the necessity for the temporary staff exists, for the reason that it is at times found necessary to vary the number of teachers employed and their rates of pay. Heads of offices in this Presidency possess a similar power under G.O. No. 483.

NOTES.

C. No. 480 From the

S.P. 9

No. 523, dated

17. 2. 1909. 6

SUBJECT. Requesting the retention until 31st March 1910 of the temporary establishment employed in the Training College, Rajahmundry.

I.

Please see G.O. 261 dated 2nd April 1908 and the note connected with it. In that order the Govt sanctioned the retention until 31st March 1909 of the seven temporary assistants employed in the Practising School attached to the Govt Training College, Rajahmundry. The S.P. 9 now requests,

(1) that sanction may be accorded to the retention of the establishment until 31st March 1910, and

(2) that the distribution of the scale of pay of these temporary appointments, within the limit of the budget allotment and subject to the further restriction that the maximum pay of none of the posts exceeds Rs 70 p.m., may be left to the S.P. 9.

2. The Accountant General ^{has} ~~has~~ no objection to the retention of the establishment until 31st March 1910 which may, it is submitted, be sanctioned. A provision of Rs 4,680 has been made in the C.B.E. for 1909-1910 on this account.

3. If Financial Department ^{has} ~~has~~ no objection, the Director's proposal (2) may also be approved.

OR 12-3-09

In Connection with the Scheme for the ^{general} reorganization of Training institutions in this Presidency, it has been proposed to abolish the College department of the Training College Rajahmundry retaining only a Secondary Training School at the place. When this is effected, a great reduction will be possible in the strength of the Staff of the Practising School, attached to the Training College. The proposals in regard to the Training School have now been generally approved and detailed proposition Statements have been called for from the D.P.D. for submission to the Secretary of State for Sanction. The draft on the subject is now in Circulation with the Hon., and it is not likely that the ^{be sanctioned by the S. of S. and} Scheme will come into force before the beginning of 1900-11. The proposed retention of the temporary staff may accordingly be sanctioned. The power to vary the establishment, asked for by the D.P.D. may also be given to that officer, if financial agrees.

It seems quite necessary to retain the temporary establishment so long as the Training school remains at Rajahmundry as at present. There seems little objection to the other proposal.
