REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

Horse Surra, Report on, Vol. I, by ALFRED LINGARD, M.B..M.S., Durham. Super royal quarto. R10 (R1-4.)

[Revised Advertisement.]

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Volume VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages. Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which will consist of four parts), Part I. contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year, but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Volume VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year, but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Volume VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume ; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year, but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Volume VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year, but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Volume VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hasting's Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year, but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Volume VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year, but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

Horse Surra, Report on, Vol. I, by ALFRED LINGARD, M.B.,M.S., Durham. Super royal quarto. R10 (R1-4.)

[Revised Advertisement.]

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Volume VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year, but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Volume VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year, but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Volume VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year, but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Volume VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year, but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

[Revised Advertisement.]

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Volume VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume ; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year, but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

[Revised Advertisement.]

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Volume VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year, but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Volume VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 680 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year, but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

[Revised Advertisement.]

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Volume VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year, but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Volume VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year, but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

NOTIFICATION.

Dated Bangalore, the 14th September, 1894.

No. 3207—379-92.—Whereas inconvenience is experienced, as the rules framed by the Resident in Mysore under the Excise Act, XXII of 1881, are scattered among detached Notifications, and whereas it is expedient to consolidate them and publish them in a connected form, the following rules framed by the Resident under the provisions of the said Act, are hereby published for general information and guidance in lieu of all existing rules relating to the subjects herein dealt with.

PART I.

THE SALE AND TRANSPORT OF COUNTRY SPIRITS AND GRANT OF "SEPARATE SHOPS" AND ISSUE OF LICENSES AND PASSES.

I. The period for which a "Separate shop" shall be granted, shall be the period from the 1st April in any year to the 31st March following. Provided that, with the approval of the Resident a "Separate shop" may be granted for a period extending to the 31st March of the second or third year succeeding the date of grant. The number of such separate shops shall be fixed by the Collector with the previous sanction of the Resident.

II. The exclusive privilege of vending in "Separate shop" shall be disposed of by sale by public auction. The sales shall be conducted by the Collector or other officer authorized by him in that behalf, and the results of such sales shall be reported to the Resident's office without delay.

III. The terms and conditions of sale and the grant and issue of licenses shall be as follows :—

1. The exclusive privilege of selling country spirits in separate shops in specified localities shall be put up to auction at upset prices, and knocked down to the approved highest bidder above those prices, subject to the formal confirmation by the Collector who will be at liberty to accept or reject the bid without assigning reasons for the same. Such formal confirmation will be tantamount to an acceptance of the bid. Should there be no bid above the upset price, the officer conducting the sale may lower the upset price at discretion. The condition and character of intending bidders may be enquired into; and the officer conducting the sale may at the time of sale refuse to receive the necessary deposit which entitles a bidder to bid, from persons regarding whom the result of such enquiries is not satisfactory. No former contractor who has been guilty of an infringement of the terms of his contract or of the Excise Laws or Rules shall be entitled to bid. The officer conducting the sale shall not be bound to accept the highest bid, should be consider it to be so extravagantly high as to afford apprehension of the lease breaking down.

2. Parties intending to bid must attend either in person or by duly authorized agents, and no person shall be permitted to bid either on his own behalf or on account of any one else until he has deposited R50 for each separate shop in specified locality. The deposits made by the unsuccessful bidders and not forfeited as hereinafter provided, will be returned at the close of the sale. The successful bidder must, on the exclusive privilege being knocked down to him, at once deposit a sum equal to one-twenty-fourth of the amount of his bid, and within seven days of the date of sale, he must deposit such further sum as, with the former deposit, will make up an aggregate sum equal to two months' rent; and if he fails to do so, the deposits already made shall be forfeited, and the exclusive privilege shall be immediately re-sold or otherwise disposed of as the Collector may direct.

3. Re-sales effected under para. 2 shall be at the risk of the defaulting bidder who shall forfeit all gain, and in the event of a loss by the re-sale, shall make good the deficiency between the total amount payable by him for the whole period under the terms of the original sale and the total amount payable by the successful bidder at the re-sale. In the latter case, the forfeited deposit shall be deducted from the loss arising from the re-sale; and the remainder, if any, shall be recovered from the bidder in the same manner as if it were an arrear of Land Revenue. Should, however, the forfeited deposit be greater than the loss by re-sale, the whole of such deposit shall be credited to Government.

4. The purchaser of the exclusive privilege of vend in each separate shop in specified locality shall sign an agreement binding himself to observe the conditions hereinafter set forth; and the agreement shall be executed within ten days of the expiry of the period of seven days above mentioned. If the purchaser fails or refuses to sign the agreement, all deposits already made shall be forfeited; and the exclusive privilege shall be re-sold at the risk and loss of the first purchaser as set forth in paras. 2 and 3, or be otherwise disposed of. In the case of the purchaser's death after the confirmation of the sale, it shall be binding on his heirs or assigns.

