ACT NO. I OF 1889.

An Act for the Protection of Coinage and other Purposes.

WHEREAS it is expedient to prohibit the making, or the possession for issue, or the issue, by private persons of pieces of metal for use as money;

And whereas it is also expedient to amend section 28 of the Indian Penal Code; XLV of 1860.

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Definition.

2. In this Act "issue" means to put a piece of metal into circulation for the first time for use as money in British India, such piece having been made in contravention of this Act or brought into British India by sea or by land in contravention of any notification for the time being in force under section 19 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878. VIII of 1878,

Prohibition of making by private persons of pieces of metal to be used as money.

3. No piece of copper or bronze or of any other metal or mixed metal, which, whether stamped or unstamped, is intended to be used as money, shall be made except by the authority of the Governor General in Council.

4. (1) In either of the following cases, namely :—

(a) if any person makes in contravention of the last foregoing section, or issues or attempts to issue, any such piece as is mentioned in that section,

(b) if, after the expiration of three months from the commencement of this Act, any person has in his possession, custody or control any such piece as is mentioned in the last foregoing section, with intent to issue the piece,

the person shall be punished,—

(3) If in the trial of any such offence the question arises whether any piece of metal or mixed metal was intended to be used or to be issued for use as money, the burden of proving that the piece was not intended to be so used or issued shall lie on the accused person.

Cognizance of offences under the last foregoing section.

5. (1) The offence of making, in contravention of section 3, any such piece as is mentioned in that section shall be a cognizable offence.

9. For the Explanation to section 28 of the Indian Penal Code the following shall be substituted, namely:— XLV of 1860.

Amendment of section 28 of the Indian Penal Code.

"Explanation 1.—It is not essential to counterfeiting that the imitation should be exact.

"Explanation 2.—When a person causes one thing to resemble another thing, and the resemblance is such that a person might be deceived thereby, it shall be presumed, until the contrary is proved, that the person so causing the one thing to resemble the other thing intended by means of that resemblance to practise deception or knew it to be likely that deception would thereby be practised."

Telegram from Secretary to Government, Punjab, dated 9th January, 1889.

2. We have amended the definition of "issue" in section 2, so as to make it clear that the Act is not intended to apply to tokens now in circulation.

3. From section 3, sub-section (1) (section 3 of the revised Bill), we have omitted the words "or likely". Section 4, sub-section (3), of the revised Bill appears to us to render the retention of those words unnecessary.

4. We have proposed, in section 4 of the revised Bill, that an attempt to "issue", and possession with intent to "issue", any pieces of metal made in British India in contravention of the Act or imported into British India in contravention of any prohibition under the Sea Customs Act, 1878, shall be offences punishable in the same manner as the offence of issuing such pieces.

5. For section 3, sub-section (5), of the Bill as introduced we have proposed to substitute a section (section 7 of the revised Bill) applying to the pieces of metal to which the Bill mainly relates the provisions of section 98 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882, respecting counterfeit coin.

6. For section 3, sub-section (6), of the Bill as introduced we have substituted a section (section 5 of the revised Bill) providing that no offence relating in any way to the "issue" of unauthorised pieces of metal for use as money is to be cognizable by the police or, without the previous sanction of the District Magistrate or Subdivisional Magistrate, by any Magistrate except a District Magistrate or Subdivisional Magistrate.

7. In section 4 we have reduced the maximum period of imprisonment to one year for a first offence, and to three years after a previous conviction.

8. We have added to section 5 of the Bill as introduced (section 8 of the revised Bill) a clause making it an offence for any person on behalf of a railway-administration or local authority, or on behalf of the lessee of any tolls leviable by such an administration or authority, to receive as money any piece of metal which is not coin as defined in the Indian Penal Code.

9. As regards section 6 of the Bill as introduced (section 9 of the revised Bill) we agree with Mr. R. J. Crosthwaite, the Judicial Commissioner of the Central Provinces, in thinking that the effect of that section might be to weaken the existing law as to Queen's coin, and we think that the purposes not only of section 231 but also of other sections of the Indian Penal Code will be better served by the addition to the definition of "counterfeit", in section 28 of that Code, of an Explanation applicable as well to coin as to every other thing with reference to which the word "counterfeit" is used in the Code.

