No. 1332.

Ootacamund 9th August 1894.

From

REV. S. MORLEY, M.A.,

BISHOP'S CHAPLAIN,

To

THE HONORABLE THE CHIEF SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT,

Stone House

Ootacamund

SIR,

With reference to Government Order 31st July 1894, No 59, paragraph 2, I have the honor, by desire of the Right Reverend the Bishop, to state that there are still two Chaplaincies without any resident European Clergyman at all, viz. Bellare with the following outstations to be visited.

Arcoi ————— } Once a month, Sunday
Pahala ————— } and week day alternately
Renigunta ————— }

Chittoor ————— Once a month

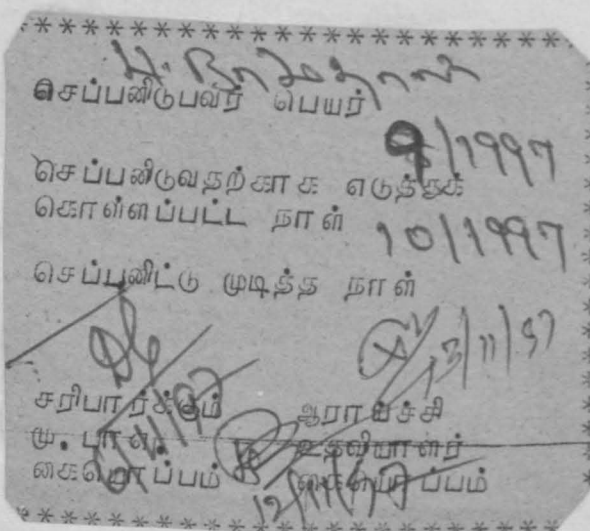

Palmaner ————— " " year

Madanapalle ————— " " quarter and Coimbatore with the following

Rajahmundry } Twice a month.
Dowlaiswaram }

2. Also Aurangabad, with the outstation of Jalna to be visited eight times a year, is entitled to a Chaplain but has none. A converted and ordained Parsee, a Missionary of the Church

Missionary Society, kindly conducts the English service once on a Sunday when he is in Aurangabad. But the Europeans there have felt that they have been much neglected in having been so often, and sometimes for a long period, left without a Chaplain.

3. With regard to Cocanada, it might at first sight seem reasonable to place it and its outstations under a neighbouring Chaplain, as indeed is the case now. But the nearest Chaplain is the Chaplain of Vizagapatam; and his station and outstations are fully sufficient to occupy all his time and powers. His outstations are Waltair _____ visited Four times in the month.

Vizianagram _____ " Once in Six weeks.

Bimlipatan _____ " " a month.

Chicacole and Kinnedi } _____ " in three months, the later only occasionally;

besides that a new population has grown up recently at the Railway station, about two miles from Waltair, requiring the Chaplain's services.

4. In His Lordships judgment it would be reasonable to supply at least the two stations of Vellore and Cocanada with Chaplains before assigning a second to Vepery. If His Excellency the Governor agrees with the Bishop in this, the first opportunity of providing a second Chaplain for Vepery will be when the number of Chaplains available for duty is increased by three. Now that the whole number of Madras Chaplains is so much reduced, and with His past experience, His Lordship does not venture to expect that he will be able to recommend a second Chaplain for Vepery at an early date. At present he is expecting the following changes this year in the number of available Chaplains.

(a) The Reverend W. H. Hobart will either return by the 23rd September, or retire on that date.

(b) The Reverend D^r Durham is expected to return to duty in the latter part of October.

(c) The Reverend E. J. Etty about the same time.

5. If M^{rs} Hobart returns, there will be the three additional Chaplains, required in order that a second may be assigned to Vepery (if indeed His Excellency judges it more advisable to remove M^{rs} Foley and place a second Chaplain at Vepery than to appoint one to Aurangabad).

If M^{rs} Hobart retires which his letters have led the Bishop to think more probable, a few months at any rate must elapse before a successor will arrive in his place.

6. In any case the Bishop is expecting a fresh vacancy soon after the return of the Reverends Etty and Durham: as the Reverend A. Bird has not had good health, and hopes he may be permitted to have furlough from the middle of November. If these expectations are realized,

20/68

There will either be no Chaplain at all to spare for Vepery, or only for a very short time indeed.

7. There will be some changes in February, March and April of next year: but that is also a time at which some Chaplains wish for furlough or privilege leave to which they are fairly entitled; so that no reliable calculation can now be made of the state of the Department next year.

8. I am also to mention that it seldom happens that two Chaplains are available for employment at Vepery, who can work happily together.

9. As the present arrangement seems to the Bishop to be the best under the circumstances, and he has felt thankful that Mr. Foley is both able and willing to contribute his valuable services towards meeting the spiritual needs of Vepery, he ventures to hope that the explanation now given may satisfy His Excellency that the arrangement recommended is one in which the wants of the Diocese are more satisfactorily supplied than if two Chaplains were now appointed to Vepery.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

J. Hurley,
Bishop's Chaplain.

Order 84: Sept. 1894, no 68.

Recorded.

2. It is observed from the quarterly Civil list corrected up to the 1st July last that on that date, out of a total establishment of 36 Chaplains, 9 were on furlough or special leave and 3 on privilege leave. That is to say that one third of the establishment ^{who} were absent. This proportion is excessive and the Rt. Revd: the Bishop will be requested to restrict the grant of leave within more reasonable limits from orders.

SIR,

With reference to my letter of the 6th instant, No. 1331, I am desired by the Right Reverend the Bishop to say that it did not occur to him that Mr. Gassels, who is on privilege leave, will return to duty by the 27th September. This will set another Chaplain free.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

S. Morley,

Bishop's Chaplain.

cor 248 or 249?

When the Bishop says about approving a second chaplain to help in out-parching, this leads to an increase of the Bishop's services more than to have an other chaplain on call.
The proportion of chaplains in leave is excessive, but upon enquiries have been made about the Bishop's power to grant Privilege Leave.

28/8/94

I think that it should be pointed out to the Bishop that the grant of leave should be restricted within more reasonable limits

Yes 28/8/94

On the first July '94
the strength of the Ecc.
Est^t was 36. Of these 9 were on leave out of India and three on privilege leave, that is 12 absentees out of 36 or $\frac{1}{3}$ of the Est^t!

The duties of no Est^t
can be satisfactorily performed with $\frac{2}{3}$ of its officers on duty.

Under article 920
C.S.R. the Bishop decides whether the public exigencies permit of the grant of privilege
leave to chaplains.
and yet when there are 25% (9) of the Est^t out of India he grants
a further $8\frac{1}{2}\%$ p.l.

The consequence is that important stations are left without chaplains and the work at others has to be entrusted to non-chaplains

at an extra cost to the State of Rs. 100 each per mensur.

No Est^{ce} in India has such favorable leave rules as the Ecd: and no Est^{ce} has so continuously so large a percentage absent on leave.
It is well known that furlough vacancies are ^{applied for by and} reserved for Chaplains
many months before they occur.
