GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT.

READ—the following paper :—

Letter—from P. R. ALLEN, Esq., M.I.C.E., Superintending Engineer, III Circle.
To—the Chief Engineer, Public Works Department.
Dated—Bellary, the 21st May 1912.
No.—3960.

In reference to the rules regarding the temporary exemption of candidates not duly qualified for appointments in Government service from passing the prescribed tests, I have the honour to submit the following case for your orders.

One P. Venkataswami Nayudu, an unpassed candidate, was appointed as a draftsman in the Tank Restoration Scheme division office of this circle, and he was temporarily exempted for this appointment in G.O. R. No. 51, Educational, dated the 9th February 1912, from the examination rules—vide your No. 1674-C., dated the 14th February 1912. But from 22nd January 1912 he was posted as a surveyor in the same division; and to hold this appointment he was exempted in G.O. R. No. 74, Educational, dated the 27th February 1912, and G.O. R. No. 99, Educational, dated the 14th March 1912—vide your Nos. 2245-C., dated 2nd March 1912, and 3173-C., dated 26th March 1912. The exemption granted in G.O. R. No. 99, Educational, dated the 14th March 1912, is with reference to the now called lower subordinate test of the College of Engineering. I request to know whether this general exemption will hold good to this unpassed man being appointed either as a surveyor or as a draftsman. Owing to the congestion of work in the office of the Executive Engineer, Tank Restoration Scheme division, and owing to the paucity of passed draftsmen, he has my permission to appoint this man as a temporary draftsman to existing vacancies. As this man is willing to take up the draftsman's post only on Rs. 40, which is the sanctioned pay of the post, I beg to raise a second question, whether a candidate exempted from examination rules for a particular post at a particular rate of pay specified in the application may be subsequently given a higher rate of pay, but not exceeding the sanctioned rate, and without further orders of exemption from Government. Requesting your instructions on the above two points.

Order—No. 593, Educational, dated 4th July 1912.

In his letter read above the Superintending Engineer, III Circle, enquires—

(1) whether a candidate, who is temporarily exempted from the lower subordinate test of the College of Engineering for employment as a surveyor, can be employed either as a surveyor or as a draftsman; and

(2) whether a candidate who is exempted from examination rules for appointment to a particular post on a salary which is specified in the application for exemption, may subsequently be given a higher salary not exceeding the sanctioned pay of the post without further orders of Government.

The Superintending Engineer will be informed that the answers to both the queries are in the negative. A candidate exempted from the examination rules for appointment to a particular post cannot, without the sanction of Government, be appointed to a different post even though the qualifications prescribed for the two posts are the same; nor can a candidate exempted for an appointment carrying a specified rate of pay be subsequently given a higher rate without further sanction.

2. With reference to the case of P. Venkataswami Nayudu, who was temporarily exempted in G.O. R. No. 99, Educational, dated 14th March 1912, for employment as a surveyor, the Superintending Engineer will be informed that that exemption was not, as he supposes, a general one; it applied only to the post indicated and to the rate of pay mentioned in the application disposed of in the Government order. In the circumstances stated by the Superintending Engineer, the Government are, however, pleased, as a special case, to extend the exemption so as to admit of Venkataswami Nayudu's employment as a draftsman on Rs. 40 per mensem within the period specified in G.O. R. No. 99, Educational, dated 14th March 1912, i.e., up to the 28th February 1913, or until a passed candidate is available.

NOTES CONNECTED WITH G.O. No. 593, EDUCATIONAL,
DATED 4TH JULY 1912.

[SUBJECT.—Interpretation of the rules of the Public Service Notification.]

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

From the Superintending Engineer, III Circle, No. 3960, dated 21st May 1912.

Attention is solicited to the Superintending Engineer's letter read above. The questions raised therein are for consideration in the Educational Department, to whom the file may, it is submitted, be forwarded for remarks.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT.

This case relates to one P. Venkataswami Nayudu who was being employed either as a surveyor or as a draftsman by the Superintending Engineer, III Circle, from 26th March 1910.

