REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India, in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India, in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made); packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India, in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made) : packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 8 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India, in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is ₹45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, ₹6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India, in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India, in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India, in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India, in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India, in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is ₹45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, ₹6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India, in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India, in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L; and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

RAJPUTANA AND CENTRAL INDIA ADMINISTRATIONS, PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

Mount Abu, the 10th September, 1892.

No. 2876-S.—In accordance with Rule 9 of the Rules prescribed in the Notification by the Government of India, in the Department of Finance and Commerce, No. 2749, dated the 17th August 1883, the Chief Commissioner of Ajmere-Merwara is pleased to publish the following application from the Municipal Committee of Ajmere for the grant of a loan of ₹2,18,000 under the provisions of the Local Authorities Loan Act, 1879.

By Order,

H. T. WHITE, M.I.C.E.,

Secretary to the Chief Commissioner, in the Public Works Department, Ajmere-Merwara.

Copy of Application of the Municipal Committee of Ajmere for a Loan of ₹2,18,000 from the Government of India.

In accordance with the Resolutions of the Municipal Committee of Ajmere noted in the margin (copies annexed), I beg to apply to Government, under the Local Authorities Loan Act of 1879, for the grant of a loan of ₹2,18,000 bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, to defray the charges of a scheme of which the estimated cost is ₹2,18,700 for providing the city of Ajmere with an improved supply of water.

No. II, dated the 23rd June 1891.
No. VI, dated the 20th October 1891.

2. The amount which it is proposed to borrow for the aforesaid scheme is ₹2,18,000.

3. The fund, on the security of which the amount is to be borrowed, is that designated as the "Special Fund" of the Ajmere Municipality. This Fund consists of (1) the net receipts accruing from the Octroi dues levied on all grains, sugar, and cloth imported into Municipal limits; (2) a sum of ₹1,000 annually contributed by the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway for the use of water from the Anasagar lake; and (3) certain petty items of small amount.

4. The fund is levied, received, and held under the provisions of the Ajmere Municipalities Regulation, V of 1886.

5. (1) The loan is required for a period of 35½ years.

(2) It will be taken from time to time as necessity may arise during the year 1892.

(3) It will be repaid by half-yearly instalments of ₹6,592 each, commencing with the month of December 1892.

6. Statements marked A and B, showing the receipts and expenditure during the three years ending the 31st March 1891, of the Ordinary Municipal Funds, and of the "Special Fund" which is referred to above as security for the loan, are annexed. It will be seen that the average annual income of the "Special Fund" for the period in question was ₹47,079, and the average yearly expenditure was ₹53,749, giving a yearly deficit of ₹6,670. An annual surplus of not less than ₹25,311 is, however, anticipated for the "Special Fund" in future years owing (1) to the absence of expenditure at present involved by the current scheme, and (2) the increase of receipts under certain heads of income, as shown in the statement marked C annexed. This estimated surplus of ₹25,311 will be available for defraying the annual instalments of ₹13,184 for the proposed loan.

7. The only prior charge on the "Special Fund" is the balance (namely, ₹1,01,849 excluding interest) of the loan of ₹1,25,000 advanced by the Government of India to the Municipality in 1880, for the existing water-supply scheme, on the security of the same "Special Fund"—vide letter No. 4011, dated the 13th December 1880, from the Secretary to the Government of India, in the Department of Finance and Commerce, to the Chief Commissioner of Ajmere-Merwara. The payments on account of this prior charge amount to ₹99,590 per annum, as shown in the statements B and C.

I beg to remain,
SIR,
Your most obedient servant,

F. L. REID,
Chairman, Municipal Committee, Ajmere.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of G. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is ₹45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, ₹6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

In no case should the delivery of a copy of the judgment or order and decree (required for purposes of appeal) be delayed until copies of other portions of the record applied for can be made and delivered.

(iii) Copies of copies should not be granted unless expressly asked for as such. When granted, they should be expressly marked as copies of copies.

Such Judicial Officer shall, if possible, be the Judical Officer of the Court of whose record a copy is being issued.

(iii) The officer attesting copies shall, before any copy is delivered, endorse thereupon the date of such delivery, and cancel the Court-fee labels (if any) affixed to it, by punching out a portion of the label in such a manner as to remove neither the figure-head nor that part of the label upon which its value is expressed. He shall then write the date and his own signature across each such label upon which its value is expressed, so that some portion of such signature shall appear upon the paper to which the label is affixed as well as on the label itself.

Copy unfit to issue.

XVII.—In the event of any copy being found to be unfit for issue by reason that it—

(a) has not been clearly, legibly, or neatly written;
(b) is not in the prescribed form;
(c) is so incorrect that revision has rendered it unfit for issue;

(ii) If the application includes the whole or any portion of the record, in addition to the judgment or order, and decree, the copy of the judgment or order and decree shall be first made and supplied, and then the copy of the other portion of the record applied for. In no case should the delivery of a copy of the judgment or order and decree (required for purposes of appeal) be delayed until copies of other portions of the record applied for can be made and delivered.

(iii) Copies of copies should not be granted unless expressly asked for as such. When granted, they should be expressly marked as copies of copies.

Sheets to be stitched.

XIII.—In granting copies of records, if the copies cover more than one sheet of paper, the sheets of paper on which the copy is made should be stitched together in book form, and should not be attached one to the end of another so as to form a roll.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made) : packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is ₹45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, ₹6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is ₹45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, ₹6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is ₹45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, ₹6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of M. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is ₹45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, ₹6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

[Revised Advertisement.]

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year, but an eighth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

NEW MEMBERS.

The Honb'le MR. MACKAY, the Hon'ble DR. RASH BEHARI GHOSE, the Hon'ble SIR JOHN EDGAR and the Hon'ble P. CHENTSAL RAO took their seats as Additional Members.

DEATH OF HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS THE DUKE OF CLARENCE.

His Excellency THE PRESIDENT addressed the Council as follows:—

"I feel sure that my hon'ble colleagues will desire to take some notice of the great calamity, the news of which reached us yesterday—a calamity the shadow of which has thrown a deep gloom over the whole of the British Empire.

"The death of a Prince, who, in the natural order of events, would have succeeded to the Throne of India, is an event which a Council, entrusted, as this Council is, with the duty of legislating for India, and containing members connected with almost every part of the country, is not likely to pass over without some outward manifestation of its sympathy and regret.

"Two years ago many of us had the pleasure of becoming acquainted with the late Duke of Clarence when he was our guest here. Our thoughts travel back to the time when we looked upon him as he stood amongst us then, in the spring-tide of his life, full of health and hope, the destined inheritor, not only of a great Empire, but of that wealth of affection and respect which Her Majesty and Her children have known how to accumulate for themselves.

"Of late our interest in His Royal Highness had been redoubled by the announcement of his engagement to a young and charming Princess, herself widely popular amongst Her Majesty's subjects—an engagement which appealed vividly to our imaginations, which seemed to promise, for those who were about to become husband and wife, a rich abundance of happiness, and, for the nation, an increase to the stability of the Royal House and to the security of the Throne.

"No more brilliant or attractive prospect ever lay before a young Englishman, no career could have seemed fuller of useful and far-reaching opportunities, than that which was open to the young Prince whom India as well as England now mourns. A few days—I might almost say a few hours—have sufficed to shatter all our hopes, to ruin all the bright expectations in which we had indulged.

"At this moment there is scarcely room in our thoughts for the loss which the nation has sustained, or for conjectures as to the remoter results of this misfortune. We can think only of the blow which has fallen upon Her Majesty the Queen-Empress, of the grief of those who are sorrowing with her over the Duke of Clarence's death, and to whom we wish to convey some token of our deep regret, some mark of our regard for his memory.

"I suggest for the consideration of the Council that it would be a proper and usual mark of respect that we should adjourn without transacting the business which is upon the paper. I leave it entirely to my hon'ble colleagues to say whether they desire that any specific assurance should be offered on their behalf to Her Majesty the Queen-Empress and to the rest of the Royal Family."

His Honour THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR said:—

"I believe, my Lord, that I am expressing the feelings of all my hon'ble colleagues assembled here when I say that it would be the wish of the Council that some expression should be conveyed by Your Excellency, in the manner in which you have suggested, of our profound sympathy with Her Majesty the Queen-Empress and Their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales in the great calamity which has overtaken not only them but the nation.

"I will not attempt to suggest that anything should be added to what was contained in the eloquent words which Your Excellency has just uttered, and I believe that they express as fitly and completely as possible the feelings which animate us all.

"I may venture, however, as the Lieutenant-Governor of this vast Province, to say that a calamity of this kind must be very deeply and widely felt by a population with whom personal loyalty is so strong a motive as it is with the people of India, and who were so much drawn and attracted by what they saw and heard of His Royal Highness' demeanour and character on the occasion of his visit to India.

"I am quite sure that every intelligent and educated member of this province will desire to associate himself with the Government of India and with Your Excellency's Council in the expression of their deep sympathy in the great disaster which has overtaken the people of India no less than ourselves and the Royal Family."

The Hon'ble LIEUTENANT-GENERAL BRACKENBURY said:—

"I regret that His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief is not present here to-day, that he might give utterance to the feelings of Her Majesty's army on this sad occasion. In his absence I would ask permission to say on behalf of all classes of Her Majesty's soldiers, European and Native, how great is our sorrow at the loss of this young Prince, our comrade in arms; how deep is the sympathy that we feel in their bereavement with Their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales, and in this, the crowning sorrow of Her life, with Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress, whom we, her loyal soldiers, so truly love, honour and revere."

The Hon'ble RAJA UDAI PARTAB SINGH OF BHINGA said:—

"On behalf of the Native members of Your Excellency's Legislative Council I beg to express the deep sorrow we feel at the calamity which has befallen us all. We desire that an expression of our sorrow and sympathy may be conveyed to Her Most Gracious Majesty, and to Their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales."

His Excellency THE PRESIDENT said:—

"In accordance with the wish which has been expressed, I will convey to Her Majesty an assurance of the deep sympathy felt by hon'ble members in the loss which She has sustained.

"It may interest hon'ble members to know that I have received the following reply from Her Majesty to a telegram which I addressed to Her yesterday. I had ventured to offer Her Majesty my respectful condolence, and I mentioned to Her the consternation with which the news of His Royal Highness' illness and its fatal termination had been received here.

"Her Majesty's gracious reply runs as follows:—

'Many thanks. I am sure of the sympathy of my loyal Indian people.'"

