Subscribed to the Director of Public Instruction, Madras.

The petitioner is the son of K. Narasimharao Nair, Deceased, Dawleswaram.
The case is very similar to that of P. Rama-ya Prasad whose petition was submitted with my endorsement No. $\frac{292}{9.7.07}$

I make no doubt that the statements of the petitioner are generally correct and while the student certainly acted very foolish by leaving the college with the result there being no real danger and in no immediately afterwards making submission, I am satisfied that no more serious offence can be laid to his charge.

The Director of Public Instruction

Through
The Principal
Govt. College
Rajahmundry.

The humble memorial of K. Janarthana an ex-student of the Rajahmundry College most respectfully sheweth:-

- (1) that the memorialist is one of the students of the College that are debarred by the Government from appearing for any branch of the BA degree examination for a period of two years,
- (2) that he studied in the Madras Christian College for a period of seven years - three years in the High-school & four years in the College department.
- (3) that he conducted himself to the entire satisfaction of his teachers and professors all those seven years.
- (4) that Mr. Skinner, the then Principal of the Christian College knows him personally and can give a good account of him
- (5) that he never had the misfortune to fail in any of his College or university examinations
- (6) that having appeared for all the three branches of the BA degree examination last year, he passed in his Vernacular & Zoology branches and failed in English which therefore is the first time he tastes a failure

(7) that having been circumstanced to come here, he joined the Rajahmundry College to study for the English branch

(8) that he lives at Dowlaiswaram, a place four miles to the south of Rajahmundry where he used to return on cycle as soon as his college hours were over

(9) that having been new to the place, and living in a different village, he has but very little chance of having anything to do with any conspiracies that might have been formed in the town

(10) that he knows the Balabharathi Samithi only in name having only heard of its existence

(11) that he has absolutely no connection with the above samithi as he was never a member there nor did he attend any of its meetings

(12) that he has but very few friends among the students being quite a stranger to them.

(13) that whatever meetings and conspiracies that the students might have formed, your memorialist knows absolutely nothing about them, not having associated with the students

(14) that he knew very little of what took place outside the College premises as he came to the College from his village on cycle just in time and returned thither immediately after his college hours were over

(15) that he had to go away home on the day of the strike intimidated by the mob & apprehending personal danger

(16) that he did not return to the college nor to the town on any of the succeeding days as he heard that mobs of students are preventing any of the seceded students from getting into the College, posting themselves outside the College

(17) that under the above circumstances your memorialist, being unacquainted with any of the constituents of the mob could not

dare approach

(18) and that your memorialist being innocent is worthy of excuse and pardon, which he believes you would bestow on him after a favourable consideration of the facts laid before you

I beg to remain Sir

Your most obedient student

K. Janarthana Rao.

NOTE FILE.

C. No 1574 of 5/8/07. From the D.P.S.

Probably No 24 on page 14 of 355. May 27
1807

The D.P.S. forwards an application from one K. Jaganmohan Rao, a student of Rajahmundry praying that the order in his case passed under PB 255 of 18th June 07 may be rescinded.

XV

The D.P.S. has moved the Syndicate to debar him from appearing for the B.A. degree 2. Mr Hunter considers the case to be similar to that of P. Ramayya Pantulu, in whose case the order was withdrawn under

Z. PB 491 of 18th Aug 07. (The current notes in that case are being printed at Madras). The original petition of P. Ramayya Pantulu is put up ~~attached~~ for reference.

May R.

Mr Hunter forwarded P. Ramayya's application on 9th July. The present application was forwarded on 13th July. The application to the Principal is not dated in either case.

Both candidates had been cardinals and were reading in English only. The plea in each case is fear of violence - and immediate return home.

Mr Hunter's pet subject

He does not however remark, as did Ramayya Pantulu, that he never wore the medal or attended B.P. Dal's lectures but says that it was his custom to return home to his father's house directly his work at the College was over.

Now statement in his capable of vengeance.

1/2

3. The circumstances of the two students do not appear to be very dissimilar. The applicant at least seems to have returned home every night, but he might have made his apology sooner.

Wm. Cue

I am unable to accept the excuse.

G. F. 7/8

There is a very material difference I think between this case & that of Ramayya Punthar. The latter was a stranger newly arrived (less than a month) joined while this boy was in his own home. I can not find anything peculiar in the case of this petitioner. He is not specially vouched for here. I hope that his claims will not be accepted.
