Sir

In September last the Secretary of State for India was pleased to appoint the Rev. J.C. Holesworth A.C.S chaplain of Sukkur in this diocese, to be a probationary chaplain in the Madras Establishment. At the time of his appointment he had not completed a year's service under the Society, his service dating from October 25, 1894 and terminating September 12, 1895. The Society brings its clergy out at considerable expense, & the frequent changes among its staff, with the considerable vacancies caused by retirement, do much to lessen ^{its} efficiency and popularity.

That in its laudable effort to supplement the provision of chaplains by government, it should be periodically fined, seems hard upon an agency maintained by voluntary contributions. On the other hand it does not seem reasonable that by appointing as a chaplain one who only a few months before has been brought out at the expense of a voluntary Society, the government should escape the cost of passage in his account.

2. I have therefore the honour to solicit that the Mt. Hon. the Secretary of State for India may be moved to sanction the payment to the Additional Clergy Society of a sum equivalent to the cost of a passage for a Government Chaplain, which is less than the sum granted by the Society, which allows for passage & outfit allowance the sum of £70.

3. I may add that this request is in conformity with precedent, a full refund of passage having been regularly granted to the Calcutta Additional Clergy Society in cases where the clergyman had served the Society for less than one year.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
your most obedient servant

Henry J. Lafore

Clergy Society, who has recently been appointed on the Madras Establishment.

2. A copy of the orders of the Government of India bearing on the point was forwarded to the Madras Government with the letter from this office No 2057 of the 24th of December 1886.