2. In G.O. R. No. 219, Educational, dated 4th June 1910, the Government sanctioned Venkataswami Nayudu's exemption from the examination rules for employment as a surveyor* on Rs. 50 per mensem in the Tank Restoration Scheme Division of the third circle from 26th March 1910 to 28th February 1911, or until the services of a passed candidate were available, whichever was earlier. This exemption was subsequently extended up to 29th February 1912—vide G.O. R. No. 206, Educational, dated 29th June 1911. But Venkataswami Nayudu's appointment as surveyor was terminated before that date, as a passed candidate became available.

3. When Venkataswami Nayudu's employment as a surveyor came to an end in the manner described above, the Superintending Engineer applied for his exemption for employment as a draftsman† from 27th September 1911 to 29th February 1912, and this was sanctioned in G.O. R. No. 51, Educational, dated 9th February 1912. In the meanwhile, the passed surveyor referred to in paragraph 1 supra resigned with effect from 22nd January 1912. The Superintending Engineer then appointed Venkataswami Nayudu in that post‡ and applied for his exemption up to 31st March 1912. The exemption was sanctioned in † Pay of the post Rs. 40; pay proposed to be given Rs. 30.

Cf. column 7 of application on page 1 of G.O. R. No. 74, Educational, dated 27th February 1912.

G.O. R. No. 74, Educational, dated 27th February 1912, and was subsequently extended up to 28th February 1913 in G.O. R. No. 99, Educational, dated 14th March 1912.

† G.Os. No. 51, Educational, dated 9th February 1912, No. 74, Educational, dated 27th February 1912, and No. 99, Educational, dated 14th March 1912.

4. The exemptions* granted in 1910 and 1911 referred to "Sub-overseer and Surveyor test", while those† sanctioned in the current year referred to the "Lower Subordinate Test of the College of Engineering." The Superintending Engineer considers the latter a "general" exemption and enquires whether it will hold good in the case of Venkataswami's appointment as a surveyor or a draftsman. The distinction which is sought to be made by the Superintending Engineer between the description of the tests referred to above is unfounded. The "Sub-Overseer and Surveyor" test has ceased to exist and its place has been taken up by the "Lower Subordinate Test." This is made clear in the last order, viz., G.O. R. No. 99, Educational, dated 14th March 1912. The exemption granted in the last three Government Orders is therefore of no more general character than that sanctioned in the previous orders. Further, the exemptions granted, whether general or special, have operation only in respect of the appointments specified in the applications. They cannot be utilized for other appointments.

5. The Superintending Engineer apparently considers that Venkataswami's appointment as surveyor will cease before the date up to which exemption has been obtained, viz., 28th February 1913, and intends to appoint him as a draftsman. In that case he has only to make a separate application for exemption.

6. The second question raised by the Superintending Engineer, viz., whether a candidate exempted for a particular post at a particular rate of pay can be subsequently given a higher rate of pay not exceeding the sanctioned rate, does not also admit of an affirmative answer. It is therefore submitted that the Superintending Engineer may be informed that the exemption granted under G.O. R. No. 99, Educational, dated 14th March 1912, is not of a general character but applies to the particular appointment specified in the application and that a candidate exempted for an appointment at a particular rate of pay cannot be given a higher rate without further sanction.

7. In view of the circumstances stated, it may perhaps be desirable in this particular case to extend the exemption so as to cover also the appointment of Venkataswami Nayudu as a draftsman on Rs. 40 per mensem within the period specified in G.O. R. No. 99, Educational, dated 14th March 1912. This will avoid a further application. The Public Works Department may be asked u.o. to state whether this extension of exemption may be granted.

2. The conclusion at A above may be accepted in this department and Educational may be requested to issue a general order to that effect for communication to all Superintending Engineers.

3. As regards B, Educational may be asked to grant the extension of exemption in the present case, so as to admit of Venkataswami Nayudu's employment as a draftsman on Rs. 40 within the period specified in G.O. R. No. 99, Educational, dated 14th March 1912.
