Extract from the notes relating G.O., No. 690 Mis., Educational, dated 31st July 1912, regarding the exemption of C. Parthasarathy Nayudu, from the Government technical examinations in shorthand and typewriting, advanced grade.

Mr. Cotterell wants to correct, I think, the anomalous position now occupied in his office by Parthasarathy Nayudu, the confidential clerk. But it is not necessary in order to do so to lower permanently the standard fixed so recently as last year, nor to increase the nett cost of the establishment. Parthasarathy Nayudu is a quite competent stenographer and though his usefulness as a confidential clerk might be increased if he were an accomplished typist also, Mr. Cotterell's view may be accepted that this is not essential. So long as advanced tests both in shorthand and typewriting are required of one clerk on Rs.75-5/2-100 and intermediate tests of the clerk on Rs.40-5/2-75 it will be quite sufficient I think if the qualifications which Parthasarathy Nayudu possesses are accepted as giving him a claim to the vacant post on Rs.75-5/2-100 as confidential clerk and further in view of his having served already for more than two years on Rs.75 I would permit him to draw Rs.80. This will ~~g~~ give him seniority to the other clerk on Rs.75-5/2-100 and prevent the anomaly of his drawing less pay than a clerk whose responsibilities are less.

As regards the typewriting qualification, Mr. A.Y.G. Campbell's view was (as stated in my note dated 23rd February 1911) that it was of importance when His

Excellency

Excellency the Governor is on tour that the clerks should understand the mechanism of a typewriter and be able to repair the machines if they get out of order. As the Advanced Test involves a pass in the mechanism, M Mr. Campbell wished it prescribed. It might be well not to change this pending further experience on tour.

But if the P.S.G. wants to adjust the position of an individual clerk C. Parthasarathy Nayudu, the Educational Department would probably exempt him from the advanced tests, and he could then be given Rs.75-5/2-100

A.G.C.

I have no objection to exempting C. Parthasarathy Nayudu and letting him have the post of Rs.75-5/2-100 and he may be started on Rs.80 if the account rules -- allow this. This will apparently meet the P.S.G.'s wishes and avoid the increased change which seems unnecessary.

I agree with His Excellency.

Educational Department.

Please see item (10) under "O.Miscellaneous" on page 12 of the Public Service notification. No clerk in the P.S.G.'s office can draw more than Rs.50 as his pay unless he has passed the Government technical -- examinations in shorthand and in typewriting in the intermediate grade. C. Parthasarathy Nayudu one of the clerks in that office has passed only the shorthand examination in the intermediate grade and has not passed any examination in typewriting. In para 3 of G.O., No.292 Public, dated 22nd March 1911 Parthasarathy

Nayudu

Will Excellency please kindly issue orders of exemption in respect of C. Parthasarathy Nayudu & the question of allowing him to draw pay at once on the Rs 80 stage can then be dealt with.

A.G.C.
23-7-12

Nayudu was exempted from the typewriting test(intermediate) and permitted to draw Rs.75 per mensem.

2. The Public Department now proposes to exempt Parthasarathy Nayudu from the examinations in shorthand and in typewriting in the advanced grade for employment as a clerk on Rs.75-5/2-100 in the P.S.G.'s office. His Excellency the Governor has accepted the proposal.

3. A draft order is submitted for approval. After its issue the file may be returned to the Public Department u.o. extracts from these notes being retained
