The Humble Petition of

Herbert Spencer Duncan
Deputy Director of Public Instruction, Madras

RESPECTFULLY SHEWETH,

That your Petitioner is a member of the Indian Educational Service.

That a degree in Honours at a recognized University, a training in educational theory, and a practical experience in teaching are the conditions qualifying for admission into this Service.

That in consequence its members enter the Service at a comparatively late age, many having attained 25 years and upwards before their arrival in India.

That in many Indian Services, officers enjoy the option of retiring on a reduced pension after twenty years' service or less (e.g., Forest and Geological Survey, Civil Veterinary Department, Civil Engineering and Telegraph, Indian Medical), and draw full pension after twenty-five years' service (e.g., Forest and Geological Survey, Civil Engineering and Telegraph).

That in certain Services officers who have served for 3 years in higher appointments are eligible for an additional pension of Rs. 1,000 per annum.

That members of the Indian Educational Service (a) must, unless retired on Medical Certificate, either serve thirty years, or attain the age of 55 to obtain any pension, and (b) are not eligible for any additional pension no matter what pay and allowances in the cadre of the Indian Educational Service they may be drawing at the time of retirement.

That since 1897 when the Service was re-organised the number of officers serving in the Madras Presidency in that Branch of the Indian Educational Service in which the pay is Rs. 500—Rs. 1,000 has been increased from 14 to 25.

That nevertheless the number and amount of the personal allowances have remained as fixed in 1897.

Herbert Spencer Duncan

14 September 1910

That members joining the Service at the present time have the prospect of being excluded from these personal allowances through no fault on their part and may draw an increase of pay of only Rs. 100 per mensem after the first 10 years of their service.

That Principals of Colleges have administrative duties and greatly increased responsibilities, quite apart from their Professorial work, and that this fact was recognised in the re-organisation Scheme of 1896 to the extent of attaching to the office of Principal of the Presidency College a senior allowance of Rs. 250—500, since when the College has been much enlarged and its staff has been increased in preparation for the new Honours Courses. But that under the system at present prevailing in the Madras Presidency no compensation is secured either to the officer holding such a Principalship or to the officer acting in it even in the case of the Presidency College.

That in order to remove these anomalies your Petitioner prays that the rules affecting the members of the Indian Educational Service may be amended so as—

(1) To allow optional retirement on a reduced pension of Rs. 4,000 after twenty years' service.

(2) To allow optional retirement on a pension of Rs. 5,000 after twenty-five years' service.

(3) To allow an officer who has held a senior allowance for not fewer than three years to be eligible for an additional pension of Rs. 1,000 per annum.

(4) To continue during a second period of ten years the annual increment of Rs. 50, drawn at present only during the first ten years of their service by officers of the Indian Educational Service, so that at the end of twenty years an officer would be in receipt of Rs. 1,500 a month.

(5) To increase the number and the amount of the personal allowances in a manner commensurate with the growing size and the enhanced importance of the Indian Educational Service.

(6) To give a local allowance to the officer discharging the duties of Principal of a College distinct from these personal allowances.

And your Petitioner as in duty bound will ever pray.

That members joining the Service at the present time have the prospect of being excluded from these personal allowances through no fault on their part and may draw an increase of pay of only Rs. 100 per mensem after the first 10 years of their service.

That Principals of Colleges have administrative duties and greatly increased responsibilities, quite apart from their Professorial work, and that this fact was recognised in the re-organisation Scheme of 1896 to the extent of attaching to the office of Principal of the Presidency College a senior allowance of Rs. 250—500, since when the College has been much enlarged and its staff has been increased in preparation for the new Honours Courses. But that under the system at present prevailing in the Madras Presidency no compensation is secured either to the officer holding such a Principalship or to the officer acting in it even in the case of the Presidency College.

That in order to remove these anomalies your Petitioner prays that the rules affecting the members of the Indian Educational Service may be amended so as—

(1) To allow optional retirement on a reduced pension of Rs. 4,000 after twenty years' service.

(2) To allow optional retirement on a pension of Rs. 5,000 after twenty-five years' service.

(3) To allow an officer who has held a senior allowance for not fewer than three years to be eligible for an additional pension of Rs. 1,000 per annum.

