-Arms, Muskets, Pistols, and Magazine Guns, with their ammunition.

" 277. Light Artillery, Compound Guns, Machine Guns, Mitrailleuses, &c.

" 278. Heavy Ordnance and its accessories.

" 279. Knives, Swords, Spears, and Dirks.

" 280. Firearms used for Sporting and Hunting; also other implements for the like purposes.

Class 281. Traps for Game, Birds, Vermin, &c.

„ 282. Aboriginal Weapons.

SECTION K.—Medicine, Surgery, Prothesis.

Class 283. Medicines—Officinal (in any authoritative Pharmacopœia) articles of the Materia Medica, Preparations Un-officinal.

„ 284. Dietetic Preparation, as Beef Extract and other articles intended specially for the sick.

„ 285. Phamaceutical Apparatus.

„ 286. Instruments for Physical Diagnosis, Clinical Thermometers, Stethoscopes, Ophthalmoscopes, &c. (except Clinical Microscopes, for which see Class 312).

„ 287. Surgical Instruments and appliances, with Dressings, Apparatus for Deformities, Prothisis, Obstetrical Instruments.

„ 288. Dental Instruments and Appliances.

„ 289. Vehicles and Appliances for the Transportation of the Sick and Wounded during Peace and War, on shore or at sea.

SECTION L.—Hardware, Edge Tools, Cutlery, and Metallic Products.

Class 290. Hand Tools and Instruments of every description used by artificers.

„ 291. Cutlery—Knives, Penknives, Scissors, Razors, Razor Strops, and Implements sold by Cutlers.

„ 292. Emery and Sandpaper and Cloth, Polishing Powders, Polishing and Burnishing Stones.

„ 293. Metal Hollow-ware, Ornamental Castings.

„ 295. Galvanized Iron Work.

„ 296. Wirework.

SECTION M.—Fabrics of Vegetable, Animal, or Mineral Materials.

Class 297. India-rubber Goods and Manufactures.

„ 298. Brushes.

„ 299. Ropes, Cordage.

„ 300. Flags, Insignia, Emblems.

„ 301. Wooden and Basket Ware, Papiermaché.

„ 302. Undertakers' Furnishing Goods, &c.

SECTION N.—Carriages, Vehicles, and Accessories. (For Farm Articles see Departments of Agriculture, Section K, and for Machinery and Railway Carriages, Section H.)

Class 303. Pleasure Carriages.

„ 304. Travelling Carriages, Coaches, Stages, Omnibuses, Hearses, Bath and other Invalid Chairs, Bicycles, Tricycles, Perambulators, &c.

„ 305. Vehicles for Movement of Goods and heavy articles, Vans, Carts, Wagons, Trollies, Spring Drays, Trucks, &c.

„ 306. Carriage and Horse Furniture, Harness and Saddlery. Whips, Spurs, Horse Blankets, Carriage Rugs, Robes, &c.

DEPARTMENT III.—EDUCATION AND SCIENCE.

SECTION A.—Educational Systems, Methods and Libraries.

Class 350. Elementary Instruction—Infant Schools and Kindergarten—arrangements, furniture, appliances, and modes of training.

Class 351. Elementary Schools.—Buildings and Grounds, Equipments, Courses of Study, Methods of Instruction, Textbooks, apparatus, including Maps, Charts, Globes, &c.; Pupils' Works, including Drawing and Penmanship; provisions for Physical Training.

„ 352. Higher Education—Grammar and High Schools, Colleges and Universities.

Buildings and Grounds, Libraries, Museums of Zoology, Botany, Mineralogy, Art and Archæology; apparatus for illustration and research; Mathematical, Physical, Chemical, and Astronomical courses of study; Textbooks, Catalogues, Libraries, and Gymnasiums.

„ 353. Professional and Technical Schools.—Buildings, Textbooks, Libraries, Apparatus. Modes, Methods, and other accessories.

„ 354. Institutions for Instruction of the Blind, Deaf, and Dumb, and the Feeble-minded.

„ 355. Education Reports and Statistics.

„ 356. Libraries, History, Reports, Statistics, and Catalogues.

„ 357. School and Textbooks, Dictionaries, Encyclopædias, Gazetteers, Directories, Index Volumes, Bibliographies, Catalogues, Almanacs, Special Treatises, General and Miscellaneous Literature, Newspapers and Journals, Illustrated Papers, Periodical Literature.

SECTION B.—Scientific and Philosophical Instruments and Methods.

Class 358. Instruments of Precision and Apparatus of Physical Research, Experiment, and Illustration.

Astronomical Instruments and Accessories used in Observatories.

Transits, Mural Circles, Equatorials, Collimators.

Geodetic and Surveying Instruments.—Transits, Theodolites, Needle Compasses, Instruments for Surveying underground in Mines, Tunnels, and Excavations.

Nautical Astronomical Instruments.—Sextants, Quadrants, Repeating Circles, Dip-sectors.

Levelling Instruments and Apparatus.—Carpenters' and Builders' Levels, Hand Levels, Water Levels, Engineers' Levels.

Instruments for Deep-sea Sounding and Hydrographic Surveying.

Meteorological Instruments and Apparatus.

Thermometers, Pyrometers, Barometers.

Hygrometers and Rain Gauges, Maps, Weather Bulletins.

Blanks for Reports, Methods of Recording, Reducing, and Reporting Observations.

„ 359. Indicating and Registering Apparatus other than Meteorological Mechanical Calculation.

Viameters, Pedometers, Gas Meters.

Water Meters, Current Meters, Ships' Patent Logs, Electrical Logs.

Tide Registers.

Apparatus for Printing Consecutive Numbers.

Counting Machines, Calculating Engines, Arithmometers.

„ 360. Weights, Measures, and Weighing Apparatus.

Measures of Length.—Graduated Scales on Wood, Metal, Ivory, Tape or Ribbon; Steel Tapes, Chains, Rods, Verniers.

Measures of Capacity for Solids and Liquids.

Graduated Scales for Measuring Lumber, Goods in Packages, Casks, &c. Gaugers' Tools and Methods.

Weights.—Scales and Graduated Beams for Weighing; Assay Balances, Chemical Balances; Ordinary Scales for Heavy Weights, weighing Locomotives and Trains of Cars; Postal Balances; Hydrometers, Alcohometers, Lactometers, Gravimeters, &c.

Class 361. Chronometric Apparatus—

Chronometers, Astronomical Clocks, Church and Metropolitan Clocks, Ordinary Commercial Clocks, Pendulum and Spring Clocks, Marine Clocks, Watches, Clepsydras, Hourglasses, Sundials, Chronographs, Electric Clocks, Metronomes.

„ 362. Optical and Thermotic Instruments and Apparatus—

Mirrors, Plane and Spherical.

Lenses and Prisms.

Spectacles and Eyeglasses, Field and Opera Glasses, Graphoscopes and Stereoscope.

Cameras and Photographic Apparatus.

Microscopes.

Telescopes.

Apparatus for Artificial Illustration, including Electric, Oxyhydrogen, and Manesium Light.

Stereopticons.

Photometric Apparatus.

Spectroscopes and Accessories for Spectrum Analysis.

Polariscopes, &c.

Thermotic Apparatus.

„ 363. Telegraphic Instruments and Methods—

Batteries and Forms of Apparatus used in generating the Electrical Currents for Telegraphic Purposes.

Conductors and Insulators and Methods of Support. Marine Telegraph Cables.

Apparatus of Transmission, Keys, Office Accessories, and Apparatus.

Receiving Instruments, Relay Magnets, Local Circuits.

Semaphoric and recording Instrument.

Codes, Signs, or Signals; Heliographs.

Printing Telegraphs for special uses.

Electrographs.

Dial or Cadran Systems.

Apparatus for Automatic Transmission.

Telephone, Microphone, &c.

„ 364. Musical Instruments and Acoustic Apparatus.

Percussion Instruments, Drums, Tambourines, Cymbals, Triangles, &c.

Pianos.

Stringed Instruments, other than Pianos.

Automatic Musical Instruments, Music Boxes.

Wind Instruments of metal and of wood.

Harmoniums.

Church Organs and similar Instruments.

Speaking Machines.

Phonographs.

SECTION C.—Engineering, Architecture, Charts, Maps, and Graphic Representations.

(For Agricultural Engineering, see Section K.)

(For Mining Engineering, see Section C.)

Class 365. Civil Engineering, Land Surveying, Public Lands, &c.

River, Harbour, and Coast Surveying.

Construction and Maintenance of Roads, Streets, Pavements, &c.

Surveys and Location of Towns and Cities, with system of Water-supply and Drainage.

Arched Bridges of metal, stone, brick or beton.

Trusted Girder Bridges.

Suspension Bridges.

Canals, Aqueducts, Reservoirs, Construction of Dams.

Hydraulic Engineering and means of Arresting and Controlling the Flow of Water.

Submarine Constructions, Foundations, Piers, Docks, &c.

Class 366. Dynamic and Industrial Engineering, Construction and Working of Machines, Examples of Planning and Construction of Manufacturing and Metallurgical Establishments.

„ 367. Railway Engineering.

Location of Railways, and the Construction and Management of Railways.

„ 368. Military Engineering.

„ 369. Naval Engineering.

„ 370. Topographical Maps.

Marine and Coast Charts.

Geological Maps and Sections.

Botanical, Agronomical and other maps, showing the extent and distribution of Men, Animals, and Terrestrial Products.

Physical Maps.

Meteorological Maps and Bulletins.

Telegraphic Routes and Stations.

Railway and Route Maps.

Terrestrial and Celestial Globes.

Relief Maps and Models of portions of the Earth's surface.

Profiles of Ocean Beds and Routes of Submarine Cables.

SECTION D.—Physical, Social, and Moral Condition of Man.

Class 371. Physical Development and Condition.

The Nursery and its Accessories.

Gymnasiums, Games, Manly Sports, and Physical Training.

„ 372. Alimentation.

Markets, Preparation and Distribution of Food.

„ 373. The Dwelling.

Sanitary Conditions, Appliances, and Regulations.

Domestic Architecture.

Dwellings characterized by cheapness, combined with the conditions essential to health and comfort.

Plans or Models of Dwelling-houses best suited for hot climates.

Fireproof Structures.

Hotels, Clubhouses, &c.

Public Baths.

„ 374. Commercial Systems and Appliances.

Mercantile Forms and Methods, Counting-houses and Offices.

Banks and Banking.

Savings and Trust Institutions.

Insurance, Fire, Marine, Life, &c.

Commercial Organisations, Boards of Trade, Produce and Stock Exchanges.

Corporations for Commercial and Manufacturing Purposes.

Railway and other Transportation Companies.

Building and Loan Associations.

„ 375. Money.

Mints and Coining.

Collection of Current Coins.
Historical Collections.
Tokens, &c.
Bank Notes, and other paper-circulating mediums.
Commercial Paper, Bills of Exchange, &c.
Securities for Payment of Money, Stocks, Bonds, Mortgages, Ground-rents, Quit-rents, &c.
Precautions against Counterfeiting and Misappropriation of Money.

Class 376. Government and Law.
Various systems of Government Codes.
Municipal Government.
Protection of Property in Inventions.
Postal System and Appliances.
Punishment of Crime.
Prisons and Prison Management and Discipline; Police Stations; Houses of Correction; Reformatory and Industrial Schools.

„ 377. Benevolence.
General Hospitals.
Special Hospitals for the Eye and Ear, &c.
Hospitals for Women.
Hospitals for Contagious and Infectious Diseases.
Quarantine Systems and Organisations.
Hospitals for the Insane—under State Control, and Private Asylums.
Sanitary Regulations of Cities.
Dispensaries.
Inebriate Asylums.
Lying-in Asylums.
Magdalen Asylums.
Asylums for Infants and Children.
Foundling and Orphan Asylums—Childrens' Aid Societies and Boarding-out Systems.
Blind, Deaf, and Dumb Asylums.
Homes for the Aged and Infirm; Homes for Aged Men and Women; Home for the Maimed and Deformed; Homes for Incurables; Convalescent Homes; Sailors' Homes.
Treatment of Paupers.
Almshouses, Feeding the Poor, Lodging-houses.
Emigrant Aid Societies.
Immigration Systems, including Shipping and Depôts.
Servants' Houses.
Labour-hiring Establishments and Systems of Distribution of Labour.
Treatment of Aborigines.
Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

„ 378. Co-operative Associations.
Military Organisations and Orders.
Trade Unions and Associations.
Industrial Organisations.

„ 379. Religious Organisations and Systems, Statistical, Historical, and other Facts.
Bible Societies, Tract Societies, Colportage.
Systems and Methods of Religious Instructions and Training for the Young.
Sunday Schools, Furniture and Apparatus.
Associations for Religious or Moral Improvement.
Dispensing Charities, Church Guilds.

„ 380. Art and Industrial Exhibitions.
Agricultural Fairs.
Juvenile Exhibitions.
National Exhibitions.

DEPARTMENT IV.—ART.

SECTION A.—Sculpture.

Class 400. Figures and Groups in stone, metal, clay, terra-cotta, or plaster, „ 401. Works, in relief, in stone or metal; Electrotype Copies.
„ 402. Medals, pressed and engraved; Electrotypes of Medals.
„ 403. Hammered and Wrought Work; Repoussé Work.
„ 404. Cameos, Intaglios, Engraved Stones, Seals, Dies, &c.
„ 405. Carvings in Wood, Ivory, Metal, or other material.

Class 406. Paintings in Oil, on canvas, panels, ivory, glass, terra-cotta, &c.
„ 407. Water-color Pictures—Aquarelles, Miniatures, &c.
„ 408. Frescoes, Cartoons for Frescoes, &c.
„ 409. Painting with vitrifiable colors; Pictures on Porcelain, Enamel, and Metal.

SECTION C.—Drawing, Engraving, and Lithography.

Class 410. Drawing with Pen, Pencil, or Crayons.
„ 411. Engravings from steel, Copper, Stone, and Wood.
„ 412. Etchings.
„ 413. Lithographs, Zincographs, &c.
„ 414. Oleographs, Cromo-lithographs, &c.

Class 415. Photographs on paper, metal, glass, wood, fabrics, or enamel surfaces.

Class 418. Industrial Designs.
„ 419. Architectural Designs—Studies and Fragments, Representations and Projects of Edifices; Restorations from Ruins and from Documents.
„ 420. Ecclesiastical Designs.
„ 421. Designs for Decorations of Interiors of Buildings.
„ 422. Designs for Decorations of Exteriors of Buildings.
„ 423. Designs for Artistic Hardware and Trimmings, Artistic Castings, Forged Metalwork for Decoration, &c.

SECTION F.—Decorations with Ceramic and Vitreous Materials.

Class 424. Mosaic and Inlaid Work in stone.
„ 425. Mosaic and Inlaid Work in tiles, tessaræ, glass, &c.
„ 426. Inlaid Work in wood and metal, parqueterie, marqueterie.
„ 427. Stained, Embossed, and Engraved Glass.
„ 428. Cameo and Intaglio in Glass.
„ 429. Miscellaneous objects of Art.

DEPARTMENT V.—MACHINERY.

SECTION A.—Machines, Tools, and Apparatus of Mining, Metallurgy, Chemistry, and the Extractive Arts.

Class 500. Machines and Apparatus for Rock Drilling.
„ 501. Machines and Apparatus for Well and Shaft Boring.
„ 502. Machines and Apparatus for Coal-getting.
„ 503. Machines and Apparatus for Hoisting.
„ 504. Machines and Apparatus for Pumping, Draining, and Ventilating.
„ 505. Machines and Apparatus for Crushing, Grinding, Sorting, and Dressing.—Breakers, Stamps, Mills, Pans, Screens, Sieves, Jigs, Amalgamators, Concentrators, &c.
„ 506. Furnaces, Smelting Apparatus, and Accessories.
„ 507. Machinery used in Bessemer, Siemens-Martin, and other processes.

Class 508. Machines and Apparatus for Chemical Manufactures, Electro-plating, paint and Powder Mills, Blacking, Soap, Candle-making, &c.

„ 509. Machinery and Apparatus for the manufacture of Gas for illuminating or heating, compressed or otherwise.

SECTION B.—Machines and Tools for Working Metal, Wood, and Stone.

Class 510. Machines and Tools for Working Wood:—Planing, Sawing, Turning, Veneering, Grooving, Mortising, Tongueing, Cutting, Moulding, Stamping, Carving, Cask-making, and Cork-cutting, &c.

„ 511. Machines for direct-acting Steam-sawing, &c.

„ 512. Rolling Mills, Bloom Squeezers, Blowing Fans, Furnaces, Moulding Machines, and Apparatus for Casting Metals, with Specimens of work, also models and drawings.

„ 513. Rivet, Nail, Bolt, Screw, and Tack-making Machinery.

„ 514. Steam, Trip, Drop, and other Hammers; Hydraulic Presses for Forging with specimens of work; Anvils, Forges, Bellows, and Tools.

„ 515. Machines for Working Metals:—Planing, Drilling, Slotting, Turning, Shaping, Bending, Punching, Stamping, and Cutting, &c.; Wheel-cutting, and Dividing Machines; Emery Wheels, Drills, Taps, Gauges, Dies, &c.

„ 516. Machines for Sawing, Planing, Dressing, Shaping, and Polishing Stone, Sand Blasts, Grindstones, &c.

„ 517. Machines for making Bricks, Pottery, Drain Pipes, Tiles, and Artificial Stone.

„ 518. Furnaces, Moulds, Blowpipes, &c., for making Glass and Glassware; Machines for Grinding, Cutting and Polishing Glass.

„ 519. Tools, Implements, &c., for working Metal, Wood, and Stone, not before enumerated.

„ 520. Machines for Stone-breaking for Road Metal.

„ 521. Machines for Coining Metals; Drop, Die, and Stamping Machinery.

SECTION C.—Machines and Implements of Spinning, Weaving, Felting, and Paper-Making.

Class 522. Machines for the manufacture of Silk Goods.

„ 523. Machines for the manufacture of Cotton Goods.

„ 524. Machines for the manufacture of Woollen Goods—Carpets, Tapestry, &c.

„ 525. Machines for the manufacture of Linen Goods.

„ 526. Machines for the manufacture of Rope and Twine and Miscellaneous Fibrous Materials.

„ 527. Machines for the manufacture of Paper and Felting.

„ 528. Machines for the manufacture of India-rubber and Guttapercha Goods.

„ 529. Machines for the manufacture of Mixed Fabrics, Floorcloth, Kamptulicon, &c.

„ 530. Machines for the manufacture of Wire-cloth and Netting.

„ 531. Machines for the manufacture of Asbestos Goods.

SECTION D.—Machines, Apparatus, and Implements used in Sewing and Making Clothing, and Ornamental Objects.

Class 532. Machines used in the Manufacture of Lace, Fancy Embroidery, Hair, Ribbons, &c.

„ 533. Machines for Sewing and Knitting; Clothes, Corset, Hat, and Bonnetmaking Machines.

„ 534. Machines for preparing and working Leather.

„ 535. Machines for making Boots and Shoes.

„ 536. Machines for making Buttons, Pins, Needles, &c.

„ 537. Machines for Ironing, Drying, Scouring, Cleaning, and Dyeing.

„ 538. Machines for making Clocks and Watches.

„ 539. Machines for making Jewellery.

SECTION E.—Machinery and Apparatus for Type-setting, Printing, Stamping, Embossing, and for Making Books, and Paper Working.

Class 540. Printing, Stamping, Embossing, and Lithographic Presses.

„ 541. Type-casting Machines, Apparatus for Stereotyping and Electrotyping, Types and Type-setting Machines.

Class 542. Writing and Copying Machines.

„ 543. Printers' Furniture.

„ 544. Book-binding Machines.

„ 545. Paper-folding Machines.

„ 546. Paper and Card cutting Machines, Paper Box Machines.

„ 547. Envelope Machines.

„ 548. Steel Pen Machines.

„ 549. Lead Pencil Machines.

SECTION F.—Motors and Apparatus for the Generation and Transmission of Power.

Class 550. Boilers, and all vessels or apparatus for Generating Steam, Gas, or other motive powers.

„ 551. Water-wheels, Water engines, Hydraulic Rams, Windmills.

„ 552. Steam, Air, Gas, Electro-Magnetic or other Engines, &c.

„ 553. Apparatus for the Transmission of Power—Shafting, Gearing, Belting, Cables, &c.

„ 554. Screw Propellers, wheels, and other motors for the propulsion of Vessels.

„ 555. Implements and Apparatus used in connection with Motors; Steam Gauges, Manometers, &c., Anti-friction Metals, and Bearings.

SECTION G.—Hydraulic and Pneumatic Apparatus, Pumping, Hoisting, and Lifting.

Class 556. Pumps and Apparatus for lifting and moving Liquids.

„ 557. Pumps and Apparatus for moving and compressing Air or Gas.

„ 558. Pumps and Blowing Engines, Blowers and Ventilating Apparatus.

„ 559. Hydraulic Engines, Accumulators, Cranes, Jacks, Presses, Elevators, Lifts, Meters, &c.

„ 560. Apparatus for Fire extinction, Hand, Steam, or Chemical; Hose, Ladders, Fire Escapes, &c., and Accessories.

„ 561. Beer Engines, Soda and Ærated Water Machines, Bottling Apparatus, Corking Machines.

„ 562. Stop Valves, Cocks, Syphons, Pipes, &c.

„ 564. Ice Machines.

SECTION H.—Railway and Tramway Plant, Rolling-Stock, and Apparatus.

Class 565. Locomotives, Models, Drawings, Plans, &c.

„ 566. Carriages, Wagons, Trucks, Cars, &c.

„ 567. Brakes, Buffers, Couplings.

„ 568. Wheels, Tires, Axles, Bearings, Springs, &c.

„ 569. Permanent Ways, Ties, Chairs, Switches, &c.

„ 570. Station Arrangements, Dynagraphs, Dynamometers, &c., Electrical Signals, Interlocking Gear, &c., Water Cranes, Turntables.

„ 571. Miscellaneous Locomotive Attachments.

„ 572. Tramway Plant, Rolling-stock, and Apparatus; Electric Motors.

SECTION I.—Machines used in preparing Agricultural Products.

Class 573. Flour Mills and Dressing Machinery.

„ 574. Meal and Crushing Mills, Bark Mills.

„ 575. Sugar-refining Machinery.

„ 576. Confectioners' Machinery.

„ 577. Oil-making Machinery.

„ 578. Tobacco-manufacturing Machinery.

„ 579. Mills for Spices, Coffee, &c.

„ 580. Machines for Preparing other Agricultural Products.

„ 581. Machines for preparing Malt and Spirituous Liquors.

„ 582. Machines for preserving Fruits and Vegetables.

„ 583. Machines for Preserving Meat.

SECTION J.—Aerial, Pneumatic, and Water Transportation.

Class 584. Suspended-Cable Railways.
„ 585. Transporting Cables.
„ 586. Balloons, Flying Machines, &c.
„ 587. Pneumatic Railways, Pneumatic Dispatch.
„ 588. Models or Drawings of Boats and Sailing Vessels used in Commerce or in War, Yachts, &c.—
Pleasure Boats.
Rowing Boats of all kinds.
Life Boats and Salvage Apparatus, with Life Rafts, Belts, &c.
Submarine Armour, Diving Apparatus and Machinery, &c.
„ 589. Models or Drawings of Steamships, Steamboats, and all Vessels Propelled by Steam, or other motive power.
„ 590. Models or Drawings of Vessels for Carrying Telegraphic Cables and Railway Trains, also Coal Barges, Water Boats, Dredging Machines, Floating Docks, and for other special purposes.
„ 591. Marine Engines, Dredging Machinery, Steam Capstans, Windlasses, Deck Winches, Steering Apparatus, &c.

SECTION K.—Castings in Metal (various).

Class 592. Iron Castings, Malleable Castings, Steel, Silver, Brass, other Metal Castings.

SECTION L.—Machinery and Apparatus especially adapted to the requirements of the Exhibition.

Class 593. Boilers, Engines, Cranes, Lifts, Pumps, Electric Lighting, &c.

DEPARTMENT VI.—AGRICULTURE.

SECTION A.—Arboriculture and Forest Products.

Class 600. Timber and Trunks of Trees, entire or in transverse or truncated sections with specimens of Barks, Leaves, Flowers, Seed Vessels, and Seeds, Masts, Spars, Knees, Longitudinal Sections of Trees, Railway Ties, Ship Timber, Lumber roughly sawn as Planks.
Shingles, Laths, and Staves, split or sawn.
„ 601. Timber and Lumber prepared in various ways to resist Decay and Combustion, as by injection of salts of copper and zinc, &c.
„ 602. Ornamental Wood used in Decorating and for Furniture, as Veneers of Mahogany, Rosewood, Ebony, Walnut, Maple, and Madrona, Cedar, Huon Pine, Blackwood (Acacia Melanoxylon), &c.
„ 603. Dyewoods Barks, Galls, and other Vegetable Substances for coloring and Tanning.
„ 604. Gums, Resins, Caoutchouc, Guttapercha, Vegetable Wax, &c.
„ 605. Lichens, Mosses, Fungi, Pulu, Ferns, &c.
„ 606. Seeds, Nuts, Fruits, Seed Vessels, &c., for Food and Ornamental Purposes.
„ 607. Forestry—Illustrations of the Art of Planting, Managing, and Protecting Forests; Statistics; also Illustrations of Botanical Physiology.

SECTION B.—Agricultural Products.

Class 608. Wheat.
„ 609. Oats, Barley, Rye, Millet, Maize, Rice, and other Cereals.
„ 610. Samples of Cereals in the straw.
„ 611. Grasses and Forage Plants.
„ 612. Leguminous Plants and Esculent Vegetables.

Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition, 1887.

SYSTEM OF AWARDS.

Judges shall be appointed—One-half of whom may be nominated by the official representatives of the foreign countries and colonies exhibiting, acting in conjunction with the Executive Committee.

Judges will be selected for their qualifications in relation to the special class of work assigned to them, and will be chosen from the best sources available, and will impartially recognise merit without regard to nationality.

The Executive Committee will appoint a sufficient number of Judges to each group of classes.

The Executive Committee will appoint Judges for collective exhibits.

The Executive Committee will appoint a Superintendent of Juries and Awards to frame rules for the guidance of Judges, to regulate their meetings and facilitate their work, and otherwise carry out the instructions of the Juries and Awards Committee.

Judges absent from three consecutive meetings, unless by written permission of the Superintendent of Juries and Awards, will be held to have surrendered their posts.

A vacancy in any body of Judges shall at once be reported by the said Superintendent of the Juries and Awards, and such place declared vacant, and such vacancy shall forthwith be filled by the Executive Committee.

Experts may be called in by a majority of any jury, their names having been previously submitted to and approved by the Juries and Awards Committee.

No exhibitor, nor his agent, shall be a Judge in any class in which he exhibits.

An Exhibitor who is not the manufacturer or producer of the article exhibited shall not be entitled to an award. (Fine Arts and Live Stock excepted.)

Awards shall consist of three classes, viz.:—

1st Class.—Diploma of First Order of Merit and Medal.

2nd Class.—Diploma of Second Order of Merit.

3rd Class—Diploma of Third Order of Merit.

Awards to be based on reports, made in writing by the Judges and attested by their signatures, setting forth the merits of the product adjudged, which have formed the ground of the award; and the awards so made shall be forthwith forwarded to the Superintendent of Juries and Awards, to whom the records of Juries shall be open for inspection.

The elements of merit shall include originality, invention, discovery, utility, quality, skill, workmanship, fitness for the purposes intended, adaptation to public wants, economy, and cost.

The promoters hope to be able to secure additional valuable awards for exhibits of a special character.

All decisions of Juries must be returned to the Superintendent of Juries and Awards on or before a date to be declared by the Juries and Awards Committee, unless special written permission for an extended time shall have been granted by such Committee.

The Juries and Awards Committee will constitute a Court of Appeal.

In case of appeal, a fee of £2 2*s*. must be deposited with the Superintendent of Juries and Awards; if appeal allowed the fee will be returned.

The reports of the Judges recommending awards shall be forwarded by the Juries and Awards Committee to the Executive Committee by whom awards will be finally decreed.

The above System of Awards was adopted at a meeting of the Promoters held at Adelaide on the 2nd day of March 1886.

JUBILEE INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION,

1887.

Regulations for Exhibitors.

1. Early application for space is requested to be made to the Secretary, in Adelaide, or to the Secretary to the London Commission. Applications must be made through the Commission or other official representative of the country or colony to which the applicant belongs, but in the event of no such representative existing, intending exhibitors can communicate direct as above. No applications for space will be received later than the 1st January 1887. The form (A) of application is appended hereto.

2. All space exceeding twenty square feet will be charged for at the rate of one shilling per foot for floor space, and six pence per foot for wall space, excepting sculpture and paintings approved by the Fine Arts Committee, which will be admitted free. Special arrangements may be made by the Executive Committee for the charge for space for machinery, agricultural implements, and other bulky goods.

3. Governments intending to take part in this Exhibition are requested to forward an intimation to that effect not later than the 1st January 1887.

4. The Exhibition Buildings will be constituted a Bonded Store; but exhibits sold will be subject to duty.

5. Articles manufactured in the Exhibition buildings may be sold and removed with the consent of the Executive Commissioners. Exhibits may be sold during the Exhibition, but may not be removed until its close, unless by special written permission of the Executive Commissioner.

6. An Act of the Legislature protects inventors provided that application for a patent is lodged within six months of first exhibition.

7. The Commission may refuse entry to articles they consider of a dangerous or offensive character.

8. Articles intended for exhibition will be received on or after the first day of March 1887, and not later than the twentieth day of May 1887, unless further time be allowed by the Executive Committee.

9. Space allotted to countries, and colonies, and not occupied by the twentieth day of May 1887, will revert to the Commission for re-assignment.

10. The Commission will take precautions for the due protection of all objects in the Exhibition, but will in no way be responsible for damage or loss of any kind.

11. Subject to the approval of the Executive Commissioner, Exhibitors may appoint their own watchmen during the hours the Exhibition is open to the public.

12. Arrangements will be made for the supply of steam power, by the Executive Committee, at the expense of the Exhibitors, but Exhibitors must make application for the power required, and will be charged in proportion for the power used.

13. If Exhibits are not intended for competition, such fact should be distinctly stated when making the entry.

14. Exhibitors will be required to furnish and decorate their own courts or lesser constructions at their own cost, in conformity with the general plans adopted by the Executive Committee.

15. Special constructions may be made by Exhibitors, in the building or on the grounds, after receiving the approval, in writing, of the Executive Commissioner.

16. Exhibitors or their agents shall be responsible for the receiving, unpacking and arrangement of objects, as well as for their removal at the close of the Exhibition.

17. The transportation, unpacking, and the arrangement of the Exhibits will be at the expense of the Exhibitor.

18. Commissioners representing countries or colonies and private exhibitors may adopt one of two courses, namely,—

(a) They may ship their exhibits to Adelaide, and make their own arrangements for their reception and exhibition; or,

(b) If consigned to the Exhibition, they should be addressed as follows:—

To the Commissioner for [here specify country or colony],

Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition,

Adelaide,

South Australia;

and, if from Foreign Countries, or other Colonies, should have two labels bearing the flag of the country to which the Exhibitor belongs, or, where no representative has been appointed—

To the Executive Commissioner,

Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition,

Adelaide,

South Australia.

Two labels must also be affixed to different but not opposite sides of the package, giving the following information:

I. The country from which it comes.

II. Name or firm of Exhibitor.

III. Residence of Exhibitor.

IV. Department, section, and class to which the Exhibit belongs.

V. Total number of packages sent by same Exhibitor.

VI. Serial number of that particular package.

Each package must have prominently painted on it outside the distinctive mark—

19. If no authorised person be at hand to receive goods sent to the Exhibition, they will be removed and stored by the Executive Commissioner, at the cost and risk of the Exhibitor.

20. Immediately after the close of the Exhibition, Exhibitors must remove their Exhibits and complete such removal within one month from the close of the Exhibition, unless further time be allowed by the Executive Committee.

21. Goods not removed in accordance with Regulation No. 20 may be removed by the Executive Committee and sold to defray expenses, or be otherwise disposed of as they may think fit.

22. An official catalogue will be published in English, the sale of which is reserved by the Executive Committee.

23. No work of art or any article whatever exhibited in the buildings or on the ground of the Exhibition may be drawn, copied, or reproduced in any manner whatever without the joint consent of the Exhibitor and the Executive Commissioner.

24. The Executive Committee reserves the right to explain, amend, or extend these regulations whenever it may be deemed necessary in the interests of the Exhibition.

25. Communications concerning the Exhibition should be addressed—

To the Secretary,
Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition,
Adelaide,
South Australia,

Or, To the Secretary to the London Commission,
Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition,
Office of the Agent-General,
8, Victoria Chambers, Westminster,
London.

26. No Exhibitor will be permitted to display exhibits in such a manner as to obstruct the light or impede the view along the open spaces, or to occasion inconvenience or injury to or otherwise affect the display of other exhibitors.

27. With respect to Live Stock (Classes 648 to 659), should the Promoters determine to accept such exhibits, full Programmes and further Regulations will be published hereafter.

28. The right is reserved of keeping the Exhibition open for two evenings during each week should the Executive Committee deem it desirable.

29. Each person who becomes an Exhibitor thereby acknowledges and undertakes to keep the rules and regulations established for the government of the Exhibition.

JOHN FAIRFAX CONIGRAVE,
Secretary.

Office of Promoters.

Adelaide, 17th March, 1886.

To the Honourable the Chief Secretary, Adelaide.

Sir,

I have the honour, by direction, respectfully to request that the Government will bring under the attention of the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Colonies the fact that an International Exhibition will be held in Adelaide in the year 1887, to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the foundation of the Province of South Australia and the completion of the fiftieth year of the reign of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen, with a view to an official intimation being made to the Governments of foreign countries of the holding of such an Exhibition, and an invitation being given to such Governments to participate in the Exhibition.

In making the request I have to ask that immediate communications may be opened up with the Secretary of State, and also with the various Governments (including the Governments of India, China, and Japan); and in your despatch I am to beg that you will be good enough to give prominence to the following points:—

1. That Parliament has set apart land for the Exhibition, and contributed £32,000 towards the erection of a permanent Exhibition Building and the laying out of the Exhibition grounds.

2. That, although the Exhibition has been set on foot by private individuals, His Excellency the Governor is President of the Exhibition, and his Excellency's Ministers are associated with him in the Executive management of it.

3. That H.R.H. the Prince of Wales and T.R.H. the Princes Edward and George of Wales have generously accorded to the Exhibition their royal patronage.

4. That it is proposed to open the Exhibition on the 20th June, 1887.

5. That applications for space must be forwarded to the Secretary of the Exhibition in Adelaide, or to the Secretary to the Commission in London, not later than 1st January, 1887. Applications must be made through the Commission or other official representative of the country or colony to which the applicant belongs, but in the event of no such representative existing, intending exhibitors can communicate direct as above.

6. Space up to 20 square feet will be free, but any excess of that quantity will be charged for at the rate of one shilling per foot for floor space, and sixpence per foot for wall space, excepting sculpture and paintings approved by the Fine Arts Committee, which will be admitted free. Special arrangements may, however, be made for machinery and bulky goods.

7. Governments intending to take part in this Exhibition are requested to forward an intimation to that effect not later than 1st January, 1887.

8. Articles intended for exhibition will be received on or after the 1st day of March, 1887, and not later than 20th day of May, 1887, unless further time is allowed by the Executive Committee.

9. Copies of the Proclamation of the Exhibition, together with the Sectional Committee's Classification of Exhibits, and General Regulations are forwarded herewith for the information of the respective Governments.

It will be a source of great satisfaction to the promoters and the colonists generally to learn that the European and American Governments, as well as the Eastern countries, will be represented at the Exhibition.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

JNO. FAIRFAX CONIGRAVE,

Secretary.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

ANNUAL RETURN OF EXPENDITURE ON STORES FOR THE YEAR 1884-85.

No. 275, dated 4th September, 1886.

From—The Government of India,

To—The Secretary of State for India.

In continuation of our Despatch No. 170, dated 20th June 1885, we have the honour to forward, in original, returns showing the expenditure on stores for the year 1884-85.

2. A classified abstract compiled from these returns is appended to this despatch. The figures for the two previous years have also been shown in the abstract.

3. The aggregate expenditure on stores during the year 1884-85 compares with that for the years 1882-83 and 1883-84 as follows:—

Years.	Stores imported through the Secretary of State.	European stores purchased in India.	Stores made in India and substituted for stores procured through Secretary of State.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1882-83	1,43,90,334	40,86,796	39,42,421
1883-84	1,90,79,150	65,18,916	70,71,667
1884-85	1,62,01,606	40,89,482	52,87,203

4. The expenditure under all the three heads shows a decrease in 1884-85, compared with the figures for the year 1883-84, of 15 per cent. under the first head, 37 per cent. under the second, and 25 per cent. under the third. The reduction under the second may be regarded as satisfactory, but, as we pointed out in our despatch of the 20th June 1885, the figures in these returns are open to question, and we have arranged on a reference from the Committee for the Reduction of Expenditure, which is now sitting, to subject them to a careful test. Even as they stand, it seems that purchases of European stores made in the local markets involve a loss in the aggregate of about 20 per cent., comparing the cost with that at which similar stores can be obtained from England through the India Office.

On this point we defer further remark pending the consideration of proposals made to us by the Committee for the regulation and control of such purchases in future, and we confine our observations in the present letter to comments on the particulars given in the returns now forwarded.

5. The principal articles of European manufacture purchased locally, and of Indian manufacture substituted for European goods, are noticed below. In most cases where large purchases were made in the local market of European goods, the reasons are explained in the papers which accompany this letter.

Building and Engineering Materials.—Cement and fire bricks form the principal item under this head. The large purchases of imported cement and the falling off in the purchase of cement made in India were due to the failure of the Company which started local manufacture.

Chemical Products and Drugs and Medicines.—Purchases in India of European medicines, &c., amounted in the aggregate to Rs. 13,870, while purchases of locally-made articles were made to the extent of Rs. 77,503. The substitutes for imported articles consisted of chinchona febrifuge, morphia, opium, spirits of wine, castor oil, yellow wax, simple ointment, soap liniment, and certain descriptions of surgical instruments. As in the previous year, a large saving resulted from the substitution of chinchona febrifuge for quinine.

Coal and Coke.—Imported coal to the value of Rs. 4,87,733 and Indian coal to the value of Rs. 3,75,340 were purchased during the year. Rs. 2,49,323 worth of imported coal (fuel) was purchased by the Burma State Railway. It is stated that as coal is imported into Burma as ballast, it can be bought there at a lower cost than coal obtained through the India Office.

Cordage and Rope.—The aggregate purchases under this head of European goods amount to Rs. 15,398, and of Indian articles to Rs. 36,874. In the Marine and Public Works and Railway Departments country-made rope was largely used.

Cotton, Linen, and Silk Goods.—The principal consumers under this head are:—

	European goods.	Indian goods.
	Rs.	Rs.
Port Blair and Nicobars	693	20,525
Government of Madras	37,573	...
Ditto Bengal	33,245	4,764
Commissariat Department, Bengal ...	...	42,749
Ditto ditto Madras ...	1,245	17,147
Army Clothing Agency, Madras ...	1,09,697	...
Ditto Bombay ...	22,788	...

By the use of country-made sheeting there was a saving of Rs. 37,000 in Bengal and Rs. 1,985 in Madras. Khaki drills made by the Carnatic Mills Company are now being supplied to the Madras Army. It is in contemplation to extend its use to the other presidencies. Cloth made in Cawnpore is also being tried.

The large purchases of European stores in the local market were due to the Zhob, Zaila, and Suakin expeditions.

