From

Dr. S. Sivaniradhan,
Barrister-at-Law Adj. Junior Professor of Madras Law College

To

The Secretary to the Government of Madras Educational Department

Through

The Director of Public Instruction Madras
and the Principal, Madras Law College

Sir,

I have the honour to submit for the decision of Government the following matter in connection with my acting allowance as the Junior Professor of the Madras Law College.

2. I held this appointment before the present incumbency on six different occasions on all of which, I drew half of the pay of the appointment Viz: - Rs 325 per mensem, as acting

Advance under Article 144 of the Civil Service Regulations.

3. On the present occasion, the Accountant General has ruled (vide his slip No. 416 S of the 16th July 1908 herein enclosed) that under Article 63 of the Civil Service Regulations, I am entitled to draw only $\frac{2}{3}$ of $\frac{1}{2}$ of the pay of the appointment as in his opinion (a) it is usually filled by nomination in England or with the specific approval of the Secretary of State (b) Article 144 is controlled by Article 63 of the Civil Service Regulations and (c) The Government has not been pleased to pass any special orders in the case as contemplated by Article 63.

4. I have the honour to point out that the appointment in question is not one usually made by or with the approval of the Secretary of State although in the case of Mr. Edger, the selection was made by the Secretary of State at the instance of the Local Government. Rule 10 of the Rules relating to the constitution of the Law Court (vide College Calendar for 1908 p. 41) which has been sanctioned by the Government provides that the Junior Professorship shall be filled either by a Matristor or a Vakil and it obviously does not contemplate the selection of the officer as an ordinary rule by the Secretary of State.

5. Even in the case of an appointment like that of the Principal of the College which is undoubtedly one ordinarily made by the Secretary of State, Mr. K. Narayana Rao as an acting incumbent was allowed by the Accountant General to draw one half the pay as acting allowance under Article 144, without the said Article being in any manner held to be controlled by Article 63.

6. Even prior to the appointment of Mr. Edgers as Junior Professor, I held the acting appointment on one occasion and I contend that my allowance ought not to suffer because that appointment was for a special reason made by the Secretary of State.

7. I do not imagine that in any case the acting allowance of an officer without a substantive appointment was meant to be reduced under any circumstances below the bare minimum fixed by Article 144 Civil Service Regulations viz a moiety of the pay, especially as it is difficult to conceive that the prestige of such an appointment as that of Junior Professor of the Law College can be lowered in the manner contemplated by the Accountant General. Half the is very poor remuneration for the work which a Junior Professor is expected to do, when that half is only Rs 32 per mensem; I may add that the salary adjudged to me by the Accountant General is less than that of the Assistant Professors of the College.

8. Now that I have brought the matter to the notice of Government may I suggest that the case is one for the exercise of the discretion of the Local Government under Rule 1 Article 546 of the Civil Service Regulations by allowing me (even supposing the appointment is one made by the Secretary of State for India) two-thirds of the pay of the appointment - Article 546 confers in fact explicitly on the Local Government a discretion which implied by the terms of article 63 but I venture to think that considering the very responsible duties thrown on a Junior Professor, Government will not hold that $\frac{2}{3}$ of the pay is too large a proportion to pay to an acting incumbent, especially when the ^{permanent} Government post is at present filled by an officer, who just like me, does not give his full time to Government.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant

W. M. M. M. M.

2. Dr. S. Swaminathan, Acting Junior Professor, Law College, is entitled, under Article 63, Civil Service Regulations, to an acting allowance of only $\frac{2}{3}$ rd of that admissible to a European, viz., $\frac{2}{3}$ rd of Rs.325, while he officiates as Junior Professor, as the office of Junior Professorship is intended to be filled by an officer selected in England (vide para 4 of the Government of India's Despatch to the Secretary of State, No.108, dated 28th March 1901, printed in G.O.No.447, Bd1., dated 12th August 1901). The grant of any higher rate of acting allowance not exceeding $\frac{2}{3}$ rd of the pay of the appointment of Rs.650 to Dr. S. Swaminathan requires the sanction of the Government of India under Article 144, Civil Service Regulations.

Enc. 3.

3. In the opinion of the undersigned, this ^{office} ~~opinion~~ was wrong in neglecting the provisions of Article 63, Civil Service Regulations, on previous occasions, when Dr. Swaminathan officiated as Junior Professor, and M.R.Ry. K. Narayana Rao Avergal acted as Principal of the Law College.

