REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is ₹45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, ₹6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is ₹45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, ₹6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

CHIEF COMMISSIONER OF AJMERE-MERWARA.

NOTIFICATION.

Camp Ulwar, the 5th February, 1892

No. 568-C—115-II.—In supersession of the rules published in this office Notification No. 273—115-II, dated the 20th March, 1886, the Chief Commissioner, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, is pleased to make the following rules under the Land Improvement Loans Act, 18·3, section 10:—

I.—The Chief Commissioner will inform the Commissioner of Ajmere what amount will be placed at his disposal for loans under the Act for each financial year. The Commissioner will divide the sum between Ajmere and Merwara at his discretion, and may transfer for expenditure in either of the tracts any part of the amount allotted by him for expenditure in the other. But the total expenditure in the two tracts must be kept within the amount assigned by the Chief Commissioner. If an additional grant is required, application should at once be made for it.

II.—Subject to the provisions of these rules and within the limits of the funds allotted to them for the purpose, any Assistant Commissioner specially empowered by the Chief Commissioner in this behalf may grant loans not exceeding ₹500 for any one improvement for purposes specified in the Act. Loans exceeding ₹500 for any one work require the sanction of the Commissioner, and loans exceeding ₹5,000 the sanction of the Chief Commissioner. The Commissioner or Chief Commissioner may call for such detailed plans and estimates or such professional opinion with respect to a project as may seem necessary.

III.—An application for a loan may be made to any revenue officer of or above the rank of a Naib Tahsildar.

IV.—The application, if made in writing, should be as nearly as possible in Form A. If an oral application is made, the officer to whom it is made shall cause it to be recorded as nearly as possible in that form.

V.—In respect of every application made under rule III, an enquiry shall be made by a revenue officer not below the rank of a Naib Tahsildar or Supervising Kanungo for the purpose of ascertaining the particulars mentioned on the reverse of Form A. If, in the opinion of the Assistant Commissioner, Revenue Extra Assistant Commissioner or Tahsildar, it is expedient that public notice of the application should be given under section 5 of the Act, he will publish a notice thereof by fixing it up in a conspicuous place in the village, or in each village, which will be affected by the proposed improvement.

VI.—When the value of the applicant's interest in the land to be improved is sufficient to cover the loan, collateral security need not be required. Personal security may be accepted (a) when the sureties are a body of the village residents who bind themselves jointly and severally to the Government for the payment of the whole amount payable in respect of the loan, (b) in special cases, where the Commissioner or Assistant Commissioner, for reasons to be recorded by him in writing, thinks it desirable. Moveable property should rarely be accepted as security.

VII.—The date for the repayment of the first instalment shall be fixed with reference to the time when the improvement will begin to yield a return.

VIII.—The date for the repayment of the last instalment shall not, without the sanction of the Chief Commissioner, exceed fifteen years from the date on which the loan, or the last instalment of it, was advanced. The amount of the instalments shall be fixed with reference to the annual profit likely to accrue from the improvement.

IX.—If the Chief Commissioner has prescribed tables consolidating principal and interest in instalments, the repayment of the loan shall be arranged in accordance with those tables. If such tables have not been prescribed, the instalments of principal may be so arranged as to increase approximately in proportion as the charge for interest decreases.

X.—On completion of the enquiry and verification of the security, the officer to whom the application was made may sanction the loan himself if empowered to do so; otherwise he shall forward the application with his report, through such channel as the Chief Commissioner may prescribe, to the officer who is empowered to sanction the loan.

XI.—An order granting a loan shall be in Form B hereto annexed, and shall be signed by the applicant in token that he understands and agrees to the conditions contained therein. When the sureties (if any) whom the applicant is required to furnish give personal security only, the bond to be excuted by them shall be in Form C hereto annexed. When immoveable property is required to be given as collateral security, the security bond shall be in Form D hereto annexed.

XII.—A copy of the order shall be given to the applicant, and payment of the loan, or, where the loan is advanced in instalments, of each instalment of the loan, shall be made at the treasury on its presentation. The Treasury Officer shall send the Tahsildar immediate notice of all payments made.