Leather and manufactures of Leather.—The Army Clothing Department, Bengal, purchased boots made at Cawnpore of the value of Rs. 1,58,808, which resulted in a saving of about Rs. 34,238, as shown below—

	Cost in India.	Estimated cost if procured from England.
	Rs.	Rs.
Ankle	1,15,219	1,40,266
Knee	15,565	19,810
Wellington	28,024	32,970
Total ...	1,58,808	1,93,046

Arrangements are being made for the supply of these boots to the Army in Madras.

Malt Liquor.—Imported beer was not purchased locally in any quantity. By the use of country-brewed beer of the value of Rs. 20,53,362, a saving of Rs. 1,93,314 was effected.

Machinery.—Rs. 2,16,640 worth of imported machinery was purchased in the local market, mostly by the Railways.

Metals.—Under this head stores of European manufacture were locally purchased chiefly by the Public Works Department and the Railway Department. Of the articles of Indian manufacture substituted for imported stores, the following are the most important items :—

			Rs.
Bombay Dockyard	Pig iron		5,071
Public Works Department, Port Blair.	Columns and nails		5,067
Public Works Department, Burma	Girders, railings, bridgework, piles and plates, &c.		1,30,818
Nizam's State Railway ...	Iron fish-plates, bolts, fittings for wagons.		9,970
Cawnpore-Kalpi Railway ...	Cast-iron sleepers ...	3,36,175
	Well curbs, wrought-iron.	59,323
	Ditto ...	8,300
	Iron rods and other works of iron.	38,173
			4,41,971
Punjab Northern State Railway	Hook bolts for holding down sleepers.		3,989
Tirhoot State Railway ...	Cylinder		26,215
	Iron pipes		11,790
Nalhati State Railway ...	Tiebars and sleepers, cast-iron ...		19,041
Telegraph Department ...	Cast and wrought-iron articles ...		86,609
Public Works Department, Bombay.	Ditto ditto ...		59,857
Public Works Department, North-Western Provinces.	Iron rails, girder, joists, bolts, and nuts.		57,721
	Lead, pig		6,599
Ditto Bengal ...	Iron castings, joists, cast-iron columns.		20,866
Ditto Central Provinces	Iron road rollers		2,617
Ordnance Department, Bengal ...	Block tin		13,487

Paper and Pasteboard.—The Stationery Office, Calcutta, purchased in the local market imported pasteboard of the value of Rs. 19,436, involving a stated loss of nearly Rs. 7,800, but from recent correspondence it appears that the loss was overestimated, and that the actual loss was about Rs. 3,100. Endeavours are being made to procure pasteboard of local manufacture. Country-made printing paper and blotting paper are now being largely used everywhere. In Bengal the purchases amounted to Rs. 4,58,294, with an estimated average saving of Rs. 4,856.

A saving of Rs. 12,261 was effected by the use in Madras of Indian (Bally Mill) watermarked paper stamped for payment of copying fees in the Courts. The use of this paper, however, had to be abandoned in consequence of the terms of the contract with Messrs. De La Rue & Co., which rendered it imperative on the Government to obtain all descriptions of stamped papers from that firm. The question of revising the contracts with Messrs. De La Rue & Co. is now under consideration with reference to the telegram from the Secretary of State, dated 7th May last.

Scientific Instruments and Apparatus.—The local purchase of European stores coming under this head amounted to Rs. 14,975, while the value of stores manufactured in India amounted to Rs. 65,295. The principal consumers were :—

	Rs.
Mathematical Instrument Department	22,164
Medical Department	40,938
	63,102

Soap.—Nearly Rs. 5,000 worth of country-made soap was used by the Ordnance and Commissariat Department.

Tools and Plant.—The most important items are :—

	Imported stores. Rs.	Country stores. Rs.
Public Works Department, Madras	3,358	5,358
Ditto ditto Bengal	8,659	19,073
Ditto ditto Burma	7,289	3,219
Ditto ditto Hyderabad ...	4,249	898
Bilaspur-Etawah Railway	13,184	...

Bellary-Kistna State Railway	60,753	66,819
Punjab Military Works Department	11,049	1,923

Woollen Goods.—The local purchases under this head were :—

	Imported stores. Rs.	Country stores. Rs.
Military Department, Bengal	1,21,590	61,531
Ditto Madras	2,250	29,532
Ditto Bombay	3,976	80,072
Punjab Police	...	22,456
Port Blair and Nicobars	...	22,954

The large purchases of imported stores in the Military Department were due to the Zhob and Suakin expeditions. The financial result was a loss of Rs. 22,751 in Bengal and Rs. 422 in Madras.

By the substitution of country-made blankets, there was a saving of Rs. 14,170 in Bengal, Rs. 2,885 in Madras, and Rs. 29,966 in Bombay.

REVENUE REPORT ON THE IRRIGATION WORKS OF AJMERE AND MERWARA.

Memo. by Colonel E. R. C. BRADFORD, Chief Commissioner, Ajmere and Merwara, on the Revenue Report on the Irrigation Works of Ajmere and Merwara for the year ending 31st March 1885,—dated 7th July 1886.

FINANCIAL RESULTS.

1. The following details are extracted from the Examiner of Accounts' note on Administrative Accounts for the year.

2. Capital Outlay.—Up to the commencement of the year 1884-85, the outlay stood as shown below:—

Old tanks	7,10,218
New „	8,32,482
TOTAL	15,42,700

The outlay of the year amounted to ₹2,474, and was incurred on the following works:—

(i) Raising the Maosia Tank	2,638
(ii) Improvements to the Nearan Tank	1,027
	3,665
Less refunds to Capital Account	1,191
Net Capital outlay	2,474

The following table gives the Capital outlay on each group of tanks and on each new tank for which a separate Capital Account is kept up :—

Names of tanks and groups of tanks.		Capital outlay inclusive of indirect charges.

	GRAND TOTAL	15,42,700	2,474	15,45,174

The total Capital outlay includes a sum of ₹58,923 on account of indirect charges. There was no increase in the number of works in operation, but the number of works assessed with water-rates increased from 296 of the previous year to 366 under the operations of the summary settlement noticed in the next paragraph under the circumstances explained further on.

3. The decennial settlement of 1874-75 at which the land revenue dependent on Government Irrigation works was for the first time separated from the land revenue proper and assessed as water-rates, having expired with the year 1883-84, a summary settlement was, under sanction of the Government of India in the Foreign Department, introduced with the year 1884-85.

4. Though adhering to the general principles which guided the assessment of water revenue at the settlement of 1874-75, the summary settlement has, by extending the crop rate assessment to areas irrigated by tanks other than those hitherto known as the new tanks, removed the distinction which marked the new from the old tanks. To suit this and other changes in the revenue assessment under the summary settlement, sanction has been received in the Public Works Department letter No. 79A.—I., dated the 4th November 1885, to deal with all tanks, both old and new, in each Sub-Collectorate, under one head, instead of observing the practice hitherto followed of showing the transactions of the new tanks in separate detail from those of the old tanks.

5. The number of works assessed at the summary settlement shows an increase of 70 over that for the year 1883-84 as shown below :—

Crop rate tanks	15
Variably assessed tanks	88
Fixed assessment tanks	263
	366
Works assessed last year, viz., 1883-84	296
Increase	70

6. Referring to this increase, the Settlement Officer explains as follows :—

"In Merwara there is a large number of petty Rappats* and Nadis† built by Government expense which are only useful in moistening the area in their beds, and thus allowing Abi crops to be sown. At last settlement no water revenue on these was taken out, but subsequently a sum of ₹5,000 was settled on to represent the difference between "Abi" and "dry rates." At this assessment the water revenue of all these has been separately taken out, and the total of these assessments aggregates ₹7,705."

* Rappat means a stream embankment.
† Nadi, a field embankment.

Thus the increase in the number of works assessed and the increased credit to water revenue are nominal only, the water revenue stated to be assessed separately being a part of the sum which had already been assessed as land revenue.

7. The gross assessed earnings, working charges, and net revenue of the year as compared with the figures for the two previous years are given below :—

	1882-83.	1883-84.	1884-85.	Less or more than 1883-84.	Less or more than 1882-83.
	₹	₹	₹	₹	₹
Gross earnings	1,03,374	95,181	1,20,426	+25,245	+17,052
Working charges	48,779	44,574	38,238	—6,336	—10,541
Net revenue realizable	54,595	50,607	82,188	31,581	27,593

Percentage of net revenue on Capital outlay	3·55	3·28	5·31	...	...

Compared with the highest standard assessment hitherto attained up to 1883-84, viz., the assessment for 1882-83, the year 1884-85 appears to have yielded an increase of ₹17,052. This year's assessment, however, includes a sum of ₹17,574 as particularized in the margin, and hence the portion of the gross revenue due to direct irrigation is very nearly the same as for the year 1882-83, as will be seen from the following figures :—

Increase as explained in para. 6 of this memo.	2,705
Increased credit from assessment on land irrigated by wells as sanctioned by the Government of India in P. W. D. letter No. 253 I. of 1st October 1885	14,869
	17,574

Sum assessed on account of direct Irrigation, 1884-85	76,923
,, ,, ,, 1883-84	77,445

The working charges show a satisfactory decrease, and the net revenue on Capital outlay has improved by over 50 per cent.

8. The actual collections of the year amounted to ₹1,03,610 as per Administrative Accounts compiled by the Examiner of Public Works Accounts. The Settlement Officer gives it as ₹1,03,562 in one place and as ₹1,03,565 in another. Contrasted with the year 1883-84, the collections show a decrease of about ₹7,000. This is however incidental to the fact that the collections made in 1883-84 were on account of the best irrigation year yet attained, viz., 1882-83, while those of the year under review for 1883-84 are for a period when the rains were scanty, and consequently the assessment was lower.

9. The crop area actually watered was 21,780 or less by 780 acres than that for the preceding year 1883-84. This indicates that the copious and more opportune rainfall of the year 1884-85 caused a reduction in the demand for irrigation, and permitted crops to be matured on an area of 10,351 acres without direct irrigation, against 5,978 acres in 1883-84. Thus though the tanks received a full supply, the demand for water being slack, a considerable portion of the supply constituted a reserve for the following year without pressure on the irrigators, excepting precautions against the water being wastefully run out with a view to the cultivation of the bed area. This illustrates the advantage of regulating the storage capacity of a tank so far as possible according to the supply likely to be secured in years of copious rainfall.

10. On the whole the financial results appear to be satisfactory and the management careful, the year 1884-85 marks a fresh departure towards a fair appreciation of irrigation in Ajmere-Merwara and a greater efficiency in the Irrigation administration generally. During the ten years settlement which expired with the year 1883-84, area classed as Talabi or irrigable by a tank, paid water-rate even if the crop matured did not get water. Against the justice of this, frequent complaints were made, and in the summary settlement a reduction of ⅓ the full rate has been conceded in respect of unirrigated area. This and other changes have been provided for in a draft Irrigation Regulation now before the Government of India in the Foreign Department.

11. The Settlement Officer's report herewith submitted, not having been drawn up in the form prescribed and having included assessment figures based on proposals which had not been sanctioned by the Government of India in the Public Works Department, delay has occurred in dealing with the report. It was at one time intended to recast the report and statements, but the materials available proved to be insufficient. Nor has it been found possible to supply any of the statistical returns prescribed in the Government of India, Public Works Department, letter No. 167 I., dated the 11th July 1885.

Every endeavour will be made to submit the report for 1885-86 in a more complete form.

12. A statement of the rainfall is appended hereto as prescribed in para. 4 of the orders on the report for 1883-84. The subject of revenue collection charges was reported on in this Department letter No. 2349 S. of the 22nd August 1885.

Statement showing the rainfall registered by the Public Works Department in Ajmere and Merwara from 1st April 1884 to 31st March 1885, to accompany the Chief Commissioner's review of the Irrigation Revenue Report for the year 1884-85.

No. 412, dated 3rd September 1885.

From—R. S. Whitehway, Esq., Settlement Officer, Ajmere-Merwara,

To—The Commissioner, Ajmere-Merwara.

Owing to the non-receipt of the usual statements prepared by the Examiner, Public Works Accounts, I have not been able to incorporate in my Revenue Report on the Irrigation Works of the Ajmere-Merwara Division for the year 1884-85—(1) The statement of Capital outlay on these works during the year under report; (2) The working expenses of old and new tanks; (3) The statement of the sums collected and credited by the Public Works Department, which are however usually small in amount.

2. The appendices which usually accompany the Revenue Report are, however, complete, and I beg to forward them with the following report on the results of the year.

3. No new works have been brought on the roll during the year, but at the same time a large number of works, especially in Merwara, show for the first time a return. This is due to the operations of the summary settlement. In Merwara there are a large number of petty rapats and nadis built at Government expence which are only useful in moistening the area in there beds and thus allowing Abi crops to be sown. At last settlement no water revenue on these was taken out, but subsequently a lump sum of ₹5,000 was settled on to represent the difference between "abi" and dry rates. At this assessment the water revenue of all these has been separately taken out, and the total of these assessments aggregates ₹7,705. The number of works now assessed is therefore—

Crop rate tanks	15
Variable tanks	88
Fixed tanks	263
		366

as against a total of 296 last year.

4. Gross Revenue.—The gross revenue assessed during the year was—

Ajmere—
Crop rate tanks	2,488
Variably assessed tanks	31,651
Fixed tanks	1,785
Share of well assessment, &c.	16,286
TOTAL		52,210
Merwara—
Crop rate tanks	6,659
Variably assessed tanks	15,107
Fixed tanks	19,233
Share of well assessment, &c.	27,217
TOTAL		68,216
GRAND TOTAL OF DISTRICT		1,20,426

5. This shows an increase of ₹25,245 as against the corresponding sum of last year. Of this sum an increase of ₹14,869 is due to the share of well assessment. Last year the sum entered for this is ₹20,929; this year I have entered ₹35,798, as that is the result of my well to well enquiry. No formal sanction to the record of the larger sum has yet been received, but, if necessary, the change can be easily made to the lower sum, as the credit is merely a nominal one. Of the remaining increase, ₹2,705 is due to the water revenue of beds of tanks, the sum last year being ₹5,000, which was an approximate estimate, while my detailed assessments give ₹7,705. This accounts for ₹17,574 of the increase of the remainder. Crop rate tanks show the same results in Ajmere, but an increase of about ₹2,500 in Merwara due to the inclusion in this class of several tanks whose irrigation is either mixed up with that of the new tanks as Balad and Parwarish, or whose irrigation is as yet in an undeveloped state as Nadi Nala and Rapat Sehadi of Barar. In Ajmere, the variable tanks show an increase of about ₹4,000 due partly to the favourable season and partly to the new results of the new assessment. In Merwara, there is a decrease of ₹1,000, due to the same cause which gave the increase under the head of crop rate tanks. Under fixed tanks, there is an increase in both Ajmere and Merwara, due to the new settlement. The head of miscellaneous shows a decrease. Last year even the larger tanks dried, and there was a good income from fish in Ajmere, it is due to the same cause that grass fetched a higher price in that year than it did in this one, the tank embankments were also largely cleared of there dead trees before this year began, and to this a considerable part of this decrease is due.

6. To show the result of the changes introduced by the summary settlement, I append a statement for Ajmere and Merwara, showing the standard demand of this year as compared with that of the last, from this the two items of the crop rate tanks and the variably assessed tanks are excluded, as no assessment of them was made:—

	Standard demand of 1883-84.	1884-85.

Grand Total	81,265	1,02,922

7. The figures given in para. 4 do not, however, represent the sum due in the year 1884-85. To them must be added the portion of the assessment of the previous year not due when that year closed and from it must be deducted the portion of this year's assessment, which was not due at the end of it. This, with the balances of last year, will give the true demand, and allowing for the balances and remissions of this year the actual collections. I append a statement showing this for Ajmere and Merwara separately.

N.B.—Total collections as per Administrative Accounts are—

Direct.	Indirect.	Total.
9,839	93,771	1,03,610

The discrepancy of ₹48 as compared with the total ₹1,03,562 shown by the Settlement Officer, is probably due to receipts collected by the Public Works Department directly.

8. Dividing this revenue into direct and indirect, we get the following results:—

		Direct or credited to Public Works Department.	Indirect or collected with Land Revenue.	Total.
Old tanks	1883-84	7,524	92,322	99,846
	1884-85	5,127	93,571	98,698
New tanks	1883-84	10,677	...	10,677
	1884-85	4,662	205	4,867
		—8,412	+1,454	—6,958

This statement shows a large decrease of nearly ₹7,000 in the collections from the old and new tanks. The rains of 1882 were excellent, the tanks were filled, and the assessments of the spring harvest of 1882-83 were very large. These assessments were collected in the year 1883-84. On the other hand, the rains of 1883 were exceptionally poor, and several of the larger tanks had hardly any water, consequently the assessments for the spring harvest were very small, these assessments were collected in this year 1884-85. Again, the rains of 1884 were very good, and the demand for water in the autumn harvest was very small. These causes combined to make the amount collected for the year 1884-85 from the new tanks disappointing. The same results to some extent affected the old tanks, but as in them the crops grown in tank land pay a certain proportion of water revenue, whether irrigated or not, the effect is not so obvious.

9. General.—The year viewed as an agricultural year, or as an assessment year, was certainly good; as a year of collection it was poor. The area irrigated in the spring of 1884 was below average, and the good rains in the autumn prevented much recourse to irrigation; in fact, in some parts they were so excessive that the crops suffered from over-moisture. In this year also the new rule of assessing unirrigated autumn crops at a lower rate than irrigated crops first came into force, and this made the income smaller than it would otherwise have been.

AGRICULTURAL.

11. Taking then this statement we find that the area actually irrigated is 780 acres less than in 1883-84, and the area protected but not irrigated has increased by 4,373 acres, showing a net increase of 3,593 acres. The decrease in the area actually irrigated is due to the absence of any necessity for a sowing watering. The rains were late and heavy, and the spring crop could germinate without artificial irrigation. Again there was very little irrigation in the autumn harvest, and although this area would for variable tanks come under the head of protected but not irrigated, still as the tanks remained filled with water until late, their beds could not be cultivated, and the protected but not irrigated area is reduced by this circumstance. Both of the classes of cultivation which go to swell the area but bring in but little income, namely, crops grown by a sowing, watering and cultivation in the beds of tanks, were much smaller than usual, we have thus a larger income from a smaller irrigated area.

12. Character of the season.—The rainfall of the year from an average of 8 stations in Ajmere and 5 in Merwara was by months—

The early rains were fitful, and in August there was a long break, but the heavy storm which passed over the district in the last few days of that month and early in September, and which gave very heavy rain, especially to the eastern portion of Ajmere, will not soon be forgotten.

14. The character of the season has already been sufficiently indicated, poor rains in May and the earlier part of the monsoon allowed but a comparatively small kharif area to be sown, but the spring harvest was a very fine one. Nearly all the tanks filled, a few in Ajmere, whose catchment area is small, did not fill, and the same may be said of Merwara. Jalia new tank did not fill, it depends on the tanks above it, and if they fill early in the season (which this year they did not), the later rains give a supply to it. The storm at the end of the rains broke a number of tanks in Ajmere.

15. Supply of water and area irrigated per outlet.—I give here the usual statement.

It is, however, difficult to make any comparison between the various tanks, thus Jalia now irrigates with other tanks. Jalia has its outlets, but the other tanks have not, and the area of 29 acres per outlet which is brought out is useless, as much of the area was watered from village water-courses and not from outlets.

Grain during the whole of the year was much cheaper than in the previous year, and this combined with the small area sown to cotton which was again due to the emptiness of the tanks and the absence of rain in May 1884, is the cause both of the decrease in the estimated value of the crops and the rise in the rates borne to it by the water revenue.

17. Double-cropped lands.—The double-cropped area has, as might be expected from the character of the season, increased very largely as compared with the previous year. The figures are :—

	Double-cropped Area.
	1883-84.	1884-85.
	Acres.	Acres.
Ajmere	478	3,684
Merwara	3,332	5,388
Total	3,810	9,072

This increase needs no further explanation.

Administration.

18. I have been in charge of the revenue portion of the irrigation matters during the whole year. In Ajmere I have been assisted by Munshi Chuttan Lal and in Merwara by Munshi Imamuddin. I am much indebted to them for their good work.

19. In the review of last year's report the increased quantity of water available in tanks is noticed, and it is suggested that this is due to the policy of keeping the beds of tanks moist by not running off the water. I may be allowed to say that this is hardly a sufficient explanation of the real fact that there has been for a year or two more water available than there was formerly, inasmuch as the deliberate policy of retaining water in the tanks has only been adopted for the Bir Tank.

20. I am inclined to offer in explanations, two facts which my experience has led me to adopt. The first is improved administration, this is due solely to the number of men now available, formerly the whole staff consisted of a Superintendent of Irrigation, his clerk and a few men employed on the new tanks. All the settlement munserims are now used in the work, and now the new staff of supervisors will take their place. The waste of water which is checked by this means is very great indeed.

21. The other fact is connected also with this improved administration, and was suggested to me by a zemindar in Merwara whom I was questioning regarding the splendid fields of cotton grown under several tanks from the surplus water of last year where I have never seen so much cotton before. His explanation was the strictness with which the making of beds or kyaris in irrigated land is now insisted on. This cause is a possible cause, and I should much like to investigate it further, but some form of water metre is needed and they are very costly. There is another possible cause which I, however, do not offer with much confidence, and that is the existence of the jungles.

22. A draft irrigation regulation and rules on irrigation matters have been prepared and forwarded for the orders of the Chief Commissioner.

ABSTRACT OF THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNCIL OF THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA, ASSEMBLED FOR THE PURPOSE OF MAKING LAWS AND REGULATIONS UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF THE ACT OF PARLIAMENT 24 & 25 VIC., CAP. 67.

The Council met at Viceregal Lodge, Simla, on Wednesday, the 15th September, 1886.

PRESENT:

His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General of India, K.P., G.C.B., G.C.M.G., G.M.S.I., G.M.I.E., P.C., presiding.
His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, LL.D., K.C.S.I., C.I.E.
His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, Bart., G.C.B., C.I.E., V.C.
The Hon'ble C. P. Ilbert, C.S.I., C.I.E.
The Hon'ble Sir T. C. Hope, K.C.S.I., C.I.E.
The Hon'ble Sir A. Colvin, K.C.M.G., C.I.E.
The Hon'ble Major-General G. T. Chesney, R.E., C.S.I., C.I.E.
The Hon'ble J. W. Quinton.
The Hon'ble Colonel W. G. Davies, C.S.I.
The Hon'ble Rana Shankar Baksh Singh Bahadur, C.I.E.

ACT XXXVI OF 1858 AMENDMENT BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend Act XXXVI of 1858 (an Act relating to Lunatic Asylums).

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE AMENDMENT BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT moved that the Bill to amend the Code of Civil Procedure and the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Sir S. Bayley, the Hon'ble Mr. Quinton and the Mover.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

GENERAL CLAUSES BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT also moved that the Bill for further shortening the language used in Acts of the Governor General in Council, and for other purposes, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Sir S. Bayley, the Hon'ble Mr. Quinton and the Mover.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

JHÁNSÍ AND MORAR BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT also moved that the Bill to annex the Town and Fort of Jhánsí and certain adjacent Territory to the Jhánsí district, and for certain other purposes, be taken into consideration. He said that the Bill was of no great importance, it affected a very small number of people and a small quantity of cases, and it had not been considered necessary to refer it to a Select Committee. However, since the date of the introduction of the Bill he had received a few suggestions from persons interested in the measure, and the motions which stood in his name on the list of business were based on those suggestions. He thought it would be found that all the suggestions had been satisfactorily met, with the exception of the suggestion which had been made for giving a right of appeal from decrees and orders of the Gwalior Courts to our own Courts. As to this suggestion he agreed with His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor that it would be inexpedient to interfere in any way with those decrees and orders, and therefore he did not propose to bring forward any amendment on that point.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT then moved that words importing the neighbourhood to the town and fort of Jhánsí of the lands to be ceded by His Highness the Mahárájá Scindia to the British Government and by the British Government to His Highness be omitted from the preamble to, and section 2 of, Part I, and that the words "adjacent to the Jhánsí district" be inserted after the words "certain lands" in the third clause of that preamble. He explained that he asked leave of the Council to make this amendment in a general form, because it would involve a good many verbal modifications. In the Bill as introduced the lands proposed to be given and taken in exchange were described as in Jhánsí, but he now found that the territories which it was proposed to cede to the Mahárájá Scindia lay at a considerable distance from the town of Jhánsí, while some of the lands to be ceded by His Highness were not in the immediate neighbourhood of that town. He proposed therefore to correct the Bill in accordance with those facts.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT also moved that the following clause be added to the preamble to Part II, and the following section to that Part:—

Clause.

"And whereas the period of limitation prescribed for suits in the territories of His Highness is twelve years, and it is expedient that persons having just claims which, but for the cession of territory, they might have enforced in the Courts of His Highness, should not be debarred from enforcing those claims by reason of a shorter period of limitation being prescribed for any class of suits by the law in force in the Jhánsí district".

Section.

"7. (1) Notwithstanding anything in the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, or in any other enactment, the Deputy Commissioner may, within such term, not exceeding two years from the commencement of this Act, as the Local Government may prescribe in this behalf, admit any suit of a nature cognizable by the Courts of British India, which, if there had not been a cession of territory, and the suit had been instituted in a Court of His Highness having jurisdiction with respect thereto, would not be liable to be dismissed by that Court by reason of its being barred by any law of limitation.

Extension of period of limitation for certain suits.

"(2) In the computation of the period of limitation for a suit referred to in sub-section (1) which the plaintiff has been debarred from instituting by reason of the cession of the town and fort of Jhánsí to the British Government, there shall be excluded from the period the time which has elapsed between the cession of the town and fort and the commencement of this Act.

"(3) Subject to revision by the Commissioner of the Jhánsí Division, an order of the Deputy Commissioner admitting or refusing to admit a suit under sub-section (1) shall be final."

He explained that this amendment had been inserted at the suggestion of the Commissioner and Deputy Commissioner of Jhánsí, and was in accordance with a request preferred to him (MR. ILBERT) by a local banker named Seth Sooraj Raj on behalf of the trading community of the town of Jhánsí. The facts were that under the Mahárájá's law the period of limitation prescribed for certain suits was twelve years, whereas in British territory the period was only three years; and it was represented that some hardship might be caused if persons living in the newly ceded territories were suddenly brought under a different law. In order to remove that hardship it was proposed to grant an extension of the period of limitation for a period not exceeding two years notwithstanding that such suits would be time-barred under the law in British territory.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT also moved that the following further clause be added to the preamble to Part II and the following further section to that Part:—

Clause.

"And whereas it is expedient that suits pending in the Courts of His Highness and left undetermined by those Courts by reason of cession of territory should be continued in the Courts of the Jhánsí district".

Section.

"8. An original suit pending in a Court of His Highness and left undetermined by that Court by reason of cession of territory may be continued, under the law of limitation applicable to that Court but otherwise in accordance with the law and procedure of British Indian Courts, in any Court in the Jhánsí district subordinate to the Court of the Commissioner which the Deputy Commissioner may appoint in that behalf."

Continuance of pending suits.

He explained that this amendment, the meaning of which was obvious, had also been included in the suggestions of the Deputy Commissioner and Seth Sooraj Raj.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT also moved that the following further clause be added to the preamble to Part II and the following further section to that Part:—

Clause.

"And whereas it is expedient to remove doubts as to the effect of the law in force in the Jhánsí district, with respect to registration and stamps on documents and instruments to which at the time of their execution the law of His Highness applied, and the law of British India did not apply".

Section.

"9. The provisions of the law of British India with respect to the consequences of documents being unregistered or instruments being unstamped shall not apply to any document or instrument which may have been executed before a date to be prescribed in this behalf by the Local Government, and to which the law of His Highness applied, and the law of British India did not apply at the time of its execution."

Saving in favour of unregistered documents and unstamped instruments.

He said that he was not sure that this amendment was strictly necessary, but it had been asked for by the traders at Jhánsí, and its insertion could certainly do no harm and might possibly remove some misapprehension on the points to which it related.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT also moved that the following sub-section be substituted for sub-section (2) of section 6, namely:—

"(2) If in any case the Deputy Commissioner is of opinion that for special reasons the sanction ought to be withheld or ought to be granted subject to conditions, he may either withhold his sanction or permit the application to be made on any conditions which in the circumstances he deems it proper to impose; but in either of those cases he shall record the reasons in writing."

He explained that this amendment was proposed at the instance of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces with a view to making it clear that the power of withholding sanction to the execution of decrees and orders of the Gwalior Courts was only to be exercised in very exceptional cases.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT also moved that in section 10 of the Bill in its present form (section 7 of the Bill as introduced) the words and figures "articles 66 to 75 (both inclusive)" be substituted for the words and figures "articles 74 and 75."

He explained that it was intended by this amendment to enable persons lately trading at Morar to sue at Jhánsí or Agra, or other places appointed by the Governor General in Council, on bonds and bills of exchange and on promissory notes other than those specified in the articles in the original Bill. Thus the object of the section would be more effectually attained than it would be in the more restrictive form in which that section was originally drawn.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT also moved that the Bill, as amended, be passed.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR'S (N.-W. P.) FUNCTIONS BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT also presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to legalize the discharge by the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces of certain functions assigned to the Governor General in Council.

BURMA INDIGENOUS TRIBES PROTECTION BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT also moved for leave to introduce a Bill to provide for the protection of Indigenous Tribes in Burma. He said:—"The object of this Bill is to afford some protection to the Karens and other indigenous tribes in Lower Burma, especially in the Tounghoo District, against the annoyance and injury caused to them by the acts of squatters belonging to other tribes and races. It appears that Burman, Shan and Chinese strangers occasionally settle in these Karen villages, and cause great annoyance to the Karens. The Karens are a quiet and inoffensive race, and as a rule, either from shyness or timidity, they do not resist the intruders, but cases have arisen in which they have been goaded into acts of lawlessness. A characteristic case of this kind occurred in 1883. There is a large Karen village called Bawgale. This village is inhabited mainly by Christian Karens, and is the site of an American Baptist Chapel. In 1883 a number of travelling Shan traders established themselves in this village with large herds of cattle. 1883 was not the first year in which they had squatted in the village, but in former years there were not so many of them and the Karens had not complained. In 1883, however, they made themselves an intolerable nuisance to the permanent inhabitants. They picketed their bullocks near the Mission Chapel and on the village-paths, and disturbed the peace of the village by gambling and disorderly habits. The consequence was that the Karens under the leadership of an American Missionary gentleman took the law into their own lands, destroyed the houses of the Shan squatters and summarily ejected them from the village. The results were rather unfortunate for the American gentleman, for there was no law to prohibit the Shans from settling in the village, nor had the Karens any right to eject them, and so the matter went before the Law Courts, and the Missionary was fined Rs. 50 for contravening section 426 of the Indian Penal Code. The case attracted the attention of the Local Government to the position of the Karens generally, and it was satisfied that, although the law had in this particular instance been contravened, yet the Karens had sufficient ground for complaint. Lest it should be supposed that the Government had acted on the representations of the Missionaries alone, I will read a short extract from a report submitted to the Chief Commissioner by Mr. Bridges, who had been for some years Settlement-officer in the Bassein district, where there are large settlements of Karens. In his Report dated the 30th July, 1883, he wrote as follows:—

"I believe that the account given by the Missionaries of what is actually taking place in Karen villages is substantially correct. * * * I have continually heard complaints in the Karen villages of Burmese loafers settling down among them, stealing their property, swindling them out of their lands and crops, and introducing opium and gambling among them. * * * The Karens will not as a rule come to officials and complain unless they see them in their villages. * * * What I have said applies chiefly to the British Burman Karen villages: but the state of things is much worse in the case of the Talaing Karens, who have as a rule not been converted. * * * In the Aingme and Kyaukkanni circles I found the Talaing Karen villages in a dreadful state; the Burmans had settled down in nearly all their villages; they had swindled them out of their lands, and in many cases reduced them to a state of semi-serfdom. The Talaing Karens had taken to opium-eating and thieving, and in one or two villages I found that women and young children were opium-eaters. The Ywa-lugyis (village-elders) were in many cases Upper Burman gamblers and opium-eaters, who, instead of helping and protecting the villagers, either swindled themselves or allowed others to do this. * * * I think the Burmans who have already settled down in Karen villages should be compelled to remove their houses when their presence is complained of."

"That is a statement of the facts with which we have to deal, and I think it quite justifies legislation of the nature now proposed. The nature of the legislation is, no doubt, somewhat exceptional, but I think it is fully warranted by the peculiarities of the relations between these indigenous tribes and their neighbours, and some precedent may be found for it in the provisions which it has been found necessary to apply to the Garo Hills in the Province of Assam. A Regulation has been passed for those Hills which prohibits the acquisition of interest in land by settlers except by special sanction, and it is a principle somewhat similar to this which I propose to apply in the present measure.

"The provisions of the Bill are very simple. It empowers the Chief Commissioner to apply the proposed Act to such local areas as he may by notification prescribe, and it defines the term 'village,' so as to restrict the operation of the proposed law to purely rural tracts. Then it declares the circumstances under which a resident or intending resident may be excluded or ejected from a village. These circumstances are that the majority of the residents of the village belong to some indigenous tribe, and that not less than one-half of the cultivating householders of the village desire ejection or exclusion of the resident or intending resident, who must not be of the same race as the majority of the residents of the village, or cultivate land within three miles of the village or have resided in the village for twelve years or upwards. The Bill further provides for compensation to persons who have been compelled to vacate any land or house in a village in consequence of their ejection therefrom. Then, under another section, the Chief Commissioner has power to make rules with the sanction of the Governor General in Council prescribing the mode in which the desire of the cultivating householders of a village to eject or exclude any one therefrom is to be ascertained and recorded, empowering certain persons to eject or exclude persons in pursuance of the recorded desire and on behalf of the cultivating householders, and prescribing the procedure to be followed in such cases, and the mode in which compensation under the proposed Act is to be ascertained. Then there is a power which enables the Local Government to direct in any rule that a breach of it shall be punished with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees, or with imprisonment which may extend to three months, or with both. Lastly, there is a section containing the usual formal matter as to the procedure for making and publishing rules."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

OUDH WASIKAS BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. QUINTON presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to declare certain allowances collectively known as Oudh Wasikas to be pensions within the meaning of the Pensions Act, 1871.

The Council adjourned to Friday, the 24th September, 1886.

S. HARVEY JAMES,
Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of India,
Legislative Department.

SIMLA;
The 17th September, 1886.

NOTE.—The Meeting fixed for the 8th September, 1886, was subsequently postponed to the 15th idem.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

REPORTS ON THE STATE OF THE SEASON AND PROSPECTS OF THE CROPS FOR THE WEEK ENDING 15th SEPTEMBER, 1886.

GENERAL REMARKS.—Rain in varying quantities has fallen generally throughout the country with the exception of Sind, the greater portion of the Punjab, and Rajputana and Berar. In Bengal and Assam the falls have again been heavy, and rain threatens to be excessive in some places in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

Agricultural prospects continue generally favourable in Madras, Mysore, and Coorg, though in the second-named Province more rain would be beneficial for the crops in one or two districts. In Berar, Hyderabad, Central India, and Rajputana the standing crops are generally in good condition, and prospects are favourable. The kharif crop is generally in good condition in Bombay, but more rain is still wanted in most districts.

In the North-Western Provinces and Oudh the condition of the standing crops is generally excellent, and is fairly good in the Central Provinces, with the exception of the rice crop, which has suffered everywhere on high lands owing to a deficiency of rain. In Bilaspur the situation is unpromising and rain is badly wanted. In the Punjab the harvest prospects are fair, but rain is still wanted in several districts.

In Bengal, where there has been much heavy rain, a break is wanted to facilitate the harvesting of early crops. Agricultural prospects are generally fair in Assam.

The public health continues generally good in all Provinces.

Prices are rising in some districts in the Punjab and falling in Coorg. Elsewhere they are generally steady.

Madras –(Sept. 15th)

Rajkot	·08; total 35·10	General health fair; fever still prevailing in some parts of Halar and Sorath. Crops in fairly good condition. Wheat 33, bajri 30, and juari 43 pounds per rupee.
		General Remarks.—Slight rain in parts of 12 districts, more still wanted in most districts. Kharif crops generally in good condition; rabi sowing commenced in three districts; standing crops slightly injured by blight in parts of Poona and Satara, and by insects and rats in parts of Hyderabad and Ratnagiri. Fever and cattle-disease in parts of eleven and small-pox in parts of two districts.
Bengal – (Sept. 15th)
Chittagong	0·91	Weather seasonable. Harvesting of aus crops completed, outturn 9 to 10 annas; transplanting of amun continues. Prices stationary. Public health good.
Dacca	9·59	Prospects of crops generally favourable; paddy somewhat damaged by flood. Water subsiding. Harvesting of early paddy and jute going on. Public health good.
24-Pergunnahs (Calcutta).	5·17	Prospects of paddy, jute, and sugarcane favourable; transplanting of amun paddy still going on; harvesting of early paddy and jute commenced. Public health good.
Moorshedabad	Copious rain, 7·75	Agricultural prospects good; aus paddy being harvested. River still slowly rising. Prices falling. Public health generally good.
Rungpore	0·83	Prospects of amun and sugarcane good; cutting of jute continues. Fever prevalent.
Burdwan	3·49	Aus harvest good; amun promises well. Public health good.
Bhagalpur	15·79	Transplanting of late rice finished, and prospects excellent; bhadoi harvest giving a good outturn in south of Ganges. In north total area affected by floods is perhaps one-fifth of area cropped, and on that loss reported as six annas. Early rice in north very good.
Purneah	13·03	Extensive damage by floods to west of district. Prospects of crops, where not affected by floods, are good. Rivers high. Public health indifferent.
Patna	3·03	Paddy growing splendidly; bhadoi crops being cut; new makai being brought into market. Cholera still reported from Behar.
Durbhunga	7·49	Bhadoi crops saved from late floods being harvested; retransplanting of paddy greatly impeded by successive heavy showers. A break in the rains absolutely necessary. Prices remain stationary. Public health good.
Hazaribagh	3·24	Weather seasonable. Bhadoi being harvested, with good outturn; rice and other crops doing well. General health good.
Cuttack	1·50	Weather sultry, with heavy showers. Early rice being reaped, with fair outturn; late rice doing well. Price of rice unchanged. Public health generally good.

Presidency or Province and District.	Rainfall for week under report.	State of agricultural prospects.
Bengal—contd.
Midnapore	1·26	Prospects brighter in the south and good elsewhere.
Khoolna	3·05	Weather cloudy. Aus paddy being harvested; transplanting of amun continues; prospects good. A little fever at Satkhira; public health fair.
Dinagepore	9·75	Weather very wet early in week; break since. Heavy rain has slightly injured amun paddy and sugarcane. About half of jute and aus paddy harvested. Fever prevails. Prices stationary.
Pubna (Serajgunge)	6·80	Heavy flood in Pubna and Serajgunge. Jute much damaged by continued high flood and rain; prospects of amun so far good, but in parts transplanting difficult owing to depth of water.
Gya	11·71	Heavy rain has damaged crops in Jehanabad; elsewhere prospects good. Extent of loss unknown.
Chumparun	7·11	Much damage done to bhadoi crops; prospects of paddy, where not injured by floods, are favourable. Prices stationary. Public health fair.
		General Remarks.—Exceptionally heavy rain in most districts during the week. A break is now much wanted to admit of further progress being made in the harvesting of early crops and for completion of late rice. Transplanting prospects continue generally favourable, except as previously reported in flooded parts of Behar and East Bengal. Fever prevalent in certain localities, but general health satisfactory.
N. W. Provinces and Oudh—(Sept. 15th)
Benares (Sept. 13th)	Average 4·20	Prospects good. Supplies ample. Prices slightly fluctuating. Cholera abating; cattle-disease on decrease.