The Council adjourned to Saturday, the 16th January, 1892.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Rangoon Port Commissioners Act, 1879, was presented to the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 4th March, 1892:—

WE, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to amend the Rangoon Port Commissioners Act, 1879, was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin, and have now the honour to submit this our Report, with the Bill as amended by us annexed thereto.

From D. D. Coath, Esq., A.M.I.C.E., Vice-President, Rangoon Municipality, to the Hon'ble H. W. Bliss, dated 21st January, 1892 [Paper No. 1].

From Junior Secretary to Chief Commissioner, Burma, No. 356—1-P.-5, dated 11th February, 1892, and enclosures [Papers No. 2].

2. To obviate the inconvenience caused by section 5 of the Act, which requires ex-officio as well as other Commissioners to be re-appointed every two years, we have, at the suggestion of the Chief Commissioner, amended the section so as to permit of ex-officio appointments holding good, notwithstanding a change in the holder of the office, until the Local Government otherwise directs.

3. Having regard to the fact that the Rangoon Port Commissioners form a public body, administering public affairs and public funds, and to the privilege which this Bill confers on members of that body, we have thought it right to add to section 60 of the Act a new clause declaring that all meetings of the Commissioners shall be open to the public. At the same time, in order to permit of secrecy in cases in which it may for any special reason be expedient or necessary, we have reserved power to the President to issue special directions in particular cases.

4. In accordance with a proposal made by the Chief Commissioner we have added words to section 63 of the Act which will empower the Commissioners to employ temporary establishments without reference to the Local Government, but we have deemed it advisable to limit this power to employment for not more than three consecutive months at any one time of officers on a salary not exceeding Rs. 100 a month.

5. The publication ordered by the Council has been made as follows:—

In English.

Gazette.	Date.
Gazette of India	23rd January, 1892.
Burma Gazette	6th February, 1892.

6. We do not think that the measure has been so altered as to require re-publication, and we recommend that it be passed as now amended.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for making Laws and Regulations, or Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 16th January, 1892:—

NO. 1 OF 1892.

A Bill to amend the Indian Tariff Act, 1882.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Indian Tariff Act, 1882; It is hereby enacted as follows:— XI of 1882.

Commencement.

1. This Act shall be deemed to have come into force on the fifteenth day of January, 1892.

Substitution of new clause for clause (a) in section 5, Act XI of 1882.

2. For clause (a) in section 5 of the Indian Tariff Act, 1882, the following shall be substituted, namely:— XI of 1882.

"(a) Foreign European Settlements bordering on any part of the territories administered by the Governor of Fort St. George in Council or by the Governor of Bombay in Council."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE Treaty of 1880 between the Governments of the United Kingdom and of Portugal in respect of the Indian possessions of the latter country established amongst other things a Customs Union between British India and Portuguese India. Following on the establishment of this Customs Union, the provision in the Tariff Act which empowered the Government to levy Customs duties on goods imported from and exported to Portuguese India was repealed, that territory being treated for Customs purposes as British Indian.

It was considered desirable to modify the engagements undertaken by the Government of India under the Treaty, but negotiations for the revision of the Treaty have failed and it has been decided not to renew it. The Treaty came to an end on the 14th January, and it becomes necessary now again to treat Portuguese India as foreign territory with effect from the 15th idem. This Bill accordingly is framed to authorise the levy of duties of Customs on goods passing by land out of or into foreign European Settlements bordering on any part of the territories administered by the Governor of Bombay in Council.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 16th January, 1892 :—

NO. 2 OF 1892.

A Bill to amend the Rangoon Port Commissioners Act, 1879.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Rangoon Port Commissioners Act, 1879; It is hereby enacted as follows :— XV of 1879.

1. (1) To section 60, clause (d), of the Rangoon Port Commissioners Act, 1879, the following proviso shall be added, namely :— Addition to section 60, clauses (d) and (e), Act XV of 1879. XV of 1879.

"but no Commissioner who is prohibited as hereinafter provided from voting or taking part in any proceedings shall be counted in the quorum so far as regards such proceedings."

(2) To section 60, clause (e), of the said Act, the following proviso shall be added, namely :—

"Provided that no Commissioner shall vote or take part in any proceedings relating to any work or contract in which he is pecuniarily interested."

Substitution of new section for section 71, Act XV of 1879.

2. For section 71 of the said Act the following shall be substituted, namely :—

Commissioners, &c., not to be interested in contracts, &c.

"71. (1) Any officer or servant of the Commissioners who shall directly or indirectly lend money to the Commissioners, or become pecuniarily interested in any contract made by, or on behalf of, the Commissioners, or participate or agree to participate in any profits of any work done by order or on behalf of the Commissioners, shall forfeit his office or employment, and shall thenceforward be incapable of holding any office or employment under the Commissioners, and shall further be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

(2) Any Commissioner who, without the previous sanction, in writing, of the Local Government, shall directly or indirectly lend money to the Commissioners, or become pecuniarily interested in any contract made by, or on behalf of, the Commissioners, or participate or agree to participate in any profits of any work done by order or on behalf of Commissioners, and any Commissioner who shall vote or take part in any proceedings relating to any contract or work in which he is pecuniarily interested, shall forfeit his office as Commissioner, and shall be incapable of re-appointment, and shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees :

Provided that nothing in this section shall apply to any Commissioner or officer or servant of the Commissioners by reason only of his—

(a) being a shareholder in or member of any incorporated or registered company which may lend money to, or make contracts with, or do work for or on behalf of, the Commissioners; or

(b) holding one or more debentures in any loan raised by the Commissioners in open market."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

BY section 71 of the Rangoon Port Commissioners Act, 1879, it is provided that "any Commissioner or servant of the Commissioners who directly or indirectly lends money to the Commissioners, or becomes interested in any contract made by, or on behalf of, the Commissioners, or participates or agrees to participate in any profits of any work done by order or on behalf of the Commissioners, shall forfeit his office or employment" and be liable to various penalties. The only exception recognized by the law is in favour of shareholders in incorporated or registered companies. Act XV of 1879.

From inquiries made, it appears that for several years past certain firms who are represented on the Port Commission have done work for, or supplied goods to, the Port Commissioners; and there can be no doubt that if the representatives of those firms were at the time partners in the firms, or otherwise interested in the profits of the firms' business, they unwittingly infringed the law.

Owing to the narrowness of the area of selection for Commissionerships, it is impossible to dispense with the services of persons connected with shipping and commerce, and it would be disadvantageous in the interests of the port to exclude the shipping and commercial firms to which such persons belong from Port Commission contracts. In many cases the Commission would have to satisfy its requirements from outside Rangoon, because within the town the only source of supply was closed by law. In other cases rates would be unduly raised owing to the knowledge that competition was prevented by the same cause.

The present Bill proposes to extend to the Port Commission provisions similar to those contained in section 17 of the Calcutta Port Act, 1890, and in section 37 of the Lower Burma Municipal Act, 1884; and to allow Port Commissioners, with the sanction of the Local Government, to tender for Port Commission contracts. A proviso has, however, been added that no Commissioner shall vote or take part in any proceedings relating to such contracts.

WE, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to validate certain marriages solemnized under Part VI of the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872, was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin, and have now the honour to submit this our Report, with the Bill as amended by us annexed thereto.

2. Section 3.—This section as originally drafted proposed to validate all marriages of the kind referred to which may be solemnized within three months after the commencement of the Act. We have omitted this provision as we understand that the attention of all Local Governments has already been drawn by the Government of India to the requirements of the law, and that all persons licensed under section 9 of the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872, must by this time have been informed how the law really stands. We think therefore that any further extension of time is unnecessary, and might be mischievous.

XV of 1872.

3. We have at the same time inserted a provision that the validation contemplated by section 3 shall not apply to (1) marriages already judicially declared to be void, or to (2) cases in which, subsequent to the solemnization of any such invalid marriage, and before the commencement of this Act, one of the parties has contracted a valid marriage. The equity of these additional provisions is obvious.

4. In one of the opinions on the Bill which have been referred to us we find that it has been stated by certain clergymen in Allahabad that "the consensus of Christendom and the rule of the English Church do not admit the validity of a marriage between a person baptised and a person unbaptised"; and that should any Christian who has entered into such a union desire to forsake it they would encourage him to do so; and that if he wished subsequently "to enter upon a Christian marriage valid before the Church" they would, if there were no special reasons for refusing, solemnize it notwithstanding secular sanction to the previous union. The Committee cannot of course presume to offer these gentlemen advice, but we deem it our duty to warn them that by such action they will apparently render themselves liable to a prosecution for abetment of an offence under Chapter XX of the Indian Penal Code.

A Bill to validate certain marriages solemnized under Part VI of the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872.

XV of 1872.

WHEREAS provision is made in Part VI of the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872, for the solemnization of marriages between persons of whom both are Native Christians, but not of marriages between persons of whom one only is a Native Christian;

And whereas persons licensed under section 9 of the said Act have in divers parts of British India, through ignorance of the law, permitted marriages to be solemnized in their presence under the said Part between persons of whom one is a Native Christian and the other is not a Native Christian;

And whereas it is expedient that such marriages, having been solemnized in good faith, should be validated;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. This Act shall come into force at once.

Definition.

2. In this Act the expression "Native Christian" has the same meaning as in the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872.

XV of 1872.

Validation of irregular marriages.

3. All marriages which have already been solemnized under Part VI of the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872, between persons of whom one only was a Native Christian, shall be as good and valid in law as if such marriages had been solemnized between persons of whom both were Native Christians:

XV of 1872.

Provided that nothing in this section shall apply to any marriage which has been judicially declared to be null and void, or to any case where either of the parties has, since the solemnization of such marriage and prior to the commencement of this Act, contracted a valid marriage.

4. Certificates of marriages which are declared by the last foregoing section to be good and valid in law, and register-books, and certified copies of true and duly authenticated extracts therefrom, deposited in compliance with the law for the time being in force, in so far as the register-books and extracts relate to such marriages as aforesaid, shall be received as evidence of such marriages as if such marriages had been solemnized between persons of whom both were Native Christians.

Application of Act to marriages under Act V of 1865.

5. References in this Act to the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872, shall, so far as may be requisite, be construed as applying also to the corresponding portions of the Indian Marriage Act, 1865.

6. If any person licensed under section 9 of the said Act to grant certificates of marriage between Native Christians shall at any time after the commencement of this Act solemnize or affect to solemnize any marriage under Part VI of the said Act or grant any such certificate as therein mentioned, knowing that one of the parties to such marriage or affected marriage was at the date of such solemnization not a Christian, he shall be liable to have his license cancelled, and in addition thereto he shall be deemed to have been guilty of an offence prohibited by section 73 of the said Act, and shall be punishable accordingly.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for making Laws and Regulations, or Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to extend the jurisdiction of the Court of Small Causes of Madras was presented to the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 29th January, 1892 :—

WE, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to extend the jurisdiction of the Court of Small Causes of Madras was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin, and have now the honour to submit this our preliminary Report, with the Bill as amended by us annexed thereto.