XIII.—(a) The rate of interest shall be one anna in the rupee, or 6¼ per cent. per annum.

(b) But the Chief Commissioner may for special reasons sanction a loan at a lower rate of interest or without interest.

(c) If an instalment of principal is not paid when it falls due, the Commissioner may, if he thinks fit, charge interest on it at any rate not exceeding 6¼ per cent. per annum from the date of its falling due to the date of payment.

XIV.—The dates for repayment of instalments of a loan should usually be the dates fixed for payment of instalments of land revenue.

XV.—Instalments may be suspended by order and at the discretion of the Commissioner on proof of failure of crops or other exceptional calamity.

XVI.—When any portion of a loan made under these rules is found to be irrecoverable, special report shall be made to the Chief Commissioner.

XVII.—Any revenue officer not inferior in rank to a Naib Tahsildar may at any time enter on and inspect any land for the benefit of which a loan has been granted, and any work in progress thereon, or direct any patwari or other subordinate revenue official to inspect such land or work.

XVIII.—As soon as may be after a loan has been granted, the officer or authority granting it shall cause the patwari of the circle in which the land to be improved is situated to copy into his roznamcha so much of the order granting the loan as relates to the amount of the loan, the manner in which the loan is to be advanced, the nature of the improvement for the purpose of which it has been granted, and the time or times by which the whole or parts of the improvement is or are to be completed.

XIX.—At such intervals as the Chief Commissioner may by general order prescribe in this behalf the patwari shall submit, through the Supervising Kanungo, the Tahsildar, and the Assistant Commissioner, to the Commissioner a report as to the expenditure of the loan and the progress of the work for the purpose of which the loan was granted.

XX.—The Chief Commissioner shall regulate the forms of all returns, registers, and accounts relating to advances under the Act.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

By DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is ₹45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, ₹6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 550 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Ca'cutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is ₹45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, ₹6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The applicant whose tender may be selected by the Collector for recommendation to the Resident will be required to deposit at once in cash or in Government securities duly endorsed in favour of the Resident in Mysore a further sum equal to one-twelfth (or one month's instalment) of the annual amount guaranteed, failing which the deposit made with the tender will be forfeited and the contract resold at the sole risk of the tenderer.

5. When the decision of the Resident is announced, the deposits made by the applicants whose tenders have been rejected will be returned to them on their application. The Resident reserves to himself the power of rejecting the highest or any tender without assigning any reason.

6. The party whose tender may be accepted shall, within eight days after the Resident's decision has been communicated to him, deposit with the Collector a sum in cash or Government securities duly endorsed in favour of "the Resident in Mysore," which with the sums previously deposited under paragraph 4 shall be equal to one-fourth of the yearly revenue guaranteed, and shall execute an agreement in the usual form on proper stamp, binding himself to conform to the conditions hereinafter set forth; and if he fails or refuses to sign the agreement, or to make the deposit required, the deposits already made will be forfeited to Government and the lease otherwise disposed of. No tender proposing any modification of any of the terms of this Notification will be considered.

7. The contract for which tenders are now invited shall be subject to the following conditions, namely:—

CONDITIONS.

I. The contract shall not be transferable except with the approval of the Resident in Mysore.

II. For the purposes of this contract the Resident in Mysore may decline to recognize any representative, agent, or partner appointed or taken by the Contractors during the period of the contract unless such representative, agent, or partner shall have been first approved of on behalf of the Resident in Mysore by the Collector for the time being.

III. (a) The minimum annual revenue guaranteed shall be payable to Government in twelve equal monthly instalments. The Contractors shall pay into the Resident's Treasury the whole amount of the fees on wholesale vend, inclusive of the local cess payable to Government at the rates fixed by Government on the ganja and its preparations, except halva, sold from the Bonded Warehouse in each month to the retail dealers on or before the 20th of the following month.

