Sir,

In continuation of my application dated 3rd April 1911 No. R.89/11 I have the honour to report that the recently appointed nursery overseer, one Srinivasa-charlu has obtained a better post in Parlakimedi and I am again without a nursery overseer. The Curator urges the claims of Iswara Aiyar on whose behalf I asked for exemption. He points out that nursery work is peculiar and a diploma in agriculture which may qualify for work in the fields does not by any means connote efficiency for glasshouse work. He has further represented to me that the post of nursery overseer is simply regarded as a stepping stone to something better. I would add that the skill required for the work is really gained by experience rather than book learning and the actual work itself could be learnt and probably learnt well by any intelligent head gardener such as I have at Caerlaverock. All that is needed besides is that amount of education which gives the possessor some authority over coolies and enables him to read, write and keep accounts. Iswara Aiyar has been for 6 years connected with the gardens and has had considerable experience in nursery work and I proposed that he be appointed permanently to the post, being granted a permanent exemption. I make this request because having regard to the arguments I have used I am convinced that if we get a succession of men however well qualified on paper, to do work which experience alone can acquire, we shall not do so well by the gardens as if we appoint a man who though less highly qualified, has already the requisite knowledge and is not likely to seek for other employment.

2. I am told unofficially that my previous application for exemption never reached Government. It seems to have been despatched from my office. I now enclose another form with my recommendation for permanent exemption.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

C. G. Aiyar