Rawalpindi	·65	Health good. Prices rising. Prospects of coming harvest average.
Shahpur	Rainfall throughout the district.	Health good. Prices stationary.
Dera Ismail Khan	Nil	Health good. Prices rising.
Peshawar	Nil	Health good. Prices almost stationary. Prospects of coming harvest good on irrigated lands.
		General Remarks.—Rain has fallen in the Umballa, Jullundur, Amritsar, Sialkot, Rawalpindi, and Shahpur districts, more wanted in the Hissar, Delhi, Ferozepore, Shahpur and Peshawar districts. General health good. Prices rising in the Hissar, Delhi, Lahore, Rawalpindi, and Dera Ismail Khan districts; elsewhere stationary.
Central Provinces—(Sept. 15th)
Nagpur	·02	Weather clear. Crops generally good, but rice on high lands somewhat injured. Fever and cattle-disease prevalent. Prices stationary.
Jubbulpore	·45	Prospects favourable, but more rain wanted. Health fair. Prices steady.
Saugor (Sept. 13th)	Nil	Kharif very favourable. Fever prevalent. Prices falling.
Seoni	·23	Weather cloudy and close. Kharif fair, except rice. Fever in places. Prices rising.
Hoshangabad	Nil	Weather clear. Fever and small-pox in places. Prices stationary.
Bilaspur	·75	Prospects bad. Rice on high ground abandoned to grazing. Tanks not half full. Want of rain generally felt. Fever and cattle-disease in places.
Khandwa	Nil	Weather clear and cool. Prospects good at present. 40 cases of cholera, 20 deaths. Prices steady.
Raipur	3·13	Rain has done much good to rice, other crops promise well. Prospects decidedly improving. Cattle-disease prevalent; fever in places. Prices steady.
Sambalpur („ 11th)	3·07	Weather cloudy and close. Rain done good, but more needed. Rice on highlands in Bargarh tahsil much injured by long break. Prospects in Sambalpur tahsil fair. Cattle-disease prevalent. Prices steady.
		General Remarks.—Good rain has again fallen in Raipur, and has decidedly improved prospects. In Bilaspur rain is urgently required, and prospects are gloomy. Rice has suffered everywhere on highland, but other crops are good, and prices generally remain steady.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India, in the Revenue and Agricultural Department (Meteorology),—dated Simla, 16th September, 1886.

Read the following:—

Summary of the Weather Report for the month of August 1886.

Except in the Central Provinces and Assam, the mean temperature of the month was everywhere below the average, but the differences were, in general, very small; and only in the peninsula, and locally, at a few places elsewhere, did they exceed 1°. The greatest depression was in the Carnatic, where it amounted to between 1½° and 3°. The pressure was more or less below the normal average, over the whole of North-West India, during the first and last weeks of August, and above it during the rest of the month. On the mean of the whole month, the pressure was as nearly the average as possible, throughout the country. The atmosphere was somewhat damper than is usual at this season of the year, in the Upper Provinces as well as in Madras, though not so much so as in the previous month. In all other parts of the country, the weather was a little drier. During the first few days of the month, there was general, and in some cases heavy rainfall in Bengal, Assam, the North-Western Provinces, and on three or four days also in the submontane districts of the Punjab, the south of the peninsula, and around the Bay of Bengal. The falls were particularly heavy in the Gangetic plain and in Sikim and Kumaon. After the 5th, however, the rainfall, as a rule, because very light and partial, and there was a long spell of dry weather in the whole of North-West and Central India, as well as in Bengal, interrupted only by a few sporadic showers chiefly in Bengal and Assam. In the peninsula also, the rainfall was lighter than usual; especially so in the western presidency. On the 12th, however, a small storm began to form over the Bay of Bengal, off Masulipatam, and brought fairly general, though on the whole, light rain, first to a large portion of the peninsula; and then, as the storm moved northward and westward across Orissa and Central India, to the western coast of the Bay, the Central Provinces, Central India, Rajputana and the more southern parts of the North-Western Provinces, and the Punjab. After the disappearance of this storm, on the forenoon of the 21st, over the whole of the Central and Southern India, the rain either ceased altogether or became very light and partial; but in the Eastern Punjab, the North-Western Provinces, Bengal, Assam, and Burma, moderately heavy showers continued to fall till within a day or two of the close of the month.

In the Punjab, the rainfall was everywhere below the average, and the same was the case in Sind; little or no rain having fallen throughout the month in the Indus valley, except locally at Hyderabad, which received only one third of the normal amount. In the North-Western Provinces to the east of the Ganges, (except in Oudh and locally at Benares,) in North and East Bengal, Assam and Cachar, the rainfall was greatly in excess of the average; but to the south of the river, in Rajputana, Berar, Khandesh, the whole of the Central Indian plateau, Orissa and South-West Bengal, it was, as a general rule, more or less deficient.

There was more rain than usual in the Carnatic, Mysore and on the Bellary plateau, and in the Deccan the total fall was very near the average. Throughout the rest of the peninsula, as well as in Guzerat and Burma, the rainfall was below the normal amount.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

REPORTS ON THE STATE OF THE SEASON AND PROSPECTS OF THE CROPS FOR THE WEEK ENDING 22nd SEPTEMBER, 1886.

GENERAL REMARKS.—The rainfall of the week under notice has been confined to Madras, parts of Bombay, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, Punjab, the Central Provinces, and Central India, where the showers have been generally light. In Mysore there has been general rain, and in Bengal and Assam heavy falls have again occurred.

In Madras, Mysore, and Coorg there is generally no change in the situation reported last week.

In Bombay, Berar, Hyderabad, Central India, and Rajputana the kharif crops continue to promise well and prospects are on the whole good. Preparations for the rabi are commencing in places.

The kharif harvest has begun in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, where rabi operations are also in progress in many places. In the Punjab more rain is still wanted in some districts for the kharif crops, otherwise prospects are generally favourable. In the Central Provinces the rain of the past week has much improved prospects, and, if there is more rain, the rice crop in Chhattisgarh will, it is expected, yield from 4 to 6 annas, while other kharif crops will give good outturns. In other parts of the Province, especially in the rice-growing tracts, rain is still badly wanted.

Except from injury caused by floods, the late rice in Bengal promises generally well, but the early crops in flooded tracts in Behar and Tipperah have been much damaged. Excessive rain in places has interfered with harvest operations. Transplanting operations are in progress in Assam, where agricultural prospects are generally fair.

No report has been received from British Burma for the week under notice.

The public health is generally good in all Provinces.

Prices show a tendency to fall in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh and are rising in some districts of the Punjab. Elsewhere they remain generally stationary.

Presidency or Province and District.	Rainfall for week under report.	State of agricultural prospects.

Kistna	Average last week since revised, 1·11; this week, ·58.	Standing crops generally fair, those affected by excessive rain in Deltaic taluks reviving to some extent. River 3·5 feet over anicut. Slight fever; cattle-disease in one taluk.
Chingleput (Madras)	Average ·17	Standing crops fair; harvest wet and dry crops, outturn below average. Small-pox in one, fever in two, and cattle-disease in three taluks.
Coimbatore	Average ·54	Standing crops generally good; cholum, ragi and cumbu in parts suffered from excessive rain; harvest wet and dry grains, outturn generally above average. Fever and small-pox in one taluk.
Tanjore	Average last week since revised, 1·08; this week, 1·21.	Standing crops generally good; harvest wet and dry crops, outturn below average.
Madura	Average ·18	Health of people and cattle generally good.
Malabar	Average 1·27	More rain wanted. Harvest first crop paddy, outturn below average. Fever and cattle-disease in one and slight small-pox in six taluks.
Travancore	·29	Harvest paddy almost over. Fever and small-pox slight in parts. General Remarks.—General prospects good.
Bombay—(Sept. 22nd)
Kurrachee	Nil	River at Kotri on 20th, 14 feet 1 inch against 14 feet 3 inches on same date last year. Fever in nine and cattle-disease in three talukas. Wheat, red rice and bajri in Kurrachee 24, 30 and 34 and in Tatta 24, 37 and 40 pounds per rupee, respectively
Hyderabad	Nil	Kharif cultivation good; corn ripening, and in some talukas harvesting has commenced. River at Kotri on 20th, 14 feet 1 inch against 14 feet 3 inches on same date last year. Fever in five and cattle-disease in three talukas. Wheat 25½, bajri 38 juari 40, white rice 19 and red rice 23 pounds per rupee.
Ahmedabad	Nil	Standing crops good. Rain wanted in some talukas for rice crops. Slight fever in Daskroi and Dholka talukas. Wheat 35, and bajri 32 pounds per rupee.
Baroda	Nil	Fever continues in Naosari and Baroda divisions. Standing crops in good condition. Want of rain is felt in Amreli and Naosari divisions. Bajri 32, wheat 21 and rice 21 pounds per rupee.
Surat	Slight rain in the district—maximum at Surat, 1·52; minimum at Pardi, ·02.	Crops healthy, but some are withering for want of more rain. Small-pox affecting cattle in Mandvi taluka still continues; slight fever in Olpad and Bardoli talukas. Juari 33 and nagli 44 pounds per rupee.

Presidency or Province and District.	Rainfall for week under report.	State of agricultural prospects.
Bombay—contd.
Nasik	Igatpuri, 2·76; maximum at Peint, 11·70; minimum at Malegaon, ·09; none in four talukas.	More rain required for rabi sowing in all talukas. Kharif crops healthy. Public health good. Wheat 30¼, bajri 36½ and rice 20¾ pounds per rupee.
Colaba (Bombay)	Rain every day, except on 15th; total of week, 2·30; total to date 90·17, being 29·91 above average.	Abnormal temperature 1° warm from 15th to 18th, afterwards 1° cool; vapour in air normal; abnormal wind from south-east on 15th and 18th; wind normal in all other days.
Poona	Maximum at Bhimthadi, 2·45; minimum at Baramati Petha, 1·30; light showers elsewhere; nil in Junar.	The late fall of rain has benefited the standing crops. Kharif crops require more rain in Junar, Indapur, Khed, Purandhar and in parts of Sirur, Bhimthadi and Haveli talukas. Public health generally good; slight cattle-disease in Indapur and Haveli talukas. Bajri 38 and juari 54 pounds in the district; bajri 34 and juari 43 pounds per rupee in Poona City.
Ahmednagar	At Nagar, 2·04; Kopargaon, 1·47; Shevgaon, ·15; from ·14 to ·38 in Jamkhed, Shrigaon, Karjat, and Rahuri.	Kharif crops doing well; bajri crops in Jamkhed suffered somewhat from excessive rain; rabi sowing begun in seven talukas. Public health good. Bajri—maximum 60 and minimum 39 and juari—maximum 108 and minimum 48 pounds per rupee.
Sholapur	At Sholapur, ·04; Barsi, 1·20; Madha, ·21; Karmala, ·35.	Kharif crops generally good; rabi sowing commenced in all talukas, except Barsi. Cattle-disease has broken out to some extent in the Barsi and Karmala talukas. Juari 67⅛ and bajri 45¾ pounds per rupee.
Dharwar	Rain in only six talukas, varying from ·29 in Navalgund to 1·09 in Gadag.	Early juari crops still in good state. The necessity of good showers is sadly felt. Rice crops on the verge of withering, but heavy rains may improve them; cotton sowing commenced in almost all the talukas. Cattle-disease in Kalghatgi taluka and Mugud petha. Juari 52 and rice 22 pounds per rupee.
Kanara	At Karwar, ·85; Kumpta, 4·08; Sirsi, ·74; total 129·35.	Rice crops in ear on coast; harvest commenced in Karwar low lands. Cattle-disease in Akola, Kumpta, Honore, Sirsi, Yellapur, Haliyal and Supa petha. Public health good. Common rice at Karwar and district average 13 seers per rupee.
Rajkot	Nil	Weather hot. Fever and cough prevailing in some places. Wheat 34, bajri 30, and juari 43 pounds per rupee.
		General Remarks.—Slight rain in parts of 15 districts, more rain wanted almost everywhere both for standing crops and rabi sowing. The condition of kharif crops generally good. Fever and cattle-disease in parts of eleven districts, and small-pox in parts of one district.
Bengal—(Sept. 22nd)
Chittagong	9·69	Weather seasonable. Prospects of crops generally fair; transplantation continues. Caterpillars causing damage in some places. Prices steady. Public health good.

Rungpore	3·10	Prospects of crops continue good. Fever prevalent.
Burdwan	4·76	Prospects of crops good. Public health good.
Bhagalpur	6·18	Excessive rain has interfered with harvesting of bhadoi paddy and marua-making, outturn of latter crop worse even than expected; late rice doing well, except on some low lands. Public health good.
Purneah	3·45	Injury done to crops on low lands, also to crops already cut by heavy floods. High land crops good. Rivers falling. Public health bad.
Patna	1·54	Paddy crops damaged to some extent by floods in Barh subdivision; reaping of bhadoi crops continues. Public health good.
Durbhunga	0·39	Bhadoi crops saved from late floods being harvested with fair outturn; paddy, except in inundated tracts, doing well. Prices stationary. Public health generally good.
Hazaribagh	1·46	Weather seasonable. Harvesting of bhadoi continues with good results; prospects of rice and other crops good. General health good; cattle-disease reported from some police stations.
Cuttack	6.33	Reaping of early rice continues; late rice much benefited by recent rain. Price of rice falling. Public health generally good.
Midnapore	3·15	Prospects of crops very fair all over the district.
Khoolna	1·65	Weather hot and cloudy. Aus paddy being harvested, outturn favourable; transplanting of aman continues. A little fever at Satkhira; public health good.
Dinagepore	Heavy rain throughout district, 3·17.	Prospects of crops good; aus and jute being harvested. Fever prevalent; cattle-disease in several thanas.

Presidency or Province and District.	Rainfall for week under report.	State of agricultural prospects.
Bengal—contd.

Cawnpore („ „)	·30 in one tahsil	Crops in good condition. Prices steady. Cattle-disease in three parganas; fever in places.
Ballia („ „)	Slight rain	Juari, sawan and rice being cut; sugarcane doing well. Some cholera reported, otherwise health good.
Farakhabad („ „)	Slight showers in some places.	Prospects continue good. Prices stationary. Fever prevalent, but less than usual; cholera nearly disappeared.
Sitapur („ „)	Slight rain	Rabi ploughing commenced. Slight cattle-disease in one tahsil.
Bareilly („ „)	Nil	Rains appear over. Weather clear, with westerly winds. Ripe crops somewhat injured by heavy rains of last week. Cholera somewhat diminishing; fever very prevalent.
Banda („ 20th)	Nil	Cotton and til flowering; rabi ploughings continue. Prices steady. Public health good, except usual fever; cattle-disease disappearing.
Kumaon („ „)	Nil	Weather fine. Rice and millet being cut in most parts. Prices falling. Some cattle-disease still continues; general health fair.
Agra („ „)	Nil	Fine clear weather during the week. Crops being cut; rabi ploughings in progress. Prices steady. Fever prevalent.
Jhansi („ „)	Nil	Weeding operations in active progress. More rain wanted in Jhansi Pargana. Supplies ample. Slight cattle-disease; usual autumnal fever.
Meerut („ 21st)	Nil	Days hot; nights and mornings cool. Rabi ploughings in progress; agricultural prospects good. Supplies sufficient. No variation in prices. Fever has not abated.
		General Remarks.—Rainfall lighter during week. Weather now more settled. Harvesting operations in progress, and ground being prepared in many places for the rabi, prospects good. Supplies ample. Prices show a tendency to fall. Public health generally fair; cholera nearly disappeared; fever diminishing; cattle-disease reported from a few districts.
Punjab—(Sept. 21st)
Hissar	Nil	Health good. Prices rising rapidly.
Delhi	Nil	Health fair. Prices slightly rising.
Umballa	·17	Health fair. Prices stationary.
Jullundur	Nil	Health good. Prices stationary. Prospects good.
Ferozepore	Nil	Health good. Prices stationary.
Amritsar	Nil	Health good. Prices stationary.
Sialkot	·50 in tahsil Zaffarwal only.	Crops flourishing. Health good. Prices stationary.
Lahore	Nil	Health good. Prices stationary.
Mooltan	Nil	Health good. Prices stationary. Prospects average.
Rawalpindi	·10	Health good. Prices rising. Prospects average.

Presidency or Province and District.	Rainfall for week under report.	State of agricultural prospects.
Punjab—contd.
Shahpur	Slight rain in tahsils Shahpur and Bhera.	Health good. Prices rising.
Dera Ismail Khan	Nil	Health good. Prices almost stationary.
Peshawar	Nil	Health good. Prices almost stationary. Prospects good on irrigated lands.
		General Remarks.—Rain has fallen in the Umballa, Rawalpindi and Shahpur districts, more wanted in the Hissar, Delhi, Ferozepore, Lahore, Shahpur and Peshawar districts. General health good; slight fever in the Amritsar district. Prices rising in the Hissar, Delhi, Rawalpindi and Shahpur districts; elsewhere stationary. Kharif crops suffering for want of rain in the Hissar and Ferozepore districts.
Central Provinces—(Sept. 22nd)
Nagpur	·24	Weather clear and warm. Rain wanted. Fever prevalent; cattle-disease in places. Prices steady.
Jubbulpore	Nil	Rain wanted. Rice languishing on high land, other crops favourable. Health fair; small-pox in places. Prices steady.

Director General of Railways' No. 704T., dated 21st August 1886.

Abstract Returns of Accidents to trains, &c., on the open lines of Railway in India for the quarter ended 31st March 1886.

OBSERVATIONS.—As compared with the corresponding quarter of the previous year, the number of accidents to trains, rolling-stock, permanent-way, &c., shows a decrease of 152 or 22·16 per cent. against an increase of 375·25 miles or 3·18 per cent. in the mean mileage open, and of 200,744 miles or 1·76 per cent. in the train-mileage. The following are the Railways on which the numbers chiefly vary :—

Railway.	Accidents.				Train Mileage.
	Increase.	Decrease.	Percentage of increase.	Percentage of decrease.	Percentage of increase.	Percentage of decrease.
	No.	No.
East Indian	17	...	65·38	...	3·41	...
Rajputana-Malwa	...	27	...	36·00	5·33	...
Southern Mahratta	...	10	...	50·00	127·85	...
North-Western	...	106	...	70·67	...	3·41
Eastern Bengal	..	39	...	41 94	5·07	...
Northern Bengal	10	...	41 67	...	...	0·09
South Indian	11	...	29·73	...	2·54	...
Great Indian Peninsula	...	33	...	40·24	...	12·57

2. Besides the above there were 21 accidents on the Jorhat Railway, from which line no returns had been received for the first quarter of 1885.

3. The largest increase was on the East Indian Railway; but looking at the particular headings under which the accidents occurred, there is nothing to call for special note in connection with the increase.

4. On the Rajputana-Malwa Railway the decrease chiefly took place under "Trains running into stations or sidings at too high a speed," "Trains running over cattle on the line" and "Broken rails," the number of accidents recorded under these heads being 1, 23 and nil against 8, 31 and 6 respectively.

5. The largest decrease on the North-Western Railway is due to the absence of any accidents under "Goods trains or parts of goods trains, engines, &c., leaving the rails," "Trains running over obstructions on the line," "The bursting of boilers or tubes, &c., of engines," "The failure of machinery, springs, &c., of engines," "Failure of couplings" and "Other accidents," while in the corresponding quarter of 1885 the accidents classed under these heads numbered 82 in all.

6. Of the decrease of 39 accidents on the Eastern Bengal Railway 26 were under "Trains running over cattle on the line" and 9 under "Failure of machinery, springs, &c., of engines."

7. On the Southern Mahratta, Northern Bengal and South Indian Railways there was no large increase or decrease under any particular class of accidents.

8. On the Great Indian Peninsula Railway the decrease mainly occurred under "Fire in trains," the number of accidents returned being 17 against 37. The number of "Goods trains or parts of goods trains, engines, &c., leaving the rails" also shows a decrease from 13 to 8.

9. The casualties resulting from accidents to trains, &c., were, among passengers and others, 6 injured against 3 killed and 22 injured, and among servants, 11 injured against 6 killed and 11 injured. It appears from the returns that of these casualties 3 passengers were slightly injured on the East Indian Railway by the outgoing engine of a passenger train having been backed against the train with considerable force at Asansol on the 26th March 1886; 3 servants were injured—1 slightly and 2 seriously—by an accident to a lorry on the Great Indian Peninsula Railway on the 18th February 1886; 3 passengers and 2 servants were injured by a collision between an up and a down mixed train on the Oudh and Rohilkhand Railway on the 28th March

1886, owing to both the trains having been, through the carelessness of the station staff, turned on the same line; and 4 coolies were injured—2 seriously and 2 slightly—by the derailment of some trucks of a ballast train on the Bengal and North-Western Railway on the 25th January 1886.

10. The following table exhibits the number of accidents under the different classes, and the number of persons killed and injured thereby :—

	Number of accidents.	Number of passengers and others.		Number of servants.		Total.
		Killed.	Injured.	Killed.	Injured.	Killed.	Injured.

Other accidents	32	...	...	...	3	...	3
Total	534	...	6	...	11	...	17

11. The number of cases of "Goods trains, or parts of goods trains, engines, &c., leaving the rails" shows a decrease from 77 to 45, or of 32. On the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway there was only 1 accident under this head against 11 in the corresponding quarter of 1885; on the Great Indian Peninsula Railway 8 against 13; on the Bengal and North-Western Railway 1 against 5; and on the North-Western Railway nil against 11.

12. The cattle accidents numbered 197 against 226, the decrease being mainly due to the number of cases on the Eastern Bengal Railway being only 28 against 54.

13. Under "Bursting of boilers, or tubes, &c., of engines" there has been a considerable decrease, the number of accidents being 9 against 27. It is noteworthy that no accident of this kind occurred on the North-Western Railway during the quarter under review, although there were no less than 21 such cases recorded against that line in the corresponding quarter of 1885.

14. The number of "Failures of machinery, springs, &c., of engines," also shows a decrease of 13 or 24 per cent., owing chiefly to the absence of any accident on the North-Western Railway against 20 in the corresponding quarter of 1885, and to there being only 6 accidents against 15 on the Eastern Bengal Railway. The accidents of this class were the most numerous on the Jorhat Railway, the number being 14 or one-third of the total number.

15. Out of 7 cases of "Failure of axles," 5 occurred on the Rajputana-Malwa Railway; and of 30 cases of "Failure of couplings," 6 occurred on the Rajputana-Malwa, and 9 on the Eastern Bengal Railway. The return of the North-Western Railway does not show a single accident under the latter head, while in that for the first quarter of 1885, 12 such accidents were recorded.

16. Under "Fire in trains" the number of cases diminished from 78 to 55, of which 16 or 29 per cent. occurred on the North-Western Railway and 17 or 31 per cent. on the Great Indian Peninsula Railway. On the latter line, however, there has been a decrease of 20 accidents or 54 per cent. under this head.

17. The number of accidents classed as "Other accidents" was the largest on the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway, being 15 out of a total of 32.

18. The casualties to passengers from causes other than accidents to trains, &c., were—

	Killed.	Injured.
From falling between carriages and platforms	...	6
Falling on to the platform, ballast, &c., when getting into or out of trains	1	4
Whilst crossing the line at stations	2	1
Falling out of carriages during the travelling of trains	5	18
Other accidents	2	6
TOTAL	10	35

19. The accidents to servants in the employ of Railways, or of contractors, whilst performing duties connected directly with the transit of passengers and goods, from causes other than accidents to trains, &c., were—

	Killed.	Injured.
During shunting operations	3	13
Falling off engines, vans, wagons, &c.	...	11
Coming in contact with over-bridges, &c., during the travelling of trains	...	2
Coming in contact, while shunting, with vehicles, &c., standing in adjoining lines	...	3
Getting on or off trains, engines, &c.	6	12
Whilst loading, unloading or sheeting	2	16
Whilst braking, spragging or chocking wheels	...	1
Whilst working at cranes or capstans	...	2
Whilst working on the permanent-way or in sidings	1	6
Whilst walking along the line on the way home or to work	1	1
Whilst walking, crossing or standing on the line	4	9
Whilst passing between vehicles	1	2
Whilst attending to the machinery of engines, cleaning them, &c.	...	3
Falling off ladders, scaffolds, platforms, &c.	...	4
By falling of lamps, wagon doors, timber, weights, &c.	1	5
Whilst coupling or uncoupling wagons	1	12
Miscellaneous	2	22
TOTAL	22	124

20. Of other persons killed and injured by running trains, &c., 3 were killed and 1 injured whilst passing over the line at level crossings; 29 were killed and 14 injured whilst trespassing on the line; 6 committed suicide and 1 was injured in attempting to commit suicide; and 3 were killed and 2 injured from miscellaneous causes.

21. The following table shows the total number of persons killed and injured from causes connected with the working of trains, as compared with the corresponding quarter of 1885:—

First quarter, 1885.		First quarter, 1886.			First quarter, 1885.		First quarter, 1886.

22. In addition to the above, 13 persons are reported to have been killed and 33 injured in yards, workshops, &c., and 98 passengers to have met death in carriages and at stations from causes unconnected with the working o trains.

RESOLUTION.—The attention of the Chief Commissioner of Assam should be invited to the large number of accidents on the Jorhat State Railway, especially to those due to the failures of machinery, springs, &c., of engines. The attention of the Director General of Railways should also be invited to the large decrease in the number of accidents on the North-Western Railway, as it appears to the Government of India that the decreases are probably due not so much to fewer accidents as to the omission to report certain classes of accidents which it has hitherto been usual to report.

ORDER.—Ordered, that this Resolution, with the Abstract Returns, be communicated to the Local Governments, Administrations and Officers noted in the margin, for information.

The Governments of Madras, Bombay, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and the Punjab.
The Chief Commissioners of the Central Provinces, Burma and Assam.
The Residents, Hyderabad and Mysore.
The Agents to the Governor General for Central India, Rajputana and Baluchistan.
The Director General of Railways.
The Consulting Engineers to the Government of India for Guaranteed Railways.

Ordered also, that copies be forwarded to the Secretary of State for the information of Her Majesty's Government.

Ordered further, that this Resolution, with the Abstract Returns, be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

ABSTRACT OF THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNCIL OF THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA, ASSEMBLED FOR THE PURPOSE OF MAKING LAWS AND REGULATIONS UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF THE ACT OF PARLIAMENT 24 & 25 VIC., CAP. 67.

The Council met at Viceregal Lodge, Simla, on Friday, the 24th September, 1886.

PRESENT:

His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General of India, K.P., G.C.B., G.C.M.G., G.M.S.I., G.M.I.E., P.C., presiding.
His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, LL.D., K.C.S.I., C.I.E.
His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, Bart., G.C.B., C.I.E., V.C.
The Hon'ble C. P. Ilbert, C.S.I., C.I.E.
The Hon'ble Sir T. C. Hope, K.C.S.I., C.I.E.
The Hon'ble Sir A. Colvin, K.C.M.G., C.I.E.
The Hon'ble Major-General G. T. Chesney, R.E., C.S.I., C.I.E.
The Hon'ble J. W. Quinton.
The Hon'ble Colonel W. G. Davies, C.S.I.
The Hon'ble Rana Shankar Baksh Singh Bahadur, C.I.E.

ACT XXXVI OF 1858 AMENDMENT BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT moved that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend Act XXXVI of 1858 (an Act relating to Lunatic Asylums) be taken into consideration. He said: —

"This is a Bill which was introduced by my friend Sir Steuart Bayley last December with the object of removing a slight defect in the Lunatic Asylums Act. The Bill as introduced was approved by the local authorities, but certain additional amendments of the Act were suggested by the Governments of Bengal and the Punjab, and it was thought desirable to make a further reference on these suggestions. After considering the replies to this further reference we have added to the Bill clauses expressly legalising the detention of supposed lunatics for a limited time for purposes of observation, and also removing an inconvenience pointed out by the Punjab Government which had been caused by the requirement that lunatics who are Natives of India should in all cases be sent to an asylum at the Presidency. The reasons for these modifications of the Bill are explained in the Report of the Select Committee, and I need not add to the explanations which are to be found there."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT also moved that the Bill, as amended, be passed.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR'S (N.-W. P.) FUNCTIONS BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT also moved that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to legalize the discharge by the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces of certain functions assigned to the Governor General in Council be taken into consideration. He said:—

"The passing of this Bill has been delayed for some time because it was proposed to add to it a section validating the exercise by the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces of certain powers under a Regulation of 1803, which he appears to have exercised without question during the forty years that elapsed between the constitution of his office and the repeal of the Regulation.

The proposal was quite reasonable, but there was at the time that it was made just a possibility that its adoption might affect the interests of some parties to a suit then pending, and accordingly the further progress of the Bill was postponed. There is now, so far as I am aware, no litigation before any Court which can be influenced by the addition of the proposed section, and therefore it has been added to the Bill.

"We have also removed from the schedule to the Bill a Regulation of 1800, to which reference has been made unnecessary by the passing of the little Act of this year about the Mirzápur stone-quarries."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT also moved that the Bill, as amended, be passed.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

BURMA INDIGENOUS TRIBES PROTECTION BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT also introduced the Bill to provide for the protection of Indigenous Tribes in Burma, and moved that it be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Sir A. Colvin, the Hon'ble Mr. Quinton and the Mover.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT also moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the British Burma Gazette in English and in such other languages as the Local Administration thinks fit.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

UPPER BURMA LAWS BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT also presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to declare the law in force in Upper Burma, remarking that, though it was only formally laid on the table on that day, it had been in the hands of hon'ble members for the last few days; and under those circumstances he had no hesitation in asking that it should be taken into consideration at once. It was desirable, for administrative reasons, that there should be no avoidable delay in the passing of the Bill.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT also moved that the Report be taken into consideration. He said:—

"When introducing this Bill in July last, I said that its object was to lay the foundation of a system of law for Upper Burma, and I explained the system under which that Province had been provisionally administered under British rule. Since then I have seen statements to the effect that the provisions of the law have been totally ignored in Upper Burma, and that the people of that Province have been deprived of the safeguards against injustice to which they are legally entitled. As such statements are calculated to convey an entirely erroneous impression of the facts, it may be desirable that I should, at the risk of repetition, describe again the nature of the provisional administration which this measure and the Regulations by which it is to be supplemented are intended to supersede. That administration has been conducted in accordance with certain provisional instructions, which were framed by Sir Charles Bernard and approved by the Government of India. The object of those instructions was to apply to Upper Burma the provisions of the Indian Codes so far as they were applicable to the circumstances of the country and suitable to the customs and habits of the people. Certain variations from the precise procedure laid down by the Codes were considered necessary. Among the most important of these variations was the substitution for the method of appeals provided by the Codes of a system of review and revision by superior authorities. With the view of securing regularity of procedure and guarding against failures of justice, special stress was laid on the exercise of the powers of review and revision thus conferred, and all those who are familiar with the administration of justice in frontier tracts are aware how much better these powers are adapted to the circumstances of such tracts than the ordinary procedure of appeal provided by the Codes. I need not go through the other variations between the instructions and the Codes. They are all of a similar character, and such as were rendered necessary by the exceptional and transitional state of things with which we had to deal.

"I believe that these instructions have worked satisfactorily, and have proved to be well adapted to their purpose. Careful inquiry has been made into all cases in which officers of the British Administration have been charged with oppressive conduct, or abuse of the powers entrusted to them; and the result of the inquiry has been in each case to show that the charge either had been grossly exaggerated or had no foundation in fact. As to one point there can be no room for doubt, namely, that, notwithstanding the difficulties with which our officers have had to contend, the administration of justice in Upper Burma under British rule has constituted an immense advance on anything which existed under the late regime.

"I am aware that the 'instructions' are open to technical objections, on the ground that certain Indian Acts, including the general Codes, were extended to Upper Burma by the mere fact of its incorporation in the Indian Empire, and that the instructions issued last spring are not in precise accordance with those Acts. But it was obviously impossible to work those Acts immediately and without modification in a Province so situated as Upper Burma. The choice practically lay between adherence to the letter of the law and observance of its spirit, and we preferred the latter course. In asking the Council, as I do by this Bill, to give retrospective validity to the provisional instructions of last spring, I confidently affirm that I am not asking them to condone any act, omission or practice inconsistent with the substantial interests of justice.

"I have said that the law embodied in this Bill will be supplemented by Regulations under the Statute of 1870. Until this Bill has been passed, there will be no authority competent to submit those Regulations in the manner required by the Statute. But much time has been devoted to them during the last few months; they have been carefully considered by the Government of India in consultation with the local authorities; they are now in a very forward state of preparation; and I believe that a very short time will elapse before they become law. When it is remembered how long a period elapsed before anything like a settled system of law was introduced into such Provinces as Oudh and the Punjab, it will be seen that the Government is not chargeable with undue delay in the performance of its task of providing a Code of laws suitable to the circumstances of its new Province.

"To return to the Bill. The alterations made by the Select Committee are neither numerous nor important, and are all, or nearly all, based on suggestions made by Sir Charles Bernard after consultation with his officers.

"There are certain provisions of the Bill which ought to come into force simultaneously with the Regulations to which I have referred, and we have therefore postponed their operation for a period which will not, I hope, exceed a few weeks. We have also defined somewhat more precisely the local area to which certain parts of the Bill are to apply. There is no present intention of importing British law into the Shan States, and therefore we have excluded those States from the operation of the laws which we declare in force in Upper Burma, merely reserving a power, which may possibly be useful hereafter, to introduce into any portions of those States such laws, if any, as may be required. We have made a few additional modifications in the Acts scheduled for application to Upper Burma in the narrower sense of the word, and we have made a few additions to the list of those Acts. But, as will be seen from our Report, none of these alterations are of any material importance, and the Bill which I am asking the Council to pass is, in all its substantial features, that which was introduced last July."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT also moved that the Bill, as amended, be passed.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

MILITARY COURTS OF REQUESTS ABOLITION BILL.

The Hon'ble MAJOR-GENERAL CHESNEY moved for leave to introduce a Bill to abolish Military Courts of Requests as established by Indian Military Law. He said:—

"Courts of Requests were first established in India by a Regulation of the year 1810, and the object was stated to be to afford means to sutlers and others of obtaining a remedy in case of debt against military officers and soldiers and also to encourage sutlers and others to settle in military cantonments. The law was first recognized by the English Statute Law in 1825; at that time practically a sutler or trader in a camp had no remedy against an officer or soldier for the recovery of small claims, and these Courts were established only to afford such means of remedy. But in course of time, as Small Cause Courts have extended throughout India, the necessity for separate Courts of this kind no longer exists; in fact, the Courts are merely the relic of a state of things which has long passed away, and moreover, as stated in the Statement of Objects and Reasons, Military Courts of Requests are in many respects more severe than either the English law contemplates or the Government of India would now be prepared to allow if legislating in the first instance. It is therefore proposed to abolish Military Courts of Requests, so far as such abolition is not repugnant to the provisions of the English Army Act.

"The Statement of Objects and Reasons explains the nature of the proposed Bill."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MAJOR-GENERAL CHESNEY also introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble MAJOR-GENERAL CHESNEY also moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the Gazette of India in English and in the local official Gazettes in English and in such other languages as the Local Governments think fit.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

OUDH WASIKAS BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. QUINTON moved that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to declare certain allowances collectively known as Oudh Wasikas to be pensions within the meaning of the Pensions Act, 1871, be taken into consideration. He said:—

"The Select Committee have altered the Bill in two points. They have, firstly, omitted those portions of it which contained any reference to the 5th Oudh loan, as the Local Government have brought to their notice that there are no pensions under that loan now remaining, all allowances or pensions payable on account of it having been commuted in accordance with the terms of the treaty under which the loan was made.

"Secondly, they have re-drafted section 2 of the Bill so as to make it clear that the allowances are declared to be within the meaning of the Pensions Act with no ulterior object but only for the limited purpose of barring the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts in respect of claims relating to these allowances except on certain conditions, and of protecting them from attachment at the instance of creditors.

"There is nothing novel in these provisions. They have in effect been acted on since the annexation of Oudh, and rules on these matters were drawn up under section 14 of the Pensions Act of 1871, the applicability of which to the Wasika allowances has only within a recent period been the subject of doubt. In the Statement of Objects and Reasons I intimated that the legislation respecting the Táj Mahal's pension in 1880 suggested a question as to Wasikas being pensions within the meaning of the Pensions Act of 1871; and a year or two ago, Mr. Young, then the officiating and now the substantive Judicial Commissioner of Oudh, ruled that these allowances were liable to attachment under civil decrees as being outside the Pensions Act. On the correctness of this judgment I offer no opinion, but it is opposed to the practice which has obtained under the orders of Government for 30 years, and, unless that practice was inexpedient, has rendered legislation inevitable in the interests of the Wasikadárs themselves. The Government believes, however, that the practice which has hitherto obtained is salutary, that these allowances should not become the subject of litigation in the Civil Courts, and that the holders of them should not be reduced to destitution by the attachment of them in execution of civil decrees.

"The letter of the Commissioner of Lucknow printed as a paper on the Bill, memorials received by the Select Committee and by the Government, and notices of the measure in the public Press show nevertheless that the scope of the Bill has been misapprehended, and that in many quarters a notion prevails that under cover of this enactment Government intend to facilitate the resumption or reduction of Wasikas at some future time and to appropriate funds for which they are bound to account as trustee.

"As to the former point I hope the explanation I have just given of the meaning and effect of the Bill will dispel all misunderstanding; and as to the latter, if I am called upon to notice such imputations, I can only say that the Bill makes no alteration in the position of Government in respect of these allowances, and that all courses now open to claimants against Government on account of them will be equally open to them after the Bill becomes law."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. QUINTON also moved that the Bill, as amended, be passed.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

OUDH RENT BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. QUINTON also presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to Rent in Oudh.

The Council adjourned to Thursday, the 30th September, 1886.

S. HARVEY JAMES,
Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of India,
Legislative Department.

SIMLA;
The 30th September, 1886.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

REPORTS ON THE STATE OF THE SEASON AND PROSPECTS OF THE CROPS FOR THE WEEK ENDING 29th SEPTEMBER, 1886.

GENERAL REMARKS.—Except in the Central and Southern Divisions of the Bombay Presidency, where there has been a slight fall, and in Mysore, Coorg, Bengal, Assam, and Lower Burma, there has been little or no rain during the week under report.

The kharif crops in Bombay, the Central Provinces, Hyderabad, Berar, Central India, and Rajputana, are in considerable need of more rain, but, so far, the prospects are not unfavourable. In the North-Western Provinces and Oudh the kharif crops are good, and the harvest has commenced in some places. In Madras the standing crops are generally in good condition.

The rice crop in Bombay requires more rain; and in the Central Provinces it has suffered greatly from the long break in the weather. In Bengal the early rice is being harvested, and, except in inundated tracts, the yield is good; the winter rice generally promises well. In Lower Burma the rice crop is healthy and prospects are good.

Rabi operations have commenced in Bombay, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the Central Provinces, Hyderabad, and Rajputana, and sowings have been made in places.

The public health continues satisfactory in all Provinces.

Prices are rising in the Central Provinces and falling in Coorg. Elsewhere they are generally stationary.

ABSTRACT OF THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNCIL OF THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA, ASSEMBLED FOR THE PURPOSE OF MAKING LAWS AND REGULATIONS UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF THE ACT OF PARLIAMENT 24 & 25 VIC., CAP. 67.

The Council met at Viceregal Lodge, Simla, on Thursday, the 30th September, 1886.

PRESENT:

His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General of India, K.P., G.C.B., G.C.M.G., G.M.S.I., G.M.I.E., P.C., presiding.

His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, LL.D., K.C.S.I., C.I.E.

His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, Bart., G.C.B., C.I.E., V.C.

The Hon'ble C. P. Ilbert, C.S.I., C.I.E.

The Hon'ble Sir T. C. Hope, K.C.S.I., C.I.E.

The Hon'ble Sir A. Colvin, K.C.M.G., C.I.E.

The Hon'ble Major-General G. T. Chesney, R.E., C.S.I., C.I.E.

The Hon'ble J. W. Quinton.

The Hon'ble Colonel W. G. Davies, C.S.I.

The Hon'ble Rana Shankar Baksh Singh Bahadur, C.I.E.