5. As soon as the agreement has been executed, the Collector shall issue a licensed in the appended Form A, to the purchaser of each separate shop, assigning to the purchaser the exclusive privilege referred to therein, subject to the following conditions :—

(1) The exclusive privilege shall extend only to the sale of country spirits ordinarily of 20° under-proof, and with the special permission and passes of the Collector or other officer authorized by him, to the sale of double distilled spirits, and "Milk Punch" in bottles duly corked and labelled in the Central Distillery.

(2) The amount for which the privilege has been purchased shall be payable into the Resident's Treasury on the prescribed printed chellans, in equal monthly instalments commencing from the first month of the contract. Each instalment shall be regarded as the rent for the month in respect of which it is payable. Each month's rent shall be payable on or before the 15th of the month following. The chellans shall be in triplicate in the appended Form B. The original shall remain in the Treasury, the duplicate shall be forwarded by the Treasury Officer to the Collector's office, and the triplicate retained with the renter. Printed chellans shall be furnished to the shop-keepers by the Collector.

(3) The deposit of two months' rent made by the licensee shall be taken in payment of the instalments due in the last two months of the period of the contract. Failing payment of each monthly instalment by the 15th of each month, the Collector shall recover the same under the rules in force for the recovery of Land Revenue, together with interest at 6 per cent. per annum. No remission or abatement of the rent shall, on any account whatever, be claimable by the licensee.

(4) (a) The licensee shall purchase the spirits, at the prescribed rate from the Manufacturer or obtain the same from a Bonded Depôt established as hereinafter provided.

(b) The above rate is in addition to Excise duty which shall be prepaid into the Resident's Treasury, or with the permission of the Collector, to the officer or contractor in charge of the Bonded Depôt, at the prescribed rates, before the removal of the spirits from the Distillery or from the Bonded Depôt established as aforesaid.

(c) The licensee shall sell the spirits to the public at the rate of Rs. 5-5-0 per gallon of 20° under-proof or such other rate as may be fixed by the Resident from time to time, and proportionately for higher or lower strengths.

(5) The licensee who obtains his supplies from the Distillery shall pay the above duty into the Resident's Treasury and obtain a receipt in the appended Form C, which shall be in triplicate, the original to be retained in the Treasury, the duplicate to be delivered to the officer in charge of the Distillery, and the triplicate to be retained with the licensee. On production of such receipt and an indent for the supply of the liquor covered by the receipt, and on payment of the price of such liquor to the Manufacturer or his agent at the prescribed rate, obtaining a receipt from him therefor, the Assistant Supervisor or other officer in charge of the Distillery shall issue the quantity of liquor covered by the amount of duty shown in the Treasury officer's receipt, and he shall forward the Treasury receipt to the Collector's office under the endorsement of the Assistant Supervisor or other officer aforesaid as to the date and hour when the liquor was issued. The Assistant Supervisor or other officer aforesaid shall then issue a Rahadari in duplicate in the form hereinafter provided for the transport of liquor from the Distillery.

(6) The licensee who gets his supplies from the Bonded Depôt shall pay both the price and duty at the prescribed rates into the Resident's Treasury or to the officer or contractor or agent in charge of the Bonded Depôt if such officer or contractor or agent has been duly authorized to recover them and obtain a receipt in the appended Form D, which shall be in triplicate, the original to be forwarded to the Collector's office, the duplicate to be delivered to the official or contractor in charge of the Bonded Depôt, and the triplicate to be retained with the licensee. On production of such receipt and an indent, the officer or the Government contractor or his agent in charge of the Bonded Depôt shall issue the quantity of liquor covered by the amount of price and duty shown in the receipt which shall be dealt with as laid down in the last preceding clause. The liquor shall be covered by a pass in duplicate as hereinafter provided.

(7) (a) Government may establish a depôt in the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, and arrange through a Government contractor or agent to supply such Depôt with the liquor required for the use of the separate shopkeepers in specified localities. The Depôt shall be called a "Bonded Depôt." The Collector shall have the power to alter the location of the Bonded Depôt, should such a step not involve additional expenditure in carriage or storage.

(b) The establishment at the Bonded Depôt shall be under the orders of the Government and of the Government contractor or agent where one has been appointed for the working of the Bonded Depôt.

The license to be issued to the liquor distributing contractor's agent in charge of the Bonded Depôt shall be in the appended Form E, and the Bond to be executed by the contractor shall be in the appended Form F.

(8) The spirits shall be sold as issued from the Distillery or Bonded Depôt, and shall not be adulterated or diluted in any manner in shops.

(9) The licensee shall keep true accounts of the quantity and strength of the spirits purchased by him and issued.