4. As regards the application of Rule 1, under Article 546, Civil Service Regulations, to the case of Dr. Swaminathan, it is observed that the rule must be read with Article 63. It only substitutes the rate of acting allowance at $\frac{2}{3}$ rd of the pay of the appointment in the case therein mentioned for the usual rate of acting allowance at $\frac{1}{2}$ the pay of the appointment admissible under Articles 96 and 144, Civil Service Regulations. If the appointment of Junior Professor has been declared by the Madras Government with the sanction of the Government of India to be an appointment in which it is necessary, on public grounds, to employ a Barrister, the Madras Government can grant to Dr. S. Swaminathan an acting allowance calculated at 2/3rds of 2/3rds of Rs.650, under Rule I, Article 546, Civil Service Regulations, and Article 63, Civil Service Regulations, as he is a native of India though a Barrister. The pay of the appointment of Junior Professor, when a native of India holds the appointment, is 2/3rds of Rs.650 (vide Articles 39 and 63, Civil Service Regulations), and the acting allowance admissible under Article 546, Rule 1, with the sanction of the Local Government, would be 2/3rds of the pay of the appointment as explained above.

In G.O.No.R.211, Edl., dated 13th May 1908, Dr. S. Swaminathan, Bar-at-Law, was appointed to act as Junior Professor, Law College, Madras, vice Mr. C.E. Odgers on other duty or until further orders.

2. Dr. Swaminathan acted as Junior Professor on six previous occasions and on all these occasions the Accountant-General passed him an acting allowance of Rs 325, which is half the minimum pay of the appointment, under Article 144 of the Civil Service Regulations.

3. On the present occasion, the Accountant General has fixed the acting allowance at Rs 216-10-8 - vide the pay slip on page 2 of current file. He states that his office was wrong in passing Rs 325 to Dr. Swaminathan on previous occasions and that, under Article 63 of the Civil Service Regulations, Dr. Swaminathan is entitled ~~to~~ only two-thirds of the acting allowance admissible to a European.

X
4. The pay of the appointment of Junior Professor of the Law College, Madras, is Rs 650-25-900 - vide para.2 of the Govt. of India's despatch to the Secretary of State No.
108, dated 28th March 1901, on page 2 of G.O.

No.447, Edl., dated 12th August 1901. The Accountant-General urges that as the office of Junior Professor~~ship~~ of the Law College is intended to be filled by an officer selected in England (vide para.4 of the Govt. of India's despatch to the Secretary of State above quoted), Dr. Swaminathan, as acting Junior Professor, is entitled, under Article 63^{of the C.S.R.} only to an acting allowance of two-thirds of what is admissible to a European, that is, to two-thirds of Rs325 or Rs216-10-8, and that the grant to Dr. Swaminathan of a higher rate of allowance, not exceeding two-thirds of the pay^(Rs650) of the appointment ~~of~~ ~~Rs650~~, requires the sanction of the Government of India under Article 144 of the Civil Service Regulations.

5. Dr. Swaminathan contends that the appointment of Junior Professor of the Law College is not one reserved for Europeans, and quotes in support of his contention rule 10 of the Law College Rules which states that "the "Junior Professor and Assistant Professors "shall ordinarily be graduates of a University "and shall be either Barristers-at-Law or not "less than three years' standing or Vakils "of the High Court of Madras of not less than "five years' standing." Dr. Swaminathan states that "half the pay is very poor remuneration for the work which a Junior Professor "is expected to do, when that half is only "Rs325 per mensem," and doubts whether that half pay can still further be reduced in the manner contemplated by the Accountant-General without lowering the prestige of the appointment.

He further observes "that the salary adjudged "to him by the Accountant-General is less than "that of the Assistant Professors of the College" and requests that the Government will, in the exercise of the discretion vested in them under Note 1 to Article 546 of the Civil Service Regulations and in consideration of the very responsible duties thrown on the Junior Professor, be pleased to grant him two-thirds of the pay of the appointment.

6. Note 1 to Article 546 of the Civil Service Regulations runs--

"1. A Barrister without a substantive "appointment, appointed to act in an office "which is either reserved for a Barrister or
"for which a Barrister is generally selected,
"may, with the special sanction of the Local "Government, be allowed to draw an acting allow"ance not exceeding two-thirds of the pay of
"the appointment."

7. The Accountant-General urges that the above rule must be read with Article 63^{of the C.S.R.} and that it only substitutes the rate of acting allowance at two-thirds of the pay of the appointment for the usual rate of acting allowance at half the pay of the appointment admissible under Article 144. He observes that if the appointment of Junior Professor has been declared by the Madras Government, with the sanction of the Government of India, to be an appointment in which it is necessary, on public grounds, to employ a Barrister, Dr. Swaminathan could be granted an acting allowance calculated at two-thirds ^{of two-thirds} of Rs 650 (which will be Rs 311-1-9) under Note 1 to Article 546 and Article 63 of the C.S.R., as Dr. Swaminathan is a Native of India, though a barrister.

Page 34

vide the portion underlined in Art 144 above

* that is $\frac{2}{3}$ of Rs 650 or Rs 433-5-4.

