The Hon'ble Mr. Dadabhoy to ask the following question:-

Are educated Indians admitted into the various Government factories in the country as apprentices for training in the details of manufacture, especially in the higher branches? If not, will Government be pleased to provide for the admission of such apprentices for the technological instruction of the people?

Reply by the Hon'ble Mr. Butler to the Hon'ble Mr. Dadabhoy's question re admission of educated Indians as apprentices into the factories.

"We have no information. It is believed that some Government factories take Indians as apprentices. If the Hon'ble Member will indicate in what particular factories apprentices or more apprentices might with advantage be received, the matter will be further considered".