WE, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to provide for the establishment of a village-system and amend the law relating to rural police in Lower Burma was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin, and have now the honour to submit this our Report, with the Bill as revised by us annexed thereto.

2. We think the Bill, which is an almost exact counterpart of the Upper Burma Village Regulation, should be called the Lower Burma Village Act.

3. Sections 11 and 12 and sub-section (1) of section 16 of the Bill as introduced should, we consider, be placed among those sections of the Bill which are not to come into force at once.

4. Sub-section (1) of section 19 of the Bill as introduced appears to us to be unnecessary.

5. We have revised the Bill accordingly.

6. The publication ordered by the Council has been made as follows:—

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Sea Customs Act, 1878, and the Indian Tariff Act, 1882, was presented to the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 15th March, 1889:—

WE, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to amend the Sea Customs Act, 1878, and the Indian Tariff Act, 1882, was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin, and have now the honour to submit this our Report, with the Bill as amended by us annexed thereto.

From Secretary, Bengal Chamber of Commerce, No. 212, dated 9th March, 1889 [Paper No. 13].

2. Section 110 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, is one of several interdependent sections, and it seems to us to be unnecessary to amend it for the purpose mentioned in the Statement of Objects and Reasons. It is sufficiently clear from the new proviso to section 37 of the Act that where, after goods liable to duty have been assessed and warehoused, the duty is repealed, the goods may be cleared for home consumption free of duty.

3. We have slightly altered the proposed amendment of section 115 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878.

4. At the instance of the Government of Bombay we have expressly excluded Perim from the operation of the Indian Tariff Act, 1882.

5. The Bengal, Bombay and Rangoon Chambers of Commerce approve, and the Madras Chamber disapproves, the addition of the proposed section 10 to the Indian Tariff Act, 1882. We concur with the majority in thinking that the section should be added to the Act.

(4) The conservator shall be subject to the control of the Local Government, or of any intermediate authority which that Government may appoint.

Power of conservator to give and enforce directions for certain specified purposes.

8. (1) The conservator of any port subject to this Act may, with respect to any vessel within the port, give directions for carrying into effect any rule for the time being in force therein under section 6.

(2) If any person wilfully and without lawful excuse refuses or neglects to obey any lawful direction of the conservator, after notice thereof has been given to him, he shall, for every such offence, be punished with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees, and with further fine which may extend to one hundred rupees for every day on which, after such notice as aforesaid, he wilfully and without lawful excuse continues to disobey the direction.

(3) In case of such refusal or neglect, the conservator may do, or cause to be done, all acts necessary for the purpose of carrying the direction into execution, and may hire and employ proper persons for that purpose, and all reasonable expenses incurred in doing such acts shall be recoverable by him from the person so refusing or neglecting to obey the direction.

Power to cut warps and ropes.

9. The conservator of any such port may, in case of urgent necessity, cut, or cause to be cut, any warp, rope, cable or hawser endangering the safety of any vessel in the port or at or near to the entrance thereof.

Removal of obstructions within limits of port.

10. (1) The conservator may remove, or cause to be removed, any timber, raft or other thing, floating or being in any part of any such port, which in his opinion obstructs or impedes the free navigation thereof or the lawful use of any pier, jetty, landing-place, wharf, quay, dock, mooring or other work on any part of the shore or bank which has been declared to be within the limits of the port and is not private property.

(2) The owner of any such timber, raft or other thing shall be liable to pay the reasonable expenses of the removal thereof, and if such owner or any other person has without lawful excuse caused any such obstruction or impediment, or causes any public nuisance affecting or likely to affect such free navigation or lawful use, he shall also be punished with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees.

and may retain all the expenses of such removal and sale out of the proceeds of the sale, and shall pay the surplus of such proceeds, or deliver so much of the thing or materials as may remain unsold, to the person entitled to receive the same;

and, if no such person appears, shall cause the same to be kept and deposited in such manner as the Local Government directs;

and may, if necessary, from time to time, realize the expenses of keeping the same, together with the expenses of sale, by a further sale of so much of the thing or materials as may remain unsold.

Removal of lawful obstructions.