(4) To continue during a second period of ten years the annual increment of Rs. 50, drawn at present only during the first ten years of their service by officers of the Indian Educational Service, so that at the end of twenty years an officer would be in receipt of Rs. 1,500 a month.

(5) To increase the number and the amount of the personal allowances in a manner commensurate with the growing size and the enhanced importance of the Indian Educational Service.

(6) To give a local allowance to the officer discharging the duties of Principal of a College distinct from these personal allowances.

And your Petitioner as in duty bound will ever pray.

The Humble Petition of

(acting in the I Circle)

RESPECTFULLY SHEWETH,

That your Petitioner is a member of the Indian Educational Service.

That a degree in Honours at a recognized University, a training in educational theory, and a practical experience in teaching are the conditions qualifying for admission into this Service.

That in consequence its members enter the Service at a comparatively late age, many having attained 25 years and upwards before their arrival in India.

That in many Indian Services, officers enjoy the option of retiring on a reduced pension after twenty years' service or less (e.g., Forest and Geological Survey, Civil Veterinary Department, Civil Engineering and Telegraph, Indian Medical), and draw full pension after twenty-five years' service (e.g., Forest and Geological Survey, Civil Engineering and Telegraph).

That in certain Services officers who have served for 3 years in higher appointments are eligible for an additional pension of Rs. 1,000 per annum.

That members of the Indian Educational Service (a) must, unless retired on Medical Certificate, either serve thirty years, or attain the age of 55 to obtain any pension, and (b) are not eligible for any additional pension no matter what pay and allowances in the cadre of the Indian Educational Service they may be drawing at the time of retirement.

That since 1897 when the Service was re-organised the number of officers serving in the Madras Presidency in that Branch of the Indian Educational Service in which the pay is Rs. 500—Rs. 1,000 has been increased from 14 to 25.

That nevertheless the number and amount of the personal allowances have remained as fixed in 1897.

Oswald Jennings Couldrey

26. 5. 10

That members joining the Service at the present time have the prospect of being excluded from these personal allowances through no fault on their part and may draw an increase of pay of only Rs. 100 per mensem after the first 10 years of their service.

That Principals of Colleges have administrative duties and greatly increased responsibilities, quite apart from their Professorial work, and that this fact was recognised in the re-organisation Scheme of 1896 to the extent of attaching to the office of Principal of the Presidency College a senior allowance of Rs. 250—500, since when the College has been much enlarged and its staff has been increased in preparation for the new Honours Courses. But that under the system at present prevailing in the Madras Presidency no compensation is secured either to the officer holding such a Principalship or to the officer acting in it even in the case of the Presidency College.

That in order to remove these anomalies your Petitioner prays that the rules affecting the members of the Indian Educational Service may be amended so as—

(1) To allow optional retirement on a reduced pension of Rs. 4,000 after twenty years' service.

(2) To allow optional retirement on a pension of Rs. 5,000 after twenty-five years' service.

(3) To allow an officer who has held a senior allowance for not fewer than three years to be eligible for an additional pension of Rs. 1,000 per annum.

(4) to continue during a second period of ten years the annual increment of Rs.50 drawn at present during only during the first ten years of their service service by officers of the Indian Educational Service, so that at the end of twenty years an officer would be in receipt of Rs.1,500 a month;

(5) to increase the number and the amount of the personal allowances in a manner commensurate with the growing size and the enhanced importance of the Indian Educational Service; and

(6) to give a local allowance to the officer discharging the duties of Principal of a College, distinct from these personal allowances.

Requests Nos. (1) to (3) relate to pension; Nos.(4) and (5) to increase of salary and allowances and No.(6) to the grant of a local allowance to Principals of colleges.

5. Increase of salary and personal allowances.- The fourth and fifth requests which relate to increase of salary and personal allowances may be considered first. The Memorialists request that officers of the Indian Educational Service may be allowed to continue to draw increments of Rs.50 per annum even after their tenth year of service, so that they may at the end of 20 years be in receipt of Rs.1,500 a month, and that the number and amount amount of personal allowances may be increased.

