NOTES CONNECTED WITH G.O., No. 445, EDUCATIONAL,
DATED 13TH JULY 1907.

[SUBJECT.—Alteration in the Public Service Notification.]

Previous paper.

G.O., No. 301, Educational, dated 18th May 1907.

From the Commissioner for Government Examinations, dated 1st June 1907,
No. 104/1-D.

In G.O., No. 301, Educational, dated 18th May 1907, the Government allowed, in modification of note (1) to the Public Service Notification, the promotion of persons who had passed the Middle School examination in the first-class and had been confirmed in any post in the superior service carrying a pay of Rs. 15 or more subsequent to the 30th June 1894, provided that otherwise they were deemed fit for such further promotion; and the Commissioner for Government Examinations was requested to submit a draft of the necessary alteration to be made in the Public Service Notification.

2. The Commissioner for Government Examinations now submits for approval and publication in the Fort St. George Gazette a draft notification embodying the alteration to be made in note (1) to the Public Service Notification.

3. The notification may be approved and published in the Gazette.

4. A draft is placed below for approval.

Issue.

H. D. TAYLOR—13-6-07.

1. Please put up the originals of G.O., No. 301, dated 18th May 1907. Where does the question of having passed the Middle School examination in the first-class come in with reference to the general question.

2. Was a pass in the first-class an essential to Government employment prior to 1st July 1894? In the specific case mentioned by the Board, the man had passed in the first-class, but the question was discussed on broader lines and not limited, I think, to first-class middle school men, if second-class men were eligible for employment. I want to see the rules in force on 30th June 1894.

G.O., No. 301 of 1907 seems unnecessarily to restrict the lines on which the discussion was based. Did the Honourable Member approve the draft?

H. D. TAYLOR—13-6-07.

Paragraph 1 of the Secretary's note.—The original of G.O., No. 301, Educational, dated 18th May 1907, is submitted. The draft was approved by the Honourable Member. Please see page 16 of the Government Order. It is submitted that the question raised by the Collector of South Canara and considered by Government in the above Government order was as to the further promotion of men who had passed the Middle School examination in the first-class and who were confirmed in their posts under note (1) to the Public Service notification of 1894. Please see the Collector's letter on page 2, G.O., No. 301, Educational, dated 18th May 1907.

2. Paragraph 2 of the Secretary's note.—A pass in the first-class of the Middle School examination was essential for entrance to Government service prior to 1st July 1894. Persons who had passed the Middle School examination in other classes than the first were not eligible for appointment to posts on Rs. 15 and upwards in the superior service.

3. The following is a brief account of the rules regulating admission into the public service from 1886 to 1894:—

(1) In G.O., No. 482, Educational, dated 28th July 1886, the Government declared that after 1st July 1887 no person would be appointed to any post carrying a salary of Rs. 15 a month or upwards unless he had passed the Middle School examination in the first-class or the Matriculation examination with the handwriting test, and stated that unpassed officers then in service would not be affected by the order so far as the appointments they were then holding were concerned; but that they would be ineligible for promotion to posts carrying a salary of Rs. 15 per mensem until they had qualified by the tests.

(2) In July 1889 the Government instituted the Upper Secondary examination—vide G.O., No. 351, Educational, dated 20th June 1889, and in the first Public Service notification which was appended to that Government Order, they laid down that on and after 1st April 1891, in order to be admitted to an appointment classed as "superior" of the value of Rs. 15 and upwards, the candidates must have passed the Upper Secondary examination or certain specified higher examinations.

(3) The above notification was recast in 1891—vide G.O., 485, Educational, dated 25th June 1891—and in note 2 to article 1 of that notification it was provided that—

(a) persons who had passed the Matriculation examination before the 31st December 1890 and also the handwriting test;

(b) persons who had passed before that date the Middle School examination in the first-class; and

(c) candidates who had passed the general test.

might be appointed to posts carrying a salary of Rs. 15 and upwards in the superior service of Government till the 31st December 1883; after which date, it was declared that the concession should be considered as withdrawn.

(4) Subsequently, it was notified on the 19th September 1893 that the changes notified in the above notification to come into effect from the end of 1893 should not be given effect to on the 1st January 1894, as the notification was under revision, and that pending further orders recruitment for the public service should continue to be made under the rules in force in 1893—vide G.O., No. 191, Educational, dated 19th December 1893. Also notification No. 88 on page 1461 of Part I of the Fort St. George Gazette, dated 19th December 1893.

(5) The revised notification was published in May 1894—vide the notification in G.O., No. 317, Educational, dated 9th May 1894, and came into force on the 1st July 1894. This notification excluded first-class middle school men and candidates who had passed the general test from eligibility for entrance to Government service.

4. The rules in force in 1893 and up to the 30th June 1894 will be found on pages 141 to 143 of Part I of the Fort St. George Gazette, dated 7th February 1893.

5. Many of the old Government orders had first to be obtained from Madras; and subsequently no copy of the Public Service Notification in force on the 30th June 1894 being forthcoming, the Fort St. George Gazette of 1893 containing that notification had also to be obtained from Madras.