Office Memorandum from Home Department, No. 1291, dated 29th September, 1891, and enclosure [Papers No. 1].
Petition of the Inhabitants of Madras, dated 24th September, 1891 [Paper No. 2].
From Chief Secretary to Government, Madras, No. 2040, dated 5th October, 1891, and enclosures [Papers No. 3].
Office Memorandum from Private Secretary to Viceroy, No. 447, dated 4th November, 1891, and enclosure [Papers No. 4].

2. The Bill laid before us is entitled a Bill to extend the jurisdiction of the Court of Small Causes of Madras, but its effect would be to establish a regular side of that Court for the determination of ordinary suits as distinguished from small causes.

3. Some alternative proposals have been made to us by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, and we prefer them generally to what has been provided by the original Bill. They have not, however, been considered at Madras; and, although they appear to be in accordance with resolutions passed at a general meeting held in that city, we think it desirable that they be made public, and that we should have the advantage of knowing how far they are accepted by the authorities and by the persons interested before we take them into consideration in detail. These new proposals have accordingly been formulated in a Bill, and we recommend that it be published in the usual course, and that the time appointed for the submission of our final Report be extended.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for making Laws and Regulations, or Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 12th February, 1892 :—

No. 3 of 1892.

A Bill to provide for the levy of a rate on private estates under the management of Government to meet the cost of superior supervision and management.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the levy of a rate on private estates under the management of Government to cover the cost of all Government establishments in so far as they are employed in the supervision and management of such estates, other than establishments specially entertained for any particular estate or group of estates, and to meet all contingent expenditure incurred by Government in connection with such supervision and management; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. (1) This Act may be called the Government Management of Private Estates Act, 1892. Title, extent and commencement.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India; and

(3) It shall come into force on the passing thereof.

2. In this Act, unless there is something repugnant in the subject or context,— Definitions.

(1) "immovable property" includes land, buildings, hereditary allowances, rights to ways, lights ferries, fisheries or any other benefit to arise out of land, and things attached to the earth or permanently fastened to anything which is attached to the earth, but not standing timber, growing crops or grass : Act III of 1877, s. 3.]

(2) "gross income" includes all receipts of every kind in produce or cash, except recoveries of principal and the sale-proceeds of immovable property :

(3) "private estates under Government management" include—

(a) estates under the Court of Wards;

(b) encumbered estates under Government management;

(c) estates attached for default of payment of Government revenue;

(d) minors' estates placed under the guardianship of an officer of Government by a Civil Court;

(e) estates managed by a Collector under section 323 or section 504, Civil Procedure Code; and XIV of 1882.

(f) all other estates made over to or taken under the management of an officer of Government as such, under any law for the time being in force or in virtue of any special agreement.

3. It shall be lawful for the Local Government— Power to levy rate.

(1) to levy on all private estates under Government management a rate, not exceeding four per cent. on the gross income, calculated, as nearly as may be possible, to cover—

(a) the cost of all Government establishments in so far as they may be employed in the supervision or management of such estates, other than establishments specially entertained for the supervision or management of any particular estate or group of estates, and

(b) all contingent expenditure incurred in consequence of such supervision or management;

(2) from time to time to vary such rate; and

(3) to reduce or remit such rate in any special case or cases as may be equitable.

Power to levy special fees.

4. It shall be lawful for the Local Government—

(1) to prescribe and levy, irrespective of the said rate, on all or any of the said estates, special fees for legal advice and for the audit of accounts, when such advice is given or such audit is made by an officer or department of Government; or

(2) include the charges for such advice or audit in the said rate.

Saving of special establishments, &c.

5. Nothing in this Act shall apply to the cost of establishments specially entertained or to expenditure of any description specially incurred in respect of any particular estate or estates.

Validation of levy of past rates.

6. All rates for general supervision or management levied by any Local Government before the commencement of this Act shall be deemed to have been levied under this Act.

Power to make rules.

7. The Local Government may make any rules and issue any orders which may be necessary for carrying this Act into effect.

Exemption from jurisdiction of Civil Courts.

8. Where any Government establishment is employed in such supervision as aforesaid, the Local Government shall be the sole judge of the cost attributable to such employment, and its decision thereon shall not be questioned in any Court of law or otherwise. [Cf. Act XVII of 1887, s. 158.]

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

IN several provinces a general rate is already levied on estates under the Court of Wards, and is credited to Government to meet the estimated cost of supervision and management by Government officers. It is desirable to place the legality of these rates beyond doubt, and at the same time to limit their amount. It has been decided that other Local Governments should be empowered to levy similar rates, and that the rates should be leviable on all estates under Government management, and not merely on those under the Court of Wards.

Power has been given to the Local Governments to reduce or remit the rate in special cases. This provision is designed especially to meet cases in which Government officials are relieved of the supervision and management by the employment of special general managers.

Under section 4 of the Bill it is open to Local Governments either to charge special fees for legal advice and audit of accounts, where these services are rendered by Government officials, or to debit the contribution for these services to the general rate.

"No property which is or has been under the charge of the Court of Wards shall be liable, either during such period or in the hands of any person other than the ward, for the satisfaction of any debt or decree incurred by or obtained against the ward."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

UNDER the law at present in force, Bengal Act IX of 1879, the Court of Wards can assume the management of the estates of adult male proprietors only in certain specified cases, namely, when they have been adjudged by the ordinary tribunals to be incapable of managing their own affairs, by reason of physical or mental infirmity. But cases have occurred in which proprietors not disqualified in this manner have themselves applied for the protection of the Court, and in which it appeared that their requests should not be refused. The Bill provides a procedure under which the Court of Wards may comply with such applications when Government has decided that the proprietors are disqualified, and that the public interest requires that their property should be placed under State management.

It also extends the definition of estate in section 3 of the Act so as to include a share in an estate. This appears to be in accordance with the law in Madras, the North-Western Provinces and the Punjab, and is intended to remove the inconvenience arising from the interpretation put upon it as excluding from the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards proprietors of shares of estates, however large their property might be.

Some slight formal alterations in the Wards Act have become necessary owing to the repeal of Act XL of 1858, and these are provided in the Bill.

Finally, provision has been made to allow the Court of Wards to take out probate and letters of administration, and to act in certain cases under the Succession Act, X of 1865, and the Probate and Administration Act, V of 1881.

But when on active service you have no claim to a discharge, and you must remain and do your duty until the necessity for retaining you in the Bengal Military Police ceases, when you may make your application in the manner hereinbefore prescribed. In the event of your re-enlistment, after you have been discharged, you will have no claim to reckon for pension or any other purpose your service previous to your discharge.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill, which has been prepared at the request of the Government of Bengal, is to constitute a body of Military Police for service in the South Lushai Hills and in such other frontier districts as they may be required. The Bill follows the Burma Military Police Act, 1887, so closely that no explanation of the proposed measure appears necessary.

PART V.

Bills introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for making Laws and Regulations, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council, and Bills published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Court of Wards Act, 1879 (B. C.), was presented to the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 11th March, 1892:—

WE, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to amend the Court of Wards Act, 1879 (B C.), was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin, and have now the honour to submit this our Report, with the Bill as amended by us annexed thereto.

From Secretary to Government, Bengal, No. 852-L. R., dated 4th March, 1892 [Paper No. 1].

2. In the new clause (f) added to section 9 of the Act by section 5 of the Bill we have omitted certain words which seemed to give to persons disqualified under section 6, clause (e), power as of right to require the Court to release the estate from its charge.

3. The object of the words which we have inserted in the proviso to the same clause is to make it clear that the question whether any debt or liability of a deceased proprietor is binding on his representative should be decided by a competent Civil Court and not by the Court of Wards.

4. We have omitted sections 7, 11 and 12 of the Bill as introduced because it seems desirable that legislation on the subject of grant of probate and letters of administration to the Court of Wards should be postponed until certain questions relating to the issue of certificates under the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1880 (B. C.), which are now under discussion have been finally settled.

5. For section 8 of the Bill as introduced, which amended section 11 of the Act, we have by section 7 of the amended Bill substituted a new section with the modifications necessary to meet the alteration in the law made by section 2 of the Bill.

6. It seems to us unnecessary to retain section 10 of the Bill as introduced, because in our opinion the addition to section 9 of the Act contained in the new clause (f) renders the proposed section superfluous.

7. We have altered the form of the addition to the Act made by section 16 of the Bill as introduced, making its second portion into a new section, numbered 60A. In this new section we have provided that the property of the ward may at any time be taken in execution under a decree with the permission of the Court of Wards.

8. The Bill was published under rule 22 of the Rules for the Conduct of Legislative Business as follows:—

XIV of 1882.

(2) If the suit is solely to enhance the compensation awarded by the Collector, the Court which tries the suit may deal with the sums so deposited under the provisions of section 377 (but not of sections 378 and 379) of the Code of Civil Procedure; but

(3) If the suit is also, or solely, to alter the apportionment, made by the Collector, of the compensation among the persons interested, the Court shall retain the sums so deposited pending the decision of the suit, and shall then pay them to the parties in such proportions as may be ordered by the decree; and for this purpose may transfer them to the Court which tries the suit:

Provided that, if the Court which tries the suit shall decide that the compensation awarded by the Collector was in excess of the compensation which should properly have been awarded for the land, the said Court shall in its decree order that the plaintiff shall refund to the Collector any sum which, either under Part V or under section 377 of the Code of Civil Procedure, he may have been paid in excess of the sum which the said Court shall decide to be the compensation which should properly have been awarded for the land; and such excess so paid shall be recoverable by the Collector as costs in the suit.

21. If the Local Government shall be of opinion that the compensation awarded by the Collector is excessive, it may institute a suit in the Court against the persons interested, or any one or more of them, either to alter the award of the Collector by the reduction of the compensation awarded by him, if the amount so awarded (including the additional sum of fifteen per centum directed to be paid by section 41), or so much thereof as is not in excess of the sum which the Local Government admits to be the proper compensation for the land (including the said additional sum of fifteen per centum) has not been paid to persons interested; or,

Suit by Government to alter the Collector's award or for refund of compensation.

Provided that every such suit shall be instituted within not more than three months from the date of the Collector's award.