4. The present pay of the Indian Educational Service is a time scale of Rs.500-50-1,000 per mensem supplemented by allowances called respectively junior and senior allowances at the rates of Rs.200-10-250 and Rs.250-50-500 per mensem. A fixed number of these allowances is assigned to each province, the number assigned to Madras being four; two junior and two senior allowances. The total strength of the Indian Educational Service in this Presidency on the scale of pay of Rs.500-50-1000 is at present 24. There is also an allowance of Rs.100 per mensem attached to the Indian Educational Service which is granted to those officers who have completed fifteen years service without succeeding to any one of the senior or junior allowances. The Government of India have already recognised the inadequacy of the existing terms of service of the Indian Educational officers and have been taken steps to improve them. The proposals contained in the Home Department letter of the 26th August 1909, which this Government have accepted, provide that the present scale of Rs.500-50-1000 should, instead of terminating at Rs.1,000 per mensem, ~~shall~~ be extended to Rs.1,300, so that the initial pay of the service may be Rs.500-50-1300 per mensem, and that in lieu of the allowances obtaining under the present system there should be a higher scale of Rs.1,400-200/3-1,800 to which officers who deserve advancement should be eligible to be promoted. The total number of officers in the higher scale will be 20 per cent of the whole strength of the Indian Educational Service (not including ladies), and it does not appear that the Memorialists would have any grievance, if and when the proposals are sanctioned by the Secretary of State.

5. Pension. Three specific requests are made in regard to pension, namely,

(1) optional retirement on a reduced pension of ₹4,000 after twenty years' service,

(2) optional retirement on a pension of ₹5000 after 25 years' service, and

(3) grant of an additional pension of ₹1,000 to an officer who has held the senior allowance for not less than three years.

6. With regard to the first two requests, it is observed that there are no special rules for the

the grant of pension to officers of the Indian Educational Service, and their case is governed by the ordinary rules of the Civil Service Regulations. An educational officer can retire on his attaining 55 years of age (Article 464), or on his completing 30 years' qualifying service (Article 465), or on being invalided (Article 441). In the first and last cases, he will be eligible only for a proportionate pension calculated on the length of his service (vide Articles 468 and 474); while in the second case, he will be eligible for a half pension subject to a maximum limit of ₹.5,000 per annum. Under the existing rules, the Indian Educational Service officers can retire on completion of a service of 20 or 25 years, only in case they are invalided, and then, they will be eligible for a pension equal to one-third in the former case and one half in the latter case of their average emoluments, subject to a maximum of ₹.4,000 and ₹.5,000 per annum respectively. The present request of the memorialists is that they should

7. In paragraphs 9 and 10 of his u.o.note dated 21st September 1909, on page 2 of the notes with G.O.No.27, Edl., dated 17th January 1910, Dr.Bourne raised the question of the disabilities of the Educational officers in the matter of pension and pointed out that while the officers of almost all other services were eligible for a retiring pension after 20 years' service (Forest, Geological Survey, Civil Veterinary and Public Works), educational officers who were specially trained and mostly University men had to put in 30 years; and he also sounded the warning note that memorials were under preparation on this matter.

8. In paragraph 8 of their letter to India No.28, Educational, dated 17th January 1910, the Government accordingly recommended that in the case of officers of the Indian Educational Service the period of service qualifying for retiring pension might be reduced from 30 to 25 years years. The present requests of the memorialists seem to go much farther than this, and it is for consideration whether the Government will recommend the grant of these requests. As stated by the memorialists, officers of the Forest, Geological Survey, Civil Veterinary and the Public Works Departments are allowed to retire on a retiring pension after 20 years' service-Vide Articles 476(c), 623(d) and 641(c) of the C.S.R..

9. As regards the third request of the Memorialists, namely, that an additional pension of Rs.1,000 should be given to those educational officers who have held a senior allowance for not fewer than three years, it is submitted that the only provisions in the Civil Service Regulations for the grant of additional pensions are those contained in Articles 475, 642 and 645. The only educational appointment for which the grant of an additional pension is provided for is that of the Director of Public Instruction, officers holding which are granted an additional pension of Rs.1,000 a year provided that they have rendered not less than three years of effective service in that post.

Article 475 of the Civil Service Regulations.

