Griffith in the Indian Educational service as Professor of Civil Engineering, Madras, with effect from 14th August 1910, I have the honour to point out that the Hon'ble Mr: A. Chatterton had a lien on the appointment of Professor of Civil Engineering upto the 31st December 1910, as he was appointed permanent Superintendent of Industrial Education only with effect from 1st January 1911, and his pay for the period previous to that date was taken to the temporary head Director of Industries and not the head Superintendent of

2. I would therefore venture to suggest, that the lien of Mr: Chatterton on the appointment of Professor of Civil Engineering from 14th August to 31st December 1910, should be suspended under Article 89 Civil Service Regulations, so as to enable Mr: Griffiths' service to count for pension and leave.
