Shorthand-writer and as such has to be entrusted with important notes often of a confidential nature. At present the maximum pay, which can be earned by a Shorthand-clerk in this Office, is Rs. 35/- and that only after 10 years' service, as he can only be appointed as a type writer. A good Shorthand-clerk in a Commercial firm or Newspaper office can practically command his own price, and the Board cannot hope to retain a good Shorthand-writer in its office, unless it can offer him a wage approximate to that, which he can obtain outside it. The work of this clerk has been most satisfactory, and the Board considers that he may be permanently exempted.

2. An application in the prescribed form is enclosed.

NOTES.

C. No. 915 From the Bd. of Rev. (S.R.) No. 89, dated 29-4-1909.

SUBJECT

Exemption of P. Culandaiswami Raju from the upper Secondary exam for employment as a clerk in the Board's Office.

The Board of Revenue (S.R.) recommends the permanent exemption of P. Culandaiswami Raju, a typist in the Board's Office, from the upper Secondary Examination, for employment as a clerk on Rs 35.

p. 3. of c. b.

2. Culandaiswami Raju has passed the Lower Secondary examination, type-writing examination (intermediate grade), * shorthand (elementary grade) and has studied up to the Matriculation Standard. His work in the Board's Office is said to have been most satisfactory.

p. 1. of c. b.

p. 2. of c. b.

3. It is for consideration whether the permanent exemption sought for may be granted.

W. K. M.
6-5-09. The Board of Revenue, S.R., seem to have made out a case for the grant of the permanent exemption to P. Culandaiswami Raju. The remarks of the Rev. Department, may, it is submitted, be obtained in the first instance.

To Secy
Typewriting Clks who have passed the advanced examination in Typewriting are entitled to a pay of Rs 35-1-50. The Bd ^{however} seems to be anxious to give the typist a pay of Rs 35 now, considering the work performed by him. ~~The~~ The typist can get this pay ^{immediately} ~~as soon as~~ he passes the advanced examination in typewriting & can also then rise to Rs 50.

2 The permanent exemption of the typist means that he will become a permanent clerk competing for promotion with the clerical staff proper with better educational qualifications. Submitted that it would seem sufficient if the exemption sought for is granted until the typist passes the advanced examination in typewriting when he can revert to the typists' section.

Submitted that the Exemption may be recommended in this Dept. A note, however, may be added that the Exemption is for Employment in the clerical line up to a certain 13.5.09

The reasons for exemption in this case seem rather weak. The man can rise to Rs. 50, if he passes the Advanced Type-writing test. The real point prob^y is that the Bd^y wants to give him more pay at once, & the Bd^y can't do this unless he is graded as an ordinary clerk. In fact the Bd^y apparently finds that the sanctioned pay for a Typist is insuff^t - but that has nothing to do with exemption fr^m exams.

The Board seems desirous of keeping this man because he is a short hand writer and because he is a typist. It seems a special case.

The Board want
he has as a shorthand writer. It cannot appoint him in that capacity but only as a typewriter.

I submit that the proper course would be to give the Board an appointment of a shorthand clerk at adequate salary in which case the make shift arrangement for which sanction is now sought would be unnecessary.

If the next applicant passes his exam (intermediate test) in shorthand he might perhaps be excepted as the Board request.

JTF

I think the Board (?) is mistaken as to shorthand clerks commanding deep pay in a commercial firm. Where shorthand clerks are wanted ~~to~~ to take down English, it is found that they fail, where the dictation is fast or at all out of ordinary routine.

from their ^{deficient knowledge} ~~ignorance~~ of the English language rather from inexperience in Scotland: the latter is a mere matter of practice, the former defect is incurable without further literary education in the language.

A man who has not gone as far as the Matriculation (as low a minimum as can be imagined) sh^d not be employed on ordinary clerical ^{work} in the Board, & has no right to be so employed when there are so many fully qualified men are standing at the door.

Mr Cardew's proposal seems best to send the case to the Bd. sh^d be told to require the man to pass the Advanced test in typewriting when he will then get on the 30-50 scale.