MILITARY COURTS OF REQUESTS ABOLITION BILL.

The Hon'ble MAJOR-GENERAL CHESNEY moved that the Bill to abolish Military Courts of Requests as established by Indian Military Law be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Ilbert, the Hon'ble Mr. Peile and the Mover.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

OUDH RENT BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. QUINTON moved that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to Rent in Oudh be taken into consideration. He said:—

"I would ask Council to give me their attention while I attempt to describe briefly the course which the Bill has taken since it was referred to the Select Committee, and to account for some of the more important changes in it which we recommend. I shall pass over those points which will be discussed on the amendments standing on the paper in the name of my hon'ble friend Rana Shankar Baksh Singh.

"The Bill was duly published for the information of those concerned; it was sent to the Government of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh for a further expression of opinion; and that Government in turn invited on it the opinions of selected officers. Further, a committee of the Taluqdárs Association assembled at Lucknow in August and discussed the measure in great detail among themselves and in almost daily consultation with the Government—His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor having come down from Naini Tal and remained at Lucknow a fortnight for this purpose. I would also remind Council that the enquiries which led to Government's undertaking this legislation began so far back as 1881, and that the main principles of the Bill have been under discussion for the past three years.

"The Bill as finally settled by the Select Committee is the outcome of these consultations and discussions, and is based almost entirely on the recommendations of the Local Government, which in preparing the measure has paid great regard to the representations of the Taluqdárs, who as landlords own three-fifths of the soil of the Province. Those gentlemen are entitled to great credit for the loyalty and public spirit with which they have advanced to meet the wishes of Government in devising measures for the protection of the tenantry, and this attitude of theirs has naturally secured for their representations the most favourable consideration consistent with securing the objects of the Bill both with the Local Government and the Select Committee. The amendments to be brought forward today by my hon'ble friend will show that, except in a few points,—and those by no means the most important regulated by the Bill,—the Taluqdárs have little fault to find with it.

"Section 4 of the Bill as introduced barred contracts made before or after the passing of the Act, which would have the effect of defeating the provisions of the Bill respecting the enhancement of rents and ejectment of tenants in whose favour statutory tenancies were created.

"My hon'ble friend Rana Shankar Baksh Singh in his speech on the motion to refer to Select Committee, and the Association of the Taluqdárs at Lucknow, objected to the section as too general, and as making no allowance for reclamation-leases in jungle and alluvial lands, and for reclamations effected by or at the expense of the landlords. Similar representations were also made on behalf of persons on whom Government had conferred grants of waste-land in Oudh. These grants had been made on special conditions, which for the most part contemplated or required a gradual extension of the cultivation. The fairness of the objections was admitted by the Lieutenant-Governor and the Select Committee, and the section has been amended so as to exclude from its operation for a period of fourteen years contracts in respect of land brought under cultivation by reclamation-leases or at the expense of the landlords after it has lain waste or fallow for periods exceeding seven years. It will not, we believe, pay a landlord to allow land to lie fallow for seven years in order to get round the provisions of the Bill respecting enhancement of rent and ejectment; and, on the other hand, a landlord would, in most cases, have great difficulty in obtaining at first from tenants admitted to the cultivation of such land a rent which would be at all fair or adequate for a period of seven years. As we have amended the section, a landlord will be able to let the land at progressive rents agreed upon between the parties.

"The same principles apply to alluvial lands which are periodically surveyed by Government in order to determine what alterations should be made in the revenue, and to waste-land grants; but we have on the suggestion of the Lieutenant-Governor, and in view of the exceptional and fluctuating nature of their cultivation, included these two classes of land in Schedule D of the Bill, which will have the effect of taking them out of the operation of the sections relating to enhancement and ejectment. In alluvial tracts cultivation may vary from year to year, and in waste-land grants the special conditions on which they were made have given rise to a system of cultivation with which interference is not necessary or desirable.

"Compensation for disturbance has disappeared from the Bill. When this Bill was last before Council I endeavoured to give some reasons why the Taluqdárs' objections to this principle should not be insisted on, and Your Excellency explained that under similar circumstances the payment of compensation for disturbance to a tenant in Ireland implied no acknowledgment by the landlord of a right of permanent occupancy in the tenant's favour, and that the injury sustained by unexpected ejectment entailed upon the tenant the loss not merely of his improvements but a further loss occasioned by the disturbance introduced into his plan of life and his industrial undertakings. The Hon'ble Sir Steuart Bayley argued to the same effect, but admitted that there were other objections from a landlord's point of view which made him reserve his final opinion; and it was estimated both by him and by myself that, if security for the objects aimed at by the Bill could be attained by any other method, such a proposal would receive favourable consideration. My hon'ble friend Rana Shankar Baksh Singh stoutly opposed the provision in Council, and, in the discussions with the Taluqdárs at Lucknow to which I have already alluded, these gentlemen adhered to their previous objections, and were not influenced by the arguments used here and by the Lieutenant-Governor in support of the principle. They recognized, however, the necessity for some check on the issue of notices of eviction which had for the last eighteen years been largely used as an engine for enhancement. After long discussion the Taluqdárs tendered as an alternative to compensation for disturbance the plan now embodied in the Bill, which is briefly this, that notices of ejectment issued upon tenants ordinarily entitled to a renewal of the statutory tenancy created by the Act should bear a stamp-duty equivalent to half a year's rent of the holdings, subject to a maximum of Rs. 25. The Local Government and the Select Committee are not insensible to the objections which may be brought against this proposal. They feel that it confers no direct benefit on the ousted tenant, and they are aware that it may, and probably will, expose Government to the imputation of attempting to make money out of ejectments. As to the first point, the truth of the allegation and the force of the argument must be admitted. The landlords, however, protested most urgently against being obliged to pay compensation to a tenant whom it was every one's interest to get rid of on account of turbulence or bad behaviour; and the Select Committee, recognizing the justice of this aspect of the case, can only hope that the existence of the provision in the law will render ejectments the exception and not the rule, and subject to eviction only tenants to whom that process can be applied with advantage to their neighbours and to the improvement of the cultivation of the soil. With reference to what fell from Your Excellency as to the disturbance of the raiyat's plan of life and industrial undertakings caused by unexpected eviction, I may point out that the Bill improves to some extent the condition of the tenant in this respect. Under the existing law he can be turned out on a month's notice, while the Bill fixes the term for such a notice at six months.

"The imputation of cupidity against Government is one on which my hon'ble friend Sir Auckland Colvin, who on a recent occasion displayed a nervous solicitude for the reputation of a Finance Member, will doubtless feel sensitive, and I shall leave him to deal with it, as it affects the Government of India. As to the Local Government, I cannot do better than read to the Council the views of Sir Alfred Lyall already quoted in our Report:—

'So far as this Government is concerned, there is no desire' whatever to increase the stamp-revenue at the landlord's expense, or to impose any additional costs of this kind upon transactions between landlord and tenant. The Lieutenant-Governor would certainly not have proposed, for his own part, to turn compensation into a tax; and he has no doubt that it would, on principle, have been better to adhere to the simple and logical provision which would prevent a landlord from ejecting a tenant until he also gave him some indemnity.

'Nevertheless, when this alternative is put forward and supported by the Association, and since it has become clear that the Taluqdárs unanimously prefer to pay stamp-duty rather than compensation to the tenant, while undoubtedly the stamp-duty would answer the purpose of a check on ejectment as effectively as a compensation-payment at the same rate, the Lieutenant-Governor feels bound to accept and submit to His Excellency the Governor General in Council this proposal as an admissible compromise upon an important and closely-debated provision of the Bill.'

"It is believed by Sir Alfred Lyall, after consulting many officers of experience, that the necessity for paying half a year's rent will probably act as a sufficient check upon inconsiderate and injurious evictions; and he is further of opinion that a varying stamp-duty is better than a fixed one, which, if of high value, would be prohibitive of the ejectment of smaller tenants, among whom there is the greatest probability of finding indifferent cultivators and bad characters. I may add that the scale of compensation for disturbance originally proposed, namely, one year's rent, was very powerfully criticised as oppressive to the landlords when taken in connection with the limitation of enhancement and the period of the statutory tenancies proposed by the Bill; though, had there been no such limitations on enhancement, it would not fall heavily. This argument it might have been impossible for us altogether to ignore had the original proposal been adhered to.

"In the debate on the second reading of the Bill, it was intimated by Your Excellency that the payment of compensation for disturbance might be neutralised by a grant of an eight years' lease. Compensation for disturbance, as I have already said, has disappeared from the Bill, but we have applied the same principle to the substitute proposed for it, and have made this clear by a section (69) inserted for the first time. A lease of a holding for eight years or upwards must, as regards enhancement, be in conformity with the provisions of the Bill, but exempts the landlord from liability to pay what I may call the penal stamp-duty imposed on notices of ejectment. A landlord wishing to eject a tenant on the expiration of an eight years' lease need not pay such stamp-duty.

"Section 129 of the Bill as introduced gave the Local Government power to revise and settle for a period of ten years the rents of an estate suffering from grave mismanagement. This power was meant to formulate the conditions on which the Government might enforce the penalties of the sanads by which Taluqdárs hold their estates, and might also, it was thought, prove not unacceptable to those landlords as substituting for vague conditions enforceable at the will of the Executive Government a more definite stipulation and penalty regulated by law. This expectation, however, turned out to be ill-founded. The Taluqdárs objected very strongly to the section, and preferred to lie under the sword of Damocles in the shape of the sanad to being relieved in the manner proposed of the risk of its falling on their necks. In view of this and of the safeguards provided by the Bill against oppressive enhancement, Sir Alfred Lyall considers it unnecessary to ask the legislature to arm the Executive Government with this authority by special enactment, and, in deference to this opinion, the Select Committee propose the omission of the section. They wish it, however, to be clearly understood that this omission in their opinion in no way affects the efficacy and force of the sanads, the obligations imposed on the Taluqdárs by those instruments or the power of the Executive Government to judge whether the conditions of the grant have been infringed and to inflict the penalty attached to such infringement."

The Hon'ble RANA SHANKAR BAKSH SINGH addressed the Council in the Vernacular, a translation of his remarks being read by the Secretary as follows:—

"With Your Lordship's permission I humbly beg to offer a few remarks on the Oudh Rent Bill as amended by the Select Committee and submitted to this Hon'ble Council for consideration and final disposal.

"When the Bill was initiated it could hardly be expected that such important, difficult and intricate questions as it involved would be so easily and promptly settled. But the difficulties, which then appeared to be almost insurmountable, have, I am glad to say, been successfully removed; and this desirable end has been achieved no less through the especial attention bestowed on the subject by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, and the keen interest taken by His Honour in the discussion and settlement of details, than through the peaceful disposition and loyal conduct of the Taluqdárs.

"I think I need scarcely remind this Hon'ble Council how the Taluqdárs had, subject to certain important exceptions, accepted the two main principles of the Bill,—I mean the rules about the seven years' lease, and the limitation of enhancement to one anna in the rupee,—and how the Local Government had consented to expunge section 129 of the original Bill and the rule about compensation for disturbance. But, in order to more effectually check evictions, it was subsequently resolved that a stamp-duty be levied on all ejectment-notices, and that, if the landlord desired to be exempted from the payment of such duty, he should be allowed to grant a longer lease. The last plan was suggested by Your Excellency in the speech on the Rent Bill made on the 9th June last.

"The way these points were settled may be readily ascertained from the correspondence on the subject, and need not be explained here. After the more important questions had been satisfactorily settled, the minor objections of the Taluqdárs were considered; and the few amendments proposed by them after careful consideration, and in a fair and unprejudiced spirit, were wholly or partially approved by the Local Government, adopted by the Select Committee and embodied by them in the Bill now before Your Excellency's Council.

"The Taluqdárs' objections to section 4 of the Bill, though respectfully urged, were exceptionally strong, and attracted sufficient attention at the time; but subsequently it was found impossible to amend this section to the extent they desired, because any further amendment would make it inconsistent with the principles of the seven years' lease and the limitation of enhancement as finally accepted by the Taluqdárs.

"As regards section 51 of the present Bill, the Taluqdárs had requested that it should be expunged, but the Local Government did not recommend this, and in Select Committee the section was left to stand as it is. In my humble opinion this section should be maintained, and with Your Lordship's permission I will briefly state the reasons which have led me to this conclusion.

"Though the Taluqdárs have, from philanthropic and liberal motives, or in deference to the wishes of Government, accepted the provision as to limitation of enhancement to one anna in the rupee, it is not unlikely that after a few years' experience the Government will find the rule in question inapplicable to all classes of land. There are certain descriptions of land which will not admit of any enhancement at all, while there are others for which the proposed enhancement of one anna in the rupee will be quite insufficient, and a third class of land will only bear an enhancement of less than one anna in the rupee. From the incidence of enhancement on all the three classes of land the landlord is sure to suffer heavily, and the Government will equally suffer in its revenue at a future settlement. Under these circumstances it will become necessary to vary the limits of enhancement according to the descriptions and capacities of land, and raise or lower the amount of enhancement as the circumstances of each case may demand. It is to be hoped that the powers thus given to the Local Government will be exercised by it judiciously. I am humbly but firmly of opinion that, owing to a rise in the market-rates and the improved means of communication, especially in those parts of the country to which the railway line has not yet been extended, it will become absolutely necessary to vary the limits of enhancement.

"My Lord, as the Taluqdárs have loyally sacrificed their interests and shown great moderation and liberality to their tenants, and as their objections are conceived in a perfectly fair and loyal spirit and couched in the most respectful terms, I have felt it my duty, as a member of the Select Committee, to try as best I could to obtain a fair and impartial consideration for all and each of their objections. But I was compelled to agree with my learned and hon'ble colleagues of the Select Committee in rejecting some of those objections for reasons they were good enough to explain to me. Greatly as I wished that there should be no reason for my holding a different view, I regret to say that I was reluctantly compelled to record my dissent on some important points in a minute annexed to the Select Committee's Report, now before this Hon'ble Council. The Taluqdárs' objections to the provisions of section 19 for the remission of rent are not unreasonable. What they want is that either section 23 of the North-Western Provinces Rent Act, XII of 1881, be applied to Oudh, or that section 20, Act XIX of 1868, which has long been in force in Oudh, be maintained. If the Government is disposed to show more mercy to tenants, it should equally divide between itself and the landlord the losses caused by unforeseen calamities.

"In fact, the landlords of Oudh are not better off than those of the adjoining districts of the North-Western Provinces. In some districts of the North-Western Provinces where the Permanent Settlement is in force, and which have long enjoyed the blessings of peace, the landlords surpass the landowners of Oudh in wealth and prosperity. Oudh has as yet known only a thirty years' settlement, and during the last thirty years of internal peace and security it has been disturbed by the harassing operations of a number of settlements giving rise to countless disputes and producing disastrous litigation. The landlords of Oudh are therefore by no means less entitled to the favourable consideration of the Government than those of the North-Western Provinces; and, if in the North-Western Provinces a remission of rent to tenants is followed by a remission of the revenue to the landlord, it is but just and reasonable that the same rule should be held good for Oudh. The Chief Secretary to the Government, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, in his letter No. $\frac{2150 \text{ R.}}{208\text{-}60}$, dated the 6th instant, has laid some stress on the fact that in practice the rule in question has led to serious errors; but from this, I humbly submit, it does not necessarily follow that the rule is radically wrong or defective and cannot be rectified or improved under proper supervision and by suitable instructions. If, however, it is considered desirable that this rule should not be introduced in Oudh, then the rule laid down in section 20 of the present Rent Act, which has been in force for eighteen years and has worked so well and without prejudice to either party, need not be altered. The only ground on which it seems possible to make the proposed alteration is to give the statutory tenant the benefit of a remission of rent under exceptional circumstances in addition to the statutory privileges already conferred upon him. But the tenant's claim to a remission of rent falls to the ground when it is considered that he has obtained such valuable concessions from his landlord, who for seven long years will not be able to share the benefits the tenant will derive from the improved capacity of the land comprised in his holding, from the increased means of communication or from high market-rates, and who cannot enhance the rent beyond one anna in the rupee even after the expiration of that period. If the tenant is entitled to get the full benefit of his cultivation, he must be held equally liable to any accidental loss that may be caused by unforeseen calamities, and for which he can compensate himself from abundant crops in better years. But, if the landlord is made to bear the whole loss, he will have no means whatever of compensating himself for it. Further, the rule in question has not proved prejudicial to tenants in Oudh holding five years' leases.

"The third alternative proposed by the Taluqdárs rests on an equally just and equitable principle. As the Government gets one-half of what is paid to the landlord as rent, it is bound in justice to him to grant a remission or the revenue equal to half the rent remitted to the tenant by its officers. The landlords have good reasons to think that, if the connection of Government is maintained, tenants will not dare prefer false or frivolous claims, and the Government officers will investigate such claims with due care.

"On section 27 I humbly beg to observe that the recommendations of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor may be adopted with advantage. Purely conjectural estimates of compensation for improvements have in practice been found erroneous, though estimates carefully made by experienced and honest men may be safely relied upon. But such men are hardly obtainable in this country for the execution of such a petty task, and His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor has justly approved of the amendment proposed by the Taluqdárs.

"As regards section 29 I humbly beg to observe that there is nothing in the whole Bill to prevent the tenant from making whatever improvement he likes, but it does not provide for the award of a compensation to the landlord or other tenants if the improvement effected by the sitting tenant causes any loss or damage to them. In Oudh, the tenant has no right whatever in the land he cultivates, and he may possibly make an improvement with the intention of occasioning loss to his landlord or other tenants.

"I humbly submit, My Lord, that I am at a loss to understand why especial provision should be made for the award by the landlord of an additional compensation to the tenant for any loss that may be caused to his (landlord's) own land by an improvement made by himself. It is quite clear that the landlord will not do anything which might prove prejudicial to himself.

"Now, with Your Lordship's permission, I will briefly explain the losses which an improvement made by a landlord might possibly be conceived to cause to a tenant. In the first place, the landlord sinks wells in the holdings of his tenants during a particular season of the year, that is, in May or June, when there are no standing crops which might possibly be injured thereby. The rainy and the cold seasons are not favourable to the construction of wells, which are exclusively made in summer.

"In the second place, even if a well sunk by the landlord in the holding of his tenant produces salt water, which is not favourable to cultivation generally, such water may nevertheless be utilized in raising a tobacco crop or other crops of a similar nature, to the growth of which irrigation with salt water has been found to be highly conducive. The tenant may not use such water for purposes of cultivation if he apprehends any loss or damage from using it.

"Thirdly, the construction of an embankment is a rare occurrence. Embankments are seldom or never constructed within cultivated areas, and cannot therefore cause any loss or damage to a tenant. But the tenant may himself injure his holding by opening an embankment suddenly and carelessly and letting in an excessive quantity of water, in which case the landlord cannot justly be made to share the blame which naturally attaches to the tenant. In my humble opinion the construction of an improvement cannot possibly tend to impair the productive powers of land, and there is no necessity for making an especial provision to that effect. It will be a great discouragement, if not a perfect bar, to improvements if landlords are required to pay additional compensation for accidental losses. The more useful and costly improvements are effected by landlords, and not by tenants. The rule in question, if maintained, will produce injurious effects.

"I also beg leave to bring prominently to the notice of this Hon'ble Council the fact that improvements, whether made by landlords or tenants, are effected with the special view of improving the productive powers of land and in perfectly good faith, and that any bonâ fide action cannot, and should not, be held to make the doer liable to compensation for any loss that may be caused thereby.

"The Taluqdárs' objections to the extension of the statutory privileges to páhikásht or non-resident tenants carry great weight and call for the especial attention of this Hon'ble Council. To promote the agricultural prosperity of the Province has been the guiding principle and the professed aim and object of the present Bill; and, as non-resident tenants are barred by local custom as well as by the terms of the Wájib-ul-arz from using water and manure for the improvement of their holdings, they should not be placed on an equal footing with resident tenants and admitted to the special privileges conferred on the latter. It cannot be said that the Taluqdárs have brought forward this point at the last stage of the Bill. They have already touched upon it in their printed memorandum (page 21) proposing changes in the Bill. So able and experienced an officer as Colonel Erskine, the Special Commissioner, the outcome of whose elaborate enquiries is the present Rent Bill, has, in paragraph 149 of his letter No. 135, dated 1st June, 1883, recommended the exclusion of páhikásht tenants from the new statutory privileges. I have already urged, in the course of these remarks, strong reasons against the views expressed on this point in the letter of the Chief Secretary to the Government, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, No. $\frac{2150 \text{ R.}}{20\text{-}60}$, dated 6th instant.

"Lastly, I humbly beg to call the attention of this Hon'ble Council to section 69, wherein the words "by a registered document" appear to me quite unnecessary. The practical effect of this restriction will be to bar contracts between landlords and tenants for periods exceeding the statutory term of seven years, as neither will like to go a long way out of his village or estate to get every such document registered. I therefore humbly beg to suggest that registration may be made optional and not compulsory."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. QUINTON moved that the following be added to the definition of "revenue" in section 3, clause (4), of the Bill as amended by the Select Committee, namely :—

"in sections 34 and 35 it means land-revenue only."

He explained that the Select Committee had altered the definition of the word "revenue" as it stood in the present Act by omitting the article "the" before the word "money" in order to remove any doubt as to whether cesses were included in "revenue". It had been suggested, however, that there was a possibility of this affecting indirectly the interests of tenants with rights of occupancy, the term of enhancement of whose rent was fixed by sections 34 and 35 of the Bill; and, as it was not the wish or intention of the Select Committee to interfere in any way with the terms of the Rent Act of 1868 respecting occupancy-tenants, they proposed to make the amendment.

The amendment was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble RANA SHANKAR BAKSH SINGH moved that the following be substituted for sub-sections (2) and (3) of section 19 of the Bill as amended by the Select Committee, namely:—

"(2) Where rent payable by an under-proprietor or tenant in respect of land assessed to land-revenue is remitted under sub-section (1), there shall be allowed to the landlord a remission of revenue equal in amount to half the amount of the rent remitted by the Court."

The Hon'ble MR. QUINTON said:—

"I must oppose the amendment. The law as it at present stands authorizes the Courts before which a suit for arrears of rent is brought to allow such remission from the rent payable as appears equitable, if the area or produce of the land held by the defendant has been diminished by diluvion, drought, hail or other calamity beyond his control to such an extent that the full amount of rent payable cannot be equitably decreed. In case of tenants with rights of occupancy or holding a lease for five years, or sub-settlement-holders, this rule cannot be acted on unless a remission of revenue shall have been allowed on the same ground and by competent authority in the same estate.

"The Bill as introduced omitted this exception, so that the effect of the section was that the Courts could without any reference to the action of the Executive Government in remitting revenue allow a remission of rent under the circumstances above stated, if they considered it equitable, in the case of every tenant, and under the Bill all tenants other than tenants with a right of occupancy obtain what is practically a lease for seven years. The case is thus put by Sir Alfred Lyall:—

'The question is whether the entire section should be struck out, whereby the Courts would lose their power of making allowances in rent-decrees for inevitable calamities, or whether the section should stand without its proviso, whereby remissions of rent would cease to be in any case dependent on remissions of revenue. The latter course appears to the Lieutenant-Governor to be on the whole likely to be better for the interests of both landlord and tenant. If, as the Lieutenant-Governor believes, it is not expedient to withdraw from the Courts all power to take account of serious calamities in decreeing arrears of rent, in that case to provide that this power shall only be used when revenue has been remitted is to shackle it with an awkward and hardly logical condition.'

"The proposal deprecated here by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, which is that embodied in the first, and is the effect of the third, amendment of my hon'ble friend, rests on several assumptions which a little reflection will show to be unfounded.

"It assumes in the first instance that, on the occurrence of an inevitable calamity which has ruined or damaged a tenant's crops, the landlord and tenant have, as my hon'ble friend has argued, in equity an equally strong claim to relief. But this is clearly not the case: the tenant is a small man having little margin over the means of subsistence for himself and his family, and holds, or will hold if the Bill passes, under only a seven years' tenure; the landlord, on the other hand, holds his estate under a thirty years' settlement, and in two-thirds of Oudh is a Taluqdár paying revenue from Rs. 5,000 to lakhs of rupees. A landlord whose income is derived from a large area has thirty years in which to make good the loss of rent which is due to unavoidable calamities; the tenant, whose holding is 5 acres, the average size of farms in Oudh, has only seven.

"Again, the proposal assumes that the measure of relief given to the landlord is the proper measure of the relief of which the tenant stands in need; but this is obviously a generalisation the application of which in particular cases must work great hardships. Government may for very good reasons consider that a zamindár who holds under a light settlement and is a man of substance is well able to bear an occasional loss of this nature, which may mean simple ruin to small tenants. Government may very properly think remission of revenue in such circumstances uncalled for in the cases of the Mahárájás of Bulrampore or Mehdowna, without implying that the full rents should be levied from the tenants of those gentlemen. The argument of my hon'ble friend that Government is not entitled to collect more land-revenue in a given year than half the rental realized by the landlords is obviously unsound. It ignores the fact that settlements are made for long periods instead of for a single year, and involves the position that, if the landlord pays only half the rents realized in bad years, Government would be entitled to half the full or enhanced rents realized in years of plenty. Further, a landlord who on the occurrence of a drought wishes to break down the statutory tenancy conferred upon his tenants has only to refrain from asking for a remission of revenue, while he gets decrees in the Rent Courts for arrears of rent which it is impossible for the tenants to pay, and thus use the Courts as instruments to defeat altogether the intentions of the law.

"The Local Government, however, quite recognize that landlords are unwilling to accept the possibility of large rent-remissions being granted by the Courts without any consequent remissions of revenue, and we have proposed that the sanction of the Deputy Commissioner should be necessary to the remission of rent by the District Courts, and that the test for the remission should be the actual power of the tenant to pay. Sir Alfred Lyall has also intimated his intention, if the Bill passes into law, of instructing Deputy Commissioners to use with care and discrimination the authority entrusted to them, and to bear in mind that any considerable remissions of rent will give a just claim to remission of revenue. The Select Committee, before whom my hon'ble friend argued his side of the case, as he has done today, with ability and persistence, have gone even beyond the Lieutenant-Governor and made two further important concessions. They have restored the provision of the existing law that tenants with rights of occupancy and sub-settlement-holders shall have no claim to remission of rent unless in consequence of a remission of revenue, and have laid down expressly the rule that Revenue-officers shall in other cases take into consideration any claim made by the landlord for remission of revenue when a remission of rent under this section causes a material diminution of the assets of the landlord in the village in which the remission is given. They feel that this is as far as they can go in legalizing a claim to remission of revenue on account of remission of rent, and consider that all cases falling short of this may properly and fairly be left to be dealt with by the Executive Government."

The amendment was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble RANA SHANKAR BAKSH SINGH moved that section 19 of the Bill as amended by the Select Committee be replaced by a section in the terms of section 23 of the North-Western Provinces Rent Act, 1881, with the following modifications, namely:—

(a) the words "Chief Commissioner" to be substituted for the words "Local Government" and "Board" wherever these latter words occur; and

(b) the word "landlord" to be substituted for the word "landholder".

The Hon'ble MR. QUINTON said:—

"This amendment I must also oppose. It proposes to apply to Oudh the law at present in force in the North-Western Provinces, which makes remissions of revenue in cases of calamity a condition precedent to remission of rent, and leaves the amount of such remissions to be determined by the Collector in his executive capacity. Even if the rule were unobjectionable in the North-Western Provinces, it does not follow that it would be equally suitable for Oudh. In the latter Province three-fifths of the area is held by Taluqdárs, whereas in the North Western Provinces the proportion held by large landholders is inconsiderable, and I am unable to admit the assertion of my hon'ble friend that the majority of Oudh landlords are not better off than those of the North-Western Provinces. The permanently-settled area of Benares is only a small, though no doubt an important, portion of the latter Province. Injuries to crops on small estates may embarrass proprietors which on large estates cause little or no inconvenience to the landlord, and Government on grounds of humanity may be obliged to refrain from pressing its demand in one case which in the interests of the community generally it would be unjust not to enforce in the other. But even in the North-Western Provinces the rule is not altogether satisfactory. It is open to the objections of principle which I have urged in discussing the last amendment, and it forces the executive officers to interfere in every case and to apply a uniform rule in a rough and ready way to a large number of tenants whose cases may require nice discrimination and call for very different treatment.

"The Bill, on the other hand, leaves the parties concerned, who know best where the shoe pinches, to adjust their matters among themselves, and authorizes interference only when the landlord comes into Court to exact the uttermost farthing. Such interference can take place only in a judicial proceeding subject to appeal and to the other checks which I have already enumerated. The operation of these checks will soon prevent tenants from urging groundless claims on any large scale, which my hon'ble friend apprehends as one of the results of the measure. The Local Government, who are necessarily acquainted with the operation of both systems, are opposed to the introduction of the North-West rule into Oudh. For the reasons I have given and from my own experience of the practical working of that rule I altogether concur with them."

The amendment was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble RANA SHANKAR BAKSH SINGH moved that a section in the terms of section 20, Act XIX, 1868, be substituted for section 19 of the Bill as amended by the Select Committee.

The Hon'ble MR. QUINTON explained that the effect of this amendment would be precisely similar to that of the first amendment proposed by the hon'ble member, and, as the arguments which he had used in discussing that amendment applied equally to this one, he would not trouble the Council with any further remarks on the subject.

The amendment was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble RANA SHANKAR BAKSH SINGH moved that the word "registered" be omitted from section 20, sub-section (4), of the Bill as amended by the Select Committee: also that the words "by registered document" be omitted from sub-section (1), and the word "registered" from sub-section (2), of section 69 of that Bill: also that the words "not exceeding seven years" be omitted from section 156 of that Bill.

The Hon'ble MR. QUINTON said:—

"Under the Registration Act, which is of general application, the registration of leases of immoveable property from year to year or for any time exceeding one year or reserving a yearly rent is compulsory. The Lieutenant-Governor has, however, the power to exempt in certain localities leases the terms and annual rents in which do not exceed respectively five years and fifty rupees.

"The Lieutenant-Governor, in the Bill as introduced, proposed to exempt from compulsory registration all pattas granted for the statutory period of seven years. Registration in this case seemed to be unnecessary, as the pattas would be checked by the supervisor-kanungos, and the inconveniences of an enforced registration throughout the country would be very serious. My hon'ble friend now asks for a further exemption from the rules laid down by the Registration Act in favour of leases the term of which exceeds seven years, which, as I have already explained to Council, relieve the landlord from the liability to payment of stamp-duty on notices of ejectment. Such leases must for many years to come be altogether exceptional, and it is obviously desirable that, where so much will depend on the terms of the instrument by which these contracts are effected, every precaution should, in the interests of both parties, to prevent future disputes and litigation, be taken to secure the preservation of the document, and that the provisions of the general law on the subject should be applied to them. The apprehensions expressed by my hon'ble friend, that tenants will be deterred from taking such leases by the trouble of attending the registration-office, will, I hope, prove unfounded. When it is the wish of a tenant to obtain such a lease, he is not likely to be kept back by such an obstacle; and, as to the deterrent caused by payment of registration-fees, which is not now touched on by my hon'ble friend but was pressed upon us in Select Committee, it is always in the power of the Local Government to obtain from the Government of India an exemption from payment of registration-fees in favour of such instruments should it see any necessity for such a course."

The amendment was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble RANA SHANKAR BAKSH SINGH moved that the following proviso be added to section 27 of the Bill as amended by the Select Committee, namely:—

"Provided that the compensation so estimated shall not in any case exceed the amount of the actual outlay on the improvement."

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT said:—"My hon'ble colleague Rana Shankar Baksh Singh has referred to the recommendation of the Lieutenant-Governor on the subject of this amendment. It is perfectly true that the Lieutenant-Governor, in his Secretary's letter of the 6th September, 1886, suggested for the consideration of the Select Committee whether it might not be advisable to revert to the terms of the present Act and base the estimate of the compensation on the outlay of the tenant and the assistance of the landlord in money, material, labour or favoured rent. But I find on referring to the previous letter from the Lieutenant-Governor's Secretary of 15th January the following remarks in paragraph 18:—

'The principle on which compensation is calculated under the present Act is solely that of the outlay of the tenant. The last sentence of the section bars right to compensation for improvements which were made more than thirty years before the date of claim, and in practice the procedure of the Courts is to make an estimate of the probable outlay assume that the improvement will last for thirty years, and award to the tenant the sum which in that proportion represents its unexpired value. Thus, if a well is believed to have cost Rs. 300 ten years ago, the Court will award to the tenant Rs. 200. The principle is by no means a just one, for the landlord is exposed to great exaggerations by the tenant of his original outlay, and where the improvements are of old standing these statements are difficult to check. The Lieutenant-Governor considers that the principles laid down in section 83 of the Bengal Tenancy Act are not only in themselves more fair, but more simply and readily applied by the Courts, for it is seldom difficult in any village to ascertain the difference in letting value due to irrigation, and a well is the most common of all improvements in Oudh. A section has been accordingly introduced from the Bengal Act, section 25 (A), and the references to outlay and the period of construction omitted from section 22.'

"That is the section which was inserted in the Bill as sent up by the Local Government, and which the Select Committee, after considering the subject, made up their minds to retain. Now, it appears to me—if I may venture to say so without disrespect to the Lieutenant-Governor—that on this point his first thoughts were better than his second. The clause which was inserted in the Bengal Tenancy Act was framed after much consideration and discussion, and with reference to the conclusions arrived at not only by the Indian but by the English legislature in dealing with tenants' improvements. Those conclusions were that in order to do justice between landlord and tenant both elements—that of outlay and that of result—ought to be taken into consideration. There are cases in which the result does not justify the expenditure, and in which a deduction from the amount expended should be made on that account. There are also cases in which a small but judicious outlay produces very valuable results, and in such cases it would not be fair to the tenant to limit the compensation to the amount originally expended. Both elements—that of outlay and that of result—should be kept in view, and in estimating the amount to be paid regard should be had to each. I think that we should in the present Bill adhere to the general principles laid down on other occasions, and therefore I must oppose this amendment."

The amendment was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble RANA SHANKAR BAKSH SINGH moved that sub-sections (3) and (4) be omitted from section 29 of the Bill as amended by the Select Committee, and that, as a consequence, sub-clause (d) of clause (9), and the words "or section 29, sub-section (4)," in clause (12), be omitted from division B of section 108 of that Bill.

The Hon'ble MR. QUINTON said:—

"My hon'ble friend's objection to sub-sections (3) and (4) of the section I can scarcely follow. The section first gives a landlord power to make an improvement on the holding of a tenant without a right of occupancy without his consent, and then enacts that, if, when making the improvement, he causes loss to the tenant, the latter shall have a claim for compensation against the landlord, or if the effect of the improvement is permanently to impair the productive powers of the holding the tenant shall be entitled to abatement of rent.

"The effect of the amendment of my hon'ble friend, if accepted, would be that a landlord might make an improvement on the holding of a tenant without his consent, but would not be liable to pay compensation for any loss caused in making it.

"My hon'ble friend, as I understand, contends that under the conditions of agriculture in Oudh it is impossible that any loss should be caused to the tenant of the holding, but, if this is so, then the section attaches no liability to the landlord. He can have no difficulty in successfully resisting any claim brought on this account. But the Select Committee considers that cases are conceivable where, in the construction of an improvement to which his consent is not necessary, the tenant's crops may be damaged or the area of his holding diminished or otherwise injuriously affected, as in the case of an improvement the effects of which extend over several holdings; and the Local Government are of the same opinion. To refuse the tenant a right to compensation for such injuries would be a manifest wrong. The contemplation of the benefits arising to B's holding and to the letting value of C's land from an improvement the making of which has injured A's fields cannot be said to be an equitable compensation for the damage A has suffered."

The amendment was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble MR. QUINTON moved that in section 38, sub-section (2), of the Bill as amended by the Select Committee the words and figures "sections 49 and 50" be substituted for the word and figures "section 49". He said:—

"The section to which this and the following three amendments refer was inserted in the Bill as introduced at the instance of the Taluqdárs' Association and of the Local Government in order to make it clear that a landlord was entitled to an enhancement of rent even during the currency of a statutory tenure from a tenant on whose holding an improvement had been effected by or at the expense of the landlord or acquired by him. Since the Report was presented His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor has pointed out that the section bars, at least by implication, an enhancement of rent on an incoming tenant in excess of one anna in the rupee when the landlord has paid to the tenant's predecessor compensation determined by a Court under the Act.

"The cases are similar in principle and can be supported by the same arguments. The desirability of increasing the productive powers of the soil by promoting improvements is admitted on all hands, and the Lieutenant-Governor is of opinion that, unless the section be amended as I now propose, landlords would have a strong interest in opposing all improvements made by their tenants and in contesting every claim to make such an improvement, and that thus a serious obstacle would be raised to the advancement of objects urgently called for by public policy."

The amendment was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. QUINTON moved that in section 47, sub-section (1), of the same Bill the words and figures "sections 49 and 50" be substituted for the word and figures "section 49".

He explained that the observations which had been made on the preceding amendment applied equally to this one, and that he had no further remarks to offer regarding it.

The amendment was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. QUINTON also moved that in section 47, sub-section (2), of the same Bill, between the words "a sum which" and the words "shall not exceed" the words and figures "subject to the provisions of sections 49 and 50" be inserted.

He said that this amendment was also consequential on the preceding one.

The amendment was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. QUINTON also moved that in section 50 of the same Bill the words "during the currency of a tenancy", where those words occur between the word "rent" and the words "on the ground that", be omitted, and that for the last sixteen words of that section the following be substituted, namely:—

"or for which during the currency of the tenancy compensation has been accepted from the landlord by the owner of the improvement, or, on the expiration of the tenancy, compensation has been paid in accordance with the determination of a Court under this Act."

This amendment, MR. QUINTON explained, was also consequential on the preceding one.

The amendment was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble RANA SHANKAR BAKSH SINGH moved that the following clause be added to section 62, sub-section (1), of the Bill as amended by the Select Committee, namely:—

"(e) that the tenant is a páhikásht or non-resident tenant, and a resident tenant desires to be admitted to the occupation of the land comprised in the holding of the páhikásht or non-resident tenant."

The Hon'ble MR. QUINTON said:—

"The point raised by this amendment was started in the discussions at Lucknow by the Taluqdárs, who were anxious that the Bill should be altered in the direction my hon'ble friend now proposes. The Lieutenant-Governor, however, was unable to accede to the proposal. In submitting Major Erskine's report to the Government of India so long ago as December, 1883, Sir Alfred Lyall recommended that non-resident cultivators should not be excluded from the benefits of the Act. He admitted the force of the arguments, such as have now been urged by my hon'ble friend, arising from the inefficiency of páhikásht cultivation, the desirability of discouraging it and the necessity of giving the landlord special facilities for substituting resident for non-resident cultivation whenever opportunity may occur; but it was ascertained in the course of the enquiry that páhikásht cultivation prevailed to a considerable extent and had not diminished since settlement, from which it was inferred that this cultivation was a useful complement to the more carefully tended fields of an agriculturist's home farm, to be deprived of which would seriously cripple him in his business. If a landlord of two contiguous villages or two landlords in collusion could eject at pleasure from the non-resident portions of holdings, they would have a very strong hold on tenants in regard to their farms in their villages of residence.

"The figures given in the report as to the proportion of tenants who cultivated more or less land outside their villages of residence bore out this inference, and the Local Government accordingly decided that non-resident cultivators could not properly be excluded from the benefits of proposals intended for the tenantry at large. This principle was accepted by the Government of India and by the Secretary of State. It was accordingly maintained in the Bill as introduced, and is adhered to by the Local Government after full consideration of the representation of the Taluqdárs at Lucknow. Sir Alfred Lyall writes:—'No evidence has been brought forward in contradiction of the data obtained from the records of Colonel Erskine's enquiry.'

