To the Secretary to the Government of Madras,

(Through the Accountant - General)

Sir,

I have the honour to request that you will be so good as to obtain the sanction of Government for the employment for a period of one year with effect from 1st January 1913, of two additional library attenders on Rs. 15/- and 12/- in the Madras Law College.

2. The Acting Principal reports that since July last a Reading Room has been opened in the College and that it has been considerably enlarged by the addition of a large number of periodicals supplied under G.O. No. 993 M.S. D. dated 12th November 1912. He further states that having regard to the small size of the consulting room it was advisable to separate books on various subjects frequently in demand among students and that these books are lodged in five of the lecture rooms with the result that the congestion in the consulting room is avoided and better facilities are now afforded to students, under the present arrangement the lecture halls instead of being used only for two hours in a day are kept open from 9-30 A.M. to 5-30 P.M. and made good use of.

Dr. Swaminathan considers that for the proper working of the five class libraries and of the reading room, the existing establishment for the library viz., 1 Librarian and 1 attender is hardly adequate and that it is necessary to have at least two additional attenders on Rs. 15/- and 12/-; one to attend to the Reading Room and the lending section and the other to be in charge of nearly 1200 volumes which are deposited in the five lecture rooms.

3. I am entirely in favour of the proposal which simply carries out the ideas of the University Inspection Commission which suggested that the library and reading room might be opened from 8 A.M. to 6 P.M. during each College working day and that if necessary an additional librarian might be appointed. I also consider that affording facilities for breadth of reading which these proposals have in view is a probable means of reducing the large percentage of failures in the University Law Examinations year after year. It is hardly to be expected that every student can have a large law library, and the proposals now made have for their object the full utilization of the College library and of the very generous supply of periodical literature made by Government.

Room and the Library open from 7 A.M. to 9 P.M. instead of to 5-30 P.M. as at present. This will be a boon to the bulk of the students who live in the proximity of the College. The proposal may, I think, be sanctioned tentatively for one year and if it works well the question of continuing the arrangement may then be considered.

From the financial point of view, the fact that each student pays in fees more than his legal education costs to Government justifies, I think, the additional expenditure so likely to add to the efficiency of this training.

4. I beg to submit herewith the necessary reappropriation statement for meeting the proposed charge during the current year and to state that another statement for meeting the charge during 1913-1914 will be submitted on receipt of the Civil Budget Estimates for that year.

It is submitted that in the absence of special reasons a rate of Rs 10 would appear to suffice for the two additional attenders in the present case.

4. Provision of funds. The D.P.I. has pointed out the source from which the charge during the current year can be met. As regards next year, submitted that the Acct. It is for consideration whether in view of the financial note above, a uniform ~~rate~~ rate of pay of Rs. 10 per mensem should be adopted for the two new attenden proposed. The object of the D.P.D. in proposing a graduated scale of attenden is apparently to provide for promotion among the attenden.