22. (1) For the purposes of the Court-fees Act, 1870, the value of a suit to alter the award of the Collector by the enhancement or reduction of the compensation awarded by him shall be taken to be the sum by which it is sought to enhance or reduce such compensation, as the case may be; and the value of a suit to alter the apportionment, made by the Collector, of the compensation among the persons interested shall be taken to be the total amount of the compensation.

VII of 1870.

Valuation of suits and determination of jurisdiction.

(2) For the purpose of determining the jurisdiction of Courts with respect thereto, the value of a suit instituted under this Part shall be taken to be the total amount of the compensation awarded by the Collector.

"23. The Court may transfer for trial any suit instituted under this Part to any Court subordinate to itself, and competent to try the same in respect of its nature, and of the amount or value of its subject-matter:

Transfer of suits.

"Such written permission may be either general or special, and may at any time be annulled by the Local Government.

"24. In a suit to alter the amount of compensation awarded by the Collector, the Court which tries the suit shall take into consideration—

Matters to be considered in determining compensation.

First, the market-value of the land at the date of the publication of the declaration relating thereto under section 6;

Secondly, the damage (if any) sustained by the person interested, at the time of the Collector's taking possession of the land, by reason of severing such land from his other land;

Thirdly, the damage (if any) sustained by the person interested, at the time of the Collector's taking possession of the land, by reason of the acquisition injuriously affecting his other property, whether moveable or immoveable, in any other manner, or his earnings; and Fourthly, if, in consequence of the acquisition of the land by the Collector, the person interested is compelled to change his residence or place of business, the reasonable expenses (if any) incidental to such change.

Explanation.—By 'market-value' is meant the sum for which the land might reasonably have been expected to have been sold, if put up to auction on the spot, without undue haste and under ordinary circumstances, immediately before the publication of the declaration relating thereto under section 6.

"25. But in such a suit the Court which tries the suit shall not take into consideration—

Matters to be neglected in determining compensation.

First, the degree of urgency which has led to the acquisition;

Secondly, any disinclination of the person interested to part with the land acquired;

Thirdly, any damage sustained by him which, if caused by a private person, would not render such person liable to a suit;

Fourthly, any damage which, after the date of the publication of the declaration under section 6, is likely to be caused to the land by or in consequence of the use to which the land acquired will be put;

Fifthly, any increase to the value of the land acquired likely to accrue from the use to which it will be put when acquired;

Sixthly, any increase to the value of the other land of the person interested likely to accrue from the use to which the land acquired will be put; or

Seventhly, any outlay or improvements on the land acquired commenced, made or effected after the date of the publication of the declaration under section 6.

"26. The decree in a suit to alter the amount of compensation awarded by the Collector shall state—

Matters to be stated in decree.

First, the sum which, in the opinion of the Court which tries the suit, the Collector ought to have awarded as compensation; and

Secondly, the sum or sums which, after the addition to the said sum of fifteen per centum on the market-value of the land mentioned in section 24, shall be paid by, or to, the plaintiff or plaintiffs, or any of them, to, or by, the defendant or defendants, or any of them.

"27. (1) If the sum which, in the opinion of the Court which tries the suit, the Collector ought to have awarded as compensation, is in excess of the sum which the Collector did award as compensation, the decree may direct that the Collector shall pay interest on such excess at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date on which he took possession of the land to the date of payment of such excess into Court.

Collector may be directed to pay interest on excess compensation.

(2) The decree shall not otherwise direct that the Collector shall pay interest, save under section 222 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

28. Save in so far as inconsistent with anything contained in this Act, the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure shall apply to suits instituted under ths Part.

Code of Civil Procedure to apply.

"29. Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force, an appeal shall lie to the High Court from the decree, or from any part of the decree, in any suit instituted under this Part, of a judicial officer appointed by the Local Government under section 3, either specially for any case, or generally within any special local limits, to perform the functions of a Judge under this Act, against whose decisions no appeal lies under any law for the time being in force relating to his exercise of his ordinary jurisdiction."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

FOR several years past the amendment of the Land Acquisition Act, 1870, has been under consideration by the Government of India in communication with Local Governments.

2. Before the passing of that Act, the valuation of the lands, which it was found necessary to take up for the execution of public works, was entirely in the hands of Arbitrators, from whose decision there was no appeal. This system led to a lamentable waste of the public money, both because the Arbitrators were incompetent, and sometimes, it is to be feared, corrupt, and also because the law, as it then stood, laid down no instructions for their guidance in the performance of their duties. This latter defect, among others, was remedied by the Act of 1870, which it is now proposed to amend, and which contains detailed instructions as to the matters which are to be considered, and which are to be neglected, in awards of compensation for lands acquired under its provisions The Act of 1870 also provided for the abolition of the system under which uncontrolled discretion was entrusted to Arbitrators; and, in lieu thereof, required the Collector, when unable to come to terms with the persons interested in land which it was desired to take up, to refer the difference for the decision of a Civil Court, usually that of the District Judge. In the disposal of such references, the Court is aided by Assessors, and its finding is final if the Judge and one or more of the Assessors agree. If, however, the Judge and the Assessors disagree, an appeal is allowed, which usually lies to the High Court.

3. The Act of 1870 has not, in practice, been found entirely effective for the protection either of the persons interested in lands taken up or of the public purse. The requirement that the Collector shall refer for the decision of the Court every petty difference of opinion as to value, and every case in which any one of perhaps a large number of persons fails to attend before him, has involved in litigation, with all its trouble and delay and expense, a great number of persons whose interest in the land was extremely insignificant. It has, in fact, frequently been the case that the owners of small pieces of land have had to pay Court costs to an amount far exceeding the value of the land itself.

4. On the other hand, the provisions of the Act as to the incidence of costs, the whole of which fall on the Collector if the final award is ever so little in excess of the amount of his tender, are such as to encourage extravagant and speculative claims. The chance of altogether escaping the payment of costs is so great, that claimants are in the position of risking very little in order to gain very much, and have, therefore, every motive to refuse even liberal offers made by the Collector, and to try their luck by compelling a reference to the Court. Much the same may be said as to the provisions of the existing law regarding the payment of interest. No matter how fair the original offer of the Collector and how groundless the refusal to accept the compensation he has tendered, interest is payable on the amount of the award finally arrived at from the date of the Collector's taking possession of the land. This may be for a period of two or three years, and, as interest continues to run until the litigation is finally completed, it is to the advantage of the landowner to protract the proceedings to the utmost. All this casts a very heavy and undeserved burden on the public purse..

5. It is proposed, therefore, to amend the law by making the Collector's award final, unless altered by the decree in a regular suit. Persons interested in land taken up for public works will thus still have the opportunity, if they desire it, of preferring to an authority quite independent of the Collector their claims to more substantial compensation than the Collector has awarded; and will in all cases have a further right of appeal to the regular appellate courts. They will no longer, however, be encouraged to litigate by the feeling that they can hardly lose, but may make a great gain by doing so.

6. This change in the procedure for determining the valuation of lands taken up for public works will also render it possible to dispense with the services of the Assessors, who are now supposed to assist the Court. Considering the difficulty, almost throughout the country, of obtaining the services of such Assessors as are really qualified to form a sound opinion on the subject of the valuation of land, it is believed that the proposal to dispense with them, and to leave the matter to the sole arbitrament, first of the Collector, and then of the Judge, will in no way diminish the efficiency of the Courts in enquiries in which the value of lands is in issue. It will certainly tend to shorten litigation and to diminish its expense.

7. Several minor amendments in the law, which experience has shown to be desirable, are included in the Bill.

8. A copy of the Act of 1870, as it will stand if amended as proposed by the Bill, is annexed.

The Collector may also require any such person to make or deliver to him at a time and place mentioned (such time not being earlier than fifteen days after the date of the requisition) a statement containing, so far as may be practicable, the name of every other person possessing any interest in the land or any part thereof as co-proprietor, sub-proprietor, mortgagee, tenant or otherwise, and of the nature of such interest, and of the rents and profits (if any) received or receivable on account thereof for the year next preceding the date of the statement.

Persons required to make statements to be deemed legally bound to do so.

Every person required to make or deliver a statement under this section or section 9 shall be deemed to be legally bound to do so within the meaning of sections 175 and 176 of the Indian Penal Code.

Enquiry and award by Collector.

11. On the day so fixed or on any other day to which the enquiry has been adjourned, the Collector shall proceed to enquire into the objections (if any) which any person interested has stated under section 9 to the measurements made under section 8, and into the value of the land, and shall make an award under his hand of—

(i) the true measurements of the land;

(ii) the compensation which in his opinion should be allowed for the land; and

(iii) the apportionment of the said compensation among all the persons known or believed to be interested in the land, of whom, or of whose claims, he has information, whether or not they have respectively appeared before him.

Award of Collector when to be final.

12. Such award shall be filed in the Collector's office and shall be final and conclusive evidence as between the Collector and the persons interested, whether they have respectively appeared before the Collector or not,—

(i) of the true measurements of the land;

(ii) unless altered in the manner hereinafter provided, also of the value of the land and of the apportionment of the compensation among the persons interested.

Adjournment of enquiry.

13. The Collector may, for any cause he thinks fit, from time to time adjourn the enquiry to a day to be fixed by him.

Power to summon and enforce attendance of witnesses and production of documents.

14. For the purpose of enquiries under this Act, the Collector shall have power to summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses and to compel the production of documents by the same means, and (so far as may be) in the same manner, as is provided in the case of a Civil Court under the Code of Civil Procedure.

XIV of 1882.

Matters to be considered and neglected.

15. In determining the amount of compensation, the Collector shall take into consideration the matters mentioned in section 24, and shall not take into consideration any of the matters mentioned in section 25.

Taking Possession.

Power to take possession.

16. When the Collector has made an award under section 11, he shall take possession of the land, which shall thereupon vest absolutely in the Government free from all encumbrances :

Provided that, in any case where immediate possession is not required, the Collector may allow the occupants (if any) of the land to remain in the occupation of the same upon such terms as he and they may agree on until possession of the land is required.

Power to take possession in cases of urgency.

17. In cases of urgency, whenever the Local Government so directs, the Collector (though no such award has been made) may, on the expiration of fifteen days from the publication of the notice mentioned in the first paragraph of section 9, take possession of any waste or arable land needed for public purposes or for a Company.

Such land shall thereupon vest absolutely in the Government free from all encumbrances.

The Collector shall offer to the persons interested compensation for the standing crops and trees (if any) on such land and for any other damage sustained by them ; and in case such offer is not accepted, the value of such crops and trees and the amount of such other damage shall be allowed for in awarding compensation for the land under the provisions herein contained.

PART III.

SUITS TO ALTER THE COLLECTOR'S AWARD.

Suits by persons interested to alter Collector's award.

