DAY TRAINING COLLEGE,

May 29th, 1907.

I have great pleasure in recommending Mr. H. Champion for an educational appointment in India. I have known Mr. Champion for the past three years. During that time he has been working as an Assistant Master at the Higher Grade School for boys in Cambridge which our Training College uses as a Practising School. I have therefore had frequent opportunities of seeing Mr. Champion at work. I consider him an excellent schoolmaster in every respect. I have the utmost confidence in his ability and tact. He has frequently had my students under his charge, and they have benefited by his advice and his example. In all my dealings I have found him an admirable man to get on with, and I know that he is popular with his colleagues.

S. S. F. FLETCHER, M.A., Ph.D.,
Lecturer on Education in the University of Cambridge.

DOWNING COLLEGE, CAMBRIDGE,

May 29th, 1907.

I am venturing to commend my friend and pupil Mr. Herbert Champion, who is applying for service in the Indian Educational Department.

I have known Mr. Champion intimately for the last three years, during which he has been an undergraduate of this college, and I have no hesitation in describing him as one of the best of my pupils.

During his residence at Cambridge he has been engaged in teaching, and so any chance of taking an Honours degree was impossible, but in spite of this he has done well. In the special examination for Mediaeval and Modern Languages held last December he obtained a first class, which is no mean achievement for a man who could only give his leisure to University work.

Others will doubtless speak of his success as a teacher. He is a gentleman in every sense, with a fine personality. He will prove a true and loyal servant of the Government and an excellent colleague.

HENRY JACKSON,
Tutor.

HIGHER GRADE SCHOOL, CAMBRIDGE,

May 30th, 1907.

Mr. H. Champion has worked in this school for three years, and during that time has had a variety of experience. He has not only seen and taken part in the work and organization of a school of 400 boys, but has also assisted in training teachers, many students, primary and secondary, being put to his class.

His teaching is excellent. He imparts knowledge with skill and intelligence, and his discipline is most commendable. He has no difficulty whatever in managing large classes.

He has acted here as conductor of the music, and has taught and conducted the operettas which the boys have each year performed at the Guildhall. He is himself a good musician, possessing a good baritone voice.

He is punctual and a most consistent worker, full of energy, and always ready to give his best for the good of the school. He gets on well with his colleagues and is popular both with the staff and the pupils. I think he is peculiarly adapted for the post he is seeking under the Indian Government.

JAMES WALLIS, M.A.,
Headmaster and Lecturer on School Method and Organization to the Cambridge University, Day Training College.

KING'S COLLEGE, CAMBRIDGE,

May 29th, 1907.

Mr. Herbert Champion informs me that he is a candidate for a post in the Indian Educational Service, and asks me to give him a testimonial. This I am glad to do, as I have had considerable opportunities of observing Mr. Champion's work in the Higher Grade School, Cambridge, of which he is now an Assistant Master, while I am the correspondent. I consider Mr. Champion an excellent teacher and a very good disciplinarian, and I am convinced that, if he obtains the post which he seeks, he will devote his energy, of which he has a plentiful supply, to the work which he is called upon to do. I may mention that he is a capable musician.

WALTER DUNNFORD,
Fellow of King's College, Cambridge, and Late Assistant Master, Eton.

DOWNING COLLEGE, CAMBRIDGE,

May 30th, 1907.

After having had considerable experience as a teacher in primary schools Mr. Herbert Champion joined this college. Since he has been at Downing his conduct has given complete satisfaction to the authorities of this college. He is a man of high character, and of considerable ability, industrious and energetic, who might in my opinion be trusted to do his very best in any post assigned to him.

ALEX. HILL, M.C.,
Master of Downing College, Cambridge.
