Letter—from the Hon'ble Mr. T. T. LOGAN, B.A., Acting Director of Public Instruction.

To—the Secretary to Government, Educational Department.

Dated—Madras, the 9th August 1907.

No.—Ref. on C. No. 3892

I have the honour to enclose five copies of the Scheme of Studies for Elementary schools for boys published in accordance with the provisions of rule 20 of the Madras Educational Rules, and to request that you will be so good as to obtain the sanction of Government to the issue of the copies free of charge to the Supervisors of Primary schools. These officers are in close touch with elementary schemes and it will be a part of their duties to explain the scheme to managers and teachers, and to aid them in the preparation of curricula suitable to the needs of the schools, and it is very necessary that each of the Supervisors should have a copy of the scheme. There will, however, be a great delay if the copies have to be supplied to these officers by the Presidents concerned in the usual way. The small cost of the production of the book may also be taken into consideration in support of my request, the price of each copy being only one anna.

Letter—from the Hon'ble Mr. A. G. BOURNE, D.Sc., F.R.S., Director of Public Instruction.

To—the Secretary to Government, Educational Department.

Dated—Madras, the 16th October 1907.

No.—Ref. on Cur. No. 3892.

In continuation of this office letter Ref. on Cur. No. 3892, dated 9th August 1907, submitting copies of the Scheme of Studies for Elementary schools published in accordance with the provisions of rule 20 of the Madras Educational Rules, I have the honour to state that I consider it necessary that the scheme should be translated for the sake of managers and teachers of Elementary schools, and to request that the Translators to Government may be instructed to undertake the work as early as possible.

2. Arrangements will be made with the Superintendent, Government Press, for the publication of the translations and their sale to the public.

Order—No. 755, Educational, dated 13th November 1907.

The proposal of the Director of Public Instruction that a copy of the "Scheme of Studies for Elementary schools for boys" should be supplied free of charge to each of the Supervisors of Primary schools is approved.

2. The Translators to Government will be requested to furnish at an early date the translations of the pamphlet to the Superintendent, Government Press, who will print in consultation with the Director of Public Instruction the number of copies of the translations required.

NOTES CONNECTED WITH G.O., No. 755, EDUCATIONAL,
DATED 13TH NOVEMBER 1907.

[SUBJECT.—Submitting five copies of the scheme of studies for Elementary schools for boys and requesting sanction to the issue of the copies free of charge to the Supervisors of Primary Schools.]

From the Director of Public Instruction, Madras, dated 9th August 1907, No. 3892.

Assistant Secretary—

Please examine. A copy should be sent after examination to the Honourable Member for perusal. I see that the Director of Public Instruction has classified elementary schools into three grades.

H. D. TAYLOR—17-8-07.

Submitted to the Assistant Secretary. The proposal of the Director of Public Instruction may be approved.

P.R.—19-8-07.

Rule 20 of the Educational Rules says:

"The course of studies should be arranged and the time-table drawn up in consultation with the inspecting officer. No curriculum is prescribed for elementary schools. A scheme of studies from which selections should be made will be issued by the department from time to time. The inspecting officer should record his opinion in the inspection book as to which subjects each teacher is qualified to teach and no other subjects should be attempted by him. Special care should be taken in this respect in regard to English."

2. The Director of Public Instruction submits a scheme of studies for elementary schools for boys. The main object of his pamphlet is stated to be to lay down certain instructions in regard to—

(1) the general principles on which instruction given in elementary schools should be based,

(2) the issue of elementary school leaving certificates.

3. Chapter II deals with the classification of Elementary schools with reference to the scheme of studies and chapters III and IV with the scheme of studies for the several classes of elementary schools.

4. Elementary schools are divided into three classes:—

I thought we were getting rid of these distinctions. Now we have three grades proposed for elementary schools with "complete" and "incomplete" secondary schools.

H. D. TAYLOR.

- (1) First-grade elementary schools.
- (2) Second-grade elementary schools.
- (3) Third-grade elementary schools.

5. First-grade elementary schools. These correspond roughly to the old

* Vide rule 3 of the Educational Rules, 1905 edition, page 2.

"Vernacular Lower * Secondary schools".

The course of study recommended for this class of school would in normal circumstances cover a period of eight years for pupils of ordinary ability, but the period may be prolonged or curtailed according to circumstances. These schools will apparently consist of all the eight standards including the infant class, and will be the institutions where the minimum of elementary education "required in normal "circumstances to equip a boy adequately "for his profession and the duties and privileges of citizenship", will be imparted.

6. The subjects to be taught are—

(a) Compulsory subjects.

- | | |
|--|--|
| (1) The Vernacular | (1) Geography. |
| (2) Space and number work | (2) Civics and Indian History. |
| (3) General knowledge | (3) Nature study and elementary science. |
| (4) Drawing | (4) Second language— English, Hindustani or any South Indian Vernacular. |
| (5) Recitation with ragams from any approved text-books or of selected songs and hymns. | |
| (6) Physical Exercise | |

(b) Optional subjects.

7. It is however open to any manager to introduce with the Inspector's approval any optional subject other than those specified above, if he can satisfy the Inspector that it is suitable for the school, and that the staff and apparatus are adequate and if he produces a satisfactory graduated syllabus for the subject. The following additional optional subjects are suggested for first-grade Elementary schools:—

Agriculture.
Hygiene.
Practical and Experimental Geometry.
Shorthand.
Typewriting.
Book-keeping.
Theory and Practice of Commerce.

8. As a general rule, schools other than those for backward classes will not be eligible for * 25 per cent. increase of the allotted grant, unless two optional subjects are successfully taught.