(11) The Collector may, whenever he thinks fit, direct any shops to be closed, or permit transfers of shops from one place to another.

(12) The licensee shall be bound by the provisions of the Excise Laws and Rules in force or by any additional rules which may from time to time be prescribed under the Excise Laws. The licensee shall use such measures as may from time to time be prescribed by Government. The present measure is fixed at 51 drams per Imperial Gallon. He shall also provide himself with printed forms of account and permit or passes for transport of spirits, which forms shall be purchased from the Head Supervisor.

6. In case of any breach of the aforesaid conditions or of the license either by the licensee, or with his connivance or privity by any person in his employment, or in the event of the licensee neglecting to open his shops or to carry on the business with due care and attention, it shall be competent to the Collector to impose upon the licensee of each separate shop a fine not exceeding Rs. 10, for every such breach, or at the option of the Collector to declare the money deposited with him forfeited and to cancel the license and re-sell the exclusive privilege at the risk of the licensee, or to place the separate shop under the management of Government. When a lease is cancelled, the rent for the whole period of the lease shall become due at once, and all loss thereby caused to Government shall be made good by the licensee in the manner specified for re-sales under para. 3 above. All the amounts of such penalties and loss shall be recovered in the same manner as if they were the arrears of Land Revenue.

7. The imposition of a fine or the forfeiture of deposit or the cancellation of the license under the last preceding condition shall not be held to prevent the prosecution of the licensee or his agents or employees for any offence punishable under the Excise Laws for the time being in force.

IV. The cask conveying spirit from the Distillery shall bear the name of the Distillery, the registered mark of the licensee and the quantity, nature and the strength of the spirits contained in the cask legibly painted, branded or cut on one end of such cask.

4. The consignment and the pass shall first be taken to the 2nd Magistrate or to such other official as the 2nd Magistrate may depute for this purpose.
5. The contents of the pass shall be compared with the duplicate received by the 2nd Magistrate as well as with the details painted on the casks, and the seals on the casks examined. Discrepancies shall be reported to the Collector and to the officer in charge of the Distillery for necessary action.
6. The date and hour of receipt shall then be recorded on the back of the pass under the signature and designation of the 2nd Magistrate or other official appointed by him for this purpose, and the consignment then passed on to the Depôt to be there booked.
7. The pass shall at once be sent back by the officer or contractor's agent in charge of the Depôt to the Government official appointed by the 2nd Magistrate who shall see that such officer or agent has noted underneath his or the 2nd Magistrate's endorsement, "contents received and booked," with the date and hour of receipt at the Depôt, and "the balance of stock of liquor on hand when this consignment arrived," and if it has been verified by the Government officer who passed the consignment.
8. Passes dated and issued in one month, the consignments under which do not arrive before the 1st of the following month, shall be dealt with as above, and a supplemental list sent with them.

9. The 2nd Magistrate shall keep a register in the appended Form J, in which the duplicates of passes sent to him under Rule 3, shall be entered. The particulars should be entered in this register in abstract as soon as they are received. The duplicate passes should be crossed × at the time the original is cancelled under Rule 8, and the corresponding entry in the register ticked off. For this purpose the register of passes should be scrutinized by the 2nd Magistrate every week.

10. On receipt of the cancelled passes in the Collector's office, they shall be duly compared and verified with the duplicate cheques received under the above Rule 2, and with the accounts sent by the Assistant Supervisor or other officer in charge of the Distillery, and with the accounts received from the Bonded Depôt and then the list and the file of cancelled passes sent on to the Resident's office with remarks if any.

11. As the passes are received at the Resident's office, they will be compared with the detailed accounts received from the Special Assistant Commissioner, and will be returned after being checked to the Collector, who will retain them as vouchers for six months after each contract has been closed, when they may be destroyed under the supervision of some responsible officer.

12. When consignments are received without a pass, the liquor shall be attached, and the matter at once brought to the notice of the 2nd Magistrate. If he is satisfied that no fraud exists, he may release the liquor on the security of the Excise officer or contractor or agent in charge of the Bonded Depôt, intimating particulars to the Collector who will, after the necessary enquiry, direct the issue of a special pass to cover the consignment. This special pass shall be in the same form and issued in the same manner as the ordinary passes, but on paper of a different colour, in the appended Form K. It shall be issued by the Senior officer in charge of the Distillery, who will sign the same and keep a register and the counterfoils.

13. If the contents in gallons or the number as given in the original pass and its duplicate differ from those noted on the cask, the liquor shall be sent on to the Depôt with the precautions which are required to be taken under Rule 12, to be there examined either by the 2nd Magistrate himself or by any other officer appointed by him, and a report of such examination shall be forwarded by the 2nd Magistrate to the Collector.