12. (1) If any obstruction or impediment to the navigation of any port subject to this Act has been lawfully made, or has become lawful by reason of the long continuance of such obstruction or impediment, or otherwise, the conservator shall report the same for the information of the Local Government, and shall, with the sanction of that Government, cause the same to be removed or altered, making reasonable compensation to the person suffering damage by such removal or alteration.

(2) Any dispute arising concerning such compensation shall be determined according to the law relating to like disputes in the case of land required for public purposes.

Raising or removal of wreck impeding navigation within limits of port.

14. (1) If any vessel is wrecked, stranded or sunk in any such port, so as to impede, or be likely to impede, the navigation thereof, the conservator may cause the vessel to be raised, removed or destroyed.

(3) The expenses and further sum aforesaid shall be payable to the conservator out of the sale-proceeds of the property, and the balance shall be paid to the person entitled to the property recovered, or, if no such person appears and claims the balance, shall be held in deposit for payment, without interest, to any person thereafter establishing his right thereto:

Provided that the person makes his claim within three years from the date of the sale.

Power to board vessels and enter buildings.

Provided with respect to the ports of Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Rangoon, Karáchi, Chittagong and Aden, that none of those ports may be grouped with any other port, and that the port fund account of each of those ports shall be kept separate from the port fund account of any other port.

(2) Where ports are grouped by or under this Act, the following consequences ensue, namely:—

(a) the Local Government, in the exercise of its control over expenditure debitable to the common port fund account of the group, may, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, make rules with respect to the expenditure of the fund for the sake of the several ports of the group on the objects authorised by this Act, and shall cause effect to be given to any directions which the Governor General in Council may deem it necessary to issue with respect to such expenditure; and Ascertainment of tonnage of vessel liable to port-dues.

41. In order to ascertain the tonnage of any vessel liable to pay port-dues the following rules shall be observed:—

(1) (a) If the vessel is a British registered vessel, or a vessel registered under Act X of 1841 or Act XI of 1850 or under any other law for the time being in force for the registration of vessels in British India, the conservator may require the owner or master of the vessel or any person having possession of her register to produce the register for inspection.

(b) If the owner or master or such person neglects or refuses to produce the register or otherwise to satisfy the conservator as to what is the true tonnage of the vessel in respect of which the port-dues are payable, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees, and the conservator may cause the vessel to be measured, and the tonnage thereof to be ascertained, according to the mode of measurement prescribed by the rules for the time being in force for regulating the measurement of British vessels, and in such case the owner or master of the vessel shall also be liable to pay the expenses of the measurement.

(2) If the vessel is not a British registered vessel or a vessel registered under Act X of 1841 or Act XI of 1850, or under any other law for the time being in force for the registration of vessels in British India, and the owner or master thereof fails to satisfy the conservator as to what is her true tonnage according to the mode of measurement prescribed by the rules for the time being in force for regulating the measurement of British vessels, the conservator shall cause the vessel to be measured and the tonnage thereof to be ascertained, according to the mode aforesaid, and in such case the owner or master of the vessel shall be liable to pay the expenses of the measurement.

(3) If the vessel is a vessel of which the tonnage cannot be ascertained according to the mode of measurement mentioned in clauses (1) and (2), the tonnage of the vessel shall be determined by the conservator on such an estimate as may seem to him to be just.

(3) Any Magistrate having jurisdiction under this Act in any port to which the vessel may proceed, or in which she may be found, shall be deemed to have jurisdiction in any proceeding under this section.

Port-due on vessels in ballast.

(b) "coasting ship" or "coasting steamer" means respectively a ship or steamer which at any port discharges cargo exclusively from, or takes in cargo exclusively for, any port in the island of Ceylon or in any part of India between the westernmost part of Sind and the south-easternmost part of Burma; and "coasting steamer" includes a coasting steam-vessel having a general pass under section 164 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878:

(c) "foreign ship" or "foreign steamer" means respectively a ship or steamer not being a coasting ship or coasting steamer. VIII of 1878.

Explanation 2.—As regards the levy of port-dues, each of the following pairs of ports, namely, Cocanada and Coringa, Nagore and Negapatam, Beypore and Calicut, is to be treated as if it were only one port; every vessel in respect of which such dues have been charged and taken at one of any of the said pairs being exempted from the dues on entering the other of the same pair immediately after leaving the one in which the dues were charged and taken.