9. The scheme of studies is not inelastic and it will be open to a manager to modify the curriculum of his school to suit local needs and circumstances.

10. The course of instruction in the first-grade elementary schools will be supplementary to, and in continuation of that provided in second-grade schools.

11. Second-grade elementary schools.—These correspond roughly to the old "Upper Primary Schools", that is, schools with five standards †, including the infant standard. The course of study recommended for this class of school will ordinarily cover a period of five years, but the period is subject to modification according to circumstances. The courses of study for schools of this class are the same as those recommended for the first five years in schools of the first grade. It is stated that the number of Upper Primary schools now in existence is large and that the instruction provided therein has hitherto been regarded (this is a misconception) as equipping a boy on the one hand for entering life and on the other hand for transfer to a secondary school. It is, therefore, considered that for sometime to come "it is only too probable that a five years course" will be all that can be provided or accepted in the way of elementary education for Rule 47 (3) of the Educational rules, 1906 edition, and paragraph 4 of G.O., No. 509, Educational, dated 31st July 1906.

"the majority of pupils, while the present rules of the department contemplate under certain conditions the transfer of pupils after completion of this five years' course to secondary schools."

12. Third-grade elementary schools.—These correspond roughly to the old "Lower Primary schools" and include all those elementary schools which may be said to satisfy to some extent a real need of the locality but which are not provided with teachers competent to give such instruction in compulsory subjects recommended for second-grade elementary schools. This class of schools is only transitional and will in course of time make room for second-grade schools. The third-grade schools are regarded as essentially preparatory to second-grade schools and transfers of pupils from third to second grade schools will be frequent.

13. Transfer certificates.—The rules on the subject of transfer certificates to pupils of elementary schools are contained in clauses (3) and (4) of rule 47 of the Educational rules, which are—

"The headmaster of the school into which a pupil is admitted shall place him in the class for which he is found to be fit, subject to the conditions:

"(3) that if the pupil has attended an elementary school and has obtained an elementary school leaving certificate endorsed by the examining officer 'good', he may be placed in the fourth class but shall remain in that class for at least one school year;

"(4) that if the pupil has attended an elementary school and has not obtained an elementary school leaving certificate endorsed 'good', he shall not be placed in a class higher than the third class or in any case shall not be promoted to the first form until after the expiry of at least two school years."

14. Under the proposed rules, elementary school leaving certificate will not be issued to pupils of schools in the third class. The earliest stage at which these certificates can be gained by pupils will be after completion of a course of instruction in schools of the second grade.

15. The Director of Public Instruction is himself competent to issue these rules and they are sent to Government only for information. The Director of Public Instruction suggests that copies of these rules may be issued free of charge to supervisors of primary schools, "in view of the great delay that will occur if the books were to be supplied to them through the Presidents of District Boards and the small cost of the book (one anna a copy)." He also suggests that the Translators to Government may be asked to translate them into the vernaculars, so that copies of the rules in the vernacular may be available for sale to the public.

Paragraph 9 of Letter No. 394, Educational, dated 20th June 1907.

Local fund	202

of the 261* supervisors of primary schools

H. D. TAYLOR.

16. There are now 268 supervisors of primary schools in this Presidency, of whom 7 are paid from Provincial funds, 59 from Municipal funds and 202 from Local funds. The loss which will be incurred by the Government by supplying a copy of the pamphlet to each free of charge (Rs. 16-5-0), is trifling and the proposal of the Director of Public Instruction may, it is submitted, be approved.

17. A draft order is placed below for approval.

K. RANGASWAMI AYYANGAR—19-10-07.

I have referred to this above, but some sort of classification seems necessary for convenience of reference.

H. D. TAYLOR.

What strikes one as objectionable is the increase in the classification of schools. We are again to have the three old "Lower Secondary", "Upper" and "Lower Primary" schools only in a different form. However, if different grades of elementary schools are to have separate curricula, each grade must be distinctly specified. It seems impossible to have one curriculum for all elementary schools.

C. A. SOUTER—28-10-07.

H. D. TAYLOR—29-10-07.

Cannot the Director of Public Instruction sanction this issue free to his departmental subordinates? If not, there is something wrong.

G. S. F[ORBES]—30-10-07.

The supervisors of elementary schools to whom the Director of Public Instruction refers are not his departmental subordinates. They are at present the servants of local bodies. The Presidents of District Boards, may sanction the purchase of books, within the budget provision, the cost of which does not exceed Re. 1.

The Director of Public Instruction asks that supervisor may be supplied by himself direct to save time. I see no objection, if Financial agree.

H. D. TAYLOR—31-10-07.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT

Paragraph 2 of G.O., No. 518, Financial, dated 5th October 1907, lays down—

“All Heads of departments to whom the power to purchase, or sanction the purchase of, books is now delegated are also empowered to obtain, on their own behalf or on behalf of subordinate officers, from the Superintendent of the Government Press, free of cost, copies of any Act, Code, or set of rules published by the Government Press, under the authority of Government and publications of the Government of India kept in stock in the Government Press.”

2. The pamphlet “Scheme of studies for elementary schools for boys” is being published by the Superintendent, Government Press, under the authority of the Director of Public Instruction. The Director of Public Instruction is consequently empowered to obtain on behalf of subordinate officers in the Educational Department, free of cost, copies of the pamphlet from the Government Press. Supervisors of primary schools to whom the Director of Public Instruction wants to supply copies are, however, Local Fund employees; hence the present application from the Director.

3. The draft may, it is submitted, be accepted.