14. It is the duty of such of the Police officers as are invested with the powers of Excise officers under the Resident's Notification No. 11, dated the 21st August 1885, to see that liquors when taken are covered by a Government pass. If they are not so covered they should hand over the parties in possession of such liquors to the nearest Police Station for disposal according to law.

15. Any cartman or other person entrusted with the consignment, omitting or neglecting to exercise due care and attention in regard to the consignment, or failing to deliver it within the limited time without sufficient excuse, shall be punishable under the provisions of the Excise Act.

16. On the Manufacturer delivering the cheques referred to in the above Rule 2, the officer in charge of the Resident's Treasury, shall pay him the money therein mentioned as an advance which shall be adjusted as explained in the following rule.

17. Of the amounts paid by the licensees into the Treasury as per Receipt D, under condition (6) of para. 5 of Rule III, the price of liquor shall be credited to the head "Remittance Deposits" for adjustment of the advances made to the Manufacturer under the last preceding rule, the duty alone being credited at once to the appropriate budget head "Excise Revenue." If the officer or contractor or agent in charge of the Bonded Depôt is authorized by the Collector, with the previous sanction of the Resident, to recover from the licensed shopkeepers the price and duty at the Depôt, such price and duty in the case of the officer, and the duty in the case of the contractor or agent, shall be remitted to the Resident's Treasury at such times and in such manner as may from time to time be prescribed by the Collector subject to the approval of the Resident.

VI. The Bonded Depôt shall be open from 6 A.M. to 9 P.M.

I, , Collector of the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore under the provisions of the Excise Act, XXII of 1881, hereby license you, appointed to the charge of the Bonded Depôt at the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore by Mr. who has been granted the right of conveying Country Spirits under bond from the Central Distillery to the Bonded Depôt in the said Station for the year 189 -9 , subject to the following conditions and stipulations to be observed by you, the said :—

CONDITIONS.

1. You shall place this license in a conspicuous place in your depôt.

2. You shall not sell any spirit other than country spirit which you shall purchase from the Government contractor, nor shall you mix, or knowingly permit any other person to mix in the country spirits under your charge, any ingredient pernicious to health, or other noxious material intended or supposed to increase the power of the spirit or to add to its intoxicating quality.

3. You shall issue spirits at the strength of 20° below London proof by Syke's hydrometer only to licensed independent shop-keepers attached to the Depôt, in the Civil and Military Station on production of Treasury Receipt, in proof of the payment of duty and price of liquor or on pre-payment to you, as the case may be at the Depôt, of the duty and price of liquor.

4. You shall issue permits in the prescribed form for the transit of spirits from your Depôt to the shops dependent thereon,

5. You shall not open your Depôt before sunrise.

6. You shall not keep your Depôt open after 9 P.M; nor shall you allow any one to remain in your Depôt during night after that hour.

7. You shall not receive any grain, jewels, goods, wearing apparel or other article in barter or in pawn for spirits; but, on the offer of any such, shall give information to the nearest Magistrate or Police officer.

8. You shall not allow any quantity of spirits to be removed by any individual from your Depôt on any pretence whatever, without a valid permit.

9. You shall keep an account showing the quantity and strength of the spirits received in your Depôt, the quantity and strength of the spirits issued, and the quantity and strength of the spirits remaining unissued each day. Such accounts shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the Collector, and shall be produced for the inspection of the Collector or of any officer appointed by him for the purpose of inspecting them, or of an Excise officer, whenever required. The issue of liquor of higher or lower strengths than 20° under-proof shall be accounted for separately in the prescribed form.

10. You shall be bound to furnish such returns and information as may, from time to time, be required by the Collector.

11. You shall not keep in your Depôt any spirits except those supplied by the Government Distillers, neither shall you keep in your Depôt spirits of any other strength than 20° under-proof without special permission. The spirits kept in your Depôt shall be unadulterated and undiluted. No spirit shall be removed from the Distillery without a pass, the conditions of which shall not be infringed or permitted to be infringed under any circumstances.

12. You shall not keep spirits at any other place than that specified in this license.

13. You shall use such measures as may, from time to time, be prescribed by Government.

15. You shall always have in store a sufficient supply of arrack to meet the average demand of vendors, and failure to supply at once the average quantity required on application shall of itself be proof that the supply in the store is insufficient. Such average shall be struck on the average daily expenditure of the previous quarter. Due allowance shall be made for Sundays, authorized holidays or native feasts. One full day's stock in addition to the average quantity shall always be maintained in the Bonded Depôt over and above the average needed for daily expenditure and such additional stock shall not be indented on.

17. The Bonded Depôt shall not be moved from the first locality named to any other place without the sanction of the Collector duly and regularly obtained.

18. You shall pay annually Rs. 24 as registration fee to the Civil and Military Station Municipality.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Volume VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year, but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.