(b) If the fee on wholesale vend payable on the sales of ganja and its preparations up to the end of any month be not sufficient to make up the amount of the instalment of the minimum guaranteed revenue for that month, the Contractors shall pay such further sum as may be required to make up the deficiency. The excess sale of any month shall be available to make up any deficiency in any other month of the same official year. Such portion of the fee on wholesale vend on excess sales in any one month as may be over and above the deficiency which may have been made good by the Contractors in any previous month or months of the same official year shall be paid into the Government Treasury along with the minimum guaranteed revenue for the month in which such fee on wholesale vend on excess sales has been realized.

(c) If the above payments are not made on or before the 20th of the month following that for which they are due, interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum will be charged from that date on all the arrears outstanding; and should the default continue after the lapse of the month in which the payments are due, the arrears with the interest due shall be recovered by attachment and sale of the property of the Contractors, including cash at Bonded Warehouse, in the manner provided for by the rules for the time being in force for the recovery of arrears of land revenue. And it shall further be at the discretion of the Resident upon the report of the Collector to declare the contract cancelled, to direct the forfeiture of the deposit made by the Contractor, and to cause the business to be carried on by Government officers or otherwise, at the expense and risk of the Contractors, their heirs, executors, and assigns, during the unexpired period of their contract.

IV. There shall be five shops for the sale of ganja and its preparations (except halva), and the places at which they are to be kept shall be determined by the Collector, and the Contractors shall engage to sell ganja and its preparations only at the places so fixed. The Collector shall be at liberty to make any alterations in the localities of the shops that he may from time to time consider necessary.

V. The confirmation of existing retail vendors and the nomination of new vendors shall rest with the Collector. The Collector shall issue licenses in the prescribed forms directed to the retail vendor.

VI. The Contractors shall sell ganja and its preparations only to such licensed vendors, and shall not interfere with the retail vendors in any way. But they or their authorized agent or wholesale vendor shall be at liberty to visit the drug shops in company with the Excise officers and inspect the accounts, and if they have reason to believe that contraband drugs are being vended in any shop, shall, with the permission of the Collector, place a nominee of their own to officiate as vendor jointly with the license holder or vendor of such shop for such time as the Collector may deem fit, and it sufficient grounds exist to justify this step, the Collector shall remove the original holder and appoint any other holder he deems fit

VII. The ganja and majam and other preparations thereof sold (except halva) shall be of good quality. not black or old or such as may have lost its medicinal virtues, and must be without stalks which should be removed before issue to retail vendors, or equivalent weight of good ganja given for such stalks when returned by retail vendors. Powdered ganja to the extent of 5 per cent. only shall be taken by the retail vendors and no more. Such powdered ganja may be made up by the retail vendors into halva. All ganja powder over 5 per cent., or bad ganja of the stamp indicated in this condition. found at the wholesale depôt or retail shops, shall be attached by the Excise Department, and, with the sanction of the Collector, be burnt. No ganja more than a year and a half old shall be sold to the public.

VIII. The Contractors shall always keep on hand not less than one month's supply of ganja at the Bonded Warehouse.

X. The Collector shall have power to close any particular retail shop or shops on the requisition of the Military authorities or Magistracy temporarily or permanently, and the Contractors shall not be entitled to any compensation therefor. But with the approval of the Collector the number so reduced may, if the public requirements demand it, be re-established elsewhere.

XI. The Contractors shall be permitted to import ganja for the purposes of this contract into the Distillery or the Bonded Warehouse, as may be decided upon hereafter, under "import" passes to be issued by the Collector, and besides this no other ganja shall be sold by the Contractor without the written permission of the Collector.

A copy of this account shall be furnished to the Head Supervisor, Abkari and Excise, monthly for reference and check, and the original with vouchers shall be kept at the depôt for verification by the Excise Department and the Collector.

XIII. Disorderly conduct and irregular transactions at the wholsale depôt shall not be permitted by the Contractors' agents or employés. They shall be provided at the Contractors' cost with correct scales and weights, the latter duly stamped by the Collector, and further, all such employés shall, 15 days after the agreement is signed by the Contractors, enter into engagements with the Contractors to abide by the spirit and letter of the conditions entered into by the Contractors with Government, and the laws and rules in force, and such engagements shall be deposited with the Collector without fail within five days after execution, and they shall take out wholesale licenses, if employed, to sell the drugs, or sign permits for the Contractors.

