No. 6 Madras, 25 Sep. 1895

My Lord

With reference to the Order of the Madras Government no. 43 dated 6th July 1895 with regard to my having over-stayed my leave, I have the honour to ask your Lordship to be so good as to bring the matter again to the notice of Government for their favourable consideration.

I am encouraged to ask this by the wording of the Order in question, from which I gather that Government took a favourable view of my application for an extension of furlough by one day, & would have granted it, had there been any rule under which they could have done so.

I am informed however that Government have the power under some circumstances of extending the subsidiary leave of an officer prior to his departure on furlough, & I learn that this was actually done in the case of Mr Cotton of the Civil Service. He was counted as being on duty till 17th Nov. 1894, the date on which he left his head-quarters, having ceased to do duty from illness some weeks before. He appeared before a Medical Board on Nov. 23rd, & sailed on Dec. 8th, being counted as on subsidiary leave from Nov. 17th to Dec. 7th inclusive, a period of three weeks. I was held to have handed over charge of the Chaplaincy of Addiscombe on the afternoon of Feb. 6th 1894, but, owing to the state of my health,

I was unable to leave Cuddalore till March 5th, or to appear before a Medical Board till March 10th, & I left India on March 18th by the first boat that was available after the granting of my leave, while my furlough was counted as having commenced on Feb. 17th.

Under these circumstances I pray your Lordship to be so good as to ask Government to grant me such an extension of my subsidiary leave as to bring the date of the commencement of my furlough within twelve months of Feb. 18th 1895, the date of my landing on my return.

I have the honor to be, my Lord,
your Lordship's most obedient servant.

To

THE HONORABLE THE CHIEF SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT,

Potacamund.

SIR,

I have the honor, by desire of the Right Reverend the Bishop, to forward the enclosed letter from the Reverend A. A. Sharp, now Joint Chaplain of Tepary, with reference to Government Order 6th July 1895, No. 43.

Mr. Sharp has ascertained from the Acting Accountant General, that in a case exactly similar to his own, which is detailed in his letter, the subsidiary leave of an officer in the Civil Service, prior to his departure on furlough, was extended; and he therefore asks, that the same privilege may be granted to himself, so that he may recover the six days' pay and service, which he lost through a pure misfortune, and by no fault of his own.

The Bishop desires me to express the hope, that under the circumstances this case may be reconsidered by the Government.

For convenience of reference all the forms

Papers on this subject are herewith forwarded.

SUBJECT.

Stating that the case of the Revd A.A. Sharp appears similar to that of Mr J. J
Cotton

FOR ORDERS.

①
Mr Sharp's treatment
has been most extraordinary liberal already - I really think it is unreasonable
in asking for more than he has got.

19/11/95 ②

I don't agree with the account
General that Mr Sharp's case
is "similar" to that of Mr Cotton
Mr Cotton was not relieved. Mr
Sharp was, when Mr Sharrock
took his duty on the 6th Feb & his subsidiary leave must be held to have commenced on the 7th.

③ 20/11/95

I must say that considering the very unusual circumstances of this case - &
the fact that Mr Sharp lost this one day (wh. means a large sum for him) through no fault of his own - I would stretch the point in his favour. These cases sh^d. be decided on their merits - but I won't press it - in the face of my hon. colleagues' objections.

The Revd. A.A. Sharp, who was in charge of the Chaplaincy of Cuddalore, fell ill and was unable to do any work from the end of Octr. 1893. He was unable to leave Cuddalore till the 5th of March,
and appeared before a medical board on the 10th idem, and left India on the 18th idem. In G.O.R. No. 46 Eccles., d./ 11th April 1894, it was decided that he should be considered to have been in charge of the Cuddalore Chaplaincy until the afternoon of the 6th Feby. 1894, on which date the Revd. J.A. Sharrock took over charge, and under art. 354 (b) of the C.
S.R. it was directed that his furlough
should be held to have commenced in India at the end of the subsidiary leave to which he would have been otherwise entitled. His subsidiary leave expired on the 16th Feb. 1894. He landed at Bombay, on returned from furlough, on the 18th Feby.
1895, and as he over-stayed his furlough
by one day, the A.G. ruled that he was not entitled to any allowance until he joined his appointment.

He applied last June for an extension of his furlough by one day; but as the A.G. pointed out that such extension could only be granted on the production of a medical certificate, it was refused in G.O.No.43 Eccles.,d./ 6th July 1895.

He has now heard of Mr.Cotton's case and asks that his subsidiary leave prior to his departure on furlough may be extended. The A.G. reports that the Revd.A.A.Sharp's case appears to be similar to that of Mr.Cotton. If it is considered that the case is one for extension of subsidiary leave, it will suffice ~~to~~ apparently to make the extension run until the 18th Feb.1894.

I think that the difference between his case & Mr. Cotton's should be pointed out to the A.G., & that if the A.G. still thinks the subsidiary leave can be extended, then may be allowed.

The difference between the two cases is that Mr. Cotton was not relieved, & Mr. Sharp was - on 5.2.94. Mr. Cotton's if subsidiary leave was ex-9/12/95 to 21 days only, whereas Mr. Sharp's is unlimited and hence to be extended to 29 days. This is more than the maximum allowed.

Yes, I misunderstood. I think the subsidiary leave may be extended to 18.2.94

With reference to the Hon.Mr.Grose's remark as regards the difference between the cases of Mr. Cotton and the Rev. A.A.Sharp, attention is solicited to para 6 of letter No.418 Public, d./ 27th May 1895, from which it will be seen that Mr. Cotton was treated as on duty up to the 16th November 1894, the date on which he left his district, and that his subsidiary leave was extended up to the 8th December ~~following~~, the date upon which he embarked.

It is respectfully submitted that all that the Revd. A. A.