18. A person interested may institute a suit in the Court to alter the award of the Collector under section 11, by the enhancement of the compensation awarded by the Collector or by the alteration of the apportionment, made by the Collector, of the compensation among the persons interested, or in both ways :

Provided that every such suit shall be instituted within not more than three months from the date of the Collector's award if the person interested instituting it received a notice from the Collector under the third paragraph of section 9, or within not more than six months from the date of the Collector's award if the person or persons instituting it, or any of them, did not receive a notice from the Collector under the third paragraph of section 9.

XIV of 1882.

The provisions of section 424 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall not apply to any such suit.

When Collector may be cited.

19. (1) If such suit is either solely or partly to enhance the compensation awarded by the Collector, the Collector shall be cited as the defendant or as one of the defendants.

(2) If such suit is solely to alter the apportionment, made by the Collector, of the compensation among the persons interested, the Collector shall not be cited as a defendant, but the Court shall nevertheless at once send him notice of the institution of the suit.

XIV of 1882.

Deposit by Collector and disposal of amount of compensation.

20. (1) On receipt of a summons under section 64 of the Code of Civil Procedure to appear as a defendant or of a notice of the institution of a suit under section 19 (2), the Collector shall, within fourteen days, deposit in the Court the compensation awarded by him together with a further sum amounting to 15 per centum on the market-value mentioned in section 24, or so much of the said sums as shall not already have been paid to persons interested under Part V.

(2) If the suit is solely to enhance the compensation awarded by the Collector, the Court which tries the suit may deal with the sums so deposited under the provisions of section 377 (but not of sections 378 and 379) of the Code of Civil Procedure ; but

(3) If the suit is also, or solely, to alter the apportionment, made by the Collector, of the compensation among the persons interested, the Court shall retain the sums so deposited pending the decision of the suit, and shall then pay them to the parties in such proportions as may be ordered by the decree ; and for this purpose may transfer them to the Court which tries the suit

Provided that, if the Court which tries the suit shall decide that the compensation awarded by the Collector was in excess of the compensation which should properly have been awarded for the land, the said Court shall in its decree order that the plaintiff shall refund to the Collector any sum which, either under Part V or under section 377 of the Code of Civil Procedure, he may have been paid in excess of the sum which the said Court shall decide to be the compensation which should properly have been awarded for the land ; and such excess so paid shall be recoverable by the Collector as costs in the suit.

Suit by Government to alter the Collector's award or for refund of compensation.

21. If the Local Government shall be of opinion that the compensation awarded by the Collector is excessive, it may institute a suit in the Court against the persons interested, on any one or more of them, either to alter the award of the Collector by the reduction of the compensation awarded by him, if the amount so awarded (including the additional sum of fifteen per centum directed to be paid by section 41), or so much thereof as is not in excess of the sum which the Local Government admits to be the proper compensation for the land (including the said additional sum of fifteen per centum) has not been paid to the persons interested ; or,

If the amount of the award (including the said additional sum of fifteen per centum), or any portion thereof in excess of the sum which the Local Government admits to be the proper compensation for the land (including the said additional sum of fifteen per centum) has been paid to persons interested, to recover the excess of such amount, or portion thereof, as the case may be, over the total of the sum which the Local Government admits to be the proper compensation for the land (including the said additional sum of fifteen per centum) from the persons to whom such excess has been paid :

Provided that every such suit shall be instituted within not more than three months from the date of the Collector's award.

VII of 1870.

Valuation of suits and determination of jurisdiction.

22. (1) For the purposes of the Court-fees Act, 1870, the value of a suit to alter the award of the Collector by the enhancement or reduction of the compensation awarded by him shall be taken to be the sum by which it is sought to enhance or reduce such compensation, as the case may be ; and the value of a suit to alter the apportionment, made by the Collector, of the compensation among the persons interested, shall be taken to be the total amount of the compensation.

(2) For the purpose of determining the jurisdiction of Courts with respect thereto the value of a suit instituted under this Part shall be taken to be the total amount of the compensation awarded by the Collector.

Transfer of suits.

23. The Court may transfer for trial any suit instituted under this Part to any Court subordinate to itself, and competent to try the same in respect of its nature, and of the amount or value of its subject-matter :

Provided that, except under the written permission of the Local Government, no such suit shall be transferred for trial to any Court which is not stationed at the headquarter station of the land-revenue district in which the land is situated.

Such written permission may be either general or special and may at any time be annulled by the Local Government.

Matters to be considered in determining compensation.

24. In a suit to alter the amount of compensation awarded by the Collector, the Court which tries the suit shall take into consideration—

First, the market-value of the land at the date of the publication of the declaration relating thereto under section 6 ;

Secondly, the damage (if any) sustained by the person interested, at the time of the Collector's taking possession of the land, by reason of severing such land from his other land;

Thirdly, the damage (if any) sustained by the person interested, at the time of the Collector's taking possession of the land, by reason of the acquisition injuriously affecting his other property, whether moveable or immoveable, in any other manner, or his earnings; and Fourthly, if, in consequence of the acquisition of the land by the Collector, the person interested is compelled to change his residence or place of business, the reasonable expenses (if any) incidental to such change.

Explanation.—By 'market-value' is meant the sum for which the land might reasonably have been expected to have been sold, if put up to auction on the spot, without undue haste and under ordinary circumstances, immediately before the publication of the declaration relating thereto under section 6.

Matters to be neglected in determining compensation.

25. But in such a suit the Court which tries the suit shall not take into consideration—

First, the degree of urgency which has led to the acquisition;

Secondly, any disinclination of the person interested to part with the land acquired;

Thirdly, any damage sustained by him which, if caused by a private person, would not render such person liable to a suit;

Fourthly, any damage which, after the date of the publication of the declaration under section 6, is likely to be caused to the land by or in consequence of the use to which the land acquired will be put;

Fifthly, any increase to the value of the land acquired likely to accrue from the use to which it will be put when acquired;

Sixthly, any increase to the value of the other land of the person interested likely to accrue from the use to which the land acquired will be put; or

Seventhly, any outlay or improvements on the land acquired commenced, made or effected after the date of the publication of the declaration under section 6.

Matters to be stated in decree.

26. The decree in a suit to alter the amount of compensation awarded by the Collector shall state—

First, the sum which, in the opinion of the Court which tries the suit, the Collector ought to have awarded as compensation; and

Secondly, the sum or sums which, after the addition to the said sum of fifteen per centum on the market-value of the land mentioned in section 24, shall be paid by, or to, the plaintiff or plaintiffs, or any of them, to, or by, the defendant or defendants, or any of them.

Collector may be directed to pay interest on excess compensation.

27. (1) If the sum which, in the opinion of the Court which tries the suit, the Collector ought to have awarded as compensation, is in excess of the sum which the Collector did award as compensation, the decree may direct that the Collector shall pay interest on such excess at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date on which he took possession of the land to the date of payment of such excess into Court.

(2) The decree shall not otherwise direct that the Collector shall pay interest, save under section 222 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

XIV of 1882.

Code of Civil Procedure to apply.

28. Save in so far as inconsistent with anything contained in this Act, the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure shall apply to suits instituted under this Part.

XIV of 1882.

Appeals in certain cases.

29. Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force, an appeal shall lie to the High Court from the decree, or from any part of the decree, in any suit instituted under this Part, of a Judicial Officer appointed by the Local Government under section 3, either specially for any case or generally within any special local limits, to perform the functions of a Judge under this Act, against whose decisions no appeal lies under any law for the time being in force relating to his exercise of his ordinary jurisdiction.

PART V.

Payment.

Payment of compensation to whom to be made.

40. On making an award under section 11 the Collector shall tender payment of the compensation awarded by him to the persons interested entitled thereto according to the award, and shall pay it to them if they shall consent to receive it:

Provided that nothing herein contained shall affect the liability of any person, who may receive the whole or any part of any compensation awarded under this Act, to pay the same to the person lawfully entitled thereto.

Percentage on market-value.

41. (1) In addition to the amount of any compensation awarded under Part II, the Collector shall, in consideration of the compulsory nature of the acquisition, pay fifteen per centum on the market-value mentioned in section 24.

(2) When the amount of such compensation is not paid or payment thereof tendered on or before taking possesssion of the land, the Collector shall pay the amount awarded and the said percentage with interest on such amount and percentage at the rate of six per centum per annum from the time of so taking possession.

PART VI.

TEMPORARY OCCUPATION OF LAND.

Temporary occupation of waste or arable land.

43. Subject to the provisions of Part VII of this Act, whenever it appears to the Local Government that the temporary occupation and use of any waste or arable land are needed for any public purpose, or for a Company, the Local Government may direct the Collector to procure the occupation and use of the same for such term as it shall think fit, not exceeding three years from the commencement of such occupation.

The Collector shall thereupon give notice in writing to the persons interested in such land of the purpose for which the same is needed, and shall, for the occupation and use thereof for such term as aforesaid, and for the materials (if any) to be taken therefrom, pay to them such compensation, either in a gross sum of money, or by monthly or other periodical payments, as shall be agreed upon in writing between him and such persons respectively.

In case the Collector and the persons interested differ as to the sufficiency of the compensation, the Collector shall refer such difference for the final order of the Court.

Power to enter and take possession.

44. On payment of such compensation, or on executing such agreement,

or on making a reference under section 43,

the Collector may enter upon and take possession of the land, and use or permit the use thereof in accordance with the terms of the said notice.

Restoration of land taken.

And, on the expiration of the term, the Collector shall make or tender to the persons interested compensation for the damage (if any) done to the land and not provided for by the agreement, and shall restore the land to the persons interested therein:

Provided that, if the land has become permanently unfit to be used for the purpose for which it was used immediately before the commencement of such term, and if the persons interested shall so require, the Local Government shall proceed under this Act to acquire the land as if it was needed permanently for a public purpose or for a Company.

Difference as to condition of land.

45. In case the Collector and persons interested differ as to the condition of the land at the expiration of the term, or as to any matter connected with the said agreement, the Collector shall refer such difference for the final order of the Court.

Costs on references under this Part.

45A. The Judge may pass such order as he may think fit in regard to the costs of a reference made under this Part, and from such order there shall be no appeal.

In every such case section four shall be construed as if, for the words "for such purpose," the words "for the purposes of the Company" were substituted, and section 5 shall be construed as if, after the words "the officer," the words "of the Company" were inserted.

Consent of Local Government to acquisition.

47. The provisions of section 6 to section 45 (both inclusive) shall not be put in force in order to acquire land for any Company, unless with the previous consent of the Local Government, and unless the Company shall have executed the agreement hereinafter mentioned.

(2) that such work is likely to prove useful to the public.

