Hon'ble Sir,

Most humbly and respectfully Showeth,

Your Excellency's memo-rialist humbly begs to submit that he is the typist of the District and Sessions Court, Kistna, and has put in 9 years' service, doing his duties to the entire satisfaction of his superiors;

2) That he appeared for the Matriculation Examination - twice but failed, as he could not get the required number of marks once in Mathematics and another time in Science subject.
On both the occasions he was however successful in the English and other subjects;

3) That owing to unavoidable domestic difficulties he could not again appear and pass the said Examination and was consequently obliged to enter service;

33
4) That subsequent to his entry in service he has passed not only Typewriting Test in the Intermediate Grade - but also Shorthand Test in the same grade - an Examination - which requires that candidates for the said Test should take Shorthand notes of speeches at the rate of 100 words per minute and transcribe them without committing more than 4 per cent. of errors or omissions, and should also elaborate a condensed piece of a report &c., dictated at the same rate - a Test in which no candidate whose knowledge of English is short of the Matriculation Standard could hope to succeed. He also holds a Group Certificate in Shorthand. In this connection he begs permission to state that persons possessing such certificates will be very few in the whole Presidency;

5) That he had on many occasions reported the judgments of Messrs. Hannay and Dutt accurately and to their satisfaction;

6) That he also knows other branches of work in the Office and had for some time been a Bench Clerk in charge of the Sessions and Criminal work;

7) That, with all that, he, not having passed the Matriculation Examination, is at a disadvantage in that he can not appear for the Departmental Tests to qualify himself for promotion and has therefore to content himself with his lot of a typist during the tenure of his whole service without any chances of better prospects in future and exposing himself to the attack of what is called the "Typist's Paralysis" consequent on the strain to the fingers, which renders him perfectly useless for further service, in the prime of his life and thus debars him from reaping any pension at all as fruits of his many years' hard labour;

8) That he applied for exemption twice previously but was refused. Although his case had been the then president's

Your memorialist therefore most humbly and respectfully prays that Your Excellency may be graciously pleased to show mercy on this poor servant and grant him the exemption from passing the Compulsory portion only of the Upper Secondary Examination, as he has already completed the Optionals - two Intermediates (Typewriting and Shorthand), or the necessary exemption entitling him to appear for the Departmental Tests.

Sanguinely hoping that his humble prayer this time shall not fail to touch the tender chords of your Excellency's benevolent and sympathetic heart,

Your Excellency's most humble and obedient servant,

Sir,

In forwarding herewith, for the favourable consideration of the High Court, an application from S. Padhama Rao, typist of this Court, for exemption from paying the Matriculation Examination to enable him to appear for the Departmental Tests, I have the honour to state that I consider his case a fit one for such exemption being granted as by character and other qualifications deserves every encouragement.

Sir,

In forwarding herewith an application from S.Rangadhama Rao, typist of this Court, for exemption from passing the Matriculation Examination or the Compulsory portion of the Upper Secondary Examination, I have the honour to state that I agree with Mr. Elwin. I may here state that a Shorthand-typist is generally very useful in a Civil Court. The District and Sessions Judge always has a Shorthand-Writer attached to his Court, but such Shorthand Writer is generally not a typist as well. A Shorthand-typist can take down a judgment in Shorthand and transcribe it neatly with a typewriter. A neat transcription always facilitates corrections. The Sessions Judge can give a special allowance to the Shorthand Writer attached to his Court and he therefore has no difficulty in securing Shorthand Writer. Sub Judges and Munsifs are not allowed to do so although many of them dictate their judgments. I have at least one Sub Judge who complained to me that he had Shorthand Writer in his Court. If the exemption applied granted, I have little doubt that the applicant would be very useful to one of the Courts, if he

Copy of letter from the District Judge of Kistna, to the Registrar, High Court, Madras, No. 1827, dated 28th March 1912.

I have the honour to forward herewith an application from the typist of this Court to His Excellency the Governor-in-Council applying for exemption from the Examination Rules.

2. He has already been twice recommended for exemption by my predecessors in office. I venture to enclose copies of their letters.

3. So far as his work is concerned I can say he is a first class typist and is also a trained Shorthand Writer. I do not use him for the work as I have another Shorthand Writer, but my predecessors were in the habit of dictating judgments to him, which he took down, I believe, to their full satisfaction.

4. His knowledge of English is good and he would be perfectly able to do any work that is likely to fall to his lot in the Regular line of a Court's Establishment.

5. His conduct is exemplary.