"With reference to the remark of my hon'ble friend that it cannot be said that the Taluqdárs have brought forward this point at the last stage of the Bill, I would observe, without wishing to attach too much importance to the fact, that the Bill as introduced had been for some time before the Taluqdárs' Association, and discussed by them when they wrote their letter of the 24th of April last printed in Papers No. 2, accepting in their entirety its rules of seven years' leases and of the limitation of enhancement to 6¼ per cent., and the Bill as introduced made no exception from these rules as regards páhikásht tenants."

The amendment was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble MR. QUINTON moved that in section 129 of the Bill as amended by the Select Committee the word "Act" be substituted for the word "Chapter" where the latter word occurs.

He explained that the amendment was merely formal and was meant to correct a clerical error.

The amendment was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. QUINTON moved that the Bill, as amended, be passed. He said:—

"This motion, My Lord, is the final stage of the Bill which, with one or two important exceptions to which I referred in my remarks earlier in the debate, is in its principles the same measure as that introduced in Calcutta last February. In what I said on that occasion, and again in June last in moving to refer the Bill to a Select Committee, I was obliged to trespass to such a length on the patience of Council in order to describe the state of things which in the opinion of the Government rendered legislation necessary and to explain the principles on which it was proposed that that legislation should be based, that I shall make no further demand on the forbearance of hon'ble members by attempting to go over the same ground.

"The measure has been long and anxiously considered in all its details by the Local Government and the Government of India. It deals with a subject which bristles with difficulties, and was fought over not very long ago by angry and embittered partizans, and it affects materially the interests and happiness of millions of human beings. It has been conceived, matured and elaborated in a spirit of caution and moderation by authors not eager on the one hand to revive the flames of a burnt out controversy or to disturb the agricultural relations of the country beyond what the necessities of the case call for, but earnest on the other hand to afford such protection to the tenants as would be giving them a reasonable prospect of enjoying the fruits of their labour, stimulate their industry, promote the prosperity of all classes dependent on the cultivation of the soil, remove grounds for antagonism between those classes and strengthen the hands of the weaker party in all future dealings respecting the occupation of the land of this great Province. In the hope and expectation that it will in some degree prove effectual in bringing about these objects I now ask Council to pass the Bill."

The Hon'ble SIR AUCKLAND COLVIN said:—"I shall not detain your Excellency and the Council more than a few moments. It was only at a comparatively late hour that I have been enabled to take part in the discussions which have led to this measure as it now stands before us. The burden of those discussions has fallen mainly on the Government of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh and on its officers, on my hon'ble friend Mr. Ilbert and on the Taluqdárs of Oudh. But I trust I may be allowed to bear my tribute to what has seemed to me to have been, during the course of the deliberations in which I have shared, the extremely reasonable and equitable spirit in which, whether in official or non-official conferences, my hon'ble friend Rana Shankar Baksh Singh and the Taluqdárs who have accompanied him have approached this subject, which necessarily to them, in a degree not less than to the Government, involves issues of extreme importance. If we have not been able to meet on some comparatively minor points—such as those which form many of the amendments on the paper before us—the views entertained by the Taluqdárs, we have, I think, established with them a complete and cordial understanding on the main principles which underlie this Bill and in accordance with which it will have to be worked. I confidently believe that this measure when made law will contribute to bring about an equitable and durable settlement of the various issues raised in the course of this discussion, and that its influence on the future relations of landlords and tenants in Oudh will be of effective benefit. My hon'ble friend Mr. Quinton has expressed some doubt with regard to the view which the Financial Department of the Government of India may be inclined to take in respect to the provisions regarding stamp-duties on notices of ejectment. I hope I may be allowed to hasten to re-assure him on that point, and to say that I identify myself completely with the views he has put forward as those entertained by the Government of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and that the Financial Department will certainly abstain from laying any claim to revenues arising from that source which the Government in the pursuit of administrative measures calculated to give greater security and relief to the cultivators may desire to appropriate."

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT said:—"When this measure was last before the Council, my hon'ble colleague Sir Steuart Bayley congratulated the Council on the circumstances under which they were proceeding with the Bill. Those congratulations are, I am sure, still more appropriate on the present occasion. We have been told how, since last June, the provisions of the Bill have been carefully and thoroughly discussed with the Oudh landowners and their representatives at a series of conferences which have been held at Lucknow, and the result of those discussions has been to materially lighten and shorten the labours of the Select Committee which has been sitting here. But it must not be supposed that the Select Committee have accepted en bloc and without examination the Lucknow proposals. On the contrary we have gone through each of the several suggestions and proposals brought forward at Lucknow, with the reasons by which they were supported, have considered them on their merits and have re-cast the Bill accordingly. In the performance of this task we have had the assistance not only of my hon'ble friend Rana Shankar Baksh Singh, but of the gentlemen who have accompanied him from Oudh, and who represent, I understand, different classes of landowners and different parts of the Province. I explained to these gentlemen how I was precluded by our rules from allowing them to take a direct part in the deliberations of the Select Committee, but I promised them that they should have full opportunity of placing personally their views and arguments before myself and the other members of the Committee; and they will, I am sure, admit that I have redeemed my promise on this point. We have had the advantage of hearing the arguments for and against the material provisions of the Bill clearly, forcibly and temperately stated, and any one who was present at the conferences which have been held could honestly testify that the interests of the absent were adequately represented. The amendments which have been moved today—all of which, I may be permitted to observe, had been previously very carefully considered in Select Committee—will show how few and comparatively unimportant are the points about which there is still any difference between the Government and the representatives of the Taluqdárs. It is true that this agreement has been facilitated by material concessions to the Taluqdárs. We have been able to meet my hon'ble friend Rana Shankar Baksh Singh on both of the two points to which he took special exception in the Bill as introduced—I mean on the question of compensation for disturbance, and with respect to the clause providing special machinery for enforcing the conditions of the sanads. With respect to both these points I should personally have preferred to retain the provisions of the Bill as originally introduced, but in saying this I must not be understood as qualifying in any way my full assent to the recommendations of the Select Committee that, in view of the considerations urged by the Local Government, the modifications proposed in the interests of the Taluqdárs should be accepted. Those considerations were based to a great extent on the assurance that the landholders of Oudh could be trusted to work the Act in the spirit in which it is intended to be worked, and that the restrictions on their powers originally proposed for the protection of the tenant would be in practice unnecessary; and it is in the assurance that this confidence is not misplaced that the Government of India has assented to the Bill in its present form. With respect to the sanads, I need not do more than repeat what my friend Mr. Quinton has said, that nothing in this Bill will in any way modify or impair their effect. And, as to the substitute for compensation for disturbance, I am very glad to hear from my friend Sir Auckland Colvin that he thinks the Financial Department will be able to find a way for removing or lessening the objection to which it is most palpably open. I have every hope that the measure now before the Council will prove a lasting and satisfactory arrangement. It embodies not any compact with any particular class or section of those interested in the land but an endeavour on the part of the legislature to reconcile as far as possible the conflicting views, wishes and interests of the several classes and sections after a fair and impartial hearing of all concerned."

His Excellency THE PRESIDENT said:—

"Before putting the motion that this Bill be passed, I desire to express my entire concurrence with everything that has fallen from my hon'ble colleague on the left (Mr. Ilbert) and from the Financial Member. I am also glad to have this opportunity of congratulating all concerned upon the fortunate and propitious issue which has attended the inception, the discussion and the elaboration of this measure. As Mr. Quinton has already remarked, it is a most important Bill, affecting the happiness of thousands and thousands of Her Majesty's subjects; and, having had considerable experience in land legislation, I must say that I have never taken part in any controversy affecting such various and momentous interests in which so laudable a spirit of conciliation has been exhibited. I especially desire to congratulate my hon'ble colleague who represents the Talúqdárs of Oudh upon the manner in which he has brought to notice the views of himself and of his associates regarding the Bill, and on the successful manner in which he has vindicated their interests and set forth their moderate and reasonable demands."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjourned to Thursday, the 21st October, 1886.

RESOLUTION.

IN the "Notes" referred to in the preamble, Mr. B. M. Malabari of Bombay, a gentleman known to the Indian public for his public-spirited efforts to promote social reform, brings to the notice of the Government of India important considerations connected with the questions of infant marriages and widowhood in India. In his "Notes" Mr. Malabari forcibly depicts the evils incident to those customs, and calls upon the Government to take measures for mitigating them, while he at the same time suggests the direction which, in his opinion, such measures of mitigation might follow. He thinks that the practice of infant marriage might be discouraged were the Educational authorities to rule that no student with a child-wife should be eligible for University degrees, and if the various heads of Government Departments were instructed to give the preference to those applicants for employment in the public service who were unmarried. In regard to widow remarriage, Mr. Malabari thinks that, among other palliatives, good would come if Government were to take action with a view to providing (1) that no Hindu girl who during her minority had lost her husband, or the person to whom she had been betrothed, should be condemned to perpetual widowhood against her will; (2) that arrangements might be made in suspected cases to ascertain whether a widow had adopted seclusion voluntarily or whether it had been forced upon her; (3) that every widow, of whatever age, should have the right to complain to the authorities of social ill-usage, and that proper facilities should be afforded her for the purpose; and (4) that it should be declared illegal for priests to excommunicate either the parties contracting a second marriage, or their relations and connexions.

2. Copies of Mr. Malabari's Notes were forwarded to Local Governments and Administrations with the remark that the subject was one of great importance to the social well-being of the people, and that the Governor General in Council would be glad to receive any observations which the local authorities might desire to make on the proposals. Local Governments and Administrations were at the same time encouraged to consult such official or non-official persons as were considered to be well acquainted with native feeling on the question.

3. All replies from Local Governments and Administrations have now been received. They bear testimony to the good which even already has been done by Mr. Malabari's endeavours to apply a remedy to a state of things which no section of the community regards altogether with approval, and which some consider to be a great abuse. But while thus regarding with sympathy Mr. Malabari's praiseworthy efforts, all the Local Governments and Administrations exhibit complete unanimity of opinion against the adoption of the legislative action and the imposition of the executive disqualifications which Mr. Malabari advocates. After careful consideration, the Governor General in Council agrees with the unanimous conclusion arrived at on the subject by the local authorities, and he will endeavour to state as briefly as possible the reasons which have led him to that conclusion.

4. In dealing with such subjects as those raised in Mr. Malabari's Notes, the British Government in India has usually been guided by certain general principles. For instance, when caste or custom enjoins a practice which involves a breach of the ordinary criminal law, the State will enforce the law. When caste or custom lays down a rule which is of its nature enforceable in the Civil Courts, but is clearly opposed to morality or public policy, the State will decline to enforce it. When caste or custom lays down a rule which deals with such matters as are usually left to the option of citizens, and which does not need the aid of Civil or Criminal Courts for its enforcement, State interference is not considered either desirable or expedient.

In the application of such general principles to particular cases, there is doubtless room for differences of opinion; but there is one common-sense test which may often be applied with advantage in considering whether the State should or should not interfere in its legislative or executive capacity with social or religious questions of the kind now under notice. The test is, "Can the State give effect to its commands by the ordinary machinery at its disposal?" If not, it is desirable that the State should abstain from making a rule which it cannot enforce without a departure from its usual practice or procedure.

If this test be applied in the present case, the reasons will be apparent why His Excellency in Council considers that interference by the State is undesirable, and that the reforms advocated by Mr. Malabari, which affect the social customs of many races with probably as many points of difference as of agreement, must be left to the improving influences of time, and to the gradual operation of the mental and moral development of the people by the spread of education.

It is true that the British Government in India has by its legislation set up a standard of morality independent of, and in some material respects differing from, the standard set up by caste; and it may be that the former standard has had some beneficial effect in influencing native customs, practices, and modes of thought. But legislation, though it may be didactic in its effect, should not be undertaken for merely didactic purposes; and in the competition of influence between legislation on the one hand, and caste or custom on the other, the condition of success on the part of the former is that the Legislature should keep within its natural boundaries, and should not, by overstepping those boundaries, place itself in direct antagonism to social opinion.

4. Of the suggestions made in the course of the voluminous correspondence quoted in the preamble, the only two which do not seem to the Government of India to be open to serious objection on ground of principle are (1) the amendment of section 2 of Act XV of 1856 as to the forfeiture of property of a widow on remarriage; and (2) the supply of machinery by which a Hindu widow, who fails to obtain the consent of her caste-fellows to her remarriage, may nevertheless marry without renouncing her religion.

But although there is much to be said in favour of each of these suggestions, the Governor General in Council, as at present advised, would prefer not to interfere, even to the limited extent proposed, by legislative action until sufficient proof is forthcoming that legislation is required to meet a serious practical evil, and that such legislation has been asked for by a section, important in influence or number, of the Hindu community itself.

5. With this expression of his views, His Excellency in Council has decided to publish all the opinions which have been submitted to the Government of India on this important question in the form of a Selection from its Records.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to all Local Governments and Administrations for information; that the Resolution be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India for general information; and that the Resolution, together with the papers read in the preamble, be published as a Selection from the Records of the Government of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

REPORTS ON THE STATE OF THE SEASON AND PROSPECTS OF THE CROPS FOR THE WEEK ENDING 6th OCTOBER, 1886.

GENERAL REMARKS.—Except in the Punjab, Sind, and Rajputana, rain has fallen in varying quantities all over the country during the week under report.

The kharif outlook has much improved in Bombay, the Central Provinces, and Berar, owing to the late rainfall, but in these Provinces and also in Hyderabad, Rajputana, Central India, and the Punjab, more rain is still required for the crops. The kharif harvest has commenced in parts of Bombay, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and Rajputana, and the prospects are generally good. The standing crops in Madras, Mysore, and Coorg are generally in good condition. In Bombay slight injury has been caused by excessive rain in parts of Poona and Ratnagiri.

The rice crop in Bombay, and especially in the Central Provinces, is still in want of rain. In the latter Province the crop in the Chhattisgarh Division has been partially lost. In Bengal the early rice harvest has yielded fairly and the winter rice is coming up well. In Assam transplanting of the sali crop is nearly finished. The rice crop is being transplanted in Lower Burma, and prospects are satisfactory.

Cotton prospects in the Central Provinces and Berar are generally fair.

Sowings for the rabi are in progress in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the Central Provinces, Berar, and Rajputana.

The public health continues generally good in all Provinces.

Prices are rising in a few districts of the Punjab and in Coorg and are falling in the Central Provinces and Mysore. Elsewhere they remain generally stationary.

Presidency or Province and District.	Rainfall for week under report.	State of agricultural prospects.
Madras—(Oct. 6th)
Bellary	Average ·41	More rain wanted to ripen cereals and lately sown cotton; standing crops generally fair; harvest second crop paddy and gingelly, yield average. Cattle-disease in two taluks.
Kurnool	Average last week since revised, ·39; this week, ·09.	Standing crops fair, but in parts of three taluks suffering for want of rain. Small-pox in one taluk.
Ganjam	Average last week since revised, ·95; this week, 6·34; rain excessive on the coast.	Slight small-pox in three, fever and cattle-disease in two taluks; cholera exists.
Kistna	Average 1·0	Standing crops generally good; harvest dry grains, outturn about average. River 2·9 feet over anicut. Slight fever; cholera in two taluks and cattle-disease in one.
Chingleput (Madras)	Average 2·01	Standing crops fair; harvest wet and dry crops, outturn below average. Fever in two and cattle-disease in four taluks.
Coimbatore	Average ·58	Standing crops generally good, but ragi and cumbu require more rain in parts; harvest wet and dry grains, outturn generally above average. Fever and small-pox in one taluk.
Tanjore	Average last week since revised, ·83; this week, 2·23.	Standing crops generally good; harvest paddy and dry grains outturn below average.
Madura	Average last week since revised, ·80; this week, 1·40.	Fever and cattle-disease in parts of one taluk.
Malabar	Average 2·38	More rain wanted for second crop paddy. Harvest first crop paddy, outturn below average. Fever in two, slight small-pox in seven, and cattle-disease in two taluks.
Travancore	·52	Small-pox and fever in parts. General Remarks.—General prospects good.
Bombay—(Oct. 6th)
Kurrachee	Nil	River at Kotri on 4th, 10 feet 2 inches against 11 feet 1 inch on same date last year. Kharif harvesting progressing in ten talukas. Fever in eleven and cattle-disease in three talukas. Wheat, red rice, and bajri in Kurrachee 24, 30, and 32 and in Tatta 54, 37 and 40 pounds per rupee, respectively.
Hyderabad	Nil	Harvesting commenced throughout the district. River at Kotri on 4th, 10 feet 2 inches against 11 feet 1 inch on same date last year. Cattle-disease in one and fever in nine talukas. Wheat 25½, bajri 38, juari 40, white rice 20, and red rice 28 pounds per rupee. Days and nights unusually hot.
Ahmedabad	·16; total 33·20	Reaping of kharif commenced in some talukas. Rain urgently wanted for cotton and rice crops. Slight fever in Daskroi and Dholka talukas. Wheat 31 and bajri 32 pounds per rupee.
Baroda	·34; total 36·63	Standing crops suffer for want of rain. Cattle-disease in Sidhpur and Kisnagar. Bajri 28, wheat 20, and common rice 20 pounds per rupee.

Presidency or Province and District.	Rainfall for week under report.	State of agricultural prospects.
Bombay—contd.
Surat	Nil	Fall of rain in the week has proved beneficial to the standing crops. More rain still wanted. Small-pox affecting cattle in Mandvi taluka still continues; slight fever in Olphad, Bardoli, and Mandvi, and small-pox in Balsar. Juari 36 and nagli 44 pounds per rupee.
Nasik	Dindori, ·89; Nandgaon, ·85; Chandor, ·48; maximum at Igatpuri, 7·20; minimum at Niphad, 1·0.	More rain required in Chandor and Nandgaon talukas. Rainfall during the week beneficial to standing kharif crop. Preparations for rabi sowing continue. Public health good; slight cattle-disease in one village in Nandgaon. Wheat 25¾, bajri 33¼ and rice 20¾ pounds per rupee.
Colaba (Bombay)	Rain every day, except on 29th, 3rd and 5th; total of week 1·41; total to date 08·50, being 20·78 above average.	Abnormal temperature fell from 2° warm on 29th to 2° cool on 2nd; remained 2° cool on 3rd, fell to 3° cool on 4th and rose to 1° cool on 5th; vapour in air excessive from 29th to 1st, afterwards normal on 1st; abnormal wind from north-north-west on 29th and 30th, from south-east on 2nd, and from south-south-east and strong from 3rd to 5th. Lightning on 30th and 4th; thunder and lightning on 1st; thunder on 2nd.
Poona	Rain throughout the district, maximum at Petha Ambegaon, 4·80, minimum at Indapur, ·98.	Late fall of rain has greatly benefited the standing crops and slightly injured the bajri already reaped and that fit for reaping. Public health generally good; slight cattle-disease in Indapur and Haveli talukas. Bajri 39 and juari 54 pounds in the district, and bajri 37 and juari 48 pounds per rupee in Poona City.

Circular No. $\frac{58\ \text{Ex.}}{103—9}$.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department (Museums and Exhibitions), dated Simla, the 7th October, 1886.

Read again Circular No. $\frac{50}{103-4}$, dated the 6th September 1886, regarding the proposed Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition of 1887.

Read also the following revised papers relating to the Exhibition, received with the Secretary of State's despatch No. 95-(S-and-C), dated the 26th August 1886:—

ADELAIDE JUBILEE INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION, 1887.

(1) System of Awards.

Judges shall be appointed—one-half of whom may be nominated by the official representatives of the countries and colonies exhibiting, acting in conjunction with the Executive Committee; and the balance by the Executive Committee.

Judges will be selected for their qualifications in relation to the special class of work assigned to them, and will be chosen from the best sources available, and will impartially recognise merit without regard to nationality.

The Executive Committee will appoint a sufficient number of Judges to each section of classes.

The Executive Committee will appoint Judges for collective exhibits; but no collective exhibit shall obtain a higher Award than the best exhibit it contains is entitled to.

The Executive Committee will appoint a Superintendent of Judges and Awards to frame rules for the guidance of Judges, to regulate their meetings and facilitate their work, and otherwise carry out the instructions of the Judges and Awards Committee.

Judges absent from three consecutive meetings, unless by written permission of the Executive Committee, will be held to have surrendered their posts.

A vacancy in any body of Judges shall at once be reported by the said Superintendent of the Judges and Awards, and such place declared vacant, and such vacancy shall forthwith be filled by the Executive Committee.

Experts may be called in by a majority of any Judges, their names having been previously submitted to and approved by the Superintendent of Judges and Awards.

No exhibitor, or his agent, shall be a Judge in any class in which he exhibits.

An exhibitor who is not the manufacturer or producer of the article exhibited shall not be entitled to an Award. (Live Stock excepted.)

Awards shall consist of three classes, viz.,—

1st Class—Diploma of First Order of Merit, and an Official Medal in bronze.
2nd Class—Diploma of Second Order of Merit.
3rd Class—Diploma of Third Order of Merit.

Awards to be based on reports, made in writing by the Judges and attested by their signatures, setting forth the merits of the product adjudged, which have formed the ground of the award; and the awards so made shall be forthwith forwarded to the Superintendent of Judges and Awards, to whom the records of Judges shall be open for inspection.

The elements of merit shall include originality, invention, discovery, utility, quality, skill, workmanship, fitness for the purposes intended, adaptation to public wants, economy, and cost.

The Executive Committee hope to be able to secure additional valuable awards for exhibits of a special character.

All decisions of Judges must be returned to the Superintendent of Judges and Awards on or before a date to be declared by the Judges and Awards Committee, unless special written permission for an extended time shall have been granted by such Committee.

The Judges and Awards Committee will constitute a Final Court of Appeal.

In case of appeal, a fee of £1 1*s.* must be deposited with the Superintendent of Judges and Awards:—if appeal allowed, the fee will be returned.

The reports of the Judges recommending awards shall be forwarded by the Judges and Awards Committee to the Executive Committee, by whom awards will be announced.

(2) Regulations for Exhibitors.

1. Early application for space is requested to be made to the Secretary, in Adelaide, or to the Secretary to the London Commission. Applications must be made through the Commissioner or other official representative of the country or Colony to which the applicant belongs, but in the event of no such representative existing, intending exhibitors can communicate direct as above. No applications for space will be received later than the 1st January, 1887. The form (A) of application is appended hereto.

2. All space exceeding twenty square feet will be charged for at the rate of one shilling per square foot for floor space, and sixpence per foot for wall space, excepting approved sculpture and paintings, which will be admitted free. Special arrangements may be made by the Executive Committee for the charge for space for machinery, agricultural implements, and other bulky goods. No transfer of space will be permitted, and no refund of money will be made to Exhibitors withdrawing from the Exhibition and not occupying the space allotted them.

3. Governments intending to take part in this Exhibition are requested to forward to the Secretary of the London Committee an intimation to that effect not later than the 1st October, 1886.

4. The Exhibition Buildings will be constituted a Bonded Store; but exhibits sold will be subject to duty.

5. Articles manufactured in the Exhibition buildings may be sold and removed with the consent of the Executive Commissioner. Other Exhibits may be sold during the Exhibition, but may not be removed until its close.

6. An Act of the South Australian Legislature protects inventors, provided that application for a patent is lodged within six months of first exhibition.

7. The Commission may refuse entry to articles they consider of a dangerous or offensive character.

8. Articles intended for exhibition will be received on or after the first day of March, 1887, and not later than the twentieth day of May, 1887.

9. Space allotted to countries and colonies, and not occupied by the twentieth day of May, 1887, will revert to the Commission for re-assignment.

10. The utmost precautions will be taken to preserve exhibits from injury, and to protect the buildings. No responsibility can be undertaken, either by the Royal Commissioners or by any other body or person, for damage or loss, whether arising from fire, accident, or depredation, either in the buildings of the Jubilee Exhibition, or while being conveyed to or from. Exhibitors will have to make their own arrangements for effecting insurances, or they can be effected by the Secretary at their charge and risk.

11. Subject to the approval of the Executive Commissioner, Exhibitors may appoint their own watchmen during the hours the Exhibition is open to the public.

12. Arrangements will be made for the supply of steam power by the Executive Committee, at the expense of the Exhibitors; but Exhibitors must make application for the power required, and will be charged in proportion for the power used. Exhibitors of machinery in motion will only be allowed to work at such hours as may be sanctioned by the Executive Commissioner.

13. If Exhibits are not intended for competition, such fact should be distinctly stated when making the entry.

14. Exhibitors will be required to furnish and decorate their own courts or lesser constructions at their own cost, in conformity with the general plans adopted by the Executive Committee.

15. Special constructions may be made by Exhibitors, in the building or on the grounds, after receiving the approval, in writing, of the Executive Commissioner.

16. Exhibitors or their agents shall be responsible for the receiving, unpacking, and arrangement of objects, as well as for their removal at the close of the Exhibition.

17. The transportation, unpacking, and the arrangement of the Exhibits will be at the expense of the Exhibitor.

18. Commissioners representing countries or colonies and private exhibitors may adopt one of two courses, namely,—

(a) They may ship their exhibits to Adelaide, and make their own arrangements for their reception and exhibition; or,

(b) If consigned to the Exhibition, they should be addressed as follows:—

To the Commissioner for [here specify country or colony],
Jubilee International Exhibition,
Adelaide,
South Australia;

and, if from other Countries or Colonies, should have two labels bearing the flag of the country or colony to which the Exhibitor belongs.

In cases where no representative has been appointed, the address will be as follows:—

To the Executive Commissioner,
Jubilee International Exhibition,
Adelaide,
South Australia.

Two labels must also be affixed to different but not opposite sides of the package, giving the following information:—

I. The country from which it comes.
II. Name or firm of Exhibitor.
III. Residence of Exhibitor.
IV. Department, section, and class to which the Exhibit belongs.
V. Total number of packages sent by same Exhibitor.
VI. Serial number of that particular package.

Each Package must have prominently painted on it outside the distinctive mark—and a detailed list of the contents of each case should be enclosed therein.

19. If no authorized person be at hand to receive goods sent to the Exhibition, they will be removed and stored by the Executive Commissioner, at the cost and risk of the Exhibitor.

20. Immediately after the close of the Exhibition, Exhibitors must remove their Exhibits, and complete such removal within one month from the close of the Exhibition, unless further time be allowed by the Executive Committee.

21. Goods not removed in accordance with Regulation No. 20 may be removed by the Executive Committee and sold to defray expenses, or be otherwise disposed of as they may think fit.

22. An official catalogue (the sale of which is reserved by the Executive Committee) will be published in English: no other catalogue published in the English language can be sold in the building.

23. No work of art or any article whatever exhibited in the buildings or on the ground of the Exhibition may be drawn, copied, or reproduced in any manner whatever without the joint consent of the Exhibitor and the Executive Commissioner.

24. The Executive Committee reserves the right to explain, amend, or extend these regulations whenever it may be deemed necessary in the interests of the Exhibition.

25. Communications concerning the Exhibition from any part of Europe or the United States should be addressed—

To the Secretary to the London Commission,
Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition,
Office of the Agent-General for South Australia,
8, Victoria Chambers, Westminster,
London.

26. No Exhibitor will be permitted to display exhibits in such a manner as to obstruct the light or impede the view along the open spaces, or to occasion inconvenience or injury to or otherwise affect the display of other Exhibitors.

27. With respect to Live Stock (Classes 648 to 659), should it be determined to accept such exhibits, full Programmes and further Regulations will be published hereafter.

28. The right is reserved of keeping the Exhibition open during the evenings, should the Executive Committee deem it desirable.

29. Each person who becomes an Exhibitor thereby acknowledges and undertakes to keep the rules and regulations established for the government of the Exhibition.

The Executive Commissioner reserves to himself the right of accepting or rejecting this application; but in the event of its rejection, any payment made in respect thereof will be refunded.

ADELAIDE JUBILEE EXHIBITION OF 1887.

To be opened at Adelaide on June 20th, 1887, and kept open till January 1st, 1888.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

REPORTS ON THE STATE OF THE SEASON AND PROSPECTS OF THE CROPS FOR THE WEEK ENDING 13th OCTOBER, 1886.

GENERAL REMARKS.—Rain has fallen generally throughout the country during the week under report. The falls have been heaviest in Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and Bombay.

In Bombay, the Central Provinces, Berar, Hyderabad, and the Punjab, the recent rainfall has been beneficial to the kharif, which is generally in good condition. Harvest is in progress in parts of Bombay, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and Rajputana, and promises well. In Mysore, Coorg, and Madras agricultural prospects continue satisfactory.

In Bombay the rice crop still needs rain, and in the Central Provinces it has, as already reported, suffered much from drought on high lands. The early rice harvest continues to yield fairly in Bengal, and the condition of the winter rice is very favourable. In Assam sowing for the winter crops has commenced. In Burma the rice crop promises well everywhere.

Cotton-picking has commenced in Berar; in Bombay the crop needs more rain.

Rabi sowings are generally well advanced in Bombay, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and the Central Provinces, and have commenced in the Punjab, Berar, Hyderabad, and Rajputana.

The public health continues to be generally good in all Provinces.

Prices are steady or falling in the Central Provinces, and rising in one or two districts of the Punjab and in Coorg. Elsewhere they remain generally stationary.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India, in the Revenue and Agricultural Department (Meteorology), dated Simla, 15th October, 1886.

Read the following :—

Summary of the Weather Reports for the month of September 1886.

The slight depression of temperature which characterized the weather of August last, disappeared, at its close, over the greater portion of the country, and in several provinces, owing to the early cessation of the rains, September was a warm month. In the Punjab, the temperature remained greatly above the average throughout, and, in the latter half of the month, over the whole of the Central Indian plateau. On the mean of the month, the excess amounted to from 2° to 4° in the Punjab, (except in the Derajat and Multan divisions, where it was small,) and from 1° to 4° in Central India, Khandesh, the Deccan and Concan. In the Gangetic plain, Assam, Rajputana, Sind and the Carnatic, the temperature was below the normal average. The depression was greatest in Behar, where it amounted to over 2½°.

The atmospheric pressure was slightly below the September average in the Punjab, owing probably to the high temperature. In Rajputana, Guzerat, and locally at a few places elsewhere, there was a slight excess. Elsewhere the differences from the average in both directions were very small. The air was drier than usual throughout North-Western and Central India, as well as in Bombay. In the Carnatic and the North-West of Bengal, however, it was damper than usual.

The rains ceased early in the month in North-Western India, Rajputana, Central India, Sind, Guzerat and a large part of the Deccan; but in Bengal, Burma, Assam and the more eastern districts of the North-West Provinces, they continued to fall almost to its close. In Madras, as well as over a large portion of Bombay, light showers fell at short intervals.

The rainfall was very heavy all over Bengal, and especially in Behar, where it was nearly three times the average amount; and next thereto, in Northern Bengal. In the Carnatic the rainfall was about the average, and in Mysore and on the plateau of Bellary, it was but slightly above it. Everywhere else, the rainfall was more or less deficient, and little or no rain fell in the Indus Valley, Cutch and Guzerat.

The following table shows the amount of rain and the difference from the average, during the month of September 1886, according to districts, as far as is indicated by the telegraphic reports.

OFFICERS IN CHARGE.

2. Except for the first six days of the year Mr. E. Gay acted as Head Commissioner. In Madras, Mr. H. F. Clogstoun was Commissioner. In Bombay, Mr. T. W. Rawlins was Commissioner, and in Rangoon Mr. W. Wells, except for the period 1st April to 24th June 1885, when Mr. W. D. F. Cowley officiated.

ACCOUNTS AND AUDIT.

3. The monthly audit of the accounts has been duly reported for each office to the Comptroller General, and the following special audits have also been made :—

Accounts of	Auditing Officer.	Date of report.	Period under audit.
Calcutta . .	Deputy Auditor General.	14th April 1886 .	1st April 1885 to 31st March 1886.
Allahabad . .	Ditto ditto .	December 1885 .	April 1882 to November 1885.
Madras . .	Ditto ditto .	6th February 1886	1st April 1884 to 31st March 1885.
Rangoon . .	Ditto ditto .	7th November 1885	1st April 1884 to 31st March 1885.
Bombay . .	Ditto ditto .	. . . .	1884-85 and 1885-86.

CIRCULATION.

4. The following figures show the state of the net circulation :—

	Gross Circulation.	Retired by other Officers.	Net Circulation.
1st April 1885 . . .	14,94,58,675	36,89,635	14,57,69,040
31st March 1886 . . .	14,49,39,940	32,07,215	14,17,32,725

As explained in previous reports, a note is in "Gross Circulation" when it is not yet returned to the original office of issue; but if it has meantime been paid off by another office of issue, and is held by it pending return to the original office of issue, then it has ceased to be in "Net Circulation," though it is still part of the "Gross Circulation."

5. The details of the net circulation of March 31st, 1886, are as follow :—

Total for 31st March 1884 .	532,508	2,010,682	249,265	167,931	279,767	25,815	34,090	1,644	3,301,702	12,75,65,410

The figures under Bombay include the outstanding circulation of the abolished Sub-Circles of Nagpur and Akola.

6. There is on the whole a falling-off in circulation of about 50 lakhs; the fluctuations in the lower denominations are not important; the increase of ten rupee notes more than balances the decrease of fives and twenties, showing that though little change has taken place in the use of notes for current circulation there is a small improvement, but there is a decrease of more than 50 lakhs in the notes of ₹1,000, which are chiefly used by Banks and others as convenient for reserve balances, the decrease here is probably due to the economy of balances made imperative by a gradually falling exchange.

7. From these figures it will be found that the average value of each Note in circulation on the last day of the year, compared with the past two years, was —

	1883-84.	1884-85.	1885-86.		1883-84.	1884-85.	1885-86
Calcutta Circle .	30	32	28	Kurrachee Circle .	61	84	105
Allahabad „ .	60	67	69	Madras „ .	63	58	62
Lahore „ .	73	69	65	Calicut „ .	32	33	37
Bombay „ .	41	47	44	Rangoon „ .	167	102	70

The average value, which decreased in the larger circles, rose considerably in Kurrachee. This is due to the ten thousand-rupee Notes of that circle being much in excess of last year's figures.

8. The variations in the net circulation of each circle are shown in the following table, omitting 000 :—

9. On these the following remarks are offered :—

First, for Calcutta I show for the last three years the figures of the net circulation (in lakhs of rupees), excluding the Reserve Treasury of Government—

Last day of	1883-84.	1884-85.	1885-86.	Last day of	1883-84.	1884-85.	1885-86.

August . .	547	548	579	February .	536	594	593
September .	520	545	628	March .	552	633	582

These figures almost throughout this year have been larger than last year. As usual, there was considerable fluctuation during the shipping season, but nothing to call for any special remark.

10. The same figures for Bombay and Madras are :—

The circulation at Bombay, which had been increasing during the first 9 months of the year, fell off considerably in the last three, and was at the end 40 lakhs below 1885; this is, however, not an unusually large fluctuation, and probably arose from trade demand for silver. The Madras circulation was on the whole above that of last year.

11. The following figures show (in lakhs and thousands) the "Gross circulation" in the Presidency Circles, of Notes not exceeding ₹100 each. It will be seen that in these lower denominations the circulation is well maintained :—

ANALYSIS OF CIRCULATION.

12. As explained last year a system of record is now introduced by which it will be possible hereafter to verify the outstanding balance of the circulation account with the details obtained from the issue registers, the system is based on that adopted at the Bank of England, and it will remove a great defect of our previous system of record. Its extension to past years is a work of much labour and is not yet completed.

THE RESERVE.

13. The value held against the net circulation upon 31st March 1886 was as follows :—

As usual, the receipts of Bullion for coinage were largest at Bombay, and towards the close of the year the amount expected was so considerable that it was thought desirable to transfer 51 lakhs for coinage in Calcutta; this transfer was not, however, completed until after the expiration of the year under review.

14. The half-yearly verifications of the Currency balances were held as follows :—

	1st half.	2nd half.
CALCUTTA	Sept. 30, 1885	April 1, 1886
Allahabad	„ 30, „	March 31, „
Lahore	„ 30, „	„ 31, „

Calicut	Jany. 15, 1886	April 1, 1886
RANGOON	„ 30, „	March 31, „

The balances of the last working day of each half-year were verified in accordance with the orders issued on the subject. The delay in the verification of Calicut Currency balances is due to the Local Government not having communicated to the Collector of Malabar, as usual, their order appointing an officer for that purpose.

Investments.

15. No alteration has been made since the last report in the amount of the invested reserve, which is held in book debt certificates as below—

	6,25,21,700

Taking the two loans together, the average rate is 95·96 per cent.

16. Its book value, i.e., the actual price at which it was purchased, has been reduced from ₹5,99,97,500 at which it was taken last year, to ₹5,99,95,000. thus—a and d.—These are the ordinary issues and receipts in exchange for other notes or for coin.

EXPLANATIONS.

b and e.—These are exchange transactions with treasuries, as the Agencies do not deal directly with the public, but only enable the treasuries to do so to a greater extent than would otherwise be the case.

f.—This figure represents notes cashed at other currency circles from March 16th, 1885, to March 15th, 1886, and returned during the year under report to the circles to which they belong.

c and g.—These remittances are for the most part payments and receipts of one currency office, in consideration of receipts or payments at another.

The chief noticeable point in the above table is the considerable reduction as compared with last year, viz., from 1,47,700 to 1,11,348, in the number of rupees reduced in weight otherwise than by reasonable wear: it is hoped that the special attention given to the examination of coin has had the effect of improving the character of the circulation.

27. I give below statements similar to those given last year of the whole rupees coined and issued from the Indian Mints during the years 1835 to 1885, and the proportions of each of those issued found on examination in every District Treasury of a bag of 2,000 rupees of the coin ordinarily current in the district.

I can only repeat the remarks made last year that there is considerable difficulty in drawing any general conclusions from the movement of coin which these statements indicate. New coin being largely used for melting into ornaments the coinage of a prosperous year, or perhaps of the year preceding, is likely to disappear comparatively quickly. The large remittances of coin to the Punjab from Bombay in 1879 to provide for war expenditure account for the high proportion of coin of that year circulating in the Province. Very large specie remittances are made to Burma at the commencement of the rice season, but whether it is in new or old coin depends on whether it is found convenient to obtain the actual coin from Calcutta or Bombay, where it would probably be freshly minted, or from Madras, where it would be accumulated from general circulation.

31. The receipts for the last five years have been—

	Calcutta.	Bombay.	Total.
1881-82	59,87,643	1,53,84,809	2,13,72,452
1882-83	79,40,334	4,25,24,213	5,04,64,547
1883-84	89,36,643	2,40,52,521	3,29,89,164
1884-85	1,77,38,617	4,53,44,578	6,30,83,195
1885-86	1,94,06,198	6,75,75,104	8,69,81,302

Thus it appears that the receipts were higher than for any year since 1879-80, when the total was R9,31,22,111, and of the whole Bombay received more than three times as much as Calcutta.

32. The operation of the bullion clauses of the Currency Act is shown in further detail in the following figures :—

Thousands of Rupees.

	Receipts at the Mint of bullion on account of the Currency Department.			Balance at end of month of bullion paid for by Currency Department and held as part of its reserve.			Balance of bullion held on Treasury Account, that is, the amount by which the deliveries of new coin failed to meet the Mint certificates payable by Treasury to Currency.

FORGERY AND FRAUD.

36. The following were the cases of forged notes of the Calcutta Circle during the year under review. In no other circle were any forged notes presented. No important series of forgeries has appeared :—

5-rupee	6 pieces
10 ,,	2 ,,
50 ,,	1 ,,

37. These were very clumsy attempts at forgery, the medallions being thick and coarse the words in the body of the note very rough. The paper of one out of the two 10-rupee notes however is perhaps a little more than usually like that of genuine notes, and bears an imitation of the water-mark "Government of India".

REMITTANCES OF SILVER.