Such enquiry shall be held by such officer and at such time and place as the Local Government shall appoint.

Such officer may summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses, and compel the production of documents by the same means and, as far as possible, in the same manner as XIV of 1872. is provided by the Code of Civil Procedure in the case of a Civil Court.

Bills introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for making Laws and Regulations, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council, and Bills published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 18th March, 1892 :—

No. 7 OF 1892.

A Bill to amend the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, and the Code of Civil Procedure.

XV of 1877. XIV of 1882. WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, and the Code of Civil Procedure ; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

XV of 1877. Addition of new section after section 5, Act XV of 1877.

1. After section 5 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, the following section shall be added, namely :—

"5A. Whenever it is shown to the satisfaction of a Court that an appeal or an application for a review of judgment was presented after the expiration of the period of limitation prescribed for such appeal or application owing to the appellant or applicant at the time when he presented such appeal or application having been misled by any then unrepealed order, or then existing practice or judgment not then overruled of the High Court of the Presidency, Province or District, such appeal or application, if otherwise in accordance with law, shall for all purposes be deemed by all Courts to have been presented within the period of limitation prescribed therefor."

Limitation for certain appeals or applications for review of judgment.

XIV of 1882.

2. To Chapter XXII of the Code of Civil Procedure the following section shall be added, namely :—

Addition of new section to Chapter XXII of Code of Civil Procedure.

"375A. Nothing in this Chapter shall apply to any application or other proceeding in any suit subsequent to the decree.

Applications for execution of decrees not affected.

"Explanation.—An application to the Appellate Court pending an appeal is not an application subsequent to the decree within the meaning of this section."

Addition of new section after section 582 of said Code.

3. After section 582 of the said Code the following section shall be added, namely :—

"582A. If a memorandum of appeal or application for a review of judgment has been presented within the proper period of limitation, but is written upon paper insufficiently stamped and the insufficiency of the stamp was caused by a mistake on the part of the appellant or applicant as to the amount of the requisite stamp, the memorandum of appeal or application shall have the same effect and be as valid as if it had been properly stamped : Provided that such appeal or application shall be rejected unless the appellant or applicant supplies the requisite stamp within a reasonable time after the discovery of the mistake, to be fixed by the Court."

Validation of certain memoranda of appeals or applications for review of judgment.

Addition to section 647 of said Code.

4. To section 647 of the said Code the following shall be added, namely :—

"Explanation.—This section does not apply to applications for the execution of decrees, which are proceedings in suits."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

IN the case of Bechi v. Ahsanullah Khan, 12 All. 461, the North-Western Provinces High Court held, in accordance with the practice of the High Court at Madras, that under section 12 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, in computing "the time . . . . . requisite for obtaining a copy of the decree" the Court ought not to include time which had passed before the application for a copy was made, even though the decree had not then been in fact drawn up or signed. Up to the date of this decision the practice of the Court, following that of the High Court at Calcutta, had been different, and the effect of the decision was to rule out of time several appeals which were in time according to the then practice of the Court, at the time when they were presented.

The first section of the Bill is designed to prevent the occurrence of a similar hardship in future.

2. Sections 2 and 4 of the Bill are intended to meet a conflict of opinion which has arisen between the High Court of Allahabad on one side and the High Courts of Calcutta and Bombay on the other as to the interpretation of section 647 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The Allahabad High Court have held (I. L. R. 12 All. 392) that that section makes the provisions of Chapter XXII of the Code applicable to proceedings in execution of decree. The contrary view has been taken by the High Court of Bombay (I. L. R. 10 Bom. 62) and by the High Court of Calcutta (I. L. R. 18 Cal. 462, 515). Section 2 of the Bill declares that the provisions in question are not to apply to proceedings after decree, and section 4 limits the operation of section 647 of the Code in accordance with the opinions expressed by the High Courts of Calcutta and Bombay.

3. In the case of Balkaran Rai v. Gobind Nath Tiwari (I. L. R. 12 All. 129) it was held by the High Court of Allahabad that a memorandum of appeal cannot be filed or recorded in, or received by, a Court unless and until the proper court-fee is paid in respect of it, and is of no validity unless and until it is properly stamped. Consequently, if it is not, when tendered, properly stamped, it is not at that time a memorandum of appeal within the meaning of section 541 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and the appeal cannot be regarded as having been at that time presented within the meaning of section 4 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, or as valid for any other purpose except in the events specified in section 28 of the Court-fees Act.

The Government of India are of opinion that when the insufficiency of the stamp is caused by a bonâ fide mistake on the part of the appellant as to the value of the court-fee stamp required it ought to be obligatory on the Courts to admit the appeal; provided that, if the deficiency is not made good within a reasonable time after the mistake has been discovered, the appeal should then be rejected.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law of partition; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Partition Act, 1892.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India; and

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Saving of certain local laws.

(4) But nothing herein contained shall be deemed to affect any local law providing for the partition of immoveable property paying revenue to the Government.

Power to Court to order sale instead of division in partition suits.

2. Whenever in any suit for partition in which, if instituted prior to the commencement of this Act, a decree for partition might have been made, it appears to the Court that, by reason of the nature of the property to which the suit relates, or of the number of parties interested therein, or of any other special circumstance, a division of the property cannot reasonably or conveniently be made and that a sale of the property and distribution of the proceeds would be more beneficial for all the parties interested, the Court may, if it thinks fit, on the request of any party or parties interested individually or collectively to the extent of one moiety or upwards, direct a sale of the property and a distribution of the proceeds.

Procedure when sharer undertakes to buy.

3. (1) If, in any case in which the Court is requested under the last foregoing section to direct a sale, any other shareholder shall undertake to buy the share or shares of the party or parties asking for sale, the Court shall, instead of directing a sale, order a valuation of the share or shares in such manner as it thinks fit, and may give all necessary and proper directions in that behalf.

(2) If two or more shareholders undertake to buy as provided in sub-section (1), but do not agree as between or among themselves with regard to the respective proportions in which they should buy, the Court shall sell the share or shares to the shareholder who offers to pay the highest price above the valuation made by the Court.

Partition suit by transferee of share in dwelling-house.

4. (1) Where the transferee of a share of a dwelling-house belonging to an undivided family not being a member of the family sues for partition, the Court shall, if any member of the family shall undertake to buy the share of such transferee, make a valuation of such share in such manner as it thinks fit and direct the transfer of the share on payment of the purchase-money so fixed by the Court.

(2) If in any case described in sub-section (1) two or more members of the family undertake to buy, but do not agree as between or among themselves with regard to the respective proportions in which they should buy, the Court shall follow the procedure prescribed by sub-section (2) of the last foregoing section.

5. In any suit for partition a request for sale, may be made or an undertaking to buy given on behalf of any party under disability by any person authorized to act on behalf of such party in such suit, but the Court shall not be bound to comply with any such request or undertaking unless it is satisfied that the sale or purchase will be for the benefit of the party under such disability.

Representation of parties under disability.

6. (1) On any sale under this Act any of the parties interested in the property shall be at liberty to bid at the sale on such terms as to non-payment of deposit or as to setting off or accounting for the purchase-money or any part thereof instead of paying the same as to the Court may seem reasonable.

Power to shareholders to bid at sale.

(2) If two or more persons, of whom one is a shareholder in the property, respectively advance the same sum at any bidding at such sale, such bidding shall be deemed to be the bidding of the shareholder.

7. When any property is directed to be sold under this Act, the following procedure shall, as far as practicable, be adopted, namely :—

Procedure to be followed in case of sales.

(a) if the property be situated within the town of Calcutta, Madras or Bombay, the procedure of the High Court in its original civil jurisdiction for the sale of property by the Registrar ;

(b) if the property be situated elsewhere such procedure as the High Court may from time to time by rules prescribe in this behalf, and until such rules are made the procedure prescribed in the Code of Civil Procedure in respect of sales in execution of decrees.

XIV of 1882.

8. (1) On a sale of immoveable property becoming absolute under this Act, the Court shall grant a certificate stating the property sold and the name of the person who at the time of sale is declared to be the purchaser.

Certificate to purchaser of immoveable property.

(2) Such certificate shall bear the date of the confirmation of the sale ; and, so far as regards the parties to the suit and persons claiming through or under them, the title to the property sold shall vest in the purchaser from the date of such certificate and not before.

9. When any property is sold under this Act, the proceeds, after deducting the costs of the sale, shall be distributed among the parties according to their respective interests as ascertained by the Court.

Distribution of proceeds of sales.

10. (1) Any order made by the Court under section 2 or section 4 shall be deemed to be a decree within the meaning of section 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure and to be appealable as such.

Appeals.

XIV of 1882.

(2) All other orders shall be appealable only when such orders are of the same nature as appealable orders under section 588 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and the orders passed in appeals in such cases shall be final.

11. Nothing herein contained shall prevent the Court from making a decree for a partition of part of the property to which the suit relates and a sale of the remainder.

Saving of power to order partly partition and partly sale.

12. This Act shall apply to suits pending at the commencement thereof, in which no commission for the purpose of making a partition shall have been executed.

Application of Act to pending suits.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE present statutory law on the subject of partition, apart from various local laws dealing with the partition of land paying revenue to Government, is contained in sections 265 and 396 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Section 265 simply enacts that the partition or separation of a revenue-paying estate shall be made only by the Collector, and need not therefore be noticed further, as the present Bill leaves untouched all local laws dealing with the partition of such property. Section 396 lays down the procedure which should be adopted in the partition of lands not paying revenue to Government. That section, however, only authorizes the Court to divide the property, and in some exceptional cases where an equal division is not practicable to award a money compensation for the purpose of equalizing the value of the shares. But as the law now stands the Court must give a share to each of the parties and cannot direct a sale and division of the proceeds in any case whatever. Instances, however, occasionally occur where there are insuperable practical difficulties in the way of making an equal division, and in such cases the Court is either powerless to give effect to its decree, or is driven to all kinds of shifts and expedients in order to do so. Such difficulties are by no means of very rare occurrence, although in many cases where the parties are properly advised they generally agree to some mutual arrangement, and thus relieve the Court from embarrassment.

