NOTES.

C.No.972, from the D.P.I., No.2505, dated 2nd May 1910.

Subject.

Application for exchange compensation allowance to Mr. C.H. Lobban, temporary Professor of Civil Engineering.

The D.P.I. submits for the orders of Government an application for exchange compensation allowance to Mr. C.H. Lobban, ^{late} Temporary Professor of Civil Engineering in the College of Engineering, Madras.

2. Mr. Lobban was engaged by the Secretary of State as a temporary Professor, College of Engineering, for a term of two years and by paragraph 5 of his agreement printed with G.O. No.265, Edl., dated 3rd April 1908, he was expressly debarred from claiming exchange compensation allowance.

3. On the termination of Mr. Lobban's agreement on the 12th March 1910, the Secretary of State sanctioned his admission to the Indian Educational Service and the grant to him of an initial salary of Rs 600 per mensem, but Mr. Lobban did not accept these terms and resigned the appointment, his resignation taking effect from the 29th April 1910.

4. In his pay bill for March last, Mr. Lobban claimed exchange compensation allowance from the 13th idem but the Accountant General disallowed the claim for want of orders of Government. ^{Mr Lobban} He now submits a formal application for the allowance. The allowance is claimed for the period from the 12th March 1910 to 28th April 1910 and it amounts to Rs.59-3-0.

4. The D.P.I. states that it was in the interests of the public service that the Government were able to retain Mr. Lobban's services until the closing of the college ~~vacation~~ for the vacation and that the exact nature of the position held by Mr. Lobban from the 12th March 1910 to the date of his leaving the College is a matter for the decision of Government. The Accountant-General states that Government should decide whether Mr. Lobban should be considered as 'officially' eligible, as a member of the Indian Educational Service, for exchange compensation allowance in addition to being considered 'personally' eligible by Government.

5. Mr. Lobban appears to be personally eligible for the allowance as he is not a native of India as defined in 33 Vict. Cap.3, section 6-vide para.1 of the Resolution of the Government of India No.2418, Edl., dated 26th May 1899. He would be officially eligible if he were a member of the Indian Educational Service - vide para.3 (b) of the statement appended to the Finance Department Resolution No.3383 F.O.& A., dated 7th July 1909 printed with G.O.No.297, Financial dated 20th July 1909. He was appointed to the Indian Educational Service by the Secretary of State with effect from the 12th March 1910, but he did not accept the appointment and consequently he never became a member of the Indian Educational Service. He is not thus officially eligible for the allowance.

6. The D.P.I. states that "it has been in "the interests of the public service that we have "been able to retain Mr. Lobban's services
"until the closing of the College for the "vacation,". It is for consideration whether Mr. Lobban's application for exchange compensation allowance may be granted. A reference in this connection is requested to G.O.No.111 Edl., dated 9th March 1910, which states the conditions under which Mr. Lobban was permitted to continue in service after the 12th March 1910. It was therein

7.4.
23.5.10 Clearly stated that the Govt while they were not prepared to agree to the proposals of Mr. Lobban as regards his continuance in office, would nevertheless have no objection to his staying on, as a Con-cession, until the fresh agreement from the Secretary of State on the understanding that if he did not accept it, he would then be provided with a passage home and granted pay at Rs 600 pm for the days he stayed at the College after the expiry of his present agreement.
There was no intention to grant him Exchange Compensation allowance in addition to the Salary of Rs 600 above named. Had Mr. Lobban accepted the agreement sent in by the Secretary of State, he would 'officially' be eligible for the allowance - Vice Finance Depart Resols No. 3383, F.O. & A. d 7th July 1909 para. 3 (b) of Statement. As he did not accept this, he ~~was~~ is not officially eligible for the

Go. 297 Jul, 0

the allowance. In these circumstances, it does not appear that Mr. Lobban's claim for the allowance is tenable.

24.5.10

The question is - what exactly was Mr. Lobban's official status from the 12th March 1910 to the 29th April 1910? His appointment as Professor of Engineering ceased on the 12th of March. But he did not become a member of the India Edu' Service after that, as he declined the post on the terms offered him. The only way in which he could be officially entitled to exchange compensation allowance was as a member of the India Edu' Service; which he was not.

Now, I submit, is there any ground for giving him the allowance as a concession. He stopped on doing the duties of Professor after the 12th March on a salary of Rs 600 which was more than he was getting during the period for which he ~~agreed~~ was under an agreement. I submit that no further concession is called for.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

By declining the offer of appointment to the Indian Educational service on the expiry of the period (two years from 13-3-08 to 12-3-10) for which he was originally appointed as temporary professor in the Engineering College, Madras, Mr. Lobban did not become a member of the Indian Educational service during the period ~~from 13-3-10 to 29-4-10~~ from 13-3-10 to 29-4-10 and was consequently not entitled to exchange compensation allowance. The Local Govt. cannot therefore, without India's sanction ^{consider} him "as 'officially eligible' as a member of the Indian Educational service' for exchange compensation allowance" during the period as suggested by the Acctt. Genl. and grant him the allowance even if they chose to do so.

2. Mr. Lobban's pay during the period in question was fixed by the Govt. at Rs 600 which is more than the pay (Rs 500) drawn by him for the two years under para:5 of his agreement and there was thus no hardship as pointed out by the Educational dept.

ORDER:
Mis.N^o 348 of 15. 6. 10

The Government decline to sanction the grant to Mr. Lobban of exchange compensation allowance, to which he would have become entitled only if he had accepted an appointment in the Indian Educational Service. This allowance was expressly excluded from the terms of his engagement as temporary Professor of Engineering, and he has therefore no ground for claiming it during the informal continuation of that appointment from 13th March to 29th April 1910, more especially as he was in receipt of a higher pay for that period.