38. The following is the detail of silver remittances :—

	R
Calcutta to Allahabad	13,50,000
Calcutta to Lahore	40,00,000
Calcutta to Rangoon	50,00,000
Allahabad to Calcutta	13,48,675
Lahore to Calcutta	27,96,389
Bombay to Allahabad	54,00,000
Bombay to Lahore	1,00,00,000
Bombay to Kurrachee	1,50,75,000
Bombay to Rangoon	20,00,000
Kurrachee to Bombay	4,000
Kurrachee to Lahore	20,00,000
Madras to Rangoon	30,00,000

39. The remittances from Lahore and Allahabad one in shroff-marked coin sent for recoinage to the Calcutta Mint. The remittances from Bombay were as usual to disperse a part of the large sums tendered in Bullion for coinage.

TREASURY STATISTICS.

40. The transactions in notes at the several treasuries in India during 1883-84, 1884-85 and 1885-86 have been as follow :—

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE,
STATISTICAL BRANCH;
Calcutta, 21st October 1886

J. F. FINLAY,
Offg. Secretary to the Government of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.
REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

REPORTS ON THE STATE OF THE SEASON AND PROSPECTS OF THE CROPS FOR THE WEEK ENDING 20th OCTOBER, 1886.

GENERAL REMARKS.—During the week under report the rainfall has been almost confined to Burma, Madras, Bombay, excluding Sind, Mysore, Berar, Hyderabad, and the Central Provinces. In Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and Central India rain fell in places, but the showers were light.

The kharif harvest is in active progress in Bombay, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the Punjab, and Rajputana, and a good outturn is expected. In the Central Provinces, Berar, Hyderabad, and Central India, where the harvest has not yet commenced, the prospects of the standing kharif are improving, the recent rain having been of benefit to the crops. In Mysore the crops are in good condition, and in Coorg the ragi has been harvested. In Madras prospects are good, but in some districts the harvest is yielding an outturn below the average.

In Bombay the rice crop is generally good, except in Ahmedabad, where rain is still urgently wanted; and in the Central Provinces the crop has improved by the recent rain. The early rice harvest in Bengal has been completed, and the winter rice generally looks well, though in Behar and East Bengal some injury has been caused to it by floods. Preparations for the winter crops still continue in Assam. In Burma the rice crop promises well.

Sowings for the rabi are generally in active progress in Bombay, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, Rajputana, and the Central Provinces, though in the last-named province they have been retarded in places by rain. In Bengal, the Punjab, Hyderabad, and Berar sowing has also commenced. In the Punjab rain is needed.

The public health continues to be generally satisfactory everywhere.

Prices are rising in a few districts of the Punjab, fluctuating in the Central Provinces and in Mysore, and falling in Coorg. Elsewhere they are generally stationary.

ABSTRACT OF THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNCIL OF THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA, ASSEMBLED FOR THE PURPOSE OF MAKING LAWS AND REGULATIONS UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF THE ACT OF PARLIAMENT 24 & 25 VIC., CAP. 67.

The Council met at Viceregal Lodge, Simla, on Thursday, the 21st October, 1886.

PRESENT:

His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General of India, K.P., G.C.B., G.C.M.G., G.M.S.I., G.M.I.E., P.C., presiding.
The Hon'ble C. P. Ilbert, C.S.I., C.I.E.
The Hon'ble Sir T. C. Hope, K.C.S.I., C.I.E.
The Hon'ble Sir A. Colvin, K.C.M.G., C.I.E.
The Hon'ble Major-General G. T. Chesney, R.E., C.S.I., C.I.E.
The Hon'ble Colonel W. G. Davies, C.S.I.
The Hon'ble J. B. Peile, M.A., C.S.I.

SIR HERBERT MACPHERSON'S DEATH.

His Excellency THE PRESIDENT SAID:—Before the Council proceeds to its ordinary business I desire to take this opportunity of expressing, in the name of the Government of India, the deep sorrow and concern with which we have heard of the death of one of our most distinguished Generals—Sir Herbert Macpherson. Until yesterday morning we had received no intimation even of his being unwell. On first reaching Mandalay, indeed, he noted in one of his letters to the Commander-in-Chief that he had suffered from a slight touch of the sun, but he spoke lightly of the matter, and from his subsequent correspondence there was no appearance of its having produced any inconvenient effects.

"During the short time that he has remained in command in Burma he devoted himself unremittingly to the arduous duties which he had undertaken, and he travelled about the country in various directions, and eventually went up to Bhamo. It is to be presumed that on his return he must have contracted the fatal fever of which he died. It was on his way out to sea, whither he was being taken in the hope of the sea air proving beneficial to him, that he expired.

"In Sir Herbert Macpherson both India and England have lost a most talented and trustworthy officer, as well as a gallant and noble soldier. He has died in the discharge of his duty, and I have taken upon myself to communicate to his family in the name of my colleagues our deep sympathy and regret. I have received a telegram from Her Majesty the Queen in which She also expresses Her deep sorrow at the calamity—for it is no less—which has, thus suddenly, overtaken Herself and the country."

DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF BILL.

The Hon'ble SIR THEODORE HOPE presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Acts, 1879 to 1882.

The Hon'ble SIR THEODORE HOPE also moved that the Report be taken into consideration. He said:—

"In making this motion I have merely to state that the Select Committee have found very little to alter in the Bill as originally introduced. On the suggestion of the Governor of Bombay in Council we have, I think I may say ex majore cautelâ, defined the expression 'standing crops' so as to make it perfectly clear that it includes garden-produce attached to trees or to the soil. We have also made an amendment (which is perhaps the only amendment worthy of specific notice) in the section relating to documents which are registered by the Village-Registrar. In the Bill it was contemplated that the Village-Registrar should no longer make an exact transcript of a deed into his register, but merely an abstract. From further consideration, however, and communication with the local authorities of Bombay, it appears doubtful whether persons of the comparatively scant education and want of legal knowledge, which may not unfairly be considered characteristics of the Village-Registrars, would be able to make a trustworthy summary of documents. We have therefore thought it better to leave the law as it is, and to let the documents still be transcribed verbatim into the books. At the same time this does not alter the provision originally contemplated that any person who wishes to have a copy of what has been registered shall receive one, but now, instead of getting a copy merely of the abstract made by the Village-Registrar, he will get one of the document itself whenever he desires to have it.

"We have taken the opportunity of correcting a trifling misprint which, singular to say, seems to have survived from 1879 up to the present time the scrutiny of all officers concerned.

"We have likewise added what I may term a somewhat routine section in order that persons having claims of a certain description, mentioned in section 3, clause (x), may not be prejudiced by the application of the special rules of limitation prescribed in section 72 being restricted to suits of the kind mentioned in section 3, clause (w).

"The papers which we have received from Bombay contain a variety of very interesting remarks upon the Act itself, introduced apparently apropos of section 3 of the Bill, by which the Local Government receives power to extend it, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, to other parts of the Bombay Presidency. To a very large extent these comments are satisfactory; in certain cases the opinion is not so favourable to such an extension; but after carefully considering them I venture to think that such objections as have been brought forward are not in any respect different from those which on previous occasions have been laid before this Council and have not been held to justify hesitation in extending the benefits of the Act."

The Hon'ble MR. PEILE said:—"I think that the amendments in the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Acts proposed in this Bill should be adopted. I was concerned, as a member of the Bombay Government, in the inquiries and discussion which preceded the introduction of this Bill; and though observation of the working of the Act did not fall within my special province, yet as a measure affecting the interests of the agricultural classes I have given attention to it. The exceptional character of this legislation imposes caution in declaring it a confirmed success, but I think that, with some conflict of opinion, the balance of evidence is distinctly in favour of the Act. Its procedure, as it will be amended by this Bill, appears to me so beneficial that in part at least it may well be extended to other districts under the power given by the third section of this Bill. That procedure is acceptable to the agricultural classes because it is simple and intelligible to them, and in conformity with their customs and traditions. The principles of that procedure are that the debtor and creditor should be brought face to face. That can always be done under the amendment in section 8 of this Bill—a section which will no doubt require to be carefully watched in its effect. They are then led, if possible, to an amicable compromise, and if that is not possible their confused accounts are turned inside out by the Court, the agriculturist is told what he owes, instalments are fixed if necessary according to his means, and he is required to pay them out of the produce which he raises from his land. This latter obligation will be enforced by the amendment made in section 7 of this Bill, and I trust that that amendment will remove any sense of grievance under which the creditors have hitherto suffered. The great advantage of the Act is that, while providing for the payment of debt, it maintains the agriculturist in the possession and use of his holding. In this sense this legislation is a complement of the revenue law and practice in Bombay, which ensures to the holder of land under Government a position of exceptional stability and security. It is held that the merits of the Act can only be finally tested by a famine, and that in that case loans may not be forthcoming. No doubt famine puts a severe strain on agricultural credit and temporarily depreciates the value of land as a security. But a load of ancestral debt has been cleared off, and if perhaps under that process some hardship has been felt by creditors yet the provisions of the Act are not prohibitive of fair money-dealing in the future. Sahukárs are not sentimental, and I presume that a business man would not consider an agricultural holding a less desirable security for a loan because it has been cleared from previous encumbrances."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble SIR THEODORE HOPE also moved that the Bill, as amended, be passed.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

ELECTRICITY SUPPLY BILL.

The Hon'ble SIR THEODORE HOPE also moved for leave to introduce a Bill to regulate the supply of electricity for lighting and other purposes. He said:—

"In making this motion I should explain that the necessity for this Bill was demonstrated about three or four years ago, when we suddenly had an influx into India of companies and promoters of companies for the purpose of electric lighting. These companies proposed to start operations, and actually did in some cases start them, in some of the principal towns of India. But when we desired to regulate their proceedings with a view to the safety of the public and the prevention of interference with our own telegraphic system, we found that we were without the legal means of doing so. As regards the public, it is probably well known that there is considerable danger arising from electric light connections in consequence of the currents used in the production of the light being of very great strength. They are so powerful as to cause instant death to any person who comes in contact with them, or to set fire to any inflammable material which lies on the wires while the currents are passing. Again, when electric light wires pass within a certain distance of telegraph or telephone wires, obstructive currents are liable to pass from one to the other, which of course entirely put a stop to the use of the telegraph and telephone for the time being. In order to meet these two difficulties the Bill proposes, as regards protection, that the wires or communications should be put in such a position that contact is impossible, or that they should be so covered with insulating material that contact with them will produce no evil results. As regards interference with the telegraph and telephone wires, the only thing that can be done is to take care that the electric light wires are placed sufficiently far off. That again is an extremely technical matter, and is dependent on the strength of the current used and local circumstances. The Bill therefore provides, in order to secure all these purposes, that any company which desires to supply electricity must take out a license from the Governor General in Council; in this license regulations and conditions will be provided suitable for the particular circumstances of the occasion."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble SIR THEODORE HOPE also introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble SIR THEODORE HOPE also moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the Gazette of India in English and in the local official Gazettes in English and in such other languages as the Local Governments think fit.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

GLANDERS AND FARCY BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT moved that the Bill to extend the Glanders and Farcy Act, 1879, to the Bombay Presidency be taken into consideration. He explained that the Bill had received the approval of the Bombay Government, and he thought there was no reason why it should not be passed into law without further delay.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT also moved that the Bill be passed.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

BENGAL CIVIL COURTS BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT also presented the Preliminary Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the law relating to Civil Courts in Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Assam. He said:—

"This Bill was introduced by my predecessor in 1881 with a view of removing certain minor defects in the Bengal Civil Courts Act. It was referred to a Select Committee and circulated for opinion, but its further progress was suspended by the revival of a scheme for establishing local Appellate Benches in Bengal—a scheme which is still in abeyance in consequence of financial and other difficulties. The amendments proposed by the Bill, though useful, can hardly be described as of urgent importance, and I should have been content to leave the measure to slumber a little longer in the archives of the Legislative Department but for the circumstance that there is before the Legislative Council another Bill which ought to be passed at an early date and which may affect the Bengal Civil Courts Act. I refer to the Bill to amend the law relating to Provincial Small Cause Courts. Under these circumstances I have taken upon myself, as the single representative of the Committee on the Bengal Civil Courts Bill, to have that Bill revised in accordance with the opinions that have been received, and to prepare a Report explaining the nature of the amendments which have been made, and recommending that the Bill, as amended, be re-published. And I propose to move that the Select Committee be reinforced by the addition of those members of the Committee on the Small Cause Courts Bill who are connected officially or otherwise with the Provinces to which the Civil Courts Act applies, in order that the two measures—the Civil Courts Bill and the Small Cause Courts Bill—may be considered together. Whether a single member of the Committee is technically competent to submit a Report on behalf of the whole Committee may possibly be open to doubt; but in view of the obvious convenience of the course which I propose for adoption, and of the fact that it will not in any way fetter the action either of my successor or of the Council or of any one else, I trust that the irregularity, if any, may be condoned."

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT also moved that the Bill to amend the law relating to Civil Courts in Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Assam be re-published.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. ILBERT also moved that the Hon'ble Mr. Peile, the Hon'ble Mr. Quinton and the Hon'ble Bábú Peári Mohan Mukerji be added to the Select Committee on the Bill.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjourned sine die.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

REPORTS ON THE STATE OF THE SEASON AND PROSPECTS OF THE CROPS FOR THE WEEK ENDING 27th OCTOBER, 1886.

GENERAL REMARKS.—Rain has fallen generally throughout the country during the week under report, except in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh and in the Punjab, where none fell. In Bengal there were slight showers in a few districts.

In Bombay, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, Punjab, and Rajputana the kharif harvest progresses and promises well, though in Bombay some injury has been caused by late rains. Reaping has also commenced in the Central Provinces, where the standing crops have been damaged by rain and cloudy weather. In Berar, Hyderabad, and Central India the prospects of the crops are satisfactory. Coffee-picking has commenced in Coorg, and in Mysore the standing crops are in good condition. Prospects in Madras are good.

In Bombay and the Central Provinces the rice crop has been benefited by the recent rain, and in Bengal the crop is healthy. In Burma the rice crop is doing well everywhere. Preparations for the winter crops continue in Assam.

Sowings for the rabi are in progress generally throughout the country, but in parts of Bombay and the Central Provinces they have been retarded by heavy rain.

Cotton-picking has commenced in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, but in Berar the crop is likely to suffer if more rain falls.

The public health continues generally good.

Prices are rising in two districts of the Punjab and falling in Coorg. Elsewhere they are generally stationary.

RESOLUTION.

Madras Presidency.*—There were 207 companies in existence at the close of 1884-85, with an aggregate nominal capital of Rs. 2,74,47,928. During the year 1885-86, 19 companies with a nominal capital of Rs. 22,13,000 ceased to work, and 7 increased their capital by Rs. 12,54,972; while 375 new companies were registered against 60 in the previous year. Ninety-six of the newly registered companies were banking or loan companies, six were trading companies, three mills and presses, and one a mining and quarrying company; the remaining 269 companies being provident and benefit societies, securing certain payments to members or their nominees on death or marriage.

The net result at the close of 1885-86 was a total of 563 companies at work. Of these 563 companies, 314 had liabilities limited by guarantee and possessed no capital divided into shares. The remainder represented a nominal capital of Rs. 3,58,28,187. Of the nominal capital, Rs. 1,19,40,896 was paid up, as shewn below :

Nature of Companies.	No.	Nominal capital.	Paid-up capital.
		Rs.	Rs.

Planting	8	12,20,000	8,18,160
Total	249	3,58,28,187	1,19,40,896

So that about half of the whole paid-up capital invested in these companies was devoted to money-lending transactions.

Four companies omitted to file their balance sheets and other documents as required by the Act, and the Government Solicitor was instructed to proceed against them.

The receipts from registration fees and the expenditure of the Registrar's office amounted in 1885-86 to Rs. 87,575 and Rs. 1,263 respectively against Rs. 13,731 and Rs. 1,049 in the previous year.

2. Bombay Presidency.—The year 1884-85 closed with a total of 174 companies in existence, representing an aggregate nominal capital of Rs. 11,26,31,430, of which Rs. 8,54,22,054 were paid-up, and with 83 companies in liquidation.

Of the 174 companies, 9 went into liquidation in 1885-86, 10 increased their capital by Rs. 10,39,500, 1 decreased its capital by Rs. 12,000, and 23 new companies were registered with an aggregate nominal capital of Rs. 74,97,500. The net result at the close of 1885-86 was 92 companies in liquidation and 188 companies at work, as shewn below :—

Total	188	11,30,36,430	8,79,53,222

Thus nearly three-fourths of the paid-up capital of working companies in Bombay are invested in the great and increasing cotton industry.

Two companies omitted to file the usual notice of increase of capital as required by section 57 of the Act. They were prosecuted and fined in the sums of Rs. 501 and Rs. 500 respectively.

The fees realised in 1885-86 amounted to Rs. 8,877, and the total expenditure was Rs. 1,030-10, against collections Rs. 7,996-8 and expenditure Rs. 1,314-4-7 in the preceding year.

3. Bengal.—The year 1884-85 closed with 232 companies at work, with an aggregate nominal capital of Rs. 11,23,54,500, besides 10 companies in course of liquidation, whose nominal capital was Rs. 15,30,000.

In 1885-86, 8 companies were finally dissolved, 15 with a total nominal capital of Rs. 1,01,11,000 commenced winding up their business, 4 increased their capital by an aggregate amount of Rs. 27,60,000, and 14 new companies, with an aggregate nominal capital of Rs. 41,26,600, were registered. Of these last, 10 are for tea cultivation, 2 for trading purposes, 1 for the cultivation of indigo, being the first of its kind, and 1 is an insurance company.

The net result at the close of 1885-86 was :—

Nature of Companies.	No.	Nominal capital.	Paid-up capital.
		Rs.	Rs.
Tea	128	3,99,87,100	3,16,20,419
Trading	33	1,88,32,000	1,27,14,708
Mills and Presses	39	2,35,95,000	1,99,50,141
Banking and Loan	18	1,86,65,000	1,74,04,309
Mining and Quarrying	11	84,32,000	77,43,380
Ice Manufacture	6	10,60,000	9,71,620
Sugar Manufacture	1	16,00,000	16,00,000
Others	4	13,10,000	9,33,580
Total	231	11,34,81,100	9,29,38,157

Thus rather more than a third of the paid-up capital was invested in tea companies, and about a fifth in mills and presses, mostly jute and cotton.

The total receipts from registration fees amounted to Rs. 6,995 against Rs. 7,089-6 in the previous year; and the total expenditure was Rs. 588.

One company was prosecuted under section 61 of the Act for not filing notice of the situation of its office.

4. North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—The number of companies in existence at the close of 1884-85 was 42, representing an aggregate nominal capital of Rs. 95,91,000, of which Rs. 81,22,212 were paid up.

In 1885-86 one of the companies was wound up, and four new companies were registered with a nominal capital of Rs. 96,000. Of these, 2 were trading companies, and 2 printing presses. Three companies increased their capital by Rs. 5,40,000, the increase of one, the Muir Mills at Cawnpore, alone amounting to Rs. 5,00,000.

The net result at the close of 1885-86 was 45 companies at work, as detailed in the following table:—

Nature of Companies.	No.	Nominal capital.	Paid-up capital.
		Rs.	Rs.
Banking and Loan	12	31,58,000	28,92,265
Trading	13	7,95,000	4,38,233
Mills and Presses	10	36,95,000	31,87,298
Tea Manufacture	3	9,33,000	9,32,311
Breweries	2	5,00,000	5,00,000
Ice Manufacture	1	1,50,000	92,258
Mining and Quarrying	1	4,65,000	4,65,000
Sugar Manufacture	1	4,00,000	...
Others	2	91,000	91,000
Total	45	1,01,87,000	85,98,365

The fees realised amounted to Rs. 1,235.

5. Punjab.—At the close of 1884-85, 26 companies were in existence, of which 19 were working and 7 under liquidation. Of those working, 2 were limited by guarantee and had no divided capital. The remaining 17 companies were limited by shares, and had an aggregate nominal capital of Rs. 48,11,000, of which Rs. 38,51,200 had been paid up.

In 1885-86 one of the companies under liquidation finally wound up, 1 entered into liquidation, 2 increased their capital by Rs. 2,16,000, and 2 new companies were registered—one with a nominal capital of Rs. 2,00,000; the other being a company limited by guarantee.

The net result at the close of 1885-86 shews 7 companies under liquidation and 20 at work, of which 3 are limited by guarantee. The remaining 17 companies may be classed as follows:—

Nature of Companies.	No.	Nominal capital.	Paid-up capital.
		Rs.	Rs.
Banks	4	24,00,000	20,67,930
Trading	5	3,44,500	48,490
Mills and Presses	2	10,00,000	5,53,912
Brewery	1	7,00,000	7,00,000
Sugar and Distillery	1	3,75,000	2,51,825
Tea Manufacture	1	2,37,500	2,37,500
Mining and Quarrying	1	1,20,000	1,19,700
Ice Manufacture	1	1,00,000	56,230
Other	1	20,000	9,700
Total	17	52,97,000	40,45,287

The fees realised amounted to Rs. 697-8. No expenditure was incurred.

6. Central Provinces.—There were 2 companies in existence at the close of 1884-85, both having for their object the working of cotton. Their aggregate nominal capital and the actual working capital were Rs. 11,50,000 and Rs. 7,70,900 respectively. One of the two companies increased its paid-up capital by Rs. 56,900. The position at the close of 1885-86 was that there were two companies at work, both cotton mills, with a nominal capital of Rs. 11½ lakhs and a paid-up capital of Rs. 8,27,800.

No new company was registered and no fees were realised.

7. Burma at the close of 1884-85 possessed 16 companies, whose aggregate nominal capital was Rs. 16,69,550. Of this amount, Rs. 13,40,325 was shewn to have been paid up. No new company was registered in 1885-86, but 4 companies, with an aggregate nominal capital of Rs. 2,93,000, went into liquidation during the year. The position at the end of 1885-86 was as follows:—

Nature of Companies.	No.	Nominal capital.	Paid-up capital.
		Rs.	Rs.
Trading	10	13,11,550	12,20,907
Banking	1	50,000	12,800
Other	1	15,000	14,950
Total	12	13,76,550	12,48,657

Registration fees to the amount of Rs. 260 were realised against Rs. 275 in 1884-85. No expenditure was incurred.

8. Berar.—The Indian Companies' Act was extended to the Hyderabad Assigned Districts in September 1884. The rules framed under the Act were sanctioned and published in January 1885, and the office of Registrar of Joint Stock Companies opened in the following month. No companies were registered up to the end of the year.

9. Mysore State.—The year 1884-85 closed with 44 companies at work, 7 companies in existence, but not working, and 17 companies under liquidation. The companies at work represented an aggregate nominal capital of Rs. 20,35,500. In 1885-86, 7 companies with a total capital of Rs. 2,60,000 were not working, 20 with a capital of Rs. 13,20,000 were in course of liquidation, 2 increased their capital by Rs. 30,000, and 24 new companies, with an aggregate nominal capital of Rs. 4,84,000, were registered. The net result at the close of 1885-86 shews 65 companies at work. Of these, 16 are limited by guarantee and possess no capital, their object being that of securing certain payments to members or their nominees on death or marriage. The remainder may be grouped thus:—

Nature of Companies.	No.	Nominal capital.	Paid-up capital.
		Rs.	Rs.
Banks	45	20,38,100	6,23,170
Trading	4	1,10,000	36,475
Total	49	21,48,100	6,59,645

Most of the banking companies have for their object banking and trading combined. They are mostly small native money-lending concerns, and have an average paid-up capital of less than Rs. 14,000 each.

The fees realised in 1885-86 amounted to Rs. 2,188-14-9 against Rs. 976-4-3 in the previous year.

10. Civil and Military Station of Bangalore.—There were 11 companies at work at the close of 1884-85, with an aggregate nominal capital of Rs. 28,70,000, of which Rs. 14,96,819 had been paid up, whilst 7 companies, representing a capital of Rs. 8,95,000, were under liquidation.

Two new companies were registered in 1885-86, one of them being a company limited by guarantee. The net result at the close of 1885-86 shews 13 companies at work, 12 of them with a nominal capital aggregating Rs. 27,70,000, thus :—

Nature of Companies.	No.	Nominal capital.	Paid-up capital.
		Rs.	Rs.
Banks	10	19,20,000	11,18,573
Mills (Cotton, Wool, Silk)	2	8,50,000	4,77,991
Total	12	27,70,000	15,96,564

The fees realised during the year amounted to Rs. 275 against Rs. 473 in the preceding year.

General.

11. The details reviewed in the preceding paragraphs are summarised in the table appended to this Resolution, which shews the total capital, nominal and actual, in the different provinces of all joint-stock companies. Bengal, Bombay, and Madras head the list with a paid-up capital of 929, 879, and 119 lakhs respectively, making a sum of about 1,927 lakhs out of the aggregate for all India of 2,098 lakhs, or about 92 per cent.

12. The following table compares the paid-up capital in the several provinces in the last two years :—

Province.	Paid-up capital in 1884-85.	Paid-up capital in 1885-86.	Increase or decrease per cent in 1885-86.	Proportion of paid-up capital to all paid-up capital in 1885-86.
	Rs.	Rs.		Per cent.
Bengal	9,43,58,342	9,29,38,157	— 1·51	44·3
Bombay	8,54,22,014	8,79,53,222	+ 2·96	41·9
Madras	1,03,93,359	1,19,40,896	+14·89	5·7
North-Western Provinces and Oudh.	81,22,212	85,98,365	+ 5 86	4·1
Punjab	38,51,200	40,45,287	+ 5·	1·9
Burma	13,40,325	12,48,657	— 6·84	0·6
Other Provinces	28,70,992	30,84,009	+ 7·42	1·5
Total	20,63,58,444	20,98,08,593	+ 1·67	100

13. The largest part of this capital—934 lakhs paid-up—is invested in mills and presses chiefly for working or pressing cotton, jute, wool, and silk. The Bombay Presidency shews the largest contribution under this head, chiefly for working or pressing cotton, Bengal following, chiefly with jute.

Tea and other plantations follow with a total of 337 lakhs paid-up capital. Bengal is far ahead of the other provinces in the tea industry, most of the tea companies being registered in Calcutta.

Banking or loan companies rank third with 315 lakhs paid-up. Bengal heads the list here, the Madras Presidency coming next.

Trading companies rank fourth, with a paid-up capital of 278 lakhs. Bombay heads the list here, Bengal coming next.

Mining and quarrying engaged 103 lakhs paid-up. Here also Bengal heads the list, the Bombay Presidency being next.

The other industries individually represent much smaller sums; thus ice-making, 20 lakhs paid-up, chiefly in Bombay and Bengal; breweries, 12 lakhs paid-up, chiefly in the Punjab and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

14. The following table shews, so far as reported, the total number of joint stock companies at work in India with their nominal and paid-up capital at the end of each of the last six years :—

Years.	Companies at work.	Nominal capital.	Paid-up capital.	Increase of paid-up capital.
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1880-81	475	19,74,10,150	14,86,66,364	...
1881-82	500	21,29,73,730	15,45,80,041	59,13,677 = 3·98 %
1882-83	547	22,17,01,800	17,01,59,044	1,55,79,003 = 10·08 „
1883-84	649	26,67,34,384	18,75,06,107	1,73,47,063 = 10·19 „
1884-85	696	27,88,76,908	20,63,58,444	1,88,52,337 = 10·05 „
1885-86	805	28,52,74,367	20,98,08,593	34,50,149 = 1·67 „

The increase during the year was only 34½ lakhs, being at the rate of little more than 1½ per cent.—a very much smaller rate of increase than in previous years. The average annual rate of increase during the six years has been a little under 7 per cent.

15. The fees realised and the expenditure in each province last year were :—

REPORTS ON THE STATE OF THE SEASON AND PROSPECTS OF THE CROPS FOR THE WEEK ENDING 3rd NOVEMBER, 1886.

GENERAL REMARKS.—The rainfall of the past week has been heaviest in Bombay, the Central Provinces, Mysore and Coorg, and Burma. In Madras, Bengal, Assam, Berar, and Central India, and in a few places in the Punjab and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, there have been slight showers.

The kharif harvest continues in Bombay, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, Punjab, Rajputana, and Hyderabad, and is also in progress in the Central Provinces, where, as in parts of Bombay, the standing crops have been somewhat damaged in places by heavy and untimely rain. In Berar and Central India the crops are progressing well, and prospects are also satisfactory in Madras, Mysore and Coorg.

The rice crop in the Central Provinces is improving under the late rain, and in Bombay, Bengal, Assam, and Burma the condition of the crop is favourable.

Cotton-picking continues in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh and in Berar, but in the Central Provinces the crop has been injured by excessive rain. In Bombay cotton prospects are generally good.

Rabi operations are in active progress everywhere, and where the sowings have germinated they promise well. In the Central Provinces the rainfall still retards the rabi sowings.

The public health is generally satisfactory in all Provinces.

Prices are falling in Mysore and Coorg and in two districts of the Punjab, but are generally steady elsewhere.

Presidency or Province and District.	Rainfall for week under report.	State of agricultural prospects.
Madras—(Nov. 3rd)
Bellary	Average ·35	Standing crops generally fair; harvest dry grains, outturn average in parts and below average in others. Cattle-disease in one taluk.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

REPORTS ON THE STATE OF THE SEASON AND PROSPECTS OF THE CROPS FOR THE WEEKS ENDING 10th AND 17th NOVEMBER 1886.

GENERAL REMARKS.—Except in Madras, Mysore, Bombay, Hyderabad, Burma and in a few districts in Bengal and the Central Provinces, there has been no rain in the country during the fortnight ending the 17th instant. No report has been received from Burma for the second week.

The kharif harvest continues in active progress in Bombay, the Punjab, Central Provinces, Rajputana and Hyderabad, and has been completed in most places in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh. In Bombay and Hyderabad the crop has suffered slightly from excessive rain, but on the whole the harvest promises well everywhere. In Madras the harvest outturn is average and the general prospects good, and in Mysore and Coorg the standing crops are reported to be in good condition. In Berar and Central India the agricultural outlook is satisfactory.

The rice crop in Bombay, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the Central Provinces and in Burma has done well. In Bengal the aman promises an excellent outturn. In Assam the crop prospects are good.

Cotton-picking continues in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the Punjab, Central Provinces and Berar. In Bombay the crop has been injured in some places by too much rain.

Poppy sowing has commenced in Bengal and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

Sowings for the rabi are now well advanced throughout the country, and prospects are generally very satisfactory everywhere.

The public health continues generally good in all Provinces, except in Bengal where fever is prevalent and in Ajmir where cholera has appeared.

Prices have fallen in Mysore and Coorg, and are rising in three districts of the Punjab. Elsewhere they remain generally steady.

RESOLUTION.

In the penultimate paragraph of Home Department Resolution dated 20th May 1879, cited in the preamble, the following general instructions in respect of the treatment of gangs of foreign Asiatic vagrants were laid down for the guidance of Local Governments and Administrations and the officers subordinate to them, namely:—

(1) that the frontier provinces are responsible that such gangs are not allowed to pass into India;

(2) that in any province where such a gang commit any depredations, no effort should be spared in bringing the chief offenders to justice for specific crimes, or treating them, as the law allows, under the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure relating to security for good behaviour;

(3) That on no account should such gangs be passed on under police or other guards into other districts or other provinces; but if deportation is deemed necessary, it should be carried out at once under Act* III of 1864, full lists and descriptive rolls of the deported persons, with photographs of the leaders, being taken and forwarded to the frontier Governments; and

* An Act to give the Government certain powers with respect to Foreigners.

(4) that on no account should safe-conduct passes or licenses to carry arms be granted to gangs of this type, or to any members of such gangs, and that if arms or ammunition are found in their possession, they should be at once disarmed in accordance with the provisions of the Arms Act.

2. The following instances have recently come under the notice of the Government of India in which these instructions have in certain respects been overlooked by local officers. In the year 1884, a large body of Pathans visited the Lower Provinces. According to the Police reports, these men described themselves as being of Dehra Ghazi Khan, although there was reason to believe that they were wandering gipsies from beyond the North-West Frontier of India. They travelled in several gangs, the number of which appeared to be fluctuating, and while pretending to be horse-dealers caused great annoyance to the inhabitants of the districts through which they passed by practising various methods of extortion.

In June 1885, three vagrant bands entered the Ganjam District of the Madras Presidency from Bengal—two through the Gurjat Mahals, and one through the Sambalpur District of the Central Provinces. These gangs, or some members of them, were found to be furnished with police escorts, passes, and licenses to carry arms. Two of the bands called themselves Biluchis, but stated that they came from Dera Ghazi Khan. The third described themselves as being natives of Hyderabad in Sind. Although trade in false-jewels, pocket-knives, pearls, and other miscellaneous articles was their ostensible object, their entry into the Madras Presidency was at once marked by disturbances. On the 31st July 1885, the Local Government issued an order directing the removal of the gangs in question from the territories belonging to the Madras Presidency under the provisions of section 3 of Act III of 1864. Paragraphs 3 and 4 of that order were as follow:—

There is reason to believe that the three gangs are connected, and that they entered the Northern Circars of this presidency in the year 1882, and then stated that they belong to Hyderabad in Sind. From enquiries then made it was ascertained that the men were not known at the places mentioned by them, and the order of this Government then passed declared them to be "clearly foreign vagrants." His Excellency the Governor in Council has no hesitation therefore in treating all three of the present gangs as foreigners.

The gangs have now entered the Vizagapatam District, and the question of their future disposal must be decided. His Excellency in Council resolves to order, under the provisions of Act III of 1864, section 3, that these gangs of foreign vagrants shall remove themselves from the territories belonging to the Madras Presidency by the shortest route leading towards their home beyond the North-West Frontier of British India. * * *

It also appears that certain gangs of foreign vagrants were passed on last year from the Central Provinces to the territories of certain Native States in Central India.

In a report submitted by the Bengal Government, it is explained that gun licenses were fraudulently obtained from the authorities at Alipore and Howrah by some individual members of one of the three gangs who entered the Ganjam District from the Bengal side. As regards the passports which these gangs were said to possess, it is stated that they were mostly certificates from a few local officers in the Lower Provinces to the effect that the men were a quiet set of traders, who had created no disturbance in the localities where they had temporarily halted, or that they were respectable travelling merchants. Stringent orders have now been issued by the Bengal Government with the object of preventing any repetition of the practice of giving such certificates.

3. The practice of furnishing wandering gangs such as those referred to above with [redacted] is clearly opposed to the [redacted] Resolution of the 20th May 1879; and the Governor General in Council desires that the special attention of district officers in the several provinces should be directed to those orders, a strict observance of which should at the same time be enjoined. It must also be understood that such gangs must under no circumstances be passed on from British territory into Native States. His Excellency in Council would furthermore point out that the treatment of these foreign vagrants is a matter which requires the exercise of a careful discretion, and which cannot be regulated by hard-and-fast rules.

4. The Government of India also concurs in the suggestions contained in the letters from the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces and the Bengal Government, dated the 26th November 1885 and 31st July last, respectively, which are cited in the preamble to this Resolution, namely,—

(1) that an order of deportation, if issued by any Local Government, should be made effective, and should not merely require the removal of the persons concerned from a particular presidency or province, but beyond the limits of British India (section 3, Act III of 1864), and that the route for removal should be always specified in the order, warning being at the same time given to the Local Governments and Administrations through whose territories the gang will pass; and

(2) that whenever a license to carry arms is given to any person who may appear to be travelling bonâ fide for the purpose of trade, a note should be made on the license of the number of persons accompanying such person, and that he should be given distinctly to understand that should his followers be augmented at any time, or should he join any other company or gang, his license would be at once liable to cancellation.

5. In conclusion, the Governor General in Council wishes it to be clearly understood that the object of calling renewed attention to the matter is not to interfere with the movements of persons who are bonâ fide engaged in trade, but to protect the peaceable inhabitants of the country from the depredations of wandering gangs whose real object is rather larceny or plunder than legitimate trade.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of this Resolution, together with a copy of the correspondence cited in the preamble, be forwarded to Local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance, and to the Foreign Department for information and communication to Political and other authorities subordinate to that Department.

Ordered also, that the Resolution and the papers be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

A. P. MACDONNELL,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of India.

No. 1126 J., dated Calcutta, the 28th February 1885.

From—J. WARE-EDGAR, Esq., C.S.I., Officiating Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Judicial, Political and Appointment Departments.

To—The Secretary to the Government of India.

In accordance with your endorsement No. 264, dated 25th February, enclosing a telegram (herewith returned) from Daria Khan and his followers, I am directed to submit the following report.

2. About nine months ago, the attention of Government was drawn by police reports to the presence in Behar districts of a large number of Pathans. According to the police reports these men described themselves as being of Dera Ghazi Khan, visiting India for the purpose of trading in horses. They were estimated to number some 250 persons. Reports concerning them were received from Sarun, Durbhanga, Monghyr and Bhagulpore. They were stated to have no fixed abode, to be travelling under the authority of perwanahs granted to them by certain officers in the North-Western Provinces, and under the cover of horse-dealing to be practising various methods of extortion on the inhabitants of the places they visited. These Pathans travelled in several gangs, the number of which appears to be fluctuating. Daria Khan was reported to be the leader of one of the gangs. The Pathans subsequently visited Purneah, Maldah, Dinagepore, Bogra and Pubna. They were everywhere watched by the police.

3. In September last, under orders of the Inspector General of Police, a gang of these Pathans was stopped by the police in Pubna, and examined as to whether they were inhabitants of British India or not. Twenty of the men stated that they were inhabitants of "Rajhan in Khelat in the elaka of the Khan, but having no fixed abode. In Khelat which is under the control of the Khan, there is a British Resident." Rajhan they described as being in the hills, 30 miles distant from the district of Dera Ghazi Khan. The Inspector General of Police then represented to Government that this particular gang had committed many depredations and much harassed the villages on which the gang quartered themselves, and on his application the Lieutenant-Governor, by an order in writing under section 3, Act III of 1864, dated 4th December, directed that these foreigners should remove themselves from British India viâ Bogra, Maldah, Bhagulpore, Monghyr and Dinapore. The Government of the North-Western Provinces were at the same time addressed, informed that a police escort would accompany the men either to Buxar or the Karamnassa, and requested to issue necessary instructions to have the band passed on towards Khelat. On the 16th December, on the suggestion of the Magistrate of Dacca, the route was changed to one viâ Goalundo, Moorshedabad, Rajmehal and Bhagulpore. The gang was escorted by the police to Goalundo. Shortly after leaving that place, however, they got away from the police and appear to have joined other bands of Pathans.

4. Of those who escaped, one party appears to have come down south to the neighbourhood of Barrackpore, and under Subhan Khan to have joined the band of Daria Khan at Ampta. At any rate, it is certain that these two bands entered the district of Midnapore together at the beginning of this month. On their arrival at Midnapore, the band of Subhan Khan was, on being identified by the Inspector of Police, who had previously been in charge of all the foreigners whose deportation was ordered, separated from that of Daria Khan, and despatched under a police escort towards Synthia. Daria Khan was informed that he was at liberty to march where he liked, so long as he committed no depredation. But further enquiries are being made about him and his followers in Dera Ghazi Khan. It is to the separation from the party of Daria Khan of the Pathans who are under orders of deportation that the telegram under report refers.

5. With regard to Daria Khan, I am to say that the Lieutenant-Governor received a petition purporting to be sent by a person of that name at the end of last December. In the petition it was stated that the petitioner and his party had come from Dera Ghazi Khan to Bengal with horses and ponies for the purpose of carrying on trade, and the petitioners prayed that the police would not molest them. Attached to the petition was a paper purporting to be a copy of a certificate signed by R. A. Cole, Bengal Staff Corps, Station Staff Officer at Erinpura, to the effect that Daria Khan, merchant and horse-dealer from Dera Ghazi Khan, with about 150 followers, had camped near Erinpura for five or six days, and that their behaviour had been orderly. This Mr. Cole is apparently the gentleman referred to in the telegram. The petition, which was addressed from Calcutta, was sent to the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, for report. In reply, it was stated that Daria Khan had applied to the Commissioner of Police for a license for arms and a rahdari perwannah to Madras vid Midnapore and Balasore. On consideration of the unfavourable reports regarding Daria Khan, the grant of the perwannah was refused. As stated in the last paragraph, Daria Khan went at the beginning of this month to Midnapore. Thence the Lieutenant-Governor received from him two telegrams complaining of the separation of his party and alleging oppression by the police.