2. It is proposed in the present Bill to supply this defect in the law by giving the Court, under proper safeguards, a discretionary authority to direct a sale where a partition cannot reasonably be made and a sale would, in the opinion of the Court, be more beneficial for the parties. But, having regard to the strong attachment of the people of this country to their landed possessions, it is proposed to make the consent of parties interested at least to the extent of a moiety in the property a condition precedent to the exercise by the Court of this new power. In order at the same time to prevent any oppressive exercise of this privilege, it is proposed to give such of the shareholders as do not desire a sale the right to buy the others out at a valuation to be determined by the Court. The power, moreover, which it is proposed to give to the Court will be a discretionary one to be exercised on a consideration of all the circumstances of the case. It should be added that, where the Court is obliged to direct a sale, a right of pre-emption is given by the Bill to the parties similar to that conferred on shareholders by section 310 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

3. It is also proposed in the Bill to give the Court the power of compelling a stranger, who has acquired by purchase a share in a family dwelling-house when he seeks for a partition, to sell his share to the members of the family who are the owners of the rest of the house at a valuation to be determined by the Court. This provision is only an extension of the privilege given to such shareholders by section 44, paragraph 2, of the Transfer of Property Act, and is an application of a well known rule which obtains among Muhammadans everywhere and by custom also among Hindus in some parts of the country.

4. The other sections of the Bill only deal with matters of procedure and do not call for any detailed notice.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to extend the jurisdiction of the Court of Small Causes of Madras was presented to the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 25th March, 1892 —

WE, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to extend the jurisdiction of the Court of Small Causes of Madras was referred, have re-considered the Bill together with Bill No. II (a Bill to establish a Civil Court for the City of Madras) and the papers noted in the margin, and have now the honour to submit this our further Report, with the Bill No. II as amended by us annexed thereto.

Endorsement from Home Department, No. 183, dated 10th February, 1892, and accompaniment [Papers No. 5 relative to Bill as introduced].
From Secretary, Mylapore Athæneum, G. No. 1, dated 22nd February, 1892 [Paper No. 1 relative to Bill No. II].
From Secretary, Madras High Court Vakils Association, dated 23rd February, 1892 [Paper No. 2 relative to Bill No. II].
Telegram from President, Mahajana Sabha, Madras, dated 26th February, 1892 [Paper No. 3 relative to Bill No. II].
From Government of Madras, No. 395 (Judicial), dated 2nd March, 1892, and enclosures [Papers No. 4 relative to Bill No. II].
Endorsement from Home Department, No. 359, dated 11th March, 1892, and accompaniment [Papers No. 5 relative to Bill No. II].
Despatch from Secretary of State, No. 1, dated 7th January, 1892, and endorsement from Private Secretary to Viceroy, dated 24th February, 1892, and accompaniment [Papers No. 6 relative to Bill No. II].

2. We are strongly of opinion that the limit prescribed by Bill No. II, namely, Rs. 2,500, should not be exceeded. On the other hand, if the local authorities so desire, we see no reason why the cognisance of small causes between Rs. 1,000 and Rs. 2,000 in value should not be transferred from the Court of Small Causes to the City Court. We have not provided for such a transfer, as we understand that the reduction of all the Presidency Small Cause Courts' jurisdiction to Rs. 1,000 is under consideration, but we think it desirable to point out that the establishment of the new Court will greatly facilitate such a reduction in Madras.

3. It has been suggested by Mr. Justice Handley of the Madras High Court that suits of the kinds mentioned in clauses (q) and (r) of section 19 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act (XV of 1882) should be excluded from the jurisdiction of the City Court. We do not, however, see sufficient grounds for adopting this suggestion. We prefer to give the new Court general jurisdiction, and to leave the High Court to call up cases which, in its judgment, should be tried by itself. Section 12 makes all reasonable provision regarding fees paid in cases so removed to the High Court.

4. We have inserted a section (11), based on section 73 of Act XV of 1882, providing for the refund of half the institution-fees paid in cases before the City Court which are settled by agreement of the parties before hearing.

5. It is not certain that the Indian Legislature is competent to abolish any part of the original jurisdiction of a chartered High Court. We have accordingly resolved expressly to maintain the High Court's concurrent jurisdiction (section 14), adding a provision as to costs similar to that contained in section 22, Act XV of 1882.

6. Various other points have been raised in the letter, dated 2nd March, from the Government of Madras, and we will briefly advert to each of them in order:—

(1) By section 3 (c) we have excluded suits cognizable by the Court of Small Causes.
(2) has been met by section 10.
(3) We are of opinion that the new Court should be confined to the trial of petty cases and should not be a District Court. All matters reserved by law for a principal Court of original jurisdiction should go to the High Court.
(4) The Court-fees Act and the Code of Civil Procedure are general and apply to all Courts not specially exempted from their operation.
(5) has been met by section 3 (b).
(6) A majority of the Committee considered that section 7, Act XV of 1882, applied to all Judges who are ex officio Judges of the Small Cause Court, and that no further provision was expedient.

(7) has been met by section 4; and (8) and (9) by section 6.
(10) By section 5 (2) we have empowered the Chief Justice of the High Court to control the Judges of the new Court with reference to Small Cause work.
(11) We consider it sufficiently clear that it is only when trying small causes that a Judge of the City Court can exercise Small Cause powers.
(12) has been met by section 15.
(13) The control of the ministerial establishment is provided for by section 7.
(14) It seems unnecessary specially to prohibit Judges in a presidency-town from trying cases in which they are personally interested.
(15), regarding the law to be administered, is met by section 8; and (16), regarding the valuation of suits, by section 9.
(17) The Legal Practitioners Act, 1879, seems to make all necessary provision regarding the persons who may practise in the City Court.
(18), regarding holidays, is met by section 16
(19) It seems unnecessary to make any exemptions from arrest.
(20) It has been proposed, simultaneously with the establishment of the new Court, to reduce the scale of fees levied in the Court of Small Causes, and to introduce in its place the scale prescribed by the Court-fees Act. We consider that this matter is beyond the scope of our instructions. We may, however, remark that section 75, Act XV of 1882, gives the Local Government full power to vary the fees payable under sections 71 and 72.
(21) has been met by section 7, and (22) by section 13.
(23) is disposed of in paragraph 3 of this Report, and (25) in paragraph 5.
(24) is met by section 14 (2).

7. We recommend that the Bill as now amended be remitted to the Government of Madras for further consideration, and that it be re-published.

The 23rd March, 1892.

I REGRET my inability to concur in this Report. In the first place, I do not think that it has been satisfactorily established that any new Court is needed in the City of Madras; and, in the second place, I am strongly of opinion that, if such a Court is established, the law should provide that the Judges thereof should be Advocates of the High Court. Without such a provision, the establishment of the new Court will, in my judgment, tend to the further decadence of the Madras Bar, to the serious injury both of private interests and of the public weal. By private interests, I mean the interests of private suitors, not those of individual members of the Bar.

The 23rd March, 1892.

H. W. BLISS.

I THINK the Bill as amended is now a workable scheme. I am not certain that all the advantages of it might not be equally well or better secured by modifications of the original scheme. I desire to reserve my opinion as to the points raised by the Hon'ble Mr. Bliss in view of the possibility of further representations from Madras. The necessity for this legislation (if it is necessary) must depend on the peculiar circumstances of Madras, as such a measure would, in my opinion, be wholly out of the question for Calcutta. The position of Madras as regards the original jurisdiction of the High Court appears to be very peculiar.

(2) But the Deputy Commissioner may revise any such order made by any officer subordinate to him, and the Commissioner may revise any such order made by the Deputy Commissioner.

(3) Save as provided by this section, every order made under this Act shall be final, and shall not be liable to be contested by suit or otherwise.

Power to make rules.

9. The Local Government may, subject to the control of the Governor General in Council, make rules consistent with the foregoing sections for carrying into effect the purposes of this Act.

(2) All such rules shall be published in the Burma Gazette, and shall thereupon have the force of law.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THIS Bill is almost a transcript of Regulation No. VI of 1891, which was enacted to provide for the administration of towns in Upper Burma.

The Bill is in the main a measure of police. The police administration in Burma, as in other parts of the Indian Empire, and perhaps more than in other parts, offers problems of much difficulty. One of the most difficult is how to get the police force into touch with the people, and to obtain their goodwill and assistance, without which the task of detecting and repressing crime is very hard.

One cause of the difficulties has been that the old indigenous institutions of the country have been neglected, and an attempt has been made to work entirely through a police department which has no close connection with the people.

When Upper Burma was annexed the Government was brought into contact with the indigenous system, and by means of the Upper Burma Village Regulation, No. XIV of 1887, and afterwards of the Upper Burma Towns Regulation above referred to, a timely and, it is believed, as the records of the Burman Administration will show, a successful effort was made to preserve and utilize that system and to connect it with the police. As the success of the Upper Burma Village Regulation led to an extension of the system to Lower Burma, where the indigenous institutions of the country have been partially overlaid and destroyed, so the success of the Upper Burma Towns Regulation has led the Chief Commissioner to ask for a similar enactment for Lower Burma towns. All over Burma there was in former times a police machinery by which villages and portions of towns had their headmen, under whom were minor officials, each entrusted with the supervision of a number of houses, usually ten. Even where this machinery has from neglect fallen into disuse, the people are readily induced to adopt it again, and take to it without difficulty. As an example and proof of this, it may be stated that in 1883 the old system of police was at the desire of the people reverted to in Rangoon. The town was divided into wards, and Myogan-lugyis, that is, aldermen, were appointed, who undertook to help the police to supervise the bad characters and prevent crime. This system has been worked now for nearly ten years without legislative sanction, and, as the Chief Commissioner reports, "since that time Rangoon has been remarkably free from crimes of violence, and it is generally believed that the Myogan-lugyi system has contributed materially to its immunity from disturbance." This Bill may be described as the legal expression of the Rangoon system, and it contains nothing that is new or strange to the country, but rather proposes to revive old institutions which have not yet altogether disappeared, and which, when restored, will be welcome to the people.

The measure is of a very simple character, its main provisions being (1) the division of towns into wards and blocks; (2) the appointment of persons to be headmen of wards or aldermen of blocks; (3) the conferment on such headmen and aldermen of certain powers and the imposition on them of certain duties. Although for police purposes it is proposed to apply the Bill to all towns, yet care will be taken to interfere in no way with the duties, powers, and responsibilities of municipal committees, and the Bill is so drawn as to enable the Chief Commissioner in each case to restrict the general duties of headmen and elders to such limits as may appear to him fit.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following final Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to extend the jurisdiction of the Court of Small Causes of Madras was presented to the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 28th July, 1892:

WE, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to extend the jurisdiction of the Court of Small Causes of Madras was referred, have re-considered the Bill, together with Bill No. III (a Bill to establish an additional Civil Court for the City of Madras) and the papers noted in the margin, and have now the honour to submit this our final Report, with the Bill No. III as amended by us annexed thereto.

Endorsement by Officiating Deputy Secretary to Government of India, Home Department, No. 532, dated 26th April, 1892, and enclosure [Papers No. 1].