XV. The Collector may give written permission to the Contractors to grow their own ganja. The cultivation of the drug otherwise, by the Contractors or any one else in the Civil and Military Station, is hereby interdicted.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is ₹45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, ₹6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

NOTIFICATION.

Bangalore, the 16th March, 1892.

No. 841—411-91.—1. Notice is hereby given that the right of selling country spirits in each of the thirty shops in the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, specified in the subjoined schedule, for the year beginning 1st April 1892 and ending 31st March 1893, will be put up to public auction at the upset annual prices, specified in the schedule hereunto annexed. The sale will be conducted by the Collector at his office in the Mayo Hall, commencing at 12 noon on Tuesday, 22nd March 1892, and the following days. The limits within which the shops shall be established are also shown in the said schedule, and purchasers will be allowed to open their shops in any place approved by the Collector within the limits prescribed.

2. Each bidder at the auction will deposit a sum of ₹50 previous to bidding. The shops will be knocked down to the approved highest bidder above the upset price mentioned in the aforesaid schedule, subject to a reference to the Police as to his personal character. Parties intending to bid must attend either in person or by duly accredited agents. Should there be no bid above the upset price, the officer conducting the sale may lower the upset price at his discretion.

3. As soon as the auction is completed, the deposits made by the unsuccessful bidders, and not forfeited as hereinafter provided, will be returned to them. As the auction proceeds, the person whose bid is accepted for each shop, shall at once deposit a sum equal to half a month's rent for that shop. Should he fail to do so, the deposit made by him under paragraph 2 will be forfeited, the shop will at once be put up again on the above conditions, and he will be debarred from bidding again for the same or for any other shop.

4. No one shall bid for, buy, retain, or be interested in more than one shop. Should two or more persons bidding separately have a joint interest in more than one shop, the deposit made by them under paragraph 2 will be forfeited, and their shop or shops will at once be put up again on the above conditions at the risk of the original purchaser, and he will be debarred from bidding again for the same or for any other shop or retaining an interest in any shop.

5. Persons to whom shops have been knocked down, and who have made deposits as provided in paragraphs 2 and 3, shall also, within seven days from the date of the auction, deposit such further sum as, with the first and second deposits will make up an amount equal to two months' rent of each shop knocked down to them; and shall take out licenses in the appended form A on the conditions hereinafter set forth. On the failure of any person to make the deposit, or to take out licenses as aforesaid, the shop or shops will be resold at the risk of such person, or, if the auction hereby notified, has already been completed, will be otherwise disposed of at the discretion of the Collector of the Civil and Military Station. In the case of the purchaser's death after the confirmation of the sale, it will be binding on his heirs or assigns.

6. Re-sales effected under clause 5 will be at the risk of the defaulting bidder who will forfeit all gain; and in the event of a loss by re-sale, he will make good the deficiency between the total amount payable for the whole period under the terms of the original sale and the total amount payable by the successful bidder at the re-sale. In the latter case the forfeited deposit will be deducted from the loss arising from the re-sale, and the remainder, if any, will be recovered from the bidder in the same manner as if it were an arrear of land revenue. Should, however, the forfeited deposit be greater than the loss by re-sale, the whole of such deposit will be credited to Government.

7. The details of the existing and proposed shops are given in the schedule.

CONDITIONS.

(1) The privilege conferred by the license, extends only to the sale of country spirits of the strength of 20° under-proof, and with the special permission and passes of the Collector or other Officer authorized by him, to the sale of double distilled liquors and "milk punch" in bottles duly corked and labelled in the Central Distillery.