6. Daria Khan appears to be the chief leader of the Pathans. He and his party first entered Sarun from Goruckpore in the North-Western Provinces about May last, and the police reports have throughout been unfavourable regarding him and his men. There have been complaints against them of extorting money by threats from women and timid people, dealing in false precious stones, and of grazing their ponies on the crops of the villagers. Daria Khan himself and two of his party were tried on the 10th December last in Nuddea for culpable homicide. They were acquitted, because the witnesses either would not or could not speak positively as to the identity of the accused. There is, however, no doubt that one or some of the band did commit the murder.

7. I am to say that careful inquiry was made as to the country from which those Pathans came regarding whom orders of deportation were issued. They described themselves as foreigners and as subjects of the Khan of Khelat, and not British subjects. As they described their residence as being 30 miles from the District of Dera Ghazi Khan, in the hills, a reference was made to the District Superintendent of Police of Dera Ghazi Khan. In reply, he stated "nothing is known in this district of the members of the gang mentioned, nor can any substantial information be obtained regarding their arrival in Dera Ghazi Khan. From their habits, appearance, and mode of living, it would seem that they are either Khorasani or Irani gypsies, called sometimes Kuchianis."

8. There has been no vexatious or unnecessary interference with the men originally belonging to the gang of Daria Khan, but orders have been given to the police to watch their proceedings strictly. They have caused great annoyance to the inhabitants of the districts through which they have passed, and certainly in no respect have earned the character of being peaceable traders. It is probable that they are wandering gypsies from beyond the north-west frontier of India, but, pending the receipt of further information, Sir Rivers Thompson is unwilling to deport them in a body under the Act.

From—The Honourable E. F. WEBSTER, Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras.

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Foreign Department.

I am directed to forward, for the consideration of His Excellency the Governor General in Council, the marginally noted Proceedings of this Government regarding certain wandering gangs describing themselves as Beluchis, who appeared recently in the northern districts of this Presidency.

G.O., 31st July 1885, No. 1990.

2. These vagrant bands appear to have entered the Ganjam District from Cuttack, and their arrival in this Presidency was at once marked by a succession of criminal occurrences. They had in their possession passports of various dates, which, so far as they can be deciphered, appear to be of little value as evidence of nationality or for any other useful purpose. I am directed to enclose a gun-license, taken from Daria Khan, one of the leaders of the gang, purporting to have been granted on the 14th May 1885, by the Magistrate of Pooree, in contravention, it would seem, of the express orders of the Government of India as contained in the resolution noted in the margin. It is in the opinion of His Excellency in Council, through inattention to these instructions, that these people have been enabled to penetrate so far south. The action of each district officer appears to have been directed merely to hurrying on the gang as quickly as possible out of his own jurisdiction, and His Excellency in Council would, therefore, suggest the advisability of positive instructions being reiterated to the Governments of the Northern Presidencies to carefully attend to the instructions laid down by the Government of India to which reference is made above.

Telegram dated Chatrapur, the 5th June 1885.

From—[illegible]

To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras.

Two gangs, numbering 38 and 45, respectively, entered district from Bengal side. They declare that they came from Dera Ghazi Khan, but Commissioner, Cuttack, styles one gang Beluchis, whilst Inspector General, Police, Bengal, has apparently treated them as British subjects furnishing escort. They are provided with numerous passes and also three gun licenses, but I have notwithstanding ordered disarmament, as already complaints of violence and plunder made. I believe gangs to be identical with those who wandered through the country in 1882—vide G. O. No. 506 of 19th June. They wish to proceed vid Vizagapatam to Madras. Have warned Mr. Turner.

ORDER THEREON.

The following telegram will be sent to the District Magistrate, Ganjam:—

"Your telegram fifth. Your action approved. Forward passes said to have been given to gang."

No. 1794, dated Chatrapur, the 4th June 1885.

To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras.

I have the honour to report that a party of Beluchis, consisting of 13 men, 9 women, and 16 children, arrived here from Cuttack yesterday morning, vid Rawbha. Another gang, said to number 80 persons, arrived at Kalingapodoro in the Kurcholi muttah of the Goomsuf taluk on the 1st instant.

2. The arrival of these gangs in the district has spread alarm and consternation among the people. At Rawbha it is reported that the shops were all closed, and at Buguda in Goomsur it is reported that housebreaking with violence has been committed, and a strong body of police has had to be despatched there to inquire into the offence and make arrests if necessary.

3. Daria Khan, the leader of the gang which arrived here, possessed a double-barrelled rifle. As it is unadvisable that such gangs of wild characters as these appear to be should be allowed to proceed with arms through this and adjoining districts, their presence in itself being a terror to the people, I have directed that the above gun be seized and detained here.

4. The Magistrates of Balasore and Pooree appear to have granted licenses to Daria Khan to possess arms contrary to the directions contained in paragraph 53 of the resolution of the Government of India, communicated with G.O., 2nd July 1879, No. 1552. The two licenses presented before me are enclosed for the information of Government.

5. I may mention that timely intimation was given me by the Commissioner of Cuttack of the advent of the smaller gang, but that I received no warning regarding the larger gang which has entered the districts suddenly by an unfrequented road, and would seem from the reports received to have at once broken out into acts of violence and lawlessness. I have communicated to the District Magistrate, Vizagapatam, the movements of the two gangs.

6. Though claiming to be Beluchis, I consider that they are the identical people who came down some four years ago and claimed to be Scindis. They have with them for sale nothing but a few English pocket-knives, and, what they call stones (probably glass), and a lot of ponies, but nothing of any value.

No. 376, dated Russellkonda, the 4th June 1885.

From—M. R. Ry. A. Suryanarayana, General Deputy Magistrate of Ganjam.

To—The District Magistrate of Ganjam.

In continuation of my letter, dated 2nd instant, No. 366, I have the honour to report that Mr. Inspector Lever met the gang of Mussulmans at Ballisayi on the evening of the 2nd instant, and on the 3rd accompanied them to Kullada, where they remained that day. The gang arrived at Russellkonda this morning and encamped in a tope about half a mile from the town. They intend to halt here to-morrow, and then march to the next stage "Gangupur" en route to Berhampore.

2. The headman of the gang and five others just came to my Office and showed me passports detailed in the enclosed list and several others obtained from the authorities in Native States. These show that they are peaceable traders.

3. It appears that these are Scindis or Punjabis residing in Dera Ghazi Khan district. They were travelling through several Native States in Upper India, and also through North Canara, Tanjore, Mysore, Bangalore, Calcutta, and Central Provinces from some years back for the purpose of trade. They have brought with them different kinds of false stones, pearls, penknives and other miscellaneous articles, and are exposing them for sale to the public at Russellkonda. The gang consists of—

Men	12
Women	13
Boys	10
Girls	10
Total	45
Ponies	25
Guns	2

They got a license for these guns from the Joint Magistrate of Howrah. The license is dated 8th January 1885, and is current till 31st December next. They are also accompanied by four constables of the Gurjat police.

4. They state that they intend going by land to Madras viâ Berhampore, Vizagapatam, Godavari, Kistna, and Nellore districts for purpose of trade.

5. They have not produced any passport from Government to pass through the Madras Presidency, but from the endorsement,* dated 13th March 1885, given by the District Magistrate of Burdwan, it appears that the orders of the Inspector General, Bengal, are that "they should be allowed to go where they please, the police, however, keeping an eye on them. They appear to be inoffensive traders, and say they belong to district Dera Ghazi Khan."

* Copy enclosed.

6. The Assistant Superintendent of Tributary Mahals (Gurjat Police) certifies, on 13th May 1885, to the effect that "these persons are travelling through these tributary mahals, and are now going to Berhampore. They have permission of Government to travel under police surveillance; this police guard should be relieved at the next district they go to." This shows that these people have permission of Bengal Government to go to Berhampore. But as I have received no orders from you, I am doubtful whether I may allow this gang to pass on to Berhampore under police surveillance.

7. They ask me for a passport and a police guard of one head constable and four constables, as they have also much money with them; but object to the deputation of Police Inspector to accompany them, saying that he would give them trouble. If they are allowed to pass on to Berhampore, I think it better to send an Inspector with a few constables along with them to Berhampore, so that they may not give any trouble to the villagers on their way. I respectfully solicit early orders, as these people say that they cannot stay here more than two days.

8. As regards the Kalingapodoro affair, Mr. Lever reports that some of the women of the gang quarrelled with the Panos of the place on account of some fowls, and each party received a beating from the other. He further reports that one Komati Narayana Patro of Gayagonda complained to him that the women belonging to the gang entered his house and carried away Rs. 60 in cash, a cloth, brass-pot, and some sugar. The matter is under investigation by the police, and if there is sufficient evidence, the offenders will be dealt with according to law.

Dated Soory, the 13th March 1885.

* Endorsed by the District Magistrate of Soory on application for a copy.

Copy of departmental order cannot be given. The petitioner and his companions are going viâ Ranchee to trade. The Inspector General's orders are that they should be allowed to go where they place,* the police, however, keeping an eye on them; they appear to be inoffensive traders, and say they belong to district Dera Ghazi Khan.

* Sic in original.

CERTIFICATE.

Mirza Ali Muhammad Beg and party of men, women, and children, in all 45 persons, are travelling through these tributary mahals, and are now going to Berhampore. They have permission of Government to travel under police surveillance; this police guard should be relieved at the next district they go to.

Camp Angul;
13th May 1885.

Assistant Superintendent of Police, Gurjat Police.

No. 1820, dated Chatrapur, the 5th June 1885.

Endorsed by the District Magistrate.

Submitted to Government in continuation of my letter of 4th June 1885, No. 1794, and my telegram of this date. I have issued warrant to seize all arms in their possession, and instructed the General Deputy Magistrate to act in accordance with the rules laid down in paragraph 53 of G. O., 2nd July 1879, No. 1552, Judicial Department, treating them as aliens.

No. 2004, dated Chatrapur, the 16th June 1885.

To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras.

As directed in Government telegram of the 9th instant, I have the honour to forward 29 passes obtained from Daria Khan, the leader of the gang which passed through Chatrapur and which is now at Berhampore, and 2 gun licenses and 5 passes obtained from the gang which entered the district through Kurchoh.

2. The gang under the command of Daria Khan appear to be in a hurry to proceed to Russelkonda and join the other party there. The Superintendent of Police reports that he has reason to believe that they intend, if allowed, to go on together to Hyderabad viâ Balliguda, Kalahandi, &c. I have therefore issued orders (as Agent to Governor) that the gang should not be permitted to travel viâ Balliguda.

3. The Assistant Superintendent of Police, Gurjat Mahals, writes to the Superintendent of this District that "during their passage through the Tributary States of Orissa they gave a good deal of trouble to some of the Rajahs in whose States they were, by quarrelling with the amla about payment of supplies and by thefts said to have been committed by their women."

4. His report only reached the Superintendent of Police after the gang had entered this district.

Miscellaneous No. 1916, dated Octacamund, the 23rd July 1885.

Ordered, that the following telegram be despatched to District Magistrate, Ganjam :—

"Your letter, 16th June, No. 2004. Report where Biluchi gangs now are. Government propose to order deportation as aliens, therefore their progress should be stopped."

In continuation of my letters noted in the margin, I have the honour to state that another gang, consisting of 10 men, 19 women, and 11 children, who call themselves natives of Hyderabad (Scinde?), arrived at Kurcholi in the Goomsur taluk on the 20th instant from Sambulpur, accompanied by a fourth grade head constable and a constable of the reserve police of that district. These are, no doubt, another party of the two previous gangs.

From—Colonel H. D. CLOETE, Inspector General of Police.

To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras.

With reference to my remarks on confidential monthly report, dated 1st July, I have now the honour to forward the report of the Superintendent of Police, Ganjam, on the Biluchi gangs that entered this Presidency last month. They are a turbulent and unruly set of people, who cause great annoyance to the timid and peaceful inhabitants of this Presidency, and it seems very objectionable that they should be allowed to wander about at will with fire-arms and protected by passes.

2. The inhabitants of this Presidency are not accustomed to deal with such people, the consequence is that, where there are no police at hand, they rob and bully the villagers, and are a perfect pest. They are not British subjects or it might be said that it would be interference with their liberty to prevent them travelling through India. They are, in my judgment, nothing more than vagrants provided with a certain amount of rubbish to give a clock to their being considered travelling merchants.

No. 352, dated Chatrapur, the 14th June 1885.

From—H. T. Ross, Esq., Superintendent of Police.

To—The Assistant Inspector General of Police (through the Deputy Inspector General of Police), Madras.

In continuation of my telegram of the 5th instant, I have the honour to submit the following report.

2. On the 1st instant District Magistrate, Ganjam, informed me of the expected arrival of a gang of Biluchis (copy of letter A attached) ; I at once sent information to all Inspectors concerned.

3. On the 1st instant the Inspector of Police, Ganjam Division, reported the arrival on the 30th ultimo at Panditgam (5 miles this side of Bengal frontier) of a gang of Biluchis consisting of 18 males, 9 females, and 16 children, in all 38. They proceeded to Kalikot (the head-quarters of the zemindar) on the 31st idem under police escort; on the 1st instant to Rawbha ; on the 2nd to Chatrapur, where they remained until the 6th, and then went on to Berhampore, where they are at present.

4. Whilst at Chatrapur the District Magistrate issued a warrant for the seizure of a licensed double-barrelled gun found with the leader of the gang. The gun was seized, but the Magistrate subsequently returned it on condition of its being sold to the Kalikot Rajah who had expressed a wish to buy it.

5. This portion of gang has been giving no trouble whatever in the district; the members profess to be itinerating merchants, and have with them a large stock of penknives, false pearls, gold mohurs, &c.

6. The leader states that the whole gang, of which the present number is but a portion, consists of 150 members; that they left Biluchistan about two years ago, and travelled together as far as Cuttack, visiting Calcutta, Balasore, and Midnapur, where they divided into two gangs—one going into the interior towards Sumbulpore, and the other followed the trunk road arranging to meet at Berhampore in this district. The name of leader is Daria Khan. He says he and his party belong to Dehra Ghazi Khan in Biluchistan.

Dehra Ghazi Khan is in the Punjab. C. A. P.

7. On the 3rd instant I received a report from Inspector Lever at Russellkonda to the effect that the Baroda station officer had sent him information of the arrival, on the 1st instant at Kalingapodoro (a Pano village, 20 miles north-east of Russellkonda), of a gang of about 60 Muhammedans who had demanded food from the villagers, entered their houses, searched [illegible] of their fowls, &c.

8. The Inspector immediately started for the village and met the gang on the night of the 2nd at Bullichage. Mirza Muhammad Ali Beg and Mirza Kyser Beg, the two headmen of the gang, on being questioned stated they were natives of Dehra Ghazi Khan, and it is evident that they are members of the same gang now at Berhampore. A double-barrelled rifle and a fowling piece were found with them. These have subsequently been seized. This party was accompanied by four constables of Ongul (Gurjat district) and possessed a pass from the Assistant Superintendent of Police, Ongul (Gurjat district), dated 13th ultimo, in which it was stated that the gang had been permitted by Government to travel through the tributary mahals on their way to Berhampore under police surveillance, and that the guard should be relieved at the next district.

9. Regarding the numerous complaints made by the villagers, these four Bengal constables state that "they were in close attendance on the gang since it left Ongul, and did not notice or hear of any irregularity having been committed by them." I have called upon the Inspector for a further report regarding this matter. No intimation of the coming of this gang was sent me by the Gurjat district authorities, the first information we received of their presence was from villagers coming in with complaints. Besides the case above mentioned a Komati of Gayagondal stated that the women of the gang broke into his shop on the morning of the 1st while passing through the village, stole Rs. 30 in cash, four gold-bladed necklaces to the value of Rs. 120, and a piece of loaf-sugar. These complaints are under inquiry.

10. The gang is found to be actually 45 strong, and is now at Russellkonda, where it will remain pending the disposal of the above charges.

11. It is believed that one of the leaders, Mirza Muhammad Ali Beg named above, was fined, some years ago (1882), Rs. 1,000 at Vizagapatam by the District Magistrate for keeping in his possession a gun without license.

12. Since writing the above, the charges against the various members of the gang have been inquired into.

13. I attach a statement giving particulars of each case.

14. The Police Inspector reports that the evidence in almost all the charges disclosed facts seriously complicating the police constables who accompanied the gang from Ongul.

15. In one case it is stated that the first-class constable in charge of the escort urged the villagers to pay up on the head of the gang threatening to loot and burn down the village if his demands were not met.

16. This constable, as might be expected, was cited as a witness for the defence in nearly all the cases charged, and, of course, the evidence was in favour of the parties citing him.

17. I will report further regarding the Ongul constables as soon as I receive the Deputy Magistrate's proceedings.

18. I have just received an order to obtain and forward to the District Magistrate all the passes granted by the Bengal authorities found in possession of the Biluchis.

I attach copy of a letter received yesterday from the Assistant Superintendent of Police, Gurjat mahals—vide B.

No. 441, dated Cuttack, the 23rd April 1885.

From—C. F. METCALFE, Esq., C.S.I., Commissioner of the Orissa Division.

To—The Collector of Ganjam.

I have the honour to inform you of the arrival of a party of Biluchi travelling merchants bound for Madras, consisting of 13 men, 9 women, and 14 children. They have 19 horses with them and two rifles and are likely to leave Cuttack soon. I have written to the Magistrates of Cuttack and Pooree to depute police to see them out of their respective districts, and beg to warn you of the coming of these men. The leader of the party is a man named Daria Khan.

No. 1275, dated Chatrapur, the 30th April 1885.

Endorsed by the Collector and Magistrate.

Copy forwarded to the Superintendent of Police, who is requested to keep a sharp look-out upon the immigrants. Any offences committed should be at once reported and the offenders prosecuted against rigorously. Any arms found should be seized under the Arms Act, if not protected by licenses.

No. 330, dated Cuttack, the 8th June 1885.

From—A. B. BARNARD, Esq., Assistant Superintendent of Police.

To—The District Superintendent of Police, Ganjam.

I have the honour to inform you that, on the 3rd instant, a party of "Khelaties," headed by one Mirza Ali Muhammad Beg, entered your district and was made over to your police. These men have been travelling through Bengal with the permission of the Inspector General of Police, Lower Provinces, whose orders were that they should be watched, but not restrained by the police under whose surveillance they should be passed on from district to district. They are said to be travelling for the purpose of dealing in pearls, cutlery, and horses, but during their passage through the Tributary States of Orissa, they gave a good deal of trouble to some of the Rajas, in whose States they were, by quarrelling with the amla about payment of supplies and by thefts said to have been committed by their women.

Telegram dated Chatrapur, the 26th July 1885.

From—District Magistrate, Ganjam.

To—Chief Secretary, Madras.

Biluchis are at Guzratipet, Vizagapatam district. Their progress stopped. Have telegraphed to District Magistrate, Vizagapatam.

ORDER THEREON.

On the 5th of June the District Magistrate, Ganjam, telegraphed the arrival in his district of two wandering gangs described by the Commissioner of Cuttack as Beluchis, but furnished with escort, passes, and gun licenses. The Magistrate reported that he had ordered disarmament, and approval of his action in this respect was communicated to him by wire, and the receipt of further information awaited. This has now been furnished in the letters read above. It appears that three gangs have entered this Presidency, numbering in all 127 persons including women and children. Two parties called themselves Biluchis, but stated that they came from Dera Ghazi Khan in the Punjab; the third band describe themselves as natives of Hyderabad in Scinde, and state that trade is the object of their journey. They have in their possession different kinds of false jewels, pocket-knives, pearls, and other miscellaneous articles, which they offer for sale. Their entry into this Presidency was at once marked by disturbances. At Rawbha shops were all closed, and at Buguda house-breakings are reported to have been committed by them. Numerous complaints of theft and other offences are reported in the enclosures to the Inspector General of Police's report. Several fire-arms were found with them, and most of these have been seized by the local authorities.

2. It is clear from their actions in this Presidency, as well as from the proceedings of the Magistrate of Balasore, dated 24th March 1885, and the letter of the Assistant Superintendent of Police, Gurjat Mahals, dated 8th June 1885, that these gangs of foreigners are turbulent and dangerous to the public peace, and it is highly desirable to prevent them from wandering further into this Presidency.

3. There is reason to believe that the three gangs are connected, and that they entered the Northern Circars of this Presidency in the year 1882, and then stated that they belonged to Hyderabad in Scinde. From inquiries then made it was ascertained that the men were not known at the places mentioned by them, and the order of this Government then passed declared them to be "clearly foreign vagrants;" His Excellency the Governor in Council has no hesitation, therefore, in treating all three of the present gangs as foreigners.

4. The gangs have now entered the Vizagapatam district, and the question of their future disposal must be decided. His Excellency in Council resolves to order, under the provisions of Act III of 1864, section 3, that these gangs of foreign vagrants shall remove themselves from the territories belonging to the Madras Presidency by the shortest route leading towards their home beyond the north-west frontier of British India. The following telegram will accordingly be despatched to the District Magistrate, Vizagapatam:—

"Three gangs of Biluchis, total 127 persons now at Guzratipet. Government orders them under section 3, Act III of 1864, to remove themselves from Presidency by northern route. Inform them of penalty under section 4 in case of neglect or refusal. Communicate with Agent, Ganjam, and report result to Government."

5. The Government of India will be addressed regarding the action of the Bengal authorities in furnishing these gangs with passes and police escort.

No. 2793, dated Ootacamund, the 14th October 1885.

From—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras.
To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department.

With reference to your letter, dated 17th September 1885, No. 320, regarding the wandering gangs of Biluchis who lately visited this Presidency, I am directed to refer you to the marginally noted letter which was addressed to the Government of India upon the subject.

1st September 1885, No. 2307.

2. No correspondence has taken place between this Government and the Government of Bengal in connection with the matter, but the passes found with the Biluchis, which had been granted by certain district officers in Bengal, have been ordered to be returned to the Bengal Government.

3. With reference to your inquiry regarding the results of the inquiry made into the conduct of the police constables who accompanied the gangs in question from Ongul, I am directed to state that the District Magistrate of Ganjam has not furnished any report upon the subject. The Police, in question, were Bengal Police, and doubtless the police authorities in Ganjam have reported the matter to the Superintendent of Police in Gurjat district, from which district the gangs were sent into Ganjam. A report upon the subject will, however, be called for from the Inspector General of Police.

No. 4158—203, dated Nagpur, the 28th October 1885.

From—F. C. ANDERSON, Esq., Officiating Secretary to the Chief Commissioner, Central Provinces.
To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department.

I am directed to forward, for the information of His Excellency the Governor General in Council, a copy of letter No. 6134, dated 11th instant, from the Commissioner, Chhattisgarh Division, with copy of the letter referred to therein from the Deputy Commissioner of Sambulpur regarding wandering gangs of Beluchis. It appears from order No. 1990 (Judicial), dated 31st July last, passed by the Madras Government, that the case has been reported to the Government of India by the Madras authorities, and I am to say that the Chief Commissioner would be glad if he were furnished with a copy of any orders that may be passed on it by the Supreme Government. It is perhaps hardly necessary for the Chief Commissioner to point out that the deportation of large numbers of so-called Beluchis through the Central Provinces must cause considerable inconvenience and entail some expense.

No. 6134, dated Camp Bilaspur, the 11th October 1885.

From—The Commissioner, Chhattisgarh Division.

To—The Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces.

I have the honour to forward, for the orders of the Chief Commissioner, the accompanying copy of letter from the Deputy Commissioner, Sambalpur, No. 4378, dated 5th instant, with enclosures* in original, suggesting that uniform action be followed by Local Governments in the treatment of gangs of Beluchis or Khelatis, who, from time to time, wander about the country, being regarded sometimes as peaceable traders, and at others as marauders preying upon the people. In the present instance it will be seen that certain gangs were allowed to go through Bengal protected by passes and escort, only to be regarded as turbulent and dangerous on entering the Madras Presidency, and deported as foreign vagrants under Act III of 1864. The gangs now deported from Madras will be escorted through the Central Provinces districts, but the question submitted for consideration is the possibility of arrangements being made to ensure for the future a uniform treatment of these people either as peaceable traders or as foreign vagrants.

* To be returned.

No. 4378, dated the 5th October 1885.

From—J. P. Goodridge, Esq., Deputy Commissioner, Sambalpur.

To—The Commissioner, Chhattisgarh Division.

I think it advisable to bring to the notice of the Chief Commissioner and yourself the movements of certain gangs of persons known as Khelatis or Beluchis.

2. In June or July last two such gangs passed through this district coming from the district of Lohardugga and the States of the South-West Agency. These men were accompanied by an escort of Bengal Police, and were in possession of rahdari parwannahs or safe passes granted to them by the Bengal authorities. Secretary to Chief Commissioner's Book Circular X of 1879 having forbidden the issuing of such passports and the detailing of a police guard to escort these gangs about, and having also directed that they should be treated either as ordinary traders and travellers, in which case they should not be molested, but only watched if in large numbers, or they should be deported if they misconducted themselves by oppressing or robbing the people. The District Superintendent of Police was directed to make an enquiry into their antecedents and present behaviour. The enquiry elicited the fact that they had passed peaceably through the districts of the Chota Nagpur country selling their wares, and that since their arrival in this district no complaints had been made against them. They sold a large quantity of imitation pearls and pocket knives of British manufacture, and after remaining here several weeks left on their way to Cuttack. At their departure they were very anxious to obtain rahdari parwannahs similar to those with which they had entered the district, and police escorts to protect and assist them on their way.

The instructions issued to the District Superintendent of Police were not to grant any such passes or escorts but to have them closely watched by one or more trustworthy constables, and so long as they conducted themselves in an orderly manner they should not be molested. If, however, they acted in a lawless or oppressive manner to the people, they were to be arrested, and the matter reported with a view to their deportation. Similar instructions were issued to the Feudatory Chief of Sonepur through whose State they passed on their way to the Gurjat Tributary Mehals. The second gang proceeded in the Raipur direction also without an escort or passes.

The District Superintendent of Police and the Chief of Sonepur subsequently informed me that they had conducted themselves in a peaceable manner, and had taken the route indicated by them to Cuttack.

And attached to this letter is the report of the District Superintendent of Police regarding these people which gives a good description of the men who visited this district this year, and their conduct while here.

3. I have now received information from the Commissioner of Orissa that several gangs of the same class of men styled Beluchis who had been travelling about in the Orissa country were, on their entering the Madras Presidency, arrested, and that the Government of Madras had eventually ordered them to be deported as gangs of foreign vagrants to their own country by the shortest route vid Sambalpur.

4. From the Proceedings of the Madras Government, which were forwarded to me by the Commissioner of Orissa, and which are enclosed herewith for your information, I observe that these people stated before the Madras authorities what similar gangs have stated here, viz., that they had come from Hyderabad (Scind). But nothing precise is known about them save what they state themselves. They carry about with them their women and children and all their belongings, and have now apparently no fixed abode. The Madras Government having made in 1882 enquiries about similar gangs who then untruthfully alleged that they were British subjects from Scind have now "no hesitation in treating these gangs as foreigners." It is also mentioned in the papers that various acts of violence and lawlessness had been attributed to them, and would be enquired into. A few distinct charges of theft and robbery are made, which, it is said, would also be enquired into; but it is noteworthy that no case is mentioned of any member of these gangs having been convicted of any of the serious offences with which they have from time to time been charged. But in any case whether they be peaceable traders or free-booters, the Madras Government seems to have taken a quite different view of them to that taken by the Bengal authorities when the latter granted them passes and escorts.

5. During the year several gangs of these men have proceeded from the Province of Bengal and spread themselves westwards and southwards, apparently on their way to the Madras and Bombay Presidencies. If these gangs were permitted to disperse from Bengal, and are afterwards collected in and deported from Madras to the North-West Frontier by the shortest road, then this district will become their route, and it will be necessary to detach large parties of Police to march with them several hundred miles across Central India. This will cause much inconvenience, which might apparently be avoided if these gangs were, in the first instance, not permitted to disperse from Bengal.

6. If these people moved about as peaceable traders in small parties, no objection could be taken to their presence. But insisting as they do on travelling about in large numbers with their women and children under the leadership of their headmen, collecting at certain places, dispersing and concentrating again according to a pre-arranged plan, and often selecting routes through solitary and backward parts of the country, their movements have to be placed under surveillance, and their evil reputation for violence and cunning causes considerable alarm both to the country and townspeople. They conducted themselves last July in an orderly manner in this district, but this may be due to the fact that they knew that they were watched; and it is not improbable that, if they had an opportunity, they would commit depredations.

7. The District Superintendent of Police has described in his memorandum the various tricks and artifices with which they are credited in the popular mind, but ordinarily and especially when they are closely watched it is most difficult to say whether they are freebooters travelling about in imposing numbers to plunder and cheat or are merely bands of peaceable traders, who, attracted by the plenty of India, have permanently left their homes in Beluchistan or elsewhere and have not yet acquired a new domicile in this country. They are ostensibly horse-dealers, but they brought no horses with them to this district, though they sold large numbers of pocket knives and false pearls valued at upwards of Rs. 700,* and were in possession of considerable sums of money. The Madras Inspector General of Police writes of their wares as "rubbish intended as a cloak to their being considered travelling merchants," but they unquestionably did a considerable business in imitation pearls and pocket knives in the district, and no one has complained of having been cheated by them.

* According to their statement.

8. But whatever may be thought of the character of these gangs, the difficulty arises from their moving about in large numbers and the necessity of employing Police to watch them in order to prevent them from oppressing timid and ignorant villagers. And now a second inconvenience is threatened, and there seems some danger that the Madras authorities will deport all those who have been allowed to travel from Orissa to Madras, and that the Central Provinces authorities will have to provide escorts to convey these people across Central India.

9. Some arrangements, therefore, which would prevent these people from moving about in large numbers, and a settled policy for the observance of the different Local Governments in dealing with them, seem desirable, and this, I venture to suggest, can only be effectively done by dealing with them at their starting points on the frontier or seaport towns.

10. As regards the gangs deported by the Madras Government, the departure of which from Cuttack for this place has been announced by the Commissioner of Orissa, I beg to say that they will be forwarded to Jubbulpore vid Bilaspore in charge of an adequate police guard.

With reference to your letter No. 1126 J., dated the 28th February 1885, submitting a report on the movements in the Lower Provinces of certain gangs of Pathans, I am directed to forward the accompanying correspondence* which has taken place with the Madras Government regarding wandering gangs in that Presidency, together with a letter† received from the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces on the subject. 2. In forwarding this correspondence I am to invite attention to the communication from the Madras Government, No. 2307, dated the 1st September last, and to request that, with the concurrence of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, the Government of India may be supplied with full information as to the action alleged to have been taken by certain local authorities in Bengal in furnishing these gangs or some members of them with Police escorts, passes and licenses to carry arms. It will not escape the notice of the Bengal Government that any such action is opposed to the orders contained in the penultimate paragraph of Home Department Resolution No. 29—989-1000, dated 20th May 1879, which lay down that on no account should gangs of foreign vagrants be passed on under Police or other guards into other districts or provinces, and that safe conduct passes or licenses to carry arms should under no circumstances be granted to the members of such gangs.

3. The return of the original enclosures of this letter is requested.

No. 399, dated Calcutta, the 30th November 1885.

From—A. MACKENZIE, Esq., Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department.

To—The Officiating Secretary to the Government of the Punjab.

With reference to the correspondence ending with the letter from this Department, No. 139, dated the 27th January 1885, I am directed to forward copies of the papers marginally noted regarding certain wandering gangs of vagrants who recently visited the Lower Provinces and the Madras Presidency. It will be observed that, although trade was the ostensible object of these gangs, their arrival in many districts was immediately followed by disturbances of various kinds and by considerable inconvenience to the local officers.

* Letter from Bengal Government, No. 1126 J., dated 28th February 1885.
Letter from Madras Government, No. 2307, dated 1st September 1885, with enclosures.
Letter to Bengal Government, No. 398, dated 30th instant.

2. It is not in any way the desire of the Government of India that the movements of peaceable persons whose bond fide object is trade should be in any way interfered with so long as they commit no breach of the law and abstain from giving trouble to the local authorities of the Provinces through which they pass; but on the other hand it appears to the Governor General in Council that, when persons are found to be wandering about the country, not in small parties, but in gangs of considerable numbers, and to be causing disturbances and generally giving difficulty to the district officers, it is only a fair and a reasonable inference to draw that their real object is rather larceny or plunder than legitimate trade. It must be remembered that, although such gangs may be found to be well-behaved amongst the stalwart races of the Punjab, experience has shown that they become a source of considerable trouble in parts of the country where the population is of a more timid character. Under these circumstances the Government of India would be glad to be favoured with the advice of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor as to whether more effectual means could not be developed for preventing the entry into, and dispersion over, India of such gangs from the Punjab Frontier Districts. It will be observed that, in the penultimate paragraph of Home Department Resolution No. 29—989-1000, dated 20th May 1879, it was laid down that the frontier provinces must be held responsible that gangs of foreign vagrants are not allowed to pass into India, and that there is reason to suppose that some of the gangs at all events to which the correspondence now forwarded relates came from beyond the North-Western Frontier or from districts in the Punjab.

No. 2408J., dated Calcutta, the 31st July 1886.

From—F. B. PEACOCK, Esq., Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

To—The Offg. Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt, on the 30th November last, forwarding a copy of a correspondence with the Government of Madras, and of other papers regarding certain wandering gangs of Beluchis in the northern districts of the Madras Presidency. In this letter the attention of this Government has been drawn to the communication from the Government of Madras, No. 2307 of the 1st September last, stating that the vagrant bands entered the Ganjam district from Cuttack, that their arrival was at once marked by a succession of criminal occurrences, that they had in their possession passports of various dates, and that the leader of one of the gangs (Daria Khan) had a gun license purporting to have been granted by the Magistrate of Pooree in contravention of the orders of the Government of India, as contained in the Resolution noted in the margin. Full information regarding the action taken by certain local officers in Bengal in furnishing these gangs or some members of them with police escorts, passes, and licenses, and to carry arms, was also asked for, and is given below.

Nos. 29—989 to 1000, dated the 20th May 1879.

2. In my letter No. 1126J, dated the 28th February 1885, a report on the movements in the Lower Provinces of certain wandering bands of Pathans or Beluchis was submitted to the Government of India. In that letter it was explained that two parties of Pathans—one headed by Daria Khan, and the other by Subhan Khan—passed through Calcutta, 24-Pergunnahs, and Howrah, and, having met at Ampta, entered the district of Midnapore, where they were separated, the band of Subhan Khan, which formed a part of a gang, the deportation of which had been previously ordered by the Lieutenant-Governor, being despatched under a police escort towards Synthia. Daria Khan was informed that he was at liberty to go where he liked, so long as he behaved himself and committed no acts of depredation. As already explained in the letter cited above, Daria Khan, while in Calcutta, had applied for a license for arms and a rahadari perwanna to Madras viâ Midnapore and Balasore, but his application was refused by the Commissioner of Police. It now appears that some individual members of his gang surreptitiously obtained gun licenses from the authorities at Alipore and Howrah. Two of these licenses were seized by the Madras authorities, and were forwarded to this Government along with some other papers (described as passports) taken from the Beluchis. Mr. J. Posford, who granted one of these licenses as Joint-Magistrate of Alipore, explains that a Cabuli appeared before him and applied for a gun license, stating that he was in charge of a number of horses and ponies. Mr. Posford supposing him to be a man going about with a drove of horses for sale, and taking into consideration the fact that he would have to halt in the vicinity of places where wild beasts might be encountered, was of opinion that the application should be granted. Before, however, complying with the application, careful inquiries were directed to be made regarding the applicant, and on being satisfied from a police report that he was a peaceful trader, who had with him a number of women, Mr. Posford granted him a gun license, warning him at the same time that the license only held good in the district of the 24-Pergunnahs, and that, if he passed into any other district, he must renew it there. Mr. Posford adds that, when the orders of the Government of India, dated 20th May 1879, on the subject of the treatment of foreign vagrants travelling in British India were issued, he was on furlough, and that he was not aware of such orders until he was required to explain the circumstances under which the license in question was granted by him. The other license was granted by Mr. C. J. O'Donnell as Joint-Magistrate of Howrah. This officer explains that, when the license was granted, he was not aware that the applicant was a member of a gang of wandering Beluchis, and that in fact it was an ordinary license such as would be given to a local trader proceeding to Madras. He adds that in September 1884, when he was Officiating as Magistrate of Bogra, he instituted six prosecutions against members of a gang of Punjabi vagrants, and reported on the necessity of Government restraining their movements, and urges that he would certainly be the last officer in Bengal, in the following January, to knowingly issue licenses to carry arms to a similar body. These men, Mr. O'Donnell says, are constantly changing their names in order to conceal their identity in case of their getting into trouble in the criminal courts, and this procedure enables them to assume local names and possibly to obtain gun licenses.

3. I am to observe that the only party of Beluchis that entered Orissa from the direction of Midnapore was that headed by Daria Khan, whose movements were closely watched by the police, and it does not appear that they misbehaved in any way during their journey from Calcutta to Midnapore. These men were regarded in Orissa as Beluchi merchants travelling through the country. A copy of a letter from the Commissioner of Orissa, No. 412 of the 27th February last, giving a detailed account regarding them, is enclosed for the information of the Government of India. Another band entered the Gurjats of Orissa from the direction of Sambulpore. This party was accompanied by a guard of four constables of the Gurjat Police force, and was allowed to proceed to Rasulkoonda in the Ganjam Tributary Mehals. It is reported that, in consequence of the difficulty of obtaining supplies, they became involved in several disputes with the amlah of the Gurjat Rajahs about the procuring and payment of supplies, but that no instance of direct robbery or violence was brought to the notice of the Superintendent of the Tributary Mehals, Cuttack, during their journey through those mehals. The two parties appear to have converged and met at Berhampore in Ganjam. The action of the Gurjat police in not giving timely information of the approach of the gang proceeding to Rasulkoonda to the authorities in Ganjam, and in not giving the constables accompanying it proper instructions as to their conduct, formed the subject of a separate correspondence, which ended with the letter from this Government, No. 14J—D of the 26th April last.

4. As regards the passports which the vagrant bands in Madras were said to possess, I am to say that they were mostly certificates from a few local officers in Bengal, stating that the men were a quiet set of traders who had created no disturbance in the localities where they had temporarily halted, or that they were respectable travelling merchants. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets the action of these officers in granting certificates, even of such a character, to these men, and he has issued stringent orders which will prevent any repetition of this practice.

5. In the letter from the Home Department, No. 399 of the 30th November last, addressed to the Government of the Punjab, it is stated that it is not the desire of the Government of India that the movements of peaceable persons, whose bonâ fide object is trade, should be in any way interfered with, so long as they commit no breach of the law, and abstain from giving trouble to the local authorities of the districts through which they pass. Keeping this policy in view, the Lieutenant-Governor is of opinion that, while there can be no objection to a small party of foreigners, consisting of two or three men, travelling for the purpose of trade, these parties should on no account be allowed to unite in British India. He, therefore, proposes to issue instructions that, whenever a license to carry arms is given to any person who may appear to be travelling bonâ fide for the purpose of trade, a note should be made on the licence of the number of persons accompanying such person, and he should be given distinctly to understand that, should his followers be augmented at any time, or should he join any other company or gang, his license will be at once liable to cancellation. Sir Rivers Thompson thinks that if such a course were uniformly adopted, these bands would probably desist from endeavouring to move about in bands of such a size as to cause fear and annoyance to the inhabitants of the villages through which they may pass.

The original enclosures of your letter are returned as requested.

No. 412, dated Cuttack, the 27th February 1886.

From—C. T. METCALFE, Esq., C.S.I., Commissioner of the Orissa Division.

