G.O., No. 666, Educational, dated 4th October 1907.

ABSTRACT.—Stating that the Director of Public Instruction, being the person acting in the administration of the trust connected with the Ramnad Rani Scholarship, the application for vesting the property in the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments should be made by the Director of Public Instruction and the Accountant-General jointly.

II

Letter—from W. DORRIS, Esq., Accountant-General, Madras.

To—the Secretary to Government, Educational Department.

Dated—the 14th October 1907.

No.—B.D. 281/G. 153.

With reference to G.O., No. 666, Educational, dated 4th October 1907, I have the honour to state that the Director of Public Instruction, Madras, and the Headmaster, Madura College, are the Trustees of the Ramnad Rani Scholarship. All securities purchased by me and sent to me for custody stand in my name merely to enable me to deal with them under chapter II of the Civil Account Code. I would, therefore, suggest that the Director of Public Instruction, Madras, and the Headmaster, Madura College, the Trustees of the fund, should submit a joint application for vesting the fund in the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments under section 6 of the Charitable Endowments Act.

Order—No. 773, Educational, dated 20th November 1907.

In the circumstances represented by the Accountant-General, the Government are pleased to direct, in modification of G.O., No. 666, Educational, dated 4th October 1907, that the application under the Charitable Endowments Act for vesting the funded capital of the Ramnad Rani Scholarship in the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments should be made by the Director of Public Instruction and the Headmaster of the Madura College jointly.

NOTES CONNECTED WITH G.O., No. 773, EDUCATIONAL,
DATED 20TH NOVEMBER 1907.

[SUBJECT.—Ramnad Rani scholarship.]

From the Accountant-General, dated 14th October 1907, No. B.D. 281/G. 153.

Please see G.O., No. 666, Educational, dated 4th October 1907, and the notes therewith.

2. In that order the Government directed that the application under section 6 of the Charitable Endowments Act for vesting the fund in the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments should be made by the Director of Public Instruction and the Accountant-General jointly.

3. The Accountant-General now points out that the Director of Public Instruction and the headmaster of the Madura College are the trustees of the fund and that the securities relating to the fund stand in his name merely to enable him to deal with them under Chapter 11 of the Civil Account Code. He, therefore, suggests that the application for vesting the fund in the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments should be made by the Director of Public Instruction and the headmaster of the College jointly.

4. It is not clear what the Accountant-General means when he states that the Director of Public Instruction and the headmaster of the Madura College are the trustees of the fund. He means probably that they are the persons acting in the administration of the fund. Under rule 2 of the rules approved in G.O., No. 783, Educational, dated 26th December 1896, the headmaster of the college holds a competitive examination for the award of the scholarship and under rule 5 the Director of Public Instruction awards the scholarship.

5. In these circumstances, it is for consideration whether, as suggested by the Accountant-General, the application may be made by the Director of Public Instruction and the headmaster jointly.

C. A. SOUTER—6-11-07.

I cannot see that the headmaster has under the rules any locus standi in the matter. The Director of Public Instruction awards the scholarship and the Accountant-General controls the funds as Accountant-General and not as the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments. The order that the application should be signed by the Accountant-General and by the Director of Public Instruction appears therefore to require no modification.

H. D. TAYLOR—7-11-07.

To the Accountant-General for remarks.

ACCOUNTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE.

I venture to think that the Accountant-General has no part in the administration of the endowment. The Government securities are simply forwarded to him for safe custody as the Accountant-General is the officer required by Government to take into safe custody all securities lodged with Public officers in trust. The Accountant-General, it appears to me, takes no more part in the administration of the endowment than the Bank of Madras could be said to take, were the securities deposited with the Bank for safe custody. I may also add that the Accountant-General exercises no control over the funds, but pays whatever the Director of Public Instruction directs.

All investments held by Public officers in trust are by the provisions of article 173 (ii) of the Civil Account Code, required to stand in two names, and in the books of my office the two names in which the investment on account of the Ramnad Rani scholarship stands are the Director of Public Instruction and the headmaster, Madura College. I can, however, trace no orders for this, but these names have been entered as trustees since 1887-1888. Prior to that year the second name was that of the Principal, Provincial College, Kumbakonam. The authority for the change in 1887-1888 is not traceable, but a letter No. 6322, dated 27th August 1888, ordering certain payment to be made, is signed by both the Director of Public Instruction and the headmaster, Madura College.

W. DOBBIE—14-11-07.

The headmaster of the Madura College was made a co-trustee with the Director of Public Instruction in G.O., No. 210, Financial, dated 8th March 1886. It is for consideration whether the suggestion of the Accountant-General that the application for vesting the fund in the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments should be made by the Director of Public Instruction and the headmaster of the college, may be accepted.

K. RANGASWAMI AIYANGAR—18-11-07.

The Accountant-General seems right.