(2) The amount for which the privilege has been purchased, shall be payable into the Resident's Treasury in equal monthly instalments commencing from April 1892; each instalment shall be regarded as the rent for the month in respect of which it is payable. Each month's rent shall be payable on the 15th of the month following. The deposit of two months' rent made by the licensee will be taken in payment of the rents due for the last two months of the period of the farm. Failing payment by the 15th of the next month the Collector shall at once proceed to recover the arrears together with interest at 6 per cent under the rules in force for the collection of land revenue. No remission or abatement of the rent shall, on any account whatever, be claimable by the licensee.

(3) The licensee shall purchase the spirits to be sold in his shop from Messrs. Parry & Co., who have been appointed Distillers for the manufacture of country spirits, at the rate of 10½ annas per gallon of 20° under-proof delivered at the distillery, or from any bonded warehouse established under the sanction of Government, and at proportionate rates for higher or lower strengths according to Casella's Rules. The spirits shall be sold to the public at ₹5-5-0 per gallon of 20° under-proof and at proportionate rates for higher or lower strengths.

(4) The licensee of every shop in the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore shall pay a registration fee under the Municipal Regulations at the rate of ₹180 per annum in advance for the period of the license for his shop; and he shall pay also a license fee of 4 annas per gallon on all arrack sold by him in excess of 55 gallons a month in each.

(5) The above rates and fees are in addition to the Excise duty which shall be prepaid into the Resident's Treasury, as per following conditions (6), and 6 (a) at the prescribed rate of ₹4 per gallon of 20° under-proof, and at proportionate rates for higher or lower strengths, before the removal of the spirits from the Distillery, or any bonded warehouse established under the sanction of Government.

(6) The licensee shall pay the above duty into the Resident's Treasury and obtain a receipt in the prescribed printed form. On production of such receipt and an indent for the supply of the liquor covered by the receipt, and on payment of the prescribed price of such liquor to the Distiller or his agent, or any person appointed by Government on this behalf, the Assistant Supervisor or other Officer in charge of the Distillery or Warehouse shall issue the quantity of liquor equal to the amount of duty shown in the Treasury Officer's receipt, which will be forwarded to the Collector's Office under the endorsement of the Assistant Supervisor or other Officer aforesaid, as to the date and hour when the liquor was issued. The Assistant Supervisor or other Officer aforesaid shall issue a pass in the prescribed form for the transport of liquor from the Distillery or warehouse. These passes shall be duly sent by that officer to the 2nd Magistrate for disposal under the rules in force.

(6 a) As each shop is estimated to sell 258 gallons a month or 9 to 10 gallons per day, duty on the stock for the day must be paid into the Treasury before 1 P. M. In case of holidays, duty shall be paid previously on 10 gallons per day for the period for which the Treasury may be closed. Payment of duty for less than 10 gallons will not be received at the Treasury—The shop-keeper can, on the Treasury receipt, purchase the liquor in instalments of not less than 2 gallons from the bonded warehouse.

(7) The licensee shall use such measures as may from time to time be prescribed by Government. The present measure is fixed at 51 drams per Imperial gallon.

(8) The licensee shall be bound by the rules in force, and which may be issued from time to time by Government.

(9) The remaining terms and conditions shall be as set forth in Appendix (A).

8. In case of any breach of the above conditions either by the licensee, or with his connivance and privity, by any person in his employment, it shall be competent to the Collector to impose upon the licensee a fine not exceeding ₹10 for every such breach, or at the option of the Collector to declare the money deposited with him forfeited, and to cancel the license and to re-sell the exclusive privilege at the risk of the licensee, and all loss thereby caused shall be made good by him. When a lease is cancelled, the rent for the whole period of the lease shall become due at once which shall be recovered as if it were an arrear of land revenue.

9. The penalties laid down in the last preceding clause shall not exempt the licensee or his employés from prosecution for any offence committed against the Excise laws or rules in force.

10. A bonded warehouse in place of the existing wholesale Depôt will be established in the Civil and Military Station. The shop-keepers will draw their supply from such warehouse, prepaying the price of liquor and duty, at the prescribed rates, into the Resident's Treasury.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is ₹45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, ₹6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is ₹45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, ₹6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,
Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is ₹45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, ₹6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,
Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India, in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,
Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India, in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is ₹45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, ₹6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.
