G.O. no 153 Edl
22-2-12

I am to refer to my letter no. 313, dated the 6th February 1912 regarding the recognition of schools and your reply on the subject.

2. The Government of Bengal, while stating that the present arrangements for recognition have given rise to considerable difficulties, are not prepared to express an opinion on the best way of removing them until they have obtained the opinion of the Calcutta University. The Government of India have intimated to the Local Government that there is no objection to their adopting this course. I am to say that the Government of India have no objection to the same course being adopted in Madras, should. His Excellency the Governor in Council desire it.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

H. Sharp.

Joint Secretary to the Govt. of India.

C. No. 633 From the Government of India No 310-C-D, dated 22. 2 1913.

SUBJECT.

Recognition of high Schools by Universities.

—oOo—

In their letter No. 313, Confidential, dated 6th G.O. no. 153 Ed / 22-2-12 H February 1912, the Government of India proposed to alter Section 25(2)(0) of the Indian Universities
I Act, 1904, so as to provide that no school should be recognised by a University unless first recognised by the local Government or the Durbar of the area within which it was situated, and requested to be informed of the views of this Government on the desirability of such a change. In H letter No. 154, Educational, dated 22nd February 1912, the Government of India were informed that the rule in force in this Presidency was to the same effect as that proposed by that Government, ~~and~~ that it was found to work well, but that the Governor-in-Council would ~~therefore~~ welcome legislation in the matter to prevent any attempt to change the rule being made in the future.

2. In their present communication, the Government of India state that they have permitted the Government of Bengal to consult the Calcutta University before expressing an opinion on I the question of modifying Section 25(2)(0)

of the Indian Universities Act and that they will have no objection to the same course being adopted by this Government, should His Excellency the Governor-in-Council desire it. As noted above, this Government have already expressed their opinion in the matter and in view of this fact, it is for consideration whether the University should be consulted now. Perhaps in the first instance the Director of Public Instruction may be asked to state whether he considers it desirable to consult the University.

T.K.
24-3-13

It may be better to consult the University. The Govt. of India seem to desire the opinion of the University in the matter.

A.

I do not agree. It was the Govt. of Bengal which refused to say anything without consulting the local University, for the reason no doubt that trouble had been caused by the arrangement obtaining in Bengal under which the Syndicate is the recognizing authority. That is not the case in Madras, & there is, I think, no need to consult the University.

It seems unnecessary to consult the University. Our procedure is in strict accordance with the regulations of the University and these were formulated by the Senate.

What is now contemplated is legislation compelling a similar procedure in other Provinces and the giving of a statutory basis to our system.

So far as I know no other system has ever been in vogue in this Presidency. I do not recall any objection ever having been taken to it and if any objection be now taken which I think unlikely it would discovery that other Universities had power with regard to Schools — power about to be taken away — which the University of Madras has never had.

The present procedure in Southern India, which is exactly what it is now desired to extend to other provinces by legislation, is in accord ~~to~~ with the Madras University Regulation No. 172 which was formulated by the Senate itself.
