Registrar of the High Court of Judicature,

Madras.

Sir,

In 1895 a typewriting machine - Ideal Hammond - was purchased by this Court from the balance of the old Copyist fund, with the permission of the High Court (vide Proceedings No. 3223, dated 12th November 1895). This machine had to be chosen, as it compared favourably with most of the standard machines then in use, and as the only person then available for using the machine, viz the shorthand-writer knew more of this machine than of others. The Ideal Hammond with the "Impression strip" is not so well adapted for manifolding (a very important thing in a big District Court like Madura where several copies have to be made of one and the same Proceedings and judgment) as Remington No. 7 or 8 with its --- "Platen". The Remington No. 8 recently brought out is admirably adapted for Court purposes, seeing that, in addition to being very useful for manifolding, it freely admits a -- brief size paper. My Court shorthand-writer passed the Intermediate Examination in type-writing in 1896 and has now acquired a very ^{fair} knowledge of 5 or 6 kinds of standard machines. He may, therefore, be safely entrusted with any standard -- type-writing machine commonly in use. G.O.No.463, Financial, dated 29th March 1899 recommends also the use of Remington.

I have the honour to request, therefore, that you will be pleased to arrange with the Superintendent, Stationery Office, for the Ideal Hammond Type-writer which is now in my Court being exchanged for Remington No. 8. The machine I now have may be said almost to be new, as it has been -- very carefully used by the typist.

HONOURABLE SIR,

I am directed to forward for the orders of His Excellency the Governor in Council, a copy of ~~of~~ letter, No. 2857, dated 17th November 1899, from the Ag. District Judge of Madura, requesting that arrangements may be made with the Superintendent of Stationery to have the "Ideal -- Hammond" Type-writing machine of his Court exchanged for a "Remington" No. 8. If the Ag. District Judge's request is complied with I am to suggest that the "Ideal Hammond" -- machine now in use in the Madura District Court may perhaps be utilized in some office where less manifold work is required than in a large District Court.

NOTE FOR THE CHIEF ASSISTANT

With reference to the C.A.'s query on the draft order below, it is submitted that the Remington No. 8, the latest pattern, otherwise known as the Brief size machine, is an improvement of No. 7 in use in our office. The main features of the two machines remain the same, the only difference being that the paper cylinder of No. 8 machine is double the