To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Judicial Dept.

I have the honour in reply to your letter No. 545J., dated the 28th of January 1886, to forward a report on the case of the Beluchi merchants, which was referred by the Government of Madras to the Government of India.

2. The view taken of the character of these merchants by the Collector of Ganjam is diametrically opposed to the view taken by myself and the district officers of Orissa.

3. The persons who are spoken of as a wandering gang of vagrants in the letter of the Chief Secretary to the Government of Fort St. George were regarded in Orissa simply as a number of Beluchi merchants travelling through the country selling ponies, knives, false pearls and false stones.

4. The succession of criminal occurrences which appear to have marked their wanderings in Ganjam, were unknown here.

5. A party consisting of 13 men, 9 women, and 14 children with 19 ponies arrived in Cuttack on the 21st of April 1885, and applied for written permission to go to Madras. The headman personally reported what his business was. Enquiries were made. It was found that the party had two rifles and merchandise as above stated. The headman had also a number of certificates given to him by different officers of the districts through which he had passed. The men remained here some days. Men and women hawking pearls and knives and other articles in the bazars. After a stay of some days, half the party asked permission to visit Dhenkanal which was granted. There they stayed three days, and then making a detour by Tigiria, Banki and Khorda; the party left for Ganjam on the 23rd May, entering Kalskota on the 29th idem, where their further progress south was checked as being foreign vagrants. Their return was intimated to this office by the Magistrate of Ganjam in his letter No. 2933 of the 18th of August.

6. Before the party left for Ganjam, I had refused to give the leader any written permission as to his route, deeming it quite unnecessary; but I instructed the District Magistrate to depute police to go with the party for the reasons—

(a) That villagers in Orissa will never sell provisions except under authoritative orders, and it was necessary to assist the Beluchies to enable them to buy such provisions as they might require.

(b) That the wild and strange appearance of these men might raise apprehensions among villagers unaccustomed to their appearance.

7. On the return of the Beluchis from Ganjam, they were similarly met by a police officer who escorted the party to Katak. On the 6th of September 1885, I reported that these men had been expelled from Madras to the Government, and in reply, I was instructed that the Beluchie might travel viâ Angul to Sumbulpore under police escort. This was done. The Central Provinces officials being warned of their coming.

8. No action was taken on the arrival of the merchants by me under Act III of 1864, because of their character as merchants. The orders of Government both of India and of Bengal in regard to bands of foreigners refer distinctly to persons of doubtful character found wandering in British India. The men in question did not fall under the category for their orderly behaviour during the time they were in Orissa, and in the Gurjats accorded with the many written certificates held by them; one of which, endorsed by the Magistrate of Burdwan, stated that the bearer and his companions were traders, who were under the orders of the Inspector General of Police, allowed to go wherever they pleased. The police being however directed to keep an eye upon them.

9. Circular No. I of the 2nd January 1879 requires each case of a wandering gang of foreigners of doubtful character to be reported through the Inspector General of Police for orders of Government. [redacted] to be bonâ fide merchants, following a regular trade through Hindostan. The party spreading out and often travelling to a converging point by parallel routes, so as to dispose of their goods to the best advantage. I therefore heard with some surprise of the view taken by the Madras Government.

10. Parties of Afghan traders are constantly arriving in Katak. The Beluchies so far differed from them that they had women and children with them; but both are hawkers of goods, and action under Act III seemed to me no more necessary in the case of the Beluchies than of the Afghans.

11. It is hardly probable that a party of Beluchies should pass through any province without being guilty of some petty penal acts, but such acts as quarrelling over prices of vegetables and fowls, cutting firewood without permission, turning out ponies to graze on other people's land are offences not confined to the special class under report.

12. It is not the case that the merchants in question were hurried out of any one district in this division, in order to get rid of them and pass them on to Madras. As regards the arms with which the party were supplied, they were not more than what they might reasonably require for purposes of defence at night in a wild country against wild beasts.

No. 293, dated Lahore, the 22nd April 1886.

From—W. M. Young, Esq., Secretary to the Government of the Punjab.

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department.

I am desired by the Lieutenant-Governor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 399, dated 30th November 1885, regarding certain wandering gangs of vagrants who recently visited the Lower Provinces and the Madras Presidency, and who have been supposed to come from the North-West Frontier or from districts in the Punjab. The Government of India enquire whether more effectual means cannot be developed for preventing the entry into and dispersion over India of such gangs from the Punjab Frontier districts.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor would observe in the first place that there is no evidence to show that the people mentioned in the correspondence forwarded with your letter under acknowledgment passed through the Punjab in gangs. There is nothing to prevent individuals of this character from passing down-country without attracting attention and forming themselves into gangs at a distance from the frontier; and it is probable that this has happened in the instances under consideration, for the Inspector General of Police has never had his attention called to the fact of similar gangs moving about this province. But whatever may be the origin or starting point of the bodies of vagrants, of whose depredations complaints are made, the Lieutenant-Governor considers that the rule laid down in the Home Department Resolution No. 29, dated 20th May 1879, are sufficient—and more than sufficient—to meet all practical requirements when actual gangs have to be dealt with, though they are quite ineffectual to prevent the passage of foreigners through the Punjab who may meet and form gangs, holding together for a longer or shorter time in various parts of India. In the present days of free and rapid communication, no precautions which the British Government can take consistently with its principles of administration will prevent foreigners passing through this province into other parts of India. Nor does His Honour think that further restrictions are expedient. The Lieutenant-Governor holds that the British Government cannot resort to continental methods of passport and police espionage. It has not the establishment for that system, nor have British officers the temperament requisite to make such measures a success. Sir Charles Aitchison believes that any attempts in this direction would most assuredly fail in their object, and be a source of great worry and hardship to individuals. This opinion is formed upon experience of such attempts which have been made in the past from time to time.

3. If, however, the Government of India should see fit to insist on measures of repression, the most effectual way, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, [redacted] following sections of Act III of 1864 to the Punjab and Sindh; but it is needless to say His Honour does not advise the adoption of this course. The real remedy is severe punishment for breach of the law in the district where the gang is found offending; and as there are very probably certain rendezvous in the Lower Provinces where gangs of foreigners are formed, the more effectual way of dealing with the subject would be, in Sir Charles Aitchison's opinion, to trace back their component parts from the places where they are first observed, and ascertain the conditions under which they band themselves together for marauding purposes.

At the same time the scheme for an interprovincial Railway Police, under the immediate orders of one superior, would no doubt strengthen the hands of Government in this matter; and on this subject I am desired to refer to my No. 65* of 17th April 1886.

From—Colonel H. D. Cloete, Inspector General of Police.

To—The Acting Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras.

With reference to G.O. No. 2792 (Judicial Department), dated 14th October 1885, I have the honour to attach copy of extract from the judgment of the Deputy Magistrate in the case of the Ongul constables. The Superintendent of Police, Gurjat Mehals, in reply to a communication from the Superintendent of Police, Ganjam, forwarding the above extract to him, states that the orders of the guard were "not to interfere with the gang in any way whatever as they were going through States which my police have no right to enter and have no jurisdiction," the result of such orders being that the Ongul constables not only allowed the Beluchis to do as they pleased, but apparently aided and abetted them in their lawless acts.

2. The Beluchis left the Madras Presidency on the 5th September and have not been heard of since, and no further communication has passed between the Superintendents of Police, Ganjam and Gurjat Mehals.

Extract from Judgment in Calendar Case No. 22 of 1885 on the file of the General Deputy Magistrate of Ganjam, dated the 12th day of June 1885.

* * * *

I think it right to mention here that four constables, Nos. 300, 371, 453 and 560, of Gurjat Police, accompanied the gang from Ongul to Russellkonda under the orders of the Assistant Superintendent of Police of the former place. The facts elicited in the trial of these cases show that these constables did not at all prevent this lawless gang from annoying the people in various rural villages it passed through for gratuitous supplies. On the other hand, it appears that in some cases these constables even advised the frightened villagers to pay something to the gang and to avoid further trouble to themselves.

ORDER THEREON.

I am directed to forward, for the consideration of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, in connection with the letter from this Department, No. 398, dated the 30th November 1885, a copy of a communication* received from the Government of Madras, forwarding an extract from a judgment of the Deputy Magistrate of Ganjam, which contains remarks regarding the conduct of certain constables of the Gurjat Police who were apparently deputed to accompany one of the gangs of Pathans referred to in Home Department letter of the 30th November from Angul to Russelkonda.

With reference to Mr. Daukes' letter No. 11, dated the 23rd January last, regarding the conduct of certain constables of the Gurjat Mehals Police, who were deputed to accompany a gang of Beluchi vagrants to Russelkonda in the Madras Presidency, I am directed to forward, for the information of the Government of India, the accompanying copy of a letter* which has been addressed to the Inspector General of Police, Lower Provinces, on the subject.

To—The Inspector General of Police.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 2801, dated the 18th ultimo, regarding the behaviour of certain constables of the Gurjat Mehals police, who accompanied a gang of Beluchi vagrants from Angul to Russelkonda in the Madras Presidency. You consider that the Assistant Superintendent in charge of the Gurjat police is to blame for not giving the Ganjam police timely information of the approach of the gang, and for not giving his men proper orders as to their conduct.

2. In reply I am to say that the Lieutenant-Governor concurs with you, and I am to request that you will be good enough to warn the Assistant Superintendent of the Gurjat Mehals police against a repetition of such carelessness.

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department.

In continuation of my letter No. 4158—203, dated 28th ultimo I am directed to forward extract paragraphs 5 and 6 from a letter No. 4921, dated 13th current, from the Deputy Commissioner of Sambalpur, reporting on the character of the so-called Beluchis in respect to whom the order of deportation was passed by the Madras Government. I am also to forward copy of a letter No. 3125, dated 17th idem, from the Madras Government, and to say that, in the Chief Commissioner's opinion an order of deportation from British India should be effective, and that it cannot be effective unless arrangements are made for securing the removal from British India of the persons who have been directed to remove themselves. It appears to the Chief Commissioner that the Local Government passing an order of deportation should look to something more than the removal of the foreigners from its own territories, and should see that proper arrangements are made for their removal from British India, the other Local Governments through whose territories the foreigners are to pass being communicated with so as to secure compliance with the order of deportation. What is desired is that the foreigners should remove themselves from British India, not that they should merely remove themselves from one part of British India into another part of British India.

Extract paragraphs 5 and 6 from a letter No. 4921, dated the 13th November 1885, from the Deputy Commissioner, Sambalpur, to the Commissioner, Chhattisgarh Division.

PARA.—5. I would here add that these people having been now for some time under surveillance, the District Superintendent and myself have now been able to form a more correct opinion of them, which it may be useful to note here :—

(1) These bands are always on the look-out for opportunities to pilfer the people either through fear or cajolery. Their women are most dexterous thieves and are the chief culprits. If carefully watched, and if they are convinced that they will be firmly dealt with if detected in crime, they conduct themselves in a quiet and circumspect manner.

(2) From their habit of moving about in considerable numbers and by their conduct they cause considerable alarm to ignorant villagers, by whom they are credited with marvellous powers in committing thefts.

(3) Their ostensible means of subsistance is dealing in horses and ponies picked up in their passage through this country, and which they are always anxious to exchange. They deal also in false pearls and pocket-knives of cheap British manufacture; but their main object is to live free, in a more or less lawless manner, on the country through which they pass. They need to be most carefully watched, and have to be followed about by trustworthy Police officers; and if they are not escorted about, there is danger of considerable alarm among the people or even a panic, such as is reported to have occurred in the Ganjam district on their recent arrival there. The Police officer who escorted the gang to the borders of the Bilaspur District reports that he had great difficulty in getting them on and preventing them from any violence to the villagers. They would under various pretexts lag behind and seize every opportunity of visiting the villages on the roads, and begin quarrelling with the villagers about fowls and supplies, trying to overawe them and to get their supplies for nothing.

6. It would be well, therefore, if their movements in large bodies were put a stop to. If they are legitimate traders, they can have no objection to moving about in small parties like the Cabulese, who bring dried fruits to India in the cold season and return with cotton fabrics, and against whom no complaints are made. The Banjaras move about in much larger numbers with several hundred head of cattle; but their presence does not create alarm, nor are they charged with misconduct of this kind alleged against the so-called Beluchis. The only conclusion is that these gangs of Beluchis, Khelatis, Panjabis, or whatever they may be, move about in considerable numbers to overawe the people, and so obtain opportunities for plundering them and living at free quarters.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, dated 28th October 1885, No. 4169/105, enquiring what the intention of this Government is in respect to the destination of certain gangs of Beluchis, and stating that, on receipt of more precise information as to the place to which this Government wishes them to be sent, the Chief Commissioner will be better able to give effect to the order of deportation. In reply I am directed to say that the Chief Commissioner appears to be under a misapprehension as to the action taken by this Government. The order passed regarding these gangs did not direct them to be sent, that is, deported under escort, anywhere, nor did it express any wish on the part of this Government as to where they were to be sent. It merely directed them in terms of Act III of 1864 to remove themselves from the territories administered by the Madras Government, and this they appear to have done.

2. In March last, I received from the Superintendent of Rewah a report of a similar nature referring to a gang of Beluchis, numbering 200 men, who had been sent under Police escort from the Bilaspur district of the Central Provinces to the nearest Police post on the Rewah border. In this instance intimation of the arrival of the Beluchis was not sent in time to enable the Superintendent of Rewah to make any arrangements for their control or supervision, the consequence being that the gang was dispersed among the villages of Rewah, where they harried the people, taken supplies without payment, and causing panic and disturbance wherever they went. The gang was eventually escorted out of Rewah territory by a strong detachment of State troops. Lately another gang of Beluchis, numbering about 60 persons, has again visited the Rewah State, necessitating further arrangements for supervision and escort.

3. I must point out that Native States are less well able to protect themselves against bodies of men, such as those referred to, than are the authorities of British districts; and I would propose that some instructions be issued to Local Governments of British provinces forbidding action such as that protested against by the Political Agent, Bundelkhand.

With reference to the accompanying copy of a letter from the District Superintendent of Police, Narsinghpur, which has been forwarded to me by the Political Agent, Baghelkhand, as Pannah is within the Bundelkhand Agency, I have the honour to suggest that the attention of the Central Provinces Administration be invited to the undesirability of allowing British Police officers to "turn" bands of Beluchis into the Native States of this Agency for the express purposes apparently of allowing them a fair field for a fight, in a place where the Police administration is necessarily weaker than it is in British India, and also of sparing the District Police.

2. Nowgong has been recently visited by three or four bands of these vagrants. In each case I enquired where they were bound for, wrote to inform the authorities of the places to be passed en route and of the destination, and provided a guard to prevent peculation and disturbances with the limits of Central India. We can, I would submit, not except British Police officers to do less than this; and though Beluchis are very unwelcome visitors, it appears hardly justifiable that they should be deported, without notice, to a neighbouring State, merely because the District Superintendent of Police wishes to spare his Police from the performance of one of their primary duties.

I beg to enclose a copy of a vernacular report received from the Hameerpur district, regarding two hostile bands of Beluchis who are said to be marching down to Narsinghpur for the purpose of having a good fight, whenever they may happen to meet, for the possession of some women who have been carried away apparently by one of the gangs.

2. These people, from another vernacular report, which I enclose, seem now to have reached the Damoh district, from whence they have been turned into Pannah territory. Pannah, I believe, is under your jurisdiction, and so I should feel obliged if you could find these people and issue the necessary orders to prevent their coming to Narsinghpur.

RESOLUTION.

THE usual statement showing the loss of human and animal life caused by wild animals and venomous snakes, and the results of the measures adopted for the destruction of noxious animals and snakes during the year 1885, as compared with the previous year, is appended to this Resolution. The number of human lives lost rose from 22,425 to 22,907. Of these deaths, 2,765 and 20,142 were caused by noxious animals and snakes, respectively, compared with 2,796 and 19,629 in the year 1884. As in previous years, more than three-fourths of the deaths occurred in the Lower Provinces of Bengal and in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh in which 11,823 and 5,359 lives, respectively, are reported to have been lost. The animals which were most destructive to human life were tigers in Bengal, the Central Provinces, Assam and Madras, and wolves in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh. Under the head "other animals," which accounted for 1,259 deaths, details are only furnished for Bengal, Bombay and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh. In these Provinces it appears that 644 deaths were caused by jackals, 251 by aligators, crocodiles and sharks, and 99 by wild boars and pigs. The deaths caused by these animals in the Lower Provinces alone amounted to 559, 222 and 79 respectively. In the Presidency and in the Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divisions, no less than 247 and 137 deaths, respectively, were caused by jackals.

2. The reported loss of cattle amounted to 59,029 against 49,672 in the preceding year. Of these 1,483 are said to be due to snake-bite against 1,728 in the previous year. There is little variation in the figures of the several Provinces compared with those of the year 1884, except in Assam, where the loss has risen from 6,670 to 14,187. This increase, however, the Chief Commissioner remarks, is more apparent than real as it is due to the new system introduced in 1884 of reporting deaths of cattle through the same agency and at the same time as vital statistics instead of leaving them to be separately recorded by the Police. There is, the Chief Commissioner states, no reason to suppose that there has been any increase in the actual number of deaths. Tigers, leopards and wolves are shown to have destroyed 24,964, 21,504 and 6,635 head of cattle respectively. The Provinces which appear to have suffered the most heavy losses are Assam, Bengal, Madras and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh. The figures given cannot, however, represent the total loss of cattle. Many of the largest grazing grounds, upon which tigers and leopards do most mischief, are situated miles away from any police station, and the graziers do not, during the months for which they take their cattle to graze, often leave the jungle for the town or village where there is a reporting station.

3. There was a slight decline in the number of wild animals destroyed from 23,775 in the previous year to 23,670. The decline was common to all the more destructive animals except leopards. The numbers of animals killed were 1,855 tigers, 1,874 bears and 6,278 wolves, as compared with 2,192, 1,997 and 6,706 in the year 1884. Fewer tigers were destroyed in Bengal and Madras, and fewer bears and wolves in Bengal than in the previous year. In the Resolution recorded on the statements for 1884 the Governor General in Council remarked that it would be convenient if future reports contained full particulars regarding the number of licenses granted under the Arms Act rules either for purposes of protection of crops or destruction of wild animals. This information has not been given in a complete or uniform manner. The Government of Bombay does not supply any figures, but remarks that "licenses to carry arms for genuine sporting purposes and for protection of crops have been liberally granted in all districts." The Government of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh gives no information on the point. The Governments of Madras, Bengal and Burma report that 3,839, 18,116 and 693 licenses, respectively, were given during the year. In Assam the total number of licensed guns was 9,663; while in the Punjab and the Central Provinces the total number of licenses in force, including those granted in years previous to the year under report, were 12,283 and 10,384 respectively. The information required in respect of such licenses is (1) the number granted during the year under report, (2) number granted in previous years and still in force, and (3) total number in force during the year. The Governor General in Council desires that information should be given in the detail above specified, the figures being confined to licenses issued for the destruction of wild animals and protection of crops. The provisions of the Arms Act rules are favourable to the grant of such licenses, which are current for a term of five years, and are given without the payment of any fee.

4. The number of snakes reported to have been killed is 420,044 against 380,981 in the preceding year. The only provinces which again show a large destruction of snakes are Bombay, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh and the Punjab. In the last mentioned Province there was a large falling off in the number of snakes killed from 74,355 in the year 1884 to 47,576 in the year under review. The Local Government has, therefore, impressed upon district boards the necessity for taking more active steps for the destruction of these reptiles.

5. The total sum paid in rewards amounted to Rs. 2,24,126 against Rs. 2,46,525 in the previous year. It is noticed that in Ganjam between Rs. 4,000 and Rs. 5,000 were paid away as rewards on skins produced from Native States or from Orissa where it has been customary to return the skins upon which rewards have been paid. In addition to this sum fraudulently obtained, Rs. 3,193 were disbursed over the sanctioned amount in Ganjam. Skins of animals destroyed should either be retained by Government on payment of the reward or so marked that they cannot be again produced for reward without a certainty of the fraud being detected.

6. The Governor General in Council regrets that the general results of the year are not more satisfactory. Having regard to the remarks regarding licenses for arms made at the close of paragraph 3 above, it may be conceded that the want of success is to be attributed to the apathy and inaction of the people themselves particularly in the matter of the destruction of snakes. District Officers and enlightened members of district boards can do much to impress upon the people the necessity of being more active in the matter, and it is through their exertions only that any improvement can at present be effected. His Excellency in Council hopes that Local Governments and Administrations will continue to impress upon district officers the necessity for interesting themselves personally and strenuously in the prevention of the loss of life that is yearly caused by wild animals and snakes.

ORDER.—Ordered, that this Resolution, with the appended Table, be forwarded to Local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance, and that it be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

Also that a copy be communicated to the Foreign Department for information.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

REPORTS ON THE STATE OF THE SEASON AND PROSPECTS OF THE CROPS FOR THE WEEK ENDING 24th NOVEMBER 1886.

GENERAL REMARKS.—Except in Madras and in a few places in Bengal, Bombay and the Punjab, no rain has fallen in the country during the week under report. No reports have been received from Burma.

The kharif harvest has been almost completed in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh and the Punjab, and has been finished in some places in Bombay and Rajputana. In the Central Provinces, Central India, Berar and Hyderabad, the crops continue in good condition. Generally the harvest promises to yield a good outturn in all parts of the country. In Madras, Mysore and Coorg the condition of the standing crops is satisfactory.

The rice crop in Bombay, Bengal and Assam promises well. Cotton prospects in Bombay, the Central Provinces and Berar are good.

In Bengal and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the poppy sowings are doing well. In the Central Provinces cloudy weather and heavy rains have injured the linseed crop which has been replaced by wheat in many parts.

The rabi sowings are now approaching completion in most of the Provinces, and prospects are everywhere satisfactory.

Fever and cholera continue in Bengal and there has been some mortality from the latter disease in Ajmere. Elsewhere the public health continues satisfactory.

Prices show an upward tendency in a few places in the Punjab and have also slightly risen in Coorg. Elsewhere they are generally steady.

E. C. BUCK,

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

SUMMARY OF THE WEATHER REPORTS FOR THE MONTH OF OCTOBER 1886.

No. 170 Met. 12—16, dated Calcutta, the 26th November 1886.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India, in the Revenue and Agricultural Department, (Meteorology).

Read the following:—

Summary of Weather Reports for the Month of October 1886.

The high temperature, which obtained in the latter half of September over the whole of Central India and a large portion of the Bombay Presidency, gave way rapidly towards the beginning of October, and during the early part of this month the temperature was considerably below the average. In the Punjab the temperature remained much above the average during the first week, in all but the more eastern districts, and was slightly below it throughout the rest of the month. On the whole, October was rather a cool month over a large tract of country, extending from the Deccan across Central India to the more eastern districts of the North-Western Provinces; also in the Central and Eastern Punjab, and at a few places in the south of the Peninsula; more or less warm elsewhere. The excess of temperature above the mean was greatest in Assam where it amounted to 2½°.

Except on the North-West Himálaya, the atmospheric pressure was everywhere more or less below the average, but in the Upper Provinces, Assam and Bengal, the differences were very small. The deficiency was greatest in Central India, Lower Sind, Guzerat, and the Konkan; being more than a twentieth of an inch.

The rainfall was considerable in Assam, Bengal, Behar, and Cachar, and little or no rain fell during the month in the Indus Valley and in Cutch. Elsewhere, over the whole of Northern and Central India as well as in the Peninsula, (excepting parts of the Carnatic and on the Bellary plateau), there was a general, and in some places a considerable, excess of rain. This was particularly the case in Behar, the North-Western Provinces, Central India, the Konkan, the Deccan, the Northern Circars and Orissa, where heavy rain fell in connection with several small barometric depressions, which were formed successively over the Bay of Bengal in the early part of the month, and travelled across the Peninsula or towards Central India. None of these storms was of any great violence, but they were of considerable intensity and of unusual frequency even for October.

The following table shows the amount of rain and the difference from the average, during the month of October 1886, according to districts as far as is indicated by the telegraphic reports:—

Abstract Returns of Accidents to trains, &c., on the open lines of Railway in India for the quarter ended 30th June 1886.

OBSERVATIONS.—As compared with the corresponding quarter of the previous year, the number of accidents to trains, rolling-stock, permanent way, &c., shows a decrease of 154, or 14·57 per cent., against an increase of 485·25 miles or 4·08 per cent. in the mean mileage open, and of 160,629 miles or 1·25 per cent. in the train mileage. The following are the Railways on which the numbers chiefly fluctuated :—

Railway.	Accidents.				Train mileage.
	Increase.	Decrease.	Percentage of increase.	Percentage of decrease.	Percentage of increase.	Percentage of decrease.
	No.	No.
Rajputana-Malwa	...	31	...	18·90	7·90	...

Oudh and Rohilkhand	24	...	68·57	...	29·56	...
Bengal and North-Western	...	12	...	50·00	12·91	...

2. The decrease on the Rajputana-Malwa Railway was due to the number of cattle accidents having been only 77 against 128, or less by 51. Under "Collisions between goods-trains or parts of goods-trains," "Goods-trains or parts of goods-trains, engines, &c., leaving the rails," and "Failure of couplings" the numbers rose by 5, 7 and 5 respectively. Under "Fire at stations or involving injury to bridges or viaducts" there were also 6 accidents against nil in the corresponding previous quarter.

3. On the Southern Mahratta, South Indian and Oudh and Rohilkhand Railways the increase mainly took place under "Trains running over cattle on the line."

4. On the North-Western Railway the number of cattle accidents and "Failures of Machinery, Springs, &c., of Engines" decreased by 23 and 15, and those of cases of "The bursting of Boilers or Tubes, &c., of Engines" and "Fire in Trains" increased by 9 and 13 respectively.

5. Of the decrease of 27 accidents on the Eastern Bengal Railway, 10 occurred under "Failure of Machinery, Springs, &c., of Engines," and 6 under each of the heads "Failure of couplings" and "Other accidents."

6. The decrease on the Cawnpore-Achnera Railway principally took place under "Trains running over cattle on the line," and on the Madras and the Great Indian Peninsula Railways under "Trains running over cattle on the line" and "Fire in Trains." The cattle accidents on these three lines numbered 16, 19 and 30 against 29, 36 and 40, and the cases of "Fire in Trains" on the latter two lines 14 and 10 against 21 and 39 respectively.

7. On the Jorhat Railway the number of "Failures of Machinery, Springs, &c., of Engines" increased from 2 to 10, but under "Failure of Wheels" there is nil against 34 cases recorded under this head in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

8. On the Bengal and North-Western Railway there is no noticeable difference under any particular class of accidents.

9. The casualties resulting from accidents to trains, &c., were, among passengers and others, 3 killed and 20 injured against 1 killed and 2 injured, and among servants, 2 killed and 16 injured against 6 injured. Of the total casualties, 7 passengers were injured by a collision which took place on the 24th May 1886 between a down passenger-train and a down goods-train at the distant signal at Patna, East Indian Railway, in consequence of the latter train not having been protected by the guard in terms of General Rule No. 79. At the Phagwara Station, North-Western Railway, 7 passengers were very slightly hurt by a collision between a down goods and an up mail-train on the 14th May 1886, owing to the former having been turned into a wrong siding. On the 21st May 1886 3 passengers were killed and 5 passengers and 1 ballast-cooly injured on the Eastern Bengal Railway at Habra by a collision between a down-train and a ballast-train standing on the siding, and on the Great Indian Peninsula Railway a wagon of a ballast-train was derailed at Khapri on the 24th April 1886, while being taken to the loop siding, through the points not being carefully attended to, and 2 men and 3 women, who jumped out of the wagon through fright, were slightly injured.

10. The following table exhibits the number of accidents under the different classes, and the number of persons killed and injured thereby :—

Total	903	3	20	2	16	5	36

11. The number of cattle accidents decreased from 491 to 425, or by 66. They were most numerous on the Rajputana-Malwa Railway, being 77 or 18 per cent. of the total; but as compared with the corresponding previous quarter, there has been a decrease of 51 accidents or 40 per cent. The lines which come next in order are the Eastern Bengal, South Indian and Oudh and Rohilkhand, the accidents numbering 63, 48 and 42 respectively.

12. Of the 27 cases of "bursting of boilers or tubes, &c., of engines," 19 occurred on the North-Western Railway alone.

13. The number of "Failures of machinery, springs, &c., of engines" decreased from 59 to 41, owing, it appears, to there being only 8 cases against 23 recorded in the corresponding previous quarter on the North-Western Railway, and 5 against 15 on the Eastern Bengal Railway. The largest number of accidents of this class occurred on the Jorhat Railway, being 10, or 24 per cent. of the total.

14. It is noteworthy that no case of "Failure of wheels" is reported during the quarter under review; whereas in the corresponding period of the previous year, 35 cases were recorded under this head. Out of this number, 34, as already noticed, occurred on the Jorhat Railway.

15. There were 34 cases of "Failure of couplings," of which 10 cases were reported on the Rajputana-Malwa Railway and 12 on the North-Western.

16. The number of cases of "Fire in trains" was the largest on the North-Western Railway, being 52 out of a total of 92, and 13 over the number reported in the corresponding period of 1885. On the Great Indian Peninsula Railway, the number has diminished from 39 to 10. In the total there is a decrease of 29 accidents.

17. The accidents classed as "Other accidents" numbered 47 against 71, the largest number, viz., 20, being returned by the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway.

18. The casualties to passengers from causes other than accidents to trains, &c., were:—

Causes of accidents.	Killed.	Injured.
From falling between carriages and platforms	3	...
Falling on to the platform, ballast, &c., when getting into or out of trains	2	2
By closing of carriage doors	...	2
Falling out of carriages during the travelling of trains	1	15
Other accidents	...	10
TOTAL	6	29

19. The accidents to servants in the employ of Railways, or of contractors, whilst performing duties connected directly with the transit of passengers and goods, from causes other than accidents to trains, &c., were as follows:—

Causes of accidents.	Killed.	Injured.
During shunting operations	6	12
Falling off engines, vans, wagons, &c.	1	19
Getting on or off trains, engines, &c.	6	9
Whilst loading, unloading or sheeting	1	13
Do. braking, spragging or chocking, wheels	...	3
Do. working on the permanent-way or in sidings	3	4
Do. walking along the line on the way home or to work	1	...
Do. do. crossing or standing on the line	8	6
Do. passing between vehicles	1	2
Do. attending to the machinery of engines, cleaning them, &c.	...	4
Do. do. to gates at level-crossings	5	...
Falling or being caught between vehicles and platforms	1	4
Do. off ladders, scaffolds, platforms, &c.	1	3
By falling of lamps, wagon doors, timber, weights, &c.	...	2
Whilst coupling or uncoupling wagons	1	8
Miscellaneous	3	28
TOTAL	38	117

20. Of other persons killed and injured by running trains, &c., 3 were injured whilst passing over the line at level-crossings; 35 were killed and 13 injured whilst trespassing on the line; 9 committed suicide and 1 was injured in attempting to commit suicide; and 11 were killed and 3 injured from miscellaneous causes.

21. The following table shows the total number of persons killed and injured from causes connected with the working of trains, as compared with the corresponding quarter of 1885:—

22. In addition to the above, 11 persons are reported to have been killed and 55 injured in yards, workshops, &c., and 95 passengers to have met death in carriages and at stations from causes unconnected with the working of trains.

RESOLUTION.—The attention of the officers concerned should be invited to the increase in the number of accidents on the Southern Mahratta, South Indian and Oudh and Rohilkhand Railways.

The Governments of Madras, Bombay, Bengal, North-Western Provinces and Oudh and the Punjab.
The Chief Commissioners of the Central Provinces, Assam and Burma.
The Residents, Hyderabad and Mysore.
The Agents to the Governor-General for Rajputana, Central India and Baluchistan.
The Director General of Railways.
The Consulting Engineers to the Government of India for Guaranteed Railways.

ORDER.—Ordered, that this Resolution with the Abstract Returns be communicated to the Local Governments, Administrations and officers noted in the margin for information.

Ordered also, that copies be forwarded to the Secretary of State, for the information of Her Majesty's Government.

Ordered further, that this Resolution with the Abstract Returns be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

REPORTS ON THE STATE OF THE SEASON AND PROSPECTS OF THE CROPS FOR THE WEEK ENDING 1st DECEMBER 1886.

GENERAL REMARKS.—The rainfall of the past week has been chiefly confined to Bombay and Bengal, though in a few places in the Punjab, the Central Provinces and Rajputana, slight showers are reported. Elsewhere the week has been rainless. No reports have been received from Madras, Mysore, Coorg, and Hyderabad.

The kharif harvest, which has been completed in the Punjab, is still in progress in Bombay, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the Central Provinces and Rajputana, though in most places reaping has been finished. The prospects of the harvest continue generally satisfactory.

The rice crop is being reaped in Bombay, the Central Provinces, Bengal, Assam and Burma. In the Central Provinces some reaped rice has been injured by rain, but in Bengal an excellent outturn is anticipated, and in Assam, Burma and Bombay the harvest promises well.

Poppy in Bengal and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh is thriving.

Rabi sowings have been completed in most places and the prospects of the crops are everywhere very favourable.

The public health continues unsatisfactory in Bengal, but in other Provinces it is generally good.

Prices are generally steady everywhere except in the Punjab, where they are still rising in four districts.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

REPORTS ON THE STATE OF THE SEASON AND PROSPECTS OF THE CROPS FOR THE WEEK ENDING 7th DECEMBER 1886.

General Remarks.—Except in Madras and in Sind, where there were light showers, the week under report has been rainless.

In Bombay, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the Punjab, the Central Provinces and Rajputana, kharif operations have been practically completed and threshing has commenced in places. In Berar, Hyderabad and Central India the harvest is still in progress and promises well. In Madras, Mysore and Coorg the standing crops continue in good condition and prospects are favourable.

Rice is being reaped in Bombay, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the Central Provinces, Bengal, Assam and Burma. The crop is reported good and in Bengal the aman harvest is expected to yield an excellent outturn.

Cotton-picking in Berar and coffee-picking in Coorg continue.

Poppy in Bengal and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh is thriving.

Rabi sowings have been completed in most Provinces, and the crops, which are coming up well, promise favourably everywhere.

Fever and cholera are still very prevalent in Bengal, but elsewhere the public health is satisfactory.

Prices continue to rise in five districts in the Punjab but are generally stationary elsewhere. Rice in Bengal is considerably cheaper than last year.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

REPORTS ON THE STATE OF THE SEASON AND PROSPECTS OF THE CROPS FOR THE WEEK ENDING 15th DECEMBER 1886.

General Remarks.—The rainfall of the past week has been confined principally to Madras, Mysore, Bombay, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the Central Provinces and Central India, where there were some heavy showers in places.

The kharif crop which has been harvested in most Provinces is now being threshed. In Berar, Hyderabad, and in parts of Bombay and the Central Provinces, where the harvest is still in progress, prospects are favourable. In Madras, Mysore and Coorg, the condition of the standing crops is satisfactory.

The rice crop, which is being harvested in Bombay, Bengal, the Central Provinces, Burma and Assam, is reported good.

Cotton-picking continues in Berar. In Bombay the crop has been damaged in places by excessive rain.

Poppy continues to thrive in Bengal and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

Sugarcane is being cut in Bengal and promises a fair yield.

Rabi sowings, which have been almost completed throughout the country, have been benefited by the past week's rainfall, and prospects are generally very favourable.

Fever and cholera are still prevalent in Bengal, but elsewhere the public health is satisfactory.

Prices have risen in four districts of the Punjab; and also show an upward tendency in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh. In Mysore and Coorg they are falling, but elsewhere remain generally steady.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE AMENDMENT BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. SCOBLE moved for leave to introduce a Bill to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882. He said:—

"This is a Bill which owes its origin to representations made by the Chief Justice and the Judges of the High Court of Calcutta that the present constitution of the special jurors list occasions considerable inconvenience to the gentlemen who are liable to be called upon to serve as special jurors at the criminal sessions here. As the law now stands, under section 312, the names of not more than two hundred persons shall at any one time be inserted in the special jury list. It has been found, in consequence of the fluctuating character of a portion of the population of Calcutta who are entitled to be entered in the special jury list, that the operation of this section presses very heavily upon many classes; and it is proposed that, instead of only two hundred persons being eligible to be entered in the special jury list, not more than four hundred shall be eligible for entry in that list. The Judges state that this will enable the special jurors to be empanelled from time to time without causing any inconvenience to any class, and that the addition of a possible two hundred more to this list of those already liable to serve as special jurors will not in any way interfere with the efficiency of the common jury list. The main clause of this Bill provides therefore for the substitution of 'four hundred' for 'two hundred' in section 312 of the Criminal Procedure Code.

"It having been considered desirable to introduce a Bill for the purpose of thus enlarging the special jury list in Calcutta, a reference was made to the High Courts in Madras and Bombay, and they intimated that, although they considered the working of the present law for those Presidency-towns was satisfactory, they saw no inconvenience whatever in the proposed alteration, as it would give them, if occasion should arise, an opportunity for a similar enlargement of the special jury list in Madras and Bombay.

"The second point to which the Bill refers is a small matter, which has, nevertheless, created some practical inconvenience. It arises on a definition in the interpretation-clause, section 4, of the Criminal Procedure Code. In that section 'police-station' is defined to mean 'any post declared, generally or specially, by the Local Government to be a police-station for the purposes of this Code, and includes any local area specified by the Local Government in this behalf.'

"I understand that as a matter of fact the local area included under the definition of 'police-station' very often includes the whole of a taluq, and in some cases extends over a considerable district of many square miles in extent. That in itself would not be a reason for altering the definition of 'police-station' were it not that in the latter part of the clause the definition of 'officer in charge of a police-station' provides that only when the officer in charge of the police-station is absent therefrom or unable from illness to perform his duties, the police-officer present at the police-station who is next in rank to such officer and is above the rank of constable, or, when the Local Government so directs, any other police-officer so present shall perform those duties. When the officer in charge of a police-station, as frequently happens, is going round his district, within the local area included under the term 'station,' it frequently happens that applications are made at the station-house which require immediate attention, and which cannot be attended to by the officer next in rank, who is technically not in charge of the station according to the strict construction of the clause. It is clear, therefore, that it is desirable that the definition should be so altered as to provide that when the head officer in charge is travelling within the limits of his local area on duties connected with the police, the police-officer next in rank present at the police-station should be able to act for him. The second section of this Bill will have the effect of removing that difficulty, by so altering this definition in the interpretation-clause that the chief police-officer actually present at the station-house will be able to perform the duties of the officer in charge of the police-station when that officer is absent from the station-house within the limits of his own jurisdiction on duty."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. SCOBLE also introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble MR. SCOBLE also moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the Gazette of India in English and in the local official Gazettes in English and in such other languages as the Local Governments think fit.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjourned to Friday, the 7th January, 1887.

Secretary to the Government of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

REPORTS ON THE STATE OF THE SEASON AND PROSPECTS OF THE CROPS FOR THE WEEK ENDING 22nd DECEMBER 1886.

GENERAL REMARKS.—There has been slight but seasonable rain during the past week in the Madras Presidency and the Deccan, and local showers in Central India, Rajputana, and Hyderabad.

Some damage has been occasioned by the late heavy rains in a few districts of Madras and Bombay, while in the western districts of the North-Western Provinces more rain would be beneficial, but on the whole the rabi crops are in good condition and promise well. In the Punjab rain is much needed to complete the rabi sowings.

Harvesting of the kharif crops continues in progress in the Bombay districts and Hyderabad, and the winter rice is being reaped in Burma, Bengal, and Assam with prospects of a fair outturn. Elsewhere the autumn harvest has been completed.

Prices are rising in parts of the Punjab and are generally steady elsewhere.

Cholera and fever are still prevalent in Bengal, though less severe, and smallpox exists in Madras, Bombay, and at Peshawar. Elsewhere the public health is fair.

Cattle-disease is reported from Madras, Bombay, Burma and most of the other provinces, but is nowhere serious.