8. Article 144 of the Civil Service Regulations, ^{as now} ~~has now been~~ altered, ~~and~~ runs--

"144. An officer without a substantive appointment on a permanent establishment, officiating in an appointment the pay of which is not less than Rs 100, is entitled to an acting allowance of half the pay, or, if the pay of the appointment is progressive, half the minimum pay of the appointment, but in special cases the allowance may, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, be increased to an amount not exceeding the full pay of the appointment."

"Note 1.--A report of the circumstances of each case in which sanction is accorded by the Local Government under this Article should be forwarded at the beginning of each year through the Audit Officer to the Government of India in an amalgamated schedule."

"Note 2.--This article does not apply to the cases for which provision is made by Rule 1 under Article 546 and by Article 557."

9. Under this the Local Government ^{may as a} ~~may~~ ^{of Dr. Swaminathan} ~~may~~ ^{special case,} ~~not~~ increase the acting allowance, to an amount not exceeding the full pay of the appointment. But the provisions of this article are apparently ~~also~~ limited by Article 63 of the C.S.R., and it does not appear that the Local Government can grant an allowance exceeding two-thirds of the minimum ^{*} pay of the post. The Accountant General's endorsement appears to have been written before the receipt of the revised Article 144 of the Civil Service Regulations.

21.9.08

It is submitted that the Financial Dept. May be consulted w.o., as to whether under the revised Article 144 of the C.S.R., the Local Govt. ^{may} ~~can~~ sanction an allowance to Dr. Swaminathan, not exceeding two-thirds of the minimum salary of the post. As contended by Dr. Swaminathan, the the allowance of Rs 216-10-8, fixed by the Accountant General, for seems to be rather inadequate especially as on former occasions, Dr Swaminathan was granted an allowance of Rs 325. On the present occasion, also, it is for consideration whether an allowance not less than Rs 325 p.m. may be sanctioned.

Can the office find the authority in which rule 10 of the Law College Rules was founded? It apparently contradicts the orders in G.O. 477 Etl. 27.12.8.01. In any case under new Art 144 C.S.R. which seems to be governed by Art. 63 Dr Swaminathan can get $\frac{2}{3}$ of 650 & the A-G. should be asked if this is not so.

Rule 10 of the Law College Rules was based on rule III (iii) of the rules which were previously in force. Please see the rule on page 5 of G.O. no. 850 Bdl dated 25th October 1895. This latter rule was based on rule 11 of the rules approved in G.O. no. 714 Bdl. dated 13th Nov. 1889; these were the first rules drawn up for the working of the Law College.

Under Rule 11 of the rules for the Law College approved in G.O. No. 714 Ed., dated 13th November 1889, the qualifications for the post of Principal & professors was as hereunder:-

"No one shall be eligible for the post of Principal who is not a graduate of a University and a barrister-at-law of not less than five years' standing; for a professorship or assistant professorship or lectureship, who is not a graduate of a University and also either a barrister-at-law of not less than three years' standing or a vakil of the Madras High Court of not less than five years' standing."

2. In para. 2 of their letter No. 539 Ed., dated 26th October 1900, the Govt. in submitting proposals for the reorganizing of the Madras Law College stated that both the Principal and the Junior Professor should be appointed in England by the Secretary of State. This statement was repeated in para. 4 of their Despatch to the Secretary of State on the subject, No. 108, dated 28th March 1901.

It will thus be observed that that when the post of Junior Professor was created, the intention was that it should be filled by recruitment in England. The existing Rules of the Law College rules prescribe only the qualifications required for the posts of the Principal & of the Junior and Assistant Professors, and makes no mention of the mode of recruitment for filling them, which seems to be a matter of administrative detail.

2. Enqo. No. 602 Ed., dated 24th August 1908, the Govt. stated that Dr. Swaminathan would be considered 'as having acted as Principal of the Law College' on the 29th June 1908. Rg Minute of appointment was put up as it was considered unnecessary - vide the office note dated 21.5.08 on page 2 of K.W. G.O. No. 602 Esd. dated 24th August 1908. The H's present orders that S^r Swaminathan can only be considered to have been in charge of the office of Principal of the Law College, for the 29th June 1908, amounts practically to a modification of G.O. No. 602 Esd. dated 24th August 1908, and will affect the amount of allowance payable to S^r Swaminathan for that day. Under Article 161 of the Civil Service Regs., "an officer appointed to be in charge of the current duties of an office in addition to his own duties may, if the charge, in the opinion of the Local Govt., entails substantial increase of responsibility and some additional work, be granted a charge allowance to be fixed by the Local Government, not exceeding one tenth of the pay of the office."

The sanctioned pay of the post of Principal of the Law College is Rs 1000-25-12 and the Charge allowance which may be granted to S^r Swaminathan should not exceed Rs 100 p.m. - In the draft order now submitted, sanction is accorded to a Charge allowance ^{at the rate} of Rs 100 p.m. to S^r Swaminathan.

for the day on which he was in charge of the office of Principal & Co. No. 6025. of 24 August 1908, has been read at the head of the draft order, as the latter is slightly in modification of that No.