From Chief Secretary to Government, Madras, No. 1189, dated 27th June, 1892, and enclosures [Papers No. 2].

2. Section 3.—We have not deemed it necessary to further limit the classes of suits and proceedings with respect to which the City Court is to have jurisdiction. The City Court will not be either a District Court or a principal Court of original jurisdiction. It will therefore be incompetent to take cognizance of suits reserved by law for either of such Courts. Should any case occur in which there may be a reasonable doubt if it has jurisdiction owing to such a reservation, we think that it would probably, on application, be called up by the High Court.

3. Sections 4 and 5.—We think that the provisions of section 7 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1882, deal adequately with the question of the qualifications of the Judge or Judges of the City Court. The exact nature of the qualifications to be required will be further considered when the Act of 1882 comes under revision.

4. Section 7.—By substituting the words 'with the sanction' for 'subject to the control' of the Local Government, we have made it clear that nothing more than a financial sanction is required to the entertainment of a proper establishment. In the same section, sub-section 3·(b), we have inserted the words 'or neglect' as recommended by the Chief Judge of the Small Cause Court.

5. Section 9.—As the Suits Valuation Act, 1887, is not in force in Madras, we have substituted section 14 of the Madras Civil Courts Act, 1873, in order to supply a valuation of immoveable property for jurisdictional purposes.

6. Sections 10 and 11.—We have here proposed to remove any doubt which may exist as regards the power to levy process-fees and to appoint Receivers.

7. Section 15.—We have proposed that the period of limitation for an appeal from the City Court to the High Court shall be the same as that provided by law (article 151 of the second schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1877) for an appeal from an original decree or order of the High Court.

8. Section 13.—Doubts having been expressed as to the meaning of the term 'before the hearing,' we have provided that the refund of half the institution fee shall only be granted if the case is settled 'before issues have been settled or any evidence recorded.'

9. Section 16.—We have altered the language of clause (1) of this section, in accordance with a suggestion of Mr. Justice Handley, so as to make it clear that the question of costs is entirely in the discretion of the presiding Judge, whose opinion as to the propriety or otherwise of the institution of the suit in the High Court is to be final.

We have also amended the wording of the second clause, and we have made provision regarding the fees to be levied when a case is transferred to the City Court.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for making Laws and Regulations or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 11th August, 1892:

NO. 10 OF 1892.

A Bill to annex the Estate of Porahat to the Singhbhum District, and for certain other purposes.

WHEREAS the estate of Porahat was confiscated by the British Government in the year 1858, and is now under the administration of the officer holding the appointment of Deputy Commissioner of the Singhbhum District;

And whereas the said estate has, by proclamation, been declared and appointed by the Governor General in Council to be subject to the Lieutenant-Governorship of Bengal;

And whereas it is expedient that the said estate should be annexed to the Singhbhum District, and that the law in force therein should be the same as the law in force in the estate of the Kolhan in that district;

And whereas it is also expedient that the estate of Porahat, as forming part of the Singhbhum District, should, for the purposes of the Scheduled Districts Act, 1874, be declared to form part also of the district described in that Act as the Chutia Nagpur Division;

XIV of 1874.

It is hereby enacted as follows:

1. (1) This Act may be called the Porahat Estate Act, 1892; and

Title and commencement.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

Annexation of Porahat estate to Singhbhum District.

2. The estate of Porahat shall henceforth become and be part of the Singhbhum District.

Assimilation of law in force in estate to law in force in the Kolhan.

3. All enactments which are in force in the estate of the Kolhan in the Singhbhum District shall henceforth be in force in the said estate of Porahat.

4. The said estate of Porahat, as forming part of the Singhbhum District, shall form part of the scheduled district described in Part III of the first schedule to the Scheduled Districts Act, 1874, as the Chutia Nagpur Division.

Estate to become part of the scheduled district of Chutia Nagpur.

XIV of 1874.

5. All acts of executive authority, proceedings, decrees and sentences which have been done, taken or passed in or with respect to the said estate of Porahat since the beginning of the year 1858, and before the commencement of this Act, by any officer of the Government or by any person acting under his authority or otherwise in pursuance of an order of the Government, or which have been or shall be ratified by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, shall be deemed to have been done, taken and passed in accordance with law; and no suit and other proceeding shall be maintained or continued against any person whatever on the ground that any such acts, proceedings, decrees or sentences were not done, taken or passed in accordance with law.

Validation of acts done since the beginning of 1858.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE estate of Porahat, adjoining the Singhbhum District, was confiscated in the year 1858, and, being a tract of little importance, has hitherto, without being formally made subject to the Lieutenant-Governorship of Bengal, been informally administered by the Deputy Commissioner of Singhbhum.

The Hon'ble Sir Charles Elliott was of opinion that the tract should be formally attached to the Lieutenant-Governorship of Bengal. A proclamation under the Statute 28 & 29 Vict., c. 17, s. 4, has accordingly been issued.

His Honour is now of opinion that the further step should be taken of applying to the tract provisions similar to those enacted in Part I of the Jhansi and Morar Act, 1886. The Government of India, concurring in this opinion, has directed the preparation and introduction of this Bill.

PART V.

Bills introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for making Laws and Regulations, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council, and Bills published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 13th October 1892:

NO. 11 OF 1892.

A Bill to legalise in certain cases the execution within British India of capital sentences which have been passed by British Courts exercising in or with respect to foreign territory jurisdiction which the Governor General in Council has in such territory.

WHEREAS a capital sentence is occasionally passed by a British Court exercising in or with respect to foreign territory jurisdiction which the Governor General in Council has in such territory;

And whereas there may be in such territory no secure place for the confinement of a prisoner under sentence of death or no suitable appliances for his execution in a decent and humane manner;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Execution in British India of certain capital sentences not ordinarily executable there.

1. (1) When a person sentenced to death by a British Court in the exercise of such jurisdiction as is referred to in the first paragraph of the preamble to this Act is to be executed, and, in the opinion of the Court, should for any such reason as is referred to in the second paragraph of the said preamble be executed in British India, the Court shall issue its warrant for his execution to the superintendent or keeper of a jail in British India, and shall in such warrant prescribe, as nearly as may be, the place in British India where such superintendent or keeper is to cause the execution to be carried out.

(2) The jail in British India to which the Court is to send its warrant shall be such as the Governor General in Council, or a Local Government authorised by him in this behalf, may by general or special order direct.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE passing of an enactment in the sense of this Bill has been recommended by the Governor of Bombay in Council in whom the political control of the Kattiawar and other States is vested. The States in Kattiawar alone are between four and five hundred in number, and most of them are very small, their jurisdiction extending in many cases to one or two villages only, and in some cases to a fraction of a village.

Criminal jurisdiction in serious cases is exercised with respect to most of these States by Courts presided over by British Political Officers, and cases occasionally occur in which for one or other, or both, of the reasons set forth in the preamble to the Bill it is expedient that sentences should be carried into effect in British India. In the case of sentences of imprisonment this is already provided for by law, but no provision of the like nature has hitherto been made for sentences of death, and the present Bill meets this defect with regard to a carefully limited class of such sentences.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 13th October 1892:

NO. 12 OF 1892.

A Bill to remove doubts as to the levy and collection of tolls upon the Lansdowne Bridge over the Indus at Sukkur in the Presidency of Bombay, and for other purposes.

Bom. Act III of 1875. VIII of 1851.

WHEREAS by an Act passed by the Governor of Bombay in Council intituled "an Act for enabling Government to levy tolls on public roads and bridges in the Presidency of Bombay," the Act of the Governor General in Council "for enabling Government to levy tolls on public roads and bridges" was repealed as far as it affected the Presidency of Bombay;

And whereas the bridge on the line of the North-Western Railway over the Indus at Sukkur in the said Presidency of Bombay, commonly known as "The Lansdowne Bridge", was made and is repaired at the expense of the Government of India;

And whereas, in consequence of such repeal as aforesaid, doubts have arisen whether or not there is any subsisting authority competent to impose and levy tolls for the use of the said bridge, and it is expedient to remove such doubts;

It is enacted as follows:—

Title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Lansdowne Bridge Act, 1892.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India; and

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Levy of tolls. VIII of 1851.

2. Notwithstanding the repeal of the lastly hereinbefore mentioned Act, the Governor General in Council may cause such rates of toll, not exceeding the rates mentioned in the schedule annexed to that Act, as he may think fit to be levied in respect of the said Lansdowne Bridge, and may place the collection of such tolls under the management of such persons as may appear to him proper: and all the provisions of the said last-mentioned Act shall apply to such tolls and the collection and recovery thereof in the same manner as if such provisions were herein re-enacted verbatim.

Validation of past levy of tolls.

3. All tolls heretofore levied or collected upon the said Lansdowne Bridge under the authority of the Governor General in Council or of the Governor of Bombay in Council shall be deemed to have been duly levied and collected under the authority of the said Act as if the same had not been repealed.

Application of Act to public roads and bridges.

4. Where any public road or bridge has been made and is repaired at the expense of the Government of India and no other adequate provision has been made for the levy and collection of tolls thereon, the Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, apply this Act to such road or bridge, and thereupon all the provisions of this Act shall apply to such road or bridge as if the same had been herein named instead of the said Lansdowne Bridge.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

BY Act VIII of 1851, certain Local Governments, including the Government of Bombay, were authorised to levy tolls upon public roads and bridges in their respective territories.

This Act was repealed so far as regards the Presidency of Bombay by Bombay Act III of 1875, and other provisions were thereby made for the levy of tolls in that Presidency. By a very natural oversight these enactments were so worded as only to apply in terms to roads and bridges made and maintained out of Provincial funds, in consequence of which doubts arose as to the proper authority to levy such tolls in the case of roads and bridges in that Presidency which have been made or are maintained at Imperial expense. The present Bill is intended to remove such doubts.

So far as is at present known, the only roadway in respect of which the intervention of the Bill is required is the Lansdowne Bridge on the North-Western Railway, and the Bill has been drawn so as to affect that bridge only; but power is proposed to be taken for the Governor General in Council to extend the provisions of the Bill to any other bridge or roadway, if any should be hereafter found to be in a similar position.

WE, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to provide for the levy of a rate on private estates under the management of Government to meet the cost of superior supervision and management was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin, and have now the honour to submit this our Report, with the Bill as amended by us annexed thereto.

2. The alterations which we have made relate generally to matters of detail which have been suggested by the papers before us. The more important are modifications of the definitions of "gross income" and "private estates under Government management" and the addition of a clause repealing sections of two Acts of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, one of the sections applying to Bengal and Sylhet, and the other to Cachar and Goalpara only.