The post of Director of Public Instruction is, however, outside the Indian Educational Service. In the recent proposals for the reorganization of the Indian Educational Service, it is proposed to do away with the senior and junior allowances now granted to officers of the service and to substitute instead an increased rate of pay. It seems, therefore, to be unnecessary to consider the request, as at present made. But it may be urged th at even according to the revised scale of pay, the senior officers who would hold the topmost appointments in the Indian Educational Service, should get the concession of an additional xxx pension. An examination of the provisions of sections 475, 642 and 645 of the Civil Service Regulations, shows that in several departments, such as, the Police, Public Works and Forest departments, senior officers at the top of the service below the head of the department get an additional pension, for instance, the Deputy Inspectors General of Police and the Commissioner of Police in the Police Department, Superintending Engineers in the Public Works Department, and Conservators of Forests Forests in the Forest Department. It is therefore for consideration whether this request of the Memorialists may be supported.

10. Local allowance to Principals of Colleges

The Memorialists request ~~is~~ that a local allowance may be granted to the officer discharging the duties of Principal of a College.

11. In paragraph 10 of Home Department Resolution No.4 Education, 204-215, dated 23rd July 1896, sanctioning the reorganization of the Educational services in India, the Government of India laid down that of the four allowances (two senior and two junior) assigned to officers of the Indian Educational Service in the Madras Presidency, the two senior allowances on Rs.250-50-500 each should be given to the Principal of the Presidency College and the Senior Inspector of Schools and the two junior allowances on Rs.200-10-250 each to the Principal of the Rajahmundry and Kumbakonam colleges. The Government of Madras were, however, given discretion to grant one of the lower allowances to an Inspector of long standing and approved service if, in their opinion, his claims to it were superior to those of one of the Principals. Owing to practical difficulties experienced in the award of these allowances, the Local Government requested the Government of India in letter No.97 Educational dated 9th February 1904 that the allowances might be disconnected from the particular appointments to which they were attached by the Resolution of 1896 and that the Local Government should be given full discretion as to the award of the allowances. This proposal was approved by the Secretary of State-Despatch No.96 Public, dated 24th June 1904. At present these allowances are awarded by the Local Government at their discretion to the most senior and deserving officers.

12. Attention is, in this connection, solicited to paragraph 8 of India's letter No.754 dated 26th August 1909 forwarding the proposals for the reorganization of the Indian Educational Service in which they refer to the system of allowances above referred to and express the opinion that it would be inexpedient to retain in any form the principle of attaching certain of the higher rates of pay to certain of the more responsible posts. According to the proposals of the Government of India, local Governments

Para 5 of Indian letter, p.5 of Go. No 27 Est B 17.1.10

will have discretion to advance the deserving men to the higher scale of pay, but when so advanced they will draw their pay irrespective of the posts which they hold. The Govt of India observe -

"In the ordinary course it may be expected "that by this system the most responsible posts "will be held by the most senior and most deserving "men, who will also be in receipt of the highest "pay in their respective branches of the service; "but if, for instance, a junior officer should be "appointed out of the ordinary course to be the "Principal of the chief Government College, he "would not receive remuneration beyond what he k "was entitled to receive under the system as "explained above."

para. 5 of letter 28 Est C 17.1.10

Following the above principle enunciated by the Government of India, the local Government have opposed the proposal of that Government to attach a local allowance of Rs.100 per mensem to the post of Assistant Director. In these circumstances,

Para. 12 of India's letter, p. 6 of Go. 27 Est. B. 17.1.10 the present request of the Memorialists that a local allowance should be attached to the post of Principals of a College seems entitled to little consideration.

Memo.

3. The one matter not included in the Scheme is the suggestion that an Officer who has held a Senior allowance for not fewer than 3 years should be declared eligible for an addl pension of Rs 1,000 per annum. But as the Scheme provides for the substitution of a higher grade of Rs 1,400 – 200/3 – 1,800 for these Senior allowances, the question of an addl pension may need not, it is submitted, be discussed with the final orders of the Secy of State on the scheme are received. The D.P.I. has not made any remarks on this question - In para 15 of his letter No 954 dy 26-8-09, the Govt of India stated that ~~they could not take cognizance of~~ the scheme was not to include any proposals affecting pensions as they would not "be able to entertain any proposals for increasing "the total burden of the non-effective charges"-
