from the service of Govt on the

an application for pension

If retired officers, there should be a formal record of the application to retire and of its acceptance. In the present case, Mr. Shumston's application to retire should therefore, it is estimated, be accepted in the Educational Dept.

3. Under art: 907 (c) of the C.S.R., the formal application for pension cannot be prepared till an officer has actually retired. This may be pointed to the Educ. dept.

Is there any particular hurry about this?

If a man can not submit his application for pension after he has retired, will he not have to wait

some time for his pension & he considerably inconvenienced? How is this job over?

Between 8th & 10th Council,
I think Mr. Exall may have written to D. Thurston as to the necessity of his retiring so soon.

Articles 907(b) and 917 of the C.S.R. apply only to non-forgotten officers referred to in Art. 907(a), in whose case the "Statement of Service" has to be verified with reference to the records available in the various offices in which the officer in question had served. Art. 907(c) clearly says that the provision in Art. 907(b) is intended to obviate delay in the verification of Service and does not justify the preparation of the formal application for pension before the officer has actually retired.

In the case of forgotten officers, there is no need for the verification of their services, as the history of their services of forgotten officers is maintained by the Accountant General. There is therefore no chance of any delay occurring in sanctioning the pension of forgotten officers, and Art. 926 of the C.S.D. provides for cases where any delay should be anticipated.
