Most Honoured Sir,

I humbly beg permission to forward the attached corres-

Return requested.) pondence for your benign notice and favourable consideration, should I be indeed lucky in bringing home to your mind the most conflicting and discouraging feelings of bitter disappointment I was forced to become a victim to, in the transaction.

When I first applied to you on 5th. October 1907 for the post of Dy. Superintendent in the Police Department, you have very humanely considered my request (vide G. O. No. R-1107 dated 8th. November 1907) and have been pleased to forward my papers to the Inspector General of Police, directing his consideration of my claims for the post of a Sub-Inspector of Police, in response to which, he has put a query to me if I have passed the Matriculation Examination or any examination equivalent to it.
It will be seen how I have replied that though not a Matriculate, I have passed a Departmental Examination considered more or less equivalent to it, the more so, as I am already a clerk in the Cordite Factory which is a Government office.

After this reply has been forwarded to him through the Superintendent Cordite Factory, Aruvankad, it appears, the Inspector General of Police has referred for report, the whole affair to Mr. F. S. Mullaly the District Superintendent of Police, Ootacamund, who directed me to appear before him on 2nd.
December 1907. I did see him on that date, and he reported very favourably on my claims as a Sub Inspector.

It may not be out of place here to mention that another clerk of my office has applied to you with good recommendations for the post of a Dy. Superintendent in the Police Department.
You have not been pleased, however, to accept his services and so have replied him then and there accordingly. It will be readily granted therefore if you allow me to have a comparison between his case and mine, how one like myself will indulge in the happy hope of success which was sure as gun and which was gleaming as it were from your favourable view of the question, when forwarding my papers to the Inspector General of Police.

But contrary to my aspirations, as my ill-luck would have it, the Inspector General of Police has just written to say that the Government have declined to exempt me from Matriculation Examination for the post of a Sub-Inspector in the Police Department.

I cannot bring my mind to understand how this transpired when you have viewed my request in the first instance, with such a patronising air that it is impossible to conceive you would have thus killed the fond hopes of a young aspirant. It will indeed ^{be} very pitiable to note that the arrangements I have made for entering in the Police Department, building my hopes on your words of encouragement, all have to be dashed aside in the discouraging letter from the Inspector General of Police.

The plea of the Government that I am not a Matriculate is of course based on proper grounds in strict conformity with the rules of the Department and any further request emanating from my humble self at this stage might perhaps be viewed with a feeling bordering on vexation; still, conscious of my feelings of dire disappointment and feeling sure you will not deign to smother my hopes for ever, I humbly crave for a reconsideration in the matter. I most respectfully beg for your mercy, for the mercy of Government.

Ardently awaiting your favourable orders ,

I beg to remain,

Most Honoured Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

Gov. K. K. K.

Sir,

With reference to your memorandum No. R.C.1401/Govt. dated 12th. November 1907, I beg to state I am willing to accept a Sub-Inspector's post in the Police Department.

I have not passed the Matriculation Examination, ~~xxxx~~ but I have passed the Departmental Examination prescribed by the Ordnance Department for the clerical establishment - please see copy of Certificate attached herewith.

I trust this qualification coupled with the fact that I have been a clerk on Rs. 40/- under Government for the past 3 years, will meet the needs for the post which I am willing to accept.

I beg to remain etc.,
